Power Fails In NYC

NEW YORK (AP) — Lights flickering off in hospital operating rooms... Elevator service knocked out in huge apartment buildings... Packed subways, with a sweating human cargo, tramped in underground tunnels.

That was the picture as a sudden power failure struck the heart of New York City.

The power failure hit thousands of buildings in a 500-block section of upper Manhattan, leaving half a million people without elevators, air conditioning, traffic lights, or any of the complex systems that keep a great city functioning smoothly.

The power failure began in mid-afternoon Monday and gradual restoration continued into the early-morning hours.

Power was completely restored to the area at 3:42 a.m. today, almost 13 hours after it went off.

HOT AND HUMID
The mercury was near 90 when power failed, and the humidity was suffocating. Suddenly, every intersection became a traffic jam.

Then the recovery began. In hospitals, emergency lights came on. Extra police poured into the area and straightened out the traffic.

Subways, which have independent power and were stopped when signal lights went out, began to crawl, as workers with red lanterns signalled that the way was clear ahead.

Apartment dwellers began to find out how it feels to climb stairs.

And then darkness came, and New Yorkers in the stricken area saw the eerie spectacle of a city without lights.

FLASHLIGHT DELIVERY
In hospitals, they faced the problem of getting expectant mothers to delivery rooms without elevators. At least one child was delivered in the wavering beam of a flashlight.

But New York night life went on. Bartenders bought candles by the dozen and complained because, without refrigeration, the beer was warm.

Meanwhile, 10,000 employees of the Consolidated Edison Company labored to repair the damage to power lines, apparently caused by a record demand made in the heat by refrigerating and other cooling devices.

The blacked-out section stretched across the island of Manhattan, from the Hudson River to the East River. On the west side it ran the length of Central Park, from 59th to 110th Streets, and on the east side from 74th to 110th.

May Blame Fog For Train Crash
GULL LAKE, Sask. (CP)—Fog may have been partly to blame Sunday when two Canadian Pacific Railway trains collided here, injuring 60 persons.

CPR officials at Medicine Hat, Alta., in charge of investigating the wreck, said Monday fog and cloud "may have been a factor in the cause of the collision."

The CPR station agent at Gull Lake, 190 miles west of Regina and 105 miles east of Medicine Hat, said the fog bank was just descending when the crash occurred, at 6:35 a.m.

"Visibility would have been maybe 250 yards," the agent said.

He said the fog lifted quickly after the mishap.

Officials were still trying to determine why CPR train No. 6, carrying freight, baggage, and one passenger coach, plowed into the rear of No. 8, the Dominion, a crack passenger train, which was standing in the station here.

Controls on the Gull Lake section are automatic, officials said.

BOTH EASTBOUND
Both trains were eastbound, No. 6 travelling from Vancouver to the Lakehead and No. 8 from Vancouver to Montreal. The Dominion was 30 minutes late and No. 6 was 10 minutes late when the collision occurred.

The last three cars of the Dominion and both diesel engines of No. 6 were demolished.

CAVORTING COLLEEN — With arms and legs flying, Linda Campbell, 12, of Toronto, seems to soar into the air as she defends her Irish jiggling championship at the Fergus, Ont., highland games.

Competitors included the cream of highland bands, dancers and pipers from Canada and the United States.

New Vision Of Wealth Seen In Yukon Strike

OTTAWA (CP) — The Yukon, once the scene of the world's last big gold rush, has given birth to a new vision of wealth.

An oil and gas strike, described by government sources as one of the biggest in Western Canada, was announced Monday night by Resources Minister Alvin Hamilton.

Drilling in the 3,000,000-acre Eagle Plain oil reservation, 150 miles northeast of Dawson where the sourdoughs and prospectors of the gold rush of 1898 toiled for gold, yielded gas flows of up to 10,000,000 cubic feet a day and light gravity oil.

The well, Western Minerals' Chance No. 1, gave oil and gas showings between 4,250 and 4,370 feet in a 140-foot sand strata atop oil-bearing limestone going down another 400 feet.

INSIDE ARCTIC CIRCLE
The well is just inside the Arctic Circle in the southeastern corner of the reservation on which Western Minerals has a 10-year lease that expires in 1961.

Under supervision of the federal public works department a 290-mile road is being built from Flat Creek, 15 miles east of Dawson City, to the reservation's southern limits. About 50 miles is expected to be built this summer.

"This is the first discovery of oil in the Yukon Territory and the first in the far north since Norman Wells was discovered in the Northwest Territories in 1930," Mr. Hamilton said.

Western Minerals was a pioneer of oil exploration in the Yukon. Transporting exploration equipment by tractor train over the frozen country from Dawson City last year, the company sank a dry hole in the Peel Plateau area, farther to the south of the new strike.

SERIES OF EARTHQUAKES PUNISH U S NORTHWEST

Polio Claims 20 In 5 Weeks

MONTREAL (CP) — A polio outbreak described by health authorities as a "mild epidemic" has claimed 20 lives in five weeks.

Two deaths were reported Monday.

The city health department reported half of the 20 fatalities were children less than 15 years old.

The department also said 273 cases have been treated in Montreal hospitals. The figure comprised 181 cases in Montreal and area and 92 from outside.

The outbreak became a "mild epidemic" Monday when nine cases were reported in the city proper. This brought the city's toll to 104.

EPIDEMIC PROPORTIONS
Health officials use the term "epidemic" when there are 10 cases for each 10,000 population. The city's population is about 1,200,000.

Health officials have suggested that polluted waters surrounding Montreal Island may be a factor in the outbreak. But no definite link has been established.

Dr. Adelard Groulx, city health director, said most cases in greater Montreal occurred in waterside areas. The east end and the waterfront suburbs of Verdun and Ville Lasalle were hardest hit.

In Quebec City Monday it was learned the provincial health department is gathering reports on the polio situation in the province. A statement was expected in a day or so.

No polio cases have been reported in Quebec City. But the Civic Hospital there has admitted 10 cases from outlying areas. And there was one death.

Peacetime Power From H-Bomb Soon?
WASHINGTON (AP)—A possible significant advance in the quest to harness the H-bomb reaction for peacetime power was reported Monday night by the naval research laboratory.

Harnessing the hydrogen fusion reaction involves the following:

1. Heating "heavy" hydrogen gas to a sufficiently high temperature so that the hydrogen atoms will fuse together with a release of energy.

2. Containing or holding the heated gas in a chamber for a long enough time to allow the fusion reaction to take place.

Dr. W. R. Faust, describing experiments by Dr. Alan Kolb, said:

1. Kolb has succeeded in "containing" the gas for a longer period than previously reported for the type of high-density gas employed.

2. Strong evidence was produced in the Kolb experiments that radioactive neutrons observed were of the true "thermonuclear" type—indicating that a true, sustained fusion reaction may have taken place.

Dr. Faust said there was evidence that reactions had taken place at a temperature of 28,000,000 degrees.

Russian Sub Development Could Bombard From Hudson Bay
LONDON (AP) — Moscow broadcast today a warning that missile-bearing Red submarines could enter Hudson Bay from under the Arctic ice and bombard the industrial heart of North America.

The warning was printed in the naval newspaper Soviet Fleet and was part of an unusually heavy propaganda broadside released by Tass via its radio transmitters.

This came 24 hours after a Washington press conference by Admiral Arleigh A. Burke, chief of U.S. naval operations, raised the possibility the Soviet Union already has ballistic-missile-firing submarines. The United States still is working on its first ones.

CONFIRMS STORY
Asked whether he believed the Russians have submarines able to launch ballistic as well as older missiles, Burke said:

"I think they probably have both."

However, the Soviet craft presumably still are conventionally powered. The United States has been putting atomic submarines into its fleet for about three years. The submarine Nautilus made history last summer by crossing the top of the world under the Arctic ice.

Soviet Fleet said "those people with a taste for aggression should remember the Arctic Ocean is not a U.S. inland lake."

It said some U.S. military leaders concede the threat of modern Soviet submarines able to travel under the Arctic ice. The newspaper described these as "forced admissions" that the U.S.S.R. could retaliate against attacks by U.S. submarines armed with polaris rockets.

ASK CHINA SEAT
Tass at the same time quoted two other anti-American articles from the government newspaper Izvestia and the defence ministry organ, Red Star.

Izvestia denounced the United States for continuing to oppose the seating of Communist China in the United Nations.

Three Believed Hurt As Tremors Still Pose Threat To Huge Dam

HELENA, Mont. (AP) — A series of earthquakes punished a vast area of the Pacific northwest Monday night and early today with shock waves that threatened the collapse of a huge dam in southern Montana.

Officers warned hundreds of residents downstream from old Hebgen dam to prepare for immediate evacuation.

At Butte, Mont., the president of the Montana Power Company, J. E. Corlette, said today his company has learned "there is a hole across part of the top" of the dam, which his company owns.

He said emergency equipment is being sent to the scene in hope repairs can be made. He had no other details.

The first in the series of tremors sent two feet of water cascading over the concrete dam, 20 miles northwest of West Yellowstone, Mont.

600 THREATENED
The dam, built in 1915, backs up 250,000 acre-feet of water that would boil down the Madison river.

Hugh K. Potter, Montana state civil defence director, also said unofficial reports indicated the dam was leaking.

LATE BULLETIN
VIRGINIA CITY, Mont. (AP) — At least six persons have been killed in the quake which rocked Montana Monday night, the Madison county sheriff's office reported today.

The report came from a helicopter flying in the Cliff Lake area between Ennis, Mont., which has been evacuated, and Hebgen.

Dishes Rattle In Regina
VANCOUVER (CP)—An earthquake tremor shook the West Kootenays and the southern interior of British Columbia late Monday night, rattling dishes and rocking buildings as far east as Regina.

Slight damage was reported. The tremor was reported unofficially to have rolled through the southern interior of B.C. at 11:45 p.m. PDT (2:45 a.m. EDT). Swaying buildings were reported in Lethbridge, Alta., Calgary and Regina.

Some guests at the resorts in Waterton Lakes National Park, 60 miles southwest of Lethbridge, were reported jostled out of their beds. Lethbridge is 300 miles south of Edmonton.

Duration of the tremor was generally reported as lasting from 30 seconds to two minutes. Residents of Nelson, 360 miles east of Vancouver in the West Kootenays, said dishes rattled and buildings shuddered.

A radio station at Trail, south of Nelson, was swamped with telephone calls from anxious citizens.

A seismograph reading at Pullman, Wash., showed the tremor was "moderate to strong."

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Democrats resolved their political differences Monday and announced that the 1960 national convention to nominate a candidate for president will be held here as scheduled.

AMHERST (CP)—A Saturday morning accident near here claimed its second victim on Monday. Ivan Victor Davidson, 55, of Somerville, Mass., died Monday in Highland View Hospital here. Mr. Davidson was injured when a car in which he was driving spun out of control and struck a culvert. A 21-month-old grandson—also named Ivan—died in Halifax's Victoria General Hospital on Sunday. The child's father, mother and baby sister were released Sunday from the Amherst hospital.

Two Die, School Burns In Durban
DURBAN, South Africa (Reuters)—An African school was set afire near Durban Monday night in continuing native unrest in Natal province, where two Africans were killed by police bullets during the weekend.

Police saved part of the school after fighting the blaze for an hour. They found no trace of the culprits.

The rest of the province was reported quiet today.

Jails were jammed with hundreds of African women demonstrators, picked up during the last five days. Police were out in force with armored cars at Pietermaritzburg Monday to cope with about 1,000 women demonstrating against laws restricting African employment in cities.

Another police group went to the south coast community of Ilifa, where 126 women were arrested during the weekend.

The wave of disturbances results from resentment over increased taxes and restrictive employment laws, African sources here said.

grimage to Dr. Albert Schweitzer in Africa.

TV's Wyatt Earp refuses to abide by the tradition that actors aren't supposed to think. He long has been a student of the life and thought of Schweitzer, the philosopher, musician and medical missionary.

O'Brien was profoundly moved by Schweitzer's stand against further pollution of the world's atmosphere by nuclear tests, as printed in the Saturday Review. He corresponded with editor Norman Cousins and asked whether he could presume to visit Schweitzer in Africa to learn more of the great man's views. It was arranged.

"On Sunday I finished a Shrine circus in Winnipeg," O'Brien recalled. "On Tuesday morning, I was in Africa talking to Dr. Schweitzer."

SCHWEITZER HELPS

Schweitzer was on the landing at Lambaré, a thin, erect figure in white. He greeted O'Brien warmly and insisted on carrying his bag up the hill to the lodgings — "Imagine, this saint carrying my bag!"

Hugh said he fell into the

THE ORWYNS — When youth and talent are combined, as in the case of the TWO ORWYNS, the results are usually most attractive, and such is really the case, for these two young people have developed the art of risley, that of juggling a human being on the feet, which is one of the most neglected or acrobatic skills, as it takes hours of daily practice to make one proficient.

They offer a unique combination of adagio, ballet technique, feet acrobatic and difficult risley, all blended into one of the most artistic novelty offerings seen on the variety stage in a long time. Their timing and grace puts to shame many of the European offerings which are considered tops in that field despite the fact that they are young Americans both from old theatrical families.

THE ORWYNS are booked to appear at the Sherbrooke Fair and will surely meet the approval of their patrons, have been seen in the best Fairs and club engagements from coast to coast the past season, as well as appearing at outstanding indoor circuses, and on numerous sport shows.

settlement routine, helping where he could.

The best part of his stay was the evenings, he said. The hospital staff gathered for dinner, after which Schweitzer played Bach on an ancient, lead lined piano and all sang a hymn in German. Then he read a chapter of the Bible and discussed it. The session ended, (but O'Brien spent three of the nights in discussions with Schweitzer.

He came away with a new feeling of urgency about the need to avoid nuclear testing and warfare.

"I don't want to quote Dr. Schweitzer because he worries about being misquoted," the actor said. "But the gist of his message was that the people of the world have to renew their individualism. They must find out more about nuclear matters and make their feelings heard."

NOT WHATCHAMACALLIT, BUT DUBBIDOBBER—Aircraft worker Sarge Signer displays a dubbidobber, part of the seat-ejection mechanism of North American's experimental X-15 rocket plane. While working on the craft in Los Angeles, Signer found that the 10-cent part didn't have a name. People called it "whatchamacallit." Signer didn't like that and began calling it a "dubbidobber." Why? "It just looked like a dubbidobber," said Signer. Now the part is officially called that.

City Planning Financial Aid For New Plant

A notice of motion, presented by Ald. Paul Gervais, chairman of the Industrial Relations committee, that a by-law will be introduced next week providing financial assistance to the amount of $115,000 for the new plant of the Sherbrooke Wood Products Co. Ltd.

The company, which produces hockey sticks, is erecting a new factory in the East Sherbrooke industrial zone.

Details of the assistance will not be known until the by-law is officially presented to the Council, probably next Monday night.

Ald. Gervais also gave notice of motion that a by-law will be presented next week providing for certain changes in the zoning by-law.

This would be the 42nd set of amendments to the by-law since its adoption a few years ago.

Among other decisions taken at a rather dull session were:

The J. W. Roy Construction Company will repair the ceiling of the public hall at City Hall, it was announced last night at the weekly council meeting.

The work will be given out on a cost-plus basis, said Charles Langlois, director of services.

This is the reason why no tenders had been called.

The decision to rebuild the ceiling was reached after large pieces of plaster started falling from the ceiling two weeks ago.

The Canadian National Institute for the Blind will hold their annual campaign during the two last weeks in September.

Council members approved the annual grant to the association.

A request by the Foyer St. Joseph that its electricity bill be reduced was refused by the city fathers.

The foyer, situated on Queen Blvd., asked for a $100 reduction monthly on its electricity bill.

A study will be made by council members on request presented to the city fathers last night for permission to erect a hardware store on St. Marc street.

Senator C. B. Howard has agreed to turn over all his rights on Bethune street to the city it was reported last night.

Following a report from the city's building inspector, city fathers decided not to paint the Health Unit until 1960.

Last week, council members showed their interest in having the building painted this year.

Construction of sidewalks on Wood street for the protection of school children will be delayed for another year.

The city will pay a total of $220.03 for insurance protection at the Webster parking lot.

The protection will include public liability and protection for employees working at the lot.

Accidental Death Verdict Given In Drowning Case

A verdict of accidental death was returned by a five-man jury yesterday in the drowning of three-year-old Monique Brousseau, at Stoke Lake Saturday night.

Father of the victim, Robert Brousseau, of 380 Bowen St., testified that at the time of the drowning, he was about 200 feet from the lake burning trash and did not see the accident occur.

Andre Beaulieu, 12, testified that although he did not see the child fall in, he noticed her in the water and sounded the alert.

According to the witness, the child would have been submerged for about 10 minutes.

The jury was made up of Albert Laporte, chairman, Archibald Jacques, Emile Pelletier, Paul Gagnon and Louis Trudel.

The inquest was presided over by Dr. Louis Gagnon, St. Francis District coroner.

"Winslow Boy" Next Presentation At N.H. Playhouse

Starting tomorrow night at the North Hatley Playhouse will be that classic of the English theatre, "The Winslow Boy."

Written by Terence Rattigan who gave to the theatre such memorable productions as "The Browning Version" and a "Separate Tables", this play's greatness stems from the fact that it discusses a problem of universal significance: to what extent can any given federal institution in a democracy have power over the individual under its jurisdiction?

The particular case which Rattigan employs to illustrate this problem is that of Ronnie Winslow, a young English boy who is expelled from a British naval academy for an alleged theft. Having thus ruined the boy's reputation, the admiralty adds further insult by refusing to hear the father's plea that the lad be given a proper hearing. From this point on the drama hinges upon the efforts of Sir Robert Morton, a famous British lawyer, to have proper redress taken by the Crown.

When first produced in New York, following a highly successful London run, this play won the Critic's award. Unforgettable as well as a powerful motion picture starring the late Robert Donat, "The Winslow Boy" is truly one of the finest dramas of modern theatre.

Produced earlier this season at the Lachine Civic Theatre, Montreal, the drama will feature many of the original cast. Playing in the title role of Ronnie Winslow will be Michael Tremblay, a young lad who has already had many stage and radio appearances to his credit.

In the role of Sir Robert Morton will be Eric Heald, well known Canadian stage and television artist. The Winslow boy's parents will be portrayed by Alfred Gallagher and Kay Tremblay, two players who need no introduction to either Montreal or North Hatley audiences.

Winifred Dennis, winner of Liberty's Best Character Actress Award for the 1957-58 season, will once again assume the role of Violet. Other prominent members of the cast include Beryl Baxter, Don McGill, Nan Stewart, Eric Kosky and John Codner.

The production will be under the direction of Marion Dennis.

Filter Plant For Swimming Pool Approved

A filtration system, identical to the one installed in the St. Hyacinthe city pool will be installed in the Assumption parish pool, it was decided at the weekly council meeting last night.

The system, to cost $19,850, will be installed shortly. Parks and Playgrounds Committee Chairman, Antonio Pinard, who opposed such an expensive filtration system since the beginning showed his astonishment at the high cost.

"How much is this pool going to cost us?" asked Ald. Pinard. "It could cost us up to $25,000," said Mayor Armand Nadeau, "but we will have a little jewel."

Several council members visited the pool last May and the delegation expressed their astonishment at the clearness of the water.

Award Contract For School Extension

Construction of a 10-class addition and the construction of a gymnasium at the Mitchell School, opposite Portland Square, will get underway as soon as possible, said John MacLeod, secretary-treasurer of the Sherbrooke Protestant School Board, in announcing the award of the contract.

Although eight construction companies tendered for the addition, the cost was not released. The building should be completed for the 1960-61 school year.

The ten new classes are to be built on the Queen street side of the present building, thus making the school L-shaped.

A new and modern gymnasium is to be erected where the auditorium is at present.

The original building housing the auditorium was built in 1898.

At present, the Mitchell school goes up to the sixth grade, but once the construction is completed, seventh grade education will be given.

"The seventh grade will be back where it should be," said Mr. MacLeod.

At present, the seventh grade is at the Sherbrooke High School.

Record Bail

$25,000 Asked In Theft Case

Three Montreal men, remanded until Friday for trial on charges of breaking and entering and of having burglar tools in their possession at the time of their arrest, were rather stunned when their request for bail was granted by Judge Edouard Boisvert yesterday.

The judge readily granted their request but he set the amount at $25,000 cash — each — something of a record in local court circles.

Michael Lyster, Richard Stevens and William Gilbert pleaded not guilty to charges of breaking and entering the home of Dr. Emile Bruneau early Monday morning and to being in possession of burglar tools.

Judge Boisvert then set the date of their preliminary hearing for Friday.

Gilbert, whose record of 16 years in prison since 1936 apparently made him the spokesman for the group, asked the judge if they could be released on bail.

"Yes," said the judge, "$25,000 cash each."

Gilbert immediately took objection to the judge's attitude and declared: "This is fantastic. This cannot be called justice."

"You have a terribly long criminal record," replied Judge Boisvert.

"Yes, but I have been in jail and paid for my crimes," answered the surprised Gilbert.

"I said $25,000 bail, each, and no arguing," concluded the judge as the trio marched off to jail.

G. T. Millmore, Southern Canada Power Manager at Waterville stated this morning that power lines which were out of commission in his district of North Hatley, Waterville and Coaticook regions were completely restored around 11:30 last evening.

North Hatley was hardest hit. Two large branches from elms suffering from "Dutch Elm Disease" fell across power lines near the golf course, interrupting power service for varying periods of one to two hours.

Services into many homes were cut by smaller branches falling on the service wire. Lightning burned out numerous fuses and transformers. Power which failed around 2:30 was fully restored to all residents by 7:30.

In Waterville lightning broke through several service wires disrupting power into homes in the community. In Coaticook this same trouble prevailed with main lines also being damaged by large branches.

Lennoxville and Sherbrooke were not affected by the storm.

A three-months jail term was imposed on Lucien Herman of no fixed address in Sherbrooke, after he pleaded guilty to a charge of theft before Judge Edouard Boisvert yesterday in Magistrate's court.

Herman had stolen a watch, lighter and a brief case valued at $35 from Andre Capistran of Sherbrooke August 11.

Although Herman had a previous record, Judge Boisvert showed his clemency after it was found out that the youth had been released from the Laval Rehabilitation Pavilion after serving a two-year sentence.

"Do you live in Sherbrooke?" questioned the judge.

"I was born here" was the reply.

"Where are your parents?" asked Judge Boisvert.

"I don't know. I haven't seen them for years," was the solemn reply.

"I will give you a break. This is your last chance," concluded the judge.

MIAMI (AP) — Two men and their not-so-faithful dog are in the lockup, charged with robbing telephone coin boxes.

Detective Mike O'Brien said the German shepherd stood watch for Lynn Waldon Swink, 21, and Robert Richard Banks, 22.

But the dog didn't let out a woof when a deputy crept up and caught the men rifling a phone booth, O'Brien said.

Parking Lot Nets Good Sum

The newly-built Webster parking lot, brought the city a total of $458.20 in its first week of operation it was learned at the weekly council meeting last night.

According to a report by the city treasurer, Pierre Bachand, each parking spot produced an average of $1.40 for the first week of operations.

These figures seem to compare favorably with the Grenouilliere and C.N.R. parking lots.

Original cost of the parking lot was $410,000.

Council members seemed to be pleased with the revenues of the first week.

There are over 350 parking spaces at the three storey lot.

Medical Issue Still Unsettled In Richmond

Medical attention for residents of the Town of Richmond on the weekend is still an unsettled issue today. Sources in Richmond said this morning that two of the three doctors would comply with a demand by citizens that one of the profession remain in the Town over the weekend.

The third doctor would not comment on the situation. Town Secretary G. M. Alexander was instructed by the Town Council at their last meeting to send a letter to all three medical men asking them to make some arrangement between them which would insure care for citizens on Saturday and Sunday.

A meeting is to be held later this week to discuss the issue.

The public stepped up their demands this week after a weekend accident in the town. A youth was struck by a passing motorist resulting in the need of medical care for the victim.

There were no doctors in Richmond at the time of the accident and the driver of the car was obliged to take the youngster to a hospital in Windsor Mills.

Armand C. Crepeau

Armand C. Crepeau, whose death occurred yesterday, was a man who has played an important role in many fields of activity — in politics, in his chosen profession of engineering and in the sphere of education.

Coming from a family that has been among the leaders in the Conservative cause in this province for generations, it was only natural that he should be active in the sphere of politics. Largely due to his great personal popularity, he was elected as member of the Legislative Assembly for Sherbrooke County on two occasions. He also held a key role in the organization of the Sherbrooke convention which resulted in the nomination of Maurice L. Duplessis as provincial party leader.

An engineer and land surveyor, he was active in advancing the interests of these two groups. He was one of the organizers of the Sherbrooke branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada and also served a term as president of the Quebec Land Surveyors. Upon his retirement from active politics, he undertook a series of trips through north-eastern Quebec and did much of the preliminary work of outlining the tremendous mineral deposits of Ungava about which little was known until that time.

He was one of a small but determined group who laid the foundations for the University of Sherbrooke and was largely responsible for the establishment of the Faculty of Science and the School of Engineering. His efforts in this respect were duly honored by the newly-founded institution when it named him first dean of the Engineering Faculty, a post which he held at the time of his death.

Where The Line Is Drawn

The steelworkers' union has acted wisely and fairly in allowing supervisory employees free movement in and out of U.S. Steel's Gary works. Proper maintenance of plant equipment demands their steady attention.

In marked contrast, union pickets in Pennsylvania seem to have set themselves up as a barrier to block all movement in and out of a plant. They will not even permit milk deliveries to supervisors camped in the mills.

This is a fresh reminder of the fact that the business of picketing is often badly warped and diverted from its fundamental, legitimate purpose.

The picket line serves notice to union workers, non-union workers, and others that a given factory or industry is on strike. Legitimately, it can seek to exert strong influence to keep any and all workers out of a plant and thus to reinforce support for a strike.

But when picketing goes to the lengths of forcibly barring the way to anyone who wishes to enter a plant, it exceeds reasonable bounds.

To say that such action is proper would be to give the picket line the authority of the police or the army.

Nothing in the law constitutes a picket line as either a private army or a private police force.

The use of force is the monopoly of the law. Union workers seeking to enforce a strike, and through it their jobs demands, cannot reasonably justify seizing this weapon of the law to achieve their ends.

A picketer is an individual who walks in front of a factory gate bearing signs announcing the existence of a strike and urging general support for his aims.

When he wields his fists overturns cars, bars the way to vehicles, or brandishes any weapon of violence, he is no longer a picketer but a breaker and usurper of the law. However fair his work demands may be, they do not sanctify violence.

Organized labor regards picketing as an important device of persuasion. Its leaders should understand thoroughly that the abuses of this device may ultimately bring strong legal restrictions on picketing if the unions themselves do not exercise restraint and keep picketers within sensible bounds.

Music To Sleep By

An Oxford University research psychologist claims that people are put to sleep by jazz music — if it's good stuff, that is.

He asked a group of young men to beat time to the strong music of an undergraduate band and a professional one.

The first played so badly that the volunteers got stirred up and angry, but the good band sent them all to sleep in a few minutes.

To the layman, the volunteers might have appeared to be awake, because they went on beating time in a trance-like manner, but heartbeat tests and electrical brain tests showed every symptom of genuine sleep.

Some people have maintained all along that the music to which young people these days perform gyrations is bad.

They are sure to look for support for their point of view in these findings. If the music was good, they will reason, it would put teenagers to sleep instead of stirring them up.

New Khyber Pass Sentinels

Jets Guard Traditional Gateway

PESHAWAR, Pakistan (CP)—Jet fighters of the Pakistani Air Force are the new sentinels of the Khyber Pass, a traditional gateway for invading armies to the Indian sub-continent.

A member of both the Middle East and Southeast Asia security pacts, Pakistan today is the West's strongest link in Asian defence between the Mediterranean and the Far East. In this role, the storied Khyber and the north-west frontier have a special strategic importance.

New airfields and a key American-staffed communications centre are being established and U.S. arms and equipment have been supplied. Army cantonments, once the pulse of British military power on the frontier, now are Pakistan army bases.

Recently, newspapers reported that Pakistan Air Force headquarters may be moved from Karachi to Wazirabad near the foot of the Khyber. Here Canada is aiding construction of Pakistan's largest hydro-electric scheme, due to go into operation next year.

A self-contained colony, complete with staff houses, administrative blocks, hospital and recreation centre, has been built for Canadian and Pakistani workers on the Wazirabad project. It would provide a ready-made new home for air force headquarters.

With aerial warfare, the Khyber Pass itself is less important as a military bastion. Indicative of this is the Pakistan government's decision to remove restrictions on photography in the pass.

Today, more tourists than soldiers can be seen on the Khyber, whose now largely unmanicured forts command every bend on the 20-mile mountain road and railway. Permits are needed to enter tribal villages off the main road.

Pathan Tribesmen, who provide Pakistan with some of its best soldiers, still manufacture their own guns in village workshops. They wear their weapons like a woman adorns herself with jewelry.

and stroll fully-armed through Peshawar bazaars.

In welding its armed forces into one of the most efficient fighting units in Southeast Asia, Pakistan spends more than half its domestic revenue budget on defence and receives a large slice of American military aid. A threatened reduction in U.S. assistance produced strong Pakistani protests.

Acceptance of American aid by Pakistan, however, is regarded with suspicion by her Commonwealth neighbor, India, which adopts a neutralist policy and accepts no foreign military aid. Many Indians say they fear Pakistan will use its American arms against India in a bid to gain complete control over disputed, divided Kashmir.

In turn, Pakistanis discount pledges that India's much larger army will never attack Pakistan first. President Mohammed Ayub Khan, describing India's intentions as aggressive, said the Indian Army "could launch a major offensive against us at 10 days' notice."

Ayub Khan, who consistently has opposed any advance of Soviet influence in Pakistan, argues that Pakistan's defence of her 1,400-mile northwest frontier in reality is a defence of India too. His invitation to India to share in a common defence of the sub-continent has not been taken up.

Meanwhile, bitterness is increased by non-settlement of the Kashmir issue and repeated border incidents. Although many are purely local in origin, the incidents often tend to be blown up out of proportion by both sides for propaganda purposes.

Jacoby On Bridge

SOUTH HAS FOUR CHOICES

North's two heart bids was the Jacoby transfer and South dutifully rebid to two spades.

North's second bid of two no-trump gave South four choices. He could pass with a minimum or near minimum no-trump and poor spades, he could bid three spades, he could bid four spades or three no-trump with a good no-trump.

With 16 points South was one point above the Jacoby 15 point minimum and in addition he held two ten spots. He also held three spades with two honors but decided that the best play for game would be in no-trump.

It was the correct decision. He might have slipped a little but with good defense he would have to lose four tricks and go down one.

On the other hand, there was no defense at all against three no-trump. He simply won the opening heart in his own hand and went after the spade suit. This gave him nine of the easiest tricks possible.

Gerald Waring REPORTING

OTTAWA — Gentle reader, can you spare a tear.

For the modern ilk of Paul Revere?

The Horse Guards of Connecticut. Must sell their mounts, their budget cut.

The solons said, Why keep the show? Save costs we will — the horses go!

Acknowledging your by now sordid shirtfronts, I would ask you to squeeze out another tear for the officers and men of 1 Bn Canadian Guards, who shed buckets (sweat, not tears) in their full-dress bushies and red serge during Ottawa's hottest weather this summer.

They too have been "dis-mounted" from their daily parade in front of the Parliament Buildings — dismounted in the military rather than the equine sense. They were horseless from the start.

What were they doing in front of the Houses of Parliament? Well, believe it or not, they were changing the guard at Rideau Hall, two miles away. Why were they guarding Rideau Hall? Well, you see, they weren't — not really. The Mounties — also horseless — guard the governor general's house and gardens, keeping out picnickers, parkers, petunia poachers and the like.

1 Bn, now back at Camp Petawawa joyfully preparing to sail for Germany and a hitch with NATO, was jod for the fur hat job when somebody in Ottawa thought it would be a nice touch to mount a ceremonial guard at Rideau Hall, a la Buckingham Palace, when the Queen was in residence there over July 1.

A ceremonial guard, Rideau Hall style, has two ORs all split-and-polished tramping back and forth in front of the main gate. Sixteen men to a guard working an eight hour shift means each man shoulders that old musket and hotfoots it back and forth for just one hour a day.

Like the guard at the palace in London they march from A to B to A to B without stopping, swerving or changing pace, and of course oblivious to the comings and goings through the gate they are supposedly guarding. If it weren't for the Mounties, anyone could walk in, poke the governor on the nose and walk out again without ruffling a single hair in a bushy or altering the tempo of the clunk-clunk-clunk of army boots hitting the hot mix.

Maybe this didn't impress the Queen much — old hat, you know — but it sure impressed the Ottawa city government's official tourist promoters. Having peddled Ottawa-in-the-shrine as Tulipville, they were ripe for any idea to bring tourists — preferably with well-lined pockets — to Ottawa during the 50 weeks of the year when it's off season for tulips.

The government gladly cooperated. Daily, 1 Bn paraded in two-guard strength on the sere brown grass of Parliament Hill. Daily, the ancient mummery of the changing of the guard was enacted. The redcoats marched up the hill and they marched down again — to catch a bus for the two mile ride to Rideau Hall.

The tourists came in droves to see the colorful display. They loved it. However, it hasn't yet been proven that the salt sweat shed on Parliament's lawns brought anyone to Ottawa who wasn't coming anyway, or made the Sparks St. merchants' tills ring more merrily.

That may sadden the civic hucksters and shopkeepers, but not me. I like to think that those who come here do so because this is the heart of the nation. But at the same time I hope they liked the show. I did.

LULLED INTO DANGER

(St. Catharines Standard)
Today's car is so easy to handle that we are becoming a nation of "sub-conscious drivers." With automatic transmissions, steering that is virtually effortless and engines that purr quietly and require no attention, driving on a highway takes increasingly less mental effort and virtually no physical force.

This has a tendency to lull the driver into a semi-conscious state—a state that is extremely hazardous.

No responsible driver can afford to let his mind veer away from the business at hand, even on open stretches. The best place for "wool-gathering" is in an easy chair at home—not behind the wheel.

matter of FACT

The rank of lieutenant general of the army was created by Congress in 1855 as a special honor for Winfield Scott, commander of the army during the Mexican War and Whig candidate for president in 1852. When the War of 1812 broke out, Scott, then a lieutenant colonel, went to the Canadian frontier where he was captured by the British. A few months later he was returned to the U.S. in exchange of prisoners.

TELEPHONE CALL CHARGES
(Milwaukee Journal)

The recently publicized practice among some doctors of making a charge for telephone calls has aroused some shallow criticism.

Such a charge should discourage a great many nuisance calls with which most physicians in private practice are bothered, including repeated calls from patients who really don't need medical advice, but feel better after they have had a talk—sometimes prolonged—with their doctor.

If the patient who travels to the doctor's office and waits there must pay for medical advice, why not the patient who gets advice by phone, with minimum inconvenience to himself?

Historic Events Are Recalled In Rogers' Pageant

By IVY HATCH
DERBY — The Rogers Rangers pageant, held in commemoration of the 200th anniversary of the dramatic expedition of Rogers, Rogers, and in observance of the 350th anniversary Festival of the discovery of Lake Champlain and "Verd Mont" by Samuel de Champlain, took place three nights, Friday, Saturday and Sunday by the shore of Derby Pond.

This site has its own historic significance, being the scene of many a skirmish with the Indians and other enemies of the local settlers. Block houses and a stockade have long since disappeared but the present embankment along the shore was built by the early white settlers.

The outdoor setting with white birches along the shoreline, made the perfect backdrop for the colourful red and white costumes of General Amherst and Lt. Hamilton, the Indians in their war dress feathers and paint, and the Rogers Rangers in their forest green suits.

The cast presented an excellent performance in two acts. Cedric Pierce Jr., portrayed the part of Major Robert Rogers to perfection, taking his orders from General Amherst to set out from Crown Point on September 13, 1759 to travel north to the St. Francis River along the St. Lawrence River to seize an Indian Village.

Ranger Captains each acted with realism as did the hundreds of Ranger men on the trail, during the fights with the Indians the weary ending of the trip, and trials of hunger and hardship.

The Indians war dance was as it must have been 200 years ago, danced by the braves, around the camp fire to the music of the tom-toms, slow at first then bursting into wild enthusiasm. Dean Palin, as Captain Jacobs, a Stockbridge Indian travelling with the Rangers, Phil Knowlton, as a Powder Indian, and John Irons as a young Indian lad, all did a fine job with the Indian language and signs.

Friday night was Champlain Festival night, and Roy Kennedy, portraying Samuel de Champlain as one of the guests, as were Jake Stewart and Wayne Fogg, two U.V.M. students who with their birch canoe were part of the Champlain escorts from St. John to Lake Champlain.

Mr. Kennedy spoke a few words of welcome in the French language, then in English gave a brief history of the happenings of 1609 taken from the diary of Champlain.

Between the first and second act, Don Thurston, as narrator for the pageant paid tribute to co-chairmen Cedric Pierce, Sr., and Mrs. Carroll Aldrich, and to the many men and women from New England and the Eastern Townships who have worked to make this a successful "year of happenings."

Saturday night was "International night." Lloyd Bliss as M.C., introduced three special guests, all historians, Monsignor O'Ready, of the University of Sherbrooke, E. J. Struthers, president of St. Leonard Historical Society and Leonard Auger, of Magog. Monsignor spoke in French and Mr. Struthers in English on historic events pertaining to this pageant.

Mr. Auger brought greetings from the northern end of Lake Memphremagog, the great lake which played such an important role with the Rangers on their trip from "Odanak" to the Ammonoosuc river to Fort No. 4.

Lee Emerson, former governor of Vermont, introduced the guests Sunday night, among whom was George Dale of Chicago, formerly of Essex County and noted historian of this region. Mr. Emerson paid tribute to C. Pierce, Sr., for his fine work on the pageant, and to Flora Coutts, assistant director. He also introduced Charles Bellin of New York, director of the show, who in his brief remarks, paid tribute to the cast for their excellent efforts.

"The U.S.A. continues to occupy Formosa territory that has been Chinese from time immemorial."

Formosa is under the control of Chiang Kai-shek's Chinese Nationalists.

ing to 100 feet at the bottom. It is of concrete and earth fill construction.

Meanwhile, at Ennis a spokesman for the Madison county sheriff's office said there are unconfirmed reports of three deaths.

NO CONFIRMATION

Two of the deaths were reported at Cliff Lake and one at Wade Lake. He said the lakes are west of Hebgen Dam in an isolated area.

No one can reach the scene to confirm the deaths, the sheriff's spokesman reported.

He added: "We presume they are in some way connected with the earthquake."

Three bridges leading to the dam from Bozeman, Mont., were reported out. It was not known if they were destroyed by the series of tremors.

Sheriff's deputies attempting to reach the dam were unable to reach it by car along U.S. Highway 287. They abandoned their autos and walked to the dam.

STILL HOLDING

Later, they reported by radio that the dam still was holding. They told of an 18-foot fissure in the earth along the lake front, at the opposite end from the dam.

Residents of Ennis, of about 600 population, were awakened by officers and told to prepare food and water, place them in their cars and stand ready to move to higher ground.

The same warning was passed to residents of Three Forks and Trident, Mont., about 100 miles upstream, north of the dam.

The lake and dam are owned by the Montana Power Company. The earth shocks were felt from east of the Rockies to the Pacific. Dishes were rattled as far east as Regina.

Science Now Shrinks Piles Without Pain or Discomfort

Finds Substance That Relieves Pain And Itching As It Shrinks Hemorrhoids.
Toronto, Ont. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain and itching. Thousands have been relieved with this inexpensive substance right in the privacy of their own home without any discomfort or inconvenience.
In case after case, while gently relieving pain actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.
Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"
The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—discovery of a famous scientific institute.
Now this new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H. Ask for it at all drug stores—money back guaranteed.

Maverick Party Is Hopeful

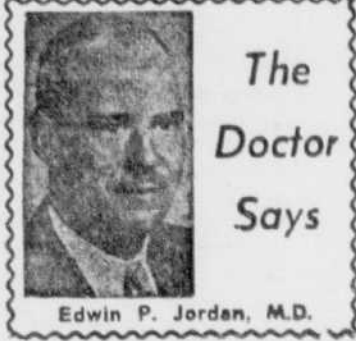

CORNER BROOK (CP)—A Maverick political party hopes to supplant the Progressive Conservatives as the official opposition party in the Newfoundland legislature after Thursday's general election.

Created less than three weeks ago, the Newfoundland Democratic Party has 19 candidates galloping after seats in the 36-seat legislature, dominated before dissolution July 28 by the 31-man Liberal government of Premier Joseph Smallwood. The Liberals have 33 candidates, the United Newfoundland Party nine and the Conservatives 32. There are two Independents.

Democratic party leader Ed Finn, Jr., a 33-year-old former newspaper man, says the CLC-supported party could elect "as few as four or as many as 10 members."
Western Newfoundland—with a heavy labor vote from the 3,000 union members of the Bowater's Newfoundland pulp and paper mills and 2,000 more from trade unions in smaller labor groups—is the main area of the Democratic party's first campaign.

Campaign vs. Bags

KENTVILLE, N.S. (CP)—Press, radio and television campaign to warn parents of the need for precaution in the use of plastic bags will be carried out by the Nova Scotia Federation of Home and School Associations. The campaign follows a number of recent deaths of infants where plastic bags were used as mattresses and pillow covers.

The Doctor Says
Edwin P. Jordan, M.D.

LOW BLOOD PRESSURE USUALLY IS NOT CAUSE FOR CONCERN

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service
I get repeated queries about low blood pressure; for some unknown reason, any number of people seem to worry if the doctor tells them that their blood pressure is low.

Not having discussed the subject for several months, Mrs. S. and several others have asked for a discussion of the "symptoms" of low blood pressure, the treatment for it and similar questions.

There are, in fact, very few diseases indeed which can be tied definitely to a blood pressure below normal. Furthermore, most of the diseases associated with low blood pressure are relatively rare and can ordinarily be identified easily.

Low blood pressure usually is a matter of little concern from the health standpoint. Low blood pressure alone (unless definitely tied to some physical abnormality — and this is the exception) is likely to be accompanied by a long life and better than average good health.

There are only a few exceptions: One condition known as Addison's Disease is characterized among other symptoms, by a low blood pressure. This disease is rare.

There is another condition in which low blood pressure appears off and on, known as carotid sinus syncope. Sudden pressure on the neck or sudden motion of the head may bring on an attack of low blood pressure together with other symptoms, but this is not the type of low blood pressure in which most readers are interested.

Occasionally, a person will have a drop in blood pressure when moving from a lying or sitting position to a standing one, and this may require some attention. It carries the medical name of orthostatic hypotension.

It is doubtful that there are any symptoms which can be blamed on low blood pressure and nothing else. Occasionally people who have low blood pressure complain of lack of pep or some other vague symptom, but lack of pep can result from a number of causes and probably has no relation to low blood pressure.

Even if the blood pressure should have something to do with such complaints there is not much which can be done about it. There is no good, safe way to raise the blood pressure and it is better not to try to do it unless some condition is present which should be treated on its own account.

As one prominent physician wrote: "The patient (with low blood pressure) may be congratulated." I might add that if all that seems wrong is a slightly lower than normal blood pressure, he doesn't need to be a patient.

External Affairs Minister's Wife

Anticipates Travel Abroad And More Entertaining In New Career

By CAROLYN WILLETT
Canadian Press Staff Writer
OTTAWA (CP)—The wife of Canada's new external affairs minister easily explains her culinary interests.

"Chemists like to mess around with things," says Mrs. Howard Green, a biochemist whose scientific speciality is bacteriology. Chances are that Mrs. Green will be busier than ever "whipping up things"—she anticipates more entertaining in this part of her new career.

FORMER LECTURER

She is used to adapting to new situations.

Three years ago she gave up her work as assistant director of British Columbia's public health laboratories and lecturing at the University of British Columbia to marry lawyer Howard Green, 63, veteran Progressive Conservative member for Vancouver Quadra, then an opposition member.

In an interview she said she still misses her work, "in a way." But new interests have kept her busy. "I spent the first year learning about government."

When the Progressive Conservatives came to power in 1957, Mr. Green became public works minister and Mrs. Green stepped into her part as a cabinet minister's wife. Last June, Mr. Green became external affairs minister.

LIKES TO ENTERTAIN

A hazel-eyed, brown-haired woman with a lively sense of humor and a warm personality, Mrs. Green says they have always done quite a lot of entertaining. They live in a centre-town Ottawa apartment and maintain a house in Vancouver.

She prefers small gatherings for teas and luncheons, and likes entertaining during the session when she can bring her Ottawa and Parliamentary friends from distant ridings together. She likes to know the wives of her husband's department members.

Now that Mr. Green is external affairs minister, more travel may be added to the tempo of life, along with the social commitments.

Mrs. Green says that previously as a career woman with three weeks' annual holiday her own travelling was somewhat restricted. But she still managed to cover most of North America, and feels she knows it well.

Enthusiastic about a possible first trip to the United Nations at New York this fall, she says: "I'm anxious to see and hear what people from other countries are thinking."

SCOTTISH DESCENT

Overseas, she would like to see Scotland—"but not really because of my ancestors."

The former Donna Enid Kerr, she was born to Scottish parents in Rossland, B.C., an interior community near her husband's home in Kaslo. She had known Mr. Green for years, and was a college classmate of his first wife, who died in 1953.

Her dentist father was active in Conservative politics, but he never ran for office. His daughter didn't have any political ambitions, either.

Not too sure just why she turned to science, Mrs. Green followed UBC studies with post-graduate work at the University of Toronto and has a master's degree.

Tall and trim, she is an ardent golfer and likes skiing.

This summer she has been wedding in as much golf as possible, "but not as much as I'd like."

CURLING LASTS

It hasn't been as easy to fit in skiing.

"Last winter I took up curling as a substitute for skiing. I told my husband it's a good sport, one you can keep at until you're 80, so I think it will last me the rest of my life."

With her husband she shares a love of concerts and the theatre. When there is an idle hour, she helps out at the Ottawa Superfluity Shop, a second-hand shop run by volunteers for the Red Cross.

Trips back to Vancouver are part of her busy life. The trip is fast by plane, but there are drawbacks.

"You get home in time to do so much work in the same day," says Mrs. Green.

Marriages

JOHNSON - HAWKE

FARNHAM — The marriage of Lois Ellen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hawke of Farnham, Que. to Mr. Eric Johnson of Abercrombie, Nova Scotia, took place on Saturday, Aug. 1st, in Grace United Church, Farnham, Que.

Dr. S. R. Prince, pastor of the church, officiated. Mrs. M. Clark played wedding music. The church was decorated with baskets of white gladioli and hydrangeas. White sweet peas marked the guest pews.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She was gowning in a white satin brocade dress, fashioned in princess lines and full skirt falling into a short train. Her full length veil was held by tiara of sequins and seed pearls, and she wore an heirloom pendant of gold set with seed pearls and rubies, the gift of her mother. She carried a nosegay of pink sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Michael Tcherneki, sister of the groom, as matron of honor, wore a street length blue gown of nylon taffeta. The bridesmaid, Miss Kay Leslie, was similarly gowning in pink. Both wore white accessories and carried nosegays of sweet peas.

Mr. Arthur Fulford, of Jamaica, B.W.I., was best man for the groom, and the ushers were Michael Tcherneki, brother-in-law of the groom, and Lindol Hawke, the bride's brother.

bride, wore a white and green figured dress of satinette with white accessories and a corsage of yellow carnations.

Mrs. James Johnson, the groom's mother, wore a beige and brown figured nylon dress with beige and brown accessories and a corsage of yellow carnations.

The reception was held in St. James Church Hall, and attended by more than a hundred guests. The bride's table was arranged with a white linen cover, and centered with the four tier wedding cake. A miniature bride and groom, at the level of the first tier, stood at the top of a red carpeted stair, under a candy canopy, and looked out over an exquisite miniature flower garden. Baskets of seasonal flowers formed a lovely background for the wedding party.

Later, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson left by motor for a honeymoon in Nova Scotia. For travelling, the bride wore a two-piece street length dress of white paper nylon figured with tiny pink roses, white accessories and a corsage of white roses.

On their return they will reside in Ormstown, Que.

Guests attended from Ontario, Nova Scotia, Connecticut and Vermont as well as from Quebec.

Women Indifferent To Political Responsibility

OTTAWA (CP) — Mrs. Lillian M. Toward, an outspoken lawyer-housewife, says Canadian women are indifferent about assuming responsibility for their country's government, but they should influence political decisions.

Writing in a recent issue of The Canadian Liberal, published by the National Liberal Federation, Mrs. Toward tempers her statements with sympathy for the housewife's problems in keeping up with the outside scene.

But there are few excuses for women's "political shyness," says Mrs. Toward, a practising lawyer at Baddeck, N.S. Of the idea that women keep out of politics because men think a woman's place is in the home, she says that in most communities men seem happy to relinquish, or share, public duties with women.

BLAMES WOMEN

"Rather it would seem that women themselves have been indifferent to this particular responsibility," she writes.

The education system could be the culprit in not placing more emphasis on the importance of taking public office.

Most women would be ashamed not to take part in home and school association work, but few understood that they might serve their community better as a school trustee.

Mrs. Toward says that such issues as freight rate increases and hospital insurance should mean a great deal to women.

Freight rates cut "right across the family budget." And in Nova Scotia, where hospital insurance is coupled with a sales tax, "... women in that province are beginning to realize that it is necessary to finance any such scheme."

SAME RIGHTS AS MEN

"All these are political questions and in the decisions to be taken women have the same rights as men, if they choose to exercise those rights."

Mrs. Toward contends that if women think politics are too "dirty," it is up to them to do something about it.

Women, she says, have the power to change politics. But, traditionally more concerned with the particular than the general, most women tend to think political matters are no concern of theirs.

Many problems pour into the home and to tackle both the problems of the world and the home may prove too great an emotional drain for a woman, says Mrs. Toward.

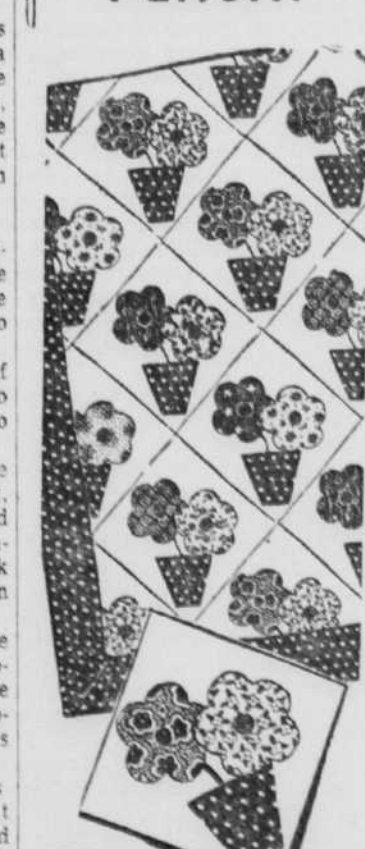

At the same time, she questions why more women don't at least try to keep up to date and informed about the political scene.

With Big Families, There's Hardly Time for Activities

Now that big families are once more in style and four, five or even six children aren't unusual, young mothers had better wake up to one important fact.

They can't rear large families and still feel obligated to do all the outside activities that have come to be expected of housewives.

You see them trying all the time to do just that. But something has to give. Either Mama looks worn and haggard, or the children look neglected.

Maybe Papa is in a financial rat race trying to pay for household help and baby sitters so that Mama doesn't have to say, "No, I can't," to outside demands on her time and energy.

But what's so shameful about a woman's admitting that there is a limit to what she can do? Way shouldn't a mother of four or more children feel completely free to say, "I have my hands full at home."

If they want to enjoy their children and make the best kind of home for them, if they want to keep from burdening their husbands with being Mama's helper as well as wage earner, if they want to be relaxed and cheerful, instead of tired out and frustrated, they'll have to learn to say, "no."

All these outside activities that women feel called on to participate in didn't get started when large families were the rule. They got started when families were small and women didn't have enough to do to keep busy at home.

But large families are once more the style and there just isn't time in any busy mother's day for keeping pace with the outside activities that have come to seem like "musts."

All these young mothers of large families need to learn is the word, "no."

Spiced Scones Are Special

The home of the original recipe for scones is believed to be Scotland where they are still regarded as great favorites. Their popularity spread when Scottish immigrants introduced scones to America. Nowadays, in Canada, scones are leavened with yeast or baking powder, baked in a griddle or in the oven and served hot or cold, at any time of the day.

A lively blend of cinnamon, nutmeg and cloves gives this recipe for Spiced Yeast Scones a novel and delectable twist. The texture of the buns is light and tender, the flavor unusually delicious. Just before baking the crust is given the traditional dusting of flour. The versatility of scones seems limitless. They can be served split and toasted for breakfast or tea, used instead of bread for sandwiches, and packed into the picnic hamper.

SPICED YEAST SCONES

Yield—4 round scones—4 sections each

1/4 cup milk, 2 teaspoons salt, 1/3 cup lightly-packed brown sugar, 1/4 teaspoon baking soda, 2 tablespoons shortening, 1/2 cup lukewarm water, 1 teaspoon granulated sugar, 1 envelope active dry yeast, 1 well-beaten egg, 3 teaspoons ground cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon ground nutmeg, 1/2 teaspoon ground cloves, 3 1/2 cups (about) once-sifted all-purpose flour.

Scauld milk: stir in salt, brown sugar, baking soda and shortening. Cool to lukewarm.

Homemaking

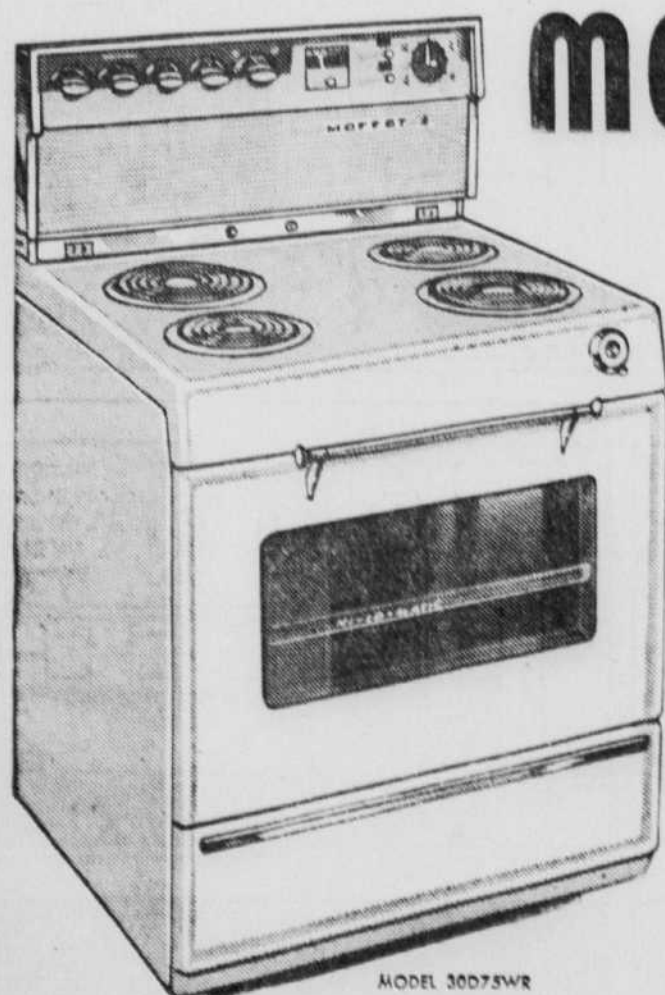

Before turning the oven on, keep the oven door open for a few minutes to make sure any possible leaking gas is cleared from the oven.

Girl Guides Of Thetford Mines Attend Camp

THETFORD MINES — The First Thetford Girl Guide Company held its annual camp recently on the grounds of Lake Aymer Farm with the kind permission of W. K. MacLeod. The weather throughout this period was excellent.

The camp was held under the leadership of Mrs. Cora Kenney, Captain, assisted by Mrs. Gibb, Quartermaster, and Mrs. Ria Hoogendyk, Life Guard and Swimming Instructress.

Through the co-operation of the Thetford Mines Boy Scouts, the Girl Guides were permitted to use the full camping equipment of the Scouts, so no setting-up of tents or other equipment was necessary as the boys vacated the campsite on the same day that the girls moved in.

Each day in camp started with a short period of physical culture under the direction of Mrs.

Hoogendyk.

The principal activity during the two-week camp, owing to the hot weather, consisted of swimming. Of the 18 girls present, 8 obtained their First Class Swimming Badges. Several others were able to improve their swimming style.

A surprise visit was paid by F. P. Hodgson to the camp one evening to examine the girls on their knowledge in life-saving and artificial respiration. Mr. Hodgson had been giving instructions on these subjects during the past winter to the Girl Guides, and the girls acquitted themselves creditably.

A group of the Guides went on a half-day's hike during which they had to prepare a two-course meal from ingredients which they had brought from camp. This hike was performed in preparation for their First Class Badge. Fourteen girls went on a five-mile hike and this performance in heat of 92 degrees was quite a feat!

Parents and friends visited the camp one afternoon and evening, and several stayed to take part in the camp fire and marsh-mallow roast.

The Catholic girls of the group attended Mass each Sunday under the guidance of Mrs. Cora Kenney. The Protestant group were taken to Thetford Mines' Anglican Church by Mrs. Gibb and Mrs. Hoogendyk.

While in camp, each patrol had to cook its own meals over open wood fires and the results were quite surprising in their excellence.

Besides the girls from Thetford Mines, a patrol of six girls came from Asbestos to attend camp.

B. C. Lions Guided By Randy Duncan Dumps Eskimos 12-0 While Stamps Come Close Upsetting Blue Bombers

The big clubs in the Western Interprovincial Football Union were shaken Monday night.

Quarterback Randy Duncan guided a strong running attack, smashed Edmonton Eskimos 12-0. Calgary Stampeders, in a second-half comeback, almost upset Winnipeg before an 11th-hour single by quarterback Jim Van Pelt gave Blue Bombers a narrow 22-21 victory.

The results left Winnipeg in first place with two wins followed by Stamps and Lions, each with a win and a loss. Saskatchewan Roughriders and Edmonton, both with one loss, share last place.

BAD BREAK
One bad break resulted in the only touchdown of the game by Canadian end Norm Fieldgate. Fieldgate dived on the ball after a quick-kick attempt from Eskies' end zone had been blocked. Moments before, Lions halted their own drive by fumbling on the Edmonton one-yard line.

Lions' other six points came on two field goals by end Vic Kristopaitis, who came to the club this month from Toronto Argonauts. About 14,000 fans in Edmonton watched the game, played in driving rain.

The same number saw Stamps, playing their home opener, drive back after a 21-8 halftime deficit to near-victory.

THREE TD PASSES

Quarterback Joe Kapp, a rookie from California, tossed three touchdown passes. Two of them went to Arkansas half Donnie Stone, a fast 190-pound rookie who scampered 30 yards for the first touchdown of the game. The other went to sophomore import Bill McKenna.

Kapp converted one and scored a single. Doug Brown also kicked a convert.

Leo Lewis, Gerry James and rookie Illinois import Carver Shannon scored Winnipeg touchdowns, two of them on passing plays. Van Pelt kicked two converts and a single and Charlie Shepard also singled.

The league has another double date Thursday when Calgary goes to Winnipeg to play the Grey Cup champions on their home ground and Saskatchewan goes to Vancouver to meet Lions.

Several Managers Offer Purse For Johansson Fight

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Roy Harris' manager and others have offered world heavyweight boxing champion Ingemar Johansson a $500,000 purse for a title fight with Harris in Dallas' Cotton Bowl.

Manager Lon Viscusi also said he would invite the champion and his advisers to Houston for the Harris-Joe Bygraves bout Aug. 25.

In Sweden, the champion indicated he would consider the offer but said he would be unable to negotiate for such a contest until the recent bout with Floyd Patterson is straightened out.

In the New York bout June 26, the undefeated Swede stopped Patterson and won the title but hasn't been paid the $250,000 due him.

Harris had one shot at the title. Patterson stopped him in 12 rounds Aug. 18, 1958, in Los Angeles.

TWO CHAMPIONS — Al Johnston, 26, pro at Kanawaki Golf Club, right, exchanges congratulations with Gilles Bourassa, amateur golfer from Ki-8-Eb, Three Rivers. Johnston topped the pro field at the O'Keefe Tournament, with a sizzling 68 over the Belvoir golf club layout, while Bourassa led the amateurs with a 73. This was Bourassa's third win at O'Keefe Tournaments held this summer.

Louise Plamondon, Huguette Papineau Reach Quarter Finals In ET Senior Tennis; Last Night's Results Posted

Louise Plamondon and Huguette Papineau, two Granby tennis players, last night made the quarter-finals in the women's singles class of the Eastern Townships Senior Tennis Tourney. Miss Plamondon defeated Marthe Therrien 6-2, 6-1 while Huguette Papineau downed Louise Ouellet 6-1, 6-3.

Top seeded Raymond Royer, last year's men's champion, played his primary match of the tourney last night and posted a 6-4, 6-3 victory over Real Coulombe of Granby. As for Patrick Henri, second seeded participant, his victory was relatively simple as he downed Lucien Gouin of Black Lake 6-0, 6-1.

Claude Metras, another favorite, exhibited some difficulty in disposing of Paul Yergeau, who hails from Lennoxville. Metras got the edge on his opponent in

Fuller, Windsor Cardinals Clash In Junior Baseball League Tonight At Municipal Stadium; Game Time 7:30

Action resumes tonight in the Sherbrooke Junior Baseball League when the Windsor Cardinals visit Fuller at the Municipal Stadium. Game time 7:30.

This evening's draw brings together two of the best teams in the league. First place Fuller is decidedly the better of the two, however, as proved by last Saturday's bitter defeat that Hamel's squad suffered at the hands of the Indians. Fuller is not unbeatable.

By the present standings, the Cards occupy third position eight and one-half games behind Fuller and one-half game behind Coaticook. Thus, with a Windsor victory tonight, a change in the loop's standings will be necessary.

It is evident that the Windsor ninesome has a lot to gain by this evening's tilt and they will be going at full throttle to run down Fuller. The Cards have several very good players such as Couture and Belanger, who give the team that extra spark which counts so much in close fixtures.

Fuller, on the other hand, has two of the strongest hitters in the league namely, Keith Peak and Wayne Nugent. This duet, backed up by the snappiest infield in the loop, formulate a winning combination for the squad.

Alouettes Cut Ed Sears From Import Roster

MONTREAL — The Montreal Alouettes Monday cut 220-pound fullback Ed Sears to reduce their import roster to 17 for today's opening Big Four game in Hamilton.

The Als can dress 12 Americans for the game. They probably will be: Tom Hugo, Sam Etcheverry, Joel Wells, Hal Patterson, Red O'Quinn, Billy Shipp, Billy Hudson, Jackie Simpson and newcomers Veryl Switzer, Jim Colclough, Bill Glossom and Ed Hill.

Lucile Wheeler's Mother Dies In Hospital Saturday

MONTREAL — Mrs. Harry Robert Wheeler, mother of skier Lucile Wheeler, died in hospital here Saturday after a long illness.

Formerly Myrtle Smythe, she married in 1933. Her husband is president of Gray Rocks Inn, Inc., at St. Jovite, one of the first year-round resorts to open in the Laurentian mountains.

Besides Lucile, who won the world women's ski championship in 1958, Mrs. Wheeler is survived by her husband and two sons. Funeral service is to be held here today.

Doug Walker And Hamp Pool Were Not Going On Record For Tonight's Tilts; Ticals Are Favored To Cop Honors

Football fans in Ottawa and Hamilton are expected out in droves tonight as the Big Four Football Union 1959 season opens with a full slate of games.

Toronto Argonauts, with several key players out through injuries suffered two weeks ago in an exhibition game against Chicago Cardinals of the National League, travel to Ottawa to meet Frank Clair's Rough Riders.

At Hamilton, the Tiger-Cats open the defence of their league title against Montreal Alouettes.

Argos start the season this year with Ronnie Knox, the California quarterback who led them to a great finish last season, at the helm. Knox, a fine passer, is enough in himself to demand some respect for the team which finished the 1958 season in the cellar.

Rough Riders feature a new face in the quarterback slot, Frank Tripucka, another superb passer acquired from Saskatchewan Roughriders of the Western Interprovincial Football Union. Etcheverry tossing passes to Hal Patterson remains the main cog in the Alouette offence. Montreal is reported weak on the bench, particularly on defence.

Tiger-Cats have added muscle and weight to an always-strong defence. Bernie Faloney, the man who led them in their Grey Cup victory two years ago and also in their loss to Winnipeg Blue Bombers in the national final last year, is back for another season at quarterback.

Ottawa, meanwhile, got rid of another passing quarterback by shipping Boston College's Don Allard to Saskatchewan in return for Canadian halfback Harry Lunn. With Canadian Russ Jackson available to back up Tripucka, Clair felt he was overloaded in the department.

New York State Commission Takes Bill Rosensohn's License Away As Well As Rosensohn Enterprises

NEW YORK (AP) — As if it hasn't run into enough snags, the proposed return heavyweight championship bout between Ingemar Johansson and Floyd Patterson today was without a promoter.

And there were mounting indications that it will be without champion Johansson, who lifted the crown from Patterson last June 26. The return tentatively is set for Sept. 22.

The New York State Athletic Commission Monday suspended the matchmaker's license of Bill Rosensohn and the promoter's license of Rosensohn Enterprises, Inc., for "statements" made by Rosensohn.

A commission spokesman said the suspension undoubtedly was a result of a signed story by Rosensohn in Sports Illustrated in which he said he unwillingly signed away control of Rosensohn Enterprises to the first Johansson-Patterson fight bout. All the confusion has brought claims and counter claims from both sides of the Atlantic.

Here is what some of the parties involved have to say: Edwin Ahlquist, advisor to Johansson: "Judging from the latest news... there will be no return match this year. In fact, Ingemar will appear in an exhibition match in Stockholm Sept. 13 (which would automatically rule out the return Sept. 22). Johansson: "Rosensohn is al-

Young Vada Pinson Jumps Ahead In Batting Race In National League; Harvey Kuenn Leading In American

NEW YORK (AP) — Speedy Vada Pinson, who observed his 21st birthday last week, has come of age as a major league hitter in his second try with Cincinnati Reds.

With 20 hits in 38 tries during the last seven days, Pinson gained 17 points and moved into third place in the National League batting race with a .331 average. He has collected 164 hits, second only to Hank Aaron of Milwaukee, the No. 1 batter.

Pinson made the grade just a bit too late, however, to qualify for the league's rookie of the year honors. He had 96 official times at bat for Cincinnati last season, batting .271. Under the rules put into effect before the 1958 campaign, a player with more than 90 official at bats is ineligible for the rookie award.

Pinson batted .343 for Seattle of the Pacific Coast League after the Reds farmed him out in June 1958.

Aaron with .367 has shown no signs of letting up in his bid to capture his second batting title. Hank led the NL with .328 in 1956.

Joe Cunningham of St. Louis, in second place, last week climbed eight points to .348 with six hits in 10 at bats.

In the American League, Detroit's Harvey Kuenn held a 25-point lead over runner-up Nellie Fox of Chicago. Kuenn moved up five points to .351 with a 10-for-22 performance last week. Fox climbed two places with a three-point pickup to .326.

Al Kaline of Detroit remained in the No. 3 spot at .325.

Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs walloped four homers last week, lifting his pace-setting National League total to 36.

Doug Silverberg Fires 68 To Lead Qualifiers In Amateur

British Columbians gloated over their interprovincial team golf championship triumph Saturday after their 10-stroke win over Manitoba at Vancouver's Marine drive golf course. B.C.'s total score of 583, spelled out in golf balls, is reflected in Willington cup, emblem of amateur team golf supremacy. Members of team were, from left, Bob Kidd, Bert Tiehurst, Johnny Johnston and B.C. Amateur Champion Ron Willey. (CP Photo)

VANCOUVER (CP)—A pair of seasoned golfers took the early lead Monday in the first 18-hole qualifying round for the Canadian Amateur Golf Championship.

Doug Silverberg, 26-year-old Calgary insurance supervisor, toured the Marine Drive Club in three-under-par 68. Bob Kidd, 33, of Vancouver fired a 69.

Bobby Panasiuk, 17-year-old Ontario amateur king and semi-finalist in the Canadian junior championships earlier this month, came home in 35-36 — 71, even par.

Few others among the early finishers came close to equalling par.

Ron Willey, 23-year-old Vancouver car salesman, and Johnny Johnston, Vancouver real estate salesman, each fired 72s.

Together with Kidd and Bert Tiehurst, also of Vancouver, they formed British Columbia's winning team in the interprovincial team golf championships held here Saturday.

Tiehurst, the only man to break par Saturday and holder of the Marine Drive competitive record of 67, slipped to 76 Monday.

Silverberg was rolling along at a record five-under-par pace for 13 holes over the 6,432-yard par 36-35-71 layout. But on the par-three, 167-yard 16th his tee shot was six inches off the green and fell under the lip of a trap to the right. He took a four.

After paring the tough 17th, Silverberg again ran into tee shot trouble and took four to reach the green from where he sank a six-foot putt for a five.

Peter Hope, 23-year-old Dartmouth, N.S., amateur, who paced Maritimes golfers in the interprovincial play, again turned in a fine round. He shot a "safe" 73.

Kidd played cautious golf throughout. He missed long putts for par on the seventh, ninth and 17 and took five on each; he birdied five holes, the most sensational being a nifty 45-foot putt on the par-four third.

The fairways and greens were heavy following an overnight downpour. A 10-mile-an-hour southerly breeze was a factor on five holes and chilly, 60-degree weather and a slight drizzle during the early afternoon added further discomfort to the 146 Canadian and United States amateurs entered.

A second 18 holes of qualifying play will be held today with the low 64 expected match play Wednesday. Scores of 155 or better were expected to enter the championship flight.

Others shooting 73s were Jay Eastwood, Seattle; Brian McGuigan, Montreal; Gary Cowan, Kitchener; and Jim Bourne, Seattle.

Keith Alexander, former Alberta champion, and Ron Woods of Vancouver, carded three-over-par scores.

Andy Bathgate, all-star hockey player, had a 77. With the exception of Bourne, Pacific Northwest medalist in the 1959 Pacific Northwest Amateur, few American favorites held form.

Willies-Come-Lately Are Doing Fine For Giants In Late Rallies; Braves Split With Dodgers; Pirates Win

A bunch of Willies-come-lately these San Francisco Giants, what with Willie Mays, Willie McCovey or Willie Kirkland coming through in the late innings to keep 'em out front in that National League pennant chase.

Since taking over first place on July 20, the Giants have won 12 of 17 games—and in nine of those dozen victories they didn't score the clincher any earlier than the seventh inning. Fact is, in the nine late comebacks, two were won in the seventh, three in the eighth, two in the ninth and two in extra innings.

Kirkland's done the job three times, Mays and McCovey twice each.

Bob Bedard Wins Quebec Open Tennis Tourney

MONTREAL (CP)—Bob Bedard of Sherbrooke, Que., won the Quebec province open tennis championship Monday, easily defeating Eduardo Zuleta of Ecuador 6-3, 6-2 and 6-1.

The match was halted during the second set Sunday due to rain.

Martha Hernandez of Mexico and Marilyn Montgomery of Texas were awarded the women's doubles crown when their opponents defaulted. Dorothy Hear Knode of Panama and Marie Martin of Australia said they had previous commitments and left Montreal Monday.

Their match had originally been scheduled for Sunday but was rained out.

It was that way again Monday night as the Giants came from behind with five runs in the last three innings for a 6-3 victory over Cincinnati that gave San Francisco a three-game bulge. Mays drove in the run that tied it 3-3 with a sacrifice fly in the seventh inning, and a pinch-single by McCovey got the winning run home in a two-run eighth. The winner was Stu Miller (7-6).

That added a half-game to the Giants' lead as second-place Los Angeles split a two-night double-header at Milwaukee, winning 4-3 after losing 8-1 to the third-place Braves.

Pittsburgh beat Chicago Cubs 7-6 in a battle for fourth place, and St. Louis defeated Philadelphia 5-4.

A seventh-inning home run by Don Zimmer, his fourth, did it for the Dodgers in the nightcap

Holland Backs Banks' Charge On Jack Sanford

CHICAGO (AP)—Vice-President John Holland of Chicago Cubs Monday backed up the charge of his star shortstop, Ernie Banks, that pitcher Jack Sanford of San Francisco Giants deliberately threw at him.

Banks was hit in the back by a Sanford pitch Saturday and had to leave the game in the sixth inning when his shoulder tightened up. Ernie was able to play Monday.

Before the Cubs left for Pittsburgh Monday night, Banks said: "I'm convinced Sanford threw at me. He's done it before. He's hit me three times this season. Jack is too good a pitcher to have to do that."

after they had caught the Braves with three runs in the fifth, two of them unearned. Johnny Podres (10-7) won it with five innings of four-hit, shutout relief.

Milwaukee backed a seven-hit performance by Bob Buhl (10-8) with three home runs in the opener. Joe Adcock's 17th came with a man on in a three-run first inning against loser Sandy Koufax (6-3), who also gave up Ed Mathews' solo 34th in the second inning. Hank Aaron, who missed two games because of back trouble, was 4-for-5 in the opener, including his 31st home run, then was 1-for-4 in the second game.

Gilles Lachance Takes Over As Top Reinsman At Sherbrooke Racing Track; Ten-Class Slated For Tomorrow Night

Gilles Lachance took over top spot in the race for driving honors at the Sherbrooke Racing Club according to the latest bulletin released by Lionel Racicot, secretary of the local club.

Lachance moved ahead of Henri Filion, who left the local oval last week, and now holds a three-point spread over Amedee Beaudoin who has amassed 144 points. Lachance has posted 29 firsts coupled with 20 seconds and 21 third place finishes for his amount.

Fern Desrochers follows next with 110 pts. while Buster Huckins has 107. Huckins hasn't driven for the past ten days as he has been in the hospital at Newport, Vt., but is expected back shortly. Lucien Denault is next with 103 points and A. Gravel is the only other to break the century mark.

Filion has left Sherbrooke to compete on the various tracks throughout the Province. Several new performers have put in an appearance at the local track and secretary Racicot expects more within the next few weeks.

Attendance at the track has improved over the past seasons and the pari-mutuel betting is well ahead of last year's figures. Secretary Racicot attributes this to the well balanced classes which seems to meet with the fans approval, judging from the figures.

The next card is slated for tomorrow evening with ten races on the program. Saturday and Sunday evenings will see more good steppers in action. The latest improvement for the bettors is the fact that they can place their wagers on the quinellas ahead of time now instead of waiting until the last minute as Post Time is followed very closely and they know that a race is scheduled every twenty minutes.

The top fifteen drivers and points follow:

AGAIN FETED

Mrs. Lloyd Beattie and her daughter, Mrs. Allen Simons, also entertained Mrs. Douglas Robinson at a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. Beattie.

After being greeted by her hostesses, the guest of honor was led to a specially decorated chair, after which an assortment of lovely gifts were presented to her in a gaily-trimmed basket. The bride's mother, Mrs. Harry Hogge, helped her daughter to open the numerous gifts, following which the bride expressed her appreciation.

The evening was spent in playing games followed by refreshments, which were served from a lace-covered tea table with a pretty floral centerpiece, flanked by white candles in silver holders. Summer flowers were used as decorations throughout the house. Mrs. Harry Hogge, mother of the bride, and Mrs. Henry Robinson, mother of the groom, presided at the tea table, and Mrs. Tom Smith assisted the hostesses in serving.
