MACARTHUR REPORTS TODAY TO CONGRESS

World News In Brief

New Delhi, April 19.—(AP)—Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru, a leader in efforts to end hostilities in Korea, said today he has no information indicating the possibility of early peace talks.

He was commenting in an interview on reports from United Nations headquarters in New York that hopes for peace talks had been aroused by President Truman's dismissal of Gen. Douglas MacArthur as supreme commander in the Pacific.

Some sources have said the dismissal might have been an indication of American willingness to sit down at a conference table with Red China, but Nehru said "we have no such information."

Sendai, Japan, April 19.—(AP)—Lt.-Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, new United Nations commander, warned today that the United States is "under imminent threat of war."

On his first inspection trip as supreme commander, Ridgway told a regiment of the newly-arrived 10th division: "To all intents and purposes you're here in war."
"We stand under the imminent threat of war which can be unleashed at the time and place of choosing of other people."

Taipei, Formosa, April 19.—(AP)—Chinese nationalist reports today said more than 1,000 Chinese Red army recruits revolted March 25 and killed more than 400 Reds.

The recruits, reported en route to Korea, rebelled at Patpo, 125 miles north of Canton, they then joined nationalist guerrilla forces.

Vatican City, April 19.—(AP)—Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh visited St. Peter's Basilica today.

They were met at the door by Msgr. Ludovico Kaas, secretary of the congregation that has charge of the Basilica building. He served as guide for the Royal party.

The Princess and the Duke paused a moment at the tomb of the Stuarts, which contains the remains of James III, Charles Edward Stuart and Henry Cardinal Stuart, who was King of Great Britain, France and Ireland.

Montreal, April 19.—(AP)—Kenneth E. Pierce, national president of the Association of Kinsmen Clubs, died yesterday. He was in his 37th year and had been in poor health for several months.

He was born and educated in Moncton, N.B., and at the time of his death was general credit manager of the Dominion Rubber Company.

Retirement, Switch Alter House Of Commons Standing

Ottawa, April 19.—(AP)—The Liberal party, after losing one supporter in the House of Commons yesterday, was immediately offered the full support of a man elected as an Independent Liberal.

Ralph Maybank (L.—Winnipeg South Centre), due to return to his private law practice in Winnipeg, said "farewell" to the Chamber.

"This will be my last appearance in this House," said the 60-year-old Mr. Maybank who has served as Parliamentary assistant to the Ministers of Health, Mines and Technical Surveys, and Resources and Development. He entered the Commons in 1932.

Later, Herve Rousseau, elected as Independent Liberal for the Quebec constituency of Rimouski in a by-election last October, said that he will fully support the government.

In the by-election, Mr. Rousseau defeated the official Liberal candidate. He did not refer to that fact, but said he has been fighting for the Liberal party for the last fifty years.

It was learned that Mr. Rousseau's speech does not mean that he will be automatically accepted into the Liberal fold. He first must make peace with the Liberal party's organization in his constituency. Once that is done he will be invited to attend Liberal party caucus. The invitation will indicate his acceptance into the Liberal party.

At the same time it was learned that Edgar Leduc, elected as Independent member for Montreal Jacques Cartier in a 1949 by-election, has made peace with the Liberal organization in his constituency and has been invited to party caucus. Like Mr. Rousseau, he defeated an official Liberal candidate in a by-election.

Vociferous Welcome Given To Deposed Commander On First Visit To Capital

Death Claims U.S. Senator Vandenberg

Grand Rapids, Mich., April 19.—(AP)—Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, one of the United States' most-respected statesmen, died last night. He was 67.

The Michigan Republican, a foreign-policy expert whose advice was sought by the heads of both major parties, died in his sleep after several years of illness. He had undergone several major operations in the last two years.

Vandenberg's death meant the loss of one of the founders of the United Nations and one of Congress' foremost advocates of a bipartisan, unified foreign policy in the cold war with Russia.

It also undoubtedly meant a gain for the Democrats in the Senate. It falls to Michigan's Democratic Governor, G. Mennen Williams, to name a successor to Vandenberg, whose career spanned 23 years in Congress.

With Vandenberg's death the Democratic majority in the Senate became 49 to 46. The expected Democratic appointment will make it 50 to 46.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday from the Park Congregational Church here.

With the Senator's death was disclosed a story of his self-sacrifice in the country's interests.

Vandenberg's family disclosed that he had had a heart ailment for 25 years and that he postponed a necessary lung operation for a year in October, 1948.

He insisted, said his son, Arthur H. Vandenberg, Jr., that "his health was of far less importance than his attention to the affairs of government."

At Vandenberg's bedside were the son, who flew from Brazil, and two daughters. His wife died in 1950.

Senator Tom Connally, of Texas, Democratic head of the foreign relations committee, said Vandenberg "rendered distinguished service to the nation in the cause of international peace and international co-operation."

His Republican colleague from Michigan, Senator Homer Ferguson, said Vandenberg "leaves us at a time when his statesmanship, his wisdom and his leadership would have been of such infinite value to the Senate."

Mr. Maybank's Winnipeg seat will not become officially vacant until he sends his resignation to Speaker Ross Macdonald, of the Commons. A. L. Smith, Progressive Conservative member for Calgary West, left the Commons several weeks ago to return to private law practice. He has not yet sent in his resignation.

Still counting Mr. Maybank among the Liberals, Mr. Smith among the Progressive Conservatives, and providing for the switch by Mr. Leduc, the current Commons standing is: Liberals 186; Progressive Conservatives 42; C.C.F. 13; Social Credit 10; Independent four; Independent Liberal four; vacant three; total 262.

The vacancies, all caused by deaths of the sitting members, are in the Prince Edward Island constituency of Quebec, the Manitoba constituency of Brandon and the Ontario constituency of Waterloo South.

Mr. Maybank and Mr. Rousseau spoke during continued debate on the budget. The debate allows members to touch on almost any given subject.

Other speakers included Earl Catherwood (P.C.—Haldimand) and Robert Fair (S.C.—Battle River). They called attention to the farmer's position in Canada's economic life and asked that he be given a better break.

General Declares He Has No Political Aspirations, Will Not Run For Office.

By JACK BELL

Washington, April 19.—(AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur today mixed disclaimer of political ambitions with his call for greater efforts to defeat communism.

MacArthur, who landed in the small hours of the morning to a vociferous welcome, outlines to Congress his theory of how to win the war in Korea and prevent the Reds from grabbing more of Asia.

Rain threatened to dampen the capital's welcome to Gen. MacArthur as the former Far East commander prepared to outline his views.

These views — which brought his dismissal as supreme allied commander in the Korean fighting — came in for a final polishing after the General and Mrs. MacArthur had breakfast in their hotel suite.

Col. Sidney Huff, a member of MacArthur's staff, told reporters the General's wife was helping him with the finishing touches of the speech. Huff said he doubted the MacArthurs would receive any visitors during the morning, or at least until the speech was finished.

Maj.-Gen. Courtney Whitney, the General's adviser, told reporters that the speech will be a general review of the Far-Eastern situation which might go back half a century.

Asked whether the State or Defense departments had asked to clear the speech, Whitney replied: "No comment."

Despite the death last night of Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg (Rep. Mich.), chief congressional architect of the bipartisan foreign policy, Senate and House of Representatives leaders planned to hear MacArthur on schedule.

MacArthur, stripped of his Pacific command by President Truman, landed at Washington National Airport at 12:31 a.m. EST.

Top brass of all services were there to greet him. Truman was represented by his aide, Maj.-Gen. Harry Vaughan.

Yesterday the President avoided all direct questions about a possible meeting with the General. He said the General will have to ask for any conference.

Whitney said later that MacArthur has received no invitation to the White House and has no plans to seek one.

Before he left San Francisco yesterday MacArthur said he has no political ambitions.

The casual pronouncement climaxed a roaring San Francisco welcome to the General, who had stepped on the American continent for the first time since 1937.

His wife and 13-year-old son, Arthur, accompany him. The General said: "I have no political aspirations whatsoever. I do not intend to run for any political office."

Senator Robert Taft of Ohio, a possible 1952 Republican Presidential candidate, was obviously pleased by the statement. He declined comment.

MacArthur's friends predicted that the General will pass over without special emphasis his personal differences with the President, and present his views on the Korean war and communist aggression in Asia.

MacArthur has contended that the United Nations commander in Korea should be permitted to bomb Chinese communist bases in Manchuria.

He has urged that some use be made of Chinese nationalists on Formosa—ordered neutralized by the President.

Truman has said that such action is likely to involve the United States in a third world war.

Robertson Denies Bombing Claim

Tokyo, April 19.—(Reuters)—Lt.-Gen. Sir Horace Robertson, British Commonwealth commander in Korea, denied today that he had even supported a proposal to bomb Manchuria or expand the Korean war.

(An informant who demanded anonymity today reported the top Commonwealth military officer in Japan voiced support for Gen. Douglas MacArthur's proposal to bomb Red Chinese bases in Manchuria.)

Gen. Robertson, an Australian, said his denial referred to newspaper reports of an off-the-record press conference he held April 10, the day before President Truman fired MacArthur.

Canada Will Get Report About China

By DOUGLAS HOW
Ottawa Press Staff Writer

Ottawa, April 19.—(AP)—Home for the first time in five years, a Canadian diplomat will report to External Affairs headquarters Friday on what's going on in communist China. It may be the last such report for a long time to come.

But the public will know little or nothing of what Chester A. Ronning has to say. The department, for the time being at least, has ruled out interviews or statements on China by the former Camrose, Alta., school teacher.

This policy of public silence is part of a general tendency to refrain from official statements which might make it tougher for Canadians still in China, some of them imprisoned.

Mr. Ronning, middle-aged teacher-turned-diplomat, reached San Francisco this week from Hong Kong and is coming here by train. He will report to External Affairs Minister Pearson and other officials.

He has spent the last five years at Nanking, first as a member of Canada's diplomatic staff accredited to the nationalist government, finally as officer in charge of the mission which stayed in Nanking when the Reds took over and transferred the capital to Peking.

The mission, never recognized by the Reds, has been closed out. Mr. Ronning is the last of its Canadian staff.

Hwachon Reservoir Area Falls To U.N. Troops

By OLEN CLEMENTS
Tokyo, April 19.—(AP)—Thousands of allied troops poured into the newly-captured Hwachon power-dam and reservoir area today on the heels of retreating Reds.

Chinese communist troops pulled back suddenly from the big power plant yesterday after defending it stubbornly for days.

The Reds opened the floodgates a week ago in a futile effort to trap United Nations' troops in the Pukhan river gorge.

Allies found eight of the dam's 18 floodgates still open. An American officer said the machinery that operates the gates appeared unworkable.

The dam, 880 feet long and 250 feet high, backs up water for 11 miles.

Allied troops entered Hwachon at the west end of the reservoir without a fight. They captured Yanggu on the eastern end Monday.

On the western front, a tanked allied patrol stabbed within two miles of Chorwon, 47 air miles inside North Korea. Then it turned back to its own lines.

Another column rumbled to the vicinity of Chigoyong, southeast of Chorwon and 16 air miles inside Red Korea.

More than 150 families were evacuated by boat from Gatineau Point, at the junction of the Ottawa and Gatineau Rivers near Ottawa, when the rivers spilled their banks. The Ottawa reached its highest level in many years. (C) Photo

No Word Has Been Heard From Affray

Portsmouth, England, April 19.—(AP)—Long silence from the bottom of the English Channel cut all practical hope today for the rescue of 75 men entombed in the lost British submarine Affray.

The British Admiralty said that it had received no reports to justify hopes that the men might still be found alive.

Admiralty experts said the submarine's oxygen supply had been enough for only 48 hours—a deadline that was passed at 8:15 p.m. (3:15 p.m. E.S.T.) yesterday. It was exactly two days earlier that the big submarine dived on maneuvers to the bottom in 200 feet of water.

The Admiralty said the hunt would go on. An armada of 34 ships prowled over the Channel surface this morning, searching for some sign that would pinpoint the Affray. Vessels swept the bottom with a dragnet of chains.

Faint underwater telegraphic tappings heard yesterday have not been received since.

But the Admiralty said it was confident the search was in the right spot—southwest of the Isle of Wight, 40 to 50 miles from Portsmouth. The Affray sent a signal from there Monday night to report it was about to make a practice dive. It was to surface Tuesday morning to report again. The all-clear signal never came.

The search, which got underway immediately after the Affray failed to report, has been a heart-breaking effort for more than 2,000 rescue workers.

There was one moment of high hope late yesterday afternoon. An airplane radioed it had spotted two objects—one yellow and one white. It dropped a sea flare near the spot. The yellow object was a pine-wood packing case. The white object appeared to be a dead fish.

Cool Weather Will Reduce Flood Threat

Ottawa, April 19.—(AP)—The weather picture in the Ottawa river valley was cloudy and cool today and many people hoped this gloomy atmospheric condition would persist for a couple of weeks at least.

They want to-escape the predicted "real" Ottawa flood. The high water which started last week has been called only "advance notice" although levels are higher than any time since 1909.

The flood has caused at least 50 families to be evacuated from Gatineau Point, five miles northeast of Ottawa, and hundreds of other persons have been forced to move from lower to upper storeys in a dozen Ottawa valley communities. Lumber mills have been closed down.

Ottawa waterworks commissioner W. E. Macdonald reported northern waters have not reached the Ottawa area. He said there usually is a gap of 10 days between the rush of water from the local watershed and that from the northern headquarters of the Gatineau and Ottawa rivers.

The Ottawa possibility of averting a major rush of water would be a continuation of the present cool spell, allowing present high levels to drain off before a new surge came.

Pacific Pact Gets Backing From Truman

By EDWARD E. BOMAR
Washington, April 19.—(AP)—The United States has laid down a three-point "program of action" designed to combat communism in Asia and protect the Pacific islands.

The plan was outlined yesterday by President Truman. In filling in detail last night, State Secretary Dean Acheson used "a steadfast course in Korea" and rejected any idea of extending the conflict there.

Acheson made this plea on the eve of the arrival of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, relieved of his Pacific commands when the President decided the General's policy views were not in accord with his own.

Acheson, in a speech of the Women's National Press Club, said that any widening of the Korean fighting will be the responsibility of the Kremlin and Red China.

"The American people will never choose this course," he said. "They will not fall into the trap of seeming to choose it." To extend the fighting would "gravely imperil world peace."

The projected Far-Eastern program called for:

1. A probable defence "arrangement" among the U.S., Australia and New Zealand. Truman had directed Acheson, Defence Secretary George C. Marshall and Ambassador John Foster Dulles to continue negotiations in this direction while working out a Japanese peace treaty.

The President said the agreement will be modelled on the North Atlantic pact pledge to regard an attack on the country as an attack on all.

2. Increased efforts to help Asian countries strengthen their independence and achieve relief from poverty.

3. Continuing determination to punish aggression in Korea.

Sydney, April 19.—(AP)—Australian papers today gave banner headlines to President Truman's announcement that the United States, Australia and New Zealand are moving toward a Pacific defence alliance.

The Sydney Daily Mirror devotes six columns to Truman's announcement between sketches of the American and Australian flags, the newspaper placed big headlines reading: "Pacific pact plan ready—Truman seeks early agreement with Australia."

The minister of external affairs, Percy C. Spender, issued this statement:

"This is the green light on the road to Pacific security. . . . The President's announcement reflects the most important single development in our foreign relations since the war."

The Daily Mirror says in an editorial that the announcement "begins a new era in Australian history."

Newsprint In Canada Comes Under Government Control

Ottawa, April 19.—(AP)—Canada, with the world clamoring for her newsprint, took an initial step yesterday to prepare for a more balanced international distribution of her huge production.

In a move unprecedented in peacetime, newsprint and mechanical and chemical pulps were declared essential materials. The defence production department was empowered to bring them under government control.

R. M. Fowler, 45-year-old president of the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association, was named director of a newly-formed departmental branch which will have authority to regulate and control exports.

Two of his associates, F. L. Mitchell, 55, and J. M. Smith, 29, will join him in the new branch. Mr. Mitchell was deputy pulp and paper co-ordinator in the second world war.

The next major step in meeting the appeal for more newsprint from such countries as Britain and France will be up to a 10-country international pulp and paper committee now being set up in Washington.

Canada will be a member of that group, part of an International Materials Conference considering emergency allocations of materials to meet the needs of rearming democracies.

However, officials noted that any recommendation by this committee to rechannel Canadian supplies likely will be at the expense of United States customers.

Canada, which produced about 5,275,000 tons of newsprint last year, likely will boost production slightly this year, bringing her output to the highest level in history.

JACOBY ON CANASTA

HOW TO DOMINATE DISCARD PILE
By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Once your side gets control of the discard pile your primary objective is to retain this control throughout a long and pleasant hand. The opponents will try to break this control, and they have three methods at their disposal. The first method is to meld out and end your picnic. You cannot prevent this, but you don't have to help them. The way most people help them is by taking too many small discard piles once they have established control. This gives the opponents more chance to improve their hands. Remember that as long as the discard pile is not going to get away from you there is no hurry about taking it.

The second way they have to break your control is to freeze the pile. If you rush to meld everything possible, your side will be down to a few cards and the opponents will be able to freeze the pile. Thereupon you will not take the discard pile any more than hand.

When you have control of the discard pile you should hold up your meldable cards until the opponents are about to go out. Once they appear to be close to out you should get your melds down. The party is over and you want to score what you can.

The third defense is for one of the opponents to grab the discard pile. If you and your partner play carefully there is very little chance of this happening. When it does, they have disrupted your squeeze.

Q—What is meant by melds "of the same rank" in the official laws? I am told that you cannot make separate melds in the same rank but this is not clear to me.

A—Cards of the same rank are those that bear the same number or the same picture. For example, all kings are of the same rank, or all pines, and so on. A seven and a six are of two different ranks. The meaning of the law is that you cannot have two separate melds of kings (for example). If you accidentally put down a meld of three kings when you already have a meld of kings on the table, you must add the two melds together and make them a combined meld.

Copies of the "1951 International Laws Of Canasta," by Oswald Jacoby, may be obtained by sending 15c to The Sherbrooke Daily Record or calling in at the Office, 69 Wellington St. North.

HOLLYWOOD STARS BEING TOLD TO KEEP OUT OF MISCHIEF

Hollywood—Exclusively Yours: Hollywood's "movies-are-getting-better-than-ever" campaign has a hush-hush follow-up—movie stars must be better than ever.

Off screen, that is. Waving morality clauses in studio contracts, Hollywood's own legion of decency is on the march to corral the screen's "lost dignity." All of the major studios quietly have advised contract stars "to stay out of the headlines" and "act like normal human beings."

Two threats of breaking contracts for morality reasons already have been made.

Janet Leigh denies it and Gloria De Haven denies it, but insiders insist there was friction between them during the making of "Two Tickets to Broadway." Two of Janet's songs were given to Gloria.

There's a touchy theme to the new Joseph Bernhard-Anson Bond picture, "East Is East." It's all about a GI who brings home a Japanese war bride, Shirley Yamaguchi, Nippon's Betty Grable, will star.

Janet Gaynor had two picture offers following her radio version of "Seventh Heaven" with Charles Farrell. But she still insists she's not interested in returning to the screen.

Sign outside Gig Young's dressing room after a long love scene with Virginia Grey: "Temporarily Out of Ardor."

That 30-year contract Milton Berle just signed with NBC, says Alan Wilson, will never work out. There just isn't that much material around for him to steal.

As Irene Ryan sees it: "Men always make passes at girls who drain glasses."

Hedy Lamarr heads for Europe soon on a "combined business and pleasure trip." . . . Preston Sturges is writing a book, "The Care and Feeding of Creditors." . . . Ellen Drew's TV debut in "Hollywood Reel" gave her the bug. Now she'll star in the half-hour video film, "Crossroad."

Eleanor Powell will stay home in Hollywood with their son while Glenn Ford goes to France next month to star in "The White Road." Glenn calls it his most suspenseful film since "Gilda." The same heavy, George Macready, will chase him all over France.

The Freddie Bartholomews are celebrating their fifth wedding anniversary. . . . New title for U.S. "The Real McCoy" will be "Coming 'Round the Mountain," borrowed from Dorothy Shay's album. She makes her film debut in the picture.

Danielle Darrieux will be billed over Jane Powell when MGM's "Rich, Young and Pretty" hits the screens in France. She made the studio write it into her contract. Horsing Around

Joyce Holden, on her role of a horse who returns from animal heaven as a human in "One Never Knows"

"All through the picture I speak with a Southern accent. That's because I was a Kentucky thoroughbred. I go around with wisps of hay in my mouth and the fellows at the corner drugstore whinny instead of whistle when I pass by. Whenever I run in the picture, the sound track will go 'clap-clap-clap.'"

"Las Vegas Week-End," featuring Jane Russell and Vic Mature, will be shot on location at the Flamingo Hotel. . . . Ruth Hussey's versatility is the talk of the town. She's hopped from the stage star in "The Royal Family" on Broadway to Jerry Lewis' athletic drama in "That My Boy" to the Mother Mary in a TV religious film.

Switch: Sammy White, who played a bookie in "711 Ocean Drive," now is playing a rabbi in "The Kansas City Story."

Jeanne Crain, the long-hair standout, loses her long mane for her role opposite Cary Grant in

"Dr. Praetorius." After testing her in six wigs, of different lengths, Fox settled on a medium bob. . . . Bob Fallon, who may be Marie Wilson's next hubby, turned down a London movie offer, Marie wouldn't hear of it. . . . June Allyson will play a piano prodigy who rips through Beethoven and Brahms in "Too Young to Kiss."

BRADLEY AND THE EASTERN WAR

General Charles Omer Bradley, chairman of the United States Joint Chiefs of Staff, yesterday came out in support of the thesis that the enlargement of the Korean war would jeopardize world peace.

The general admitted this "could possibly result for a time in a military stalemate. He added:

"As long as we are able to confine the battle to Korea and continue to destroy the Communist aggressors, we are making progress toward our international objective of preventing World War Three."

The hotly-debated subject of expanding military operations in Asia is the vital military issue of the moment. Britain, France and other Western Allies of the United States are dead against such expansion in the Far East — possibly by launching an attack against Red China.

One reason is that this might precipitate a third world war.

Another highly-important point is that a conflict with Communist China would give bolshevism a chance to whittle the western powers down militarily and economically in preparation for a war, which might find Russia and some of her satellites virtually untouched by the Asiatic conflict.

On that basis we might be smart not to play into the hands of bolshevism by launching a "preventive" war against China.

Apropos of this general situation, it is interesting to note that the Red Peiping radio reports the opening of another campaign for world peace on bolshevist terms. This appeal calls for peace talks by five powers — America, Russia, Britain, France and Communist China.

The Red program's proposals have been advanced before, and western observers generally regard the fresh move as a propaganda manoeuvre.

However that may be, our present program in Korea appears to be the one most likely to result in peace proposals in due course. As General Bradley indicates, it's a case of keeping up the good work in Korea and preventing spread of the war if possible.

CANADA CANNOT BE CODIFIED

One of the reasons being advanced for urging amendments to the British North America Act is that such amendments would make possible the establishment of a national labor code. Which leads The Rural Scene to comment:

Presumably, such a code would require uniform minimum wages, hours and working conditions for labor in all parts of Canada, possibly with specified differentials for remote or otherwise handicapped places.

Some parts of Canada have great advantages over others in matters of climate, transportation facilities, proximity to markets, access to sources of supply and such things. Many of these places are already well established as industrial centres and their industries are solidly on their feet.

A labor code that such places could afford, and that would be acceptable to their employees, would be quite impossible for less favored parts.

In spite of any differential these stronger communities might agree to, it would be possible for them to use the code to destroy all weaker competitors and to retard or prevent industrial development in other parts of the country.

The people of any community should be free to develop whatever industries they can, and to overcome their natural handicaps by putting more of their own effort into their work.

A national labor code would make this impossible.

STILL AT IT

You would never know it, but the Big Four powers are still haggling in Paris, trying to get together on an agenda for a conference of their foreign ministers.

Most of the western officials participating have about concluded that Russia doesn't really want a meeting. It begins to look as if this effort was just for the record, so they can shout to the world that the "war-mongering" West wouldn't agree to talk peace. Maybe they had some idea, too, about further splitting the western nations. But all they've succeeded in splitting are a lot of legal and diplomatic hairs.

CITIZENS REST ON THEIR OARS

The bane of democracy is apathy. Having won the right to govern themselves, and having established a democratic form of government for the purpose, people are prone to rest on their oars, and depend for good government on the constitutional forms.

But a good constitution is not the only essential of good government; and the best constitution in the world can be perverted to an instrument of mis-government.

If the people are too apathetic to take an active interest in the problems of government, to have opinions of their own and to express them, to elect good candidates to represent them at the seat of government, they will find their government taking advice from those who offer it, probably from pressure groups organized to promote their own selfish interests at the expense of the public.

Democratic government in a country whose citizens refuse to function as democratic citizens is a contradiction in terms and no more real than a barmecide feast.

Press Comment

"TAIN'T EASY, GUV'NOR!"

Christian Science Monitor
The British budget which Hugh Gaitskell, Chancellor of the Exchequer, has presented to the House of Commons may answer a few questions in the minds of Americans.

One, occasionally heard, runs something like this: "But why aren't they willing to back us up in China?" The budget, with its accompanying tax rates, tells something of what the average Briton faces in paying for rearmament for defense in Europe.

Assuming the proposed taxes are adopted, as is likely, the effective rate on a Britisher earning net taxable income of £400 or less than $1,200, a year will be more than 33 per cent. That compares with 20 per cent on like incomes to an American, disregarding differences in exemptions. Or if your Britisher wishes to buy a radio set, he will pay a tax of 66 2-3 per cent.

To be sure, the British Labor government is sticking to the outlays of a welfare state (except that partial changes will be made for some dental and optical work hitherto free) rather than possibly hold down taxes. Yet the taxes proposed will reach pretty far down the income scale, and Mr. Gaitskell says frankly, "We want to discourage people from buying."

To raise the equivalent of $13 billion for armaments in three years and to squeeze this production out of industries already straining to earn dollars by exports is no slight undertaking. The people who are asked thus to tighten their belts have been on food rations for ten years, and now are down to one chop and one egg a week.

London caddy might phrase his response, "Righto, guv'nor, we'll do it. But 'tain't easy."

ASIA'S THREE-IN-ONE WAR

Kingston Whig-Standard
The predominance of news about the fighting in Korea has to some extent delayed widespread recognition that Korea is but one battlefield of three held against communist expansion in Asia. The others are in Malaya and Indo-China, and all are supplied from the same sources—communist China and Russia. The interdependence of these three fronts is readily perceived by the way in which communist reverses on one are usually followed by similar reverses on another, or vice versa. It follows, naturally, that news dispatches from all three should be regarded as related.

The campaigns in Korea and Indo-China illustrate this well. When the United Nations' forces were penned in a small area at the southern end of the peninsula, the communist forces in Indo-China, with their Chinese communist allies, began an offensive which at first seemed likely to sweep over the whole of that country. But when the United Nations forces began to advance steadily northward, the offensive in Indo-China bogged down, to begin moving again with the initial success of the Chinese communist offensive in Korea.

Now, under pressure of the United Nations' renewed offensive in Korea and the determined campaign being conducted by General de Lattre de Tassigny in Indo-China, the communists there apparently have learned they cannot expect continued assistance from communist China. This conclusion may be drawn from the return to strictly guerrilla warfare in Indo-China.

There is some comfort in the thought that the war in Korea, although it is an added burden to the western nations fighting there, has afforded some relief to other forces resisting communist expansion at other Asiatic points. With this, however, comes realization that any lessening of resistance at one point would mean a release of communist strength for application at another, which underlines the long and arduous task facing the nations of the West.

TRUMAN, THE FIGHTER

The Ottawa Journal
In the last U.S. presidential election Harry Truman showed himself a fighter who could shoot from both hips when the odds were tough. Harry Truman showed the same quality again on Saturday night when, taking his case against General MacArthur to the American people, he blasted all against him with superb skill as well as vigor.

MacArthur, appearing dramatically before Congress, will have his day and perhaps his triumph, but if Truman's latest speech forecasts what is to come the General will discover quickly that he is in a fight.

Truman's best shot was when, after saying that he was being told now that communist China could be bombed without risk of war with Russia, he said acidly: "I was assured by the same high authority that we could march to the Yalu river without risk of war with China."

Then Truman turned his guns on the Republicans—the "confusers."

"They say they want a powerful defence system, second to none—but they are against universal military training."

"They say they want other free nations to resist aggression—but they don't want us to send any troops to help."

"They want us to get out of Korea—but they urge us to wage an aggressive war against China."

"They say it will provoke Russia to attack if we send troops to Europe—but they are sure Russia won't come in if we carry the war to China."

"They say they want to crush communism—and yet they want us to draw back into our shells and let the rest of the world be over-run by the Reds."

"They say they are worried because the Russians outnumber us—but they are not interested in keeping allies who can help us."

All sharply effective. The "Great Debate" may resolve nothing in particular; but it will not lack in liveliness.

THE ROAD BLOCK

Australia's Domestic Problems Are Due To Labor, Menzies Says

Sydney, Australia, April 19 — Since the Menzies government took office in December, 1949, it has had three major domestic problems—rising prices, industrial relations and the Labor majority in the Senate.

It blames its failure to solve the first two problems on the unresolvable third one and has obtained a double dissolution — dissolution both of the House of Representatives and the Senate — in an attempt to break the deadlock. Voting is April 28.

The price problem in Australia rests basically on two factors: an extremely large increase in the price of exports, particularly wool, and only a small over-all increase in the production of essential goods.

Output of coal has risen only about 3,000,000 tons over the pre-war figure of about 13,000,000 tons a year despite large expenditures on equipment for open-cut mining.

Output of iron and steel is no more than in 1939 and tends to fall. Right through the Australian economy the crippling effects of coal shortages are apparent.

First and most immediate effect is on steel output. Power output also has been affected.

The Menzies government contends that the coal shortage has been deliberately engineered by the communist bosses of the miners' federation.

It sought to break the communist grip on the miners' federation and on other big unions, including those in the steel and shipping industries, by the act to dissolve the communist party.

The labor-controlled Senate delayed the passage of the act for months and when it finally became law the high court declared it invalid.

So the Menzies government proposed other action to stop industrial trouble in key industries. This aroused the whole labor movement.

The background of the industrial picture was this: In 1947 the Miners' federation declared a general strike which the Chifley Labor government termed a communist conspiracy.

To meet the emergency the government passed legislation which froze the funds of the miners' federation and prohibited any person from giving aid to the miners.

For disobedience of this act several union leaders were sent to jail. The strike was broken.

The communist leaders since have been reluctant to call general strikes. Instead they have imposed bans on the working of overtime; have called sectional strikes in which a stoppage by a few key workers can throw a big enterprise into idleness, and used the technique of the "rolling strike" (one day stoppages over the same issue in different areas).

Soon after the Menzies government took office waterside workers began a rolling strike in Queensland which threatened to paralyze shipping in that state.

The government invoked the Commonwealth crimes act under which it can proclaim a state of emergency and jail strikers in the transport industry.

The rolling strike ceased. But in its stead the campaign of overtime bans, one-day strikes, sectional strikes and mass resignations was intensified.

Early this year the coal miners' leaders called a series of one-day a-week general stoppages against an award of the tribunal which fixes their wages and conditions.

This tribunal, constituted under special legislation, is separate from the arbitration court although it has all the powers of the court except that of punishing for contempt.

These one-day-a-week coal strikes were having a crippling effect on the economy, representing as they did a 20-per-cent cut in output.

The government summoned three miners' leaders for contempt of court.

The deputy leader of the federal Labor party, Dr. Herbert Evatt, K.C., appeared for the miners' leaders arguing that the arbitration court had no power to punish for a breach of the coal tribunal's order. The summonses were dismissed.

Within a matter of days the high court ruled the anti-Red act invalid (another legal triumph for Dr. Evatt) and the government saw its whole system of arbitration and industrial discipline crumble.

The government therefore announced that it would introduce two bills to remedy the situation.

The first would give the court power to punish, by contempt proceedings, defiance of any arbitral decision.

This aroused a storm of protest from unionists. Even conservative newspapers were alarmed and suggested that the proposal was too extreme.

The second proposed measure would make it compulsory for a union to hold a secret ballot (under court supervision and at which voting would be obligatory on all members) if it proposed strike action and when officials were elected.

The purpose of this was (a) to prevent strike decisions being made by a snap vote at a communist-packed meeting; (b) to make it more difficult for communists to be elected to union jobs at Red-packed meetings or by ballot-rigging.

This proposal met with a good deal of public support but Labor announced that it would oppose both measures by its Senate majority.

The government promptly sought and obtained a double dissolution of Parliament.

The Record Short Story

WHAT'S YOUR AMBITION?

By MAY HOLT BATCHELDER

They were halfway through their filet mignon when Doug looked across the restaurant table at Jill.

"Jill," he said in his serious young-lawyer voice, "what do you want out of life?"

"Oh, I don't know," said Jill, looking up from her plate and admiring the cleft in Doug's chin.

"Are you going to stay in the chorus all your life?"

"Well, hardly," she laughed. "After all, a rheumatic old dame of 80 would look pretty funny hobbling around in a Broadway musical comedy chorus."

"Don't take me so literally," said Doug, staring at her red hair, pert nose and sea-green eyes. "I mean, what's your ambition in life?"

"Oh, I don't know," she said again. "I haven't given it much thought. I'm happy enough right now to be in the chorus of a terrific smash hit on Broadway."

"But," he persisted, as if he were cross-examining a witness, "haven't you any real ambition?"

"What do you mean by ambition? Do you think I'm secretly yearning to walk on stage some night and play the star's part?"

He took a slow sip of water. "No, but I think a girl of 22 ought to have some idea what she wants in life."

Suddenly Jill's temper flared as bright as her hair. "What business is it of yours? I don't have to tell you. We're not engaged or anything."

Doug gulped at the fireworks. "I just wanted to know," he said placatingly. "You see, I know exactly what I want out of life and I thought you did, too. A girl as pretty and smart as you ought to have some ideas about the future."

Jill was still furious. Here she'd been going around with Doug for three months, ever since the show opened, and now, instead of asking her to marry him, as she'd fondly expected him to do this evening, he had to turn solemn and talk seriously about ambition. She crumpled her napkin and pushed her dinner plate away.

Quick as a forest fire, she slipped her coat on, picked up her gloves and handbag and arose from the table.

"All right," she said. "I'll show you Doug Travis. Ambition, h'm? Good night. And," she threw over her shoulder as she walked away, "good-bye."

For the next few days she refused to see Doug, to answer his phone calls and earnest notes. She gave her notice to the stage manager and acquired an agent. She'd show Doug, she vowed. After she'd left the Broadway show she went to Chicago, where she sang in a small supper club.

Jill went out with young Army and Navy officers stationed near Chicago; she had quite a whirl and turned down several fervent proposals of marriage. All this time she was trying hard to forget Doug Travis. But the memory of his brown eyes, his infrequent but charming smile, persisted, and all the men she met fell short of the standard set by Doug.

As she was pretty and vivacious, with a fair-to-medium singing voice, Jill was a minor success and her agent was hinting of contracts in New York. She was human enough to clip some of her press notices and her pictures in the Chicago papers and mail them to Doug in New York. Just in a plain white envelope. No return address. No enclosed note. Did he still think she had no ambition? Well, she'd gotten out of the chorus pretty fast and now she was on her way up in show business. She could prove to that superior, serious-minded Doug that she was ambitious.

There was never a letter from Doug; never a phone call. As the months went by she wished that she could see him just once more. Perhaps, she thought, he's in the Navy by now. She knew he was a reserve officer. Maybe he was in Hawaii or Japan. Then, thinking of darling Doug in danger, Jill would weep into her pillow at night. When she sang her husky, wistful little songs at the supper club, she would put an extra poignancy into the words because all the lyrics about love and heart-break reminded her of Doug.

Finally, when her Chicago contract was up in the Spring, Jill went back to New York. Having saved her money, she told her agent that she wanted a brief vacation before she signed another contract.

There was a tempting one in California that promised great things for an ambitious young singer. She'd be famous some day, Jill vowed, her eyes shining green as chrysopease. She'd show Doug.

It was good to be back in New York. The April air was incomparable; she felt uplifted and exhilarated as the Spring breezes blew over Manhattan. It was fun seeing the old theater crowd again; going to the new shows, being seen at the popular restaurants. She told her agent resolutely that she'd gotten over her feeling for Doug.

Then, walking along Broadway, on her way to lunch, she ran right into Doug's arms. Her quick glance noted his Navy uniform, his sun-tanned face.

"Jill, darling," he said, holding her hands tight in his. He looked down at her flaming hair as if he were being warmed at a fire. "I'm just back on leave and I've been looking all over New York for you."

She was so happy she couldn't say a word. At first sight of Doug she knew that she'd never stopped loving him for a single minute.

They went to their favorite restaurant for lunch. Jill ordered filet mignon. "So you remember?" Doug asked her.

"Yes," she said, "this is where I walked out. I never finished my dinner the night we broke up."

They talked and talked, catching up on all the past months. Doug said he'd given up his law practice on being called back into the Navy. Jill told him about her small success as a singer, her promising future. "And you said I had no ambition. Haven't I proved that I have?"

"Yes," he said, looking at her sea-green eyes as if he wanted to memorize the color forever; "you got out of the chorus. You did show that you had ambition. But," he paused to light her cigarette, "I'm going to ask you the same old, serious question. What do you really want in life?"

Here we go again, thought Jill, her temper blazing once more. He's still solemn and serious, talking about ambition. Well, I'll tell him what I really want...

"I'll tell you, Doug Travis," she said furiously, "before I walk out on you for the last time. I'm not really ambitious to have a career. I was just kidding you. And myself. I'd get out of show business tomorrow if necessary."

She slipped her arms into her Spring coat, picked up gloves and handbag and was about to rise when Doug said, "Hey, wait a minute. Sit down and relax." He was smiling at her delightedly.

"Honey, you've finally given me the real answer to my question. That's what I wanted you to say a year ago when you walked out on me. I didn't want you to have any ambitions for a career. I wanted to see you with a brown eyes steady and true. To hear you say that you preferred marriage. To me."

Jill smiled at him as she admired the fascinating cleft in his chin. She was much too happy to speak coherently.

"I have one more week's leave," said Doug. "We can get married this week. Then you can fly out to California with me." He stared at her. "Now tell me," he commanded. "What's your real ambition in life?"

"To be your wife," said Jill, her sea-green eyes luminous with joy.

25 Foreign Threats To Run In BAA Marathon

Boston, April 19.—(P)—The foreign grip on the famed Boston A.A. Marathon, which has failed to produce an American-born winner since 1945, appears tighter than ever before in its 55-year history.

A total of 25 foreign threats, representing Japan, China, Greece, Turkey, Colombia and Canada, will be among the 1919 entries tomorrow. They will start the 26-mile 385-yard "grind," mostly uphill, at noon (EST) in little Hopkinton.

Keen students of long-distance running form have been impressed by the training performances of nine of the visitors, including a four-man Japanese team.

trained hard on the West Coast for this B.A. endurance test. Back again, after a three years' lapse, are Athanasios Ragnos of Yalmyros, Greece, and Seiki Kori of Istanbul, Turkey, who were good enough to finish sixth and seventh respectively when Korean Yun Bok Suh set the course record of 2:28:39 in 1947.

Heading the 16-man Canadian delegation is the four-time winner Gerry Cote of St. Hyacinthe, Que., who last led the pack home in 1948.

Two other former winners, probably the most popular competitors in the race's long history, are Clarence De Mar, a seven-time winner since 1911, and Johnny Kelley of Boston, the race's last native-born victor, back in 1945.

Saskatoon Drops Third Straight To St. Mike's

Toronto, April 19.—(P)—Toronto St. Michael's Monarchs fought off a last-period comeback last night to defeat Saskatoon Quakers 4-2 and take a three-game lead in their Alexander Cup semi-final series. They won the first game 8-5 and the second 4-1.

The fourth game of the best-of-seven series is slated for Toronto Friday night. If a fifth is necessary it will be played here Sunday.

A slim crowd of 3,370 fans saw Big Phil Hughes come to the rescue in the dying minutes of the final period as Quakers swarmed around the Toronto nets.

Hughes, a six-foot-two-inch player from Port Arthur, kicked out 32 shots, 18 of them in the last period. Jack Gibson in the Saskatoon nets stopped 22 shots. Monarchs snatched three of their goals in the first period when they caught Quakers flat-footed numerous times. Quakers split two in the second and got the only goal of the third.

Gord Hannigan, Johnny Ubriaco, Ed Mulligan and Tom McCracken tallied for Monarchs. Howie Milford and George Seniek were the Saskatoon scorers.

Fourteen penalties were handed out, nine of them going to Monarchs. Owen Sound Mercurys Swamp Dolbeau 10-1

Owen Sound, Ont., April 19.—(P)—Owen Sound Mercurys racked up a one-sided 10-1 win last night against Dolbeau Castors for their second straight victory in the best-of-five Eastern Canada Allan Cup finals.

Site of the third game will be decided by the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association in a telegraph vote of members. A second-period by Fern Bernaquez robbed goalie Gillson of a shutout. The shot was a long, partially-screened effort that went through Gillson's legs as he creched trying to find the rubber.

About 2,000 saw Owen Sound race to a 5-0 lead in the first period; raise it to 6-1 in the second and add four more in the final instalment. Doug Gillespie rapped home three goals and earned two assists to get sniping honors. Tommy Burlington and Bukacheskii scored two goals each while Buck Forsland, Jack Ingoldby and Harry Kazarian added singletons.

Thiffault stopped 33 shots while Gillson had it easier with 26. tions for increased production, conservation or distribution, some measure of control over Canadian supplies will be necessary. France, particularly, has been clamoring for Canadian supplies, President Vincent Auriol, in his recent state visit, made a personal appeal to the Canadian Cabinet. Departmental officials were asked whether the move to declare newsprint an essential material likely would lead to the granting of accelerated capital depreciation allowances to help newsprint in its limited expansion.

They replied that the matter had not been considered.

Slayer Of Five Takes Own Life

Winnipeg, April 19.—(P)—John Henry Schmidt, 31-year-old farmer charged with the rifle slaying Saturday of five members of his family at Grassville, Man., hanged himself early today in jail, police announced.

Schmidt had surrendered himself with his belt at 1:35 A.M., five minutes after the regular cell check made by a constable. Schmidt had surrendered himself to R.C.M.P. Saturday at Carman, Man. His mother, father, two sisters and a brother were found shot to death at their farm home in the Grassville district 12 miles west of Carman, which is 40 miles southwest of Winnipeg.

Funeral services for Henry Schmidt, 71; Sarah, his wife, 68; and David, 38; Mary, 48 and Olga, 35, were scheduled for later today at Carman in the Mennonite church.

The bodies of the five were found scattered both outside and inside the one-storey white home-stead. Seven bullets had been used to kill them. Apparently the killer had stalked his victims rapidly. There had been no motive uncovered for the slayings.

has been appointed to prepare for the next flood crest.

Chicago, April 19.—(P)—More families left their homes today in the upper Mississippi valley region as surging waters from the Mississippi river rolled out over lowlands in Iowa, Minnesota and Wisconsin. Cooler weather spread over the flood area, delaying the spring runoff.

The river threatened heavy damage in Iowa and Illinois. Plans were being made in many river towns for evacuation of families early next week. Thirty-five families left their homes in Dubuque, Ia., as flood waters spilled over a three-block area. A record 22.5-foot flood crest was expected Monday.

The highest crest in history—18.5 feet—was expected in the Illinois-Iowa area about Tuesday. Officials in Davenport, Ia., estimated 300 families will have to be evacuated. The Mississippi crested almost three feet above flood level yesterday at Lacrosse, Wis., where some 1,500 persons have been forced from their homes and another 1,000 were in homes surrounded by water. At Prairie du Chien, Wis., a crest of about 22 feet—four feet above flood level—was expected Saturday. About 150 families already have been evacuated.

One-Minute News from Johns-Manville. EACH JOB AT J-M COSTS the COMPANY MORE THAN $8,000. Includes illustration of a woman reading a newspaper.

What does it cost to provide a job at Johns-Manville? If it were necessary today to replace J-M's work benches, machines, tools, buildings and other assets needed to do business, it would require more than $8,000 for each and every J-M employee.

That figure represents the investment J-M stockholders have in each J-M job. It is typical of Canadian and American industry.

The Doctor Says:

PATIENT WHO IGNORES
ULCER MAY BE COURTING
DISASTER

By Edwin P. Jordan, M.D.

An ulcer of the stomach cannot safely be ignored. Most of those who have this disease do well in the long run. But those who are careless about diet or other treatment run great danger from bleeding and perforation. Bleeding from an ulcer can be exceedingly serious and is more common the longer the ulcer has been present. If the ulcer breaks all the way through the stomach wall (perforation), an immediate operation is necessary.

It is not only because of these serious complications that it is important to take good care of an ulcer, but also no one can feel really well or work efficiently if the ulcer is causing distress constantly. Early diagnosis, appropriate treatment, and, on the part of the patient, following directions accurately and consistently, are necessary to get the best results.

There is such a thing as learning to live with one's ulcer until it has healed. All the doctor can do is give advice. In addition to the specific directions about diet, powders or other medicine, this usually includes a warning about living calmly, getting plenty of rest, adequate vacations and similar general measures. Quite often, all this involves a change in the routine of living and perhaps in attitude toward life.

A good many patients with ulcers question their doctors about smoking, coffee and alcohol. On this there are some differences of opinion though even the most liberal physicians will caution against excessive use of any of these.

Apparently smoking does not stimulate the secretion of the stomach juices, but some ulcer patients definitely feel worse from smoking just the same. Many doctors prohibit smoking entirely and some do not. Coffee and alcohol do stimulate the secretions of acid, and while they probably do not cause an ulcer, there is no reason to believe that they help one to heal either.

Check Your Pet Superstitions

By MILDRED L. KING
IT'S odd! It's even spooky! But do you know the word "superstitious" has 13 letters in it.

Don't look over your left shoulder now or your luck may fade.

Pooh! Not superstitious? Well, let's see! If you haven't just one little, teeny weeny pet superstition you are different from millions of others.

Tests show that almost half the grown-ups in the country believe in one or more of the common superstitions which are nothing more nor less than hang-overs from the Middle Ages.

But how about you? Check the following list. Here you have 13 of the most common popular beliefs that are snooting around. How many do you believe in?

GOOD LUCK: Rabbit's foot; four-leaf clover; knocking on wood; crossing your fingers (especially after fibbing a bit).

BAD LUCK: Black cat crossing your path; walking under a ladder; breaking a mirror; the number 13, especially Friday the 13th; spilling salt; opening an umbrella in a house; cutting out a dress on Friday; picking a comb off the floor without first stepping on it; allowing someone to walk between you and your pal on the street.

Now for your score. Seven or more checks indicate you are really super-superstitious.

But don't worry. You have plenty of company. Even though modern science has debunked all the old-time superstitions most people still believe in keeping on the good side of them "just in case."

Communists On Hainan Island Said Building

Hong Kong, (Reuters) — Feverish construction of military installations is reported on Hainan, the large Chinese Communist Island off the South China Coast.

There are unconfirmed reports of the building of submarine pens at Yulin, South Hainan, and of the repair of wartime Japanese airfields and railways.

Russian technicians and advisers have recently visited the island. Political observers in Hong Kong say they are still there, and in greater numbers than communist reports have suggested.

As far as is known here, all missionaries and other foreigners have been expelled from Hainan.

These reports draw attention to the importance of this rich tropical island. Hainan, observers here believe, plays a vital role in Sino-Soviet strategy in Southeast Asia.

Chinese Nationalists believe Russia covets the strategic island and is likely to play a dominating role there in the future. Some western observers are convinced that Russia, in conjunction with Communist China, intends to develop the island as a powerful submarine and air base.

Hainan is a pear-shaped island of about 14,000 square miles. It dominates the southeast coast of China and almost the whole of the east coast of Indo-China. It is within easy reach of the great curve of islands running from Formosa through the Philippines and Borneo to Singapore. It is near the shipping lanes that run north from Singapore and Australia to Hong Kong and Japan.

Speculation in Hong Kong about communist activity in Hainan is largely centred about Yulin Harbor, a wide bay leading through narrow heads to an inner basin.

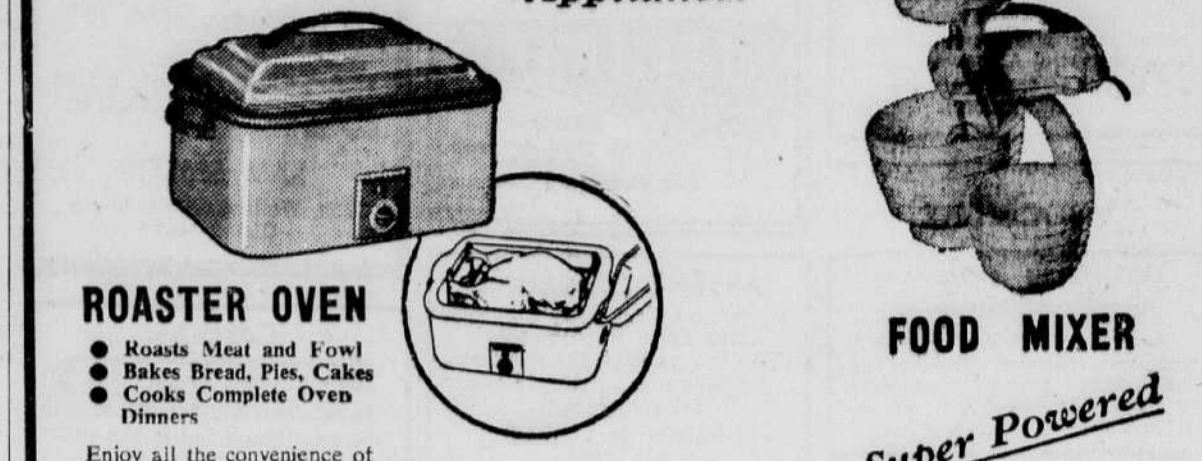

Naval sources here believe the inner basin can be converted into a first-class submarine base. Hainan, observers think, is also of importance to communist strategy as an air base. The Japanese also built five principal airfields with concrete runways. At least three are capable of taking practically any type of aircraft.

MRS. JOHN A. PATTERSON, OF AUSTIN

Austin, April 19. — A prominent life long resident, Mrs. Lillie Belle Davis, wife of the late John Albert Patterson, passed away at her home, on March 1, at the age of 83 years, after a long illness.

Mrs. Patterson was born in Potton, in 1867, a daughter of Enoch Davis and his wife, Medore White.

The family moved to Millington, when she was young.

She received her education at the local school and the Knowlton Academy, receiving her teacher's diploma, and was a successful school teacher for a number of years.

On January 15, 1890, she married John Albert Patterson. They settled on the farm previously purchased by Mr. Patterson, where she was still living at the time of her death. Mr. Patterson predeceased her on August 29, 1943.

Three children were born to this union, Donald, on the home farm, Medora, Mrs. W. H. Hatcher, of Montreal, Frances, Mrs. L. S. Gonin, of Westmount, and one foster daughter, Elizabeth, Mrs. Reginald Penwill, of North Hatley.

Prayers were held at her late residence at 1:30 o'clock on Sunday, March 4, followed by the services at the United Church at 2 p. m., with Rev. J. Stark officiating. Two favorite hymns were sung by a trio, John P. Taylor, Carl July and Harry Dawson, "When The Roll Is Called Up Yonder" and "I Shall Know Him."

Actress Suggests Kitchen Cosmetics

To keep her complexion dewy as a spring garden, film actress Jeanne Crain uses beauty routine that includes cucumber facial (lower center) which she prepares herself (left) from fresh, green cucumbers.

She uses witch hazel compresses (right) to brighten her eyes while the facial is drying. Final step is smoothing on of baking soda solution (upper center) to neutralize skin acidity while she sleeps.

The clear, flawless skin that every woman strives for is a matter not of vanity but of professional necessity for a film actress. Movie cameras, it seems, have an unfortunate way of focusing upon the slightest facial imperfection.

Because of this, I have worked out a method for meeting complexion problems head-on, combating them before they have a chance to mar the smoothness of my skin.

My routine is a simple one—largely preventive measures. I've learned from experience the price of neglect.

Dry skin is, for me, a major complexion problem. To keep my face soft and smooth, I use quantities of lubricating creams and lotions.

I don't depend entirely upon cream for cleansing, however, I like that slick-as-a-whistle feeling you get from a good soap-and-water face washing. I've found I get best results from a combination of cleansing methods. One night I scrub with lather; the next night I remove soil and make-up with a rich cleansing cream.

Here's another trick for overcoming the unwelcome results of a sudsy cleaning. Smooth on a thin coating of cream before you begin. Warmth of your bathcloth will enhance the lubricating effect of the cream, thereby counteracting drying action of the soap.

It isn't necessary, I've learned, to rely wholly upon expensive beauty preparations. Ingredients from your pantry shelf or vegetable bin are often just as effective.

Here's my recipe for a soothing kitchen facial. I cut a cucumber into slices and soak the pieces in water for several minutes. I then add the juice of a lemon and mix well.

After my face is thoroughly clean, I dampen cotton squares with this liquid and pat them over my face and neck. While this is drying, I recline upon my bed or chaise longue. I feel this relaxation is an important part of the treatment, since rest is an aid in smoothing fatigue lines.

To make double use of my time, I give my eyes a fresh-up too. After working all day under the bright lights on the set, my eyes often feel tired and look dull. Cotton squares, saturated with chilled witch hazel, serve as excellent compresses to brighten eyes.

I place one of these cooling pads over each closed eyelid for several minutes—the length of time required for my cucumber facial to dry—and then remove them to find my eyes clear and sparkling again.

By thus freeing my eyes of strain, I have discovered I don't have to worry about the tiny squint lines that are likely to frame overworked, uncare-for eyes.

To conclude my kitchen facial, I splash the cucumber liquid from my face with cold water.

In caring for my complexion, I always save a few minutes for special danger spots like nose, cheeks and chin. If your skin is marred by enlarged pores or blemishes, you might try another of my pantry beauty hints.

Mix one teaspoon of baking soda in one cup of warm water. Then, after your nightly face cleansing, dampen cotton squares with this solution and pat over troubled areas. Leave it on overnight to neutralize skin acids and soothe the skin.

Proper Care For Perfume

Perfume is to most women too precious a thing to be treated carelessly. Yet many perfume owners manage, quite unknowingly, to maltreat their fragrances.

If you wish to derive the best that your scents have to offer, follow these rules of caution.

First, keep your perfumes away from heat. This applies to hot radiators or heaters as well as direct sunlight. Possible damage is two-fold. Heat speeds the evaporation of alcohol in the perfume, thus spoiling the balance of the bouquet. And strong sunlight sometimes produces a chemical change.

There are tricks for preserving the beauty of your perfume bottle, too. Too often, beautiful glass containers are shattered by impatient hands or awkward techniques when the stopper gets stuck.

The proper procedure is to avoid banging the stopper against the

Here is the 1951 CONSUL, the newest, most outstanding British car in Canada—British-built by Ford. Here is an all-new car, new even to its name—new flowing dynamic body lines from bumper to bumper—new from the ground up—new all-steel body—new interior styling—and a new economical, powerful 4-cylinder engine.

Never before has any British car included all the desired features in low-cost motoring. When recently introduced at London's famous English Motor Show, the brilliant new CONSUL created a sensation.

The CONSUL is backed by the traditional high gasoline mileage (up to 37 miles per gallon) of Ford's British-built cars. Built on a 100-inch wheelbase for economical operation and ease of handling, the CONSUL's advanced engineering offers big-car spaciousness. It's built for comfortable, restful motoring over every type of road in any kind of weather and especially designed to withstand the extremes of Canadian climate.

Examine the CONSUL inside and out. Notice the outstanding beauty of line and proportion. Open the big wide doors and step down into the well-appointed interior with harmonizing genuine or art leather upholstery. Look at the one-piece windshield and rear window, both curved to eliminate glare, which provide increased visibility. And the CONSUL offers the latest, most advanced type of fresh-air heating and ventilating system.

Yes, the CONSUL is an exciting, sensational new car. See Ford's 4-door CONSUL—it's destined to become Canada's favourite British-built car.

Drummondville

Two persons were injured early Sunday morning in the vicinity of St. Clotilde, when two automobiles collided on the main highway. A car owned and driven by Mr. Roger Houle, a resident of Drummondville, accompanied by Messrs. Jean-Paul Girard and Andre Heroux, of St. Jean Baptiste, came head on with Mr. Ernest Beaudet's automobile, of Richelieu, who was accompanied by his wife and daughter. Mr. Roger Houle and Mrs. Beaudet both suffered slight head injuries and were immediately attended by a local doctor of Victoriaville. Both cars were badly damaged in the mishap, while police officer W. St. Cyr, of Victoriaville, reported and investigated the accident.

to city speed limits, sixty-nine of these had to pay fines and costs, while six were sentenced to spend time in jail. Three were turned over to the Provincial Police. In the same month, twenty-six accidents were reported with six persons seriously injured. The Fire Department answered twelve calls including two general alarms with two chimney fires.

It has been officially announced that The Red Cross Society will hold its annual Blood Donor Clinic, at the City Hall, Lindsay Street, from April 25 to 26, which will include both afternoon and evening on these specified dates. Local Red Cross officials meantime are being more optimistic that a larger number of volunteers will be on hand to donate their blood now that the call is so great and this sacrifice is so little in the saving of human lives in this worthy cause, and fellow citizens "Remember, It Does Not Hurt To Give—but Restores Those Hurt To Live." Let us all then play our full part for this noble cause now that present blood banks are again running low.

WHY MOTHERS GET GRAY

The City Hall permission permits for the building of two steel framed ware-houses with constructed brick outer walls, which will measure 112 by 154 feet, while the other will be 127 by 158 feet. The construction of which will cost in the vicinity of between $80,000 and 100,000, with work expected to begin almost immediately. Other permits are: to Mr. Lucien Corbeil, for the construction of a cottage, Cockburn St., $9,000; Mr. Gilles Nicol, Villeneuve St., $8,000; and Mr. Jacques Gaudet, St. Pierre St., $5,500 in the construction of new homes.

The election of officers of The Catholic Women's League, St. Therese Sub-Division took place at St. Therese Church Hall, on Tuesday evening, April 10, under the able chairmanship of Mrs. W. S. Dunkin, of Montreal. The organizer of the sub-division, Mrs. Jack Roland, was elected convener, who will be assisted by Mrs. W. McDougall and Mrs. Charles Singer. Mrs. R. J. Brady was re-elected president, while the first vice-president is Mrs. R. A. Galaise, R.N.; the second vice-president, Mrs. Joseph Mercure; with the third vice-president being Mrs. Gravett; Mrs. D. Lemaire was elected corresponding-secretary, with Miss Mary Galaise recording-secretary. The Councillors elected were as follows: Mrs. John Grady, Mrs. P. Rice and Mrs. F. Dunn. The president and Mrs. Dunkin thanked Miss Irene McGuinness, retiring recording-secretary, on her very fine work on behalf of the society during her term of office during the course of her year's term. Mrs. Joseph Mercure, on behalf of all attending members presented Mrs. Brady with a beautiful bouquet of flowers. The meeting was then adjourned with a deep sense of feeling of satisfaction that much good work had been accomplished since its inauguration exactly twelve months ago.

The Drummondville Home and School Association announced that it will present at its second to the last meeting of the season, two outstanding films to be shown at The High School Auditorium, on Wednesday evening, April 18, at 8:00 p.m. Firstly, "Junior Citizen," an outstanding film on a vital theme, good citizenship in our democracy, the awareness of our progressive schools of its importance and the mastery role they are playing in its development. The film shows graphically how school children are guided year by year in the ways of co-operation, understanding, and tolerance, until they gradually assume the responsibilities of community life, faith, courage, honesty and work. The second film is entitled "Folkways Of Quebec." An interesting and highly educational feature of travel through the Province of Quebec. Parents are advised to keep this an open date for a most enjoyable eve-

Western Woman Does Man's Job As School Head

Regina. — Miss Marion Scribner is Saskatchewan's only woman school superintendent, and thinks possibly she is the only one in Canada.

There are women in Ontario with a similar title but Miss Scribner believes they work mainly as assistants to a male superintendent.

Miss Scribner's bailiwick is the Gull Lake district in the south-western part of the province. She likes it there, and says she can see no advantage in transferring from one place to another. She would be happy to spend the rest of her life there—although she wasn't sure that would be a good idea either for herself or the district.

The Gull Lake superintendent has been on the job since 1948. Her training includes a bachelor's degree and a certificate course in education at the University of Saskatchewan and a term as school principal at Wapella, Sask.

Miss Scribner says that as a woman she no doubt approaches her work in a manner different from male superintendents and the people she encounters have a different attitude to her than they would have toward a man. But success or failure, she said, depends on the individual man or woman.

She has no feeling she is doing a man's job. It is her job, and she expects and receives excellent cooperation from other educational workers in the district.

Miss Scribner explained the work of superintendent is to give leadership in education within the area. In addition to her routine visits to the school rooms, during which she sees exactly what is being done in the classes and gives practical advice and assistance to the teacher, she does a good deal of executive work.

This includes visiting the various school boards to discuss problems of education. During the winter she prepares reports on the individual teachers for the provincial department of education. She completes statistics and gathers information on the 83 school districts which make up her area.

Miss Scribner is strongly in favor of the larger school unit as a means of improving educational standards and increasing the efficiency of educational workers.

Often she accompanies groups of parents and trustees on visits to Shaunavon or Maple Creek, or other neighboring towns which are in a larger school unit. The result, she says, is always the same. The visitors realize that children attending larger area schools are enjoying educational benefits which are not available to children in the Gull Lake area, or in other areas outside the unit.

BULWER

Mr. and Mrs. James Wood, of Melbourne Ridge, were guests at the Wood home. Mr. N. R. Wood accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Wood home and will be their guest.

Mrs. W. G. Pinchin entertained a large number of ladies at a very enjoyable tea in aid of the Women's Association. A business meeting was held by the president, Mrs. Leslie Richardson. Plans were made to serve dinner at the church hall, on April 21, when Mrs. Douglas Grapes and Mrs. Ivan Herring will be the hostesses. Re-decorating the church ceiling was discussed and Miss Melba Wheeler was appointed to make enquiries about the paint to be used. A donation was made to the Red Cross Society. Mrs. Pinchin, assisted by Mrs. Grapes and Miss Wheeler served tea.

A card party in aid of the L.O.L. was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Johnston with a good attendance. Those from out of town attending included Mr. and Mrs. F. Caunter, and Miss Alberta Ross, of Sherbrooke; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jones, Mr. and Mrs. William Parker, Miss Velma Carson and Mr. Steven Taylor, of Sawyerville. The ladies' first prize was won by Mrs. Basil Prescott and the gentlemen's by Mr. Frank Jones. The consolation prizes went to Miss Alberta Ross and Mr. David Wood. The next card party, which will be the last one of the season and will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Pinchin, in two weeks.

Friends of Mrs. B. J. Kingsley will be pleased to hear that she is improving, after her serious illness.

VALLEYFIELD REGISTERS 3-2 WIN OVER SYDNEY IN OPENER

Leafs Rest While Habs Work Out; MacKay Sidelined; Hirschfeld Or Mazur Will Get Call For Canucks

Montreal, April 19.—One of these nights a Stanley Cup game may end in regulation time and the customers will feel cheated out of a run for their money.

All three games so far in this final between Toronto Maple Leafs and Montreal Canadiens have produced the added attraction of a sudden-death goal.

The Leafs have won two of the games and now rank favorites in the best-of-seven series. The fourth game will be played here tonight.

This consecutive run of three overtime tussles equals any similar performance in modern Stanley Cup play. In 1933 four of five games in an elimination series between Toronto and Boston went into overtime, the first three in a row.

But neither Leafs nor Canadiens have shown any inclination to drag out the extra work. The Leafs took the first at home after five minutes and 51 seconds of overtime. They lost the second, also at home, after 2:55, and then won in Montreal Tuesday night after 4:47.

General Manager Conn Smythe of Leafs said the series is likely to go the full seven games and there will likely be more overtime.

Coach Dick Irvin of Canadiens said there is so little difference between the teams the breaks will continue to play a part.

Irvin also announced that Calum MacKay is laid up with an injured heel and will be out of tonight's game. Rookies Eddie Mazur and Bert Hirschfeld will be dressed. MacKay was hurt when he slid into the end boards.

Canadiens held a light skating workout yesterday while the Leafs rested.

Meanwhile, Coach Joe Primeau of Leafs came out with a brief statement dealing with published reports that he is resigning, as of the end of this season.

His statement said: "I am the coach of the hockey club and I expect to be the coach of the Maple Leafs until I am told differently by the management of the Maple Leafs."

Tuesday night Smythe said of the report: "First I've heard of it."

Although Dick Irvin felt Tuesday night's close fight was "just one of those games" he made it clear he thought Canadiens were widely outthought.

"When a goaltender looks three times for the puck in his net that's a tough break for the team trying to score," said Irvin.

N.H.L. Releases Dates For 6th And 7th Tilts

Montreal, April 19.—Sixth and seventh games in the current Stanley Cup playoff between Montreal Canadiens and Toronto Maple Leafs will be played at Montreal next Tuesday and possibly at Toronto next Thursday, if needed.

This was announced last night by a National Hockey League spokesman who stressed, however, that the Thursday date at Toronto is not definite.

Toronto leads the best-of-seven final 2-1 with the fourth game slated for Montreal tonight and the fifth at Toronto Saturday.

Houston, Tex. — Sal Belloise, 158, New York, outpointed Tommy Ramirez, 158, Corpus Christie, (10).

Barrie Coach Keeping His Fingers Crossed; Says Breaks Will Decide Eastern Junior Hockey Championship

Quebec, April 19.—Happy Emms, coach of Barrie Flyers who meet Quebec Citadels tonight in the third game of their Eastern Canada Junior hockey final, says the breaks will decide the winners of the best-of-seven series.

He said the break had worked for Flyers in the series' first two games which Barrie won 8-2, 6-4, and hoped for more of them in the next two games here tonight and Saturday.

"Citadels have a good club," he said. "They got better in the second game against us. Neither team is much better than the other and the break will decide it all."

Emms said he would ice the same team as in the first two games.

A record crowd of more than 14,000 is expected to watch tonight's game.

Citadels' assistant coach Kilby MacDonald said after a one-hour practice session that "the boys should be tougher from now on."

Although down 2-0 in the series, the Citadels seemed in good spirits and do not appear unduly worried by their early setbacks.

"Maybe that's a good thing," MacDonald said. "We'll have to win the next two games here. That will make the series a best-of-three affair. Barrie is in the drivers seat and it's all up to us."

"Barrie has been working harder than we have," he said. "Our boys were just a fraction of a second too late in passing and everything else they did."

Montreal Royals Blast Baltimore In Opener. While Ottawa Edges Out Springfield; Wings Down Toronto

Maybe Fred Saigh was a little hasty in sending Nippy Jones to Rochester. At least the St. Louis Cardinals owner must be giving that deal a second thought today.

What does Jones do in his first game with Rochester? Two homers good for three runs as the Red Wings whipped Toronto, 9-6.

The game was one of four that pried the lid off the International League's 68th consecutive season. In a day game Syracuse defeated Buffalo 6-3 while at night Ottawa edged Springfield 5-4 and Montreal whipped Baltimore 15-7.

Jones was the big guy in Rochester's nine-hit attack against two Toronto hurlers. The deciding runs, however, came in the eighth inning when the champion Red Wings jammed four tallies across the plate, giving reliever Johnny Yuhas the verdict over Elmer Singleton.

At Syracuse, the Chiefs also used a four-run eighth inning to turn defeat into victory. Art Hartley went the route for Syracuse, with a seven-hitter. Rudy Maracin took the loss.

Ottawa, replacing Jersey City in the league, won its first start with a three-run rally in the ninth to top Springfield. Held to three hits,

George Kell Sidelined For Ten Days Or More

Detroit, April 19.—George Kell, Detroit Tiger third baseman who finished second in the American League batting race last season, will be out of the lineup for another 10 days with an injured finger.

Kell's fractured ring finger on the right hand kept him out of Tuesday's opener. If the finger does not heal properly, a club spokesman said Kell may have to undergo surgery and will be lost for about three more weeks.

JEFFRIES DOWNS KING IN SCULLING RACE

Cambridge, Mass., April 19.—Dave Jeffries of the Union Boat Club of Boston defeated Jack King of Cambridge University (England) by five lengths in a one-mile sculling race last night on the Charles River. Jeffries, a recent Harvard oarsman covered the course in eight minutes, 16.8 seconds.

Detroit—Johnny Bratton, 140, Chicago, stopped Don Williams, 151, Worcester, Mass. (4) (non-title).

Braves Come Through With Rally To Dump Millionaires; Meet In Second Game Of Series Tonight

Sydney, N.S., April 19.—Valleyfield Braves defeated Sydney Millionaires 3-2 last night in the opening game of their best-of-seven Alexander Cup semi-finals.

Braves jumped into a 1-0 lead in the opening period but Millionaires, Maritime champions for the last four years, knotted it before the half-minute mark of the second.

The second game will be played here tonight.

Millionaires went into a temporary lead shortly after the halfway mark of the third period but two goals by Braves at 13:24 and 18:56 gave them the win.

Braves sank Millionaires before 3,172 spectators.

If Valleyfield wins tonight the series will shift to the Montreal Forum for the third game Sunday. If Millionaires square the series, the third game will be played here Saturday.

The winning goal came with a minute and four seconds of regulation time left when left-winger Jack Schmidt, uncovered in front of the Sydney cage, picked a wide-open net on Captain Jack Irvine's pass from the right boards. Sydney goalkeeper Nick Pisdodny, attempting to deflect the pass, was off-balance.

A Valleyfield ganging attack after five minutes of play drew first blood. Paul Larivee was the last to touch the puck as it deflected off a Sydney defender's skate into the twine.

Millionaires got back on even terms after 23 seconds of the second period when defenceman Dean MacBride roared down the right boards to plant a rising 15-foot shot over Leclerc's right elbow.

Millionaires gained their first margin at 11:53 of the final frame when Tom Rocey zipped a shot from the Brave blue line past Leclerc's cage. The puck bounded straight out and Don Whalen, breaking around the right side, slapped it over the surprised Valleyfield goaltender's right shoulder.

DODGERS OPTION PODBIELAN TO ROYALS
Brooklyn, April 19.—Brooklyn Dodgers yesterday announced that Clarence Podbielan, right-hand pitcher, has been optioned to Montreal Royals on a 24-hour recall. He was told the news after returning from Syracuse, N. Y., where his wife gave birth to a daughter.

Quebec's Jack Irvine worked it on a drifter play with Georges Bougie. Grabbing a short pass at the Sydney blue line, Irvine moved in deliberately in front of a back-skating Sydney rearward and picked the left-hand corner with a quick shot.

Cambridge, Mass., April 19.—(AP)—Cambridge University's superlatively smooth crew takes on Harvard, M.I.T., and Boston University at 1 1/4 miles tomorrow, and the Boston crew as favorites.

Cambridge's four-length victory over Yale last Saturday left all observers gasping. Harvard has seven of the eight men who rowed the Crimson to victory in the Grand Challenge Cup last year at the Henley Regatta, but it is not as far along yet in training as Cambridge.

The big international race on the Charles river will be held on Patriot's Day near where Paul Revere received the lantern signal 176 years ago Thursday warning of the approach of the British Army.

The Union Boat Club of Boston, in recognition of its 100th anniversary, is giving a Paul Revere bowl to the winner.

Cambridge Favored Over Three American Crews In International Boat Race On Charles River Today

No one thinks Cambridge can beat Harvard by four lengths, and if Harvard's captain were in shape, Harvard would probably be rated almost equal to the invaders. But Oliver Iselin, the big No. 3, is out with a respiratory infection. Coach Tom Boles moved John Atherton from bow back to Iselin's seat, and brought Clarence Asp from the junior varsity up to bow.

The British crew will be in peak form for the race. Harold Kickett, the tall and elegant coach of Cambridge, admitted before the Yale race his boys were not quite fully tuned up, but would be so for Harvard. It would be difficult to imagine a crew rowing more in unison, however, or with greater power and smoothness.

M.I.T. last year's Eastern sprint champion, and Boston U. are expected to fight it out for third and fourth place.

E. T. I. H. L. Holds Semi-Annual Meeting; Teams Report Good Year

The semi-annual meeting of the Eastern Townships Intermediate "A" Hockey League was held last night at the residence of Downing Bourassa, vice-president of the circuit.

The main item on the agenda was the discussion of operations during the past season, and at the same time to lay plans for the coming year. Eugene Lalonde, president of the loop, was in the chair and every team had representatives on hand.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and after a slight discussion, were adopted as read. Mr. Bourassa acted in the capacity of secretary owing to the absence of Mr. Boulanger. The financial report was given and the teams were more than satisfied with the report.

The question of referees during the playoffs was discussed with all members voicing their opinions regarding the matter. However, it was moved and seconded that the committee comprised of the executive, Mr. Lalonde, Mr. Bourassa and the secretary, had acted in good faith in the manner in which it had been handled.

All teams, with the exception of East Angus, reported their best season since joining the league. The club from the Paper Town was the only one to report a deficit for the season's operations.

C. Fortin proposed a vote of thanks to Mr. Bourassa for his untiring efforts during the year when he attended practically all of the out-of-door games. Before adjournment another motion thanking the executive was proposed.

Following the meeting Mr. Bourassa was host to the delegates at an informal luncheon. The next meeting will be held during the coming summer. Among those present were: F. Bouchard, Waterville; C. Fortin and A. Gravel, Maroz; B. Rowland, East Angus; B. Goulet, Windsor Mills; L. Lachance and M. Hudon, Sherbrooke.

Happy Chandler Ready To Resign From Job

New York, April 19.—(AP)—A. B. (Happy) Chandler, whose contract as Baseball Commissioner was not renewed, may resign within a week, the Associated Press learned today.

Chandler, who was to have been here Tuesday to hand out World Series trophies to the New York Yankees, spent the day in Washington instead. He then left for his home in Versailles, Ky.

Chandler was Senator from Kentucky when named Baseball Commissioner.

The Commissioner was refused a new contract by major-league owners last December and was turned down again last month in Miami, Fla. After the first rebuff, Chandler said he would stay in office every second of his contract, which runs until April, 1952.

Following the Miami meeting with the owners, however, he said he would resign if the moguls wanted him to. The owners have a screening committee busy now, searching for Commissioner possibilities.

Early Wynn And Bob Lemon Sound Warning That Cleveland Will Be Tough In American League Race

Early Wynn and Bob Lemon sound a warning that Cleveland will be a tough nut to crack in the American League.

Wynn's four-hitter in a 10-inning battle at Detroit yesterday, following Lemon's gaudy two-hit victory opening day, emphasize the class of the Indians' pitching staff. And Bobby Feller hasn't worked yet.

The big four of Lemon, Wynn, Feller and Mike Garcia rank with the best. All freshman manager Al Lopez needs is a solid left hander.

Wynn and Jim Hegan, his catcher, teamed up on the Tigers in yesterday's 4-2 victory. Hegan took care of the hitting with a homer and three singles.

After Hegan's homer tied the score in the ninth, the Tribe knocked out Dizzy Trout in the 10th. Ray Boone singled home Larry Doby with the winning run and Bob Kennedy scored the extra run on Pat Mullin's error.

Pitching was the big story with the defending champion New York Yankees, too. Eddie Lopat taunted the red-faced Boston Red Sox with 6 1/2 no-hit innings and beat them 6-1, allowing only two singles. Following Vic Raschi's opening day shutout, this deflated the Red Sox stock several points.

Bob Kuzava, lifted for a pinch hitter in the ninth, was the winner. Only 2,055 watched.

In fact the entire major league program of five games drew a total of only 20,661 with 15,145 of that at Yankee Stadium.

Jim Konstanty, key to the Phillies' repeat pennant hopes, failed in his first relief appearance of 1951 against Brooklyn. With one on and nobody out in the ninth, Konstanty let the game wriggle away on Duke Snider's tying triple and Jackie Robinson's winning single, 4-3.

Willie Jones' two homers and one by Dick Sisker, pennant clinching hero of 1950, provided all the Phil runs.

Leo Durocher's pennant time table was disrupted at Boston when Sam Jethroe homered with two on in the ninth for an 8-5 victory over New York Giants.

The Western teams in the National were not scheduled. In the American League a night game between the White Sox and Browns was rained out.

Fort Frances Wins Way Into Allan Cup Finals

Winnipeg, April 19.—Fort Frances Canadians swept into the Allan Cup final by whipping Nanaimo Clippers 11-5 last night to capture the Western Canada Senior Hockey Title.

The Western Ontario squad will meet either Owen Sound Mercury or Dolbeau Castors in the Allan Cup final to be played in the East.

Last night's victory gave Canadians the best-of-seven series with the Vancouver Island team by four goals to one. It also marked the first time a Fort Frances club has reached a Dominion final. The last two years Canadians were runners-up in the West.

Slim centreman Vern O'Donnell paced the Canadians' attack with two goals and two assists. His four-point effort was matched by defenceman Sambo Fedoruk with one goal and three assists. Johnny Irving and Frank Eisenzook each had two markers, while singletons went to Doc Johnson, Dunn Sampson, Rick Ricard and Ed Kliner. Willie Toninato had three assists.

Playing coach Eddie Shamlock and Andy Gloveshok bagged two goals apiece for Nanaimo. The other went to Crusher Conway.

There seemed little doubt as to the outcome of the game as Fort Frances took over 6-2 in the first period. The teams split two goals in the middle session, then Canadians outscored their opponents 4-2 in the final frame.
