Michaëlle Jean

Michaëlle Jean and Jean-Daniel Lafond

The next Governor General of Canada, Michaëlle Jean and her husband, the Film writer Jean-Daniel Lafond, attracted the attention of the media since the announcement of this nomination.

The Governor General will take up duty on next 27 September.

There is a lesson to be learned from this situation. The power of an action or a word can sometimes change the course of the history.

The decision by the Prime Minister of Canada to choose Michaëlle Jean would have been the consequence of a simple suggestion launched almost non seriously by a political assistant of his Cabinet.

The assistant did not really take her idea as final but the Prime Minister retained it and decided to carry it out. The situation is not unique and it is repeated on other levels, businesses or politics. The destinies are sometimes due to little things and the one of Michaëlle Jean owes his new direction to a simple comment which became reality....

The World Film Festival of Montreal

The World Film Festival 2005

Canada will be the scene of many cinematographic gatherings during the next weeks. The World Film Festival of Montreal will be held from August 26 to September 5, The Festival of Films of Toronto from the September 8 to 17, and The New Montreal Film Festival, launched for the first time this year by Alain Simard of the Spectra group, from September 18 to 25. The veteran of the cinematographic gatherings in Montreal, Serge Losique, presents his 29e annual Festival in spite of many obstacles. He will not receive some 2 million $ in governmental financing, amount which will be allotted to the new festival of Spectra. According to a serious expert in special events, the governmental financing is essential to defray the day to day current operations (cash-flow) and the absence of it would prevent the FFM from effectively functioning during the course of the event. For this reason, the expert predicts that the FFM could be in its last year. It will be necessary to watch the reaction on behalf of the film enthusiasts but one thing is certain, the offer of events will never have been also large. www.ffm-montreal.org

Isabelle Adjani

The French actress would be living in perfect happiness since last January with her new love, Stéphane Delajoux. The man is not unknown and Paris Match describes him as a brilliant neurosurgeon. He had treated Marie Trintignant when she had returned to France in an irreversible state of coma. Delajoux operates in a private clinic in Paris, Clinique Internationale du Parc Monceau, on Chazelles Street. Isabelle Adjani kept a low profile since the last months but everyone awaits the forthcoming music CD with Pascal Obispo. Isabelle Adjani had attended the World Film Festival of Montreal in 2004 to receive a special Award. She had given to the Festival a glare of the star system. For the fans of the actress, the official website remains the place to be visited on Internet. The site is the work of the well known webmaster Anne-Claire Schlesinger.

Mitsou G elinas

Mitsou G elinas

The actress, singer and music producer Mitsou G elinas is probably the artist who ages best in Quebec. She writes an editorial on this subject in the September issue of the magazine, Clin d'Oeil. She speaks about her 35th Birthday that she will celebrate on next September 1st and of her reaction about the years which pass. Mitsou knew a brilliant career as a singer with in particular the famous hit Bye Bye my Cowboy. She also made several movies of which most recently: Les Invasions Barbares. The artist gave a new direction to her career at the end of 1990 and she especially concentrated in animation and cultural journalism. Mitsou had planned to make career in the United States but she says to be very happy in Quebec and benefits from the joys of life with her love, the producer Iohann Martin and their daughter, Stella-Rose, born in November 2003. www.cybermitsou.com

The Community radios in Quebec

Montreal

The Community radio station in Montreal, CIBL, decided on the occasion of her 25th Birthday to change her name to Radio Montreal.

The sector of the Community radio stations in Quebec is very significant and one counts in all 25 stations through the province including 4 in the area of Montreal. Radio Montreal (CIBL) was the starting ground for many stars, now famous, from Guy A. Lepage to Marie-France Bazzo, Jean-Rene Dufort, Monique Giroux and the popular singer Jean Leloup.

The role of a Community radio is more close to the life of the local people compare to commercial radios. Radio Montreal diffuses 24 hours a day and seven days a week. (101,5 FM) www.arcq.qc.ca

Le St-James Hotel in Montreal

Elizabeth Glimenaki -

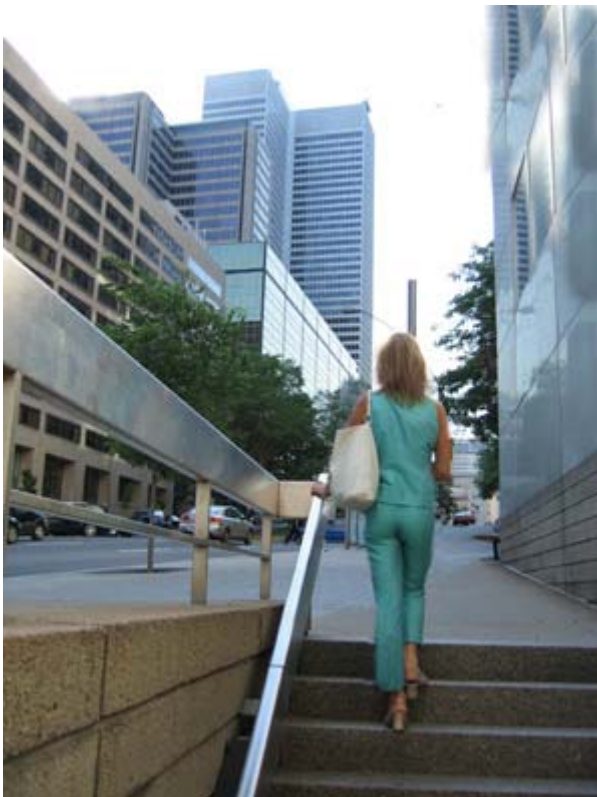

The director of Le St-James Hotel in Old Montreal, Elizabeth Glimenaki, is proving that one can convince the international visitors to come in the metropolis and to be accommodated with a top-of-the-range quality service comparable with the one offered in large cities like Paris or New York.

Glimenaki work in the hotel industry since 15 years and she have a background in History of Art. The St-James Hotel is the property of the businessman Lucien Rémillard who made his mark in the industry of the environmental recycling and who is owner of Remstar Corp., a films distribution company. The St-James Hotel is the favourite of stars like Mike Jagger, André Agassi, Celine Dion and other personalities. According to the general director, the St-James is like a private mansion where people with high criteria are allured by the received service and return regularly thereafter. The success of the St-James is also a proof that Montreal is not losing ground compared with the other large cities of the world. Studio1 went to visit this luxury hotel and offers you a Photo Story on its official site.
