Young Liberals Hear Brig. Gregg Support Veterans' Affairs

In an address at the second annual banquet of the Westmount Young Liberals' Association, held at the Reform Club on Monday evening, Brigadier Milton F. Gregg, V. C., C.B.E., M.C., V.D., stated that although the single student veteran appears to have been overlooked recently, when the government announced an increase in allowances to married student veterans and disabled veterans, there was no differentiation.

He told his audience that, contrary to the opinion expressed by many First World War veterans during the war years, the government's rehabilitation programme "has gone over the peak."

"Of the 1,000,000 men and women in the forces in 1944, roughly 950,000 have been demobilized and rehabilitated," the former chancellor of the University of New Brunswick stated.

Brig. Gregg declared that a recent report showed that out of a total of 1,500,000 veterans of both First and Second World Wars, only 19,000 were unemployed for a period of 30 days. "Apart from this, 71,000 are receiving pensions for disabilities."

He told his listeners that although he did not have any hand in organizing the veterans' rehabilitation programme, he believed it to be a well rounded plan which provided for every phase of a veteran's rehabilitation into civilian life, "and most important of all," he added, "it was ready in plenty of time."

The speaker was introduced by David MacKenzie, secretary of the Westmount Young Liberals' Association, and Robert Sproule, treasurer, thanked him. Allan MacLean, national director of the National Liberal Federation in Ottawa and Roland Lefrancois, president of the Montreal Young Liberals' Association were guests at the head table. William Macdonald, president of the Westmount Young Liberals' Association was chairman.

The Hon. Paul Martin, Federal Minister of Health and Welfare, was scheduled to address the meeting, but was unable to do so due to illness.

Boys' Brigade Enrolment Meet

First Company, along with all the other Youth organizations, attended Divine Service, Sunday morning in St. Andrew's Church. Following the service, a brief, impressive enrolment ceremony was conducted by Rev. G. K. Ward, the Assistant Minister, with Captain J. Howard Richardson. Following the charge to the Officers, Corporals Bryer Rice and Gordon Turner were installed, and the following new recruits presented with New Testaments as well as membership cards — Privates: John Fuller, Michael Fuller, Fred Campbell, Evan White, David White, Stephen Montague, Jim Pickford, Peter Dean and Douglas Smith. The color bearers were Cpls. Leonard Macdougall and Gordon Lough, with Pvt. Hadden Whitelaw and Cpls. Bingham King and Gordon Turner as escort.

First Company has received a new Charter from headquarters in Great Britain, replacing the original which was damaged by fire. This will be framed and used during future investment ceremonies.

St. Henri Baptist Christian Youth Centre Active

Last year, during the month of September, the work of a great missionary enterprise was undertaken by Westmount Baptist Church and the Baptist Home Mission Board. A committee, composed of members from Westmount Baptist and St. Henri Baptist formed what is known as The Christian Youth Center of St. Henri Baptist Church.

Under the capable leadership of Rev. Denis F. Mildon coupled with the able assistance of his wife and a number of other workers, the project is proving to be tremendously worthwhile. The object of the Center is to convey the Gospel to the youth of St. Henri and to plan a program whereby they can work together and so become better Christians.

A wide, and carefully planned program, is carried on during the week, and the enthusiastic response is definitely encouraging to the leaders.

Each evening and all day Sunday, services are planned to give children, of both tongues, an opportunity to learn more about Christ. Young Adult Classes, Sunday School, Young People's Society, Gospel Services in both French and English, Handicraft Classes and Family Night are just a part of the varied program. Each morning throughout the week, a nursery is conducted for children of pre-school age. An average of twenty children are in attendance.

The work of the Christian Youth Center has been handicapped by the fact that the premises are in a poor state of repair, and there is a decided lack of equipment. The committee is, however, thankful for what has been accomplished, nothwithstanding the handicaps encountered in the various activities.

Putters' Social Club Plans Movies Monday

Westmount Putters Social Club held its regular weekly social evening in Victoria Hall, on Monday.

Due to the success of the recent games nights a similar programme with some new innovations was planned.

The Shuffleboard Tournament was won by Mrs. H. Smith and P. Warner after some hard-fought battles. Other activities included table-tennis, darts, blow football, Chinese checkers and bridge.

Buses Strike Two Pedestrians Crossing Street

Westmount Police Department records show that on Wednesday, Sydney Shard, of 241 Elm Avenue, was struck and knocked to the street by an autobus. which was passing a stationary street car, as he was crossing Sherbrooke Street at the intersection of Clarke Avenue.

On Saturday afternoon, R. J. Inglis, 22 Arlington Avenue, was knocked down by an autobus opposite No. 4896 Sherbrooke Street, as he was crossing the street. The injuries sustained were of a minor nature.

City Officials Go To Ottawa With Anti-Smoke Group

In an attempt to gain federal support in measures to alleviate the unhealthy and unnecessary pall of smoke that blankets St. Henri ward, is a nuisance to other west end municipalities, and which is claimed to originate largely from railway roundhouses and stationary engines, and from railway coal-burning locomotives, a delegation composed of City Manager P. E. Jarman and Alderman W. S. Green of Westmount, six Montreal councillors, many members of the Young Men's Business Association of St. Henri, the West End Professional and Commercial Association of Montreal, left Montreal on Wednesday to meet Federal cabinet ministers in Ottawa. There, they presented Federal Transport Minister Lionel Chevrier and Finance Minister Douglas Abbott with a memorandum concerning St. Henri's smoke nuisance.

Due to the fact that railroad operation is directed by the Board of Transport Commissioners, the City cannot place any anti-smoke by-law into effect without agreement of the board.

The delegation petitioned that a special board of inquiry be set up

Drive Opens Monday P. B. Pitcher Chairman

The Canadian Red Cross 1948 Campaign for funds with which to carry on the manifold works of this far-flung organization will get underway on Monday, when thousands of workers across the country will begin their annual canvas, it was announced by P. D. Pitcher, chairman of the Westmount Division of the Campaign.

Mr. Pitcher stated that the Westmount Division, with headquarters situated in Dominion Douglas Church Hall this year, has an objective of $33,000 to be reached, the same amount as that of last year's campaign, and that there will be 26 teams of canvassers, of from 10 to 25 workers each, to canvas every home and establishment in Westmount.

The campaign, he stated, is officially scheduled to run from March 1st to 20th, but he urges people to get their subscriptions in to the Red Cross during the first two weeks of the drive.

Westmounters are urged to donate liberally to the Red Cross in this campaign. The humanitarian work of this Societ is known and recognized throughout the world. Since its beginning, its history has been one of suffering humanity; through war and peace and in time of disaster, it has ministered to the wounded, the sick and the needy. Its works encompass the world, and the appeal of the Canadian Red Cross Society for funds to maintain its outpost nursing stations and other works and to extend its services coincides with the drive of the American Red Cross for its work in the United States. Sixty other nations have their Red Cross Societies which appeal to the public to finance "the improvement of health, the prevention of disease and the mitigation of suffering."

Names of chief officials in the Westmount Division of the Canadian Red Cross Campaign are: Chairman, P. D. Pitcher; co-chairman, Mrs. Malcolm Reilly; assistant co-chairmen, Mr. and Mrs. R. Lyman Williams.

Westmount Rotary Club Membership Up

This week marks the 43rd anniversary of Rotary International which, in 43 years, has grown from one club with six members to the far-flung organization it is today, with Rotary clubs dedicated to the service of mankind stretched around the world.

The Rotary Club of Westmount received its charter October 13th, 1930, and so passed its 17th birthday last Fall. There were originally 26 charter members, of whom nine are still active. These are: D. McL. Brophy, Dr. J. K. Carver, A. F. Cayford (honorary member), S. B. Cayford, past president; C. T. Medlar, past president; Dr. F. M. McNaughton, W. H. Thomson, Geo. Wheatley and J. H. Hand (honorary member).

The Westmount club is an active one, and is growing, with 12 new members since last June. It now numbers 67 members, the largest membership in its history. Its prominence is perhaps emphasized by the fact that the General Council of Service Clubs recently elected as chairman, past president of the Westmount Rotary Club, A. A. Boire.

Westmount Stamp Club Holds Auction Night

The regular Stamp Club meeting was held in Victoria Hall, on Thursday evening, and 74 members attended.

Feature of the evening was a Club Auction at which stamps and other articles of philatelic value donated by members were auctioned for the benefit of the Club. J. E. Pickering ably assumed the role of auctioneer and some lively bidding took place.

Next regular meeting of the Club will be held in Victoria Hall, on Thursday, at 8.15 p.m. Junior members will meet at 7.15 p.m. with some of the seniors in attendance.

Plans are well under way for the annual exhibition which will be held in April in Victoria Hall.

Westmount Grants $7,000 To U of M Building Fund

At this week's meeting of the Municipal Council of Westmount, a resolution was adopted, subject to the approval of the Minister of Municipal Affairs, that a subscription of $7,000 be made to the Building Fund Campaign of the University of Montreal.

Paul De Markey Gives Recital At St. Andrew's

To an audience of well over one hundred and fifty in the main hall of St. Andrew's United Church, Paul de Markey, well-known Canadian pianist gave one of the most interesting programs that have been put on this year.

Mr. de Markey played for the group "The Moonlight Sonata", "Tales from the Vienna Woods", "The Blue Danube" and many other works of the great composers. He was introduced by Max Ford and was thanked by Rev. Mr. Ward, assistant Minister of the congregation.

The evening was sponsored by the church's Junior Young People's Society and the Alpha Omega Society, both of Saint Andrew's Church.

Next Sunday, the Alpha Omegans will resume their regular programs, when the guest speaker will be Mrs. Littler of the Salvation Army. Mrs. Littler who has recently returned from China, where she has been serving with her husband for the past twenty-five years, was a prisoner of the Japanese, and the group looks forward to hearing what is expected to be a most interesting program.

Silk Screen Prints Shown In Novel B of M Exhibition

Visitors to the Bank of Montreal's centrally located Sun Life Building branch have an opportunity to view an exhibition of 28 silk screen prints obtained from the National Gallery of Canada. These prints are on display during banking hours this week, and are drawing much comment. A novel feature of this exhibition is that those who attend are given an opportunity to cast a vote for their favourites among the pictures. Selections from the prints later to be used at the Bank's branches across Canada will be made, using the results of the ballot to assist in choosing the most popular pictures in the group.

These pictures, the work of outstanding Canadian artist, are original designs for the silk screen process, as varied in subject and mood as the artists who originated them and the opinions of the people who view them. They cover scenes from every part of Canada, and range from fairly modern treatment to more traditional pictorial treatment.

During the war, Canada's National Gallery commissioned a number of well-known Canadian artists to design pictures for the silk screen process to serve as a decoration for military canteens and service quarters. Since then, the prints have proved an excellent adjunct to the study of Canadian art in our schools and have also been made available to the public. Now they promise to serve an even wider field through their use by Canadian business firms as decorations for offices and public rooms.

Mrs. G. E. Nash Funeral Yesterday

Funeral service was held yesterday for Mrs. Emma Harwood Nash, of 966 Decarie Blvd., who died at her residence on Tuesday, following a brief illness, in her 87th year.

Born in England, Mrs. Nash was the widow of the late George Edward Nash, who became well-known as proprietor of the Nash Painting and Decorating Co. which he operated on Victoria Avenue, Westmount, for some 30 years before his death five years ago.

Mrs. Nash lived for a time on Melrose Avenue, and later on Victoria Avenue for approximately ten years before the death of her husband. At the time of her death, she was living with her grand-daughter, Mrs. A. Phillips, of 966 Decarie Blvd.

She is survived by four daughters, Mrs. R. P. D. Graham, Mrs. K. Campbell, of California, Mrs. Florena Reed and Mrs. R. Freebody, of England, and several grandchildren and great-children.

Rev. Canon Ireland, of St. Philip's Church, officiated at the funeral service, held in the Chapel of Collins' Funeral Home. Interment took place at Mount Royal Cemetery.

Alexander Kerby Teaches Drama At St. Leo's

The Director of St. Paul's and St. Leo's High School Dramatic Club, Alexander Kerby, was born in Montreal and received his early dramatic training at the Experimental Theatre in Berkeley, Calif. He followed with three years study in New York under former members of the Moscow Art Theatre. Mr. Kerby was also a member of the New York Troupe and later directed his own group.

Following a period in Hollywood, where he taught the technique of acting and speech, he returned to New York and successfully auditioned for Theatre, Incorporated, the organization that brought the "Old Vic" Company from London.

Returning to Montreal, last year, Mr. Kerby joined the staff of the Canadian Art Theatre as a Speech Arts Specialist. At present associated with both the School of Theatre Arts and Children's Workshop of the CAT, he brings to his work at St. Leo's Academy a wealth of training and experience.

Bruce Raymond, who has been associated with the Canadian Art Theatre since 1945, received his first dramatic training with the School of Theatre Arts, following this with further training under Professor Hall at McGill University.

Specializing in Children's Theatre, Mr. Raymond has directed for the Federation of Catholic Charities' Boys Work Bureau, as well as having been an instructor and director for the "CAT" Children's Workshop.

The Dramatic Club is sponsored by the Catholic Mothers' Club of Westmount.

Crippled Children Have An Outing

From January 17th to February 15th, the Province of Quebec Society for Crippled Children, Inc., had a total of 779 patients in their hospital clinics plus 8 other patients who were given measurements and fittings for boots and braces from the Orthopaedic Apparatus Clinic.

Also in this period of one month, 27 visits were made to the homes of patients by the Society's nurse, and reports were recorded regarding the financial standing of the child's family, the physical condition of the crippled children and the benefit derived from the treatments being administered by the Society.

Through the courtesy of the Rotary Club of Montreal, a hundred children under the Society's care were able to attend the Ice Follies at the Forum. The principal of Victor Dore School, Charles Denhez, made arrangements to have 35 of the children taken to the Forum by school busses, while the Society took the other 65 in their ambulances and station wagons, from their homes, some of which were in Lachine, Verdun, Ville St. Pierre, and Cartierville, and back home again after they had seen the performance.

Levi Moore Dies In Ottawa

Levi Moore, who taught Latin at Westmount High School under the former principal, H. B. Parker from 1921 to 1933, died on Monday at Ottawa in his 80th year. The funeral service was held there.

Mr. Moore came to Westmount from Coaticooke High School where he taught for many years. After his retirement from Westmount High School, he went to live with a daughter in Ottawa. His wife predeceased him.

The first bomb dropped on Paris — on June 3, 1940—fell directly in front of Florence Marly's apartment on the Boulevard Souchet, but the flame-haired screen star, currently making her American debut at Paramount in "Sealed Verdict," was uninjured. The building, however, was virtually destroyed.

Freedom Is In Danger Sheridan Tells Rotary

"Unless we can awaken in our people an appreciation that freedom is everybody's business, that not only is freedom necessary to all of us but that all of us must play a part in preserving freedom—then the liberty we have enjoyed on this continent may well be lost to us," declared W. J. Sheridan, Manager, Department of Economic Development, Canadian Chamber of Commerce, in an address to the Rotary Club of Westmount this week.

Speaking on the subject "Freedom is everybody's business", he emphasized that freedom is a precious thing, worth fighting for, that it is an intangible thing, too often taken for granted, and not really appreciated until it is lost.

Erosion a Danger"

The greatest danger we have to face today, he declared, is not an invasion against our freedom from the outside; it is a foregone conclusion that we should resist an invader courageously. The real danger lies in the gradual "erosion" of our civil liberties, without active interest or protest on the part of too many people, until we find ourselves fettered in the bondage of regimentation.

"Should legislation be passed which conflicts with the views of some of these indifferent men and women, they will be in the vanguard of those who will blame our democratic system, our competitive enterprise system for watever economic ills befall them!

"The great evil of this indifference, this 'leave it to George' attitude, this shrugging off of responsibility, lies in the fact that it plays class against class, leading to misunderstandings and hatreds which are gleefully exploited by certain groups to the end that confusion and chaos will replace our ordered economy," declared Mr. Sheridan.

The great weapon being used by radicals to split Canadians into two opposing camps is the question of high prices, he stated. "The public mind is rapidly being conditioned to regard profits as something shameful, and the maker of profits to be little better than a slavedriver . . ."

It is not true, he said, that profits of business are the main factors of high prices. The real reason lies in the fact that an increased national income is competing for a reduced production of consumer goods, brought about by the war. Moreover, while salaries, wages and labour income have increased tremendously since 1939, corporate profits have not kept pace with the rise, due to increased overhead and material costs.

High Prices

The present high prices are not inflation itself, but merely an effect of inflation, meaning an increase in the money supply in relation to the volume of exchange performed.

Two basic reasons for high prices are: the present high cost of government, much of which is buried in the prices of goods and services; and the diluted money supply, said Mr. Sheridan. Due to the misconception that high prices are due to swollen business profits, demand has arisen that price controls be reimposed. Such a

Skating Carnival Proves To Be Big Success

First Westmount Skating Carnival since 1941 was held in Westmount Park on Friday.

From seven till eight p.m. a delightful display of figure and free skating was given, the participants being adorned in gay and colourful costumes. Programme included group items, solo and pairs numbers, all executed with precision.

Second part of the evening was given over to races and competitive events for the children of Westmount. A large number of entrants took part in each event and some exciting finishes were witnessed.

Individual results were: —

Race — Girls under 13 years: Nina Roche, Ruth Sheridan and Helen McLean.

Race — Boys under 13 years: Jerry Apostolatos, Richard Christianson and John Lauzion.

Potato Race — Girls under 13 years: Jean Clement, Katherine MacDonald and Beverley Martin.

Potato Race — Boys under 13 years: Jimmy Morgan, John Lauzion and Grant Gill.

Potato Race — Girls 13 - 17: Elaine Dufresne and June Anders.

Potato Race — Boys 13 - 17: Jack Folkins, Alan Lightfoot and Brian Hugh.

Best Costume — Girls: Doreen Heelan (Miss Crinoline).

Funniest Costume — Girls: Beverley Martin (Charley's Aunt).

Best Costume — Boys: John Lochead (Aunt Jemima).

Funniest Costume — Boys: Jimmy Morgan (Penguin).

A broom Hockey match for girls and one for boys was played. The technique used in these games was effective if not exactly stylish, and plenty of encouragement was afforded by the spectators.

Prizes were presented to the winners at the conclusion of the events.

About 500 spectators and parents turned out, and the Carnival was highly successful.

Impressive Tribute Paid Late Dr. Fraser B. Gurd

Many friends, associates and people from various walks of life attended a funeral service held in Emmanuel Church yesterday afternoon to accord final tribute to Dr. Fraser B. Gurd, of 3180 The Boulevard, Westmount, who died suddenly Sunday evening shortly after boarding a train in Chicago to return to Montreal. He was in his 65th year.

Surgeon in Chief on the Montreal General Hospital and professor of surgery at McGill University, Dr. Gurd was recognized as one of the outstanding surgeons of Canada and had achieved a distinguished international reputation.

A native of Montreal, he attended Montreal High School and McGill University, where he obtained his M.D. and C.M. degrees in 1906. He interned for a year at the Montreal General Hospital, undertook post-graduate study for a year in Europe, and on his return to this continent, was appointed assistant pathologist at Tulane University, New Orleans. He returned to Montreal in 1911 to become an assistant in surgery at the Montreal General Hospital, where, except for war services and other post-graduate studies abroad, he has conducted his work ever since.

During the First World War, Dr. Gurd was attached to the Royal Army Medical Corps. He returned to Canada after the cessation of hostilities with the rank of Major, and from 1918 to 1925 served as officer in charge of surgery at St. Anne's Military Hospital.

Following the war, he practiced privately, and for a time was assistant professor of surgery at McGill University and was attached to the Montreal General Hospital.

He was named surgeon in chief at the Western Division of the General Hospital in 1924, attending surgeon at the General Hospital in 1935, and chief of service three years later. He was made surgeon-in-chief of the Montreal General Hospital last year.

Dr. Gurd was a Fellow of the Royal College of Surgeons, a Fellow of the American College of Surgeons, and held membership in many other organizations having to do with medicine, surgery, pathology and bacteriology. Keenly interested in his community, he also was a member of various local organizations and clubs.

Dr. Gurd is survived by two sons, Dr. Fraser N. Gurd, of Montreal, and Frank R. N. Gurd, of HELP SAVE 200,000,000 CHILDREN!

THE WORLD'S most sweeping and far-reaching Appeal is now being made. It is the United Nations Appeal for Children. Men and women in many lands will be asked to think as citizens of one world; and to give with their hearts for the sake of 200 million children, starving, diseased and dying, in war-ravaged and famine areas.

The United Nations Appeal for Children co-operates with the International Emergency Fund for Children which was established by United Nations when the services of UNRRA were terminated. Contributions of member governments to this Fund have been so slow and so inadequate that clothing and medicine have practically been eliminated from the program. There is only sufficient money to feed approximately 4 million children for six months, in 12 of the countries formerly served by UNRRA.

The primary appeal is for food and medicine, the things that are needed for child survival; and to extend the six-month period to one year. The appeal in Canada is called the Canadian Appeal for Children, and is a joint campaign of the United Nations Appeal for Children and the Canadian Council of Reconstruction through the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organizations.

Similar joint appeals will be conducted simultaneously in 26 countries. Everyone is asked to give the equivalent of one day's earnings or labor, 1/365th of yearly income. Canada's share is 10 million dollars; much of it to be spent in this contry for food and supplies to be shipped overseas.

All the children of Europe could be protected with anti-tubercular serum for less than the cost of a few heavy bombers. You are not asked to give "guns", but "butter", — and in the name of humanity, — to the children of the world.

DISPOSABLE DRESSES COMING

IT WON'T be long now before you'll be throwing your suit or dress into the incinerator instead of sending it to the cleaner, because a new outfit will be cheaper than a dry cleaning job.

Your new clothes will be made of a special type of paper that looks and feels like cloth, and it will go on the market after Elois Jenssen, Hollywood's prettiest designer, gets through with all of the preliminary research work.

Miss Jenssen revealed that she is working with a chemist on the composition of the new material, as well as plans for manufacture of the new paper clothing.

"There are draperies on the market made of paper," Miss Jenssen said, "which are cheaper to replace than to clean. Clothing material will need a slightly different composition to make it stand exposure to weather and hold up under molding processes."

Scouts & Cubs

BY REG GROOME

A very successful Church Parade was held by Trinity Cubs, Scouts, Brownies and Guides last Sunday. Sixers Maitland Hannaford, Norman Bedford and Robert Manktelow formed the Cub Pack colour party. Sixteen Cubs paraded into the Church, with another seven being present in the choir. District Cubmaster Jack Poulson and Field Commissioner Stan Richardson read the lessons. A. H. Manktelow, Chairman, and Messrs. Ancrum, Glansdorp and Stuart, all of the Group Committee, were all in attendance for the occasion.

Monday's Pack meeting was opened in the usual fashion with Sixer Norman Bedford of the Blue Six leading the Grand Howl, after which Jimmie Shaw was presented with Swimmer Badge. Akela's policy of deducting points for even minor infractions of rules was paying dividends by the end of the evening. Each six staged a short skit on a "fairy tale" with lots of fun for all. After learning a couple of new songs, the meeting was closed with the Grand Howl. If there is any paper collection tomorrow, the boys concerned will be notified by telephone. A Sixers' Council will be held tonight in the Church Hall. Sixers M. Hannaford, D. Christensen, N. Bedford, R. Manktelow, A. Armstrong and Acting Sixer R. Smith — if you can's attend, be sure to call Baloo at DE4819. The six competition for the evening was won by the Blue Six.

St. Matthias Wolf Cub Pack joined with the Scouts, Guides and Brownies in a combined Church Parade last Sunday morning, with twenty-eight Cubs participating in the event. The Pack flag was carried by Sixer Sean Mack, and colour guards were Senior Sixer Chris Carr and Sixer Peter Kilburn. Last Friday, Peter Laslie completed his First Star and now proudly displays it in his cap as a symbol of having opened his first eye in Cubbing. The floorball season is now half over and the Green Six is leading with three points, followed by the Brown with two points and the Red and Sand with one each.

The following message has been received from Field Marshal The Right Hon. J. C. Smuts, Prime Minister of South Africa, on the occasion of the fortieth anniversary of the foundation of the Boy Scout Movement:

"As one who fought in South Africa against your great Founder — that great Scout, Lord Baden-Powell — I have particular plea sure in sending you, of the Boy Scouts Association, congratulations on your fortieth anniversary. Lord Baden-Powell was the true prototype of these qualities of self-reliance and honourable dealing which have become the guiding principles of your Movement; and there is nowhere in South Africa today where his name is not still, and quite rightly, held in warm and honourable regard.

"The importance and value to the British Commonwealth indeed, to the world of your Movement are today beyond question. Thirty-seven countries, in addition to Great Britain and the British Colonies, have demonstrated their faith in its ideals by giving it official recognition — a record of progress in the short space of less than half a century of which you may well be proud. With such principles as yours, and with the great record of your Founder to inspire you, it is certain that your Movement will continue to flourish; and from South Africa, where your Movement may be said to have had its birth, I salute you, and wish you continued and ever-increasing success."

TOPICS OF THE WEEK

By R. J. DEACHMAN

THE GREAT PRICE CONTROVERSY

A committee of the House of Commons will investigate prices — find out, if possible, why they always rise, never fall, at least in modern times. Mr. Coldwell, guide and mentor of the C.C.F., has suggested that it will be a "paint job", and effort to cover up the profits of corporations, hide the real facts of the case. Mr. Coldwell ought to know. He is an artist in colors. In a speech—see Hansard, December 9, 1947 — he attempted to show the high profits of Canadian corporations but he brought into his list, in error, of course, two American companies. Planners are rarely right. Cuteness cannot take the place of judgment.

THE CORRECTION

A few days ago — Hansard, February 2, 1948 — Mr. Coldwell mentioned his mistake. He did it very deftly. The timing was perfect. It was near the end of an afternoon sitting, not many were in the galleries:

> "I put a list on the record," said he, "on December 9, but, in error, I included two United States companies with Canadian names. I think there are twenty-six other companies on that list so the inclusion of those two made no difference to my argument."

"No difference to my argument" —but some difference in the facts! In the eleven food companies as they stood in Mr. Coldwell's list, including the imported one, there was an increase of profits of $9,696,000 between 1945 and 1946. When the American intruder was sent home the increase was $2,208,000, a rather substantial difference, a reduction of $7,488,000 in Mr. Coldwell's estimate of profits on food products in the years named. Such carelessness goes a long way towards making a published statement wholly useless.

THE WHOLE STORY

There is, in his effort, no attempt whatever to present a revealing over-all picture of the distribution of the national income. He suggests that there has been scant increases in the real earnings of labor and agriculture. This is a cruel mis-statement of facts but he is getting away with it. The old parties know better but they are afraid to reply lest they be accused of defending the Big Interests.

I put before you one very simple question: If you wanted to get a clear idea of the profits of industry would you take a list of 24 corporations — Mr. Coldwell's special list — less two American guests and, on this list, base your conclusions? It was selected for the purpose of proving that we are under the heel of monopoly-capitalism — and we are not. It is a limited and biased selection, giving only the scantiest possible conception of general conditions.

COLDWELL'S MIS-STATEMENTS

If you are still ready to accept Mr. Coldwell's figures I would like to ask you another question. I have a statement of 7 steel companies; they are among our largest. They recorded declines in earnings between 1945 and 1946. Net profits were cut 50% in that period. Do these figures prove anything? Yes, but not the things Mr. Coldwell wants to prove. If we are to seek the truth on these issues we shall find it in the distribution of the national income. We shall start with wages and salaries then follow with the earnings of agriculture and other unincorporated business, aside from agriculture. We shall then examine investment income which Mr. Coldwell tells us is the real cause of high prices. We shall see the folly of this assertion as we proceed.

THE DISTRIBUTION OF INCOME

1—Wages and salaries moved up from $2,485 millions in 1938 to $5,428 millions in 1946, an increase of 118%. Wages and salaries as here given includes $9 millions in military pay and allowances in 1938 — $315 millions in 1946. Does monopoly-capitalism function in the ranks of labor?

2—The net earnings of agriculture, between 1938 and 1946, moved up from $371 million to $1,244 million, an increase of 235%. No other increase was anywhere near so great. Surely Mr. Coldwell will not use his parrot cry of monopoly-capitalism against the farmers.

3—Then comes unincorporated business, other than agriculture. It includes custom repair shops, barbers, lawyers, doctors, dentists, musicians, teachers, etc. Total earnings in 1938 amounted to $429 millions — in 1946 to $907 millions, an increase of over 111%. The barber shops of Canada are not under the heel of monopoly-capitalism.

4—We must now deal with Investment Income which is much more complicated. There are two main features — corporate income and personal income. The latter needs no special attention. It has increased from $448 millions in 1938, to $751 millions in 1946. It consists mainly of interest, imputed rent of owner-owned houses and income from life insurance companies accruing to Canadian policy holders.

The statement of corporate income is as follows:

(Figures in Millions— add six ciphers)

1—Corporate profits before tax	$437	$1,379
2—Deduct tax liabilities (excluding refundable E. P. T.)	92	640
3—Corporate profits after tax	375	739
4—Less dividends paid to non-residents	175	205
5—Corporate profits retained in Canada after tax	200	534

TAXES and PROFITS

Why measure corporate income after taxes? Other people pay taxes. Yes, but those who invest their money in business or industry papy twice, once on their business or industry and again on the distributed dividends. The tendency is to restrict development and expansion. Surely we could devise a means of getting after the rich — if that be important — without hampering the expansion of industry.

The people of Canada are not paying all the profits of industry —not by any means. When goods are exported the profits of production are paid by those who purchase them, they do not come out of the pockets of the Canadian people, they are not a tax upon the Canadian consumer. How much of the profits of Canadian industry is paid by foreign customers? It is difficult to estimate, but it is quite substantial and probably exceeds $100 millions.

Canadian industry has been developed, in part, by foreign capital. The dividends represent, so far as we are concerned, payment for the use of the machinery and equipment they have provided The profits of these industries do not accrue to Canadian industry, they belong to those who have invested their money in this country, but they pay taxes in Canada, they give employment to Canadian workers, they contribute to the welfare of the nation.

THE REAL SHARE OF LABOR

The C.C.F. claims that wage increases do not increase the cost of production. Remarkable! 85% of the national income is paid to labor in one form or another, the balance, 15%, goes for the rent of land and the profits of the entrepreneur. Then how can an increase in costs representing 85% of total costs take place without raising prices? That figure may be challenged, but labor is not entirely confined to those who are paid salaries and wages. What about the farmer? He is a capitalist. He is also a laborer. What about the smaller businesses where a man is a worker himself and takes his pay from the profits of his business? What about lawyers, doctors, preachers? Aren't they laborers of different types. It is quite impossible to raise wage rates without affecting costs. For further information consult Mr. Attlee, Prime Minister of Great Britain, he has tried it — he knows now that it can't be done.

THE NATIONAL PURPOSE

With sadness I return to Mr. Coldwell. I wish he would raise his sights. There is no doubt of the amplitude of his mind. He should, as the French say, approach these questions "au fond", from the bottom. He can render a great service to the nation. Why, oh why, in a case like this does he insist on skirmishing over the surface of things. The leader of a party must probe more deeply than his followers. He must learn to criticize his own efforts. If he fails to do so his work will not long be worthy of criticism. What is here stated, as a comment on the leader of the C.C.F., is applicable over a far wider area. Politics must not be turned into a jousting field. Our problems must be faced with serious and noble purpose. Their immensity demands the effort. What else can satisfy the nation.

Trinity Memorial Church Reviews Progressive Year

The 108th annual Vestry Meeting of Trinity Memorial Church was held recently under the chairmanship of the Rector, Rev. Canon R. Kenneth Naylor. A year of progress was reported by all groups and by the Corporation.

A. D. S. McCrae was appointed Rector's Warden, on the retirement of J.J.F. Bancroft. The following officers were elected, Gordon Fox, People's Warden; Messrs. John H. Molson and W. S. Gilpin as delegates to Synod, Messrs. B. T. Campbell and W. A. Newman as Trustees and Messrs Chas. Cook, C. A. and Jas. Horton as Auditors.

The meeting was highlighted by reports of activities of the Church Women's Year by Mrs. W. D. O'Connor, Trinity Players, A. Y. P. A. and the Saturday night moving pictures this group sponsors, the Cadets, and the Scouts, Guides, Brownies and Cubs.

The Rector reported among others on the activities of the Altar Guild and Vestment Group, the Men's Visiting Committee under J. N. Shackleton, the appointment of C. V. Frayn as organist, the choir, and the Womens Auxiliary and expressed everyone's appreciation of the efforts made and effective results obtained by all groups.

The retirement of Mr. Lowe as sexton, after many years of faithful service and the appointment of Stanley Baker as his successor were announced.

Teachers Pay Tribute To Late Mrs. M. Blair

Tribute to the late Mrs. Marion A. W. Blair, 53 Windsor Avenue, Westmount, a past-president of the Provincial Association of Protestant Teachers and who taught at Herbert Symonds School, who died last week, were expressed by the executive of the P.A.P.T. at a meeting held on Saturday.

It was decided that a photograph of the late Mrs. Blair will grace the wall in the central office of the Teachers' Association, 1410 Guy Street and a resolution of sympathy was ordered sent to Mrs. Blair's family and survivors.

Christian Science

"Christ Jesus" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday.

The Golden Text is from Psalm 45: 2 "Thou art fairer than the children of men: grace is poured into thy lips: therefore God hat blessed thee for ever."

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible:- "And John calling unto him two of his disciples sent them to Jesus, saying, Art thou he that should come? or look we for another? Then Jesus answering said unto them, Go your way, and tell John what things ye have seen and heard; how that the blind see, the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, the deaf hear, the dead are raised, to the poor the gospel ispreached. And blessed is he, whosoever shall not be offended in me."

(Luke 7: 19, 22,23)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook "Science & Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy. "Jesus" works established his claim to the Messiahship. In reply to John's inquiry, "Art thou he that should come," Jesus returned an affirmative reply, recounting his doctrine, confident that the exhibition of the divine power to his works instead of referring to heal would fully answer the question."

St. Andrew's Church

Last Sunday night following the service of worship, St. Andrew's Congregation enjoyed a musical treat as Paul de Marky, distinguished Montreal pianist, interpreted, with the finest precision and feeling, some of the outstanding "classics" that enrich our cultural heritage.

Tuesday afternoon, a sacred play—suited to the pre-Easter season—will be presented in the Church hall, under the auspices of the MacGillivray Auxiliary of the Woman's Missionary Society. The play was arranged with the thought in mind, so aptly expressed by the poet,

". . . That great Heart of Bethlehem,
He died for men He never knew".

There will be vocal selections by Mrs. W. H. Lewis and John Grant.

Sunday morning Rev. D. M. Grant will continue the brief series of Messages: "The Resources of the Christian" . . . based on the words of the Apostle, "All things are yours", "Death belongs to us" being the particular theme. In the evening the series of character studies, "Some Faces About the Cross" will be continued. "The Man With Good Intentions" will be the subject of Rev. G. W. Ward's sermon. Musical selections by Phillips Motley and the choir will be appropriate.

Westmount Baptist

A great Missionary Demonstration will be carried through at the Services in Westmount Baptist Church on Sunday. The Speaker will be Dr. J. B. McLaurin, General Secretary, Canadian Baptist Foreign Mission Board, and Rev. H. S. Hillyer, B.A., Missionary, Author and Radio Broadcaster from La Paz, Bolivia. These are two of Canada's outstanding Missionary Statesmen.

At the Morning Service both of these Visitors will speak; Dr. McLaurin on "The New Development in India" and Mr. Hillyer on "The Year of Jubilee in Bolivia."

The Evening Service wil be quite unique. In the first part there will be an address illustrated by coloured slides. Following that, there will be a presentation of a Kodachrome Film, occupying 12 minutes, entitled "Latest Flashes From India." The Service will reach its climax in an address by Dr. J. B. McLaurin.

A number of young men and women in the Congregation will add to the realism of the occasion by being dressed in Indian and Bolivian costumes. Two models of new communities in Bolivia, which have been transformed by the Gospel of Christ, will be on exhibition. Visitors are cordially welcomed.

For and About Women

D. P. Girls Receive Help From Sisters Of Service

On Friday afternoon the Westmount Subdivision of the C.W.L. held their annual Sisters of Service Meeting. The President, Mrs. A. I. Peterson, was in the chair for the business session.

The guest speaker, Reverend George Daly, C.S.S.R., founder of the Sisters of Service, was introduced by Mrs. J. J. Coffey, Past National President of the Catholic Women's League. Father Daly spoke of the important part the Sisters of Service were doing today in connection with the Displaced Persons being brought to Canada.

He recalled being in Halifax two weeks ago, when the Aquitania was docked with thousands of Displaced Persons. Many of these were teen aged girls, who had been taken from their homes in Poland and sent to slave labor camps in Germany. They did not know, many of them, whether their parents were alive, or what had happened to their homes. Many were unable to speak any English or French, and were anxious to hear their own language. Several of the Sisters of Service were able to talk to them, and their faces lit up with joy, when the Sisters could interpret for them. The Sisters helped the immigration officials greatly by interpreting for them.

Immigration of these Displaced Persons is looked after by the International Refugee Committee, which was formed to ease the suffering of the people of Europe. Canada needs people for the land, industries, transportation and domestic service. Our Government has pledged itself to bring 22,000 displaced persons to Canada in the next year. These will be allotted to various industries, with some five thousand to lumber camps, two thousand to clothing industry, and three thousand domestics.

These people have suffered greatly, the speaker said, so let us help them. Many bear visible signs of maltreatment in camps. Many of these people have not had religious instruction for years. The Sisters of Service try to help these people to adjust themselves. Father Daly also read a letter of thanks from the Minister of Labor, Mr. Humphrey Mitchell, thanking the Sisters for their help to immigration officials in connection with Displaced Persons.

The Sisters of Service spend three days each week at St. Paul l'Hermite, where many Europeans are employed in the factories, to help them solve some of their difficulties by interpreting for them.

Mrs. Leo O. Reynolds thanked the speaker, and Mrs. J. J. Berry sang "Two Children" and "Bless this House", accompanied by Mrs. J. P. O'Reilly. Mrs. Charles Cassie was convener of the day.

Tea was served by Mrs. Hugh Kierans and her committee.

Marks Birthday

Mrs. Margaret Jane Sharpe, 4625 Grand Blvd., yesterday celebrated her 75th birthday at the home of her son-in-law and daghter, Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Macbean, with whom she resides. Mrs. Sharpe is hale and hearty despite her years. The birthday is being observed quietly on Saturday by the members of her family and will be in the nature of a double celebration, marking, also, the second birthday of her grandson Stanley which fell on Tuesday, February 24th.

Mrs. Sharpe, who has resided in N.D.G. since 1929, was formerly a resident of Ste. Anne de Bellevue, where she was awarded an honorary life membership in the I.O.D.E. in recognition of her work in canteens during the first world war. She is the mother of Frank Sharpe, who is on the teaching staff of Westmount Junior High School.

Progress Club Makes Milk Appeal

The knowledge that even one child has been helped along the road to healthy citizenship is reward enough for anyone who has been able to contribute to his well-being, said Mr. N. R. Romer, president of the Canadian Progress Club of Montreal, in speaking of the current campaign of the Progress Club Milk Fund. "It is often the sight of a single youngster receiving daily milk which he might otherwise be without that inspires welfare workers to redouble their efforts to extend and enlarge this work."

The Progress Club recently opened its 1948 drive for funds, with a campaign objective of $25,000 to support the year's program of distributing 410,000 bottles of milk and 350,000 multiple vitamin capsules to fifty-five schools in Greater Montreal. For sixteen years the club has been supplying hundreds of school children with free milk daily, and since 1932, when the project was instituted in a modest way, more than 3,000,000 bottles of milk have been distributed.

"The privilege of contributing toward a healthier Montreal and a healthier Canada is one in which generous Montrealers have always been eager to share," said Mr. Romer, adding that it is up to everyone who is able to contribute to support the Progress Club in its efforts to raise the health standards in city schools.

Plans for wider distribution than ever before, and the increased cost of milk, make the attainment of this year's objective imperative, if the work is to be continued successfully. Many more schools in the Montreal area are requesting milk, and the Progress Club is anxious to supply as many of them as possible.

The campaign this year is under the chairmanship of Mr. William Gittes, long prominent in welfare activities. Mr. Gittes is asisted by vice-chairman L. P. McMahon.

Trinity Memorial Church W.A. To Hear Ven. D. B. Marsh

The Woman's Auxiliary of Trinity Memorial Church will hold a special meeting in the Church Hall at 3 p.m. on Monday, to hear the Ven. Donable B. Marsh, Archdeacon of the Arctic. Archdeacon Marsh was educated at Emmanuel College, Saskatooon. He was ordained deacon in 1926 and priest in 1929. He has served ever since his ordination in the Diocese of the Arctic, first at Eskimo Point, and then at Aklavik. He was appointed Archdeacon in 1939, and has been incumbent of All Saints' Cathedral, Aklavik, since 1944.

Archdeacon Marsh is a forceful speaker, and is probably better informed on Arctic Missions than any clergyman in Canada except Bishop Fleming himself. His talk will be illustrated with his own pictures of Arctic life.

The women of the parish are urged to attend this meeting and all the W.A. members of the Deanery of Montreal are invited to be present. Tea will be served. A collection will be taken, to be used for the work of the Arctic Mission.

Golden Wedding Anniversary Held

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Alexander of 333 Grosvenor avenue, Westmount, celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary, Sunday, by attending a service at Melville Presbyterian church, and holding a reception at their home from four to six o'clock.

Among the guests were their three sons and three daughters, five sons and daughters in law and three grandchildren.

Many flowers, cards, telegrams and presents were received, and a large number of guests were present.

Federal officers found a Kentucky backwoodsman who had a wife and some applejack working hard for him.

Imperial Order Daughters Holds Annual Meeting

The 19th annual meeting of Monklands Chapter, Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, was held on February 19th, at the home of Mrs. A. L. Collinge. The Regent, Mrs. E. J. Tobin, presided, welcoming the guests and reviewing the work of the Chapter during the past year.

It was noted that with an active membership of 23, and 3 associate members, a total of $945.96 was raised in the general fund, and $222.29 in the post war service fund. Of these amounts, $935.64 was used in Chapter work. Chapter funds were maintained during the year by the holding of a rummage sale, afternoon and evening marathon bridges, and the raising of talent money individually by members.

271 knitted and sewn articles were donated to the Municipal Chapter of Montreal, I.O.D.E., to be forwarded to Great Britain. Food parcels were sent overseas to five people, at the rate of two each month; the recipients are all elderly and in great need, and in each instance most appreciative acknowledgments have been received.

Donations of cigarettes, cards and cribbage boards were sent to the Queen Mary and Ste. Anne's Military Hospitals, as well as 275 magazines.

Timely articles on Empire study were presented at each meeting, and a folder containing items on current events in this connection was circulated amongst the members between meetings.

Educational Work

Assistance continued to be given to the Chapter's adopted school, Lewis Evans. Essays were written by the pupils during the year, the winners receiving books as prizes. The annual Empire Day sports meet was held for the pupils. 62 magazines and books were given to the school library, as well as six magazine subscriptions.

In the fall of 1947 the Principal and teachers of Lewis Evans School undertook to serve a bowl of soup to the pupils at lunchtime, at a cost from 1c to 3c per bowl to those who could afford to pay, and free, to those less fortunate; however, on this basis the teaching staff found they were going in arrears and as the school sponsors the Monkland Chapter, it was asked for financial support. The Chapter gave bowls and spoons for the pupils' use, as well as contributing financially to this undertaking. Donations of soup were sought from the various chain stores and the reasons proved most gratifying. This project is now well underway and is proving very beneficial to the children.

In addition to donations to scholarships and bursaries through the Municipal Chapter of Montreal, one student at Montreal High School was provided with supplies, school fees and carfare, and one boy was sent to summer camp for two weeks.

GERRY'S Chatter Column

A Prelude To Spring

We know now that the new look is an accepted fashion, and proper corsetry is a "MUST" for every woman who wishes to achieve a smart appearance. Therefore, before selecting your Spring wardrobe make sure to have the right foundation garment. I have not as yet selected my SPRING CREATION, but last week I had a fitting at the AGNES REID FIGURE CLINIC, 1324A Sherbrooke St. W., west of Mountain St., and I can assure you that this procedure is of utmost importance to talk about, and why? As you know Miss Reid has had years of experience in figure fitting, and quoting her, "There is a foundation garment for every figure". The Le Gant Sta-Up-Top girdle with the 3-inch band at top that won't roll over is designed to whittle your waist line and curve your hips, and from this house comes the satin lastex boneless corselette for those who prefer the smooth, unbroken silhouette; also the half size corselette for the short waisted figure, lightly boned in front with the up-and-down stretch back . . . panty girdles for skiing or dancing, allure stay-down-bra in the A B C cup sizes. Miss Reid told me that many figure conscious ladies today are buying a corset wardrobe, or, in other words, the garment for day time, formal evening and sports wear. The fact that this fetching shop is on Sherbrooke St. does not mean that you pay more, as the prices here are in line with any other corset shop in Montreal.

P.S.T. . . . . .

PERFORMANCE, STYLE, TONE, all three are outstanding features of an ADMIRAL, regardless of what type of set you choose. You will notice as time goes on that the ADMIRAL Corporation are keeping their prices down to a minimum, yet they are continually striving to improve their radios, which are without an equal for style and workmanship. I am continually amazed by the contrast of the soft tone and the immense volume that can be produced by the small table model. This set is ideal for an office, with its convenient size and symmetrical lines and is known as 7T15-5K1. Tuning has been made as simple as possible through adaptation of large, easily read numerals, set against soft, indirect lighting to eliminate glare and shadows. Widespread calibration between figures insures meticulous accuracy. The dial and escutcheon plate are finished in attractive colors so as to harmonize with the cabinet styling. Choice walnut veneers and the skilled workmanship of experienced craftsmen have been employed to create this simple but attractive cabinet. The dimensions of this superb radio are 13" x 8⅛" x 6⅞". It is equipped with 5 long-life tubes obtainable anywhere. One of the great features of this Admiral table radio is its Aeroscope, which eliminates aerial and ground wires, and improves sensitivity and selectivity of reception. This set retails for $43.95, and may be seen at any radio or departmental store.

Spring And Maple Syrup

C.S.L. Gift Shop

Spring time means the return of maple sugar and syrup, but it will be a while yet before we will be able to have a feast of this type; however, why wait, when we can have the most delicious sucre à la crême, that The C.S.L. Gift Shop, 1480 Sherbrooke St. W., has just received. It has been made from an old French-Canadian recipe . . . years ago French-Canadians would not eat maple syrup wtihout cream, hence the name. You may buy 1 lb. boxes, or 1 lb. of sucre, wtih a jar of the syrup, which is wonderful for sauces, for $2.25 . . . Whenever you are passing "The Shop" drop in and have a sample, and if you have friends in England, I'm sure they would welcome a treat like this from Canada. Talking of Spring, those of you who are interested in Yvonne Bolduc's hand-carved drawings, should see her picture of the farmer collecting maple syrup in the bush, while his dog watches on. If you have not seen any of Yvonne Bolduc's work, make a point of visiting The C.S.L. Gift Shop, where a collection of her best drawings are to be seen. Those who know the value of paintings will appreciate these. Have you been looking for a colorful suede belt for that new skirt and blouse ensemble? Here is where you will find some striking ones, at half price, all pastel shades, and trimmed with brass nail heads. There is a set of four hooked chair seat covers, in black, pale green and beige, and only $3.75 for the set. They could be used for stool covers also. There are some very attractive red and white check taffeta umbrellas from Switzerland, with the bamboo walking stick handles.

Your Next Door Neighbor

Have you ever considered the idea of taking your next door neighbour out for lunch? This idea may sound a bit unusual, but come to think of it, whom do we run to first when we discover it the last moment that we are short of baking powder for that batch of hot biscuits for the afternoon tea, or when little Johnny discovers he can cut anything with a knife, including himself. Now this suggestion does not entail the depletion of a five dollar bill, or noticeably reduce your allowance for the next month. Do you know that you can have a delicious lunch for two, for less than $2.00. Where? I know you will think that I am exaggerating, but it is true, at THE MOUNT ROYAL HOTEL COFFEE SHOPPE. You will be delighted with the gay atmosphere here and the many friends that you will be bound to meet, in fact, it is the favorite rendezvous of many well known writers and radio personalites. However, what you are interested in is, I know, what does one get for less than two dollars. Well, you may have your choice of Fried Sole; Capon Cutlet with cream sauce and green peas; Salmon Salad Sandwich with LETTUCE and TOMATO; and a wide choice of desserts, with tea, coffee, bread or rolls. At least that is what was on the menu the day I was there. It changes every day. I know you will be charmed with this eating spot, and your neighbour will be impressed with your choice, as one may be "ritzy" here without being extravagant.

Don't Let This Happen To You

Is this how you are these days, sneezing, coughing and feeling completely wretched? . . . If so, why not fall in line with what so many other people are doing, taking RONDEAU'S MEDICINE. This wonderful "tonic" seems to have no limitations in its application. Every week I meet so many people who can verify as to its extraordinary versatility. It has been found to be very effective if taken every day as an antidote against colds, for it contains vitamins A and D which build up a strong resistance to the exasperating "bug". Many people who have had kidney trouble have found that Rondeau's Medicine has restored them to natural health. This is testified by a Miss G. Parker, of 222½ Brunswick St., Halifax, N.S., who wrote to Dr. Rondeau telling him that after having tried his medicine, an X-Ray later showed that her kidneys were in perfect condition. Likewise this treatment has also proved vrey helpful to youngsters having weak kidneys. Many of your druggists are now carrying this excellent medicine, but if they have not as yet stocked it, by 'phoning WE. 2002, Antibitol Co. Ltd., 4211 St. Catherine St. W., it will be delivered to you. All out-of-town orders gladly accepted. RONDEAU'S MEDICINE retails for $9.00, a 40 oz. bottle.

Long List Of Stitches Once Recorded In Poem

When mention is made of a sampler, we immediately think of cross-stitch which has become known as the sampler stitch, but since the early sampler was literally a pattern book, many different kinds of stitches were recorded there. An English poet of the 17th century wrote a poem in which he enumerated a long list of the stitches then in use.

Leigh Ashton writes that "The sampler is an instance of a widespread cult but England is its real home." The American sampler was brought over by the English colonists and did not differ from the English type until about the middle of the 18th century when the real American type began to develop. "It is more pictorial in form than the English sampler and the whole of the ground of the sampler is often covered with stitches."

Put Pep Into Play

JINX FALKENBURG: Trim.

"Swimming," says Jinx, who admits this is her best-loved sport, "is wonderful for keeping the tummy flat and firm."

"But," she adds, "to get in the water and dawdle for an hour is not exercising—you have to swim and swim hard to win figure benefits."

British Vegetarians Receive Extra Rations

Accredited vegetarians in Britain get three-quarters of a pound of cheese each week instead of the regulation two ounces, and an extra two ounces of margarine. Most of the nuts imported into Britain are for non meat-eaters.

Shortage of milk and eggs is perhaps the greatest hardship for vegetarians. The liquid milk is down to two pints a week and the tinned variety to be had "on points" is only available occasionally. Dried eggs are getting scarce and when procurable take a large proportion of the monthly points. As for shell eggs, one is fortunate if he gets one a week.

Decoratively Speaking

By FRANCIS JAMES

When your best friend and her husband arrive from California or London or Bombay, you feel a little idiotic offering them, as alternative sleeping accommodation, the nearest hotel or your dog-house. Yet, if you live in an average-sized, modern home, you may find that by the time you get yourself, your husband, and your assorted offspring adequately sheltered, there's not a cranny left to put anyone else.

At least, not at first glance. But have you tried casting your eyes upward? No, not to Heaven, but to that little room under the rafters that is inhabited at present only by dusty old trunks.

Attic into Boudoir

Right now it may not look like the sort of room your best friend from California or London — or even Bombay — would care to spend the night in. But clear it out and go to work on it with some imagination, and you'll find that it can, with not too much difficulty or expense, be made into one of the most attractive rooms of your whole house.

Your chief problem, of course, will be the slanting walls, which, if improperly treated, can make the room appear small and dingy.

Since the ceiling in this type of room is apt to be not much more than a patch, it is foolish to emphasize it by doing it in a paper that contrasts with the walls. Your best bet will be to choose a wallpaper that can be effectively carried straight across the ceiling. This, in addition to disguising the deffect of lack of ceiling will give continuity and an illusion of size to the room.

Where possible, choose a lightish paper in one of the "cool" tones pale green, pale blue or pale yellow — as these give the effect of space. Hot, positive colours, on the other hand, will seem to drag your slanting walls even closer together. Avoid an over-symmetrical design such as a stripe check, or dot. Since your paper must run vertically up the wall, biasly across the slant, and horizontally across the ceiling, a symmetrical paper could have a very dizzying effect.

WINDOW TREATMENT

If your room includes a dormer window, don't feel that this adds to your difficulties. Instead, make use of it. Make it the focal point of the room by curtaining it in a sheer, light-inviting material with valance and tie-backs in a heavier, plain fabric to blend with the main pattern in your wallpaper. Then, beneath the window, build in a dressing table and skirt it in the fabric of the valance and tie-backs. On either side of the window you could build in eave-high chests of drawers for added interest.

A double bed, or twin beds, with a spread in interesting fabrics to blend with your wallpaper, and an easy chair or two covered in a blending or matching material, complete the picture. And there you'll have a room where a best friend from Bombay or Toronto — would be very glad to spend the night.

Waistlines in the new summer cotton frocks are trim and often accentuated by cummerbund or narrow belt; skirts are simple and modestly flared without hip or waist bulkiness. Necklines are cut-out or framed in tiny collars to give a narrow look to the shoulder and to exaggerate the fullness of the skirt.

Hand Weaving - Art Known 4,000 Years

Of the time-mellowed art of weaving, it can truthfully be said that it has cast its spell over all ages of people, women and men alike. No other hobby horse of the present day has more appeal for all classes or can be ridden by almost anyone after a few hours instruction.

The story of hand-weaving is a fascinating one. It goes back to the earliest days of man upon this earth and its beginnings are lost in the shades of antiquity. What many consider the oldest specimen of woven cloth in existence was unearthed from the ruins of Mahenjo-Daro, city of the dead in the valley of Indus. This city, it has been estimated. was deserted 3,000 years B.C. and yet pieces of cloth have been unearthed by excavators and archeologists. They had been perfectly preserved by resting on pieces of silver metal which in time oxidized them.

Other speciments have been found in caves inhabited by primitive peoples many thousands of years ago. For 3,000 years India was the undisputed mistress of the art. Many and fabulous are the stories of ancient cottons so fine they could scarcely be felt on the hand, of a muslin so sheer that when laid on the grass and covered with dew it became invisible.

Experts Advise On Heat-Savers

Keep your radiators dusted if you wish to keep the home warm with a minimum amount of fuel, advises the Canadian Institute of Plumbing and Heating. Dust acts as an insulator and prevents the heat in the radiators from warming the room.

There are two types of radiators in common use today, points out the Institute. These are the large free-standing radiator, and the smaller "concealed" type. Both of these depend on a free circulation of air around them, so draperies or furniture should not be placed to block the front of the radiator. Moreover, much of the warmth from the free-standing type is derived from direct radiation, and anything in front of the radiator absorbs this heat.

Don't let the heat in the house escape into the cold outdoors. Not only should the walls, roof and windows be insulated, but windows and doors should not be kept open longer than necessary. Goodbyes should be made indoors rather than on the front porch. A door open for a minute can lower the house temperature several degrees, requiring many pounds of fuel to recover.

If you find an upstairs room too warm, don't open the window without shutting the door of the room. Due to the "chimney effect" of a two or three-storey house, the heat in the downstairs rooms will rise and flow out the open window. You will, therefore, cool the rest of the house before you cool the room you are in

WELL - FITTED SHOES

Experienced shoe repair men can tell a lot from examining a person's shoes. Maybe we can borrow a few of his clues. Shoes that fit correctly show wear covering the entire sole area, with greater signs of wear along the margin of the sole and outer edge of heels.

Excessive wear on the forward part of the sole indicates the shoes are too short. Especially heavy wear on inner border of the heel and inner margin of the sole suggests the shoe upper is out of shape, throwing too much weight on the inside of the foot.

N.D.G. Women's Club Holds Monthly Business Meeting

The regular monthly business meeting of the Notre Dame de Grace Women's Club was held on Friday, in Victoria Hall, with the President, Mrs. Norman B. Muir, in the Chair. The meeting opened with the singing of O, Canada, followed by the reading of the minutes by Mrs. J. M. Purcell, and correspondence by Mrs. P. Sinclair, which included a letter of thanks from Mrs. G. W. Latham, showing her appreciation on being made a Life Member, and also a letter from St. Mathias Church to the Drama Group voicing their thanks and appreciation for the presentation of "The Six Queens of Henry" in their Church Hall.

Mrs. S. Turner reporting on "Personal Parcels Scheme" stated results to the response were very gratifying, and that the Notre Dame de Grace Women's Club is staffing a Depot in the N.D.G. Post Office on Tuesday and Wednesday, February 24th and 25th, for further donations.

The monthly visit to St. Anne's Military Hospital and to the Senneville Health and Occupational Centre, was made by Mrs. A. E. Reynolds and her Committee, with a liberal distribution of "comforts and morale builders" for the boys.

Mrs. C. Bresee gave a report on the activities of the Gilson Girls' Club, and made an appeal for vocational assistance with a group of twelve year olds for one or two Thursday evenings in the near future.

Interesting reports on Club activities were given by Mrs. J. W. Perks, Local Council of Women Citizens Forum, Mrs. W. M. Hick, Civics, Mrs. S. S. Beamish, Homeopathic Hospital, Mrs. R. W. Varey, Community Council, Mrs. W. P. Montgomery, Girls' Counselling Centre, Mrs. F. W. Bishop, United Nations, and Mrs. H. S. Marion, Spring Bridge.

Report of Groups was read by Mrs. J. H. Maude.

Members of the Notre Dame de Grace Women's Club interested in the "Know Your Montreal" project are advised by the Chairman, Mrs. J. S. Miller, that the next place of interest to be visited is McGill University, when the group will be taken through the Ethnological Museum, and, if time permits, one or two other museums. Plans have been made to meet on Tuesday, March 30th at 2 o'clock in the Medical Building, 3640 University St., and any member desirous of making this visit, will please get in touch with Mrs. Miller at the March business meeting.

The Parliamentary Procedure class has completed its course of ten lessons for this year, Mrs. G. D. McKay, Chairman, reports.

Mrs. R. Drain, Chairman of the Red Cross group reported on work being accomplished and asked for additional assistance from interested members.

"I'm not as young as I used to be" is being proved every day on the coasting hills.

Clothing Requested For Rummage Sale

The monthly Holy Hour sponsored by the Manresa Ladies' Guild and conducted by Rev. M. J. MacNeil S.J. was held in Congress Hall Feb. 19th.

At the general meeting which followed the Holy Hour exercises, the president, Mrs. Blanchard, announced the date and place of the Rummage sale - Mar. 22nd, 2 p.m. at St. Anthony's Parish Hall. Any member or friend wishing to donate disused clothing, bed linens, curtains, dishes or etc., 'phone Mrs. Blanchard, WE. 4140; Mrs. Commins, AT. 0220 or Mrs. Johnson, LA. 1376.

It was also announced that the result of our drive for new members was quite gratifying, but, in order that we may broaden the scope of our accomplishments, a very much larger membership is necessary. The present members were urged to continue extending invitations to their friends to join us.

An appeal was made for books, pamphlets and etc., for the library which will be opening in the near future at the Casa Manresa Retreat House.

Corn, Beans Offer Protein-Rich Dishes

For Lenten meatless meals, try first rate protein dishes made with eggs, canned corn or dried lima beans.

Corn Pudding

Two cups canned corn, 3 tablespoons table fat, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 eggs, slightly beaten; 2 cups, milk, pepper to taste.

Combine corn, eggs and milk. Add melted fat and salt. Pour into oiled baking dish. Set dish in pan of hot water. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until custard is firm—about 45 minutes. Remove at once to avoid overcooking. For special color touches, add some chopped green pepper, parsley or a few strips of pimiento to the pudding.

Baked Lima Beans
(Serves 4-6)

Two cups lima beans, 1 onion, sliced; ¼ to ½ pound ham (such as trimmings from bone), if desired; 1 teaspoon salt, ½ tablespoon brown sugar, ¼ teaspoon dry mustard, ¼ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 1 small can tomato soup.

Wash and soak beans in cold water overnight (or 5 to 6 hours in warm water). Drain, cover with fresh water and cook slowly until almost done. Arrange sliced onion on bottom of baking dish. Pour hot beans on top. Cut ham in ½-inch pieces and press into top of beans. Mix salt, brown sugar, mustard, Worcestershire sauce and tomato soup and pour over beans. Add cooking water to cover beans. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for about 2 hours. Instead of ham trimmings in the baked limas, try bacon, salt pork, pork sausage or chopped frankfurters.

Allen's Play-Like Stories

JANETTE STEVENSON MURRAY

Four-year-old Allen and his mother were visiting at "Grandfather's". In the big yard there was a pipe carrying water to the garden. Grandma had been gathering tomatoes, and she was taking them into the house just as Allen came out. Soon the little boy's mother heard water running, and on going to the garden found a faucet turned on full force.

"Did you turn the water on, Allen?" she inquired.

"No. Grandma did it to wash the things she picked up. She left it running; and didn't she make an awful mess?"

Mother went back to the house, but in a little while she returned and approached Allen in a wiser way. "What did you want water for when you turned the faucet on?" she asked.

"Grandma turned it on," Allen persisted.

"No, Allen, Grandma didn't turn it on."

"How do you know?"

"I asked her. She said she didn't wash anything"

"Well — it just turned on by itself."

"But a faucet can't do that. You probably gave the handle a little turn," suggested Mother gently.

"Yes, I turned it just a little bit. Then I went over there and the water came out with a big rush."

Upon further questioning, Allen, who is fond of fishing, admitted that he wanted "a river to fish in." Mother explained that they could not afford to have water running away, and then she helped Allen to fill a pail. When, supplied with a cord and a bent hairpin for fishing tackle, the boy was calmly fishing in the pail, he said, "That was just a play-like story you told about Grandma turning on the water. You remember I told you about play-like stories."

"Yes," faintly.

"What was the real story?"

"That I turned it on."

"What are the two kinds of stories?"

"Real stories and play-like stories."

"Which are true?"

"Real stories."

"Which are the ones you make up?"

"Play-like stories."

"Yes, play-like stories are only make-believe — they are like the

Happy Needlewomen Object Of New Plan

"Homemade" should be as much a quality tag when applied to clothes as to cakes and jam. In clothes-rationed Britain nearly every woman has to do sewing of some sort. Ninety-six per cent of women of all ages is the official figure for the stitchers. But for two out of three this means patching, darning and mending only. It is not surprising that less than 50 per cent enjoy sewing.

The National Needle Arts Bureau feels the percentage of disgruntled needlewomen is high because the percentage of creative sewers is low. After detailed research, they judge that only 27 per cent do creative sewing or remaking. The Bureau feels confident that the 48.3 per cent of women who enjoy sewing include those 27 per cent who do creative needlework.

The Bureau plans to increase the number of happy needlewomen by spreading sound and simple ideas which help women and young people to brighten their homes and make good clothes for themselves and their children. They have a set of patterns which are published in various women's magazines and in the press generally. These have proved so popular, the first issue is exhausted and they are being reprinted.

British Models Adopt New Pose Anent Rivals

Britain's artists' models have declared "open war" on society women, ballet-dancers and casuals who, they allege, are taking away their livelihood by posing for small fees or, in some cases, for no fees at all.

Backed up by a new association which recently won for its 270 girl-members a pay increase from three shillings (60 cents) to four shillings an hour, they have drawn up a "professional charter" that provides for "a closed shop."

The Models Association charged that too many wealthy women in search of a new diversion are offering themselves as models. Some of them are even said to be prepared to pay artists to allow them to pose.

Jinx started her own slimming program while she was still looking starry-eyed at her son, Patrick. When she left the hospital she weighed her normal 130 pounds. Two weeks later she had regained her normal measurements.

Secret of her success? She had her doctor prescribe exercises and diet. Then she followed his advice to the letter and firmly resisted any temptation to deviate from her course.

After you've regained a svelte figure, keep it that way with exercise and disciplined eating habits, advises Jinx.

That Man Comes To Westmount Theatre Sunday

That man sure is a popular fellow in Montreal; the moviegoers just won't let him leave. Originally scheduled for a one week engagement at the Snowdon Theatre, he remained for five weeks, the theatre being filled to capacity for each performance. He then moved to the Strand where his original booking of one week stretched into two; then onto the York where he was booked for 3 days. There, too, he had to remain for an extra four days. Victor Moore is our little man appearing in the ads dressed only in his underwear. He's been making people laugh for many years now and when asked recently about retiring, why, that's the one word he apparently has never heard of, or doesn't understand if he has heard it.

Already, he has been an actor more years than many men live. Yet he has not thought of quitting—at least, not for a good long time.

He celebrated his 52nd year as a thespian while doing the star role in "It Happened on 5th Avenue." This rich comedy, also starring Don DeFore, Ann Harding, Charlie Ruggles and Gale Storm, comes to the Westmount theatre on Sunday.

"Quit? That's not for me—not for a good long time. I'm having too much fun working. I wouldn't know what to do if I turned my back on film or stage jobs," the friendly Moore said between scenes at the studio. "Why, I'd miss all this." He flicked a finger toward the camera, twisted it so it pointed to a make-up man, swung it around to centre on the sound truck nearby.

"Oh, of course, I may forsake Hollywood every now and then," he added, "but only to take up a new role on the New York stage."

AT THE WESTMOUNT STARTING SUNDAY!

"This is the entrance to our winter mansion," says Victor Moore to his friends in this scene from the delightful comedy, "It Happened On Fifth Avenue," which starts a one week engagement at the Westmount Theatre on Sunday. Appearing with "That Man" is Gale Storm, Charlie Ruggles, Ann Harding and Don DeFore.

Moore, who now is—well, he admits to 70 years — is a stage-trained comedian. His start, like many another actor's, was a lowly, low-paid one.

"Ethel Barrymore made her stage debut in 'Rosemary'," he recalled. "I was given a small part in that big show. I made only $4 a week then. At least, it was a start. But I stuck to acting, despite the low pay in those early years. I'm going to continue to stick to it, for just this one reason: I like it."

In "It Happened on 5th Avenue" Moore is seen as a kindly, philosophic hobo who spends a clandestine winter in the luxurious surroundings of a boarded-up New York mansion, innocently taking in a group of "guests" which eventually includes the masquerading owner and his family.

The added attraction is a mystery picture entitled "SECOND CHANCE" featuring Kent Taylor and Louise Currie.

The story gets off to a fast start when Kent Taylor finds himself in competition with an eye-filling blonde in the business of separating (by light-fingered methods) a jeweler from a $30,000 gem. Taylor and the girl, Louise Currie, team up, and he brings her into the inner circle of an international ring of jewel thieves who are setting plans to steal the fabulous, million-dollar Malabar diamond.

The unfolding of these plans, the work of the insurance detectives assigned to the case, the growing romance between the two and the final ironic twist that brings the couple face-to-face with an almost insurmountable challenge, all lead to a blazing surprise climax.

"I Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now" At Avenue Saturday

The delightful Technicolor musical picture "I WONDER WHO'S KISSING HER NOW" will be shown on the screen of the Avenue Theatre starting Saturday until Tuesday. Based on the many interesting incidents in the life of that grand romantic troubadour of yesteryear, Joe Howard, the film boasts a wonderful cast headed by June Haver, Mark Stevens, Martha, Stewart and Reginald Gardiner.

June Haver is well cast as the girl who is at first considered by the popular song writer to be merely a kid — until one day he realizes his hasty judgment and falls in love with the young lady. Miss Haver is a very talented girl — her singing, dancing and acting in this picture are high points in the top musical of the year.

Mark Steven is very smooth in his portrayal of the song-and-dance man, Joe Howard, who had less trouble with his tunes than with his women. The wonderful versatility and refreshing personality he displays here underline the reasons for Mr. Steven's spectacular rise to stardom.

Martha Stewart, an excellent singer, plays the part of one of the first women in Howard's life. Reginald Gardiner is at his comedy best in the true-life role of Will Hough, the playwright.

The second attraction, a film classic adapted from the great novel written by Michael Sodleir entitled "FANNY BY GASLIGHT", co-stars England's outstanding stage and screen personalities James Mason and Phyllis Calvert, Stewart Granger and Wilfred Lawson.

Paul De Marky To Be Heard At Tudor Hall

For the second concert of the series Paul de Marky has chosen a programme representative of the classical and romantic composers.

His followers will be pleased to know that his programme includes Mozart's ingratiating and sparkling Fantasia. The Chopin group will consist of the majestic and tuneful Sonata in B Minor, and such favourite Etudes that are known and appreciated for their beauty and technical problems by students of the piano.

Mr. de Marky has also chosen to play the seldom performed but charming and original Godowski arrangement of Schubert's Moment Musical. A de Marky concert is not complete without at least one Liszt composition, and he has bowed to popular demand by consenting to play the Campanella by Franz Liszt.

If the skiing season was all that gave our country the jumps we'd be okay.

"The Root Of All Evil" At Snowdon Saturday

A good story and casting play an important part in the success of a motion picture. Such is the case with the newest British film "THE ROOT OF ALL EVIL" which will begin a one week engagement at the Snowdon Theatre on Saturday. Heading the list of popular players are Phyllis Calvert, seen in many English and American pictures; Michael Rennie, well-known to screen audiences for his excellent performances in many English films; John McCallum, tall, handsome and brilliant newcomer from Australia who plays his role in this picture with skill and a delightful charm which will make him a popular hero with movie-goers. These three stars head a wonderful supporting cast who perform their roles with equal skill.

"THE ROOT OF ALL EVIL" is a film full of human appeal. It has vital living characterizations which build up the theme into an enthralling story. It is about a young girl, Jeckie, played by Miss Calvert, who is engaged to the son of a rich grocer. When Jeckie's farm is about to be sold, she goes to her fiance's father and asks him for a loan. She discovers that the father knows nothing about his son's intentions to marry, and so turns down her request. The son, who turns out to be a cad, does not write to Jeckie. Later she hears that he is to be married to somebody else. Furious, Jeckie brings action against him for breach of promise but his father settles the matter out of court and with the money, Jeckie starts a business of her own. She has been disappointed in love and now believes that money is the only thing in life of any importance. She prospers and her business grows, finally becoming the richest woman in the town. But suffering a set back in her business when an old farmer seeks revenge on her, Jeckie realizes even more strongly that she was better off in the old days when she had no riches.

The added entertainment will delight audiences. A double reel entitled "ANTARCTIC WHALE HUNT", a technicolor cartoon "Flora", and the latest newsreel bringing to the screen the latest development in world events.

Direct From ★ Hollywood

By Jack Hirshberg

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 26 — Cecil B. DeMille is so intent on a spring trout fishing trip to Canada that the father of films has postponed shooting on his next masterwork, "Samson and Delilah", until autumn.

C. B. considers this biblical tale the world's greatest love story and has had it in preparation many months. Currently, much interest centers upon its casting. Paulette Goddard and Vivien Leigh are possibilities for Delilah, but it is likely a younger actress will get the role. DeMille seems interested in Rhonda Fleming just now.

Victor Mature fits the producer's idea of Samson, but even this assignment is far from consummation. He might use a newcomer in the role, thus creating a new star in what may be his final chore as a director. He'll be 67 next birthday, and direction is a tough deal for a man of advanced years.

Incidentally, DeMille knows Canada rather well. As a young actor he toured the country four decades ago both in vaudeville and with an itinerant company in which his brother, William, served as producer.

Their vaudeville act was a spectacular stunt in which they dueled with one another using genuine sharp blades. Each was an excellent swordsman and knew the other's weak points and style, so blood was never drawn.

"We were really very careful," smiled DeMille as we chatted in his Paramount office. "After all, the act could hardly have survived as a single!"

Incidentally, C.B. thinks people should read their bibles more thoroughly. Widespread ignorance of things biblical was brought home to him impressively during a recent brief sojourn in hospital. He was bedded for a week and spent considerable time thinking about the coming film. One day he asked his nurse if she knew much about Samson and Delilah.

"No, I've never heard of them," she replied.

"You say you're a graduate nurse?"

"Yes."

"Yet, with all that education you've never heard of Samson, the strong man . . . the hair cutting . . . You've never heard of that?"

She once again said no.

Somewhat shocked, DeMille called in his assistants and told them to check up among their friends and acquaintances. Tabulation of this informal poll uncovered some frightening facts. Of over 200 persons questioned, only 20 recalled the incident at Gaza when Samson pulled down the Temple upon the Philistines. Thirty-two remembered the story as one in which "a beautiful babe betrayed Samson by cutting off his locks"—as one gentleman phrased it.

About 15 people knew the story was somehow concerned with the jawbone of an ass. A few confused Samson with David, saying Samson slew Goliath with the jawbone of an ass.

None knew Samson was a judge, imprisoned in chains, blinded and put to grinding corn.

"Looks like I'll have to educate the movie-going public first, and entertain them afterwards," mused DeMille.

"Dark Passage" Opens At The Seville Theatre

Humphrey Bogart and Lauren Bacall are cast together for the third time in "Dark Passage" which opens Saturday at the Seville Theatre. This is an action-packed screen version of the David Goodis novel of the same name, which has been directed by Delmer Daves. Daves is also responsible for the screen play, making this a double-scoring chore for him.

In support of the leading duo are: Agnes Moorehead, Bruce Bennett and Tom D'Andrea. Clifton Young and Rory Mallinson round out the roster of supporting players. Miss Bacall's assignment is a more sympathetic one than usual, as she depicts a serious-minded young lady here, instead of the sultry enchantress.

Bogart is cast as an escaped convict from San Quentin who tries to prove his innocence. All of this is shot in and near San Francisco, where the company spent a month shooting exteriors. The Golden Gate Bridge figures prominently in the action and the camera makes wide use of this engineering structure to motivate the more exciting moments in the picture. One of the standout scenes is a slugfest between Bogart and Young beneath the bridge.

The added attraction is the unusual and different film entitled "Angel on My Shoulder." This is a highly unique comedy, with dramatic overtones. Harry Segall, author of the famous "Here Comes Mr. Jordan" film which received the Academy Award of 1940, wrote the original story for the Rogers' production. Paul Muni, an Academy Award winner on his own account, stars in the film with lovely Anne Baxter and Claude Rains.

The story takes us to Hades where Rains, playing the Devil himself, is infuriated by the dearth of new recruits. Then along comes Muni, an ex-gangster who has been "done in" by his former pal. He, too, is furious because now he thinks he can never get even. But the Devil is a wily soul, and hatches up a brilliant plot whereby he can gain new recruits and the gangster can avenge himself. The plan brings these two tortured souls back to earth, with the gangster's soul placed in the living form of a kindly judge, whom the Devil wants to master. From this point on, the action is intriguingly different, amusing and dramatic in rapid turn.

Muni plays the dual role of judge and gangster, with Anne Baxter charming as well as beautiful as the former's secretary-financée.

A college professor recommends using table salt as the best agent for cleaning teeth. All it takes is a little grit.

"Alice" Adult Performances At Vic Hall

The current Canadian Art Theatre production, "Alice in Wonderland", presented at Victoria Hall tonight and Friday evenings for a special adult run, represents the climax of the present Theatre season for this company.

When May comes and the last curtain will have rung down on the last CAT production for the year, it will have been an eventful and successful year. None of the plays, however, will have the memories that "Alice" will hold—with its lavish costumes, gaudy colours, brilliant masks, and lilting music.

As well as displaying some very experienced talent, "Alice in Wonderland" serves to introduce several players to the Victoria Hall stage who are as yet in their debut stage. These are Dinny Stern, Evangeline Rossie, Marcia Crombie, Katherine Young, and Mary Kay Martin — all of whom are appearing with the CAT for the first time, after having completed one term with the "Children's Workshop".

The part of Alice is being played by a young lady who graduated from the Children's Workshop, and who lays claim to a considerable amount of experience on local stages. Helen Fyfer, who will be remembered as Dorothy in "The Wizard of Oz", gives to the role of Alice all of the zest and life that Lewis Carroll must have had in mind for the girl when he created the character.

Adults will thrill to the play's fantasy Thursday and Friday evenings of this week, while children will, as usual, meet at the Saturday matinee for the regular line-up.

WHS Pucksters Lose To Verdun

Blow 2-1 Lead To Cellar Dwellers

Westmount High's Senior A band of puck-chasers suffered their most humiliating defeat of the season down at the Verdun Auditorium Monday afternoon when they lost out 4-2 to a battling Verdun sextet. It was the Verdunites' first win of the season.

Going into the third period the locals were coasting along behind a slim 2-1. But then, all thunder broke loose as Verdun blasted in three goals in less than two minutes.

Bob Pugh, now in his third year in the Senior A league, knotted the count after only 36 seconds of play in the final heat. Pugh took the rubber behind the nets and blasted out a pass that bounced into the cords off of George McLanders.

Terry Lyons made it 3-2 at the 1.04 mark when he slapped one in between Prosser's legs, and Don Davis put the game on ice with another goal at 2.07.

Westmount made desperate attempts to get back into the game but the winners put up a game defensive battle that held the Purple and white at bay.

Verdun opened the scoring after five minutes and 13 seconds of play when he tipped in a pass from Dawson. McLanders tied it up for Westmount when he got the first of his two goals just before the period ended and gave the Westmounters the lead for the only time in the game at 2.35 of the middle session when he dented the twine after receiving a relayed pass from Tucker and Ingram.

Westmount — Goal, Prosser; defence, Reaper, Lord; centre, Ingram; wings, McLanders, Tucker. Subs: Nicholson, King, Root, MacMillan, Webb.

Verdun — Goal, Bridges; defence, Dawson, Rogers; centre, Davis; wings, Waldron, Scharff. Subs: Pugh, Labelle, King, Lyons.

Boston Bruins, who have been playing a vastly-improved type of hockey of late, picked up four points during the week and are now just two points back of the third-place New York Rangers. The Broadway Blue Shirts have 48 points to the Bruins 46. Boston have a seven-point lead over the fifth-place Montreal Canadiens and the four-time N. H. L. winners will have a tough job catching the Beantowners in the drive for the post-schedule laurels. Chicago Black Hawks are in the cellar with 35 points.

Westmount Cagers Hand West Hill 36-34 Defeat

West Hill's Senior A basketball team suffered its second defeat of the season last Thursday afternoon when Westmount emerged on top 36-34 in one of the gest high school cage battles of the 1948 season. The contest took place in the Red and Gray's gym.

Even as the two quintets were warming up before the game, the many people present knew that they were about to see a good game. As it turned out they were not disappointed.

As the final score indicates, the scoring was almost on the inflationary side. The baskets, most of them, were quick. Two hold-overs from last year's Purple and White team sparked the suburb city crew to the win. Gordie MacLeod netted 15 points while his teammate, Dennis Skinner, collected eight. The Red Raiders' Jake Cook also chalked up eight points, the mapority of them coming in the pinch in the final quarter.

Game Starts Fast

The game started off at a torrid pace. Six successive baskets were netted in the first fe minutes, both teams coming out even. For the rest of the quarter play slowed down — for the last time that afternoon. From then on speed was the keynote.

With a four-point lead already in their hands at the beginning of the second quarter, the Westmount five pushed on to pile up an even heavier one. West Hill had power everywhere but in the scoring department. However, with the end of the half looming up on the horizon they did catch up to a certain extent, tailing by five large points when the half-time whistle blew.

CANADIENS ON VERGE OF ELIMINATION

The outlook at the present moment is far from bright for the Montreal Canadiens. They are currently nestled deep in fifth place, far behind the Boston Bruins, and with only the oncoming Chicago Black Hawks separating them from the cellar, with four-fifths of the season's schedule of sixty games already played. Last Saturday's 3-1 loss to the Bruins was probably the crucial one for the 1947-48 season, for had the Habs won, they would have cut the Bruins' lead to but 3 points. But Boston was equal to the task and won easily, opening the gap to an almost insurmontable lead of seven points, a great advantage at this stage of the season.

* * *

On all sides, you can hear reasons as to the cause of the sudden collapse of the Canadiens, after four years of leading the league, perhaps the most glorious years in Montreal's hockey history. But you can't trace this collapse to one thing or to one man — it is a collective let-down such as has been suffered by other teams in other sports like the New York Yankees, who in 1924, after three successive American League pennants, fell back and finished in second place, but far behind the leading Washington Senators.

ROOKIES HAVE NOT IMPRESSED

The five rookies that the Habs imported from the Allan Cup champion Montreal Royals have failed to pay off as expected. Two of them, Curry and Riopelle, have suffered injuries that have kept them out of the lineup frequently, and two others, Doug Harvey, adjudged the brightest star of all, and Tod Campeau, have shuffled between here and Buffalo all season long. Only Jacques Locas has played regularly and he hasn't shown the savvy or finesses necessary for an N.H.L. star.

* * *

Misfortune has also hit the great Punch Line, reducing it from the high-scoring and much-feared unit of other years to a very ordinary combination today. The greatest single blow here, of course, was the injury to Toe Blake, team captain and a great team player, which actually broke up the Habs' great line. However, Maurice Richard, hailed in the past few years as the greatest hockey player in the world, has been playing uninspired and lackadaisical hockey ever since his early season injury eliminated him from the scoring race. On this so-called first line only Elmer Lach has held up his end, and his play has been spotty, although he is among the league's top scorers and has been by far the Canadiens' most effective performer of the season.

The failure of Mosdell and Chamberlain to regain their form of last season, following serious injuries, has been another bitter blow to the club's chances. Billy Reay has never played as he did last season, when he had his best year, while the newest acquisition, Norm Dussault, while playing in an enthusiastic and driving manner still lacks the finesse to be a top star.

* * *

Joe Carveth, when obtained from Boston, was the Bruin's leading scorer, but it took him over a month to get his first goal as a Canadien. He has never played as well here as he did for Boston and Detroit in past seasons. But like Blake, Chamberlain, Reay, and Bouchard, Joe seems to be either too old or burned out.

As for the defense, it, too, can be blamed for a major part of the Canucks' downfall. Bouchard and Reardon, the league's best defence for the past two seasons, have slipped a long way, both as a combination and individually, although Reardon still manages to play the occasional brilliant game. Bouchard's chief contribution to the team welfare this season has been fighting with Bill Ezinicki of Toronto. As for the other defencemen, Harmon and Leger have played very ordinary hockey, while Harvey and Laycoe have been, at best, disappointments.

Bill Durnan, in the goals, stands out on this, the weakest of all modern Canadien teams, for Bill is still one of the best goalers in hockey, and with that uncertain defence in front of him, he has to be to keep in the running for the Vezina Trophy.

Westmount

second half. This quarter saw the excitement brewing up to the climax in the final stanza. There was scoring galore and fewer fouls.

The fast pace, set at the outset of the game, was gradually revived to the cheers of the spectators. Since the visitors carried only three substitutes, two of whom never set foot on the floor, compared to the Red and Gray seven, the Westmount team was expected to slow up. But they, unfortunately for the West Hillians, showed hardly any fatigue.

Red Raiders Rally

The fourth and final quarter was THE period of the game. West Hill came from behind to tie the score at 30-30, Cook netting two very timely baskets. The score remained deadlocked from then until the final few minutes.

At one time Westmount led 32-30 and then West Hill worked up to a slim 34-33 lead. However, accurate shooting put the Purple and White quintet in the winners' column.

It was a hard-earned victory for the Westmounters but for West Hill, as Coach Searle said, "So near and yet so far."

Toronto Maple Leafs and Detroit Red Wings are still deadlocked in first place with 63 points each as the six N. H. L. clubs battle to the wire in one of the most exciting and closely-contested races in the history of the loop. Toronto holds one game in hand over the Red Wings.

St. Leo's Sports

That precious commodity, a fine school spirit was much in evidence at Lachine Arena Saturday when the Academy's Senior B Club nosed out the fast stepping Lachine High team by the score of 3 to 2. Playing a tenacious backchecking game against their faster opponents, St. Leo's fought themselves into exhaustion and it was this more than any other single factor that turned the tide of victory as they outlasted a hard driving and smart Lachine Club.

For a while this season, although playing winning hockey, the spirit of the team was far below par of the usual high standard set by former Senior Academy teams. The team seemed to be too much flushed with past successes and the spirit of the team was not helped any by a few boys who took themselves more seriously than the cause they enlisted to serve when they made known their intentions at the start of the season.

The name of St. Leo's enjoys an enviable reputation throughout the city for a fine school spirit and good sportsmanship and those who have the athletic interests of the school at heart are determined to keep it that way. This is no mean accomplishment unless the senior athletes in the school do their share with respect to self-sacrifice, enthusiasm and a sincere desire to serve the interests of the school as well as their own.

Last week's spirited victory should win back a lot of respect for the team and make the boys realize that when the going gets tough, it is always nice to be able to call on that valuable commodity, a winning spirit.

SPORT SHOTS

Louis St. James, Senior B defenceman played a brilliant defensive game and there was but little doubt that he was the standout player of the hard-fought battle. Albert Losito was missed from the line up but the Losito family was represented by the kid brother Ray, who was brought up from the Juniors as a replacement. Albert was sitting out the game having incurred a one game suspension for engaging in a mild round of fisticuffs the week previous.

Last week saw the Juniors in their best stride of the year. In two games played they took three out of a possible four points. Their first game was a two all draw with Loyola and on Saturday edged out the second place Verdun Juniors 3 to 2.

In the first game of the Bantam Q.A.H.A. playdowns, St. Leo's representing the Westmount section, scored handily over the Cote St. Paul representatives 14 to 1. The game was played at Oxford Park and was featured by a nine goal spurge by chunky Ross Murray. This remarkable individual scoring feat must be pretty close to a record for a Q.A.H.A. playdown game.

Harry Wolfe, Donald McDonald and Vince Heney were the Academy's marksmen in that 3 to 2 win over Lachine High. Donie McDonald, a fugitive from the goal keepers' cage is showing improvement with every game he plays.

The win over Lachine was the team's seventh straight win and gives them a four point margin at the top of the league standing, with but three games remaining to play on the schedule.

St. Leo's Junior Hockey Ski team are up North this weekend to practice over the trail in preparation for the forthcoming Interscholastic Ski Meet set for March 14th at St. Sauveur, Quebec.

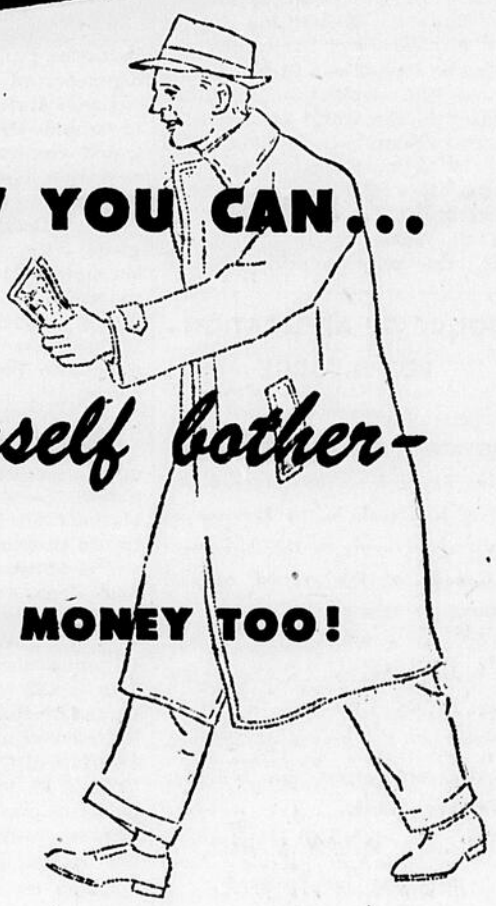

The annual challenge from the Old Boys for a hockey game, has not been received yet .D'Arcy McGovern, George Mulligan and Yves Hudson, please note.

Palestine Subject Of Sir George Williams Debate

By Charles W. Clark

The evening division of the Sir George Williams Political Problems Club recently held a meeting at which the Club was privileged to hear a debate on "The Partition of Palestine" by two guest speakers: Mr. Shibley, who spoke for the Arabs, and Mr. Welikovitch, who spoke for the Jews. During the course of the debate both speakers replied to questions from the audience.

Stating the Arab case, Mr. Shibley explained that Palestine had been occupied by the Arabs for hundreds of years after the Jews had been forced to leave Palestine by the Romans. For 700 years, 700-1400 A.D., Palestine was included in the Arab Empire under the Caliphs of Bagdad, nearly twice as long in existence as any Jewish Kingdom in Palestine. Then for more than 500 years, 1400-1918, Palestine and Arab Empire came under the domination of the Turks, until it was finally liberated by the British under General Allenby in 1918. Since then Palestine has been a British Mandate under the League of Nations.

The Balfour Declaration, guaranteeing the Jews a National home in Palestine is invalid, because it was made without consulting the inhabitants (Arabs) of Palestine and the Near East. A small country the size of Palestine could never hope to absorb all the Jews in the world. Since the signing of the Balfour Declaration, more than 800,000 Jews have been admitted to Palestine. In proportion to size and population, no other country in the world has tried to absorb so many. Mr. Shibley added that he believed that a separate Jewish state in Palestine would be a detriment to both Arab unity and the stability of the Middle East, the only solution to the Palestine problem being the establishment of a democratic binational state, with a government in which both Jews and Arabs would receive proportional representation according to population. He also expressed a strong conviction that the support being given the Zionist movement throughout the world is largely the result of a dangerous game of power politics, one example being the way American politicians have gone into the market for Jewish votes.

Presenting the Jewish case, Mr. Welikovitch stated that like all other peoples, the Jews have national aspirations. The United Nations Charter recognizes the rights possessed by all peoples to self determination, which includes both Jews and Arabs. In so far as the Jews are concerned, it is only in Palestine that their national aspirations can be satisfied. This is the first great test of the United Nations. Since it was the United Nations Organization who determined the Partition of Palestine, it is the settlement of the Palestine problem that will in large measure prove the success or failure of the United Nations in its function as an international law court and arbitrator of disputes.

In reply to some of Mr. Shibley's arguments, Mr. Welikovitch claimed that Palestine was not meant to hold all the Jews in the world, but only those fleeing from the European countries breeding the anti-semitism sown by the Nazis during the war. He used the arguments put forward by some American economists, to the effect that Palestine's south-western desert, if properly developed by an extensive system of irrigation could hold 3,000,000 people. Far from being a detriment to the Arabs, the Jews have helped immeasurably to raise their standard of living by introducing modern agriculture and sanitation into Palestine, and by developing great systems of irrigation and sources of electric power, for homes and industry, such as the Jordan Valley project, comparable to the Tennessee Valley project in the United States. Concerning Mr. Shibley's accusation that the Zionist movement in Palestine is a result of power politics, Mr. Welikovitch replied that all the Arab states in the Middle East are the results of power politics, in that if the Turkish Empire had not been broken up by Great Britain and the Allied powers after the First Great War, these independent Arab states wouldn't have come into existence.

Replying to Mr. Welikovitch's counter claims, Mr. Shibley explained that although the Arabs had benefitted somewhat through both contacts with Jews and Jewish influence, both the vast accumulation of wealth and the financial backing that the Palestinian Jews receive from the Zionist movement throughout the world might enable them to buy their way into ownership and control over not only all of Palestine, but the whole Middle East. Refuting the charges that the Middle Eastern Arab states are the result of power politics, the Arab speaker contended that in some countries such as Yemen and Iraq, where there is mass illiteracy and almost the only educated people are Jews, Jews hold some of the key positions in the governments, which have the financial backing of Jewish business men, who really control the politics of these countries.

Although much has been done by the Jews to modernize Palestine's agriculture and industry, the Arab states of Syria and Lebanon are in many respects just as far, if not further advanced along these lines, which proves that the Arabs don't require contact with Jews in order to improve their lot. In interpreting the United Nations Charter, guaranteeing self determination to all peoples, he emphasized the fact that in democratic countries, the country's policy is determined by the majority. In North America you don't give foreign immigrants or racial minorities the same rights you allow your own citizens; least of all would you allow them to carve separate independent states out of Canada and the United States.

Replying to charges made by a member of the audience that during the war, the Grand Mufti of Jerusalem, spiritual leader of the Arabs, fled to Germany to seek help for the Arab cause, while the Jews supported the Allies, Mr. Shibley insisted that the Mufti went to Germany because there was no other place for him to go; that whenever the Arabs found themselves in a tight spot, they would accept help from whatever source they could get it; and if the Devil offered to help them, they would go to the Devil.

The two guest speakers were thanked by the president of the club — Mr. Alec. Lindsay.

MAY PILOT THEIR OWN PLANES

Miss Katherine Evans and Miss Dorothy Hay, both neighbours on Grand Blvd., together on Monday at Cartierville passed with 19 men candidatse for private pilot licenses. The two girls were trained in the art of flying at the Laurentide Flying School, operated by the ex-R.C.A.F. pilot brothers, Jack, Bob and Don Scholefield, of Harvard Avenue. Freedom Is In measure would merely prolong inflation by creating a tendency toward further scarcity of consumer goods.

Mr. Sheridan declared that knowledge of the true causes of high prices indicate two remedies for the situation; reduction of the costs of government, and increased production per dollar of wage cost. The first is the responsibility of every Canadian voter; the second calls for co-operation between management and labour.

The greatest danger in these considerations is the threat to freedom, if economic conditions continue to deteriorate. "You cannot curtail or kill economic freedom without curtailing or killing political and every other freedom." This opens the way to Socialism, planned and regimented society, which is what we fought against. Unless guarded against, it can happen here.

Must Work for Freedom

The price of freedom, concluded Mr. Sheridan, is the willingness of all of us to make our system of private competitive enterprise — our system of freedom of choice — work even more effectively for the benefit of all and a willingness for all believers in that system to become crusaders in the cause of freedom."

OAT CROP FAILURE HIT SCOTS HARD

Failure of the Canadian oat crop last year hit the Scots in a vital spot. It was necessary to ration oatmeal. Scottish members in the British House of Commons protested vigorously.

Under a recent order four points a pound must be surrendered for oatmeal, rationed briefly last year but later exempt.

Catholic Women's League Hold Spring Fashion Show

A Spring Fashion Show was held in St. Leo's School Hall, Wednesday evening, under the sponsorship of the Westmount sub-division of the Catholic Women's League, and presented by Dobridge Ladies' Wear.

In the gaily decorated hall, Mrs. A. I. Peterson welcomed the audience, and introduced the charming commentator, Mrs. Olive Sanborn Lead, of N.D.G.

The models were Mrs. Eleanor Brodrick, Mrs. Marion Letourneau, Mrs. Clair Audet all of N.D.G., Miss Pat McVey, of Westmount, and Mrs. Driscoll, Miss Elizabeth Taylor, Miss Carmen Hind and Miss Yvonne Leger.

The spring clothes modelled consisted of smartly fitted suits, feminine ballerina suits, gay hooded and hoodless shorties, appealing print dresses, beautiful cocktail and day dresses, full length spring coats and a grand array of evening gowns. The show concluded with an intriguing bridal gown and two bridesmaid dresses.

There were drawings for a dress, hat and purse, donated by Dobridge Ladies' Wear and a make-up kit donated by Avon.

The piano was by Willis and Co., jewellery by Murray and O'Shea, gloves by Belgium Glove and Hosiery Ltd., and make-up by Robert Simpson.

STAR'S NIECE IN "ABIGAIL"

Georgia Backus, niece of silent screen star George Backus, and a veteran of 30 years in the theatre, has been awarded a key supporting role in "Abigail, Dear Heart," at Paramount. George Backus starred with Douglas Fairbanks in "The Habit of Happiness," among other films.
