SIR WILFRID LAURIER AT HOT SPRINGS, VA.

The Premier and Lady Laurier Entertained at a Social Function.

CURE COMMENCES TO-DAY

Sir Wilfrid Has Placed Himself Unreservedly in the Hands of An Experienced Doctor.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

HOT SPRINGS, Va., November 21.—Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier, and Sir William Mulock were given an informal reception and tea yesterday by Mrs. S. Barton French at "Barton Lodge." It was also in the nature of a farewell tea, for Mrs. French leaves to-day to be present at the opening night of the opera. For the occasion, the house, which is built on the colonial style, was handsomely decorated with chrysanthemums and American Beauty roses. Mrs. French was assisted in receiving by her mother, Mrs. Walker Fearn, who was a celebrated beauty of New Orleans in her younger days, and is still very handsome.

Among those present to meet the guests of honour were Mr. and Mrs. Louis L. Lorillard, Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Saint Gaudens, Mrs. Robert de Forest, Miss Frances Howland, Mrs. Everard Strong, Miss Strong, Mr. Trevor L. Park, Mr. and Mrs. Reginald de Koven, of New York; Mrs. Henry May, of Washington; Mrs. Jos. E. Welland, wife of the Lieutenant-Governor of Virginia; Dr. Joseph L. Nichols, of Cincinnati, and many others.

The Premier will begin the baths and "cure" here to-day. The bath house is quite complete in its appointments, and has a splendid corps of trained Swedish attendants. The house is three stories in height and connected with the hotel by a covered bridge that is heated, so that he may go directly to his room and rest after the bath, as directed, without going out in the open air.

All patrons must take the cure only under a doctor's prescription, and the Premier has put himself under the care of Dr. Henry S. Pole, who has made a study of the waters here for thirty-five years.

THE POPE SAYS HIS WORK IS NOT FINISHED.

ROME, November 21.—At a reception of 500 Piedmontese pilgrims to-day, the Pope jocularly referred to the unfounded rumours yesterday of his indisposition, adding:

"My time has not yet come. We have many things to accomplish before death."

EXPECT A DICTATORSHIP.

Action of Servian King Causes Speculation in Vienna.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

VIENNA, November 21.—The resignation of the Servian Cabinet and King Alexander's mandate to General Marovics to form a new Ministry are generally taken here to foreshadow a military dictatorship in Servia. The King's next move, according to general expectations, will be the indefinite adjournment or dissolution of Parliament. He will then attempt to govern as an absolute monarch, supported only by his army.

This startling outlook finds published verification in the Wiener Allegemeine Zeitung, which says that the foregoing action is probable on account of King Alexander's determination to check the designs of the anti-dynastic Radicals. The resignation of the Cabinet occurred on Tuesday, in consequence of a vote in the Skupshtina, which was construed as indicating a lack of confidence in the Government. General Marovics received the King's command to-day to form a Ministry. The Skupshtina wanted M. Pasics, a former Radical, as Premier, but as he is a well-known enemy of the Obrenovics dynasty, the King naturally did not select him. The nomination of General Marovics was in direct opposition to the wishes of the Skupshtina.

MRS. MOLINEUX WON'T TALK.

Declines to Discuss Reasons Why She Seeks Divorce.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., November 21.—Mrs. Blanche C. Molineux absolutely refused to say a word to-day in reference to the report outlining her reasons for leaving her husband.

The same refusal was made by her attorneys, under whose advice she is acting. They absolutely declined to discuss the story.

Mrs. Molineux remained quietly in her room, denying herself to all callers. She will not disclose her plans or intentions in advance. The hotel proprietors also persist in their intention not to discuss the case. It is predicted that nothing will be known until the expiration of the six months necessary to establish a residence.

MOLINEUX'S FRIENDS ANGRY.

NEW YORK, November 21.—There was a chorus of protests by friends of Roland B. Molineux yesterday when they read the revelations about Mrs. Molineux's reasons for going to South Dakota to seek a divorce. All interested were anxious to deny that Mrs. Molineux's grievances antedated her husband's acquittal last week.

H.M.S. PHEATON ORDERED HOME

She Has Developed a Number of Defects.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

VICTORIA, B. C., November 21.—It is learned from naval sources that the reason for ordering home H. M. S. Phaeton is that she has developed a number of defects. In 1897 when the Phaeton was sent to the Pacific it was intended she should return to England to pay off after one commission, and £35,000 was provided in the estimates for her repair. The report on her at the termination of her first commission was so satisfactory that the Admiralty decided to recommission her for a further term and the crew was brought out here to recommission at a cost of £8,800. The flagship Grafton will be recommissioned on the expiration of the present term of service, in which case the cost of her relief crew will be £17,000.

A party of surveyors has left MacLeod, Alberta, to run a trial line for a proposed new railway from MacLeod to connect with the Great Northern system in Montana.

VIRGINIA GOBEILLE NOT RESPONSIBLE

Such is Verdict in Respect to Death of J. B. Van Allen.

PATIENT WAS NOT STARVED

Autopsy Made and the Doctors Give Their Evidence Before Coroner.

◆ ◆ ◆

"That we, the undersigned jurors, after having heard the evidence, declare that James Byron Van Allen died at Montreal, on Wednesday, November the 19th, 1902, of peritonitis and that Miss Gobeille, the keeper of the sanitarium at 1742 St. Hubert street, is in no way responsible for his death as he was not a fasting patient. We recommend, however, that a law should be enacted by the Government, placing all private hospitals and sanitariums under medical supervision."

◆ ◆ ◆

The above verdict was rendered at the inquest held to-day at the morgue on the body of James Byron Van Allen, who died in Miss Virginia Gobeille's sanitarium on Wednesday evening. Coroner McMahon presided.

The following jury was sworn in: George O'Neil, Joseph E. Daoust, Richard R. Griffin, J. B. Mack, Joseph Arthur Pichette, A. St. Mars, Louis N. Hadd, Saul Garmaise, Joseph Gibeau, Gaspard Dufresne, C. Lessard, Joseph L. Carpenter and Ferdinand Lachapelle.

Miss Virginia Gobeille was represented by Mr. S. G. Archibald, of the law firm of Foster & Company.

Dr. C. A. Dugas, who made the autopsy in conjunction with Dr. D. D. MacTaggart, stated that death was due to peritonitis.

Dr. D. D. MacTaggart was put on the stand and sworn. He said that all the organs of the body were more or less diseased, and that there was nothing to show that Van Allen had been starved to death. The cause of death, he said, was peritonitis. A cancer had been found in the stomach.

THE CROSS EXAMINATION.

On being cross-questioned by the Coroner, he said that the cancer in the stomach might have gone on for a considerable time without causing death.

One of the jurors asked the doctor to explain the meaning of the word "peritonitis," in a general way.

He said it was inflammation of the peritoneum, a membrane which covers the internal surface of the abdomen.

Mrs. G. Bryan, of 580 Wellington street, Point St. Charles, was the next witness called. She said the last time she saw her brother alive was at 12 o'clock on the day of his death. He was very weak, but did not complain of feeling seriously ill. She swore that she fully believed that the arrest of Miss Virginia Gobeille had a serious effect on her brother. The deceased first went to the sanitarium during the month of August.

Mrs. Louis Gobeille, the aged mother of Miss Virginia Gobeille, was sworn. She said she resided at L'Ange Gardien, Que. The Coroner asked her if she could speak English. She said she would give her evidence in the French language. She said she had been staying with her daughter since Tuesday last, and that she did not know whether the dead man had been given nourishment or not.

Miss Bertha Arendt, Miss Gobeille's partner, declared that the deceased had been given food regularly, and that he was not a fasting patient. On the morning of his death, when she and Miss Gobeille were leaving the house to go to the Court, she noticed that the patient got very nervous and excited. She then believed the case to be very serious. She said the patient was up on the day he died, and walked about the house.

Coroner McMahon, in summing up the evidence, declared there was a great difference between his death and the two previous ones which occurred at the sanitarium. In this case sufficient disease was found to cause death, but in the former case there were no diseases found sufficient to explain the deaths and that the men were really starved to death.

The jury only took three minutes to decide, when they brought in the verdict quoted above.

The Coroner issued the burial certificate, and the body will be taken to Morrisburg, Ont., for interment.

This latter date will, therefore, be substituted for the 15th July, 1901.

2. Supplementary Rolls should now be submitted in accordance with instructions including the names of all individuals entitled to any of the above clasps, whose claims thereto have already been submitted, and of all who, whilst ineligible for the King's medal granted by army order 232 of 1902, are entitled to either of the clasps, "South Africa 1901," or "South Africa 1902," there is granted.

3. Special forms have been printed for preferring these claims and will be supplied to all concerned. Leave of absence, with permission to travel abroad is granted to Major E. Laliberte, 1st Field Battery, from the 26th instant to the 25th proximo.

ALDERMEN CONSULT WITH HOSPITALS

Conference Between Medical Experts and Civic Committee To-day.

PROBLEM NEARER SOLUTION

Various Institutions in City Will Likely Take Over Contagious Diseases Patients.

The civic hospital question, which has been dragging along for the past three years, was advanced a stage to-day. Representatives from the Royal Victoria Hospital, the Notre Dame, the General and the Western Hospitals met a committee of aldermen in the Mayor's parlours at the City Hall and agreed to submit terms upon which they would receive and treat patients suffering from diphtheria and scarlet fever. If the offers are found satisfactory the city may not build a civic hospital; if not satisfactory, those who favour such hospital will ask that one be built without further delay.

THE PROPOSITION MADE.

At the opening of the meeting the Mayor called attention to the fact that the representatives of the hospitals had been invited to attend the meeting in order to see whether it would be wiser for the city to pay for the treatment of patients, at private hospitals, or to erect a civic hospital which the aldermen would control.

Mr. Crathern, representing the General Hospital, said that the matter was one which would have to be brought up before the boards of the various hospitals. After this was done the hospitals would be in a position to give the city an intelligent idea as to what charges would be asked, etc.

Ald. L. A. Lapointe—"We might desire the hospitals to build separate wings for the treatment of such patients. This would have to be taken into consideration."

Mr. Crathern said this was a side of the question which the hospital authorities would also have to look into.

Ald. Lapointe—"For my part, I am sure that private hospitals would take splendid care of the city's patients, and that we should get more satisfaction than by building a civic hospital."

Prof. Adami, representing the Royal Victoria Hospital, pointed out that if the authorities deemed it necessary to erect special wings for patients, suffering from diphtheria and scarlet fever, the city would have to guarantee the hospitals that they would not suffer by possible actions from citizens who would not care to have such wings near their residences. For his part he saw no reason why the boards of the various hospitals could not agree to take patients, if an agreement could be reached with the city on the monetary aspect of the case.

SERIES OF QUESTIONS SUBMITTED.

Ald. Ames—"It seems to me that a series of questions should be put to the gentlemen representing the hospitals, so they will know just about what the city would like in regard to this matter."

It was the opinion of Ald. Ekers that the representatives of the hospitals should not be coached with regard to the subject; they should be allowed to submit propositions saying just what they would charge to isolate and treat patients the city might send.

After a little sparring between Ald. Ames and Ald. Ekers, over the list, it was allowed. It was as follows:

◎ ◎ ◎

Have you land in connection with presently existing hospitals upon which might be erected suitable wings or pavilions for patients suffering from scarlet fever, diphtheria and measles?

Upon what terms would you undertake to erect and equip such wings or pavilions?

How many patients would you undertake to provide for?

Would your plans be subject to the approval of Council?

How soon would you be ready to receive patients?

What rate would you charge the city for the care of its patients, and what would be included in this service?

For how many years would you expect an engagement?

Would you permit the premises to be inspected at all times by the Medical Health Officer of the city, and would you accept his suggestions?

Would you undertake to employ as nurses only persons of experience in caring for the sick?

Who would pay for the ambulance service and the cost of burial?

Would you expect to take in private paying patients, and, if so, what would your tariff be for the same?

Would you be willing to keep suitable registers containing information and receive and dismiss patients as the Medical Health Officer might order?

◎ ◎ ◎

Ald. L. A. Lapointe did not think the above list explicit enough and also submitted the following, which the committee sanctioned:

"That the authorities of the Hotel Dieu, Royal Victoria, Notre Dame, General and Western Hospitals, be requested to consider under what conditions they would care for cases of scarlet fever, diphtheria, measles and similar diseases sent to their institutions by the city, with the understanding that they should provide the necessary accommodation, and to communicate with this committee at the earliest possible moment."

WOULD LIKE STATED AMOUNT.

Mr. Hebert, representing the Notre Dame Hospital, said he thought the city should offer the hospitals a certain yearly amount for a "minimum" number of patients. Any patients over the specified number could be charged for at so much per head. If the hospitals were not sure of a certain amount each year from the city, they might loose money.

He pointed out that some years ago the Notre Dame Hospital and other hospitals got $6,500 a year for a minimum number of patients. This basis might be worked upon for a new agreement with the city.

Dr. F. W. Campbell, of the Western Hospital, said he was opposed to any treating of patients according to their religious beliefs; Protestants and Catholics should be willing to go to any hospital without any question being raised as to what was the faith of those who operated the hospital.

The committee informed Dr. Campbell that at the present time this part of the question was not being discussed.

After a little more discussion the meeting adjourned; it being understood that the hospital representatives should submit, as soon as possible, offers to the city in regard to the care of patients.

PACIFIC CABLE OPEN IN DECEMBER

A Flat Rate of 58 Cents Per Word Will Be Inaugurated.

COST MATERIALLY LESSENED

A Record of 110 Letters Per Minute Pleases Builders and Owners.

It is announced that messages from all parts of Canada to all parts of Australia will be taken at the flat rate of fifty-eight cents per word, and that press matter will be forwarded via the great Pacific cable at the rate of twenty cents per word. The present cable rate between Canada and Australia is 99 cents per word.

At the office of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company's Telegraph, the Canadian connection of the Pacific cable, it was stated to-day that the contractors had yet the cable in hand, but that it was expected to be open for business early in December.

The tests of the cable have been eminently satisfactory, in fact have exceeded the expectation of both the contractors and the cable people themselves.

Messages have been sent over this 3,450 miles of cable between Canada and Australia, at the rate of 110 letters per minute, which is far in excess of what either the projectors or the contractors hoped for.

These tests have been of great interest to all who pay special attention to cable construction, by reason of the fact that the present cable is far and away longer than any now existing in the world, and just what the results would be in sending messages over this immense distance was up to this time a matter of theory rather than effect.

The two engineers who have represented the Pacific Cable Board in the construction of the line, have been located at Bamfield, the Canadian terminus of the cable, and to-morrow they will leave Vancouver for England, via the Canadian Pacific.

HOTEL PROJECT FOR MONTREAL

Waring Contracting Company Has the Scheme in Hand.

"For some time past the Waring Contracting Company, of London, Eng., has been approached with a view of establishing one of its chain of hotels throughout the world in Montreal. It has finally been decided to undertake such a project if conditions were found favourable. Mr. S. Waring, the head of the firm, had intended coming to Canada himself, but owing to the visit of the Emperor of Germany to England, was detained at home. As a member of the Finance Committee of the company, I was asked to make a report of the possibilities for such an undertaking and will certainly favour it."

Such was the statement made to a Star representative at the Windsor to-day by Mr. Henry J. Joseph, of London, Eng., of the Asbestos and Asbestic Company, Ltd., and member of the Finance Committee of the Waring Contracting Company. During the past quarter of century the Waring Company, of which Mr. Samuel Waring is the head, has been identified with all the largest building contracts in Great Britain. Among the most prominent hotels that have been financed and erected lately by the firm are the Carlton Hotel, London, and the Regina at Nice. The erection of a $2,000,000 hotel at Johannesburg has just been started by them in conjunction with the firm of Benato Brothers. That the establishment of an hotel by such a firm in Canada would be attended with good results can be attended with little doubt, owing to the success the firm has already had with its various hotels in all parts of the world.

"There cannot any longer be any doubt," Mr. Joseph went on to say, "that if a suitable site could be secured, such a building would be erected. For some time past we have been negotiating with a private estate for the purchase of a large block of land not far from Dominion square. While not at liberty at the present time to mention any name, I would not hesitate to say that if the site in question is procured, it will be by far the best that can be had in the city.

"One of the things that is causing widespread interest in England is the success achieved by Americans. Everybody is trying to find out how they do it. While in Cleveland recently, I met Mr. Alfred Mosejey and his party of representatives of the various labour organizations studying American methods with a view of solving the problem. I found them visiting the various factories and seeing how things were run. They did not confer with the higher officials of the company. Unless they do so they will not find the real secret of the success. The managers of the great firms are all down at the offices surrounded by their clerks at half-past seven o'clock in the morning. They are great workers and they work with great diligence.

Englishmen have not quite realized that they must abandon their habits of going out hunting and getting down late to their offices if they are to remain on the same footing as their competitors.

NEW CHIEF JUSTICE HAS BEEN SWORN IN ## Ceremony Took Place in Capital at Noon Hour To-day.

ADMINISTERING THE OATH

After Ceremony Had Been Concluded Short Meeting of Council Was Held.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

OTTAWA, November 21.—The Council Chamber was the scene of an unusual gathering at noon to-day, when Sir Henri Elzear Taschereau was sworn in as Chief Justice of Canada. The first to arrive at the Chamber were Sir Louis Davies and Mr. Justice Sedgewick, who were quickly followed by Hon. R. W. Scott and Sir Richard Cartwright, Acting Premier. After a little Hon. Charles Fitzpatrick and Hon. Sidney Fisher arrived, and almost immediately followed by Sir Henri Elzear Taschereau and Hon. Mr. Justice Girouard.

At this time Hon. R. W. Scott left the room to advise His Excellency that all were in waiting, and as the noontide gun boomed forth the hour, Lord Minto, attended by Captain Hughes, left his office and proceeded to the Council Chamber, where Hon. David Mills, Hon. James Sutherland and Hon. Raymond Prefontaine joined them.

Mr. Sheriff Sweetland and Mr. Cameron, Registrar of the Supreme Court, were also in attendance. All being placed Mr. J. J. McGee, Clerk of the Privy Council, handed Sir Henri the Gospels and read the oath.

"I swear to and will faithfully discharge the duties of Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Canada, to which office I have been appointed."

Sir Henri then took the oath and the ceremony was ended. The Privy Councillors and visitors who were not members of the Cabinet having withdrawn, a short meeting of the Council was held.

BALDWIN NOT TO GIVE UP.

Representative Says Arctic Leader Virtually Partner of Ziegler.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

NEW YORK, November 21. — Evelyn Briggs Baldwin, the head of the Baldwin-Ziegler Arctic expedition, is jealously guarding his interests as involved in the controversy over his late expedition. At the office of William B. Fox and Co., with whom Mr. Baldwin is at present connected, Mr. Fox, speaking of the matter, said yesterday:

"Mr. Baldwin is not going to give up his rights or interests in the exploration party. He had contracts with Mr. Ziegler and is virtually a partner. All the talk now going on has not considered Baldwin's side at all. He will soon give out a statement that will change the complexion of the affair. It has not been deemed advisable by Mr. Baldwin to talk up till now.

"Mr. Baldwin was quoted as saying that his work is just begun, and that the expedition was not a failure. He had spent ten years in the work and three in the expedition, and was not going to stop now. Lack of coal and destruction of his sledges had forced the return. Jealousies and quarrels had arisen, as in other expeditions, and on the return they had been proclaimed abroad. He had established food depots in different places through Franz Josef Land, and a station on the east coast of Greenland."

OPPOSE ARBITRATION BILL

Mr. Mulock's Proposed Legislation Does Not Meet With Approval of Workmen.

At last night's meeting of the Federated Trades and Labour Council, the amendments to the city charter were discussed. Delegate Rodier, chairman of the special committee appointed to watch the amendments in the interests of the working classes, reported having attended the meeting of the Charter Committee. They were told to submit their requests in writing and that the committee would consider them in the near future. The following presented credentials and were admitted as delegates: L. Clement and D. Debiere, United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners; Messrs. Sharkofski and Weinstein, Rubber Clothing Workers; Messrs. Baker and Wilcox, Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners.

A resolution was unanimously passed recommending all trade unions in the province of Quebec to immediately affiliate with the Trades and Labour Congress of Canada, as labour legislation is to be introduced at the next session of the Dominion Parliament, which will be of considerable interest to the workingmen of Canada, and more especially the railway employes, who are now rapidly organizing to fight the bill known as the Compulsory Arbitration Bill for the Settlement of Railway Labour Disputes, which is to be introduced by the Hon. Mr. Mulock, Minister of Labour. The railway men's representatives claim that the enactment of this law would rob the railway employes of their constitutional rights, destroy their organizations and place them in the hands of the railway companies, at the same time depriving them of citizenship.

On motion of Delegate Rodier, a special committee was appointed for the purpose of raising a large sum of money to be used for legislative and other purposes.

A resolution was passed on motion of Delegate Latreille, that the City Council be requested to see that only union labour is employed on the building of the new civic hospital.

A resolution was introduced having for its object the holding of a banquet on a large scale. The president, Mr. Joseph Ainey, spoke strongly against banquets, and urged the delegates to vote the resolution down. The motion was finally withdrawn. The report of the Building Trades section was adopted as read. The Organization Committee reported great progress during the month.

ADIRONDACK DEATH LIST.

Many Hunters Killed This Season in Spite of Increased Warnings.

UTICA, November 21. — The season for deer hunting in the Adirondack Mountains, which has just closed, had the usual number of shooting accidents in spite of the increasing warnings to hunters to be more careful. It is not possible to give a complete record of them, as many are never reported in the world outside the wilderness.

In some instances it has been found that the man who fired the shot that killed or wounded somebody was under the influence of liquor at the time. Just to what extent intoxication figures in the shooting accidents of the Adirondacks in the course of a season is hard to determine.

Of all the accidents, the killing of Major Smylie by Judge Storrs while night hunting on Grasse Pond, near Blue Mountain Lake, early in September, attracted most attention because of the prominence of the men. Another notable case this season was the killing by acident of a woman. Mrs. William Bruce, of Blue Ridge, was accidentally shot by a woman friend in the town of North Hudson, on October 17, and died as a result. There are many women hunters in the region annually, but this is the first accident of a serious nature in which two women have figured.

John Beecher, jr., was accidentally killed by his own gun. He slipped from a log upon which he was standing and the gun was discharged as he fell.

B. J. Stackhouse, walking behind Benjamin Burkett, while hunting rabbits near Newport, slipped and fell. As his gun struck the ground it was discharged. The shot entered Burkett's thigh, inflicting a wound from which he died the same evening.

One Sunday, at the foot of Mount Kilbourn, near North Walpole, a bullet fired from the gun of an unknown person wounded E. C. Young and killed Fred. MacKalune, of Plattsburg.

Fred Nearing, while hunting in the woods, attempted to get to the top of a stump, but fell, and his gun was discharged. He was wounded mortally.

Near Ogdensburg, Leonard Place lost his eyesight through the accidental explosion of his gun.

Joseph O'Kassuck, aged 18, was killed when he attempted to draw his brother's gun through a hedge.

John Seitz, aged 17, while hunting rabbits with William Welch at Van Wie's Point, received the charge from both barrels of the gun in his body and fell back dead.

William Wall, while shooting in the woods three miles from Ogdensburg, lost his right arm, which was blown off at the shoulder by the accidental discharge of his gun.

George, the twelve-year-old son of L. N. Catlin, was accidentally shot while taking a gun from a skiff. The whole charge entered his side, killing him instantly.

William Wilber, of Newark, while hunting muskrats, accidentally discharged his gun. The charge entered his neck and killed him instantly.

Elton Shaver set out from Watertown one morning to hunt woodchucks. The first time he fired the barrel burst near the breech and tore his left hand off at the wrist.

Peter Stock, a farmer, was shot and mortally wounded near Garoga, Fulton county. Although he called out after the first shot, the hunter fired again and Stock was struck by two bullets.

William Abrams shot and killed his brother, Fred. Abrams, in mistake for a deer, while hunting near Piseco Lake in Hamilton county. Both were sons of Floyd Abrams, an experienced Adirondack guide. Besides these cases there have been a larger number of accidental shootings in which the results were less serious.

SAW BUCK AND BEAR FIGHT.

The Former Won Although the Lighter in Weight.

BANGOR, Me., November 21.—Old hunters have claimed that while at certain times and under certain conditions a bull moose is an ugly customer to meet, he is not to be compared as a fighter with the buck deer. People unaccustomed to the ways of wild animals have generally regarded this as a fable, or at least as an exaggeration, but Thomas Leach, of Dayton, Ohio, one of a party of Ohio sportsmen who have just concluded a hunting trip at St. Croix Lake, is now ready to make affidavit to the truth of what the veterans say. He has seen a buck deer whip a bear, and afterward come back to the battleground to gloat over his victory.

One day last week Mr. Leach was travelling over an old logging road, when his attention was attracted by a savage growling in the brush near at hand. He left the road and proceeded to investigate, and had gone only a few rods when he came upon a buck deer and a medium sized bear engaged in deadly combat. It was a fierce battle, the bear using his teeth and claws and the buck his horns and sharp hoofs. The bear was plainly getting the worst of it, and in a few minutes he turned and fled for his life.

In making his escape the bear ran directly past Mr. Leach, and was an easy mark, but the deer got away. Mr. Leach dressed the bear and hung the carcass in a tree, returning then to camp. Next morning, when he went back for the bear, there were fresh deer tracks around the tree, and he sat down on a log and waited. In the course of an hour the same warlike buck that had vanquished the bear appeared, and began pawing the ground around the tree where his late enemy was hanging. Mr. Leach gave the buck time to gloat a little over his victory, and then dropped him with one shot from his rifle. The buck dressed 198 pounds and the bear 235 pounds.

ROSS MEMORIAL HOSPITAL OPENED

Montreal Financier's Fine Gift to Town of Sudbury, Ont.

DONOR RECEIVES AN ADDRESS

Mr. Ross in Reply Says Many Kind Things About His Old Home.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

LINDSAY, Ont., November 21.—A notable event in the history of Lindsay occurred yesterday, being the opening of the Ross Memorial Hospital, the gift to the Citizens of Lindsay and the County of Victoria of Mr. James Ross, of Montreal, formerly a citizen of the town. Mr. and Mrs. James Ross, accompanied by their son, Mr. J. Ross; Mrs. Peterson, of Montreal, Mr. Porteous and Mr. Wilmot Matthews arrived about noon in a private car, while a special carriage attached to the regular morning express brought a bevy of medical lights from Toronto. At 1.30 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Ross drove to the Hospital through the gaily decorated streets and up through a line of young cadets from the collegiate institute, who constituted a guard of honour for the occasion, to the doors of the beautifully designed and equipped hospital—which was designed by Mr. Ross as a memorial to the memory of his father and mother, who were for many years respected and beloved residents of the town of Lindsay.

PRESENTED WITH ADDRESS.

Mr. J. Austen, Warden of the County, presented Mr. Ross with an address, after a brief opening speech from Mr. J. D. Flavelle, chairman of the Hospital Board of Trustees. After expressing his great pleasure in accepting Mr. Ross's princely gift, Mr. Austen referred to the fact that it was in Lindsay, his former home, that Mr. Ross first firmly planted the foot of the ladder upon which he had risen to a financial eminence reached by but few of our countrymen, and said that nothing could be more fitting and graceful than that in its place Mr. Ross should call back into life and forever establish the fragrance and charm which belonged to these earlier associations.

"You may rest assurred," continued Mr. Austen, "that this act of yours will erect a monument more enduring than brick and stone. The purpose is greater than its material expression, and the spirit which dedicates this building as a memorial of the past and a blessing of the future will outlive even its solid walls. Your deed of benevolence will continue to shine even after its beauty and strength have in the lapse of years decayed and perished."

REPLY BY MR. ROSS.

Amid cheers, Mr. Ross came forward to reply. After expressing his thanks to Mr. Flavelle and Mr. Austen for their kind expressions towards himself, Mr. Ross went on: "If I needed any recompense for the part I have taken in the matter I have it here in the knowledge of the good wishes and kindly feelings of you, my old friends and neighbours. That I should cherish the memory of my parents—of my father and my mother—is but natural and fitting and that I should thereby be inspired with the tenderest recollections of this place, which was our home, is inevitable; but that I sould find in you a responsive sympathy so eloquent and so sincere binds me with even fuller attachment to the district and the people and gives me a complete asusrance of your active support and ready helpfulness in carrying out the good work which it is the intention of the projectors this hospital should accomplish.

"You have in flattering terms referred to my advent among you some twenty-five years ago; and for my part, I can say, for my wife, as well as myself, that those days of twenty-five years ago, when lifes' battle had just begun and everything lay yet before us unachieved, were not among the least pleasant of our lives, but rather were those which now we should be most loth to forget. It is perhaps a truism to say that the best beneficence is that which has in view the giving of its recipients the occasion or the means to help themselves. It was, I know, in this practical form that my parents would have striven to benefit others, and it has accordingly been my ambition that this gift of mine, as a suitable memorial to their memory should to some modest extent at least embody this purpose, be an additional incentive to the self-reliance and civic progressiveness of the county of Victoria and the town of Lindsay."

Mr. Ross concluded with an assurance on behalf of Mrs. Ross, his family and himself, that the hospital would forever be to them an additional link binding them to their old friends and their old home at Lindsay.

SEVERAL OTHER ADDRESSES.

Addresses were delivered by Dr. Chamberlin, Inspector of Hospitals for Ontario; Drs. O'Reilly, Ross, Temple, Bingham, and Ryerson, and the Hon. F. R. Latchford, of Toronto, the medical men declaring the hospital to be one of the most complete and up-to-date buildings of the kind in Canada.

In the evening a public reception was held in the hospital building.

The visitors left for Toronto in private cars.

RUSSELL STONED AT BELFAST.

Opponent to Home Rule in Parliament Attacked After Speech.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

BELFAST, November 21.—Mr. Russell, Unionist member of Parliament, was stoned by a mob after he had addressed a meeting at Dromore, Wednesday night. The rioters attacked the hall where Mr. Russell had made his speech, and caused him to seek refuge in a neighbouring house, whence he tried to escape in a carriage. The mob discovered him and bombarded the vehicle with stones. Mr. Russell was struck on the head, but was not seriously injured.

Thomas W. Russell, Liberal-Unionist member for South Tyrone, began a land campaign near Belfast early in October. He declared that 80 per cent. of the landlords were ready to sell their land under a fair scheme, and suggested a new basis for land purchase, under which the state would give $50,000,000 for the benefit of landlords. Mr. Russell is opposed to home rule for Ireland.

Mrs. Dexheimer is Afraid.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

NEW YORK, November 21.—Mrs. Lena Dexheimer, after her confession of anarchistic associations, which she says disclosed to her three plots to assassinate President Roosevelt, remained in her home, No. 1,115 Willow avenue, Hoboken, all day yesterday. She declares that she is in fear of her life.

THREE NATIONS ARE AFTER KOWEIT

Turkey, Germany and Russia Have Jealous Eyes on Place.

PORTE INSPIRED TROUBLES

Russian Consuls Visited Sheikh, But Did Not Induce Him Change His Pro-British Attitude.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

LONDON, November 21. — The special correspondent of The Times who has been visiting Persia, took the opportunity, on his way to India, to visit Koweit, on the Persian Gulf, and in a dispatch from Kurrachee describes conditions there.

The correspondent says that Mubarakh, the Sheikh of Koweit, no longer apprehends direct aggression on the part of the Turks, provided that British warships continue to give him support and that his Wahabi allies secure the mainland from invasion by Ibn el Rashid.

The chief danger, according to the correspondent, arises from conspiracies on neighbouring Turkish territory, such as the abortive attempt on land and water in September, which attempt was baffled by the promptitude of the British warship at Koweit. Nothing has been done by the Turkish Government to punish the offenders, and the obstructive attitude of the Vali of Busra was evidently due to direct instructions from the Porte.

Germany, adds the correspondent, is not alone in taking special interest in Koweit as the coveted terminus of the projected railway. Two Russian Consuls, on Russian ships, have visited Sheikh Mubarakh, but their attempts to impress him with the superior advantages of Russian friendship and protection were unsuccessful.

For the last fourteen months there has been considerable inter-tribal disturbance in the neighbourhood of Koweit. The relations of the various Sheikhs and other petty rulers in that region are of the most complicated character, and their quarrels, according to statements in London papers, have given Turkey an opportunity again to claim dominion over Koweit.

It has frequently been stated that the encounters between Ibn el Rashid and Sheikh Mubarakh were fomented by Turkey. In 1875 Busra was made a separate vilayet in order, it is said, to further Turkey's designs on Koweit. Five years later it was reincorporated with Bagdad, but in 1884 it was again made independent, and continues so to-day. These changes, it has been said, are illustrative of the varying policy of the Porte in respect to its suzerain claims, at one time utterly neglected, and at another (generally when the pressure due to lack of funds is most felt) reasserted.

Ever since her supremacy over Koweit, and in the Persian Gulf itself, has been threatened, Great Britain has been on the alert, as the continued presence of warships at the coveted port proves. In a recent report Lord Curzon of Kedleston, the Viceroy of India, said:

"It is no exaggeration to say that the lives and properties of hundreds of thousands of human beings are secured by this British protectorate of the Persian Gulf, and that were it either withdrawn or destroyed both sea and shores would relapse into the anarchical chaos from which they have so laboriously been reclaimed. That the Persian Government has been enabled to reassert its authority upon the north littoral; that the pirates of the opposite coast have been taught that rapine is not a safe religion, and, where they once swept the sea with laden slave-dhows, now dive harmlessly for pearls; that the Arab tribes instead of being subjected to the curse of pashas, retain the liberty they so dearly prize, is due to the British Government alone."

As for Russia's desire to establish herself at Koweit, an article in the Rossiya of St. Petersburg frankly declared that it was "necessary" that the port become Russian. The Rossiya pointed out that the Russian Steam Navigation and Trading Company was providing a regular service between Russian and Persian Gulf ports, which was of immense consequence for the trade of Russia with the neighbouring ports of Asia, and, above all, with Persia. The Rossiya said that Russia must be able to reach Persia by sea as well as by land, and for that purpose a port was necessary.

"Russia, then," added the Rossiya, "cannot be indifferent when she sees other masters appear at Koweit, whether they be British or German."

FOOTBALL

THE BIG FOOTBALL BATTLE SATURDAY

Yale Will Play Glass and Think Him Eligible.

HARVARD HAS NEW TRICKS

Thirty Thousand People Expected at the Match and Miss Alice Roosevelt May be a Guest.

NEW HAVEN, November 21.—Eleventh-hour rumours that Glass would be withdrawn followed closely on the story that he had been protested by Harvard. Yale football officials authorized a denial of these rumours. They say:

"We are absolutely satisfied that Glass is eligible in every particular and we shall play him in the game on Saturday."

Preparations are being made to entertain the biggest football crowd that has ever come to this city next Saturday. When the referee's whistle blows 30,000 persons will be looking on at the contending elevens of Yale and Harvard. That many applications have been received from graduates and students of the two universities.

Rumours that President Roosevelt would see the game were not confirmed by the Yale management, who say they have received no notification. It is stated, however, that Miss Alice Roosevelt will quite likely be a guest. Twenty-three special trains will be run to the game from New York and Boston. New Haven hackmen are charging enormous prices for carriages to the game, and the city authorities have given them protection in this by refusing licenses to outside hackmen.

Betting on the game is quiet. Some Harvard money has reached here, to be placed at odds of 3 to 5 or 8 to 10. The improved condition of the Yale team led ex-Capt. Charley Gould yesterday to predict a victory of 18 to 0 against the Crimson.

HURT "MIDDY" AIKEN MAY RECOVER NOW.

Injured Player An Hour and a Half Under the Knife for Delicate Operation.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., November 21.—As a result of the accident to 'Midshipman Hugh K. Aiken in the game with Bucknell last Saturday the annual games between Annapolis and West Point may be abolished altogether. It was thought at first that Aiken would die and in that event this year's game between the Middies and the Soldiers would have been abandoned. There is every hope now, however, that Aiken will recover.

A delicate surgical operation was performed yesterday afternoon on Aiken as the only chance of saving his life. The operating physician was Dr. William W. Keen, of Philadelphia.

A clot of blood weighing four ounces which had been caused by the rupture of a blood vessel was removed, and Dr. Keen stated after the operation unless it had been performed the patient would have died within thirty-six hours. Aiken has now recovered consciousness, and his mind is clearer than at any time since the accident.

A triangular section of the bone of the skull was cut with a chisel. The section began on the top of the head and extended about three inches toward the right, the base being about an inch long, and not separated from the skull. This piece was forced up and scraped, removing the clot. The operation lasted an hour and a half, and a drain was fixed and the wound closed.

The patient is still suffering from the effects of the anaesthetic, but it is believed he is on the mend and that his life will be saved. Dr. J. M. T. Finney, of Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, and Surgeons Wieber, Pickerell and Johns, of the Naval Academy, were present at the operation. Dr. Gayle Aiken, father of the injured 'midshipman, was also in the building.

The accident to young Aiken has occasioned considerable sentiment against the continuance of the annual contests, and some have expressed an opinion that the game should be stopped entirely at the Naval Academy.

OTTAWA LAUGHS AT CANADIAN UNION'S FOOTBALL SENSATION.

McMurrich Wrote He Was Perfectly Satisfied With Arrangements.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

OTTAWA, November 21.—There was a good deal of amusement caused in football circles in Ottawa yesterday, when a telegram from Toronto announced that Mr. J. D. McMurrich, of Toronto, secretary of the Canadian Football Union, was so incensed with a fancied injury in Ottawa that he would execute both the Rough Riders and the Ottawa College teams. Personally, Ottawa football people do not know much about Mr. McMurrich and his grievances, and they care less. The Canadian Union in this village has been principally looked on as composed of an officious lot of Toronto "has beens." Ottawa, with very little representation in the Union, has been winning the premier honours, and they perhaps were not quite willing that Toronto men should come down and run the game. The statement is made that Mr. McMurrich did not have to pay to see the football match, and even if he did there was no reason why he should be the general high Muck-a-Muck in the business. As a matter of fact there is no reason for the reports that are being spread by certain people. Mr. Hal McGiverin, when seen, told your reporter that there was nothing in the sensation at all, although all the football men were talking of it. The Rough Riders were in receipt of a letter from Mr. McMurrich, in which he said that the championship of Canada would be awarded to the Rough Riders, and also that the financial arrangements were satisfactory to the Union. As to Mr. McMurrich paying admission to the grounds is concerned, said Mr. McGiverin, "I don't think he did, and he certainly would not have done so if he had taken means to provide himself with the proper document." There is considerable talk here on a kick coming from a city as big as Toronto, who cannot get a championship of any kind. President Slattery, of the College team, was out of town, but others of the team spoken to thought it quite a joke for one man in Toronto to knock out a city that holds three championships.

HARVARD HAS NEW TRICKS FOR YALE.

Even Coaches are Barred While Practice is Going on.

CAMBRIDGE, November 21.—There were no new developments in the Glass case at Cambridge as near as could be learned from the officials. The matter is ended as far as the Crimson is concerned.

Prof. Hollis, chairman of the Harvard Athletic Committee, declared in an interview that he knew nothing about the Glass affair except what he had seen in the papers, and that Harvard had taken no steps to investigate the matter.

As the day for the big game approaches excitement grows more intense at Cambridge. Hundreds of bets were placed, most of them at odds of 5 to 4 on Yale.

The report that Harvard has been playing "'possum" for several weeks has found credence generally in Cambridge, and there is little question but Harvard is to have some trick plays to spring on the Elis that even some of the coaches know nothing about. Yesterday not a few coaches were asked to remain outside of the big fence while the team had fifteen minutes of signal practice. Never has there been such precaution taken as yesterday, when even coaches were not allowed to see the plays. Sugden was played at centre, and there is little question but that he is to be the final choice for the place.

The final line-up of the eleven as it will meet Yale is:

War on Speculators.

NEW HAVEN, Conn, November 21.—Last night Yale students made an attack on every ticket speculator who could be found in the city and relieved them of all the tickets in their possession. The speculators were given the regulation price—$2—for every ticket taken. In several instances, when the ticket dealers remonstrated, they were roughly handled.

At midnight it was learned that the speculators, after a consultation, decided to approach the police authorities with complaints, alleging that the students should be guilty of highway robbery. Several of the men are badly bruised as a result of their encounter with the college men.

It developed later last evening that all the speculators did not receive immediate reimbursement for the tickets taken from them. Instead they were given a slip of paper on which was marked the number of tickets taken away. The men were told to apply to the football management for their money. The management, it is said, have made an announcement that they will redeem all such receipts given by the students who participated in the attack upon the speculators.

Fog Stops Playing.

TORONTO, November 21.—Football met a new enemy yesterday. The final game at the 'Varsity grounds for the Mulock Cup was started, but had to be called off because the fog was so thick that it was frequently impossible to see the ball. Such an interruption never occurred here before.

---

Queen's Athletic Committee has appointed G. B. McLennan and M. E. Branscombe, of the senior Rugby team, to go to Toronto and witness the 'Varsity-Argonaut match, under the Burnside rules, on Saturday. 'Varsity pays half their expenses.

CURLING.

LORD DUNDONALD ELECTED MEMBER MONTREAL CLUB.

Semi-Annual Meeting Was Very Well Attended.

At the semi-annual meeting of the Montreal Curling Club, the following skips were elected: W. I. Fenwick, A. Hodgson, R. W. Macdougall, S. A. McMurtry, Lieut.-Col. Miller, C. P. Sclater, F. N. Southam, H. E. Suckling, R. W. Tyre, D. Williamson, Rev. J. Williamson, G. P. Walker.

As there are some unfinished matches from last season, it was decided that the finish of these matches should be decided by January first. After this date the whole arrangement of matches will be left in the hands of the rink committee.

After the regular business of the meeting there was as usual a most enjoyable musical programme. Mr. A. R. Oughtred sang "Rule Britannia," and this was followed by selections from Messrs. D. McGill, F. N. Southam, Owen N. Evans, Norman Binmore and others. Mr. Coates acted as accompanist, and added much to the evening's entertainment.

Mr. D. Williamson proposed, seconded by Mr. R. W. Tyre, that Lord Dundonald be asked to accept an honourary membership. The resolution was unanimously carried.

HOCKEY.

THE WINNIPEG VICTORIAS SPEAK OF MEAN MOTIVES.

Virtually Accuse Montrealers of Unsportsmanlike Action.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

WINNIPEG, November 21.—Speaking of the Stanley Cup situation, Mr. J. Waugh, president of the Victorias, said: "I rather expected some opposition from the Montrealers but their contention is a very weak excuse. It is just the same as if we were to get that cup up here, and then enter into an agreement with the western clubs that the matches should not be played till May. The trustees will have to use their judgment in this case."

AQUATICS

$25,000 MORE FOR THIS DEFENDER.

New Boat to be Most Costly Ever Built at Bristol—Early Casting for the Keel.

BRISTOL, R.I., November 21.—It was agreed after a meeting between C. Oliver Iselin, Capt. Charlie Barr and Designer Nat Herreshoff, that the lead keel of the cup defender of 1903 should be cast just a month earlier than tha. made for the Constitution of 1900.

It was also developed last evening that this latest production of the Herreshoff boat factory is to cost $25,000 more than any other defender floated from Bristol. The cost to the syndicate, of which Mr. Iselin is the managing owner, will thus be $275,000; that is, the yacht complete when it is finally accepted and taken from the hands of the builders.

Another thing which leaked out about the Herreshoff shops yesterday is that Mr. Iselin has taken a more active part in the preliminary arrangements of the construction of the craft than ever before. He is making the biggest kind of a stir about the place, and he does not content himself as in former years with sitting about the model and draughting rooms of the establishment.

Yesterday, for instance, he came down over the highways from Providence on the double-quick. He was in the automobile of Henry F. Lippitt, and they are said to have beaten the electrics in the run over the Bristol counry roads. When he alighted at the works Mr. Iselin went at once to the south shop and took a look at the new keel mould, which is rather sharper and more pointed in its interior than that of the Columbia or the Constitution. It is also said that the mould provides for more lead abow and less astern than any fin keel yet made here.

SNOWSHOEING

ST. LAMBERT SNOWSHOE CLUB MEETS

Elected Officers at Their Annual Meeting Last Night.

At a largely attended meeting of the above club, which took place Thursday evening, the following officers were elected: President, A. E. Woodworth; vice-president, J. L. Smith, sec.-treas., E. G. Powell; committee, J. N. Morris, D. S. MacLeod, C. B. Hart, W. Powell, Miller McConnell.

A large number of new members were enrolled. The club anticipates a very pleasant and successful season.

THE TURF

CANADIANS AT THE HORSE SHOW

Protest Lodged Against One of the Exhibitors.

THOUSANDS IN ATTENDANCE

The Result of the Regular Races at the Bennings Track Run Off Yesterday Afternoon.

NEW YORK, November 21.—Championships in various classes were awarded at the Horse Show. The blue ribbon for three-year-old Hackney stallions was carried off by imp. Gribthorpe Playmate, owned by Robert Beith, of Bowmanville, Ont., a member of the Canadian Parliament. Gribthorpe Playmate won firsts and the Challenge Cup. For the championship his chief competitor was Adair II., who won the Challenge Cup last year when he was owned by Mr. Beith. Now he is the property of Mitchell Harrison, of Philadelphia, and was forced to take second place. The American Coaching Club's Cup, one of the most coveted trophies at the show, went to Dr. John L. Wentz, of Scranton, Pa., whose tour-in-hand was adjudged the best at the show. Four-in-hands in this event also were shown by A. G. and R. Vanderbilt, J. Hobart Moore, of Chicago, and W. H. Moore.

A very difficult event over the fences was won by Myopia, owned by George Pepper, of Toronto, Ont. The contestants had to go over six fences, two of which were six feet high.

J. Hobart Moore, of Chicago, carried off first prize in the class for pairs of horses shown before a Victoria, with his spanking team Burlingham and Viceroy, while Jos. E. Widener, of Philadelphia, took second, and Alfred G. Vanderbilt third.

The Breeders' Challenge Cup for Hackneys in harness went to Frederick Stevens, of Attica, N.Y., who showed Cyrena. The cup becomes the property of Mr. Stevens, as his entry has won it twice.

The largest crowd so far of the week attended the Horse Show in the Garden lats night. At ten o'clock there were fully 8,000 spectators ranged about the tanbark ring, every seat in the house being taken and the aisles and promenades crowded to overflowing. The costumes were even more brilliant than on the two preceding days, and society turned out in greater numbers than before. But the bulk of the crowd was made up of sightseers, who were attracted by the stories of magnificent gowns, superb jewels and the presence of the Four Hundred. For the first time since the show opened it was positively uncomfortable in the promenade. The atmosphere was stifling down among the crowd, men's collars wilting and women wishing they had brought their fans. At times the endless procession became blocked, it being impossible to move either forward or backward. Those who were unfortunate enough to be short in stature found themselves in the unpleasant predicament of being unable to see anything in the ring or anybody in the boxes.

With the presence of this large gathering the babel of conversation became more animated every moment until the chatter of society people was heard on every hand. Though the exhibitions in the ring were of sterling quality and of intense interest to practical horsemen, society soon was involved in a general discussion of other things, so that little that went on in the arena under the eyes of the judges was noticed. Now and then an enthusiastic cheer from the crowd which hung against the rails all the evening caused a slight diversion from the topics of the day, but immediately society went back to gossip and kept it up until the exhibition was over.

While there were many features of interest within the Garden's walls, there was a scene outside that was particularly noteworthy. Long rows of private carriages, with flaring lamps and neatly groomed attendants extended away from the Garden entrance on Madison avenue down through Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh streets as far as Fifth avenue in one direction and Fourth avenue in the other. One by one these equipages unloaded their occupants and were then sent away to await a call for the drive home. It was long after the last exhibit had passed out of the ring when these carriages had carried away the rich and the aristocratic either to their homes or to the fashionable restaurants.

Mention must be made once more of the temporarily organized dressmakers' and milliners' association which has been holding nightly sessions inside the main entrance with a view to inspecting the various styles worn by the big bugs. Last night the number of dressmakers and milliners who gathered for this purpose was largely increased, so that the number of policemen placed in charge of the bevy was augmented by two more stalwart bluecoats who kept the throng back by main force.

While the women were coming in with magnificent gowns of all colours of the rainbow, there was a sudden craning of necks when Johnstone Bennett, the actress, and a woman companion entered the portals. Miss Bennett wore a mannish Alpine hat, with a rosette on the left side, a loose-fitting jacket and a short walking skirt of dark material to match, which was set off by a standing collar, a white puff tie, in which nestled a gold scarfpin, and red-tanned gloves, the tops of which were turned down fashionably over the knuckles. Miss Bennett's companion was similarly attired and with long, rapid strides, they proceeded past the boxes, attracting universal attention as they went along and finally mounted to the reserved seats, under the balcony.

In the army of men in evening dress appeared one individual who was looked over carefully by all who saw him. He was about 5 feet 10 inches tall, of naturally slight build, his face being thin and his neck small. But his shoulders were as broad as those of Sandow, while his waist was so small that John L. Sullivan might have encircled it with his hands. Flowing away from the waist the skirts of the coat formed a perfect bell, from which a dainty pair of patent leather shoes protruded underneath. Lilac-coloured silk gloves, a black derby hat and a monocle completed the odd picture which remained on exhibition until the lights began to go out. Whether this personage was a professional fashion plate could not be learned, but it is safe to say that the fashion set by him last night will not become popular.

Wine agents, tailors, bookmakers, high-toned gamblers, hotel clerks and Central Office detectives were largely in evidence in the passing throng; so were coachmen, footmen doormen and butlers, employed by rich families, who were enjoying a night off and who, like their masters, wore their best bib and tucker. But they were easily picked out because of their closely cropped sidewhiskers and the lofty expressions they wore. They did not have box seats or even reserved seats, but they had a better view of the show than any of the promenaders, for they lost no time in climbing to the tops of the coaches and drags which stood in rows at the Fourth avenue end of the amphitheatre.

DECLARES BLUE RIBBON WENT TO A "RINGER."

Horse Show Award of First Prize May be Rescinded Because of Charge.

NEW YORK, November 21.—As the result of a protest lodged by Hector Vervaeke, of Buffalo, John Spratley, of Spottsville, Va., will probably lose the blue ribbon and first prize won by him with White Oak Maid and another horse, in class 45, on Tuesday evening, and will have to answer to the Board of Directors of the National Horse Show Association to the charge of "ringing in" a substitute for Wonderland, the horse entered by him as a mate to White Oak Maid.

Both Mr. Vervaeke and Mr. Spratley are dealers who bring carriage horses to New York to sell. The former, it is alleged, had a horse called Wonderland that he agreed to deliver to Mr. Spratley in time to show at the Garden as a mate to White Oak Maid; but when the time came Mr. Vervaeke changed his mind about letting Mr. Spratley have the horse, because, it was said, he believed the made-up pair might beat his own entry, Snowflake and Diana, for the prize.

In order to make up a pair to exhibit, it is declared, Mr. Spratley went to Charles T. Proctor, a well-known New York dealer in carriage horses, and either bought or borrowed a fine high stepper of the same size and colour as Wonderland, and drove him in the ring as a mate to White Oak Maid. They won the blue ribbon in the class for dealers' horses, with Diana and Snowflake second, and George D. King's Troarn and Archer third.

Mr. Vervaeke protested the award as soon as made, on the ground that one of Mr. Spratley's horses was not Wonderland, but a "ringer" for that horse, which, Mr. Vervaeke alleges, he still owns.

At the office of the Horse Show Association no information could be obtained beyond the fact that a protest had been lodged and that a meeting of the directors had been called to consider the matter. It is said, however, that Mr. Spratley received a letter from the Horse Show Association notifying him of Mr. Vervaeke's protest, and calling on him to answer the charge. Mr. Spratley, so the story goes, went at once to the Garden and told the officials the facts in the case as related, whereupon he was informed that the protest would be sustained and that his pair would be disqualified as soon as the Board of Directors could hold a meeting to rule on the matter.

Whether any further action will be taken is a mooted question among horsemen. For a similar offence on the trotting turf the offender would be ruled off or excluded from entering and starting horses, and the same penalty is provided by the Jockey Club for substituting one horse for another on the running turf.

In justice to Mr. Spratley, it should be said that he did not attempt to "ring in" a previous winner as a green or novice horse, but merely substituted one green one for another, neither of the horses shown having won a prize before.

It was rumoured last night that another protest might be lodged in the case, Mr. Vervaeke being the exhibitor aimed at. Diana, one of the pair shown by him, is described in the catalogue as being eight years old. It has been stated, and not denied, that Diana is the well-known Grand Circuit trotter Lucy B., by Gypsy Boy, that gained a record of 2.14½ at Davenport, Iowa, in 1896. If she is that mare, she was foaled in 1889, according to the Stud Book, thus making her age thirteen years instead of eight, as the Horse Show catalogue has it.

Temple Club Euchre.

The Montreal Temple Club will hold the third of a series of progressive euchre matches on Saturday evening in the club rooms. About eighty members take part each evening, and the competition for the president's and vice-president's valuable prizes is getting very keen.

MISCELLANEOUS

Jeffries to Meet McCoy.

NEW YORK, November 21.—James J. Jeffries' defi is answered. The champion of champions a few days ago announced that he would box any man in the world. He stipulated, however, that he would consider only his best business inducements. Following out this line George Grant, manager of "Kid" McCoy, last night wired to the boilermaker:

"Jeffries says he is anxious to get on a match," said Grant to a representative of the Morning Telegraph. "As Jeffries is the champion, he has the right to dictate terms, but as he has sent broadcast a statement that he will fight any one for the best inducement offered, here are our proposals:

"'McCoy will fight him on this basis: 65 per cent. to the winner and 35 per cent. to the loser. Jeffries can name the referee, and we will waive the wrist bandages, as an evidence of our good faith, we will post a first forfeit of $5,000 with any one that Jeffries names, although I would prefer to put up the money with the sporting editor of the Morning Telegraph.

"All McCoy asks is that he has four months to prepare for his fight. He will concede every other matter, and will fight under any conditions that Jeffries selects.

"We are serious. 'Fitz,' a few weeks ago, declared he would re-enter the ring, and challenged any man, barring Jeffries. I wired the Cornishman and made him the same proposal as I have to the champion. I furthermore posted my money. It was left up for a month. Hearing nothing to all my telegrams, I finally drew the deposit.

"McCoy stands ready to meet any man in the world, Jeffries preferred. The 'Kid' is not in the show business. He is not 'booming' any theatrical attraction. He is a fighter, pure and simple. First come, first served.

"We are here with the goods. Can't we get on a fight?"

ODDS AND ENDS.

The M. B. C. euchre series began last night. When all the punches had been made it was found that the spoons had been won by J. McTier (14), and J. W. Craig (13).

The International lacrosse game between Harvard and a team made up of Oxford and Cambridge undergraduates will be played here about class day next year. The year following Harvard will send a team to England to play a return match. The English team will possibly play teams of other universities throughout the country during its visit.

At the National A. C., at Marylebone last night the American pugilist "Bobby" Dobbs met the London boxer "Jem" Maloney for a purse of $1,500 and the 138 pound championship. Dobbs, who was the favourite had somewhat the best of the opening rounds, but in the fifth Maloney equalised matters and from that time forth had the contest in his own hands. Dobbs stayed the full 20 rounds, but the result was an easy victory for Maloney on points.

Jack McClelland, of Pittsburg, knocked out "Brooklyn" Tommy Sullivan in the 12th round of what was to have been a 20 round contest here at St. Louis. Sullivan was the aggressor for the first 6 rounds.

In the seventh, McClelland worked an inside right hook to Sullivan's jaw, putting him down and nearly out, the bell saving him. In the 12th round, McClelland again worked an inside right to Sullivan's chin, putting the later down for 9 counts. When he regained his feet, McClelland feinted with his right and swung a hard left to the chin, putting Sullivan out.

Billy Trueman, of Brooklyn, got the decision over Jimmy Vickers, of Chicago, in the 12 round preliminary.

Joe Nelson, of Newark, N. J., rode 10 miles at the Fair Grounds track yesterday at Savannah on a bicycle against 10 horses running in relays. Nelson was motor-paced. The horses relieved each other in laps of one mile. Owing to a misunderstanding the horses were started to pick up Nelson instead of each other. The bicycle rider thus lost with each horse whatever advantage he had gained over the preceding one. Nelson, nevertheless, finished first in eight of the 10 miles. The horse came in ahead in the first and ninth miles.

Nelson's time for the miles consecutively was: 1.52, 1.40, 1.28, 1.26, 1.20, 1.35, 1.30, 1.30, 1.24, 1.30.

This is said to be the fastest time ever made in a similar competition.

Bears are Plentiful.

GLENS FALLS, N. Y., November 20.—That bears are still numerous in the Adirondacks is evidenced by the bounties which the Essex county supervisors have been called upon to pay for those killed during the past year, twenty-eight in all. Seven were killed in St. Armand, six in Newcomb, five in Wilmington, four in Keene, three in Elizabethtown, two in Minerva, and one in North Hudson. In the latter town a lynx was also killed.

FIREMEN PETITION FOR MORE PAY

Brigade Desires as Good Treatment as Other Cities Accord.

AN ENORMOUS PETITION

Aldermen Hope That Increase Will be Voted and Fire Laddies are Satisfied.

A big deputation of firemen waited on the Fire Committee yesterday afternoon and presented a huge petition asking that firemen be given more pay. For months members of the Fire Department have been asking citizens to sign a petition praying that they be given more generous treatment in the matter of salaries. Names were willingly inscribed, with the result that over thirty thousand were obtained.

In presenting the petition yesterday afternoon ex-Ald. Reneault pointed out that next year the city would have more revenue than usual; this should make it easier for the City Council to comply with the prayers of the firemen. He said that as the city was paying some of its firemen $1.37 a day, and as corporation labourers were getting $1.50 a day it was shown the city had a keener appreciation of a labourer's services than a fireman's. He held this was most unjust.

PAY IN OTHER CITIES.

A tabulated statement accompanied the petition. It showed firemen were paid better in other cities than in Montreal. It was shown, for instance, that first class firemen in Toronto were paid $735 a year, while in Montreal they received only $600; and second class men were paid $577, against Montreal's $500. On the other hand, officers of the Montreal brigade were paid better than Toronto's, who got $800, as against Montreal's $1,000. The figures given for American cities were even much better than Toronto's.

Out of the crowd, a fireman in uniform stepped forward to say he thought the citizens were willing to contribute to the object wanted.

Chairman Robertson remarked that he doubted the remark, as only a year ago the citizens had a chance to raise a loan for the brigade, but were so indifferent that only two and three votes were polled in big wards.

Ald. Lamarche thought that as the city's revenues would be greater next year, something should be done to give more pay to the firemen. The present scale of salaries was much too low.

A petition from the men themselves was read by Fireman Carroll, who quoted figures to show what firemen were paid in the United States. The figures proved that American firemen were much better paid than were the firemen of this city. He showed that in Montreal a fireman had to be on duty twenty-four hours every day. It was seldom a fireman could spend an hour at his home. For services such as these proper compensation should be given.

Ald. Robertson said the petitions would be carefully considered. He hoped that when the estimates were voted in December it would be possible for the committee to vote more pay to the firemen. The deputation withdrew satisfied with the promise given.

Ald. Walsh drew attention to the fact that among five new firemen taken on the force only one had been English-speaking.

The chief of the department maintained that the English speaking percentage on the entire force was a fair one. The matter then dropped.

Ald. Nelson asked that plans be prepared at once for the new fire station which it was proposed to build in the business portion of the city. He pointed out to the committee promise after promise had been given that such station should be built. He was tired of the constant delays; if plans were got out it would be a step forward.

It was the opinion of Chief Benoit that the Finance Committee should be asked at once to vote cash for the new station.

The chairman said he would appear before the Finance Committee and see what he could do to raise funds. He agreed with the other members of the committee that a new fire station was sorely needed in the business district.

Called as Absentee Debtors.

Albert Dufour and Mathilde Nivet, his wife, both of Sault au Recollet, and doing business under the name and style of Dufour & Co., cattledealers, have been called in by the Court as absentee debtors, on order of Mr. Justice Doherty. A demand of assignment was made on them by Mr. J. O. Bourassa, banker, and the petition to call them in was made by Mr. C. A. Pariseault, another creditor, who has been made provisional guardian.

Freight for Temiskaming.

The Canadian Pacific Railway has issued the following circular to its freight agents, dealing with freight for Temiskaming and beyond:

"On account of the approaching close of navigation on Lake Temiskaming and the possibility that freight may be forwarded to Temiskaming destined for points beyond, which the boat lines operating from Temiskaming may be unable to handle this season, agents are now instructed that commencing at once, and until further notice, freight for Temiskaming, local delivery, or for Temiskaming, destined for points beyond, may only be accepted provided freight charges to Temiskaming are fully prepaid.

"In addition to prepayment of freight charges, shippers will be required to release this company from responsibility in case shipments, whether consigned to Temiskaming or destined for points beyond via Temiskaming, should arrive at Temiskaming too late for steamboat line to receive and forward. A clause must also be placed on bills of lading to the effect that shipments will be subject to shed or car storage charges if left in cars or held in warehouse of this company at Temiskaming beyond the usual free period, after arrival at that point."

WOMAN'S WEIGH

Does not always keep pace with woman's will. There are energetic, home-loving women who by sheer force of will keep themselves going, and fancy that strength of will can take the place of strength of body. But it can't. Every day will see a loss of strength, and that loss will be indicated by a loss of weight. When the weight begins to fall below the normal it is time to ask, Why?

In general, ill health in women may be traced to those womanly diseases which sap the strength and undermine the vitality. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription dries enfeebling drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. Where the disease is marked by loss of flesh, there is a steady regaining of weight coincident with the cure which proves the renewal of health to be thorough and permanent.

"Three years ago," writes Mrs. John Graham, of 2018 Plumb Street (Frankford), Philadelphia, Penna. "I had a very bad attack of dropsy which left me with heart trouble, and also a very weak back. At times I was so bad that I did not know what to do with myself. I came to Philadelphia two years ago, and picking up one of your little books one day began to read what your 'Favorite Prescription' has done for others. I determined to try it myself. I took seven bottles, and to-day I am a strong, well woman, weighing 162 pounds. Have gained 29 pounds since I started to use your 'Favorite Prescription.'"

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cleanse the bowels and stimulate the sluggish liver.

HOLE IN SIDEWALK COSTS THE CITY ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS.

The case of Mussen (Mrs. Norris) against the city for damages for a sprained ankle, caused by a fall on Prince Arthur street, which has been proceeding before Judge Fortin and a special jury, since Tuesday morning, was concluded Wednesday.

The plaintiff claimed that the fall was caused by a hole in the sidewalk in front of St. Martin's Church, where she was going to morning service, when the accident occurred on the 25th May last. The plaintiff was represented by E. B. Busteed, K.C., and Campbell Lane, and the city by L. J. Archambault, K.C., and P. J. Coyle, K.C. The jury, after a short deliberation, found for the plaintiff in the full amount claimed, $1,000.

The jury was a mixed one, being composed equally of English and French-speaking jurors, necessitating addresses from counsel in both languages. In charging the jury, His Lordship remarked that he could not allow the occasion to pass without congratulating Mr. Campbell Lane, who addressed the jury in the French language, upon his effort. His Lordship remarking that the spectacle of an English lawyer addressing a jury in French, was so rare an occurrence that it called for special mention, and he hoped it was the sign of a new order of things when English counsel would shake off their reserve and as occasion required, avail themselves of the opportunity of speaking French.

DIRTY STREETS MUST CONTINUE TILL SNOW COMES.

The continued mild weather is still giving trouble to the Road Department over the filthy condition of the streets. Citizens are making bitter complaints about them. The Corporation has no more cash on hand to spend on removing the mud.

The City Surveyor explained to-day that at the beginning of each year a certain sum was set aside for street cleaning. This amount was supposed to cover a number of weeks. At the end of the period snow and frost were expected to make any further street cleaning unnecessary. This year the weather had been fine so long that the street cleaning appropriation had been exhausted weeks ago. At the present time there was nothing to be done but to wait till the snow put in an appearance and covered over the mud till the spring.

REV. EDWARD DEVINE, MISSIONARY TO ALASKA, IS HEARD FROM

The first letter to be received in the city from Rev. Edward Devine, S.J., appointed missionary in the Nome district, Alaska, reached the superior of the order yesterday. It was written on October 17 and the Father states that he had just arrived at his destination and taken up his work on the missions. Nome, he said, had already grown to be a very active commercial centre and as the population was a permanent one there would be a large field for work in the ministry. At the date of writing, October 17, inland navigation was practically closed, the average temperature being slightly below zero. This will be the last letter that will be received from Father Devine till next summer.

WORK ON PEDESTAL OF BOURGET STATUE IS COMMENCED.

The work of placing the stone pedestal for the statue of the late Bishop Bourget was started yesterday in front of St. James Cathedral. The position finally decided upon is the centre of the plot nearest Cathedral street. It is expected that the work will be completed before the return of His Grace Archbishop Bruchesi from Rome.

FIRE ESCAPES ARE BEING PROVIDED.

Mr. Chausse, building inspector, is hard at work sending out orders to certain hotels and convents to erect fire escapes. He is surprised at the number of public places that are not properly equipped in the event of fire breaking out. He is glad to say that the managers of large institutes were generally quite willing to do what they could to equip buildings with modern fire escapes.

NEW APOSTOLIC DELEGATE.

Career of Mgr. Sbarretti Who Succeeds Mgr. Falconio.

Mgr. Donato Sbarretti, the new Apostolic delegate to Canada, was born in Montefranche, near Rome, in 1856. He is of a distinguished Roman family, and a connection of the famous Cardinal of the same name, who was a fellow-student and comrade of Pope Leo XIII. He received both the doctorate of theology and of law, his legal studies embracing canon and Roman law. Before entering the diplomatic service of the church he was professor of moral philosophy in the College of the Propaganda. He went to the United States in 1893 as auditor of the Apostolic delegation under Cardinal Satolli. He arrived at this position from the petty office of clerk for Chinese affairs. He had been the propaganda clerk of American affairs, and was the agent and friend of Archbishop Corrigan.

After going to the United States, he made an exhaustive study of the American constitution and the manner of procedure in American courts.

Late in 1899 he was appointed bishop of Havana, his extensive knowledge of canon law having commended him to the Pope for that position. On the 4th of February, 1900, he was invested with mitre, gloves, staff, ring and seal of office. The consecration ceremonies took place at St. Aloysius' Church, Washington, in the presence of a congregation which filled the auditorium and galleries, and included many representatives of diplomatic, official and social life. The consecrator was Mgr. Sebastian Martinelli, Papal delegate to the United States. Three weeks later he went to Cuba and entered upon the duties of his office.

Mgr. Sbarretti is one of the most famous linguists among the clergy of his church. He reads Hebrew, Arabic, Persian, Greek and Latin, and speaks English, Spanish, Italian, French, German, Russian and Japanese.

St. Paul Loses Appeal.

The village of St. Paul lost the appeals which it took against the judgments granting $125 each to Messrs. Therrien and Bergevin. The former was a councillor and ordered a manhole opened by the other party who was a corporation employe. The opening of such manholes was forbidden by a bylaw of the municipality, and the Council instituted criminal proceedings against the two. These were afterwards withdrawn, but the two men took action and recovered damages for false arrest. This is the judgment which was to-day confirmed, Chief Justice Sir Alexandre Lacoste and Mr. Justice Bosse dissenting.

THE PUPPET CROWN

THE GREAT ROMANTIC NOVEL

CHAPTER XVII.

SOME PASSAGES AT ARMS.

There comes a moment to every man, who faces an imminent danger, when the mental vision expands and he sees beyond. By this transient gift of prescience he knows what the end will be, whether he is to live or die. As Maurice looked into the merciless eyes of his enemy, a dim knowledge came to him that this was to be an event and not a catastrophe, a fragment of a picture yet to be fully drawn. His confidence and courage returned. He thanked God, however, that the light above equalized their positions, and that the shadows were behind them.

The swords came together with a click light but ominous. Immediately Beauvais stepped back, suddenly threw forward his body, and delivered three rapid thrusts. Maurice met them firmly, giving none.

"Ah!" cried Beauvais; "that is good. You know a little. There will be sport, besides."

Maurice shut his lips the tighter, and, worked purely on the defensive. His fencing master had taught him two things, silence and watchfulness. While Beauvais made use of his forearm, Maurice as yet depended solely on his wrist. Once they came together, guard to guard, neither daring to break away until by mutual agreement, spoken only by the eyes, both leaped backward out of reach. There was no sound save the quick light stamp of feet and the angry murmur of steel scraping against steel. Sometimes they moved circle-wise, with free blades, waiting and watching. Up to now Beauvais's play had been by the book, so to speak, and he began to see that his opponent was well read.

"Which side is the pretty rose?" seeking to distract Maurice. "Tell me, and I will pin it to you."

Not a muscle moved in Maurice's face.

"It is too bad," went on Beauvais, "that her Highness finds a lover only to lose him. You fool! I read your eyes when you picked up that rose. Princesses are not for such as you. I will find her a lover; it will be neither you nor Prince Frederick—ah! you caught that nicely. But you depend too much on the wrist. Presently it will tire; and then—pouf!"

Now and then a flame, darting from the grate, sparkled on the polished steel, and from the steel it shot into the watchful eyes. A quarter of an hour passed; still Maurice remained on the defensive. At first Beauvais misunderstood the reason, and thought Maurice did not dare run the risk of passing from defensive to offensive. But by and by the froth of impatience crept into his veins. He could not penetrate above or below that defense. The man before him was of marble, with a wrist of iron; he neither smiled nor spoke, there was no sign of life at all, except in the agile legs, the wrist, and eyes. The Colonel decided to change his tactics.

"When I have killed you," he said, "I shall search your pockets, for I know that you lie when you say that you have not those certificates. Madame was a fool to send you. No man lives who may be trusted. And what is your game? Save the Osians? Small good it will do you. Her Highness will wed Prince Frederick—mayhap—and all you will get is cold thanks. And in such an event, have you reckoned on Madame the Duchess? War! And who will win? Madame; for she has not only her own army, but mine. Come, come! Speak, for when you leave this room your voice will be silent. Make use of the gift, since it is about to leave you."

The reply was a sudden straightening of the arm. The blade slipped in between the Colonel's forearm and body, and was out again before the soldier fully comprehended what had happened. Maurice permitted a cold smile to soften the rigidity of his face. Beauvais saw the smile, and read it. The thrust had been rendered harmless intentionally. An inch nearer, and he had been a dead man. To accomplish such a delicate piece of sword play required nothing short of mastery. Beauvais experienced a disagreeable chill, which was not unmixed with chagrin. The boy had held his life in his hand, and had spared it. He set his teeth, and let loose with a fury before which nothing could stand; and Maurice was forced back step by step until he was almost up with the wall.

"You fool!" the Colonel snarled, "you'll never get that chance again."

For the next few minutes it took all the splendid defense Maurice possessed to keep the spark in his body. The Colonel's sword was no longer a sword, it was a flame, which circled, darted, hissed and writhed. Twice Maurice felt the bite of it, once in the arm and again in the thigh. These were not deep, but they told him that the end was but a short way off. He had no match for this brilliant assault. Something must be done, and that at once. He did not desire the Colonel's death, and the possibility of accomplishing this was now extremely doubtful. But he wanted to live. Life was just beginning—the rough road had been left behind. He was choosing between his life and the Colonel's. Beauvais, after the fashion of the old masters, was playing for the throat. This upward thrusting, when continuous, is difficult to meet, and Maurice saw that sooner or later the blade would reach home. If not sudden death, it meant speechlessness, and death as a finality. Then the voice of his guardian angel spoke.

"I do not wish your life," he said, breaking the silence, "but at the same time I wish to live—Ah!" Maurice leaped back just in time. As it was, the point of his enemy's blade scratched his chin.

They broke and circled. The Colonel feinted. Maurice, with his elbow against his side and his forearm extended, waited. Again the Colonel lunged for the throat. This time, instead of meeting it in tierce, Maurice threw his whole force forward in such a manner as to bring the steel guard of his rapier full on the Colonel's point. There was a ringing sound of snapping steel, and the Colonel stood with nothing but a stump in his grasp.

"There you are," said Maurice, a heat-flash passing over him. Had he swerved a hair's breadth from the line, time would have tacked finis to the tale. "Now, I am perfectly willing to talk," putting his point to the Colonel's breast. "It would inconvenience me to kill you, but do not count too much on that."

"Sapristi!" cried the Colonel, giving way, his face yellow with rage, chagrin and fear. "Kill me, for I swear to God that one or the other of us must die!"

"Go on, chevalier d'industrie; go on, go on. But live, live, live! That will be the keenest punishment. Live! O, my brave killer of boys, you thought to play with me as a cat with a mouse, eh? Eh, Captain Urquijo-Beauvais-and-What-is-your-name?" He pressed the point here, there, everywhere. "You were too confident. Pardon me if I appear to brag, but I have taken lessons of the best fencing masters in Europe, and three times, while you devoted your talents to monologues, I could have pinned you like one of those butterflies on the wall there. Have you ever heard of the sword of Damocles? Well, well; it hangs over many a head to-day. I will be yours. I give you forty-eight hours to arrange your personal affairs. If after that time you are still in this part of the country, I shall inform the proper authorities in Vienna. The republic has representation there. Of a noble Austrian house, on the eve of recall? I think not."

Beauvais made a desperate attempt to clutch the blade in his hands.

"No, no!" laughed Maurice, making rapid prods which caused Beauvais to wince. "Now, back; farther, farther. I do not like the idea of having my back to the door."

Beauvais suddenly wheeled and dashed for the mantel. But as he endeavoured to lay hand on the revolver, Maurice brought down the blade on the Colonel's knuckles, leaving a livid welt. Maurice took possession of the weapon, while a grimace of agony shot over the Colonel's face. Seeing that the chambers were loaded, Maurice threw down the sword.

"Well, well!" he said, cocking the weapon. "And I saw it when I entered the room. It would have saved a good deal of trouble." Beauvais grew white. "O," Maurice continued, "I am not going to shoot you. I wish merely to call your valet." He aimed at the grate and pressed the trigger, and the report, vibrating within the four walls, was deafening.

A moment passed, and the valet, with bulging eyes and blanched face, peered in. Seeing how matters stood, he made as though to retreat.

Maurice levelled the smoking revolver. "Come in, Francois; your master will have need of you."

Francois complied, vertigo in his limbs.

"Your master tried to murder me," said Maurice. Francois had heard voices like this before, and it conveyed to him that a fine quality of anger lay close to the surface. "Take down yonder window curtain cord." Francois did so. "Now bind your master's hands with it."

"Francois," cried the Colonel, "if you so much as lay a finger on me, I'll kill you."

"Francois, I will kill you if you don't," said Maurice.

"Mon Dieu!" wailed the valet, at loss which to obey when to obey either meant death. His teeth chattered.

"You may have all the time you want, Francois, to wring your hands when I am gone. Come; to work. Colonel, submit. I'm in a hurry and have no time to spare. While I do not desire to kill you, self-preservation will force me to put a bullet into your hide, which will make you an inmate of the city hospital. Bind his hands behind his back, and no more nonsense."

"Monsieur," appealingly to Beauvais, "I am forced. He will kill me!"

"So will I," grimly; "by Heaven, I will!"

Beauvais had a plan. If he could keep Maurice long enough, help might arrive. And he had an excellent story to tell. Still Francois doddered. With his eye on the Colonel and the revolver sighted, Maurice picked up the sword. He gave Francois a vigorous prod. Francois needed no further inducement. He started forward with alacrity. In the wink of an eye he threw the cord around Beauvais's arms and pinned them to his sides.

Beauvais swore, but the valet was strong in his fright. He struggled and wound and knotted and tied, murmuring his pitiful "Mon Dieu!" the while, till the Colonel was the central figure of a Gordian knot.

"That will do," said Maurice. "Now, Francois, good and faithful servant, take your master over to the lounge and sit down beside him until I get into my clothes. Yes; that's it." He shoved his collar and tie into a pocket, slipped on his vest and coat, put on his hat and slung his topcoat over his arm. During these manoeuvres the revolver remained conspicuously in sight. "Now, Francois, lead the way to the street door. By the time you return to your illustrious master, who is the prince or duke of something or other, pursuit will be out of the question. Now, as for you," turning to Beauvais, "the forty-eight hours hold good. During that time I shall go armed. Forty-eight hours from now I shall inform the authorities at the nearest consulate. If they catch you, that's your affair. Off we go, Francois."

"By Heaven!—" began Beauvais, struggling to his feet.

"Come so far as this door," warned Maurice, "and, bound or not, I'll knock you down. Hang you! Do you think my temper will improve in your immediate vicinity? Do you think for a moment that I do not lust for your blood as heartily as you lust for mine? Go to the devil your own way; you'll go fast enough!" He caught Francois by the shoulders and pushed him into the hall, followed, and closed the door. Francois had been graduated from the stables, therefore his courage never rose to sublime heights. All the way down the stairs, he lamented, and each time he turned his head and saw the glitter of the revolver barrel he choked with terror.

"If you do not kill me, Monsieur, he will, I know he will! Mon Dieu, how did it happen? He will kill me!" and the voice sank into a muffled sob.

Despite the gravity of the situation, Maurice could not repress his laughter. "He will not harm you; he threatened you merely to delay me; he stepped out into the refreshing air. "By the way, tell your master not to go to the trouble of having me arrested, for the first thing in the morning I shall place a sealed packet in the hands of the British minister, to be opened if I do not call for it within twenty-four hours. And say to your master that I shall keep the rose."

"Mon Dieu! A woman! I might have known!" ejaculated Francois, as the door banged in his face.

Maurice, on reaching the pavement, took to his legs, for he saw three men rapidly approaching. Perhaps they had heard the pistol shot. He concluded not to wait to learn. He continued his rush till he gained his room. It was two o'clock. He had been in the Colonel's room nearly three hours. It seemed only so many minutes. He hunted for his brandy, found it and swallowed several mouthfuls. Then he dropped into a chair from sheer exhaustion. Reaction laid hold of him. His hands shook, his legs trembled, and perspiration rolled down his cheeks.

"By George!" This exclamation stood alone, but it was an Odyssey. He remained stupefied, staring at his shoes, over which his stockings had fallen. His shirt buttons were gone, and the bosom was guiltless of its former immaculateness. After a time he became conscious of a burning pain in the elbow of his right arm. He glanced down at his hand, to find it covered with drying blood. He jumped up and cast about his clothes. One leg of his trousers was soaked, and the dull ache in his thigh told the cause. He salved the wounds and bound them in strips of handkerchiefs, which he held in place by using some of the cast-off cravats.

"That was about as close to death as a man can get and pull out. I feel as if I had swallowed that cursed blade of his. I am an ass, sure enough. I've always a bad cold when there's a rat about; can't smell him. And the rascal remembered me! Will he stay in spite of my threat? I'll hang on here till to-morrow. If he stays—I won't. He has the devil's own of a sword. Hang it, my nerves are all gone to smash."

Soon some gentler thought took hold, and he smiled tenderly. He brought forth the rose, turned it this way and that, studied it, stroked it, held it to his lips as a lover holds the hand of the woman he loves. Her rose; somehow his heart told him that she had laughed because Beauvais had stooped in vain.

"Ah, Maurice," he said, "you are growing over fond. But why not? Who will know? To have loved is something."

He crept into bed, but sleep refused him its offices, and he tossed about in troubled dreams. He fought all kinds of duels with all sorts of weapons. He was killed a half dozen times, but the archbishop always gave him something which rekindled the vital spark. A thousand Beauvaises raged at him. A thousand princesses were ever in the background, waiting to be saved. He swore to kill these Beauvaises, and after many fruitless endeavours, he succeeded in smothering them in their gray pelisses. Then he awoke, as dreamers always wake when they pass some great dream-crisis, and found himself in a deadly struggle with a pillow and a bedpost. He laughed and sprang out of bed.

"It's no use, I can't sleep. I am an old woman."

So he lit his pipe and sat dreaming with his eyes open, smoking and smoking, until the sickly palour of dawn appeared in the sky, and he knew that day had come.

A GOOD SAMARITAN

Being Helped Himself Wishes to Help Others.

The papers were never so filled with advertisements of remedies that will cure every known disease as they are to-day; these are invariably accompanied by letters from people testifying in the strongest terms to the virtue and merit of the particular preparation advertised; but because so much is claimed for the medicine, it has come to the point where most readers regard such testimonials as pure "fakes" and made up out of whole cloth.

We are glad, however, to vouch for the reliability of the following from Mr. Wm. Lichtenwalter, proprietor of the largest printing house in Canton, Ohio, regarding the Pyramid Pile Cure, for which nothing is claimed except that it will cure any and every form of Piles.

"For several months past I have received so many enquiries from sufferers asking if my testimonial is authentic, that I am inclined to send in a bill to you for postage and stationery.

It is now two years since I was last troubled and my rectum is as clear and clean as any man who never had piles, although I suffered from protruding, bleeding and internal piles for twenty-seven years. I will not attempt to detail the agony I suffered, being too happy to say I believe I am cured, after two years of evidence.

What will cure one man will, sometimes not cure another; whether it was the Pyramid Pile Cure that cured me, I cannot say; but I have been free from piles for two years after using your treatment. I leave sufferers to draw their own conclusions.

I will answer any communication that a sufferer may ask, and will refer to any business house, bank or manufacturer of Canton, Ohio, concerning my identity, among whom I have lived for forty-eight years."

Pyramid Pile Cure is sold by druggists for fifty cents a package, or will be mailed to any address by Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich., upon receipt of price.

She was so nervous that her hands would twitch and in fact she seemed completely unstrung. We sent her to the hospital, but it did not seem to benefit her a particle. We then began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. She has taken in all about five boxes of the Food and the change in her is something wonderful. Every one remarks how much better she looks and enquires what has brought about this improvement in her condition. To-day her nerves are steady and naturally her general health is very much better."

I would often have disagreeable shooting pains in the back of my head which brought on severe attacks of headache, and had for a considerable time suffered almost continuously with pains in the small of my back. Believing my system to be run down, I began the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and can see how it has gradually strengthened and invigorated my system until my troubles have entirely disappeared, and to-day I feel strong and well again."

Prisoner is Refused Bail.

Argument was made before the Court of Appeal yesterday by Mr. J. A. C. Ethier, M.P., on the application for a writ of habeas corpus made by Mr. Vincent Fortier, notary, who is accused of stealing $4,400 and forging an order for $100 on the Post Office Savings' Bank, in the name of W. H. Miller, of Ste. Scholastique. The attorney for the applicant wanted the Court to grant his client bail. Mr. Justice Taschereau had refused his application on account of the serious nature of the offence and the danger of evasion of the prisoner. After argument their Lordships announced that they would give judgment on Monday, at 2 p.m.

Who Will Care for Bridge?

The corporation of the Municipality of Ile Bizard is applying to the court for a mandomus to compel the Municipality of Jacques Cartier county to take over the care and maintenance of the bridge situated between Ile Bizard and Ste. Genevieve, both of which are in Jacques Cartier county.

The bridge in question is one of the iron structures built during the Mercier regime, in 1890, and the municipality of Ile Bizard contends that it is not bound to keep the bridge in order. The corporation of the county obtained delay to reply to the petition.

Petition Against Assessment.

The petition of Mrs. J. P. Whelan against the assessment roll for the prolongation of Hutchison street was presented in the Practice Court yesterday by Messrs. Whelan and Whelan. The petitioner seeks to have the special roll of assessment made in the case set aside, on the ground that the street has been in public use for over ten years, and the property has therefore been acquired without the necessity of any further proceeding. The city attorneys appeared and were granted two days to reply in answer to the petition.

THE TAXPAYERS HAVE THE FLOOR.

The question of free education is now "up to" the people.

Reforms of this sort do not move by self-produced momentum. They necessitate the spending of money; and the politician, who always keeps a wary eye on the silent taxpayer, does not like to propose a large expenditure unless he is thoroughly convinced that the taxpayer favours it.

All that is usually necessary for the taxpayer to do in order to kill a movement like that of free education, is to keep quiet. No politician sees much in it for himself, so he leaves the initiative to the people. If the people say nothing, he will do nothing.

But can the people of Montreal afford to have this scheme killed by their own inaction? All the rest of the world is going ahead in educational matters. The importance of training the young is realized by every progressive people on the face of the globe.

Can Montreal remain an exception? Will it pay us to let a generation grow up here who will be inferior in education—on the average—to their competitors in Ontario, in the Maritime Provinces, in the United States, and in parts of Europe? Assuredly, our province will then fall behind, industrially and commercially as well as mentally. Montreal will become the Rip Van Winkle town of this continent.

Talked to individually, our people do not want this to happen. They are in favour of free education—as a rule. They want to keep in the modern procession. They would follow any leaders who proposed it, but they may let it fail for want of agitation.

This is why it is now "up to" them. The politicians are waiting to hear from the taxpayers. And they should hear from them, promptly and emphatically, by speech and by letter, until they are persuaded that Montreal means to keep abreast with the advance of civilization and material progress.

We do not want to train up citizens who will be "hewers of wood and drawers of water" for the rest of the country. We do not want the coming Montrealers to be handicapped by ignorance. We do not want to save a few pennies at the expense of the whole future of the city.

INTELLECTUAL SALOONS.

It is to the pen of the "Bystander" of the Weekly Sun that we are indebted for this expression, which he applies to "the circulating libraries to which readers flock for novels." The points of resemblance between the intellectual saloon and the other kind of saloon are not difficult to discover. The great feature which they have in common is that they both provide stimulants. A man needs, or thinks he needs, something to pull up his physical condition, and make him feel a little "good"; and he drops into a place where liquid refreshments are sold, as a rule in company with someone else who happens to feel the same way at the same moment, or at least who "doesn't care if he does." Far be it from us to defend the practice which is not advocated, so far as we know, in any reputable system of moral philosophy; we merely describe it out of that fulness of knowledge which the public insist that newspaper men must possess. Well, just as certain masculine creatures snatch these momentary uplifts, so certain feminine ones repair to the circulating library to get something wherewith to stay the gnawings of mental vacuity. It cannot be said that they are in search of information, or of any addition to their stock of ideas. They simply want something that will keep their minds occupied without any effort on their own part. The book they ask for is designed to serve a purpose exactly analogous to that served by the various popular drinks which are shoved along the counter of the saloon. It might with some plausibility be contended that the intellectual saloon dispensed on the whole the more hurtful kind of drams. The "Bystander" says: "Novel writing is an industry pursued by a multitude of people who have not a particle of genius for the delineation of life and character, but go about hunting up materials for sensation. * * * All this rubbish finds readers. It is impossible that such mental dissipation should not have its effect on mental health." That effect the writer thinks can be traced in "loss of hold on the realities of life, confusion of the moral standard, distaste for unromantic duties."

There can be little doubt that the "Bystander" is right in his arraignment; and yet if results like those he mentions follow, how much more serious the matter is than we generally allow ourselves to suppose. Here is a matter in which excess does not show itself in the obvious, unmistakable manner in which excess in drinking does. The results in the latter case are specific; and there is no question in any one's mind as to the cause to which they are to be attributed. But if a woman's ideas are topsy turvy, her perceptions of duty exceedingly faint and confused, her power of sustained attention almost nil, her friends may perceive and regret the fact, but how many will throw the blame distinctly on her addiction to the "intellectual saloon?"

And yet, from girlhood up to and far into womanhood, that person may have been feeding herself upon an endless succession of romances, the whole tendency of which has been to divorce her from real life. They have taught her nothing, except that real life, apart from gossip, is a very dull thing, which, of course, is the falsest lesson that could be taught. A visitor to a well-known circulating library in this city made a point of taking note of the returned books for several days in succession. As a rule they were all novels. Sometimes out of from twenty to thirty books that would be on the counter at the same time there would be one or two that were not novels; but more frequently all would be novels—in other words, time-killers and thought-killers. In saying this we by no means wish to be understood as condemning an important branch of literature, one in which the very highest intellectual effects may be accomplished. We condemn simply the resort to works of fiction, with little or no regard to their quality, simply as a means of escaping from intellectual vacuity. Nobody has any business, however, to be intellectually vacuous. There are duties in life which, if entered on in a right spirit, will call many interests into play. It is not those whose daily work is most monotonous who have most recourse to novels as a means of overcoming ennui. It is those who have many and various duties, but who neglect them.

The term "intellectual saloons" will seem a harsh one, as applied to libraries where a variety of books in many different branches of literature and science may be obtained; and, strictly speaking, the term is not at all applicable to these institutions considered in their essential character. It is only the idle and aimless readers who converts them, so far as he or she is concerned, into "intellectual saloons." They offer a variety of healthful mental food, but readers of this class seize exclusively on such as suits their feeble powers of attention and apprehension; and what they thus feed upon renders their intellectual condition worse, year by year. The "Bystander" is to be thanked for teaching us that word; but let it always be remembered it is the reader who makes the saloon.

THIRD PARTIES.

With the meeting of the new Congress, the Populist party will have practically disappeared. The "Patrons" — its understudy in this country—died out long ago.

The lesson in this to men of "light and leading," who are impatient with the slowness of the two old parties, lies on the surface. Two of the most promising efforts to found third parties which this continent has ever seen have ended in complete failure.

From the first neither of these third parties was able to stand alone. Both leaned upon one of the old parties, and only sought to detach voters from the opposing party to turn them over—in effect—to its friend. Now both have disappeared into the ranks of the parties they worked with, and in both cases their principles have dropped as completely out of sight.

Meantime such independent political movements as that for civil service reform in the United States, which remained within the lines of the old parties and sought to work through them, have prevailed.

The duality of the party system is a fixed part of its constitution. A third party merely serves to derange the system. Reformers always do more when they work within the parties and strive to capture or coerce the managers of one or other. The best independent is not the man who divorces himself from the party system, but the one who uses it with the compelling hand of him who has no selfish purposes to serve.

---

When Mr. Prefontaine spoke to the electors of Maisonneuve, in 1900, it was as a private citizen nominated for a seat as a private member of the House of Commons. When Hon. Mr. Prefontaine speaks to the electors of Maisonneuve, in 1902, it will be as a Cabinet Minister. The electors will expect him to tell them authoritatively what the policy of the Cabinet is on the question of protection. It is no use telling the voters what Hon. Mr. Prefontaine's private views are. Mr. Tarte did this, and not being able to get the Cabinet to back him up resigned. What is wanted is a straightforward statement as to what the Government is going to do. It is not every day a Cabinet Minister comes before the people for re-election. When he does appear the people look for a declaration of policy specific, definite and authoritative.

The ashes of Columbus have been deposited in a special mausoleum in the Cathedral at Seville, Spain. And this at a time when Spain is just becoming reconciled to the fact that her once vast American Empire has turned to ashes in her hands. No nation since the world began had so splendid an opportunity to hold for herself a vast domain. Spain discovered a new hemisphere; and soon all that she cared for was her's. A dozen Indias would not equal it. The Spanish race colonised it from California to Patagonia. The ocean became a ferry for her treasure ships. And now practically all that she has left of it is a handful of ashes which were once the Italian navigator who discovered this new world for her. In four hundred years a hemisphere his shrunk into a burial urn.

Owing to the scarcity of farm labourers in Ontario the Government of that province is about to co-operate with the Ottawa Government, through Dominion Immigration officials in England, for the purpose of inducing young Englishmen to come out here. If we cannot get Canadians, by all means let us have Englishmen, Scotchmen, and Irishmen. But the United States cities and populous places contain great numbers of Canadians who would be glad to return to their native country if shown fair chances of employment. One of the most piteous experiences of a Canadian of any prominence, resident in the States, is to be frequently approached by industrious fellow countrymen, very often from the Maritime Provinces, who have been victims of the delusion that working people are better off in the States than in Canada. They want to get back, but they have some sort of job where they are. This holds them for lack of something better distinctly offered or open. They cannot afford to pay fares and lose time by going to Canada to look for a job. They know they are not as well off, relatively to other classes, as they were in Canada, or might have been had they not emigrated when in a state of delusion. They are exiles, and this they often sorely feel. Instead of turning public money and public servants to the business of bringing men across seas to crowd more Canadians out of jobs, the Governments would do well to set about a well planned scheme for repatriating the exiled Canadians.

NATURAL MILK PUNCH.

Frost-bitten apples ferment — hence frost bitten apples are intoxicating. In the New York fruit belt many ungathered apples were caught by the frost, and the cows that are pastured in those orchards present a sorry spectacle. They run races, fight, sleep and use language which, happily, cannot be interpreted. But, instead of milk, they fill pails with excellent milk punch, and their owners are tolerably well satisfied.—St. John Gazette.

Once upon a time a very nervous man called on his physician and asked him for medical advice.
"Take a tonic, and dismiss from your mind all that tends to worry you," said the doctor.
Several months afterward the patient received a bill from the physician asking him to remit $18, and answered it thus:
"Dear Doctor, I have taken a tonic and your advice. Your bill tends to worry me, and so I dismiss it from my mind."

ENGLISH CONSERVATIVE VIEW OF THE RESULTS OF COLONIAL CONFERENCE.

(Morning Post, Conservative.)

The Empire of which so much has been talked seems, after all, to be only an aspiration, not a reality. The Blue Book issued as a summary of the proceedings of the Colonial Conference held in the summer shows that henceforth in using the words "the British Empire" we must be particularly careful not to put too definite an interpretation on the name. The "Empire" means the United Kingdom, together with India, the self-governing colonies, the Crown colonies. So long as it is used only to mean that aggregate of countries the word need mislead no one. It may even safely be used to cover a certain community of sentiment and tradition between the various countries which it includes in its area. But it can hardly be properly employed to imply anything that corresponds to the idea of a political organization, and the Blue Book shows how very far the "Empire" still is from receiving an organization for any great end. The conference did little more than mark time. A resolution was adopted that conferences should be held every three years. The problem of Imperial defence was shelved. On the subject of trade relations an academical resolution was passed. . . . . . . The interest of the Blue Book lies in the light which it throws on the actual relations between Great Britain and her colonies, in the striking evidence which it furnishes of the state of mind of some of our public men, and in the remarkable discrepancy which it reveals between the ideas that inspire the Admiralty and those which prevail at the War Office.

Mr. Chamberlain in his opening address indulged in a picturesque metaphor. "The weary Titan staggers under the too vast orb of its fate. We have borne the burden for many years. We think it is time that our children should assist us to support it, and whenever you make the request to us be sure that we shall hasten gladly to call you to our councils." This is perhaps fine language, but it lacks the preciseness of business. The doctrine of the weary Titan recalls Mr. Gladstone's often repeated complaint that the "Empire" was too big and beyond the power of man to administer. That could hardly be Mr. Chamberlain's idea; he was probably thinking of the taxpayer of the United Kingdom, who pays 29s. 3d. a year per head of the population towards Navy and Army, while the most heavily weighted colonist pays no more than 3s. 5d. a year per head of the population for naval and military purposes. We are not convinced that the British taxpayer cannot support his burden, and doubt if he would be conscious of much relief if the colonists accepted a proportionate share of it. The British navy costs 15s. 1d. per head of the population of the United Kingdom. If this were spread over the white population of the Empire it would still be 12s. per head. Perhaps the weary Titan is the British Cabinet. But the Titanic energies are not absorbed in administering the great colonies, for they administer themselves and have no intention of allowing the Titan to meddle with their affairs. Only one clear, practical, and sensible idea was put before the conference. It was that of the Admiralty, that the task of the "Empire" in case of war would be "to find out where the ships of the enemy are, to concentrate the greatest possible force where those ships are, and to destroy those ships." From this the Admiralty infers that there should be one British navy under one control, and that to its maintenance all parts of the Empire should contribute in due proportion. This idea was admirably put both in the Admiralty memorandum and in Lord Selborne's speech to the Prime Ministers. But

IT FELL ON DEAF EARS.

Canada thought that for her to contribute to the British Navy would be derogatory to the principles of self-government. Australia and New Zealand simply offered to renew the arrangement by which they hire a fragment of the Navy to guard their particular corner of the ocean. The only colonies that accepted the Imperial idea were Cape Colony, and Natal, which undertook to pay the one £50,000 a year and the other £35,000 a year towards the Royal Navy. Thus the position is that the older and greater colonies see no reason why they should take their share in the common defence, the only common defence of the Empire being the Navy. In this vital matter they regard themselves as independent States. This is the kernel of the subject of what is called Imperial unity so far as organization is concerned. In the matter of the common defence there is no Imperial authority and no Imperial executive. There is the sentiment that these things might be desirable, but there is no more, unless the triennial conference may be looked on as the germ from which a central authority and a central executive may be developed. So far as to the development of Imperial unity towards organization. . . . We are unable to see the reasonableness of the British taxpayer who maintains the War Office and half a million men contributing towards the maintenance in peace of any contingents in the colonies. The term "Imperial Exchequer" for the Treasury of the United Kingdom is, as the proceedings of the conference show, most unfortunate. For the present in the matter of the defence of the King's dominions the practical course of the Government of the United Kingdom to pursue is to render efficient the administration of the Admiralty and the War Office, to remain a Navy equal to the utmost demands that a war can make, and to cultivate by every means in its power the rise and spread of true ideas on the subject of war, its nature and conduct. That can be done only by due attention to those higher branches of naval and military education which in other countries are under the fostering care of the great thinking departments at the central headquarters. The spread of sound ideas at home may in time lead to their passing by contagion to the colonies. Until that has taken place the United Kingdom will be obliged to protect the Empire, whether the other parts of the Empire assist during peace or not. In war the colonies will always do as much as their peace preparations admit of. But whatever their attitude Great Britain has no choice. Her own defence requires her Navy to command the sea, and if she relaxes her attention to her Navy it is at the peril of her existence. So long as she commands the sea the colonies are safe, at any rate against the assaults of European Powers.

U. S. Duty on Lumber.

(Philadelphia Ledger.)

We trust there is no foundation for the rumour that the United States Government has intentions, as the Canadian lumbermen fear, of raising the duty on Canadian sawed lumber from $2 to $4 per thousand feet. The news from Toronto intimates that this will be done as a measure of retaliation because the Ontario and Quebec Provincial Governments have placed an embargo on the exportation of wood pulp. This is a burden on this country and its industries. However, any effort to strike the Canadians by raising the duty on lumber might hurt them, but it would also injure the United States. In the first place, the $2 duty in the Dingley bill was a mistake, and should be removed. The embargo on pulp was another mistake, and the increase of the duty on lumber would be an outrage. We speak not for the Canadians, but for the domestic consumer. The wood pulp tax raises the price of paper, and is a direct burden on books and other educational agencies; the duty on lumber is a tax on building, on the home and on the vast industries into which lumber enters; it also hastens the denudation of our priceless forests, and all for the behoof of a few lumber interests at home!

Roman Catholics in Switzerland.

The expulsion of the contumacious Roman Catholic monastic orders from France has naturally been followed by their entrance into other countries, where they have hoped to find a more agreeable home. Among these countries is Switzerland. The orders which had established new houses there, however, have just met with a disagreeable surprise. The Swiss Government has ordered these establishments to be closed—an order which, of course, interferes in no degree with existing establishments. The Government is quite within its rights, but its action has excited adverse criticism throughout the Roman Catholic press, which points the finger of reproach at supposedly free Switzerland, and claims that greater religious liberty exists in England and America than there. The expelled congregations, or orders, have obtained a delay of fifty days, in order that they may put their affairs in order. This may seem but a short space of time to outsiders; but the founders of new conventual establishments must have been quite well aware of the famous Article 52 of the Swiss Constitution: "The foundation of new convents or religious orders, or the re-establishment of those which have been suppressed, is prohibited."

The corporation of St. Thomas, Montmagny, is about to construct a vast public hall for the town, and the fabrique of the same place has undertaken to build a new chapel in the cemetery.

EVENTS OF INTEREST IN LABOUR WORLD

Witnesses Before Coal Commission Tell of Health of Miners

BOYCOTT AT SCHENECTADY

President Gompers, of Federation of Labour, Was Exonerated of Charges of Infidelity.

SCRANTON, Pa., November 21. — The economic and sociological features of the anthracite coal industry and the effect that employment in and about the mines has upon the health of the mine workers were the principal subjects brought before the arbitration commission yesterday by the attorneys of each side to the controversy.

The afternoon session was particularly interesting, because it brought out much expert testimony on the question of the health of mine workers. Three physicians, who have practiced in Scranton or Wilkesbarre, took the stand for the miners, and in substance testified that the occupation of a mine worker was "very unhealthful," and shortened his life. One physician, Dr. Frank P. Lennahan, of Wilkesbarre, who says he has had a long experience among mine workers, testified that fully 99 per cent. of the men who work in the mines are anaemic. Their health is impoverished, and their general condition is below par, thus decreasing their earning powers. The principal ills suffered by the miners, the physicians said, were the miners' asthma, rheumatism, lumbago, and sciatica. The miners' asthma, comes from coal dust, powder smoke and vitiated air.

Dr. John O'Malley, of Scranton, said that at post-mortems he had seen miners' lungs as black as anthracite coal, and Dr. Lennahan testified he had personal knowledge of a man coughing up coal dust nine years after he left the mines. He said he had information that a man had coughed up coal dust fifteen years after he had left the mines. It was also stated that 90 per cent. of miners who reach the age of 50 years are afflicted with some form of rheumatism.

The cross-examination of Rev. Dr. Peter Roberts, of Mahanoy City, Pa., who has studied the anthracite coal industry and written a book on the subject, ended yesterday, and he left the witness stand shortly after the noon recess. He began his testimony Wednesday. Copious extracts from his books were read, and placed on record. Former Congressman Simon P. Wolverton, counsel for the Reading Company, read much of the matter pertaining to violence in the 1900 strike, and also read articles written by Dr. Roberts during the passing of the late contest, in which he described in strong language the acts of violence, intimidation, and boycotting committed during that suspension. His articles spoke of some of these acts as "brutal outrages," and he also branded the union's action in calling out the steam men in June, as "foolhardy." In explaining his articles, Dr. Roberts said that he did not wish to infer that the organization was responsible for all the lawlessness committed. Dr. Roberts gave it as his opinion that attempts to have non-union men form a separate organization were instigated by parties opposed to organized labour.

PRESIDENT GOMPERS WAS EXONERATED.

NEW ORLEANS, November 21.—President Gompers has been completely exonerated of the charges of infidelity to the principles of trades' unions, said to have been made by Theodore J. Shaffer, president of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers. The report of the special committee which has conducted the investigation was to that effect, before the convention of the American Federation of Labour, and the convention adopted it.

The committee reported that when Mr. Shaffer appeared before it he declared that he never either, in writing or otherwise, made any charges against Mr. Gompers of infidelity to trades' unionism and that he did not desire to do so, before the committee.

P. J. Sheridan, who brought up the resolution in the convention which resulted in the investigation, was also present at the hearing and he was asked if it was true that Mr. Shaffer made any charges before the last convention of the Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, against Mr. Gompers. He replied that he did. Mr. Shaffer denied it. Mr. Sheridan offered to read the minutes of the meeting at which the alleged charges were made. Mr. Shaffer objected because the minutes were those of a secret meeting, which, if read by Mr. Sheridan would involve him in trouble with his own organization for divulging the inner workings of the convention.

The convention decided that the question of veracity between Mr. Shaffer and Mr. Sheridan was something with which it had nothing to do. There being no charges against Mr. Gompers, there was nothing to do but return a finding to the effect that Mr. Gompers was completely exonerated.

For the time being, at least, all opposition to the re-election of President Gompers has died out. Since the refusal of James Lynch, of the Typographical Union, to run for the office, no effort has been made to find another candidate nor is it likely, at the present time that there will be.

The convention entered upon an extended debate in which at times considerable feeling was shown, on the resolutions introduced by Victor L. Berger, of Milwaukee, committing the convention to the principles of socialism. The committee on resolutions reported that the principles of trades' unionism contain all that is necessary at present for the advancement of the workingmen of the country. Delegate Max Hayes, offered a substitute to the effect that the federation should advise working people to organize their economic and political power to secure for labour the full equivalent of its toil, the overthrow of the wage system, and the establishment of an industrial co-operative democracy. The substitute was ruled out of order by the chair, as being a substitute. Delegate Hayes then offered it as an amendment, and was so admitted by the chair.

SCHENECTADY BOYCOTT WILL SOON BE OVER.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., November 21.—The machinery builders' section of the Trades Assembly, representing at least two-thirds of the local trades union men, met last night, and by a practically unanimous vote decided that the assembly, at its next meeting, should raise the boycott against the Schenectady Railway Company. The machinery builders' section includes 31 unions, and involves every iron trade union in the city, having within its membership every man employed in the General Electric and American Locomotive Works. There are 61 unions in the Trades Assembly, and this action by a majority practically guarantees that the boycott will be declared off next Wednesday night. The Typographical Union met last night and also condemned the boycott.

The promoters were buoyed up with hope yesterday by the report that the Albany Federation of Labour had declared itself in sympathy with the boycott, and that the Troy division of the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employes would refuse to allow Schenectady cars to be operated in Troy, but later reports dashed their hopes to the ground. The conservative element pointed out that there is nothing tangible in the expression of sympathy on the part of the Albany Federation, and that the continued refusal of the Albany United Traction employes to interfere blocked all hope for help from that quarter.

The Troy division of the Amalgamated Street Railway employes will not meet until next Wednesday night, and the assertions of the radical element there that the Troy will take a hand is not borne out by statements made by a number of the rank and file, who say that they have no cause for interference. The leaders of the Troy Central Federation of Labour, which also meets next Wednesday night, states that that body will take no action in the matter. The Federation at its last meeting passed a resolution that if members of trades' unions wished to join the militia there is no reason why they should not do so.

The Citizens' Club formed by representative Schenectadians on Wednesday night, to protect the city against unjust demands on the part of labour unions, is preparing plans, but the seventy members, both business and professional men, absolutely refuse to state what will be done. They represent practically the sentiment of the entire city, and even the radical labour leaders state that a mistake has been made.

W. F. Martin, a member of the Trades' Assembly Press Committee, said that a mistake had been made and original promoters realize it as fully as the public. "A mistake has been made and we are willing to correct it," he said.

KNIGHTS OF LABOUR RENEW OLD FEUD.

WASHINGTON, November 21. — The feud which has existed some time in the Knights of Labour has broken out afresh, and Simon Burns, of Pittsburg, and John Tiernan, of Pittsburg; Henry A. Hitt, New York; Thomas H. Canning, Boston, and J. Frank O'Meara, have been arrested on a warrant charging forcible entry.

It is claimed that these men came here from Niagara Falls, where one faction of the Knights has been holding a convention, with the intention of getting possession of headquarters of the organization. It is further charged that they entered the building through an open window. Secretary-Treasurer Hayes was informed of the movement and he immediately swore out warrants for their arrest. The cases were called in the Police Court yesterday, and the hearing postponed until Saturday. The men were released in $100 bail each.

MARCONI'S EXPERIMENTS.

He Will Not Make An Announcement for Some Time.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

SYDNEY, N.S., November 21.—"I do not intend to give out any statement regarding the results of my experiments at Table Head until these experiments have been completed," said Marconi, in interview with your correspondent yesterday afternoon. "Any statement made by me now might only mislead the public, and I prefer to wait till my work here has been accomplished. As yet, this station is not fully equipped. A large part of the machinery has not been adjusted and some of it has not been unpacked, so you see that we are not yet in a position to do much experimenting.

"Yes, I will confirm the report that messages were received by me on board the Carlo Alberto in Sydney harbour from the station at Potdhu, Cornwall. I am only too pleased to confirm any announcement made by the Italian Government, but according to the terms of my agreement with the government they are to make public the results of my experiments on board the warship and I cannot give you any further information regarding those experiments as a result of my work here. Several improvements have been made both in the transmitting and receiving apparatus, and we are now able to send at a rate of forty words a minute, while a year ago our best speed was sixteen or seventeen words a minute. I have not yet decided when I will leave here for Cape Cod, but I hope I will complete experiments here before sailing, and will then make an announcement."

THAT NEWPORT AFFAIR.

Story That Remington Was Murdered Not Generally Believed.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

NEWPORT, November 21.—The general belief here is that Robert R. Remington was a suicide, and this theory is well supported by all the known facts. There is an element of mystery in the case, however, based on the letter which was found by the brother of the dead man in the latter's hat box after his death.

This was a copy of a letter which Robert Remington had sent, presumably, to James J. Van Alen within a few hours of his death. It is this letter which, according to Edward Pym Remington, reveals a motive for his brother's murder. So far as can be learned no one in Newport is familiar with the contents of this letter, but the belief prevails that it concerned Remington's engagement to Miss May Van Alen and that it would constitute as good a motive for suicide as for murder.

There is no doubt that the revolver found at the dead man's side at the Newport Reading Room was Remington's property. It was of French make, with a white bone handle. Mrs. La Forge, with whom Remington boarded, said that she had frequently seen the weapon in Remington's room. No such weapon was ever sold by any of the storekeepers in Newport.

NEW YORK RAPID TRANSIT.

Manhattan Road Controlled by Interborough Company.

NEW YORK, November 21. — The Herald says: "It was definitely stated in official quarters last evening that the control of the Manhattan Railway Company has passed into the hands of the Inter-Borough Rapid Transit Company, more familiarly known as the Subway Company. An official statement to this effect will possibly be issued within a few days. Negotiations having this object in view have been secretly carried on for some weeks. Yesterday they reached a stage where the success of the scheme was assured.

"The consolidated company will control and operate 97 3-4 miles of road, located in the Greater City of New York, and covering practically all the available franchises not possessed by the Metropolitan Railway Company.

Fatal Accident at Glace Bay.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

GLACE BAY, N. S., November 21. — Last night Jacob Buffet, a native of Fortune Bay, Nfld., met with a fatal accident near Dominion Mine No. two. In company with three companions he was proceeding homeward along a siding leading from No. two to the main line of the Sydney and Louisburg Railway, a coal train moved out from the banking station. He jumped aside to avoid this without noticing the express coming along the main track. He was struck in the back of the head by the beam of the engine and lived but a few minutes. The deceased had been in the employ of the coal company for about a week.

OXFORD AWAITS RHODES SCHOLARS

Dr. Parkin Now on Visit to Great British University.

PLANS ARE BEING DISCUSSED

He is Pleased With Manner in Which Rhodes' Great Scheme is Being Received.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

OXFORD, November 21.—Practical steps are being taken for the advent to Oxford of the Rhodes Scholars. Mr. G. R. Parkin, LL. D., C. M. G., Principal of Upper Canada College, Toronto, the organizing agent for the Trustees of the Rhodes Scholarships, is on a visit to Oxford on behalf of the various countries interested, and after consultation with the University and College authorities will frame for the approval of the Trustees, a scheme for the election of the scholars.

As the bequest of Mr. Rhodes suggests that the scholars shall come into residence at the various colleges, and shall pursue a three years' course of study at the University, it was all important that a clear understanding of the attitude of the University and of the individual colleges towards the scholars thus to be elected should be ascertained as a necessary preliminary to Mr. Parkin's work abroad. This, then, is the object of his visit to the University city. Acting on the advice of the Vice-Chancellor and a committee of the Hebdomadal Council, Mr. Parkin addressed a series of questions to various heads of colleges in order that the matter might be formally brought under the consideration of the respective societies.

The answers to the questions will be submitted to the trustees for their consideration. The first year the bequest comes into operation, there will be elected probably between 70 and 75 scholars, the same number for the second year, and for the third year about 30, the numbers continuing thereafter from year to year in about like proportion.

The reception Mr. Parkin has met with from the Oxford "dons" has been most gratifying. In an interview, Mr. Parkin said:

"What has impressed me greatly since I have been in Oxford is the exceedingly hearty and interested way in which all the colleges have discussed the best plan of working the Rhodes Scholars into the University system. A universal feeling prevails that the concepton of Rhodes was a splendid one, has in it more possibilities for the future, and is likely to make a profound impression on the English-speaking world. It is also very generally felt, I think, that any failure to make a complete success of this great thought of Mr. Rhodes would be a check to all giving on a grand scale for a long time to come. The heads of colleges and Fellows I have found everywhere, therefore, ready to cooperate with the Rhodes Trustees in making this bequest most effective. We are only gradually getting answers to the questions which have been propounded to the various colleges, but all the replies that have come in are highly favourable. According to their size, each of the colleges seems prepared to take from two to five of the Rhodes Scholars every year. As the holders of these scholarships will be very carefully selected from each of the Colonies and from each State of the American Union, I have every reason to think that a high average of man will be obtained—almost certainly a serious, earnest man, but interested in college athletics and all the best sides of college life, in accordance with the ideas that Mr. Rhodes had about the selection of such candidates."

GRINDING CANADIAN WHEAT.

Bond Given by Minneapolis Mill That Will Handle it.

ST. PAUL, Minn., November 21.—The Washburn-Crosby Milling Company, of Minneapolis, bonded its Humboldt mill yesterday for an indefinite period, to grind nothing but Canadian wheat.

The bond demanded by the customs officials was $50,000.

The custom heretofore prevailing was to ship the grain of the Canadian North-West bonded through the United States to Liverpool. The grinding of the grain in Minneapolis, instead of in England, will create a great saving in the expenses of transit to Europe.

A bond of $30,000 was also given at the customs house yesterday by the Great Eastern Elevator Company, of Minneapolis, for the storage in Minneapolis of Canadian oats. This grain eventually will be ground into oatmeal in this state, and in some mill yet to be designated and used entirely for export business.

ARGENTINA AND CATTLE.

Conditions Imposed by Hon. Mr. Hanbury are Acceptable.

LONDON, November 21.—The president of the Argentine Republic has sent a telegram in which he accepts the conditions named by Right Hon. Robert William Hanbury, president of the Board of Agriculture, under which Argentine cattle may be imported into England. The conditions are that Argentina shall adopt the British diseases of animals act, inspect her own flocks, and prohibit the moving of inflicted animals from the districts in which they are located. It is expected that this will result in the importation of cattle from Argentina within three months, and that it will materially affect the importations from America.

ITALY IS INDIGNANT.

Proposed New U. S. Immigration Law Would Hurt That Country.

ROME, November 21. — The Tribuna, commenting on the proposed new law of the United States to stop the immigration of illiterates, says this measure is a new cruel offence and an iniquity to Italy. The Journal urges the Government to make a protest to the United States Government, inasmuch as the proposed measure will strike especially at Italy, whose emigration comprised 50 per cent. of illiterates. "The Government," it concludes, "must obtain a veto on the bill from President Roosevelt so the measure will at least be postponed till Italian emigrants are able to take to the United States not only the strength of their arms, but the cultivation of their minds."

NEW PAYMASTER-GENERAL.

Sir Savile Crossley, M.P., Succeeds Duke of Marlborough.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

LONDON, November 20. — Sir Savile Crossley, M. P., has been appointed paymaster-general to succeed the Duke of Marlborough, resigned. The Duke is going to the Delhi Durbar with the Duke of Portland, Lord Lonsdale, and others as guest of Lord Curzon. It is reported that the Duke has been disappointed from a political standpoint because Premier Balfour has not appointed him to a more important office. It was thought when Premier Balfour became Premier the Duke of Marlborough would be remembered in the distribution of favours.

Ireland and the Bretons.

Lord Castletown, of Upper Ossory, presided recently at an extraordinary general meeting of the Celtic Association, specially called for the purpose of hearing an account from M. Le Berre, president of the Breton Federation of Rennes, and honorary secretary of the Breton Regional Union, of the effort initiated by M. Combes to suppress the Breton language. This is supposed to be the French premier's method of punishing the Breton people for the resistance they have shown in the matter of the expulsion of the nuns, and it has taken the form of a decree, dated September 29. In order to render the decree valid it will be necessary for the French Government to pass a law legalizing it. The present agitation has been raised to prevent the introduction of such a measure into the Chambers. The Bretons, in their despair, have appealed for aid in the struggle to their fellow Celts of Ireland, the Highlands, Wales, Cornwall, and the Isle of Man, acting through the Celtic Association as representative of all six races. M. Le Berre, speaking in French, gave a resume of the struggle, and produced numerous documents to prove the genuine nature of the appeal. Among the hundreds who had protested were, he said, many public men and men of letters. He concluded a moderately-worded speech by asking the other Celtic countries to help them. Resolutions of regret and protest having been passed, it was unanimously decided that the executive council should be empowered to send a representative deputation to Paris to interview M. Combes, and beg him in the name of learning to withdraw the obnoxious decree.

BODY OF MURDERER FOUND IN WOODS.

Noah Hale Korah, Who Killed His Son, Dies From Exposure in the Woods.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., November 21.—The body of Noah Hale Korah, the farmer who disappeared after brutally murdering his son and injuring his wife on October 3, was found on Thursday afternoon in the woods a mile from his home, with his gun in his arms. Death was the result of exposure, and apparently took place some weeks ago.

EDUCATION BILL THROUGH COMMITTEE STAGE

LONDON, November 21.—After forty-five days' discussion of details of the Education Bill, it has passed the committee stage in the House of Commons, the final vote of the bill reported to the House being 212 to 86. Notice was given that several amendments would be made in the report stage of the measure.

AMERICAN PACIFIC CABLE.

Negotiations to Secure a Landing Place in China.

WASHINGTON, November 21. — Clarence MacKay, president of the Commercial Pacific Cable Company; Geo. G. Ward, vice-president, and Wm. W. Cook, general counsel for the company, had an interview yesterday with Attorney-General Knox with respect to the conditions prescribed by President Roosevelt for constructing a trans-Pacific cable. Mr. MacKay explained to the Attorney-General that protracted negotiations have only been brought to a conclusion within the last few days to secure a landing place in China to comply with the President's conditions that an independent American line should be constructed from Manila to Hong Kong, thus giving an all-American through line to the Asiatic continent. The company now announces its ability and intention to construct a line from Manila to Shanghai, a distance of about 1,200 miles, and to have it completed within a year. One of the other conditions to secure the transmission of American messages to interior points in China, is being recast to obviate misunderstanding, and will be submitted to the President in a modified form within a few days.

FUNERAL OF MR. MAXWELL

The Late Member for North Burrard Laid to Rest.

VANCOUVER, B. C., November 21. — The funeral of George R. Maxwell, M.P. for North Burrard, took place yesterday afternoon under the auspices of the Masonic lodges, and was one of the largest ever held here. Service was held in the First Presbyterian Church, of which deceased was formerly pastor, the building being filled to the doors. Besides Masons there were a large attendance of Knights of Pythias, Orangemen and Oddfellows, to which he belonged. Among messages of condolence received by the family was one from Hon. Clifford Sifton.

The remains of Angus McLeod, M.P. for North Ontario, were sent East on yesterday's express for interment at Bracebridge, Ont.

The City Council yesterday passed resolutions of condolence with Mrs. Maxwell and Mrs. McLeod in their bereavement.

The Czar and Czarina.

ST. PETERSBURG, November 21.—The Czar and Czarina are expected to remain at their palace at Yalta, on the southern coast of the Crimea until the middle of December, when they will return to St. Petersburg to celebrate the hundredth anniversary of the formation of the corps of pages.

A London despatch says the Government will shortly propose a large grant to aid the British section of the St. Louis exhibition.

PUTTING IT STRONG

But Doesn't it Look Reasonable?

This may read as though we were putting it a little strong, because it is generally thought by the majority of people that Dyspepsia in its chronic form is incurable or practically so. But we have long since shown that Dyspepsia is curable, nor is it such a difficult matter as at first appears.

The trouble with Dyspeptics is that they are continually dieting, starving themselves, or going to opposite extreme or else deluging the already over burdened stomach with "bitters," "after-dinner pills," etc., which invariably increase the difficulty even if in some cases they do give a slight temporary relief. Such treatment of the stomach simply makes matters worse. What the stomach wants is a rest. Now how can the stomach become rested, recuperated and at the same time the body nourished and sustained.

This is a great secret and this is also the secret of the uniform success of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. This is a comparatively new remedy, but its success and popularity leaves no doubt as to its merit.

The Tablets will digest the food anyway, regardless of condition of stomach.

The sufferer from Dyspepsia according to directions, is to eat an abundance of good, wholesome food and use the tablets before and after each meal, and the result will be that the food will be digested no matter how bad your Dyspepsia may be, because, as before stated, the tablets will digest the food even if the stomach is wholly inactive. To illustrate our meaning plainly, if you take 1,800 grains of meat, eggs or ordinary food and place it in a temperature of 98 degrees, and put with it one of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, it will digest the meat or eggs almost as perfectly as if the meat was enclosed within the stomach.

The stomach may be ever so weak yet these tablets will perform the work of digestion and the body and brain will be properly nourished and at the same time a radical, lasting cure of Dyspepsia will be made because the much abused stomach will be given, to some extent, a much needed rest. Your druggist will tell you that of all the many remedies advertised to cure Dyspepsia none of them have given so complete and general satisfaction as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and not least in importance in these hard times is the fact that they are also the cheapest and give the most good for the least money. 272 3eod

HAS BOYS' BRIGADE JUST TO SAVE LIFE

English Doctor's Effort to Preserve Boys From 12 to 17.

NOT DRILLED WITH ARMS

But With Instructions and Exercises of Use at Fires, in Perils of Water and in Accidents.

That critical age from 12 to 17 is often the despair of parents and teachers, and the ruin of boys and girls, says Josiah Strong in Social Science.

Keenly appreciating the perils of this age and recognizing the fact that if a boy is to be kept out of mischief, he must be given something to do—something that is worth while, and something that he likes, Dr. John B. Paton, of Nottingham, England, has organized the "Boys' Life Brigade," which promises to go far toward solving the "12 to 17" problem.

Dr. Paton, who is one of the collaborating members of the league, has been for a generation a leader in the movements for social betterment in England, and he is now crowning a long life of exceptional beneficence with renewed efforts in behalf of the youth.

The Boys' Brigade, which seems to have suggested the Boys' Life Brigade, was organized in Glasgow by an English army officer in 1880. It has done, and is still doing, a noble work, especially for hoodlums, reaching man who seemed quite beyond all other saving influences. There are good people, however, who strenuously object to it on the ground that it fosters the military spirit. While I do not sympathise with this criticism, I see no reason why we should not improve on the Boys' Brigade, if possible; and this, it seems to me, Dr. Paton has done in forming an organization which is beyond all criticism on the above score.

As stated in its manual, "The object of the Boys' Life Brigade is the same as that so well expressed as the object of the Boys' Brigade — 'The advancement of Christ's kingdom among boys, and the promotion of habits of obedience, reverence, discipline and self-respect, and of all that tends toward a true Christian manliness.'

"This object is sought chiefly by means of drill, which is not associated with the use of arms, but with instructions and exercises in the saving of life from fire, from drowning and from accident."

Such drill is calculated to impress on the mind the value of human life and the nobility of efforts to save it. This conception becomes ingrained and instinctive, and cultivates a spirit of unselfish daring which is the very essence of heroism.

The first manual is devoted to march drill, which is based on the infantry drill of the British army. This is always attractive to boys, and while it affords healthy exercise and induces an erect carriage, it teaches precision of action, prompt obedience, respect for superiors, consideration for equals, mutual reliance and co-operation.

The second manual affords instruction in gymnastic and stretcher drill, the latter being abridged from the manual of the medical staff corps of the Army.

The third manual teaches how to rescue a drowning person and what measures to take for his resuscitation.

The fourth manual is a guide how to act in case of fire, and is taken in part from the London County Council Manual of Fire Drill.

The instructions given are all of practical value, being based on wide experience, and ought to be known to every one. This knowledge, together with the drill which the boys get, renders them very efficient in emergencies. At such times it is those who know just what to do, who remain cool and self-possessed.

Each company is uniformed. A company of thirty boys should have a chaplain as well as a captain, and two or three lieutenants. The commissioned officers should be young men, and of course of high character, tactful and genial.

Every company is expected to have a company Bible class held on Sunday, and conducted by the captain, aided by the other officers. Every boy is required to attend regularly his company Bible class or some Sunday school; may attend both. This of course, raises the average attendance, and by means of precisely that class which it is hardest to retain.

It is stated that a certain Sunday school in the north of England was in the habit of losing almost all its scholars after they had turned 12 years of age. The average attendance of boys above that age for many years was only five. Twelve months ago a company of the Boys' Life Brigade was formed, and the average attendance for the year has been upward of fifty.

But the supreme value of the organization, I take it, consists not in the fact that it replenishes the Sunday school, nor in that it teaches valuable knowledge, but rather in this, that it skilfully lays hold of the principle of association—so powerful with boys—for the cultivation of altruistic impulses and the formation of habits of service.

The demands of the more complex social organization of the new civilization call for a fuller recognition of others in our daily life. Our relations to others are vastly more numerous, more complex, more vital than formerly. We need a conscience that is more sensitive to the claims of others, a judgment more just in its estimates of others a consciousness more awake to the existence of others and all that that implied, sensibilities more alive to the perils and pains of others. We need to learn how to cooperate with others, to line up with them, to keep step with them, to do the same thing at the same time with reference to a common end.

The drill of the Boys' Life Brigade is well calculated to meet these deep needs, to develop a spirit of co-operation and of helpfulness which will show valuable results in the home, in industry, in the discharge of all civic duties, and if need be in the easy production of an effective citizen soldiery.

Such drill must help to form the type of character described by F. W. Robertson: "Firm, daring, true men, who cannot be put down in the cause of right, who are strong to help others, yet who are at the same time tender, gentle, loving."

STUDENTS DENOUNCE PISTOLS.

They Would Rather Fight Their Duels With Swords.

BERLIN, November 21. — Sixty-seven students' societies, with a membership of 2,300, from the Berlin University, the Technical Institute, and other institutions in this city, held a great meeting last evening in the Philharmonic Hall, against pistol duels between students and officers. The pistol was denounced as a weapon for American trappers and the sword was declared to be preferable, it standing upon a higher moral plane, and being a more chivalrous weapon. The speakers pointed out that the German Emperor had repeatedly advised the officers to practice with swords, and to settle their affairs of honour with that arm, but the officers object on the ground that the sword is not severe enough to wash their stained honour clean.

The meeting finally adopted a resolution asking the Minister of War to give the students' committees an equal voice with the officers' courts of honour in settling difficulties between the students and the officers.

DISTRESS IN ENGLAND.

Continued Cold Weather Adds to the Depression.

LONDON, November 21.—The continuance of cold weather in Great Britain, although it is not yet extremely severe, has already brought distress in many cities. The depression in many trades is causing lack of employment, and the number of persons out of work is considerably above the average. The Salvation Army labour bureau in Whitechapel reports of the daily applicants for work, chiefly mechanics and labourers, average 120. The normal number of applicants in November is from seventy to eighty. The outlook is exercising charity organizations, which fear that there will be much distress during the coming winter. Two thousand persons, principally shoemakers, are out of work in Leicester; 500 persons are idle in Newcastle, and a similar condition of affairs prevail elsewhere.

HALIFAX SENSATION.

Council Engaged in Serious Squabble Over Carnegie's Library Gift.

HALIFAX, November 21. — A sensation was created at the meeting of the City Council last night, when the deputy sheriff served an injunction on Mayor Crosby, as the representative of the city, to prevent him from carrying out the order of the council in refusing to accept $75,000 from Andrew Carnegie for a public library, and also from informing Mr. Carnegie of the council's action. The aldermen who supported the resolution refusing to accept the money have retained a legal firm, and the suit will be heard in the Supreme Court on Tuesday next. The injunction was issued at the instance of Jas. C. Mackintosh, banker, and an interesting legal fight is promised.

OUR TRADE WITH UNITED STATES

Imports Continue to Grow in Spite of Preferential Tariff.

BIG INCREASE SINCE 1896

We Import Sixty-two Million Dollars Worth of Goods More Than Six Years Ago.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

WASHINGTON, November 21.—Canadian imports from the United States continue to grow more rapidly than those from the United Kingdom, despite the legislation of 1897 in favour of products of the United Kingdom. In that year, it will be remembered, the Canadian tariff, laws and regulations, were so adjusted as to give an immediate reduction, beginning with April, 1897, of 12½ per cent. in tariff rates on imports from the United Kingdom, with a further provision that another 12½ per cent. reduction should occur in 1898. In 1900 a still further reduction was made, making the total reduction of tariff rates in favour of merchandise from the United Kingdom 33 1-3 per cent. The official report of the Trade and Navigation of the Dominion of Canada, which has just reached the Treasury Bureau of Statistics, includes a series of tables showing the imports for consumption from the United States, Great Britain and other countries, and the total imports for a long term of years. This shows that in the fiscal year 1896, the one immediately preceding the year in which the reduction of tariff in favour of products from Great Britain began, Canadian imports from Great Britain were $32,979,742, and in 1902, $49,206,062, an increase of $16,226,320. In 1896 the Canadian imports from the United States were $58,574,024, and in 1902, $120,814,750, an increase of $62,240,726.

PERCENTAGE IS GREATER.

Not only do Canadian imports from the United States show a greater actual increase from 1896 to 1902 than do those from the United Kingdom, but the percentage of increase in imports from the United States is also greater than that in imports from the United Kingdom, and the percentage which imports from the United States form of the total imports of Canada is greater in 1902 than it was in 1896, while the percentage which imports from Great Britain form of the total imports of Canada is less in 1902 than it was in 1896. Comparing 1896 with 1902, the actual increase in imports from Great Britain is, as already shown, $16,226,320, and the actual increase in imports from the United States is $62,240,726. Considered by percentages, the imports into Canada from Great Britain show an increase of 53 per cent., while those from the United States show an increase of 107 per cent. since 1896; imports from Great Britain formed in 1896 30 per cent. of the total imports into Canada, and in 1902 24 per cent.; while imports from the United States, which in 1896 formed 52 per cent., formed in 1902 60 per cent. of the total imports into Canada.

AN INTERESTING TABLE.

The following table shows the total imports into Canada for consumption, in each year from 1882 to 1902, the amount from Great Britain, the amount from the United States, and the per cent. which they formed of the total imports in each year from 1882 to 1902:

GOVERNOR-GENERAL GOES TO OTTAWA

Lord Minto Returns to the Capital to Swear in the New Chief Justice.

TEAS AND RECEPTIONS.

Montreal Society is Freely Entertaining Their Excellencies' Eldest Daughter.

His Excellency the Governor-General left for Ottawa this morning, where he attended the swearing-in of Sir Elzear Taschereau as Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Canada, which function took place at noon in the Privy Council chamber, in the presence of a quorum of the Dominion Cabinet. Capt. Hughes, A.D.C., accompanied His Excellency to the Capital. It is expected that the latter will return to Montreal this evening.

This afternoon Her Excellency was the hostess at an informal tea given to about forty of her lady friends.

To-morrow afternoon she will preside at a similar function.

Lady Eileen Elliot was the guest of honour this week at a delightful luncheon given by Mrs. E. S. Clouston, Peel street, when covers were laid for fourteen. The decorations, which were very pretty, were of crimson roses and violets. The guests were Miss Shaughnessy, Miss Porteous, Miss J. Grant, the Misses Hays, Miss Marjory Howard, Miss Margaret Angus, Miss Lily Peterson, Miss Mariel Greenshields and Miss Eileen Hingston.

Lady Eileen Elliot was the guest of honour yesterday at a most enjoyable girls' luncheon, given by Lady Shaughnessy, Dorchester street. Covers were laid for twelve. The decorations, which were very artistic, were American Beauty roses and lilies of the valley.

Lady Lacoste has sent out invitations for a tea on Monday, to meet Lady Eileen Elliot. Both ladies and gentlemen will be present.

A RUN WITH THE HOUNDS.

His Excellency was not lucky enough to get a brush yesterday, when he went out with the Montreal foxhounds. He had a splendid run, however, and the ease with which he sat his horse and took the fences excited the admiration of all who followed. Two foxes were started, and when the last fox was started one of the longest spins on record followed. The hunters took the train again at Pointe Claire for the return trip.

A dinner was given at the St. James Club last night by the members of His Excellency's staff to certain members of the Montreal Hunt. His Excellency honoured the staff by attending the function. Among those present were: Dr. Charles McEachran, master of the Hunt; Messrs. A. Baumgarten, H. Montagu Allan, Hugh Paton and Colin Campbell, past masters; Major Meighen and Messrs. Watson Ogilvie and A. Slaven. The hosts were Major Maude, Capt. Hughes, A.D.C., Capt. Bell, A.D.C., and Mr. Arthur Guise.

GUARANTEE COMPANY MUST PAY $1:013.35 ON COLLECTION ACCOUNT.

Mr. Justice Loranger to-day condemned the Canada Guarantee Company to pay the Province of Quebec a sum of $1013.35, for sums which the late W. H. Ryland, registrar, collected and failed to account for.

The late W. H. Ryland was registrar of Montreal West, under salary, and was bound to account to the treasurer of the province for all sums collected by him. He supplied the province with a guarantee to the extent of $10,000. He died in September, 1900, when it was found that he had collected from the city of Montreal, for searches for change of property and other information, a sum of $1013.35, for which he gave no account to the province. A private memorandum book, showing the amounts thus collected, was found among his effects, and the Attorney General, Hon. Horace Archambault, instructed Mr. J. A. Brouin, attorney for the collection of provincial revenue to institute proceedings to recover the amount.

The Guarantee Company, when called upon to make good the amount of the shortage, pleaded that the services for which Mr. Ryland had collected the amounts were personal services, not provided for in the tariff of registrars.

The court held, however, that the registrar was obliged to account for every amount received, and had to pay to the treasurer every cent he received, with deduction for approved expenditure, and for contingent expenses. The court also pointed out that the charges for searches into the registers were fixed by Order in Council and must therefore be accounted for. As the company had undertaken to protect the province against such contingencies, judgment was given for the amount of collections proved.

Old Resident Dead.

Roderick Hogan, an old resident of Lachine, died suddenly at his home on Saturday morning last.

AFTER MARRIAGE.

Different Living Affects Some People.

"I never drank coffee until after I was married," says a lady from Adairville, Ga.

"My husband drank coffee, and I thought it was nice to drink with him, and we enjoyed it together. After a while I found that my digestive organs were much disturbed, but not knowing the cause I went on drinking coffee and growing more wretched each day.

"In due time, three little girls came to what ought to have been a happy home, but I was nervous and unhappy myself and could not make any one else happy; to my great consternation, two of my little girls had spasms, and I, a nervous wreck, found it impossible to eat anything that did not hurt my stomach.

"I finally concluded I had heart disease, my heart pained me so much after eating, and my head was so dizzy, I often thought I would fall when trying to walk across the room.

"I tried every medicine I heard of, and had different doctors treat me, but with no benefit. I could not sleep half the night, and never slept sound—I would wake out of a frightful dream only to doze and wake again.

"Finally, I read of Postum Food Coffee, and my husband got a package from our grocer; I made some according to directions. I liked its flavour very much, and the first cup seemed to help my stomach. I used it every meal, sometimes making a whole meal on Postum and a bit of bread.

"I improved so fast that I could soon eat anything I wanted. I began to look so much better my friends were surprised, and said I looked as well as when I was first married. I could sleep as sweetly as a child. Of course the children quit coffee and drank Postum, and they all began to fatten and the spasms stopped.

"I wish I could impress it on every weak, nervous person to abandon coffee and use Postum Cereal. If every nervous person could have seen me in my nervous affliction from drinking coffee, and could now see me and my little ones around the table enjoying our Postum, they surely would never indulge in coffee again, for there is no more nervous prostration; no more headaches; no more spasms, and I am able to do my own work and care for my children." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. 76 1

DOMINION COAL CO AND ITS SHIPMENTS

Contract Between This Organization and New England Gas and Coke Co. Broken.

MR. SHIELDS' STATEMENT.

Coal People Found That Bargain Was Disadvantageous to the Canadian Concern.

"All shipments of coal from the Dominion Coal Company to the New England Gas and Coke Company, of Boston, in virtue of the contract entered into some years ago, were stopped to-day, and the contract broken."

Such was the first official statement made to a Star representative to-day by Mr. Cornelius Shields, general manager of the Dominion Coal Company, in the absence from the city of the president of the executive, Mr. James Ross.

Particular interest has been centred for some time past in the negotiations that have been going on between representatives of both companies, to see if some amicable arrangement could not be arrived at by means of which a contract satisfactory to both companies might be completed.

The directors of the Dominion Coal Company, in their conviction that the contract, as far as they were concerned, was only being carried out at a great loss, tried every means that would prevent it from becoming necessary to break the contract. The shareholders of the Gas and Coke Company maintained that the contract was an entirely legal one, and did not think that the directors of their company should permit any modification of the clauses of the contract.

ARRANGED BY MR. WHITNEY.

The contract, which was one of the largest made by the Coal Company in the first years of its existence, was arranged by Mr. H. M. Whitney, of Boston, who, besides being President of the New England Gas and Coke Company, was also President of the Dominion Iron and Steel Company. It was in the latter capacity that he had occasion to do a great deal of business with the Coal Company.

The contract virtually called for the entire output of run of mine coal to be supplied the Coke Company at $1.98 a ton, and the company was to continue to supply a sufficient amount of coal to permit of the running of all the ovens of the Coke Company. While, at the present time, the number of ovens in operation is four hundred, it is intended that this number should be increased till one thousand are in operation.

THE PRINCIPAL REASON.

The main reason why the Coal Company has decided to break the contract, according to Senator Geo. A. Cox, vice-president of the company, is that it was entered into at a time when labour was much cheaper than it is at the present time, and the conditions of the Coal Company such that the contract might prove a good one for a certain length of time.

At the present time, however, a much greater price could be obtained for run of mine coal, and, besides, if the Coke Company were to increase the number of their ovens very rapidly, there would not be sufficient run of mine coal, and in order to carry out the contract, coal would have to be supplied at the same figure.

The result of to-day's action of the directors of the Coal Company in breaking the contract by stopping all shipments of coal will be, it is generally understood that the Gas and Coke Company will take out an action for the damages sustained by the Coal Company adopting such a course.

The general opinion among the shareholders of the Coal Co. is that their directors have decided on the proper course, because no matter what damages the Coke Company could prove it had sustained by the contract being broken, they would not come to anything like the amount the Coal Company would have if it carried out the contract.

EVIDENCE FOR MINERS STRONG

SCRANTON, Pa., November 21. — The examination of Dr. R. H. Gibbons, of Scranton, was resumed when the Anthracite Strike Commission met to-day. He said that the occupation of a miner subjects a man to risks of pleurisy, gout, neuralgia, asthma, bronchitis, sciatica and other diseases. He believed the day will come when men will be required to undergo medical examination before they undertake mining. Children, he said, who have suffered from any form of disease of the respiratory passages or bronchitis or pneumonia, should never be permitted in the mines under the age of 15 years, because they should have a chance for the elimination of the predisposing factor in the so-called miners' asthma.

Dr. Gibbons then described the surface indications of miners' asthma. He said that he did not mean to be understood as saying that miners form an unhealthy class, but they are debilitated and run down. He spoke of the necessity for improved ambulance service at the different collieries.

On cross-examination by James H. Torrie, for the Delaware and Hudson Company, Dr. Gibbons said that he did not believe there was an ambulance in the entire coal regions which had sterile blankets or was sterile itself. "In fact," said the doctor, "they are a bunch of infection. Every ambulance carries death and disease to every unfortunate miner who is placed in it."

MANY ARE INSANE.

Dr. Eugene J. Butler, of the Central Poor Board of Luzerne County, testified that seventy per cent. of those in a poor house in Luzerne County were miners and that forty per cent. were crippled by accidents in and about the mines. Many of these, he said, were insane from worry over their afflictions. A man who works a few years as a miner, he declared, is not fit for anything else.

The Rev. Dr. Roberts was recalled and examined by Dr. Darrow for the mine workers. He reiterated his belief, expressed in his book, that an intelligent and persistent combination among miners for the maintenance of prices and rates of wages would secure for them a just share of the profits.

Answering Commissioner Clark, Dr. Roberts defined the words "Anthracite syndicate" used in his book. He said he reached the conclusion from personal investigation, that there was an understanding among the operators to adjust prices and regulate the trade.

Afer reading extracts from an article in a magazine written supposedly by Dr. Roberts, Mr. Darrow asked what the temper of both parties was during the five months of the strike. Witness replied that it was a condition of war and that both sides were intemperate. When asked what wages a miner should receive to maintain the American standard of living he placed the poverty limit at $575 per annum. The miner and his family would suffer physically, intellectually and mentally upon less than that figure, he asserted.

Off for Portland.

Mr. J. R. Clancey will leave Montreal Sunday and go to Portland to manage Messrs. H. & A. Allan's office during the winter season. He will be accompanied by Mr. H. McCallum. Mr. Clancey has for several years made Portland his home during the winter months.

LEPORE TRIAL NOT YET CONCLUDED

A Verdict Will Not Likely Be Reached Before Saturday Evening

MARCHIONE HANDLED A KNIFE

Evidence to Show That Dead Man Was in a Quarrelsome Mood on Day of His Death.

The trial of Lepore, the Italian, for the murder of Marchione, is dragging slowly along in the Court of King's Bench, and there is now no chance of reaching a verdict before Saturday night.

The only evidence of much interest to-day was the statement of Johania Febotes, who said that she saw Paresi standing in front of Marchione after the row had started, and that he was daring Marchione to assault him. Marchione had a knife in his hand at the time. She saw Marchione come into the house after the stabbing, and he was then very weak, but she could not tell who it was that stabbed him.

Antonia Monteforte, a neighbour, was in the house when the row started, but she knew nothing of the actual stabbing.

The time yesterday afternoon was spent in trying to bring out the relations between the dead man and Maria di Fucci. Mr. Wilson succeeded in having the evidence cut out. The widow gave more testimony as to a row which she had had with her husband on the day of the murder, and she said that there was no doubt that he had been in a quarrelsome mood. Leopoldo Mignacco was among those who were in the house on the fatal night, but he knew nothing of the actual stabbing.

Yesterday afternoon the electric light plant was in bad working order and, for forty minutes the court sat with only candle light.

FELL TO THE RAILS FROM ROOF OF CAR—LIMBS WERE SEVERED

Etien Bisson, 38 years of age, was run over by a Grand Trunk Railway train at St. Johns, Que., at 5 a.m. to-day and now lies at the Notre Dame Hospital in a mangled and, according to Dr. Fleury, the medical superintendent of the institution, in a dying condition. Bisson was walking on the top of the cars when he missed his footing and fell, the wheels passing over him and cutting his legs completely off. He was also bruised and sustained internal injuries. He was brought in to the city on the 7.15 o'clock train and was immediately taken to the hospital. The physicians entertain no hope whatever of his recovery. The unfortunate man lived at 52 Charron street, Point St. Charles. He was a large man with a magnificent physique, and was well known among the railway employes. Mrs. Bisson, the young wife of the injured man, has been at her husband's bedside since morning.

G. T. R. TRAIN STRUCK AND KILLED A FINE DEER—GAME LAWS NOT BROKEN.

While the Grand Trunk train, No. 1, from Portland was speeding on its way from Windsor Mills to Richmond early yesterday morning, an obstruction was encountered on the track. No harm was done to the train, but on going back to see what had been struck the crew found the body of a deer. The carcase was loaded on the baggage car and brought to Montreal, where it was found to weigh 240 pounds. The engineer, Mr. Jos. Gervais, and the conductor, Mr. Fred Ring, were at first somewhat apprehensive lest they might be found to have broken the game law, but investigation revealed that the open season in Quebec extends until the end of the year. Now they are on the lookout for more good luck of the same kind. As the law allows each of them to kill two deer during the season they do not feel afraid of exceeding the limit.

FREIGHT RATES ON CERTAIN CLASSES OF GOODS TO ADVANCE.

An increase in railway freight rates is to be made in the near future. It will not be general, but will be confined to certain classes of freight as to which the railways are now conferring with a view to reaching an agreement. The probabilities are, also, that for the present at least, it will be confined to lines running out of Chicago and that the Montreal district will not be seriously affected. The question of a general increase will come up at a later date, as the railways feel that in view of the advance which has taken place in the cost of labour and the price of materials, an increase of rates cannot much longer be avoided.

HAND IN YOUR LETTERS FACED AND DULY STAMPED, MACHINE DOES THE REST

The postal authorities have opened a wicket in the lobby of the general post office for the reception of letters between 5 p.m. and 6.30 p.m. As this wicket is intended for the convenience of business men, it is expected that they will hand in their packages of letters faced and with the stamps all one way, so that they can be cancelled conveniently on the new cancelling machine. This will facilitate matters very much, and will enable the post office to despatch mail up to the latest possible moment, an arrangement which for important mails will be found very convenient.

LARGE NUMBER OF DEER SHOT IN THE ONTARIO HIGHLANDS

In Ontario the deer hunting season, which extended from November 1st to 15th, is reported to have been unusually successful. In the Muskoka district, in what is known generally as the Highlands of Ontario, the number of hunters is reckoned to have been about 8000. Most of them were residents of Ontario, as the law exacts a fee of $2.00 from residents and $25.00 from non-residents, but despite this discrimination a considerable number of Americans were on hand. The number of deer shipped out is reported to be considerably over 10,000. Game of all kinds is more plentiful in the district than it has been for a number of years.

MR. CHAS. M. HAYS NOW A BANK DIRECTOR.

Mr. Chas. M. Hays, second vice-president and general manager of the Grand Trunk Railway, has accepted a position on the board of directors of the Merchants Bank of Canada. Mr. Hays was askd to take the position some time ago, but has only recently consented to do so. It is probable that he will take his seat at the next meeting of the directors.

Special Notice.

The Angelus is An Aid to the Artist.

There are many piano-playing machines being placed upon the market which lack the power to express life and feeling.

The Angelus is not a mere machine, it is a medium whereby the emotions and passions of the most sensitive natures may be portrayed accurately in music, without any knowledge whatever of the piano keyboard.

GENTILE GOT A HEAVY SENTENCE

Will Put in Much Time For Counterfeiting Coins

DEFENCE WAS VERY WEAK

Moulds Opened in Court and the Spurious Money Dropped Out of Them.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

TORONTO, November 21.—When Joseph Gentile, alias Salvatore Clementic appeared before Magistrate Denison this morning the scowl of yesterday was still on his face, his black hair was still stretching up off the top of his forehead and the collar of his overcoat was still turned up.

"I am ready to go on," said his lawyer, T. C. Robinette, K.C.

"All right," said Mr. Curry. "I'll go on." A box full of the counterfeiter's plant, a stone jar and a bottle were brought into court from the detective office and detective William Davis went into the witness stand. While Davis was telling his story, Gentile regarded him sideways, shaking his head as various objections were produced.

Davis began with his quiet journey through the fruit store at 353 Spadina avenue into the kitchen where he found Gentile hard at work making money. He held up the crucible in which Gentile was boiling his metal on the stove. Davis next took up three plaster of paris moulds which had not before been opened. These moulds were three inches long and nearly as wide and about one inch and a half thick. They were in two parts tied together with string. When Davis took off the string and separated the two of the moulds he disclosed in each of the two two United States fifty cent pieces. The other mould contained an empty bed ready for filling.

The first question asked by Mr. Robinette indicated that the man who got away from the fruit store was to be blamed by the defence as the counterfeiter. Davis said that there was another man who got away.

"I would not know him again. We were after Gentile for counterfeiting in the United States."

Detective Flynn, the United States Federal officer, who, with Detective Joseph Murphy, tracked Gentile from New York, was called. Flynn swore that he had known the Italian since 1895.

"There was nobody in the room with Gentile. The door was locked, the blinds were down and the gas burning."

Mr. Robinette offered no evidence to the defence. He wanted a remand, but this was promptly refused, as he had said he was ready to go on. Then he said Gentile wanted to make a statement from the dock.

He said: "Last week some person came into my store and prayed me to let him stay a week. I granted it. The day after he came back with some things. He asked me to say nothing for a little while and he would tell me what he was going to do. On the same day he began to manufacture the thing. I told him he would have to go somewhere else, and he said he would go on Saturday. On the same day the detectives came, I told him to go. This man went out of the back door as the detectives came in the front. He was not the man in the store."

Davis told His Worship that the back door was locked on the inside.

"There'll be a conviction," said His Worship. The Crown went on then with the charge of making Canadian money. The evidence in this case was the same as in the other. Detective Flynn swore that he had covered the kitchen door while Davis and Murphy were making the arrest, and nobody got out. Flynn was not surprised at not finding the mould for the Canadian money, as moulds when used 25 or 30 times become blurred and are discarded.

George Kirkpatrick, teller in the office of the Receiver-General, swore that the Canadian coins were counterfeit. Mr. Robinette argued that there was no evidence that the Canadian coins were the work of Gentile, and again asked for a remand in order to call some Italian residents as character witness. Mr. Basso, the interpreter, announced that Gentile professed to have a sweetheart to whom he was about to be married. He wanted her and her people called.

On the lesser charge of making foreign coins, Gentile was given the limit of 3 years in penitentiary, and for making Canadian coins he was sentenced to ten years, the two terms to run concurrently.

The Raymond Case.

The investigation in the case of Anson Raymond, keeper of the Raymond House on Wilton avenue, and Elizabeth Raymond, charged with knowingly having William Stewart's counterfeiting plant in their possession, went on before Magistrate Denison this morning.

The prisoners were committed for trial.

FOUNDRY WHISTLES DISTURB THE SLUMBER OF ALD. GALLERY, M.P.

Having succeeded in preventing boats on the canal "making night hideous" by tooting their whistles, Ald. Gallery is now to bring up before the City Council on Monday a proposition to stop the practice of foundries, shops, etc., sounding whistles every morning. It is Ald. Gallery's contention that employes would soon get into the habit of watching their clocks instead of listening for whistles to call them to work. Numerous complaints were being made against the whistle nuisance.

MURDERER ROSE PAYS DEATH PENALTY.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

NELSON, B. C., November 21.—Henry Rose, convicted some time ago of the murder of Charles Cole, last spring, paid the extreme penalty of the law in the gaol yard this morning. Hangman Radcliffe officiated. Efforts were made up to a few days ago to have the sentence commuted, but the Justice Department declined to interfere.

FIRST CLASS WHEAT SCARCE IN UNITED STATES, SAYS MR. ROBT. MEIGHEN.

Mr. Robert Meighen, president of the Lake of the Woods Milling Company, when his attention was called to-day to a despatch from St. Paul, Minn., concerning the action of the Washburn-Crosby Milling Company, in bonding their mill to grind Canadian wheat for export, said: "Their laws permit them to do this, just as our laws permit us to grind American wheat in bond. We do not need to do this, as we have plenty of Canadian wheat to keep our Canadian mills busy. It would seem, however, that the Americans have not a sufficient quantity of A1 hard wheat for to keep their mills going, and have to draw on the Canadian harvest, or close their establishments. To my mind, this action of the American company indicates a shortage this year in the yield of first class wheat in the United States."

EDUCATIONAL LEAGUE IS NOW ORGANIZED

Constitution and By-Laws Adopted at Last Evening's Meeting

WAS HEARTILY ENDORSED

The Mayor Sends a Cheque for $25 and Hon. J. I. Tarte a Letter.

The Educational League met last night at Poire's Hall, corner of Montcalm and St. Catherine streets, and completed its organization.

Ex-Ald. O. Faucher presided, while Mr. J. A. Brisebois, professor at the Normal School, acted as secretary. The constitution was adopted unanimously. It sets forth that the association to be formed shall be known as "La Ligue de L'Enseignement," and its object is to incite individual effort in the province to further the improvement of education. The annual fee for the general public is $1, for teachers 50 cents, while newspaper editors are invited to join the association without charge. The administration of the association will be carried on by a committee of fourteen members, made up of the president, two vice-presidents, recording secretary, corresponding secretary, treasurer and eight councillors. The elections shall take place on the second Monday in May each year, when all the members who have contributed their assessment shall have a right to vote.

Hon. J. Israel Tarte wrote endorsing the action of those who thus encouraged the education movement by keeping it before the public. Mayor Cochrane also wrote and forwarded a cheque for $25 to help the work. He was tendered a vote of thanks.

The first election of officers gave the following result:

President—Mr. O. Faucher.

First Vice-President—Mr. Godfroi Langlois.

Second Vice-President—Dr. Louis Laberge.

Recording Secretary—Mr. J. A. Brisebois.

Corresponding Secretary—Mr. Arthur Beauchesne.

Treasurer—Mr. V. Lamarche, N.P.

Councillors—Messrs. E. Pelissier, Dr. J. Warren, Robert Rocher, J. T. Cardinal, Dr. A. DeMartigny, M. Achille Bergevin, M. J. Fortier, Ald. P. G. Martineau.

Mr. Godfroi Langlois addressed the meeting, and said he wished to quell the fears expressed by a weekly paper in Quebec as to the object of the league. They simply wished to help the authorities now existing by creating a healthy sentiment in favour of more extended educational facilities.

Inspector Lippens spoke at some length and pointed out several means by which such an association as that just formed could be of great assistance in furthering the cause of education.

Messrs. O. E. Dallaire, S. Roy, advocate; J. A. Dumais, professor of elocution, and J. Roch, professor at Sarsfield School, also addressed the members of the league present.

At the next meeting the question of the school commission will be discussed.

A Christmas Publication.

Advance sheets of the Toronto Globe's Christmas number indicate that the edition will be equal to the publications which in the past that paper has issued during the Winter holiday season. It will consist chiefly of the work of Canadian writers and artists; and the advance sheets include some interesting stories, some good verse and some excellent illustrations. One merit of the number is that it does not contain anything to confirm the Lady of the Snows' prejudice against Canada, and copies of it sent abroad will be an excellent advertisement of the country rather than a detriment to it.

Animal Circus at Proctor's.

The announcement of the first attraction to follow the stock company at Proctor's theatre is made by resident Manager Brunelle. It has been decided to have a week of the famous Bostock animal circus which has attracted a good deal of attention in New York. The animals are said by the New York press to be the most wonderful trained creatures that this country has ever seen, and for three months crowds have been entertained by them. The attraction will certainly be a novelty.

Court Fixed the Amount.

J. W. Marks was yesterday condemned by Mr. Justice Davidson to pay a sum of $780.17, with interest from May 16, 1900, and costs of suit, to his mother. She sued on a bon for $1,000 bearing interest at three and a half per cent. Defendant set up accounts for collecting rents and revenues, for eighteen months' board, and offered $491.30, with interest from date of bon. This was not accepted, and the court fixed the amount first above mentioned.

Annual Rummage Sale.

The annual rummage sale of the Old Brewery Mission took place yesterday, and it was availed of by the usual number of patrons who secured warm clothing at a limited expense.

"Shawn Rhu" at the Francais.

"Shaun Rhu" was the offering at the Francais yesterday, and will be played to the end of the week. Mr. Murphy and his company are as much at home in the old play, as if they had never produced anything else. The large audience which greeted the performances both afternoon and evening, alternately laughed and cried with the characters portrayed so faithfully on the stage. Mr. Joseph Murphy, himself, as Larry Donovan, and afterwards "Red John," was as natural and easy as ever, his singing of "The Handful of Earth" in the graveyard scene on his mother's grave, was up to his usual standard, and caused the shedding of many tears. Miss Lillian Morris, as "Little Tim," gave a bright interpretation of a clever part, while Miss Mary Firmier and Miss Inez Barlow made excellent Irish colleens. The other members of the company were good.

JOHNSTON STILL STUBBORNLY REFUSES TO GIVE TESTIMONY.

The Carlin Conspiracy Case Grows in Interest—Detectives Repeat Testimony.

The enquete in the case of Patrick Carlin who, as a Canadian Pacific conductor, is charged with conspiring to defraud the company, was continued yesterday afternoon before Judge Desnoyers. Herbert G. Johnston, the convicted conspirator, was again brought from the cells and asked if he had decided to give his testimony. He answered in the negative and was sent back to prison to once more think it over. Johnston was recommended by the jury to the mercy of the court.

The important portion of yesterday's enquete were the statements of the Thiel Detective Service men, whose testimony convicted Johnston. There were three of them Edmund Willson, John H. Parkin and Fred Robertson. All three repeated their testimony as given during the Johnston trial, which, in effect, was that they had traced Johnston direct to Carlin in many ways. Their testimony was clear and was not shaken in the least by the cross questioning of Mr. Quinn for the defence.

Mrs. Johnston is still very ill and it is quite possible that a commission will be appointed to go to her house and take her evidence.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY COMPLAINS OF QUALITY OF PAVEMENT.

At a brief meeting of the Road Committee yesterday afternoon a complaint was made that the new paving in front of the G.T.R. offices, on McGill street, was not considered very satisfactory by the Grand Trunk authorities. Some of the asphalt blocks had become loose.

The City Surveyor explained that while a few blocks might have become loose the work, generally, was satisfactory. It was decided to have the new pavement inspected and report made upon it.

"LITERARY ACQUAINTANCES."

Dr. Frechette Reads An Interesting Paper Before Allianco Francais.

Dr. Louis Frechette delivered an interesting lecture in the Karn Hall last night to the members of the Alliance Francais, on the subject of "My Literary Acquaintances." Half an hour's conversation with Francois Coppee or Victor Sardou, or Victor Hugo, or the younger Dumas, could not be anything but entertaining, and Dr. Frechette convinced the large audience that to a Canadian they were rare friends to know. Pen pictures were drawn of these and other celebrities.

Roofer Killed by a Fall.

Francois Beauchamp, a roofer, 68 years of age, of 398 St. Timothee street, was killed yesterday afternoon as a result of falling from the roof of a three-story building at the corner of St. Genevieve and Lagauchetiere streets, where he was doing some repair work. When picked up he was unconscious, and the ambulance from the General Hospital was called and he was taken to that institution. He died two hours after entering the hospital, without having regained consciousness. He sustained a fracture of the skull, a broken collar bone, and severe internal injuries.

Vincenzo to Stand Trial.

Vincenzo, the Italian charged with obtaining money under false pretences from several of his countrymen, was, yesterday afternoon, committed to stand his trial at the next term of the Court of King's Bench. Vincenzo is the man who is alleged to have arranged with three men to get them to New York and they paid him $20.60 each. Then he bought tickets only as far as Burlington.

Proposed for Membership.

Mr. John Hyde, of the Merchants Bank Building, has been proposed for membership on the Board of Trade by Mr. Alex. McFee, and Mr. E. S. Miller, of the Imperial Life Insurance Company, has been proposed by Mr. E. W. Wilson.

Sent to Verdun.

A man whose name is supposed to be James Steele and believed to have come from the United States, has been sent to Verdun Asylum by the police, as there is no doubt that he is insane.

The Behring Sea Award.

THE HAGUE, November 21. — The award of Councillor Asser, the arbitrator in the matter of the Russia-American Behring sea fisheries question, will, it is now announced, be made public next Saturday.

BANK WILL INCREASE ITS CAPITAL STOCK

Bank of Montreal Shareholders Will Consider Important Question.

WILL SUB-DIVIDE SHARES

It is Proposed to Increase Capital to $15,000,000 and Change Day of Annual Meeting.

It was announced some days ago that the managers of the Bank of Montreal were discussing the advisability of increasing the capital of the bank, the sum of $3,000,000 being mentioned as the probable increase.

It is now announced that a meeting of shareholders has been called for the seventh of January when three propositions will be submitted for approval.

The first is to consider a by-law, authorizing the increase of the capital stock of the Bank, by such amount as may be determined, possibly by $3,000,000, which would make the capital $15,000,000.

The second proposal is that the date of the annual meeting of the Bank (the first Monday in the month of June in each year), be changed to the first Monday of December in each year.

The third proposal is that the directors shall be authorized to apply to Parliament for legislation sub-dividing the existing shares of the capital stock of the bank, which are $200 each, into shares of the par value of $100 each.

ST. GILES' CHURCH BAZAAR OPENED BY THE MAYOR.

The bazaar in aid of St. Giles' Presbyterian Church, which is being held in the lecture hall of All Saints' Church, corner of Marie Anne and St. Denis streets, was formally opened last evening by His Worship Mayor Cochrane.

The hall in which the sale of work is being held is tastily decorated, and it was filled to its utmost capacity last evening, and articles sold very well indeed. The various departments are in charge of the ladies of St. Giles' Church, as follows: Housekeepers' table, Mrs. Hyde; candy table, Mrs. Ryan; ice cream, Mrs. Tylee; fancy goods, Mrs. Walsh, bag table and useful articles, Mrs. McFee; flower table, Mrs. Mackie; handkerchiefs, the young ladies of the choir; refreshments, Mrs. White. Messrs. Willis and Company have kindly placed a piano in the hall, and various selections were rendered on it last evening by the different pianists present, which added much to the enjoyment of the evening. The sale of work will be continued this afternoon and evening, as well as Saturday afternoon and evening.

BIG POWER AT NIAGARA.

The Development of One Hundred Thousand Horse Power Tested.

NIAGARA FALLS, November 21.—Ever since power house No. 2 of the Niagara Falls Power Company was commenced, the question as to the effect of passing 100,000 horse power through the main tunnel has been the subject of discussion and computation. Now that units 11, 12 and 13 of 5,000 h. p. each have been completed in power house No. 2, and units 14, 15 and 16 have been so far completed that water could be passed through the wheel cases without the wheels, it was decided to make a practical test of passing the full quantity of water to be used in power house No. 2 through the tunnel, in addition to the full operation of power house No. 1, and of the paper mill. This was done Wednesday, commencing about 10 o'clock, and closing at 5.15 p.m., during which time a variety of hydraulic experiments were conducted to the end above referred to. At one time the paper mill, using 8,000 horse power, was, by the kindness of the company, shut down completely, so that the effect of this additional power could be observed. The results of the tests are said to have been entirely satisfactory, the tunnel discharging all the water used in a development of 100,000 horse power. The effect upon the lower river by the doubling of the discharge through the tunnel was noted. The increased current impinged with considerable force upon the Canadian side, dividing the foam carried by the surface current, so that part of it passed up stream and part down. It is believed that this will aid rather than deter the formation of ice bridges by keeping the floating ice well up stream.

RICH CARGO OF SILK.

Canadian Pacific Bringing Valuable Train Load Eastward.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

OGDENSBURG, N. Y., November 21.—A despatch from Winnipeg, Manitoba, says that the richest cargo of silk ever carried over the Canadian Pacific Railroad, will be ferried across the St. Lawrence to this point within a few days, it having passed through Winnipeg on Wednesday. The train consists of thirteen cars loaded with silk from the Orient for Boston, New York and European points. The total value is estimated at nine million seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

Death Due to Indigestion.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

QUEBEC, November 21.—A letter from a lumber camp in the vicinity of St. Simon records a sudden death there under rather dramatic circumstances. A young man named Brien, after eating a hearty supper recently, went to bed as usual with his sleeping companion. When the latter woke up in the morning he found his bed mate cold in death. The unfortunate youth had succumbed to congestion of the lungs caused by indigestion.

Smallpox in Beauce.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

QUEBEC, November 21.—The last news from Beauce is to the effect that the smallpox is spreading rapidly there, especially in the parishes of St. Joseph, St. George, St. Benoit, St. Victoire, and St. Ephrem. There are also a number of cases at Ste. Anne de la Pocatiere, including four at the college, the latter having been removed, so that the institution is now free of the disease.

Committed Suicide at St. Paul.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

QUEBEC, November 21.—A servant girl in town, named Bedard, whose family belongs to Bellechasse, received a letter yesterday informing her that one of her brothers, only twenty years of age, had committed suicide in St. Paul, Minn., by shooting himself in the head, because his love had not been reciprocated by the object of his affections.

Hunter Shot Through Head.

ALLEGAN, Mich., November 21.—The body of George Myers, of Cheshire township, was brought here yesterday. A party of four were hunting eight miles north of Newberry when one of the party, Galbraith, of Lalota, took him for a deer and shot him through the head. Myers was 59 years old. He leaves two boys and three girls and was a prosperous farmer.

Lehigh Valley Railway Presidency.

PHILADELPHIA, November 21. — At the offices of the Lehigh Valley Railway Company in this city, it was stated yesterday that a successor to President Walter would not be elected until the annual meeting of the company on January 30. President Thomas, of the Erie Company, who is chairman of the executive committee of the Lehigh Valley Company, will act in the capacity of president until the new head of the Lehigh Valley is chosen.

FIERCE BLAZE AT OTTAWA LAST NIGHT.

Premises of George Orme and Son Gutted by Fire—Loss Covered By Insurance.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

OTTAWA, November 21. — In three quarters of an hour last evening the premises of Messrs. George Orme and Son and their immense stock of musical instruments were destroyed by fire. The fire broke out in the basement, originating in a basket of waste paper some feet away from the furnace, being carried by the draft to the elevator shaft and thence to the top of the building where the factory was situated.

The building was a supposedly fire proof one, and it is a curious fact that the floor immediately above the store was left intact, whilst the store and the two upper floors were gutted. The building was lined with beautifully grained oil hard wood and this burnt fiercely, the whole building apparently being on fire immediately.

The structure was almost new and was erected at a cost of $30,000, whilst the stock was valued at over $100,000. The whole is well covered with insurance. At one time it was feared that the fire would extend to the Orme Hall at the rear to the Mounted Police stores, where $40,000 worth of clothing has recently been placed and to the adjoining buildings on Sparks street, but Chief Prevost and his brigade worked well and succeeded by hard fighting in confining the fire to the original building.

UNITED STATES AND NEWFOUNDLAND.

Opposition to Bond-Hay Agreement May be Strong Enough to Kill it.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

WASHINGTON, D. C. November 21.—The Massachusetts and Maine fishing interests are lining up to make a fight against the ratification of the new commercial treaty with Newfoundland, just successfully negotiated by Secretary of State Hay and Sir Robert Bond.

It is known that Senators Lodge and Hoar, of Massachusetts, will make a fight against the treaty and inasmuch as Senator Lodge is himself a member of the Senate Committee on foreign relations, he is in a position to aid greatly in determining the fate of the treaty.

The senators from the State of Maine have also indicated their opposition to the treaty, so that it runs a chance of being killed.

COUNTERFEIT MONEY WAS WELL MADE.

TORONTO, November 21.—G. W. Sinclair, an expert in engraving connected with the British North American Bank Note Company, of New York, arrived in Toronto and called on Inspector Stark. He inspected the various samples of the counterfeit bills found in the possession of old Wm. Stewart. This money consists of two kinds; one fairly well executed, calculated to deceive any but a careful observer; the other, a very dangerous counterfeit, one that no one would suspect. These came from two sources. Stewart made the inferior lot and some one else the other one.

Mutiny on a Gunboat.

WASHINGTON, November 21.—The Islet De Luzon, one of the Spanish gunboats captured at Manila by Admiral Dewey is en route to New York with forty-eight of her men in irons. The vessel, which has been doing guard duty in the Philippines for about three years, started recently for New York, proceeding from Manila via Singapore. Advices received indicate that on the trip to Singapore some of the machinery worked badly, creating a panic among the crew, and causing a mutiny.

Pacific Cable Taken Over.

VICTORIA, B. C., November 21.—Mr. Dearlove, who has been conducting a test of the Pacific cable at Bamfield station, is here on his way to London. He found the cable entirely satisfactory and has formally taken it over for the cable board from the construction company. A speed of 110 letters a minute was obtained which is ten per cent. higher than expected.

Chamber of Commerce Delegates.

CARRIE NATION'S LITTLE HATCHET

Caused a Scene at New York's Fashionable Horse Show.

DENOUNCED THE DRESSES

Harrangued the Crowd and Then Attempted to Crack a Bottle of Wine.

NEW YORK, November 21.—Mrs. Carrie Nation broke loose at the Horse Show yesterday afternoon. She harrangued the multitude on the evils of over-dress, attempted to break a bottle of champagne and finally was ejected from the building by the police.

Mrs. Nation entered the garden quietly and took a seat in the tier. She had been there only a few minutes when her gaze rested on the box where some of the Vanderbilt family were sitting. She studied her programme, and then descended to the promenade. Stationing herself in front of the Vanderbilt box she delivered a tirade on over-dress. In the box were seated Mrs. Alfred G. Vanderbilt, Reginald Vanderbilt and Miss Neilson; Alfred G. Vanderbilt was leaning against the rail of the promenade and did not see Mrs. Nation approaching.

"You ought to be ashamed of yourselves," the woman screamed at them, "you ought to be ashamed to wear such disgraceful clothing. Take them off, take them off at once, and attire yourselves more modestly."

Alfred G. Vanderbilt hastily left his position at the railing and came over to where Mrs. Nation was standing wiping her forehead with a handkerchief. He whispered something in her ear, and pushed her away.

ATTRACTED A CROWD.

The outburst of the woman attracted a great crowd of people, and the occupants of the Vanderbilt box were evidently much embarrassed. Mrs. Nation then turned her attention to other boxes. Finally, she started for the cafe, where she bore down on a party of gentlemen who were drinking wine. Mrs. Nation seized the bottle and glaring at the men shouted: "Young men, don't drink such filthy stuff. You are going straight to hell. Where is the man who sells this damnable stuff? Show him to me, and I will tell him what I think of him."

Mrs. Nation's request was speedily granted by the sudden appearance of M. Villepigue, the caterer of the Garden.

"Get out of this horrible business," she shouted at him. "You are also going to hell, and ruining the bodies and souls of men. You are dragging them down with you. Shame on you, shame on you."

The proprietor, however, pounced upon Mrs. Nation, and rescued the bottle which she had repeatedly brandished in the air to emphasize her remarks. The police forced her out of the building. As Mrs. Nation's skirts disappeared, a couple of hundred men gathered in the lobby and sang "Good morning, Carrie," and the crowd outside took up the refrain.

PRICE LIST MAKES CONTRACT.

An Interesting Point Decided by Judge Morson.

TORONTO, November 21. — Yesterday Judge Morson handed down a written judgment in a case tried by him in the Divisional Court. The E. W. Gillett Company, of this city, sued W. H. Gillard and Co., of Hamilton, to get $19.84, balance on a yeast bill, having sent the usual circular of prices. These prices, the defence maintained, were raised, or, rather, the price of the yeast, the only line of Gillett's goods bought by Gillard, was raised, because that was the only line bought by the Hamilton firm. The Toronto firm denied this, and relied upon its published catalogue of prices, which has a clause stating that prices are "subject to change without notice." The judge said: "There is no question but that any vendor can sell at what price he pleases, and can change these prices from time to time as he sees fit; but this he cannot do if he has fixed his prices by contract with his customers. In this case the sending of the price list was an offer to sell the yeast at the prices mentioned in it; and the ordering of yeast by the defendants was an acceptance of that offer, and that constituted a contract at prices quoted; and the shipping of the yeast must be taken as having been done under this contract, which fixed the price and which price the plaintiffs, therefore, could not change as they sought to do. The plaintiffs can charge the defendants only the price quoted in the wholesale list; which the defendants paid before action, and the plaintiff cannot recover the increased price claim, which is $19.16. I find judgment for the defendants, with costs."

WAS SHOT IN THE BACK.

Colorado Mine Manager Victim of Unknown Man.

DENVER, Colo., November 21.—Four surgeons hurried from this city yesterday to Telluride, Colo., by special train to attend Arthur L. Collins, general manager of the Smuggler-Union Mining Company, who was shot Wednesday night by an unknown assassin. Mr. Collins was playing cards with friends in the library of the company's office building at Pandora, when a charge of buckshot was fired through the window into his back. The man who fired the shot escaped. Mr. Collins, it is reported, has only a bare fighting chance for life. Buckshot penetrated his kidneys, stomach and lungs, but these have been removed. What news of the shooting reached Denver, Benj. B. Lawrence, of Boston, Mass., president of the Smuggler-Union Company, chartered a special train to take him, Mrs. Collins, and the surgeons to Telluride. Mr. Collins is president of the Colorado Mine Owners' and Managers' Association. He was manager of the Smuggler-Union mine during the strike of 1901, when a riot occurred in which several men were killed. He is an Englishman.

Murdered in the Woods.

ALPENA, Mich., November 21.—John Watson, aged 27, of Standish, is the latest addition to the list of dead hunters for the season and it looks as if he was deliberately murdered. He was standing on a stump about three feet above the ground in Long Rapids township when his companion noticed another hunter raise his gun, take deliberate aim and fire at Watson. The bullet struck him in the head, causing instant death. The stranger then took to his heels and fording the Thunder Bay River disappeared from view.

NICODENA GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER.

Sentenced to Ten Years in Dannemora Prison.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

OGDENSBURG, N.Y., Nov. 21.—The jury brought in a verdict of guilty of manslaughter in the third degree, in the case of Speratti Nicodena at Canton yesterday afternoon and he was sentenced to ten years at hard labour in Dannemora prison, by Judge Houghton. The prisoner's story of the killing was that early in the morning he and Sincolfi had a quarrel in which the latter drew a razor and threatened to kill him. He knocked Sincolfi down in the fight and becoming frightened ran down the track toward the station and told two other Italians what had occurred and they told him not to be afraid. He asked them to set out his dinner pail for him and he later got it and went toward Tupper Lake. In coming back from toward the shanty, he saw Sincolfi with a rifle which was loaded and he went in and grappled with Sincolfi for the gun and being afraid he would be killed, he grabbed up a stick of hard wood and struck Sincolfi over the head. Sincolfi dropped to the floor.

BRANDY PEACHES.

W. W., Sarnia, Ont.—Here is a recipe for brandy peaches: Let the peaches be white and sound; rub with a cloth to remove their down; prick the surfaces and lay them in cold water; drain this off and place them in a basin, covering with fresh cold water, into which has been added a small piece of alum; set the basin on the fire, and as soon as the liquid begins to heat, stir the fruits about from time to time, and when they float on top of the liquid remove and throw them again into cold water. Drain and arrange them in one-quart glass jars, having a quarter of a vanilla stick in each, and cover with good white brandy. Close the bottles hermetically and stand them in a cool place to leave for fifteen days, and then drain off the brandy into a basin; add sugar to it, allowing three pounds for each gallon; stir well to melt the sugar; then pour this liquor over the peaches; cork the jars so that no air whatever can enter and lay aside in a cool place.

WILLOW-PATTERN CHINA.

Liverpool.—The willow pattern on china is one that has been largely used by English potters, who adopted it from the Chinese decorators. The patterning is familiar to those people. To the right is a lord'y mandarin's country seat, two storeys high, to show the rank and wealth of the possessor. In the background is an orange tree, and in the foreground a pavilion, to the right of which is a peach tree in full bearing. The estate is enclosed by an elegant wooden fence. At one end of the bridge is the famous willow tree, and at the other the gardener's cottage, one story high, and so humble that the grounds are wholly uncultivated, the only green thing being a small fir tree at the back. At the top of the pattern, on the left-hand side, is an island, with a cottage; the grounds are highly cultivated, and much has been reclaimed from the water. The two birds shown are turtle doves. The three figures on the bridge are the mandarin's daughter, with a distaff, nearest the cottage, the lover, with a box, in the middle, and nearest the willow tree, the mandarin with a whip. The tradition on which the pattern is founded is a most romantic one. The mandarin had an only daughter, named Li-chi, who fell in love with Chang, a young man who lived in the island home represented at the top of the pattern, and who had been her father's secretary. The father overheard them one day making vows of love under the orange tree, and sternly forbade the unequal match; but the lovers contrived to elope, lay concealed for a while in the gardener's cottage, and thence made their escape in a boat to the young lover's island home. The enraged mandarin pursued them with a whip, and would have beaten them to death had not the gods rewarded their fidelity by changing them into turtle doves. The picture is called the willow pattern, not only because it is a tale of disastrous love but because the elopement occurred "when the willow begins to shed its leaves."

MATCHES AND GUNPOWDER.

Austrian.—A Mr. Desorme made a lucifer match in Paris in 1816, but the first attempt to introduce matches as a commercial commodity was made by a Mr. Joseph Walker, a druggist of Stockton-on-Tees, England, in 1827. They were sold at the rate of 84 for a shilling. The first making of gunpowder is lost in antiquity. It is known that something very similar to modern gunpowder was used by the Chinese years before the Christian era. The first record in modern history of gunpowder was in the seventh century, when it was used by the Byzantine Emperors in the defence of Constantinople against the Saracens.

"THE ORNAMENTAL NUTMEG."

A wooden nutmeg,—a pictured peach,—or a shoddy shoe,—may be so finished as to rank with "Works of Art."

But all three are strictly ornamental!

They are made to sell—not made to use. Reliable leather would be wasted in shoes with such a purpose.

The Slater shoe has wear for its first purpose, and so uses such leather for its uppers and soles, as will ensure creditable service.

It is a "Conscience Shoe," and the Makers could not shirk responsibility,—since every pair is sold with their own valuation, stamped on the soles in a slate frame, viz. $3.50 and $5.00.

STRONG FEELING IN STOCK MARKET

Dominion Coal Only Notable Exception to General Trend.

CANADIAN PACIFIC STRONG

The Recovery in That Stock Had a Beneficial Effect on the Rest of the Market.

The correspondents of the Montreal Star in Wall Street and on the Chicago Board of Trade report that stocks were strong, while wheat was easier. In the local market stocks were strong. Sales on the New York Stock Exchange yesterday were 766,089 shares.

The improved feeling in the local stock market continued in evidence again to-day and a few prices were advanced moderately. The market is at present getting its inspiration from Wall Street, just as it acted heavily when that market was in a gloomier condition than it is to-day. The Manhattan incident has had the effect of bracing things up in general in New York, and some stocks acquired quite a bullish look in consequence.

There is no reason to rejoice, however, over any decided change in the actual conditions governing the local market. There is no improvement, as money is as tight as it ever was, and at least one bank has called several brokers for funds within the last day or two. The consequence is that observers are pessimistic regarding the staying powers of the better feeling and look for a set-back as soon as Wall Street affords the bears an opening for an attack.

Besides that there comes a letter from a leading brokerage house in Toronto taking a very gloomy view of the situation affecting Canadian stocks. The letter expresses the conviction that there must yet be considerable more liquidation in a number of the leading speculative features of the market before a permanently better tone can be secured. There are those who believe the liquidation has run its course, but divergent opinions are always to be secured, and, in fact, they are what make the market.

The improvement in Canadian Pacific in Wall Street along with the rest of the market has had an immense influence on the rest of the local list. That stock is one of the great levers here. In Wall Street to-day it opened at 128⅝, and by noon had touched 130. In the local market trading commenced at 129, compared with 129¼ at the close yesterday, and reached 129⅞ in its upward course by the time the gong sounded at noon.

Detroit United attracted a fair number of buyers, thus strengthening the price to 87⅜, compared with 86¾ yesterday. Toronto Rails advanced a half to 116, and Twin City rose to 115½ against 114¾ yesterday at the close. Dominion Iron was stronger at 54½ to 55, and the bonds were active at 88¾ to 89. Ogilvie Mills preferred sold at 133. Yesterday a transaction was recorded at 125. A broken lot of Lake of the Woods Milling sold at 175. The highest heretofore was 170.

The only notable exception to the general strength was Dominion Coal, which sold at 126, a decline of 1¾ from yesterday's last sale, and two points lower than the highest of yesterday. The company's month's notice to the New England Gas and Coke Company of the cessation of shipments of coal on the old contract claimed to be voided by the receivership in the case of the New England Company, becomes effective to-day, and it is claimed the Dominion Company will make good its threat failing a new agreement. A Boston broker stated the other day that such an outcome would mean a break in coal to 100. The market was consequently a little nervous this morning, but there was no pressure to sell.

The earnings of the Montreal Street Railway Company for October, while showing good increases, were offset by a large increase in the operating expenses, as will be seen by the following statement:

| | 1902. | 1901. | Increase. Amount. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Passenger earnings | $179,432.86 | $161,174.56 | $15,258.30 |
| Miscellaneous earnings | 1,972.77 | 1,886.08 | 86.69 |
| Total earnings | 181,405.63 | 166,060.64 | 15,344.99 |
| Operating expenses | 96,418.92 | 85,210.49 | 11,208.43 |
| Net earnings | 84,986.71 | 80,850.15 | 4,136.56 |
| Fixed charges | 15,991.62 | 15,383.84 | 607.78 |
| Surplus | 68,995.09 | 65,466.31 | 3,528.78 |
| Expenses per cent. of car earnings | 53.74 | 51.90 | 1.84 |

Interest on M. P. and I. Ry. Co.'s bonds owned by this company not included.

The Montreal Clearing House returns of bank clearings to-day were $3,386,765.

Messrs. J. S. Bache & Co., New York, send the following Wall Street advices through their local manager, Mr. C. D. Monk:

Americans in London irregular within fractional range. Good bank statement expected to-morrow. Some very large local gains in cash, and liquidation of last Friday expected to be fully reflected. Firmer foreign exchange market offset by advance in sterling in Paris. Raw sugars further advanced 1-16c late yesterday. Herald states positively that control of Manhattan has passed from Gould and Sage hands to syndicate operating Inter-Borough Rapid Transit Co. Trade expects further advance in price of refined sugar soon. Time money slightly more plentiful. Mexican Central insiders confident Mexico will go on gold basis. Thirty-eight roads second week November show average gross inc., 7.80 per cent. Demand for B. R. T., Atch., Can. Pac., and S. P. in loan crowd. Bankers say immediate shipments of gold improbable. American Loco. has more orders on its books than at any time in its history. U. S. Steel officials say coke situation worse than ever. Generally conceded C. F. I. has passed through Hawley-Gould hands.

J. B. Picken & Co., stock and exchange brokers, received the following New York advices over their private wire:

Affected by the advance in special issues, the general list is rather strong. With few exceptions prices show gains from 1-2 to 3 per cent. The features this morning were St. Paul, Copper and specialties, such as Toledo's, although now the advance is extending throughout the entire list, and Gould issues. B. & O. and Atchison are almost buoyant. The tractions failed to attract so much interest this morning, and that group was irregular. There was but little to account for the improved tone, save that with little prompting shorts flocked to cover. The probabilities of the bank statement have as yet not been taken into consideration. Exchange, 4.87.15.

Messrs. Burnett & Co., stock brokers, today received the following New York advices over their private wire:

Iron and Steel Companies operating in the South are enjoying their share of remarkable prosperity in iron, steel and coal business. Sloss-Sheffield Co. will break all records during coming year so far as earnings are concerned. The treasury statement shows bank lost $936,000 since Friday.

New York market letter of Marler & Hodgson, from Ladenburg, Thalman & Co.:

There is a slightly easier tone in the time money market, and it has been reflected in our market this morning. There is more of a bull snap to the trading than for some time, although there is as yet very little commission business doing. Manhattan and St. Paul were the features in the trading. The former opened strong, and advanced sharply until a selling order of 10,000 shares was put on the market by Halstead & Babcock, when the price broke sharply. Brooklyn Rapid Transit has been dull.

A STRONG FEELING IN WALL STREET.

Manhattan and Other Railway Stocks Were Features of the Market—Interurban Up 10 Points.

NEW YORK, November 21.—Wall street to-day discussed with great interest the current reports that the Inter-Borough Rapid Transit Company, which is to operate the subway lines, has obtained control of the Manhattan Elevated Company. No official confirmation or denial of the rumours was made, and no person in authority in either of those corporations would be quoted concerning the alleged deal.

Manhattan stock sold as high as 154 1-2, and as low as 149 7-8 on the Stock Exchange during the morning session. The demand for the stock was comparatively light. The feature of the "Curb" market was the bidding for stock of the Inter-Borough Company, both the full paid and the 40 per cent. paid. Offerings were meagre, however, and in the first hour only one sale was reported, the price being 120, an advance of ten points over yesterday's close.

The stock market opened with some show of hesitation, most of the leading active stocks showing fractional variations either way from yesterday's final prices. Interest centred largely in Manhattan, which opened on purchases of 5,000 shares at from 153 to 153 1-2, and immediately ran up to 154 1-2, compared with 152 1-2 last night. Metropolitan Street Ry. and Brooklyn Transit fell nearly a point each.

The advance went further here and there, notably in St. Paul, which advanced 3 1-4 in all to 176 5-8. Manhattan meanwhile broke to 149 7-8. The somewhat circumstantial reports of its lease to the Inter-Borough Rapid Transit Company forced large realizing sales on the market. The stock of the latter company, which is dealt in in the curb market, jumped 10 points in consequence of the reports. Profit taking sales, coupled with the steady selling of Manhattan, then caused a reaction in prices all around, but at noon the market was rising again. The bond market was more active and higher.

Montreal Mining Exchange.

Can. Gold Fields, 1,800 at 3 1-4.

War Eagle, 2,000 at 18 1-2.

STREET GOSSIP AND STOCK EXCHANGE ECHOES.

STAR OFFICE, Friday, November 21.

Several incidents have occurred recently in connection with the trading in the local stock market to lead to the impression that liquidation has run its course, and that the market, if left to its own resources, would quickly go to a higher price level. The improvement has been going on so slowly as to be almost imperceptible from day to day, but recoveries from the low level have been very fair. Richelieu, for instance, has recovered from 93 to 97⅞ within a few days, and Detroit United has improved from 83 to 86⅝. Montreal Street sold at 271½ not many days ago, and yesterday it was bought ten points higher. Canadian Pacific is still fluctuating below 130 on account of the unsettled conditions in Wall Street, while Dominion Iron and Steel is still influenced by similar conditions in the Boston market. Professionals look for another shake-out before another of the periodical booms in that stock is undertaken. Such stocks as Toronto Rails, Twin City and Montreal Power have also shown some improvement, and evidence a disposition to stiffen as to price upon any enquiry.

It is now asserted in stock brokerage circles in Boston that the Dominion Iron and Steel Company has turned the corner financially and is now showing good earnings. Leaving out the Government bounty, the showing of net earnings for October was not very large, but everything possible was charged in against the net earnings. It is believed from now on that the net results will be more satisfactory to stockholders. The October output from three furnaces amounted to 18,000 tons of pig iron and 14,700 tons of steel. This is an increase over the production of the previous month of 2,800 tons of steel and 1,000 tons of pig iron from the same number of furnaces. With all furnaces in operation the company should be able to produce 24,000 tons of pig iron and 20,000 tons of steel per month.

The Dominion Coal Co. is making a handsome showing of earnings for the Dominion Iron and Steel Co. above the 8 per cent. guarantee on the $20,000,000 of Coal Co. stock. It is estimated that the excess earnings of the Coal Co. above the 8 per cent. guarantee will amount to fully $1,000,000 for the year to end with February, and this would amount to 5 per cent. for the $20,000,000 of Dominion Steel common stock. This Coal Co. surplus alone assures the payment of 7 per cent. dividends on the $5,000,000 Dominion Steel preferred stock, and leaves a balance of 3¼ per cent. for the common stock. The suspension of shipments of 50,000 tons of coal per month to the New England Gas and Coke Co. might make a considerable difference in the above estimates, says the Boston News Bureau.

At an earlier and more acute stage of the money stringency in New York private funds appeared on the loan market in large amounts. That was when call interest rates were ranging from 10 to 25 per cent. It was not uncommon then for a commission house to receive from a rich client somewhere a telegram reading like this: "Can you employ 250 money on call?" By "250 money" was meant $250,000. In Wall Street it is customary to omit the thousands in speaking of money, especially in large loan transactions. In renewing call loans by telephone the loan clerk of a commission house says to the loan clerk of a bank, "Renew 50," or "Renew 500," meaning $50,000 or $500,000. The adoption of this form of professional abbreviation by persons offering their private funds in the market illustrates how the vernacular of Wall Street has spread. It is said that most of the private money loaned on call here a month or more ago has been withdrawn, and is now employed in the West, where interest rates for several weeks have been averaging higher than in Wall Street. A higher range of call interest rates here would be likely to bring it back.

It is said in behalf of Wall Street banking interests that the money market has been misrepresented in a manner calculated to arouse unnecessary apprehension. A prominent money broker said that there is all the 30-day money anybody could want at 6 per cent. As for 60-day money there is nothing doing in it at 6 per cent. bid and 7 per cent. asked, because the banks at this period of the year are unwilling for obvious reasons to loan money for sixty days at less than 7 per cent., while stockbrokers are equally unwilling to pay more than 6 per cent. There is nothing unusual in the situation, this money broker says, and, if anything, conditions are easier than they commonly are around the middle of November. There is no occasion, this authority thinks, for the apprehensive talk that has been going around. In former years 60-day money at this period commanded much higher premiums than have been obtained lately and no fuss was made about it. It is alleged that the high prices paid for money by borrowers on inferior collateral have been unduly expatiated on.

Wall Street authorities whose predictions on foreign exchange hitherto this autumn have been borne out by events now expect that the initial shipment of gold will occur about the middle of next week. Signs have been pointing that way for several days, but it was not until yesterday that they became tangible enough to warrant a prediction. There is no estimate yet of the amount of yellow metal that is likely to go.

Winnipeg Clearing House returns for the week ending November 20, 1902, were $5,632,231; same week in 1901, $5,290,930; same period in 1900, $2,646,539.

The Montreal Clearing House statement for the week shows:

Total for week ending November 20, 1902, $24,715,541; corresponding week 1901, $21,610,930; corresponding week 1900, $16,738,552; corresponding week 1899, $15,958,105.

Crow's Nest Coal is now held at 500. A change in the plans of this company is reported. Some of the directors are opposed to the proposed issue of $2,000,000 bonds to secure funds for improvements, for the ratification of which a special general meeting of shareholders has been called for Monday next. As an alternative it is proposed to issue new stock to raise the required funds. The directors met recently to discuss the issue of $1,000,000 of new stock to be issued to the shareholders on the proportion of two shares of new to five of old. It is rumoured the issue will be at 250.

DECLINE IN THE CHEESE MARKET.

Butter Market More Active and Hopeful—Eggs and Potatoes are Firm.

BUTTER—This market has been having its turn during the past week. Demand from the other side has improved considerably, and prices have strengthened up from 1-4 to 1-2c a pound. Private cables report Danish butter steady and Canadian strong. There was some enquiry from Glasgow for confectionery butter during the week, and prices ranged from 14 to 14 1-2c, but it was not possible to pick up a great quantity at these figures. There is a good demand for finest fresh made creamery at 21 3-4c, but it is difficult to get any under 22c, and, in fact, sales are being made readily at that figure. Finest held creamery is quoted at 21 1-4 to 21 1-2c, demand being fair. Good to fine creamery sells around 20 3-4 to 21 1-4c. Early in the week there was some demand for selected western dairies at around 17c; fine sold at 16c to a fraction higher.

Receipts reported on the Board of Trade this morning amounted to 4,892 packages.

CHEESE—The market is in rather a peculiar position just now. The four largest holders do not appear to be in any way anxious regarding the position of affairs, but at the same time there is a dull, easy feeling noticeable, and several of the smaller holders are willing to take a slight profit on what they have and drop out. At any rate, they are offering at lower prices than were quoted a week ago, according to all accounts. It was stated on 'Change this morning that finest western goods were being offered at 12 3-8c and finest Quebecs at 12 1-8, and one holder of Townships was ready to accept 12 1-4c.

Country boards yesterday experienced a decline of about 3-4c, but very few accepted the bids.

Receipts reported on the Board of Trade this morning amounted to 1,453 cases.

EGGS—The British and European Produce Company, of Liverpool, writes under date of November 10, as follows: Canadian fresh eggs, selected stock, 16 pounds, 8s 10d per 10 doz.; ordinary 15 lb. stock, 8s to 8s 4d; Canadian glycerined, ordinary, 7s 10d to 8s per 10 doz. Demand poor, except for good stock. Weather continues mild; supplies of foreign heavy. Receipts, 6,132 cases this week.

The warmer weather experienced during the past few days in Montreal has had little or no influence on the local market, the feeling being still strong, and stock scarce. Dealers are offering 18 cents f.o.b. for anything in the way of fresh-laid stock and not a great deal of it is offering. Straight gathered is selling here at 19 1-2 to 20c, and straight candled at 20 to 20 1-2c; early cold storage at 17 1-2c, and late at 18¼ to 19c; Montreal limed at 17½c for lots, and 18c for single cases; western limed, 17 to 17 1-2c.

Receipts reported on the Board of Trade this morning amounted to 1223 cases.

HONEY—Honey is very scarce, but as there is very little demand for it, prices remain steady. White strained is offered all the way from 8 to 8 1-2c a lb., and white comb at 10 to 11 1-2c.

Buckwheat strained is scarce, and ought to bring 7c; no comb is offering.

POTASH.—Very little demand for potash, and prices for first pots are $4.35 to $4.40, and seconds at $3.60 to $3.70. Pearl ash is wanted at $6 to $6.50.

POTATOES.—The market for potatoes is steady and firm, and stock is not very plentiful. Dealers are paying 75 to 77c a bag of 90 pounds on track, and selling at 90c in a jobbing way.

BEANS—The market was strong to-day at $2.00 a bushel on track for primes, and $2,05 to $2.10 in broken lots. Stock is scarce.

Yesterday's Country Cheese Boards.

BROCKVILLE.—Boarded, 1290 white and 700 coloured. A few accepted 11⅝c.

KINGSTON.—Boarded, 415 white and 185 coloured. Refused, 11 9-16c.

New York Cotton Market.

WHEAT MARKET IS HOLDING STEADIER.

Deliveries of Oats are Light Owing to Poor Roads — Progress of Canadian Wheat Lands.

The Liverpool wheat market was easier this morning, December closing ¼d down at 5s 11¼d, March 3-8d down at 6s 0½d, May ½d down at 6s 1d as compared with last night. Antwerp was steady to-day, No. 2 red winter closing at 15⅞. Paris closed 10 to 15 lower at 21.20 for November and 21.35 for May and June. London quoted No. 1 standard Cala., passage, 31s, prompt, 31s.

Weather was cold in England and fine in France.

Chicago quoted grain at noon as follows: Wheat, December, ⅛c down at 74⅞c; May, ⅛c up at 76c. Corn, December, ⅛c down at 57⅝c; May, ¼c up at 43⅝c. Oats, December, ⅝c up at 31c; May, 3-8c up at 32c.

Argentine shipments to the United Kingdom last week were 28,000 qrs., against 51,000 the previous week.

Argentine shipments to the continent were 4000 qrs. wheat and 55,000 maize, against 1000 wheat and 39,000 maize the previous week. Argentine advices are generally of a favourable tenor; traffic has been interrupted by strikes.

A Winnipeg letter says: "For the first time in the history of the country, Manitoba and the North-West Territories have produced this season over 100,000,000 bushels of grain, of which amount 60,000,000 bushels is wheat. Up to date the immigration authorities estimate that about 27,000 new settlers have taken up land in Western Canada, of which number about 9000 are farmers from the United States. These are actual settlers who are now on the ground. The estimate made earlier in the season, that 50,000 settlers from the other side of the line would emigrate to this country, may not be realized this year, but under the efforts of the many American investment and land companies there will be about that number in all over on Canadian soil before the year of 1903 is many months old. There are from 40,000,000 to 50,000,000 acres of land as good for the production of wheat not yet occupied as there is now under cultivation, and the cost of production is small enough to make wheat pay, if only 40c per bushel is given here for it. It can be shipped to Liverpool at a cost of 23c per bushel, and has gone down below the 20c mark. Under these facts grain dealers and farmers of this country believe they are in a position to keep on as they are going without looking for further complications by taking off the duty on wheat."

LOCAL MARKET.—The market was not very active to-day. Deliveries are light owing to the bad condition of the roads. Spot oats are scarce and firm, and they are in demand. Manitoba wheat is in demand, and other grains are on the dull side.

Quotations were as follows: No. 2 white oats, afloat, for export 36½ cents; in store, for local account, 37 cents; peas are in fair demand at 72c, high freight; rye, nominally 56c afloat; barley, No. 3, 47c, and No. 3x, 48 1-2c afloat; buckwheat, 56 to 57c afloat, offering 52c east, G.T.R.

Manitoba wheat, November delivery, is quoted at 75 1-2c for No. 1 hard, and 73 1-2c for No. 1 northern, afloat at Fort William.

FEED—Bran and shorts were steady today. Quotations in car lots on track, Manitoba bran, in bags, $17 to $18; shorts, in bags, $19 to $20; Ontario bran, in bulk, $16.50 to $17.50; shorts, $19 to $20 in bulk; middlings, $22 to $23; moullie, $28 to $30, according to quality.

ROLLED OATS—The market is firmer, and prices range from $4.30 to $4.35 in wood and $2.05 to $2.10 in bags, for broken lots.

FLOUR.—The demand is fairly brisk. Quotations in Montreal on track are $3.50 to $3.60 for straight rollers, in barrels; in bags, $1.70 to $1.75; extra bags, $1.55 to $1.60; winter patents are $3.75 to $4; Manitoba finest strong bakers, $3.90; patents, $4.20.

HAY—The market continues steady, and trade is fairly active. Baled hay is quoted as follows: No. 1, $9; No. 2, $7.50 to $8; clover, $6.50 to $7.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

TORONTO, November 21.—Call Board quotations:

Bran—Buyers at $15 in buyers' bags, middle freights, with sellers at $15.25, middle freights, in bulk.

Armour Has Grip on Wheat.

(From the Special Correspondent of the Montreal Star on the Chicago Board of Trade.)

CHICAGO, November 21.—Wheat was lower, December selling at 75¾ to 74⅞c, and May at 76¾ to 75¼c, compared with the closing of yesterday, 75½c and 75c, respectively. When the enormous volume of business transacted yesterday is considered, trade was dull, with the professionals watching Armour and attempting to follow him in his movements. The outside trade was naturally small owing to the sharp manipulations of the past few days. Coupled with the grip of Armour on wheat, sentiment was divided, with the predictions for good weather in the North-West offsetting the predictions for rain in the South-West.

The Modern Miller, in its weekly outlook, says: "Winter wheat has a fine growth, which is almost too luxuriant for the early sown grain in some sections. Complaints in regard to the condition of the plant is of damage by the Hessian fly are occasionally heard of, but are of no consequence. That farmers are satisfied with the outlook is indicated by the steady large deliveries of wheat by them."

MORE RAILWAY RUMOURS.

Grand Trunk May Secure Connection With the "Soo."

TORONTO, Ont., November 21.—The Globe to-day states that the Canadian Northern have just sent out two surveying parties from Fort William to locate a route from there to White River, where their proposed extension easterly from Fort William will meet the Algoma Central. This route is intended to run considerably farther north than the Canadian Pacific road, which skirts the lake shore. The Algoma Central, running north from the Soo, is completed to within 25 miles of White River. The Globe also says that a well-defined rumour is that the Grand Trunk have secured a franchise which will enable them to reach the Soo from the west and on to Sudbury, or join the Algoma Central, whose Manitoulin and North Shore road may run north to Sudbury after leaving Manitoulin, and before turning west to the Soo.

Of this the daughter born a month after the murder will get $137,048. Under the writer's will, his wife, Mrs. Grace Kidder Ford, was to receive the major portion of the estate, but the birth of the posthumous child made the will invalid as it stood. The law provides that such a child shall inherit two-thirds of the bequests made in the will.

THE LATE MR. CUMBERLAND.

How He Captured a Criminal at St. John, N.B.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

QUEBEC, November 21.—A local paper tells the following story of Mr. Cumberland, the late manager of the Bank of B. N. A. here, whose death occurred on Wednesday and who was buried in Quebec this afternoon: "Much more than a quarter of a century ago, the writer of these lines knew him when he was a teller in St. John, N.B. He performed there a very skilful piece of amateur detective work. Our readers will remember that on a certain day, a band of forgers arranged to present drafts at every branch of the Bank of British North America in Canada and New York. The paper was deftly prepared, and every manager was deceived, it bore such a genuine look. The scamp who had the presentation of the letter of credit at Winnipeg made a fatal mistake. He handed in his paper some hours too soon, and the head office had time to telegraph to all branches that the bills were forgeries. The late Mr. Farquharson Smith was manager of the bank here, and was notified in time to save the loss. Other branches did not fare so well. In St. John Mr. MacLellan was manager, and in the morning he accepted the paper and ordered Mr. Cumberland to pay over the money, which he did. The manager left at two o'clock to attend a funeral. While away a telegram from the head office reached the bank, but the chief was absent. However, it was opened, and as Mr. Cumberland remembered the occurrence, he at once set his wits to work. He had only seen the man before his wicket once, and scarcely looked at him. As he went out of the bank, he noticed casually, that he limped a little. The discovery of the forgery was made at half past two o'clock in the afternoon. At three o'clock the train for Boston would leave, but to reach the station a ferry boat trip had to be taken. Mr. Cumberland at once started, caught the boat in the nick of time, arrived before the train hauled out and saw his man limping into the car with a small satchel. He had him at once arrested, and brought to trial. The prisoner was convicted and sentenced to 14 years' imprisonment in the penitentiary, which he served. The money, however, was not recovered, as an accomplice secured it beforehand. Mr. Cumberland received great praise at the time for the rapidity with which he brought the rogue to justice."

PARIS POLICE AT WORK ON MYSTERY

American Woman Found Dead in Russian Musician's Room.

CONTRADICTORY STATEMENTS

They Lead Commissary of Police to Make Accusation, But Russian Claims Innocence.

PARIS, November 21.—Miss Helen Gore, an American, was mortally wounded in the apartments of a Russian singer, De Rydzenski, yesterday. United States Consul-General Gowdy is personally investigating the death of Miss Gore, who was completing her musical education here, and resided in the fashionable quarter of Passy. When found the victim was unconscious and had a bullet wound over her right eye. Two doctors were summoned to attend her, but she died without regaining consciousness. The police have accepted the theory of the young Russian singer, who was in the room at the time, that the shooting was the result of an accident during a scuffle for possession of the weapon. De Rydzenski comes of a rich and noble Russian family. He is the son of a Russian general, and he has uncles who hold high positions in the Government service.

Miss Gore lived in the Avenue de la Grand Armee, not far from the apartments of the Russian, where the tragedy occurred. The affair has caused much excitement in that locality. The police are continuing their investigations and De Rydzenski is kept under surveillance.

SHOUTED FOR HELP.

It appears that M. De Rydzenski returned to his lodgings at five o'clock yesterday afternoon, accompanied by Miss Gore, whom he took to his room. Half an hour later the report of a revolver shot was heard, and De Rydzenski rushed into the hall shouting for help. The proprietor of the house and several other persons entered the room and found Miss Gore lying on the bed, while the revolver was on the rug at the bedside. De Rydzenski's version of the affair is that while conversing with his visitor he had occasion to pick up an article from the table, and he inadvertently knocked off the revolver, causing it to explode. The bullet struck the lady and she fell backwards on the bed in an unconscious condition. The Comissary of Police, who has charge of the case, says the story seems improbable, but that it is impossible as yet to say whether the case is one of murder or accident. Nothing has yet been discovered to help in clearing up the mystery surrounding the affair.

According to a servant in De Rydzenski's house, Miss Gore paid frequent visits to the Russian, who it is now reported, first said that she had committed suicide, but afterwards told the police that while holding the revolver in his hand it slipped from his grasp and went off as it fell.

SOME LETTERS FOUND.

Consul-General Gowdy's investigations has established that Ellen Gore arrived in Paris on August 25, and registered at a boarding-house, No. 11 Avenue de la Grande Armee, as Mrs. Ellen Gore, of New York. She does not appear to have had any relatives residing in Paris, but among the effects found in her room were several typewritten letters of recent dates bearing the heading "Attorney Edward C. Butler, Gore, Court of Mexico." These letters are of a strictly business nature relating to property.

The proprietor of Miss Gore's boarding-house says she appeared to be a conscientious student; she worked hard at her musical studies and received few visitors.

Mr. Gowdy has not formed any theory regarding the circumstances of the death, but he will insist on the police thoroughly probing all the mysterious features of the case. The body has been removed to the morgue, where it will remain until Mr. Gowdy has received advices from the relatives.

A DIFFERENT VERSION.

Some of the morning papers give a somewhat different version of the death of Miss Gore, and say the Russian's name is Jean de Rutzwoski. His landlady, who was the first person to enter the room, says she found Miss Gore seated on the bed with her head thrown back on the bolster, which was covered with blood, and groaning pitifully. The doctor and a surgeon were summoned at once. The victim, who was fully dressed and with her hat on was disrobed and the doctors tried in vain to save her life. She did not, however, recover consciousness, and died at 8 o'clock without uttering a word. According to the papers, when the Russian made self contradictory statements to the commissary of police the latter said abruptly. "It is you who killed her." M. Rutzwoski replied, putting his hands to his head; "What an infamous accusation." Nothing was found in his room except a few letters written in Russian and German.

The Figaro says Miss Gore was a native of Chicago, and was a very pretty woman. The paper also says that Rutzwoski gave his name as Robekoff, at a hotel where he stayed before taking lodgings in the Rue de la Faisandrie.

Hill's Western Railway Projects.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

WINNIPEG, November 21.—There are indications that James J. Hill intends crossing the international boundary at many points with the Great Northern Railway. In addition to the announcement that a net work of lines will be built throughout Manitoba, connecting at four points with the Great Northern, news has reached here that a survey party had left MacLeod, Alberta, to run a trial line for a proposed new railroad from MacLeod to connect with the Great Northern system in Montana.

WASHINGTON RUMOUR FANTASTIC DREAM.

Story About Morgan's Latest Consolidation Scheme Not Taken Seriously in England.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

NEW YORK, November 21.—The correspondent of the Tribune in London cables: The story which has been cabled from Washington, dealing with the rumoured intention on the part of Morgan to consolidate the cotton, silk, ship-building and other great industries of the world, has not caused any excitement here, and it is regarded as altogether too fantastic for serious consideration. Yorkshire manufacturers continue to complain of declining trade with the United States. While there has been a gain of $103,500 in the exports from Leeds to the United States during the last twelve months as compared with 1901, it is explained by the shipments of wool and iron rather than by the improvement of the woollen trade or metal manufactures.

The Bradford district, whose prosperity depends largely upon a brisk trade with the United States, is disappointed with the result of the present tariff, and the manufacturers are forced to admit that the United States market is now mainly supplied with home goods.

Huddersfield has suffered less than Bradford, since it exports to New York the finest qualities of worsted and woollen goods, but its manufacturers find cause for complaining at the shrinkage of the United States demand. The textile trades of Leeds are suffering from the same cause, and the merchants are forced to send goods to other markets which are not supplied with home manufactures. The exports of machinery, steel rods and iron from Leeds to the United States have fallen during the last quarter, even from the low level of the preceding year.

It is not difficult to convince the Yorkshire merchants, either in the textile or metal trades, that the United States tariff since it was reconstructed the last time, has stimulated home production and operated against British industries. The general efficiency of that tariff as a defensive measure for reserving the home market for home manufacturers tempts many among them to express dissatisfaction with the prevailing condition of one sided English free trade without reciprocity from any colony except Canada.

THE WIRES WERE CROSSED.

A Number of People in Hintonburg Shocked.

OTTAWA, November 21.—Electrocutions by the dozen seemed inevitable in Hintonburg yesterday, and that only six parties were temporarily placed hors de combat is due to the weakness of the current at the time. In the early morning, Mrs. Byers, wife of Fire Chief Byers, was wakened by the peculiar buzzing of the hotel alarm. Hurrying downstairs she discovered the wires on fire, and electric sparks flying in all directions. She aroused her son, John, who, dressing himself, hastened to No. 2 fire alarm box, where streaks of fire were shooting up and down the poles. On his way thither he was joined by Harry Routh. Upon reaching the box, the latter attempted to insert the key into the lock, and was sent reeling. Mr. Byers renewed the effort, and was dropped to the pavement in a semi-conscious condition. By this time Chief Byers appeared upon the scene, and scenting danger did not touch the wires; he simply put his good right hand on the alarm box, and that was enough; he was the third victim of the electrical prank. Matters continued active at Byers' Hotel, and incipient fires were subdued by Mrs. Byers and members of the household. Meanwhile the electric fluid was playing pranks at the pump house. A boy employed there established a circuit when a steel instrument which he had in his hand, touched the alarm bell, and he went out of business—victim number four. Messrs. Routh and Byers having recovered consciousness, warned Chairman Miller, of the Fire and Light Committee, who, in his efforts to solve the mystery, touched box No. 3, and he was victim number five.

Investigation disclosed the cause of the trouble. It was an umbrella frame, which had been carelessly thrown across the wires connecting the electric wire, with the fire system. To remove it was the work of a moment. But ere this was done a sixth man had touched box No. 3, and quickly joined the unhorsed.

FRANCIS H. CLERGUE ON TRADE QUESTIONS

Thinks U. S. Will Not Enforce Extra Duty on Pulp.

MAKING OF STEEL RAILS

If Railway Men Buy Them Outside Canada at Low Figures New Industry Will Suffer.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

OTTAWA, November 21. — Francis H. Clergue, who arrived here yesterday and interviewed some of the Ministers, does not believe that the much discussed extra duty of 25c a ton on pulp will be enforced by the United States. The insertion in the McKinley Act of the provision for the imposition of such a duty, as well as for additional duty on lumber entering the United States, he says, was done at a time when the measures for the protection of Canadian pulp and lumber were first talked of. In consequence of the Ontario Government's saw log policy, however, the firms that formerly manufactured lumber on the other side of the line have now been obliged to locate in this province, and as a duty on pulp would involve, by a parity of reasoning, a duty on lumber, as well, the imposition of an extra duty, either in the case of pulp or lumber would hit with a heavy bludgeon the very men who are responsible for the incorporation of the provisions referred to in the McKinley Act.

Questioned regarding the recent purchase of steel rails in Germany by Messrs. Mackenzie and Mann, Mr. Clergue said that his firm could not afford to produce rails at the price at which Messrs. Mackenzie and Mann are reported to have purchased their rails, namely, $27 a ton, delivered at Port Arthur. Mr. Clergue continued: "We have spent $15,000,000 in iron mines, and in the construction of rolling mills and railways to connect with them, and if other railway companies are going to follow the example of Mackenzie and Mann we simply cannot produce steel rails, that is all. The question is one for the people of Canada to decide. I cannot believe, however, that the Government will continue to bonus railway companies that use foreign rails or allow in future a bonus to be paid to railways that are now being laid with foreign rails."

SPANISH POLITICAL CRISIS.

House Closed on Thursday After Stormy Sitting.

MADRID, November 21. — As the uproar in the Chamber of Deputies yesterday evening, caused by the attack of Senor Romero Robledo on Premier Sagasta continued, the Premier withdrew and the President of the House closed the sitting among protests from the members of the Opposition and cries of "There is no Government."

There was a stormy sitting in the Chamber of Deputies yesterday. After a speech by Premier Sagasta, in which he expressed surprise at the interpretation which had been given to the recent ministerial crisis, Senor Romero Robledo reproached the Premier with his political antecedents. He declared that Senor Sagasta was not the leader of a party, but the favourite of the King, a statement which occasioned an angry debate.

The Spanish Cabinet resigned November 10, and after considerable difficulty Senor Sagasta, November 14, formed a new Ministry, which took the oath of office November 15.

BRITAIN AND VENEZUELA.

Relations Between the Countries are Still Strained.

WILLEMSTAD, Island of Curacao, November 21.—It is considered as remarkable that President Castro has not resumed the functions of the Presidency of Venezuela, which he gave over to the Vice-President when he took the field prior to the battle of La Victoria. This delay on the part of President Castro is regarded by the diplomats as an indication that he is not satisfied that the Revolution is over although he informed the foreign ministers that it would be completely ended not later than December.

The strain in the relations between Great Britain and Venezuela, already great, has been intensified by the refusal of the British Government to give satisfaction in the Banrigh affair and by the publication by the Government of Trinidad of the decree announcing that the blockade of the Orinoco river ports declared by the Venezuelan Government, is null and of no effect.

The organ of the Venezuelan Government publishes the aforementioned decree of the Trinidad Government, and bitterly attacks Great Britain on that score. It says that Trinidad has been the headquarters of Gen. Matos and revolution, that men and ammunition have been sent from that island, and that Great Britain has incited and prejudiced the world against President Castro. The Journal declares that the blockade is effective and that the British vessels will be seized if they violate it. Minister Haggard declines to make any statement, but in diplomatic circles it is understood that Great Britain would release her ships by force and that this was one of the purposes of the recently reported entrance of one of her warships into the Orinoco. Germany is upholding Great Britain, and is threatening a rupture of relations with Venezuela, but no action has yet been taken.

REMARKABLE CASE IN OLD BAILEY COURT.

English Lady, Who Stands High in Society, Accused of Illtreating Child.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

LONDON, November 21.—The famous old Bailey Court was yesterday the scene of a remarkable trial. Mrs. Penruddicke, the wife of a Wiltshire Magistrate, and land owner, and a recognized leader of society in the west of England was charged with systematically ill-treating one of her own children. The greater portion of the court reserved for the public was taken up by well-dressed women, and there was a big array of lawyers engaged in the case. The victim of the alleged systematic torture was a little girl, aged six years, and there was intense excitement when she took her stand in the witness box and told how she had been stripped and exposed to all kinds of weather, how wasps had been put down her back and nettles rubbed on her face. A curious feature of the case, which had not been concluded at the rising of the court, was that prisoner had four other children, and they had apparently always been properly treated.

THE EMPEROR'S HORSES WERE FRIGHTENED.

EDINBURGH, Scotland, November 20.—Emperor William, on his way to embark on board the Imperial yacht Hohenzollern, lying in the Firth of Forth, arrived at Dalmenie to-day and was met by Lord Rosebery. As His Majesty's carriage was leaving the station the horses attached to it became frightened at the waving of the colours of the detachment of the Black Watch forming the guard of honour. The postillions lost control of them and they got mixed up in the crowd. An accident was only averted by the alertness of Lieutenant-General Sir Archibald Hunter, who seized their heads and managed to control them. After lunch the Emporer boarded the Hohenzollern and sailed for Kiel.

ANOTHER NEGRO LYNCHED.

Taken From Authorities by Mob as Usual.

SULLIVAN, Ind., November 21.—James Dillard, the Kentucky negro who assaulted Mrs. Mary Davis and Mrs. John Lemon, last Tuesday, was hanged to a telegraph pole one mile east of John Lemon's farm last night, by a mob. Dillard was captured at Lawrenceville, Ill., late Wednesday, after a battle with the town marshal, during which the negro was shot three times, and severely wounded. He was then taken to Robinson, Ill., for safe keeping. Late yesterday the negro was brought to Sullivan in a waggon by the Sheriff and his deputies, for further identification. A mob of 40 or 50 farmers, heavily armed, took the prisoner from the officers and carried him to the home of both his victims, and by them was identified. When near the Lemon farm, a rope was thrown over the arm of a telegraph pole, and the negro was hung. The Governor had ordered out the Vincennes Militia Company to protect the negro, but his instructions were received too late. After hanging the negro the mob quietly dispersed. It was composed mostly of farmers, but was largely augmented by citizens of various towns of this county.

GERMAN TARIFF BILL.

Conservatives Say That it Will Pass Before Christmas.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

LONDON, November 21.—After a five days' armistice between the majority and the Government, the German Imperial Diet yesterday resumed the debate on the second reading of the Tariff bill. The interval was occupied in banquets of which the chief was that given by the Speaker, Count von Ballestrem, and which was attended by Count von Buelow, and in other forms of informal negotiation. Though these gustatory conferences have not yet resulted in the acceptance of a definite scheme of compromise, Berlin despatches indicate that they have cleared the situation by illustrating, in sharp outline, the desire of the majority to discover a convenient bridge of retreat from their opposition to the Government. It is expected that an agreement in some form or other will be completed before the end of this month and the Conservatives are already prophesying the passing of the bill before Christmas.

FRICK AND LAWSON DEAL.

They are to Establish Big Smelting Works Near Niagara.

BUFFALO, November 21.—A special to the Express from Tonowanda, says: A deal has been on foot during the last week and undoubtedly will be completed before the end of the present week, to bring within three miles of this place one of the largest copper works and steel plants in the world. Yesterday part of the proposed plan was carried out, when the representatives of the H. C. Frick Company, of Pittsburg, closed a contract for a 100 acre farm. Mrs. Litz, the owner of the property, left for Buffalo yesterday to turn over the deeds of the property. The Litz farm will be the site of the copper smelting works. The plant will cover 75 acres. Negotiations are under way for the purchase of additional land adjoining the Litz farm for the steel plant, the whole property having a water front on Niagara River of nearly a mile. The two most prominent men whose names have been mentioned with the deal are H. C. Frick, of Pittsburg, and Thomas W. Lawson, of Boston.

Strobel Tried to Commit Suicide.

NEW YORK, November 21.—After Bartho Strobel, imprisoned on a charge of writing threatening letters to prominent men had been examined by Chief Murphy, of the Jersey City Police Department, he was left alone in a room at headquarters, where he attempted suicide with a handkerchief. He was led back to a cell by a patrolman, and reaching through the bars seized the officer's revolver. The officer caught Strobel's arm before it could be withdrawn, and threatened to break it, thereby causing the man to drop the weapon.

Uncle Sam and Filipinos.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

LONDON, November 21.—The Chronicle recognizing the truth of the declaration of President Roosevelt that the United States would as soon abandon Alaska as the Philippines, says it hopes that the Filipinos will be content with the amount of individual liberty that American rule, according to the President, has brought them. "Free Cuba," the paper add, "is somewhat doubtful as to the benefit of exchanging the easy yoke of Spanish misrule for the bit of the American Financier."

Glanders Outbreak Under Control.

OTTAWA, November 21.—Dr. Rutherford, chief veterinary inspector of the Department of Agriculture, reports that the outbreak of glanders, which had assumed threatening proportions a few weeks ago, is now under the control of his men, although they still have a number of cases under supervision. All doubtful cases are watched for a development of the disease, and the animals will be destroyed should glanders appear.

LEGAL.

Curious.—Question—If a person rents a house and finds it damp and cold, and a member of family becomes unwell and has a doctor's certificate that said house is not a fit place for said member to reside in, and having appealed to landlord, offering him the rent for remainder of year till lease runs out, is it legal that said person should heat house also?

Answer.—You may have the lease cancelled upon previously putting the landlord in default.

H. Y. Z.—Question—I married in Quebec. My husband died fifteen years ago, leaving money in bank to be divided between myself and children, so much each. We held a family council, a lawyer being present, and I was appointed tutorix, with a near relative as sub-tutor. Now what I want to know is this: If in case of my demise, this sub-tutor would have the management of all my share of the money in bank, said girls being my heiresses. Could I make a will appointing a certain person as sole manager of my money matters and their welfare, which, of course, would take the whole matter out of his hands, or would the fact of his being appointed a sub-tutor by family council hurt the validity of such a will?

Answer—The sub-tutor you speak of would have no authority after your death, for he was only appointed in conjunction with you and consequently when your tutorship ends, his duty will be to have a new tutor appointed if necessary. You may appoint an executor by your will, but his rights will only extend to your estate, not to what comes to your children from their father.

Glass.—Question—Am I responsible for a broken pane of glass in my residence, which was broken intentionally by a child living nearby?

Answer—Tenant is responsible for the broken pane. Your landlord is in no way responsible.

Sybil.—Question—Have parents a right to open a daughter's letters after she is 21 years of age, if she has never done anything towards their or her own support, and always lived in their home?

Answer—No, the letters are completely her own property and cannot be interfered with by any one.

"The Style of a 'Dorothy Dodd'"

Like Shoes, Like Everything

Shoes make your feet stylish or unstylish. They also decide your gait, and, to some extent, your posture. They are tremendously important to a woman. When you walk in some shoes you slouch along, but there are others that make you feel uplifted and animated—it is very curious!

$3.75

A few style
$4.00.

The "Dorothy Dodd" stands first among stylish shoes. It makes the foot look a full size smaller. It makes your walk a good five years younger. It gives you an elastic step that betokens vivacity and animation. At the same time it gives real distinction to the foot itself.

Few feet are so badly-shaped that they cannot be made stylish in this shoe. Just for once try "the style of a "Dorothy Dodd."

IN FAVOUR OF FREE SCHOOLS.—At last night's meeting of the Workingmen's Educational Association the following resolution was adopted, after an interesting discussion: "That whereas the first plank in the platform of the Trades and Labour Congress of Canada calls for the establishment of a system of free and compulsory education throughout Canada, and, whereas, many of the provinces have made greater progress in this respect than Quebec, therefore be it resolved that this association places itself on record as being entirely in favour of the system of free and compulsory education, as well as the establishment of free technical schools."

SOCIAL.—On Tuesday evening next the anniversary tea and social will be held in the Point St. Charles Baptist Church. A turkey supper will be served from 6.30 to 8.30 p.m., when a programme will be rendered.

CAUGHNAWAGA INDIANS WOULD LIKE ONE OF TRIBE APPOINTED AGENT.

The Indians of Caughnawaga are discussing the appointment of a successor to the late Indian agent, Mr. Alex. Brosseau. They have heard the name of a Mr. Leblanc, of St. Constant, mentioned, but such an appointment is one that meets with entire disapproval among the people of the tribe.

The sentiment of the band is that one of their own people should get the appointment. They have in their midst Mr. Louis Jackson, who is the official interpreter for the Indian language in the courts of the province. They claim that such a nomination would prove satisfactory in every way. It would do away with the services of two interpreters or translators, one to interpret the Indian language to the agent, and another to translate the French report of the agent into English for the Department. Mr. Jackson, besides his knowledge of his native language, speaks and writes English and French with equal facility and possesses the entire confidence of the people of the tribe, who would like to see him appointed.

SIGNAL ENGINEER OF CANADIAN PACIFIC.

Mr. Frank Lee, formerly of the engineering department of the Chicago and Northwestern, has been appointed signal engineer of the C.P.R. The office is a new one. Mr. Lee will have his headquarters in Montreal and will supervise all signals, taking in that respect the duties hitherto performed by the divisional superintendents. Mr. Lee is a graduate of the Sheffield Scientific Institute and before going to the Chicago and Northwestern he was employed for two years on the government railways on the island of Trinidad.

TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.

First Meeting of the Season Held at the Normal School.

The Teachers' Association held its first meeting last evening in the Normal School. There was a large attendance and Professor Kneeland occupied the chair. Mr. E. W. Arthy, Principal Silver and Miss T. M. S. Reed read papers on arithmetic, and a programme of music was given that was most enjoyable. The board of governors of the Association received an offer at their meeting yesterday afternoon from Rev. Principal Rexford to give a series of lectures of the art of teaching. His offer was gratefully accepted.

Entertained at Verdun.

The entertainment given at Verdun Asylum last evening by Miss Marie Hollinshead and a party of her friends was enjoyed by over 200 inmates. The visitors included Messrs. Ramsay, Earl, Hamilton, Warner, Currie, Mesdames Hamilton, Warner, Chadwick and Miss Hollinshead.

Montreal Women's Club.

Mr. R. C. Smith, K.C., will read a paper on Monday next before the Montreal Women's Club, in place of Mr. Fred. Thomson, who will be unable to give his promised paper on "Electricity" on that day, owing to his absence in Sydney, C.B.

Fined Twenty-five Dollars.

Mr. Recorder Poirier yesterday condemned Hormidas Maisonneuve to pay a fine of $25 or spend three months in gaol for refusing to allow a police officer to inspect his place on Sunday.

Did you ever taste Dr. Laviolette's Syrup of Turpentine? Do get a bottle for the sake of your little ones, it is so soothing and so palatable. And never fails to cure coughs and colds.

WHO PAYS?

One of the curiosities of argument is the effort of Hon. J. D. Cameron, of Winnipeg, to convince the Young Liberal Club, of that city, the other evening that the west has been steadily bled in taxation for the benefit of the east. "The man on the street" will think that we have made a transposition of terms in stating this case. He will remember that, from his youth up, the east has been paying taxes which the Government has been spending in the west. But our report of Mr. Cameron's position is correct. He thinks that the west has been paying the bills of the east.

The two first items which will occur to any one, he pooh-poohs. That is, our purchase of the Hudson Bay Company's claim to that country, and the building of the C. P. R. It seems that he thinks we did not owe the money to the Hudson Bay people, and that we got lands from Manitoba which equalled the cost to us of the C. P. R. Still whether we owed the Hudson Bay money or not, we paid it, and Crown lands which form a part of a new province can hardly be regarded as extinguishing a cash payment by Canada to the Canadian Pacific. Put broadly, the east bought the liberty of the west to begin with; and then built a railway through it when its future was only a prophesy.

From that day forward, all Canada—which happily knows no east or west—has been equipping itself as best it may for the competitive struggle with the American Republic. Such local works as post-offices and customs houses, we have provided where needed; and probably each section of the country has obtained about the same proportion as it paid for. The navigation plant has been largely placed east of the Manitoban boundary, for the excellent reason that that is where it was needed. An inland town does not absolutely require a wharf unless the election is very close. But no province has profited more by our canal system, our deepening of the rivers, our equipment of the ocean ports, than has Manitoba. This all means cheap transportation for western grain, and, unless we have been misled, that is a very live question with the western farmer.

But we of the east have been glad of the opportunity and the ability to spend on the west. We believe in the west. We are confident that money invested in it is well placed. We would like to see its grain come this way, and are providing for it; and feel sure that, other things being equal, the people of Manitoba would rather see Montreal and Halifax get their shipping business than New York and Portland. We are one country; and we hope never again to see a discussion started as to which section of it does the paying for the advantage of the other. We do not believe for a moment that any section is being bled, or that any province wishes anything but prosperity to every sister in the family.

REV. DR. GORDON WILL SUCCEED DR. GRANT

New Principal for Queen's University Comes From Halifax College.

HIS SALARY WILL BE $4000

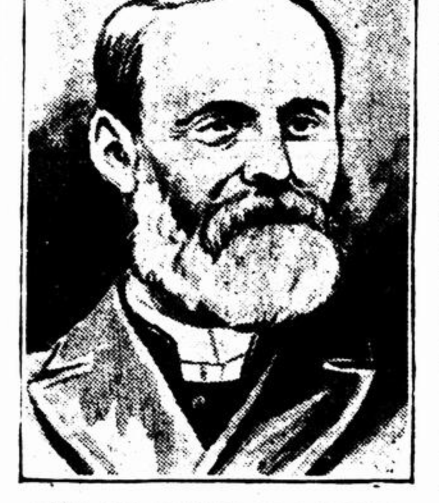
He is Charming Orator and Was Born in Same Town as Late Principal.

HALIFAX, November 21.—Information was received in this city last night that Rev. Dr. Daniel M. Gordon, professor of theology in the Presbyterian University during the past eight years, and formerly pastor of St. Andrew's church of this city, and before that of Knox Church, Winnipeg, had accepted the principalship of Queen's University. A press correspondent called up Dr. Gordon and asked him if the report was correct. He expressed surprise that the news was public, and while not denying its truth said that the announcement was premature, and that all that had happened was that he had been communicated privately with, and asked if he would accept the position were it offered him, to which he had said he would. The board of directors does not meet till next month, and therefore the appointment will not be made till then, though it is practically done now, as Dr. Gordon has said he would accept. Dr. Gordon has a son, Alex. M., also a minister of the church, who has just returned to Canada from a charge in London, Eng. Dr. Gordon's name was mentioned after Principal Grant's death as his successor. He is one of the most popular of Halifax Presbyterian ministers, and is well known in his denomination throughout Canada.



REV. DR. DAVID M. GORDON.

THE REPORT CONFIRMED.

TORONTO, November 21.—Mr. Justice McLennan, chairman of the board of trustees of Queen's University, announced last night that Rev. Dr. Daniel M. Gordon, of Halifax, has been offered and had accepted the principalship in succession to the late Principal Grant. The board of trustees will meet on December 5th to confirm the appointment. Dr. Gordon's salary will be $4,000, and a dwelling house. The date on which he will enter on his duties is not yet announced, and will be determined by his Halifax engagements.

REVEREND DR. GORDON, NEW QUEEN'S PRINCIPAL, IS A CHARMING ORATOR.

The new Principal of Queen's University, Rev. Daniel M. Gordon, M.A., D.D., is one of the most charming personalities, and one of the most gifted pulpit orators in the Canadian Church to-day.

He was born at Pictou, Nova Scotia, on January 30th, 1845, and it is a rather remarkable coincidence that the late Rev. Principal Grant, C.M.G., whose place Rev. Dr. Gordon will fill as Principal of Queen's, should be succeeded by a gentleman born in the same town.

The new Principal, as did also Rev. Dr. George M. Grant, his predecessor, received his early education at the Pictou Academy, an institution which also has the honour of being the early training school of the late Sir William Dawson, Principal of McGill University, and Rev. Dr. Forrest, Principal of Dalhousie University.

Rev. Dr. Gordon is a son of Mrs. William Gordon, and a brother of the late William and Joseph Gordon. His sister, Miss Millie Gordon, resides at Pictou, N.S. His father, the late William Gordon, was a native of Sutherlandshire. He early came to Pictou county and the family became one of the best known and influential in Nova Scotia.

STUDIED AT PICTOU ACADEMY.

Rev. Dr. Gordon, after completing his studies at the Pictou Academy, proceeded to Glasgow University where his scholastic career was most brilliant. After taking various prizes and distinctions he graduated M. A. in 1863 and B.D. in 1866.

Ordained the same year, he returned to Canada, equipped for his life's work at the early age of twenty-one.

For some time he had charge of an extensive pastorate embracing St. Paul's Church, at Truro, N.S. Here his work was much appreciated. He subsequently carried on his ministry in several minor stations.

WENT TO OTTAWA.

In 1867 he was inducted pastor of St. Andrew's Church, Ottawa, and here he continued for fifteen years until 1882 when he was called to Winnipeg as pastor of Knox Church in that city. In 1887 in response to a unanimous call he accepted the charge of St. Andrew's Church, Halifax, N.S. While in Winnipeg Dr. Gordon was chaplain of the 90th Battalion, V. M., and was on active service with it during the Rebellion of 1885.

Dr. Gordon's work in Halifax was characterized by great thoroughness. There was nothing within the confines of his ministerial work too trivial for his most careful attention. Church societies were vigorously superintended. The different schemes of the congregation were energetically carried out, and an extensive system of pastoral visiting inaugurated. The reverend gentleman stimulated interest in his church choir by personally attending every practice.

POWERFUL PULPIT ORATOR.

In his preaching, Dr. Gordon made a reputation as a dignified and powerful pulpit orator. His presence is graceful and impressive; his matter invariably well arranged, and his delivery, in beauty of elocution, unsurpassed in the Canadian church. In the choice of appropriate words and phrases, the reverend gentleman is particularly accurate and happy.

PROFESSOR OF THEOLOGY.

In 1894 Dr. Gordon resigned the pastorate of St. Andrew's to accept the professorship of theology and apologetics in the Presbyterian College, of Halifax.

In his new sphere of labour, Dr. Gordon did excellent work. He was universally beloved by the students and his lectures were models of literary style.

The new principal of Queen's Univerity has for many years been a prominent figure in everything concerning the work of the Presbyterian church in Canada. He took an active part in promoting the union of the Presbyterian churches throughout the Dominion, and in the care of the union which was commemorated in 1875, went as one of the delegates appointed to represent the views of the Canadian church to the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland.

WAS ELECTED MODERATOR.

Rev. Dr. Gordon was in 1896 elected moderator of the General Assembly, the Supreme Council of the Presbyterian Church in Canada; received the honorary degree of D. D. from his alma mater in 1895. He is also the author of several works.

His son, Alexander M. Gordon, is also in the ministry. He is a '94 graduate in arts, with high honours in classics, of Dalhousie University, Halifax, N. S., and subsequently took his degree in theology abroad.

Another son had a distinguished career in Applied Science at McGill University.

SAYS THOUSANDS OF NATIVES PERISHED

W. J. Campbell Arrives at San Francisco With Gruesome Tale of Guatemala Earthquakes.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 21.—W. J. Campbell, who has just arrived from Guatemala, brings additional details of the damage caused by the recent volcanic disturbances. He said:

"There is no clear idea yet of the loss of life resulting from the eruption of Santa Maria, but I believe 5,000 natives have been killed. There was some talk at San Jose, too, of some refugees having been waylaid by robbers, but I saw no instance of this. I took the first means of getting back to this country, having been impoverished. At San Jose it was said President Cabara was trying to suppress the news, but evidence of ruin was apparent to everybody.

"Some of the coffee fincas that have been nearly ruined were worth more than $1,000,000. The plantation of Albert James, which was wiped out, had machinery upon it worth $300,000, all of which is destroyed. Some months ago James refused an offer of $1,500,000. Adolfo Meyers' finca, worth $75,000 in gold, was ruined. Both of these places lay from twenty to forty miles west of the volcano.

GREAT SHIPPING TRUST.

Completion Will be Followed by Advance in Rates.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

NEW YORK, November 21. — The correspondent of the Tribune in London cables:

The last date draws near for the completion of the great shipping trust deal. The interestes naturally grows keener and the opening of the career of the International Mercantile Marine Company is awaited with speculative wonder. There have been persistent rumours on the Stock Exchange that the United States financiers are experiencing difficulty in finding money to complete the purchase of the White Star line by December 1, but these rumours are dismissed at Morgan's London offices as absurd, and it is authoritatively stated that all the money is here and that everything is ready for the completion of the deal at the appointed time. In well informed circles, it is believed that the completion of the purchase of the White Star line will be at once followed by an advance in trans-Atlantic freight and passenger rates.

Telephone Rates Reduced.

OTTAWA, November 21. — The joint committee of the Hull Council and the Board of Trade, appointed for the purpose of securing a cheaper and uniform rate from the Bell Telephone Company for business and house telephones in that city, had a conference with the solicitors of the company, Sir A. P. Caron and Mr. R. V. Sinclair. An agreement, mutually satisfactory, was arrived at, and the council will be recommended to ratify it at its next meeting.

According to the agreement, business phones, which range from $55 to $85, will be reduced to $45, and private phones, which range from $55 to $100, will be reduced to $30. The city will have four phones at $25 each instead of $55, as hitherto. Six public telephone stations will be established at places to be pointed out by the council. In the event of Ottawa securing lower rates a further reduction in the rates in Hull would follow.

In return for these concessions the council will be asked to grant an exclusive franchise for five years to the Bell Telephone Company.

Western Member's Complaint.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

WINNIPEG, November 21.—Dr. Douglas, M. P. for Eastern Assiniboia, is in the city and complains bitterly of the failure of the railways to haul out the farmers' wheat. Perhaps no people in the West are in a worse plight than the farmers of the Qu'Appelle Territory. The doctor says it is costing them ten cents a bushel to haul it out, and when the grain does reach the railway there are scarcely any cars to draw it. The Kirkella extension of the C. P. R. is in an incomplete state and has not brought any relief to the settlers worth speaking of.

Toll Gates May Go.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

KINGSTON, Ont., November 21.—At a meeting of the County Council of Frontenac, the question of the abolition of toll roads in the county was discussed by the councillors and members of a deputation of citizens. A motion was finally moved and carried that it would be in the best interests of the county and city to have the toll gates removed. The question will be submitted to the electors for approval at the coming municipal elections.

Awarded $18,000 Salvage.

LONDON, November 21.—The Admiralty Court has awarded the Harrison Line steamer Scholar $18,000 for salvaging the American Line steamer Belgenland.

The Belgenland, which left Philadelphia, July 5, for Liverpool, broke her shaft July 9. Three days later the Scholar, from Galveston to Liverpool, sighted her, and took her in tow, the two vessels reaching Halifax, N.S., July 19.

Explorer Cut Off by Ice.

LONDON, November 21.—A special despatch from St. Petersburg, to-day, announces that Baron Toll, who is exploring the Siberian Coast line, has been cut off from the coast by early winter ice in New Siberia. No anxiety, however, is felt for his safety as his expedition is well equipped, and will reach the mainland so soon as the ice is strong enough.

IMPROVEMENTS FOR MONTREAL HARBOUR

Local Deputation Interviews New Minister of Public Works.

PERMANENT FREIGHT SHEDS

Plans Approved by Mr. Sutherland—Two Additional Piers Promised for Windmill Point.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

OTTAWA, November 21.—Hon. Robert Mackay, Messrs. David Smith and John Kennedy, representing the Montreal Harbour Board, had a long discussion with Hon. James Sutherland, Minister of Public Works, last night, on matters connected with the harbour improvements. They asked first that the plans for the permanent freight sheds erected on the new piers should be approved, so that work on them may be gone on with this winter. This not being objected to by the departmental engineers, Mr. Sutherland assented to it, and the works will go on. Their next request was for the carrying out of an implied promise that two piers should be constructed in connection with the elevators at Windmill Point, should be kept, and the work commenced at an early date. This also Mr. Sutherland promised to accede to.

As regarded sanction being given to the construction of a system of overhead carriers running along the piers between the elevator and vessels lading or unlading, the Minister was unable to decide at once, and promised that the matter should be looked into and reported on immediately.

The delegation expressed some fears that there might be changes in the plans for the elevator, and that monetary difficulties might arise. Mr. Sutherland gave the delegation the advice to hang on to the money, and promised that as far as it lay in his own hands that policy would be carried out. He gave the members of the Board distinctly to understand that he would make no promise beyond the limits within which he could secure the fulfilment, and that when they asked anything which was beyond those limits he could only promise to look into the matter and consult his colleagues. The deputation left well pleased with the result of their interview. Hon Raymond Prefontaine was present during the conversation.

PRIZES FOR VIRTUE AWARDED AT PARIS.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

LONDON, November 21.—The Paris correspondent of the Times says the Montyon prizes for virtue were distributed by the French Academy yesterday. The chief prize of 3,500 francs ($700) was awarded to Marie Desbat, who has established an asylum for eighty-four aged persons at Venissieux, near Lyons. In earlier years she collected gutter children and taught them catechism. Afterwards she devoted herself to visiting the sick. A sum of 1,500 francs ($300) was given Jennie Schneider, a blind lady, who has founded an asylum for sixty-seven blind children. Three Breton sailors received 2,000 francs ($400) for saving shipwrecked crews.

Among the literary prizes, Maurice Maeterlinck got 1,000 francs ($200) for his "Vie de l'Abeille."

Recent Lawrence Disasters.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

QUEBEC, November 21.—Commander Spain and Mr. Gregory are pursuing further enquiries into the case of other recent wrecks than that of the Edward Seymour. Pilot Frenet, of Montreal, who was in charge of the steamer Loango when she grounded at Cap Rouge on November 5, deposed that the accident was due to the fact that he could not see the Cap Rouge light.

The captain of the steamer Iberian, which went ashore on Red Island reef on October 30, explained that the disaster was due to the pilot mistaking White Island for the Red Island Lightship. Both captain and pilot were down below when the accident occurred.

CONDUCTORS AND TRAINMEN HAVE NOT YET ARRANGED DIFFICULTY WITH C. P. R.

The general committee of the C.P.R. conductors and trainmen have not yet succeeded in reaching an agreement with the company although they have been in conference for several weeks. The men are asking for an increase of 25 per cent. in wages, east of Fort William. The company at first offered 7 per cent. and has since increased this to ten per cent., but the men have not yet accepted. There is no doubt, however, that an agreement will ultimately be reached that will be acceptable to all parties.

FOOTBALLERS VISIT US IN MONTREAL

An Association Team to Play in This City Next Autumn.

If Montreal will put up the necessary money, Montreal will be enabled to see a representative British team play Association Football next season.

A representative British Association Football team will go on a trip, which will last from May to October.

This trip will take in South Africa and New Zealand, with a visit to Canada thrown in on the way home.

In regard to the Canadian visit, Mr. McClure, one of the managers of the All-Canadian Rugby team, has been approached by letter.

The Association people only want Canada to supply twenty-five hundred dollars guarantee.

A VERY EXPENSIVE TRIP.

Their trip will cost in all about twenty thousand dollars, while the trip of the Canadian team will cost only about five thousand dollars.

The Association people will bring sixteen men. South Africa is giving them a guarantee of ten thousand dollars, and New Zealand a guarantee of seven thousand five hundred.

The West will have to be relied upon principally for the Canadian guarantee, for the Association game is not a very great favourite in this part of the country, although it is very popular in Ontario and Manitoba.

McKay. The fancy work table is in charge of Miss Dillon, assisted by Mrs. J. Leslie. Dolls are to be a special feature of the bazaar, and beautiful dolls at all prices, from five cents to ten dollars, can be had at the table in charge of Mrs. C. C. Holland and Mrs. J. W. Shaw. ## HON. D. C. FRASER SPEAKS AT BOSTON.

Tells American People That Canadians Have No Desire for Annexation.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

BOSTON, November 21. — Hon. D. C. Fraser, member of the Canadian Parliament from Guysboro Co., N.S., addressed the Maritime Provincial Club of this city last evening. In the course of his remarks he said: "There is no thought in the people of Canada that we want to be annexed to the United States. Only a very few ever thought that way and there are none who think so now. This America is big enough for the two. The people of Canada would like reciprocity, but have no hankering for annexation. Canada is not so far advanced as is the United States, but she has everything to advance with, and it is not for the interests of either country that the two unite."

Wreckage Found on B. C. Coast.

VICTORIA, B.C., November 21.—Lightkeeper Daykin at Carmanah reports that two miles west of that place lies the stern of a large ship's boat, painted white, with the words "Erickson, Cardiff," in black letters and several long, new ash oars, all broken. Also part of a mast, which looks like the top mast of a large vessel. The oars have no marks.

No Duty on Coal for Toronto.

TORONTO, Ont., November 21.—Mayor Howland has received a telegram from the Commissioner of Customs, Ottawa, stating that the collector here had been instructed to allow free entry of coal arriving from Great Britain for the city of Toronto. His Worship applied for this concession some time ago.

The Benefits of Advertising.

That the American Tobacco Co. and the Empire Tobacco Company have captured a very large share of the Canadian trade is a fact well known to the general public. The explanation of their success is to be found partly, at any rate, in the figures given last week before the Tobacco Commission investigation. It was then stated that the American Co. have spent $267,961 in advertising and the Empire Co. $250,579 for the same purpose. The Empire Company under its former management spent, for advertising only $2,308 in two years. These facts need no comment.

Prussia's Polish Problem.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

LONDON, November 21. — The Polish problem, says the Berlin correspondent of the Times, continues to occupy the attention of the Prussian authorities, though there has been a lull recently in the discussion of suggestions for the Germanization of the Polish provinces. Referring to unofficial proposals to establish a royal residence in Posen, with a Statthalter, who might perhaps be the Crown Prince, the correspondent says the Poles are divisible into three groups—first, those desiring tranquility and who try to keep clear of agitation; second, those under the influence of agitation who may be checked, but not reconciled, and third, the Polish wing of the Social Democracy. It is not probable, says the correspondent, that any of these classes would be favourably influenced by the establishment of a royal residence in Posen.

The Attack on King Leopold.

LONDON, November 21.—The warrant for Rubino's committal has been officially confirmed, says the Brussels correspondent of the Times. The would-be assassin will be tried on two counts—an attempt on King Leopold's life and a homicidal attempt on the lives of the Court officials who were in the carriage at which Rubino fired.

Kingston Temperance Debate.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

KINGSTON, November 21.—This morning it was decided to have a debate on the referendum between Mr. Ferguson, the editor of the New Voice, in Chicago, who is at present here in the interest of the temperance people, and Mr. Mudie, master in chancery, who wrote a pamphlet being distributed by the license victuallers on the "Errors of Prohibition." The meeting will be held in the City Hall on Saturday night. There is very great interest in the matter.

French Nationalists Divided.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

LONDON, November 21.—The Paris correspondent of the Times says there is a split among the Nationalists of the Patrie Francaise League because of Jules Lemaitre's advocacy of a plebescite for Presidential elections. M. Gloarens is one of the seceders, and six other Deputies are mentioned.

ATTENDED THE DINNER. — Among those who were present at the dinner to Lord Dundonald, at the Windsor Hotel, was Captain Henderson, of the 3rd V. R. C.
