

Next week's weather

By ERIC NEAL

July 19-26

This holiday week will open with relatively hot days, cool windy nights and mornings, and only occasional wet mists or thundershowers. Becoming pleasant everywhere but harvests could start very early this dry year. Temperature range 45-80° F; in the south and 35-70° F in the north. Sunny hours 60.

A heat wave in Ontario could be followed by tornado conditions, probably near Sarnia and along the Ottawa Valley. Some risk of local floods.

Mainly sunny mid-week with night showers for the Lake St. John region, Saguenay, Gaspesia and the Maritimes. The first hurricane of the autumn season will be announced at this time but should only affect Yutucan, Texas, Louisiana, possibly the Carolinas then out to sea.

Cooling, but good holiday weather will continue into next week. Early morning fishing fair.

Water safety needs enforcement Red Cross official tells Rotary Predicting 1,500 deaths from drowning in Canada and 370-400 in the Province of Quebec during 1958, Ross Firth of the Water Safety Division of the Red Cross, urged Westmount Rotarians Wednesday to take upon themselves some responsibility for holding down these appalling figures. Most drowning accidents, he said, are due to lack of common-sense and knowledge.

The Red Cross are mainly concerned in training people who want to teach swimming and water safety. In this way, they hope to get the message of water safety to the general public.

Eastvale news and notes

By CARRIER PIGEON

People in this village are really riled by a story on one of the radio stations about how our letters don't come regularly. Some of the local people don't listen to radio too much, especially in public, but when something like this is broadcast, everybody seems to know about it.

One of the aldermen decided to make a check before sending along a letter to keep the thing going and get as much publicity for himself as he could—but one thing stopped him.

He was going to deny the whole thing, but he finds it's true.

Some say the letters get here in the morning, some don't get theirs until after the noon meal and some don't pay enough attention to know when the bad news arrives.

It's a pity, because the letters that come here, and especially the postcards the postmaster reports, are darn interesting. The dividend cheques, too, are usually big.

Usually the letters are eloquent, and some are writ by hand. A few may use harsh words, such as when someone is three months behind in rent, but most invoices are in real polite terms.

Most everyone gets a letter at one time or another. Most everyone can read, some of them even went to college and read books from the library.

You can tell by the stamps, too, that some of the mail even comes from 'the other side.'

There's one thing though that Eastvalers are together on — too many almanacs. They find them depressing. They offer a lot of free advice just when you can't use it

They also sponsor pupil training courses, demonstrations and the annual Water Safety Week. Aided in this programme by the National Technical Commission, the RCMP and the Department of Transport, they want the public to become as well acquainted with the hazards of water as they are with driving hazards.

Up to now, unfortunately, the public has remained largely indifferent, said Firth. "When you mix pleasure with common-sense, the latter all too frequently disappears."

However, he gave these two simple rules, in case of accidents.

Artificial respiration can be given easily by people of any age. In this connection, a new "mouth-to-mouth" method was demonstrated recently at Queen Mary Veterans' Hospital. This requires a small tube with which to blow air through the victim's mouth, to inflate the lungs.

Children of all ages should be closely supervised at all times. "It's no use" said Firth "telling them to go to swim, saying 'We'll keep an eye on you'. This can spell disaster; nine times out of ten, your attention will be attracted to something else." A child can drown in 2 inches of water, he went on, and "Three times down and out" is an old wives' tale. First time down may be enough.

Firth criticized public beaches with "Not responsible for accidents" signs, no minimum safety equipment, no life-guards, first aid kits or patrol boats. "It's time," he said "for municipal and provincial authorities to hold beach owners responsible for maintaining at least a minimum of equipment in case of accidents."

Firth cited small craft overloaded with passengers or with engines too powerful for their frames, as the worst contributors to the increase in water accidents.

The highest incidents of drowning was among elementary school pupils. The incidence decreased as the age rose but increased again with hunting and fishing accidents among adults.

Summer dog-days mean many things. To a news editor they mean lean copy quotas. Contributors are urged to have copy at the office as early as possible each week.

CALLING ALL CARS: On tour of the Westmount Police Department as part of their summer school program at local parks and playgrounds, four little ladies receive first hand instruction on the workings of the police force. Views on mail varied recent survey reveals

In an effort to track down the basis for a statement Monday by a columnist for a Montreal daily newspaper that "Westmount residents are up in arms over their mail delivery service", The Examiner conducted a canvas by telephone of several Westmount residents. Of the five people interviewed, three were quite satisfied, two were slightly perturbed.

Mrs. William H. Sutherland, 506 Grosvenor avenue, reported that her mail was delivered at 2:00 p.m.

"It would be nice to receive it in the morning," she said, "but I have no complaint."

A resident of Lansdowne avenue, who did not want her name mentioned, had different views.

Afternoon delivery, she felt, would be a "miserable insult, particularly bad if someone was waiting for a cheque. Even as it is, the delivery is sort of spasmodic. Mail comes at any time between 10:30 and noon."

Mrs. Henry Stern, 3500 Atwater avenue, has no complaint though she feels that sometimes some of her mail is missing.

"Several times I have been waiting for a certain letter and have never received it," she said.

"Sometimes I find my mail stuck outside my box which means that someone else in the apartment building received it. Sometimes I find other people's mail in my box."

A resident of Melville avenue, complained that the mailman doesn't put the mail in the box correctly.

"The mailman often leaves letters sticking out of the box," she said, "and I once lost a letter with a dividend cheque in it which someone cashed at Steinberg's."

Moreover, she would much prefer mail delivery in the morning rather than in the late afternoon.

Mrs. A. R. Henderson, 4216 Dorchester west, receives her mail early in the morning and has no complaints about the service.

Alfred Cummings Buried Tuesday

Final tribute was paid Tuesday at D. A. Collins Chapel, 5610 Sherbrooke street west, to Alfred Cummings, who died suddenly Saturday in his 58th year. Mr. Cummings served on the Westmount Police Force during the period of the Second World War.

Born in Wolverhampton, England, he came to Canada in 1912. He went overseas in 1914 to serve with the 14th Battalion and returned in 1919 with the rank of regimental sergeant-major. After the war, he settled in the N.D.G. district with his wife, the former Sylvia Edith Price, whom he married in England in 1917.

Prior to his service with the Westmount Police, Mr. Cummings was employed by the Northern Electric Co. for twenty years. At the time of his death, he was security officer for Cunard Donaldson Steamship Lines. He was well-known in earlier years as a football player with amateur teams in Montreal.

Mr. Cummings was an honorary member of the sergeant's mess of the R. M. R.

Surviving him are his wife; a daughter, Jean, at home; a son, Gordon in British Columbia; and a sister in England.

Burial was in the Field of Honor at Pointe Claire.

Final tribute paid Jeffrey M. Christie

Final tribute was paid Thursday at D. A. Collins Chapel, 5610 Sherbrooke street west, to Jeffrey McColl Christie, 62, who died Monday in the Ross Memorial Pavilion after a brief illness. Mr. Christie resided at 471 Argyle avenue, Westmount.

At the time of his death, he was associated with Ross and Anglin, Ltd., contractors. Earlier he was employed by Anglin Norcross and Co. Ltd., after having worked with chain stores throughout Montreal.

Mr. Christie was born in New Glasgow, Nova Scotia, and had resided in Montreal for the past 30 years.

Surviving him are his wife, the former Mary Isobel Campbell, a son, Robert; a daughter, Florence Ann (Mrs. D. G. Campbell); four grandchildren; a brother, John, of Jamaica, B. W. I., and two sisters, Mrs. S. E. Hutton and Mrs. J. A. Page.

Cremation was in Mount Royal Cemetery.

Merchants picket, cops ticket as parking dispute arises

Merchants of the Victoria-Somerville area were muttering quite audible imprecations against police and city officials this week as they reeled under a deluge of tickets for alleged parking offences. Basis of the complaint was the fact that cars were being ticketed while parked in zones that were unmarked by any signs.

Though parking regulations are strict, and rigidly enforced, in the district, many of the merchants are quite prepared to abide by them. They protest vehemently, however, against being penalized for breaking a regulation that they have no way of knowing is in existence.

"For almost six years," said Henry Kitts, "my brother and I have parked on the south side of Somerville between Victoria and Prince Albert. As far as we knew, the normal four hour parking limit was in effect there.

Without warning, on Tuesday and Wednesday, we received tickets for parking over "the one hour limit". No one informed us of any such limit. No signs were posted." Mr. Kitts is the owner of Henry Koro Photographers, 362 Victoria Ave.

A check with the police department revealed that the tickets were being issued on the strength of a sign posted more than a block and a half along the street, between Prince Albert and Claremont.

"More signs will soon be erected closer to the place in question," said a police spokesman.

When asked why the police did not hold off their ticketing until signs were put up, he retreated behind a "That's the law" bromide.

If that was indeed the law, the merchants were certainly not overjoyed with it.

Gary Kitts reported that after he had received a summons for Thursday: Just before press time it was reported that city officials had met with representatives of the merchants and had agreed to regard all tickets issued in this zone as "caution tickets". No fines need be paid on them. Signs indicating the one hour parking limit will be posted as soon as possible.

a parking violation in the spot, he called the police station from his home in St. Rose to lodge his complaint. He was asked to come down to the station and told "we will see what can be done."

When he arrived, at about 8.00 in the evening, he was instructed to pay the $3.00 fine.

Protesting that he had driven in from St. Rose because he was asked, he was reportedly told: "That's your business."

He gained no explanation.

O. Poce, proprietor of the Prince Albert Snack Bar, on the corner of Prince Albert and Somerville, reported that his son recently received a ticket for parking in a location which he had been using for years. Moreover, general parking conditions in the area were so bad that "customers are unable to park and come in for a cup of coffee without fear that on their return they will have received a ticket."

Mrs. B. Hofman, owner of Croft's millinery store at 361 Victoria avenue complained of another parking defect.

"Visitors from out of town or even other parts of Montreal," she said, "can hardly be expected to know that there is a law in Westmount limiting all parking to a maximum of four hours. When I parked my car on Somerville, I was obliged to close the shop every four hours to move it—yet there was never any sign there. Now I pay the rate and park in the garage."

Merchants of the area have requested a meeting with city officials to discuss what improvements might be made in the situation.

In the meantime, they have decided to post a picket on the street until police erect their own signs. The sign reads:

CAUTION
One Hour Parking Only
UNMARKED ZONE

Examiner News Editor Anthony Patterson, right, interviews Henry Kitt and Howard Vasey as they examine a sign on Somerville Ave. warning against a "parking trap". Kitts holds in his hand parking tickets recently issued to himself and his brother while they parked in an allegedly unmarked zone.

Wet weather doesn't dampen Fun Club members

Rain has not dampened the enthusiasm of the Westmount YMCA Summer Fun Club members. Attendance has kept up in spite of some "moist" days.

A large number of parents turned out last evening for the Penny Carnival. Booths were colourfully decorated by individual club groups. Pennies for World Service was the order of the evening. Mr. Bryant, Director of the Summer Fun Club thanked the parents for their fine support.

Next week, many interesting programs have been planned including a girl's "Trip to Nowhere", all day Picnic on Mount Royal, an all day trip to Windsor Beach on Wednesday, Friday the Inter-Y Boys Track meet N.D.G., International and West-teams from Southwestern, mount will participate.

Unlike other camps, the Westmount Summer Fun Club operates in wet weather. In the event of rain intruding on a proposed beach trip, the campers have a program at the Westmount "Y" and the trip is postponed to a more suitable day.

With four more weeks of camp, there are still a few available spaces for boys and girls. A phone call to WE, 7-3916 will provide the caller with additional information or a folder on request.

Walking shows way to health

Next to breathing, probably no function takes more of a day's time or gets less attention than walking. The June Reader's Digest points out that most of us cover from two to eight miles a day, just stepping from one room to the next, around the office or stores, to the car and back, hour after hour—without even noticing how we do it.

Yet an off-balance, shambling walk adds extra work to every step. A bouncy, rhythmic stride not only is more attractive; it improves posture, muscle tone and general health. So says Myron Stearns in the Digest article, "Step Lively!"

Those Russian satellites are lethal things. So far they have resulted in the death of one dog and one tax cut.

RMR band plays again on Monday

The band of the Royal Montreal Regiment, under the direction of Warrant Officer A. Fleming, entertains again Monday in Westmount Park. Selections on their program are:

Invercargill March by Lithgow; Pacific Waves Overture, Olivadotti; Jim Dandies Cornet Trio, Walters; Il Bacio Waltz, Arditi; Deep River Rhapsody, Walters; Pasadena Day March, Visella; Richelieu March, Boisvert; Waves of the Danube Waltz, Ivanovici; Kentucky "1800" Descriptive, Grundman; Ave Maria, Schubert; and the On The Mall March by Goldman.

AND THE BAND PLAYS

ON: Westmount residents and visitors sit bound by the musical spell of the traditional Westmount Park Band Concerts. Performed each Monday evening by the band of the Royal Montreal Regiment, the open air concerts provide a well blended selection of marches and classical or semi-classical themes.

WE SAY

One good custom can corrupt...

IT was Tennyson who said, in Idylls of the King "The old order changeth, yielding place to new... lest one good custom should corrupt the world."

He might easily have been talking about municipal administration in a city where things have run so well for so long that no one bothers to take very much interest in the details of how things are done.

It is so easy for a little lapse to become the doorway to a situation that satisfies only a very very small percentage of the taxpayers.

The present protest against the construction of an apartment house on Stanton street, on the west side opposite the fire station, is an example.

Common sense decrees that no such building be erected. For one thing the fire engines whip out of the station and swing wide right across the street. For another, parking is prohibited on Stanton street, and though the building, if constructed, would provide parking for tenants according to the plans, there are always the cars of persons visiting the tenants to be taken into consideration. Parking in the general area is already aggravated by the fact that there are two Protestant churches, a synagogue, and a school just around the corner. Somehow, through lack of interest on the part of the residents, a by-law change was made that could permit the construction of such a building if the permit is granted. Council has notified the residents making the protest that nothing will be done until the protest is heard — some two months hence.

This is a stop-gap offer, promises nothing.

The fact is that a lack of interest in council operation has brought about an impasse that need not have occurred.

It is embarrassing, unnecessary and unpleasant.

A similar situation exists in N.D.G. on Cote Saint Luc road where a 10-storey apartment is rising next to St. Matthew's Church.

Many buildings in N.D.G. have been built over the years in violation of one or more of the by-laws. No one has complained.

They didn't appear to be interested.

But this is Westmount. We are led to believe that our municipal operation is superior to others. Perhaps it is, but obviously it is also capable of slips that can prove embarrassing.

A careful check by interested citizens who follow council procedure could prevent these situations.

Of course here the citizens on the watch would have to be dedicated indeed, and go to great lengths to keep everything under control, as sessions of council are largely held in camera.

Some say the custom is a good one.

We do not agree — and point to the Stanton street snafu as a case in point.

Better Business Bureau story is told on CBC-TV

Better Business Bureau manager Claude Root highly pleased with the Canadian premiere Wednesday night on CBM-TV from 10 to 10:30 o'clock of a brand new film, The Better Business Bureau Story. Produced by the BBB in the U.S., the picture does a most effective job of telling the public of the work the organization can and does do in discouraging gyps, fakes, phonies, quacks, tipsters and others who would relieve the unsuspecting of their money.

Mr. Root says service clubs and such groups may apply to him for possible loan of the film print, which is in full color.

Examiner profile:

Blazing new realty trails

By CYNTHIA JONES

Don't worry about your real estate during the present recession. It's probably the best investment you've made. But don't buy a hotel. Not in Montreal. The competition is too tough.

That's the word from Roy Anthony Patterson, one of Montreal's most respected realtors. He is the president and founder of St. Francis Realty Company Limited which has grown in 12 years to rate among the first five real estate companies in Montreal.

The company's coups include the sale of the Montreal Children's Hospital property on Cedar avenue to Swiss investors; the sale (with other realtors) of Elmridge Country Club to Dorval; the sale of the 22-million square feet Beique Estate for Ville Lasalle to Metropolitan Development Corporation.

St. Francis Realty does general real estate business and in addition acts as mortgage correspondents for both New York Life Insurance Company and the National Life Assurance of Canada representing a combined mortgage portfolio of approximately $4,000,000.

Mr. Patterson received us in his mahogany-walled office in the modern, five-storey, fusil-vert marble building his company built on the north west corner of Victoria and Western avenues.

"We finished this building in 1956 to the tune of $750,000," said Mr. Patterson. "We have sold our interest in it. But it might be interesting to note that it is the first public office building of any size put up in Westmount for many years.

It has a floor area of 35,000 square feet. The architect was David Linden. The mural of wood carvings in the lobby—a study of figures in motion—by the Montreal sculptress Anne Kahane has caused a lot of favorable comment."

Mr. Patterson said his company had a large appraisal department and has just entered a new field—the construction and leasing of industrial buildings under purchase-lease-back. An example of the latter undertaking is the construction of the Honeywell Controls Building on the Upper Lachine road.

Precise man

A business-like, precise man of 47, Mr. Patterson (who has kindly dark eyes) said he thought he should define the word realtor for everyone's sake. "The term realtor is a copyrighted name indicating a real estate broker who has membership in a local real estate board which is affiliated with the Canadian Association of Real Estate Boards and who subscribes to a specific code of ethics," he said.

Mr. Patterson has been a member of the American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers since 1944 and was a member of its governing council for the period 1950-54. For two years — 1948 and 1949 — he was president of the Montreal Real Estate Board and in 1956 he was president of the Canadian Association of Real Estate Boards. A framed tribute attested to his good work for this association.

"I was with the mortgage department of the Canada Life Assurance Company for 20 years," he said. "I was chief mortgage inspector for the province of Quebec when I decided to look to broader fields and I found the idea of real estate fascinating."

In addition to his administrative duties Mr. Patterson does a lot of selling for his company. As he has had 25 years' experience in the appraisal of residential, commercial and industrial real estate, Mr. Patterson has done extremely well as managing director of his company. Mr. Patterson owns a 115-acre farm at Glen Sutton in the Eastern Townships where he spends some of his leisure time.

"My job requires a certain amount of night work and certainly is not a 9 to 5 one," said Mr. Patterson.

"If there is going to be continuing inflation real estate will benefit at least to the same extent and possibly more than other forms of investment," said Mr. Patterson. "Most of the larger buildings of Montreal are in strong, financial hands and the problem for realtors today is to find people who are willing to sell. There are plenty of buyers. The activity in homes is very good despite pany. His vice-president is John Beique; director and general supervisor, his brother-in-law, Brien Foster; his sales manager, George Johnson.

Mr. Patterson was born in the east-end section of Maisonneuve, the son of an engineer. He graduated from Catholic High School and by private study acquired his title degree. He was the first Canadian appointed to the governing council of the American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers in 1950 and served in this capacity for four years.

In 1937 he married Eunice Foster, of Westmount. They have four children — three sons and a daughter. Tony, 20, is on the editorial staff of The Monitor Publishing Co. Brien, 19, is in the accounting department of Canadian General Electric. Elizabeth, 16, is a student at Sacred Heart Convent. The baby is Michael, 4.

Sportsman

Mr. Patterson's hobbies are playing tennis several times a week at the Mount Royal Tennis Club; hunting and fishing as a member of the Winchester Club at Louise-ville, Que. Mr. Patterson owns a 115-acre farm at Glen Sutton in the Eastern Townships where he spends some of his leisure time.

How will Montreal grow?

"Montreal is a bilingual city. The English population will continue to go west along the Lakeshore, Cote Vertu road, St. Genevieve. The French will move north and east. The new Laurentian highway will open residential areas on Ile Jesu and beyond."

Churchill exhibit impresses viewers

By VALENTINE RAHR

Tuesday evening, the opening of the exhibition of paintings by Sir Winston Churchill took place at the Museum of Fine Arts on Sherbrooke street west. Many west-end residents were present, and despite the closeness and heat of the weather, between 800 and 900 people attended.

The reactions of the onlookers were varied. "If Churchill considered selling these pictures, England could pay off the national debt" was heard on one side. "I am most impressed" said a local art critic. "I expected to see a lot of trash painted by a famous man . . . many of these things are the best I have seen in a long time." "Most people are coming here to see if he can really paint," was the reaction of one of the Museum directors. On the whole, those who came to see, left with a distinct feeling of having seen the great work of a great man.

While many have heard of his astonishing proficiency at the easel, this exhibition of a number of Churchill paintings marks the first occasion on which we are able to see them. They are examples of the work he has executed through the forty years he has practiced his avocation with constantly increasing distinction. And this is the first time that Sir Winston's paintings have been on tour in Canada. They have already been seen in Kansas City, Detroit, New York, and Washington.

His method of painting has grown as simple and direct as that form of speech and writing he has made his very own in a world of complex style. The proof lies simply in watching him sit before his easel on a terrace in the South of France, and organize a painting from the start. His arm held at full length he sketches the outer and inner boundaries of the composition he has previously planned in his mind. But not with mere outline drawing — instead he thinly brushes in every different area with a block of its general color, suggesting both tone and volume of weight and atmosphere. When, after a half hour the working plan is completed, it resembles a little an unfinished Cezanne, yet more one of those remarkable orders of battle drawn up by eighteenth century artillery officers. (It is not accidental that Sir Winston has described the art of painting as an attack upon the canvas to be conducted with the tactics of a general in the field.)

From this preparatory plan, he proceeds to the painting, elaborating detail and texture, light and shade, mass and space. If all goes well, the picture comes close to completion within two hours. Often he saves it for weeks or months before he ponders the last touches, so that he sometimes has as many as ten or twelve still uncompleted canvases around in this tentative final state. Over all watches the commander's eye, searching for missing tones or imperfect ones, until the challenge is at last met and the canvas ready for signature.

The handsome interior "Tapestries at Blenheim" dates appropriately from around the time that Sir Winston's great biography of his ancestor, the first Duke of Marlborough, was in work and its six volumes were being published in rapid succession. This view recalls a passage from the biography, which gives the unforgettable description, purely factual, of the terrain of the Battle of Blenheim as it stood on that historic August morning of 1704:

"The French position had been selected for its military advantages. Its flanks rested securely on the Danube and the wooded hills. Its four-mile front was shielded by the rivulets of the Nebel. In those days, when populations were small and only the best soil cultivated, drainage was rare; and a strip of soft or marshy ground in places a treacherous quag, profuse in rushes and marigolds, laced by streamlets from four to twelve feet broad, carried the springs and rainfall from a wide bay of hills to the river. A spell of dry weather had reduced this obstacle still however serious to the soldiers of 1704. Along it were three considerable villages. On the French side, a furlong of water-meadows from the Danube, stood Blenheim, about three hundred houses, many of stone, with the usual south German gardens, and enclosures, clustered around a solid church and stone walled graveyard. Two miles or more away in the centre rose the roofs and church tower of Oberglau, and a mile and a half beyond, nestling under the hills, the spire of Lutzing. (Continued on page 13)

Poor Business

By
The Venerable
R. Kenneth Naylor, D.D.,
Rector, Trinity Memorial Church

There is something completely absurd about our North American economy at the present time, an absurdity which may wreck our whole system, just at the time when we are becoming aware of the challenge of the Russian economic drive.

The absurdity is this: the labor unions, in spite of a degree of unemployment, are demanding higher wages; the steel corporations are proposing to add Five Dollars a ton to the price of their steel; and each action adds to the cost to the public. That would not matter if we were concerned only in the North American public. But we are also concerned in world markets and if we lose those we lose out to the countries — capitalist or communist — which are prepared to produce goods at less cost. We shall be in trouble in this respect — as we are now in the textile trade — until we learn to act as community and not as two warring groups within the nation.

In this question of prices there are — practically speaking — only two factors to take into account, wages and profits; that is, the price one man gets for his labor and the price another man gets for his capital. The raw material is of little account. The paper mills, for example, can buy pulp wood from the farmer just as profitably as when they cut from their own limits. The company pays wages to its men or it pays wages to the farmer. The wood itself is inconsiderable. The same is true of a coal mine or an iron mine. The men who get the iron out get their wages. In addition, the company which finances the operation expects to get a profit on the money it has invested to pay the wages in the first place. If there was no capital there would be no mining. The profit on a given operation is justified from another point of view, that not every venture is a success. One success will help to pay for one failure.

Then where does the advantage come when one group of workmen gets an increase in wages, or when one manufacturer raises the price of his product? There is an immediate advantage to the group or the manufacturer, and an immediate loss to the community. Then there is an adjustment till all the labor unions and manufacturers have satisfied their demands; and we are back where we started except for one thing: we have lost the export market. A few years ago when we found it hard to meet the demand for paper, the paper makers put up the price. Mr. Duplessis tried to save them from their folly and they would not listen; now they are worrying because the Americans are building paper mills in the Southern States.

VISITORS ARE CORDIALLY INVITED

Rev. D. H. Rayner 'Drive-in' speaker

Sunday at 8 p.m., the seventh Open-Air Drive-in Church Service at the Dorval Gardens Shopping Centre will be conducted by the Rev. DeCourcy H. Rayner, C.D., B.A., of the Montreal Auxiliary Bible Society. The title of his sermon will be "The Key to Confidence." An electric organ has been provided through the courtesy of Willis & Company. The Choir of St. Giles Church (Presbyterian) at Baie d'Urfee, with their Organist, Mrs. W. V. Willette, under the direction of Mrs. J. C. Elder, will be present. The public is invited to participate in these open-air religious services which are held each Sunday evening, rain or shine.

Christian Science

How spiritual understanding of God as eternal Life brings health and healing will be explained in Christian Science services Sunday.

Bible selections in the Lesson-Sermon on "Life" include the account in John of Christ Jesus' healing of the nobleman's son.

A correlative passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy declares: "Jesus never asked if disease were acute or chronic, and he never recommended attention to laws of health, never gave drugs, never prayed to know if God were willing that a man should live. He understood man, whose life is God, to be immortal, and knew that man has not two lives, one to be destroyed and the other to be made undestructible" (369:16).

The Golden Text is from John (17:3): "This is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou hast sent."

The Canadian Cancer Society was organized in 1938 at the request of the Canadian Medical Association. One of its main functions is to teach Canadians that early diagnosis of cancer depends on the early reporting of suspicious symptoms to a doctor. It also supports cancer research and gives assistance to cancer patients.

Norway Bishop looks to Bible for his strength

How mysterious are the forces at work in human history!

Generation after generation, when the shadow-boxing of ordinary politics have given place to more tragic events, two giants always face each other—the Goliath of dictatorial power and the innocency and invincibility of the Gospel.

It was Bishop Berggrav of Norway, after solitary confinement in prison in the last war, who said: "During those days, the Bible became the very hand of God to me."

Last year the Bible Societies sent nearly one million Scriptures to Germany — East and West; to Hungary 50 tons of paper for Bible printing; and to Poland went a steady stream of Scriptures.

Battle of the budworm is crowned with success

The "battle of the budworm", waged for five years in the Gaspé Péninsula to save valuable fir and spruce forest from destruction, has met with such success, that most probably, it will not be necessary to spray the woodlands from the air next year.

This heartening forecast is partment of Lands and Forests made in a joint statement issued and Edgar Porter, manager of by Henri Kieffer, Director of Quebec Forest Industries Association, announcing that the

Wayne L. Bungay

The next Canadian stamp will probably draw more attention than any of our 1958 issues. I am referring to the National Health stamp which will make its appearance on July 30, 1958. The Post Office announced that Florence would appear on the stamp — no — not Florence Nightingale, but Florence Sullivan, who hasn't the slightest connection with nurses. If I am not mistaken this is the first time that a living person (other than those of the Royal Family) have ever appeared on a Canadian stamp. I may be "jumping to a conclusion" but I still think there is a chance that the stamp will be withdrawn from sale either before or shortly after its July 30 debut.

I don't suppose any 'bootleggers' read this column but if they do they will be interested to note that a Member of Parliament recently said that the twenty-five cent Chemical Stamp of 1956 reminded him of a still for making bootleg liquor.

A reminder that the Newspaper stamp of January 1958 should be better than most five cent commemoratives in used condition. The reason was that cancellations were not too visible and so 12 million copies have returned to Ottawa. It stands to reason that unless the impossible becomes possible it will not be as good as one of the other Canadian blacks, namely the 12d issue of 1851.

This fall the l'Union Philatélique de Montreal will play host to the Society of Philatelic Americans. The convention, the society's 64th annual will be held in the Windsor Hotel, from September 18 through 21, 1958.

Dr. Saint Martin, who is chairman of the convention says that it is the first SPA convention in Canada. Mr. E. S. Anasir who is publicity chairman may be reached by writing to P. O. Box 504, Station B, Montreal.

Incidentally, the club meets every second Tuesday and fourth Wednesday at 8 p. m., at 4242 Papineau avenue.

Sincerely,
Wayne L. Bungay

spraying of over 700,000 acres of forest in Gaspé under budworm attack has just been completed.

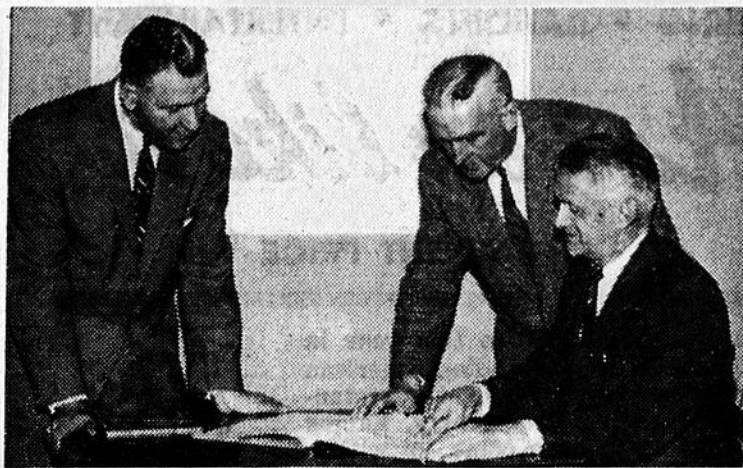

The operation is the fifth consecutive annual one, and brings to 3½ million acres the total forest area sprayed in Gaspé since 1954.

B. W. Flieger, director of the spraying project, says that "generally speaking, the sprayed areas look good—as a matter of fact, a whole lot better than anyone ever expected."

"This situation is not the result of spraying alone, but spraying has prevented damage to the trees until two consecutive adverse summers have come along to discourage the budworm. This, combined with spraying, has brought about a spectacular drop in the insect population.

"We have been looking for signs of weakness in this insect outbreak for a long time and now at last it has happened."

The spraying extended to three weeks and was carried out by a fleet of 26 aircraft operating from five airfields.

TO offset the decline this year in the number of spending American tourists coming to town, the restaurant and supper club gentry, having pondered well, have come up with a pretty obvious solution: to sell their wares and service more actively to the local clientele. We have no figures on our visiting friends available at the moment, but we're quite sure the fall-off is not too great. In fact, with a more normal and seasonable weather prevailing on the eastern seaboard and inland their numbers are probably increasing week by week. Nevertheless, Mr., Mrs., and Miss Montreal and Suburbs are around twelve months of the year; the heavy U.S. influx is limited to the summer months. Therein lies a very cogent reason for the renewed courting of the ever present and faithful resident trade. Within the Island's periphery, resort owners too have perked up their dining facilities and cocktail lounges to lure this potential. Supplementing the regular vacationing guests turnover, with passing libation and sustenance seekers means additional revenue, and acts as a hedge against the vagaries of the weather and tourism in all seasons.

So if you become conscious of sheep's eyes cast in your direction, it's only the cafe owner fraternity with love and romance in its heart and thoughts.

Couvrette-Whittall wedding held in St. Donat de Montcalm, Que.

The marriage of Edith Elizabeth, daughter of Mrs. Fred R. Whittall and the late Mr. Whittall of Westmount, to Mr. Yves A. Couvrette, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Couvrette of Outremont, took place recently in the chapel of the Holy Sacrament Fathers, St. Donat de Montcalm, Que.

Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Fred R. Whittall, Jr., the bride was gowned in white Swiss organdy having a rose pattern, and styled with a full skirt. An organdy headband held her shoulder-length veil, and she carried a prayer book adorned with white gardenias and stephanotis.

Mrs. Fred R. Whittall, Jr., was matron of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Judy Wallace of St. Bruno, and Miss Joan Rosazza of Torrington, Conn.

They wore gowns of pale blue taffeta having cummerbunds and back bows. Large crownless hats formed their headdresses, and they carried bouquets of pink and red carnations.

Miss Barbara Whittall, niece of the bride, was flowergirl, wearing a frock of white Swiss organdy over pink, and a flowered bandeau. She carried a nosegay of pink and white carnations.

Mr. Robert Fusey of St. Bruno was best man, and ushers were Mr. Andre Couvrette and Mr. Jean Couvrette, brothers of the bridegroom.

Following a reception, Mr. and Mrs. Couvrette left for their wedding trip, the bride travelling in an ensemble of slate blue and grey silk, with a small matching straw hat, and a corsage of white gardenias.

The sweaters of today are things of beauty

Wouldn't our great, great grandmothers be green with envy if they could look over their spectacles and behold the sweater of today?

No longer is the sweater a purely practical garment knitted by hand or on a knitting frame. It is still the useful article it was, but it is also a thing of beauty. It is the foundation of a good wardrobe.

Information available on the actual origin of what we know as the sweater is somewhat vague. However, it is interesting to note that the first knitting frame was introduced in England in the 16th century. An English parson invented a knitting frame, and it was on this that the first pair of silk stockings was made for good Queen Bess. Records, however, do not show whether or not sweaters were made on this particular type of frame.

We do know that well over 100 years ago, power machines came into existence for the manufacture of hosiery and underwear. Gradually, sweaters appeared on the scene. Sixty years ago our grandmothers had machine-made sweaters, but these were badly made, unattractive garments.

It wasn't until after World War I that sweaters came into their own. Even at this time, the industry catered mostly to the men. In the twenties, manufacturers became more fashion-conscious and twin sets were the popular thing.

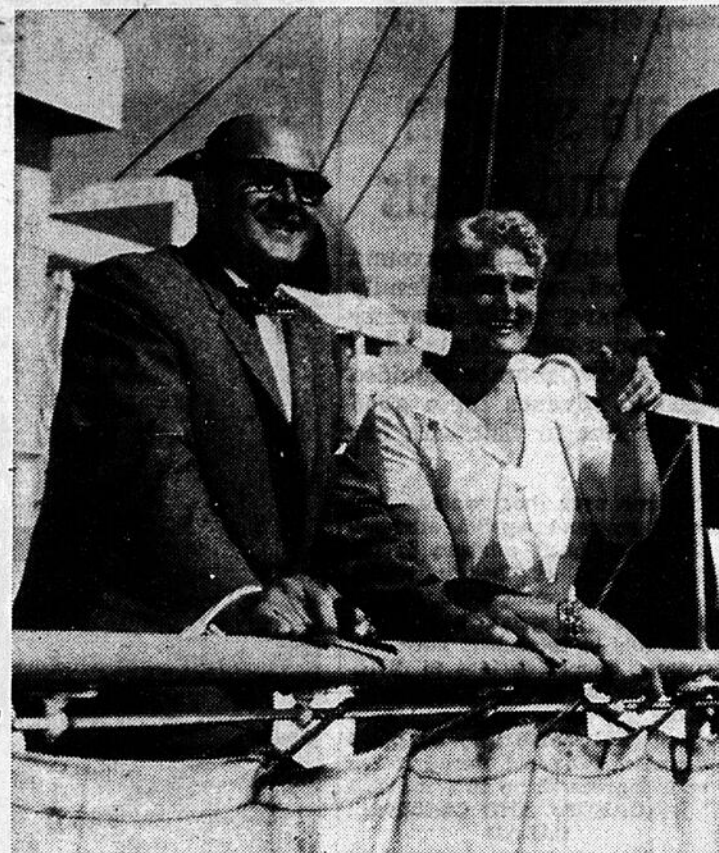

Since that era, we know how the sweater industry has been revolutionized. Within the past two years particularly, sweaters have stormed the market and have had tremendous acceptance.

There is a sweater for every occasion and a style and yarn to suit every taste. The sweater has become almost a uniform for the office.

Sweaters are ideal for sports—winter or summer—and Phyllis Blease, a Bell Telephone employee finds the bulkee botany and Orlon acrylic fibre garments very adaptable. She says she often wears a bulkee knit over another sweater or dress in place of a coat.

Recently, Phyllis went on a shopping spree and treated herself to two new Chatelaine sweaters. Before buying them, however, she had in mind just what she wanted. Like all average business girls, she had a few things to consider, such as economy, suitability, color and design.

She chose an Orlon beaded cardigan and a bulkee Orlon cardigan. She will wear both to the office. In fact her two new sweaters will go everywhere with her. On those summer holidays and winter ski weekends, they'll be so easy to wash and quick to dry. They'll be warm

SALMON LOAF

Flake and remove bones from two 1-pound cans of salmon. Blend in 1 cup fine dry bread crumbs, 4 eggs, 2 teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon ground black or white pepper, 2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice, 1 teaspoon crumbled whole basil leaves and ½ teaspoon crumbled whole thyme leaves. Melt 2 tablespoons butter and blend in 2 tablespoons flour. Stir in 1 and attractive, and will take up so little space.

For a world of fashion in knitwear, Phyllis Blease likes sweaters — all shapes, designs and colors.

To her feminine colleagues, she has a few words of advice:

PLANNING IMPORTANT

"Plan your wardrobe with thought. Keep in mind your color schemes, so that you can alternate your sweaters, skirt and suit combinations. Be particular about your size. A sweater too snug is as unbecoming as one too loose."

"Wash your sweaters carefully. While today's garments have such wonderful characteristics as moth, mildew, shrink and stretch resistance, they do need care."

Phyllis washes and rinses her sweaters in lukewarm water and uses a mild soap. She never squeezes or wrings her garments but rolls them in a dry towel to eliminate excess moisture. To dry, she places them on a towel on a flat surface away from direct heat or sunlight.

To store them she thoroughly cleans her sweaters, folds them into a plastic plofilm bag and leaves them in a dry chest or drawer.

"I am always adding to my sweater wardrobe," Phyllis concludes, "and I am very impressed with the new styles I have seen." —(from the Blue Bell).

Nutritious salads are solution for summer hostess and guests

Now that summer days are here, suppers built around a salad are the happy answer to cool, nutritious family meals. Salad menus are easy to prepare, and the variety is endless. They range from "help-your-self" salads, ideal for family or informal entertaining, to elaborate moulded creations which can be prepared in advance for a good company meal, leaving the hostess free to visit with her guests.

Salads can be served in many ways and at no other time of the year are the ingredients so readily available. Fresh Canadian fruits and local vegetables offer infinite variations in texture color and flavor for hostess, guests and family.

Here are two recipes for salads that are completely different.

CUCUMBER MOUSSE

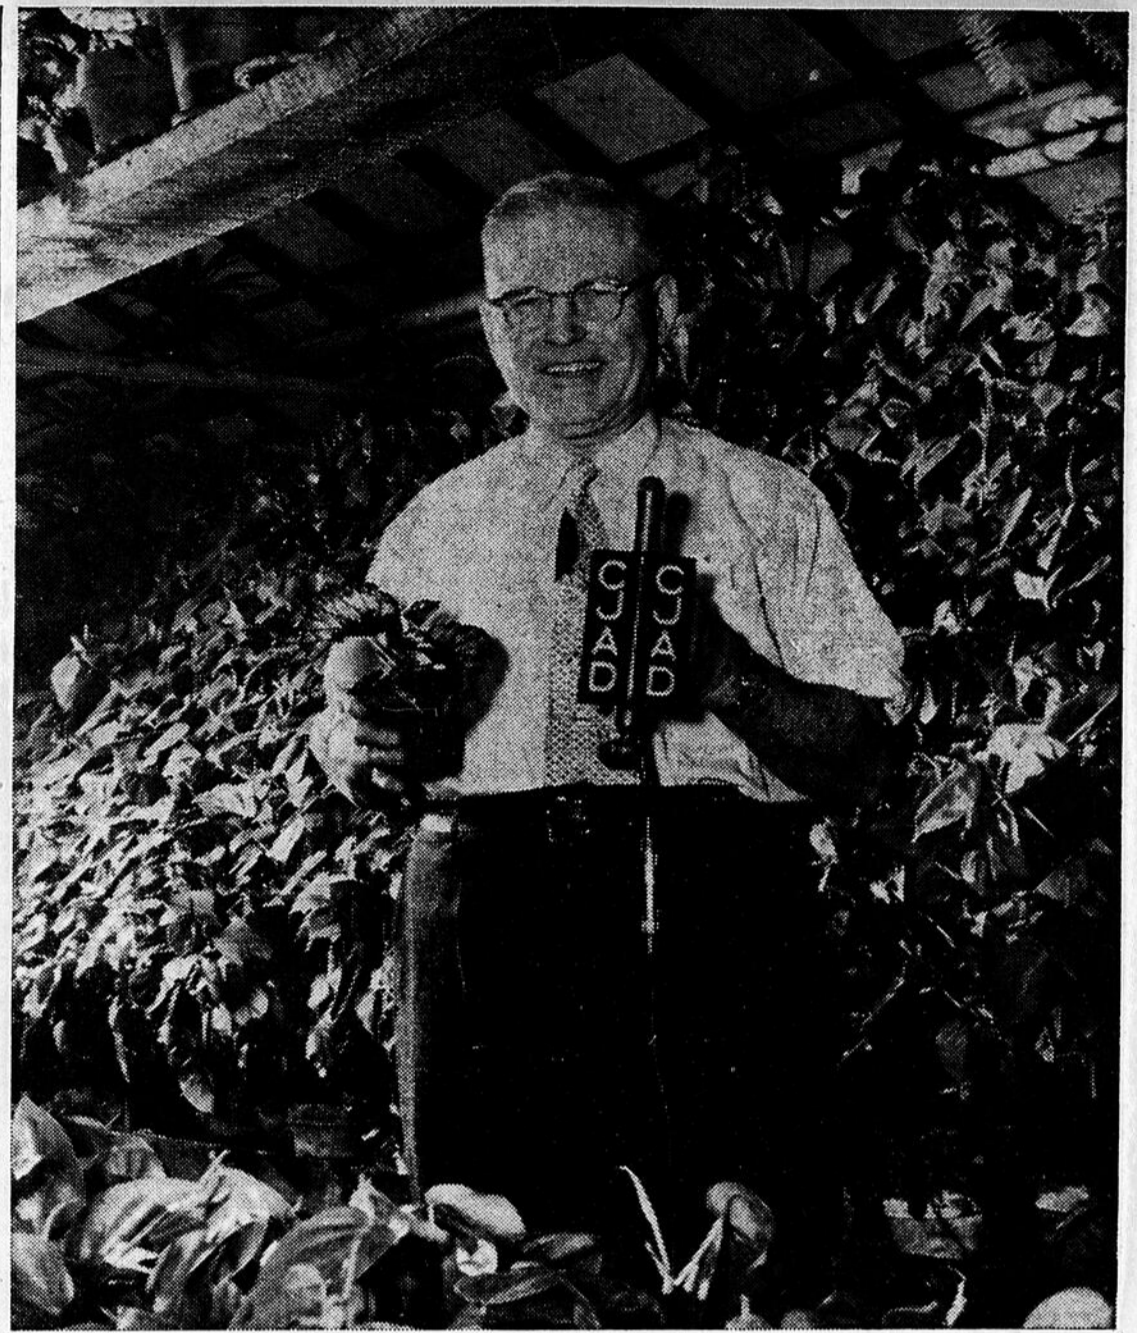

1 pkg. gelatine, ¼ c. cold water, 1 tsp vinegar, 1½ tsp. finely chopped onion, ½ tsp. salt, ¼ tsp. paprika, 1 c. whipping cream, ¼ c. peeled, seeded, chopped cucumber, ¼ c. unpeeled, seeded, chopped cucumber.

Soak gelatine in cold water and vinegar for 5 minutes, then dissolve over hot water. Add onion, salt and paprika, stir well then cool until mixture is the consistency of heavy syrup. Whip cream until stiff, gradually beat in gelatine mixture, then fold in cucumber. Turn into a large mould or into individual moulds and chill until set about 1½ hours. Makes about 3 cups. (This salad may be made ahead of time and stored frozen at 0 degrees F. up to 1 month.)

MACARONI AND CHEESE SALAD

2 c's cooked macaroni, cut in ¼ inch pieces, ¼ c. grated cheese, 2 hard-boiled eggs, chopped, 1 diced green pepper, 1 chopped, 1 diced green pepper, 1 chopped sweet red pepper, 1 slice onion, finely chopped salt and pepper, 1 cup diced celery. Combine ingredients and toss lightly together with enough salad dressing to moisten. Serve on crisp lettuce.

Summer seamstresses take care when making hotweather dresses

Have you ever found out the hard way that everything that goes into the making of a washable dress must be really suds-proof? Not only fabric must be color fast, but binding, thread, buttons or snaps must stand up to soap and water.

To keep your hot weather apt to melt and fade in hot clothes in good shape after water. If you use non-washable dozens of tubbings, local sewing center experts offer these tips for selecting accessories. Check your thread for color fastness and durability: linen, cotton or rayon takes mercerized thread, silk is sewn best with silk, and synthetics call for nylon or dacron thread, silk is sewn best with silk, and synthetics call for nylon or dacron thread. Use linings and interfacings that wash the same way as the fabric. Cotton linings wash with cotton, synthetic taffetas are good for lining synthetic garments. Other choices are pella, permanently stiffened canvas or nylon net.

Choose tapes and bias bindings that are color fast. Cotton seam binding is washable, and a new bias rayon binding may now be obtained which keeps its color safely. Hooks, eyes, snaps and zippers should be rustproof. Be sure zipper tape is color fast, too.

For shoulder pads, cotton ones are washable but tend to lose their shape. Best are foam rubber snap-in pads. Self belts often present a laundry problem. But local sewing center experts have the answer to this: buy single layer cotton backing by the yard and a washable rust-proof buckle separately. Pearl, crystal and jet buttons are washable. Watch out for plastic buttons, unless the package says they are washable. They are

Water safety

He emphasized the broader scope for accidents in the water compared with on the road. Swimming, water-skiing, boating and skin-diving, all contributed. Road accidents were caused by impatience, recklessness or mechanical failure. He didn't know of any drowning accidents that couldn't have been prevented by common sense and knowledge.

The official traffic death figures for 1957 were 879; drownings accounted for 359. Firth said "Some people gloss over the drownings, arguing that this figure is less than half that of the road figure. What they don't realize is that water accidents are only possible for about half the year, so in fact the two are much more closely related than would appear on the surface."

He concluded his talk by urging all members of the club to do something towards learning the elementary rules of water safety.

"Wherever you go," he said, "and you see someone offending against the rules, report them to the RCMP, or local police."

gen. Here were three strong points on which to hang the front. From the marshes of the Nebel the ground rose almost imperceptibly but steadily in about a mile to a grassy upland, upon which the four or five thousand French and Bavarian tents were spread in well drawn rows.

One can almost see the landscape being organized in the painter's mind and on his canvas. This sense for making visually concrete the order of battle as it applies to landscape or to objects is no less evident in the "Bottlescape" than in the poetic study of reflection on water in "Sunset, Cannes," as in the super delicate coloring of "Orchids", the subjective study of water surface in "Vaucluse", and the man made nature of "Venice". There are also the two pictures done last year on the Riviera, which show how painting can teach a man to see, and to catch and hold those exquisite details which men pass day after day without ever noticing.

LeRiche downed in junior golf

While club mate Jim Turner was suffering some reverses in golf title play, Hampstead's Gordon LeRiche lost out for the junior Quebec crown at Wentworth when Ray Zabowski, Marlborough one up on his rival. LeRiche is 15-years old and the new champion is 17. The victory will see Zabowski compete in the Canadian junior open in Toronto.

LeRiche, a going concern if there ever was one, had been the low qualifier with an even par 72 and but for some erratic putting might have brought off a win.

In semi-final play, Zabowski defeated Andre Gingras of Orleans, Que., 7 and 6, while LeRiche eliminated John Young of Country Club, 4 and 2.

Zabowski won the first hole with a par but LeRiche squared matters on the second with a par of his own. The third was halved with par threes.

LeRiche managed to fly two balls off the fourth tee into the sweet peas and geraniums of a neighboring garden. Zabowski won this one easily with a four.

The fifth was halved with par fives but LeRiche took the next two holes to go into a one hole lead.

Cam Grout injured but will compete

The latest victim to be injured on the Canadian team at the Empire Games which open Friday is Westmount's Cameron Grout of the swimming team. But despite the accident, Grout will be ready to compete in the first swimming event.

Grout stubbed and broke his toe while in training.

He was running across the end of the pool when he tripped and caught his toe in one of the pipes. He received medical attention and resumed training the next day.

Veteran pro has only chance at St. Johns

It will take an experienced pro to capture the $1,100 O'Keefe Golf Tournament at St. Johns, Que., July 19-20.

This opinion was voiced by John MacPherson, pro at St. John Golf Club, where the two-day pro-amateur event will be held.

The tourney, third in a series of five, where a total of $15,000 in prizes will be distributed to pros and amateurs from the Quebec zone this summer.

"The course here with a par of 36-36-72 for a length of 6,500 yards is tricky," MacPherson said. "It's not one of the most difficult in the province, but to break the par you've really got to be on your toes, especially on the back nine holes. I think the O'Keefe tourney here will be won by an experienced pro."

Some of the better-known pros already registered for the event include Jules Huot, Jack Kay, Pat Fletcher, Stan Baird, Rudy Huot, Gerry Proulx, Gerry Huot, Jack Archer and Stan Kolar.

"Pros who have the best chance of winning are those who already know the course: Jules Huot, Jack Kay, Stan Horne and Gerry Proulx have all played here.

Course record holder with 71 is Montreal amateur L. Doiron. Easiest and shortest hole is the third, a 195 yarder par three. Usually considered the most difficult is the 17th.

Kiwanis LL moves to final games

Montreal's edition of Kiwanis Little League baseball is moving along at a fast clip this season, with the schedule almost three parts gone.

Form shown by the youngsters in the respective leagues is also considered above par for this time of the season and the general feeling is that the Quebec entry in tournament play will be a worthy representative.

As in former years, each league will be represented by an all-star squad, some of which have already been chosen.

District playoffs are scheduled to start on July 30, finishing on August 9.

The winners meet the Ontario champs for the Canadian crown in Ottawa on August 15. From this point it's a direct trip to Williamsport to compete in the Little League World Series.

Two newcomers will be seen in the district playoff race this year representing Hudson and St. Laurent bringing the Quebec total up to 16 all star teams.

In the Montreal district American A faces National A in the first round with American B clashing with National B.

In St. Laurent, North meets South, with the winners facing the victors between St. Jerome and Louiseville.

Other games in the first round bring together Hudson at Valleyfield, St. John at Sherbrooke, Dorval at Lachine and Baie d'Urfée at Lakeshore.

G. Gagne wins over C. Gagne in tennis

Two lads by the name of Gagne, one George and the other Claude faced each other in Westmount Stayner Park table tennis tourney and George won out in the final.

G. Gagne beat out Lalonde in the semi-final while Lalonde beat out Riperta in the quarter finals.

In the opening round of play, Riperta, Bervaldi, Lalonde and the two Gagne boys won out.

"This is a par four 394 yarder. There is a creek in front of the tee and woods on either side of the fairway. You have to shoot uphill to the green, which is heavily trapped."

The first tourney in the series, in Three Rivers, was won by Quebec pro Rudy Huot with an even-par 72 after a sudden playoff with Jim Swarbrick, pro Marlborough. Second, in Joliette, was captured by dark horse Hector David, a Montreal amateur, after a dramatic six-man sudden death playoff.

The circuit will be climaxed by the Québec O'Keefe Match Play Championship at St. Hyacinthe September 12, 13 and 14.

Riverside pair wins Quebec title

The Riverside club pair, A. (Pep) Young and H. Coles, won the Province of Quebec Lawn Bowling double title Monday night at the Verdun Lawn Bowling club greens. They will carry Quebec's colors to Victoria next month for the Dominion meet.

A clean-cut victory was scored by Riverside over the Outremont pair of H. Walker and J. Plant. The score, 25-15. In the singles won by John Henderson of Westmount, Young finished as runner-up.

From the outset, the Riverside entry took command and while Walker and Plant gave steady battle all the way, they never at any time were able to get ahead of their foe.

Constable's crew wins two games

Pete Constable's Sportsmen scored two wins in the N.D.G. Intermediate Fastball league and are now six points behind the league leading Steinberg's.

Pete's boys defeated Olympians 9-1 and Valois 7-1. Al Turner twirled the Olympians' win and hit two for four at the plate. Cliff Bowles was the winner for Pete's over Valois allowing three hits. He struck out nine.

Upsets registered in cricket play

Rain held up the Montreal and District Cricket league games to a late start, but once the teams got into action the results came out with Adastrians and West Indians winning out; Wanderers drew with Mt. Royal and the Canadair-Stelco match was not played. All "B" games were cancelled.

At Lower Canada College, Adastrians with 160 for seven declared defeated Westmount, 120. West Indians, 117 for two, upset Verdun, who were all out for 111; and Wanderers, 148, drew with Mount Royal, 92 for Adastrians won the toss and opened with George Lowbridge and Ian Rennie. The first wicket fell at 26 when Rennie was bowled by Ken Branker for 11.

Lowbridge continued to display his good batting form and when bowled by Gerry Taylor had added 47 out of total of 76 for the loss of five wickets.

Mel Rilstone and Alastair MacLachlan then became associated in a sixth wicket partnership of 40 when Branker claimed his third wicket by bowling MacLachlan for 26. Rilstone forced the pace and at the declaration of 160 for seven was undefeated with 50 not out. Branker finished with four for 54 and Taylor three for 23.

Westmount were left a little better than a run a minute to pass the score. Winston Kelly was soon out being brilliantly caught by Rilstone, who snapped up a hard shot with one hand at short midon off the bowling of Ted Farnon.

Westmount decided to go for the runs with Gerry Taylor hitting everything that came along making 59 including three sixes. With the help of Dick Croney, 23, and Dave Lawless, 16, they appeared well on the way, but the last five batsmen added only three runs, and the side was dismissed with 40 runs still required.

Ian Rennie clean bowled four in his last two overs and captured four for 56. Farnon took three for 27 and Rilstone three for 34. seven.

Verdun batted first and were retired for the modest total of 111, falling victim to the bowling of Noel Harris, who secured five for 43, and Len Simpson, four for 33. Dave Greenidge scored 25, Charlie White 19 and Len Hall 15.

West Indians comfortably passed the score with eight wickets in hand with Cuthbert Hart contributing 57 not out, Hollis Edwards 23 and Randolph Sandiford 17.

Dow leads Snowdon Pack 17 points over Prosper

It could be said that the Snowdon Major Fastball league race is on its last month of play. The schedule, if weather permits will finish off August 14, less than a month from now.

The race for first place to be settled that being in the hands of Dow. But the race for second still goes on with Steinbergs, Prosper and Pepsi changing places each game out or thereabouts.

On Sunday these three teams will tangle with each other with Prosper facing the Grocers in the afternoon and Pepsi Cola in the evening. Both games are for Prefontaine Park.

At Trenholme, the cellar club, Verdun Sportsmen who have lost any big chance of catching that last playoff berth which is fourth spot face Dow in the afternoon and again in the evening.

The Brewers just to be kept busy take on Pepsi on Monday and the Steinberg's crew travel to Verdun on Tuesday night to face Verdun.

Three games in three days, two with Dow and one with the Grocers will see if Verdun have any spirit left to win a few more games.

The brewers have a 33-point total on 16 wins, two losses and one draw. Prosper moved into second place over the idle Steinberg's crew with 19 points.

The grocer boys drop to third with 16. Pepsi hold on to fourth place. Verdun remain in the cellar.

Dow won two games, but they were close ones. They dropped Pepsi Cola 3-2, with Paul Reberry picking up his fifth win of the season. It took only one hit for Dow to edge out Prosper 3-0.

However, Prosper won two on Sunday which helped their cause very much. They blanked Verdun 5-0 and edged out Pepsi 5-4 in a 11-inning tussle.

In another game, Prosper and Pepsi played to a 5-5 draw.

Verdun Sportsmen may be in the cellar, but they can still make things tough for their opposition. On Tuesday night at Willibrord Park, the Verdunites handed Pepsi Cola a 11-2 licking.

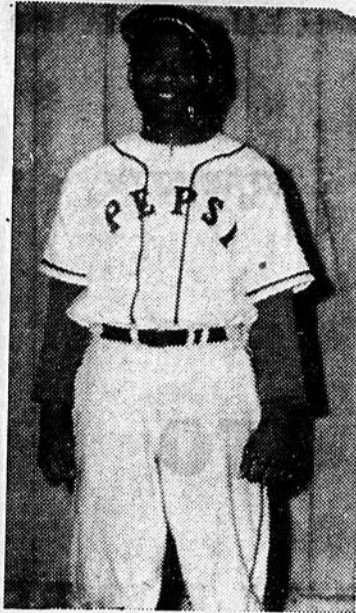

It was Verdun's fifth win in 23 starts. They have one draw. If it means anything, they are now four points behind Pepsi, but the three games in hand for the Cola crew is going to be the difference.
