Separatist MLA to resign

MONTREAL (CP) — Separatist Francois Aquin, embroiled since 1967 in political disputes ranging from President de Gaulle's "vive le Quebec libre" slogan to treatment of English-language minorities, announced Monday he is resigning as an Independent member of the Quebec legislative assembly.

Mr. Aquin, 39-year-old Montreal lawyer, said in a statement he feels ineffective as an Independent MLA under the current parliamentary system.

The system did not give him the leeway to promote the aspirations of the Quebec people. He had appeared in the legislature only rarely during the current session.

Mr. Aquin was first elected to the legislative assembly in 1968 as Liberal member for the Montreal-area riding of Dorion. He broke from the Liberal party July 28, 1967, when it opposed de Gaulle's "vive le Quebec libre" slogan shouted during the president's 1967 tour of Quebec.

He decided to sit as an Independent, joining forces with another disgruntled Liberal—Rene Levesque—who founded the separatist group Mouvement Souverainete-association in late 1967.

MET HEAD ON

But the two met head on last April at an MSA meeting in Montreal when Mr. Levesque swung separatist supporters to endorse a "fair play" policy toward language and education rights for the English-speaking minority in a free Quebec.

Mr. Aquin, who subsequently resigned from the MSA, opposed the policy on the grounds that state aid to English-language schools should be only for a "period of transition" instead of being full-time.

He also disputed economic theories held by Mr. Levesque, who favors an independent Quebec with loose economic ties to Canada.

Mr. Levesque's separatist group was disbanded last month and merged with Gilles Giguere's Ralliement national to establish a new political force—the Parti Quebecois.

Meanwhile, Premier Jean-Jacques Bertrand's only comment on Mr. Aquin's resignation was that a byelection would be held.

The announced resignation leaves three vacancies in the 108-seat legislative assembly. The other two, in Bagot and Montreal Notre-Dame-de-Grace, are to be filled in byelections Dec. 4.

The house now has 54 Union Nationale Members, 48 Liberals and three independents.

Czech leaders are under fire

PRAGUE (AP) — Czechoslovakia's besieged Communist leaders neared a test of strength today under fire from two sides.

Pro-Soviet Communists demanded a purge of the press, radio and television, while students threatened to strike against further concessions to Moscow and insisted that the leaders uphold the democratization process started last January.

Tension mounted as the Communist party's 160-member central committee prepared for a meeting Thursday. A showdown is expected.

As long predicted, the national unity achieved after the Soviet invasion in August was weakening.

Premier Oldrich Cernik and the central trade union organization condemned recent anti-Soviet demonstrations. The premier warned that the government would take "drastic steps" against future outbreaks.

He appealed to the young people to abstain from "undignified spontaneous actions in which mass psychosis prevails over reason" and to let the leader settle matters by political means.

A meeting of university students was told that Cernik has ordered the city police to act with force against the first signs of parades on international students' day next Sunday.

PLANS GO AHEAD

But the students went ahead with plans for a demonstration in memory of "all students who laid down their lives for the freedom of their country and the freedom of thought" and against "occupation by foreign armies anywhere."

They also made plans for student strikes and sit-ins if the memorial demonstration is banned or if the party central committee meeting does not go to their liking.

The situation was said to be more tense in Slovakia than in Prague. Slovak students were reported to have set up strike committees outside of their Communist party connections.

A resolution being approved in one after another of Prague's academies and the departments of Charles University demanded reinstatement of the few liberal officials fired since the invasion.

News in brief

Arrest bombers

DETROIT (AP) — The arrests of 11 persons—including two girls—were announced Monday in connection with a number of recent bombings in the Detroit area, several of them aimed at police-owned cars.

The defendants were accused specifically in connection with eight bombings dating back to Aug. 30, when a blast at the 13th Police Station parking lot damaged an officer's private car.

Queen in Chile

SANTIAGO (Reuters) — Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip today face a busy round of engagements after arriving to a tumultuous welcome for their seven-day state visit to Chile.

The royal couple, who attended a state banquet given by President Eduardo Frei Monday night after being greeted by thousands of Chileans, are to pay calls on the Supreme Court and Legislative Assembly.

China to UN?

UNITED NATIONS (CP) — The United Nations speaks today in Round 2 of the annual General Assembly debate on the admission of Communist China to the United Nations.

Round 1 was Monday when 16 countries, including Albania, China's chief UN spokesman, proposed that the Peking regime be allowed its "rightful" place in the UN and that the Nationalist regime on Formosa be tossed out.

The question of Communist Chinese representation has come before the UN since 1949 but Peking never has been really close to being invited to enter the world body. Supporters of Nationalist China expect things to be no different this session.

QLB negotiates

QUEBEC (CP) — With a contentious contract clause settled Monday, government and union representatives were to meet again today as the strike against the Quebec Liquor Board inched closer to settlement.

Negotiators Monday ratified a job security clause, a stumbling block in talks since the strike by 3,000 workers started June 26.

Only monetary clauses remain to be settled.

Won't talk

PARIS (AP) — U.S. diplomats held out hope today that the Vietnam peace talks will resume soon but Saigon and Hanoi were publicly unyielding.

One U.S. source said the expanded parley, postponed from Nov. 6, might begin within two weeks. But he added there were differing views among U.S. delegation members about how long it will take to work out an agreement with South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu.

Resignation

LONDON (Reuters) — More than 60 Labor Members of Parliament are calling for the resignation of Sir Leslie O'Brien, governor of the nationalized Bank of England.

Accused assassin's new lawyer to ask for trial postponement

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (CP) — James Earl Ray's new lawyer, Percy Foreman, asks postponement today of Ray's trial in the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Despite the lateness of the escaped convict's switch of a lawyer, Judge W. Preston Battle is expected to go along with the motion to put the trial off, probably until after Jan. 1.

Foreman, a criminal lawyer of international reputation, replaced Arthur Hanes, former mayor of Birmingham, Ala., whom Ray fired Sunday night.

Ray, 40, was to go on trial today in Shelby County criminal court on charges that he killed King with a rifle shot last April 4 when King was here to aid the city's striking garbage collectors.

In the current issue of Look magazine, Ray is quoted as saying he unknowingly became involved in "some sort of plot to kill King" eight months before the slaying.

Meanwhile, authorities threw up what they hope will be a foolproof security screen around the court area.

Final security checks by hundreds of police began before dawn today.

An entire city block was cordoned off around the court and security areas within the 43-year-old steel and concrete building were guarded by armed men.

Small bomb explodes

MONTREAL (CP) — A bomb described by police as "very small" exploded Monday night in an underground pedestrian passageway linking the CNR's Central Station with the $75,000,000 Place Bonaventure trade centre and Bonaventure Hotel.

Although three persons were in the passageway when the bomb exploded at about 8 p.m. EST, police reported no injuries. Damage was "light."

The bomb, believed to have been made up of one or two sticks of dynamite, had been placed in a cubicle adjoining a transformer room.

Several square feet of bricks and plaster were knocked off the walls and ceiling, overhead lights were smashed and two telephones were blown from their installations.

Shattered glass from the lights and plate glass windows from nearby boutiques lay in the blast area.

Police said the blast was concentrated in an area about 25 feet square.

A Place Bonaventure security officer said that an anonymous telephone caller had warned of a bomb in the passageway about two months ago, but no bomb was found.

In two hours following the blast, police said they received 20 telephone calls warning of bombs planted across the city. All were false.

Nixon peace role's a mystery

NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Richard Nixon, while pledging that President Johnson speaks for him on Vietnam and other crucial foreign policy matters, has left a big question mark about his own possible pre-inaugural role as a peace-seeking diplomat overseas.

Nixon flew here Monday night for a stay of several days following a lengthy meeting with Johnson at the White House.

Before meeting the president he will replace Jan. 20, Nixon had talked about possible personal missions to Saigon or the Paris peace talks—should Johnson deem them helpful. He also suggested he might send emissaries abroad—presumably to Saigon or Paris—if Johnson agreed.

But after their White House talks, neither Nixon nor Johnson said a word, or even hinted at, pre-inaugural foreign travel by the president-elect or the dispatching of representatives from the incoming administration.

MAY MEET AGAIN

Johnson, however, did indicate he might be having more conferences with Nixon before Jan. 20.

Question booze grab

QUEBEC (CP) — A spokesman for Liberal Leader Jean Lesage said Monday night the Opposition will question the government today on the seizure of liquor worth almost $100,000 in suburban Vanier.

The matter also was expected to be brought up today at a meeting of the legislature's committee on government boards, which is discussing the 4½ month Quebec Liquor Board strike.

Police Chief Jules Andre Houde of Vanier said "important people" are involved in the weekend seizure, described as the biggest since 3,000 QLB employees went on strike June 26.

Chief Houde said no arrests were made during the raid at a warehouse late Friday night and early Saturday. It was up to provincial police to press charges.

IT'S WINTER AGAIN — Ski instructor Mario Podoriesz and ski patrol officer Miss Judy Lord were photographed

Saturday as skiing was opened at the Mount Orford Ski Centre for the earlybirds. One more good snowfall and the season should be in full swing for the skiers. (Record photo: Charles Catchpauha)

Plan Anglo CEGEP

There are now 23 Colleges of General and Professional Education (CEGEP's) operating in the province. These, however, are all French-language institutions and with a few exceptions where meagre starts have been made, the situation in the English sector appears little better than it did a year ago.

One of these starts began in the Eastern Townships recently with the formation of the Sherbrooke Regional College Planning Committee which is preparing a brief on an English CEGEP in the Sherbrooke area to match the French college which opened its doors to students this fall.

The CEGEP's, as recommended in the Parent Report and legally established by the Quebec Legislature in June 1967, are polyvalent colleges which will replace the first two years of what is now the university course. They will offer both terminal technical courses and pre-university courses.

The head of the committee planning such a college for the Sherbrooke area is Professor T. A. Judson, Head of the Department of Economics at Bishop's University.

"Our intention," he said, "is to eventually present the government with a brief outlining proposals for a college in the area, but right now we are just at the stage where we are establishing our definite topics of discussion."

The committee as a whole includes a cross-section of community and educational leaders from the area.

Professor Judson declined to predict a date for the completion of the report, but said the committee is studying potential members of the future college's corporation, courses to be offered and a site for the institution.

He said the committee had no definite site in mind at the moment, adding that even if one

By HUBERT BAUCH
(Special to The Record)

was recommended, it did not necessarily mean the government will approve of it in the final analysis.

There is another English CEGEP in the planning stages, however. This is Dawson College which is scheduled to open in Montreal next fall, but the situation there is still in a state of flux and planners in other centres of the province are hesitant to use it as a model until they see it in actual operation.

On the CEGEP front as a whole, the general picture is still cloudy.

McGill University and Loyola College were both asked to provide facilities to begin English colleges, but declined. Bishop's has offered its facilities, but has received no reply from the government.

Dean I. L. Campbell, Dean of Arts at Bishop's said recently Bishop's would be willing to offer its facilities on a rental basis to get a CEGEP for the townships started, but specified that the university itself must lose no staff in the process; it must be told in advance when they will be relieved of the burden, and could provide no technical education.

On the whole, the problem of curriculum for the English CEGEP's is still a question mark as the English sector is still asking for further modification in the rigid French-based specialization program before anything definite gets started.

An even bigger question mark is staff.

The Parent Report specified the CEGEP students should be taught by instructors with no less than an MA standing, but in a province such as Quebec where even the high schools are finding difficulty in acquiring competent staff, the hope for finding qualified teachers for the CEGEP's in a short space of time is a dim one indeed.

It is generally agreed that such people will not be lured away from university teaching posts in great numbers, nor will they be recruited in the rest of the provinces due to the lower pay scales in Quebec where the government is showing little inclination to raise salaries of teachers to begin with.

People in the education department have great expectations for the college system, but they themselves do not know where they are going to find people to staff them let alone buildings, corporations and other facilities necessary for the establishment of a system with any level of academic competence.

Another miscalculation, or oversight, by the officials in charge of the CEGEP's was the number of students who decided to enter the university preparatory course.

Planners had estimated that 70 per cent of the CEGEP applicants would opt for the terminal three-year technical course. However, when the colleges started rolling this year, they found the exact opposite had happened as the great majority of the students decided to enter the preparatory course.

The implications of this miscalculation triggered the student revolts which hit the colleges last month and forced a temporary shutdown of the institutions as the students vented their dissatisfaction with the fumbling of the education department.

The students were upset over the fact that the government had failed to anticipate the course choices which will see vast numbers of students graduating from the CEGEP preparatory course then find that they have no place to go as a result of space shortages in the existing French-language universities and the government's lagging in the construction of a second French university in Montreal.

"We'll be nothing but educated bums," was the popular student sentiment. With the

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

You don't need to gather the greatest possible number of points to have a good score in match point duplicate. All you need do, when it is your hand, is to score more than most other players will collect with the same cards.

East's two-club overall was made in accordance with best modern standards. He had a very good hand but did not want to make a takeout double with nothing in spades.

South's jump to three spades shut out West effectively. As a matter of fact a pass would have done just as good a job.

When the bidding got back to East he looked at his opponents' convention card and saw that they were playing pre-emptive jump responses in competition. Then he doubled.

This was a perfect example of the modern all-purpose double. It was primarily for takeout, although East would not mind if his partner left it in and showed just the sort of hand East held. A good hand with a good club suit, lots of high cards, and fair support for the unbid suit.

West recognized the bid and went to four hearts, whereupon North bid four spades. Had East been clairvoyant, he would have bid five hearts. That contract would wheel in because of the favorable position of the king and jack of clubs but East wanted a sure

Redistribution to be planned in 15 days

By DENNIS FINLAY
(Record Staff Reporter)

Mayor Armand Nadeau urged council last night to begin immediately plans for the redistribution of aldermen in Sherbrooke so the project will be finished in time for the 1970 en bloc municipal elections.

Despite a projected plan to subtract an alderman from the Centre and South Wards and to add an alderman to the North, West and East Wards, council decided to deliberate on the subject for 15 days.

Mayor Nadeau and a number of aldermen rejected Alderman Romeo Quintal's suggestion that each ward be divided into sectors for the en bloc election so that an alderman would be chosen by the voters of just the sector he represents.

Mayor Nadeau called this idea "undemocratic."

He said that after a number of years, the elections in ward sectors will be family contests, with one family establishing a "seigniorie" in a sector.

Alderman Everett Nicol also frowned on Mr. Quintal's suggestion when he muttered two words, "not democratic."

The mayor told council members he supported the idea of distributing three aldermen to the North, West and East wards and one alderman in the Centre Ward and one in the South.

He said, "I will not change my opinion," about this plan.

He added that if council members studied and thought about his suggestion, everyone would agree with it in 15 days. The idea is not new, however, as the redistribution topic has been discussed several times in previous years.

Earlier this year, the Civic Action League proposed basically the same idea.

However, the CAL project included a clause supporting the idea that aldermen face constituents in just one sector of a ward.

At that time, Mayor Nadeau literally cut to ribbons the CAL's proposal, principally because of this clause.

He and Mr. Quintal argued after Mayor Nadeau abruptly dismissed the CAL delegation when CAL members visited council to discuss the plan.

Alderman Hilaire Beliveau, a CAL member, supported Mayor Nadeau last night.

It was he, however, last night, who asked about the aldermen facing voters in just one sector.

He suggested nothing, he simply asked, but it was then that Alderman Quintal stepped into the conversation.

He seemed strongly in favor of this idea.

He said that the main reason he would appreciate the sector elections is because it is too difficult to cover the entire area of a ward.

Mayor Nadeau scoffed at this idea and chided Mr. Quintal, "go on television and everyone in Sherbrooke will hear you."

Besides, he said, election fever will be running high in Sherbrooke in 1970 because of the en bloc elections.

Alderman Tony Pinard also approved of the Mayor's proposed plan of redistribution.

Actually, the South and Centre Wards both have two aldermen, the same as the three larger wards.

The redistribution idea evolved from the need for more aldermen in the three expanding wards.

Alderman Beliveau said it was not just that the large East, North and West wards should have only two aldermen as the small South and Centre wards.

Council decides to maintain its no left turn policy on Wellington

Council decided last night to maintain its experiment in traffic circulation and will continue to enforce its interdiction of left turns at the corner of King-Wellington Streets until the end of the month.

Alderman Amedee Roy of the Centre Ward told council he has received complaints from Sherbrooke merchants who want the interdiction lifted.

However, Traffic Circulation Committee chairman, Alderman Gerard Deziel, said he has heard nothing but complimentary remarks and not one complaint about the experiment.

Mr. Deziel said citizens have told him the plan is "marvelous."

He also pointed out that city policemen who control traffic at the busy intersection have approved of the project.

A police report showed that not one complaint has been lodged against the idea.

Mr. Roy said members of the Sherbrooke Merchants' Association have asked him to try to have the project abolished.

Mayor Armand Nadeau told Mr. Roy to make a proposal to this effect.

The Centre Ward alderman did just that but none of the other nine aldermen seconded the proposal.

This means that they are all in favor of maintaining the no left-turn project until the end of November.

Mr. Deziel also said he and members of the Traffic Circulation Committee have decided to allot buses a parking space farther down King Hill than the present spot.

The new parking space will be located opposite the intersection of King Street and Depot Street.

This will allow an extra lane for traffic circulating on King Street and will facilitate a right turn onto Wellington Street North.

Outside council chambers, Mr. Deziel told reporters this new parking space will probably be free for buses by Thursday.

However, this date was set on the condition that council supports the idea.

Overcome bad start

Who can say what disasters are coped with backstage before the curtain rises on a major production?

Last night the large audience at the National Ballet performance of Swan Lake at the University of Sherbrooke was informed of changes in the lead roles. Then the curtain rose and beauty began.

Sets, costumes and lighting were breathtaking, but the dancing, frankly, was terrible. This was only at the start, however. The company seemed to get itself synchronized part way through the first scene and after that the performance was polished and worthy of those delightful costumes and sets.

Was it the last minute changes in the roles, or the fact that it is still early in the season? Or was it that the Grande Salle was slightly chilly? Whatever it was, the

Quakers aid Vietnamese war victims

By IVY HATCH
(Record Correspondent)

BOUNDARY — Saturday afternoon a group of 25 Quakers from Massachusetts came to the Boundary communities of Derby Line, Vermont, and Rock Island, Quebec, to donate money for war aid to Viet Cong and the Vietnamese war victims.

The group left that morning from Amherst, Mass., picking up people at Stockbridge, Williamstown, Hatfield, Whately and Gill, Mass. They arrived at Derby Line about 2:30 p.m. and formed a vigil at the Baxter Park. During this time, one of the group, David Clark, read a letter from the United States' treasury department warning the Quakers that they are violating the enemy act.

However, all realized that they were doing and proceeded to carry out their errand of donating money to the Canadian Friends Service Committee.

After a formality at the Derby Line Customs and Immigration, they were permitted to cross over the border into Canada where they were again interviewed and given permission to enter Canada.

Mrs. Margaret Watt, of the Canadian Friends Service Committee, Montreal, was to have met the Quakers at Rock Island, but she was ill. She was replaced by Mrs. Rixford Knight of Ayer's Cliff. Mrs. Knight is not a member of the committee.

On the steps of the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce in Rock Island, Mrs. Knight received the gifts from the Quakers and sizable sums sent by friends from Massachusetts for this cause.

Afterward the Quakers were entertained for refreshments at the home of Duncan Graham, a leader of the World Federalists, and Mrs. Graham of Stanstead.

May 27 and November 11, 1967, Quakers and friends crossed into Canada from the Amherst area and contributed $5,000 in cash to be used for medical supplies, to all victims of the Vietnam war.

The Quakers say "we are proceeding in the faith that the spirit of giving to all victims of war may directly help to relieve suffering and ultimately help to dissolve hostilities. Our commitment transcends the barriers between men that have been raised by this war. Our action is based upon the conviction that no man is an enemy."

Among those active on the committee and here on Saturday were Michael Rice, Allison K. Kaufhold, David and Mary Clark, Marshall Smith and Alice Scheffey.

The money donated is used to purchase medical supplies from Canadian Drug manufacturers, who have offered them at cost price. The supplies are then forwarded to the Red Cross of North and South Vietnam and the National Liberation Front.

Politicians should go easy on vote promises

With the possibility of a provincial general election being called for the early months of 1969 now might be the time to offer some gratuitous advice to the politicians.

Go easy with your promises.

There is a strange feeling among a large number of the electors — perhaps a realization that there is a price tag on everything, even the free services provided by the governments at all levels.

The mood of the electorate seems in marked contrast to that prevailing in years gone by when the best way a politician could garner votes was to promise his supporters that he would reward them with something — a new post office, a wharf on the local mill pond, a stretch of paved road leading nowhere or even a social security plan offering them substantial pensions for life and the payment of their hospital and medical bills.

These proved attractive arguments as long as the speaker could convince his listeners that somehow or another the money could be produced by the government without any important contribution by Mr. Average Voter.

But in recent months Mr. Average Voter has become painfully aware that he must pay for what he gets.

Recently all levels of government have been forced to raise their tax levies in an effort to balance their budget.

And the increases have come where it hurts most — in direct levies on the small and medium income groups, through higher income and sales taxes, boosts in postal rates, automobile licenses, tobacco and liquor levies.

No longer is the excuse used that the "big fellow" will bear the burden.

So, Mr. Politician, remember when you seek to sell the voter a bill of goods that he is still meeting the cost of what you sold him last summer, or two, or four or even eight years ago.

Concentration is the ability to read the paper while the frau recites your list of chores for the weekend.

Hairnets for hippies

The Automobile Legal Association, a United States co-operative organization dedicated to protecting the interest of motorists generally but particularly in the field of law, may find itself under fire from certain sections of the younger generation for what they might consider an invasion of their human rights.

It proposes legislation to make mandatory the wearing of hair nets by hippie drivers.

In support of its argument, ALA states that lengthy locks are a traffic hazard not only because they obscure the vision of the one whose head they "grace," but because other drivers are disconcerted when they see a car being driven by "a ball of fuzz."

"Many hairstyles of the younger set obstruct both forward and lateral vision," says Philip C. Wallwork, ALA safety director. "A regulation requiring hair nets for the hairy set may prove as sensible as the regulations requiring helmets for motorcyclists."

The problem could also be solved by mandatory haircuts, or perhaps even a hairstyle with peepholes.

But that, he thinks, may be too drastic a step.

Many a speculator in the market has feathered his nest with what a little birdie told him.

A Maharajah

His father had elephants and tigers but times have changed

NEW DELHI (CP) — The Maharajah of Dhrangadhra rode in the front seat of the vintage Plymouth, beside the chauffeur. When the car stopped, he stepped out without waiting for the chauffeur to open the door.

The 45-year-old member of Parliament was enthusiastically greeted by two whippets and a dachshund named Deirdre. "My father may have had elephants, tigers and the like," he said in a faultless Oxford accent, "but times have changed."

Sriraj Meghrajji, literally Great and Respected King of Thunder and Clouds was elected a Swatantra member of the federal Parliament in February, 1967. He represents a constituency embracing his old realm of Dhrangadhra, in the state of Gujarat in western India.

His party is the official opposition to the governing Congress party. A rightist party, pro-West, which advocates a free economy and less state control, the Swatantra is in continual disagreement with socialistic leanings of the Congress party.

The maharajah took the lead in demanding censure of Moscow for the invasion of Czechoslovakia in August. But the motion was defeated and the government chose to deplore rather than to condemn the action. Sriraj Meghrajji inherited the crown of Dhrangadhra from his father in 1942, when he was 19.

At his anointing 13 days later he not only became head of state but head of all castes in the state. The maharajah was born in the Rajput sub-caste of the Kshatrya, originally the warrior caste. Considered above castes at the moment of crowning, the new sovereign could then mingle freely with all persons without fear of spiritual death.

One year later he was married to a princess from the state of Jodhpur. He did not meet his betrothed until their wedding day. The marriage had been arranged prior to his father's death.

Sriraj Meghrajji ruled his state for almost six years, until India achieved independence in 1947 and the princely states were incorporated as part of India. For the following four years he was governor of Saurashtra, a federation made up of Dhrangadhra and other smaller domains within Gujarat.

Then he spent six years at Oxford, obtaining a degree in social anthropology. He wrote his thesis on the Hindu sacraments.

Why did he seek a seat in Parliament? "The Congress party policies have done nothing to change the conditions of Gujarat, let alone of India, in their 20 years of power," he said. "The public debt is rising and hasn't helped the standard of living. The immediate cause was when, last fall, they removed the modern equipment of one of our hospitals."

COMMENT

by Lubor J. Zink

PRAGUE — (TNS) — The story of the Munich betrayal of Czechoslovakia by her Western friends and allies is sufficiently known not to need repetition. But a brief outline of Czechoslovakia's motives for basing her security on alliance with France after World War I, and on alliance with Russia after World War II, is perhaps necessary for understanding the tragic events of 1948 and 1968.

Mindful of the lessons of 10 centuries in their struggle for national survival, the Czechs and Slovaks naturally turned for protection of their reborn state to the strongest military power on the continent.

A treaty of mutual assistance with France was to form the main pillar of Czechoslovakia's defence against the possibility of revival of German aggressiveness.

This cornerstone of security was subsequently supplemented by the so-called Little Entente which, tying in Yugoslavia and Rumania, was to discourage Hungary's alliance with Germany in case the Germans tried another "Drang nach Osten." (This pre-World War II lineup indicates that the emerging triumvirate of Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia and Rumania in the 1968 crisis need not have been purely accidental.)

When Hitler's belligerency forced Soviet Russia to reappraise her European policy, the Benes-built defence system based on France and the Little Entente was supplemented in 1935 by a Czechoslovak-Soviet treaty which was made conditional on the activation of the Czech-French pact.

This formidable and seemingly foolproof defence arrangement collapsed in Munich, although Moscow maintains to this day that the Soviet Union was willing and ready to give military aid to Czechoslovakia despite France's refusal to honor her obligations.

This Soviet claim, though subsequently denied in Benes' memoirs, left an indelible mark in the mind of a despairing nation which felt betrayed and sacrificed by the West for what soon proved to be a naive delusion of "peace in our time."

It revived the romantic dreams of pan-Slavism which played an important part in the Czech and Slovak national renaissance during the 19th Century. Russia, regardless of her political system, was once again regarded as the only hope of the small Slav nations threatened by the German giant.

While this image faded after the signing of the Hitler-Stalin pact in 1939, it never disappeared from Czechoslovakia's consciousness. When Nazi Germany attacked the Soviet Union, hopes of eventual liberation swung sharply from England to Russia. The Communists, who until then denounced the war as an imperialist conflict, joined the anti-Nazi underground and their propaganda started beating nationalistic drums.

In a generally left-oriented milieu, reeling under the demoralizing blow of Munich, patriotism came close to being synonymous with Communism. All this had a deep psychological effect which the Communists thoroughly exploited after the liberation of the bulk of the country by the Red Army.

Bedford woman hops plane to see her relatives in California city

BEDFORD—(Special)— Mrs. M. H. Monk left by plane from Dorval Thursday November 7, for Ventura, California, where she will spend several months with her son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Darker and family.

Mrs. Ralph Van Horn and Miss Dorothy Van Horn have returned from Lennoxville, where they visited Prof. and Mrs. Van Horn at Bishop's University.

Peter Jackson and Andy McKim from Bishop's College School were with their parents Mr. and Mrs. William Jackson and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas McKim for the mid-term holidays, while Bill Craighead and Ricky Robinson, students at Stanstead College spent the mid-term with their parents Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Craighead and Mr. and Mrs. R. Robinson.

Mr. and Mrs. Kent Smith and son Mark have returned to their home at Baie d'Urfe after visiting Mrs. Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Bradshaw. To accede to the request of a group, a referendum was called for November 4, for a long term bylaw of the amount of $135,000 according to bylaw 190, of the bylaws of the town of Bedford. Included in this sum was $25,000, which was to be used for the improvements of the Bail buildings, with the view of using them for a small recreation center, the building which was to be made into a recreation center was purchased for a municipal garage, for which purpose it was very suitable, and for which it has been used. A group headed by Councillors Marc Morin, J. Groulx and Kenneth Best desired that $25,000 be spent on the project. For some time efforts have been made for the building of a youth center, in Bedford, in which much interest has been taken by both the townspeople, the Chamber of Commerce, the St. Jean Baptiste Society, the religious and the Loisirs. Among objections to the proposed plan was that the building was not suitable. $25,000 would be wasted in repairs, is in the center of a residential area and is in the yard of the municipal garage.

There was a controversy over the matter, the results of the referendum was most conclusive. Bedford has an evaluation of $9,000,000, evaluation registered against the bylaw was $5,000,000, with $506,600 for it, with 306 voting against and 36 voting for. Other items were extension of sewers and waterworks service on Cyr, Campbell and Dupont Streets, $16,000; extension of waterworks and sewers services on Hebert Street, section A and B, $12,000; aqueduct pipe, crossing River Street, $20,000; construction of sidewalks on Elizabeth Street, purchase of land to widen streets, $4,000 and installation of water meters, all of which were satisfactory. The bone of contention was the $25,000 to be spent on an inadequate youth center.

WATERLOO — St. Luke's ACW met recently in the Guild Room with 26 ladies in attendance. Plans were made for the Christmas tea, several playlets were presented and a film was shown.

Mrs. Eleanor Elston reported that articles had been purchased for the surprise packages, and tickets were given out for sale. Mrs. Dickerson, Mrs. B. Champagne, Mrs. Hazel Liggett and Miss Hope Davidson will do the decorating. Posters will be distributed by Mrs. Champagne.

It was reported that Ronald Tryhorn had donated a wood burning stove to the group for use in the rummage room. It was installed by Raymond Streeter. How long would your family last on $25,000?

Five years maybe? Then what?

Invested at 6% with a monthly drawing account of $500, it would last just under 4 years and 10 months.

Now ask yourself this question. How long could your wife and children live on your estate? Would there be enough money to ensure a mortgage-free home? For your children to grow on? And how about their education? In other words, enough to ensure continuing family security as long as it's needed.

These important questions need expert help to answer. That's why Manufacturers Life has developed a special Financial Planning Service.

Here's how it works. Through the Manufacturers Life Representative, the service focuses on you and your family, your present situation and your objectives. It cuts out all guesswork and generalities. As part of this service the Manufacturers Life Representative will plot your individual Security Graph—the clearest way we know of to show you how you stand. Why not get in touch with the well-informed professional from Manufacturers Life. You will find him a competent adviser who will respect your confidence and understand your problems.

lecture halls of the French universities already filled to capacity, they began looking toward the English universities. The space shortage in the French universities becomes shockingly apparent when one realizes that McGill and Sir George Williams Universities already have a student body composed of 20 per cent French students.

And this is even before the first CEGEP graduate has tried to enter the door of a university.

The grievances go on and on. The bursary question is still as much of an issue as ever. Even more so now that the government has cut down on the bursaries in favor of more loans. The technical students claim they have been shunted into courses which are irrelevant and not geared to the needs of society in general.

In the meantime they are planning in Sherbrooke. A report should be ready in at least six months. A report, however, is not a school and according to one high-ranking committee member, it will be at least five years or more before an English CEGEP opens its doors here.

Extended area phone service on way to more ET localities

Bell Canada will inaugurate extended area service January 28, 1969, in the localities of Coaticook, Saint-Malo, East Hereford and Sawyerville.

Jean Vincent, Bell Canada manager in Sherbrooke, pointed out that when extended area service becomes effective, long distance charges will no longer apply between East Hereford, Saint-Malo and Coaticook. Will also be exempt from long distance charges calls from Saint-Malo to East Hereford, two-way calls between Sawyerville and Coaticook and two-way calls between Coaticook and East Hereford and Coaticook and Saint-Malo.

Mr. Vincent added that subscribers in these four localities should remember to dial the full seven digits for all their local calls.

Special services numbers will also be changed for Saint-Malo and East Hereford customers. Information can be reached by dialing "411" and Repair Service by dialing "6117".

Mr. Vincent expressed the opinion that this new service answering as it does the needs of the communities concerned should contribute to the economic growth of the region.

SHERBROOKE BEAVERS will be gunning for their second straight victory this evening but they will run into the hottest club in the Quebec Senior League at St. Hyacinthe. The Gauls hold a six-point advantage over the pack and seem well on their way to oop the honors.

MEMBERS OF THE PRESS and radio are claiming the Gauls will go all the way but let's not forget the season is still young. I am not trying to take anything away from the Gauls as I figure Pit Girouard has done a wonderful job in rebuilding the club but so have some of the others.

THIS YEAR IT will be a long grind with a 60-game schedule and anything could happen but so far the Gauls have got the jump and are holding a six-point bulge. At home they will be tough to beat. Out of eight games they have six victories. They were upset by Granby and Chicoutimi.

THE TIGERS, Allan Cup defenders, are having a little trouble in getting down to earth but I understand that Coach Lou Poliquin took the wind out of their sails last week. Lou has been very disappointed with his team's showing and told them in a few, fiery words. It changed things as Sunday they ran over Phil Watson's Sags 9-3.

AS FOR THE BEAVERS they finally looked like a hockey team last Tuesday when they posted a 4-2 victory over the Tigers. They turned in their best performance and everyone did their share of work which has been lacking in previous games.

THE BIG FAULT with the Beavers since they posted a win in their opening tilt has been the let-down of the veterans on the club. They have failed to show any resemblance to last year's performances. They have just been going through the motions.

COACH BRUCE CLINE has been waiting but now I think he has reached the end of the rope and if things don't change for the better it will be tough on some. No team, especially in this league, can hope to play about 50% of their capacity and win games. The loop is too well balanced with a lot of young aspiring players who are out to play hockey and make a name for themselves.

ONE NEEDS ONLY to look at the statistics to see the big reason why the Beavers are in the cellar. In 12 games they have dented the net 30 times, which is the lowest in the league. They have only one player in the top 25 scorers, Bill Dupre, and he is way below his last year form. He has registered only six goals with five assists and is tied for tenth spot in the list.

THE BEAVERS have a good team on paper but it looks as though someone will have to build a fire under them to get them moving. They certainly lack the drive of some of the other clubs. I think a couple of wins would change everything but this would take an all-out effort from everyone, no exception.

NOW IS THE TIME for a club to pick up some points for a cushion as next month it will be tougher to post victories as all clubs will be swinging along in high gear. So boys bow about!

settling down and commence to show a little more fight and drive. It will pay off and I am sure the fans will get behind you once again but so far you haven't showed much of anything. So let's go.

CONGRATULATIONS are in line for Andre Lachance, the hardworking executive from the University of Sherbrooke, on being named president of the Auto Club of Sherbrooke. Andre takes over from M. Lussier and will guide the club for the coming season.

JOE DIMAGGIO says a Japanese-American World Series is no longer a pipe-dream and that it won't be a walkaway for the American champions. Joe has been in Japan for 11 days coaching Taiyo Whales and within a few years the Japs will be in a position to hold their own.

THERE ARE 12 major league teams in Japan but next year with the American expansion there will be 24 and this means the talent will be stretched thin. The way the Japanese are learning the game they're going to catch up before too long. That is something to think about.

THE EXECUTIVE of the Sherbrooke Racing Club has made what they hope will help matters at the local track. They have done away with the Wednesday night card, shifting it to Thursday, and dropped the Saturday program. The Sunday afternoon fixture still remains.

THE MAIN REASON for the mid-week change has been the fall off of fans. They figure it will be better on Thursday. The Saturday move was brought about by the television of the NHL games. So don't forget next racing card is "Thursday" not Wednesday.

THE NAMING of Alderman Amedee Roy as "Optimist of the Year" by the Sherbrooke Optimist Club is a well deserved choice and one which should meet with approval of all sporting fans of the City. Amedee has been one of the pillars of Little League Baseball in the City and has devoted many an hour helping the kids and his choice is a well earned one.

LITTLE LEAGUE has come a long way since Ted Anderson took over the reins as president several years ago. Harry Kouri has replaced Ted but still they work together and with such men it is sure to continue to thrive for years to come.

HARLEM GLOBETROTTERS will be at the Sports Palace Saturday and anyone interested in basketball should be on hand. The New York Giants will oppose the Trotters in what should be a good game and Ferguson Jenkins, man in charge of the Canadian publicity for the club, says they have some fine acts to go along with the attraction. Tickets can be had by calling the Sports Palace at 569-9217.

Cahill confident Argos can drop powerful Ottawa

TORONTO (CP) — Coach Leo Cahill of Toronto Argonauts says the "same positive attitude" that got them into the Eastern Football Conference final for the first time in seven years "will get us to the Grey Cup."

Cahill says his club is just as good as Ottawa Rough Riders, whom the Argos meet here Sunday in the first of the two-game total-point final for the right to represent the EFC in the Grey Cup Nov. 30.

"Our attitude, and I don't feel it was a negative one, accounted for straight losses in our three meetings with the Riders this season," he said Monday night as the Argos prepared for a light workout and a review of Ottawa game films.

"It seemed that everytime we played them this year, there was something at stake. We were trying to gain first place or win the conference championship and we were too cautious—just wanted to win. This one is different. It's important, but it's a total-point affair and I think our players are going to be a lot looser out there."

REBUILT TEAM — Cahill, who inherited the last-place Argos in 1967, has used this type of amateur psychology to build the team that made the playoffs last season for the first time since 1962 and reached the final round this season for the first time since 1961.

After taking over as head coach in July 1967, he said that the main problem within the Argos ranks was a feeling of insecurity among the players. He said his first move would be to halt the airift of players from the U.S. to Toronto.

Breaking away from the airift that stocked most of the Canadian Football League clubs with talent that came back to haunt the Argos over seven years, Cahill elected to stick with each player until he was satisfied the man was beyond improvement.

Either Norris or Dave Dryden, with a 4.24 average, will be in goal Wednesday night when Pittsburgh Penguins play the Black Hawks at Chicago. Tonight Oakland Seals visit Los Angeles Kings.

In other games Wednesday, Boston Bruins visit Toronto Maple Leafs. St. Louis Blues are at New York. Detroit Red Wings meet the Seals at Oakland and Philadelphia Flyers play Minnesota North Stars at Minneapolis.

DEMOTION UNEXPECTED — The demotion was a blow to DeJordy who shared the Vezina Trophy with Glenn Hall in the 1966-67 season.

HOCKEY Beavers visit Gauls tonight as Vics play host to Tigers Sherbrooke Beavers return to action this evening, meeting St. Hyacinthe Gauls in St. Hyacinthe after having rested for the past week.

In other Quebec Senior Hockey League action tonight Victoriaville meets the Vics in Granby. Sherbrooke in their last outing clipped the Victoriaville Tigers 4-2 before a crowd of local fans at the Sports Palace.

St. Hyacinthe continues to dominate the league in most departments, showing a relatively well-balanced team in their two trips to Sherbrooke thus far this season.

The Gauls, facing a tough Chicoutimi contingent for top place honors, have to keep winning if they hope to keep abreast of the league standings.

Victoriaville, who have played haphazardly since the season's debut, found the range in their last outing Sunday night walloping Phil Watson's Chicoutimi Saguenens 9-3.

In hopes of returning Sherbrooke as a prime contender in the league, Beavers' general manager, Real Veilleux has announced another new player is under negotiation.

Mr. Veilleux was quoted as saying yesterday that the time being spent by the Beavers in search of new faces to strengthen the team should produce favorable results.

Andre Lagueux is the newest player to be sought by the Beavers. Quebec Senior Hockey League president, Len O'Donnell, said this morning, though, that the Beavers didn't have the Lagueux was picked up by the Granby Vics, following the Drummondville Eagles' retreat from the league this season. Lagueux refused to go to the Vics' training camp and was placed on the league's black list.

Several other teams have tried to get Mr. Fausse's authorization to negotiate with Lagueux, but this is the first time the Vics have granted such permission.

According to the league's constitution a player who has been placed on the league's black list cannot be negotiated with until permission to do so has been granted by the league and by the team, in this case the Granby Vics.

He said according to the league's constitution, Mr. Veilleux must have the league's authorization before seeking Lagueux.

Mr. Veilleux said he did have the authorization of Gaston Fausse to negotiate with the Drummondville Royals in hopes of liberating the centreman.

Indians edge Sher-wood 4-3, Waterville meets Coaticook tonight in Dow Hockey loop Sherbrooke Indians moved into a first-place tie with Sher-Wood in the Dow Independent Hockey League standings Sunday night at the Sports Palace edging Sher-Wood 4-3.

Last year's regular season champions, the Sherbrooke Indians, opened the scoring at the 2:26 mark of the first period when Marcel Meunier beat Sher-Wood netminder Jean-Guy Gagnon with a blue-line drive. The puck slipped between Gagnon's leg and the goal post with the drive bouncing through a number of players in a seemingly innocent play.

The first period was well played. Both teams missed a number of good scoring opportunities especially Sher-Wood who have been inactive for the past week.

Sher-Wood tied the score at the 1:01 mark of the second period with a goal by Langlois on passes from Gagnon and Beaudette.

Six minutes later Sher-Wood went ahead 2-1, Mercier scoring on passes from Dostie and Courchesne. At 8:04 Sherbrooke tied the score 2-2 on a goal by Leblanc, Caron and Gadbois assisting.

It was not until the 16-second mark of the third period that Sherbrooke Indians went ahead again 3-2, when Leblanc, on passes from Caron and Gadbois scored a picture pass play tally. This was Leblanc's second goal of the day.

Sher-Wood's Yvon Roberge evened the count eight minutes later on one of the finest shots ever seen in Dow Independent Hockey League action.

Roberge drove a high-rising slapshot into the top corner from just inside the blue-line. The shot whizzed through a defenseman's legs, caught the far goal post and careened into the opposite corner of the cage.

Guy Desruisseaux scored the winning tally for Sherbrooke at the 11:12 mark of the final frame. On a picture pass-play from Gilbert, the Indians moved ahead 4-3 and into a first place tie.

Sher-Wood attempted to even the count but a strong checking defensive effort by the Indians kept Sher-Wood hemmed in their own end for the remainder of the period.

Dow Independent Hockey League action continues tonight with the Waterville Firemen taking on the Coaticook Dynamics at 8:30 p.m. at the Sports Palace.

Bob "Showboat" Hall at Sports Palace Saturday

Twenty years of competitive sports activity is unusual. When the sport is basketball, it's remarkable. And when the average has been over 200 games a year, it's phenomenal.

That's the record of Bob (Showboat) Hall, top comic of the Harlem Globetrotters, who will be in Sherbrooke at the Sports Palace on Saturday.

Hall's string of over 4,000 games is a record of the celebrated basketball travelers — and very likely a record for the sport.

His 20 years in a Globetrotter uniform is a club record. Only teammate J. C. Gipson, who has 19 years with the Trotters and still active, is within striking distance. But as long as "Showboat" continues to pound the court there's little chance anyone will log more time than this world renowned court jester.

Hall came to the late Abe Saperstein's Globetrotters in 1949, not long after he graduated from Miller High School in Detroit. At Miller and at Brewster Center, a famed Detroit training ground for athletes, he had come to the attention of a former Globetrotter, Gus Finney. Finney recommended the youngster to Saperstein.

In addition to his skills as a player, Hall showed a flair for showmanship and comedy, and rapidly developed into a Globetrotter star.

When the late and famed Goose Tatum and the Globetrotters parted company in 1955, he was "Showboat" Hall who stepped in to fill Tatum's shoes as the team's "clown prince."

And he's filled them most capably while bringing joy and laughter to millions in just about all of the 87 countries around the world that have enjoyed the antics and hijinks of the fun-loving Trotters.

DeJordy blamed for Hawks' poor showing, farmed to Dallas club

Denis DeJordy apparently has been blamed for the slow start of Chicago Black Hawks this season in the National Hockey League.

The Black Hawks, tied for last in the Eastern Division with Detroit Red Wings, Monday assigned DeJordy to Dallas of the Central Hockey League and recalled another goaltender, Jack Norris.

The Black Hawks have scored more goals than any other NHL team—52. But they also have allowed the most—45—and are on a four-game losing streak.

DeJordy, a 30-year-old native of St. Hyacinthe, Que., had allowed 40 goals in 12 games this season for an unimpressive average of 3.70.

Either Norris or Dave Dryden, with a 4.24 average, will be in goal Wednesday night when Pittsburgh Penguins play the Black Hawks at Chicago. Tonight Oakland Seals visit Los Angeles Kings.

In other games Wednesday, Boston Bruins visit Toronto Maple Leafs. St. Louis Blues are at New York. Detroit Red Wings meet the Seals at Oakland and Philadelphia Flyers play Minnesota North Stars at Minneapolis.

when he became the first-string goaltender because Hall had been lost to St. Louis in the expansion draft.

Norris, a 26-year-old native of Saskatoon, made his NHL debut in the 1964-65 season with Boston.

After returning to the minors for two seasons, he was traded to the Black Hawks May 15, 1967. Pit Martin, Gilles Marotte and Norris went to Chicago for Fred Stanfield, Phil Esposito and Ken Hodge in that transaction.

He allowed 132 goals in 39 games for a 3.27 average last season with Dallas.

COMPLETE SECOND TRADE — Los Angeles Kings and Detroit Red Wings made their second trade in less than a month in other off-the-ice business Monday. The Kings acquired right winger Ron Anderson from Detroit for defenceman Paul Popiel.

Bobby Hull leads NHL scoring race, Berenson has new record

MONTREAL (CP) — What's Red Berenson got that Bobby Hull hasn't? A six-goal game in the National Hockey League.

While statistics released by the NHL Monday show Chicago Black Hawks' Hull leading the individual scoring race with 24 points on nine goals and 15 assists, they also show that Berenson has vaulted into a four-way tie for second spot on the strength of his six-goal game against Philadelphia Flyers Nov. 7. Hull now has nine goals and 11 assists for his 20 points.

If history continues to repeat itself in the NHL, what Berenson did in Philadelphia will not happen again until 1992. Berenson's half-dozen goals tied a modern era one-game record established by Syd Howe of Detroit Red Wings in 1944, 24 years ago.

And 24 years prior to that, in 1920, Joe Malone of Quebec Bulldogs set the all-time record for most goals scored in an NHL game by an individual when he counted seven against Toronto St. Pats.

Berenson's performance marked the first time in the 52-year history of the league a player had scored more than five goals in a road game. Five goals had been scored only three times previously on the road—all in the 1924-25 season — by Babe Dye of Toronto, Redvers Green of Hamilton and Harry Broadbent of Montreal Maroons.

St. Louis' Red Baron, Berenson became the first player in NHL history to score five consecutive goals in a game—either regular-season or playoff.

TOOK TEN SHOTS — The six goals by Berenson were scored in only 10 shots he took at Doug Favell in the Philadelphia net. He was stopped by Favell on his first sortie, but scored on each of the next five shots he took.

The St. Louis centre was stopped on his seventh shot and then scored his sixth goal on his eighth.

Ironically, he didn't get a shot on the net in St. Louis 4-1 loss to Canadiens here Saturday night.

His seven points in Philadelphia, with one assist in the 8-0 contest, plus two other assists he had last week, vaulted Berenson into a tie with Bob Nevin of New York, Jean Beliveau of Montreal and Gordie Howe of Detroit.

His second-place showing this week is the highest plateau a player from the west division has hit in the short history of NHL expansion, started in 1967.

Stan Mikita and Jim Pappin of Chicago are tied for sixth place with 18 points each. It is the lowest Mikita has been on the scoring ladder in more than a season.

Jean Ratelle of New York is eighth with 16 points, followed by Phil Esposito of Boston Bruins and Detroit's Alex Delvecchio of Detroit with 15 each.

Lorne Worsley and Rogatien Vachon, Montreal Canadiens' veteran-youngster goaltending combo, lead the Vezina Trophy race with a combined goals-against average of 2.08 a game.

Jacques Plante of St. Louis and Ed Giacomin of New York each have recorded a pair of shutouts to lead in that department.
