Impressive Tribute Paid T. J. Moorhead At Bay

St. Andrews United Church in Campbell's Bay was filled to overflowing and many were unable to gain admittance for the funeral service held on Saturday for Thomas J. Moorhead widely known and respected hotel keeper of Pontiac county. Mr. Moorhead died suddenly last week at his Allumette Island Moorhead Lodge following a heart seizure.

The lengthy cortege left the funeral home of Geo. Hynes and Son in Shawville at 2 p.m. for Campbell's Bay. An honor guard of members of District Lions Clubs lined the entrance to the church and preceded the casket to the graveside.

Mr. Moorhead was born at Bryson, Que., 66 years ago. He was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Moorhead. He was educated at local schools and was employed for a good number of years as a woods inspector with Gillis Brothers.

Mr. Moorhead was a charter member of the Pontiac Lions Club of Campbell's Bay. He was a past district governor and at the time of his death was an international counsellor. He was popularly known as "Mr. Lion" in this district. He was a member of St. Andrews United Church in Campbell's Bay.

Mr. Moorhead is survived by his wife the former Ida Smith of Pembroke.

Pontiac County Ministers Meet At Shawville

By Dr. A. F. Fokes

The Clarendon Ministerial Association held its March meeting in the Wesleyan church, with the President, Rev. W. R. Schamehorn in the chair assisted by the secretary Rev. A. Votary.

Devotions were conducted by Rev. A. Wilkins of Campbell's Bay Holiness Movement church, and an interesting paper on "Character demands" was given by Rev. W. H. Krause of Shawville Pentecostal church.

A report was received from the committee of Rev. R. G. Elliott and H. G. Lester on a very satisfactory interview with the local press showing they had reached an understanding by the interview. A suggestion was made by several ministers, based on their experience in other places they had served, that space might be allotted for a feature religious talk each week in the paper under the sponsorship of the Ministerial Association. Dr. A. F. Fokes was appointed by the meeting to bring this matter to the attention of the editor.

It was announced that the United church is to bring in the film on "John Wesley" about April 12th, and invitations were given to all congregations to see this J. Arthur Ranke feature film.

There was discussion of the failure to obtain action on the illegal attendance in the pool room of minors under 16 years of age, as this is contrary to the laws of the province.

The next meeting is to be held in St. Andrews United church in Campbell's Bay on April 2nd, when Devotions will be taken by Rev. E. Buehler of Ladysmith and a paper on the "Psalms" will be given by Rev. Mr. Younger-Lewis of Fort Coulonge.

Jack Wilson, Cobden, past deputy governor; Arnold O'Neil, Douglas, past deputy governor; B. Mercier, past deputy governor, Hull; and representatives of every Lions Club in the Ottawa Valley.

Funeral service was conducted by the pastor of St. Andrews, Rev. S. Griffiths and Rev. L. Emdar of Campbell's Bay.

Interment took place in the family plot at Campbell's Bay United cemetery where committal prayers were said by Rev. S. Griffiths.

Mr. Eddie Smith presented a petition to Council requesting a referendum in the Village of Shawville on the question of whether or not the people wish to prohibit the sale of liquor in Shawville. Council accepted the petition, signed by 30 ratepayers, and stated that it would be given due consideration.

Four residents of Centre Street, Shawville, Russell Judd, Francois Lacourse, Joe Laframboise and Bill McGregor, applied to Council for the installation of a sidewalk on Centre Street, running down to Highway 8. Quotations on cost of laying the sidewalk are to be furnished by Russell Judd, or request of Council. The ratepayers concerned are agreeable to pay half of the cost involved. Council will consider the request further when quotations have been furnished.

Social Credit M.P. Speaks At Rotary Ladies' Night

Bert Leboe, Social Credit Member of Parliament for Caribou, British Columbia, spoke to Shawville Rotarians last Monday evening on a very timely and important topic—manager-employee relations. It would have done Bill Brown, Shawville's travelling Rotarian now wintering in Florida, good to hear the singing welcome given their honoured guest by Rotarians and their wives and guests as 49 voices rang out in the old favorites "Vive le Rotary" and "That Spells Rotary".

Before and after the meal speech of the evening, the gathering was entertained by charming three part harmony sung by the guest speaker's two daughters accompanied by their cousin Evelyn Anderson and Miss Ruth Mcrae.

Dr. Wallace Hodgins toasted the ladies to which Mrs. Orville Smart replied in her usual competent and interesting form. Under the chairmanship of Edgar Hodgins, the meeting was organized by Hosmer Turner. A welcome back was extended to Clare Jacques who attended the meeting and Neil Drummond introduced the speaker, also apologizing for our own Member, Hugh Proudfoot, who was unable to attend the meeting. Mr. Drummond, in his introduction, said that Mr. Leboe had been a lumberman before he was a Member of Parliament and that he was a family man with six children.

Before getting down to his main topic, the speaker told of his childhood in Prince George, a town which is growing very fast. He foresaw a great future for his district of British Columbia and described a very busy present with sixty carloads of white spruce leaving Prince George each day and also important strides being taken in both agriculture and mining. Mr. Leboe called his homeland the land of opportunity and although he said he was happy in Ontario he found the mountains in this area didn't quite match the Canadian Rockies.

Thanking the speaker, Harland Rowat invited him to come back to Shawville during the summer, suggesting that even without mountains to match the Rockies, there were beauties worth appreciating in Pontiac. As usual, the meeting took place in the newly decorated dining room at Pontiac House and as usual the Rotarians and their guests were treated to an excellent "home cooked" turkey feast.

The main body of Mr. Leboe's address comprised a message, closely attended to by all those present. He felt he was in a position to speak about management-employee relations with some authority having spent the first fifteen years of his working life in the ranks of labor and later as an operator in the ranks of management.

As a laborer, he worked until the whistle blew and then had time for whatever leisure pursuits he chose. As a manager, he worked from sun up until after everyone else had gone to bed and still never felt he was caught up with what should be done. This one basic difference between the employee and the employer, Mr. Leboe felt, was at the base of many difficulties which can arise.

Confronted by a continual spiral of increasing costs, the laborer feels his only recourse to keep up his buying power is to match this with a continual spiral in increased wages. The spiral in wages, if it is governed by unions that are socialist or communist minded, will continue until the business operation ceases to make money. When there is no ploy-back money in the business, and no profits the next step is state socialism which leads directly to communism, the speaker stated.

Communism, being a very destructive ideology, does away with freedom and all belief in a higher power, said Mr. Leboe.

The early stage of the process where men and women workers must do something to keep up with demands placed upon them to provide for their families is understandable. It can not be resolved until we have solved the larger problems of distribution. Having solved the problems of production to the advanced stage of automation where intricate machinery can be made entirely untouched by human hands, we still face the gigantic problem of distribution which, according to Mr. Leboe, is the major problem facing the world today. If we don't solve it, said Mr. Leboe, we will be forced into the camp of state socialism and communism.

Mr. Leboe expressed the seeming futility of relying upon the preparation for and waging of war to keep up our prosperity through the destruction of goods.

Wages, he said, have increased but not purchasing power.

In describing the dilemma of private business he reviewed the familiar situation of certain costs being fixed while salaries rise. As salaries rise there is less and less money available to management to put into the business for maintenance and for the expansion of the business. When all the ploy-back money is gone the business must close and all employees are out of their jobs. The alternative is for salaries to remain stabilized.

Mr. Leboe felt that, if employers could make their employees understand this basic economic principle, the employers could budget their salaries, keeping a suchion in case of a recession in the cost of their product, thus protecting the jobs of all those they employ. When we have this cushion, business is in a sound position and employees are protected. If salaries increase without this protective security, the wage earners will over-buy. Mr. Leboe felt that it is better to budget your needs to a smaller salary and know you are secure in your job than to get into debt spending an inflated salary and find yourself out of work.

The managers must take their employees into their confidence on this score, said Mr. Leboe. Management has the responsibility too keep the cushion, to keep a source of ploy-back money, and also keep the business running at a profit. If management has a sound business understanding with labor, cooperation will follow, said Mr. Leboe. Mr. Leboe does not include Christmas bonuses, handouts and staff picnics in his definition of a sound business understanding. He feels that employer-employee cooperation must be a real understanding which, according to Mr. Leboe, can come only from the heart.

Shawville Church Debt Is Cleared

By Dr. A. F. Fokes

Congregations that filled the church gathered in the Wesleyan Methodist church on Sunday, shared at the morning service in a happy event, the burning of the mortgage held against the church for the last five years. This debt had been incurred at the time of the renovation of the church and payments against it had been paid each year. In January the last payment was made and the congregation expressed their joy at the morning service on being free of the burden.

At both services the minister, Rev. W. R. Schamehorn was in charge and Rev. H. Keilty of Ottawa a former minister of this church and now President of the Canada Conference delivered enjoyable sermons. He spoke in the morning on the subject, "Contending for the faith" and in the evening on "Why is my brother?"

The congregation is planning to continue further renovation and decoration of the church auditorium, and to arrange for an oil heating system to be installed in the basement.

R. W. Hodgins Inspired By Greatness

While contemplating preparations for this, our 100th Shawville Fair, we must not forget to honour those who worked to make this annual event what it is today.

In particular, we must remember one man whose presence in Shawville is still a source of encouragement to forward looking citizens and who, even in the evening of his busy life, looks ever ahead into the future of our town and our district.

This man is Mr. R. W. Hodgins of Main Street Shawville, whose energy and enthusiasm has in years gone by been put into getting everything possible from the outside world that would, in any way, benefit the Shawville Exhibition.

Mr. Hodgins, originally a school teacher by profession, drew a great deal of his inspiration and enthusiasm from his friend the great human benefactor the late Dr. James Robertson, Canada's first and greatest Agricultural Commissioner, founder and first Principal of Macdonald College and later renowned Chairman of the Canadian Red Cross Society.

It was Dr. Robertson who introduced an enlarged Fairs Policy in Canada, who started the first rural cooperative activities, the Canadian Live Stock Records, the national improvement programs for dairy and poultry and, as a great humanitarian, the first rural school consolidation and community hospitalization. At Mr. Hodgins' solicitation, Dr. Robertson addressed many gatherings in the Shawville area and therein laid the foundation of what we have in schools and hospitals in Shawville today.

For a number of years Mr. W. A. Brown of Norway Bay was responsible for the planning and preparation of the livestock and poultry marketing exhibits for the Dominion Fair circuits. He well remembers how this appealed greatly to R. W. Hodgins in an educational way. One Shawville Exhibition was scarcely over before R. W. was in Ottawa looking for exhibits for the next. He spent a lot of time in Ottawa and there was very little in the way of grants, judges, exhibits and other assistance that R. W. did not get.

R. W. did not only get the things he went after but contributed in no small degree to the ideas that went into those exhibits. It was not surprising, therefore, that many years a new and different Dominion exhibit occupied the major right hand space just inside the door of the main building. R. W. was after them before they were even off the drafting board.

As a result, today Shawville Fair is one of the outstanding Regional Exhibitions in Canada. Its status as such is due in very large degree to one man, R. W. Hodgins. Therefore, at Centennial time, Hats Off to R. W. Hodgins, Secretary Manager for nearly half of Shawville Fair's one hundred years!

EDUCATION WEEK

Now it is Education Week. There should appear on this page a long and learned editorial on the subject of Education. But, as it happens, we place editorials on the subject of Education on this page so many times during the year that all our readers are familiar with most of our opinions on the subject. Also, during this part of the year, every other newspaper and magazine fills its pages with edu-

OTTAWA Report: by Anthony J. Wright

OTTAWA—Doing a story on isotopes here, I discovered from Atomic Energy of Canada Ltd. that man has put radio-active substances to work in very practical ways. For example, an Ontario town, I didn't know which got its sewers so badly blocked Council were getting worried. Trouble was that no one had an accurate plan of the old sewer, hence it was not easy to uncover the blockage. They called in Atomic Energy who advised putting Cobalt 60 (the isotope they use in cancer therapy at many hospitals) on the end of a sewer rod. The rod went snaking down the sewer and geiger counters followed the Cobalt 60 until everything stopped at the blockage. The trouble removed, the town was then able to map out its old sewer. (An isotope is some element made radio-active by bombardment within the nuclear reactor).

Another big job was avoided when atomic experts put Sodium 24 into pipes feeding a large radiant heating installation under a concrete floor. The geiger noticed where the isotope was spreading out from a leak in one of the pipes. Workers then pulled up just enough of the floor to get at that piece of pipe. Without atomic help they might have had to rip up much of the floor at much cost to repair the leak.

Using isotopes for agriculture, scientists have noticed that Arsenic 76 fed into a Douglas fir climbed upwards within the tree's sap system at the rate of 47 inches an hour.

They are working on ways of ridding elevators of grain weevils. Certain isotopes kill the weevil without harming the grain. The trick is to devise a cheap method of feeding grain into elevators through some opening in the side of which would be a suitable isotope. This weevil killer will be at work some day, they tell me here.

Another little gadget they are working on is something to expose stored potatoes or onions to radio-activity in such a way as to prevent their sprouting. This would increase the time for which these humble vegetables could be stored. At present the U.S. Quartermaster General, anxious to save money on spuds, is experimenting with radiation of stored (60 degrees) potatoes. Inhibiting sprouting to give longer storage is important in countries which have only one crop a year and have to store for a long time.

Canada, by the way, has been the pioneer in building therapy units using Cobalt 60 for cancer irradiation. The first went into use in Victoria Hospital, London, Ont., in 1951. We have sold 33 in various countries (it takes 12 to 18 months to get the cobalt ready, hence we have a waiting list. Doctors have not said definitely how successful these units have been. They wait five years before deciding that some forms of cancer have definitely been cured. Should be a report fairly soon on the effectiveness of these units, starting with London, Ont.

Things were better, it seems, in livestock marketing last year. The Dept. of Agriculture says that net marketings at stockyards and direct to packing plants and export totalled: cattle 2,041,124 (3 percent up); calves 911,584 (.8 percent up); hogs 5,924,258 (16.2 percent up) and sheep 603,281 an increase of five percent over 1954 sales.

The Agriculture Department's "Outlook for 1956" has this puzzling passage. "The economic conditions expected next year in Canada and the rest of the world should be favourable to Canadian agriculture. Farm cash income will probably be about the same as in 1955. Farmers' deliveries of grains are unlikely to vary much from these in 1955. If only an average crop is produced, marketings could be maintained by a liquidation of the present large quantities of farm held grains". If income and deliveries of grain are to be about the same as last year, how could a prairie farmer regard 1956 as "favourable to Canadian agriculture"? We'll see, come summer.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

49 Steven St.
Hamilton, Ont.

Editor, The Equity.

This morning I was listening to the Gary Moore Show. Gary was talking about small towns and how everybody knew everybody's business and what they were doing. So the Editor was asked why a small town needed a paper and he replied, to find out if they had been caught at it.

I enjoy reading your paper so thought you would like a joke for your column.

Yours truly,
Mae Kennedy.

Attached hereto is a letter addressed to the Mayor of Bryson, which may be of interest to your readers. At the end of 1955 Chief Rodgers wished to be relieved of his duties as Fire Chief and Amedee Poisson was named Fire Chief. Chief Poisson has proved to be an active worker. He has added to the Volunteer personnel and has acquired much needed equipment and Fire Hose and he has reported to Council on existing fire hazards.

Quebec, March 1st, 1956.
C. Poisson, Mayor,
Bryson, Co. Pontiac, Que.
Mr. Mayor:

Re 1955 Fire Prevention Week Campaign

The International Committee of Judges of the 1955 Fire Prevention Week campaign, sitting in Boston, Mass., has just issued its report which states that the Village of Bryson won an HONOURABLE MENTION amongst the Municipalities of the Province of Quebec who competed in class "F" (population 2,500 and under).

I am much pleased to draw this fact to your attention and to the attention of the Council for it proves that the work done under the direction of Chief Joseph Rodgers and his brigade is producing good results. These results, of course could not be obtained unless the Chief had the whole-hearted support of the civic and of the other authorities as well as the support of the entire population.

I join with Honorable Romeo Lorrain, Minister of Public Works, who is in charge of the administration of the Fire Prevention Act, in offering sincere congratulations to all concerned on the success obtained and in wishing Bryson still further successes in the future.

The Certificate from the National Fire Protection Association, Boston, Mass. is herewith enclosed.

Yours very truly,
F. X. Ahern,
Fire Commissioner

ational topics so the interested reader can read "education" until he is cross-eyed and still not read it all.

What we feel is the most important suggestion at this time when so much material is available on the subject of our schools, is for each person to read what he can, go to the schools and ask questions when he can, take a good look at the subject matter which his children are being taught, give thoughtful consideration to the men and women whose charge is the education of Canada's next generation and draw his own conclusions in the light of what he personally feels is the aim of public education.

Editorializing on the aims of education serves a purpose when done consistently throughout the year but at this particular time, Education Week, we feel each individual should do his own thinking and, rather than inflict our opinions on our readers, we urge them to form some opinions of their own. If they will just try to decide for themselves what they feel their school tax money should provide and then evaluate the actual product, that is the school, its teachers and equipment, they will know for themselves whether or not they are getting what they want. If they are, they are fortunate. If they are not, it is up to them, and no one else to do something about it.

Supervisor's Notebook

By Frank Treccanti

Supervisor of Pontiac County Protestant Schools

A recent issue of the "R. D. A. Review," a newsletter from the Richmond - Drummond - Arthabaska Protestant Central School Board contains some very prominent remarks regarding the problem of maintaining a complete staff of efficient teachers within the County Unit and since conditions in R.D.A. are, in many respects, similar to our own, I know the Supervisor there, Mr. G. L. Rothney, will have no objections to my repeating some of the things he said in his recent publication.

Throughout the Province of Quebec this month, School Boards are making every effort to staff their schools for September, 1956, and the competition, for it can hardly be called anything else, for the services of available teachers becomes every spirited indeed.

Let me quote from Mr. Rothney's letter and also a recent article in the magazine "School Progress" by Lyle Spencer, President, Science Research Associates.

"The most prominent consideration in the mind of an applicant for any position, is the salary or wage attached to it. So it is with the teaching profession. No matter how we picture the benefits of the community and good attitude the citizens have toward the school staff the answer to the question, 'How much?' usually determines the attractiveness of the position being offered. That this answer has been generally unsatisfactory, it reflected in the exodus of thousands of trained teachers from the profession during the last year, mainly to take higher paying jobs in other fields."

We all know that there are not enough trained teachers to supply the demand in Canada today. It has been said that about 64% of all students graduating from college this spring would have to choose teaching as a profession in order to supply the required number.

In the face of this situation we, in Pontiac, should be determined to have our share of the available supply of teachers and as has been indicated above the problem is closely related to the salaries offered.

Reports were given on the work done during the year, also the treasurer's report. Bank balance showed a successful year. The following were appointed.

We should be prepared to offer teachers' salaries at least equivalent to those being offered in other areas of Quebec and I hasten to add that while our present schedule of initial salaries to beginning teachers compares quite favorably with those offered elsewhere in the province outside the Montreal area, a comparison of maximum salaries puts us in a very unfavourable position when attempting to attract the more experienced teachers.

If you have been following reports out of Montreal you will know that a further upward revision in teachers' salaries has been made and this will almost automatically result in increases in other areas, particularly those near Montreal. These developments do affect us because of the shortage in the supply and if we are really serious about an adequate school staff throughout the County, School Boards will have to be given assurance by the taxpayers that they, the taxpayers, are prepared to support whatever expenditure is necessary.

Fort Coulonge C.W.L. Election Of Officers

Fort Coulonge—The annual meeting of the Fort Coulonge Women's Institute met at the residence of Mrs. Ann Fumerton on Thursday, March 1. Mrs. Doerff, in the chair, and Mrs. Ira Whelan acting as Secretary. The report of the work accomplished during last year was received. The polio fund report was received showing contributions of $16.89, and it was agreed to make the amount $20.00, the difference to be taken out of the funds.

The treasurer's report was received and approved, thus being an excellent one. The president reported that a projector had been purchased, this being the consummation of an objective of many years.

Next came the election of officers. Mrs. B. Doerff wanted to step down from the position she has held so successfully for many years but it was of no avail for the board was re-elected. I was up to Pembroke last Wednesday and had a look at Hector Clouthier's new stable, it could be called the Horse Palace. Hec, certainly doesn't use halfway measures when he starts something.

I was told that he was at the Standard Bred sales in Delaware and since have heard that he bought a broodmare and 2-2 year olds, if so that will be 7 he will have to work for the coming season.

International Ice Races, Clayton, N. Y. Taken from the Harness Horse. Nipper McKinney 2:12 h. owned by Gorsline and Holmes of Kingston won four times in 6 starts. The Conjurer gelding turned in good times for ice racing, 2:14.2; 2:22; 2:16; and 2:22. Nipper McKinney was last years winner of the Arnprior stake race.

In the series opener on January 29, Sted Craig's Silk Grattan took both heats in 2:24; on February 4, she split a race with Molyo C, taking the first heat in 2:17 and loosing the next in a close finish in 2:16.

In the last race on Saturday, February 4, Burns McKane, 75 year old veteran reinsman of Kingston, was thrown from the sulky of Tim Blacklock p. 2:12h. Five stitches were required to close a gash in his forehead, however he was back driving the next day.

Deep River Cagers Split With Shawville

Basketball returned to Shawville over the weekend when Deep River was down on Friday night to return a game. The Deep River team and several of their followers made the trip by chartered bus, into this "foreign" land of Quebec. They were impressed by the school and many favourable comments were heard.

The girls game came first and Deep River girls had our team on the spot for the first few minutes when they rapped in three quick baskets. However our girls found themselves in the second quarter, took the lead and never gave it up. The final score was Shawville 26, Deep River 17. Points for the Garnet and Grey were by Diane Fraser 8, Helen Murphy 4, Lillian Kirkham 14. Shawville had several new young faces in the form of Marilyn Richardson, Helen Stark and Gerda Tanner. These girls will probably be regular players next year.

In spite of the fact our boys lost, they played their best game of the season, were bold in their shooting and showed remarkable floor "generalship". Their one black mark against them was their passing. Final score was Deep River 56, Shawville 43. Points were rung in by: Wayne McKnight 2, Stewart Stark 2, Robert Wilson 8, Ron Wilson 12, Keith Yach 19.

There is still one more set of basketball games to be played and they are in connection with the School Reunion. The Students Council are going to stage what they hope will be the first one of an Annual Reunion. It is to take place during the Easter Holidays on Friday, April 6th. The school teams will start off the evening with a girls and a boys basketball game, playing against teams made up of former pupils. This will be followed by an evening of dancing to the music of a local orchestra. So set aside the night of April 6th to see your friends, their boyfriends or girlfriends, husbands or wives.

5 Star Basketball Selections

With the basketball season drawing to a close it is time to make the annual 5 star selection, so here goes with the girls team first.

The first star goes to Diane Fraser, team captain. She did an excellent job in that capacity, and as a forward brought in 44 points. Layup shots were her specialty. The second star goes to another forward, Lillian Kirkham, who was top scorer with 54 points. She was the calmest player on the team, but the most deceptive.

The next three stars all go to guards. The third to Phyllis Stewart who earned the title "rookie of the year". She filled the center spot on the defensive line and probably put in more playing time than any other girl. The fourth and fifth stars go to Sylvia Gibson and Joyce Laframboise, left and right guards. Both girls did a bang up job of holding their opponents scoring down.

Now for the boys team. The first star is for Keith Walsh, right forward. Keith was sidelined midway through the season due to illness but in the four games he played he collected 52 points. The second star and also the term "rookie of the year" goes to Stewart Stark, left forward. He picked up 39 points and the least number of fouls and is developing a very nice hook shot.

Wayne McKnight, team captain and left guard gets the third star. He accounted for 30 points and handled a difficult guarding assignment well. He was very effective when placed against a particular opponent. The fourth star is for Robert Wilson, right guard with 48 points. Robert is a good two way player and its a joy to watch him retrieve his opponents rebounds.

The fifth star is Keith Yach, center with 83 points. This year Keith developed into a much better team player, but was still plagued by the high number of fouls he commits.

T. J. Moorhead

Bryson—One of Bryson's remarkable personages has gone to his reward in the person of T. J. Moorhead. Born and educated in the Public School here, as a young man he followed in the footsteps of his father the late Robert Moorhead and became an expert in the movement of timber from the virgin stand to the mill mouth. He will be remembered to his many acts of kindness by poor and rich alike.

During his hotel life he became an enthusiastic tourist booster by providing good hotel accommodation especially for the Pontiac region. The sympathy of Bryson is extended to his widow, Mrs. T. J. Moorhead.

By Richard Neil

Last Thursday morning excitement was aroused among senior students at Shawville High School. Mr. Tolhurst had laid an apparently ineffective one cent piece to officially open Shawville's first Junior Red Cross Penny Parade—a historic moment in our school life.

The contest developed into a two-way competition between Miss Murdoch's Grade 8b and Mr. Huskison's Grade 10a—ending with Grade 8b having laid 7,925 pennies, 125 more than Grade 10a.

Then, Miss Murdoch's class' excellent sportsmanship was exemplified when the members offered to split its "booty" with Grade 10a. We firmly believe the Junior Red Cross will appreciate the $230 (estimate). Half of which will be sent to it by each of the two very close competitors.

We appreciate the co-operation of businessmen, teachers and students in our more-or-less experimental project. We hope to have a Penny Parade as a community plan next year, also entailing extensive canvassing and organization. We

March And Annual Meetings

March and annual meetings. This month sees the end of the fiscal year for Quebec Women's Institutes and already reports are beginning to trickle in from branches all over the province.

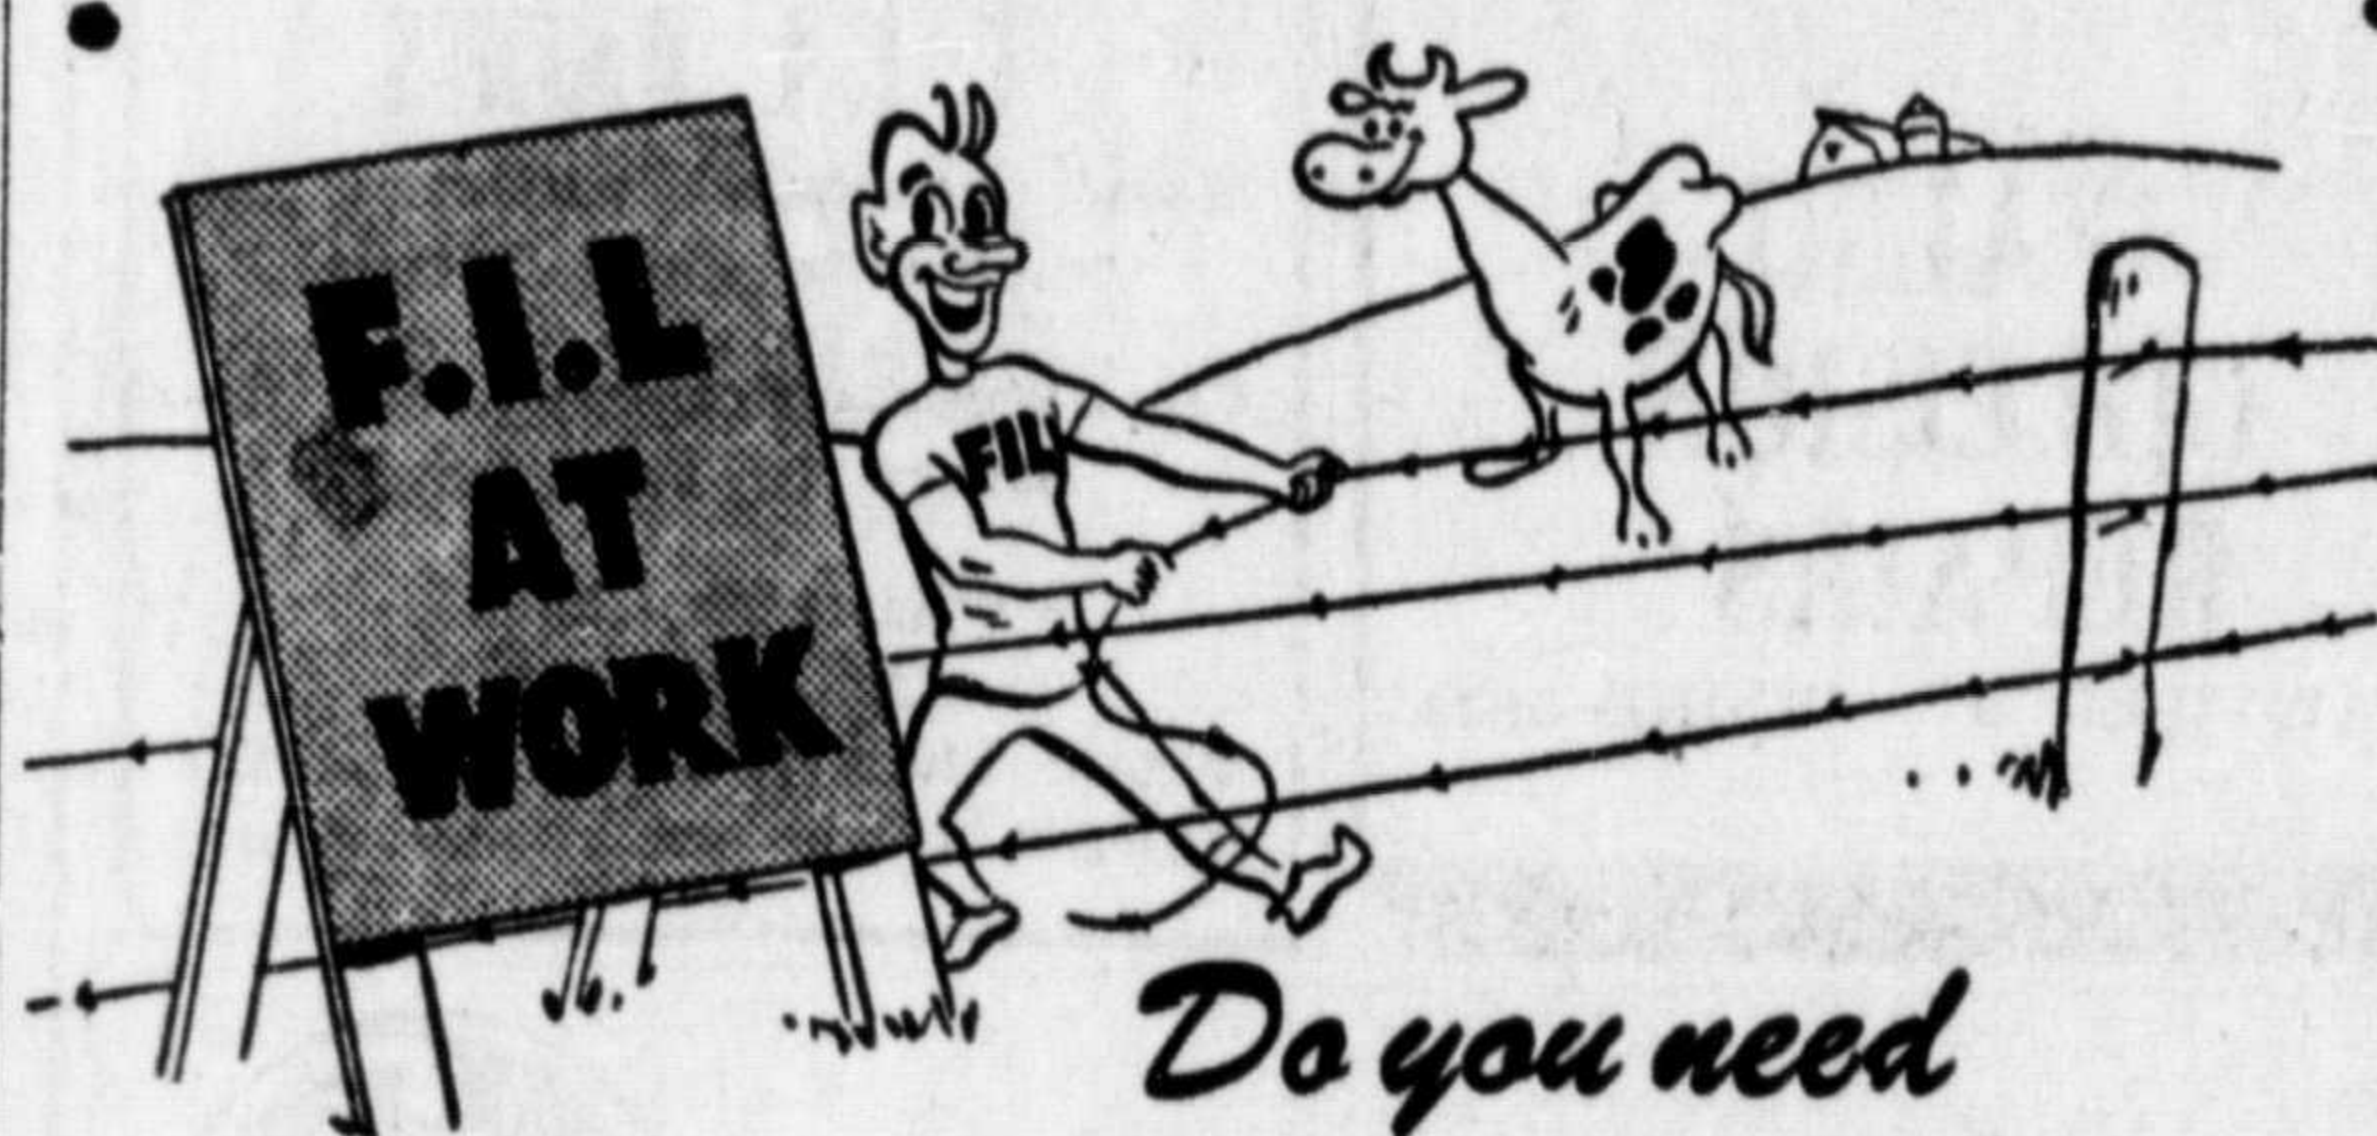

It is too early yet to assess what has been accomplished in the past twelve months, but one thing can be definitely stated—interest in two of the major projects, pasteurization and help for retarded children, has been sustained.

Broadcasts, talks, programs and active canvassing have featured the unremitting campaign for the former measure, and the successful formation of the Sherbrooke County think Thursday's activities have definitely rooted this new idea into everyone's mind. We confidently feel the success of next year's campaign will encounter absolutely no bounds.

Active members of the Penny Parade Committee include:

Brenda L. Barber, Barbara A. Dagg, Wilfred E. Huskison (Supervising Teacher); Richard G. Neil, (chairman).

Branch of the Association for the Help of Retarded Children (Quebec) Inc. has stimulated fresh interest in this undertaking.

Another effort, Civil Defence, has also received attention. Mrs. J. Ossington, Granby, Q.W.I. Citizenship Convenor, has had several speaking engagements since her course at the Civil Defence College, Arnprior, and has accepted many more for county annual meetings in May.

Wm. A. Moyle Paid Last Tribute

Quyon—Numerous friends and relatives gathered Sunday afternoon to pay final tribute to William Ambrose Moyle at his funeral held from the residence of Miss Loretta Gavan, Quyon, to St. Mary's Church for the Libera service at 2.30.

Rev. T. P. Wingle, PP, met the body at the door and chanted the Libera. The funeral mass was sung by Rev. J. E. Austin. Monday morning interment was made in the family lot in Pontiac cemetery.

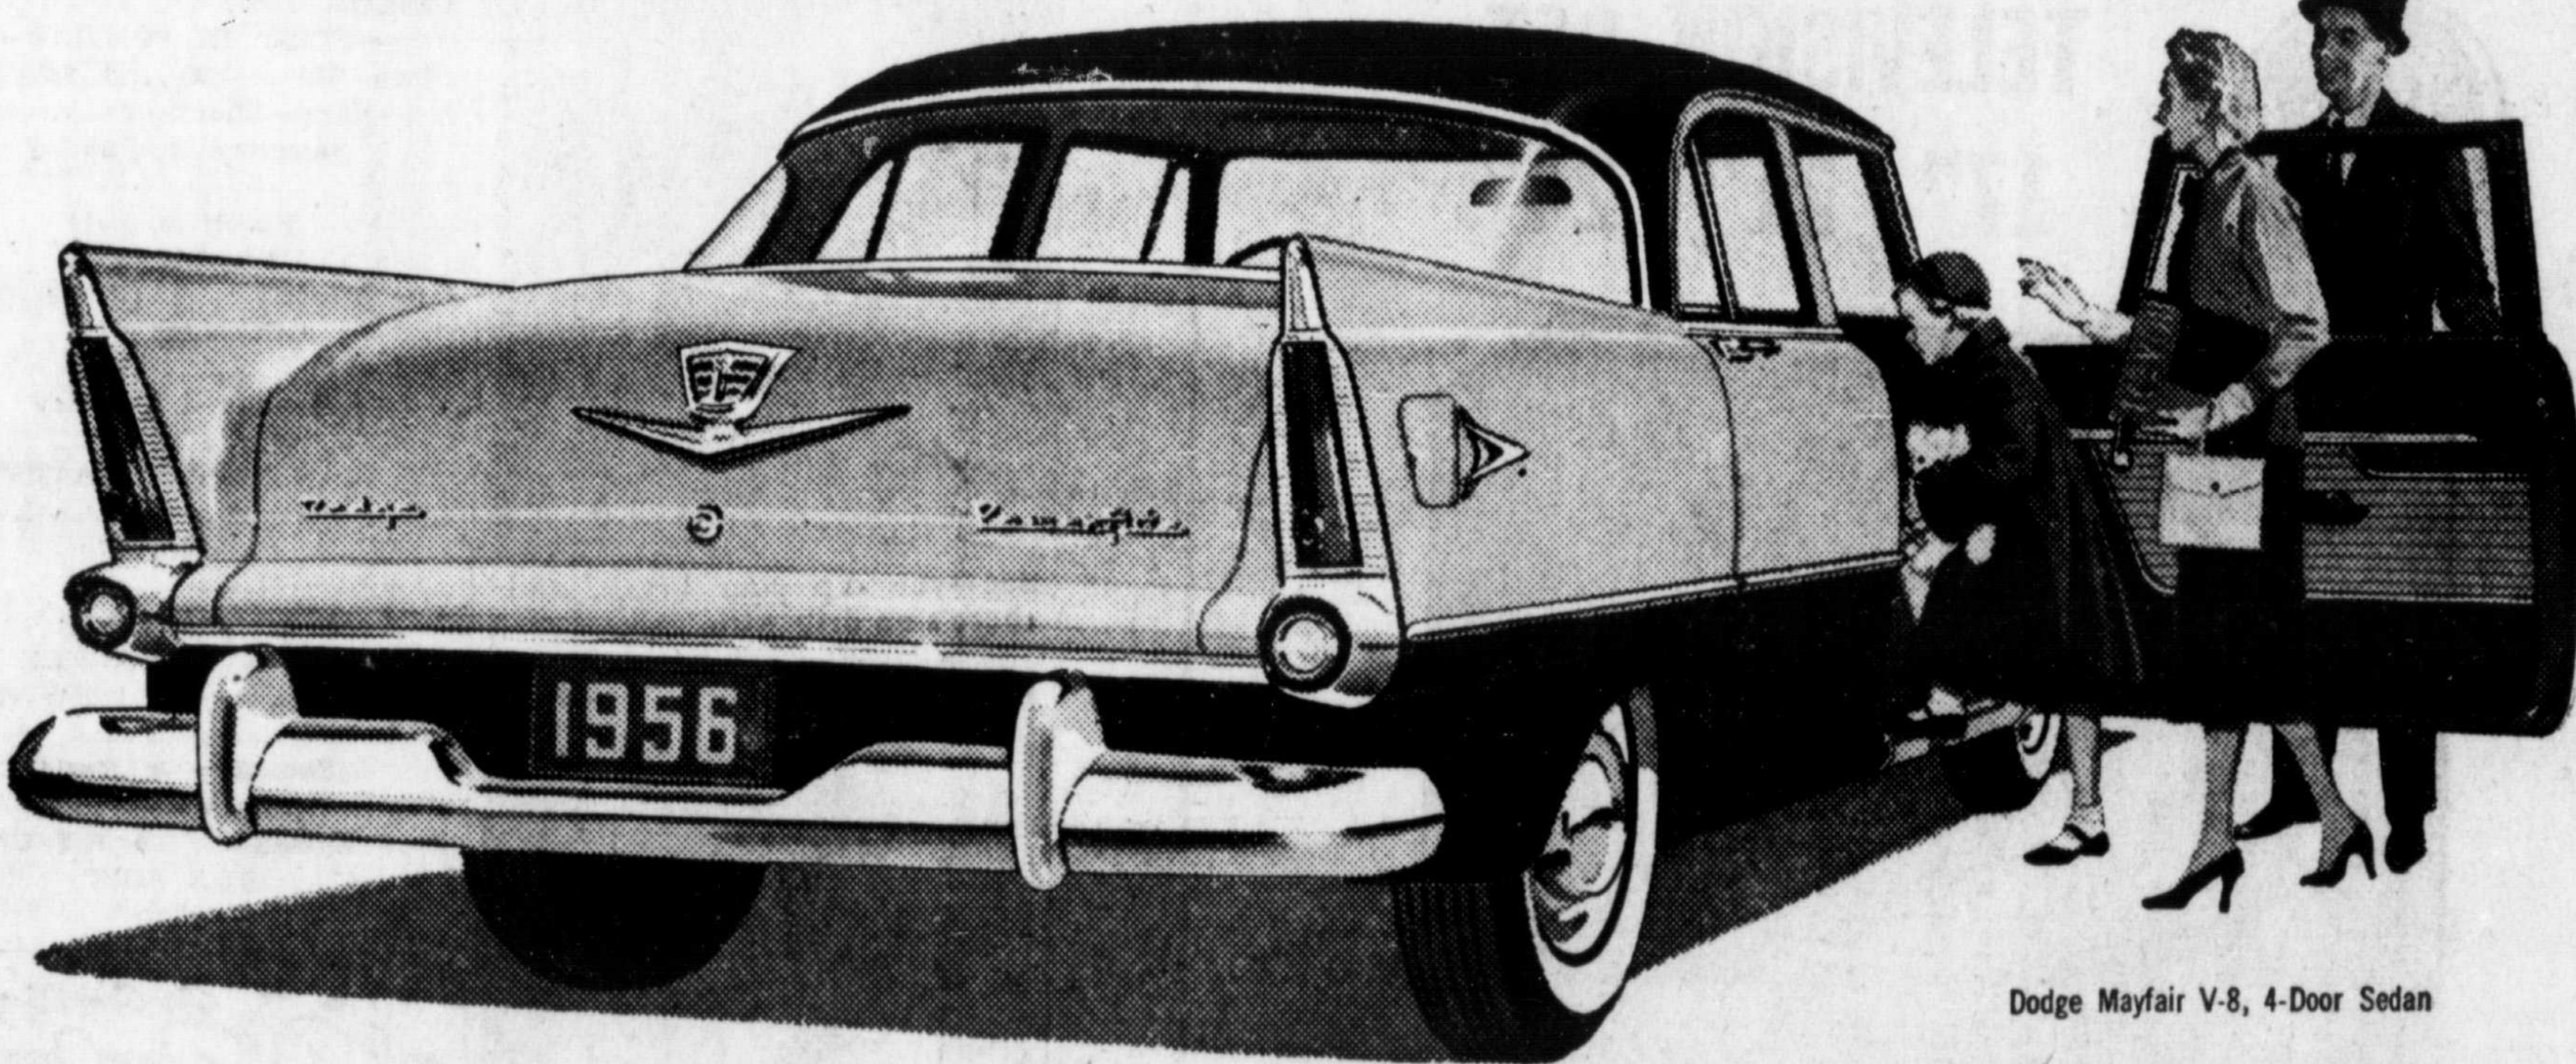

Born at Quyon 72 years ago Mr. Moyle was the youngest and last surviving member of the family of the late John Moyle and Ocella Hannaway. He went to Chapleau in 1910 and was employed by the CPR as a conductor for many years prior to his retirement in January, 1949.

Mr. Moyle belonged to the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and was a third degree member of Council 1714, Knights of Columbus, Chapleau.

He married Miss Florence Lynn of Bristol in 1912. Following the death of his wife in July, 1952 he lived with his daughter, Mrs. Edmund O'Reilly at Sudbury. His death occurred unexpectedly at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Clarke of Quyon, where he was visiting.

Surviving are two sons, Emerson Moyle, Chapleau, and Irvin Moyle, Copper Cliff; two daughters, Sister Margaret Mary (Mildred) of Eganville, and Mrs. Edmund (Irene) O'Reilly of Sudbury; and four grandchildren.

Attending the funeral were many friends from Chapleau, Sudbury, Boston, Toronto, Ottawa, Creighton, Copper Cliff, Garson, Lively, Eganville, Maryland and McKee.

Restrictions Off Bass

The Quebec Department of Game and Fisheries has given anglers the biggest surprise in years. Official announcement from Quebec City wipes out all restrictions on bass fishing in lakes north of the Ottawa and St. Lawrence Rivers.

This in effect means that bass can be taken from any lake in Quebec in this area without reference to season, size or bag limit.

The only remaining factor governing bass fishing is the restriction on fishing through the ice in Quebec.

As soon as the ice is out this should bring about one of the greatest bass fishing runs in history. Exactly what brought about the change in policy has not as yet been revealed, but it is believed this action is taken in an effort to reduce the bass population in lakes where it has been increasing at the expense of trout.

No preliminary publicity was given to the move and first knowledge of the drastic change came when the Quebec department issued its annual list of open fishing seasons.

The change will not, however,

Ottawa Valley Historical Society

Historical research can become most interesting when additional information is obtained from other sources to substantiate facts already recorded.

There is a cairn marking the finding of Champlain astrolabe in 1867, three miles east of Cobden, Ontario, which was placed there by the Historic Sites and Monument Board of Canada. Records show that in August 1867, George Edward Lee, found the astrolabe near Green Lake in that vicinity. Captain Overman owned the property on which it was found, namely Lot 12, Concession 1, Township of Ross, in Renfrew County. He was captain of the Jason Gould, the Ottawa Forwarding Company's steamboat on the Muskrat Lake.

The day the astrolabe was found, Captain Overman and Captain Cowley saw it and took it away, promising to pay the young man the sum of $10.00 for it, a promise that Captain Overman never fulfilled. Eventually he gave it to R. W. Cassels of Toronto, president of the Ottawa Forwarding Company, but this priceless relic of the founder of Canada was so lightly appreciated by Canadians that it was permitted to leave the country in 1901 an American Consueur, Samuel V. Hoffman of New York, added it to his large collection of astrolabes. It is still in his possession.

Noting the similarity of names between Captain Cowley and the Cowley's of Bristol, Mrs. Carl Price, press secretary of the Ottawa Valley Historical Society, communicated with Mrs. Earl Findlay of the Bristol Women's Institute who kindly volunteered the following information:

Captain Daniel Keyworth Cowley was born in England of January 9, 1817, coming to Canada in 1831, where he attended school in Montreal, losing both of his parents in 1833. He came to Ottawa in 1836 and in the autumn months of 1838 he succeeded Captain William Richards as Master of the Steamer and Line from the late Jason Gould, the formed a partnership with William Craig of Sand Point.

In 1838, a line between Portage du Fort and Pembroke entailed the building of a portage road from Snow Rapids to Muskrat Lake at Cobden. In 1850, Captain Cowley formed a partnership with Jason Gould. The Muskrat was burned in 1853 by a bush fire. Captain Cowley then bought out Jason Gould's share and operated the Line himself until 1862 when he organized a company and built the Jason Gould, a superior boat, both in design and adaptability to its mode of transportation.

Captain Cowley was the grandfather of Miss Hattie Cowley of Bristol who married Albert Robinson of Pembroke. They now reside in Manotick.

Captain Cowley was also the great grandfather of Dr. Frank Cowley of Shawville and "Bill" Cowley of hockey fame.

affect bass fishing on the Ottawa reement exists between Ontario and River where in Interprovincial agreement, nor on the St. Lawrence. Stream fishing for bass will still have a season. This will include Ottawa. Open dates for this type of bass fishing has been set as from July 1 to October 15, according to local officials. On the Ottawa the season, according to Ontario laws, is July 1 to October 15.
