Ships Face River Freeze-up

All But 5 Clear Canal

MONTREAL (CP)—A fleet of foreign ships, its last-ditch fight to escape an icy and profitless winter berth in Canada almost won, faced fresh obstacles today as winter's cold jaws closed on the mouth of the St. Lawrence River.

The ocean freighters steadily cut and hammered their way through the narrow, ice-choked Lachine Canal Tuesday and moved into comparatively open Montreal Harbor.

But between them and the sea lay more ice, forming rapidly and clogging the narrow parts of the St. Lawrence between here and Quebec City.

EARLY FREEZEUP

It had been feared the premature spell of near-zero weather that iced up the Lachine Canal would trap the ships in Canada's inland waterways until spring.

Most now have passed through the canal—their only route to the open river—but they may face an equally hazardous passage on the St. Lawrence.

Thirteen salt-water ships cleared the canal Tuesday and only five were left, one of them already in the canal system.

But at Quebec City, even the help of a transport department icebreaker couldn't get three freighters through pack ice as they tried to get to Montreal. The department said ice conditions were "very bad."

SHIPS FORCED BACK

The icebreaker D'Iberville escorted the freighters Transtream and Novaport but the trio had to turn back to Quebec after making only about 20 miles.

The Fredborg tried a lone run at the pack but couldn't get through the pileup at the narrows under Quebec Bridge.

Monday, the D'Iberville and Montcalm broke a path through to Trois-Rivieres for five freighters headed for Montreal. They were the last to get through.

More ice is forming at the narrow neck of Lake St. Peter, 50 miles east of Montreal.

Knowing this, some of the ships that successfully cleared the Lachine Canal have speeded up their schedules.

DASH FOR OPEN SEA

The Swedish freighter Regenborg, due to have stopped at Quebec City to pick up 2,000 tons of cargo, changed plans and announced she will dash straight down the river past Quebec to reach the sea as soon as possible. She is bound for Halifax.

Tuesday, despite a frozen hinge that cracked at Lachine's Cote St. Paul lock, workers moved ships through the nine-mile canal at a steady clip. The broken lock—it was the third one to break within two days—held up movement for nine hours.

Transport Minister Hees inspected the canal Tuesday and promised it would stay open until every ship has been cleared, or until it becomes physically impossible to keep it open.

About the only ships that appear to be permanently frozen in are the canallers Acadian and Starmount, stuck in the ice at Soulanges Canal 30 miles west of Montreal. The Soulanges Canal is already closed for the winter.

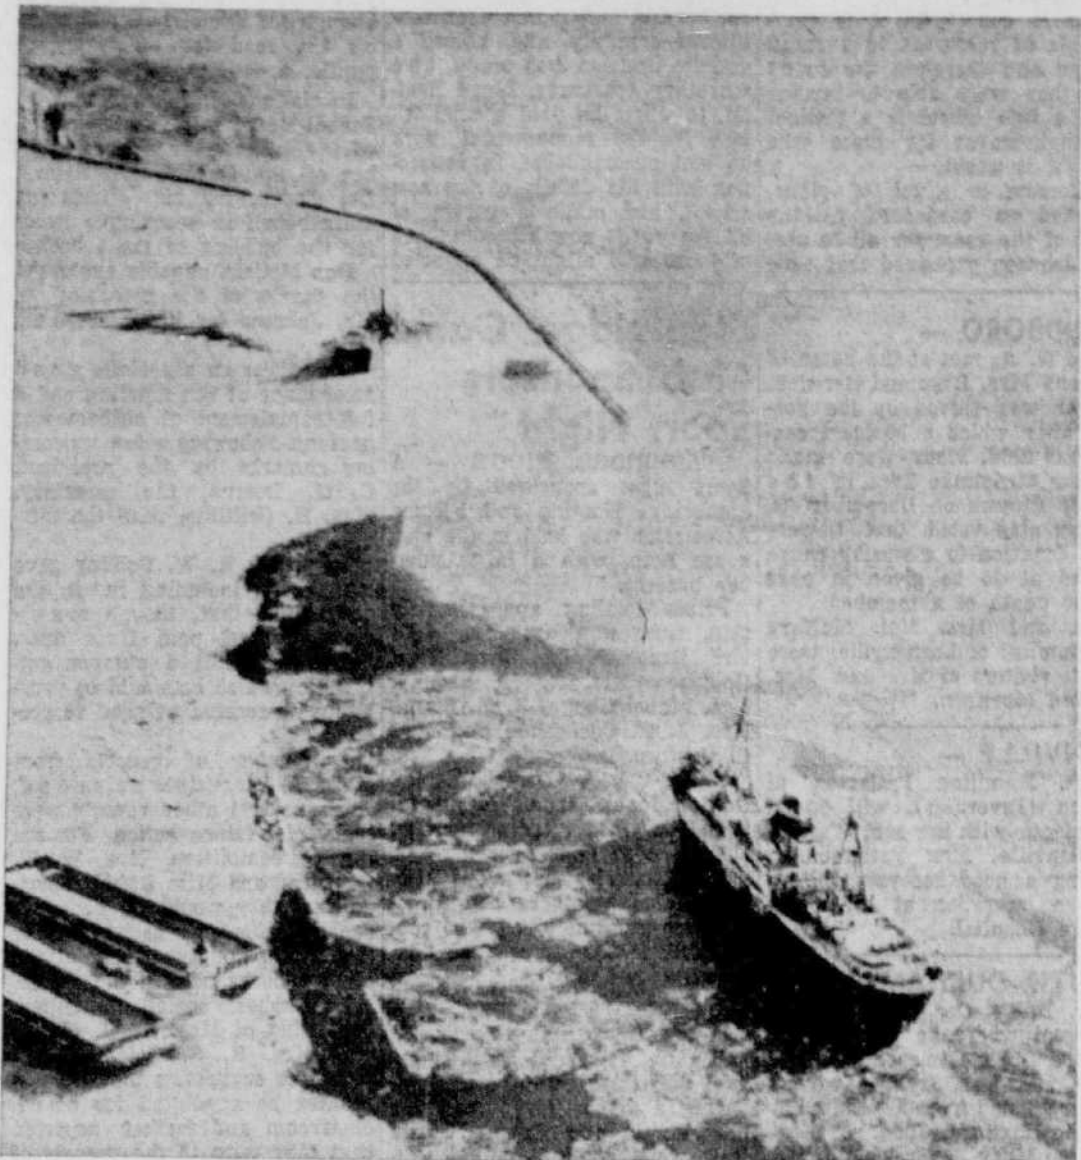

Courts Ready To Save Baby

TORONTO (CP)—Emergency legal procedure stood ready today to order a complete transfusion for a two-day-old baby girl whose Jehovah's Witness parents have refused to authorize transfusions.

Doctors say the baby's life is threatened by a blood disorder which may necessitate replacement of all her blood. They said Tuesday night the infant was not in immediate danger but her condition could become serious at any time.

Low Stays On

EDMONTON (CP)—Solon E. Low will continue to act as national leader of the Social Credit party until a national convention is called within the next 18 months, it was announced today by Orvis A. Kennedy of Edmonton, national organizer.

BUCKING THE ICE—The French freighter Joliette, foreground, is shown easing toward the ice-choked entrance of the Lachine Canal in a bid to reach Montreal harbor.

Fairer Freight Rates Bill

OTTAWA (CP)—The central government has decided on a way to strike a fairer balance in distribution of railway freight rates.

Acting Prime Minister Green's announcement Tuesday night following a day-long cabinet meeting did not say what exactly the government plans.

But he said it would alleviate discrimination.

The news was heralded in the western and Atlantic provinces as a victory following their grim fight against the most recent freight rate increase allowed the railways, a 17-per-cent boost that went into effect Dec. 1.

MAY FIGHT CHANGE
Ontario and Quebec, having the advantage over the other provinces under the present freight rate arrangement, may object to a change. They were the only provinces that did not object to the 17-per-cent boost.

Mr. Green's announcement was that a proposal will be placed before Parliament at the 1959 session. He had just emerged from a cabinet meeting at which a report by a special cabinet committee on freight rates was discussed.

Mr. Green said the proposal will represent the government's first step in dealing with the country's freight rate problem.

The western and Atlantic provinces, traditional objectors to freight rate increases allowed by the board of transport commissioners, complain that horizontal or percentage increases result in their paying an unfair proportion of the cost.

MEET WAGE DEMANDS
The 17-per-cent rate increase, which the railways estimated would net them about $60,000,000 annually, was requested so the carriers could meet wage demands of non-operating employees.

Several provinces suggested the wage demands should be met instead through a federal government subsidy to the railways. The central administration turned thumbs down on this idea.

But in its Nov. 26 statement the government said it recognizes "there are serious inequities in the present freight rate structure which have both contributed to, and been aggravated by, the system of horizontal rate increases."

CHANGE GRAIN RATES
In Toronto Saturday, CPR President N. R. Crump indicated he expects the federal study of freight rates will result in a change in statutory grain rates, commonly known as the "Northwest rates."

He said grain moving to northwestern Ontario's Lakehead and to the Pacific coast makes up one-quarter of all rail freight traffic, yet law requires it to be moved at rates no higher than those in effect in 1899.

This was the most onerous example of "outdated regulatory policies," he said.

Poison Found In Fatal Drink
STE. ADELE, Que.—A Frenchman died of a fatal poisoning after drinking a bottle of liqueur in a police investigation of the death of a man in this Laurentian community north of Montreal.

"Discovery of the strychnine makes this a murder investigation," said Detective Lieutenant Maurice Valiquette of the provincial police homicide squad.

He was reporting on chemical tests on a bottle from which Ernest Costello, 39, had drunk shortly before he died.

Ottawa Expected To Lose On Butter Deal

OTTAWA (CP)—As a storekeeper, the government is currently making a little profit on its butter sales, but officials say this likely will turn into a loss before the winter is through.

Year-old butter which the government accumulated under price support in 1957 now is being sold in carload lots on the basis of 64 cents a pound in Eastern Canada. Prices vary in the West. The government's price support for this butter was 58 cents.

From this must be deducted storage and freight costs so that the actual profit may be whittled down to three cents a pound or less.

This 1957 butter is expected to be completely sold by January.

NO PROFIT MARGIN
But the selling price of 1958 butter is the same as the 1957 buying price—the support price was boosted to 64 cents this year—and the government will have to charge storage and freight costs to the treasury.

The agricultural stabilization board has estimated that the government may still have up to 60,000,000 pounds of 1958 butter on its hands by the end of the butter year next May.

Farm Price Index Up After Slump

OTTAWA (CP)—The average price Canadian farmers got for their produce started to climb again in October after a four-month decline.

Higher prices for livestock and dairy products offset declines for potatoes and poultry products to boost the price index of agricultural products at farms to 236.1 in October, up two-fifths of a point from 235.5 in September, the bureau of statistics reported.

The index, based on 1935-39 prices equalling 100, had increased by a total of 13.5 points since the 223 of October last year.

Regionally, prices went up between September and October in British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan and Ontario, offsetting declines in the others. Over the 12-month period, prices were up in all provinces, except New Brunswick.

Khrush Claims

Reds Have Surplus A-Arms

WASHINGTON (AP)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev claims the Soviet Union has made so many nuclear weapons it may soon begin dismantling some.

One weapon, Khrushchev told Democratic Senator Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota a week ago, is an efficient and compact five-megaton hydrogen bomb, equal to 5,000,000 tons of TNT.

In missiles development, he said, the Russians have achieved a missile with a range of 14,000 kilometres—about 8,700 miles.

These are among the highlights of the U.S. senator's eight-hour talk with Khrushchev, on which Humphrey reported to President Eisenhower in an 80-minute conversation Tuesday and to state department officials Monday.

NOT SURPRISING
The new, specific information on Soviet capabilities, or claimed capabilities, in the nuclear and rocket field was described by government authorities here as being of great interest but not surprising.

They expressed confidence that despite Russian claims, the U.S. has a substantial nuclear weapons lead over the Soviet Union in numbers, variety and quantity.

The importance of a long-range missile lies not so much in its range, officials said, as in its accuracy. There was no information available on Russian claims on that score. The U.S. last week fired an Atlas missile 6,300 miles, about three-fourths as far as the Russians claim.

NOT FRIGHTENING
Officials said it appears Khrushchev did not present his weapons information for the immediate purpose of threatening or trying to scare but rather to stress the adequacy of Russia's arsenals for a military showdown.

Officials here said the U.S. and its allies long have evaluated the strength of Soviet military power along the lines of the information Khrushchev gave Humphrey.

KNEW RED ABILITY
They have assumed that the Soviet armed forces had the atomic and hydrogen bombs and warheads needed to strike a massive blow in the event of war.

And since last May 15, when the Russians put Sputnik III into orbit at a weight of 2,919 pounds, they have known the Russians possessed a rocket of tremendous thrust.

Khrushchev left Humphrey in no doubt he intends to follow a tough line in the Berlin situation. He spoke of the continued four-power occupation of Berlin as a "cancer" but at the same time said he would be glad to consider any constructive suggestions toward a Berlin solution.

Move To Stop Taylor
OTTAWA (CP)—One of the biggest court battles in Canada's history looms with a government move to block a further spread of E. P. Taylor's beer empire.

Justice Minister Fulton said Tuesday in an interview that government prosecution will be launched in January in the Ontario Supreme Court.

It will be based on a restrictive trade practices commission report made three years ago which stated there was a "danger" that Canadian Breweries Limited, headed by Mr. Taylor, might eventually dominate the beer industry unless its expansion moves are restrained.

WOULD STOP EXPANSION
The court will be asked to issue an order halting any company moves to expand in Western Canada and perhaps have it relinquish control over Western Can-

Robbery On Wellington St.

A daring thief robbed a store cashier of $1,200 in broad daylight on Wellington Street north yesterday afternoon.

The thief grabbed weekend receipts of Richman's store, Wellington Street South, from Danielle Poulin, as she was taking them to the nearby Royal Bank of Canada branch for deposit.

The theft took place shortly after 2 p.m.

Police Chief Edouard Moreau said this morning that detectives have an idea where the snatch-and-run thief is, but he declined to elaborate.

David Steinman, proprietor of the store, had left the store about 1 p.m. after leaving cash receipts with Miss Poulin for deposit at the bank. The money included receipts of Saturday and Monday.

To avoid attracting attention, Miss Poulin had put the money in her purse along with the bank deposit book. Ernest Steinman, son of the proprietor, said the girl was too frightened to cry out when the assailant robbed her. He approached her from behind and hit her wrist while at the same time grabbing the purse.

SAW HIM RUN
Miss Poulin slipped on the icy sidewalk and when she got up, she noticed the thief running down Wellington Street. She said she believed he ran down toward the Meadow Street parking lot.

Miss Poulin ran into the Bank of Montreal when she recovered and asked for help.

Police were called immediately and a search of the district began. Miss Poulin and Ernest Steinman joined police in scouring the district, including nearby bars, in an effort to locate the thief.

Mr. Steinman said today that

Ernest Steinman and his father, David, are seen in their store this morning discussing yesterday's daylight robbery of receipts amounting to $1,200.

PM Discusses Trade With New Zealand

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker said today there will be "no second prize in the competition between freedom and the forces ranged against freedom."

In a half-hour speech at a state luncheon, the Canadian leader reiterated one of the major themes of the speeches he has made in his world tour: that Asian countries must be helped to gain higher living standards and greater trade.

"If communism is to be met," he said, "we have to realize that nations cannot be permitted to live undernourished alongside nations where the standard of living is high."

LAST BIG SPEECH
Diefenbaker's last major speech of his world trip, broadcast on the national radio network, followed morning talks with Prime Minister Walter Nash. No statement was issued afterward of topics discussed but in his luncheon speech Diefenbaker indicated one of the matters involved trade in agricultural products.

New Zealand would like to increase exports of three of its major farm products—mutton, wool and dairy foods. Canada has stiff barriers against imports of New Zealand cheese and butter, produced at low cost in this country where livestock can graze the year round.

In his speech, Diefenbaker said he had discussed trade problems with Nash.

POLITICAL PROBLEMS
He said he realizes the New Zealand government has political problems. There would be criticisms if Canada, for example, exported here large amounts of farm products in face of New Zealand food surpluses.

"We have to do things in ways circumscribed by political and national requirements," he said. But there had been progress, and at the Montreal Commonwealth economic conference the spirit of give and take existed. Canada had frozen its special low tariff at one cent a pound on imports on mutton and lamb.

HIGH MEAT IMPORTS
At a press conference earlier today the same topics were raised, Diefenbaker told reporters New Zealand exports of frozen meats to Canada in the first half of 1958 exceeded the total for the entire of 1957.

As for butter, he said Canada has a surplus of about 60,000,000 pounds and added that dairy products are the largest single source of income for Canadian farmers.

The luncheon speech was the second of the day for the prime minister. Before lunch he spoke briefly to an audience of about 1,000 at a city hall reception. It was only the third occasion during the tour in which he had spoken to a meeting of the general public—the others were in London and New Delhi.

His Hearing Still All Right

LONDON.—(Reuters)—Sir Winston Churchill was listening to a House of Commons debate while two Conservative members of Parliament chatted about him on the back bench.

One member, the London Daily Herald reported today, said to the other: "The old man seems to be getting a bit past it these days."

He added that the company was insured for just about everything except daylight robbery.

Miss Poulin, who was in tears after the robbery, was resting at home today.

Police said they had not determined whether the robbery was carefully planned or a stroke of luck for the assailant.

New Site

TORONTO (CP)—The Toronto Stock Exchange may move from its present Bay Street location to a 40-story building to be constructed at downtown King and Church street. The Metropolitan Toronto executive committee was told Tuesday the exchange and the Telegram Publishing Company Limited have combined to buy the property.

POTENTIAL THREAT
However, if Canadian Breweries "should be allowed to pursue any further, especially in Western Canada, the course of action which has hitherto characterized its activities and has been the means by which its great expansion has been achieved, there would be danger that such a condition of domination and control might ultimately be attained."

Mr. Taylor, 57-year-old Toronto industrialist, was described in the report as "undoubtedly the moving spirit in the organization and development of the company."

Since its incorporation in 1920, Canadian Breweries was reported to have acquired 23 brewing companies in Ontario and closed 12 of them, reducing the number of beer and ale brands to nine from 150.

Court Battle Over Beer Empire

OTTAWA (CP)—One of the biggest court battles in Canada's history looms with a government move to block a further spread of E. P. Taylor's beer empire.

Justice Minister Fulton said Tuesday in an interview that government prosecution will be launched in January in the Ontario Supreme Court.

It will be based on a restrictive trade practices commission report made three years ago which stated there was a "danger" that Canadian Breweries Limited, headed by Mr. Taylor, might eventually dominate the beer industry unless its expansion moves are restrained.

WOULD STOP EXPANSION
The court will be asked to issue an order halting any company moves to expand in Western Canada and perhaps have it relinquish control over Western Canada Breweries Limited which operates on the Prairies and in British Columbia.

It will be one of the biggest anti-combines battles in the country's history. It could last several years.

Toronto lawyer Roland Wilson will handle the government's prosecution.

Revelation of the move follows by just a week strong criticism of the government made at the Canadian Temperance Federation annual conference here for not taking action sooner on the basis of the restrictive trade practices commission report.

This report said it could find no evidence Canadian Breweries had developed monopolies. Though the company had a "monopolistic purpose," it was not "in either substantial or complete control of the brewing industry, either throughout Canada or throughout any important area or district in Canada, to the detriment and against the interest of the public."

However, if Canadian Breweries "should be allowed to pursue any further, especially in Western Canada, the course of action which has hitherto characterized its activities and has been the means by which its great expansion has been achieved, there would be danger that such a condition of domination and control might ultimately be attained."

Mr. Taylor, 57-year-old Toronto industrialist, was described in the report as "undoubtedly the moving spirit in the organization and development of the company."

W. J. Johnson Outlines Planning Of School At Thetford Mines Meeting

THETFORD MINES — A detailed outline of some of the planning which had gone into the securing of a new Protestant school for Thetford was given by W. J. Johnson, chairman of the school board, at the December meeting of the Home and School Association.

Mr. Johnson pointed out that in-so-far as the number of Protestant rate-payers in Thetford Mines is concerned, it is comparable in resources to a small village and therefore the fact that they were able to finance such a fine school is a distinct accomplishment for those who brought it about.

Referring to a set of plans, mounted on cardboard at the front of the room for all to see, Mr. Johnson explained that the new building would have 10 classrooms and a gym, both longer and wider than the present one in the old school. It would have acoustical tile to cut down on noise, and be of fire resistant construction. The building had been planned in such a way that additions could be made whenever they became necessary or could be afforded.

Commenting on the site chosen, he said that it had been considered carefully and before a definite decision was made the secretary-treasurer, Lloyd Beattie, to whom he paid special tribute for the monumental work he had accomplished in connection with the details of the new school, had made a survey of all the pupils now attending and of those who might be expected to attend in the next few years. The survey showed conclusively that the part of town in which the school was being built was the only logical one, due to the fact that by far the largest number of children came from that section.

Another point made in Mr. Johnson's speech, which was of particular interest to parents, was that the property was large enough for school buses to come off the road for unloading of pupils, a definite safety feature.

In closing Mr. Johnson said the School Board was greatly indebted to Thetford Mines local member of the Quebec Legislature, Dr. Fortin, for his efforts on their behalf in securing a grant for the building of the school.

Don McCann capably expressed the thanks of the gathering to Mr. Johnson for his interesting talk.

port, except that they were in the process of planning.

Committee reports tabled included those of George Moad, program chairman, Mrs. R. Moore, food convener, J. W. McCarvill, membership committee, and F. Thurston, Home and School projects committee.

Discussion was held and resolutions for future action made on such subjects as school uniforms, car pools, Grade XII and sports.

The meeting closed with the serving of refreshments, the food committee consisting of Mrs. R. Moore, Mrs. A. W. G. Gibb, Mrs. Marshall, Mrs. Haddow and Mrs. L. Taylor.

RANBORO — The W. A. met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Berwick. Dinner was served by the hostess after which a business session was held. Plans were made for the Christmas Tree in the United Church on December 22. It was also voted that flowers or a donation to a worthy cause valued at $5 be given in case of the death of a member.

Mr. and Mrs. Mel. McHarg and family, of Lennoxville, were recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Morrison.

STANBRIDGE RIDGE — A Sport night sponsored by the Stanbridge Hunting and Fishing Association was held in the club house here, with a large number present.

Prizes totaling approximately $110, were won by: Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Phelps, Mrs. Kent Robinson, Mrs. G. H. Capsey, Mrs. Mabel Gough, R. B. Smith, Mrs. J. E. Cockerline and Miss C. Couture.

G. H. Capsey, Denis Monette, Gordon Jones, Robert Robins and Ray Wood were winners of $18 value in door prizes.

Net proceeds were about $200. The club members and directors are grateful to all who contributed to the success of the event.

FITCH BAY — The Ladies' Guild held its annual Christmas sale of work, following a dinner given to the children in the Canon Gustin Hall, which some 60 children attended.

The W.A. of the United Church met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy West. Final plans were made for Christmas cheer to aged members.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wharry celebrated their 36th wedding anniversary on December 6th.

Snow Clearance Work Slowed By Equipment Lack, Council Hears

Public criticism of the municipal roads department's snow clearance efficiency has lessened over the past three years although the city is still underequipped, the Sherbrooke City Council was told last night.

Raymond Jeanson, assistant superintendent of the department, made the remark when he and the department's superintendent, Hermenegilde Rheume, were questioned on the procedure used in snow clearance.

By actual count, the city lacks eight pieces of machinery; that is, four large snow plows; three sidewalk plows (council authorized the purchase of two later in last night's meeting) and one loader, to be rented for a two month period.

The officers were asked to explain delays that had occurred in clearing streets during the first storm two weeks ago.

QUESTIONS
Mayor Nadeau opened the discussion when he asked if the ward foremen who have jurisdiction over the work in the summer carry their authority into the winter.

In answer Mr. Rheume said the foremen supervised the work in both seasons. In winter, he said, the street plows were not necessarily under the foremen's control since the drivers followed a set schedule.

The number of plows for each ward was given by Mr. Jeanson. He said the North Ward was cleared by four street plows and one grader; the South by one grader; the West by one plow and one grader and the West by two plows and one grader.

He said once a storm hits the area, the hills and main streets in the North, West and East Wards are cleared first.

"In the last storm two weeks ago," Mr. Jeanson said, "the North Ward had four plows. We left them there because the drivers know the territory."

He said two plows were taken from the North Ward to aid a single plow operating in the West Ward. The other plow for this latter area had broken down, he said.

"Are you fair to all wards?" Ald. J. M. Jeanson asked Mr. Rheume.

"I would like to know who can say that I favored any ward to another," Mr. Rheume replied. "It is the same for all wards. We do not have much machinery."

In a breakdown of the street mileage of each ward, Mr. Raymond Jeanson said the department had to clear 35 1/2 miles in the North; 33 in the East and 30 in the West. "Each ward should have four plows," he said. He suggested that the city buy four more plows.

"Is it since the last storm that the department has not had enough equipment?" Ald. Jeanson asked. He was answered negatively by his colleague, Ald. Carl Camirand, who noted that he council had often discussed purchasing new equipment.

SALT AND SAND
Stop corners and school intersections are the first to be salted and sanded after icy conditions set in, Mr. Jeanson said. The conditions of the streets are reported to the roads department by the police department, he said.

Last weekend, Mr. Jeanson said, the corners were sanded on Saturday and the sidewalks, on Sunday. He said there were two crews on duty, paid at time and a half salary.

On Monday, he said he consulted Director of Services Charles Langlois who told him to put out two crews to sand hills and around churches, again at a time and a half rate.

Ald. Marcel Savard asked why King Hill had not been sanded or salted by 4 p.m. Monday afternoon.

Mr. Jeanson said that one crew had sanded and salted all street corners but that there did seem to be any appreciable effect.

"Why didn't you put all crews out on time and a half?" Ald. Everett Nicol asked.

Mr. Jeanson said there was a danger of draining the budget.

Mr. Langlois said the Council should decide whether it intends to clean the streets as if there was no snow at all.

"I say if it costs money to protect the lives of our citizens then we should spend it. Let's not try to save too much money," Ald. Nicol said.

Addressing Police Chief Edouard Moreau, Mayor Nadeau asked if the weekends' icy conditions had caused an unusual number of accidents. Chief Moreau said there were more accidents reported.

BLOWERS
The assistant superintendent noted that the snow blowers were economical although they aroused criticism. He said the machinery's efficiency would be improved were parking forbidden on streets after storms.

Optimist Club History Given At Magog Rally

MAGOG — Henry Crochetiere, Past Governor of District 28, Optimist International, was the guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Magog Lions Club held last evening at the Chateau du Lac. Mr. Crochetiere traced briefly the history of Optimist International. This service organization had its beginning in 1911 when the first Optimist Club was formed in Buffalo N.Y. The first national convention was held in 1919 in Louisville Ky. The organization became International in 1924 with the formation of a club in Toronto, Ont. In 1922 the motto, "Friend of the Boy" was adopted by Optimists everywhere and from that time on the main objective has been youth work. At the present time there are 1,675 Optimist Clubs in six countries with a membership in excess of 65,000.

Continuing his remarks on youth work, the speaker expressed the belief that service organizations, in their effort to help youth were, in effect, hurting them.

"Service Clubs do not ask the kids what they want; they set up all kinds of youth activity without really knowing whether or not the youngsters are interested in these kinds of activity". This has often resulted in the youngsters not appreciating the work and money spent by such clubs. When service clubs set up their programme they should consult the youngsters and have them share in the work of setting up the various activities.

The speaker also deplored the large amount of publicity given to acts of vandalism committed by youth.

"Ninety-seven per cent of today's youth are good. Only 3% can be classed as juvenile delinquents, yet no one ever seems to bother to talk about the good kids. One youngster breaks a window and its the talk of the town, another kid may save a friend from drowning and very few even mention it".

The speaker was introduced by C. H. Craig, and thanked by Robert Vaillancourt. In the absence of the president, Allen Channel chaired the meeting. He announced that the next meeting of the Magog Lions Club would be held on Jan. 6.

A resolution urging that the Provincial Government absorb the 1958-59 deficits of the local school commissions to avert an increase in the retail sales tax for schools from one to two per cent was adopted by the Sherbrooke Chamber of Commerce at its regular meeting last night.

The Chamber will seek an interview with the provincial government authorities and if this is granted will ask other public bodies, such as the League of Proprietors, to support their petition.

The decision to ask provincial aid for the school boards was taken after a lengthy discussion during which a number of members expressed the fear that the increase in the total retail tax from five to six per cent might drive business from Sherbrooke to other centres.

According to figures submitted by the executive, the Roman Catholic School Board anticipates a deficit of $348,996 during the current year, as compared with a deficit of $56,589 in the previous year. The increase in the deficit is accounted for largely by an increase in teachers' salaries.

The 1957-58 deficit was absorbed by the provincial authorities. In urging the province make a grant to cover the school board deficits, one member claimed that school construction costs were less per cubic foot in Sherbrooke than elsewhere in the province.

"In spite of a bigger proportionate growth of the school population," he declared, "Sherbrooke, by accepting its responsibilities, has cost the government substantially less than the provincial average. Therefore we would ask the government for a grant instead of imposing the additional tax."

Several members claimed that retail business in this province was suffering because of the provincial, municipal and educational sales taxes and that any increase in the levies would cause residents to transfer their business to those communities in which no local taxes were levied.

Thermometer Hit 20 Below

The mercury dropped below zero over most of Canada early today and little relief is in sight.

Sherbrooke followed the trend of the rest of the province with the mercury dropping to a chilling 20 below at the Dominion Experimental Farm at Lennoxville.

At 2 a.m. EST it was 40 below at Graham, Ont., a meteorological station in the Thunder Bay region 85 miles northwest of Port William.

The Toronto weather office said Graham probably was the coldest spot south of the Northwest Territories. Before dawn the temperature at the tiny outpost was expected to hit 48 below.

The intense cold chilled the Prairies and Quebec as well as Northern Ontario. It was warmer, but not much, in southern Ontario, the Atlantic provinces and British Columbia.

RAIN ALONG COAST
The B.C. coast had rain during the night. The temperature was in the 40-degree range. Readings from zero to 20 above were in store for the interior along with light snow.

A cloud cover lay over most of Alberta where the temperature ranged from Medicine Hat's zero to 10 below at Red Deer. Saskatchewan had a mixture of clear night skies and cloud with read-

Unemployment Up Slightly

Although unemployment increased slightly in the Sherbrooke area during November, figures indicate that the increase is not as serious as some people are inclined to believe, E. Charette, manager of the local office of the National Employment Service, Unemployment Insurance Commission, said today. He admitted that the situation was not favorable, however.

During the past month, he said, there had been 2685 registrations, 502 referrals and 343 placements. This compares with 2641 registrations, 601 referrals and 477 placements in November, 1957, and 2207 registrations, 637 referrals and 480 placements during October, 1958.

Candidates for employment at the end of last month totalled 4158, of which 3012 were male and 1146 female. At the end of November, 1957, unplaced candidates were 3860, comprising 2786 male and 1074 female. On October, 30, 1958, there were 3464 unplaced candidates - 2372 male and 1092 female.

During the past month, the Sherbrooke local office and its sub-offices of Richmond, East Angus and Coaticook registered 1173 initial claims in person, 635 renewal claims and 87 postal claims for a total of 1895 claims, an increase of 429 claims over October but 178 claims less than in November, 1957.

The number of active claimants at the end of November number 4043, divided as 3067 men and 976 women.

total 1416.

Richmond: 143 men, 38 women, total 181.

East Angus: 100 men, 26 women, total 126.

Coaticook: 174 men, 90 women, total 264.

The 4043 claimants considered active at the end of November, 1958, is an increase of 833 over the previous month but a decline of 61 below the figure at the end of November last year.

The total amount paid in benefits during October was $206,517.80, an increase of $9288 over the payments of $200,229.80 in the previous month.

Traffic Alleviation Plan Submitted To City Council

A program to relieve the North Ward of truck traffic was presented to the Sherbrooke City Council last night by a delegation from Chamber of Commerce.

The Chamber's program calls for road building projects backed by municipal legislation to prohibit truck traffic in the ward. The program was presented in support of a petition submitted by the merchants and residents of Frontenac, Wellington North, Dufferin, Moore, Prospect, Crespe, Portland Sts. and Queen Boulevard.

Although the council took no immediate decision on the suggestions, the aldermen assured the delegation that their program would be given serious study and that it would be discussed with Finance Minister J. S. Bourque.

The City Council is expected to meet Mr. Bourque in the near future to discuss several municipal projects.

Included in the memorandum submitted by the Chamber was a request for the extension of Jacques Cartier Blvd. to the Brompton Road, a project which has been already studied by the council.

Other items asked were the construction of a new road parallel to the Canadian National Railways line between the Magog River and Depot st.

If this project could not be realized, the Chamber asked that the east road to Bromptonville be widened to better accommodate truck traffic and thus free the city's downtown area from snarls.

As a final request, the Chamber asked that the city adopt a municipal bylaw rerouting the heavy traffic through the above roads when they are constructed.

The Jacques Cartier extension was discussed by the council in conjunction with another proposal to widen King St. West from Jacques Cartier Blvd. to the Bourque Boulevard.

Terminating the memo, the Chamber noted that "these projects should be performed in accordance with the master plan by Mr. Labaye (the town planner hired by the city) and be implemented in co-operation with the provincial government to alleviate winter unemployment."

On the matter of federal government aid, a topic which was introduced during the discussion between the council and the delegation, the mayor noted that the money granted would not suffice to justify undertaking any of the projects in the winter time.

East Angus Girl Heads Artists For Symphony

Guest artists with the Sherbrooke Symphony Orchestra for the first concert of the season tomorrow night will be Miss Rachel Pomerleau, of East Angus, soprano, Johann Van Veen, flutist, Jean Louis Rousseau, violinist and Donald Thomson, harpsichordist.

The symphony concerts under the direction of conductor Sylvio Lacharite, will be held in St. Charles Auditorium again this year and will begin at 8:30 p.m.

Miss Pomerleau will be remembered as winner of the Grand Prize in the 1957 Youth Festival here and she also was awarded a scholarship at the Ottawa Festival. A gifted student of the Reverend Sisters of Jesus and Mary while at East Angus, she has obtained her master's degree from l'Ecole Vincent d'Indy, Outremont, where she is still studying with Bernard Diamant.

Mr. Van Veen comes from Holland where he is a well-known flutist having performed with some of the country's greatest artists. Since his arrival in Canada he has appeared with the Quebec Symphony Orchestra and on the radio.

Jean Louis Rousseau studied violin at the Conservatoire de Musique de la Province de Quebec. In 1950 he was awarded a scholarship for study in Paris and under Madame Talluel and Mr. Pierre Pasquier, he specialized in chamber music. While in Europe Mr. Rousseau performed for the Jeunesses Musicales.

Donald Thomson has specialized in the study of instruments of the 17th and 18th centuries, pursuing his studies in London and Paris. On his return to Canada he became a teacher at the Conservatoire de Musique de la Province de Quebec. He has frequently performed on radio and television.

McGill Adopting New Courses In Medical Faculty

A new seven-year integrated course for medical students will be instituted at McGill University shortly, Dr. Lloyd C. Stevenson, Dean of Medicine, at McGill, told members of the Sherbrooke Rotary Club last night.

The course will combine the present four years Arts or Science and four years Medicine in our overlapping medical course. The doctor explained the advantages of such a program in his address on the changing concepts of medical education.

But he added that this special course would be limited to some dozen students at first on an experimental basis and that the present eight-year course will still be carried on.

"We still want honor students," he said, "in fact we want them first rate whatever their educational background."

The quality of medical care you get, he told the Rotarians, will depend on the quality of the doctor the medical school graduates and even more on the quality of the boy who comes to the school. A constant effort is being made to improve the standard.

As part of an evolutionary change in the McGill medical

United Church Women's Association Holds Annual Meeting At Knowlton

KNOWLTON — The annual meeting of the Women's Association of the United Church took place at the home of Mrs. M. W. Miller with Mrs. Marion Pettes as co-hostess.

The president, Mrs. Carl C. McClay was in the chair, and the minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. Rhoda Northrup. Several thank-you notes from members who had been remembered when ill, were also read.

The treasurer, Mrs. S. B. Hardacker reported a balance of $450, and Rev. J. D. McCord gave a brief sketch of the immediate needs at the parsonage.

The president thanked the officers, members, and the various committees for their support and co-operation during the past year, after which Mr. McCord took the chair for the election of officers.

Mrs. H. Spencer, chairman of the nominating committee, presented the following slate which was unanimously approved. President, Mrs. Carl C. McClay; 1st vice-president, Mrs. Erissa Coote; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. J. D. Fiewelling; secretary, Mrs. R. Northrup; treasurer, Mrs. S. B. Hardacker.

Mrs. Ray Duboyce will entertain the next meeting with Mrs. Harold Spencer as co-hostess and Mrs. Rhoda Northrup will conduct the worship service.

Prayer was offered by Mr. McCord after which the hostesses served refreshments.

GENERAL NOTES

The Quest Young People's Group met in the United Church Hall with Rev. J. D. McCord in charge. Discussion of the Creation took place.

Cheerio Mission Band met in the United Church Hall with the president, Barbara Northrup, in the chair. The minutes were read by Linda Miller. Mrs. Bocock conducted the worship service and the offering was taken up by Lois Haracker. Some time was spent practising for the Christmas entertainment. Prior to

Mr. JOSAPHAT BRUNET, deputy commissioner of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, who has retired, was appointed head of the security service of National Canadian Bank.

Insurance Rates Up For Cars

MONTREAL—Collision insurance rates in 1959 will increase for Quebec motorists, according to a survey of rates by the All-Canada Insurance Federation.

The survey shows that rates for fire, theft, and comprehensive insurance will also be higher in 1959 because of what is described as "poor experience" in those insurance categories during the last 18 months.

Other changes will depend on the individual insured. A driver passing his 24th birthday will pay less than before, because he is now an "adult" driver, charged less than younger motorists. Drivers who have had no accidents within the last two years, who received a 20 per cent discount for the 1958 rates, will receive a 35 per cent discount if he moves into the three-year no-accident category in 1959.

Widen Power Of Council Of Education

QUEBEC.—(CP)—The Quebec Legislature Tuesday unanimously endorsed a government bill which would give the Quebec Public Education Council a right to repudiate appointments of teachers to government-operated technical and specialized schools.

The provision is contained in the bill splitting into two departments the present Youth and Social Welfare department.

Appointment by teachers to posts in the government schools has been on recommendation of the cabinet minister. This same procedure would be followed under the new bill but the Public Education Council would have the right to veto any teacher appointment.

Premier Duplessis said the clause in the bill giving the special power to the Education Council is a guarantee of the religious nature of education in the where schools are either Protestant or Roman Catholic.

The Council is the supreme authority in public education matters in the province. All the Roman Catholic archbishops and bishops of the province are members and they are an equal number of laymen.

Administratively, the Superintendent of Public Education carries out the directives of the Council. The Council itself acts on recommendations of two Council committees, one Roman Catholic and the other Protestant. Each is autonomous.

The bill thus provides for an extension of the Council's jurisdiction into the government's technical and specialized schools. Courses of studies in these schools are to be carried out under its "authority and supervision."

More English Recommended In French Schools

French-Canadian students should learn more English, William F. Steele told his colleagues on the Roman Catholic School Board at their regular meeting last night.

The English-speaking representative on the board said that it was deplorable that the clerks in many stores could not understand English.

His plea for more teaching of English was supported by Commissioner Conrad Cayer, but for a different reason.

The students should learn English for their own personal satisfaction, Mr. Cayer said, and not to serve customers because "when one goes to Ontario, they do not speak to us in French."

Premier Hits PTC Walkout

QUEBEC.—(CP)—Premier Duplessis and an independent member of the Quebec legislative assembly Tuesday expressed disapproval of the six hour wildcat strike of bus drivers in Montreal employed by the Provincial Transport Company.

Rising on a question of privilege, Dave Rochon, Independent member for Montreal - St. Louis, said the drivers did not punish the company but the aged, the women and children who were left stranded.

Mr. Rochon said those responsible for the walkout should be "ashamed" of themselves. He said when strike action is planned in a case of this type the public should be notified so that the public does not suffer needlessly.

Mr. Duplessis said Mr. Rochon's remarks were timely. The right to strike was a sacred one but it was an extraordinary right designed to meet extraordinary situations.

"In times of recession and inflation like these everyone should work shoulder to shoulder," Mr. Duplessis said.

While the right to strike was legal and normal in certain cases or disputes between employers and employees, a strike against the public was immoral. No one had the right to commit acts which could lead to irreparable damages.

Mr. Duplessis said he felt certain the bus drivers did not act as a result of "personal sentiments" but were induced in their action by "certain leaders who are more concerned about their personal interest than the public interest."

Six hundred Montreal area drivers stayed off their jobs for six hours Friday, stranding thousands of commuters in Montreal depots.

The work stoppage was ended when the Provincial Transport Company granted wage increases to the drivers.

Spokesmen for the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees (CLC), which represents the drivers, said the union had not authorized the walkout, which was illegal under a Quebec law forbidding drivers strikes.

Sale Of Assault Weapons Brings Court Charges

Ernest Dulude, 19-year-old Waterloo laborer, was fined $50 and costs yesterday by Judge Redmond Hayes, after he pleaded guilty to a charge of selling two guns to Lucienne Menard, 18-year-old Granby girl charged with the attempted murder of Mrs. Gerard Lacoste.

The accused admitted that on July 1 he sold a .22 calibre gun to the girl for $8 but did not know what she wanted it for.

On Oct. 19, he sold a .38 cal. gun and a box of 50 cartridges for $30.

"You give your job as a laborer, but were you in the hardware business at the time of the transaction?" Judge Hayes asked.

The doctor also outlined proposed time-table changes to allow greater emphasis on clinical work with less interruption from lectures; a new system of student participation in the outpatient department; and the institution of a one month elective in the student's third year whereby he may pursue a subject of his choice. There will also be changes in lecture programs and an attempt to allow more free time for the student.

Dr. Stevenson was introduced by Dr. Jim Ross and thanked by Norton Baldwin.

Seated with them at the head table were President Ivan Saunders, Harry Moffatt, Gordon Armistage, Bert Lyon, Dr. Gordon Loomis and Bob Beaudry. Dr. Michael Brodeur was a guest at the meeting.

Student Art On Display Sunday At Cowansville

COWANSVILLE — At a recent meeting of the council of the Art Centre it was decided that the students of Miss Irene Hensworth would hold an exhibition of their work on Sunday, December 14th, opening at 2.30 p.m.

This marks the close of a very successful course for these young people, whose ages range from 12 to 16. Some of them were scholarship winners in the contest held last spring.

The exhibition, which will be on view in the Centre, Main Street, Cowansville, is open to all. Parents and friends are urged to attend. There is no admission charge.

Card of Thanks

PELLERIN — We wish to thank all our relatives and friends for the many kindnesses shown us in so many ways at the time of our bereavement and funeral of our dear mother, Mrs. Maude Pellerin. To those who sent flowers, cards, letters, food, Rev. Seaton, Rev. MacLeod, the organist, the choir, the bearers, and for the many other acts of sympathy. We express our grateful appreciation.

MR. & MRS. ROGER PELLERIN, AND FAMILY, Rock Island.

LORD — I sincerely wish to thank all my kind friends and relatives who visited me during my month's stay at the Hotel Dieu Hospital and since my return home, those who took my wife back and forth to the hospital to visit me, all who gave me cigarettes, fruit, candy and flowers and all who sent cards and letters. A special thanks to all the staff on the 3rd floor for their kindness and also to Doctors Patenaude and Dumont and to Rev. B. Jarvis-Lead for his visit. Your kindness will always be remembered.

OBITUARIES

MRS. WALTER REVER, OF TOMIFOBIA
STANSTEAD — The funeral of Mrs. Walter Rever, of Tomifobia, who died at the Sherbrooke hospital on Friday, November 21, was held at Christ Anglican church on the following Monday, at 12.30 o'clock.

Rev. A. L. Salt, officiated. Miss Elsie McFadden played medleys of organ music before and after the service and accompanied the choir, who sang "What a Friend We Have in Jesus", "Nearer My God to Thee" and, during the recession, the "Nunc Dimittis".

Bearers were six grandsons, Andy Rever, Wayne Rever, William Rever, Dewey Mosher, Wendell Mosher, and Arnold Rever. Interment took place in the family plot of Crystal Lake Cemetery.

Born at Bromo on September 22, 1881, Ellen O. Smith was one of ten children born to Henry and Sarah (McBride) Smith. The death of Mrs. Rever marks the last of this family.

In 1901, she and Walter Rever, of Under Bunker, were united in marriage. To this union were born eight children, Wallace and Theodore, both deceased, Lawrence, of Massachusetts, Ruth, Mrs. Lawrence Mosher, of Ayer's Cliff, Mildred Rever, Rock Island, and her twin sister, Muriel, the latter deceased, Kenneth, Tomifobia, and Harold, Rock Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Rever resided for over 50 years in Tomifobia. Following the death of Mr. Rever a few years ago, Mrs. Rever and her daughter, Mildred, came to Rock Island to live.

Mrs. Rever was known as a good neighbor and her home was always open to friends. Her children and grandchildren are left with memories of a happy home life.

The numerous floral pieces which surrounded the casket at the home of her son, Kenneth, were silent tokens of the esteem in which she was held. A large number of friends called at the home and friends filled the church for the last rites.

Mrs. Rever is survived by her children, 18 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren, as well as more distant relatives. Among those present at the funeral were: Mr. and Mrs. L. Rever and Miss Florence Rever, Massachusetts; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Mosher, and Mr. Wendell Mosher, Ayer's Cliff; Mrs. Donald Young, St. John; Mrs. Donald Partch and son, Carl, Mrs. Helen Smith, all of Barre, Vt.; Miss Barbara Jean Rever, Ontario; Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Mosher, Brown's Hill; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Smith, Melvin and Gladys, Beebe; and many others from the Three Villages and surrounding area.

Among those unable to attend the funeral but called at the home were a grandson, Mr. T. Rever, and his brother-in-law, Mr. Casford, of Kingston, Ont., Mr. and Mrs. Lee Smith, Springfield, Vt.; and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Smith, Hardwick, Vt.

MRS. NEIL BUCHANAN, OF DRUMMONDVILLE
DRUMMONDVILLE — Mrs. Neil Buchanan passed away at the Sherbrooke Hospital on Sunday, November 9, in her eighty-second year.

Mrs. Buchanan, the former Margaret Smith, was born on May 29, 1877, daughter of the late Donald and Marion (Campbell) Smith of Winslow. In 1908 she was married to Neil J. Buchanan, of Whitton. They lived there until 1926, when the family moved to Scottstown, where they resided until moving to Drummondville. Her husband passed away in July, 1928, and her son, John, in May 1947.

She is survived by two daughters, Gladys (Mrs. C. C. Taylor) and Margaret, both of Drummondville; a son-in-law; two grandchildren, Carol and Jimmy; a sister, Mrs. A. MacDonald, of Springfield, Mass.; a brother, John D. Smith, of the Wales

MISS AGNES C. SARGENT OF CORNWALL, ONT. FORMERLY OF THE E. T. WATERLOO — The death occurred in Winnipeg on December 3 of Agnes C. Sargent, R. N., of Cornwall, Ont., in her 76th year. Miss Sargent had been visiting her sister, Sarah, Mrs. Horace Taylor, and Mr. Taylor in Winnipeg and had attended the wedding of their daughter, Florence. She was taken ill and entered the Winnipeg General Hospital, where she remained for 10 weeks prior to her death.

Miss Sargent, a former resident of the Eastern Townships was born in South Stukely and educated at the Waterloo Academy. She trained as a nurse in the Montreal General Hospital and upon graduation went overseas, serving as a nurse in France, during World War I.

The remains were brought to Waterloo by Canadian Pacific Railway, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Taylor. The funeral service was held at the Leo Paul Funeral Home on Sunday December 7th, at 2 p.m. Burial was at South Stukely.

Among the relatives and friends present were: Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Taylor, of Winnipeg; Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Taylor, Foster; Mr. and Mrs. Creighton Sargent; Mr. and Mrs. George Logan, Mrs. H. Sargent, Montreal; Mrs. Alice Curtis, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Carter, East Farnham; Mrs. A. A. Blair, Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Pick and Miss Pick, Montreal; Mr. Brette and Miss Hazel Brette, Granby. Many from South Stukely and Waterloo also attended.

WILLIAM FRANCIS PECK, OF SHERBROOKE
 The death of William Francis Peck occurred at his residence, Elm Street, on Monday afternoon, November 10, 1958, following a lengthy illness.

Mr. Peck, who has born at Albert Mines on July 9, 1881, was the youngest son of the late William Peck and his wife, the late Susanna Drew. On April 13, 1915, he was united in marriage to Katie May LeBaron Dezan, of North Hatley.

Surviving Mr. Peck are his wife; two daughters, Cora, Mrs. Frank Perkins, and Amelia, Mrs. Lorne Anderson, both of Sherbrooke; a step-daughter, Blanche, Mrs. William Conners, Windsor Mills; a step-son, Gerald Dezan, Maple Grove; nine grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

He also leaves three sons-in-law, Frank Perkins, Lorne Anderson and William Conners; a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Gerald Dezan, and a grandson-in-law; nieces and nephews, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Raymond, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Peck and Thomas Parker, all of Sherbrooke, Mrs. F. Peck and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Peck, of Brantford, Ont., and several other relatives. He was

MRS. NELSON ROBINSON, OF SHERBROOKE
 It was with much sorrow that relatives and friends learned of the passing of Lena Maud Robinson at the Sherbrooke Hospital, on Sunday, November 2, 1958. Although in failing health for some time, she had been confined to the hospital only a week.

Mrs. Robinson was born in Richmond on December 28, 1885, the second daughter of the late W. Henry Healy and his wife, Martha Crank. On October 12, 1916, she was united in marriage to Nelson R. Robinson, who predeceased her on December 21, 1932.

She leaves her daughter, Mabel, and son-in-law, Alden Clark, and her grandchildren, Gale, Gary, Wayne, Brian, Linda, Brenda and Wanda Clark. She is also survived by four sisters, Mrs. Charles Tozer, Mrs. H. F. Sloan, Mrs. F. F. Jamieson and Mrs. Roy Taylor, all of Montreal; two brothers, Egbert, of Richmond, and William, of Brockville, Ont., and their wives; also several nieces and nephews.

Family prayers were held from her late residence, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alden Clark, 401 Quebec Street, on Wednesday afternoon, November 5, with service in Trinity United Church, conducted by her pastor, Rev. Graham Barr, assisted by Rev. Leslie Dean, pastor of Chalmers United Church, Richmond.

The solo, "Good Night and Good Morning," a favorite of the deceased, was rendered by Miss Thelma Crawford, with Mrs. Robert Bell, both of Lennoxville, as organist. The bearers were six nephews, Ralph Healy, Arnold Healy, Harold Healy, Robert Sloan, Will Jamieson and Albert Healy.

The beautiful floral tributes and the large attendance of relatives and friends indicated the high esteem in which the deceased was held by all who knew her.

Interment took place in St. Ann's Cemetery, Richmond, beside her husband.

Christmas Activities At The Boundary

By IVY HATCH
With Christmas almost here, the various churches of the Boundary communities are busy preparing their services and masses. Stanstead South church in Rock Island will hold a white gift service at 10:30 a.m., on Sunday, December 14, when the young people will make their Christmas gift to unfortunate children of other lands. Christmas Eve a carol service, featuring the junior and kindergarten choirs, will be held at 7:00 p.m. and on Sunday, December 28, family communion will be held at the 10:30 a.m. service.

Sunday, December 21, the annual carol service will be held in Centenary United Church at 4:30 p.m., featuring special music and the Christmas story.

Sunday evening, December 21, a carol service will take place in Christ Anglican Church at 7:00 p.m., to be followed by the Yuletide parish party in the Parish Hall. Christmas Eve the annual holy communion service, will commence at 11:30.

At the Gospel Chapel Sunday school on December 21, at three o'clock, the Christmas story will be featured and at 7:00 o'clock the same evening there will be a Christmas carol service.

Plans of the Derby Line Universalist Church are indefinite, as they are without a permanent minister. However, it is tentatively planned to have a carol song service at 10:30 Sunday morning, December 21, with Stanley Beerworth in the pulpit.

The Catholic churches of Derby Line, Rock Island and Stanstead are planning the annual Christmas midnight masses and Christmas day masses. Stanstead College will feature its annual carol service at Centenary Church at 4:30 on Sunday, December 14.

The Boundary Villages have taken on the new look this year, with several business establishments featuring hand painted scenes. "Unto us a Son is Born", over the Nativity, is one; Santa Claus with his sack of toys and the carol singers, is another. Greetings of the season, bells and poinsettias, and a village winter scene with Santa in his reindeer-drawn sleigh, are also seen.

These are the work of Miss Joyce Laberee, a Rock Island teenager. Featured in a show window is a Yuletide scene of store and house and another shows the Virgin Mary holding the Infant Jesus, the art of Mrs. Mona Bachelier, of Stanstead.

Other windows are appropriately decorated for Christmas and at the Toy Town windows or in the stores eager children are seen, hopefully confiding to their companions as they point a chubby finger, "there is what I'm going to ask Santa to bring for me".

The streets of the villages are gay with twinkling coloured lights, blending with the snow covered roofs. Homes likewise are daily being decorated with lights and other gay trimmings of the season.

The great day will soon be upon us, keeping the Christ in Christmas by attending the church of our choice, with our loved ones, either here at our Boundary homes or in other

SWEETSBURG —

Miss Audrey Spicer and Mrs. Marjorie Craven visited Mrs. R. Hall at East Farnham.

Mr. and Mrs. George Harvey, of Green Edge, and Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Veillon, of Wendybrook Farm, have returned from Toronto, where they attended the Royal Winter Fair. Mr. and Mrs. Harvey also visited friends in other parts of Ontario. New has been received of the death of Mr. Veillon's father in Switzerland. Mr. Veillon has travelled there twice by plane during the past few weeks.

Mr. Dale Heusser took a veterinary course in Burlington, Vt., recently.

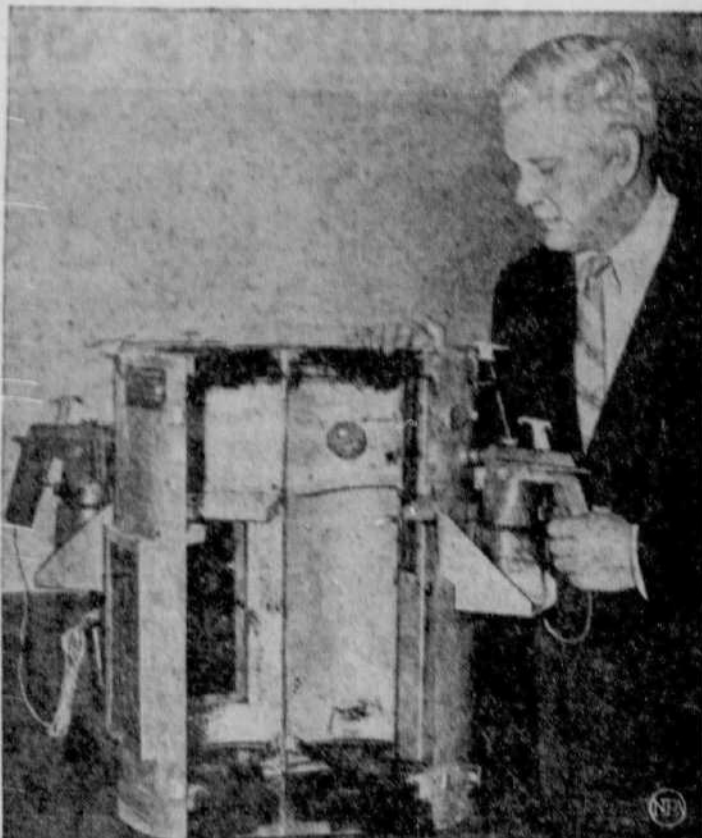

Mr. George Millmore is attending Sir George Williams College in Montreal.

Mr. Stanley Peron was installed as an elder of Emmanuel United Church on Sunday morning December 7, and will serve the Sweetsburg area of that church. The service was performed by the pastor, Rev. C. J. Gustafson. The newly inaugurated bus service for Sunday School Pupils to the church started the same day, serving the rural area.

parts of Canada or the United States.

The Boundary Rotary Club, the Canadian Legion, the American Legion and their auxiliaries, the Stanstead Chapter I.O.O.F., and other organizations have seen to it that there will be Christmas dinner for every deserving family in the communities, children have been remembered with toys, churches and organizations have remembered the sick and shut-ins, here at home and afar.

Christmas is a time for goodwill and joy, of peace and happiness.

UP AND DOWN BUSINESS — It would be difficult to guess just what this odd-looking device is used for. Of all things, it's a flagpole painting machine. Its inventor, Arthur Edelberg, of Cleveland, Ohio, displays it in an open position. To paint a pole, the machine is hoisted to the top the same way a flag is. Sliding back down, it sprays the pole with paint. Two brushes inside revolve to give a smooth, even coat. Edelberg, a professional painter for 30 years, claims his invention can do in an hour what it normally takes two men a whole day. He reflects happily on the number of flagpoles there must be in this country.

EXTEND NORTHERN ROADS — Acting WINNIPEG (CP) — Acting public works minister Ernie Wilkins announced Friday the government this winter will spend $1,500,000 on a 675-mile northern road program — first step in a five-year $15,000,000 development scheme to be shared by the federal and provincial governments.

Deep Water Ports On The St. Lawrence Excited Over Year-Round Navigation

MONTREAL (CP)—Deep-water ports flanking the St. Lawrence River are catching seaway fever. And they're getting excited about the prospects of year-round navigation at the same time.

Future plans hinge on: 1. The 1959 opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway which will permit the big bulk cargo vessels of the Great Lakes to sail for the first time up the St. Lawrence River.

2. The growing pressure from normally ice-bound river ports for all-winter shipping channels from the Atlantic to Quebec City.

The seaway is expected to benefit Montreal, Sorel, Trois-Rivieres, Contrecoeur and Quebec City. Winter navigation would greatly help lower St. Lawrence and gulf ports, including Baie Comeau, Sept-Iles, Shelter Bay, Father Point, all in Quebec, and Dalhousie, N.B., in Chaleur Bay.

Capt. R. G. Edwards of Canadian International Paper Company flew 2,000 miles from Montreal to Newfoundland to make an aerial ice survey last winter. He reported:

"Winter shipping into the gulf and into the St. Lawrence River itself presents no problem providing adequate equipment is made available."

More icebreakers, a continuing aerial ice survey during the winter and an ice forecasting service are considered the keys to year-round navigation up to Quebec City. Two veteran ice-breaker captains, Wilfrid Dufour of the N.B. McLean and Robert Marchand of the Ernest Lapointe, have said extra work by icebreakers could keep channels open all the way to Trois-Rivieres, almost 800 miles from the Atlantic.

But they ruled out the chances of winter navigation as far upstream as Montreal. Lake St. Peter below Montreal, they report, is too easily jammed with ice by east winds, despite ice-breaker efforts.

Navigation to Quebec City was proved possible last winter by the schooner D'Vora which sailed the St. Lawrence north shore to Baie Comeau. Ships called all winter at Dalhousie to load more than 50,000 tons of newsprint, the fifth winter that the port has operated.

Ports closer to Montreal, meanwhile, are expanding their facilities to get ready for the big lakers, which in one trip can carry 800,000 bushels of grain, equivalent of 3,000 freight cars.

The seaway will benefit two major bulk commodities—grain moving eastward to overseas ports and iron ore moving westward to Great Lakes steel mills. Grain and ore are expected to be the largest part of the 25,000,000 tons of cargo forecast annually for the initial years of seaway operation.

Small canal ships capable of navigating the narrow, shallow-draught waterway between Montreal and Lake Ontario carry a total average of 127,000,000 bushels a year of grain to Montreal and other St. Lawrence River ports. The rest—about 63,000,000 bushels a year—comes by rail.

Most of this grain—about 85 per cent—is then reloaded aboard ocean ships bound for overseas destinations.

But when the big 750-foot lakers start to bring the grain, the ports must be ready with longer wharves and faster unloading facilities. Montreal is spending $27,000,000 to prepare for the lake ships and their grain cargoes.

Shippers suggest that the lakers may pick up western wheat at the Lakehead, sail through the seven locks and four canals of the seaway to Montreal or other St. Lawrence ports to unload. Then they would pick up a return cargo of iron ore at Sept-Iles or Contrecoeur and carry it to Cleveland and other Great Lake steel mill centres.

The saving for farmers on transportation costs is expected to range from five to seven cents a bushel—a significant amount in trying to sell wheat abroad in a tight world market.

Contrecoeur, a village on the St. Lawrence within sight of Montreal, faces a promising future as new trans-shipment docks are built for moving iron ore to lake-bound ships or freight cars heading to the U.S. Someday, it may even have a steel mill to process Quebec's vast iron ore deposits.

Committee Reports Are Received By Cookshire W. I.

COOKSHIRE. — Mrs. Ronald Learned chaired the meeting of the W.I. in St. Peter's Parish Hall, and Mrs. O. C. Farnsworth read the minutes.

It was stated that a projector could be borrowed if and when the ladies wished to show films. The card marathon project was left over till after the Christmas holidays.

Letters of thanks were read for used clothing for Korea, and for sympathy and convalescent cards and a sunshine basket.

A resolution has been sent to Claude Gosselin, M.L.A., re the changing of place names. Information re the Smith Memorial Residence in Scotstown was discussed and a representative will visit it and will bring back further details to the next meeting.

Mrs. H. G. Taylor sent her thanks to the members for their congratulations on her appointment as national W.I. secretary, with headquarters in Ottawa.

The heading committees gave a few short remarks. Citizenship convener, Mrs. A. W. Darker, spoke on UNICEF Christmas cards, and ten boxes have been ordered from this group; a total of $84.75 was collected by the school children at Hallow's; a wreath was placed at the foot of the cenotaph on Armistice Day; a resume of the Declaration of Human Rights was given, and she spoke of the new building in Ottawa in which Mrs. H. G. Taylor is located.

Mrs. E. E. Clarke, health and welfare convener, requested more cotton for cancer dressings.

Mrs. Heatherington spoke on publicity and the different media used such as books, the press, radio and television. Good books should be available for children, and she gave the example of one Ontario W.I. who decided to inspire good reading habits by offering a prize for a quiz competition after the school children had read prescribed books.

Children's programs on the radio and television, said she, should be supervised by the parents, and they should be selective. There is room for improvement in the programs both on the radio and television, and the representative for the F.W.I.O. has already given her reports on findings and her recommendations for changes. A great number of gun-play stories and the like could be replaced with historical facts or current events, such as the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Mrs. A. W. Darker read the Junior Red Cross report which showed much activity and a large amount of money raised during the year by the different classes in the Cookshire High School. In answer to the roll call a number of Christmas gifts were given for the Junior Red Cross.

Christmas cards are to be sent out and good cheer dispensed in the holiday season.

Mrs. G. Learned acted as pianist for the singing of Christmas carols, following which refreshments were served. The hostesses were Mrs. P. Cassidy, Mrs. E. Mowle and Mrs. J. W. Robinson.

ART, IT'S WONDERFUL — Wearing smock and beret, Lee Ryals shows off a perfect likeness of the skyline of Miami Beach, Fla. It's perfect because there's no canvas in the frame.

Social and Personal

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Glass, of Montreal, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hewitt and family and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Glass in Lennoxville.

Leotards Popular For Lounging

MONTREAL (CP)—The leotard, a currently popular lounging costume for women, has undergone some changes since its invention by the famed acrobat Jules Leotard about a century ago, but the name still clings as closely as the costume.

Leotard, a daring high-wire acrobat, wore a skin-tight neck-to-ankles suit for his famous stunts. It kept him warm and allowed full freedom of movement, said a Montreal fashion designer recently.

Female ballet artists have modified the costume to a short-sleeved legless one worn over long, dark hose, said the designer. Recently the outfit has been in great demand by women who never saw a practice bar.

ARE NOT TIGHTS

The designer emphasized that leotards should be distinguished from tights, which are long-legged elasticized drawers, and have an origin much more ancient than leotards.

Back in the 1200s European men wore tights with short flared jackets. The style was eventually supplanted by men's breeches.

But men still wear both tights and leotards in the ballet or in acrobatics, she said.

The popularity of both costumes nowadays may be caused by an increasing popular interest in the ballet. Young people and older women with good figures are wearing the costumes under skirts outdoors and even for housework indoors, said the designer.

NYLON HELPED

The development of a lightweight stretch nylon which allows the costume to be tight-fitting yet light in weight may be a factor, she said.

Women are getting more sensible about cold-weather clothing, too. Although long woolen "snuggles" and over-stockings are considered by some to be somewhat dowdy, there is nothing unfashionable about the sophisticated leotard or its cousin the tights, she said.

Miss Ruth Robinson, Quebec City, provincial president of the Catholic Women's League, will be guest of honor at a communion breakfast sponsored by Our Lady of Good Counsel and St. Bridget's Parish Council of St. Patrick's C.W.L. to be held at the Wellington Hotel on Sunday, December 14 at 9 a.m.

The christening of the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Warnes, St. Francis St., Lennoxville, took place at the evening service on Sunday at St. George's Church, Lennoxville. Archdeacon T. J. Matthews officiated at the ceremony, the baby receiving the names of Joyce Mary. The sponsors were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Smart, Belvedere Heights, and Miss Evelyn Pegg, of Lennoxville.

Prior to the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Warnes entertained at a family dinner party at their home on St. Francis St.

Tea, Bargain Sales Nucleus Of Calgary Ballet Corps

CALGARY (CP)—The Calgary Ballet Corps, now four years old, was founded on gallons of tea and hundreds of bargain-sale articles.

Teas and rummage sales raised money for a group of Calgary parents who had decided a ballet company was necessary to give talented children an opportunity to study as a group.

Incorporated in 1955, with 16 children enrolled, the corps now has a 24-member group and this season is staging three complete productions at the 2,400-seat Jubilee Auditorium here.

Money was the big problem in the beginning. Parents gulped dozens of cups of tea, and attics and cellars were left bare by rummage sales. With the proceeds, material was purchased and costumes were made. Sets were painted in their homes during evening sessions.

"The dancers were so enthused with the idea, we just couldn't let them down," said Mrs. Marie Stenon, one of the first supporters.

STANDARDS HIGH

Despite the small organizations, standards were high from the start. Lessons were geared to the Royal Academy of Dancing in London and Jean Simpson and Sibly Rogers were enrolled as ballet mistresses.

Mrs. Simpson, an exponent of Highland dancing, holds 175 medals and 75 cups. Mrs. Rogers was trained at London and is a member of the Imperial Society of Dancing Teachers.

The season's productions include Musical Variations with music by Shostakovich, Old Woman in the Shoe to music by Saint-Saens and a modern work, In the Highlands.

Spark Holiday Menus With Cranberry Dessert

Cranberries add so much color and wonderful flavor to holiday meals—especially cranberry desserts. For instance, this creamy bavarian is not only attractive but delicious after a hearty dinner. It's a delightful combination of orange-flavored jelly powder, freshly cooked cranberries and evaporated milk.

You'll find this fluffy pink bavarian easy and quick to make. Simply cook the cranberries as directed in the recipe and set aside while you prepare the jelly. Dissolve a package of orange-flavored jelly powder in a cup of hot water, add orange rind and gradually add the evaporated milk, stirring until well blended. Place the bowl of jelly firmly in ice and water and whip until fluffy and thick. Fold in the cooled drained berries and pour into attractive sherbet or brandy glasses and chill until firm.

C.W.L. Members Hear Talk On Liturgy

The Liturgy was the timely and informative subject developed by Rev. Fr. Ciampi, M.A., professor at the St. Patrick High School, in a talk given to C.W.L. members of Our Lady of Good Counsel subdivision at their December meeting held in the Canon Fiset Memorial Library.

The word "liturgy" comes from the Greek language and means "the sacrifice," he explained. Using the missal makes the liturgy, especially the Mass, more meaningful.

The speaker touched on all seasons of the Christian Year, dwelling specifically on Advent. Advent, he said, starting on the Sunday nearest to St. Andrew's Feast, Nov. 30, is a time of preparation for the coming of Christ.

As a rule each season promotes a prominent feast of the Blessed Virgin, hence "The Immaculate Conception" on Dec. 8. Then comes the celebration of Christmas which continues until Epiphany, Jan. 6, when a period of thanksgiving ensues. He explained.

E. J. Wolfe, who also reported on spiritual activities. She said a successful closed retreat had been held in November and announced the corporate communion to take place on Sunday, December 14, at the 8:15 Mass, both subdivisions participating. The communion breakfast to follow at the Wellington Hotel, will be sponsored by the St. Bridget subdivision. Miss Ruth Robinson, provincial president, will be the guest speaker.

Visits to hospitals were: Sherbrooke Hospital, 62; St. Vincent de Paul, 23; Sacred Heart Home and d'Youville Hospital, 27.

Mrs. T. Wdowiak, convener of S.O.S. and missionary endeavors, stated that 1,374 lbs. of clothing were shipped to S.O.S. Christian Island, Ont. Camp Morton, Man., and to Rev. Michael Hawkins, S.J., Armstrong, Ont.

Mrs. Paul J. McKenna, convener of parish teas, gave the results of the successful Christmas tea and sale.

Cancer Dressings Service reported 8 workers gave 76 hours to this work.

Mrs. W. F. Steele, citizenship, stated she had attended a meeting where plans were made for a Christmas party for new Canadians; and private lessons in English conversation were being given to a new Canadian.

Mrs. Teresa Daly and Mrs. W. K. Earley, proposed for membership, were accepted.

Christmas ditty bags have been completed for the Catholic Sailors Club, Montreal, and Mrs. Dion appealed for knitters of socks for future bags.

Motion was approved for the following donations: Rev. Fr. Hawkins, S.J., Armstrong, Ont., $25; Sacred Heart radio program, $10; Maison St. George, Marquette St., $5; flowers for church at Christmas, $10.

Mrs. Charles Steele was appointed convener of visits to Sacred Heart Home and d'Youville Hospital. Her committee will comprise members of both subdivisions.

The president expressed appreciation to Mrs. F. O. Beatty, who had been a weekly visitor to the above institutions for several years and who was forced to discontinue her visits due to illness.

In the absence of Miss Y. Campbell, education convener, Mrs. Pechie presented Mrs. W. K. Earley with a $100 scholarship in favor of her daughter, Miss Kathleen Earley, 1957 graduate of Mont Notre Dame, now attending in St. Joseph's Teachers College, Montreal.

Before adjournment of the meeting, the president voiced her best wishes to all members for a Merry Christmas.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. E. J. Wolfe, Mrs. F. E. Shelley and Mrs. L. Dion.

If Hubby Isn't Sentimental Take Him as You Find Him

One of the biggest mistakes women make is letting themselves be hurt over and over again by the same person in the same way.

A woman married to a man who is less sentimental than she is will be hurt each time he forgets an anniversary or fails to bring her a gift on days she considers important.

She would save herself a lot of hurt and be far happier if she would admit that "John just isn't the sentimental type."

A wife whose mother-in-law is jealous of her will be hurt over and over again by the mother-in-law's little jibes, instead of telling herself, "Jim's mother is jealous of me and she'll probably never get over it — so I mustn't be hurt by what she says. It would have been the same no matter what girl Jim married."

A woman whose closest friend is often too busy to do the things she wants her to do needn't be hurt at the seeming indifference each time the friend is too busy for this or that.

She should face the fact that she is more dependent on the friend than the friend is on her, and make other good friends so that she isn't so dependent on one person.

A woman whose grown children are too busy with their own lives shouldn't let herself feel hurt by their "neglect."

Instead she should remember back to the days when her own life was pretty hectic and acknowledge the fact that it isn't lack of love for her but lack of time.

A woman who is hurt again and again because her family seems to take her for granted and expects more from "Mom" than they give back shouldn't allow herself to feel unappreciated.

She should remember that her children are at an age when they are naturally self-centered—but that they will grow out of it and one day appreciate all the things she has done for them.

It is far wiser for any woman to be realistic about others and to accept their weaknesses and faults than to expect more than she is likely to get.

MANNERS MAKE FRIENDS

If your out-of-town guest lets you know exactly when he will arrive by train, plane or bus, you should make every effort to meet him. The guest who isn't met finds it hard to feel like an especially welcome guest.

If you can't meet your guest let him know ahead that you can't and say how sorry you are.

Dame Fortune Slept Through These Zany Mishaps

Strange accidents that "just couldn't happen"—but did—are recorded in the 1958 roundup compiled by the National Safety Council. Some of the goofy things that happened to people are illustrated, below, in a collection of cockeyed catastrophes more embarrassing than tragic.

Boiling mad couldn't describe the feelings of young Robert Golden, of Newport, Ky. He was standing near the kitchen stove when a bullet rolled off the shelf into a pot of boiling water and exploded. Robert was shot near the rear burner.

In Mount Clemens, Mich., Harold Dukas was showing his 6-year-old daughter how to really swing one of those hula hoops. The instructions abruptly were postponed while he recuperated in the hospital from a dislocated backbone.

Charlotte, N.C., neighbors figured at last they could tell apart identical young twins Richard and Robert Galloway while Robert wore a cast on his broken arm. Then his brother got busy. Result: Identical breaks, identical plaster casts.

Turnabout is fair play, as any raccoon will tell you. So when Leslie Messere fired at one in Hollis, Maine, the ring-tail came down from his tree and bopped the hunter on the head. Messere accidentally discharged his pistol, shooting himself.

William Zaring, of Indianapolis, was taken aback when he saw a neighbor's auto driving in reverse over his nice, green DeLaan topped from a second-barked at the driver. Understandably, the neighbor's dog, barked right back.

A year-old, bouncing baby girl from Chicago wins the gray-hairs-to-mother award. Judith DeHaan tumbled from a second-side-up in her own baby buggy which was parked below.

Archie Moore Rules Favorite In Title Bout Against Yvon Durelle

Reported Odds Of 14-To-5 And Even 4-To-1; Champion Had Better Win Within Ten Rounds, Says Jack Kearns

MONTREAL (CP) — Yvon Durelle, a supremely confident challenger, has three things paramount in his mind today — a whopping big meal, a pocketful of comic books and the world light-heavyweight boxing championship.

The 29-year-old New Brunswick fisherman makes his bid for the title in Montreal Forum at 10 p.m. EST against champion Archie Moore, the crafty veteran from San Diego.

Yvon ate lightly Tuesday night, marking time until today's weigh-in at noon. Then he will "eat a cow on the street." After that he will settle back with his favorite comic books, stuff them into his pocket for further relaxing reading in his dressing room at the Forum and then get down to fighting business.

BOTH CONFIDENT

There is little expectation the fight will go the full 15 rounds. Both fighters are confident of winning. Moore will be making the seventh defence of the title he won six years ago. He rules favorite, at reported odds of 14 to 5 and even 4 to 1.

It is the first crack at the crown for Durelle, currently ranked No. 3 among the challengers in the 175-pound division.

Jack Sharkey, former world heavyweight champion, was announced Tuesday night as the referee. The three judges, who will decide the winner if the bout goes the limit, are still to be announced by the Montreal Athletic Commission.

IT'S TIGHT SQUEEZE

For both fighters the weigh-in was expected to be a close squeeze for the 175-pound limit.

There was just enough worry in the Durelle camp Tuesday night to cause manager Chris Shaban to send Yvon into a brisk shadow-boxing workout during the evening. Durelle took off two pounds and weighed 174.

Durelle scarcely ate anything Tuesday. At night he asked Shaban to get him poached egg and toast. He refused a steak.

"Just wait until after the weigh-in, then I'll really eat," said Durelle in his hotel room. "Cows had better stay out of my way."

With his wife and sister sitting nearby, Durelle exuded confidence. He wants to get the fight over and then "go home to my four kids—I'm lonesome and sick for them."

"GO DOWN FIGHTING"

"Sure, I'm confident of winning. The fight won't go 12 rounds. One of us will go down. If it's me, I'll go down fighting and there won't be a breath left in me.

"I don't have any particular plan for the fight. I can change from the first round. If he starts coming after me I'll fight him. I know he's the cleverest fighter I've met yet, but he is slow on his feet."

The chances of Durelle, Canadian and British Empire champion, are figured to increase the longer the fight goes.

Jack Kearns, Moore's veteran manager, said Tuesday Archie had better win inside of 10 rounds.

"CAN'T FOOL AROUND"

"This fellow Durelle is a rugged fighter, a backwoodsman type," said Kearns. "He's strong and we can't fool around with him. Archie has the experience to box or punch him and to find his weakness early."

Promoter Eddie Quinn predicted the attendance will be between 11,000 and 13,000 and that the gross gate will be from $100,000 to $125,000.

The figures would fall short of the 16,913 record attendance and gate of $148,500 at Maple Leaf Stadium in Toronto July 25, 1956.

When Moore belted out James J. Parker, an easy victim, in a non-title bout.

For his fight against Durelle, Moore will get $75,000 or 40 per cent of television money and gate receipts. Durelle will get $12,000 or 20 per cent of the gate. Agreement was reached Tuesday guaranteeing Moore a return bout should Durelle win.

The bout will be telecast in the United States and Canada except for the Province of Quebec and three nearby U.S. communities.

Maple Leafs Put Their Record On The Line Tonight When They Meet Black Hawks; Wings-Rangers Clash

Signs of life have been observed in the dim, damp cellar of the National Hockey League.

Toronto Maple Leafs, who were classed as all but dead on arrival in the NHL this season, suddenly rose up last weekend from their last-place position and won two consecutive games.

That focused league attention on the Leafs and it was discovered that since firing coach Billy Reay last month Toronto has won three games, tied one and lost only one—and that immediately after the change in coaches.

Tonight, the Leafs will be laying that record on the line against Chicago Black Hawks, while in the only other game scheduled, second-place Detroit Red Wings are host to New York Rangers.

No one is quite sure yet who it was that breathed life back into the Leafs — nominal playing-coach Bert Olmstead or actual coach George (Punch) Imlach, who also is listed as Leafs' general manager.

Netminder Johnny Bower, who has benefitted most from Leafs' rejuvenation—his goals — against average was 3.25 before Reay left and has sunk to 2.84 now—gives Imlach a lot of the credit.

"I've never seen this club back-check the way it has in the past few games. The forwards are working like crazy and taking a lot of the pressure off the defence and myself."

And it's Imlach, Bower says, who gave the "Check, check, check" orders.

Meanwhile, Imlach continues to pursue Alf Pike of Winnipeg Warriors through the Western Hockey League with offers of the coaching position. Imlach met the veteran Winnipeg coach and former Ranger Tuesday night in Vancouver to talk terms.

Punch Imlach Returns Without Any Definite Word From Alf Pike As New Coach, Will Take Two Weeks

VANCOUVER (CP) — George (Punch) Imlach will be returning to his Toronto Maple Leafs without any definite word on a new coach.

Imlach said Tuesday night he had "very amicable" talks during the day with Alf Pike, coach of Winnipeg Warriors of the Western Hockey League, about Pike moving up to coach the National League Maple Leafs.

"No decision was reached," Imlach said, "and I can't see the possibility of anything definite for at least two weeks."

Imlach took over as general manager less than three weeks ago and one of his first moves was to fire coach Billy Reay. Since then he and veteran Bert Olmstead have shared coaching duties.

Earlier this week in New York, Imlach told reporters that if Pike could "get away from his commitments, he'll be our man." Pike himself said he was "highly honored" by the offer, but he added: "Punch is coming here to talk over the job with me. I don't think even he said he was going to offer it."

Percy Lewis Stops Costa

LONDON (AP) — Percy Lewis of Trinidad, British Empire featherweight champion, opened a cut above Carmelo Costa's left eye in the seventh round Tuesday night and won a close 10-round decision over the Brooklyn, N.Y., boxer at Wembley Stadium.

Lewis weighed 127½ pounds and Costa 127½.

Costa rallied in the final two rounds. But his rousing finish was not enough to get him the verdict.

The Associated Press scorecard had Lewis in front, five rounds to three with two even.

Terry Spinks Stops Supple

LONDON (AP)—Terry Spinks of England Tuesday night used a long left hand to score an easy decision over Canadian bantam-weight champion Pat Supple in a 10-round fight at London's Wembley Stadium.

Both fighters weighed 121 pounds.

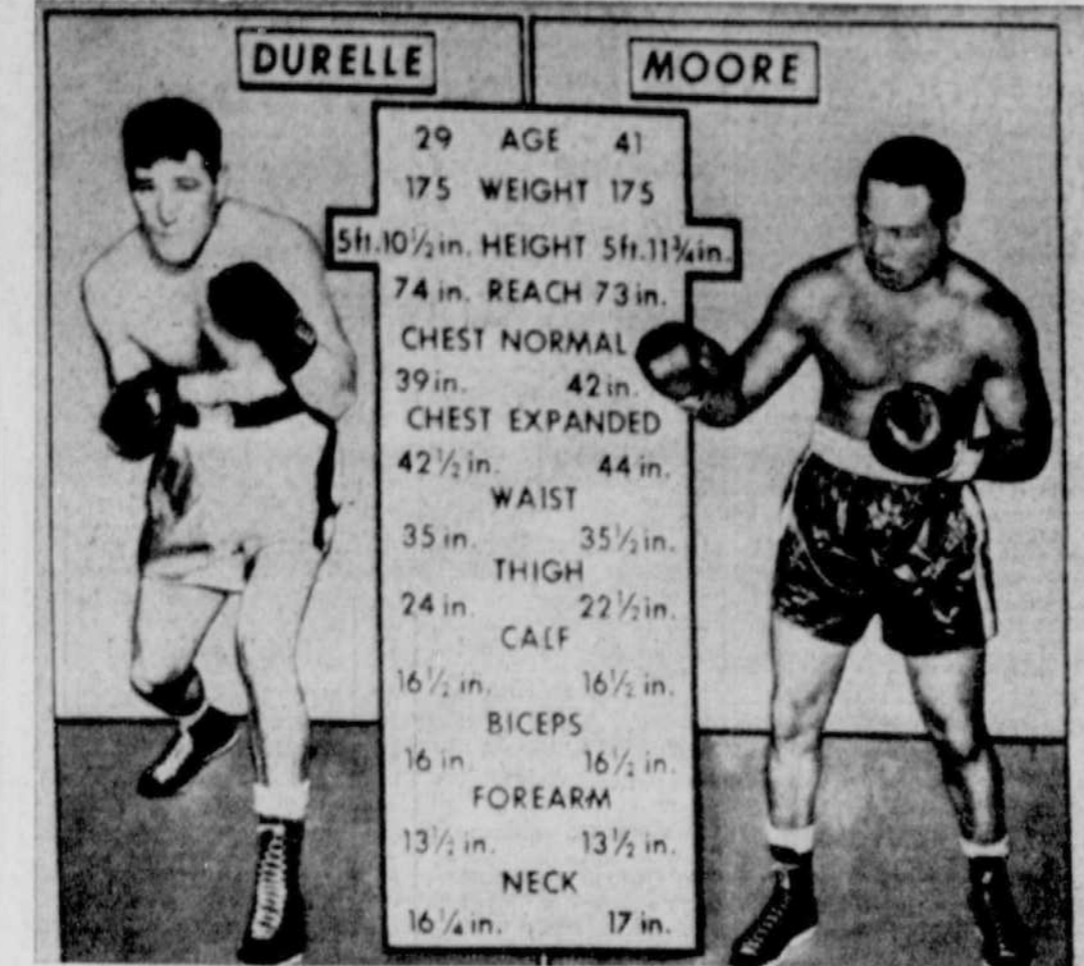

Spinks, who won an Olympic gold medal in 1956, outboxed the Montrealer, who tried to mix it and found his British opponent too crafty and clever.

On The Associated Press scorecard, Spinks won the third, fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth and tenth rounds. Supple took the second and fourth with the others drawn.

Neither boxer was marked and there were no knockdowns.

Spinks relied on his straight left most of the way and jolied Supple with long leads.

His crisp punching put him on top midway through the fight and though the Canadian tried swarming tactics, the Englishman's ringcraft always took him out of trouble.

First-Class Winter Playground Arises From Olympic Planning; Squaw Valley Taking City Form

SQUAW VALLEY, Calif. (AP) — A first-class winter sports area designed and built for the Olympic Games is rising here despite problems and turmoil.

Squaw Valley, a dark horse entry from California, was awarded the 1960 winter Olympic Games 3½ years ago.

Since then, new lifts have stretched up into the high mountains around the valley; dormitories, a huge ice arena and other buildings have taken shape and the construction job is on the home stretch.

EUROPEAN PROTEST

When the little-known valley was awarded the games, screams went up from several European skiing countries and some Americans said as well:

Absurd . . . a disaster . . . no facilities . . . a gigantic flop. And they asked "where is it?"

The valley, some 200 miles northeast of San Francisco, was known then only among California skiers and a few others outside the state—a ski area with a few facilities in a 6,200-foot valley, cupped by 9,000-foot peaks. Money had to be raised and almost all facilities had to be designed and built to meet Olympic standards.

The money came in. The State of California put up $8,000,000, for which it will receive most of the facilities after the 1960 games. The federal government put up $4,000,000 for the 11,000-seat main ice arena.

Another $4,000,000 is expected from the games themselves to help pay the $16,000,000 cost of the 11-day show.

The International Olympic Committee sent experts to look over the plans and courses. They suggested some changes and went away satisfied.

Ski experts from all over the world have visited the site, most of them for the first time. Some have been enthusiastic; others critical.

This winter's heavy snows, coming soon, will shut down almost all work until April. After that, only a few months remain for completion.

Edgar Hillman Paces Sydney To 4-3 Win Over Northside Combines; Jr. Canadiens Wallop Miramichi

Edgar Hillman is one of those tall, gangling hockey players who seems to be all legs out on the ice.

Never spectacular, he has been nonetheless a steady, consistent performer with various Maritime teams. Maybe that's why Sydney Millionaires of the Cape Breton senior league picked him this year to coach.

The Millionaires have won only two games so far, but they've been stout opponents for the league's two other teams.

Cape Breton — born Hillman Tuesday night fired two goals to give his team their second win of the season, a neat 4-3 victory over the Northside Combines. Sydney led 3-0 early in the game.

GLACE BAY LEADING

Other Sydney goals went to Carl Saunders and pint-sized Timmie Hines. For Combines it was Albert Gardiner and Ron Andrea, who scored twice. Glace Bay leads the league with 14 points, Combines have 12 and Millionaires four.

The only other regular Maritime hockey action Tuesday was at Halifax where the hometown Wolverines tripped Stadacona Sailors 6-4. The win gave Halifax a first place tie with New Glasgow Rangers in the Nova Scotia senior circuit. Paul Evan's three goals paced the Wolverines.

At Newcastle, N.B., the touring Ottawa-Hull Jr. Canadiens ran their Maritime exhibition winning streak to four games by thumping Miramichi Beavers of the New Brunswick North Shore league 8-1.

Andre Drolen again paced the Canadiens with three goals. The Juniors fired 63 shots at Beaver goalies Charlie MacTavish and Jack Pinder.

Houston, Tex.—Cleveland Williams, 205, Houston, outpointed Howie Turner, 215, Brooklyn, 10.

Detroit—Gene Gresham, 135½, Detroit, outpointed Bobby Rogers, 134½, Chicago, 10.

Fight To Be Carried Over Network Quebec Province Blacked-Out As Well As Three American Stations

MONTREAL (CP) — Yvon Durelle, fighting New Brunswick fisherman, will carry Canada's hopes for a world boxing championship into the ring tonight when he meets Archie Moore, the aging champion, in a 15-round fight for the title at Montreal's Forum.

Moore, a sturdy and polished boxer, has successfully defended his title against all comers since he won it six years ago.

For Durelle — noted more for his bull-like strength than his fitness—it is the climax of his light-heavyweight career and a chance that may mean fame or oblivion.

Durelle, 29 and the father of four children, operates a fleet of small fishing boats in his hometown of Baie Ste. Anne, N.B., when not fighting.

Moore, from San Diego, Calif., is middle-aged, but still able to withstand — and give — the physical punishment of the professional boxing ring. His exact age is unknown—he is generally believed to be in his middle 40s.

SECOND TITLE MATCH

The fight is Canada's second world championship boxing match since the war. The last one was in Montreal in 1953 when Jimmy Carter knocked out Montreal's Armand Savoie in the fifth round, retaining his world light-weight title.

Both fighters tonight are expected to weigh about 175 pounds — the upper limit of the light-heavyweight classification.

The fight is to be carried on Canadian and American television, although Quebec province and three U.S. stations that reach Montreal will be blacked out. There will be no ringside radio description.

Moore has been guaranteed $75,000 or 40 per cent of all receipts, whichever is greater. Durelle gets $12,000 or 20 per cent. The Montreal Forum could be a virtual sellout — about 15,000 fans—judging from the advance ticket sale. That would mean about $125,000 in the till, plus $75,000 paid for United States television rights.

Added to this is the money paid by the CBC to carry the fight on Canadian television. The amount hasn't been disclosed but estimates have placed it at $15,000.

Williams Leads Sanford Open

SANFORD, Fla. (AP)—Henry Williams of Fleetwood, Pa., 41-year-old veteran of the winter golf tour, Tuesday led the qualifying field for the Sanford Open with a five-under-par 66 over the Mayfair course.

The 72-hole tournament begins Thursday and lasts through Sunday. Tuesday's qualifying trimmed the field of 150 and the 82 contestants who shot 78 or better made it. There were no name players among the casualties.

Most of the top players on the golf tour were exempted from qualifying.

Three strokes behind Williams came Fred Ferrari of Lyndhurst, N.J., and Huston Aclair of Birmingham, Ala., with 69 each.

Tris Speaker Has Joined Babe Ruth In Immortality; Ty Cobb Left From Baseball's All-Time Outfield Now

NEW YORK (AP) — Tris Speaker, probably the greatest outfielder who ever hounded a ball, has joined Babe Ruth in immortality. Only Ty Cobb, who flasks Speaker on his right just as Ruth does on his left on baseball's all-time outfield, still lives.

Spoke, as Speaker was known to his friends—only writers and fans referred to him as the Grey Eagle—died at 70 of a heart attack Monday while on a fishing trip at Lake Whitney, not far from his birthplace at Hubbard, Tex.

Funeral services and burial will be held Thursday in Hubbard.

Unlike the flamboyant Ruth and the tempestuous Cobb, Speaker led a quiet, normal, unprovocative personal life.

One of the highest paid players, he didn't dissipate his money as many others did. He rarely popped off and never soured on the game that made him and that he helped to make. He remained dedicated to baseball right to the end, serving as a consulting coach with Cleveland Indians.

COULD DO EVERYTHING

The only drama and excitement connected with Speaker was that which generated from his deeds on the diamond. He could do everything. He could hit, run, throw and field. So great was his defensive ability that it tended to obscure his position as one of the two or three most distinguished all-round performers in baseball.

Only Cobb, Rogers Hornsby and Ted Williams surpassed his lifetime batting average of .344. Only Cobb owns more lifetime hits than his 3,515, only Cobb and Ruth have more total bases and Speaker's record of 793 doubles has never been seriously challenged. When Cobb's championship batting streak was snapped after nine consecutive years, it was Speaker who did it with a .386 mark in 1916.

Speaker is credited with revolutionizing outfield play but few outfielders were able to follow his pattern. He played the shallowest centerfield seen before or since. His habitual station was so close behind second base as to make him in effect a fifth infielder. He turned literally hundreds of singles into outs and yet seldom was a ball driven over his head that he didn't catch up to unless it cleared the fence.

Edmonton Club Completes Deal For Ed Johnston

EDMONTON (AP) — Edmonton Flyers of the eastern Hockey League have made a deal with Montreal Canadiens to use goalie Ed Johnston for the balance of the season.

Bud Poile, Flyers' general manager, Tuesday announced completion of plans to use Johnston as a replacement for Dennis Riggan, Edmonton's regular netminder who is out for the season because of an eye injury suffered in practice.

Sacramento, Calif. — Reuben Vargas, 190, Richmond, Calif., stopped Young Jack Johnson, 218, Los Angeles, 9.

Spider Webb Offers Downes Return Bout

LONDON (AP)—Middleweight contender Spider Webb today offered British boxing champion Terry Downes a return bout "any time the money's right."

Spider also said he is ready to take on any other middleweight. The offer, made after the 27-year-old Chicago fighter had stopped Downes in eight rounds of a bloody battle, excluded world champion Ray Robinson.

Webb, third-ranked contender for Robinson's title, claims Ray doesn't want to get into the ring.

Referee Eugene Webb stopped Tuesday night's bout after eight rounds of action that had 10,000 fans roaring in excitement. Blood was pouring from cuts above both of Downes' eyes and they were almost closed.

Webb weighed 158½ pounds, Downes 159½.

Terry Spinks of England used a long left to score an easy decision over Canadian hantamweight champion Pat Supple of Montreal in a 10-rounder. Both weighed 121 pounds.

Wayne Robinson Lands In Vancouver To Take Over As Head Man For Lions

VANCOUVER (CP) — Wayne Robinson arrived here Tuesday to begin his task as head coach of British Columbia Lions, last-place finishers in the Western Inter-provincial Football Union last season.

He made no promises, but expressed hope for 1959.

"My being here speaks for itself as to what I think the possibilities are for football in Vancouver," he said without elaboration.

His first chore was to meet members of the city's press, radio and television corps at a luncheon that followed his arrival by air from eastern Canada by only a few minutes.

He parried questions with the agility of a Philadelphia lawyer—he played football for three seasons with the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League—and said he wanted to set things straight from the start: "I'm not going to stick my neck out and predict the Lions will win the Grey Cup next year."

Robinson, 28, a graduate of the University of Minnesota and the Eagles and an assistant coach under Bud Grant with Winnipeg Blue Bombers for the last two seasons, said he had picked two men he would like as his assistants with Lions next year.

Dance And Buffet Supper Mark New Legion Lounge Opening At Waterloo

WATERLOO — Saturday, December 6 was the official opening of the Lounge of the Canadian Legion.

Approximately 100 veterans and guests assembled in the hall at 8 p.m. The president, Ben Ledoux, introduced the guest of honor, Major General C.B. Price, C.B., D.S.O., D.C.M., V.D., C.D., who after a short reply cut the ribbons across the entrance of the new lounge. Past President Windsor Holloway thanked the Major General.

After the official opening cocktails were served. A dance followed with an orchestra furnished through the courtesy of the Waterloo Concert Band. During the evening's program Comrade Walter Hughes gave a short history of how the dream of a new lounge became a reality. The trials and tribulations of the building committee were described. This lounge was started in 1954 and finally completed for the Armistice banquet in 1955, the official opening being on December 6. The ultimate result is a building of which the veterans can well be proud.

The decorations for the evening carried out the Christmas theme, the stage and ceiling being festooned with red and white streamers. At 11 p.m. a buffet supper was served before the successful event came to a close. Much credit is due to Comrade Joe Chadwick and his committee for arranging a very entertaining evening.

Veterans from Granby, Phillipsburg and Knowlton attended.

GUILD TEA AND SALE

St. Hilda's Guild held its annual Christmas tea in the Church Hall of St. Luke's. This is looked forward to each year and is one of the events of the season. The terrific work and careful planning of the group always produces a most successful and enjoyable affair.

Under the supervision of Miss Betty Griffin, president, the hall was decorated in Christmas colors of red and white. Tea tables were spread with white covers, carrying Christmas motifs in each corner, with serviettes to correspond. Each table was centered with a tiny Christmas tree, tied with scarlet ribbons.

Mrs. Eunice Jones and Mrs. Audrey Owens were in charge of a doll table. Mrs. Hazel Langevin and Mrs. Theresa Roach were in charge of the work table, and Miss Marjorie McKenna showed a supply of Christmas cards and novelties. Mrs. Nellie Darling disposed of a variety of articles on the White Elephant table, and the well-patronized food table was under the supervision of Mrs. Shirley Russell, and Mrs. Ola Streeter.

The salad supper was served buffet style. The committee in charge of the tea were Mesdames Thelma Copping, Benita Wallace, Donna Reed, Katie Marsh, Reba Holloway, and Joyce McQuin. Assisting in the serving were Mrs. Dorothy Copping and Mrs. Mary Makinson, and Mrs. Mildred Wilson.

Mrs. Meg Slack as treasurer looked after the tickets and Miss Griffin in her capacity as president welcomed the guests on arrival.

The gratifying amount of $200 was cleared.

Reports from 'The Every Member Visitation' which took place in Waterloo, Sunday, November 30, in the two Protestant churches are considered excellent. Final results have not been published, but to date it can be said it was definite success. Rev. H. C. Boomhoo, of St. Paul's, and Rev. Paul Busing stated that there is no doubt that the main purpose of the campaign was achieved.

General Notes

Mr. H. J. Kennedy of Sherbrooke visited Mrs. A. F. Howie at the Hanna Rest Home.

Mrs. Phyllis Tibbitts from Magog is caring for Mrs. Bert Morris, who is ill.

Cowansville Town Council Report

The pro-mayor for the present quarter, November, December and January, is Alderman Brock.

The Town Council recently dealt with a number of requests. On behalf of the Junior Board of Trade, Robert Meunier, its president, suggested that Christmas lights be placed in the streets by December 1st, and that a Central Bureau of Organization for all social activities, with information desk at the Town Hall, be established. Both requests were granted.

Mr. Meunier, with Marcel Desruisseaux, on behalf of the Cowansville Sports Association, applied for a grant of over $500, to cover deficit of last year in organized sports. The Council explained that $500 is the limit of funds at its disposal for sports and that the Association will be informed of the names of clubs and other sports included in the list of those having a right to share in the grant.

Gerard Turmel, lawyer, representing the business men of South Street, submitted a petition requesting the Town to provide free parking space on a lot which could be obtained for such purposes at South and Depot Streets. The request is to be studied.

Guy Migue has been authorized to prepare plans, specifications, and estimates of the following sewers, with a request to have the plans approved by the Provincial Department of Health. On part of Davignon Blvd., thence to the river, with passage on property of St. Leon School; from Dieppe, thence to North to Willow Brook, along ball grounds.

It was also decided to improve the sewer system of the quadrilateral Davignon, James, Church and South Streets, with the main pipe installed on the property of St. Leon School. At the signing of the deed regarding the latter, Mayor Desourdy and secretary-treasurer J. R. Ouellette will act for and on behalf of the Town.

A grant of $25 was voted to Charities of the Diocese of St. Hyacinthe. It was decided that an order be given to the National Film Board for a copy of the film, "Town Planning 5".

Correspondence tabled included: Letter from the Board of Transport of Canada advising that it would recommend that proper safety signals be installed at the Oxford Street level crossing, and that the C.P.R. will inform the Town of the cost of installing and maintaining such signals. There was a complaint about the lack of proper highway indications in Cowansville; the Provincial Department of Roads has been advised of this matter. Thanks were received from the Junior Board of Trade for co-operation during Fire Prevention Week.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Thomas and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Webb were at Iron Hill to attend a miscellaneous shower for Miss Marjorie Mason, at the Guild Hall.

The supper and Christmas sale was held in the United Church Hall by the Woman's Association. Not too many from the surrounding districts were able to attend as roads were nearly impassable. However, over $80 was realized.

Friends were shocked to hear of the sudden death of Mrs. G. Durack. Sympathy is being extended to Mr. Durack and Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Brown and family.

MANSIONVILLE

The choir of the United Church of Canada is preparing its Christmas music. The annual carol service will be held on Sunday, December 21st at 4 p.m. in the church.

Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Cowan visited Mrs. Cowan's sister, Mrs. V.R. Doncaster, in West Charleston, Vt.

Mrs. J. C. Reilly and Mrs. A. H. Oliver were in Montreal recently and while there visited Miss D. A. Manson at the Anglican Church Home.

The staff of the intermediate school have arranged to give the people of this area a treat on December 17th at 7:30 p.m. when the Knowlton High School Band, conducted by Mr. H. Long, will give a concert of Christmas music in the school auditorium.

Mr. Dale Aiken and Miss Ruth Kelsall, of Montreal, were weekend guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Aiken.

MANSIONVILLE ARTISTS EXHIBIT PAINTINGS — Pictured above at the exhibition held by the Mansonville Adult Art Club, from the left, are: Mr. R. Rawcliffe, Mrs. H. McLean, Mrs. M. Bailey and Mr. W. R. Langley. The display, which closed the fall session of the club, was held in the auditorium of the Intermediate School, where 35 oil paintings done by the members during the autumn months depicted still-life, landscape, seascape, portraits and non-figurative art. Tea was served both afternoon and evening, the hostesses being Mrs. G. Tulk, Mrs. R. Langley and Mrs. H. McLean. The group plans to resume sessions in February and will hold another exhibition in the spring. (Record Photo by Mrs. H. Brereton)

STANSTEAD — The Christmas meeting of the Stanstead North Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. A. E. Osborne, who, assisted by Mrs. Charles Bliss arranged for a pot-luck buffet dinner. The meal was served from the dining room table, which was covered with a white damask cloth and centered with a bowl of baby chrysanthemums.

Miss Elsie McIntosh presided for the serving of the casserole dishes, and Mrs. Thomas Goodsell poured. Dinner was followed by a business meeting, over which the vice-president, Mrs. Douglas Johnson, presided. Roll call was answered with a Christmas gift for an inmate of the Wales Home, Richmond. It was decided to send scrapbook materials to the children's ward of the Sherbrooke Hospital.

Conveners' reports were as follows: Mrs. B. W. Brown read a message from Mrs. George Parsons, QWI Convener of Home Economics; Mrs. Ivar Lemon, citizenship, reported several boxes of UNICEF Christmas cards sold, and a donation for the Hallowe'en collection made the total $80; Miss Ruth Hethrington, welfare and health, read a paper on the Verdun Protestant Hospital founded in 1890.

The Sunshine committee will remember former and present members in various ways at Christmas.

As the regular meeting date falls on New Year's day, the W.I. will meet instead on Wednesday, January 7, with Miss Ruth Hethrington. There will be a pot luck dinner at 12:30 noon.

The treasurer was authorized to send in the service fund fees for the year to the County convener, Mrs. Lemon, citizenship convener will inquire further in regards to the adoption of a child abroad by specific contributions and report at the January meeting.

The Ayer's Cliff Fair exhibit list was discussed and tabled until the January meeting.

Mrs. Thomas Goodsell distributed the exchange of gifts from the gaily decorated tree.

CHURCH GROUP MEETS

The United Organization of Centenary United Church met recently at the parsonage, with Rev. and Mrs. A. M. Rose. Mrs. E. J. Curtis, president, was in the chair.

The Tribal Relationship was the topic for the devotional period conducted by Mrs. George Bullis. Mrs. Ledeganck conducted the study book portion with reference to Mexico, adding to this with inserts of her own observations and experiences. She had spent last summer there.

The December meeting will be held December 10 at the home of Misses Elsie and Jean McIntosh.

Mrs. A. E. Curtis and Mrs. Mabel Drew were heartily welcomed back after being absent for some time because of illness. Afternoon tea was served by Mrs. Eric Fisher and Mrs. Elwin Coates were business visitors in Sherbrooke recently.

The annual Christmas Carol group singing was enjoyed, and a film, The Sceptre and the Mace was shown.

Afternoon tea was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Lee Audet, Mrs. J. M. Williamson, Mrs. W. Poapst, Mrs. William Denney, and Mrs. Walter Molson.

Religious Sect Says Elizabeth II Is A Saint

LAUSANNE, Switzerland (Reuters) — A religious sect that wants to proclaim Britain's Queen Elizabeth "empress-saint of the universe" has been founded here.

The "Arc-en-ciel" (rainbow) sect bases its doctrine on veneration of Elizabeth as the great sovereign-saint who will inaugurate the thousand years of peace in the world, announced in the apocalypse as "the millennium."

In their main "temple" — a room in a Lausanne apartment house — a large space has been reserved for a throne of red leather with a cushion emblazoned with the royal arms of England. This is for the Queen's "coronation."

A former architect and missionary, Frederick Bussy, 30, heads the sect. He dresses in a white robe and wears a large beard that spreads over his chest.

Bussy claims Elizabeth is descended from Princess Tephai, daughter of the last king of Judah and a direct descendant of King David.

HORSE AND BUGGY DAYS — The top photograph, showing Walter J. Bell on Main Street, Cowansville, about 1887, was one of the interesting slides shown by Miss Marion Phelps to the E. T. History Class. The building at left is still standing and in recent years was occupied by the Southern Canada Power Company, before the firm moved to its new building. The Hotel Maurice has replaced the frame structure at right, which was also an inn. Old style luggage is seen on the porch at right. In the lower picture, dressed for an "Entertainment" at the turn of the century, from the left are Miss Mabel Vail, Miss Bessie Chandler (now Mrs. Johnston), Mrs. Von Iffland, Miss Pharaoh, Miss Mattie Chandler (Mrs. Irving McCabe), and Master Harry Chandler.

E. T. History Class Sees Old Views Of Cowansville

COWANSVILLE. — With informative commentary and an excellent set of slides, Miss Marion Phelps gave the Eastern Townships History Class a thoroughly delightful retrospect of Cowansville several decades ago.

The slides had been developed from old glass negatives found in the attic of the East Farnham residence of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Strange, once the Hall home- stead. The pictures, taken by Landon Hall, photographer, music teacher and artist, revealed people and places about the turn of the century.

The people include Mr. Walter J. Bell, commercial traveller, and Miss Bessie Chandler (Mrs. Johnston) both of whom still live in Cowansville. The photo of Mr. Bell was taken in 1887 or 1888, in front of the Hotel. He was seated in a fine rig of his company (Healy), and held the reins for two well-groomed horses, who on that summer day were protected by fly nets.

Miss Chandler was photographed on the verandah of the William Street home of her father, Linus Chandler; the brick house is now the Bedard Funeral Saloon. The occasion was an entertainment and the year about 1900. In one pose Miss Mabel Vail (Mrs. Short) was standing beside her sister; in another the happy companions were Miss Vail, Mrs. Von Iffland (wife of the principal of the High School), Miss Pharaoh, Miss Mattie Chandler (Mrs. Irving McCabe) and little Harry Chandler.

The infant in one group is now one of Cowansville's most illustrious sons (using Cowansville in the widest sense, because East Farnham is meant). He is Dr. Henry F. Hall, principal of Sir George Williams College, Montreal.

The Yamaska River was of particular interest. Both the old wood bridge and the iron structure were shown. Flood conditions were recorded and it was apparent that the volume of water was greater than it is today.

Main Street was seen in various stages of development. Both the hotel site and the Hub Corner were easily recognized. The Hub belonged first to Elhanan and Gleason, who sold it to commercial traveller William Brown, who came from Pointe Fortune, Que., where his father was a merchant.

Next to the Hub (which still bears that name) was the office of the newspaper, the Observer, now the location of the Bank of Montreal. The Oddfellows Hall was in the upper story of the building and access was made by a handy outside staircase.

Both teams and early model cars added to the interest of the views. Heroes Memorial School was shown in its smallest, earliest form, that part which centres the South Street side. This ability to visualize the past from the larger present was typical of the reaction to the very satisfying evening.

Friendly Society Annual Tea, Sale At Cowansville Is Well Patronized

COWANSVILLE. — "The ladies always do it so well!" remarked one of the many happy "clients" at the annual Christmas tea and sale sponsored by the Friendly Society and held in Trinity Memorial Hall. That thought seems to epitomize the impression of excellent organization which made the event such a decided success.

A huge blue-lighted tree stood in the centre of the hall and cast a soft glow over the tea tables where silver shone on white linen. Baskets of chrysanthemums adorned the stage. Seasonal touches of color made the scene gay. The artistic decorations were designed by Mrs. E. Lewis and Mrs. G. Bown.

The caterer for refreshments was Mrs. F. C. Knight, assisted by Miss K. MacIntosh, Mrs. Fred Cassidy and Mrs. A. P. Bibby. In charge of the tea tables was Mrs. G. Phelps, and her helpers were Mrs. G. Bown, Mrs. B. Taylor, Mrs. E. Spencer, Mrs. J. Peacock and Mrs. R. Dustin. Mrs. E. Roberts and Mrs. L. Winch poured.

At the food table Mrs. C. Goyette was assisted by Mrs. M. Bowles, Mrs. V. R. Ingalls, Mrs. F. Hopkins, Mrs. E. Roberts and Mrs. P. Hillhouse. The candy booth was presided over by Mrs. E. Dunwoody and Mrs. A. Watt. Selling the many attractive gifts were Mrs. George Barker, Mrs.

Thurston Spicer and Mrs. R. A. Hooper. The surprise packages, which delighted the children, were looked after by Mrs. Paul Rowe. Advertising was arranged by the president, Mrs. P. Ogden.

Following the tea, a brief meeting was held. The annual meeting will take place at 8 p.m. on December 17, when officers will be elected.

GENERAL NOTES

The Canadian Girls In Training will conduct their annual Christmas Vesper Service at 8 p.m. on Sunday, December 14, in Emmanuel United Church. Leaders will be Eunice and Susan Hitchcock, and the candlelighters, Diane and Joan Sanborn. The story will be told by Claire Christie. Other girls with special assignments are Sandra Forster, Brenda Mahannah, Liada White, Christine Wlodarska, Opal Kinsella, Madeline Berard and Molly and Anna McClure. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

The Cowansville Women's Institute has postponed its annual Christmas party until the afternoon of Tuesday, December 30. It will be held at the home of Mrs. Irwin Haines, with Mrs. H. Smith as co-hostess.

The annual prize giving and Christmas concert will be held in the gymnasium of Cowansville High School, on Monday evening, December 22.

Vera and Linda Patten, from Derby Line, Vt., were week-end guests of their sister, Mrs. William Brown and Mr. Brown. The girls attend MacDonald School.

Mr. H. Parenteau, of Megansville, was a recent visitor in Cowansville.

Canterbury W.I. Holds Meeting

CANTERBURY. — The Women's Institute met with Mrs. N. Bennett, and Mrs. F. G. Bennett as joint hostesses. The president, Mrs. Thos. Chapman presided.

Mr. Harvey Parsons, of the Scotsdown High School, showed a film on education.

The minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. John McRae and the treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Harley Asker.

After a discussion regarding the Christmas party for the children, it was decided to have the party December 19th in the Hall, when the children will be given a treat. Nothing came of the discussion regarding the Smith Memorial Home but all members agreed to help.

Parcels were brought in for the Veterans in hospital.

An exchange of Christmas gifts was held with each receiving a pleasant surprise.

GENERAL NOTES

Mr. Wendell Groom, of MacDonald College spent the weekend at his home.

Mrs. Harley Asker is taking care of Mrs. Neva Asker in Bury.

ing and is able to leave the Sherbrooke Hospital. She is spending some time at her home here.

BISHOPTON

The Ladies Aid met with Mrs. William Bentley. The president, Mrs. O. Ainsworth opened the meeting. The report of the oyster supper showed it to be a financial success, and bills were ordered paid. A letter of thanks from a shut-in was read. The next meeting will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Ainsworth with Mrs. O. Ainsworth as joint hostess. Lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Caroll Bennett, Mrs. John Buchanan and Mrs. Orval Downes.

Miss Irene Harrison is improving.

Stores Across Canada Predict Bigger Christmas Spending

The old-fashioned, home-baked Christmas cake apparently is on the way out. Shopkeepers preparing for what may be a record Christmas spending spree expect more store-made cakes and plum puddings than ever to go on Canada's Yuletide dinner tables this year. Many firms say their cakes are better in quality and cheaper this year because of advanced mass-production techniques. One grocery chain checked customers for their favorite cake recipes before swinging into Christmas production. A Canadian Press survey shows there are no major shortages of traditional Christmas delicacies.

Says one store: "If you want it, we've got it. The only limitation is the pocket." Prices are generally around last year's level. Early shopping trends indicate turkey is still king of the dinner table and many areas note a drop in demand for geese and duck, the main exception being in districts with a large European-born population. In New Brunswick turkey will sell around 59 cents, chicken and pork leg roast at 49 cents and blade roast at 59 cents. Nova Scotia stores say many more housewives are buying ready-made cakes, puddings and frozen foods. Dealers blame the few small price increases on increased labor costs. In Prince Edward Island, turkeys, geese and ducks are retailing about three per cent dearer than last year. Some baking ingredients and fresh fruit are also priced higher, but chicken and other fowl are down. Quebec City residents will pay about eight cents a pound less for their turkey. Turkey is selling around 53 cents a pound, compared to last year's 61 cents. Chicken prices are also down, from 63 cents to between 37 and 55 a pound. Ham is up four cents to 57. Ducks and geese are in little demand. In Montreal, turkeys are selling between 45 and 55 cents a pound. While dealers say it is too early to estimate firm Christmas prices, most expect no upswing. This year Montrealeers are buying more 18-25 pound birds. Hams and ducks are second choice. Shop-made fruit cakes range from 99 cents a pound to $1.25. Many Ontario stores see prospects of Christmas sales passing last year's records. In Toronto, major department stores are opening late two or three nights a week until Christmas. Grocers say there are no scarcities. Turkey, biggest favorite, will retail around 55 cents a pound, chickens as low as 29 cents for broilers, ducks about 49 cents and pork roasts between 32 and 62 cents depending on cut. Fruits are plentiful. Tangerines will retail as low as 29 cents a dozen and California oranges, depending on size, between 45 and 69 cents. Fresh dates from California are selling around 30 cents a pound. Cranberries, at 25 cents a pound, are in good supply. Other prices: cakes 65 cents a pound; plum puddings 59 cents; mixed nuts 49 cents; walnuts 53 cents; brazils 49 cents; filberts 39 cents.

In Manitoba prices are mainly the same as last year, but raisins and currants are about five cents a pound dearer.

Turkey is selling around 54 cents a pound in Winnipeg. Specialties include chocolate- and candy-coated grasshoppers, ants and cocoons from Japan.

Other prices: oranges 45 cents for four pounds; raisins 25 cents a pound; plum puddings 70 cents a pound.

Alberta reports a shortage of heavy chickens, most of which are being killed early as broilers, and California raisins but turkeys, cranberries and oranges are plentiful.

Top-grade small turkeys are priced about 59 cents a pound, about the same as last year. Large birds sell at 47 cents a pound.

Alberta has shipped turkeys east in large quantities. Many of the 78,000 geese raised by the Hutterites during the summer will also find their way to the Christmas table.

Eviscerated turkeys are selling in British Columbia from 61 to 75 cents a pound, with heavier birds the cheaper. Retailers expect prices will drop slightly nearer Christmas. Ham is about 65 cents a pound. Two-Pound Christmas cakes are running about $1.95 in Vancouver with Christmas pudding 67 cents a pound.

British Army Solves Paratroopers' Worst Enemy - Tall Jungle Trees

KUALA LUMPUR (Reuters)—British paratroops in Malaya have perfected a technique believed to be unique among the principal armies of the world. It is the art of mounting an airborne assault in heavy jungle. Until recently, high trees were regarded as one of the paratrooper's worst enemies. He could generally land among them safely enough. But he was liable to kill himself getting down. The problem was to land him quickly and get him without injury to the ground.

In 1952, the 22nd Special Air Service Regiment was launching an attack against Communist terrorists at Bekun, in Perak State, northern Malaya. The dropping zone was a rice field, in a small valley.

Bad weather swept 50 of the 54 paratroopers engaged into heavy jungle. Surprisingly, each emerged unscathed, all having carried 100-foot lengths of rope for just such an emergency.

This incident showed British Army headquarters in Malaya that paratroops had new possibilities in the terrorist war. Previously, they had been hampered in their task of forward reconnaissance because there were few good dropping zones, such as rice fields, near the terrorist hideouts. Experiments in tree parachuting were carried out.

First, men were dropped into rubber trees, which they said were "just like a feather bed." Then they graduated to jungle

Meanwhile, specialists at the Royal Air Force's basic parachute school in Singapore designed special equipment to enable them to descend from trees. Simple ropes were considered too cumbersome and dangerous. What was wanted was something that would let the men descend easily, even if injured.

Mountaineering gear was adopted for the purpose. Paratroops and their guns were put into a harness which could lower men 240 feet without any need for them to touch the trunk of the tree.

The speed of descent of this harness can be controlled. The only protection the soldier wears is a helmet, and all he takes with him is his gun. The rest of his equipment, pack, food and extra clothing, is airdropped after a group has met and signalled its position.

Good Results In Aerial Seeding

VICTORIA (CP)—The technique of aerial seeding is bringing excellent results in British Columbia's forest areas.

All logged-off lands of MacMillan and Bloedel Limited on Vancouver Island will have been replanted in three years. By 1962 all trees will be growing on all the open tracts except those being logged.

From that time on planting to a great extent will follow on the heels of slash-burnings with two-year-old seedlings being set in rows across the blackened ground.

BEST FOR PLANTING

Foresters say days immediately following burning are best for planting Nitrogen, potassium and phosphorus in the ashes are readily available to seedlings at that time, but are leached away by winter rains.

Catching up on the backlog of seedling has not been easy but the helicopter has been instrumental in bringing the end of the company's Operation Backlog in sight.

First the tract is covered from the air with wheat—poisoned to kill mice that would eat the fire seed, and painted green to scare the grouse.

KILLS THE MICE

Trap lines show that the mice are usually dead in about three days, and after a week the seed is dropped.

Aerial planting requires a lot of seed and it is at a premium today because there has not been a good seed year at higher elevations since 1945.

Results range from 1,000 to more than 6,000 trees per acre and on any yield over 1,000 the crop must be thinned in 20 years.

KIRKDALE —

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Conchman and family, of Theford Mines, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Conchman.

ROCKET SCENE MOVES WEST—Firing soon of the first ballistic missile from the nearly complete Pacific test center will open a new phase of the nation's missile and space effort. Newsmap above shows the triple purpose of the joint Air Force-Navy program, located at Vandenberg Air Force Base and Point Arguello, about 140 miles north of Los Angeles. Two ranges will be used to train missilemen in test firings: one across the western Pacific for 5,000-mile intercontinental types; another for 1,500-mile and shorter range weapons. A third range, stretching over open water toward the South Pole, will be used for launching satellites in north-south orbits, the only point in the U.S. from which they can be fired in such a direction.

FITCH BAY —

The Anglican's Young People's Association held a card party in the Canon Gustin Hall. Prizes were won by Miss Ethel Wilson, Mr. Wm. Embury, Miss Sandra Dolloff and Mr. Joseph Wharry. Mrs. Roland Poitras has resumed her Post Office duties after a bout of pneumonia.

New Communist Propaganda Deal Proving Effective

ATHENS (AP)—Some of the Greek children taken behind the Iron Curtain by the Communists in the post-war revolt are proving first-rate propagandists for their kidnapers.

Only a select 200 of the estimated 27,000 taken away as babies and teen-agers have been allowed to come home. They returned to isolated mountain villages where their parents still live.

During 10 years in Communist custody the youngsters had been given favored treatment. They had lived in comparative luxury—in such big cities as Warsaw, Budapest and Bucharest.

The repatriates now are dazzling villagers with the tales of the wonderful places they have seen. Greek authorities are worried about the effect of the yarns on the stay-at-homes.

An older revolutionary, Efstratios Manoussakis, says the estimated 36,000 Greek rebels who fled voluntarily with the Communists do not share the same feeling as the repatriated youth.

Manoussakis, a naval engineer, went to the Soviet Union in 1949 when the three-year Communist rebellion in Greece was crushed. He lived there nine years.

"Thousands of Greek rebels now living behind the Iron Curtain," he says, "want to return to their homeland, even at the risk of court-martial and possible imprisonment."

The Greek rebels live mostly in a camp at Tashkent, a sheep and goat raising area of Central Asia.

SAWYERVILLE —

Mr. Campbell McBurney, of Valcartier, was a recent guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. McBurney.

Miss Betty McCormick, of East Angus, was a weekend guest of Miss Patricia Olsson.

Mr. and Mrs. Pinsonault have returned after spending some time in Montreal and Valleyfield.

Mr. A. E. Cullen has returned home from hospital.

VEGETABLE SCOOP—Annual consumption of commercially produced vegetables rose from an average of 170 pounds in 1937-39 to about 200 pounds per capita in 1955, the U.S. Department of Agriculture reports, while the importance of home-produced foods declined. Tomatoes led the way (see chart above), currently being consumed at an annual rate of 54 pounds per person. Overall increase has been due entirely to the growing use of processed items. Consumption of fresh vegetables has declined moderately.

Waterloo Town Council Notes

The first regular meeting of the Town Council of Waterloo was held in the town hall on November 4, under the chairmanship of Mayor Armand Russell, with the following councillors present: Aldermen Duval, P. A. Roy, Marsh, Holloway, Ledoux, Lalumiere and L. Roy.

Bills in the amount of $8,383.97 were passed for payment. Of this amount $2,723 was the October payroll.

Receipts for October, totalling $11,808.63, included the following: Municipal tax, $999.23; water tax, $1,008.73; business tax, $125.25; rental tax, $1,263.17; sale tax, $4,740.00; amusement tax, $152.84; tiles, $29.50; notice cost, $7.35; water connection, $3; somm. cost, $16.05; Diverse, $3,030.82; public charities, $68.70; infractions $198.25; dogs, $49; bicycles, $2; works, $128.55; sidewalk, $63.04; sewers, $17.10; interest, $28.35; discount ($32.39).

As of October 31st, the bank balance was $5,890.24. In addition to the regular current expenses, special accounts in connection with the Town Hall amounted to $43,386.81 were approved. A grant of $200 was given to the Waterloo Concert Band.

The tender of the General Asphalt Paving Construction Company, for paving sidewalks on North Street at a total of $421, was accepted.

Permission granted to Georges-Emile Gevry to use the fair ground stable for the season of 1958-59 to winter his horses. For the use of the barn Mr. Gevry agrees to pay the fire insurance, electricity, water tax or any repairs that may be necessary. The Corporation of the Town does not agree to keep the roads open to the Fair Grounds barn during the winter months.

Seventy-five dollars was granted to the "Editions Marieville Enrg." for advertisement in the book being prepared on the history of the Eastern Townships. This book, comprising about 100 pages, is expected to be on sale around the New Year. It was thought the book would be of interest to tourists.

Alder Lalumiere was named promotor for the next term.

On November 18, the Council met at the usual place under the chairmanship of Mayor Russell. Aldermen P. A. Roy, L. Roy, Marsh, Holloway, Ledoux and Lalumiere were present.

The coat of arms, prepared by "Le College Canadien des Armoires" during 1956, was accepted as the official crest of Waterloo.

It was resolved that tenders for the purchase of metal shelving for the Registry Office be received until 5 p.m. Friday, November 23rd, and that the promotor and secretary treasurer be authorized to purchase shelving on behalf of the town for an amount not exceeding $5,000.

Ald. Ledoux moved and Alderman Marsh seconded a motion that 100 folding chairs be purchased at $6.50 each from Mr. Ravenelle. Alds. L. Roy and P. A. Roy were against the resolution, preferring another make. The mayor cast the deciding vote in favor of the chairs from Mr. Ravenelle.

DUNHAM

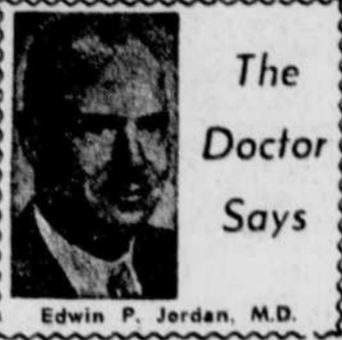

The Guild of All Saints church held a Christmas supper and sale in the Church Hall. There was a good attendance and the proceeds were satisfactory. Mrs. C. Selby and Mrs. Noseworthy presided at the candy and jam table. Miss Annice Selby had charge of the miscellaneous table. Supper was served to guests from Stanbridge East, Farnham, and East Farnham, besides Dunham.

Mrs. Mildred Rouse is a guest of her sister, Miss Mabel Brown in Burlington, Vt., for a few days.

WEST SUTTON

Mrs. Ada Bedard, of Highwater, has been spending a few days here with her sister, Mrs. S.C. Fadden and Mr. Fadden. Mrs. Blanch Brooks, of Plymouth, N.H., is visiting her daughter, Mrs. David Marco and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Page and son were in Knowlton to attend the Roxe — Roxe wedding.

ST. VITUS DANCE IS STRANGE MALADY ATTACKING YOUNG

St. Vitus dance, or chorea, is a curious disorder about which much still has to be learned. A family tendency to the disease is fairly common. Unusually bright children and those with a "highly-strung" nervous system appear to be particularly susceptible. It is probably related in some way to rheumatic fever, though how has not yet been explained.

The disease is somewhat more frequent in girls than in boys and affects principally those between five and 15 years of age. Some children with early signs of chorea do not appear to be ill but merely more awkward than usual. They are often scolded by their parents or teachers for dropping things and showing other signs of poor muscular control without realizing that it is illness and not intention which is responsible.

In mild cases, the general health is good, the muscles twitch only slightly and the speech and mental functions are not disturbed. Children with mild chorea frequently complain of fatigue. Emotional disturbances, such as easy crying and nightmares, are often present. When the hands are held straight out in front with the fingers spread, the jerky irregular movements of the muscles are characteristic and can be easily recognized by the experienced physician.

In the severe form of the disease, the movements involve a lot of muscles and the youngster may not even be able to eat or undress without help. Sometimes the speech is affected and a child may not be able to talk at all for several days.

The worst type of chorea is the maniacal form, which is, fortunately, very rare. Here, in addition to the muscular movements, there are severe mental symptoms which last for weeks. Diagnosis is not too difficult if the possibility of chorea is considered.

Sale And Supper Held By Church Group At Hatley

HATLEY — The ladies of St. James Church held their pre-Christmas sale and supper in the Guild room which was decorated with evergreens and baskets of Christmas bouquets.

Mrs. Johnson was kept busy at the fish pond, and Mrs. Sherman was in charge of the candy table.

Mrs. A. Bowen, Miss MacDougal, Mrs. Hyatt served at the apron, fancywork and mystery tables, while Mrs. Bray took charge of the food table as well as being cashier.

Mrs. Curtis, Mrs. Ride, and Mrs. Townshend, in charge of the tea tables, were assisted by some of the junior girls. The Juniors also had a nice table of Christmas decorations and fancy articles they had made.

Miss Miller, Mrs. Denton and Mrs. Dustin were kept busy in the kitchen.

Mrs. Denton welcomed the guests who were from Massawippi, Compton, as well as Hatley.

GENERAL NOTES

Mrs. Young is confined to her home by illness.

Friends and relatives in Hatley were shocked to hear of the sudden passing of Mrs. H.H. Brown, who will be sadly missed by all.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold McClary, and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Whitcomb were in Magog recently on business.

sidered. It is important to try to tell whether the chorea is of the kind associated with rheumatic fever or not, because this may have a bearing on treatment. Diet and long bed rest, similar to that which is given for rheumatic fever, are the main treatments for chorea. Because chorea involves the nervous system, sedatives are usually advisable. The exact cause is still unknown, though a virus is a likely possibility. SHERBROOKE DAILY RECORD, WED., DEC. 10, 1958

WESTINGHOUSE LAUNDROMAT AUTOMATIC WASHER

ONLY $259⁰⁰

MODEL NO. L114

You can select warm water for delicate fabrics. This, combined with gentle tumbling action, means you can wash fragile and synthetic fabrics in your machine, rather than by hand. Important indeed when you consider how much of the family wash is composed of these delicate fabrics nowadays...

and how much more so it will be in the future! Cut down on laborious hand-laundry with your Westinghouse "Laundromat"!

- SINGLE DIAL CONTROL means no watching. You're free to do other things!
- FLEXIBLE OPERATION means you can stop, repeat, lengthen, or eliminate any part of the cycle.
- WASH-AWAY, RINSE-AWAY ACTION... exclusive inclined washing action lifts clothes upward out of the water 50 times a minute, then triple rinses in clear water. This is more rinsing than the average home laundry is equipped to give! Look forward to whiter whites, brighter colours!
- 2 WATER TEMPERATURES! Select according to the fabrics to be washed... hot or warm. (Saves hot water, too!)
- SELF-CLEANING... needs no extra or special care.
- Machine stops automatically when door is opened.
- Overall size about 32" x 25 1/4" x 36" high.

St. Andrew's Woman's Association Of Scotstown Holds Annual Tea, Sale

SCOTSTOWN — St. Andrew's United Church Women's Association held its annual Christmas sale and tea in the Church Hall. The hall was decorated with the season's evergreens, poinsettias and a brightly lighted Christmas tree.

Guests were greeted by Mrs. Charles MacRae, president of the Association. Mrs. R. T. Cook and Mrs. F. B. Mayhew were the salesladies at the food table, which soon was sold out.

Many Christmas gift problems were solved at the fancywork table where Mrs. J. B. Scott and Mrs. R. Waldron sold knitted articles, pillow slips, aprons, and Christmas ornaments.

The children's favorite corner was supervised by Mrs. Ross MacDonald where toys, candy and popcorn balls readily found customers.

Tea and coffee were poured by Mrs. C. M. Smith and Mrs. A. Henderson at a prettily appointed table.

Mrs. W. A. Ladd was convener of the tea tables, assisted by Mrs. George MacDonald and Mrs. C. Henderson. The Misses Joan Wannacott, Patricia and Joan Gordon assisted in serving at the tea hour.

AUXILIARY MEETS
The Woman's Auxiliary of St. Albans Anglican Church met at the home of Miss Clare Hanright, Mrs. Basil Woolley, president, presided and opened the meeting with Scripture reading.

Invitations were received from Sherbrooke W.M.S. to meet Miss Lily Simpson, R.N., missionary from India, and Miss F. Clark, regional secretary. Both meetings were held in Sherbrooke and attended from here were Mrs. Philip Boy, Mrs. J. E. Nicholson, Mrs. Burns MacDonald, Mrs. D. Murray, Mrs. Albert Murray, Mrs. K. MacKenzie, and Mrs. A. R. MacDonald.

It was decided to give a Life Membership this year.

Mrs. K. A. MacDonald and Mrs. A. R. MacDonald were appointed as program committee.

It was suggested that members remember Mrs. Murdo Murray with cards, her address is c/o Mrs. M. Roy, Garthby, Que.

The study period was taken by Mrs. P. Boy and Mrs. K. A. MacDonald, and annual reports were presented. It was decided to dispense with July and August meetings.

The nominating convener, Mrs. K. M. Smith, presented the following slate of officers: Honorary president, Mrs. J. W. Smith; president, Mrs. Philip Boy; 1st vice-president, Mrs. D. A. Campbell; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. K. A. MacDonald; treasurer, Mrs. J. E. Nicholson; and secretary, Mrs. A. R. MacDonald. Mrs. A. A. MacIver took the chair for the installation. Mrs. J. E. Nicholson closed the meeting with prayer. A social hour was enjoyed during which the hostess assisted by Mrs. Donald Murray served tea.

GENERAL NOTES

DENNIS THE MENACE By Hank Ketcham

Y A BIG APPLE POLISHER!

Main Doorway, Head Office Building

"Climate to induce individual effort and private investment is essential for growth", said Neil J. McKinnon, President, addressing the 92nd Annual Meeting of The Canadian Bank of Commerce.

During the year since we last met our economy has passed through a relatively mild recessive phase. A depression which many feared and more than a few expected did not materialize. Now the commercial and industrial scene is brightening, despite the indications of winter unemployment. The new year seems to hold promise for most lines of production and most regions of our country.

In many ways the events of 1958 present a noteworthy illustration of recession and recovery where over-all productivity is improving and where money incomes and prices have a tendency to rise together. In such an environment the forces of business re-adjustment produce a levelling-off of output rather than a serious decline, while the following forces of recovery manifest themselves in noticeable upward movements of most indicators.

It now seems likely that the Gross National Production will have a value fractionally above $32 billion, or about 2% higher than in 1957. Allowing for higher prices the volume of production was probably little changed. Export trade has been well maintained, consumer expenditures have increased moderately and capital investment has shown but a moderate decline. For a year which began amidst gloomy forebodings this cannot be considered as other than reassuring.

Toward the end of last year concern was expressed in some quarters about the downward trend of capital investment. Yet a level of about $8.5 billion may be achieved, a decrease of less than 3%. There have, of course, been some noticeable changes in the components. There has been a drop in capital expenditures for manufacturing offset by an increase in expenditures for housing which this year are estimated to reach an all time high of more than $1.7 billion, an increase of about $350 million over last year. Aggregate of 1958 capital investment will be somewhat less than in 1957 but is still considerably higher than the total for 1956 which we habitually refer to as a "boom" year. By the second quarter of the year corporation profits before taxes emerged from the uninterrupted decline that dated from the end of 1956 and there are signs of a steady and possibly improving trend in more recent months. There are some indications that business capital expenditures may be moderately reduced next year but an improvement in business expectations during 1959 may bring some upward revision.

Value of consumer expenditure is apparently higher than a year ago but consumer price increases would just about offset this increase in terms of volume. As the population has increased by some 460,000, per capita trade in terms of volume was slightly below last year and it is thus the increase in population which has brought about the over-all increase in dollar volume in consumer buying. The Canadian consumer spends almost two out of every three dollars paid for the nation's goods and services and this year aggregate consumer expenditures exceeded $20 billion for the first time. Through most of 1958 Canadians reduced consumer debts, built up savings, and curtailed purchases of durable goods in favour of non-durables and services. The growing liquidity of individual Canadians and many business organizations may well provide a base for further recovery during the period ahead.

There are indications that this year's aggregate exports should come close to the level of last year but here too, there have been changes in components. At the same time imports have been reduced, principally of machinery, and this trend is allied with some decline in the level of foreign investment in Canada. The over-all deficit in foreign trade on merchandise account will show a marked reduction as compared with last year. If the recovery in business activity in the United States is sustained, as is expected, the level of exports from Canada in 1959 will be well maintained.

Production

Industrial production is, of course, affected by both domestic and foreign demand. It emerged from its downward phase at the beginning of the year. Although volume has been adversely affected through industrial disputes it has, nevertheless, improved to a level which, barring further work stoppages, by now should compare well with last year.

Mineral production has been adversely affected by less favourable foreign markets and prices but there are signs of improvement in some, although not all, of its constituents. The total value of mining production for the year is expected slightly to exceed that of 1957. Neither the mining nor metallurgical industry, however, had an altogether favourable year. Iron ore output was affected until recently by the low rate of production in U.S. steel mills. A decline in price and world demand for base metals resulted in curtailed operations in that field. The export market for western oil was reduced, as was that for aluminum. On the other hand, increased shipments of uranium contributed substantially to the strength of export trade, and gold production was the highest in some years.

Farm net income this year may prove to be slightly below that of 1957 owing largely to adverse weather conditions in the Prairie Provinces. The movement of livestock into export markets and favourable price levels have been a source of support. Wheat sales in the 1957-58 crop year were considerably above those for the previous year and overseas clearances in the latter part of 1958 have continued at much the same rate. However, total Canadian supplies of wheat at the beginning of the new crop year, although below the level of the previous year, were still high and it seems clear that world supplies of wheat will be more than adequate in relation to markets in the coming year. Unfortunately there are indications that more difficult conditions may arise in commercial sales.

Resource Development

Although important natural resource projects are in the course of development we do not for the present see ahead of us programmes of the magnitude of the St. Lawrence Seaway or the intense activity in the oil and gas fields that characterized the past few years. Oil and gas developments continue but the greater emphasis for the present is in the distribution and utilization of products and by-products. Many mining programmes are under study and development and important expenditures are being made in preparing for new nickel and iron ore production. Although the work now going on is not as spectacular as that of a few years ago it is soundly based and undoubtedly we shall continue to see in the years to come a steady and important development of natural resources including the vital field of energy. The Royal Commission on Energy has recently submitted its views in a first report to the Government. This Report has attracted widespread attention among those familiar with its field of study. A further report is to be submitted soon and it is apparent that the recommendations and their implications will in due course require examination with careful consideration of their possible influences on the development of the economy.

Employment

Continued population growth through the year with an increase in the labour force represents one of the factors reflected in employment as well as unemployment. Unexpectedly for many, the number of employed Canadians has been just about the same as last year. Notwithstanding this, unemployment in 1958 continued to present a problem to Governments and private employers. The unemployment in this period was caused by a combination of circumstances which was more than seasonal in character. In 1957 our population grew exceptionally—about half a million—and the labour force by 221,000. At least three out of five of these additional working adults in that year were immigrants escaping old terrors or seeking new opportunities. It is not hard to see why unemployment was higher in 1958, a year when, temporarily, basic growth factors were weaker than they had been for some time. Population growth this year has been at a lesser rate than in 1957. It may be expected that the underlying market demand in several key sectors of the economy, partly reflected in the high level of building contracts awarded in recent months, and supported by the stability of 1958, should provide a foundation for further progress in 1959.

Housing

Residential construction this year is creating a new record with indications that completions may amount to 153,000 units compared with 117,000 last year. Of the total it now appears that 80% was financed by individuals and financial institutions and the remainder by moneys made available by the Government through Central Mortgage & Housing Corporation.

Financial Developments

For some years under expansionary forces federal revenues have been greater than rising expenditures, and surpluses have in the main been used to reduce the federal debt. This year we have seen another phase of so-called compensatory fiscal policy: the expenditure of greater sums of money than the existing tax structure could provide. Under the growth conditions which are characteristic of Canada we have had little experience with the implications of deficit financing. Under a dynamic economic system there are bound to be recurring periods of advance and rest but we do know from experience in other countries that long continued deficits can have seriously adverse effects on the price structure and on business generally. We in this country should set our sights on an equilibrium in the economy and a budget in some measure of balance.

The past year has also seen a marked increase in money supply in the banking system but with some unused productive facilities there has been only a modest movement upward in prices and one which probably would have taken place in any event. Notwithstanding this monetary expansion accompanied by substantially enlarged holdings of Government bonds by the banking system, interest rates are now moving upward. Much of this trend has been influenced by developments in the United States where at least in part there has been a disinclination on the part of investors to buy Government bonds and a trend to other types of investment.

Summary

Expenditures at all levels of governments in the economy continue to increase. Even excluding public business enterprises, government expenditures on goods and services now approach $6 billion a year. There are also those expenditures arising from transfer payments by governments to individuals which seem likely to be at a rate of $3 billion by the end of this year. In all, this represents a very substantial sum in relation to total national expenditure.

Few Canadians fully realize the extent and significance of the influence on our country of government expenditures and budgetary, fiscal and monetary policies. The magnitude of this influence and its implications raise many factors—the level of government deficits, the rate of price increases, the possibility of increasing taxation—which give pause for thought. How can a climate favourable to private investment, individual enterprise and maximum economic freedom be preserved? For example, in the period ahead there may be demands in some sectors of our economy exceeding the readily available resources which may be freely allotted to those sectors, and we must be conscious of the importance of maintaining freedom of action in the capital markets to balance requirements of production and consumption.

There are many more allied considerations. Canadians have always been resourceful in their genius for finding the means of compromise and moderation and an increasing awareness will help to solve the problems of the future. The nation has been built on sources of individual enterprise, skills, imagination and creativeness with adequate incentives and rewards. A vital part of our national development must be to preserve adequate scope for these foundations for future growth.

J. P. R. Wadsworth, Vice-President and General Manager, reviewed the balance sheet, highlights of which are summarized, and said in part:

The 92nd annual statement shows total assets to have exceeded for the first time three billion dollars and the increase from one year ago amounts to $435,097,000. This is the largest growth in one year in the history of the Bank.

The increase in money supply in the banking system during the year was greater than the demand by business and individuals for bank loans so that quick assets represented principally by Government of Canada securities have increased.

Commercial and other loans at $1,011,352,000 decreased by $48,920,000. While the number of borrowing customers increased, public financing to fund temporary loans brought about reductions which more than offset the general increase in most classifications. The Bank's activities in the Personal Loan field, which commenced over 22 years ago when the Bank pioneered this service in Canada, have continued at a steadily growing pace. Since the inception of this plan over one and a quarter million individual loans have been granted. The Bank's participation in the year's activity in the residential construction field is reflected in an increase of mortgages insured under the National Housing Act of 1954 of $43,384,000. The total of these loans now on our books stands at $140,215,000.

Deposits now total $2,818,400,000, an increase of $411,557,000. Both savings and other deposits reached new highs, while deposits from government sources in the aggregate remained about the same.

The total number of banking offices at the end of the year stood at 807. During the year 32 new branch offices were opened, in new or growing urban and rural areas.

The Annual Meeting provides the opportunity of reporting on the part played by the personnel. The figures speak for themselves and represent the combined efforts of a group of more than 10,000 men and women. However, even in banking, figures cannot tell the whole story. The day-to-day services to more than two million customers are largely of a personal nature requiring thoughtfulness, understanding and courtesy. Behind this large group of front line personnel are all those whose roles are equally important in a supporting or staff capacity. In addition, however, to the various roles played during the business day there is the role in the community in which so many of our men and women play an important part. I am sure the shareholders as well as the Chairman and the President will wish to join with me in an expression of appreciation to all the personnel of the Bank for their ready acceptance of responsibility and the faithful discharge of duties as good bankers and good citizens.

CONTROVERSIAL STATUE — Sculptor David McFall works on his two-ton, eight-foot six-inch statue of former British Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill in London. The statue was commissioned by Churchill's constituents in the Woodford district, which he represents in Parliament, but critics doubted it ever would be installed as a monument to him. The critics claim the statue is "a caricature," and that it makes Churchill look "gorilla-like."

Canada Taking Vital Interest In Field Of Vertical-Take-Off-And-Land Craft

By JOHN E. BIRD

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada is approaching the pre-production stage of a multi-engine transport aircraft able to take off and land vertically with big payloads.

By next spring research may reach the stage where it will be possible to conduct air tests with some of the complicated equipment such an aircraft will need to lift itself vertically and then fly in level flight at speeds up to 500 miles an hour.

Development of such an aircraft might put the conventional helicopter out of business, except for short flights. The helicopter is a vertical riser but it is expensive to build, difficult to equip with navigation instruments and has a limited payload, range and speed.

Work on the design of a VTOL (Vertical take-off and landing) aircraft started in 1955 and now is progressing in about six laboratories of the National Aeronautical Establishment of the National Research Council. Engineers are designing, studying and testing wings, propellers, engines and other special equipment for the commercial aircraft of the future.

An aircraft able to rise vertically would play a major role in the development of Canada's north country where airfields are expensive and difficult to build. It would need only a small area in which to make a vertical descent, unload cargo and passengers and then take off.

A plane of this type might also be used to transport troops in time of emergency to remote areas without airfields. It could be used eventually as regular commercial air transport, eliminating the need for long runways at airports, but this is not expected in the near future.

SUGGEST FOUR JETS

Under present plans NRC envisages a VTOL aircraft with four jet motors. The motors would drive fans embedded in the wings to lift the aircraft vertically. Once the plane was at a safe flying height, the jet blasts would be switched from the fans to conventional exhausts to give forward flights.

This type of power plant design is expected to win out over other proposals. These include a plane with ordinary propellers which could be pointed vertically or horizontally and wings which could be tilted.

One major problem being studied is what will happen when the plane is completing its vertical rise and is easing into forward flight. Tests in this connection are being made at nearby Uplands airport with a station wagon which runs components of future VTOL aircraft up and down the long runways.

While research still is of a preliminary nature, NRC hopes to be able to make some air tests early next year. The present plan is to conduct these tests on a small aircraft in which will be incorporated vertical lift equipment. Lifting fans in the wings will be among the first components tested.

LENGTHY PROJECT

At present a special 12-inch fan of the type which might be used for vertical lift now is under test at the NRC engine laboratory. It is expected a test fan for a full-size aircraft will be built within a year or 18 months.

Present speculation is that a VTOL aircraft will be in the air in Canada in three to eight years. Designers hope they will be able to come up with an aircraft that can carry a payload of at least 5,000 pounds.

Besides the NRC tests, research on VTOL aircraft also is being conducted by Canadair Limited and Avro Aircraft Limited.

More Bitterness In South Africa

JOHANNESBURG (Reuters)—Bitterness has entered the ranks of the African National Congress and a split has led to the formation of an opposing group known as the Africanists.

The Congress, which claims to represent 8,500,000 Africans, is a national political organization aimed at uniting the African people in South Africa and fighting for their political rights.

The Africanist movement was formed recently by former members of the African National Congress after they had been expelled from the Transvaal branch of the Congress.

The African National Congress claims that its brand of African nationalism aims at a common, free and open society in South Africa, in which all population groups, whether Indians, whites, coloreds or Africans, would have equal rights and would be co-managers and co-directors of the country.

In such a society, they say, none of the present peoples of the country would be looked upon as foreigners.

The Africanists, on the other hand, consider that the land belongs to the Africans and that all other population groups are just foreigners. However, leading Africanists have denied that they want to "drive the whites into the sea."

One leading member of the movement, Josiah Madzunya, said: "When we say we are fighting white domination, we mean the government of the country which is run by whites only."

SARNIA, Ont. (CP)—A nine-foot-long cheque representing $900 was presented by a branch of the Beta Sigma Phi sorority here to the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

Yule Decorations Feature Tea, Sale At Ayer's Cliff

AYER'S CLIFF — The Christmas tea and sale, sponsored by the Woman's Association of Beulah United Church and held in the Church Hall, was both a social and financial success in spite of the very unpleasant weather. The hall radiated an atmosphere of the approaching Christmas season, as each table was arched with evergreens, interlaced with strings of multi-colored lights, adding soft tones throughout the room.

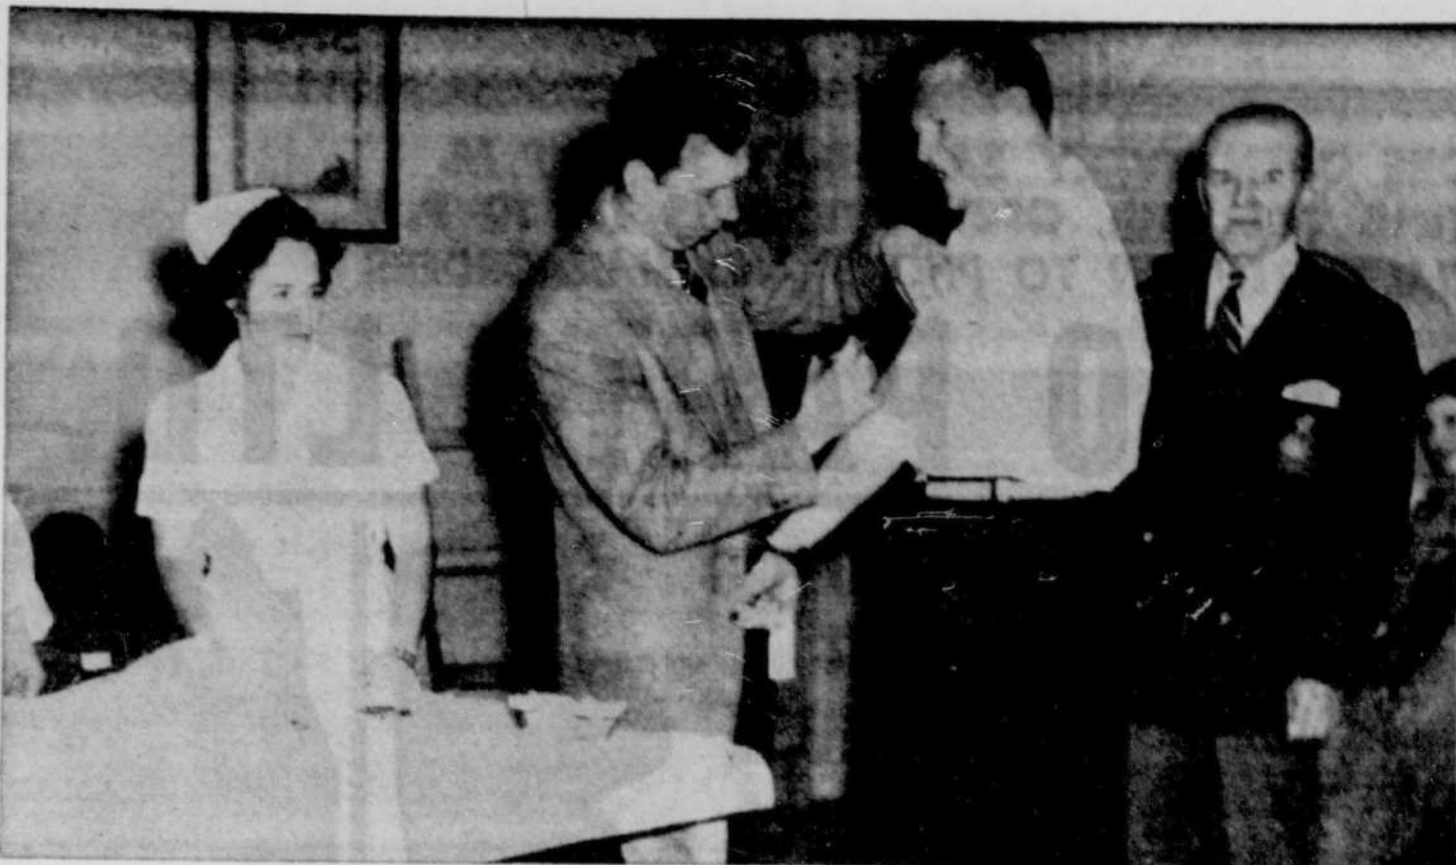

Symbols of the approaching holiday were also evident at the tea table presided over by Mrs. A. W. Seaton and Mrs. Keith, and at the small tables where the guests were served a chicken patty tea, the president was assisted in serving by Misses Judy Stafford, Bonnie Lyford, and Elizabeth Piercy.

A sale table sponsored by the Young Mothers' Club, with Mrs. Mearl Whipple, and Mrs. Ronald Piercy in charge, featured children's clothing. The apron and novelty table was in charge of Mrs. Howard Gale and Mrs. W. Robinson. The sale of home cooking, jellies and jams, was in charge of Mrs. J. B. Robinson, and Mrs. A. H. Slack, and added a gratifying sum to the treasury.

As always the candy and mystery parcel table, at which Mrs. M. Gibson, and Mrs. Stuart Taylor presided, proved a decided attraction for the younger guests, and soon the last bag of candy and the final mystery parcel had found a customer and shop was closed for the day.

Much credit is due the president, Mrs. E. J. Astbury, and Mrs. L. O. Piercy, who took charge of all decorating, as well as forming a committee to decide on the menu, and to make the necessary arrangements.

To all who helped in any capacity, by serving or by furnishing food or articles for sale, go the grateful thanks of the com-

GENERAL NOTES
Miss Julia Leavitt, of New York City, has arrived here to spend an indefinite time with her brother, Mr. M. Leavitt.

Mr. Ray Merrill was taken to the Sherbrooke Hospital for an eye operation.

Mrs. Myrtle Aulis, of St. Bruno, spent the week in town at the home of Mrs. Muriel Mosher.

Rev. and Mrs. A. W. Seaton and Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Johnston were in Hatley to attend the funeral of Mrs. Maude Pelierin.

Mr. E. R. Rousseau has been confined to his room for a few days under the doctor's care.

Mrs. Mearl Whipple spent last week in Montreal, a guest of her sister, Mrs. John Davies, and Mr. Davies.

Mr. John Salls is again a patient in the Sherbrooke Hospital.

Ladies' Aid Of Stanstead South Holds Meeting

ROCK ISLAND — Stanstead South Ladies Aid met in the Church Hall for the annual Christmas party. The president, Mrs. Harry Smith, presided.

Several Christmas carols were sung, accompanied by Mrs. A. P. Bliss, and the Scripture story of the Birth of Christ was read by Mrs. Smith.

trimmed Christmas tree were several nicely wrapped gifts to be used for filling Christmas baskets for the shut-ins of the church.

At the supper hour the group was joined by a large number of friends for a hot casserole supper. A special cake decorated in white and centered with a large white candle surrounded with small red candles was brought in to mark the Birthday of Christ. The group sang, Silent Night.

The next meeting will be on January 6 in the Church Hall.

SWEETSBURG — Mr. René Pepin is improving since his return from hospital in Montreal.

Joint Meeting Of W. A. And W.M.S. At Kingsbury

KINGSBURY — The W.A. and W.M.S. met at the home of Miss Marion Kerr, who conducted the worship service. Portions of Scripture were read by Mrs. E. Crack. Mrs. G. Frank and Mrs. Robert Kerr, and Christmas carols were sung.

Miss Kerr read some excerpt from missionaries reporting. Miss C. Ward read a condensed sermon of Harry Emerson Tosdick's, No Room in the Inn; and she also told a story, The Visit of the Christ Child. Mrs. Kerr read an article on temperance.

Officers were elected as follows:

For the W.M.S., President, Miss Marion Kerr; vice-president, Mrs. R. Frank; secretary, Mrs. E. Crack; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. R. G. Frank; Christian stewardship, Mrs. G. Frank; community friendship secretary, Mrs. G. O. Malboeuf; literature secretary, Mrs. Elmer Crack, all re-elected; temperance secretary, Miss Carrie Ward; supply secretary, Miss Marion Kerr; missionary monthly secretary, Mrs. A. McMorine; associate secretary, Miss Carrie Ward; press secretary, Mrs. G. O. Malboeuf, all re-elected; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Elmer Crack.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. G. O. Malboeuf, on January 14.

As the W.A. president, Mrs. G. O. Malboeuf, was unable to be present, Mrs. G. Frank conducted the meeting.

The W.A. decided to disband since conditions warrant no further need for its work in this little village.

Each member is asked to send a card to Miss Joan Frank, R.N., Kitimat Hospital, Kitimat, B.C. care of Aluminum Co. of Canada, to thank her for past favors, which were greatly appreciated.

Mrs. G. O. Malboeuf reported that there were 30 cards sent out, one institution call, five calls and five hospital calls made to shut-ins in December.

Home calls made during the year to shut-ins numbers 182; cards sent, 405, institution calls, seven and other calls 27.

Lunch was served by the hostess.

GENERAL NOTES
Mrs. G. O. Malboeuf's piano recital at the Legion Hall in Richmond was a great success.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Beliveau, of St. Hyacinthe, were guests of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Malboeuf.

SOUTH BOLTON — Mrs. Etta Plim entertained the W.I. at her home. The ladies will meet again at Mrs. Frank Willey's in the afternoon of December 17th, to prepare candy bags for the young children in the neighbourhood. Mrs. Willey will also have the January meeting at her home. Tea was served.

Capt. Carl Sabinsky left for Quebec City recently to take over command of his new ship. He will be away from home for about a year.

Mr. Colin Aiken underwent surgery in the Sweetsburg Hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Willis Willey and Mrs. William Burnham visited him there and accompanied him home.

Mrs. Hamelin and Miss Debbie

Hamelin of Mansonville, were guests of Mrs. Willey.

Two cars collided near Randall's Bobbin Mill. No one was hurt, but Mr. Labranch, and Mr. Lamoreaux both had considerable damage done to their cars.

Word comes from Mrs. Fullerton, of Mansonville, that her sister-in-law, Mrs. Lindsay, whose girl-hood days were spent in Bolton Centre was married to Mr. Rollin Richmond, of Worcester, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Garth Durrell drove Rev. E. F. Macklin to Montreal whence he embarked for England.

Mrs. Frances Scruton recently spent a few days in Burlington, Vt.

Art Exhibit, Closing Exercises Of Adult Education Class At Waterloo

WATERLOO.—The final evening of the Adult Education class was held on Tuesday, December 2 in the High School. Members and friends inspected the work accomplished during the past nine weeks which was displayed in the classrooms.

The Art Exhibit created great interest. This class of 27 under the direction of Mrs. Robert Flood had an amazing number of canvases on display. In the hall used as an art gallery were some of the better paintings shown on easels, and the art room was filled with rows of paintings and drawings. The public spent a large part of the social hour inspecting and admiring these works.

The official closing itself took place in the Charles Slack auditorium. The chairman, Allen McKergow, president of the Waterloo Public Library, welcomed the assembly. Mr. McKergow mentioned how the membership had increased from 1957 with around 100 now enrolled. It is hoped for an even greater increase in 1959. New classes were added this year and many suggestions for classes next year have been sent in.

An amusing skit was presented under the direction of Mrs. M. MacIntosh, instructor for the beginners' English class. Those on the cast, led by Andre Fournier, made a brave attempt to describe in English a Christmas shopping tour. The cast included Miss Lisette Mackinnon, Andre Lavallee, Miss Monique Dumas and Andre Fournier.

John Black, speaking for Bob Millinchamp, who was absent, showed the work his class had done in carpentry and the refinishing of wood.

Bill Atkinson, member of the advanced French class, spoke fluently in French and English, thanking Mrs. Godbout for her efforts as instructor. Mr. Atkinson said this gracious lady had been a great help to her class, not only with the French language but towards a better appreciation of the French people.

Vernon Graves had a bridge class of 19 members, who were keen on better bridge. He thanked Allen McKergow and Mr. Barcelo who were also teachers in this class.

Mrs. Robert Flood gave a splendid account of her art class which she had divided into two groups, beginners and advanced. Each of the ten lessons followed a definite pattern, every pupil was given home work and the progress was most marked.

Next year's class is to be planned in advance, with supplies ready so that the first lesson will show results. The number of pupils is to be restricted so that the instructor can give necessary individual attention.

Mrs. Flood closed with remarks addressed to her class, urging them not to be afraid to work alone, even though the weeks with their teacher were over. She stressed that results of their efforts together were a better understanding and consequently better citizenship.

The chairman gave out gift certificates to the following instructors who had so generously devoted their time to this project: Mrs. Emilienne Godbout, advanced French; Mrs. Pauline Boulay, intermediate French; Miss Jeanne Larose, beginners' French; Mrs. Gerry MacIntosh, beginners' English; Mrs. Frances Flood, art; Doug Irwin, driving; Vernon Graves, bridge; John Black, woodworking.

Mr. McKergow drew attention to one of the most interesting classes, Mind Your Own Business, which had had eight speakers. He thanked them for their help, even if they were not remembered with gift certificates. They are: Orrin Rexford, Fernand Bouchard, A. J. Buckland, Bill Atkinson, Wes Parkes, Andre Plante and Heward Graftey.

Rev. Paul Busing thanked everyone who had assisted in the Adult Education program.

At the close of the evening lunch was served to the group.

W. A. REVIEW

The annual meeting of St. Luke's W.A. was held in the church hall, preceding the meeting a Corporate Communion for St. Andrew's Day was celebrated in St. Luke's for the members, Rev. Paul Busing officiating.

Mrs. Alice Buckland, president, took the chair for the meeting and Mrs. S. McKergow, secretary, gave the annual report.

The membership for the past year was 22 with an average attendance of 14. In February this branch was represented by four at the deanery meeting at the Anglican House in Montreal. The branch joined in the World's Day of Prayer in St. Paul's United Church on February 21.

In May, Mrs. Dorey of Montreal showed slides on Japan to a large group. The June meeting was in the form of a party at the home of Mrs. Gerald Martin at which 48 ladies were present. In June, also, the W.A. was responsible for a food table and variety table at the Street Fair.

On September 25 the members helped St. Hilda's Guild with a supper for 100 laymen of the deanery.

During the winter chapters of the study book, He Cares, were read and discussed at the meetings. Local social service problems were especially stressed.

The treasurer, Mrs. C. Robinson, gave the financial report which showed a splendid year and a satisfactory balance after all apportionments had been met.

Rev. Busing thanked the retiring officers for their excellent year in which great interest by everyone had been shown in the work. He commended the members for their enthusiasm and their plans for an even larger society for 1959. He then called upon the nominating committee under the convenship of Mrs. W. Graves to give its report. Mrs. Graves announced the slate of officers as follows: Mrs. Busing, president; Mrs. MacIntosh, secretary, and Mrs. McKergow, treasurer.

Mrs. Busing as the new president carried on the business of the day.

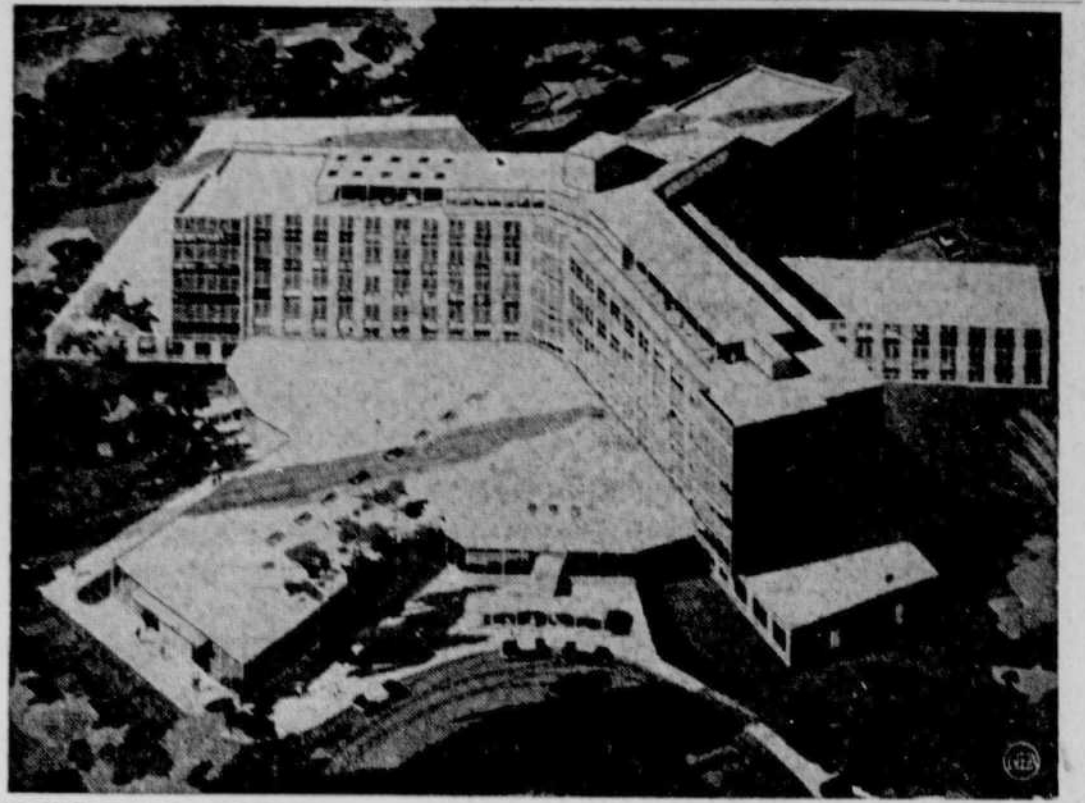

Mrs. Doreen Osborne summarized another chapter of the study book and an informal discussion followed at the tea which was served by the hostesses, Mrs. McKenna and Mrs. Streeter.

Y.P.U. TURKEY SUPPER

The Young People's Union of the United Church ventured for the first time a turkey supper on Thursday night when these courageous youngsters were hosts to a large crowd. The supper was served in cafeteria style in the church hall of St. Paul's.

The women of the church helped the children by cooking the turkeys and assisting with other baking; otherwise they organized and carried out this event under their own initiative. A satisfactory amount was realized.

The Y.P.U. has a membership of 11 teenagers under the presidency of Norman Emmett. The members are Roger Dobson, Allan Vanters, Charles Boomhour, Greig Lambert, Georgia Bailey, Marleen Moore, Shirley NUCLEAR-AGE HOSPITAL — Protection for patients in an atomic attack is designed into the hospital shown in drawing above. Being planned for Livingston, N.J., the 650-bed St. Barnabas Medical Center would have its own deep wells for water. Operating rooms and special facilities would be on a reinforced shelter level underground. Space for convalescent wards and offices is designed for floors above the ground. The 10-million-dollar structure waits on an appropriation by the new Congress.

Insane French Theatrical Brew Proves Intoxicating For New York Theatregoers

By JOSEPH MacSWEEN

NEW YORK (CP) — Broadway is tasting an insane theatrical brew from Paris.

It's named La Plume de ma Tante. Some call it vaudeville. Some call it musical revue. Some say it's both, with a Gallic touch. Agents call it the "hottest ticket in town." It arrived as an unknown quantity with no advance sales, then boomed as the critics raved. Advance sales may total $1,000,000 before Christmas.

BLAME ACCEPTED

Robert Dhery, youthful author, director and star of La Plume, is perfectly willing to take the blame for the wise-wacky production. Wearing the mock-mourful expression of the comic, he says: "My father always said my levity would get me somewhere, but he didn't mean this. He sent me to school in England to cultivate a serious turn of mind, but it didn't come off. I found the English just as crazy as me."

The title La Plume de ma Tante is merely a nonsensical fragment from a child's riting exercise that says the pen of my aunt is on the table. The production has few words, but much pantomime.

Some playgoers see in "La Plume" a revival of long-dead vaudeville. Dhery's sight-gags lose in the telling, but here are samples:

A baritone clad in a yellow rain-slicker sits on a dappled grey horse and sings mightily apropos of nothing. The horse yawns prodigiously all the time.

Four grave monks tugging on bell ropes get caught up in a jazzy version of an old nursery rhyme and soon are swinging high, their cassocks flying, in a joyous maypole dance.

CAST UNKNOWN

The cast of 24 is mostly French and unknown on this side of the Atlantic but it includes such unexpected members as Ross Parker, who wrote There'll Always Be an England, Parker was "kidnapped" by Dhery as a comic after helping with English lyrics.

Dhery, 37, manages to convey the idea during the show that he has lost control of the performers and strives hopelessly to restore some sanity to the proceedings.

Dhery's wife — comedienne Colette Broset — burlesques as a striptease artist who can't find her zippers.

In contrast with their slaphappy stage ways, Robert and Colette were subdued and serious when they were interviewed later. Colette was preparing for the arrival from Paris of their 10-year-old daughter, Catherine.

CANADIAN THEATRE

Sipping champagne, they turned the tables on a reporter—firing questions about Canada and the development of theatre there.

"We hope to see more theatrical exchange between France and Canada as the years go on," said Dhery. "We'd like to make a contribution to this exchange."

"Perhaps 'La Plume' will go to Canada, although it appears now that we'll be playing Broadway for a long time."

"We were successful already in Paris and London but success here is like the country itself—it's bigger."

Dhery was a movie director at 27, the youngest in France, and has appeared in 20 movies and numerous plays. At one time he was directing 11 plays at once and also acting in one.

"On my day off I'd ride around Paris on my bicycle checking up on the plays," Dhery recalled.

Three Villages Happenings

Miss Sharleen Bowen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bowen, Rock Island, underwent an appendectomy at the Sherbrooke Hospital.

The Rock Island fire department were called to Sunnyside school to extinguish a small fire, when one of the portable oil heaters being used in the new addition for the purpose of drying mortar, exploded. There was little damage done.

Mrs. Claud Farrell, of Bolton Centre, is a guest at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Gladys Hunter, Rock Island, until after the holidays.

John Lees of the Canadian Navy has returned to his base at Halifax, N.S., after a 16-day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lees, Rock Island.

Mrs. Horace Alex, Beebe, is spending a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Webster, and family, Derby Line.

Miss Carol Young, Stanstead, is a patient under observation in the Sherbrooke Hospital.

Miss Faye Channell, Montreal, is at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hector Channell, Stanstead, recuperating from an illness.

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Holland, Derby Line, have left to spend a few days at the home of their daughter and family in Hamilton, Ont., with Mrs. Holland's mother in Athol, Mass., and Christmas with their son and family, in Cincinnati, O., and the remainder of the winter at Bradenton, Fla.

Mrs. Percy Baldwin, Stanstead, is spending an indefinite time at the home of her daughter and family, in Tomah, Wis.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Ellis, Rock Island, were in Newport to attend the funeral of Miss Inez Miller, Mrs. Ellis' sister, Miss Ethel Laberee, was a companion of Miss Miller for the past several years.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hutchins and family, of Georgeville, were guests at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Parker and Carl, Stanstead.

TOUGH CUSTOMER

STEPHENVILLE, Nfld. (CP)—Salesman Tom Cody thought he might avoid the moose on the roadway in a snowstorm until the animal darted towards his car and smashed the windshield. The moose then stood around for 20 minutes until new traffic forced him into the woods.

Turkish Reformer Still Lives In People's Hearts

ISTANBUL (Reuters) — Mustafa Kemal Ataturk, founder of modern Turkey, is as vigorously alive in the hearts of Turks today, 20 years after his death, as the reforms he achieved.

The savior of Turkey, the founder of the republic, the matchless leader — all are titles by which he is known among the Turks, young and old.

On Nov. 10, 1938, Ataturk died at Dolmabahce Palace in Istanbul. Never before perhaps did a whole people weep so bitterly or so sincerely for a leader lost.

Mustafa Kemal, an army officer, after the First World War drove the invading Greek Army back to the sea at Izmir, in western Turkey, and created a new republic from the ruins of the Ottoman Empire.

Thereafter, he changed the face of Turkey. He taught Turks to wear Western clothes, including a hat instead of the fez. He changed the whole Arabic alphabet to Latin letters, accepted modern laws and abolished old ones, such as the one permitting men to have four wives.

Ataturk's reforms made Turkey a Western nation.

ELK HARVEST

CARDSTON, Alta. (CP)—About 400 elk in the Waterton Lakes National Park will be slaughtered by park wardens and rangers this winter, to reduce over-population in the park herd.

HARD EXISTENCE

DAWSON CREEK, B.C. (CP)—An Indian woman was sentenced to 30 days in jail for vagrancy here, after she was found living in the city dump, existing on scraps of food.

SHE HAS HER HANDS FULL... FULL OF VALUES!

TODAY'S FOOD SHOPPER gets more value in more food products than ever before. Supplying her increasing needs and satisfying her love of values is one of the biggest jobs in the country. Yet the nation's $47 billion food distribution business does it daily and does it well.

This year an important segment of the industry marks a milestone in its history. The National Association of Food Chains—a group of 240 companies that operate 12,000 food stores and super markets in the U. S., Canada and other countries—celebrates its 25th year as a vital link between producer and consumer.

Your daily newspaper hails the NAFC for its fine contribution to our high standard of living. Through better methods of warehousing and marketing, the NAFC's members and other food firms offer shoppers the highest values consistent with costs.

Because they must move tons of merchandise rapidly, food retailers invest 80 to 90% of their advertising budgets in the daily newspaper. They know that the newspaper, with its daily coverage of food news and features, and its advertising effectiveness, is a natural and vital link to you, their valued customer.

ATOMIC ERA LANDMARK — Sixteen years after the first controlled nuclear reaction was achieved at the University of Chicago in December, 1942, a new type of "package" reactor has been dedicated at Idaho. Known as the Argonne Low Power Reactor, it is the prototype of a power source for remote military installations. Use of air for cooling instead of water makes it adaptable for isolated, water-limited areas. It will operate for three years without refueling and is easily portable by cargo planes. The Idaho Falls installation, designed by Argonne National Laboratory for the Atomic Energy Commission, will be used to operate radar equipment and to train personnel.
