3 Projects Hang Fire

Three local land deals — totalling a possible five million dollars — are still hanging fire in Westmount, according to City Manager Tom Hughes.

Largest of the three is the property which is today filled with new and used cars at Atwater and St. Catherine streets and was once a ball park; the second is the Grey Nuns property on St. Catherine street west opposite the former M. A. A. A. grounds, and the third is the old athletic grounds itself.

The Atwater-St. Catherine property is figured as high as $3 million in some quarters, the Grey Nuns land may run to a million and a quarter while the Westmount Athletic Grounds, once leased to the Federal Government for army purposes should sell for $750,000.

This last property, Mr. Hughes said yesterday, will be operated as usual by Westmount this summer, with decisions on its disposal held over till fall.

The city still waits word of action on the two other parcels of land, despite options, rumors of sale, and other developments.

Genesians Present Spring Time Serenade

The Genesians will present their 11th Springtime Serenade in Victoria Hall, May 6 and 7, at 8:30 p.m. Rev. S. Wiercinski will conduct and Miss M. Ackerman will be at the piano.

The Glee Club will sing O Vos Omnes (Victoria), Agnus Dei (Palestrina) in the sacred music group; Debussy's Maid with the Flaxen Hair; favorites such as Flow Gently Sweet Afton, and Negro spirituals and folk songs.

One of the evenings features will be a group of songs from Brigadoon, while other artists will include a quartet of Genesians including Miss Tadea Godson, in arrangements by Rev. Wiercinski.

Five Lands Heard From At Rotary

Westmount Rotary Club went "International" at its meeting Wednesday when they had five McGill students from foreign countries as their guests.

Each of the five students gave a short talk on his respective country. There were representatives from England, Germany, Brazil, British Guiana, and Czechoslovakia.

Sam Harding who is from British Guiana told Rotarians that his country is probably best known for the Demarra Rum which it exports.

Harding said that lately his country had received quite a bit a bad publicity due to subversive activities of some of his countrymen. It was his thought however that the people of British Guiana who are responsible for this are the uneducated ones.

Most of the people in British Guiana are desirous of bettering themselves in the eyes of the world, and this will be done, Harding said, only when the people become educated on a larger scale. The Brazilian representatives, Jobst Hinrich Ubbelohde, said that a great deal of people think of Brazil in terms of the annual carnival at Rio de Janeiro.

"The carnival is not all that is going on in my country however", said Ubbelohde.

At the present time Brazil is undergoing an industrial revolution he said. This being due to electrical power becoming available recently on a large scale.

He said that Brazil and Canada to his mind are two countries alike. Both are expanding industrially as fast as it is economically possible, he said.

Wilfrid Klee, a student from Germany touched on the political situation in his country. He told the members present of East Germany's unwillingness to co-operate with West Germany. The latter he said have made every

Annual Pet Show Ends Tomorrow

The annual pet show, starting at 2:30 p.m. will feature the final day of the 18th annual Westmount YMCA Hobby Show tomorrow. A special exhibit of tropical fish, with Dr. T. Harper as judge, will highlight this display.

Hon. D. C. Abbott will officially close the show, which started Wednesday.

An obstacle race will take place at 7 p.m., followed by an exhibition of judo by pupils of F. Y. Okimura. Closing ceremonies will get underway at 8:15 p.m. and exhibits will be returned to their owners at 9 p.m.

The executive of the show extended their thanks to Mayor Roy L. Campbell, Hon. D. C. Abbott, advisers, advertisers, patrons, judges and exhibitors.

TRIES FOR NEW HONORS: There doesn't seem to be much room for improvement, but Audrey Wyatt, 1336 Greene avenue, Miss Montreal 1953, intends to better herself — in beauty contests. The local gal walked off with top honors right away and is now entered in the Miss Province of Quebec contest. From there she hopes to go on to the Miss Canada affair in Toronto.

Local Girl Is Making Try For 'Miss Universe' Title

A Miss Canada title and a chance at the Miss Universe crown may be in store for a beautiful Westmount girl.

She is Audrey Wyatt, 20, of 1336 Greene avenue, holder of the Miss Montreal 1953 title.

The curvy Westmount High graduate first has to win the Province of Quebec championship in June, and will then qualify for the Miss Canada competition.

This will take place in Toronto some time in August, and the ultimate winner travels to California to take part in the Miss Universe judging.

Audrey has been modelling for three years now, and also has worked on television. She recently concluded three capsule murder mysteries for Frontier Films, currently being shown in the United States.

She has appeared with the Aquafolics show for two years, including a stand at the Canadian National Exhibition.

Born in London, England, she was educated in Yorkshire and came to Canada in 1947, attending Westmount High School. Her father, a captain in the Royal Navy, died three years ago, and Audrey and her mother stay together, along with her pet dog Cheeta.

Other than modelling, Audrey also goes in for Latin American dancing, swimming and skating. She has also tried her hand at sketching and ballet, and admits to a desire to take a course in interpretive dancing.

In the future rests a trip to England, after her 21st birthday in August, and marriage. She became engaged this week to Jack Orchard, a Montreal drummer, but is sure to wait at least until after the beauty contests for the ceremony. That is, if she doesn't change her mind and set sight on the Mrs. Canada title.

effort to unite the divided country.

He pointed out that most of the industrial wealth of his country lies in the eastern zone. Due to this condition Western Germany has had a great struggle in trying to stabilize herself. We are striving however to build our industries up; and to increase the wealth of our country by exporting.

He said that West German trade with Canada was expanding rapidly, and that many German companies are opening branch offices in his country.

He said that there was a plan underfoot to exchange German and Canadian students. However, in regard to this plan Klee said that some difficulties would be encountered due to the differences in the schooling systems.

George Novotny, of Czechoslovakia took Rotarians right back to the founding of his country around the year 600 A.D. At that time it was known as Bohemia.

Bohemia was governed by various European powers, latterly Germany up until 1918, when it was declared a republic and given its present name. However now the country is once again ruled over by another nation.

He said that he left Czechoslovakia due to unbearable political conditions. Novotny said that he, as like many more of his country men came to Canada to seek a new home.

The last of the students to speak was Peter Hall of England. Hall did a complete about face and spoke of the activities of the foreign students at McGill University.

Hall said that these students have already started a drive to collect funds to construct an "international house" on the campus at McGill.

He touched on the various activities put on by the foreign students to raise funds for this building campaign.

The students were introduced by Howard Simpkins, and thanked by A. W. Callard. President W. Allison was in the chair.

Quebec's 5,000th Engineer Is Woman From Westmount

Quebec's 5,000th professional engineer is a woman - and a Westmount resident too.

A certificate of membership in the Corporation of Professional Engineers of Quebec will be presented tomorrow to Mrs. Per Hall, of 46 Summit Circle, at the Corporation's annual meeting in the Sheraton-Mount Royal Hotel.

Nina Hall, who received her degree in civil engineering in 1935 from the Royal Technical College in her native city of Copenhagen, came to Canada with her husband during the first part of the Second World War.

As a student she had made a special study of reinforced concrete. Following graduation, she was employed by the professor who had instructed her in this subject and worked with him until awarded a scholarship for study in France. There, however, she studied only briefly, returning to Copenhagen to marry Per Hall, P. En., who is today vice-president, Foundation of Canada Engineering Corporation, Limited, Montreal.

In their first year of marriage, the Halls moved to Sweden where Per was in charge of a company newly established by a Danish contractor. In all this firm's operations, the wife played an active part in everything from drafting to estimating.

When both received scholarships enabling them to extend their studies, the Halls moved to London shortly before the outbreak of the Second World War. With facilities for post-graduate work curtailed by the war, the Halls then came to Toronto. Three months later, their homeland was invaded by the Germans. Today, the Halls are Canadian citizens.

From 1942 to 1946, Mrs. Hall was employed by Aluminum Laboratories, Montreal, but today restricts her practice of the profession to freelancing as a consultant on reinforced concrete. After all, she has three children to bring up: Karen, 13; Ingrid, 10; Peter, 4.

Leaders Of Blind Appeal Will Hold Rally Sunday

Westmount leaders in the Combined Appeal for the Blind are planning to attend the opening rally Sunday.

The rally is being held in the armory of the Fusilliers Mont Royal, 310 Pine ave. east, beginning at half past four.

New names were added to the list of Westmount workers this week in an effort to ensure that the whole area will be thoroughly covered, and that the Westmount quota is reached in the drive.

The Westmount leaders are Mrs. W. N. Celland, Mrs. Murray Mather, Mrs. D. W. Ferrier, Mrs. B. M. Tate, Mrs. P. G. Sise, Mrs. R. V. Nicholls, Mrs. Lionel Cote, Mrs. E. J. Langlois and Mrs. Ruth Shaw.

The drive, which opens officially on April 26, the day following the rally, continues through May 8. It seeks funds on behalf of three major organizations caring for the blind of greater Montreal.

They are the Montreal Association for the Blind, the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, and l'Association Canadienne-Française des Aveugles.

Major Gen. R. O. G. Morton and Jean Joubert are co-chairmen of the campaign. The vice-chairmen are Miss E. Meredith Hodgson and Mme E. de B. Panet.

The campaign executive comprises the chairmen and vice-chairman and C. Hugh Hanson, Gerald Bronfman, Arthur Cross, George W. Millar, Jean Paul Guite, Claude P. Beaubien, Harold F. Kerrigan, Keith B. Crombie, Gaetan Benoit, Hector Belton, J. Alphonse Cimon, W. V. Crossen, E. R. Complin, Rex Vickers, C. W. Palmer, G. D. Laviolette, Gilbert Layton and Lionel E. Brittle.

Honorary campaign treasurers are W. Norman Celland, Hon. J. Olier Renaud, C.R., and Theodore Beausoleil.

The advantages of a single appeal for funds were outlined by the Westmount leaders of the drive in a joint statement this week.

The group stressed that the public is being asked to contribute only once to the work among the sightless in Greater Montreal — this is the only official campaign of its kind planned for this year.

They also point out that there is a considerable financial saving in conducting one campaign instead of three separate ones.

The quota this year is $250,000, the same sum as was asked in 1953. This has been achieved despite rising costs because the financial needs of the three organizations have been carefully studied by a finance committee. The committee consists of W. Norman Celland, Theodore Beausoleil and Aime Domingue. The committee stressed in its report that the quota represents on the very minimum requirements of the three groups to carry on their work.

This work is carried on without distinction as to race, creed or color. A home is maintained for the aged blind. Places are found for the blind in industry, after they have been given special training. There is a residential school for blind and partially blind boys and girls.

An industrial workshop is operated for blind men and women, and an extensive Braille Library is maintained. Too, there is a home teaching service, and advice and treatment in preventing blindness are arranged.

It is to ensure that this work is carried on that the Westmount quota must be filled.

"THE SINS OF POMPEII" depicts the wild, mad revelry that existed at the Court of the mighty Emperor Claudis before the eruption of Vesuvius wiped the city off the face of the earth. With English dialogue throughout, the film stars Micheline Presle, Georges Marchal and Marcel Harrand and opens at four theatres, the Avon, Corona, Empress and Normandie this Saturday.

★ Final MRT Production

M-R-T Maintains High Standard

Moliere-Malleson's "The Miser" At Westhill Auditorium in May

For its final production this season, the Moliere-Malleson "The Miser", the Montreal Repertory Theatre follows a pattern which it hopes to continue and enlarge to encourage young theatre enthusiasts.

In order to maintain as high a standard of playing as possible, MRT has held a considerable number of readings before settling upon "The Miser's" cast. In addition to invitations to known local players to read, all application forms on file in MRT's office were listed, and the applicants telephoned and offered an opportunity to try for a part.

Mrs. de Savoye, MRT's General Manager, attended classes of the School of the Theatre. From the young pupils she selected a possible candidate for one of the minor roles, and sent him along to a rehearsal. He proved satisfactory to Director Guy Beaulne, and was given a part.

Pupils of MRT's School are also being used as prompters and dressers, and will assist in the Property department for this production.

It is MRT's theory, an accepted one in amateur and professional theatre alike, that theoretical training must be combined with practical experience in order to give novices a rounded picture of what transforms a play into a production.

Both theoretical training and practical experience have peculiarly qualified MRT's director for this modernized adaptation of Moliere's classic comedy "L'Avare". Guy Beaulne, Drama Producer for the French network of the CBC, did research work at the Conservatoire Dramatique de Paris under scholarships from the French Government, from the Canada Foundation, and from L'Institut Canadien Français. During his years in Paris, Mr. Beaulne also studied privately with Denis D'Ines, Dean of La Comédie Française.

In Ottawa, Mr. Beaulne was Drama Director of the University of Ottawa, and Drama Editor of Le Droit. He worked with the Ottawa Drama League, and he was director of Ottawa's French drama group, Le Caveau.

In 1948, Mr. Beaulne won the Dominion Drama Festival Award for Visual Presentation with his production of Regnard's "Le Legataire Universel". In 1953, Mr. Beaulne won the Award for Visual Presentation in the Quebec Regional Drama Festival with another Moliere-Malleson play — the MRT Studio production of "Tartuffe", which also received three additional prizes.

"The Miser" will play for four nights in Westhill Auditorium, from Wednesday, May 5, to Saturday, May 8. Costumes have been designed by Tom Owen, and the setting by Peter Symcox.

Bogey-Man Complex

Russian Propaganda Aims At Unrest, Tension

The bogey-man complex, deliberately fostered by Moscow, comes in for timely debunking by U.S. National Association of Manufacturers Board Chairman Charles R. Sligh, Jr. Says Mr. Sligh: "Russia's dictators have made much of their possession of the atom bomb and more recently of the H-bomb. They expected that our knowledge of their possession of these instruments of destruction would create terror among us. We must not catch cold every time Malenkov sneezes."

The purpose of Russia's scare propaganda is to drive jittery folk and muddle-heads into Communist 'peace' organizations where they can be exposed to high-pressure Russian propaganda. The by-product of Russian efforts to cultivate this bogey-man complex, costly to taxpayers and economically disruptive, is a tendency of politicians and others to justify lavish expenditures on foreign aid programs, state broadcasting, state-financed 'cultural' activities and the like on the grounds that these dubious devices are weapons for fighting Communism.

The total effect of Russian propaganda about dangers of atomic warfare is more statism, higher taxes, higher production costs, economic tensions, industrial unrest and other conditions which provide favorable incubation conditions for Communism.

A Common Point Of View I

By Rev. Canon R. Kenneth Naylor
(Rector of Trinity Memorial Church)

The whole Christian Church has observed its great festival of the Resurrection of the Lord Jesus Christ, with the elaborate ceremonial of the Orthodox and Roman rites, the quieter ritual of the Anglican, and the varying ceremonies, elaborate or simple, of the other Christian Communions. They have all had one purpose, and they all represent a common point of view, to do honour to Him who was declared to be Son of God with power by the resurrection from the dead. It can be described both as the foundation and the high point of our common Faith.

I do not need to advise the fact, and I do not hope to conceal it from ches do not agree with one another ches donot agree with one another on all points of Faith. Some would almost ignore the clause in the Creed "I believe in one Holy Catholic and Apostolic Church;" another would pay equally little attention to the clause "I believe in the Resurrection of the dead;" others would add "I believe in the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary." But all would hold to the centrality of our belief in God the Father, God the Son and God the Holy Ghost.

Can we put it in another way? Back of this world of space and time there is a Power who has created and controls the universe, a power, or rather a Being, who has revealed Himself to us in the past in the words of His prophets; who completed the revelation in the Person of His Son, and who is still with us in the Person of the Holy Spirit. In the light of that Revelation we interpret the universe, or in other words, we have a religious point of view regarding the world we live in; or to change the words again, we have a religious philosophy of life.

But that religious philosophy is not confined to Christians. The Jews also have such a philosophy.

Rabbi Stern reminded me a couple of weeks ago that this year the great Jewish festival of the Passover and the great Christian festival of Easter coincide. Is there a parable here? Is it a reminder that in one great fact Christian and Jew see eye to eye, that is, in the religious interpretation of the universe? It is a point which brings Jew and Christian very close together in contrast with most of the rest of the world. For the great struggle today is not between the materialist and the spiritualist or the naturalist and the supernaturalist views of the universe. It is a much more serious thing than the struggle between Communism and Capitalism. That is why such an organization as the fellowship of Roman Catholics, Protestants and Jews is so important. As far as our country is concerned it takes in most of those who hold a spiritual interpretation of the universe, or a religious philosophy of life. If the terms can be defined so as to include the Orthodox members of our community, it would be still better. There is room for such a group who can see the whole of life from a religious point of view, even though they do not entirely agree among themselves.

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following passage will be read: "Vibrating like a pendulum between sin and the hope of forgiveness, — selfishness and sensuality causing constant retrogression, — our moral progress will be slow. Mock Chicken Legs, Brown And Crisp May Be Eaten With Your Fingers Croquettes, under whatever name they're served, are alltime luncheon and dinner favorites for families and clubs.

At times they come to the table as patties, round and flat; at other times they're golden brown cylinders or slender topped cones.

If you intend to use meat raw, have it ground at the shop — and if you're buying beef remember that chuck, round, shank, brisket and flank are among cuts that you will like.

The mock chicken legs are rolled in finely crushed corn chips before being fried, a change from the usual bread or cereal crumbs.

- Mock Chicken Legs
1/2 pound beef, ground
1/2 pound veal, ground
2 tablespoons chopped onion
1/4 teaspoon sage
3/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon black pepper
1/2 cup finely crushed corn chips, measured after crushing
4 tablespoons fat or oil
6 wooden skewers

Combine beef and veal; mix with onion, sage, salt and pepper. Mold into drumsticks around skewers. Roll in corn chips and fry in hot fat until done. Serves 6.

Perhaps you'd like some ham patties made from the last of a baked half or whole ham. Serve them with horseradish-whipped cream sauce and no one will imagine they are made of leftovers.

Ham Croquettes

- 1 cup thick white sauce
2 cups cooked ham, coarsely ground
1 tablespoon finely chopped onion
1 1/2 tablespoons prepared mustard
1 egg, beaten
1/2 cup fine cracker crumbs
- Add ham, onion and mustard to cold white sauce. Shape into patties. Dip in egg, then in crumbs. Allow to stand 5 minutes. Fry in deep, hot fat until brown.

Silver Cross

The Silver Cross Women will meet on Wednesday, April 28, at 8.15 p.m. at the Y.W.C.A. on Dorchester street. A Penny sale will be held.

Camel's hair and wool blend is the fabric used for a camel color coat done in the five-eighths length that is making itself felt in the spring coat category. Hand-picked edges mark the collar, cuffs and pocket flaps. Shoulders are dropped and there are buttons at hem of side seams which are slit for action in motion. This type of well-bred casual, topper can be worn over a suit or a dress and with the right skirt adds up to a suit on its own. An especially good choice for wear with the popular skirt and blouse twosome.

★ At The Westmount Skelton Says "Fun's Fun"

By Red Skelton

(Currently starring on the Westmount screen in M-G-M's "The Great Diamond Robbery.")

Being funny, I read somewhere, is a serious business. I find it fun. There's comedy all around us. To extract it from everyday life all you need is an exaggerated sense of humor.

Adolphe Menjou wrote a book, "It Took Nine Tailors." Now while I never hope to approach Mr. Menjou's sartorial splendor, in my own case it took nine typewriters. My friends, under the impression I could write, have been giving me typewriters over the years. Rather than have them collect dust in the attic which I don't have, I put them to use. Each machine sits with its paper inserted in the roll, ready for work.

Some of these sheets of paper are half full. Others have a line or two, the start of an idea or a comedy routine. After dinner I empty my pockets of notebook, scraps of paper and backs of envelopes on which I have jotted down during the day anything which suggests comedy possibilities. From these I type up sketches, each on its own typewriter, and paste them together into one long strip, exactly the height of the wall. It isn't exactly a "moderne" decorative effect, but I know that each strip is exactly a five-minute routine. From experience I can tell how much dialogue, sound effects or music will be needed.

My "Guzzler's Gin" routine came from an idle thought during a radio program. What would happen, I wondered during the commercial, if radio announcers had to sample the products they praised, instead of just talking about them? I worked on the idea, and first began with cigars, the announcer growing progressively hoarser, and choking as he lauded the routine to gin, and there are several other items which would lend themselves to this treatment — without drowning myself in gallons of water each performance!

A rumor has persisted for a long time that I never use the telephone. (I do.) But there are plenty of good reasons for avoiding it. Too many fast talkers, glib phone artists who call you, chat gaily about the weather, your health, the family, last night's ball game, and whom! — they wind up with a brisk, "Okay, then, it's a deal. I'll get right on it!" Due to this technique, I once knew an actor who found himself with nine agents, five lots in Forest Lawn, and a life-size picture of Whistler's Mother.

ACTION AT AN ARMY TRAINING CAMP. Richard Widmark has the role of a dyed-in-the-wool top army sergeant in the action-drama, "Take The High Ground," scheduled to play at the Monkland United Theatre starting Saturday afternoon.

★ From Our Wandering Movie Reporter

Jack Hirshberg From Texas

Our Hollywood Reporter In Fort Worth

FORT WORTH, Texas, April 22.—It's raining in West Texas as I write this. A storm might not be news in Montreal, but in parts of Texas and Oklahoma they haven't had precipitation in over ten years. That's right — nothing but drought for more than a decade.

"You can imagine what this means. The area has come to be called the Dust Bowl. Farms have dried up and simply blown away. When a wind sweeps across the plains it swirls dust high in the air and envelopes such cities as Dallas in a towering column of dirt.

A few days ago I flew through such a dust storm at a height of over 15,000 feet. Congregations have been praying for rain for years and finally their pleas seem to have been answered — but much too late for hundreds of farmers forced to sell their farms and move elsewhere.

The problem does have one slightly humorous side, though. The rivalry between Dallas and Fort Worth, situated 35 miles apart, is traditional and far more drastic than the competition between Montreal and Toronto. A multi-million dollar airport was built recently midway between the two towns but stands today almost deserted because Dallas refuses to use it. The entrance, you see, faces Fort Worth.

At any rate, last year Dallas paid a professional rain maker close to $100,000 to go aloft and seed some clouds in an effort to induce rain.

It rained all right—but the Dallas folk failed to figure on the wind. The precious rain they paid for all fell on that hated rival, Fort Worth!

Strangely enough, Fort Worth has as its motto "Where The West Begins"—but I haven't seen a single horse here in over a week . . . The West actually does begin close by, however. It's here that the watershed starts to slant down to the Pacific Coast . . . Despite its profusion of wealthy oil and cattle men, this part of the country rarely gets to see a Broadway show (unless those citizens who have 'em hop aboard their private planes and fly to New York). Touring road companies find costs of transportation too high to essay the trip to Dallas or Fort Worth. Accordingly most of the entertainment hereabouts, from opera to straight drama, is home grown and many entertainers who got their start locally have gone on to Broadway fame. Mary Martin, for instance.

Drama Of Army Training Camp

Starring Richard Widmark

"Take the High Ground!" an M-G-M drama filmed in Ansco Color, with a cast headed by Richard Widmark, Karl Malden, Elaine Stewart, Carleton Carpenter and Russ Tamblyn, will be shown Saturday at the Monkland Theatre for 4 days.

This picture tells the hard-hitting story of what it takes to become a U.S. infantryman. Its narrative centers on a varied assortment of typical American boys from all parts of the country, and depicts their sixteen weeks of training under a tough, one-track-mind sergeant who moulds them into the deadliest fighting machine on earth. It is also the story of a lonely and frustrated girl who finally penetrates the hard shell of the crusty sergeant.

Richard Widmark, who hit Hollywood stardom via tough guy roles, has a made-to-order part as the driving and dynamic professional soldier who takes charge of the gawky recruits. Elaine Stewart, M-G-M's zooming young newcomer, plays the girl who brings out the human side of him. Malden enacts Widmark's co-instructor, with Carleton Carpenter and Russ Tamblyn seen as two of the raw recruits who start out by hating their sergeant's guts but end up in respecting him.

Also featured in a large supporting cast are Jerome Courtland, Steve Warfield, William Hairston, Maurice Jara and Bert Freed.

"Take the High Ground!" was directed by Richard Brooks and was produced by Dore Schary, who produced the successful "Battleground" and "Go For Broke!" Its story and screen play were written by Millard Kaufman.

Jocelyn Brando to handle lead opposite Randolph Scott in "Violent Men."

★ A Slick British Comedy

"Love Lottery" In Technicolor

At The Avenue Theatre Tomorrow

"The Love Lottery," a slick polished British comedy with one of the most unusual story angles ever screened, is slated to open on Friday at the Avenue Theatre. Co-starred in this delicious Technicolor satire are David Niven and Peggy Cummins with Anne Vernon and Herbert Lom also co-starred.

★ Donald Murphy Joins Cast Of Foy Picture

Donald Murphy has been signed to play an American Intelligence officer in the Bryan Foy production, "I Was A Prisoner In Korea," (formerly "Those Reported Missing"), for Columbia, joining a cast headed by Robert, Francis, Diane Foster and Brian Keith.

★ Rory Calhoun will be seen in Universal's "Shadow Valley."

The story of "The Love Lottery", a laugh-a-minute winner, concerns a film fan who wins a Hollywood star in a lottery. David Niven is seen as the Hollywood star; Peggy Cummins as the film fan; Anne Vernon as the third member of an out of the ordinary triangle; and Herbert Lom as the organizer of a world-wide gambling syndicate. This is one of the most sparkling comedies ever to come from a British studio with splendid settings which include Hollywood and the Italian lakes. David Niven is seen as the Hollywood star who rebels against being a cog in the mighty movie machine and, as a joke, offers himself as first prize in a love lottery.

★ Hoffman Will Script "Chicago Uncensored"

Joseph Hoffman has been signed by producer Sam Katzman at Columbia to write an original gangster yarn, "Chicago Uncensored," which is slated to go before the cameras in late November.

★ The Subject of Bitter Discussion

"Saskatchewan" Stays 2nd Week

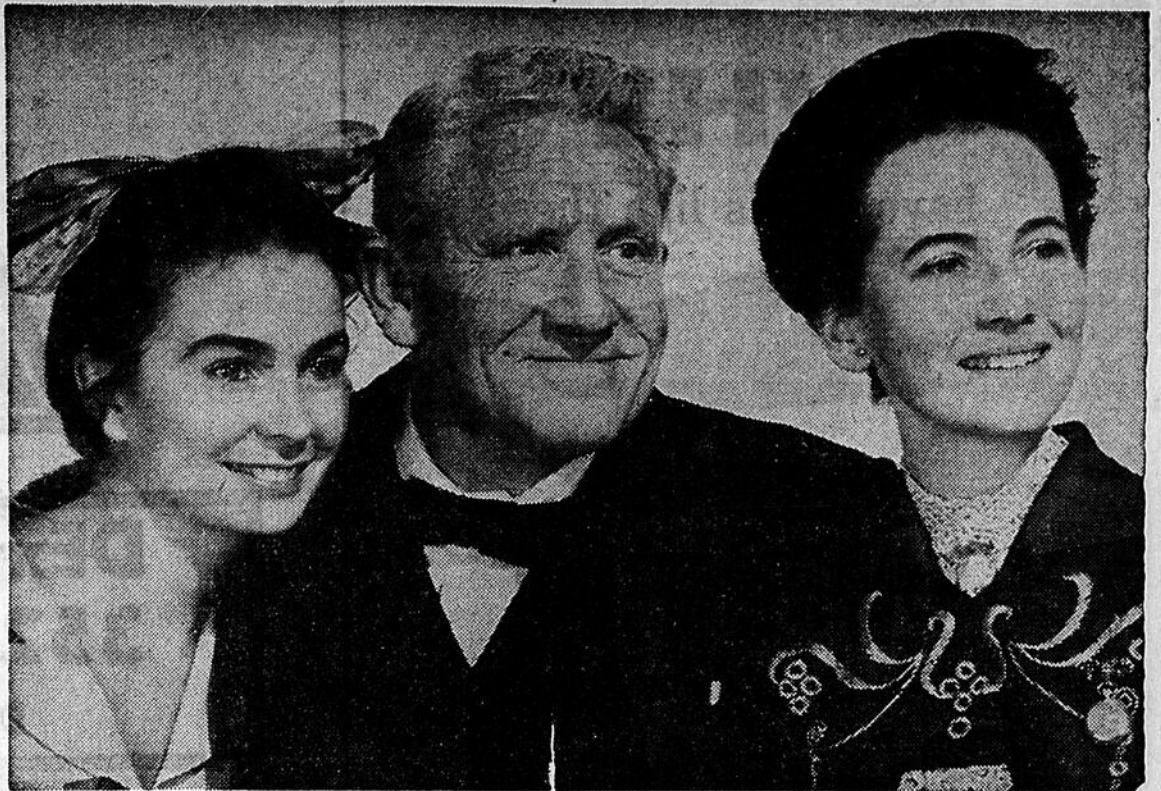

At The Snowdon-Strand-Outremont

"Saskatchewan" the picture about the Royal Canadian Mounted Police which caused bitter argument across Canada, photographed entirely in Color by Technicolor, remains for a second week at the Snowdon, Outremont and Strand Theatres.

Alan Ladd and Shelly Winters handle the co-star roles in this spectacular Universal-International adventure story with an extremely strong supporting cast headed by Robert Douglas, J. Carrol Naish, Hugh O'Brien and Richard Long.

The story which was filmed on location amid the rugged grandeur of the Canadian Rockies, is greatly enhanced by Color in Technicolor, and depicts the historic campaign by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police to prevent the American Sioux and the Canadian Cree Indians from over-running the Dominion.

Alan Ladd has the role of a Mountie raised among the Indians, and Shelly Winters is a fugitive from the long arm of the American law. Seldom if at all, have such hordes of Indians been massed for battle sequences, as they are in "Saskatchewan."

rubber toilet seat. "Sit and read your morning paper in comfort!" is the way it is advertised . . . Over in Dallas everyone brags about the famed Neiman-Marcus Store, probably the greatest example of clever merchandising in all America (and that includes Canada). Indeed, the store's reputation is somewhat inflated. You'll find few bargains at Neiman-Marcus but the management imported 175,000 crisply beautiful daffodils and 400 canaries with which to bedeck the emporium during the Easter season . . . I noticed a tiny pillbox and priced it as a gift for a friend, but I didn't buy. Seems the thing was 150 years or more old and cost $175.00 . . . Takes a lot of pills to cure the headache that price would give me.

Down here the two leading citizens are a golfer named Ben Hogan and former ball player called Dizzy Dean. Hogan lives at an elaborate motel, the Western Hills, which boast a swimming pool and private bottle club. But Hogan is rarely at home, usually playing tournaments around the country.

Diz Dean's away throughout the summer, covering major league baseball for the ABC television hook-up. But the rest of the year he sticks close to his ranch, breeding high quality Hereford cattle: His Double D Ranch covers 300-plus acres and boasts 86 registered Herefords. Here Dean raises his own cattle feed plus an excess crop which is sold. Dean's cattle are worth well over $1,000 apiece and the herd is now large enough to produce the replacement animals needed as the former ace pitching star sells off some cows and bulls from time to time.

Diz kept much of the money he made in baseball and is well-fixed financially, a happy situation in view of the typical professional athlete's disregard for sane economic living.

New Out-Patient Department Of Hospital Nears Completion

Patients of the present Out-Patient Dept. of the Jewish General Hospital are spilling out into the foyer and reception halls of the hospital due to the inadequate facilities of the department which has outgrown its space. The New Out-Patient Dept. to be housed in the west wing of the hospital now nearing completion will occupy the entire ground floor of the new wing.

The new department was designed to accommodate the large number of patients who seek its services and to provide the most modern diagnostic and treatment facilities for the more than 30 specialized clinics which are conducted within the hospital. Each of these clinics will be furnished and equipped in accordance with its special requirements.

The Eye Department will include a 3-room suite. One room specially designed for visual testing, one room with highly specialized equipment for eye examination and an eye treatment room. A feature of the Ear, Nose and Throat Department is a specially designed Audiometric room for hearing testing. Two complete Dental units form part of the facilities. A large Emergency Treatment Suite which includes a completely equipped operating room, utility rooms and emergency treatment rooms, will serve to give treatment to the large number of accident and emergency cases which come to the hospital each day. An average of 25 emergencies are now handled daily. This number is still increasing because of the dense population in the neighborhood and due to the considerable number of industrial plants in the area. The Department will, of course, include commodious waiting rooms, offices, registration space and other administrative facilities.

The Women's Auxiliary of the Hospital has been active over the past few months in a Subscription Campaign to raise the required funds to furnish and equip this Outdoor Department.

High School for Girls Alumnae Society Plan Spring Meeting and Tea

The High School for Girls, Montreal was founded in 1875. Since then, many of its graduates have become some of our outstanding citizens. Their work is a reflection of the good influence the Lady Principals and teachers of the High School for Girls have had on the adolescent and impressionable minds of their pupils.

The Alumnae Society provides the medium needed whereby graduates or former pupils of the G.H.S. may express their gratitude for what the school did for them. All those having a spirit of loyalty to the school and its ideals will wish to support this organization which provides a bond of fellowship for young and old who share the distinction of being former pupils of the High School for Girls.

During the past year, the Alumnae Society had 1000 members, former pupils of the years from 1882-1953, including 68 Life Members and 144 graduates of the June class of 1953.

The Annual Membership Fees ($1.00 for Local Members and 50c for Out-of-Town Members or Graduates of the past five years), help support two scholarships for outstanding students and a bursary to assist present pupils in the school.

Any graduate or former pupil of the G.H.S. will be welcome at the Spring Meeting and Tea to be held May 8, in the High School, at two o'clock. There she will be able to contact her Class Representative who will be glad to give her further details on joining the Society.

Supt. Of Nurses' For Reddy Mem. Hospital Explains Object Of The "Home Care Plan" Canadian Designs Draw New Interest

At a recently held meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Reddy Memorial Hospital, the guests of honor were the very energetic Sewing Committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. H. L. McKee, this group has done a magnificent amount of work for the hospital. On this occasion each member was given a corsage of beautiful carnations by Mrs. Malcolm B. MacKenzie, the president of the auxiliary.

A nominating committee has been appointed to prepare a new slate of officers to be presented at the annual meeting to be held in May nominated were: Mesdames R. Goldner, L. L. Lewis, A. L. Bardwell, W. Gamble, J. D. Fieldman, J. Christie, and N. Olesker.

Mrs. D. Hodd, wife of Dr. D. Hodd of the Grenfell Mission, was a guest at this meeting, and she gave an outline of the work being done and the life at Labrador.

Miss Hazel Miller, the new superintendent of nurses for the Reddy Memorial Hospital gave a very interesting talk on the "Home Care Plan". The Reddy Memorial Hospital is the only hospital in Canada to use this plan. QUOTE "Part of the object of the plan is to provide all the benefits of expert hospital care at home at much less cost to the patient. Another objective is to increase the hospital bed capacity. An integral part of the plan is that the nursing care is given by the Victorian Order of Nurses, the scheme having been approved by the Greater Montreal Committee of the Order. Under the plan, the patient remains in hospital only as long as the attending physician thinks it necessary. The patient is then transferred home. While at home, regular visits and complete supervision are maintained by the hos-

The growing appreciation of Canadians for textiles of distinctive Canadian design is apparent in the increasing national interest in the work of Mrs. Elizabeth Wilkes Hoey, a Bronte, Ontario, housewife with a flair for artistic fabrics.

Mrs. Hoey has been designing and printing textiles with a Canadian theme for nine years, but within recent months her work has attracted new attention. Her draperies are now appearing in increasing quantities in executive offices, hotels and industrial firms, and some designs have been purchased for bedspreads.

With a family background of art and engineering, and herself trained to mechanical drawing, Mrs. Hoey is well equipped to fill that section of the market that likes special designs and exclusive patterns... and preferably with a Canadian touch.

Too, her work brings added prestige to the fine printed fabrics turned out by Canadian mills to meet the bulk of the domestic demand where specialties have to give way to a wider variety of products which balance art with economy.

Mrs. Hoey, who does everything from mixing her own dyes to silk screen printing of fabrics, still works in a section of her 125-year-old house in Bronte, but she has already acquired a Toronto agent and many soon have to enlarge further. She likes the small operation but demand is heavy for her work.

In addition to the Canadian flavor in designing — trees, leaves, Indian symbols, pioneer equipment, etc., predominate — there is about Mrs. Hoey's work a distinctive colouring.

hospital staff and members of the Victorian Order of Nurses, acting under instructions of the patient's own physician. A hospital interne is available to the patient at all times, and in any emergency. A complete hospital record is kept of the patient's progress.

Advantage Are :

First of all, the patient receives hospital care and attention to meet his particular requirements. In addition, he is helped toward recovery by being in the familiar and comfortable surroundings of his own home. A very important factor is the explanation and instruction given to the family of the patient, the members of which assume a share in the responsibility of care. Finally, by eliminating a lengthy and often unnecessary stay in the hospital, he saves money by getting his hospital-care-at-home service on a convenient lower cost "per day" or "per visit" basis.

"In all cases the Hospital Interne attends the case at home only under the supervision of the attending doctor". "The duration of treatment under the Home Care plan is determined by the medical director".

The Scholarship amounting to $200.00 was provided for as a Club Project, and was given to a very worthy student of the Westmount High School, this being in continuance of the establishment of this Scholarship in 1945.

The funds for our Patriotic Services were raised through generous donations from business firms who know of the work done by our Club for our Hospitalized Veterans, and also from the successful military whist which was held in February for that purpose. A very considerable sum of money was realized, enough to provide for special comforts for our Veterans at St. Anne's and Queen Mary Hospitals for a period of twelve months, the funds being distributed through the ladies who visit our Veterans regularly and purchase special treats for them.

Tin utensils should be protected against rust when not in use for a long period of time. They should, therefore, be coated with a thin film of oil.

LOTS A POWER: Vic Power, the Puerto Rican pounder, brought a potent bat to the Philadelphia Athletics' outfield when dealt to them by the Yanks. Strong in Spring training, he has retained the good form during the early part of the season, and looks a good bat for rookie honors.

Snowdon Managers Split On Handshaking Issue

Four of the managers of Snowdon Major Fastball League aggregations entered the Montreal Canadiens' handshaking controversy this week by expressing their views on the subject that has been the number one topic of discussion among puck fans for the past week.

Two of the pilots were outspoken in condemning the Habs, one was mildly critical and a fourth thought the Canadiens were justified.

The gentleman who came to the Irvinites' support was burly Jack Eagan, the big redhead who guides the destinies of Steinberg's powerhouse. In answer to the question, "What was your reaction to the Canadiens' failure to shake hands with Detroit after last Friday's game?" Egan stated: "I'll go along with Kenny Mosdell's published statements that when they were changed into street clothing they couldn't get near the Detroit room."

Bill Campbell, who is trying to persuade the Canadiens' Doug Harvey to perform for his Saintry fastballers this summer, had this to say: "It seems that many sportsmanlike deeds are performed by Canadiens during a year and they are acclaimed by all the papers. Yet suddenly Canadiens elect themselves to be the medium for denouncing the hypocrisy of shaking a fellow's hand who has been a good adversary. Each club, including Canadiens, has a public relations man such as Ken Reardon. Ken does a good deal but I feel that the publicity given the affair is not good publicity. In spite of Mr. O'Brien's opinion that it won't hurt the little monsters, I feel it would have adverse effect on many older people who Canadiens spend some time in wooing in their efforts to corral their sons as hockey players."

Condemn Canadiens

Both B'Nai B'rith's Irving Selick and Columbus' Jay Killoran were highly critical of the Canadiens' behaviour.

Said Selick: "I am a 100 per cent Canadian supporter. But for the first time I did not agree with them. I strongly feel that they should have shaken hands. They fought hard and lost to a good team. Even though the Detroit team was mobbed surely they could have attempted to shake hands. They are looked up to by too many youngsters not to have waited around for two minutes."

Columbus' Jay Jay Killoran expressed a similar view: "As a teacher I thought it was very poor sportsmanship. We are trying to teach youngsters to be good sports and these same youngsters see their heroes on television act in a manner which can be described in no other way than unsporting."

Dow manager Stan Kalinauskas could not be reached for comment.

Tommy Brennan Benefit June 13

A gala benefit game from Tommy Brennan, the veteran Snowdon Major Fastball Leaguer who lost an eye in a Provincial Hockey League mishap this past winter, will be reeled off at Macdonald Park on Sunday, June 13, it was revealed at Tuesday night's meeting of the Snowdon circuit.

Raymond Wray, recently elected president of the Canadian Amateur Softball Association and a former president of the Snowdon League, was named chairman of the committee which will be in charge of the affair.

Just what form the game will take remains to be decided.

Unity Juveniles Lose Playoff Start

Unity Boys Club juveniles lost the first game of a two game total point series 59-51 last Thursday to Neighborhood House.

The winner of this semi-final series will play Point St. Charles Boys Club for the Montreal Boys Basketball league title.

Dow Intermediates Start Workouts This Saturday

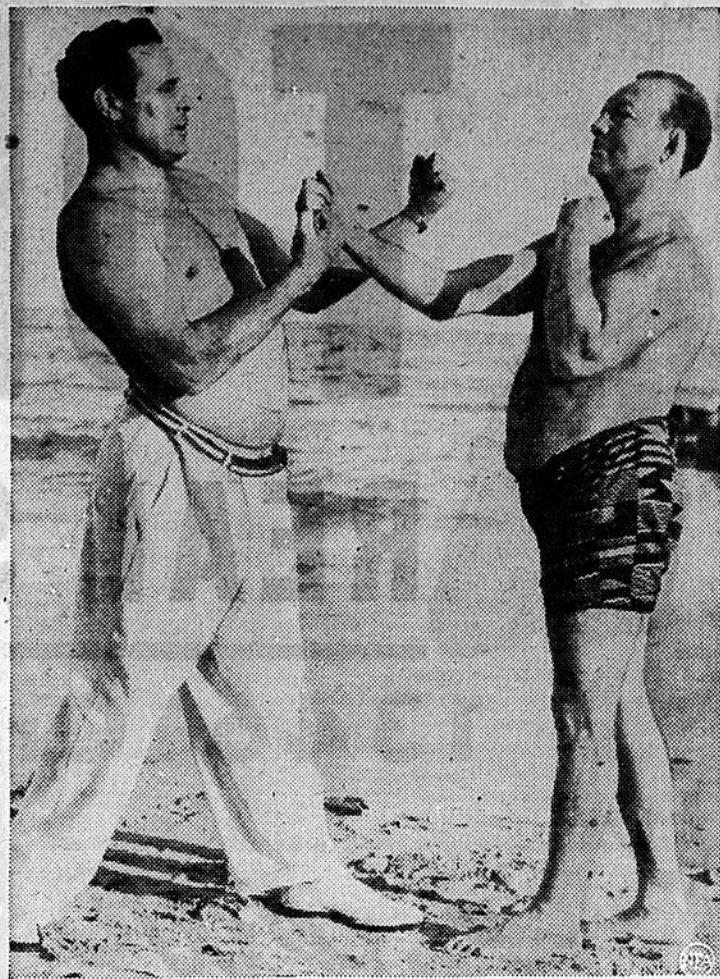

Dow intermediates, under coach Doug Alexander, will start softball practices Saturday at Westmount Park, diamond one. Starting time will be 2.15 p.m.

The Brewers will also hold practices Monday and Thursday of next week, at Westmount Park, at 7 p.m.

Anyone interested is invited to attend.

A business meeting of the Montreal Branch, M.E.A.C. will be held in the officers' mess, 3rd Field Engineer Regt., 3 Hillside Ave., Westmount, at 8.15 p.m., Thursday.

Grosvenor Players In Season's Final

"She Stoops To Conquer", Grosvenor Productions' final presentation of the season has a cast diverse and diverting as the characters it portrays; what the actors do have in common, though, is considerable and varied theatrical experience. Rita Roy, last seen in "The Holly and The Ivy" with Trinity Players is Goldsmith's charming heroine, Miss Kate Hardcastle. Duncan Shaddick plays Young Marlow. Early experience at Cambridge, in Cardiff and Singapore was followed by his appearance here as Professor Higgins in MRT's "Pygmalion".

Victor Knight, remaining in the military tradition, switches from the blithe professionalism of Captain Bluntschli in "Arms and The Man" to the old ex-soldier, Mr. Hardcastle, with his endless tales of Prince Eugene and the Duke of Marlborough. John Hempstead, who recently won The Best Supporting Actor Award in the Western Quebec Regional Drama Festival appears as Tony Lumpkin. Gordon Epstein, whose last appearance was in MRT's "Saint Joan", plays Hastings.

Director Edward Willis plays a dual part, he directs and in his spare moments appears as Sir Charles Marlow.

beer. This particular visit showed why the brewing industry is the cleanest of all food industries.

Sales director W. Gorman Kennedy gave the teachers a broad outline of how and where Dow products are sold in Canada and elsewhere. He stressed the role played by Dow distributors, public-spirited citizens who are leaders in community affairs and active supporters of organizations dedicated to the advancement of their city or town.

Problems and restrictions facing the brewing industry in the various advertising fields were dealt with by Maurice Brisebois, Dow advertising manager. Rounding out the day was a summary of industrial relations and employment activities at Dow by Allan Magee, company secretary, and John Hunter, director of personnel.

Officials Of Dow Brewery Are Teachers To Teachers

Top-ranking officials of Dow Brewery Limited became teachers for a day Monday when the company played host to a distinguished group of educators of the metropolitan area.

Along with 26 other Montreal firms, executives of Dow took an active part in Business-Education Day by guiding 40 specialized educators on a tour of the various company plants and giving them an insight into the organization and operation of a brewery.

The teachers' visit, with informality the keynote throughout the day, was the first at a local brewery since the Montreal Board of Trade started sponsoring the annual projects five years ago.

The all-day tour by Roman Catholic and Protestant teachers was a decided success. All displayed a keen interest while learning more about the brewing industry, and each went away with a better understanding of Canadian business, how it operates, and its responsibility to the community.

Welcomed by J. Guy Gauvreau, director of public relations, on their arrival at the Bottling House, the educators visited the modern bottling plant in the morning and were shown through the Fermentation and Storage rooms at Dow Colborne Brewery.

In a brief address in the Dow Kingsbeer reception room, Wilfrid Gagnon, chairman of the board of directors and president of the company, said the teachers' visit had brought a signal honor to the company and wished all a pleasant and interesting day.

Vice-president and general manager J. Armand Desrochers then traced the history of brewing, which dates back to the early ages and the steady growth and progress of this industry in Canada since the first brewery was founded in Quebec in 1668.

The important role played by Dow Brewery Limited in the Province of Quebec and in Canada as a whole was also outlined by Mr. Desrochers. He sketched briefly the multi-million expansion, building and modernization program which Dow has undertaken in the past year, the sanitary conditions under which the company's three main products are made, and Dow's contribution to the general welfare of the community.

Following lunch in a miniature brewery known as the Pilot Plant,

Mr. Gauvreau said the company had to take part in the cultural, social and economic development of the community if its public relations program was to be successful.

After watching a film of Montreal Royals baseball team in training and in action, the teachers were shown through the Pilot Plant Laboratory by John Joubert, brewmaster at Dow Kings-
