

South Viet Nam prepares for riots after three killed

SAIGON (AP) — Troops and police in Saigon prepared for new trouble as students and religious sects threatened demonstrations today to protest the killing of three rioters Sunday in Qui Nhon, 270 miles northeast of the South Vietnamese capital.

Government troops shot the three demonstrators and wounded 17 others to end a week of mob control in which youths took over the Qui Nhon radio station and seized the provincial chief. The rioters in Qui Nhon apparently staged the revolt to protest the continued presence in office of members of the former Ngo Dinh Diem regime.

War may expand — Bundy

TOKYO (AP)—A U.S. state department official warned the North Vietnamese and Chinese Communists today against increasing their pressure on South Viet Nam. He said they may force the United States to expand the war outside South Viet Nam.

William P. Bundy, assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs, told the Research Institute of Japan: "Expansion of the war outside South Viet Nam, while not a course we want or seek, could be forced upon us by the increased external pressures of the Communists, including a rising scale of infiltration."

Bundy did not say how the war might be extended. But a high U.S. source said earlier in Tokyo that the United States has considered the possibility of bombing infiltration bases in North Viet Nam and neighboring Laos.

"We do not aim at overthrowing the Communist regime of North Viet Nam but rather at inducing it to call off the war it directs and supports in South Viet Nam," Bundy said.

He warned that if South Viet Nam falls under Communist control, the rest of Southeast Asia would face similar danger and eventually India, Australia and Japan would be swallowed up.

"If Hanoi and Peking prevail in Viet Nam in this key test of the new Communist tactics of 'wars of national liberation,' then the Communists will use this technique with growing frequency elsewhere in Asia, Africa and Latin America," he declared.

China in turn warned the United States it will "pay dearly" if it ventures across the frontier into North Viet Nam.

"The Chinese government and people again warn the Johnson administration to stop immediately the rash playing with fire," said Peking Radio. "If it still plans to carry out enlargement of its war adventure, it will pay dearly for this dangerous adventure."

Three die at level crossing; train hits car near Magog

By JOHN CONWAY
(Record Staff Reporter)

VENISE — (Staff) — A four-engined C.P.R. freight train struck a car at a level crossing here between Deauville and Magog this morning, killing three of the six occupants — a father and his two sons — and injuring three other children, one critically.

Dead are:
JOSEPH GREGOIRE, 46, 18 Dufault Street, Magog, the father of 10 children.

NOEL GREGOIRE, 20, Joseph's son;
JEAN-ROC GREGOIRE, 17, another son.

In hospital where Dr. Hughes Blouin described her condition as critical with head injuries is Lorraine Gregoire, 12.

Her sister, Lizette, 18, is said to be in satisfactory condition at the hospital with head injuries.

The sixth passenger in the car, eight-year-old Luc Gregoire, was treated for head injuries and returned home.

Police said the accident occurred at 7:40 a.m. when the Gregoire car was struck by the east bound CPR freight train, en route from Montreal to St. John, New Brunswick.

It was number 908, pulled by four diesel units, with 89 loaded cars and eight unloaded, according to CPR spokesmen.

Names of the train engineer and men were not available. They were not injured, however.

Investigating Quebec Provincial Police from the Stanstead detachment said that the family had spent the night at their summer home and were returning to Magog.

An uncle, Jean Claude Robert, was following the Gregoire car and was the first person on the scene.

Mrs. Gregoire, 47, was at home at the time of the crash.

VISION RESTRICTED

Luc Gregoire, who was sitting in the centre of the back seat when the fatal crash occurred, said at the Gregoire home later that a heavy mist had restricted vision.

Sitting at Luc's left at the time of the crash was Jean Roc, one of the victims. At his right on the seat was Lorraine, whose condition was described this morning as critical.

Today's fatal level-crossing accident recalls another one that happened in Sherbrooke — exactly nine months ago today.

In that accident five people lost their lives when the car in which they were riding was hit by a CPR Montreal-bound dayliner.

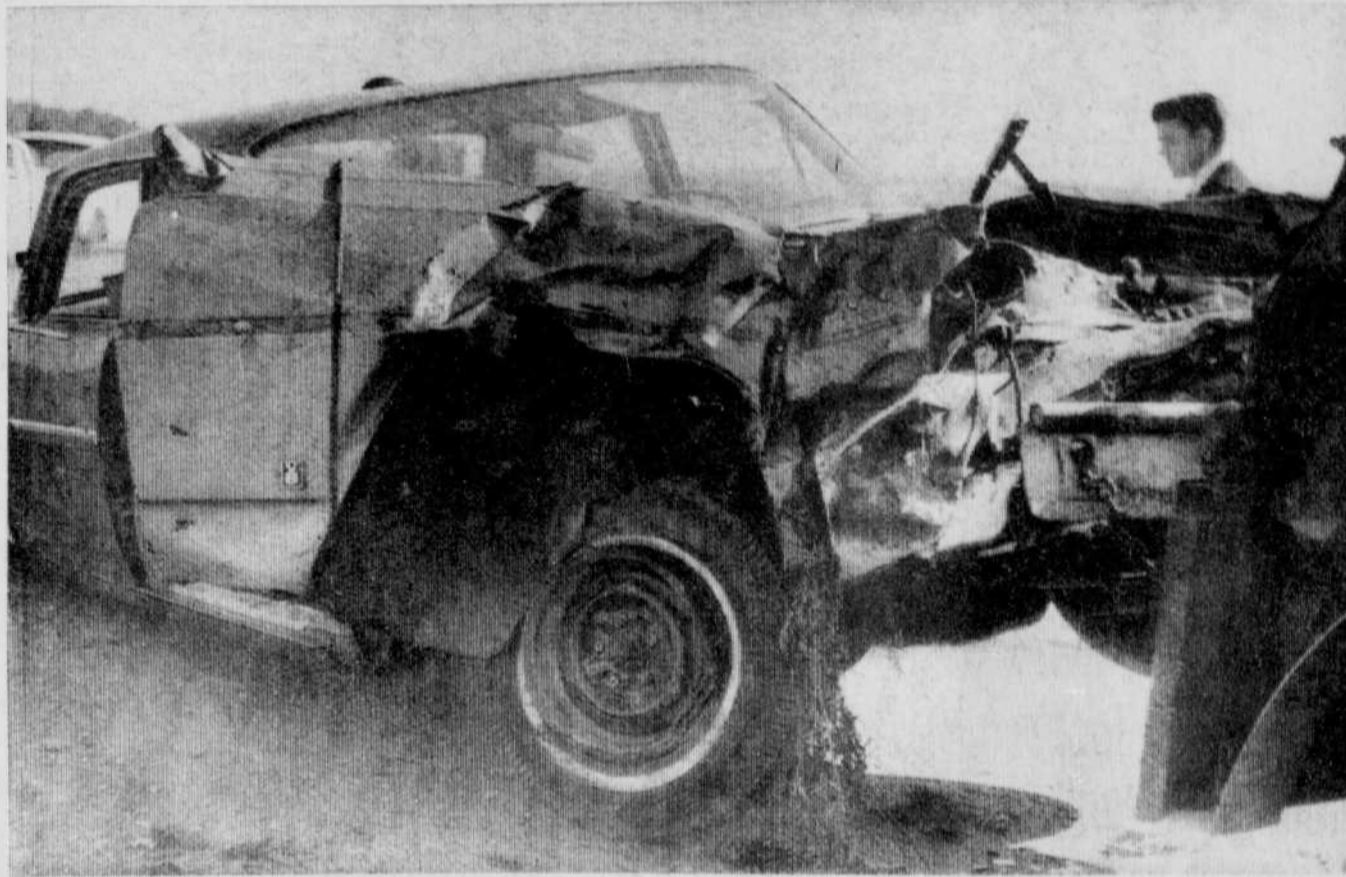

The accident happened at the Burlington Street level-crossing, on the western outskirts of Sherbrooke on Sunday December 29.

Dead were Edmond Lebel, his wife, Mrs. Edmond Lebel, and daughter Christine Lebel, as well as Jean-Paul Martel and his wife, Mrs. Jean-Paul Martel.

Testimony at the coroner's inquest showed that the accident happened on a sunny day when visibility was near perfect.

The five-man coroner's jury unanimously recommended that the CPR install automatic gates at the crossing.

The street crosses three sets of tracks and was, at the time of the accident, marked only by two painted signs. The CPR is to install the automatic gates later this year.

LBJ sets self up as 'better-than-Barry' supporter of Ike plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, responding to wildly enthusiastic receptions in often - Republican sections of New England, has pictured himself as topping Barry Goldwater in support of Republican programs during the Eisenhower administration.

Johnson made this claim part of a concerted appeal for Republican votes during a 20-hour presidential election tour of the six New England states. This journey was capped early today by a visit to the Boston bedside of Senator Edward M. Kennedy (Dem. Mass.), who is recuperating from injuries suffered in a plane crash.

Johnson, in picturing himself as a better-than-Goldwater supporter of Republican programs during the administration of President Eisenhower, referred directly to Goldwater, his Republican presidential rival, for the first time during the campaign.

Facing chanting supporters at the Burlington, Vt., airport, Johnson said that when he was Senate Democratic leader, he supported the Republican president and the Republican party and the Republican program more . . . than any opponent in this race."

Later, addressing editors of weekly newspapers at Manchester, N.H., the president made another reference to Goldwater — this time by name.

Johnson said that Goldwater, former vice-president Richard M. Nixon and New York Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller "have all suggested at one point or another the wisdom and possibility of going north in Viet Nam."

Taking issue with this idea, Johnson said: "I want to be very cautious in dropping bombs that would involve our boys in Asia with 700,000,000 Chinese. We're not going north and drop bombs at this stage of the game and we're not going south and run out and let the Communists take over."

The president went on to say that it's easier to start a war than stop one, adding, "I know some folks I think would start one mighty easy."

FEAR PLAN JEOPARDIZED

The officers said the program to utilize the tribesmen in the war against the Viet Cong may have been jeopardized by American promises that were made to the rebel Montagnards (mountain folk) and then broken.

U.S. special forces officers, in charge of the Montagnard program, said the tribesmen were assured that American advisers would not be pulled out of the chief rebel camp at Buon Sar Pa and that South Vietnamese forces waiting to attack the rebels would not be allowed into the camp.

The thirteen Americans at Buon Sar Pa were pulled out Monday and a few hours later the South Vietnamese army occupied the camp.

"The promises probably never should have been made," said one officer. "Now I do not know how we are going to pick up the pieces."

Premier Nguyen Khanh promised the 300 rebels in the camp there would be no punishment for them. But special forces men doubted that reprisals could be prevented because of the camp's remote location.

South Viet Nam and the United States signed an agreement today which will pour another $33,000,000 in American money into South Viet Nam's faltering economy. The new grant under the "food for peace" plan is the biggest to date.

Expo strike-free

TORONTO (CP) — The 1967 Montreal world's fair has won assurance from the city's construction unions that they will not go on strike during the life of the fair in return for a commitment to raise wages and employ as much of Montreal's labor force as possible, Commissioner - General Pierre Dupuy said Monday.

The agreement, which fair officials said will be signed in a few days, provides for slight wage increases based on anticipated cost - of - living increases.

ACCUSED SPY — Alexandre Sokolov, 40, right, accompanied by U.S. marshals, arrives at Brooklyn Federal Court house yesterday for start of trial on spy charges. Sokolov and his wife, 34, are charged with having assumed the identities of two live Americans as a cover for six years of espionage in the U.S. Sokolov was using the name of Robert K. Baitch, a Roman Catholic priest in Amsterdam, N.Y. His wife, police also say, was using the name of Joy Ann Garver, maiden name of Mrs. Robert Seskin of Norwalk Conn. (AP Wirephoto)

Finnish double agent identified in US spy trial of man and wife

NEW YORK (AP)—A Finn named Kaarlo R. Tuomi has been identified as the mysterious Soviet spy who worked for the United States as a double agent and helped break up a spy ring.

He will be the government's key witness in the espionage trial of a Soviet couple that began Monday in U.S. District Court in Brooklyn.

The government had cloaked Tuomi's identity, disclosing only that a top Russian spy had been caught by U.S. agents here and had agreed to act as a counterspy.

His name entered the trial record over the objections of the justice department. He has been tightly guarded.

On trial are Alexandre Sokolov, 40, and his wife, 34. To cover their identities, both used the names of two Americans, who were unaware that their names had been purloined.

The Sokolovs are accused of conspiring to pass U.S. defence secrets to Russia over a period of six years. If convicted, they face a possible death penalty.

They were arrested July 2, 1963, at their apartment in Washington. At the same time, a Russian personnel officer at the United Nations and his wife

LUC GREGOIRE, 8, TELLS OF TRAGEDY

IT WAS ALL FOGGY AND THEN — BANG!

Luc Gregoire, 8, was in the back seat of the brown Pontiac in which his father and two brothers were killed this morning.

"It was a sudden bang," Luc said between sobs at his home, 18 Dufault Street as his brother, Normand asked him about the accident which had killed their father Joseph, 46, and Luc's two brothers, Noel, 20, and Jean Roc, 17.

"I was sitting in the back seat with my brother, Jean Roc and my sister Lorraine. My father was driving," he added.

"I didn't hear it whistle," he said, referring to the C.P.R. freight train which was coming from Magog to Sherbrooke at the time.

"It was all foggy on the grass," said eight year old Luc. "I couldn't see very well, just the trees and the shadow."

"The train came at us from the left," he said.

"Jean Roc was on my left. I was in the middle of the seat. I banged my head on the seat."

"Bang!"

"And then I heard my sisters screaming."

"My uncle, Jean Claude Robert, was following us in his car and came straight away to help us."

"He pulled us out, then."

"My father was dead, and my two brothers, and they took my two sisters to the hospital in Magog."

Loan bill tangled

OTTAWA (CP) — A government farm loan bill got all tangled up in a procedural wrangle Monday night after an annoyed Agriculture Minister Hays went after the Conservative opposition with verbal pitchforks, accusing its members of "the cheapest kind of two-bit partisan politics." The Conservatives, he charged, have been attacking the bill "for whatever partisan political mileage might be made out of it."

Confused thinking on pipeline

In his arguments supporting his demand that the City Council postpone any action on the construction of the Lake Memphremagog pipeline, mayoralty candidate Roger Gauthier has presented a rather specious case.

Aside from his claim that the people of Sherbrooke must expect an increase in their tax bills to finance the several important projects the Council has undertaken in recent months, Mr. Gauthier maintains that the water problem can be solved by modernizing the chlorination system and that the proposed pipeline meets only one of the 113 points advanced by a survey into pollution problems.

His claims for improving the chlorination system as a means of providing Sherbrooke with an adequate supply of potable water are based on the report of a professional engineer prepared in 1961, before the pipeline plan was seriously considered.

But a detailed study of the report in question shows the engineer confined himself to dealing with the unpleasant taste resulting from chlorination operations.

He did not advance recommendations covering the whole water problem, merely claiming the existing supply could be improved by new equipment.

Chlorination undoubtedly kills most of the bacteriological impurities in polluted water but it has little or no effect on the suspended impurities. Thus it is only a partial solution.

Nor did Mr. Gauthier mention that the 113 recommendations on ending pollution contained in the survey prepared by The Financial Post of Toronto in 1963 covered not only water pollution, but also air pollution and excessive noise.

He also failed to mention that many of the recommendations contained in the report covering water supplies generally are being applied by the federal and provincial authorities.

Already substantial steps have been taken in reducing the dumping of industrial waste materials into rivers and streams, municipalities are being forced to construct sewage disposal plants and steps are being taken to prevent homeowners on river and lake shores from dumping refuse into these waterways.

In the case of Sherbrooke experts are agreed that the city had only two sources from which to draw its water supply — Lake Memphremagog and the Magog River.

The latter already is badly polluted and is likely to remain so even after preventive measures have been taken. The quality may be improved but it is considered a practical impossibility to restore it to the point where it could be classified as good.

On the other hand, Lake Memphremagog water is still classed as excellent with every probability that advanced thinking on the pollution menace will result in it being maintained in this class for years to come.

Sherbrooke citizens have made their decision on the water problem and there should be no need to revive it as a political issue.

New welfare campaign for everyone

In the field of charitable fund-raising, combining of many small appeals into one large appeal is becoming more and more common.

Thus, in the Sherbrooke area, we have the Community Chest, which is currently conducting its annual campaign for funds on behalf of six local organizations.

But in the Cowansville area, consolidation of fund-raising efforts has gone even beyond administrative unity and is cutting across religious and linguistic lines.

This year, for the first time, the Caritas campaign for the Roman Catholic Diocese of St. Hyacinthe, which includes the Cowansville area, is being conducted for an entire range of social services which will be available to all, regardless of religion or language.

The appeal has become, in reality as well as in effect, a Caritas-Red Feather campaign, with the members of all major religious denominations serving the organization.

The 14 services, originally organized under the aegis of Caritas, constitute a comprehensive program of welfare benefits. In the past, it should be noted, this program has never discriminated against any individual on the basis of language or religion. But the organization of the program did not have the all-embracing character it does now with regard to administration and fund-raising.

The campaign, which will run from Nov. 1 to Nov. 15 has a goal of $215,000.

It is money that is being solicited on the basis of a philosophy of community welfare which displays both logic and social responsibility.

As a spokesman for the campaign said at a ceremony for the organization in Cowansville last week, both English and French-speaking people in the community have invested an interest in the campaign. The needs of an individual cannot be divided into different cultural backgrounds. Suffering is universal, and must be relieved wherever it is found.

Conditions in different communities vary, of course, and what is possible and practical in one region is not always the best arrangement for another.

But there is an important precedent in the field of voluntary social welfare being set in the Cowansville area; a precedent which all communities should examine and study.

Warren probe conclusions obvious

Despite a few scattered criticisms offered by certain individuals who sought to exploit the tragic event for their own ends, the report of the Warren Commission investigating the assassination of President Kennedy in Dallas last November should put to rest many of the wild stories that have appeared since the untimely death of John Fitzgerald Kennedy.

After one of the most detailed studies ever undertaken by an inquiry commission in the United States and elsewhere, the investigators have expressed their conviction that the assassination was the work of one man — Lee Harvey Oswald — and was his work alone.

The slaying was not perpetrated at the insistence of any foreign power or by any of the extremist groups now disturbing the United States political scene. Neither was there anything to indicate that Oswald and his slayer, Jack Ruby, had any connection with, or even knew, each other.

While placing the blame on Oswald, the commission is careful to point out certain tragic weaknesses in the methods used for protecting the president against possible assassins, especially the lack of co-ordination between the various agencies involved — the FBI, the secret service and the local police forces.

Before arriving at their conclusions, the commissioners heard the evidence of dozens of witnesses to various phases of the tragedy and investigated many stories of dire plots and political alliances aimed at eliminating the young President.

Their unqualified decision that the slaying was the work of a mentally unstable individual is the logical result of their inquiry.

Doctor-short Canada must reject students because of space lack Canadian medical schools are turning away prospective doctors in droves for lack of facilities to handle students.

By JOHN LeBLANC. Fully qualified students are being rejected for this lack.

WANTS OTTAWA AID. The outspoken dean of medicine at the University of Alberta, Dr. W. C. MacKenzie, thinks the federal government will have to do something about it.

"So far medical education in Alberta has been a provincial responsibility," he said. "I feel it's now mandatory to find some means acceptable to all provinces, including Quebec, to obtain federal funds as well in order to develop adequate facilities."

"At the moment we can't expect to handle our 105 first-year medical students adequately," he added. The situation at the university was "very, very serious."

Dr. Rosaire Gingras, dean of the medical faculty at Laval University in Quebec, called the condition there a tragedy. Of 400 applicants, Laval accepted only 125 because it could not handle more than this without risking its accreditation.

Most of those refused, Dr. Gingras said, had the necessary academic requirements. "More money for teachers and new teaching structures are necessary to solve the problem," Dr. Gingras said.

At the only other French-language medical faculty—University of Montreal—there were 257 applicants and 128 acceptances, up three from last year. About 30 borderline cases were turned down.

MANY FROM U.S. McGill University's medical faculty had 1,336 applications for first-year medicine this year and accepted only 123. However, McGill traditionally gets a great number of prospects from the United States and 973 of those rejected (plus 20 accepted) were from there.

Dr. E. H. Bensley, associate dean of medicine at McGill, said about 500 of the applicants were considered fully qualified, educationally and otherwise. But the school was unwilling to compromise its educational standards for higher enrollment.

The University of Toronto rejected 250 of 375 qualified applicants for its pre-medical course. In an attempt to compensate for the growing number being trying to get into medicine, the first year of the professional medical class was expanded from 160 to 175 students.

A U. of T. spokesman said the solution of the "acute" problem in Canada's medical schools would be to establish more faculties of medicine. The CMA's Dr. Kelly estimated that it takes about $20,000,000 and 10 to 12 years from the time a medical school is conceived until it produces its first graduate.

St. Pat's Old Boys met last evening at the Magog House with President Solo Parker in the chair. Henry Crochere, camp chairman, gave an account of the summer camp at Stoke Lake and said that this past summer, though the weather was not up to standard, the camp was one of the most successful held so far.

ould not meet standards of American schools. Queen's University at Kingston took in 72 students and turned down 113 qualified applicants. Dr. E. H. Botterell, dean of medicine, said there is great pressure on the school's resources.

University of Ottawa provided the most lopsided acceptance-rejection ratio. Space limited openings in first-year medicine to 78, and 42 of these went to the university's own pre-medical graduates. There were 36 places remaining and about 450 aspirants for these. About 200 Canadians were among those rejected. Only A- and B-average students had a chance.

At Dalhousie University in Halifax, Medical Dean Dr. C. B. Stewart said more medical schools are needed but student rejection figures create a false impression. Of 43 applications to Dalhousie from outside the Atlantic provinces, all had applied to at least one other Canadian school and some to three or four.

SET UP REGISTRY. A true statistical picture is needed, he said, and the Association of Canadian Medical Colleges now is setting up a central registry which will correct "meaningless" statistics.

Dalhousie, only medical school in the four seaboard provinces, accepted 65 of 105 Atlantic provinces applicants. Dean Stewart did not blame the rejections on overcrowding but said that if the present increase in applicants continues, quite a number may have to be turned down for this reason. Applications from within the Atlantic provinces have almost tripled in the last five years.

On the other coast, the University of British Columbia's medical school reported that 60 out of about 300 applicants were admitted to the entering class. Dr. James Mather, assistant dean of medicine, said he feels no scholastically qualified B.C. resident has been turned down for lack of facilities. Most of the rejected applicants—many from other countries—are not qualified for one reason or another.

Gerald Waring REPORTING

OTTAWA — The moral to the story of Don Shaver is that if you aspire to be a member of Parliament you must be willing to put other interests aside.

Mr. Shaver is a highly successful poultryman at Galt, Ont., in the riding of Waterloo South. He specializes in the export of breeding stock. He sells his poultry in 42 countries, some behind the Iron Curtain. He even sells to Red China. And this is all his own achievement; you might say he started in the chicken business from scratch.

Mr. Shaver was the Liberal candidate in the 1962 election, and lost. He was the Liberal candidate in the 1963 election, but he didn't put much effort into his campaign. Instead, he was in Europe selling chickens until just before nomination day. So he lost a second time.

As they say down Newfoundland way, you have to fish or cut bait. You can't do both at the same time.

Mr. Shaver's lackadaisical approach to politics did not induce him to the Liberal brass, and the "dump Shaver" idea began to grow. But there was no hurry until Waterloo South's Tory MP, Gordon Chaplin, died last spring and the government set Nov. 9 for by-elections there and in Westmorland, NB, which is vacant through the death of Liberal Sherwood Rideout.

Looking around for someone other than Shaver, the eyes of the Ottawa brass lit on Ron Stewart, twice defeated NDP candidate. On Sept. 2 Keith Davey, national organizer, John Turner, Liberal MP, Senator D. L. Lang and Eric Strathdee, Ontario organizer, made the pitch to Stewart. Two days later Stewart was in Ottawa talking with Prime Minister Pearson. Two days after that he announced he would seek the Liberal nomination. And eight days later he got it, beating Shaver by 143 convention votes to 131.

It's shenanigans like this that give politics a dirty reputation. Davey, Turner, Lang and Strathdee abused the democratic process by their interference and influence on the local selection of the candidate. Unfortunately this is not an unusual occurrence — in Quebec Liberal conventions are window dressing, with the candidates picked by the party brass. But in Quebec it's a political way of life; in Ontario it's more shocking.

It will be interesting to see whether the NDP brass in Ottawa is shocked — or whether NDP leader Tommy Douglas made a deal with Davey. Waterloo South has gone Tory 11 times in the last 12 elections, and NDP chances there are slight.

One can sympathize with Mrs. Shaver, the real politician in the family, when she resigned as vice-president of the Ontario Liberal Association and fired a volley at "skulduggery in Ottawa" by "the Liberal back room boys". But in fairness to Davey, Turner & Co., their transgression was grossly provoked by Mr. Shaver. He let the party down badly last year when every seat counted, and in the tough league of party politics he got what he deserved.

To top it all, with the convention called for Sept. 15 and with him a declared candidate for the nomination, he left Sept. 14 for England to sell more chickens.

You might say that Mr. Shaver's chickens came home to roost.

Joker fined $100, court costs

By DAVID SLABOTSKY
(Record staff reporter)

SWEETSBURG WARD — "Your joke was in very bad taste," said Magistrate Jean-Louis Pelouin, in the Sweetsburg Court of Sessions Monday and proceeded to fine Harry Binnings $100 plus court costs.

Mr. Binnings, a customs agent, was stopped by an agent of the provincial police a month ago for impaired driving. The policeman happened to be a friend of his, and when Mr. Binnings stepped into the Q.P.P. car, he took advantage of his friend's momentary absence, took off in the car, and left the policeman behind.

He was arrested again at Magog, this time for having "borrowed" an automobile belonging to the government, without permission.

Mr. Binnings was also fined $50 dollars, plus court costs, plus three month suspension of his driving licence for impaired driving.

FINED $100

Rene Patenaude pleaded guilty before Magistrate Jean-Louis Pelouin to charges of operating a transport firm contrary to the terms of his permit from the Quebec Transport Commission.

He was fined $20 for each infraction, $100 in all, plus court costs. If payment is not made, Patenaude must spend one month in jail.

MONTH IN JAIL

Real St. Hilaire was condemned to a month in prison by Magistrate Jean-Louis Pelouin, for burglary and damages. The Magistrate warned him that if he continued in this manner he would be considered a habitual criminal.

Mr. St. Hilaire has a previous record for automobile theft, escape, burglary, and penitentiary, and has served several short sentences in various parts of the province.

Real St. Hilaire will have to put up a $200 bond to keep the peace for a year.

HE LIKES THE JUDGE!

Fernand Devos appeared before Magistrate Jean-Louis Pelouin this morning, accused of receiving stolen goods. He was found in possession of 200 records, 45 r.p.m., stolen in Granby.

When asked if he pleaded "guilty or not guilty," the accused replied, "I might just as well plead "not guilty." Then he turned to the judge, "What would you do if you were in my shoes?"

Judge Pelouin smiled.

"I like you," said Devos, "you're always smiling."

TWO YEARS IN JAIL

Jacques David, 18, was condemned to two years in Laval Penitentiary for burglary. He appeared before Judge Pelouin Monday morning.

Two months ago he received a suspended sentence from the same judge in the same courthouse.

He pleaded guilty to having robbed Tetrault Hardware Inc., Granby, of merchandise totaling $500. He also pleaded guilty to three other individual thefts, one at Woodhouse, $836.86, the second at the Youth club, $500, and the third at Quick Flame Gas, $261.00.

MUST KEEP PEACE

Jean-Marie Duvernay, 21, of Sherbrooke, will have to sign a $200 bond to keep the peace for a year.

He pleaded guilty to a charge of theft with violence.

The accused stole $8.35 from Mr. Marchand who stopped to pick up Duvernay who was hitchhiking.

STEALS $125.

Paul Emile Gelineau, 33, was sentenced to a week in prison for having burgled the home of Maurice St-Germain, of Waterloo. The amount stolen was $125. Judge Pelouin said he was showing clemency because the man was the father of a family and it was his first offence.

IMPAIRED DRIVING

Armand Brouillette, of Farnham, was sentenced to a $300 fine and court costs after pleading guilty before Judge Pelouin to charges of impaired driving.

He has been arrested so often for impaired driving that Judge Pelouin stated that if he is arrested again he will be sent to jail. Nevertheless, Judge Pelouin showed clemency by giving him a three month delay in paying the fine.

AMERICAN FINED

Charles Wilson, an American citizen from Vermont, pleaded guilty before Judge Pelouin to charges of impaired driving. He was fined $50 plus costs, and is forbidden to drive in Canada for three months.

Albert Baron will appear Monday October 5 to face similar charges.

FINED $50

Marcel Leduc of Montreal was fined $50 and court costs for driving under the influence of alcohol. He obtained a one month delay to pay his fine.

IMPAIRED DRIVER

Edward Clement pleaded guilty to charges of impaired driving. He was fined $50 plus court costs or a month in prison if the fine was not paid. In addition, Judge Pelouin suspended his driving permit for six months.

DEFECTIVE TAIL-LIGHT

Gerard Tetreault was fined $10 for driving at night with a defective tail-light. He was also fined $10 for not having repaired a signal light. If the fines are not paid in 15 days he will spend eight days in jail.

ONE HEADLIGHT

Gilles Bergeron was fined $10 for driving at night with only one headlight. He was fined an additional $25 for not letting the vehicles bureau know about his change of address.

SPEEDING

Liboire Racine was fined $20 for speeding. If his fine is not paid in 15 days he will spend eight days in jail.

ASSAULT

The case of Ernest Tilton, accused of assault, will be heard on Monday, October 5.

FRAUD AND VANDALISM

The case of Andre Veroneau, implied in a case of fraud and vandalism, will be heard October 5.

LACK OF EVIDENCE

The suit for fraud, Antyme Boucher against Arthur Valieres, was not admitted before the court, because of lack of evidence.

PLEADS GUILTY

Henry Lapointe of Bedford pleaded guilty to complicity in a case of assault on the person of a woman. Lapointe was a witness to the act of his brother. Judge Pelouin fined him the court costs.

ACCUSED ILL

Rolland Mainville of Longueuil, accused of impaired faculties, illegal possession of fire-arms, and possession of imitation weapons for criminal intent was not present at court. His lawyer explained that he was ill.

DISTURBS THE PEACE

Philip Miller pleaded guilty to charges of disturbing the peace. He was fined $25, and must sign a personal bond of $200 to keep the peace for a year. Miller will appear before the assizes court in October to face more serious charges.

Fire destroys barn, milkhouse, silo in $30,000 blaze at Stanbridge East

STANBRIDGE EAST — The barn, milkhouse and silo of George Larocque of Stanbridge East was completely destroyed by fire for the second time in five years Sunday.

Damage was estimated to be over $30,000 dollars. A month old stainless steel bulk milk cooler, tractor, and other farm machinery were among the items lost in the blaze.

The Stanbridge East Fire Dept. received the call at 12:30 p.m. Sunday and under the direction of Fire Chief David Blinn proceeded to the fire. The east end of the barn was completely ablaze when the fire department arrived at the scene.

The fire department was forced to remain on the scene until 7 a.m. Monday morning spraying the tons of hay that was constantly being fanned into blazes by the strong wind.

The fire department used with success eight streams of water and every foot of hose in their possession to keep the fire from spreading.

Mr. Larocque had just harvested one of his best crops in recent years, hail and frost having damaged crops in the previous year.

The fire department was forced to remain on the scene until 7 a.m. Monday morning spraying the tons of hay that was constantly being fanned into blazes by the strong wind.

While the Larocque fire was at its height the Stanbridge East Fire Department received another fire call at the home of Mr. Enright RR 2 Stanbridge East.

The fire dept. had every available bit of equipment in use at the barn fire. Chief David Blinn with three men proceeded to this fire in a station wagon loaded with fire extinguishers. Mayor Donald Blinn ordered the chief to call in another department if this other fire was out of control. This fire turned out to be a chimney fire which was quickly extinguished by the four members of the Stanbridge East fire department, enabling them to return to the barn fire within 30 minutes.

Bishop Maguire leads service

26 are confirmed at Waterloo

WATERLOO — (Special) — The Right Reverend Kenneth Maguire, Bishop of Montreal conducted a confirmation service in St. Luke's Anglican Church here September 27.

Twenty-six candidates received the laying on of hands at the service. One of these candidates, Thomas Logan, 85 years old received private confirmation.

Reverend Keith Dickerson, rector, presented the candidates. Reverend A. W. Smith, rector of the Church of the Redeemer, Montreal, acted as Chaplain to the Bishop.

The senior and junior choirs combined to lead the singing. Victor Osborne acted as crucifer. An anthem during the offertory was rendered by the senior choir. The sidesmen were Messrs. George Williams,

Russell Lawrence, Herb Morris and Lewis Waterhouse. His Lordship, the Bishop spoke briefly to the new candidates. He stressed the importance of continuing in their church life, now they were full members. The need for regular Communion is vital to one's spiritual development, he said.

Three memorials were dedicated, the Missal in memory of Robert Neill by his granddaughters, Mrs. R. L. Cochrane and Miss E. Lawrence; an oak Chancel rail in memory of Gertrude Neill Lawrence by her family; a new flag pole as part of the memorial of the Second World War.

Flowers on the altar were in memory of Harcourt Lawrence and his son, George Lawrence, placed by Mrs. Cochrane and Miss Lawrence, in memory of James Neill by his daughter, Natalie and in memory of Almus Hayes by his family.

A large congregation witnessed the service. A special delegation from St. Paul's United Church, including their pastor, Rev. A. H. C. Haley also attended.

Each candidate received the new English version of the New Testament from the church, to commemorate the confirmation. His Lordship, the Bishop and the rector autographed each copy.

Following the ceremony, a reception for the bishop and the candidates was held in the church hall under the auspices of St. Hilda's Guild. The serving table was laid with a linen cloth, candelabra with tall white tapers, the center having a bowl of carnations. The pourers were Mrs. Raymond Street and Mrs. Glendon Darling, now residing in Knowlton.

The list of confirmation candidates were: Lynn Irwin, Douglas Welch, David Slack, Ruth McLellan, Diana Hollenbeck, Carol Bance, Cheryl Squires, Jane Darling, Patricia Jones, Jean Corthorn, Ruth Hackwell, Joanne Neeley, Charlotte Ledoux, Freddie Ledoux, Elizabeth Pugh, Larry Tibbitts, Freddie Bowker, Debbie Page, David Tibbitts, William Neeley, Mr. Ross Elston, Mr. Warner Booth, Mr. Thomas Logan, Mrs. Carol Eldridge, Mrs. Lois Jones, Mrs. Dorothy Mason.

Superintendent of SS addresses Waterloo Guild

WATERLOO — St. Hilda's Guild of St. Luke's Church, met in the Guild Room on Sept. 21.

Jack Corthorn, addressed the members on the work of the Sunday School. Primarily, the superintendent wished to thank the ladies for their donation to the Sunday School, which was used for literature. The classes follow a prescribed course, laid out by the General Board of Religious Education, which requires certain supplies to be bought.

The Guild members also planned their share of the parish supper on St. Luke's Day Oct. 18.

The rummage sales committee reported the rooms have been cleaned and prepared for the fall sales. The dates are the five Saturdays in October, 3, 10, 17, 24 and 31, from 1 to 3 in the afternoon. All members and friends are reminded that any donation is acceptable, small pieces of furniture being very saleable.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Katie Marsh and Mrs. Benita Hughes.

FARNHAM

Mr. Gerald Decker has returned to his work with the C.P.R., after being a patient in the Royal Victoria Hospital, in Montreal, and confined to his home for a month.

If all gasolines are the same how come you can get better mileage with B-A?

The reason is simply this: you can get better mileage because with B-A you use less gasoline.

Why? Well here are four good reasons.

First, B-A Gasolines are specially weather-formulated each month to compensate for regional and seasonal temperature changes. This means you get fast, positive starting and fast warm-ups. As a result, you use less gasoline during these operations.

Secondly, B-A Gasolines contain a special detergent to keep your carburetor clean. This gives you smoother idling and positive pick-up which means you use less gasoline.

Also, B-A Gasolines burn clean and prevent combustion deposits that rob your car of power. Result—you use less gasoline.

Finally, B-A Gasolines are final-filtered at the pump to eliminate harmful dirt particles that could interfere with your car's proper performance and waste gasoline.

This is why we say you can get better mileage with B-A Gasolines.

So switch today. Move up to B-A Gasolines.

Honored on golden wedding day

Mr. and Mrs. Rupert S. Carson celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary on September 23, 1964 and a family dinner in honor of the event was held at the "Birches" home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stewart, Belvedere Rd., Lennoxville, who were also celebrating their 21st anniversary.

For the occasion the room was decorated with red, green and gold autumn leaves and garden flowers. The surprised bride and groom of 50 years ago were presented with a corsage and boutonniere of bronze baby mums. The table was centered with a decorated wedding cake made by Mrs. Carson, flanked by gold candlesticks. After an enjoyable dinner the couple were presented with gifts and cards. In his thank you remarks Mrs. Carson recalled their honeymoon to Quebec City where they watched the first contingent of Canadian soldiers embark for overseas at the outbreak of World War I. Mr. Carson, born at Denison's Mills in 1894, eldest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Carson was united in marriage in 1914 to G. J. Taylor, born 1893, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Taylor, of Richmond. The couple have five children, a son-in-law, a daughter-in-law and seven grandchildren: Cameron and Eliot, of Waterville; Jean and Joseph Stewart and their children, Jolene, Margaret and Joseph, Jr., (deceased in March 1964), of Lennoxville; Sylvia, of Grace Christian Home staff, Huntingville; and Dennis and his wife the former Eleanor-Jean Goodwin and their four sons, Mitchell, Douglas, Patrick and Leslie, of Coronation, Alberta, who were unable to be present. Mr. and Mrs. Carson lived most of their married lives in Denison's Mills where they were active in community life. They have now taken up residence at Waterville, Que. R.R.2, where, with their two sons, they are still extremely active with building, gardening and farming and where they are happy to welcome visitors.

Mrs. R. Echenberg, in charge of tickets reported that they were selling very well and a capacity audience expected.

Furs, gloves, jewellery and hats will be supplied by the local merchants.

Tea was served by the hostesses at the close of the meeting.

Polly's pointers

DEAR POLLY — I have a question and a Pointer. The question is — what will remove brown stains from my pink muslin draw curtains that were made from sheets? Rain coming through an open window soaked them and caused these ugly marks.

My Pointer is for mothers of infants and small children. My two little girls used to fight for a spoon. I solved the problem by using a dropper that came with liquid vitamins. I first determine how many drops per full will equal the prescribed dosage of medicine. With the child lying down I give the medicine by counting out loud as each dropper full is placed in her mouth. The child seems fascinated by the counting routine. My 2-year-old now runs to the couch to lie down and waits with an open mouth when she sees me get the dropper and medicine. Even my 3-month-old baby no longer fights taking medicine. — MRS. A.S.

DEAR POLLY — For our time-saving idea we keep five laundry bags made of bleached chicken feed bags hanging in a convenient spot. Above each of them is a marker — D for dish towels, B for bath towels, C for colored clothes, W for white clothes and L for lingerie. Each time a person has soiled things they are put in the proper bag.

Then when one has a little spare time he takes one of the bags and puts it in the washer. There is never any sorting or any guessing as to what needs washing most. Often I may have half an hour, not enough time to sort a whole bag of clothes but if I see the bath towel bag is full, in it goes — JEANETTE.

For and about Women

Tibbitts-Rogerson wedding

WATERLOO — The marriage of Alma, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rogerson, of Manchester, England to Mr. Wallace Wilder Tibbitts, of Stamford, Conn., son of Mrs. Pearl Tibbitts and the late Percy Tibbitts, of Waterloo, took place on Saturday, September 19, 1964 in St. Luke's Anglican Church, Waterloo. Rev. Wilbur Davidson officiated and Mrs. M. MacIntosh played the wedding music.

The bride, given in marriage by Mr. John Roy, of Montreal was in a floor length gown of brocaded satin fashioned with a bouffant skirt and detachable train, the fitted bodice having a scoop neckline and long sleeves ending in points over the hands. Her shoulder length veil of embroidered net was held in place by a coronet of pearls. She carried a bouquet of pink roses. Miss Christine Peck, as maid of honor, wore a short frock of red duchess satin and matching head band. She carried a white prayer book, adorned with white carnations.

Mr. Lenny St. Jacques, of Granby, acted as best man and the ushers were Mr. John Davidson from Melbourne and Mr. Jim Davis, Waterloo.

Mrs. Tibbitts, mother of the groom, wore a royal blue arnel jersey dress, with head veil to match and black accessories. Her corsage was of yellow roses.

The reception was held in the church hall where the bride's table, centered with the wedding cake, was arranged with crystal bowls of pink carnations and white candles in crystal holders.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Tibbitts left for the Laurentians, the bride travelling in a bottle green jersey knit suit and black accessories. Her corsage was a pink rose. The bride and groom will spend three weeks in England before returning to Stamford, Conn., where they will reside.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Wilder Tibbitts.

The groom is the grandson of the late Russel Stewart, of Richmond.

The clothes poll

by Helen Hennessy

When spectacles were glass circles that made everyone look like Groucho Marx, Dorothy Parker's quip about girls who wear glasses had a point. Today it hasn't.

Eye-glass frames have become fashion accessories and a wardrobe of high-fashion glasses can even make a glamour gal out of a plain Jane.

Several types of frames have been designed for office wear to give you a chic, but efficient, look. Harlequin frames for outdoors in the sun can create a pixie expression the wearer might never achieve without them. And the elaborate new designs for evening can add an additional touch of elegance to a formal costume.

There is no reason any more to feel that glasses detract from your appearance or make you look older. They don't.

What does make a woman look older is the squinting that goes hand in hand with impaired vision. It creates frown lines that can easily become permanent.

If you can't see properly, insecurity walks along with you every minute. You cannot display complete poise or confidence.

It seems to me that no man would object to sitting across a restaurant table from a poised young woman wearing colorful glasses. But it surely would disconcert him to gaze into limpid brown eyes that suddenly tightened into mere slits when they tried to scan the menu.

Statistics from the Better Vision Institute tell us that 23 million Americans who do not wear glasses need them. And it's more than likely that a good part of that group is comprised of women who for cosmetic reasons would rather ruin their sight than don a pair of specs.

If you're nearsighted don't be short-sighted, too. Get a professional eye examination, buy yourself some good-looking eye glasses and join the majority of smart gals who realize that Dorothy Parker's celebrated rhyme no longer has meaning.

There may be one chance

Sometimes you get only one you've done.

One chance to put aside your pride and say, humbly, "I was wrong," or "It was all my fault," or even "We were both foolish."

One chance to do a real kindness for someone when it would mean the most.

One chance to explain a misunderstanding that, if ignored, would sour a friendship.

One chance to hear what a child or adolescent needs to tell you.

One chance to give another person the break he needs when he is trying to make a start in the world.

One chance to defend a friend when slighting remarks are being made against him.

One chance to accept a shy but sincere offer of friendship.

One chance to stand up and be counted when you don't agree with the crowd.

One chance to say "No" when it is important to say "No," but easier to say "Yes."

One chance to show your appreciation for another's kindness.

One chance to refuse to be talked into doing something you know you shouldn't.

One chance to right a wrong.

One chance to choose the right road when you come to a crossroads in your life.

One chance to say, "I'll keep on trying," instead of, "What's the use?"

One chance to stand up and face a hard situation instead of running away from it.

Sometimes you get only one chance.

Q: "I have a problem. My waist is much too big for the rest of my body. I can lose weight easily, but when I do, my legs look like toothpicks and my waist isn't much smaller. I wish you could help me." — S. A.

Dear S. A. — I assume you mean you can lose weight easily by dieting. If so, you're luckier than most of us. You should buy one of the many paperback books that give exercises for spot reducing. Do the waist exercises while you watch your eating habits. The proper exercises should help confine your weight loss to the waistline area. Remember, though, no one should attempt a rigid diet without first consulting a doctor.

Pheeny-Gauvreau marriage

COWANSVILLE — The marriage of Lorraine Marie Cecile Charlotte, daughter of Mrs. Gabrielle Gauvreau and the late Edgar Gauvreau, of St. Eustache, to Mr. John Kenneth Pheeny, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Pheeny, of McAdam, N.B., took place on September 5, 1964, at 2 o'clock, in the Emmanuel United Church, Cowansville. Rev. J. D. McCord officiated. Mrs. Stanley Pergau, of Sutton, played the wedding music. Two large white baskets of fall flowers were used to decorate the church.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Charles Robichaud, of Montreal, wore a white pout de soie, floor-length gown, having a lace applique front panel with bows. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a high neckline and long sleeves. Her shoulder length veil of tulle illusion was held in place by a pout de soie bow. She carried three red stemmed roses, tied with white satin ribbon. She wore a necklace of one cultured pearl, a gift of the groom.

Mrs. John Paul Lorrain, of Montreal, sister of the bride, who acted as matron of honor, wore a blue pout de soie street-length dress, styled on similar lines to that of the bride. The fitted bodice having a lace over-jacket. Her tulle veil was held in place by a blue pout de soie bow. She carried one long stemmed white rose, tied with ribbon.

Mr. Keith Russell, of Sutton, acted as best man and the ushers were Messrs. John Paul Lorrain, brother-in-law of the bride and William Mahaney, all of Montreal.

The mother of the bride and groom's parents were unable to attend owing to illness.

Miss Ruth Pheeny, sister of the bride, of McAdam, N.B., wore a green and black striped wool suit, small green hat and black accessories.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the L'Horizon Hotel, the bride's table being centered with the three-tier wedding cake, made by Mrs. Bernice Russell and decorated by Mrs. Roland Gibson, of Sutton. Low bowls of multi-colored gladioli, and white lighted candles completed the decor.

Later the couple left for a trip to Wisconsin and Minnesota, the bride wearing for travelling a beige wool suit, with dark brown accessories, and a white tea rose for her corsage.

Out of town guests were from McAdam, N.B., Montreal, St. Eugene, Ont., Chambly, West Brome, West Sutton, North Sutton and Sutton. The couple are residing in Chicago.

Questions readers ask

Q — My husband is 27 and a very heavy eater. I think he eats too much, far too many high-calorie foods. About how many calories a day should he eat?

A — The Food and Nutrition Board of the National Academy of Science, in its 1964 Recommended Daily Allowances, recommended about 2,900 calories a day for a moderately active man around 25 years old weighing approximately 154 pounds. This is a reduction of 300 calories from their former recommendations. They seem to believe we are getting too fat.

Q — I want to cut 300 calories a day from my diet. Can you suggest what to cut out?

A — These calorie figures will help you decide where to cut: Two 3 1/2-ounce Martinis contain 300 calories; 1/2 pint chocolate ice cream contains 200 calories; 1/6 of a 9-inch cream pie, 299 calories; a chocolate éclair, 316 calories; 1 cup macaroni and mayonnaise salad, 335 calories, and an iced coffee cake, 4 1/2 inches in diameter, 196 calories.

It will interest you to learn that if you cut 500 calories a day from your diet, you can lose one pound a week.

CHEAP SUGAR NEW
Inexpensive sugar is a comparatively recent development. In the 1700s many could not afford the $2.75 a pound it cost.

from the TEST KITCHEN

Pie "Trimmers"

Deck out the Thanksgiving pumpkin pie with midget "cheese pumpkins". Cut a small package of cream cheese into 6 portions, rolling each into a ball. Draw pumpkin-like grooves in each one, emphasizing them with yellow coloring, and press a whole clove in the top of each. Chill before placing them round the pie, just inside the crust edge. Good with apple pie too of course!

Tempting Toppers

When it comes to Apple Pie, as it surely does in October and on through winter, we suggest varying the usual cheese accompaniment by sometimes serving a Rarebit Topping, or on occasion a Blue Cheese one. Read on for specifics!

Rarebit Pie Topping

Is none other than just what it says, Cheese Rarebit... but dressed and spiced up to crown any apple pie with glamor and a touch of the gourmet. Make up your favorite Rarebit recipe using old Canadian cheddar cheese for zesty flavor. Might add just a whisper of cayenne to it too. Then serve this elegant variation of a cheese sauce—hot over apple pie—garnishing with a dash of cinnamon. Picture-pretty and appetite-appealing!

Blue Cheese Topping

On apple pie, puts it into the gourmet class again, flavor-wise, yet everyday-ish by way of approach. Add Canadian blue cheese to the usual butter, flour and brown sugar mixture for a crumbly top for an apple crisp. For a 9-inch pie, we suggest a half cup each of brown sugar and flour and a quarter cup each of butter and crumbled blue cheese... letting it bake in a hot oven, 425° for about 45 minutes.

And Fresh Pear Pie

Is truly delicious with a Ginger Cheese Topping... in which cream cheese is beaten fluffy with cream then studded with silvers of preserved ginger. For a 9-inch pie, beat together two (4-ounce) packages of cream cheese with enough milk to moisten. Stir in a quarter cup or more (you be the judge) of chopped preserved ginger. Refrigerate the topping till it's time to serve it in generous scoops on pieces of your best fresh pear pie!

Necklines won't be lower next year. We guarantee it.

The patented, nylon-reinforced neckband* on Stanfield's T-shirts is guaranteed never to sag, lower, or stretch out of shape. The T-shirts and double-seat shorts you see here won't shrink either; keep their shape washing after washing. You get men's T-shirts (674) for about $1.50. XL slightly higher. Boy's (0674) for about $1.25. An interlock knit with pocket runs about $2.25 in white or colours. Men's shorts (0402) are around $1.25, and boys' start from 85¢. Of course when you buy Stanfield's you buy the best.

*Exclusive with Stanfield's in Canada.

THE WORLD OF SPORTS

St. Pat's High topples LHS 2-1 as Bob Leech scores on free kicks, S.H.S. Juniors down Notre Dame 3-1

Quick thinking and good aim gave St. Pat's High School their second consecutive win last night in the St. Francis Valley Soccer League as they edged Lennoxville High 2-1 in a closely-fought tilt.

Robert Leech took advantage of a penalty kick in the first half of this contest to put St. Pat's ahead, as his shot was blocked by goalie Beerworth and then dropped. A short run and fast thrust sent the loose ball into the goal.

The cry for more was heard on the field after the first tally by St. Pat's as they made a bid for another victory following their 4-0 win over Drummondville's Presentation High Saturday. However, as the tally was made at the 28:00 minute mark, no scoring followed in this half.

Lennoxville, suffering from Saturday's 1-0 defeat at the hands of Notre Dame, was determined not to lose another, as they came back strong in the last half. Wallace Billing evened things up for L.H.S. when he drove the ball into the net beating St. Pat's goalie Frank Tarte after a mad scramble.

This came at the 20:00 minute stage of the half, leaving both squads seeking the winning goal.

LEECH WINS GAME Robert Leech wasn't through with L.H.S. goalie Beerworth as the last minutes of the game gave him an opportunity to beat him at the goal. With five minutes remaining, Leech took advantage of the kick, sending the ball to the left corner, out of Beerworth's reach.

Rough tactics employed by L.H.S. in front of the nets resulted in their downfall, as the kicks gave St. Pat's the game. Coincidence presided as their previous game under the same conditions.

Both teams, meeting for the first time in the 1964 season, proved to be evenly-matched, showing strength on defense as well as offense. Beerworth appeared to be the big obstacle for St. Pat's as they couldn't get past him on their offensive attacks and rushes. Big guns for St. Pat's included Leech, Norman Beaulieu and Dennis Roy offensively, with Turgeon and Lynch holding the defense. Other players for Lennoxville had Billing and Kogler giving their utmost for a win.

S.H.S. 3 NOTRE DAME 1 Meanwhile, Sherbrooke High School Juniors pulled out a 3-1 win over their hosts, Richmond's Notre Dame with all scoring being done in the first half. Grant Clowery opened for S.H.S. at 1:15 mark, followed by Mike Cotterell, putting the visitors ahead 2-0. At the 11:45 minute mark, Alex Cook pretty well salted the game as Sherbrooke surged ahead 3-0. Gary Smith then came up with Richmond's lone tally at the 15:00 mark.

Play was close in both halves, with S.H.S. getting the scoring opportunities and making use of them. Best for Sherbrooke were Cook and Clowery offensively while Mike Gregory and Mark Bergeron turned in fine performances for the hosts.

In other weekend games played in the S.F.V.I.A.A. soccer schedule, S.H.S. Seniors lost 2-1 to Stanstead while B.C.S. won over Drummondville 1-0. The Junior division saw S.H.S. and Stanstead battle it out to a scoreless tie while St. Pat's Junior 'B' tied the other representatives 1-1.

L.H.S.' J. Beerworth, T. Beattie, M. Wingate, B. Dunn, K. Smyth, C. Saunders, W. Billing, P. Kogler, S. Kingsley, J. Wark, M. Kingsley, B. Taylor, J. Hewitt, D. Bowman. St. Pat's: F. Tarte, D. Turgeon, R. Levesque, N. Lynch, W. Lamarche, R. Leech, N. Beaulieu, J. Veat, D. Charlebois, D. Hoy, A. Sargent, C. Adams and J. Atto.

Production wins Johns Manville golf tourney

TORONTO - The Production team won the 29th Canadian Johns Manville Golf tournament held here at the St. George's Golf and Country Club Saturday.

Dr. William Paul led the winning squad with the low gross of 78 while other members of the team were, Cliff Royale, Asbestos with 84, Ray Boisvert, Asbestos 86, Les Surtees, Asbestos 86, Clayton Caine, Toronto with 86.

T. S. Patterson of Ontario won the individual honors of the day when he posted a low gross of 77. A. G. Sinclair, president and general manager of the company, presented the trophy at the dinner following the competition.

It was the 17th time the Production team has won the trophy compared to the Sales department, which has emerged the winner 12 times.

Ticats crush Esks 43-14 on fumbles

EDMONTON (CP) - Hamilton Tiger-Cats crushed Edmonton Eskimos 43-14 Monday night in a Canadian Football League game, but 13,000 Eskimo fans found a new hero to cheer. Bill Redell, a speedy defensive half from Los Angeles Rams of the National League, took over as quarterback and sparked Edmonton to two touchdowns in the last five minutes to help erase a dreadful Eskimo performance in the first 55.

Eskimos gave up the ball twice on interceptions, once on a third down gamble which failed and once on a fumble. Each time the Tiger-Cats turned the lapse into a touchdown.

Hamilton, under the leadership of Bernie Faloney, jumped ahead 14-1 in the opening quarter and extended it to 22-1 by the half. After Faloney led Tiger Cats to another touchdown in the third quarter, Frank Cosentino guided Hamilton to two more.

Until Redell's late heroics, Eskimos' scoring was limited to a 34-yard single by centre Bill Mitchell on an attempted field goal in the first quarter.

Fullback Art Baker twice bulled over from one yard out for touchdowns. Halfbacks Bob Gaiters and Willie Bethea also cracked in from the one while Cosentino scored on a four-yard run and end Hal Patterson made a brilliant catch on a 23-yard pass by Faloney for the

Emerson busts McKingley to give Aussies Cup

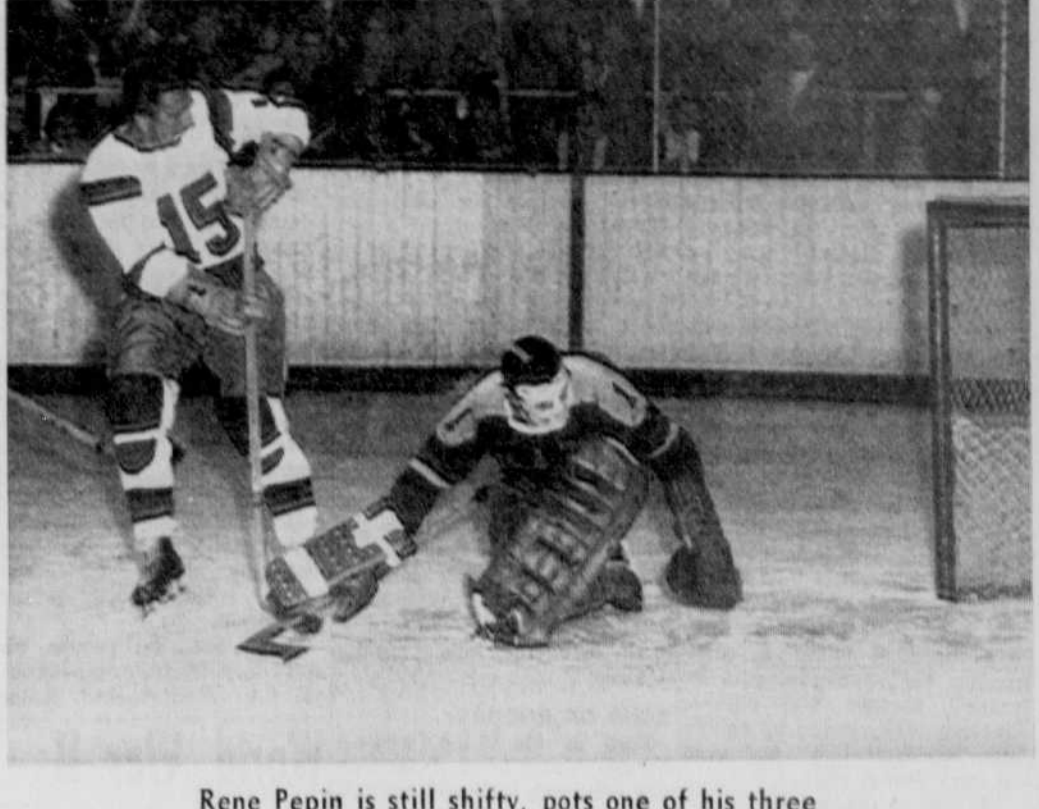

VICTORIOUS LEAP FOR AUSSIE - Roy Emerson, left, of Australia leaps happily over the tennis net after recapturing the silver Davis cup for his country yesterday. Waiting with outstretched hand is Chuck McKinley of San Antonio, Tex., who lost 3-6, 6-2, 6-4, 6-4 to the 27-year-old Emerson in the fifth and decisive match. Looking on in the center is Daniel S. Johnson, referee. This was the 12th time in the last 15 years Australia has won the cup. (AP Wirephoto)

This gave the Australians a 3-2 victory, but their superiority in world amateur tennis seems more pronounced than that. In Emerson they have the undisputed No. 1 amateur in the world. He is the holder of the Australian, Wimbledon and United States championship and winner of his last 48 singles matches of any description.

STOLLE BEAT RALSTON McKinley was No. 48. Fred Stolle, Emerson's teammate, has a good claim to being either No. 2 or close to it. Runner-up at Wimbledon and Forest Hills to Emerson, he beat Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., in a key singles match here but lost to McKinley on opening day.

McKinley and Ralston may not be available next year to try to win the cup back. "I have several business opportunities and I doubt that I can get away," said McKinley. Ralston said he would be back with an improved game—but friends say he is seriously considering turning pro, perhaps before next summer.

Rene Pepin paces attack with first hat-trick of season, Serge Aubry turns in another top performance

Sherbrooke Beavers rode to an impressive 7-4 win over the Omaha Knights of the Central Professional Hockey League last evening at the Arena before some 1,500 fans.

Shifty Rene Pepin proved he is still capable of manoeuvring the rubber in a very capable manner as he paced the Beavers to victory with a three-goal effort. Serge Aubry came up with another top job between the pipes for the Roy aggregation behind a hard-hitting squad of rearguards.

Pepin notched three goals as the locals opened with a 4-1 advantage after the first frame. Lanky Bob Brooks extended it in the middle session while in the third Pepin got his third in the game and Yves Cossette completed the scoring. The Knights finally hit the score board with a boom potting three goals to finish up 7-4.

Coach Roy had his squad battling from the opening whistle and they didn't let up at any time. In the third frame the Knights took advantage of the fast pace and the locals lost a little of their drive for a few minutes but they rallied and held on after the mid-way mark.

K. Wright opened the scoring at the start of the game when he batted the disc home after a scramble in front of the nets. Aubry had no chance whatsoever on the play.

This lead didn't last long as Georges Guilbault broke away at centre to coast in on Jean-Guy Morissette alone. He deked him in fine fashion and lifted the disc into the net. Rene Pepin put the Beavers out in front when he deflected a shot from Coach Roy into the upper hand corner.

Rene Pepin came up with his second tally a couple of minutes later. This time he outplayed the defense and when Morissette made his move he almost shifted him out of his skates to dump the rubber behind him. It was the usual Pepin style of doing business and he made no mistake.

Bouchard went off for roughing Gagnon, following a charge, and then things opened up with Coach Roy stepping in. When things had cooled off four players were in the sin-bin, two from each side. A minute later Nadeau joined them but two returned before anything happened. Simon Nolet made it 4-1 for the locals when he finished a passing play with Larry Drouin. In the middle session Rene Rousseau broke in and lifted a nice pass to Bob Brooks and he made no mistake beating Morissette with a hard drive.

In the final stanza Yves Cossette extended the lead to 6-1 and a few minutes later Rene Pepin made it 7-1. Just after this the Beavers seemed to relax and before they realized it the Knights had their second tally. They kept driving and added two more just after the half way mark.

Coach Roy roared in his usual heavy voice and the players jumped back to action. They took over and the Knights were kept busy. Two penalties, which overlapped in the final minutes of play gave the Knights the advantage but they couldn't capitalize on them as the game ended.

Announce New Healing Substance: Shrinks Piles

Exclusive healing substance proven to shrink hemorrhoids and repair damaged tissue.

A renowned research institute has found a unique healing substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids painlessly. It relieves itching and discomfort in minutes and speeds up healing of the injured, inflamed tissue.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most important of all—results were so thorough that this improvement was maintained over a period of many months.

This was accomplished with a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) which quickly helps heal injured cells and stimulates growth of new tissue.

Southern Rhodesia's Smith seeks black mandate for white supremacy

LONDON (CP)—Ian Smith of Southern Rhodesia, one of the most controversial figures in the Commonwealth, is a man of granite resolve against whom the famous African wind of change buffets in vain.

Determined to stop the tide of black nationalism flowing south of the Zambezi into his comfortable, white-ruled domain, he has set himself the toughest task in Africa—to persuade nearly 4,000,000 voteless Negroes to give his minority government absolute power through independence from Britain.

Smith, whose ultra-conservative views put him out of step with other Commonwealth prime ministers, and who was excluded from their conference last July, made a surprisingly favorable impression on Whitehall and Fleet Street when he came to London recently for talks on independence.

British journalists who girded themselves for a skirmish with the head of Rhodesia's "cow-boy cabinet," found a quiet-spoken, rangy colonial with an earnest manner and obvious sincerity. They ended by calling him "statesmanlike" and even "a very decent chap."

"I am a reasonable man," he repeated again and again. He finally proved it by withdrawing the threat of declaring independence unilaterally, offering instead to show a sceptical British government that the rural masses of Rhodesia prefer white supremacy to the "one man, one vote" doctrines of the nationalists. He believes the Negro politicians spread their influence by intimidation.

SEEKS SUPPORT
The situation is supremely ironic: Smith, the Scottish butcher's son who wants to save white civilization in Africa, having to appeal for a mandate to the most backward and primitive section of his people. He calls them "uneducated but not without wisdom."

If he works out a method of truly testing their opinion, it would be a political venture as daring as Cecil Rhodes riding unarmed into the hills to win the loyalty of the hostile Matabele in 1896. The white extremists in his cabinet would not hesitate to dump him if he proved "soft on independence."

Forty percent of the hole is dug as Montreal Metro schedule kept

MONTREAL (CP)—Some 2,000 men, burrowing and blasting beneath Canada's biggest city for 26 months, now have dug out almost 40 per cent of the route to be covered by the projected Montreal subway system.

"Our work is on schedule and we're within our original $180,000,000 budget," says Lucien L'Allier, director of the city's public works department and chief subway engineer.

Like the subway system in Paris, the Montreal system will be known as the Metro. It will also take many a technical cue from the men who run the French capital's underground trains.

The first two routes of the three currently planned for Montreal are scheduled to be in operation by the summer of 1966, and the third, to serve the World's Fair site on islands in the St. Lawrence River and on the river's south shore, is due for opening early in the year of the fair, 1967.

A fourth line is contemplated, to run north and south under downtown Mount Royal, but a decision on its construction has not yet been made.

The three lines will total about 16 miles in length, 4.6 miles less than the total for the Toronto subway, the current extensions of which are scheduled for completion by December, 1967.

In giving figures on the Toronto project, a spokesman for the city's transit company said that system will cost $342,000,000 all told, or $18,601,950 a mile. Montreal's average is about $11,250,000 for every mile of fully equipped subway.

ROCK HELPS TASK
Gerard Gascon, assistant to Mr. L'Allier, said a big factor easing excavation work in Montreal is the solid rock that starts about 40 feet under the city's surface. Toronto has little rock that close and much clay and sand.

Rock enables subway builders to get their work done with a minimum of expensive surface operations. The expense would result from the necessity of interfering with under-the-street utilities such as sewers and power lines and the purchase of surface property.

"Two-thirds of our excavations take the form of tunnelling through rock," said Mr. Gascon, a former mining engineer and veteran of 12 years in city work. "We get down to 70 feet at one point under the city and 180 feet down beneath the river."

It can be dangerous work, but rock tunnelling is not so hazardous as digging through soft earth, where there is the con-

Dixville Home Notes

On Sept. 12 and 13 Open House was held at the Dixville Home and Ginette Roy School. Saturday afternoon classes, held in each of the four classrooms of the school, were open to the public. A food sale was held on the school lawn, with very satisfactory proceeds.

On both days all buildings were open to the public and guides provided. A film on Retardation and Care of the Retarded was shown at the church. About 300 friends and parents from the Townships and Montreal attended. A representation of ministers, teachers, newspaper and Women's Institute were present as well as Junior Red Cross. The medical profession was represented by Dr. W. J. Klinck of Lennoxville, and Dr. Claude Chagnon, of Coaticook. Among those present were Mr. John Visser, Mr. Gerard Van der Mark and Mr. Jack Agema representing the Home, Mrs. Bellows, the teachers, and George Allen, Bobby Dedam, Claudette Villemaire, John Nangreaves and Herbert Cooperman, the inmates of the Home.

Mr. Robert Lavers has concluded his duties as teacher at the School and has returned to Montreal, where he is attending McGill University.

Mrs. Andrews, principal of the School, is on a two weeks' holiday and with Mr. Andrews, is visiting relatives in Chicago.

Mrs. Bruce Ham, of Dixville, Mr. Stephen True, of Bolton

Centre, Mr. Carl Alson, of London, Ont., and Mrs. Howitt, of Coaticook, have recently joined the staff of the Home as attendants.

Work on the cottage recently acquired by the Home has been completed and the children have moved in.

A modern oil burning heating system is being installed in the School, to replace the coal and wood furnace.

L'AVENIR
Mr. Vernal Doyle spent a few days in Sawyerville and East Clifton visiting his aunt, Miss V. Carson, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank McConnell.

Friends in the community were sorry to learn of the death of Mrs. Richard Desjardins, of South Durham. The late Mrs.

Desjardins (formerly Lillian Mullen) was born here and spent most of her life in this district.

C. S. Bogie accompanied by Col. M. Brady, of Ulverton, attended the funeral in Richmond, of Mr. Herbert Coles, Sr.

Miss Diane Bogie who has been employed for some time at Macdonald College, spent several days with her parents, and has left by motor for the Canadian west, where she expects to obtain a position.

THREE VILLAGES
Mr. and Mrs. Russell French, Cornwall, Ont., spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earle Farley and Ronnie, of Rock Island and visited other friends here.

With South Africa's Hendrik Verwoerd, once was an ardent advocate of Negro rights. In 1961 came a change of heart. He resigned as Sir Roy Welensky's chief whip in protest against a revamped constitution giving Negroes more seats in Parliament—the same constitution he now vigorously defends against further liberalization.

FORMED PARTY
With six other rebels he formed the Rhodesia Front, a conglomeration of ultra-conservative elements based on the old Dominion Party, which had long hankered to cut Britain's apron string.

The new party came to power in 1962 on an openly segregationist platform. It drew its main strength from artisan immigrants who had probably voted Labor in Britain but in Africa flushed with unaccustomed good living and cushioned by cheap Negro manpower, switched their politics hard right.

These are the people who most fear Negro competition—not the old-established pioneer families or the traditional governing elite. Farmers also support Smith because they fear losing their land under black rule, as happened in Kenya.

Underlying all is an even more basic fear of the African in power, summed up in the emotive word "Congo."

Add to this the economic stagnation of Southern Rhodesia. A humming dynamo under federation, its industry now is idling for lack of investment and trained manpower. "For sale" notices dot the tree-lined suburban roads of Salisbury and Bulawayo as the whites stream out at the rate of 1,000 a month.

World War II is still fought by two Japanese

TOKYO (Reuters)—Japan is asking the United States to bombard two suspected wartime Japanese soldiers in the jungles of Guam—with leaflets.

The men, one of whom recently fired a shot at a man who spotted him, are believed to have stayed in hiding for 19 years, certain that they would be killed if they were caught.

Now a three-man Japanese party, including Bunzo Minakawa, 43, who spent 16 years in the jungle himself, is starting a search for the pair.

An American helicopter will drop 6,000 leaflets, telling the men how Japan has changed—and particularly telling them that the Americans will not kill "war prisoners."

The leaflets also call on the suspected stragglers to give their names so that their families can be brought to Guam for a reunion with them.

The search is expected to last two or three months. Local police and soldiers will accompany the searchers.

Police will lend a jeep and a loudspeaker - equipped boat to help scatter other copies of the leaflets.

Copies of newspapers and magazines will be left in the jungle.

The search party will broadcast tape recordings of pre-war Japanese popular songs. But a plan to leave Japanese canned food has been dropped. It was felt the cans would only scare the stragglers away.

The existence of the men was revealed, according to the Japanese newspaper Asahi Shimbun, when Jose George saw one of them raiding piles of garbage. George was quoted as saying the second soldier fired a shot at him with a rifle.

An Asahi correspondent said the men must have realized many years ago that Japan had lost the war, but remained hidden in the jungle because the Japanese had been taught for centuries that prisoners are always killed.

Find two years is not enough to see world

VANCOUVER (CP)—A British Columbia family which set sail in a 38-foot ketch two years ago has not yet seen enough of the world.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Nordlund and their two daughters, Julie, then 10, and Shelly, 2, left here in September, 1962, in the backyard-built Aegean. Mr. Nordlund, a logger, spent his spare time for three years building the boat at his home at Sullivan Bay, a small coastal community north of here.

After sailing down the west coast to Mexico, the Nordlunds crossed the Pacific to the French islands of the Marquesas, Tuamotu and Tahiti, where they stayed for five months. From Tahiti they went on to the Cook Islands, Tonga, Fiji and New Caledonia and on to Brisbane, capital of Queensland.

Finding city life in Queensland too hectic, the Nordlunds sailed up the Queensland coast to Maryborough, where Mr. Nordlund took a job in a shipyard for the cyclone season. The next stop was to be New Guinea.

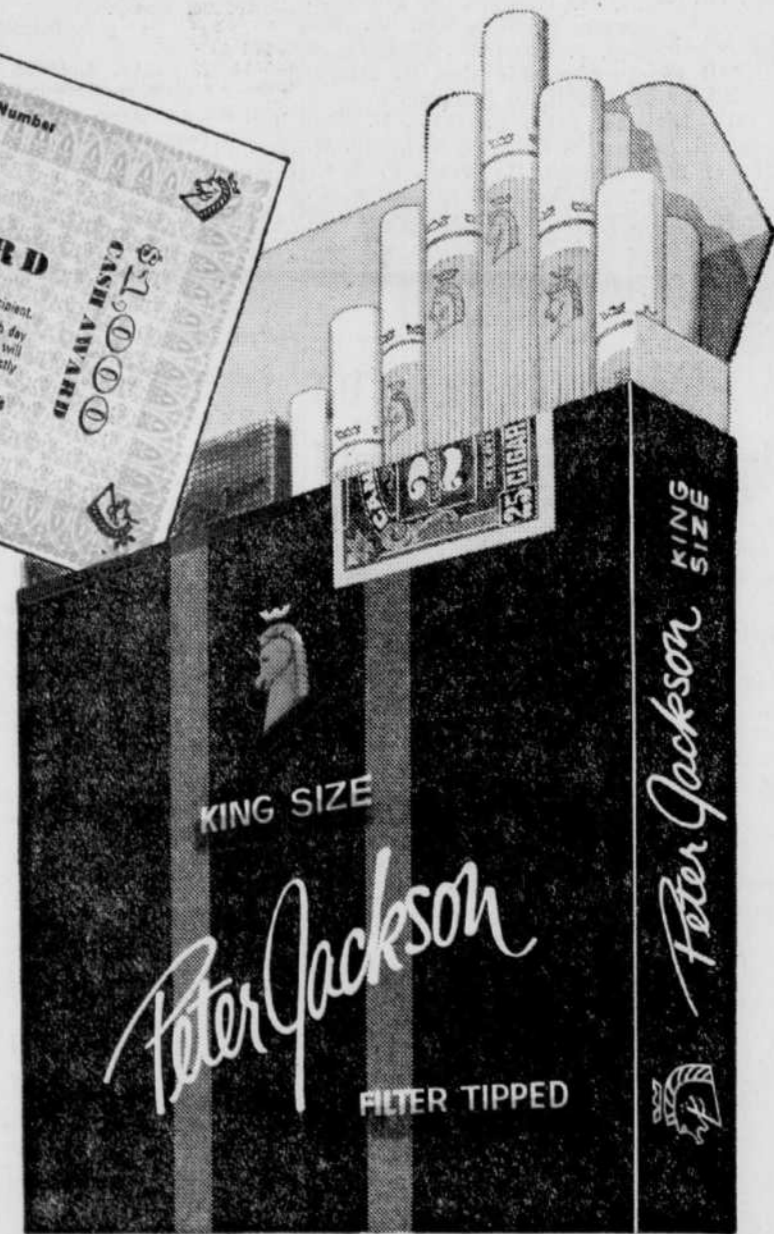

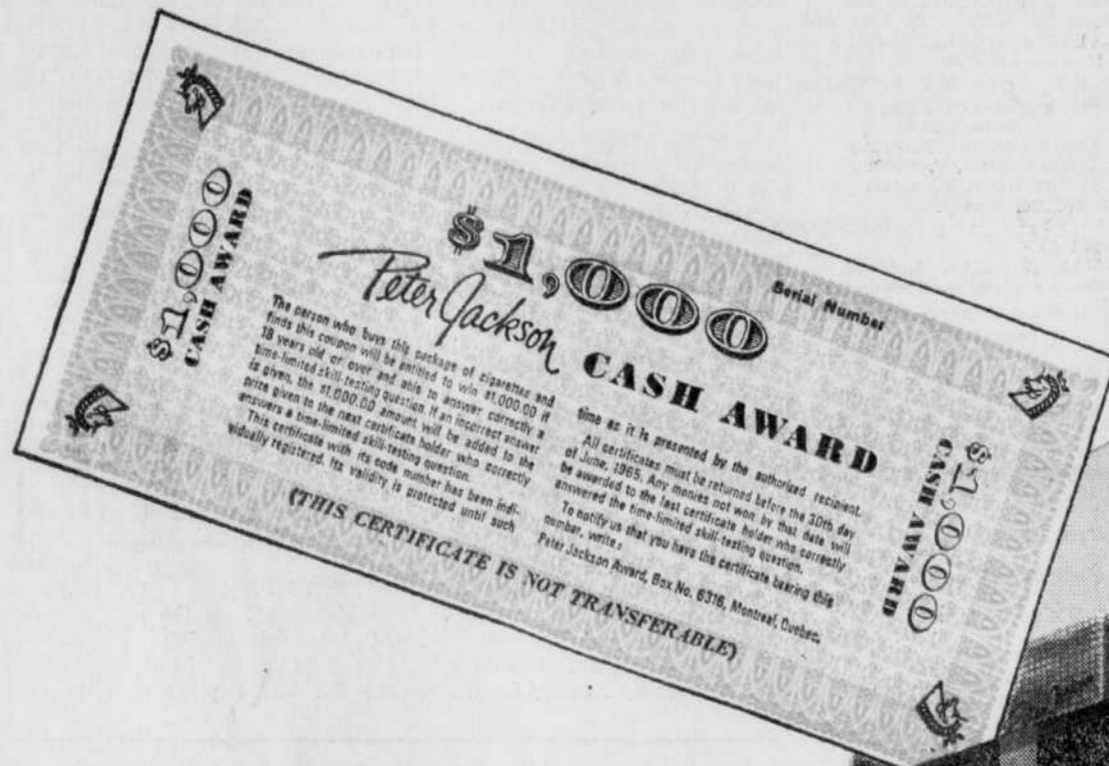

Reports here said the Nordlunds averaged about 100 miles a day crossing the Pacific and ran into no serious trouble. At no time have they had any crew but themselves. Their longest period at sea was 31 days, with the double-ended ketch sailing herself during the dark hours.

Refugees 'forgotten' victims of Cyprus turmoil

By CHARLES CATCHPAUGH
(Special to The Record)

NICOSIA — While Greek and Turkish Cypriots stand guard along the "greenline", and at outposts throughout Cyprus, hundreds of elderly people, women and children are experiencing the hardships of war, forced on them by the present crisis here.

The plight of displaced persons, and refugees that were forced to flee from opposing sides has not been publicized much.

Their hardships have been overshadowed by the tense situation.

Most of Cyprus' victims of the island's strife are in the sector basically controlled by the Canadians.

While there is little our troops can do to alleviate the troubles of these people, they must lend sympathetic attention to those in need.

All evidence appears to point to the fact that the Turkish minority have experienced the greatest losses, the most abuse and heaviest hardships.

At one camp in the Turkish sector, known as Mandres Hamid Village, 2,500 displaced persons, mostly elderly people, women and children live in a tented city, located on a dry dusty plain, where lack of sewage facilities and few means of cooking make life almost intolerable.

As at several refugee centres, means of feeding these people is a major problem, and the threat of disease offers constant danger.

Camp director at Mandres Hamid, Hassan Hilmi, formerly a clerk in the Cypriot government lives here with his wife and nine-month-old child.

He is hopeful of improved conditions, and despite his plight, like most of the Turkish minority, holds hopes for the future.

Primitive conditions are lot of this Turkish-Cypriot family

2,500 refugees in tent village at Mandre Hamid

He is typical of the interest in each other being illustrated by the Turkish people, who struggle for a bare existence.

A Turkish welfare worker, Mrs. Hatidje Tahsin conducted several news-items through the section of Nicosia which houses the greatest majority of displaced persons. With a tearful description of the hardships, she goes daily about the thousands of people who live under crowded circumstances.

Places where seven to ten families live in a room formerly used as a small weaving factory are common.

Children sleep on the ground, five in a make-shift bed.

Cooking of low protein basic meals is done over a kerosene burner.

For the majority of those effected within Nicosia proper, few lived in the customary luxury of Canadians, but most knew independence, dignity and enjoyed regular wholesome meals, as family life flourished.

As I followed my guide through the depressed area, women approached me with pleas.

"They're asking you if you can help locate their husbands or members of their families", Mrs. Tahsin told me.

I later learned that Canadian soldiers were the common target of such pleas for help, being regarded as among the best of the island's peace-keepers.

And life goes on throughout Cyprus, with hardships mounting as the colder wintery season approaches.

And while heads of state argue, thousands will possibly die as the unsung heroes of a war that wasn't asked for by the aged, women and children.

STRIFE ENDED

The Buroese capital, Rangoon, which means "end of strife," got its name after a northern king defeated a southern tribe in battle.

Ticklish negotiations result in successful harvest party

By RUSSELL PEDEN

TEMBLOS, Cyprus (CP) — "This is an historic occasion," said Maj. Bob Therriault, as Greek and Turkish Cypriots embraced outside the troubled village of Temblos, thumping each other on the back. "Perhaps we should record it with a picture."

But when the photograph was agreed upon, nearly an hour later, the Canadian negotiator responsible for the reunion stepped quietly out of camera range.

The incident took place late in August when a dozen Turkish-Cypriot harvesters, mostly women and old men, ventured cautiously from their hemmed-in village under Canadian escort to gather the fruit of their gnarled carob trees.

An elderly Turkish-Cypriot recognized a constable in the group of Greek-Cypriot policemen who met them at the grove, and a round of handshaking and back-thumping began.

It was something of a triumph for Maj. Therriault, 36, a six-foot Quebecer with a military moustache who commands B Company of the 1st Battalion, Royal 22nd Regiment.

Weeks of patient negotiation and persuasion had laid the groundwork for the harvesting operation, weeks of going back and forth between Greek-Cypriot authorities and the Turkish-Cypriot mukhtar—village headman — of Temblos, calming fears and suspicions.

REFUSED TO MEET

The mukhtar had steadfastly refused to meet Greek-Cypriot authorities face to face and discuss problems. Then, when a meeting on neutral ground had at last been held, none of the villagers wanted to be among the first harvesters.

harvest to begin went by without volunteers. The men of the village sat or squatted around the mukhtar outside the dusty and dilapidated coffee house, arguing among themselves.

Things started out the same way on the following day, when Maj. Therriault and eight men of the regiment returned at 7:30 a.m. to escort the villagers.

"Yes, there are Greek policemen down there," the major explained patiently. "But only one of them is armed, and I will keep him right beside me." After an hour's discussion, a toothless and grey-haired patriarch left the circle and returned with his donkey and a long pole. A few women followed him, then more of the men.

Municipal taxation, finance report facing criticism in New Brunswick

FREDERICTON (CP) — A New Brunswick royal commission report that attracted nationwide notice with its ideas for untangling the complexities of municipal government is facing heavy criticism at home.

Eight months after the report of the royal commission on municipal taxation and finances was made public, its critics are still sniping at it, contending it will result in loss of local autonomy and an intolerable degree of bureaucracy.

Study committees have been set up by both sides in the legislature and by other groups that would be affected if the revolutionary "package deal" contained in the 250,000-word report were implemented.

Its theme is "equalization through centralization." Commissions with province-wide jurisdiction would take over such "general" services as education, social welfare, hospitals and municipal affairs.

The royal commission, under Edward G. Byrne, a Bathurst lawyer, contended these services had grown too large for their traditional administrators — local authorities and taxpayers.

It suggested funds for the administration of these services in the new scheme would come from a central taxation agency at Fredericton that would collect and distribute all tax money throughout the province.

Public school trustees rejected what they described as the "Robin Hood approach" of taking from the rich and giving to the poor in the name of equalized educational standards. They said the Byrne commission would dilute the powers of local school boards.

The Canadian Hospital Association, supporting its New Brunswick branch, passed a resolution opposing the recommended take-over of all hospitals in the province.

East Farnham

Mrs. Mary Jennings and friend of Rutland, Vt., were visitors of the former's cousin, Mrs. D. W. Collins.
