W. Gordon Hanson was re-elected president of the Westmount Municipal Association at its annual general meeting in Victoria Hall Tuesday evening. Brief addresses were made by Mayor Walter A. Merrill, K.C., and Ald. Douglas Lorimer, while the guest speaker was George S. Mooney, joint director of the Montreal Industrial and Economic Bureau, who had as his subject, "Problems of Government in Metropolitan Areas."

Other officers elected included: Vice-president, C. V. Howard; secretary-treasurer, J. C. Binnie; honorary auditor, W. W. Williamson. Executive committee, George R. Atchison, D. K. Baldwin, Howard

TWO PERSONS ON SIDEWALK STRUCK BY CAR

Men Taken to Western Division of Montreal General Hospital for Examination

Two persons suffered shock and possible injuries when an automobile driven by John Beinschrott, 2058 Union avenue, Apt. 8, struck them as it swerved from the road onto the sidewalk opposite 3007 St. Antoine street at 12 a.m. on Sunday.

Donald Matheson, 68, of 23 Brooke avenue, and Robert Westwell, 72 Selby street, who were walking on the sidewalk, were taken to the Western Division of the Montreal General Hospital in a radio patrol car and examined by Dr. Aiken, who advised them to return for further examination if they felt any injuries sustained required medical treatment.

The driver of the car told police that the accident occurred as he was proceeding south on Atwater when the traffic light at St. Antoine street turned amber as he approached the intersection. He stated that a companion with him in the front seat of the car, fearing that it would pass the intersection against the light, grabbed hold of the steering wheel, causing the machine to mount the sidewalk.

The accident was investigated by Constables Scheffer and Carpenter.

Auto, Parked At Curb, Is Damaged

Believed to have been struck by another machine that failed to stop after the accident, an automobile left parked by Archibald Forman, 3230 The Boulevard, opposite his residence, was badly damaged between 5:30 P.M. and 7 P.M. on Monday.

Constables Dagg and Morgan, who investigated, reported that tire marks at the scene of the accident indicated that a car proceeding west on The Boulevard had struck Forman's machine and continued on its way.

No witnesses to the accident could be found.

The fenders, rear wheel, body and door on the parked vehicle were damaged.

Even Traffic Expert Is Not Immune to Accidents

Apparently even experts on traffic control are not immune to street accidents, for on Saturday afternoon a car driven by Sergeant Howard Baker, traffic technician attached to the Montreal Police Department, was involved in a collision with a taxi driven by George Woronka, 5370 Notre Dame street, west, on The Boulevard shortly west of Edgemoor road.

Sgt. Baker told Westmount police that he was proceeding in a westerly direction on The Boulevard directly in the rear of the taxi when the latter vehicle came to a sudden stop without any warning being given by its driver.

Sgt. Baker was unable to bring his car to a stop or to swerve in time to avoid striking the cab. The front fender on his machine was damaged and the left rear fender of the taxi was badly dented.

A second car driven by a member of the Montreal Police Department, Constable Joseph A. Baril, 8151 St. Gerad street, was also involved in a collision here. His car, which was proceeding east on Westmount avenue, and a machine driven by Miss Geraldine Keatney, 450 Strathcona avenue, coming in the opposite direction, collided at the corner of Forden avenue at 12:45 p.m. on Monday. But slight damage was caused the vehicles involved.

EXPLORER WILL ADDRESS GROUP HERE TONIGHT

Arthur B. Emmons 3rd to Speak on "The Ascent Of Mt. Nanda Devi"

"The Ascent of Mt. Nanda Devi," Tibetan peak which is the highest ever scaled by man, will be described in an illustrated lecture by Arthur B. Emmons III, author, explorer and diplomat, before the Young People's League of Shaar Hashomayim this evening at 8:30.

Mr. Emmons, who participated in this daring exploit, is the author of widely known works on exploration. He is a member of the diplomatic corps of the United States. His lecture will be illustrated by moving pictures which he took in the Himalayas, as well as by explanatory slides.

Admission is to members of the Young People's League and their friends.

"Education for a Life's Vocation" was the topic of an illuminating address delivered by Miss Beryl F. Truax, president of the Provincial Association of Protestant Teachers and French Specialist at Westmount High School, before an open meeting of the Parent Teachers Association of Shaar Hashomayim at the synagogue last Tuesday evening.

Miss Truax stressed the fallacy of assuming that a college education was a desideratum for every young person, pointing out that vocational inclinations and aptitudes should be given primary consideration.

The address, which was the feature of the meeting was preceded by a lively debate between Edgar Wener and Tamar Shine for the affirmative, and Irwin Shulman and Rosalind Greenwood for the negative; on the relative gravity of threats to Jewish survival inherent in modern totalitarian systems.

MEMBERS APPOINTED TO VACANT POSITIONS

The young men's cabinet of the Westmount Y.M.C.A. held a very important meeting last Saturday afternoon, when all members of the cabinet were present with the exception of Stan Gilpin.

Several important matters were decided, and two or three vacant positions were filled by the various members. Stan Gilpin was elected to the National Young Men's Committee of the Y.M.C.A. Doug Scott and Howard Matheson have taken on the responsibility of supplying the Eastern Ontario and Quebec Conference with news of the local association. It was decided to have an after gym get-together on Wednesday, January 31, at which time Mario Richard Gabriel, ski instructor from St. Moritz, will give a lecture on skiing.

Those attending the meeting were: Howard Matheson, Doug Scott, T. Seaman, Howard Griswald, Steve Walbridge, and Hugh Noble.

YES, SIR, IT WAS REALLY THAT LONG... ONLY...

Only, somehow or other it got away! Wallace Beery, veteran movie star whose portrayals of big, blustering kind-hearted saps have won him a faithful following around the world, tells one of his less plausible fish stories to Jack Hirschberg, whose columns from Hollywood are carried regularly in this paper. Wally and Jack are snapped at Metro Goldwyn Mayer where Beery is currently working on "Arouse and Beware."

Police Arrest Two Men On Charge of Burglary

With one man held on bail of $950 and a second out on personal bail, Westmount Police are continuing their investigation into the burglary of May's Rite Fit store, 1219 Greene avenue, in which over $2,000 worth of goods were stolen on the night of Dec. 17. The value of the goods taken was the highest recorded in any robbery here for well over a year.

Arrested on charges of burglary in connection with the case are a man who gave his name as George Ethier, no address, and a taxi driver whose name is withheld by police. Ethier was apprehended last week and was scheduled to appear in Montreal Criminal Court this morning for preliminary hearing. His case will be tried in Montreal courts because he chose trial by jury when brought before Recorder Charles A. Hale in Westmount Police Court.

The taxi driver was allowed his freedom on personal bail by the local Recorder.

Police Act Swiftly

Westmount police acted with remarkable swiftness in the case recovering most of the goods stolen within four hours after the robbery was committed. When informed of the break-in Detective Captain Broden and Sergeant Tremblay, placed in charge of the case, first asked Constable Riddock, on night patrol duty in the vicinity of the store, if he had noticed anything of a suspicious nature at the approximate time of the burglary. The constable gave them the license number of a taxi he had seen cruising about at the time and which had aroused his curiosity.

Driver Returns Goods

The Detectives then approached the driver at his customary stand and questioned him regarding the burglary. While at first denying any knowledge of the affair, the cab driver finally agreed to attempt to recover the stolen goods and these he placed in the hands of the police a few hours after the burglary had been committed.

The driver told detectives that he had been called to the corner of Greene avenue and St. Catherine where he was to meet his fare. When he arrived there, he stated, he was told to drive into a lane while some articles were loaded into his car.

Police placed the cab driver under arrest on a charge of breaking and entering and later apprehended Ethier. Among the goods stolen were 666 pairs of ladies' stockings, 11 ladies' scarfs and 101 pairs of men's socks.

Silver Jubilee Of Organization On Monday

The Silver Jubilee of the Young Men's Canadian Club will be observed Monday at the Queen's Hotel. Guest speaker at the meeting will be Sir Gerald Campbell, K.C., M.G., High Commissioner in Canada for Great Britain.

Tribute will be paid to the founder of the club, P. W. McLagan, former Mayor of Westmount. Many former officers and members are expected to attend.

The Young Men's Club owes its origin to Mr. McLagan. It was formed by him with the object of enlisting the interest of young men of the community in public affairs.

Throughout the past 25 years Mr. McLagan has continued his interest in the organization he brought into being and rarely misses a meeting. He continues to hold the office of Honorary President.

FRONTIERSMEN READY TO GIVE HELP IN WAR

"A" Squadron Holds Meetings Each Thursday Night in Queen's School

The Legion of Frontiersmen (Canadian Command) is represented by "A" Squadron under Lieut. (Capt.) W. J. Lucas, and meets every Thursday evening at Queen's School. This squadron has representatives from all arms of the service—men now past the age limit for active service but who are desirous of keeping in trim and feel that they will be ready to again prove their worth should the need arise.

The Legion of Frontiersmen was founded in 1904 by Captain Roger Pocock, late of the Royal North West Mounted Police—assisted by Colonel Driscoll of "Driscoll's Scouts," an Irregular Corps raised during the South African War.

The Legion is firmly established throughout the British Empire, not only in its membership, but also by past deeds which are firmly interwoven into the history of our great Commonwealth.

The Canadian Command has achieved much, and even today the founder, Capt. Roger Pocock, must have a detailed report on the activities of our Command. Very proud he is of our national solidarity, and of our enviable position of being leaders, so that others may be trained along our lines. The standard of eligibility, as authorized by Capt. Pocock, has proven that the Founder has studied the Empire needs from many angles.

FORMAL OPENING OF NEW SNOWSHOE CLUB BUILDING TO TAKE PLACE SHORTLY

New St. George Club Structure on Site of Old Clubhouse on Boulevard Which Burned Down Feb. 16, 1939 — Gilbert Layton Re-elected President At Annual Meeting on Monday — Finances Shown To Be Strong

The formal opening of the new building of the St. George Snowshoe Club, erected on the site of the old structure at the corner of The Boulevard and Aberdeen, will take place within the next fortnight, it was announced this week.

The old building, with traditions dating back to 1874, was almost totally destroyed by fire on February 16 of last year. Firemen, who arrived on the scene shortly after the outbreak was reported about 1 p.m., were unable to save the historic building which was constructed mostly of wood that had become brittle with age. The outbreak was Westmount's first major fire since the Belgian Embassy building on Kensington avenue near Sherbrooke street, was razed by flames five years previously.

The annual meeting of the club was held this Monday night in the new building when Gilbert Layton, Minister Without Portfolio in the former Duplessis cabinet, was re-elected president. H. M. Reid and L. J. Skelton were named vice-presidents while the directors are S. G. Wright, S. Kane, K. A. Wilson, K.C., J. C. Meadowcroft and R. H. Monks.

The financial condition of the club was shown to be strong in the report of the president. He stated that the new clubhouse had been constructed at a cost of $26,000, but that the indebtedness of the club had been materially reduced. It was stated that the new building, with its modern equipment, could be operated at less cost than the old structure.

The members expressed their regret at the loss of the old building. Many trophies and articles which formed an important part in the tradition of the club were lost in the fire.

WINDOW, DOOR ARE DEDICATED AS MEMORIALS

Ceremony at St. Matthias Church Officiated At By Bishop of Montreal

A memorial window and a memorial door were dedicated at St. Matthias Church on Sunday morning by Right Reverend Arthur Carlisle, Bishop of Montreal.

The door, which is made of oak and leads from the vestry to the church, was placed in memory of Allan Coursolles MacDougal, in memory of Mrs. W. S. Rugh.

The rector of the church, the Rev. Gilbert Oliver, conducted the service, while the Bishop preached the sermon, taking as his theme, "The Miracle at the Marriage Feast."

Prior to the sermon the Bishop congratulated the congregation of St. Matthias on its increase in numbers and on the contributions to the missionary budget.

Teachers Co-Operate In War Educational Program

Colonel Wilfrid Bovey, of McGill University and chairman of the Committee on Education in the Armed Forces, in addressing a meeting of the Westmount Teachers Monday evening, stated that the Government effort at offering educational facilities to the enlisted men would have been impossible without the co-operation which it has received from the teachers who have donated their services to the above undertaking.

Although education for soldiers was advocated as far back as seven hundred years ago, it was not until after the War of 1914-1918 that the need for rehabilitating returned men was realized. With this in mind the present curriculum consists of three parts: (a) Teaching the fundamental sciences of war-fare plus conversational language courses. (b) Vocational courses with the main emphasis on rehabilitation. (c) A short history of the present world situation including current events.

SERVICE BADGE IS ISSUED BY BOYS BRIGADE

First Westmount Company Prepares for National Service Medal

News from Boys' Brigade headquarters that a special National Service Badge is being struck, similar to that issued during the last Great War, for boys who perform Red Cross and other duties, has been enthusiastically received by members of the First Westmount Company. To win this award, a boy must complete 100 hours of special work, at any time during the present conflict. The badge is as large as a fifty-cent piece and made of silver; something all Brigade boys will cherish for years to come. Captain Richardson has arranged for boys to work in teams, each in charge of an N.C.O., who will keep the record of his squad's time as well as being responsible for seeing that every boy is notified when and where the work is to be done.

Boys of The Brigade in the British Isles over sixteen years of age have been performing very valuable duties as air raid precaution squads and have been highly praised for their efficiency. Special ambulance squads are being trained to work as stretcher bearers as wounded soldiers are brought to the various hospitals in the Isles. This was carried out most effectively during the last war and hundreds of boys earned their National Service badge as well as other decorations for gallantry.

The Company swimming meet has had to be postponed until January 27th, due to hockey games which prevented the entrants from participating. However Ptes. John Lamb and Jackie Patterson passed their second stage swimming tests, both within the allotted time.

(b) Vocational courses with the main emphasis on rehabilitation. (c) A short history of the present world situation including current events.

In closing, Colonel Bovey said that it was fitting that a group of teachers should be the first ones to hear of this undertaking in its entirety. Mr. Hoover also spoke for a few minutes on the subject of group insurance for teachers. Vocal selections were sung by Master Alexander Vukmerovitch, Miss Sheila Ward, and a trio of girls from Westmount High School. Pres. J. H. Patrick was in the chair.

FARMING IN 1914-1918

With the farmers of Canada counted upon to help see that the Allied granary is kept full for the duration of the war, it is interesting at this time to review their efforts in the years 1914 to 1918. This will suffice to indicate just what they can do in the present conflict.

The agricultural industry in Ontario can be used to illustrate the experience of the years of the First Great War. In 1914 there were 9,621,000 acres sown to field crops in this province. By 1918, this had been increased to 9,992,000 acres. In other words this acreage had been stepped up by 371,000 acres during the war years.

Not only was agriculture in Ontario changed by being expanded, but statistics show that it underwent some interesting alterations in respect to the nature of its crops. One of these was the switch from fall to spring wheat. In 1914, 685,000 acres of fall wheat were reaped, and 118,000 acres of spring wheat. By 1918, the acreage in fall wheat had dropped to 362,000 acres, while that of spring wheat had increased to 351,000.

The acres of Ontario oats were stepped up from 2,776,000 to 2,924,000, and barley from 579,000 to 660,000. Farmers grew less rye, the acreage falling from 138,900 to 112,700, while they increased their buckwheat from 177,000 to 223,000. The biggest decrease to be noted was in corn. In 1914, 290,800 acres of husking corn and 418,000 acres for silos were grown, and by 1918 this had dropped to 195,300 for husking and 380,900 for silos. The mixed grain acreage went up from 414,000 to 619,000. Other field crops of lesser importance showed varying fluctuations.

Analyzing these figures, it would appear that Ontario farmers during the First Great War emphasized feeding grains, rather than those which are largely sold for cash. Thus the acreage for wheat, corn, and rye was decreased while that for oats barley buckwheat and mixed grains was increased. The latter group forms the basis of the grain fed to stock in most districts of the province.

A reflection of this can be found in live-stock statistics. The number of cattle in Ontario in 1914 was 2,604,000; in 1918 it reached 2,867,000, an increase of 263,000 head. Curiously enough the number of pigs dropped from 1,770,000 to 1,695,000, a decrease of 75,000, with the number of sheep also slightly down. Ontario farmers had considerably fewer horses in 1918 than at the start of the First Great War, there being 774,500 in 1914 and 732,900 in 1918. This may be explained by the number purchased for overseas service. Thus while farmers turned to grain suitable for feeding, it was the production of cattle that received most attention. This is also shown by the fact that in 1914 there were 3,302,000 acres devoted to pasture; in 1918 there were 3,561,000 acres, an increase of 259,000 acres.

A recapitulation of the figures shows that not only did Ontario farmers increase their area in field crops by 371,000, but they added 259,000 acres to their pasture land, a total of 630,000 acres additional being put into productive uses.

These figures mean little unless they can be related to what may happen in Ontario at the present time. In 1938 there were only 9,088,000 acres used for field crops in this province, 533,000 fewer than in 1914, and 904,000 fewer than in 1918. In 1938 there were 2,793,000 acres in pasture, or 509,000 acres fewer than in 1914, and 768,000 fewer than in 1918. Thus, if Ontario farmers utilize all the acreage devoted to field crops and pasture in 1918, they have a total of 1,672,000 acres additional that can be used to provide food for the Allies.

Comparative statistics for other provinces would also show an expansion in agricultural efforts during the First Great War, indicative of what can happen now. But one cannot close this analysis of the Ontario situation without wondering what happened to these 1,672,000 acres devoted to crop and pasture in 1918 that were not so used in 1938, and asking why this productive land has become idle—more than 12 per cent of the area in use at the end of the First Great War.

Schiaparelli, the Paris designer, doesn't believe women's hats will be "funny looking" next spring. But my dear madam, we like 'em funny!

An Ohio man, it is reported, varnished the kitchen floor to surprise his wife—who then surprised him by pointing out that he had used a can of maple syrup. Home, Sweet Home.

BOOK REVIEW

BY HOWARD S. ROSS

"THE HEART OF HOWE"

Selections from the Letters and Speeches of Joseph Howe, Edited by D. C. Harvey, M.A. (Oxon.) F.R.S.C., Archivist of Nova Scotia, Special Lecturer on History in Dalhousie University with a Foreword by The Honorable Angus L. Macdonald, Premier of Nova Scotia. Oxford University Press, Toronto.

"It is my belief," wrote Premier Macdonald in his Foreword, "that Howe could have passed easily and naturally to the first rank of any deliberative assembly in the world."

Of all the statesmen Nova Scotia gave to Canada, Howe, in the opinion of many, easily stands first.

Every Canadian schoolboy, no doubt, knows his name and some of his story, fewer have a direct acquaintance with his speeches and writings. Professor Harvey brings us a representative selection from the more celebrated speeches and letters of this great Canadian within the reach of all. Besides making the choice of material, the author has contributed an Introduction, a Biography of Howe, and Introductory notes to the separate selections.

Professor Harvey thanks Sir Joseph Chisholm, Chief Justice of Nova Scotia for permission to make his selections in the first instance from his comprehensive edition of The Speeches and Public Letters of Joseph Howe.

The closing quotation and one of the best known of Howe's many wise statements reads: "A wise nation preserves its records, gathers up its monuments, decorates the tombs of its illustrious dead, repairs its great public structures, and fosters national pride and love of country, by perpetual reference to the sacrifices and glories of the past." (1871)

We don't know how much truth there is in the report, but a member of a Negro platoon at the front writes back that he is "serving with the famous blackguards."

Dr. Arthur E. Morgan, president of Antioch College and noted hydraulic engineer and chairman of Tennessee Valley Authority in a recent address said in part: "If today it should become the dominant purpose of colleges and universities to help students to synthesize all the elements of their education into an inclusive philosophy and pattern of living the possibilities are momentous. In the economic world probably the greater part of all the possible productive capacity of society is lost in waste, inadequate management, conflict, and internal friction; while only a fraction emerges as wealth to supply human wants. Such a statement seems grossly exaggerated until we estimate, item by item, the losses due to war and preparation for war, to over expansion and speculation and the resulting depressions, to restriction of labor output, to poor business management, to duplication of facilities, to poor skill and training in all callings, and intangible but all-pervading losses due to putting self-interest above the general good."

The Examiner's Hidden Titles Contest

The Westmount Examiner's Hidden Titles Contest is run with the kind co-operation of Mr. Godel, manager of the Westmount Theatre. Each week twelve passes are given to the six lucky winners who comply with the following requirements:—

Simply find the two "ads." in the current issue of The Westmount Examiner in which the names of the two feature pictures being shown at the Westmount Theatre during the first half of the coming week are hidden.

Submit all answers to The Contest Editor, The Westmount Examiner, 2191 Hampton Avenue, using the special coupon provided in each issue for the purpose.

Contestants must be over 16 years of age. Residents of Westmount, only, are eligible. All answers must be in the office not later than Wednesday, and the names of the winners will be published in Thursday's issue. A convenient coupon will be found elsewhere in the paper.

The winners are drawn from among those who submit the correct answers as, unfortunately, it would be impossible to give passes to every one submitting the right answers.

The winners of last week's contest are as follows and their passes will be received in Monday's mail:

Mrs. W. Carter, 19 Stuyvenor Ave., Apt. 1; Doris Norton, 138 Abbott Ave.; Hayden Dudley, 86 Somerville Ave.; Mrs. W. Moehring, 366 Grosvenor Ave.; Margaret Byrne, 4170 St. Catherine W.; Mrs. J. Macdonald, 2066 Claremont Ave., Apt. 38.

Such a statement seems grossly exaggerated until we estimate, item by item, the losses due to war and preparation for war, to over expansion and speculation and the resulting depressions, to restriction of labor output, to poor business management, to duplication of facilities, to poor skill and training in all callings, and intangible but all-pervading losses due to putting self-interest above the general good."

Considerable Increase In Number Of Entries

With all entries received in the classes for original musical and literary compositions, the Executive of the Quebec Musical Competition Festival announce that there has been a considerable increase in the number of entries in these classes this year. The finalists in the English literary works are to have their efforts judged by Her Excellency the Lady Tweedsmuir. The performance classes whose final date for entry is January 22 have proved very popular in former festivals and indications point to a greater number of contestants than last year. The Festival has been fortunate in securing the services of foremost adjudicators for these classes in the persons of Dr. C. H. Moody, organist and choirmaster of Ripon Cathedral, England, and John Goss, distinguished English baritone. These two men will judge the English Choral and vocal solo classes, while Bernard Naylor, an official adjudicator for the British Federation of Music Festivals will judge the instrumental classes and give his report in English and French. Mrs. Zimmerman and Mrs. Varney both of Columbia University, will judge the English and French diction classes respectively.

At a meeting of the membership campaign committee held early this week arrangements were completed for the opening of the campaign on Monday 15th. The committee is headed by G. Gordon Hyde and will be assisted by Mrs. Samuel Bronfman and Mrs. Albert Dupuis. Miss Alice Lighthall will once again act as organizing secretary.

In the opinion of the judges of former Festivals the performances here have been second to none in the Dominion while two of the male choirs heard last year were easily the best of those entered in any of the festivals across Canada. It is significant that eighty-five per cent of the participants in former festivals were children of school age and English and French educationalists in the Province have given the movement their whole-hearted endorsement.

Mayor stated that the Council had an exceedingly busy period since its election last January. He referred to the special arrangements necessary for the Royal Visit; the number of new by-laws governing garbage collection, sanitation, health and traffic, adopted; the many changes made necessary in the municipal recreational program due to the loss of the use of the Athletic Grounds which were taken over for war purposes; erection of new parks and the purchase of a property on Sherbrooke street at Wood-avenue to be made into a park this year.

Proud to be Mayor
Mayor Merrill stated that he was extremely proud to have been chosen to head the Council, and spoke highly of the aldermen with whom he is associated. Although members of the Council were not always in complete agreement regarding civic matters, this he considered a good sign. In the end differences had always been satisfactorily straightened out, he said.

Referring to the Police Department, Mayor Merrill declared that the "fixing" of traffic tickets or discrimination in the treatment of law violators was never tolerated and never would be, as such tactics could only result in loss of efficiency on the part of the force.

All municipal employees, the Mayor continued, displayed a loyalty to the City that was outstanding. This was due, he believed, to the feeling of security that their jobs gave them.

George Mooney, the guest speaker, reviewed the problems confronting the government of large metropolitan areas. "The process of urbanization which has been going on for the past 50 years has brought larger aggregates of population and wider areas within the orbit of the central dominant city, but we have continued to treat this parent city as a separate municipal corporation," he declared.

"As a consequence, in most metropolitan areas, we find that the urban governmental system consists of a bewildering maze of overlapping authorities and of a growing number of independent suburban and satellite cities, which though they take their life from the parent city owe no allegiance to it," Mr. Mooney said.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

"Life" is the subject of the lesson-sermon to be read in Churches of Christ Scientist throughout the world on Sunday January 21. The golden text is from I John 5:11. "This is the record, that God that given to us eternal life, and this life is in his Son."

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "He that is our God is the God of salvation; and unto God the Lord belong the issues from death." (Psalm 68:20)

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Life is real, and death is the illusion. A demonstration of the facts of Soul in Jesus' way resolves the dark visions of material sense into harmony and immortality. Man's privilege at this supreme moment is to prove the words of our Master: 'If a man keep my saying, he shall never see death.'" (Page 428).

Quake Rips Turkish Towns

Desolation was wrought by nature in a hemisphere torn by the war of man as earthquake struck central Turkey, tumbling entire villages into ruins and left thousands destitute in the midst of blizzards. Dead and wreckage littered the streets of peasant towns over an area of 4000 square miles. Scenes like this one taken after Turkish quake of 1925 are being repeated in the latest disaster. Map shows large towns in Turkey that were hit by heaviest shocks of the earthquake.

MUSICAL Sharps, Flats and NATURALS by FRANCES GOLTMAN

"UNCLE ERNEST" If you were to ask any musical child or grown up who "Uncle Ernest" was, you would be told Ernest Schelling. His love for young people and children was the source of his affectionate nickname "Uncle Ernest."

This fine man's art was many-sided for he was great as conductor, pianist and educator and his ardent attachment to children led him into channels of imparting symphonic music in a simplified understandable manner to young folks. A few years ago this idea was started locally with our orchestra but the children's concerts did not meet with the same interest or success as those in New York City.

"Uncle Ernest" Schelling died last month and his loss to the musical world is one that will be felt for many years to come since he led the Young People's Concerts in Philadelphia and was sent to Europe at the age of eight where he studied under several famous masters, including Mathias and Leschetzky. Later he studied under Paderewski in Switzerland, practicing eight hours a day!

His life was a busy and eventful one but had sad moments too. After studying with Paderewski he performed in public and was so disappointed with the results that he entered a monastery. Later he emerged from seclusion and made a success.

During the World War he was a major and won the Legion of Honour and also received the Distinguished Service Medal. When Ernest Schelling undertook the children's concerts in 1922 his method of conducting and explaining merited great attention. His compositions have been played by many leading orchestras under Toscanini, Stokowski and others.

Rudolph Ganz has just been engaged to take the place of the late Ernest Schelling and it is expected that they will be succeeded much on the same style as previously. Mr. Ganz is a sterling musician whom this writer heard in a piano recital at Windsor Hall here some years ago. Since that time he has been made president of Chicago Musical College and formerly was conductor of the St. Louis Symphony for six years.

Linda Rand, at the tender age of nine months, already looks upon her profession as a screen actress with the ease of a veteran.

With her current role in "Emergency Squad," Paramount's melodrama of the police-fire department "suicide" units, she has played in three different films, starting when she was only seven months old.

Caddie: "What game was that?"

DEDICATION OF NEW COMMUNITY CENTRE HELD

Colorful Service Marks Opening of Temple Emanu-El Building

A colorful and dramatic service in observance of the dedication of Temple Emanu-El's new Community Centre was held on Friday evening. An impressive portion of the ceremony was a procession of clergy, Board of Trustees and the massed choirs of Erskine and American Church and that of Temple Emanu-El.

Another highlight in the service was the reading of the Torah portion from a scroll rescued from Nazi Germany. The Haftorah was read by Rabbi Julius Berger of Shaar Zion Congregation, while the Temple Centre Edifice was presented by Sydney Isaacs and the acceptance thereof by Dr. Abram Bercovitch. Addresses were delivered by Dr. Stern, Dr. F. W. Kerr and Dr. Samuel Goldenson of New York.

At the conclusion of the service, the entire congregation led by officers and clergy assembled in the new building, and at the moment of entrance, Mrs. Henry Simon snipped a white ribbon with gold scissors, separating the two buildings. A prayer of dedication was offered after special selections were rendered by the choirs. At the conclusion of the benediction, the congregation made a tour of inspection of the new Temple structure.

At the Saturday morning service a special dedication service for the pupils of the Religious School was held. The ritual was read by post-graduates Franklin Levee and Constance Carrin. Brief addresses on "The Temple" were given by Leonard Shulman, Norma Carrick and Lawrence Tarshi.

The Torah reading was given by David Marks and David Shifer; Haftorah, Allen Silverstein; duet, Ellen Snyder and Marjorie Mortimer. The address of dedication was given by Miss Frances Katz, B.Sc., directress of Religious School, Dr. Samuel Goldenson of New York, who was guest of honor at the school service addressed the boys and girls. After the service, special badges commemorating the dedication and bearing a photograph of the Temple and Community Centre on it, were distributed to the pupils. At this service the school choir was under the direction of Miss Evelyn Benjamin with Miss Vera Groves at the organ.

Annual Meeting The Saturday night banquet and annual meeting took place in the new Temple Centre. Dr. Abram Bercovitch was re-elected president as well as the entire Board of Trustees. The guest speaker was Rabbi Isaac Landman of Brooklyn, New York. Greetings in behalf of the constituent societies were brought by Mrs. Arthur Simon, Mr. Martin Arnovitz and Miss Marjorie Bercovitch. In behalf of sister congregations, greetings were brought by Rabbi Abramowitz, Shaar Hashomayim Congregation; Rabbi Berger, Shaar Zion; J. Sternthal, Adath Israel; and Captain Sebag Montefiore of Spanish and Portuguese Synagogue. Others on the program were A. L. Mailman, Hyman Grover, C. N. Sommer, while H. E. Greetings were also brought by Dr. Samuel Goldenson of New York.

The Brotherhood, Sisterhood and Young People's Society held a dedicatory celebration on Sunday evening, in the new Centre. Lawrence Marks presided and Harry Wolfe and Bob Mortimer were in charge of arrangements.

Lewis, Dr. and Mrs. Abram Bercovitch, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Hecht, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Felson, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Hertz, Mr. and Mrs. L. Reinharz, Mr. and Mrs. Colin Spiegel, Mr. and Mrs. J. Lewinson.

Mrs. R. S. Stern and Mrs. Felix Lewis gave gifts of two ornamental brass candelabras.

Many Activities Are Carried On At YWCA

Classes and clubs have started their activities again, at the Young Women's Christian Association, Dorchester St., after the holiday season. In the Health Education Department, the regular Tuesday and Thursday classes in gym for the business girl are in full swing. A new beginners' group in badminton has been organized on Thursday morning for those who wish instruction.

Children's classes in dancing and swimming on Saturday mornings, are back to their regular routine again. The entire swimming department is busy with preparations for the Aquatic Meet, which is to be held on January 26, with spectacular displays of fancy diving and swimming and formation swimming.

The Craft Shop, which has been built up during the last two years, is open every Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, from seven to 10, for regular courses. Wednesday afternoons are to be featured by short courses in such special crafts as the making of masks, and plaster prints. Instruction is offered in the regular crafts - fine metal work, leather tooling and dyeing, glove-making, bookbinding, marionettes, weaving and rug-making.

In the Home Economics Department, the second term is now underway with classes for beginners, intermediates and advanced work, given in both sewing and cooking. Instruction is offered during the day and evening, so that both housewife and working girl can take these courses.

The Library has just issued its winter booklet with scores of new books on current affairs, travel, psychology, biography, as well as new novels of note. Books on vocational guidance, marriage relationships and those written by personnel directors for the job-holding girl, are also included. Recent books on clothes-designing and cooking have been added to the collection. All members of the Association, or those taking any classes in the building are entitled to the free use of the library so the demand for books is heavy. In 1939, some 20,000 books were circulated.

Club activities have begun again, among some 20 groups of varying age and interests. Meeting each week, the clubs plan their own programs, according to the interests of the members. Educational projects, that are being featured this term, are as varied as discussions on Social and Business Etiquette, How to Look for Jobs, Fashion, Choosing your Vocation, Public Affairs, First Aid, Personality Development, will suggest. Activities as dances, parties, hikes, skating and tobogganing are also part of the program. All clubs will be taking some part in Red Cross activities, as they did before the holiday season.

The Red Cross Branch at the Y.W.C.A., under the presidency of Mrs. W. G. Lasher, has re-opened its workrooms.

Inconsistencies Of The Social Life Scored

The contention that the modern mind cannot stand ritual and is not allied to it was condemned as an inconsistency by Rabbi Charles Bender in an address to the Women's Auxiliary of Shaar Hashomayim in the Auxiliary Room of the Synagogue, Cote St. Antoine Rd., on "Religion and Social Inconsistencies."

Those who criticize and condemn ritual in religion as a form of mummerly, maintain it in social life, forgetting that Jewish ritual is the accumulation of customs through centuries of suffering and is the concomitant of history, the speaker maintained.

"We criticize and do not like that which we cannot understand, feel or know" said Rabbi Bender. Judaism never was a religion alone, the speaker contended, but a civilization composite of all basic elements of religion, theology, philosophy and culture. Judaism was not made to fit us but we should develop and elevate ourselves in accordance with its teachings" the lecturer concluded.

An era of peace in Palestine with Arab Jewish relations continually improving was advocated by Rabbi S. Gershon Levi as an opportune time for further development of that country, in an address on "What is Happening to the Jews?" Rabbi Levi lauded the work of the Youth Aliyah in salvaging youth in Palestine.

Mrs. Edward Solomon, president, acted as chairman and told that a new venture in the educational department of the Synagogue was being planned.

gogue was the teaching of English in special classes recently organized. The Dramatic group would present plays on January 27, prepared under professional leadership. The chairman announced the "Give or Get Lunch" to be held in February. A Red Cross Station functions twice a week in the board room of the Synagogue, every Tuesday and Thursday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Dr. H. Abramowitz spoke briefly. Mrs. Solomon introduced and thanked the speakers. Mrs. M. J. Heilig read the treasurer's statement. Tea was served.

Free Music Added By U.S. Library

With the 100 gift albums of symphonic records presented by the National Committee for Music Appreciation, the Washington Public Library has established a free music lending division.

The Washington Library is the first public library to benefit from the National Committee's plan to develop public record libraries throughout the country.

"The time has come when music, like the great classics of literature, should be made as accessible to the public as the works of Shakespeare, Longfellow or any other author," says Edward T. Inggle, Director of the National Com-

For his concluding encore Mr. de Marly chose part of Liszt's Concerto in A major and with the assistance of Mrs. Colin Forrest representing the orchestra at the console of the organ, brought a most pleasant evening to a close.

Canada-Voyage Maintains Service To Tourists

The exigencies of the present war situation have put a serious damper upon what, up to the last few months, has been intriguing diversion for tourists from the humdrum routine of everyday existence to the never-ending allure of the highways and byways of the Old World and the Orient. Ocean going luxury travel is understood to have become so curtailed that many agencies in this line of endeavor find it expedient to operate with only skeleton staffs, and some to suspend operations altogether. This condition does not, however, apply to Canada-Voyage, widely-known and progressive travel bureau, in its entirety.

The Way to a Man's Heart

Frostings That Take The Cake

To some people cake is just an excuse to eat frosting. For example, at top, coconut cream frosting next to shadow frosting. Below, left, felicity or butterscotch fudge frosting. And down in the lower right, orange fluff frosting to make all cake eaters happy.

Entertaining is in season. So of course new frostings for cake are in season, too. Try these:

Felicity Frosting

Two eggs whites, unbeaten; 2 cups brown sugar, firmly packed; dash of salt; 7 tablespoons water; 2 squares unsweetened chocolate; 2 teaspoons butter. Combine egg whites, sugar, salt, and water in top of double boiler, beating with rotary egg beater until thoroughly mixed. Place over rapidly boiling water, beat constantly with rotary egg beater, and cook 7 minutes, or until frosting will stand in peaks. Remove from fire, but allow to remain over hot water, and beat 2 minutes longer. Place over cold water and continue beating 3 minutes. To frost cake spread each layer and sides of cake thinly with

Butterscotch Fudge Frosting

Two cups light brown sugar, firmly packed; 1/2 cup butter; 1/4 cups granulated sugar; 3/4 cup top milk; 1/2 cup water.

Add brown sugar to butter and cook over low flame, stirring constantly, until mixture darkens slightly (about 5 to 6 minutes). Remove from fire and add granulated sugar, milk and water. Return to fire and boil, without stirring until small amount of mixture forms a very soft ball in cold water (232 degrees F.). Remove from fire. Cool to lukewarm (110 degrees F.); beat until right consistency to spread. If necessary, place over hot water to keep soft while spreading. Makes enough frosting to cover tops and sides of two 9-inch layers. Double recipe for three 10-inch layers.

If desired, add 1/2 cup chopped pecan meats to part of frosting and use as filling. Spread remaining frosting on top and sides of cake and decorate top with pecan halves.

Orange Fluff Frosting

Two eggs whites, unbeaten, 1 cup sugar, 1 tablespoon water, 3 tablespoons orange juice, 1/2 teaspoon grated orange rind, 2 drops almond extract.

Combine egg whites, sugar, water, and orange juice in top of double boiler, beating with rotary egg beater until thoroughly mixed. Place over rapidly boiling water, beat constantly with rotary egg beater, and cook 7 minutes, or until frosting will stand in peaks. Remove from boiling water; add orange rind and almond extract and beat until thick enough to spread. Garnish with orange sections, free from membrane. Makes enough frosting to cover top and sides of two 9-inch layers.

A Well Balanced Menu

BREAKFAST: Grapefruit, creamed dried beef, whole-wheat toast, coffee, milk.
LUNCHEON: Tomato juice, French toast, crisp bacon, jelly, tangerines, tea, milk.
DINNER: Fricassee of chicken, dumplings, squash, stewed pears, felicity cake, coffee, milk.

frosting. Pile remaining frosting an inch high on top of cake. Cool. Melt chocolate with 2 teaspoons butter. When frosting is set, pour chocolate mixture over cake, letting it run down on sides.

Makes enough frosting to cover tops and sides of two 9-inch layers, or tops and sides of three 8-inch layers.

City Nurse Addresses

Tea Held For Mothers

Miss A. Peverley, municipal nurse for the City of Westmount, was the guest speaker at a tea for mothers held on Friday in King School. Miss Peverley discussed "Quarantine Regulations and Communicable Disease Control."

A few of the regulations set forth by the Provincial Board of Health as minimum requirements in communicable disease control are as follows: (1) Parents, tutors or any person in charge of minors are held responsible for the execution of the present by-laws. Whenever the head of any household is aware or has reason to believe that any person dwelling in his home has a communicable disease, he shall within 24 hours give notice to the Municipal Sanitary authority. This same notification is required of the physician. Any person who neglects to give such notification shall be liable to a fine of not more than $20 per day for each day during which such neglect lasts. All "suspicion" cases shall be isolated in a separate room, as long as, in the opinion of the Municipal Sanitary authority, the suspicion lasts.

The municipal authority may order the removal of a patient with a communicable disease to hospital when necessary. Children or adolescents who have previously had a particular disease shall not have access to schools if they continue living in the infected house.

Whenever a communicable disease occurs in a dwelling, persons within such dwelling shall not attend schools until they have secured a certificate from the Municipal authority stating that all danger of infection has passed.

In the prevention of any disease, good health habits are definitely the parents' responsibility. Good food habits, regular and adequate sleep, suitable recreation and an annual health examination are important. Tuberculosis is preventable and curable. If a child has been exposed to it, a simple skin test can be made to ascertain whether or not he has become infected.

The occurrence of diphtheria is rare because children are being immunized. Doctors advise that this be done as soon as possible after the baby is six months old. The problem of controlling many of the other diseases would be simple if more attention was paid to the isolation of children who have common colds or similar symptoms.

During the business session, Mrs. Dawson read a letter from Alexandra School thanking the Association for the donation of toys which had been sent to them at Christmas time.

NEWS OF THE THEATRE WORLD

THEATRICAL ATTRACTIONS

Kissing Scenes Should Show Common Sense

"Common sense and good taste." Thus does Ernst Lubitsch, who has directed glamorous Garbo, dispose of Hollywood's long-debated question, "How long should a kissing scene be?"

"Kissing scenes," declared Lubitsch, who directed Garbo in "Ninotchka," which starts on Saturday at the York United Theatre "should be as realistic as possible but at the same time never overdone. Various types of players can handle them differently according to their own technique. But they shouldn't as a rule go more than three seconds. The danger is that an over-enthusiastic kiss will start an audience laughing."

"Lubitsch Touches"

Lubitsch, noted for his whimsicalities which Hollywood calls "Lubitsch touches," has wanted to direct Garbo, for the past thirteen years. But it was only when as a producer-director and the picture he was slated to produce had to be delayed that he had the opportunity. They have been friends for years.

"It's the kind of story I've always wanted to see her in," declares the director. "It's ultra-modern, down-to-earth, very human, and has many sparkling moments of comedy woven about a dramatic central theme. She plays a Russian woman commissar reared in the stern Soviet code, who visits Paris on government business, meets a gay French count, falls in love, has a whirl at the gayeties of the French capital and becomes a woman of glamour. Then, called back to Russia and separated from her lover, she becomes a dramatic figure. There is a telephone scene in which she jokes with her lover, knowing that she's leaving him, that has more dramatic punch than even the telephone scene in "The Great Ziegfeld."

Douglas Plays Count

Melvyn Douglas plays the French count opposite the Swedish star, Ina Claire provides much comedy and also serves as the feminine villain in an ultra-polite way. Bela Lugosi plays his first sympathetic role. "People are so accustomed to him as 'Dracula' that I thought a sympathetic moment would surprise audiences as much as it did him," said Lubitsch.

Cary Grant and Carole Lombard in a scene from the film "In Name Only" opening Sunday at the Monkland United Theatre for a three day engagement.

A ROMANTIC DUET

John Hubbard plays romantic hero to glamorous Joan Bennett in the hectic doings which take place in Hal Roach's "The Housekeeper's Daughter," the new film comedy now playing at the York United Theatre until Friday.

NOT AN ASYLUM . . . BUT . . .

Hollywood, Jan. 17—Imagine, if you can, a huge, windowless room, ultra-modern in design, with padded walls and thickly-carpeted floor. In one corner a chap of handsome countenance is busy flipping coppers with himself. Across the chamber a long-haired lad lazes lazily on the floor and puffs contentedly on an old clay pipe, while nearby sits a titian-locked damsel in beach pajamas, chewing furiously on her bubble gum. Neath the chandelier, sweating profusely and running stubby fingers through a rapidly-thinning coiffure, a shirtless giant is balanced precariously on a clerk's high chair.

The giant speaks: "Sparks . . . sparks . . . sparks up the chimney. If I sleep I'll dream . . . to sleep is to dream . . . to dream . . ."

He gulps, then continues: "A hill . . . dark, lonely. Why am I here? . . . Why? . . . Stars, stars . . . millions of them . . . clusters . . . worlds beyond worlds . . . universe beyond universe . . . so bright . . . so clear . . ."

Oboler's plays are undoubtedly broadcast drama's nearest approach to literature. For many years his midnight thrillers, "Lights Out," sent people off to bed with goose pimples and shivers, but his present series of experimental scripts, embraces the supernatural, political, romantic comic and sociological as well as the mystic.

AS DOUGLAS SAW THEM

Lloyd Douglas' sensational novel about a young doctor's romantic problems, "Disputed Passage," now comes to the screen with the popular Dorothy Lamour and John Howard portraying the lovers in question. With Akim Tamiroff co-featured, Paramount presents the picture locally next Sunday at the Westmount United Theatre.

FATAL INTERVIEW

Wallace Ford, as the boy who never had a chance, finds fate against him again when Stuart Erwin provides him with a gun in "Back Door to Heaven," the drama opening Sunday at the Snowdon United Theatre. Patricia Ellis and Aline McMahon are also featured.

mind aroiling, and Arch is quite content to let it run unconfined and rampant. Oboler dramas have included everything from child-birth to labor problems — NBC does not censor his scripts and his only confines are limitations of good taste.

What elements does he consider necessary to good radio drama? "It must have a basis in reality, so that listeners may see a reflection of things they know and understand. It must start in an attention-getting manner, must move definitely toward some point—and must get there. That's all."

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL Modest and unassuming, Oboler is in some ways as unconventional as his stories. He comes to work amid the grandeur of NBC or Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer in an old, spotted sports jacket, thin-soled moccasins, generously-stained trousers, low socks, tieless and sporting an ancient blue fedora with brim upturned all-round. His eight most prized possessions are a wife, a recording set and six radios. He adores scrambled eggs and sleep, and hates keeping still.

Oboler draws inspiration for his plays from many sources—news-papers items, books, dreams—but the source of inspiration may have nothing to do with the finished play, itself. It merely sets his

Stars Prove They Can "Take It" In Film

Described as the most realistic as well as the most amusing free-for-all battle between women ever to take place on a movie set is the fight between Rosalind Russell and Paulette Goddard which furnishes one of the comedy highlights of "The Women," filmization of the Clare Boothe stage success, which is playing at the Westmount United Theatre until Saturday.

In an endeavor to make their fight scene top any female fist-cuff battle ever filmed, Miss Russell and Miss Goddard spent three hours in a studio projection room watching famous female fights of the past. Included in these were the memorable battle between Polly Moran and the late Marie Dressler in "The Callahans and the Murphys," the battle engaged in by Ginger Rogers and Frances Mercer in "Vivacious Lady," and the encounter between Constance Bennett and Alice Faye in "Tailspin."

The Russell-Goddard "Battle of the Century" began on horseback and raged around a garden and through five rooms of a house and the girls proved they could not only take it but also dish it out. The slaps, kicks, biting and hair-pulling were genuine, and the bruises displayed by the combatants at the conclusion of the sequence proved that it had not been performed by doubles. When males are in a fist scene the atmosphere is usually pretty grim. But the women seemed to be having the time of their lives.

maybe because the opportunity is such a rare one.

The fight occurs in Reno and begins with the discovery that Paulette Goddard, there for a divorce, is going to marry the man whom Miss Russell is divorcing. There's a hot exchange of words before Miss Russell yanks Miss Goddard off her horse. Then the slapping, biting, kicking and scratching match begins. They wreck a table set for luncheon and Miss Russell retreats into the house. They go from room to room, followed by Norma Shearer, Mary Boland and Joan Fontaine who try to intervene and suffer for it.

The battle finally ends in a flurry of shin-kicking and biting after which the disheveled Miss Russell limps to get some iodine grumbling that she'll probably develop hydrophobia. The sequence was the last to be filmed so that the black eyes and sprains wouldn't hold up the production.

"Jamaica Inn" Is Story Of Thrills And Romance

Charles Laughton in a bang-up performance, Alfred Hitchcock direction at its most dramatic pitch embellish the picturization of the exciting and unforgettable Daphne duMaurier novel, "Jamaica Inn," which is now playing at the Monkland United Theatre.

Miss duMaurier's story is a gusty romance with the salt flavor of England's Cornwall coast, set in the wess days at the turn of the last century. Its most interesting characters are a band of wreckers, land pirates who lure ships to their ruin in the Cornish bays for the sake of plunder.

Into their midst is thrown a romantic pair, Maureen O'Hara and Robert Newton, determined to bring the wreckers to justice. They appeal to a local squire, Sir Humphrey Pengallan, played by Charles Laughton, for assistance. And it is not until they have narrowly escaped death at the hands of the wreckers, that they discover that this dandified, debauched squire is the secret leader of the gang.

With sequences of thundering sea adventure, thrilling gun fights and a pounding pursuit of the escaping squire, the picture dramatically illustrates how justice is served and romance fulfilled. Erich Pommer and Charles Laughton, who brought "The Beachcomber" to the screen, collaborated again in the production of "Jamaica Inn."

"Y" TO HOLD SPORTS NIGHT ON MOUNTAIN FEB. 2

TOBOGGANING ON PARK SLIDE AND SKATING WILL FEATURE PROGRAM NOW BEING PLANNED

Similar Event Staged Last Year Attracted Hundreds to Mountain — Dancing is to Take Place in the Club-house Following the Outdoor Activities—Wallace Beaton in Charge of Plans

Westmount "Y" Night on Mount Royal, an event that attracted hundreds to the mountain last year, is to be held on Friday, February 2, it was announced at the local branch yesterday. The program will include tobogganing on the famous Park Slide, skating on Beaver Pond at the foot of the slide, and dancing in the clubhouse.

Preparation has been going on since Friday and those in charge of drawing up the program have adequate justification for ensuring everyone the most enjoyable party of the current season.

Some care has been taken by the program committee in providing a variety of entertainment and the checking up on all the tiniest details is entering its final stage at the present moment.

A brief, but exact, account of what will take place is given here. The hour of arrival will be at seven o'clock, thus providing a long evening for all. At this hour the slides will be open and the toboggans (125 in all) will be ready to carry the merry-makers on their journey. These toboggans, it should be noted, are of the larger size and have been especially purchased by the Park Slide authorities to withstand the speed and strain of the ride. The run-way upon leaving the slide proper is over 300 feet and has always succeeded in causing the numerous newcomers a gasp of mixed awe and thrill.

Few people will deny the fact that Mount Royal, even in its mildest moods, is the mecca of Montrealers seeking a private world of zestful fun. The gentlemen of the hickory blades will find temporary paradise on the snow-covered hill-crests in their own parties Feb. 2nd.

Beaver Pond, the latest addition to the Park equipment, has proved to be the most popular spot of this year and skaters are invited to come in costume and skate to the strains of the modern smash-hits. The floodlighting and amplifying units are more than adequate and the dimensions of the Pond are too great to cause "traffic congestion." It is probable that a number of figure skating acts will be presented.

The perfect Gela Night in all its colour and jollity is to be happily rounded out with a novel dance in the spacious Park Toboggan Club-house. The dancers will be required to step-about in stocking feet dressed in the flaming checkered ski-shirts, showy sport socks, flashy Grenfells and loud-talking sports' togs of a hundred combinations of multicolor. The candid cameraman or any other individual with a mania for capturing pictures of genuine merry-making will have a mine of subject matter and who can tell what hilarious scenes will be enacted when fun meets fun in fun-land.

One has only to recall last year's party to understand the marvellous time to be had when youth foregather to demonstrate how one should take full advantage of the importance of living. That the night—once in full movement—will be a success is a foregone conclusion but only time will tell how much this coming entertainment will eclipse that of last year.

The secretary-treasurer and the person who will be responsible for the success of the evening is Wallace Beaton. It is he who has spent time and energy on the planning and working of all plans.

GRADS DEFEAT SHAMROCKS IN INITIAL TILT

Melville Church Squad Win By 3-2 Score in Hard Played Exhibition Game

The Westmount (Melville) Boys Brigade Grads stepped onto the ice for the first time last week and won the first of a series of exhibition games by edging out the Melville Church Shamrocks 3-2 in a game which, though lacking finesse, was fast and hard played throughout.

Outstanding in a game that was featured by only one penalty, was the playing of J. Mitchell, star centre of the Shamrocks, who contributed both of his team's goals. At the same time George Spence, borrowed from the R.M.R. team for the match was playing a stellar game for Shamrocks in the nets. In the first thirty minutes of play in particular he robbed the Grads of many sure goals.

For the Grads the line of J. Patterson, D. Patterson and Childs was the dominating factor on the ice scoring all three goals. (J. Patterson two and Childs one). While the diminutive Dunc Patterson, though thirty pounds lighter than any other man on the ice was easily the star of the game with his fast skating and aggressive play. Graham was steady as a rock on the Grads' defence, breaking up attack after attack.

The scoring opened after ten minutes of play when R. Channon broke away and passing to Mitchell sent the latter in to drive a shot past the helpless Phil Lamb. Grads tied it up at the fifteen minute mark when Childs rounded Shamrocks defence and flipped a backhand past Spence. Ten minutes later Dunc Patterson stick-handled through the defence and laid a pass to his brother Jim who drove it home for number two. With fifteen minutes to play Mitchell raced down the left boards and blasted another shot home to tie the score. Five minutes were left to play when Jim Patterson went down centre ice and flipped a high spinning shot that suddenly dropped and twisted its way past the astounded Spence.

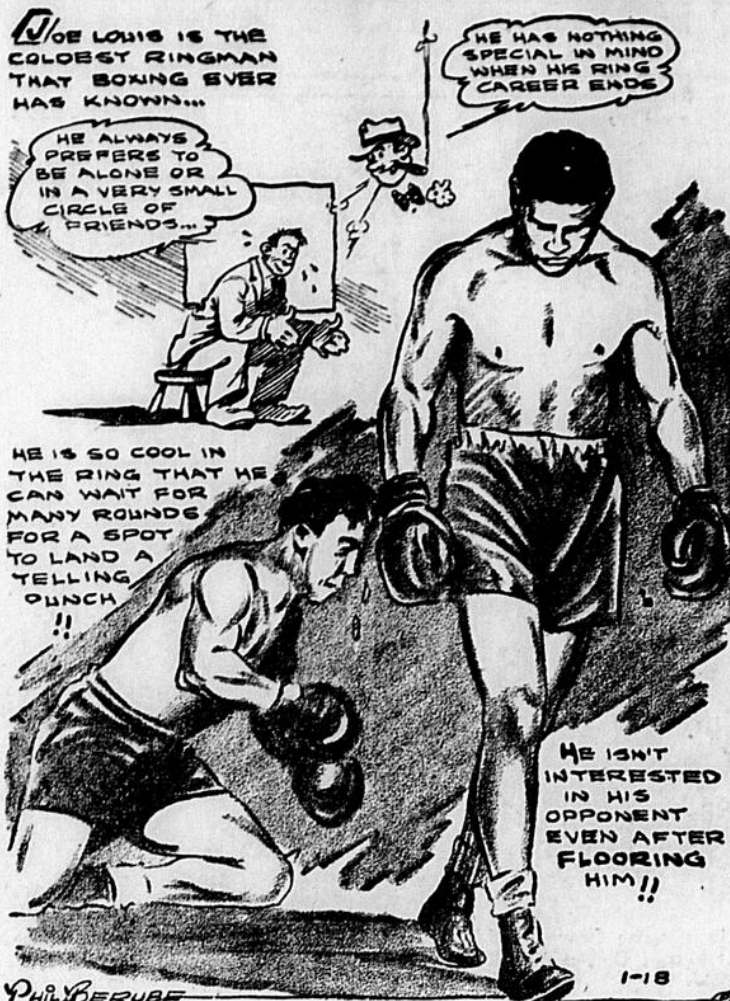

The Grads showed excellent promise for the future and when the line of T. Mulligan, W. Mulligan and Way gets a few games together under their belts they should account for many goals. As it was they just missed many scoring chances. The defence work of Male. Graham was well backed up by the hard hitting Bill Blair and the steady blocking of Leach, all affording excellent protection to Phil Lamb who played so outstandingly for the B.B. last season.

Sports Round-Up

By McGOO

After a lapse of a few years Westmount Park has again become the scene of local hockey interest, with the Army now occupying the Athletic Grounds. Westmount hockey enthusiasts are now strutting their wares opposite the local High School. Both Midget and Juveniles leagues are in full swing with Bert Halzell's Royals leading the Juvenile list and P. Rodier's team of the same name (a mere coincidence) leading the Midget performers. Juvenile Royals have met with little opposition so far and it looks like a Breze as far as they are concerned.

Westmount High
Westmount High got off to a flying start last Friday when they knocked off the strong Strathcona aggregation by a 5-2 score. Shifty Austin McConnell scored three of

With Leith Dickie in the nets Westmount have a formidable net-minder. Dickie, when not pondering over school books is the regular custodian of the league-leading junior Royals of the J.A.H.A.

St. Leo's

St. Leo's, for the first time in three years are minus a senior hockey team in the Inter-Scholastic League. Coach "Andy" McGillis fearing that there was a lack of senior calibre in the Academy, decided it better to play exhibition games rather than take a chance of holding up the league. A wise move. Although they have no senior team the Academy has iced a junior and a bantam squad and from these teams "Andy" McGillis hopes to develop senior players for the coming years.

Westmount's entry in the J.A.H.A. isn't faring any too well as they have won three and lost a like number and are now tied with McGill for third position, which by the way is the last play-off spot in the five-team league.

On Sunday following the senior game the locals will play Verdun and a win here will give them a better lease on life. In the last meeting of these two teams Verdun emerged the victors by 4-1, scoring three goals in the dying minutes of the game to break a 1-1 deadlock.

Frankie Eddolls and Buddy Hellier, two former junior players, are starring for Oshawa and are rumoured to be on Toronto's negotiation list... an athletic night was held at St. Leo's this week... The Academy boys and "Andy" McGillis were paid a fine tribute by their supporters... Baz O'Meara was the guest speaker... Doug Maher playing Junior B for Cobourg... On the whole, people who drink beer are people of moderate tastes and temperate habits. To them, beer is not only a grand drink, but it is also a beverage that gives genuine enjoyment in keeping with moderate, temperate living. Malt for digestion, hops for appetite, sugar for energy, yeast for vitality. Truly, beer is the beverage of the people!
