

Testimonial Dinner Held At Hemmingford In Honor of 'Bob' Reid's Long Service And Retirement

(By Mrs. L'Espérance)

On Thursday evening, August 11th, a large number of friends gathered at the Frontier Inn in Hemmingford for a testimonial dinner in honour of Bob Reid and to wish him a happy retirement.

Among the 250 guests present were friends, relatives and classmates from the Chateauguay Valley, from Montreal and the Eastern Townships and from the U.S.A. Men and women with whom Mr. Reid has worked for almost 50 years as Horticulturist with the Canadian Department of Agriculture.

The whole affair had been a very well-kept secret and Bob watched with astonishment while Mrs. Aylmer Hadley presented Mrs. Reid with a corsage and then was led to his seat at the head table by Mr. W.J. Brown, President of the Havelock Fair Board. Seated with Mr. and Mrs. Reid were Mr. and Mrs. Llewellyn Jones of Swanton, Vt., Canon L. Coriveau, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Reid of Chateauguay, Mr. Paul Omer Roy of Bedford, Mr. William Reid and Miss Edna Reid of Chateauguay.

The Blessing was asked by Father Coriveau then a delicious barbecued chicken dinner followed by — of course — apple pie, was enjoyed. The Master of Ceremonies for the evening, Mr. Jim Laurie, proposed the toast to the Queen and then said, "Mr. and Mrs. Reid, guests at the head table, Ladies and Gentlemen, I am both honoured and pleased to act as M.C. for this testimonial dinner in honour of Bob Reid. It is as much a change for me to be acting in this capacity as it is for Bob not to be. You will have to tuck back a long time to remember any local occasion of this type at which Bob did not take a much more active part. (Enjoy yourself Bobby!)"

R.J.M. Reid, Robert Jack Murray Reid, a man Johnny Appleseed would have been proud of, Johnny would probably have adopted him and called him Bobby Appleseed!

Get Your Entries In For Huntingdon Fair

It is now less than two weeks until Huntingdon Fair will be in full swing with a program of agricultural exhibits, horse show and some midway fun. Entries have been coming in and the different groups who sponsor booths and exhibits have been busy preparing and planning their various objectives. Entries for cattle close on August 20th, while all other entries close on August 31st, so check your prize list and get those entries in as early as possible. Delays make it hard on the secretary at the last minute. He has plenty to do these days, so help him out by making your entries early.

man who drove a Model A Ford bearing a big 'G' on the license plate and who spent most of his time covering the province, improving horticulture wherever he went. In spite of being so active all over Quebec, he still found time to show the local youngsters how to raise calves, plant school gardens, graft apple trees, hive swarming bees, take on frozen beaver ponds, maples, swim, build tree houses and enjoy country life.

Usually when a man retires from public service and is given an evening of this type there will be one or two highlights in that man's life which stand out. Not so in the case of Bob Reid. There are dozens of highlights in this guy's life! What I would like to do in the next few minutes is give you all a quick resumé of some of these highspots.

Mr. Reid was born in 1895 at Chateauguay, Quebec, on a fruit farm owned by Peter Reid, one of the pioneer horticulturists of the province of Quebec. Bob grew up in an environment which naturally suggested Agricultural College and on graduating from Montreal High School he entered Macdonald College. During his High School and College days he was an athlete of renown, with particular emphasis on Hockey, Football and Paddling.

Bob's first job was at Kentville, Nova Scotia, where he worked at the Experimental farm. This was followed by some landscaping activity with the C.P.R. and in 1922 he joined the Department of Agriculture and worked as a fruit inspector at Quebec City. During this year he said good-bye to bachelor days and married his College sweetheart, Miss Anita Hope Cooper, from East Angus, Quebec. Incidentally, Mr. and Mrs. Reid are, today, very proud of their nine grandchildren who affectionately call them Bobby and Mam!

In 1923 Bob bought a farm in Hemmingford and planted his orchard. In this particular period, tenure of Government jobs depended on the party in power and there were some years when Bob had plenty of time to spend with his apple-trees!

In 1926 he returned to the Department and remained in harness until 1965. Bob's activity as a horticultural specialist, as many of you are aware, was centred around improvement of existing orchards and varieties, and also testing and development of new ones. This involved leaf analysis, soil management studies and establishment of test orchards. He is a recognized expert in all phases of agriculture, so much so that he was recently named to work with the Agricultural Curriculum Committee of the proposed Chateauguay Valley Regional High School.

Bob is a Past Master of the Hemmingford Masonic Lodge a Past President of the Hemmingford Chamber of Commerce, did, and is still doing, yeoman service as an Elder and Trustee of the United Church and has served on more community projects than he would care to be reminded of.

The excellence of the agricultural exhibits shown at the Fall Fairs throughout the province is due, in great part, to the keen interest Bob has taken in this type of activity. As Agronomist in charge of the Agricultural Society, the Havelock Fair has continued to improve every year.

In closing, Ladies and Gentlemen, I would like to say — and I am sure you will heartily endorse my words, — that we, in Hemmingford, in Huntingdon County and the Province of Quebec, are greatly indebted to Bob Reid in many ways. I will ask you to join me in a toast to Mr. and Mrs. Bob Reid, may they enjoy health and much happiness in the future.

Mr. Laurie then called on Mr. Llewellyn (Bumpus) Jones of Swanton, Vt. Mr. Jones said how pleased he and his wife were to be present on this occasion. A good friend-ship had sprung up between them during their student days at Macdonald College fifty years ago, and it had grown with the passing years. After college they had been so that people will be able to watch this part of the Fair in comfort. The booths in the Industrial Building have received a little remodelling. Some new panels have been put in, new counters and the size of each has been made to one standard. This should do much to improve this building.

A tournament is being held at the St. Anicet Golf and Country Club on Wednesday, August 24th, which is for all police officers, municipal, provincial, city and R.C.M.P. A large number will be in attendance on this occasion and included will be many high ranking officers of the different forces.

Eric Brown To Accompany Centennial Canoe Pageant In His Cruiser

Eric Brown of Huntingdon will embark next week on a holiday straight from the Canadian history books. He will accompany 10 war canoes — exact replicas of those used in the Indian fighting, fur trading era — on a 9 day trip from Montreal to New York.

But it is doubtful that Mr. Brown will venture so much as one stroke of the paddle or even shoot one small rapid. He will be taking the easy route on his 41 foot diesel powered cruiser, the Lorraine.

The canoe trip, organized by the Canadian Centennial Commission to re-enact one of the most colorful eras in Canada's short history, is being carefully photographed and covered by the press, and this is where the Lorraine B. and Eric Brown come in.

Some 400 weekly newspapers publishers from across Canada attended the 47th annual convention of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association at Saint John, N.B. during the week of August 5th. Highlight of the five-day session of business and pleasure and of especial interest to many Gleaner readers was the election of officers for 1966-67 when John Sancton of Ormstown, publisher of the Westmount Examiner and president of the Monitor Publishing Company, was named C.W.N.A. President. Another event of interest to many of our subscribers was the elevation to the rank of Honorary Life Member of Lawrence G. Larry Gage, publisher of the St. John's, Que., News.

As in past years, families and friends of the C.W.N.A. members attended the annual convention. True Maritime hospitality was accorded all groups. Business sessions were conducted in the Admiral Beatty Hotel, convention headquarters, where one section designated the Lobster Trap was reserved for the ladies while juniors had a rendezvous of their own called the Oyster Bed.

The weekly editors and publishers were given a hard-hitting talk by Jack Struthers, senior editor of the Centennial Commission, who urged

New York City is one of the trial runs leading up to a gigantic 3,500 mile canoe pageant in 1967, Canada's Centennial year.

Ten war canoes, each carrying six paddlers and two spares are travelling the old fur trading and early exploration routes from one end of the country to the other as part of Canada's Centennial Celebrations.

As far as possible, conditions on these trips emulate those endured by the intrepid voyagers of long ago. The canoeists carry their own food and equipment, camp away from towns and villages for the most part, and are trained to shoot some of the more dangerous rapids.

The crews, one from each province, are selected and trained by their respective province and will race against each other several times on each trip.

Since the whole project is, in effect, an honour to the trailblazers who were responsible for opening up the country some 300 years ago, each canoe will bear the name of an early explorer. Roberval, LaTour, Champlain, LeMoine, Radisson, LaVerendrye, Fraser and Mackenzie are to name a few. In addition, the canoes will display the distinctive geometrical maple leaf which serves as Canada's Centennial symbol.

The canoe trial from Montreal to New York begins August 22 from Lachine with a race to the Expo site over the Lachine rapids. At St. Helen's Island, a press conference, dinner and reception will be held.

From Montreal, the canoes travel to Sorel, then to Beloeil and St. Jean on the Richelieu river, down to Plattsburg, Burlington and Fort Ticonderoga. The teams then lift by trailer to the Hudson river near Albany and move on to Kingston, Croton Point park and finally to New York.

Burnside 63rd Anniversary Ayrshire Sale Another Success

(By Frank Napier)

Summing up the opinions we heard expressed after the conclusion of the Burnside 73rd Ayrshire Anniversary Sale, including those of Gilbert Macmillan, O.B.E. Dean of Ayrshire adherents across Canada: "It was an eminently successful, thereby encouraging sale, even although in a considerable number of instances one might well have expected considerably higher prices." Said Gilbert Macmillan: "The offering was indeed a credit to the consignors, both as regards type and pedigree backing and apparent potential production ability, fitting and presentation."

The sale was held at the historic Woodside unit of Burnside Farms, of R. R. Ness and Sons, Ltd., Howick, Que., Saturday afternoon, August 13th, 1966, with Tom Whittaker, Brandon, Vt., U.S.A. as Auctioneer, in which capacity he has capably and popularly acted as Burnside for a very considerable number of years. Sale Manager and Pedigree Announcer was Douglas A. Ness, President of R. R. Ness and Sons, Ltd., with John D. McCaig, Ormstown, Que., and W. D. Paul, Ayrshire Association Extension Representative, as Assistants (in the Ring) to the Auctioneer.

Thirty-six head were auctioned for a total of $16,525.00 or a general average of $459.00. A breakdown in that connection being: a 4 year old cow at $450.00; 19 bred heifers at $9.025 or an average of $475.00; 16 fresh heifers at $7,050.00 or an average of $440.62.

Being an Invitational Sale. In addition to the 18 Burnside animals, there were 18 head from other Quebec and Ontario herds, the breakdown in that connection being: Burnside with 18 head for a total of $8,275 or a general average of $459.72; or 14 Bred Heifers at $6,200.00 or an average of $442.85; and 4 bred heifers for $2,075.00 or an average of $518.75. Other Quebec and Ontario consignments: 11 head with, between them, 18 head for a total of $8,250.00 or a general average of $455.53.

The Howick Huntingdon Ayrshire herds represented were J. Earle Ness and Son, Howick, 1 animal at $405.00; Kenneth Roy, Howick — 1 at $300.00; R. W. McFarlane, Howick — 1 at $460.00. Other herds represented were: M. and D. Smith, St. Hermas — 2 head at $735.00; Alex M. Wallace, Smiths Falls, Ont. — 4 head at $1,740.00; Clark Bros., Norval, Ont. — 2 head at $850.00; H. F. Steele, Newington, Ont.

Several well known sires were worthily represented by their offspring but the most notable credit in that respect was the achievement of daughters of the former Burnside and now Eastern Breeders' Inc sires, Hammonds Masterpiece. Ten of these daughters were sold for a total of $4,935.00 or a general average of $493.50.

Eleven head were purchased by seven breeders from districts to the east of Montreal and below Quebec City, including 3 head to Clement Beauchemin, Vercheres for a total of $1,345.00; 2 head to Louis Lapointe, Jonquiere for a total of $965.00; one each by Adrien Gagnon, Orsainville ($405); Louis Gari, Labelle Co. (at $450); Fernand Willette, Quebec ($450); two each by Ferme Neuve, Labelle Co. (at $350 and $410); and Roland Daoust, Ste. Victoire, (at $355 and $440).

O.T.J. Ends Season With Parade And Open Air Dance

Due to unforeseen circumstances, the direction of this organization had to postpone the annual parade scheduled for last week until Monday evening.

The youngsters paraded along the streets of town with the usual enthusiasm. The stars of the parade were the Mayor and Mayoress Gilles Hebert and France Saumier, who had been elected by their little friends a few days ago. The duke and duchess also received were applauded too. The Queen of Youth who was elected last winter and the duchesses, Odette and Diane had joined the youngsters. The executive of the O.T.J. was also on hand to encourage the children.

As usual many children decorated their bicycles to give color to the parade. Those who had done the best job, received prizes.

After going through the streets, all the O.T.J. members joined by the teenagers gathered on the church parking ground for an open air dance.

HUNTINGDON LOCALS

Mrs. Albert Mailhot, of 74 Martin Street, Massena, New York, recently returned from Germany after spending five weeks with her daughter and son-in-law, Captain and Mrs. Allan J. Perry. Captain Perry is presently assigned to USAF Hospital Wiesbaden, Germany, where he is Training and Educational Coordinator for the Department of Nursing.

While in Europe, Mrs. Mailhot and her niece Mrs. Donald Carriere of Cazaville Canada visited various cities in Germany such as Frankfurt and Munich. A few days were spent at a lakeside hotel, the "Eibsee," which is a few miles from Garmisch, a city located in the Bavarian Alps. A short trip was also made through the Alpine region of Tyrol Austria.

An enjoyable four days were spent in France and the cities of Paris, Reims and Verdun were visited.

Just before returning home Mrs. Mailhot and her niece participated in a cruise on the Rhine River aboard the ship, the "Loreley".

Mrs. Mailhot wishes to thank Mr. and Mrs. Lyndon Perry of 79 Chase Street Massena, New York for the lovely going away corsage of orchids.

Dr. and Mrs. K. G. Cameron and family recently returned from an enjoyable two-week holiday. The first week was spent in Prince Edward Island and the second week touring the Cabot Trail on Cape Breton Island, N.S. Ideal holiday weather prevailed during the entire trip.

The address of Mrs. M. Gardner last weeks request for cards and notes for her, is 150 St. Louis, Chateauguay, Centre.

The next speaker was Mr. Paul-Olmer Roy, Pomologist, from Bedford. He spoke of the close friendship he had enjoyed with Mr. Reid over the past 40 years. In all his journeys along Rte. 52, said Mr. Roy, I never failed to stop at the old stone house and felt I was being welcomed, not as a representative of the Department of Agriculture but as a personal friend, and because of this I am delighted to be here to pay tribute to the sterling work done by Bob Reid over these many years. All his many friends in the Department of Agriculture in Ontario and Quebec would have been pleased to be present to wish him the best of luck in his future life and work. Mr. Roy said he would end his tribute with a typical Bob Reid story which he was sure everyone would enjoy. Three gentlemen called to see Mr. Reid one day, by profession they were an Engineer, a Doctor and a Psychologist. Bob was way back in the orchard so, as it was a cold day, they were invited to wait for him in his office, a room full of delightfully interesting things at the back of the house. Here they made themselves comfortable and their attention was immediately taken with a strange contraption. Standing on a nail keg which was resting on top of a butter box which in turn was resting on top of an apple box was a small stove, warming the room. They gazed in wonderment for a few minutes then the Engineer said, 'Bob must be conducting an experiment on the centre of gravity.' 'No,' said the Doctor, 'it must be that he has a disc out of place and cannot stoop to put wood in the stove.' 'I don't agree,' said the Psychologist, 'I think he has a problem and I could get him on my couch we would soon be able to solve it.' A few minutes later Bob walked in and when greetings had been exchanged the three gentlemen gave him what, in their individual opinion, was the reason why he had raised the stove so high from the floor. 'Oh no,' said Bob, 'I had to raise it up here because those are all the pipes I have!' When the laughter had died away, Mr. Dave Reid, Bob's brother from Chateauguay, spoke briefly of their happy childhood, of Bob's prowess in sports and particularly of his insistence that they all learn how to swim. He said how proud they were these days when travelling by C.P.R. to see the fine windbreaks alongside the tracks. All these Bob had wanted many years ago.

Mr. Laurie read several letters and telegrams which had been received from friends who were unable to attend. Mr. and Mrs. Fraser colleagues together in their work and they had travelled through some beautiful countryside. But on many occasions he had noticed when they stopped that Bob was not looking at the scenery, he was searching through the grass. He discovered that Bob was looking for four-leaf clovers! Well, said Mr. Jones, he does not look now for four-leaf clovers, he has his life, his farm, a beautiful old historical stone house, two daughters, a son and nine delightful grandchildren. In later years they did not meet so frequently but whenever he came along Route 5, whether there were problems, discuss or not, he never failed to stop at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Reid. One point of interest which they both share is Root Stock and Bob has this project very much to heart, said Mr. Jones. Bob wants a rootstock that is absolutely hardy, a low tree that will yield 25 bushels year in and year out! This drew cheers from the apple men present. One day when Mr. Jones stopped at Bob's home he found him out in the orchard on his knees, looking along a row of apple tree trunks. Now, asked Mr. Jones, much to the amusement of his audience, was Bob just looking at the buds or was he saying a prayer? In closing, Mr. Jones wished Bob every success with his project and to both Mr. and Mrs. Reid, a long life and a happy one.

Matheson sent best wishes from Nova Scotia, Mr. Andre Beaulieu, Director of Research Station, St. Jean, Regretted family affairs prevented his attendance and sent best wishes from himself and the staff. In an interesting letter which Mr. Laurie read to the gathering, Mr. Gordon (Pete) Cairnie of Cambridge, Mass. a classmate of Bob's, regretted very much not being able to attend. He said he was sure his sentiments would be echoed by many old classmates and friends such as to mention out a few, Sam Tilden of Montreal, Jack Backland of Waterloo, Jack MacFarlane, Frank Doherty of New York City. He wished his old classmate health and much happiness in his well-deserved retirement.

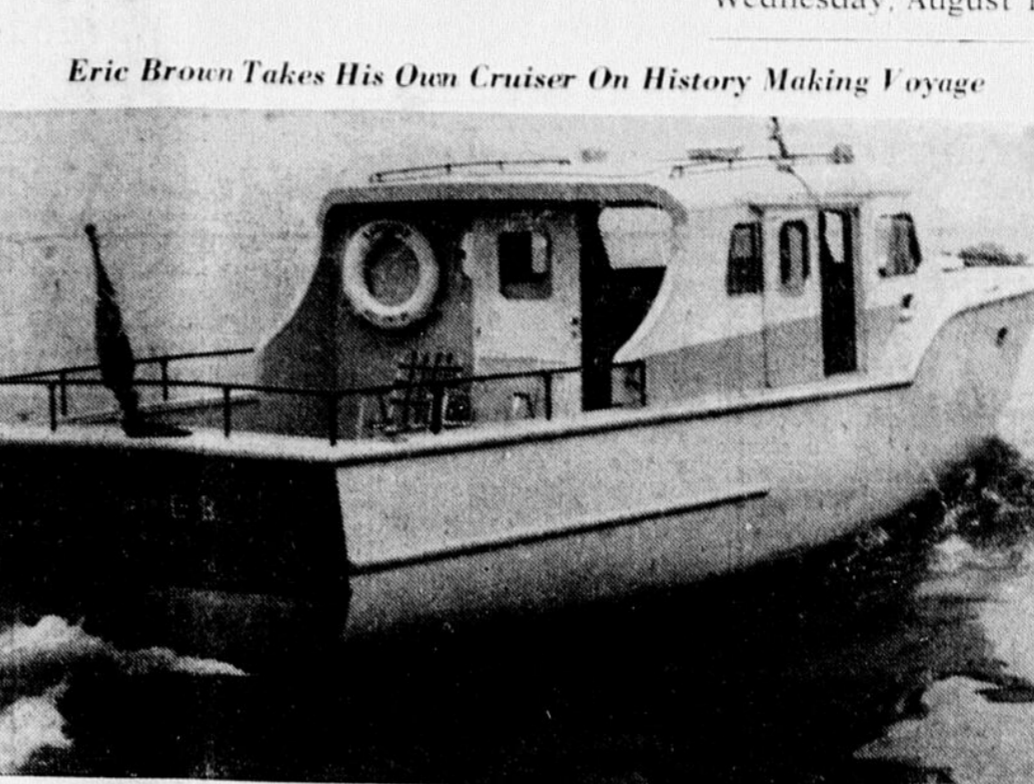

Calling Mr. and Mrs. Reid to the dais, Mr. Laurie asked Mr. W.J. Brown to make the presentation of a three-piece set of matched luggage. In a brief speech Mr. Brown paid tribute to the work done by Mr. Reid over the past years. For the help and encouragement he had given to the young people, to the various Fairs held in the Province, to the Orchardist with his many problems and to the householder seeking help with a little landscaping. On behalf of all present and the many who could not attend, he wished Mr. and Mrs. Reid health and all happiness in the future and hoped that the luggage would be put to much use now Bob had a little more time to spend as he wished!

For once Bob Reid seemed lost for words, and it was evident that he was deeply touched. It had always been a privilege, he said, to meet the people in and around the community but with his official duties taking him away so much it had often seemed he was devoting very little time to his own community. There had never been time enough for his own work but he was now beginning to enjoy staying at home. He would enjoy it still more, he said, if only Jim Laurie and Aylmer Hadley would stop spraying! Every time he sat down and tried to relax either Jim on one side or Aylmer on the other would start up their sprayers and he would feel guilty and think maybe he really ought to put on another spray! He hoped his friends would continue to call, he would always be pleased to visit with them — if ever he could get his spraying done! Mr. Reid then thanked everyone for this most enjoyable evening, for the many nice things which had been said and, on behalf of himself and his wife, for the very nice gift which he was sure they would put to very good use.

In conclusion, Mr. Leslie Keddy, on behalf of the Chamber of Commerce, thanked Mr. Reid for his work in connection with the Chamber and hoped he would continue to be an active member for many years to come. Mr. Keddy extended a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. Aylmer Hadley for organizing this most enjoyable evening and hoped everyone would join in the dance which would follow as soon as the tables were cleared.

Plant In Ormstown May Soon Be In Production

The old Borden's plant at Ormstown may soon be humming with new production. A five year lease, with an option to buy the abandoned factory has been signed by an organization called "Processed Wood Company".

The company, as the name implies, produces wood by products such as sawdust and shavings which have many uses in the packaging and insulation fields.

Officials of the Richelieu based concern have not committed themselves one way or the other as to when or whether they will begin production even though they have signed the lease. Several legal matters, which may take a few months to iron out, stand in the way of any definite temporal decision at this time.

The plan is to begin production slowly. For the first few months, the factory will employ six or seven persons, but the company hopes to increase output until eventually, about forty persons will be employed.

A trip through "Space" will be one of the features of the Gyrotron, the spectacular thrill ride at Expo '67.

The entertainment program at Expo '67 will range from opera to striptease.

out the program. The members Saluted the Flag and Miss Turner read a poem, Mrs. Allan Reid gave a reading on the meaning of the Flag, how and where to use it. Miss Turner an article on the "Symbol of the Maple Leaf". Miss Kimball offered an interesting item, of which the members were unaware. On board ship the Christian Flag is always flown above the flag of the country to which the ship belongs.

A Quiz on the authors of 15 books, stumped a number of the ladies but Mrs. Chas. Reid and Miss Kimball won first prize, Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. Tramble tied for second prize with Mrs. Wood and Mrs. Alex, under a vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. Leboeuf for her hospitality and the meeting closed with the Mizpah.

Malone Fair Race Program The Best In The Country

Four days of the finest harness racing will be after-noon features of this year's Franklin County Fair which opens on August 22nd. The trotting and pacing action commences Tuesday, August 23rd and will continue through Friday afternoon, August 26th. Post time will be two o'clock with at least eight heats to be contested daily, and more if elimination heats are required.

The Malone Fair race program is annually regarded as the best in the north country, and this year's purses will approximate $10,000. The rich programs at Malone always draw the fastest horses and the best drivers in the eastern region of New York State as well as many Canadians.

Featured on the opening Tuesday card are a pair of open class events one for trotters and one for pacers. Both carry the same conditions of non-winners of $20,000 and identical purses of $600. It is expected that the two events will draw fields of some of the fleetest horses on the grounds. Also on tap Tuesday are a pair of slow class events, each with purses of $200.

Wednesday will find the first of the New York - Vermont Colt Stakes listed for this year's racing. These include the Two-Year-Old Pace with an expected value of $1,000. Supporting the Colt Stakes features will be an open trot for non-winners of $10,000 with a purse of $600, and a stake pace with the same conditions as the trot. This event, worth $600, has an entry of nine fast pacers listed.

The Thursday card will see the other two divisions of the New York Vermont Stakes contested with the Three-Year-Old Trot worth $1,000 and the Two-Year-Old Pace going for $1,100. Two other stakes are on tap for Thursday with a trot for non-winners of $6,000 which has attracted an early entry of eight horses, and a pace for non-winners of $6,000 that shows 14 eligibles. Both races have purses of $500.

Three stake races and one open class event will make up the final race card on Friday. The afternoon features include two Free-For-All Trot is an open event with entries due the day before the race, while the big pace is a closed stake that has an entry list of 12 last sidewheelers. Both of the FFA events have purse values of $700. Also on the Friday slate are two stake events for trotters and pacers who are non-winners of $2,500. These races have purses of $400 with 10 eligible in the trot and 11 in the pace.

Plenty of racing action is due in the big four-day program which will also have top flight grandstand entertainment in between the racing.

Used Outboard Motor Can Be Good Buy
The used outboard motor market is a bonanza for a family just getting into boating, or the man looking for a second motor. The cautious buyer can make some real "buys" and enjoy years of trouble-free boating with a used rig. The man who leaps before he looks can end up with someone else's problems. The most important consideration is, who manufactured the motor and who is attempting to sell it, report the service experts. Make sure replacement parts are available now and will be in the cars ahead.
It's good advice to buy only from an established marine dealer. Although many private sellers are operating in good faith, too many buyers have been stuck with "hot" motors, and we're not talking about speed.
Operate the engine, either in a test tank or in an actual demonstration run. Easy starting and a smooth idle usually indicate that the powerhead is okay. If possible, remove the intake cover and examine the piston rings and cylinders for signs of excessive wear.

If the powerhead checks out, take a look at the lower unit. Replacing this section could be a costly operation. After a visual check for any noticeable dents or gashes, remove the drain plug and check for water in the gearcase.
A test run with the engine will give you further evidence about whether to buy or not to buy. Watch for faulty acceleration or vibration. Use a tachometer to make sure the engine is turning at least its rated revolutions per minute. Changing propellers could correct either of these problems, so don't condemn too early.

Many members predict John's presidency will see the largest convention of weekly publishers ever held in Canada.

Following are excerpts from New Brunswick newspapers, weeklies and dailies, that will be of interest to Gleaner readers: Slated for CWNA's presidency later this week is 46-year-old John William Sancton, rural-dwelling publisher of the smallest weekly in Canada's biggest metropolis.

Two Dow Trophies For "Hole-In-One"

The holes in one were succeeded recently on that course Mr. L'Heureux accepted the trophy for Mr. Bob Hendershot who made his on No. 12 hole which has a distance of 230 yards.

Returning to The Gazette in September 1945, he was made successively assistant city editor, city editor, and assistant news editor as swing man in the slot.

Early in 1951 Brig. J. M. S. Wardell, vice-chairman of Lord Beaverbrook's Express newspaper group, came to Fredericton and founded University Press of New Brunswick, Ltd., incorporating The Daily Gleaner in the operation. He engaged Sancton as managing editor and here another revitalizing job was undertaken. With new plant, new staff, new services, (and new money!) The Daily Gleaner was brought from an estimated paid circulation of 7,500 to over 12,000. New spirit and service were instilled into its columns and it has become a strong voice in the life and affairs of Central New Brunswick.

Mechanically inclined, he was active in introducing and debugging new methods of production in The Daily Gleaner.

At 16 he had a basement-operated job printing business and was editor-in-chief of his school magazine at West Hill High School in 1937.

Earlier at Stansfield College, he conducted the college page in the local weekly, The Stansfield Journal — which some 12 years later he returned to purchase and rebuild into a successful venture prior to going to Fredericton, N.B., as The Daily Gleaner's managing editor.

Son of Engineer
Son of the late Arthur H. Sancton, a mechanical and mining engineer, John attended school in Westmount, Montreal and Stansfield. A maverick in a family whose male members, including his two elder brothers, have been engineers, his permanent newspaper career was launched precipitously when Stansfield College burned to the ground and his story was by-lined on the front page of The Gazette, Montreal.

This led to an immediate job as a reporter on The Sherbrooke Daily Record where he served his writing and editing apprenticeship. He returned to Montreal for a stint with a commercial printing house, specializing in periodicals which included charge of production of Canadian Home & Country, the national magazine of the Federation of Women's Institutes, and then to the city desk staff of The Gazette doing rewrite and desk work.

In 1940 it was the Royal Canadian Air Force, training as a photographer, and posting overseas early in 1942. By the end of that year he was commissioned as an intelligence officer and served with various RCAF Spitfire units in RAF Fighter Command and the Second Tactical Air Force in England and Normandy and through France, Belgium and Holland. Early in 1945 he was posted back to England for work in preparation for Far Eastern operations, interrogated released RCAF prisoners-of-war, was married and repatriated to Canada on V-J Day as a flight lieutenant.

After five years in Fredericton, he packed up his family and went to England on a sabbatical year during which he studied news-gathering and newspaper production methods, engaged in syndication work, and became front man of an Anglo-Canadian group which at the end of 1956 bought Monitor Publishing Company Limited in Montreal from its founder, Hugh E. McCormick.

John returned to Canada and, while negotiating with Hugh, spent four months on the news desk of The Montreal Star.

A year later, John succeeded Hugh as president of Monitor and Hugh became chairman of the board, in which capacities both remain. The company is the leading producer of rotary letterpress circulars in Canada and more recently has extended its sales activities to Great Britain, which takes John to plant, notably in engraving and typesetting.

While he was not officially responsible for the itinerary of the Nova Scotia team, Hovick Club's Leader Bob Ness has taken an active interest in that team, and he made several complimentary comments about same.

The old country about four times a year in addition to his CWNA and other travels. The itch to be on the move must be infectious, because Hugh McCormick is probably the most inveterate world traveller in CWNA.

Meet With 4-H Exchangers At Burnside Anniversary Sale

At the time of the Burnside 73rd Anniversary Sale this writer was privileged to make the acquaintance of Pre, Kings Co., are Holstein the Howick area. That is, the John Nova Scotia 4-H Club Team, which is visiting this area on an exchange basis, with a similar number of 4-Hers from this area being on a similar excursion to Nova Scotia; about which The Gleaner's Howick correspondent reported in her last week's Howick News column.

We were indebted to Robert E. (Bob) Ness of Terrace Bank Farm, and Leader and Counsellor of the Howick 4-H Club for having arranged that we meet the said "Young Ambassadors," which title we would say is an apt one, judging by our impressions of the four young men we briefly but pleasantly met. Unfortunately, as it was in connection with the event reported in last week's Howick News, the other two members of the team, Raymond Greenough of Newport, Hants Co., N.S., and Mathy Grelin of Melville, Cape Breton, were not in attendance at the Burnside Sale. The latter, by the way, an unscheduled but apparently pleasurable interlude for the four boys concerned.

While he was not officially responsible for the itinerary of the Nova Scotia team, Hovick Club's Leader Bob Ness has taken an active interest in that team, and he made several complimentary comments about same.

Three of the four young men Joseph Juurlink of Milford Station, New Glasgow; Roger Lovett of North Sydney, and four of the six 4-H Club "Goodwill Ambassadors" to Pre, Kings Co., are Holstein adherents. The other, John Robert MacLeod, Meadowville, is an Ayrshire admirer. All of them expressed the pleasure that was theirs in having been privileged to make the trip and their appreciation of the hospitality that had been accorded them. In that connection William Woodman said that it was indeed a wonderful opportunity to observe farming conditions in other areas than their own, particularly insofar as the Social aspect is concerned.

In our conversation with Messrs. Woodman and MacLeod we learned that, as we had it here, they had had a long dry spell, but that the hay and grain crops in their areas were very good. In that connection Mr. Woodman said their 350 tons of hay of this year represented an average yield. In discussing the milk situation Messrs. Woodman and MacLeod averred that it would appear that milk prices down there are comparable to those prevailing in the Howick, etc., area. Incidentally, the Woodman milk goes to the Twin-City Co. Dairy which operates in the cities of Dartmouth and Halifax. The MacLeod Farm milk is sold to the Farmers' Cooperative of New Glasgow. Joseph Juurlink was apparently interested in the corn growing phase of this area.

"The fact that I was traveling with other students my own age made a lot of difference. This way, I was able to meet and get to know many people from other parts of my own province as well as from other parts of Canada."

"The whole group of us got along well with each other right from the start and in no time we were great friends, talking and singing in both French and English on the long rides of the tours."

Glen's trip, of course was only half of the bargain. An 18 year old student from Montrose, British Columbia (near Trail) spent a week at the Blachford farm from August 1 to August 8th.

The boy, David Papau turned out to be of the Doukobor community although not, he has tried to add, one of the radical "Sons of Freedom" sects that make the headlines regularly for their non-conformist activities.

David, as many of his fellow British Columbians, are under the impression that Quebec was nothing but a hot bed of revolution but went away a week later, with quite a different outlook.

For Glen to be chosen as one of the students on the exchange program was no mean feat in itself.

The Gleaner, Huntingdon.

The last issue of The Gleaner contains an interesting article on an extra-ordinary substance, "Bentonite."

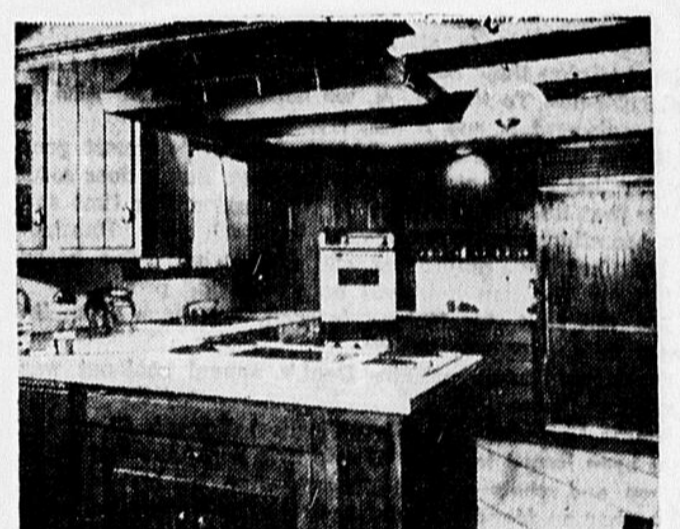

It states that in addition to many other functions it "is used as an effective laxative to help maintain quiet in Toronto's subway."

Probably Mayor Drapeau will make use of this product to "maintain quiet" in Montreal's new subway, because underground sound does echo and reverberate so annoyingly.

Yours truly, R. W. Rowat.

This and That in Town

Holidays are wonderful, but boy it's hard to get back to work. Personally, we're going to do our best not to wait five years of that wonderful break like we did the last time. And talking about vacation trips, Archie (Texaco) Brunette and family really enjoyed their recent week in the Gaspé area.

BLESSE DANS UNE CHUTE

Dans la nuit de samedi, vers 230 a.m., M. Jacques Riard de Huntingdon fit une chute de la veranda du Château, soit une hauteur de quelques pieds. Il fut conduit à l'hôpital local où le Dr McMillon lui administra les premiers soins et constata une lésion du cou. Le blessé fut transporté à l'hôpital Général de Montréal où son état est considéré comme grave.

ATTENTION

Ceci s'adresse aux dames surtout. On nous avertit que dernièrement plusieurs dames se sont fait voler leurs bourses qu'elles avaient déposées soit sur un comptoir, ou la vue d'un malheureux. La police conseille donc de ne pas laisser en évidence ce qui pourrait tenter un ou des voleurs.

TOURNOI DE GOLF

Le 24 août au Club de Golf de St-Antoine aura lieu un tournoi auquel prendront part les officiers de tous les corps policiers, soit Gendarmerie Royale, Police provinciale, municipale ainsi que plusieurs invités de toutes les parties de la région.

CULTURE PHYSIQUE

M. Michel Blanchette, qui suit des cours en vue de devenir professeur de culture physique a fait profiter au cours des dernières semaines quelques jeunes de notre ville de son savoir-faire. C'est avec enthousiasme qu'ils se rendent aux pratiques; en plus des exercices réguliers, nos futurs athlètes s'exercent à lever des poids et ont même appris quelques prises de judo. Félicitations à Michel pour cette initiative.

"Au Canada une personne est tuée dans un accident de la circulation toutes les 100 minutes. Toutes les 3 1/2 minutes une personne est blessée dans un accident". Les statistiques parlent par elles-mêmes; il faut user de grande prudence sur les routes. Ralentissez et vivez.

L'O.T.J. TERMINE SES ACTIVITES POUR UNE AUTRE SAISON

A cause de circonstances imprévues, la direction de cette organisation locale avait dû remettre à lundi soir la parade décalée pour la semaine dernière.

Nos jeunes ont donc défilé dans les rues de la ville avec un train et en chantant en choeur. Les vedettes de la parade étaient sans contredit M. et Mme La Maitresse, Gilles Hébert et France Saumier qui avaient été élus par leurs camarades il y a quelques jours. Prenaient aussi part au défilé, la Reine de la Jeunesse et les duchesses élues d'hiver dernier. Aussi le duc et la duchesse des terrains de jeu — élus aussi par leurs camarades. L'exécutif des Loisirs s'était joint au défilé.

Comme à l'accoutumée, plusieurs jeunes avaient décoré leurs bicyclettes en vue de cette parade. Des prix ont été accordés à ceux qui avaient le mieux réussi.

Après la parade, tous les jeunes de l'O.T.J. auxquels s'étaient joints les amateurs de danse se groupèrent sur le terrain de l'église pour une danse en plein air. La nuit venue, ils interrompirent leurs ébats pour se réunir autour d'un feu de joie. Leurs chants retentirent dans la nuit. Le feu éteint, la danse prit de plus belle à la clarté de la lune et aussi des rélecteurs.

La direction remercie tous ceux qui de près ou de loin ont contribué au succès de cette période d'activités qui a permis aux enfants de notre ville de passer des heures agréables au cours de l'été. On désire souligner spécialement le beau travail accompli par le moniteur en chef Michel Blanchette.

Chateauguay Centre United Church VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL

A most successful and profitable week for all concerned, with many of the children and parents filling the church and spilling over into the hall on Sunday morning for the regular worship service at which the children took part in voice and song.
Mrs. Eleanor Robertson and Mrs. Betty Edwards, and their large group of workers deserve a great deal of credit for all the preparatory work and indeed the 5 days of teaching the one hundred young folk who turned up. It was wonderful to have so many of our young ladies (some call them teenagers) taking an extremely active part. Lynn Howie and Carol Black cared for the Nursery Dept. all week. Donna Reynolds assisted in the Kindergarten and Ellen Currie prepared and served Kool Aid and Cookies to the children each day. Gloria Page, Lynne Rowntree and Judith Layzell also helped out a couple of days, when additional help was required. Thank you, girls, very much. Thank you also to General Foods for all the Kool-aid.
A "Welcome, Good Family" Bar B.Q. was held at supper time at the Church, on Sunday Evening, August 14, with approximately 88 in attendance. The Committee of Stewards with Chief Cooks Fred Ryner and Mike Virag in charge did an excellent job in cooking the corn and chicken. Delicious salads were the work of a few of the ladies. Everyone had a perfectly wonderful time, and certainly made no effort to hurry away. An evening of happy, smiling faces and good food — definitely fellowship at its best.
Ladies, please note, a little help is required on Tuesday, August 23rd at 1:00 P.M. — If you can assist in preparing the Church, Hall and Kitchen for the Induction Service, please give Mrs. Isabel Howie a call at 691-2736. Folks who like to forecast weather, tell us, that there are definite signs that we are in for a long cold winter for they say some of the foliage in the forest has started to turn colour and this is one of the first signs. Well if it is true, there's nothing we can do about it so let's just enjoy the wonderful weather while it is still with us. It's been a wonderful summer so let's hope it continues on that way into Indian Summer also.
Was thrilled last week to have a phone call from Mrs. Butler from Chateau Estates who proudly told me of her newest granddaughter.
A belated hearty welcome to Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Keller, who have moved into their new home No. 9 Paul VI, in Chateau Estates. The Kellers were formerly of LaSalle and have two children, Richard 12 and Wanda 2. Mrs. Keller (Doreen) is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Butler who live on Lalemant in the Estates.
Also another welcome goes out to yet another of Mr. and Mrs. Butler's daughters, Jean, who is moving into her new home at No. 55 Lalemant on the 18th of this month. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Casey are also formerly of LaSalle. Welcome to Chateauguay to all you folks and we sincerely hope you will enjoy it here in our wonderful community.
I was thrilled to have a visit on Sunday from an old school friend of mine, Miss Anne Ondusko of Port Arthur, Ontario, who is in Montreal for a few days holiday.
Mrs. Betty Parks of Florida, who spent a few months visiting in Chateauguay earlier in the summer with her niece Mrs. Spendar, left on Monday aboard the liner the Corinthia with two of her sisters for Scotland, to visit the land of their birth and renew old acquaintances.
Mrs. Susan Cunningham and daughter Sandra spent a few days last week visiting with relatives in Toronto and Hamilton.

Tex Ritter At Franklin County Fair, Malone

America's most beloved cowboy — Tex Ritter — is he was lured to New York coming to the Franklin County Fair in Malone and he will appear in the same show that headlines Marty Robbins on Thursday and Friday, August 25th and 26th. Tex is the kind of a performer who writes, whether it's his work on radio, TV, theatres, movies, records, or just personal appearances, Tex has appeared nationally for many years in nearly every major show place in the country, as well as in Canada, Hawaii, Alaska, Europe and South America. A native Texan, the cowboy singer studied voice at the University of Texas, where he spent five years, the last of which was in the study of law. He completed his education in this field at North-western University in Evanston, Illinois. Tex's first summer vacation job was as a cowboy ballad singer on a

LETTER FROM SEIGNIORY PARK

by (FERGUS HORSBURGH)
Route Boys: ALLAN LUSSIER 373 St. Francis 691-0782 MICHAEL TURNER 346 Oliver
Last weekend I met Alderman Bert Oliver and Mr. Crepin of the Town's Public Works Department. They promised me that "Warning-Children" signs will be erected outside Woodline Park in the very near future.
I have always considered the final curve on the Mercier Bridge exit on the Caughnawaga side a potential hazard, particularly when the road is wet or icy. Last Tuesday morning, as we were approaching the bridge, a car coming off went out of control precisely at the final curve, skidding round 180 degrees and crashing into the guard rail. Fortunately there were no other vehicles close, and as far as I could see, the driver came to no harm.
Apparently plans for further development of Woodbine Park include the fencing of the Frontenac end. I was asked by Alderman Phil Bonneau how the Frontenac homeowners felt about the fence, and replied that to the best of my belief, 40% wanted the fence, 40% did not want it and 20% were undecided. I would be pleased to hear from the affected homeowners if they agree with my informal poll.
Sea Ranger Judith Layzell is back from her six-week trip, during which she visited many parts of Europe and the British Isles. The trip was sponsored by the LaSalle Area Girl Guides, and the Chateauguay Girl Guides and Rangers helped to earn money toward the expenses of the trip. "The trip began on July 1st," writes Judith, "when we left on Q.S.S. Arkadia. The crossing took nine days, landed in London and stayed in Holland House Hostel for two nights. We then started on a 2000 mile bus tour of Europe: travelling through Belgium, Germany, Switzerland, Italy and France. After Europe, back to London where we stayed for a week at Olive House in the International Guide Centre. (Olive House is so named in honour of the first name of World Chief Guide Lady Baden-Powell). After camping in Scotland for a week with English Guides, we returned to Holland House in London for two days and then home on a VC 10 jet.
We all enjoyed the voyage, and there was always a full schedule of events. The first day we were in London we didn't do much, as we had to get ready for Europe. The European tour was fascinating and informative, but was rather rushed, as we had so much to do and see in so little time. During the week in London we saw such places as Buckingham Palace, Westminster Abbey, Hyde Park, the Tower of London and many other places and visited Lady Baden-Powell in her home in Hampton Court Palace. We camped for a week in Orkney near Fort William in Western Scotland. Here we made an attempt to climb Ben Nevis, the highest mountain in the British Isles, but only two made it to the top.

Memorial - What Now? Battle of Chateauguay

(By Fergus Horskburgh)
The announcement this week that Mr. Thomas McDade has terminated his active participation in community affairs will be received with disquiet throughout the Chateauguay Valley. What now happens to the proposed Battle of Chateauguay Memorial? Is it to be left high and dry after all the pomp and ceremony of six short weeks ago?
Let there be no misunderstanding of the problem — the honour of the Chateauguay Valley is at stake. When Governor General and Madame Vanier highlighted the sod-turning ceremony at Allans' Corners last month, the Chateauguay Valley stood committed to the accomplishment of national publicity, to see the project through.
Much has been achieved toward the goal of a memorial erected at the site of one of Canada's historic landmarks in our Centennial Year. The imagination of the public, including many of Canada's most prominent citizens, has been caught. Interest on the part of high Government officials has been attested. Grants from Provincial and Federal Governments seem assured — in fact, the Hon. Arthur Laing, Minister of Northern Affairs and Natural Resources, has indicated that provision of flood-lighting for the memorial building has been budgeted. The National and Historical Resources Branch of the Federal Government have expressed interest: the Canadian Historic Sites Division are studying plans for park development in the battle area. Relics and much historical material have been gathered together from some 70 libraries and private collections across the land. A log cabin at the battle site has been built, and the amenities of the immediate area considerably improved. An impressive aluminum commemorative plaque has been produced AND MADAME VANIER HAS TURNED THE FIRST SOD.
Is the project to fail because one man drops out? With McDade out, the Chateauguay Historical Society remains with a clear responsibility to assure the public that the Valley will not be made a laughing stock, and that the project will not fail by default.
It is reported that Mr. McDade has been asked to reconsider his decision. Mr. McDade has stated that he is willing to help his successor pick up the threads of the project, and that the extent to which he will participate will be decided at a Society executive meeting.
Much remains to be done, but the time is short. Lacking the stimulus of Centennial Year, would a Battle of Chateauguay Memorial ever be realized?
It is said that the Historical Society, minus McDade, is

Ominous Sign

by C. J. HARRIS
It is an ominous sign that in their eight-year strike against Canada Packers Limited, members of the United Packinghouse Workers union stay out a long time in pursuit of a wage settlement that would be the equivalent of what the union calls "the Pearson formula." The phrase refers to the government — approved 30 per cent wage increase over two years that settled the strike against the St. Lawrence Seaway Authority. In the packing house strike the company offered a wage increase of 20 cents an hour in each year of a two-year agreement. The union claims that this would be only about half the Pearson formula settlement.
The Seaway dispute was not the government's only excursion into this field. Earlier there was the settlement by a cabinet team of the Quebec longshoremen's strike with an 80-cent-an-hour increase over two years, about a 33 per cent wage hike. Ottawa also bears some responsibility for the fantastic wages being paid in the Montreal area — $6 an hour for plumbers, for instance — because of the urgency to build Expo '67 on time.
It will be surprising if almost all contract negotiations coming up in the near future are not plagued by labor's claim that it has every right to follow the wage guidelines set by these government — dictated settlements. Negotiators for 95,000 railway workers were quick to dismiss a conciliation board recommendation of an increase of 40 cents an hour over two years; they have said they expect to settle for nothing less than the percentage increase given the longshoremen and the Seaway workers.
We could all applaud the determined drive by these particular unions for higher wages if it meant higher living standards for all. But that is not the case. The wage hikes are far beyond the economy's increased rate of productivity. The inevitable result is higher prices and higher living costs, another discount on the dollar. Even for those who willfully and without conscience use their monopoly power to enforce quite unreasonable demands, the real gain will be largely illusory. For salaried workers and others on fixed incomes, particularly for pensioners, it will be the equivalent of a healthy pay cut.
The so-called Pearson formula is really a formula for inflation.
Cleanliness is a pre-painting necessity often overlooked by the do-it-yourself painter. All that is needed is a household detergent and some old rags. The Paint Industry Council reminds you that this pre-paint scrub and rinse routine is the one sure way of guaranteeing a more durable paint job.
Are you planning to paint a room? Before you begin, remove the hardware from doors and windows, and loosen light fixtures. You'll find painting much easier, and you'll have the opportunity to clean and polish the metal until it looks like new again.

Chateauguay Ramblers Lose Season Opener

(By Fergus Horskburgh)
The first game of the new season for Chateauguay Ramblers was played under inauspicious circumstances under floodlighting last Friday evening at Laberge Park in the Town of Chateauguay.
The opposition was Montreal North Bears, who are reported as being a strong team this year, with five ex-Alouettes on their strength.
Conditions were as wretched as can be imagined, with a water-logged sandy-muddy pitch.
Under the circumstances, not surprisingly, the game did not reach high standards from the spectators' point of view.
A defensive game saw no scoring until the last quarter, when two singles, one of them in the last play of the game, by George Tsanos won the game for the Bears, 2-0.

Chateauguay Ramblers Lose Season Opener

Ramblers' supporters' hopes were momentarily high when, in the best play of the game, their team on the 12 yard line looked as if they were about to score. Quarter-back Mike Corcoran's pass to Russ Weir was intercepted, and the chance was gone.
Montreal North are a very highly rated team, and the Rambler's loss by such a narrow margin was a very creditable performance.
The Ramblers' next game is at Hawkesbury next Saturday. Next home game is versus St. Lambert on Saturday, August 27th.

Chateauguy News Notes

by Fergus Horsburgh

Police Chief Paul E. Meloche of Town of Chateauguy is still in Lasalle General Hospital, undergoing tests. In his absence, Lt. Roger Giroux is in charge.

Two Town Police Constables had a little experience last week in "midwifery." A call was received at Police headquarters on Aug. 9th, at 10:15 a.m. asking help to assist a pregnant woman to Hospital. However although Constable 107 Pregent and 106 Asselin answered the call immediately the baby had almost arrived. The constables aided the woman, until the arrival of Dr. Laberge. Unfortunately the baby, who was five months premature was dead. The patient is now in Lasalle General Hospital.

In an accident at the gymnasium of Notre Dame de l'Assomption School, Richard Osoff, 9 years of age, suffered a broken arm. Same constables as in above item answered the call on Aug. 11th at 11:53 a.m. and on the advice of Dr. Laberge, the young boy was taken to Lasalle General Hospital, by the Police car.

Excitement ran high last Friday morning in the general area of Chateauguy Station when the Banque Canadienne Nationale was robbed. See news item elsewhere.

Three youths were injured late Saturday night when the car they were in hit a Hydro pole on Salaberry. (See elsewhere for details).

From Chateauguy Centre Police Dept.: Chief Spenard back on the job after his summer vacation. He was busy last Monday morning reading through reports of three weeks. Chief Spenard told The Gleaner, that things were quiet in his department.

Thanks to Mr. Maurice Bourcier of Chateauguy Centre Town Hall, we have one brief item from their last Council meeting of Tuesday, Aug. 9th. Tenders were opened for various works and are being studied before the awarding of contracts.

Incidentally may we congratulate Mr. Maurice Bourcier on his appointment as assistant to Town Clerk Laurier Legault!

That big hole next to Lauzon's parking lot on Blvd. St-Jean Baptiste will eventually be a spanking new Restaurant.

The construction of the new A and P Supermarket on Blvd. d'Anjou is well on its way — however we cannot see the store opening in August. It would seem more like end of September or early October. There are three smaller shops adjacent to the A and P. and one hears all kinds of rumors as to their ultimate proprietorship.

In the Town Hall two items only for this week:

Fences are to be installed at the Town's pumping stations, at Parent St. and Dunver.

The contract for mosquito extermination in the Town has been cancelled. The mosquitos are more numerous and also "King Size."

Maple Elementary school adjacent to Chateauguy High will be taken over in September 1967 as Junior High. In the meantime, plans to construct two new elementary schools have been approved by the Dept. of Education. See "Education in the Valley" in this issue.

tient in St. Mary's Hospital, having undergone surgery. Her room is 803 and I'm sure a card would help to cheer her up, as Helen is the first one to think of others when she knows about them. We hope you'll soon be home and feeling very fit again.

A Fine Day — A Great Sale

A very successful rummage, books, candy and toy sale took place at St. Louis Square, West End on Saturday, August 13th, 10 - 1:30. The toys disappeared like magic and were sold by teenagers Linda and Heather. Fudge, popcorn balls, caramel corn and peanuts were all sold and this table was ably looked after by Jean Smeall and Dorothy Morrison. Books and magazines with many miscellaneous articles were sold by Mrs. Golden, Mrs. Fuller and teenager Patty Mackey. Mrs. Mitchell looked after the clothes line with Monica Sosnogi seeing that the line was kept full. Thanks to D. Houston and E. Marshall, who helped with making the sweets; to those of you who took the time to contribute to be sale and those who came out to patronize it. With expenses deducted, the Ladies Auxiliary cleared $223. Thanks also to the G. Mitchell's of Chateauguy Park for their generous donation.

Miss Susan Glossop of England, with Mr. and Mrs. H. Lowe and son Martin and Mr. and Mrs. Davidson of Montreal, visited on Saturday and Sunday and spent the day visiting the Parliament Bldgs., Archives, Bytown Museum, Rideau Locks, Experimental Farm and then took a Scenic Drive arriving back about 11 p.m. a little tired after a very interesting day.

There is a destiny that makes us brothers. None goes his way alone. All that we send into the lives of others Comes back into our own.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Smeall and family spent a week in New York (just outside the city). As their daughter Donna will be living there after her marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Smeall were able to meet their future son-in-law's mother and other relatives, and see their chosen apartment.

Well Folks — Corn boil time will soon be here. Please get working on those last few tickets you have to sell, then get them in to either Mrs. Langdale at 161 St. Louis or myself. We are trying to make the 10th of Sept. a very enjoyable evening. The corner the better, eh wot??

What of Battle Site Memorial?

Readers will note in the news columns of the Chateauguay section of this issue, an announcement which says Mr. Thomas McDade has given up all community activities.

has reached. It is to be hoped that reconsideration of this decision will be made and if it is help that he needs that at least some interested people will rally to the cause.

We do not feel in the light of the ceremony that was performed by their Excellencies the Governor-General and Madame Vanier, and others, and the wide publicity now given this project, that it should be dropped.

As the Chateauguay Valley Historical Society is involved in this project, it seems vital that a meeting be held real soon to discuss the matter and formulate plans as to the probable outcome.

Highway Safety

The greatest luxury of the twentieth century has become a lethal killer — maiming, injuring and destroying human life at an alarmingly and ever increasing rate.

The changes the automobile has brought to our society are huge, and with change comes danger. Not only is the automobile causing carnage on the roads, but it has become the main interest of the teenage boy, offering an unparalleled opportunity for temptation and sexual promiscuity.

Too often minor traffic violations become the habit of drivers, whose attitude seems to be, "if I go a little over the speed limit, or pass on the right, it's all right if I feel safe".

What we do in driving this way is take the law into our own hands. Too many men, normally courteous, lose their manners the minute they get behind a wheel.

To say that the problem is not a moral one is wrong. It is the duty of all of us to obey even small road rules to the letter in a continuing effort to curtail the danger to ourselves and our fellows.

During a year there are almost 5,000 fatal highway accidents in Canada, and 150,000 people hurt. The rate of accidents is steadily rising. In the five years between 1958 and 1963 it rose by 20%.

The responsibility as well as the wheel is in the hands of everyone who drives.

"COUNTRY NOTEBOOK"

BY WALKER RILEY

I have just spent the most encouraging four days since I have been in the province of Quebec. As one of three "judges", along with Mr. Richardson, of the Lennoxville Experimental Station, and Jim Brown of Macdonald college's Extension Service, for the Q.F.A. pasture competition in Compton County, east of Sherbrooke, I had the pleasure of visiting twenty-one farms in those four days.

For instance, I thought we might find one or two, or maybe even three, reasonable good pasture programs in the group. But I never guessed we would have a real job selecting a winner from six exceptionally good, well managed pasture programs, with at least eight more in the "Good" category. In fact, not one could be called "Poor".

We finally gave top place to Wells Coates, East Angus, even though it embarrassed Wells a bit since he was on the committee organizing the event. But we found it very hard to fault Wells' program.

His 34 acres of regular pasture, all Ladino and Climax timothy, was in six fields. Each was being grazed in turn for three or four days, and each was further divided with an electric fence so he could give the cows a fresh strip twice daily.

His fertilizer program was strictly according to soil test. Mostly, he found he was using 0-20-20 and 0-15-30 spread in the fall.

Space is too short to tell a quarter of the highlights. Every farm had something to show. But we must mention Melvin Huppé's project. Two years ago, after raising beef for 22 years, he switched to dairy.

Mr. Huppé was not the only one with pioneer pastures to show us. This was one of the surprises. Out of twenty-one calls, eleven had, in the last two years, bulldozed, fertilized, and seeded Ladino and timothy on land too rough and too stony for even our indomitable ancestors to think of breaking. And they were good. I have never seen Ladino clover grow the way it does in Compton county.

And they were good. I have never seen Ladino clover grow the way it does in Compton county.

Surprisingly, we found these figures checked out very close to the other top placers. Reg Hodge's pastures had produced 2700 pounds milk per acre in eighty days, and Wesley Bowker's had yielded 2100 lbs in the first 88 days.

The best carrying capacity we found on the farm of Allen Martin. He was running 1.8 animal units per acre, and had in reserve a tremendous amount of pasture — enough to carry his beef herd until the snow flies. Allen had easily the best beef pasture program I have ever seen, either in Quebec or in Eastern Ontario.

Incidentally, Mr. Martin also has the best fields of corn I have seen this year. The weed control is close to perfect. Jim Brown hunted for these minutes to find a blade of wheat grass. Cy Rolfe, who did spraying, told us he used 4 lbs. of atrazine, 65W, and one gallon oil per acre. In fact, we saw a dozen really good stands of corn in the four days. And Compton isn't rated as one of the Corn Counties!

Allen Martin placed second in the pasture competition. Reg Hodge, Melvin Huppé, Don Coates, and Wesley Bowker all had programs that were outstanding, each in its own way. But there could be only one top place, and besides, the competition was not intended to be all that serious. It was more of an excuse to make visits, compare notes, and talk over problems.

Space is too short to tell a quarter of the highlights. Every farm had something to show. But we must mention Melvin Huppé's project. Two years ago, after raising beef for 22 years, he switched to dairy. He hired $400 worth of bulldozer time to clean up 27 acres rough, wet pasture, build roads and shape ditches. Then he cultivated the area, limed, fertilized, seeded to Ladino and Climax timothy and divided it into six small fields with good fence. Today, he has a stand of ladino you would have to see to believe. His new herd of twenty hand-picked hostein heifers can't begin to keep up with the growth. A happier, prouder man you never saw.

Out of twenty-one calls, eleven had, in the last two years, bulldozed, fertilized, and seeded Ladino and timothy on land too rough and too stony for even our indomitable ancestors to think of breaking. And they were good. I have never seen Ladino clover grow the way it does in Compton county. Mr. Richardson says it is the perfect summer moisture. And after being in Sherbrooke during that thunderstorm, I can believe drought is not a problem in Compton County.

INDIAN LANDS INSTALLMENT 4 Part 2

50 years later a Jesuit Father Gordon joined them with a party of Mohawks and he named it St. Regis, after the great French Jesuit, who had been canonized some years before by the Pope in 1812.

The night that followed was intensely dark and favorable for a surprise, so that the sentinels were on the alert, and no cause for alarm occurred. As it drew toward the hour of dawn, about 5 a.m., the two officers of the guard, Lt. Hall and Ensign Rottol, were seated, with Sergeant McGillivray around the campfire that blazed in front of the house where the Capt. and the men not on duty were sleeping, the subject of conversation among the 3 was the danger of their position. The Ensign had just said it is possible that obstinacy of our Captain exposes us to death without profit or glory, when a volley was suddenly fired from the bush, and he fell dead and the Sergeant mortally wounded. Lieut. Hall sprang into the house when a second volley was poured forth which killed a Frenchman Private and wounded several others, who had hardly been aroused from a sound sleep. Not a shot was fired by the Canadian side, which at once surrendered. One of the missionaries was captured and was told to shove the wounded and bury the dead, 1812, that Lieutenant Hall learned that the Americans contemplated an assault on the picket stationed there, and advised his Captain to withdraw to an island on the opposite side of the village

ROUND BYRE and RING

By Frank Napier

After 73 Years We have already referred to the 73rd Burnside Anniversary Sale elsewhere in this issue, giving a few of the highlights. However, there were several more highlights which we hope may be of interest.

First of all we may add that it commemorated the 73rd birthday of the herd which was founded, in 1893, by the late Hon. R. R. Ness, subsequently carried on in the name of R. R. Ness & Sons (the sons being J. Earle Ness and R. Bruce Ness until they acquired their own farms and herds, Douglas A. and A. Mitchell Ness) and finally by R. R. Ness & Sons Ltd., of which two of the senior directors are Douglas and A. Mitchell Ness.

The sale was held Saturday afternoon, August 13, at the Woodside Farm unit of Burnside Farm which in his lifetime was the home of the late Robert Ness, Sr., founder of the Ness Clan of Howick. Likewise the Canadian landing place of numerous important importations of Ayrshires and Horses, particularly Clydesdales, made by Robert Ness, Sr., from the United Kingdom at the end of last century.

Incidentally, the Marquee in which the sale was staged, and the folding chairs for those in attendance are part of the equipment furnished by Auctioneer Tom Whittaker for use at such sales — all of which are transported in a special Ayrshire Sales Service Truck.

Tasty sandwiches, etc., and soft drinks were on sale by the Women's organization of Howick United Church. Credit Where Credit! During the course of his address Dr. Rene Trepanier of Oka, Que., and President of Ayrshire Breeders' Association of Canada, paid a fine tribute to the longtime outstanding record of service rendered to the Ayrshire breed of cattle in general, in Canada, by the Ness firm of Burnside. In doing so, he emphasized that he was speaking not only as President of the Association but also as a fellow Ayrshire Breeder, and, by the way, his Mille Roches Herd is one of the largest most outstanding Ayrshire herds in Canada.

Other Consignors As may have been noted elsewhere 18 of the 36 head sold were from the Burnside herd with a similar number from other well-known herds in Ontario and Quebec, and the United States. That is, the Oakburn herd of Kenneth Roy, the Rockwood herd of Robert W. McFarlane, and the Terrace Bank herd of J. Earle Ness & Son, Reg'd., all of Howick, the Brookbank herd of M. and D. Smith, St. Herms, Que., the Cloverside herd of H. F. Steele, Newington, Ont.; the herd of Alex M. Wallace of Smith's Falls, Ont.; the Roycroft herd of W. S. Bamer, Richmond Hill, Ont.; the Clarkholm herd of Clark Bros., Norval, Ont., the Reidell herd of W. G. Reid of Ashburn, Ont., and the Rowan Stansell division of the Selwood herd of Aylmer, Ont. An International flavour, too, to speak was given by the inclusion of two head from the Maryland herd of Dr. Murray K. and Martha Dunsmore of St. Albans, Vermont.

Other Highlights As already noted elsewhere, a number of prominent present day sires figured in the catalogue, particularly so Hammonds Masterpiece, which bull after a short period of service in the Burnside herd went on to become one of Eastern Breeders' Inc. most popular A. I. Service sires. His highest priced daughter, Burnside Miss Nola, a bred farlane went to Mrs. Enid Macfarlane of Lakeside Farm, Phillipsburg, Que., at $870. Like her father the late Geo. H. Montgomery, K. C., has been a long time customer of that group, Burnside Misty, a fresh heifer, went to a comparatively new breeder, John Gunion of Herdman at $735. Misty has also a distinguished ancestry on her dam's side, in as much as her dam is the "Excellent" cow Carnell Tulip 21st (imp.) Mr. Gunion also got another Masterpiece heifer for $400.

The top selling heifer Selwood Julie 3 sold by Rowan Stansell to Allan H. Wilson, Franklin Centre, at $1,025, was sired by Selwood Crown Prince, a bull with a distinguished showing record as a calf, yearling and two year old. He was sired by the imported Balg Subway Star and out of an "Excellent" cow of the famous Selwood Cora strain.

Other top sellers included the Dunsmore bred heifer, Marydale Poppy, for which the Chagnon Bros., paid $700. That heifer was sired by the Canadian bred Wood Betty's Commander, which is undoubtedly the most famous of the present day sires in U.S.A.

When a group of breeders so widely separated as those of Ontario and Vermont are from Howick, are willing to take the chance they did, and when so many people come from equally far distances a way to buy and take the risk and expense entailed in buying the cattle, it must surely be that Ayrshires are ready to stage a come back. Anyhow those concerned are to be congratulated on their actions and Burnside for producing the vehicle in that respect.

Col. McMillan was entrusted with the expedition, he assembled at Cornwall a small but motley force of 250 men, it included a detachment of Royal Artillery and of the 49th Regiment Company, of the Cornwall and Glangary Militia and 30 Indians from Oka. At 11 at night on November 22nd, they silently embarked at Glangary House, rowed across the St. Lawrence and landed about at a point where the St. Regis comes out of the south bank of the St. Lawrence. Here 100 men under Col. McLean were left to protect the line of communication, and the remainder of the force advanced on French Mills. Though the distance was not great, the road was terrible and it was 5 o'clock before the bridge across the little Salmon River was reached. It was crossed without discovery, there being no sentry. About halfway to the bridge across the big Salmon River a sentry was posted, who fired his musket to give the alarm. The advance discharged their guns and the faithful sentry fell pierced with 3 balls, a rush was made for the village and at the other end of the bridge a second sentry was met, who fired at the advancing force and then turned to flee, when he also was killed. A few shots from some houses, called an order to fire a volley, when a man who stood at a door fell dead and at this point resistance ceased. It was later learned that the surprise had not been so complete as anticipated. A scout had brought in word of the approach hours before and that the garrison had all withdrawn into the blockhouse to which the British now marched drawing up in front prepared to storm it. A messenger was sent out demanding their surrender, coupled with a threat to destroy the village, the revolutionary veterans at

SUGAR AND SPICE by Bill Smiley

BIGTIME IN THE BIGTOWN

Burning desire of most city people in the blasting heat of mid-summer is to flee from the concrete canyons and head north, where there is cool blue water and golden sand and you sleep under blankets.

Well, we live in the north, comparatively, and usually it's just as the city denizens picture it.

But this summer, after sleeping under nothing but a film of sweat for three weeks, we decided to seek refuge from the heat.

How do you get it? Head further north? Nope, you head south for the city and check into an air-conditioned hotel. With a swimming pool.

It was done on impulse, with no room reservation. We were lucky. After four phone calls, we found ourselves conceded in a fine big room, cool as a tomb, overlooking the swank swimming pool. And yet it was right in the heart of the city.

Very pleasant. Free parking and free ice cubes appealed to my Scottish strain.

We called a few people, and by 8 o'clock the joint was jumping, room service was on the gallop, and the room was filled with everything from teenagers to a grandmother who had just knocked off her ed to catch Mr. Smiley in the act, so to speak. We took refuge in a cellar joint.

Maybe I'm getting old and crusty. But the coffee houses have changed greatly, and for the worse, in the five years since I've been there.

Then, they were run by enthusiastic amateurs, you could spend a whole evening for a dollar and a quarter, and the music was provided by young folk singers, some lousy, some good, but all serious and rather sweet.

Now they've gone commercial. There's a stiffish cover charge, coffee is 50 cents, a wallop and rotten, and the music, provided by groups whose sole purpose seems to be to drive you right out of your skull, is one great blast of electronic noise and shouting.

Ironically, the places have become to expensive for most of the young people they were originally intended for. Perhaps that's why they walk up and down outside in one vast, rolling crowd that is always potentially a mob.

Oh, well, it was a good week-end. We had budgeted for one night only. But we didn't wake up until checking-out time, it was still steaming hot outside, and the girls came up with some of that weird feminine logic which proved that we could afford it if we cut down on something or other. So I was hooked for another 24 hours of pretending to be a millionaire.

We loafed, swam, watched the rich people spoiling their kids, had an Italian dinner, and took in Eric Ni-

Ann Landers...

Answers your problems

Dear Ann Landers: My wife, her sister and I took a motor trip recently. The first night we stopped at a motel and took adjoining double bedrooms. The girls wanted to talk and I wanted to sleep, so I suggested they take one room and I would take the other. The next morning I went in to awaken them. My wife stretched, yawned and then got out of bed wearing absolutely nothing. I was stunned. Her sister almost went into shock. When I ordered my wife to put on her robe she said, "The two of you are crazy. You have both seen me like this so why are you carrying on like a pair of lunatics?" I could not explain and neither could her sister, but we DO know her behavior was way out of line. Can you tell all sides by her home and us all what was wrong with family. Mom is 20 pounds overweight and has no outside interests. Peter says he is not sure he could stay in love with a humdrum housewife who lets her looks and figure go to pot as soon as she gets her man. I don't know how to defend myself against this argument. Can you help? — ST. LOUIS WOMAN.

Dear Woman: Why don't you ask Peter what assurance you have that HE will not become paunchy, dull and boring as soon as he gets his girl. There's no reason a woman can't keep her looks and figure and continue to be aware of what is happening in the world after she marries. It's strictly a matter of desire and discipline.

Dear Ann Landers: I want to marry a widower who has a 16-year-old daughter. The problem is the daughter. I have tried my best to get her to like me, but she is sullen and unfriendly. The girl just won't give me a chance. Although I am only 22 I have studied psychology and I'm sure I can win her over after her father and I are married. (She'll have no choice.) My parents and friends are against this marriage. Our clergyman is also opposed to it, but they don't understand that Lola gets what Lola wants. How can I get the girl to like me? — DETERMINED LOLA.

Dear Determined: The best way to get the girl to like you is to marry someone else. Lola might get more than she bargained for if she marries a man old enough to be her father.

When necking becomes petting, watch out! To learn how the smart girl keeps both her dignity and her boy friend, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Necking and Petting — And How Far To Go," enclosing with your request 25c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Shirley had to wait before she could board a plane for home. The islands have a population of around 5,500, with fishing the only industry, the land being poor and rocky. Upon arrival in Sydney, on her return trip, Shirley was delighted to find her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. George Irvine and Anne, from Williamstown, also her aunt, Mrs. Jeannie McNeil, there to meet her. The next week was spent touring the Maritimes.

The August meeting of the Dundee W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. Jos. Platt. Roll call was answered by "What's Your Beef?" A letter was read from Mrs. Lewis expressing thanks for the 22 Christmas stockings which had been sent. Mrs. T. Stowell reported about some old customs concerning the rosemary shrub, how to blanch driftwood for decorating purposes, and about a type of wood with diamond-like marks found in Western Canada. Mrs. E. J. Cameron read about the world of wonders in the bloodstream. It is in a continual state of renewal and makes a complete circle of the body in a very short time. Mrs. A. Fraser emphasized that children were to be encouraged to exhibit in the Huntingdon Fair. Mrs. J. Platt showed some of the beautiful things she had made with shells while in Florida last winter. At the close of the meeting Mrs. Platt served a delicious supper which all enjoyed.

David Fraser returned home from Henrysburg Saturday with Barry, Jessie and Hugh Fraser. He had spent the past week visiting his grandmother, Mrs. H. P. Cockerline. While there he went with his aunts, Mrs. L. Barbe and Miss L. Cockerline, when they went to Upper Canada Village.

To hold it two companies were at once detached by the American General from the force at Chateaugay, N.Y., who stayed there until March 1st when a constable company under Capt. 4-H Club Parties

The six young men from Nova Scotia who visited in this district as exchange 4-H Club members, have returned home after a wonderful holiday of almost two weeks.

One of the best evenings of the trip socially was a gay party, planned by the 4-H Club Federation and held at Howick High School last Friday evening. There were about 150 present which included many 4-H members and their parents, plus a few more brothers and sisters of near 4-H age. The Huntington members supplied them at the door with name tags.

Garth Cavers of Ormstown was an outstanding M.C. There were Go-Go contests, multiple choice, and a variety of other games.

when eight or more McKells gathered around the table, and he learned that the one who emptied the milk jug had to refill it. There was always someone free to play badminton or croquet in spare time.

A similar programme was followed by all the other visitors so we feel sure it was a happy and rewarding experience for all of them.

The highlight of the evening was a pie-eating contest for the six visitors who competed two by two, each swathed in a sheet. The winner was Joseph Juurlink from Milford Station.

The Howick members provided bountiful refreshments which were served in the cafeteria in relays — first the under 25 guests followed by those 25 years and over.

Mr. and Mrs. Whiteford McKell entertained a party of 30 at their home one evening which included five of the 4-H visitors and the families they were visiting. Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McAdam of Hemmingford represented the Hemmingford family. Games were played and a wiener roast enjoyed. Another night the McKells took their visitor to Greig's Grove for a picnic supper and a visit to a beaver pond. One day they visited Ellenburg, N.Y., other days were filled with official visits. Joseph Juurlink, one of a family of eight, felt at home

The Late Wm. Menzies McLeish
The Rev. W. M. Brown, Georgetown Presbyterian Church, paid tribute on Sunday morning to the late William Menzies McLeish who died at Queen Mary Veterans' Hospital, Montreal on August 11, aged 75 years. The funeral was held at D. A. Collins Chapel on Saturday, August 13th, at 11 a.m. to Mount Royal Cemetery.

William Menzies McLeish came to Canada as a young man of 20 years shortly before the outbreak of World War I. In August 1914 he answered the call of King and Country and he was one of the few surviving veterans of that famous 13th Infantry Battalion of the Black Watch Highlanders of Canada. He was a prisoner of war from April 1915 to the end of the war, and this period of incarceration took a heavy toll of his physical attributes, leaving handicaps that remained with him through life but which did not destroy his spirit or his will to make the most of life. He enjoyed the amenities and attractions of rural life and for well over half a century was a regular visitor to the Howick area which he loved dearly. He loved to talk to people and in this way he made a host of acquaintances and friends.

To Mrs. McLeish, son Walter, daughter Glen and to the grandchildren we extend our "heartfelt sympathy."

Personals
Caverhill Irving received a compound fracture of the jaw and five broken ribs in the accident which sent him to La Salle Hospital, Lachine. Temporary work was done on the jaw, and on Tuesday of this week there was an operation.

Mr. John Briggs of Edmonton was a welcome week-end guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Bustard. They met John three years ago when he spent two days at their home during a 4-H provincial exchange. He and his wife returned recently from one year in New Zealand, on his return he came to Montreal for an Air Canada course, and wished to see his good friends before returning to Alberta.

Dorothy Bustard spent a few days at Macdonald College with Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Bustard.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hope, Jimmy and Kenny spent the week-end at Pittsfield, Vt., where they took part in a contest at the Green Mountain Boys Muzzle Loading Club. The weather was fine and they received the usual warm welcome and met many new contestants. Harold won one medal, Kenny one medal and Gladys three medals.

DUHEME-HAINEAULT

The wedding of Lise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Odilon Haineault of St. Stanislas de Kostka to Mr. Gerald Duheme, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Duheme of Huntingdon, took place on Saturday, July 9th, in the Parochial Church of St. Stanislas de Kostka. Father Gareau officiated and celebrated the nuptial mass.

The bride, accompanied by her father, wore a sleeveless Empire style dress. A lace coat was worn over the dress. Her veil of tulle illusion of the hood type was decorated with roses of the same cloth as the dress and formed a gracious train. Misses Gisele Laberge, friend of the bride and Jeannine Fortier, niece of the groom were the bridesmaids. They wore full length pink chiffon dresses. Their short veils in the same shade, were held by a rose made of chiffon. Their corsages, pinned to small handbags, were made of pink and white carnations.

Messrs. Richard Legault, friend of the groom and Jean-Guy Haineault, brother of the bride acted as ushers. The groom, the page and the ushers wore gala suits. The flower girl, Miss Johanne Galipeau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jean B. Galipeau of Huntingdon, wore a pink chiffon dress with smocking corsage and a headdress of small roses held her short veil. Her bouquet was made of white carnations and rose buds. Jean Fortier, nephew of the groom was the page.

Mrs. Duheme, mother of the groom had chosen a suit in green crepe, white lace-straw hat, white accessories and a corsage of yellow carnations. The mother of the bride, Mrs. Haineault wore a three-quarter length pink lace coat over a dress of the same material, white hat, black accessories, white carnations corsage. After the ceremony a reception grouping 150 guests was held at Chez Tex Hall, Ste. Barbe. Everyone enjoyed a pleasant afternoon; later the newlyweds left for a trip to Niagara Falls. To travel, Mrs. Duheme wore a navy blue and white linen ensemble; matching straw hat, navy blue accessories and white carnations. The couple will reside in Huntingdon, where Mr. Duheme is a property owner.

Clark and Mrs. Clifford Brown U.C.W. General Meeting
The general meeting of the Howick United Church Women was held in the Church Hall, August 9th., with 25 members present.

Miss Isabel Frith, president, welcomed the ladies and read an article, "What do we see when we walk with God in the great outdoors?" Mrs. Bruce Chisholm and Mrs. Lloyd Allen conducted the Worship Service, taking as their theme "Fellowship". The offering was dedicated by Mrs. -nishon.

Mrs. Roy Younie read an "In Memoriam" to the memory of Mrs. Homer Brady and spoke of her loyal devotion to her church, home and family. A minute of silence was observed.

Mrs. Douglas Ness, Chairman of Community Friendship and Visiting, introduced a skit "Who Cares". Those taking part were, Mrs. Archie Peddie, Mrs. Ivan Knox, Mrs. Douglas Fingleton, Mrs. Kenneth Younie, Mrs. J. J. Peddie and Mrs. Norman Fletcher. It presented afresh the great work that the church is doing and enlisted our sympathy for the refugees. As we listened to what the Nominating Committee have to do before an annual meeting we asked ourselves the question "Are we really serving Christ to the best of our ability in the Community by helping the sick, the handicapped and the lonely. Miss Frith and Mrs. Ness thanked the ladies for presenting a real picture of community friendship and visiting.

Mrs. A. Peddie in the absence of Mrs. Russell Stewart, Treas., reported a balance of $806.70. Reports from the various Chairmen of Committees were presented. Mrs. J. J. Peddie moved that we have a Thanksgiving Supper. This was seconded by Mrs. Math McKell. Refreshments were served by the Community Friendship and Visiting Committee.
