Colleen Moore; Sydney Pascall Luncheon Guests

Well Known Screen Figure, at Present Displaying $450,000 Doll House, Guest of Honour as Rotarians Meet — President of Unique Club Recently Formed on Liner Queen Mary Took as Topic "Is Rotary International?" — Spring Golf Tourney Announced For Wednesday Next.

Sydney Pascall, director of the English firm of James Pascall of London, International President of Rotary and President of the unique Rotary Club recently formed on the liner Queen Mary during her maiden voyage, was the speaker Wednesday at the regular weekly luncheon meeting of the Westmount Rotary Club in Victoria Hall. Colleen Moore, well known screen figure who is at present displaying her four hundred and fifty thousand dollar doll's house, was the guest of honor.

Colleen Moore received a bouquet presented on behalf of the Rotarians by President Henry F. King who was in the chair and thanked the club for inviting her to the luncheon, extending an invitation to the members and their friends to visit the doll's house which is at present on display at Morgan's.

International

"Is Rotary International?" was the topic chosen by Mr. Pascall who admitted that there were two schools of thought as regards the stand that Rotary clubs should take in world affairs. Some were of the opinion that Rotary should publicly announce a definite policy with regard to every national and international happening while others were of the opinion that Rotarians and Rotary clubs should not take a definite side for fear of harming the movement. Both schools the speaker stated were right, and wrong.

Lack of understanding Mr. Pascall found to be the main reason for the prevention of the establishment of permanent peace. He suggested that Rotarians, to be in a position to better understand international problems should make an effort to study the languages of foreign countries and to appreciate the other fellow's point of view. He suggested the formation of international relation clubs or groups, somewhat along the line of the Pacific Relations Institute.

Money changing at frontiers, the speaker found to be a barrier to friendships and spoke of the facility with which we in this country travel thousands of miles with but small money changes and no differences in weights and measures.

World peace must be based on economic justice. The answer to the question "Is Rotary International?" can be answered by Rotarians answering the question "Are we prepared to live up to what we profess?"

The visiting Rotarians were introduced by John H. Hand, and a word of welcome was extended by Percy Jarman. Cecil Medler welcomed the ladies. Wilf Buckley introduced the two High School boys who were guests of the club for the occasion, and Wilf Spearman announced that the annual spring golf tourney of the club will be held next Wednesday at Grovehill.

PICTURE DRAMA OF BATTLE WITH ELEMENTS TO SAVE HINDENBURG

Heels dug into the turf, every ounce of weight and strength thrown against the land lines, the ground crew strains every muscle to the tensely critical task of mooring the huge dirigible Hindenburg on arrival at Lakehurst, N.J., after a perilous voyage across the Atlantic on its second commercial trip to the United States. The high wind pressing against the 800-foot side of the dirigible, threatened to tear it away from sailors in the ground crew.

DR. BAZIN SPOKE TO YOUNG NURSES WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Graduating Class of Montreal General Hospital Training School Tended Dinner By Alumnae

Dr. A. T. Bazin, Dorchester street resident, addressed the graduating nurses of the Montreal General Hospital Training School at a dinner given in their honor Wednesday evening in the Ritz-Carlton Hotel by the Alumnae Association of their school.

Among the most important functions of the nurse, stated Dr. Bazin, is to make the patient comfortable—"to exercise the constant watchfulness and intelligence which detects discomfort on the part of the patient, detects the cause, and corrects it." He pointed out that there was often not only physical but mental discomfort, and proclaimed his admiration and wonder at the demeanor of a nurse in the face of a difficult problem, and believed that the graduating nurses might find stimulus in problems and satisfaction in their solution.

"The chief compensation you will have will be the satisfaction of a job well done," said Dr. Bazin. He paid fine tribute to Miss Webster, now of Winnipeg, and for thirty-eight years night superintendent at the Central Division of the Montreal General Hospital, who, he said, "taught me nursing."

Miss Mabel K. Holt, superintendent of the training school, read the names of prize winning graduates in the class as: General proficiency, Miss E. G. Sears and Miss J. L. Case; highest aggregate for the three year course, Miss E. G. Sears and Miss E. Weston.

Miss Martha Batson, president of the Alumnae Association, proposed the toast to the King, and Miss Annie Lang the toast to the graduating class, to which Miss Jessie Case replied. Miss Mary Long proposed the toast to "our doctors," and Miss Madeline Taylor to "absent friends." Miss R. V. McCutcheon, Miss M. J. Fulton, Miss G. L. Chaplin and Miss W. M. Crombie gave the prophecy.

Slot Machine Evil On The Increase As Odds Are Given

Latest Development In Type of Machines Has Race-Track Tinge — Legislation Needed To Empower Police To Search Premises, Confiscate Apparatus and Prosecute Offenders — Aid of Residents Needed

By Jack Trent

Rumors of a new type of slot-machine which pays odds similar to the race-track system of betting further increases the slot-machine hazard that is facing the younger element of today, causing small children to spend their nickles on the chance of gain and affording an easy opportunity to youths to squander their small earnings, which during these difficult times are needed in the home.

Residents of Westmount, interviewed by the Examiner, as to their attitude in the matter, were gratified to see that a campaign was being conducted to force the removal of such machines from the outskirts of the district.

The harrassers of the machines are crafty. Naturally they are offenders to the fullest extent of not displaying the machines in the public. You do not find them in the fronts of stores and to the neophyte, entering a store and looking for a machine of this type, it would be exceedingly difficult to find one. But to the youths and children who are anxious to squander their money it is not difficult to trace the machines to their resting place and they play them at length. The word passes around and soon the back rooms that harbour the devices are filled with the players, in the majority of cases ill able to afford the money that is lost.

The police are, as we stressed last week, not at fault in matters of this kind. Definite legislation should be enacted empowering the officers of the law to enter premises, search them for obnoxious devices, allow them to confiscate the machines and prosecute the offenders.

Once thickly spread through the stores of the entire city of Montreal and in fact throughout the country, of recent weeks the machines have disappeared in many sections and it is the duty of every worthy citizen to get behind the move to stamp out the evil and prevent its return.

Westmount Park Dotted With Pleasure Seekers Saturday

A cool, grass grown haven in the midst of Canada's most modern city, Westmount Park is proving a most popular rendezvous with local citizens during the warm weather.

The roving Examiner reporter found the flower spotted park along his route Saturday afternoon, and weary from long "pounding" of unsympathetic sidewalks, avidly took to the shaded walks and pleasant byways.

An enterprising city employee, with a taste for the unusual, had fastened what appeared to be a section of fire-hose to the hydrant at the corner of Redfern and Sherbrooke, and had placed the spout between the legs of a park bench near the fountain. Turning on the water, a magnificent spray of water shot into the air and described a graceful arc before falling finally into the other side of the pool. The swishing rush of water, and playful tinkling of the drops as they fell from various points of the arc into the pool could be heard for some distance, and the sight was a most spectacular one, attracting many kiddies and grown-ups as well from all parts of the park.

The drinking fountain proved to be a very popular item with many of the younger element. Your reporter counted no fewer than seven little boys and girls, from chubby childhood to the long-legged teens waiting in line for an opportunity to drink. The lagoon in the southwestern corner of the park presented a contrasting scene of activity and repose. The benches about the pool were dotted with weary residents seeking and finding relaxation beside the cool water and under the trees, while a group of teen-agers were engrossed in the all-important operation of sailing model boats on the surface of the pond. At one time, no fewer than seven fine little ships dotted the surface, in various angles of keel and varying rates of motion, being followed the bank by their watchful and eager owners and operators.

Two little girls, deciding that they were being somewhat neglected in the many busy doings about the park, decided it was high time to get into action with some entertainment of their own. "Elinor," said one, "I'm going over to the house and get my bathing suit! The water looks so good that I think we might take a dip!" "Good idea," responded her

RESIDENT NAMED TO HEAD SOCIETY FOR COMING TERM

Benjamin Robinson, K.C., Elected To Head Immigrant Aid Group At Annual Meeting Wednesday

Benjamin Robinson, K.C., Forde Crescent resident, was elected president of the Jewish Immigrant Aid Society of Canada at the sixteenth annual meeting of that body held Wednesday in the Mount Royal Hotel and attended by delegates from all parts of Canada.

Speaking on problems arising out of and concerning Jewish immigration, Mr. Robinson, stated that a country as large as Canada, literally cries for a larger population, and added that Jews coming to Canada mostly have relatives who are residents or citizens. Jews coming to Canada who desire to settle should cause Canada little fear, he said, and the society will continue to press for sympathetic consideration of all worthy cases.

A. J. Paul, executive director of the society, read the report for the year, noting a slight deficit. The society had aided in the admission to Canada and naturalization of 566 persons.

Other officers elected for the year are:

First vice president, Harry Barsky; second vice-president, J. Schafman; honorary treasurer, Laz Phillips, K.C.; honorary secretary, H. M. Caiserman. Preceding the meeting a banquet dinner was tendered the out of town delegates.

A patter of running feet and swish of long curls in the breeze, and the two youngsters flashed by on their errand.

The Examiner reporter sincerely regrets that another engagement prevented his staying to watch the fun. If any readers witnessed the ensuing dip, the Editor will appreciate hearing of it.

Local Clergyman Is Named In Suit To Void Marriage

Rev. Harold S. Laws of St. Stephen's Church Will Contest Annulment Case — Married Catholic-Protestant Couple Two Years Ago — Husband Now Seeks Annulment on Mixed Marriage Grounds — Rector Allies Himself With Protestant Wife, Defendant.

When asked if he had anything further to say regarding the mixed marriage annulment case for readers of The Examiner, Rev. Mr. Laws replied:—"I have no further statement to make concerning the case at present, other than what has already been made public. The issue will be discussed before the courts on June 22nd, and I am inclined not to make any further statements for publication before that date. The issue, however, may be reduced to this: "Am I, as a clergyman of the Church of England in Canada, and duly authorized to keep registers of acts of civil status and competent to solemnize marriages, authorized to marry Protestant-Catholic couples?"

Strongly upholding his contention that as a duly authorized Protestant clergyman, an officer authorized to keep registers of acts of civil status and competent to solemnize marriages, wedded unions at which he has officiated are legal and binding, Rev. Harold S. Laws, rector of St. Stephen's Church, has allied himself with a Protestant wife whose Catholic husband seeks an annulment of their mixed marriage. The marriage was solemnized by Mr. Laws in September, 1934.

Seeking an annulment of his marriage to Lillian Pearl Harris, George Poissant has instituted action in the courts to that end. Contrary to the usual practice in such cases, the minister who performed the ceremony has been named a party to the case, and Mr. Laws and the wife are contesting the annulment action.

Mr. Laws and the wife contend that the religious differences of the husband and wife have no effect on the legality of their marriage, providing the clergyman who solemnized the ceremony be a duly authorized official as above mentioned. By way of a "total inscription in law", Mr. Laws and the wife are asking that the suit be dismissed on purely legal grounds.

The inscription in law attacks every paragraph in the husband's statement, which claims that he had gone to deliver a series of clinics and addresses at University of California.

He is a Protestant, and the ceremony was performed by a Protestant clergyman. He also suggests that a previous annulment in a case granted by Roman Catholic ecclesiastical authorities gives him the right to ask a civil annulment of his marriage.

Mr. Laws claims that the husband had declared at the time of his marriage that he was no longer a member of the Roman Catholic Church, and that he had intentions of joining the Church of England. Mr. Laws states that he gave the plaintiff religious instruction, and that he was received into the Church of England at a public service shortly afterwards. He also took a child born of the marriage to St. Stephen's for baptism, Mr. Laws claims.

The argument has been postponed till June 22nd due to the absence of lawyers acting for the defendants.

The legal firm of Brown, Montgomery and McMichael are acting for the wife and clergyman in contesting the action.

Topics of the Week

MISS K. R. JENKINS
 Westmount citizens have expressed pleasure at the appointment of Miss Kathleen R. Jenkins, librarian in charge of our Westmount Public Library, to the presidency of the Quebec Library Association. The Association met in the local building Friday night, and had an excellent opportunity of observing at first hand Miss Jenkins' competency in the managing of our city-owned institution.

Miss Jenkins' courtesy and brisk, pleasing manner have won the approval and admiration of all users of the Westmount Public Library, and her appointment to head the provincial library group is an indication that the esteem in which she is held is not purely local in extent. That she was chosen from more than a hundred members from all parts of the Province is a tribute to her ability and her efficiency, and to the high regard in which her handling of the library's routine is held.

SOFTBALL HELPS BASEBALL

During the past four years, baseball has made a really remarkable recovery of public interest in this country and in the United States. Previous to 1930 there was scarcely a minor league in the entire National Association that was operating at a profit. Now, however, many minor league cities are rivalling the majors in attendance, and some are doing considerably better than cities like St. Louis and Philadelphia. Some observers say the business depression did it — by taking people from the comparatively expensive golf courses and race tracks and placing them in the ball park stands. Others, who seem to be nearer the truth, claim the amazing growth of softball has been mostly responsible for the revival of baseball. Thousands who play and watch softball, now go to the baseball parks every now and then to view the real thing. It must be remembered that in the previous hey-day of baseball popularity, every sandlot had its teams. But since the war, young boys and men turned to golf, tennis and other sports and the attendance at the parks fell rapidly. But baseball has come back in the form of softball, and the result has been a revival of interest in what is undoubtedly the most scientific team game. So far, young men and women are for the most part playing softball and watching hardball. It is possible that the playing of hardball will come into vogue again, but three factors favour softball: a much smaller field is required to play it; much less equipment is necessary; and, finally, hardball is much more difficult to play well, especially as far as girls are concerned. But hardball is reaping great benefits in spectator interest, because so many people are playing the junior game.

DEATH ON THE HIGHWAY

We are a queer race of men and women. We have lately become appalled at the mounting number of deaths due to accidents on the highway and the number of people made cripples for life by what has become a dangerous necessity instead of a harmless luxury. We bemoan the fact that we are losing as many people through automobile accidents as we lost each year in the war. And yet we condone, and praise, and boast ownership of automobiles that can travel ninety or one hundred miles an hour. We apparently never think that a loose pin in the steering apparatus in a vehicle travelling fifty miles an hour will mean death to the occupants of the car and probably to others on the highway. Thirty years ago when automobiles were a harmless luxury, doing well if they carried a family ten miles out of the city and back, without half a dozen breakdowns, they moved so slowly that their potential danger was not realized. Had a person in those days prophesied that within twenty-five years, narrow twenty-foot highways would be traversed by hundred-horse-power vehicles, travelling sixty miles an hour, and passing one another with only a foot or two to spare, racing across level intersections and railway crossings, the prophet would have been considered loco, bughouse, and cracked in the belfry. But here we are, and that is what we are doing. We have not realized the growing danger because we have drifted into it slowly, insidiously. With one breath we condemn drunken drivers, and express horror at the mounting death toll; with the next breath we express admiration of the new eight or twelve cylinder Boom-boom car that can do sixty in second gear. Our governments, realizing the danger, straighten out the sharp curves at great public expense, bank the turns only to invite more speed and more accidents; speed limit of thirty miles an hour for passenger vehicles and twenty-five for buses and trucks. How many obey the law? Manufacturers openly defy the law in advertising their high speed automobiles. When the law says thirty, why does the government tolerate the sale of vehicles with speeds up to a hundred? In a recognition of these facts, we have the solution of the deaths on the highway problem. Putting drunks in jail or cancelling their licenses won't help; widening the highway and banking the turns, install lights and danger signs, impose a distributing pretty books which say, in effect, "be more careful boys" won't help either. What will stop the carnage in short order is legislation limiting the speed of automobiles to forty-five miles an hour — legislation that will provide severe penalties for the manufacturer who makes a car that will exceed that speed. That, and highways divided into lanes, like Boulevard Pie IX in Montreal, so that traffic in one lane is travelling in the one direction only. What would such legislation mean? It would mean that you still could go to Ste. Agathe in well under two hours from Montreal, and it would mean that you could do it on one and a half gallons instead of three, or less. But its greatest advantage would lie in the fact that there would be no more death on the highway problem to worry us.

Color So Important

When a company is selling goods in the export market, it is necessary to study the whims of the prospective buyers. A slight slip will mean the difference between gaining and losing an order.

An American company recently went after the sale of $250,000 worth of flatirons to South America. Everything looked fine for landing the business, but a mistake was made. An executive of the company said that black handles were the very thing for the flatirons. A rival company executive knew his South Americans better and he insisted on red handles for the flatirons.

The company with the red-handled irons landed the sale, chiefly because the handles were not only red, but a particular hue of red. The sales manager wasn't willing to palm off any old thing, but he sought out what the buyers wanted and then sold it to them.

More Students

With heavy enrolments at universities during the last two years, mainly because of unemployment, Dr. Walter C. Murray, President of the University of Saskatchewan, contends that quite a number of the students "are not fitted by aptitude or interest for university work." He claims these young people would do better in business or other occupations. The principal increases in attendance have been in agriculture and medicine.

It is questionable, however, that ambitious persons should be discouraged from obtaining education. If a man is deemed unfit to follow a medical course, it might be well for the authorities to suggest some other line of study for him.

EXAMINER FORUM

In Which Subjects of General Interest Are Discussed

NOTE:—The opinions expressed in these columns are not necessarily those of The Examiner and this newspaper does not accept responsibility for them. They are published for their general interest, variety and originality of treatment.

By HOWARD S. ROSS, K.C., D.C.L.

Sweden runs Denmark a close second for farmers' cooperative associations. A fruit growers' cooperative has 40,200 members and 800 "Fruit Centrals." There are forest owners' cooperatives for both fuel forests and paper pulp forests. Over 400 similar associations flourish for the purpose of operating saw-mills, and conducting land drainage and peat mining.

There are several thousand rural cooperatives supplying electrical power, with many more planned for the near future. About 1,000 threshing associations, hundreds of seed production groups and even a beet-root growers' cooperative are successful.

In 1929 there were 179 cooperative banks having 13,000 members and operating five central banks. By 1935 there were nine central banks, 699 local banks and 59,000 affiliated farmer members.

Sweden's industrial and agricultural indexes are higher now than they were in 1929 and her unemployment is less than one per cent of her population. Part of the credit is given to their monetary policy, but in the opinion of most observers a sound agricultural policy is the prime factor.

Mr. Dunning is in favor of pensions to the blind at the age of 40, the amount to be no more than the amount paid to destitute people at the age of seventy. The minister cannot see his way to recommend the pensions for this session. About 3,000 blind people would benefit and the total cost about $627,000. Under a humane monetary policy it would not be difficult to pay this amount but under our "sound money" as enforced on Mr. Dunning as it was on Mr. Bennett, otherwise kindly men must refuse the assistance so badly needed by the blind.

No doubt the same answer will be given if a request is made to Canada to vote money for armaments. No one has done more to help the blind in their struggle for pensions and in all sorts of activities on their behalf than Mr. Philip Layton, Mrs. Layton and Mr. Gilbert Layton of Notre Dame de Grace.

Sydney, N.S., from an industrial and progressive standpoint, is one of the brightest spots in the Dominion at the present time. A. X. MacDonald, delegate to the Canadian Legion convention recently held at Vancouver, informed members of the local branch at Sydney when delivering his report. He based his statement on observations made during his two trips across the continent.

In Vancouver, he stated, it is estimated that over 40,000 veterans are unemployed, while similar conditions, varying with the population were found in many other communities he visited. If conditions throughout the West can be taken as a barometer of unemployment throughout Canada, Nova Scotia was never in a depression he said.

Present world interdependence and the necessity of establishing a world society is the theme for discussion at the annual conference of the Catholic Association for international peace in session at Washington, D.C. A number of Catholic leaders discuss such themes as "The Ethical Basis of World Society," "Economics and the New World Order" and "The Relation of Religion to a World Society."

Following the death of Mrs. Stokes, sister of the Governor of Texas, in an automobile accident, a state order has been issued that the 45 mile an hour rule must be obeyed. The operator of the truck which crashed into Mrs. Stokes' car was doing, due to overtime driving. A statement was issued to the effect that drunkenness increases the already staggering record of highway fatalities.

CRICKETERS DRAW

Westmount cricketers met Westward Saturday afternoon in a draw, the scores being 240 runs for four wickets for Westmount, and 91 runs for eight wickets for Westward. R. A. Wyatt-Jones caught out K. H. Ross, who had succeeded in tallying 66 runs. Umpires were P. J. Richards

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH NOTES

On Sunday morning, Rev. F. W. Kerr, D.D., will discuss trends in religious thought in Canadian life, and will deal especially with the recent statement of the Prime Minister that any organizations for disseminating atheism would find little encouragement within our borders. The question arises as to how far we can combat the subtle spread of unbelief. In a time of widespread depression and disillusionment are men likely to be driven back for refuge in God, or are they more likely to turn away from Him into the barren lands of skepticism.

At the evening service Dr. Kerr will deal with the topic "The Fatal Refusal."

CALVARY CHURCH NOTES

On Sunday morning in Calvary Church, the minister, Rev. T. W. Jones, will preach. The subject of the sermon will be "The Fullness of the Godhead—Father, Son and Holy Spirit", in keeping with the festival of the church this Holy Trinity Sunday.

The Sunday School will meet in open session at 3 o'clock and will be addressed by the minister on Missionary Adventures, illustrating the address with beautiful lantern slides.

At the evening service at 7.30 p.m. the minister will preach on "The Meaning of the Communion Service" setting forth certain elements of the christian faith that are found in rich, full measure in the Communion of the Lord's Supper.

The Communion will be shared and new members welcomed into the church, following the preaching service.

On Wednesday, June 10th, the birthday of the United Church of Canada, a special meeting of the Women's Missionary Society will be held in the church parlors. This date marks the 50th anniversary of the founding of the Congregational Women's Board of Missions, which entered Church Union and is now a part of the Women's Missionary Society of the United Church. Mrs. W. D. Lighthall will be the convenor in charge of this meeting, to which all are heartily invited.

WESTMOUNT BAPTIST CHURCH NOTES

Rev. J. A. Johnston, will occupy the pulpit morning and evening on Sunday, June 7th. At 11 a.m. Mr. Johnston will speak of "Heirs of a Unique Heritage."

The monthly Communion Service will take place at twelve o'clock.

In the evening the theme will take the form of Paul's question to the Galatians—"Who Hath Bewitched You?" The minister will discuss the perilous witchery of Siren songs, Pipes of Pan and Mephitic Vapours. This address will be full of interest and real challenge especially to youth.

Delegates have been appointed to represent the church at the annual meeting of the Eastern Association of Baptist Churches which will convene at North Hatley Tuesday evening, June 9th and continue until noon on Thursday, June 11th.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SUNDAY SERVICES

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, June 7th, is "God the only cause and Creator." The Golden Text is: "I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills, from whence cometh my help. My help cometh from the Lord, which made heaven and earth." (Psalms 121: 1, 2)

The following correlative passages are selected from among those comprised in the Lesson-Sermon to be read from the Bible and from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:—"God that made the world and all things therein, seeing that He is Lord of heaven and earth, dwelleth not in temples made with hands; Neither is worshipped with men's hands, as though he needed any thing, seeing he giveth to all life, and breath, and all things;... For in him we live, and move, and have our being; as certain also of your own poets have said, For we are also his offspring." (Acts 17: 24, 25, 28)

"Spirit, God, has created all in and of Himself. Spirit never created matter. There is nothing in Spirit out of which matter could be made, for, as the Bible declares, without the Logos, the Aeon or Word of God, 'was not anything made that was made.'" (Science and Health, page 335).

The Graduates' Service for the Junior Congregation was held Saturday morning, and was well attended. The Junior Congregation has now closed its activities for the summer, and will resume in the fall, following the opening of the Hebrew School. Members are reminded that membership pins must be in the office before the week end, or those eligible cannot receive new pins Sunday morning.

Shaar Hashomayim Notes

The regular Friday evening services will take place tonight at 8 o'clock; Sabbath morning services at 9 o'clock. The sermon will be "The Message of the Menorah."

Closing exercises of the religious school and Hebrew School will take place Sunday morning in the Community Hall at 10 o'clock. In connection with this event, the Sunday School Exhibition, to acquaint members of the congregation with the work being done in the Sunday School, will also be held. The exhibition includes handwork of primary grades, drawing, painting, calendars, festival symbols; new methods in Senior classes, scrap books, and posters.

REV. T. W. JONES IS NAMED HEAD OF CONFERENCE

Calvary Church Minister Elected President of Montreal and Ottawa Church Body

At the first business session of the annual meeting of the Montreal and Ottawa Conference of the United Church of Canada, Rev. T. W. Jones, M.A., B.D., minister of Calvary United Church, Greene avenue and Dorchester street, Westmount, was elected president of the body. The retiring president, Rev. James Faulds, D.D. of Cornwall, addressed the gathering on the need for deep faith by members of the Christian Church if it was to play its part successfully in combatting the present day world forces organized against God. The gospel and the church, he stated, had been the chief factors in the spiritual development of the western world. He deplored the extent to which the forces in the world were turning against the gospel, which extent could not have been visualized in past years.

Rev. William Mumoe was re-elected secretary, and Rev. Albert Johnson was named statistical secretary.

PRODUCED IN CANADA EXHIBITION PLANNED

The ninth annual National Produced in Canada Exhibition, under the auspices of the Produced in Canada Association (Quebec) Incorporated, will be held in the Sun Life Building, Montreal, from November 4th to 14th, it is announced by H. M. Wilcox, general manager.

Second largest annual exhibition in Canada, and the largest exhibition devoted exclusively to Canadian products, the Montreal show is designed to interest the two million persons located in the Montreal district in Canadian-made products. As a result of the increased attendance at last year's exhibition and the satisfaction generally expressed by exhibitors, it is expected that this year's event will break all previous records. Space bookings from exhibitors are now being accepted at the exhibition offices in Toronto and Montreal.

Building and construction trades, furnishing, food industries, textiles and clothing manufacturers, office equipment companies, agriculture and numerous other Canadian industries will be represented at the exhibition again this year. Increased space has been booked by a number of firms who exhibited in 1935 and improved business is expected to result in heavier demands this year. Special features of the exhibition have already been booked and include a number of educational displays, an art gallery, architectural show, commercial art exhibit and other features.

ON THE AIR COMMENT ON CURRENT Radio Programmes and Stars

Hidden deep down amongst the incessant melange of bills, advertisements and press agent offerings in the week's mail was a short but urgent note from the rustic pen of Alcide Zephron, farmer, who, slightly dazed by the current radio treatment of rhythm in the swing style, requests a paragraph of swing history. His request is answered in the lines that follow.

This swing craze, which Alcide finds so bewildering, is anything but new. One of the outstanding swing compositions of this or any other day, "Song of the Volga Boatmen", has already lived through several centuries; and many of the better known opera and symphonic classics can easily be typed as "swing". But the ultra-modern era of swing rhythm was first noticeable about 1931, and made its greatest strides early in 1933.

"Swing" today owes its popularity to the death of jazz. Jazz died slowly in the early depression years, and was followed by dance rhythm of a slow, smooth style. Remember "Home", and "Just a Faded Summer Love"? Then the easy-going rhythm was suddenly interrupted in 1933 with explosive force when Jimmy Dale came out with his now famous "Business in F". Its rhythm was fast, smooth, not too choppy, and supported by a good, heavy background with contrasting melody and figures. In other words, the saxes kept up a steady supporting blanket of rhythm, while instrumental varieties by trumpet and brass took precedence in the foreground.

This was the end of "democracy" in music, in that special arrangements were now often necessary and it was no longer possible for every musician to improvise as he went along and play solely for his own amusement. "Business in F" has little melody, but has a number of brass figures which rapidly took the public fancy. Swing music as played today is essentially smooth, fast rhythm with plenty of uplift. It can well be compared to the ride of a roller coaster — and is often just as dazzling.

C.P.R. PLANS TRIP TO QUEBEC FOR YOUNG SCHOLARS

All-Expense, Low Fare Excursion To Historical Provincial Capital On June 26

Plans to top off the school year with a low-fare all-expense tour to Quebec City have been made by the Canadian Pacific Railway for Montreal teachers and students, and, as far as the accommodation permits, for their parents and friends. The party has been limited to 500 and it is expected that there will not be a vacant spot on the special train which will be operated for the occasion.

It will be an appropriate way for parents to show appreciation of the progress made in school by their children, as well as an opportunity of the young students to get first-hand knowledge of the Capital of the Province, whose glamorous history they have been studying during the school year.

Leaving Montreal early Friday, June 26th, the train arrives in Quebec at 12:00 noon, giving six and a half hours in the city. An interesting program has been arranged for this time including lunch at the Chateau Frontenac, which is built in the style of a sixteenth century French chateau on the site of the old Chateau St. Louis, former residence of the governors of New France. A visit to the Canadian Pacific flagship, "Empress of Britain," at Wolfe's Cove; sightseeing drive around Quebec, including Lower Town, Upper Town, the Citadel, Quebec Bridge, and Battlefields Park; and a special visit to the Provincial Parliament Buildings.

Those taking advantage of the excursion can entrain and detrain at Windsor, Westmount, Montreal West, Park avenue, or Bordeaux stations. The train leaves Windsor station at 7.15 a.m. and returns to Windsor station at 11.00 p.m., providing a day full of thrills to young Canadians who have not had the opportunity to visit Canada's oldest and one of its most picturesque cities.

ation manager for a prominent publication . . . Roy Malouin, chief announcer at CKAC, is being heartily slapped on the back this week, having just announced his engagement to an Ottawa lass . . . The better arrangements offered locally by Nan Blakstone were from the pen of Johnny Kendrick, staff arranger with Alex Lajoie's band . . . CFCF has again led the local radio field by lending an ear to listener-reaction and limiting the number of advertising breaks on those morning cooperative shows. A definite step in the right direction, this move is bound to benefit both advertiser and listener.

★ GRAND FINALE . . . Don Wilson, announcer-stooge on the Jack Benny funfests, becomes a star on June 28 when he takes over the reins of the program while Benny concentrates on movie-making. One of the outstanding sports broadcasters of the day, Don will guide a variety show until Benny returns in the fall . . . It's lucky for Benny that his contract ends late this month, for since he has been writing his own material, he has rapidly been taking the downgrade. It is quite possible that next season he will be supplanted by Ken Murray as the king of radio jesters . . . Jacques Desbaillets, handsome young announcer at the local Commission aircastle, is one of Canada's rising mikes and is certainly the outstanding bilingual announcer on the Canadian air . . . Jack and Loretta Clemens, NBC song and piano team, are distant relatives of Mark Twain . . .

★ REGIONAL RHAPSODY . . . Wally Short, with a much-improved band, is currently in Ottawa, keeping Freddy Blakwell and Fred Keating company in the capital city . . . One of the more remarkable things about local radio folk is the manner in which the pampered few grab all the praise, ignoring almost completely the truly inspired and capable men behind the scenes. Among the latter is modest and super-talented Howard Fogg. Recently in need of two tunes which at the last moment became inaccessible through copyright restrictions, Fogg on the spur of the moment, composed two new numbers, words and music, and completely orchestrated his work for a broadcast the following day . . . ### FINAL CARD PARTY

The final card party of the season was held by the Royal Montreal Regiment Association Wednesday evening. This meeting was arranged as a result of the repeated requests of members and those who have attended previous ones.

WESTMONT FOUND NOT TO BLAME IN $10,000 LAWSUIT

Agnes Cornish Loses Damage Action Against City For Fall On Pavement

A Superior Court jury under Mr. Justice Ducloux Friday absolved the City of Westmount from all blame for injuries suffered by Agnes Cornish when she slipped and fell on Sherbrooke Street W. The plaintiff had been awarded damages amounting to $10,000 by a first jury which heard the case in February 1935. A retrial had been ordered because the method of computing the amount of damages had been illegal, the average of various sums suggested by the jurors being taken.

Immediately following the jury's verdict Friday, which was reached after an hour and a half of deliberation, J. W. Weldon, K.C., and V. Lynch-Staunton asked the court for a judgment confirming the verdict, and this was granted by Mr. Justice Ducloux.

The jury declared the city not guilty of negligence, and refused contentions of the plaintiff that she had slipped on the slippery pavement which should have been sanded. Counsel for the plaintiff stated that an appeal might be made.

LOCAL RESIDENT IN CIVIC BATTLE

F. B. Mathys, of Realty Protective Committee, Attended Gathering On Monday.

F. B. Mathys, Redfern avenue resident and a member of the Realty Protective Committee, was present at the meeting of the sub-committee of the Legislative Assembly's Private Bills Committee held Monday in the new Court-house under the chairmanship of Hon. T. D. Bouchard, Minister of Municipal Affairs.

Mr. Mathys suggested that the life of the present Montreal City Council be prolonged for one year after December of this year. In view of the many who believe that the present form of civic government should be radically altered, this suggestion from a well known proprietor is of unusual interest.

Mr. Mathys' suggestion allows for a thorough perusal and consideration of all projects advanced, he claimed, and for the exploration of avenues for voluntary conversion of Montreal's debt at a lower rate of interest. He imposed two conditions, namely, withdrawal of the Montreal Bill at present before the Private Bills Committee, and that no further borrowing should be done by the city.

Mr. Mathys' views agreed with those of Mayor Houde, who insisted that the present is hardly a time for radical changes.

MANY NOTED WOMEN ATTEND CONVENTION

Canada's attractiveness is traditionally strong during the summer and many gay social and sporting events have been planned. Andres, Jr., of Brighton, Mass., the Kappa members, representing almost every American state and Canadian province will spend a week beginning June 23. The program of the Convention's activities at the Seignior Club, to be announced later, will include an exposition of fine arts and crafts by Kappa artists and craftsmen.

The Fraternity's members include many women famous in public life. Among those who will attend are Helen Wills Moody of tennis fame, Virginia Gildersleeve, B.E., for twenty-five years dean at Barnard, Mrs. Howard Burt of St. Louis, Mo., the convention marshal and Clara O. Pierce of Columbus, Ohio, the executive secretary.

KEEP RELICS

London, Eng.—When the housebreakers have torn down historic Adelphi Terrace they will not have demolished all tangible memories, for a museum is to be made in one of the houses that will still remain in the Adelphi estate to keep on show some of the relics found during the demolition.

The museum will be in the cellars of No. 9 Adam street. These cellars form the top storey of a part of the famous Adelphi arches, where some of the shadier characters of Charles Dickens' books were supposed to meet.

Vacation Spots Are Calling Holiday Seekers

The Laurentians Offer An Ideal Mountain Playground

Green, rolling hills, pleasant valleys, and winding rivers flowing to tree fringed lakes—the cool fragrance of dark forests, laden with the perfume of balsam and spruce—distant glimpses of purple mountains—this is the Laurentian country, forming one of the most delightful and unspoiled vacation fields on the North American Continent.

According to geologists the mysterious fascination of great ice hangs over these mountains, but mighty ice caps have harrowed their sides, humbled the pride of their peaks, and have polished a chronicle of themselves on the scattered rocks which abound in this great region.

The campus of the Indians, wise with centuries of nature lore in their blood, were scattered throughout the million acres of this natural park which stretches for a thousand miles north to Hudson's Bay.

The highest point of the range is Mount Tremblant rising 3,400 feet above the sea, known to the Indians as "Manitou Ewitsch-Saga," (mountain of the dread Manitou), about which there was a legend that the mountain trembled when anyone infringed the following great law of the wilderness: "Kill naught except for use or in self defense; love the shy plant; the venerable tree reverent; live simply; guard well the friendly but rebellious fire."

Many of the Indian camps have now been replaced by modern hotels where excellent bathing, dancing, bridge, golf, tennis, riding, and motoring, may be thoroughly enjoyed.

Others have been taken over to provide complete facilities for those who prefer to spend their vacations hunting, and fishing in some of the 35,000 lakes, and virgin forests, of the Laurentians.

For the angler, trout and bass are abundant. The glistening densities of the mountain streams provide plenty of thrills, and a good catch almost any day of the season can be depended upon, although May and June are generally recognized as the fishing months.

The primeval forests provide the hunter with many opportunities for shooting birds or stalking moose or deer, and competent guides are available to take him through virgin territory where there is no sign of habitation for many miles.

And for the hiker there is scarcely any limit to the variety of his trips which abound in fascinating vistas of scenic interest.

The invigorating air of the Laurentians, purified in its passage over hundreds of miles of mountains, lake, and forest, and redolent with the odor of pine and balsam, stimulates the most jaded appetite and revitalizes both brain and body. And the nights are always cool, regardless of the heat of the day when city dwellers are sweltering in tropical temperatures.

Excellent highways, maintained by the Province of Quebec, have brought the Laurentian Mountains within a few hours of Montreal during three seasons of Lock, stock and barrel, and moved in three sections with a multitude of rollers, this tremendous undertaking has been accomplished with a single horse; and is now snugly settled on its new site a few feet from the water's edge.

The Laurentide Inn, well known to Montrealers as a summer and winter resort, has been moved 700 feet through the streets to the shores of Lac Des Ables.

The startling sight of seeing one ordinary farm horse move the towering 60 room building has been proving an instance in the Laurentian Mountains which has drawn spectators from near and far to the busiest intersection of Ste. Agathe.

Ken Harrison, popular young manager of the Inn, will continue to direct its affairs. A fleet of sail boats has been acquired and extensive plans undertaken for landscaping the grounds; a new swimming pier and countless attractions for summer visitors.

Miss Alice McEwen, director of the Association's home economics department, will act as camp dietitian, and Miss Olive Clemens, R.N., will look after the campers' health.

The camp hostess is to be Miss Norah Carlisle, and the counselor in charge of junior campers will be Miss May Rillie. The camp business office is to be in charge of Miss Hilda Briffett and Miss Martha Brown.

The younger set at Belmont is loud in its praises of the new dance policy, the management reports, and Stan Wood and his swing orchestra are playing to enthusiastic crowds nightly.

fished those clear glacial waters last year and it is expected that this year will witness an even greater influx of the fishing fraternity to this territory. The pocket folder "What to do at Jasper" is a veritable mine of information for the tourist.

Minaki Lodge, at the north end of the Lake of the Woods area of Ontario, reached via Minaki station, will be open from June 25 to August 31. Nipigon Lodge, in the famous speckled trout and bass fish fishing area of Ontario, will be open on June 15 and close September 15. Pictou Lodge, situated at Pictou, Nova Scotia, overlooking Northumberland Strait, opens June 29 and closes September 7.

Eric the Great, claimed to be the most sensational aerial performer ever seen at Belmont, is being held over for a third week end and will repeat his thrilling performance Saturday and Sunday. Known throughout America for his daring act, Eric objects to being classed as an aerial trapeze artist. What he should be called he doesn't quite know, but he does say that work on a trapeze is child's play compared to the stunts that he goes through for the benefit of his audience. "I take my life in my hand every time I go up," he said, "and I haven't got any trapeze to help me either."

The younger set at Belmont is loud in its praises of the new dance policy, the management reports, and Stan Wood and his swing orchestra are playing to enthusiastic crowds nightly.

Trip To Europe Arranged By Mrs. Pope

There is not much time left in which to arrange your vacation in Europe this summer. The accommodation on Atlantic ships is being so rapidly taken up that there is very little left. If one is thinking of travelling abroad this year there should not be any further delay in making reservations.

There is no nicer way to see other countries than with a small congenial party, conducted by a capable and experienced director who knows what should be seen and enjoyed. Such a party is being taken over by Mrs. H. B. Pope, sailing by the S.S. Athenia, on June 27th for a tour of England, Holland, Belgium, Viny and Paris with a fourteen day cruise on the S. S. Lancastria of Norway and Denmark.

Reservation in this party cannot be made after June 10th. If you wish to join you must decide at once.

Mrs. Pope will be glad to furnish further information if you will phone WE. 2886.

Mitchell of the Children's Memorial Hospital will give a radio address over CFCF at 8 p.m., taking as his subject "Health in Camp."

Picnic Day At Belmont Park Saturday

Saturday will be opening picnic day at Belmont Park when members of the Beaver Hall Club, Bell Telephone Company organization, hold their annual outing at the Cartierville playground. While the club members hold their sports events in the special picnic section, other Montrealers will take part in the many other park activities.

Popular Summer Resorts Opening Across Canada

With the approach of the summer season, preparations are being made for the opening of the summer hotels and resorts operated by the Canadian National Railways at some of the most picturesque centres in Canada, according to Joseph Van Wyck, general manager of hotels for the system. "We are looking forward to a busy season in and around the hostilities operated by the railway, and, in addition to the hosts of tourists who come to our resorts from many parts of Canada, we expect a considerable increase in the number of visitors from the United States and overseas countries," stated Mr. Van Wyck.

Jasper Park Lodge in Alberta will be open from June 13 to September 15, and advance bookings for this famous mountain resort indicate a very busy season. Many inquiries have also been received from parties anxious to shoot in the big game country adjacent to Jasper National Park, experienced outfitters and guides being available at the town of Jasper for such expeditions. Announcement is also made that the Annual Totem Pole Trophy Tournament at Jasper will be held this year from September 6 to 12 inclusive. Additional interest is also being shown in speckled trout fishing in the mountains, the chalets at Maligne and Medicine Lakes being open from July 1 to August 31. About one thousand anglers

Maher, twirling for Westmount, struck out eleven men to set up a record for the league while Willock, behind the plate, turned in an excellent game.

Attridge, pitching for Melrose, turned in a stellar performance. Frank was on the receiving end and did a good job of it. Bennett's base stealing was a feature. Flannagan, Munday and Campbell also turned in fine ball.

CRICKET CHIRPS

by "Wicket Keeper"

Two poor guesses on Saturday made quite a difference in league standing. Westward "guessed" that they would need 200 or over to hold Westmount and the West Indians thought that 200 or over would prove too great a task for Sun Life. Both proved to be wrong.

For Sun Life Fairley and Davies pulled an almost impossible game out of the fire, batting against time and light as they did, with their fearless batting. The only thing that kept the spectators, warm, sparse as they were, was the hot game. West Indians took their defeat in their usual sporting way.

At Westmount Park, Westmount (late M.A.A.A.) were easy to the Westward strong batters. The latter's bowling let them down.

Rumour hath it that Westmount have been invited to Hollywood to stage a picture of slow motion cricket with a short reel in their familiar role "What the good sport in cricket does not do."

Ince again distinguished himself with the bat. Broadbelt, Lloyd and Ross showed up excellently.

Jemmott seemed to have had an off day. Grew did better with the ball than the bat.

It winds up with "What a difference 15 minutes might have made."

Familiar faces continue to appear on the cricket horizon. So far better, some for worse. With all due respect to the die hards and enthusiasts cricket will have to look to its junior divisions if the game is to attract a following. There are many good young bowlers properly farmed in the "A" division that would give it quite an uplift.

Speaking of familiar faces, Edwards is back after a year's lapse from Westward.

Tommy Douglas got quite a welcome. Saturday will prove his condition. He has had a tough session of it this winter but looks full of vim, vigor and vitality when seen at the nets recently. No word of Bobby Clutsum so far. His colorful personality is notably missing.

Wally Stendouse was up and around the nets the other night. He and Gordon Watt were thumbing their noses at the "A" team breathing fire and challenge. So far Harry Pollett has not committed himself being too busily engaged in gratifying the wants of the large Westward family. Mr. Rogers drops in once in a while. His quiet demeanour is a tower of strength to the old club.

Saturday
The cricket chirps long and lustily on Saturday. Westward meet Sun Life at Royal Avenue. This looks like a batting duel from here. Anyway it should be a good game for an official "At home."

"B" are scheduled to play Westmount at Westmount Park. "C" at the moment of writing are looking for a place to enjoy themselves for that is what those youngsters do, win or lose.

INNOVATIONS AT KAMP KANAWANA

New Quarters and Tuition For Backward Students Strike New Note At "Y" Boys' Camp

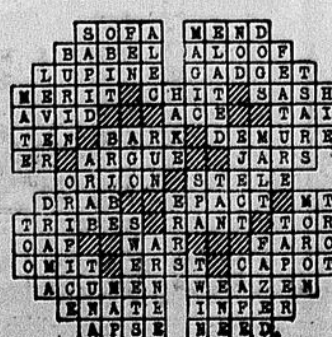

Campers at Kanawana, the Y.M.C.A. camp for boys, will be greeted with a new scene in Juvenile Camp this year with the erection of the new sleeping cabins for younger boys. Each cabin will be equipped with eight bunks and will have adequate cupboard space for all the boys' clothes.

The cabins will present a pleasant sight stained red in color and nestling among the green trees. They will occupy the same site as the old tents but will be set further back on more level ground. Two or three steps will lead into each cabin.

There will be lots of light and air available as each cabin will have a door and three windows, all screened and shuttered. Each bunk will have a deep mattress which will make sleeping delightful. These new homes for the juveniles will fill a real need in Kanawana.

Another new feature in the camp this year will be the opportunity offered for coaching those boys who are behind in their

Doris Hubbard of Vancouver, B.C. says: "Since I put on new Goodyears I never worry about blow-outs or skids."

● Insurance Underwriters' records prove that skids cause seven times more accidents than do blowouts. The Goodyear centre traction, world-famed for safe grip, on a Goodyear Superwrest cord carcass, protects you from both.

Drive safely on Goodyears and you don't need to have a care. Cars made safe with steel bodies, reinforced frames, strong brakes, safety glass, and the safest tires, carry you on safe highways into a new world of motoring pleasure.

Use your car to the full. There's health, education, enjoyment and social and business advancement in the wide use of your automobile. Car manufacturers in their campaign for safer cars send out more cars on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind. If your present car happened to be equipped with tires other than Goodyears, get new, safe Goodyears now and leave your cares behind.

PROOF
PROOF of Long Mileage—BEFORE YOU BUY! Your Goodyear dealer will show you "footprints" of actual tires on cars owned near you, which still retain safe traction after very long mileage. These will substantiate for you the two extra Goodyear qualities which the dealer will demonstrate to you—1. That Superwrest Cord retain their "life" much longer than ordinary cords—and 2. That the All-Weather diamond tread stoutly resists skidding even on smooth wet surfaces.
