

Shuttling toward peace

Kissinger Mid-East visit may signify new accord

VAIL, Colo. (AP) — U.S. State Secretary Henry Kissinger says his new round of shuttle diplomacy stands a good chance of achieving an interim Israeli-Egyptian accord that will be "a significant step toward peace in the Middle East."

Negotiations have progressed to the point where all parties believe it would be useful for him to return to the Middle East "in an effort to bring the talks to a successful conclusion," Kissinger said Sunday.

The secretary told reporters at the Western White House he will leave Washington for Israel late Wednesday and later meet with President Anwar Sadat in Alexandria, Egypt. He also plans brief visits to Syria, Jordan and Saudi Arabia.

Announcement of the forthcoming trip followed the Israeli cabinet's approval of negotiations conducted so far between Kissinger and Israel's ambassador in Washington.

However, a communique issued after a four-hour cabinet meeting in Jerusalem said there are "important issues still to be settled" in trying to reach a new interim accord for disengagement of Israeli and Egyptian forces in Sinai.

SOME DISSATISFIED

Informed sources said several cabinet ministers were dissatisfied with terms of the agreement, contending that Israel was being short-changed.

Israeli Foreign Minister Yigal Allon said later he welcomes Kissinger's return to the Mideast, but "there are still problems of clarification and agreement."

In Cairo, a high-ranking Egyptian foreign ministry official said about the Vail announcement: "Of course it's good news."

At the Rocky Mountain resort where he is on a two-week working vacation, President Ford said in a statement Sunday:

"I have worked many hours with the secretary of state analysing and assessing the situation in the Middle East, and I have now directed him to return to that region in an effort to bring the discussions to a successful conclusion."

Kissinger said that among issues still to be worked out are the disposition of forces in the Sinai area and the proposed stationing of U.S. personnel to operate an electronic early warning system in the Sinai buffer zone.

PRESENCE ESSENTIAL

Such direct U.S. presence is considered essential to Israeli willingness to abandon the strategic Mitla and Gidi passes.

"The idea of a possible monitoring team has as yet not been fully decided," Kissinger said.

He added that in any case, "American participation would be entirely technical."

He emphasized that such a U.S. group, composed of about 100 civilian volunteers, would be stationed in the disputed Sinai territory "only if approved by Congress."

Kissinger said there would also be a United Nations force interposed between Egyptian and Israeli troops "in a zone of greater depth than has ever existed between hostile forces in the Middle East."

The Israeli cabinet statement Sunday said only that it authorized its negotiating team—Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin, Defence Minister Shimon Peres and Allon—"to continue negotiations on the basis of the positions adopted by the cabinet."

DERBY LINE, Vt. (RM) — Vermont State Police here say they have no knowledge of any unidentified flying objects (UFOs) sighted near this border community during the week-end.

A police spokesman said this morning the only reports they have heard about UFOs were from Sherbrooke news media.

According to the reports, the UFO was spotted late Saturday night and early Sunday morning in the Derby area. The reports said a number of townspeople chased the object both on foot and in cars until it disappeared.

Samuel Bronfman freed, 2 suspects arrested

NEW YORK (AP) — Kidnapped whisky heir Samuel Bronfman II was in safe seclusion at his mother's mansion today after being freed early Sunday by FBI agents from a Brooklyn apartment where he had been held bound and gagged since he was abducted eight days ago.

Meanwhile, authorities are discounting reports an alleged kidnapper's story that two men still at large planned the snatch.

Dominic Byrne, 53, who with Melvin Patrick Lynch,

37, a city fireman, is being held on charges of extortion and illegal use of the mails, was reported to have told police and the FBI the two unidentified men commandeered his car for the caper.

However, FBI Assistant

Director J. Wallace LaPrade said no other suspects are being sought and no further arrests are expected.

At a news conference Sunday, officials showed reporters the recovered $2.3 million in cash Bronfman's father paid for his son's return. The original $4.6-million ransom demand was halved during negotiations with the abductors. It has not been explained why.

Byrne and Lynch, both Irish-born, naturalized U.S. citizens, were to be arraigned today. Authorities said federal charges of kidnapping were not filed because the victim was not taken across state lines. But there remain state kidnapping charges which carry penalties of life imprisonment.

TV unsatisfactory, conference told

OTTAWA (CP) — Viewers eventually will ignore television news unless the networks broaden their perceptions of "what is relevant to the lives of North Americans," American Broadcasting Corp. reporter Peter Jennings said Sunday.

"Television has become in a sense an anesthesia," Mr. Jennings told 58th annual convention of the Association for Education in Journalism. "We are... becoming less and less satisfying to our consumers."

Mr. Jennings, Washington, D.C. correspondent for ABC's morning public affairs show, said the major networks in the United States and Canada "are too rigidly wed to event-journalism."

More attention should be paid to social and cultural changes, "the complexities and tensions of North American life."

Mr. Jennings, who worked for the CBC before moving to the United States, said the major North American television networks have not substantially altered their news formats in 10 years.

MORE ACTIVIST

"We are still... rigid in our perception of what is news," he said. "We need, in short, to be a more activist industry."

The networks concentrated primarily news reports from Washington, D.C. and Ottawa "with virtually no playback from the people whose lives we are supposed to be affecting."

There was little communication between television networks and the viewers.

"It is shocking to see how little they really share their lives with us."

Games 'won't cost a cent' — Drapeau

MONTREAL (CP) — Mayor Jean Drapeau told a national radio audience Sunday that he should be in a position "in about three months" to show the Canadian taxpayer that the 1976 Olympic games "won't cost them a cent."

Mr. Drapeau, who has maintained the Games would be self-financing, said experts were studying proposals to generate more revenue for the Games.

"Some of the ideas would cost more to implement than they would produce," he said, "but others are good, and perhaps in three months, I can reassure the pessimists."

The mood of the callers to the CBC openline program, Summer Switchboard, was mixed with almost equal amounts of abuse and praise from callers.

One caller, a woman from Calgary, Alta., said she expected to hear any day now that the mayor had delivered quintuplets, a reference to Mr. Drapeau's comment earlier that "it is no more possible for the Olympics to produce a deficit than it is for a man to have a baby."

At the end of the program, the mayor said: "I will have to come out with something to prove the games will be self-financing."

Two escape at Waterloo

WATERLOO (JM) — There were two escapes from the provincial detention center here Saturday. Serge Larocque, 21, of Rosemont, who was serving 14 months for qualified robbery and having been illegally at large left the compound between 3-5 p.m. QPF sources in Granby say he is 5 foot 11 inches tall, has brown hair and eyes and is not considered dangerous. They also revealed his escape occurred shortly following a visit from a friend who is also well known to police. QPF spokesman Rene Julien said Gerald Laframboise, 19, of Riviere des Prairies, an alleged friend of Larocque fled the provincial detention centre here during the sports hour Saturday evening.

Laframboise is 5 foot, 9 inches, 133 pounds, with light blond hair, blue eyes and pale complexion. He was serving nine months on charges of qualified robbery and theft.

Air show mishap occurs

MANSONVILLE (JM) — Yvon Lemay, 31, of Bromont, sustained injuries following an accident at an air show held here Saturday. QPF sources revealed that

Lemay, who was piloting a Cessna 150 with identification mark CF-ADK made an emergency landing in trees near the airport here. He was treated on the scene by Doctor Noel Etienne Monast, coroner for Brome County, who was a spectator and then taken to the Brome-Missisquoi-Perkins Hospital, Swetsburg.

His passenger, Robert Barry, 28, of Pointe Claire, was uninjured.

The aircraft was owned by Albert Korman of Mansonville. Investigators from the Ministry of Transport are trying to determine the cause of the crash.

Accident claims two

SOUTH STUKELY (JM) — Two persons were killed here early Sunday morning in a head-on collision. Daniel Drolet, 20, of St. Rosalie and Vincent Jean, 18, of Valcourt were killed when their car collided with one driven by Richard Stogoski, 21, of Mansonville. A passenger in Mr. Drolet's car, Daniel Brien of Granby, is in the Shefford General Hospital, Granby, with injuries to his left femur and his pelvis. Mr. Stogoski was taken to the same hospital for treatment of contusions to his facial area and his thorax.

Sherbrooke authorities reported very little in the way of statistics during the opening weekend on the Sherbrooke Fair. Municipal police gave the only accident as one which occurred this morning at 6:45 a.m. at the corner of King West and Ontario streets. The two cars involved, driven by Raymond Hayes and Amin Hassan, both of Sherbrooke, received over $500 in damages each. Mr. Hayes was injured slightly and both men were sent to St. Vincent de Paul Hospital for examination.

Sherbrooke detachment of the Quebec Police Force reported no incidents over the weekend. The fire department handled a few minor calls, including a Saturday false alarm in King East. Four trucks from stations one and four rushed through mid-afternoon traffic to answer the false alarm.

End to strike seen

QUEBEC (CP) — Quebec Premier Robert Bourassa said Sunday he is confident "common sense" will finally bring about a solution to the strike at Pratt and Whitney.

"Our role in conflicts in the private sector is to bring the parties together," Mr. Bourassa said. "To this end we have made considerable effort."

The premier presented union and management representatives with recommendations Friday outlining back-to-work procedures for 782 men on strike since Jan. 7, 1974.

Both sides in the dispute have said the only impediment to the signing of a collective agreement is the process of rehiring for those strikers who wish to return to work.

"I decided Friday to propose in a definitive and final manner a solution acceptable to the two parties," the premier said.

"Even if this solution demands several concessions on the part of the company, concessions which involve important changes from their final offer, I decided to ask them to accept this solution."

REPLY TODAY

"They are supposed to give me a reply by Monday."

The premier said Pratt and Whitney (formerly known as United Aircraft) had assured him 90 per cent of the strikers will be able to return to their old jobs.

Mr. Bourassa's recommendations call for the company to rehire 504 workers within three weeks of the signing of a collective agreement. The remaining strikers would be reinstated by February, 1976.

Originally, Pratt and Whitney offered to rehire the strikers by July, 1976, as jobs became available. But the company would not guarantee employment for all.

The premier also proposed that the strike period be counted towards seniority and that union members returning to work be reinstated to their proper job rankings and pay scales within 12 weeks of the signing of a new agreement.

Canada in focus

Price fixing feared

TORONTO (CP) — The CBC says a 2½-year investigation by the federal government into possible price fixing in the fertilizer industry will likely result in criminal charges being laid by the department of consumer and consumer affairs.

The network says that close inter-company cooperation—to the extent of making and shipping fertilizer to each other—has been the focus of industry criticism for years.

The Manitoba government wants fertilizer companies treated as public utilities or nationalized, the CBC says.

Kelly communicates

NORTH BAY, Ont. (CP) — Police officials said Sunday they have received word that fugitive Donald Kelly has written three letters which he plans to send to the news media explaining his side of his story.

They said it was not known exactly what would be in the letters.

Kelly, 37, escaped Aug. 2 from the North Bay district jail, where he was awaiting trial on two counts of murder. Thursday morning, a man identifying himself as Kelly held 11 persons at gunpoint for 15 hours in a camping area north of here. The campers later told police that the gunman had made vague references to writing letters.

He let the hostages take his picture, while keeping them under control with two rifles, and autographed a Super Hero comic book for them, police said.

The man told campers he had a sack of dynamite and would not hesitate to use it, but police said they had no knowledge of any dynamite being stolen in the area.

Stanstead Historical Society meets

STANSTEAD — Professor Joel Andress of Washington State College was the guest speaker at the Stanstead Historical Society annual summer meeting held Saturday, August 9 at the Centenary United Church hall in Stanstead with tea to follow at the historic Lee Farm, home of Dr. H. Banting in Rock Island.

It was a beautiful afternoon and some 250 people interested in the early history of the area came from many points of the United States and Canada.

Many plan their holiday to coincide with the society date.

In keeping with the Canadiana lighting theme at the Beebe Museum this year, antique candle holders and lighted candles were used in the church hall. Douglas Farrow, member of the society Executive, took charge of the hall arrangements, using potted flowers as well as arrangements of garden flowers in antique styling.

A.E. Curtis, President, welcomed the large assembly. Lorne Ogilvie, one of the vice-presidents on museums, welcomed each at the door. Denis Cloutier, president of the Granby Historical Society, was extended a warm welcome.

On hundred years ago, in 1815 the Advent Christian Camp Grounds were established and the eight acres of land purchased. In recognition of this Rev. Charles Bentley of Newport Center, the Camp Grounds president, was given a Historical Society one hundred year property certificate. The presentation was made by J.D. Ferguson, Honorary President of the Society. Rev. Bentley spoke gratefully for the honor conferred upon them. Although several properties in the same family for a hundred or more years have been presented, this is the first time one has been made to a church property.

Mr. Curtis, Society president, paid high tribute to the late Joseph Maheux and his great work in the society. His death occurred a few weeks ago and he will be missed in the society as well as the communities.

The names of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard McGilton, Mr. and Mrs. H.H. Skelton have been added to the Life Membership list. Mr. McGilton is now deceased. The first life membership scroll is now full and Mr. Lewis of Lennoxville will start upon the second. Words of tribute were spoken about the excellent work of Mr. Lewis.

Mr. Curtis announced the June resignation of Mrs. Simone DuBois as the Society treasurer and accorded her a vote of thanks, also mentioning Mrs. DuBois is continuing to be in charge of the J.D. Ferguson room at the Beebe museum.

Malcolm MacDonald, who has replaced Mrs. DuBois, was introduced.

In his report of the museums, Mr. Curtis said the work at the Beebe Museum is continuing with Miss Aline Ricard there doing part time work. The military work is one of the best exhibits of its kind in Canada. The work of Dr. Banting in the Canadiana lighting room is progressing and all rooms are worth visiting. It has been pleasing to note increased visitations to both the Beebe and the Barn Museums.

Mr. Curtis announced the annual fall pilgrimage will be October 4, an all day trip to the Melbourne Museum. Further announcement will be made later.

The 1976 meetings and speakers have been arranged and were announced by Mr. Curtis. He made note of the government grants to each museum which totals $5,000.

Dr. H. Banting, a vice-president of museums, spoke about visitors coming to the museums that included many in groups. She noted repairs have been done to the Barn Museum. Dr. Banting made reference to the great undertaking of a few who manage these two growing museums. She mentioned the Canadiana lighting room in Beebe and her working committee, especially Mrs. Eric Morrison of Coaticook.

Volume 6 of the Society Journals are now on sale and many were purchased at the meeting. Others are available at the museum and from the executive.

Professor Andress was introduced by Lloyd Bliss of Beebe. He is a former resident of the area.

Professor Andress said he wished to share with the assembly some of his studies of the pioneers of Stanstead Township. Settlers pioneered the township from about 1796 to 1832.

He said much of his information had come from a study of Forest and Clearings first published by B.F. Hubbard in 1874 and reprinted in 1966. From this book Prof. Andress found it possible to derive from its extensive biographical and genealogical date estimates for pioneer times of birth rates, death rates, infant mortality, life expectancy, and average family size.

There were a few towns that contributed more adult pioneers than others. Such places as Epsom, Candia, Marlow and especially Loudon, New Hampshire and Williamsburgh, Massachusetts are the most significant in a collection of some 130 towns he had done research on. Most of these settled in the Stanstead region.

Migration was rapid the first few years, particularly from 1800 and 1804, then much lower in the years to follow. Johnson Taplin was the first Stanstead settler.

Prof. Andress mentioned a few names recognized by many historians of the area: the Morrills, five Bachelors; three Boyntons; Judith Ladd, Lois Moulton and Nathan Davies.

From Epsom came a majority of people who settled in Cassville which was then a thriving community begun in 1799 by an association of nine partners. Four of the partners were Epsom people.

Another group came from Marlow, New Hampshire in stages between 1799-1803 and settled in what was called Marlow but known now as Marlinton, near Beebe. Others settled in Fitch Bay, Griffin Corner and Comstock Mills (Tomifobia) from 1803 to 1822.

Six Brown families came to what we know as Brown's Hill to settle farm land from 1803 to 1818. From Williamsburgh, Mass., came Reuben Bangs in 1800; Dr. Isaac Whitaker, 1799; Selah Pomeroy, 1798; James Bangs in 1800.

Prof. Andress's studies noted a slump in migration during 1812-1814, the war years; then an increase after the war, mostly Scots. In 1829 Rev. Joseph Gibb and his wife came from Scotland. Then came the Munros, Lorimers, Frasers, Simpsons and others to settle the Beebe area.

Prof. Andress was thanked warmly by M. Pelley. Mr. Curtis thanked members of the press and other news media for their publicity of the Society; Mrs. Carman Hamilton thanked the hostesses who had arranged the tea and Dr. Banting for the use of her lawn for the reception.

A social time was enjoyed as were the delicious refreshments served by a committee of Mrs. Dorcas Pocock, Mrs. Margo Skelton, Mrs. Thelma Dustin, Mrs. Vera Ogilvie, Mrs. J.S. McCannel assisted by others.

CENTURY CERTIFICATE — J.D. Ferguson, right, presents a one hundred year property certificate to Rev. Charles Bentley, left, president of the Beebe Camp Ground Association, which has been active since 1875.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Though you're often more comfortable acting independently, it behooves you today to be a team player. The right associate can advance your interest.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Success may not come on the first try today. If you're persistent and hang in there, it won't elude you for too long.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Prompt action on your part today can turn a speculative situation around to where it's a benefit, rather than a liability.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) A matter you're very concerned about because it affects others as well as yourself looks like it'll work out nicely.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You anticipate more opposition on an issue than you will actually get. Don't let your self-doubts hold you back from trying.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Stand up for your rights today where work or career is concerned. If you feel entitled to additional compensation, speak out.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Don't make a hasty negative assessment of one you'll be meeting socially. Get to know this person better. You'll have much to share.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You may have to step-in today to protect the interests of one you feel responsible for, when you see him getting a bum shake.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) A close friend and yourself are operating on the same wave, though neither will think so at first. The gaps between your ideas aren't wide.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Your material prospects will be brightening but returns may not be immediate. However, they'll be there when needed.

AQUARIUS (Jan 20-Feb. 19) Plans you hope to realize in the near future will be slightly changed. The alteration will prove beneficial.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Your chances of succeeding in an important endeavor will be very promising the next couple days. Do what needs to be done quietly.

Your Birthday
Aug. 19, 1975

You will form two totally unrelated, advantageous, associations this year. One will benefit you socially; the other will be helpful careerwise.

The defense was short, sweet and unsuccessful. East rose with the ace of diamonds and returned the king of spades. It held and he continued with the queen. West thought about overraking but finally ducked. East led a diamond and South rattled off the rest of the tricks. "You play like a jackass," shouted East. "Don't you know that I would have raised you in spades if I held king-queen and another."

West was tempted to stand up and poke East in the nose, but refrained for two reasons. First of all, he was a trifle ashamed of his play, but secondly he had a beautiful sarcastic speech ready.

"You know," he told his partner, "there is a traditional way to get a jackass' attention. You hit him over the head with a two by four. You could have obtained this effect by leading the queen and then the king of spades. This unnatural play could mean just one thing. You held just two spades. I would have risen with my ace and given you a ruff to set the contract."

Ask the Jacobys

A Michigan reader wants to know the correct response to partner's one-diamond opening when holding:

♠ A K 6 4 ♥ Q 5 ♦ 4 2 ♣ K Q 9 3 2

The correct response is two clubs. You are on your way to game or higher and the most important thing for you to do is to give your partner correct information about your distribution. Make sure he will know that you hold more clubs than spades.

Court house talks planned

SHERBROOKE (RM) — the municipal council in this matter." Mr. Pepin said yesterday he plans to consult soon with the Minister of Justice on the construction of a new court house for Sherbrooke.

Mr. Pepin said he will have the meeting with Gerard D. Levesque following consultations with the city officials and members of the local bar.

City council earlier this month supported a proposal to the provincial government by the Sherbrooke Downtown Corp., calling for the anticipated new court house to be located downtown, most likely on the site of the former New Sherbrooke Hotel.

The idea is further supported by Mr. Pepin, who said "it is up to the government of Quebec to support the municipal council in this matter."

He reiterated the city's and the Downtown Corporation's argument that a new court house downtown would be both more practical and a positive asset to the $3 million revitalization of the King-Wellington North district.

Reports say the government has been seriously considering placing the new court house, along with other governmental services, in one complete building on Marquette Street, away from the downtown district.

Meanwhile, Gerard Deziel, MNA for St-Francois county which includes the East Ward, has indicated he wants the new court house in his constituency, near St. Francois Street.

Manpower found 900 students summer jobs

SHERBROOKE (RM) — Even with the slow economic conditions, the Canada Manpower Center for Students was able to find work for 900 students.

Alain Emond, in charge of the Center in Sherbrooke, said recently that this year's results are about equal to last year's. A total of 3,000 students, 16 years and over and looking for summer employment, were assisted by the Center since April.

Not only were students satisfied with finding work, but employers were responsive to their efforts, said Mr. Emond.

"All summer long, we never got a call from an unsatisfied employer," he said, adding: "Employers have begun to realize that students can be good, dynamic workers."

The Center earlier this summer visited about 1000 potential student employers, with only a "small minority" resistant to the idea of hiring a student, Mr. Emond said. The efforts of the Center were aided by free publicity and advertisements in local electronic and print media, including The Record.

MERITOUS EMPLOYERS
Earlier this week, the Center held an employer's day at its 31 King Street West offices, where three were chosen "most meritorious employers" of students during the summer.

The titles, based on the number of students hired, working conditions, wages and length of employment, were given to Morin, Pelletier, Roy and Associates; the St. Vincent de Paul hospital; and Produits Lionel de Lennoxville.

The Center also engaged this year in a "mobility program," which saw 32 students sent to jobs across the province and throughout Canada for the summer.

The Center handled both English and French students, finding work for them not because of their language but strictly on their merits.

The Center will close at the end of this month, after four months of operations. Mr. Emond suggested employers looking for students to work part-time during the school year contact the Canada Manpower Centers at the Sherbrooke CEGEP or the University of Sherbrooke.

Pre-natal clinic set

A pre-natal clinic will be held in the Sherbrooke United Church from 2 to 3:30 p.m. Wednesday, August 20 sponsored by the County Health Clinic.

Bedford Fair—a good time was had by all

LOTO-PERFECTA RACE — Bedford Fair fans had a chance to gamble at the track over the weekend as the fair was the site for the Loto-Perfecta race. It's hard to resist

BEDFORD (JM) — Organizers of the 147th annual Missisquoi County Fair had father nature on their side this year. One could paraphrase Giovanni Guareschi in the "Little World of Don Camillo": "The hot summer sun beat down on our heads like a hammer in a little village in the valley of Pike River..."

Bedford police chief Georges Perron said attendance was light Thursday and Friday, although they had a good attendance Friday evening. "Its usual attendance is low the first two days as people are working. In any event we are pleased with the show this year as the crowds have been orderly."

Fair president Andre Briand expressed his appreciation of the cooperation of the steering committee of the Sherbrooke Fair. "They went out of their way to allow us our delay in holding the fair this year. Without their cooperation many of the fine cattle on display would have been shown in Sherbrooke instead of here. I, as well as my fellow directors, am deeply appreciative of the steps they took to allow exhibitors the opportunity of showing their animals at both fairs."

The two outstanding features of the current fair were the horse races and the excellent display of farm machinery. One exhibitor said the sales this year were far beyond his wildest expectations.

"Crowds, from appearances Saturday afternoon, were scant. Possibly 230 people watched the races, some of which were sponsored by Loto-Perfecta. The sun was hot and the metal seats in the grandstand made one start with a mite more than surprise when trousers came in contact with the seat surfaces."

The midway was located in a partially shaded area which probably saved youngsters from sun stroke. Hunter and western horse shows were held in the arena.

Mr. and Mrs. David Yuile, Pierrefonds Farm, Brome, copped grand champion in Aberdeen Angus. The Beaton brothers, North Hill Farms, Gould, won the same honor in Short Horns. Fiona Farms, Cowansville, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Sanborn and family, took grand champion for Guernseys, while Georges Gladu, Gladale Farm, Farnham, won top honors in Holsteins.

Herdsmen S.A. Hatch, Maple Drive Farm, Stanstead, led his Suffolk sheep to the top of their class. Local publicans were loathe to criticize the operation of the Bavarian Beer Garden on the fair grounds, although they readily admitted it cut into their normal rate of sale during fair time.

"I'm lucky I have a wedding reception," said one hotel owner. "If I didn't the hotel would not have covered operating costs today. Still I don't begrudge the beer garden as it helps draw the crowds and the fair has to make money to survive."

Cooperation and friendliness were the order of the days of this year's Bedford Fair. Attendance figures were not available when we went to press.

Magog council holds meeting

MAGOG (BP) — Magog municipal council held their regular monthly session on August 7, with many reports from committee meetings from July taking up the agenda.

The director of police was authorized to purchase portable radar equipment from Canadian General Electric for $1,238 plus tax, as well as various other equipment according to the quotations from J.R. Gaunt.

The council committee resolved unanimously that Les Entreprises Wilfred Cote Inc. would be allowed to open a belt road between Voyer and Mgr. Racine streets at a cost entirely to the company.

A tender submitted by Honeywell on July 16 covering required material for an automatic water level control system was accepted for the sum of $3,642, plus federal and provincial taxes.

An order was transmitted to the fire department stating that they will fight fires outside city limits with their new fire truck if the necessity arises.

In the August meeting, decisions were made on numerous subjects, including tenders for paving of various streets amounting to $58,206.75. Sintra Inc. beat out the other firm which submitted a bid by over $3,300.

Notice of motion was given for an amendment to the present by-law 613, an amendment concerning construction and zoning by-law 362 to provide protection against backing-up of sewer water. Another notice of motion was given for the adoption of a by-law to allow use of municipal poles and other installations by public utility enterprises.

The Magog Boy Scout Association was granted $200 by council, as allowed for by the budget.

Waterloo to hire sports and recreation director

WATERLOO (RH) — The town of Waterloo will hire a sports and recreation director, town councillors of that community decided at a regular town council meeting held there on August 12.

The council made the decision because the municipality now owns a large amount of sports equipment which councillors feel must be administered by an expert, and because there are many buildings as well that must be coordinated. The municipality intends to apply to the provincial government for 50 per cent of the funds required to pay the new director.

In other council news, two stop signs will be placed on Western St., Mario St. intersection, it was decided, following a number of residents' complaints over the speed with which some motorists drive through the area. The decision was taken on a police department recommendation. The monthly budget report was given and the accounts were approved.

Child, adolescent psychiatry services to be offered at CHU

SHERBROOKE (RH) — The Department of Social Affairs will authorize CHU here to offer a complete service in child and adolescent psychiatry, it was learned recently.

In a letter from Deputy Minister of Social Affairs Dr. Jacques Brunet, CHU was given the mandate to establish the program, because, according to the department, child and adolescent psychiatry is a priority in the Eastern Townships.

The hospital made the request in February to start offering the services as the result of a government-hospital study indicating such a service was needed, and the hospital asked for annual operating funds of $300,000. A final recommendation is expected by the government in the near future.

Woburn gets grant

WOBURN (RM) — The town of Woburn, along the Quebec-Maine border, will receive a sum of $82,500 over five years.

Megantic-Compton MNA Omer Dionne said Woburn is to use the sum for the construction of a new fire station and the purchase of a water tank truck.

Woburn presently operates its fire protection service jointly with neighboring Notre-Dame-des-Bois, Piopolis and Val Racine.

Natural death verdict given in prison case

SHERBROOKE (BP) — Coroner Hermann Mathieu rendered a verdict of natural death in the case of Michel Vigneault, 25, of Sherbrooke.

The body of Vigneault was found in his bed at the city jail on May 29. Mr. Mathieu dispelled all possibilities of a violent death to Vigneault, who was awaiting judgment and a request on detention.

The subject was stirred up by the visibility of an injury to the neck of the deceased. It was later revealed that he suffered from epileptic attacks. Vigneault had been known to have epileptic fits since 1964, the inquiry was told, and while working on a farm for Roy Baker of Bishopton on May 23, he suffered another attack. He was taken back to Sherbrooke to have his prescription refilled and was taken to trial for assault, of which he was acquitted after his death. He had been arrested of charges of rape and assault. Presently, the charges are being laid against another individual.

Vigneault was transferred to city jail, where he was under the surveillance of Andre Noiseux for his state of health. Noiseux transmitted information about Vigneault's epilepsy to head guard Oscar Laurendeau. Sergeant Laurendeau, in turn, communicated with prison doctor Alexandre A. Mignault, who prescribed medicine for Vigneault. Vigneault refused the medicine on grounds that he felt it wasn't suitable.

He returned to his companions in the cells and took an epileptic fit. It was said he emitted two gasps during the night. His rigid body was discovered in the morning, looking as if he had been through a fight.

Dr. Alexandre Gehami, a pathologist, said his opinion was that the deceased succumbed to asphyxiation due to congestion of several internal organs. He eliminated the possibility of manual strangulation. He didn't rule out, either, the hypothesis that Vigneault swallowed his tongue during the epileptic seizure.

39 Galt students to visit Labrador

A grant for $3,241 has been awarded to a group of Alexander Galt students to complete the return visit end of an exchange program involving students from the Peacock Academy in Happy Valley, Labrador.

Thirty-nine students from the many communities represented by Galt, and three teachers, will leave Sherbrooke on September 27 and travel by air from Dorval to Goose Bay pausing briefly for refueling at Churchill Falls.

After their visit they will return to this area on October 5. The stay in Happy Valley will include visiting classes in Peacock Academy, trips to area places of interest, and sharing the home life of the students there. In most cases Galt students will be guests in the homes of students they hosted during the Happy Valley visit to Galt this past May.

The grant, awarded by the Office of the Secretary of State, for the purpose of bringing together Canadians from different parts of the nation, will cover half of the travelling expenses, the remainder to be raised by the students and their teachers through self-initiated projects.

Danville

Mr. and Mrs. John McLeod and Miss Cynthia McLeod of Kirkland Lake were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm MacDonald, prior to going to Ayer's Cliff, where they are vacationing.

Sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Donald MacLeod of Hamilton, Ont., formerly of Danville at the accidental death of their son, which occurred on Aug. 4 as the result of a motorbike crash. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Robinson left on Tuesday to attend the funeral.

Friends of Mrs. Deane Olney will be pleased to learn that she is recuperating following surgery in the Sherbrooke Hospital, and will soon be home again.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Blemings of Port Credit, Ont. are spending a few days with Mrs. Blemings' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Frost.

Mrs. Howard Frost is a surgical patient in the Sherbrooke Hospital. All wish her a speedy recovery.

Penny's most recent win was at the Kingston City Obedience and Kennel Club show where she continued her record of never been beaten in her class. Mr. Macdivitt, retired from the Canadian Armed Service, is an employee of Hovey Manor in North Hatley and has only become active in show dogs recently. He also owns the top stud dog in the same class; CH. Ayr's Crandall Commanche Chief who is on a show tour of the Maritime provinces with his handler, Bob-John Ellieff from Toronto. He plans to enter Penny in the St. Francis Kennel Club show scheduled for the Sports Palace in Sherbrooke in September. (Record photo by Gordon Alexander)

A Mysterious Link

Doubtless Prime Minister Trudeau used his recent meeting with European statesmen in Helsinki to discuss his plan for a "contractual link" between Canada and the Common Market. He began this initiative in Europe last spring but after months of vague explanations in Ottawa a mystery remains. The Canadian people still do not know what their government is actually proposing. All it has said, so far, is that Canada seeks the expansion of its transatlantic trade by means undisclosed. While the objective is sound, and no one will quarrel with it, how can the Common Market give Canada preferential treatment without discriminating against other trading partners like the United States and inviting, probably ensuring, their retaliation? How does Mr. Trudeau's proposal fit the non-discriminatory, multilateral and worldwide General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade of which Canada was an original architect and is now a leading member? And how can the Canadian government convince its partners, in Europe and elsewhere, that it is ready to reduce trade barriers when it has erected the highest tariffs in the Western world?

By advocating a special arrangement of some sort with Europe Mr. Trudeau is wisely trying to reduce Canada's dependence on the single massive United States market and spread its foreign interests over a wider field. In the problems of commerce, as in all the problems of society, the prime minister relies on his familiar theory of countervailing forces to create a reasonable balance but at the moment the forces that work for freer trade are weak, the forces of protectionism strong in Europe, the United States and especially in Canada.

The latest negotiating round of GATT is stalled after its early hope of scaling down tariffs throughout the world. Having passed legislation which empowers the president to remove import restrictions, on a reciprocal basis, the United States Congress is hard pressed by business corporations and labor unions to do precisely the opposite and raise commercial barriers against competitive foreign goods. In Britain, Prime Minister Wilson says he is opposed to import controls but "if the slump doesn't begin to improve quickly we obviously reserve our rights to protect our balance of payments by various means." This is a plain threat to use controls if necessary at the time when GATT is attempting to liberalize the world market and reverse the slump.

In these circumstances Mr. Trudeau's "contractual link" seems to ask too much or too little. The Common Market cannot grant Canada a bilateral tariff arrangement without violating the GATT contract in principle and antagonizing the United States in fact. But if Canada aimed at a higher target and revived the concept of a transatlantic free or almost free trade community (including Japan on the Pacific) then it would seek the enlargement, not the contraction, of GATT. It would reintroduce into practical world politics the larger design first proposed by President Kennedy in the United States and later abandoned because Europe rejected it in favor of its protected Common Market.

Towns polluting Massawippi

(Ed. Note: The following is a letter recently sent to Maclean's Magazine. A copy was also sent to the Sherbrooke Record and is reprinted as follows.)
 To the Editor:

I just noticed in your May issue an article extolling the quaint wonders of the Eastern Townships in La Belle Province. In that piece, by Betty Guernsey, the virtues of Lake Massawippi as an unpolluted vacation resort are laid bare for all Canada to see.

Now that you've given our little hideaway national exposure, I must disillusion you and your readers by pointing out that Lake Massawippi has a substantial pollution problem.

Letter to the Editor

(You blew it on the research, Betty.)

Lake Massawippi, like most glacial lakes in the Eastern Townships, is fed by a combination of underground springs, runoff and a large tributary. Unfortunately, that tributary (the Tomfobia or Tomfobia, whichever you like) borders on 17 municipalities, nine on the Canadian and eight on the shores of our southern neighbors. The river loops across the border near Derby Line, Vermont, collecting raw sewage. Then it passes through a few more polluting Canadian towns for good measure and eventually dumps its junk into Lake Massawippi.

Due to the valiant efforts of the Massawippi Water Protection Association, many homeowners on the lake have repaired or replaced septic fields which used to pollute the lake. The town of Ayer's Cliff, bordering on the lake, has also installed a comprehensive sewage treatment plant with partial financing from the Quebec government. But meanwhile, Canadian and American municipalities continue to pollute the river which feeds the lake. The Quebec government might as well have thrown its money down the sewer pipe, because pollution prevention hasn't been followed by sewage treatment in towns bordering the Tomfobia River.

Today, a forest of weeds greets vacationers in many locations on the lake — a sure sign of pollution by phosphates and nutrients. The frightening thing is that once this process passes a certain point (which the lake is fast approaching) it takes decades to reverse. Meanwhile, nutrients feed algae in the lake to the point where most plant and fish life dies for lack of oxygen. One lake only 40 miles east of Lake Massawippi has long passed this point, making the use of its waters virtually impossible.

Surely, I need not expound on the pros and cons of letting a lake like this die. But the municipalities who pollute our lake without seeing it understandably don't give a damn about what happens down the river. It's high time the Quebec government and International Joint Commission got together and pressured these towns into cleaning up their act. This takes money and time, all the better reasons for starting now.

So, Maclean's, things are not always as they seem. As a former journalist and part-time resident of Lake Massawippi, I ask you to correct the false impression given your readers and bring to national attention this deplorable situation.

Cooperatively,
 Douglas Mulhall,
 Ottawa, Ont.

Ford shows ability in political field

WASHINGTON (CP) — As the Republican party begins its warm up for the 1976 presidential election, President Gerald Ford is proving he can play political hardball just as well as he once played college football.

The unelected president, who succeeded a disgraced Richard Nixon a year ago, has ensconced himself so firmly in office that veteran political observers now believe he is virtually unassailable from any potential challenger among the Republicans.

But speculation still swirls around one party stalwart who has managed to keep open the possibility of taking on Ford in a contest for the Republican nomination next summer: Actor-turned-politician Ronald Reagan.

Reagan, too, is adept at the rough-and-tumble of politics and he is reputed to have a far larger following in the conservative right wing of the party than many outsiders realize.

Reagan, 63-year-old former governor of California who retired earlier this year at the end of his second term, has given his blessing to a large, fund-raising committee which has been set up in anticipation of a possible bid for the nomination.

FORD MANOEUVRES

But the most visible effect of his manoeuvring so far has been on 62-year-old Ford, once a star centre with University of Michigan football team.

Suddenly, Ford is showing that he is more—quite a bit more—than just the amiable, unpretentious, outgoing fellow he appears to be on the surface.

House minority leader until he was Nixon's vice-president in 1973, Ford has demonstrated clearly that he wants the presidency badly for an elected full term and that to get it he is ready to step hard on a lot of sensitive toes.

As his campaign manager he has appointed Howard (Bo) Callaway, a tough conservative who enjoyed immense success as Nixon's organizer in the South.

But that was just the first move toward snatching away Reagan's right-wing constituency. The next followed almost immediately when he authorized Callaway to say publicly that Vice-President Nelson Rockefeller, considered by rightists to be unacceptably liberal, would be Ford's "No. 1 problem" in securing the nomination.

ROCKY RATED HIGH

White House press secretary Ron Nessen has been repeatedly authorized by Ford to say the president rates Rockefeller highly but that he will leave the choice of a nominee in 1976 entirely to the Republican convention.

Callaway has also issued strong suggestions that Ford may want to look for someone younger and more conservative than the 67-year-old vice-president for his running mate. Rockefeller, meanwhile, has been set adrift, in effect, and advised by the president to get out and do his own campaigning through the country to determine what kind of support he really commands.

While all this is taking place in Washington, Reagan, a one-time movie actor whose last picture, Hellcats of the Navy, was made in 1957, has been stumping the U.S. making highly-publicized speeches and hammering home his views in a syndicated newspaper column and radio commentary.

STILL UNDECIDED

Reagan insists he has not decided whether to challenge Ford. He says that for the moment he is simply enjoying life on his 630-acre ranch overlooking the Pacific near Santa Barbara, Calif.

But as the money pours into his campaign coffers, many observers believe, the temptation to run may become irresistible for him.

Time, however, is running out for Reagan as a majority of state Republican party chairmen in the South who once favored him over Ford, now are indicating that his delay and uncertainty are rapidly cooling their ardor. They may also have been swayed by the president's reassurances to the right.

Even if Reagan does take on Ford, while he would gain valuable exposure for his ideas and probably place himself in a strong position for an influential cabinet post in a future Republican government, he would likely trip himself up well short of grabbing the nomination.

CIA snoops in DOD clothing

WASHINGTON — Not only are CIA agents still engaged in domestic snooping, but they are using fraudulent Defense Department credentials.

Some victims have protested to the Pentagon that they have been harassed by late-night calls. Police have also complained that their townfolk have been hounded by phantom agents.

This has upset Pentagon investigators who are concerned about their professional standing. Yet when CIA operatives have been caught in the masquerade, the Defense Department has ordered its investigators to lie for the CIA agents by saying they work for "another DOD investigating unit."

Although the CIA is forbidden by law to spy within the United States, its continuing domestic investigations appear to be quite legal. The CIA is authorized, for example, to conduct full field investigations of CIA contacts, contractors and job applicants.

CIA security men are also permitted to keep a constant eye on contractors doing work for the CIA and to investigate the unauthorized disclosure of classified CIA information.

These investigations keep eight field offices busy across the country. A spokesman also conceded that the "security investigators do not normally identify themselves as CIA agents but as government investigators."

Their favorite credentials have been provided by the Pentagon. When the Defense Investigative Service was formed in 1972, however, the CIA imposters began getting mixed up with real Pentagon investigators.

In the state of Washington, for example, a CIA sleuth with Pentagon credentials drove around in a gleaming, gold Buick Centurion while the Pentagon agents were relegated to cheaper cars.

The military investigators found out

Jack Anderson's

Washington Merry-go-round about the Buick fancier after his snooping tactics provoked the ire of the local police. An infuriated police chief called the Defense Investigative Service to protest.

"The guy is an imposter," the police chief was told. But before the man in the gold Buick could be arrested, the regional Defense Department head made a cautionary check and discovered the culprit was actually a CIA man who had been authorized to use fake Pentagon credentials.

Other similar incidents finally aroused the regional head to write a blunt memo to Bernard O'Donnell, who was then the deputy but is now the acting director of the Defense Investigative Service.

The memo, dated April 3, 1973, reported "CIA people in our area — are running around with DOD credentials. Three individuals — are using DOD credentials to conduct background investigations and record checks at the Boeing Company and in the Seattle area."

"The local CIA head stated," continued the regional head, "that they are employed by his agency and that they have been using this procedure at the Boeing Company for the last ten years. He requested that this fact not be revealed, especially to the Boeing Company, to avoid breaking their cover."

Another suspected CIA agent, according to the memo, "showed DOD credentials to the (Everett, Wash.) police department in order to run a record check on a husband and wife."

The memo cited other CIA men in Pentagon disguise in Washington and Idaho

"At the risk of being facetious," the memo suggested, "I might suggest that if we were to round up all these oddball DOD investigators running around and ship them on down to DOD3 (a Pentagon unit) in Los Angeles, the backlog (of work) would be cleared up in no time flat."

Other Pentagon officials complained about passing off CIA agents as military investigators. The protests finally led O'Donnell to call a secret meeting at Defense Investigative Service headquarters in mid-1973.

According to two unimpeachable sources, O'Donnell instructed his regional officials to lie to protect the CIA men. "He said for us to explain that they were from another Defense investigating group," recounted one source.

The instructions to lie, according to our sources, came down from the Defense secretary's office, itself.

Watch On Waste: The Pentagon at last is getting serious about conserving energy. Common sense would dictate that saving energy should also save money. But it is too much to expect common sense from the Pentagon.

In the puzzle palace on the Potomac, you see, it costs to save. The military brass have carefully calculated that it will cost a cool $107 million to save energy.

The Air Force has asked for $47 million to conserve energy next year. The Army wants $32 million, the Navy $28.3 million. Other military agencies, including the supersecret National Security Agency, are asking for $175,000 to save on energy.

A Defense Department spokesman told us some of the money will be spent for "research and development," some for reconverting heating plants. He promised these "investments" would result in "reduced operating costs" within five years.

ROCK ISLAND — Rotary Fair of the Boundary opens tonight and Rotarians are looking forward to a bigger and better result than they have ever had before.

With $1,500 worth of prizes to be given away, $1,000 to be drawn for, and $100,000 worth of equipment on display it couldn't help be a success according to Rene Monty, chairman of the fair committee.

One of the chief attractions of the event is its international flavor. In the first place the Boundary Club was the first international Rotary Club to be formed as it includes members from both sides of the border, but in recent years, other border clubs have sprung up.

Highlighting the international atmosphere of the Fair are flags from 60 different countries which are part of the decorative scheme. The flags were loaned to the Club by the Vermont Council of World Affairs.

In keeping with the theme, Boy Scouts from both sides of the border will be sharing the same booths, as will Canadian Girl Guides and American Girl Scouts. They are opening booths to display their handicraft work and other aspects of their program.

OTTAWA — Bread prices in Canada may be made the subject of an investigation under the Combines Investigation Act if the survey of the situation now being made by F.A. McGregor, registrar, is considered by the Minister of Labor, Hon. Gideon Robertson, to warrant such action. A number of city councils in Ontario and western Canada have made requests to the department for an inquiry into the continuation of high bread prices when the price of wheat has tumbled to below the dollar mark. It is pointed out that bread is selling at the same price now, with wheat around a dollar a bushel, as it was when the price of wheat was at $1.50 a bushel.

No formal application has yet been received by the minister for an investigation under the act, and the question is whether such a probe could be conducted without a definite charge of the existence of a combine having been formulated.

On this point the Minister is understood not to have reached a decision, but he has instructed the registrar to gather data on the situation in order to assist him in reaching a conclusion. Should the Minister decide that circumstances warrant it, he will order a preliminary enquiry to ascertain if a combine exists.

Fowler-Fourney

MR. AND MRS. N. FOWLER

A pretty summer wedding took place in St. Andrew's United Church in Williamstown, Ont. The bride, Lois Gail, daughter of Lois and Lawrence Fourney of Lancaster, Ont., and the groom Norman Neil, son of Neil and Shirley Fowler of Kingsbury, Que., were united in marriage by Rev. Ed Macdonald, at 4:30 p.m. on August 2 in a double-ring ceremony. The church was decorated with summer flowers and the guest pews were decorated with miniature bride and grooms. The church, the oldest church in Eastern Ontario, is very peaceful and in a beautiful setting.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of peau de soie with the top and sleeves of net with daisy appliques on the bodice and shoulders. The long veil was held in place by a feather like flower of the same material which softly accented her long red hair. Her bouquet was red sweetheart roses and baby's breath.

Her sister Susan as bridesmaid wore an apricot floor-length dress of polyester, princess style with cape sleeves. She carried a bouquet of white daisies.

The best man was Denis Small.

Mrs. Fourney, mother of the bride wore a floor-length blue polyester gown with a lace top and long sleeves. She wore a yellow corsage. Mrs. Fowler, mother of the groom wore a floor-length blue printed sheer gown with a blue and white corsage.

The reception was held at the St. Mary's reception hall in Williamstown. The family table was decorated by a three-tiered wedding cake of white topped with a red rose and fern. A lovely turkey supper was served after which the best man and groom spoke, thanking everyone. Pieces of wedding cake, made by her mother were passed by Gail and Norman.

Later in the evening an orchestra arrived and several more guests attended.

In spite of the extreme heat of over 100 degrees through the day guests enjoyed an evening of dancing.

The bride's sister, Susan caught the bride's bouquet before Mr. and Mrs. Fowler left for a short honeymoon.

One week later, Aug. 9, the bride and groom were guests of honor at the home of his parents, Neil and Shirley Fowler, Kingsbury, for a reception for family and friends where he was born and spent his childhood. Over 80 friends and relatives came to wish them well and enjoy a light lunch.

Many lovely gifts were received and appreciated. Pictures of the wedding were on display as well as a three-tiered wedding cake, made and decorated by Norman's mother. Pieces were passed to the guests by Gail and Norman. The guest book was attended to by Georgina Fowler.

Christening

WINDSOR — The christening of the baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Mallette of Brampton, Ont. took place on Sunday, Aug. 3 at St. Andrew's United Church, Windsor. Rev. Alec Cameron performed the ceremony.

The baby received the names, Heather Anne, and wore a mint green knitted dress which also had a cape and was made by Heather's grandmother, Mrs. Murray MacMorine.

Following the christening, a buffet supper was served to the immediate family and friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Murray MacMorine.

The tea table was centered with the christening cake, made and decorated by the baby's aunt, Miss Phyllis MacMorine. Pink candles in crystal holders flanked either side of the cake.

The white linen tablecloth, used for the occasion, was made and monogrammed by the baby's great-grandmother, Mrs. Violet MacMorine, some sixty years ago as part of her trousseau.

Among those attending were Rev. and Mrs. A. Cameron, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Lemoine, Mr. Herbert Stevens and Mrs. Allison Lynn, all of Richmond; Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Lafreniere of Shawinigan; Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Mallette and Mrs. Florence Roster, Melbourne; Mr. and Mrs. Russel Moffat, Waterloo; and Mr. and Mrs. Robert MacDonald, Sandra and Bruce, Windsor.

Guide tour Eastern Townships

Girl Guides of Canada and the Northwest territories have been "On the move" this summer. Four groups, each travelled to different areas of Quebec, and each group was met and greeted by local area guides.

One group came from Montreal to visit the Eastern Townships, this included 30 girl guides, 13 local guides and three guiders to total 46 but joined by guides in the communities they visited, swelled the number considerably.

Sunday, August 3, the Townships group left Montreal at about 2:30 in a chartered school bus travelling along routes 7 and 223 to St. Paul Aux Noix. By barge they crossed to the historic site of Aux Noix to Fort Lennox and enjoyed a guided tour of Fort Lennox and the museum there. Then they went on to St. Jean for a barbecue supper and delightful program with guides of that area. They remained the night at College Militaire Royale.

Monday, up bright and early on what proved to be a hot day, breakfast and a tour of the college was enjoyed.

Guide Troops from the Sherbrooke district. Then all were given the golden opportunity to see Alix McKinven's Border Sheep Dogs in action which was indeed a thrill. Many took pictures while the dogs were demonstrating but so keen were the dogs to do their work when commanded by their master, they took no notice of the photographers. Some of the dogs used were performing before a large audience for the first time and even the applause of probably more than a hundred people did not deflect their attention.

After the demonstration, Mr. McKinven permitted the dogs to say "hello" to the people who were delighted with the friendliness of the animals. They left the farm and went to the North Hatley school where Mrs. Harold Church, Dufferin District Commissioner and her guiders served supper. Before supper, all enjoyed a swim in the beautiful Lake Massawippi, so refreshing on the hot afternoon. After supper they went to Bishop's University for their overnight stay.

Mrs. J.S. McCannell, later joined by Lady H. Banting greeted and welcomed the visitors. The two and Miss Linda Gerber, employed at the Barn museum gave the groups a guided tour. Then they walked the distance to the Boundary to visit the Haskell Opera House. They were amazed as they entered the front door of the Opera House to learn they were on United States soil. Once in the Opera House, Mrs. Ethel Whiteman, on behalf of the Library staff, welcomed the visitors. Mrs. Ivy Hatch, representing the Stanstead Historical Society gave a short talk on the early settlement of the Eastern Townships. While at the Barn museum, Mrs. McCannell spoke of some of the early farm implements used by the settlers and Dr. Banting spoke about insulin when the girls learned she is the widow of the late Sir Frederick Banting, co-discoverer of insulin.

A picnic lunch was enjoyed in groups on the Barn museum lawns and in the Carriage House on the farm. Souvenirs were exchanged, GUIDES POSE — For pictures as they stop for a break on their tour of the Eastern Townships.

After lunch, they left by bus to Hemmingford and a delightful drive through Parc Safari African where the monkeys decided to hitch a ride on the bus and all were enchanted to see the wild animals in the Parc.

Leaving the park, on route 52 they motored to Cowansville, stopping en route to visit the Stanbridge East Cornell Mill Museum and all its many artifacts. They arrived at Cowansville in time for supper and stayed there overnight.

Tuesday, leaving Cowansville they took the scenic route to Mount Orford, where they rode on the chair lift to the mountain top. They were thrilled at the beauty of the country side seen from this lofty height. From the mountain base they visited the Musical quarters (JMC) then went on to Magog at a restaurant for lunch. With so much to see and do, the bus arrived late at the McKinven farm in North Hatley. Here they were greeted by several addresses exchanged and undoubtedly the mails across Canada will be busier as the girls correspond.

The bus left the Lee Farm to go to Georgeville on Lake Memphremagog where the guides swam at the home of Mrs. R.D. McKenna. Then they went on to the City of Montreal where they spent three days. They left on Sunday, August 10 for their homes in Alberta, Nova Scotia, Mount Bruno, British Columbia, Yukon, North West Territories and other points of Quebec.

It was a full week of seeing, doing and making friends with sister guides. Mrs. Doris (Pip) Hart, Dianne Campbell of Calgary, Alta., and Karen MacLean also from Calgary travelled with the guides. At each place they visited, they were met and greeted by District Commissioners, Guide Captains and Leaders and soon it was "like one big family" for they all had so much in common — Guiding.

Ann Landers says: Never a lender be is good policy

Dear Ann Landers: Two years ago I was going steady with George. He ran into a little emergency (car payment) and needed $200 in a hurry. I lent him the money and he was very grateful. We had an understanding that he would pay me back as soon as he could.

Three months later we broke up. Although George still calls me from time to time, he never mentions the $200. Now I'm in a financial bind and could use the money. How should I ask him for it? Frankly, I'm embarrassed. — Tapped Out

Dear Tapped: Ask him promptly, bluntly and at frequent intervals — until he pays up. Tell him if he can't manage the entire amount now you'll take $50 a week until the debt is repaid.

Why be embarrassed? You aren't asking for a gift. You are simply reminding him of his moral obligation.

CONFIDENTIAL to Mine Or His?: Laws vary from state to state. In some areas "misrepresentation" is grounds for annulment. Let this be a lesson to you. Next time don't go husband-hunting with a geiger-counter.

WI Meeting

LENNOXVILLE — On Saturday, August 9, a pleasant afternoon was spent by the Lennoxville Women's Institute, when members made their annual visit to the Grace Christian Home. A programme, under the direction of the Education Convener, Mrs. J.E. Findlay, was enjoyed by the residents and members alike.

Janice Vaudry entertained at the piano, while Veronica Cheal read an essay on "Why I'm Glad I'm a Canadian." A hymn-sing followed with Mrs. Dorothy Geddes at the piano. Salad plates with homemade rolls and sweets were provided at the supper hour.

In the two-way fellowship the Grace Christian Home made the comfortable boardroom available for our business meeting in the earlier part of the afternoon.

After opening the meeting in the customary manner, the President, Mrs. Hugh Wallace, called for a moment's silence in memory of the late Mrs. Mary Worster, the oldest member of our branch. Having lived to the age of 102, she gave many years to the work of the Women's Institute. Although in latter years she was confined to her home, she followed the work of the organization and supported it, always hoping to see peace in the world.

The roll call, jams and jellies for the Home, was answered by eight members. During the conveners reports, members were reminded of the School Fair to be held, Saturday, Sept. 6, in the Lennoxville Elementary School and of the Handicraft Booth at the Sherbrooke Fair from August 15 to the 24. Donations of handicrafts are needed.

A letter of acknowledgement of Handibags sent to CanSave was read.

Members had attended in a group and enjoyed the fun, Hunting Stuart, at Festival Lennoxville.

Instructions for freezing small, new potatoes to provide a fresh treat in winter was given, as well as a list of vitamin-rich vegetables.

An article on choking on food was read giving instructions for first aid in such cases.

In a report of an interview with the secretary of the Manitoba Women's Institute, Mrs. Gwen Parker, she stressed the urgency for women to get involved in the affairs of living. Copies of the Federated News, the quarterly bulletin issued by the Federated Women's Institute of Canada, were distributed.

A report was given of this branch's effort in making the prize-winning County Float for the Optimist Parade. Our thanks go to those who gave of their time, effort and material.

Our September meeting is to be held in the evening in the Club Room in the Lennoxville Town Hall. When the date is set members will be notified by the Telephone Committee.

Showers held

DERBY LINE — Miss Janet Barber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Barber of Derby Line, a popular August bride has been the guest of honor at several showers the past weeks.

The evening of Tuesday, August 5, Janet was lured to the home of her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Rick Curtis on Lake Shore Drive, Newport. Arriving she was pleasantly surprised to find a number of relatives and friends awaiting her.

After being presented with a corsage of flowers, Janet was escorted to a chair between her mother, Mrs. Barber and Mrs. Maynard Caswell with Janet's maternal grandmother, Mrs. Effie Gray and Miss Jane Frawley seated with them. Each of them were also presented with floral corsages.

The decor was carried out in a color scheme of green and white and summer garden flowers. Janet's chair was surrounded with the prettily wrapped and ribboned gifts, which when opened revealed beautiful items for the bride's new home.

After all had been circulated and admired, Janet voiced her appreciation. A game was played and Mrs. Denise Kondra of Jay won the prize.

Refreshments of moulded salads, rolls, stuffed celery, olives, pickles, and chips were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Rick Curtis and Mrs. Urban Flynn Jr. The shower cake, made and decorated by Mrs. Rick Curtis was in the design of a bride, her "gown" having daisy trim. This was cut by Janet and served by Jane Frawley who will be maid of honor at the wedding. Mrs. Urban Flynn Jr. presided at the punch bowl. Mrs. Curtis poured.

Guests attended from Jay, Newport, Hardwick, Barton and Boundary.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Barber, and Miss Janet Barber were visiting the home of Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Caswell and Mr. Kenneth Caswell in Harwick, Vt. recently when Janet was the recipient of a basket shower. The decorated basket contained wrapped gifts from relatives of the Caswell family and when opened consisted of many items of linen for Janet and Ken's new home.

While visiting at the apartment of Miss Jane Frawley, of Newport, at Agawan, Mass. where Jane is a school teacher, Jane was hostess to a group of their college friends and Janet was guest of honor for a shower. The many lovely and useful gifts were miscellaneous. This was a most enjoyable get-together of friends catching up on the news since graduation.

Janet was the guest of honor at another shower held at the home of Miss Deena Collins in White Plains, New York, where Janet taught at a special school last year. The shower was attended by co-workers and friends who added miscellaneous gifts for the new home.

Schroeders-Johnston

A quiet wedding took place Saturday afternoon August 9, 1975 at the home of Rev. R.A. Cameron and Mrs. Cameron, Richmond, Que.

Rev. Cameron officiated at the double ring ceremony when Sandra, youngest daughter of Mrs. Doris Johnston and the late Charles Johnston was united in marriage to Mr. Jos. Schroeders, third son of Mr. and Mrs. Harri Schroeders of Richmond, Que.

The couple are taking up residence at Princeville, Box 772, to be near his work at the head office of the Forano Machinery Company at Plessisville.

WATERLOO

Dr. and Mrs. Ronald Jackson of Lexington, Mass. were visiting the former's aunts, Mrs. Clara Gibbs and Mrs. Lena Bobo and cousin, Mrs. Roma Boyd. At the beginning of Sept., the Jacksons, with their family, will be going to Cyprus for a year.

Mr. and Mrs. John Purdy of Milton, Ont. spent a few days with the former's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harley Purdy.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ford of Montreal were calling on Mrs. Annie Daine, one day recently. Mrs. Lyn Peasley of Sherbrooke was also calling on her mother Mrs. Daine.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Redmond and daughter Colleen of Hamilton, Ont. spent a long weekend with his mother, Mrs. Amy Brown.

Mrs. Clara Boyd has returned home after having enjoyed a very pleasant three weeks' trip during which time she was in Holland, Switzerland, Germany, Austria, England and other places of interest. She reported very good weather conditions throughout the trip.

Caledonia Fair — 129 years young

CALEDONIA (RH) — The young this year, and it's Caledonia Fair is 129 years improving with age like fine old wine. Many exciting events are in store this year, promising good times for everyone and fun for all.

The schedule is jam-packed with interesting things to do, beginning when the fair opens on Thursday, August 21. Bring the little ones for sure as this is their day. No need to worry about gate costs no matter how many children you have, either, because all small folk under 12 will be admitted for free. They're bound to love the pony show and the motorcycle show scheduled for Thursday.

Farm exhibits will also be judged on Thursday and the ever-popular horse pulling contest should haul in a lot of spectators.

In the evening, folk song enthusiasts will enjoy a group from Johnson State College, while the kiddies will howl with delight at Elaine Woodall and her dancing marionettes.

For those of you who can't get enough of horse pulling, it's the main event of the day on Friday, August 22. In between the horse pulling show, stage acts will be featured, and high quality entertainment can be counted on.

Who doesn't love a parade? Well-decorated floats will be gracing the Caledonia Fair on Saturday, August 23. Bring the little ones for sure as this is their day. No need to worry about gate costs no matter how many children you have, either, because all small folk under 12 will be admitted for free. They're bound to love the pony show and the motorcycle show scheduled for Thursday.

If the devil is in your blood, Trans Canada Hell Drivers are right up your alley. If you enjoy a gamble now and again, Morgan horse races should send shivers up your spine. Vaudeville fans, meanwhile can take in a little soft shoe all during the afternoon and evening. All this is scheduled on Sunday August 24.

Something new and different is scheduled every day at the Caledonia County Fair. Flower shows, military bands, harness racing and deluxe entertainment make the annual event a must.

With the 129th so exciting, who can guess what year number 130 will be like?

Perpetual Trophy, Dana Lyon, gold medal winner and trophy which he keeps, and Harry Whilden, gold medal winner. In the rear, same order, Joe Gaboriault, president of Rotary Club, and Leo Parenteau of the Green Mountain Paddlers Club.

Rotary Club Canoe races held

BOUNDARY (IH) — The second annual Rotary International Canoe Races were held on Lake Memphremagog Sunday afternoon, August 10. Although not a smashing success it was nevertheless an enjoyable day.

The racing duties were in charge of the Green Mountain Paddlers. Eight canoes left Gardner Park in Newport shortly after one o'clock. They were in three classes OC1, short canoe; OC2, Long canoes, with two paddlers and OC1 short canoe, one paddler. There was a brisk breeze on the water and at times quite rough which made paddling a little more difficult.

At one point a canoe in the OC1 short class with Marc Haselton and Raymond Gaudreau, both Beebe youths, was swamped when one of the lads had a muscle cramp. The boys and canoe were hauled out and brought to the Weir beach where the races terminated.

Winners of the gold medals and the perpetual trophy as well as a trophy for each in the OC1 class were Jim Spooner and Dave Parenteau, both of Newport. The perpetual trophy is given for the best timing in all classes. The boys made the over seven miles in 85 min. 15 sec. to capture the trophy for the second consecutive year.

Second in this class, and winners of silver medals, were Horace Strong and T. Keek, of Craftsbury, Vt. Their time was 95:18. Third place and the bronze medals went to Don Galipeau and Normand Lapierre of Sherbrooke. Their time was 96:23.

Others to place in this class were Greg Goodsell and Greg Blake of Beebe. Time was 118:27 and Ed Lantagne and David Husolo of Montreal, timed at 121:01. Dana Lyon of Newport received a big hand when he passed the finish line. He paddled his own canoe, bucking waves all the way, and did it in a clocking of 138:30 to receive a gold medal and trophy to keep in the OC1 class short.

In Class OC2 - Harry Whilden of Newport and Larry Labor of Morgan were timed in 105:09 to receive gold medals.

The presentations were made by Joe Gaboriault, president of the Boundary Rotary Club, and by Leo Parenteau of the Green Mountain Paddlers Club. John Queenin of the G.M. Club assisted Mr. Parenteau with other members in clocking.

The Rotary served lunch on the Weir Park grounds. Lloyd Bliss was in charge of the corn on cob. Garry Carruthers, Mel Van Sickle and Alden Peacock attended to the barbecue chickens. Ben and Marguerite LaPierre sold the food tickets. Mrs. Ruby Sheldon, custodian of the beach and the canteen sold other goodies. The trophies and medals were donated by Molson's.

Elaine Tanguay wins Ladies Obituary crown in Sherbrooke Open

Miss Elaine Tanguay of the Sherbrooke Country Club walked off with the honors in the Ladies Section of the Sherbrooke Open "La Tribune" Pro-Am Golf Tournament at the local club Friday.

Miss Tanguay posted a 77 gross to win the Fabi Trophy after the 18-hole tourney. She chalked up a 35, one over par on the front nine, and then came home in 42, six-over, to emerge the winner.

Mrs. G. Fabi made the presentation after the buffet while Mrs. Yvon Dube, on behalf of her husband, presented the winner with a gold pendant. Mrs. Doreen Farrell, club captain, presided at the presentation. Mrs. Pierrette Perron, ladies' president, thanked all the contestants for their share in making the tournament such a huge success.

Mrs. Farrell thanked her two assistants, L. Quiron and Huguette Vincent, for their help during the day's event.

Miss Raymond Laporte copped second place when she posted a 82. She had 40 on the out-going nine and 42 on the back-nine. Miss Nina Setlakwe finished in third position with 84, 42-42, while Andrea Roch had 86, 42-44, and L. Grimard came through with a 44-43-87 for fourth position.

In the net section Mrs. L. Beaudry won the low with 74 while A. Roch took second with 75 and Guylaine Cliche took third with 76.

In the 16-20 class Claire Lalonde was the winner with 42-47-89 while Yolande Hudon was one stroke behind at 91, 42-49. Pierrette O'Bready was third with 42-49-91. The net honors went to Yolande Hudon while H. St. Onge took second and third place was won by Mavis Cyr of Longchamp Golf Club. She also won the extra prize for placing her tee-shot on the ninth the closest to the pin on the ninth hole.

Mrs. F. Kerridge took the low gross in the 21-25 section with 98 with F. Larose, Waterloo, second with 101 and Jeanne Henri of SCC was third with 102. The net honors went to G. Bonnette of Cowansville with 75 while Mrs. Henri took the second net with 78 and Giner Pierce of Orleans, Vt. was third. Mrs. Carmen Lachance of the host club walked off with the low gross in the 26-30 class with 91, 43-48. Mrs. P. Beaudoin of Massawippi was second with 103 and Y. Proulx was third with 106. In the net section it was P. Pelletier of Granby with 76 with Mrs. Doreen Lemieux, SCC, second and Miss Suzanne Lefebvre was third with 78.

In the final class of the event, 31-36, the low gross was won by Gemma Duplessis with 103 while Mrs. Miquelon, SCC, was next with 110 and Mrs. Berthe Gauthier was third with 112. The net honors went to Rejeanne Marcoux with 73 with S. Gervais next with 80 and Miss Bibiane Poulin was third with 116.

A field of 66 lady golfers took in the ladies division and following the matches a buffet was served prior to the presentation of the numerous prizes on display to choose from.

The winners of each section were presented with tickets on the Olympic Lottery by Mrs. Y. Dube and were donated by La Tribune.

MRS. JOSEPH MILES of Inverness
The death of Mrs. Joseph Miles occurred in Sacre Coeur Hospital, in Plessisville on July 13, 1975, in her 89th year, after four months hospitalization.

She was the eldest child of Elwin Hastings and Julia Ives, born August 23, 1886 at Roxton, Que.

She was predeceased by her husband Joseph Miles in March 1970, also by three brothers, Leonard, Mark and Norman and three sisters Ruth, Mable and Florence.

She leaves to mourn four sons John and James of Inverness, Que., Ralph of Collingwood, Ont., Ronald of Waterville and an adopted daughter Allie of Asquith, Sask., three daughters-in-law, Mrs. James, Mrs. Ralph and Mrs. Ronald Miles, one son-in-law Mr. Norwood Raycraft, nine grandchildren and one great-grandchild, two brothers Messrs. Arthur and Robert Hastings of Knowlton, Que., three sisters Miss Jennie Hastings, Eva (Mrs. Robert Burns) and Olive (Mrs. Bert Fleming) of Connecticut, also many nephews and nieces.

Her early years were spent with the family on the old family farm near Eastman in what was then known as Miletta.

Later she went to work and was employed for several years in this province and in the U.S.A.

She was united in marriage to Joseph H. Miles of Inverness on Dec. 28, 1922, where they resided until August 1955, then taking up residence in Waterloo, Que. until August 1963, after which they returned to finish their days with sons John and James and daughter-in-law Helen at the old place here.

Remains rested at the Municipal Hall, Inverness, where the service was held on Tuesday, July 15, at 2 p.m., George Poole and Seldon Gillis officiating.

Bearers were Weston Graham, Adrien Martineau, Everett Fraser, Eric Sullivan, Lorimer Willey and Wayne Pibus.

Interment was in Boutelle's Cemetery beside her husband.

Those from a distance attending the funeral were from Asquith, Sask., Collingwood, Ont., Lyndonville, Vt., Montreal, Sherbrooke, Magog, South Hatley, Knowlton, Mansonville, Bedford, Cowansville and Inverness area.

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — JoAnn Washam turned in the best three-round performance of the 197 Ladies Professional Golf Association tour, firing a 68 Sunday to win the Patty Berg golf tournament by four strokes.

The third-year pro from Fort Worth, Tex., eagled the third and seventh holes on the front side en route to a 13-under-par 206 at the 6,000-yard Keller golf course. She matched 69s on the first two days and became the first LPGA player in two years to string together three successive rounds under 70.

Defending champion JoAnne Carner and Jocelyne Bourassa of Shawinigan Falls, Que., tied for second at 210 and Joyce Kazmierski was alone at 211.

Yvon Thibodeau named president of Junior "C" Hockey League, officials needed to run clubs

The Sherbrooke Junior "C" Hockey League at a special meeting elected Yvon Thibodeau as president replacing Jacques Parent, who retired for personal reasons.

Yvon Thibodeau is well known in sporting circles having occupied various positions in different leagues and is well qualified to carry on the responsibilities of the president of the Sherbrooke Junior "C" Hockey League. All junior players interested in playing in the league for the coming season, 1975-76, are asked to make their inscriptions as soon as possible. In order to accommodate more players the age limit has been extended to include players 20 years old.

At the same time the league is asking all those interested in coaching or managing a club should get in touch with the City Sports Department.

President Thibodeau stated that without reliable people in these positions it would be impossible to continue operations. Over a hundred young players would be deprived of their favorite sport.

George Blanda still winning

When George Blanda broke into the National Football League with Chicago Bears, he was the third-string quarterback behind Sid Luckman and Johnny Lujack.

Luckman and Lujack are just fond memories now, but Blanda is still winning NFL games, although he's still the No. 3 quarterback.

Sunday, the 47-year-old Blanda passed to Morris Bradshaw for a 53-yard touchdown, then kicked a 20-yard field goal with eight seconds remaining to lift Oakland Raiders to a 24-21 victory over Pittsburgh Steelers.

Sunday night, fullback Joe Wilson, given a chance when Sam Cunningham was injured, sprinted six and 34 yards for touchdowns as New England Patriots crushed the Minnesota Vikings 36-10.

Expos split weekend tilts

Pittsburgh Pirates are undoubtedly happy to be back home after four disastrous National League baseball games in Cincinnati.

But after a two-game mid-week series against San Francisco, the Bucs will find themselves face-to-face once again with the Reds for a four-game series this weekend.

On Sunday, a pop-fly single by Dan Driessen broke a six-inning tie, then Bill Plummer and Pete Rose singled for seventh-inning runs that gave the Reds a 3-1 victory, their eighth consecutive triumph.

It was the Pirates' sixth defeat in a row and 11th in their last 12 games, a skid that has slashed their once-imposing lead in the East to a scant one-half game over Philadelphia.

In Sunday's other NL games, the Phillies beat San Diego 10-4. St. Louis pulled within two games of first by ripping Atlanta 8-1. New York shut out San Francisco 3-0 to climb within 3 1/2 games of the top, Los Angeles downed Montreal 5-3 and Chicago defeated Houston 11-7.

Saturday, Chicago edged Houston 3-2, New York beat San Francisco 4-2, Cincinnati downed the Pirates 5-3, Atlanta stopped St. Louis 8-7, San Diego downed Philadelphia 5-1, and Montreal edged Los Angeles 3-2.

Dave Cash, who drilled a two-run triple in the second inning, part of the Phillies' 14-hit attack against San Diego, said: "I can't worry about the Pirates. I don't play for them anymore. You can't tell about this race. We played under 500 on our homestand and picked up ground."

LUZINSKI SMASHES 31ST Larry Bowa singled for a run in the first inning, then the Phils got three in the second, two on Cash's hit.

Jocelyne Bourassa places second in Patty Berg event

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — JoAnn Washam turned in the best three-round performance of the 197 Ladies Professional Golf Association tour, firing a 68 Sunday to win the Patty Berg golf tournament by four strokes.

The third-year pro from Fort Worth, Tex., eagled the third and seventh holes on the front side en route to a 13-under-par 206 at the 6,000-yard Keller golf course. She matched 69s on the first two days and became the first LPGA player in two years to string together three successive rounds under 70.

Defending champion JoAnne Carner and Jocelyne Bourassa of Shawinigan Falls, Que., tied for second at 210 and Joyce Kazmierski was alone at 211.

FIERCE COMPETITORS took part in a friendly rivalry Wednesday evening as the Lennoxville Centennial Pool committee took on the staff in a game of inner-tube basketball. The pool staff, which consisted of Bonnie Cotton, Christine Fitzgerald, Mark McKinsey, Karen Cook, Kevin Matson, Ian Bailey and Richard Vaughan, won by a 5-3 margin, beating the opposing squad made up of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Passmore, Mr. and Mrs. Gerry Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Fitzgerald, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lyon and Mrs. Linda Nichol. The game was fast and furious, but some players just couldn't stay on their tubes long enough to worry about the game.

Jacques Duhamel wins Sherbrooke Open "La Tribune" Pro-Am, Baker cops playoff for amateur title

Playoffs were the order of the day in Sherbrooke Open "La Tribune" Pro-Am golf championship held Sunday at the Sherbrooke Club.

After 18-holes were completed and the scores were finalized Jacques Duhamel of Farnham and James Norris, Ile Perrot, were deadlocked for first place each with 68's. In the amateur section Arnold Baker, of Lennoxville Golf Club, and Mike Arsenault, of the host club, were tied for top honors each with even par 72.

In the sudden-death playoff the lanky golfer from Farnham continued his perfect playing by staying right down the middle while Norris, who had been playing well all day, ran into a little trouble and was forced to settle for a bogie 6 on the first hole to Duhamel's par.

The battle for honors in the amateur section was a little closer as Baker and Arsenault went three holes before the veteran golfer from Lennoxville emerged the winner. The first and second holes were tied but it was on the 18th that Baker emerged the winner after a close battle.

Seven professionals broke par for the day while three tied the count and six were one-over for the 18 holes. Seventeen picked up some cash with Jacques Duhamel getting the lion's share with $500. Norris was awarded $375 for his day's work while Michel Veilleux, Gilles Bourassa and Max Oxford each earned $200 each. Bob Hogarth of Royal Montreal and Phil Giroux each received $125.

Bob Panasiuk cops Alberta Open

CALGARY (CP) — Bob Panasiuk of Windsor Ont., who has proved time and again he is one of Canada's best professional golfers, reiterated Sunday as he pocketed the $2,900 winners' cheque from the Alberta open golf championship that he wants no part of the $7-million United States tour.

"I don't need the rate race," said the 33-year-old winner of five Canadian events in the last two years. "I work the pari-mutuels at Windsor Raceway in the winter, play the Canadian tour in season and make myself a nice living. I'll continue to play it this way."

Panasiuk shot an even-par 71 during the final round Sunday at the 6,551-yard Earl Grey Golf Club to win his second straight Alberta Open by two shots over Greg Pidlaski of Thornhill, Ont., and Dave Barr of Kelowna, B.C.

Pidlaski carded a superb four-under-par 67, playing in mist and drizzle, to finish at two-under-par 211 for the 54-hole tournament. Barr shot a one-under-par 70.

Panasiuk, who has qualified for eight U.S. Open championships and has had little trouble gaining an exemption for the Canadian Open in recent years, plays three other U.S. tournaments a season, as the American Professional Golfers Association (PGA) allows.

EXPENSES HIGH

"If I ever won one of those and gained a season's exemption, then you'd find me on the tour," he said. "Otherwise, expenses are too high. I can live more comfortably the way I'm going."

The Alberta victory was Panasiuk's second in six Peter Jackson tour events this season. He won the Atlantic Open in June, and will play the final leg of the tour, the B.C. Open, this weekend at Vancouver.

Sunday's round was the only one of three here in which Panasiuk failed to break par. He made three birdies on putts of 10, 18 and 30 feet, but also bogeyed three times.

Panasiuk also assured himself of another $1,000 by gaining enough tour points to clinch the Canadian championship.

Pidlaski, winner of the Saskatchewan Open last weekend, and Barr each collected $1,812.50.

SHOT 67s ALSO

Two other players shot four-under-par rounds of 67 to improve their positions considerably.

Manitoba Open champion Ed Byman of Manzanillo, Mexico, finished an even-par 213, tied with CPGA champion Bill Tape of Toronto, who shot one-over-par 72, and amateur Keith Alexander of Calgary who bogeyed the last hole for an even-par round of 71.

"I had a good shot at it,"

On Sunday in the amateur ranks Arnold Baker, who was in the first foursome to commence at 8:00 a.m. completed his first nine in even par, 36. He had two birdies but took two bogies to balance his round. On the back-nine he came through with the same score, 36, in a like manner.

Mike Arsenault had a one-under 35 for his out-going nine with eight pars and a birdie at the fifth. On his back-nine he was obliged to settle for 37 for his even par of 72.

Granby in finals

Granby Orioles gained a berth in the Quebec Major Junior Baseball League finals over the weekend with consecutive defeats over St. Jean Pirates. The Orioles won easily 10-1 but the second weekend encounter produced only a slim 3-2 victory for the Granby club.

Granby will now oppose the East Division finalists Shawinigan Jets in the best of seven series to decide the league championship.

Toronto officials file complaint about Nastase

TORONTO (CP) — Ilie Nastase stopped trying early in the second set Sunday and let Manuel Orantes of Spain win the men's singles title in the Canadian open tennis championships.

The Romanian appeared to lose interest after a call went against him during the first-set tie-breaker and lost to Orantes 7-6, 6-0, 6-1.

Later Sunday night tournament officials wired a formal complaint to the Men's International Professional Tennis Council (MITPC) over the play of Nastase and of Bjorn Borg of Sweden and Jan Kodes of

LED TIE-BREAKER

Leading 3-1 in the tie-breaker, Nastase, whose temper has frequently landed him in trouble with tennis officials, served an ace that a linesman called out.

When Nastase and Orantes protested that the ball was in, the linesman changed his call but the umpire ordered that the point be replayed. Nastase lost it and the tie-breaker 7-4.

In the next two sets, he barely won a point, serving carelessly, not chasing playable shots and occasionally not even bothering to return service.

When the crowd booed the Romanian, he yelled obscenities and gestured obscenely to the spectators.

Orantes, runner-up in the tournament in 1973 and 1974, was not happy with the way he won.

"It was a very sad match," he said. "I don't think I'll ever act like that."

Richard Evans, European director of the Association of Tennis Professionals (ATP), said Sunday figures which have been imposed on Nastase in the past, don't make much difference to him.

GRANBY IN FINALS

Jim Nelford wins amateur golf title at Saint John

SAINT JOHN, N.B. (CP) — Jim Nelford of Burnaby, B.C., wasn't planning on attending the Canadian men's amateur golf championship.

He lacked the necessary funds, although he had won his province's amateur title earlier this year in a sudden-death playoff over Doug Roxburgh of Vancouver.

But the B.C. Golf Association wanted its champion in the tournament and arranged the trip for the 20-year-old Brigham Young University student.

As a good move, Nelford recorded a four-under-par 67 Saturday in the final round of the 72-hole tournament to win the title by four strokes over Roxburgh, the defending champion.

Nelford wound up with a 280 total which included rounds of 72-69-72 over the 6,244-yard Riverside Country Club course. Roxburgh's 284 score put him one stroke ahead of Gary Cowan of Kitchener, Ont., and three in front of Robbie Jackson of Montreal, the third-round leader.

Roxburgh shot a final-round 72, Cowan a 74 and Jackson a 77.

Jackson, former Canadian junior champion and winner of the Quebec amateur this year, held a one-stroke lead over Cowan, two ahead of Roxburgh and three in front of Nelford entering the final round.

HAD TWO EAGLES

Although Nelford recorded consecutive eagles on the par-five, 488-yard 14th and par-four, 340-yard 15th holes, which enabled him to complete the back nine with a four-under 31, he said the key hole was the seventh.

On the par-four, 425-yard seventh, his tee shot went over to the right side in the low rough and his second was high on the right side of the green.

He then chipped to about 15 feet from the hole and made the putt for a par.

"I was struggling on the hole but when I made the putt it gave me a big lift," Nelford said.

Cowan, Jackson, Roxburgh and Nelford were tied after 63 holes but the winner of the 71st amateur broke it open with the eagles and then clinched the title with a 15-foot birdie putt on the 18th.

Nelford was quick to credit the B.C. Golf Association and veteran Nick Westlock of Burlington, Ont., for helping him.

The B.C. organization got approval from the Royal Canadian Golf Association to assist Nelford under a special clause. The clause enables provincial golf associations to help top amateurs under 22 years of age who can't afford major trips.

Nelford, low medalist in the 1974 Willingdon Cup team competition, wasn't expected to give the favorites much trouble. However, he stuck to the leaders with consistent play while Roxburgh, Cowan and Jackson had their problems on separate days.

Nelford's 72 put him four strokes behind first-round leader Ken Tamke of Edmonton. Tamke slipped in the second round and Roxburgh took over with a 68 for 140 while Nelford fired a 69 for 141.

Tamke was alone in fifth place at the end of the tournament, which started with a field of 112 but went to 70 after the cutoff, with 291. Dick Siderowf of Westport, Conn., was sixth with 293.

Stanstead North WI

A good number of the members of Stanstead North Women's Institute had a wonderful day when their regular meeting was held at the Papazian Homestead near Boynton. They travelled the distance in cars and upon arrival were warmly greeted by Mrs. Papazian.

The president, Mrs. George Peasley presided for the business, opening the meeting with all repeating the Creed. The motto was "The best cornerstone of a country is the hearthstone." The roll call was to name a favorite kitchen gadget and many interesting answers were given. Correspondence was given attention.

Mrs. John Mahoney, Agriculture, stated she and Mrs. R. Knight had visited several of the area school fair gardens, planted and cared for by the youngsters. There were three top winners in vegetables and three in flowers. A sum of money was voted and will be presented the winners at the September school fair.

Citizenship convener, Mrs. Miriam Osborne, read an interesting article about Emily Murphy, the first woman magistrate in the empire.

Mrs. Papazian, Home Economics, asked for volunteers to work in the Institute tea room at the August fair and for foods which will be served.

It was announced that Mr. and Mrs. Richard Peters have a baby daughter and a gift will be purchased for her. A sum of money was voted to the sunshine committee through the travel apron which having completed its rounds was opened, patch by patch, and found to contain $20.79.

It was also announced that Mrs. R. Knight had been on CBC radio with Marc Cote's mid-noon program on August 8.

The date of September 25 was set aside for the annual noon day dinner at the Mansur schoolhouse, 12:00 noon for workers and 1:00 p.m. for leisure people.

Mrs. Marie Claire Tutko, a neighbor of the Papazians arrived, was introduced and welcomed.

Mrs. Peasley spoke on the highlights of the County meeting held the day previous at Hatley and business arising from that was attended to.

The meeting adjourned and everyone had a grand time listening to Mrs. Papazian tell about their homestead with its lovely homemade furnishings, her weaving loom and so forth.

Mr. Papazian and his brother, Father Luc, an Egyptian monk came in to join the ladies for a delicious tea served by Mrs. Papazian, Mrs. Mahoney and Mrs. Knight. Mrs. John Byers poured. Both the menfolk gave a demonstration of spinning wool on a spindle and on the spinning wheel.

All too soon it was time to leave after a very pleasant afternoon and learning many things about homesteading, a hard and busy but satisfactory life. Mrs. Papazian displayed among other things in her home a linen shirt, made from spun flax, woollen items also made from the first steps of shearing the sheep and so forth.

The women also had the pleasure of meeting the Papazians' son, Stephan and daughter, Natalie.

The next meeting will be in September at the Mansur school at 1:30 p.m.
