TO DETERMINE PART DOMINIONS ARE TO PLAY Believes Manifesto Chiefly Concerns European States

British Foreign Policy Will Be Taken Up Today

Since Last Conference in 1925 Foreign Outlook Has Changed—Then French Were in Occupation of Ruhr, With Possible Complications Much in Mind—International Horizon Now, However, Has Been Comparatively Cleared, the Locarno Pact Bringing Changes in Aspect of European Affairs, But It Has Also Brought New Problems for Solution—Questions at Issue from Dominions' Point of View.

(Canadian Press Despatch)
LONDON, Oct. 20.—(By cable from George Hambleton, staff correspondent of the Canadian Press)—Sir Austen Chamberlain, Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, today lays before the Imperial Conference the subject of foreign affairs. Since the last conference, 1925, the foreign outlook has changed. Then the French were in occupation of the Ruhr, with possible complications much in mind. The international horizon now, however, has been comparatively cleared. The Locarno pact has brought changes in the aspect of European affairs, but it also has brought new problems for solution. Generally speaking the issues now before the conference lie rather in determining the part the Dominions are to play in Britain's foreign policy.

From the Dominions' point of view the questions at issue may be roughly summed up as follows:

1. What is to be the attitude of the Dominions regarding the assumptions of obligations under the Treaty of Locarno?
2. To what extent is it possible for the Empire as a whole to formulate a common foreign policy?
3. How can the methods of consultation between the different parts of the Empire be improved?

ATTITUDE WHICH PREMIER OF CANADA WILL TAKE

Under the first head Premier Mackenzie King undoubtedly will base his attitude on the resolution adopted by the Canadian House of Commons at its last session, that before the Canadian Government accepts any treaty involving military or economic sanctions, approval of the Parliament of Canada must be secured.

Under the second head Premier King holds that the interests of the various parts of the Empire are so diversified that the one foreign policy theory as applied to questions not fundamental to the whole Empire is not workable. On the other hand he thinks that all parts of the Empire should confer on issues that are fundamental to the whole Empire.

MR. BALDWIN SUBMITS VIEWS ON NAVAL POLICY

Premier Baldwin in submitting to the conference his views on the naval policy of the Empire said it was possible to have separate fleets in a united Empire, but it was not possible to have separate fleets without having a common foreign policy which should determine the action of the different forces maintained in different parts of the Empire. The creation of separate fleets would make it essential that the foreign policy of the Empire should be a common policy. "If it is to be a common policy," Premier Baldwin added, "it is obviously one on which the Dominions must be taken into consultation, a policy which they must know, which they must understand, and which they must approve."

Premier Baldwin, proceeding, said the question was how to reconcile the principle of self-government in external affairs with the necessity for a policy in foreign affairs of general Imperial concern which would command itself to the different governments and parliaments.

It is proposed to confine today's proceedings of the conference to Sir Austen Chamberlain's statement dealing with foreign affairs, and it is intimated that no part thereof will be released for publication.

The premiers of the Dominions probably will not make their statements.

RULERS OF FOUR NATIONS TO BE AT WEDDING

Probable Mayor of Stockholm, a Veteran Socialist, Will Perform the Wedding Ceremony.

The queens of Belgium, Denmark and Norway also will be present.

ECONOMIC PLAN CONCEIVED IN LONDON IN JULY

Was Discussed by Bankers During Their Vacation Trips in France and Holland—German Views.

(Associated Press Despatch)
BERLIN, Oct. 20.—The economic manifesto signed by leading financiers of Europe and the United States and made public in various countries yesterday was conceived in London in July, German press and banking circles assert, by Montagu Norman, Governor of the Bank of England.

Mr. Norman presented it to Dr. Schacht, president of the Reichsbank, Andrew W. Mellon, United States Secretary of the Treasury, and Benjamin Strong, of the Federal Reserve Bank, New York, in the course of their vacation trips in France and Holland, and according to the same authority they approved it with slight modifications.

Mr. Mellon, it is said, submitted a copy to President Coolidge and discussed the manifesto in London with Winston Churchill, Chancellor of the Exchequer, who approved it. It was then easy to obtain signatures.

The reason that the French signed with reservations is believed to have been that they realized the franc must be stabilized before trade affairs were discussed.

The German commentators assert that England's initiative can be explained because "it is virtually a free trade nation surrounded by protectionist nations."

The text of the manifesto in part follows:

"There can be no recovery in Europe till politicians in all territories, old and new, realize that trade is not war but a process of exchange, that in time of peace our neighbors are our customers, and that their prosperity is a condition of our own well-being. If we check their dealings, their power to pay their debts diminishes, and their power to purchase our goods is reduced. Restricted imports involve restricted exports, and no nation can afford to lose its export trade. Dependent as we all are upon imports and exports, and upon the processes of international exchange, we cannot view without grave concern a policy which means impoverishment of Europe."

IMPORTANCE MUST NOT BE UNDERESTIMATED

(Associated Press Despatch)
BERLIN, Oct. 20.—The importance of the international financiers' plea for removal of tariff barriers in Europe must not be underestimated. Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, president of the Reichsbank and one of the signatories of the manifesto, declared today.

"The fact that the signers express merely personal views does not detract from its value," he said. "We all remember the Dawes report. After the governments were at their wits' end, an economic way out of the political difficulty was found only thanks to a small group of international economic leaders. The manifesto points the way to freedom, and is the product of the common sense of all the peoples."

RADIO BEAM TRANSMISSION TO BE STARTED NEXT WEEK

Messages will be dispatched at the rate of more than two hundred words per minute simultaneously in both directions during eighteen hours out of twenty-four.

FAVORS TRADES COUNCIL FOR THIS COUNTRY

Matter Subject of Paper Delivered at Annual Meeting of Canadian Boards of Trade.

(Canadian Press Despatch)
ST. JOHN, N.B., Oct. 20.—Arguments in favor of the formation of a national foreign trades council in Canada, similar to that which is now functioning in the United States, was urged in a paper delivered by C. P. W. Schwengers, president of the Chamber of Commerce, Victoria, B.C., before the annual meeting of the Canadian Boards of Trade here this morning.

Mr. Schwengers said he believed the time had come for the institution of this council, embracing every activity of business life, representative of the farms of the Maritime Provinces, the great industrial centres of Quebec and Ontario, the wheat producers and stock raisers of the prairies, and the timber and fisheries of British Columbia. If necessary, he thought, such an organization should be subsidized and supported by the Dominion Government.

The total registration this morning was about 180.

OSLO, Norway, Oct. 20.—A comparatively strong earthquake was felt last night along the coast from Lindesnaes to Arendal. It is believed that the tremor had its origin under the sea.

BUSINESS AND INDUSTRY SHOWED EXCELLENT RECORD DURING PAST MONTH; AUTO MAKERS OPTIMISTIC

Except in a Few Lines There Is Large Scale Production and Sales Continue in Remarkably Large Volume—Profits in Industry Have Also Been Good—This Year Has Been Showing Unprecedented Steadiness in Steel Production—Automobile Production Continues at Capacity.

OTTAWA, Oct. 20.—Business and industry have continued to be excellent during the month of September. Except in a few lines, there is large scale production and sales continue in remarkably large volume. Profits in industry have also been good.

Sales of stock on the New York Stock Exchange during September declined to 36,903,742 shares, a reduction of 7,285,637 shares from the August total. The September figure is, however, slightly above the September, 1925, total, and is only slightly below the average for the first nine months of this year.

There has been no pronounced trend in the price of stocks during the month. An average price index of industrials and railroads combined opened at 135, advanced to 138 on September 7th, declined to 132 on September 17th and closed the month at 136, just one point above the opening figure. The average of industrial stocks opened at 171 and closed the month at 173, while the average for railroad stocks opened at 99.64 and declined to 99.28 at the end of the month.

Financial Statistics.
Bond sales during September amounted to $191,872,590, a rather sharp reduction from the August total of $239,753,100. Sales of the first nine months of this year were $2,151,162,640, compared with $2,624,251,745 during the first nine months of 1925. Bank clearings have declined slightly during the past month. The weekly average has been around nine billion dollars, a decrease of about $500,000,000 from the average six months ago. The fifteenth of December witnessed Government disbursements and loans of more than a billion dollars without the slightest disturbance to the money market.

Later in the month, however, call money advanced to 1 1/2 per cent, the highest rate since March. Although loans secured by stocks and bonds in New York city declined $57,590,000 during the week ended September 22nd, the total figure is now the highest since last March. They are now, however, at $2,762,000,000, well below the high of $3,141,000,000 on January 5th.

Steadiness in Steel Production.
This year has been showing unprecedented steadiness in steel production. March, the high month, was only eight per cent. above the eight-month average, with July the low month, only six per cent. below the average. In 1924, the year's average was exceeded by 37 per cent. in March and fell short 30 per cent. in July. Steel ingot production for the month of August was 4,004,583 tons, compared with 3,651,055 tons in July and 3,420,998 tons in August, 1925. The industry is expanding its operations, output being now between 85 and 90 per cent. of capacity. This is on a theoretical rating of 56,000,000 tons a year. No decisive

Western End Of Cuba Swept By A Hurricane Today

Sixty-Two Mile an Hour Wind from Northwest Prevailed at Havana—Reports State Storm Flooded Streets, Stopping Transportation and Putting Power Systems Out of Commission—Havana Cut Off from Communication With Interior—Steamers Report Excessively High Seas and Heavy Rain—Warning Was Given People Last Night of Approaching Tropical Storm.

(Associated Press Despatch)
WASHINGTON, D.C., Oct. 20.—Hurricane warnings again flew over Southern Florida territory today, in the face of an approaching gale described as of "great intensity" by the weather bureau. This morning the disturbance, another of the tropical variety, was reported central near Gerona, on the south coast of Western Cuba, moving north-northeast.

Warnings from Boca Grande and Punta Gorda to West Palm Beach, were to be prepared for hurricane winds. Northeast storm warnings were flown from Boca Grande to Tampa and north of West Palm Beach to Titusville.

The weather bureau predicted northeast winds would increase and reach hurricane force late this afternoon or tonight over extreme Southern Florida.

The highest wind so far reported officially was ninety miles an hour, at Havana. Near Gerona there was no indication of its velocity.

Weather bureau officials were reluctant to commit themselves on the possibility of damage at any port, contenting themselves merely with the official text of their warning.

STREETS OF HAVANA WERE FLOODED EARLY TODAY

(Associated Press Despatch)
HAVANA, Oct. 20.—A heavy storm struck Havana today, flooding streets, stopping transportation and putting the power system out of commission. The city was cut off from communication with the interior.

WIND REACHED VELOCITY OF 98 MILES PER HOUR

WASHINGTON, D.C., Oct. 20.—

President Coolidge Is Of Opinion That A Lower Tariff Would Jeopardize Industrial Position And Present Prosperity Of U.S.

Informally Discusses Manifesto Issued by European Financiers, in Which American Bankers Joined, Suggesting Lowering of Tariff Walls—Sees in Demand an Indirect Move for a Reduction or Cancellation of War Debts.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—President Coolidge's informal reaction to the manifesto issued by European financiers, in which American bankers joined, suggesting a lowering of the American tariff, is that not much could be done in that direction without jeopardizing the industrial position and present prosperity of the United States.

When he discussed the matter at his morning conference with the newspapermen he had not read the document as printed in afternoon newspapers, and was only acquainting with its import. He was unwilling to more than indicate his general view, and did not desire to say anything that might be considered his final decision. The preliminary report declared that Secretary Mellon had been given a rough draft of the appeal, but President Coolidge had no recollection that Secretary Mellon had ever discussed the matter with him.

It was indicated by the president that it would not be possible for him to make a statement worth very much until he had given considerable study to the facts. He holds that it is quite understood that those who lend money internationally are in favor of free trade. Importers also have the same position, he finds, but manufacturers and wage earners want a full measure of protection.

The Weather Bureau today issued the following storm warning:

"Advisory ten a.m. Hurricane warnings hoisted 10 a.m., Boca Grande and Punta Gorda to West Palm Beach, Fla., and northeast storm warnings north of Boca Grande to Tampa and north of West Palm Beach at Titusville. Tropical disturbance of great intensity near Gerona on south coast of western Cuba moving north-northeast. North-east winds will increase and reach hurricane force late this afternoon or tonight over extreme southern Florida."

EXCEPTIONALLY HIGH SEAS AND HEAVY RAIN FALLING

(Associated Press Despatch)
MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 20.—Advices to the tropical radio station at nine o'clock today from the steamship Ulua, forty miles west-northwest of Havana, reported excessively high seas and heavy rain, with a wind attaining hurricane velocity. The Ulua recorded a barometer reading of 29.54 inches.

HURRICANE MADE SHARP CURVE IN ITS COURSE

(Associated Press Despatch)
MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 20.—The government weather bureau announced today that the tropical hurricane had made a sharp curve in its course south of the Yucatan channel and had proceeded with destructive force over the western end of Cuba.

The Western Union office at Jacksonville learned through its cable connections with Havana that a sixty-two mile an hour wind from the northeast prevailed there this morning.

WARNING OF STORM WAS ISSUED AT MIDNIGHT

(Associated Press Despatch)
HAVANA, Oct. 20.—The national observatory at midnight last night announced that the western end of Cuba was threatened with a tropical hurricane travelling northward over the Caribbean Sea toward the provinces of Havana and Pinar del Rio. The storm is expected to reach the Isle of Pines, which lies in the Caribbean just south of the province of Havana, some time this morning. The disturbance was reported to be one hundred miles south of the Isle at ten o'clock last night. A wireless from Nueva Gerona, situated in the northern part of the Isle of Pines, reported the barometer as steadily falling. The wind there had reached a velocity of about sixty miles an hour, but no damage had been done.

All the inhabitants of the Isla have made all preparations to prevent loss of life. All ships and barges in Havana have been reported securely anchored and their decks cleared of moveable articles. Some small ships will delay sailing until after the threat of the storm has passed. The city authorities have warned the people to remain indoors if the hurricane hits Havana. The entire Havana police force is being held on duty for an emergency.

The army and navy have been put on a war basis to render aid if this is necessary. Residents of Havana and Pinar del Rio provinces when warned of the approach of the storm began nailing up windows and doors.

APPARENTLY HEADED FOR WEST COAST OF FLORIDA

(Associated Press Despatch)
TAMPA, Fla., Oct. 20.—The West Indian hurricane apparently is headed toward the west coast of Florida, Walter J. Bennett, government meteorologist, said at 10:30 a.m. today. Mr. Bennett ordered storm warnings displayed along the coast from Tarpon Springs to Everglades. He said "a very severe storm is headed this way and it might be necessary to order hurricane warnings before midnight tonight."

He urged shipping and residents along the west coast to take every precaution for safeguarding life and property.

UNITED CHURCH AT MAGOG HELD THANKS SERVICE

Rev. A. D. MacKenzie, Principal of Stanstead College, Special Preacher — Personals and News Budget of Interest to Residents of Magog and Vicinity.

MAGOG, QUE., Oct. 20.—At St. Paul's United Church on Sunday morning was celebrated the harvest Thanksgiving service, with Rev. A. D. MacKenzie, M.A., B.D., Principal of the Stanstead Wesleyan College, as special preacher.

The decorations of fruit, vegetables and flowers, carried out with artistic taste, emphasized the special occasion and were the work of Rev. A. T. Jones and Mrs. Manning.

The invocation was by Rev. MacKenzie. Mrs. Whalley then read a beautiful solo, "The Beautiful Prayer: Our Father."

After Psalm 145, Mr. MacKenzie read the lesson, epistle of St. Paul to the Romans, chapter viii, commencing at verse 24. A full choir then rendered "Comes At Times a Stillness."

The text was taken from Psalm 116, verse 12, "What shall I render unto the Lord for all His benefits towards me?" the theme being "The Best Thanks." The preacher pointed out that both the Old and the New Testament make much of thanksgiving. Along with thanksgiving goes the grace of joy. A life without thanksgiving is a joyless life.

Thanksgiving is joy with a recognition that we are depending on someone for that good, that we are not always ready to thank God for the disguised good. True thanksgiving says, "I'll take the cup of salvation," i.e., "I'll take life as God would have me live it." "I'll pay my vows" means "I'll be true to the best I've seen."

In all our eulogies of Canada and her greatness and gifts, we must not forget that Canada, like all other good gifts, comes from God, and to the Deity it behooves us to render our thanks.

All who were privileged to listen to Mr. MacKenzie expressed appreciation of his genius as a speaker.

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

THE GREAT STORM

Nature sometimes you'll find gruff, And in her ways a little rough. —Old Mother West Wind.

Danny Meadow Mouse was way down in a tall, hollow stub of a tree, a tree on the edge of a certain meadow. Killy the Sparrow Hawk had dropped him there, for Killy had intended to have Danny for his dinner.

"It's pretty comfortable down here," thought Danny, when he had felt himself all over and found there was nothing serious the matter. "I don't know how I'm going to get out of here, but I guess I'll get out somehow. If I have to, I suppose I can climb way up there to the top. Then I should have to climb down on the outside, and I don't like to do that. During the day Killy the Sparrow Hawk would be watching for me to do just that thing. I have an idea that at night there is usually an Owl hanging around here. Well, I'm thankful I'm here, and I won't worry about getting out until I have to get out."

Now, his is what wise men call

the Deity it behooves us to render our thanks.

All who were privileged to listen to Mr. MacKenzie expressed appreciation of his genius as a speaker.

EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. For only 75 cents you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application of two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

Gray faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger.

out. Never had he known such a storm.

Finally there was a worse cracking and snapping than ever, and then with a crash over went that tree. When it struck, that hollow stub broke into several pieces. Danny was almost smothered in the dust from the rotted wood inside. But he wasn't seriously hurt. He was simply shaken up. Of course, the very first thing he did was to run out. Then he promptly ran in again. You see he felt sure that he would drown if he stayed out, for the rain was coming down in sheets. It was coming down so fast that the ground couldn't soak it up, and the water stood in great puddles. So Danny remained in that piece of the fallen stub and shivered and shook and waited and hoped.

Girls Who Work

A GIRL who earns her living—whether in store, office, factory or home—realizes the necessity of regular attendance at her place of employment.

For this reason she works on day after day. She is exposed to all kinds of weather. Her feet are often wet. She suffers from such minor ailments as headache, backache, cramps or pains in her side. When these things are allowed to continue, some more serious ailment usually develops.

Do you know that thousands of girls have found in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound just the help they need? It relieves pain and congestion, strengthens the system, and restores the girl to a normal physical condition which makes her fit for work. These two women testify to that fact.

Healthy, Strong Now

Salem, Oregon.—"I am writing to tell you how much your medicine has helped me. Beginning when I was 14, I suffered for five years with cramps. I had pains in my back, both sides and in my limbs, and my stomach was always upset at those times. I had to lay off from work for four to five days, almost every time. I was doing canning work, canning, sealing, etc., but had to quit work when sick as I would be so weak I could hardly walk across the room. I tried all kinds of medicines without help, so a woman friend of mine told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have found relief every time while sick and it helps me more each time. Every one says I am a healthier and stronger girl. I am recommending the Vegetable Compound to all my friends." —JULIA SCHMIDT, 652 North Front Street, Salem, Oregon.

Like a New Person

Newark, N. J.—"I was troubled with pains in my back and was tired and drowsy with sick headaches. When I was sick I would have dreadful dragging-down pains, and I must have looked badly from what they told me. I was single at the time and had to give up work. At that time I ran a sewing machine in a shoe factory. I doctored with some of the best doctors in Newark, and they advised an operation. My cousin told me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and after I had taken five bottles of it my troubles were gone and I felt like a new person. Now my daughter is taking it for similar troubles and I recommend it whenever I can." —Mrs. H. BEACH, 512 15th Avenue, Newark, New Jersey.

Such letters should induce all women who need it to try this famous medicine. Sold by druggists everywhere.

ENTERTAINMENT CONDUCTED AT CLARENCEVILLE

Excellent Chicken Pie Supper and Musical Programme Put on by Ladies' Aid—Large Number Attend—Several Speakers Present—Personals and Happenings.

CLARENCEVILLE, Que., Oct. 20.—The people of Clarenceville and surrounding district, as far as St. Johns and Stanbridge East, know when the Ladies' Aid of the United Church is giving a supper. This was evident because the village square was taxed to its utmost capacity for parking space.

It was a real community affair for a beautiful community spirit was displayed by all classes and creeds. It was like old times in this way and in many instances whole families were present.

Was it the supper alone that attracted? Although that was the best yet put up, still that alone was not the cause of the crowd. It was the entertainment that followed that was the drawing card. The people of Clarenceville do enjoy and appreciate a high class programme. This appreciation was manifested in the hearty response and applause given to the various items.

What did the entertainment consist of? Well there was the Quartette from St. Johns, which is always an attraction in itself. Clarenceville is very fond of hearing them. The writer does not hesitate to state that they have never heard to greater advantage. Selections were rendered in an excellent manner. The quartette was well balanced and in the quieter tones the harmony was well sustained and all that could be deserved. To those who are acquainted with this form of singing their verdict would be: The quartette revealed the fact that they have a wide knowledge of music and have the art of presentation. The general opinion is: "Come again St. Johns."

Well-Known Home Builder Quickly Restored to Health

Victim of Nervous Indigestion, Loss of Sleep and Intolerable Pain, Father of 8 Children Finds Long-Sought Relief. Strength Restored. Praises Tanlac

Joseph A. Burnet, a well-known Montreal building contractor, 2085 Boyer Street, says: "The brawn, muscle and splendid health of the strongest man will break under the strain of modern living."

"I was suffering untold agonies when I began taking Tanlac. My strength had vanished. I couldn't work efficiently. I couldn't enjoy life as other men did. I had lost weight and was wracked by knife-like pains."

"I was completely discouraged when Tanlac was recommended to me and I took it. I recommend it to anyone who is ailing."

"This tonic worked wonders with me. Quickly my old strength returned. I began to have a great appetite and ate everything without a sign of pain. Once more I knew what it was to have a good night's sleep. Tanlac certainly put me on my feet, made me stronger and gave me better health than I have had in years."

Tanlac usually banishes pain. Conquers ailments and builds up

st. th in famished bodies. It relieves the system of poison caused by constipation and sluggish liver. It is nature's own remedy made from roots, barks and herbs according to the famous Tanlac formula. Banish sickness from your life and enjoy the benefits of golden health. Begin taking Tanlac. the audience with an organ recital. His playing displayed a genius far beyond his years. The sweet toned pipe organ (a gift from Sir Edward Kemp), was heard with delight and revived memories that was inspiring and helpful. His playing of the "Hallelujah Chorus" was masterly, showing what could be accomplished on an organ with two or three key boards. Mr. Norman is a master of the musical arena. The congregational singing was worthy of note. The singing of "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name," "Faith of our Fathers," and "The Son of God Goes Forth to War," were sung with a strength and heartiness that was refreshing. This brilliant young musician has a bright future ahead of him, a future of success and fame.

Clarenceville was highly honored in having for the speaker of the evening Rev. Geo. A. McIntosh, M.A., D.D., Pastor of Dominion-Douglas Church, Montreal, and former president of the conference. His personality is appealing. He is a speaker of rare articulation, ease of manner and fluent in delivery, yet with a command and an appeal that is striking. His message was most timely, "The United Church of Canada," its present task its future in its relation to the nation, to the local community and to our personal lives. The speaker stressed the importance of personal, Christian living through sacrifice and service even in the smallest things if done in the proper spirit. This alone he said would build up a strong church country and community.

A standing vote of thanks was given to those who took part in the entertainment. Following this, the benediction was pronounced by Dr. McIntosh, and the national anthem closed an evening of refreshment, both physical and spiritual.

It is hard to tell who deserves the most praise in making this annual affair an overwhelming success. Everybody in the church seemed to be in it. All deserve a word of thanks, but special mention ought to be made of the young people who went to their task of pouring out tea and attending tables with a willingness that was a pleasure to look upon. The Ladies' Aid desires to thank those who took part in any way to make the event of the season the howling success it was.

LATE MISS BURKENSCHAW LAID TO REST

There was laid to rest yesterday afternoon in the Richmond cemetery an aged lady, who for many years resided in Sherbrooke, in the person of Miss Mary Burkenshaw, who came to Canada from England.

The late Miss Burkenshaw was over ninety years of age. She was born in England on September 26th, 1836, and came to Moe's River to care for a sister. Later she came to Sherbrooke and was engaged in nursing for a number of years. She was one of the many unfortunates who invest in concerns that take instead of give, and thus lost all her earnings. She then opened a Home for business girls; Miss Burkenshaw's Home is well remembered by older residents of this city. From this developed the present Y.W.C.A.

A When Miss Burkenshaw became infirm a club was started that cared for her some time, after which she went to the Wales Home where she was happy and contented.

The deceased lady was well educated, refined, and of a cheerful disposition, and during her residence at the Home was helpful in reading to others less fortunate than herself. Though she had passed the allotted years of four score-and-ten she was active and her mind alert. Her last illness was of only a week's duration. She passed away Sunday morning, and was laid to rest on Tuesday at which time a service was held, attended by inmates from the Home and friends.

Mrs. B. C. Howard, Mrs. Gustafson, Miss Agnes Mitchell and Mrs. F. Wood motored from Sherbrooke to be present at the funeral service.

DR. LENNON GAVE NEW INDUSTRY EXPECTED TO LOCATE HERE

Pastor of Trinity United Church Dealt With Question of Protecting Natural Resources for Future Generations—Prohibition in Quebec Discussed.

Addressing members of the Rotary Club at the New Sherbrooke House last evening on the subject of "Conservation," Rev. Dr. W. S. Lennon, pastor of Trinity United Church, gave a very practical and interesting talk, dealing with his subject in such a manner that he had little difficulty in keeping the interest of his hearers throughout.

A plea for the conservation of Canada's national resources was made by Dr. Lennon, who pointed out that not only the Canada of today should be considered, but the present population of the country should look ahead and consider the future generations that are to live in this country after the present people have gone on.

The speaker dealt at considerable length with pulpwood conservation, and after making reference to the manner in which "lumber kings" ruin the forests in their desire to gain wealth, suggested that the government should make these lumbermen plant seedlings where trees were cut down and that they should be forced by law to give these young trees all the advantages necessary to grow, in order that they may be at the service of future generations.

After dealing with the conservation of pulpwood, Dr. Lennon, made reference to the conservation of minerals, and pictured to his audience the sad sight of a deserted mill or factory with a few abandoned houses around it. Such a sight, he said, resulted from the desire for money, which prompted someone to use all the available natural wealth at this particular spot and then abandon the whole thing without thought or care of future.

The Country and Prohibition.

Another topic dealt with by Dr. Lennon in connection with his address on conservation was the matter of prohibition. This part of his talk also proved to be very interesting and many different points were brought out.

After making a comparison of the provinces of Ontario and Quebec, as far as the matter of prohibition was concerned, Dr. Lennon confined his remarks to Quebec and in this respect the system of government control came in for considerable criticism.

It was pointed out that the revenue derived annually by the liquor commission is spent on education and the upkeep of roads, but the principle of the government in selling this liquor to the people thus reducing the working power taking their money, which they earned and making their families unhappy, was strongly objected to by the speaker.

The revenue deriving in this respect was, he said, obtained by "devilish means." Dr. Lennon was very emphatic in his disapproval of the system in force, and although the revenue derived from the sale of liquor was supposed to be used for the betterment of the country, he said that he could not help registering his protest to the manner in which this money had been secured.

Following Dr. Lennon's interesting address a vote of thanks on behalf of the club was proposed by Rotarian J. W. McKee and conveyed to the speaker by president Henry Weish.

NEW INDUSTRY EXPECTED TO LOCATE HERE

Will Manufacture Rubber Goods and It Is Understood that Hamilton Shoe Building Will Be Used—No Official Announcement as Yet.

It is expected that by December first, Sherbrooke will welcome a new industry to the city, for from all appearances a Canadian rubber firm is seriously considering locating here. While no definite announcement has been made, it is understood that practically all details have been arranged in connection with the locating of this firm here.

From information received, officials of this company have already been here in connection with securing a suitable building, and the former Hamilton Shoe building in East Sherbrooke is understood to have met with their approval.

This company manufactures rubber aprons and other rubber goods, and will open with about twenty-five girls and several men.

It is also understood that arrangements have been made to have some of the machinery arrive here in a few weeks time, which gives indications that it is certain that the company will establish here.

BOWEN AVENUE SCENE OF BAD CHIMNEY FIRE

House Owned by Mr. F. N. Couture Caught Fire from Overheated Pipes—Two Alarms Rang In—Studding Burned to Roof—Fire Subdued.

A chimney fire, which necessitated calling out the local fire brigade on two different occasions, took place this morning at the house owned by Mr. F. N. Couture, Bowen Avenue South.

The fire was first noticed at about ten o'clock this morning and an alarm was rung in. After about thirty minutes of work, the fire was thought to be subdued and the fire trucks returned to the station. At 11:40 o'clock the fire broke out again and the second alarm was sent in. On arrival of the fire trucks, it was found that the studding beside the chimney was ablaze and was burning its way to the roof. To subdue the fire it was found necessary to cut into the walls from the outside and to take the hose to the roof, where the fire had gained headway. The application of the water at these points soon put out the fire and at 12:10 p.m. it was under control and no danger had passed.

MARRIAGES

WOOLLEY-SNODGRASS

WEST BOLTON, Que., Oct. 20.—Bishop Carmichael Memorial Church at Foster was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Saturday afternoon, October 16th, at 4:30 o'clock, when Aloda Ruby Maude Snodgrass, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Snodgrass of West Bolton, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. George Stanley Woolley, of Akron, Ohio. Rev. E. C. Srimgeour was the officiating clergyman.

The bride was gowned in white georgette over satin trimmed with lace and embroidered. Her veil was in cap effect with the same orange blossoms worn by her mother at her marriage, and caught with pearls at the back. She carried a bouquet of pink roses and lilies of the valley and was given in marriage by her father.

The bridesmaid, Miss Hazel Woolley, cousin of the groom, wore pink flat crepe, with black picture hat, pink stockings and black satin slippers and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. Mrs. Snodgrass, mother of the bride, wore old rose flat crepe and black hat and fur with orange bouquet of pink roses. Mrs. Woolley, mother of the groom, was gowned in gray flat crepe with orange scarf and black hat.

The bride presented the bridesmaid and organist with gold pins, and the best man received gold cuff links.

The bridegroom was attended by Mr. Arthur Snodgrass, brother of the bride, who also sang "O Perfect Love" during the singing of the register. The wedding march was played by Miss Helen Parry, of Cookshire.

The church was nicely decorated, the wedding party standing beneath an arch of cut flowers and greenery.

Immediately following the ceremony the invited guests repaired to the home of the bride's parents, where the reception was held, the bride and groom receiving beneath an arch of white asters, from which was suspended a white bell, and greenery banked with ferns and cut flowers. Music was furnished by Mrs. Parry and Mr. Arthur Snodgrass.

After congratulations, the guests, who were confined to only the immediate relatives of the bride and groom and the officiating clergyman and his wife and sister, to the number of twenty-two, sat down to a table which looked very pretty with the wedding cake in the centre, and was beautifully decorated with bouquets of pink and white flowers in harmony with the foliage elsewhere and numerous white bells hanging from the ceiling.

Mrs. E. Hume and Mrs. B. R. Mizener did the serving, their birthdays falling on the same day.

Mr. and Mrs. Woolley left by motor for a short honeymoon trip, via Sherbrooke and Cookshire, when they return to West Bolton for a short stop before leaving for their future home in Akron, Ohio, where the groom is an employee of the Goodyear Tire Company.

The bride's travelling suit was sandwelled flat crepe embroidered, with shoes and stockings to match, green coat trimmed with American opossum fur, and green velvet hat.

The out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Woolley, Miss Gladys and Hazel Woolley, Mr. and Mrs. Worby, Miss Helen Parry, Mr. C. Taylor and Mr. Frank Woolley, of Cookshire, Mrs. Mable Snodgrass and daughter, Dorothy, of Waterloo.

The bride was the recipient of many valuable gifts.

"Why don't you marry Edith?" "She has an impediment in her speech." "I never noticed it." "You never asked her to marry you."

The Chimo group, C.G.I.T., of Trinity United Church met last evening in Wesley Hall with an exceptionally good attendance and much interest shown on the part of the girls. The meeting was purely business and included election of officers. They are Violet Green, president; Marjorie Mercer, vice-president; Mildred Cutts, treasurer; Marjorie Blue, secretary; Ruth Loomis, devotional secretary; Dorothy Nutbrown, sports officer. Mrs. Mackie Fuller, leader of the group, was in charge, and plans were outlined for the season's work. The prospects are bright for an active group this winter.

The regular meeting of the Ladies' Aid of Trinity United Church was held yesterday afternoon in Wesley Hall, at which a large number were present. The business routine was conducted by the president, Mrs. A. W. Foss. Plans were made for the annual Thanksgiving supper to be held on November 8th, and also for the Christmas sale on December 7th. After the business session, delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. H. Lloyd, Mrs. W. Reid and Mrs. J. A. Barrie. The hall looked most attractive and the small tables were decorated with late autumn flowers. Presiding at the tea table were Mrs. W. R. Hall and Mrs. J. W. McKee. The social tea hour was much enjoyed by all present.

The members of the C.G.I.T. of St. Peter's Church spent an enjoyable time last evening listening to a talk given to them by Mrs. Shaw, superintendent of the Junior Red Cross for this province, who is paying visits to many places in the Eastern Townships this week. Mrs. Shaw explained the principles of Junior Red Cross work, especially in connection with the C.G.I.T., with which it has been affiliated. She also had a fine display of work done by children, which the girls examined and admired. These articles, Mrs. Shaw explained, were samples of work done for children in hospitals and convalescent homes, and she told the girls about the two J.R.C. beds in the Children's Convalescent Home near Montreal.

Improvements in Malvern Cemetery The excellent care taken of Malvern Cemetery during the past few years is showing gratifying results. The grounds are in complete order, smoothly mown and clear of the litter which often accumulates during the summer. The caretaker, Mr. J. T. Harrison, has taken a great interest in his work and in the care of the beds of geraniums, which were provided or canvassed for by members of the Women's Institute. On the approach of winter, these beds are to be filled with early spring flowering bulbs, which, with annuals and other plants, will secure a succession of bloom during the whole of the summer months.

SYNOPSIS

Aileen Greer, determined to live her life in her own way, maintains, despite the disapproval of her grandfather, a luxurious studio in Greenwich Village, New York, where she is hostess to a bohemian circle which makes her home a rendezvous.

In the midst of a tea, she is called to her grandfather's sick bed.

He tells her that he will find a way to compel her to live more conservatively. A month later he dies.

His will decrees that she is not to receive any income from his estate unless she marries and has a child.

Aileen decides to marry one of the three men who frequent her studio. Dave Carter, a reporter; or Champ-pan, an American masquerading as a Venetian musician, or Robert Dunstan, a man-about-town.

Aileen leads Dunstan to a proposal and then tells him the terms of her grandfather's will. He expresses sympathy and leaves.

Champ tells her that marriage is not for him. Carter still remains a prospect.

—but he refuses to be a party to a "marriage of convenience," although he tells her he loves her.

Forced to economize, Aileen soon finds herself deserted by her bohemian circle.

She determines to go abroad.

On board ship, her attention is drawn to a mother and her baby in the steerage.

Finding that the mother is widowed and penniless, Aileen offers to adopt the child.

It deodorizes, too. And thus ends ALL danger of offending.

You ask for it at any drug or department store, without hesitancy, simply by saying "KOTEX."

Do as millions are doing. End old, insecure ways. Enjoy life every day. Package of twelve costs only a few cents.

CHAPTER XIV.

Aileen Opens the Door

For a long minute after Aileen's startling proposition, the young mother stared at her disbelievingly.

"You—you want to adopt my baby?" she repeated slowly at last.

Aileen nodded.

"I know it sounds brutal, but I've been thinking about it ever since you told me your story. Let's look at the facts squarely: You're going to your relative who may not receive you because he detests children. You've got to work for your living and a baby will be an enormous handicap—besides you won't have time to care for him properly. But, if you're willing to let him have him, I'll promise you that he'll have the best care I can give him. I'm all alone in the world too and while I'm far from rich, I have a little money and I hope soon to have more, much more," she added with grim thoughtfulness.

"Oh, but to give up my baby—my little Maurice!" The girl gathered the pink wiggling bundle that lay on the berth, into her arms and rested her pale cheek on the downy tuft of a head. She frowned over it.

Aileen felt her own eyelids stinging and she rose quickly from the sagging camp chair.

"Think it over and let me know your decision in the morning. I'll come down before we disembark. Remember that although I'm a stranger to you, I can give you all sorts of references to prove that I'm a responsible and respectable person, so," she added with a tiny smile, "it won't be quite as though you were entrusting Baby Maurice to some one you didn't know."

"I know you're the kindest and most generous person I've ever met," the girl was beginning gratefully.

But Aileen was gone.

She laid awake in her berth for a long time after the cessation of the ship's engines and the curious pervading stillness announced that they had docked. Through her state-room porthole, she could see the lights of the pier and the long grotesque pathways of brilliance cast by adjacent anchored craft across the waters of the harbor.

She was in France once more! Her new life lay before her! The quest for the securing of her rightful fortune was full on. If only that young mother in the steerage—

She fell asleep smiling at the trick by which she meant, if the fates were kind, to gain possession of the inheritance of which an old man's obsession had deprived her.

She fell asleep smiling at the trick by which she meant, if the fates were kind, to gain possession of the inheritance of which an old man's obsession had deprived her.

A tap on her stateroom door recalled her to a world flooded with sunshine. It was the first time she had ever landed in France without an accompanying fog and drizzle. She took the smiling weather for an omen even before she opened the note which a steward's hand extended through the crack of her door.

"I have decided," the handwriting was what she would have expected—refined, copybookish—"You may have Baby. But, oh, please be good to him!"

"Violet Strange Benoit."

Aileen took a quick shower, her young blood tingling no less with excitement than with the sting of the icy water. She was dressed and down to the steerage before the girl had finished giving the baby his morning bottle.

As soon as the customs were finished, Aileen secured a first class carriage for the girl, the baby and herself in the boat train to Paris. They were alone in their compartment, she saw with satisfaction, as the train pulled out of Havre. That meant that they could have ample opportunity to talk and arrange matters.

Delicately Aileen approached the matter of the adoption of Baby Maurice. For obvious reasons, she did not wish to appeal to the long course of the law and endure its endless red tape. Her scheme for securing her inheritance, now almost fully matured in her mind, would be seriously endangered by any legal record of one Aileen Greer, spinster, adopting the infant son of Mme Violet Strange Benoit.

To her immeasurable satisfaction, she discovered that Violet Strange Benoit herself seemed entirely willing to arrange the matter between them without recourse to the law. No doubt she, too, had her reasons, Aileen reflected privately.

Was this frail, pretty, refined girl another of Life's pathetic derelicts? Did a mystery, and perhaps betrayal, lurk behind her tragic story?

Aileen's quick sympathy went out to her. She looked so little and white and forlorn in her black frock, against the crimson carriage cushions. The baby slept peacefully in her arms and her eyes rested yearningly on the tiny face.

It made Aileen's eyes blur with with smarting tears. She wondered if, when the moment arrived, she would ever have the heart to separate mother and child. Her own motive in securing the child seemed so inconsequential, so almost wicked, by contrast with the love of the mother for her child.

But she strengthened her determination by reminding herself that, since the girl obviously could not care for the child and make a living, she was really playing the fairy god-mother in disguise.

At six o'clock that evening, she put Violet Strange Benoit on the train bound for the orchards of Normandy, kissed her warmly and slipped a fat, little purse into her hand.

Then she returned to her hotel where her newly acquired possession roared vigorously and refused to be consoled by a tempting bottle or a jumping-jack energetically worked by a chambermaid.

QUEEN MARIE GUEST OF HONOR

dent's official family and heads of foreign missions in Washington with their wives. Prince Nicholas, Princess Ileana and other members of the royal party had their places at the sides of guests without titles.

The simple colonial state dining room furnished the setting for the regal banquet.

The Queen wore the diamond tiara with great pear-shaped pearls drops which she inherited from her mother, Grand Duchess Marie of Russia, daughter of the Czar Alexander. Across the front of her georgette crepe gown she wore the blue ribbon and the glittering star of the Order of Carol, highest Rumanian decoration.

Her famous pearls, three great strands of them, and large pearl earrings completed her ornaments. Her gown was simply cut, the neck round in front descending to a low "V" in the back, sequins touched to an iridescent glitter the graceful lines of her gown and its long train. She had arrived at the White House wearing a gold and white brocade cloak, sable trimmed.

Princess Ileana's gown was of blue crepe de chene, cut on very simple lines, with motifs of rhinestones. She wore no jewels.

WILL NOT VISIT CALIFORNIA
WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—California has been excluded from the itinerary of Queen Marie of Rumania, as revised last night, although she desired to visit that state.

The reason for passing up the Golden State was not made known, but it is understood to have resulted from a disagreement over rates between the railroads and those in charge of the trip.

A revised itinerary will be made public today and will include the cities of Montreal, Quebec and Ottawa, and then back into the United States to Mary Hill, Wash. This part of her trip presumably will be on the Northern Pacific. Victoria, B. C., also will be visited.

The itinerary, as first given out by the Rumanian legation here, was unauthorized by the Queen and included among other California points, San Francisco, Los Angeles and Sacramento.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE

United States, and this must always be considered when discussing free trade and the protective tariff, the president holds. The tariff is a domestic and economic measure that is employed to aid the people of respective countries. The Republican Party according to the president, holds that such a tariff is necessary if present standards are to be maintained in this country.

As to how much the tariff prevents Europe selling her goods in this country, the president is unable to say without a close study of the import figures. He is of the opinion that of $5,000,000,000 of imports, only about $1,500,000,000 pays a duty, and that the rest enters free. It is necessary to secure revenue from some source, and the president holds that the tariff helps produce it, and at the same time protects the American producer and working man and helps lower taxes.

Fears Move Would Injure U. S.
Retaliating that he did not want to form an ultimate judgment at this time, he could not see how very much can be done in the direction of stimulating European trade by reducing the American tariff walls, without seriously jeopardizing the present standard of living, the rate of wages and curtailing American production.

His reaction was quick and antagonistic to the international movement against the American tariff system contained in the statement, which was signed by business representatives of many countries, including the names of members of J. P. Morgan and Company and half a dozen other American international bankers.

Another reaction in official circles to the manifesto was that it was an indirect move by Europe for a reduction of her American war debts or a cancellation.

This was the view held by those familiar with trends abroad, although there was much reluctance on the part of cabinet members of the American debt commission to express such a definite opinion. Some of them saw in it a move in that direction if the proposal were carried to its logical conclusion. That it had that in view was the belief of some, because those who made the proposal, in their opinion, knew that the Republican administration would not consent to a lowering of the tariff in order to stimulate European trade. Failing in getting favorable action along these lines, it was asserted the next move from Europe might be for a reduction in the debt or complete cancellation.

A MISSIONARY SCHOOL LIKELY FOR QUEBEC

Prospects Were Discussed at Meeting of Presbyterian W.M. S. Board.

MONTREAL, Que., Oct. 20.—Prospects for the establishment of a missionary and Bible school next summer in the province of Quebec were indicated at a meeting of the Quebec Provincial Board of the Presbyterian Women's Missionary Society yesterday in Knox Crescent Church. The proposed institution will be the first of its type to be formed in Quebec and will likely be realized in Montreal, Knowlton or in some other convenient centre. No definite plans in this connection were framed, but the gathering expressed approval of a letter from Rev. A. S. Reid, syndical missionary, asking the co-operation of the W.M.S. in the founding of such a school.

Many students attended a school of this kind last summer in Knox College, Toronto, and, according to expressions of opinion at the meeting, a similar institution in Quebec would also draw numerous pupils. In the meantime, the Women's Missionary Society is increasing its influence throughout this province. The formation of five new auxiliary branches of this society and of three additional missionary bands, was reported. The Home Helpers number 498.

The treasurer stated that half of the allocation for the W.M.S. for the province had been received and that financial prospects for the remainder of the year are bright. The secretaries of the other departments of the society showed optimism in their statements also. Much of this success is due to visits that Mrs. Price, vice-president, and Miss Lamont, organizing secretary, made in the Quebec Presbyterian, said Mrs. E. E. Gilson, in a survey of missionary work done during the past six months.

Miss Lily MacArthur, who spoke of the programme of the W.M.S. for immigrants stated that "it is in the home that the definite personal work is done". She, therefore, urged the importance of the follow-up plan of the representative who met the immigrants as they landed.

"I never realized," she said, quoting a statement by an Anglican representative at the port, "that the travelling public could get into so many difficulties." It is because of these numerous difficulties that Miss MacArthur, delegate from the W.M.S. to the port of Montreal, finds her working days busy.

The annual meeting of the Presbyterian Women's Missionary Society of the province of Quebec will be held in Montreal. The date and the exact place for the conference were not arranged. Mrs. I. C. Sharp presided at yesterday's sessions.

REACHES PEAK
Probably at no other season of the year is northern Ontario at the peak of its beauty than in the autumn months. When the first frosts of the year have turned the leaves a crimson and yellow and the air holds a freshness unexcelled, many turn to the resorts in Ontario for a real holiday. One of the most popular fishing and hunting districts is the French River district. Then there is the Nipigon, the home of the gamest fresh water fish in the world. In fact there is little to choose between these two places when it comes to fishing. It is a great wilderness country that appeals to the heart of all. It will not be long before the deer and moose seasons are open in northern Ontario offering the finest opportunities for the hunter in America. There are numerous places along the lines of the Canadian Pacific Railway where the hunter, the angler can spend a real holiday. Any Canadian Pacific Ry. Ticket Agent or J. A. Metivier, City Passenger Agent, 91 Wellington Street North, Phone 130, will supply you with information regarding these places or train schedules and rates.

COUNTERFEIT STOCK PANIC IN WARSAW

Fourteen Alleged Members of International Gang Held—$2,000,000 Involved.

WARSAW, October 20.—Fourteen men, alleged to be members of an international gang of stock counterfeiters, have been arrested on charges of selling large quantities of counterfeit stock in gold mining and oil concerns.

The gang, of which two men gave the name of Goldberg and Rubin, alias Sommer, are said to be leaders, is accused of counterfeiting $2,000,000 worth of stock. Many leading financiers in Warsaw were purchasers of the fake securities and a panic feeling has been produced in some quarters of the city.

The operations of the gang were discovered when a Warsaw merchant found that the stock he had bought was worthless and reported the matter to the police.

STOCK PRICES MOVED
IRREGULARLY LOWER
ON WALL STREET TODAY

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Stock prices moved irregularly lower at the opening of today's market. Selling pressure was renewed against a wide assortment of industrials, but the rails received better support on the execution of a large volume of overnight buying orders in that group. Most of the initial changes were fractional in character, International Cement sagging to a new low level for the year. General Motors opened unchanged, but United States Steel common opened with a block of 3,500 shares at 155, off 1/2.

Wall St. Journal—Uneasiness regarding the trade outlook was still apparent, with the result that professional operations for the decline received no concerted opposition.

N.Y. World—The petroleum shares were lower on talk that crude oil prices would be cut. The trade used this as a seasonal condition as well as a reflection of the increase in crude oil production.

Journal of Commerce—Speculative interests who had been watching the turn of the market were apparently convinced that the buying power had given out of the early rally and they engineered a fresh selling wave, which carried active issues down anywhere from 2 to 6 points below the previous day's final quotations.

MORGAN SCORED A VICTORY OVER JOHNNY DUNDEE

Veteran Challenger Fought Through Most of Bout With Only One Hand.

(Associated Press Despatch) SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 20.—Tod Morgan, of Seattle, continues to reign supreme in the division of junior lightweights. For a brief three minutes here last night his authority was questioned, but before the battle had progressed far the challenger, Johnny Dundee, of New York, had been put to rout by a barrage of flying gloves that beat a steady tattoo on his face and body.

Coming out after the fourth round, Morgan drove the veteran New Yorker around the ring, landing seemingly at will, both to the mid-section and the face. At the finish there was no question as Referee Harry Ertle raised the champion's hand.

The victory while complete, was tempered with the knowledge that Dundee fought through most of the bout with one hand. His handlers announced that an old break in his right hand had been fractured during the second round.

SHARKEY CHALLENGES TUNNEY

(Associated Press Despatch) NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Jack Sharkey's challenge to Gene Tunney, world's heavyweight champion, was filed with the State Boxing Commission yesterday. This is Tunney's first challenge as champion.

WILLS LEFT ARM GIVING HIM TROUBLE

(Associated Press Despatch) ROCHESTER, N.Y., Oct. 20.—Harry Wills, negro heavyweight fighter, whose rating in that class was given a jolt last Tuesday night at Brooklyn where he lost to Jack Sharkey, called on Harry W. (Doc) Knight here yesterday for treatment to his left arm, which has been causing him trouble for some time.

The arm is in a paralyzed state and has been since some time before the Sharkey fight, according to Wills.

REFEREE'S DECISION WAS NOT POPULAR

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—Chuck Wiggins, of Indianapolis, and Jimmy Delaney, of St. Paul, light heavyweights, fought a ten round bout here last night which the referee called a draw, but which the majority of the customers wanted to give to Wiggins.

Delaney was knocked down for a count of nine in the eighth round with a right cross to the jaw, and in the tenth round was wobbling about the ring from solid rights and lefts to the same part of the body.

TWO SCHOONERS ARE RACING AGAIN TODAY

After Stating that He Would Race No More Because He Had Not Been Awarded Series, Captain Walters Appeared on Starting Line.

(Canadian Press Despatch) HALIFAX, N.S., Oct. 20.—After informing the sailing committee that he would race no more because he had not been awarded the series, Captain Angus Walters appeared on the starting line bright and early this morning. The schooners got away at ten o'clock with a light northwest wind blowing. The Haligonian, Captain Moyle, Crouse, crossed the line some seconds behind, but well to weather of the Bluenose. Shortly after the start Angus worked through Moyle's lee and went to weather. The course selected was the same as yesterday, providing for a run down the wind to Sambro Lightship via the Inner Automatic, a close reach to the southeast Automatic Buoy and windward work to the finish line. If the Bluenose can finish before four o'clock this afternoon, she takes the series, the time limit having been extended to six hours. Official times at the start were: Bluenose 10:00:57; Haligonian 10:01:10.

The Bluenose ran away from the Haligonian on the run to Inner Automatic. Official times were: Bluenose 11:03:00; Haligonian 11:10:20. On the broad reach to Sambro Lightship the breeze freshened to ten knots, hauled more westerly and favored the Haligonian, so that she decreased the champion's lead by nearly four minutes. The schooners had made better time to Lightship today than in yesterday's contest. Official times at second mark were: Bluenose 12:10:30; Haligonian 12:15:10.

BOLEY GOES TO PHILADELPHIA

(Associated Press Despatch) NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—The terms of the trade for Joe Boley, who is shifting from the Baltimore Orioles in the International League to Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics, are out. The astute leader will give $50,000 and three players, as yet unnamed, for the player Jack Dunn would not sell five years ago to the Yanks, the Giants or Cincinnati Reds for a price said to have been $150,000.

REUTHER FIGURED IN DEAL

(Associated Press Despatch) NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—"Dutch" Reuther was not waived to the New York Yanks for $4,500 near the close of the American League season by Washington, but instead figured in a deal by which Garland Braxton, promising left-handed pitcher, and Nick Cullop, recruit outfielder, will be turned over to the Senators, Ed Barrow, business manager of the Yanks, announced last night. Reuther was operated upon today for an internal growth that hampered his pitching his year. When waivers were asked on Reuther by Washington, all but the Yanks refused to put in a claim. The deal with Clark Griffith, Washington manager, was then arranged, Barrows said. Reuther was known then to be suffering from appendicitis.

THREE ESCAPE INJURIES WHEN CAR OVERTURNS

While on Way to Magog from Haverhill, Mishap Occurred Near St. Johnsbury, Vt.—Car Suffered Slight Damage.

ST. JOHNSBURY, Vt., Oct. 20.—An automobile driven by Mrs. Leonard Wing, of Haverhill, N.H., with her little child and a sister, Mrs. Milton Hughes, of Boston, was overturned on the West Charleston road Monday evening about 8 o'clock and not one of the party received a scratch. The three had driven from Haverhill Monday and were on their way to Magog, Que. Assistance was rendered by passers-by and a garage at Derby Line was called to right the car and tow it in. The car suffered only small damage.

According to the statement of the two women, a car passed them and they turned out a little too near the edge of the road, the grassy edge giving way and letting the car down a three-foot bank. It rested against a wire fence on its side and this undoubtedly saved the occupants from serious injury.

WOMEN'S CLUB OF POISONERS AT BELGRADE

Members Are Taught Art of Mixing and Administering Poisons at Secret Meetings, Police Claim.

(Associated Press Despatch) BELGRADE, Jugoslavia, Oct. 20.—A women's club of poisoners, under guise of a charitable organization with the name of "Lacretia," has been raided by the police.

Police asserted that at secret meetings the club members were taught the medieval art of mixing and administering poisons. Six women who were unhappily married were declared thus to have found means of ridding themselves of their husbands. The remains of these were exhumed and in two cases toxicologists have determined the signs of poison.

Five women of the club were charged with being the ring leaders of the organization and arrested.
