PREMIER LOOKS INTO THE CANADIAN COTTON INDUSTRY

V[illegible] the Merchants' Cotton Co. of St. Henri, Whose S[illegible]olders Are Largely Conservatives—An Enthusiastic Welcome—Cotton Question Will Have Every Consideration

One of the most cordial receptions tendered Sir Wilfrid Laurier during the present campaign was given him this morning when at the invitation of a number of prominent Conservatives, he visited the extensive plant of the Merchants Cotton Company, at St. Henri.

The interests identified with the different cotton plants about the city, which are largely Conservative, were anxious to show the Premier the various improvements that had been made with a view of enabling the plants to cater to the needs of the Canadian market, and, in accepting the invitation, the Premier stated he was anxious to see just what the cotton plants were able to do and to accord them, if they deserved it, the same protection that had been accorded to other industries.

The visit to the Merchants plant was only the first of a series, the Premier stating to-day that if time allowed he would to-morrow visit the plant of the Colonial Bleaching & Printing Company and the mills of the Dominion Cotton Company at Hochelaga.

Hearty Cheers From Employes.

The Premier left the Windsor shortly after ten o'clock and was accompanied by Mr. A. A. Ayer, the managing director of the Merchants Company and Mr. R. W. Withycomb, of R. W. Withycomb & Company. He was shown over the entire plant by Mr. Ayer and spent considerable time conversing with the heads of all the different departments. The employes, who number close to 2,000, seemed extremely pleased that the Premier should in the midst of his campaign, have put himself out to the extent of personally visiting the plant and when he met each department the men rose and gave him three hearty cheers.

It was intended that an hour at most should be spent in the plant in order to permit of other visits during the morning, but so desirous was the Premier to become acquainted with the exact conditions that it was close to noon before the topic of the cloth and the new hosiery departments was completed.

Just as the Premier was about to leave for his carriage, the superintendent block system, allowing all the employes to leave the looms and spindles. This all then gathered about the office and as he passed as the Premier entered his carriage continued cheers greeted him.

Delighted With Visit.

In connection with Mr. Ayer and Mr. Withycomb, the Premier expressed much pleasure with his visit.

The plant of the Merchants' Cotton Company, of which Mr. James Crathern, Conservative, is president, contains 2,600 looms, 8,800 cloth spindles and 2,400 hosiery spindles. The number of hands employed is 2,000 and the wages paid amount to half a million dollars a year.

The impression given by the Premier to the officers was that the cotton question would be one of the first to be taken up after the elections.

Two Liberal Candidates Elected Without Contest

Conservative Candidates in Quebec East and Berthier, and Independent in Russell Disqualified on Account of Holding Government Office.

Ottawa, Oct. 28.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier has been elected in Quebec east and Mr. J. E. Archambault, Liberal, in Berthier county. The two men nominated against them are Government office holders. The Conservative in Quebec east is Dr. Fiset, analyst of the Inland Revenue department. He sent in his resignation a day or two ago and was informed that it had been sent to the privy council and would be dealt with at the next meeting. In the meantime Dr. Fiset is an office holder. The Conservative candidate in Berthier is Telesphore Michaud, postmaster. He has not resigned.

Section 9, sub-section a of the revised statutes of Canada 1886 reads as follows:

"No person accepting or holding any office, commission, or employment, permanent or temporary in the service of the Government of Canada, at the nomination of the crown, or at the nomination of the officers of the Government of Canada, to which any salary, fee, wages, allowance, emolument or profit of any kind is attached shall be eligible as a member of the House of Commons or shall sit or vote therein."

Mr. Russel M. Shaver, the postmaster of South Indian is the Independent nominee. His disqualification leaves a straight fight between Wilson, Liberal and Askwith, Conservative.

Conservative Whipped Into Line.

Quebec, Oct. 28.—In the nomination at Portneuf Dr. Voisard, the Conservative candidate at the last moment sent a telegram saying that he withdrew from the contest. The Conservatives will not allow the telegram to take effect saying the same was not legal and insisted upon his nomination. The question now is whether Dr. Voisard will resign or not. In any case Mr. Delisle, the Liberal candidate will be elected by a large majority.

Trouble in Conservative Camp.

Ottawa, Oct. 28.—The Citizen, the Conservative leading paper of Ottawa, editorially admits that one of the Conservative candidates has little chance and its editorial comments this morning contain the following reference to the local contest:

"Bisaillon is well in the lead," Mr. Bickerdike is out of the Conservative nomination and Mr. Champagne is the other. Hurtubise, French candidate running against Sir Henri Belcourt, Mr. Champagne's friends are greatly annoyed over the abandonment of their candidate by the Citizen.

Ex-Conservative Organizer Calls Liberals to Win

Mr. Henry Dalby Thinks They Will Have a Majority of 25 and That the Conservatives Will Not Carry 12 Seats in Quebec

Mr. Henry Dalby, so well known as the chief organizer of the Conservative party during the last two campaigns and formerly managing editor of the Montreal Star in conversation with a Herald representative to-day made some very interesting statements on the political situation:

"How is the Argus getting along?" he was asked.

"The Argus has been very kindly received by both the public and the press and I am getting a good deal of encouragement."

"If it is a fair question, what were your reasons for leaving the Star?"

"My reasons were of a merely personal character which I do not care to discuss just now."

"What do you think of the political outlook?"

"I think it is only a question of how big the Laurier Government's majority will be at the general elections. After that if the Conservatives are prudent and do not show themselves too anxious to get into power; in the ordinary course of things, the tide of public opinion ought to begin to turn in their favour."

"But why has not the tide turned already?"

"First, on account of the undenied and undeniable prosperity of the country during the Laurier regime. Whether the Government has or has not done anything to promote that prosperity is a question that does not trouble the average voter. He is satisfied with the one fact. Perhaps he thinks also that it is something if a Government merely refrains from doing things to interfere with the public prosperity.

"Then the Opposition is weak in men of light and leading. Mr. Borden himself has made a very creditable leader; but he is only one man, after all. If he is called upon to form a cabinet, he will have to go outside his parliamentary following, to get timber which is not either too green or too dry.

"Finally the great popularity of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, not only in Quebec but all over the country is perhaps the most important factor of all."

"What figure do you estimate the Government's majority?"

"I do not like to say to any special source of information but speaking roughly I should say, about twenty-five."

"How will the Province of Quebec go?"

"The respective claims of the two parties are most contradictory; but I think the Conservatives will do well if they take a dozen seats out of the sixty-five."

"What are the issues which in your opinion will chiefly affect the judgment of the electors?"

"Apart from the considerations I have referred to there is practically but one question before the country—the Transcontinental Railway. That old standby, the tariff, is not a live issue, the parties are too near together on the subject. Nor does the question of expenditure worry the average elector in the slightest degree. The only big question left is the Grand Trunk Pacific."

"What is your opinion on that subject?"

"I think that both Sir Wilfrid and Mr. Borden are right in thinking that the country is behind and the people want a second Transcontinental Railway. I think Mr. Borden was right in wanting the Intercolonial to be utilized and in wanting adequate safe-guards for the interests of Canadian ports. I think he was ill-advised in declaring that if he got into power he would expropriate the line. That declaration practically narrows the issue to the simple question whether the road is to be built or not, because no capitalists will put money into an enterprise threatened with Government expropriation unless they happen to be on dangerously friendly terms with the Government. Then I think it is better for the honor of Canada that there should be no talk of repudiation of Parliamentary obligations."

HERE AND ELSEWHERE

THE RETURNING OFFICER—"It's a shame to take the money."

Mr. Cornelius Shields Died Suddenly at the Soo To-Day

A private despatch to The Herald today announced the sudden death of Mr. Cornelius Shields, general manager of the Lake Superior Corporation, shortly after two o'clock this morning.

Mr. Shields had been unwell for some days past at his home at Sault Ste. Marie but there were not any indications that his illness would be attended by fatal results. Death was due to heart failure.

Although Mr. Shields had resided in Canada but six years his important position as vice-president and general manager of the Dominion Coal Company and later as president and managing director of the Consolidated Lake Superior Company made him one of the best known leaders of industry in the Dominion.

His was certainly a most striking personality, and one of the secrets of his marked success was that he was known and beloved by every employe of the companies with which he was connected. A striking instance of this was given by the people of Sydney and Glace Bay, on his retirement from the Dominion Coal Company to join the Consolidated Lake Superior Company. A presentation that had been arranged was made the occasion of a veritable ovation at which almost every family in the town was represented.

Mr. Shields for a number of years was identified with Mr. J. J. Hill, on the Great Northern Railway, and it was at the request of Mr. Jas. Ross, president of the Dominion Coal Company that he decided to come into Canada and give the important industries at Cape Breton the benefit of his experience. It was under his management that the Dominion Coal Company reached the highest mark in its career and throughout his connection with the company his policy received the hearty support of the majority of the directors.

When at the request of a number of Philadelphia capitalists he accepted the presidency and general management of the Consolidated Lake Superior Company, the salary offered him of $30,000 a year, was the highest ever paid by any industrial concern in Canada.

Mr. Shields was connected with the Soo industries too short a time before their collapse to be able to show what results would be obtained by his policy but since the reorganization he was regarded as the one man in Canada who could successfully solve the many complicated problems. His death intervened just at the time when his policy was beginning to show excellent results. After placing the pulp mill, the saw mill, the power house, steamship service, electric car service in successful operation, he had started the big steel rail mill in such a manner that the Government felt justified in placing a duty on rails bought outside the country.

He had implicit confidence in the industries both at the Soo and at Sydney and always claimed that experienced management was the only thing needed for them.

Mr. Shields, who was fifty-four years of age, was right in the prime of life. His death will be a great loss to the industrial world of Canada, and an almost irreparable one to the Soo enterprises.

Hyman Schwartz, sentenced in July last to three months' imprisonment for assault and intimidation in connection with the strike of union workers of the Scottish Rubber Company, was liberated yesterday morning, after having served his full term.

Mr. R. L. Patterson, of Toronto, is in the city, making arrangements for the establishing here of a branch agency of Miller & Richards, type founders, with Mr. George Stewart as manager.

THINK OF the heart-breaking sufferings of the Cons., Mr. Blair, and SPEAK, for the love of Mike!

THE BOMBSHELLS the Cons. are shooting off seem to be equipped with rubber tires to keep down the noise.

AS LONG as the Baltic fleet is at sea, Russia, as a matter of precaution, should keep a large stock of apologies on hand.

GOOD TOBACCO is said to be scarce in Ontario, but it's not half so scarce there as it is in the Quebec campaign cigars.

SH-H-H-H! Perhaps Mr. Blair is setting it to music and will sing it.

A Promising Crop.

The ice crop will be late this year,
The coal crop's rather light,
The wheat crop got the frost, we hear,
Potatoes have the blight.

The egg crop is a poor one, too,
The fish crop's likewise bad,
These frosts, we state, are not just new,
Although extremely sad.

Cheer up, the vote crop's looking well,
And it is understood
From those with fairy tales to tell
The roorbach crop is good.

THE ONLY CHANCE we see for some Con. candidates to get elected is to announce they have turned Liberal.

ADMIRAL ROJESTVENSKY probably takes a shot at his shadow every night before turning in.

POSSIBLY Russia, after holding its own in such inspiring style against Japan, figured it should have no trouble at all with a little navy like Great Britain's.

CONSERVATIVES seem to be worrying about the tariff, but what would a Conservative be without worry, anyhow?

Couldn't Please Both.

IF THE STAR was only in its old-time form it would have discovered that the man who relieved that bank of $7,000 was the treasurer of a Liberal campaign fund.

Chills and Borden.

In advertising the inducements for the public to attend the Borden meeting in Moncton, N.B., the Moncton Times (Con.) said:

"Two large stoves have been put in and there should be no difficulty in keeping the place perfectly comfortable."

Then the Con. papers have the audacity to jump on us every time we pass out a friendly insinuation that Mr. Borden is the political chill specialist.

The Visionary Crowds.

(Quebec Telegraph.)

The western newspapers have got as far as 7,000 persons who attended the Borden reception. By the time the news is published in Vancouver this number will be increased to every man, woman and child in the city. There is no limit to the campaign liar.

BUSINESS in the stock market is picking up. That is, part of the participants are picking up what the others are dropping.

AS THE STAR is printing old speeches of Blair's, why not regale us with his remarks on the Con. party, made in the campaign of 1900, when he removed the Hon. Geo. E. Foster from the landscape?

IT IS ONLY in a time of trouble like an election that the workingman realizes how many friends he has.

WELL, anyhow it has proved that a Russian fleet can lick something.

THE BATTLE.

The wounded lay in bleeding heaps
Amidst the wreck and dread,
The banners floating in the breeze
Were tinged a gory red,
The ambulances were at hand
To gather up the dead.

The carnage had been fearful there
As shown by wound and stain;
The struggle had been unto death
The victory to gain,
And on the bloody field remained
But heaps of silent slain.

The battlefield was grim with death,
But 'twas a field of fame,
The fury of the struggle roared
Then vanished like a flame—
But spare your tears, the battle was
A modern football game.

THAT Russian admiral will have a highly exciting time if he ever sees a real British torpedo boat headed in his direction.

THE ANGLO-RUSSIAN DIFFICULTY ASSUMES MORE PEACEFUL TONE

Question Will Probably be Referred to International Commission for Settlement—Baltic Fleet Detained at Vigo—British Cabinet Discussed Matter To-day

London, October 28.—The Associated Press is authorized to state that in principle a satisfactory settlement of the Anglo-Russian dispute has been reached. Several details and formalities remain to be arranged, but the proposal to refer the matter to a court of inquiry has been accepted in principle.

Paris, October 28.—Great Britain has offered to submit the Russo-British complications to an international commission, and there is every reason to believe that Russia will accept this arrangement.

St. Petersburg, October 28.—Orders have been telegraphed to Vice-Admiral Rojestvensky to detain at Vigo all the warships which took part in the North Sea incident.

British Cabinet Met To-day.

London, October 28.—The widespread interest in to-day's cabinet meeting was evidenced by the early assembling this morning of crowds in Downing Street. These gatherings soon became so thick that the police were obliged to disperse them into the neighboring Whitehall district.

Premier Balfour was early at work attending to his correspondence and receiving visitors, among whom was Lord Rothschild. The Cabinet meeting broke up shortly before two o'clock the ministers laugning and chatting and being apparently in the happiest frame of mind, thus confirming the belief that the crisis is in a fair way to be dissipated.

The Cabinet to-day considered the Russian proposition to submit the question of individual responsibility to a commission. The details of the constitution of this commission have not yet been quite determined upon, but Russia has expressed her willingness to detach the commander of the second Pacific squadron and such other individual officers as may be found to have been directly concerned in the firing for examination by the commission. By agreeing to abide by the verdict of this commission Russia would undertake to carry out sentences which it may impose and thereby it is believed the separate guarantee of punishment, which is so distasteful to Russia, may be obviated.

Ambassador Benckendorff, after seeing Lord Lansdowne this morning was very hopeful of a satisfactory issue. He will see Lord Lansdowne again today and is still expecting further instructions from St. Petersburg anent the final details. Unless the Cabinet declines to agree to the proposition in principle to which Lord Lansdowne has thus far raised no insurmountable objection, a settlement is expected tonight or to-morrow.

Conference in London.

London, October 28.—Russian Ambassador Benkendorff paid another visit this morning to Foreign Secretary Lansdowne, at the latter's private residence, before half past ten o'clock. The ambassador conveyed to the minister further despatches from the Russian government. The earliness of the call is accounted for by the necessity for placing the Foreign Minister in possession of the latest views of the government at St. Petersburg regarding the North Sea incident, so that Lord Lansdowne would be in a position to communicate to his colleagues at the Cabinet meeting to-day the fullest details regarding the negotiations up to date. The ambassador's stay did not last more than a half hour. Ambassador Cambon again was present and remained with Lord Lansdowne a few minutes after the departure of Count Benckendorff. There are evidences of increasing belief among well informed persons that the dispute between Russia and Great Britain will not lead to serious complication and that an amicable settlement will be reached. Russia, so far, as is known, is showing every disposition to meet the British views, and it is conceded that the delay in replying to the British demands is readily explainable on the ground that the Russian government naturally desires to be placed in possession from its own sources of all details connected with the occurrence.

Subsequently Mr. Balfour and Foreign Secretary Lansdowne had a somewhat prolonged conference. They then proceeded to the meeting of the Cabinet, which was attended by the whole ministry.

Subsequent to their meeting at Lansdowne House Ambassadors Benckendorff and Cambon had a conference at the French embassy and later the statement was issued by the Russian embassy saying it was in constant communication with the British Government, that as a result of these communications the Embassy hoped that there would be a speedy and satisfactory settlement and that the whole aspect of the situation had decidedly improved.

Activity in Naval Circles.

London, October 28.—Admiralty orders have reached Portsmouth to stop the leave of all officers and men and directing that the torpedo boat destroyer flotilla be kept in readiness to proceed wherever ordered.

Gibraltar, October 28.—The British cruisers Lancaster, Suffolk, Hermes, Doris, Endymion and Theseus sailed to the westward this morning. The Hermes is bound for Vigo.

London, October 28.—The first division of the home fleet left the Firth of Forth this morning and is expected to arrive at Isle of Portland to-morrow.

Feeling in St. Petersburg.

St. Petersburg, October 28. — Despite the chauvinistic tone of the Russian press this morning and the wild talk which is being indulged in regarding the possibility of war the Associated Press is in a position to state positvely that the situation has entered upon a distinctively better phase and that the basis of an agreement between the two Governments now appears probable. There is still danger, however, that some untoward incident, in view of the excited state of public opinion in both countries, may participate another crisis. Both the Russian and British Governments are animated by a desire to promptly reach a common ground on which both can stand in order to obtain the fullest light upon the circumstances of the incident, which are left more mysterious than ever by the startling statements made in Admiral Rojestvensky's report.

A palpable solution it is recognized by both sides would be the submission of the affair to an international tribunal, and that steps already have been taken in this direction beyond doubt.

The mere announcement of such a court would have the immediate effect of reducing the dangerous tension in both countries, the proceeding would be dignified whatever the result, and each country would be bound by the weight of the world's public opinion to accept the findings and act accordingly.

If it is demonstrated that Rojestvensky acted without justification, Russia will probably punish him. If it is established that torpedo boats attacked the squadron under the cover of the British fleet or from the shelter of British ports or waters, then Great Britain will be compelled to offer the most humble apologies and make the fullest reparation.

Just how the details of the commission are to be worked out will be determined so soon as the general basis is reached. It is almost certain that two simultaneous inquiries will be held by the British at Hull and the Russians at Vigo, each with representatives of the other present. The results of both inquiries will be submitted to an international commission.

Orders have already been telegraphed to Rojestvensky to detain at Vigo all the warships which took part in the North Sea incident. Rojestvensky's full report is expected to reach St. Petersburg by mail Sunday or Monday.

Almost all the papers discuss the affair in the aspirit of bitterness against Great Britain which is not shared in Foreign Office circles, where the greatest desire to reach an amicable adjustment is manifested.

Germany May not Take Action.

Berlin, October 28.—The German Government is not disposed to take up the case of the German fishing vessel Sonntag, which was fired on October 21 off Horn's Reef by Russian warships, unless the owner asks for an indemnity. The Foreign Office, although without confirmation of the report, does not consider it improbable that the vessel was fired on. Yet as no damage was done and no complaint has been lodged by her commander, Germany will avoid becoming involved in the Anglo-Russian controversy.

Persons having close relations with the Foreign Office still believe that it will be amicably settled. They regard the assemblage of the British fleet as designed for use only at the last extremity. It is believed Great Britain will allow Russia time to find a way out of the present situation in a manner satisfactory to Great Britain.

What One Reader Thinks

Editor The Herald:

Sir,—If you will permit me, I would like to say a word or two in regard to your paper. I have had The Herald in my home until it has now become a part of it. I enjoy nothing better in the evening than reading it. I find it bright and interesting. As for the "Sieve," in my opinion it beats everything for bringing on that "Smile that won't come off." You speak the truth when you say The Herald reaches everybody. I have put advertisements in it, and in a few hours have had answers. Wishing The Herald a long life.

West End Rivalled Demonstration of Monday Night in Favor of Laurier

Premier in His Happiest Mood at Two Great Meetings for L. A. Rivet and Camille Piche—Member for Hochelaga Achieves Marked Personal Triumph—Senator Kerr Brings Promise of Liberal Majority From Ontario.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who has worn ever since he came into the Province of Quebec the signs of the great strain entailed upon him by the labors of his extraordinary and devoted campaign, yesterday apepared before the electorate of the west end of the Montreal urban district, as care-free, as vivacious, as thoroughly "en rapport" with his great audiences as ever he was in the brave days of old.

The effects of a day's comparative rest in Montreal, and of the marked advance towards a sweeping Liberal victory made during nomination day, were strikingly apparent. The Premier's face was radiant; his delivery was crisp, rapid, enthusiastic; his handling of the few Conseratives who raised their voices in the crowd was masterly—so masterly that they were completely put out of business after the first encounter.

And his audiences rose to him. At the St. Henri Town Hall he had probably close upon four thousand hearers. It is difficult to estimate a body of standing men, packed as tight as they can be packed on floor, on stairs, on platforms and on window sills. Even on the speakers' platform, the only persons who had room to sit down were the chairman, the Liberal candidate, Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the press. The floor held simply a solid mass of male electors of the division, packed too tight to surge, but not too tight to cheer.

A GREAT DEMONSTRATION.

The evening was marked by an effort on the part of the western constituencies to outdo. If by themselves, the display made by the whole city on Monday night, which was very nearly successful. The procession lacked the carriages and dignitaries of Monday night, but it made up for that in picturesqueness, in illumination, in the demonstrativeness of the great heart of the people. The main streets were profusely decorated and illuminated, both in Hochelaga and in St. Mary's. Outside the St. Henry Town Hall a vast crowd gathered and awaited the arrival of their leader, and their popular candidate. The massive stone front of the church opposite was ever and anon lighted up by the glow of bombs and rockets, and the flame of colored fires. Many of them drifted towards the church itself, and cascades of harmless fire rolled down its pediments and broke into glittering foam upon its cornices, while their uncanny light illumined thousands of upturned faces of shouting, cheering citizens. Hundreds were left outside, unable to gain admittance, when the fortunate ones had succeeded in fighting their way into the hall, and when the cheering inside came out in greater volume than usual, it was answeed by a roar from the surrounding crowd.

A TRIBUTE TO MR. RIVET.

At St. Henri it was more than a Laurier demonstration: it was a great personal triumph for Mr. L. A. Rivet, the member for the division, who, in spite of his extreme youth, has made his mark as probably the best French-Canadian Liberal speaker out of Cabinet rank in the district of Montreal. Mr. Rivet was called for by the meeting in tones that could not be misunderstood or denied. They called on him in spite of the fact that Sir Wilfrid Laurier was on the platform and had not yet spoken—rather, perhaps, because of that fact, and because they wished to show the great leader what a hold this young man had on their esteem, and what he could do to justify it—in spite, too, of the fact that they had already listened to a twelve-minute speech from Senator Kerr in a language that was strange to a great number of them, and that they knew Sir Wilfrid was not with them for the whole evening. And when Mr. Rivet arose he was received with an acclamation and a subsequent silence that spoke volumes for the power of his eloquence over the electors of his constituency.

Louis Alfred Adhemar Rivet is a young man (scarcely thirty-one) of an exceptionally good platform presence. He is handsome without being self-conscious, and graceful without posing. His voice and manner are those of the best type of French-Canadian oratory, smooth, easy and well rounded. He speaks with great deliberation, and in a voice that is low in tone but very far-reaching.

Some weeks ago, said Mr. Rivet, he had made a promise to the electors of his division,—not an ordinary electoral promise, for he then expected to be able to redeem it before the elections were over. To-day he stood before them to redeem the promise he had made, as he had, he hoped and believed, redeemed all his promises and would continue to redeem them. He had promised that he would bring the great leader of the Liberal party, himself among them, to expound to them the principles of which that party stood and to see for himself the loyalty of his followers in the great division of Hochelaga.

THEY REMEMBER SIR WILFRID'S RECORD.

"The people of St. Henri have good memories. They remember, and the people of the whole county of Hochelaga remembers, that about eight years ago Sir Wilfrid Laurier came before the Canadian people and promised them certain things. He said to them 'you are oppressed under a weight of taxation that for the benefit of a small group of manufacturers is rendering life a burden to the mechanic, the agriculturist, the workingman of all classes. If you will confide to me the reins of power I will lift that burden from your shoulders. You are torn by dissensions of race and of religion, your government is powerless because these dissensions are paralyzing its efforts. If you will give me the reins of power I will put an end to these dissensions that are ruining Canada; I will give you peace and harmony between all races and all classes. The name of Canada is disgraced by the scandals that have darkened the career of the Conservative Government of Canada. If you will elect me to power I will give you an honest government that will enable you to hold up your head among the nations of the world.' And the people of St. Henri and Hochelaga know to-day that Sir Wilfrid Laurier has kept those promises to the uttermost. (Cheers), that he has re-established peace and concord, that he has given prosperity to the nation, that he has given us an honest government, and they are grateful to Sir Wilfrid Laurier for these things."

Mr. Rivet then went on to declare his allegiance to the policy and person of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and to express the firm belief, that in spite of certain regrettable defections, the county of Hochelaga would remain faithful to the cause of Liberalism. He concluded his remarks amid tremendous cheering.

SIR WILFRID IN BRILLIANT FORM

Sir Wilfrid Laurier then rose, amid the thunders of applause and shouting that greeted him lasted for fully two minutes. The whole audience removed its headgear and listened to the Premier bareheaded. Sir Wilfrid commenced by expressing his regret at not having been able to come more often among his followers of the patriotic city of St. Henri. The reception they had accorded him that evening made him feel very much at home, as much at home indeed, as amongst his own electors of the St. Rock Division of Quebec. He well remembered the time when he first came to Montreal as a law student, and the close connection that then existed between that noble pillar of the Liberal cause, the great Sir Antoine Aime Dorion, and the people of this same locality, albeit then known under another name. Sir Antoine's struggles had been many and strenuous, and the object of them had always been purity of administration. The Conservative party in its long years of power had been time and again proven guilty of the most flagrant and scandalous corruption. To-day after eight years of power the worst enemies of the Laurier Goverhment could not point to a single serious wrong-doing of a kind to raise the blush to the most sensitive brow. They might perhaps be able to point to some small mistakes of administration. He did not pretend that the government of which he had the honor to be the chief, was an infallible government. Heaven knew that they had made earnest enough efforts to find out something that could be used as a scandal against the government. Detectives had penetrated into their secret councils in the hope of unearthing something shady; spies had dogged the footsteps of government members, every method had been employed, and what had come of it all?

"They say to you, 'Wait, we have a bombshell. We are going to explode something before the elections that will put the Liberal party completely out of business.' We say in reply, 'Well, what is your bombshell? What is your scandal? Tell us what it is and do not talk so much about it vaguely.' And what do they reply? They say, 'O, but we cannot. (Laughter.) We do not know what it is yet. You must wait. Only open your mouth and shut your eyes, and be very sure that something particularly dirty will drop in.' (Renewed laughter.) Well, gentlemen, we have waited, from day to day, right up to nomination day. And we will go on waiting till election. Nothing has dropped and nothing will drop. (Applause.) And I will tell you why. It is because there are no scandals in the Liberal administration."

PLAYING ON HIS AUDIENCE.

The leader then proceded to quote some figures of the trade of Canada under the Conservative and Liberal regimes. An ill-advised Conservative group in one corner of the hall, having the temerity to applaud the showing of increase made under the Conservative regime, Sir Wilfrid demolished them with a few apt words of genial sarcasm. In concluding his address, every point of which told on the most alert and responsive audience that has followed any political argument during the campaign, Sir Wilfrid said: "I am not here before you merely as representing the Province of Quebec, I have been entrusted with the headship of the Government of Canada, and I would not forget, for one moment that I represent as well Ontario, Nova Scotia, Manitoba, all the provinces of this great Dominion. I will not appeal to any sentiment of race among you; yet I cannot believe that it is in any way dishonoring either to be a French-Canadian or to be governed by a French-Canadian. (Loud and continued applause.) However, I would not have you vote for me because of my birth, but simply because of my record and my acts.

"I ask you to put aside in this campaign all thought of small personal considerations, all thought of wounded personal vanity and injured pride, and to support my young friend, Mr. Rivet, who has represented you so brilliantly for the past year, who is the regular choice of the party convention in your county, who is in every way worthy of your suffrages, and who is therefore my man in Hochelaga."

The St. Henri meeting, which was presided over by Hon. Dr. Lanctot, was addressed earlier in the evening by Senator Kerr, of Toronto, who made a vigorous but brief English speech, conveying the message that the province of Ontario had learnt the worth and greatness of the French-Canadian leader and would send to his support on November 3 a majority of the representation of its counties.

After the departure of Sir Wilfrid, Hon. J. P. B. Casgrain made a brief and telling speech.

THE ST. MARY'S DEMONSTRATION

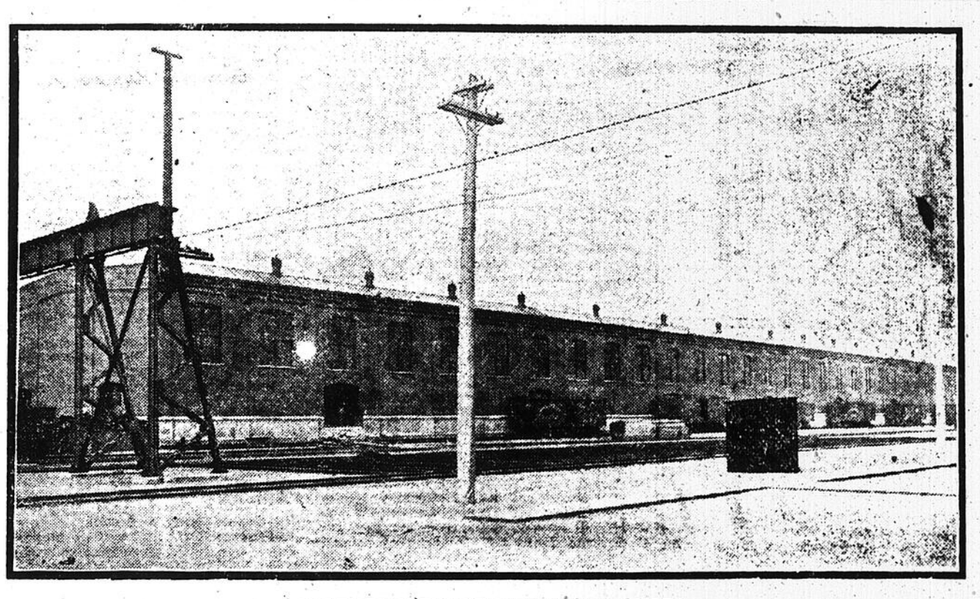

The other meeting of last evening was fully as enthusiastic, if not quite so large, owing to available space, as that at St. Henri. It was held at the Hall Ste. Brigide, belonging to the Oblate Fathers, in St. Mary's, the division of Mr. Camille Piche, the popular Liberal organizer. Not much less than 4,000 persons were present, Mr. J. N. Picotte occupying the chair.

Mr. Piche was the first speaker and received a tremendous ovation. His address was extremely effective and was followed by a charming incident, in the presentation of a magnificent bouquet of roses and chrysanthemums by two fair young French-Canadians, Mlle. Aurore Lapointe and Mlle. Lucienne Archambault.

Hon. Lomer Gouin, Mr. J. L. Gauthier, and Mr. Jeremie Decaire followed. Mr. Decaire had a delightful story concerning the so-called "independent" candidate, Mr. Coupal, of Napierville. Mr. Coupal was asked to define his policy. "Are you for the protection of Mr. Borden, of Mr. Monk, or of Mr. Tarte? For two or three different kinds of Conservative protection." But Mr. Coupal was not to be thus caught. "I am not for any of those people," he replied, "I am for myself, all myself. I am in favor of protecting my deposit."

Sir Wilfrid Laurier arrived here shortly before ten o'clock. He was in brilliant spirits, and in the course of his speech paid a glowing tribute to the character of Mr. Piche. Hon. Raymond Prefontaine and Dr. Lacombe, M.L.A., also spoke.

COMMITTEE PAYS TO AVOID ACTION

Fire Committee Has More Trouble Over the New Central Station.

The new central fire station on Youville square was up for discussion at the Fire and Light Committee meeting yesterday afternoon.

The committee had requested Building Inspector Chausse to see if the station were up to requirements, and that official reported that in a large number of instances the specifications had not been followed. Mr. Perrault, the architect of the building, and Mr. Leclaire, the contractor, were both present. On account of the charge that the specifications had not been complied with, the committee had refused to pay the architects and contractors in full for their work.

The committee and Mr. Perrault were busily arranging their differences when the fact leaked out that Mr. Leclaire had taken an action against the city for the payment for his work. This was quite a surpise to the committee.

Ald. Robetson—"If that is so, Leclaire is taking a long road to get his money. I don't see that there should be any more discussion if an action has been taken. We must not prejudice the city's case."

Mr. Leclaire said that he had endeavored to give the city more than its money's worth, and yet the committee had refused to pay him. The only thing he could do was to enter a suit in the courts.

Ald. Robertson—"If Mr. Leclaire is so generous about his contracts, he might have tried to settle this without rushing to the courts. It would have been better to call on me before going to a lawyer."

Ald. Proulx thought that the city should arrange the action. He suggested that they should divide on the costs, which would be about $30.

Mr. Leclaire agreed to withdraw his action if the city would pay half the costs. The committee thought that this was the best way out of the difficulty.

In the end the differences about the station were arranged satisfactorily, the architects agreeing to make good anything that had been omitted.

Supply Officer Beaulieu reported that fifteen new horses were needed by the department, to repiace the animals which had been turned over to the Incineration Department as unfit for the fire brigade. At present there were 123 horses on active duty, five sick and four spare, making a total of 132. The Finance Committee will be asked for money for the new horses.

Boiler Inspector Champagne reported that the new Waterous fine engine was quite satisfactory. Instead of only pumping a thousand gallons a minute, as required in the specifications, it was able to pump 1,200 gallons of water.

SUICIDE HAS BEEN IDENTIFIED

Was Son of Ferdinand Bray, of Providence—He Was Mentally Unbalanced.

The young man known as John Whitefield, who shot himself yesterday morning after attempting to rob and murder Mr. David Drysdale, has been identified as A. S. Bray, son of Ferdinand Bray, of Providence, R.I. Mr. Drysdale received a telegram this morning from Mr. Bray, establishing the young man's identity, and stating that the father would reach Montreal this evening.

The case was dismissed by Coroner MacMahon to-day as being manifestly one of suicide. Speaking of the affair, the Coroner remarked that in his opinion, based on the facts which have been brought to light concerning Bray's life previous to the shooting, the unfortunate boy was suffering from mental derangement.

This is substantiated by the evidence of Mrs. T. Brown, of 30 Victoria Street, at whose house Bray has boarded ever since coming to the city ten months ago. Mrs. Brown describes the young fellow as unnaturally reticent adn unsociable, cultivating no friendships, and spending much time in his room engaged in reading. Judging from his little library, his tastes in literature were somewhat morbid.

Some two weeks after admitting him to her house, Mrs. Brown found under the mattress of Bray's bed a notebook containing a diary of his life. In this the boy spoke of his mother in affectionate terms, and referred to many incidents in his past career. He had once been engaged on the Observer, Pawtucket, R.I., and gave as his reason for leaving home the fear that he would be arrested for the theft of a sum of money to which he confessed. It was a matetr of wonder to Mr. and Mrs. Brown where Bray got his money, as he was prompt in paying his board, although receiving only $6 per week for his work. Since his discharge from Mr. Drysdale's employ, two weeks ago, he had not been working, but spent all his time reading.

In Bray's room was found about $50 worth of hardware, which Mr. Drysdale identified as belonging to him.

The employer states that Bray's discharge was due to his utter incompetence as a clerk. Especially of late, the young fellow had been making inexcusable mistakes, which seems rather to confirm the theory that his mind was unbalanced.

ONE OFFICER, TWO CONSTABLES SUSPENDED FROM FORCE FOR UNBECOMING CONDUCT

Three members of the city police force have been suspended by Chief Legault for conduct unbecoming officers of the law, and it is practically certain that their dismissal will follow. Such was the sensational information given out at headquarters this morning and confirmed by Ald. A. J. H. St. Denis, chairman of the Police Committee.

The names of the men in disgrace are Capt. Bellefleur, of No. 2 district; Constable John Collins, of No. 9 district, and Constable James Punch.

The suspension of Captain Bellefleur was the result of a deposition received by Chief Legault yesterday afternoon. This deposition, which is signed by a woman, accuses Captain Bellefleur of unbecoming conduct towards her when she called at the police station to see her husband, who was locked up on a small charge. The statements in the deposition were so strong that Chief Legault had no alternative but to suspend the officer until the Police Committee meets next month.

The suspension of Constable Collins was brought about, as the result of even more sensational charges than those made against Captain Bellefleur. What these accusations amount to has not been made public, as both Chief Legault and Ald. St. Denis are anxious to hush the matter up as far as possible. The only charge against Constable Punch is that he was seen intoxicated on the street. While Punch was not on duty at the time, the authorities feel that it is not correct for a policemen ever to be in such a condition.

Chief Legault did not care to discuss the situation, but he felt perfectly convinced that the suspension of the three men was justified.

"It is impossible for me to give any details at present," remarked Chief Legault this morning. "But you may be sure that Captain Bellefleur and the other two have not been suspended for good conduct. For the sake of the reputation of the force, we have to keep a constant watch on our men. It is impossible for me to reinstate any of these men after what I know."

Ald. St. Denis, chairman of the Police Committee, returned to town this morning and had an interview with Chief Legault at noon. Afterwards Ald. St. Denis expressed the opinion that there was little chance of reinstating any of the three suspended policemen.

"I am very sorry for Captain Bellefleur," remarked Ald. St. Denis. "I cannot form any opinion as yet, but I think he has gone too far. The evidence in the deposition is certainly very strong. We have got to have our police force respected by citizens, and if police officers misbehave they must be dismissed."

With the announcement of the suspension of Captain Bellefleur, came the order that Captain Bourgeois had been transferred from No. 12 to No. 2 district, and that Captain Berlau was transferred from No. 1 to No. 12 district. Lieut. Hebert is to be acting captain of No. 1 district; Lieut. Poulin, who has been doing patrol duty in No. 1 district will do desk duty in place of Lieut. Hebert, and Lieut. Murphy will be transferred from No. 6 to No. 1 district to do patrol duty in place of Lieut. Poulin.

These changes are only temporary and will only continue until the next meeting of the Police Committee. It is possible that a meeting will be held in about ten days to dispose of these cases of suspension.

THE JAPANESE ARE BECOMING ACTIVE

Success for Kuroki—Stoessel Bids Czar Farewell Forever.

Gen. Kuroki's headquarters in the field, via Fusan, Oct. 28.—The Japanese gave a stirring exhibition of sharp and determined fighting yesterday. They drove the Russians from a high hill ten miles east of the railroad in Gen. Kuroki's front, which is important strategically as a post of observation and was the only point south of the Shakhe river which the Russians held. About a regiment of Russians were entrenched there with five machine guns.

The Japanese rushed the Russian trenches, shot many Russians as they were running down the hillside and captured two machine guns. The Japanese had twenty men killed and eighty wounded. The Russians left thirty dead on the field. There was hand-to-hand fighting when the trenches were taken. The Russians retired across the river. When the Japanese flag was raised over a tower surmounting the hill the Russian batteries showered shrapnel on it for an hour, but without result.

Stoessel's Farewell.

Shanghai, Oct. 28.—A private letter from Port Arthur, dated Oct. 21, received here to-day says:—"General Stoessel wired the Russian Emperor and court recently:—'I bid you all good-bye forever. Port Arthur is my grave.'"

General Stoessel has instilled the garrison of the beleaguered fortress with the spirit that to court a glorious death is preferable to capitulation.

"The Japanese shells are inflicting great damage to the Russian fleet in the harbor and to the fortifications. The arsenal with its contents of ammunition and small arms has been destroyed and preparations are being made for the last deadly struggle at close quarters. The water supply having been cut off, wells are being sunk. Provisions are scarce. Only tinned meats being left, the soldiers hold gala feasts on horses killed by the shells.

Disastrous Fire in New York Harbor---Loss Over $300,000

Four Ocean-Going Steamships Badly Damaged—Policeman Lost His Life—Destroyed Piers Largest in the Harbor.

New York, October 28.—Fire, believed to have been of incendiary origin, swept over the piers, warehouses and shipping at the Bush Terminal Company's stores, South Brooklyn, early to-day. The loss is estimated at more than $300,000. One life, that of a policeman, is known to have been lost and other dead may be found later. A fireman was badly injured.

Four fine ocean-going steamships were badly damaged, having been ablaze from bow to stern, and hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of cotton, hemp and the general cargo that the China ships bring in were partially destroyed. After a battle of more than three hours by the entire Brooklyn department, the flames were pronounced under control. At first the firemen could make no headway. Fanned by a strong breeze, the smoke from the burning heap prevented the men from approaching one section of the fire, while the blaze in the burning section, and in the holds of the steamships could not be affected by the water.

The known dead—Policeman Patrick Cushing, of Brooklyn, caught at the end of a pier.

Injured:—Benjamin Walsh, fireman, skull fractured in a fall down a hatchway. Walsh lay in the hold of the Citta di Palermo for two hours, while the fire on the vessel was all around him.

As to the fate of the crews of the ships nothing definite is known. The vessels were the American, Arizonan and Nebraskan of the American and Hawaiian Steamship Company, and the Citta di Palermo, of the Italian line. They were warped tightly to the pier and tugs could not get alongside owing to the intense heat.

That the fire is of incendiary nature is the belief of two private detectives and two watchmen. Last Tuesday morning fire in one of the many piers of the company also started mysteriously and destroyed $50,000 to $75,000 worth of cotton. Much feeling is said to exist between the Terminal Company and some of the residents of the neighborhood because the company desires to close certain South Brooklyn streets. After Tuesday's fire the company employed private detectives.

A few minutes after midnight this morning the detectives and watchman were half way out on pier 7, 1,340 feet long and 140 feet wide. Alongside this pier lay the American-Hawaiian ships. Between them were lighters laden with cotton and hemp. On the pier was ton upon ton of general merchandise from China and the Pacific.

From the lighter Victor, according to the men, almost on the strike of midnight, came a shaft of fire which shot between them and the end of the pier, and almost simultaneously between them and the shore came another bolt. In an instant, the men declare, the flames had spread apparently in every direction. Escape was cut off, and within five minutes after giving the alarm to the watchman and crews aboard the different vessels, the watchmen jumped into the water from which they were pulled soon afterwards by the firemen.

The spread of the fire was described to be astounding. In ten minutes the long pier was blazing from end to end, and the flames had caught the Nebraskan. The calls of the men aboard were heard, but they could not be reached from land, for the flames arching over the high steamship fell upon the lighter Adelaide and over to pier No. 6, where were stored thousands of bales of cotton and hemp. Its course there was quick, and once inside the flames could not be reached by water.

It was then that the first steps were taken to save the rest of the piers, with millions of dollars of shipping and cargoes. The Citta di Palermo, discharging at pier No. 6, was the best safeguard, for the great iron sides of the ship acted as a guardian wall to the flames, and prevented their spread. The steamship was at once abandoned to her fate.

An unknown fireman jumped into the water. His fate is unknown.

DETECTIVES GUARD GYPSIES ALL NIGHT

There were extensive preparations for warfare at Stillwell's Hotel last night. All the livelong night a force of detectives from the Thiel service encamped upon the premises, ready to resist any attempt that might be made to seize the persons of those whom they were guarding, without due authority of law. Most of the night they enjoyed the company of Mr. Robert Greenshields, counsel for the Tovitches, Mitchells and other persons of alleged gypsy extraction who are carrying on a legal dispute with Dr. Bryce and the Dominion Immigration authorities. Upstairs the Trovitches, Mitchells, etc., slumbered a troubled slumber, broken with horrid visions of police and Dr. Bryce and deportation. It was their first night of freedom under the protecting shelter of a habeas corpus writ, after ten days of imprisonment on the Ionian.

At earliest dawn the Ionian sailed for the old land, and the watchers breathed more easily. At any rate no attempt could now be made to commit the gypsies to the custody of the Ionian's captain until she came back.

There had been prospects of such an attempt all night. Mr. Percy Ryan, who is understood to be acting for sundry departments of the Dominion Government, and Dr. Bryce of Quebec, the Dominion Immigration Inspector, turned up during the night, accompanied by a force of police. Two of the guardians of the peace contrived to slip upstairs by a side entrance, but were detected in the act by a member of the detective service and met by a stronger force than their own when they reached the head of the stairs, so the Tovitches, Mitchells et al., slept on undisturbed. There were colloquies and dissensions between the police, the lawyers, the detectives and the Inspector of Immigration, but they ended in nothing.

ROBBERS GET FURS WORTH $20,000

When the employes of Desjardin & Co. entered the place of business on St. Catherine Street yesterday morning they found it had been visited by shopbreakers and robbed of furs estimated to be worth about $20,000. Entrance was gained at the rear of the building, and those engaged in the work seem to have had the affair carefully planned, as they seemed to know just where to go for the goods without any preliminary rummaging of the premises. They seem to have been scared while leaving, however, furs to the value of $5,000 being afterwards found in the yard.

The detective force are busy in the effort to trace the thieves, but so far the latter seem to have succeeded in getting clear away with their booty.

It may be added that on the day before the robbery a private detective observed three men hanging about Desjardin & Co.'s store, and subsequently entering the store, and it transpires that these visitors priced some very valuable furs. The officer remembers the faces and general appearance of the men and feels certain they were strangers to Montreal.

LEADING INDEPENDENT PAPER PREDICTS LIBERAL VICTORY

It says in part: "Sir Wilfrid Laurier's prospects in Ontario are now much brighter than in the contest of 1900. The Conservatives have made a less vigorous campaign. Their organization is less thorough. There has been no race cry to rouse prejudice against him. The redistribution, while strikingly fair, as compared with former adjustments of the constituencies in Canada, gives him the advantage. The undoing of the old gerrymander restored the political equilibrium, and in cases where one party had to suffer by the rearrangement of the boundaries care was taken that it was not the Liberals that were adversely affected. This Province, more perhaps than any part of the Dominion, has shared the abounding prosperity of the past decade, and it has developed a spirit of content and satisfaction with existing conditions that may be a strong factor in winning it to Liberalism. Sir Wilfrid Laurier has pleaded, almost pathetically, for the return of Ontario to the fold of his party.

In the sister Province it is impossible to find any tangible evidence to justify the claims of the Conservatives that they will make large gains. It is perhaps part of an organizer's duty to be optimistic, so that we must not be astonished at the predictions of Mr. Pelletier and Mr. Hackett of twenty and twenty-two Conservative seats in Quebec. We must, however, take such estimates as being intended mainly for publication, not for the more serious work of party leaders who calculate probable results.

In the Maritime Provinces the Government stands to lose some seats, but not as many as should be gained in Ontario. Mr. Blair's retirement from the Ministry has thrown the politics of New Brunswick into confusion. This may result in a gain of three or four seats for Mr. Borden. Local jealousies may cause the Liberals to lose one or possibly two seats in Prince Eward Island. Leaving out the possibility of State ownership swaying the public mind, the twenty-seven seats now held by the Government, by reason of the reduction in the number of seats and Conservative gains, might be cut down to seventeen or eighteen, which would give the Conservatives sixteen or seventeen against the twelve now held. This seems to be the best, and the very best, that Mr. Borden can expect from his own end of the country.

On the face of it, as it stands now, the campaign seems to be in favor of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. He should get approximately 128 seats to 86 for Mr. Borden. This calculation divides the representation as follows:

	Lib.	Cons.
Quebec	53	12
Ontario	43	43
Nova Scotia	11	7
New Brunswick	5	8
Prince Edward Island	2	2
Manitoba	3	7
Northwest Territories	7	3
British Columbia	3	4
Yukon	1	0
	128	86

This is not a prediction to which we would care to be held rigidly. But it is to our mind, with what knowledge we can get of the conditions that exist in the different Provinces, a forecast that should be found to be close to the actual result of the balloting. It is quite possible that the volume of support attracted to Mr. Borden by his policy of Government ownership may be vastly greater than appears on the surface. In 1878 there was little sign of the great popularity of the National Policy until the votes were counted. History may repeat itself in the present contest. The Conservative party has not conducted a campaign that compares with that of 1878 in vigor and ability.

MR. J. J. HEAD IS DEAD.

Mr. John J. Head, who was one of the best-known residents of Point St. Charles, died to-day at 179A Wellington Street. He succumbed to an attack of typhoid fever, at the age of fifty years. The late Mr. Head, who was a son of Mr. William Head, was at one time in the butcher business, but lattery was connected with the Elder-Dempster Co.'s steamship line.

The late gentleman was a prominent Liberal and well-known in the community. His brother is now a candidate in the Liberal interest for Marquette. The funeral will take place tomorrow at 2.30 o'clock.

PERPETUAL FRANCHISE WAS VOTED DOWN

The most bitter contest that has ever been waged in any of the towns around Montreal over the passing of a by-law authorizing an exclusive railway franchise was fought out in Maisonneuve yesterday between the Montreal Street Railway and the Terminal Railway.

The Town Council of Maisonneuve, by a small majority had passed a by-law which gave an exclusive franchise to the Montreal Street Railway Co. A few years ago the same Council had granted a franchise to the Terminal Company.

Before this by-law could go into force it had to be ratified by the property-holders of the town. The vote was taken yesterday and throughout the day both companies left nothing undone to secure a victory.

Mr. M. J. Mullarkey, the general manager of the Terminal Railway, was in the town throughout the day and was assisted by a committee of citizens in getting the property-holders out to vote.

ROJESTVENSKY'S EXPLANATION HAS INCREASED BRITISH IRRITATION

Russian Government Has Accepted Report in Good Faith While British Press Derides it—British Cabinet Meets To-Day to Decide Issue of War or Peace.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 28.—The naval general staff publishes the following two despatches from Vice-Admiral Rojestvensky, in regard to the North Sea affair:

"Teh North Sea incident was caused by two torpedo boats advancing to attack without lights under cover of darkness against the vessel leading the detachment. When the detachment turned on its searchlights and opened fire the presence of several small steamboats resembling steam fishing boats was discovered. The detachment endeavored to spare these, and ceased firing as soon as the torpedo boats were out of sight.

"The English press is indignant because a torpedo boat left by the detachment on the spot until morning, did not aid the victims. Now, there was not a single torpedo boat near the detachment and none was left behind; consequently the vessel remaining near the small steamboats was that torpedo boat which was not sunk, but only damaged. The detachment did not aid the little steamboats because we suspected them of complicity on account of their obstinately cutting into the order of the position of our vessels. Several of them showed no lights and others only very late."

"Having met several hundred fishing boats, the squadron showed them every consideration except when they, in company with foreign torpedo boats of which one disappeared, while the other, according to the fishers own evidence, remained among them until morning. They supposed it was a Russian, and were indignant because it did not aid the victims; but it was a foreigner and remained until morning, seeking the other torpedo boat, its consort, either to repair damage or through fear of betraying itself to those who were not its accomplices. If there were also on the spot fishermen imprudently dragged into the enterprise, I beg in the name of the whole squadron to express my sincere regret to the unfortunate victims of circumstances under which no warship even in time of deep peace, could have acted otherwise."

BRITISH PATIENCE NEARLY EXHAUSTED.

London, October 28.—The British public does not know what is more probable a peaceful settlement of the North Sea affair or war with Russia. The impression is general that the same state of uncertainty prevails in the minds of members of the British Government. Nothing comes from these officials to indicate that they feel at all sure that Russia will make satisfactory amends for the great wrong her warships have done Great Britain, and in this case it is feared the old rule, that no news is good news, does not apply. Considerable apprehension exists that Russia will justify the action of her admiral and decline to punish him or anybody else. If she takes that attitude, it is held this country will have no alternative but to capture or sink the Baltic fleet. There was a rumor that the British Government set a time limit on its waiting for a favorable reply to its demands. There is no confirmation of this rumor, but it is regarded as not improbable that Russia has been advised that British patience is very near exhausted.

MET WITH RIDICULE.

The publication to-day of a summary of Rojestvensky's report has not lessened the wrath of Great Britain, but rather multiplied it tenfold. This effect is not so much due to the disgust and contempt the report has aroused for its author, as to the expectation that Russia will profess to accept it as a truthful statement and make it the basis of a refusal to render proper atonement. The judgment of the British public on this report is set forth fairly well in the evening newspapers, especially the hapenny publications, which contain such headlines as "Nightmare," "Russian admiral saw strange things," "Jim-Jams," "Mad dog," "Admiral's wonderful vision," "Admiral Vodka's mad dream." It is believed an attempt on the part of Russia to give any importance to this crazy report will be vigorously resented by the British Government.

THE SHIPPING INTERESTS.

The feeling among shipping men amounts almost to a hope that Russia will be a cad to the bitter end and that the British fleets will have to enforce the British demands. The insurance correspondent of the Times impressingly exhibits this feeling. He says: "While it is felt the destruction of the Russian Baltic fleet, which is looked upon as a police operation on our part, rather than one of war has grown into an early possibility, there is not the smallest appearance of alarm. The views of the shipping people of the danger to commerce of the irresponsible Russian warships are so strong that war would be regarded as a lesser evil than the continued existence of a fleet, apparently officered by monomaniacs. There is little doubt that the risks run by British shipping, if we were openly at war with Russia, would be materially less than they will be if the Baltic fleet proceeds on its way. A Russian admiral who can mistake steam fish carriers among trawlers for Japanese torpedo boats is a public danger, whose existence is a ménace to the world's mercantile marine."

The situation is not hopeless, but apparently if Russia yields it will be because she dares not match her Baltic fleet against Great Britain's available naval force.

LONDON TIMES' VIEW.

The Times editorially says: "There is no wish in any quarter to humiliate Russia or to hurt her legitimate susceptibilities more than is absolutely demanded by the interests of justice, but it is no less plain that our people are immovably resolved to obtain justice. They hope to obtain it and will rejoice to obtain it by the voluntary spontaneous act of the Russian Government. They are well aware of the greatness of the power of Russia, and the proportions which a struggle with her notwithstanding her conflict with Japan, must assume, but they cannot suffer any consideration of that kind to turn them aside from the path of honor and right. They owe it to themselves and their sense of justice to press for, and if necessary, exact full redress for the enormous wrong. They will do their duty to the memory of the dead, and the conscience of the living at any hazard, and at any cost.

OPINION IN ST. PETERSBURG.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 28.—In diplomatic circles Rojestvensky's report created the keenest interest. The feeling is the situation demands impartial investigation to determine the facts to the satisfaction of both parties and to the world generally. The mystery is not considered to be cleared up. One of the things particularly pointed out is the fact that Rojestvensky's report was written after he had seen the foreign accounts of the affair. The Admiralty is unable to explain why, after being attacked, he waited four days before reporting, and that he then took pains to reply to the allegations of the press. In some quarters this is regarded as suspicious. Of course the Government accepts the report in perfect good faith, but if an enquiry should prove that the report was prepared to shield himself, the most severe punishment will be meted out to him. If, on the contrary it is proved to be correct, it will place Great Britain in an awkward position. In either event the situation might be rendered more acute and the feeling among the diplomats is that pending a solution of all the questions in doubt the greatest tact and moderation should be observed by the statesmen and newspapers of both countries.

RUSSIAN FLEET MENACES COMMERCE.

London, Oct. 28.—Baron Hayashi, the Japanese minister, after reading Admiral Rojestvensky's report, again reiterated his statement that it was impossible that any Japanese torpedo boat could have been where the Russian Admiral thought them. He declared that Rojestvensky's own statement of indiscriminate firing after such slight investigation, showed that the Russian fleet was likely to menace the safety of all neutral seas, and make international law merely a farce. War between England and Russia, Baron Hayashi frankly admitted, would be greatly to Japan's advantage; yet as a friend of England, he would be sorry to see it come, though such a war could hardly consist of more than one naval engagement, the result of which would be a foregone conclusion.

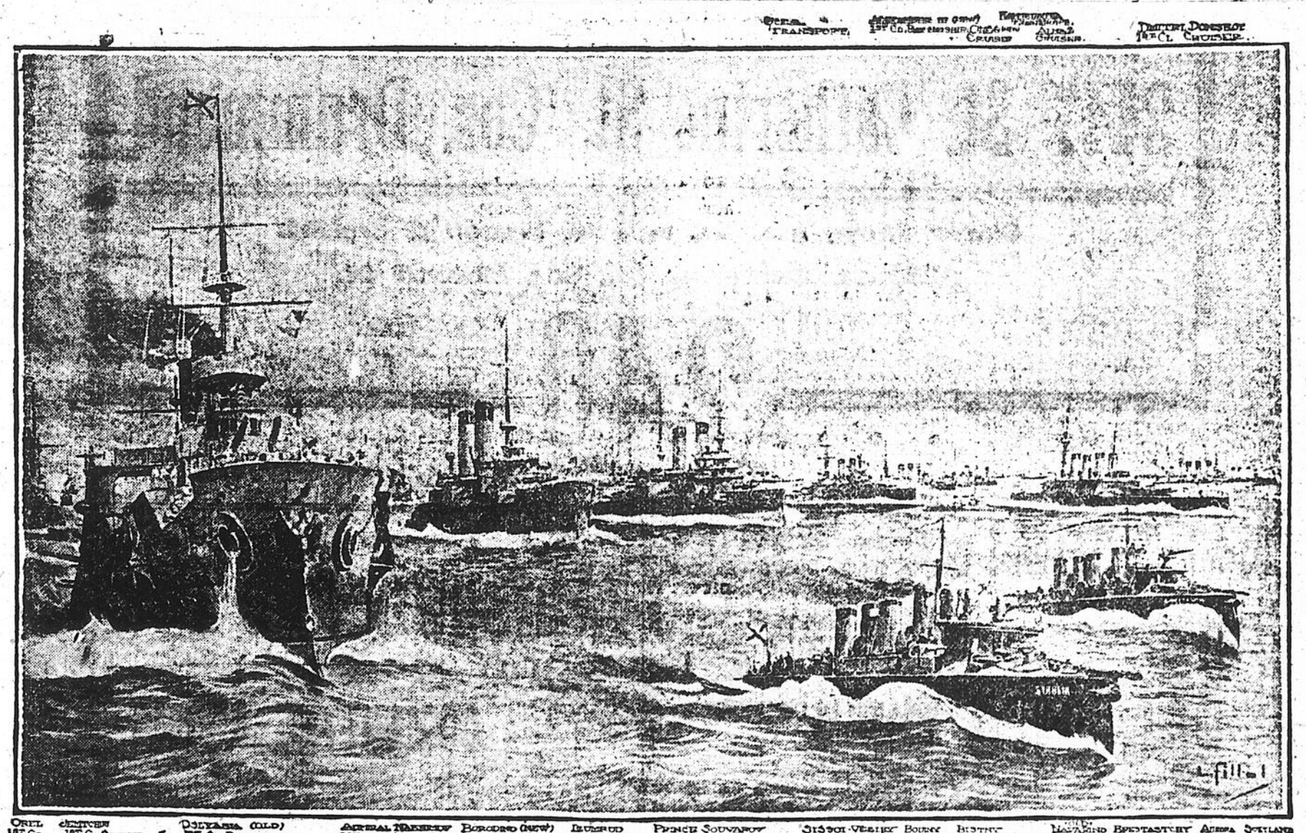

Exactly what method can be taken to investigate Vice-Admiral Rojestvensky's statement does not clearly appear. The Russian embassy here can throw no light upon the alleged presence of torpedo boats in the North Sea; the British Admiralty has no information, and fresh enquiry among the trawlers elicits no new facts. The Russian embassy thinks that a further and more elaborate enquiry is proceeding at Vigo, where the testimony of the officers participating in the affair is being recorded.

NAVAL ACTIVITY CONTINUES.

London, Oct. 28.—Notwithstanding the diplomatic check in consequence of Admiral Rojestvensky's report, it is evident that Great Britain is preparing for the possibility of war. Tremendous activity is reported from all dockyards, where vessels under repair are being made ready for sea under urgent orders fom the Admiralty. At Cardiff it is stated that Admiralty [illegible] coal for Gibraltar, Portsmouth, Malta and other ports, and paying high freights. The Mediterranean fleet is hastening in the direction of Gibraltar, and it is announced that the Channel squadron will leave Gibraltar early this morning, its alleged object being a "sham attack on the Rock." The Home fleet, likewise, is concentrating. In fact, almost the entire British navy is pointing in the direction of the Baltic fleet, a portion of which is expected to sail from Vigo during to-day.

CITY MUST PAY MILITIA'S BILL FOR WHARF STRIKE

Court Decides City Owes $18,500 to Col. Gordon Over Dock Strike.

The Court of Appeal yesterday unanimously found against the city in the suit brought against it by Colonel Gordon, D.O.C., to recover $18,500, expenses of calling out the militia during last year's dock strike.

The case was first brought before Judge Fortin, contrary to the advice of City Attorney Archambault, who said Col. Gordon's bill should be paid. Judge Fortin decided against the city, and the case went to the Court of Appeal, which unanimously confirmed Justice Fortin's decision.

The result of the City Council acting against its attorney's advice has merely saddled it with another heavy bill of costs on top of the acquired debt.

MOUNTAIN LOOK-OUT.

A New Plan Was Submitted This Morning.

The Parks and Ferries Committee will meet to-day to accept plans for the new Mountain Lookout. A plan was received at the City Hall yesterday from Mr. J. A. Marchand, which was admired by many who saw it. Mr. Marchand's plan shows a two-storey terrace, 140 feet long by 14 feet wide, running along the edge of the Mountain. At one end is a pavillion, the ground floor of which is intended for a restaurant, the upper floor for an assembly hall. Stables and other conveniences are attached to the lookout.

THE MENDELSSOHN TRIO.

The concert of the Mendelssohn Trio at Karn Hall on Monday last, assisted by Miss Eva Plouffe and others, was one of the most artistic and enjoyable of the season. The piano used was a Chickering & Sons Concert Grand, from the warehouse of C. W. Lindsay, Limited, 2366 St. Catherine street. — Adv.

WILL NOT ALLOW SMOKING.

City Authorities So Decide in Regard to Proposed Music Hall.

No matter whether the Theatre Francais is turned into a music hall or not, the city authorities will not permit any smoking in the building. The proprietors of the theatre came to the City Hall this morning and asked to have smoking in the building allowed.

Building Inspector Chausse refused the permission, as he considered the danger from fire was too great.

IMPROVING THE SHORE LINE.

St. John, N. B., Oct. 28.—During the past two months the New Brunswick Southern Railway has been given a thorough overhauling, and a marked change in the roadbed is already noticed. When present plans have been carried to completion the old familiar Shore Line will be in a link in an important trunk line from this city to Boston. Next spring the railway will be running trains into the Union depot, and before the year has past connections will be made with the Maine Central and Boston and Maine, via Washington County Railroad, for the Hub. New stock will be purchased, and with their improved roadbed and through trains, the railroad will offer strong inducements to American travel.

Fruit is Nature's Laxative.

Fruit contains certain principles which act like a charm on the liver—and keep the whole system well and strong. But these principles in the fruit juices are too weak to have any marked effect on the internal organs. The value of lies in the secret process by which they are made. The fruit juices are so combined that they have an entirely different effect from fresh fruit. Their action is the action of fruit greatly intensified. They have a marked effect on the liver—toning it up—making it active. "Fruit-a-tives" are, without doubt, the only complete cure for all Stomach, Liver and Kidney Troubles.

Fruit-a-tives

or Fruit Liver Tablets

MR. BLAIR STILL ON RY. COMMISSION

He Was Present To-Day at the Hearing of Two Arguments.

Ottawa, October 28. — (Special.) — Hon. A. G. Blair was in his seat at a public sitting of the Railway Commission yesterday. Though Mr. Blair has been doing work as chairman of the Commission in conference, he has not sat in public since his resignation was tendered a week ago, though the other two commissioners, Dr. Mills and Hon. Mr. Bernier, have heard cases without him. Yesterday, however, Mr. Blair was in his seat between the other two commissioners. The cases heard were arguments against the closing of Station Street in rebuilding the Union Depot at the Toronto Esplanade, and an application of the Canadian Northern for the expropriation of a couple of lots in Fort William.

R. & O. N. COMPANY WIN GOLD MEDAL

Carry Off Grand Prize for Their Transportation Exhibit.

A new feather has been added to Canada's cap by the carrying away of the World's Fair grand prize and gold medal for exhibitions in transportation by the Richelieu and Ontario Navigation Company. The R. and O. had on exhibition in the Transportation Building at St. Louis a magnificent collection of photographs, mounted and framed, and a colored map of the entire St. Lawrence route. In addition to this, the collection contained a raised map of the route in papier mache, showing banks, vessels and every detail. The gem of the collection, however, was the real model of the steamer Kingston, which was exhibited in a plate glass case. So perfect in detail was the model that every electric light on board could be seen burning, and the wheels revolved. In fact, the item was easily the most remarkable in the Transportation Building, and received the compliments of every one who saw it.

PRISONER SAID TO BE SON OF A FRENCH DEPUTY

Chailly Was Remanded Again Awaiting Communication From Paris.

Paul Chailly, who was arrested last week and held on several charges of theft from railway depots and passenger cars, was again brought before Judge Choquet, when remand was granted until October 31, pending a communication from Paris. Accused, who was represented by Mr. St. Jullen, advocate, is of very respectable appearance and is said to be connected with good families in France, his father, is is alleged, being a member of the Chamber of Deputies for the Department of Seine at Oise. It is suggested that prisoner is not entirely responsible for his actions.

PREMIER ROSS MAY MAKE EARLY APPEAL TO PEOPLE

Public Opinion on Government Ownership of Liquor Traffic Tested—Rumored Cabinet Changes.

Toronto, Oct. 28.—(Special.)—It appears to be settled beyond doubt that Premier Ross will, immediately after the Dominion election on November third, appeal to the province on the question of public ownership of the liquor traffic. This would mean abolition of the bars. For some time the Premier has been endeavoring to obtain Mr. G. P. Graham's consent to enter the Cabinet, but he refuses to endorse the temperance legislation platform. The retirement of Hon. Messrs. Gibson, Stratton and Latchford, which is practically assured is said to be due largely to the Premier's decision to adopt advanced temperance legislation as an issue.

WHY APPENDICITIS?

Why is appendicitis so common today?

Because we have got into the pernicious habit of eating too fast.

Dr. Curtis, the great authority on this disease, says: "Appendicitis often follows the eating of a very hasty, or particularly large or indigestible meal."

It is an accepted, scientific truth, which admits of no dispute that if you will only keep your digestive apparatus in good order, you will never suffer from this dread disease, which, at best, means a weakening operation, with long weeks wasted in bed, and big doctor's and surgeon's bills to pay as souvenirs.

Keep your appendix in health by the proper use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, whenever you have laid yourself open to danger by overeating, and upon the least sign of stomach or intestinal trouble, for otherwise, at any time, this dangerous disease may lay you low.

The curative influence of this great medicine is quickly shown in the gentle, soothing effect it has on all inflamed conditions of any part of the digestive tract.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets tone all these parts up to a proper condition of perfect health, and regulate their functions into a proper working state.

They also make away with all the causes of irritation, inflammation or indigestion, by helping to dissolve, digest and assimilate, or put to proper use, all the food which is lying around in odd corners of your digestive apparatus, fermenting, rotting and curdling like so much garbage in a dirty sink.

In these natural and perfectly simple ways, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets restore all sufferers from any form of dyspeptic trouble, to health.

They are safe and reliable. They never fail to relieve and cure, quickly and permanently.

Use them, and you need never worry about your appendix vermiformix.

LIBERAL CANDIDATES WILL CONTEST EVERY RIDING IN THE DOMINION

Nomination Day Produced Few Surprises—Conservatives Failed to Put Up Men in Four Counties—Comparatively Few Independents in the Field.

A fight in every constituency in the Dominion. This appears to be the result of the nominations yesterday, and constitutes a record in elections. While this indicates on the surface a keenly waged contest, indications cannot always be believed. It is more likely that orders were sent out from Conservative headquarters to fight every constituency, lest a Liberal victory should be foreshadowed by numerous elections by acclamation. To mention only a few instances where the Conservative candidates will be hopelessly defeated, forlorn hopes are opposing Sir Wilfrid Laurier in Quebec East, Hon. Charles Fitzpatrick in Quebec county, Sir William Mulock in North York, and Hon. W. S. Fielding in Shelburne-Queen's. On no other theory than the one alluded to can the nomination of Conservatives in several other Quebec seats be understood.

A feature of the nominations is the fact that there are Liberal candidates in every constituency in the Dominion. They have not yet nominated a candidate in the Yukon, but that election is later, and a nomination meeting will be held shortly. The Conservatives have no candidate in the following Quebec ridings: Chicoutimi-Saguenay, Kamouraska and Richelieu. They also failed to put up a man in Brandon, where they are supporting Mr. R. L. Richardson, an Independent Liberal, and in North Middlesex.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. R. Lemieux divide the honr of each contesting two ridings. Sir Wilfrid is a candidate in Quebec East and Wright, and Hon. Mr. Lemieux in Gaspe and Nicolet. They are almost certain to carry the four seats.

In Ontario the nominations passed off quietly. The expected happened in every case, except in West Elgin, where Mr. Jabel Robinson, Ind., the late member, has dropped out. There are but three Independents in the field in Ontario. This marks the low water mark in third party candidates. In former general elections in the province there were always some no-party men to give spice to the contests. In 1896 there were no less than fifty Independents in the field in Ontario. In 1900 there were twelve Independents, and there were seven three-cornered contests.

There are Independents in the field in the following constituencies:—Chicoutimi-Saguenay, Labelle, Kamouraska, Maskinonge, Portneuf, Richlieu, Kingston, Russell, North Middlesex, Cape Breton and Victoria, Digby, Inverness, Richmond, Kent, Brandon, Winnipeg, Strathcona, and in two British Columbia constituencies. It will be noticed that the majority of the third party men are in the smaller provinces.

There were no sensational features about Manitoba and the Northwest Territories. Charles Gregory has entered the lists as farmer's candidate in Strathcona, and has the distinction of being the only farmer's candidate.

Nominations take place in Dauphin, Manitoba, on November 7; in Mackenzie, N.W.T., on November 8; in Yale-Cariboo, B.C., and Kootenay, on November 10; in the Yukon on November 18.

The following is the complete list of official nominations. It is altogether likely that a few candidates will retire before polling day:

THE HERALD

Established 1808.

A TIME TO TALK SHOP.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier doesn't need to be told what to say to a Montreal audience, but, considering that he is to talk to-night to the people of three or four of the weathiest constituencies in all Canada, there is no reason why he should spare the people of these constituencies a review of certain matters which to them are of immediate moment. St. Lawrence division and St. Ann's division came to their senses four years ago. St. Antoine division, long the very stronghold of Conservatism, looks to be coming to its senses this year. But to make assurance doubly sure, there would be no harm in bluntly reminding the electors of that division and the electors of the town of Westmount, who vote in Hochelaga, that they have been, are, and will continue to be the principal beneficiaries of the progressive government Sir Wilfrid Laurier has given this country, and that it is about time they made a becoming acknowledgment of it.

There is no other district of its size in the Dominion whose people have profited so much and so directly by the work of the Laurier Government. They ought to be reminded of it, and shamed, if necessary, into rendering due acknowledgment.

If the Northwest has been filled up by Mr. Sifton's sound development policy, the people of this district have been the largest individual beneficiaries, because they have grown wealthy on the increase of trade.

If the farmers of Canada have been enabled to double and treble their exports of dairy produce by reason of the organization effected under Mr. Fisher's direction, it is the exporters, and the importers, and the manufacturers of Montreal who have reaped the largest individual return.

If the lavish expenditure on canals, on railways, and on the port of Montreal, under Mr. Tarte, Mr. Blair and Mr. Prefontaine, have enabled Canada to do business on the front street, the people in the fine houses on the hillside have been the principal individual beneficiaries.

If Sir William Mulock's reforms in the post-office have facilitated communication within and without Canada, the merchants of Montreal have been the largest individual beneficiaries.

If Mr. Fielding's British preference has done any one thing that is beyond controversy, it has enabled Montreal exporters and importers and shipping men, and railway men, and trade brokers to prosper.

Why not remind these people, in good, set terms, that all these fine new houses which deck the mountain side are so many monuments in brick and stone to the wisdom of the Laurier Government?

Why not remind them of the stagnation into which industry had fallen in Montreal before 1896?

Why not remind them of the state in which the harbor was left for years after its deficiencies had been recognized and its needs urged upon the Government?

Why not ask for a fair business judgment between then and now?

All over this city immense factories have been built during the past four years, sentinels to prosperity under Laurier. Are they not arguments to compel a Liberal vote? Mr. Ames himself has ample leisure to be a candidate because the output of his factory has doubled under Laurier.

So much for what has been. Sir Wilfrid might add a word as to what will be. He might argue, without fear of contradiction, that Montreal stands to benefit, more than any other place of similar area, by the construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific, and the people on the hill most of all.

He has their ear. Let him remind them of how much they are in his debt. That is a language they will not fail to understand. Perhaps by the time he has done he may be in possession of the Conservative Port Arthur.

A SANE FORECAST.

The Toronto News (Independent) thus sizes up the situation:

"On the face of it, as it stands now, the campaign seems to be in favor of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. He should get approximately 128 seats to 86 seats for Mr. Borden. This calculation divides the representation as follows:

	Libs.	Cons.
Quebec	53	12
Ontario	43	43
Nova Scotia	11	7
New Brunswick	5	8
Prince Edward Island	2	2
Manitoba	3	7
Northwest Territories	7	3
British Columbia	3	4
Yukon	1	0
Total	128	86

This is not a prediction to which we would care to be held rigidly. But it is to our mind, with what knowledge we can get of the conditions that exist in the different provinces, a forecast that should be found to be close to the actual result of the ballotting."

Ontario, it will be noticed, is put down as "breaking even." Hon. Mr Hyman, who knows his way about, thinks it may do better than that.

THE WAR GAME.

Whatever the result of the negotiations between London and St. Petersburg the British navy will have enjoyed a more exciting game of chess—or Kriegspiel—than usual. The arrivals here and there of this and that vessel or vessels, of which the cables keep telling us, are all the result of a single pre-arranged word from the headquarters of the Naval Intelligence department at the Admiralty.

It is common knowledge that the Admirals in command of the ne, the Channel, and the Mediterranean fleets, each possess a defined scheme of operations for mutual action in the event of the sudden outbreak of war with this or that power or with a combination of powers. The present crisis has been taken advantage of as an opportunity to test the practical working of the "plan on paper," so far as mobilization at certain points and obeying orders is concerned. The fact that part of the Russian fleet is in the Spanish port of Vigo and part at the French dockyard of Cherbourg adds piquancy to the game, the moves in which would be intensely interesting did we know the key.

That it is still fortunately only "a game" is proved by the fact that the other and most serious step of all has not been taken—the reserves have not been called out.

THE HEBREWS' GRIEVANCE.

The Herald has received a number of communications from representative Jewish citizens protesting in vigorous terms against the implication contained in the talk of a certain political association in this city that there is such a thing as a Jewish vote. The organization in question is known as the Hebrew Conservative Club and the gentlemen who take umbrage at the name and the implication contained in it argue that there is no more justification for a Hebrew political club than there is for a Methodist one, or a Presbyterian one. The desire of all public-spirited members of the Jewish persuasion is to be known as Jews only in regard to religious matters; in all things pertaining to the state they are and wish to be recognized as citizens—acting independently the one of the other, and considering only the interests of the community. Naturally, with such aspirations, they object to any movement tending to create an impression tht there is a collective or corporate vote included within the boundaries of their church organization.

PRESERVE THE PARK.

The aldermen are this afternoon considering designs for a new lookout and cafe on the mountain top. It is to be hoped they themselves will be on the lookout to see that there is not concealed within the plans any scheme for the erection of a hotel in Montreal's beautiful park. It has been rumored for several weeks that some such a scheme was being hatched. It will be the duty of the aldermen to see that it is killed as soon as discovered.

In connection with this everlasting need to be on the watch for aggressive movements directed against the Park, another danger point has been revealed by the discussion of a project to extend the incline railway through the Park to the cemeteries. The suggestion should not be entertained for a moment by the City Council. At all hazards and in the face of all blandishments, the Park must be preserved as a park. Hotel sites and railway rights of-way must be secured elsewhere.

THE OUTLOOK IN NOVA SCOTIA.

Mr. Arthur Kendall, who sat for Cape Breton in the Commons during the last Parliament, has this to say about the political chances in that province:

"Four years ago I ventured to send you a forecast of election results in Nova Scotia, and stated that the Tories could not secure more than six of the twenty seats. They secured five. From the same reliable sources of information I send the following forecast of results on November 3rd: There are now eighteen seats instead of twenty seats in 1900. The very best luck that can fall to the Tories is four seats. Our best judge of the whole provincial situation only concedes three, and considers it possible that the Liberals may make almost a sweep of the province."

Nova Scotia doesn't seem to be behind Borden very much, does it?

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Forward, Canada!

Canada is with Laurier.

Young man, "get the habit" of voting for Laurier! You can't go wrong.

Looks as if David Russell would be the Hugh John Macdonald of this campaign.

Mr. Blair's spirit of resignation doesn't seem to be just what was counted upon.

Ald. Dan Gallery doesn't seem to believe the statements emanating from Conservative sources that he is being opposed in St. Ann's.

The Toronto News says Ontario will divide evenly. Laurier and Borden between them seem to have wiped out the Conservative majority.

The Mail and Empire says Quebec will give the Conservatives 27 seats. That's all right for Toronto consumption, but Mr. Tarte knew better.

Rojestvensky has some difficulty in explaining what happened, but his trouble is a picnic compared with what is in store for Mr. Lane and Mr. Ames.

Leading Conservatives say they have the Government on the run, but they will only bet money on the size of Laurier's majority, and they want odds at that.

Since Mr. Borden himself repudiated the idea of Government operation of the new transcontinental railway, how can he expect other people to get enthusiastic over it?

The Gazette: "Aside from these business aspects of the situation, there are some political ones which the Prime Minister might dwell on. His party has been losing in the bye-elections right since 1900. Does he see anything in the situation to suggest that he will not lose in the general contest, and what is it?" Tut, tut. Mr. Tarte went into the bye-election theory last winter. Now he is not a candidate. Mr. Foster tried a bye-election. Now he is about to say farewell, a long farewell, to all his greatness.

Sir William Mulock's Triumph.

How He Turned a Run Down Post Office Department Into One That is a Credit to the Country.

(Toronto News.)

One day eight years or so ago, a merchant living in Vancouver had occasion to send a draft to Victoria. The envelope was correctly addressed, but the stamp was accidentally omitted. From the handwriting a trained postal clerk could hazard an excellent guess as to the sender. The duty of the post-office, however, was clear when the unstamped letter was discovered. To th dead letter office it must go, and to the dead letter office it went, three thousand miles away at Ottawa. Five or six days were consumed in making the journey. There being a large staff employed at headquarters, and the machinery at that time working with ideal promptness, the Vancouver merchant's letter was quickly dealt with, and soon another letter was speeding to him, asking him for the necessary postage. There was another three thousand miles to go, at the expense of five or six additional days, and then the merchant knew what had happened his missing draft, the non-arrival of which had caused him much disquiet. He sent the required reply, and after another six thousand miles had been traversed, and another ten days had been occupied, the letter reached its destination at Victoria.

A Change of System.

Not long ago the same misadventure occurred again at the same post-office. On this occasion the clerk, as soon as he noticed the absence of the stamp, looked at the envelope, recognized the handwriting, and telephoned the firm. In a few minutes an office boy arrived with the missing stamp, and the letter went its way without missing a mail. Had there been no indication of the sender's identity on the envelope, the letter would have been opened upstairs in a small office, and the sender notified. Here in Ottawa the dead letter office is a small affair, with a small staff, engaged only in international dead letter business. There are branch offices at all the important places, and the clerks have explicit instructions to resort to every common-sense means of ascertaining the senders of unstamped letters, and enabling them to repair the omission. Often the mail is not missed. The business which has been reorganized is of no small importance. Two years ago 26,000 letters, containing articles of value, passed through the hands of the dead letter office. Many of these articles were deeds, pass books, certificates and similar documents. Ten thousand of them contained nearly half a million in actual money.

The rearrangement sounds like the combination of common-sense and organization which marks the arrangements of the better class of large commercial concerns.

The Railway Mail Service.

The railway mail service is to the postal system what the arteries are to the human frame. To carry on the metaphor, it is obvious that free circulation is essential. Eight years ago the circulation was not free. The system was divided up into fourteen sections, each corresponding to a post-office inspector's division. There was little administrative control, and little or no machinery for enabling the several sections to adjust their relations with each other. The clerks on one division had an imperfect knowledge of the arrangements on other divisions; correspondence was treated in different ways on different runs; there were delays due to failures in connections. To-day the whole railway mail service is reorganized under a controller, who keeps the machine running, the service has been withdrawn from the control of inspectors, there is unity of management and system. The result is that fewer clerks handle with far greater efficiency a volume of mail matter several times as large as that eight years ago. In 1896 there were 414 railway mail clerks. In 1897, after the reorganization, the number was only 385. By 1899 it had fallen to 373. Since then it has slowly risen to 406. There has been a slight increase in the total amount of salaries paid, so that fewer men get rather more money.

Some of the additions which have been made to this service are ingenious. For instance, at Montreal a clerk is kept who is intimately acquainted with Toronto, and the same thing is done at Toronto. Prior to the Toronto mail leaving Montreal this clerk does a good deal of arranging of the Toronto letters, so as to be convenient for the postmen's routes. The clerk then goes down the line as far as he can, usually to Napanee, boards the mail car, and by the time the train reaches the Union Station the city mail is sorted and ready to be sent direct to the sub-stations, where the postmen get it. A curious incident shows the speed which is attainable. A sharp complaint was received, stating that a special delivery letter had failed to arrive earlier than letters sent by the same mail in the ordinary manner. It developed that special delivery letters are sent to the central post-office. This one was sent there, and was instantly sent out; but the ordinary channel, through the substation, had worked so expeditiously that time actually was lost.

2 E

The Money-order Business.

In 1896 the money order business was nearly stationary. During the six years since 1890 the increase had been only nine per cent., and the express companies were pushing their business so vigorously that the current view held that this branch of postal business was doomed to stagnation. Sir William Mulock refused to acquiesce in this and the Post-office set to work to get new business. Effort ran on three lines. Money order offices were opened in all directions, the only questions asked being whether the communities concerned were important enough to appreciate the service, and whether the postmasters were competent to attend to the business. In 1896 there were 1,300 offices, in 1903 the number was 2,125. Secondly, after careful study, rates were reduced and readjusted so as to make the service more attractive. Thirdly, every effort was put forth to simplify the machinery. In technical terms, this involved in international business the abolition of exchange offices; the aim of the Post-office is to have money order offices in Canada stand on the same footing with similar offices in, say, the United States, as they do with other offices in Canada. This end has been achieved in the case of the United States, Newfoundland, France and the West Indies. So far, Great Britain has not met the Canadian advances, and the system of sending money orders to a few exchange offices handling them there, and waiting for advices causes delay. Negotiations for direct exchange are on foot with several other countries. The result of this threefold effort was that the amount of money orders issued rose from $13,000,000 in 1896 to nearly $27,000,000 in 1903. In addition, the postal note has made its appearance; in 1903 cash to the amount of nearly $29,000,000 was transmitted by the two Post-office agencies and the money order and the postal note.

Energy Inspires Reform.

We know that Sir William Mulock secured ocean penny postage, that he reduced the domestic rate to two cents, and that he converted a deficit of about $800,000 to a surplus of nearly $200,000. These are very big achievements, which have been impressed upon the people of the Dominion of Canada. Perhaps it is easier to understand these achievements by noting the reorganization of methods which is reaveled in the three leading cases just cited. The whole thing traces back to the energy of the man at the head. Machinery is excellent in its way, but machinery seldom thinks and seldom originates. Prior to 1896 the Post-office did its work on the whole much as it does now. Liberal campaigners were largely, if not altogether in error. There was looseness of administration, and there was much working in grooves. Sir William Mulock came into power tempestuously determined to reorganize. The mere fact of reorganization was in itself a benefit. This was shown by one accidental advantage by which the Post-office profited. For years the mail route contracts had been let largely without new tenders. Under the new rule tenders were advertised for. In many districts it was so long since there had been competition that exaggerated ideas seemed to obtain as to the advantage of holding such contracts. As a result, the tenders were excessively low, and the saving thus effected helped to tide the Department over a difficult year or two. The rates afterwards stiffened, but the service had entered its period of expansion and did not feel the increase.

Boldness and Energy.

Reorganization such as these instances which have been described, produced economy; economy lowered the deficit. Boldness then supplemented energy. The momentous decision was reached to apply the saving to the reduction of rates—to make the great but hazardous experiment which only a Government could try. First, after a volcanic struggle with British officialdom, ocean penny postage was won. Then the reduction in the home rate was made. The experiment worked to a triumphant conclusion. A year or two elapsed, and the correspondence leaped upward. Quicker service, more convenient service, cheaper service, all helped to swell the volume of business. In 1896 the revenue was $4,000,000. In 1903 it was $5,600,000. The Post-office to-day has much the same staff as in 1896. It has considerably better methods, and, above all, it has the energy which sets men's minds planning and forces them on to new enterprises.

THE GAS QUESTION.

Editor Herald:

Sir,—Replying to the letter in re above, which appeared in your issue of the 25th instant, signed "Pro Bono Publico." Your correspondent asks if Canadian soft coal is such a poor gas producer as compared with American gas coals, why is it that the New England Gas and Coke Company has contracted with the Dominion Coal Company for the supply of thousands of tons per month of this coal for gas-making purposes? The reason is obvious. The coal that the New England Gas and Coke Company has contracted for is Cape Breton slack coal, which the Coal Company is obliged to wash and deliver at the gas works, Everett, Massachusetts, at about one-third the price that the Montreal Gas Company has to pay for unwashed coal. If your correspondent will apply the simple rule of three, he can figure for himself the relative cost of gas manufacture in Montreal in the matter of coal alone, as compared with that in Boston. Furthermore, even in the face of buying coal at such a low price per ton, the New England Company has been unable up to the present to make both ends meet, as is proved by their last annual statement, just published, which shows that the company made a loss of $171,522.00 for the year, after providing for its ordinary charges.

Thanking you for the space.

Yours truly,

J. S. MACKENZIE.

CATHOLIC CHURCH BURNED.

St. John, N.B., Oct. 28—A bad thunder storm passed over this city yesterday afternoon. There was only one vivid flash of lightning, but that stroke fell on the steeple of the Roman Catholic Church of the Assumption, on the west side. The building was soon on fire and in two hours was burned to the ground. The church is said to have cost $50,000. Among the treasures burned with it were some valuable paintings including one which was believed to be a genuine Raphael. Insurance is about $15,000.

CAMPAIGN IN THE CITY

ROUSING RECEPTION FOR MR. BICKERDIKE

Mr. Robert Bickerdike's first meeting after his official nomination was held last night at 738 St. Lawrence Street and was attended by a very large number of electors, Mr. Bickerdike was the first speaker and made an excellent address. He remarked that a week ago there were five candidates in the field in St. Lawrence, but now there were only two and much of the fun seemed lost. But steady work was required until the evening of November 3rd. The only two questions really before the electors to-day were in regard to the fiscal policy and the G.T.P. Everyone, even the Conservatives had decided that another national transcontinenetal line was wanted. The Liberals were filling that need and doing it well and cheaply in their present policy. (Applause.)

As for the "adequate protection" policy of Mr. Borden the prosperity of the country for the last eight years had proved that the interest of the country were adequately protected. With the developments that had been inaugurated and were being projected by the Liberal party, Canada was winning for itself a leading place amongst the progressive nations of the world.

It was stated eight years ago that if Sir Wilfrid Laurier came into power the grass would soon grow on our streets and our young men would emigrate to the United States. On the contrary during the last few years more immigrants had come from the other side of the line than ever before. This well illustrated what the Liberal Government had done in every department of Canada's national life.

Mr. Bickerdike closed amidst applause by predicting that every riding of the Island of Montreal, would be represented in the next session of Parliament by Liberal members.

Mr.W. E. Doran was the next speaker. He pointed out that the Liberal Government had taken the first steps to consolidate the Empire by their preferential tariff. Then again the policy of lower duties had led to a great increase in all lines of trade and showed the economic absurdity of the high tariff ideas of the Conservative party. Adequate protection all agreed was necessary but the Liberal party took a different view of this from the Conservatives and the result of their getting an opportunity to put their ideas into practice had led to conditions all over the country such as could be seen in Montreal where the council had been comp lled to consider a by-law for the limitation of factories within certain districts because they have been springing up so fast all over the city.

Mr. Doran then evoked great applause by an appeal against racial or religious prejudices which the Liberals had always striven to avoid and which the opposing party had in the recent campaign attempted to raise.

Mr. U. H. Dandurand then addressed the meeting in French, following by a short speech in English. He contrasted the present administration with its strong leaders and progressive policy with that of the Conservatives, and urged the electors to consider whether they desired to change the present prosperous times for the stagnation that existed prior to 1896, which the Conservatives promised to bring back by returning to the old methods of administering public affairs. Sir H. Montagu Allan and other great business men had left the Conservative party to support the present administration and that showed what the men best able to judge thought of the Liberal policy. Such men did not sign the requisition papers of Liberal candidates for sentiment, but on account of their belief in the honest and business-like administration of the present Government.

Mr. Jas. Rogers declared that however the Conservative party might call for adequate protection it was evident from the surplus last year after all the great public works were completed that we had it. Hon. Geo. E. Foster had said in Toronto that the Conservacies. So they had, but they were legacies. To they had, but they were legacies of debt, corruption and dissension.

Mr. G. W. Stephens expressed his great pleasure in speaking in favor of his friend, Mr. Bickerdike, and the broad, progressive policy of the Liberal party. He brought down from Glengarry, whence he had spent the last week, glowing reports of the prospects for the Liberal party there. While discussing the amount of wheat to be conveyed from the West to the seaboard, which necessitated the building of the G.T.P., Mr. Stephens was interrupted by someone in the back of the hall who enquired "What do they do in Buffalo?" "They bring our wheat there and to Chicago and will do that as long as we do nothing to help ourselves," answered the speaker amid great applause.

Brief speeches were also made by Messrs. A. Bastien, P. Smith, and L. S. Geoffrion. The meeting closed with cheers for Mr. Bickerdike.

NEW LIBERAL CLUB FOR ST. LOUIS WARD

A new Liberal Club has been organized in the lower section of St. Louis, which has heretofore been without such an organization. The large number of Liberals in that part of the city have had to join the other Liberal clubs, but find that they can better serve the party interests and their own convenience by an association of their own.

The officers elected were:—Hon. president, Sir Wilfrid Laurier; hon. vice-presidents, Hon. R. Prefontaine, Hon. L. Gouin and M. Decarie; M. P. P.; president, N. Turcot; first vice-president, F. Jubinville; second vice-president, A. Desjardins; secretary, C. H. Lavallee; assistant secretary, H. Gervais; treasurer, A. Chevalier; assistant treasurer, A. St. Germain; organizer, J. E. Tetrault; auditors, A. Theberge and J. Perrault.

An executive committee and a committee to draw up a constitution were also appointed.

MR. PREFONTAINE WARMLY GREETED.

A well-filled hall greeted Hon. R. Prefontaine in Maisonenuve last evening where he addressed the electors on the questions before the public to-day. He delivered an eloquent speech which was warmly applauded by the audience.

Messrs. Jasmin, Pilon and Descarries followed the Minister with short addresses.

Another meeting in support of Hon. Mr. Prefontaine was held at the opening of his committee rooms at 211 Mount Royal Avenue, when an active committee was appointed, with the following officers:—President, M. Rousseau; vice-presidents, J. Milord and C. Gelinas; secretary, J. Sansfacon.

JACQUES CARTIER NOMINATION.

The nominations for Jacques Cartier division were held yesterday afternoon at Lachine. Mr. Alphone Boyer was chosen as the Liberal champion, and Mr. F. D. Monk is again on the Conservative ticket.

After the nominations, the Liberal electors held a meeting in the Town Hall, where Mr. Boyer and others delivered addresses. Mr. Monk and his followers adjourned to the fire brigade hall.

MR. F. D. MONK SPEAKS IN S PPORT OF ALD. AMES

A well-attended meeting in favor of Ald. H. B. Ames, Conservative candidate for St. Antoine Division, was held last night at Nault's Hall. Ald. Lapointe and Mr. Geo. Fisher were appointed joint chairmen. The speakers were Ald. Sadler, Ald. Ames, Mr. F. D. Monk, Mayor Laporte and Mr. Laverdure.

Ald. Sadler, in a neat speech endorsing the candidate, said that he felt if Ald. Ames were returned he would ably represent the electors in every cause, as he had never neglected to do all in his power for the people of St. Antoine Division. Some people claimed that Mr. Ames was over-ambitious in trying to get into a broader field. He did not agree with this, as nowhere could Mr. Ames make use of his talents and of his time to such good advantage as in Ottawa. This much he felt sure of, however, that their candidate would serve their interests as faithfully in the Federal House as he had done at the City Hall. There was one particularly strong plank in their candidate's platform which would be certain to appeal to them, it was that of protection—Canada for the Canadians. He felt sure in that manufacturing district the workingmen would endorse this principle with their votes on Nov. 3.

Ald. Ames, addressing the meeting in French, said he had not much more to say, as at the previous meetings he had fully outlined his programme, and he had spoken on protection, transportation and the Grand Trunk Pacific project. He was there to answer any questions that might be put to him regarding his policy or his position. If the French-Canadians voted for him he knew he would be elected by a large majority. Some of the Liberals, particularly an ex-Mayor of this city, were working hard to defeat him because it was felt he would be an awkward critic in Parliament, but for all that he felt confident of being elected.

Mr. F. D. Monk, in advocating the candidature of Mr. Ames, said that there were two points which were greatly in favor of the candidate, the fact that in a few years he had mastered the French language and his record in the City Hall. He then spoke at length on the Grand Trunk Pacific project, telling his hearers that the Government had ignored Montreal altogether in the deal, as the road would not pass within 500 miles of the city, and declaring that if the citizens of Montreal made their voices heard against the project the scheme would be killed.

Mayor Laporte told the meeting that he came not as Mayor, but as an elector, to endorse Ald. Ames. For thirty-two years he had served on Conservative committees, and this year, as in the past, he was in favor of the Conservative candidate, and he asked his hearers to support Ald. Ames in the coming election.

MR. BICKERDIKE'S NOMINATION.

Attached to Mr Bickerdike's nomination paper were 2,000 names, including those of Hon. Raymond Prefontaine, Hon. E. P. Brodeur, Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, Hon. Horace Archambault, Hon. Lomer Gouin, Hon. W. A. Weir, Hon. H. B. Rainville, Hon Senator Casgrain, Hon. Senator Dandurand, Hon. N. Perodeau, Dr. E. P. Lachapelle, Ald. Louis Payette, E. H. Lemay, Ald. G. DeSerres, Ald. J. D. Couture, Ald. COTTON MEN WILL NOT OPPOSE LIBERAL PARTY

Valleyfield, October 28.—(Special.) — One of the largest meetings ever held in Bearharnois county was held here in honor of the visit of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. More than five thousand people heard the Premier's speech and the applause was generous and unmistakable. A feature in connection with the presence of Sir Wilfrid here was an announcement by the local manager of the Montreal Cotton Mills. Mr. Ward said that in view of the Government's promises to inquire into the condition of the cotton industry it would not be advisable for them to oppose the Liberal candidate. He admitted that the present difficulty at the cotton mills at Valleyfield was not due to the Liberal policy.

VALLEYFIELD'S ADDRESS TO THE PREMIER

The address presented to Sir Wilfrid Laurier by the English-speaking citizens of Valleyfield was as follows:

Right Honorable Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Prime Minister.—Your English-speaking fellow-citizens of Valleyfield rejoice in the pleasure of joining with our French-speaking fellow-citizens in extending to you, our distinguished Prime Minister, a very cordial welcome to this young city.

We feel honored to think, that in the multitude of demands upon your time, you have not forgotten Valleyfield nor the fertile district of Beauharnois, so rich in all-cultivated lands, inhabited by thrifty farmers who, during the past years, have been blessed with that prosperity which helps to make a happy and contented people.

We are glad to know that you have fully recovered from that illness which threatend to impair your health, and we sincerely hope and pray that you may be spared many years of happiness to your family and usefulness to your country. During the eight years that your Government has administered the affairs of the country, the district of Beauharnois has shared in the peace, progress and prosperity that has marked your administration. Farm products have found a ready market at remunerative prices, and the wage-earner has been receiving higher wages.

In this city of Valleyfield during your administration, our cotton mills have doubled their capacity; the valuation of assessable property has more than doubled and our population has increased over fifty per cent. The extraordinary conditions, which for the past year have disturbed the cotton industries of the world, has also very seriously affected our local cotton industries, but we look forward with confidence to the return of your Government, believing that our cotton and other industries will receive fair protection in any revision of the tariff that may take place.

The proposed new transcontinental railway will be a lasting monument to your statesmanship, for by it a vast area of new country, rich in timber, minerals and agricultural lands will be opened for settlement.

The construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific will supply labor for thousands and create an impetus to manufacture, trade and commerce that will make Canada the busiest and most prosperous country in the world.

THE VAUDREUIL CANDIDATES.

Vaudreuil, Que., Oct. 28.—Mr. G. Boyer was nominated yesterday as the Liberal candidate for Vaudreuil county, and Mr. F. de S. A. Bastien, K.C., as Conservative candidate. In the afternoon a meeting was held attended by some seven hundred or eight hundred electors, over which Mayor Constant presided. Mr. Boyer in a forcible address, followed and praised Sir Wilfrid Laurier's management of the country's affairs. Hon. Louis Gouin spoke of the agricultural interests and of the spotless character of the Premier. Mr. Bastien laid down his programme, opposing points made by the Liberal speakers. He was supported by Mr. Camille de Martigny, K.C., Mr. C. A. Harwood, and Dr. E. Montpetit.

HON. L. P. BRODEUR ACCLAIMED.

At Marleville yesterday Mr. L. P. Brodeur was nominated to contest the county in the Liberal interests at a largely attended nomination meeting. A very large number of names of electors were subscribed to his nomination papers and a sweeping victory over his opponent, Mr. Nadeau, is assured, the Minister in this one-time Conservative stronghold.

TORONTO GLOBE REBUKES FOSTER'S SAVAGE GIBES

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 28.—(Special.)—The Globe this morning gives the following severe reprimand to Hon. Geo. E. Foster for his ill-considered gibes at Sir Frederick Borden and Hon. Sydney Fisher:—

"Where were the Bordens and the Fishers when Lord Dundonald rode into Ladysmith?' When Mr. Foster flung out that characteristic jibe at his Toronto audience last night, he offended against the common decencies of public life and made plain the reason why he is both disliked and distrusted even by his political friends. There are circumstances that ought to check even his bitter tongue. It illbecomes him or any of those who applauded his cold-blooded sneer to talk loftily about loyalty or patriotism or personal sacrifices of the Minister whose only son went out to his death in the South African war. The grave of Lieut. Borden on the veldt is sufficient answer to Mr. Foster's sneer."

CORNWALL NOMINATION.

Cornwall, Oct. 28.—Large numbers attended the nominations for the county of Stormont, held here yesterday. Mr. Robert Smith was nominated by the Liberals, and the late member, Mr. R. A. Pringle, by the Conservatives. Mr. Smith made a very effective speech, and was supported by Mr. McCart, M. L. A., and Mr. J. A. Chisholm. Mr. Pringle also spoke briefly in support of the Conservative policy.

CONDEMN CORRUPTION.

From a purely non-partizan standpoint the Anglican clergy of the rural deanery of Northumberland have expressed their opinion as to the present state of political morality in Ontario in the following resolution:—

1. That the immorality prevailing in the political arena is most deplorable and degrading.
2. That an improper conception of the sacret trust committed to them in the ballots exists in the minds of many electors.
3. That to bribe and be bribed is sinful and disloyal.
4. That an effort should be made by the clergy to stem the torrent of corruption by inculcating true principles of patriotism and by urging the electorate to live on the higher plane of Christian citizenship.

NEWS FROM BRUNSWICK

EXCITEMENT AT CHARLOTTE.

St. John, N.B., Oct. 28.—There was considerable excitement yesterday at the nomination proceedings in Charlotte county. Mr. Daniel Gilmor, a St. George man, who has been for some time resident in Montreal, was nominated by the Liberals, and Mr. G. W. Ganong, the late member, by the Conservatives. It was found after the nomination that speech-making was an impossibility owing to the commotion caused by the opposing parties. Later when Mr. Gilmor attempted to speak from the verandah of Kennedy's Hotel, the Conservative sympathizers made so much noise that the speaker could not be heard. In Restigouche, Wm. Murray, Liberal, who threatened to run as Independent, withdrew. In Kent there is a three cornered contest, two Liberals and a Conservative.

NEWS FROM NOVA SCOTIA

MR. BORDEN AT HALIFAX.

Halifax, Oct. 28.—Mr. R. L. Borden addressed a large audience in the Academy of Music here last night. Mr. Borden spoke for an hour and three quarters and received much applause. Afterwards he went to St. Mary's Hall and spoke for half an hour to the electors gathered there.

WOMEN'S ART CLUB.

Miss Bengough's lecture on "Parsifal" before the Women's Art Club on Tuesday last was a distinct literary and artistic success. The audience was largely composed of leaders of society. The musical points in the lecture were well brought out on a Chickering & Sons Grand Piano, supplied by C. W. Lindsay, Limited, 2366 St. Catherine street.—Adv.

ARTILLERY FOR MONTREAL.

Ottawa, Oct. 28.—(Special.)—Though not finally determined, it is expected that a battery of field artillery will be located in Montreal and provision will be made for them in the construction of the new barracks.

It was also suggested that the Dragoons be represented at Montreal. However, it is probable they will remain in St. Johns.

IT MEANS A LOT.

The expression "Save the snowshoe tags" has a meaning which can be best understood by visiting 210 St. Lawrence Street, where are displayed the actual articles given in exchange for these tags from plugs of smoking or chewing tobacco. Every plug of "Bobs" plug chewing tobacco bears a snowshoe tag.

DUCK HUNTER SHOT.

Chatham, Oct. 28.—Word was received in town from Wallaceburg that John Pidgeon, eleventh concession, Chatham township, had been killed while duck-shooting. The deceased with Simon Thibodeau, went to Bear Creek for a day among the ducks. Thibodeau had just fired at a duck, when, on turning to speak to Pidgeon, he was horrified to see him lying on the ground shot in the breast, and a moment later the unfortunate man was dead.

FIRST ILLUSTRATED SERMON.

The first illustrated sermon of this season will be given on Sunday evening at the Point St. Charles Congregational Church, near Wellington Street. The subject will be "The Life and Example of Daniel." A subject peculiarly appropriate to the present time. Since the Rev. W. R. Harvey began these services two years ago they have grown in the appreciation of the congregation, and the idea has spread so that other ministers are preparing to use this means of presenting Truth. The Point St. Charles Church has usually been crowded on similar occasions. The musical service for choir and congregation will be unusually interesting.

INTERVIEW WITH MR. BUTLER.

The Gazette on Monday published a statement, purporting to be made by Mr. Wilson Butler, vice-president of the Simplex Railway Appliance Co., to the effect that he had not given an interview to The Herald, and that the paper had invented the statements credited to him. Mr. Butler, who had gone to New York, was at once communicated with, and in reply denied that he had made no reference to The Herald, other than that it has misunderstood his remarks regarding the amount to be placed immediately in the proposed works. The capital of the company is to be two and a half millions, but this will not all be expended at once.

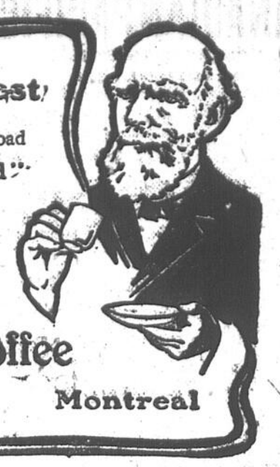

MUTINY VETERA NCOMES TO CANADA.

Gunner T. Manix, of the Royal Horse Artillery, is one of the latest immigrants to Canada from England. He is an Indian mutiny veteran, who took part in the relief of Lucknow, and served also in Australia. He was through the Kaffir war.

PREPARATORY SERVICE.

St. Paul's Presbyterian Church will hold a service preparatory to Communion this evening at 8.15.

Brockville—The death is reported from Kitley Township of Mr. Leycock, who had reached the ripe age of ninety years. He was in good health until four weeks ago. Mr. Leycock was born in Ireland, and when very young came to Canada, locating in Kitley Township, where he resided until his death. In 1837 he was actively engaged at the Battle of Windmill. He is survived by the aged widow and one daughter.

EXAMINE YOUR DENTIFRICE

Acid and grit, deadliest enemies of the teeth, abound in cheap dentifrices. Fine perfumes do not make fine dentifrices. Your teeth deserve better of you than to be offered up a sacrifice to your pocketbook.

SOZODONT

is of proven value. Sixty years is a pretty good test. No acid, no grit in Sozodont. The Liquid penetrates the little crevices and purifies them; the Powder gives a bright and polished surface.

GYPSY BAND WAS SET FREE BY THE JUDGE

There Was No Proof Given That They Were Undesirable Citizens.

The twenty gypsy immigrants whom the immigration authorities were seeking to have deported were yesterday liberated by Mr. Justice Fortin under habeas corpus proceedings.

Judge Fortin declared that under our law everyone is entitled to his liberty unless cause should be shown to the contrary and declined to hold the immigrants while the red tape was being straightened out. He therefore at once set the gypsies free.

Mr. Ryan asked for further delay, for instructions from the Justice Department. He thought the crown is entitled to this.

Judge Fortin, "You have had your delay already. These people are entitled to land unless proper cause under the Immigration Act can be adduced to keep them out. It is an elementary principle of the law of the country that every person is entitled to his liberty, and if deprived of his liberty he is entitled to be brought up on a writ of habeas corpus and discharged unless good reason for his detention can be shown. There may be good reason why these people should not be permitted to land—you had time given you to prove it, but nothing has been done as it should have been. Therefore under the statute, nothing is left for me but to liberate these people."

The "Queen" of the Gypsy band here created a lively sensation by bursting into tears, and in excitedly bad English pronouncing an effusive benediction upon Mr. Greenshields, which however, was rather cut short by that gentleman's rapid retreat through the door.

Toronto — Leo Gelber, trading with Paul Levi and Ephraim Polter under the name of The Standard Cap Company, Limited, and one of Toronto's best-known Jewish citizens, was killed by a brick falling on him, fracturing his skull.

CITY CAN'T FORCE EARLY CLOSING

Such Was the Report of the City Attorneys to the Committee.

The city cannot pass legislation in regard to the early closing of stores, as it is a matter which comes within the province of the Federal Parliament. This was the substance of an opinion from the city attorneys, presented at a meeting of the special early closing committee yesterday afternoon.

Ald. Bastien then moved that the City Council be recommended to obtain the necessary power from the Government to pass such a by-law.

Ald. Nelson said that he would like to see the clerks get everything possible for their comfort, but in the present instance he could not understand how the city could ever pass special laws telling people what time to close up their shops.

The motion of Ald. Bastien was accepted, in order to give the City Council an opportunity to discuss the matter.

Mrs. Elizabeth H. Thompson, of Lillydale, N. Y., Grand Worthy Wise Templar, and Member of W. C. T. U., tells how she recovered from a serious illness by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I am one of the many of your grateful friends who have been cured through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and who can to-day thank you for the fine health I enjoy. When I was thirty-five years old, I suffered severe backache and frequent bearing-down pains; in fact, I had womb trouble. I was very anxious to get well, and reading of the cures your Compound had made, I decided to try it. I took only six bottles, but it built me up and cured me entirely of all my troubles.

"My family and relatives were naturally as gratified as I was. My niece had heart trouble and nervous prostration, and was considered incurable. She took your Vegetable Compound and it cured her in a short time, and she became well and strong, and her home to her great joy and her husband's delight was blessed with a baby. I know of a number of others who have been cured of different kinds of female trouble, and am satisfied that your Compound is the best medicine for sick women."—MRS. ELIZABETH H. THOMPSON, Box 105, Lillydale, N. Y.

Thousands upon thousands of women throughout this country are not only expressing such sentiments as the above to their friends, but are continually writing letters of gratitude to Mrs. Pinkham, until she has hundreds of thousands of letters from women in all classes of society who have been restored to health by her advice and medicine after all other means had failed.

Here is another letter which proves conclusively that there is no other medicine to equal Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I suffered with poor health for over seven years, not sick enough to stay in bed, and not well enough to enjoy life and attend to my daily duties properly. I was growing thin, my complexion was sallow, and I was easily upset and irritable.

"One of my neighbors advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I procured a bottle. A great change for the better took place within a week, and I decided to keep up the treatment.

"Within two months I was like a changed woman, my health good, my step light, my eyes bright, my complexion vastly improved, and I felt once more like a young girl. I wonder now how I ever endured the misery. I would not spend another year like it for a fortune.

"I appreciate my good health, and give all the praise to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—MRS. M. TILLA, 407 Habersteen Savannah, Ga.

Mrs. Pinkham has on file thousands of such letters.

The Mystery of a Hansom Cab

BY FERGUS HUME.

CHAPTER XXV.

A hot December day, with a cloudless blue sky, and a sun blazing down on the earth, clothed in all the beauty of summer garments. Such a description of snowy December sounds, perchance, a trifle strange to English ears. It may strike them as being somewhat fantastic, as was the play in "A Midsummer Night's Dream" to Demetrius when he remarked, "This is hot ice and wondrous cold fire."

But here in Australia we are in the realm of contrariety, and many things other than dreams go by contrary. Here black swans are an established fact, and the proverb concerning them, made when they were considered as mythical a bird as the Phoenix, has been rendered null and void by the discoveries of Captain Cook. Here, ironwood sinks and pumice-stone floats, which must strike the curious spectator as a queer freak on the part of Dame Nature. At home the Edinburgh mail bears the hardy traveller to a cold climate, with snowy mountains and wintry blasts; but here the further north one goes the hotter it gets.

But however contrary, as Mrs. Camp would say, Nature may be in her dealings, the English race out in this great continent are much the same as in the old country—John Bull, Paddy, and Sandy, all being of a conservative turn of mind, and with strong opinions as to the keeping up of old customs. Therefore, on a hot Christmas Day, with the sun one hundred odd in the shade, Australian revellers sit down to the roast beef and plum-pudding of Old England, which they eat contentedly as the orthodox thing, and on New Year's Eve the festive Celt repairs to the doors of his "freens" with a bottle of whiskey and a cheering verse of Auld Lang Syne.

Still, it is these peculiar customs that give an individuality to a nation, and John Bull abroad loses none of his insular obstinacy; but keeps his Christmas in the old fashion, and wears his clothes in the new fashion, without regard to heat or cold. A nation that never surrenders to the fire of an enemy cannot be expected to give into the fire of the sun, but if some ingenious mortal would only invent some light and airy costume, after the fashion of the Greek dress, and Australians would consent to adopt the same, life in Melbourne and her sister cities would be much cooler than it is at present.

Madge was thinking somewhat after this fashion as she sat on the wide verandah, in a state of exhaustion from the heat, and stared out at the wide plains lying parched and arid under the blazing sun. There was a dim kind of haze, rising from the excessive heat, hanging midway between heaven and earth, and through its tremulous veil the distant hills looked aerial and unreal.

Stretched out before her was the garden with its intensely vivid flowers. To look at them merely was to increase one's caloric condition. Great bushes of oleanders, with their bright pink blossoms, luxurious rose trees, with their yellow, red and white blooms, and all along the border a rainbow of many-colored flowers, with such brilliant tints that the eye ached to see them in the hot sunshine, and turned restfully to the cool green of the trees which encircled the lawn. In the centre was a round pool, surrounded by a ring of white marble, and containing a still sheet of water, which flashed like a mirror in the blinding light.

The homestead of Yabba Yallock station was a long, low house, with no upper-storey, and with a wide verandah running nearly round it. Cool green blinds were hung between the pillars to keep out the sun, and all along were scattered lounging chairs of basket-work, with rugs, novels, empty soda-water bottles, and all the other evidences that Mr. Frettiby's guests had been wise, and stayed inside during the noonday heat.

Madge was seated in one of these comfortable chairs, and she divided her attention between the glowing beauty of the world outside, which she could see through a narrow slit in the blinds, and her book, in which she did not seem greatly interested, for it was not long before she let it fall unheeded to the ground and took refuge in her own thoughts. The trial through which she had so recently passed had been a great one, and it had not been without its outward result. It had left its impress on her beautiful face, and there was a troubled look in her eyes. After Brian's acquittal of the murder of Oliver Whyte, she had been taken by her father up to the station, in the hope that it would restore her health. The mental strain which had been on her during the trial had nearly brought on an attack of brain fever; but here, far from the excitement of town life, in the quiet seclusion of the country, she had recovered her health, but not her spirits. Women are more impressionable than men, and it is, perhaps, for this reason that they age quicker. A trouble which would pass lightly over a man, leaves an indelible mark on a woman, both physically and mentally, and the terrible episode of Whyte's murder had changed Madge from a bright and merry girl into a grave and beautiful woman. Sorrow is a potent enchantress. Once she touches the heart, life can never be quite the same again. We never more surrender ourselves entirely to pleasure; and often we find so many of the things we have longed for are after all but dead sea fruit. Sorrow is the veiled Isis of the world, and once we penetrate her mystery and see her deeply-furrowed face and mournful eyes, the magic light of romance dies all away, and we realize the hard, bitter fact of life in all its nakedness.

The floral decorations in the drawing room and tea room were very prettily carried out, the tea table being entirely done in white with a large cluster of chrysanthemums in the centre. Mrs. Burch was in charge of the coffee and Mrs. Thomas Bacon poured tea. The young ladies assisting, who were all daintily gowned in white, were the Misses Jordan, Miss Tooke, Miss Hilda Marler, Miss Kathleen Howard, and Miss C. Shaw.

POUND PARTY.

The annual pound party given by the ladies of the Day Nursery at the home, Belmont Park, yesterday afternoon, was largely attended and very successful.

The tables were laden with gifts from kind and interested friends, and the sale was an excellent one.

The many guests present had an opportunity of going over the home, and everyone seemed much interested in the fifty or sixty merry little souls who are daily being so well looked after during their mother's absense, and who at that hour were heartily devouring their evening meal, which was given them on a very generous scale.

Unfortunately though, like many other good works, the Day Nursery is greatly in need of more funds and certainly the committee of ladies who have the interest of those little children so much at heart and who work so faithfully for their benefit, ought to have the willing support of the public again thi syear in what certainly ranks as one of the first charities of the city. The dining rom is far too small and there are many other necessary repairs which will no doubt be gladly contributed to by the many kind friends who have heretofore helped the home.

During the afternoon tea was served, the table being prettily decorated with yellow chrysanthemums. Mrs. A. E. Ellis was in charge of the coffee and Mrs. Wellington Dixon poured tea. Others present were: Mrs. Frank Bond, Mrs. Symonds, Mrs. Fairbanks, Mrs. Ernest Gault, Mrs. Stanley Bagg, Miss Thomas, Mrs. Liddell, Miss Symonds, and many others.

MR. GOLDMARK TO LECTURE.

The announcement that Mr. Rubn Goldmark wil give two lecture recitals next month, has been very enthusiastically received. His subject will be Wagner's music dramas Die Walknere, on the 18th, and Parsifal on the 19th. Both lectures wil be held in the Assembly Hall of the Royal Victoria College, and the proceeds will form the neucleus of a fund to furnish the new building of the College Y.M.C.A. Mr. Goldmark, always instructive and delightful, is particularly happy in his interpretation of thse two operas.

Those who were privileged to hear him several years agfo on the Die Walknere will be glad of another opportunity to enjoy his vivid descriptions folklore, etc., of the drama, and also to hear his masterly rendering of the piano accompaniments. Few artists who so attract and interest musical people as Mr. Goldmark can as skilfully interpret to the non-musical the great mesterpieces of Wagner.

NO TRUTH IN LATEST FLOUR MILL RUMOR

Amalgamation of Ogilvie Flour Mills and Lake of the Woods is Denied.

Wednesday's issue of La Presse said: "At three o'clock this afternoon there will be a meeting of the Lake of the Woods directors. At this meeting the question of an amalgamation of the Lake of the Woods Co. and the Ogilvie Milling Co. will be discussed, as well as several other important matters."

In view of Mr. David Russell's connection with both the Lake of the Woods Co. and La Presse, this statement was read with a good deal of surprise on the street.

In regard to the report, Mr. F. W. Thompson, vice-president and managing director of the Ogilvie Flour Mills Co., authorized the statement that his company has no intention whatever of acquiring the Lake of the Woods Co. either by purchase or amalgamation. "The Ogilvie Co.," said Mr. Thompson, "is meeting any increase in its business by the erection of new mills, having already under construction a big mill at Fort William, with a capacity of 3,000 barrels a day."

Boucher and Roffey, tailors, beg to announce that their stock for the coming season is complete, and would thank you to call and inspect the same. Corner St. Peter and Notre Dame streets.—Adv.

A. O. U. W. ANNIVERSARY.

Thirty-sixth "Birthday" Celebrated Last Evening.

The thirty-sixth anniversary of the founding of the A. O. U. W. was observed last evening at the Windsor Hall. Mr. J. J. Ulley, Grand Master Workman, presided over a concert, and on the platform were Messrs. Thos. Brady, A. T. Patterson, W. C. Starke, Thos. Liggett, T. A. Lynch and James Ramsay.

During the evening Bro. J. G. Tate, of Nebraska, Past Supreme Master Workman, delivered an address. Dealing with the practices and principles of the order, he passed on to the present relationship between Great Britain and Russia as the result of the attack on English fishing vessels by the Baltic fleet. He said if there was a conflict the United States would be behind England.

The concert numbers were given by Miss Bertha Ferguson, Miss Perriton, Mr. J. Venables, Mr. Duquette, Miss Enid Martin and Miss Eunice Latimer. Mr. Cornish accompanied.

SPORTING GOSSIP OF THE DAY

SPORTING COMMENT

The Ottawa papers are trying to bulldoze their readers into believing that the Rough Riders are tickled to death at being beaten by Ottawa College and that last Saturday's match between these two clubs was a veritable lovefeast. The Capital's sporting writers have evidently any amount of nerve when they tackle such a tough proposition as if they really meant it. As a matter of fact, the Collegians do not love the Rough Riders and the latter haven't any particular hankering to fall into the arms of the students. When the two teams meet they play hard, strenuous football, which is occasionally characterized by exhibitions of vicious tactics. Any one who says that this is not the case does not know what he is talking about—to use a mild expression.

* * *

The following is from the Toronto Telegram, the official organ of the O. H. A.:—

GOOD hockey players wanted, good situations open for carriage trimmers, bartenders, blacksmith, moulder, and teamsters; state terms and teams you have played with. Apply Box

"The following advertisement appeared in a Toronto paper yesterday:

"The O. H. A. regulations call for a residence in the town players represent from Oct. 1. The executive has the power to grant bona fide changes of residence after that date, but in view of the above paragraph such permits will doubtless be a little harder to secure this winter. Men accepting places on O.H.A. teams under such inducements are certainly professionals."

* * *

The natural inference from the above advertisement is that the "terms" spoken of do not refer to wages for working at the different trades. In other words, the clubs are prepared to offer money to good players. It's dollars to doughnuts or peanuts or anything else, that President Robertson will soak the advertising club good and hard if he can discover its identity. He is so proud of the amateurism of his association that he feels that he can afford to sneer at the C.A.A.U.

* * *

Speaking of the Ottawa College football team, the Ottawa Citizen says:

"As with most university teams artistic tackling is a forte of theirs."

It will not be denied that the Ottawa College XIV. are good tacklers, but to describe them as a university team will rile the members of the Intercollegiate Union. Some of the garnet and gray players never attended a class at Ottawa College—Hal Walters, Bob McCreadie and Filion for instance. Others like Gleeson, Kearns, Nagle and O'Brien are no longer students at the college, though they wear its colors.

* * *

"If Grand Trunk is admitted to the C.A.H.L. or not, and the league run in one section, Quebec will have to make five or six journeys to Montreal, which it is strongly opposed to doing. It would be more satisfactory for all clubs concerned to admit Grand Trunk and have two sections, namely, A, Montreal, Victoria, Shamrocks and Quebec; B, Westmount, Nationals and Grand Trunk. Then Quebec would only make three journeys, which is not unreasonable, and the league would be in a position to admit another club at any time, without complications.

"If such steps were taken the league would not henceforth be called a 'close body,' and the public could not complain of too many senfor games during the season."

* * *

The Herald is informed on good authority that if the Grand Trunks are admitted to the C.A.H.L., the latter will, in all probability, divide its clubs into two sections.

* * *

Given fine weather, dry footing and an absence of wind, to-morrow's match between Ottawa College and Montreal should be as fine a contest as has ever taken place in this city. The records of the two teams show that they are closely matched and their struggle for supremacy should be well worth seeing. The Collegians are confident of winning, but if the Montreals heed Victor Buchanan's stentorian commands to buck in "all together," the Collegians' hopes will be dashed into smithereens or something worse.

* * *

And, by the way, the Westmounts will bear watching to-morrow and the following Saturday. They are a tenacious lot and their defeats have served to ginger them up. They are liable to win either or both their remaining matches, and they are certain to play good football.

* * *

The Ottawa Free Press accuses The Herald of telling "hard luck" stories. This charge is born of a fevered or diseased imagination. The Ottawa papers have the "hard luck" racket patented, copyrighted, etc., though these precautions were hardly necessary, as none but an Ottawa paper would use "hard luck" yarns.

* * *

The hockey situation is troubling those who have the interests of the game most at heart, for they see that if the present differences between the leagues are not cleared away the sport will be just about ruined this winter.

There is no doubt but that there are too many senior clubs and too many clubs will spoil the public's desire to see exhibitions of hockey. It has been made very clear that the public will not patronize mediocre hockey, and it is the public which the leagues and the clubs are most anxious to please.

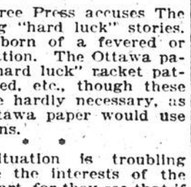

Three or four of the clubs are going to be so much stronger than the others that they will be in a class by themselves. These clubs will receive the patronage and the rest will get the shoulder frappe.

* * *

What is sure to happen if the two leagues do not amalgamate is foreseen by those in authority, but pride, dislike, resentment and a few other feelings influence them to keep apart.

If representatives of the senior clubs whose names are now before the public, would but foregather at the Windsor next Saturday night, it is safe to predict that an arrangement, harmonious and satisfactory, would be reached. The leagues are not unwilling to discuss the matter, but neither is willing to take the initiative. That is why the situation is so provoking. Beyond personal dislikes and club jealousies, there are no reasons why an amalgamation should not be effected, and surely these dislikes and jealousies might be forgotten when the best intersts of hockey are at stake.

Strong Teams Will Battle on the Q.R.F.U. Gridirons To-Morrow

The Probable Line-ups of the Four Senior Fourteens.

Four husky teams will appear on the Quebec Union's gridiron to-morrow. Ottawa College will play Montreal on the M. A. A. A. Grounds, and Westmounts will play Rough Riders at Lansdowne Park, Ottawa.

The line-ups of the teams will probably be as follows:

Ottawa College.		Montreal.
O'Brien	Full back	Macdonald
Shea	Half back	Craig
J. Gleeson	"	P. Molson
J. Murphy	"	Christmas
Kearns	Quarter back	Jack or Gordon
McCreadie	Scrimmage	Lessor
McDonald	"	Byrne
Brennan	"	McAllen
Walters	Wings	W. Molson
James	"	D. Rayside
Filion	"	Murphy
Filiatreault	"	O'Brien
Nagle	"	Vittie
Boucher	"	Hazlett, Hannaford or Burton.

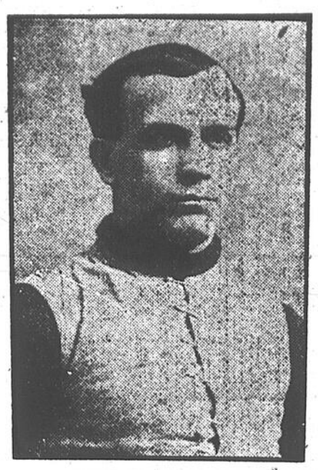

THE GAME IN OTTAWA.

Westmounts.		Rough Riders.
Smaill	Full back	J. Rankin
J. Brown	Half back	E. Murphy
Ross	"	Roberts
Tofield	"	Lafleur
Baillie	Quarter	Smith
Shewan	Scrimmage	Phillips
McHaddie	"	Kennedy
W. Snowdon	"	Cameron
M. Snowdon or F. Kelly.	Wings	M. Walters
Shearer	"	Pulford
Edwards	"	Boyle
Locke	"	Moore
G. Kelly	"	Ferguson
Sutherland or B. Brown.	"	Austin

The College line-up is nearly sure to be that mentioned. Montreal have one place on the wing line to fill, and some rattling good men to choose from. The Westmounts have B. Brown and M. Snowdon on the hospital list, but they may be able to play against Rough Riders. In any event, they have fast wings waiting for a vacancy on the team. Sherriff and Dick Shillington are not likely to play for the Rough Riders to-morrow, because of injuries sustained last Saturday.

YALE'S NEW TACTICS.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 28.—Under orders from the coaching staff the college team players deliberately disregarded the football rule that prohibits stealing the ball out of the hands of an opponent and yesterday made much trouble for the Yale 'varsity players. The object is to compel the 'varsity players to hold on to the ball. Several games have been lost after they seemed won by Yale, and repeatedly this year in practice much hard won ground has been lost because the ball was so easily dislodged in scrimmages. The coaches argue that if the 'varsity backs are forced continually to guard the ball they will acquire the habit and "fluky" incidents be reduced to a minimum.

Bob McCreadie, the big College veteran who will direct the Garnet and Gray Scrimmage to-morrow.

OUTREMONT'S PRACTICE.

The Outremont Rugby Club will practice to-night. All members are requested to attend. Practice to start at 8 o'clock sharp.

McGILL II. TO PLAY R.M.C.

Kingston, October 28.—The McGill intermediate football team will play the Cadets here on Saturday. The Cadets were scheduled to play in Toronto on that date but owing to the three cornered tie between Varsity 2nd, Trinity and McMaster, the I.C.R.U. executive have decided to play off the two eastern games while the Toronto tie is being decided. The Cadets will play the return game with McGill on November 5th and the winners of the series will play off with the Toronto winner which will have been decided by that time.

Montreal Won Two Out of Three Last Games Played With College

Ottawa College have had the better of Montreal for years in the Q.R.F.U. matches, and since 1901, have scored 116 points more than the M. A.A.A. team.

In 1901, Ottawa College defeated Montreal at the M.A.A.A. grounds by 17 to 2, and beat the red and black in Ottawa by 28 to 0. The Collegians in that year secured 45 points to Montreal's two.

In 1902, College beat Montreal here in the last fifteen seconds of play by 8 to 1, and beat them in Ottawa by 38 to 6, scoring forty-six points to Montreal's seven.

Last year College and Montreal split even, Montreal winning here by 6 to 5, and College in Ottawa by 10 to 9. Each team scored fifteen points in the season.

This year Montreal beat College in Ottawa, by 11 to 10.

In the seven games mentioned College has scored 116 points, to Montreal's 35, but in the last three games Montreal has scored twenty-six points to College's twenty-five.

Of the players who wore the red and black in 1901, Craig, Lessor, Jack, Burton, Kingstone and O'Brien have played for Montreal this year, as have Byrne, Gordon and McAllen, who were then with the Britannias.

Of the College team of 1901, Walters, Boucher, McCreadie, Filion, Filiatreault, O'Brien and Gleeson will be in the line-up to-morrow. Percy Molson joined the Montreal team in 1902.

The Quebec Union Leaders Had a Fine Practice Last Night

The Montreals had the most satisfactory practice of the season last night and if they work together as smoothly to-morrow, they will not be easy picking for Ottawa College. The back division was in great fettle, passing, kicking and running with great judgment, and the forward line operated like a piece of machinery. The whole team seems better balanced now than at any time this season, and is capable of playing winning football even against so mighty an organization as Ottawa College.

The seniors were opposed to the husky intermediates last evening and they had to keep going all the time. The intermediates are fast and strong and they gave their elders a valuable trying out.

The Montreals will do no more training for to-morrow's big game, but will take a well earned rest to-day. Saturday they will go on the field physically fit to battle for an hour, no matter how fast a pace is set.

Now, Montreal, dig in to-morrow from the start, and keep everlastingly hustling.

Decisions Important in Baseball World Were Reached Yesterday

Eastern League Clubs Permitted to Play Exhibition Games Next Year.

New York, Oct. 28.—The National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues yesterday added what will be known as class AA, and the national board of the association was empowered to appear before the national commission in Cincinnati in January in favor of the proposition.

Heretofore the association has consisted of classes A, B, C and D, leagues. Class A was privileged to draft players from any of the lower classes on payment of an established fee, and the two major leagues, the National and American, were privileged to draft from the association classes. In the past the fees for drafting players from the four classes were $750, $500, $300 and $250. If the national commission approves the action taken yesterday the fees for drafting from class AA, down to class D, will be $1,500, $1,000, $750, $500 and $400 respectively.

All the proposed class AA and class A leagues opposed the change, on the ground that they have lost too many players under the four class rule, and the addition would subject them to further drafting. The high fees were adopted as a sort of compromise. If approval is received by the national commission, class AA will be composed of the American Association, the Pacific Coast League and the Eastern League, and class A of the Southern and Western Leagues. All were formerly in class A, except the Southern League, which has advanced from class B.

The national board elected Geo. Tebeau, of Louisville, of the American Association, chairman, and J. I. H. Farrell, of Auburn, N.Y., of the New York State League, secretary. The other members of the board are: Eugene F. Bert, of San Francisco, president of the Pacific Coast League; Howard C. Griffith, of Jersey City, of the Eastern League; T. H. Murnane, of Boston, president of the New England League, and M. H. Kavanaugh, of Little Rock, Ark., president of the Southern League; P. T. Powers, of the Eastern League, was re-elected president of the association.

The association voted to depart from its rule not to play exhibition games outside of national agreement clubs. Games will be played with semi-professional, professional and amateur clubs when such games do not conflict with the schedule, but not with the clubs which contain black-listed players or players who are otherwise ineligible to play on national agreement clubs. Though already stringent the rule concerning the employment of "contract jumpers" was more tightly drawn in that a player who hereafter jumps a contract will be forever disqualified. It was also decided that any player farmed by an association club to another club must play with the latter through that season, and that he cannot be recalled by the club loaning him. It was voted to meet next year in San Francisco.

GOLF AND GOLFERS

THE FINAL CLUB MATCH.

The final Royal Montreal Golf Club match of the season, Benedicts vs. Bachelors, will be played at Dixie on Saturday afternoon.

OPEN GOLF TOURNAMENT.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 28.—Miss Georgiana Bishop, of the Brooklawn Club, Bridgeport, and Miss Pauline Mackey, of the Oakley Club, Boston, meet here to-day for first honors in the open golf tournament for women. These two players worked their way to the finals through consistent playing at all times yesterday, though the strong wind at times made it difficult for the golfers, especially in their long games, their drives and brassy shots being checked on many occasions.

Miss Bishop, the United States champion, met Mrs. T. H. Polhemus, of Englewood, in the semi-final match, which was one of the most interesting of the tournament thus far. Mrs. Polhemus started off well, and at one time during the outward journey was two up on her opponent. Later in the match she met with hard luck, two of her drives going out of bounds. Miss Bishop's steadier game told in the long run, and she finished the match one up.

Miss Pauline Mackey, of the Oakley Club, defeated Mrs. Lefferts, of Englewood, five up and four to play.

Yesterday afternoon the golfers had a chance to show their skill in driving, approaching and putting, special prizes being awarded to the winners of each competition. Miss Van Ostrand, of Watertown, N.Y., won the driving contest, with a total of 430 yards in three balls. The approaching and putting contest was won by Mrs. J. H. Judd, of Springfield.

GRAND TRUNK HARRIER CLUB.

A meeting of the above club was held at their club room last night for the purpose of electing a captain and other business. Mr. Fred. Kearns, so well known to harriers, was elected to the position, with Mr. Chas. Mason as assistant captain. The conditions under which the road races are to be held on Saturday, November 12th, will make the race open to all harrier clubs, are as follows:

Race to start from the Grand Trunk Boating Club at 3 p.m. sharp.

Course to be two and a half miles out the Lower Lachine Road and return.

Each team to consist of six men and the entry fee shall be $1.50 per team.

Entries will be received up till noon on Thursday, November 10th.

As the Grand Trunk boys are doing their utmost to bring this sport to the front, they are looking forward to a large turnout on this occasion, as this is the first road race to be held under the auspices of this club.

Harvey Pulford, who, it is considered, is playing the best Wing Game for the Rough Riders this Fall.

BOWLING

ROYAL BOWLERS' AMBITIONS.

At a practice match of the Royal Club's players, rolled on their own alley, the following excellent score was made:—

Labelle	199	207	226—632
Lajoie	156	181	216—553
Morin	206	166	186—558
Kieffer	163	184	230—577
Lebeau	169	163	179—511
De Tonnancourt	165	172	179—516
			3,347

The Royals will make application this season to enter the senior league, and hope to be accepted. They are very anxious to prove themselves worthy of membership.

A WALKING CONTEST.

A walking contest will be one of the features of Thanksgiving Day again this year. The first was inaugurated last year by some prominent Westmount athletes among them being James Wilson, and Mellville and Walter Snowdon. The event was so popular that it has been decided to make it an annual event. The course will be around the two mountains. Entries should be made with the secretary at Westmount Gymnasium enclosing 50 cents.

Saturday is "Opening" Day.

2238 St. Catherine St.—Gentlemen,

The New Uptown Home of

"MALE ATTIRE" Tailored Clothes

It seems that there is room in Montreal for a store handling the better clothing.

It seems that Montreal men appreciate fine tailoring—exclusive patterns—and perfect-fitting garments.

In fact, so many men are buying "Male Attire" Clothes, that our down town store (opened only a month ago), cannot handle all the business.

In order to accommodate the steadily growing demand for "Male Attire" Clothes, we will open an uptown store at 2238 St, Catherine Street, opposite Victoria Street.

WE'VE THOUGHT OF THE BOYS, TOO.

Put in a complete stock of Boys' Clothes. So complete that the sizes fit all boyish figures—the styles "catch their fancy"—and the prices suit the mothers' pocketbooks.

"Male Attire" Suits and Overcoats for men.....$10.00 to $30
"Male Attire" Suits and Overcoats for boys..... $2.50 to $15
"Rigby" Rain Coats—guaranteed rainproof.....$10.00 to $25

OUR OPENING "SPECIAL."

In order to introduce the new store's values, we will sell 50 pairs of our regular $4.00 Trousers—to-morrow only—for..... $2.50

Two Stores: 2238 St. Catherine Street. Cor. Craig & St. Peter Sts.

GRIDIRON ECHOES

Indications are that a record crowd will attend to-morrow's game.

Nagle's friends from McGill will watch his playing with interest.

Loyola College defeated Montreal High School yesterday by 6 to 0.

It will be one of the greatest games in the history of the Quebec Union.

Ottawa College has been very fortunate in having a limited hospital list this fall.

Montreal boys should try to get a yell to offset the Ottawa College spasms.

Stuart Rayside's foot no longer gives him any trouble and he will be able to play to-morrow.

Montreal II. and Shamrocks will put up a great game at the Shamrock grounds to-morrow.

Rouge Gamble, McGill's crack miler, used to be the idol of the football team of Trinity College School.

Queen's back division will be very light on Saturday, but showed rare speed in their game against McGill.

If the Rough Riders had a centre half like Arthur Ross, they wouldn't have lost many points this season.

Joe Gleeson has recovered from the injuries received in last Saturday's game, and will play at centre half for College.

Lalley, the big recruit from McMaster, is developing into a good wing man and may figure on Varsity's team against Queen's on Saturday.

Hal Walters and Kearns wil be relied on by College to do the line buckling. Kearns hits the line low and hard and is a consistent ground-gainer.

Queen's Association football team accompanied the Rugbyites to Toronto to-day to play a game with the Varsity Association team on Saturday morning.

Upper Canada College team is showing improved form, and will be in great shape for their match Saturday at U.C.C. when they meet Trinity College School.

Harold Beatty is expected back at Varsity in a few days and the football management are counting on his assistance in the balance of their scheduled games.

Now if it were any other University but that of Toronto, the Queen City papers would express wonder that Harold Beattie should return at such an opportune time.

St. Andrew's College meet Ridley College, at St. Catherines Saturday.

"Bessie" Bonnell is in active training again and should strengthen Varsity's line considerably.

Pete Jermyn was not out with Varsity last night. He has quite recovered from his accident at Peterborough on Saturday, and will be with the blue and white against Queen's on Saturday.

Peterborough Examiner—It was cheering to the Rugby enthusiast to see Chris Graham in the game on Saturday. Chris is one of the best quarter-backs in the business and as a tackler cannot be beaten. He will greatly strengthen the team.

It Harold Beatty returns to Varsity, and the chances are that he will, the collegians will have the same great back division that played on the team last year. With Laing, Baldwin, Beatty, McPherson, and Biggs back of the line there should be something doing in college football whenever the Varsity team plays.

Lehigh's players did not fare so well in the game with Princeton on Saturday. "Shine" Kirk, the plucky little full back and the only Lehigh player who could consistently gain against the Tigers, had his right ankle fractured in a scrimmage; Left Half Back Steiner had his collar bone fractured, and several other players got painful bruises.

Minneapolis, Oct. 28.—President Cyrus Northrop, of the University of Minnesota, has received a telegram from President Francis, of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, formally inviting the Minnesota football team to play the Michigan football team for the Western football championship in the stadium at St. Louis on a date yet to be set.

MISCELLANEOUS

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 28.—President Eliot and the corporation of Harvard University have determined that all athletic contests shall be perfectly free to all Harvard students without any cost to them whatsoever as soon as the stadium is paid for. Now the price of admission to all the minor games, and this for the poorest seats, is fifty cents, for the bigger games, except Yale and Penn. $1, for these $2. The price of admission to the baseball game is correspondingly high. By buying special tickets the cost of going to all the football and baseball games and track meets can be kept down to $10 for students.

It will not take more than three years to pay off the debt on the stadium, and then many a needy student at Harvard, who otherwise could not get inside the big stadium, will see his college team play.

SPORTING NOTES

The contest for the championship of the Ottawa Golf Club has narrowed down to Messrs. A. Z. Palmer and T. Mackarell.

The annual complimentary euchre of the Athenaeum Hockey Club was held on Wednesday evening and was a decided success. Mr. Wood and Mr. F. Brophy won the head prizes, while Mr. S. Duggan won the "booby" prize.

Brantford is to have its rink for sure this year, as the contract for an $18,000 structure has been let. Work will be commenced at once, and it is expected that the building will be completed by December 15, and will be a most spacious and up-to-date structure. The ice space will be 175x175 feet, and the capacity will be 3,500, 1,200 seated and 1,800 standing. Also four curling rinks will be provided.

The Woodstock Sentinel-Review says: "The 'winter girl' is beginning to get busy, and a movement is on foot to form a ladies' hockey club. The only drawback the timid ones are finding is the question as to who shall be the manager, and since it has been thought best to have a gentlemen the applications are numerous."

After much heated wrangling Eddie Graney has been chosen to referee the Gans-Britt fight, which takes place next Monday. The only stipulation otherwise made was that a $1,000 forfeit be posted as a guarantee that Spider Kelly, who will act as second for Britt, shall not give audible advice to his principal while the latter is in the ring.

Stocks and Money.

STOCKS ON THE UP GRADE TO-DAY AND THE WAR SCARE IS LESS OF A FACTOR

Although London felt a little nervous over the war situation early this morning and prices were on the soft side for a time the feeling became much more cheerful as the morning progressed.

New York in particular was in a much better frame of mind and Wall Street circulated many messages over the Montreal wires to the effect that "insiders" claim the crisis is over.

"The King has gone to the Newmarket races," said one wire and this evidently indicated that His Majesty is not losing any sleep.

The volume of trading in Wall Street showed quite a considerable falling off compared with yesterday, the sales to noon amounting to only 643,000 shares practically only two-thirds of the business done yesterday.

Strength was the chief feature of the market, however, and Canadian Pacific and the "Soo" Ry. stocks were very prominent all day. Pacific sold as high as 129 1-2 ex-rights after opening in the vicinity of 128 1-8. The rights rose from 5 1-4 to 5 5-8, with fair transactions.

Montreal Street Railway held around 215 and on the whole there was very little comment over the reverse the Company received yesterday at the hands of the property holders in Maisonneuve. The existing franchise still has nineteen years to run and it was on this account that the people on the Street declined to take the matter anyway seriously.

Power held firm around 82 3-4 and the remainder of the list was mainly strong.

The steel shares seem to be taking quite a breathing spell just now with the bonds and stocks showing a slightly easier tone.

The sales to noon in Wall Street today amounted to 643,700 shares.

The production of coal in Canada has maintained a steady increase of tonnage for the past ten years, during which time the output of Canadian mines has increased from 3,783,499 tons to 7,996,634 tons. For about fifty years Nova Scotia has been a producer of coal, but it is only lately that there has been any marked expansion in the production. There are now about twenty shipping companies in that province and all of them report greatly increased production, and it is stated on good authority that the exporting of coal to England will, before long, be a great factor in the trade. In the West there are ten coal producing companies, with a capacity of 2,500,000 tons for this year, and at least five other companies are developing.

NOON LETTER.

A noon letter to Mr. C. D. Monk said: The market has turned completely from yesterday's weak one and has been very strong all day. The coal stocks have been the features and Lackawana, Delaware & Hudson, Reading and Erie advanced rapidly. Some hesitancy displayed in rangers. Some more gold expected to go out next week, but money market does not harden to any extent and this is regarded as favorable. Canadian Pacific and the Soo stocks were among the strong features of the early session. The latter showing a gain of over 3 per cent. in the common and 2 per cent. in the preferred.

CONSOS RALLIED.

Noon Letter.—More reassuring advices from London and a rally in consols caused a better opening here, and the market has shown very marked and ecided strength throughout the entire list during the first two hours of trading. Erie early became a prominent feature. It was bought quite urgently by London and advanced easily on large transaction without any special news on the property. The strength of Erie spread to the high-priced coalers like D. & H., and D. L., the latter of which advanced fifteen points in less than fifteen minutes. O. & W. and Reading also rallied sharply. In the rest of the list strength and advances have been very uniform. There is very conservative feeling amongst traders, which has tended to make tarnsactions somewhat on a smaller scale than have been accustomed to of late.—E. & C. Randolph.

How Nor. Securities Case Really Stands

Those who believe that the Northern Securities dispute has essentially been settled understand perfectly well that the litigation now pending is to be pushed to a decision. The mistake that most people make is in assuming that a decision in this case would of itself make a final settlement. The real settlement—and that which is believed by many to have been practically reached—comes after the courts have determined the ownership of Northern Pacific and Great Northern stocks, now in the treasury of the Northern Securities Company. It is at this point that the money question comes in and it is essentially a question of money and not of anything else. Denials of the most strenuous character that any agreement whatever exists as to the ultimate ownership of these stocks can be had for the asking of both sides of the dispute. There is no reason whatever to suppose that any step has been taken to end the litigation, nor is it easy to see how it could be ended save by a decision back of all these. However, there is a very strong belief that when the decision is made a settlement will follow upon lines which are now practically laid down and thoroughly understood by the protagonists in the fight.

It will probably be found, eventually that Rockefeller influence has been dominant in bringing about a settlement.

Country Produce.

Eggs—There is nothing new to note in the situation, except that the foreign demand for cold storage stock is improving. The local demand for straight gathered stock is fairly good at 21c to 21 1-2c per doz. Good straight cold storage stock is quoted at 19c to 19 1-2c in a wholesale way. Selected in a jobbing way are firmly held at 24c, and Montreal limed at 20c doz. Eight hundred and forty-seven cases arrived this morning, mostly for export.

Beans—There is a fair demand for small lots at firm prices. Choice primes, $1.40 to $1.45, and seconds at $1.30 to $1.35 per hundred.

Honey—There is nothing new to note at a slow demand. We quote: Extracted white clover honey, 7 3-4c to 8c per 10-lb. tin; 7c to 7 3-4c per 60-lb. tin; buckwheat honey, 6c to 7c, and white clover comb, 10c to 11 1-2c lb.

Maple Product—The market is dull, with prices unchanged at: Syrup, in 15 gal. casks, 5 1-4c to 5 1-2c lb.; in tins, 55c to 60c per wine measure; 70c to 75c for imperial, and Beauce sugar, 8c to 10c lb.

Potatoes—There is a good steady demand, with prices unchanged. Car lots of choice stock are sold at 55c to 65c per bag, and in a jobbing way at 70c to 75c per bag.

Hops—The demand is slow in a quiet market. We quote: Choice Canadian, 33c to 35c, and fairto good, 28c to 31c lb.

Potash—There is a stronger tone in the market, and sales are increasing. We quote: First sorts, $5.95 to $5.97 1-2; seconds, $5.60; first pearls are wanted at $7.50.

Wheat in Manitoba

Winnipeg.—The weather is still broken and unsettled, raining nearly every day, making threshing slow work. It is not more than half done. Farmers have their grain all stacked, however, and Eastern laborers brought in for harvest and threshing are going home owing to the loss of time by bad weather. Wheat arrivals are running from 250 to 300 cars per day at Winnipeg, a good deal of it damp. Latest official estimates of the crop are placed at 59,000,000, against 58,000,000 last year. Prices are still above an export basis. A press despatch reports 1,930 cars of wheat inspected at Winnipeg, the past week, against 1,121 last year. A good deal is being stored in country elevators. The Canadian Pacific reported 3,286,000 bushels marketed the first half of the month, against 2,672,000 bushels last year, and including the Canadian Northern and the September marketings, the total is estimated at about 5,000,000 bushels. The grade is expected to improve, as the arrivals begin to come in from Northwestern sections.

"Street" Gossip.

Farmers in West Waiting for Even Higher Wheat Prices

The Board of Trade grain men have received advices from the West that the farmers are storing a large portion of their wheat in terminal elevators with a view to even higher prices than now ruling. A Winnipeg advice reads: "For twenty-four days in October, 1904, 6,118,000 bushels were marketed, against 5,537,000 in 1903. Up till October 24, 1903, cars loaded from elevators numbered 3,399, while those loaded direct numbered 328. During corresponding period of this year cars loaded from elevators numbered 4,280, while those loaded direct number 445." The Wall Street Journal says: "The Canadian Northwest is a section of the country where great hopes have been realized. The volume of grain moving in the Canadian Northwest is notable. The railroads are receiving requests from points that never produced a ton of freight in the past calling now for cars at the rate of from five to fifteen a day. A good deal of the Canadian wheat is going into elevators and barns throughout the wheat belt, and this indicates that the railroads will have pretty steady traffic so long as it is possible to move wheat on the all rail route." The New York paper, referring to the advance in grain rates by the American trunk lines, observes: "The most important phase of this traffic development is probably to be found in the fact that it will throw the great bulk of American export grain into other channels, namely, via the Mississippi route through New Orleans and Galveston, and more particularly to Grand Trunk and the Canadian waterways. Grand Trunk, as the leading winter grain route from Chicago to the sea, through Ontario, should handle during the coming winter, if these rates are maintained on the trunk lines, about all the grain for which it has capacity."

Twin City Shows Decrease in Surplus

The Twin City earnings for the nine months show a very satisfactory increase in gross, but a pronounced gain in expenses. The net for the period, however, shows a fair gain, but the surplus on the other hand shows the effect of the increase in fixed charges. British Cotton Trade

The Lancashire cotton trade is at present picking up decidedly, in exports at least. British cotton piece goods exports in September were 471,348,000 yards, worth £5,452,000, against 372,430,200 yards, worth £4,033,000, a year before. This is a good showing in the world's markets in view of the handicap of dear raw material.

Local Ocean Freights

There has been a fairly steady demand for ocean grain room of late, which has been principally from Western shippers and all the space for the balance of the season from this port to Avonmouth, Antwerp, Leith, Belfast and Dublin has been let, but there is still some London room offering at 1s for November, Glasgow at 1s 3d; Manchester at 9d and Liverpool at 9d.

Flour.—Liverpool, 5s per 100 lb.; Glasgow, 8s; London, 7s; Bristol, 9s; Belfast, 11s 3d; Leith, 11s 3d; Aberdeen, 1st 3d; Dublin, 11s 6d; Manchester, 7s 6d; Antwerp, 9s.

Cheese.—Liverpool, 20s per ton; London, 25s; Glasgow, 26s 3d; Leith, 25s; Aberdeen, 25s; Bristol, 25s; Dublin and Belfast, 25s; Manchester, 20s.

Sugar Prices

The selling prices now are as follows: Extra granulated, $4.55; Phoenix, $4.45; bright coffee, $4.35; bright yellow, $4.30; No. 3 do., $4.25; No. 2 do., $4; No. 1 do., $3.95; extra ground, $4.90; powdered, $4.70; and Paris lumps, $5.05 per 100 lbs., in barrels and boxes, and granulated, in bags, 10c per 100 lbs. less than the above figures.

Hogs and Provisions

The demand from butchers for small lots of fresh-killed, abattoir-dressed stock was fairly good, and sales were made at $7 to $7.50, and country-dressed at $6.75 to $7 per 100 lb. The demand for lard is fairly good and sales of some fair-sized lots were made at steady prices. The trade in pork is fair, but the tone of the market is easy, owing to the recent reduction in the price of hogs. The movement of hams and bacon is about up to the average for the season.

Flour Prices

The Ogilvie Flour Mills Company quotes the following prices.

Royal Household	$5.80
Glenora patent	5.50
Bran, per ton	19.00
Shorts per ton	21.00

CHEESE PRICES SHOW DECIDED UPWARD TENDENCY AT THE COUNTRY BOARDS

A despatch from Brockville says:—"At a lively meeting of the cheese board this afternoon the bidding was brisk and prices showed a decided upward tendency. Notwithstanding the lateness of the season the registrations amounted to 1,645 boxes, of which 1,085 were colored, and the remainder white. Virkley, an American buyer, took the first call at 9c. The salesmen would not entertain this figure, and Virkley again set the pace, finally reaching 9¼c, which resulted in many sales. The other buyers also took a hand in the game, and before adjournment the following sales were made: Virkley, 120; Derbyshire, 135; Webster, 345; Bissell, 40; Earle, 55. Factorymen who held for curb deals sold out at the board price. In all about 3,500 boxes changed hands. Another week will see the majority of the factories closed. Throughout this section there was a heavy fall of snow, to the depth of four inches in some places."

Vankleek Hill, Oct. 27.—There were 1,313 boxes of cheese boarded here, of which 180 were colored; all sold at 9c, except 666 boxes, which were held for higher prices. McRae bought 301; McGregor got 69; Fraser got 160; Bennett got 97; six buyers present, McGregor, McRae, Weegar, Pitt, Bennett, Fraser.

Kingston, Ont., Oct. 27.—There were 870 boxes registered at the cheese board to-day and 280 were sold at 9c. The balance sell on the curb at 9c. The board adjourned for two weeks. Nearly all the factories will close during the first week in November.

Wheat and Corn Were Both Lower

The wheat market in Chicago was on the down grade to-day and corn was also easier. The war scare seems to have exploded for the time being. The various options in Chicago to-day were quoted as follows:

Wheat in Winnipeg

Winnipeg, Oct. 28.—(Special.)—Wheat weak and sharply lower, following break at Minneapolis and lack of demand here. Low grade stuff in demand, but little offering. October, 98 1-2c; November, 97 1-2c; December, 95 1-8c; May, $1.00. Cash prices: No. 1 northern, 98 3-4c; No. 2 northern, 95 1-4c; No. 3 northern, 90 1-2c; No. 4 extra, 85c; No. 4, 83 1-2c; feed, 60 1-4c. Receipts:—Wheat, 300 cars; one year ago, 299 cars.

Grain, Flour, Hay

Grain—The foreign demand for Manitoba spring wheat has not improved, although the tone of the cable advices are stronger, owing, probably, to the development of the war situation. There is a slight improvement in the foreign demand for oats, but owing to the bidding being still out of line no business was done. The spot market, however, is fairly active, and there is a good demand for local consumption. Buckwheat is in steady demand. We quote: No. 2 white oats, 38 1-2 to 38 3-4c; No. 3 at 37 1-2c to 37 3-4c, ex store. For export, No. 2 white oats, 37c to 37 1-2c; No. 2 peas, 74c to 75c; No. 2 barley, 54 1-2c to 55c; No. 3 extra, 53 1-2c to 54c, and No. 3, 52 1-2c to 53c afloat.

Flour — The demand from foreign sources for Manitoba spring wheat grades continues, and bids are more satisfactory. Some business is being done. There is also an improvement in the demand from country buyers, and the general volume of business is fair. There is a steady demand for Ontario brands in small lots. We quote: Manitoba spring wheat patents, $5.80; strong bakers, $5.50; winter wheat patents, $5.70 to $5.80; straight rollers, $5.40 to $5.50; straight rollers, in bags, $2.50 to $2.65.

Millfeed—There is a good export demand for bran, and fairly large sales are taking place. The local demand is also fairly active. We quote: Manitoba bran, in bags, $17 to $18; shorts, $21 per ton; Ontario bran, in bulk, $17 to $18; shorts, $19 to $20, and moullie, $24 to $28 per ton.

Rolled Oats—The volume of business passing is fair, and there is a steady tone in the market, with sales at $2.30 to $2.32 1-2 per bag, and at $4.90 for barrels.

The demand for cornmeal is fair at $1.35 to $1.45 per bag.

Baled Hay—There is no change in the market, which remains at a good, steady demand for No. 1 at $8.50 to $9; No. 2, $7.50 to $8; clover mixed, $6.50 to $7; and pure clover, in car lots, $6 to $6.50 per ton.

Baled Hay—The demand is fairly good in a fim market. We quote: No. 1, $8.50 to $9; No. 2, $7.50 to $8; clover mixed, $6.50 to $7; and pure clover, $6 to $6.50 per ton, in car lots.

Apple Prices

Messrs. Woodall & Co. cabled Eben James: 10,000 barrels sold; market active and higher. Greenings, 9s 6d to 10s 6d; Baldwins, 10s to 12s 6d; Spies, 13s to 15s; Russets, 14s to 15s 6d; Kings, 13s to 16s 6d; seconds, 2s less.

Cheese and Butter

Cheese—The market still remains in an irregular condition, owing to the continued stubborness of both buyers and sellers to agree as to a proper price basis. The export demand is not great, but there are orders on the market that would mean fair turnovers if shippers could find it possible to work at the given limits. We quote: Finest Ontario colored, 9½c to 9⅝c; Ontario white, 9⅜c to 9½c; Townships, 9¼c to 9⅜c; Quebec, 9⅛c to 9¼c; and Summer goods, 8⅜c lb. At the country boards last week 30,000 boxes were offered, against 43,600 for the corresponding week last year, a decrease of 13,600 boxes, or over 31 per cent. The exports last week increased 22,864 boxes, being 95,882, against 72,958, a gain of 31 per cent. The exports for the season to date show a decrease of 15 per cent. as compared with this time last year, being 1,791,463 boxes, against 2,132,693 in 1903, a decrease of 341,257 boxes.

Butter—There is no actual change in the market. The cable enquiry is not very good, although some business is being done, coupled with a jobbing local demand. We quote: Townships unsalted creamery, 18¾c; do., salted, 19¼c to 19½c in boxes, and in tubs 18¾c to 19c; under grades, 18c to 18½c; dairy butter, 15c to 16c.

Foreign Crops

Liverpool — Broomhall's Liverpool Corn Trade News says: In the United Kingdom, France and Germany fall seeding is progressing favorably. In Italy and Spain, weather generally seasonable. Roumania-Hungary, winter crops starting well. Russia, weather conditions favorable.

U. S. Mills to Grind Our Wheat in Bond

It is understood that the Washburn-Crosby Milling Co., as well as the Pillsbury-Washburn Co., has applied for permission to bond one of its mills and elevators for the purpose of grinding Manitoba wheat.

The Washburn-Crosby Co. is reported to have bought 1,000,000 bushels of Manitoba wheat, and it is believed that a large amount will be ground in bond. There has been a small amount of Manitoba wheat sold for domestic consumption and duty of 25c per bushel has been paid. Manitoba wheat prices are a little too high for much of this, but with Minneapolis Dec. 121, at which price it sold Monday, the difference is small.

The Washburn-Crosby Co. tried grinding Manitoba wheat in bond for a short time a few years ago, but it was not profitable enough to keep it up.

CANADA'S BEST READY-MADE CLOTHING FOR MEN

WHY?

"One of the Public" writes: "I can understand manufacturers being 'keenly desirous of having a range of their wares represented in Scroggie's stocks, but I cannot comprehend why they should still further reduce 'close prices' to accomplish their purpose."

We rise to explain.

Montreal's Best Store is doing by far the largest business of any store in Montreal in every branch within its scope. The largest business necessitates the largest stocks, involves the purchase of the biggest quantities, the widest variety. And big orders—particularly the biggest—is well worth making special efforts—granting substantial concessions—to secure.

That's good logic, and good business, too, isn't it?

SOLD AT "THE STORE OF SATISFACTION."

There'd be no object in "changing your tailor" if we didn't give equal results for less money, or better clothing for the same money that you've heretofore paid. See—inspect our clothing—institute comparisons, be convinced of the advantages of a change; —of the advantages—price, style and quality advantages—by making all future purchases of Clothing here.
