PREMIER WILL TOUR QUEBEC

Intends To Cover Province In Five Days—Deliver Nine Speeches

(By Canadian Press)
Montreal, Oct. 14.—Right Hon. Arthur Meighen will tour the Province of Quebec from Nov. 4th to Nov. 9th, the Montreal Gazette states in its news columns. The itinerary, says this paper, has not yet been definitely laid out, but it is known that the Premier will deliver two more speeches in Montreal, one in the afternoon for the women voters and the other in the evening for the general public. He will also visit Terrebonne County, the municipality in which county, has not yet been chosen; Berthierville, Three Rivers, Quebec City, St. Hyacinthe, Sherbrooke and Valleyfield, but not in the order given above.

There is much interest in political circles here at the announcement that Henri Bourassa, Nationalist leader, will give an address on present day politics at the Monument National next Wednesday. It is understood that Mr. Bourassa has been a candidate in Labelle County at the forthcoming Federal elections. He represented the County for a number of years as Liberal at Ottawa, prior to his break with Sir Wilfrid Laurier over the participation of Canada in the South African war.

KNOW TODAY RAILROAD STRIKE

U.S. Railroad Executives Say Cannot Reduce Freight Rates At Present

Chicago, Oct. 14.—Representatives of United States railroads today after announcing that they cannot reduce freight rates at present, without going into bankruptcy, and that they would immediately seek a further reduction in employees wages from the United States railroad labor board, went into a secret conference with union leaders in an effort to reach an amicable settlement of wage difficulties which at times have threatened to tie up the transportation system of the country. The executives, announced, however, that the proposal to pass future wage reductions on to the public by applying to the L.C.C. for a reduction in freight and passenger rates had been accepted and that all future wage reductions would be met by a corresponding rate reduction.

W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, said that "since the union men already had authorized their leaders to call a strike rather than accept a 10 per cent wage cut, I do not see how the roads can have the nerve to suggest another cut."

The executives, it was announced, wish the wages of train service men returned to the same basis as previous to the increase granted in July, 1920. This will necessitate a 10 per cent reduction it was said.

"I am not a prophet," said Warren Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, "what will happen is more than I can say."

R. S. Binker of the association of railway executives said that the transportation system was facing one of its greatest crises.

Later tonight, Mr. Lee said that the district chairman of the unions would receive their final instructions tomorrow as to whether there would be a strike. Asked concerning the reports that a strike would be effective had been decided upon, Mr. Lee replied:

"I won't answer that definitely, but if some one has told you that they have hit a lot of nails on the head—perhaps they are not exactly right, but they are driving close."

UNION BANK IN HAMILTON ROBBED

Lone Gunman Obtained Fifteen Hundred Dollars In Hold Up Yesterday

(By Canadian Press)
Hamilton, Ont., Oct. 14.—The gunman who yesterday was followed in an attempt to rob the Bank of Hamilton, robbed the Union Bank at the corner of Locke and Mann streets today. He said "They got me yesterday, but they won't get me today," and covering the clerks with a gun grabbed $1,500 and made his escape in an automobile.

According to the story of the teller, Harry A. Snell, the man asked for change for a five dollar bill and then ordered him to throw up his hands. There were only three people in the bank at the time, the teller, L. Virtue, ledger keeper and John Marshall, of the Bank of Hamilton, who was visiting the clerks. The bandit ordered all three behind the counter and made them lie on the floor. After obtaining the keys of the teller's cage the bandit cleaned it out of all cash.

Preparing to leave the robbery, he said: "Well, you fooled me yesterday you—but you won't today. Now stay here, if any of you get up I'll drop you."

P. B. Strickland, manager of the main branch of the bank, stated that fortunately he had visited the bank this morning and arranged that little money was to be left in the teller's cage. He gave a warning to the clerks to be on the watch for any suspicious looking characters, owing to the attempted robbery yesterday afternoon.

MEIGHEN SPOKE TO AUDIENCE ON UNEMPLOYMENT

Less In Canada Than Anywhere Else, He Declared In Newcastle

(By Canadian Press)
Newcastle, Oct. 14.—Right Hon. Arthur Meighen closed his Maritime Province campaign with two meetings at Newcastle and Chatham tonight. He spoke first at the latter place, and, dealing with the question of unemployment said it was the function of Government to see in so far as possible that those who were willing to work could get work. But was the Government to blame for the situation? Unemployment was world-wide and here in Canada we had the least of any.

Conditions were much worse in Great Britain and the United States. The half of the civilized world could not buy at all. Poverty and starvation were stalking abroad in Europe and there must be something for the rehabilitation of the countries before the commercial demand from them could be resumed.

Consequently the demand on Canadian industries to stand behind them and assist with capital. It was impossible for the Government to start works all over the country in order to relieve unemployment.

The Government had asked the railways to accelerate orders and had promised to stand behind them and assist with capital. But unemployment must be dealt with locally and the Government could only assist. In so far as unemployment affected the returned men who had been partially or wholly disabled the Government took upon its shoulders this responsibility and would provide such assistance as was necessary to relieve these men. Conditions were improving and this winter would be the worst we had to face.

The Government was being blamed by Liberal speakers for the railway situation which was a legacy from the Laurier Government. Mr. Meighen defended the action of the Government in taking over the Canadian National Railways and Grand Trunk system. The Canadian National was now a system with feeders in the east and west and with a hope of ultimately becoming a paying proposition.

Every step in taking over these roads had been ratified by Parliament and the Government could be saddled with no blame.

Mr. Meighen characterized the Liberal criticism that he had sold the reins of power in much the same manner as Lenin and Trotsky as rubbish. Never in the history of National Railway system was the service as good as it is today, insisted the Premier.

"Let me make it plain the statement was made that I was committed to high protection," said the Premier. "That is not so, what I stand now is moderate protection. I intend to pursue a policy of moderate protection right through."

THE POLICE HAD INSIDE "DOPE"

London Quiet After Unemployment Demonstrations Of Previous Day

London, Oct. 14.—Information obtained by police emissaries several weeks ago that noon yesterday had been fixed for a beginning of a "revolution" under the communist banner accounted for the unprecedented preparations for dealing with any emergency by Scotland Yard, it was learned today.

After what the Daily Herald the Laborite organ terms "the battle of Piccadilly" yesterday when hundreds of mounted and foot police charged into the crowds of unemployment demonstrators and bruised a few heads, all was quiet today. There were only a few idlers in Trafalgar square, which yesterday was rimmed by hundreds of police. Scotland Yard expressed the belief that the danger of an early recurrence of yesterday's scenes. Inquiry today elicited the fact that yesterday's police preparations included the commandeering of the Metropolitan underground railways and the omnibus lines if found necessary, which would have enabled the concentration of fifteen thousand police at any trouble center within half an hour.

Last Wednesday on the eve of the demonstration, the unemployed of one of the London suburbs were addressed by a leader who told them: "You must not break your lines to get drinks; take a bottle of water with you."

When asked by one of his hearers what should be done with the bottles, the leader winked and said: "I don't care how you get rid of the bottles." He then added: "You probably will have a long walk and will be on your feet a long time; so take with you a good stout stick-it may be useful."

After a clash with the police yesterday in Shaftesbury Avenue a number of pieces of iron bars with sharpened ends, made into a form of pocket weapon, many bits of lead and other missiles were found on the pavement and inside of shops where windows were smashed. The police quietly kept "an ear in" at all of the meetings held by the unemployed. Throughout the Metropolitan area these listeners were frequently dressed carefully in the guise of the unemployed.

REGISTRATION ON WEDNESDAY WEEK

Starts Then In Province For Coming Federal Elections—Ends November 1

(By Canadian Press)
Montreal, Oct. 14.—Registration of voters for the approaching Federal elections is scheduled to start throughout the Province of Quebec, Wednesday, October 26th, and continue through the six week days to November 1. Two weeks later the revising officers will commence six more daily sittings for purpose of adding names of those who are not registered during the regular period and to hear objections to names which appear on the lists.

The election law provides that returning officers on the receipt of their writs shall appoint one registrar for each 4,000 of population within their respective constituencies. Four days before the registrars commence sitting notices will be posted, informing residents of the various ridings of the place and date where and when the sittings will be held. On this basis the notices are likely to appear one week from Saturday, with registration to start the following Wednesday.

The registrars will use the municipal lists in Montreal as the basis of their lists and through the rest of the province will use the province lists. The municipal lists in Montreal will automatically give registration to several thousand aliens who appear on the city lists because they are property owners and an important work of political organizations will be to comb the lists and make sure that these are not permitted to cast ballots on December 6.

The franchise is open to women on the same days as men, except that a woman, unless she had a vote under the War Time Elections Act of 1917, is not entitled to vote simply through the naturalization of her husband if she is a native of other than the British Isles in Europe, a native of South America, Asia, Africa or New Zealand, the latter dominion not submitting to the inter-dominion nationalization act in force between other sections of the Empire.

THIEVES STOLE WEDDING FINERY

High Society Of New York's Lower East Side Is Disconsolate

New York, Oct. 14.—High society of the Lower East side today was ruefully contemplating the alternatives of calling off festivities incident to its first "classy" wedding of the season or going through with it minus all its proverbial parade of evening gowns, clawhammer coats and "three gallon" hats.

For thieves, ignorant or heedless of the Ghetto's inflexible rules of social propriety, last night stole the whole works, 43 gowns, 12 bridal costumes, including veils and 34 full dress suits, from Barnett Michaelson, purveyor to the district of such indispenables.

And now that the thieves are caught, an almost equally unfeeling magistrate has impounded the regalia as evidence.

"Please judge" pleaded the distraught Michaelson "I will be glad to let the prisoners go if I could only get back those gowns and suits."

If those folks don't get my suits, the wedding will be ruined and I will be lynched. Even the bride's and groom's clothes are in this stuff."

But the law, commented the judge, is after all the law.

IRISH MEETING IS ADJOURNED

Conference Will Meet Again On Monday--A Sensational Report

London, Oct. 14.—The adjournment today of the Irish conference until next Monday afternoon had no political significance, it was understood tonight. The postponement of the sitting of the conference which aims at the solution of the Irish claims was attributed by the Sinn Fein delegates to the Englishmen's passion for week-endings. Considerable currency was given here today to a sensational report of the ordering of uniforms for the Irish Republican Army and the formation of a company to come to London to escort the Dail delegates back to Ireland, upon the conclusion of peace. The story, however, was ridiculed by Sinn Fein leaders, who say no uniforming of the army is going on and that there is no question of any detachment coming to London at any time.

LYDD GEORGE IS UNDECIDED

Visit To United States Depends On Outcome Of Irish Negotiations

London, Oct. 14.—The Parliamentary correspondent of the London Times says he understands that Mr. Lloyd George expects to be able to decide early next week whether the prospects for a satisfactory outcome of the Irish negotiations are sufficiently good to warrant his going to Washington.

According to the correspondent, the Prime Minister, if he goes, probably will stay in the United States for a fortnight, and that it is possible he may return to Washington for the conclusion of the Conference and the formal ratification of any agreement that may be reached.

Wants To Extend Stay
Paris, Oct. 14.—It is the hope of Premier Briand that when he visits Washington next month for the Conference on limitation of armaments and far Eastern questions, he will be able to remain there longer than the ten days which it has been stated he can give for his visit. If domestic politics permit, he will extend his stay in the United States capital.

MONTREALER'S CLAIM WAS DISALLOWED

Shares In Which He Held An Interest Were Not Sold, Said Judge

(By Canadian Press)
Montreal, Oct. 14.—Mr. Justice McLennan gave judgment today at a judge in bankruptcy confirming disallowance by the trustee, W. G. Finlayson, of a claim by Fred Witt Davidson and Company, local stock-brokers who went into bankruptcy in July 1920.

"Claimant has absolutely failed to prove the alleged sale. On the contrary, the evidence shows that the shares in which he claimed an interest were not sold and that he knew that they had not been disposed of," said his lordship.

Toronto Trio Accused Of Stealing $700,000. And Falsifying Books

(By Canadian Press)
Toronto, Oct. 14.—Facing a total of eighteen charges of conspiracy to defraud the public and the N. Brenner Co. Ltd., the theft of 700,000 and of falsifying books and records, Nathan Brenner, Mayor Brenner and their bookkeeper, Gordon Blackford, appeared in Police Court for preliminary hearing today. The N. Brenner Company, Ltd., metal dealers, assigned some months ago and following investigation made by the assignee, Oler Wade, the charges were laid. The eighteen charges were grouped into three—theft, conspiracy and falsifying of books and records.

F. Julian Rahison, manager of the Nassau Smelting Company of New York said the Brenner Company still owed his firm $20,000.

SEARCH BOAT FOR DRUGS BUT FIND CHINAMEN

Customs Officials Ransack British Freighter—Men Hiding In Barrels

New York, N.Y., Oct. 14.—Customs officials ransacked the British freighter Heleneus today and found 15 barrels of drugs, but instead found 15 Chinese men hidden in empty ballast tanks, several of them afflicted with beri-beri. A report that another Chinese who had the disease had been thrown overboard before he was dead, either in the harbor or on the voyage from Boston, started the harbor police on a search for the body. The fifteen were taken to Ellis Island and after they had been questioned, Fong Yow, known on the ship as "No. 1 Chinaman" or boss, was detained on charges that for $1,000 a head, he had undertaken to smuggle the batch into the United States from a port in China.

VERY LITTLE CHANGE HAS TAKEN PLACE

Canadian Business Outlook For Past Two Weeks Reported Slightly Better

(By Canadian Press)
Winnipeg, Oct. 14.—Very little change has taken place in the Canadian business outlook during the past two weeks. The better feeling is shown in concrete form by increased orders being received by wholesalers, and speaking generally things look more healthy than they have for some time past. States the weekly trade report of the Canadian Creditmen's Trust Association.

Montreal, Quebec and Toronto reports tally to a great extent. While larger purchases are in evidence, they are none too large and leave room to be compared with 1920 in point of value.

Retail trade is improving. The general improvement is mostly confined to dry goods, boots and shoes and reasonable wearing apparel while furniture, hardware and decorative lines are slow.

COUNTERFEITING GANG BROKEN UP IN U.S.

Eleven Members Arrested In South Within Twenty Four Hours

Boston, Oct. 14.—Eleven men believed to be members of a gang of counterfeiters working along the Atlantic coast, have been arrested at Norfolk, Va., and Charleston, S.C., within the past 24 hours. Inspector Hobart of the treasury department staff today informed Judge Hayden in the Roxbury district court.

The inspector appeared in behalf of Kirkpatrick Brown, charged with passing a counterfeit $10. bill asserting that Brown was the innocent tool of men who had passed the false notes to him.

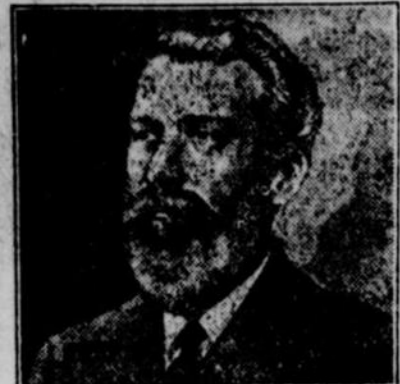

Brown was freed. Most of the spurious paper consisted of one-dollar bills, shaved down and raised by the addition of a cipher at the corners, Hobart said.

WILL FIGHT FLAMES WITH AIRPLANES

Paris, Oct. 14.—Fire fighting by airplane is the latest suggestion which is being studied by the Paris Fire Department following the burning of the Magasin des Printemps department store, with a loss of 10,000,000 francs.

Instead of using water and pumps however, the aviators would be provided with huge bombs, which would explode on striking the burning buildings, filling the atmosphere with a gas that would completely choke the flames, while being absolutely harmless to the people in neighboring buildings.

HAD SIX CARDS UP IN COURT

Remarkable Collection Of Aces Aroused Suspicion Of Two Losers In Game

New York, Oct. 15.—Holding six cards in a poker game really isn't among those things that are done even outside the three mile limit up on the high seas.

According to the story told by Burton D. Allison, a writer, who lives at 279 Park Avenue, Clifton, N.J., he met the four soon after the Mohawk pointed for Sandy Hook.

A table stakes game was running pretty late as the Mohawk pounded steadily northward and luck had favored the four strangers.

Allison immediately called the attention of the table to the irregularity and there was an explosion which drowned the rumble of the Mohawk's engines.

Detective McCarthy of the Police Headquarters Bomb Squad was on board, having taken a trip for his own.

GREAT VARIETY OF BERRIES NOW

The Woods Around Montreal Thick With Wild Fruit, Say Hikers

Montreal, Oct. 13.—Although late Spring and early Summer furnish mankind with most of the edible berries for table use, such as strawberries, raspberries, blackberries, blueberries, it is the late Summer and early autumn that mature most of the berries gathered in the woods.

But the regions around about Montreal are thick with a great variety of berries, say those who spend their spare time close to nature.

Allison immediately called the attention of the table to the irregularity and there was an explosion which drowned the rumble of the Mohawk's engines.

Detective McCarthy of the Police Headquarters Bomb Squad was on board, having taken a trip for his own.

WILL FIGHT FLAMES WITH AIRPLANES

Paris, Oct. 14.—Fire fighting by airplane is the latest suggestion which is being studied by the Paris Fire Department following the burning of the Magasin des Printemps department store, with a loss of 10,000,000 francs.

Instead of using water and pumps however, the aviators would be provided with huge bombs, which would explode on striking the burning buildings, filling the atmosphere with a gas that would completely choke the flames, while being absolutely harmless to the people in neighboring buildings.

QUEBEC, OCTOBER 15, 1921

GOOD WORK, KIWANIS!

The Kiwanis Club is to be heartily commended for undertaking a campaign for the removal of snow by the municipality; this is one more instance of practical civic welfare work of a kind for which the organization in question is becoming well-known throughout Canada and the United States.

The City is prepared to undertake the snow removal this winter and to do it better and more cheaply than by individual contract, which has been the only means available hitherto, provided that public opinion expresses itself plainly as being in favor of the reform.

The Chronicle therefore urges upon every citizen who is approached to sign the Club's petition in his own interest—let alone that of the public—and to co-operate by waiting until the outcome of the campaign is announced before signing any individual contract for the coming season.

REWARDS AND VOCATIONS

In his address at the Convocation of McGill University last Wednesday, Premier Taschereau dwelt at some length upon a serious, self-evident evil in the social life of this and other countries; insisting upon the over-crowded condition of the liberal professions and the need for reinforcing the ranks of agriculture, industry and commerce.

Our modern institutions of higher learning offer to the student a far wider and more democratic field of training than would have been considered consistent with their purpose and dignity not so many generations ago.

By popularizing the agricultural colleges, business colleges and technical schools something may be done to redress the vocational balance, though it is a notable defect of all three that they tend to turn out teachers rather than practical workers.

There is fortunately sufficient self-confidence in nearly every man, and particularly in every young man, to believe that he can succeed in life, no matter what obstacles prove insuperable for the average individual.

It is not as yet sufficiently realized that existing systems of education are essentially of urban origin and adapted more particularly to urban pursuits.

Nor must conditions of work be left out of the reckoning; just as the material rewards that await the eminent advocate or famous surgeon are outstanding, so there is something of individual prominence attaching to those professions that appeals to youthful pride and fires youthful ambition in a way that more prosaic and less conspicuous callings cannot hope to do.

Mr. Taschereau made particular reference to raising the standards of journalism by special training. We are aware that the average of ability in Canada has ever suffered by comparisons elsewhere and, although every editor and reporter may not have been college-trained, many of them have attained to success in other walks of life as well as their own.

MERCANTILE MARINE NEEDED

"Little Canadians" and petty politicians who attack Canada's mercantile marine from partisan motives will do well to ponder over the case of a Canadian citizen, reported to be "one of the best pursers in the North Atlantic," who has been discharged from service on a vessel sailing from New York, along with 200 other members of the crew, to make room for qualified citizens of the United States.

With his serious unemployment problems, it is not to be wondered at that Uncle Sam should look after his own first; but it is a gloomy outlook for the seamen of other nationalities who happen to be residing in the United States.

Under these circumstances it is fortunate that Canada has her own merchant marine to give employment to seafaring men and a vigorous campaign such as is being conducted in the United States should help greatly to increase the business of the government ships.

FRATERNIZING WITH MEINIE

That conditions are getting back to a pre-war basis with a vengeance in this country would seem to be indicated by a letter received from the Industrial Secretary of a Canadian Board of Trade and published by the Empire Mail of London, Eng., under the heading, "A Challenge to British Manufacturers—Canadian Board of Trade Prefers to Deal with German Firms."

I wish to thank you for receipt of your letter of the 30th ult. and for the desired information contained in it. I have written Berlin asking to be put on the regular mailing list for all publications in English, dealing with German foreign trade, giving as my reason, my personal experience for so many years in that market.

My experience during all that period buying and dealing with German manufacturers, was generally satisfactory, so much so, that my lists were steadily growing, in many cases at the expense of some other foreign competitor. I still continue the connections, after ceasing the personal trips.

The Editor charitably suppresses the identity of the Board of Trade which expresses its preferences thus frankly but our readers may recognize it as a prominent Canadian business man, to whom the communication was shown, is said to have done; stating that it probably came from an area "dominated by Germans of anti-English feelings, in a rather small town."

The writer of the letter, it should be noted, claims to speak for Canadians generally. On this point the gentleman interviewed stated the real feeling more accurately: "There is a certain amount of truth in the statement that the English manufacturers do not supply what we want in Canada, but he has evidently always dealt with Germany and has made up his mind to continue doing so."

The Editor of the Empire Mail fully recognizes that this is not a typical attitude and explains that its importance is minimized by the Teutonic origin of the community adopting it, but goes on to say: "We are indebted to this Board of Trade for their frank avowal of preference for the German manufacturer. It will be noticed that there is no direct allegation against the British manufacturer, but the implication is obvious."

A Verse Or Two

(By Modern Poets)

AN OLD FASHIONED GARDEN

Beautiful hollyhocks, flame-red and tall, Like guarding sentinels surround the wall, White blue, delphiniums and sweet Columbine Nod and toss in the bright sunshine.

And the stately foglows stand in a pile Near the gravel walk and the old sun dial, On the arbor the old fashioned roses climb high Forming a sweet canopy under the blue sky.

And all the Summer, geraniums red Blaze and burn in their scarlet bed, Mignonettes and marigolds in beds side by side, With sweet heliotrope for the garden is wide.

In the Spring, bleeding hearts and the peony Are just a wonderful sight to see, And the delightful perfume of the fleur de lis Pervades the air and attracts the bee.

A great old elm make a nice shady nook Where you may dream dreams, or read a good book, While the cucumber vine on the trellis rail Looks white and pure as a bridal veil.

The garden is the haunt of the birds and the bees, And the perfume of flowers, wafts sweet on the breeze This old fashioned garden cries, "Come and see And learn a great lesson in beauty from me."

LEGAL BATTLE OVER 5 YEAR BOY

Chicago Bar Ass'n. And Boy's Grandmother The Interested Disputants

Chicago, Oct. 14.—Two nations are battling in the probate Court here to claim custody and citizenship for Andrew Woodall, war orphan, five years old. The Chicago Bar Association, through David H. Bloom, is seeking to retain the youngster for America.

The Bar Association claims the right to provide citizenship for Andrew in a letter addressed to the mother of the boy which was taken from the pocket of the father after he had been killed in action in France with the A. E. F.

The father was a former citizen of England, but secured automatic citizenship in this country when he enlisted in the American navy.

The legal association pointed out to Judge Horner that so patriotic a citizen should be remembered by his adopted nation which he helped to defend by caring for his son.

The father was killed in November, 1918, and the boy's mother died the year following.

Andrew has $10,000 due from the War Risk Insurance Bureau. The grandmother has put forth counter claims that she is of sufficient means to maintain the boy and furnish prospects as good as can be found in the United States.

MARSHAL FOCH TO SEE INDIAN CAMP

Will Go To Rosebud Reservation In South Dakota And See War Dance

Washington Oct. 14.—Marshal Foch was so impressed with the fine appearance and fighting qualities of the 17,323 American Indians who fought in France as part of the American expeditionary force that he has expressed a desire to visit them on their home reservations while he is in this country.

Arrangements were made today through Secretary of War Weeks, Commissioner of Indian Affairs Burke and officials of the American Legion for a trip by Marshal Foch to the Rosebud Indian Reservation in South Dakota in the first week in November, after he has addressed the legion meeting at Kansas City.

Rodman Wanamaker, chairman of the committee for the reception of distinguished guests in New York, who has been long interested in the history and welfare of the American Indians, is en route from France on the Olympic and is expected to accompany Marshal Foch on his visit to the Indians.

While Marshal Foch is at Rosebud the Indians will perform their war dance and give to him a royal reception. He will smoke the pipe of peace with them and they will present to him a "coup stick" which is the Indian Croix de Guerre.

Marshal Foch in a letter to Dr. Dixon writes: "I cannot forget the brilliant services which the valorous Indian soldiers of the American armies have rendered to the common cause, and the energy as well as the courage which they have shown to bring about victory, decisive victory, by the attack."

(Canadian Press Cable) London, Oct. 14.—Reuters' correspondent in Melbourne reports that Hon. James Page, leader of the Country party has announced that he will move in the House of Representatives that the Australian estimates be reduced by one pound.

The Country party leader had already given notice in the House of a motion to reduce the estimates by an amount equal to the estimated deficit of £2,800,000 as a vote of censure on the Government.

Mrs. Rose M. Brown Gained 20 Pounds In Four Weeks Time

Declares It's Simply Astonishing To See The Wonderful Benefits She Has Derived From Tanlac—Says Terrible Headaches Have Disappeared

MRS. ROSE M. BROWN.

"It sounds unreasonable, but I have actually gained 20 pounds in less than a month's time by taking Tanlac, and the wonderful benefit I have derived from the use of this medicine is simply astonishing," said Mrs. Rose M. Brown, 111 Third Street, Manchester, N.H.

"Why, I am so happy to be relieved of my troubles I can really never praise this medicine enough. Up to the time I began taking Tanlac, I suffered for something over two years with a very bad form of stomach trouble.

"My appetite was so poor I could scarcely eat a thing. My stomach would be so badly bloated with gas sometimes I was almost afraid to go to bed for fear I would actually smother. I felt tired and worn out most of the time and became terribly discouraged over my condition. I often had such violent headaches I was unable to be out of bed for two or three days at a stretch.

"Four bottles of Tanlac completely restored my health and anyone can see at a glance the wonderful change that has taken place in my condition. I have a splendid appetite now and the stomach trouble has entirely disappeared. I can eat just anything I want without ever feeling ing a sign of indigestion. The best of all, I am never bothered any more with headaches and this was the greatest relief of all. I want to tell everybody what this medicine has done for me."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists everywhere.

PRINCESS ZENIA NOW MRS. LEEDS

Royalty For Second Time Has Joined "Tin Plate" Millions

Paris, Oct. 14.—The Leeds millions recently joined for a second time to European royalty.

Dressed in a simple orange chiffon gown, the youthful and beautiful Princess Zenia of Greece became the Bride of Young William B. Leeds, son of America's "tin plate king".

The civil ceremony today followed a long romance which began when Leeds, hastening from America to visit his mother, who was seriously ill in Athens, met the princess. It was a "love at first sight" romance, and after a brief courtship, it was announced they were to be married. The wedding was postponed frequently, however, because of the opposition of Leeds guardians, who declared he was too young.

Leeds was about 18 and the princess 17 when they met.

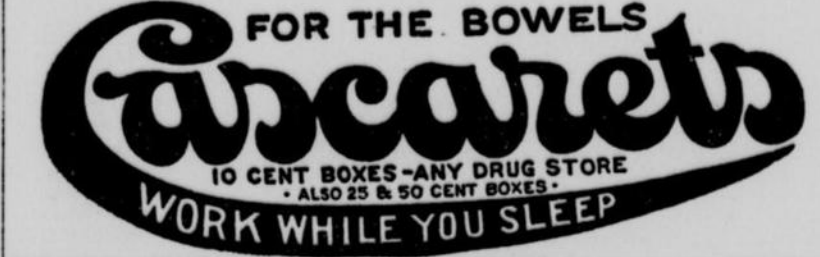

There was no extensive ceremony. The brief civil rites were performed in the presence only of the immediate family.

The bride, however, was beautiful in the simplicity of her attire. She smiled throughout the ceremony. A rich string of pearls hung about her neck. She wore a brown velvet hat, set jauntily over her hopped dark hair. The charm of her dress was enhanced by a simple but rich cape of orange which she wore over her gown.

Young Leeds appeared delightedly nervous. He glanced about and shifted his high top hat like a high school boy. He wore a morning coat. The mothers of the bride and groom were present. Princess George and Princess Nina, the bride's sister, with the Grand Duke Pavlovitch and Prince Christopher were the only other witnesses.

YOU'RE HEADACHY, SICK, BILIOUS! STOMACH IS SOUR!—DIME A BOX

Sick headaches! Always trace them to lazy liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels or a sick stomach. Poisonous, constipated matter, gases and bile generated in the bowels, instead of being carried out of the system, are re-absorbed into the blood. When these poisons reach the delicate brain tissues they cause congestion and that dull, sickening headache. Cascarets will remove the cause by stimulating the liver, making the bile and constipation poison move on and out of the bowels. One taken tonight straightens you up by morning. Children love Cascarets, too.

DEPLORE DEATH OF ALD. M. FISET
Resolution Of Condolence Passed By City Council Last Evening

The City Council last night after passing a resolution of condolence on the occasion of the death of Ald. M. Fiset, Dean of the Council, adjourned out of respect to his memory. The resolution was carried on a standing vote and was proposed by Ald. Lantier and Ald. Bedard, seconded by Ald. Bertrand and Ald. Martin. Aldermen Lantier, Bedard and Martin spoke on the resolution and paid a glowing tribute to their departed colleague, Ald. Fiset, in the course of his remarks also referred to the unexpected death this week of Mr. Charles E. Roy, a former member of the City Council, who played an important role in civic affairs for a number of years. At the opening of the meeting a letter was read from Mr. Roisne-Prieur, Secretary of the Union of Municipalities of the Province of Quebec thanking the City for the hospitable reception tendered the delegates who attended the annual convention of the Union held here during the past summer. Two letters were received from the Federated Trades and Labor Council of Quebec and Lewis. The first referred to the clause in the City Charter which placed on the City responsibility for damages caused during riots, and asked who would pay for the damages caused here during the strike of the police and firemen last spring. The letter was referred to the City Attorneys. The second letter, under the name of the Bell Telephone Company for increased rates, the question was referred to the Finance Committee. The American Society of Municipal Improvements invited the City to send representatives to the annual convention of the Society which will be held at Baltimore from Oct. 24th to 28th. Mr. Louis Dallaire wrote to complain of boys playing baseball on Church street. The police will attend to the matter. Proprietors of Little Champlain street sent in a petition asking the City to complete the paving work on that thoroughfare. On motion of Ald. Lantier, seconded by Ald. Delagrave, Rev. Stephen Connelly, C.S.R., Rector of St. Patrick's Parish, was appointed a member of the Quebec Catholic School Commission to succeed Rev. Father Costello, who was transferred to St. John, N.B. The Council authorized the Exhibition Commission to enter into a contract with the Quebec Hunt Club whereby that organization will have exclusive use of the race track for running races from 1922 until 1925 inclusive. Two race meetings will be held each season. The salary of Mr. J. Allaire, N.P., was increased from $800 to $1,000, and that of Mr. R. C. de la Chevrotte, N.P., from $100 to $200 a year. A resolution was passed granting a delay for reimbursements of money under the housing loan. The reimbursements will begin on January 1, 1922. This delay is granted in view of the City withholding the grants for some time. A sum of $63,500 was placed to the credit of the Roads Department on recommendation of the Finance Committee. Several grants under the housing loan which already passed the Finance Committee were approved, and a sum of $1,300 was voted to charities from the proceeds of the amusement tax. The contracting of a temporary loan of $61,000 for waterworks was approved. The Council ratified a grant of $2,500 to the Anti-Tuberculosis League. An amendment was made to the by-law providing for the removal of snow by the City. Several streets were added to the list already provided for. The Council adjourned to the 28th of October.

MOTOR ACCIDENT AT ST. GEORGE
Two Americans Killed—One Believed To Be Well Known Visitor Here

News has been received in town of a motor accident which occurred at St. George, Beauce, yesterday morning which resulted in the death of two Americans belonging to Waterville, Me. It appears that the car in which they were travelling struck a post on the bridge over the Famine River and was thrown into the water. When the residents of the village heard of the accident several of them proceeded to the spot and raised the machine, when it was found that both of the occupants were dead. Papers discovered on the person of one of the victims bore the name of Alden. A gentleman of that name had been staying at the Chateau Frontenac a few days ago, with several friends, and subsequently left by motor for St. George, Beauce, where he had some timber limits. He had been in the habit of coming to Quebec several times a year from Waterville, Me., and last spring was in town with his wife previous to proceeding on a fishing trip.

PRESENTATION TO MR. J. MONAGHAN
Chateau Staff Remember Assistant Manager On Eve Of His Departure For China

An interesting event took place at the Chateau Frontenac yesterday morning when Thomas Monaghan, Assistant Manager of the Hotel, was the object of a demonstration on the part of the members of the staff. Who took advantage of his impending departure for China, where he has been appointed Catering Superintendent for the Orient, with headquarters at Hong Kong, for the Canadian Pacific Overseas Service, to tender him some token of their esteem. All the members of the staff who could be spared from their duties assembled in the office of Mr. F. Smith, Accountant, who presided over the function, and who addressed Mr. Monaghan conveyed to him in the course of a short, though not speech expressed the regret of the employees at his departure, but at the same time conveyed to Mr. Monaghan their congratulations on his well-earned promotion, and concluded by wishing him every success in his new sphere of labor. Mr. Smith then on behalf of the staff, presented Mr. Monaghan with a wardrobe trunk and a well-filled purse of gold. Mr. Monaghan, who was completely taken by surprise, expressed his deep appreciation at this manifestation of esteem on the part of the staff of the Chateau, and mentioned how sorry he was to leave Quebec, but he felt that when he was offered the position which he would shortly take over, that he could not refuse it. In concluding Mr. Monaghan thanked the members of the staff for the able assistance they had accorded him in the course of his duties at the Chateau, and also for their kind remembrances on his departure, which he assured them he would never forget. Mr. Monaghan leaves tomorrow night for Montreal, where he will spend a week before proceeding to Vancouver whence he will proceed to Hong Kong, stopping over for a few days at Yokohama and Shanghai en route and expects to reach his destination about the middle of December. Mr. A. Borden, formerly Assistant Manager at Banff Springs Hotel, who succeeds Mr. Monaghan, as Assistant Manager of the Chateau, arrived in town yesterday to take over the duties of the position.

The cast also includes Anita Klinovala, Pietro DeBiasi, Natale Cervi, Joseph Tudisco and Luigi Dalle Molle.

OIL TANK ISSUE STILL LIVE ONE
Present Outlook Is That Wishes Of Rate-Payers Will Be Ignored

The question of the erection of oil tanks on the C. N. R. property at Limouliu is still a very live one, although the decision of the Roads Committee several weeks ago that the company must not erect tanks on the property near La Canardiere Road seemed to be final at the time. Following that action on the part of the committee the delegation of the residents of Limouliu retired satisfied that their wishes would be respected, but since then the representatives of the British American Oil and their supporters have been busy and there is evidence of a change of sentiment on the part of some of the aldermen at the City Hall. Previous to the meeting of the City Council last night, Mr. J. H. Fortier, President of the Board of Trade, who has been a strong supporter of the company, and Mr. St. Laurent, K.C., waited on the Mayor and intervened in the Mayor's room, and after the meeting of the Council the same gentlemen and Mr. W. A. Schorman, Consulting Engineer of the Company, had a second interview with the Mayor and Aldermen. At the meeting of the Council first reading was given to a by-law embodying an amendment to the building laws, which specifies that gasoline tanks must be placed underground, "unless the City Council accepts another mode of installation." A letter was then read from the Quebec Board of Trade enclosing a resolution passed by the Council of the Board on September 26th, supporting the application of the British American Oil Company to erect their tanks on La Canardiere Road. The communication was referred to the Roads Committee where it will be considered at the next meeting of that body.

CHARITY SHIELD FOOTBALL GAME THIS AFTERNOON

CHARITY SHIELD GAME TODAY

Empress Of France Eleven And Wayagamac Meet This Afternoon At "Ex."

The Empress of France football eleven, leaders of the Quebec City and District Association Football League will play the Wayagamac team of Three Rivers at the Exhibition Grounds at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the final of the Telegraph Charity Shield competition. The game promises to be the best exhibition of football seen in this city for some time, as the teams are very evenly matched and know the game from A to Z.

The Empress boys have an enviable record in this city and in the two years that the ship has been represented in the local League have not as yet suffered a defeat. The team is well balanced both on the offensive and defensive. The Wayagamac team also has a record to be proud of, which includes the winning of the championship of the St. Maurice Valley League and the Challenge Cup. ELIMINATION TO START TODAY

Schooners Will Race For Championship Of Canadian Fleet This Morning

(By Canadian Press) Halifax, Oct. 14—Eight of Nova Scotia's finest fishing schooners are in readiness to-night for the gun that will start them off at nine o'clock to-morrow morning on the first of a series of two races to decide the championship of the Canadian fishing fleets and subject to certain restrictions, the right to compete against the Gloucester schooner Riste, America trophy, won by the Esperanto last year. No all of the schooners entered in to-morrow's race can qualify as contestants in the International series of races.

Prominent among the schooners which it is believed would be ruled out from competing with the Riste in the event of their winning in the elimination series are Canada, Captain Jos. Conrad, and Independence, Captain Albert Himmelman, the water line length of both of these schooners exceeding the stipulated 112 feet laid down by the deed of gift. The remaining entrants for the Canadian championship series are: Ima R. Corkum, Captain Freeman Corkum; Bluenose, Captain Gus Walters; J. Duffy, Captain Soudier; Donald J. Cook, Captain William Cook; Aleala, Captain Roland Knekle, and Delawana, Captain David Backman.

The series opening to-morrow is to be decided on the point system for second, six points for third, five points for fourth, four points for fifth, three points for sixth, two points for seventh, and one point for eighth. In addition to the trophy emblematic of the Canadian championship the schooners will race for six money prizes, 1,000 for the first boat; $700 for the second; $500 for the third, and three prizes of $400 each for the fourth, fifth, and sixth boats. In the event of the two races resulting in a tie for any prize, the vessel tied must race off for this prize.

The ordinary rules of the road will govern the vessels during the progress of the races, the only stipulation being that if any competing vessel foul a buoy making the course, or any other competing vessel during the race she shall be disqualified.

The 40-mile course to be raced over will be chosen from four possible courses one hour before the race. All of these courses are triangular and have for their apex the inner automatic buoy off the mouth of Halifax harbor. Wind conditions at the start of each race will determine the selection of the course, the intention being to select the one that will give the greatest amount of windward work.

London, Oct. 14—Ted, Kid Lewis middleweight champion of England, to-night defeated Johnny Basham in the 12th round of what was to have been 20 round bout. The fight was for the championship. BOWLERS PLAYED FIRST MATCHES

Class B Games Started Last Night—Frontenac, Victoria And Adanacs Won

The first games in the City and District Bowling League Class "B" were played last night with three matches scheduled. Two of the games resulted in shut-outs, Frontenac Reds taking all three strings from the Olympia pin-trundlers, while Adanacs applied the kaiso to the Madelon quintette. The other match proved a win for Victoria over Crecents by the odd string in three.

Considering the carliness of the season some fairly good scores were made, the best being put on by Poltras of Victoria who rolled a single of 210 and a three-string total of 537. Boucher, of Frontenac Reds, was one point below Poltras for the three strings, while Habbick, of Crecents, with 295 was runner-up for the high single.

St. Patrick's and Bell Telephone now have to wait another week before they can decide the championship of the City Baseball League. Although it had been decided Thursday night that the trotting races carded for the Exhibition Grounds tomorrow would be called off to allow the ball teams to decide the League title, last night a new decision was handed down to the effect that the ball game would have to be cancelled. So tomorrow afternoon trotting races will be staged at the Grounds in place of the St. Patrick's-Bell Telephone championship baseball match.

Bob Pitcher, who has been in Montreal for the past week on learning that the St. Pat-Bell game would be played tomorrow, packed his grip and hit the trail for Quebec, so as to be on hand to help his team mates try to win the championship. FIRST SCHOONER RACE TODAY

Eight Of Nova Scotia's Best Fishing Vessels Start Championship Contest

Halifax, Oct. 14—"All ashore that's going ashore" will be the word along the Halifax waterfront at about seven o'clock tomorrow morning when eight of Nova Scotia's best fishing schooners haul out from their berths and tune up for the start of the first race of the 1921 championship contest at nine to-morrow.

Their trimming done, the ships turned in tonight eager for the start that will send them over the starboard line. "I hope it comes down a screeching norther, something hot to beat home against said one old salt on the Bluenose. All the skippers want wind some perhaps more than others. They will carry all the sail their vessels can possibly stand, if it does come on to blow.

Tonight at the Board of Trade rooms the captains of the various craft met with the sailing committee and discussed the rules. It was decided to reduce the time limit of the race from nine hours to eight hours, race from nine hours to eight hours, and furthermore that, even if a very late start were made because of postponements on account of lack of wind, the first schooner in must finish before six o'clock. Otherwise it will be called no race.

While captains and crews were calm and undisturbed the night before the race, such was not the case with the thousand or more enthusiasts that thronged the lobbies of the hotels or buzzed around the different wharves this evening. Halifax people are not the only ones infected with race fever, for there are many scores here from the south and furthermore, and knowing a thing or two about schooners, these gentry have their own opinions to air which are listened to with much respect by the less nautical.

POLICE LEARN FINGER-PRINTING

Massachusetts Force Being Taught Latest Stunts To Catch Criminals

Boston, Oct. 14.—They're teaching the new "State constables" the art of fingerprinting. Then they'll catch Mr. Burglar, Safe-blower and Second-story Worker.

Instructor Romeo Hill has pointed out to the new force concrete examples of how the finger print game will work out as far as the constabulary is concerned. "A short time ago," he told them, "a local police force was puzzled with a series of breaks in residences that were all of a similar nature. In every case a cellar window was broken and the thief would chop open the door leading to the upper floor.

"The culprit became to be known as 'The Axman' and the force could not seem to catch him. Then was conceived the idea of looking for finger prints, and the windows of one of the residence yielded up a very fine imprint of two fingers.

"The breaks continued, and the police could not seem to connect them. The finger prints were taken up to the State House for examination, and after going through the prints of thousands of criminals, already catalogued, the identical prints were found. The man had been arrested about 10 years ago and had done his time. He had been photographed and his picture was sent broadcast through the country to the various police departments as being 'wanted' by the police of a near-by city.

"As there are many conscientious officers who are constantly on the lookout for criminals at large, fortunately one of these was on the job not long afterwards in Lowell. Where Prints Are Useful

"He came across a very finely dressed man and woman and was impressed with the face of the man. He was certain that he had seen it and instantly recalled the photos sent out for 'The Axman.' He watched the couple for a time, and then he determined to arrest the man. Despite the protest of the arrested one he took him to the station and then the State House was notified, and after making the man submit to finger printing we found we had our man.

"He proved to be 'The Axman,' and a more surprised criminal could not be found when we put our evidence up to him.

"The new constabulary are expected to make good in just such cases as these.

It was also pointed out to them that a certain officer in Newton stopped an auto the other evening because the driver had only one light burning. The auto had previously run by an officer farther up the line after being ordered to stop. The officer immediately notified the station house and two officers were rushed out on to the highway to head off the offending autoist.

He became saucy to the officer and he was taken into custody. Then the officer took a look into the machine and noticing a suspicious looking bag, he opened it and was surprised to find one of the finest kits of burglar's tools with all of the up-to-date implements that it was possible to get together.

The driver of the machine was then finger printed and after a search his prints of a number of years back were found in the catalogue. His picture was flashed on him and 'the man from Philadelphia' is now on his way to do time.

COST OF LIVING LOW IN AMERICA

Food, Shelter And Clothing Not Soaring So Much As Rest Of World

Washington, D.C., Oct. 12.—Food, shelter, clothing and other necessities—hundreds of comforts and luxuries now are within the reach of the United States at far lower cost than in any other country in the world. This is shown for the first time in the history in data collected by the U.S. Federal Reserve Board. America has always been the land of high wages and high prices.

Wages throughout the United States despite wholesale reductions still are higher than anywhere else in the world. Prices of virtually all commodities at the same time are at record low level in this country compared with European nations.

Comforts Are General Here.
The general level of wholesale prices through the United States is approximately 41 percent above the level of the pre-war period. But in other countries wholesale level, according to the reports of the Federal Reserve Board, are:

- Italy, 400 percent above the pre-war period.
- United Kingdom, 100.
- France, 232.
- Germany, 1467.
- Sweden, 111.
- Denmark, 153.
- Japan, 96.
- Australia, 60.
- Canada, 75.
- India, 82.

Residents of the United States thus are obtaining all the comforts of life and many of the luxuries at prices that are prohibitive to a majority of the residents of England, France, Italy, and other countries. America is the cheapest country in the world in which to live, the reports show beyond question.

Burdened with war inflation, inhabitants of Italy, England, Germany and Holland are flocking to this country in proportions equal to those allowed by the Immigration Restriction laws.

In Germany a skilled mechanic earns now approximately $3.50 a week. In the United States virtually all skilled workers still receive at least twice that for a single day's labor. Some skilled men receive $7 and $8. Yet a German workman must pay 1,000 marks additional over what he spent in 1913 for necessities. In 1913 he earned about four times as much as now. In Spain, Italy and some other European countries wages are on a par with those in Germany. In England and France however, the scale is higher.

Workers in the United States are engaged at an average wage level approximately 15 percent below the average of the war period. This is the extent of the reductions affecting approximately 12,000,000 industrial workers. The average wage now is approximately $35 a month, whereas a year ago it was about $11, according to official surveys. These scales it must be remembered, include unskilled and common labor, which pull down the average of the skilled man receiving more than $8 a day.

Workdays Shorter in U. S.
The average workday throughout the United States is approximately eight and one-half hours, the reports show, instead of ten, as recently declared.

Despite the average wage reduction of 15 percent industrial workers are able to purchase approximately 50 percent more necessities than formerly, according to the reports, indicating that in what economists call "real" wages the majority are better off than during the war. Prices it is explained, have fallen faster than wages.

As a result of reduced wage scales, American manufacturers with quantity production systems making for low unit cost are in a position to undersell the rest of the world in many commodities. Even the manufacturers of Germany, with their skilled labor at $3.50 a week, can not compete in many instances with the United States, it is believed.

Foreign agents of American manufacturers are meeting figures of German salesmen in South America and Asia, according to reports to the Commerce Department. American cotton is being used by Germany in her attempt to outbid the United States for business in South America. Raw cotton shipped from Southern plantations is being turned into garments and cloth in German mills and then exported as fast as it can be sold. Most of it so far has gone to European countries in which American mills never have competed with Germany, but German agents are doing their utmost to ship their manufactured cotton to South America.

Shipments of American raw cotton to Germany this year probably will total 5,000,000 lbs. The present rate of export falls off. There is no reason to believe that it will, the Commerce Department officials say. This record movement of American cotton to Germany is tending to help lift the Southern States out of economic stagnation.

WORLD HINK FOR STEADY MONEY

Esas' Credit Portends Better Trade, Hoover Told Export Men

New York, Oct. 13.—Cheerfully optimistic was the commercial and industrial horoscope cast by Herbert Hoover, Secretary of Commerce, in an address in the Waldorf-Astoria hotel at the twelfth annual convention of the American Manufacturers' Export Association. He said: "The picture in my opinion is all dark. We of the Administration at Washington within the last thirty or forty days have seen the tide turn."

Discussing the necessity for the stabilization of exchange, the Secretary said: "It should not be beyond the intelligence of the human race to see that such a solution of this matter as would result in some stabilization of the German mark. Better arrangements in this matter must take priority if we are to see stability in any of the European currencies."

"The great banks of the world are the guardians of stability in currencies. It would appear to me that those institutions—the Federal Reserve, the Bank of England, of France, of Amsterdam, of Italy of Spain, etc.—could consider that it well with their province to concert some unofficial plan leading to the re-establishment of most of this primary condition of economic life."

Much Accurate Data
"I have considered that it was the duty of the Secretary of Commerce," said the speaker, "to establish such touch with the progress of commerce and industry as to be able accurately to state the progress of business in this country. This purpose is now set up for this purpose in co-operation with the many trade institutions in the country have resulted in the flow of a large amount of accurate information into the department."

"An analysis of this data gives great encouragement, as to progress of our recovery from the greatest economic shock that we have undergone within the life of the present generation. There is no more profound index of progress through periods of depression than the credit situation. The first strike of depression is the period of intense credit strain. Two years ago we could safely say that our banking system would safely weather this period of strain without a panic. Thanks to the Federal Reserve system, for the first time in our history we have passed such a commodity crisis without a panic."

"We are today in the early stages of recovery, for we have come into the period of easier credits. This is well marked by the rise in the price of bonds, the fall in Federal Reserve and interest rates generally.

Increases in Production.
"There are many other evidences of recovery, for during this past two months, there has been a very definite increase in the production of textiles, coal, iron, steel, boots and shoes, of building materials and building construction. There is in the construction industries even a larger activity than at this time a year ago. Our exports of foodstuffs have not been increasing but they are also larger in volume than that of a year ago, and this, indeed, without any forced measure of foreign German credits.

"The boll weevil has not been entirely a curse and its services, together with the ample credits assured by the Government for the farmer, have lifted the price of the large carry-over accumulated in the hands of Southern farmers, and in so doing it has lifted the buying power of the whole South.

"I do not wish, however, to be understood to say we are on the threshold of any boom. We have a long way to go to get back to economic stability. We have yet to go through with much readjustment in price level, but we are definitely on the road."

ECONOMIC CHAOS REIGNS IN AUSTRIA
People Spending Money Recklessly Following Collapse Of Crown

Vienna, Oct. 11.—A run on Vienna shops has started and in the outlying districts where the poor live it amounts to a panic. A tour of four districts peopled by workers of the middle classes revealed queues, often numbering thousands, standing in line before the shops, particularly those dealing in groceries and clothing, and many stated they had waited all night. Nobody longer trusts the stability of paper money and the whole psychology is to turn crowns into goods. The people are spending frantically and recklessly, knowing that prices are rising hourly and fearing the supply of all goods sold will be exhausted and the valueless crown can buy nothing further abroad.

Foreigners are adding to the panic in the center of the city by wholesale purchases of commodities for speculation. The collapse of the crown has been so rapid—its value today being only one-third of what it was in August—that prices reckoned in foreign values simply cannot keep pace, and foreigners, therefore are purchasing furs, jewels and objects of art for a song. An American today bought a pearl necklace, for example, for the equivalent of $25.

The sensational failure and flight of a Dutch Valuta speculator last week, leaving liabilities of 1,000,000, 666 crowns has seriously damaged the leading banks and even threatened the state's finances. The shake-up of the latter is shown by the fact that the speculator's liabilities amounted to only $500,000 in real money, but this amount was enough to cause grave concern.

The panic is not limited to Vienna, as a run on stores in Innsbruck, Making History.

INFANT MORTALITY in past ages has been something frightful, something almost beyond belief, and even today it occupies the time and the mind of leading physicians in all countries. The death rate among infants is being gradually reduced through new methods of hygiene, new preventatives and new remedies for infants. This reduction in the death rate has NOT been accomplished by adapting the precautions taken and remedies used by adults. Rather has it been to keep clear of the old methods, and choose after long research the precautions and remedies specifically applicable to infants.

This being so, is it necessary for us to caution mothers against trying to give her baby relief with a remedy that she would use for herself? Will she remember that Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for infants and children?

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

Of Course You Love Your Baby.
You love it because of its very helplessness, because it can't tell you what is the matter when it feels bad. It can only cry and look to you for help. But the more you love baby, the more you want to help baby, the more you ought to realize what a wonderful remedy Fletcher's Castoria is. It has been used for babies' ailments for over thirty years.

An experienced doctor discovered Fletcher's Castoria especially for babies' use. It is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. Doctors who know what is safe and best for babies have only good to say of it.

Don't neglect your baby. Get a bottle of Fletcher's Castoria and give baby a few doses of it. See how the little one smiles at you as if trying to thank you for helping it. Soon you will learn to depend on Fletcher's Castoria, made just for Infants and Children, and of course you would not think of using anything for them that was not prepared especially for Infants and Children. So keep it in the house.

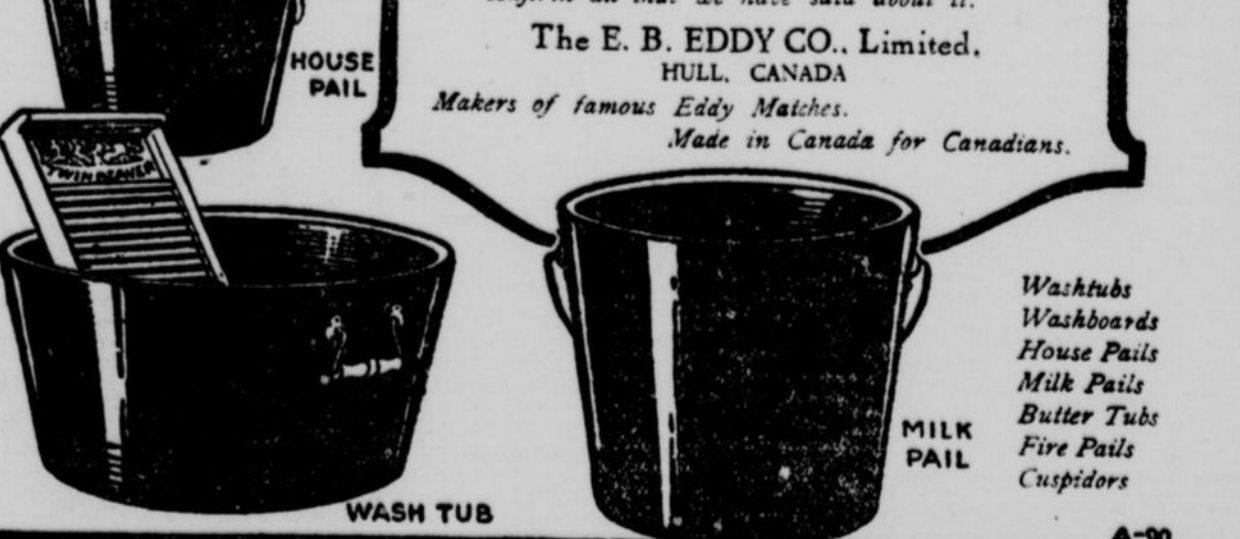

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS Bears the Signature of

Stronger than Metal Lighter than Wood EDDY'S INDURATED FIBREWARE

Household and farm utensils of Eddy's Indurated Fibreware are much stronger than metal or wooden pails and tubs and very much lighter in weight. Their glazed surfaces, hard as flint, defy the roughest usage.

A blow or fall won't dent Eddy's Indurated Fibreware. Made in one piece without seams or hoops, Eddy Fibreware pails and tubs, can't leak, rust, fall apart or become odorous. They are easily kept clean and made in just the right sizes for every purpose.

And with all these advantages Eddy's Indurated Fibreware household and farm utensils cost no more and serve you about twice as long as their clumsy rivals made from metal and wood.

When you go to your dealer's, ask to see Eddy's Indurated Fibreware. Price it and compare it. Your own judgment will confirm all that we have said about it.

NORWEGIAN SHIP IS TOTAL LOSS
 Underwriters' Representative Condemned Her As Beyond Salvage After Inspection

The Norwegian steamer Koren Rvegenado, which sailed from Quebec two weeks ago and ran ashore at Burnt Island, on the Labrador Coast, has been abandoned as a total wreck. The wrecking steamer Lord Strathcona went to her assistance with the expectation of salvaging the vessel with Superintendent Capt. H. Kjerland and Capt. Julien, the representative of the underwriters of all Norwegian vessels, with headquarters at New York, on board. They reached the scene of the wreck on Saturday last, but owing to the high wind and heavy sea prevailing were unable to board the stranded steamer until last Wednesday, when they took observations as to the condition of the vessel, and the underwriters' representative came to the conclusion that the Koren Rvegenado was beyond salvage. This conclusion being arrived at, Capt. Kjerland with the Lord Strathcona and the schooner G. T. D. which went to the rescue of the ship and its cargo, were ordered back to Quebec, and are due to reach here late tomorrow, unless they go to the rescue of the steamer Royal, ashore between Cape Race and Cape Pine, which Capt. Kjerland was informed of by wireless.

CREW DESCRIBES PERIL ON THE SEA
 Navigating Atlantic Ocean In 16-Foot Boat—One Of Seven Craft

Philadelphia, Oct. 15—The sixteen-foot sloop Pictou, with its captain and crew of one man which set out on May 11 to navigate the Atlantic ocean from Nova Scotia to the Panama canal, and thence to Colon, was tied up at this port recently. It is the only one of the seven craft that left Pictou N.S. for a prize, which the captain and crew assured newspaper reporters here amounts to $31,000 in case they arrive safely at Panama without receiving assistance during the trip. The money, the mariners stated, was raised by labor organizations of Nova Scotia, interested in aiding seamen's organizations through popular subscription.

Light Cargo.
 When the Pictou crew cleared Nova Scotia, they said, the "cargo" consisted of one Canadian penny, five cigarettes, one gallon of water, one tin of biscuits and 500 picture postcards. All that remained when it reached this port were the postcards. Captain T. W. Scott and James Campbell, "crew" agent today selling the cards to buy food. They expect to resume their voyage tomorrow.

One of the conditions of the wager was the craft should have "the rudder placed at the bow, the center-board located aft, and the position of the keel changed so that the sloop cannot sail against the wind by tacking."

In a storm, Captain Scott said he and his companion were forced to depend upon two sets of oars and their own "ingenuity and luck."

Capized in Fandy.
 "Hardly a day out from Pictou" Scott said, in describing his experiences, "the little craft capized in the Bay of Fundy. For 13 hours we clung to the overturned craft. In the same storm another of the fleet of small vessels capized, drowning the crew."

"At another time, in attempting to enter the mouth of Penobscot river, Maine currents swamped the boat, and we were forced to swim for our lives. The boat drifted ashore. The craft is of South American cedar and is unsinkable. If it were made of most anything else, we would have been drowned long ago."

NEW ZEALAND WOOL SOUGHT BY GERMANS
 Barter Deal Involves Possible 200,000 Bales It Is Reported

Berlin, Oct. 14—A combined manufacturing and barter deal in wool is being negotiated between representatives of the New Zealand Farmers' Union and German banking and wool manufacturing groups. The transaction may involve from 100,000 to 200,000 bales of wool and its manufacture in Germany.

The transaction has not yet been completed, but German woolen mill owners are said to favor this deal. The programme involves twelve months' credit with payment in manufactured wool and other wares, the latter consisting of agricultural machinery, luxuries and pianos. The Farmers' Union proposes selling these wares and covering its own costs.

The Australian embargo on German wares will be a handicap, but Premier Hughes of Australia said that he was planning to recommend the opening of the Australian market to German trade. It is not probable that German mills could consume in the immediate future the quantity of wool the New Zealand farmers propose to sell. Some thirty-eight German mills are said to be bound to give an American wool corporation an option on their output.

WILL TACKLE UNEMPLOYMENT
 G.W.V.A. Convention To Try And Help Veterans—Amalgamation Question

Ottawa, Oct. 15—The annual convention of the Great War Veterans' Association which will be held at Port Arthur Ont., October 17 to 22, will endeavor to find means to reduce the unemployment situation among former Canadian soldiers and sailors.

The Association is understood to regard unemployment as the most pressing national problem. It is expected that the convention will appoint a special committee composed of one member from each province to draw up resolutions on that subject.

The question of amalgamating all the soldiers' organizations in Canada will be brought before the convention. Representatives of other associations of ex-service men have been invited to attend in discussing that problem.

The convention is expected to take steps to urge the Dominion Parliament to re-establish all ex-service men so far as possible in the economic position which they would have obtained but for their war service. It is likely also that the war veterans will ask Parliament to extend its housing loan to ex-service men. Resolutions on limitation of armaments will be submitted. It is indicated that these will be along the lines of those approved by the British Empire Service League at its meeting in South Africa and will call for adequate defence in the Empire but with the understanding that armaments should not be built up for offensive purposes.

The schooner has been towed to Louisbourg by the cutter Restless and $15,000 worth of liquor on board will be held in a bonded warehouse here.  Prize Offered By National Association For Prevention Of Spinal Curvature

Boston, Oct. 14—To the owner of the most perfect woman's back in America a prize of $1000 will be given. It was announced at the annual fall meeting of the New England Association of Osteopaths at the Hotel Victoria yesterday. The prize is offered by the National Association for the Prevention of Spinal Curvature. Another prize of $500 is to be awarded to the child with the best back.

Dr. William B. Shephard of Providence, president of the Association of Osteopaths, made the announcement. He said that Dr. F. P. Millard of Toronto would head the judges who will make the decision. The method of selection will be from photographs submitted to the judges.

As to what is meant by the "best back," it was explained that it had nothing particularly to do with beauty, although it was thinkable that a perfectly built and perfectly functioning back would also be impressive. Anatomical and physiological perfection is the ideal sought.

The 500 members of the profession present listened to a big programme of papers, demonstrations and discussions, both morning and afternoon. Some of the papers provoked considerable comment. One of them, read by Dr. Johan A. MacDonald of Boston, condemned calisthenics and recreational dancing as contrary to sound physical development and correct posture. Callisthenics meant voluntary control of the posture, he said while true posture comes from "the cultivation of the inherited automatic power."

"When primal man abandoned quadruped posture and stood balanced upright," declared Dr. May Donald, "he had no special thought of his shoulders, chest, chin and arms. He simply balanced himself. He finally developed an automatic muscular coordination. This is our biological inheritance, dormant, submerged, abused, but still inherent and not dead."

"How are you to cultivate this automatic control? Simply stand tall at full balanced height. Carry the arms and shoulders as simply as you can. Keep the eyes directed along normal vision level. To walk this way is to coax the old primate automatic co-ordination back into action."

THE VALUE OF MINUTES.
 Ignatius, when he heard a clock strike, said, "Now I have one more hour to answer for." Time is a talent to be used.

Queen Charlotte said: "I am always quarrelling with time. It is so short to do anything but so long to do nothing."

Cotton Mather said of a visitor who had needlessly occupied his time, "I had rather given him a handful of money than have been kept thus long out of my study."

A commencement speaker at college once began his speech, "In contemplating the things of eternity we must be mindful of time." But the opposite is quite as true. "In contemplating the things of time, we must be mindful of eternity."

Wesley, the founder of Methodism, seemed to live in crowds, yet between crowds he had stretches of solitude. He would rise at five in the morning, mount his horse, and ride off to his next appointment. This gave him four or five hours to read (for he had mastered the perilous art of reading on horseback), to think, to plan. He utilized every moment.

MILLIONS COULDN'T RESTORE GIRL'S HEALTH
 Chicago, Oct. 14—Millions couldn't restore health to little Jean Stewart aged 10, known on Chicago's gold and she died of a disease from which she had suffered from babyhood. Jean was the daughter of John K. Stewart, millionaire manufacturer. Both her parents died and left Jean and her sister Marian $77,000,000. The child was surrounded with the best of specialists obtainable but never was able to decide just how much the public park, across from her big suite in a fashionable hotel. She suffered constantly from hip disease.

DRINKS AVAILABLE IF MONEY IS THERE

No Difficulty In Getting Drinks In U.S. Admits American Prohibition Leader

Samuel Hopkins Adams is a well known writer and perhaps is responsible more than any other individual for the bringing about of prohibition in the United States. What a wall he now sends up about it, a frank manly confession it is true, but it must have been sad for him to have made the confession he does in Collier's when under the title of "On Sale Everywhere" he admits that prohibition does not prohibit. The article in question shows that Mr. Adams has made a widespread investigation in a majority of the States of the United States.

"Anyone," he tells us "who wants a drink and can pay for it can still get a drink." Most of those who drank when it was lawful to drink continue to drink now that it is unlawful and without any consciousness of moral or ethical deterioration.

Home brewing has succeeded "bar haunting" as the source of steady supply. Mr. Samuel Adams states, and the pocket flask has succeeded to the punch bowl for social festivities. What are the people of the United States drinking under the prohibition game? The writer tells us.

"For obvious reasons of convenience, the tendency under prohibition has been away from beer and wine towards whiskey and gin. Quick results are the desideratum, which may go far to explain such a phenomenon as the increased number of cases of alcoholism coming to the large city hospitals for treatment."

It is apparent that Mr. Adams feels deeply this increase of alcoholism, as he states the barroom was stigmatized as the breeding place of drunkards. "How far that stigma has been transferred to the home is impossible to determine, but if statistics could be obtained, I believe he says, that they would show home drunkenness steadily on the increase as a result of the suppression of the public bar. The startling augmentation of hospital cases of alcoholism would seem to indicate this."

"The semi private institution is not so prone to send drunken men reeling forth from its door to advertise its business as was the ante-prohibition public saloon. By semi-private institution he means the "soft" bar where a wink gets a glass of "Hard stuff", the barber shop, the small restaurant, and the innumerable other places he has found in his travels. "He adds: "The clandestine saloon exhibits at least some caution, if not respect, towards the law which it violates, to the extent of seeing that its clientele does not cause unnecessary scandal. Hence the marked decrease in public intoxication."

But, wails Mr. Adams in effect, it is quite the thing in society to have cocktails at home and home brewing is common. This cryptic comment sums up:

"Home brewing has succeeded to bar haunting as a source of steady supply. Many a farmer goes on making his favorite illicit beverage most in blissful ignorance that he hasn't a perfect moral and legal right to do so."

WHAT HE WAS LOSING.

A British destroyer lay close inland near a small African village, and the sailors were lounging near the rails and throwing pennies into the water for a crowd of dusky naked youngsters to dive for.

It was a lively scene. No sooner was a penny thrown into the water than a native boy dived and brought it to the surface. Many times a penny did not reach the bottom before a boy caught it.

On the jetty the native king surrounded by his fellow townsmen, was awaiting the arrival of the British naval officers, to whom he was going to tender a grand reception. He watched the diving with evident interest.

A reckless sailor began throwing shillings and half-crowns into the water. Then someone threw over a handful of small silver. What a scrambling! It seemed as if every native from the village was either in the air or in the water.

Suddenly a dusky messenger came dashing alongside the destroyer in a native canoe. "Will you lady please stop throwing money? The king's getting restless; he's already taken off his coat!"

WILL EXPORT TRADE IN CANADA

Means Big Things For General Motors' Big Automobile Plant At Oshawa

New York, Oct. 12.—The decision of the General Motors Company to remove its export department to Oshawa is significant in a number of ways. It is of course significant in that it indicates in a striking way the opinion of the strongest automobile organization in the United States holds regarding the future of Canadian export trade. It is a very tangible expression of their belief that the American manufacturer who hopes to hold and develop his British trade must manufacture in Canada. But this step on the part of the company is regarded here as significant because it is believed to be another move toward strengthening the General Motors organization in preparation for the "automobile war" which those in close touch with the industry see coming. Business in the domestic and foreign markets will certainly not be easy to obtain during the next few years. Keener competition is believed to be on the way, not only between the American companies and their European rivals.

Statistics regarding the number of automobiles in the United States and Canada recently compiled by Col. L. P. Ayres, vice-president of the Cleveland Trust Company, indicated that the domestic automobile market was reaching "saturation point." Commenting on his statistics, Col. Ayres expressed the opinion that keener competition between American manufacturers of automobiles in the immediate future is to be expected.

An interesting side light on the preparations being made by the General Motors for this coming competition is presented by a report being circulated here that Norvall A. Hawkins, the man who is generally credited with having put the Ford selling organization on its feet, is now under contract to "ginger up" the same department for the General Motors. The contract is said to run for four years and will net Hawkins well over a million dollars. Those who know Hawkins and the work he did while working for Henry Ford, say that if anyone can "start something" in the motor industry, Hawkins is the man.

Financial Arrangement. It is not believed here that the General Motors will do its export financing in Canada. That will likely be done from here as heretofore. Probably like a number of other large American manufacturers who handle export trade from their Canadian plants, the company will continue to sell for payment in American dollars using the funds thus accumulated in the United States to pay bills contracted here by their Canadian subsidiaries. In effect the company will thus act as its own foreign exchange bank. While at first sight it might seem that carrying through of such an arrangement would improve Canadian exchange, in the long run, from the point of view of Canada and the company itself, it will be beneficial. Large export sales by the General Motors will build credits in the United States for the Canadian Companies. Thus it will be possible for them to pay their bills in the United States without entering the Canadian exchange market. This should help the market somewhat.

This plan is one which is now being used by a number of American exporters in Canada. It has proved satisfactory in every way. While it can be used by only a limited number of the larger exporting organizations in the United States, the fact that the volume of business handled by these companies is large has no doubt much to do with producing the relatively stable conditions which have existed in the Canadian exchange market here during the past year.

ORCHESTRA TENOR HAD PREMONITION
Joseph Morris, Who Refused To Sail On Ill-Fated Ship, Alive Today

London, Oct. 14.—Because he had a premonition of disaster, Joseph Morris, tenor of the famous Southern Synopated Orchestra which has delighted Europe for the past three years, and which has enjoyed the patronage of the Prince of Wales, refused to sail Saturday from Glasgow for Dublin.

Morris is alive today, but eight members of the famous colored group perished in one of the worst catastrophes to British shipping in recent years, when the steamship Rowan was rammed by an American freighter, West Camble, in the Clan Malcolm, in a dense fog on the Irish Sea Saturday midnight. The number of dead is estimated at 25, most of the victims being crushed to death when the ships collided.

HE HAD THE PASSWORD.
As is generally known, Girard College was established under somewhat peculiar conditions, a fact which gives point to this story: Stephen Girard, founder of Girard College, in Philadelphia, stipulated in his will that no clergyman should ever be permitted to enter the college grounds. One day recently a man wearing an immaculate-looking white tie and a very high-cutting black vest, started through the gates. Hold on, there! shouted the looker-on. You can't come in here. The—"I can't," thundered the stranger. Oh, yes, you can. Come right in, sir!

SKIRT WAR IS ON IN LONDON

Waist-Line Style Is Also Topic For Discussion In Britain's Capital

London, Oct. 14.—Secrets of the autumn and winter fashions are being revealed now to the English woman who "wants to know". Two questions have been uppermost in her mind: Shall I show my ankles? Where is my waist to be?

The civil war which has been raging in the dress world on the issue of skirt length also has struck London. There has been some attempt at compromise, but generally speaking, the "shorts" have it. The fashion dictator has admitted there's no use hiding trim ankles beneath long skirts.

The skirts, it is true, have two or three inches below the length that have flourished during the summer months, but they stop short three or four inches above the ankles and the women of gladsome limb are claiming a triumph.

At Lucile's a pink cloth walking gown, piped with black satin, is heralded as the "latest thing"—and the hem is far from the ground.

The waist question, which has been almost as complicated as the ankle issue, is solved kindly with the edict: "If you have a waist, show it!"

Some coats and gowns, too, are definitely waisted. On the other hand, it is possible for a woman to conceal the entire outline of her figure in a loose, sac-like garment that envelops her from her shoulders to the hem of her skirt. There is a third alternative—that of fixing the waistline not so far above the knees. It is merely matter of a judiciously arranged girdle on an unusually long corsetage.

To return to skirts. A really long one is permissible in the evening and gold tissue rippled down to earth. Thus, a black chiffon velvet dinner gown that clings closely to the figure falls about the feet with the material cut to a narrow point, forming a trail.

FLASHLESS POWDER YIELDS ONLY GLOW
Advantages In Concealing Location In Night Firing Shown To Public

Aberdeen, Md., Oct. 13.—Flashless powder the U. S. Army's newest development in ordnance was demonstrated tonight as the climax of a day devoted to the display of the latest and most deadly devices for making war. It was the first time any one outside the military service had been permitted to get a glimpse of this invention, the facts concerning which still are guarded with the utmost secrecy.

On the main front of this vast proving grounds, where heavy guns of all types and calibres are arrayed for battle, ten rounds were fired to show that flashless powder actually has been developed. The firing was done from a 7 1/2 mm. gun, which is the standard for the field artillery.

When the shots were fired in quick succession, there was nothing visible but a deep red glow. Ordinarily when such a gun is fired the powder causes a belch of flame fully five feet long—sometimes much longer.

The advantage of flashless powder are easily recognized. Its value in night firing, without its flame that comes with the ordinary powder charge reveals the position of the gun, thereby making it the object of specific attack by the enemy. When smokeless powder is used the location of the battery is not betrayed.

The demonstration was a part of the third annual show of the Army Ordnance Association, co-operating with the American Society of Mechanical Engineers and the Society of Automotive Engineers. The purpose was to continue interest in ordnance development as an aid to the national defence. Special trains brought some of the foremost engineers of the country from New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington.

One of the features of the day, which was devoted entirely to ordnance display, was the dropping of bombs. Capt. N. R. Carolin, in a Handley-Page airplane, dropped a bomb of 3,000 pounds, which dug a hole in the ground 40 feet deep and developed a crater 75 feet across. It had been intended to drop a 4,000 pound bomb, but the wind was not right to make a safe taking off with such a heavy piece of ammunition on the small aviation field.

There was firing, also for the first time in public from two sixteen inch guns built by the army for the coast defence. One of these, which is to be a part of the fortifications of New York city, was of a disappearing type. The other had a barbette, or stationary carriage. The guns have a range of thirty-five miles and the projectiles weigh 2,340 pounds. This range and projectile exceeds anything any navy has in the way of ordnance, which is in point since the guns are intended for use against possible attack by an enemy fleet. The guns which cost almost half a million dollars each to build, are the last word in ordnance.

In view of the recent development of bombing by airplanes and demonstration of anti-aircraft guns attracted much attention. While the display primarily was to show types of guns, the element of marksmanship entered when small balloons were let loose as targets. About half of these balloons, travelling swiftly in a sharp autumn wind were destroyed by the machine guns. The largest machine gun ever built, of fifty calibre, one half inch in bore, sent one a liberal rain of shell at a heavily armored tank 5000 yards away. The show came to an end tonight with a display of flashless powder and various other developments, in the way of flares and the like, as an aid to night firing.

U.S. 'DRUNKS' ARE WORSE TYPE NOW

Judge Choquet Of Rhode Island Finds Them Greater Problem

Montreal, Oct. 13.—Judge Ambrose Choquet, District Judge of the State of Rhode Island, and brother of Judge F. X. Choquet, head of the Juvenile court, Judge of the Sessions and Extradition Commissioner, arrived in Montreal on Wednesday to attend McGill University centennial celebration. The Rhode Island judge, who is 81 years of age, graduated from Old McGill in 1865. In his first year he is still active and presides over the 11th District Court of the State of Rhode Island. He was appointed judge in 1899.

Both brothers are graduates in law. The head of the Juvenile Court graduated in 1875 and like his brother, is still one of the most active of officials. They expect to be present at the reunion of the law graduates at the Windsor Hotel Friday, where students of a time gone by will greet each other.

The Rhode Island judge had a few things to say about prohibition law and the kind of prisoner that drinking "near beer" and "home brew" has made in his district.

"I can see a change, a big change, even in the appearance of drunks," said the judge. "Formerly, a few hours' sleep at a police station were enough to sober the most besotted. They could appear in court the day following, smart in appearance, lively and polite. They could answer questions and explain how they got their drinks."

"Now I find a terrible change for the worse. No amount of sleep at the station can shake off the stupor and lassitude brought about by drinking the kind of stuff handed out to them. Mostly moonshine or sunshine, it is all the same. When these drunks are brought to court, they don't know where they live and are as stupid as when arrested Jamaica ginger instead of being dropped carefully into a glass of near beer to put the kick in it, is poured in, and the kick becomes a knockout."

The judge, hale and hearty at 81 years, is well informed on all subjects of importance, and takes a keen interest in things political. He is a close friend of ex-Governor James H. Higgins, and John J. Fitzgerald, Rhode Island State leaders of the Democratic party. He is a Republican in politics and has the confidence of both parties as evidenced by his continuance in office during the two changes of Federal administrations. He will remain in Montreal until Monday as his brother's guest.

POWDER, ROUGE AND MIRRORS NOT INCLUDED

Boston, Oct. 14.—Young women in the freshmen classes at the College of Liberal Arts and the College of Secretarial Science of Boston University, appeared in classrooms for three days at the opening of the school year with their hair in curl papers. The sophomores laid down the rules: the freshmen obeyed them.

Other requirements were that the freshmen wear aprons and have cards tied about their necks with green ribbons announcing that they were freshmen, and that no powder, rouge or mirrors should be used in school during the initiation days.

BRITAIN LEADS WORLD IN BUILDING SHIPS

New York, Oct. 14.—Shipping under construction in all countries of the world on September 30 last amounted to 5,542,000 gross tons, according to a report of Lloyd's Registrar of Shipping made public today. This amount, the report says is a reduction of more than 2,000,000 tons from that under way on January 1st this year.

The Marchioness of Aberdeen headed the election of members of the executive committee at the conference of the National Council of Women of Great Britain held at the end of September. Others elected included Viscountess Astor, the Countess of Selborne and Lady Nunburnholme. Lady Aberdeen is a strong pillar of organized womanhood. It was she who founded the National Council of Women of Canada more than a quarter of a century ago.

SUE THEY WERE DECEIVED.
They were in a railway train and were discussing Dickens.
"Well," said one, "John puts Bleak House first and Martin Chuzzlewit second."
"Excuse me, gentlemen," said a husky voice from the seat behind, "I don't know your pal John, but you're been steered. There ain't no such horses runnin'."

Actually Removes Hair Roots—Something New!
(Harmless Method; Works "Like Magic")
To have the superfluous hairs come out, roots and all, before one's very eyes, sounds almost too good to be true. Yet many thousands of women have proved to their own satisfaction that this can be accomplished—easily, quickly, harmlessly—by means of the wonderful phenolacetic process.
This method is not to be compared at all with liquid, powder or paste, nor with electrolysis or anything else. Nothing like it ever originated. It causes the hairs to come out entire roots, including the hair bulb and the hair shaft, and is a safe, non-poisonous, child could safely use it. Get a small stick of phenolacetic from your druggist today, follow the simple instructions, and you will have a most agreeable surprise.

WOMEN INTERESTED IN COMING ELECTIONS.
Ottawa, Oct. 14—Women all over the Dominion will be particularly interested in the coming general election, in view of the recent amendment to the Dominion Election Act, which gives to women a wider share in the government of Canada than they have ever had previously. Under the present Act any woman who is a British subject of the full age of 21 has equal rights with men in holding offices, being a candidate for the House of Commons and in voting.

CANADIAN INDIANS BUILD A LAUNCH
Indian boys in the Industrial School at Sarnia, near Chatham, British Columbia, built a fifty foot launch, the workmanship of which could not be better if it had been done by professionals. From this school which is in connection with a Methodist Mission, twenty-five boys went to fight for King and Country in the great war.

A Good Example.
E. C. Senior Benet, one of the members from the Island of Cuba, in a letter to the Captain - General of Havana, informs him of the Cortes having taken into consideration the objections made by his constituents to the Spanish Tariff; that the close attention of the Cortes to business, hardly allowed time for the members to take refreshments and repose; they met at ten in the morning, and sat until four in the afternoon, resuming their deliberations at eight in the evening and continued then till after midnight—add a great part of the intervening time they were obliged to devote to labors of difficult committees in which they were interested.

And what is still more exemplary no long speeches are made—one member does not declaim over and over again for three or four successive hours, the arguments, good and bad, which have been pronounced with all due emphasis and discretion by another. We learn that most of the members actually listen to the orators on the floor—that they transact little private business in other places—that they are seldom absent from their seats, etc.

A Lesson to Quebeccers.
A short time since, a lady of this city received a circular from a Toronto dry goods firm, which announced the price of a certain article of wear at a supposed very low figure. Judge of the surprise of the lady a few days afterwards at the discovery that the same article could be obtained in this good old city for the same amount. Comment is needless.

A Pretended Coal Mine.
A company has been formed to operate the pretended coal mine on the Island of Orleans. Such eminent geologists as Sir William Dawson and Mr. Laflamme have, however pronounced upon the impossibility of there being coal in this region in paying quantities and the formation of the country is certainly not one in which coal is usually found. The substance it is, is inflammable, but it is most likely formed of peat. Successful mines in the neighborhood would long ago, have made an immense iron country out of this district so rich in ferrous matter.

SEEKING THE SECRETS OF MELLOW VIOLINS
Wood Is Specially Filled Before Any Varnish Is Applied

Norwalk, O., Oct. 12—Musicians for years have wondered why many old Italian violins, apparently made in a slipshod manner, should produce such clear sounds.

N. C. Holcomb, musical instrument maker, believes he is making rapid advances in his efforts to discover the secret of the fine, mellow tones of the Cremona violins.

Holcomb believes that the lost secret had to do mainly with the filler and varnish. He was informed that a careful chemical analysis had been made of some of the finish on a famous old violin owned in Battle Creek, Mich.

This examination disclosed the fact that before the varnish was applied, the wood was filled evidently with the yolk of an egg and bees-wax.

Profiting by this information, Holcomb rubbed these substances into the raw wood of a new violin before applying the varnish. The results achieved were surprising, the instrument producing a tone that is usually associated with age.

Holcomb, by using the tops of old tables and other furniture, obtains maple wood, 100 years or more old.

Holcomb says that he has found out that if varnish is applied to a violin before the proper filler has been used, the varnish penetrates the cells of the wood and injures the tone.

CASH IN ADVANCE.
"I'd like to put up at your hotel tonight," said the seedy-looking individual to the hotel clerk.
"All right," said the clerk, giving him the once-over: "put up two dollars and you can."

A TEMPTATION.
One of the hardest things in the world for a colporteur to do is keep his hands off society items when they come in sequence like this:
"Mrs. Q. S. Jones and daughter, of Little River, Neb., arrived yesterday for a two weeks' visit with Mr. and Mrs. K. I. Smith, of Locust street."
Mr. K. I. Smith, of Locust street, left for New York last night on a two or possibly three weeks' business trip."

Chronicle's Review of Coming Attractions
For Next Week

THE AUDITORIUM
"Red Courage" with "Hoot Gibson" playing the leading role will be the main picture attraction at the Auditorium starting Monday for the whole of the week while the usual five feature acts of vaudeville will also be on the bill.

James and Etta Mitchell in a comedy ladder number will be the first act on the vaudeville program. This act is reputed to be very good and besides introducing many new and clever stunts promises to keep the audience in the best of humor. An eccentric dancing number by McManus and McNulty will favor and should find favor with the audience.

The third and feature act, the Hanako Japs, known as the "human fountains" will be the next number. This act has been completely mystifying the audience where it has been shown. To make water come from their eyes and ears is only a couple of stunts done by these performers. Bernard and Starr in a comedy singing dancing, and talking act will supply the musical part of the program, and should make a decided hit.

Last but not least will be the artistic treat, & posing act that is sure to come in for its share of the applause.

THE VICTORIA
A strong dramatic story with a swiftly moving plot, a popular star, massive settings and much intense action are promised at the Victoria theatre to-morrow when Elaine Hammerstein's latest Selznick Picture, "Handcuffs or Kisses," opens four day engagement.

The story, by Thomas Edgewell, tells of the trials, the suffering and the almost hopeless fight of a young girl who is unjustly committed to a state's reformatory for girls. As pictured in Mr. Edgewell's story, the treatment meted out to the inmates of such institutions is none too good and the hardships experienced by Miss Hammerstein, as Lola Walton, form the foundation upon which the star has built a dramatic achievement that will be remembered as among the best of her career.

The story first appeared in "Young's Magazine," and because of the timeliness of the subject matter, it scored a decided success. Just at that time the Bedford Reformatory was reeking with disorder and after a riot or two the State authorities began a sweeping investigation which resulted in some startling disclosures. It is believed that Mr. Edgewell's story, "Handcuffs or Kisses," was inspired by this sensational development at Bedford, many of which would themselves provide splendid dramatic material for the screen.

An appealing love theme is woven into the story which provides Robert Ellis with a leading part that adds much to the enjoyment of the entertainment. George Archambaud directed the picture and the supporting cast includes among others, Florence Billings, Dorothy Huppell, Julia Swayne Gordon, Ronald Schabel and George Lessey. A comedy and other short subjects will complete the bill.

THE EMPIRE
Douglas Fairbanks' photoplay version of Alexander Dumas' blood stirring tale, "The Three Musketeers," is scheduled as the feature attraction for all of next week at the Empire Theatre.

In this spectacular photo-feature, Fairbanks will be viewed in a new type of characterization. In the picturesque trappings of a Seventeenth Century cavalier, he is expected to give a sensational dramatic interpretation to the role of D'Artagnan, dashing swordsman and adventurer. In fact, in "The Three Musketeers," the virile Doug is said to outdo his splendid acting of the dual role he played in "The Mark of Zorro."

"The Mark of Zorro" represents one of the most pains-taking and elaborate efforts at picture making of the year, according to Mr. Verney, manager of the Empire. No expense whatever was spared by Fairbanks, and the production is said to have cost a million dollars.

The story is based on historical fact and is acted by the best players in filmdom. Fred Niblo is credited with the direction and Edward Knoblock prepared the lens version, while Arthur Edeson did the camera work.

In the cast are such sterling players as Marguerite DeLaMotte, Mary Best Treatment for All Complexion Ills

If the skin be colorless, sallow, muddy, over-red if it be rough, blotchy, pimply or cracked, there's nothing that will so surely overcome the condition as ordinary mercurized water. It literally takes off a bad complexion—absorbs the dead and near-dead particles of surface skin so gently, gradually, you experience no inconvenience at all. A new complexion is then in evidence, one so clear, spotless, delicately soft and beautiful, you look years younger. (One ounce of this water, procurable at any drug store, will rejuvenate even the worst complexion. It is smeared on like cold cream before retiring and removed mornings with warm water. The mercurized water is a beautifier and more economical one than the cosmetic habit.) If the skin be wrinkled or flabby, bathe it daily in a solution made by dissolving an ounce of mercurized water in a half-pint of witch hazel. This acts immediately, affecting even the deepest wrinkles.

Trotsky Raises Curtain Of Secrecy On Details Of Mobilization

The curtain of secrecy behind which the Russian Reds organized the great Soviet army of five million men which enabled the military directors of Communism to beat off or defeat all exterior and interior enemies during the past three years, except drought and famine, is lifted by Trotsky, according to the Paris Organ of Communism, L'Humanite, which newspaper prints an interview with the military director of Russia.

Trotsky gives great credit for organization to the old officers of the Czarist regime who turned Reds. The Soviet army was created as several armies, and each supported a small war council, which wielded the power of life or death. The defeat of the "White" army in the Volga region in 1918 afforded sufficient enthusiasm to build the greater armies. Trotsky says:

"The army was instituted in principle by a decree signed January 14 1918, by Lenin and his war and naval commissaires, Dybenko and Podavitsky. I was then negotiating the Brest-Litovsk peace treaty with Germany as minister of foreign affairs, and it was in March that I began my new duties.

"There was nothing left of the old army, then men had gone home, the materials lay scattered everywhere, abandoned where the trains happened to stop. The local Soviets, barely organized, telegraphed me. 'We have ten cannons.... We have an aviation park.... Ten soldiers.... Five sailors.... Everything was in a muddle.

"My bureau was at Smolny. People came from all corners of the country. 'Give us shoes! Don't you see, colonel!' they asked. It was exactly like the description made by Lissagaray of the war ministry under the French Commune. It was not easy to establish order, I had no competent and thought first of accepting the aid of foreign missions who hoped to bring us back into the European war. Eventually, however, a comrade of the party, Bonch-Brouevitch, brought his brother a Czarist general to me. I asked him to construct a general staff after putting him under the watch of two communists. He filled his office perfectly.

satirical plays, tribunals—all means of recruiting were used. We recalled the former Czarist officers. The French Revolution had used barely half of the 15,000 officers of the king, but out of our million we used hundreds of thousands. It is true that some of them became traitors. Our 11th division of Nijni-Novgorod, for example, one brigade was massacred in the spring of 1919, during the rebellion of the Cossacks of Krasnov, because of the concentrated treason of the chiefs. We arrested the families of the officers and held them as hostages.

"We created commissaries of the army. But the Soviet Congress ranked them only after the general in chief. We have placed them in all the divisions, brigades, regiments and have added in each company 'political guides' to sustain their desires. In each army two commissaries and the commandant formed the war council. Though they were responsible for all treason, their decrees were inviolable, and possessed absolute power of life and death over all."

STRIKE ON IN BERLIN HOTELS

Guests Unable To Obtain A Single Thing In The Way Of Food

Berlin, Oct. 14—The striking Berlin hotel employees are seeking the moral support of Americans here. They posted pickets in front of the Unter Den Linden Hotel today with a sign in English, "Notice to English visitors, all employees of the establishment are locked out." A striker told your correspondent, we wrote the statement in English language as we wish to inform the many Americans here what is happening and how we have been treated.

Not a finger moved in most of the large hotels in Berlin to serve guests. Bedding and towels are left unchanged, shoes remain unblackened in front of the doors, food is not prepared, and it is impossible to obtain even so simple a thing as a cup of hot water for breakfast. Germans and foreigners visiting Berlin are leaving hurriedly to the great regret of the magistrates who are losing thereby daily from $6,000 to 100,000 marks worth of taxes imposed upon hotel guests here.

CONFIDENCE MEN STILL FIND FISH

Some Subjects Difficult To Handle, But They Finally Succumb

Montreal, Oct. 15.—The confidence game as a fine art is still in flourishing form in and about the Montreal railway stations. Although there has of late been a falling off in the general tourist traffic there are still conventions, reunions and other gatherings brought to the attention of the sleek practitioner and the artful dodgers of both sexes who assist him.

Two recent cases centering in Windsor street, told by a C.P.R. official on the spot, are well worth a passing thought from the prospective traveller on account of the nice points in fact which they involve. The first instance is that of a 19 year old youth, just come into Windsor Station from the west and about to leave here for England the same night. He had been sitting in the general waiting room, but had soon strolled out to the Osborne street exit, where he was accosted casually by a well-dressed man, "How do you do?"

"How do you do?" replied the youth.

"I think I saw you in the waiting room a moment ago, didn't I?" asked the stranger.

"Probably," answered the youth shortly.

"I felt like stretching my legs and so I came out. Are you going to the states?"

"No—to England."

"Do you know this town at all?" then queried the stranger.

The Westerner replied that he did not and then started to stroll away, when the stranger suggested they take a walk together and see something of Montreal. The Westerner said at first that he was not much of a mixer and tried to back out, but the stranger finally got him started, first through the western porch of St. James Cathedral, and soon out of the eastern exit, where an idle auto was waiting. The stranger suggested they see if the chauffeur would drive them about the city. The driver agreed for a very small charge. The stranger soon suggested a drink; the Westerner said he never drank, but could not refuse accompanying the stranger and ordering dry ginger ale. When this was half drunk the stranger remembered that he had no cigarettes and asked the Westerner if he would get him a package. This was done, and when the Westerner returned he found the ginger ale tarted differently. He mentioned this, complained of feeling sick and faint and began to stagger. At this the stranger suggested that they emerge to the open air and take a ride to a drug store for relief. This they did; they reached a drug store where a glass of "knock-out" was handed to the Westerner. He drank it, knew that his pockets were being gone through, but could neither speak nor resist; and next morning he found himself lying in a lane off St. Antoine street with children teasing him for being "drunk." He had only $18 upon him. This was gone, but not his railway and ocean tickets. These had been left him to facilitate his exit out of the city.

Drank His Own Whiskey.

Another instance, happening on the same day in the same locality, was that of a railway man who came into Montreal from New Hampshire for a brief holiday. He left Windsor Station, entered a saloon and ordered a beer, when two well-dressed men came in and sat down with him for company. They forced a treat on him and then a second, then the railway man paid a treat. But having had his third drink the railway man began to suspect that some confidence game was on, and when the two men pressed him to come up to their room in the hotel he protested, but as an alternative invited them to his room. To his surprise they assented at once.

The three gathered in the railway man's room and he felt fairly secure there. He had his own bottle of whiskey which he brought out, and which could not very well be tampered with, but unfortunately, there was no siphon soda water bottle. The result of this omission was that the railway man woke up next morning minus a gold watch, a diamond stick pin and some few dollars in cash. Both these cases are, of course, reported fully to the police.

HOME RUN CLOUT WON HIS BRIDE

George Whitted, Right Fielder Of Pirates, Reveals Inside Of Little Romance

Pittsburgh, Oct. 15.—A circuit clout by George "Possum" Whitted, in the final Giant-Pirate game here September 27, which the Giants copped thereby eliminating Pittsburgh from the right of participating in the World Series, won for the peppery little right fielder of Gibson's crew, a bride.

"She said she wouldn't have me until I hit one over the fence," said Possum telling about the romance just a few hours before he was united to Miss Isabel France today. "It was getting late in the season and we needed some runs to win that game as Art Nehf was pitching great ball. I took a too hold and swung. The ball hit the top of the fence and bounded over into Schenley Park. As I circled the bases I knew that even though the hit might not win the game it won for me a home."

Whitted formerly played with St. Louis, going to Boston and participating in the 1914 World Series there, and later with Philadelphia Nationals in the 1916 World Series.

PROTECT AUTO BY REAL LOCK

Crook Will Seldom Take Car Where Even Short Delay Is Necessary

Ottawa, Oct. 12.—The police of the large cities are reporting that an increasing number of cars are being stolen each year. In consequence of this, insurance rates are rising. The law makers are being besieged for laws which will make the sale of a stolen car impossible. In the mean time each one of us must do what we can to protect his car. A false sense of security leads people to leave their cars unattended and unprotected, so that the work of the thief is easy. As he is thoroughly familiar with the different makes of cars, including ignition systems, gear shifts and so on, he has merely to step into the car and drive off. His method, however, is not quite so casual as would seem from this statement, for most thefts are planned sometimes several days ahead.

Cars are sometimes locked so that the engine cannot be started, and such cars are usually left alone. As one convicted thief remarked recently: "No man is going to experiment with a locked car when there is another one around the corner just as good, with no protection whatever." But occasionally a very expensive car catches the eye of a master thief and he and his gang study the habit of the owner to find out when and where it will be left the longest time unattended. If it is always locked, they do not bother to pick the lock, but another car backs down in front and close to it. The driver gets out and pretends to be doing something to the rear of his car. In reality he is passing a rope through the front spring hanger of the car he wants. He jumps into the car he is stealing, so as to steer it, and the man at the wheel of the front car drives off with the other car in tow.

Variety of Devices.

In view of the facts above stated, the best protection would seem to be a loose steering wheel. Other devices include ignition locks, gear-shift locks, locked brakes (which are against police regulations in most cities), gasoline locks and secret ignition switches, but it is self-evident that a car with a loose steering wheel is about as well protected as a car can be. A service car with a derrick can be backed down and the whole front end lifted, as happens when the front is disabled, but this takes too much time and draws too much attention to please the thief. He is always very modest and retiring about his work.

But there are many who do not wish to install a loose steering wheel so some one of the following devices may prove useful: A secret ignition switch in the tool box under the floor boards or other place will make it impossible to start unless the circuit is traced out. This takes time and so discourages the thief. A simpler method is to carry away some essential part of the ignition system—such as the distributor brush or rotor and, in magnetos, the bus bar from the collector ring to the distributor. Unfortunately, the thief usually knows more about the ignition system than the owner, and so provide themselves with these parts for the make and model of car they are looking for.

This Is Difficult.

A hidden valve in the gasoline line, although somewhat difficult to install, is almost a perfect protection except against towing. This will cause the engine to stop, and the thief to abandon the car after a few seconds. A good way to close this valve when the car is still running. It will stop as soon as all the gasoline in the carburetor is used up, and then cannot be started unless the valve is opened again. Care must be taken to throw off the ignition switch after the engine stops or the current will be wasted and the resistance unit burned out. A glance at the ammeter, which should then indicate zero, will show that the system is safe.

If the plunger of the starter switch can be lifted out this may be found to be sufficient protection. The car cannot then be started without the crank handle, which is usually stowed away in the tool box or under the front seat. In fact any device which causes delay in starting the engine will discourage a thief where the car is left in the open. But no device will protect the car where the thief can work unobserved and has plenty of time.

MARRIAGES ARE MADE IN HEAVEN

Figures Say College Girls Don't Wed, Professor Insists They Do

Boston, Oct. 15.—An eminent statistician recently declared that one half of the women college graduates never marry.

They say that statistics do not lie nevertheless Dr. Lemuel H. Murlin, president of Boston University, can knock holes in that statement from actual observation, so at least we need not fear for the 4000 young women under his care.

"I believe that marriages are made in heaven," he said, "and that B.U. is a branch office."

"I'll tell you where the trouble lies," and Dr. Murlin pressed his index finger on his blotter as if he really had the trouble imprisoned and was going to let the blotter speak it up. "It lies in not educating the young men and young women together in the same college."

"When girls go to a woman's college," he declared, "and are associated only with women, study under women and play only with girls, they get to thinking that men are strange, mysterious beings—they don't understand them—they don't feel they have anything in common with them—consequently they are shy when they happen to meet men outside or after they finish college."

"And, of course, men feel they don't understand these girls, especially when the men themselves are educated in men's colleges; they have the same handicap to meet as the girls."

"I had a girl come to me from a woman's college where she had graduated, and she said to me: 'You know, Doctor, a woman's college is all right in a lot of ways; you can learn just as well and just as much as you can anywhere, but what disgusted me, was the continual gossip about men; every time I met a group of girls they were talking about men; men, men, and talking as if men were some strange species of human beings that filled them with mystery. It was an unnatural situation. They all had exaggerated ideas about men, and I could see where they would have a hard time making real friends with men after they got out of college.'

"How much more natural," commented Dr. Murlin, "is the college where girls and boys are thrown together every day. They accept one another as a matter of course. A girl in a 'co-ed' college isn't always dressed up and looking her best and feeling her best when she meets the young men of her class. They have a chance to see her when she is off guard. They get accustomed to one another in a natural way."

"The girl who sees her young friend only when she is dressed in her 'glad rags' and the parlor lights are low and mysterious, is laying a false foundation for marriage, for after she is married she cannot always appear before her husband in her Sunday best."

"The associations I have seen here in my own college prove that so far from rubbing off the glamour by being one's natural self, it helps romance along in a wonderful way."

Need Chance to Get Acquainted.

"My boys and girls find they have much in common—the same studies, the same ideals, the same amusements—they work together, dance together, play together, and get thoroughly used to one another."

"And when is the result?" The doctor slammed down his roll-up desk and picked up his Boston hat. "I've got an appointment in 10 minutes down town, but I'd like to tell you the answer to that question even if it makes me late—the result is, that the vast majority of young women who attend B. U.—and I am speaking of it only as one example of co-educational colleges—are married before they have been long graduated, some of them before they have had their diplomas a year."

"And they are happy marriages, too, with a real understanding and sympathy as a basis."

"Some folks are horrified at the idea of educating young men and women together. They put them through high school together, and then for some unknown reason separate them after they have become men and women, just when they should be getting better acquainted."

I asked Dr. Murlin if he thought the type of girl who goes to college is different from the stay-at-home

SENTENCED FOR LIFE, SLAYER TAKES BRIDE

Validity Of Marriage In California Is Questioned On That Account

San Francisco, Oct. 15.—James McGill was married here last night to Meda Trostol of Sacramento, and immediately thereafter was taken to San Quentin prison to serve a life term for the murder of John D. Koples, Marysville merchant. Two deputy sheriffs were witnesses. Earlier in the day a license to wed had been refused the couple at Marysville, and Superior Judge James M. Troutt, who performed the ceremony in San Francisco later said he was not aware McGill was under life sentence.

Doubt was expressed by Judge Troutt whether the ceremony was legal, as the privilege of marriage he said, probably would come under the list of civil rights of which a felon is deprived.

LOVED GOOD CLOTHES FELL FOR MILLIONAIRE

Entertaining Evidence Is Brought Out In Divorce Case

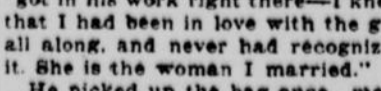

Boston, Oct. 15.—Mrs. Frances Stuart Murphy, former motion picture star, who played opposite Enrico Caruso, in his only film production, fell for Edward Rose, millionaire wool merchant, of Boston, because he had money and she loved good clothes, according to an alleged confession to Attorney Joseph Santusosso, who testified against her Tuesday in a divorce suit brought by her husband, Joseph A. Murphy. Santusosso is Murphy's Attorney. The former film star told him of a trip to New York with Rose which lasted several days, according to lawyer-witness. Under cross-examination he said he felt no embarrassment in stepping from counsel table to witness stand. John Driscoll told of finding Rose in a negligee in Mrs. Murphy's bedroom. Mrs. Murphy was there, too, according to Driscoll, and "when she moved it was very revealing."

Attorneys for Rose have charged that Mrs. Murphy and husband conspired to obtain money from Rose by means of a suit against the millionaire wool man for alleged alienation of her affections.

WERE LOCKED UP FOR THREE YEARS

Brother And Sister Are Defrauded Of $40,000 By Trusted Servant

Boston, Oct. 14—The fictional "Man in the Iron Mask" and the "Babes in the Woods" have found reality in the story told of a Roxbury brother and sister who are alleged to have been imprisoned in a room on Lawrence avenue, Roxbury for three years, despatched to an insane hospital and then forced to seek city aid—by their trusted servant who is said to have defrauded them of $40,000.

As a result of some of the victim's story, a capias has been issued for the arrest of Mrs. Elizabeth Peterson, a nurse, formerly of South Boston, but now said to be living in Canada. Arthur Hussey, the brother is now an inmate of the Long Island Hospital for the poor. His sister, Cora, broken hearted and ill, is a patient at the Matapan Consumptives' Hospital.

Aroused to indignation, Attorney Herbert A. Kenny of Boston, who is acting for the Husseys, stated yesterday that he would call on Governor Cox to appoint a commission to make an inventory of State institutions similar to the French method in an effort to uncover similar cases of defrauding by the treacherous imprisonment of sane people by cunning trustees. Such an investigation, he declared, would ferret out members of millionaire families in Massachusetts who have thrown their parents on the kindness of the State while they reap the fortunes.

According to Mr. Kenny, several years ago, through the death of their mother, Mrs. Mary J. Hussey, Arthur and Cora, her children, became heirs to a fortune of $40,000 in money and real estate. By clever manipulation he alleges that Mrs. Elizabeth Peterson, a nurse and herself appointed trustee of the estate and ensconced herself as guardian over the two people in their Lawrence avenue home, Roxbury.

For three years, he said yesterday, brother and sister were real prisoners in their own home. The rents of the houses left to them by their mother were spent, so Mr. Kenny said, by Mrs. Peterson in gay parties for her friends in the Lawrence avenue home, while the Husseys were locked in a room. "At the end of three years they were taken to the Psychopathic Hospital for observation, and Mrs. Peterson said the house," said the attorney. "When the account of the use of the money was filed in the Suffolk Probate Court among the items was $910 for nursing, $690, for the board of the Husseys in their own home and $4 for an auto to take them to the hospital. Through court action Arthur Hussey had their guardian removed when he found himself tricked, and the Rev. George E. Stokes, chaplain of the Long Island Hospital was appointed. I have secured a capias for Mrs. Peterson and will arrest her on sight and charge her with larceny. She shall suffer for wasting that fortune and bringing to such a dire end those two people.

"This case is not a new one," said Mr. Kenny. "It is but a concrete example of what is going on daily in our State and will continue to go on until some remedy is applied. In France it was the custom for a commission and sometimes the King to visit all institutions of the character of our State hospitals and hear the oral pleas of the inmates. I hold that the law of Massachusetts gives to our unfortunate the right of oral appeal.

In Massachusetts we look too much to the material and not enough to the mental assets of the State," continued the attorney. "I am going to ask Governor Cox to give our State such a commission of investigation to make a five-year inventory of our institutions.

"There are inmates today whose lives, health and minds can be rehabilitated and they can be returned to normal life. The South once thought only of the cotton and not of the cotton seed. Cotton seed is today a greater asset to the South than cotton. So with material mental assets in our own State."

DEFICIT NOW BIG SURPLUS

Receipts Exceed Expenditures By $310,914,303 In First Three Months

Washington, Oct. 11—President Harding and members of his Administration are beginning to win in their determined efforts to bring rigid economy into Government expenditures and to keep the outgo lower than the income, according to official reports of the Treasury Department.

The Administration starts the second quarter of the fiscal year with income exceeding expenditures. The excess of ordinary receipts over ordinary disbursements totalled $310,914,303 for the fiscal year up to October 5, according to an official statement of the Treasury Department.

In July and part of August, disbursements exceeded receipts, despite the economy measures of the Administration. The tide seems to have turned definitely and the campaign for efficiency and economy is apparently bearing fruit.

In addition, the Administration on October 5, found a net unexpended balance of almost $783,000,000 in the general fund. For years this balance seldom has been above $300,000,000. In the past officials have been content if able to keep it up to the $250,000,000 mark.

Big Excess of Receipts.

Another phrase of the balance sheet is that the excess of receipts over disbursements for the first quarter of the fiscal year is nearly as great as the amount on hand at the close of the last fiscal year, June 1.

When receipts fell off 23 percent, in comparison with last year, the Administration reduced disbursements nearly 33 percent. The level of spending was depressed faster than the falling income.

Total receipts from ordinary sources for the first quarter of the present fiscal year plus five days in September amounted to $1,191,915,881. For the corresponding period last year receipts were $1,544,881,330, or $372,965,449 more than the current period. Ordinary disbursements thus far this year total $881,001,573, or $418,014,607 less than in the same period of the fiscal year 1921.

Budget Director Dawes is delighted with the results but believes there is still much room for improvement if the Administration is to save the millions intended by the President and his Cabinet.

Dawes is planning new and drastic measures of economy which probably will be made public this week through the White House. He is working with the President on the estimates to be sent to Congress for the next fiscal year, the first in which the budget will become officially effective.

Figuring on 1923 Estimates.

Estimates of money needed in 1923 have been in preparation by all departments for several months. Most of them are in the hands of Mr. Dawes and the President. Together they are trying to determine where deep cuts may be made. Conference are frequent between Mr. Dawes and Cabinet members and their subordinates.

The budget office is giving first-hand consideration to each of the items in the list of estimates. The salary of each clerk and messenger is included in the estimates. In Washington alone almost 90,000 persons are on the Government payroll.

The financial pruning knife is slashing out items of the estimates, page at a time, it is understood. The details are being kept secret, but enough has become known to indicate that when the Budget Bureau finishes its work the estimates will include only prime government necessities.

When the Budget Bureau completes its pruning of the detailed estimate of any given department, the total remaining is sent to the White House with last year's total for comparison. The President abstracts the new estimates from the old and decides whether the reduction has been proportionate with the demands of the Administration for economy. If the decision is adverse, Mr. Dawes receives word. Then the Cabinet officer whose department is under consideration flashes the pruning knife again. Sometimes in the second instance it is wielded by the Department officials, but more often the guide makes its incision under the blading hand of the Budget Bureau and not infrequently over protests of the officials concerned.

Probable receipts of the Government next year must be estimated by Mr. Dawes in making the budget. Because of the uncertainty of Congress in dealing with revision of the revenue law this estimate of next year's receipts is a baffling problem.

HER ERROR.

At a recent bridge party Mrs. Blank was telling her companions at the table of a conversation she had had with a woman who was telling of the fearful experience of a friend during a shipwreck. The unfortunate passenger concerned fell into the water and the sailors behaved brutally toward her whenever she attempted to climb into one of the overcrowded lifeboats.

"Every time she came up," so the woman told Mrs. Blank, "somebody would hit her on the head with an oar."

At this point Mrs. Blank confessed that laughter overcame her and when the astonished woman asked the reason, Mrs. Blank replied, "Wasn't she the fool to come up!"

NEW VIEW GIVEN OF BYRON'S DEATH

Poet's Last Message To Wife Thrown Into Fresh Haze Of Controversy

London, Oct. 14—What was Lord Byron's last message to his wife? That is the tantalizing, tragic query aroused by the recent opening to the public of a new and apparently authentic account of the poet's death in Missolonghi, Greece, contained in a letter from his faithful valet, Fletcher, to Mrs. Augusta Leigh, Lord Byron's half-sister.

The letter recently was published privately at Nottingham and a copy of it has now reached the British Museum and the public. Despite the assertion of Voltaire that the poet "carried his vanity with him into the next world," Fletcher reveals a death tragedy of pathetic fatality.

In describing the last scene, Fletcher wrote: "He became delirious again and then turned to me, saying: 'You will go to my wife and say— But he could not get any further.'"

The supreme agony was at hand, and the poet seemed to make an almost superhuman effort to collect his waning mind and physical forces and began talking swiftly for a few moments until consciousness left him for a few moments, the valet failing to understand a single word.

The dying man then repeated his instructions, adding: "I hope you have understood me, Fletcher."

Upon the servant admitting that he had not understood, the letter continues: "My lord soon breathed his last without a sigh or a groan."

Fletcher was a famous valet and the "stout yeoman" of "Childe Harold." The letter is dated April 20, 1824. Although a whole library of books have been written dealing with the poet's last tragic days at Missolonghi and recounting how he cursed the Italian doctors who bled him profusely and swore at Trelawney and Leigh Hunt if they revealed the mystery of his mishap, none present the poet's end with the bald exactness and obvious good faith of Fletcher.

Fletcher was unlettered and simple and his only desire was to convey the truth. His letter shows that the last hours were as dark and clouded as any Greek tragedian might wish. He says that Byron had his first convulsive fit Feb. 15, and although it lasted only 15 minutes it was a warning and the poet began a voluntary starvation diet. "In the early days of April," Fletcher writes, "he was seized with another fit and a slow fever, after which he asked for a Bible, which my lord studied."

On April 19 his lordship had violent pains in his bones. But he did not omit his "daily" ride, in the course of which he got a wetting and returned with a high fever. The valet urged him to send for a doctor, who lived 50 miles away, but Byron replied: "I shall be dead or better before the doctor comes."

Later, however, he agreed to this, telling Fletcher to spare no expense. "As I should like to know what is the matter with me,"

The valet then tells how four "Italian" physicians came and bled him, taking eight ounces of blood, of which Fletcher observed: "I saw his blood had gone into such a state of inflammation that there was not more than an ounce of real blood in the eight ounces. . . . After an interval of delirium came April 18, when my lord began to make sure of his speedy dissolution."

Fletcher originally was a farm hand. He served Byron twenty years. After the poet's death he returned to England and opened a shop near Berkeley Square, but went into bankruptcy and retired on an annual allowance of 70 pounds granted to him by Mrs. Leigh. He was buried near his master at Hockley Tor, near Newstead Abbey.

BULL FULL OF LIQUOR WRECKS MAIL FLIVVER

Taps Silo And Then Tackles Rural Letter Carrier—Wild Time Seen

Council Bluffs, Oct. 15—After drinking corn juice that had seeped out of a silo an ordinary docile bull jumped his pasture fence today and attacked a rural mail driver, overturning his flivver.

The mail driver, Clyde Edwards, deserted the wrecked machine and made good his escape, leaving the animal making gradually weakening attacks on the wrecked car.

The bull, Duke, is owned by the community, and always has been famed for his peaceable character. When farmers in the neighborhood arrived with ropes and pitchforks to round him up Duke was lying in a dead stupor beside the battered flivver, while mail was scattered all over the road.

GENERAL ADVANCE THROUGH MONTREAL STOCK EXCHANGE TRADING HEAVY YESTERDAY

Most Spectacular Advance Was That Of Detroit United, Which Scored Gain Of 5 1/4 Points—National Breweries Led The Market—Other Changes Were Unimportant

Montreal, Oct. 14.—Two or three leading stocks led a general advance today through the list on the Montreal Stock Exchange and the trading was heavier than for several months past. The most spectacular advance was made by Detroit United, which gained 5 1/4 points to 75 closing at the top. The strong position and good earnings of this public utility are being used as bull arguments. National Breweries led the market with sales of 4,210 shares, a record number for a considerable time past. The issue showed a net gain of 1 1/2 points at 55 1/4. Dominion Glass, whose wares are naturally affected by Breweries' prospects, also showed strength.

Closing Letters By Local Brokers

(By Green, Gourdeau & Co.) New York, Oct. 14.—The course of prices changes in the stock market today was decidedly irregular. At the opening of the session the oil reflected the continuation of the demand that has characterized that class of securities of late, in which the Mexican oils also participated. Over-night news in regard to the Mexican situation was responsible for the improvement in the Doherty stocks, short covering figuring extensively in the upturn. Selling pressure was displayed in the steels and railroads, based on the expectation of unfavorable earnings for the current quarter and threatening labor developments, together with the freight rate reductions respectively. This condition of affairs was maintained practically throughout the entire five hours of business, but the selling movement became more general in the final hour, when the lowest prices of the day were recorded. Transactions were again chiefly for professional account, and trading at no time was brisk. The public continues to hold aloof and it is expected their re-entry into speculative commitments will be withheld until some encouraging incentive develops. We rather look for price fluctuations to hold within narrow trading limits, meantime.

Mexican Petroleum Scored Three Point Gain—Opinion Among Traders Seemed Confused—Minor Speculative Issues Were Prominent

New York, Oct. 14.—Apart from the increased prominence of minor speculative issues, some of which extended their gains, there was little of note in today's professional stock market session. Opinion among traders seemed to be more confused probably as a result of latest phases bearing upon labor and industrial conditions and the detached attitude of the public. Money rates were firm at the outset, but the six per cent rate was lowered to 5 per cent later when it became evident that tomorrow's heavy payments to meet maturities on certificates of indebtedness and Liberty Bond interest would be accomplished without strain. A large proportion of the day's business again embraced the cheaper domestic oils, their activity being accompanied by further upward revision of prices for various products. Popular issues of that group were chiefly represented by Mexican Petroleum, although a three point

LIVING CHEAP IN BERLIN NOW

Newly Coined Word in Germany Means "Exchange-Strong"—Is Appropriate. Toronto, Oct. 15.—T. R. Ybarra, a well-known American newspaperman, now in Berlin, calls attention to a newly-coined word, invented in Germany to describe a condition which the Germans are not enjoying, but which many visitors are now deliriously in for the first time. The word is "valutastark", and means literally exchange-strong. It describes the position of those visitors to Germany who find that their own money is worth so much more than the German money that they can live like millionaires in Berlin on sums that would hardly keep them comfortably in a city like New York. A short time ago the German mark declined to a point where it was worth just one American cent, instead of the twenty-five American cents which it represented before the war. That is to say, if prices had not advanced the American visitor to Germany would be able to buy about twenty-five times as much with his letter of credit as he could have bought seven years ago, and the Canadian visitor only slightly less. Luxury For Little. But of course prices have advanced in Germany as elsewhere. Nevertheless, one who goes to that country with American funds can live for about a third of what his expenses would be in a large American city, while the English funds will go twice as far as they did in England. Mr. Ybarra says that one can live in a first-class German hotel, eat the best of meals and give the expected tips for $5 a day, while the same thing would cost him $15 in New York. If the visitor happens not to be a teetotaler, but likes a pint of pretty good wine at dinner, a glass or sherry at luncheon, and a few cocktails or highballs when he meets his friends, the outlay on these liquors will not amount to more than $5 a week. In other words, one can live in Berlin for $40 a week and get everything that he would have to pay about $150 a week for in New York, where he would also run the risk of being arrested for violating the law or the graver risk of being treated for alcoholic poisoning. An Elaborate Dinner. He mentions the case of an American who wished to give a really elaborate dinner in honor of the American Charge d'Affaires in Berlin. He went to the management of the most widely-known hotel, told him what he desired and hinted at large rewards for something approaching perfection. Covers were laid for eight persons. There were preliminary cocktails, followed by a well-cooked, well-served dinner. The menu contained plenty of vintage Moelle. The dinner was a great success, and the host summoned the matre d'hotel, complimented him and tipped him more handsomely than was expected. He then found that his total outlay had amounted to $23. Mr. Ybarra also mentions another choice dinner for four, including champagne, taxicab fares to a theatre, where good seats were secured, subsequent taxi visit to a midnight cafe with good seats again and later a supper, the total cost of the entertainment being less than $28. If You Are Saving. This is how Americans can live in Berlin who do not mind throwing their money around. If they are more saving and rent apartments and do not take their meals at the smartest hotels, their expenses can be amazingly cut. One friend of the writer's has an attractive, me-
