

GERMAN RAIDERS WIDEN AREA OF BOMBARDMENT

Raids On London Decline As Fresh Regions Are Hit

Effectiveness of Anti-Aircraft Defences Believed Responsible for Decline in Attacks on British Capital—Several West Coast Ports Attacked with Bombs Being Dropped in Industrial Areas.

London, Oct. 2.—The Capital's anti-aircraft batteries went into action early this afternoon when invading planes, heard South of London, caused the fourth air alarm of the day.

Ground and aerial defences were working smoothly. At 1 p.m. (8 a.m. E.D.T.) the Air Ministry announced eight German planes had been shot down since midnight without the loss of a British fighter.

In each of the three earlier alarms either the defences were strong enough to hold the raiders back from the central part of the city or Central London was not their objective.

The twenty-fifth consecutive night of bombardment for London had passed with less severity than usual, but the attacks on Britain were widespread.

Four bombs fell on homes in Southeastern London during the second daylight attack. No casualties were reported.

One German bomber crashed in flames in Suffolk after a running fight with Spitfires. Before it was shot down, the bomber dropped high explosive bombs on a Southeastern town.

The town also was peppered with bullets fired from machine guns in the planes battling overhead.

Only one central London street was hit by bombs in the twenty-fifth consecutive overnight attack, the Press Association reported, and the bombing of fifteen outlying districts represented a slackening from the pace of previous raids.

Elsewhere, however, the German assault was reported to be more widespread than usual. Heavy attacks were aimed at several towns in Northwestern England, raiders hit at Southwestern Scotland and Wales, and the shipping district of Liverpool was bombed for the third consecutive night.

Countering with raids through the lengthening hours of darkness, the Royal Air Force was reported authoritatively to have bombed Berlin, industrial and communications targets in Germany and Nazi bases along the continental coast, including German big gun positions.

With the war in the air bolstered by a stepped-up underground war, the Children's Overseas Reception Board was said to be considering whether to halt for the winter the programme of removing children to safety abroad.

A Government announcement is expected in the next few days on the decision, said to have been precipitated by the loss of the Canada-bound refugee ship City of Benares, torpedoed by the Germans September 17.

Some sources said the rough passage because of winter storms and the increased danger from submarines might influence the decision. Others said the storms might cut down the chances of U-boat attack. A statement said German high explosive bombs damaged buildings of Merseyside, the shipping district of Liverpool, but that incendiary bombs which fell there were extinguished quickly and "damage was not excessive."

A number of casualties were reported, including some persons killed. Ten bombs fell in the centre of one Merseyside community just as Continued on page 2, col. 3.

German Restrictions On Jews To Be Extended To French Regions

Vichy, France, Oct. 2.—(P)—Restrictions on Jews in France similar to those imposed in Germany were forecast today in radio broadcasts from German-occupied Paris.

The restrictions are expected to bar Jews from professional employment and may go so far as to establish camps for Jewish refugees from other countries who are unable to leave France.

The Italian Government drew up a "statute" for Jews in the unoccupied part of France last night, but the details were not made public.

Newspaper work is included in professional employment from which Jews are expected to be barred. Rules enacted by the Pétain-Laval Government already bar any person not born of a French father or who is not a French army veteran of the wars of 1914 or 1940 from the medical, law and pharmaceutical professions.

Rumanian Iron Guard Group Kidnaps British Oil Agent

Secret Police Deny Any Knowledge of Charges Laid by British Legation that Leader of Industry Was Abducted from Sports Club—Serious View Taken of Incident Following Recent Events.

Bucharest, Oct. 2.—(P)—The British Legation declared today that a band of youths, described as apparently members of the Iron Guard, had kidnapped the director of the British-controlled Astra Romana, largest oil company in Rumania.

Up to noon, the Legation said it had been unable to ascertain the whereabouts or fate of the director, A. Miller.

Rumanian secret police declared they had no knowledge of the matter.

The Legation said it had eye witnesses to prove that Miller, one of the most highly-placed Britons left in the country, had been kidnapped from the summer resort of Snagov on the outskirts of the capital by four young men in plain clothes.

Miller was said to have gone to a sports club maintained by Astra Romana. The kidnappers were reported to have driven up to the club shortly after midnight and forced Miller to enter their automobile.

The Legation said it took a serious view of the incident, which followed the arrest of four other Britons—including one woman—and a Canadian, on charges of planning sabotage in the oil fields. Premier Ion Antonescu has promised a full investigation of these arrests, which took place eight days ago.

(The Canadian arrested is believed to be Capt. John Treacy of Calgary and Chatham, Ont., an oil engineer.)

CLAIM CALM RESTORED AFTER ATTEMPTED REVOLT IN MEXICO

Mexico City, Oct. 2.—(P)—Defense Minister Jesus Augustin Castro declared today that "order prevails throughout the country including Monterrey" where Brig.-Gen. Andres Zarza was shot to death yesterday in a battle with soldiers who said he planned a revolutionary coup.

CLAIMS COURIERS DELAYED
New York, Oct. 2.—(P)—A Pan American Airways official says United States State Department couriers to Germany are being detained "deliberately" by German consular officers in crossing occupied France as a German "retaliatory measure" for the sale of destroyers to Britain.

Paul Misicione, traffic manager for Pan American at Lisbon, Portugal, told reporters Tuesday on his arrival by clipper that some couriers, carrying confidential diplomatic messages, had been delayed as much as three weeks.

JAPAN'S THREE-WAY "BIG STICK"

The German bombardier (top, left), his Italian counterpart, below him, and the exultant Nipponese soldiers at right symbolize the three-way "big stick" which Japan's Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye brandished when he recently threatened that Japan, Germany and Italy are "ready to display the power of their military alliance in case of necessity." Rome-Berlin-Tokyo pact, uniting three most militaristic nations on earth, resulted from "unfailing American opposition to Japanese policies," Japanese say.

UNITED STATES PLANES AID IN BRITISH FIGHT

Minister for Aircraft Procurement Expresses Gratitude for Increasing Flow of Airplanes.

Washington, Oct. 2.—(P)—Britain said thanks to the United States in an indirect way today for the American-built warplanes which have been playing a part in the Battle of Britain.

"The flow of airplanes from the United States of America," the official statement said, "gives us renewed confidence in the triumphant conclusion of our long battle of the air."

The statement was issued by Lord Beaverbrook, Britain's Minister of Aircraft Procurement, and sent to the British Purchasing Commission here to be made public last night. Lord Beaverbrook singled out the Brewster fighters, Douglas D.B. 7 bombers, and the new Curtiss P-40 pursuit ships. He said that the three were "equal to our best machines" and reported that the Brewsters, a navy type plane, were "earning the praise of our finest pilots."

NEW NAMES FOR WARSHIP GROUP ARE ANNOUNCED

Names Common to Empire and United States Assigned to Vessels Recently Taken Over.

London, Oct. 2.—(P)—The Admiralty announced today the new names assigned to forty-four over-age destroyers transferred to Britain by the United States in return for the right to establish bases on British possessions in the Western Hemisphere.

The destroyers were given names common to the United Kingdom and the United States. The other six, now manned by the Royal Canadian Navy, were named after rivers common to Canada and the United States.

First Lord of the Admiralty A. V. Alexander announced the names of eight of the destroyers in the House of Commons September 17. The vessel designated as the leader of the squadron will be called Churchill. The others named for towns in the United States and United Kingdom are: Belmont, Beverly, Bradford, Broadway, Burnham, Burnham, Burnham, Burnham. Continued on page 2, col. 7.

WAR BULLETINS

Tokyo—Domei, Japanese news agency, quoted Moji Sakamoto, former Counsellor at the Japanese Embassy in Rome, as saying on his return to Tokyo today that Spain "probably" would go into the war on the side of the Axis powers immediately prior to any German attempt to invade Britain.

London—Twenty-eight crewmen of the 4,319-ton Norwegian vessel Vestvard, which was torpedoed Friday off the Hebrides, were safe in Ireland today after four days and nights in an open lifeboat. One seaman was drowned.

Oslo, German-occupied Norway (via Berlin)—The authority formerly held by Norway's King and Parliament was vested today in the hands of a council of fifteen ministers by decree of Joseph Terboven, Nazi High Commissioner for the occupied kingdom.

Berne, Switzerland—At the suggestion of the Swiss High Command the Government today called many new troops and officers to the colors to replace others who, a communique said, will soon be released from active duty. The number affected was not stated.

MURDER CHARGE AGAINST YOUNG NOVA SCOTIANS

Sydney, N.S., Oct. 2.—(P)—Two country boys stood charged with murder today, both so young that the case had to be taken out of Juvenile Court by special order before the charges could be laid against them. Fourteen-year-old Daniel Angus MacIsaac, of nearby Ben Eoin, and Robert Smith, fifteen, of Rear Big Pond, were formally charged last night with the murder of Angus (Klondyke) MacIsaac at his home in Ben Eoin last Wednesday.

Authorities did not reveal what relation, if any, young MacIsaac was to the murdered man. Crown Prosecutor Malcolm Patterson ordered the murder charges laid against the two rural Cape Breton youths as Juvenile Court Judge A. D. Campbell issued an order transferring the case from his court to the regular session.

Preliminary hearing of the boys is to be held this week, but the date was not announced. Officials said that the inquest, adjourned until today after three witnesses had been heard Wednesday, would go on as scheduled despite the arrests.

The body of Angus MacIsaac was found in the house where he lived alone Wednesday. He had been shot through the head and the cottage showed signs of a struggle. Police said they believed that robbery had been the motive for the slaying, and that MacIsaac had surprised burglars while they were in the house. A window had been smashed in the house where the reputedly wealthy gold miner lived. Cupboards had been torn down and wallpaper stripped away. One bullet was found in MacIsaac's head and another in the rear door of the house. The revolver was not found.

Mediterranean Rapidly Becoming Chief Stage In World Dominion War

Reports that German Leaders Have Taken Control of Italian Drive on Egypt Indicates that Plans to Invade England May Have Been Abandoned Temporarily—French Forces in Syria Still a Question Mark.

(By H.M. PETERS, Canadian Press Staff Writer.)
Punch the other day ran a cartoon showing the war "going south for the winter" and today there came a report from London that the German High Command has taken charge of Italy's stalled push into Egypt, aimed at the Suez Canal.

While Britain will not feel confident that danger of invasion across the English Channel is over for the winter until Indian summer has passed, signs continue to pile up that the Empire is increasingly concerned in guarding its interests around the Mediterranean and even farther East, to the oil fields of Iraq and the gateways to India.

Great issues can hang in the balance in a winter campaign by the Axis powers against Britain along the ancient shores of the Mediterranean.

Rumors are reaching London that German troops are moving into Italy with the aim of eluding the British Mediterranean fleet, landing in Africa and making a determined attempt to wrest the Suez Canal from Britain. Axis propaganda directed at the Arabs—who have shown little liking for it—is declared to have been redoubled.

The French forces in Syria still are an enormous question mark, not yet demilitarized and apparently stalling for time with an Italian Armistice Commission seeking to control the country. Neighboring Turkey watches that situation like a hawk.

British troops stand guard in Palestine and Egypt, backed by important number of Australians, New Zealanders and Indians. The South Africans have important numbers in Kenya. Unestimated numbers of reinforcements, and much equipment, have moved in. Should the French in Syria throw in their lot with Britain, this would provide friendly territory from Palestine and Trans-Jordan to the boundaries of Turkey, Britain's non-belligerent ally.

Reporters with the British forces on the Western desert of Egypt found little activity on the part of the Italians this week. Marshal Graziani—or his German superior if reports are true—faces the difficulty of consolidating his supply lines on an extended front and of keeping in repair the single good highway, which the British Mediterranean fleet smashes periodically.

The tempo of air warfare throughout the Middle East is rising with the passing of summer's great heat. Day after day the R.A.F. bombs ports and bases in Libya, in Western Egypt, in Eritrea and Ethiopia, while the Italian pilots from Ethiopia range into the Sudan and Kenya colony, and from Libya into Egypt as far as Alexandria, Britain's great Eastern Mediterranean base.

U.S. OFFICERS STUDY ISLANDS FOR BASE SITE
Miami, Fla., Oct. 2.—(P)—Senior United States army and navy officers planned a visit today with the Duke of Windsor in Nassau before setting out an exploration trip to find suitable defence bases on the outlying Bahamas Islands.

Travelling in military planes, they stopped in Miami on the way to six British possessions in the West Indies where the United States will lease sufficient land to establish naval and air outposts.

There was considerable speculation both here and in Nassau as to the location of the Bahamas base or bases. It was considered likely, however, that it would be strategically important to establish at least

CONVINCED GERMAN LEADERS DIRECT ITALIAN FORCES IN NORTH AFRICA

London, Oct. 2.—(P)—Military circles said today they had "no reason to doubt" that the German high command has taken over direction of Italian operations in North Africa. They said there is "no good reason not to believe" that Germany has moved troops from the Reich into Italy—probably to be used as reinforcements for the Italian North African army.

Italy has done little lately, one source said, except to build up a position at Sidi Barrani, Egypt, as an advance base and push some forces Southeastward toward the Siva Oasis, which is sixty to seventy miles inside the Egyptian frontier. These sources explained that Italy's offensive might be aimed either at Matruh or Alexandria from that oasis.

MEDITERRANEAN CENTRE OF INTEREST
Manchester, England, Oct. 2.—(P)—The Manchester Guardian said today British "watchfulness must now extend more and more to the Mediterranean, for on events there the Empire's future may depend." This view is shared in London by many authoritative circles where,

SCHOOL CADET CORPS BEGINS ITS TRAINING

One Hundred and Fifty Students Turned Out for Initial Squad Drill at Sherbrooke High Yesterday Afternoon.

One hundred and fifty-five students from the Mitchell and Sherbrooke High Schools yesterday afternoon held their first squad drill as part of the newly inaugurated cadet corps of the Sherbrooke High School.

Under the command of Captain R. E. White, the corps has been divided into platoons training under Lt. R. D. S. Shelley, Sergeant-Major R. E. Smith and Sergeant C. G. Price, who with Captain White, saw action in the last war.

These men have been allowed to direct the corps through the kind permission of Colonel T. R. MacKenzie, O.B.E.

The cadet corps will take on the name of the old Sherbrooke High School Cadet Corps No. 209 which originated during the early days of the Sherbrooke High School and sent twenty of its members into active service during the last Great War.

Sergeant C. G. Price, who is at present training one of the platoons, served in the old No. 209 and was one of the cadets assigned a post on the east side of the Isle of Orleans on look-out duty. Sergeant Price stated that when members of the old corps were called to the colors to serve King and Country they were stationed at various points on the Isle of Orleans and in Quebec Citadel and remained on duty for six weeks of the war during 1914.

Members of the corps will be trained in squad drill and physical exercises and the older lads will probably go on to rifle practice.

At present drills will be carried out on the school grounds every Tuesday but during the winter months military exercises will be continued in the gymnasiums of the Mitchell and High Schools.

The principal object of this cadet corps is to promote physical fitness among the students so that they may be prepared for any eventualities.

AYER'S CLIFF

PLUGHMEN'S CONCERT AND SUPPER

The annual supper and concert of the Stanstead County Ploughmen's Association will be held in the Confederation Hall at Ayer's Cliff at seven o'clock on Friday evening, October 4th, and a fine programme has been arranged.

Miss Florence Hood, violinist, and Harriet Prutsman, pianist, with Gwyn Hodgson and Vivian Jones will give solos and trios, while the orchestra, under Fred Wyman and P. L. Bailey, baritone, will make up a full programme.

The usual contest for cakes, beans and pies will be held and entries should be at the hall prior to six p.m. and any director will make arrangements for transportation of contributions or entries. This is the twenty-sixth annual supper and concert.

Due to the late season, the scarcity of labor and the number of young men who will next month be in training, besides the number already serving, there will be no ploughing match and the concert and supper will hold the interest of the county and aid the funds so that a match can be held next year.

LENNOXVILLE

SALE AND TEA DATES CHANGED

Members of the Lennoxville Women's League of St. Andrew's Church, Sherbrooke, decided yesterday that they would change the date of their Christmas sale and tea from November to near the middle of December.

Other matters of importance were discussed at their regular meeting held at the home of Mrs. Beatrice Milby.

Mrs. J. G. Trenholme, President of the League, presided, and a feature of the meeting was a reading of a missionary work in Formosa Island by Mrs. James McKibie.

At the conclusion of the session a dainty afternoon tea was served by the hostess, who was assisted by her daughter.

JUNIOR W. A. REHEARSES PLAY

Rehearsals for their play which will be given at the Thank-offering sale and tea this month were held yesterday afternoon in the Parish Hall by members of the Junior Auxiliary of St. George's Church.

The children are bending their efforts towards the perfecting of their lines for the presentation, which will be their part in the event to be held under the auspices of the four branches of the Auxiliary.

A portion of the afternoon was spent in making stuffed animals for the Christmas sales to be sent by them to the less fortunate children of the mission areas in the Magdalen Islands, the Gaspe Coast and Western Canada.

WORK OF V.O.N. Highlights at the monthly meeting of the V.O.N., held yesterday in the Child Welfare Clinic rooms, included the excellent report on the annual Thrift Shop, given by Miss Amy Wells, General Convener, and the fact that the nurses had paid 370 visits in September.

The Rev. G. Ellery Read, D.D., was in the chair and following the adoption of the minutes as read by Mrs. M. L. McFadden, Secretary, the monthly financial statement was presented by Mrs. F. E. Kerridge, Treasurer.

This revealed that operating expenses for the past month amounted to $565.99, and that the total receipts for September, including proceeds from the Thrift Shop, were $660.63.

Miss Wells, on behalf of the V.O.N., extended a hearty vote of thanks to all who had so ably assisted her so generously contributed towards the outstanding success of the Thrift Shop for 1940, the proceeds from which amounted to $414.99.

Miss Edna Osborne, nurse-in-charge, gave the statistical report of the month's activities, which totalled 370 visits made by the V.O.N. nurses. Forty-three new patients were admitted, said Miss Osborne, and special care was given to 101.

Of the 370 there were 219 free visits, 123 partly paid for, and only eight fully paid, the receipts for the month being $62.80.

Four clinics in combination with Well Baby Clinics were attended at September and during the second week of this month ten and one-half hours were spent by the V.O.N. during the afternoons, assisting Dr. J. B. Winder in examining students at the Lennoxville High School.

Further Miss Osborne stated that medical examinations in the Sherbrooke schools has already been commenced.

It was announced from the chair that Miss E. Bradley was celebrating her anniversary sale by donating a percentage of cash sales on Friday to the V.O.N.

LONG SERVICE AWARDS GIVEN TEXTILE MEN

Magog, Oct. 2.—Officials and veteran employees of the local branch of the Dominion Textile Company met at the Battles House last evening to recognize the faithful service of those men who have been with the company for fifty years. These, together with their record of service, were Messrs. Dave Doucet, 54 years; William Ducharme, 53 years; Dave Baron, 52 years; Arthur Meek, 51 years; Glen Hitchcock, 51 years; Charles Darraseau, 50 years; and Charles Peters, General Manager, 50 years. Each man was the recipient of a gold watch suitably engraved and presented on behalf of the Company, by E. Bradley and John Boardman.

Officials of the company present were John Peters, Edward Donald, Ernest Bradley, John Boardman and Ernest Sewell.

In thanking the men for their loyalty, Mr. Bradley remarked that there were twenty-six men present with an average of forty-four years' service, a fact which spoke well both for the men and the company. Mr. Bradley then asked Mr. Peters to say a few words and the latter expressed the belief that this gathering was unique in the records of the Textile industry. He also contended that co-operation between departments was essential, each being dependent upon the other. Mr. Peters congratulated the men who had received the long-service award.

The following who had records of lengthy service also spoke: Thomas Connor, 57 years; John Mossart, 56 years; Harry Stinks, Assistant Superintendent, 45 years; and Napoleon Fortin, 45 years.

In bringing the meeting to a close Mr. Bradley urged everyone to support all organizations which are operating to help bring about the defeat of Hitlerism.

Statesman Is Very Active On Birthday

Washington, Oct. 2.—(AP)—Cordell Hull was 69 today and too preoccupied with world affairs to think much about it.

The United States Secretary of State was born in a backwoods cabin in Tennessee but has an international outlook which belies the provincial limitations of his early background.

His white hair may be a bit whiter, his stoop more pronounced and his movements a little slower. But in general, Hull shows slight traces of the strain that has accompanied his seven and a half years as Secretary of State.

Building co-operation among the American nations for both military and economic defence, and helping Great Britain by measures "short of war" are now his chief considerations.

Except for the congratulations of associates and friends, today was just another day for the Secretary of State.

TWO SUPERIOR COURT CASES HEARD TODAY

Sums of $1,075 and $415 Involved in Actions Taken "En Delibere" by Mr. Justice Charles D. White.

Two cases involving sums of $1,075 and $415 were taken en delibere in Superior Court this morning by Mr. Justice Charles D. White, one between Harold McDougall of this city, and the estate of the late Harry L. Allen, and the other between Alfred Conway, of Sherbrooke, and Dame Elizabeth Toussaint, of Windsor Mills.

McDougall entered suit against the Allen estate for what he claimed is the balance of an original sum of $2,400 owed him by the late Mr. Allen through the deceased's purchase of twenty-four shares in the Harris Box and Card Company at $100 each on October 1, 1931. It was pointed out in the declaration that between January 1932, and February, 1934, McDougall received on account the sum of $1,325, leaving a balance due of $1,075.

In view of the death on December 2, 1938, of Mr. Allen, the plaintiff asked that the estate be ordered to pay the amount named, with interest and costs.

In the plea of the defendant it was declared that the late Mr. Allen only agreed to pay fifty per cent of the par value of the shares, or $1,200, which amount he has paid and overpaid, as cheques produced show. Payment of any amount over $1,200, the plea continued, was to be made only if the Harris Box and Card Company made good and paid off its indebtedness.

The Conway-Toussaint case revolves about the sale of a hotel in Windsor Mills owned by the defendant. The plaintiff, Mr. Conway, a local real estate dealer, claimed that the defendant secured his services to sell the hotel, and that on September 28, 1939, she signed a contract agreeing to pay a commission of two and a half per cent on the sale of the property, whether it was sold by him or by the defendant. Since the hotel was sold at the beginning of November by the defendant for the sum of $16,600, he entered suit for the commission, $415.

In her plea the defendant maintained that she signed only a blank contract which was to be filled in with the terms of an earlier contract entered into relative to the sale of the hotel. This contract, she said, was made in July, 1939, to last for thirty days, and she maintained that the second contract was also supposed to be for thirty days. Thus, she maintained, when she made the sale the contract had expired.

COMPLEX TAX PLAN BEFORE PRESIDENT

Washington, Oct. 2.—(AP)—The complex excess profits tax bill, voted after weeks of contention, reached President Roosevelt's desk today.

One of the last obstacles to Congressional recess, the excess profits legislation went through both House and Senate yesterday in rapid fashion. The President's approval was expected promptly because the bill contains provisions deemed essential for furthering the defence programme.

COATICOOK MAN IS REMANDED IN ACCIDENT CASE

Preliminary Hearing of Arthur Truchon Put Off Till Next Wednesday—Perjury Case Going on Behind Closed Doors.

Preliminary hearing in the case of Arthur Truchon, twenty-one-year-old Coaticook resident, who is held in a charge of criminal negligence arising from the death of Miss Agathe Roy, of East Angus, from injuries received in a head-on collision between the car she was driving and an automobile driven by Truchon, was postponed until next Wednesday by Judge J. S. Couture, presiding in Magistrate's Court this morning.

L. C. Parnier, accused of being in possession of smuggled goods found in a limousine operated by him at North Derby, pleaded not guilty, following which the case was postponed for fifteen days. Corporal E. Theriault and Constable A. H. R. Allyn, of the Rock Island detachment of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, found the goods when they visited the house about a month ago. The building stands on the border between Quebec and Vermont, with half of it in the United States and the other in Canada.

Marie-Rose, Eugene and Maurice Couture, of this city, appeared this morning for preliminary hearing on charges of perjury in a local Superior Court case. The hearing was conducted behind closed doors. Five other local residents—Kilda Perron, Florian Lennox, Cecile Desruisseaux, Mrs. Delisle and Girard Cote, are also charged with perjuring themselves in the same case.

Berlin Industrial District Again Under British Attack

ALARM COMPARATIVELY SHORT

Berlin, Oct. 2.—(AP)—A British air raid on the Berlin area last night and early today sent Berliners scurrying to shelters for the fourth successive night, but the alarm was comparatively short.

A censorship was imposed against publishing the exact length of the alarm.

(Before this rule went into effect, it was announced that the raid lasted two hours and fifteen minutes.) Shots from defence guns were heard in the centre of the city but no planes appeared over the centre.

An announcement claimed British planes attempted to reach Berlin but that most of them were forced to turn back when they reached outer defences.

Only a few machines succeeded in flying over the industrial suburbs, the announcement claimed, and caused no "noteworthy" damage.

The raid was one of a series which has kept Berliners in shelters from one to five hours nightly, with occasional nights of respite, for a month.

Six-Month Record Set In Revenue Department Returns

Collections Total $935,580 An Upswing Of Over $327,000

Past Month's Revenue Amounted to $171,999 as Against $105,510 Last Year—Increase Attributed to War-Time Production.

LESS SUNSHINE, LESS RAINFALL IN SEPTEMBER

Fairly Average Temperature, at 55.83 Degrees, Recorded During Past Month at Lennoxville Experimental Farm.

Less sunshine and less rainfall than last year but a fairly average temperature featured meteorological data for September released by the Dominion Experimental Farm at Lennoxville this morning.

Of Sol was out for a total of 119.4 hours during the past month, as compared with 150.2 hours last year and an average monthly appearance in 26 years of 156.2 hours.

Rainfall for the month was measured at 2.89 inches, a decided decrease from last year's total precipitation of 5.42 inches and comparing with an average of 3.74 inches.

The average temperature was 55.83 degrees, compared with a mean of 55.53 in September last year and a 26-year average of 56.12 degrees.

A new six-month record has been established in collections at the Sherbrooke Customs and Excise Department, according to figures released this morning by Major W. L. Greenland, Collector-in-Charge.

Returns for the past six months aggregated $935,580.53, as against $607,905.57 in the corresponding period last year, an upswing of $327,675.16.

The reason for this unusual gain is attributed to increased production to supply war needs.

Customs duties, sales and excise taxes and excise duty for September, 1940, all showed substantial increases over the totals for the same period last year.

Sales and excise taxes jumped from $74,561.19 to $124,009.25 while the excise duty figures revealed the greatest advance from those for the thirty-day period last year, $258.84 to $1,116.00.

The sales and excise tax increase is held here due partly to heavy war-time production and to the Exchange Tax of ten per cent on imports, while the gain in excise duty collections can be attributed largely to the ten cents per pound payable on tobacco after August 1, 1940.

The total increase on collections for the month was $66,488.91 over those of September of last year.

Statistics follow:

The tramp of marching feet will resound in the streets of Sherbrooke this afternoon when the 700 men of the Sherbrooke Fusiliers Regiment, C.A.S.F., hold their first march past outside their training centre on the Exhibition Grounds.

The salute will be taken by Col. E. B. Worthington, C.M.G., V.D., Honorary Colonel of the Sherbrooke Regiment (M.G.), N.P.A.M., who will be accompanied on the saluting base by Mayor Joseph Labrecque and members of the City Council.

RED CROSS HAS STILL $4,500 TO GO IN CITY

Final Tabulation Will Not Be Made Until Week-End, However, as Lists in Industries Being Extended to Friday Night.

With the official deadline set for tonight in the Dominion-wide appeal on behalf of the Red Cross Society, Sherbrooke organization headquarters reported this morning that they were still $4,500 short of their $15,000 objective but that final tabulation would not be completed until the week-end as a number of lists in manufacturing industries are being extended to Friday night.

Sherbrooke's returns to date amount to $10,500, which appears far from the $15,000 goal but is not such a serious shortage when one considers that the municipal grant has not yet been received and that all reports have not been made.

Mr. Sals added that the city's grant to the Red Cross last year amounted to $1,500. Indicating the appreciation felt for the work the Red Cross is doing for suffering soldiers and civilians, he considers that the municipal grant would overlap the contributions in view of the fact that lists have been placed in local commercial and industrial houses, which almost cover the entire field, but if persons who have not been approached by a canvasser wish to make a donation, they are asked to phone 2981 or send their subscriptions to Post Office Box 598.

Declares Rotary International Is Opposed To All Aggressor Nations Infringing On Freedom Of Others

Sounding a note of confidence in spite of the present state of war, Curtis H. Page, of Laconia, N.H., Governor of the 195th District of Rotary International, declared in an address to the Sherbrooke Rotary Club last night at the regular meeting in the New Sherbrooke Hotel that despite the tragic European situation Rotary was not losing its influence in the endeavor to establish world peace, and that its fundamental principles were bound to lead to friendly and harmonious relations between the countries of the world.

Playing the power-craved tactics of aggression of Germany and Italy, Governor Page stated that Rotary has been unable to spread peace in these countries because the Governmental cliques have stamped out fellowship, which is the very backbone of Rotary.

Turning his attention to the Americas, Governor Page lauded the co-operation between Canada and the United States and between North and South America on the question of defence from possible aggression on the part of European powers, and expressed the hope that this harmony and understanding would continue to stand as a protecting bulwark.

"The United States long ago pledged its life and sacred honor as a nation to defend the democratic status of the nations constituting the Americas against any aggressor nation," he said, "and no foot of American soil will ever be transferred to any European nation not already possessing it."

Numerous Interesting Papers, Some Relating To Early Period Of E.T. Are Read At Historical Convention

As the seventh annual meeting of the Canadian Catholic Historical Association swung into its second and final day today, the English and French sections of the Association met separately to hear papers after sessions had been opened by a Requiem Mass for the repose of the souls of deceased members, celebrated in St. Michael's Cathedral by the President General, Rev. Lionel Groulx, D.Th., LL.D., of Montreal.

Particularly interesting for residents of this city and the Eastern Townships were papers read by Rev. Father T. J. Auclair, S.T.D., J.C.D., of St. Polycarp, Que., reviewing the role of the church in the settlement of the Eastern Townships, and Rev. Father Maurice O'Breagh, of Sherbrooke, dealing with the problem of demography.

At last night's joint meeting Rev. Dr. Groulx dealt briefly with conditions in this country after Protestant Britain had taken possession, and reviewed the steps by which French Catholics were granted equality and given the right to worship as they pleased and to use their own language.

Six priests went over with the first contingent, and the total number commissioned during the war was one hundred and one, it was revealed in the paper on the Canadian Catholic Army Units, which was read by Rev. Henry Carr, C.S.B., LL.D., of Toronto.

The speaker pointed out that the chaplains were granted special faculties by the Holy See which enabled them to serve their men easily under all circumstances. The soldiers were found accessible by the priests, and there was a considerable number of men who during hostilities returned to the practice of their religion, while not a few were baptized and received into the church.

In the latter years of the war the foundation of the Knights of Columbus Catholic Army Units helped the chaplains to a large extent in their work, to some degree at the front but especially at the bases and in England. Another unique and helpful work carried on was the formation of the Holy Name Society, which enrolled most of the Catholic soldiers in a campaign to discourage unclean speech, and which was recommended to non-Catholics by military authorities.

The paper records the various chaplains who went over to England, who are classified by the years of their transfer, and the posts in which these chaplains worked. Principal engagements in which the chaplains came under fire were also mentioned. Advantages of the new system and organization of the chaplain service over the last war were explained, and it was pointed out that in this war there are Catholic chaplains with the Navy and Air Force.

BRITAIN GIRDS FOR THE WINTER

The determination of the British people to carry on the fight against Hitlerism regardless of any strength the German-Italian Axis powers may send against them is reflected in the plans being made by the capital city in preparing for the severest winter of war in its history.

Its plan is three-fold—to combat the German raiders with the strongest possible defence weapons; to speed the exodus of women and children to less bombed areas; to give those who must stay the utmost of shelter.

After a tour of bombed areas Harry Willink, Special Commissioner for Rehousing the Homeless, told adults that "all those who can leave should."

Extension of the mother-and-child removal scheme to include fourteen London boroughs was announced by Health Minister MacDonald, and Lord Woolton, Minister of Food, announced that fifty-eight emergency feeding centres have been opened for the homeless in London.

"More than 22,000 school children have been evacuated from London in the last two weeks," Mr. MacDonald said. "Many more ought to go."

He reminded mothers in the fourteen hard-hit boroughs that "by going out with their children they will not only be securing greater safety but will also be relieving the problem of providing shelter for those people who have to stay in London."

Intensification of London's preparedness comes at a time when German air raids seem, if anything, to be letting up slightly, and when promise is held for stronger defences.

Observers reason that the Government's efforts are not the result of any particular change in the situation but merely an effort to get in the best possible shape before the cold weather sets in.

GERMANY FACING FAMINE

Despite loud boasts by Nazi propaganda agents and military leaders that their country is well-stocked with food and other supplies, authoritative information reaching neutral observers indicates there is a great food shortage in the Reich, with the bread situation reported as being particularly acute, while the shortage of rubber in the country is so great that bicycle tires are made available to Hitler Youth leaders only for service in order to keep close watch on rural populations.

The quarters declare that German satisfaction over an agricultural agreement with Italy is an indication that Italy had the short end of the deal, and say that the German Food Minister forthwith sent a delegation to Budapest in an attempt to conclude a similar agreement with Hungary.

All territories occupied by the Nazis are claimed to be on short rations, evidence of this being seen in the apparent joy with which Norwegians hailed the announcement that some supplies of coal and coke would be available this winter.

The gasoline shortage is indicated in Belgium and Holland by barring from service cars using more than a certain quantity of gas a mile. The French, according to the same sources of information, are finding it difficult to provide the 450,000,000 francs a day necessary to support the army of the occupation, as more than 2,000,000 prisoners of war remaining in the hands of the Germans has resulted in a shortage of manpower in France.

A MERITED AWARD

Perhaps one of the highest tributes which can be paid to the Canadians serving with various branches of the Empire armed services is the inclusion of Lieut. Robert Davies, formerly of Hamilton, Ont., now serving in the Royal Engineers, in the first list of those to receive the newly-created George Cross, which ranks next to the Victoria Cross as a symbol of gallantry.

The award was made to Lieut. Davies and one of his associates for their work in removing the time bomb which threatened St. Paul's Cathedral, so dear to the hearts of all Britishers. While essentially a civil decoration, the George Cross carries a small military division for special cases and it is but right that the first awards should go to Lieut. Davies and Sapper George Cameron Wylie, for it was the suicide-risking work of these two men which so dramatically emphasized the need for some decoration to supplement the Victoria Cross, which is confined to those who have saved lives of others at the risk of their own.

True, Lieut. Davies is serving in the British forces, but he received his upbringing in Canada, and the Canadians can truthfully consider him as one of their own and the award he receives as an honor to Canada.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

Officially designated by His Excellency the Governor-General, Fire Prevention Week will be observed from October 6 to 12 throughout Canada. The best place for fire prevention to begin is in the home, and in order to safeguard the home, inspection should be made, not only in Fire Prevention Week but periodically throughout the year. Some of the basic rules of fire prevention are:

All heating and lighting equipment examined, chimney and pipes kept clean of soot. No smoke pipes permitted through combustible walls; disposition of ashes safeguarded. The fuse cabinet should be of metal or asbestos lined. Fuses in all fuse blocks, none of them bridged, and not over fifteen amperes fuses used in branch circuits. All drop cords should be insulated, and not supported on any conductive material. Electric irons always detached when not in use and kept on metal stands.

Matches should be kept out of the reach of children and the children should be regularly taught the danger of fire and not to play with matches. The safest type of match to use is the "Safety Match" which may be lighted only on the box.

Closets should be kept clean and all rubbish removed from the entire premises. Cleanliness is next to Godliness. Perhaps that is the reason it always plays such an important part in fire prevention.

This year again special emphasis is being placed on the inspection of dwellings during Fire Prevention Week, and you may expect a visit from your local firemen. Are you ready for them?

FROM THE RECORD FILES OF THIRTY YEARS AGO

Officials of the Eastern Townships Agricultural Association announced that as the result of reduced attendance and increased prize lists, the deficit on the annual fall fair at Sherbrooke would be in the vicinity of $3,500.

Earl Grey, Governor-General of Canada, has consented to receive an honorary degree from Bishop's University and will attend a special convocation for that purpose.

The following members were elected to the boards of the Advent Christian Church at Scotstown: Elder R. B. Scott, Samuel Boy, S. S. Hatch, Mrs. R. B. Scott, Mrs. Thomas Cox, Samuel Clark, Charles Pinkham and Philbert Boy.

The Salvation Army officials have announced the purchase of a site on Lower Wellington Street for the erection of a citadel.

The following were awarded scholarships at the formal opening ceremonies of the Mansonville Academy: Mabel Keach, Natalie Peabody, William Boright, William Gilman and Mabel Young.

At their annual meeting, the Eastern Townships medicals elected the following officers: Dr. C. J. Edgar, North Hatley; Dr. Tibbault, Wotton; Dr. J. A. Darache and Dr. H. C. Cabana, Sherbrooke, and Dr. S. B. Fraser, Coaticook.

OUR NEW HOME

"You cannot mean, this is the house," she said. And pointed to the cabin, made of logs— "It is a barn, or maybe the woodshed."

"No," he said, "It is our house, our home. And this, our farm, the very best of loam." Then she did cry, for new, this vast country. Was to her, and Poland far away—

Where she had left a farm, with many buildings, a house of stone and clay.

But confiscated now, by Hitler's reign, She and her children, here, were safe again; "But never will I learn this English."

Yet, with strong heart, and stronger wish, Little by little, she came to say "Hello." And "thanks." The children went to school, and inside a year, she found, that over flowers The neighbors came, and talked and she said, "Ours, Is a farm, that's good to see for now

We have two horses, and a good red cow. Some chickens and a new-sown field of oats. Five healthy calves and many running goats— The best of winter wheat is showing green; I do not think, me, of what might have been." Says Mrs. Swzwick, smiling graciously, "I'm happy now, and this is my country."

HAVE A SMILE

"Mussolini may get a kick in the pants from his own people," says an American journalist. After all, Italy is that shape.

An income tax collector had died, and a subscription was raised in a city office for a wreath. The boss promised five shillings. A few days later one of the clerks called to collect the money, and the chief handed him a 10-shilling note.

"You want five shillings change, sir," said the clerk. "No," growled the other; "keep it and bury another."

"He said he'd blow his brains out if I wouldn't marry him." "Instead of which he's got engaged to your rival."

"Yes, he must have got rid of them some other way."

The recruit was a simple-looking lad from the country, so the sergeant thought he would pull his leg. "Here, my lad," he said, "let's see how far you can climb up that searchlight."

"Ah, you can't catch me," said the recruit. "I know that trick. As soon as I get half-way up you'll turn out the light!"

The old culprit stood before the magistrate, who boomed "What's the matter with you? Can't you behave yourself for one week? You've been before this court at least thirty times. You've been charged with drunkenness, shoplifting, burglary, assault, and now you are accused of beating your wife. What have you to say?"

"Your worship," declared the prisoner, "nobody's perfect!"

"So you have accepted an engagement in South Africa?" "Yes."

"Hm. I hope you remember that ostrich eggs weigh four pounds."

The door of the chief's office swung open and a man lounged in. "Well, old boy," he said, patting the chief on the back, "how are you after all this time?"

The other turned round and stared at him. "I'm a self-made man," continued the stranger. "You don't remember me, do you? But twenty-three years ago, when I was poor and ragged and out of work, you gave me a message to carry."

The chief found his tongue at last. "Well," he snapped, "where's the answer?"

CANADA'S VITAL PART IN THE WAR

(Toronto Globe and Mail) Supply Minister Morrison's tribute to Canada's war effort will be as encouraging to this country as it is cheering to Britain. It is gratifying to know that the contribution made and planned "is more than enough to knock the bottom out of any fit of blues." Mr. Morrison portrays our part in the war as vital in providing munitions and raw materials, training and sending a fighting force overseas, guaranteeing the United Kingdom against the famine facing the Continent, and, finally, because of the support thus brought to morale.

What we cannot overlook in view of this tribute, is the seriousness of the obligation to measure up to the demands, whatever they may be in the future. The Mother Country's European allies swamped by the enemy, Canada becomes her chief outside reliance in a battle against numerical odds. Confronting the nation of 45,000,000 are the 80,000,000 Germans, plus the tens of millions of enslaved peoples in the conquered countries. Even with an invincible navy protecting an insular position, holding out against terrorism, starvation and invasion would destroy the soul of any people who felt they had nowhere to turn for aid. Placing on Canada the chief responsibility for assisting does not minimize the navy's part in the war.

TAKE A CHANCE ON YOUR FINESSES TO SAVE CONTRACT

In this, the third of our series on counting tricks, I am going to point out a common error made even by the expert.

A word first about the bidding—some players may question North's jump to three spades. Generally a raise from one to three is a powerful bid, suggesting a slam, while the raise from one to four is generally conceded to be just a game sign-off. But with two aces, five trumps and a singleton, I think North is justified in making his three-spade bid.

West's trump opening is a good one. Declarer wins with the queen, leads the ace of hearts, ruffs a heart and plays a small club. He goes up with the king and West catches three club tricks and returns a spade, and declarer must lose a diamond.

If declarer stops to count his tricks, losers as well as winners, he will realize that ruffing out the hearts does not help to solve the problem of how to avoid losing one diamond and three clubs. One club may be saved through finding the ace with East.

But there is another chance too, the heart finesse. In effect, there are two finesses, in clubs and hearts, and only one has to win for the contract.

tract; but declarer must be sure to try both. The correct play is to win the first trick with the ace of spades, lead the heart and finesse the queen. Whether this wins or loses, the plan is to discard one of dummy's clubs on the ace of hearts.

CHILD WELFARE CLINIC

That seventy-one children were given attention at the Child Welfare Clinic of Sherbrooke during the month of September was reported at the regular monthly meeting held yesterday afternoon in the Clinic room.

Mrs. W. Marchant, President, was in the chair, and the Treasurer, Miss Kathleen Leonard, in presenting her financial statement for the month, stated that operating expenses for September amounted to $65.

Miss Leonard also gratefully acknowledged a donation of ten dollars from the Municipality of Ogden.

After the disposition of routine business the monthly Clinic statement was given by Miss Edna Osborne, who reported that four clinics had been held in September, the total number of children attending being seventy-one, six of whom were infants under one year.

During this period twelve new patients were admitted, one was passed for dental treatment, one for eye examination, two for throat and nose treatment and three children were passed for operations.

Trinity Association Mrs. S. McLean, President of the Women's Association of Trinity United Church, presided over a meeting held in Wesley Hall yesterday afternoon for the purpose of making final plans for the social evening to be held at "Howardene" on October 10th.

There followed a pleasant social hour, the hostesses, Mrs. McLean and Mrs. Rose Sanger, serving tea and dainty refreshments with Mrs. A. F. Mabbitt doing the honors at the pretty tea table which was centered with a bowl of nasturtiums.

HOSPITAL LADIES AUXILIARY The acknowledgment of a generous donation from Ascot was a bright spot at this week's meeting of the Sherbrooke Hospital Ladies' Auxiliary, when the attendance was meager and the report on the annual campaign rather disappointing.

Mrs. Guy Bryant, President, was in the chair and after disposing of routine business plans were made for the annual jam shower

Mrs. Eleanor M. Kearney, of Montreal, is a guest at the Magog House.

Mrs. C. L. McGarvey, Prospect Street, is leaving this afternoon to spend two weeks holidaying in Montreal and Toronto.

Dr. E. J. Mullaly, of Montreal, who is here attending the Canadian Catholic Historical Association convention, is a guest at the New Sherbrooke.

Mr. John T. Hackett, K.C., Mrs. Hackett and Miss Hackett, of Montreal, are among the out-of-town guests attending the Canadian Catholic Historical Association now in session at the St. Charles Seminary.

Colonel M. W. McNulty, Officer Commanding the Sherbrooke Fusilier Regiment, C.A.S.F., Mrs. McNulty Catherine Dinning, Master Brian, who spent the summer season in North Hatley, are taking up residence at 48 Montreal Street on Friday.

Mrs. W. E. Loomis, Municipal I.O.D.E. Regent of Sherbrooke, Mrs. A. N. Dupuis and Mrs. A. W. Reid, accompanied by Dr. A. N. Dupuis, left yesterday afternoon for Three Rivers, where the I.O.D.E. delegates will attend the semi-annual meeting of the Quebec Provincial Chapter, convening in that City today and tomorrow.

Miss Catharine Speid entertained informally at the tea hour yesterday afternoon at "Uplands," her home in Lennoxville, for Miss Catherine Dinning, a bride-to-be of the week. Among the guests were Mrs. N. Fergus Dinning, mother of the bride-elect, Mrs. Lyman Tomkins, Miss Betty and Miss Cynthia Baker.

Mrs. J. H. Walsh, whose gracious hospitality was extended at the tea hour yesterday afternoon to the many distinguished guests who are in Sherbrooke attending the convention of the Canadian Catholic Historical Association, and to the members of the local committees and their wives was assisted in receiving by Mrs. D. A. McManamy and Miss Avo Walsh. The reception was held in the spacious drawing room of this lovely residence, one of Sherbrooke's oldest homes, about which late autumn flowers in profusion were artistically arranged. Tea was served in the dining room, where Mrs. T. G. Walsh and Miss Gladys Mullins presided at the beautifully appointed tea table, which was covered with an exquisite banquet cloth, and attractively centered with vari-colored asters in a Sheffield bowl and harmonizing candles in Sheffield candlesticks. Assisting in the tea room were the young ladies acting on the reception committee, and bridge at the Nurses' Home, which this year is scheduled for October 24th.

It was reported that response to the annual campaign for the hospital has been somewhat disappointing.

Members of the Auxiliary wish to emphasize most cordially that if friends of the Sherbrooke Hospital cannot subscribe money, a great many of them can easily give its equivalent in kind.

For example take "Ascot," whence came a generous supply of potatoes and other vegetables, also jams, pickles and other good things—all necessary for the maintenance of the hospital supplies, and very gratefully accepted by those responsible for its upkeep.

Many outlying districts have to date ignored the annual appeal on behalf of the hospital, and those in charge of the campaign once more stress the needs of the hospital and ask everyone to contribute something, if not cash, which is urgently needed, then in kind.

Use Olives When You Want to Try New Menu Twists

To give a familiar recipe a newer aspect, open a bottle of olives, either green, stuffed or ripe, and use them as one of the ingredients. The molded tongue given below uses sliced stuffed green olives in the recipe, and large ripe olives for effective garnish. It's the perfect dish for Sunday night supper.

MOLDED TONGUE AND VEGETABLE SALAD

(Six to eight servings)

Two tablespoons gelatin, ½ cup cold water, 1 cup boiling water, 2 teaspoons grated onion, 1 tablespoon drained, bottled horseradish, 2 tablespoons prepared mustard, ½ cup mayonnaise, 4-ounce bottle stuffed olives, sliced; 2 cups diced, cooked, smoked tongue; ½ cup diced, cooked carrots; ½ cup diced, cooked green beans; ½ cup sliced cucumber, ½ cup diced celery.

Soften gelatin in cold water 5 minutes. Add boiling water and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Add onion and horseradish. Chill until slightly thickened. Add mustard and mayonnaise. Blend with rotary beater. Pour thin layer into well-oiled loaf pan. Chill until almost firm.

On this arrange some of the olive slices in a design. Anchor by pressing slices into jellied layer. Chill until just firm. Add remaining olives, tongue, and vegetables to remaining gelatin mixture. Add salt and pepper if necessary. Carefully pour over jellied layer. Chill until firm. Unmold and garnish with large, ripe olives.

TUNA AND OLIVE CASSEROLE

One and one-half tablespoons butter, ½ teaspoon minced onion, 1½ tablespoons flour, 1½ cups milk, 1 cup sliced ripe olives, 1 seven-ounce can tuna fish (drained), 1 teaspoon minced celery leaves, salt, pepper, 1 teaspoon lemon juice.

FALL ACTIVITY OF STANSTEAD CHURCH STARTS

Over One Hundred and Thirty Attend Supper and Rally Meeting in Centenary United Church.

Stanstead, Oct. 2.—Over one hundred and thirty members and friends were present at a supper and rally in Centenary United Church to inaugurate their fall and winter programme. With their accustomed efficiency and good taste the Women's Association had provided a delicious and ample meal on tables made colorful with the late summer flowers and candelabra.

The minister, Rev. C. M. Stewart, who acted as chairman, introduced representatives of various societies and activities of the church, each of whom spoke briefly about the aims and plans of their respective organizations.

Judge D. W. Davis, whose connection with Centenary Church has been one of long and distinguished service, spoke in a reminiscent vein of the men and women who had built the church and maintained its place in the community. He urged a similar sense of responsibility upon the present membership. Those who followed Judge Davis re-echoed his sentiments and offered practical ways in which the fellowship of the church could express itself and minister to the various needs of all its members.

The following members spoke in the interests of their respective organizations; Mrs. W. T. Greer for the Women's Association; Mrs. E. C. James for the Women's Missionary Society and the Baby Band; Miss Mary McIntosh for the Mission Band; Mr. R. F. Rivard for the Sunday School; Miss Florence Curtis for the Young People's Society; Mr. E. C. Amaron for the Men's Work; Mr. A. L. Fuller as Secretary of the Board and the Envelope Treasurer; Mrs. C. M. Stewart for the Choir, and Mr. J. D. McFadyen for the connection with the larger church.

The Minister spoke on behalf of two new projects, a Younger Married People's Society and a Congregational Circulating Library, and then this part of the meeting was closed with a moment of silent prayer and the Benediction.

After a period of general sociability and conversation, the gathering enjoyed an hour's entertainment and instruction conveyed through the medium of the sound film projector kindly loaned by Stanstead College for the occasion. The films shown were provided through the courtesy of the Rural Adult Education Service of McGill University, located at Lennoxville, and consisted of two documentaries, "The City" a powerful presentation of the contrast between no planning and careful planning in city development, and another film on an analysis of a symphonic orchestra.

A. G. Patridge, President of Good-year Tire and Rubber Co., of Canada, Ltd., states with his letter to shareholders enclosing the quarterly dividend cheques as follows:

The sales of your Company for the first nine months of the current year have been substantially larger than those during the same period in 1939 in spite of the fact that export sales have been considerably reduced.

An important proportion of the tires required for army service cars and trucks, gun-towing vehicles, ambulances, field artillery and airplanes, is being supplied by your Company, in addition to substantial quantities of mechanical rubber goods ordered by the War Department.

The margin of profit on such orders is, as it should be, very small and this fact together with heavier taxation as well as higher production costs, due for the most part to increased market prices of raw materials, will not permit us to show the usual percentage of profit for the year to date, which your Company's increased business would ordinarily indicate.

pioneer missionaries who evangelized this section of the Province of Quebec and gave interesting details of the activities of men whose work blazed the way for the flourishing churches of today.

The first Mass was held in Sherbrooke by Rev. Father Jean Raimbault in 1816 at the home of Hon. W. B. Felton, Belvidere, whose wife was a Catholic.

In 1817 Bishop Plessis, then the only Catholic Bishop in Canada, gave Rev. Father Kelly, Parish Priest of Sorel, jurisdiction over the Catholics in the Eastern Townships—which mission he visited twice a year until 1823. He built the first chapel in Drummondville in 1822, and the chapel is claimed to be the oldest in the district.

Rev. John Holmes, who was appointed parish priest missionary of the Eastern Townships with headquarters at Drummondville in 1823, was one of the most celebrated of the missionaries. His mission field covered an immense territory, Sherbrooke alone being seventy miles from north to south and forty-two miles from east to west.

Difficulties of all description, coupled with the extreme poverty of the colonists, made his task a tremendous one.

In 1827 Rev. Father Michael Power took over the mission duties. In 1829 he blessed the chapel of St. Biase de Shipton, (now Richmond), and in 1830 that of Sherbrooke, dedicated to St. Columban. He was succeeded in the Eastern Townships by Rev. Father Hugh Paisley, who in one year of service performed one hundred and twenty-two baptisms and nineteen marriages.

Rev. Hubert Robson, who replaced Rev. Father Power in 1832, was one of the most widely known and most popular of the missionaries.

First resident priest-missionary in the newly formed mission of Sherbrooke was Rev. John B. McMahon, who arrived here in 1834. His territory took in the whole district of St. Francis, in which at the time was 280 Catholic families, 1,134 people, three-quarters Irish and the remainder French-Canadian.

Recalled because of ill health, he was succeeded by Rev. Peter Harkin, and then in 1864 Rev. Father Bernard O'Reilly, known as the apostle of colonization, took over.

Other notable Irish priests who labored in parishes which were still missions were Rev. Michael McAuley, Rev. Father George Browne, Rev. P. Dignan, Rev. Patrick Quinn and Rev. Thomas Quinn.

REDS FAVORED BY MAJORITY OF OBSERVERS

Buck Newsom And Paul Derringer Expected To Pitch Today's Opener

Baseball Men Like Reds Although Professional Men Are Laying Modest Odds Against Their Chances to Beat Detroit Tigers and Break American League's World Series Monopoly—Ernie Lombardi and Lonnie Frey Out of Cincinnati Lineup.

Cincinnati, Oct. 2.—(P)—What may prove one of the toughest, last-ditch battles in World Series history starts today on Crosley Field here, with the Cincinnati Reds meeting the Detroit Tigers before a sell-out crowd of 33,000. If seats were available, the audience would be twice as great.

Rearing back and whistling his pitches across for the "ancients" of the American League was Buck Newsom. It was the first World Series game for the talkative ace of the Tigers, and he had a big load on his back.

Opposed to him, in all probability, was Paul Derringer, the big "Oom Paul," of the National League champions. A crafty veteran, with a little of everything, including the finest control in the game, Derringer promised to be a full match for the Detroit star.

The cry "play ball," was scheduled for 2:30 p.m. E.D.T. The Reds were favored by a majority of baseball observers, probably on the basis of the law of averages which says that a league which has lost the series since 1934 is bound to crash through some time.

The Reds went into the Series badly crippled, and the professionals were laying modest odds against their chances. Yet they still drew a majority vote among the men who write baseball and who follow it all season. The writers' reasons were obscure, but they stuck to the Reds.

President Ford Frick of the National League said: "This is the first time I haven't even been nervous." It was a strange situation, all right. The Detroit lineup was intact, with Hank Greenberg and Rudy York glowing with health and ready to sock their home runs. Greenberg, to be doubly cautious, even spent a voluntary half-hour late yesterday shagging flies in Crosley Field. There wasn't an ache or pain in the Detroit camp.

The Reds, on the other hand, had realized the worst. Ernie Lombardi, their big, long-hitting catcher, still was limping painfully on his sprained ankle, and it looked as if he might not get in the series at all. With Lombardi out, the Reds had one real hitter left—first baseman Frank McCormick.

The Reds also were shy the services of their steady second baseman, Lonnie Frey, whose big toe was smashed by a lethal weapon (a water cooler lid) only a few days ago. Frey was hurting at every step yesterday, even after the toe of his shoe had been cut away. So it looked doubtful that Manager Bill McKee would take a chance on him.

All of which meant that the Reds entered the series seriously weakened. Their replacement for Lombardi was Jimmy Wilson, a veteran backstop who hasn't played regularly for over two years. Jimmy, however, is as full of pep and verve as a sophomore halfback.

To take Frey's place at second, they had Eddie Joyce. He can pitch fully as well as Frey, but his hitting leaves much to be desired.

All of which made it the more remarkable that the Reds were favored by the experts. They had more trouble on their hands than a man with an extra wife, yet they still had a large and cocksure following.

The reason for this, of course, was the potency of Cincinnati's pitching staff. When York and

DEL PARKER IS VERSATILE AS BALL MANAGER

American League Success of Tigers Due in Large Measure to Self-Effacing, Patient Boss.

The late Frank Navin was right, as usual, when, in the spring of 1936, right after the Tigers had bagged their second flag and a world championship, he pointed to Del Baker, jumping and shouting in the third base coach's box, and remarked to Will Harbridge, President of the American League:

"That fellow will be a great manager some day."

To Delmar David Baker belonged much of the credit for Detroit's flag-gathering clubs of 1934 and '35. As pilot of the Tigers' Beaumont farm for three years, he developed Lynwood Rowe, Elden Aufer, Hank Greenberg, Pete Fox and Jo-Jo White.

It was because of his knowledge of and the influence he had on these athletes that Baker was brought back to the parent club as a coach in 1933.

Baker, 47, has the homely philosophy of the hop-grower he has been since a boy. He still spends the off-seasons on the farm near Sherwood, Ore., where he was born. The property passed out of the family's hands for a time, but Baker bought it back.

Offered the Cleveland job that went to Oscar Vitt, and another American League managerial berth, Baker, the then coach, chose to remain with the Detroit organization, with which he has been the greater part of the time since 1913, when he first reported to Hugh Jennings as a catcher.

The man prefers old attachments. Baker is self-effacing, earnest and would rather remain in the background.

He attends no public functions. He has the patience of Job with youngsters, and a keen understanding of the veterans' problems. Look how he went along with . . . and brought back . . . Schoolboy Rowe.

Baker is the easiest fellow in the world to get along with, but can crack down when the occasion demands. He is the hardest worker on the club . . . never sits down from the time he appears at the park until he leaves . . . insists on hustle . . . says a club giving everything it has all the while will beat one that is 20 per cent stronger mechanically.

Baker isn't afraid of the devil, and stands on his own feet. He plays the game as he sees it, and never attempts something out of the ordinary, and it goes wrong, he doesn't hesitate to take full responsibility.

Never a great player himself, Baker concentrates on getting the maximum out of the material at hand. Reducing every problem to its simplest form, it didn't take Del Baker, the balance wheel, long to take his place among the top-notch managers.

Starting their last eastern trip, the Reds required nine victories to clinch the National League flag. So they bagged 11 straight.

They are the first club to repeat as National League champions after being knocked off four straight by the Yankees in the World Series.

The law of averages is on their side. But this Detroit outfit with the creaky infield has done everything asked of it.

Beaten four straight . . . once in St. Louis and three times in Chicago, and going home four games out, the Tigers took three in a row from Cleveland.

When it was time to check the Yankees, the Tigers took two out of three.

They handled the Indians the same way in another crucial set at Briggs Stadium. On one afternoon they captured two close games from the White Sox, who had stirred up more headaches for them than any other array.

Then Rudy York hit the home-run off the great Bob Feller that ruined a three-hit performance and gave Floyd Giessel, a recruit, the triumph that sent the 12-to-1 shots of last spring into the World Series for sure.

Cincinnati offers its 38 victories by one run as something in the way of proof that the Redlegs play 'em close to the vest, but for all the holes in its infield, Detroit, as in its deciding scrap in Cleveland, frequently has demonstrated that it

DETROIT'S MANAGER

Better Balanced Reds Should Win, But Tigers' Home Run Bats Pick Up Slack Left By Leaky Infield

By HARRY GRAYSON, NEA Service Sports Editor

Cincinnati, Oct. 2.—Cincinnati, the better balanced club, should give the National League one of its rare World Series victories, but don't be surprised if Detroit's story-book season has a happy ending for the Americans.

The Reds have more and superior pitching—Paul Derringer, Bucky Walters, Junior Thompson, Jim Turner, Whitey Moore, and Joe Boggs, the latter a superlative relief worker.

They have a stout defense . . . a slight-of-hand second basing combination in Billy Myers and Lonnie Frey. They have speed.

With Mike McCormick in center field and Jimmy Ripple in left, the Rhinelanders are stronger than they were a year ago, when a few breaks would have enabled them at least to prolong the World Series.

Starting their last eastern trip, the Reds required nine victories to clinch the National League flag. So they bagged 11 straight.

PERHAPS BEST TIGER HURLER ON SIDELINES

Floyd Giessel, Who Applied Stranger-than-Fiction Finish to Detroit's American League Season, Will Watch Series from Stands.

Floyd Giessel, who applied the stranger-than-fiction finish to Detroit's story-book American League season, is another striking illustration that too much attention should not be paid to averages.

Giessel, tall and blond and 25, won just one game, while losing nine for Toledo in 1939. He dropped 16 while capturing 15 for Buffalo before being recalled by the Tigers on September 16.

Yet Del Baker felt that he was conceding nothing to the great Bob Feller and the Indians when he started Giessel in the final series in Cleveland. Baker didn't want to lead with Lynwood Rowe, the only first-string nitcher who was ready. With only one victory needed to clinch the pennant, he decided to hold Schoolboy Rowe in reserve . . . to be sent against someone slightly less formidable than is Feller on a good afternoon.

But the Detroit manager wasn't surrendering to Feller.

Anyone attached to the Detroit club will tell you that one of the few mistakes made by the Tigers this year was not bringing in Giessel in time to make him eligible for the World Series. Indeed the Giessel watching the series from the stand may be the best pitcher on the Detroit payroll.

Giessel was developed at Salem College, a Baptist institution situated in the West Virginia town of that name, and as a member of the Weirton, West Va., Steel Co. team.

The late Billy Doyle picked up Giessel for the Tigers in 1937, after he had bagged two of three starts and the national semi-professional championship for the Weirton Steelers at Dayton, Ohio.

Giessel ran into bad Toledo and Buffalo clubs after being a 20 game winner for Evansville of the Three-Eye in 1938.

He lost a string of games by one run with Toledo, as the Mudhens kicked in three runs for every one scored and finished 23 games in arrears. He dropped 10 games by one run for the sixth-place Buffalo Bisons, who were crippled by injuries.

Del Baker and Detroit scouts knew the averages, didn't tell the whole truth about Floyd Giessel.

Cincinnati Second Baseman May Blast Detroit's Hopes

Before Series Ends, Tigers May Wish Reds' "All-American Strike-Out" Was on Their Side—Although Hitting Only .201 in Regular Season, Billy Myers Is Brilliant Fielder and Is Always Due for a Safety.

Cincinnati, Oct. 2.—(P)—Before the next four to seven games are gone, Detroit Tigers may wish that Cincinnati Reds' "All-American Strike-Out" was on their side.

The fellow who wears that affectionate tag is Billy Myers, the shortstop who ended the season with a resounding batting average of .201. He has been known to strike out five straight times over two games this year and the fans say that when he gets a hit it's time to take the pitcher out.

That is just what may happen. Bobo Newsom or Schoolboy Rowe is just likely to feed Myers the ball that means an important hit and Billy is going to get it.

Lee Allen, unofficial statistician for the Reds, points out that Billy is the first man in the history of the ball club to be a regular shortstop for six years.

That is to say Billy has been in there a long time, knows what to do with a double play ball—and is always due for a hit.

Manager Bill McKee keeps him there, when he could pick up some handy-leg who hit .450 in the Cuyahoga League for the train fare, because he knows Billy's one of the best shortstops in the game. McKee knows that Myers strikes out a lot, but he also knows that Myers can hit a homer with the bases loaded, as he has done, or whistle a double down the left field line with two out in the ninth and the tying and winning runs on base, as he also has done.

Somebody has suggested Walter O. Briggs of Detroit should be designated as the "owner of the year." He lost 90 ball players and still won the pennant.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 2.—(P)—Gunning for an open Junior World Series victory tonight, Louisville Colonels of the American Association and Newark Bears of the International League today prepared their most potent lineups for the clash.

Both limbered up with light workouts at Parkway Field, home of the Colonels where the first three games will be played.

This is Louisville's sixth such series and Newark's fourth. The Colonels have won the classic twice—in 1921 under Joe McCarthy and last year under the present manager, Bill Burwell. Newark won in 1932, defeating Minneapolis, and in 1937 against Columbus.

Floyd Giessel has the required speed, a sharp curve, a fade-away, and control.

"But the biggest thing in his favor," says Catcher Billy Sullivan, "is that he isn't afraid to throw the right ball even when he's behind the batter."

Del Baker and Detroit scouts knew the averages, didn't tell the whole truth about Floyd Giessel.

Sport Flashes

It looks as though it's going to be a long, hard series, ladies and gentlemen, with the Reds winning in six or seven games.

Those who pick the Tigers do so because of their power and the long Cincinnati casualty list. The Tigers have the power, all right, but we have an idea those injuries are of the "football injury" variety. You know, a star halfback runs a fever Friday night, then goes out there Saturday and runs his head off. Anyway, we're not figuring on having to get up and fix our own breakfast until the middle of next week.

Rumor foundry: This is only guaranteed for 30 minutes, but it's red hot here. That Phil Wrigley wants Larry MacPhail to become generalissimo of the Cubs next season. (Just listen to that Platubsh roar!) Another says Billy Evans, boss of the Red Sox farm system, is shopping for a minor league club of his own, preferably Toledo or Milwaukee.

Another rumor: Kirby Hight of the Phils has been sold to the Cubs and Hugh Mulcahy will be the next to go.

Detroit stars fill the hotel lobby but the one Cincinnati fan besieging for autographs is our old South Carolina neighbor, Buck Newsom.

Today's guest star: Tommy Tucker, Cleveland News: "Anyway, the Indians did prove their contention they couldn't win for Vitt as manager."
