

Onus is on U.S. to make the ceasefire work

WASHINGTON (CP) — The United States, basking in the successful but shaky Middle East truce it engineered with the help of Russia, now is finding out after a week of Suez Canal silence that its real responsibilities are just beginning.

Both Egypt and Israel are holding the Americans responsible for the peace initiative, and Washington peace planners are beginning to feel the pressure.

One of the main issues awaiting a Washington response, besides sporadic guerrilla raids and Israeli reprisals, is the Israeli charge that Egypt has taken advantage of the ceasefire to move missiles closer to the canal.

Israel, which only reluctantly agreed to the ceasefire because of fear of such a missile move, has laid before the United Nations truce supervision team charges that SAM-2 and SAM-3 missiles have been moved closer to the canal, some within 12 miles.

This was precisely what months of daily bombardment of the Egyptian side of the canal by the Israeli air force had been designed to prevent, and had succeeded in preventing.

FEAR EGYPTIAN THRUST

Such missiles near the canal, the Israelis maintain, would seriously hamper Israeli air defence against an amphibious cross-canal operation to establish an Egyptian bridgehead on the Sinai bank.

Israeli Defence Minister Moshe Dayan laid the violation charge before the U.S. which had initiated the ceasefire arrangements and had taken formal assurance that neither the Egyptians nor the Russians would take military advantage of the truce.

"It is the American reaction now that will be decisive," Dayan said. Washington, torn between wanting to get on with the talks and the need to hear out the Israelis, has been putting off its response, claiming it has been unable to find clear evidence that the missiles were moved within the 31-mile standstill zone on the Egyptian side of the canal after the truce went into effect Aug. 8.

Observers here say there are indications Washington was annoyed by the Israeli disclosure of the charges and wanted to give the Egyptians the benefit of the doubt until their intentions could be tested further.

While official Egyptian spokesmen have offered no reply to the Israeli accusation, Cairo radio has accused Dayan of waging an organized campaign to undermine the ceasefire.

Egypt also is eagerly awaiting an American response. President Nasser has long felt the U.S. holds the key to a non-military Middle East settlement because of its political and economic influence over Israel and its role as Israel's principal arms supplier.

The arms supply question also enters into the picture, observers say, because Israel wants either a return to the status quo on the ground or additional Phantom aircraft and other equipment from the U.S. to protect against the new threat.

There is one optimistic outlook in this dispute, however. Israel has said it will participate in the peace talks, to be held under the auspices of UN special negotiator Gunnar Jarring, despite the dispute over the asserted violations by Egypt.

This does not rule out, however, some type of counter-action against the alleged missile sites by the Israelis, which could wreck the ceasefire and the peace talks.

It is clear that both sides in the dispute now are looking to the Americans to ensure success.

Will relocate to low-rent housing

QUEBEC (CP) — Residents of 10 Gaspé Peninsula parishes to be relocated under a federal-provincial agreement will be moved as soon as the federal government builds low-rent housing for them, Premier Robert Bourassa said Tuesday.

Mr. Bourassa said after a meeting with a delegation from the region that residents of the parishes will be moved before next summer, and some families will be relocated before this fall.

However, he said the 350 families will be moved on condition that the federal government builds low-rent housing for them.

One member of the delegation, Pierre De Bane, Liberal MP for Matane, said the meeting with the premier had produced results "beyond our hopes."

The delegation also included Jean Bienvenue, Liberal member of the Quebec national assembly for Matane, Claude Jourdain, chairman of the Eastern Quebec Regional Development Council, and representatives of citizens' committees in three of the parishes concerned.

The federal-provincial agreement, signed in Rimouski two years ago, will affect about 2,000 persons in 10 communities.

Monday, Guy Fortier, Liberal member of the national assembly for Gaspé-Sud, told a group at Chandler in the Gaspé Peninsula that the families will be relocated within six months.

Mr. Fortier said $1 million had been placed at the disposal of the Eastern Quebec Development Bureau, a government agency, to carry out the move.

Burglar shot in breakin

BROMONT — Antoine Labonte, 41, of Granby, was shot to death at 1:55 Tuesday morning, as he and two accomplices attempted to break into the New Shefford Hotel, according to police chief Armand Labonte.

The two others were taken into custody.

Marc Brosseau, son of the hotel's owner, fired a 22-calibre rifle at the intruders from inside the building, as they attempted to force a locked door. The hotel had closed half-an-hour earlier.

It is reported the three men had been in the hotel earlier in the evening, and that young Marc, son of Jean-Paul Brosseau, spoke with one of them.

Chief Labonte was the first person on the scene after the shooting, and Quebec Police Force officers from Cowansville and Granby also answered the call.

Postal time is running out

OTTAWA (CP) — Time may be running out in the lengthy postal dispute, government sources say.

A spokesman for Treasury Board President C.M. Drury said Tuesday a cabinet meeting next week is expected to decide, if the deadlock persists, on measures to end the rotating strikes which postal workers have been using since May.

The government has been retaliating by closing down regional offices in some areas hit by the strikes.

Nearly 1,800 workers were on strike Tuesday in 12 major centres and 1,658 employees were suspended by government closings.

Hit by strikes were Halifax, Quebec City and 10 points in Ontario including London, Oakville, the Toronto borough of Etobicoke and Lindsay.

Eleven post offices were closed in Nova Scotia and 30 in Quebec.

A total of 27,000 postal workers represented by two unions, are involved in the contract dispute with the treasury board which began last September.

LOWER DEMANDS

Union spokesmen say they have lowered their contract demands by two cents an hour. The government has offered a 47-cent hourly raise in a 32-month contract and the unions want 58 cents in a two-year agreement.

The unions also say they have dropped a demand for a $45 weekly premium for vacations taken outside the summer months.

Pay under the old contract averaged $3.60 an hour.

Prime Minister Trudeau, who will be back from a Caribbean vacation for the cabinet meeting, told a news conference in Prince George, B.C., earlier this month that the postal dispute would soon be intolerable.

If no progress was being made, the government would have to bring the situation to a "crunch," Mr. Trudeau said.

The government could order a full-scale closing of the post office, enforce arbitration or legislate a return to work, the prime minister said.

Weather favors fair

By RICHARD SPALDING

SHERBROOKE — The 89th Sherbrooke Exposition continues today and organizers are still optimistic the 200,000 attendance figure will be topped by Sunday. An estimated 25,519 people stampeded into the gates on Monday during children's day, fair president Carlo Fabi said last night.

Total attendance for the 10 day fair now stands at 65,679, not including the many thousands who dropped in on Tuesday.

Again, Mr. Fabi expressed the hope that warm weather would continue throughout the remaining of the fair.

Part of the afternoon yesterday was spent on livestock with the final judging of the calf clubs brought to the fair by young breeders.

There had been no incidents at all since the beginning of the fair last Friday, but police arrested an 18-year-old youth yesterday on charges of theft.

Early Tuesday morning, an estimated $309 worth of electrical welding equipment was stolen from a tent inside the fairgrounds.

Informed of the identity of the thief, police issued a warrant for his arrest around noon Tuesday and the suspect was arrested on the midway by police Sgt. Leon Paquin later during the day.

Today, there are no special attractions on the midway, but Mr. Fabi said last night that a CBC film crew would be on location until Sunday to film a series of children's shows that will be aired directly from the fair.

Mothers are invited to drop off their children at the fair today so they can take part in the popular

French children's shows Bobino and La Souris Verte.

There will harness racing at the Sherbrooke Race track tonight at 7:30 p.m. and another free admission show will get underway at 8:30 p.m. inside the Sports Palace.

You are also reminded that the giant fair bingo will get underway Sunday night at 8 p.m. at the Sports Palace.

CRAMPED, BUT FUN

CIVIL SERVANTS SAY...

Immersion can be fun

OTTAWA (CP) — Like a cool breeze after a heat wave, the Public Service Commission of Canada gave out the news: Total immersion courses in French can be fun.

The commission publicity arm, normally the source of releases saying so-and-so has been promoted to such-and-such, has not been noted for vivid writing.

But its news release Tuesday telling how 23 English-speaking justices of provincial supreme courts across Canada fared during a three-week course at the commission school in Quebec City was something else.

The release, bilingual of course, pulled out the stops to relate how the justices "came out of the entire affair still smiling."

It offered some clues to the origin of the smiles.

The motel where the school is located "has a swimming pool and when the judges weren't struggling with their lessons in the classroom they were continuing their studies sitting beside the cool waters outside."

FRENCH WITHOUT TEARS

The French version said the justices studied "la langue de Moliere" in enchanting surroundings ideal for them to be "plongés en eaux françaises," schooled in the "nuances d'un vocabulaire nouveau" and guided through "les meandres d'une grammaire parfois compliquée."

If the pool and enchanting surroundings were not enough to bring out the smiles, there was the social whirl.

"Social events were also arranged including buffets and a reception held by the Quebec bench. In all cases the judges were accompanied by monitors who continually spoke to them in French and assisted them in their conversation."

An accompanying picture shows one of the monitors, attractive blonde Monique Le Bel, helping the justices keep up to linguistic scratch as they relax beside the pool.

The release said the monitors were present during all out-of-class activities, including meals.

It adds that the course, no matter how dynamic, would not be truly effective without "complementary activities." Hence the outings, buffets, receptions. And the monitors.

IN CEASEFIRE DISPUTE

U.S. refutes Israeli charges

WASHINGTON (CP) — The United States officially disclosed Tuesday it is flying reconnaissance planes over the Suez ceasefire front to watch for violations of the Mideast truce.

"They're flying on the east (Israeli) side of the ceasefire line, said Robert J. McCloskey, state department press officer.

The main object of the surveillance is the Egyptian side of the Suez line. Israel claims Egypt has been building up its missile strength within the 32-mile zone supposed to be at a military standstill, thus breaching the truce which began Aug. 8.

U.S. sources said the aerial cameras are well able to take photos of the Egyptian zone from the area six miles or more east of the Suez line, where Israeli planes are allowed to fly. The U.S. officials contend their air intelligence is better than Israel's.

McCloskey, however, declined to go into any detail beyond a bare announcement of the hitherto secret U.S. operations.

RECENT FLIGHTS

He did not say when the flights began. Other sources indicated the craft did not start picture-taking until after the ceasefire began, and that this accounted for some U.S. inability to cross-check exactly on Israeli intelligence based partly on photographs taken before the truce. One of the Israeli charges claims Egyptian missile-moving in the hours right after the truce began.

A long-awaited state department statement giving the U.S. conclusions about the Israeli complaints now is in final stages of preparation.

The U.S. conclusions were given to Israeli Ambassador Yitzhak Rabin by Assistant State Secretary Joseph Sisko, officials said. Rabin arranged to fly back to Israel at once.

McCloskey refused to tell U.S. reporters such details as the type of planes involved in the reconnaissance missions or where the aircraft are based. He did say the Egyptians have been advised of the flights.

At the United Nations, a spokesman said Tuesday Israel has made its third complaint to the United Nations about the alleged movement of Egyptian missile launchers closer to the Suez Canal in violation of the ceasefire.

EPORTS SECRET

But he said this complaint, conveyed to Secretary-General U Thant by Maj.-Gen. Ennio Sillavuo, chief of staff of the UN Truce Supervision Organization, will not be made public. The previous complaints have also remained confidential.

In addition to the row over the ceasefire, the Arabs and Israel disagree over the diplomatic level of the talks, with Israel holding out for foreign minister level representation, while Egypt and Jordan have already named their UN ambassadors as their negotiators.

Israel again delayed Tuesday the nomination of its representative for the talks as highly-placed sources in Tel Aviv reported more alleged Egyptian violations of the ceasefire. Israel apparently is determined that its charges of ceasefire breaches should be clarified before the talks begin.

QUEBEC IN FOCUS

Says Toupin has "lost contact"

MONTREAL (CP) — Clement Vincent, agriculture minister in the former Union Nationale government, Tuesday accused his successor, Normand Toupin, of having lost complete contact with Quebec's agricultural realities.

Mr. Vincent said in a statement Mr. Toupin is "one of the great disappointments of the Bourassa cabinet," and since taking office May 12 has proposed no solutions to the problems facing Quebec farmers.

"He has let it be known by his statements that the sole fact that he is head of the department is enough to improve Quebec's agriculture," said the former minister.

Mr. Vincent said Mr. Toupin has repeatedly evaded questions in the Quebec national assembly concerning the agricultural budget and pointed out that the minister trimmed the budget by $3 million while at the same time refusing to accept a recommendation by the cabinet that $10 million be made available to dairy farmers.

He suggested that Mr. Toupin "come down from his ivory tower to act before it is too late."

Terrorists training

QUEBEC (CP) — Provincial police are trying to establish the identity of two self-proclaimed Quebec terrorists training with Palestinian commandos in Jordan, a government spokesman said Tuesday.

Gerald Boisvert, associate deputy minister in the Quebec justice department, was commenting in an interview on a story which appeared last Saturday in Weekend magazine.

The article described the activities and aims of the two men, aged 22 and 27 years, who claimed to be former members of the separatist-terrorist Front de Liberation Quebecois. The FLQ has claimed responsibility for scores of bombings in Quebec since 1963.

The two men, photographed with scarves covering their faces, were quoted as saying they plan to return to Quebec and carry out a program of selective assassinations.

Howard invades Canada

MONTREAL (CP) — The Howard Johnson Co. of Boston opened its first Canadian restaurant Tuesday in downtown Montreal.

A company spokesman said the American firm plans to construct at least 40 combined motor lodge-restaurants in Canada over the next 20 years, through its Canadian licensee, Orangerooft Canada, Ltd.

Construction now is under way on its first Canadian motor lodge near Toronto International Airport.

The company owns about 400 motels and 900 restaurants in the United States.

Smash-in at paper plant

FORESTVILLE, Que. (CP) — Provincial police were called back to this north shore community Tuesday following a new outbreak of vandalism at the strike-bound Anglo-Canadian Pulp and Paper mill here.

Some members of a 45-man QPP detachment, brought to the town Saturday following incidents of vandalism at the plant, returned to the town after 200 windows at the company's office were smashed Monday night.

About 120 workers at the plant, members of the International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers, have been on strike since Aug. 10.

Forestville is 170 miles northeast of Quebec City. Negotiations over a new three-year contract are continuing, with the union demanding a five-day work week.

The company has said all pulp and paper mills in the province operate six days a week.

The union says it is considering the company's offer of a 65-cent-hourly-wage increase over the three-year agreement. Wages now range from $2.27 an hour for laborers to $3.22 for mechanics.

Characteristics Of the Alcoholic

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

(Second of Three Related Columns.)

Q—What are the characteristics of an alcoholic?

A—An alcoholic may show several of the following: Often loses time from work, neglects his family, has periods of great remorse about his drinking, gets into financial difficulties, turns to low companions in an inferior environment when drinking, drinks in the morning, drinks to escape from worry or responsibility, often drinks alone and is careless of his appearance.

weeks, after which half a tablet is given. Since anyone who is taking this drug is made very sick by drinking alcohol, I doubt that your husband actually swallows his pills.

Q—What are the symptoms of liver damage caused by alcoholism? I am now an abstainer but am told that I have extensive liver damage. Will tests show whether there is any improvement. What treatment do you recommend?

A—The symptoms (not necessarily present in all cases) include jaundice, loss of weight, poor appetite, weakness and watering, Serum bilirubin concentration, sulfobromophthalein excretion, plasma protein determination and alkaline phosphatase level are some of the liver function tests used. When treatment is started early enough improvement is the rule.

Q—My husband, 59, has been a heavy weekend drinker for 30 years. He now complains that when he drinks his hands swell so badly he can't make a fist. Why is this?

A—This is not a common symptom of alcoholism. It suggests some deterioration of the heart and circulation and should be taken as a warning to find a new weekend hobby.

Q—How can one possibly avoid alcoholism if he takes a drink or two every day?

A—By making them small and allowing at least an hour between drinks.

Q—I have been giving my husband disulfiram (Antabuse) for several weeks but he is still drinking. How long does it take for these pills to work?

A—The initial course is one full tablet a day for two spades. Mary Jane could count 11 tricks in top cards. It was up to her to find the 12th in hearts or diamonds.

A high-protein, high-caloric diet—at least 1000 grams of protein and 3,000 calories a day with supplemental vitamin B and C—should be taken. In the first few weeks fatigue should be avoided.

She started to run off spades. East promptly discarded the four of hearts, followed by the three of that same suit. Then he started to shed low clubs. West's discard on the fifth spade was the nine of hearts. Meanwhile, Mary Jane had jettisoned a club and two diamonds. She also had made up her mind about what to do.

Her next play was a low heart. East played low and Mary Jane went right up with the king. She had believed East's delicate signal and paid no attention to West's play of the nine.

New way to say QPP

By RICHARD SPALDING

SHERBROOKE — For the first time in the history of the Sherbrooke Exposition, a booth has been set up inside the arena to demonstrate the workings of the Quebec Provincial Police.

In case you are confused by the appearance of the new name, the Quebec Police Force is now the official government designation for the Quebec Provincial Police.

The booth is part of the commercial and industrial exhibition now being staged in the arena.

Jean-Marc Abbott, 28-year-old regional public relations officer for the QPP said last night the booth was the first to be installed in any fair in Quebec.

He said the appearance of the booth at the fair was designed to meet a threefold objective: inform the public on the workings of the Quebec Police Force; demonstrate and explain the modern equipment used by the force; and induce the population to observe the rules of the road.

Since the beginning of 1970, there have been a total of 2767 traffic accidents in the Eastern Townships and 96 persons have already died as a result of the accidents, not to mention the 1,126 who were injured.

Information officer Abbott said the above death rate was the highest in any area of the province.

"The main purpose of the booth is to induce a greater number of people to better highway safety," he said.

To illustrate the message, about 20 pictures of some of the worst highway tragedies to occur in the provinces have been pinned to the wall.

A few of the pictures managed to turn the stomach of a rookie police officer who was on visit here yesterday.

"All of the accidents pictured here were either caused by excessive drinking or speeding," Mr. Abbott said.

Most of the accidents to occur in the Townships since the beginning of the year can be traced back to one of the two main causes.

One of the first things people look at when they cross the booth are the pictures.

The booth also includes a mobile phone, a base remote control, a radar set and the famous breathalyzer now being used by police to crack down on drunken drivers.

The Quebec Police Force booth is probably the biggest attraction at the commercial exhibition.

Aided by officer Yvan Cote of the Sherbrooke detachment of the QPP, Mr. Abbott distributed no less than 1,200 driver handbooks on Sunday, not to mention 4,500 welcome sheets typed out by the teletype inside the booth.

In his estimate, officer Abbott said that at least two thirds of the 65,000 people who came to the fair had stopped in to view the police booth.

In addition, the two police officers will answer questions concerning police operations and explain in great length the functioning of the equipment on display.

"This is an opportunity for people to speak to the police and learn first hand about QPP operations," officer Abbott said.

Every Friday at 1 p.m. Mr. Abbott is the guest on CHLT-TV during a special 30 minute talk show on police activities in the Townships.

The booth is also used as a recruiting centre for the QPP in the area.

Cites drug abuse by A-bomber pilots

WASHINGTON (Reuters) — Senator Thomas Dodd said Tuesday the use of drugs has become prevalent wherever American troops are stationed and that drugs have even been found in the living quarters of Strategic Air Command pilots.

In reopening congressional hearings on the use of marijuana among U.S. military men, the Connecticut Democrat raised the spectre of pilots flying U.S. nuclear-armed B-52 bombers while under the influence of drugs.

Dodd, the chairman of the Senate judiciary subcommittee on juvenile delinquency, said: "Drug abuse in Vietnam has received the most public attention. However, it is prevalent in every area where American troops are stationed."

He said that four Strategic Air Command pilot and one mechanic were arrested in November, 1969, at Castle Air Force Base in California, by agents of the California state bureau of narcotics.

"The four pilots lived together and according to the arrest reports, a search of their residence revealed quantities of marijuana, LSD and barbiturates," Dodd said.

"If one marijuana cigarette can make a GI shoot a friend, as has happened in Vietnam, the possible consequences of four SAC pilots at the controls of planes while under the influence of hallucinogenic drugs are even more frightening," Dodd said.

He was referring to testimony during a hearing by his subcommittee in March that a soldier who had smoked marijuana, which is more powerful in Vietnam than the American variety, went berserk and killed another soldier.

LATEST CASUALTY — Dutch Elm disease has killed many oaks in the area in recent years. This is one of the last in Lennoxville and tree surgeons have been busy hacking it down over the past few days. The felling was completed early yesterday evening.

SOVIETS IMPROVING Fears U.S. Europe cutback

By CARL HARTMAN

BRUSSELS (AP) — Military sources at NATO headquarters here are worried that President Nixon's administration will ask Congress to cut United States military strength in Europe beginning in mid-1971.

They are concerned because they say Soviet air and naval strength is building up in the Middle East and its military muscle is increasing in central Europe while the U.S. is talking about cutting forces.

Cuts might reduce the strength of the U.S. 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean.

"The Soviet navy is now firmly established in the Mediterranean," one source said. "They have good surface-to-surface missiles. They have their own tactical planes and pilots on the southern littoral of the Mediterranean. There are reports of longer-range Soviet planes in Egypt too, though there is some question whether their pilots are Soviet or Egyptian."

"It does not matter what their mission happens to be at the moment—they are a distraction to our forces in carrying out our responsibilities, which is seeing to the needs of the NATO countries in this area: Italy, Greece, Turkey. They reduce our flexibility."

FUNDS REQUIRED

The Nixon administration has pledged no reduction in its European forces before mid-1971. But Congress has not yet appro-riated funds for the period up to that date. The delay is holding up discussion within the administration on what to ask for afterward.

Western intelligence also reports strengthening of Soviet and allied troops in central Europe.

LIFT AND DROP — The Bromptonville bridge was closed to traffic yesterday evening, while engineers performed the arduous task of lifting the bridge and moving it over onto temporary foundations. A new bridge will be built on its former location.

Jordan-based Iraqis will act against hosts

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — Iraq told Jordan Tuesday that 12,000 Iraqi troops stationed in Jordan will back Arab Palestinian guerrillas in any new showdown with the Jordanian army.

The warning came a day after Arab guerrillas claimed that King Hussein was massing troops and armor outside Amman in preparation for a crackdown against commandos.

"Iraqi troops on the eastern front—Syria and Jordan—have already been placed at the disposal of the Palestinian resistance movement in Amman," an Iraqi government spokesman said.

The statement over Baghdad Radio was in the form of comment on talks under way in the Iraqi capital between leaders of the ruling Baathist Socialist party and Al Fatah guerrilla leader Yasir Arafat, who arrived there Sunday night.

Several hundred Arab commandos and civilians were reported killed or wounded in Amman during open warfare between the army and guerrillas in June.

Relations between Cairo and Iraq, meanwhile, moved another step toward an open break. The semi-official Egyptian newspaper Al Ahram said the Iraqi government has put the Egyptian embassy in Baghdad under siege and has detained five Egyptian nationals in retaliation for the detention in Cairo of two Iraqi Baathists.

Relations between the two Arab nations were already strained by a month-long Iraqi campaign assailing President Gamal Abdel Nasser's acceptance of the U.S. Middle East peace plan.

The newspaper accused the Iraqi government of "undertaking provocative and unjustified harassment" of Egyptian nationals.

Reports from Beirut said the Sudanese government is trying to act as mediator in the dispute between Egypt and the three Arab countries — Iraq, Syria and Algeria — which have denounced the Mideast ceasefire agreement. The 90-day ceasefire took effect Aug. 8.

Delegates set for Liberal congress

SHERBROOKE — Delegates from Sherbrooke County to the annual congress of the Quebec Liberal Federation being held in Montreal Sept. 11, 12 and 13, were selected at a special meeting of the Sherbrooke County Provincial Liberal Association held at the Reform Club last night.

Ex-officio delegates from Sherbrooke County are: Jean-Paul Pepin, MNA for Sherbrooke; Roland Boulanger, president of the Association; Louis-Rene Scott, Mrs. Claire Hebery, Mrs. Jeanne Laliberte, Claude Dallaire, Mrs. Raymond Mayrand and Francois Poulin, QC.

Postal reorganization

Proposals now under review at Ottawa for the removal of the postal system from direct governmental management and its operation by a Crown corporation are given added stimulus by the similar action taken by the United States where, last week, President Nixon signed a bill setting up a corporation to run the post office.

By transforming the post office into a business concern it is hoped that efficiency will be increased by introducing modern management techniques, advanced technological equipment, reduced costs and improved service which might bridge the gap between revenues and expenditures.

But before any such system is introduced into Canada, there are some basic points that must be decided. First, the rotating strikes and other acts interfering with post office operations must be ended. Mail is an essential service and a modern country cannot function properly without a dependable postal system.

And there are limits to the extent to which an effective postal system can be considered a business operation. Business efficiency cannot be ignored but the post office must be recognized as a service that cannot be expected to break even.

Unless some degree of subsidization is accepted, too many people will be denied the benefits of this essential form of communication. The needs of the citizens overshadow the need of making written communication a paving proposition.

Postmaster General Kierans enjoys vision of the coming age of electronic communication but it must not be assumed that the written or printed word is on the way out. A century from now there probably will be as much dependence on the written word as there is today, and as there has been in the building of human civilization.

As long as people are to be informed there will have to be printed pages to disseminate the information they require for intelligent participation in a modern, democratic society.

Trudeau states facts

Apparently Prime Minister Trudeau has come around to the belief long held by great numbers of Canadians that the federal government made a serious error of judgment when it gave postal workers the right to strike.

Speaking in St. George, B.C., the Prime Minister said: "It is the fundamental duty of the government to deliver the mail," but after weeks of fruitless talks between Treasury Board and union officials, rotating strikes by postal workers have made it obvious that the post office department has failed dismally in this fundamental duty.

Operations of a vital public service have been severely curtailed, without any logical reason, and the PM admits that his government's difficulties arise from the fact that postmen have only recently been given the right to strike, a privilege Ottawa does not want to take away too soon.

But the problem is of the government's own making and it is reaping an unpleasant harvest of its own making. The ministry failed to observe the basic principle that public employees involved in the provision of essential services should not be given the rights to strike.

The removal of the strike privilege does not mean that public servants should not receive fair and equitable treatment consistent with prevailing economic conditions but only that the public interest should be protected.

Mr. Trudeau is right when he says there is a crisis of confidence in the government's ability to deliver the mail. He hints there are only two alternatives facing the government — removal of the strike right or a settlement "at any cost."

With the government's determination to combat inflation, the settlement at any cost must be ruled out, leaving the only available course that of compulsory arbitration and the ending of the right to strike.

DOUGLAS FISHER

OTTAWA — The chaps who covered Prime Minister Trudeau's junket through Northern B.C. have been producing their summaries on his impact and methods.

One Southam reporter wrote: "Particularly in the West, the Prime Minister and his party are supposed to be in real trouble. Yet little of this could be proved or seen during the journey... through the North."

"his visits can only be described as an overwhelming success both personally and politically."

A young Englishman who writes for the morning paper declared that "Trudeau showed last week how tough he and the Liberals will be to beat in 1972."

This lad, perhaps contrite over a spiteful piece a few weeks ago about the Prime Minister's press secretary and the tense relations between Mr. Trudeau and the press, proclaimed that the reporters seemed to sense "... a thaw in the mutual indifference which has characterized their relation with Mr. Trudeau."

This introduction reinforces some impressions I related in early June about the warmth of crowds in Manitoba to Mr. Trudeau. Without question he is "the" national celebrity. Heaven help you if you get in the way of the mobs of curious, especially the autograph-seekers, who gather around doors at the Parliament buildings when word is out that the man is inside.

To report such popular success is not to identify with it. To recognize it, to be caught up in it a few times, is enough however, to make even a jaundiced Trudeau-watcher recognize that this popularity is likely to last until the next general election. Then it should seem to make him a cinch for a return unless some miracles take place to aid his rivals.

O.K., that may be a simple, a banal judgment. But it seems reasonable. What I am not so sure about are the merits of the Trudeau arguments, mooted by his respectful and worshipping staff, that he has created a new kind of participation for ordinary people. Further, I don't think the thesis behind the performance is a fair one or that Mr. Trudeau is so courageous in the process he has chosen.

The first observation I'd make is that Canadians, especially plain people in the small towns and cities, are affable and easy to get along with in crowds. Even in the partisan times of a campaign a politician rarely runs into a hostile audience. And in these tours it is the Prime Minister moving among the people in informal situations that have been arranged and publicized, it isn't in our traditions for such crowds to be rude or nasty.

When the PM questions or gives answers the focus is much to his advantage in terms of argument whenever a critic or a doubter surfaces. The setting, the other people, act as brakes on the impudent or disrespectful. The simple fact is that Mr. Trudeau has not moved once since the last election into this loose, informal meet-the-people role in the province of Quebec, notably with the young college and university crowds. Why not?

I asked a Liberal Party mastermind who'd been chucking to me about the election prospects in 1972: Why hasn't he gone into Quebec where the Parti Quebecois vote among the kids and the workers last April suggests that Federalism could do with a personal touch from its most famed protagonist?

"He's not crazy," said the Grit "Why look for trouble when things are going well? It's a matter of political savvy, not a matter of bravery. He proved his bravery at the St. Jean Baptiste parade in '68. There are so darned many places he can go and get a fantastic reception, why should he court the insults and the jeers of the Separatists and the autonomists of Quebec?"

These are sensible answers. Their weakness is that they do not square with the role the Prime Minister has cast for himself. Impatient with the long-windedness of Parliament; determined to talk sense to the public; desirous of learning the true state of affairs and feelings throughout the country; anxious to teach the populace about the costs and demerits of political decisions — one could go on and on with high-flating clauses — the Prime Minister is making government democratic with his public forums, the question sessions, the quick, brisk discussions with bystanders and fans.

Mr. Trudeau eschews Parliament. He brings himself to English Canada generally in tours; he's had quite a lot of encounters with English-speaking university students; he uses television a great deal, obviously sensing that it is superior over the screen interposed between him and the public by the reporters of the print media. He's the Socrates of his people, at least in English Canada. And he's bare-chested it through the alienated West and done well. He's at the apex of popular interest, one assumes throughout all of Canada. But he doesn't use his most characteristic, his most praised and self-vaunted method in that third of Canada which he represents, which gave him the strongest electoral support.

Why not? It isn't lack of guts. But if it's because it wouldn't be politically astute, then we must wonder about the ethics of the whole Trudeau performance of dialogue and participation. It's like baseball before the color bar dropped, like boxing until the late 20s when the champs stopped ducking the black fighters. It's a form of segregation. Canny; politically smart, but an evasion.

A man for all seasons in Canada but Quebec's seasons; a man with a warm welcome away from home but who won't go home in the same way.

"A PRIME MINISTER? — I don't believe it!"

German poker: Kremlin knows all Nixon's cards

By LUBOR J. ZINK

OTTAWA (TNS) — Soon after he assumed office, President Richard Nixon started talking about a major change in East-West relations. The two super-powers of the bipolar postwar world, he maintained, were moving from an era of confrontation into an era of negotiation.

Delivering his "state of the world" message to Congress in February this year, Mr. Nixon stated: "The postwar period in international relations has ended."

He saw three main reasons for the prospect of a more relaxed era in inter-national relations: Recovery of Western Europe and Japan, growing consolidation of the newly-independent nations of Africa and Asia, and splintering of the post-war Communist monolith.

Some observers of the international scene, myself included, found this Nixon picture of the world in the 1970s oversimplified and over-optimistic. They pointed out that the recovery of Western Europe, while impressive in terms of cumulative economic statistics, lacked the political cohesion necessary for defense self-sufficiency.

Since the Soviet Union was continuing to devote the bulk of its resources (and forcing its satellites to do the same) to military buildup while Western Europe's contribution to collective security showed little, if any, improvement the importance of North America's contribution to the rough balance of power along the confrontation line from the Baltic to the Mediterranean was growing, not diminishing.

With this in mind, President Nixon's optimistic interpretation of the changes on the international scene was thus left wide open to serious questioning, particularly in the light of the tragic fate of Czechoslovakia's "liberalization" attempt, the Kremlin's tightening grip on the Middle East and the Soviet naval buildup in the Mediterranean and the Indian Ocean.

On the other hand, the Nixon vision of an epochal sea-change from confrontation to negotiations, though perhaps stemming primarily from his domestic political and economic needs, had some tentative substantiation in the opening of the Soviet-American talks on strategic arms limitation and in the Moscow-Bonn negotiations.

A negotiated settlement with the totalitarians has, of course, always been possible. But strictly on their terms. On that basis agreements covering every bone of international contention can be had without the slightest difficulty.

On that basis Hitler was willing to "negotiate," and did make a deal with Britain and France in Munich. On that basis Stalin concluded a whole series of non-aggression treaties with the subsequent victims of Soviet imperialism. On that basis, too, Moscow recently "normalized" relations with Soviet-occupied Czechoslovakia. On that basis Truman could have "normalized" East-West relations as soon as the Soviet postwar drive for world hegemony became obvious by simple signing on the dotted line and letting the Communists expand as fast as they could move into power vacuums created by Western withdrawal from strategic positions.

If that is what Nixon means by the end of the postwar period in international relations, then surrender to the totalitarians — in the Middle East, in Western Europe, in Southeast Asia, in Africa, and eventually in Latin and North America — can indeed be negotiated without a hitch.

But if he hopes to achieve peace with security for what is left of the non-Communist part of the world, then all the current negotiations with Moscow, and particularly those concerning the Middle East and Germany, are fraught with Munich-type danger. At best it is a poker game in which the Kremlin knows every card in Nixon's hand.

THE ART BUCHWALD COLUMN

TAHITI — Women's liberation is working in Tahiti as well as, or better than, any place in the world. I discovered this when I visited the beautiful island of Bora Bora which inspired James Michener's "Tales of the South Pacific." We stayed at the Hotel Bora Bora where, instead of hotel rooms, each couple has its own grass-covered hut overlooking the crystal-clear fish-happy lagoon.

One of the first things I noticed was that there were only women working in the hotel, at the desk or the bar, as chambermaids or waitresses.

One morning I made a discreet inquiry as to where all the men on Bora Bora were.

A Frenchman who lives on the island said, "They're probably still in their huts, sleeping. They're very tired celebrating the 14th of July which, as you know, has been going on for 10 days."

"But don't they have to go to work?"

"No, monsieur. The tradition of the islands is that only the women work."

"What do the men do?"

"Sleep, sail, fish if they feel like it. They manage to keep busy."

"But if the women work, what do the men use for money?"

"The women give them the money they make."

"But that's wonderful," I said. "This is a country of true women's liberation."

"It has its advantages," the Frenchman said. "Who takes care of the children?"

Tahiti liberation

"The women."
"Who does the cooking, cleaning and washing?"
"The women. You see, monsieur, the men here respect their women and let them do everything. As a matter of fact, there aren't enough hours in the day for a woman to fulfill herself."
"This is a women's lib paradise," I said. "It must make the men angry to know the women have all the jobs."
"Not really. You must understand that the Tahitian man is not as ambitious as the American. Many, many years ago, Tahitian men discovered that there wasn't anything they could do that their women couldn't do better. Once they made this discovery, they decided it was stupid to compete with them."
"If only American men could learn this," I said. "we would indeed have a happy country."
"I do not want to give the impression the men do not work at all. Many of them play musical instruments when their wives dance for the tourists."
"You mean after they work all day, cook, clean and take care of their children, the women still have time to dance for the tourists?"
"Of course," the Frenchman said. "It is part of their duties. The tourists would be very disappointed to come all this way and not see the Tahitian women dance."
"To think," I said, "they've managed to have all this liberation without a revolution."
"It is a unique position for women to hold, but even in paradise there is trouble. A few women are complaining that they are too liberated. They're starting to demand less rights and more time off."

Expos cash in on four Cincy errors

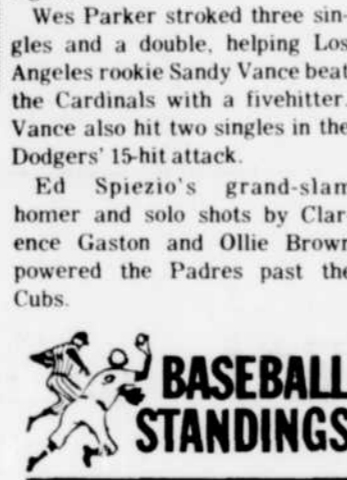

Riverfront Stadium was three-deep in Montreal catchers—but Cincinnati Reds were the ones who needed more big gloves. The injury-riddled Expos, using three catchers in their starting lineup, capitalized on four Cincinnati errors to score five unearned runs Tuesday night and hang on for a 7-4 victory that ended the Reds' winning string at three games. Rookie left fielder Bernie Carbo committed the most damaging miscue when he muffed Coco Laboy's bases-loaded liner in the fifth inning, allowing three Montreal runs to score. Expos manager Gene March started John Bateman behind the plate and part-time receivers Ron Brand and John Bocabella at shortstop and first base respectively. Each contributed one hit, but it was the Reds' fielding lapses—by Carbo, third baseman Tony Perez, second baseman Tommy Helms and relief pitcher Wayne Granger—that made the difference. ERRORS COSTLY Brand scored a tainted run in the second inning at Cincinnati, reaching first on Helms' error and scoring on Perez' wild throw. After Adolfo Phillips doubled home a run in the fifth against first-time starter Mel Behney, Carbo Hubbed Laboy's two-out shot to give Expos' right-hander Steve Renko a 5-0 lead. Renko then got into the juggling act, committing a pair of errors in the bottom of the fifth to help the Reds strike back for four runs. Another error, by Bocabella, and Bobby Tolan's two-run double kept the rally alive. But Gary Sutherland doubled home a Montreal run in the sixth, then singled in the eighth and eventually scored the final market on Granger's boot. Elsewhere in the National League, Pittsburgh Pirates whipped San Francisco Giants 6-2; New York Mets slapped Houston Astros 7-1; Atlanta Braves nipped Philadelphia Phillies 3-2; Los Angeles Dodgers beat St. Louis Cardinals 7-2 and San Diego Padres upended Chicago Cubs 11-3. The Pirates retained their 2½-game lead in the East Division by snapping a four-game San Francisco victory streak as Bob Robertson delivered three runs with a triple and his 19th homer.

STEVE RENKO

Gary Gentry, backed by a six-run Met explosion in the third, fired a four-hitter against Houston. Gentry also drilled a run-scoring double in the third as the Mets knocked out Larry Dierker with five straight hits before he could get a man out. Clote Boyer lifted the Braves past Philadelphia with a ninth-inning leadoff homer off Southpaw Chris Short, who had allowed only four hits through the eighth. Wes Parker stroked three singles and a double, helping Los Angeles rookie Sandy Vance beat the Cardinals with a fivehitter. Vance also hit two singles in the Dodgers' 15-hit attack. Ed Spiezio's grand-slam homer and solo shots by Clarence Gaston and Ollie Brown powered the Padres past the Cubs.

THE SHERBROOKE RECORD, WED., AUG. 19, 1970

Down Eskimos 14-10 before 27,000

Alouettes remain unbeaten

MONTREAL (CP)—Montreal Alouettes preserved their perfect record in the 1970 Canadian Football League season with a 14-10 win over Edmonton Eskimos Tuesday night before 27,046 fans.

The win was the third straight for the Alouettes and their second against a Western Football Conference team. It gave them six points and boosted their lead in the Eastern Conference to four points over Toronto and Hamilton.

Terry Evanshen scored two touchdowns for Montreal, both on passes from quarterback Sonny Wade who called the signals for the Alouettes for the first three quarters.

Evanshen's first major came on a 19-yard pass on the second play of the game after line-backer Charlie Collins intercepted Edmonton quarterback Don Trull's pass on the opening scrimmage.

The Wade-Evanshen combination showed its preference for the early seconds again in the second quarter when the two combined for a seven-yard touchdown to give Montreal a 13-0 lead. Pierre Guindon's convert attempt failed.

TEAMS SPUTTER

Neither team made much headway until less than two minutes before halftime when the Eskimos picked up a single on a wide, 53-yard field goal attempt by Dave Cutler.

Edmonton regained the ball on the next play when John Wydraney picked off a Wade pass and ran the ball back to the Montreal 25.

The Eskimos advanced to the 19-yard line from where Cutler added another single on an attempted field goal from the 25.

For Alouettes head coach Sam Etchevery, the third quarter was a familiar experience. His offense fell into the doldrums it experienced in the corresponding quarter of its opening game against the Argonauts.

"We just can't seem to muster any offence in the third quarter," Etchevery said after the game.

Although Wade was unable to direct the Als beyond the opposition 45-yard line, Edmonton failed to take advantage of the situation until the 13:22 mark of the quarter when substitute quarterback Rusty Clark connected with flanker Mike Eben for an 81-yard touchdown.

Larks purchase Bob McCarthy

MONTREAL (CP)—Montreal Alouettes of the Eastern Football Conference today announced the purchase of wide receiver Bob McCarthy from Calgary Stampeders of the Western Football Conference.

McCarthy, a six-foot, one-inch 200-pound Canadian caught 93 passes for 1,456 yards in three years with the Stampeders.

McCarthy, 23, will report immediately to the Alouettes.

The trade was made for a future draft choice and future considerations. McCarthy is expected to replace injured Gary Lefebvre, sidelined for the season with a knee injury.

NARROWS LEAD

Cutler was good on the convert and narrowed the Montreal lead to 13-9 going into the final quarter.

The Eskimos moved the ball to the Alouettes seven-yard line on the last play of the third quarter but were rewarded with only one point when Cutler kicked the ball over the deadline on his third missed field goal of the contest.

Montreal took possession of the ball on its own 25 and Etchevery sent Tony Passander in as quarterback, his first appearance in the regular season.

"It never hurts to make a change," Etchevery said of his decision to send in Passander. "Sonny is still my No. 1 quarterback. It just so happens I thought I'd change."

Passander marched the Als down to the Edmonton 22-yard line but Montreal failed to extend its lead when Guindon missed a 29-yard field goal.

After gaining possession on their own two-yard line, the Eskimos failed to make any progress and Wade booted a 40-yard single at 10:06 to complete the scoring.

Orioles' Weaver claims his club caught in slump

Minnesota Twins know what a slump is all about and now Earl Weaver of Baltimore Orioles claims his club is in one. There's one big difference, though. While the Twins recently dropped nine straight games, the high-flying Orioles continue to win.

Tuesday night, the Twins came up with some ninth-inning heroics, getting a clutch two-run single from pinch-hitter Jim Holt to nip New York Yankees 8-7, giving Minnesota its second straight win after their recent skid.

And the Orioles, now leading the Yanks by 10 games in the American League's East Division, downed Milwaukee Braves 3-0.

"We're on a winning streak during a slump," said Weaver, the skipper of the Orioles. "We haven't been hitting the ball at all lately, but we've won our last four."

HELD TO THREE HITS

It was also Baltimore's seventh triumph in their last nine starts. However, what Weaver says might be true. The hard-hitting birds only stroked three hits off Brewer's loser Marty Pattin. But one of them was Merv Rutenmund's 15th homer of the season, a solo clout in the fourth inning.

The centre fielder also saved Hardin's shutout with two catches in the fourth, grabbing a sinking drive by Mike Walton and going to the fence for Mike Hegan's belt.

In other games, California Angels stayed on the Twins' heels, 4½ games behind the West leaders, with a 12-1 trouncing of Cleveland Indians. Detroit Tigers whipped Oakland Athletics 3-1. Boston Red Sox clubbed Chicago White Sox 8-4 and Kansas City Royals ripped Washington Senators 12-8.

Holt's soft liner to centre off reliever Lindy McDaniel, snapped the Yankee's winning string at four games.

Rookie Danny Thompson opened the ninth with the Twins trailing 7-6 and dropped a bunt single. After a forceout, Tony Oliva doubled, putting two runners aboard. Then Holt, on a 2-2 pitch, batting for winning reliever Tom Hall, stroked his winning hit.

WINS 17TH GAME

Clyde Wright, benefitting from a nine-run seventh inning, won his 17th game as the Angels unleashed a 16-hit attack. The Angels sent 14 men to the plate in the inning, ripping eight hits, with Jim Fregosi contributing two singles.

Oakland fell six games behind Minnesota as Mickey Lolich of the Tigers hurled a five-hitter for Detroit's fourth straight triumph. Dalton Jones had a seventh-inning homer.

The Red Sox scored six runs in the fifth inning to come from behind, then got one-hit relief pitching from Ken Brett over the last 4 1-3 innings against Chicago.

Mike Andrews and Reggie Smith led the Boston assault with three hits apiece.

Bob Oliver clouted a three-run homer, helping the Royals snap Washington's seven-game winning string and ending Kansas City's skid at four games. Lee Maye had a three-run clout for the Senators.

If ordinary NYLON will do—SAVE on Turnpike STANDARD or DELUXE

Turnpike Nylon Standard and Deluxe tires are similar in construction to original equipment tires when new cars came with these sizes—except those tires were rayon while these are made with Dupont Nylon, pound for pound stronger than steel! Double-ply, double-strength nylon that stays cool, gives you the cushioned ride lacking in so many of today's high-mileage tires.

Turnpike Deluxe and Standard are the same construction—only the tread differentiates the two. A buyer pays a lower price for Turnpike Standard only because he carries his own guarantee.

The 1970 Quebec Games

The Quebec Games represent a great deal in the mind of the Quebec sports lover, because they mark one of the first in a series of steps our province is taking to reach the summits of international amateur and Olympic sport.

The Quebec Games are now a fact, having been launched by the Confederation des Sports du Quebec.

The Quebec Regional Summer Games are the first experiment in this domain, making them a test that will enable everybody, especially the government, to evaluate the investment necessary for the development of amateur sport in the province.

While encouraging decentralization of our sporting federations, the Games are at the same time an official recognition of the extensive work accomplished every year by thousands of voluntary workers in all parts of the province.

They are also an inventory of our municipal, school and private installations; a revelation of what our province can do in amateur sports; a means of regularizing recreational sports; and a means of obtaining provincial, national and international recognition for our sportsmen and women.

The Quebec Games reflect the deeply felt aspirations of the sports-minded people who will be hosts for the 1976 Olympic Games.

The 1970 Quebec Games, being held simultaneously in nine regions of the Province of Quebec, between August 22nd and 30th, are financially supported by the provincial government to the tune of a $260,000 grant.

In each of the regions represented, athletes will vie for the Gold (first place), Silver (2nd place) and Bronze (3rd) Medals being awarded in competitions covering nineteen sports: archery, track and field, rowing, canoeing, soft-ball, baseball, lacrosse, cycling, golf, field-hockey, swimming, diving, water-skiing, soccer, petanque, tennis, rifle and pistol shooting.

sailing and water-polo.

Athletes will also compete on behalf of their municipality for the Flag of the Quebec Games which will be awarded to the one area having accumulated the highest overall number of points.

The size of the municipality and its number of entries in no way affects this chance of flying the colours of the Quebec Games, since a points system based on population, participation and performance has been devised to evaluate fairly and easily athletic showings and regional standings.

While the 1970 Quebec Games are a regional undertaking, organizers hope that the 1971 Games will take on a provincial scope.

The Quebec Games are administered by a corporation very aptly known as "The Corporation for the Quebec Games", whose administrative council consists of such well-known sports personalities as: Mr. Claude Lefebvre, eng. President; Mr. Fernand Turcotte (President of the CORLQ), Vice-President; Mr. Andre Drolet (Vice-President of the C.S.Q.), Secretary; Mr. Jacques Doyon (Administrator for the C.S.Q.), Treasurer; and the Directors: Mr. Laval Doucet, (High Commissariat for youth, recreation and sports); Mr. Francois Godbout (Director of the C.S.Q.), Mr. Marius Savoie (Executive Director of the Lanaudiere Recreational Federation), Mr. Rene Gauthier (A.D.L.M.), and Mr. Jean Emond (Director of the C.S.Q.).

On the other hand, Mr. Alois Voitchofsky, general coordinator of the Quebec Games, is assisted in his formidable task by three coordinators: Mr. Jean Villeneuve, Mr. Raymond Verschelden and Mr. Jean C. Dutton.

Offices for the Quebec Games are located at 360 McGill Street, Montreal.

The handicapped are also participating.

As a result of a request by Mr. Roger Mondor, executive secretary of the Federation des Loisirs pour Handicapes du Quebec, special athletic and archery competitions will be held for the handicapped.

"Our Quebec athletes who recently carried off the honors in the Eastern Canada games for the handicapped, are proud to participate in the coming Quebec Games and are training regularly," Mr. Mondor said.

The finals for the 15 various sporting activities in the ET District No. 5 are as follows:

- Track and Field — August 22-23 at Magog.
- Softball — August 23 at East Angus.
- Baseball — August 22 at Sherbrooke.
- Lacrosse — August 23 at Windsor.

Cycling — August 23 at Windsor.

Golf — August 30 at Asbestos.

Swimming — August 29-30 at Sherbrooke.

Diving — August 22-23 at Sherbrooke.

Petanque — August 23 at Sherbrooke.

Water-skiing — August 29-30 at Sherbrooke.

Soccer — August 26-27 at Sherbrooke.

Tennis — August 29 at Sherbrooke.

Archery — August 23 at Sherbrooke, August 29-30 at Lennoxville.

Sailing — August 22 at Magog.

The ET Region is designated as District No. 5 in the Quebec Games scheme.

The District's president, Raymond Nadon, may be reached at 2281 Bachand Street in Sherbrooke or telephone 569-7431 ext. 298, or 567-9757.

Vice-president Andre Pelletier, 26, 7th Avenue, Sherbrooke or telephone 569-7431, 569-1177.

The region's coordinator is Bertrand Beaulieu, 75 Chartier Street in Sherbrooke, telephone 567-9093.

Beaver GM lands prize catch

SHERBROOKE — Sherbrooke Beaver General Manager Real Veilleux believes he has emerged from the off-season recruiting wars with a real gem-Rouyn Junior B product Denis Gagnon.

Gagnon was one of the five players Veilleux landed from the Rouyn Citadels of the North Quebec Juvenile Hockey League, eluding the grasp of GM Maurice Filion of the Quebec Ramparts, a rival club in the Quebec Junior A circuit.

The Northern loop ranks as one of the strongest in the province and Denis Gagnon left his mark both with his stick and his fists. He won the scoring championship by amassing 82 points on 37 tallies and 45 assists in only 30 games.

Teammates Yvon Cloutier and Claude Rancourt finished up second and fourth in the scoring parade respectively and both will be making their first appearance at the Sports Palace when training camp opens September 4.

Gagnon, a 5'6" 150-pounder, has also dealt his share of bruises as attested by collecting 233 minutes in penalties on 39 minors, 17 majors and 7 misconducts.

An aggressive competitor, Beaver officials figure that Gagnon is the man to fill the void left by speedster Normand Piche, since departed. They feel his style closely resembles that of free-wheeling John McKenzie of the Boston Bruins.

Gagnon, 18, will be continuing his education here in Sherbrooke as will his four teammates, Cloutier, Bibeau, Rancourt and Gingras.

Doubtless to say, GM Real Veilleux is most happy about the extensive scouting results of the Beavers' chief "bird dog", Roger Roy and he is expecting an exciting brand of hockey from his Rouyn quintet when training sessions begin.

Walter Camp is sometimes called the "father of American football." In 1889, he began the practice of selecting, each year, noted football players for an All-American team.

Senators, Red Sox post opening series triumphs

SHERBROOKE — The Sherbrooke Kiwanis Club sponsored Senators and the Red Sox each fought their way to victories as the Sher Lenn Little League playoffs got under way last night at the Sherbrooke Parade Grounds.

The Senators, regular season champs under the wing of coach "Spike" Bernier pushed across four runs in the fourth inning to edge the Indians 8-5 and take the first game of a best-two-of-three series.

Hurler Andre Gagnon of the Senators got credit for the win while teammate Bernard Boutin collected three safeties in four official trips to the plate. Michel Murray, Andre Gagnon and Michel Bernier each notched two hits apiece for the winners. For the Indians, Jacques Williams and Pierre St. Cyr led the offensive attack with three hits each.

In the other playoff encounter disputed last night, Andre Boisvert's Red Sox rallied for a four-run outburst in the fifth frame to oust the tenacious Orioles 5-3 to take one-game edge in their series.

Daniel Denault checked the Orioles on seven hits while enjoying a productive evening at the plate with a three-for-three performance. Teammate Daniel Beaudoin provided the winning runs with a clutch two-run single.

For the Indians, Roch Watier was tagged with the loss while Yves Gauthier, Yves Tremblay and Alain Watkins each connected for two hits.

Both playoff series will resume action Thursday night at the Parade Grounds. Should the Indians and Orioles square the series, both rubber matches will be played Friday evening.

1972 FINALS HERE?

In order to celebrate Sher Lenn's 20th anniversary in 1972, league officials intend to request that the provincial little league finals be played here. Nothing more substantial has been confirmed as yet, but it appears that the executive will discuss the matter fully in the near future.

Sports in Brief

MONTREAL (CP) — Commissioner Jake Gaudaur of the Canadian Football League warned Tuesday that the highflying Montreal Alouettes will have to exert greater control over the football spirit they have generated in Canada's biggest city.

In a letter to general manager Red O'Quinn, Gaudaur praised the team's efforts so far this season but added that games may be defaulted to the visiting team if the fans become too rowdy.

The Alouettes, unbeaten in their first two starts this season, played host to Edmonton Eskimos Tuesday night at the Autostade.

The field was ringed by a new aluminum fence designed to prevent the fans from spilling into the field before the final gun.

MONTREAL (CP) — Detroit Tigers of baseball's American League announced Tuesday they have signed two Montreal area junior players to contracts.

They are Serge Lessard, a 19-year-old outfielder from Montreal, and Fernand Poirier, an 18-year-old outfielder from St. Johns, Que.

The Tigers said the two will attend the team's minor league camp in Lakeland, Fla., next February.

ORONO, Ont. (CP) — There are no stars in the Orono Youth Theatre company, just 80 high school and university students spending 10 weeks of their summer vacation working long hours to learn all practical aspects of repertory theatre. The company presented its first production, Richardson and Berney's Dark of the Moon, Tuesday night and followed it Wednesday night with a production of Jean Anouilh's Antigone. A third production, the Canadian premiere of Arthur Kopit's Indians, opens Aug. 18. "Some of these kids have been working 20 hours a day for the last week," Roy Higgins, artistic director and founder of the company, said prior to the opening performance of Dark of the Moon, which he also directs. Dark of the Moon, a fantasy based on the ballad of Barbara Allen, has a cast of 32, but those who play roles in other productions work behind the scenes for this one. The stage manager of Dark of the Moon goes onstage himself to play a leading role in Antigone. Costumes, make-up, properties, lighting, sound and construction of sets are all handled by the young people, who also get a look at the administrative side of theatre working in the box office and on publicity for the shows.

as important as the lead actor. "Everyone takes turns doing the work and gets a smattering of all aspects of theatre. Nobody can stay in one department. Often, the kids find that while they were tops in one branch they're not very good in another. This helps to eliminate petty hassles." The company members are unpaid and pay a registration fee of $5 each. They also must provide their own food and lodging for the summer. Mr. Higgins began his summer theatre program for young people three years ago as part of the Great Pine Ridge Festival of the Arts in nearby Newcastle. This year the company moved to this community about 50 miles northeast of Toronto. The productions are staged in the town area, where performances will be given nightly, except Friday and Mondays, to Aug. 30. "When we first came, we negotiated the lease for the arena in an hour flat and got the rent for much less than at Newcastle," Marion Wilson, the theatre's general manager.

DUET, The Illinois Speed Press (Columbia CS 9976). The Speed Press is definitely something else. Actually, it is two cats, Kal David and Paul Cotton, that write all their material, sing the vocals, and play the guitars with pick-up bands. Aside from that, they are very enjoyable! They're not totally into one bag of music, and that is what makes this album so very interesting. You have blues, rock, folk, country, and just about anything that you could imagine here in an amalgamation that really works. Morning Blues is probably the first commercial blues number that I've ever heard. It's good, yet commercial — it would probably even sell as a single. In all, there is some great and smooth blues here like The Life and The Visit and some good folkie things — Bad Weather and Seventeen Days. I'm in love with a four part thing called Dearly — maybe it sounds like someone else I've heard, but all I know is that it's extraordinarily beautiful. Best wishes to the Speed Press, and please give us some more!

COME TOGETHER, Ike and Tina Turner (Liberty LST-7637). The Turners are musical sex! They are not pretty or soothing, they are hard, raspy, and tough! They're great, though, and people all over North America are discovering their thing. Don't forget that when the Stones played their tour in the States, they would always let the audience have a long breather after the Turners' show and before their own so that they wouldn't be overshadowed. Get this album and get into it. If you can't zapp — you're a eunuch!!!

BANG, BANG, YOU'RE TERRY REIG, Terry Reid (BN 26427 Epic) MOVE OVER FOR TERRY REID, Terry Reid (Epic BN 26477). Terry Reid is a violent guitarist who sings songs. Whew, what an introduction... Both these albums are all of Terry's recorded work, and I am going to try an attempt at looking at them without bias. The reason why I say without bias is that the first time I ever heard Terry, I thought he stunk, so I gave him a good listening this time around and... well, this is what it's all about. Bang, Bang, was his first album and was recorded a number of years ago. To be frank, it's good but I think I've figured out what I disliked about him. Terry and his band seemed very uncertain about what they were laying down on the first album. Songs like Season Of The Witch and Erica seem to be jerky like having a shiver run up your spine and wondering whether what you are doing is right or not and whether it's your or not etc. Now, his second album is really something! The material here seems to flow naturally and Terry sounds really, really good. Although no credits are given to other musicians on the album, the general instruments are organ, guitar, and drums and Terry fills every bar of his music with real sound. Even his raspy little vocals sound smooth and together. He is especially effective on his slower songs like July and Stay With Me Baby. If you're a Terry Reid freak, then both albums will appeal to you, but for the best music, get Move Over For.

do to relax your mind? Dig in to your father's record collection and pull out Lawrence Welk? Well, I think that that's going a bit too far, so who have I found? Harvey Mandel, that's who! Mandel used to be lead guitarist for Charley Musselwhite in the early days of the Chicago blues scene, and now he has come into his own. What I found in these two albums was a very relaxed Mandel doing little soft instrumental jazz and blues things. Very pretty indeed... I find that the Righteous album is the better of the two as it features more of his guitar (the first album was overdone with strings and horns) and it has some great things on it like Summer Sequence and Love Of Life. Why don't you forget Lawrence Welk?

shines through! Richie Furay's Don't Let It Pass By and Nobody's Fool flow together and then blend into a great (fantastic?) instrumental ditty called El Tonto De Nadie. Regresa. The latter is the most exciting instrumental that I have heard to date in the 70's and probably for a long time to come. Unlike C.S.N. & Y, Poco is not made up of distinct individuals that have got together to make albums, they are a band, and they stand as such. There is no point in trying to compare the band to anyone else, as they have their very own sound, the sound of Poco! Whew....

To cut Royal yacht

LONDON (AP) — The government is out to cut costs, and there is no sign it will let Britannia waive the rules. Britannia is the royal yacht, built 16 years ago at a cost of more than $10 million. Its maintenance costs $1.2 million a year. No one is talking of a sure thing, but there seems a chance the Royal Navy, commanded to cut costs, will convert the Britannia into a hospital ship. A navy spokesman said: "After all, the Britannia is considered a royal residence. Any word from that would have to come from Buckingham Palace." At the palace a spokesman said: "This has nothing to do with us." On trips abroad the Royal Family is travelling more and more by air. The navy would be able to supply alternate ships if needed for sea travel.

By DICK KLEINER

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — It's hard to imagine Paul McCartney at 50 or Mick Jagger pushing 60 or any middle-aged rock group. But, barring accident or illness, the years will pile up on them and someday they'll all be old.

Can there be middle-aged rock groups? Or will today's young and vital performers change as they age and switch to a less-frantic form of music?

"Perhaps there will be middle-aged groups," says

John Kay of Steppenwolf. "I've seen Bill Haley and Bo Diddley playing lately, and they're not young any more. But I think it's more likely that today's groups will simply disband and go their separate ways."

Already many of the successful ones are changing. They frequently abandon long road tours when they make it big, and just go out weekends and play concerts. It's enough—one good night will gross them as much as $90,000.

What most of them want is a chance to do films or television, so they can stay home more. More and more have become family men and there's the pull to stick around the house and the kids.

The Everly Brothers are not old, but they're not young any more, either. They first achieved prominence in the middle '50s, so they've been doing well for around 15 years. Figure it out.

Their blend of country and rock—used to be called "rockabilly" but "folk rock" is the fashionable term now — has shot them suddenly into an ABC summer show, filling in for Johnny Cash. This is what they want.

Phil, the younger, admits that the important things in his life today are his 3½-year-old son and his 38-year-old Packard, in that order.

He writes poetry, hopes to have some published "because it were published it would be proof that it has some validity."

Don is concerned with such things as health and painting. He recently gave up smoking (three packs a day) and eating meat (two steaks a day), because he felt that cigarettes were bad and steaks were inflationary.

Musically, we're doing the same things we've been doing for years," Don says. "Only now we do it for a much wider variety of audience. We've worked on rock shows and on country shows, and maybe we play our stuff a little harder on the rock shows and a little softer on the country shows, but almost the same."

This wider variety of audience is also the reason why another performer who is no callow teen-ager—blues singer B. B. King—has lately become a big star.

King has been singing blues for 25 years, and 21 years of that was on the road. He says he has had two months off in 21 years, and one year he played 342 one-nighters. Now, suddenly, things have picked up. He figures he'll earn 75 per cent more money this year than he did in '68.

He's singing the same as he always did. Once, in the mid-'50s, he thought he should try to join 'em, since he wasn't having much luck trying to beat 'em. So he augmented his band and gave it a rocking-jazz flavor.

It was a nice sound, he said, but the big payroll kept him broke.

He used to play mostly blues places. Now he's playing the big Vegas hotels, before well-dressed and well-fed audiences.

"I'm enjoying this success," he says. "As a boy in Mississippi, I never had a home of my own, never until I bought one for my folks when I was 21. So I always liked clothes, because I never had much. Now I buy the clothes I want. I like to stay in nice hotels. If I feel like having a steak now, I have a steak."

He's enjoying his success, but he says it seems unreal. "I feel like Alice in Wonderland," B. B. King says. "Sometimes I'm out there singing and there's wetness down my face. But it isn't perspiration."

Hamburgers and Melon Bowl Salad

A simple summertime meal

Summer is the time to relax and enjoy every minute of the sunny day, a task which is almost impossible if elaborate time-consuming meals are planned. But there is no need for all that work. Nutritious, refreshing and delicious menus are easily planned with the foods of summer.

Super Supper Hamburgers are quick to make with a sauce to top them off whether served on a bun or without. Accompany this with a cool Melon Bowl Salad...so delightful on a hot summer day and served with its own Cranberry Fruit Dressing. For a vegetable pass a platter of corn on the cob.

SUPER SUPPER HAMBURGERS

- 1 1/2 lbs. lean ground beef
- 1 can condensed tomato soup
- 1 egg
- 1/4 cup fine dry bread crumbs
- 1/4 cup grated carrot
- 1 medium onion
- 1 tablespoon parsley flakes
- 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1/8 teaspoon sage
- Butter, or margarine
- 1 teaspoon vinegar

Combine ground beef, 1/4 cup soup, slightly beaten egg, bread crumbs, carrots, chopped onion, parsley flakes, Worcestershire sauce, salt, pepper and sage; mix until well blended. Shape into 6 balls. Melt small amount of butter in large skillet; add ground beef balls and flatten slightly to form thick patties.

Brown well on both sides; spoon off excess fat. Stir vinegar into remaining soup; pour over hamburgers and bring to a boil. Cover and simmer 25 minutes; uncover and simmer another 5 minutes, spooning soup over hamburgers. Six servings.

This exhibit is a catalyst to thought

The "raison d'etre" of most pavilions at Montreal's permanent international and cultural exposition, Man and His World, is the exhibits they contain. But at the 1970 edition of the Woman Pavilion, the exhibits are only the starting point.

The films, displays and works of art are important in themselves, of course. For that reason, many exciting new exhibits have been added for this, the second year of operation of the Woman Pavilion in the cubular structure on Ile Notre-Dame used as the Greece pavilion for Expo 67.

But Mme Yvette de l'Isle, manager of the pavilion, is a woman with ideas, and she is looking for other women with ideas among the visitors to the pavilion.

For her, the exhibits are catalysts to make visitors think and act. And she provides the means to act through a widely varied and stimulating range of activities, in both English and French, in the pavilion — an average of eight per week, from sexology lectures to fashion shows to discussions of the pavilion's right to exist at all in this age of "equality of the sexes".

A free-lance writer and television personality, made up of equal parts of dynamism and femininity, she believes firmly in the importance of the pavilion.

"Everybody says it's a man's world. And most of the pavilions at Man and His World are designed with men in mind," in her view. "But Man and His World wanted to give women a place in this world of men. This is a start. We're here at least."

What happens next is up to the visitors. For women who want makeup demonstrations or fashion shows, she provides them. For those interested in more serious subjects, there are activities for them — reading dynamics courses, lectures on subjects from hypnotism to adoption, etc.

The pavilion's ultimate aim is that "every woman can see herself in the pavilion," according to Mme de l'Isle. To this end, she is organizing days throughout the 1970 season for every possible group of women, from little girls to grandmothers.

Her answer to objections about the pavilion's contents by feminists last year is that "if women say they are worth more, not simply objects but possessing a brain, they should participate in more serious activities that ask more of them."

Her recipe is a successful one, as attendance figures prove. The activities — serious and otherwise — draw a full house almost every time, and one recent lecture by a prominent doctor and author kept the audience glued to their chairs for two hours, discussing everything from the generation gap to nudist camps.

The pavilion's new look this year reflects this new vitality. Formerly painted all white, the three cubic elements are now done in a striking op art pattern of orange on white and the center courtyard blazes with flowers.

In the cool, dimly lit entrance, the visitor is greeted by the many faces of women as shown in their looks, their work, their amusements, reflected in photos and continuous slide shows. The section leads naturally to another showing famous women, from astronaut Valentina Terechkova to Marilyn Monroe.

Just beyond, an exciting section, new this year, contains displays of modern jewelry created by some of Montreal's most innovative designers, including one timely brooch representing the Apollo 11 lunar landing.

The fashion section also is new and equally exciting, showing the newest creations of one of the foremost designers in this fashion capital of Canada, John Warden. The exhibit contains both garments and sketches and slides showing the collection and the designer at work.

In a renovated room previously containing sections of mannequins, dramatic blow-up photos of parts of women, sliced in sections, move around the room as a screen shows a film by Canada's prestigious National Film Board of woman as object. Elsewhere in the room, surrounded by dramatic plexiglas lips, are mannequins' heads with exotically painted eye makeup and the latest in wigs.

The waiting room to the cinema contains a provocative montage of advertisements showing the commercialized woman, whose sex appeal is used to sell everything from soft drinks to grass seed.

The cinema itself features a moving 15-minute color film called Portraits, made for the pavilion and touching on some of the many roles open to women in today's world.

Engagement

Mrs. Wm. M. Bernard of Waterville announced the engagement of her daughter, Anna Clair to Mr. Albert E. Fisk of Lachine, Que. Marriage in the late fall.

Summer wedding at Emmanuel Church

A lovely summer wedding took place at Emmanuel United Church, Cowansville, on Saturday, July 25th 1970, when Miss Wanda Jones, daughter of the late E. Rollit Jones of Stanbury, and Mrs. Marie Jones, became the bride of Mr. Leighton Carter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Carter, Cowansville.

Rev. J. D. McCord, B.D. officiated at the double ring ceremony. Baskets of hydrangea and delphinium adorned the altar. Guest pews were marked with nosegays of colored tulle. Wedding music was played by the organist, Mrs. Douglas Smith.

The bride, given in marriage by a family friend, Mr. P. Edward Wightman wore a street-length gown of blue with a long matching lace coat, her shoulder length veil of net was held by a band of miniature flowers, she carried a cascade bouquet of blue and white carnations. Mrs. Keith Cabanagh of Montreal as matron of honor wore a lemon yellow gown with a lace jacket, and a headpiece of matching ribbons, and carried a bouquet of white and yellow mums.

A beautiful three-tiered wedding cake centred the bridal table with candles, and vases of flowers along its length. An orchestra played for dancing after the reception. Amid showers of confetti and good wishes the couple left for a honeymoon in the Eastern United States. They will be in residence at East Farnham.

Bridal shower

Miss Valaria Ashman was guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower held at the home of Mrs. Fred Wright on Friday evening. About forty relatives and friends gathered to surprise her and shower her with gifts and best wishes in honor of her approaching marriage to Eddie Greenwood on August 22 at East Hereford. A yellow and green guest book was made by Mrs. Wright and signed by all present with several adding a DO or Don't for the bride.

The bride-to-be arrived at the Wright home shortly after 8 p.m. supposedly to spend a quiet evening and was met at the door by Mrs. Wright who pinned on a yellow glad corsage tied with a green ribbon and escorted her to a decorated seat between her mother and future mother-in-law. Green and yellow balloons centered with a silver wedding bell were hung over her head and yellow and green streamers were hung from the ceiling to the arms of the sofa.

Mrs. Wright welcomed au present and then read the Do's and Don'ts which caused much laughter. The gifts were placed on a table before the bride-to-be and were opened and passed for all to see. The gifts consisted of electrical appliances, linen, towels flatware, a dinner set, pyrex ware and many other articles. Valaria graciously thanked all present for the gifts and Mrs. Wright for arranging the shower for her.

Refreshments were served at the close of the evening with the bride-to-be cutting and serving the shower cake which was made in open book design, iced in white and trimmed with yellow and green with "Best Wishes" inscribed on the top. Guests attended from Hatley, North Hatley, Lennoxville, Way's Mills, Marlinton, Ayer's Cliff, The Three Villages, Massawippi, Roxton Falls, East Hereford, Quebec; Oxen Hill, Maryland; Holland and Morgan, Vermont.

DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Hospital 'Withdrawal' Best for Heavy Drinkers

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—Can a man who is a confirmed alcoholic stop drinking suddenly without any ill effects? Would excessive drinking cause him to lose his appetite and lose weight?

A—Because sudden withdrawal of alcohol from a heavy drinker often causes the shakes and may cause delirium tremens, it should be done in a hospital. Excessive drinking does cause loss of appetite and weight.

Q—My doctor has been giving me Librium for a nervous condition caused by alcoholism. He suddenly changed to Sparine. What could be the reason for this?

West Brome

Mr. and Mrs. Galen Johnson, daughter Caroline, and son, Garry, Barrie, Ont., spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Edwards and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant Edwards and sons, David and Mark, Kingston, Ont., visited the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Edwards. Mr. Edwards returned to his home and Mrs. Edwards and sons stayed for a couple of weeks visit.

Mr. William Shufelt recently met with a serious accident in an auto accident. Mr. Shufelt is in the Montreal General Hospital with a broken leg and broken jaw bone.

Mrs. Mabel Lindop returned to her home in Ottawa after spending a week with her brother, Mr. William Coughtry and Mrs. Coughtry at the home of Mrs. Minnie Derby, Misses Emma Coughtry, Montreal West, June Sparling and Jean Pollock, Montreal, called at the same home.

Mr. Chapman, Waterloo, took the service at the Church of the Ascension on Sunday, Aug. 2.

Mrs. Scott Emerson, Montreal West, spent a few days with her mother and sister, Mrs. M. E. Darbe and Miss Cecile Darbe.

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Gilmore and son, Hughie, spent two weeks at Selby Lake.

A—Such changes are usually made to avoid unpleasant side effects or drug dependency.

Q—Can disulfiram (Antabuse) be bought without a prescription?

A—No. It should be taken only under medical supervision.

Q—Is a man who regularly drinks three to five pints of beer daily an alcoholic?

A—Not necessarily, but he's heading in that direction.

Q—My sister has an acute myelitis and was paralyzed from her hips down. She is making a slow recovery. Is there any cure for this? Is it related in any way to multiple sclerosis?

A—Myelitis is an inflammation of the spinal cord. Although there are several varieties of this disease, including polio, there is no specific cure. The severity of the disease varies widely. Aside from the fact that multiple sclerosis and myelitis both involve the spinal cord, there is no connection between the two.

Q—What are the symptoms of undulant fever? Is there a cure for it?

A—The usual attack of undulant fever or brucellosis starts with a slight rise in temperature, headache, weakness, insomnia, loss of appetite and generalized aching pains. Tetracycline and similar antibiotics will cure this disease.

Q—What is Mandelamine given for? How long is it safe to take it?

A—Methenamine mandelate (Mandelamine) is a prescription drug given for infections of the kidneys and bladder. It may be given as long as the infection exists but the dosage must be carefully controlled to prevent painful urination, nausea and skin rash.

Can Lake Erie survive the pollution problem?

ERIEAU, Ont. (CP) — Scientists say they may be able to determine by this winter whether Lake Erie will survive or succumb to pollution.

Algae fed by human waste, fertilizers and phosphates from detergents may be strangling the lake, American and Canadian scientists told a news conference Saturday.

The scientists released the results of studies they have been making since July 27 during Project Hypolimnion, operating from the Canadian research vessel Limnos.

If it is found the decay of plant life is seriously depleting the lake's oxygen content during the winter months, the situation will be "most serious," said Dr. N.M. Burns, a scientist with the Canadian department of energy, mines and resources.

Curtis Ross, head of the U.S. scientific team, said one of the main objects of the project is to determine whether the lake can be saved "and if so, how much time and money will it cost."

The scientists are taking samples of lake bottom sediment from 41 areas in the lake. Samples displayed at the news conference showed that plant life which was green less than a month ago now is grey and decaying.

The process of decay starts with excessive nutrients in the form of phosphates or other waste stimulating algae growth at the surface of the lake

The algae sinks down to a strata of cold water where the scientists have discovered it lives for a short time, then appears to die.

While still alive, the algae produces oxygen at this lower level. But as it dies the oxygen supply is depleted. Under these conditions, nutrient material in the lake bottom sediment apparently are released to stimulate more growth on the surface—starting the cycle again.

From samples taken during the last three weeks "it does appear that we are imminently close to entering into this vicious cycle of oxygen depletion," Dr. Burns said.

He said he believes the most useful thing that could be done at this time would be for Canada and the U.S. to undertake a program to stop the dumping of phosphates and other waste in the Great Lakes.

Mr. Ross said the scientists also hope to determine whether even the removal of phosphates would be enough to save the lake.

The Limnos, with a crew of 15 and a team of about 12 scientists and technicians, is to return to her berth at the Canada Centre for Inland Waters at Burlington on Aug. 27.

After more study and testing, a report is expected in November.

Mr. Ross said the team now is trying to determine what "mechanisms" are involved in the lake's plant life cycle. The answers will enable the scientists to determine the ecological fate of the lake.

"Then we can go back and tell the polluters what they have to do, and why they have to do it."

OBITUARIES

MRS. ELIZABETH BEDARD, OF RICHMOND
RICHMOND — Mrs. Harry F. Bedard, the former Elizabeth M. Sullivan, a life long resident of the community died recently at her home on Main Street, Richmond. Mrs. Bedard was the daughter of the late Richard Sullivan and his wife, the late Mary Keegan. A brother Maurice, predeceased her many years ago at the age of 21. Mrs. Bedard or Dattie, as she was familiarly called by her friends, was born and lived her entire life in the family home. Widowed after seven years of married life, left with three small children, she devoted her life, time and talents to their upbringing and education, ably assisted by her mother, with whom she resided. The three children Maurice, Margaret and Harry survive her.

She lived to see them with fine educations all having obtained university degrees in their respective fields. The oldest son, Maurice, Father Walter Bedard of the Franciscan Order, has his doctor's degree in Theology and is Associate Professor at Loyola College, Montreal. Her daughter, Margaret, has her Ph.D. degree in Sociology and is Professor at the College of New Rochelle, New Rochelle, N.Y. The youngest son, Harry B., is a Jesuit Father and after University studies in Canada and the United States, taught in Montreal and Guelph, Ont. At present he is a specialist in retreats and counselling at Campion High School, Regina, Sask.

The deceased was one of the founding members of St. Theresa's Council of the Catholic Women's League of Canada and an active member until recent years. The funeral at the Holy Family Church in Richmond, was attended by numerous neighbours and friends, many coming from a distance. The Mass of the Resurrection was celebrated by her younger son, Father Harry Bedard S.J., Fr. Joseph O'Connor, S.J., Fr. Ralph Dunn, O.F.M., Fr. Kenneth Casey, S.J., Fr. Florent Sylvestre, O.F.M., Fr. B. W. Connolly, S. J., Fr. William Browne, S.J., Fr. Hugh O'Donnell, S.J., Fr. Bernard Bonneau. The homily in English was given by Fr. Raymond O'Connor, S.J., a family friend, and in French by Fr. Sylvère Leblanc, O.F.M., the Franciscan Provincial.

Present in the sanctuary was the pastor, Fr. Charles Robitaille, Fr. Michael Martin, Mgr. Moisan, D.P., Fr. Wilfred Brazeau, O.F.M., Fr. Brendan Cullen, O.F.M., Bro. Robert Levesque, O.F.M. and Bro. John Olney, S.J. The Choral of Hope rendered the singing and music during the mass.

Mrs. Bedard was laid to rest in the family plot in St. Bibiane's Cemetery, beside her late husband, Mass offerings, cards of sympathy, telegrams and floral tributes from the many friends are reminders that she was beloved by all who knew her.

GEORGE HENRY WRIGHT OF RICHMOND Formerly of Ways Mills
RICHMOND — The death of George Henry Wright, of Richmond, formerly of Ways Mills, occurred at the Sherbrooke Hospital on Saturday, July 18, 1970, following surgery, only a month before Mr. Wright would have been 92.

Mr. Wright came to Canada from Islington, London, as a young boy and has spent all his life in the Townships. He worked in Fitch Bay for 16 years and at Rugg-Ball in Ayer's Cliff. He also worked for Mr. George Sheard until he was 70 years of age.

In 1903 he was married to Miss Flora St. Pierre, in Libbytown. They lived in Fitch Bay and to this union six children were born: A daughter, Irene, Mrs. Adelard Blanchette, Trenholmville and their son, Cecil, Newport, Vt., predeceased Mr. Wright. Four girls survived him: Violet, Mrs. Alcide Beaudin, Ways Mills, Dorothy, Mrs. Lucien Bergeron, Richmond, Alice, Mrs. Rene Latour, Richmond and Joyce, Mrs. Albert Lemelin, Coaticook. In 1953, Mr. and Mrs. Wright were married fifty years, when their children honored them at a party in the union hall with over 300 attending. Mrs. Wright died Dec. 31, 1959, and Mr. Wright went to live with his daughter, Alice, Mrs. R. Latour, Richmond. Mr. Wright made many friends as he was of a cheerful disposition, and leaves a host of friends and neighbors. The funeral was held in Way's Mills at the Anglican Church, July 21, with Rev. R. Jervis-Read officiating. Bearers were Harry Emo, Sydney Davis, Percy Clark, Ashley Gemmill, Harold and Frank Smith, all of Ways Mills. Interment were at Ways Mills Cemetery.

MRS. FAY F. MCGILL, OF SOUTH DURHAM SOUTH DURHAM — On July 26, 1970, at the Wales Home, the death occurred of Mrs. Fay McGill, the former Ena Cross. She was in her 71st year. The deceased was born in South Durham, on May 26, 1900, daughter of the late Benjamin Cross and his wife, Annie Carson. In 1920 she married Fay McGill of West Danville, Vt. They made their home in South Durham. She leaves to mourn her death, her husband, and a daughter, Jean, Mrs. Ralph Lester, South Durham, and six grandchildren. The funeral service was held at Fleury's Parlors in South Durham on July 28, with the Rev. Gordon Peabody officiating. Interment was in the United Church Cemetery, South Durham. The bearers were Murray Wright, Stuart Moore, Howard Watt, Winston Lester, Gordon Coote and Evan Coote. Friends and relatives attending the funeral were from South Durham, Richmond, Plessisville, Ontario, and Danville.

MRS. ISOBEL F. CLEVELAND, OF RICHMOND Formerly of Sherbrooke
RICHMOND — Mrs. Isabel Fraser Cleveland was born at Abercrombie, N.S., on July 29, 1877, daughter of John William Fraser and Catherine Sproull. She was married on Sept. 22, 1909 to the late Almond W. Cleveland, of Danville, and resided in Sherbrooke for many years. There was no family. She entered the Wales Home, Richmond, on Oct. 6, 1956, where she died on August 6, 1970, a week after her 93rd birthday. A niece in New Glasgow, N.S., and a nephew in Moncton, N.B. survive her.

Inverness
The United Church Chapel on the Craig's Road, near Lower Ireland, was filled almost to capacity with worshippers from widely scattered sections of the county on Aug. 2 to greet a former incumbent of the chapel, the Rev. Gerald McFarlane, Mrs. McFarlane and family. With Mrs. Katherine Cox at the organ, the congregation joined eagerly in the singing of many favourite old-time hymns. Mr. McFarlane then delivered a sermon, taking for his text the words, 'For as the body without the spirit is dead, so faith without works is dead also. Needless to say the best wishes of their friends accompany the McFarlanes to their new charge in Cumberland, Ont.

Mr. and Mrs. McFarlane and family, have been the guests of the Willie and Hubert Learmonth families for the past week. During their stay, they have visited many of their friends and former parishioners. They are now visiting relatives in the Maritimes, enjoying their first vacation in nine years, as Mr. McFarlane spent all his vacation time, preparing for the ministry. Mining in Eastern Township history

The history of mining in the Eastern Townships is as interesting as its present day aspect. With asbestos the area's main mining product, the Townships also looks back on a history of copper, zinc, lead, alluvial gold and chromite mining. Copper and lime are also major mining products now.

The first copper veins to be explored in this region were found near the town of Ascot in the county of Sherbrooke. Four mines were started at various times but all are now closed — the first in 1929, the second in 1939, the third in 1956 and the last in 1960.

There are other veins of copper left in the Eastern Townships, as well as small deposits of zinc, lead and gold. These are found near and in the county of Wolfe. The Solbec Copper Mines has been working on these veins at Stratford since 1962 and another vein is in the process of being developed by Cupra Limited.

Alluvial gold has been found in the water of the E.T., principally in the Linier River, Samson River in Frontenac and the Moe's River (Stanstead). These deposits were exploited between 1847 to 1912 producing somewhere between two or three million dollars worth of gold. Since that time however, there has been no production of gold in those districts.

The veins of chromite in the Eastern Townships were exploited between 1894 and 1909. There was also a small production of it during the two world wars, but it was found that there wasn't enough quantity to warrant wholesale production of the mineral.

There is also in the Townships substantial non metallic deposits the value of which is not so important. The discovery of these veins was first made in the region of Bolton-Potton, at the west end of Lake Memphremagog. These veins were mentioned in the Geological Commission report of Canada for the years 1847-1848.

Crysolite fibers, found in this area, were shown at the London Exhibition of 1862. They proved to be of a better quality than the vein on the Chaudiere River at the NE end of Broughton, Beauce. The 1860 on the Plante River, vein was discovered in which runs between Saint-Odilon de Cranbourne, county of Dorchester, and the Chaudiere River at St. Joseph de Beauce.

Finally, there is in the Eastern Townships various building materials — granite, brick and other clay products. The most important granite quarries are found near Stanstead, Wolfe, Frontenac, Richmond and Compton.

ASTRO-GUIDE

By Ceean

Thursday, August 20

PAST . . . Born on the cusp, August 20, 1833, Benjamin Harrison, 23rd President of the U.S. possessed both the aggressiveness of the Leo-born and the modesty of the Virgoan.

FUTURE . . . "Free" air may not be free in the future. Other countries may follow Italy's example, where enough Italian air for a set of tires costs 32c.

The Day Under Your Sign

ARIES (Born March 21 to April 19) — Get at the root of the problem and eliminate non-essentials.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) — Save time this evening for one who means much to you. Romance accepted.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) — Strike a happy medium between the practical and the idealistic.

CANCER (June 22 to July 21) — You are in a capricious mood and may make the wrong impression.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) — You may feel melancholy and moody. Health may be the cause.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) — Don't give others a rough time just because you're upset about something.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) — You have to be patient and understanding if you are to work out a problem.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21) — Subtlety is necessary if you are to make your point today.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — The wrong move now could put your entire future in jeopardy.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — You feel like kicking over the traces. You'll ruin your chances if you do.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — Aquarian intellect and talent under excellent rays at this time.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) — You can upset the applicant if you make your move too soon. Be patient.
