SOVIETS PREPARING DRIVE TO DNEIPER RIVER

Strong German Counter-Drive Meets Failure

Russians Devote Attention to Mopping-Up Operations in Donets Basin Area as Preliminary to Launching New Drive Toward Dnieper River, Where Germans Are Expected to Make New Effort at Resistance.

By EDDY GILMORE.
Associated Press Staff Writer
Moscow, Feb. 22.—(AP)—Mopping-up operations in the Donets Basin have carried the Red army into numerous towns about fifty miles South and Southwest of Voroshilovgrad, the Russians said today, while far to the West Soviet columns were reported poised for a thirty-four-mile march to the Dnieper river after capturing Pavlograd and Krasnodar.

The Russians also announced their drives West of Rostov, North of Kursk toward Orel, and West of Krasnodar toward the Black Sea coast were rolling forward.

An early communique said nothing about the Dnieper Valley threat, where the Russian troops were last reported beyond Krasnodar, sixty miles Southwest of Kharkov.

But it told of the capture of Bokovo-Antratski, a coal centre and railway station, and of Upper Nongolch, a large town, in the drive closing around German garrisons remaining in the East-Central areas of the Donets coal country.

Elsewhere in the Donets basin, bitter fighting again was reported South of Krasnodar, where a Soviet pincer was thrust toward the industrial zone of Stalino. In this area a large German tank force was repulsed as it tried to regain lost ground and the fighting, the Russians said, was extremely violent with the Germans suffering heavy losses.

A Soviet special communique on Saturday night announced the taking of Pavlograd and Krasnodar, major rail junctions.

From the first, the Russians could strike toward Dnieperpetrovsk, in the upper bend of the Dnieper river, or down the railroad toward Zaporozhe, on the Western bank of the river. South of Dnieperpetrovsk, from the Krasnodar, the column could point toward Poltava, an important rail junction.

The victorious Soviet forces continued fighting West without time to rest or count their war trophies, the Russians said. Southeast and South of Krasnodar also fell to the troops as they cleared Kharkov Province of enemy forces.

Russian troops in the Krasnoarmeisk sector, North of Stalino in the Donets basin, dealt out heavy punishment to a German tank force that managed to smash into the Soviet lines, the Russian midday communique recorded by the Soviet radio monitor in London said.

(The Russians announced they

Drive Against Black Market in United States Beef Trade Opens

Washington, Feb. 22.—(AP)—Amid signs that the United States meat supply situation is less favorable than had been forecast, the Government today speeded action to halt illegal slaughter of cattle and hogs and to stop black-market operations.

Agriculture Secretary Claude Wickard, the Food Administrator, is expected to announce within a day or two a plan to license livestock slaughterers and to require farmers to sell only to such slaughterers or their agents.

Denouncing black markets as "nothing short of treason," Price Administrator Prentiss Brown called in a broadcast last night for public support in the campaign to stamp them out.

"The Nazis and Fascists may not be able to sabotage our war plants or bomb our industrial centres," he said, "but their able assistants—the operators of the black markets—contribute most effectively by helping to wreck American health, morale and economy."

Brown said poisoned meats already are making their appearance. "Control of this phase is practically impossible," he added, "and large sections of our population may become infected."

ALL AIRCRAFT RETURNED FROM LATEST ATTACK

German Submarine Manufacturing Centre of Bremen Again Receives Close Attention from Royal Air Force.

London, Feb. 22.—(AP)—The German port of Bremen was heavily attacked by R.A.F. bombers last night in a raid from which all bombers returned, it was announced today. Canadian personnel flew in some of the British bombers.

An Air Ministry communique said: "Last night Bremen was heavily attacked by our bombers. None of our aircraft is missing."

It was the first raid on Bremen since last October 20 when British Mosquito bombers struck that city along with Wilhelmshaven and Hannover.

Wilhelmshaven has borne the brunt of the R.A.F.'s most recent raids on Germany, last Thursday night and again on Friday night.

No raids were reported on the Continent Saturday night.

The promptness of the Air Ministry's announcement of the raid indicated the great harbor city had

Indian Situation Contains Much Potential Dynamite For Affairs Of United Nations, Writer Finds

This is the first of ten daily articles on the Indian situation by Dewitt Mackenzie, Associated Press War Analyst. Press war analyst, just returned from a five-months tour of most of the war zones. During the last six weeks, Mackenzie has been in India making an intensive study of the developments there. He has been a close student of Indian affairs since 1916.

There are five hundred orthodox ways of committing suicide, and then there is the 501st method, which is for the outsider to project himself into the violent controversy growing out of the Indian Nationalist demand for purna swajai—absolute independence from Britain.

Intrusion in family quarrels is at best a dangerous experiment, and the British-Indian imbroglio is the most volcanic of our time. In undertaking to expose the skeleton in the closet, therefore, I am proceeding with the full knowledge that I am likely to incur the displeasure and censure of both my British and my Indian friends.

Lost American Battalion Stages Daring March Through Nazi Line

By ROSS MUNRO.
Associated Press War Correspondent
Tunisia, Feb. 21.—(delayed)—(AP cable)—With fortitude, discipline and daring, the American "Lost Battalion of Lessouda" has made its way nine miles through German lines after being cut off by a Nazi attack a week ago.

Five-hundred strong they came back. They had fought a battle on the plains; they had been encircled on a hill position at Lessouda, half way between Faid and Sheilla, and their courage and resolution they passed at night in one long column straight through German-held territory.

They even brought twelve German prisoners with them. "It was a big gamble, one of those 100-to-1 chances that clicked," said Maj. Robert Moore of Vallesca, Iowa, who led the battalion out. This infantry unit perpetuates a regiment in a famous American division of the First Great War. Now it is being reformed and re-equipped while getting a breather behind the lines after exploits which included the landing at Algiers, the battles of Smed and the Lessouda adventure.

WOULD APPEAL JUDGMENTS OF COURT MARTIAL

Defence Counsel Announces Intention to Carry Case of Eight Quebec Men to Proper Authorities.

Quebec, Feb. 22.—(AP)—Antoine Rivard, K.C., will appeal judgments convicting eight of nine Canadian medical officers and men who he defended at a recent general court martial here and whose sentences were announced last night by Brig. E. A. Blas, Officer Commanding Military District No. 5.

Capt. G. A. Grondin, forty-three, of Quebec drew the stiffest penalty, being sentenced "to be dismissed from His Majesty's service" after being convicted of having accepted sums of money during the performance of military duties.

Maj. Ludovic Lavallee, fifty-two, of Neuville, Que., was sentenced to forfeiture of seniority of rank for one year and to a severe reprimand on charges of having accepted and shared sums of money, while Maj. ### New Nazi Armored Drive Designed As Crippling Blow For British Force British and American Tank Forces in Day and Night Battle with German Force Seeking to Smash British 1st Army Before 8th Army Breaches Mareth Line—More Serious Than Original Breakthrough.

By WES GALLAGHER
Associated Press Staff Writer
Allied Headquarters, North Africa, Feb. 22.—(AP)—Driven back with a loss of fourteen tanks in thrusts for Tebessa, Field Marshal Rommel launched a powerful armored drive North from the Kasserine Pass area today toward the great Krenama plateau in a desperate attempt to deal a crippling blow to the British 1st Army.

While the Middle East communique reported only scattered air activity, British and American mechanized forces engaged in a day and night battle against seventy of Rommel's tanks eight miles from the key city of Thala.

Fighting aircraft attacked enemy tanks and vehicles to assist in the frustration of German operations South of Sibia, although weather conditions generally restricted air operations.

It may prove to be the critical engagement of the campaign.

Thala is a gateway to the huge plateau, which has been a battlefield in various wars for a thousand years.

Should Rommel smash the Allied forces he would be able to send his columns out in a dozen directions over perfect tank country for 100 square miles.

British and United States forces knocked out fourteen Nazi tanks during heavy fighting yesterday and last night under a bright moon, but one German column of more than seventy tanks thrust to within eight miles of Thala, a junction in the Allied lines.

On the edge of a vast plateau eight miles from Thala, British and United States forces were engaged in a night battle with a German column, with the issue still in doubt.

The Thala drive started early today—too late to be included in the daily communique.

In the earlier actions against Sibia, about twenty German tanks took the road from the pass and about thirty struck out along the Hach river valley.

Reports of the subsequent action show the Germans first drove Westward (a manoeuvre suggesting an offensive against the Algerian city of Tebessa, forty miles from Kasserine) with about fifty tanks and, when this failed, they well under way, sent their major force North straight for Thala.

Gambing for time against the great Allied pincers threatening his army, Rommel sent his infantry and armored units plunging into Kas-

Gandhi Weathers Another Crisis Although Condition Gets Weaker

New Delhi, Feb. 22.—(AP)—Mandas K. Gandhi weathered a crisis Sunday in the twelfth day of his twenty-one day fast and today, a Government bulletin issued in Bombay said, he appeared more comfortable and more cheerful. His heart, however, was weaker.

The report, signed by six doctors, said the Hindu ascetic entered the crisis at 4 p.m. Sunday.

"He was seized with severe nausea and almost fainted and his pulse became nearly imperceptible," it said.

Violent Charges Of Hepburn Are Dismissed By Finance Minister

Ottawa, Feb. 22.—(AP)—A vigorous defence of the Federal Government's policy in curtailing liquor manufacture and sale was issued last night by Finance Minister Ilsley, replying to charges made by Mitchell Hepburn, Ontario Provincial Treasurer, that the Federal Government had failed in its promise not to touch liquor revenues.

Mr. Hepburn's charges, made in a speech to the Ontario Legislature last Friday, included assertions that Dominion authorities were "despoilers" and "men without honor."

Replying in a lengthy statement to the press, Mr. Ilsley said: "The statement that we are despoilers is simply absurd—the kind of nonsense that is amusing for a while but finally becomes tiresome."

Mr. Hepburn read a letter from the Finance Minister written in January, 1940, saying the Dominion Government did not intend to enter the field of regulation of sale of alcoholic beverages or treat it as other

London, Feb. 22.—(AP)—The British people, in Sunday meetings, joined in tributes to Russia's Red Army which observes its twenty-fifth anniversary tomorrow and heard their leaders voice hopes of continued co-operation in the peace to follow a triumphant war.

The King announced in a message to the Parliament of Russia that he was having a sword of honor prepared for presentation to the City of Stalingrad "to mark the profound admiration felt by myself and the peoples of the British Empire."

"My hope would be that this gift might commemorate in happier times to come the inflexible courage with which the warrior city steeled herself against the powerful and persistent onslaughts of her assailants and that it might be a token of the admiration not only of the British people but of the whole civilized world."

Premier Joseph Stalin in a message to the British people, thanked them for celebrating the Red Army's birthday.

He said the demonstration "strengthens our confidence that the moment is near when the armed forces of our countries, by joint offensive operations, will smash our common enemy."

At Albert Hall in London, Foreign Secretary Eden told a huge crowd that "we are not only agreed to work together for utter destruction of the Axis in war—we are agreed on broad principles which underlie our collaboration in peace."

"We are agreed to build up a post-war system which shall be a negation of all Hitler's New Order standards."

TRAINING SHIP TO YIELD MUCH SCRAP

London, Feb. 22.—(AP)—The naval training ship Caledonia, formerly the Cunard liner Majestic, has been raised from the Firth of Forth to furnish nearly 40,000 tons of steel scrap for the war effort.

She sank after a fire September 29, 1939, but she was raised on the first attempt after 1,800 portholes and all openings in her hull were sealed for the project. She had been towed ashore.

About 13,000 tons of high quality steel have been removed from the hull and at her breaking-up berth it is expected she will yield 25,000 tons more.

MEMORIAL HELD FOR TWO HEROES OF SCOTSTOWN

Touching Tribute Paid to Cpl. John Arthur Coleman and Rfm. Alfred Wannacott, who Died at Hong Kong.

Scotstown, Feb. 22.—In fitting tribute to Cpl. John Arthur Coleman and Rfm. Alfred Wannacott, of Scotstown, who gave their lives in defending the British garrison at Hong Kong in December, 1941, a memorial service was held in St. Alban's Anglican Church here.

CPL. JOHN COLEMAN

Eastern battlefield, Cpl. Coleman was united in marriage to Mary Yvonne Fortier, of Scotstown, the wedding taking place in the latter part of October, 1941. A brother, Rfm. Ralph Coleman, and a nephew, Rfm. Glen Coleman, are prisoners of war in Hong Kong.

He leaves to mourn his loss, his wife, his mother, five sisters, Mrs. William Coleman, of Scotstown, Mrs. Leo Frain, of Montreal, Mrs. Alfred Capwell, of Letbridge, Alta., Mrs. George Joyce, Beck River, N.H., and Mrs. J. W. Cruso, of Newport, Vt.; four brothers, William Coleman, of Scotstown, Cpl. James Coleman, R.R.C., New Westminster, B.C., Clarence Coleman, Worcester, Mass., and Rfm. Ralph Coleman, R.R.C., Hong Kong, as well as many nieces and nephews and other relatives. He was predeceased by his father, James Coleman, and three sisters, Katie, Margaret and Janet (Mrs. Bert Pinkham).

Rfm. Alfred Wannacott was born in England but resided in Scotstown for many years with his mother, Mrs. E. Spang, and Mr. Spang. He enlisted in the Royal Rifles of Canada, giving his life for the cause of liberty and justice at Hong Kong in December, 1941. He is survived by his sisters, Mrs. Holmes, Devon, England, Mrs. Whittingstall, Southampton, England, and Mrs. Hamilton, London, England, a brother, Fred Wannacott, Ontario, and a step-father, Mr. E. Spang, Scotstown. Another brother, William, of Scotstown, predeceased him.

The memorial service, conducted by Rev. O. Berry, opened with the reading of the 25th Psalm, followed by the hymn, "Let Saints On Earth In Concert Sing," and the Scripture lesson read by F. J. Buck. Other hymns sung were "They Whose Course On Earth Is O'er," and "Peace, Perfect Peace," with Mrs. Bernard Atkin, as organist.

Speaking from the text, "Salvation to our God, Who sitteth upon the throne," Rev. Mr. Berry stated that the primary purpose is the worship of God, shown by enlistment, which leads to sacrifice in the cause of right, reminding his hearers that in the midst of sorrow there is still unity in the body of Christ, and stressed a renewal of faith in the everlasting goodness of God.

Tribute was also paid to the two young men who gave themselves that we might continue to live in safety, and urged that we go out with a definite purpose to live, more worthy of their great sacrifice.

Following the National Anthem, the congregation stood in silence, after which the quotation, "They Shall Not Grow Old," was given, and the service closed with the hymn, "O Valiant Heart," followed by the "Last Post" and "Reveille" sounded by Mr. Buck. The beautiful flowers on the altar were given by St. Alban's Guild. Mr. Bernard Atkin and Mr. Nathan Maher acted as ushers.

At Bombay, Members of the Progressive Party, which is the main opposition in the Council of State (the Upper House of the Central Legislature), walked out of the Chambers as a "protest against the policy of the Government."

The Nationalist paper, Hindustan Times, edited by one of Gandhi's sons, printed three columns of appeals for his release sponsored by commercial associations, student groups, teachers and church organizations.

A conference of Indian political leaders also assembled in New Delhi yesterday and cabled Prime Minister Churchill asking Gandhi's release.

chatter of at least twenty machine guns. They were fired down the ditches on both sides of the road, so Maj. Moore led his column right up the centre. Only a few men were hit. Moore ordered his forward platoon to keep from firing back for it would have given the secret away and endangered the column behind.

Following super discipline these men kept their heads and just plodded Westward.

Firing died down and the Germans were completely fooled on the whole move of these Americans, moving out of what seemed like an absolute impossible situation. The troops themselves were amazed at the way in which the 500-man column went along the Sheitla road.

They brought back their wounded with them and lost only between eighty and one hundred men altogether. One man who did not come back was Chaplain Gene Daniels of Atlanta, Ga. He stayed behind to care for two badly-wounded German who needed attention.

Towards the end of 1942, he continued, "it became apparent that provincial control was not preventing a huge and unanticipated increase in liquor sales."

Just after Gordon Conant became Premier of Ontario last October, succeeding Mr. Hepburn, Mr. Conant announced a special liquor law, in which he was quoted by the press as saying: "The question of curtailment in the quantity of liquor or the hours of sale is a matter over which the Dominion Government may exercise jurisdiction in a war emergency."

In December Prime Minister MacKenzie King announced curtailment as a federal measure.

These were the main points. Amount of beverage alcohol released from bond during the year beginning November 1, 1942, to be reduced by the following percentages, compared with the preceding twelve months: Beer, ten per cent; wine, twenty; spirits, thirty; prohibition of liquor advertising for the duration of the war; reduction in the alcoholic content of all distilled spirits to at least thirty per cent under-proof, effective as soon as stocks now packed are exhausted. In addition provincial governments were asked to shorten hours of sale to at most eight hours daily.

Over Target In Tunisia

These action photos of the greatest air battle to date on the Tunisian front were taken from one of the American Flying Fortresses that blasted enemy bases under escort of P-48 fighters. A "daisy chain" of flak, above, bursts close to the rudder of the photographer's plane, but the big bombers plow ahead to fulfill their mission. Below, Waist Gunner Robert Doremus, twenty, of Henrietta, Okla., who kept his guns blazing away continuously at enemy fighters during the raid. He and other gunners brought down nineteen German planes.

been attacked with unusual success. Germany's second largest aircraft and important aircraft manufacturing centre, Bremen probably found itself a renewed target for the R.A.F. principally because of its extensive submarine building yards. It previously had undergone more than one hundred raids, some of them described as "very heavy."

The German radio said British bombers dropped high explosive and incendiary bombs on a Northwestern German coastal area, but claimed that damage was "slight." The broadcast was recorded by the Associated Press.

But the British 8th Army, 150 miles to the Southeast in front of the Mareth Line, was reported in Cairo to be moving rapidly into action in a Northwest thrust which may soon demand Rommel's urgent attention.

The 8th Army, these reports said, moved into Medinina, an important communications centre in front of the Mareth Line, and only forty miles Southeast of Gabes, and then thrust North-Westward toward the village of Mareth.

THE RUSSIAN GAINS

The capture by assault of Krasnodar, Voroshilovgrad, Rostov and Kharkov in rapid succession represents an amazing triumph for the Russians and one evidently resulting more from superior tactics than weight of numbers.

Soviet troops that took Voroshilovgrad and Rostov will add weight to the direct pursuit of Germans retreating from the Donets basin and those that captured Kharkov will be available to strengthen the encircling thrust toward the river Dnieper or give fresh impetus to the offensive on the Kursk front.

The amazing mobility displayed by the Red armies is a guarantee that there will be no delay in making use of the extra forces now available. It also is safe to assume that the capture of Krasnodar and the precarious position of the Germans at Novorossisk means that the Russian army in the Western Caucasus will soon be available as a powerful offensive reserve.

The capture of so many great railway centres and their connecting lines is bound to have an immense, if more delayed, effect on development of Russian strategy. All the advantage the Germans have held in the matter of railway communications is passing rapidly to the Russians and even should the spring thaw bring partial suspension of offensive operations it will give the Russians time to restore the broad gauge of captured lines.

It is quite evident that even after the disasters of the Don and in the Caucasus the Germans still believed they could hold last winter's front with the addition of a salient stretching out toward the Donets and possibly also to the Western Caucasus. To fill the gap left by the 6th Army's defeat at Stalingrad and by the troops defeated on the Middle Don they have of course to rush up all immediately available reserves to hold the Donets line.

The capture of Rostov, Voroshilovgrad and Krasnodar involved heavy fighting and defending forces, much stronger than the normal rearguards, covered the retreat. The order to retreat was belated and something more than rearguard actions were required to gain time.

The Germans evidently plan to use all their mobile reserves to drive to Krasnoarmeisk with a view to reopening the railway interrupted at that point and to cover Stalino and other vital centres through which the bulk of the army still in the Eastern Donets area must in any case retreat. This is the territory in which fighting of vital importance is taking place.

On the whole, the situation of the Germans in the Donets basin is more critical than ever and at best they are bound to suffer immense losses in men and material should they escape complete catastrophe. The weight and mobility of the Russian pursuit from Rostov, Novocheerkassk and Likhaya has now become an important factor and operating on so wide a front it will not be easily delayed. A supreme crisis seems likely to develop in the course of the next few days.

CONGRESS BECOMES BALKY

President Roosevelt is having more difficult relations with Congress these days than at any time since he came to the White House in 1933. The new Congress, featuring a big Republican bloc and a group of anti-New Deal Democrats that can combine to defeat administration proposals, shows every sign of rebelling against what the legislators call bureaucracy or the practise of the executive branch of the Government running the country without consulting Congress.

The rebellion is aimed at the Roosevelt administration more particularly than the President himself, but some of his own pet ideas have been killed in the process.

This spirit of independence on the part of Congress represents a full swing of the political pendulum. The last Congress, in fact each congress since Mr. Roosevelt first was elected, showed a ready disposition to clothe the administration with more and more blanket authority, thereby abdicating its law-making function. But this Congress is different.

It has demonstrated that it intends to rule, that the Administration must revert to its traditional role of managing public affairs along general lines set by Congress.

This about-face on the part of Congress naturally must hinder the Roosevelt administration in many ways but old-time political observers here suggest it is a passing phase that will leave few lasting marks. They suggest that the new Congress will get over its rebelliousness but, meanwhile, Washington is in for fireworks.

JAPAN'S NEXT MOVE

The Japanese army boasts it is ready to deliver the long-delayed knockout blow against China. A spokesman in Tokyo says the legions of the Son of Heaven are prepared to "take all conceivable measures to crush Chungking resistance." That may be propaganda, to hide some other sinister design. Or it may be that the Japanese mean what they say, that they are impelled by the logic of their strategical situation to deliver their full power now against the valiant but ill-armed, virtually-isolated armies of Gen. Chiang Kai-Shek in an effort to destroy them before the Allies can come to the rescue.

At all events there is strong probability the next few months will see a campaign in China — or a series of campaigns sprawling in patchwork design over the huge map of Eastern Asia—that will have much to do with determining how long the victory over Japan will be delayed. If the Japanese can conquer China they will rob the United Nations of the one Asiatic battlefield on which they can really come to grips with Japan on a continental scale, unless and until the Soviet Union decides to abandon its neutral role in the Pacific war. Nothing Japan could do would do more to make secure her Greater East Asia domain.

LIFE WORTH LIVING

Men must keep their trust in the ultimate triumph of good and right, in order to reconstruct, after this war madness, a world in which life is worth living.

Dark days, hard days, days of discouragement and disappointment, come to everyone. At such a time if we could stop thinking of ourselves, cease the habit of brooding upon our troubles, cultivate a genuine interest in others, learn the secret of sympathy and love, it would add much to our peace of mind.

A nation that is to endure must build upon the foundation of moral and spiritual forces. Brute force, the law of the jungle, attempted progress in material things only, cannot long endure.

However large a nation's army, however invincible its navy or aircraft, moral and spiritual values are the surest guarantors of permanence and enduring stability.

It would be well for us to cultivate companionships that will help lighten the burden when it comes, to cheer the days that tend to depress and sicken even the bravest.

The companionship of friends is of first importance. Dorothy Dix calls it insurance against times of sorrow and depression, when evil darkens the world and men are in despair and know not which way to turn.

True friendship is lasting because each has been willing to give the best he had to the other. And, in such unselfish giving, each received the best—for in this respect it is vastly better to give than to receive.

There is, too, the companionship of good books. A well-stocked shelf at one's elbow, from which to choose one of the world's great books, can dissipate a feeling of loneliness and provide an evening of cheerful diversion.

There is the companionship of thought. When high and noble thoughts are made our daily companions, they inevitably lead to high and noble living. "My mind to me a kingdom is," contains a world of truth and promise.

We still visualize a world where the Christian virtues abound—the virtues of kindness and consideration one to the other—a world without strife or contention, a world without hatred and malice, a world where the great jewel of Christianity shines.

It is giving, not getting, that is the simple secret of life. From applied Christianity we get a new motive for doing the old things, a new objective, a new insight into the value and the needs of others.

As the years pass, we should develop deep resources of spiritual strength to draw upon in times of emergency. Tranquillity of mind and spirit is one of mankind's greatest needs.

THE PLIGHT OF THE FARMER

Dear Sir: I was greatly surprised and terribly disappointed to read your editorial on the butter and oleomargarine situation. This coming from a paper so much depending on the prosperity of farmers in the Eastern Townships is almost too much and must have been written without much thought as to which side your bread is buttered on.

Take the dairy cows out of the Eastern Townships and see how long you would have any Record subscriptions. True, this country was built out of lumber and wood, but if the land so cleared had not been suitable for dairy cattle what would have happened? More than that, our dairy breeds had to be selected and developed to withstand the climate so that you and some others could get their fresh buttermilk right from the farm each week. Dairy cows are an absolute necessity to the prosperity of this Township section and it is most disappointing to know that they are not appreciated by people who enjoy their dairy products and want them fresh. Conditions here are such that costs run higher than in New Zealand and are certainly such that our farmers cannot compete with vegetable oils and the advertising campaigns of the packers who make and distribute butter substitutes. All dairy farmers want and expect is some part of the protection handed out to other forms of manufacture under Canadian conditions. It is, however, good to note that you miss that something you put on your bread and toast and perhaps for the first time in your life you have come to wonder where it comes from. Apparently you do not care from your editor, but you do care that our farmers stopped making butter and stopped reading your paper. If all your editorials are based on no better information than this one, then we should not be reading them.

You do not seem to remember that the dairy farmers have been through at least ten years of depression. You probably do not remember that ten years ago farmers were making butterfat and selling at prices around twenty cents a pound. Then you got your butter so cheap that you did not care where it came from. These same producers have not had a break in all these years until just recently. When your business is bad and prices low you do not increase your equipment and staff. That is exactly what has happened to the dairy farmer in these last ten years. He now finds himself without equipment, without harnesses for his horses, with an old separator that does not work too well and machines that all needed repairs two or three years ago. These men did not have the revenue to cover the cost of these repairs and now they cannot get them, yet you want them to jump into the collar and step up production. You increased your subscription rate, and probably your advertising rates, long ago and we accepted it. The farmer has taken what he could get and has not complained, and is still not complaining. He has paid you the price you asked for your pound of meat, but you do not seem willing to let him get a decent price for his pound of butter. You do not know the history of the Townships and what the dairy farmers have done, as otherwise you would not wait for an editorial from the Winnipeg Free Press, where they have no interest in dairy farmers. They do like to ship us feed for our dairy cows and hogs in the East, and without us, they would be thinking of other things rather than telling the people that they are entitled to everything that is good, regardless of what the farmer gets for his efforts.

Dairy farmers have not been lacking in their plans. They have sent delegations to Ottawa in the last few years, trying to tell them what would happen unless prices were allowed to be increased. It happened with pork and it may happen yet in beef. It could have been avoided in milk and butter, but none would Listen, and thought that because the farmer had responded so wonderfully to appeals for increased production, that he would go on and do this indefinitely. He would gladly do this, as he did for the ten years previous to the war, but he just ran out of material and money. His production ability has been so cut that he is helpless. This business cannot be built up and torn down in a day, like a circus or a factory. You and many others just look it for granted that the farmer would go on indefinitely making things you like to have on your table, and did nothing about it. Now that he is starved out, you jump on his back and say that if he cannot furnish supplies, let the packers do it with imported vegetable oils. Fortunately the oil is hard to get.

The Wartime Prices and Trade Board had all the information necessary re butter, two years ago. I attended meetings and gave my time free, as did many farmers in Canada. It was apparent that production would fall unless something was done, but we might just as well have stayed home. There was no reason for a butter shortage, nor is there any reason for any shortage of food products in this country. We have the livestock of breeding ages and could have flooded this country with all sorts of good things to eat, but like you, we did not like doing this at a loss for more than ten years with no assurance of any stabilized price. If the bonus had been put on butter, even as late as last spring, it would have saved the situation and any farmer will tell you just that. The cows were producing and could have been milked until late fall and early winter, as they will not calve again until spring. This was all explained to the Board at Ottawa two years ago, and every few months during 1942. They seemed so sure that the farmers would carry on, that nothing was done. It would be very bad politics to increase the price of anything to city people and they admitted that, especially in Montreal, where the party needs to hold a strong hand, and in Toronto for reasons that you know. What happened? The price was just low enough that farmers stopped milking their cows and went to the bush to cut some wood for sugaring and for themselves. They would not hire any help even if it had been available. Farm labour was allowed to jump to all sorts of prices, and farmers just said "well if we do not get a good price for our dairy produce we will not hire any help and let the cows go dry." That is no fool statement and if you ever got into the country it could be verified. If you just sit around and wait for the Winnipeg Free Press to give you an idea, then you will not be much interested in this letter.

Yours faithfully, W. ELMO ASHTON, Foster, Que.

PRESS COMMENTS

THE GREATEST DANGER

Sunday Dispatch, London.

What is the greatest danger that confronts us in the year now opened? Is it invasion? Is it the Luftwaffe? Is it the chances of differences arising in Allied councils? Is it the U-boat? No. It is our own unconscious Fifth Column thoughts. Talk to your friends and neighbors. What do you find to be their attitude to the war? Are they saying: "What can we do to make sure that in spite of all the terrific forces lined up against us we shall yet win through?" Or are they saying: "Shall we have won the war before June, or will it last until autumn?" From all accounts the June date has been the subject of sufficient discussion and even wagers, some playful, some earnest, to make it a symbol of the type of thinking which now menaces us. When France collapsed and we, in an isolation that we did not then fully comprehend, awaited invasion, we steered ourselves to bear the preliminary bombing without declaring either London or any other community an open city. We thought only of survival with honour, and how to achieve it, today there is a different mood abroad, the Prime Minister has repeatedly warned us that the road to victory will be long and arduous.

CALLING ALL GRAND-MOTHERS

Daily Express, London.

The war strikes one harsh blow after another at the retail trade and at those activities which are called "non-essential." We have been reminded in Parliament recently that it is precisely those "non-essential" trades which will become of most immediate value and urgency when the war is over. At all costs they must be maintained in their structure for the happier days when peace will hold sway again. How is the little shop to be kept going? Every fit young man has gone. Now women assistants are to be diverted to the factories up to 36 years, and in 30 types of shops up to age 45. Shopkeepers must issue a call to the older women, if need be bring in the grandmothers. There are plenty of old girls who left the counter for marriage and domestic life years ago. They had no thought that the Nazi horror would disturb the tenor of their home life. But the call comes to them too. At least, even with bombing, we in Britain have been spared the bestialities of invasion, which has shattered countless homes on the Continent.

SOMETHING MORE SOLID

Christian Science Monitor, Boston.

Americans, even though captured by the drama of Casablanca, will look for solid accomplishments to flow from it. They can see the propaganda value, they are ready to believe that vital military decisions were reached, they will hope that the Giraud-de Gaulle meeting presages unity in French Africa, but they would like more evidence that something beyond a new British-American war plan was set in motion at this spectacular meeting.

HAVE A SMILE

Hitler used to stand in front of a parrot for hours, trying to make it say: "Heil, Hitler." At last he pleaded: "Say 'Heil, Hitler,' and I'll give you some monkey-nuts." "Heil, Hitler," snapped the bird immediately—then added: "I'll say any daff thing for monkey-nuts!" "Well, I'll be going now. Don't trouble to see me to the door." "No trouble at all. It's a pleasure."

ONE IMPORTANT PLAY

Will Save Contract

Here is an interesting hand I ran across the other day. I would like to have you look at the North-South cards first and decide how you would play the hand. West's opening lead was the queen of diamonds, and now it is up to you to try to make the correct play. In duplicate bridge I will admit it is rather hard not to put up the king of diamonds, but in rubber bridge the correct play is a small diamond from the dummy. All you are trying to do is to make six-odd. Analyzing the bidding, East bid four clubs and West did not open a club, which might indicate a void. The queen of diamonds opening shows some length in that suit, and North has bid diamonds.

Try This Gourmet's Soup Pot Delicacy

BY MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX
Put a little time, intelligent care and good ingredients into the soup pot and you'll have delicious and substantial reward. Try these, recommended by Crosby Gaige, noted gourmet.

Black Bean Soup (Serves 6)

Two cups black beans, 1 onion, 2 stalks celery, 3 tablespoons margarine, 2 quarts stock or water, 1 1/2 tablespoons flour, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 2 teaspoons salt, dash cayenne pepper, 1/4 teaspoon dry mustard, 1 tablespoon butters, 1 lemon, 2 hard-boiled eggs.

Wash beans and soak overnight. In morning, drain cover with boiling water and boil 30 minutes. Drain, slice onions, dice celery and cook 5 minutes in half the margarine in a soup pot. Add beans and stock, or water, and simmer until beans are soft, adding more liquid as required. Rub through sieve, adding remaining margarine, flour and seasonings rubbed together. Heat to boiling point, and add butters. Cut lemon in very thin slices, removing seeds, and cut eggs in thin slices and strewn over top of soup as served.

In making stock, have enough to store for future use, thus saving time and fuel. Have the butcher crack the bones so you'll get the benefit of the marrow.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Grapefruit, oatmeal muffins, apples fried in bacon drippings, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Hot tomato-beef stock soup, toasted peanut butter sandwiches, lettuce and chopped carrot sandwiches, frosted honey cup cakes, tea, milk.

DINNER: Large bowls of black bean soup, rye bread, butter or fortified margarine, assorted cheese, mixed green salad, cherry pie, tea, milk.

Louisiana Soup

One pound dried lima beans, ham bone, 3 onions, 12 peppercorns, 1/2 bay leaf, 6 to 8 cups water, 1 cup minced carrot, 1/2 cup minced green pepper, 1 small can tomatoes.

Soak the lima beans 1 hour or more. Put part of a ham bone, the beans, onions, peppercorns and bay leaf with the water. Cook slowly until the beans are tender. Reserve 1 1/2 cups whole beans. Force the remainder of the beans and stock through a sieve. Return the whole beans to the stock, add the carrots, green pepper and tomatoes. Cook until tender. If there are bits of ham adhering to the bone, mince and add to the soup. This soup with croutons is sufficient for a dinner when it is followed by a green salad and a light dessert.

MIND YOUR MANNERS

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers given below:

1. May a folded napkin be used to brush the crumbs from the dinner table?
2. If a hostess has no maid, may she let a woman guest help her get the food on the table, if she is serving a big, holiday meal?
3. Does a hostess have to let a guest help just because she offers, if she would really rather not have help?
4. Should salt and pepper shakers be removed from the table before the dessert is brought on?
5. Is it polite for a guest to say, "I couldn't eat another bite" when offered a second helping?

What would you do if—
Your telephone rings and it is a wrong number—
(a) Say "This isn't 5827?"
(b) Say, "I'm afraid you have the wrong number. This is 5827?"

Answers
2. No.
3. No. She can say that she doesn't need help, if she thanks the person graciously for offering.
4. Yes.
5. It is better not to go into so much detail, saying simply, "No, thank you."
Better "What Would You Do?" solution—(b).

WOMEN TOO—join "that men may fly." Canadian women fill vital jobs in the R.C.A.F. Women's Division, releasing men for air crew duties. Recruits are needed, age 18 to 45, physically fit, with at least High School entrance. Many useful and fascinating jobs await you. No experience needed. The Air Force will train you quickly to take your place with Canada's airwomen. Full information at any R.C.A.F. Recruiting Centre, or write address below for explanatory booklet.

The show is on—and an R.C.A.F. "attack team" goes into action. Up off the ground, screened by fast-flying fighters, go ten tons of sudden death for the enemy. The Air Navigator plots a true course through moonlit clouds, while the Wireless Operator stands by to contact the home base. A Nazi fighter slices out of a cloud bank and the Air Gunner stutters out its death notice—the air dreadnought goes on into the night. The target looms up and the Pilot swerves the flying giant at the young Bomber's command. Thousands of pounds of explosive destruction hurtle downward for the kill—and the R.C.A.F. air crew heads for home.

A well-knit, smooth-working team, the R.C.A.F. air crew is trained in Canada. Each man is a specialist in his job. Each is essential to successful operations against the enemy.

R.C.A.F. training in Canada has expanded greatly. More planes, more schools, more instructors are now available. Right now applications are being accepted for air crew at R.C.A.F. Recruiting Centres throughout Canada.

If you are physically fit, mentally alert, over 17 1/2 and not yet 33, you are eligible. If you are over 33, but have exceptional qualifications, you may still be considered. Lack of formal education is no longer a bar to enlistment.

SCORING SPREE MARKS LOCAL LOOP CLASH

Redmen Trounce Army To Clinch Loop Title

As if as a signal for the goal-scoring spree that followed, Boileau's marker seventeen seconds after yesterday's Sherbrooke Indians-Lord Sherbrooke game got underway, set the stage for the highest scoring match since the Princess of Wales Own Regiment left the loop almost a month ago. The Redmen were quick to reply to this lightning like effort as they rattled in three counters before the frame ended and continued their spurge throughout the remainder of the contest, finally coming away with a ten to five decision. The net result of Sunday's matinee at the local arena was Sherbrooke's clinching of first place in the Eastern Townships Intermediate Hockey League, affording them a well-earned rest while awaiting the outcome of the Training Centre-Windsor Mills semifinal tie-up.

Before the fans, about 900 of them, had comfortably settled themselves in their seats, Lord Sherbrooke had broken up and in a rush and the Boileau-Davis-Stark trio sped to the attack. Stark fed Boileau a perfect pass as he was riding through the Sherbrooke defence but Dion thwarted this attempt, but seconds later a pass came from behind the net and the Training Centre's slick pivot made no mistake on that one.

David was sent off for interference a little later but all Indians' efforts were in vain. The Murphy, Allen, Roy combination came back on around the six-minute mark with a hungry gleam in their eyes, and Murphy, who has been in somewhat of a streak of late, scored at 6:57, squeezing the rubber in between Cummings and the left post. Following up this advantage from the next face-off, Allen broke through for a second tally within the space of nine seconds. Keeping the soldiers pretty well bottled up in their own end for the rest of the period, the civilian squad added another for good measure. Murphy got his second goal and third point of the game when he lifted the rubber over the sliding Cummings into the left-hand corner of the cage.

Sherbrooke stretched their lead to five to one as the rapid firing continued into the next stanza. Gaudet scored the first of the chunker while Allen replied less than a minute later, taking a pass out from Roy—all that was required to do was move his stick—that's all he did, and the puck did the rest. On almost the next army rush Paré filled one through Dion. Six goals were marked up in this session, all coming within the first ten minutes and six seconds. Gaudet, Roy and Boileau finished out the lamp lighting activities in that order.

The Indians' avalanche stretched into the final period as they potted three successive goals then coasted while Lord Sherbrooke brought their quota up to five. Sirosis drilled in the first, or should it be dribbled, coming in on the right side where there was a noticeable dearth of F.C. defence men, his shot never left the ice to catch the opposite corner of the net.

The Gaudet-Sirois-Planche line went on the rampage in this frame as they had break-away after break-away. As the soldiers were pressing in the Indians' zone in an attempt to bring themselves back into contention, Sirosis and Gaudet loosed themselves from their defensive zone and sped in on the unprotected Cummings with Gaudet counting his third goal. The oft-mentioned Gaudet scored his fourth and finally of the game two minutes later, on a tricky play. Speeding across in front of the army nets, he whirled suddenly and wisked a back-hander past Cummings.

With five minutes left to play and an army hopes pretty well shattered, Lareau scored for the underdogs on a half-centred shot from the Sherbrooke penalty shot line. This brought his mates back to life and they started to press again and within the same minutes Stark ended the day's scoring after Boileau and Lareau had tried out Dion with successive shots.

Sidelights

By JIMMY MONTLE

With two games left on the Eastern Townships League chart of final events the make-up of the final standings have already been determined, Sherbrooke Indians, Windsor Mills and Lord Sherbrooke in that order. The Papermakers command the fans' attention for this week as they meet the Training Camp at home tonight and finish the season against the Redmen here on Thursday. The semi-final playoffs should get underway Sunday. Cpl. Cummings, of the erstwhile cellar-dwelling Princess of Wales squad, followed former teammate Puffer into the Lord Sherbrooke ranks, replacing Charbonneau in the nets. The army's regular netminder is presently on furlough and although expected here for yesterday's game was unable to return because of transportation difficulties.

The Training Centre showed another newcomer on their line-up, fellow named Dermo reportedly from a Toronto scholastic league. He saw only a few minutes' action. Stark remained on army first line although St. Germain was back. That kid has shown marvellous improvement since moving up with Boileau and David. Army played all out although win or lose they couldn't improve their third-place position. One of these fine days Indians will receive a penalty without kicking, but it will have to be when Gus isn't looking. Boisvert and Bergeron, Indian rear-guard, concentrating mainly on defensive manoeuvres, were the only ones on the winning side who didn't share in the point-gathering, excepting Dion, of course.

Lord Sherbrooke's offensive tactics in the third period backfired as the villain forwards caught them flat-footed more than once, playing five men up in the Sherbrooke end. Gaudet scored twice on these breaks with no T.C. man back. He was all set for another when Dugre speeded up from behind to check him on a fine play. The Redmen appeared to tire of putting the puck in the army nets from the front so they tried it once from the rear, which, of course, didn't count. Most notable happening in the second frame was the constant penalty parade. Planche was first to go in, followed by teammate Lalonde a little over a minute later. As soon as Planche returns to the ice Dugre is sent off. Lalonde's time soon being up he returns to play and immediately Bob Lareau is banished, keeping the box pretty well filled.

HOCKEY'S BIG SEVEN
Boston's Bill Cowley continued to dominate the National Hockey League individual scorers and added two goals to his total, which now shows 22 goals and 40 assists. Five points behind, Doug Bentley of Chicago Black Hawks has 27 goals and 30 assists to his credit, while in third place, Max Bentley of Chicago is one point behind his brother. Lorne Carr of Toronto Maple Leafs failed to score all week and found his fourth-place spot challenged by Billy Taylor of Leafs who is within one point of Carr. Buzz Bell went scoreless all week and ended in sixth place while Toe Blake of Montreal Canadiens slid ahead of Syd Howe of Detroit and Lynn Patrick of New York into seventh place.

Canadian Sport Snapshots

By CHARLES EDWARDS, Canadian Press Staff Writer

Toronto, Feb. 22.—(C)—J. V. McAre, veteran columnist of the Toronto Globe and Mail, presents a novel idea—transfer of professional sport to the war fronts. He writes as follows:
"If it is agreed that the justification for professional sports (in wartime) is their effect upon morale, then it is only common sense to continue them where uplifted morale will do the most good. That is, where the soldiers are. It would be a simple matter to play out the major league baseball schedules in Tunisia and elsewhere; to have the National Hockey League perform in England, and to have the best horses in the United States race somewhere near the great American camps in Australia....
"To transport the performers, equine and human, would be an insignificant task compared with sending overseas a transport loaded with soldiers. The sport would thus gladden the hearts of the men most concerned with it. For the others most concerned, namely the promoters, the Government could make suitable compensation. This move, it seems to us, would not only solve the problem of maintaining morale, but would also save the embarrassment of a healthy-looking professional athlete who now is too frequently asked why he is not at the front."
This is a staggering suggestion—staggering because it has merit yet

Mild Weather Interferes In Lennoxville Bonspiel Play

Only four matches were played on Saturday in the Lennoxville Curling Club annual bonspiel, three consolation and one Nichol Trophy event. Mild weather forced postponement of the rest of the schedule until later this week.

The R. S. Clarke rink, of Lennoxville, dropped the Sherbrooke entry, Bruce Millar's four by a 6-5 count, thereby earning the right to meet the H. A. Peabody-Larry McGannon winner in the final. The Sherbrooke field in the consolation competition narrowed down to one as H. Armstrong lost out 9-3 to C. A. Crawford. In the other two o'clock game R. T. Atto fell to teammate M. J. Bennett, the latter dropping a 16-1 game to R. McMurray at 4 p.m.

Four games remain to be played, two in each event, C. A. Crawford, of Lennoxville, tying up with Sherbrooke's last hope, H. B. Johnston. The winner of this will clash with R. McMurray in the consolation final. In the John Nichol Memorial Trophy race H. A. Peabody is slated to meet his clubmate Larry McGannon for the right to hook up with Lennoxville's R. S. Clarke in the final draw.

HERSHEY HOLDS TIGHT GRIP ON LEAGUE TITLE

Other Six Entries in American Hockey League Have Given Up Hopes of Overtaking Hershey Bears.

By The Canadian Press
The remaining six clubs in the American Hockey League have about given up hope of catching the pace-setting Hershey Bears but the winner of second place is doubtful.

A week ago Buffalo Bisons appeared certain to finish second but during the week they gained only two points while Pittsburgh gained five.
The Hornets are third, four points behind Buffalo and only two ahead of Indianapolis and Providence.
Last night Pittsburgh drew 3-3 with Cleveland's Barons. At the same time Indianapolis increased its chances of finishing higher by turning back Buffalo on the Bisons' own ice 4-2. That defeat followed Pittsburgh's 6-2 victory over Eddie Shore's men the night before.
Walt Kilrea, Hershey forward who needs only one point to tie the league scoring mark, was held in check Saturday night as the Bears were mastered by Indianapolis 6-2.

Johnny Mowers Assures Self Of Vezina Trophy Possession

By The Canadian Press
Johnny Mowers, capable Detroit net-minder, hung a "reserved" ticket on the Vezina Trophy last night when he held Boston Bruins scoreless and won his fifth shutout of the National Hockey League season.

The Red Wings won the game 4-0, and moved into a first-place tie with Bruins who also dropped a Saturday match with Toronto Maple Leafs 4-2.
Montreal Canadiens split a week-end twin bill with New York Rangers, winning 6-1 in Montreal Saturday night and losing by the same score in the return match in New York. In the only other game scheduled, Bert Gardiner entered the shutout field when Chicago Black Hawks blanked Toronto Maple Leafs 5-0.

Mowers, who is the only N.H.L. janitor to have more than one shutout to his credit, disclosed after the game that he had played throughout with an injured hand and that he would visit hospital today to have it X-rayed. Despite this handicap, he turned aside several hot shots by Billy Cowley and his linemates, although the Bruins were playing without Buzz Boll who was injured in Toronto Saturday. A record crowd of 14,119 were in the Olympia Stadium.
Jackie Hamilton, 17-year-old rookie from the Toronto Young Rangers, who was filling in the spot vacated by the injured Syl Apps, created considerable distress among the Bruins' defencemen Saturday night and culminated his efforts with a third-period goal on assists from his linemates, Bob Davidson and Mel Hill. Other Leaf scorers were Bill Taylor, Sweeney Schriner and Bud Poile while Bill Cowley scored both tallies for Boston.
Joe Benoit let the Montreal attack Saturday night until an injury forced him from the game, but before he left the rink he had put two goals up on the board. Gordie Drillon had one goal and three assists alongside his name while other goals were by Smiley Morenek, Elmer Lach and Buddy O'Connor. Grant Warwick netted the Ranger tally.
At New York, Phil Watson led the attack netting twice for Rangers while Clint Smith, Gus Mancuso, Joey Shack and Grant Warwick added the others. Dutch Hiller snared the only habitant goal.
Doug Bentley led the Chicago attack which sent the Black Hawks back into fourth place after being displaced temporarily by the Canucks. Bentley counted one goal and one assist.

Look Up, Mr. Farmer!

LOOK UP, Mr. Farmer. There they go, on their way—to blast a hole in the ocean where a submarine lurks or maybe to fix a Messerschmidt so it can't get home. Whatever their mission, you've a big hand in it. From the grain you planted and then prayed and perspired over came that all-important agent of war—high-proof alcohol. And from that alcohol came the rubber for the tires, the explosives in the bomb racks, the plastic for the shatterproof windshields. You couldn't point to a square foot of those planes that isn't somehow dependent on high-proof alcohol.

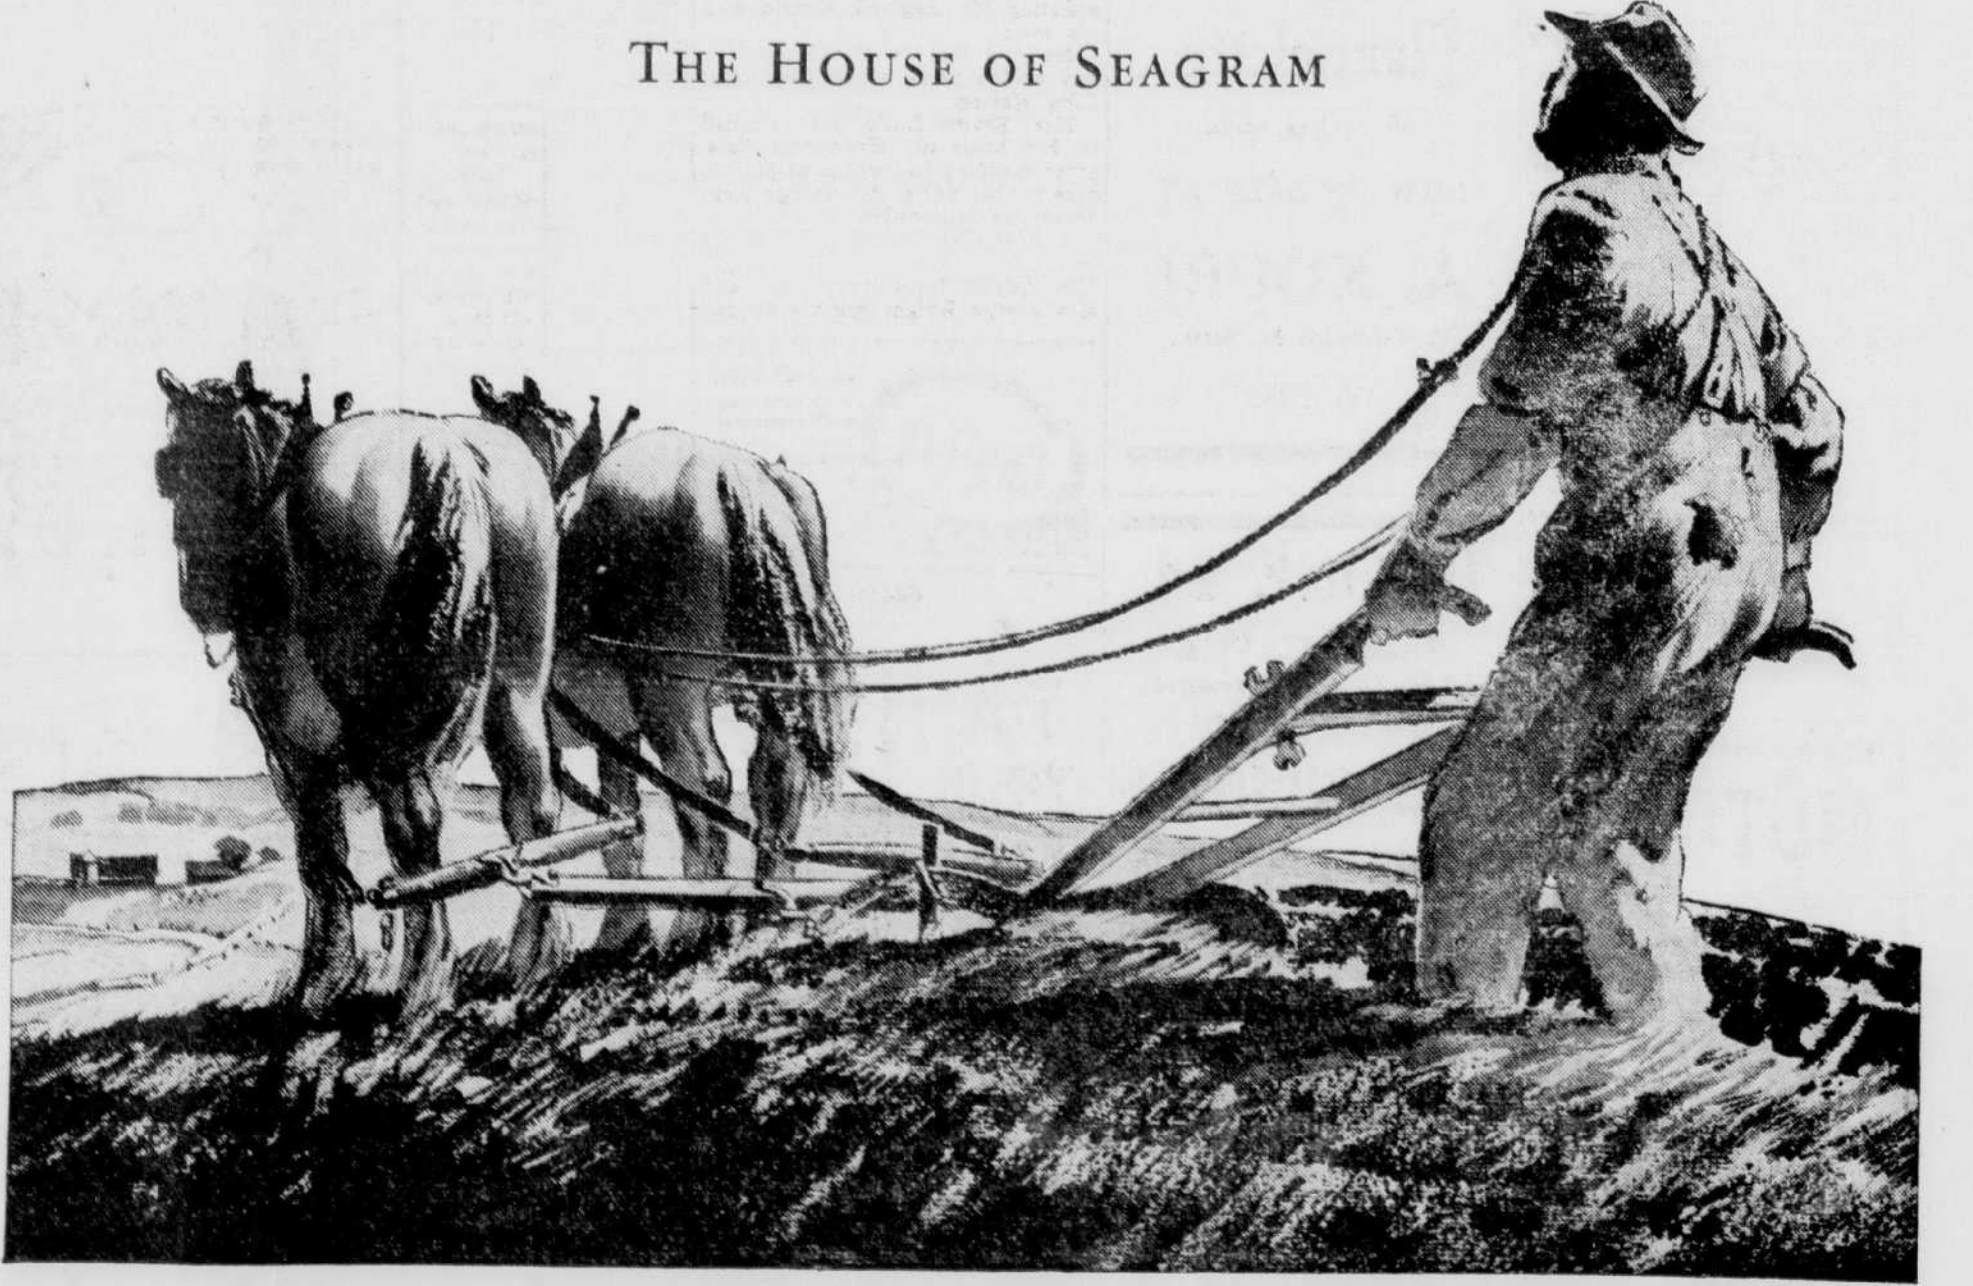

When you bend to your plough again, Mr. Farmer, and the furrow starts rolling over, you're helping to bury as vicious an enemy as mankind ever had. For your fields are the starting point for tons of smokeless powder and rubber and other vital supplies which are going to our army, navy and air force all over the world. And you are a prime source of pharmaceuticals which help guard the health of our fighting men and speed their recovery from battle wounds.

It takes an almost countless number of things to win a war, and a great many of them, Mr. Farmer, begin with your grain. You grow it and we'll make it into high-proof alcohol. Together, we'll finish the job Hitler and Co. will wish they hadn't started!

Alcohol for War is used in the manufacture of High Explosives, Synthetic Rubber, Drugs and Medicines, Photographic Film, Lacquers and Varnishes, Drawing Inks, Compasses and other Navigation Instruments, Plastics, Shatterproof Glass and many other products. All the Seagram Plants in Canada and the United States are engaged one hundred per cent in the production of high-proof Alcohol for War.

WARM WELCOME TO NEW RECTOR AT RICHMOND

Rev. and Mrs. George Harrington Tendered Farewell Party Before Leaving Stanstead to Assume New Duties.

Richmond, Feb. 22.—The annual Vestry meeting of St. Anne's Church, Richmond, was held with a good attendance in spite of the bitter weather. It was the first meeting attended by the new Pastor, Rev. George Harrington, former rector of Christ Church, at Stanstead. A very satisfactory financial statement was rendered by the People's Warden, P. J. Salway, and he and R. L. Mitchell were elected Wardens for the coming year.

A Parish Council was elected, consisting of nine men, including the Rector, Wardens, Auditors, Vestry Clerk and Synod delegates and three ladies to represent their organizations. This is an innovation here and the idea was received with considerable approval.

Prior to their departure from Stanstead, a gathering of about one hundred parishioners congregated to wish Rev. and Mrs. Harrington and family good luck in their new parish at Richmond.

R. J. Meekren, lay-reader, presented a purse of money to Mr. and Mrs. Harrington, and Mrs. Harrington was given several crystal pieces from the ladies' organizations of the church. Both expressed their thanks for the new home.

Refreshments were served by the ladies.

A recent joint meeting of the Rotary Club and Chamber of Commerce of the Boundary Villages was in the form of a farewell banquet to Rev. and Mrs. Harrington. The meeting was held at Hotel DelMonty. A turkey dinner, and the enthusiasm of larger numbers in attendance than is possible when the groups meet separately, helped to make the meeting a memorable one. President Raymond Thompson, of the Rotary Club, opened the dinner period, then turned the chair over to "Chuck" McLean, as President of the Chamber of Commerce.

Rev. C. M. Stewart was called upon to speak for all present in appreciation of Mr. Harrington's many and varied services to the communities, both through his own church activities and through his relations to many agencies for meeting community needs. Mr. Stewart said, "It is a pleasure to be here and to speak on this subject, but it is not a pleasure to say goodbye to George Harrington." Ed Kelley presented Mr. Harrington with a gift from the clubs, a pipe, tobacco and pouch. Mr. Harrington spoke with feeling and sincerity of his friendships and many pleasant associations in the Three Villages, and of the difficulty of breaking these ties.

A very enjoyable evening was spent on Friday, February 12 at the schoolhouse at a Valentine party to help provide extra school lunches and soup, etc. The sum of $15.71 was realized, after all expenses were paid. Games, including bingo, were played, and a lunch was provided by the Women's Institute, for which the Principal and pupils would like to express their thanks. If all of this sum is out used by the end of the term, it will be added to the School Fund, which slightly exceeds $2.

joined, Dr. E. O. Millay was introduced as the "principal speaker" of the evening, and he brought an interesting and stimulating survey of the need in any community for "Boys' Work as a Preventive for Delinquency." He pointed out that it is far better to spend the twenty or thirty dollars that may be required over a period of years to provide adequate supervised recreation for each boy in the community than to have to provide the seventy-two dollars necessary to maintain him in a penitentiary later on. Dr. Millay spoke out of his own long experience with work for young boys in Montreal and elsewhere. Called upon to thank the speaker, Douglas Ferguson expressed the best kind of thanks by throwing out the challenge to the service clubs represented to get behind the kind of work so badly needed in our own communities.
