Saturday marks the golden wedding anniversary of the couple, and 1938 also marks the fiftieth year since Mr. White was first elected to the House of Commons. No other individual on Parliament Hill is looked upon with greater genuine admiration and affection by all parties and persons than Mr. White.

Tour In Europe Is Described To Rotary Members

Rev. H. Clapham of London-England, Says "No More War as Far as Mother Country is Concerned" in Educative Address

There will not be another Great War as far as England is concerned, declared the Rev. H. Clapham, London, England, at the weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club in Victoria Hall, Wednesday.

But if Hitler or Mussolini infringe upon the rights of England in the Mediterranean Sea or try to attack the borders of the Mother Country, well, that is another question, Rev. Clapham explained.

The speaker, member of the London, England Rotary Club spoke on "From London to Vienna by Road." He described his travels through the various countries and "heard of wars and rumors of wars," also much talk about Hitler and Mussolini. He said that the Rhine's Cathedral, destroyed by the Germans during the Great War had been rebuilt at an enormous cost and that the people of Alsace Lorraine were more contented to remain under the French rule.

Crossing into Germany, he said that the customs officials treated his party with great courtesy. At Munich headquarters of the Nazi movement, he said Hitler was almost worshipped by the masses; that he met General Goering and found him a most charming person. Describing the beauty of the Danube, he said there was no sign of poverty or hardship, but instead he found a hard working class of people.

Arriving at Vienna after a four day journey, he told of his visits to the many places of interest: palaces of emperors before the Great War.

Vienna, the Rev. Clapham said, may be poorer since the Great War but the city was still gay and charming to the tourist by day and by night. On the return trip to London, he told of his visit to Flanders where lie thousands of war dead. He said he was impressed with the wonderful recovery in France.

Reverting to his trip through Germany, he said Hitler was almost worshipped by the youth of the nation and that he was told of Germany's desire for friendship with England, France and the United States.

"There is no country in Europe that desires war," the speaker said. "Each is afraid and suspicious of the other."

The League teaches the stretch and swing system of exercise, to the accompaniment of music. There are 1500 members in the Montreal district and 130,000 members in the British Empire.

Horse Restless, Wagon Rams Truck

Old Dobbin has little regard for trucks when he becomes restless from standing too long or when he is tired from the day's routine of work.

A wagon of Dent Harrison and Sons, 323 Prince Albert avenue, in charge of Rodney Beasant, 377 Selby street, side-swiped a truck operated by Solby Schwartz of 4870 Clarke street, fruit peddler, in front of 161 Selby street, late last weekend.

Damage was confined to loss of paint from the side of the truck.

New Pastor Takes Place Of Rev. Reid

Rev. Frank S. Morley, D.D., Formally Installed at Stanley Presbyterian Church Before a Big Throng

The Rev. Frank S. Morley, D.D., was formally installed in the Stanley Presbyterian Church, on Wednesday night. He takes the place of Rev. W. R. Reid, D.D., who retired a year ago after 25 years in the same post.

It was the first induction the church has had for a quarter of a century.

The act of induction was performed by Rev. Dr. J. M. Maclean, Moderator of the Montreal Presbytery before a large congregation. Dr. Morley has come to Montreal from St. Catharines, Ont.

Following the introductory service, Rev. Alexander Nimmo, of Lachine, preached a sermon in which he appealed for closer following of the example of Christ in his humility, sympathy, holiness and sincerity.

Addressing the newly inducted minister Very Rev. Malcolm A. Campbell, D.D., ex-Moderator of the Presbyterian Church, declared it was his conviction that the power of the pulpit was not a thing of the past. "It is said some times that the pulpit is losing its influence, because people read so much and can hear radio sermons. I believe it occupies the same position that it did from the beginning." He held that there is no place where people can understand so well the solution of their problems as in the presence and under the personal influence of one who has shared those problems and their experiences, hence the place of the sermon is still assured.

Principal F. Scott Mackenzie, when addressing the congregation, reminded them that their relationship with the new minister was not that of a commercial contract. In their official call they had used the words "respect and obedience" as due to be given the minister and whatever the terms of the agreement in regard to material things, they were not intended to convey the sense of "hiring," for no material compensation could adequately repay what was expected of a minister in the performance of his spiritual duties, according to Dr. Mackenzie. Their minister also was to get his orders from higher sources than the congregation, the Principal said.

Injured As Blaze Sweeps Residence

He rushed through the house and awakened other occupants, while firemen under Deputy Chief Burries, and Lieuts. Moss and Carmichael responded to the alarm.

Pitts, found to be only slightly injured, was given first aid treatment and taken to a local hospital when he refused to go to a hospital.

Pledge Wide Help In Plan To Improve Buying Standards

Alderman Panet-Raymond Delivers "Straight From Shoulder" Address at General Meeting of Organization in Victoria Hall—R. Brock Thomson Accclaims Unselfish Aims of Group—Spaulding Black Sponsors Showing of Two Motion Pictures

The City Administrator has pledged its whole-hearted cooperation to the Business Association of Westmount in the drive to improve business standards and stimulate buying power of the public.

The policy of the City Administration was outlined at a meeting Tuesday night of the Association in Victoria Hall and attended by over 100 leaders in Westmount trade areas.

The meeting marking the close of the general assembly of the association for the summer months was the most enthusiastic since the founding of the organization on Feb. 21, 1938. The executive will continue to hold meetings every two weeks throughout the summer.

Alderman B. Panet-Raymond, represented the City of Westmount in the absence of Mayor John Jenkins, who was called to Toronto on Monday night immediately following the weekly meeting of the City Council.

The speaker was introduced by W. Boyd Robson, president, who sketched aims and achievements of the association.

Discarding fan-fare and pomp in his address, Alderman Panet-Raymond spoke "straight from the shoulder" in the parlance of the business world and his remarks were frequently interrupted by hearty applause as he hit upon solution of problems so vital in the business world of today.

"The last words of Mayor Jenkins before his departure Monday night were 'for me to come and convey to you his sincere regrets at not being able to attend this meeting and personally convey the support of the City of Westmount to this association,'" said Alderman Panet-Raymond in opening his address.

He then offered the greetings of the City of Westmount to the association.

"We in the council support an association like this," Alderman Panet-Raymond continued. "We consider your attitude is that you have seen fit to install your business in Westmount for the benefit of its citizens and you have gone to a great deal of pains and expense to bring the necessary wares to your doors."

MAKE THEM HERE

Earl Winterton, Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster and spokesman for the Air Ministry in the British House of Commons, tell the House that "the possibility of building up war potential in Canada is receiving the consideration of the British Government." It is more important, he suggests, than the proposal to purchase aircraft in the United States.

The suggestion has been made that the British Government finance the construction of aircraft factories in Canada for mass production. It is a sensible suggestion. Daily reports indicate that not nearly enough progress is being made in the Old Land itself to satisfy public opinion. Critics of the Ministry says Germany is far ahead. Sir Hugh Seely, for instance, told Parliament yesterday that within a year Germany would have 6,000 first line planes, as against Britain's 2,700. Mr. Chamberlain and others insist, of course, that satisfactory progress is being made.

Not only would Canadian plants be in a position to supplement what is being done in the Old Country, but the important thing is that in case of war Canadian plants would be reasonably safe from enemy attack and could keep on turning out machines at top speed while similar plants across the sea might find themselves under fire and perhaps seriously damaged.

This may aid Notre Dame de Grace, for just north of here at Cartierville the Curtis-Reid Aircraft would be ideal for Canadian airplane production operation, with shipping facilities direct from Montreal port to England.

AN EXCELLENT EXAMPLE

The disastrous school fire at St. Hyacinthe last winter has had the effect of a general tightening up of fire drill regulations throughout the schools of the province, but few schools can show the discipline and despatch exhibited by the local McKay Institute pupils. The pupils, being deaf, cannot hear the alarm, and when it rings the teacher gives them a signal. Recently, a drill was conducted under the supervision of Lieut. Lussier of the Notre Dame de Grace Fire Department, and the entire school vacated the building in an orderly manner in the remarkable time of twenty-five seconds. This is a record of which everyone concerned might well be proud.

Traveler from the West Coast of Africa reports the Canary Islands are peaceful and prosperous despite the fact that they are ruled by two governors. We suppose the boys simply got together and decided who'd have charge of the water and who'd look after the seed.

British aviation authority predicts the day when London morning newspapers will be sold on the sidewalks of New York the same evening. Indeed, there'll soon be no place where a man can escape information.

"What's your idea of a holiday?" inquires a contest announcement. That depends. If you're a man, about six hours on the golf course, if you're a woman, the opportunity to stay home and wash your hair.

Another schoolboy—this time in Toronto—has been found to have inverted vision, which causes him to write backwards. But that's nothing. The country is running over with gloomsters whose inverted vision causes 'em to talk backwards.

Westmount Park Church Notes

At Westmount Park Church, Rev. J. Lavell Smith, will preach at both services on Sunday. "The Wesleys" will be the special theme for the day. At the morning service, Mr. Smith will tell the story of John Wesley and of his amazing influence on the life of his day and of the world since. The evening sermon will have special reference to the hymns of Charles Wesley.

On Sunday morning Rev. J. A. Johnston will have as his sermon theme: "Visions that Tarry." "The vision hath its appointed hour." It is ripening, it will flower. Tho' it tarry, for it wait. Come it will and not be late.

At the evening service Mr. Johnston will speak on: "The Wesley Revival." This will be the story of the mighty spiritual awakening that came to England following the conversion of John Wesley.

Mrs. E. P. Lennon, president of the Westmount subdivision of the Catholic Women's League was hostess at a reception and tea for the retiring and incoming officers and members of the executive, last week, at her residence on Upper Lansdowne avenue. The south may be the field in which the fate of the C.I.O. is determined. In the Fisher Body works in Memphis, for example, Negro employees tell of manufacturing sections which in the past have been made only in Flint or other northern places, where labor is organized and well paid. Firestone moved into Memphis last spring with a definite promise from the chamber of commerce, and possibly from the city administration, that there would be no labor trouble here and that the C.I.O. would be kept out, according to his labor informants. If this is true then the present policy of the city and chamber is but the carrying out of their part of the agreement. Goodyear has a factory in Gadsden, Ala. Automobile accessory plants are located in many southern sections where wages are low and the workers unorganized. Unless these workers can be organized, more and more work will be transferred to the south.—Rev. J. C. Petrie of Memphis.

One of the ablest Roman Catholic bishops of Austria, Dr. Johannes Maria Gfoellner, speaking to 1000 parishioners in Linz said: "The best way to combat Bolshevism is to relieve poverty, level out social inequalities and enable the workers to live as human beings ought to live. If the people are hungry; if homeless and naked, they are exposed to all the unpleasantnesses of the weather; if they are unemployed and ejected, they do not even possess the minimum of existence; if they are disregarded and treated as beings of inferior worth and inferior birth, while at the same time capitalist luxury, financial scandals and political frauds flourish, bringing to naught all the well meant endeavours of our Christian state; then it is no wonder that Russia, Mexico and Spain appear to many as liberators of the masses from misery." The bishop warned that a mere political anti-Bolshevism and a military anti-communism are not enough, "a real, practical Christianity must appear!" he declared.

Emphasis upon the relevance of the Christian message to both individual and social needs marks the annual reports and resolutions of the Massachusetts Baptists of the second strongest denomination in the state. "Persons and nations" one report stated "cannot at the same time worship the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ and the gods of racialism and boastful nationalism. Any tendency to a totalitarian state is abhorrent to us. It is the duty of the individual Christian to use his conscience on the existing order or any proposed order. Christians ought to work for a social order that will give every man a chance to work at a living wage and under right conditions and to secure suitable reward. The preservation of personality and development of character ought to be held more important than the making of money."

The catch of codfish in the Maritimes in 1919 was 260,677,000 pounds valued at $8,388,000 while in 1926 the catch was 162,000,000 valued at $2,000,000.

A banker is credited with coining the necessary phrase: "Invention is the thing that makes securities insecure." But the first victim of applied science is the toiler. And it is as true now as when John Morley said that, "A workman unable to find a job is a more tragic figure than Hamlet or Oedipus." What is to be done for the man discharged by a new device? The theory is pleasingly set forth by people unaffected by the invention creates additional employment, that unemployment is a temporary sequence. But unemployment does not have to last long in order to destroy an individual and wreck a home. The spectacle has grieved almost every man of conscience.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Social Security is becoming the keynote in the U.S.A. elections and there are signs that the Americans, having caught the idea, intend to see that something is done about it.

Christians ought to work for a social order that will give every man a chance to work at a living wage and under right conditions and to secure suitable reward. The preservation of personality and development of character ought to be held more important than the making of money."

The catch of codfish in the Maritimes in 1919 was 260,677,000 pounds valued at $8,388,000 while in 1926 the catch was 162,000,000 valued at $2,000,000.

A banker is credited with coining the necessary phrase: "Invention is the thing that makes securities insecure." But the first victim of applied science is the toiler. And it is as true now as when John Morley said that, "A workman unable to find a job is a more tragic figure than Hamlet or Oedipus." What is to be done for the man discharged by a new device? The theory is pleasingly set forth by people unaffected by the invention creates additional employment, that unemployment is a temporary sequence. But unemployment does not have to last long in order to destroy an individual and wreck a home. The spectacle has grieved almost every man of conscience.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Social Security is becoming the keynote in the U.S.A. elections and there are signs that the Americans, having caught the idea, intend to see that something is done about it.

Pledge Wide Help

(Continued from Page 1) ment task undertaken by the association, the speaker said the city is especially anxious to cooperate in the betterment of conditions, citing the report just previously made by J. H. Bradner sr., chairman of the Civic Improvement Committee of the association. In his review of the civic improvement drive, Mr. Bradner briefly sketched results achieved by his committee and said that additional time would be required to complete in detail the work undertaken. He promised that a big improvement would be brought about in the situation before resumption of meetings of the association in the fall.

"We want to aid in improving the business centres," continued Alderman Panet-Raymond. "Higher values for properties will result and you will get your full return."

He also praised the financial report of the organization made by Charles Watson, chairman of the finance committee. In his report, Mr. Watson said expense had been kept to a minimum and that the finances of the organization were in splendid shape. Over half of the membership fee was still on hand for activities at the resumption of meetings in the fall, he said.

Another speaker, R. Brock Thomson, president of the Westmount Municipal Association, digressed from his opening remarks to praise the efforts of Mr. Robson in aiding the success of the association.

"The work of Mr. Robson is an inspiration to all of you," Mr. Thomson said.

He pledged full support of his organization and then praised the slogan adopted by the association, of "Shop In Westmount First." He acclaimed the unselfish aims of the association and drew a fine distinction between the words "shop" and "buy." He commended the association on inserting the word "shop" in the slogan instead of the word "buy."

"By doing this," he asserted, "you are merely inviting the public to inspect your wares and if they so desire, purchase them. You are not trying to use ill-advised tactics in promoting your business."

"On behalf of the Municipal Association I wish you all kinds of success."

Spaulding Black of Canadian Industries, Ltd., sponsored the showing of two motion pictures, "The Lady Who Couldn't Say No," and "Canada's Salute to the Nations."

"The Lady Who Couldn't Say No," Mr. Black explained, is a study in the buying habit.

"It is a commercial picture made in the United States," he continued, "and is a result of observing the change that has come over the average shopper and the change in the buying habit."

He stressed the need of proper packaging, explaining that the modern method aids greatly in speeding up sales.

"If an article is properly packaged it is a pleasure to buy it," he said. "The demand is steadily increasing for packages that talk."

"The lot of the average housewife has changed greatly in the last 50 years. Now she is a purchasing agent, whereas formerly she was a walking factory, baking her own supplies. Now, industries are performing this task and the drudgery has been lifted from the shoulders of the housewife."

Discussing impulse buying, Mr. Black said that about 25 per cent of the goods were purchased by this method.

In reviewing activities of the association, Mr. Robson said that its objective of 100 members had been achieved. This announcement was greeted with loud applause.

"We have represented in the association both quantity and quality," Mr. Robson declared.

G. Kenwood, chairman of the Publicity Committee, said the "Shop In Westmount First" campaign was inaugurated early in April and that 800 window streamers bearing the slogan, were distributed to business houses. Also, 15,000 stickers to be pasted on packages, thanking purchasers, had been distributed, in addition to the usual newspaper advertising.

Mr. Robson congratulated members for dressing up their stores and renovating them.

"Such as this is the paramount aim of the association," he de-

Play Heads Festival Of Toc H Club

Performance Entitled 'Betcher', Presented in Victoria Hall — Sixth Birthday Marked

A feature of the sixth annual birthday festival of the Eastern Canada Region of Toc H, held over the week end was the presentation of a play in Victoria Hall in which members of Toc H participated.

Entitled "Betcher," the play was written by Noel Tolhurst, a Toc H member in Australia, and portrayed the double purpose for which the society exists—fellowship and service. It also outlined the history of Toc H from its beginning during the Great War to the international society it is today.

As the final curtain fell, members from Toronto, New Orchard, Guelph, Parkdale, Beaches Group, Ottawa, Sherbrooke, Lachine, Verdun, St. Lambert, Cote des Neiges and Montreal paraded up the middle aisle of the hall with banners to perform with solemn ritual, the Ceremony of the Light.

To close the evening's proceedings, Padre J. D. McCrae offered a home going prayer. The delegates were welcomed to Westmount by Mayor John Jenkins, who commented on the services rendered the public by the organization, and wished Toc H success in its ventures for the coming year. It was introduced by Col. C. B. Price, D.S.O., A.D.C.

At the council meeting on Saturday morning, Dr. H. Westneys, of the University of Toronto, was elected honorary administrator of the Eastern Canada region of Toc H for the year 1938-1939. He will be assisted in his duties by Rev. A. T. Holmes, rector of St. John the Evangelist Church, Hamilton, Ont., as honorary regional padre, and J. M. Jackson, as secretary. Russell Smith, of Montreal, in a report on the financial status of Toc H, said that the organization was in a sound financial condition, but stressed the need for funds to allow the society to extend its activities and purchase new equipment.

The League of Women Helpers, an affiliation of Toc H, held its annual meeting in the same building on Saturday morning and elected to the office of chairman for the second term, Mrs. W. E. Bigwood of Toronto. Other officers elected for a term of one year are: Miss I. M. Plumley of Toronto, treasurer, and Miss Mary Stevenson, also of Toronto, secretary.

A service of Light and Rededication was held in the afternoon at Divinity Hall on University St. with Rev. J. de Wolfe Hubbard, of Saranac Lake, N.Y., preaching the sermon. He commented on the existence of the Toc H in the United States, and denied the rumor that the society had failed to gain a foothold in his country, citing cases in Vermont where branches had been organized, and were successful in their ventures.

His Excellency, Lord Tweedsmuir, sent a telegram expressing regret that he could not be present, because he was making a trip to the Western Provinces. The Governor-General declared his sympathy in the Toc H movement, and wished the delegates a successful festival.

The padres of Toc H yesterday occupied the pulpits of a number of churches in Montreal, and preached sermons on the fellowship and services of the organization. The following is a list of churches where Toc H held services and the ministers who preached:

First Baptist Church, Rev. Roy Essex, Toronto; Lachine United Church, Rev. H. R. Bursey, Montreal; St. Laurent United Church, Rev. J. M. Patterson, Lachine; St. Lambert United Church, Rev. A. T. F. Holmes, Hamilton; St. Paul's Church, Lachine, Rev. T. V. L'Estrange, Montreal; St. John's Church, Verdun; A. J. Marshall, Verdun; St. Mark's Church, St. Laurent, Rev. E. C. Shopping Plan Praised By G. A. Dionne

Owner of Well Known Firm Lends Wide Support to Business Association Drive

With reference to the "shop in Westmount" campaign conducted by the business association of Westmount, we have interviewed George A. Dionne, the owner of one of the oldest firms in this district, asking him his opinion about the newly formed association and the utility of the enterprise:

"We are very much in favor of such a campaign," says Mr. Dionne, "after all we are taxpayers of this city, we have been serving this community for over forty years and we pride ourselves in our constant endeavor to please our patrons."

"We are privileged to live in the finest residential locality in Canada and it would be very detrimental to our economic and social welfare, if by sheer weight of their publicity, we should allow goods of inferior quality to lower our standard of living."

"We utter that warning with due respect to the opinions of our honorable clients. We add it is a question whether the actual prevalence of heart disease is due to worry or to indiscriminate diet."

"Food is the all important matter at all times and in all circumstances; we supply the best in groceries, fruits, meats, fish and vegetables."

"With such a business policy, people of Westmount should realize more and more that they have at their own door-step a meat and food specialist and they would profit by shopping at our store and help us in following our tradition of the past: Better food, better deliveries, better service."

"Let us hope that our people will make it a habit to look first in our community to find what they need, and I am positive that they will purchase in this city goods of the highest quality, and they will find also specialists in any branch of commerce or industry. So, to conclude this little chat we had together, let us repeat to everybody, to all our fellow-citizens, the motto of our association: "Shop in Westmount first" and the profit is yours."

Two Trucks, Trolley Car Are Damaged In Collision

Two trucks and a trolley car were involved in a collision Monday in front of the Westmount Athletic Grounds, St. Catherine Street West.

A truck operated by Henri Giubeault, 741 Irene street, had stopped behind a truck driven by Hector Besner, 6375 Elma Street. Mr. Besner had parked his truck beside the curb on the north side of the street.

A trolley car operated by Alfred Ducharme, 2560 Decourcelle street, struck the truck of Mr. Giubeault, which in turn rammed the truck of Mr. Besner.

Alfred Roger, helper, of 522 Sebastopol street, seated in the truck operated by Mr. Besner, was thrown against the frame of the cabin by the impact, suffering two cuts on the head. When police arrived on the scene, they found Mr. Roger, in Westmount Athletic Grounds building washing the blood from his face.

Constable Harris Belec gave first aid to the victim who then proceeded on his way.

Rabbi Harry J. Stern will speak on "Judaism and Social Justice" at the regular services in Temple Emanu-El at 8:15 o'clock tonight. Sidney M. Medine, B.A., will deliver the sermonette.

VICTORIA HALL PLAY IS GIVEN WIDE ACCLAIM

MRT Presents "Pride and Prejudice" to Enthusiastic Audience — Marks Close of Season

An enthusiastic audience greeted "Pride and Prejudice," Jane Austen's famous novel adapted to the stage by Helen Jerome, which was presented by the Montreal Repertory Theatre at Victoria Hall, Tuesday night.

The play embraced a mixture of satire, class snobbery and delicate romance.

Recreating gracefully the romantic days of 1810 the play was peopled by characters which have become famous in English literature and in the MRT version was interpreted by many well-known players including Martha Allan, Maud Aston, John Ready, Cyril Hessey-White, Robert Goddier, Winifred Cam, Gordon LeClaire and Muriel Duncan.

The leading role of Elizabeth was taken by Gillian Hessey-White, a graduate of the MRT School, who last year won the Iva Roberts Scholarship at the Leland Power School in Boston against contestants from all over the continent.

Settings and costumes for the production were by Cecil West.

"Pride and Prejudice" will be performed for four more nights, marking the end of the season.

New Space Taken By Bicycle Store

The Westmount Bicycle Store which was formerly located at 377 Victoria Avenue, just below Sherbrooke St., has moved to 5373 Sherbrooke West near Prudhomme Ave., and is now operating under the name of the West End Bicycle Shop.

This store is fully equipped to make bicycle repairs of all kinds and also has a complete stock of parts and accessories. Former customers of this store will be glad to know that it is still within easy distance of Westmount or a phone call to EL. 2168 will bring the pick up and delivery service to your door.

MAKING IT GOOD

Boss: "Well, Jones you've already had leave to see your wife off on a journey, for your mother-in-law's funeral, for your little girl's measles, and your son's christening. What is it now?"

Jones: "Er—I'm going to get married, sir."

Murray, Guelph.

The convention came to an official close when the visiting delegates were given a farewell party from the Erskine American United Church.

Exhibition to be Given in Westmount and Notre Dame de Grace Athletic Grounds

An open air display will be given by Boy Scout troops and Wolf Cub packs of the Westmount District in the Westmount Athletic grounds on June 1.

The announcement made at the monthly meeting of the Montreal Boy Scout Council held recently, stated that on the same date the troops and packs of the western district will give a similar demonstration on Royal Avenue, Notre Dame de Grace.

These plans were explained in addition to other district displays previously announced: Central district troops and packs on the McGill University campus, Sherbrooke street; Northern district in Rockland Park, Outremont, both on the evening of June 1, while the displays of the South Shore district in St. Lambert, and the Northwestern district in Park Avenue Extension, will be held on June 4. All the displays will be open to the public.

Gordon C. Robinson, vice-president of the Scouters' Club, in reporting to the council, stated that the plan in general is for the units of each section of the city to give local demonstrations instead of combining in one mass display as

Wallace Beery Stars In Epic Drama Of West

Epic saga of the West and the story of how law and order supplanted the reign of the six-gun, "The Bad Man of Brimstone," starring Wallace Beery, will open at the Snowdon United Theatre Sunday for a three-day engagement.

Famous for his portrayals of bad man roles, Beery, as leader of a gang of outlaws who rule the town of Brimstone, is offered one of the finest opportunities of his long cinematic career.

Directed by J. Walter Ruben, the picture boasts one of the largest and most impressive supporting casts of any major Western productions in some years.

Occupying prominent spots in the picture are Joseph Calleia, Lewis Stone, Guy Kibbee, Bruce Cabot, Cliff Edwards, Guinn Williams, Arthur Hohl, Robert Gleckler, Noah Beery, Scotty Beckett and nearly a dozen other equally well-known players.

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer has acquired the motion picture radio and television rights to the title "Ziegfeld Follies," one of the most valuable items in the estate of the late Florenz Ziegfeld.

John Littel is known on the set as the 'cough-drop kid.' He's been supplying fellow players with a certain brand of cough-drop, gratis. His father-in-law manufactures them.

Three Strikes But Not 'Out' Having displayed her acting ability in "Seventh Heaven," and her singing ability in "Love and Hises," Simone Simon now adds the torch-singer art to her film repertoire. She will do two solo dances in "Josette," in which Don Ameche and Robert Young are the co-stars.

Robert Taylor will be starred in "Give and Take," with Maureen O'Sullivan once again his leading lady. Frank Morgan, Guy Kibbee and Nat Pendleton will supply the dignified humour.

IN THRILLING ROMANTIC ADVENTURE

Olivia de Havilland and George Brent together in "Gold Is Where You Find It," photographed in Technicolor, now playing at the Westmount United Theatre, opening Sunday at the Seville United Theatre until Tuesday.

IN "BAD MAN OF BRIMSTONE"

Virginia Bruce, Guy Kibbee, Noah Beery and Dennis O'Keefe in a scene from "The Bad Man of Brimstone," thrilling adventure romance featuring Wallace Beery, at the Snowdon United Theatre starting Sunday for a three-day engagement.

STAR DUST On and Off the Set By Morty Green

Mr. Director, Sir Rudy Vallee has no intention of remaining a band leader forever, although his popularity in that field lessens not at all with the years. The musician who recently completed "Gold Diggers in Paris," has been studying motion picture direction for some months and hopes to make his debut in the near future.

Under the Knife Charlie McCarthy, Edgar Bergen's brazen blockhead, will soon be talking about his 'operation.' The popular wise-cracking little piece of Michigan pine will undergo the ordeal of carpenter shop surgery this week. His arms and legs will be amputated and replaced by new animated limbs.

She's No Sissy Making a scene in "The Amazing Dr. Clitterhouse," Clair Trevor is supposed to slap Edward G. Robinson. After several rehearsals the real 'take' came, and Miss Trevor unleashed a terrific wallop. Robinson took it without flinching. However, such was the shock that it knocked a diamond out of its setting in a ring on Miss Trevor's finger.

Selznick Presents Gaynor Admirers of Janet Gaynor are awaiting her first picture for David O. Selznick since "A Star is Born." Just entering production, it is titled "The Young in Heart," and co-stars Doug, Fairbanks Jr., and Paulette Goddard.

Ratoff to Direct Faye As soon as Alice Faye returns from her Honolulu vacation, she will start work in her new starring vehicle, "The Dawn's Early Light," an original story by Gene Markey. Gregory Ratoff will direct.

Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy will start work immediately in their new co-starring picture, "Sweethearts." Clarence Brown is directing.

FIRST SWING MUSICAL

Allan Jones, Judy Garland, Fanny Brice, Billie Burke and others in a scene from the musical romance, "Everybody Sing," opening at the Westmount United Theatre Sunday.

YOU'RE A SWEETHEART

George Murphy and Alice Faye in a romantic scene from "You're A Sweetheart," which opens a three-day engagement starting Sunday playing until Tuesday at the Monkland United Theatre.

Alice Faye, George Murphy In "You're A Sweetheart"

Alice Faye, more glamorous and beautiful than ever before, singing the hit songs of the year, and for the first time on the screen dancing, the art which brought her to te screen in the beginning.

George Murphy in the hilarious role of a waiter who becomes a millionaire for a week, wins the love of a Broadway star and figures in the headline romance of the century! He dances as he never danced before.

These two favorites of the screen, together with an all star cast of the world's most brilliant entertainers were swirled together in a lavish cocktail of melody, laughter and grandeur to produce a picture at its premiere, wrote glowing compliments for the dazzling dialogue and comedy scenes.

Vocal Coaches Busy During Filming Of New Musical

Vocal coaches were busy during the filming of "Everybody Sing," coming to the Westmount United Theatre Sunday until Tuesday, for in the picture everybody actually sings.

Allan Jones, Judy Garland, Fanny Brice and Lynn Carver didn't mind singing as it was nothing new to them.

But in the case of Billie Burke, Reginald Owen, and Reginald Gardiner, it was something else again for it marked their debut as singers. For two months they took three singing lessons a week and were really able to swing it by the time the picture went into production.

Nine songs are featured in the new musical. Allen Jones sings "On With the Show," "The One I Love" and "Cosi Cosa." Judy Garland sings "Swing Mr. Mendelsohn," "Down on Melody Farm," "Sweet Chariot" and "I Wanna Swing." Fanny Brice has a riotous comedy song in "Quaint, Dainty Me" and the entire cast of principals, including Lynn Carver and Reginald Gardiner, join in the "Quartette from Rigoletto."

The story of "Everybody Sing" concerns a young girl who gets expelled from several schools because of her craze for swing singing. Her father is a playwright and her mother an actress. They're a mad lot, and without any financial sense. They send Judy to Europe, but she sneaks off the boat before it leaves and gets a job singing in a night club. With her family chef, Allan Jones, as her aid, she manages to promote a musical show and thus saves her family from financial ruin.

The finale is the high spot of the picture. When Jones, on opening night, discovers that he has less than a dozen people in the theatre, he leads a parade up and down Broadway until he has 2000 people following him.

Capitalizing on the talents of Alice Faye, George Murphy, Frank Jenks, William Gargan and other capable members of the cast, the writers filled the story with laugh provoking situations, and surprise plot twists that gave it the momentum and tempo of an express train in high gear.

Those who have seen the lavish production declare that there is more solid entertainment, more laughs, more spectacular dance routines and beautiful song numbers woven into the picture than in any other musical that was ever shot.

Lurline Uller has been given a contract as a result of her splendid specialty dance in "Sally, Irene and Mary."

Jane Withers is vacationing in Honolulu, having recently completed "Rascals."

Brent Called Mystery Man Of Hollywood

They call him the "mystery man" of Hollywood, but there just isn't any mystery about George Brent.

They say he's a recluse, that he shuns the society of others in the motion picture colony, yet it is a rare occasion when Brent isn't surrounded by his own particular circle of friends.

By Hollywood standards, the tall, handsome and muscular Irishman is perhaps a little bit "different." He doesn't care a whoop about the social side of the cinema colony. He hasn't been seen in a night club since the time he mistook the front of one for a bank one afternoon and got inside before he discovered his error.

"I can't understand what there is about me that would cause anyone to be puzzled," he says. "I'm just an ordinary human being trying to live my life the way I like to. I have my friends, my hobbies, my dogs, my guns, my ranch, my horse and the things I value. I don't see anything extraordinary in that."

For instance, he was on location in Trinity County, Calif., with Cosmopolitan's "Gold Is Where You Find It," Technicolor production, which is now showing at the Westmount United Theatre, opening at the Seville United Theatre, Sunday, in which he is co-starred with Olivia de Havilland. The studio offered him accommodations in the town of Weaverville's only hotel.

"No, thank you," Brent told the studio official. "I'll stay with the rest of the boys."

IT'S GARDEN TIME!

Floral Color Dominates In Garden's Architecture

It Should be Laid Out so That Plants' Beauty Shown to Best Advantage; Carpet Bedding Fashion Passe

In our small gardens, classifications tend to disappear. The orthodox types of garden design become strangely mixed. The formal and the informal, the natural and architectural, often mingle, and, strange to say, the effect may be delightful.

It should be said that the controlling purpose of modern garden design is to display the beauty of the flowers and plants which grow in the garden. There can be no beauty in a garden greater than the beauty of its plants; and the design is good in proportion to its success in displaying at their best the natural grace, form and colour of the garden's horticultural treasures.

This trend toward simplicity of garden design is in harmony with dress design, interior decoration and other branches of the decorative arts. And like the others, the garden relies for much of its effect upon the studied use of color.

There are still to be found in our formal gardens geometrical beds and bi-symmetrical grouping of ornaments which might have been copied from mid-Victorian models; but nowhere nowadays, except in public parks and railway station grounds, sadly out of date is the carpet-bedding fashion followed, in which plants were required to surrender their individual charm and become merely pigments with which a gardener embroidered curious patterns on the lawn.

Patterns which would have been recognized as commonplace or ugly had they been woven in textiles were supposed to acquire merit from the fact that to make them hundreds of beautiful plants were sacrificed. Formal beds now do not call for stiff and formal planting, but in them flowers are grown in their natural grace and beauty, so arranged, as to both form and color, that the feeling of balance essential to any good design is preserved.

Such arrangements are dependent upon skilful color grouping for their major charm; and where can be found a greater opportunity for the pleasing use of color than in a garden?

Flowers are color. They afford an infinite range of material ready to the hand of the artist who would combine them in a picture. It is not strange that the wave of color consciousness which has spread over the world and so strongly influenced our fashions in dress and decoration should focus in our gardens.

Care Suggested In Planting Of Tulips

Were you fortunate enough to receive an Easter plant of tulips, hyacinths or daffodils? If so, do not discard the plant after it has finished blooming. While such a plant should not be forced for bloom again indoors, it will do very well if planted out in the garden.

Continue to water the plant, after it has finished blooming, until the leaves start to change colour, then gradually withhold water until the leaves are yellow. Then lay the pot on its side until the soil dries out and becomes powdery.

When this stage is reached the bulbs can be planted out in the garden, or they can be cleaned and stored in a cool place until fall, when they can be planted outdoors along with other bulbs.

Readers who can remember their grandmothers' gardens will be glad to know that interest in the old-fashioned roses is reviving. They are being shown once more in flower exhibits and are lovely in the garden, when planted in combination with such old favourites as lavender. The moss rose, the cabbage, cinnamon and the dog rose are all old stand-bys.

Don't let spring get too far advanced before reseeding the bare spots in the lawn, and applying plant food.

Most plant experts consider manure more harmful than good for lawns. Large quantities of noxious weed seeds are broadcast in this way, and the lawn is an unsightly mess for months after the first application. Use a complete plant food instead.

If your perennial border was straggly and barren in spots last year, plan ahead of time for annuals to fill in the dull places.

Make your garden habit a hobby by specializing in a few flowers and vegetables.

Bulbs And Plants Must Be Put In Soil Securely

Germination Time is Important in Life of Plants — Will Vary According to Conditions — Spray and Dust Early

An important point in planting seed, bulbs or plants is to bring them into close contact with the soil. The ground should be firmed over seeds and packed about the roots of plants. Trees and shrubs require special care on this point. It is easy to leave among the roots of shrubs air pockets which break contact between roots and soil, and thus make it impossible for the roots to function.

Plants grow by virtue of foods taken from the soil in liquid form through their roots, for which soil and roots must be in close contact. When a seed germinates it sends a sprout up and a root down simultaneously, and the root hairs begin at once to absorb from the soil the food elements which support growth. Any interference with this procedure makes trouble.

Great care should be used in watering a seed bed, not only because small seeds and seedlings may be washed out of the drills by carelessness, but excess water may cause the spread of the damping off fungus. Do not keep the soil wet; and avoid watering in frequent dribblings. But water thoroughly with precautions to prevent washing, as often as the soil shows the need of water.

Flower seeds vary greatly in time required for germination. Some of the most popular varieties, with the time required for germination under favorable conditions, are as follows: Ageratum, 5 days; Alyssum, 5 days; Antirrhinum (snapdragon), 20 days; Aquilegia (columbine), 15 days; Aster, 8 days; Centaurea cynus (bachelor's button), 5 to 15 days; Calendula, 10 days; California poppy, 8 days; Campanula, 8 days; Canterbury bells, 15 days; Celosia, 20 days; Cosmos, 5 days; Delphinium, 15 days; Dianthus, 5 days; Euphorbia (snow on the mountain) 20 days; Forget-me-not, 15 days; Foxglove, 20 days; Gaillardia, 20 days; Helianthus, 15 days; Marigolds, 5 days; Morning glory, 5 days; Moon vines, 20 days; Nasturtiums, 8 days; Nicotiana, 20 days; Pansies, 8 days; Sweet peas, 15 days; Salpiglossis, 5 days; Scabiosa, 20 days; Schizanthus, 20 days; Stocks, 5 days; Verbena, 8 days; Zinnias, 5 days.

These periods are likely to vary greatly under outdoor conditions, but they give an idea of whether a variety is slow or fast and will help you in determining how long you may expect to wait before losing patience.

The first and sturdiest seedlings that appear are not always the best for flowers. Experience teaches that the finer blossoms, particularly the most double ones, are likely to be borne by seedlings, which are slow in appearing and oftentimes look spindly.

Spraying should begin before damage appears, since it is our purpose to prevent damage. After a plant has been ruined spraying does no good.

How do we know what to expect in the way of insect injury and disease? By what we experienced last year. If we grew potatoes, we know the Colorado beetle and leaf hoppers will attack them. The striped beetle will surely infest our cucumbers. Aphids will certainly cluster around the new leaves of the crabs, and on the new growth of the bridal wreath. The phlox fungus will, without fail, turn the lower leaves of our finest phlox varieties brown if we do not act to prevent it.

Hints On Sowing Of Carrot Seeds

Years ago carrots were only thought of in connection with soups or as a vegetable dish, but today, with their increasing popularity for jams and pies, they should be included in all vegetable gardens.

If you are planning to grow carrots for exhibition purposes, you will want them long, tapering and smooth, without any deformities from stony soil. After cultivating the land, push an iron bar into the soil for about two feet. Remove the bar and fill this hole with sifted soil. Next place a few seeds in the hole. Later thin the young plants, leaving but one plant in each hole.

Carrot seeds should not be sown if the soil is wet enough to cling to the tools, or just before a rain. If a heavy rain follows sowing it beats the soil down so hard that the seeds are not apt to sprout.

The Family Druggist

By L. Sherwin, Ph.G.

National First Aid Week will be observed throughout the country between May 15 and May 21, its purpose being of course to make the public first aid conscious. The vital importance of first aid knowledge cannot be overestimated and the small outlay necessary to provide the simple materials will be repaid a thousand fold.

Sitting safely at your fireside you may regard accidents as unpleasant things, occurring only in automobiles or factories. Do not be misled, statistics show that some of the most appalling accidents occur in the home. Every housekeeper considers burns and bruises part of the day's work. She thinks she is being practical and brave in ignoring so-called minor injuries.

Little does she know that a neglected grease or steam burn may result in a nasty infection that will send her to bed for a week. It is interesting to note that the annual toll of fatal domestic accidents is second only to that of automobiles.

It takes only a few minutes to step to the medicine cabinet and treat the minor cut, bruise or burn with first aid material, providing you are stocked with the proper equipment. Your doctor or druggist will gladly give you a list of the items necessary. Make sure that the entire family has access to the cabinet and that they know how to use them.

After an accident has occurred it is not the time to read up on what to do for a fainting spell or an insect bite. Every child can learn how to cleanse and dress a simple cut, apply hot or cold compresses to the bruise whilst awaiting the arrival of the doctor.

I want to emphasize that first aid does not take the place of the physician. It merely does what can be done before the arrival of the doctor to prevent complications. Often it enables the physician to save a life which might otherwise be lost.

Medicines and first aid supplies must be carefully labeled to prevent misuse and poison bottles should be of a particular shape that is distinguishable even in the dark. The medicine cabinet should be kept out of the reach of very small children.

Whilst you have been reading you have probably been going over in your mind the items now in your cabinet, wondering whether they are adequate. The following is a brief list of the essentials for every day emergencies.

Tincture of Iodine or some approved antiseptic.
Gauze bandages in one and two inch widths.
Sterilized gauze pads in individual packets.

DISTRICT GUIDES PARTICIPATE IN MONSTER RALLY

Twenty-nine Companies From This Section Take Part in All-Montreal Event

Twenty-nine companies of Girl Guides, from Notre Dame de Grace, Westmount, Western and Snowdon districts, participated in the monster rally of the organization held at the Forum last Saturday night, and which embraced the fourteen districts of the Montreal division. There was a large attendance on hand for the event.

Not only did Girl Guide companies from these districts participate largely in the rally, but came in for a large share of commendation for their work. In fact, the only competitive number on the program, the Good Posture Competition, was carried off by a company from Notre Dame de Grace district, with the Verdun district entry, winners of several past competitions a close second.

The company from Herbert Symond's school, under the direction and guidance of Capt. Pamela Browne, presented a smart showing as they marched around the arena in the Good Posture Competition, to eliminate thirteen other companies in the event.

Companies from Notre Dame de Grace, Westmount and Western districts, also carried off honors in the closing event of the evening, the campfire scene, a fitting climax to a splendid evening's demonstration of the work of the organization. In the darkened Forum, the girls of these companies gathered around an artificial campfire, there to demonstrate with song and dance the methods used to entertain themselves around real camp fires at summer camps. This was directed by Miss Adele Alguire.

Western and Notre Dame de Grace districts also gave a good account of themselves in the opening number of the second part of the rally, a demonstration of uses of the Girl Guide tie or neckerchief. Extended the entire length of the arena the girls showed how these otherwise decorative articles of dress can and are used in emergency for first aid work, and other uses. This display was directed by Miss Ellen Cowan and Miss Pamela Browne.

Snowdon district, under the direction of Isabel Dowling, excelled in a demonstration of compass and sun clock work, in which the hours of the day and night were shown as related to the program of the Girl Guide organization.

Other numbers on the evening's bill, offered by other companies of the Montreal division, included, color party, rhythmic exercises, test games, national dances, badge work, and recreational games.

Companies from Notre Dame de Grace, Snowdon, Western and Westmount districts included:

Notre Dame de Grace district: 20th Mackay Institute; 21st Herbert Symond's School; 49th Trinity Memorial Church; 50th St. Saviour's Mission; 72nd St. Augustine's School.

Snowdon district: 11th Town of Mount Royal; 52nd St. Laurent Protestant School; 57th St. Matthew's Church; 58th Hampstead School; 62nd Cote des Neiges School; 64th Iona School; 83rd Church of the Good Shepherd, Cartierville.

Western district: 13th Church of St. Columba; 33rd Kensington Church; 36th Elizabeth Ballantyne School; 80th Montreal School for the Blind; 81st Rosedale

Other may be driven to turn its attention to life on land. They often attack poultry and even game. No animal is more readily educated than a young otter in captivity, it is naturally a playful beast, coasting being an established game with the animal and probably every individual of the species frequents some otter slide. This is any convenient steep hill or bank, sloping down into deep water. Here the otter will meet old and young without any thought, but the joy of fun together, and shoot down one after the other into the water.

A six-week-old calf was nibbling at the grass in the yard, and was viewed in silence for some minutes by the city girl.

"Tell me," she said, turning impulsively to her hostess, "does it really pay you to keep as small a cow as that?"

Buffalo merchant complains American women are spending too much money in Canada. You can't fool the women, though, when it comes to shopping sense.

Fancy Aquatic Exhibitions Scheduled at Meet in N.D.G. Pool—Rev. Merry Alphonse, Principal, Wins Praise for Success of Athletic Events in School—Seeks to Obtain Similar Pool in Westmount Area

The third annual swimming meet of St. Leo's Academy will be held tonight at 8 o'clock in the N.D.G. swimming pool under the patronage of Rev. W. E. McDonagh, of Ascension parish.

Since the principal, Rev. Merry Alphonse, arrived at the school he has been keenly interested in the idea of a swimming pool in Westmount and his efforts in this respect have been devoted in getting the support of the City Council and the residents of Westmount to sponsor this project and bring it to fruition.

Alderman Panet-Raymond is among the city's leaders who has expressed himself as favorable to the idea of a pool in Westmount, Rev. Alphonse, announced.

There will be an exhibition of fancy diving and swimming at the meet by Miss Fernande Kent, N.A.A.A. and her Mermaids. Mr. Gagnier and Mr. Farnum will also take part.

With the view of procuring prizes for the meet and Field Day, parents accompanied by their children gathered in the school Tuesday night.

The group of women present organized a Home and School evening which was attended by 450.

Rev. Gerald Berry thanked those in well chosen words who were responsible for such a pleasant evening. Rev. Berry declared that since the arrival of Rev. Alphonse and due to his untiring efforts the school has been highly successful in competitive sports.

Rev. Alphonse has devoted much of his spare time in bringing about modernization of athletic equipment and has won wide praise from other Catholic clergy for his progress in this respect.

"We had a packed hall for our physical display May 11, and on Scouts' Parents' night, May 13, Fathers and Sons communion breakfast and we sincerely hope that the parents of our boys will not fail to give them the support they so justly deserve by being present at this swimming meet," said Rev. Alphonse.

"The Brother Director, the teachers and the boys take this opportunity of acknowledging with sincere appreciation the parents and friends who by their generous donations have provided the necessary funds to buy prizes for this aquatic meet."

Brazil will send a representative to Africa to buy date trees to start date raising at home on a commercial scale.

BOYS' BRIGADE NOTES

First Company of The Boys' Brigade altered their program last week, ending with a "hot dog" feed supplied by officers and N.C.O's.

During the evening various new games were introduced by Lieut. Phil Falls, and a sing-song was also featured.

Preparations were made for the forthcoming battalion review to-day, so that each unit will fit into its part of the program. Lieut. Sutherland will take charge of this part of the work as well as the First Aid Squad.

The following boys will receive their membership badges: Privates Bryan Pearse, Harold Fairhead, Anderson Baxter, Ronald Baxter and Bruce Marshall.

A bicycle hike to Ste. Rose will take place tomorrow. The party will leave Westmount at 1 p.m. and return in the late afternoon or early evening.

The Life-Boys will meet tomorrow afternoon in front of Melville Church after which they will proceed with their leaders on a hike. The team will hold a party before closing this season's activity and intend inviting delegates from the other Montreal teams. The party is expected to take place early in June.

The Eleventh Company is steadily increasing in membership and enthusiasm is at a high pitch.

M. GOLDSTEIN, DINNER GUEST

The Temple Emanu-El congregation tendered a testimonial dinner to Maxwell Goldstein, K.C., honorary president of the Temple, at the Montefiore Club, last week, in honor of his 75th birthday. Rabbi Stern spoke of Mr. Goldstein's contribution as lay-head of Emanu-El and his identification with all worthwhile endeavors in Montreal's communal life. Greetings were brought by the following: H. C. Shefler, president of president, Shaar Hashomayim. Others who participated were: David Friedman, I. Sidney Isaacs, Sol Kellert and H. E. Davis. Community singing, was led by Mrs. J. N. Neumann, who composed special songs for the occasion. She was accompanied by Mrs. M. F. Goldenberg.

Variety Of Sports Draw Athletic Grounds Crowd

Activities at the Westmount Athletic Grounds are getting well underway, Norman Smyth, superintendent of recreation, announced today.

Thirty devotees of cricket turned out for practice over the week-end, as members of the Westmount Cricket Club. There are three teams in the club and all are entered in the Montreal and District League.

Tennis is also drawing considerable interest. There are now 160 members in the Westmount Club and nearly all of the courts were occupied over the week end.

The Westmount model yacht races will get underway Friday night in the ravine in Westmount Park.

Finds Air Mail Cost 'Excessive'

J. Fergusson Reed of Greenwich, Conn., forgot his dinner jacket when he came to Hamilton, Bermuda, on a holiday, so he wired his secretary at home to send the missing garment, adding merely to use up the allotted wordage in the telegram, "as soon as possible."

Now he has the distinction—at a price—of having received the largest air mail parcel yet to arrive in Bermuda. Shortly after he sent the wire, his dinner jacket arrived—by air mail at a cost of $11.50 in stamps.

The secretary took literally the last four words of the telegram.
