HOLMES AND HIS CRIMES.

HOW THE DRAPELUD DISCOVERY WAS MADE IN TORONTO.

MORE GRIEVOUS DISCOVERIES MADE IN CHICAGO.

Detective Geyer Gives Up the Search for Howard Pitzel in Detroit.

Toronto, July 23.—The authorities to-day have been put in possession of a number of letters and documents which show that early in December of last year the authorities of Philadelphia were cognizant of the fact that Holmes had made away with the three Pitzel children.

The letters show that on December 15th, President Fouse, of the Fidelity Mutual Association, wrote to Dr. John Ferguson, of the Excelsior Life Insurance Company, this city, asking him to make enquiries with a view to finding out whether or not Holmes, with three children had come to Toronto.

Private Detective Hodgins was employed in the case and in a very short time found that they were in Philadelphia, but when they passed off as his wife, had stayed one day at the Walker House and several days at the Palmer House in October last; that the children had been kept at the Hotel Midway on the 25th of October, and that on the latter date Mrs. Pitzel, with her baby and her eldest daughter, Dessie, were at the Union House, also in this city, and that all the parties were in Philadelphia on that date.

This information was supplied to Mr. Fouse on December 22nd, and great surprise was expressed here that no immediate action was taken by the Philadelphia authorities.

The Toronto detective had no intimation that a murder had been committed in this city, until the morning when Detective Hodgins' report came to Toronto, all he did was to study Detective Hodgins' report. The morning after his arrival the press appealed to those who had let houses to parties who had occupied them a short time to communicate with the police. The man Ryves, of 18 St. Vincent Street, read this in the morning papers and promptly reported to Inspector Hall, of No. 2 Division, what he had learned from the request. In this way, and during the absence of Detective Geyer on a visit to Niagara Falls, the bodies were located.

Chicago, July 23.—The discovery of the bodies of the three children of the house of H. H. Holmes to-day a portion of a woman's wrapper, torn and stained, was found. The gown was of dark goods, with white trimming, and was found with several other dark spots resembling either iron rust or blood stains. The nature of the stains could not be determined and the dress was sent to police headquarters, where an analysis will be made. The discovery was made while workmen were digging near one of the walls in the basement. Hidden under the rubbish was a mass of broken crockery and old tinware was the dress. The house was surrounded all day by a curious crowd of sightseers. Numerous and urgent requests for admittance were made, but the police carefully guarded the doors and excluded the curious.

Detroit, Mich., July 23.—Detective Geyer, of Philadelphia, who is searching for the missing Howard Pitzel in Detroit this afternoon, and left in response to telegrams calling him to Indianapolis, where it is said certain developments have taken place in the case against Holmes for murder.

Chicago, July 23.—Arthur Manier, of 413 State Street, swore out a warrant this afternoon before Justice Richardson for the arrest of H. H. Holmes. The charge was murder, and Manier says he believes his aunt, Mrs. Julia Connor, was killed by Holmes between Aug. 11 and Nov. 1, 1893.

Chicago, July 23.—Mrs. Carrie Pitzel has made a statement to the H. H. Holmes has accused Pat Quinlan, the present janitor of the Holmes estate, 63rd and Wallace Streets, of the murder of Howard Pitzel, her son. This is the boy whom Detective Geyer is searching for in Detroit. Accusations against Holmes, however, are piling up, and it is now promised that warrants charging him with the murder of the Williams' sisters will also be issued.

Mrs. Pitzel's charge against Pat Quinlan came about in a singular manner. She arrived in Chicago on Sunday night last from Toronto. At that time she had in her pocket a letter addressed to 693 Sangamon Street, the residence of Eugene Hayward, to see her. While he was there Mrs. Pitzel told him that Holmes had told her in Philadelphia that he (Quinlan) had made away with her son. Quinlan talked with Mrs. Pitzel for half an hour, during which time she repeated the charge of Holmes that Quinlan had killed Howard Pitzel. Quinlan has made so many contradictory statements himself that his arrest is momentarily expected.

LANGDON MISSING.

A Trained Employee of the Wagner Palace Car Company Leaves Many Creditors.

Frank R. Langdon, manager of the Wagner Palace Car Company, has disappeared, and his disappearance has been missing since last Wednesday, Superintendent Wager, of the eastern division of the company, arrived in town yesterday, accompanied by an assistant, and examining the company's accounts. When seen by a Herald representative yesterday afternoon Superintendent Wager said:

"Frank R. Langdon commenced as clerk in my office about eight years ago, and remained in it for two years. We then made a change in the Montreal agency, and promoted him to that position, which he has held ever since, up to the present time. During those six years as agent Langdon fulfilled his duties to the entire satisfaction of the company, and was counted one of our best employees."

"On the 17th of this month he went out, as was his custom, to make a short tour of inspection, which as a rule was of from eighteen to twenty-four hours' duration, no further notice being given than Plattsburgh, N. Y. On this occasion, however, he extended his trip to Troy, N. Y., and telegraphed his clerk, Mr. Connors, that he would be back the next day."

"On the following day, however, Mrs. Langdon received a note from her husband to the effect that he was in deep financial troubles, and was going to put an end to himself by jumping overboard from the ship."

"We heard of it on the 19th, and it being in my district I came down here to investigate the matter thoroughly."

"He had the entire confidence of the officials until the 17th, since which time he has been non-existent."

"I find he has imposed upon the confidence of every acquaintance he has had here, and has borrowed from everybody. His personal obligations amount to

RESULT OF NEGLIGENCE.

GRAND TRUNK EMPLOYEES BLAMED FOR THE TERRIBLE COLLISION AT CRAIG'S ROAD ON THE 9TH INST.

The Coroner's Jury Render Their Verdict—The Block System Recommended by the Jury.

(Special to the Herald.)

Quebec, July 23.—The coroner's jury which investigated the Grand Trunk Railway disaster at Craig's Road station brought in the following verdict at four o'clock this afternoon:

"The jury declare that Louis Napoleon Mercier, priest, and Charles Bedard on the ninth day of July came to their death from a shock to the nervous system by a shock between two trains on the Grand Trunk, in motion in the same direction, on the line of the said company at Craig's Road station. Moreover, the jury declare that the said shock between the said trains was the result of negligence and carelessness of the employees of the said company then in charge of one of them, that is, that the said employees, that is, the jury declare that the block system, as actually in force on certain railroad lines, had been applied on the Grand Trunk line, and that the said employees of the said company should have their sight examined at least once a year by a competent specialist. The jury regret that it has been proved that Driver McLeod, of the said train, had bought a quart of beer at Arthabaska Station, and this against the rules of the said company."

That is the whole verdict as rendered by the jurors, who have been sitting for two days. A Grand Trunk officer said to your correspondent that there was no need of such a long inquest to make the company settle the claims, as it was understood that all reasonable ones would be paid on demand. For instance the following claims have been settled amicably: Allard, who is 80 years old, was satisfied with the modicum of $10; Miss Sylvester received $100; Madame Morin $75, Mr. J. B. Cayer $200.

Lawyer Bedard, who has followed the inquest with much interest, and who is daily becoming more interested, says that he is bringing an action against the company in behalf of some of his fellow-clients, wounded passengers of both Dionne's and McCabe's trains.

Several of the victims of the Craig's Road accident have so far recovered as to be able to leave for their homes. Amongst these are Mr. F. Cayer, his wife and daughter, Miss Sylvester and Mr. Allard.

ONTARIO HAY FAMINE.

Farmers Will Ask Aid From the Government to Import Hay.

Toronto, July 23.—The deplorable condition of farmers throughout the province is daily becoming more and more acute. Meetings of farmers are being held at various points, and petitions prepared for transmission to Ottawa asking the Dominion Government to help farmers to bring hay from the Northwest to feed cattle. In a great part of the northern district there is no hay at all, and as freight rates on hay are high, without Government aid it would be impossible for the farmer to keep cows through the winter. In some parts of the province farmers are taking their cattle into the woods and shooting them.

A nine-year-old boy named Albert Brissette, living at 9 Grand Street, tells a painful story of an old man's deplorable condition. About four o'clock yesterday afternoon he was standing at the entrance of the C.P.R. elevators, when he met the old man who invited him to go fishing in his boat. The boy accepted, and the two of them rowed over to the little island below the Hotel de la Reine. Here the old man made several immoral proposals, and finally by a ruse rowed away, leaving the boy alone on the island. The boy remained there for an hour, and then, failing to attract attention, tried to wade to St. Helen's Island. He was caught in the current, however, and losing his footing was carried to a big stone, to which he clung in desperation. He fortunately attracted the attention of Prof. Lessard, of the swimming bath, who rescued him from his dangerous position. The boy does not know the name of the old man, but says he can identify him. A sharp lookout for the aged sinner will be kept to-day.

Last Night's Bonheurville Excursion. The Richelieu and Ontario Navigation Company's first moonlight excursion of the season took place last evening on the steamer Columbian. It was a huge success, the magnificent boat being well filled with the crowd obviously enjoying itself to the full of its bent. There was not any moonlight, it is true, but that was a most insignificant detail. An orchestra at the stern of the boat and a piano forward made things pleasant and the music musically inclined. The Columbian touched at Longueuil on the way down to Boucherville, where a large number of young men and maidens joined the party. A large number of the party, however, made the trip with the late W. S. Sterling of Halifax. Many of the most beautiful presents displayed. Among them were the following: A handsome set of cutlery from Mr. and Mrs. Hartnell, a coffee service and an egg salver from the officers, etc. of R. M.S. Parfais, a beautiful smoker's companion and table from Captain Ritchie, of the Parisian. The gifts of Messrs. H. A. and A. THE IKON.

CHAPTER

I saw it in a dirty little shop in a dirty little Houndsditch street. The proprietor was a Russian Jew—an ancient man, in ancient rags, and ancient dirt, with anxiety writ large all over him, and eyes which looked at you with that piteous, yearning, glaring something which one sees in the eyes of a famished cur.

"What do you want for this?" I asked. For a moment the man was silent, then answered in a husky, wheezy, servile voice, with an accent which was indistinguishable.

"That is an Ikon—a holy picture." "So? I thought you were a Hebrew." "That is true; I am a Hebrew. The picture is not mine. It is my wife's."

"Is your wife, then, not of your faith?" He hesitated. "Oh, yes, she is of my faith; oh yes! She is a good woman, my wife; I have Hebrews there was such things as Ikons."

"The old man was still." "Did you bring it from Russia?" "My wife, she brought it from Russia; oh, yes."

"What will you take for it?" I suddenly became conscious, on turning round, that at the old man's elbow stood a boy—one of those stunted Jew boys, whose ages are not decipherable from their appearance. In size he was but a child; so far as his features were concerned, he might have been any boy, whose ages are not decipherable from their appearance.

"I am the proprietor. Oh! yes." "Then will you be so good as to ask that young gentleman to take himself away. I prefer to deal only with the principal."

"Well, will you take that ten shillings?" "Mien Gott, my friend, do I not tell you it is my wife's? It is not mine to sell."

"Reserve that sort of thing for some one else. What is it in the shop for if it is not to be sold?" "I thought the boy desired was before him, art, readily consented to sit for him as a beggar. The next day at the studio, Delacroix placed a tunic round his shoulders, put a stout staff in his hand, and made him pose as if he were resting on the steps of an ancient Roman temple. In this attitude he was discovered by one of the artist's favourite pupils, who, struck by the surpassing excellence of the model, congratulating his master on having, at last, found exactly what he wanted. Naturally concluding the model had only just been brought in from some church porch, he seized an opportunity, when his master's eyes were turned to the model, to slip into the beggar's hand. Baron Rothschild thanked him with a look, and kept the money. The pupil soon quitted the studio. In answer to enquiries made, Delacroix told the Baron that this young man possessed talent, but no means. Shortly afterwards the young fellow received a letter stating that charity bears interest, and that the accumulated interest on the amount he had so generously given to one whom he supposed to be a beggar was represented by the sum of ten thousand francs, which was lying at his disposal at the Rothschild office.

"What do you call a fair price? A pound is twenty shillings more than it is worth."

"Oh, my friend, you do not know what you talk about. It is an Ikon, a holy picture. If we were in Russia, a goldmine would not buy it. There is nothing in Russia they value half so much, my friend, no!"

"You see, we're not in Russia, I ask you again, what is your idea of a fair price?" He searched my face with his hungry eyes, trying with might and main to learn to what extent I might be bleedable.

"Ten pounds; that is a very little price." "Do you think I'm a fool? Keep your picture. I wish you a good day."

"How much you give?" "I have told you—a pound." He gasped; then, as I made again as if to go, wheezed out: "Two pounds."

"At that moment the boy, reappearing in the doorway, shrieked out some more of his gibberish. I was conscious that, as he did so, the old man started trembling. That decided me. I produced the required two pounds, and taking the picture with my own hands from the nail on which it hung, marched out with it into the street. When I got outside I perceived that the boy was eyeing me from the other side of the way. As I walked off I began to be haunted by an uncomfortable feeling that I had behaved like an idiot, and to suspect that I had been made the victim of a neat little comedy, which had not been performed for the first time for my benefit, nor for the last; to wonder if that ingenious youth might not have been engaged for the special purpose of inducing a would-be purchaser to imagine that the article which he wished to buy was the one thing which ought not to be sold.

On reaching a thoroughfare which was frequented by omnibuses something occurred, however, which caused me to doubt if in so suspecting I might not after all have been wrong. Turning to look for a vehicle which journeyed in my direction, I saw only a few paces behind me, the identical boy. That he had followed me was obvious. When I stopped he stopped, and standing still, stared at me bodily. Just then an empty hansom came strolling by, and jumping in I drove straight home. The horse which I had one, the distance was considerable, but as I alighted the first thing I observed, not fifty yards away, was that same boy. How he had managed to keep the cab in sight was more than I could tell that he had done so, however, the fact of his presence made evident. I said and dismissed the cab. As I entered my dining room I saw through the window the stunted Jew boy staring past the railings. Pausing at the foot of the steps, he evidently made a mental note of the number which was on the door.

THE DEMERS ENQUETE.

Evidence of a Fellow Workman of the Prisoner. The Demers enquete was continued yesterday.

The first witness was George Mahon, 25 years of age, living in a tenement house, workman at Demers at Mr. Lactimer's carriage factory. They used to speak to each other very often. On the morning of the murder they were both at the workshop ten minutes before seven o'clock. Demers arrived there in a cab.

There was nothing, however, in the appearance of the day of the murder, anything extraordinary had happened. Usually the workmen left their tools in the workshop, and Demers like the others had left his there. These tools were usually very sharp. When Demers arrived in the cab he had with him a fellow-workman named Desormaux.

In the afternoon of the day of the murder, Oscar Demers came to the workshop for his brother, the prisoner, and informed him of what had occurred. Mahon stated that he had borrowed a knife from Demers, but he returned it to him before the murder. Witness said that he had never noticed anything strange in the Demers household. He had been there, however, by Demers himself that Mrs. Demers had reproached the accused for having dined with another woman. Demers denied this accusation, and he referred his wife to Mahon, who could have told her that Demers had dined with him on the occasion in question. Demers had never spoken to the witness in such a manner as to lead him to infer that he had grown tired of Mrs. Demers. The latter, however, had objected to one of the prisoner's friends, a man named Proteau. She stated that Proteau was leading her husband astray; Demers had told this to the witness.

Miss Donalds Demers, sister of the prisoner, residing at St. Charles, was the next witness. Her brother, Oscar, was the first to inform her of the tragedy; this he had done by telephone. She had lived with her brother for five weeks some time ago. She had always found Mrs. Demers attentive, though she was very reserved in manner. She made few friends, but witness did not believe that she had any enemies. She seldom left the house; and when she did it was to go to a store or to mass. Witness said that there was nothing in the house of Demers to tempt robbers or thieves, because it was furnished in a very ordinary way. Demers, in the opinion of witness, did not fear her husband, though she had spoken to her of threats of violence made by him. The sister never reproached Demers, nor did she ever refer to the question. When she returned to her home she told everyone that her brother and his wife lived well and contentedly together. Demers had told her once that his wife spoke much money. Demers was in the habit of changing her dress in the morning after breakfast. It often happened that Mrs. Demers did not breakfast with her husband.

The enquete was then adjourned till to-day. When buying the new Interlining Fibre Chamot's looking for the red label bearing the name on every yard.

A Rich Return for a Gift. Dining on one occasion with Baron James de Rothschild, Eugene Delacroix, the famous French painter, confessed that for some time past he had vainly sought a head to serve as a model for that of a beggar in a painting on which he was then engaged, and that, as he gazed at his two guests, the idea suddenly struck him that the very head he desired was before him. Rothschild, being a great admirer of art, readily consented to sit for him as a beggar. The next day at the studio, Delacroix placed a tunic round his shoulders, put a stout staff in his hand, and made him pose as if he were resting on the steps of an ancient Roman temple. In this attitude he was discovered by one of the artist's favourite pupils, who, struck by the surpassing excellence of the model, congratulating his master on having, at last, found exactly what he wanted. Naturally concluding the model had only just been brought in from some church porch, he seized an opportunity, when his master's eyes were turned to the model, to slip into the beggar's hand. Baron Rothschild thanked him with a look, and kept the money. The pupil soon quitted the studio. In answer to enquiries made, Delacroix told the Baron that this young man possessed talent, but no means. Shortly afterwards the young fellow received a letter stating that charity bears interest, and that the accumulated interest on the amount he had so generously given to one whom he supposed to be a beggar was represented by the sum of ten thousand francs, which was lying at his disposal at the Rothschild office.

These fritters are dainty for company breakfast or luncheon.

Bread of Lamb with Peas—This part of the lamb is cheaper than other portions, and is only has this to recommend it, but is really adaptable to many delicate and palate-pleasing dishes, one of which is the following: Trim off the skin, and part of the fat from the breast and neck, and cut into small pieces, about the size of a nut, and put in a saucepan with equal parts of vinegar and sugar with half a teaspoonful of ground cloves tied in a cloth; pour boiling hot over the beads. Preserved Blackberries—Select the largest and finest ripe of each stock to weigh them, add to each pound of berries one pound of sugar; spread them out separately on flat dishes, sprinkle with a sugar, and stand aside for one hour, then put them in a porcelain lined kettle, with all the juice that may have exuded; stand the kettle over the fire until the berries are slightly heated, then take them out, one by one, with a spoon and spread on the same flat dishes. When all are out, boil the syrup rapidly for five minutes, then add the berries; stand on the back part of the fire, where they can not possibly boil, for about fifteen minutes. If they seem to be about to break, take instantly from the fire and stand aside to slightly cool. Then fill into tumblers or jars and stand aside until perfectly cool and fasten with tissue paper.

TRADE AND COMMERCE FINANCIAL.

Tuesday, July 23. There was more animation on the local Stock Exchange to-day, and on the whole business was pretty well distributed. The market opened strong and closed weak. This was particularly noticeable in connection with Gas. Up to 12 o'clock there was a good demand for the stock, and it was firm at 20 1/2 yesterday's closing price. The appearance of a liberal selling order later, however, created an easier tone and the last sale, a block of 500 shares, was made at 20 1/2.

There was a good steady demand for New and old Street Ry., and both closed at substantial gains, notwithstanding the easiness in the general market. Toronto Railway also came in for a good share of attention, 175 shares changing hands at the close.

Bank stocks were dull, though 273 shares of People's stock, the stock going at 5 points lower than yesterday. Merchants sold 1-2 point better.

The money market is unchanged, the rate for call loans still being 5 per cent.

The highest, lowest and closing prices, total sales and net changes from yesterday's closing prices for actual sales in the local market were as follows:

Table with columns: Sales, High, Low, Close, Chege. Lists various stocks like 275 Gas, 175 Toronto Ry., etc.

STREET RAILWAY EARNINGS. The "Greatest Show on Earth" has proved to be an important factor in the earnings of the Street Railway. The returns Monday of the cash and ticket sales showed a total of $1,100,000, an increase over the same day last year of $2,119,72.

Business all last week was brisk and substantial increases are seen in comparison with the earnings at the same period a year ago.

Following are the daily returns for the past week, and the increases over the corresponding days in 1894:

BRAZILIAN EXCHANGE. New York, July 23.—To-day's quotation here for Brazilian Exchange is 11 1/2-16.

THE DAY IN WALL STREET. New York, July 23.—The Evening Post in its financial article to-day says: Yesterday's movement of recovery extended well into to-day's market and the technicians who "went short" of the railway list a fortnight since, on the theory that the break in the Industrials means 1893 again, provided a handsome share of the buying orders. It is, perhaps, worth mentioning that all the dividend paying Granger stocks passed to-day above the high price level reached in the May advance.

The explosion of "bull sentiment" eleven weeks ago came largely on the remarkable grain prospects of the spring. It ended instantly with the news of drought. It is not surprising, therefore, that especially after recent market performances, that similar signs should now be again appearing. London, too, is cautiously covering its shorts; but this, it should be observed, is not a recovery, but a return to the normal level of the buying orders. It is, perhaps, worth mentioning that all the dividend paying Granger stocks passed to-day above the high price level reached in the May advance.

The Industrials, as it happened, also recovered perceptibly to-day, the short interest doing yeoman work in this direction to-day.

THE LONDON SITUATION. New York, July 23.—The Evening Post's special financial cablegram from London to-day is as follows: The stock markets were irregular to-day; consols, colonials and foreigners were flat; Americans and mines were very strong; the former closing at the best. London's market was very quiet, but there was a strong demand for this on the eve of the settlement, which is to-morrow, looks well. Operations here, however, are mainly confined to bear covering. The new Brazilian loan is quoted at a small discount. It had not an enthusiastic reception.

NEW YORK GOSSIP. Messrs. J. S. Bache & Co., New York, send by direct private wire to their Montreal manager, C. D. Monk, 16 St. Jacques Street:

William Strauss, treasurer of the Minneapolis and St. Louis Company, is in receipt of a letter from one of the officers of the line stating that the wheat yield in the company's territory is considerably above the average.

Chicago special: It is rumored that negotiations are under way for the absorption of the United States Leather Company of its only important competitor, and that the issue of Leather preferred stock is being considered as a part of the scheme.

Philadelphia special: An officer of the Fidelity Trust Company says that counsel for that company has been in communication with Chicago Gas officials and Attorney-General Maloney with respect to the pending hearing before Chancery. Counsel, however, will say nothing about gas affairs.

It is reported from excellent authority that Mr. H. O. Havemeyer during the latter part of last week bought Sugar. Advice from Cuba are that there will be not over 500,000 tons against 1,000,000 last year and the German crop will also be short. This is not surprising in view of low prices for beets. There is no money in it for the farmer. The consumption of refined sugar has become enormous and surprises sugar men. The finest grades are being used by people who have heretofore used the lowest grades.

The managers of the Chicago Gas Company are at work on plans to permit the company to pay dividends and remove the legal objections of the Attorney-General. It is said that the plan has been matured, in fact, the business of the company has continued large. Earnings are about 5 per cent.

The buying of Chicago Gas is stated to be from sources which have usually been looked upon as reliable. Brokers representing some of the directors have been very steady buyers in the last few days. We hear that the Attorney-General has offered to the company a charter, under which the gas business is consolidated form. Mr. Benedict is in the street to-day, and the street attaches importance to buying orders which brokers report to be coming from him. Chicago special: Attorney-General Maloney, and attorney representing the Fidelity Trust Company, of Philadelphia, gave the affairs generally. It is stated that plan of reorganization is under consideration by the insiders. One of the reports current to-day was that an organization to take the bonds by issue of 50,000,000 preferred stock, to be given in exchange for bonds. We give this for what it is worth, we do not believe this report is correct.

Negotiations going on to absorb only competitor to United States Leather Company, the recent increase in stock is partly for this purpose. We are great bulls on the property.

NEW YORK STOCKS.

Boody, McLELLAN & Co., advise R. Meredith as follows: "There has been excellent buying of the Granger stocks, and we think that Northwest, which has not advanced as much as the others, is one of the best stocks belonging to this list, and ought to be a good purchase. We also think Missouri Pacific should advance. We regard the M. K. T. second bonds as one of the cheapest issues now selling at the New York Stock Exchange. After August 1st next they will be a regular four per cent. mortgage bond, and we believe them to be safe. During the three years ending August 1st they have been an income bond in accordance with the terms of reorganization three years ago. They have paid during this time two per cent., the rate of interest being duly optional with the Board of Directors. On account of the very large increase which the road has made in earnings the last year, many thought they would pay the August coupon, and when it was found they would not, it produced a decline in the bonds from about 63 to 60. There has been good buying of the bonds of late. The road is now controlled by the Standard Oil people, and is in excellent repute."

Ticker gossip from R. Meredith: The Grangers were pre-eminently the feature of yesterday's stock market, with an enormous activity in C. B. and Q. There was nothing new to account for the abrupt appearance of Quincy and Rock Island, as leaders of the stock market for the day, as to the condition of corn yesterday were simply a repetition of the favorable news which has come from the west. It is something of a relief to the commission houses to find the railway list forging into some prominence, while the industrial group of stocks is losing its abnormal activity. Tenacious coal and iron seems to be recovering from the effect of a recent attack, and most speculators consider a rally in the United States Leather stocks about due, although the last named shares have not suffered a loss in proportion to the extent of the bearish assertions and opinions, equal to that visited upon the other Industrials. Yesterday's vigorous movement against the speculative bears has succeeded in throwing into the shade all questions involving in the possible further export of gold.

COMMERCIAL.

Tuesday, July 23. J. S. Bache & Co.'s Chicago letter to-day said: "Board of Trade markets were dull and slower to-day, more as a result of local selling pressure in absence of outside support than from any weak features in the commercial situation. Wheat opened 5-8c to 3-4c lower, declined 3-8c on cool, dry weather in the Northwest and lower cables, but gradually recovered 7-8c on Bradstreet figures, and finally closed 1 to 1-1/2c decline owing to small export clearances and marked absence of any public speculative interest in the market. The small receipts in primary markets, especially at winter wheat points, and the increased inquiry for milling wheat from interior indicate that any serious disappointment in spring wheat yield would cause a rapid advance next month, and it must be borne in mind that it is on the spring wheat outlook that most of the sensational advances take place. "Corn by sample ruled about 1-4c higher on rather light receipts, but futures were dull and weak under local professional selling pressure. "Oats by sample were in sharp request from city feed dealers, and brought one cent advance, and shipped 1-4c to 1-3/4c higher than yesterday, but the speculative trade was quiet, and futures were featureless. "Provisions opened lower, and closed weaker. Hogs sold 15c lower. The country sold and purchased of ribs, and there was no demand for lard, although cables were a trifle higher, and a fair cash demand for meats was reported. "The car receipts of grain in Chicago to-day were: Wheat, 71, contract 7; corn, 298, contract 26; oats, 138, contract 10; and 70 cars. "The estimated receipts in Chicago to-morrow are: Wheat, 83 cars; corn, 120 cars, and oats, 70 cars. "Buda Pesth, July 23.—The official returns show that the harvest does not exceed the average, but is equal to it. For 1895 the amount of blighted wheat is from 10 to 30 per cent. The autumn corn has been reaped in many districts, and there has been no complaint as to its quality. "Minnesota, July 23.—The reports of fruit and vegetable crops in the Red River country, North Dakota, are not serious enough to have become a feature in the local trade. Smutted fields have been found here and there, but the great majority of the fields in the Red River valley are in good condition, and while more detailed reports from the territory affected are looked for, there is little anxiety in the trade as yet. "Milwaukee—Closing—67 3-8c cash, 68 5-8c Sept. "Duluth—Closing—10 1/2 hard, 68 1-2c cash; No 1 northern, 68c cash. "Toledo—Closing—71 1-4c wash; 70 1-2c Sept. "St. Louis—Closing—66 5-8c to 70 5-8c Sept. "New York—Closing—Wheat, 71 1-2c July, 71 3-8c Sept., 75 5-8c Dec.; corn, 48 3-8c July, 49 1-4c Dec.

Grain—There is no special change in the market, and prices keep about the same. Cables are quoted on about yesterday's basis with little business doing. In the west business is slow, and advices say that there is a little less offering. The demand for peas is slow but prices are well maintained, and 72c to 78c in the range. Canadian peas in Liverpool are quoted at 6s 1 1/2-2. Wheat, No. 1 hard, Nominal. No. 2 hard, Nominal. Corp. duty paid, Nominal. Peas, per 50 lbs. in store, 72c to 73c. Flour—There was evidently a little better feeling in the flour market to-day, but no actual change has occurred. Manitoba millers reported business in flour bakers at 4 1/2c, and patents at 4 1/2c. Ontario flours are still very dull, but prices keep about steady at the recent decline. Straight rollers, $4.10 to $4.25. Extra, bags, 0.00 to 0.00. Superfine, 0.00 to 0.00. Prices paid in the country at 4.00 to 4.50. Strong bakers, Man., best brands, 4.35 to 4.50. Spring patents, Man., 0.00 to 0.00. Winter patents, Ont., 0.00 to 4.50. Standard, per bush, 4.10 to 4.20. Feed—The demand continues of the same liberal volume both for bran and shorts, and prices remain as firm as ever. Stocks are small. Bran, $17.00 to $17.50. Shorts, 15.00 to 20.00. Moulins, 21.50 to 23.00.

A PRIVATE CABLE TO-DAY SAID: "WEATHER UNSETTLED."

A special from Columbus, Ohio, said: "The state weekly crop report says: 'Rains in all parts of the state are improving all crops. In the northern wheat is being threshed. The yield is better than anticipated last week. In bottom lands corn will be heavy. Wheat threshing in middle and southern portion of state is in progress with indications of light yield.'"

WINTER WHEAT.

Ingersoll, July 23.—Offerings to-day were 4,142 boxes of June and July wheat. Salesmen generally refused 8 1/2c. Market quiet.

BUT—THERE IS REALLY NO CHANGE IN THE SITUATION.

The winter wheat movement is the consideration just now with that part of the trade which is quickest usually to appreciate the important speculative motive. The Chicago Herald says: "Last week's winter wheat arrivals, 931,000 bush, were the smallest for the same period since 1883, smaller even than in 1890, when the winter wheat yield was only 255,000,000 bush; less than half last year's, and about one-third those for the same week in 1891. There remains yet some skepticism to satisfy before the figures can have their full influence; then it will be the factor with everybody. It remains to be shown that the small movement is not due to any lateness of the harvest, or to July rains. It will take the rest of July, and perhaps week or two of August to settle those uncertainties. With answers ready for those uncertainties, then the winter wheat receipts will be each morning the first matter to be inquired about. There is the other side of this consideration, of course. If this last week of July shows, as was the case in 1883, great increase in the receipts, the important bull reliance at the moment will be gone, and the believers in astonishing winter wheat scarcity will be in a bad plight."

HERE ARE THE FIGURES FOR THE THIRD WEEK OF JULY FOR THE FIVE WINTER WHEAT POINTS.

WARRANT FOR HOLMES

CHICAGO AUTHORITIES WILL ARREST HIM FOR MURDER.

FURTHER TRACES OF VICTIMS BEING FOUND IN THE "CASTLE."

The Case in Toronto Being Investigated—Working on the Defence.

Chicago, July 23.—H. H. Holmes was charged with the crime of murder in the city of Chicago today. A warrant for his arrest on that charge will be sworn out by A. Miller, nephew of Julia L. Connor, of Muscatine, Iowa. Holmes will be charged with having murdered Mrs. Connor some time between the first of August and the first of November, 1892. The warrant will be placed in the hands of Inspector Fitzpatrick by Mr. Miller and while it cannot be served at the present time it will be acted upon the instant that Holmes is freed from the charges pending against him in Philadelphia.

That Mrs. J. L. Connor is dead is certain. Holmes yesterday admitted the woman was no more, but as usual he tried to shift the blame on someone else. Almost equally certain is it that Mrs. Connor's daughter, Gertrude, is not in the land of the living. Holmes says he does not know what has become of her, and that in itself is practically an admission she has been made away with. The fact that Holmes admits Mrs. Connor's death is not known to the authorities in Philadelphia. He made the admission yesterday to a man who, with District Attorney Graham, was closeted with him in the Moyamensing penitentiary. This is his statement: "Mrs. Connor got into trouble and a Chicago doctor performed an operation. The job was a bungling one and the woman died."

This is the first light shed on the case since Mrs. Connor disappeared in 1893.

IN HOLMES' DEFENCE.

Toronto, July 23.—Detective Cuddy is quietly working up details of evidence as the Federal case, and in his search he has been able to gather a number of minor facts, which, when put together, will enable the authorities to account for the whole of the movements of Prisoner Holmes while in Toronto.

The prisoner's friends are not idle, and it is certain that a vigorous defence will be made should the trial take place here, unless in the meantime Holmes should make a confession, which is not at all likely.

In addition to a private detective who made enquiries in this city last week in Holmes' interest, it is thought there have been looking up certain points in connection with the visit of Hatch and the alleged ally of the prisoner.

Should Holmes not be indicted for murder at an early date in Philadelphia, the Crown will apply for his extradition, and endeavor to have him brought to Toronto in time to stand trial at the autumn assizes.

Liberal Rally Tonight—The Speakers.

The Hon. Mr. Marchand, leader of the Liberal Opposition in the Quebec Legislature, has written that he will be present at the mass meeting to be held on Wednesday night in the Roller Skating rink, St. Maurice Street, for the ratification of the nomination of Dr. Guerin. Among the other speakers will be the Hon. James McShane, R. Dandurand, W. A. Weir and R. Lemieux.

POLICE COMMITTEE.

Chairman and Chief to Award the Coal Contracts.

The Police Committee met yesterday. Ald. Robert presiding. A resolution of condolence with the family of the late Ald. Kennedy was passed.

Tenders for the winter's supply of coal were opened. 250 tons are wanted and 20 tenders were received. The prices were all low, Scotch coal, $1.10; soft coal, $1.35; egg, $1.50. It was decided to have the awarding of contracts to the chairman and the superintendent. Ald. Jacobs suggested that the contracts be given, as in other committees, to those dealers who were in the wards represented by the members of the committee.

A NEW VAUDREUIL TRAIN.

An exceedingly handsome train left Bonaventure Depot yesterday for Vaudreuil under the care of Conductor Harris and Engineer J. Hebert. It consisted of baggage car, two first-class, one second class, ladies' first class, and first class smoking carriages. The cars are painted a Tuscan red, giving them a very beautiful finish and their appointments render the train one of the most comfortable which has ever run on the line.

The train is excellent, the deck lights being all moveable and the acute double lights will illuminate the carriages brightly in the evening. The wheels are fitted with the Moseley frictionless tubular bearing, requiring no grease or no waste packing. The fittings of the cars are mahogany and the arm rests silver-plated. The steps of the carriages reach within about a foot of the ground and thus render embarking or disembarking at wayside stations a much safer and more easily accomplished process than the old style. The ladies' car is magnificently upholstered in crimson plush and with its perfect fittings and nice panels presents a specially tasteful appearance.

Each of the first class carriages is said to cost about $4,000. The train will make five round trips daily, leaving Bonaventure station at 10:15 a.m., 1:20, 6:15, 9:05 and 11:25 p.m.

THE HARBOR BOARD.

At the weekly meeting of the Harbor Commissioners yesterday Mr. Andrew Allan presided in the continued absence of the president, Mr. Bulmer, who, however, expects to be able to attend the next meeting.

The secretary reported that the shipping firms whom he had been asked to call upon, with reference to the employment of a few additional pilots, were desirous of meeting the views of the Commissioners and were considering how they could best do so.

Letters from the Port Warden and several ship agents were read asking information as to the depth of the water at the various wharves, so as they could know how deep to load.

The engineer submitted a plan giving the results of recent testing which was ordered to be posted up in the harbor office for the information of all concerned.

In answer to enquiries as to why the water was so very low, he said that Lake Ontario and the Ottawa had not been so low as they were at present since 1872, when the water here was as low as it is now, namely, 25 feet 7 inches in the channel.

Pear was expressed that it would still fall very much, unless plentiful rains came. The chief engineer reported that the building of the new tug Aberdeen was progressing slowly but favorably, and that the ship channels from here to Quebec seemed to be in excellent condition as to standing up well.

ST. ANN'S WARD.

An Unfounded Rumor of Mr. Connaughton's Disqualification.

It was rumored at the City Hall yesterday that Mr. Bernard Connaughton, one of the candidates running for alderman for St. Ann's Ward, was not qualified. Mr. Connaughton, being an expropriation commissioner, was said to come under article 24, §2, Vic. cap. 73, of the revised city charter, which says: "No one shall be qualified to be elected as alderman who has any contract with the city or who is surety for any such contract or who is in any way accountable for the city revenue, or in the employ of the city." It was stated that Mr. Connaughton was by this clause disqualified. When an inquiry it was found that he had resigned from the Board of Commissioners on February 20th, as the work for which he was engaged, namely Commissioners Street and Notre Dame Street West, was in progress, he being a commissioner would not disqualify a candidate, as they are not civic employes, but receive their appointments from the Superior Court.

The ward is now divided as to the favor with which the two candidates are received. The Griffintown division is strongly in favor of Mr. D. Gallery, but Mr. Connaughton's popularity is greater than that of his opponent of the opposite side of the canal in Point St. Charles.

THE LAW REACHES THE CABBLE.

One of the Wharf Offenders Resists Arrest and is Properly Fined.

The article in the Herald of Saturday morning calling attention to the disgraceful conduct of the carters at the Fisheries and Grain Company's Toronto boat wharf, foot of McGill Street, has evidently awakened the first to realize that they have some duty to perform for the benefit of visitors and citizens.

Monday evening when the boat came in the usual disgraceful scene commenced, but it was quickly wiped in the street by Constable Connors who, without a moment's hesitation, grabbed the ringleader, a hackman named Timothy Gleason. Tim did not appreciate the "beats" interference and proceeded to knock him out in the back of the head. The constable held in a twinkling the pair were rolling in the dust. Other constables came to the rescue and finally Tim was gathered in.

Yesterday the Deputy Recorder fined the belligerent jehu $10 and costs on two months hard labor.

SPACE FOR CATTLE.

The rule respecting cattle space on board ship, revised by recent order-in-council reads as follows: "No cattle carried on the upper or spar deck, or on any other deck must be given a space of 2 feet 8 inches clear in width by 8 feet clear in length, each, and not less than 6 feet 3 inches in height (but pens for sheep shall not be less than 7 feet in height, divided as follows: 'Fat' cattle 3 feet 6 inches in height each), and in no case shall more than four head of cattle be allowed in each pen, except at the end of a row, where five may be allowed together, provided, however, that not more than 1,000 pounds weight or under commonly known as 'stickers' may be carried in a pen instead of four fat cattle. As regards space for sheep, not more than eight or ten sheep will be counted equal to one fat ox, according to the discretion of the inspector. Cows in calf are to be given the same space as fat oxen."

FIRE AT L'ASSOMPTION.

Early Saturday morning a fire started in the back warehouse of A. Lasage's general store at L'Assomption. It was discovered the flames had spread and a strong hold on the premises, and the whole building and contents were quickly reduced to a mass of smoking ruins. The fire broke out quickly on the spot, and finding the warehouse practically doomed turned their attention to the front store, which was threatened owing to a connecting building along which the flames were making their way. This low building was cut down and the contents of the front store and dwelling above were saved. The fire was eventually the main building escaped injury except by water from the two serviceable little hand fire engines which did good work. Damage was done to the extent of $1,000, fully covered by insurance. The brigade is negotiating for the purchase of a steam fire engine in the near future.

An Appeal to the Episcopate.

Mr. L. Z. Jonas, M.P., writing in L'Evenement about the remedial legislation which the Government has promised to introduce at the session six months hence, says: "During the recess of the House a day's meditation has already been made in Ontario as well as in Quebec, an agitation which can render unreliable the intentions of the best disposed men. By all means possible, it is necessary to prevent it. In our province a unanimous action of the Catholic episcopate giving at this solemn hour the direction to follow would powerfully aid in restoring calm and wise reflection, for its voice is powerful among our worthy and honest people. In the arena in which journalists fight every day, public men await a word from those who are most directly interested in the settlement of the school question, which has already embittered public opinion, a word of peace, a word which could rally their forces and direct them to the same end."
