World News In Brief

London, Sept. 8.—(P)—The R.A.F. Lincoln bomber Aries, which took off last week for a 3,812-mile practise flight over the North Pole, has been diverted to a Greenland base with engine trouble, an air ministry spokesman said today.

The bomber, a specially-equipped four-engine plane, was scheduled to make a trip in 18½ hours. She was previously held up for 24 hours at Keflavik, Iceland, with engine trouble, the spokesman said.

From the Greenland base she will fly to the R.C.A.F. base at White Horse, Y.T., the spokesman said.

Toronto, Sept. 8.—(P)—The 1952 Canadian National Exhibition has been the best ever from the dollar point of view, officials said today.

The 73rd annual fair, spread over 350 acres, drew 2,717,000 persons, 18,000 more than last year but 6,000 less than the record year of 1950. Total of visitors for the final day was 259,000, 14,000 less than for the same day last year.

Although the final figures are not yet ready, C.N.E. officials and nearly everyone else feel they have had a record year financially.

Washington, Sept. 8.—(P)—The Atlantic hurricane, although still dangerous to shipping, ceased to be a menace to the United States coast today.

The weather bureau dropped its periodic advisory bulletins last night when the hurricane reached a point about 200 miles south of Cape Race, Newfoundland. At that time, the storm was moving between north and east northeast at about 35 miles an hour.

Highest winds were estimated at 120 miles an hour near the centre of the storm with gales extending outward 400 miles.

Paris, Sept. 8.—(Reuters)—The Canadian ambassador to France, George Vanier, Sunday returned a French flag kept as a liberation souvenir for 34 years in the city of Berthier, Que., to its original place in Douai, northern France.

The flag was presented by Douai to the late Gen. Charles Armstrong, Canadian commander of the British Pacific Lines which freed the city in 1918.

Armstrong's brother-in-law, who has been guardian of the flag, now wishes to render homage to the French by returning it.

In a speech prepared for delivery at Douai, Vanier paid tribute to the French as "the defenders of human liberties."

Four Men Saw Their Way Out Of Death Row Cell Block In Toronto Jail

Canadian Destroys Red Jet Plane

Seoul, Korea, Sept. 8.—(P)—Lt. Ernest Glover of Leaside, Ont., today was credited with destroying a MIG in a jet battle over northwest Korea.

Glover, an R.C.A.F. exchange pilot serving with the United States air force, did not shoot the MIG down but out-manoeuvred the communist pilot who lost control of his plane and crashed.

The Canadian was credited Aug. 30 with damaging two Red jets and today's action brings his score to one destroyed and two damaged.

It was the first time that Canadian exchange pilots have been credited with destroying or damaging enemy planes in two straight days of fighting.

Another Canadian, Sqdn. Ldr. James Lindsay of Arnprior, Ont., yesterday claimed his first MIG damaged in air battles between Sabres and MIG's.

Other Canadian exchange pilots credited with scoring against the Red air force in Korea are: Flt.-Lt. Claude A. Lafrance, Loretteville, Que., one communist jet destroyed.

FO, Bruce Flemming of Montreal, two planes probably destroyed.

Flt.-Lt. Omer Levesque of Mont Joli, Que., one destroyed.

Flt. Lt. Lawrence Spurr of Middleton, N.S., one destroyed.

Seoul, Korea, Sept. 8.—(P)—South Korean and Red Chinese infantry surged up and down Capital Hill today in a swirling battle in which the Koreans were knocked off the crest by a 12,000-round artillery barrage.

The U.S. Eighth Army's night commander said the central front battle is now in its third day with continuing for Capital Hill and another nearby outpost.

The U.S. Fifth Air Force says its Sabre jet pilots knocked five MIG's out of the air today and damaged five others in battles near the Manchurian border.

The air forces raised the September bag of Russian-built MIG's to 22 destroyed, one probably destroyed and 15 damaged. This pace is well ahead of the record 44 MIG's destroyed in April.

Two of the MIG's reported shot down today were credited to jet ace Maj. Frederick Blesse. This raises his score to seven planes downed and three damaged and made him second only to Maj. George Davis, listed as missing.

Two Of Four Were Awaiting Trial For Murder; Others Faced Bank Robbery Charges.

Toronto, Sept. 8.—(CP)—Edwin Alonzo Boyd and three alleged members of his bank robbery gang sawed their way out of the death row cell block at the Don jail today and made a clean getaway.

With Boyd were Leonard Jackson and Steve Suchan, awaiting trial for murder in the shooting last spring of sergeant of detectives Edmund Tong, and William Jackson, facing bank robbery charges. The two Jacksons, unrelated, escaped with Boyd from the jail in the same way last November.

The CBC's Toronto television station, CBLT, to be officially opened tonight, arranged to televise pictures of the wanted men at intervals throughout the day. Television officials said radio announcements would advise TV viewers to tune their sets to channel 9.

The break was reported at 7 A.M. a guard arriving for work found six one-inch bars on the death cell block neatly cut away. The cell block is at the rear of the jail.

Four of the nine cells in the block were open. One officer said it was apparent keys had been used, as there was not a scratch on the bars of the cells.

A screen was removed from a barred window at the end of the cell block and the window was smashed.

From the window there is a 12-foot drop to the roof of the laundry and another 18 feet to the ground. Police found no ropes.

At first it was thought the desperadoes were on the jail roof. The jail was ringed with guards and police reinforcements. Fire department aerial ladders enabled officers with drawn pistols to scale the roof and superstructures while a heavy cordon of armed guards and police officers circled the entire jail. But this manoeuvre served only to establish that the four had made good their escape.

A general search of the prison was conducted by rifle-carrying police, to no avail.

Provincial police officers stepped up patrols on suburban highways. The provincial radio system flashed an escape bulletin to police cars throughout the province.

Police said they believed the jail break was linked with Friday's $25,000 robbery here of a Dominion Bank Branch. They think the loot was payoff money for the escape.

The day of the robbery there was speculation the holdup had been staged by two former members of the Boyd gang who had escaped apprehension.

Leonard (Tough Lennie) Jackson, captured in a gunfight in Montreal shortly after the Tong slaying, left behind his wooden left foot in the latest break.

There had been previous indications an escape attempt was in the making.

An X-ray machine being tested at the Don jail last March revealed Jackson had two hacksaw blades hidden in his artificial leg and foot when he was brought to the jail from a Montreal hospital. He lost the leg in a railway accident here after the war.

Last month jail guard James Morrison, 30, was sent to penitentiary for two years after he said in court he smuggled a screwdriver into the jail and had arranged to take guns in two days later.

Mayor Allan Lamport, who moved in with 60 police officers for the capture of Boyd in a pre-dawn raid on a house here last spring, was vacationing at his Lake Simcoe cottage 50 miles away when news of the escape broke. A broadcast message asked anyone near the mayor's cottage to "ask the mayor to telephone the chief of police in Toronto on an important matter."

Chief constable John Chisholm is expected to fly back to Toronto this afternoon from Winnipeg, where he has been attending a police chiefs' convention.

Said acting chief Moses Mulholland, when he heard the news: "After all our work, this has to happen."

More than 2,000 police officers were thrown into the hunt.

Even clerks in the property office and the licence office at police headquarters picked up guns and joined in the search.

Police scoured St. James cemetery in east-central Toronto shortly after 9 A.M. when a caretaker reported hearing men talking in "excited" voices around the tombstones.

As soon as the break became known, police checked at the homes of Boyd's relatives and other persons believed known to the gang.

Investigators closely questioned the last jail guard to see the men inside. He said he checked their cells at 5:10 A.M. and found "everything okay." But when he came back at 6:55 A.M. the four cell doors were swinging open and the bars had been sawn.

Police believe it must have taken

AT ANGLICAN SYNOD — Some 300 clergy and laity are attending the 10-day 18th General Synod of the Church of England in Canada at London, Ont. ## Toronto TV Station Opens Today

By TIM DICKSON
 Canadian Press Staff Writer
 Toronto, Sept. 8.—(P)—Canada's second television station, CBLT, tonight starts its regular program service with a brace of homegrown talent.

Its official opening follows by two days the debut of TV station CBLT in Montreal.

While many viewers in the Montreal area had seldom seen television before, the Toronto station serves an area in which for more than two years set owners have been able to watch programs from Buffalo's WENB-TV. The Buffalo station carries programs from four United States networks and advertisers that it has the "top 20" U.S. TV programs.

However, CBC-TV officials are confident they can hold the Toronto area's potential audience of 2,500,000 persons with distinctive Canadian programs. First-week schedules for CBLT feature the Leslie Bell Singers and other artists familiar to radio listeners, as well as such newcomers as Jack Conway and his puppets, weather man Percy Saltzman, and the singing foursome of Terry and the three Maes — Terry Griffin of Noranda, Que., and the MacGillivray brothers, John, Jim and Bill, from Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.

Also planned are The Big Revue, a weekly variety show, Sunshine Sketches based on the Stephen Leacock satires, a six-part adaptation of Jules Verne's "20,000 Leagues under the Sea," and a weekly dramatic series, as well as sports features, quiz shows, newsreels, and feature films. Mobile units will pick up special events.

In addition, kinescope recordings of programs produced in the Montreal television studios will be telecast here.

Station CBLT on channel 9 has been transmitting test programs of films and Canadian National Exhibition activities for the last two weeks. Its officials received reports of favorable reception from viewers within a radius of about 100 to 125 miles, including such points as London, Buffalo, Kitchener, Hamilton and Cobourg.

It is using a temporary aerial, pending completion this fall of a 500-foot steel tower beside its new five-story studio building on Jarvis street in central Toronto.

The station now uses about 4,000 watts on its picture signal and 2,000 watts for sound. With the new aerial, it will boost its power to 26,500 watts on the picture and 13,500 watts on the sound.

For the present, CBLT will be on the air about three hours each evening. It plans to extend its service later to provide an afternoon program and to make further extensions as material and sponsors become available.

Tonight's 15-minute opening ceremonies over CBLT will include

E.T. Cadet Is Killed In Ontario

By THE CANADIAN PRESS
 A truck swerved to avoid a frolicking pup on a rural Ontario road bringing death to five officer cadets. They were among the 20 who died violent deaths in eastern Canada during the week-end.

Sixteen died in traffic accidents, including two Galt residents involved in a three-car smash near Guelph. Two persons drowned and two died from other accidents, a Canadian Press survey showed today.

Ontario, where week-end traffic was heavy despite thinning crowds at summer resorts, recorded 11 deaths as a result of traffic accidents and one drowning. In Quebec three died in traffic accidents, one was electrocuted and one died as a result of a fall.

The Maritime provinces recorded six deaths—three traffic in Nova Scotia and two in New Brunswick. A fisherman drowned at St. John's, Nfld.

Four of the officer cadets, in summer training at Camp Borden, have been identified. The name of the fifth, whose next-of-kin live outside Canada has not been released.

Killed in the accident near Meaford were W. G. K. Mallin, Windsor; John E. Macdonald, 19, Tignish, P.E.I.; J. K. MacKinnon, 21, Barnston, Que.; James Welland Woodroffe, 20, of Halifax died as a result of injuries.

Louis Swoer, 36, of Montreal was fatally injured in Montreal when he was struck by a car while riding a bicycle. Cleophas Boyer, 76, was killed when he fell down the

New Cabinet Is Formed In Egypt

By ED POLLAK
 Cairo, Sept. 8.—(P)—Egypt's new Premier, Maj.-Gen. Mohamed Naguib, called the first meeting of his cabinet today to speed the reforms he has vowed will follow his week-end sweep to power.

The 51-year-old army strong man, who ousted former King Farouk six weeks ago, moved swiftly and without bloodshed yesterday to consolidate the army's grip on the country.

As he brushed aside former Premier Aly Maher, took over the premiership and swore in a new cabinet, the army rounded up 47 leading politicians, princes and friends of the royal family.

Among those arrested were former Premiers Ahmed Hilaly and Ibrahim Abdel Hadi and former interior Minister Fuad Serag Eddin. Eddin is boss of Egypt's dominant political party—the nationalistic Wafdists.

Also taken in the army dragnet were Prince Abbas Halim and Prince Said Halim, both third cousins of Farouk, and Abdullah Sadek and Mostafa Sadek, uncles of former Queen Nourin.

The new Premier—the seventh

St. Laurent Finishes B.C. Tour Today

Prince Rupert, B.C., Sept. 8.—(P)—Necessity to demonstrate at every chance that Canada and her military allies have no "evil designs" was stressed here last night by Prime Minister St. Laurent.

Mr. St. Laurent said that while armed strength was needed to deter communist aggression he must remember that force alone is not the answer to finding real peace.

He told a public meeting held under the auspices of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce: "As we accept—as of course we must accept—the harsh necessity of building up military strength to prevent another war, let us not forget the equal necessity to seize every chance to build up goodwill and to demonstrate to all men that we have no evil designs."

"Force may and, we hope, will be enough to prevent war," he added, "but force alone will never be enough to establish real peace."

Missionary Problems Come Before Anglican Synod

By JOSEPH MACSWEEN
 Canadian Press Staff Writer
 London, Ont., Sept. 8.—(P)—Missionary activities at home and abroad were scheduled for study today at the 18th general synod of the Church of England in Canada.

The church's missionary society, celebrating its 50th anniversary, will present a report covering work among the Indians and in the Arctic as well as in such places as China, Japan and India.

"The administration continues to experience dissatisfaction with certain actions of the Indian Affairs branch" of the federal government, the report says that in "Investigation shows that in a number of cases decisions have been made plainly in favor of the Roman Catholic cause and to the disadvantage of Church of England schools and interests."

"In some quarters of the Dominion, residential schools have been built for the Roman church where its adherents are or were in the minority, while rebuilding of burnt-out Anglican schools has been neglected."

The report says the "ever-present worry and concern" is the proper staffing of Indian schools. Salary increases had made possible the hiring of general workers of suitable calibre.

Regarding finances, the "situation now is more favorable than it has been for the past decade. Repeated appeals and deputations to the government have been responsible for increases in per capita grants. However, the church still continues to contribute... about $100,000 annually to the operation of Indian residential schools."

The women's auxiliary of the M.S.C.C. reported there now are two branches in Newfoundland. Last year saw the largest number of candidates in training in the

All Are Saved As CP Lines Flagship Sinks Off Alaska

Juneau, Alaska, Sept. 8.—(P)—The relentless waters of a south-eastern Alaska "ships graveyard" claimed another Canadian Pacific Lines vessel yesterday — its flagship, the Princess Kathleen — but not a person of 425 aboard was lost.

A mile and a half off course, the 5,908-ton Kathleen crunched around with her bow almost underneath a cliff at 3:15 A.M. PST (7:15 A.M. EDT). Earthquake-conscious Californians aboard said the blow felt like such a shock.

Within four hours, with Coast Guard-aided rescue efforts, the 307 passengers aboard were taken ashore, many of the younger ones climbing down ladders to the beach. Near mid-day, when the rising tide began to fill the hull, Capt. Graham O. Hughes ordered "abandon ship" and the 113 officers and crew were also put ashore.

The ship slipped from its rocky berth and sank, with its bow going high into the air, in 90 feet of water at 1:40 P.M. PST (5:40 P.M. EDT). The spot was 13 miles north of here. The Kathleen had sailed from Juneau for Skagway.

First Officer Charles W. Savage was on the bridge when the ship hit. Captain Hughes reported. The lookout sighted the reef an cliff and light rain but there was not time to change course.

The first officer was unable to explain the ship's position. Captain Hughes said. He was near collapse after the ship was abandoned.

The ship's first was not believed serious at first and the passengers were served coffee. Winds kicked up six-foot waves and a drenching rain fell.

Through a mix-up, ensign Richard Lacey, commander of the Coast Guard 83-footer which reached the scene, reported later, an SOS was sent on the wrong frequency. It was not until two hours later that the Kathleen made contact with an Alaska communications system station on ship-shore telephone to find out why the distress message had not been answered.

On arrival of the cutter, lifeboats brought passengers ashore. Fires were built on the beach and a path was cut through brush and rocks half a mile to a road.

About 160 of the younger passengers, many of them on a tour sponsored by the Roman Catholic young men's institute of San Francisco, climbed down ladders to the shore and hiked to the road.

The Coast Guard boat took 110 of the older passengers to the harbor and returned and took between 30 and 40 to Auke Bay, both points with easy access to the road to Juneau. One of the survivors suffered a heart attack in the lobby of the Baranof hotel, presumably from over-exertion.

After the crew got ashore, they huddled near fires and as the Kathleen finally filled with water and took its last plunge, they bared their heads and wept.

Three other Canadian Pacific lines ships have been lost in the immediate area and a fourth was salvaged. One of the north Pacific's worst marine disasters took the lives of 343 persons, every one aboard, when the Princess Sophia sank Oct. 18, 1918, only eight miles away.

Twenty-six were lost when the Islander hit a Douglas Island rock in the area in September, 1901. The Dutch sank in 1900 only five miles away, but with no loss of life, and the Princess May, which went on the rocks in 1911, was salvaged later, also with no lives lost.

Mossadegh Rejects UK-US Bid To Settle Oil Dispute

By NATE POLOWETZKY
 Tehran, Iran, Sept. 8.—(P)—Premier Mohammed Mossadegh last night rejected the British-American offer to solve the Anglo-Iranian oil squabble, but hinted Iran might agree to a court settlement of the muddled issue.

Blasting the recent Truman-Churchill proposal as the worst yet made in the dragged-out negotiations, Mossadegh told newspapermen "the solution proposed in this message is not only altogether inequitable, but more severe and impracticable than earlier proposals."

After the press conference, George Middleton, British charge d'affaires, conferred for more than an hour with Mossadegh. He refused to divulge the nature of the discussion.

Mossadegh's statement was an expansion of his off-the-cuff rejection Aug. 30, when the joint offer was made. He has called a special parliamentary session Wednesday to frame a formal reply to Britain and the United States. Observers believe Parliament will echo the Premier's stand.

However, some quarters pinned hope negotiations might continue on Mossadegh's reference last night to a court settlement. The Premier said it was possible Iran and the Anglo-Iranian Company could agree to submit the compensation issue to a mutually-agreed-upon court.

"The first condition of this agreement," he added, "is that the parties to the suit should determine the limit and the nature of their dispute."

The British-American proposal had included an offer for World Court arbitration of compensation due the British-owned A. I. O. C.

for its nationalized properties. Commenting on this, however, Mossadegh said:

"It is clear to all that after the International Court ruled it has no jurisdiction in the case, the Iranian courts constitute the only judicial authority in the world competent to investigate the present dispute."

Mossadegh assailed the British-American offer as completely inequitable. He said:

"By imposing these terms the intention (of the British and American governments) is to destroy the fruit of all the struggles of the Iranian government and the hardships it has suffered in defending its rights of sovereignty."

"Despite all economic and financial difficulties, the Iranian nation will under no circumstances submit to unfair conditions that may be prejudicial to its economic or political independence or, may God forbid, to the national honor and prestige of Iran."

Iran is just about broke as a result of loss of revenues from the Iranian holdings were nationalized nearly a year ago.

Mossadegh omitted any mention of the U.S. offer to loan Iran $10,000,000 upon condition she accept the joint proposal.

He dwelt mostly on the joint offer for World Court arbitration and for negotiations with A. I. O. C. for resumption of the flow of Iranian oil to world markets.

Discussing the court offer, he listed the following possible Iranian counter-claims in any consideration of compensation:

From the position of the wreckage it would appear that the jet began to break up about two miles before it completely disintegrated.

One suggested cause of the accident is "flutter"—the dangerous vibration set up by air flow over the wings at high speeds.

This causes steadily increasing vibration, metal structures become very hot, seize up and ultimately crack.

While the air ministry and other government agencies planned investigations, an inquiry was scheduled during the day into the deaths of Johnny Derry, the test pilot and the first Briton to fly faster than sound; his observer Tony Richards, and the 14 identified persons among the 26 spectators who were killed by a cascade of flying wreckage.

The plane disintegrated directly over the crowd as the 30-year-old Derry pulled out of an eight-mile dive at a speed of more than 700 miles an hour. One of the engines, weighing more than a ton, hurtled down into a thick mass of spectators on a hillside and crushed many of them together in one violent splat second. The engine dug a crater four feet deep.

Eleven persons remained unidentified at a temporary mortuary set up in a wartime air shed shelter. Anxious thousands flocked all day to an emergency information bureau set up in Farnborough's town hall to help searchers trace relatives and friends.

The disaster failed to deter yesterday's windup of Britain's spectacular show of high speed aircraft and a crowd of 150,000 turned out in the rain.

While long queues of relatives of missing persons tried to identify the mangled bodies, jet planes whistled overhead. At least one plane exceeded the speed of sound in an eight-mile dive.

TV HEAT DEVOURS COMEDIANS, OR LEAVE THEM BADLY BURNED

Hollywood—Toward the end of my 1951-52 season on television reports often reached newspapers, wire services and Hollywood columnists that I had been rushed to a hospital.

There was some truth in many of those stories, but hospital rest was my own idea, not a doctor's.

Television is a glass furnace. It devours material and comedians with the enthusiasm of a blast furnace eating up iron ore.

Actors with whom I've trouped in some pretty rugged fields of entertainment won't understand this.

When I played one-night stands, split weeks and week stands in burlesque, I arrived in town, checked in at a theatrical rooming house, sent out my laundry, showed up at the theater an hour before the matinee, put on my make-up and sat with the gang playing rummy until the stage manager called.

Vaudeville was even easier. An actor would break in his act out of town and, after several weeks of careful polishing, it was set and never again altered.

Added to this is the job of coordinating all the activities of every department concerned with putting the show on the air—lighting, camera angles, sets, costumes, rehearsals and even the budgeting headaches.

Smile When You Say That A comedy show must, of course, begin with comedy material. That's the job of the writers, but any actor who calls himself a comedian without first apologizing must provide the incentive for his writers.

He has to know what complements his style of delivery and personality. He must recognize the gags that may be funny for another comedian but aren't quite right for him.

Just when he thinks he has his show all wrapped up and ready for the cameras, the tape recorded at the final rehearsal begins to give out with bad odors. Perhaps a gag that had the crew and cast rolling in the aisles at the first reading now falls on its face.

If the bad spot happens to be a scene, you're really in trouble. That means not only writing a new skit, but casting, rehearsing,

Foot-And-Mouth Scourge Said To Be On The Wane

By REUTERS NEWS AGENCY

Outbreaks of foot-and-mouth disease in the last year have ravaged cattle herds in western Europe and Canada and the economic damage may run as high as $500,000,000.

Now the disease is on the wane in most countries, although a recent government report indicates that Britain's fight against the animal scourge is a losing one while France still faces its worst outbreak in a century.

Britain has had to pay farmers £2,600,000 since last November as compensation for cattle slaughtered and the loss in meat supplies has been drastic.

As a result of the recent outbreaks, however, many countries represent a picture of stringent controls aimed at preventing anything similar in the future.

The United Nations Food and Agricultural Organization is considering calling a meeting of European countries to map methods of curbing current and future outbreaks, including possibly a chain of vaccine stockpiles.

Outside Europe, Canada, Australia, and New Zealand—the three main meat-producing countries—are free from infection. Mexico, ravaged by the disease for six years, is on the verge of receiving a clean bill of health.

Here are reports on the disease from Reuters correspondents at F.A.O. headquarters in Rome and in the various affected countries: F.A.O. headquarters—Experts say the epidemic was caused by the type A virus—most virulent of the three main kinds of foot-and-mouth disease.

They see hope for cheaper control of the infection in a new method of obtaining the vaccine which may reduce costs 90 per cent.

Ruthless slaughter of infected animals, officials say, would eradicate the disease. But few countries can afford such a drastic policy. This vaccination is the only practical answer.

Britain—Some new outbreaks have been reported in recent weeks in Scotland and southeast England after the worst outbreak in memory.

During the summer, more than 548 outbreaks resulted in the forced slaughter of 36,000 cattle, 32,000 sheep, and 11,000 pigs. Compensation to farmers totalled $7,500,000.

France—The epidemic, which began six months ago, reached the critical stage in July. Some 47,270 farms reported the disease in the first two weeks, bringing the total to 132,900.

The cost to French farmers estimates say will be about $4,500,000. Most of them are trying to nurse their herds through, but meat prices are expected to rise 10 to 15 per cent in the coming months.

Germany—In November 44,708 west German farms had cases of the disease. By June the number was down to 1,113.

Italy—Absence of widespread bird migration and good drainage keep disease down. At present only 4,000 cattle, or .05 per cent of the total, are infected. An outbreak, however, would be serious since cattle are used as draft animals as well as for meat and milk here.

The Netherlands—Last fall's outbreak is under control with only 20 farms reporting infected animals now compared with 12,000 at the peak last November.

Scandinavia—Denmark had only two cases reported from July 23 to 28; Sweden has had only five since April and Norway now is entirely free of the disease.

New Zealand—The biggest food-producing country in the world in relation to its population takes extreme precautions to protect its 5,000,000 cattle and 35,000,000 sheep.

Since last March entry of all animals has been barred. Canada—The country's first outbreak of the disease, announced last Feb. 26, is ended. All Canadian restrictions and quarantines were lifted Aug. 19.

Although only 2,000 cattle out of a total cattle population of 10,000,000 had to be destroyed, the damage to the Canadian economy may go as high as $100,000,000.

The U.S. banned imports of Canadian cattle. Plans were evolved whereby surplus Canadian beef went to Britain and New Zealand meat normally sent to Britain, was sold to the U.S.

Argentina—Proud of its beef, Argentina keeps infection to a minimum through vaccines and severe controls.

It feels reimbursement to farmers for slaughter of infected animals "places a premium on carelessness."

Instead, breeders receive no payment for infected animals reaching the slaughterhouse and they may even be fined.

Oil Under Israel Is Fuel To Fire Of Great Expectations

By ERIC GOTTGREU

Tel Aviv.—Optimists hope the oil, copper and other minerals under the sandy wastes of the "negev" may be Israel's gold mine of tomorrow.

The recent passing of an oil bill by parliament in Jerusalem, the conclusion of various agreements with mineral-seeking companies and the forthcoming dispatch of negev mineral samples to the Bari (Italy) fair have added more fuel to the flames of great expectations.

Engineer M. Novomeysky—founder and managing director of the former "Palestine Potash Company" and the honorary president of its successor firm—cautioned that much drilling, boring, probing and analyzing is still needed before the over-all economic profitability of large-scale negev exploitation can be assessed.

The geological evidence gives a sufficient positive indication of the presence of oil in the country, Novomeysky says. Whether or not, however, there are large oil reserves in commercial quantities can only be proved by deep borings, he adds.

The Israel government has invited prospective concessionaires to begin these borings, and several are expected to start soon including the joint Ampal (New York) and Mekorot (Tel Aviv) Oil Company.

As for copper, Novomeysky says that in a relatively small area a copper ore-mass containing some 20,000 to 25,000 tons of metal has been ascertained, and he thinks that the average percentage of metal in the large deposits is not discouraging.

The preparations for copper mining and extracting are proceeding at a quick pace. Experts of the concessionary firm, the "Belgo-Continental," are now looking for the most promising sites and the building of the kilns is expected at the beginning of the winter.

There are also about 1,000,000 tons of manganese in an isolated area to the north-east of Israel's copper deposits. But Novomeysky warns the question whether the cost of excavation, concentration and transport may not be too high, should also be investigated.

There are iron-ore deposits in the sandstone formations between Beersheba and the Dead Sea, but exploitation demands accessibility of the site for cheap mining and transport as well as low-priced fuel. And no coal deposits have ever been found in Israel or in pre-war Palestine.

A very promising mineral in the Negev is the phosphate found in large quantities in the "mactesh hagadol"—a big crater to the southeast of Beersheba.

Although these deposits were discovered only a year ago, about 100 tons of phosphates are now leaving by truck daily for a Haifa plant for use in agriculture.

Jet-Pilot Trainees Need Slower Planes

London.—More than 70 fatal accidents involving jet aircraft this year have convinced training experts that the jump from Harvards travelling 200 miles an hour to jets doing 500-600 m.p.h. is too much for students.

The gap, they say, should be bridged by 300-400 m.p.h. low-powered jet trainers specially designed for basic training.

The toll of jet students has caused concern in official circles lately, although the air ministry claims the accident rate is lower than it was when slower planes were used.

Young men selected as pilots receive their original training in piston-engined prentices and advanced training in piston-engined Harvards.

All of a sudden, observe training experts, the young men are behind the controls of jet craft with an intensely stepped-up speed. The pilot must be able to make split-second decisions in emergencies.

The experts say a piston-engined craft responds at once to the throttle while the jet lags slightly. This adds to the pilot's responsibility in having to anticipate emergencies. They think the Meteor trainer is too big—that a smaller, slower machine should be developed to overcome the high rate of accidents.

County Fairs Of E. T. Come To A Close With Granby Horticultural Exhibition

By ARNOLD BARON
 Granby, Sept. 8.—The annual Granby Fair, the unique exhibition of the Eastern Townships in that it is self-supporting ("it" being the Granby Horticultural Society of the County of Sherbrooke) and there are no animals on display other than the steeds in the harness races, brought down its curtain on another year last night after a three-day run.

The conclusion of the Granby Exhibition also brought to a close the fairs in the E.T. circuit, which began with Drummondville and Waterloo on August 8, 9 and 10, and played through 13 cities and towns before being stored away for another year.

The Granby Fair opened to a good attendance Friday but this was cut into heavily by Saturday's rains. Large crowds attended for the final day Sunday but officials feel that if the dates of the fair were earlier next year more persons could be attracted. The weather yesterday was brisk.

Daniel's Greater Shows and its big midway was well-patronized by the crowds and the popular Charles LaJoie grandstand follies was bolstered Sunday evening with a performance by the Hell Drivers.

The harness races, results of which are shown below, were all run on Sunday because of the wet weather the day before.

A number of city and district firms had interesting exhibits in the industrial building, among them being J. A. Boucher, furniture; Lemoine Furs, Shefford Electric, Lucien Jodoin, credit jewellers, Pfaff Sewing Machines, Southern Canada Power, and Small Brothers, of Roxton Pond, makers of evaporators for the maple syrup industry.

Other exhibits and booths included a refreshments stand by Granby Kiwanis Club and a cafeteria tent of the Ladies' Auxiliary to Canadian Legion Branch 56, under the presidency of Mrs. J. O. Kruse.

The 24th Light Anti-Aircraft Battery, R.C.A., of Granby, maintained a large tent for recruiting purposes.

But sponsored solely by the Granby Horticultural Society, the accent of the fair was naturally upon flowers, fruits and vegetables.

Among the special prize winners in these exhibits were: Class I, apples, Joseph Goudreau, Granby; silver tray donated by the Bank of Toronto for the most first prizes in this class.

Class II, vegetables, special prizes donated by the Kiwanis Club of Granby for collections of vegetables from the Kiwanis Garden Contest: (1) Yvon Rousseau, Granby, $8; (2) Donald Roy, Granby, $4; (3) Marion Menard, Granby, $3.

Walter Wright, of Granby, was

Council Calls Special Session This Evening

A special session of the Sherbrooke City Council has been called for 8:30 o'clock this evening for the purpose of receiving protests against the special valuation roll for business and tenants taxes. After the protests, if any, have been studied, the roll will be homologated.

Several committee reports may be submitted for adoption at this session.

Huntingville W.C.T.U. Meets With Mrs. Day

The regular meeting of the Huntingville Women's Christian Temperance Union was held at the home of Mrs. A. Day with a good attendance and several guests.

AW2 Heatherington is a graduate of Bishop's University and was employed by the Bell Telephone Company for two years. She enlisted in the R.C.A.F. in April, 1951.

Wing Commander B. G. Miller, C.D. officer commanding No. 1 Radar and Communications school, presented AW2 Heatherington with her diploma and commended her highly on the standing she received in her course.

St. Hyacinthe Mayor Heads Quebec Group

Dixville Notch, N.H., Sept. 8.—Mayor Ernest Picard of St. Hyacinthe Saturday was elected president of the Quebec Union of Municipalities at the close of the three-day annual convention. He succeeds Mayor Francois Roy, of Shawinigan Falls.

Friday night the 500 delegates heard Postmaster-General Cote outline the characteristics required for individuality in a city or town.

"What will really make a city is the promotion of its original characteristics, its activities, the type of its industries, the organization of its sport activities and the development of its city planning," he said.

Earlier, Mayor Horace Boivin of Granby said Prime Minister St. Laurent had told him the federal government has not the necessary jurisdiction in municipal affairs regarding assistance to municipalities.

"He also told me that if the provinces delegated necessary powers to the federal government then this desired assistance could be obtained," Mayor Boivin said.

The union held its annual convention this year in this New Hampshire resort town.

Television Set Will Be Awarded As Prize At Boundary Rotary Fair

Derby Line, Sept. 8.—One of the most important features of the Boundary Rotary Fair Sept. 18, 19, 20, is the Rotary Raffle, and this year the grand prize will be a 17-inch television set and antenna. Besides the grand prize, there will be 22 cash awards totalling $180. Most important of all, each ticket is good for all the drawings, and of course you do not have to be present to win.

On the opening night of the Fair there will be 12 cash awards. Ten of them will be for $5 each; one for $10, and one for $25. These tickets will be returned to the box so that these winners will still have chances on the next two evenings.

Friday evening there are eight cash awards. Five will be for $5, two will be for $10, and one for $25. These eight tickets will be replaced, so as to be in the box for Saturday night.

Two cash prizes will be awarded Saturday evening: one for $10, and one for $25. These two tickets will be replaced in the box, and then comes the drawing for a big new television set. Every person, every ticket stands an equal chance of winning the big prize as well as the 22 cash awards.

If the television set is won in Canada, the set will be a General Electric, supplied by O'Boyle and Pierce of Sherbrooke, and this set will be on exhibit at the Fair.

If the lucky winner comes from the United States, they will have their choice of a Philco set from General Electric, or a Crosley set from C. R. MacLean. An antenna will also be supplied to the winner.

The Doctor Says

ANY CHANGE IN BREASTS' SHAPE IS CAUSE TO SEARCH FOR CANCER

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.
The most common location for cancer is the female breast. Rare before the age of 25, cancer of the breast increases in frequency as the years go by. Every woman should know that if cancer of the breast is discovered early enough, the chances of complete cure are excellent.

Consequently, it is now believed that women should be taught to examine their own breasts, and if anything abnormal is found, to seek professional assistance at once. The more this is done, the more rapidly will real progress be made toward the control of the disease.

The symptoms are important, because they lead to that early diagnosis which is so important. A lump in the breast calls for immediate investigation.

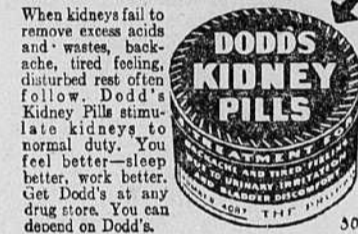

Some people mistakenly believe that cancer of the breast cannot be present unless the nipples are pulled in or actually inverted. It is true that this may be a symptom (although generally a late one), but it is also true that the ripples can be turned inward from causes other than cancer.

More important than turning in of the nipples is a flattening of some portion of the breast. Any change in the shape of the breast which has not been present before is suspicious. Also any discharge or secretion from the nipple should be cause for prompt study. Pain, burning and other sensations are rare in the early stages of cancer.

Once a lump or suspicious area of the breast has been found, proper treatment involves prompt surgery with the removal of some of the tissue from the lump and its examination under the microscope. Prompt Action Saves Grief.

This tissue can be frozen, stained and examined almost at once.

SWEETSBURG

The nursing staff of the B.M.P. Memorial Hospital gave a delightful farewell party for Miss Winifred King, R.N., and presented her with a useful gift prior to her departure for Richmond to act as supervisor of schools. Miss King, who has served faithfully as head nurse at the Sweetsburg hospital, replied with sincere thanks to all for the enjoyable event. She will be greatly missed in this locality.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dickson, of Montreal, were Labor Day weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Beaudoin.

Mr. Ray Riegel spent several days over the holiday week-end at his home near Albany, N.Y. Mrs. E. Teel and Mrs. Lillian Standish were at Granby on August 30 attending the wedding of Miss Betty Whitehead.

so that if cancer cells are found the entire tumor and surrounding breast tissue can be removed without further delay. The longer the cancer has been present, the more danger there is that it will recur.

The most important thing to remember is that any change in the appearance of the breast should be promptly recognized and expert opinion sought at once.

Those who delay treatment because of fear that cancer may be found are extremely short-sighted, because it is in early stages that complete cure is possible. In this form of cancer in particular a little more knowledge and prompt action can save untold grief.

C. W. L. OF CANADA SHERBROOKE SUBDIVISION

The Sherbrooke subdivision of the Catholic Women's League of Canada held its first fall meeting in the Canon Fissette Memorial Library, St. Patrick's Church Hall, on Tuesday evening, September 2. The president, Mrs. E. J. Wolfe, opened proceedings with the League Prayer, the Prayer for the Holy Father and prayers for the repose of the souls of His Excellency, Most Rev. Archbishop P. S. Desranleau, whose death occurred in May; Mr. Hertel St. Laurent, Mrs. E. M. Stevens and Dr. Bourassa, and Mrs. J. Coffey, past national president of the Catholic Women's League of Canada, who passed away last week in Montreal.

The correspondence, read by Mrs. C. W. Clark, included several thank you notes for attentions given to the sick in hospitals and in homes, and from the bereaved, and a letter from Miss Winnifred Farmer, librarian, in which she thanked the C. W. L. for subscriptions to the Ensign, Catholic weekly paper, and the Catholic Digest, donated to the public library.

Miss Aye Walsh, convener of social service, reported having given out nine orders of groceries during June, July and August, and thanks to the generosity of a member, she had been able to provide a bed, stove, icebox and baby cot to a needy family. Miss Walsh made an appeal for good used clothing required by children of school ages.

Mrs. Arthur Harris, convener for Stella Maris, stated she would shortly have material and wool on hand for making ditty bags, socks and sweaters for the Catholic Sailors' Club, Montreal, and asked for workers.

Program convener, Mrs. N. B. Farrell, said she hoped to present an interesting program after every regular meeting, which would be followed by refreshments.

The president made the following announcements regarding activities:

The rummage sale at the market, for the social service fund, will take place on Friday, September 26. The annual membership tea will be held in St. Patrick's Church Hall on Saturday afternoon, October 4, and a sale of food and fancy articles will be sponsored at the Christmas tea.

Mrs. Wolfe also announced that the provincial convention, which will take place in Drummondville on Friday and Saturday, September 12 and 13, when the ladies of the Drummondville subdivision of the Catholic Women's League of Canada will act as hostesses.

Ways and means to further the plan, "To bring Christ back into Christmas," started last year by the Catholic Women's League, were discussed and hopes were expressed that co-operation would be given the promoters.

The cordy felt by the members of the Sherbrooke subdivision at the passing of Mrs. Jeremiah Coffey, was expressed by Miss Florine Mullins, a charter member.

Mrs. Coffey, she said, was an outstanding past national president. The prominence she attained in Canada was due to her ability as a leader in religious, social and educational causes. She possessed an alert mind, a remarkable memory and a gracious manner and was considered an authority on protocol. These and all her gifts were at the disposal of anyone seeking advice, especially a member of the Catholic Women's League. Mrs. Coffey was always at the "beck and call" of the Sherbrooke subdivision, which is deeply indebted to her for timely suggestions and assistance, which were particularly helpful in its early stages when struggles are experienced by a small subdivision. The motion that Miss Yvette Campbell represent the Sherbrooke Catholic Women's League at Mrs. Coffey's funeral was approved.

INDIANS CHOP YANKS' LEAD AS GIANTS GAIN ON DODGERS

Left Arms Of Lopat And Roe Hold Key To Major League Pennants As Teams Prepare For Home-Stretch

Cleveland Indians gained ground on New York Yankees in the American League pennant race Sunday while Brooklyn Dodgers encircled their lead over New York Giants in the National to five games.

Husky Mike Garcia and Steve Brown to cut the Yanks' advantage to two games. The Yanks defeated Washington 5-1 behind the eight-hit pitching of Ed Lopat and a grand-slam pinch-hit run by Johnny Mize.

Preacher Roe, a surprise starter, backed by four home runs, hurled the Dodgers to a 4-1 victory over the Giants in the third game of their five-game series which will be completed Monday with a day-night doubleheader.

Other American League games saw Boston Red Sox trounce Philadelphia Athletics 12-5 and Detroit Trip Chicago White Sox 4-2 in remaining National League games, St. Louis nosed out Pittsburgh 4-3, Chicago Cubs tripped Cincinnati, 6-1, and Philadelphia Phillies edged Boston Braves 2-1, after the Braves completed Saturday night's suspended game by posting a 3-1 triumph.

Garcia blanked the Browns on six hits in posting his 19th victory and fifth shutout in the opener at Cleveland. The Indians solved former teammate Gene Bearden for only four hits but bunched two of them along with two walks to score three runs in the first inning. Luke Easter tripled in the first run and Harry Simpson the next two with a double.

The Indians also were out in the second game 8-5 but the Tribe won out in the third when Wally Westlake's easy fly to centerfield with the bases loaded was blown out of J. W. Porter's reach for a three-run double.

Mize's game-winning homer was his first in Washington's Griffith Stadium. The blow gave Mize the distinction of hitting a homer in 15 major league parks including Baker Bowl, former home of the Phillies. The blow also was the Big Cat's 354th of his career.

The Red Sox continued to plaster the friendly left field wall at Fenway Park in smashing the A's. Boston's 12-hit attack included homers by Don Magglio and Howie Evers and a three-run double by Johnny Ligon. Ligon's two-bagger featured a seven-run eighth inning rally that snapped a 5-5 draw.

Lefty Ted Gray gained his 12th victory for the tail-end Tigers in turning back Chicago. He scored twice himself on a pair of singles. Johnny Groth drove home two runs.

Roe limited the New Yorkers to three hits, one after the first inning, in taking the measure of Sal Maglie, an old Brooklyn nemesis. Home runs by Gil Hodges, Pee Wee Reese, George Shuba and Billy Cox cooked Maglie's goose.

The Giants, who swept a twin bill from the Braves Saturday started off as though they would make it three straight. Al Dark doubled and Whitey Lockman singled for a run in the first. After that Roe slammed the door until the ninth when Monte Irvin doubled with two out.

The victory was Roe's first over New York since July 4, 1951. Enos (Country) Slaughter was the big gun in the Cards' triumph over Pittsburgh. Slaughter tripled home three runs in the eighth and singled with the bases loaded in the ninth to give relief pitcher Al Brazle the victory.

Big Bob Ruth coasted to his 14th triumph of the season as the Cubs beat the Reds' Ken Raffensberger, an old jinx. Rush allowed only four hits.

Lew Burdette pitched the final inning and one-third of Saturday night's suspended game to save the

His 354th circuit cleft yesterday against Washington Senators at Griffith Stadium not only took care of the matter of the only park in which he hadn't connected previously, but it also gave the new York Yankees a 5-1 victory over the Nats—because the bases were loaded.

The grand slam was the husky Georgian's 354th home run of his big league career and his 1,981st lifetime hit.

Miss Doris Giroux And Fern Fontaine Cop Coogan Trophy; Miss Kittell And Kaye Huet Of Granby Take Low Cross

Miss Doris Giroux and Fern Fontaine, both from Granby, won the low gross honors in the annual Coogan Memorial Mixed Two-ball tourney, played at Lennoxville, but they only came after two playoffs.

In one of the closest contested tourneys of the season, the Granby team beat out their club-mates Miss Kay Topp and Don Doe. Both teams had 87 and they had a three-hole playoff and tied. A second three-hole playoff was called for and the match was decided by one stroke.

Three Rivers Yanks Take Two-Game Lead Over Quebec; St. Johns Edge St. Hyacinthe In P. B. L. Playoffs

The two top teams of the Provincial Baseball League today trailed in their best-of-seven semi-final playoff series which opened Saturday.

The pennant-winning St. Hyacinthe Athletics are behind 2-1 to St. Johns Canadians while Quebec Braves, who finished second at the end of the regular schedule, are two-down to the scrappy Three Rivers Yankees.

In the openers of the series the Yankees edged the Braves 3-1 and in Sunday's game won 8-1 as the Braves booted the ball five times. In St. Johns took their Saturday tilt 11-4, clefted again 10-7, in the first game Sunday but bowed in the return game 8-1 as Stan Watychoz, the Athletics' ace hurler, choked them off with three scattered hits.

Jim Ferrier Sets Record In Winning Empire Open
Albany, N.Y., Sept. 8.—(P)—Jim Ferrier won the Empire State Open golf tournament today, but failed to break the PGA tournament record of 259 over 72 holes.

The husky San Franciscan, who had burned up the course in the first three rounds, "blew" a 70 for a total of 262.

He went into today's final round with an 18-under-par 192 after scores of 63, 67 and 62. He needed 67 today to tie the record set by Ben Hogan and Byron Nelson.

High winds hampered Ferrier's play today over the 6,148-yard Norman-side country club course. The win was Ferrier's first since he won the 1951 Canadian Open. He drew down first prize money of $2,400.

Slammin' Sammy Sneed of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., earned the second prize of $1,800 with a 268 after shooting a 67 today.

Ottawa Edges Verdun 12-9 In Q.R.F.U. Tilt

Montreal, Sept. 8.—(CP)—A last-minute touchdown gave Ottawa seconds a 12-9 victory over Verdun Bulldogs today in a senior Quebec Rugby Football Union game at suburban Verdun.

Quarterback Gene Robillard tossed a long forward to Chuck Paul for the winning marker.

Ottawa's Mel Featherstone bulldozed his way over the line for another touchdown in the first quarter.

Bob Pugh tossed a perfect pass to George Economides in the third quarter for Verdun's only touchdown.

In the other game Lakeshore Flyers easily defeated St. Aloysius 25-0.

Frank Sedgman Downs Gardner Mulloy In Straight Sets To Retain Title; "Little Mo" Cops Ladies' Championship

New York, Sept. 8.—Frank Sedgman of Australia and Maureen Connolly of San Diego, Calif., remain enthroned for a second year at the National Tennis Championships of the United States.

In one of the most crushing victories scored in the final round of the championship, Sedgman defeated 38-year-old Gardner Mulloy of Miami, Fla., 6-1, 6-2, 6-3 in forty-seven minutes today as 13,000 looked on in the Forest Hills Stadium of the West Side Tennis Club.

Mulloy, the oldest player to reach the final of the tournament since William Larned won his seventh title in 1911, could offer little resistance after his exhausting quarter-finals and semi-finals and main draws and got exactly the same number of games as the 24-year-old Sedgman allowed to Victor Seixas a year ago.

Probably never before has any player won two successive championships finals by such overwhelming margins. Nor is it recalled that any one ever went through a tournament with the

Winnipeg Blue Bombers Chalk Up Third Straight Win; Argos Swamp Als 43-0 And Tiger-Cats Dump Riders

Winnipeg Blue Bombers, who started slowly after a triumphant three-game exhibition tour of the East, are finally steering ahead in the Western Canada Football League.

Beaten in their first league encounter and held to a tie in their next game, they're now riding a three-game winning streak which shot them into first place.

Their latest victory came Saturday night when they fought from behind to defeat Edmonton Eskimos 21-12 with a touchdown with less than two minutes remaining.

The Eskimos' defeat, their third against one win and a tie, tumbled them into the cellar, a point behind Saskatchewan Roughriders who came through with an 18-8 decision over Calgary Stampeders.

The Stampeders' loss was their second straight after three successive wins and showed them into second place.

In the East's Big Four, Toronto Argonauts have proved the big surprise. They opened their home schedule Saturday by routing Montreal Alouettes 43-0 and now are in first place with two straight wins.

Hamilton Tiger-Cats upset by Argos a week ago, came back to trounce Ottawa Rough Riders 30-8 in the Grey Cup champions' home debut. The Riders and Tiger-cats now are tied for second place and the Alouettes trail with two losses.

In the Ontario Rugby Football Union Sarnia Imperials swept to their third straight win without defeat by whipping Windsor Royals 30-6 while second-place Toronto Balmly Beach scored their second win over Brantford Redskins with a 12-5 decision in a night game. Both Windsor and Brantford are quarterback Jack Jacobs took over from Joe Zaleski in the final quarter and spearheaded a 92-yard march that ended with a short touchdown toss to Andy Sokol.

Mel Embree and Jerry Palmer counted two other majors for Winnipeg while Bud Korcak converted all three touchdowns and kicked a field goal. Normie Kwong scored two touchdowns for Edmonton, both set up by long runs by Jim Chambers—one for 70 yards and the other for 37. Joe (The Toe) Aguirre caught a pass for another Edmonton major and kicked the convert on all three.

At Calgary, Glenn Dobbs shook off a knee injury which has kept him out of three games this season to lead Saskatchewan Roughriders to their win over the Stampeders. He tossed a touchdown pass to Bob Pelling and the Riders got two more majors as a result of Calgary fumbles.

Keith Spait's miscue on the Stamps' 23 gave the Riders a loss of so few games as did the blond quick footed Australian, who yielded only forty in winning twenty-one successive sets in seven matches.

Miss Connolly, who had rather a close call in her semi-final match Saturday with Shirley Fry, won with less difficulty today, from Doris Hart of Coral Gables, Fla., 6-3, 7-5. Like Sedgman, the blonde Little Californian, the second youngest player at 16 to win the women's title in her first triumphs a year ago, retained her crown and also scored her first triumph in July.

The final of the men's singles was not much of a show for the big crowd that turned out in the unusually cool weather and Mulloy, in speaking over the public address system after it was over, expressed his regret that he had not made more of a contest of it.

His apology was accepted with good humor by the crowd which well understood that he had been physically unable to play up to his full capacity after his ordeals of the two previous days.

Even had Mulloy been in full vigor he hardly could have hoped to defeat so young, fast and accomplished an opponent as Sedgman, with his speed around the court, his unerring anticipation and his great talent in taking the ball on the volley from any angle, angle and level below or above the net.

The graceful Australian who moves about as if he were the ball with less effort than any other player within memory—not even excepting Henri Cochet of France—has established himself beyond any question as the world's foremost amateur. The ease with which he dispatched his Davis Cup teammate, Mervyn Rose, after the latter had overcome Richard Savitt's most desperate efforts with his lightning swift southpaw service and stabbing volleys, should have convinced even the most skeptical.

In the third set the gallery was stirred to enthusiastic applause as Mulloy threw off his years and fatigue and attacked with a brilliance that even Sedgman could not resist at times, his passing shots, particularly from the backhand, stopped the Australian repeatedly.

Breaking through service in the second game amid cheers, Mulloy won the third quickly, with Sedgman falling to the ground in going after the ball. He carried his lead to 3-2, with the Australian unable to return service, and hope was born that he might make a match of it. But Sedgman stopped him, after he had come within a point of 4-2 with two passing shots, and won four successive games, three of them going to deuce, to end the match.

chance to march from there for a touchdown by Ken Charlton. Johnny Bright, star of the Stamps' first three wins, handed the Riders' another major when he fumbled on his 30, Holland Apin picking up the loose ball and running for the touchdown. All three majors were converted by Doc Warden.

Bob Shaw, the West's leading scorer last season, kicked two field goals for Calgary and Spait booted two singles for Edmonton.

Mr. Greene, addressing delegates to the three-day convention of the United States boxing world, said the increasingly tight hold on major boxing promotions exercised by the International Boxing Club and two major television chains was "lightening the nose around the first clubs which in the past have spawned the great champions in ring history."

Religions Band To Fight Emperor-Worship

By FRED SAITO
Tokyo.—Leaders of Japan's few Christians and millions of Buddhists have joined forces in an extraordinary alliance to fight a possible revival of state-supported emperor worship.

The Christians and Buddhists fear that now Japan is independent again, a new wave of nationalism may move ahy, he-speaked Emperor Hirohito back into his pre-war position as the high priest of Shinto, a demi-god on earth.

The outcry was touched off by the Emperor's visits to the grand shrine at Ise, and to the tombs of two of his illustrious ancestors near Kyoto and Nara, to report the face of Japan's new independence to the Shinto deities.

A statement, signed jointly by the Japan Christians' League, and by the Japan Buddhists' Association, was a blistering attack on the imperial journey.

"The Emperor's act violated the occupation decree for the separation of Shinto from the state," the statement said.

"The Emperor should not visit the shrine... If he does not wish to become a demi-god again to rule a 'divine' nation.

An editorial in Jinsha Shimpou, the official paper of the Shinto religion, said "Monarchs or heads of state of other countries where religions are separated from the state attend religious ceremonies."

"There are no reasons to object to the Emperor's worship of his own religion."

Tokujiro Kanamori, one of Japan's top constitutional lawyers, said: "As an individual, the Emperor may enjoy the full freedom of faith. Actually, he owns Shinto sanctuaries in his palace as his personal property, and is entitled to officiate at any religious ceremony in his personal capacity."

"It is unthinkable that the people would again try to grasp the fanatic Shintoism and to consider Japan a divinely-ordained land simply because the Emperor worships at the grand shrine."

Although many Christians and Buddhists have joined hands to fight a revival of state Shinto, their motives are different.

Christianity, with only about 2,500 churches and hardly more than 325,000 members, fears an ultimate return of government hostility to missionaries.

Buddhism, by far Japan's leading religion with 106,000 temples and 42,000,000 members, does not fear persecution but is still jealous of pre-war financial support of Shinto shrines as part of the state religion.

Over-riding all differences is the fear that the old, militant Shinto may revive again as a sinister faith manipulated by the military and the ultra-nationalists.

Egypt's Strong Man's Career An Open Book But New Aides Secret

By L. S. CHAKALES
Cairo.—Egypt's strong man, Major-General Mohamed Naguib, behaves in public like a man running for office.

But he isn't looking for votes. The Egyptian army's tanks and bayonets are ballots enough to keep him in office.

Son of an Egyptian police officer and a Sudanese mother, he likes people, thinks they are intelligent, patriotic and instinctively good. He doesn't have the feeling about the vast majority of politicians, though.

Naguib, a devout Moslem, told the attractive Mrs. Doria Shafik, Islam's most energetic suffragette, that women can be used in the army driving cars, trucks and performing other types of services.

The army is not in politics, he has reiterated since his coup d'etat which led to Farouk's abdication July 26. Politics should be left to politicians, he insists. However, he forced Farouk to accept the man of his choice—Aly Maher—as Premier when he sprang his coup.

Naguib has said he is only interested in the reconstitution of the army on a level commensurate with its value to the nation.

However he's let it be clearly understood that the army has a great interest in the purge of the corrupt politicians and public servants from the Egyptian administration.

He says the army will keep a close watch on how well the purge and social welfare programs get along. Colonel Mohamed Rashad Aghana, a trusted adviser, was simply an army career man when the coup came about. In a week's time he was elevated to minister and then to the three-man regency council.

Naguib wanted one of his own men on the council, a certain way of keeping posted on what transpired at the highest political level.

Yet there has been no indication that Naguib is trying to dictate to Premier Maher's government.

Of course Gen. Naguib is not alone in the "army movement." He is surrounded by a corps of young senior officers. Their identity is kept highly secret.

Efforts to learn any information about them generally end in failure. It is generally agreed that the young officers' group represents a good cross section of Egypt.

Naguib is stern, although not a martinet. British officers who have worked with him describe him as a man of integrity and ability.

After his successful coup, Naguib was riding down a principal street in his open car while thousands of persons cheered him and jammed around the vehicle.

He spotted someone in the crowd, got out and walked directly to an old woman struggling to get close to him. He leaned over and kissed her hand.

Father of three children, Naguib leads a simple home life. His salary is $287 a month. He lives within that salary. Soon after the coup he ordered all the fancy automobiles owned by the army for senior commanders sold. Jeeps are good enough, he said.

He speaks Italian, French and English. While a junior officer he earned two degrees at Fuad University.

Five times a day he turns toward Mecca and prays. During the holy month of Ramadan he rigidly holds to the rigorous fasting schedule which prohibits a Moslem from even taking a drink of water during the time the sun is in the sky.

Rust Long Problem For Grain Farmers

Regina.—The appearance of a new and virulent type of wheat-stem rust in Saskatchewan grain fields this summer accelerated interest in the development of a new wheat which would be resistant to the new rust.

Actually, warm dry weather later on retarded development of the rust known as race 15B, and it did much less damage than was at first feared. The particular wheat strains it had attacked here and in other provinces appeared to develop resistance as they matured.

The fungus known generally as wheat stem rust is capable of developing new strains or "races" as it winters on the barberry bush. It is necessary that the spores reproduce on barberry leaves.

The obvious solution was to eliminate barberry bushes, and this has been pretty well accomplished in Canada. But the rust spores reproduce again in the southern United States and Central America.

The first serious rust attack struck Saskatchewan in 1916. Then Marquis wheat became the popular wheat because of its resistance.

Stem rust attacks followed in 1921, 1923, 1927 and 1935, and the latter year was the worst in the province's history. A new rust-resistant variety, Thatcher wheat, replaced Marquis wheat in Canada after the 1935 outbreak and has retained its dominant position since.

The development of these rust-resistant wheats is a long and vital chapter in the history of the western grain belt. Thatcher wheat, for instance, was the product of a "double cross." Kanred was crossed with Marquis, and Lumilo was crossed with Marquis, and the products of these two crosses were themselves crossed. Kanred is a hard red spring wheat, and Lumilo is a highly rust-resistant durum wheat from southern Russia.

Two other well-known rust-resistant wheats have never gained the popularity of Thatcher. They are Apex, developed at the University of Saskatchewan, and Redman, originated by Dr. C. H. Goulden, now Dominion cerealist, and Dr. C. F. Peterson of the Federal Cereals Breeding Laboratory at Winnipeg.
