Firemen to inspect every Westmount home for safety

The Westmount Fire Department plans to visit almost half of the houses, apartments and buildings in the City this summer to give general advice on fire prevention and point out possible fire hazards in each building.

This in-service inspection program began last week in the Cote St. Antoine road, Westmount avenue area. Firemen will work westward, door-to-door, until the middle of September.

The program is conducted annually by the City.

Two regular fire inspectors are employed for this work, but because of the size of West-mount by the time they finished the entire City the area where they started would be out of date.

The regular fireman, conduct the inspections in addition to their regular duties. On duty firemen go out to cover a street with radio equipped apparatus.

"There is absolutely no chance we would miss a call because this equipment is not at the station," a police official explained. "Only radio-equipped engines go out."

The firemen have little difficulty in getting into homes, it was reported, as "in almost all cases residents realize the inspection is for their own benefit." Many people are away on vacations but the firemen keep on trying until someone returns.

Watch for 'the octopus'

Besides generally checking for inflammable debris, blocked passageways and exits, firemen inspect the wiring, and look for overloaded fuse boxes. One common hazard, frequently found, is, in fire department jargon, "the octopus," a wall plug with too many extensions.

Other benefits also arise from the inspections. A fire department official remarked that they are an excellent way to teach the men the location of the streets, the types of homes, where the fire hydrants are, and what to expect if there is a fire. "They feel that weeks of studying maps will not teach them as much as one actual trip to the area."

Summer hours

The Atwater Library will be closed all day June 29 and July 1, it was announced this week. From July 2 to August 31 the library will be open from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. daily and Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m.

It will not be open on Saturdays.

Leja Fund drive tops objective of $20,000

Contributions to the Walter Leja Fund have now reached $23,246 and donations continue to pour in not only from Westmounters, but from all over Quebec at the rate of about $1,000 a day.

Target for the campaign was $20,000. The committee now expects to hand over more than $25,000 to the Leja family when the drive terminates at the end of the month.

"I do not need to ask Montrealers to be generous," Mrs. Phyllis Lee Peterson, chairman remarked. They are generous and we in charge of the fund know that rich and poor, young and old, French and English, are uniting in Montreal's own wonderful spirit of goodwill to show this man and his family we have not forgotten them and that we care. I know what I have always known in my heart . . .

"This is a pretty wonderful city."

Donations to the fund which is sponsored by the Westmount Municipal Association may be sent to The Walter Leja Fund, c/o The Royal Trust Company, 105 St. James street west.

Meanwhile the condition of Sergeant Major Leja, critically injured May 17 while dismantling a terrorist bomb in a Westmount mailbox was reported to be improved by hospital authorities.

Mrs. Peterson cites the letters received with donations to the Detailed subway terminus plans prepared for study by City

Westmount will receive next week long-awaited plans outlining its participation, pending agreement, in the construction of a subway terminus at Atwater avenue, between Western and St. Catherine, The Examiner learned yesterday. It was also revealed that plans for a $23,000,000 "Mid-town Plaza," atop the subway station, to be located partly in Westmount, are now complete and will be released "very soon."

City Manager N. T. Dawe, A. de F. Heron, Superintendent of Light and Power and City Engineer J. R. Daye met Friday with Lucien Saulnier, chairman of the Montreal Executive Committee and other officials.

"They showed us plans for the subway station, to be located at Atwater and Western, but no decisions were called for," a Westmount spokesman declared. "These plans are now complete and official."

Newsletter prepared

He said that Westmount will receive, next week, copies of all pertinent documents for study by City engineers. A newsletter is being prepared for release next week outlining Westmount's stand, he added.

Meanwhile, it was learned recently from a reliable source that the Alexis Nihon Company, owners of the lot at Atwater have completed plans for a large building development atop the subway station.

Police seek identity of amnesia victim

A youth, apparently suffering from amnesia was picked up Monday by Westmount Police who were unable to locate his home. He is now being cared for by Montreal Juvenile authorities.

The youth, approximately 17, who calls himself Jim Talon, stopped a police car shortly after midnight at Clarke and Sherbrooke streets, asking for protection. He said he didn't (Continued on page 11)

Frank Scott plans human rights event

Professor Frank R. Scott, a resident of Clarke avenue, and dean of the Faculty of Law at McGill is heading up a committee planning a 15th birthday party for the Universal Declaration of Human Rights.

The party will be held December 10 and the committee is getting down to business in August to line up money, ideas and workers and to enlist representatives of labor, the legal profession, students, teachers, newspapers, mayors of municipalities, racial groups, adult educationists, and parents.

"Human rights is a normal activity of man at all times — not just a birthday observance," according to Mr. Scott.

Considered one of most important papers

The committee is sifting suggestions of all kinds as to how to mark the anniversary of the Declaration, considered one of the most important pieces of paper in the world.

Offices closed

Because of the long weekend holiday on July 1 in celebration of Dominion Day the offices of The EXAMINER will be closed next Monday.

Advertisers and contributors are therefore asked to have their copy in as early as possible.

Next week's weather

By ERIC NEAL

July 1 to 6

Mainly sunny and very warm. Hazy mornings and valley mists. Brief showers, but haying continues. Fog on eastern coasts and in the Gulf.

Clear and very hot in the middle of the week. Widely scattered thunder showers follow, then cooling winds.

Some years, chiefly following disturbances in the Gulf of Mexico and the southern States, we have had street flooding rains at this time.

Bright and warm to end the week with some risk of night drizzle in the mountains, but continuing quite agreeable everywhere.

Localites lend exhibit items

The long list of private lenders who recently joined forces to make possible the Montreal Museum of Fine Arts exhibition on the Harbor of Montreal — reveals that much of the material is in the hands of West-End residents.

Among the private lenders were Lawrence Lande, John L. Russell and Charles de Volpi of Westmount.

The items included bridge tokens for Victoria Bridge (circa 1865); paintings, prints, old books, maps, manuscripts, ships registers, log books, minute books, company registers, earthenware plates, ships lanterns, bills of lading, a steamboat ticket, a steamship notice, and others.

Includes are letters of Marie de L'Incarnation and a manuscript signed by Paul de Chomedey.

Paintings offer views of Montreal from St. Helen's Island, from Mount Royal; pictures of Rasco's Hotel and the Theatre Royal.

The exhibition will remain until July 7.

Karen Shelly enrolls at Emerson College

Karen Shelly of Grosvenor Avenue, Westmount, Quebec, has enrolled in the Emerson College Summer Session for special study in a program designed for high school students.

'Aunt' and companion face theft charges

A Montreal man, reported for loitering in an alley around midnight Sunday told Westmount police he was waiting for his aunt, but his "aunt" proved to be an 18-year old companion who was caught in the act of stealing part of a car radio.

Constables N. Miles and K. Goodfellow, following up a phone tip, found a man in a lane in back of 4084 St. Catherine street. The man, later identified as Hector Levesque of 7084 St. Hubert street told the constables that he was waiting for his aunt.

Searching the neighborhood, police found a second man, Albert Vincent, 18, of 3813 Wellington street lying on the floor of automobile, apparently trying to disconnect detach a loudspeaker. The radio had been removed.

After escorting the man to cells in the Westmount station, the constables again searched the district and found the stolen radio in another car on Tupper street.

The two pleaded guilty to theft in Montreal court. They will be sentenced today.

SCHOOL'S OUT!

It's over! Now is a time of jubilation for schoolchildren looking ahead to two months of "freedom". It is also, significantly, a time of frustration for many parents, attempting to keep the kids out from underfoot. Hurrying down the steps of Roslyn school in a race to get at that long vacation are: (left to right) Olive Dodd, 9, Derek Dodd, 12 and Mary Bourne, 9.

Westmount exports brains to Toronto

Top labor trouble-shooter, H. Carl Goldenberg, a resident of Roslyn avenue, Westmount, has been selected to look into the future of Toronto's Metro administration. Mr. Goldenberg is well known in the Queen City — for he is the man who brought peace to Toronto's construction industry, settled the Royal York Hotel strike, and mediated a serious threatened Hydro walkout.

One-man Royal commission

He has been appointed as a one-man Royal Commission by Ontario's Premier Robarts to make an independent assessment of all aspects of Metro government in Toronto.

His special study will include exhaustive research into the complex technical aspects of the existing Metro administration with the full assistance of any provincial government department concerned, Mr. Robarts has declared.

There will be public hearings and consideration of briefs submitted.

Metro government in Toronto is relatively new and eminently successful, but Premier Robarts wants to make sure where it is going. All proceedings for amalgamation are being held up until the Goldenberg findings can be completed.

St. John appointment

Lt-Col. H. T. Langston, Clarke avenue, prominent architect, has been named president of the Quebec Council of the St. John Ambulance Association.

In a brief address he stressed the value of the corps and its interest in the welfare and safety of the people of the province.

Hosmer collection displayed at Museum

Dr. A. T. Henderson, 50 St. Sulpice road, Westmount, has loaned a number of 18th century portraits to the Montreal Museum of Fine Arts to help complete an exhibition of outstanding works formerly from the private collection of the late Miss Olive Hosmer.

English portraits and 19th century English and French landscape paintings had been created at the turn of the century by Charles R. Hosmer.

It was inherited, for the most part, by his daughter, Miss Olive Hosmer.

John Black, graduate of Westmount High and resident here for many years has been appointed manager of the Henry Birks and Sons Rockland Shopping Centre store.

Works from the private collection of the late Miss Olive Hosmer, one of Montreal's most generous philanthropists, have, in addition, been bequeathed to the Museum and are now on view. The collection of 18th century caters particularly to discriminating people who wish to own a lot in the country which is secluded and private, yet easily accessible from the city without a long, tiring drive over crowded highways and gravel side-roads; and which is carefully controlled and managed, so that they are assured of congenial neighbours for themselves and for their children.

SIR JOHN'S LAKE CLUB and ESTATES

Provides this and much more:

It is only a pleasant hour's drive from the city, on paved toll-free roads right to the gates of the Estate;

There is a private Country Club, with over 1,000 acres of forest, parkland and safe sandy beaches, for the exclusive use of property owners;

All lots are large, beautifully wooded, and carefully cleared of underbrush, etc.;

Services and protection are provided by a resident Caretaker and staff, including mail delivery, garbage collection, etc.;

There are active and enthusiastic Committees composed of owner members to ensure sound control and management, and to organize social and sport activities;

There is a "Junior Club" with Counsellor for planned fun, games and instruction for the younger set.

With all this, prices are still low and terms convenient—although values in this unique development must inevitably increase substantially, as desirable lake property has already become almost non-existent within convenient distance of the city.

So if you are looking for something SPECIAL in Country property, NOW is the time to come and see.

WE SAY

Divorce obstructions destroying lives

LAST week in this column we noted that a high proportion of the 900-plus divorces blocked in the unconscionable two-year NDP logjam in Parliament originate in broken West End homes.

We spoke of the misery and heartbreak.

But speak to any local lawyer who handles such cases and he will tell you of the frightening legal, moral and social complications — involved enough in the straightforward dissolution of any marriage — arising out of the no-longer-defensible obstructionism of Messrs. Frank Howard and Arnold Peters, the two MPs responsible.

However unhappy, life in all its manifestations goes on for the estranged parties, for their children, for intended new spouses, for relatives and for friends.

Children inevitably continue to be born, their status clouded perhaps permanently. Old and new mates die, their estates hopelessly tangled. Marriage contracts relating to property become at once meaningless and all-important.

Some couples in desperation have got divorces in Mexico or other places where the laws are so lax that they cannot be recognized here — even though the procedure may satisfy uneasy moral or social consciences until Ottawa acts. Validity of remarriages in these circumstances is doubtful, perhaps even bigamous.

All due to the notorious behavior of two otherwise unnotable Members, whose Commons tactics besmirch their party and even the integrity of Parliament. Conservative and Liberal governments alike have permitted this to go on. Other private members rarely cry out.

Nigerian students seek pen pals

Sir, I devote the first part of my writing to wishing you a happy and prosperous day. I have been looking for Canadian pen pals for the past three years. I hope you can help me to find them through your paper.

I shall be grateful if you can publish my name and address in your newspaper in Westmount for Canadian pen pals. I am a boy of 18 years, five feet, two inches in height and dark in complexion.

I shall trade them in different goods of my land such as ostrich feathers fans, native-dress, calabash, wallets, slippers, carved birds and fish, coconuts, hand-bags made of snake skin and with different kinds of ebones, etc.

In exchange for ties, t-shirts, sport shirts, trousers, sweaters, etc.

Fly a flag for Canada

NOW is the time to dig up that flag and make sure it is ready to hang up on the morning of July 1 — next Monday.

If you haven't got one, if you can't find the one you hung last year, go out and buy one.

This is no time in history for Canadians to be too colorless. We are too apathetic, particularly in the cities where the merely making a living takes almost all our time.

Be proud to fly a flag for Canada — there is much about this country of which we can all be justly proud.

I SAY!

An actor told his publicity agent, "I'm going to have to let you go. My mother told me you're doing a lousy publicity job for me." The agent thought for a minute, then replied, "That's strange. MY mother said just this morning that I'm doing a great job for you."

Members of the 117th Socrates Girl Guide Company, both girls will be stationed at Marathon Bay, outside of Athens in Greece, near an artificial lake. The jamboree will continue until August 15, and Connie and Patsy will return home on August 7 flight.

Players are invited to attend the recently inaugurated Montreal Chess Centre, 112 St. Joseph Blvd. west, where playing facilities are available Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings, as well as Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

The municipality of Cote St. Luc has also acquired a chess club, and space procured in the City Hall Annex, at 5762 Westminster avenue, where forty players can be accom-

Westmount residents and their children using the swimming pool have much to be grateful for — apart from enjoying many hours in the sunshine and using the attractive facilities. Adequate safety precautions are taken and life guards are on duty all the time the pool is in use.

In all Canada, Manitoba alone has laws governing all swimming places to which the public pays admission. There, such places must be licensed, have trained attendants for safety, be posted with cautionary signs, provide ropes, buoys, poles, first aid kits and boats.

Elsewhere in Canada some swimming places have life guards and safety equipment on hand; and across the nation there are a few places where swimming pool safety is compulsory.

If you are concerned for the safety of your family and others, you can help by writing to your Provincial Government urging swimming areas safety regulations be passed, and patronize only those places where safety measures are provided.

Westmount CCF boycotts German products

A boycott of all German-made products has been adopted by members of the Westmount CCF Club. This boycott is in sympathy with other CCF organizations throughout the country and with the American Federation of Labor.

The move to dispense with Nazi products was said to have gained the approval of many persons and groups from coast to coast.

The move on the part of a large group of non-Jews recently to boycott German coal is reputed to be the local stimulus for this move.

It was pointed out to The Examiner that the move is in protest of recognized Nazi methods, reported treatment accorded Protestants, Catholics, Jews, and the German people generally, and the Nazi system of government.

Westmount contributes $140,167 to Montreal tax collections

For the fiscal year 1936-'37 Westmount contributed $140,167 to Montreal's total sales and income tax collections, it was revealed this week. Total cost of collecting the amount locally was $9,181.

Westmount's collection totalled only 2.53 per cent of the $5,518,493 which sales and income tax netted Montreal during that time, while the largest contribution, besides Montreal's, was made by Verdun, which turned in $351,322.

Nothing archaeological about these Fossils

Almost 40 years ago, an energetic group of Hi-Y members from the graduating class at Westmount High School determined not to break up their 'bonne entente.'

The next autumn, in 1926, something was done about it.

The Fossils Club was born, and meetings were held regularly at Westmount 'Y'. Their cause: the continuance of good fellowship and an endeavor to better the lot of boys less fortunate than themselves.

How to raise funds? The answer was simple, they'd use the talents of the members and put on a revue. No sooner said than done, and as a result reluctant relatives and friends paid a total of $30 to see a show at the 'Y' gymnasium.

A 'must'

The next year the locale was switched across the road to Victoria Hall, and each spring, until 1940, the Fossils Show was a 'must' with anyone who was anyone in the social whirl.

Between 1940 and 1945 the show went on the road — to World War Two, where most of the Fossils were enrolled in one of the three branches of the Canadian Armed Forces.

In 1946, however, the Fossils were again active, on a bigger and better scale. They were expanded, incorporated, and the show ran three nights, (Today it's up to five nights at West Hill High auditorium, and it's standing room only every night).

And the take for charity has increased accordingly. In addition to the annual Fossils revue, the boys also do a 'package show' from 15 to 45 minutes that is shown at conventions, dances, fund-raising events, etc. A modest fee is charged for these offerings and it is added to the welfare fund.

Membership grows

It's no longer necessary to be a graduate of Westmount High or even a bona-fide Westmounter to be a Fossil — the membership now reaches over the entire metropolitan area and even into the suburbs and along the Lakeshore.

This year Fossils are donating $14,000 to worthy causes. Over the years they have, in addition to capital grants, been responsible for such additional works as the modern kitchen facilities at Camp Lewis of the Montreal Boys Association; a completely-equipped 'campers circle' for 30 girls at the Junior League camp; the entire waterfront area at Boy Scout Camp; a crafts centre at Catholic Boys' Services "Trails End" Camp.

It's a lot of work — sure; and it's a lot of fun.

Says G. William Leet, president: "By his very nature the Fossil loves what he is doing — writing a witty lyric, constructing the scenery, the many evenings of rehearsal, and the final reward of audience reaction to events on stage. But there is more — there is the satisfaction gained from the sure knowledge that Fossils are helping to better the lot of boys and girls less fortunate than themselves — and doing it by precept and example."

Since 1947 alone, Gerry Kirwan, Welfare Chairman points out, Fossils have donated more than $100,000 to welfare organizations.

And this is in addition to the private efforts of the members who are most aware of their community obligations and function and largely in a long list of things from local Little League to the directorships in various boys and girls organizations.

Bernard Pesner heads Neighborhood House

Bernard Pesner, 356 Redfern avenue, has been elected president of Neighborhood House, a Jewish Federation agency. He succeeds Mrs. Lloyd G. Stern who served as president for three years.

Other officers elected to serve with Mr. Pesner include: Ellis Leiter, first vice-president; Irving Halperin, second vice-president; Sidney Cohen, treasurer; and Mrs. Alan Finestone, secretary.

Lionel Sperber was named honorary president. Past presidents in addition to Mrs. Stern are Arthur Pascal, Melvyn Wyndham, Ab Robins and Edward Feigin.

The new president, Mr. Pesner, served as a vice-president of Neighborhood House and has been active on the executive of the agency for several years. He is a member of the board of trustees of Federation and is a former board member of the Jewish Vocational Service. He is on the executive of the Israel Maritime League.

In business Mr. Pesner is associated with Pesner Brothers and he is a member of the Food Service Executive Association and the Quebec and Canadian Restaurant Association. He is affiliated with Congregation Beth-El where he serves as a board member. Mr. Pesner holds membership in the Lord

Reading Yacht Club and Grey-stone Curling Clubs.

In her annual report, the retiring president, Mrs. Stern, said "the extension of the Neighborhood House program to serve the Chomedey community was the highlight of 1962 developments." Mrs. Stern explained that the Chomedey program was started with the inauguration of an urban camp last summer. More recently facilities have been rented for year-round activities which include friendship clubs and interest groups for children ages six to 12.

The growth of new Jewish neighborhoods throughout greater Montreal has led to intensified efforts by Neighborhood House to provide recreational and social facilities in these districts. Mrs. Stern pointed out. The Darlington extension centre which was opened in 1961 now serves over 350 children, youths, and adults in the Cote des Neiges area with a variety of activities ranging from nursery school to adult programs.

Special services

The Clark street centre has recently instituted certain special services. An example is the experimental class for educable retarded children conducted in co-operation with the Mental Assessment and Guidance Clinic of the Montreal Children's Hospital and with the assistance and support of the Protestant School Board of Greater Montreal and the Jewish Junior Welfare League.

Another special project has been developed with a group of teen-age boys who meet weekly with a psychiatrist from the Jewish General Hospital and a Neighborhood House staff member to help them work out their vocational and educational problems in a group work setting.

Dr. Robinson decries talent loss

The loss of Canadian talent to other countries is creating an "internal hemorrhage" that must be stopped before Canada can progress fully, Dr. H. Roche Robinson, 56 Columbia avenue, Westmount, principal and vice-chancellor of McGill said Monday.

He told the annual gathering of representatives of Canada's textile industry at Murray Bay that it is difficult to criticize persons who leave Canada to take advantage of better opportunities in other countries.

"It is only natural for a person wishing to develop in his chosen field to seek out the best facilities and opportunities available.

"If there was full support offered by Canadian education and industry then people would remain here," he said. Industry and education should work hand in hand to solve the problem.

"But the onus is not entirely on our educators. Industry must develop itself to an extent where it has more to offer than it does today, and the reference is not necessarily to financial gain.

Obituary

Canon R. Howard, 95

Final tribute was paid yesterday in St. George's Anglican Church, Dominion Square, to Canon Roger S. W. Howard, 450 Lansdowne avenue, Westmount, who died recently in hospital after a brief illness. He was 95.

Born in Watford, Ont., Canon Howard came to Montreal in 1915. He was a graduate at Huron College, London, Ont., in 1891 and of Trinity College in 1894.

An honorary assistant at St. George's Anglican Church in Dominion Square. He was Governor of the Diocesan Theological College of Montreal.

Canon Howard was rector at St. Martin's Anglican Church at Prince Arthur and St. Urbain which has since been demolished. He served from 1919 to 1950 when he retired.

Prior to then he was rector of Christ Church in London, Ont., and in Chatham, Ont.

During the first world war, he was chaplain of No. 24 Kent Regiment-186 Battalion and also chaplain of Elgin Lodge 114, Montreal.

He was ordained in 1891.

Canon Howard is survived by a brother, Rev. Dr. O. W. Howard; two daughters, Mrs. Joseph Heenan of Ottawa and Mrs. W. Jackson Rutherford, of Montreal; four grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

His wife, the former Janet Graham Tweedie, predeceased him in 1956.

Carnival attendance down by 2,300

Returns for the first four nights of the Westmount Rotary Carnival revealed a decrease of 2,300 in attendance from last year, it was reported by Harry Houston, member of the executive committee.

Complete returns are not yet available as 32 large boxes of mixed coin and crumpled bills must be counted. The decrease will be reflected in a substantially lower gross, Mr. Houston said.

Waiting list mounts at Jewish Hospital

The Jewish General Hospital is still unable to meet demands for hospitalization, Philip Garfinke, 1 Douglas avenue, Westmount reported Tuesday at the 29th annual general meeting.

He noted that the Hospital had a record year, but "the constant waiting list of more than 1,000 patients adds a note of urgency to our projected expansion program announced last year and now in the final stages of planning.

Admissions totalled 11,192 in 1962 and patient days reached 128,878, an increase of 6,530 over 1961, it was reported by Samuel Cohen, of Westmount executive director.

In an attempt to meet an increased demand for hospital service the Jewish General has been extending admissions to include the weekend wherever possible, Mr. Cohen noted.

"We are also increasing use of diagnostic facilities during these periods so that no patient's stay in hospital may be prolonged as a result of delay in completing investigation."

He cautioned, however, that all these measures "while useful have many practical limitations and we must avoid solving one problem by creating others which may have more serious implications."

The hospital incurred an operating deficit of $716,722, more than double that of the previous year, honorary treasurer, Sam Steinberg revealed. He expressed the hope that the deficit would be substantially reduced by the final adjustment for the year to be made by the Quebec Hospital Insurance Service.

of the Canadian Jewish Congress, the Montreal Jewish Music Council has through its various functions, presentations and initiated projects become a moving force in the development of cultural and artistic life in the community.
 The Council promoted community-wide celebrations during Jewish Music Festival Month, presenting programs in cooperation with national and community organizations, congregations and cultural institutions and assisting various organizations and groups in the preparation of their programs.
 As a result of the Council's efforts over 200 musical programs ranging from talks with musical illustrations to choral and orchestral concerts were arranged in Greater Montreal during Jewish Music Festival Month in 1963.
 The Council also initiated many projects to support and stimulate the creative efforts of Canadian composers and encouraged them to create meaningful new musical works. Special emphasis is also being given to promote the development and elevate the artistic standards of folk art groups. Preliminary plans are under study for its forthcoming tenth Anniversary Year.

New bus routes

'Speed-up' predicted by MTC

Westmounters using MTC buses on The Boulevard may expect a general "service speed-up" according to a company official.

The Montreal Transportation Commission inaugurated Sunday a new bus line—63-Boulevard to connect part of Westmount and Snowdon with the central business district. The line follows the same route as the 66-Boulevard, from Queen Mary to Victoria Square with exception that it has been extended to Place d'Armes.

The original 66 line will operate only during rush hours.

Route 63-Boulevard will run down Beaver Hall Hill, as before, but will continue to Place d'Armes by St. James and McGill streets.

Route 64-Windsor has been extended as far as Place d'Armes. These new services will replace Route 170-Windsor.

Mrs. W. R. You have been an inspiration to all of us with your keen interest in the cause of missions, your warm friendliness, your sense of humor, your willingness to serve in any way possible and your faithful attendance at all our meetings and endeavors. You have influenced our lives for the better and helped in no small way our society to try and fulfill its motto, "The World for Christ."

The marriage of Louise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert-Jean Labreche, of Westmount, to Mr. Gilles Renaud, son of the Hon. M. J. Olier Renaud and Mrs. Renaud, of Outremont, took place recently in St. Leo's Church, Westmount. Msgr. Irénée Lussier officiating. Mrs. Daunais Roch played the wedding music, and Mr. Guy Lachance sang during the ceremony. Standards and baskets of gladioli and peonies were used to decorate the church.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was in a gown of Guipure lace over taffeta and organdy fashioned with a draped cummerbund falling into panels and a slight train at the back. Her short veil of tulle illusion was held by a bandeau of lace, and she carried a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis.

Miss Juliette Labreche, as maid of honor for her sister, Miss Rita Renaud, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Pauline Labreche, sister of the bride, as bridesmaids, were in frocks of turquoise organza over taffeta fashioned with jackets of Guipure lace. Please the small fry take them on a picnic

By Millicent Hickmore

MONDAY IS DOMINION DAY and some 18 million Canadians will celebrate this holiday in many ways. "Let's have a picnic" — are still magic words to small fry. With so many types of products available — designed especially for the picnic, you'll find it easy to plan and prepare your meal.

Insulated picnic chests keep food fresh and tasty for over 72 hours and picnic jugs or bottles keep liquid refreshments either hot or cold. Sandwiches are easy to fix and always popular with the kids . . . and don't forget the pickles!

A big bowl of potato salad plus potato chips and mustard are other picnic favorites. Especially welcome on a warm day are watermelon and lemonade.

Other delicious picnic treats are weiners, hamburgers and fried chicken, along with hard-boiled eggs. You can even prepare hot food — picnic stoves and portable grills are easy to operate, in-expensive, and take up little room.

And if you travel by auto, wherever you're going, there is sure to be a pleasant spot along the way where you can stop to enjoy the scenery, a delicious meal and a fun-filled picnic. — Happy holiday!

of Stratford Shakespearian Festival. In this book "To Stratford With Love," he depicts his love, not only of the plays, but of the pleasant journey to the Town, the actors, the staff and the founder. Nicholas Monsarrat has visited Stratford for the past ten seasons and tells of its growth and its future.

projects, propaganda, all aimed at making people think about their human rights.

It is expected in addition to an Ottawa observance involving the Prime Minister and Parliament, other celebrations will be held by provinces, cities, rural communities and schools.

The committee is looking into other matters, too, such as how to give real meaning to fair employment practices for Indians and Eskimos and how to keep a check on police intrusion into private lives.

It is believed a special Canadian stamp may be issued to mark the occasion.

Some historians believe that the term, "Dixie", used to describe the southeastern United States, originated with the famous Mason-Dixon Line, but others assert that the expression evolved from Dix, the French word for ten. New ten-dollar bills were issued for many years prior to the Civil War in the City of New Orleans. Because of the city's large French-speaking population, the letters D I X were printed on one side of these bills. People in other parts of the country who did not know French referred to the bills as "dixies," and the region in which they were circulated came to be known as "Dixie-land."

Goltman recital popular

A professional atmosphere prevailed at the annual pianoforte recital by some forty pupils of Frances Goltman, teacher, critic and columnist in Victoria Hall Tuesday evening.

Opening the program were a number of well-trained beginners, some of whom showed definite promise: Rhona Shugar, Gary Shuchat, Nancy Rother, Jonathan Richler, Cheryl Nudelman, Ellen Kom, Charles Abelson, Ann Goldie, Brian Black and Mimi Lowi.

Susan Granofsky displayed fast fingerwork in Tumbling Clowns and John Black good rhythm in a March. Carol earned applause for a Russian Dance, Derek Rogers' fine expression in a piece by Nevin and Naomi Margolis had good tone in a Trill Waltz.

Elissa Briskin showed pianistic ability in a Tarantella by Parlow; Bronie Abelson played a Bach piece and Maureen Mulvihill was heard in a Scottish dance by Beethoven.

A clever pupil, Claire Lowry, who also played in a duet with Elissa Briskin, showed fine phrasing in a Clementi selection. Gloria Bromberg displayed neat fingerwork in a Bach minuet.

Bella Levine received much applause and was encored for two works by Peerson and Heller. Rhonda Gorelik demonstrated ability in a Schmidt Sonata.

Three contrasting numbers were played by Barbara Yankoffsky, Carol Cairns, and Janie Rother and Amina Balantzyan had fine tone in Nevin's Gondoliers.

Excellent rhythm

Lynne Moodie showed excellent rhythm in American Patrol and Lois Liverman was encored for a splendid performance of Lichner's Gypsy Dance. Caprice Espagnol by Schmolli was a sparkling number offered by Susan Lechler. Mark McLearnon was heard in a minuet. Isabella Allen in a Krentzlin number, John Mulvihill in a catchy Cossack dance and Friml's La Cachucha earned a couple of extra bows for Clotelle Nurse.

From here to the end every student was recalled with applause. Stella Meyer, in five short Etudes by Ketterer; Cheryl Rockman in a Haydn Rondo; Stephanie Hall with a brilliant number by Mowrey; and Fay Levine, who also played in a duet, (Sousa March) with Bella

Loyola library to start

Work will start in two weeks on the Loyola library. It was announced yesterday. Completion is expected by the end of this year.

Bremner Construction Company was awarded the contract at an estimated $750,000.

The building, to go up at Sherbrooke and Belmore, will be three storeys with an area of 55,000 square feet. It will house 150,000 volumes and will accommodate 660 students comfortably at a time.

The library will be of brick and concrete, and will be constructed in the same manner as the recently-completed student's residence — prefabricated concrete slabs.

The announcement also said that the south campus of Loyola, on the south side of Sherbrooke street, has been levelled and the ground prepared for sodding. It will incorporate two full-length football fields.

Consideration is being given, a Loyola spokesman said, to the possibility of constructing a field house on the south campus, but no decision has been made as yet.

The concluding number on an entertaining program, Lorna Rogers proved to be a gifted pianist in a Beethoven Bagatelle, and Kuhlau Sonata drew an encore.

As the large class assembled on the stage for the finale the audience burst into prolonged applause as Miss Goltman made her entry and was presented with a gorgeous bouquet of flowers by the students as a token of appreciation. The successful teacher, in a short address, thanked the interested audience for their fine response and the concert ended with the singing of the national anthem.

Musical weeks
at La Poudriere

By Giveon Cornfield

Of all the summertime musical activities in our fair city, the traditional Music Weeks at La Poudriere on St. Helen's Island is one of the most enchanting experiences. The setting is unique, the island a real green gem, and the little hall absolutely ideal for chamber music, possessing excellent acoustics.

Montrealer Jacques Beaudry opened the series last week with concerts of music by Mozart and Haydn. Of the four works (three symphonies and a divertimento) performed, the most intriguing is the "Farewell" Symphony by Haydn. During the last movement, the players rise one after the other, snuff out their candles, and quietly leave the stage, with only the conductor and two violinists left at the conclusion. This program will be repeated on June 29 and 30.

New vocal group

The "Tudor Singers", a new addition (and a most welcome one, to be sure) to the musical scene here, is under the direction of Wayne Riddle. They presented a program of mainly choral music, but with solos, duets and trios added for variety, all from the 16th and early 17th centuries.

Although the group is but recently-formed, they perform in a highly polished manner seldom achieved by veterans. Their concert was a delightful one, done in extremely good taste. Unfortunately, there were only two performances by the Tudor Singers, but I for one shall be looking forward to more from this group.

Baroque to jazz

Mario Duschenes, flute, and Kelsey Jones, harpsichord, both members of the Baroque Trio, perform the eight Sonatas for Flute and Harpsichord by Bach in two concerts of four sonatas each.

The second cycle is on June 26 and 27.

Meanwhile, as Messrs. Duschenes and Jones take a breather, the Yvan Landry Quartet, one of the swiftest combos in town, makes the scene.

With Landry at the vibes, Don Habib on bass, Armas Maiste at the piano and Roger Simard on drums, the joint is guaranteed to really jump.

For the final concert of the series, Kenneth Gilbert, the distinguished harpsichordist and one of our very finest artists, will play a single concert on Friday evening, June 28.

The program will include J. S. Bach's Concerto in D (after Marcello), Couperin's Passacaille in B Minor, and a beautiful but rarely heard work, "Walsingham" by the 16th century English composer John Bull.

After intermission, Mr. Gilbert will play seven sonatas by Scarlatti, in pairs and threes, as the composer intended them to be played.

Consider pets
this summer

Going away?
Don't leave your pet to fend for itself in the hot city, or expect friends or neighbours to look after it.

If you don't want the pet any more, and can't take time to deliver it to Bill Dunlop at the SPCA, 5215 Jean Talon west, then phone RE. 1-1144 and a truck will call.

Should you wish the pet back — contact private kennels. The SPCA will take the pets off your hands, but they don't board animals.
