BRITAIN EXTENDS AIR MANOEUVRES

Mid-Eastern Allies Will Have Visits

Great Britain and France, Enthusiastic Over Success of Great Cross-Channel Demonstration, Plan Good-Will Trips to Poland and Other Allies—German Press Indignant at Allied Activity.

London, July 12.—(P)—Great Britain and France, having entered cross-channel aerial manoeuvres as part of a consolidation of their air forces, were reported today to be considering flights to Poland and other allies.

The British press delightedly described yesterday's initial round-trip excursion of two hundred Royal Air Force bombers to French territory as a "flawless performance" and an important "demonstration to the world of Anglo-French solidarity."

The flight will be followed by a return visit from French warplanes with more or less regular shuttle trips to follow.

The Daily Mail (Independent) said that other British allies, chiefly Poland, would be taken into the scheme after details had been worked out.

French and British anti-aircraft forces were brought into the exercises, with reports to be exchanged on the theoretical results of their Continued on page 3, col. 3.

Mussolini Personally Orders Expulsion From Border Areas

Military and Political Reasons Given as Excuse for Ordering of All Foreigners from Tyrol—Believed that Extensive Italo-German Troop Movements Are Presaged by New Eviction Order.

Rome, July 12.—(P)—The Italian Government disclosed today that Premier Mussolini himself had ordered all foreigners cleared out of Bolzano Province as a "political and military" measure directed against anti-Fascism.

A communique said Il Duce as Minister of the Interior had ordered the expulsions from the Northern Frontier Tyrolean province which Italy gained from Austria in the Great War.

It said the action was taken in conjunction with the Ova, Italy's organization for the suppression of anti-Fascism, because "the activity of some elements from western nations and residents in the Province of Bolzano."

FRANCE EXPELS ITALIAN JOURNALIST
Paris, July 12.—(P)—France issued an expulsion order against the Paris correspondent of the Italian newspaper Il Popolo di Roma, Concetto Petalio, who wrote a number of articles which officials said "gave a false impression of France."

PRESAGES MILITARY MANOEUVRES
Rome, July 12.—(P)—Italy's order for the expulsion of foreigners from the Upper Adige border zone foreshadows joint Italo-German military preparation for possible European hostilities, well-informed sources believed here today.

Speculation over the measure affecting the Italian Tyrol just south of the Brenner pass deepened among foreign circles as Italian officials declined to give any clear-cut explanation of the move.

When representatives of Great Britain, France, Switzerland and the Netherlands made inquiries yesterday, General Giuseppe Bastianini, Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, briefly stated it was dictated by "military necessity" and political reasons.

Some observers believed Rome may merely be trying to safeguard the secrecy of any future movement of troops and war materials in the border area, which is highly industrialized and of cardinal strategic importance.

During recent weeks reports circulated that German troops contingents had gone through the pass into Italy en route to Libya, Italian North Africa, for military operations of an undisclosed character. The present orders may presage additional operations of this type, it was believed.

PLAN SPECIAL MEASURES FOR ESTATE DUTIES

Legislature of Ontario to Meet within a Month to Amend Legislation Covering Collection of Succession Duties.

Toronto, July 12.—(P)—The Ontario Legislature will meet "within a month" to consider for the second time at a special session means of clarifying the Succession Duty Act. Announcing the session would be held, Premier Mitchell Hepburn said last night it was made necessary by Chief Justice Hays' decision last week to continue an injunction preventing Treasury officers from probing the estate of Jacob Kaufman, millionaire Kitchener rubber manufacturer, who died in 1927.

Immediate re-action of Lieut.-Col. George A. Drew, Ontario Conservative leader, to Premier Hepburn's announcement was that a special session of the Legislature should not be called unless for a state of "real emergency."

Col. Drew said he had received "no statement yet to indicate that such an emergency exists" and added there was little he could say about the announcement "until Mr. Hepburn indicates more clearly what he proposes to do."

Premier Hepburn said the people of Ontario had shown in the 1937 election, in which the collection of succession duties from the estates here yesterday that the Dominion and Quebec Liberal parties were united. He told reporters, who asked whether he would take an active part in the next Dominion election, that he had said previously the two forces would continue to work together in the common interests of the Dominion and Province.

Seaside, Ore., July 12.—(P)—Police Chief H. A. Kemmerer has done a good job of training his men in impartial law enforcement. Patrolman Al Hingshaw arrested Kemmerer for overtime parking and Police Judge Gauk fined the chief a dollar.

Launon, Que., July 12.—(P)—Number of aldermen in this Lewis County town will be reduced from ten to six, City Council decided at meeting last night.

LIBERALS STILL UNITED
Montreal, July 12.—(P)—Hon. Adolphe Godbout, Quebec Liberal leader, reiterated in an interview here yesterday that the Dominion and Quebec Liberal parties were united. He told reporters, who asked whether he would take an active part in the next Dominion election, that he had said previously the two forces would continue to work together in the common interests of the Dominion and Province.

Improved Ontario-Quebec Relations Essential To Economic Betterment

Amqui, Que., July 12.—(P)—Conservative Leader R. J. Manion moved into New Brunswick today for a brief visit to Campbellton as he reached the halfway point of his mid-summer tour through the eastern counties of Quebec. At Campbellton he was scheduled to meet northern New Brunswick party workers before speaking tonight at New Castle, Que.

In an address here last night, Dr. Manion pledged himself to restoration of good relations between the Dominion and Provincial governments and promotion of a good understanding between French and English-speaking Canadians.

Speaking in French to a wholly French-speaking audience, he said: "The antagonism which may exist between Ontario and Quebec is wholly attributable to a certain misunderstanding. I have always lived in Ontario and I can tell you, in all sincerity, that the majority of the people of my province entertain the greatest sentiments of friendship and regard for Quebec and I hope that I may in some measure do a good deal to maintain and augment this understanding between the two great races who have established the foundations of our Dominion."

Under Prime Minister Mackenzie King, discord had never been greater, Dr. Manion said. It had reached the point where Premier Hepburn, the Liberal leader in Ontario, had denounced the Liberal leader at Ottawa. Canada was one nation and could progress only if all governments, Dominion and Provincial, co-operated.

Fully ninety per cent of the products of Canadian farms were consumed in Canada and Governments should pay more attention to getting fair prices for the farmers and reducing the spread between producers and consumers.

We should do all in our power to make farming more attractive to our boys," he said, "not only to have good farmers but to enable them to take pride in the ownership of land."

Twenty-Three-Year Masquerade As Man Concludes In Jail Cell

Pasadena, Calif., July 12.—(P)—A 46-year-old woman was jailed today after police claimed a confession to an amazing twenty-three-year-masquerade as a man, during which she worked for twenty years as a chauffeur and twice went through marriage ceremonies.

Questioned on a minor traffic charge, "James W. Phipps" was quoted by Sergeant Samuel Bailey as admitting her real name was Minerva Phipps. She was booked on suspicion of false impersonation, a felony.

"I might as well admit it," Bailey said she told him. "I am a woman. I did it because I could not find a job as a woman. I have a deep voice. I was teased about it is a child, and when I tried to find work prospective employers refused to hire me because they said I talked like a man."

Bailey said the Pittsburgh-born woman recounted a marriage in 1926 in Santa Barbara to Esia Phipps, who died two years later. A second ceremony three years ago, the chauffeur was quoted as declaring, made her the "husband" of Mrs. Mabel Phipps, of Los Angeles. They separated two weeks ago.

Mrs. Katherine Murray, wealthy seventy-year-old social figure and employer, expressed amazement. "I was never so surprised in my life," she declared. "Phipps has worked for me a year and a half. I never dreamed he was not a man."

At Tuesday night's meeting of the Pontiac City Commission, Robert Poe, president of the Pontiac Industrial Council affiliated with the C. I. O., declared a general walkout might be called if the state police were used as "strike breakers."

The strike call was issued only to skilled workers employed on 1940 models and has affected current production workers only at a few plants of General Motors Corporation.

The union estimated 6,700 workers were on strike in Detroit, Cleveland and Pontiac.

RATHER REGULAR
El Reno, Okla., July 12.—(P)—For thirty-eight years Charles F. Guth, 65, went to the same restaurant daily for his meals. When he failed to appear yesterday, the proprietor sent a messenger to his home. Guth was in a chair, a bullet hole through his head, a pistol dangling from his right hand. The coroner said it was suicide.

New York Pleasure Seekers Rescued After Thrill-Packed Night In Air

New York, July 12.—(P)—A pleasure-seeking couple who dangled for five hours on a board seat 125 feet above ground at the World's Fair parachute jump were rescued after two daring mechanics cut the jammed guide wire which held them captive.

The aerial prisoners were Mr. and Mrs. J. Cornelius Rathborne, socially prominent couple of Old Westbury, Long Island.

Their parachute, one of eleven in operation from the 250-foot tower, stuck at 11:25 p.m. E.D.T. last night.

They finally were rescued at 4:39 a.m. E.D.T. after mechanics attached a rope to the parachute, cut the jammed cable, and lowered the chute a few feet at a time, on the three remaining cables into a spread police net.

A crowd numbering in the thousands stayed up until dawn lightened the eastern sky, then let loose a reverberating cheer as the man and woman were carried to an ambulance. They were taken to an emergency hospital on the fair grounds but refused medical aid and drove away in their own car.

The woman, who in the early hours of her plight shouted jests to the throng, wanted to walk away, but police picked her up. Rathborne, who said he was a polo player, buckled at the knees as his long ordeal ended. He is thirty-two, Mrs. Rathborne twenty-five.

Prolonged cheers also were the reward of two daring mechanics, Harry Mitchell and William Gertis, who performed impromptu human-fly stunts in attempting to free the corner of the parachute. Gertis, a Chicagoan, rode the chute to earth when it finally was freed.

An electric motor is used to hoist the captive parachute to the top of

TROUBLE SPOT IN AUTOMOBILE AREA SPREADS

Labor Leaders Threaten General Strike if State Police Are Used to Break Pontiac Plant Walk-Out.

Pontiac, Mich., July 12.—(P)—State police moved into Pontiac today to General Motors strike duty amid threats from the United Auto Workers Union of the Congress of Industrial Organizations that a city-wide strike might be called because of the "interference."

The trouble spot was the Pontiac plant of Fisher Body Company, the scene of violence Monday and Tuesday when non-striking employees attempted to pass through the picket line. Several persons were injured.

State police were reluctant to discuss their plans but it was understood that 120 troopers had been assembled in and near Pontiac. They kept out of sight.

It was reported that the troopers were equipped with gas bombs and nightsticks.

At Tuesday night's meeting of the Pontiac City Commission, Robert Poe, president of the Pontiac Industrial Council affiliated with the C. I. O., declared a general walkout might be called if the state police were used as "strike breakers."

The strike call was issued only to skilled workers employed on 1940 models and has affected current production workers only at a few plants of General Motors Corporation.

The union estimated 6,700 workers were on strike in Detroit, Cleveland and Pontiac.

CHICAGO, July 12.—(P)—The women walked their way to one of the United States National Safety Council disclosed today.

The Council's statistical bureau reported that the percentage of females among the country's 12,500 pedestrian deaths last year was only 21.8.

Of the 275,000 non-fatal injuries to pedestrians, thirty-three per cent was inflicted upon women.

Seeking to determine why women were less likely to be killed than men, Rufus Jasper, traffic engineer and secretary of the Council Committee on Pedestrian Control, said he found women were "more safety conscious."

"For generations," he analyzed it, "women have had the responsibility of caring for children, which has endowed them with a greater awareness of danger. This protective instinct, refined from one age to the next, has, I believe, made them specially cautious when exposed to traffic hazards."

LEADING CANADIAN HISTORIAN PASSES
Toronto, July 12.—(P)—Prof. David Reid Keys, eighty-three, noted Canadian historian and philologist, died in hospital here last night, the result of a stroke suffered during the week-end.

He had been in poor health since September 16, when he suffered a hip fracture in a fall on the street near his home. He retired in 1923, having joined the University of Toronto staff in 1883.

CINCINNATI, July 12.—(P)—A young woman here prefers to rely on machine-age methods to test the status of her affections.

Clerk of Detectives Norman Diehl said a girl called him and asked if the police department had a lie detector. Told there was one available, Diehl said she replied:

"I'd like to make a lie detector test to find out if I'm in love."

She didn't leave her name.

A FRIENDLY TIF
New Haven, Conn., July 12.—(P)—Louis Blumstein, complaining witness in an assault case, appeared in court minus a tooth, both eyes blacked, a fresh stitch in his scalp and his body marked by bruises. His condition resulted, Blumstein said, from an altercation in "The Friendly Tavern."

German Press Indignant At Success Of Anglo-French Plane Manoeuvres

Berlin, July 12.—(P)—The mass flight of British bombing planes over France and French newspaper comment on the demonstration brought a flood of angry headlines in the Berlin press today.

Chancellor Hitler's newspaper, Voelkischer Beobachter, inquired: "Is acquaintanceship with the German Air Force desired?"

All Berlin papers quoted the comment of Paris-Midi to the effect that the British planes had a radius of action which "could confront the populations of Nuremberg, Leipzig and Hamburg with eventualities which could be suited to inspire reason."

Voelkischer Beobachter's headline response was "Paris Picks a Fight." There followed this statement: "The newspaper overlooks one trifling in its more than clumsy attempt at intimidation."

FURTHER SHIFTS IN ITALIAN MINISTRY

Rome, July 12.—(P)—Count Dino Grandi, Italian ambassador to Great Britain, has been called home to replace Arrigo Solmi, Minister of Justice, who has resigned.

The official announcement today gave no reason for the change. Count Grandi, one of the leaders of the Fascist march on Rome, had been ambassador in London since 1932.

Before that he was Foreign Minister and represented Italy on various foreign missions, including those to the Washington and London Debt Conferences, and at Locarno and The Hague. He also was the Italian delegate to the League of Nations and the London Naval Conference.

YOUTH IN DRAMATIC EFFORT TO WIN JOB
Salt Lake City, July 12.—(P)—Before the terrified glances of midnight dancers, an unemployed youth threatened for three hours to leap from the dome of the ten-story Hotel Utah.

He finally was hauled to safety by Patrolman E. J. Barnes whose promise "We'll find you a job somewhere," had gone unheeded.

The youth said he is Jack Page, twenty-two, Kansas City, Kan. Taken to police headquarters he muttered, "I dunno why. I just couldn't get work."

Yugoslavia And Hungary Plan Virtual Balkan Slav Alliance

Would Include Hungary in Little Axis Designed to Further German Interests in Balkans and Offset British-French Guarantees to Rumania, Turkey and Greece—Would Take Form of Customs Union.

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, July 12.—(P)—Plans for a virtual alliance of Bulgaria and Yugoslavia took shape today in apparent furtherance of a German project for a "little axis" including those two Slav nations and Hungary.

Countries of this projected "axis" stretch 750 miles across Southeastern Europe, from the Alps to the Black Sea and have a combined population of close to 32,000,000.

Hungary is linked with the Rome-Berlin powers in the anti-comintern pact. Since 1935, Nazi leaders, including Field Marshal Hermann Goering, have worked to bring Yugoslavia and Bulgaria together in a south Slav bloc under German influence.

Regent Prince Paul of Yugoslavia and Premier George Kiossevanoff of Bulgaria, both of whom had visited Chancellor Hitler in Berlin recently, joined Monday night in announcing the formation of a "neutral front" in the two countries "in the best interests of Balkan freedom."

In Bucharest it was pointed out that neutrality of Bulgaria and Yugoslavia might mean that Rumania would be cut off in time of need from land routes to Turkey and Greece, which, like Rumania, have received Anglo-French pledges of aid.

Today Bulgaria and Yugoslavia were said to have revived an old project for virtual union of Slav peoples of the Balkans, with Kiossevanoff placing before his cabinet a programme which included:

1—A Bulgarian-Yugoslav customs union;
2—A common policy by the two nations in foreign affairs;
3—Collaboration in developing foreign trade;

4—Possible cession of Bulgaria of 900 square miles she lost to Yugoslavia after the Great War.

From the German viewpoint a Yugoslav-Bulgarian-Hungarian bloc could be a diplomatic weapon to threaten Turkey, Greece or Rumania.

The bloc might also serve to enable Germany to keep Italy in line should the Fascists show signs of weakening.

Both nations are in close economic relationship with Germany. So far this year, Germany has taken seventy-five per cent of Bulgaria's exports and about half of Yugoslavia's.

SOUTH ONTARIO IS VISITED BY GREAT METEOR

Authorities Doubt, However, that Heavenly Body Which Crossed London District Could Have Fallen to Earth.

London, Ont., July 12.—Observers expressed doubt today that the largest meteor to pass over Southwestern Ontario within memory could have fallen to the earth somewhere in the district.

The general belief was that the ball of fire consumed itself as it hurtled through the sky last night. Some persons thought it might have fallen into Lake Erie or Lake Huron. For many moments, as it blazed across the country and left clouds of smoke in its wake, the meteor created wonderment and even near-panic. Motorists stopped their cars on the highways as the sky was lit up by the blazing ball and householders rushed to telephones to call newspaper offices for information.

Through an area extending from Ohio in the south to Kincardine, Ont., in the north, and from Windsor on the west to Toronto on the east, the meteor or its reflection was visible. Scores thought an airplane was falling in flames and others believed a big building or a wood lot ablaze.

Even the direction taken by the meteor was a mystery. Some persons said it went north and others south-west. In the Dresden district, northeast of Chatham, a loud rumbling accompanied the sight and authorities said the noise was characteristic of a meteor's fall.

Perhaps the most fortunate observer of all was Rev. W. C. Colgrove of London, who was making astronomical observations on the University of Western Ontario campus when the meteor sped through the night.

Mr. Colgrove said the meteor seemed to burst directly overhead, coming from the east and lighting up the entire campus. It broke first in a long streamer of green, with a brilliant white head, the clergyman said. The streamer changed color to red and gradually faded out, leaving behind two great white clouds.

Even the direction taken by the meteor was a mystery. Some persons said it went north and others south-west. In the Dresden district, northeast of Chatham, a loud rumbling accompanied the sight and authorities said the noise was characteristic of a meteor's fall.

INCORPORATED COWS TO EVADE DAIRY MEASURE

Ingersoll, Ont., Farmer Fined for Supplying Milk without a Licence to Eighty-One Persons Holding Shares in Bovines.

Ingersoll, Ont., July 12.—George Hutchinson, Ingersoll farmer who sold shares in his cows to the neighbors, was fined $115.50 yesterday by Magistrate C. W. Hanksawh when convicted of supplying raw milk and supply milk without a licence.

When the case was heard two weeks ago, it was testified Hutchinson sold his cows on shares to eighty-one persons and acted as their hired man in feeding and caring for the animals. The defence argued that in calling at Hutchinson's farm for milk the shareholders were not buying it.

In his judgment, Magistrate Hanksawh said he had come to the conclusion that "this document was procured as a sham to evade the act and that the accused Hutchinson is still a milk dealer within the meaning of the act, which act was placed upon the statute books for the purpose of improving health conditions in general."

WOMAN INJURED IN FALL FROM CAR

Mrs. Alex White, Lake Park resident, was badly bruised and lacerated last night when she suffered a fall from the seat of the automobile in which she was a passenger. The door of the vehicle sprang open when Mrs. White leaned against it and she was projected to the pavement.

Brought to the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital, the victim was found to have escaped any broken limbs although her bruises and a sprained wrist gave much pain.

Preparations for another demonstration of Anglo-French military unity, French authorities completed arrangements for participation of British planes, sailors, troops and military leaders, including War Secretary Leslie Hore-Belisha, in the Bastille Day celebration Friday.

Germany received reports of yesterday's mass flight and Paris press comment on the striking radius of British and French air forces with reminders of her own press of German air power.

Meanwhile, supplementary British budget estimates disclosed a plan to expand foreign publicity. The estimates called for £110,000 (about $414,000) for such work.

An additional £40,000 (about $137,000) was set aside for the Home Office for establishment of a Ministry of Information to disseminate accurate information and to counteract foreign misrepresentations of British policy.

POLAND HINTING AT POSSIBLE REVISION

Warsaw, July 12.—(CP-Havas)—If Germany shows a more reasonable attitude in the next few months, it may be possible to negotiate a "simpler" statute for Danzig, the semi-official organ Gazeta Polska said today.

"All hope of isolating Poland having proved vain, it is not impossible that within a few months Berlin may understand that she should show a little good-will," the newspaper commented.

"It would be possible then to elaborate a simpler statute than today's for Danzig. This statute would maintain Danzig as a free city, independent of the Reich, remaining in a customs union with Poland and submitting Polish rights in Danzig to no outside control of any sort."

GIANT BOMBING PLANE RESUMES GREAT FLIGHT

Plane Built in San Diego for British Government Made Emergency Stop at Buffalo to Replenish Fuel Supplies.

Buffalo, N.Y., July 12.—(P)—A fifteen-ton patrol bombing plane, built for the British Air Ministry, took off from Buffalo Harbor at 7:35 a.m. E.D.T. today en route to Botwood, Newfoundland, on its 5,900 mile flight to England.

Pilot Russell Rogers pointed the nose of the huge twin-motored flying boat northward after an uneventful run of approximately 800 feet in the water and a preliminary ten-minute cruise to warm up the motors.

The ship landed here early yesterday to refuel, which delayed its flight twenty-four hours and spoiled the plans of Rogers and his three-man crew for a one-stop flight from San Diego, Calif., to Felixstowe, England.

When the group left San Diego 12:23 a.m. E.D.T. Monday, they planned to stop at Botwood only long enough to refuel then continue across the Atlantic, but headwinds encountered near Chicago rapidly reduced the fuel supply and they decided on the unscheduled stop here.

The pilot estimated the ship would fly 1,150 miles to Botwood in "eight or nine hours." He planned to proceed to England immediately after refueling.

The largest crowd of the meeting to date gathered for the start of the first stage of the King's Prize which brought out 945 competitors. They were squadded at the rate of three men to each of 100 targets, making three relays for each range and a little over.

The skies were still clear as the classic shoot began but a mirage began to appear, worrying many of the early starters.

Kennedy of Hilden, N.S., led the early Canadians at the first distance with 34 out of a possible 35. Rusk, Johnson, Gregory and Cowan scored 33; Harrison, Parnell, Steniewicz and Whitehead 32; Moore 31; and Gamble 30.

Squadded later, Stiver of Toronto came back with a thirty-four in the first range of the King's Prize. Morgan had 33, Borland, Gormley and Lucas 32.

SEEK RENEWAL OF INSURANCE FOR SOLDIERS

Saskatchewan Command of Canadian Legion Believes Improved Conditions Make Operation of Act Important.

Regina, July 12.—Renewal of the Returned Soldiers' Insurance Act by the Dominion Government was asked in a resolution passed at the convention of the Saskatchewan command of the Canadian Legion at the closing session yesterday. The Dominion Command will be asked to make representations to Ottawa for renewal of the act.

It was felt that with return of more favorable economic conditions many ex-servicemen would wish to take out insurance under the Act and some who had been forced to let their policies lapse in recent years would be in a position to again take them up. For the latter class the resolution asked special consideration.

Another resolution asked that British authorities be petitioned to provide money for care of Imperial veterans both within and outside the legion. William Walker, K.C., of Canora, was elected president.

well-informed Senators said today, backing up his appeals for neutrality legislation at this session. The President told reporters yesterday that if war should break out before the present law was revised, Congress would find it extremely difficult to take such action. He spoke shortly after the Senate Foreign Relations Committee voted twelve to eleven to defer the neutrality problem until the next session.

In making it clear that the Government would continue to push for immediate consideration, Mr. Roosevelt endorsed the six-point peace programme advocated by State Secretary Cordell Hull earlier in the day.

This programme would retain the Munitions Board, bar American ships from combat zones, restrict travel of Americans in such zones, require transfer of title on goods sold to belligerents before shipment, continue restrictions on loans and credits to warring nations, and regulate collection of funds from belligerents.

Thus it would abandon the present arms embargo, which the House recently voted to retain in modified form.

RECOVERED CAR USED IN THEFT AT VANCOUVER

Car Left by California Tourist in Parking Lot Used by Two Gunmen in Holding Up Branch Bank.

Vancouver, July 12.—Police last night recovered a stolen automobile they said had been used by two armed bandits who held up a branch of the Dominion Bank of Canada on a busy downtown street yesterday and escaped in noon-day crowds with an estimated $2,700.

The car, reported stolen from its parking place two blocks distant where its California owner had left it, was found abandoned in the Kistilano residential district 1.2 miles from the hold-up scene. J. M. Duncan, of Burbank, Calif., said it had been taken while he and his wife were lunching.

The bandits, unmasked and wearing white gloves, walked into the bank, held up two employees and escaped shortly before police roared up, warned by N. McIntyre who noticed the hold-up as he walked past and telephoned headquarters.

Teller Sam Thorn and Ledger-keeper John Dunfield were alone in the bank when the bandits entered. They fled in order to lie on the floor behind the counter.

While one man stood guard inside the bank entrance his companion vaulted the counter, entered the partitioned teller's cage and scooped cash from the drawers into a burlap bag.

Before he left he took two bank revolvers from the cage. He joined his companion at the door and the two ducked outside.

WINDSOR MILLS BOASTS MODERN TENNIS COURT

Members of the Canada Paper Club Complete Work on Concrete Surfaced Court—Expect Official Opening This Week.

Windsor Mills, July 12.—The recently completed concrete tennis court at the Canada Paper Club saw its first action on Sunday when it was opened for play. Representing the culmination of several weeks of hard work the court came into being through the efforts of the energetic club president, Alec Booth, and a few of the members.

Built on the site of the old court which had a crushed stone surface the new project is certainly a decided improvement, eliminating, as it will, the difficulty of keeping a proper playing surface.

Tennis enthusiasts, who had laid away their rackets in favor of picks and shovels for the past few weeks, will now be able to go into action again and it is expected to have an official opening by the end of the week.

Lay Cornerstone Of United Church Hall At Lennoxville

Impressive Ceremonies Witnessed by Large Crowd—Mrs. Austin H. Scott, Donor, Wields Silver Trowel in Laying Stone—Address Given by Rev. A. Johnson, Chairman of Quebec-Sherbrooke Presbytery.

Several hundred persons witnessed the ceremonies held in connection with the laying of the cornerstone of the new Lennoxville United Church Hall by the donor, Mrs. Austin H. Scott. A short but impressive ceremony which included an address by the Rev. Albert Johnson, chairman of the Quebec-Sherbrooke Presbytery, was followed by a concert given by the band of the Sherbrooke Regiment (M.G.) and an ice cream social in Douglas Hall sponsored by the Woman's Association.

At seven-thirty o'clock "O Canada" was played by the band which also offered a few lively selections. The entire assembly then joined in the singing of "O God Our Help in Ages Past" and repeated the eighty-seventh Psalm in unison.

Scriptural passages from First Chronicles, the twenty-ninth chapter, verses ten to eighteen, were read by Rev. J. G. Fulcher, of the United Church, Waterville, after which Rev. F. A. C. Dossie, pastor of Plymouth United Church, Sherbrooke, led in prayer. Rev. F. R. Matthews, pastor of the Lennoxville United Church, explained briefly the contents of the box to be placed in the cornerstone and stated it contained papers, documents relating to local and church affairs and various medals and coins. "It will become more valuable as time goes on," he said, "and we hope that it will not be touched for at least one hundred years."

The box was placed in the stone by little Miss Valerie Wark, Gill, of Hillsdale, N.J., niece of Mrs. Austin H. Scott and the actual laying of the cornerstone was done by Mrs. Scott, through whose generosity the building was made possible. In laying the stone, Mrs. Scott said, "This stone is placed in this foundation to the glory of God and the blessing of all who may use this hall. I declare it well and truly laid." She used a silver trowel. Rev. Albert Johnson, Chairman of the Quebec-Sherbrooke Presbytery extended the greetings of the Presbytery and mentioned his close association of many years with Rev. and Mrs. F. R. Matthews. He congratulated the United Church on this happy occasion, which, he said, showed that the people of this district are ready to launch a new effort for God in a day when His word is being too easily forgotten. "It is heartening, indeed," he said, "to see an effort of this kind being launched. You are progressing here in times when we are being told that people are not going to church. You are building for at least one hundred years with a vision for the future which trusts youth, and you are confident that the service in this hall will be to the glory of God."

The singing of the national anthem concluded the ceremonies and a musical programme was then given by band of the Sherbrooke Regiment (M.G.) by permission of Col. L. M. Watson. Ice cream was served by members of the Woman's Association to a large number in Douglas Hall.

The inscription on the cornerstone reads, "This cornerstone was laid the 11th day of July, 1939, by Mrs. Austin Scott, the donor of the building." The structure, which is expected will be completed in September, is an extension to the church will be 82 x 42 feet and will consist of an auditorium and a basement, in which will be a dining room with accommodation for two hundred persons, two cloak rooms, a kitchen and furnace and fuel rooms.

Plans for the auditorium call for a hall with a seating capacity of three hundred, a fine stage and modern dressing rooms. There will be an entrance into the church both from the auditorium and from the basement. An outstanding feature of the project is the installation of a complete air-conditioned heating system, which winter and summer will circulate air that is humidified and filtered. This will be the first public hall in the Eastern Townships to boast of a fine system.

In offering this gift, the donor, Mrs. Scott, said that although the hall will be the property of the church she thought it could be used partly as a community hall, under the supervision of the church board.

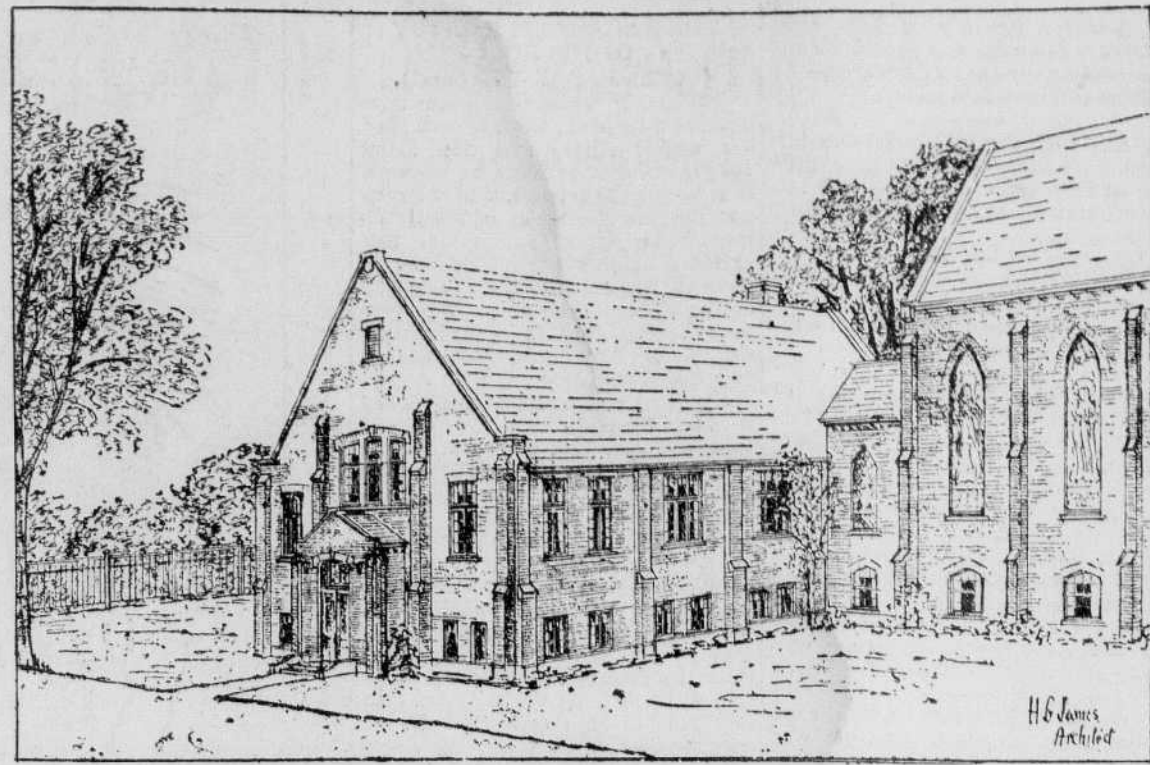

Mrs. Scott, who is well known for her philanthropic work, is a Governor of the Sherbrooke Hospital, to which she has made several valuable donations, and has given generously to the Young Woman's Christian Association and other worthy movements. She is, indeed, Lennoxville's "Lady Bountiful," and the citizens of this town are deeply grateful to her for her generosity.

General Notes.

Two more charges of burglary laid against Guilmette yesterday afternoon bring the total complaints against him to seven. Of these, four are for theft and three for statutory offences.

Plaintiffs in the latest accusations were Phileas Lanctot, of Sherbrooke, and Emilia Lahaie, of Windsor Mills. Lanctot, in his accusation, alleged that Guilmette broke into his cottage at Garthby, on Lake Arthur, and stole goods and kitchen utensils valued at approximately ten dollars.

Throughout the Eastern Townships today hundreds of loyal Orangemen are celebrating the 249th anniversary of the famous battle of the Boyne, when William, Prince of Orange, defeated the troops of King Charles in a northern Ireland conflict.

Celebrations in the district are of a generally quiet nature, however, and are largely confined to picnics in various sections. Weather conditions were favorable for picnics and the different ones were well attended.

Ontario Orangemen celebrated the day in parades, speech-making, sport events and dancing in many centres. For the thirty-seventh consecutive year, William Henry Harper, mounted on a white horse symbol of the mount of William of Orange, led the Toronto parade of 12,000.

J. T. Walker, of Orangeville, marked his hundredth birthday by joining the trek to Arthur, where the first celebration since 1922 was held.

Mr. and Mrs. George Logan, of Glen Sutton, were visitors at the home of Mrs. Lizzie Bailey.

Mrs. May O'Brien, of Richmond, was an overnight guest of her father, Mr. Harvey Sargent.

JEHOVAH'S WITNESSES OUT ON BAIL

The seven members of the Watchtower Bible Society, more familiarly known as Witnesses of Jehovah, who were arrested in the Eastern Townships over the past week-end, appeared in Magistrate's Court this morning and heard their case remanded until July 19.

All seven, faced with a charge of seditious conspiracy, were set at liberty yesterday when one of the Montreal agents of the Society came to Sherbrooke and deposited a $1,000 bond for each of the accused. Their appearance this morning was simply a matter of form as the Witnesses had requested time to get in touch with their counsel.

CLAIMS GERMAN RESIDENTS DIVIDED

Paris, July 12.—(C.P.—Havas) —The newspaper Excelsior today said bitterness among 225,200 German residents of the Italian Tyrol whom Nazi organizers hope to move to Germany has resulted in a split of Tyrolean Nazis into two warring groups.

According to the newspaper an opposition Nazi organization "is leading an intense agitation against the expulsion measures."

"In the first place, where are the 225,200 sub-Tyrolean Germans to be sent? It is rumored that they are destined to people the marshy plains of East Prussia. The Tyroleans dread this destination, and their resistance appears great, showing itself especially in creation of the new independent party, which was disavowed by the Reich as soon as it was created."

"The official Nazi party issued a manifesto saying that the Fuehrer was forced to sacrifice Tyrolean interests to the larger interests of Great Germany, surrounded by enemies who wish her death."

DIXON SPEAKING:

I see by the paper that Montreal relief recipients are to report twice a day to headquarters. In other words there is to be no more hunting for work; in future the unfortunate family who have to depend on relief must spend most of the day walking to and fro, waiting around and "reporting." Meanwhile there will be required a larger staff of relief "workers," more jobs for ward heelers, more grief for discouraged people.

Well might one correspondent make the suggestion that the whole problem of relief in Montreal be handed over to the S.P.C.A. for sensible and efficient handling.

A business man who conducted his business the way some public bodies do would soon be forced to the wall. He must give satisfaction if he is to retain his custom. That is why, through all my years of business, I have insisted on handling only the best of meats, and I can safely say that my customers appreciate my never disappointing them. That's not bragging—it's just plain common sense!

Transatlantic Air Service Is Explained By Postmaster

Now Possible to Mail Letter to England and Have Reply within Week Through Air Service, C. E. Soles Tells Fellow-Rotarians—Correspondence Sent from Here by Air Reaches Vancouver Next Afternoon—Problems Facing Clerks Cited.

With the new trans-Atlantic air mail service it is now possible to mail a letter in Sherbrooke on one day and have a reply within a week, Rotarian C. E. Soles, in charge of the local postoffice, said yesterday in delivering a classification talk before fellow-members of the Sherbrooke Rotary Club.

Stressing the tremendous growth of air mail service in the past two years, Mr. Soles pointed out that under the British Empire air mail plan, all first-class mail posted in Canada for delivery in about forty sections of the Empire would be carried in planes beyond England. Trans-Atlantic air charges have been fixed at the rate of thirty cents each half ounce, he said.

First-class mail leaving Sherbrooke on the afternoon train would be placed aboard the trans-Canada plane in Montreal that evening and be in Vancouver early the following afternoon, Mr. Soles said. The reply, leaving the West Coast metropolis the same evening, would be in Montreal the following night and delivered in Sherbrooke the next morning. The same service applies to Los Angeles, San Francisco and other points in Southern California, providing the letter leaves here on the morning train, the Sherbrooke postmaster said.

Of the 12,270 post offices in the Dominion, 2,542, or less than twenty per cent, are located in Quebec, Mr. Soles said. During the last fiscal year total revenue was thirty-five and a half million dollars, giving a net operating profit of three and a half millions.

In 1938 fourteen and a half million money orders were issued for a total value of one hundred and forty-four and a half million dollars, Mr. Soles said. C.O.D. parcels mailed totalled a million and three quarters.

Some of the more common reasons for failure to deliver mail were cited by Mr. Soles and he also showed how every effort is made in the local office to deliver correspondence to the person for whom it was intended. Letters with only maps drawn on the envelope for addresses have been delivered in Sherbrooke, as well as one on which the address was 5-20-100, A French-speaking clerk in the office deciphered this address as the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital and the letter was delivered to its rightful owner.

Approximately 20,000 pieces of mail are handled daily in the local post office, Mr. Soles said. Each letter or parcel is handled from two to five times, but few pieces are sent to the dead letter office.

Mr. Soles was introduced by President Gerald Wiggett, who presided, and thanked by Rotarian Francis Hoyer. A number of guests introduced at the meeting by Rotarian rian Hoyer were welcomed by Past President Lee Watson, Rotarians G. D. Wadsworth and Henry Welsh were given remembrances on their birthdays.

SO MANY SPEAK OF WAR, SO FEW OF PEACE!

Somewhat, to speak or write of the prospect of war is easy. It is easy to think of things to say, and it is easy to get people to listen.

But it is harder to speak of peace, and there are all too few to listen.

That is why John Grant Alexander, Minnesota Congressman, deserves all the more credit for his gesture in behalf of peace when he suggested that Pope Pius be urged to call an international peace conference.

A belligerent speech demanding another ten billion dollars for the army and navy would have drawn more attention. A flag-waving speech berating other countries and peoples and demanding a chance to wade in blood up to the hocks would have seemed more spirited.

But Alexander, who is himself a World War veteran and for ten years a member of the Minnesota National Guard, did none of those things. He asked for peace.

One thing is certain: the peoples of the earth are not going to get peace unless they demand it. They may not even then get it, but the more they demand it, the better chance there is of getting it.

Hold the peace conference now while there is still something to confer about, seems to be Alexander's idea, instead of following another and worse world war with another and worse Versailles.

The Vatican seems interested in Alexander's suggestion, for its official paper printed the appeal at length. How valid the specific plan might be for a peace conference called by the Pope remains to be seen. Yet it is hard to think of anyone else in a more neutral and international position, with more influence, fewer axes to grind, and in general in a better position to call it. The memory of Pope Benedict XV is loved for the efforts he made during the World War to end the slaughter and mitigate its horrors.

Suppose this proposal, or any similar effort, were to fail? There is no disgrace in that.

The only disgrace is in the fact that in the whole world there are so few to work for peace, and such reluctance among the world's great ones to make even a gesture toward building a world order on some surer and stronger foundation than dead men's blood and bones.

IMPROVED CRIME DETECTION

The ever-growing co-operation between the municipal, provincial and Royal Canadian Mounted Police officials has permitted the introduction into this country of an elaborate new system of criminal identification known as the modus operandi system. The new system deals largely with the way in which criminals operate, being based on the knowledge that most criminals specialize and use a definite technique in their crimes. Under the system of co-relating police information, information would be provided as to the criminal's identity when a crime is committed in a certain way.

Co-operation between the various law-enforcing authorities is essential to the success of the plan, however, in that each must place at the disposal of the central body all information at its disposal so that the files may be kept complete. In the years gone by, this co-operation was more noted for its lack than for its presence with the result that the law-breaker received many advantages owing to the friction existing between municipal, provincial and federal forces.

This has been eliminated in most cases, however, and the hand of the law strengthened accordingly.

ENCOURAGING NEWS FROM B.C.

Reports that water-borne lumber shipments from British Columbia reached the highest monthly mark in the trade's history in June is an encouraging sign for Canadian business generally, as the prosperity of British Columbia, one of the greatest markets in Canada is essentially based on the forest industry. According to the figures issued by the Pacific Lumber Inspection Bureau, shipments for the month were 118,884,002 board feet, which was 3,000,000 feet greater than in May, the previous record.

United Kingdom headed individual markets, accounting for 88,199,164 feet. Australia was second with 14,356,000 feet—the highest monthly shipment since January—and Africa was third with 6,000,000 feet.

British Columbia mills shipped nearly 600,000,000 feet to June 30, this year, compared with 316,890,000 feet at the same time in 1938.

CANADA'S WATERPOWER DEVELOPMENT

The tremendous increase in the development of Canada's waterpower installation is reflected in the statement of the Federal Department of Mines and Resources which shows that the total waterpower installations in the Dominion have grown from 143,156 horse-power at January 1, 1900, to 8,190,772 horse-power at January 1, 1939.

Hand in hand with this development has been the growth of the central electric station industry, as it was the inception of long distance transmission about the beginning of the present century which rendered practicable the development of water-power sites remote from the point at which the power was to be utilized. At January 1, 1900, the total installation in central electric stations was 47,929 horse-power, or only 33.3 per cent of the total installations, as compared with 7,202,259 horse-power, or almost 88 per cent of the total, at the present time.

This utilization of water-power resources has been a major contributing factor in Canada's remarkable development from an almost purely agricultural country to one of outstanding industrial importance in a little more than thirty years. Of significance is the favorable distribution of Canada's water-power assets from coast to coast, ensuring an ample supply of low-cost power to the chief centres of population and industry.

Quebec develops about one-half of Canada's hydro-electric energy, with a turbine installation of 4,031,063 horse-power; Ontario follows with 2,382,939 horse-power, and British Columbia holds third place with 738,013 horse-power. Manitoba has 420,925 horse-power, New Brunswick 133,347 horse-power, Nova Scotia 130,617 horse-power, Alberta 71,997 horse-power, Saskatchewan 61,035 horse-power, Prince Edward Island 2,617 horse-power, and the Yukon and Northwest Territories have a turbine installation of 18,199 horse-power.

Not only is every large industrial centre in Canada served with hydro-electric energy, but there are within practical transmission distance substantial reserves for the future. Pulp and paper mills are the chief consumers of industrial power, purchasing in 1937 about fifty per cent of all industrial power sold. The leading position which Canada occupies in that industry is due in large measure to the location of low-priced hydro-power in close proximity to supplies of pulpwood. Water-power has also played an important part in the development of Canada's great mining industry because of the fortunate occurrence of extensive resources of hydro-power economically adjacent to mineral deposits and centres of mining activity. Other principal industrial users of hydro-power include the electro-chemical plants, municipal pumping plants, electric railways, and the large number of saw, grist and grinding mills and other manufacturing industries.

Notwithstanding the progress which has taken place during the present century, only about nineteen per cent of Canada's present recorded water-power resources is being utilized. The power rivers of Canada have an estimated capacity of 33,617,200 horse-power, which according to recognized practice will permit of a turbine installation of about 43,700,000 horse-power.

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

From the Files of the Sherbrooke Record.
July 12th, 1909.

Evidence that no clues had yet been found regarding the theft from the Y.M.C.A. office was revealed last evening at a regular meeting of the Board of Directors of that institution. The cash box, containing $34 in cash and several checks, was stolen from the office of the secretary last month and a few days later was found in the St. Francis river. The cash had been removed but other papers remained intact. Considerable criticism was offered at the session regarding the policy adopted of keeping the incident quiet and several were of the opinion that had more publicity been given perhaps the matter would have been cleaned up before this.

Valiant efforts of the Richmond Fire Brigade were unrewarded yesterday afternoon when fire of undetermined origin completely destroyed the residence and barns of P. J. Girard, Richmond merchant. The flames made rapid headway fanned by a stiff west wind. Mr. Girard lost, in addition to his buildings, all household furniture and farming utensils.

Hay fever or no hay fever, each resident of Sutton who entered the post office last Saturday evening returned to his home sneezing his head off. Someone had scattered pepper in the lobby.

Speaking to the Record today, E. W. Farwell, of the Eastern Townships Bank, said that no Canadian bank would issue American coins in the future, and it is understood that this ruling prevails throughout the Dominion. The object of the move is to bring Canadian silver into universal and eventually exclusive circulation. American coins will be received by the banks at par but will not be re-issued.

PRESS COMMENTS

THE MINISTER IS WORTHY OF HIS HIRE

(St. Thomas Times-Journal)

The case in which the former minister of a London, Ont., church sued for unpaid salary and won about fifty per cent of what he claimed, is a very unusual one, and we cannot imagine the terms of his agreement being generally accepted. Nor can we believe such terms would have the approval of the Presbytery or the General Assembly. The minister agreed that the congregation would contribute to his maintenance "as God prospered them." Apparently we do not, of course, say it in an irreverent way—God did not prosper them. No charge of incompetence against the minister was mentioned during the hearing, so the cause for the lack of prosperity must be laid elsewhere. Would the members, who apparently put the matter of prosperity up to God, allege that this failure was "an act of God," as they say about certain other matters that go wrong, or would they admit that the failure was due to themselves, or at least partially so? At any rate there was a split in the congregation, which was definitely not a way of making the church successful and for which they surely do not put the blame on God.

If a business fails, unpaid wages are a first charge on the assets. This church suffered partial failure at least, and the members appeared to think the pastor could whistle for his maintenance. That is not a Christian way to act. There are many small and struggling congregations who treat their minister as some people treat their doctor. They think he should be able to rub along somehow and not consider such sordid matters as money. But ministers must live; they should be able to maintain their wives and families in reasonable comfort and educate their children.

Perhaps the reason why this congregation fell down on its moral obligation was that it did not have a proper contract with the minister. If there had been a definite salary obligation to aim at they would have made a serious effort to reach it, but as that was only vaguely stated they had no objective to strive for.

One way to make a church prosperous is to give the members something to work for. If it fails in its internal obligation it can contribute nothing to the task of the Master in the world.

FUNDAMENTALLY WOMEN DON'T CHANGE

(Toronto Saturday Night)

Arthur Stringer, the Canadian-born American novelist and poet, had been re-asserting the fundamental unchangeableness of women in an article in the North American Review. He points out that if women in the nineteenth century, they have adopted other devices for parading their fragility. "In this generation," he tells them, "your advertisement of a factitious delicacy takes the form of a hair-lined eyebrow." The idea that women now like being able to work the considers an utter delusion. The many of them do not want to admit, but that is merely because it has become impossible for these women to get men to support them; and every one of them wants to live as much like the women of leisure as possible, and to become a woman of leisure as soon as possible.

We suspect Mr. Stringer is largely right. There have been changes since 1900, but they have been changes in women. There have come to be female typists, because there have come to be typewriters. Men have ceased to give women their seats in streetcars, because men have changed the feelings about women. Women could always have run typewriters if there had been any to run; and women could always have stood up in streetcars, if men had not thought that they should not be allowed to. Ideas have changed, and the implements of production and distribution have changed, but the fundamental human characteristics do not change much in less than a century, whether they be those which are special to a sex or to a race or to a class.

The chief difficulty facing women at the present time is the result of a change of idea. In North America, outside of French Canada, the one function of which they have a monopoly, that of bearing children, is in disrepute, or at least is regarded as much less important than it used to be. Nations which occupy—and may one day have to defend—the finest areas of the earth's surface are afraid of over-population. We would rather have more machines than more men and women. This idea will not last, but in the meanwhile it obviously puts the child-bearing sex at a disadvantage.

GERMANY'S LOSS

(St. Thomas Times-Journal)

Germany has long been famous for her universities, to which students from other nations went in large numbers, but higher education and "kultur" have deteriorated heavily since the Nazi party assumed power, owing to the diversion of young men to the war industrial and military machine.

The Nazis having an aversion to the world knowing what is going on in Germany in certain matters, have not published any figures for the last two years as to university enrolments, but two years ago, when figures were last issued, they showed that whereas university students numbered 116,154 in 1922-23, which directly preceded the advent of Hitler, they had fallen to 67,082. And according to a German writer who had left Germany, writing in the most recent number of the Sociological Review of London, the number is steadily decreasing.

German students are believed to number today about half what they were six years ago. In some cases, the number of students has dropped as much of eighty per cent of the normal enrolment—for instance architecture, notwithstanding great building activity. Medicine is slightly increased, but the country is actually short of physicians and sur-

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

WISE CHOICE OF NO TRUMP CONTRACT GIVES DECLARER EASY SLAM VICTORY

With certain hands, a trick or more can often be obtained by the time gained by blocking a lead through a tenace by defenders at the first trick. The hand discussed today contains that feature, and in addition, the fact that the choice of no trump, rather than hearts or clubs, as the final contract, permitted the making of a slam, impossible at hearts and improbable at clubs.

The bidding after game was reached used the conventional Blackwood slam bid, and East chose no trump rather than hearts in view of the disclosure of a long suit in his partner's hand by the jump rebid in clubs.

Even if six hearts could be made, no trump should produce the better score.

The opening diamond lead into his tenace made the contract easy for declarer, for he could cash twelve top tricks.

At hearts, only four odd could be made, and there was no advantage to East in any choice of an opening lead by South. Those who attempted to make six clubs went down when North opened his doubleton heart.

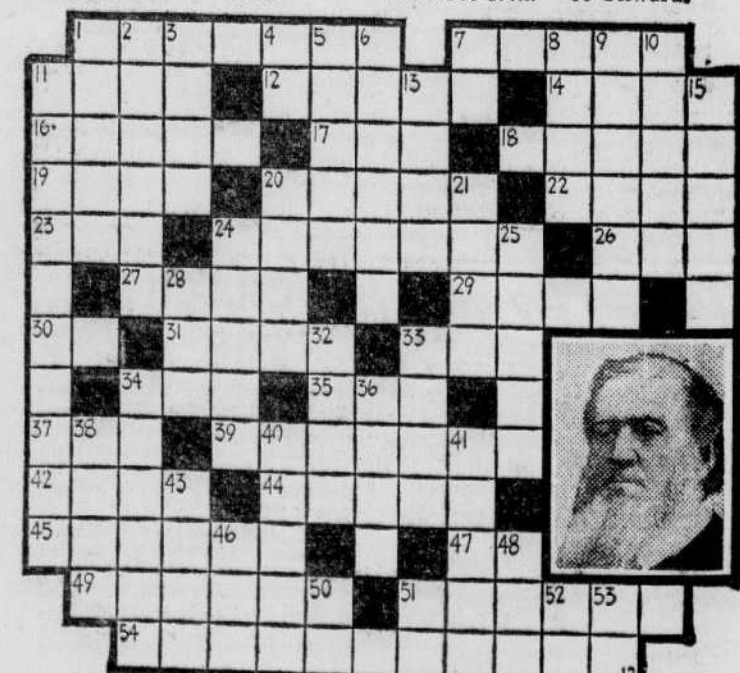

Today's bridge quiz: If the contract is three no trump by the opponents, neither you nor your partner having made a bid, and your partner opens with a king, what card of that suit should you play?

Answer: The lead of a king against an untested no trump contract asks partner to play the second highest card of the suit in his hand.

IN THE WOMEN'S SPHERE

MARRIAGES

BOUCHARD—MAILHOT
Dixville, July 12.—The marriage of Miss Flo Mailhot, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mailhot, of this place, to Mr. Felix Bouchard, of Coaticook, was solemnized on Saturday morning, July 1st, at St. Edmund's Church, Coaticook. The bride, who was unattended, wore a graceful gown of pale pink silk chiffon with full floor-length skirt, white picture hat, white shoes and gloves, and carried a beautiful bridal bouquet. Following the ceremony a reception which was largely attended by friends and relatives was held at the home of the groom's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Bouchard will reside in Coaticook.

ORCUTT—HOOL, HATLEY.
Hatley, July 12.—On Friday evening, June 30, a very pretty wedding was solemnized at the "Old Homestead," the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Wheeler, when their niece, Dorothy Emma Hool, daughter of Mr. Charles Hool, was united in marriage to Mr. Herbert Elwin Orcutt, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Orcutt, Rev. W. A. Edwards, pastor of the United Church, officiating. The ceremony took place on the lawn, under an archway trimmed with pink roses and sweet syringa blossoms.

The guests were conducted to their places by the ushers, Howard Humphrey, cousin of the groom, and Douglas Hool, brother of the bride.

At eight o'clock, to the strains of the wedding march, played by Mrs. Hugh McClary, the bridal party took their places. The bride was charming in a gown of pink satin, trimmed with ruchings of white lace, with finger-tip veil of pink lace, and carried a shower bouquet of pink roses, lilies-of-the-valley, and asparagus fern, the gift of Mr. William Monroe and Miss Frances Cox, of Lennoxville.

Miss Phyllis Hool, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore yellow satin and carried a bouquet. The two bridesmaids, Miss Irene Orcutt, sister of the groom, and Miss Marion Corey, cousin of the bride, wore green and blue, respectively, and carried bouquets.

The groom was supported by Mr. Ronald McClary, as best man. The double ring ceremony was used.

A reception in the house followed directly after the ceremony. The bride's table was decorated with roses and syringa, with streamers of colored crepe paper, and a beautiful wedding cake, made in the shape of a cross, with one cake on top in the centre, artistically decorated.

The bride and groom later left for a trip through the Green Mountains, returning through the White Mountains, the bride travelling in a navy marquisette dress, with white accents. The bride's aunt, Mrs. Allan Wheeler, wore a gown of flowered navy crepe, with hat to match, and Mrs. L. Orcutt, mother of the groom, wore a navy jacket dress of silk crepe, with white blouse, and a large hat to match.

The gifts included silver, china, linen and several cheques. The bride's gifts to her maid of honor and bridesmaids were necklaces, while the groom gave his best man and the ushers pearl handled knives. JOHNSTON—GILCHRIST
Kirkdale, July 12.—A very pretty wedding took place in Trenholm United Church on Saturday, June 24 at three o'clock when Evelyn Winnifred, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Gilchrist was united in marriage to Mr. Elroy E. Johnston, of Ashcroft, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Johnston, of Gallup Hill, the Rev. E. W. S. Coates officiating.

The organist, Mrs. Raymond Wheeler, played the wedding march and continued playing softly during the signing of the register. The church was beautifully decorated with ferns, roses and other flowers and the pews reserved for the guests were marked with dainty bouquets.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of white celanese satin, with a heart-shaped neckline, puffed sleeves and tight bodice. Her veil of tulle was held by a headpiece of lily-of-the-valley and she carried a touffe of pink sweet heart roses, lily-of-the-valley and maiden hair fern.

The bride attendants, Miss Doris Gilchrist, maid-of-honor, and Miss Mildred Gilchrist, bridesmaid, were gowned alike in pale pink and blue silk net, over celanese tulle cut on Princess lines. They wore pink and white snapdragons in their hair and carried bouquets of the same flowers.

The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Charles B. Johnston, while Mr. Seldon Jameson and Mr. T. Elton Gilchrist acted as ushers. Mrs. Gilchrist, the bride's mother, wore a gown of sheer mauve flowered crepe with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Johnston, mother of the groom, was gowned in Royal blue crepe back satin, with white hat and accessories, and wore a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Mary Wintle, grandmother of the bride, wore a gown of black crepe Elizabeth and a corsage of purple pansies.

DON'T MAKE MOUNTAINOUS FAULTS OUT OF YOUR MOLEHILL FLAWS

The distorted idea some women have concerning their faults resembles reality no more than the images in this distorting mirror resemble the girls posing before it.

All right, you're no beauty. Your hips refuse to be streamlined, or, maybe, it's your lack of at-homeness with people that's eating you.

Anyway, you're worrying over some shortcoming like a dog worries a bone.

You have thought about it so much the fault is as distorted as though you were seeing yourself in one of those curved mirrors that stretch those who look into them out of all shape.

This "help yourself to perfection" advice you have been reading hasn't been good for you. If you had said: "Here's a fault. Can I really do anything about it, or not?" and then abided by an honest answer you would be all right.

But instead you have picked out a fault and started worrying about it.

Not So Bad To Others
Well, no matter how bad it looks to you, it doesn't look that bad to anyone else—for the simple reason that no one else cares as much about it as you do.

If you're too tall to be popular with every Tom, Dick and Harry, grab off tall Bill for yourself and be happy.

If your looks won't take you anywhere, put them out of your mind and decide to make other people so happy and satisfied in your company that they never think about what you look like. People don't, you know, if you give them something else to think about.

If you are worrying about your shyness, wishing you could be gay and charming and poised, just quit trying so hard. Concentrate on what comes easy and natural to you, and leave the other accomplishments to someone else.

After all, you can get along pretty well and go pretty far without ever getting within hailing distance of what you'd like to be.

You can, that is, if you learn to look at imperfection in the face and think "So what!"

Mind Your Manners
Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1—Is it a good idea for a newcomer to a community to join clubs before knowing all about them?

2—Should a wife talk about or quote her husband continually?

3—Should the hostess at a house-warming write thank-you notes for the gifts brought by guests?

4—If you wish to give a week-end hostess a gift, is it better to take it to her or mail it after your return home?

5—When a hostess receives a gift from a guest by mail, should she write the guest a thank-you note?

What would you do if:

1—You have been invited for a week-end in a place you have never visited and are not sure what kind of clothes to take. Would you—

(a) Ask your hostess what you will need?

(b) Guess?

ANSWERS

1—No.

2—No.

3—Yes.

4—Either way. But if you do not know her, but another member of her family, it is a little nicer to send the gift afterward.

5—Yes.

Best "What Would You Do?" solution—(a).

WHET TASTE ON TROUT SWIMMING IN BUTTER
Catch a trout, then eat it. But in the meantime, do as they do in a camp in the Yosemite, California. Here's their special and very simple way to perfection.

Trout Recipe
Have melted butter hot in frying pan. Squeeze lemon juice into the melted butter. Dip trout lightly in flour, remembering that too much flour on a wet trout makes a paste. Season with salt and pepper. Turn in pan until golden brown. Serve with quartered lemons.

Barbecue Supper for twenty Persons
How about a barbecue supper in the woods, the way they do at Yosemite National Park? You don't have to travel to California to have this outdoor eating fun. Just follow these directions.

Twenty one-inch steaks. Paint steaks with oil and vinegar sauce. Broil on grid over an open oak-wood or charcoal fire. Broil only over coals, not flames.

Salad Bowl
Four heads lettuce, 4 heads romaine, 8 tomatoes peeled and cut into sections, 2 cans artichoke bottoms, French dressing.

COMEDY DRAMA WAS PRESENTED AT KINGSBURY

Kingsbury and Melbourne Ridge Young People's Society Stage "Too Many Husbands" in Town Hall.

Kingsbury, July 12.—The play, "Too Many Husbands," was very successfully presented in Kingsbury Town Hall, by the Kingsbury and Melbourne Ridge Young People's Society.

The part of the hero, Arthur Maitland, was very ably acted by Ralph Baker, and Rev. Mr. Buchanan, as the blustering Colonel, kept the audience in roars of mirth as he made one "faux pas" after another. The Colonel, accompanied by his daughter, Dorothy—Ellen Frank—and secretary, Chauncey Chilton—Malcolm Miller—came to visit his nephew, Arthur Maitland, who, he thinks to be married but who, in reality, has only borrowed his friend, Harry Brown's wife and baby for the occasion.

Dorothy is very happy when she finds that her old sweetheart, Arthur, is still a bachelor and a hurried marriage is arranged to offset the colonel's plans of marriage between Dorothy and Chauncey Chilton.

Later, "by the sign of the tattooed cross," Chauncey was found to be a deep-dyed scoundrel, even managing to deceive his closest friends.

Herbie Stevens and Bernice Stevens as Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brown found to perfection the part of husband and wife devoted to home and family and who are always willing to help a friend even to the extent of getting themselves in trouble. Molly, their maid, played by Marion Chilton, was all that could be desired.

Mary Beers as Mrs. Sheffield made a typical mother-in-law as she attempted to show Harry Brown how a husband should act.

Gordon Davies as a detective, played a realistic part as he followed the clue of the tattooed cross and finally amidst roars of applause snapped the hand-cuffs on Chauncey Chilton.

The duties of clergyman were well performed by Stanley McIver. Melbourne Leming took the part of the policeman and Ralph Fowler that of the expressman.

Music was supplied between acts by John Stevens, Herbie Stevens, John Hawker and Lloyd Norris, and candy was also sold.

General Notes.
The Kingsbury and Melbourne Ridge Young People's Society held a picnic at Bowker Lake. The greater part of the time was spent in boating and swimming and after lunch races were held, the winners being as follows: Girls, seventeen and under, Margaret Frank; girls, over seventeen, Jessie Miller; boys, seventeen and under, Lloyd Stevens; boys, over seventeen, Herbie Stevens. A very enjoyable day was spent by all.

LEADING TEAMS WIN PROVINCIAL BATTLES

Sherbrooke Stops Sox 6-2 On Foreign Field

Walter Morris Holds Granby to Seven Safeties as Mates Collect Twelve Off Hank Winston—Saints Hold Off Quebec Rally for 5-4 Triumph—Home Run by Buzz Maloney Breaks Up Thirteen-Inning Struggle at Three Rivers, Homesteads Besting Sorel 5-3.

Sherbrooke, Three Rivers and St. Hyacinthe are still grappling for first place in the Provincial Baseball League with only percentage points separating the three teams.

Meeting their challengers for the leading berths on three fields last night, the top trio chalked up victories and hauled away from the rest of the pack temporarily at least. In Granby Walter Morris lashed the route and gave up but seven safeties while his mates made twelve—plus four Granby errors—to win six-two, at Three Rivers Buzz Maloney socked a home run with a mate aboard to break up a thirteen-inning battle and won for Sherbrooke 10, Granby 9; bases on balls: off Morris 4, off Winston 5; struck out: by Morris 7, by Winston 9; balk: Morris; umpires: Souch and Wingo; time of game: 2:15.

St. Hyacinthe have played thirty-two games, won nineteen and lost thirteen for a mark of .594. Three Rivers have played thirty-nine, won twenty-three and lost sixteen for .590 and the locals have won twenty-two and lost sixteen in thirty-eight tilts for a mark of .579.

Sorel stands one and a half games behind the three leading clubs with nineteen and sixteen for .543. Quebec two contests away with eighteen and sixteen for .529 and Granby four and a half encounters behind with seventeen and twenty for .459. Drummondville, idle last night, stays seven and twenty-eight for .290, thirteen and a half games behind.

St. Hyacinthe comes here tonight instead of Three Rivers, since the scheduled Three-Rivers-Sherbrooke tilt was played here on June 12, and if the locals chalk up a victory they can go into first position ahead of the Saints and the idle Three Rivers club. That part of the schedule has been changed since originally drafted.

Sherbrooke put together twelve hits, including doubles by pitcher Walt Morris, Fischer and Al Kasso, and four Granby errors for their six runs in the Hippodrome at Granby. Morris chalked up seven strikeouts and issued only four bases on balls, holding the Red Soxers to seven hits, while Hank Winston, although fanning nine, walked five and was hit hard in the pinches.

Sherbrooke scored twice in the first and once in the second to jump away to a three-nothing advantage, adding two runs in the fifth and one in the eighth, while Granby sent runners home in each of the third and eighth frames.

A freak play saw Al Kasso gallop all the way around the bases on a single to centre field. When Andrews juggled the ball in the past to third, The ball got away from third-sacker Heath on the toss from the outfield and Kasso kept on coming, roaring over the plate with plenty to spare.

Ray Cote led the Sherbrooke attack with three hits in four official trips to the plate, and batted in two runs. Fischer, Kasso, Johnny Ayvazian and Morris all safely scored, knocking Bird and Marcella made two hits each for Granby.

Stepping to the platter in the thirteen-inning with the score tied at three-three and Wearing on base as a result of a base on balls, Leo Maloney poked one out of the park to give Three Rivers a five-three triumph.

In the first frame the Trifluvians got away to a three-run lead as Hoffner singled, Sullivan walked and Prather was safe when pitcher Dow muffed his intended sacrifice. Up came Wearing to hit safely, scoring Hoffner and Sullivan, and Martin slapped out a sacrifice fly to allow Prather to dent the rubber.

Sorel got a run in the sixth when Durant singled, went to second after the next hitter had walked and came home on Nichols' single, and tied the score in the eighth as Albertson and Galen, who got on base with singles.

Landing on Bob Swan for three hits, receiving two walks and capitalizing on errors by Murphy, Fox, Quebec scored four runs in the first of the ninth at St. Hyacinthe and gave the Saints a scare before Schesler, relief twirler, quelled the uprising.

A single and three Quebec errors allowed the Saints to score twice in the third, and the more runners rounded the bases in the eighth on two free tickets, singles by Swan, Cicero and Irving and sacrifices by Fox and O'Flaherty.

CRACK GOLFERS PUSHED OUT OF U.S. GOLF PLAY

Guldahl, Parks, Manero, Farrell, Hagen, Sarazen, Diegel and Cooper Among Aces Eliminated from P. G. A. Tournament.

New York, July 12.—(P)—Just to give you a rough idea of the kind of tournament this twenty-second edition of the P.G.A. meet is, consider this:

Enough former United States Open, P.G.A., British and Canadian Open champions to stock any major tournament fell by the wayside in the opening match, play yesterday. At the end of five matches today at the Pomonok C.C. that are good enough to lure tourists away from the nearby World's Fair girls section.

For instance, U.S. Open Champion Byron Nelson and Johnny Revolta of Evanston, Ill., will head a parade of twosomes that includes Champion Paul Runyan against Ben Hearn, the up-and-coming Texan; Billy Burke, the former Open champion, against Dick Metz of Chicago; Henry Picard against Al Watrous, and Denny Shute against Emerick Kocis, co-medalist.

At the end of today's thirty-six holes the eight quarter-finalists who remain must, by the nature of the tourney, represent just about the best in United States golf.

Among yesterday's casualties were these former U.S. Open champions: Ralph Guldahl, Sam Parks, Tony Manero, Walter Hagen, Johnny Farrell and Leo Diegel. Former Canadian titleholders were Diegel and Harry Cooper.

CERTAIN LOUIS TO REMAIN CHAMPION
 St. Thomas, Ont., July 12.—(P)—St. Thomas, former heavyweight boxing champion of the world, is spending a few days with Premier Mitchell Hepburn of Ontario on the Premier's Yarmouth township farm.

The wealthy former fighter is here to loaf and enjoy a holiday. Tunney said he could see no one on the heavyweight horizon capable of defeating Champion Joe Louis.

As for the fact Louis' bout with Bob Pastor at Detroit in September is scheduled for twenty rounds, Tunney said: "They might as well have made it forty or fifty rounds for all that means."

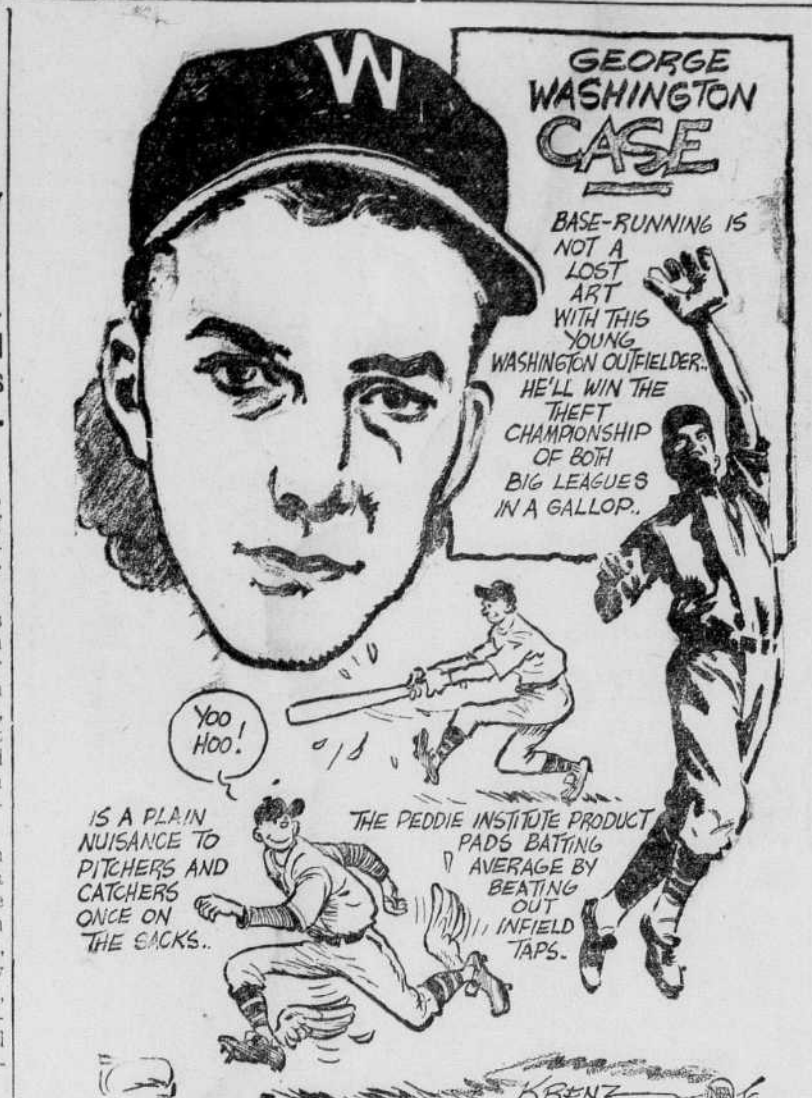

Tunney and the Premier met last year on an airplane flight.

Stan Hack And Arky Vaughan Set Up All-Star Game Marks For Nationals

New York, July 12.—(P)—They're getting new faces but few new records in baseball's classic All-Star game.

In the seventh annual contest yesterday at Yankee Stadium Stan Hack of Chicago Cubs struck out three times to bring his total to four for a new National League mark and Arky Vaughan drew his second base on balls to tie another senior circuit standard.

Otherwise the only change in the leaders came about through Joe Cronin, Boston Red Sox manager, playing his sixth game, tying the mark for the most games. Jimmie Fox of Boston had played in five previous contests too but was ignored by Manager Joe McCarthy yesterday.

Here are the all-time All-Stars: Batting (two or more games): National—Frank Frisch, St. Louis 571. American—Charles Gehring, Detroit, 500.

SPORTS FLASHES
 New York, July 12.—(P)—Sport writers here for the All-Star game think Billy Conn is the lad who'll eventually bump off Joe Louis.

The United States Army and Navy are recruiting full blast. Navy has grabbed off Gene Flatham, outstanding Clemson College tackle, and Army evened the count by going down there and taking Walter Cox a better than fair guard.

Woodrow Rich, promising young right-hander, cost the Red Sox just $5. And Cincinnati Reds had to lay out only $268 for first baseman Frank McCormick, one of the biggest factors in their pennant drive.

Bob Pastor has averaged $2,000 in his last twenty-seven starts.

Dutch Harrison, of Little Rock, playing his first P.G.A. tourney, was a left-handed golfer as a caddy.

A man complained in court that his wife had stormed at him for half an hour and then thrown a mallet at him. In fact, she seems to have gone for him hammer and tongue.

Pirates and Dodgers Play Only Major League Game as Other Clubs Complete Holiday Occasioned by All-Star Tilt.

Brooklyn Dodgers, who have been trying all manner of means of getting the jump on the rest of the major league teams, have a sure thing tonight.

While other clubs in the National and American Leagues are completing a three-day holiday occasioned by the All-Star game at New York, the Dodgers and Pittsburgh Pirates will play what ordinarily would have been their Thursday game under the lights tonight.

In third place and challenging the right of New York Giants to second, the Dodgers will get a day's start on their rivals and even if they lose they'll benefit at the turnstiles.

When the other clubs resume action tomorrow the eastern teams will be in the west and vice versa in the National League. Attention will be focussed on three series.

Boston's rampaging Red Sox, having beaten the Yankees five straight and given the champions their first real threat of the season, will open at Cleveland with an eight-game winning streak to nourish.

The Yankees will start their western swing at Detroit, where they lost their only western series the last time around. In an almost unprecedented mid-season slump, the Yankees must shake out of their doldrums to preserve or increase their 6½ game lead.

Cincinnati's league-leading Reds will face the Giants in New York seeking retaliation for their loss of a series when the Terrymen were in the west recently.

Chicago Cubs open at Philadelphia tomorrow night. In the American League Washington goes to St. Louis and Philadelphia to Chicago.

GIANTS BACK ON I.L. TOP
 Judging by the way they started, the series between Rochester Red Wings and Syracuse Chiefs—both of whom have plenty at stake—is about to supplant the winning streak of Buffalo Bisons as the "hottest" thing in the International League pennant race.

It took the Red Wings and Chiefs six hours to divide a double-header last night and the affair was interesting enough to keep most of the crowd of 8,000 hanging around to the early morning hours.

Rochester, seeking vainly to regain the league lead, won the seven-inning opener four to nothing behind Mike Ryba's pitching then Syracuse struggled through to a fourteen to thirteen victory in fifteen innings.

The split caused both of them to lose ground. The Little Giants faced Jersey City, which won its first game after Monday's games, won a single game from Montreal Royals, nine to six, and took over first place by a half-game margin. Buffalo tightened its grip on third place by knocking off the Baltimore Orioles eleven to seven to run its winning streak to nine straight.

In the other game last night, Toronto's last-place Maple Leafs beat Newark four to one although they were outwitted seven to six. Wild pitches by Norman Branch and Mark Beddingfield accounted for two runs. Beddingfield walked another in and Bob Elliott homered for the only legitimate Leaf tally.

True story: Until last week George Archie, Seattle first sacker, had never hit for the cycle—home, triple, double and single in one game. But on July 4 he celebrated. He hit for the cycle in the first game against Hollywood and lacked only a single of repeating in the nightcap.

Connie Mack's friends say he isn't doing as well as everyone had hoped.

Feller, Gordon And Dimaggio Star In Americans' 3-1 Win

Cleveland Fire-Baller Handcuffs National League Squad After Relieving Tommy Bridges in Sixth Inning—Yanks' Ace Second Sacker Turns in Three Fielding Gems—DiMag, Yankee Clipper, Slugs Homer into Left-Field Stand—Over 60,000 View Tilt.

New York, July 12.—(P)—After having watched the American Leaguers (mostly New York Yankees) defeat the National Leaguers (principally Cincinnati Reds) in the seventh annual All-Star game at the Yankee Stadium by a score of three to one, the following thoughts arise:

1.—That in Bobby Feller, of Cleveland Indians, who pitched the final 3½ innings for the winners, baseball is looking at one of the greatest pitchers that ever gave a batter chills with his fast ball.

2.—That in young Joe (Flash) Gordon, the acrobatic rookie of the Yankees, there is a star performing today who can play second base as brilliantly, perhaps, as it ever has or ever will be played, and, finally,

3.—That, otherwise, there still is no great difference between the two leagues, even though yesterday's was the fifth victory scored by the American Leaguers in the seven All-Star games that have been played for baseball charity.

It was a good game, as some 63,000 spectators agreed. But for an error by Arky Vaughan, Pittsburgh star playing shortstop for the Nationals, the final count would have been two to one, and the winning score would have been provided by Joe Dimaggio's homerun that reached the left-field stand in the fifth inning.

Feller and Gordon were the difference on this day, and the American League had both of them.

Feller went in to pitch for the Americans in the sixth inning, when the battling National Leaguers had filled the bases with only one out, and Tommy Bridges, of Detroit, was wobbling all over the place.

The youngster from Cleveland fired only one ball and forced Vaughan to smack it into a double play, started by Gordon. Five National Leaguers batted in the inning, and Bridges and Feller pitched only six balls to them.

Feller went on to baffle the Nationals in the remaining three innings. They didn't have a chance against his fast ball. It cut the plate with such speed that even George Magerkurth, the umpire who was calling them, turned sidewise and tried to shrink.

And Gordon. He made three terrific plays. In the sixth he knocked down a drive by Mel Ott with two aboard that cut off at least one run, and a few moments later started the double play that pulled the Americans out of their worst hole of the day. His greatest exploit, however, was reserved for the eighth inning, when he made a running jump into short right field and speared a line drive by Joe Medwick, nearly landing on his face as he did so.

The game brought grief to Cincinnati Reds, leading team of the National League. Ival Goodman suffered a dislocated shoulder when trying for a line drive by George Selkirk in the fourth chapter. He hit heavily on his left shoulder, and the doctor who examined him predicted he would be out of play at least ten days. This mishap might well decide the National League flag, as the Reds open a series with the second-place Giants here tomorrow.

Flying here from Pittsburgh to fight Mello Bettina, Billy Conn went to sleep and got off at Philadelphia instead of Newark. He is wondering if Jimmy Grippo, Bettina's manager, who also is a hypnotist, had anything to do with it.

Denny Shute went out and knocked off two members of the P.G.A. tournament committee in yesterday's match play. Now if it had been two members of the executive committee, a lot of golfers would be happier about it.

Agent: Can't I put a burglar alarm in your house?
 Lad: No, we don't need it.

Agent: But—
 Lad: No, I mean it; the family across the street watches the place so closely that even a burglar couldn't get in without being seen.
