MENTON, France (AP)—Film star Brigitte Bardot today was reported to be out of danger following a reported attempt on her own life, apparently made in a fit of nervous depression.

It was learned from the Saint Francois Neurological Clinic in Nice, where she now is under treatment, that she cut the veins of her wrists with a razor blade and took an overdose of sleeping tablets Wednesday night.

The sexy blonde French movie queen has been reported having serious marital difficulties with her husband, actor Jacques

BRIGITTE BARDOT

Charrier. He has been on a separate hunting vacation in south-west France and left there this morning, presumably to hurry to Brigitte's bedside.

CONDITION NOT SERIOUS

A doctor was called and she was rushed to the clinic in Nice. She was reported not in a serious condition.

Brigitte disappeared from Paris after her husband got involved in a minor brawl with Samy Frey—her current leading man—when Charrier encountered the couple in a car together outside a left-bank night resort.

Her doctor said she was suffering from nervous depression and must have complete rest.

Brigitte and Charrier were married last year. They have one son, Nicolas, now eight months old.

FREQUENT CRISES

Soon after the marriage Jacques was called up for his military service. Within a few days he was in an army hospital, suffering from nervous depression. He was later released from the army.

Since then there seem to have been frequent crises between Brigitte and her husband although until recently both insisted publicly nothing was wrong. Usually his jealousy over her leading men was blamed.

Two days ago Brigitte was reported to have told friends she had definitely decided to divorce Charrier.

Bomb blasts greet Castro

HAVANA — (AP) — Fidel Castro made clear at a welcome home celebration Wednesday night that a legal showdown is coming over the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo. The homecoming was interrupted by two bomb explosions that did no damage.

Within three hours after returning from the UN assembly session in New York, the prime minister was flailing away at the United States as "the most aggressive, most warmongering and most stupid of imperialisms."

The first bomb exploded in Zayas Park behind the presidential palace about an hour after Castro started his 2½-hour balcony speech to a crowd of about 150,000 massed in front of the palace. The second went off 40 minutes later at the same place.

Militiamen seized a man accused of throwing the first bomb and hurried him away as the furious crowd shouted "paredon" (to the execution wall).

SPY PATROLS

Castro dismissed the explosions as the "little bombs of imperialism," but announced the government would establish a system of revolutionary patrols who will "know who lives in each block and what he does and

Would link St. Lawrence with Hudson

STOWE, Vt. (AP)—Governor Robert Stafford of Vermont said Wednesday that a deep water cut-off in Lake Champlain could be the sparkplug of major economic development for Canada and the U.S.

Addressing the New York-Vermont Interstate commission on the Lake Champlain basin here, Stafford said "It is time to build this water route into something that can meet the demands of the 20th century."

"With a potential deep-water route between the St. Lawrence and the Hudson begging for development, it seems logical for the United States and Canada to extend its partnership to construction of such a Seaway," he said.

Kasavubu recognizes army chief's regime

LEOPOLDVILLE (AP) — President Joseph Kasavubu today formally recognized Col. Joseph Mobutu's council of government commissioners as the provisional government of the Congo.

Kasavubu officially installed the group of 27 college-graduate technicians set up by Mobutu, the army chief of staff, after his bloodless coup d'etat two weeks ago against the infant African republic's warring politicians.

Kasavubu's action — if it sticks — reduces the declared governments of the Congo from three to two.

Joseph Ileo, named premier by Kasavubu Sept. 5 to replace Patrice Lumumba, told reporters that he now recognizes Mobutu's council as a temporary government.

The holdout, Lumumba, remained a virtual prisoner in the premier's official residence, protected by Ghanaian troops of the UN force.

Kasavubu also announced that UN troops from Ghana and Guinea must leave Congo territory by Oct. 5 at the latest, echoing a demand made earlier by Mobutu.

NO DICTATION

There was no immediate reaction from the UN command, which has taken the stand that the composition of the UN force cannot be dictated by Congo officials.

In still another development, we have to overcome the imperialist enemy," he declared, in Guantanamo.

At the same time, Castro cautioned his forces against any unauthorized military action against the base. He charged that the United States intends to use the base as a pretext for military intervention in Cuba and said that any trouble at the base would be provoked by the United States.

Kasavubu announced a round-table conference of political leaders and personalities from throughout the Congo will be held within the next few days, probably in Leopoldville. Premier Moise Tshombe of secessionist Katanga province has been invited.

Lumumba, who still claims he heads the government, has also been invited to the round table conference.

Kasavubu said that the technicians group would run the country until the round table conference can finally settle the disputes among the various political factions.

The need for stability was underscored Wednesday night when Cleophas Kamitatu, Leopoldville's provincial governor and heretofore regarded as a Lumumba man, warned a press conference that civil war might break out in the capital within a week.

Guard tells boss to move along

TORONTO (CP) — A man entering the O'Keefe centre for the performing arts was stopped by a guard.

"I'm sorry sir, but you can't stand around here while the rehearsals are on," the guard said.

But general manager H. P. Walker showed up and the newcomer was allowed to stay.

The guard hadn't recognized industrialist E. P. Taylor, whose company is paying for the $12,000,000 theatre. It opens Saturday night with the debut of Camelot, a Broadway-bound musical.

Macmillan addresses Assembly

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.

(CP) — Prime Minister Macmillan brings the cool voice of Britain to the hot deadlock in the United Nations today. But diplomats said he is not acting as a go-between for President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

Macmillan had a date for a private talk with Khrushchev, however, shortly after his speech in the General Assembly.

Meanwhile, the Russians lost three more important and bitterly fought skirmishes in the assembly steering committee.

The steering committee voted 11 to 4 to bring before the 98 nations in the General Assembly the question of Russian actions in Hungary and an airing of Communist China's operations in Tibet. The vote came after a long and determined Soviet effort to kill the two items.

The steering committee also voted 13 to 4 against Soviet proposals to open the General Assembly immediately to disarmament debate, bypassing debate in the assembly political committee and interrupting the general policy statements now being given by representatives of each UN member.

WANTS ANOTHER CRACK?

Canada voted in favor of the Hungarian and Tibetan hearings and voted against immediate assembly debate on disarmament. It was reported that Khrushchev sought the move in order to give himself another chance to address the assembly again. The Soviet premier already has made his policy speech before the assembly.

Macmillan talked privately Wednesday for 90 minutes with Prime Minister Nehru of India, who also would like to bridge the East-West gap.

"I have nothing to say," Macmillan said when he came out. He also had a 40-minute conference with President Nasser of Egypt.

'Dear Patrice...'

Publish secret letter

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP) — Ghana's President Kwame Nkrumah in a secret letter advised "my dear Patrice" Lumumba to work with his political enemies and the United Nations to consolidate his power and then get rid of them.

Col. Joseph Mobutu's government commissioners made public a photographic copy of the letter Wednesday night, along with copies of letters they said the deposed premier wrote asking for "volunteers" from Communist China and arms and planes from Russia.

N. A. Wellbeck, Ghana's charge d'affaires here, acknowledged the Nkrumah letter was "completely genuine" and said he delivered it to Lumumba himself.

"Brother, mark my advice," Nkrumah's letter said. "We have been in the game for some time now and know how to handle the imperialists and the colonialists. The only colonialist or imperialist that I trust is a dead one."

BE COOL—CONSOLIDATE

The letter advised Lumumba for the present to "be as cool as a cucumber.... Consolidate your position.... Work with your bitterest political enemies."

"The policy to do away with your enemies now will fail. You must adopt tactical action," the letter added.

It urged Lumumba to work with UN forces for the present because "with the United Nations gone you will not be able to cope with the situation.... Act quickly to establish your administration. Get hold of the UN and control it... my dear Patrice."

Nkrumah also promised to rally support from other African and Asian nations for Lumumba and offered to train Congolese soldiers in Ghana.

Nkrumah, who has headed the government of Ghana since it became an independent member of the Commonwealth in 1957, now is at the United Nations in New York, where he openly declared his support of Lumumba.

Nikita to stay another week

NEW YORK — (CP) — Nikita Khrushchev meets today with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan amid signs he intends to stay on another week as leader of the Soviet delegation at the United Nations.

His talk with Macmillan marks the first summit level East-West discussions since midday when the Paris summit parley blew up in an angry dispute over the U-2 plane incident.

Macmillan is reported ready to concentrate on the West's disarmament deadlock with Russia. But there appears to be scant hope he can budge Khrushchev into renewing negotiations on this without new Western concessions.

Ten days after arriving here, Khrushchev gives no evidence of running out of words in his one-man campaign of denunciations and sweet talk.

In between trips to the UN to lead the Soviet delegation, he conferred privately with 10 neutral-minded foreign leaders, zipped through half a dozen night-time receptions and kept up a steady drumfire of comment to reporters who have dogged his every step.

All the time, Khrushchev has tried to keep everyone guessing about how long he will stay in New York.

Security agents assigned to guard him groaned Wednesday night when—with a straight face—Khrushchev told a well-wisher at a Nepal reception that he hoped to ring in the New Year with him.

His future plans became a bit clearer today with a report that he intends to throw a well-reception of his own next Tuesday at the Soviet UN headquarters on Park Avenue where Khrushchev is staying.

Some 300 guests are reported to be on the invitation list, including all the 20,000 heads of government who will be in town then. Soviet informants, who initially Nikita's the traveling salesman?

See Suslov behind Soviet move to scuttle UN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — (NEA) — "Nikita Khrushchev was ordered to kill the United Nations by the same men who ordered him to torpedo the Summit meeting in Paris last May."

The man who made this statement is one of the leading Western experts on communism who has studied every move made by the Soviet Premier since he came to the U.N. He is convinced—and this is also the consensus of other U.N. experts on Russia—that nothing short of the resignation of Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld would make Khrushchev relax his pressure on the U.N. This, of course, would mean the West's capitulation and complete Soviet domination of the international organization.

Who are the men in the Kremlin who give Khrushchev orders? Who runs Russia while the Soviet Premier acts the role of communism's traveling salesman, giving balcony interviews and strutting like a pouter pigeon?

According to the Soviet experts Russia is now run by a triumvirate of the Communist Suslov, a dogmatic Stalinist who is said to have the support of Red China's Mao Tse-tung, who is emerging as the leading man in the Soviet hierarchy.

The new Kremlin alignment doesn't mean that Russia and Suslov, Frol Kozlov and Anastas Mikoyan.

However, it is 58-year-old

KHRUSHCHEV 'WORKS' A RECEPTION — The salesman has some new bosses in the home office.

China are any less the rivals in the struggle to control world communism. It simply means that those who advocate a "hard" line against the West enjoy, for the moment, ascendancy in both camps.

It was Suslov who last July announced Russia's new foreign policy which calls for the "encirclement of the West" and the destruction of the United Nations and all other international organizations which Russia cannot dominate.

Officially Khrushchev is still the "glavny," chief of the Kremlin junta that runs Russia and the East European satellite nations. But he no longer appears to command control of the Communist Party's Central Committee. He has been forced to bow to the demands of his opponents and go for a tougher line in foreign policy.

A Soviet official with whom I discussed Khrushchev's erratic behavior at the Summit meeting in Paris said:

"I know that the West will interpret Khrushchev's adamant position as a sign of strength, an act of courage. This will not be the first time the West completely misread events in Russia.

Khrushchev is no Stalin. He is not the master of the Soviet but its public relations man."

It was the view of the Russian official that the Soviet Premier was ordered by the Presidium to torpedo the Summit — just as he has now been ordered to destroy the United Nations.

That Khrushchev is not a free man to act as he pleases is best demonstrated by the fact that he continues his wrecking activities at the U.N. even though he has alienated whatever support he had among the neutral nations of Africa and Asia.

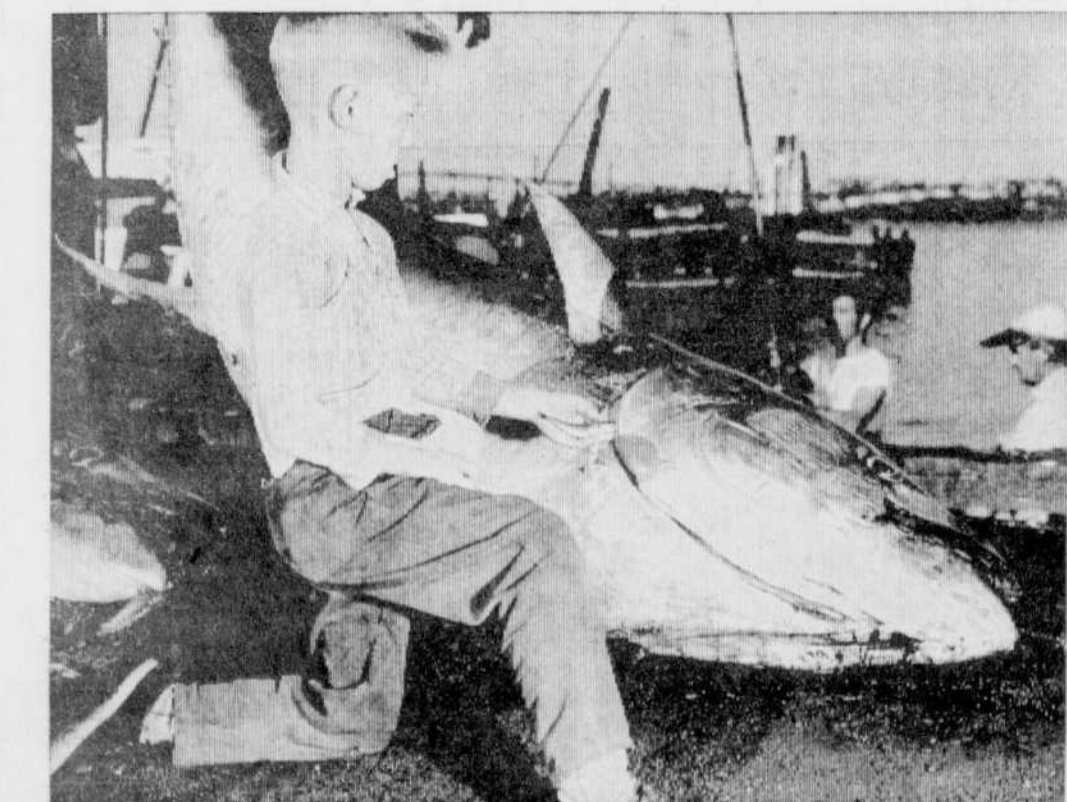

"Imagine Stalin taking a slow boat to New York and then spending weeks clowning at the U.N.," said the Western diplomat mentioned earlier.

The fact is that Khrushchev has been either on vacation or traveling abroad since last May. He still intends to go to North Korea to convince the Reds there that Mao Tse-tung,

Last-minute meetings fail

S.I.U. calls Great Lakes walkout

MONTREAL (CP)—The crew members of the 36-ship N. M. Paterson and Sons, Limited, fleet were to strike today at 8 a.m. DST.

A total of 550 to 600 seamen, members of the Seafarers' International Union (ind.), were to walk off their jobs after last-minute meetings between the company and the SIU failed Wednesday.

Federal mediator Romi Du quette, whose efforts failed to settle the wage and hours dispute earlier this summer, was re-appointed by Labor Minister Starr to try to mediate the quarrel between the SIU and the Lake Carriers' Association.

The SIU's partial strike is a tactic it has used in the past to get contracts for "its 14,000 members on Great Lakes ships."

The union, which announced Aug. 16 that its members had voted to strike, held off setting a strike date until the annual autumn rush of grain from the Lakehead brought a busy period for lake shipping.

Last week it announced the strike against the Paterson Line, one of the larger lines in the five-member association. In the highly-competitive shipping business, the union has found in the past that contracts usually are settled before more widespread strikes become necessary.

Quebec roads system inadequate

Contrary to public opinion, Quebec spends less than a majority of the other provinces on improvement and modernization of its highways, Camille Archambault, assistant to the president of the Trucking Association of Quebec, Inc., told a general meeting of the Sherbrooke Chamber of Commerce at the Sherbrooke Hotel last night.

The province of Ontario spends most with a budget of $239,970,903; New Brunswick devoted the largest proportion of its budget to improvement and modernization of roads last year - 37 per cent. Per capita, Quebec spends $37 a year, while Alberta spends $80, British Columbia $57, and Ontario spends $41, he said.

There were 1,040,605 motor vehicles in Quebec in 1959 and by 1970 there will be 2,000,000. By 1980 there will be 3,500,000. These figures speak eloquently for themselves, he added.

Conceding that the climate works against the maintenance of first-class roads, Mr. Archambault noted that some of the western provinces have very much the same weather and difficulties. He said the Quebec roads system was not progressive and that it failed to meet the needs of the public.

"Municipalities in particular have an urgent need to modernize their roads system. City traffic gets heavier year by year and an inadequate system can affect the economic welfare of these municipalities," he said.

Using the City of Montreal as an example, Mr. Archambault pointed out that the number of motor vehicles had risen by 300 per cent in the last ten years. If an energetic program of modernization is not put into effect immediately, one can imagine what the situation will be like in five years, he said. He asked his audience to picture what would happen in this same city of Montreal in the event of a war. When Montrealers aren't able to leave or return to their island on weekends in peacetime, what would happen in time of war when the whole atmosphere was panicky, he asked.

How to finance large-scale new construction? Since Quebec has the highest credit and lowest debt per capita, Mr. Archambault thinks that these two things should be exploited for the financing. Up to the present time, provinces, with the exception of Quebec, have received from the federal government a total of $290,241,836 for construction of the Trans-Canada highway. Quebec has not received one penny.

Mr. Archambault concluded by emphasizing the importance of educating the people who drive on our highways in the rules of safety. This, together with the new and modern highways, should go far towards reducing the number of deaths on our roads each year, he said.

Municipal problems

Provincial financial aid vital to towns

Tax conference urged

By PAT BOUGIE
(Record Staff Reporter)

Provincial financial assistance to municipalities will be essential in the future if the latter are to carry out their responsibilities efficiently, Ald. Marcel Savard declared at a public meeting at the City Hall yesterday morning.

Mr. Savard spoke following his re-election by acclamation as representative for the Center ward. Ald. Antonio Pinard was also re-elected by acclamation for the West ward. In the North, Ald. Everett Nicol is being opposed for re-election by Gerard Marchand, a florist.

Ald. Savard suggested a general municipal-provincial conference be held as soon as possible to discuss the possibilities of distributing the tax dollar on a more equitable basis than at present.

"Municipalities will be unable to carry on their work unless they receive substantial provincial assistance," he said. "To administer a city properly," Mr. Savard continued, "the Council needs the support and constructive criticism of all public bodies and the support of the newspapers."

Speaking of local problems Mr. Savard suggested that "a special police committee be formed to study traffic problems in the city's Center Ward. We must save the city's Center Ward by solving the traffic problem presently existing and the only way of doing this is with money."

"But like all municipalities," he added, "Sherbrooke residents are sufficiently taxed. The problem now is to redistribute taxes."

MAYOR NADEAU

Mayor Armand Nadeau told those present that Sherbrooke was a progressive city because the population is progressive.

"Sherbrooke is an interesting city to serve for its population is intelligent. Its people know that it takes money to administer a city this size," he said.

"Municipal administrators are continuously receiving floods of demands for improvements." The mayor added, "but these demands cannot always be fulfilled because of the lack of money."

Concerning the proposed expressway between Sherbrooke and Montreal, Mayor Nadeau said: "If the expressway is built, Sherbrooke will become the capital of the Eastern Townships."

ALD. PINARD

Newly re-elected West Ward representative Antonio Pinard thanked the population of the West Ward for their "magnificent support" and said that he would continue the work he had done in the past.

"I was able to help my electors thanks to the collaboration I received from the Council in the past. I always respected the Council's opinions although I did not always agree with them," he said.

NEW CANDIDATE

Promises of better representation for North Ward residents and to have the city's taxes reduced were but two of a series of promises in Gerard Marchand's platform.

Mr. Marchand said "in the past many of the North Ward's problems were either ignored or brushed aside." As an example he pointed out that King Street West was supposed to have been widened ten years ago but that nothing had happened in this respect as yet.

"There are many unsolved problems in the North Ward," he said in a prepared statement. "This is due to the ineffectiveness of the present alderman."

"I promise that all my strength will go towards solving these problems," he added.

"I promise," he continued, "to try and put a stop to the astronomical rise of our taxes throughout the city."

"My principles are honesty, proper judgment and to act when the need be," he said.

ALD. NICOL

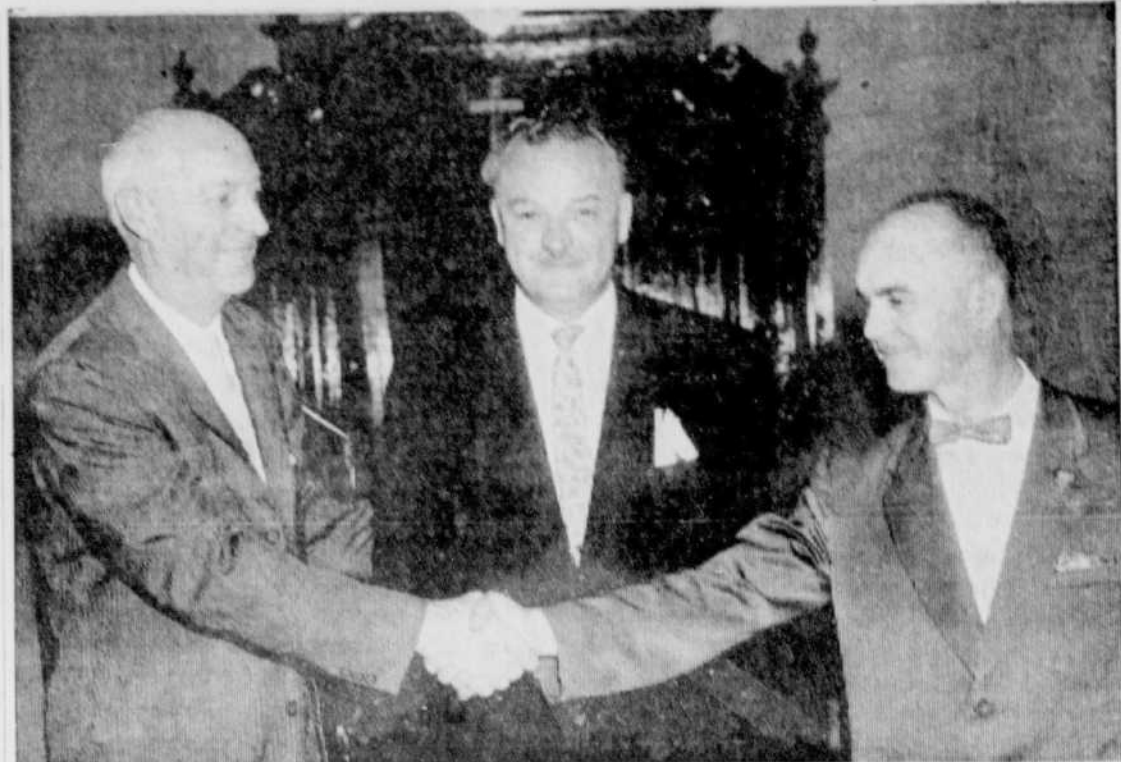

An alderman should not promise anything for he is only one of 11 people on municipal council who pass laws and decide if improvements are needed in the city.

Ald. Everett Nicol said, "No alderman can promise that he will put in sewers in any section of the city. Such decisions are arrived at by council if sufficient money is available for such works," he continued.

In reply to Mr. Marchand, Ald. Nicol said that "for the past six years, the Council and myself have been working on the widening of King Street West. These things cannot be done in one day. I will not make any particular promises. The only thing I will promise is to work conscientiously as I have done in the past if I am re-elected," he added.

"To find out if any improvements have been made in the North Ward," he said addressing North Ward residents, "all you

Youth sentenced to two years

A 17-year-old youth, whose appearance in Court Sept. 14 had prompted Judge Redmond Hayes and Crown Prosecutor Benoit Turmel to deplore the lack of adequate rehabilitation centres and qualified probation officers for Eastern Townships minors who get into trouble with the law, appeared again in Court Wednesday morning and was sentenced to two years in penitentiary.

The youth, Marcel Tallon, no fixed address, pleaded guilty in District Court to three additional charges of theft, one involving a Kingsway Transport truck. Tallon was arrested Tuesday morning on Leger street in Granby, as he was driving a stolen car owned by Urbain Lebel, of Coaticook. He was brought back to Sherbrooke from where he had previously been released on a suspended sentence.

The lad apparently had stolen the Kingsway truck on Saturday night but was involved in an accident the following morning. He left the truck in a ditch and stole Mr. Lebel's car soon after. He was seen driving the latter's car in Granby and the local police were alerted. Tallon was also charged with stealing two leather portfolios, a bunch of keys, a box of bullets, and two cases of beer, altogether valued at about $55. A witness said that Tallon, in court, was wearing a stolen sweater, taken from a truck driver. The youth returned the sweater.

Tallon, on his initial appearance in Court, had been released on a suspended sentence. A tale of misfortune and lack of proper upbringing was told to the judge.

He had been sentenced to a two-year prison term when he was 15, for car theft.

A foster home and a job had been secured for him and in his first five days of work he had managed to earn $48. His employer appeared more than pleased with his services and all concerned thought that a solution had been reached for his problem.

Judge Hayes tongue-lashed the youth, deploring his lack of gratitude and the fact that he had not taken advantage of the numerous chances that had been given him.

"Not only did you lack any kind of consideration, but you even went so far as to steal your benefactor's car, the person who had provided you with a home, a job, and a future," said Judge Hayes, before imposing a two-year penitentiary term.

Danville youth was sentenced to six months in jail after he pleaded guilty Wednesday to five charges of theft.

Guy Girouard, 18, admitted taking gasoline valued at about $130 on five occasions. He also admitted stealing a car battery worth $32.

The youth, voluntarily admitted stealing five gallons of paint and waste material valued at approximately $40. These latter thefts were committed in the early part of September.

The youth was to appear in Arthabaska Wednesday afternoon where a similar charge has been laid against him.

The trio is reported to have threatened the manager of the branch, Theodor Raymond, before emptying the safe of its contents and making their getaway.

Police in the district set up road blocks immediately on all the roads leading away from the area.

The hold-up was the second in less than two years at St. Zephirin. In January 1959, an attempt was made but the robbers managed to escape with only $37.

Provincial police in Drummondville were alerted by a telephone operator working in the adjoining building.

It is believed that the men are still in the area.

Guilty in fraudulent cheque case

Two charges of uttering forged cheques were laid Wednesday in District Court against a 24-year-old girl, who apparently is a member of a well-organized ring.

Claudette Lamontagne, alias Louise Roy, pleaded guilty to both counts. Judge Redmond Hayes remanded the case until today.

The girl escaped confinement in Plattsburg and was sought by police on both sides of the boundary.

One cheque, for $62.63, was passed in a Sherbrooke service station on July 22 while the other was passed in the Dominion Store the following day. Two other similar charges have been laid against her, one in Sweetsburg, and the other in Montreal.

Provincial police in Drummondville were alerted by a telephone operator working in the adjoining building.

It is believed that the men are still in the area.

Guilty in fraudulent cheque case

Two charges of uttering forged cheques were laid Wednesday in District Court against a 24-year-old girl, who apparently is a member of a well-organized ring.

Claudette Lamontagne, alias Louise Roy, pleaded guilty to both counts. Judge Redmond Hayes remanded the case until today.

The girl escaped confinement in Plattsburg and was sought by police on both sides of the boundary.

One cheque, for $62.63, was passed in a Sherbrooke service station on July 22 while the other was passed in the Dominion Store the following day. Two other similar charges have been laid against her, one in Sweetsburg, and the other in Montreal.

A Danville youth was sentenced to six months in jail after he pleaded guilty Wednesday to five charges of theft.

Guy Girouard, 18, admitted taking gasoline valued at about $130 on five occasions. He also admitted stealing a car battery worth $32.

The youth, voluntarily admitted stealing five gallons of paint and waste material valued at approximately $40. These latter thefts were committed in the early part of September.

The youth was to appear in Arthabaska Wednesday afternoon where a similar charge has been laid against him.

The trio is reported to have threatened the manager of the branch, Theodor Raymond, before emptying the safe of its contents and making their getaway.

Battling unemployment

The announcements of the Dominion and Quebec governments of the appointment of special groups to study the whole unemployment situation in Canada indicate that those charged with administering the affairs of this country realize that the lack of job opportunities has reached the point where something more than emergency palliatives are essential of the gnawing cancer of unemployment is to be removed from the economic and social structure.

Automation and changing industrial techniques have completely altered the employment situation and measures which might have been effective a few years ago in meeting the employment slack have little visible effect on the picture today.

In the past few years the federal government has made hundreds of millions of dollars available for the encouragement of home building, the provincial administrations have spent tens of millions on public works projects, industrial development has been proceeding rapidly. Despite these colossal expenditures, even in the building trades, employment conditions are none too satisfactory. In many other lines, conditions verge on alarm.

The industrial conference called by Prime Minister Diefenbaker and the Economic Orientation Council named by Premier Lesage have been charged with seeking ways and means of restoring full employment. The task they face is a tremendous one but it is to be hoped their deliberations meet with success.

Speeding Court Procedure

Criticism of court delays which often result in waiting two or three years between the time of civil suit is started and a judgement is rendered is not confined to the ordinary individual who has been caught in the meshes of the law. It has been voiced frequently by members of the legal profession and by judges.

The latter claim that during the past quarter of a century there had been an enormous increase in litigation without a corresponding increase in the facilities for hearing cases. They cite the automobile as the greatest contributor to this increased court business. In St. Francis District, approximately three out of four cases entered involve automobile accidents, a type of litigation virtually unknown half a century ago. This means that, disregarding any expansion of court business due to population growth, an entirely new type of lawsuit has increased court cases four fold. In the meantime one additional Superior Court Judge has been appointed. But he must also serve the District of Bedford.

The same situation exists elsewhere throughout the province and it is easy to determine why delays are inevitable.

One solution proposed is the appointment of additional Superior Court justices, but another suggestion was advanced by Mr. Justice Miquelon at the opening of the Superior Court at Drummondville.

Judge Miquelon would redistribute court jurisdiction, giving greater authority to the lower courts, such as District and Sessions Courts, thus reducing the heavy dockets before the Superior Court.

This has the advantage of simplicity. If the increased litigation overworked the lower courts, the provincial government could authorize the appointment of additional judges, rather than become involved in lengthy negotiations with the federal authorities. Under the constitution, the appointment of additional Superior Court judges must be authorized by the province, which footed the bills, but the actual appointments are made by Ottawa.

Editorial notes

The Japanese are a tough race. They aren't content to simply say, as we do, "A woman's work is never done." They have to prove it scientifically.

Recently the Japanese magazine Fujin-Otomo conducted a survey among 11,045 wives in Japan.

And they found that the average 24-hour day breaks down like this: seven hours, 19 minutes for basic housekeeping including cooking, laundering, ironing and sweeping; 31 minutes specifically for children; 57 minutes for productive tasks such as gardening, teaching, knitting and sewing; six hours and 27 minutes to herself and for recreation; one hour for community service; and seven hours and 45 minutes for sleep.

Presumably the rest of the day is devoted to answering surveys.

John A. McCarthy of the Ontario Education Department has a good answer to criticisms over the price of school books.

They haven't gone up as much as other goods he claims.

Mr. McCarthy says a geography text book cost the price of three and a half dozen eggs 50 years ago. It still does.

Seek share in booming market

Canadians investigate UK palates

LONDON (CP) — Can Canada recapture a share of Britain's booming food market?

The countryside is crawling with gastronomic G-men, sent here from Canada to investigate the British palate, and their first reports are favorable.

The word from the grapevine, or orchard, is that Canadian food merchants are wowing the British housewife with fill pickles, salted peanuts, fresh freestone peaches and clover honey.

For the first time since anybody can remember, there's a Canadian display at the annual British Food Fair in Olympia, and the 17 stands are doing a roaring trade.

"It reminds you of the crowds in the old corner grocery store," said one Canadian visitor. Dill pickles seem to be a culinary novelty to most British customers, though they can be found in Soho's continental delicatessens.

"They put a little spice in our diet," a satisfied British customer said.

The freestone peaches, mostly from Ontario, may be a shade less attractive in appearance than the so-called "cling" peaches from Italy and Australia and they're more expensive, but Canadians think superior taste may catch the British fancy.

The salted peanuts—grown in Virginia but roasted in Canada—have also drawn attention at the food fair and in commercial channels. They are said to have a different taste to the African peanuts familiar to British consumers. The clover honey is advertised as completely free from impurities, something other producers do not always claim.

The Canadian food drive, coinciding roughly with the relaxation of dollar restrictions on all but a few food items, got under way recently. Apart from the Canadian exhibit at the food fair, there was a 12-member food mission in town, representative of nearly all provinces, and a separate market study group from Ontario, headed by provincial Agriculture Minister William Goddard and his assistant deputy minister for marketing, Everett Biggs.

Some food products, including pig meat, bananas, orange juice and grapefruit juice, are still under the dollar ban. Canada has already regained much of its former market in primary products, such as flour and cheese.

Though competition will be tough, Canadian salesmen can count on an expanding British market. Consumer tastes in a prosperous society are widening. With many more Britons making annual pilgrimages to the continent, the old reliance on "meat and two veg" is giving way to an inclination for Italian pizza and French pastries.

Soho, always honeycombed with "foreign" restaurants, has seen a surprising influx in the last few years of Italian, Indian and Chinese eating places. A reporter recently counted eight restaurants, all exotic, in one short block.

Achieves independence Saturday

Nigeria shaft of hope in Africa

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer
LONDON (CP) — Somehow, Nigeria seems almost too good to be true.

Here it is on the verge of independence, and hardly anybody predicts disaster. Here the white man's conscience bears small reproach. Compared with the Congo, Nigeria gleams as a shaft of hope amid the dark cloud of turmoil in Africa.

Independence days dawn Saturday. It is a tremendous moment, eagerly awaited. The teeming territory that once supplied slave traders with their raw material now constitutes perhaps the first test case of "thought-out freedom," carefully prepared through seven years of negotiation with Britain.

Potentially rich, conservative in outlook and endowed with surprising political sophistication—at least at the upper levels—Nigeria is an awakening young giant that could be a pacemaker in African evolution.

"The chaos in the Congo has no chance of repeating itself in our country," says Dr. Nnamdi (Zik) Azikiwe, the tall and genial governor-general designate who has worked in North America as dishwasher, miner and elevator boy.

With its 372,000 square miles, tucked into the armpit of British West Africa, the newest member of the freedom club is a shade larger than British Columbia. Some Canadian visitors have come back comparing its future possibilities with those of their own land.

"It's an unknown, unexploited world of fantastic potential wealth," one tourist told a reporter. "They've even found oil out there."

Nigeria has 36,000,000 people, about one-sixth of the total population of the continent of Africa. It dwarfs Ghana, the first Negro African member of the commonwealth, and it may put Kwame Nkrumah's nose out of joint. It is the most populous Negro state in the world.

There is no large alien community to disturb Nigeria's first steps along freedom road. All but some 20,000 of the population are Africans, representing 250 tribal groups. The main ones are the Hausas in the northern region, the Yorubas in the west, and the Ibos in the east.

In temperament and character, they can be as different as Swedes and Sicilians. The difficulty of fusing such diversity in a tropical country where passions sometimes run high is an acknowledged problem.

"We have more to gain by sticking together than by falling apart," says Alhaji Abdulmaliki, high commissioner in London.

But his exuberance, and the infectious enthusiasm of other Nigerian leaders, should perhaps be viewed with some reserve.

Most British officials — possibly because of pride in the way the United Kingdom government has nursed Nigeria to independence—predict at least short-term stability in this happy, dynamic country.

Those who see possible trouble ahead stress two points—tribal rivalries and the transference of power to a Negro "establishment," or entrenched elite, which may not be representative of the emerging middle classes.

But a British government official who has been in touch recently with European professors and economists says that all his reports are optimistic.

"If there's a crackup," he adds, "a lot of good judges are going to be surprised."

Many of the old British civil servants are resigning, partly because of dissatisfaction about future prospects in the new regime. This may be offset by the fact that Nigeria is far ahead of the Congo in training its own administrators.

With their federal system and the need for the three regions to run in harness, the new leaders are likely to steer clear of power politics at first. Chief Obafemi Awolowo, leader of the federal opposition, says the choice is between butter and bullets, or between external and internal politics.

All leaders pay tribute to Britain's tutelage, though sometimes unable to resist an oblique reference to past "errors" by colonial rulers. Nigeria is strongly for a Commonwealth link.

Friendship does not mean blind approval of all British acts. "Britain has no closer friend in the world than Canada," Chief Awolowo has written in his autobiography. "But when Sir Anthony Eden bungled the Suez Canal issue, Mr. Lester Pearson, Canada's then foreign affairs spokesman, did not hesitate to castigate him."

Nigeria is a country of tang, color and excitement, as intriguing to outsiders as the indiged robes of its people. On state occasions in the feudal north, they even press into service a kind of public relations man known as the "praise singer," whose function is to precede the Emir in a procession, advertising the boss man to the crowd as a lion or bull elephant or some other powerful animal.

The way Nigerians are feeling on the eve of independence, the praise singer will have to be in full hyperbole to match their mood.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

BIDS AND PLAY

Defending against four spades West made the normal lead of the king of hearts. East played the ten and West was able to read this high card play as a call for a heart continuation. A look at dummy's trumps also told West that East wasn't interested in ruffing a heart and therefore was showing the queen as an entry.

West wanted to get his partner in the lead for a diamond return. Hence, he continued with the high eight of hearts to call for a high suit return.

This suit preference signal was a cinch for East to read. He took his queen of hearts and led back a diamond whereupon South had to lose a diamond, a club and two hearts.

The play of the hand was quite interesting and just so you won't think that the bidding by North and South was absurd, I must point out that they were playing the Jacoby transfer bid and North's four heart bid showed spades not hearts, and that South's four spade bid was the automatic response to the transfer.

This particular transfer did not work, due to the tremendous defense, but if North had been declarer at four spades the defense against him would have been far easier.

TODAY'S QUESTION
You do pass. West bids two spades and your partner passes. What do you do now?

Report From Ottawa

by Clyde Blackburn

OTTAWA—With local political activity quiescent for a day or two and all attention turned on the UN this will be about newspapers and radio and television perhaps trying too hard to make news events exciting and challenging.

Just as a starter I am convinced that the president's UN speech was NOT the greatest, good as it may have been.

Nor do I believe that Mr. K's speech was as frightening as we have been led to believe.

No one is more conscious of the horrible prospect we face in the success of Mr. K. and his friends at forcing their way of life on the world.

Yet I am sure the Soviet world could give us much worse than Mr. K. and the U.S. could be much better led than it is.

But this is about much less important matters.

Radio probably is more guilty of exaggeration of news events than the newspapers because a dramatically gifted announcer can make the ordinary facts sound more important than the actual words indicate.

Take an example. Last month the newspapers and radio newscasts were preoccupied with forest fires in the Maritimes. Elsewhere too, but this is about the Maritimes.

With a small party I was on a motor tour down East. We had planned to go around the Gaspé coast. But when we got to Mont Joli, someone suggested we skip the Gaspé.

Normally I would have insisted on Gaspé. But newspaper and radio reports of the fires there swayed me to silence. So we went down through the Matapédia and into New Brunswick and Nova Scotia.

Each morning in Nova Scotia we had a radio and newspaper report which would lead us to believe the province was one vast torch.

Later we drove through most of the counties and through one town that was a deadline for some of the most vivid forest fire stories.

We saw some smoke on the skyline, once from a hill-top we saw a scrap of flame. There was that smell in the air that comes from forest fires and is not unpleasant at a distance.

But throughout that beautiful province traffic moved without interruption so far as we were aware.

Nor do I have any knowledge of any traffic interruptions on the scenic Gaspé trail.

Another little thing for instance: Time after time we read of a robbery with thieves taking some huge amount. Then later on we find the amount was two per cent in cash and the rest in securities impossible to cash in.

This was the case in Montreal the other day. A messenger was taken for some six thousand in cheques marked "for deposit only."

But the headlines reported a fifty thousand dollar robbery. As a long time exaggerator myself (I suppose) I still don't like it.

ZOO EXPANSION

WINNIPEG (CP) — The proposed $4,500,000 expansion program for Winnipeg's Assiniboine Park Zoo will increase the zoo's facilities to 120 acres from 45, and raise the number of species housed in it to 300 from 90. Director Gunter Voss said in a recent address that the cost is equivalent to two packets of cigarettes for each resident for the next 10 years.

Convert waste into newsprint

GARFIELD, N.J. (CP) — A plant to convert waste newspapers into newsprint is being built here at a cost of $4,000,000 and is scheduled to go into operation in January, 1962.

The conversion process uses about 90 per cent waste paper and 10 per cent chemical fibre. The plant will produce about 45,000 tons a year with a potential of 80,000 tons.

Richard Scudder, publisher of the Newark, N.J., News, developed the process along with Robert Illingworth, an engineer on the daily newspaper. Scudder says the de-inking process of old newsprint isn't a new one but their process marks the first solution to the problem on a commercial scale.

He says the firm expects to market its newsprint at $124 a ton, compared with the present market price of $134.

mongers" who want to split the Communist camp.

In this connection Western analysts are now taking another look at the appointment of former Premier Vyacheslav Molotov as a minor official of the International Atomic Energy Agency in Vienna.

Do Khrushchev and his mentors in the Presidium want Molotov out of Russia while the Soviet Premier is skipping all over the globe?

Molotov is the last surviving Soviet leader who worked closely with Lenin, the founder of Russian communism. He still has prestige in Party ranks. He took advantage of Khrushchev's absence abroad in 1957 to organize a conspiracy against him. At that time Khrushchev, by corraling the Central Committee, was able to turn the tables on Molotov and purge him from the Kremlin.

Did Khrushchev fear another Molotov-Suslov conspiracy during his absence which would deprive him even of the limited authority he now has?

Whatever the answer, the consensus of experts is that Khrushchev is no longer a free agent to act as he pleases.

He will continue to peddle peaceful coexistence to befuddle the West but he will have to bow to Suslov's and Mao's line of the "encirclement of capitalism" if he is to retain his job as the Red peddler.

the United Arab Republic. It was the first meeting between a British prime minister and the Arab president since the 1956 British-French action in the Suez Canal zone.

Nasser had called for a Eisenhower-Khrushchev meeting in his address to the General Assembly.

Khrushchev's main appointment Wednesday was with President Tito of Yugoslavia, who was expelled from the Soviet bloc in 1948 for ideological "heresy." After the conference, a Soviet communiqué said in part:

"The two leaders discussed international questions of mutual interest—disarmament, liquidation of colonialism, the Congo situation, the Soviet-Yugoslav question and other matters. The talks were held in a friendly atmosphere."

SHOWS HIS TEMPER

Khrushchev's temper alternated swiftly during the day from irritation to his usual bonhomie.

He snapped at an American woman reporter during a reception given by Crown Prince Moulay el Hassan, the vice-premier of Morocco. She was leaning close over their shoulders as he talked with the prince.

"I don't know what the situation is in the U.S.," Khrushchev said through an interpreter, "but in the Soviet Union that is rude. We consider it an insult to a man's dignity."

He also attended a reception given by the Nepalese delegation.

Two more heads of state arrived Wednesday by plane. President Sukarno of Indonesia with an entourage of 50 and King Hussein of Jordan.

Fidel Castro went back to Havana, riding in a Russian plane. His own plane was attached at Idlewild Airport as security for Cuban debts in the United States, now the subject of a court fight.

The steering committee voted against putting a Soviet-proposed item on independence for colonial peoples directly on the floor of the assembly, and also against a Soviet item labelled "charges of American aggression." Both were sent to committees.

Stables at Richmond destroyed

RICHMOND — Fire of unknown origin completely destroyed the racing stables at the Richmond County Agricultural Society fair grounds here at 5 p.m. Wednesday. Luckily the three horses inside at the time were taken out of their stalls before fire reached them.

Wilfred St. Cyr, owner of one end of the stables managed to get the animals out but lost some equipment and hay.

The blaze lasted over an hour before firemen under Chief Gerard Paquin and assistant Fire-Chief Leslie Rattray had it under control. They used four lines of hose, also concentrating on the coliseum about 40 feet from the stables.

Two of the horses are owned by Ed Dutilly of Granby and the other by Lionel St. Cyr of Richmond. There were about 30 stalls in all and fire spread to each very quickly. About a dozen firemen were at the scene in an effort to keep flames from spreading to the arena and other sheds.

CLAPHAM —

History of greeting cards told

Leon Hamel, district representative of the Carlton Greeting Card Co. of Toronto was the guest speaker at the weekly supper meeting of the Sherbrooke Y's Men's Club last night held at the Magog Hotel.

Mr. Hamel spoke on the growth of the greeting card industry since the early 1800's when the first greeting cards were introduced at Cleveland, Ohio.

There was not much doing in the business during the last century but during the latter part of the Victorian era the industry started to grow. There are at present five firms in Cleveland which turn out an average of two billion cards a day.

The speaker was introduced by Phil Rizzotto and thanked by Marcel Vinette. President Hal Evans reminded the members of the Golf day taking place on Saturday at North Hatley and asked members to be on hand not later than 1 p.m. Next Wednesday the club will make their annual visit to the Compton Fish and Game Club. Cars will leave the Magog Hotel at 6 p.m. next Wednesday.

Head table guests included Ken Strew, Mr. Hamel, Marcel Vinette and Dyman Lynn.

The Doctor Says

A THOROUGH EXPLANATION OF THAT BLASTED COUGH

By HAROLD HOMAS HYMAN M. D.

I'd suggest you consider what you are doing before you go shopping for a "cough medicine."

The cough mechanism wasn't set up just to annoy you. It has a definite and useful purpose. And that purpose is to keep your airway clear. To free it of anything that might serve to block the flow of air into your lungs or out of them.

Let me give some examples of how coughing acts to your advantage:

You're at table and something you've tried to swallow has "gone down the wrong way." That is to say, entered your airway instead of your gullet (esophagus).

Or you've caught cold and infected nasal secretion that trickled down the back of your throat has been drawn into the airway when you took a deep breath in preparation for a sneeze.

In each of these examples, you've gotten something in your airway that doesn't belong there. If what you tried to swallow was permitted to lodge there, it might permanently obstruct the blocked portion of the passageway in which it was stuck. And if the infected nasal secretion remained in the bronchus into which it was drawn, it might well introduce infecting bugs into areas they couldn't otherwise have reached.

Now let's consider other ways in which the cough mechanism works to your advantage.

You have a deep bronchitis or even a pneumonia (by which is meant that the infection has gotten clear down to the tiny air sacs through which oxygen must pass to get into your circulating blood stream.)

As a result of the infectious process, pus has accumulated in your bronchial tubes or your air sacs.

You take a deep breath in and, if you're lucky, you cough it up. If you're not lucky, it remains as a plug, like an adhesive plaster dressing over a boil that ought to be drained.

For present purposes, just one more set of examples:

Ordinarily the delicate lining membrane of the airway is kept sweet and moist by a mucus secretion that protects it just as saliva protects the lining membranes of your mouth. When the air you breathe has a low moisture content, the secretion crusts.

Then the underlying membrane gets irritated and cracked just as your lips do under similar circumstances. You respond with a cough that should serve to inform you that your membranes need watering. Not the application of lipstick. Or a swallow of cough medicine.

Or take the opposite situation. Your membranes react with a protective bath of mucus to an increased moisture content of the atmospheric air or to irritants.

Just as your eyes water when you enter a smoke-filled room.

Well, the tears can run down your cheeks. But the bronchial mucus has to be expelled by the cough mechanism. What's the sensible thing to do? Shop for a "cough medicine?" Or do something to dry the air?

Remove the irritant? Or remove yourself to where the moisture content of the air is more nearly normal and not fouled with contaminants?

CCCL head urges better job conditions for women

MONTREAL (CP) — Jeanne Duval, vice-president of the Canadian and Catholic Confederation of Labor, urged the confederation Monday night to fight vigorously for better working conditions for women.

She said women are too often obliged to work for a smaller salary than men, but work just as hard. Too many were disregarded by union organizers, and too many were not interested in unions.

Miss Duval spoke at the annual convention of the 95,000 member CCCL.

LOST MEMBERS

The convention delegates heard reports that the confederation had lost membership for the third straight year.

It was once 100,000. This year the confederation lost a 2,000-member Federation of Municipal Employees, which pulled out because of policy differences with the central body. Because of gains in other industries, the net loss was 1,098.

WA-WMS Regional Rally

Amalgamation of Women's Groups main discussion at meeting

A joint meeting of the Quebec-Sherbrooke Woman's Association Regional Rally and the Women's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian section of St. Andrew's Church, was held recently in Waterville United Church under the chairmanship of Mrs. G. Bullis, Sectional 1st vice president.

Mrs. J. Paige conducted the devotional period, the topic being, Strength in Unity. Mrs. C. Burton was at the organ and the guests and delegates were welcomed by Mrs. Charles Smith of Waterville.

Mrs. H. Boomhour, presbytery president, spoke of the Dominion Board meeting she had attended at Emmanuel College, Toronto. She also urged the members to read the article in the Missionary Monthly. The shape of things to come, by Ann Ward.

Mrs. F. Ross, literature secretary, gave the book review which included the contents of the study packet, CGIT packet and the price of the complete Book Shelf.

Mrs. Nelson Lothrop, president of the Quebec-Sherbrooke Presbytery spoke of the Dominion Council meetings held at Victoria College in Toronto. While there she also visited the new United Church building and training school, and urged the members to encourage their young folk to attend the school.

Mrs. N. Flint, presbytery literature secretary, in her report, suggested that all Auxiliaries appoint a literature secretary.

Mrs. F. Ross, who had attended the School for Women held this summer at Stanstead, spoke with enthusiasm of the wonderful experience it had been. She said it was encouraging to know that the number attending the school was larger than expected, and that she thought it would be a splendid opportunity for the young girls to learn more about the church societies by attending next summer. She was thanked for her excellent report by Mrs. Bullis. Mrs. B. Hyatt spoke of the work of the C.G.I.T. and reported 188 girls had attended a ten day camp this summer. It is hoped that next year the camp will be available for a longer period and that more girls can be accommodated.

Mrs. M. Fuller of Sherbrooke, asked those who had not sent in their Auxiliary histories, to do so as soon as possible. Following the luncheon served by the Waterville W. A. under the convener'ship of Mrs. H. Robinson and Mrs. P. Ingham, Rev. Graham Barr brought greetings from the Quebec-Sherbrooke conference. Rev. Mr. McLeod spoke on the Mission Board of the United Church.

The afternoon session was chaired by Mrs. S. Ball, Key Woman of the W. A. Presbytery, who reported 73 members in attendance. The devotional period was conducted by Mrs. Gale and a tape recording on Stewardship, loaned by Mr. Hopper, was heard.

The speaker for the afternoon, Miss B. Wilson, executive secretary of the Dominion Council Woman's Association, was introduced by Mrs. Nelson Lothrop. Miss Wilson spoke on the new organization which will be called United Church Women, and will come into being, January 1962. She said the boards for this new organization will be comprised of 1/3 clergy, 1/3 laymen and 1/3 women. The purpose of the amalgamation of the two societies being to unite all women for the total mission of the church. Miss Wilson was thanked by Mrs. Ball and Mrs. K. Walker of Coaticook, for the wealth of information she had brought to the meeting.

Before the session closed, Mrs. W. Lane of Lennoxville gave a vote of thanks to the Waterville ladies for their hospitality during the day.

Marriage

BRAULT — GAGE
BEDFORD — The marriage took place on Saturday morning, September 17th in St. Jeanne d'Arc Church, Stanbridge East, of Alice Mildred Gage, fourth daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gage of Bedford, to Dennis Brault, son of Mr. and Mrs. Horstmas Brault of Cowansville. The Rev. Father William Chisason, cure of the Roman Catholic Church, officiated. Four season flowers were used for church decorations. The wedding music was played by Miss Clarisse Brault of St. Alexander, cousin of the bridegroom, and during the ceremony, Yvon Daigle of Cowansville, brother-in-law of the bridegroom sang.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was in a floor length gown of white lace over taffeta, a panel of lace extending down the front of the dress, three tiers of lace forming a bustle effect at the back. Her elbow length veil of tulle illusion was held by a large tulle rose, and she carried a white prayer book, from which fell white satin streamers with Sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Carl McKelvey of Knowlton, as matron of honor, wore a gown of powder blue nylon over taffeta, with matching hat and carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations.

Mr. Carl McKelvey acted as best man for Mr. Brault and the ushers were Roy Gage of Stanbridge East, brother of the bride, and George Brault of Cowansville, brother of the bridegroom.

The bride's mother was in a beige lace gown over taffeta with matching jacket and a pink stole. She wore a beige hat and a corsage of red carnations. The mother of the bridegroom wore a royal blue ensemble with grey hat and a pink stole. Her corsage was also of red carnations.

Following the ceremony the reception was held at the River-view Hotel in Bedford. The table for the wedding party was centred with a three-tier wedding cake.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Brault left on their wedding trip through the New England states and Niagara Falls, the bride travelling in a two-piece dress of brown with green velvet hat and a carnation corsage. Mr. and Mrs. Brault will live in Cowansville.

Guests were present from Montreal, Verdun, St. Alexander and Cowansville.

Food preparation center is still same old kitchen

The man of the house looks disgusted every time a TV pitchman starts talking about "the family food preparation center".

What's wrong with the word "kitchen" he wants to know? All I can suggest is that so many manufacturers of appliances and easy mixes and frozen dinners have promised to take the housewife out of the kitchen that they're now getting afraid to use the word.

By calling the kitchen a "food preparation center," mama is supposed to forget that horrid word "kitchen." Instead of thinking in terms of a hot stove, dirty dishes, and dishpan hands, she is supposed to think of herself in a rarified atmosphere where, like a laboratory technician, she moves quietly about deftly pushing buttons and setting timers. No muss, no fuss, no bother. You see, all those people who have promised to take mama out of the kitchen are really on a spot. Because any woman with a bunch of hungry mouths to feed three times a day is bound to spend a lot of time in the kitchen. And this is in spite of every short cut she can get her hands on.

So the next best thing, those who dream up advertising angles must have decided, is to take mama out of the kitchen for good and all just by changing the word "kitchen" to "food preparation center."

But I doubt that many women are going to be fooled by this subterfuge. At least I haven't heard any housewives I know talking about "mopping the food preparation center" or having to tackle a "food preparation center full of dirty dishes."

Edmonton woman owns, edits weekly paper

EDMONTON (CP)—Mrs. Germaine Dalton, a young-looking widow with three sons, is a weekly newspaper owner who could be described as a human dynamo.

At Beverly, a community of 9,200 population on Edmonton's eastern outskirts, Mrs. Dalton is owner, publisher, editor, advertising manager, circulation manager and news reporter for The Beverly Page. She was the paper's entire staff for seven years until she hired two part-time reporters this summer to add to her payroll of 20 boy and girl carriers.

The Beverly Page carries local news, editorials, articles and sports news written and prepared by Mrs. Dalton. The paper is printed at the plant of the Castor, Alta. Advance.

FARMER'S WIDOW

Mrs. Dalton's husband, a farmer, died at age 26 in 1950, leaving her with three boys, the youngest three months old. She sold everything and moved to Beverly to open a general store. Three years later she decided to start her own newspaper and sold enough advertising to warrant two pages, 200 copies of which were sold at 10 cents each.

Untiring coverage of municipal news, school reports, sport stories and police court sittings soon brought the paper to four pages. Now, the paper is a six-page effort with an occasional burst into eight pages—a practice she tries to keep at a minimum because cost of printing doubles "right off the bat."

to take place on the 26th of November.

Plans were also made for a rummage sale to take place on the 21st of Oct. At the close of this well attended meeting refreshments were served by the hostesses, Miss Geraldine Hebert and Mrs. Mildred Farrell.

Advent Church Girl's Auxiliary elects officers

At the annual meeting of the Girl's Auxiliary of the Church of the Advent held recently at the home of the leader, Mrs. John Pickford, Galt East, Sandra Pickford was elected as president for the coming year. Other officers to act with Miss Pickford are Monica Royce, vice-president, Heather Price, secretary and Patricia Norris, treasurer.

Following the election knitted and sewn articles for the yearly festival and badges to be earned were discussed.

It was decided that the members would attend the G.A. Girls rally to be held on October 13 at St. Peter's Church.

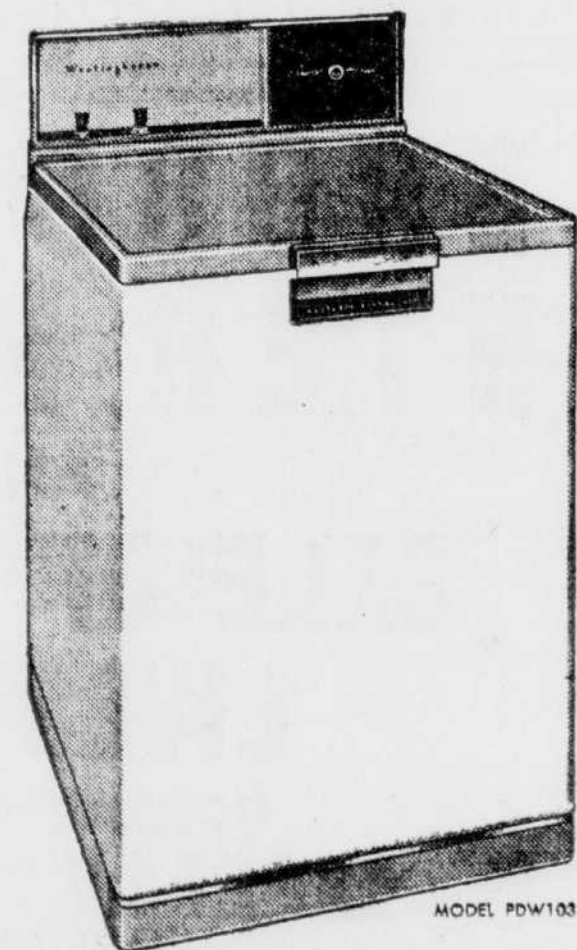

Prior to refreshments being served by Miss Pickford, it was announced the next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Wanda Britton, 1058 Council St.

Waterloo meeting hears talk on Trade Schools

WATERLOO — The first general meeting of the Home and School Association took place Sept. 22 in the High School Gym. The guest speaker was Paul Marc-Aurèle, of the Department of Youth, who spoke on Trade Schools.

Arthur Reed was in the chair, in the absence of the president, Mrs. Frank Graves.

Mr. Marc-Aurèle gave a detailed account of Quebec Institutes of Technology, of which there are 11 in the province, and the Trade Schools, of which there are five.

Comparing both courses, Technology has the highest rating, he said. It requires higher qualifications, longer period of training — three to four years — and results in a more specialized training. The Trade School course is much different. It is only two years and students from Grades 7 or 8 are eligible to enter. The certificate ranks the student as a skilled worker.

The Trade School not only has practical training in shop work but courses in French, English, mathematics, sketching, blue print reading and drafting. The student has to study the theoretical subjects as well as the practical. In the Waterloo school a number of industrial machines, lathes and other basic machinery for the Machine Shop Course are installed. The necessary machinery for the Electrical Course is also ready.

W. Jenks, who thanked the speaker, expressed confidence that next year would show good results in this new project and paid tribute to Mrs. Graves for her efforts to bring the Trade School to Waterloo.

Questions followed and Irving Slack asked if it would be possible to introduce an Automotive Course in Waterloo, where there is a great need for trained help in the garages. Ronald Jennison, principal of the Waterloo Trade School answered that with sufficient demand this could be installed.

It was stated that 16 students were enrolled this month. The Department of Youth is providing transportation from neighboring towns on a three-month trial basis. If 16 students or more enroll for a night course it will be opened. Fees and books are nominal in price and scholarships, where necessary, can be obtained from the Department of Youth.

A social hour followed, during which refreshments were served, and the guests were taken to the Mon Homme Hall to see the newly opened Trade School by Mr. Jennison.

Mr. Marc-Aurèle complimented Waterloo on securing such a suitable hall. The equipment is modern, consisting of machine lathes, drills and electric welding equipment.

C. E. Wilson and Son open new Cowansville funeral parlor

The Eastern Townships most modern funeral chapel and parlors C. E. Wilson and Son, will open in Cowansville this week in a building which is new in design, which will give service to the general public in time of need and sympathy.

The funeral business which was formerly operated by the late George H. Robb was started in 1842 with the assistance of his late son-in-law, Lee A. Boyd. It gave outstanding service to the public establishing a fine tradition.

In 1947 Mr. C. E. Wilson took over the business and continued the traditions of the concern. Mr. Bruce Wilson, his son, entered the business in 1958 making this a family concern whose expansion in the past few years has been tremendous. The firm now has funeral homes located in Knowlton, Mansonville, Waterloo and Sutton.

The Cowansville branch is the latest in service and design in the C. E. Wilson and Son expanding chain of funeral parlors. The new building is the result of many hours of careful study and is a monument to the foresight of the owners.

The new building is an outstanding piece of architecture and unique in facade design as well as interior finish. The premises have a fitting atmosphere of solemnity and dignity.

Mr. Wilson and his son spared no expense in searching out the best material available and to this end succeeded in acquiring an architect who without being ultra modern has achieved his point and preserved the dignified atmosphere a modern funeral parlor should reflect. The subdued lighting necessary in a building of this type helps create this restful scene.

MODERN FUNERAL CHAPEL

Parlor designed with family in mind

Here it may be said that the expression "a family firm in service of the family" rings true, for many of the Wilson employees have been with the firms since its beginning.

The ground floor of the funeral parlours has been designed with the needs of the family in mind. Two spacious rooms have been equipped where the families of the deceased and their friends may pay their last respects in a subdued atmosphere.

The rooms are equipped with floral stands and appropriate subdued lighting. Soundproof walls guarantee the solemnity of the occasion for which they were constructed. The fittings of the rooms are all in harmony with a resulting home atmosphere pervading.

The Chapel is fully equipped with a seating capacity for 150 people. This chapel is unique in its beauty. Specially built pews have been installed and an organ provides appropriate music. Reostate lighting emphasizes the solemnity of the occasion.

In the basement may be found smoking rooms and washrooms for the use of the families of the deceased and visitors.

An unique feature of the interior design of the building is a wrought iron staircase used to reach the basement level. The artist has imitated in such a realistic manner the draped black velvet bannisters appropriate to the general scene; the illusion is perfect.

On the whole, the building is a masterpiece of expert planning benefitting the reputation of the funeral directors who have been in the service of the public for a gener-ald Lang, and their children, of Pointe Claire were guests of Mrs. Fred Lacey.

Cookshire church honors minister at farewell party

COOKSHIRE — Sponsored by the parishioners, of St. Peter's Anglican Church, a social evening was held in the Church Hall on Saturday evening, Sept. 17, in honor of Rev. Canon W.C. Dunn, who is leaving this parish because of ill health.

The evening's entertainment consisted of a sing-song — old and new favorites, with Mrs. G. Gill at the piano, and R. G. Hodge, James French and J. Gill were in charge of a number of games.

On behalf of the congregation, the minister's warden, R. G. Hodge, presented Mr. Dunn, with a purse of money, and H. C. Barter, on behalf of the Sunday School, presented a personal gift.

Mr. Hodge spoke saying that the Canon would be missed by many organizations outside of St. Peter's Church, for he had been an ardent worker in the Farm Forum, the Legion, the Home and School Association, the Compton County Historical Museum Society and that he took a keen interest in town affairs concerning both young and old. Mr. Hodge wished him happiness and good health in the few commitments he will take on in Montreal, where he will reside with his family.

Rev. and Mrs. E. Breen represented Trinity United Church, and Mr. Breen spoke of the many courtesies which had been extended to him by the Canon when he came to Cookshire from the Maritimes a few years ago.

At the close of the evening refreshments were served by the Senior Guild and by St. Margaret's Guild.

"THE CLEAN LOOK OF ACTION" — BUICK '61

IT TOOK GM AND BUICK TO BUILD A CAR SO BEAUTIFULLY NEW—SO BEAUTIFULLY TRIM ON THE OUTSIDE, YET SO BIG AND ROOMY INSIDE AND IN TRUTH GM AND BUICK BUILT A COMPLETELY NEW CAR TO DO IT.

The flow-through horizontal lines of this '61 Buick Electra are part of the new CLEAN LOOK of action found in all 1961 Buicks.

In basic design Buick was able to start right down on the ground—without compromising on components, all the way up! Thus, its K-type frame became an X-type frame, conventional suspension gave way to Control-Arm Suspension, its Wildcat V8 developed more power, Turbine Drive gave way to a new Super Turbine Drive, far smoother, far more responsive. Add all the new advances explained on this page and you'll see why we say Buick '61 is "as fine, as new, as you can go."

It started with an ALL-NEW FRAME

Buick's engineers started with a real open mind. Find a finer frame, they were told. So the K-frame gave way to the X-frame. The result: lower door sills, a smoother, quieter ride, easier handling and better insulation of the body from road shock.

The new frame allowed a NEW CONTROL-ARM SUSPENSION

So conventional suspension arms gave way to '61 Buick's Control-Arm Suspension. From this came flatter cornering and mirror-smooth going over the bumps as well as the highways. Buick has a new semi-floating rear axle, too! This combines what engineers call Torque-Tube Drive and Hotchkiss Drive—giving you the finest features of both.

The new axle allowed a NEW HIDE-AWAY DRIVE SHAFT

Lower the drive shaft tunnel was another order. So Buick put a new kind of double-joint into a 2-piece drive shaft. This let it bend down under where your feet rest. And down went the hump to give you far more flat floor space than before.

The new drive shaft allowed a NEW COMFORT ZONE

In addition to flattening out the floor for more foot room, the Hide-Away drive shaft allowed more headroom, better seat height and more cushioning for all six passengers.

And the Clean Look called for the clean getaways of a NEW WILDCAT V8

The cleaner lines alone spelled more power per drop of gas. But the order came down for streamlining within the engine itself. As parts lost friction, power rose. And so did gas savings. And what a wildcat this Wildcat V8 became!

This new Wildcat power called for a NEW TURBINE DRIVE

First Buick ingenuity found a way to unload 20 more pounds from this wonder transmission. Then through an ever-so-slight turn in the angle of the turbine blades a whole new source of power and gas savings was brought to life.

'61 IS BUICK'S YEAR

Ticats' Tumble Is Pitiful, Says Coach Jim Trimble, Worst Team I've Ever Coached And Responsibility Mine

By JACK SULLIVAN

It's a little sad to watch Hamilton Tiger-Cats tumble from a three-time Grey Cup finalist to a last-place Big Four football club. As coach Jim Trimble says, "this is the worst football team I've ever coached and the responsibility is mine."

At least the guy is honest. Other coaches in the same predicament probably would have been talking about players missing assignments, tough breaks and so on. But not Jim Trimble.

He's the most refreshing personality in the professional game in Canada and has been since he joined Ticats in 1956. He speaks his mind and if anybody is hurt or embarrassed, that's too bad.

He has been the delight of every sports writer in the Big Four and also in the Western Conference. Ticats have reached the Grey Cup final every year since 1957 and each time he's pepped up advance publicity with statements that at times were downright outrageous.

Western Canada football writers had a fine time with Trimble who at one time, told a reporter he was the best coach in the country. That came at a time when Ticats were the power in the East.

He correctly called the score of the 1957 Grey Cup final against Winnipeg Blue Bombers, which Ticats won over the crippled westerners 32-7. Since then, he has been out in his predictions, which always made good reading.

He said in 1958 that Tiger-Cats would lick the Bombers at Empire Stadium in Vancouver. The East lost 35-28.

That was the cue for an enterprising Western Canada song-writer to compose a catchy parody entitled Hang Down Your Head, Jim Trimble to the melody of the song Tom Dooley.

ANOTHER RIBBING

He scouted the Bombers in 1959, told westerners he "noticed one important thing about this Winnipeg team that I think can help us." It didn't mean a thing because the Bombers beat Ticats 21-8 and Trimble again took a ribbing from the West.

Now, Ticats are one-for-eight in the won-lost column and everybody is writing off the Bengals as possible Cup finalists in Vancouver Saturday, Nov. 26. That appears fairly certain, but don't bet that Trimble will not have a lot to say before the season ends.

If Trimble doesn't show at Vancouver, look for some deathless quotes from coaches. How about this one: "Our guys put their pants on one leg at a time, just like everybody else."

Jackie Jensen Returns To Red Sox While Ted Williams Retires, Will Help To Fill Big Hole In Outfield

BOSTON (AP) — The Red Sox lost a greater hitter and regained a good one today when Jackie Jensen agreed to return to baseball as Ted Williams bade adieu to Boston fans.

Jensen, sitting with pleased Sox owner Tom Yawkey and Dick O'Connell, the club vice president, told writers:

"As you know, when I announced my retirement last year I said I had personal problems.

I thought a year away might solve them.

"The problems are still there. I think I was a bit immature in my thinking. That's why I feel returning to baseball, a game I like and enjoy.

"I realize now that the problems would have existed no matter what business I happened to be in and I shouldn't have blamed baseball."

"I still dislike the traveling that will keep me away from my family but other things will compensate for that."

Jensen can't be signed officially until sometime after Oct. 31. The first date his name can be reinstated from baseball's voluntary retired list.

All the terms have been agreed to by Jensen and Yawkey.

Jensen also said that until a week ago he hadn't changed his mind, that he would remain out of baseball, whatever happened.

Jensen said he's in good condition, that he weighs 190, about three pounds under his playing weight.

Jensen is a 10-year American League veteran. In that decade he played 1,301 games, drove in 863 runs, whiffed 186 homers and compiled a .281 batting average.

He led the league in driving in runs in 1955, 1958 and 1959. He also led in stealing bases in 1954 with 22.

to right, is Manager Ed Burrows, Coach Al Burrows and Sylvester Parker, president of the Association. The youngsters in the front, are D. Farrell, C. Lachance, R. Hoye, S. Allard, R. Farrell, W. Gilbert, M. Fafi, S. Brooks, E. Thorne, G. Mongeau, J. Gamache and D. Pelland.

Manager Joe Brown Claims Shrewd Trades Are Partial Key To Pirates' Success, Team Balance Was Main Idea

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Six player trades by Pittsburgh General Manager Joe L. Brown, bringing such key players as Don Hoak, Smokey Burgess, Harvey Haddix, Hal Smith, Billy Virdon, Gino Cimoli, Dick Schofield and Vinegar Bend Mizell are largely responsible for the Pirates' 1960 success story.

However, a trade on which he reneged at the last minute, Brown readily admitted Wednesday, had as much to do with the Pirates' winning the National League pennant as those he consummated.

"The central figure in the trade was Dick Groat, the captain and shortstop of the Pirates who is generally accepted as one of the leading candidates for Player of the Year honors."

Brown, who started his own five-year rebuilding plan soon after he succeeded Branch Rickey as Pittsburgh General Manager in the winter of 1955, regards his trade that brought Hoak, Haddix and Burgess from Cincinnati for Frank Thomas and three lesser lights as the most fruitful he's ever made.

TEAM BALANCE
"Every one of our trades was made with one idea in mind—team balance," Brown said. "One of the most important was the deal with Kansas City for Smith, giving us a left-handed hitting catcher. Our first important trade brought us Virdon from the Cards and he's been worth his weight in gold. Getting Cimoli from the Cardinals last year gave us a fourth outfielder who can perform anywhere and gives us depth. Dick Schofield figures the same way for us in Blue, Queen Over, Merry Guy.

Jack Nicklaus Rips Par Apart In Amateur Event

ADMORE, Pa. (AP) — Power-hitting Jack Nicklaus ripped the Merion East course apart for a record 66 Wednesday and sent the United States into a huge lead in the first round of the second World Amateur Team Golf championships.

Canada was 14th among the field of 31 nations, with a score of 76-78-76-230.

Individual Canadian rounds were: Keith Alexander, Calgary 76, John Johnson, Vancouver, 76, Gary Cowan, Toronto, 78, Bob Wyle, Calgary, 79.

Wyle's score did not count in the tally for Canada, since only the best three scores of each country's four-man team is taken.

Greater Snow Geese Expected To Provide Good Hunting This Season

ST. JOACHIM, Que. (CP) — The world's only flock of greater snow geese is apparently busy fattening up in the Arctic for the hunting season in southern Quebec. Most of the flock are still in the northland instead of winging south.

As a result, the provincial fish and game department is happily forecasting "a very good" season for hunters of the big white birds with the black-tipped wings.

About 10,000 of the birds have landed here on their annual migration from the Arctic to the Atlantic coast of the southern United States. But these are mostly old birds, the first to leave northern feeding grounds.

"When the young are late, it means they've been feeding wild and well and that breeding has been very good," a department spokesman said. "That means there will be plenty of young birds this season."

MANY WILL FEED
At the height of the season in October, some 70,000 to 80,000

Henri Richard Scores Hat-Trick To Edge Barons

ST. THOMAS, Ont. (CP) — Henri Richard scored in the last minute to pull an exhibition game out of the fire for the National Hockey League champion Montreal Canadiens and give them a 6-5 edge over Cleveland Barons of the American Hockey League Wednesday night.

Richard's goal, his third in the game, ended an uphill struggle for Canadiens, who were handed a 5-3 defeat by Cleveland here last year, trailing 5-2 at the end of the second. Montreal scored four times in the third period and got their tying marker when Barons were short-handed.

Richard also collected an assist to pace the Canadiens. Other scorers were Ralph Backstrom, Jean Beliveau and Dickie Moore. Cal Sterns, John Ferguson, Cal Gardner, Jim Mikol and Fred Glover scored for the AHL team.

Cleveland goalie Gil Mayer kicked aside 33 shots, 17 of them in the final period. Jacques Plante had 30 saves.

The game was watched by 3,050 fans.

Chicago — Eddie Perkins, 140, Chicago, outpointed Gene Gresham, 137½, Detroit, 10.

League Seeking Fourth Club And Meunier To Give Final Decision Today; New Body May Take Over

The Sherbrooke Beavers' sudden withdrawal from the Eastern Townships Intermediate Hockey League leaving the "Queen City Of The Townships" without an entry in the senior amateur hockey circuit of the Province certainly caused considerable comment among hockey fans of the City.

A new group, who are interested in operating the Beavers, are making plans to take over in order to give the City hockey again this winter and there seems a strong possibility that the Beavers will remain in the O'Donnell circuit despite the last minute decision of present board of directors.

Following the outcome of Tuesday's meeting in Drummondville the remaining three clubs, Drummondville, Granby and Three Rivers, decided to save the league at any costs and went ahead with plans to secure a fourth club in contacting Meunier of Montreal.

The Beavers' decision left the league in abeyance but despite this the loop will operate again this winter. It seems that certain members of the Beavers' board were no longer interested in carrying on and stated they were going to break the league but despite this the circuit will continue.

President O'Donnell is expected to receive confirmation today from the clubs and the circuit will continue to operate. The Meunier Club is prepared to enter and official notification is expected today.

— If Sherbrooke is prepared to return with a new board no doubt the rest of the clubs will accept them. In withdrawing from the league, after the final date set at Sept. 1, the local club failed to live up to the league regulations and forfeited all their rights in the loop.

At the meeting of the executive, prior to the league meeting Tuesday, President Beaudry was instructed to notify the leagues they were withdrawing although all the members of the board weren't on hand to make this important decision. The new group is prepared to move in and it is expected that matters will be cleaned up soon.

At the present the league has gone ahead with plans to try and secure a fourth club and as soon as this is settled, which should be shortly as the season is approaching fast, the club must settle down to hard work.

Dick Groat, Norm Larker, Willie Mays Battling For Batting Honors With Only Percentage Points Separating

It's Dick Groat .3250, Norm Larker .3248 and Willie Mays .3203 with four games left in the race for the National League batting crown.

Groat, the Pittsburgh shortstop who hasn't been at bat since Sept. 6 because of a broken wrist, expects to return in a turn up for the World Series as the pennant-winning Pirates play a three-game finale against Milwaukee this weekend. The Bucs were idle Wednesday.

Larker was 1-for-3 as Los Angeles defeated the St. Louis Cardinals 4-2 Wednesday night. The Dodger first baseman doubled and scored the teams first run, then knocked in the clincher with a sacrifice fly.

Mays, San Francisco center fielder who is the only past batting champ among the three contenders, was hitless in four trips and lost two points as the Chicago Cubs licked the fifth-place Giants in the second division with a 6-3 decision.

Milwaukee whipped Philadelphia 9-3, with Lew Burdette winning his 19th, in the only other game scheduled in the NL. That gave the Braves a 1½-game edge over St. Louis in their race for second-place money.

Larker, who has four games left, one more than Groat and Mays, doubled in the second inning and scored on Frank Howard's single. His sacrifice fly scored winning pitcher Johnny Podres (14-12) in the fifth inning and best Bob Miller (4-3).

STOLEN BASE RECORD
Maury Wills, picked off base after a first inning walk, hung up his 49th stolen base after reaching first on an error in the sixth inning. That's the top stolen base total in the NL since Max Carey swiped 49 for Pittsburgh in 1924.

Ed Mathews hit his 39th home run, and Del Crandall drove in three runs as the Braves tagged loser Jim Owens (4-14) and four relievers for 14 hits. Burdette, who has lost 12, allowed six hits, walked one and struck out four for a 5-1 record against the last-place Phils.

A two-run homer by Sammy Taylor did it for the Cubs as they came from behind with three runs in the sixth off Jack Sanford (12-14). Bob Anderson (9-11) was the winner.

Blair Richardson's Early TKO Over Teddy Roosevelt Myrick Following Accident Proves He Is Ready Again

HALIFAX (CP) — Blair Richardson, blonde South Bar, N.S., middleweight with a knockout punch, got few bouquets Wednesday for his fourth round TKO victory here over Teddy (Roosevelt) Myrick of Youngstown, Ohio, Tuesday night.

Richardson, making his first ring appearance since April when he received a broken jaw in a Glace Bay, N.S., scrap, stopped the Ohio Negro at 2:26 of the fourth round of a scheduled 10-round non-title bout.

Richardson is Eastern Canadian middleweight champion.

Ring magazine's record book shows Myrick has lost all seven of his professional performances and boxing observers here felt he was anything but main bout talent.

Richardson thrilled the 4,000 fans at Tuesday's fight with his early knockout and appeared more polished than in last season's fights here.

"He never hurt me," Richardson told reporters after the fight, "but he was hard to catch."

Richardson's manager Johnny Nemis agreed that Myrick wasn't a "good test" for his fighter.

"He's a young kid who has to be brought along slow," Nemis said of the 29-year-old Cape Bretoner.

Halifax promoter Clary Harris said he matched Richardson with Myrick on the showing of the United States fighter against Yvon Tyrenne of Montreal. Richardson was forced to the limit to defeat Tyrenne last year when he won the Eastern Canadian crown.

"My fight with Yvon was my toughest. . . . I was nervous about meeting this guy," Richardson said. Myrick was knocked out later in his fight with the Montrealer.

Richardson has won 23 of his 25 professional fights by knockouts.

Big Ted Williams Clouts Homer In Farewell Appearance At Boston

"The Splinter" Finishes In Grand Style, Bangs Out Homer For Win, Fans Give Him Standing Ovation

By BOB HOOBING

BOSTON — (A) — Ted Williams has made an early exit from a brilliant baseball playing career on the wings of his 521st home run and a boisterous goodbye.

The Boston Red Sox slugger's dramatic touch bordered on the uncanny in Wednesday's 5-4 victory over Baltimore. Williams, 42, hit his first major league homer in the same park 21 years ago.

Paid tribute before the game and greeted by volley after volley of cheers during it, Williams came to bat for his final Fenway Park appearance in the eighth inning.

The 10,000-plus customers stood for a minute and a half in demonstration.

As he had done for more than two decades, Williams dug a hole in the batter's box with his right foot, steadily swung his bat — and got a count of one and one.

TED WILLIAMS

With the smooth swing which has been his trademark, Ted lined Jack Fisher's next delivery 450 feet into the right centre field seats behind the Boston bullpen.

Williams' first major league homer had been at Fenway Park, April 23, 1939, off Philadelphia's Bud Thomas.

Later in the dressing room it was disclosed Williams had played his last game. He will not appear in the weekend series in New York as at first planned. "I'm convinced I've quit at the right time," Williams said.

"There's nothing more I can do."

With that one last swish of the bat, Williams released himself from 19 years of major league competition. Williams missed three years of play while a fighter pilot in the Second World War and Korean conflict.

For three minutes after the homer, the crowd stood shouting:

"We want Ted."

One fan vaulted over the dug-out roof and landed on the field in time to grab Ted's hand after he crossed the plate.

An hour later a big gathering still surrounded the parking lot hoping for one last look at the greatest student of hitting in baseball.

The Red Sox immediately announced the retirement of the uniform No. 9 Ted wore, killing the last faint bit of speculation Williams might pinch hit after serving as team batting instructor at spring camp next year.

Signing off with a 344 lifetime batting average in an oft-interrupted career, Williams finished third in the home run derby behind Babe Ruth (714) and Jim Foxx (534).

Jackie Jensen was among those who cheered Williams in a pre-game ceremony at home plate.

Jensen Wednesday agreed to return to the Red Sox next season. He retired last year after 10 years as a major leaguer so he could be near his family and tend to business affairs.

World Series Announcers Are Named By Frick

NEW YORK (AP)—Baseball commissioner Ford Frick Wednesday announced the names of the men who will handle the commentary on radio and television of the world series, starting Oct. 3 at Pittsburgh.

Mel Allen, the New York Yankees' announcer, will team with Bob Prince, the Pittsburgh announcer, to handle the television work. Chuck Thompson of Washington and Jack Quinlan of the Chicago Cubs will do the radio broadcast.

The National Broadcasting company will carry the games on both radio and TV. The broadcasts will start 15 minutes before game time. All games will start at 1 p.m. EDT except the Sunday game in New York which will start at 2:05 p.m. EDT due to New York state law.

LAST NIGHT'S STARS

Hitting: Mickey Mantle, New York Yankees, hit two home runs to take over the American League homer lead with 40 as the Yankees beat Washington Senators 6-3.

Pitching: Ned Garver, Kansas City Athletics, shut out Cleveland Indians on three singles, walked two men and struck out one for a 4-0 victory.

Red Sox Stops Orioles 5-4 While Yankees Whip Senators 6-3 And Kansas City Blank Cleveland 4-0

The splendid splinter of baseball called it quits Wednesday with: "there's nothing more I can do."

Ted Williams retired after 19 seasons with Boston Red Sox. His achievements were many and magnificent. He set the American League rookie record with 31 home runs in 1939, won the first of six batting titles with a .406 average in 1941 and hit more home runs than any slugger except Babe Ruth and Jimmy Foxx.

There was drama throughout his career—his comeback from injuries and illness, his return from the Second World War and the Korean conflict, his batting crown with 388 at the age of 39, his proud comeback this season at 42 after his worst year (.254). And there was drama in his farewell—coming after he had hit his 521st home run, a 450-foot shot over the centerfield bullpen at Boston's Fenway Park in his final at-bat as the Red Sox beat Baltimore Orioles 5-4.

It was Williams' 29th home run of the year and his only hit in three trips to the plate, giving him a .316 average for 113 games this season and a .344 lifetime mark.

The possible loss of catcher Elston Howard worried New York Yankees. X-rays were scheduled today to determine whether Howard suffered a broken finger—which would put him on the sidelines for the world series, starting in Pittsburgh next week between the Yankees and Pittsburgh Pirates—when a foul ball nipped his throwing hand Wednesday night.

The ball, off the bat of Zorro Versalles, dislocated the third finger on Howard's right hand in the first inning as the Yankees whipped Washington Senators 6-3 and tied the league home run record while running up their 12th straight win.

Kansas City Athletics made it three straight over Cleveland Indians, winning 4-0 behind Ned Garver's three-hit pitching.

The Yankees tied the homer mark of 190 they set in 1956 by hitting three of Washington southpaw Chuck Stobbs. Mickey Boyer, St. L., 539 95 164 .304 Moon, LA 468 74 140 .299

Senor Luis Arroyo From Puerto Rico Is Real "Saver" Of Yanks' Pitching Staff, Says Manager Casey Stengel

WASHINGTON (AP) — Luis Arroyo, a senior from Penuelas, Puerto Rico, has been the real "saver" of the New York Yankee pitching staff.

A year ago Arroyo was exercising his left arm for Havana Sugar Kings of the International League against Minneapolis in the Junior World Series. This time he'll be pitching for the big money at Forbes Field and Yankee Stadium.

Manager Casey Stengel counts heavily upon Arroyo as his relief stopper against Pittsburgh Pirates.

Pittsburgh knew all about Arroyo when the Pirates owned him in 1956 and 1957. It was Manager Danny Murtagh who sent him back to the minors at Columbus. Luis had not been effective when he had a 3-11 record for the Pirates in 1957.

Arroyo came up to the Yankees in late July and broke in against Cleveland with two hitless innings. He followed with four hitless innings against Kansas City July 29 and 4-2-3 more July 31 against the A's. In his first appearances, Arroyo allowed 13 runs on 28 hits in 37 2-3 innings. He has been around organized baseball since 1948 when he 4:03.6.

Herb Elliott Does It Again

LONDON (AP) — Olympic champion Herb Elliott of Australia Tuesday night ran his fourth sub-four-minute mile within two weeks in winning an international race in 3:59.8 at White City Stadium.

A stiff wind whipped through the field as the famed Aussie beat the four-minute mark for the 17th time. He holds the world record of 3:54.5 for the mile.

Michel Bernard of France was second in 4:01.6 and Britain's Gordon Pirie was third in 4:03.6.

While Jones was the star, pitching still figured largely in the win for the American Association champions.

Right-hander Don Nottebart started for Louisville and had thrown 95 baffling pitches to allow the International League champion Leafs three hits before he ran into trouble in the ninth inning. The first two men to face him singled.

Southpaw Ken MacKenzie, a native of Gore Bay, Ont., put out the fire, but not before he got into hot water himself. He loaded the bases by hitting Herb Plews, then retired the side by fanning shortstop Billy Moran.

Right-hander Vic Rehm, boasting a 10-8 season record, will start for Louisville tonight. Right-hander Sieve Ridzik (14-10) will be on the hill for Leafs.

Al Cicotte, Toronto's star hurler, was in trouble early in the game. A single by Jones in the third drove in third baseman Ed Charles, who reached first on a fielder's choice and went to second on Lee Tate's single.

Louisville put the game on ice in the fifth inning when Charles singled to right and Tate followed with a single to left. Jones lined a 410-foot blast to the center-field fence for an inside-the-park home run.

Rangers And Aces Battle To 2-2 Tie

QUEBEC (CP) — New York Rangers of the National Hockey League and Quebec Aces of the American Hockey League played to a 2-2 tie in an exhibition game Wednesday night.

Earl Ingerfield pulled the Rangers out of a 2-1 deficit with a goal past the half-way mark of the third period.

Michel Harvey put the Aces ahead 1-0 seconds after the final period started. Andy Hebertson evened the count minutes later while Aces were a man short.

They will discuss whether the Miami franchise will be shifted. San Juan, Puerto Rico, has been mentioned as a possible alternative.

Efforts will be made to keep the franchise in Montreal, although Los Angeles Dodgers have said they intend to withdraw support from Montreal Royals.

The league moved the Havana franchise to Jersey City last season. Discussion will centre on whether it will stay there next year.

Mack Jones' Big Bat Drives In All Four Runs As Louisville Stops Leafs 4-1 In Little World Series Opener

TORONTO (CP)—The opener of the little world series, touted as a pitchers' battle, was won Wednesday night by the big bat of Louisville's Mack Jones.

The 21-year-old centre fielder drove in all his team's runs to lead the Colonels to a 4-1 victory over Toronto Maple Leafs in the first game of the best-of-seven round.

While Jones was the star, pitching still figured largely in the win for the American Association champions.

Right-hander Don Nottebart started for Louisville and had thrown 95 baffling pitches to allow the International League champion Leafs three hits before he ran into trouble in the ninth inning. The first two men to face him singled.

Southpaw Ken MacKenzie, a native of Gore Bay, Ont., put out the fire, but not before he got into hot water himself. He loaded the bases by hitting Herb Plews, then retired the side by fanning shortstop Billy Moran.

Yvon Durelle Ordered To Quit By His Doctor

CHATHAM, N.B. (CP)—Yvon Durelle, former British Empire and Canadian light-heavyweight boxing champion, has been advised by a doctor to give up the fight game.

Durelle was released this week from a hospital here after being under observation for a week. The Baie Ste. Anne, N.B., fighter — fisherman, who was handed a bad 10-round beating by relatively unknown Paul Wright of Trenton, N.J., in Moncton, Sept. 15, was admitted to hospital a week ago Monday complaining of severe headaches.

Dr. Percy Losier of Chatham, who examined Durelle, said the retired boxer probably suffered minor brain hemorrhage as a result of the fight in which he was knocked down three times.

Dr. Losier advised Durelle to take a long rest and never to fight again.

during the regular season.

Toronto's lone run was scored by right-fielder Jim King in the fourth when he lined the ball over the right-field fence. It was his third playoff home run. He had 24 during the season.

The third game will be played here Friday, then the series moves to Louisville for the necessary remaining games.

Al Cicotte Is Named MVP In International

MONTREAL (CP)—Al Cicotte, the slider-throwing ace of Toronto's pennant-winning Maple Leafs, Wednesday was named the International League's most valuable pitcher for 1960.

A three-game winner in the playoffs, he was voted the award by sports writers in the I.L.'s eight member cities.

Cicotte, 30, led the class AAA league in wins with a 16-7 record that included an 11-inning no-hitter and eight shutouts. His 158 strikeouts were also tops and he had a 1.79 earned run average. The tall right-hander polled 263 points to 203 for runnerup Bob Tienauer, a relief ace with Rochester Red Wings. In the running were one pitcher from each club. The others, with points bracketed, were:

Fred Kipp (182), Richmond Virginians; Howie Nunn (Q73) Jersey City Reds; Ken Lehman (146), Buffalo Bisons; Tom Umlight (109), Columbus Jets; Herb Mofoed (99), Miami Marlins; Bill Hunter (61), Montreal Royals.

Eight points were awarded for a first-place vote, seven for second and so on.

Cicotte joined Toronto early this season from Cleveland Indians. He saw previous action in the major leagues with New York Yankees, Washington Senators and Detroit Tigers.
