The Bicycle

has become an important factor in modern daily life. In its approved form to-day it is a marvel of locomotion; small, light, safe, speedy, ever-ready, and never failing, requiring neither stable nor groom, there is nothing that will take its place.

To old riders, whose pleasant memories of cycling are founded on their experiences with the old time bicycle, the modern, light-running, high-grade machine is a revelation far in advance of their fondest dreams.

BEARING DOWN PAINS

What woman at sometime or other does not experience these dreadful bearing down pains. Mrs. E. Griffith, of Main Street, Hopedale, Ont., says: "A heavy bearing-down pain had set all across my back and sides. I was often unable to stoop or straighten myself up. Many times each night I would have to leave my bed with the irregular and frequent secretions of the kidneys, and just as done out in the morning as on retiring. I was languid and would have to let my head sink back on the pillow and I began to feel better and stronger. I now enjoy my sleep without being disturbed and feel grateful to Booth's Kidney Pills for what they did for me."

FENIAN INVASION AND THE BATTLE OF ECCLES HILL.

Fourth Prize Story, Section II, Record's Eastern Townships Historical Story Competition—By Earl S. Beerworth, Stanstead.

During the years 1865-66, the agitation of the Fenians for the conquering of Canada was at its height. Of course the chief cause was the unpopularity of the Fenians in England and the Irish in America thought that they could obtain Canada from the Mother Country. It was represented as an extremely easy task. The investigators of the conquest described Canada as being inhabited by ignorant and unskilled people, who would give up their country at the first sight of armed soldiers.

While the real conquest was being planned, a company of ruffians from the Fenian ranks entered Canada's frontier near Pigeon Hill, Quebec, in 1866. Their weapons were varied, consisting of scythes, clubs and a few guns.

The people in this vicinity were not prepared for the invasion and were forced to leave their homes without making much of a defence. The most harm done was the plundering of the farms, from which horses and supplies were stolen.

It took several days to obtain the "Regulars" from Montreal, and, on their approach, the invaders quickly retreated across the border. About eighteen men were captured and taken to Sweetsburg, where they were closely guarded. Later, however, they were allowed their freedom.

Nothing more was done towards the invasion of Canada until early in 1870. General O'Neill, an Irishman, had now taken charge of raising the invading forces. This commander had already reported the simplicity of the task, and used to say: "All you have to do is to go over into Canada and pick out a farm for yourself." His power of persuasion obtained great results and money came in very freely to him, to support the expedition. Even Irish servant girls in America would send all their savings to help the "cause."

As an illustration of many people's belief in the General's words, the following incident is related: Shortly after the raid of 1866, a young man with a gun on his shoulder, was seen by Corporal Gay, who afterwards took part in the fight at Eccles Hill, walking near Morse's Lake in the direction of Canada. Being asked where he was going, the young man said that following General O'Neill's advice, he was going into Canada to "pick out a farm" for himself and mother, whom he had to support. When told that the only farm which he would get would be "six feet deep and two feet wide," he was much discouraged and probably frightened. He very willingly sold his gun for one dollar and quickly made his way back towards the South again.

Naturally, rumors of the intended raids had been reported in Canada and volunteer companies were formed along the frontier. The one organized as a protection for the "line" near St. Armand, Que., was first called for duty in March, 1870. The Fenians were thought to be gathering for an attack on the border. The Volunteers stood guard for four weeks, but no developments occurring they were discharged.

About the last of May, in the same year, 1870, the company was again formed. The Fenians were now supposed to be close at hand. Strict guard was kept for three weeks. During this period a "sham assembly" was called to see how quickly the soldiers could get together. The men thought that at last the "enemy" had come and were much disappointed that it was only a practice.

One morning, in the early part of June, 1870, a horseman rode into St. Armand after breakfast and said that the Fenians were marching towards the boundary line at Eccles Hill, Quebec.
The Home Guards from Dunham, under Colonel Chamberlain were already in this vicinity and the St. Armand volunteers, which were known as No. 1 Company, 6th Battalion, at once hurried to the designated place. The latter company was commanded by Captain Sigby, with Peter Smith as quartermaster.
Eccles Hill itself was covered with boulders of sufficient size to give protection to a few men. It is said that the Fenians had picked this location out in 1866 as a very suitable entrance into Canada. The highway sloped to the boundary line where there was a bridge over the river. On the left of the road was an impassable marsh; on the right, a sugar orchard, the trees of which might serve as a slight protection.
When Company No. 1 arrived at the Hill, the invaders were at Franklin Centre, a town about two miles south of the border. They were reported to be well armed, with a

BURY.
The attention of several of the residents has been attracted towards a movement for a branch of the Society of Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

The family of Carlos Stokes are all sick. Mrs. Stokes remains about the same, while Mr. Stokes, Alberta and son, Ronald, are down with measles. Mrs. Herring, who went to nurse Mrs. Stokes, is also confined to her room with measles and has her daughter there taking care of her, while Miss McKay, nurse, is attending to the rest of the family.

Some of the farmers have been making preparations for sugaring.
Mr. George Matthews is laid up for a few days with grippe.

Mr. Thos. Saunders, who has been so dangerously ill, shows slight improvement.
Mr. O. T. Anderson's family are suffering from la grippe, the eldest child being very ill.

It is stated that Sergeant John Donahy is to be appointed as representative of the 7th Hussars on the Canadian coronation contingent.
Mr. Archie Bowen narrowly escaped a severe accident. While passing a log of logs in the Lord Pope's mill yard a log from the log rolled down, pinning his leg between that and another large log on the ground. Although the leg was not broken, it is badly bruised and very painful. Mrs. Bowen, who had been called away by the illness of her mother, returned home on Tuesday after hearing of the accident.

good supply of provisions, and altogether in good shape.

Col. Chamberlain of the Home Guards took command of both companies which contained only about sixteen men each.

After stationing the men on the brow of the hill, Col. Chamberlain advised his soldiers that they had a hard battle to fight but that since they had plenty of ammunition they should not be afraid, although the enemy possessed a small cannon, which at this time was supposed to be able to execute great damage. The first man to flinch would be shot down and the Colonel ordered that no one should fire until he gave the word.

At last the Fenians were coming half a mile. They numbered fully three hundred men and were led by General O'Neill. Before they arrived at the Bridge, at the foot of the hill, O'Neill, on some pretence, fell back from the head but ordered the men to keep on. When about fifty had crossed the bridge, Col. Chamberlain ordered his regiment to fire. Unfortunately, having to shoot down hill, the sights on the guns were out of range and only one shot took effect. This went through the heart of one of the soldiers, killing him instantly. The Irishmen returned the fire and the bullets flew thick and fast among the rocks, where the Canadian men had now taken their stand.

Before the men had crossed the Bridge, O'Neill had gone back to a brick house owned by one Chauncey Richard. He pretended that he wanted to see how the fight went on from the upper windows of the house. Richard would not let him in, telling him to keep with the men. The General then went back of the house to the woods where he was arrested by a U. S. Marshall and taken to St. Albans. The popular belief is that O'Neill knew the consequences of crossing the "line" and had taken this method to escape the suspicions of his men.

When the soldiers saw that their leader had gone, and being frightened by the rain of bullets which Chamberlain's men poured on them, they dropped their guns and ran to the shelter of a school house near the bridge. This building was stormed with shots and the Fenians were forced to get out. Dodging behind trees and stumps, as best they could, they slowly gained their way into the sugar orchard and thus out of range. It was not, however, until a number had been killed and wounded by the bullets from the volunteers' guns which were kept in action until darkness came. The Fenians had picked up their men as best they could, but no attempt was made by the Canadians to cross the border.

The one man shot on Canadian ground was picked up by some of the volunteers, taken to the top of the hill, stripped of his clothes and buried. A great pile of stones was placed on the grave by the men, who said: "We have got one Fenian and we intend to keep him." There were no thoughts of sorrow or feeling of unjust usage. The next day, the young soldier's mother and sister came from Fairfield, where he had lived, and the body, after being exhumed, was taken home.

Everyone was anxious to obtain a souvenir of the "one captured Fenian." The buttons from his coat sold for five dollars and even pieces of his clothing were eagerly sought after by men from Montreal and Quebec.

The cannon which the Fenians had with them was deserted on the U. S. side, but it was brought across in an ox-cart and carried into Dunham. When the American government began searching for it the gun was buried and perhaps has never been dug up.

After remaining on guard for a couple of weeks longer and no further raids being made, the companies were discharged.
If General O'Neill had remained with his men, the small number of volunteers would undoubtedly have been massacred. The feeling, on the American side, was very bitter against O'Neill, and if he could have been found he would have been immediately hanged. However, the General escaped with most of the money with which he had been entrusted.
All honor should be given to the men who voluntarily enlisted in the regiments to protect, and, if necessary, die, for their country.

THE ONLOOKER

The Art of Building.

"Houses are built to live in, and not to look on."

So wrote an Elizabethan philosopher.

Eventually architecture takes on the distinct nationality of a country. Eventually Canadian will have evolved a way of building houses typical of themselves and of the climatic conditions of the Dominion.

But that time is not yet. It matters not whether one lives in a Canadian city or village. The "variety" in architecture is ever present.

There are Old English houses, and New England frame houses, and the styles Colonial, Queen Anne, and modern. Plain and ornate, bungalow, cottage and square, they line the busy city street, or the quiet village thoroughfare.

Yet even in this lack of architectural uniformity is significantly written the influences governing this present time.

In the earliest period of civilized settlement in the Eastern Townships utility and immediate need produced the log cabin. No other dwelling save this crude one could have appropriately held its place in the small clearing of the forest.

Then came the frame house, plain, comfortable and attractive, indicative that the saw mill had found a place in the settlement.

Finally, through increasing prosperity, individual taste began to govern the art of building. The bay window, the tower, the porch, the broad verandah, were added to the newer dwellings. But when choice came in to ornament utility, uniformity in architecture disappeared.

As a people, Canadians represent many nationalities, are influenced by many different traditional likings, and their architecture shows all the variations of their several conceptions of beauty.

Undoubtedly there is a style of architecture peculiarly suitable to Canada and Canadian scenery, but the time for its general adoption is in the future, for, though the utility period is passed, the ornamental period is in an experimental stage.

Nowadays houses are too often built to look at, not to live in. Yet true building is based on use and comfort, on utility, not beauty.

"Leave houses, for beauty only, to the enchanted palaces of the poets, who build them with small cost."

Indefinite Citizenship.

Along the boundary line the reciprocity sentiment has not yet softened the hearts of officials or substituted a give and take policy in the matter of undesirable. American or Canadian, a reason must be forthcoming if a traveller would cross the line forty-five into either country, north or south, a reason satisfactory to exacting officers of immigration.

The freedom with which Canadians or Americans crossed the boundary is becoming historical, a condition that is past. The "imaginary" line separating the Dominion from the Republic is a very substantial division in our own times and was betide even the worthy and self-supporting citizen who finds himself unable to rally his wits to quick-witted justification in the eyes and judgment of an inquisitive immigration officer.

As for those who are being sent through the ports of entry, undesired by both countries, there is little enough consideration.

Of course, the undesirables must be kept out of Canada. Yet all these poor creatures being shut hither and yon from one God's country to another, are inspired by more or less desire for betterment, for an opportunity, a chance to get along.

Some are worthless; many worse than worthless; a few are genuine cases of hard luck, looking for a hole to creep through to another country, but all are human, helpless, hopeless, shiftless, or unfortunate humans.

They must be turned back, assuredly. Even the poor man dying of tuberculosis, who only the other day, sought asylum for himself and family in a Canadian provincial town "where her people lived," must be turned back to starvation possibly, to discouragement undoubtedly. They had three little children with them, the newspaper report states, one an infant. But they must all go back, go back to the hopelessness from which they were fleeing.

Some years ago a man travelled thousands of miles by sea and land to reach his Canadian home to die there. But when he arrived at the port of New York, the immigration officials would not allow him to pass. He died in a detention hospital, an undesirable, unable to reach his birthplace and home.

Undesirables, but human beings, whether the red tape of officialdom admits it or not—in this flotilla and jetsam along the boundary. These unfortunates must be sent back if they have no right to come over to us, but let us hope they find courtesy, mingled with necessity, consideration with justice, when their faces are turned back from the Land of hope, escape, or employment, from the country that will not receive them, to the country that does not want them.

Congratulations.

There are few people in these busy modern days who live to celebrate their one hundredth birthday. All the more noteworthy, therefore, is he who rounds out his ten decades, passing the allotted three score and ten—by thirty years or more.

The distinction of being a centen-arian is worthy of note. To Mr. Townsend Hall, of East Farnham, the oldest man in the Townships, are congratulations due. Not only has he completed one century of life; he has also started on another, and there is probability that he may yet hear sincere good wishes expressed for many birthdays to come.

CHILDREN AFFECTED

By Mother's Food and Drink.

Many babies have been launched into life with constitutions weakened by disease taken in with their mothers' milk. Mothers cannot be too careful as to the food they use while nursing their babies.

The experience of a Kansas City mother is a case in point:

"I was a great coffee drinker from a child, and thought I could not do without it. But I found at last it was doing me harm. For years I had been troubled with dizziness, spots before my eyes and pain in my heart, to which was added, two years later, a chronic sour stomach.

"The baby was born seven months ago, and almost from the beginning, it, too, suffered from sour stomach. She was taking it from me!

"In my distress I consulted a friend of more experience and she told me to quit coffee, that coffee did not make good milk. I have since ascertained that it really dries up the milk.

"So, I quit coffee and tried tea and at last cocoa. But they did not agree with me. Then I turned to Postum with the happiest results. It proved to be the very thing I needed. It not only agreed perfectly with baby and myself, but it increased the flow of my milk.

"My husband then quit coffee and used Postum and quickly got well of the dyspepsia with which he had been troubled. I no longer suffer from the dizziness, blind spots, pain in my heart or sour stomach.

"Now we all drink Postum from my husband to my seven months' old baby. It has proved to be the best hot drink we have ever used. We would not give up Postum for the best coffee we ever drank." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

NEW GUINEA CANOE OF UNIQUE DESIGN.

In New Guinea, on the Purari delta, Donald Mackay saw a queer sort of native canoe which he described in a paper submitted to the geography and history section of the science congress, recently held in Sydney.

"These canoes," he says, "were covered with leaves outside to protect them from the sun. They are of a distant type from any east from here. They are made in all sizes up to 40 feet long, and about 2 feet 6 inches wide. The ends are cut away and quite open. Across the ends is built a small bank of mud, and if the water is rough a boy sits on his haunches in front of the mud to prevent the water from washing it away. I could hear no certain reason why the ends were left open; some think it is to make the canoes easier to bail out, but on the other hand it is much easier for the water to get in."

CO-PARTNERSHIP.

MR. HENRY VIVIAN DELIVERS ADDRESS ON INTERESTING SUBJECT.

Mr. Henry Vivian, M.P., gave a very interesting address recently on "Co-partnership in Housing" at Crosby Hall, Chelsea, England, under the auspices of the cities and town planning exhibition now being held within the building. Mr. Vivian is the head and forefront of the movement, has made an exhaustive study of the subject, and has only lately returned from Canada, whither he went to preach his gospel, finding the same need for its practical understanding there as in the mother country.

In his address at Crosby Hall Mr. Vivian dealt with his subject mainly from two points of view, the economic and the moral. He brought out very clearly the great wastage in money and materials, as well as in civic strength, that could be saved if cooperation existed between builders and neighboring estates, and if municipal authorities had proper control of building land beyond the town boundaries, which must one day be included within the city limits. He strongly advocated the best energy, knowledge, foresight and imagination being pressed into the service of town planning as it is used in all great industries, and with the same successful economic end in view.

Such an enlightened cooperation would so handle property that its permanent value would be safeguarded instead of, as is frequently the case, whole areas of land being denuded of their natural assets by the ruthless hand of the jerry-builder, or the unimaginative fertility of "red tape." But the speaker went even deeper in explaining the moral aspect of the question: he declared against the socialistic tendency to abolish ownership, seeing that the two driving forces of the world ever making for improvement are: 1. The interest of the community as a whole. 2. The interest of the individual as a unit. When either of these approaches unduly upon the other, disaster results, and the just balancing of the two forces would rightly solve the problem. As a practical man, he believes in example more than in theory, and the experience of this movement in actual practice has proved that a unification of communal and individual interests may be combined with financial profit.

In 1907 was formed a business federation called the Co-partnership Trust, Ltd., which was readily joined by nearly all the previous co-partnership housing societies. The capital is raised either by ordinary investors or intending tenants, in loan and share stock, which pays respectively 3 and 4 per cent. After meeting the claims of interest and sinking fund, the tenants receive from the surplus a dividend of 1 per cent. on their rent. On such a co-partnership, said Mr. Vivian, the alert active interest of the tenants was worth 1 per cent. on the capital expenditure on the property. He stated further that this 1 per cent. is not taken from the pockets of the capitalists, since where co-partnership is lacking and it is no one's interest to look after the property, it invariably deteriorates through bad management or unsuitable tenants and no surplus is forthcoming.

Public men, irrespective of party, support Mr. Vivian's scheme, and in proposing a vote of thanks to him, Raymond Unwin, the well-known architect, referred to the town planning of medievalism, when the reigning autocrat laid out a town around his castle or fortress, as the central feature of the plan, which was carried out according to his wishes. Since those days full responsibility has found no resting place, and Mr. Vivian's scheme embodies the first attempt to replace the old dependence on the individual by a democratic responsibility suited to the needs of the present age.

THE MULTIPLYING OF OFFENCES

(Toronto Globe)

The men in parliaments and legislatures inclined to rush in where angels fear to tread are always ready to create new offences by legislation. The seriousness of such a proceeding can never be fully appreciated by them. The blind impulse to pass a law at once against everything objectionable is heedlessly followed. If the ill-manner of visitors made us add one to the needless multitude of offences that may now be committed in the various parts of the Dominion it would certainly be injurious to us. The new possibilities opened for Police Court prosecutions, contradictory evidence, appeals to higher courts, varied interpretations, bills of costs, inspectors of flags, county constables' fees, and other wastes, contingents, and nuisances, would provide an alleged remedy much worse than the disease. It would be wiser for parliamentary representatives to direct their attention towards ridding the statute books of many artificially created offences rather than toward adding to the number. In a land of vast and undeveloped resources the able bodied and intelligent can surely find something more profitable to do than pursuing and sitting in judgment on vulgar flaunts of colored cloth.

TO INSTALL MARBLE MACHINERY. South Stukely, March 11.—Mr. Henry Brown, General Manager of the Dominion Marble Quarry, South Stukely, has left for Montreal with twenty men to install machinery in their new finishing mill at Lachine. This mill will be equipped with the most modern machinery for the cutting and finishing of marble, and will be one of the finest mills in Canada. Bury, March 11.—(Special).—At the regular session of the Council there were present Mayor W. W. Dunsmore in the chair, and Councillors Morrow, Leonard, Mayhew, McKaskill and Duffield.

Petitions were received from Mr. H. J. Weyland and Mr. Peter Gillies, hotel keepers, for licenses to sell liquor. Both were granted. Bills amounting to $11 were ordered paid. Messrs. G. W. Stokes and Chas. Ward were appointed auditors for the ensuing year.

The secretary-treasurer, Mr. J. W. Bennett, was ordered to collect the amount due the municipality from the estate of the late secretary-treasurer, Mr. C. H. Tambo.

Rev. Mr. Lewis and Father Desève attended Council in regard to obtaining fire protection for the town. Some of the Council thought none was required. However, it is expected that a chemical engine will be obtained shortly.

After some discussion it was decided to maintain the roads by statute labor for another and to apply the money tax in 1912.

LAWYERS AS DRAMATISTS.

How comes it there are practically no lawyer-dramatists in New York or in America, for that matter? Have the literary and dramatic instincts got submerged in the rush for lucre? Abroad it is different. Anthony Hope, Sir William Gilbert and Sydney Grundy are barristers. Thomas Terrell and John Strachan are King's Counsel. Lord Campbell was dramatic critic of the London Chronicle. Judge Parry, of the London county court bench, has had his plays produced. Fielding was a dramatist. Montagu Williams was a successful farce writer before he achieved his fame on the police court bench and at the bar. And there was Lord Justice Talford of the high court of justice, one of whose tragedies was played by Macready.—New York Press.

SYSTEMS OF WATER SUPPLY.

Editor of Record.

Sir:—Now that the villages and towns of the Eastern Townships are all realizing that a good water supply has become a necessity, I am inclined to think that a few notes on water supply may be of some use to your numerous and intelligent readers, so I venture a few remarks.

Permanence of Supply Essential.—Let the projector of a public water supply first make himself familiar with the possible scope and objects of a good and ample system of water supply, and become fully conscious of how intimately it is to be connected with the well-being of the people and their active industries in all departments of their arts, mechanics, trade and commerce, as well as in their culinary operations, and let him also appreciate the consequences of its failure, or partial failure after a season of success.

When the people have become accustomed to the ready flow from the faucets, at the sinks and basins, and in the shops and warehouses; then, if the pumps cease motion or the valve is closed at the reservoir, the household operations, from laundry to nursery, are brought to a standstill, engines in the shops cease motion, hydraulic hoists and motors in the warehouses cease to handle goods, railway trains, ocean steamers and coasters delay for water, and a general paralysis checks the busy activity of the city. What a thrill is then given by an alarm of fire, because there is no pressure or flow at the hydrants!

The precious waters of the reservoirs preside over cities with protecting influences, enhancing prosperity, comfort, safety and health, and are not myths, as were the goddesses in ancient mythology, presiding over harvests, flowers, fruits, health and happiness.

Let the designer and builder of the public water system feel that his work must be complete, durable and unending, and let this feeling guide his whole thought and energy, then there is little danger of his going astray as to system, whether it be called "gravitation," "reservoir," "stand-pipe," or "direct pressure," or of his being enamored with lauded but suspicious mechanical pumping automotons, and uncertain valve and hydrant fixtures.

When the people have learned to depend, or must of necessity depend, upon the public pipes for their indispensable water, it must flow unceasingly as does the blood in our veins. All elements of uncertainty must be overcome, and the safest and most reliable structures and machines be provided.

Many times, in different cities, a neglect, apparently slight, has cost, through failure, a fearful amount, when sacrificed life and treasure and a broad smouldering swath across the city were the penalty. Having waterworks is not always having full protection, unless they are fully adequate for the most trying hour.

Choice of Water.—The pumped supplies are usually drawn from lake, river, or subterranean sources.

The selection of lake or river water for domestic use is to be governed by considerations of wholesome purity, and cautiousness of financial expenditure must not in this direction exert too strong an influence in opposition to inflexible sanitary laws.

This selection involves an intelligent examination of the origin and character of the impregnations and suspended impurities of the water, and the possibility of their thorough clarification.

None of the waters of Nature are strictly pure. Some of the impurities are really beneficial, while others which are often present are not to be accepted or tolerated. A mere suspicion that a water supply is foul or unwholesome, even though not based on substantial fact, is often a serious financial disadvantage; therefore earnest efforts to maintain the purity of the water must extend also to the removal of causes of suspicion.

Chemical science and microscopy are valuable aids in this portion of the investigation of the qualities of waters.

We shall also point out how waters may be clarified and conducted in their best condition to the point of delivery, and distributed in the most efficient manner.

Predictions of any value as to quantity and quality of a supply from a proposed artesian well, demand a knowledge of the local geology and subterranean hydrology, which is rarely obtainable until the completion and test of the well; nevertheless, we may show the conditions under which a good supply of water may be anticipated with reasonable confidence.

POEM BY MR. CARROLL C. AIKINS.

The following poem, published in a recent magazine, is by Mr. Carroll C. Aikins, grandson of the late C.C. Colby, of Stanstead, and nephew of the Hon. Justice White, of Sherbrooke.

It is entitled "The Maritime Provinces," and is the first of a series of poems on the Canadian Provinces. In some dim con of the distant past God gave the waves in wedlock to the stand.

And blest the mating, that the restless sea Should harbour find about a stalwart land.

The sea our mother, and the land our sire, The swelling breast, unbounded, vital, free

That suckless life among her storm cast babes, And gives them Guerdon of their worthiness.

A pleasant Land! A strong and tender Land! The tempered seasons mingle and succeed

In sequent equity of shade and grace, Green, sun-kissed, russet, golden, snow-caressed.

Some seek my mother's deep-sea wedding dower

'Mid tempest, and in smiling, sunlit ways, And some return low-laden to the

And some fare forth to nevermore return.

Some daily in the upland orchard daisies

Or delve the mine, or sow the golden grain.

And all who labor, all who love or hate,

Shall reap the fitting harvest of their hands.

And others, well all who know them though unnamed,

Gifted with insight past their passing days.

Statesmen who saw the vision realised

Foretold, in Council, what we are to-day.

Mr. Aikins' many friends in Stanstead, Sherbrooke and Winnipeg, as well as in Montreal, where he was at McGill, will be greatly interested in his literary work in the future.

CANADIAN ROADS INCREASE PAY

Winnipeg, Man., March 11.—The board of conciliation has awarded to Canadian Pacific maintenance of ways employees a 15 per cent wage increase east of Ft. William, Ont., and 12 1/2 p. c. west of Ft. William, with improved working conditions. The Canadian Northern award is on the same scale.

TO INCORPORATE ROCK ISLAND.

Rock Island, March 11.—A movement has been started to secure the incorporation of Rock Island as a town, says the Journal of that place. One of the reasons advanced in favor of such incorporation is that the village would not then be subject to the municipal code at every point—it would be able to control its own affairs. This is partially true, but by the incorporation it would be bound to be changed by amendment of the charter. Municipal existence under special charter of the Provincial Government would, however, be a more dignified state than at present enjoyed.

PUTS AN END TO INDIGESTION AND A SOUR, GASSY, UPSET STOMACH

A Little Diapepsin Relieves Bad Stomachs in five minutes

As there is often some one in your family who suffers an attack of indigestion or some form of Stomach trouble, why don't you keep some Diapepsin in the house handy?

This harmless blessing will digest anything you can eat without the slightest discomfort, and overcome a sour, gassy Stomach five minutes after.

Tell your pharmacist to let you read the formula, plainly printed on these 50-cent cases of Pape's Diapepsin, then you will readily see why it makes Indigestion, Sour Stomach, Heartburn and other distress go in five minutes, and relieves at once such miseries as Belching of Gas, Eructations of sour, undigested food, Nausea, Headaches, Dizziness, Constipation and other Stomach disorders.

Some folks have tried so long to find relief from Indigestion and Dyspepsia or an out-of-order stomach with the common, every-day cures advertised that they have about made up their minds that they have something else wrong, or believe theirs is a case of Nervousness, Gastritis, Catarrh of the Stomach or Cancer.

This, no doubt, is a serious mistake. Your real trouble is, what you eat does not digest; instead it ferments and sours, turns to acid. Gas and Stomach poison, which putrefy in the digestive tract and intestines, and, besides, poison the breath with nauseous odors.

A hearty appetite, with thorough digestion, and without the slightest discomfort or misery of the stomach, is waiting for you as soon as you decide to try Pape's Diapepsin.

THERE WILL BE NO CHANGE IN THE PULPWOOD POLICY.

Premier Says Government Will Do All Possible to Foster Manufacture of Paper in Quebec—Products of Forests Should Not Be Exported Before Being Manufactured—Present Policy Meets With Approval of People of Province.

Quebec, March 11.—Declarations which could not be misunderstood were made in the Lower House yesterday afternoon by Premier Gouin, that the Government had no intention, no matter what might be feared, to change the order-in-council of last April, by which pulpwood cut on Crown lands must be manufactured in this province before exportation. This announcement was made as the policy of the Government.

SIR LOMER GOUIN, Premier of the Province of Quebec.

gan by congratulating Mr. Bourassa for the patriotic declarations contained in his address. As for the resolution, there was contained in it assertions of things not exactly as they are, and on the whole the Premier declared he preferred the speech to the resolution, as the latter contained not one conclusion but several. The motion, as it stood, had to be accepted as a whole or rejected. With some of it he agreed, but not on all points. Sir Lomer Gouin then went into the matter of the reciprocity treaty as it concerned Quebec. He agreed with Mr. Bourassa that Quebec should conserve her resources and American authorities were quoted to the effect that Quebec was the land where the pulpwood supply had to be obtained. It was last April that the Government adopted a policy by which all pulpwood cut on Crown lands shall not be exported from Quebec unless it goes through a certain form of manufacture. Personally, Sir Lomer Gouin said he was glad to find that Mr. Bourassa approved of that policy. What was the effect? Since last April the newspapers and the people of Quebec were unanimous in declaring that the Government had acted wisely. Since the same date capital was coming in from the United States and from England, and pulp mills were being enlarged to meet the situation. What was the effect in the United States? When the decision of the Government became known, the American capitalists admitted it would force American paper mills to be transferred to Quebec. Quebec, in fact, was the future province of the paper and pulp industry, and in that way it would become one of the leading provinces of the Dominion.

tario were in accord with Quebec, and New Brunswick was also contemplating to follow the same line of conduct. Sir Lomer Gouin proceeded to give some interesting figures on the forestry area of the province. He said that about 6,000,000 acres were held by private interests, but that in all there were 117,000,000 acres of forests in Quebec. After making deductions for the private interests which were not producing pulpwood, Sir Lomer added that, taking the total at 5,000,000 acres which had pulpwood available, the total under that head amounted to only 5 per cent. of the area still held by the Crown. A comparison of these figures showed that the Crown lands were very important in Quebec. The question is, said Sir Lomer, shall we accept this offer from Washington and go back on our order-in-council of last April, and let our pulp go into the market of the United States to be made into paper there?

"Personally, I have not heard any argument to make us change our minds. Some want the question referred to the people. I say that unless we get better arguments we shall keep to our decision of April, 1910, a decision which has been confirmed by the people of Quebec and which is desired by our people." (Applause on all sides of the House.)

Premier Gouin added he was agreed with Mr. Bourassa that everything possible should be done to foster manufacturing in Quebec, and manufacturing of pulp and paper. Quebec was peculiarly well situated for that industry, and he was of the same opinion as Mr. Bourassa, that the products of the forests should not be exported before manufacture. And he again repeated that unless very much stronger reasons were advanced than had been advanced, and, as a matter of fact, Sir Lomer Gouin declared, he had heard nothing to induce the Government to make any change in the order-in-council of last April, there would be no change.

Sir Lomer Gouin took up other points of the motion presented by Mr. Bourassa, including the question of colonization after which he passed on to that on conservation of water powers. There could be no doubt that the water power privileges, which had been developed by private interests at Grand Mere and elsewhere, had been in the true interests of Quebec, and it was hard to see why the Government should be blamed for disposing of these water powers. They gave employment to hundreds of people, and the policy was considered sound, that these water powers should be disposed of in the way they were to be developed in the way mentioned. The Premier concluded with an eloquent and hopeful look into the future of the province, and said Quebec could only live up to its past by remaining patriotic and industrious, and in that way it would become one of the leading provinces of the Dominion.

MR. KELLY SPEAKS.
Mr. J. H. Kelly, of Bonaventure, followed in an able address in English. One of the strong points made by Mr. Kelly was that while capital might be expected to flow into the province for the paper and pulp industry, more would come in if the Government was ready to make a concession to large manufacturers, who were prepared to invest millions provided they received assurances that the stumpage dues were to remain fixed for twenty years.

BOURASSA MOTION LOST.
Mr. Kelly also went over the various points of the motion.

ROLLAND BAIRD WILL GO BEFORE A JURY.

Charged With Appropriating $300 Belonging to Marble Co. at So. Stukely.

BAIL BOND FIXED AT $1,000 BUT SO FAR HE CANNOT GET SECURITY.

Sweetsburg, March 11.—(Special)—Judge Mulvena was here yesterday and held a term of criminal court. Rolland W. Baird, who had been committed on a charge of theft by conversion of the sum of $300.75 belonging to the Dominion Marble Company at South Stukely, was arraigned.

The accused made option for a trial by jury and he was committed to jail until the next term of the Court of King's Bench in October. An application was made before Mr. Justice Lynch for his liberation on bail. The bonds were fixed at $1000 being his own security at $500 and another surety of $500. He is still in jail, having so far been unable to furnish the required security.

CONTRAVENTION OF LICENSE ACT.
Jas. M. Jones, Hotelkeeper, Mansonville, was fined $50 and costs on three months in jail for selling liquor on Sunday in contravention of the License Act.

HOUSEBREAKING AND THEFT CHARGE.

T. Fortin and A. Vachon Committed For Trial.

ALLEGED THEY TOOK A HORSE AT ORFORD WHICH BELONGED TO M. MESSIER.

T. Fortin and A. Vachon were committed for trial on a charge of housebreaking and theft by Judge Mulvena at Sherbrooke.

It appeared from the evidence that the defendant went to the premises of Mr. Messier in Orford and demanded certain property which Fortin claimed. Messier told Fortin to take what belonged to him and then go away, and that if he did not do so he would have him arrested. Fortin then proceeded to take possession of a horse which was in the stable notwithstanding the threats of the complainant. The latter then left for Sherbrooke to lodge a complaint against the parties, and looked for the stable door before leaving. After Messier had left, Fortin withdrew the staples which held the bar and padlock. He subsequently took a harness from the house, and hitched up the horse which was in the stable with his own and Vachon, then drove the team to the woods and then returned to Sherbrooke.

It also appeared that the farm had been rented by complainant from the defendant's (Fortin's) father, and that there were complications which may result in a civil suit.

ILLEGAL SALE OF LIQUOR.
H. Girard, of St. Edwidge de Clifton was fined $50 and costs or three months in jail for illegal sale of liquor.

CREATED A DISTURBANCE.
Nelson Haldensby was fined $2 and $2 damages and costs, or thirty days in jail for creating a disturbance in the station of the B. & M. at Capelton.

HOUSEBREAKING AND THEFT.
Jos. Marcoux laid a complaint against A. Marcoux for housebreaking and theft. Both parties are from Weedon and are uncle and nephew respectively.

After hearing the evidence the Court condemned the defendant to pay $18 damages, and a fine of $10 and costs.

MR. W. F. POPE IN PHILIPPINES?

Mildred, Telepathic Expert, Makes This Statement.

EXCEPTIONALLY GOOD PERFORMANCE AT CLEMENT THEATRE LAST NIGHT.

According to Mildred, "The Witching Star of Mystery," W. F. Pope left Bromptonville for Boston, then set sail for some foreign port, very likely the Philippines. This statement may not be believed by many who read it but it is as true as other answers she gave at Clement Theatre last night. It is a fact that he is there. The telepathic seance given by this lady last night, assisted by Rouclere, also a finished exponent of the magical art, was the best ever seen in this city. Those who were present and saw the wonderful feats performed were simply amazed.

As is often the case when a good show comes to town, the attendance last night was lamentably small. In opening the entertainment Mr. Rouclere stated that it was the smallest house he had ever played to, and thanked those who attended, assuring them that he would give them the entire programme as though the building were full. If he did not think those who attended to-night might expect something wonderful in the programme.

The feature of the programme was the exhibition of Mildredism. Mildred was sent off to sleep by Rouclere, who then went down among the audience. A member of the audience would whisper to Rouclere what he wanted Mildred to do and without a word passing between them she would do it. One man asked that she come down off the stage and put his glasses on. She did it. Another asked that she write his name on a card. She also did that. Several other marvellous feats were performed.

Another feature was the answering of questions by Mildred. Any member of the audience could ask Rouclere a question and she would answer it. The writer asked Rouclere to have her call out his name. She did it. A friend sitting beside him pulled out a five dollar bill and asked her what the number of the bill was. Without a moment's hesitation she did so. It was in answer to the question "Where is Pope?" that she said he was likely in the Philippines.

The other items in the programme were most interesting. The artists will give a matinee this afternoon and will also play this evening. A full house is expected for to-day's events.

RAISING OF SHEEP IN TOWNSHIPS.

Petition Asking for Relief From Dogs Sent to Quebec.

CLAIMED THAT THERE IS A GOOD MARKET FOR ALL SHEEP RAISED.

As previously mentioned in the Record, the Sherbrooke Agricultural Society passed a resolution to be sent to the Provincial Minister of Agriculture with regard to the raising of sheep.

The following has just been sent to Quebec by the Society:

"Moved by Wm. Morris, seconded by W. S. Armitage, and resolved:

"Whereas the Eastern Townships, along with many other portions of the Province, are specially suited to sheep raising;

"Whereas there is a good market both for our sheep and lambs, and our farmers find in them a profitable revenue in that respect as well as for their own use;

"Whereas sheep have been found to be the best medium to clear pastures from weeds;

"Whereas the raising of sheep is far less general than it was formerly, due largely to the damage caused by dogs;

"That in consequence this Society desires respectfully but urgently to bring this matter to the attention of the Hon. Commissioner of Agriculture of the Province, to the end that suitable legislation be enacted for the protection and encouragement of this very important branch of farm products."

Moved by J. H. M. Parker, seconded by Arthur Ward:

"That a copy of the foregoing resolution be sent to the Hon. Commissioner of Agriculture and Agricultural Societies, as well as the councils of rural municipalities, be asked to join in this movement."

CIRCUIT COURT AT COATICOOK.

Several Contested Cases Were Heard Before Mr. Justice Hutchinson.

ACTION FOR DEFAMATION OF CHARACTER WAS DISMISSED.

Coaticook, March 11.—(Special)—The regular session of the Circuit Court was held here yesterday. Mr. Justice Hutchinson presiding. A number of cases ex parte and by default were disposed of in addition to the contested cases.

DEFAMATION OF CHARACTER.
Devos vs. Hurd.—This was an action for defamation of character. Plaintiff claimed that the defendant had accused him of stealing her wood and also of stealing chickens and clothes. The plea was one of general issue. The Court held that the plaintiff had failed to maintain the allegations of his declaration and the action was dismissed with costs.

ACTION FOR REPAIRS TO SLED.
Caron vs. Bacon.—This was an action for an account and consisted of repairs to a set of sleds. The defendant pleaded that the price of the sleds included these repairs. One item charged was for a new pole. The defendant claimed that the pole which was on the sleds when he bought them was too small and broke the first time the sleds were used. The evidence was contradictory. The Court held that it was for defendant to prove that they were something for which he was not bound to pay. This he failed to do and judgment therefore went for the amount sued for with costs.

SMOKES WERE TOO STRONG.
Hadd vs. Paradis.—This was an action for the value of 2300 cigars. The defendant had placed an order for this number of cigars but when they came it was found that they were not of the variety ordered. They were too strong a cigar. The defendant refused to accept them and they were sent back by the Express Company to the plaintiff. The plaintiff took the cigars out of the boxes and put in, as he claimed, the kind which the defendant had ordered and returned them in the same boxes. The defendant thought that the plaintiff had sent back the same cigars and believing that they were not what he ordered refused them again, and they were returned by the Express Company to the plaintiff.

The Court held that the defendant did not use as much precaution as he should have done in the examination of the cigars which were sent back the second time. These, according to the proof, were as the defendant had ordered. Judgment therefore went for the amount with costs.

ACTION FOR PRICE OF EVAPORATOR.
Cleveland vs. Rodrigue.—This was an action for an evaporator and a sugar pan and some minor repairs. The defendant pleaded that the articles were not well made, that the evaporator was not plumb and that both it and the heater leaked; further, that the plaintiff had promised to repair them and had not done so. The proof showed that the defendant had not made any complaint concerning the articles until several months after when he was called upon to pay for them. He had used them during the sugar season. The proof further showed that when the articles left the shop of the plaintiff they were in good repair. If they did not work well afterwards it has not necessarily through any defect in material or workmanship. Judgment went for the amount sued for with costs.

A resolution expressing the Society's sense of loss in the death during the year of Rev. J. H. Fowler, M.A., one of the vice-presidents, was carried unanimously. Both Rev. Mr. Fowler and his wife were true friends of the Bible Society and in this as in many other activities of the Christian Church they are much missed.

Votes of thanks were tendered to Mr. J. Hoskins for services in keeping the Depository; to Mrs. J. J. Longway for excellent services as secretary and to the young ladies who collected so successfully.

REFORM OF THE LORDS.

London, March 11.—In a speech at the National Liberal Club last night, Winston Spencer Churchill, the home secretary, indicated the Government's plan for the reform of the House of Lords. He said it would be useless to propose reform while the House of Lords was possessed of the power of veto, but when the veto was abolished it was contemplated to substitute for the existing absolute second chamber a body more or less evenly constituted, whose balance should be preserved and constructed from year to year by some effective perennial contact with and relation to public opinion and the popular will.

EDUCATION IN QUEBEC PROVINCE.

Annual Report Issued By Superintendent of Public Instruction.

ATTENDANCE AT ALL EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS

PLACED AT $94,915

PUPILS.

The report of the Superintendent of Public Instruction of this Province for the year 1909-1910 has been printed by order of the Legislature, and gives much information concerning education in this Province. The superintendent, however, prefaces his report by saying that nothing very extraordinary has occurred during the school year. He refers to the Temperance Congress held in Quebec last summer, to the subject of forestry, normal schools, school inspection, etc., and gives considerable mention to the teaching of French, referring to the action of the Protestant Committee in devoting itself in a very practical manner to promoting the teaching of French in English schools. It refers to the appointment of a sub-committee and the work done by it, to which reference has already been made in the Record.

In referring to this matter the superintendent says that many prejudices might be removed and much needless friction be avoided if the Protestant Committee could exert a salutary influence outside our province so as to dispel the repugnance of certain persons to learn a language which in Canada is the language of two million out of seven million people, and a language which the founders of Confederation and the British Parliament have pronounced as official as English.

The report refers to the fact that the Government has increased the salaries of school inspectors by $400, and that in the future they will inspect the schools of their respective districts twice a year instead of once. The total number of schools, including universities, classical colleges and special schools is at present 6,760, with a teaching staff of 14,000, of whom 5,805 are ecclesiastics and 8,195 are lay teachers. Of this last number 6,991 are women.

The attendance in educational institutions of all kinds is given as $94,915 pupils, an increase of 7,552 over the preceding year.

Mrs. Mizener's little child was also very sick with measles and pneumonia.

DOG RESCUERS.

There have been recently reported in the newspapers two instances of dogs saving children from drowning. In the one case a Scotch collie owned by a doctor in Greenville, Illinois, is acclaimed by "Our Dumb Animals" as showing bravery such as entitles a man to a Carnegie medal. Francis Cox, eight years old, was skating on a pond near his home when the ice broke and he sank into the water. Taking hold of the back of the young lad's coat the animal towed him to a place where he could reach the bank. The father of the boy offered a fancy price for the dog but its owner refused to sell.

In the other case, reported by the New York Sun, Rex, an overgrown St. Bernard puppy, owned by David Wilson, a farmer of Bagota, N. J., saved the lives of Wilson's two children one night.

Harry Wilson, 12 years old, and Grace, nine years, fell through the ice on a small pond back of the Wilson barn. Rex jumped in and pulled out the boy and then the girl ashore.

Both children had swallowed a quantity of water and were helpless for a time. As soon as he had them ashore the dog ran to the farmhouse and fetched their father.

VICTORIAS WIN THE CHAMPIONSHIP.

Lead of Eleven Goals in Home and Home Series.

WERE DEFEATED AT COWANSVILLE LAST NIGHT BY SCORE OF 4 TO 2.

The Victorias of Sherbrooke returned home by special train this morning from Cowansville, scarred and tired, but victors nevertheless. Cowansville defeated them last night in a mediocre game of hockey by a score of 4 to 2. The ice was in terrible condition, making skating or team work impossible. The result was that hockey as played in the palmy days of Fulford and Moore was witnessed. Lifting was very conspicuous.

By defeating Cowansville here on Wednesday by a score of 16 to 3, the Sherbrooke team wins the championship of the Bedford League, by a total of 18 to 7, or a majority of 11 goals.

Last night's match was rough, the bad ice and the fact that it was the last game for the championship being largely responsible for the rough work. Charlie Davidson and McEwan handled the game and had their hands full.

Sherbrooke drew first blood, McCutcheon beating Sayers. Cowansville came back strong and before the first half was over had scored three goals.

In the second half play became more strenuous and rough. The procession to the penalty box was always in sight. In this half each team scored one goal, Atto and McCabe turning the trick for their respective teams.

The teams lined up as follows:

Cowansville. Sherbrooke.
Sayers goal Cork
Ruter point Moore
McCabe cover Fuller
Blondin rover Atto
"Rice" center Maguire
Bell wing Moe
Chandler wing McCutcheon
"Replaced by Brown."

Referee—C. Davidson; Assistant, McEwan, Umpires, Russell and Glaze Timers, Lavery and W. H. Brent.

Penalties. Sherbrooke—McCutcheon 2, Moore 2, McCutcheon 3, Fuller 2, Cowansville—Chandler 2, Bell 2.

Second Half. Sherbrooke—McCutcheon 3, Fuller 4, Atto 2, Cowansville—Chandler 2, Brown 2, Bell 3, Blondin 2. Total—Sherbrooke 18 mins. Cowansville 13.

Score.
1. Sherbrooke McCutcheon.
2. Cowansville Chandler.
3. Cowansville Rice.
4. Cowansville Chandler.
Second Half.
5. Sherbrooke Atto.
6. Cowansville McCabe.

HOCKEY.

MASSAWIPPI WON.

Waterville, March 11.—(Special)—In a game of fast and clean hockey at Waterville skating rink between Massawippi and North Hatley, Massawippi defeated North Hatley's fast team by a score of 8-6. The most exciting time in the game was the last six minutes when the score stood 6-6. This put new life into Massawippi and they netted twice in quick succession. Mr. Lavers refereed and gave entire satisfaction, only two penalties being given. Teams lined up as follows:

Massawippi North Hatley
Rollins goal Demarse
Mathias point Grainger
Mudd cover Baker
Sloggett rover Gagnon
W. Smith wing Brooks
E. Smith wing Frappier
Penalties—W. Smith 2 min.; Gagnon 2 min.

B. C. S. 5, S. W. C. 4.

The B. C. S. game at Stanstead was played on Thursday, March 9th and resulted in a victory for B. C. S., the score being 5 to 4.

During the first half B. C. S. ran up a score of 5 to 1 but in the second half the tables turned, the B. C. S. were forced to content themselves with the score already obtained, while the S. W. C. boys piled up their other three.

This is the first hockey match which has been lost by Stanstead College this season and may partly be accounted for by the fact that two of the S. W. C. players were in very bad trim, having been ill for several days.

CANADIENS WERE WHITEWASHED.

Les Canadiens met a humiliating defeat at the hands of Ottawa last night, when the Senators defeated them by a score of five to nothing.

BOSTON VS SHERBROOKE. If arrangements can be made a Boston hockey team will be seen here next week. It is hoped the deal can be put through as there are many who think the Americans can't play the game.

Further announcement will be made later.

THE HERPICIDE

GIRL KNOWS

While shopping the most annoying thing for me is to have someone try to sell me something "just as good" when I ask for Newb's Herpicide. To be sure there are not many druggists who do this, but what few there are should know that such a policy will destroy the customer's confidence. When they try it on me I never wait for the story, simply hunt a store where they will sell me what I want.

It is absurd for anyone to say that a preparation is as good as Herpicide. I don't think they believe it themselves. Every druggist knows that there is but one genuine, original dandruff germ destroyer, and that is Newb's Herpicide. It keeps the head free from dandruff and prevents the hair from coming out and stops itching of the scalp.

Herpicide is really a wonderful remedy which does just what you want and expect it to do.

One dollar size bottles are guaranteed. Sold by all druggists. Applications at good barber shops.

BIG SUMS VOTED

FOR AN EXHIBITION.

EDMONTON CITIZENS HAVE VOTED $362,500 TO ITS EXHIBITION.

It is interesting to note the different views that different cities take of the value of exhibitions.

The city of Edmonton, Alberta, has invested $362,500 in exhibition buildings and grounds in two years.

A News report says: "In the spring of 1910 a by-law was submitted to the ratepayers of Edmonton, and $75,000 was passed for exhibition buildings. Two months later another by-law was submitted for $75,000 for a like purpose and was also passed."

"On account of so many entries made for the fair of 1910, more space and accommodation for stock was absolutely necessary for the Edmonton Fair of 1911 which is being held on the 15th to the 19th of August. The Directors decided that they would again appeal to the citizens of Edmonton, and a by-law for $175,000 was submitted and carried by 700 majority."

"The Edmonton citizens have to date authorized the expenditure of $362,500 for exhibition purposes, $300,000 having been devoted to stock buildings, $25,000 for race track and grading and $37,500 for land."

Vinol creates an appetite, re-establishes good digestion and helps the daily food to make rich blood, form flesh, strengthen muscles and impart new life to the system. It is the tonic that we ask those who need a strength and flesh building tonic restorative to call at our store and get a bottle of Vinol, with the understanding that if it does not help them we will refund their money without question. Cowansville except for Mr. Nelson Buzzell's grist mill, and one or two other old land marks. Mr. Bronson is a railroad man, having been connected with the Northern Pacific for the last 25 years. He reports that the Dakota winter has been the mildest on record. When Candlish Day was brought out in that country, the wisecracks prophesied six weeks of stormy weather, but it did not materialize. The sun shone practically every day during February in Dakota. It is evident that all of the cold, disagreeable weather was used up here in Canada with none left for any other sections.

TEACHERS ENGAGED AT COWANSVILLE.

Cigarette Smoking Among School Boys to Be Tuppessed.

QUESTION OF FORMING CADET CORPS FOR ACADEMY DISCUSSED.

Cowansville, March 11.—(Special)—A special meeting of the Cowansville School Board took place in the office of the Board, with Chairman, Enoch Buzzell, present, and Commissioners Nelson Buzzell, W. F. Vilas and W. S. Cotton in attendance.

The Chairman and Secretary Duboyce had discussed the salary question with the teachers, and Chairman Buzzell was authorized to sign contracts with all the teachers of the present staff for the re-engagement of the coming year. Mr. Hunter, Miss Prouty, Miss Ingalls and Mr. Todd have all accomplished the nearly impossible task of securing practically all of the ratepayers, and the Board wished to take no chances by letting any of them go.

The campaign which Mr. Hunter is waging against cigarette smoking resulted in the suspension for a week of four boys from the Model Department, and Mr. Hunter came before the Board to discuss this question.

A great deal of regret was expressed by the members of the Board over the marked recent increase of profanity among the younger generation of this village. Swearing is heard on our streets with frightful frequency, and Commissioners Vilas and Buzzell, who are also members of the Municipal Council, promised that action should be taken by the Council to make an example of some of the next offenders.

It gives the town a black eye with strangers driving through it to hear boys at play using profanity. Strangers at once get the idea that there is a low standard of life in a town where the youth pervert the English language and God's word, in their moments of idleness and recreation.

The School Board are just as determined to curb profanity on the school grounds, and in the school buildings, as they are to prohibit cigarette smoking during the terms of school. The Board was unanimous in the conviction that it is impossible for cigarette smoking boys to concentrate their minds on their studies. They are doped and stupefied. Twenty-one or twenty-two years of age is early enough to begin to smoke, if it is necessary to smoke at all.

A recent innovation has been introduced by Principal Hunter, through the courtesy of Commissioner Vilas. This is the periodical tours of one class at a time through the Vilas shops, in order that pupils may get an idea of moulding, of melting iron, of wood shop work and of machine shop work, necessary to construct agricultural implements and school desks.

Principal Hunter asks for more stress to be laid upon instructive lectures, and the Secretary and Principal were ordered to get in touch with some good lecturer, preferably Prof. C. A. Jackson. More will be heard from this later.

The matter of Cadet Corps for the Academy was discussed, and will be more thoroughly looked into.

Principal Hunter and the Board are in favor of holding one or more Teachers' Conferences in the Academy on Saturdays, whereby two results may be obtained: (1) Mutual benefit to all the teachers of this village and surrounding districts by discussion of methods; (2) a better cooperation between Cowansville Academy and the District schools, which help furnish scholars for it.

NEARLY 8,000,000 OF POPULATION.

COMMISSIONER SAYS NEXT CENSUS WILL SHOW THESE FIGURES.

Ottawa, March 11.—"We hope and feel that the census of Canada to be taken this summer will show an increase in the population of the country over that of the last official census in 1901 of at least fifty per cent," said Mr. Archibald Blue, census commissioner, to a Canadian Press representative. Mr. Blue stated that all the commissioners had been appointed, and that the enumerators would be appointed shortly.

The work would be commenced on June 1, and it would consume more time than the last one owing to the large increase in population and the additional ground to be covered.

According to Mr. Blue's estimate the census will show the population of Canada to be nearly 8,000,000. In 1901 it was about 5,371,000. The estimate is largely based on the immigration figures for the past ten years, and the natural increase during that period. Mr. Blue said that he felt that the Maritime Provinces would show a slight increase. Unfortunately for these provinces, however, many immigrants who originally intended to settle in some part of them had been lured further west. He thought, however, that in spite of the small immigration to the eastern provinces they would show an increase over 1901. All the other provinces of the Dominion would show substantial increases. Mr. Blue thought that the western provinces would show an increase of more than 100 per cent over the census of 1901.

VARIOUS TAXES WILL ALSO BE ENFORCED WITH ALL RIGORS OF THE LAW.

Cowansville, March 11.—(Special)—At the regular session of the Cowansville Village Council, Councillor E. Buzzell, pro-mayor, was in the chair, and was supported by Councillors H. F. Williams, George F. I. Fuller, M. D., J. McCabe, R. H. Strange and Wm. Oliver. After preliminaries, the chairman named the various committees, continuing the same order as last year. Messrs. C. E. Lavery, F. E. Draper and John Foster were appointed valuers for the years 1911-1912. Mr. P. C. Duboyce, N.P., was re-elected Auditor. The question of tobacco smoking by children under the legal age was discussed. The Councilors were unanimous in condemning the practice, and the municipal officer was instructed to use every means to stay the habit and bring to justice all who sell or give tobacco in any form to children under sixteen years of age. Profanity is also to be dealt with according to the By-law bearing on Sunday nuisances. The dog tax will be enforced with all the rigors of the law. A thinning out will certainly be the case if every owner of a dog does not promptly pay the one dollar or two dollars as the case may be. Personal taxes are long past due, and all men 21 years or over, not otherwise taxed, are subject to one dollar annual tax.

The water-tax problem is receiving the earnest attention of the water committee. It may be well to note that water taxes are payable in advance, and after the expiration of thirty days after notice the water may be turned off.

Deaths Reported.

EPHRAIM LAPIERRE, WEST SHEFFORD.

West Shefford, March 11.—(Special)—Mr. Ephraim Lapierre, second son of Mr. Prudent Lapierre, died very suddenly on Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock. He had been in poor health for some time and was under treatment with a specialist of Montreal, but his case was not considered serious. He ate dinner with the family at one o'clock as usual. A little later he went to his room and laid down. His wife noticed a change and summoned his father and mother to the bedside. He had lost consciousness and passed quietly away. He was in his fortieth year and had been married twice. His first wife died ten years ago, leaving three little boys. He was married the second time about six months ago to Mrs. Joseph Larue, formerly Miss Gaudreau. He and his brother, under the name of Lapierre Bros., owned and successfully operated the Maple Leaf Creamery for several years. They sold out a year ago last fall and last spring he went to the North West and bought a fruit farm. Last December he disposed of it at a nice profit and returned here for the winter. He leaves to mourn his early demise a wife, three sons, a father and mother, four brothers and two sisters, and many friends.

Notice To The Public

Having greatly enlarged our space, we are in a better position than ever to give satisfaction in the storing of Raw Furs, Fur Garments, Sleigh Robes, etc., during the hot summer weather. Our system of cold storage with dry air guarantees immunity from all moths and vermin, also doing away with that very disagreeable odor of moth balls.

The hot spring sun changes and bleaches the delicate color of furs. Now is the time to put them where they will be given good care. Each coat or garment hangs on a separate hanger, thereby getting full benefit of the dry air currents. Sleigh robes are kept in an entirely separate room.

We invite the public to pay us a visit and inspect our premises. Call us up, we will send for your furs and deliver them free of charge in the city or Lennoxville.

MISSIONARY MEETING OF W. C. T. U.

The annual missionary meeting of the W.C.T.U. took place yesterday afternoon at the Y. W. C. A. parlors. Mrs. S. A. Jones, the president, took the chair and opened the meeting with the usual religious exercises. "Throw Out the Life Line" was sung by Mrs. George Armitage, accompanied by Mrs. Dean, all the members joining in the singing choruses, and prayer was offered by Mrs. Rugg.

After the minutes had been read and confirmed, the president read a letter from Mrs. Wright, Dominion president, of London, Ont., in regard to the speaker for the Dominion convention, to be held in Sherbrooke. The date of the convention was discussed, and it was decided that the most suitable time would be as soon after the 15th of October as possible, as all our conventions must be held before that of the Dominion.

Mrs. George Armitage reported that the gift books on temperance subjects, to the Central School, had been gratefully received and acknowledged by Miss Mitchell, the principal. Miss Cochrane, of Montreal, had chosen the books, and had herself donated two. The secretary was requested to write to Miss Cochrane, who is greatly interested in "temperance work" and thank her for her kindness. A discussion followed on the approaching silver medal contest, which will be held on Thursday evening, March 16th, in the lecture hall of the Methodist Church.

A paper was read by Mrs. Skinner entitled, "The World's W. C. T. U.," which was admirable in its conception and sentiment. Mrs. Skinner said in part: "The keynote of our last meeting was self-sacrifice for the uplifting of humanity, and this is also the keynote of to-day. It is self-sacrifice we need in this missionary work of ours to make it a success. It is hard to realize that there was a time when there were none of the active Foreign Women's Missionary Societies, that are doing so much to evangelize the world to-day, but there are yet many years to come before we can celebrate our jubilee year. The organization of the Women's Foreign Missionary Societies is but one of the remarkable series of movements among women that have made the 19th century known as the 'Woman's Century.'"

"It was in the summer of 1824 that a missionary returning from India to recuperate his shattered health, while stopping a few days in London, was invited to address a small company of women in a private drawing room. His heart was full of the great need for more help among the natives of India and China. He told them of the helplessness and misery of the women in the Orient, and besought their help in this great work of bringing these women to Christ."

"The hearts of those sheltered women were touched by the appeal, and they at once formed a society and began to study ways and means to make it a success. The new movement met with scant encouragement. Men and women were doubtful of its practicability, and all agreed as to the impropriety of sending out unmarried women to work in foreign lands. Even the missionaries themselves were doubtful of results. But the women were not discouraged. They prayed and worked, saved and gave of their small means. Hundreds of 'cent societies' and 'mite' societies were formed, and many instances are recorded of self-denial for the cause. One minister's wife, who had no money, brought a much prized silver coffee pot, the gift of friends, as her offering. This coffee pot was taken from place to place, the little story told, and it brought large returns to the treasury. At the World's Fair in Chicago, $3,000 was dropped into the mission fund. It was in 1891, at the first World's W.C.T.U. convention, held in Boston, that, listening to Mrs. Mary Clement Leavitt, our first round the world missionary, her plea was so urgent that the great heart of Frances Willard was touched and she then and there decided that this must be a part of our work—to send out W.C.T.U. missionaries to foreign lands. Round the world missionaries have established W.C.T.U. work in many countries, going out at their own expense, and six are maintained by the Union."

Mrs. Skinner went to to describe the growth of the movement, the work

CELEBRATED 50TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

Moe's River, March 11.—(Special)—The golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Chase, of South Main street, Athol, Mass., was celebrated at their home recently, when a large number of relatives, friends and neighbors called to offer best wishes. Mr. and Mrs. Chase, who are hale and hearty people, live with their son, Walter E. Chase, and the affair was entirely informal. There was music throughout the day. An interesting event was the call made by Mr. and Mrs. Samuel S. Shaw, who have been married 65 years. Mr. and Mrs. Shaw are both well and strong and enjoy life as well as many couples many years their junior.

There was a large quantity of beautiful gifts, many being in gold coin. The needleworkers' society, of which Mrs. Chase is a member, and the Mount Pleasant Village improvement society both gave gold gifts. Mr. Chase is 73 and was born in Charleston, Vt., on August 18, 1838, and is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Chase. When a boy he went with his family to a town near Sherbrooke, P.Q., where he lived for over 50 years and of which was on one farm. He was an active and successful farmer and milk dealer and since going to Athol, 12 years ago, he has assisted his son in the latter's large milk business and he peddles every day. Mrs. Chase is 77 and was born in Binge, Eng., going with her parents to Canada when a child. Her people were Jonathan and Maria Batchelder.

Mr. and Mrs. Chase were married February 11, 1861, by Dr. Proctor Moulton, of Moe's River, Can. Mr. and Mrs. Chase have had seven children, five of whom are now living. Mrs. A. G. Spafford of Compton, P. Q., Mrs. G. L. Porter of Cheongin, N. S., Walter Chase, of Athol, Charles and Henry Chase of Orange. Albert Chase died fifteen years ago and his son, Raymond, and wife were at the celebration yesterday. Mr. Chase has no brothers or sisters living. Mrs. Chase has one brother, Benjamin Batchelder, of Martville, Can., and a sister, Mrs. Sarah Hughes of Moe's River, Can. There are 11 grandchildren and no great grandchildren.

CITY NEWS

ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATED. The anniversary of the Baptist Church in this city, was celebrated this week with much success.

The Rev. Geo. H. Williams, pastor, by special request, officiated at the Sunday services, and preached appropriate and eloquent sermons both morning and evening. Large and reverent congregations were present at the services.

On Monday evening the anniversary supper took place in the Chapel which was specially arranged for the occasion. The long tables tastefully decorated were laden with good things, and as the people, young and old, gathered around them, a spirit of good cheer and brotherly kindness which was the key note of the occasion, prevailed.

After supper, addresses were made by visiting brethren, and others, the speakers being introduced by the Rev. Mr. Williams. Among them were: notably, Brother Terry, from Coatscook, who gave a most interesting talk on Canada, its growth, resources, and development, illustrated by incidents drawn from his own experience. Bro. Robert Dick of Waterville, also spoke, together with Mr. John McGraw, Mr. C. J. Wright, and the pastor.

There was music during the evening by the choir and others. The annual business meeting also took place, and much enthusiasm was shown. The report of the Treasurer was most satisfactory. The Church had been painted and put in repair, a new organ lot installed. Missionary contributions had considerably increased, the entire debt upon the Church wiped out, and a substantial addition made to the pastor's salary, while there is a slow but steady growth in membership.

During the anniversary, the Rev. Walter Daniel, Secretary Treasurer of Western Missions of the Baptist Church, was present and gave a splendid address on work in the North West.

Don't Grow Old Too Fast

"A man is as old as his arteries." Old age is merely a hardening of the arteries—and hardening of the arteries comes from excessive eating of high-protein food such as meat and eggs. Cut down the high-protein diet for awhile and eat Shredded Wheat. It supplies all the body-building material in the whole wheat prepared in a digestible form. Of course will not "cure" appendicitis—nor will any other cereal food. The excessive eating of indigestible foods, however, gradually brings on stomach and bowel disorders—and these can be prevented by a daily diet of thoroughly cooked cereals. Shredded Wheat is best for this purpose because it is steam-cooked, shredded and twice baked, retaining the bran coat, which is so valuable in keeping the bowels healthy and active.

Heat the Biscuit in the oven to restore crispness and serve with hot or cold milk and a little cream, adding salt or sugar to suit the taste. It also makes delicious combinations with stewed or preserved fruits. Two Shredded Wheat biscuits with stewed fruit makes a wholesome nourishing meal.

TRISCUIT is the Shredded Wheat wafer—a crisp, tasty, nourishing whole wheat Toast, delicious for any meal with butter, cheese or marmalades. Always toast it in the oven before serving.
