GERMAN GOVT'S SITUATION IS HIGH DESPERATE

Impossible To Balance Budget, Even With Heavy Increases In Taxation

SAYS FINANCE MINISTER

Must Support Federal States And Many Companies To Avoid Breakdown

Berlin, Aug. 23.—The financial and political situation facing the new German Government must be regarded as well high desperate...

Not only is the Federal Government required to cover its own deficit, he said, but also the deficits of all the Federal States and many of the companies.

The payments in execution of the Peace Treaty increased from 450 billion marks in January to 4 trillion marks in July...

Dr. Hilferding asserted and these would be considerably increased in the present month. The deficit in the operation of the state railways alone, he added, amounted to 450 billion marks.

CANADA'S FUEL POSITION

Better Able To Face An Anthracite Strike Than In Previous Years

Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 23.—Should a coal strike come in the United States, Canada is much better off for fuel supplies than last year, but in about the same position as she was two years ago.

This statement is based on figures of imports of coal obtained from the Dominion Bureau of Statistics covering a period up to the middle of the present month.

The Canadian fuel position is stronger this year than in the past, in having a new outside source of supply in the coal fields of Great Britain in addition to that of the United States.

For the five months ending August 191 only 110 tons of coal of all kinds was imported into Canada from the United Kingdom.

For the present fuel year the imports of anthracite coal from Great Britain from the first of April to the middle of August were 73,800 tons while the imports of bituminous coal were 91,900 tons.

PILGRIMAGE OF ACADIANS

To Grand Pre Took Place Yesterday—Statue Of Madonna Unveiled

Grand Pre, N.S., Aug. 23.—Many Acadians of the Maritime Provinces, Quebec and other parts of Canada attended the third pilgrimage of the people of that race to their historic shrine, Grand Pre, today.

The event of yesterday was the occasion for unveiling of a statue of the Madonna of L'Assomption, the patron saint of the Acadian people and of the taking over in the name of the Grand Pre memorial committee of a small lot of land at Horton Landing upon which will be erected a suitable cross marking the spot where the Acadians of the expulsion were taken from the shore to the vessels in which they departed.

The ceremonies commenced with Mass at the Chapel of St. Charles, Father John Gaudet of St. Ann de Kent, N.B. was the celebrant.

The statue of the Madonna, placed within the Chapel of St. Charles, was donated by the Society of L'Assomption and it is said that there is no finer carved image of the Madonna on the American continent.

It was made from the painting by the Spanish artist Murillo and was done by one of the most renowned of present day Italian sculptors and carved from pure white cararar marble. The statue is seven and a half feet high and represents the Virgin being upheld by several cherubs as she ascends to Heaven.

Covering the statue was a large Acadian flag similar to the French tri-color except that the Acadian star is one corner of the blue bar. Father Cormier, Shediac, N.B. organizer of the pilgrimages to Grand Pre, officiated. Premier P. J. Veniot of New Brunswick, assisted by Dr. A. H. L. Melanson, M.P.P., Ellbrook, Yarmouth county, N.S., slowly lifted the flag from the statue.

The audience among the Acadian National Anthem, Ave Maria Stella, Dr. D. V. Landry of Shediac, presided at the afternoon meeting. Other speakers included J. P. Chalmers, President of the Mutual Society of L'Assomption, D. T. Robichaud, Ottawa and Alfred N. Roy, Moncton. Dr. Jerome Dorion, of Yonda, Saskatchewan, was among those present.

IRISH ELECTIONS ARE VERY QUIET

Republicans Standing For Law And Order—Mystery Of De Valera's Whereabouts

Dublin, August 23.—The election campaign, although being urged with great vigor, is distinguished by the extraordinary absence of the violence which usually characterizes all Irish elections.

This is regarded as eloquent testimony to the changed political conditions, but is also partly due to the fact that the Republicans now are professing to stand for law and order. Polling day, next Monday, has been proclaimed a public and bank holiday.

The mystery of Eamonn De Valera's whereabouts is still unsolved. His wife and the Republican leaders have made determined efforts to extract the secret but without avail. He is generally believed to be in the Arbour Hill Barracks in this city.

GERMAN NOTE TO THE VATICAN

Repudiates Acts Of Violence In Ruhr And Suggests An Enquiry

Rome, August 23.—A semi-official communication has been received at the Vatican from Germany repudiating acts of violence in the Ruhr, particularly the bombing of a Belgian troop train near Duisburg early in June.

"If an enquiry, in which the German Government is ready to co-operate, proves the attempt was made by the Germans," says the statement, "the Government of the Reich would deeply deplore it."

"During the negotiations on the subject with the Papal Nuncio, Monsignor Pacelli, the German Government declared it condemned the use of violence and it repeats now with greatest energy the same condemnation."

U.S. HARD COAL STRIKE APPEARS INEVITABLE

Operators And Miners Obdurate, And Government Will Not Intervene

FIGHT TO FINISH

U.S. Gov't. Making Plans To Assure Equitable Distribution Of Soft Coal

Atlantic City, N.J., Aug. 23.—Anthracite mine operators and officers of the Miners' Union, firmly convinced that September 1st would see a complete stoppage of their industry as a result of failure to make a new wage contract, remained today in Atlantic City, though all communications between them had been suspended for 48 hours.

Both groups had been definitely told that the United States Government has no ground for intervening further to prevent the shutdown unless either the operators or the miners should be willing to take the slightest degree of the conflicting attitudes which made break off negotiations Tuesday.

Arbitration for every disputed point was the last offer the employers had to make, it was repeated, while the Union spokesman, John L. Lewis, steadfastly adhered to the ultimatum that the men would stay away from work unless a wage increase was assured. But it also appeared during the day that the Miners' Union and the operators had parlayed finally to take the measures which are necessary in what both sides now conceded may be a final fight. It will take about 4,000 men to keep the pumps going in the deep mines through the Pennsylvania region, to keep up the maintenance work underground and to mine the coal that will fire the power plant sections which must be kept running.

In practically all of the strikes in the anthracite field, a truce has been made between the operators and the miners. Unless it is done again it was said by those familiar with the industry, anthracite mines might be so flooded and deranged within a few days or weeks as to make them incapable of production for many months.

S. D. Warriner, Chairman of the General Policy Committee of the operators, said that the subject had not been brought up.

Mr. Lewis was, however, holding in the city all the 38 members of the miners' scale committee and there was said to be a likelihood that this group would be called to-morrow in a general meeting.

Atlantic City, N.J., Aug. 23.—Semi-official notice that the Federal Government would not intervene further in anthracite wage negotiations to prevent a stoppage of the mines September 1 today reached Atlantic City.

The news was conveyed to both the Policy Committee of the Mine Operators and the Officials of the Miners' Union who broke off negotiations for a new wage contract on Tuesday and left the unresolved prospect of a shut-down in the industry next week.

The St. Louis Commission, both sides, were told, could go no further in an endeavor to enforce peace, since the renewal of the wage contract negotiations which was taken at its intervention last week had merely served to precipitate another break.

Notwithstanding, the operators' group intends to remain in Atlantic City, at least, until the end of the week, in an effort to show that the employers seek every means of reopening discussions.

John L. Lewis, President of the United Mine Workers and the scale committee of the Union, it was said, would probably stand by also until to-morrow.

But there is no change of attitude in the front which the employers' group and the Union spokesmen have opposed to each other. Mr. Lewis stood by the presentation of the Union demands for a 2 day wage increase for all men employed by the day mines and for a 20 per cent increase in the piece rates per ton for mining coal. The anthracite operators refusing any increase over the present scale, tender arbitration of the issue and of every other issue between the Union and the Employers, guaranteeing likewise, to make any award of wage increase which the arbitration may result in retroactive to September 1, if the mines are kept running.

Mr. Lewis has maintained silence since he received notice that the mines would stop September 1. There have been no meetings together of the parties concerned though the operators said today they would seek another meeting if "even if a pretext" could be found, though their attitude would be unchanged.

(By Canadian Press)

Washington, Aug. 23.—Possibility of a sympathetic strike by the bituminous miners of the United States if the hard coal miners quit is foreseen in some quarters here. Government officials take the view there will be no sympathetic strike and are laying their plans in expectation of an ample soft coal supply.

The railroad brotherhoods have advised the President that they will not strike in sympathy. Should the soft coal miners quit to add the hard coal

GERMAN VIEWS OF FRENCH POLICY

Offers No Solution Of Reparations—Passive Resistance And Capitalists

Berlin, August 23.—The German press generally regards the French reply to the British reparations note as unfavorable. It is regarded as marking no further progress toward a solution of the reparations problem.

"The note contains no clear decision," says the Socialist Vorwarts, "though it offers possibilities." It contains no assurance that France will resist from the policy which must eventually bring an end to Germany's capacity to pay and result in political and economic chaos in Europe."

The Tageblatt denounces Premier Poincare's attitude toward passive resistance and declares it is not a fact that such resistance was started to protect the interests of a few capitalists.

The Boursen Courier concludes from the note that France needs money, as otherwise M. Poincare would not recommend that Germany raise foreign loans for the payment of reparations.

Dusseldorf, August 23.—The food shortage in the Ruhr has been shown by information reaching the French authorities to be due largely to speculation instead of lack of receipts of foodstuffs, the authorities declared to-day. It was stated that 824 carloads of foodstuffs entered the occupied area yesterday while 32 carloads were shipped out by merchants who were taking advantage of the higher prices elsewhere.

Several instances of wholesale hoarding by speculators have come to the attention of the French. At Bochum yesterday the municipal authorities seized a hoard of bacon worth 20,000,000,000 marks which was being held by a meat dealer for higher prices.

Essen, Aug. 23.—The French have occupied two additional mines in the Essen district. They are the Ludwig and Teu Essen mines.

PULPWOOD COMMISSION

Will Begin Its Activities Very Soon, Premier King Announced Last Night

Ottawa, Aug. 23.—That the Commission recently appointed by the Government to inquire into the advisability of placing an embargo upon the exportation of pulpwood from Canada will begin its activities very soon was the opinion expressed by the Prime Minister to-night.

Commenting upon the work accomplished by the Cabinet Council during its sessions of Wednesday and today the Premier said that much time had been spent upon questions which will come before the Imperial and the Economic Conferences. He intimated that the necessary data was practically complete and that every matter upon the agenda had received careful consideration.

Much time, he said, had been spent by departmental heads in compiling the required information and the assistance of experts had been called upon at times.

FINNISH RUNNER MAKES NEW RECORD

Stockholm, August 23.—At the Stadium here, tonight Paavo Nurmi, a famous Finnish runner, established what are claimed to be world records for the one mile and 1,500 meters runs. The one mile was made in 4 minutes 10 2-5 seconds and the 1,500 meters in 3 minutes 13 seconds.

Although not yet ready to reveal the full scope of its plans, the United States Government is preparing to move decisively to prevent serious consequences from the threatened suspension of anthracite production September 1. Not only will the railroads, the soft coal producers and the State Governments be expected to do what they can to minimize suffering and demoralization of industry, but Federal Officials in every agency from the White House down will stand ready to throw their weight into the balance if it becomes necessary.

In the preparations now being made for eventualities the possibility of averting a final break between the operators and miners has been almost completely submerged. There is no indication in any quarter today that further overtures for a settlement were in prospect although the Coal Commission, which already has intervened without success, continued in session. It was said to be at work on a report to President Coolidge.

The general lines of the administration plan for supplying bituminous coal and reserve anthracite stocks to the sections which would be most affected by the September 1 shut-down probably will not be revealed until the Government of the anti-trust-communist States meet with Federal officials and railroad representatives in New York next Tuesday.

INVESTIGATION INTO THE AFFAIRS OF HOME BANK

By Man, Independent Of Bankers' Assn., Demanded By Toronto Depositors

HEATED DISCUSSION

"Whisper Of Death" Has Made People Think And Question Institutions

Toronto, Aug. 23.—"The time is arriving in Canada when people are losing confidence in many institutions. The whisper of death has come out of Montreal and the people are thinking," declared Dr. J. A. Williams in the midst of a heated discussion in the meeting of Home Bank depositors which was held this afternoon in Toronto.

The remark was made in support of a motion which was being debated in connection with the appointment of a depositors' representative to work with the curator. The resolution, which was moved by the doctor himself and which ultimately carried, ran as follows:—

"That the depositors of the Home Bank demand the immediate appointment of a man thoroughly qualified and independent of the Canadian Bankers' Association to investigate the affairs of the bank in collaboration with the curator.

Solicitor J. F. Edgar, who it is said represented large depositors, opposed this resolution. He said he felt that the very obvious prejudice against bankers, while perhaps understandable was not reasonable. He pointed out that it was greatly in the interests of all banks and bankers that the entire matter should be cleared up in the most satisfactory manner.

Replying, Dr. Williams declared that all concerned were eminently respectable people 'not Communists, nor the scum of the earth.' He appealed to the two hundred people who packed the room, whether or not they had sufficient confidence that the Government had been thoroughly routed, or that their interests would be sufficiently safeguarded by all owing matters to go on as at present.

The overwhelming vote in favor of his motion answered the question and the Minister of Finance will be notified of their view on the matter.

The equally overwhelming opposition to liquidation was expressed in the following resolution, which carried almost unanimously.

"That the meeting is unanimously opposed to any liquidation proceedings being taken until after the curator has made his report and that the Court be asked to stay proceedings until full particulars can be obtained."

Another motion, calling for the formation of a "Home Bank Depositors Protective Association" in order to keep alive the activity displayed in the first meeting and to offer some concrete means of furthering the depositors' interests, was withdrawn.

Several depositors stated that the present committee was enough to carry on this work. The statement made by the sponsor of this motion, a Mr. Griston, that it might be well, if necessary, for depositors to put more money into the bank to avoid liquidation was met with a very chilly response.

RUSSIA CLAIMS WRANGEL ISLAND

Soviet Foreign Minister Protests To Britain Against Raising Union Jack There

Moscow, August 23.—Foreign Minister Tchetcherin has sent a note to the British Government protesting against the raising of the British flag on Wrangel Island by Stefansson, the explorer.

Wrangel was incorporated into Russia's territory in the years 1821-24 the note says. In 1910 Russia built light houses on the island and undertook other works there and in 1915 formally notified the allied and neutral governments that Wrangel, together with the other islands and territories along the coast of Siberia, constituted integral parts of Russian territory.

As, during the entire intervening period no government has questioned Russia's claim to the island, the note says, the Soviet Government regards the raising of the British flag there as a violation of Russia's sovereignty.

QUEBEC, AUGUST 24, 1923.

A REACTIONARY MOVE.

The Ottawa Government has lately taken a further and far-reaching step towards the complete restoration of the patronage system in the abolition of the Purchasing Commission and the Printing Committee, whose functions will again be discharged by sub-committees of Cabinet Council. No doubt newspapers and contractors faithful to party allegiance will hail the return to former methods with welcome, but we have no hesitation in saying that grave injury has been done to efficiency and economy alike.

The action in question has been formally justified in the order-in-council by saying that "while the exigencies of war afforded a reason for referring to a commission the general supervision and control of Government purchases, a more effective and satisfactory means of obtaining a centralizing and control of purchases and sales is by a sub-committee of council clothed with the necessary authority." But what does the Cabinet Council know about purchasing? Or what time has it to do more than see that the plums are distributed among its party friends? Very obviously, nothing and none!

Shortly after the war opened it was evident that such a system of purchasing was impossible during an emergency at least. Following an investigation into the purchase of alleged poor shoes and spavined horses a war purchasing commission was appointed, which, without question, saved the country millions of dollars. When Union Government appealed to the country in 1917 a pledge was made that patronage would be abolished and an honest attempt was made to carry out this promise after the election. A bill was introduced, and, despite much opposition, was finally passed placing the whole of the outside civil service under the Civil Service Commission.

It is this wiping out of patronage which has worried the present Government since it came into power. In 1918, along the same lines, the Union Government extended the work of the War Purchasing Commission to cover the purchasing for all Governmental departments so as to eliminate patronage and insure greater efficiency and accuracy in the purchase of supplies. The work of the commission resulted in the saving of hundreds of thousands of dollars.

The following year the Government introduced a bill to create a permanent commission to carry on and to extend the work of the War Purchasing Commission. Such opposition, however, developed in the House to this bill that the Government was compelled to withdraw it or to unduly prolong the session. Since then a purchasing commission has been operating, but only under order-in-council and without Parliamentary sanction. When the King Government took office the patronage seekers brought pressure to bear and the commission was gradually reduced to an office and a secretary, most of the departments reverting to the old methods. Now the Government has been ill-advised enough to abolish the commission entirely.

As one Editor protests, "the move is one in the wrong direction at a time when the crying need of the country is economy and efficiency. If the C.P.R., Canadian National and other great Canadian corporations require a purchasing department surely the Canadian Government could save with equal advantage with one well-managed central purchasing board."

PREMIER POINCARÉ'S REPLY.

President Poincaré's reply to the Curzon note contains no surprises and leaves room for hopefulness only through the absence of any surface note of bitterness or hostility. That France, being so deeply committed to her present Ruhr policy, would refuse and, indeed, be unable to modify it was a foregone conclusion and the three-cornered deadlock must continue until England, France or Germany breaks under the strain or unless some unforeseen eventuality—little short of a miracle—occurs.

Precedence over all other debts is claimed by M. Poincaré for reparations which, he declares, are regarded as sacred by the French people and references to his country's indebtedness to Great Britain are met by the statement that, although this has not been and will not be repudiated, it cannot be met until France herself has first received payment from Germany and the observation that surely England will not apply to an ally the pressure that she feels unable to exert upon an enemy.

This is as much as to say that England will get her money if and when France is able to collect from Germany, but that it would be inconsistent with friendship for England to present her bill sooner than France finds convenient. M. Poincaré further states that British unemployment has been taken into consideration, but does not touch upon the possible relationship between that unemployment and the Ruhr occupation; nor does he recall that the United States is exacting payment from England of war debts contracted by the latter, largely on account of France and her other allies. Thus England is ground between the upper and the nether millstone, for the United States say on the one hand, "pay up the money is owing to us and we want it!" While France says on the other, "we can't pay you because Germany won't pay us and you must not ask us to pay you because we are allies. It is too bad, moreover, if we injure you in trying to collect from Germany, but we can't help it because we have sacred interests to protect."

An editorial in the New York Journal of Commerce gives a striking illustration of the manner in which British industry is being paralyzed by the situation in the Ruhr, saying:

"The British foreign trade figures for July give further support to the oft-reiterated statement of British officials and business men that the textile trade faces a dark future unless something can be done to bring Europe back into the market. The woolen industry has been only slightly affected by the Ruhr occupation, but the cotton trade, and especially cotton spinners, have suffered severe loss in the last six months as a result of the elimination of German purchasers."

"The July foreign trade figures, although not unsatisfactory when compared with the showing for June, indicate a decline of something over 10,000,000 pounds in the exports of cotton yarn this year as compared with July last, and of 182,000,000 square yards of piece goods during the same period. Total exports of yarn in July, 1922, were 19,852,000 pounds while in the same month this year they had declined to 8,514,000 pounds. Exports of piece goods declined from a total of 443,610,000 square yards in July last year to 316,084,000 square yards in the same month of this year."

Exports of piece goods declined from a total of 443,610,000 square yards in July last year to 316,084,000 square yards in the same month of this year.

"Obviously, Premier Baldwin has cause in reiterating the difficulties of British business men resulting from the occupation, and in insisting that Great Britain will do a way, if necessary, alone, to improve her market on the Continent."

There is unlikely to be any immediate or direct sequel to this diplomatic interchange between the representatives of the two countries. France will continue in the chosen path and England will try to work out her own salvation under the conditions created by France and Germany between them. This does not necessarily mean a severance of the bonds of sympathy that exist between them, but it does mean that the common understanding to all intents and purposes is no more. The most that can be hoped is that divergent policies will not lead to friction and misunderstandings of a kind to force these two erstwhile allies into opposing camps.

AUTOS AND CROPS.

An interesting situation is indicated in a report from Nebraska that the farmers of that State will spend, in 1923, $135,900,000 on their automobiles, and will receive about $75,000,000 for their crops. Wheat is figured in at 60 cents a bushel net. As the cost of raising it may be 80 cents, the profit will not go far toward paying for automobiles. Nearly every farmer in the State has a motor car.

The economic situation of the farmer has been the subject of deep concern by all business leaders. They recognize that if he cannot make money on his production, the decline in agriculture will be accentuated. Farming is now precarious as a livelihood for the man with small capital. Contrasted with urban industry, it is a poor second. The National Industrial Conference Board of the United States has estimated that the wage-earners of that country are enjoying now more prosperity than in the peak of the post-war boom. Their wages, as averaged from 600,000 cases, are about 18 per cent more, in real purchasing power, than in 1920, when living costs were higher. Wages in May were fast approaching peak levels while the cost of living had gone off, and is still going off, as industrial competition for markets becomes more and more vigorous. The farmers who throw up farming to share in this improvement cannot be blamed.

Unquestionably the motor car has been a boon to the farmer in larger degree than to the city man. It has solved the problem of distance. It means more and better social life, easy access to town, and lessens isolation as between farming groups. But when the cost of automobiles exceeds the whole agricultural income of the farmers of a State, the question is: How long can agriculture stand the pace, and what will happen when the inevitable comes?

A huge reservoir has broken: no, it is not in Quebec this time, but Colorado!

Premier Poincaré declares that his policy is unalterable, but Providence disposes however much mere man may propose.

Gun battles on the high seas indicate that a reversion to piracy is one of the blessings that flow from prohibition.

The sinking of a United States gunboat in the Gulf of St. Lawrence on its way from the Great Lakes to Boston and the recent visit to this port of a similar American craft bound for the Great Lakes, prompts the inquiry as to just how many American armed vessels are maintained in those waters and whether the Rush-Baghot Treaty is worth a rush?

A Verse Or Two

SETTLER AND FOREST FIRE.

(These verses were written by a fire ranger in view of the common opposition of settlers in wooded districts to having their privilege of wholesale burning curtailed to any degree. The ranger is met on the road by a terrified settler, who begs him to save his home and crops from the oncoming forest fire started by his own carelessness.)

What's all the rush, friend? Why this headlong haste? Your place is burning? True; but still, why run? For fire, we've heard you say, is your best friend. Why don't you stop him, now his work is done?

You are afraid? You're joking, aren't you, now? Why fear a friend and seek aid from a foe? Our service is your enemy, you've said. Many a time and not so long ago.

Often you've risen up and called us damned, But now the red cock crows on our roof-tree, And we, "the meddling fools" of yesterday, Must fight the fiend that your own hands set free.

Hark! How he roars, this treacherous friend of yours! Come, then, if we must fight him, let's get to it. To save fools from their folly is our job—And thank God that we are here to do it.

W. H. C., in the Hamilton Spectator.

NOT A TIME TO HALT. (Canadian Finance.)

Unquestionably the railway situation is critical, and calls for firmness and economy in all national affairs. But it would be folly to halt in the course when, as in 1918 with the Allies, the situation shows great improvement and promise. The Imperial Economic Conference is ahead and Great Britain and the other nations of the commonwealth are all keen for trade and in the mind for new arrangements. Let Canada also be prepared for a deal, not only within the commonwealth, but for a new and comprehensive deal with the Americans. To the extent Canadian statesmen can rid themselves of old notions and see this opportunity to national advantage our country will rise superior to difficulties and fulfill its obligations.

Hon. E. M. Macdonald has been telling the people of Nova Scotia that Right Hon. Arthur Meighen was responsible for a railway policy unfair to the Maritime Provinces. He would have added to the interest of his own speech had he told them that the railway policy of the King Government in so far as affects the Maritime Provinces is precisely the same as that enunciated by Mr. Meighen.

THE EARL OF BIRKENHEAD

The Earl of Birkenhead, former Lord Chancellor of England, will be one of the principal speakers at the annual meetings of the American and Canadian Bar Associations. The former hold their meeting at Minneapolis during the last days of August, and the Canadian Association meets in Montreal the first week in September. Lord Birkenhead, who was formerly Sir F. E. Smith, was one of the outstanding men in law in the British Empire, and the following sketch by J. A. Brian is particularly interesting at the present time:—

The legal profession in England is divided into two sections—barristers and solicitors. Solicitors deal directly with the public; barristers only with solicitors. Solicitors do the "spade work" of the profession and retain barristers to advise on difficult points and to conduct their cases in Court. The division resembles that between consultants and general practitioners in medicine, with this difference that in law the student must decide which class he will join before and not after he is qualified to practice.

Thus the work reserved for barristers is naturally small. Nevertheless the number of barristers is unnaturally large. Year after year, though they know that in the nature of things most of them cannot earn enough fees "to powder their wig," the pick of English university men flock to the Bar, most of them to spend the best years of their life in unavailing toil and to end their toll in hopeless disappointment at the best or in personal degradation or premature death at the worst.

The flame which attracts these human moths to their destruction blazes in a career such as that of Frederick Edwin Smith, first Earl of Birkenhead. This is its short record. By the time "F. E."—as he was later to be known—was eighteen years of age he was a student and scholar of Wadham College, Oxford; by the time he was twenty-four he was a fellow and lecturer of Merton College, Oxford; by the time he was thirty-six he was a distinguished leader at the Bar and a member of Parliament; by the time he was forty-four he was Attorney-General and a cabinet minister; and by the time he was forty-seven he was Lord High Chancellor of Great Britain and a peer of the realm. Now at fifty-one he is an earl and one of the well-known public men in Europe. While any profession offers the possibility of such success it is idle to warn daring and ambitious youth of its possibility of failure unspeakable.

Just as medical men are divided into physicians and surgeons, so barristers are divided into lawyers and advocates. Advocates rarely are very learned and some of them who have won judgeships have reflected little lustre on the Bench. "F. E." was essentially an advocate; so when, on becoming Lord Chancellor, he took his seat as head of the Supreme Court of Appeal he was received without enthusiasm by that very learned, august and elderly tribunal. Yet before a year was over he dominated it, so much so that venerable law lords, not content with acquiescing in his judgments, have gone out of their way to praise them. Yet Lord Birkenhead is not a profoundly learned lawyer; he never had the pedestrian industry to become one; but he possesses a gift which in a Lord of Appeal is infinitely better, the gift of great receptivity and common sense. Cases which go as far as the House of Lords are invariably argued there by counsel very learned in the law. Every statute or case bearing on the point to be decided is sure to be cited; Lord Birkenhead absorbs all these; and when the time for decision comes applies them with a judgment which many more learned judges do not possess.

In his youth Disraeli made Vivian Gray disdain a lawyer's career because, as he said, he could not become a great lawyer without abandoning all hope of becoming a great man. This was really Disraeli's own view. The late Lord Bryce told me that in his old age Lord Beaconsfield said to some one that the only man whom he had ever met who had attained the highest distinction in law and still retained their common sense in other matters were Lord Lyndhurst and Lord Cairns. However, this may have been in the past it cannot be said to be so in the present. "F. E." like his brilliant contemporaries, Gordon Hewett, now Lord Chief Justice of England, John Simon, lately Home Secretary, Douglas Hogg, now Attorney-General, has been as distinguished in public as in legal business. And he shows none of that abject deference to the law because it is the law, which too frequently marks men who have long devoted their minds to the service of Jurisprudence. Not a few good lawyers are like Lord Thurlow who when he was chafed by a boon companion as to the contrast between his private morals and his public churchiness retorted indignantly, "I support the Church of England because it is the church by law established and I would do the same if Parliament established by law any other church." Lord Birkenhead judges the law as he judges an appeal, on its merits. Not long ago he came to the conclusion that the law relating to land in England had now no merits. The result was his law of Property Act, 1922, the most revolutionary reform that a law lord ever carried through the British legislature. That statute alone is sufficient to secure its author immortality in the annals of English jurisprudence.

In his private life Lord Birkenhead is genial and a little joyous; the fact that he had the nickname of "F. E." shows he was popular with his fellow barristers. But in public life he has always had a sharp temper and a sharper tongue. That was all right as long as they were directed only against the opponents of his own party; but when, after a split of the Con-

DEMPSEY TAKING CHARGES DENIED ON THE HEAVIES

Champion Boxed Two Rounds Each With Burke and Godfrey

Saratoga Springs, N.Y., August 23—Jack Dempsey switched from light to heavyweight sparring partners today, confining his work with the gloves to two rounds each with Jack Burke, Pittsburgh heavyweight and George Godfrey, 225 pound negro.

Although both Burke and Godfrey are suffering from the bombardment received while preparing Dempsey for Tommy Gibbons, they were forced to take another pummeling. Burke managed to evade Dempsey's hooks for the first round but Dempsey drove him into a corner in the second and all out knocked him over with a right cross to the chin.

Moving Day For Firpo

Atlantic City, N.J., August 23—This was moving day in the training camp of Luis Angel Firpo, the Argentine who will attempt to wrest the world's heavyweight title from Jack Dempsey in New York on the night of September 14.

WITH THE GOLFERS

AT THE NINETEENTH

(By C. Meredith)

Tombstone Competition, open to all members of the Quebec Golf Club will be held tomorrow afternoon.

The Ontario Golf Club will play the qualifying rounds for the Rondeau and Green Committee's Cup this week-end.

Four Winnipeg women have announced their intention of competing in the Canadian women's open and closed championships, to be played at Montreal during September.

The Manitoba champion will also take part in the United States championship which is to be staged in New York shortly after the Canadian events are played.

Leading women golfers have now started in earnest to put in the necessary practice in view of the Canadian open championship which will be contested this year over the Mount Bruno Country Club course at Montreal during the entire week beginning on September 17 next.

For several years now this championship has left the country nameless, been won by competitors from either across the line or the Atlantic and another big invasion is practically assured in quest of the honor from both British and American.

Miss Glenna Collett, the twenty-year-old lassie from Providence and present national champion of the States has intimated her intention of competing and will start a strong favorite. Miss Alexa Stirling will also attend besides a whole host of the other leading lady players from her own country.

Miss Edith Leitch, the renowned British golfer and sister of the many times champion, Miss Cecil, is already on this evening and a certain contestant. Another outstanding entry from the old country will be that of Mrs. Adlan Macbeth—better known as Miss Marjorie Dodd—who won this same championship in 1913.

Mrs. W. A. Gavin, of Huntercombe, England, and present Canadian titleholder, has not been quite so well lately, but with an expected speedy recovery it is this lady's sincere intention of sailing south to defend her title. It is also freely rumored that Miss Joyce Wethered, of championship fame, is more than likely to have a shot in both the Canadian and States competitions.

CHARGES DENIED BY RED PLAYERS

Duncan And Bohne Said To Have Been Approached By Gamblers During Series

New York, August 23—Charges that two Cincinnati players were approached by gamblers recently on the eve of a crucial series with the New York Giants will be lifted to the bottom, John A. Heydier, president of the National League announced tonight after hearing before him earlier in the day at which the players, second baseman Sammy Bohne and left fielder Pat Duncan, had denied the accusations. The charges were published last Saturday by "Colliers Eye," a Chicago weekly sports paper. The publication alleged that Bohne and Duncan, in addition to a third player whose identity was not revealed, had been approached by gamblers with an offer of $15,000 each to induce them to play in the series with the Giants at Cincinnati the first week of August. Color to the gambling charges, it was declared, was added by the fact that the Reds lost five straight games to the Giants in that series.

Today, however, both players denied, under oath that they had been approached either directly or indirectly by gamblers, while President Heydier after hearing, asserted the charges against Bohne and Duncan appear to me, to be silly and unfounded. Nevertheless, the league executive emphasized, every effort would be made to trace them to their source.

After the hearings this morning, President Heydier advised the players to institute legal action against the publication.

Sailors Scored 3-0 Win Last Evening—Junior Contest Scheduled Tonight

The Empress of Britain soccer eleven scored a 3-0 victory over the C. N. R. crew last evening in a scheduled senior game at the Quebec Baseball Park.

There were six regulars missing from the line-up of the C.N.R., both the back, two of the half-backs and a like number of forwards being conspicuous by their absence.

The British players scored twice in the first forty-five minutes, and added another in the second half.

Truax Sprung Surprise In Easily Defeating Favorites In Sweepstakes

North Randall, Cleveland, Ohio, August 23—It was decidedly a Guy Axworthy day here today. Leo Worby, a grandson of the famous first ever, won the $10,000 for trotters that have never acquired a record of better than two minutes and his own son, Truax had no trouble in annexing the main division of the Rainy Day Sweepstakes for two-year-olds trotters, with a value of $10,950.

Driven by Dick McMahon, the W. M. Wright, Chicago colt won as he pleased, Mr. McEwain and Eric Guy, both gags of Guy Axworthy, were overwhelming favorites in the betting in which they were coupled but were never contenders.

Three Rivers Defeated Quebec And Royals Lost To Canadians

Montreal, August 23—Frank Delisle and home run prodigies again spent the doom of the Royals here this afternoon when he clouted out a circuit drive with none on bases in the seventh inning, breaking a tie and counting the run that gave Canadians a 3 to 2 victory. It was Frank's fourth homer in two games and his 23rd of the season. Besides his four bag walk the veteran completed a perfect day at bat with two doubles and a walk in four trips to the plate.

That mighty blow, off Tex McMillan proved costly to the Royals for Three Rivers won in a ninth-inning rally from Quebec and his clubmate climbed to the top of the second-half schedule of the E.C.B. league, the Royals dropping into second place with a small margin over Canadians. The three clubs are now well bunched with all fighting for the right to enter the play-off, Canadians making an effort to clinch both ends and to go into a series of exhibition games instead of a championship series.

It was the old story over again today for Canadians, O'Rourke's batmen making almost every hit count, while the Royals failed to come in, though when hits were needed, they had pitcher Crowe in a tight corner. In the second three Royals were filling the bases with one out, but Dykes struck out and Hunnefeld flew out to Frank Delisle. In the eighth they had another chance with two on but Peeler swung at a wide third strike to retire the side. While in the fifth Army cut off an incipient Royal rally.

Three Rivers, Que., August 23—Three Rivers defeated Quebec here this afternoon by 3 to 2 in an E.C.B. league game. It was a pitcher's duel between Key and Kibbee with the first slightly better than the second. Poor support caused the loss of the game to Quebec when the latter should have won by two to nothing.

Y.M.C.A. TENNIS TOURNAMENT OPENS

Four Matches Were Played Yesterday—All Won In Straight Sets

Four matches were played in the Y.M.C.A. tennis tournament yesterday, one contest being played in the Ladies' Singles while a trio of games were staged in the Men's Singles. The quartette of contests were decided in straight sets.

Following are the results: Ladies' Singles: Miss C. Amy defeated Miss T. Hamilton, 6-0, 6-1.

Men's Singles: D' O'Donnell defeated T. Doucet, 6-3, 6-2. R. Cream defeated G. Seiferi, 6-3, 6-4. F. Kingston defeated P. Raymond, 6-1, 6-3.

Two good games were played in the M.C.A. Doubles competition last evening over the sixteen-end route on the beautiful greens of the Quebec Lawn Bowling Club, when Messrs P. P. Conway and E. E. B. Rattray were victorious over Messrs J. Genereux and A. Rawland by a score of 28-11, and Messrs G. Moir and R. S. Murphy defeated Messrs R. W. Morton and A. E. Scott by 15-12.

The first game, between Conway-Rattray and Genereux-Rawland, was very good all through. Rawland and his partner started out at a fast clip, and up to the eighth end the score was very close, but from then on, the pair that eventually turned out to be the winners drew away from their rivals, finally winning by 25-11.

In the second game of the evening an extra end was necessary, both pairs being tied at the sixteenth end with a score of 12-12. In the seventeenth end Moir and Murphy scored three, thus winning the game. It was a well-contested game throughout and was very exciting in several spots.

The players and scores: P. P. Conway.....J. Genereux E. E. B. Rattray (25).....A. Rawland (11) G. Moir.....R. W. Morton R. S. Murphy (13).....A. E. Scott (12)

Weather permitting, the following pairs will be seen in action tonight in the Mixed Doubles, 16 ends: L. A. Carrier.....H. J. Seiferi A. Veasey.....J. T. Bradbury H. J. Pinsonnaik.....R. F. Cream A. W. Colley vs. T. D. Beattie Ladies' Day at the Quebec Lawn Bowling Club will be observed tomorrow, when several members of the fair sex will be seen on the greens of the club.

Sporting Notes. Damon Runyan says: "After seeing Firpo in the Weinst fight, the writer is convinced that in the little time left to prepare him for Dempsey there is no use attempting anything more than putting him in first-class physical condition. Like the man who lives on a single line, Firpo knows but one system of fighting. It is doubtful if he will ever learn any other system; it is doubtful if he desires to learn any other. That system is to rush forward, clubbing with his right hand, relying entirely upon his tremendous strength. It is the cavern system, dropped down to the modern ring. Firpo's left means nothing to him. He pokes with it occasionally, then drops it to lead with his right, his weight behind his blows. That will be his system till the day he passes from the ring for good. It is born of the primitive instinct of the earliest fighting man."

Canadians have secured two pitchers from the Syracuse team of the International League, and both are to report in time for the opening game of the series with Quebec on September 14 at the Polo Grounds. Evidently Mullins wants a crack at Dempsey or nobody.

Trick bats must go. President Ban Johnson of the American League has declared such bats taboo. So far Williams and Ruth are the only batters whose illegal practices have been brought to light. Ruth, until a couple of weeks ago, was using a bat consisting of four pieces of wood glued together. Williams has been knocking 'em out with a bat in which a plug of wood had been inserted. According to Johnson these are about a dozen other men in the league who will have to discard their old bats.

Another practice of batters is to cover the hitting area of their sides with short nails; the effect of metal when meeting a ball can be easily figured. George Selser, a couple of seasons ago adopted this scheme to add speed to his drives, but later discarded it.

Johnny Jones, outfielder and pitcher of the Montreal Royals also tried this scheme here this season, though he failed to get away with it. The umpires in both games of the double-header, detected the nails in the weapon and ordered the heavy-hitter to change his bat. Jones declared after the game, that it was his favorite bat and had been broken, so that was the reason why the nails were in it.

THREE PERSONS BURNED TO DEATH UNDER WRECKED MOTOR CAR Hingham, Mass., Aug. 24.—Three persons, two men and a woman as yet unidentified were burned to death early today when their automobile collided with a truck stalled at the roadside between this town and East Weymouth.

The automobile which police said must have been travelling at a high rate of speed when it crashed into the truck, was completely wrecked. The position of the three bodies in the wreckage indicated that they had been pinned down and unable to escape from the fire which followed the collision.

MONTREAL DULL BUT FIRM; NEW YORK IRREGULAR

N. Y. TRADING WAS MARKED BY HEAVY TONE, WITH IRREGULAR AND UNCERTAIN PRICE TRENDS

Overnight Selling Orders Were Large, Owing To Unfavorable Coal Strike And Reparations News—Offerings Were Fairly Well Absorbed, Though Weak Spots In Evidence

New York, August 23.—Irregular and inconclusive price movements characterized today's stock market with the general list displaying a heavy tone during most of the session.

Unfavorable coal strike and reparations news resulted in a rather large volume of overnight selling orders, which gave the market a heavy appearance at the start. These offerings were fairly well absorbed, however, although individual points of weakness continued to crop out during the day.

Gulf States Steel was again pushed up on Southern buying power closing 1-4 higher at 32 1-2. Bethlehem closed fractionally higher and U.S. Steel moved within a radius of one point closing 1-4 lower. One of the features of today's session was the heavy buying of General Motors in the last hour, several blocks of 5,000 shares each changing hands at 15 1-2, up 1-4. Mack Truck showed a net gain of 2 points but the other automotive shares showed little change.

Erie Common touched 15, closing slightly below that for a gain of 1 3-8; the first preferred advanced 2 3-8 and the second preferred 1 7-8.

Recent earnings reports of the railroad also have been unusually good.

Call money held at five per cent all day.

Foreign exchange rates were firmer. Demand sterling held fairly steady around 4.85 1-4 and French francs hovered around 5.93c.

Total sales 651,300 shares.

High 1923, 105.38; low 86.91.

High 1923, 90.63; low 76.78.

Strength of the Erie Railroad issues and the weakness of the French municipals were the outstanding features of today's bond market.

The rise in Erie lines synchronized with higher stock prices buying of both classes of securities being based on increased earnings to accrue from its coal interests in the northeastern territory.

Erie's 4's series 'A' led the advance with a gain of 2 1-4 points while several other series showed gains of 1 to 2 points.

Weakness of the French lines was somewhat of a surprise in view of the higher exchange rate. Losses of 1 to 1 1-2 points were registered by Bordeaux 5's lines, Marseilles 6's, Paris-Lyon-Mediterranean 6's and American securities.

U.S. Government bonds were slightly reactionary.

A drop of 10 points in Cerro de Pasco 5's was the outstanding change in the industrial list.

Daily Gossip On Leading Stocks

"The paper industry is passing through its summer dullness and is expecting an active market this fall. Although spot bleached pulp has softened somewhat, there is no reason to believe that the price of contract bleached sulphite will be any less this year, as the domestic pulp mills have not large stocks on hand. Unbleached pulp is a little easier and ground wood is soft, but there was an occasion for a recession on both of these markets," says the first National Bank of Boston, in their New England Letter.

"The new rag market has shown a downward tendency of late and may continue that way if the foreign market weakens. The price of felt has increased, although wire and chemicals are about the same, showing no indication of going any less. The old rag market is firm and is expected to remain that way for the rest of the year.

Special committee appointed by Ontario Government to investigate iron ore industry of Province finds that "in all Canada no iron ore is being produced, and the all important steel industry is wholly based upon a rapidly dwindling foreign supply of iron ore that is within reasonable distance of extinction."

The committee recommends that the iron ore industry be encouraged and developed by a bounty of one cent a unit of iron half to be paid by Province, and half by Dominion; also that properly qualified geologist be permanently assigned to the work of studying and reporting on Ontario iron ore deposits; and that a mining engineer be retained and charged with keeping Department of Mines, continuously in touch with "improvements made in act of ore dressing concentrating and sintering of low grade iron ores." They also recommend that section of Mining Act prohibiting export of iron ore be repealed in order better to encourage entrance of foreign capital for developing this industry.

Reports published by a Winnipeg newspaper Saturday that the United Farmers of Manitoba were overdrawn in their account with the Home Bank of Canada were denied yesterday by W. R. Wood, Secretary, who also repudiated statements that the bank's failure would affect the financing of a wheat pool in the province.

In connection with the recent strength of the steel stocks on the New York Board, dispatches from across the border state that there appears to be a better feeling in steel circles.

Not only has there been a slight improvement in buying but inquiries from large consumers indicate that this improvement may continue.

A large number of railroads are making inquiries for cars, particularly roads in the West. The eight-hour day is not going to burden producers with the hardships at first expected.

Steel production continues substantially as heavy as in June, the rate being between 10 and 15 per cent below the peak rate of April and between 5 and 10 per cent above the highest rate of last year, attained in the fourth quarter.

Steel market continues strong and producers are holding firm at prices that have been quoted over past few months.

In July 1923, Canada shipped to the United 437,479 gallons of fresh cream valued at $695,046, as compared with 339,620 gallons in June and 246,986 gallons in July of the preceding year. Exportation of fresh milk to the United States shows an increase though not so great as in the case of cream.

In the twelve months ending with July, 1923, 1,402,488 gallons of milk was shipped at a value of $292,333 as compared with 1,042,925 gallons at $240,258 in the corresponding period of 1922.

During July the United States imported 149,000 pounds of Canadian butter valued at $12,544. Figures for the United Kingdom are not given and China appears on the list as the next greatest importer of Canadian butter with 120,000 pounds to her credit, valued at $84,924.

The United Kingdom leads in Canadian cheese importation 134,000 cwt having been shipped to that destination in July valued at $2,178,000.

TRADING IN MONTREAL FELL OFF, THOUGH FIRM TO STRONG PRICE TENDENCY CONTINUED

Brompton Led in Activity, With Abitibi Second And Quebec Railway Third—Montreal Power Made Largest Gain And Union Bank Suffered Heaviest Losses—Bonds Dull

Montreal, August 23.—Trading in listed shares on the local stock market today fell off in volume as compared with yesterday but a firm to strong tendency was shown. A feature was the advance of Montreal Power to a new high of 124 up 3 1-2 points.

Thirty eight issues came out of which nine scored gains, nine were down, eleven were unchanged, and nine came out in broken lots only.

Brompton led in activity and advanced 5-8 to 41 5-8. Abitibi was second and closed unchanged at 65 1-2. Quebec City was third and sold at 20 unchanged.

Montreal Power had the largest gain of the day while other strong spots were Shawinigan up 1-2 to 117 1-2 and St. Lawrence Flour which recovered 1 1-2 points of Wednesday's loss, selling up to 52. These were the only gains of a point or over.

Union Bank suffered the heaviest loss, selling off 4 1-2 points to 114 ex-dividend. The loss is not thought to be significant and is merely an effect of the recent selling of bank stocks following the Home Bank suspension.

Total sales, listed, 4,280.

Trading in listed bonds on the local stock market today was dull with price fluctuations irregular.

Wayagamack 6's were down to a new low of 80 for a loss of 1 3-8 points.

SPANISH RIVER 8's

BROMPTON CONVERTIBLE 8's

These bonds were issued two years ago at a time when financial conditions were unsettled and when the Companies were committed for extensive construction work which had to be financed.

Both bonds are today thoroughly sound and secure. The abnormal conditions which necessitated the high interest coupon have passed, but the interest return remains.

In view of the strong position of both these Companies, their large margin of assets and their proven earning powers, we recommend the purchase of their 8% Bonds as a remunerative investment.

HARVESTERS STILL NEEDED

In Western Provinces, Says Western Representative Of C. N. Railways

Montreal, Que., Aug. 23—Nine thousand harvesters are yet required to garner the crops in Western Canada. This information was received in the city this afternoon from Western representatives of the Canadian National Railways. A decision to this effect was made at a special meeting of the Dominion and Provincial Labor representatives at a meeting held this morning in Winnipeg. From figures received it was found that Manitoba is still lacking 500 harvester hands, Albert 3,500, and Saskatchewan 5,000. The Canadian National Railways officials have been requested to exert every facility to supply the demand.

LONDON FASHIONS

Women going to Scotland for the first time often take many unattractive clothes with them. Clothes in Scotland, in the day-time at least, are practically unchanging. There are traditions which visitors who are not Scottish must respect, and which the Edinburgh shops faithfully carry on.

SECRET OF HIS SUCCESS

One of the most noted, successful and richest men of this country in a recent article said, "Whatever I am and whatever success I have attained in this world I owe it all to my wife. From the day I first knew her she has been an inspiration and the greatest helpmate of my life." Health is the first essential of every woman who wants to be a successful wife and to hold the love and admiration of her husband. If a woman finds her energies flagging and dark circles appearing under her eyes, she has backache, headache, nervousness and "the blues," she should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the medicine which holds the record of helping 98 out of every 100 women who try it. There is nothing better.

THE HOME KITCHEN.

(By Jeannette Young Norton).

The Authority on Home Cooking. Here Are August Vegetables Served in New Ways.

Late August finds gardens and markets filled with vegetables at their best and we should make full use of them in dishes that save the more expensive foods. Sauces should be well made and not added until the vegetables are ready for table, else it is apt to draw the water from the vegetable and become thinned and uninviting. Baked vegetables should not be cooked until they collapse as this gives them a mussy, uninviting appearance.

Sheep-Stealing.

One Terence McManus, in the north of Ireland, lately taken up for sheep-stealing, wrote an account of the same to his friend in the following words: "As we wished to have some mutton to our turn, we went to Squire Carrol, who had more sheep than his neighbors; they were very wild, and the pasture very large, and we were obliged to take a new method to entice them by force to come near us. As this method may be of some service to you to know, I think it my duty to tell you of it. Pat Duggan and me wrapt ourselves up in hay, and as the sheep came round to eat, we cut their throats. But a search being made five hind-quarters belonging to them were found in my cabin."

St. Lawrence Channel.

It has surprised nobody who was at all acquainted with the dangers of the St. Lawrence channel between Quebec and Montreal, to learn that the summer of the incoming of the H.M.S. "Retown" is without any foundation in fact. The Imperial government has either a better appreciation of the dangers of the channel than most marine underwriters or private shipowners, or else it has fewer dollars to cast to the bottom of the St. Lawrence.
