MARLER CAMPAIGN STEPS UP

Federal Transport Minister George Marler's campaign for election Monday, November 8th was stepped up this week, following the close of Montreal's civic balloting — the organization supporting the Federal minister taking the view that campaigning during the Montreal drive might prove confusing to the public.

Meetings are scheduled in the lower end of the division Sunday night, at Ridgewood Monday and next Thursday a mass rally will be held in Victoria Hall at which Hon. Lester B. Pearson, Canada's foreign affairs chief, will be the special speaker.

Mr. Marler has been named Canadian chairman in a re-vamping of the St. Lawrence River joint board of engineers, it is announced by the Transport Department.

The Canada-United States board was set up a year ago to supervise construction of the power development in the international section of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Mr. Marler will be member with president Lionel Chevrier of the St. Lawrence Seaway Authority. Originally the Canadian members were Mr. Chevrier — then transport minister — and R.A.C. Henry, Montreal consulting engineer.

Alternates will be M. V. Sauer and H. W. Lee, Montreal consulting engineers. Mr. Lee succeeds Brig. Maurice Archer, vice-chairman of the National Harbors Board.

Hallowe'en Dance At 'Y' Tonight

All ghosts, cats and witches are invited to Westmount Y.M.C.A. for the annual Hallowe'en party Friday, October 29 from 7 to 9 p.m.

The Girls' Hi-Y Club sponsors this party for all youngsters of Westmount. There will be a grand march, prizes for best costumes, and ice-cream and candy.

Admission is 15 cents to boys and girls of Westmount and their friends.

Fire Departments Of 2 Cities Join To Quell Blaze

A fire, which started in a partially completed house at 3110 Daulac avenue, was checked by the combined forces of the Westmount and Montreal fire departments Tuesday.

The blaze apparently started when an oil stove which was being used to dry out the plaster in the house overheated. The house is located near the boundary between the two cities.

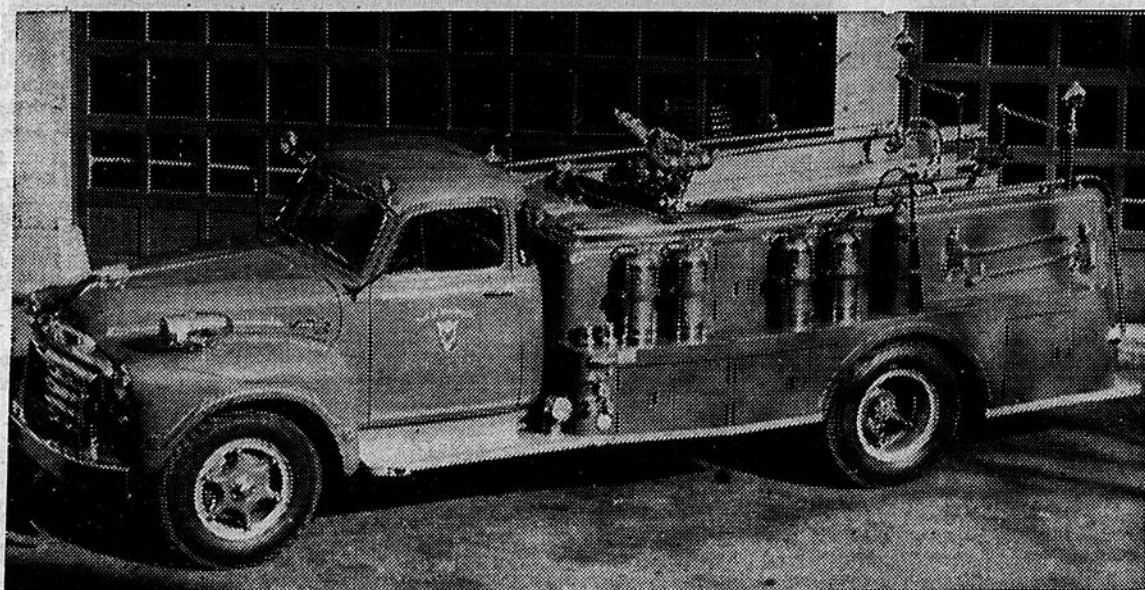

The fire started at 4.25 a.m. and it took the firemen less than an hour to bring it under control.

Educators Report On Conditions

Dr. F. C. James Of McGill:

The problem of education in this generation is not a matter of an extra English composition or the choice between two courses but "the basic problem of our civilization," Dr. F. Cyril James, principal and vice chancellor of McGill University said this week.

In an address to a meeting of the Westmount High Schools Home and School Association, he defined education as the admission to a culture, and culture as the integrated pattern of the whole community, and said he considered education on a much broader base than mere schooling.

He said that it is largely up to individual families to seek the solutions to education's present problems. He said the schools today do as good a job of teaching the routine of day to day things as they did in former years.

He attributed poorer overall education to changes in family and church life, factors he considered to be the greatest influences in the fitting of children to the world they live in.

He compared home and church life with what it was 50 years ago. He said in those days schools were concerned only with teaching day-to-day things. Schools still do this as well if not better, he said, and the deterioration in

G. H. Penrose Of Roslyn:

The most difficult attitude to deal with in public school is that of indifference, G. H. Penrose, principal, told a meeting of the Roslyn Home and School Association meeting Monday.

He said the superficial approach of an intelligent student who does the minimum of work needed to pass his grades gives him no "opportunity to become sufficiently interested in a subject to want to pursue it further."

Mr. Penrose said the attitude of the great majority of children at the elementary school level is one of enthusiasm.

"Those who take part in extra-curricular activities seem generally to have a better attitude towards their studies than those who do not take part," he said.

He said a very smaller group is antagonistic towards the school.

"This attitude may be a result of a previous unhappy experience in their dealings with supervising adults. If so it is a natural response to poor treatment but may be regarded as harmful if it reaches the stage of a fixed habit," he said. "It frequently disappears however, when someone, either parent or teacher, takes a sympathetic interest."

Mr. Penrose said there is a third

Dr. A. R. Jewitt Of Bishop's:

Higher entrance requirements and a gradual increase of Bishop's University enrolment to 300 was urged in a report discussed before the annual meeting of the Corporation of the university at Lennoxville this week.

Dr. A. R. Jewitt, principal and vice chancellor, reported to the Corporation on the work of a sub-committee, appointed last March to study two questions: is expansion advisable for Bishop's, and if so, how far and in what fields? If not, on what basis is selection to be made among applicants for admission?

The sub-committee, of which Dr. Jewitt was chairman, decided on four recommendations:

That entrance requirements be raised from 60 to 65 per cent and if the numbers applying for admission warrant it, from 60 to 70 per cent in science.

That every effort be made to reduce the present high level of academic mortality.

That with present facilities enrolment be gradually increased to 300.

That, as soon as possible, assistance be given to the departments of mathematics and physics, classics and history, by the appointment of two new instructors.

In general, the sub-committee

Canada Second Largest Oil User Oscar Knebel Tells Local Rotary

Canada, per capita, is the second largest user of petroleum products in the world, Oscar Knebel told members of the Westmount Rotary Club at Victoria Hall on Wednesday.

Mr. Knebel, who is a member of the Westmount club is a member of Imperial Oil Limited's sales department. He was giving his classification address.

He said that the importance of oil industry to Canadians is being made known to us daily, and that the oil companies are spending on the average $1,000,000 per day to develop the industry in this country.

In speaking of oil as a source of energy, Mr. Knebel pointed out that only 20 to 30 per cent of the total energy contained in today's powerful gasoline is used by a car to its full advantage. Some of the energy is lost in transporting the oil from which the gas is made. Other energy is lost in the manufacturing process itself, while a great bulk of the energy goes out the exhaust pipe or is lost in motor and radiator heat. Oil companies are all the time striving to overcome these disadvantages, he said.

He said that the only way the oil from Alberta's new oil fields can be brought east at a reasonable rate is through pipe lines. If the oil had to be transported here by truck or train the cost would put gasoline out of the reach of eastern car owners. Major oil companies he pointed out are striving constantly for economy in the production of their products and this can be seen when the price of gas today is just a little higher than it was in 1940. And the quality of the gasoline is better.

He said today's modern fuels together with today's modern motor-car engines give motorists twice the performance that they got from their machines in 1930. The development of new and more powerful fuels has completely altered the country's refineries, Mr. Knebel said.

In conclusion he pointed out that through research by the petroleum companies in searching for better fuels such modern day developments as synthetic rubber, plastics, detergents and even weed-killers have been developed.

CHAMBERS CAMPAIGN ROLLS ON

The 'vote for Egan Chambers' juggernaut in Westmount-St. Antoine continues to roll towards voting day November 8 — and this week a novel touch was added when the Conservative candidate took to a mobile committee room, complete with desk, filing cabinets and security.

Chambers uses the mobile for street corner and parking lot meetings with the electors.

The candidate will hold a meeting Wednesday at Westmount Junior High School, it is announced.

"We need energetic young men like Egan Chambers in Ottawa," declared Donald Fleming, Conservative Member of Parliament for Toronto — Eglinton here last night.

Speaking at a meeting in support of Egan Chambers, Conservative candidate in the November 8th by-election in the federal constituency of St. Antoine-Westmount, Mr. Fleming stressed the need for a strong opposition at Ottawa.

"The drive and determination shown by Mr. Chambers in this campaign is indicative of the way he will serve the people of St. Antoine-Westmount in Ottawa," he said. Mr. Fleming, who is one of the veteran Conservative Members of Parliament, praised the personal touch to Mr. Chambers' campaign. He added "people today are not interested in the party alone and ringing doorbells gives citizens an opportunity of meeting their candidate informally."

Further support for Egan Chambers came this week from Hon. W. Earle Rowe, Privy Councillor and Progressive-Conservative Member of Parliament for Dufferin-Simcoe. Speaking at the NDG Progressive Conservative Association in the Montreal West town hall Wednesday night, Mr. Rowe urged all Conservatives in the area to aid Mr. Chambers in his campaign in St. Antoine-Westmount.

numbers would pass in to the second, third and fourth years and an enrolment of 300 might be attained.

"This might well be considered a first stage of expansion," said Dr. Jewitt, "but the question remains, what is to be done when, in a few years, perhaps five or six, the numbers wishing each year to enter Bishop's might far exceed the 100 we are presently accepting?"

"Are we to refuse them admission?" he continued, "or are we to begin planning now for the additional buildings and staff that an enrolment of 400 would require? The sub-committee dealt very briefly with this question have to be faced and a decision reached."

Dr. Jewitt pointed out that enrolment for 1954-55 is 271, an increase of 13 over last year.

Dr. Jewitt also gave a summary of the work done by a committee, set up under Alfred Penhale, to obtain more scholarships and bursaries for students. The work of this committee soon began to bear fruit when, in September, the president of the Asbestos Corporation announced that his company would grant an annual scholarship of $500, tenable for three years. The first was awarded last September.

The president of the Johnson Company, A. S. Johnson, also announced a scholarship. The first will be awarded in September 1955. A Lennoxville citizen has given a bursary of $100 to a deserving student in financial need and has indicated his intention of renewing the grant as long as the recipient is a student at the university.

Among those attending the meeting were: The chancellor, John Bassett; John H. Molson, president of the corporation; principal and vice-chancellor, Dr. A. R. Jewitt; Lt-Col. A. A. Munster, vice-president; Associate Chief Justice W. B. Scott, W. H. Campbell, P. S. Gregory, A. S. Johnson, Justice C. G. Mackinnon, Justice William Mitchell, H. H. Smith, G. M. Stearns, A. C. M. education cannot be attributed to them.

He said a child learns by imitating and will fully develop character, leadership, knowledge and a sense of service to himself and to others, not by changes in school curriculum or in the philosophy of schooling, but in the example given him of unceasing striving for achievement.

Dr. James doubted whether the knowledge of today is more complex than in the eras of Aristotle, Bacon and St. Thomas Aquinas. He said these are many more facts but that the "theoretical structure" which links these facts together remains the same.

Dr. James said no man can work out education problems unless he first sets down a code of ethics and a philosophy of the universe. He said education, its purpose,

DANCE TONIGHT

The Plus 16 Club, teenage organization of the Unity Boys' Club will hold their first special event of the current season at the club tonight. The committee in charge have completed arrangements to conduct a "Hard Times" dance with the accent on Halloween capers. Members and their friends are cordially invited to attend. The dance starts at 8.30 p.m. and refreshments will be served. Members of the committee in charge of the dance include: Anne McDonald, David Gray, Kenneth Knowles, Sylvia Rosvald, Claudette Walsh and James Robb.

HALLOWEEN PARTIES

The Unity Boys' Club will hold two other parties in conjunction with Halloween. On Saturday at 2 p.m. a special party will be held for the youngsters 10 years of age and under and on Monday, November 1, at 7 p.m. the 11 to 15 year olds will have their party. On both occasions movies will be shown and games and refreshments will constitute the balance of the program.

CRAFTS AND GROUPS CLUBS

By ELIZABETH ANDERSON

Twice a week we have art classes for our members. On Wednesday from 7 to 8 p.m. a group of approximately 25 youngsters get together to draw and work with crayons. Often they do some paper sculpture using coloured construction paper. They have recently made many Halloween decorations which will be used at our Halloween parties. On Saturday morning our other group meets. They paint subjects usually from their own imagination. In a recent session the group did remarkably well copying still-life arrangements.

On Friday evenings and Saturday mornings Louis Thomas conducts fretwork classes for the boys and girls. The youngsters saw out models of witches, bunnies, Indians and various mythical characters. When the sawing is complete and the articles sandpapered they paint them with colorful paint. Fretwork is certainly one of the most popular groups in the entire club. Last Saturday, 75 youngsters attended the morning class which is an all-time high record in class participation.

Another popular activity for the girls is the Friday night sewing class. Under the supervision of Miss Mary Timm, the girls are making stuffed animals and dolls, dolls clothes, aprons and also embroidery. Future projects will include the making of peasant skirts.

Wood carving is very well liked by a group of boys who meet every Friday evening. They have carved fall and winter scenes, ash trays and figurines. Most of the work is done with intricate detail even to the painting which requires much skill and patience. The wood carving class is under the instruction of J. N. McLaughlin.

Every Thursday evening carpentry classes are conducted by Frank Reilly. At the moment the boys in Mr. Reilly's class are making lamps, corner-shelves and other small knick-knacks. Larger articles will be in vogue as the season progresses.

Another craft group which hold their meetings on Thursdays is the leatherwork class under the direction of Mrs. A. W. Wileman. Several of the children have completed book marks and are presently working on change purses. Instruction in tooling is being given at each session.

One of the afternoon clubs called "Novelty Crafts". The group of 15 girls meet to do weaving and glass painting. Some of our group clubs such as the Silhouette club have craft as their main activity. The Silhouette club which is under the leadership of Bob Asprey consists of 12 boys who meet every Wednesday night to cut out wooden silhouettes of different subjects. These are painted white or black and are mounted on another piece of wood painted in a contrasting colour.

A new addition this year is Tom Nickson's woodburning class which is held Monday from 7 to 9 p.m. The method employed by the boys is to first of all trace pictures on a rectangular piece of wood and then burn the outlines with a special wood-burning tool. After this is completed the picture is varnished.

A new group club which had its inaugural meeting this week is the Adventure club under the leadership of Anne M. Shill. Miss Shill's group will conduct a combination of tours through local places of interest and in addition have periodical creative craft class sessions.

The lack of a leader for model aircraft has made it necessary to postpone participation in this interesting hobby until such a time as a leader has been made available.

A leader has been secured for our Stamp club which hold meetings every Wednesday evening in the Library. He is Robert Eunt, the most recent volunteer worker to join Unity's volunteer staff.

SPORTS

BASKETBALL—Three exhibition basketball games were played last week. U.B.C. teams winning two and losing one. The midget team coached by Johnny Reddon defeated Mont St. Louis Midgets to the tune of 43-30, Richard Simmons and John "Bugs" McDonald were the big guns for Unity scoring 18 and 15 points respectively.

The U.B.C. senior cagers won their first game of the season defeating International Y.M.C.A. 53-48 and in the second game of the week were edged 62-61 by Mont St. Louis College. On both occasions Unity was without the services of several key players, due to football reasons, however, the team gave every indication that conditioning progress is being made and the team should be considered a serious contender for title honors this year. In the International tussle, Jack McKissock topped all scorers with a total of 19 points while Barnard playing in the guard position played an excellent game garnering 10 points. In the Mont St. Louis game, Unity was down 9 points at the half-time interval — the score 31-22. In the second half Unity out-shot their opponents 39-31 with the final result showing Mont St. Louis 62 and U.B.C. 61. Dave Barnard and Johnny Reddon led the scoring parade with 20 and 17 respectively.

GOLDEN

BALL TOURNAMENT

A double-header basketball attraction is scheduled for the Unity's Boys' Club on Friday, November 5, starting at 7.30 p.m. The preliminary game will be between the Unity Boys' Club senior team and the Three Rivers Comets and the feature attraction of the evening will have the McGill Redmen versus the Inter-collegiate Georgians.

The games will be played under the regulations of the Montreal Basketball League Golden Ball Tournament.

A large crowd of spectators is anticipated. Our senior team is looking for good support from the club's members.

McGill Dental Group Will Participate In Course By Telephone

Members of the McGill University Dental Group, including several local residents, will take part in a post-graduate course concerning problems in dental practice, which will be broadcast by telephone by the University of Illinois College of Dentistry, Chicago.

The fifth year of the "Current Advances in Dentistry" series, which will begin on Nov. 8, will feature simultaneous film strip presentation and will be available to a larger number of dentists than ever before.

Dental groups and societies that cannot meet at the time of the scheduled broadcasts by telephone will be furnished with disk or tape recordings of the original sessions, complete with film strips and instruction manuals. These groups will meet at their convenience from three weeks to a month after each broadcast.

In this way, groups that would rather meet at another time will be able to benefit from the round table discussions and symposia on the latest dental techniques. Groups using the recordings will use the same film strips and manuals used for the telephoned broadcasts. Broadcasts this year will be from WILL, the University's radio station on the main campus at Urbana.

More than 75 groups of dentists have enrolled, including 67 in 32 of the United States. Nine Canadian societies are enrolled, as well as armed services groups in Alaska, the Panama Canal Zone, at the naval academy and within the United States.

Programs of the 1954-55 series will include sessions on problems in the control of pain, in treatment planning, occlusion (how teeth of the two jaws meet to form the bite), and in decay control, as well as the first program dealing with "Emergency Problems in Dental Practice."

The first program will be led by Dr. Bernard G. Sarnat of the University of Illinois. Taking part will be Dr. Orion H. Stuteville of Northwestern University; Dr. Joseph G. Kostrubala of Loyola University, Chicago; Dr. Norman B. Roberg of the College of Medicine and Dr. Thomas K. Barber of the College of Dentistry, University of Illinois.

Dr. Allan G. Brodie, dean of the College of Dentistry, said the handling of dental emergencies will be stressed this year because they are problems dentists may not experience often, but which must be dealt with promptly and with the best knowledge and skill available.

A. J. Nesbitt, Financial Leader Died Sunday In His 75th Year

A private funeral service was held this week for Arthur J. Nesbitt, Montreal financial leader and chairman of the board of Nesbitt, Thomson and Company Limited, who died Sunday at the Ross Memorial Pavilion of the Royal Victoria Hospital after a lengthy illness. He was 74 years old.

The son of Andrew Nesbitt and Eleanor Deane, he was a native of St. John, N.B., and received his education there.

With P. A. Thomson, Mr. Nesbitt founded the investment firm of Nesbitt, Thomson and Company Limited here in 1912. Following the First World War, during which he played a prominent part in the Victory Loan campaigns, Mr. Nesbitt directed his firm's activities in the financing of a number of important public utility and pulp and paper companies.

These included the Southern Canada Power Company, Winnipeg Electric Company, British Columbia Power Company and Eathurst Power and Paper Company.

Later his firm originated, or was associated with, the financing of a large number of industrial, oil and gas, and mining companies.

While active in the administration of several of these corporations, Mr. Nesbitt was concerned with the activities of many charitable organizations both in Montreal and his native Saint John.

At the time of his death, apart from his connections with many other companies, Mr. Nesbitt was chairman of the board of the Power Corporation of Canada and Jas. A. Ogilvy's Limited, president of the Canada Northern Power Corporation, and a director of Canadian Oil Companies Limited, Southern Canada Power Company Limited and Sherbrooke Railway and Power Company.

Mr. Nesbitt is survived by his wife, Mabel Louise, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Aird; two sons, Brig. James Aird Nesbitt and Wing Commander A. Deane Nesbitt, DFC, and two sisters, Mrs. Frank Millard, and Mrs. Fraser Foster, all of Montreal.

Burial was in Mount Royal Cemetery.

Saving money... and writing cheques

A bank offers you two types of deposit account, Savings and Current.

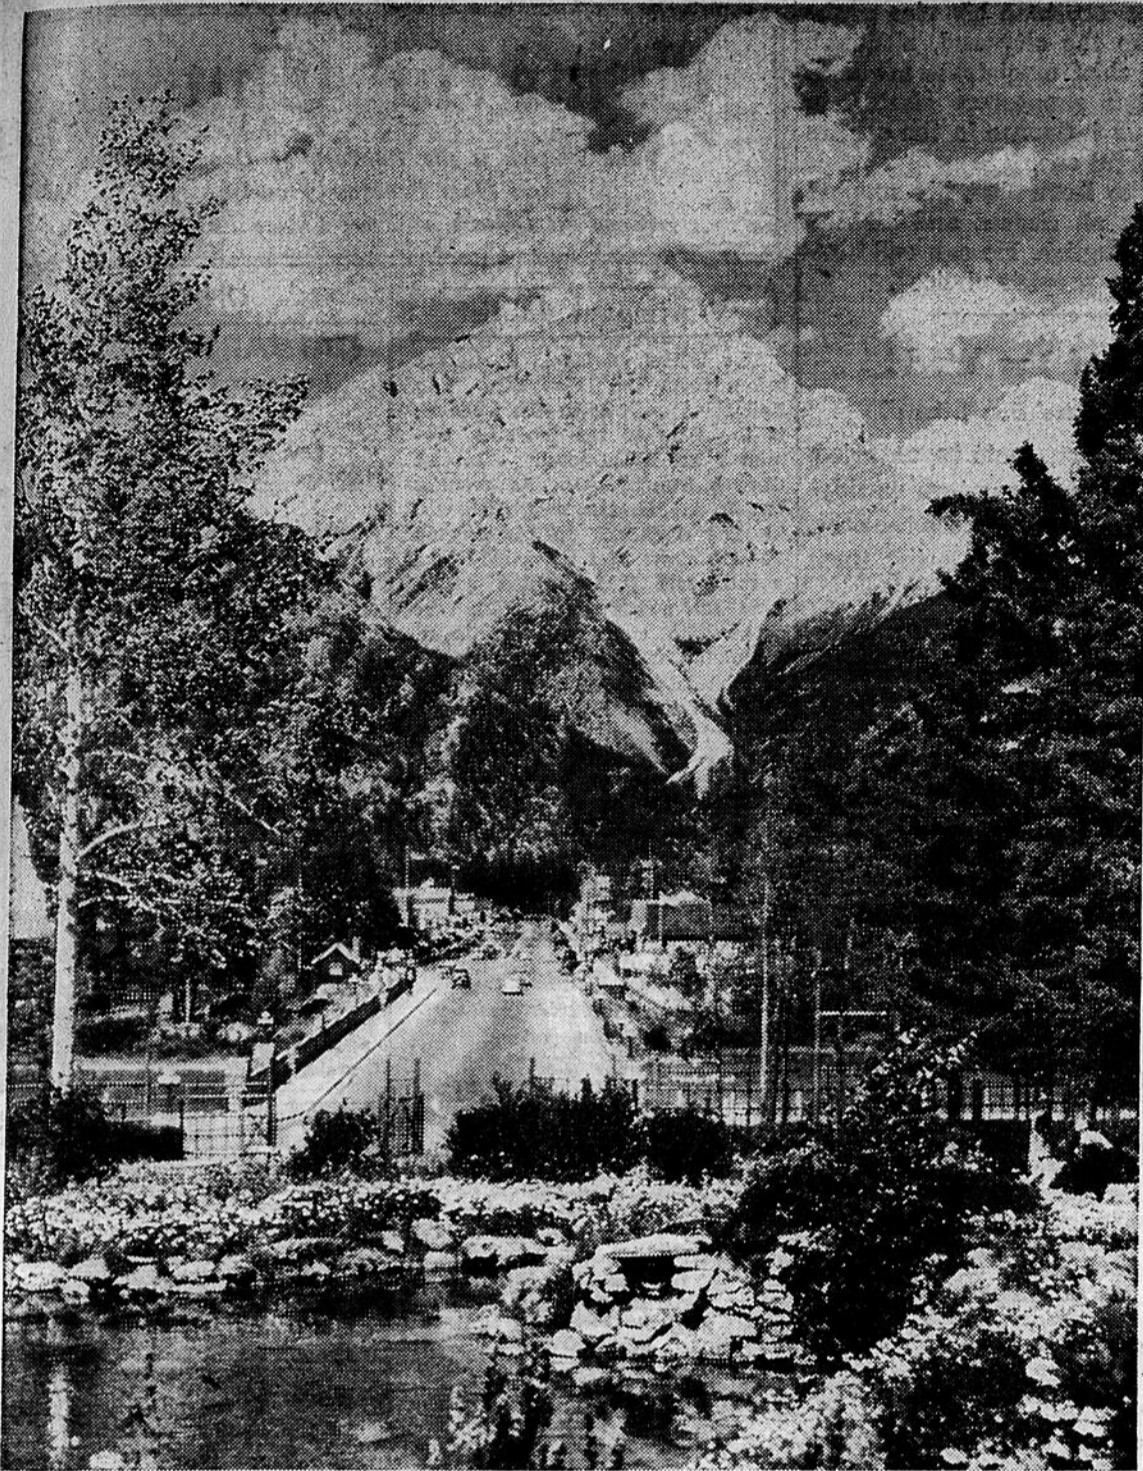

If your main purpose is to save, to accumulate funds, it's good to have a Savings account.

If you write cheques frequently, you will like the many advantages of a Current account.

The money you leave in a Savings account earns interest, and your bank book gives you an up-to-date, continuing record of your financial progress. If your funds are active, with frequent deposits and withdrawals, a Current account provides a special service; a monthly statement, together with your cancelled cheques—useful as receipts and a ready reference for budgeting, bookkeeping and other purposes.

THE BANKS SERVING YOUR COMMUNITY

THIS IS ONE of the scenes seen by members of the Westmount Women's Club last week when they saw the Canadian Pacific Railway Company's color and sound film Canadian Pattern. This majestic scene is the main street of Banff, Alta., famed summer and winter holiday spot. The film is the story of the pattern of Canadian development laid on a basis of transportation foundation.

Brian Donlevy starrer, "Dangerous Assignment," will be filmed by Allied Artists in Hollywood instead of London as originally planned.

Mrs. Philip Layton Dies;

A funeral service will be held today for Mrs. Phillip E. Layton who died here Wednesday. She was in her 88th year.

The former Alice Gilbert, she was the wife of Phillip E. Layton, who pre-deceased her in 1939. Mrs. Layton was born and educated in Bedfordshire, England, and came to Canada in 1895. With her husband, Mrs. Layton was instrumental in founding the Montreal Association for the Blind. She was also one of the conveners for a three day bazaar held in Westmount at which a total of $25,000 was raised and went towards the building of the blind school. Mrs. Layton was also on the committee which formed the first tag day held in Montreal for the blind and raised another $25,000. She also travelled to England and received a special donation from Lord Strathcona towards the school which was completed at a cost of more than $100,000. Mrs. Layton travelled extensively in Canada organizing branches of the Federation of the Blind, which had been founded just one year previously largely due to the effort which she and her husband put in to the work. Other achievements of Mrs. Layton was an amendment to the old age pension act to include the blind, she was honorary secretary of the Montreal Association for the Blind, honorary president of the Canadian Federation of the Blind, and was awarded the Jubilee medal in 1935.

She is survived by one son, Gilbert Layton, six grandchildren, seven great-grandchildren, and a sister, Mrs. Louise Smith, of London, England.

Funeral will be from the chapel of Joseph C. Wray's on Mountain street.

Montreal Elections

Mr. Drapeau Wins Support In All Sections of the City

The electorate has spoken with as unanimous a voice as is possible in a field of several candidates, and Jean Drapeau will be Montreal's mayor for the next three years at least. The fight of Drapeau and Plante against almost insurmountable odds to bring to justice those responsible for condoning vice, gambling, and allied rackets in the city, caught the public imagination to such an extent that the largest turnout in years voted Drapeau into power.

The new mayor has been given an emphatic mandate to continue his vice probe work and clean up the city and, although the powers of the chief magistrate are limited, he has enough supporters elected in council to make his influence in the affairs of the city a powerful one.

It is gratifying to learn that his support was spread among all classes and all districts, French and English. He can call himself with truth, "the people's choice".

Flag of The World

(United Nations' Day Tribute)

If but the Flag of Christ, could be unfurled,
To cover all this sad, and war-torn world;
If hands of men, could reach across the seas,
To hearts of brothers, and to bring them ease,

Clasping in bonds of love, forgetting Hate,
Making of all the Nations, one great State;—
Then would the "Kingdom" prayed for all these years,

Come to this earth, to dry the Nations' tears.

A Homily on Colossians - I

by Rev. Canon R. Kenneth Naylor
Rector of Trinity Memorial Church

In a good many churches next Sunday there will be read a passage from the Fifth Chapter of Ephesians, "See then that ye walk circumspectly, not as fools, but as wise, redeeming the time, because the days are evil." There is a similar passage in Colossians, Chapter Four, "Walk in wisdom toward them that are without, redeeming the time." The New Revised Version translates it "Conduct yourselves wisely towards outsiders, making the most of the time." If I may venture on my own translation it would be: "Walk in wisdom in relationship with those who are outside, buying up the opportunity." (Those who are outside are outside the Beloved Community of the People of God) I should like then to attempt an explanation or rather an expansion of St. Paul's idea, in the course of the next four or five weeks.

The word "walk" is a very important word in Scripture. It reminds us of those pilgrims and adventurers for God both in the Old Dispensation and in the New, who had here no continuing city but they sought one. Abraham, for example, had no land whatsoever, except the parcel of ground which he bought to bury his wife and himself. He was a pilgrim, going where God directed him. He is the pattern of those who make light of possessions and press on to the Heavenly City.

"Walk" also implies steady progress, not necessarily rapid, but steadily in one direction. The pilgrim absorbs something of the pace of Francis Thompson's The Hound of Heaven:

"With unhurrying chase,
And unperturbed pace,
Deliberate speed, majestic instancy."

Or more closely at hand, he learns from our Lord Himself. He was always the Pilgrim, always moving on to some fresh task, never in a hurry, always dealing with the problem or the person before Him, busy with Simon the Pharisee or with Mary and Martha even when He was resting.

But the walking - the pilgrimage - is never an aimless one. If it were it would not be a pilgrimage but a stroll. It is rather something done circumspectly, with one's wits about one, because as Christian found in Pilgrim's Progress, there are many dangers in the way. The Christian should be happy and gay, and even care-free, in his pilgrimage, but it is never said that he may be careless. Even though he walks, as Charles Williams would put it, "under the Protection," yet as a faithful pilgrim he must consciously accept the Protection.

RADIOACTIVE?

Salt water, hundreds of tons of it sprayed with an intensity exceeding that of a tropical rain-storm, is one effective method of protecting ships against contamination by radioactive particles, says an Admiralty announcement. This new defensive equipment in the atomic age will be installed in all new British warships. It consists of a number of nozzles distributed about the ship through which salt water can be sprayed over all weather surfaces. Successful trials were recently carried out in the Royal Navy's experimental cruiser H.M.S. Cumberland.

If by mistake you drip a spot of yolk into egg whites you intend to beat stiff, dip a point of a towel in warm water, wring it dry, and touch the yolk spot with it, and the yolk will adhere to the cloth and come away easily.

New St. Justine's Hospital Will Be One of Most Modern

The new St. Justine's Hospital will be one of the most important and most modern hospitals of its kind in North America.

It will be able to admit 20,000 children a year. It will have 800 beds and 60 bassinets, compared to the 500 beds and 40 bassinets in the present hospital.

When finished, St. Justine's will be a medical centre with the most modern scientific and medical equipment. Training of medical will be carried on in its new laboratories were drawn up not only for the treatment and comfort of case. Each department will have its own attractively-decorated quarters, spacious and equipped with every facility.

The most up to date techniques have been employed in the construction of the new building. The plans were drawn up not only to meet actual needs but also to provide for future eventualities.

Each ward will have only four beds and will be a complete unit with all the facilities necessary for the treatment and comfort of the patients.

Over-crowding which exists in the present hospital will be eliminated. Upon admission, the patient will quickly be directed to the department dealing with his type of case, scacious and equipped with every facility.

The main hospital building will have wards for patients of the five top floors. The lower floors will house administrative offices, emergency departments, medical, surgical and special clinics, physiotherapy department and service offices.

Four subterranean floors will serve as store rooms and can be used as bomb shelters if the need should arise.

The main building will be joined to the two pavilions by a central wing which will contain a chapel, radiology clinic, laboratories, operating rooms obstetrical department, various clinics, dining rooms and kitchens.

In one of the pavilions will be the nursing school library, conference rooms, amphitheatre, health bureau, swimming pool and gymnasium. The seven top floors will be used for private room.

The other pavillion will contain interns' and resident doctors' quarters and quarters for other members of the hospital staff.

Two more annexes will house the laundry and the power plant.

St. Justine's Hospital has given outstanding service for almost half a century. The institution, open to children from any part of the province, was established in 1907. It is administered by volunteer directors and has always rejoiced in the help donated to it by many persons inspired by a sense of civic, humanitarian and Christian responsibility.

Its medical organization is headed by a director with a medical council and medical staff of more than 85 doctors. Nursing is done by Les Filles de la Sagesse, who have carried on these duties since the inception of the hospital.

Since 1907, St. Justine's has helped to train 1,987 doctors and 2,538 nurses, specializing in child care. These people have gone to all parts of Quebec, taking their St. Justine's training with them to pass on to the people of this province.

St. Justine's is a complete general hospital with every facility offered by large general hospitals for adults. It can give children as complete a service as an adult receives in a general hospital.

St. Justine's has played a most important role in the fight against infant mortality. It has contributed greatly to reduce the infant mortality rate which, half a century ago, took a frightening toll in our province.

St. Justine's, because it receives so many patients, has attracted many specialists and has developed treatment centres for certain child afflictions such as infantile paralysis, cerebral palsy, congenital deformities and premature births.

It offers all patients treatment by specialists in child diseases, surgeons, orthopedists, physiotherapists, psychiatrists, rehabilitation technicians and occupational therapists.

The new hospital will permit St. Justine's to continue its work on a broader scale, in line with the greater needs of society.

Every Individual Needed By World Lecturer Declares

Nobody in the world should feel unimportant or unwanted, because the world has great need of every individual — of everything he is able to express of integrity, spiritual strength and compassion, according to Lela May Aultman, C.S., of Denver, Col., lecturing last (Thursday, Oct. 21) evening on Christian Science in the auditorium of Montreal High School, University Street.

"The world needs you to be yourself," Mrs. Aultman told her audience, "to be the man of God's creating, so trustworthy and so obedient to right that you give evidence to mankind that your creator is a good God."

The lecturer is making a nationwide tour. She spoke in Montreal at the invitation of First Church of Christ, Scientist, on Cote des Neiges road at McGregor street. She is a member of The Christian Science Board of Lecturership in Boston, Mass.

"Is there anything more important to you," Mrs. Aultman asked, "than understanding who you are and for what purpose you were created? You can become acquainted with yourself only through first understanding your origin. Creation must have creative Mind as its source, and the other name for creative Mind is God.

"Man, who is conceived by infinite Mind, born of God's great love, has a heritage of freedom, health, joy and abundant good. God has given man dominion over the whole earth, authority to destroy sickness, sin and death, and the ability to live nobly, as God's witness. It is right to claim and utilize the ability given us by God."

Mtl. Council Of Women Plan Petition To Appoint A Group "C" Councillor

As soon as the elections for City Council are over, Montreal Council of Women plans to petition the new executive for inclusion in the list of organizations having the right to appoint one or more of the 33 councillors who comprise Group "C" Category of City Council.

Montreal Council of Women has long been concerned over the fact that such a small representation for women is indicated by the presence of only one woman councillor among the 98 members of City Council. The contribution that women have made to civic affairs and community welfare over a period of years is being increasingly recognized, especially in suburban areas, and Council, representing as it does some 35,000 women in the Province of Quebec, the majority of them in Montreal, feels that it is only reasonable it be allowed to participate in the actual planning and direction of civic affairs of the largest city in Canada. There are many qualified women in Montreal, whose contribution would be great if they were given the opportunity. This is a long-time project of the Montreal Council of Women, and as the president, Mrs. H. P. Reusing, expresses it, "We hope that it will meet with success. We believe that our efforts deserve such results."

Certainly, Montreal Council of Women is pleased that the Civic Improvement League, holding as it does already the right to put forth such a representative in this category, has seen fit to appoint such an active and conscientious bilingual community worker as Mrs. Eustache Letellier de Saint-Just.

Karnak Ladies

Karnak Ladies Club will meet in the Masonic Temple Sherbrooke Street West on Tuesday, November 2, at 1.30 p.m. for business, mending, sewing and knitting. There will also be an executive meeting at 1.30 p.m. Mrs. K. W. Matheson, president, presiding.

MRS. MICHELLE TISSEYRE of 800 Lexington Ave., Westmount, who is well known on Television and Radio is perhaps one of the busiest women in this district. Mrs. Tisseyre, on her new Television show called "House Party", interviews many personalities in sports, fashions and art. House party has been such a success that three sponsors have made offers to sponsor her show. This is her first appearance back on the English channel. Her only wish and hope is that the English audience will accept her back again for it was not long ago that she had "Tele-Montreal" a bilingual show.

Mrs. Tisseyre is one of the ten well known women of Montreal who are currently featured in the November issue of Chatelaine Magazine. Included in the article are such prominent women as Mrs. Doreen Day, fashion authority with T. Eaton Co. in Montreal, and Mrs. A. T. Galt Durnford, who is president for the S.P.C.A. Mrs. Tisseyre who is fluent in both French and English, with her wit of the Irish and her French Canadian "bon accueil" is doing an excellent public relation job between her French and English speaking audiences.

Jack Buchanan, that great song-and-dance man with the inimitable light comedy touch who made such a triumphant return to the screen in "The Bandwagon", with Fred Astaire, is now to star in his first British film for 15 years.

The title is As Long As They're Happy, which is a VistaVision screen adaptation of the successful stage play, filmed in Eastman Color. Famous wit Alan Melville has written the script for the new film, which is based upon his own play. It is described by 38-year-old producer Raymond Stross as "a comedy with music." J. Lee Thompson will direct.

Buchanan is cast as a respectable and reasonably contented businessman. At least, he is contented until a "cry" crooner from America descends upon the household. Suburbia has never seen anything like what happens from then on to Jack and his family — the family being a wife and three daughters, all highly susceptible to the crooner's charm, and two sons-in-law who share Jack's loathing for the trans-Atlantic lady-killer.

Producer Stross has gathered together a great comedy cast to back up Buchanan and his co-star, dynamic musical comedy star, Jean Carson. Jerry Wayne, American musical comedy star of "Guys and Dolls", makes his screen debut as the crooner. Brenda de Banzie, who gave a hit performance in "Hobson's Choice", plays Buchanan's wife. Susan Stephen and Janette Scott are Jean's sisters. And the most peculiar sons-in-law ever to be wished upon a long-suffering father — one is an American cowboy and the other an existentialist playwright — are played by Hugh MacDermott and Nigel Green.

New members, including one big song-and-dance routine, for Jack and Jean, have been specially written for the film by Sam Coslow, the man who produced the early Bing Crosby pictures and wrote such ever-green tunes as "Please", "Thanks For the Memory", "Cocktails For Two" and "Just One More Chance".

How does Jack feel about singing and dancing again on the screen? "They asked me that question in Hollywood when I was cast in 'The Badwagon'," he says. "I told them that dancing is like riding a bicycle. You never forget how to do it."

After a tremendous reception, the J. Arthur Rank Organization Presentation and Universal-Verona Production, Romeo and Juliet, has been awarded the "Golden Lion of St. Mark", the Grand Prix of the Venice Film Festival for the most outstanding film entered.

The jury enthusiastically praised the beauty of Renato Castellani's direction and applauded the film as a major contribution to film art.

Westmount Crushes Proctor 12-6 After Clipping Cardinal Newman

By GORDON WASSERMAN

Westmount High, playing inspired, hard-hitting football all the way, performed a major upset Monday defeating Proctor Academy 12-6.

This was the second straight victory for the Purple 'n White, after losing their first three starts. The team defeated Cardinal Newman 10-7 in a regular league tussle Friday.

End Lance Thomson and backs Terry Gray, Paul Hamilton and Bob Perry were largely responsible for the improved offensive strength of the squad. But more important than that, was the boost in morale which the players received through their victory over Cardinal Newman. The squad now has the necessary spirit and drive to make a winning ball team.

The Cardinal Newman game, which may be the turning point in the successes of WHS started slowly. The first period was scoreless and was marked by a beautiful 50 yard run by Terry Gray.

Cardinal Newman took the lead early in the second quarter when Paul Hamilton was rouged behind the Westmount goal line. Very soon coach Sharp's team struck back. Lance Thomson snared a pass from Hamilton, and put on a dazzling display of broken field running for 70 yards to get the first Westmount major. The convert attempt was missed and the score at half time was Westmount 5, Cardinal Newman 1.

Score on Smashes

The third quarter saw the Cardinal Newman squad march the length of the field in a series of ground-plays and score on a line smash from inside the five yard line. The convert was good and the score read 7-5 in favor of the home team when the third period was over.

With three minutes to go in the final period, Westmount was still behind Mentor Sharp dipped deep into his pack of strategic tricks and came up with the answer.

Without taking up precious time for huddles, the Purple 'n White team raced down the field in a series of forward passes.

Haldimand Connects

The clock was running out with under a minute to go, Hamilton found Haldimand for a 30 yard pass, enabling the latter to scoot over the line without any trouble. The convert was missed, the gun went and a jubilant Westmount squad headed for their bus victorious, and with a much needed boost in spirit. Credit must be given to the great job done by the forward wall, which kept out all charging opponents.

Proctor Starts Well

The Proctor Academy football squad, by far the better equipped and larger of the two, seemed at first to be able to score at will. At the two minute mark in the first period, they had possession of the ball on the Westmount 10 yard marker. Sandy Weld, a 183 pound fullback in his third year at the school and his first on the varsity football squad, smashed through the Westmount wall for the first points of the game.

Since the first half was played according to the American rules, and scoring system, the score was 6-0.

The convert attempt, a run around the end, was unsuccessful. The pace slowed up considerably and the Purple 'n White team began to show plenty of drive.

Thomson Gets TD

End Lance Thomson caught a lovely pass from Bob Perry in the second quarter and romped over the goal line for a major. Paul Hamilton, an expert at gaining yardage on the ground, scooted around the end for the convert. The half ended Westmount 7, Proctor 6.

The third period was pretty even, with most of the work being done by the lines. But then Westmount's Terry Gray, who had been doing a fine job all morning, suddenly found a huge gap in the Proctor line and took the chance to plow his way through. He was away, and didn't stop until the referee had signalled the touchdown.

The 70 yard run which cinched the game for Westmount, gave the crowd a taste of some of the exciting moments of football. The convert attempt by Lonsdale was not good and the final score read Westmount 12, Proctor 6.

Receive Small Trophy

The victorious captains Bob Baker and Dick Christenson received the Small Memorial Trophy, presented by the Westmount Old Boys' Association, while the Proctor captain Artie Pratt received a white inscribed football.

The Westmount cheerleaders, aided by some recruits from the male side of the school, did a fine job of cheering the players along. They, however, are usually faced with the fate of being the only spectators at Purple 'n White games.

Get Needed Rest

The Westmount team took a much-needed rest this week and will be back with two league games next week. The entire team will really be out there fighting to try to maintain their winning streak and finish among the top of the league.

Liz Burwash and Gordon Wasserman were crowned 1954 Westmount Football King and Queen in a ceremony which highlighted a week-end-long schedule of festivities at Westmount High School. The crowning was carried out by Jim Patrick at the football dance held in honor of the visiting football team from Andover, New Hampshire.

Scores of private parties and the like were held throughout the weekend, which were much enjoyed by all.

The football game Monday morning was a great victory for the home team and was a perfect ending to the two days of reveling.

Westmount sends a ski team to Proctor later in the year to participate in the American school's annual meet.

This was the sixth consecutive year that Proctor has visited Westmount.

Michaud Ties MacRae, Regents Zero Pharmacy

By CLIFF FARNWORTH

If early games of the St. Laurent Intermediate Hockey League are any indication of things to come, a close and torrid battle is seen for the three playoff berths this season.

In the opening game of last Saturday's weekly twinbill, a third period goal by Jimmy Campbell gave the N.D.G. Regents a 1-0 shutout over Royal Pharmacy while Michaud Freres came from behind a 2-0 deficit to finally tie MacRae Electric 3-all in the second game.

This draw game, enabled Michaud Freres to climb into first place in the league's standings, one point ahead of both Royal Pharmacy and the N.D.G. Regents.

This Week's Games

meet in the first game of the twinbill at 2 p.m. and MacRae Electric tangle with the N.D.G. Regents to round out the double.

This Saturday's games at the St. Laurent Arena should either help straighten the standings or complicate them more, as Royal Pharmacy and Michaud Freres head.

After a disappointing start last week the N.D.G. Regents' wonder coach, Syd Griffin, patched up their wobbly defense and although still lacking scoring punch, managed to subdue the strong Royal Pharmacy team 1-0, allowing Cliff Farnworth to rack up the first shut-out of the young season.

Regents Defense Good

The Regents used Pete Simpson and Warren Gamble for the first time, and along with Frank Slavin, former McGill defenseman, were able to meet the offensive threats of Don Bussiere, Bill Rattray, Brian McCann and clan, of Royal Pharmacy.

Royal Pharmacy look like the powerhouse of the league this year with several rookies on the team, including a fine young netminder named Layton.

The second game of the afternoon produced plenty of action, first of which was a three-way brawl that found Michaud Freres taking two major penalties and MacRae Electric one. MacRae made use of their one-man advantage. Phil Martin took Stu McGowan's pass to give the Electricians a one goal edge which they extended to two on Beasant's effort, which was also set up by McCowan.

Willis Counts

The middle frame saw the Michaud Freres come to life with Earl Willis producing one of his quick efforts ten seconds after the period was underway. Ramsay tied the count a little later but this was short lived as Beasant collected his second goal of the afternoon to put the Westmount crew on top once more.

However, Michaud Freres never let up, and backed up by some nifty goaltending on the part of Jimmy Kerr, they fought back into the game with Billy Quirk scoring an easy goal to knot the count with only seconds remaining in the game, and giving them a one-point edge in the league's standings.

Barbarians Beaten 13-0 As Forwards Lead Way

By JIM ADAM

A fine display by the forwards laid the foundation for Westmount's 13-0 win over city rivals, the Montreal Barbarians last Saturday at Westmount Park.

The pack which showed three changes from the previous week gave a much livelier exhibition against the hard fighting Barbarian eight.

The Westmount backs, however, were reluctant to show any thrust and this combined with poor passing and handling mounted up to their worst display of the year. The forwards gave them a major share of the ball and against a suspect Barb defence they should have been able to score three or four times. It was left to the forwards and the big right boot of Ian Monroe to supply the scoring punch for the side's win.

Westie Seconds Win

In the curtain-raiser the Westmount second team narrowly defeated the Barbarians seconds 3-0 in a close hard fought game. Although mainly a forwards' battle the backs on both sides showed some nice running when they had the opportunity. Bob Ayton, a strong runner was conspicuous for the Westies with his fine bursts and mighty kicking.

Dick Johnson, hard working hooker, was in on every play in the loose and was on the spot to notch the winning touchdown for the home team following a line-out near the Barb line. Pat Hodgson gave another good display at full back.

In the first team tilt the Barbarians started off as if they really meant business and were unlucky not to open the scoring when after some loose play they got the ball over the Westmount line but were unable to ground it for a score.

Redding Counts First

Newcomer John Redding who plays in contact lenses, scored the first Westmount TD when he broke loose and crashed over from ten yards out. Ian Monroe booted the convert. The Westies nearly increased their lead soon after but a fine tackle by Alun Morgan saved the day for his side.

Shortly before half-time Ian Monroe kicked a long range penalty goal to put his side ahead 8-0. This was the count when the teams changed round.

The Barbarian line was under constant pressure throughout the second session but they held out until shortly before the end when following a kick-ahead by Peter Glancy, wing forward Geoff Jackson took advantage of Joe Smyth's hesitation to score under the posts. Ian Monroe converted the score easily to round out the scoring at 13-0.

Minus McLaren

Westmount were without the services of Johnnie McLaren at scrum half. The quick-silver McLaren contracted pleurisy during the week and has been confined to bed. He will be lost to the team for the balance of the season. Peter Glancy was a capable deputy and threw some beautiful reverse passes.

If the backs find their scoring touch and the forwards show just a little more life in the loose Westmount should be able to handle the powerful New York squad who will be in town this weekend for a game with the locals at Westmount Park.

A week tomorrow Westies travel to Hanover, N.H., for a game with the Dartmouth College crew.

Westmount Meets NY Saturday

The attractive New York rugby club will be visitors in Montreal this Saturday.

They play the local Westmount team at Westmount Park, kickoff at 2:30 p.m.

This will be the Manhattan squad's first trip here since before the war but from their recent fine record it is certain they will field a strong side to do battle with Montreal's best. A good game can be expected by all local enthusiasts.

In their line-up will be some of the finest rugby players to have come from the American College loop. Many of them after graduation join the New Yorkers.

Robinson Leads 8 Straight

The 7B 4 midget squad in the Westmount Municipal Touch Rugby League picked up two more wins at their last outing to remain the class of the league as they have gone unbeaten and untied after eight games.

Team captain, Winston Robinson led the scoring parade as he picked up three touchdowns, two of them on field length rushes. Peter Robson, Camil Prevost and Bobby Stewart also added points.

St. Leo's Reds and Blues along with 7B 2, are grouped in the standing behind 7B 4, with 10 points each.

Rams, mosquito A league leaders, tasted a defeat for the first time this season. Blues were the spoilers in this close contest which ended 2-0.

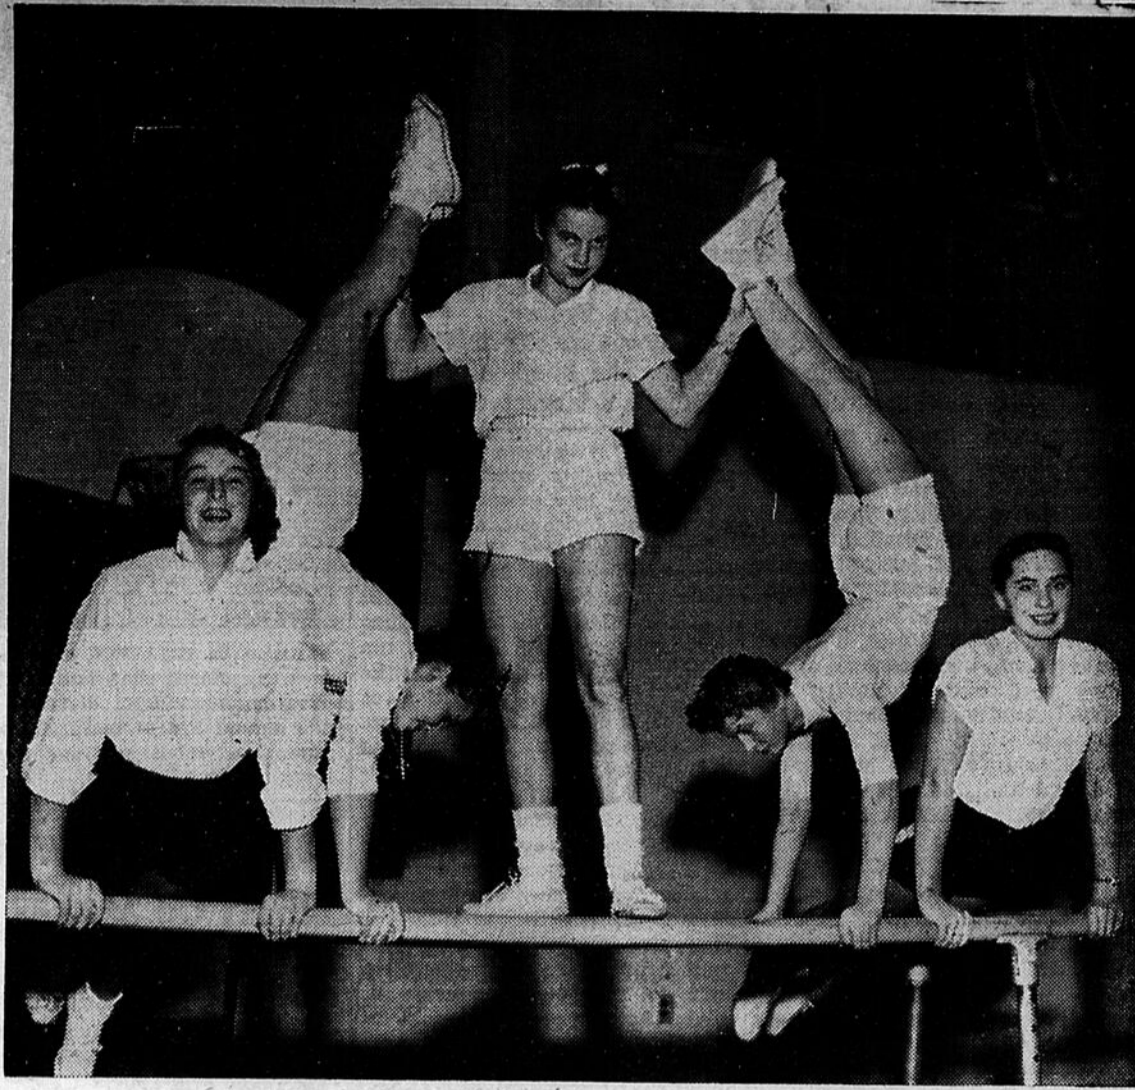

Crowns, current leaders in the B section also lost their first game as they were downed by Rooks 3-2. Rooks' Hank Laureys was the outstanding man on the field as his brilliant play accounted for all his team's points, his touchdown was enough to stop Regals 5-2, and his field goal attempt was good, halting the Crowns winning streak.

Francois Dupont of the Reds, the fastest little man in the mosquito loop, rouged the opposition on three occasions as his team picked up five points on two wins and a draw.

Playoff notes: Any team that goes through the season unbeaten and untied will be declared champions. Otherwise the top two teams will play off in each league.

Blake Edwards will direct Frankie Laine in "Exactly Like You" for Columbia.

Glenn Ford moves into Metro to star in "The Blackboard Jungle."

Mont St. Louis Edges UBC 62-61

Unity Boys Club senior basketball players are wearing red faces this week after dropping a 62-61 tilt to Mont St. Louis' juvenile club in a tilt reeled off Saturday at the Unity court.

Earlier in the week the Unity club beat International YMCA 53-48, with Jack McKissock potting 19 points. Mike Barnard at guard scored 10 markers.

Against Mont St. Louis, Unity trailed by nine points at the half and came back in the third and fourth quarters to go ahead by six with three minutes remaining.

But the UBC'ers fell apart sufficiently to permit their fast stepping opponents to strike for seven points.

Dave Barnard and John Reddon led the scorers with 20 and 17 respectively.

In a match at Westmount's Roslyn School last night, the UBC gang played Northern Electric. The electrical crew have inherited the bulk of Dow's senior B aggregation.

Unity meets Three Rivers Comets in an exhibition next Friday at the Unity Club at 7:30 p.m. This game will be the first of a double bill starring the McGill Redmen and Sir George Williams Georgians in Golden Ball play.

George Cohen Urges Recreational Centre

A social and recreational center for all of Montreal's handicapped persons was deemed a necessity this week by George Cohen, well known sightless artist and sculptor, in an address before members of the West End Chapter of the Multiple Sclerosis Society of Canada Friday.

He said that Montreal is the only major city in Canada which doesn't have such a center for the blind, and added that "we should go further in Canada's largest city."

"We should have a center in which all of our handicapped persons could meet and help to rehabilitate each other. The handicapped person's greatest enemy is inactivity and such a center would fill a tremendous need," he said.

Mr. Cohen said such a center could include a gymnasium, swimming pool, canteen, library and reading and music rooms — "the facilities which would enable people to leave their homes, use their talents, and feel that they were doing something worthwhile."

The handicapped — sightless, deaf, dumb, paraplegics, amputees and victims of such diseases as polio, multiple sclerosis, rheumatism, arthritis and cerebral palsy — would be joined by many elderly people, now idle, who are seeking some activity, he said.

The center would be directed and operated by the handicapped people and could include such necessary facilities as occupational therapy and rehabilitation equipment and vocational guidance training.

"There is no vocational guidance training or counselling for the handicapped in this city," Mr. Cohen said, "and this is needed because there can be no mass rehabilitation without a vocational guidance program."

He said that another advantage of such a center would be that all financial appeals on behalf of the handicapped could be joined into a single appeal.

"No one can understand the problems of the handicapped better than the handicapped themselves," he said. "With one centre for all, their talents and help would be merged into one great pool which would benefit everybody."

Mr. Cohen traced the work being done now in Montreal for the blind, and said it started with the late Phillip E. Layton, himself sightless, who formed the Montreal Association for the Blind, the first organization of its type in Canada, 47 years ago.

"There are many blind persons in Montreal who have great talent and could hold down responsible jobs," he declared, "but they are wasting away because the blind organizations here have neither the finances nor the facilities to cope with the situation. There are now 2,000 sightless persons in this city, but the problem isn't so big that it cannot be solved through co-operation on all sides."

Mr. Cohen criticized parents who keep their handicapped children at home and do not allow them to lead normal lives.

"They may think that they are doing the best thing," he said, "but, really, they are doing far more harm than good. A handicapped person does not want charity, only the opportunity to lead a useful life."

HOCKEY MEETING

A hockey meeting will be held Wednesday, November 3, at the Westmount Athletic Grounds to which all coaches managers and anyone interested in entering in the local leagues are invited. The meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m.

Hon. Lionel Chevrier Speaks On Seaway At Appeals Dinner

A connection between the international significance of the St. Lawrence Seaway, with "its obvious effects on trade," and the Combined Jewish and United Israel Appeals was seen this week by Hon. Lionel Chevrier, president of the St. Lawrence Seaway Authority.

He said the campaign "opens new pathways to hope and to good lives for many thousands" at home and abroad.

Speaking at the Samuel Bronfman dinner on behalf of the joint campaign, he said that any great undertaking, be it the campaign of the Seaway project, is important "in the contribution they make to the total welfare and to the stature of our civilization."

Canada and Israel, he said, must face the future with optimism and confidence. If defeatism were permitted "there would be no progress in industry, in government, in philanthropy, in any of human life."

He said that Canadian development was a lesson in optimism.

"We have attained a full national independence," Mr. Chevrier said. "With a population of one fourth of one per cent of the population of the world, Canada ranks fourth in world trade. Were it not for the confidence in the future there would be no St. Lawrence Seaway, fought for for 30 years."

Noting the theme word of the campaign — "challenge" — Mr. Chevrier said that every year is a year of challenge.

"The challenges of every year must be met with courage, with maturity, with the understanding that human problems did not start yesterday and will not end tomorrow."

"The act of those who preceded us can be seen in their full meaning only through the perspective of history and subsequent events."

Addressing the campaign workers, Mr. Chevrier said "you have surely earned admiration on the basis of the record which accompanies you here this evening, and it is my conviction that your response tonight to so great an appeal as your many causes present, will add further reason for such admiration."

Gymnastic Club Meet Set Back One Hour

The Gymnastic Club will meet an hour later at 9 p.m., instead of the usual 8 p.m. on Friday, October 29, due to the Children's Halloween Party which is being held in the gym.

Strength Of Home, School Up To Provincial Groups

The Canadian Home and School and Parent Teacher Federation will "thrive and become great" only if provincial federations feed it with the plans and workers, L. Mowbray Clark reports.

Addressing the fourth annual leadership conference of the West End Regional Council of Home and School Associations of Montreal, he said the CHSPTF must be fed with undertaking and with the "people who will give the time and effort that it takes to carry out these undertakings."

Mr. Clark, immediate past president of the Quebec Federation of Home and School Associations, said the regional council had two main functions.

"The first is the coming together of representatives of associations for the discussion and the dealing with of common problems.

"The second is the training function. Regional councils afford the means whereby officers of associations can discuss methods of handling association matters, exchange ideas for conduct of meetings, self educate the presidents, secretaries and treasurers of associations," he said.

Mr. Clark mentioned the continual growth of home and school. He pointed out that last year there were 218,000 members, this year 3402 associations with 242,000 members, excluding Newfoundland which has not yet organized a provincial federation. He said that home and school is the largest voluntary organization in Canada.

MUSIC FESTIVAL

Mrs. R. W. Coutts, vice chairman of the Music Festival Committee, told the meeting the Quebec Federation would sponsor an annual music festival for school choirs and instrumental groups.

"This will be non-competitive with adjudication but with no grading," she said.

She said that present plans call for a festival on Friday, April 29, 1955. High school groups in greater Montreal only will be eligible for entry, and a two hour program will be arranged with each school submitting one item.

She said that school principals and music supervisors throughout the city have combined to lend "wholehearted support to this venture and there is every indication that the students themselves will prove equally enthusiastic."

The program planning section, under committee chairman Mrs. P. J. L. Dow, discussed ideas on more teacher and student participation in the monthly programs. Ideas from the general membership were suggested and more panel discussions on religion, television and teaching methods were advocated.

Emphasis was stressed upon delegation of duties to the various members of the executive in a panel discussion on the conduct of meetings and duties of officers.

Panel members were S. G. Dale, past president of Willingdon Home and School, J. G. Dales, president of Cote des Neiges Home and School, J. N. Haworth, president of Kensington Home and School, W. Rosenbaum, president of Rose-dale Home and School, and D. Steinberg, president of Van Horne Home and School. All these associations are members of the West End Regional Council, along with 11 others.

Mrs. A. S. Keator introduced films and told how to conduct a meeting with films. She also gave advice on arranging for a trained discussion leader.

The conference was held under the chairmanship of Mrs. I. Stuppel.

Development Of Retarded Depends On Aid Provided

Nobody can say how far a retarded child can develop until the child has been given every chance, Dr. Alastair MacLeod, assistant director of the Mental Hygiene Institute, told the Quebec Association for the Help of Retarded Children this week.

He said doctors have been surprised at the development of so-called mentally retarded children who get proper attention instead of being given only the care needed so no harm will come to them.

He said parents of mentally retarded children must realize two things.

One is that they cannot solve their problems alone. They can do so only by associating with other parents of retarded children and cooperating in a greater effort.

Parents too must realize that though a mentally retarded child may be deprived of certain tools for expression, he still has many more that can and should be developed. In fact, Dr. MacLeod said, it is thought that as a retarded child develops along other fronts, his mental efficiency may gain.

He said if a child is held back on these other fronts, his mental deficiency may increase.

Dr. MacLeod approached the problem of mental retardation indirectly by explaining how normal adults can themselves become mentally deficient.

Adults subjected to extremely monotonous conditions or deprived of social contacts may become mentally deficient. The same can happen to prisoners serving long sentences in jails that have no rehabilitation programs and where it is merely a matter of waiting for the time to pass, Dr. MacLeod said.

A person develops not only mentally or intellectually but also socially and emotionally. Retardation along one front may lead to retardation along the other. Thus a baby deprived of motherly love and care may well suffer serious mental retardation, Dr. MacLeod said.

Dr. MacLeod said many retarded children are held back by the pessimism of parents who tend to isolate them from the world and the social experiences they need.

The education of retarded children is no different from that of normal children except that it takes more time.

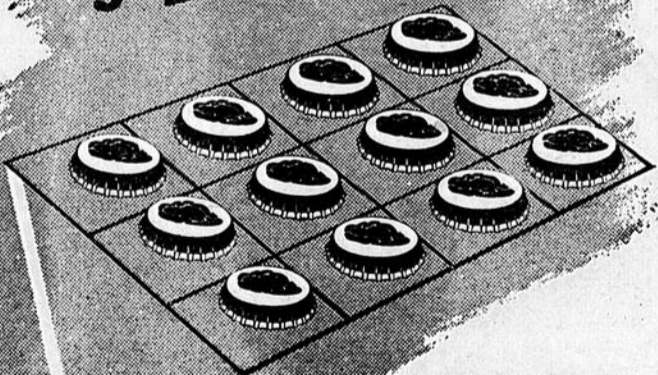

Parents should not act as buffers separating their retarded children from the world, but they should be links gradually helping them to fit into their surroundings.

Sports

by MARTY GOODMAN

● WHEN ANY TEAM in major sports comes out on the field, it is not an easy matter to have them there at the right place and right time. A lot of behind the scenes work goes into producing the team, making sure that all considerations have been taken, and most of this is done by people who rarely appear in the public eye.

As one familiar example, let's consider a football team, the McGill Redmen in particular. As far as the customer in the stands is concerned, fewer than usual this year, the team appears on the field for every home game ready and prepared. There are footballs, score sheets, and many other essentials, to say nothing of the fans themselves.

At home and away the team comes out, the fans are there, and the game moves smoothly along. Slight discrepancies or delays draw the ire of the crowd, because they just aren't supposed to happen.

Making sure that the team is taken care of when travelling for away games, and handling the important task of making sure the customers are satisfied at home, is the job done by the McGill ticket office. This stalwart crew of three, along with a corps of ticket sellers and takers, handles all details of seating at home games. They do not handle tickets for the Alouette games, though this fact is still unknown to many fans. Only on Saturday, at home games, can tickets for the Big Four club be bought at the McGill office.

Mrs. L. M. Hendrie heads the ticket office delegation, made up of Pat Taylor and Barbara Drummond. Together they handle all season subscriptions, allot tickets, take care of reserved students tickets, and keep track of ducats for the away games.

In addition Mrs. Hendrie herself handles all details when the McGill teams hit the road. She must see that travelling reservations, including transportation and hotels, are in order. Meals and other sundries that continually occur are all part of the job.

The ticket office season begins early in the spring, when form orders are sent out to all season ticket holders. They are allotted their tickets for the coming year, and priority is then given to old subscribers on any cancellations. From there seats go on the open block. McGill graduates especially are fussy about their tickets. Some families have kept the same seats in their possession over a period of years, and there are cases of the family tickets being willed from father to son. Some subscribers have been in the same seats for over 35 years, long enough to remember championship McGill teams.

McGill students are also partially dealt with by the ticket office. They are offered a choice between season tickets on the track, and reserved seats in the upper section. This latter group comes under the direction of Mrs. Hendrie and staff.

After every game a box office statement must be prepared, a compilation of statistics that shames even the most intricate baseball and football systems. Any item concerning ticket sales for the game can be found in this record, which boasts more information than a good many almanacs.

The day of a game care must be taken that all the ticket sellers and takers are at their positions, to handle the crowds. Molson Stadium is capable of holding. Fifteen sellers are sent out to posts while takers are stationed around the stadium to facilitate entrance by the fans. Students, for the most part, take care of these positions. Though this year has been slower in comparison to the usual college year, preparations must still be made for large crowds, and any stadium holding over 20,000 people can pose problems to those trying to fit the people in.

Mrs. Hendrie handles many phone calls during the course of the week, from people wishing information regarding tickets. And one of her most used answers is now a stock phrase at McGill — "No — at Joey Richman's, Lord's and the Westmount Athletic Grounds . . . FI. 0632." The questions fitting these answers are: "Do you carry tickets to the Alouettes games? Where can I get them? What is the number of the Westmount Athletic Grounds ticket office?"

Making arrangements for the many trips taken by the McGill teams can often be a job in itself. Coaches usually don't concern themselves too much with the problems of getting their team to a certain place, merely with how they will do when there. They worry more about who and how many to take than when they will leave and where they will stay. But to Mrs. Hendrie, all this represents trouble. She would much prefer to know exactly how many are going, and when they prefer to leave. Some students choose to leave for games at different times from other members of the team, due to important classes or lectures. When this happens, she can merely grin and hope for the best when making a last minute reservation.

But the job has its light moments too, and has proven interesting to deal with the public and graduates, and claim it is an excellent way in which to learn human nature. It also has made them many acquaintances, and while it's not always easy, they do their best to satisfy everyone. It's a hard job to cater to so many different tastes, but the complaints heard about the Sir Arthur Currie gym rarely concern themselves with faults of the ticket office.

A. Forsyth Cops Men's Singles Tennis Crown

Alex Forsyth won the 1954 City of Westmount men's singles tennis championship with a straight set victory over G. E. Fuchs, Sunday.

Fuchs and Forsyth played off and Forsyth took the title with identical 6-4, 6-4 scores.

Forsyth will be awarded the Westmount Tennis Club Trophy at a later date.
