

RUSSIANS STEADILY GAINING GROUND IN STRUGGLE FOR A PASSAGE OVER CARPATHIANS

Austrian Official Report Admits Fighting Now Taking Place In Laborca Valley—Russians Capture Csnia, An Important Station On High Mountains—Calm In France—Bulgaria States Rebels Responsible For Raids—Prohibition In Royal Household

London, April 5—The attention of the public for the time being is directed toward the great struggle for the Carpathian passes where the Russians apparently are making very steady progress despite the obstinate resistance offered by the Austrian and German troops.

The Russians are on the Hungarian side of both the Dukla and Lupkow passes and with the aid of continual reinforcements are gaining the heights which dominate Uzok Pass. Even the Austrian official report admits that fighting is now taking place in the Laborca valley, which is south of Lupkow Pass, while the Russians tonight announce the capture of Csnia, an important station on the high mountains between Lupkow and Uzok Passes, where they captured a great stock of war munitions and provisions.

The Russians also are advancing from Dukla Pass on Bartfeld, which is at the head of the line of railway running south into Hungary, and fighting not far from Mezolaborca, another important railroad head. On Saturday and Sunday they captured in the Carpathians upward of three thousand prisoners. They also claim another success in Bukowina and the capture of another thousand prisoners, while the Austrians also assert that they repulsed a Russian force which attempted to cross the Dniester river.

The Russians also are making progress in northern Poland, a German official report telling of the repulse of a Russian attack on Mariampol which is considerably west of the region which a few days ago was in the possession of the Germans.

So far as the western front is concerned, comparative calm continues, the French having little to report, while the Germans announce the repulse of French attacks in the Vosges and Argonne regions and of a Belgian attempt to recover ground which they recently lost in Flanders.

The former German cruisers Goeben and Breslau, now under the Turkish flag with the new names Sultan Selim and Midirli respectively, have again been out in the Black Sea and exchanged shots with the Russian fleet off the Crimean coast but, probably confronted by superior forces, made their way back to the Bosphorus.

The German submarine U-31 has replaced the U-28 off the west coast of England and during the day reports were received of the sinking by this under-water craft of the Russian bark Hermes and the steamer Olivine, both small vessels.

The Bulgarians have explained that the recent raid into Serbia was the work of rebels and have promised to disarm them when they reach the Bulgarian frontier.

The King of England has now made a definite pledge to prohibit the use of alcoholic liquors in the royal household, a self-denying ordinance which many prominent men in the country already have placed on themselves. With this example before the people and probably shorter hours for the sale of liquors it is now believed that total prohibition will not be necessary.

OFFICIAL

FRENCH STATEMENT.

Paris, April 5.—10:08 p. m.—The following French official statement regarding the fighting in the western theatre of war was given out here tonight:

"The day has been one of rain and fog along the whole front.

"At the forest D'Ailly, south-east of St. Mihiel, we captured three successive lines of trenches. We also gained a footing in one portion of the enemy's works north-east of Regnevill."

RUSSIAN STATEMENT.

Petrograd, via London, April 5.—10 p. m.—The following Russian official statement concerning the progress of the war was given out here tonight:

"Along the front west of the Niemen river yesterday our troops continued to make successful progress at certain points.

"In the Carpathians during the night of April 3-4 and during the whole of the following day in the region to the north of Bartfeld there was fierce fighting with artillery and the bayonet. We took twenty officers and more than twelve hundred soldiers prisoners and captured two machine guns. At the same time we continued to make progress on the front between Mezolaborca and Uzok. In the course of the day we captured about twenty-five officers and more than two thousand soldiers and took three guns.

"Having occupied the railway station at Cania (in the Carpathians on the Gaician side, about 15 miles east of Lupkos) we captured engines and coaches as well as a great stock of ammunition and part of a provision train.

"There was desperate fighting Wednesday and Thursday near the village of Okna, to the north of Czernowitz (Bukowina), as a result of which we took more than a thousand prisoners whom the Austrians had left behind.

"On the other sectors of our front the general situation has undergone no material change.

"On the third of April in the Black Sea near the Crimean coast our fleet exchanged shots at long range with the cruisers Goeben and Breslau (former German cruisers now under the Turkish flag, having been re-named the Sultan Selim and Midirli respectively) and pursued them until dusk. During the night our torpedo boats encountered the cruisers one hundred miles from the Bosphorus but the enemy opened a vigorous fire and avoided an engagement."

AUSTRIAN STATEMENT.

Vienna, April 5.—via London, 7:55 p. m.—The following official statement was given out today at the War Office:

"Violent fighting continues in the Laborca valley and the neighboring region.

"On the other front artillery engagements have taken place, but generally it is calm. Near Dsejebusznie, east of Zaleszitrow, a strong hostile force which attempted to cross the Dniester river was repulsed after many hours of fighting. We captured 1,400 men."

BULGARIA WILL REMAIN NEUTRAL

DISCHARGED SOLDIERS CAUSE ATTACKS ON THE SERBIAN FRONTIER.

Washington, April 5.—Stephen Parnareff, Bulgarian minister here, said today he considered it highly unlikely that real hostilities between Bulgaria and Greece or Serbia would result from the recent fighting between Bulgarian irregular troops and Serbian and Greek border guards. He reiterated the declaration of his government's Foreign Office that Bulgaria intended to remain neutral, and explained that war against Serbia would mean fighting Greece and Rumania since those countries had an alliance for common defence.

The Minister said the irregulars engaged in the fighting were discharged soldiers who had served as volunteers in the last Balkan war, many of whom had kept their uniforms.

Greenville, Ills., April 5.—Eleven men lost their lives as the result of an explosion of black damp in the Shoal Creek Coal mine near here this morning. Approximately 400 others who had just entered the mines escaped uninjured. Ten bodies of the dead had been recovered tonight. Only the body of Theodore H. Burns, who was among the first to enter the mine and whose lamp is believed to have caused the explosion, could not be found. An hour before the explosion the mine inspector after the customary daily examination, had announced the mine safe. In 1910 six men were killed in a similar explosion at this time. In 1911 two men were killed in a black damp explosion there.

OBJECTIONS TO ELECTIONS ACT

MR. PUGSLEY'S AMENDMENT WAS VOTED DOWN BY A LARGE MAJORITY.

(Special to the Chronicle)
Ottawa, April 5.—The House spent most of the day discussing amendments to the controverted Elections Act designed to prevent the long technical proceedings which have disgraced Canadian election trials in the past and to prevent, as far as possible, bribery and corruption in elections. The bill has been considered two years by a painstaking special committee of the House, of which Hon. C. J. Doherty, Minister of Justice, was chairman. The question was discussed from an absolute non-partisan standpoint and every effort was made by the Minister to frame the most perfect law possible. The committee's decisions were embodied in this act. However, the bill met with considerable objection, particularly from that apostle of purity in elections. Mr. Pugsley moved one amendment which was discussed at considerable length. He proposed that where a member was unseated for corrupt practices the defeated member should, without another contest, take his seat. The amendment was opposed by members on both sides and was almost unanimously voted down. The bill still remains in committee. Most of the evening was spent on public works estimates and Hon. Robert Rogers made good progress with his estimates.

SERIOUS BATTLE IN CARPATHIANS

RUSSIANS INFLICTED HEAVY LOSSES ON AUSTRO-GERMAN TROOPS.

Geneva, April 5.—via Paris, April 6.—12:15 a. m.—Despatches received here tonight from Budapest state a serious battle started in the Carpathians on Saturday evening, extending from Dukla to Eperies, Saros county, Hungary. The despatches state that the fighting was the severest around Saros and that the Austrian and German armies were repulsed. The new young Bavarian troops suffered heavily, it is said, and the Austrian losses on Sunday alone were over 15,000. The battle continues and reinforcements are being hurried up to assist the Austro-German forces.

SAY COTTON SHOULD BE CONTRABAND

As it is Used for Explosives Scientists Contend it Should be Listed.

London, April 6.—3:34 a. m.—A number of influential scientists and engineers headed by Lord Ramsay have been for some time urging the government to place cotton on the contraband list on the ground that it is used for explosives. The correspondence between these parties and the government has been published showing that they have brought the strongest argument before the government that unless drastic measures are taken to exclude cotton from Germany Great Britain is virtually supplying the Germans with ammunition.

The government, however, so far has declined to move and has referred the petitioners to the recent order-in-council.

The Standard in an editorial on the American note, complains of the supineness of the government in this connection, which, it supposes, is out of deference for the United States, and says:

"If the British government thereby hopes to avoid offending the United States it has little luck, for it is not with regard to these matters that President Wilson is insistent. He protests against shadowy and ineffective claims much more than against the severe enforcement of undoubted rights."

RUSSIANS MINE BALTIC COAST

FIVE GERMAN VESSELS DESTROYED IN THE PAST TEN DAYS.

Stockholm, April 5.—Via London, April 6.—2:29 a. m.—The Dagblad states that it learns from the Swedish naval authorities that Russian ships have laid a large number of mines along the Baltic coast of Germany from Ruegen Island to Barnholm Island. It is said that the Swedish naval officials have stationed torpedo boats in the Baltic to warn shipping of the mines.

Ferry traffic between Trelleborg and Sassnitz has been discontinued on account of floating mines which have destroyed five German vessels in the past ten days.

C. P. R. EMBEZZLER IS ROUNDED UP

B. F. AIKEN ARRESTED ON THE CHARGE OF EMBEZZLEMENT.

Vancouver, B. C., April 5.—With the arrest of B. F. Aiken, former C. P. R. passenger and telegraph agent at Rogers Pass, the last of eight men wanted since November, 1913, on a charge of conspiring to defraud the C. P. R., has been rounded up. They are alleged to have embezzled $11,000 from the C. P. R. by a system of padding the payrolls under Aiken's charge.

"STOP THE WAR" PLEA IS USELESS ONE

LABOR LEADER STATES THAT WAR CERTAINLY MUST BE FOUGHT TO A FINISH.

Norwich, Eng., April 5.—The delegations of the Independent Labor party, now holding their annual meeting in Norwich, have received a report of the National administrative council of the party setting forth that the party had accepted a set of resolutions declaring, among other things, that it was the duty of the labor movement to secure peace at the earliest possible moment. The text follows:

"That the conflict between the nations of Europe with which this country is involved is a result of the pursuit by foreign offices of diplomat policies with the idea of maintaining the balance of power; that our national policy of understanding with France and Russia only was bound to increase the power of Russia both in Europe and in Asia and to endanger our relations with Germany; that For. Secy. Grey proved by the facts he gave in the House of Commons committee, to have given definite assurance of support to France in the event of any war in which she was seriously involved before the House of Commons had any chance to consider the matter; that the labor movement reiterates that fact, that it has opposed the policies which produced this war, and it is its duty now to secure peace at the earliest possible moment on such conditions as provided the best opportunity for the re-establishment of amicable relations between the workers of Europe."

James Ramsay McDonald, chairman of the Labor party, said the fact the war had to be fought to a

Yes Resinol cleared away every pimple! At least once a day—usually twice—I bathed my face for several minutes with plenty of Resinol Soap and hot water and applied a little Resinol Ointment very gently. I let this stay on for ten minutes or so, and then washed it off, with Resinol Soap and more hot water, finishing with a dash of cold water to close the pores. I was astonished how quickly the healing Resinol medication soothed and cleansed the pores, removed pimples and blackheads, and left my complexion clear and velvety. U.S. CANNOT ADMIT JUSTIFICATION OF LATEST EMBARGO

(Continued from Page One.) court cases is a perfectly fair demand and concludes: "When all is said, England has reason to be profoundly grateful to America." The Daily Telegraph in an editorial says that it finds in the American note a tendency to discuss the British acts in an "intellectual vacuum" and continues: "We are not fighting so much for the principles of international law as for our existence. The American government seems to miss this point in the controversy. We are not resorting to similar practice to the Germans. On the contrary we are treating all neutral subjects and interests with a consideration which moves many persons in England to indignation and expostulation. "These considerations apart, the Washington government makes an important and valuable contribution in a suggestion which appears to bear the character of an invitation to the Allied governments to declare a formal, long distance blockade, involving on neutrals all the penalties of attempting to break through. We apprehend that jurists will contend the proposal involves a far more serious infringement of international law than the Allies' present measures but the plan certainly is worthy of a most friendly examination." The Daily Chronicle complains that President Wilson makes no option of the fact that the neutrals have complete immunity from blockade penalties, and adds: "This silence seems to us decidedly the least friendly and least candid thing that President Wilson has done in his correspondence with our government. No doubt the President is in a difficult position and his note seems to reflect perplexity by its very style of expression. We are sure that the British government will do its best to meet him but it is impossible for the Allies to allow non-contraband goods to reach Germany without destroying their policy." The Daily Graphic fails to draw a distinction between the "technical irregularities" the British blockade may involve and the "shameless inhumanity of the German methods of warfare," and adds: "So long as the President argues on this basis, his arguments have no interest for the British public. We have to get on with our business." The Graphic goes on to advocate the confiscation of the property of German subjects in England "If the Germans continue to take the lives of British and neutral subjects on the high seas."

ST. MATTHEW'S HELD VESTRY MEETING

ANNUAL MEETING OF ST. MATTHEW'S CHURCH VESTRY YESTERDAY

The annual vestry meeting of St. Matthew's Church was held last evening in St. Matthew's Parish Hall at which there was a good attendance. The Rev. A. K. Kelly, assistant priest, in the absence of the front of the Rector, Canon F. G. Scott, presiding. Mr. R. H. Doddridge acted as secretary. The Rev. A. R. Kelly read a cablegram from Canon Scott in which he sent his greetings to the members of the vestry. The Peoples' Warden, Mr. A. J. Teakle, read the Churchwardens' report for the past year in which was mentioned the reply of His Grace the Archbishop Hamilton to the address of St. Matthew's Congregation sent him on the occasion of his retirement from the Archdiocese of Ottawa. The report also mentioned the Rector of the St. Matthew's Church who was always ready to uphold the honor of the Parish was one of the first to volunteer his services as chaplain to the Canadian troops at the front and was finally appointed to the position of chaplain to the 14th Batt. of Canadian Expeditionary Forces and that it was the sincere wish of the congregation that he would return safely to resume charge of his parish. During the year the McDougall memorial consisting of three Sedelia was placed within the sanctuary. The Wardens' intimated to the meeting that the Lampson memorial was in course of preparation and would take the form of a stained glass window which it was expected would be placed in position during the present year. The finances of the Church were shown to be in a very healthy condition, and this is very gratifying considering the numerous calls upon the members occasioned through the war. The envelope system of subscriptions was proving very satisfactory and it was expected that many more of the congregation would adopt this form of subscribing during the present year.

The Rev. V. E. Hubbard who was appointed to assist the Rev. A. K. Kelly during the Rector's absence had endeared himself to the congregation by his eloquence and earnest work.

During the year the very Rev. Dean Williams had been elected Bishop of Quebec which was very gratifying to the members of St. Matthew's particularly as he commenced his work in the ministry amongst them.

Dr. Jas. Laurie and Mr. A. J. Teakle the retiring Rectors and Peoples' Warden respectively were re-elected to their former positions, and a vote of thanks was unanimously accorded these gentlemen for the very able manner they carried out the duties of their respective offices.

Auditors elected were Messrs. Watson, J. A. Sangster, and R. H. Doddridge.

The following were elected Sidesmen for the ensuing year: Messrs. J. Hamilton, E. Pope, C. J. Pigot, E. A. Hoare, F. O. Judge, C. V. Norris, R. McGee, J. A. Sangster, R. Quirouet, D. E. Caruthers, B. A. Turner, E. H. Walling, J. B. Billett, W. Watson, A. Kennedy, T. Kell, W. C. Teakle, B. Hall, G. B. Hall, R. H. Doddridge, C. M. Pike, R. Rowbotham, J. P. Ambrose, G. H. Whittle, J. B. O'Regan, H. Kennedy and T. F. Teakle.

Votes of thanks were extended to the following organizations of the Church: The voluntary and auxiliary choirs, the ladies who played the harmonium, the Bellringers Guild, Sunday School teachers, the Chinese teachers, Mrs. F. G. Scott for presiding at the organ at special services, to the Misses Plains for decorating the church at the different festivals, and the Parish Helpers.

The Church Wardens were requested to forward a cablegram to Canon F. G. Scott expressing their loyalty and best wishes for his welfare, and also a letter to Mrs. Scott recording their sympathy at the misfortune which has befallen her now at the front.

The meeting terminated with the Benediction.

St. Thomas, Ont., April 5.—Police Magistrate H. F. Jell, whose illness has been a matter of concern for some weeks, is reported as somewhat improved today, though a speedy recovery is not looked for. A report of his death gained currency on Saturday, but was quickly denied.

FRENCH CO. GIVEN WARM RECEPTION

LARGE AUDIENCE ENTHUSED OVER "LE ROMAN D'UN JEUNE HOMME PAUVRE."

The return of the French company to the Auditorium yesterday was greeted by enthusiastic audiences at both the afternoon and evening performances when Octave Feuille's popular drama, "Le Roman d'un Jeune Homme Pauvre," was presented. With a strengthened company the French artists brought out all the enthralling romance of this inspiring drama, and their success was probably more marked than on the occasions of their former visits here.

The story entwines about Maxime Odiot, a well-educated though poor young man who secures a position in the household of an aged man of wealth and falls in love with his employer's grand daughter, who is, however, affianced to another. The young man endeavors to keep his love a secret, but the girl shrewdly guesses his secret and knowing his strong character and noble qualities she falls deeply in love with him and confers her hand upon him.

Mr. Elz. Hamel, in the role of M. de Vavellan, the young man who is engaged to Marguerite when Odiot arrives, achieved a big success and was greeted with frequent applause as were the other artists in the leading roles, Messrs. Duquesne and Girardin and Misses Verneuil, d'Escoubes, Hyor, Dartigny, and Mistral. The drama will be played again tonight and on Wednesday with matinees this afternoon and on Thursday.

POLICEMEN HAD HARD TUSSEL

Constables O'Leary and Sleeth had quite a tussle in arresting an individual on St. John street, at the corner of St. Stanislas street last night. The prisoner was being taken in charge for drunkenness. There are in all ten prisoners in the lock-up at Central Station, arrested over week-end. They will all be brought before the Recorder this morning.

IRELAND STRUCK BY WAR FEVER

UNIONISTS AND NATIONALISTS HAVE CAST ASIDE DIFFERENCES AT LAST

No country has shown a greater kindling of the war fever than has Ireland during the last few weeks. Every difficulty that John Redmond encountered at the beginning of his campaign, which was of a greater character and magnitude than people outside of Ireland supposed, has finally disappeared. The heroism of Michael O'Leary and other Irish soldiers inflamed the martial spirit, but the German atrocities here, as well as elsewhere, have been the most potent factor in bringing about the solidarity of Ireland. The recruiting campaign in the south of Ireland is proceeding along popular lines, both Unionist and Nationalist speaking from the same platform. A striking event in the North of Ireland was a combination meeting of Unionists and Nationalists which occurred in the typically Unionist county of Armagh. Here, for the first time in modern history, Catholic and Protestant bands marched side by side, and on the same platform there appeared Catholic priests, Protestant rectors, Presbyterian ministers and a Belgian priest, while the whole town turned out to cheer the Irish Fusiliers who led the recruiting procession. In Waterford, which is represented by John Redmond more than 300 enlisted in two days in addition to the many who have already gone. Finally, at a great meeting in Claremore, County Mayo, which was addressed by both Mr. Dillon and Mr. Devlin, resolutions were adopted declaring for adhesion to Redmond's policy. Mr. Dillon again declared that Ireland is bound by every consideration of honor as well as self-interest to stand with England in the hour of her desperate danger. Mr. Devlin said that not only national honor but policy dictates an attitude of friendship, co-operation and unity with the British. Both men in alluding to the fact that the meeting was held close to the grave of Davitt, declared that that patriot's dream of the reconciliation of the British and Irish is about to be realized.

THE WAR BUDGET

According to a writer in the current issue of the "War Budget," it would cost the Queen Elizabeth Britain's new super-Dreadnought which is working havoc among the forts of the Dardanelles, a quarter of a million sterling if she were to fight all her guns to their full capacity for one hour. The famous Lion, flagship of Admiral Beatty, used up about £75 worth of cordite and shell every time she emptied one of her 13.5 guns at the Bleucher. Illustrations are given in the "War Budget" of the shells and projectiles used for the guns of the British Navy. A striking colored cover depicts one of the Turco-German guns turning a complete somersault during the Dardanelles bombardment. The Triumph has distinguished herself by securing several direct hits of this kind. Among other features of an excellent and eminently varied number are illustrations of our troops in and out of action. They are shown making friends with lions at the Zoological Gardens, London, helping French peasants in domestic duties, felling trees in France, and manipulating their heavy artillery. There are unique pictures of the Allies sniping the Germans in the Western battlefields, while the Germans in their white clothes, which render them inconspicuous against the snow, are seen engaged in a similar task on the Eastern front. Turkey in Asia has been scoured for the purpose of finding material to

What Thin Folks Should Do To Gain Weight

PHYSICIAN'S ADVICE FOR THIN UNDEVELOPED MEN AND WOMEN

Thousands of people suffer from excessive thinness, weak nerves and feeble stomachs who, having tried advertised flesh-makers, food-fads, physical culture stunts and rub-on creams resign themselves to life-long skininess and think nothing will make them fat. Yet their case is not hopeless. A recently discovered regenerative force makes fat grow after years of thinness, and is also unequalled for repairing the waste of sickness or faulty digestion and for strengthening the nerves. This remarkable discovery is called Sargol. Six strength-giving, fat-producing elements of acknowledged merit have been combined in this peerless preparation, which is endorsed by eminent physicians and used by prominent people everywhere. It is absolutely harmless, inexpensive and efficient. A month's systematic use of Sargol should produce flesh and strength by correcting faults of digestion and by supplying highly concentrated fats to the blood. Increased nourishment is obtained from the food eaten and the additional fats that thin people need are provided. All leading druggists supply Sargol and say there is a large demand for it. While this new preparation has given splendid results as a nerve-tonic and vitalizer, it should not be used by nervous people unless they wish to gain at least ten pounds of flesh. defend what little remains of Turkey in Europe. The "War Budget" contains photographs showing the result. There are in addition pictures of German "frightfulness," of French soldiers amusing themselves with the bottlephone (a new sort of music) and pictures of our stalwart Colonial soldiers. Photographs have recently arrived in this country showing what the German raider Emden looked like after being torn by the shells of H. M. A. S. Sydney. These are contained in the "War Budget." There is a character sketch of Sir Leslie Rundle, Commander of the new Fifth Army, and Mr. James Backhouse continues his interesting analysis of the development of the Allies attack. This issue of the "War Budget" contains the fortnightly maps showing the recent alterations in the fighting line on the western and Eastern fronts.

STEAMER ARRIVALS

New York, Transylvania, Liverpool; Palermo, Genoa. Boston: Crete, Genoa, Liverpool; Tuscania, New York.

Is Tea or Coffee After Your Job? The average cup of tea or coffee contains from 1-2 to 3 grains of caffeine, a poisonous drug that handicaps the efficiency and chances for promotion of many bright men and women. Read This Letter "Down at the Junction," writes a railroad man, "where I am employed as Telegraph Operator and Towerman for a busy railroad, where every second counts and where I hold the lives of the entire train crew and passengers in my hand, I found coffee was making me dull and exceedingly nervous. "My wife told me about Postum. I tried it and liked it. I never drink anything else now I have a tin of Instant Postum in my mail. I feel fine, my brain is quick and active and there's no delay at the Junction while I'm on duty. I really think coffee would have put me out of a job if I hadn't quit it for Postum." GERMANY MUST PAY FOR SINKING OF WM. P. FRYE

UNITED STATES SENDS NOTE TO KAISER'S GOVERNMENT DEMANDING PAYMENT OF SUM OF $228,059.54 WITH INTEREST.

Washington, April 5.—On behalf of the owners of the American ship William P. Frye, sunk by the Prinz Eitel Friedrich, the United States Government, in a note made public today has asked Germany to pay an indemnity of $228,059.54, which represents the cost of the vessel, the freight charges for its cargo and damages resulting from being deprived of the use of the ship.

TEETOTALISM FOR ROYAL HOUSEHOLD

London, April 5.—9 p.m.—Teetotalism will be enforced in all the King's households beginning Wednesday. An official announcement just issued dated April 6, says: "By the King's command no wines or spirits will be consumed in any of His Majesty's houses after today."

consisting solely of 186,950 bushels of wheat owned by the aforesaid Houser, and consigned 'unto order or to its assign,' all of which appears from the ship's papers which were taken from the vessel at the time of her destruction by the commander of the German cruiser.

"On January 27, 1915, the Prinz Eitel Friedrich encountered the William P. Frye on the high seas; compelled her to stop, and sent on board an armed boarding party, who took possession. After an examination of the ship's papers the commander of the cruiser directed that the cargo be thrown overboard, but subsequently decided to destroy the vessel, and on the following morning, by his order, the William P. Frye was sunk."

"The claim of the owners and captain consists of the following items: "Value of ship, equipment and outfit, $150,000. "Actual freight as per freight list, $39,759.54—2,240 tons at 32-6-8180-19-6 at $4.86, $39,759.54. "Travelling and other expenses of Captain Kiehne and Arthur Sewall & Company, agents of ship, in connection with making of affidavits, preparing and filing claim, $500. "Personal effects of Captain H. H. Kiehne, $300. "Damages covering loss due to deprivation of use of ship $37,500. "Total, $228,059.54."

"By direction of my Government, I have the honor to request that full reparation be made by the German Government for the destruction of the William P. Frye, by the German cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich."

"You are instructed to present the following note to the German Foreign Office: Under instructions from my Government, I have the honor to present a claim for $228,059.54 with interest from January 28th, 1915, against the German government on behalf of the owners and captain of the American sailing vessel William P. Frye for damages suffered by them on account of the destruction of that vessel on the high seas by the German armed cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich, on January 28th, 1915.

"The facts upon which this claim arises and by reason of which the German Government is held responsible by the Government of the United States for the attendant loss and damage are briefly as follows: The William P. Frye, a steel sailing vessel of 3,374 tons gross tonnage, owned by American citizens, and sailing under the United States flag and register, cleared from Seattle, Wash., on November 4th, 1914, under charter of M. H. Houser, of Portland, Ore., bound for Queenstown, Falmouth or Plymouth for orders, with a cargo

U.S. CANNOT ADMIT JUSTIFICATION OF LATEST EMBARGO

WASHINGTON GOVERNMENT MAKES PUBLIC CONTENTS OF NOTE TO BRITAIN.

Washington, April 5.—The United States government today made public its note to Great Britain announcing that it "could not admit" either the right of the Allies or their claims for justification in placing an embargo on all commercial intercourse between Germany and neutral countries.

"To admit it," says the communication, "would be to assume the attitude of unneutrality toward the present enemies of Great Britain which would be obviously inconsistent with the solemn obligations of this government in the present circumstances, and for Great Britain to make such a claim would be for her to abandon and set at naught the principles for which she has consistently and earnestly contended in other times and circumstances."

The note reviews at length the legal phases of a blockade of belligerent territory, and virtual blockade of neutral coasts. In conclusion the United States states its expectation that Great Britain after having considered the "possibilities of serious interruption of American trade" under the order-in-council, "will take the steps necessary to avoid them, and in the event that they should unhappily occur, will be prepared to make full reparation for every act, which under the rules of international law constitutes a violation of neutral rights."

The American communication interprets the circumstances under which Great Britain claims to be justified in adopting retaliatory measures toward her enemies as "merely a reason for certain extraordinary activities" by her naval forces "and not an excuse for or a prelude to any unlawful action."

"If the course of the present enemies of Great Britain," the note adds, "should prove to be in fact tainted by illegality and disregard of the principles of war sanctioned by enlightened nations, it cannot be supposed and this government does not for a moment suppose that His Majesty's government would wish the same taint to attach to their own actions."

Ambassador Sharp at Paris was instructed to present a copy of the American note to Great Britain to the French Foreign Office with the statement that although the French Admiralty decree had not been officially received in Washington, it was understood here to be identical with the British order-in-council and the American government therefore made similar reply.

London, April 6.—1:30 a. m.—The American note is discussed editorially in detail by the London morning papers. Its friendly tone is frankly admitted, and Ambassador Page's letter, dealing with the amicable relations between the two governments, affords special gratification.

The note is regarded by the press as going near to the recognition of the right to search neutral vessels. In general, the arguments used are repetitions of those previously employed in the discussions and are briefly that Great Britain is in an exceptional position in which she is entitled to ask at the hands of the United States a certain amount of give and take.

For instance, regarding the claim that the "blockade" is not effective so far as the Baltic ports are concerned, it is retorted that the American blockade of the southern ports was not effective for months after it was declared; yet Great Britain raised no controversy with the United States upon that score.

The Times in an editorial says:—"We think that a good general answer to the apprehensions disclosed in the note has been given by anticipation in the British note. The object we have in view is as vital to us as the destruction of commerce with the Confederate states was to the Union during the Civil war. We did not then stand upon technicalities with them, and we feel that we may fairly ask them not to show greater jealousy of their extreme legal rights now that we are fighting for our existence, than we displayed then."

"Happily, the American note, whatever theories it may safeguard, and whatever reserves it may make in the ordinary, does not appear to support in practice any position incompatible with the broad principles we have laid down, or with the specific action of our government. We do not pretend to agree with it in all respects, but we are reasonably confident that it cannot in any way affect the cordial relations between the two governments."

The Daily Mail says: "The American people are naturally reasonable and just, and the distinguishing feature of the note is its friendliness and general fairness." The Mail reminds Americans that the British government has carefully avoided the use of the word "blockade," admits that the demands for the expeditious settlement of prize

WAR ACTUATED BY WONDERFUL SPIRIT OF SELF-SACRIFICE

Clergy Criticized for Propaganda of Peace by Philip Brown, Princeton Professor

WAR MOST RATIONAL.

Any Sentimental Ideal Propaganda for Peace Results in Hurtful Derision.

New York, April 5.—War was defended and the clergy were criticized for their world peace propaganda by Philip Marshall Brown, professor of International Law at Princeton University and former minister to Honduras, before the annual meeting here today of the Alumni Association of Auburn Theological Seminary, at Auburn, N. Y. The speaker held that war was not horrible and indefensible but "the most rational thing that can happen at times."

Prof. Brown declared that by denouncing the war the clergymen are in danger of being "thrown off the track." Continuing he said: "War is not brought on by the evil in men's hearts. Will Italy go into this war, if she does go into it, from evil passions? Certainly not. She will go into it after careful consideration and to accomplish certain definite ends. It is not from malice that men in war fire at one another, but for a national idea. It is a sin to call war a horror. Men go into war actuated by a wonderful spirit of self-sacrifice."

The speaker declared that the clergy had made a mistake in dwelling too much on the propaganda of world peace and that affairs of state should be left in the hands of statesmen.

"Any sentimental ideal propaganda for peace results in a derision that hurts the whole movement of Christianity," he continued. "Christianity is in the hearts of individual men and you should not try to run the universe when immediate cases are crying for solution. We have had labor wars and Colorado. What have you done to keep peace here? What are you doing to keep peace in New York? Would we intrust that task of preachers?"

"This problem is a hard one to meet, but it must be met in a practical and not an ideal way. You should preach Christ and leave aside problems of labor and world conflicts. God will work out his plans and we have no right to protest against the great features of His plan."

ONTARIO FRUIT FOR THE WOUNDED

FRESH FRUIT FROM ONTARIO FOR MEN IN CANADIAN BASE HOSPITALS.

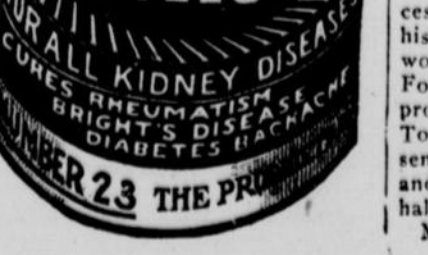

Toronto April 5.—Fresh fruit from Ontario is to be supplied to the wounded of the Canadian contingents at the base hospitals in England. By an arrangement made with the War Office the Department of Agriculture, through Agent Reid in London, shipments of fruit will be made from time to time to supply those in the base hospitals. The first shipment will consist of one hundred boxes of the choicest Northern Spy apples that the orchards of Ontario produced last year. Careful selection is being made by the officials of the Department and the apples will go forward in coil storage right to destination.

"This is only the beginning of this service," said Mr. W. Bert Roadhouse, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, tonight. As the occasion demands the shipment will be supplemented with the best that the farms in Ontario can grow.

Toronto, April 5.—Percy Steers, 19 years of age, a member of the third contingent, who was taken to the General Hospital suffering from meningitis three weeks ago, died tonight.

GERMAN BALTIC FLEET CUT OFF FROM ITS BASE

OWN MINE FIELD BROKE ADRIFT AND FLEET MUST HOLD ALOOF.

London, April 6.—3:58 a. m.—The German Baltic fleet has been cut off from its base by its own mine field which broke adrift in a storm, according to a Copenhagen despatch to the Mail. A large number of mines have floated into neutral waters. The German fleet, returning from a Russian edjopn, found the mines dangerously thick and decided to retire between the islands of Gotland and Oeland until the sweepers can clear a passage.

PRINS MAURITS SANK SATURDAY

NO TRACE OF HER FOUND BUT SHE HAS EVIDENTLY GONE DOWN.

Charleston, S.C., April 5.—A wireless message stating that the Royal Dutch West Indies Line steamer Prins Maurits, sank Saturday afternoon was picked up yesterday by the U. S. navy supply ship Arethusa, according to a statement by Captain Kennedy on the naval ship's arrival here today. The message, Captain Kennedy said, apparently was sent by the Flying Pan Shoals Lightship.

Charleston, S.C., April 5.—The Arethusa was searching for the Prins Maurits when the message was received and it gave up the quest and continued to Charleston. Captain Kenedey said his ship found no trace of the Prins Maurits at the location given in wireless calls sent out by the steamer Saturday.

"IT WAS A FAKE" SAYS JACK'S SISTER

"JACK WOULD NEVER HAVE LOST UNLESS HE WANTED TO" SHE CRIES.

Chicago, April 5.—Several white men in that part of Chicago known as the "Black Belt," which was the home of Jack Johnson before he became a fugitive from justice, taunted a crowd of negroes tonight by cheering Willard. A general fight ensued and riot calls brought police from three stations. Several arrests were made. No one was injured seriously. The police stopped several other fights between whites and blacks.

At the home of Johnson's mother, Mrs. Tiny Johnson, the former champion's sister met all queries with the statements:—"It was a fake fight and everyone knows it. Jack would never have lost unless he wanted to." The negroes throughout the district, which is one of the largest negro communities in the country, were decidedly downcast.

ITALIAN STEAMER REPORTED SUNK BY GERMAN TORPEDO

COLLIER BOUND FOR GENOA SAID TO HAVE BEEN SUBMARINE'S VICTIM.

Genoa, Italy, April 5.—1:15 p. m.—(via Paris, 9:15 p. m.)—News was received here today that a German submarine had sunk the Italian steamer Luigi Parodi, which left Baltimore on January 22 with a cargo of coal for Genoa. The report has caused a profound impression here, and there are many expressions of resentment. Great excitement prevails and the authorities have taken strong measures to protect the German colony and German shops from the possible execution of reprisals. Nothing is known as to the fate of the crew of the Luigi Parodi which was made up entirely of Genoese.

WILL NEVER GIVE IN SAY GERMANS

FRENCH ARTILLERY INFLECTS TERRIFIC LOSSES ON THE ENEMY

Paris, April 5.—Combats at the Eparges, in the Department of Meuse, on March 18, 19 and 20 were no less brilliant and successful than the preceding engagements, according to the French official "eye witness" in a report giving further details of the battles on this part of the front.

"The most recent success," says the report, "was due to the intense artillery preparations, the very prompt assault and violent hand-to-hand fighting. In the trenches captured from the enemy in which our heavy artillery fire caused great excavations, we found bodies cut up and half buried in earth.

"Survivors who were captured declare that the French artillery fire was horrible. Others say that the eighth Bavarian regiment was decimated, having lost two thousand men and sixteen officers during February. One battalion was reduced to eighty-seven men. Despite this one of the German prisoners asserted that he heard a German General say: "We are ready to sacrifice a division, even an entire army corps of one hundred thousand, but we must not give in."

"An official note relates feats performed by several officers and soldiers, among them Private Rooquet, who, during a counter attack by the Germans, jumped on a parapet and killed seven of the enemy."

VETERAN SPRINTER DEAD.

St. Catharines, Ont., April 5.—Ben Witham, aged 72, died last night after a short illness. Half a century ago he was one of the best known hundred yard dash men in Great Britain.

NEUTRALITY LAWS SAID VIOLATED BY BRITISH CRUISER

U. S. COLLECTOR ALLEGES THEY HAVE RECEIVED SUPPLIES FROM STATES.

New York, April 5.—Dudley Field Malone, collector of the port, charged tonight that British cruisers patrolling the waters along the coast of the United States had been violating the neutrality law by enlisting and taking on supplies from vessels putting out from the port of New York. Mr. Malone had an extended conference today with United States District-Attorney H. Snowden Marshall regarding the discovery of affairs he claims to have discovered and tonight declared he expected to bring the subject to the attention of the Federal Grand Jury.

Collector Malone said that for some weeks he had been making an investigation of information that had come to him from various sources to the effect that British cruisers lying off the entrance to New York harbor had been receiving food and coal from here. On board the United States torpedo boat destroyer Parker, the collector has been making trips about the harbor and outside Sandy Hook on many nights several weeks past. The collector intimated that these trips has resulted in important disclosures, although he would not say just what these had been.

The Collector admitted, however, that he had evidence to show there was regular supply base for the cruisers in a downtown hotel in this city from which the foodstuffs are taken to various piers, then loaded on lighters and sent to sea where they meet British cruisers outside the three mile limit.

Besides, Mr. Malone's individual work, George F. Lamb, head of the neutrality squad here, and several secret service operatives have been investigating for the customs authorities, it was stated, and have obtained much evidence of value to the authorities. One method of the search for evidence was to place a secret service man at the Atlantic Highlands Light near the entrance to the outer harbor, from which point he scanned the horizon to see what tugs or larger vessels might bring supplies to the British warships. Much evidence, it was said, was obtained in this way.

While these observations have been in progress attention has been paid to the loading of ships that might take food to the belligerent cruisers hovering about the coast-line.

UNITED STATES CRUISERS FOR TAMPICO

Vera Cruz, April 5.—The United States cruiser Washington sailed tonight for Tampico, with Rear-Admiral W. B. Caperton in command. The United States gunboats Sacramento and Petrol are already at that port. The Georgia, the only battleship now here, which had been ordered to the United States, will remain at Vera Cruz. General Pablo Gonzales, who has been in charge of operations at Tampico, arrived here today to confer with General Carranza.

Seized With Paralysis Could Not Walk

Most Extraordinary Cure Effected by the Use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

To have the nervous system paralyzed, to be unable to walk and scarcely able to talk, and then to be completely cured is not a usual experience, but Mr. Hyatt tells in this letter what he passed through. Doctors told him his case was hopeless, and when they gave up he turned to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and obtained complete cure. Mr. Avery Hayatt blacksmith, St. Anns, Lincoln Co., Ont., writes:—"I am a blacksmith by trade, and ten years ago became afflicted with paralysis. I could not walk or read or write, and could talk with difficulty, so that it was a hard matter to understand anything I would say. Being only a young man, I was nearly discouraged. Two doctors told me it was brought on by overwork, and that my case was hopeless. "One day my father read about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and advised me to try it. I bought 12 boxes, and when the 6th was used I saw that I was getting better. By the time the 12 boxes were used I was cured. I am well and strong and working every day, thanks to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food." This statement is certified to by Mr. Elmon J. Hodgkins, J. P. No ailment is more dreaded than paralysis. And yet how few people realize that paralysis of the nerves is only the natural result of neglected nervous troubles. At first you do not sleep well, have nervous headaches or indigestion, find yourself easily irritated and annoyed, can hear noises which in good health you would never notice. You do not consider yourself sick, and yet you lack the usual energy and vigor and feel out of sorts. Restore the nerves by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50. QUEBEC, APRIL 6, 1915.

THE BRITISH LABOR SITUATION.

The dispatches of the day may readily give a false impression concerning the labor men of the Old Country. What we read tells all one side of the situation and nothing of the other. It is true that strikes in the industries supplying munitions of war have occurred and that some of the national ports are choked by goods while the dockers' dispute with their employers. Kitchener and French have told the nation of the army's need of supplies, and Lloyd-George has said that if victory is to be won it will be won in the workshops of Britain and France. We read these dispatches and the warnings about the ravages of the drink evil and our first thought is that the British workman must be a pretty bad lot, selfish, unpatriotic, a slave of drink. It is a pity that this impression should be given. There is another side to the question, but one about which the cables have not told. In the first place, it must not be forgotten that labor troubles in the Old Land have touched only the fringe of the great body of workmen. Men of the working class make up ninety-six per cent of the forces at the war. Of the men who have stayed at home the vast majority have been untouched even by agitation that would have been perfectly justifiable in the circumstances, and have worked with feverish energy and unsurpassed devotion to the interests of the state. The grievances of the labor men in Britain are not imaginary ones. They have very real grounds for complaint. To think that they have taken the present time of national need to force changes favorable to themselves is a misconception of the true case. What the workmen see most clearly just now is an immense rise in the price of necessities of life, while they, with greater demand upon their energies, are paid the same rate as when the prices of necessities were normal. They see every other class getting more for what it has for sale, while they are given the same as before, and are called upon in the name of patriotism to be content. They see ship-builders and gun-makers, millers and ship-owners enriching themselves out of the war, while the men that do the work are called on to work harder, to get no more money, but to pay more for their daily bread, and be satisfied. Otherwise they are to be held up to public obloquy on a par with the soldier mutinous in battle. The workmen of Britain justly resent the odium that is cast on them. One union official rightly said recently that it was time the public knew more about the profits being made by wealthy and influential people who in this grave national situation risk the dangers of strikes rather than have their profits in any way reduced. Arnold Bennett, who has closely studied the present problems of labor, recently said: "I regard higher wages as the most pressing domestic question of the time. If the price of everything else goes up, the price of labor ought to go up. Strikes on Government contracts are extremely regrettable. But they are the fruit of a genuine and keen sense of injustice, and I do not think that any strikers have made excessive demands. It is quite easy for employers and the Government to avoid strikes. I am absolutely unmoved (except to contempt) by the outcry about lack of patriotism among the workers and about the failure of the working class to realize that we are at war, and about the impossibility of strikes in those marvellous countries, Russia, Germany and France. If strikes occur here, they are simply a proof that we are at least more free than the subjects of autocrats, and that we are not so hard hit as France. They are also a proof (as a friend pointed out to me the other day) of marked moral courage on the part of the workers." The government has found the labor leaders and the union men amenable to fair reason; that is, they are prepared to meet the government more than half way when the government insists also on the employers acting in a like spirit. The unions controlling the output of munitions of war went to revolutionary lengths to meet the government's requests when the latter decided to curb the profits made on war contracts and give a fair share of them to the men. We must guard against making any sweeping or general indictment of the working classes of Britain. They have been willing to fight and willing to work when given fair play. Even the matter of drink expenditure is not what it used to be. But in the aggregate it is still a very serious menace, a menace more threatening in the present condition of affairs than in normal times. The leaders of labor would themselves gladly see the government stop this unwise, wasteful expenditure. "in normal times," said Mr. Philip Snowden, discussing this problem recently, "one would never dream of expecting the British nation to take a bold and courageous step, however great the need. But these are revolutionary times, when dreams become realities in one short hour of Parliamentary time." With the injustice of high profits to employers and low wages to employees removed, and the present waste for drink saved, a new day of hope and achievement would surely dawn for the democracy of Great Britain.

GILLETT'S LYE EATS DIRT

KING ALBERT'S REPLY.

Carlyle in his "French Revolution" says which declared war first, France or Great Britain, and a matter of immense diplomatic and journalistic concern at the time, but not of the slightest importance to the generation for which he was writing. From the historical point of view similar judgment might be passed upon the "controversy" between Belgium and Germany as to the violation of Belgian neutrality. The facts stand out so clearly that there is no need of exposition, no room for debate. Germany invaded Belgium, with which it was at peace, demanding free passage for its armies across Belgian soil, and forcing its way when Belgium refused to take an unneutral character. If Germany had been well advised it would not have sought to gratify its raid by learned argument or by endeavoring to impugn the good faith of Belgium. It has not been well advised. On the contrary it has endeavored to show that it only struck first, and has provoked a crushing reply from King Albert.

With the slow progress of the war Germany had had time to think. Reflection and observation have opened its eyes to a truth the rest of the world saw seven months ago, that Germany's treatment of Belgium lost it all chance of gaining and holding the sympathy of the neutral world. Germany's game is now to show that the Belgian lamb boiled the water. In this game Germany is no match for King Albert, who has not only the documents but the truth on his side.

King Albert tells us that he himself informed the German military attache of the conversations with the British military attache relative to the protection of Belgian territory. The German discovery was no discovery at all. They found the memoranda referred to by King Albert where they belonged, in the Belgian archives. When it comes King Albert's turn to play he shows by reference to archives that Von Jagow, the German foreign minister, asked Belgium to consent to be invaded, and when the Belgian envoy asked why Germany did not strike across the frontier of France, Von Jagow said it was too strongly fortified. When Belgium had refused to violate its own neutrality, the Belgian envoy and Von Jagow had the following dialogue:

Baron Beyens—Well, then, admit that Belgium can give you no other answer than the one she gives, without forfeiting her honor. It is with nations as with men, and there is not for peoples a different standard of honor to that of individuals. You must at least admit that the answer is what it should be.

Herr von Jagow—I recognize it as a private individual, but as secretary of state I have no opinion to express.

All the facts set forth by King Albert have been either known or accurately surmised for a long time. Nevertheless the publication of the text of their history is interesting, and at the present time particularly important. They become accessible to the public just as Sir Edward Grey in behalf of the allies gives notice that the restoration of Belgian independence is sine qua non of peace. Germany must give up all its Belgian spoils; the allies will demand nothing less. They will not make a premature peace, and any peace that does not rehabilitate independent Belgium will be premature.

Germany is imitating time-dishonored precedents in seeking a diplomatic defense of its ruthless raid on Belgium. When Frederick the Great seized Silesia, invading Austria while peace prevailed, he said to his intimates that he took what he wanted because he was able to take it. Nevertheless he set his historians to work to prove with the necessary pedantic obscurity the claim of the house of Hohenzollern to Silesia. To do this the historians had to go into a past so dim that none could follow them save Frederick himself. The modern Hohenzollern is neither more scrupulous nor more ingenious than the great Frederick.

PRESS COMMENT.

In Russia the maiden who is free may dress her locks as she wishes, but not so the wife. She must hide her hair. As a recompense for this sacrifice she dons a hood which may well be called weird. In shape it is not unlike a bishop's miter, and it is adorned as the fancy or the purse of the wearer dictates. Gold, silver and even precious stones have been used in decorating this kokoshnik, as it is called. In certain parts of Spain a hood similar to the Russian style is worn. Particularly is this popular with the dancers among the Toledo peasantry, although it must be very hot and uncomfortable. The Dutch maiden of Amsterdam pins her faith—and her head—to a hood which resembles in shape an inverted flower pot. It may not be the style most suited to her round, placid face, but she would not change it for the latest thing in Parisian millinery. Farther north, in Norway, a maiden on her bridal day puts on her head a traditional structure which can best be likened to a model of a mediaeval castle. In Alsace-Lorraine the women wear a huge winged head dress. The striking feature about the Alsatian hood is how it is supported. Are there concealed wires?—Titbits.

While Germany's naval warfare against British shipping and civilian passengers upon British ships has miserably failed to reduce the fighting strength of the nation, it has aroused the greatest bitterness and indignation in the British Isles and in such neutral countries as the United States. The sinking of the Falaba, which resulted in the loss of more than one hundred lives, including those of several women, is properly described as murder, not war. It should follow, therefore, that the penalty to be exacted from those who committed or ordered the crime should be that exacted of murderers, and not that of ordinary belligerents who fall into an enemy's hands. The conscience of the British people would not for a moment consider a suggestion that German women and non-combatants should be similarly attacked, but the British people will demand that the captured crews of German submarines be denied the honors of war. The chances are that before this war is over Germany will have few submarines afloat; but in the event of some surviving when terms of peace are dictated to Germany, it is to be hoped that they will not be granted a general amnesty. Nor should officers and men of the German submarines stand alone to answer the charge of murder that ought to be laid against them. They are not sinking unarmed merchantmen and killing civilian passengers for the sport of the thing. They are committing these crimes because they have to obey orders. These orders come from von Tirpitz, and primarily from the Kaiser. It is Emperor William who should be held personally responsible for such crimes as those that have been committed by the Zeppelins, the cruisers that shelled Scarborough, and the submarines that kill defenceless women and children. It is possible that a formal notification served upon the German Emperor that in no circumstances would terms of peace be arranged until he had been made to answer personally for these crimes would have its effect. The Kaiser is a brave man no doubt, but the thought of facing a British judge and jury on a charge of murder might have a modifying effect upon the campaign which he has sanctioned.—Toronto Mail.

STADAONA CHILD HORRIBLY BURNED

CLOTHES CAUGHT FIRE WHILE LITTLE GIRL WAS PLAYING AT STOVE.

Anne Marie, the ten year old daughter of Mr. Philip Soucy, of No. 45 4th Street, Stadacona, was horribly burned yesterday afternoon when her clothes caught fire as she was playing about the stove. Having seen her mother put some shavings on the fire, she tried to do likewise when the mother was absent in another apartment. As she threw the shavings into the stove they burst into flames and ignited her clothing. The child's screams attracted the mother who on entering the kitchen found the little girl enveloped in flames.

The frantic mother did all in her power to save her child and succeeded in extinguishing the flaming clothing, but not before the little girl had been frightfully burned about the head and body.

The screams of the child and mother soon attracted a large crowd, who were kept back by Constable Bouchard. Dr. Victor Darveau was summoned and looked after the child's injuries.

Dr. Darveau hopes to save the little girl's life unless complications set in. The child was very severely scorched and is suffering torture.

It is reported that the government ice breakers are doing good work at points up the river and notably at Three Rivers where the Lady Grey and the Bellechasse are at work, and at Sorel where the Montcalm is ploughing her way through the ice cutting the channel towards Montreal.

FORMING CAMERA CLUB IN QUEBEC

SIR GEORGE GARNEAU AND MR. H. H. BLACK ADDRESS MEETING.

With the object of organizing a Camera Club in this city on somewhat the same lines as the old Quebec Camera Club which was in existence in the year 1887 a meeting was held at the Chateau Frontenac last evening. A number of citizens interested attended and the general feeling was that the club should be formed.

Sir George Garneau, who acted as chairman, in calling the meeting expressed the belief that a camera club would benefit one and all and tend to stimulate interest in art in photography and in pictorial effects. It would also, he said, help to preserve interest in the historical landmarks in and around the old city of Quebec.

He suggested the holding of competitions which would prove an incentive to club members to put forth their best efforts in the art of photography. In concluding Sir George called upon Mr. H. H. Black, of the Toronto Camera Club, to address the meeting.

Mr. Black, referring to the excellent scenes in the city and surroundings for photographic efforts strongly urged co-operation in the formation of the camera club pointing out that such a club would open a field for amateur as well as advanced workers. The club's motto should be help one another. The speaker mentioned the necessary outfit for an up-to-date studio, to consist of cameras, portrait cameras, enlarging and camera slides, lens, late periodicals, etc. Mr. Black favored the holding of salons at least once a year so that amateurs would be able to learn pictorial effects from the more experienced workers and before resuming his chair gave other interesting tips on how to conduct a camera club.

An organization committee was selected for the purpose of drawing up by-laws, selecting of a site for a studio, etc., and a report is to be presented at the next meeting. The committee is composed of the following members:—Messrs. T. R. Peacock, A. R. Decary, A. Marchand, Prof. Walters, Sir George Garneau, Major Murray, M. Kemp J. Livernois, F. W. H. Porter and F. W. Russell.

Notes of thanks were unanimously passed in favor of the speakers and also to Mr. Fred McMahon, Manager of the Chateau for the use of the room. Mr. F. W. Russell acted as secretary.

Among those who attended the meeting were:—

Messrs. A. Dupuis, A. C. Crawford, Ernest Leitch, Major Petry, T. R. Peacock, A. R. Decary, J. R. Sikes, J. E. Vincent, W. H. Davidson, Major Murray, J. S. Thom, P. R. Hamel, A. Marchand, L. H. LABOR MEN'S SPEECH. Norwich, Eng., April 4.—11.10 p.m.—Unable to secure a hall large enough for a demonstration tonight to precede their annual meeting the delegates of the Independent Labor party met in the Labor Institute. A large crowd surrounded the building singing the National Anthem while the meeting was in progress.

There were no anti-war speeches, but Frederick W. Jovett and James Keir Hardy, members of parliament, delivered addresses in which they insisted that the working classes were bearing the greater part of the burden resulting from the war, and protesting against the allegation that workmen are unduly indulging in drink.

Do You Wish Your Furs To Retain Their Beautiful Qualities

Then send them to our cold storage vaults.

When furs are packed away in a hot chest or cupboard, the oil and moisture is dried out of the pelt, thus robbing the fur of its natural gloss and durability.

The cold air in our vaults causes the pelt to retain the oil and moisture, thus adding new life to the fur. Absolute cleanliness is another good feature of our storage system. Delicate opera wraps, velvet draperies, etc., can be sent us without fear of their being soiled.

Your furs, woollens, rugs and game heads will be safely protected against moth, dust and dampness without any disagreeable odors of moth balls or other chemicals.

In the fall you won't have to hang your furs on the line for an airing.

'Phone 100 and have us send for your goods. If you live out of town express your goods* to us, writing us as to the value you wish put on.

AN EASTER GREETING FROM FIRING LINE

CANON F. G. SCOTT'S LETTER TO PARISHIONERS OF ST. MATTHEW'S.

An Easter message from Revd. Canon F. G. Scott was read to the parishioners of St. Matthew's Church Easter Sunday.

The letter written by the former pastor of St. Matthew's now a chaplain with Canada's forces in the trenches in France is most interesting and conveys much information about the cheerfulness and self-sacrifice of the men who are fighting for justice and liberty. The full text of the epistle follows:

Northern France. March 13th 1915.

My Dear People,—On the edge of the great battle line where the huge guns thunder at intervals all day, and the star-shells and search-lights illuminate the sky at night, while rifle shots and machine guns burst suddenly upon the mid-night silence, I write to wish you all a very happy Easter.

It seems so strange to think of your days going on so peacefully and happily while here every rifle shot, and every bursting shell, is intended to take its toll of human life. Not a regiment goes to its work in the trenches without knowing that some will probably not come back. And yet the nearness to danger brings a strange sort of happiness. It seems as if the brotherhood of man in the presence of a common resolve and a common risk was intensified a thousand fold.

On every young, eager face there is the same look of quiet happiness.

The old world with all its littleness, its bickerings and slanderings has passed away, and a new world which brings visions and ideals and an iron manhood has taken its place.

What is the key to the strange and new phase of life? It is the key of self-sacrifice. Self-sacrifice is not only the law of human progress, it is the secret of human happiness. Not a life is here today in this fire zone, but, in some degree or other, is actuated by self-sacrifice. It is being tried by danger and suffering, voluntarily endured from the highest principles, and so it is happy. No one knows this better than one who, as a chaplain gets an opportunity of going beneath the surface of the men's lives.

Many have told me how changed the whole aspect of life has become to them since they came face to face with the great realities. So today when this glad festival on which you are privileged to celebrate in our beautiful church, I wish you a very happy Easter. I do so pointing back to the cross of Christ's self-sacrifice as the true and only source of all from which human self-sacrifice and human joy can spring.

Look at the smallest things in a big way, make self-sacrifice the law of your life and day by day you will draw nearer to the risen Jesus. Earth with all its petty varieties and vexations will become less and less to you, and through the gates of a happiness deeper and truer than you have ever known before, there will shine the eternal glory of the resurrection life in the world to come.

May God bless and keep you and give you all a very happy Easter. Ever your sincere friend and rector, F. G. SCOTT.

SOAP IS BAD FOR THE HAIR

Soap should be used very sparingly, if at all, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsified cocconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), its cheaper and better than soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocconut oil at any pharmacy, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

WILLARD PROVES HIMSELF A GENUINE "WHITE HOPE"

KANSAS COWBOY STOOD HARD PUNISHMENT BUT OUTLASTED BLACK CHAMPION WHO TOOK THE COUNT IN THE 26TH ROUND.

Havana, April 5.—Jack Johnson, exile from his own country, today lost his claim to fistic fame as the heavyweight champion of the world, the title being wrested from him by Jess Willard, the Kansas cowboy, the biggest man who ever entered the ring, and a "white hope" who at last has made good.

The day after tomorrow Johnson, his wife and a little group of friends will sail for Martinique, there to await passage back to France, where Johnson proposes to settle down and lead the life of a farmer, raising pigs and chickens. There is no doubt that he is through with the ring.

Willard, who is being acclaimed tonight as the new champion, is going back to the United States to win the fortune which was denied him today, when Johnson got $30,000 before the fight started. Willard taking only a small share of the net receipts. Just what his share was is not known.

Willard's Endurance. Today's fight probably has no parallel in the history of ring battles. For twenty rounds Johnson punched and punched Willard at will, but his blows grew perceptibly less powerful as the fight progressed, until at last he seemed unable or unwilling to go on.

Johnson stopped leading and for three or four rounds the battle between the big men was little more than a series of plastic poses of white and black gladiators.

So it was until the 25th round, when Willard got one of his wildly swinging wind mill right hand smashes to Johnson's heart. This was the beginning of the end.

When the round closed, Johnson sent word to his wife that he was all in and told her to start for home. She was on her way out and was passing the ring in the 26th round when a stinging left to the body and a cyclonic right to the jaw caused Johnson to crumple on the floor of the ring; he lay partly outside the ropes until the referee counted ten and held up Willard's hand in token of his newly won laurels.

Johnson Quit. There is much discussion tonight, and probably will be for all time, among the followers of the fighting game as to whether Johnson was really knocked out. In the sense of being smashed into unconsciousness, he certainly was not; but the consensus of opinion is that Johnson expected and knew that there was no possibility of his winning; so when knocked down, he chose to take the count rather than rise and stand further punishment.

Johnson has often stated that fighting is a business, and he would not foolishly submit to repeated knock-downs when he had found it had met his master. A second or two after Jack Welch, the referee, had counted ten Johnson quickly got up. It was well that he did so, for a moment later a rush of spectators to the fighting platform all but smothered the pugilists.

For an instant it seemed as if trouble was threatened, and some fifty or more of the several hundred soldiers stationed about the fight arena jumped in the ring and formed circles around the vanquished and victor.

Under escort of the soldiers Willard and Johnson left the ring and went to their dressing rooms, while the crowd cheered and broke into wild discussion. Willard was one of his dressing room in a few minutes and in an automobile on his way back to Havana. He was escorted half way to the city from the Mariano race track, where the fight was held, by a troop of Cuban cavalry.

Evidently thinking that this condition might prevail again today, Johnson objected to the presence of a white woman in the newspaper seats just outside the ropes, and she was relegated to a place out of possible range.

A Clean Fight. On the contrary no fight between heavyweights that has gone to a finish was cleaner or less brutal. Johnson's left eye was partly closed in the early rounds, but not sufficiently to interfere with his fighting. His lips also went out inside, and his famous golden smile flashed from a very red setting.

The end of the fight came with a suddenness that dazed the spectators. It followed two or three rounds of almost complete inactivity on the part of the contestants, and the crowd settled down to a long drawn out struggle, believing that it would be the full limit of the 45 rounds, without either being able to register a knockout.

The early rounds were filled with flashes of Johnson's former wonderful speed, when he would rain rights and lefts to Willard's body and face, delivering ten blows to one from the big white challenger. Through all this time Willard was strictly on the defensive, and on occasions Johnson played with him, once standing with guard down and letting Willard swing at him, only to dodge and laugh at the awkwardness of his opponent.

Prophecies Fulfilled. In many respects the fight resulted just as many predicted. Willard and his friends particularly prophesying that if the battle lasted twenty rounds Johnson could not win. This was based partly on the belief that Willard could stand all the punishment Johnson could inflict, and partly on the doubt as to Johnson's condition and his ability at his age to fight a long battle against the odds of superior weight, reach and years.

Willard said before entering the ring that he expected to take a beating for ten or fifteen rounds at the hands of his faster and more skilled opponent, and had trained to withstand it. As a matter of fact, he took twenty rounds of severe punishment, but laughed the blows aside and kept standing up against the rushes of the negro, who several times in each of the earlier rounds swept Willard before him to the ropes. Willard's back showed numerous welts raised by the ropes as he fell into them.

In the rushes Johnson would attack Willard in the body, and when the latter's hands and arms came down to guard that part of his anatomy Johnson would swing rights and lefts to the unprotected jaw and face. After each of the attacks Willard kept coming cheerfully back for more.

Johnson's perpetual grin through the early rounds began to change to a look of wonderment as the battle turned into the twenties, and it was evident the negro had come to the conclusion that it was useless for him to try to knock out the young western giant. Johnson seemed also to know that he was in no condition to fight 45 rounds. His blows lacked the force which sent Jeffries toppling from the topmost rung of the pugilistic ladder at Reno. Time had done its work.

It had been the opinion of Johnson and many of his friends that he did not have to be in the best condition to whip Willard, underrating the latter's splendid condition and youthful stamina.

The fight was all Johnson's during the first twenty rounds, Willard only once or twice taking the aggressive, and then swinging clumsily and wildly. Meanwhile his body was growing pink under the blows that flashed from Johnson.

In these rounds Willard took a beating which would have put an ordinary fighter down and out. The crowd got used to seeing him throw off these slashing blows and expected to see Johnson do the same thing when Willard swung his right to the negro's chin in the fatal 20th round. They expected to see Jackson pump up and continue fighting, just as Willard had come back, but the old champion knew that he had fought his last championship fight.

In the twentieth round to the final fight looked slow and the crowd began to hoot and ask that somebody do something. There was a single cry of "fake" but it was not taken up by the other spectators. The reason it looked slow was because Johnson, who had been doing all the fighting, suddenly stopped and began sparring for time.

It was some time before Willard or his seconds realized that Johnson was through and only needed a blow or two to send him to pugilistic oblivion.

During the early part of the fight Johnson carried all his old time confidence and self-assertiveness. He was constantly bandying words with the spectators about the ring and talked steadily at Willard, who heeded the negro's chatter about as little as he did his blows.

Willard's seconds were after Johnson all the time, warning him to keep away from Willard's terrific right. It was in the sixteenth round that one of Willard's seconds shouted "Jack, you run into Jess' right; we will pick you up right over here."

"Be sure you take good care of me," said Johnson. It so happened that when Johnson went down for the count it was in Willard's corner.

When a spectator called out: "Johnson, you will get yours today," Johnson replied: "Well, there is good money in it, isn't there?" Willard will probably take his own time in accepting any challenges. He already has announced that if he won he would not fight another negro.

There is no doubt that today's fight will do the new champion a world of good. Today he was palpably nervous and at first was afraid to go to Johnson. He constantly jabbed or lunged and then backed away, instead of following up an advantage when it came to him.

It can hardly be said at present that Willard is a great fighter, but he is a wonderful specimen of physical manhood, and is likely to develop an aggressiveness and skill that may make him invincible for years to come.

Willard looked very clumsy against Johnson today. A more skillful man might have knocked Johnson out after the twelfth round, for after that the negro was going on speed and nerve and skill.

Throughout the fight the Cubans kept shouting words of encouragement to Willard, such as: "Kill the black bear" and "knock him out, and let us go home." When one spectator shouted at Johnson that he was an old man, the negro replied:—"You just watch the old man," and with that he chased Willard twice across the ring, knocking his head first to the right and then to the left with a series of cross blows.

Through the 21st, 22nd, 23rd and 24th rounds, Johnson hardly struck a blow. He kept feinting at Willard, who was ever ready to break ground. When Johnson finally went down in the 26th round he rolled over on his back. The sun was beating down with torrid intensity, and his arms drew up as though to shield his eyes from the glare, while the referee counted him out.

There was virtually no big betting down here on the fight. The odds for small wagers today varied from 8 to 5 to 6 to 5 on the negro.

The crowd which paid to see the fight would be difficult to estimate, but it looked to number close to 20,000. In addition, fully 5,000 persons viewed the fight from the distant slopes and hills. Many women, both Cuban and American were present, as well as all the notables in the island. Havana itself was deserted during the battle, a half holiday having been declared informally. Tonight, however, the streets are ablaze with lights and the Cubans are celebrating Willard's victory.

Willard said that none of Johnson's blows hurt more than momentarily except a slash over the heart about the twentieth round, which made him gasp for breath during the balance of the round. He declared he was not sore about the body, but one of the toes of his left foot was slightly sprained and swollen from a twist. Johnson must have known this, for constantly during the fight he kept extending his left foot until he could just press down on Willard's left toes.

The new champion said tonight:—"I have no immediate plans for fights in the future. I am obliged to the syndicate which promoted the fight and would like to rest at home after an exhibition tour which I understand is projected."

Speaking of the final round that won him the victory, Willard said:—"The blow that brought the fight to a quick conclusion was a right hand smash to Johnson's body early in the last round. I felt Johnson grow limp in the next clinch and knew I had the championship within reach. A left to the body and a right smash to the jaw put Johnson down for the count."

Mrs. Willard Happy. Los Angeles, Cal., April 5.—"I knew all along that Jess would win," said Mrs. Jess Willard, when told of the outcome of the fight at Havana. She appeared pleased, but not at all surprised. Her only other comment was made to Jess Willard, Jr., sixteen months old.

"Your Daddy is champion of the world," she said to him, and kissed him.

Story by Rounds. Ringside, April 5.—Both pugilists weighed on scales in the ring. Willard 238, Johnson 225. The negro appeared heavier.

At 1:28 the ring was ordered cleared. The pugilists then shook hands. Time was called at 1:53. (New York Times).

First Round. Johnson feinted and landed his left on Willard's jaw. Repeated upper cut right to Jess' jaw. Latter was very nervous. Johnson was laughing when Willard drove two lefts to the negro's body. Johnson drove a right to Willard's body.

Second Round. Johnson easily blocked Willard's leads. Feinting him out of peril and scoring right and left to the jaw. Willard replied by thrashing his right to the negro's body. Johnson then hooked his left to stomach. Johnson then landed three lefts to the body. Willard laughed. Johnson then drove Willard to the ropes with a tattoo of lefts to the face.

Fourth Round. Johnson plunged in frantically. Willard lunged at his clumsy efforts. There was much feinting. Johnson landed a left to the ribs and swung his right and left to body and his left to Willard's face. Willard's lip was bleeding. Willard scored left to Johnson's nose.

Fifth Round. Johnson poked a light left and right to Willard's face. Referee ordered them to break from a clinch. The negro smashed hard on Jess' ribs and drove three blows to the cowboy's stomach. The champion rushed Willard to the ropes scoring punches to the head and to the body. Willard was badly distressed. The challenger was rattled and boxed like an amateur.

Sixth Round. The negro was calm at the opening of this round. He beat Willard to the ropes with a fusillade of lefts. On the break landed a smash to the giant's jaw. The negro rubbed Willard's hurt lip at every opportunity. The negro landed three crashing blows to Willard's unprotected body. At the bell Johnson was hammering Willard's body hard. The cowboy's left cheek was cut.

Seventh Round. Johnson was using every artifice to force the fighting. He rushed Willard to the ropes, slugging with both hands, repeatedly Willard's long left temporarily blinding the negro's left eye. Johnson came back with a series of swings to Willard's body. It was a very clean fight so far.

Eighth Round. Willard was gaining confidence and tried forcing the pace. Johnson accepted his challenge. The pugilists battered each other across the ring. The negro having the better of it. Willard landed on Johnson's mouth. Johnson uppercut Willard over the heart. Willard bounced off the ropes and landed left to jaw. The round ended with the negro swinging blows to head.

Ninth Round. Willard assumed the aggressive. Johnson left started the cowboy's ear bleeding. The champion landed frequently the blows appearing to lack their old time power. Amidst the feinting the crowd called "kill the black bear". Johnson immediately started a rally, driving three hard hooks to Willard's stomach. A left by Willard started the negro's mouth bleeding. The latter slugged the white man to ropes.

Tenth Round. Johnson was slow in coming from his corner. Willard scored two lefts to the face. Jess was blocking better as the nervousness wore off. Johnson swung left to Willard's ribs and rushed a half dozen hard blows to body and jaw. The negro knocked Willard to the ropes with right and left swings to the stomach. A hard right chop staggered Willard.

Twelfth Round. The negro opened with his left to the body and a right to the jaw. In a clinch he smashed Willard three times with a left. Johnson drove a right to the body and a left to the head. His blows apparently had no effect on Willard. Johnson drove Willard to a corner with a swing to the head. Willard's ear and cheek were bleeding. He walked spryly at the bell.

Thirteenth Round. Willard's body was now red from the effects of punishment. The negro, ducking under his opponents lefts, continued to play for the stomach. Willard drove Johnson into a corner and landed a straight left to Johnson's face. The negro jarred Willard with a left hook to the jaw. In return he left hooked to the whites body repeating the blow a minute later. The champion scored right and left to head as the bell rang.

Fourteenth Round. The fight opened with Willard rushing and missing a right uppercut. The challenger was aggressive and tried hard to force the fighting. Johnson slammed Willard on the mouth with a left. Jess only laughed. The negro was beginning to miss his leads. Willard drove hard right to Johnson's ear. The negro smashed a hard left to the body at the bell.

Fifteenth Round. The crowd kidded Johnson who rushed Willard to the ropes and scored five hard swings, remarking "what a grand old man". Willard grinned at the remark and his blows accompanying it. The bell found the pugilists fighting in the center of the ring.

Sixteenth Round. Jack missed a left to the head and clinched. The challenger blocked the negro's rush. Amid much fighting the black man said "Willard is a good kid" then rushed Jess to the ropes, scoring two hard punches to the body. The negro drove a terrific swing to Willard's side. The challenger going to corner a trifle unsteady.

Seventeenth Round. Johnson hooked a left to the jaw and right upper cut to the same place. Willard landed a right to Johnson's body and a left to head. Willard again scored a right to body and blocked the negro's return. Jack drove Willard to the corner and landed two swings to the head. Johnson again hooked a right to the body following it with two punches to the head.

Eighteenth Round. After much play of a tattoo on Willard's chest and stomach, Johnson drove Willard to a corner where he smashed him twice on the jaw. Willard's leads were easily picked off by the champion. Jess after much trying, landed a straight left to Jack's face. He added a right swing to the jaw. At the bell Johnson landed a punch to the body and jaw.

Nineteenth Round. Both men landed upper cuts. Johnson stood in the middle of the ring, blocked blows for the first minutes and not a single hard punch landed. Johnson seemed able to divide Willard's easy leads. Johnson started a rattle, landing two lefts to the body and right to the jaw.

Twentieth Round. Willard opened with two light blows to the negro's face. The latter laughed. Johnson said "land again kid." Willard led with a smile. Persons in the crowd yelled "Hurry up, we want to see the races." Willard stabbed and pawed the air, and landed a swing on the negro's jaw. The negro cut loose and battled Willard across the ring. The crowd went frantic when Willard landed hard right and left to Jack's body at the bell.

Twenty-First Round. After a minute of posing and feinting Johnson hooked his left to Willard's body and a right swing to the head. Willard replied with a straight left to the negro's face. Jack rushed but Willard protected well in a clinch. Willard missed a right swing and both laughed. At the bell both were fighting for an opening.

Twenty-Second Round. The fight at this point degenerated into a slow sparring, clinching battle, neither pugilist appearing tired or injured by the blows of the other. Willard tried at setting the pace. In a clinch he battered the negro's body with rights and lefts. Johnson only grinned and Willard continued working away for the negro's stomach. Jack grinned at the shrieking crowd. Nevertheless the pace showed the effect on Johnson.

Twenty-Third Round. Willard rushed into a clinch. Johnson held on until ordered to break by Welch. The challenger shot two lefts to the negro's face. The pair clinched and wrestled about the ring. Jess added two more lefts to Jack's face and clinched again. Up to this point Johnson had not struck a blow in this round.

Twenty-Fourth Round. The crowd yelled to the fighters to fight but the men clinched. Willard laid weight on Johnson at every opportunity in the clinches. Johnson pushed Willard backward the same as he did with Jeffries at Reno. Johnson missed with two weak swings. The crowd howled with approval. Willard smashed the negro with a left to the face at the bell.

Twenty-Fifth Round. Johnson's motions might indicate that he thought he could not knock Willard out but get a decision on points in 45 rounds. Willard shook the negro with a right to the heart. Willard clipped Johnson on the jaw with a fast left and tried forcing the pace. Johnson conserved every bit of energy. Willard landed a left to the mouth and repeated, Johnson stepping around backwards. At the bell he dropped heavily into his chair.

Twenty-Sixth and Last. Johnson rose slowly from his chair and Willard met him more than two-thirds of the way across the ring. Willard stabbed a long left into the negro's face, sending his head bobbing back. Before Johnson could recover his position Willard swung a smashing right, which landed full on Johnson's stomach. Johnson was flung against the ropes by the force of the blow, and he clinched on the rebound.

The cowboy tried to tear loose, but the black held grimly, with eyes closed and legs shaking. Just before the referee broke them Johnson looked over Willard's shoulder towards the box where his wife had been, his eyes showing a dazed, tired, puzzled expression.

"As soon as Welch had broken the clinch Jess rushed again, forcing the negro into Willard's corner, where the finish came. Johnson was slow in guarding, and his strong, youthful opponent hooked a swinging left to the body. The fading champion's legs quivered, and again the towering giant feinted for the body. Johnson dropped his guard, and Willard won the title with a quick hard swing to the exact point of the jaw.

The negro's knees folded up under him and he sank slowly to the floor and rolled over on his back partly under the ropes.

WHERE HAS JOHNSON DISAPPEARED TO? Havana, April, 5.—Johnson returned to his room almost immediately after the fight. Aside from a cut lip he was unmarked. He denied himself to all interviewers, and about 7 o'clock this evening left hurriedly in an automobile. Up to a late hour the searchers were unable to locate the former champion. It was reported that he had gone to the country until tomorrow.

Sporting Notes

Now the question is, who will be the next "Black Hope"?

Honestly we thought Johnson would win but evidently history once more repeated itself and a raw unexperienced man put it over the skilled "aged" artist.

The experts who picked Willard to win will crow now while the experts (questionable now) who picked the big black will look for soft spots to fall on.

President Tom Byrne of St. Patrick's Baseball Club is rounding up his players for the coming summer. Eddie Kirkwood, Billy Fields, Geo. Fields, Art Mulcahey, Rick Loisel, Pierre Campagna, Ernie Loisel, and a couple of others are still in the city. A meeting will be held tonight.

The service over Breen and Gourdeau's wife was remarkably fast and accurate. There was no interruption whatever a steady stream of bulletins coming in until the flash "Willard wins."

It is strange what interest a pugilistic encounter arouses. Everyone in the city yesterday was fight mad. If an announcement that the whole German navy had been sunk had been made, it could not have elicited such a cheer as the bulletin that Willard knocked out Johnson brought forth.

Joe L. Sullivan picked Johnson to win. But the old master said that if the black man didn't put Jess out before the 15th round the issue would be doubtful. John L's dope wasn't too far off at that.

We had so many calls over the phone last night asking for information as to the result of the big fight that when one serious-minded citizen inquired was there any exciting war news we told him Willard knocked Johnson out in the 26th round.

The Association football league will likely meet soon though it is hardly likely that league games will be played this summer. Friendlies will probably be played during the season. A game in aid of the Red Cross Society Fund is in prospect.

The moving pictures of the fight will draw big money. Willard didn't make a big haul over the event but he will soon make that up.

Popular Pastimes No. 71.—Listening to the guy who knew all along that Willard would win.

Crawford: What do you think of investigating committees, anyhow?

MONTREAL TEAMS IN BOWLING TOURNEY

NINTH ANNUAL TOURNAMENT OPENED LAST NIGHT IN NEW YORK.

New York, April 5.—The ninth annual tournament of the National Bowling Association made its opening tonight in the Grand Central Palace with ceremonies at which Chauncey M. Depew, former United States Senator from New York, was the principal speaker. He did not roll the first ball down the alleys, as was expected, for he explained that he had reached the age of 81 and that the bowling spheres were heavier these days than when he was an adept at the game some 65 years ago.

Six teams took the alleys tonight, the National A. A., Canadians and Strachans, of Montreal, Canada; the Vogts, of Newark, N.J.; the Rockaways, of Rockaway Beach, Long Island, and the Mohawks, of New York. The start was so late that it was long after midnight before they finished.

THREE CHALLENGES FOR NEW CHAMPION

GUNBOAT SMITH, JIM COFFEE AND AL REICH AFTER JESS WILLARD NOW.

New York, April 5.—Willard's victory over Johnson and the fact that the world's heavyweight title has passed into the custody of a white pugilist was welcome news to those identified with pugilism and to other sport followers in greater New York. Tonight virtually nothing but the big fight was talked about in the hotels and cafes where sporting men gathered. Everywhere the prevailing impression was that Johnson's defeat by the big Kansan would give a stimulus to boxing and make the sport more popular all over the United States.

Gunboat Smith, Jim Coffee and Al Reich, all of whom have their home in this city, have issued challenges to the cowboy champion. In all probability this trio, as well as many others in the heavyweight division, will have to wait some time before Willard will consent to a match for the title. His managers and backers have mapped out an itinerary of exhibitions and theatrical engagements for Willard in having him defend his title.

Very little betting was indulged in here, the odds ranging from 2 to 1 against Willard for small bets to 6 to 5 for larger amounts.

ATHLETE KILLED AT THE FRONT

London, April 6.—3.08 a.m.—Captain Wyndham Halwelle, the well known British runner, was killed while fighting at the front on March 31st, it was announced here today. Captain Halwelle broke the quarter mile record at the Olympic games in London in 1908, in an exciting contest. He also held other athletic records.

"KID" WILLIAMS BEATEN.

Philadelphia, April 5.—Kid Williams the bantamweight champion, was put down twice and took the count for seven and nine in the second round of a six-round bout with "Louisiana," of this city, here tonight. The local man appeared over-anxious and missed both attempts to land finishing blows. "Louisiana" made the better showing in all but the first round. The champion appeared groggy at the close.

This was the fourth contest between the two fighters, who weighed in at 118 pounds. Popular decision had given each a victory and one contest a draw, as the results of the three previous meetings.

"The Wonder Car"

You will have only yourself to blame if you are "talked into" buying an "unsuitable" or a "theoretical" Car.

The two commonest mistakes made in buying an automobile are—First, Buying a car not suited to your needs.—Second, Buying a car that has not passed the theory stage.

The first mistake—buying an "unsuitable" car—is perhaps made even less often than the second. But for your own sake study your needs sensibly, just as you study your household needs, and buy a car you can afford to enjoy—a car you will have pride in, and yet one that will not be a "ghost of reproach" to your good sense.

The second mistake—buying a "theoretical" car—is perhaps the sadder mistake of the two—because when you have made this mistake, you have on your hands some engineer's or designer's untried theory, instead of a tried, known, successful car. And you have paid a price that, put in the right car, would never have been a reproach—but would have bought an automobile of real pride and joy.

It is because we see these two mistakes being constantly made—because we see sensible people being constantly talked into these "automobile fiascos" that we boast so much about the record of the car we sell—The Maxwell.

38,000 happy satisfied Maxwell owners are driving 38,000 handsome streamline Maxwell Cars to-day—at an up-keep cost that any man of any standing can afford, and at an original cost that is simply a practical investment.

200 Maxwell Cars Every Day

Twelve hundred a week, five thousand a month. That is the actual output of "The Wonder Car" right now and constantly increasing.

Not bare promises that cannot be kept, but actual deliveries to Maxwell Dealers.

Stop! Think a moment. There must be something back of a production so great. There must be the hearty approval and confidence of the public in the car they buy and the car must merit it all.

26 Maxwell cars every hour of the business day. Yes, that is just what the public are buying, and when you order a Maxwell, you get one the day you want it.

Back of each Maxwell stands one of the greatest and most efficient organizations in the industry, and one strong enough financially to insure you against the purchase of an "orphan car" and to give you actual deliveries of a wonderful car on the day you want it.

The Maxwell Company's Guarantee of Service to Maxwell Owners

No other automobile is backed by a more reliable service than that guaranteed every Maxwell owner. Scores of Maxwell dealers in every part of this country are always ready to give expert advice—to make adjustments and to supply new parts at reasonable prices.

This splendid Maxwell Dealers' Service Organization is perfected and completed by the great Maxwell Service Station in Windsor, Ont. The main offices and factories of the Maxwell Motor Company in Detroit, U. S. A., are within comparatively short distance of many points in Canada. This in itself means rapid delivery of replacement parts to Canadian Maxwell dealers and owners. Maxwell Service is one of the great advantages enjoyed by Maxwell owners.

Order a Maxwell from us now, and when you want it delivered, we will give you your car—not an excuse on delivery day

AGRICULTURAL BULLETINS.

So great has been the demand for Bulletins, Pamphlets, Records and Reports upon the Publications Branch of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa as a result of the Patriotic and Production Movement, that it has been found impossible to comply with all the applications as promptly as could be desired. Of some of the Bulletins the supply has been exhausted and no time has been afforded for rebuilding, while of others the quantity asked for individually has been such that instant compliance would mean many applicants might have to go without. This has meant extra correspondence and consequent delay. The situation is, of course, satisfactory as indicating the success of the campaign, and the widespread interest created, but the inability to respond on the instant with the multitude of applications is greatly regretted. At the same time it is impossible that the size of the demand could have been foreseen. As fast as possible the requests will be attended to, but in the meantime there will have to be reprinting and in cases revising. In such circumstances patience appears to be a desirable and necessary quality.

Mrs. Wiseneighbour says:

"I should have told you the other day when I was speaking of 'Eddy's' washboards, that it is just as necessary to have an indurated fibreware tub to hold your clothes if you want to make a success of washday."

Mrs. Newlywed says:

"I've heard of Eddy's indurated fibreware. What's the difference between fibre and woodenware?"

"Fibreware is made from compressed fibre, baked at extreme heat. All in one solid piece it cannot warp or fall apart. No chance of splinters—wears much longer—looks better—and is light to carry. The latter point you should always take into consideration," concludes Mrs. Wiseneighbour.

Application of the Eyes causes Eye-Strain.

Close application of the eyes to any kind of work is a strain on the eyes and headaches are very often due to that or caused by eye glasses.

When your eyes grow tired after working or reading, be careful and see if your glasses are correct and if you have what you want. In nearly all cases of eye strain or headaches we can give you glasses—fitted properly which will render work quite easy and we charge you nothing for fitting your sight.

All prescriptions of Oculist filled up at once. All compound glasses cut at home at an hour's notice.

HE HELPED TAKE CALAIS.

This "Boche" Has a Strange Idea of the Operations. Writing to his home in London, England, a professional man, who is in Northern France, says:

"I have just had a short talk with a group of German prisoners. They were men of an infantry regiment taken prisoner a day or so ago to the southeast of Ypres. 'There were 28 altogether. The railway journey seemed to have put them in good humor. They preferred the third-class wooden benches of the Northern Railway of France to the mud and misery of the trenches, and no doubt found it more agreeable to receive a good ration of food from the enemy than bullets and shells.

"Looking at them one could not help feeling that to these fellows capture was a relief. Meanwhile they have been taken to the south of France, where they will find themselves fairly comfortable. The railway carriages that conveyed them were steam-heated—a luxury which is rarely provided for the unhappy Belgian and French refugees.

"Their ignorance was incredible. They did not even know the name of the town near which they were made prisoners, they had no idea where they were. As for the battle itself, it was in the main an enigma to them. All that they could say was that the order to advance was given and that they had been assured two days before that the allies had been violently attacked to the south and had been obliged to weaken the front opposed to them, and that victory would be easy.

"They started by invading one of our trenches, but towards evening they perceived that the allies had completely turned them. Surrounded on every side they gave themselves up, quite glad to have come out of the matter so cheaply.

"Their appearance could not have been more neglected or wretched. Not merely did they bear marks of the life in the trenches, masses of mud and stains of dirt, but their uniforms hardly hung together.

"The youngest prisoner was about 17. He learned that he was going into the fighting line only three days before he was put into the trenches.

"The oldest of them professed to be 56. He was a typical peasant, dull and stupid. His ignorance was solesal and his opinions of things very curious. He insisted that he had taken part in the capture of Calais.

"I tried to persuade him that the port he had entered was not Calais, but Ostend. For an instant his faith was shaken, but he soon recovered his tranquility of mind. 'You are mistaken,' he said to me. 'It was Calais I went into. My officer told me so.'

"He asked me for tobacco, but I had none. With a disappointed look he climbed up into the compartment, and the train steamed off for the sunny skies of Southern France."

Went to Headquarters. An amusing incident occurred before the troops containing the New Zealand Expeditionary Force left the Dominion. One sportive soldier handed a visitor a ship's biscuit, duly addressed and marked "On account of service," and asked if he thought he could get it through the postoffice. The visitor took the biscuit, and smilingly remarked that if anyone could get it through he thought he could. It happened to be the New Zealand Postmaster-General.

THE LIGHTER SIDE.

When knights were bold, in days of old, There were some stellar fights. Yet, be it conolded, they never sold The motion-picture rights.

"My boy," said the successful merchant of Peter Street, "never let your capital be idle. Remember that money talks, but it doesn't talk in its sleep."

A minister spending a holiday in the north of Ireland, was out walking and, feeling thirsty, called at a farm-house for a drink of milk. The farmer's wife gave him a large bowl of milk, and while he was quenching his thirst a number of pigs got around about him. The minister noticed that the pigs were very strange in their manner, so he said: "My good lady, why are the pigs so excited?"

The farmer's wife replied, "Sure, it's no wonder they are excited, sir, it's their own bowl you are drinking out of!"

It is gratifying to know that Antwerp's art treasures are safe in the city's cellar. Nobody ever had the happy thought to build the Cathedral of Rheims entirely underground.

"Try as I will I can't keep up with my social obligations. Went out today and made 12 calls."

"Oh, but that was doing very well indeed."

"Was it? When I got back I found that 19 calls had been made upon me."

Jack—I'll never smoke in the presence of a lady again.

Tom—Why not, if she doesn't object?

Jack—I once began blowing rings while with a lady. She slipped her finger through one and considered herself engaged.

An Atlanta boy has mirror eyes that cause him to see everything backward. He should be well qualified for a seat in the Ottawa Opposition.

Candid Hostess (on seeing her nephew's fiancée for the first time)—"I never should have known you from your photograph. Reggie told me you were so pretty."

Reggie's Fiancee—No, I'm not pretty, so I have to try to be nice, and it's such a bore. Have you ever tried?"

"Some men, dressed in civilian clothes, gathered together in the smoking room of the hotel, discussing the joys and sorrows of life at the front."

"Well, I've been with the army and had a very interesting time" said one.

"Ever get really alone with the enemy?" asked another.

"Rather! I once took two of their officers."

"Unaided?"

"Of course! And the very next day I took eight men!"

"All wounded, I expect," sneered a listener. "You didn't get hurt, did you?"

"Just a slight scratch, that's all. And two days after I took a transport wagon, and followed up that by taking a big gun."

"Sir," said a disagreeable auditor, "I have seen some of the finest specimens of anything you can all to mind, but I wish to state that you are the biggest romantic that ever trod this earth."

"Oh, no, I am not that," replied the hero. "I am a photographer."

W. J. McDONALD DIES IN FLORIDA

Cornwall, Ont., April 5.—Word was received today of the death this morning at St. Petersburg, Florida, of W. J. McDonald, a prominent railway contractor. For many years he was a partner in the firm of Ryan and McDonald, who built part of the G. T. P. north and west of Quebec city, and parts of that road in New Brunswick. He also built part of the T. JUST WHY J. A. HILL RECOMMENDS DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

He Had Sore Back and Other Symptoms of Kidney Disease and Got Real Benefit from Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Sixty-Nine Corners, Ont., April 5.—(Special).—"I am recommending Dodd's Kidney Pills as the best of medicines." The speaker was Mr. J. A. Hill, a well known resident of this place, and he left no doubt in the minds of his hearers that he meant every word he said.

"Some time ago," Mr. Hill continued, "I had a very sore back. It started from a cold and I suffered for six months with it. I also had stiffness in my joints and cramps in my muscles and I felt heavy and sleepy after meals. My appetite was fitful and my limbs very heavy. Then I decided to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. I took four boxes and received great benefit from them. That's why I recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Every one of Mr. Hill's symptoms showed that his trouble was of the kidneys. That is why we got such benefit from Dodd's Kidney Pills. They are no cure all, but they do cure sick kidneys, and the kidneys are the keystones of health.

A VETERAN WHO WAS WITH LORD ROBERTS

Laid Low With Rheumatism—But Cured By "Fruit-a-lives".

CHATAM, ONT., April 3rd, 1915. "I am a veteran of the Crimean War and the Indian Mutiny, volunteering from the Royal Artillery into the Royal Engineers, and served under Lord Roberts during the Indian Mutiny, and am a pensioner of the British Government. Fierce hand-to-hand fighting and continual exposure left me a great sufferer from Rheumatism, so much so that my legs swelled up, making it impossible for me to walk. "Fruit-a-lives". They cured me of both the Rheumatism and Constipation. In my regular employment, I walk thirty miles a day and enjoy perfect health."

NEW YORK MARKET.
(Canadian Press.)
New York, April 5.—Revival of pool activities in numerous specialties helped to swell today's operations on the Stock Exchange to a very large total.
Representative shares moved up as well, some to the highest levels of the year. This was true of such potential leaders as Union Pacific, Grangers and Canadians, while trunk liners, and some of the cotton carrying roads participated in lesser degree.

United States Steel, for the first time in some days, reasserted its leadership, selling as high as 50 1/2, its best quotation since the latter part of January. Bethlehem Steel rose over four points to the new record of 92 early in the session, but lost all its rise before midday. Towards the end it was rushed up again, this time ascending to 92 1/2, at which price it closed. The annual meeting of the company takes place tomorrow and rumor persists that action advantageous to the shareholders will then be taken.
Automobile shares, equipments and a mixture of secondary industrials rose from one to five points, but some of these advances were obliterated towards the close. Trading in the first two hours was on an enormous scale, but quiet in the early afternoon. There were further furious activity in the final dealings, with a strong close.

The only exceptions to the general rise were Missouri Pacific and St.
Louis and San Francisco among the railers and some of the very inactive specialties.
Missouri Pacific's comparative weakness was attributed to the belief that a heavy assessment will be levied against the stock under the forthcoming re-organization. The most erratic of the industrials was Cuban-American Sugar, which rose seven points to 70 at the outset, declining to 62 later.

Bankers reported a demand for over half of the $50,000,000 of French one year notes, recently taken by a syndicate, and conferences bearing upon other foreign loans were renewed, with intimations of definite announcements later in the week.
Total sales of stocks amounted to 670,300 shares.
Bonds were irregular, copper issues also showing strength. Total sales, par value, $2,682,000.

New York, April 5.—The general impression this morning was that the market would boil and boom once more, in fact it has been very strong especially in the standards. Some of the specialties which have been vigorously bulled of late show the effects of heavy profit taking.
The market, though closing somewhat under the best figures for the day, shows good advances in most instances. It looks to us as if the present speculative movement would continue for some time, unless the Germans should commence to show some of the things which they claim they are going to do.
The writer feels that it is about time if they are going to make such a demonstration that they begin operations and if they should succeed in some sensational move somewhere, it would give this market a tremendous chill.
We would not have to wait long for a reaction, for this rise is based almost solely on a feeling of confidence that the Allies are going to win and that the war will be over in autumn.
Sales, 680,573; bonds, $2,564,500.

delivery leading. The stringency apparent in May has probably been the chief incentive as the reports of dry weather damage in localities in this State and Indiana and the scattering Hessian fly claims have not been given much consideration. The tightness of May wheat is still the dominating influence with the war news, having an affect from time to time.
The market is, therefore, subject to developments impossible to forecast, but there is a significant lack of general interest without which it is natural to suppose that bulges will be maintained with difficulty.

WILLARD'S GREAT VICTORY POPULAR IN QUEBEC CITY

THE CHRONICLE GAVE FIRST NEWS THROUGH COURTESY OF MESSRS. BREEN AND GOURDEAU.

"Willard knocked out Johnson in the 26th round."
When the above announcement was posted on the Chronicle bulletin board yesterday afternoon a wild cheer was sent up by the hundreds who lined the street facing the office eagerly looking for details of the big fight, hoping against hope that the big black would meet his match in the raw, inexperienced but giant cowboy. Baseball has its fans, hockey its devotees and in fact every game known has its horde of enthusiasts, but boxing, when it is for the heavyweight championship of the world, especially, claims the attention of every man, woman or child the world over.

War news was forgotten and if the big battle was fought in the Quebec Arena the excitement in the city could not have been more intense.
Thanks to Breen & Gourdeau. Thanks to the courtesy of Messrs. Breen & Gourdeau, the enterprising firm of stock brokers, the Chronicle was able to bulletin the big battle round by round, a running story of the fight being communicated over their wire. The service was prompt and accurate, the final result being

Vigilance the Price of a Good Complexion

To retain the natural beauty of the skin only proper care and treatment is needed. Our skins are naturally clear and healthy, but the demands of everyday life and unnatural living quickly spoil their freshness and beauty. So necessary is this care that no woman can afford to neglect it. The Nyal people have just issued a new booklet, "Your Complexion," which contains most useful and interesting information on how to care for the complexion in such a way that its beauty and freshness will be preserved for many years. It also includes directions for best methods of massage. The constant use of some good preparation, such as Nyal's Face Cream, is absolutely necessary to keep the skin really clean and healthy. It is a nourishing, oxygenated, greaseless skin-food which leaves no shine. Get a 25c or 50c jar and rub it gently into the skin. See how quickly it is absorbed, leaving the skin pleasantly refreshed and delicately fragrant.
Call or telephone the nearest Nyal Agency Drug Store for your copy of this useful book. You'll know the Nyal Agency Store by its special window sign. Nyal Preparations mean quality.

GLIMPSES OF OLD QUEBEC

From the Files of THE CHRONICLE, April, 1885 and 1815.

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Cypher Message from Col. Irvine.
Considerable excitement was created in Quebec over the news that Col. Irvine had succeeded in sending cypher messages from Humboldt to Ottawa. Humboldt having been reached by a scout from Prince Albert, great anxiety prevails to learn the contents. Col. Irvine, who is in command of the Northwest Mounted Police, succeeded in reaching Prince Albert at considerable risk. As no tidings of him and his command have been received, considerable anxiety has been manifested regarding them. Scouts had been sent out to glean whatever information was possible and it is now feared that they may have been captured by the enemy. It was even feared, before the cypher messages were received that Col. Irvine's force had been captured. It is said that not a few of the French-Canadians are openly expressing their sympathy with the Metis, but none of them so far have refused to respond to the call of duty. They argue that the half-breeds have a grievance, and that they should be treated as liberally by the Government in the matter of lands as the Scotch half-breeds.

No Indians Wanted.
It has been stated that the Blackfeet Indians are willing to assist the Government against the Crees, against whom they have long borne enmity. "Should this be true, we hope the Government will not avail themselves of their services. The Blackfeet can help Canada better by holding aloof and observing a strict neutrality. Peace among the various tribes must be encouraged at all haz-arded. All Canadian Indians must be taught that loyalty to Canada is their first, best and only principle.

SAYS ACID STOMACH CAUSES INDIGESTION

EXCESS OF HYDROCHLORIC ACID SOURS THE FOOD AND FORMS GASES.
Undigested food delayed in the stomach decays, or rather, ferments the same as food left in the open air, says a noted authority. He also tells us that indigestion is caused by Hyper-acidity, meaning, there is an excess of hydro-chloric acid in the stomach which prevents complete digestion and starts food fermentation. Thus everything eaten sours in the stomach much like garbage sours in a can, forming acid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. Then we feel a heavy, lumpy misery in the chest, we belch up gas, we eructate sour food or have heartburn, flatulence, water-brash or nausea.
He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead, get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and drink while it is effervescing and furthermore, to continue this for a week. While relief follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.
Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salt is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble with excellent results.

QUAKES AT AVEZZANO

Avezzano, Italy, April 5.—via Paris 6.20 p.m.—Earth quake shocks have been of daily occurrence here since the disastrous earthquake of Jan. 13, but the disturbance of this morning was the most severe of any in this interval. Virtually no damage was done in Avezzano or the surrounding villages, for the reason that the January disaster worked such havoc that there was little left to be destroyed.
The people are still living in encampments, in all of which the shock today was felt distinctly, causing temporary alarm.

ALARM AT ROME

Much Excitement Created but no Damage was Done.
Rome, via Paris, 5.—A slight earthquake was felt here at 7.20 o'clock this morning. The people were much alarmed but no damage was done.
The quake lasted four seconds. The alarm of the people quickly subsided as no damage was done. Telegrams from Tivoli, Castelmadama and San Polo recorded the same disturbance. There were, however, no casualties. At Tagliacozzo the earthquake shock was violent. The people rushed into the streets and remained there, fearing to re-enter their homes. Several houses were damaged.
A huge rock which overhangs the village of Petrellaliri was loosened by the earthquake and the people fled from their homes, fearing that the rock would crash down upon them. Soldiers and engineers were hurried to their assistance.
