CITY COUNCIL HAD A MEETING LAST EVENING

Many Matters of Interest Considered---Discussion Over a Cab Stand---Important
Notices of Motion.

RECENT INQUIRY INTO CIVIC FINANCES.

The City Council held its regular meeting last evening which lasted for nearly three hours, and was attended by twenty-eight out of the thirty members, comprising the Council. Several important subjects were brought up and were discussed at length and several important notices of motion were given for the next meeting, which will take place on the 19th October.

Mayor Garneau presided, and those present were Aldermen: Galipeault, Shink, Hall, Messervy, Foley, C. E. Taschereau, Drouin, Duquet, Fiset, Madden, Letourneau, Barry, Bedard, L. A. Taschereau, Lavigne, Dinan, Hogan, Picard, Campbell, Mulroney, Brunet, Paquin, St. Pierre, Huard, Verret, Barbeau, Fortier and Mathieu.

A letter was read from Mgr. Laflamme, in the name of the Americanists, thanking the Mayor and City Council for their courteous reception.

A letter was also read from Mr. E. A. Parent complaining of the bad state of Desfosses street and also complain- ing of the nuisance caused by the bad wheels of the electric cars. Referred to the Road Committee.

A letter was read from Lieut.-Col. Morin, senior ordnance officer, inform- ing the Council that there are a num- ber of military stores in this city con- taining explosives which have very lit- tle protection from fire, and remarking that as a large number of the men live outside barracks it was difficult to as- semble them in case of fire. He sug- gested that fire alarm boxes be placed in the military stores on Citadel Hill, on King's wharf and near St. John's Gate. The letter was referred to the Fire Committee.

A letter was read from Mr. T. Lavasseur, secretary of the Quebec Board of Trade, informing the Coun- cil that a resolution had been passed by that body suggesting that the civic special committee and a commit- tee of the Board of Trade, join and work together to try and see what means could be taken to bring indus- tries to this city. This letter was considered later on during the evening, when on motion of Ald. Bedard it was resolved that the civic special com- mittee should meet a corresponding committee of the Board of Trade in order to come to some understanding and establish a basis upon which both could work as a whole.

Several reports adopted by commit- tees during the week and already re- ferred to in this paper, were presented.

When the report of the Waterworks Committee came up respecting the awarding of a contract to Mr. L. Peters for a sewer drain at the Palais, Mayor Garneau inquired if it was the intention of the Council to adopt the report at that meeting.

Ald. Duquet did not see the urgency of adopting the report at that meeting particularly so as a loan would have to be made to meet the expenditure.

Mayor Garneau replied that if no- body objected to the report might be adopted as the C.P.R. was anxious to have the work performed as soon as possible as they were paying half the cost.

Ald. Fiset was of opinion that the matter should be referred to the Fi- nance Committee as there was a ques- tion of a loan involved. Besides he did not see that there was any par- ticular haste and the work could be performed next spring. He suggested that the report be taken up at next meeting.

Mayor Garneau remarked that it must not be forgotten that the city exchanged some property at the Palais with the C.P.R. and that a sewer pipe had to be laid down. The C.P.R. gave the city fifteen feet on St. Paul street for property on the north of the present Palais station and the C.P.R. wanted to fill in this property as soon as possible and want the sewer pipe laid down to enable them to do so. He could not see any serious reason for a delay.

Ald. Fiset replied that after his Worship's explanation he would with- draw his objection to the adoption of the report which was finally adopted.

The bylaw known as the Carters' Bylaw, which was on the orders of the day for last evening, caused a lengthy discussion and two votes.

The following was the first clause: "A carters' stand is hereby establish- ed on the east side of Chauveau Ave- nue, in said city, beginning on the north side, at a distance of one hun- dred feet from Fabrique street, that is to say, in line with the kiosk re- cently erected, running south and the vehicles shall be placed so as not to obstruct nor impede the foot passen- gers or vehicles on the alleys or roads leading to said Chauveau Avenue to the City Hall.

ters refuse to bring a trunk any fur- ther than the door of a house.

Ald. Foley was of opinion that if the clause was struck out another one could not now be inserted in its place.

A vote was taken on Ald. Tasche- reau's amendment to strike out Clause 3, which was carried on the following division:—

For.—Ald. Brunet, Paquin, Verret, Mathieu, Fortier, C. E. Taschereau, Barry, L. A. Taschereau, Lavigne, Picard, Hogan, Dinan, Letourneau, Madden, Drouin.—15.

Against.—Ald. Galipeault, Shink, Campbell, Mulroney, Barbeau, Huard, St. Pierre, Messervy, Hall, Foley, Duquet, Fiset, and Bedard.—13.

The by-law, with the two above clauses struck out, was finally adopted.

Ald. Messervy, seconded by Ald. Bedard, then moved:—That it is the earnest desire of this Council that the Mayor of Quebec be ex-officio a member of the Board of Quebec Harbor Commissioners on account of the many interests which the city has in common with the said Commission. And that the Government of Canada be respect- fully requested to take such steps as may be necessary to have the act constituting the said Board amended to the same.

In making his motion, Alderman Messervy said: Mr. Mayor, the mo- tion which I have the honor to pro- pose to-night is one of great import- ance to the city of Quebec. It is not my intention to enter into long and tedious details, but I might say that the members of the Council are all more or less aware, that the re- presentation on the Harbor Board consists of a representative from the Council of the Board of Trade of Quebec, a representative from the Council of the Board of Trade of Levis, two representatives from the shipping interests, and a controlling representation of five members of the Government of the day. The docks and the harbor are practically under the control of this Commission, the interest of the port are very exten- sive, both to the district, the prov- ince, and more particularly to the interests of the city as a whole. To- day everyone is struck with the ex- traordinary development all around our city—we are preparing to meet the completion of the bridge which will bring into our city not only the Intercolonial, the Grand Trunk, the Quebec Central, the connection of the great American railway known as the Boston and Maine, and, as a matter of fact, the Delaware and Hudson is also working towards this city. We have also the Great Transcontinental Grand Trunk Pacific as also the Mac- kenzie and Mann link of their trans- continental, the C.P.R. is permanently settled here. They have with the terminus of their mammoth "Em- presses," substantially proved that we are the head for ships and gigantic steamers. Such large steam- ers are obliged to stop at Quebec, and every good citizen of this city is proud of the fact that we have reached this stage of importance. The docks and harbor are practically under the control of this Commission, but are not all the approaches to these docks through the city, and has not the city contributed and afforded facilities for the approaches to the water front? Therefore, I contend the Mayor ex-officio should be a member as much representing this Coun- cil, as the member representing the Council of the Board of Trade of Levis or the Council of the Board of Trade of Quebec or the shipping in- terests. We will be more and more called upon to assist these great railway corporations getting to the water's edge. When asked to con- tribute from the city's waterworks the necessary water for the Empresses we did so. Does not the united press call for better police protection of the wharves which means an expensive outlay for the city. Did not the city in a large measure bring about the Great Northern entrance into Quebec and thereby substantially aid in bringing about the construction of the elevator? And when those systems are in operation (as they positively will be) will not the Harbor Commission benefit by the city's contribution, by moorages, etc., from the prospective increase of incoming steamers and out- going vessels and cargoes?

Many important conferences have taken place and it is without fear of contradiction that I say conferences of more vital importance will be held, with the Harbor Board and with the special interest of the Levis Board of Trade being looked after as also the Government members having their con- trolling vote—is it not in the interest and welfare of our city that we should have a voice, through the Mayor in all these great projects looming up. He being a member of this board could in many cases give a prompt decision and make recommendations for the city's general good for anything that would pertain to the advancement and up- building of our city. To-day we have divided joint conferences. We must have united conferences for the future in all matters pertaining to the city's future progress. The Mayor is absent very rarely.

I may be met with the argument that the city is differently constituted with that of Montreal, the harbor of Montreal belonging entirely to the commission. In Quebec we are different, a large portion of our frontage is vested in private ownership, and no per- son can better represent these private owners than the Mayor of the city. I shall not continue longer to point out the fact that quite soon it is probable the whole of Prince Edward street buildings will disappear for the new projected double track of the C.P.R. and many buildings will be demolished on the river front in the Lower Town. It is also probable our own market squares will have to dis- appear. The city will be called to be an important factor in arranging the approaches where the Empresses, the Teutonic, Majestic and let me hope the Victorian and Virginian as also other important steamships, will take their cargoes of grain, timber and other produce to Great Britain and other foreign countries. I am well informed that the members represent- ing this district at Ottawa are a unit in favor of having the Mayor of the city named as a member of this

When You Buy, Give Trash the Go By—
Stand By the Store With a Standard to Buy By.

VALUE is the real test of a bargain nowadays—it matters little how low the price may be, if the value is not unusual it is no bargain. That's why you can depend upon the bargains offered from time to time in our advertisements. The "PAQUET" standard of value is above reproach—how could it be otherwise with our ironclad guarantee of absolute satisfaction or money back? And this high standard of value is not confined to the goods advertised as "bargains"—it touches every single article in every department. The volume of our business is so enormous as to enable us to buy at specially attractive prices. The goods are bought for cash and this saves the cash discounts which in turn decreases the cost to you. Our buyers are ever on the alert for special purchases, on a large scale, at prices which mean a tremendous saving to you. It matters not whether these purchases are a bargain or not so far as we are concerned—our prices are always figured at the same small margin of profit. It's when you compare the goods you buy at Paquet's with those you may have bought from any other store in Canada—and not till then—that you realize to the full the advantages of shopping at this store.

Men's Furnishing Goods Furnish Good Buying Chances.

EVERYTHING for men may now be found on the main floor. Busy men don't have to wait for the elevator—why you could almost jump off a car, make your purchase and catch it again before the conductor pulled the bell-rope! These three specials have been selected from amongst number of equally good buying chances for Saturday:—

- Working Shirts.
Men's Working Shirts, best style, heavy weight, broken checks, on light and dark grounds, all sizes, regular price 10c., On Sale Saturday..... 87c
- Men's Ties.

A large assortment of men's winter Socks, all sizes, fine quality of wool, colors Grey, Blue and Oxford. Our prices, per pair 25c., 35c. and..... 40c

Men's Smart Fall Clothes to Order.

THE SEASON for wearing heavier clothing commences September 1st and lasts just six months. This means that in order to get the full value for the amount of money you wish to spend for your Fall and Winter Suit and Overcoat you should order it at once. If you delay beyond the first of October, you will have lost one-sixth of the wear and will receive but five sixths of the value you pay for. This is not, strictly speaking, good business. Putting off the ordering of your all winter clothes is like neglecting to pay your business accounts promptly and thus losing the discount. There is here a full assortment of the newest and noblest materials—our expert cutter is unsurpassed by any fashionable tailor in the country—our prices will appeal to your better judgment. $14.50 to $25.00

Fringed Hand Towels, Tray Cloths, and Table Centres.

HOUSEKEEPERS who pride themselves upon their ability and good judgement will lose no time in carrying these off. Every- one knows how difficult it is to judge of a value without actually examining the goods. Especially is this true of towels and tray cloths which are made in so many qualities that it is a practical impossibility to judge of the value by merely reading the description. Don't fail to have a look at these to-morrow.

- At 15c Each.
25 dozen Huckaback Hand Towels, size 18 x 38 inches, bleached, extra quality, fringed, On Sale Saturday, each..... 15c

The Dontear Boys' Furnishings.

LET THE LITTLE CHAP do his own shopping—he will appreciate it, you may rest assured of that—and he will be just as courteously treated as you would be. Our showing of Boys' Furnishings is large and varied, enabling the manly boy to choose his own shirts, collars, ties, etc., just as his father does his, in the Men's Furnishing Department.

Basement Bargains for Saturday Shoppers.

WHAT women don't like to hear of real opportunities to save money? Who doesn't appreciate a real bargain sale? Certainly the ladies of Quebec have shown their appreciation of the daily basement bargains. And here's an unusually interesting list of rare opportunities for Saturday shoppers. Come and share in these buying advantages.

Losing Hair

That is too bad! Been coming out for a long time, has it? So much the worse! But it is not so bad as it might be, for you can stop this falling, and you can stop it quickly, too! There is one remedy, just one—Ayer's Hair Vigor. It stops falling hair, cures dandruff, and keeps the scalp clean and healthy. We speak from long experience.

IS IT A POLITICAL ISSUE?

Has the tariff ceased to be a live political issue? The Canadian manufacturers say that it has, but that only means that manufacturers, whether Conservative or Liberal, entertain the same views as to the desirability of having their own particular branch of industry protected against outside aggression, and the tone of the Government organs when speaking of their meeting in Winnipeg, and the speech of their President, Mr. Ballantyne, would lead to the belief that the Liberal party, outside of the manufacturing element in it, holds very different opinions. Thus the Toronto Globe said:—

The annual address of the President and the report of the Tariff Committee leave the reader in no doubt as to the nature of the programme prepared for the members. This will be as much a tariff meeting as will be the next session of the Dominion Parliament, with the obvious difference that the convention can do nothing to give effect to the views of its members, while Parliament can do what it pleases. These formal documents, charged from exordium to peroration with unqualified and unquestioning protectionism, will not contribute much to the outcome of the meeting; neither, in all probability, will the ex parte discussions and cut-and-dry resolutions of the convention itself.

These are all discounted before they are presented to the public, as is always the case when men are going on in the same unchanging round of iteration. The educational part of the performance will be the interaction of the association and its temporary environment. The people of the West see matters economic from their own viewpoint, and it will take more than a string of protectionist platitudes to turn their faces with a consensus of object and purpose in a new direction. And the Ottawa Free Press remarked: "Of course Mr. Ballantyne's idea of a 'Canadian' policy is one that shall assist Eastern manufacturers to control the trade of the West by the simple process of eliminating the foreign manufacturer. But the Western farmer, whose main concern after getting the highest price possible for his wheat is to obtain his supplies at the lowest possible price, cannot be blamed if his patriotism refuses to be strained into building up factories in the East entirely at his own expense. 'Build up the West,' is the policy which appeals to him as being in the truest sense Canadian. If there was one thing proven beyond peradventure by the investigations of the Tariff Commission, it was that the people of the West are entirely opposed to an all-round prohibitive tariff. The Westerner is willing to be generous for the sake of the country at large, but he is inclined to think, not without reason, that the Eastern manufacturer is desirous of playing hog and refuses to be ejected into conceding what he fully believes would result in a considerable increase in the cost, already high, of the goods which has to buy." The two papers we have quoted from may fairly be taken as exponents of the sentiments of the Liberal Government and the Liberal party, and, to say the least of it, they are not calculated to give comfort to the manufacturers, or to those who have originated and still uphold what has been known as the national policy.

Indeed the Globe in another editorial clearly and unmistakably declared that "if the Manufacturers' Association endorses the position taken by President Ballantyne in his annual address at Winnipeg, the issue will be made plainer, and the lines more clearly drawn," and in anticipation of this contingency it proceeds in the usual Liberal fashion to misrepresent its opponents by declaring that "hedge as he may, the meaning is protection up to the hilt, and disguise the purpose and effect as he will, the higher the protection given to Canadian manufacturers, the higher will be the cost of goods to the Canadian people. The selling price of the Canadian product will be raised in proportion as the tariff protection is raised to fifty, or seventy-five, or one hundred per cent." When the Globe gives vent to utterances such as these, it is safe to conclude that it perceives not only an issue but a very live issue indeed.

For in contradistinction to the position taken up by the Government organs, the Conservative party has always stood for "thorough" protection, not only to the manufacturing but to all Canadian industries. The qualifying epithet has generally been "adequate," but the two words mean the same thing, such protection from outside sources as will enable our industries to live and prosper; it does not mean, as the Globe would fain persuade the country a prohibitive wall, such as the German tariff against us, or one nearly so, such as the Dingley tariff, but simply that amount of self-protection which is necessary, and which is the first law of nature. And that, as we understand, it is all the manufacturers' want, and what the Liberal party seems inclined to refuse.

QUEBEC'S TRICENTENARY.

In less than a couple of years from now Quebec will be engaged in celebrating the tricentennial of her foundation by Samuel de Champlain and the little colony of twenty-eight who first braced the frosts and snows of a Canadian winter here. None at that time could have foreseen the momentous issues dependent on the event, which was indeed, the birth of the present Dominion of Canada, and he would be rash to-day who would venture to prophesy a limit to the marvellous growth which has since taken place, it is therefore all the more incumbent not only on the citizens of Quebec, but on those also of the entire Dominion to see to it that the celebration of the tricentenary is rendered as magnificent and imposing as possible. It is not too early to formulate a distinct scheme of action, to divide it up into its proper sections and subdivisions, and to commence the collection of articles and records of historic value, to form a nucleus for a Canadian museum; and it is certainly not too early to calculate on the crowds which will be drawn here by the event, and to make provision for their housing, for our present accommodation is not sufficient for even the ordinary concourse of summer visitors, and it will not be possible to run up hotels at short notice fitted for the reception of those who may be expected in 1908. There is no doubt that the event is already being looked forward to with great interest by our neighbors in the United States and elsewhere; and the Scottish American in its issue this week advises us to take time by the forelock and to make arrangements that may be worthy of the great occasion. Our confrere says:—

"In 1908 (only two years hence) Canadians will have a fine opportunity for 'blowing' their air horn, while celebrating the tricentenary of the founding of Quebec. It is generally considered that it will be not only excusable, but laudable on their part should they do so, and a movement has been started to ensure its being done in a worthy and proper manner. This tri-centenary celebration will form a unique occasion for voicing Canadian aspirations, reviving the memory of heroic achievements on flood and field, the conquest of the wilderness in the face of seemingly insurmountable obstacles, and for uniting the Dominion's whole population, of every race and religion, in manly pride of the glorious history and rising greatness of the land of their birth or adoption. Within the last fifty years, that laudable spirit of pride in the Dominion has largely developed—and it is but right and proper that it should be so. The study of Canadian history has created a reverence for the past, unaffected by the differences in race, language and religion. No theme could be more inspiring at the celebration than that for the poet, orator, philosopher or statesman."

"The Dominion had its birth when Champlain built his long fortress under the cliff of Quebec. From there devoted missionaries went forth to remote and savage tribes, and implanted imperishable seed wherever they went. The result is the Canada of to-day, and it is well worthy of admiration and pride, both at home and abroad. We cannot for a moment think that any Canadian will neglect to embrace the occasion to sing its praises. We feel that it is quite unnecessary to urge upon them to do so. All that we would do, is to advise them to take time by the forelock, so that their arrangements may be worthy of the great occasion."

NEW LIGHT ON AN OLD SUBJECT.—The President of the Manufacturers' Association brought to the attention of the farming community a few solar-plexus facts that should keep them thinking. The farmer is always put forward as the martyr who suffers for the cause of protection, when as a matter of fact he is one of the worst sufferers from lack of protection. The Citizen has had occasion almost annually to point out the immense amount of farm produce that is imported into Canada from the United States, not entered in bond for shipment abroad, but imported for consumption. Mr. Ballantyne is absolutely correct when he points out that the American farmer ships 540 times as much bacon, thirty times as many eggs, thirteen times as much butter and five times as much cheese into Canada as the Canadian farmer ships to the United States. Why should the Canadian farmer not have his own home market as well as the manufacturer? The reason is because he has not enough protection.

The American tariff wall against the Canadian farmer is about fifty per cent higher on the articles mentioned than the protection of the Canadian farmer. This is an agricultural country. Surely it should supply its own home market for farm products, but it doesn't. The reason is that the American makes it the dumping ground for any surplus in order to keep prices up at home and correspondingly spoils the home market for the Canadian farmer. What is the use of the Canadian farmer talking free trade? It may enable him to get his binder and reaper and a few odd articles a few dollars cheaper, but what is that in comparison with allowing the big American concerns to swamp the home market with produce. It is bad enough as it is. What the farmer needs is a tariff that will keep his own home market for him. The few dollars he might save on machinery would cut very little in comparison with what he would lose by Canada being still further opened to the United States as a slaughter market for farm produce.—Ottawa Citizen.

A COIN THAT appears to have suddenly become scarce is our one-cent piece. The shortage cannot be accounted for by absorption on the part of the West, where population is rapidly increasing, for the West disdains coin of smaller value than the five-cent piece. Possibly the present habit of quoting bargain prices in odd cents is causing our "copper" currency to be overworked. At all events, there is need for more of it.—Mail and Empire.

LIGHTHOUSES ON ANTICOSTI. Ottawa, Sept. 21.—Mr. Martin Zede, manager for M. Menier on the island of Anticosti, and Mr. Gibson, of Quebec, Mr. Menier's Canadian counsel, were in town yesterday and handed over to the Marine Department the title deeds to two lighthouses recently erected upon Anticosti, by the Paris chocolate king, owner of the island. The entire expense of building the light-houses was met by M. Menier, and he passes over the structures and land upon which they stand as a free gift to the government.

Charcoal Kills Bad Breath. Bad Odor of Indigestion, Smoking, Drinking, or Eating can Be Instantly Stopped. Sample Package Mailed Free. Other people notice your bad breath where you would not notice it at all. It is nauseating to other people to stand before them and while you are talking, give them a whiff or two of your bad breath. It usually comes from food fermenting on your stomach. Sometimes you have it in the morning, that awful sour, bilious, bad breath, You can stop that at once by swallowing one or two Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges, the most powerful gas and odor absorbers ever prepared.

Sometimes your meals will reveal themselves in your breath to those who talk with you. "You've had onions," or "You've been eating cabbage," and all of a sudden you belch in the face of your friend. Charcoal is a wonderful absorber of odors, as every one knows. That is why Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges are so quick to stop all gases and odors of odorous foods, or gas from indigestion. Don't use breath perfumes. They never conceal the odor, and never absorb the gas that causes the odor. Besides, the very fact of using them reveals the reason for their use. Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges in the first place stop for good all sour brash and belching of gas, and make your breath pure, fresh and sweet, just after you've eaten. Then no one will turn his face away from you when you breathe or talk; your breath will be pure and fresh, and besides your food will taste so much better to you at your next meal. Just try it.

Charcoal does other wonderful things, too. It carries away from your stomach and intestines, all the impurities there massed together and which causes the bad breath. Charcoal is a purifier as well as an absorber. Charcoal is now by far the best, most easy and mild laxative known. A whole boxful will do no harm; in fact, the more you take the better. Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges are made of pure willow charcoal and mixed with just a faint flavor of honey to make them palatable for you, but not too sweet. You just chew them like candy. They are absolutely harmless. Get a new, pure, sweet breath, freshen your stomach for your next meal, and keep the intestines in good working order. These two things are the secret of good health and long life. You can get all the charcoal necessary to do these wonderful but simple things by getting Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges. We want you to test these little wonder workers yourself before you buy them. So send us your full name and address for a free sample of Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges. Then after you have tried the sample, and been convinced, go to your drugist and get a 25c. box of them. You'll feel better all over, more comfortable, and "cleaner" inside. Send us your name and address to-day and we will at once send you by mail a sample package, free. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 50 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich. September is the finest month of the year to visit Lake St. John. Protected by the mountain ranges from the cold winds of the St. Lawrence, the climate of the Lake St. John valley in autumn is very delightful. The round trip from Quebec to Lake St. John and Chicoutimi by rail, through the lovely lake and mountain scenery of the Canadian Adirondacks down the Saguenay River and back to Quebec by steamer is without doubt one of the most varied and delightful tours of the continent. A daylight trip both ways, round trip only ten dollars. A beautifully illustrated guide book free on application to Alex. Hardy, Quebec. sept. 18x1f.

IT'S COMING
Scotch (Hard) Anthracite Coal
ALL SIZES IN BAGS.
Thirty thousand tons received in St. John each year, and is claimed to be superior to all other Anthracite Coal. Here is what the St. John Public Hospital, says about it:
St. John N.B., August 7th, 1906.
"In accordance with the authority of the Commissioners of this Hospital, I have much pleasure in certifying as follows:
"The Hospital was heated with Scotch Anthracite Coal for the first time, during the winter season of 1904-5, and the result was so very satisfactory that the Commissioners have just recently given it the preference over all other kinds, and contracted for the entire supply required for next winter; viz., 350 tons.
"The Scotch Anthracite not only gives out great heat, but it produces very little ash, and no clinkers, and there is therefore, the least possible labor or trouble connected with burning it.
(Signed) L. OLIVE THOMAS, Secretary."
Orders for this coal is now booked at reasonable price for next summer delivery.

One of Three Things Always Cause RHEUMATISM

Do you know the system ride itself of waste matter through bowels and kidneys? Yes, but by the skin as well.
As a matter of fact, the skin ride the system of more urea than the kidneys do.
If the skin, or bowels, or kidneys are unhealthy—they won't throw off enough urea. This urea is changed into uric acid—carried by the blood to joints and nerves—causing Rheumatism.

One never inherits Rheumatism. One does inherit weak kidneys, irregular bowels and bad skin action.
Fruit-A-Tives
ON "FRUIT LIVER TABLETS"
will positively cure Rheumatism because they increase the eliminating action of skin, kidneys and bowels—and make these three organs so vigorous and healthy that there can be no urea or waste retained in the system to poison the blood and irritate the nerves.

FRUIT-A-TIVES are fruit juices, combined with tonics—the whole forming the most effective cure for Rheumatism.

FOR THE FEMININE FANCY

SERVING AT DINNER
The Box Couch---Points for Girls---Hints on Hair Curling.

Everything at table is passed at the left hand of the person seated and not at the right hand.
A servant should not ask a guest to have a second portion of any dish, but should bring it at once if asked.
A tablecloth and a large fork should be placed by a servant in the entire dishes, previous to handing them.
Vegetables should be handed by a servant a second time at a family dinner, but only once at a dinner party unless specially requested.
When a large dinner party is given the guests should be helped in the order in which they are seated, commencing with the lady seated at the host's right hand.
In the family circle the mistress of the house is served first, then the daughters according to their ages, the master of the house and the sons according to their ages.
When a fork or spoon is asked for it should not be handed on a waiter, but placed on the right or left hand, as required. When a tumbler or other dish is asked for it is handed on a small waiter.

The box couch has long ago proved its convenience. Either as an emergency bed or clothespress it has no equal—indeed, it is a piece of furniture that few housekeepers can dispense with.
As absolute perfection is not yet come to earth, the box couch is not exempt from flaws. About the only serious one, however, is the persistence with which dust will sift inside, no matter how closely shut is the lid.
One clever woman has overcome this so much to her own satisfaction that her remedy is worth trying.
Over the lining she tacked white kitchen tablecloth, with the shining side turned in. A strip about two inches wide was also fastened all around the edge, so that when the lid was down it acted as a close flap over the opening.
The bottom of the box was then lined with a heavy yellow paper, which may be easily removed and freshened.
These simple precautions are marvelous dust defiers and make it possible to use the couch to hold gowns or even white waists without their being wrapped, as was formerly necessary.

The thin girl must sleep as many hours as possible. She must not worry. And she must live in the open air and sunshine as much as she can every day.
Study your own physical makeup and then develop the weak parts, while at the same time you keep up the exercises for the whole body in general. Be careful not to let any physical fault get a start. Prevention is so much more valuable than cure. And if you cultivate a keen eye for your own imperfections it will not be difficult to overcome them at the start.

Your voice may be cultivated till it will of itself attract friends to you. Train yourself to notice pleasant voices, and then moderate your own and see that it always gives out its best tones. Control of the voice will have great influence over your disposition. Be careful that your voice is never harsh nor whining.

You cannot be graceful unless every part of your body enjoys perfect freedom of action.
No indoor exercise can take the place of activity in the open air. The skin is of the greatest value in eliminating impurities from the body, and, therefore, should be kept in perfect condition.
Never use any metal instrument about the teeth, or you will run the risk of injuring the enamel. Never bite thread or crack nuts with the teeth.
Mutton tallow is very good for the hands. A few drops of camphor in it have a healing effect.
Never neglect your hands, and especially your nails. Keep both scrupulously neat.
Drink water early in the morning and late at night. Fruit, is, however, a good substitute for the early morning drink.

It is not every woman's good fortune to be blessed with naturally curling hair and consequently she has to resort to numerous devices in order to obtain those attractive waves which so enhance her beauty.
There are a number of little known harmless methods of keeping the hair in curl which every girl or woman can try and which are attended by excellent results. For rather coarse hair there is a curling treatment which is particularly good for the hair which lies upon the forehead. Take half an ounce of glycerine and after the hair has been shampooed moisten the front locks and do them up. They will be a little stiff, but will lie upon the forehead nicely and defy the dampness of weather. A lump of sugar dissolved in water is equally good.
If very soft curls are desired—little ringlets which cover the temples—it is better to use only water. Let hair be well washed and dried, then wet the lock well with water and shake it out. Shake until half dry, and put in kid rollers in such a way that the hairs

About THE House

TIMELY RECEIPTS.
Emma Lackey's Cold Catsup—One and a half pints of vinegar, one-half teacup of salt, one-half cup of grated horse-radish, two teaspoonsful black pepper, one-half cup of mustard seed, two green peppers, two onions chopped fine, one teaspoonful celery seed, one teaspoonful cloves, two teaspoonsful cinnamon, one cup sugar, one peck ripe tomatoes, chopped fine; remove all seeds and juice. Put all in the vinegar and seal in jars or cans.
Wine from Wild Cherries—Take four quarts of fruit, place in a mortar and slightly bruise without crushing the stones. To this add three quarts of water and let stand in a jar for 48 hours. Strain, and to each quart of juice add three and one-half pounds of sugar, if the fruit is acid, or three pounds if sweet. Dill into jars, reserving a bottle of the liquid with which to keep the jars filled while fermenting. The openings of the jars should be kept covered with thin cloth. After the fermentation ceases, cork tightly and keep in a cool place for three months; then drain off carefully and bottle.

Spiced Peaches.—Peel late peaches, but do not take out the stones. To five pounds of the peaches allow three pounds of granulated sugar, one quart of vinegar, one level teaspoonful each of ground cloves and allspice. Put all together in a preserving kettle; cook slowly for three-quarters of an hour. Take out the peaches and put back one at a time into a jar until it is nearly full. Then pour in the syrup to fill the jar to the brim. Seal while hot.
Clingstone Peach Preserve—Pare the peaches and take out the stones. Weigh the fruit and put into a preserving kettle in layers with an equal amount of sugar by weight. Let it stand three hours; then set the range and bring to the boiling point. Take out the peaches, cook the syrup and skim; then add the fruit and cook slowly until the preserve is clear. If the syrup cooks away too much add a very little boiling water.
Peach Butter—Select mellow peaches, pare and remove the stones. To every pound of peaches allow one and one-half cups of sugar. Put the peaches into a preserving kettle and heat slowly. Mash and stir the fruit as it cooks and finally press through a strainer. Add the sugar to the peaches and cook fifteen minutes, stirring all the time to prevent burning. Seal in small jars.
Pineapple Dessert.—Beat the yolks of three eggs, add one-half cup of sugar and stir into one-half cup of hot cream. Cook until the egg thickens, then add two level tablespoons of gelatine soaked half an hour in three tablespoons of cold water. Stir until the gelatine dissolves, take from the fire, add one cup of grated pineapple, and when cool add the stiffly beaten whites of three eggs. Beat all well together and stir in one cup of beaten cream. Chill in a mould and serve with whipped cream when unmoulded.

ENVIRONMENT.
A woman in the country

In rain or wind or sun;
But on the city pavement
The smart one never fails
To wear a hat and cover that
With two or three long veils.

are all exposed to the air. Then dry, take down, and a very nice set of little ringlets will be found. The secret of curling the hair on a curler is to let it remain up until every particle of moisture is gone. Hair will often appear to be perfectly dry when it really contains a little dampness. Then it is taken down too soon, with the result that it immediately loses its curl.
A delightful set of curls can be made by wetting the head with a spray of eau de Cologne. Merely moisten the head, sprinkling it just as clothes are sprinkled. The hair is now put up into curlers and either left in overnight or taken down.
The wedding ring of to-day is a shallower circlet than its predecessor of a decade or two ago and allows for the wearing of other rings on the same finger with more artistic results than formerly. Some matrons who acquire their third finger circlets under the old regime are having them cut in half, wearing one of the sections themselves and presenting the other to their husbands. A jeweler of Manhattan has had several orders for this wedding ring operation this season.

The English Society of Arts offered a prize for the best process of cleansing silk, woollens and cotton fabrics—one that would not change their color or injure them in any way. The winning recipe was as follows: Grate two good sized potatoes into a pint of clear, clean, soft water. Strain through a coarse sieve into a gallon of water and let the liquid settle. Pour the starchy fluid from the sediment and it is ready for use. Rub the articles gently in the liquid, rinse thoroughly in clear water, dry and press.

TO BUTTON HER WAIST BEHIND.

She stood at the glass and she tried with her might
To button
Her waist
Behind.
The movements she went through were surely a sight—
To button
Her waist
Behind.
She would reach and she'd tug, she would sigh and she'd groan,
And after each effort she'd let out a moan:
She twisted and squirmed till she strained every bone,
To button
Her waist
Behind.
She would take a long breath and then stand on her toes,
To button
Her waist
Behind.
She strained at the risk of ripping her clothes,
To button
Her waist
Behind.
She had a contortionist beam a mile, she would bend like a jacknife, then straighten a while,
And wonder why nightmares like that were in style—
To button
Her waist
Behind.
For an hour she labored in wildest despair,
To button
Her waist
Behind.
Her face became red and all loosened her hair,
To button
Her waist
Behind.
She wept, and the tears splashed down in her lap,
While for life and its pleasures she cared not a rap.
When she went to the office a hideous gap
Was there
In her waist
Behind.

USEFUL HINTS.

If you have no celery on hand when flavoring a soup use a small quantity of celery seed. Often there will be plenty of celery seed and other spices in the pantry when a few sprays of something fresh cannot be obtained.
Grease stains on a kitchen floor are difficult to remove by ordinary means, but they will generally come out with a hot solution of potash. If one application is not enough, use a second or even a third. Sometimes the solution if the wood is very white, will leave a yellowish stain. To avoid this mix some lime with the solution until a thick paste is formed. Let the paste remain on the floor at least 12 hours. It is better to use a weak solution of sal soda and fuller's earth on very nice floors.

All puddings that should be smooth and creamy such as custard, rice and tapioca, ought to be baked or steamed slowly. If they are cooked rapidly they are apt to curdle.
In making down pillows a good way to prevent the down working through the cloth is to go over the inside of the case with an iron rubbed well with beeswax each time it is applied to the cloth.

It is not generally known that wringing out a cloth in hot water, and wiping the furniture before putting on furniture cream, will result in a very high polish, and will not finger-mark.
Don't attempt to clean picture frames covered with gold-leaf, as the finest and most beautiful of all gold frames are. You can get them by the way the gold, as you look at it closely, seems laid on, here and there curling ever so slightly away from the frame. Any sort of cleaning, except the most casual dusting, is bound to make the gold scale off in unsightly fashion.
Flies are such a trouble in hot weather that an old country method of controlling them is worthy a trial in the kitchens of our flats, apartments, and dwelling houses wherever they may be. A large bunch of feathery asparagus is tied and fastened near the ceiling, and to this haven in preference to culinary dainties the disturbing flies are said to go in large numbers. It need not be an expensive cure, and is vouched for by more than one experienced old country housekeeper.

FABRIC PAPERS SMART.
For rooms with furniture of mission or other plain kinds the walls are being covered with fabric papers, of which there is a great variety. Among the new ones are clever imitations of grass cloth, burlap, rag carpet and other coarse and effective weaves. Such papers sell for 35 cents or 40 cents a double roll. Paper borders are not much used with them, the kalsomine of the ceiling usually being brought down to the picture rail, which in a room of average height is about 18 inches below the ceiling. The picture rail is tinted to blend the paper and plain frieze. All the colors and tones known to the decorator are to be had in the fabric papers.

Lea & Perrins' Sauce
has been before the public for very many years (nearly a century)
during which time it has commanded an ever increasing sale in all markets of the world. The innumerable imitations attracted by its success are devoid of the excellence of quality and richness of flavour characteristic of the genuine article, which is prepared from the original recipe, the exclusive property of Messrs. Lea and Perrins.
MANUFACTORY, WORCESTER, ENGLAND.
The fact that unscrupulous persons commonly make use of the designation "Worcestershire" for inferior productions, and even call them genuine, renders it necessary that the public should ask specifically for Lea & Perrins' Sauce and refuse cheap substitutes.

OUR GREAT FALL OPENING.

An Authoritative Exposition of the Latest and Most Desirable Styles for Fall and Winter.

PAQUET'S GRAND FALL OPENING, the Fashion Event of the Season, is announced to take place on MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 24th. The store is resplendent with the newest and choicest of everything that the world's best markets afford. Decked in Fall Attire—planned by master-minds and arranged by fingers deft in the art of decorating—this mighty establishment presents a sight of rare and inviting splendor. Here, there and everywhere, the newest and most pleasing ideas, stamped with the seal of that coquettish individual "Dame Fashion," stand in the limelight of Public Opinion, there to be admired and applauded by the thousands of visitors who will throng to view the sight. This is essentially a time of relaxation. The thought of buying and selling is for the time submerged in the atmosphere of cordiality and good-fellowship which pervades every floor and every department. Clerks will be pleased to show you anything and everything that comes within their supervision—questions will be answered with alacrity and politeness—customers and visitors, alike, will be welcomed with a warmth and enthusiasm that has come to be identified with these unique events. Quebec's Great Shopping Emporium throws its doors wide open to YOU—may we have the pleasure of welcoming you on this auspicious occasion?

Smart Clothes for Men.

THE new styles in Men's Ready-to-Wear Clothing show the coats made with shoulders of natural width and free from padding, the vest cut rather higher at the neck and the trousers hanging straight, with less fullness at the hips. In materials the Worsteds predominate, with Tweeds a close second. Prices $1.00, $12.00 and $13.00.

Fine Custom Tailoring.

CHECKS hold their own this season with three-color alternates, and stripes and herringbone effects are very popular. Worsteds, Cheviots and Serges tell the fabric story. Prices $14.50 to $25.00.

Ladies' Box Coats.

FOR this season, at least, the Box Coat will be almost universally worn. The favorite lengths will be from 40 to 43 inches. Black Navy, Castor and light Drab will be worn in plain cloths and two tone effects in tweeds. These are made with yokes and pleated backs and range in price from $7.00 to $30.00.

Tailor-Made Costumes.

SLEEVES will be worn longer than during the past season. Short Boleros and Eton Jackets, with girdles to match, will be correct. Black, Navy and light mixtures will be seen. Prices $15.00 to $50.00.

Men's New Fall Hats.

THE MOST NOTICEABLE FEATURE in the new shapes for fall and winter wear is the narrow brim, which is quite evident in almost all the stiff hats. In soft felt the medium brim with semi-high crown will be worn. These two shapes are probably more universally coming than those of any previous season within the past decade. The range of colorings in soft felts embraces all the greys, brown and black. Black is still the favorite in stiff felts although browns will also be worn.

The "Wilkinson."

This hat is well and favorably known from the Atlantic to the Pacific as well as in England, where it is manufactured. The "Wilkinson" is acknowledged by many to be the best soft felt hat made. Our prices, $1.75 to $2.50.

The "Carter."

The "Henry Carter" stiff hat is made from the finest grades of English fur felt. It is imported direct from England and our prices represent a remarkable saving to you. Prices range from $2.25 to $3.50.

Men's Furnishings.

NEAT EFFECTS in men's stylish neckwear include a host of new shades and color-combinations. The light, delicate shades predominate. Prices, 50c. and 60c. In men's shirts a decided preference will be shown for the ancient striped effects, although the figures are still to be seen in nobby combinations. Prices, $1.00 and $1.25.

Men's Fancy Vests.

ONE of the newest designs in fancy winter-weight vests is a woolen vest in a red ground with small figured designs in green or yellow and dark red binding. Price, $3.00. Another style which bids fair to become the rage is a dark green silk and wool vest with irregular white markings of the snail-like effect. This, as well as the above style, is shown in all sizes, from 36 to 44. Price, $3.25.

Children's Bearskin Coats.

WARM winter coats for the little ones in fine quality imitation Bearskin are among the most practical things in the house this season. These are made perfectly plain or with Japanese silk or fancy Braid trimming. Prices $1.50 to $5.00.

Children's Tweed Jackets.

For the older children may be seen plain and fancy jackets in a great variety of pretty designs in tweed. The range of sizes is very broad and the prices allow of an excellent choice ranging from $2.75 to $9.00.

The New Millinery.

EXTREME STYLES are a feature of this season's Millinery. The very large and the very small shapes will be worn. High backs and tipped fronts are correct in small shapes, and the "Vesta Tilley," with high crown and wide tipped brim dominates the large hats. Browns and Greens are the favorite colors with the Wine Shades and London Smoke closely following. Next in favor come Mauve, Lavender, Old Rose and Alice Blue. Plaids are also very prominent in braids and trimmings.

Scotch Plaid Toque.

One model we are showing is a toque with brim of Pheasant's Breast and crown of Scotch Plaid Silk. This will display to advantage the large-headed pins which are one of the season's novelties. Price, $18.00.

Rich Velvet Hat.

A charming model in Golden Brown Pan Velvet, short front and wide dip in back, Gainsborough effect, trimmed with wreath of shaded velvet foliage in brown and champagne, high bandeau and velvet buckle. Price, $14.00.

Handsome Silk Waists.

FANCY dotted Japanese Silk, heavily embroidered fronts and rich Taffetas with strapping and elaborate designs in lace insertion will express the latest New York ideas. Allover Lace Waists in Oriental, Baby Irish and Irish Point are also shown. A novelty which may be seen in no other store in Canada is a New York model in tiny pencil checks. Prices $10.00 and $12.50.

Fine French Corsets.

THE famous P.D. Corsets which hold the premier position in the world of fashion for comfort, elegance and durability, permit of the proper exercise of all the muscles, and while giving perfect symmetry to the figure, do not interfere with the action of the vital respiratory organs. The bones are placed just where the support is required, and being of real whalebone, are supple and elastic. These Corsets we are showing in a complete range of styles and sizes. Prices $3.50 to $9.00.

Ladies' Nightgowns.

Flannelette Nightgowns will show the most elaborate effects in fancy braiding and lace trimming. The popular colors will be sky, pink and white, with self or different color trimming. Prices 75c. to $2.50.

Ladies' Underwear.

Navy wollen vests, union suits and combinations, natural or white, straight or fashioned-knit and fine English Cashmere undergarments at prices ranging all the way up to $2.75.

For Lovers of Fancywork.

THE BELDING Fancywork Envelopes contain one 18-inch stamped centerpiece of white pure linen, one illustrated lesson sheet, and 4 skeins of Belding's Filo Floss. The regular value is 50c. We are authorized to sell them at the special price of $25c.

New Fur Fashions.

AMONG the new designs in Ladies' Furs we are showing a handsome double stole of Stone Marten, 80 inches long, trimmed with 6 tails and two rich chenille ornaments. Price, $44. An elegant Mink Muff, made with ten complete skins, 10 tails and 20 pins is the finest ever shown in Canada. Price, $75.

In Ladies' Fur Garments perhaps the most desirable, if not the most expensive, is a Persian Lamb Jacket, 24 inches long, with collar and revers of Labrador Mink and lining of exquisite brocade silk. Price, $190.

Invitation.

WE EXTEND you a most cordial invitation to visit the store during the Opening Week and would urge you to come on Monday evening, if possible, when the store will be open until 10.30 P.M., and a musical program will be rendered by the same excellent orchestra which entertained thousands of our customers and visitors during the Summer months.

RIBBONS AND LACES.

DAINTY DRESDEN and Plaid Ribbons make an unusually brilliant showing this season in the Ribbon Department. In plain colors the Wine shades are leading, followed by Jacqueminot, Templier, Old Rose and New Violet. In Laces too, you will find a magnificent assortment.

The beautiful Dresden Ribbons are to be high style this season and we are showing them in great variety. One line is particularly noticeable, 6 inches wide. Price, 60c. Among the laces are the Plauen Lace in White, Paris and Champagne, and the real Chantilly in white, embroidered with beads and chiffon, at $12.

Fine Footwear.

THE NOBBY "PAQUET" shoe for Men and the dainty "Paquerette" shoe for Women are now on exhibition in a complete range of styles and leathers. These shoes represent the maximum of quality and give you $5.00 worth of wear, style and comfort for $3.50.

Latest Importations in Carpets and Curtains.

YOU WILL FIND, this season, a wider and more varied assortment of handsome Carpets, Rugs and Housefurnishings than has ever before been brought together in Quebec. We will be pleased to submit plans and suggest ideas for the arranging and furnishing of your home. In this department there are experts whose business it is to keep in touch with all the latest and most practical ideas in house decoration.

Fine Axminster Carpets, deep velvety pile, rich Oriental and conventional designs, suitable for the more elaborate apartments. Prices, per yd., $1.10 to $3.25.

Handsome Rugs in Wilton, Brussels and Axminster for Libraries, Drawing Rooms, Dining Rooms and Reception Halls, at prices ranging upward to $90.

Rich Portiers, Tapestry and Brocatelle, pleasing Oriental and Panel designs, also Nottingham and Brussels net curtains, priced from $3.00 to $25.

NEW SILKS AND DRESS FABRICS.

NEW YORK fashion experts report that not for 20 years has Black been so universally popular as it has proven to be this season. This fulfils our prophecy of some weeks ago. The wine shades, particularly Bordeaux, will be much worn. Plaids and Browns will be in great demand.

The silks include exquisite Taffetas, Peau de Soie, Messaline, Mottevilleux and Brocades in rich colorings, also fancy silks in all the favorite Tartans. Prices, 50c. to $1.10.

Black Venetian Cloths, absolutely fast dye, best quality of wool, thoroughly shrunken and positively unspottable, will make a strong bid for the popular favor. Prices 75c. to $2.00.

New Furniture.

QUAINT and charming models of the Sheraton, Louis XV and Colonial styles will divide your attention with the plainer and less pretentious designs which are now to be seen in the Furniture Department. The prices will interest you, too!

IN AND ABOUT TOWN

OVERSEAS LIMITED

Made a Grand Run from Vancouver to Quebec.

At exactly five minutes to two yesterday afternoon, the Overseas Limited, which left Vancouver last Monday night at 7 o'clock, thundered into town and pulling up alongside the Empress of Britain, transferred the Oriental mails, which had been carried by the C.P.R. as Empress of India to Vancouver, and which are to be delivered in Liverpool in 29 days from Hong Kong. Owing to delays at Chinese and Japanese ports, the Pacific express did not reach Vancouver until six o'clock on the 17th, and an hour later, the overseas mail train started out on its trip across the continent, six hours behind its schedule time. Within 88 hours, three thousand and eighty miles of mountain, prairie, forest and farm land were traversed, and some who dined on board the Empress of India Monday night lunched on the Empress of Britain on the following Friday afternoon. The handicap of six hours in leaving the Pacific Coast was wiped out and the overseas mail dashed into the Ancient Capital two hours ahead of its schedule time. This makes a record of 35 miles an hour across the continent and a peculiarity of the trip was that the last hour's run from Portneuf was exactly 35 miles. That the entire run across the continent was made without change of cars, is one of the remarkable features of the trip. There were delays on the road in crossing trains, etc., and on some of the steep grades on the mountains slow progress was made. On the prairie sections and east, however, as high a rate of speed as 70 and 75 miles an hour was attained—on some divisions 133 miles being made in 150 minutes—and so it was that the mails were delivered to the Empress of Britain sufficiently early to enable her to start on her Atlantic voyage on time. This half circuit of the globe from Hong Kong to Liverpool covers over twelve thousand miles more than three quarters of which have already been made, and with the Empress of Britain's record, there is no doubt, barring accident, that Britons will be able to read their correspondence from the Far East well within the thirty days stipulated in the contract.

The Oriental mail consists of 238 bags, which with the passengers' baggage weighed fifteen tons.

Several of the travellers from the Orient expressed their appreciation of the C.P.R. service, both on land and sea, and they ventured the prediction that its inauguration would lead to Canada becoming the world's great highway between Great Britain and her possessions in the Far East.

STH R.R. RIFLE MATCHES.

The annual rifle matches of the Sth R.R. which take place at the St. Joseph ranges to-day promise to be most successful. The officers will be at home at the camp this afternoon. No formal invitations have been issued, and all friends will be welcomed. It is hoped that there will be a large gathering of ladies to grace the occasion, and tea will be served.

PREMIER GOUIN HAS SOME GOOD FISHING.

The Hon. Mr. Gouin has recently returned to town from Lake St. John, where he had some exceptionally fine Ouaniche fishing, as the guest of Mr. H. J. Beemer, in his private preserve in the Metabetchouan pool. This is the pool so charmingly described by Lt.-Col. Andrew C. P. Haggard in his introduction to "The Ouaniche and its Canadian Environment," by E. T. D. Chambers. The pool is now preserved by Mr. H. J. Beemer for spawning fish, and all caught there are returned to the water. The Premier caught nearly half of the thirty-one fine specimens secured by the members of Mr. Beemer's party, and two yearling salmon were also caught and duly returned to the pool.

Many men miss truth because they are expecting something that looks learned.

NEW GRAVING DOCK

FOR PORT OF QUEBEC

Mr. L. A. Carrier, M.P. for Levis,

RESPONSIBLE FOR PROJECT

Not Through Any Efforts of the Louise Dock Commission is Government Considering the Matter.

There is a comical as well as serious side to the news that was made public respecting the Dominion Government's consideration of a new graving dock for the port of Quebec. A new dock to take the place of the one already in existence at St. Joseph de Levis, for the accommodation of the large steamships of to-day, has been the desire of Mr. L. A. Carrier, the young and popular member for Levis, ever since he was elected to a seat in the Federal House. He has worked almost every day in furtherance of this end, and made frequent visits to Ottawa to urge upon the Government to build a new graving dock, or else enlarge the present one, in order that it can admit and accommodate big steamers, and now he is chagrined to discover that the members of the Louise Docks Commission having learned that his labor was meeting with success, have come forward to claim the credit of his long tireless and faithful work, in the interest of his county and the port of Quebec.

MR. CARRIER INTERVIEWED.

Yesterday when it was published that the Louise Docks Commission were in communication with the Minister of Marine and Fisheries respecting a new graving dock, a Chronicle scribe sought out the member for Levis to hear what he had to say on the matter.

Mr. Carrier, with an amused smile, wanted to know why he was sought after for information when the Quebec Louise Docks were so accommodating as to give out news that was over two months old? I need not tell you, said the young member for Levis, that the Quebec Commission had very little to do with the preliminary work, or any other matters connected with the idea of a new graving dock for the port of Quebec. They recently awakened up to find that engineers were engaged in making surveys along the shore of St. Joseph to discover a suitable location for a new dock and then they hastened to put themselves in communication with the Minister of Marine and Fisheries respecting a new graving dock, when they were informed that engineers were already engaged making bearings for the proposed making borings for the project. The facts for publication in such a manner as to lead the public to believe that it was their august board that had wrought the miracle.

However, this is not to the point. I am pleased to be in a position to say that the Government have under serious consideration the building of a new graving dock, whether it be located on the south or west side, will depend upon the report the geological engineers in charge of the survey will make to the Minister of Marine and Fisheries. I have been hard at work to obtain this dock for the past year and have not spent my time to push the matter. On the 5th of November last, when the resolutions of the Federation of Shipping were considered by the Government, they included a recommendation for the enlargement of the graving dock at St. Joseph de Levis to accommodate the large steamships of the St. Lawrence trade that might need its service, and the Government gave a favorable answer.

On June 8th last, I put a question to the Government on the floor of the House in regard to the same matter, when the Prime Minister responded from his seat that the Government had the construction of a new dock under serious consideration.

But I did not allow my labors in the interest of a dock to remain there. I saw everyone of the Ministers on the subject in turn, and pointed out to them the importance of the necessity of having their assistance. After that I came to Levis and had plans drawn up of the different sites at St. Joseph de Levis and had blue prints made, and furnished each of the ministers with a copy. The result was, nearly two months ago engineers were sent from Ottawa to look over the sites and for over a month past an engineer named Mr. Davy, has been engaged making bearings and will shortly report the result of his labor to the Minister of Marine and Fisheries.

The Board of Harbor Commissioners of Quebec recently awoke to find out

SUN STROKE

Followed by Partial Starvation.

The effects of sun stroke upon the digestive system are often very severe, as well as upon the nerves.

An Ind. lady had a striking experience:—

"Four years ago I was sun struck, and my stomach so congested it was terribly painful even to swallow liquids, and as nothing would stay on my stomach, I began to fear starvation. I finally became perfectly helpless and was given up by our physician."

"A neighbor told me how much good Grape-Nuts had done her husband, who suffered with dyspepsia, and her son with typhoid fever, so I began to use this wonderful food, and slowly began to recover until now I am strong and well again. I can eat anything I want, and think Grape-Nuts one of the greatest blessings that was ever given to suffering humanity."

"When I began to use Grape-Nuts I only weighed 118 lbs. Now I weigh 148, and the past four years have been a blessing almost beyond belief, and if I had not personal experience, I could hardly believe what I know is true. My nerves are steady, memory clear and I owe my fine condition to Grape-Nuts." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

HOW TWO BEAUTIFUL WOMEN CURED PELVIC CATARRH BY TAKING PE-RU-NA.

Headache, Backache and Weakness Are Symptoms of Pelvic Catarrh.

MRS. SOPHIA CALWELL

Recommends Pe-ru-na to Other Sufferers.

Miss Edith Reams, 723 North Main street, Dayton, Ohio, writes:

"I suffered for some time with both lung and female troubles."

"I had been under the treatment of a good physician for about nine months without obtaining any relief, when Peruna was recommended to me."

"After taking twelve bottles of this medicine I have completely regained my health."

"I am pleased to recommend Peruna to any one suffering from the above ailments."

THE organs of the pelvis, like other internal organs of the body, are lined by mucous membranes.

These membranes are liable to catarrh the same as the mucous membranes in any other part of the body.

Pelvic catarrh may be caused by the extension of catarrh from other parts of the body.

Or, it may be brought on by overwork, by irritating discharges and by excesses of various kinds.

When the organs of the pelvis once become the seat of catarrh, various derangements arise which are called by different names.

A long list of diseases, which cannot be discussed in public print, some of them peculiar to the female sex, others common to both sexes, are caused by catarrh of the pelvic organs.

Local treatment does not seem to be of any use.

Some of the organs are so located as to be beyond reach.

Peruna is an internal, systemic remedy. It relieves catarrh wherever located in the human body.

Thousands of cases of pelvic catarrh have been relieved by the internal use of Peruna.

Peruna aims to relieve catarrh only. Peruna is not a cure-all, but can be relied upon to relieve catarrh in all its various phases, locations and stages.

Followed Dr. Hartman's Advice.

Mrs. Lizzie Lohr, 1155 W. 13th street, Chicago, Ill., writes:

"I take pleasure in writing you, thinking there may be other women suffering as I did. I was run down so far that I had to sit down to do my cooking—I was so weak. The doctors wanted to operate on me. At last I wrote to Dr. Hartman, telling him how I was, and he told me how to take Peruna. I did as he told me, and now I am cured."

IT IS STRENGTHENING.

Yes, St. Leon Water is most strengthening. Are you suffering from weakness, is your digestion bad, are you constipated? If so, take from time to time a glass of St. Leon, that sulphurous water which is so agreeable to take and so prompt in its results. It acts upon the nerves and purifies the blood. In a word it is a sure remedy as well as being an incomparable beverage. See the new add in another column. Phone 855.

MONTREAL STREET RAILWAY

ORDERS MORE WESTING-

HOUSE APPARATUS.

The increase in traffic in the Montreal Street Railway lines demanded larger equipment. Having found Westinghouse apparatus so thoroughly satisfactory in the past, the railway company has contracted for a 1,000 K.W. Westinghouse Railway Generator and three 500 K.W. Westinghouse Motor Generator Sets. For new cars, twenty quadruple equipments of motors, and fifty sets of Westinghouse Air Brakes with motor driven compressors, were ordered.

By entrusting the making of this costly equipment to the Canadian Westinghouse Company, the Street Railway Company clearly show their preference for Westinghouse apparatus.

FIRE LAST NIGHT.

An alarm from box 29, corner of Richelieu and St. Augustin streets, brought the firemen, shortly after 8 o'clock last night, to a fire which had broken out in a small wooden building in rear of Demers' hotel, corner of St. John and St. Augustin streets. The fire was quickly got under control.

RODOLPHE PLAMONDON.

A Canadian artist who has earned for himself in London and Paris a reputation second to none, Mr. Rodolphe Plamondon, before his return to Europe next month, will favor us with a visit and give at the Auditorium on Thursday, October 4th, a grand performance with Mrs. Plamondon-Dufriebe, a delightful singer, Mr. Jules Desterbecq, the Belgian violin-virtuoso, and other artists. Mr. Plamondon comes to us in the height of his talent, when his voice is still fresh, sweet and pure, his diction marvelously correct, with all the unimpairing resources of a remarkable singer, and for all this we must feel thankful to him and prove him our acknowledgment of his courteous attention by filling the Auditorium to the doors. Such beautiful singers as Mr. Plamondon are not heard every day; perhaps, have we not yet heard here such a beautiful, pure tenor voice, coupled with such perfect art of singing. Those who have heard such magnificent singers as Jean De Reske, Enrico Caruso, will easily form an idea of the delightful moments which are in store for us at the Auditorium on Thursday, October 4th.

Doctored a Year With No Relief—Health Restored By Pe-ru-na.

Mrs. Sophia Calwell, box 357, Nashville, Tenn., writes:

"After doctoring for a year and finding no relief from leucorrhoea resulting from prolapsus uteri, and which was sapping my life forces away, I finally tried Peruna, and when I found that it was helping me every day, it seemed almost too good to be true. But, it not only helped me, it cured me and in a very short time. I am now enjoying the best of health."

"I am strong and free from pain, and I certainly feel that all praise and honor are due to Peruna."

GEOLOGICAL EXPERTS QUESTION STABILITY OF LOUISE DOCKS

No Survey or Bearings Made Before Their Construction, and They May Crumble for Want of a Solid Foundation.

IMPORTANT SUBJECT FOR CONSIDERATION

The public will be started to learn that in the opinion of geological scientists the Louise Docks constructed, as they are, in the midst of moving sands are unstable and never can be relied upon for permanence, and the labor and vast amount of money expended upon their construction, is practically a waste of energy and public wealth.

The giving away of the masonry facade in the inner basin of the docks some seventeen months ago, attracted the attention of geological engineers to the important question of the character of the foundation and stability of the docks. Investigation showed that a geological survey of the St. Charles River, had never been made before the building of the docks, and a foundation for same was not obtained by scientific methods, but on the contrary, piles were simply driven into the sands and the docks built.

Scientists contend that those public works should never have been commenced in the first place, until a geological survey had been made, the character of the soil proven, and the chances of a rock foundation for their construction ascertained. Geologists spoken to in connection with the serious question express the opinion that the Louise Docks cannot be depended upon for permanent stability, and in the course of time will be deflected by the movement of the sands upon which they rest.

They admit that the task of finding a rock foundation in the river bed might be a big undertaking, but, nevertheless, feel confident that it exists, but at what a depth they are not prepared to say, unless they were called upon to make a scientific investigation by borings, etc., for the same.

Mr. Laflamme of the Laval University, and one of the recognized geological scientists in the Dominion of Canada, coincides with other geological engineers consulted, and in an interview with a Chronicle representative on the very important subject, said:—

"The question is certainly a serious one in the interest of the public. In my opinion the River St. Charles, on account of its character respecting moving sands, affords no foundation for such an important affair as the Louise Docks."

Mr. Laflamme continuing, said:—

"When those docks were first decided upon a geological survey should have been the very first thing resorted to, to find out the character of the river bed, and determine the distance under the sand before reaching a foundation solid enough upon which to construct the docks."

This very essential work may have been suggested but never carried out, not even a boring was made, and today the result is apparent, in the present defects in the masonry work of the north wall of the docks, which are now undergoing repairs. This is sufficient proof that the Louise Docks were not constructed upon a solid foundation, and consequently cannot be depended upon to last."

Mr. Laflamme referred to the excavation of the river bed on the south shore of St. Romuald to sink the caisson for the Quebec bridge pier, and said the contractor had to go down very deep before he could find rock on which to place the caisson and build the pier foundation, and even when this foundation was obtainable the contractor had to remain content with three quarters rock, and one quarter clay, firm enough, however, to guarantee a solid foundation. But it was different with the construction of the Louise Docks. No geological survey was made, and the ponderous mass of work simply rests upon sands, which have their caprices, which is no guarantee for the permanent stability of the docks. "You will understand," said Mr. Laflamme, "that in cases of such public works it is the duty of the geological surveyors to locate and learn the material that forms the soil, and after they have done this, it is left to the engineers to find the foundation, which was not, however, resorted to in either case, when the work of the Louise Docks was decided on and commenced. The docks simply rest on sand, and some piles were driven, and in my opinion, no large structure should be built on sand, unless a foundation is found underneath."

This is a rather serious problem for the Dominion Government and the public to dwell on, before another course of work is made on the Louise Docks by public money. The Quebec Louise Docks Commission have elaborated plans made for the extension and enlargement of these docks, and it is said, on excellent authority, that at least one of the interested members of this Commission, has invested in seventy-five acres of beach lots on the Beauport shore, in contemplation of these improvements or extension being allowed.

It is even said that the members of the said Commission have gone so far with the weight of their influence to prevail upon Sir Wilfrid Laurier to change the Government plans for the erection of the Union Station in Lower Town, and have it erected in St. Roch's in order to give their projected enlargement of the Louise Docks more value. Queer things were done in connection with the construction of the Louise Docks at their birth, and if the public is not on the qui vive, queer things will be repeated in the present day in their connection that may end seriously for the city and district of Quebec, and perhaps the very life of the government. In the very beginning, the construction of the Louise Docks was condemned by far-seeing commercial men of Quebec, who saw into the future and if the reports of the Harbor Commission of those days are referred to, it will be found that the late Messrs. John Sharples, Julian Burstall and Henry Fry were opposed to their construction, not to speak of the able articles published in the press of the time, by the late Mr. E. Sewell.

These deceased gentlemen were all men of wide business experience in those days, and they prognosticated what is now happening. But the "hand writing is on the wall," public opinion and sound common sense are too prevalent these days to allow a repetition of the past, and the Dominion Government too sane to blind its eyes to the Louise Docks bubble.

It is true that the building up of the natural harbor along the St. Lawrence River front, from Pointe-a-Carrey wharf, is decided upon, and is likely to commence in the course of next summer, but nevertheless, the interests of the public must be safeguarded against any more spending of money on the Louise Docks extension. There is no objection to keeping the docks in repair, and this in itself will entail a large annual outlay, but it must end there. During the past year Mr. M. P. Davis has been engaged on a contract to repair the fallen wall in the inner basin, and notwithstanding his efforts in that direction, the crib work sunk and completed does not give satisfaction. In one part it has given some twelve to fourteen inches, which goes to demonstrate the scientific opinion of Mr. Laflamme and other geological scientists in regard to the moving sands and want of foundation, and in addition to this, the masonry facade lining the outer or tidal basin has bulged out to an alarming extent, and threaten to fall in to the water at any time without warning. The Chronicle is only actuated in pointing out the foregoing in the public interest, and it is hoped that the seriousness of the question will be received in the same spirit in which it is given.

In four years time, it is said, the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, together with the Quebec bridge, will be completed, and the harbor of Quebec is not prepared for the business it will be called upon to handle. Mr. C. M. Hays, vice-president and general manager of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway system of to-day, and president of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, has publicly stated in an interview with the Chronicle, when he was in this city, that the citizens of Quebec should get ready for the future needs of the port without loss of time.

He said that under present conditions, if the Grand Trunk Pacific was completed, the business it would bring here, would block the port in twenty-four hours.

Mr. D. McNicoll, vice-president, has expressed himself in similar terms, as also has every railroad man of importance who visited Quebec during this summer, and are only waiting for the completion of the new bridge to come here to do business.

In spite of these warnings from such men of the greatest business ability in the country, no effort is being made to safeguard the future, and none will probably be done until strangers come with their business and capital to do the work and reap all the benefit.

FIRE IN AYLMER

Loss of Between $20,000 and $100,000 in Burning of Ritchie's Lumber Piles.

Ottawa, Sept. 21.—Ritchie Brothers' upper piling ground in the northwest corner of the town of Aylmer, immediately in the rear of the Hotel Victoria, was completely destroyed by fire early yesterday morning, with a loss of between $20,000 and $100,000. Between four and five million feet of lumber went up in smoke, and, but for the plucky fight made by the town-plank people and their volunteer fire brigade, the biggest part of the community would have been homeless to-day. As it was the whole piling ground of some eight acres was burned to the ground, along with one brick house formerly the Presbytery residence, and now occupied by Mr. O'Leary, the C.P.R. station agent. All the lumber, with the exception of some $5,000 worth in one corner, was owned by the estate of the late Robert Hurdman, for whom the Ritchies had been cutting. The losses are understood to be pretty fully covered by insurance. The blaze was discovered at two o'clock in the very centre of the yards, and was either the result of incendiary or of gross carelessness on the part of some tramp making his home among the piles over night.

There was not the slightest chance at any stage of saving the lumber yard, for the town waterworks system only ran along one side, and, moreover, there was a shortage of hose, which prevented the use of as many hydrants as might otherwise have been tapped. The deficiency was made up by the arrival of hose from Hull, but not until the yards had been swept.

DOMINION LINE.

The steamer Dominion will sail from here this afternoon with mails and passengers for Liverpool. There is still ample good accommodation available in this steamer for first, second and third-class passengers, and as the Dominion is celebrated for her sea-going qualities and comfortable accommodation, anyone requiring passage to Europe cannot do better than apply to the agents of this steamer. The Dominion is commanded by Captain Mendus, one of the best known and most popular masters in the service, and will sail from the Breakwater after delivery of the mails about 7 o'clock this evening.

CARPET CLEANING

An Effectual Method of Destroying Germs Without Injuring Texture.

Possibly you are not aware that all floor coverings provide a most convenient breeding place for disease germs. Sputum from the sidewalk and filth from the streets are transferred by our shoes to our floor coverings. Ordinary dust is full of disease germs. Dr. Guglielmotte, of Monte Carlo, in a recent report notes that dust consists of not only tiny bits of sand and soil, but also of living organisms, chiefly germs and of dead organic matter, both animal and vegetable. None of these are good for those who breathe them.

A beating or brushing of carpets, the ordinary method of machine cleaning, will not remove these germs. We have recently installed a machine and a process which thoroughly cleans the carpets and destroys all germs, moths, larvae, etc., raises the nap of the carpets and brightens the color.

Under our process a powerful current of fresh air is continually being circulated through the carpet and drawn off carrying the dust with it. While this is taking place we generate a gas which is also circulated through the carpets and rugs and while it destroys all disease germs, it cannot in the least injure the finest fabrics.

We can clean your carpets at any time, sunshine, rain or snow, it makes no difference to us. Trusting you may be favored with your patronage.

We remain,
Very respectfully yours,
Quebec Carpet Cleaning, Disinfecting and Renovating Co.,

TEMPORARY ROADWAY RECOMMENDED TO THE GOVERNMENT

Owing to the danger to life that confronts the pedestrians and people in wagons who have occasion to pass along Champlain street in the vicinity of the landslide location these days, Mr. Mathieu, the engineer in charge of the work of taking down the threatening parts of the cliff, has recommended to the Government the opening of a new roadway along the wharves to obviate all danger from accident. The proprietor of the property required has offered the right of way to the Government for the sum of $300, and the engineer who has submitted the offer to the Department of Militia is awaiting a reply. It is complained that owing to red tape in Ottawa the proposition may not be attended to in a hurry, and in that case the civic authorities have made up their minds to stop the work until some arrangement is made with the Government by which the lives of citizens will be safeguarded. Already many narrow escapes have taken place by falling boulders that roll on to the roadway from the cliff, and the Aldermen of Champlain Ward have stepped in and said that a new roadway must be provided for traffic or the work stop may not be attended up to the Government to take action and it is hoped that a decision will be arrived at immediately.

PIMPLES, BLACKHEADS—

Get Rid Of All Your Face Troubles in a Few Days' Time, With the Wonderful Stuart's Calcium Wafers.

Trial Package Sent Free.

You cannot have an attractive face or a beautiful complexion when your blood is in bad order and full of impurities. Impure blood means an impure face, always.

The most wonderful as well as the most rapid blood cleanser is Stuart's Calcium Wafers. You use them for a few days, and the difference tells in your face right away.

Most blood purifiers and skin treatments are full of poison. Stuart's Calcium Wafers are guaranteed free from any poison, mercury, drug, or opiate. They are as harmless as water, but the results are astonishing. The worst cases of skin diseases have been cured in a week by this quick-acting remedy. It contains the most effective working power of any purifier ever discovered—calcium sulphide. Most blood and skin treatments are terribly slow. Stuart's Calcium Wafers have cured boils in three days. Every particle of impurity is driven out of your system completely, never to return, and it is done without deranging your system in the slightest.

No matter what your trouble is whether pimples, blotches, blackheads, rash, tetter, eczema, or scabby crusts, you can solemnly depend upon Stuart's Calcium Wafers as never-failing.

Don't be any longer humiliated by having a spotted face. Don't have strangers stare at you, or allow your friends to be ashamed of you because of your face.

Your blood makes you what you are. The men and women who forge ahead are those with pure blood and pure faces. Did you ever stop to think of that?

Stuart's Calcium Wafers are absolutely harmless, but the results—mighty satisfying to you even at the end of a week. They will make you happy because your face will be a welcome sight not only to yourself when you look in the glass, but to everybody else who knows you and talks with you.

We want to prove to you that Stuart's Calcium Wafers are beyond doubt the best and quickest blood and skin purifier in the world—so we will send you a free sample as soon as we get your name and address. Send for it to-day, and then when you have tried the sample you will not rest content until you have bought a 25c. box of your druggist's.

Send us your name and address to-day and we will at once send you by mail a sample package, free. Address: P. A. Stuart Co., 21 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

How to Exercise the Bowels

Your intestines are lined inside with millions of little suckers, that draw the nutrition out of food as it passes them. But, if the food passes too slowly, it leaves before it gets through. Then the little suckers draw Poison from it instead of Nutrition.

This Poison makes a Gas that injures your system more than the food should have nourished it.

You see, the food is Nourishment or Poison, just according to how long it stays in transit.

They do not waste any precious fluid of the Bowels, as Cathartics do. They do not relax the intestines by greasing them inside like Castor Oil or Glycerine.

They simply stimulate the Bowel Muscles to do their work naturally, comfortably, and nutritiously.

And, the Exercise these Bowel Muscles are thus forced to take, makes them stronger for the future, just as Exercise makes your arm stronger.

MY CASCARET POCKET MY WATCH POCKET

The usual remedy for this delayed passage (called Constipation) is to take a big dose of Castor Oil.

This merely makes slippery the passage for unloading the current cargo. It does not help the Cause of delay a trifle.

It does slacken the Bowel-Muscles more than ever, and thus weakens them for their next task.

Another remedy is to take a strong Cathartic, like Salts, Calomel, Jalap, Phosphate of Sodium, Aperient Water, or any of these mixed.

What does the Cathartic do? It merely flushes-out the Bowels with a waste of Digestive Juice, set flowing into the intestines through the tiny suckers.

But, the Digestive Juice we waste in doing this today is needed for tomorrow's natural Digestion. We cannot afford to lose it.

That's why Cascarets are the only safe medicine for the bowels.

This is why the dose of Cascarets can be lessened from time to time as you take them, instead of increased as with all Cathartics.

Cascarets are as safe to use constantly as they are pleasant to take.

They are purposely put up like candy, so you must eat them slowly and let them go down gradually with the saliva, which is in itself, a fine, natural Digestive.

They are put up purposely in thin, flat, round-cornered, Enamel boxes, so they can be carried in a man's vest pocket, or in a woman's purse, all the time, without bulk or trouble.

Because the time to take a Cascaret is not only when you are Sick, but when you first suspect you need one. Price 10c a box.

Be very careful to get the genuine, made only by the Sterling Remedy Company and never sold in bulk. Every tablet stamped "C.C.C."

A sample and the famous booklet, "Curse of Constipation," Free for the asking. Address Sterling Remedy Company, Chicago or New York.

IN A RAILWAY COLLISION.

News reached town yesterday of a head-on collision between freight and passenger trains at the Grand Trunk yards in Napanea, Ont., early yesterday morning. A freight train west-bound, while waiting to cross a passenger train east-bound, for some unknown reason pulled on to the main line and the passenger coming along crashed into it. Engineer Blaine, of the passenger, was killed. There were no other casualties. Among the passengers were many Oddfellows returning from the Sovereign Grand Lodge meeting at Toronto. These included Mr. E. H. Walling, of this city, Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Quebec, who fortunately escaped any injury, and who continued on his way to Danville, Que., where he paid an official visit last evening.

Beautiful and Brilliant Colors
Guaranteed When Ladies Use—
DIAMOND DYES

Each year thousands of letters come in from all parts of this vast Dominion telling of victories and successes with Diamond Dyes in the home.

The marvellous and immense sales of Diamond Dyes in Canada have induced adventurers and speculators (who know nothing about the chemistry of colors) to go into the putting up of package dyes. Such dyes are adulterated and crude; the colors are muddy and blotchy, bringing ruin to the materials you try to dye.

DIAMOND DYES, the choice of wise women, are the kind used when bright full, fast and brilliant colors are wanted. No disappointments possible when you use Diamond Dyes.

DIAMOND DYES are sold by all leading druggists and dealers. Refuse to accept substitutes when you use Diamond Dyes. Z. PAQUET'S

Fall Opening Display

COMMENCING

MONDAY, SEPT. 24th.

The Great Departmental Stores of Z. Paquet are once more decked in gala attire, in readiness for their Grand Fall Opening and Fashion Exposition.

It is always an education in itself to visit these stores, where the products of the world's greatest factories and the most beautiful conceptions in the modiste's and milliner's art have been gathered together for the convenience and profit of those who wish to purchase and for the pleasure and enlightenment of those who wish to admire and observe. But on those memorable occasions when the various seasons are ushered in—when the newest styles are opened up and placed on exhibition—when the doors are flung wide open to the public and everyone is invited to "come and ask questions"—one experiences a thrill of pleasurable excitement, not unlike the sensation that used to come long years ago when we emptied our stockings on Christmas morning.

This season's display surpasses in elegance and assortment those of former years and demonstrates most forcibly the enterprise and progressiveness of the management. In the window decorations, which proclaim the work of a Master Hand, artistic effects have been attained which would do credit to the great stores of New York and other large American cities. Several new departments have been recently added, and these will be formally opened on Monday. Among these is a magnificent Confectionery Department, where the choicest of bonbons are temptingly displayed in show cases and on artistically arranged shelves. The fixtures in this department are extremely rich and handsome and are unsurpassed for beauty and magnificence by those of any large confectionery establishment on this continent. The new Tobacco Department, on the main floor to the left of the main entrance, has also been provided with the newest and most elaborate of fixtures and a complete stock of cigars and tobaccos, as well as a full assortment of pipes and smokers' articles may now be found there. The cigars are kept in humidors, thus preserving their flavor and aroma and keeping them always in perfect condition. On the first floor, close to the elevator and at right angles to the business offices, is the new Optical Department which is under the management of a skilled optician. Here those who are afflicted with eye troubles may be fitted with glasses of the proper strength.

The basement has been completely remodelled and presents a most pleasing appearance with its rows of dainty tables displaying handsome china and bric-a-brac to the best advantage. The shoe department has also been enlarged and remodelled and the newest styles in nobby footwear are attractively displayed. An exchange office has been opened at the main floor, and this is an added convenience to those who would have occasion to avail themselves of the liberal offer of "absolute satisfaction or money refunded."

In the Mantle Showroom many new and pleasing styles are exhibited in the glass cases and on the models. The silk embroidered jackets, which have not been seen for twelve years or more, are seen to be fashionable once more, and the box coats, made with yoke and box pleating are much in evidence. One model, which will be worn by both young and old, is of all-wool Venetian beaver cloth with collar and cuffs made with straps of self, stitched on Bengaline silk. This model is made double-breasted, has fancy roll collar, large tresse buttons and full surplus cuffed with raw edge straps and the back is made with intricate pleats and tucks.

In the new fall costumes, the Prince Chap is the favorite and black is given much prominence. One model that deserves special mention is of black Venetian cloth with dainty bolera jacket, fancy cut, silk bound front, beautifully finished with buttonhole effects and trimmed with fancy buttons. The black is cut in three sections, the center section being bound with silk. The waist is dainty and tapered and the lower part rippling on the hips in a dainty basque gathered at the wrists with fancy cuffs of the same material. The skirt is made in the full circular style, cut in eleven gores, with one-inch tucks on each gore and six silk bound horizontal tabs on bottom.

A very handsome Prince Chap costume is shown in navy silk and wool Venetian Cloth with silk waist trimmed with half-inch black velvet and military braid. The lining of the skirt is made of the new 4 length. A full, circular skirt made with clusters of box pleats stitched from the waist line to just below the hips and faying to the bottom, completes the clever conception.

In the Millinery Department many exquisite Importex Models greet the eye. Some of these are exceptionally dainty and chic—others are superbly note. The hats with large sweeping plumes and rich clusters of fringe. The large headed hat pins are worn with all these new models. Golden Braid, Mousse Green, Bordeaux and London Smoke are the anals most in evidence and Scottish Plaids are very strong in braids and trimmings. Wings, breasts, plumes, quills, valance tips and coque feathers are all used to good advantage and will apparently be more popular this season than ever before.

A large Gainsborough's hat of maroon velvet in the new shape known as London Smoke is worthy of special note. This model has a large crown, upturned side trimmed with two pleated wings in sage green. The crown is draped with pencil checked silk with knots of same. The front is tipped and the back quite high, with choux of tulle on the underparts.

In the new Brodeux shade is shown a tipped sailor with crown made of entwined knots of old rose ribbon and wreath of small roses of the same delicate shade. A large pheasant plume fastened in the front and falling over the back gives a very stylish effect. A very high back, with bandeau completely covered with old rose satin mousseline completes the description of the exquisite creation. One might run on and on, describing the charming effects in Mousse Green—the fashionable Black Picture Hats with rich Ostrich Plumes—the myriads of fascinating novelties in this ultra-fashionable collection—but mere words are a poor substitute for a prolonged visit and a personal investigation of the wealth of beauty and excellence of taste displayed in this department alone.

Never has there been seen in Quebec such a marvellous exposition of the newest styles—such a gorgeous array of seasonable dress fabrics—such an enormous showing of desirable goods of every description.

The Grand Fall Opening will commence on Monday night, the stores will be open until 10.30 o'clock and a musical programme will be provided.

Tragedy and Comedy in Dreams That Really Come True.

From the time of Joseph's interpretations in Egypt—and long before no doubt—the mystery of dreams has had a remarkable fascination for mankind.

Passing strange are their prophecies and warnings, and stranger still when these come true, as is often the case.

By what mystic power are dreamers enabled to project their visual sense through space, to lift the curtain that veils the future.

Duties often dreams foretell disaster, or deal with some trouble that besets the dreamer. Still, dreams have their comedies as well as tragedies, and not infrequently essay the role of assistant to Master Cupid.

Missing person and lost property are sometimes found through the agency of dreams. The death angel, hovering near, seems especially liable to cast its dream shadow over a sleeper.

Not long ago, Sonnie Fletcher, a young woman of Burton-on-Trent, England, disappeared from home. Her family greatly distressed, were unable to gain any traces of her through the ordinary channels of information.

A few nights afterwards Thomas Trigg, a relative who had joined in the unavailing search, dreamed that he encountered the missing girl walking along a certain street.

So greatly was he impressed by the vision during the following day that he left his work and went to the spot where he had seen Miss Fletcher in his dream. Sure enough, almost at the exact place, he found the young woman wandering helplessly along.

Just as vivid and twice repeated but failing as yet to result in the same success, was a mental vision that sent William B. Huntford, of Portland, Ore., half way across the continent.

When Mr. Huntford was a boy in Iowa he deeply loved a pretty girl schoolmate. Fate and removal of both families from the State separated them, and Mr. Huntford lost track of the sweetheart of his youth.

Forgetfulness, however, did not blot her picture from his mind. A few months ago he is now a successful young business man—he dreamed of meeting her in a strange city.

VISIONS REAPPEAR.

Mr. Huntford did not know the city revealed in his vision, and no clue was given him as to its identity; but he recognized promptly the young woman who was apparently in it, and saw that, like Rachel of old, she was fair to look upon.

Three times the dream illuminated his slumbers, and it was always the same scene and the same happy meeting with the sweetheart of his youth. There were high buildings about; trolleys rolled past, and a light fall of snow covered the ground.

A few days following his last dream the perplexed man picked up a volume containing views of Denver, and, in one, labeled "Seventeenth Street," recognized the thoroughfare of his dreams.

"Mine was a snow dream," he said, "and there must be a white carpet on the ground. Still, I have faith enough to believe that it will meet my classmate here sometime. I will wait until the last snowstorm of the winter has swept over the city, confidently expecting the girl with whom I used to go to school back in Des Moines."

Real trouble assailed Mrs. Joseph H. Pineau, of Williamsport, Pa., a few weeks ago when she missed her jewels. Believing that she had been robbed during a spell of sickness, she had a servant arrested on suspicion.

That night Mrs. Pineau dreamed that she saw her jewels at the bottom of a basket containing china-ware. In the morning she hastened to the closet where the basket was, explored beneath the china, and there found her gems, just as she had seen them in her sleep.

While hunting in the woods last winter, William Ward, of Freeport, Pa., lost a watch. It was two weeks before the dream in this case revealed the spot where the watch lay, but when Mr. Ward made a search there he found it.

The London Spectator told a few weeks ago of an English woman whose reduced circumstances caused her great anxiety. At one period of her greatest trouble she dreamed that while listening to a sermon in church she noticed people all around her getting up and going out.

"I asked some of them why they were leaving," she said afterward, "and they replied: 'To look for the magic bird in the churchyard. You will always have luck if you find it.' So I went out, too, and, scrapping away some leaves, found a treat—tiful speckled thrush, which dropped one pound in my hand.

GETS HER MONEY.

"The next morning I went into our garden, and there, among the fallen leaves, found the body of a speckled thrush, which had been killed by a cat. I was greatly comforted, as I knew then that the money I needed would come. Sure enough, two checks came in the mails that day."

Warnings of disaster frequently come to sleeping persons. While traveling through Texas a short time ago, a woman living in Upper Sandusky, Ohio, dreamed that her barn was burnt and two valuable horses lost with it. She related the dream to several persons. That day she received information that her barn had actually burned, and the details tallied with her vision.

Started from sleep by a vivid dream that his best Alderney cow was choking to death in the stable, Robert Rickards, a prominent farmer of Bridgeville, Del., hurried at dead of night to his barnyard a short time ago. He found that the cow was really choking, and it died before he could effect relief.

While Aaron Smith, railroad section foreman, of Medora, Ill., was working near the station at Fidelity, Agent J. E. Monahan came out upon the platform and waved a sheet containing a telegraph message just received for Smith. Walking up to receive the message, Smith quietly asked, "Is he dead?"

"How did you know?" gasped the astonished agent.

"I dreamed it," replied the foreman, taking the sheet that told of the tragic death of his son.

Many miles away, Irvine Smith, a brakeman on the road, had been run down by a train while frantically endeavoring to release his foot from a switch frog in which it had been caught.

"His death was no surprise to me," said the father, as he learned the fact. "Twice during the last week I dreamed of seeing my son killed in exactly that manner."

THE FOREMAN'S DREAM.

Falling from the fifteenth story in the Sandler Building, in course of erection at Atlanta, Ga., Peter McGarry, an ironworker, was dashed to death a few days ago.

The strange part of the story is that only the morning of the accident Foreman Peck, who had charge of the iron and steel workers, halted his men as they were about to begin their labors, and warned them very earnestly to be careful.

"I dreamed," he said, "that one of the men fell from the top of the building and was killed. I have been unable to get the terrible impression off my mind, and I request that each of you exercise more than usual caution in your work."

Dominic Carmona, of Mount Washington, Pa., dreamed that his nephew Giuseppe Samazzi, was dead. When he read the newspapers that an unknown man had been killed by falling from a car on the Smithfield street bridge, Pittsburgh, he felt convinced that the unfortunate was his nephew. Calling at the morgue he made the identification.

EATEN BY A CROCODILE.

English Trader's Terrible Death in Rhodesia.

(London Leader.)

Details have now been received from Salisbury, Rhodesia, of the terrible death of an Englishman named Warman, a native of Swanscombe, who was eaten by a crocodile on the Kafue river. Mr. Warman, who was formerly employed at Salisbury Railway Station, left some time ago on a trading trip through north west Rhodesia, and was accompanied by Mr. H. E. Bennett, who was formerly a telegraphist in the town.

When they came to the Kafue river, they put together a rough boat on which they placed their belongings and then embarked. When in mid-stream the frail craft capsize, Bennett and Warman found themselves floundering in the water and both struck out for the shore. Bennett safely reached the bank; but on looking round to see how his companion fared a horrible sight presented itself. A huge crocodile had just seized Warman by the leg and dragged him down, and Bennett never saw him again. Three hundred miles of country lay between Bennett and the first white man's house, and helped with food by friendly natives Bennett tramped all the way to this settlement, his possessions having been lost in the upset. Warman left a wife and family, who are at present in England.

The man whose religion is a bluff always wants to cash in with the chips.

No Gas or Dust Can Escape from this Furnace

There is only one way to build a gas-tight and air-tight furnace.

We have patented this way of fusing the joints. The "Hecla" is the only furnace built this way.

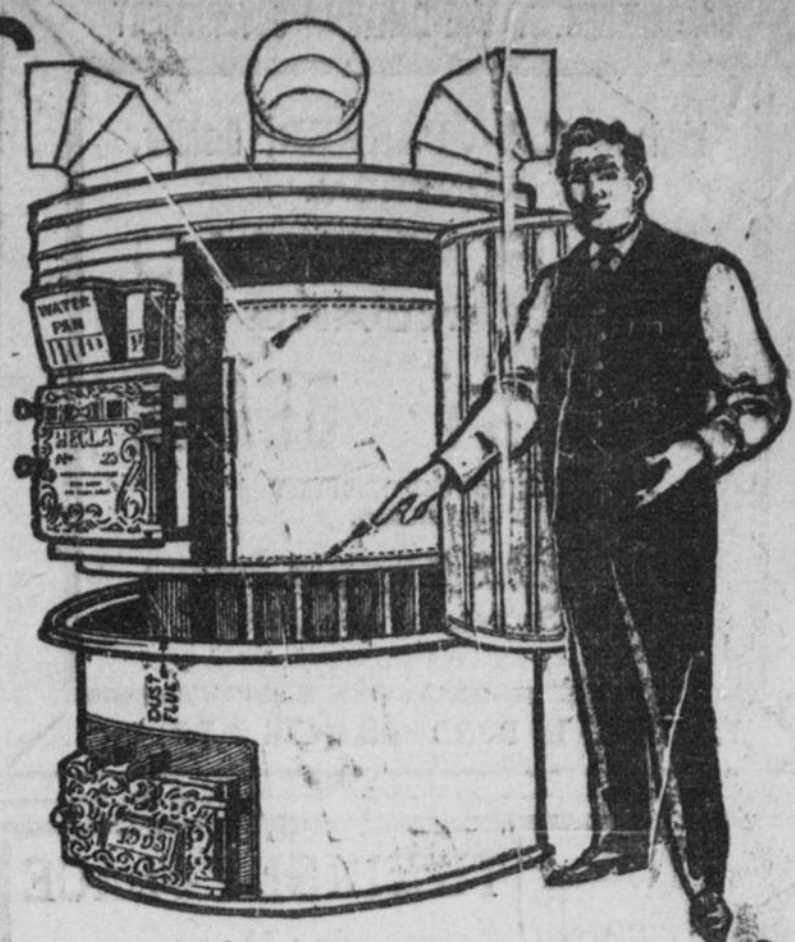

Remember the old time log cabin? That's the old principle on which most furnaces are built. Parts are put together as tight as possible, and the cracks and uneven places filled up with cement.

But in the log cabin the alternate heat and cold of the seasons cracked the filling and it kept falling out. It's just the same with the ordinary furnace. The difference in the rate of expansion and contraction of steel and cast iron is so great that the two separate—the cement in the joints drops out leaving openings that cannot be closed without calling in the repair man. As you cannot tear down your furnace in winter time, you put up with the inconvenience of the gas and dust that escape.

In the "Hecla" Furnace, the connections between the steel and iron sections of the furnace are made by fusing the two metals together at a white heat, making a joint that is absolutely and permanently tight. There is no possibility of gas, dust or smoke coming into the house.

If you are going to put in a new furnace this year, send me rough plan of your house with dimensions and I will send you—free of charge—an estimate of the total cost of installing a "Hecla" furnace. I will also send you handsome catalogue with full explanations. Write to-day "Clare's Furnace Builder," care of

LITERARY NOTES.

The North Country, by Harry Anton Auer. The Robt. Clarke Co., Publishers, Cincinnati. Cloth, illustrated $1.50 Net.

An exceedingly fascinating description of a fishing expedition into the North Country, which is explained by the author to signify "the wilderness in that part of Canada extending northward from Georgian Bay to Hudson's Bay. It is full of valuable hints for the angler and sportsman who, disdaining the luxuries of the 'club house' boldly dares to cut himself off from civilization, and strike out into the wilderness on his own hook, and it is written by a thorough lover of nature, and with a deep appreciation of her mysterious charm in her solitary moods. Gilbert Parker has told us of the fascination which the far north exercises on the lonely wayfarer, who ventures into its solitudes and this fascination appears to have exerted its power over Mr. Auer, who has contrived in great measure to make his readers participate in his feelings. "For weeks," he concludes, "you have nestled close in the bosom of friendly Nature, and have listened wonderingly to the heart beats of the Great Mother, and never again can you be as you were before; for the Spirit of the Mountains has stolen away your pettiness and has cleared your vision with its larger view; and the river has taught you a wise theory of life, and as you list to Nature's teachings you know that once again you will enter into the blessed season of the Great Mother, for a season of happy communion, for deep calls unto deep, and already you hear voices calling you as a faint echo of a muzzlin's call to worship and you know that the spirit of the north country has entered into your soul."

The history of the expedition is admirably written, and it is also admirably illustrated with numerous half-tone photographs.

The Dream and the Business, by John Oliver Hobbs. Paper 75 cts. T. Fisher Unwin, Publisher.

In some country parts of Yorkshire many years ago there was a Christmas dish known as "hack" or "hag" pie which differed from the ordinary mince-pie in having pig's liver and kidney substituted for the beef which formed part of its usual composition. The flavor was peculiar and required an educated taste for its proper appreciation, and the same thing may be said of the religio-erotic novel, of which The Dream and the Business is an example, especially when, as in this instance, it is flavored with the platonic friendship which we are told exists between members of the opposite sexes, and which observes the letter, if not the spirit of the Seventh Commandment. The style is brilliant and worthy of the writer, of whom the London Tribune said lately:—"There are greater names among fiction writers, yet few whose death would strike us as a loss so painful and irreparable"; and it is a good example of that Hegelian philosophy with which she was imbued, and of the characteristic cynicism which was thus touched off in Nursery Rhymes for novelists:

John Oliver Hobbs, with your spams and thobs,
How does your novel grow?
With cynical sneers at young Love
And his fears,
And epigrams all in a row.

Charles Hands, of the London Daily Mail, went into a quick breakfast saloon. The eggs the waiter brought him appeared to be debilitated.

"Waitah," said Hands, in his best British voice, "these eggs can't be fresh."

"Oh, yesir," said the waiter, "them's fresh laid—laid yesterday."

"Very well," said Hands, as he moved back, "p'raps they are. But I will say this—the hen must have carried them about in her system a long time."

THE ROBBER-FLY.

Were all the insect pirates gathered into an army of aggression, probably the leadership would be voted to the daring robber-fly, or asilus. This little ruffian is not very formidable in appearance, although some of the Southern species grow to a length of more than two inches. In Northern climes the robber-fly is usually about one-fourth of an inch long. Several species make up the depraved family. Some are entirely black, others brown and gray, still others of a dull yellow, like some members of the wasp tribe. Perhaps the resemblance has something to do with the bloodthirsty nature of the asilus, as it does not hesitate to attack a wasp more than it would an ordinary house fly, and usually it comes off victor in the struggle.

It seems strange that the wasp cannot make a successful defence against an antagonist no longer than itself. The asilus, however, is well equipped for piratical attacks. Its wings are powerful, its legs long and muscular, and it is armed with a lengthy, keen sword, which it uses with the skill of a master of fence. Seeing a wasp busy feeding, the insect assassin quickly pounces upon its back. With its long legs it is able to hold the struggling wasp far enough away to be out of danger of its sting, while it speedily preys the helpless victim to death with its rapier proboscis.

A different ending is given the story of the spider and the fly when the robber-fly walks boldly and without invitation into the parlor of the spider. Not only does this fly have no fear of the arch enemy of its race, but actually seeks out and attacks him whenever it can. He appears to be particularly fond of spider venison. This probably is the only member of the fly tribe that the spider holds in fear. When it notices the asilus in its neighborhood it quickly seeks cover. Generally it is too late; the keen-eyed robber-fly has spied its victim; then follows a brief but lively battle.—The Norfolk 'Virginian-Pilot.'

Pearl marumade is best made of large yellow pears, which should be ripe, in a porcelain kettle with a pint of water, let cook slowly until reduced to a pulp, add a quarter of a pound of sugar to every pound of fruit, and stir over the fire until thick and smooth. Take up in a bowl, let cool, put in small glasses or jars, seal and set in a cool, dry place.

FORTUNES IN OLD SHIPS.

Methods of shipbuilding are improving so rapidly that an old steamer cannot compete successfully with a new one. Consequently, every year an increasing number of out-of-date steamers come under the auctioneer's hammer. As a rule they are sold simply for breaking up, for it rarely pays to re-engine them, even though their hulls are perfectly sound. Norwegians may purchase a few of the best for coastwise trade, but usually the poor old craft fetch just what they are worth as scrap metal.

The professional purchaser of steamers has to be very smart. It is not difficult to estimate what a steamer is worth as old iron, but the value comes in the brass and the copper. Both these metals are valuable, copper, for instance, fetching just now about 80 pounds a ton—and the ship-breaker must be able to gauge with considerable exactitude the weight of the copper and brass fittings of the vessel to be sold.

The usual price paid for an old tramp steamer is one pound a ton. An old liner will fetch more, and some crafts run as high as 40 shillings or even two pounds a ton. Considering their original cost, the prices obtained at auction for old vessels seem very small, yet, as a rule, they do not represent large profits to the breaker. Now and then, however, the latter gets hold of a real bargain, and naturally makes the most of it.

For instance that colossal craft, the Great Eastern, fetched only 16,100 pounds when sold for breaking up. It is shrewdly suspected that nearly 200 per cent. was made by her purchasers, for her fittings were all of the very best.

Some of the cheapest bargains have been obtained at the taxpayer's expense. Old warships, cast from the navy, are well worth having, and especially old wooden vessels. About eighteen months ago the ancient three-decker Lion, which had been used as a training-ship in the Harwich, was sold out of the service. She fetched considerably less than her value as firewood. When she was broken up, her timbers, which were perfectly sound, more than paid her purchase-money as well as the cost of breaking, and her buyers netted nearly one hundred tons of copper bolts, and also about the same amount of iron. There were also fittings, ropes, sheathing, etc. so that the old warship certainly represented a very nice little fortune for her purchasers.

Another old training-ship which sold for just over 4,000 pounds realized, so the writer has been assured, no less than 11,000 pounds for her buyers. The best of her timbers, which were all solid oak, were sold to a large firm of furniture-makers. A third vessel knocked down at the same auction was one of the old-fashioned composite cruisers, and was purchased for 3,700 pounds. Her breakers made that sum out of her copper sheathing alone.

Some years ago a steamer of about 800 tons ran ashore near Portland, and remained in an apparently hopeless condition balanced on a rock. She was offered for sale a week later, but no one would bid more than 65 pounds. At this figure she was knocked down. Favored by exceptionally calm weather, her purchasers got her engines and fittings out of her where she lay, and eventually realized a profit of 700 pounds.

The most astonishing wreck romance is without doubt that of the Peninsular and Oriental steamer Australia. Just two years ago this splendid ship, which cost over 500,000 pounds to build, went ashore at the mouth of Port Philip Bay, near Melbourne. They tried hard to get her off, but all in vain; so the wreck was put up to auction and knocked down to a Melbourne draper—Mr. Aikman—for the absurd sum of 290 pounds. He also purchased the cargo left aboard for another 65 pounds.

He lost no time in getting divers to work, and the first thing that he discovered was a quantity of valuable cargo in the after hold which seemed to have been entirely overlooked. There was hardware, plated goods, enamelled dishes, and a set of 4-hand instruments, which latter in themselves were worth what he had paid for the whole cargo.

Next there were discovered ten tons of Muntz metal. This fetched 75 pounds a ton, or rather more than twice what Mr. Aikman had paid for ship and cargo. Nine hundred tons of iron and steel were next recovered and sold for ten pounds a ton. After that came over 200 tons of brass, nearly 2,000 tons of scrap iron, and a lot of odds and ends of all descriptions enough to fill a column of this paper if fully described.

Suffice it to say that the purchase of the wrecked Australia realized something approaching 150,000 pounds from his fortunate investment. He is now owner of the Melbourne Coffee Palace and a member of the legislative council of Victoria.—Advertiser.

THE EXPRESS LOCOMOTIVE.

An interesting article is contributed to 'Pearson's Magazine' by Mr. C. H. Jones, describing how engines pick up water when travelling at full speed, thereby effecting an immense saving in time by the abolition of the frequent stops that would otherwise be necessary. Locomotives working fast passenger trains consume from 25 to 50 gallons of water every mile they run the quantity varying with the weight of the train, the state of the weather, and other conditions. Hence a train used to be frequently stopped at a station for the engine to quench its thirst at a water column when, from a traffic point of view, such a stop was unnecessary. But since the introduction of water troughs on the great railways engines can pick up from one to two thousand gallons of water in about fifteen seconds when running at full speed. To pick up water is a simple operation, but, even to the engineer, it is an exciting incident on the journey.

As the train rushes along, both driver and fireman are on the alert to locate the position of the troughs. This is an easy matter in daylight, but in the dark it is more difficult; they have then to be guided by some landmark, such as an over-bridge, or by the sound as when the train rumbles over an iron bridge. While the driver, with his head on the regulator looks out ahead, the fireman watches for the trough, and the instant that the tender is over it, he, with a quick turn of the handle of a screw, lowers a scoop and notes the rapid rise of the water in the tender as indicated by a gauge. He must be prompt in reversing the screw just before the tender is full, otherwise the water will spout out in great volume through the overflow pipes, and flood the train.

Water troughs are usually put down about 50 or 70 miles apart. A tender ordinarily carries about 3,000 gallons of water, but in the absence of 'picking up' apparatus on some ways, where heavy trains have to travel long distances without a stop, it has been found necessary to increase the capacity of the tenders to 4,000 or even 4,500 gallons.

GRASSHOPPERS IN A GLACIER.

(From 'Country Life in America'.)
One of the small glaciers in Manitoba is of especial interest on account of the fact that in the mass of ice there are imbedded two strata of grasshoppers, each about a foot thick. There are literally tons of grasshoppers in the ice, and the question naturally arises as to where they came from.

The most obvious explanation is that centuries ago the enormous swarms in course of migration were caught in a snowstorm, chilled and buried in the snow, where they have remained till now in a perfect state of preservation. In the accounts of the early Western explorers a few instances are related of meeting large swarms of locusts on the mountain tops in the Rockies. It is a very fortunate circumstance that the great extension of agriculture in the West has broken up the breeding grounds of these insects.

The proof of a faith is not in its practice, but in its present power.

DO YOU EVER FIGURE THE COST of a single day's baking—the material, fuel, time and labour—and consider that it is all wasted if the baking is a failure?

Results are usually satisfactory or otherwise according to the flour you use. Is it economy, then, to use a flour of uncertain quality when a few cents more will buy a flour that you can depend upon to produce light, crisp and wholesome bread or pastry?

Royal Household flour does not vary in quality—does not disappoint. It is made from selected hard wheat, milled by a most modern process which guarantees absolute purity. And purity in flour is a matter of the very greatest importance.

THE LAND OF ICEBERGS.

(W. B. Conant, in Boston Transcript.)

It is the icebergs that make Labrador fascinating. They greet you when you steam out of the Straits of Belle Isle, the northern gateway of the Gulf of St. Lawrence, and head northward up the coast of Labrador. They come floating from the north, an endless procession, all shapes, fantastic, colossal, statuesque, even grotesque—a magnificent assemblage of crystal domes and turrets and marble fortress. Your steamer picks its way carefully among them lest they be jealous of her intrusion and fall over upon her. And in the midst of this gorgeous company you come to Battis Harbor.

The settlement is on an island perhaps two hundred yards in diameter, which is the outpost of a large island, and ploughs the waves of the ocean like prow of some gigantic ocean liner. In storms the spray leaps almost across its ledgy surface. A cove hides behind the bluff sea wall, and on its rim nestles a tiny village of whitewashed cottages. You climb the hill to the lookout. Away to the north and south spreads out the vast procession of the icebergs. They come out of the north, the fog surrounding their tops and streaming like smoke from their pinnacles. They move slowly southward, perhaps three or four miles a day. Some go directly south down the Newfoundland coast, some turn west as they approach the Straits and are swept by the tide into the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

Day by day from the hilltop you note their slow progress. Each day sees new forms emerging on the northern horizon, while old, familiar bulks are lost to view in the south. Each month icebergs are natives of a more northern region. Hence the bergs of the late summer, though fewer in number, are individually larger than those of the earliest part of the season, because they have been longer in the making, coming from further north. June's icebergs are Labrador's own product, and have broken off from the ice field that has filled the bays and extended far into the ocean in the previous winter. July's bergs come from Baffin Land, while the huge bulks of August are natives of Kane Bay and the far northern rim of Greenland, where man has never been.

May be the Liver
Is at Fault

It is customary for many people to blame the stomach when the liver is responsible for the troubles of digestion.

Such symptoms as headache, coated tongue, disgust for food, vomiting, feelings of weight and soreness, dull pain near shoulders, muddy complexion, constipation, alternating with looseness of the bowels, irritability of temper, are sure indications of biliousness or torpid liver.

Dr. Chase's Kidney Liver Pills are marvelously prompt and certain as a cure for sluggish action of the liver. While awakening the liver they also regulate the bowels and invigorate the kidney action.

In this way the filtering and excretory systems are thoroughly cleansed of all poisonous impurities and the cause of pain, sickness suffering removed.

In every family there is need of just such a medicine as Dr. Chase's Kidney Liver Pills to cure constipation, back ache, biliousness, indigestion and prevent dangerous and fatal diseases of the kidneys and bowels. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmonson, Bate & Co., Toronto.

STOKERS ON A BATTLESHIP.

Henry Nevinston, special correspondent of the Glasgow Herald with the British blue fleet in the recent manoeuvres, after describing how blue dodged red's superior force in the Atlantic and raced into the English Channel, says:—

"While we in the salt air and sunshine of the bridge admired our speed and watched the enemy receding behind us, the true heroes of triumph were toiling in narrow chambers of iron far below the water's level. There, for sixteen hours apiece during our forty-eight hours' run, the stokers labored in an atmosphere that, I think, was never less than 120 degrees and in the chamber of the old cylindrical boilers was more. Four hours on and eight off ran the shifts, and for four hours at a time each stoker plied his furnace, shut in from above by the armor which makes a battleship's stokehold very different from a liner's. The down draft whirled the black dust round them; the fires burnt their flesh; they streamed with sweat; in spite of all precautions the glare scorched their eyes."

And for a word of praise and two shillings a day, adds Mr. Nevinston, they did it all and smiled.

CHEST IDENTIFIED.

The tool chest found in the Louise Basin by the Messrs. Vezina on Thursday was yesterday identified by Theophile Gagnon as one which he had left in the Lake St. John Railway station when he left for La Tuque a couple of days ago. He, however, failed to identify the chest which was found floating near the chest or the "sawed log" which was attached to the handle. Whether the individual who carried off the chest fell into the Basin and was drowned, or whether the chest alone was thrown into the water, is still a mystery.

DIRECT ATTACHE

Canada Wan's Diplomatic Representative at American Capital.

Ottawa, Sept. 21.—A feeler is being thrown out by the government, through the Liberal press, which indicates a desire to renew the agitation for direct representation of the Dominion at Washington. President Roosevelt's remarks, made to the Canadian section of the international deep waterways commission when it met in Washington some months ago, that it was high time Canada was represented by an attaché of the British Embassy at the American capital, is being quoted again, with the intimation added that the Dominion government is weary of the present roundabout means of official communication between the White House and Ottawa, and may shortly make a move towards an improvement on the lines suggested by President Roosevelt.

A Trite Saying.

It is a trite saying that no man is stronger than his stomach. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery strengthens the stomach, puts it in shape, to make pure, rich blood—the life and kidneys to expel the poisons from the body and thus cures both liver and kidney troubles. If you take this natural blood purifier and tonic you will assist your system in manufacturing each day a pint of rich, red blood, that is invigorating to the brain and nerves. The nervous system, run-down, debilitated condition which so many people suffer from, is usually the effect of poisons in the blood; it is often indicated by pimples or boils appearing on the skin, the face becomes thin and the feelings "blue." Dr. Pierce's "Discovery" cures all blood humors as well as being a tonic that makes one vigorous, strong and forceful. It is the only medicine put up for sale through druggists for like purposes that contains neither alcohol nor harmful habit-forming drugs, and the only one, every ingredient of which has the professional endorsement of the leading medical writers of this country. Some of these endorsements are published in a little book of extracts from standard medical works and will be sent to any address free, on receipt of request therefor by letter or postal card, addressed to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. It is just what Dr. Pierce's medicines are made of. The "Words of Praise" for the several ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's medicines are composed, by leaders in all the several schools of medical practice, and recommending them for the cure of the diseases for which the "Golden Medical Discovery" is advised, should have far more weight with the sick and afflicted than any amount of the so-called "testimonials" so conspicuously flaunted before the public by those who are afraid to let the ingredients of which their medicines are composed be known. Bear in mind that the "Golden Medical Discovery" has the badge of honesty on every bottle wrapper, in a full list of its ingredients. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation, invigorate the liver and regulate the stomach and bowels. Dr. Pierce's great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser will be sent free, paper-bound, for 31 one-cent stamps, or cloth-bound for 50 stamps. Address Dr. Pierce as above.

AUSTALIA AND ENGLAND.

London, Sept. 21.—At Melbourne the schedule of the preferential tariff between Australia and England was agreed upon in the House of Representatives. An amendment proposing to await the result of the imperial conference was negatived by thirty-five to twenty-seven.

Premier Read, in a speech at Sidney, declared he would not raise the fiscal issue at the coming elections. He denounced Premier Deakin's preferential trade proposals as giving no real preference to Britain, but to New Zealand, thereby entailing heavier taxation in the Commonwealth.

BLOOD TROUBLES.

Cured Through the Rich, Red Blood Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Actual y Make.

Thousands of women suffer from headaches, backaches, dizziness, languor and nervousness. Few realize that their misery all comes from the bad state of their blood. They take one thing for their head, and another for their stomach, a third for their nerves. And yet all the while it is simply their blood that is the cause of all their trouble. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure all these and other blood troubles because they actually make new, rich, red blood. Mrs. J. H. McArthur, St. Thomas, Ont., says: "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done me a world of good. For about eighteen months I was a constant sufferer. I was terribly run down and the least exertion left me lagged out. I slept badly at night and this further weakened me, and finally I had to give up house-keeping and go boarding as I was quite unable to do any housework. I took doctor's medicine but it was of little or no benefit. One day a neighbor told me how much benefit she had derived from Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and advised me to try them. I sent and got three boxes, and by the time I had used them I could feel a change for the better. Then I got four boxes more, and before they were all gone my health was fully restored. To see me now one would not think I had ever been sick for a day, and I can honestly say I owe my renewed health to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the greatest cure there is for the weakness and backaches and dizziness of anemia; all the distress of indigestion; all the pains and aches of rheumatism, sciatica and neuralgia, and the weakness and ill health that follows any disturbance of regularity in the blood supply. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50c. a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
