AN IMPORTANT CASE.—A little more than two years ago the steamer "Silvia," of Newcastle-on-Tyne, was loaded with deals by Mr. Snowball at Chatham. When the time came for signing the bills of lading, the captain, Mr. Snowball, Snowball to insert "deckload at shipper's risk." This was refused and the captain kept the steamer two days on demurrage charges of £20 a day against the shipper and then signed the accounted bills under protest. On arriving in England with the cargo the steamer was found subject to the demurrage charge. On the 7th instant the case was heard before Mr. Justice Day, at the instance of the first party, court, Newcastle-on-Tyne. Judgment was given against the steamer and in favor of Mr. Snowball's condition. It is said the cost to the owner of the vessel is about £1,000.—St. John, N.B., Globe.
