Crash kills two

STE. BRIGIDE — (Staff) — Two people died and three others were injured, one seriously, when the automobile in which they were riding went off the road on the outskirts of this small community about 9.15 p.m. Saturday night. Dead are: Nineteen-year-old Gisele Nadeau, of 116 Veteran's Boulevard, Cowansville and Mrs. Kenneth Webster, of Cowansville. Seriously injured and unconscious in a Montreal hospital is Kenneth Webster, of Cowansville. Suffering from a broken leg and a broken arm at the Brome-Missisquoi-Perkins hospital at Swetsburg is Marlene Sanborn, of Swetsburg, Marcel Dubois, of 115 Main Street, Cowansville, was released from hospital Sunday after he was treated for shock and cuts to the face and head.

St. John's provincial police investigated the accident which occurred about three miles west of Farnham. It was reported that the crash occurred when Kenneth Webster, driving a rented car from Cowansville crashed through the steel-link fence of the Farnham military camp, travelled 10 feet through four feet of snow and finally came to rest against the only tree in the immediate vicinity.

The Nadeau girl died immediately and was pronounced dead on arrival at the BMP hospital. Mrs. Webster, died early Sunday morning. At least 23 Canadians died in accidents during the week-end, 10 of them in Quebec. Seventeen persons died in traffic accidents.

A Canadian Press survey from 6 p.m. local time to midnight Sunday showed road accidents accounted for six deaths in Quebec, five in Ontario, three in British Columbia, and one each in Saskatchewan, Nova Scotia and Newfoundland.

EFTA members agree to more tariff cuts

GENEVA — Ministers of the seven European Free Trade Association countries agreed today on the need to step up the tariff — cutting activities of their organization to prevent being left behind by the rival Common Market.

Although no formal vote was taken, it was clear that all the seven states belonging to the European free trade area were thinking roughly along the same line.

Britain's Deputy Foreign Minister Edward Heath reported to the others on France's rejection of Britain's application to join the Common Market.

This action, taken at Brussels last month, dimmed the hope of a linkup of the EFTA countries with the Common Market.

British delegation sources said the exact date for a speed-up in tariff cuts and the date of

Red test ban plan said ultimatum

(CP from AP-Reuters)
GENEVA — The chief United States disarmament negotiator said today Premier Khrushchev's nuclear test-ban inspection proposal has taken the form of an ultimatum and is unacceptable to the U.S.

At the same time he said U.S. policy is firmly against the transfer of nuclear weapons to the independent control of states which do not possess them.

William G. Foster said the United States welcomed Khrushchev's offer to allow two or three on-site inspections a year as showing a genuine desire to move toward a test-ban agreement.

The United States and Britain demand eight to 10 inspections a year as a minimum for an adequately safeguarded treaty.

Foster told the 17-nation disarmament conference the United States "evaluated the Soviet offer of two or three on-site inspections as evidence of a real willingness to open negotiations designed to reach an effective test ban agreement."

GOT SURPRISE
"It was, therefore, a very real surprise when... we were told literally that the Soviet Union would not negotiate on the question of numbers... above two or three."

The Russian position "has shaken our belief that the Soviet Union really desires agreement."

Foster told Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily Kuznetsov that on-site inspections would include complete safeguards against espionage. He called on Kuznetsov again to discuss details of the inspection procedure.

Foster said "no arrangement for a North Atlantic Treaty Organization nuclear force proposed at Nassau or elsewhere" will violate the U.S. policy of opposition to transfer of nuclear weapons to independent control of other states.

The NATO force strengthened the policy by giving allies a voice in nuclear strategy and thereby removing "whatever incentive might conceivably exist for those who do not now have nuclear weapons to seek to acquire an independent nuclear capability."

Cold helps in race to save lumber crop
By JOHN LEBLANC
KAPUSKASING, Ont. (CP) — A cold front moved into this troubled northern Ontario lumber area today, bringing a promise of at least temporary help in a race to salvage timber before spring puts it beyond reach.

About 1,500 bushworkers voted Saturday to end their 33-day violence - ridden strike against two paper-making companies.

Road-clearing crews scattered into the bush immediately after the strikers voted and were expected to have the way cleared for full-scale operations by today.

Hot on their heels went scores of independent settlers who augmented their sparse farming incomes by cutting timber in the winter and selling it to the companies.

R. L. Flatt, manager of the Spruce Falls Paper and Paper Company mill here, said the company expects to get enough pulpwood out of the bush to keep it going through the year by rushing woods operations.

MAY DELAY THAW
Colder weather today—following a brief spell of barely-freezing temperatures—raised hopes that the spring breakup in the bush would not come until mid-March. With the spring thaw, the frozen muskeg can no longer support woods operations.

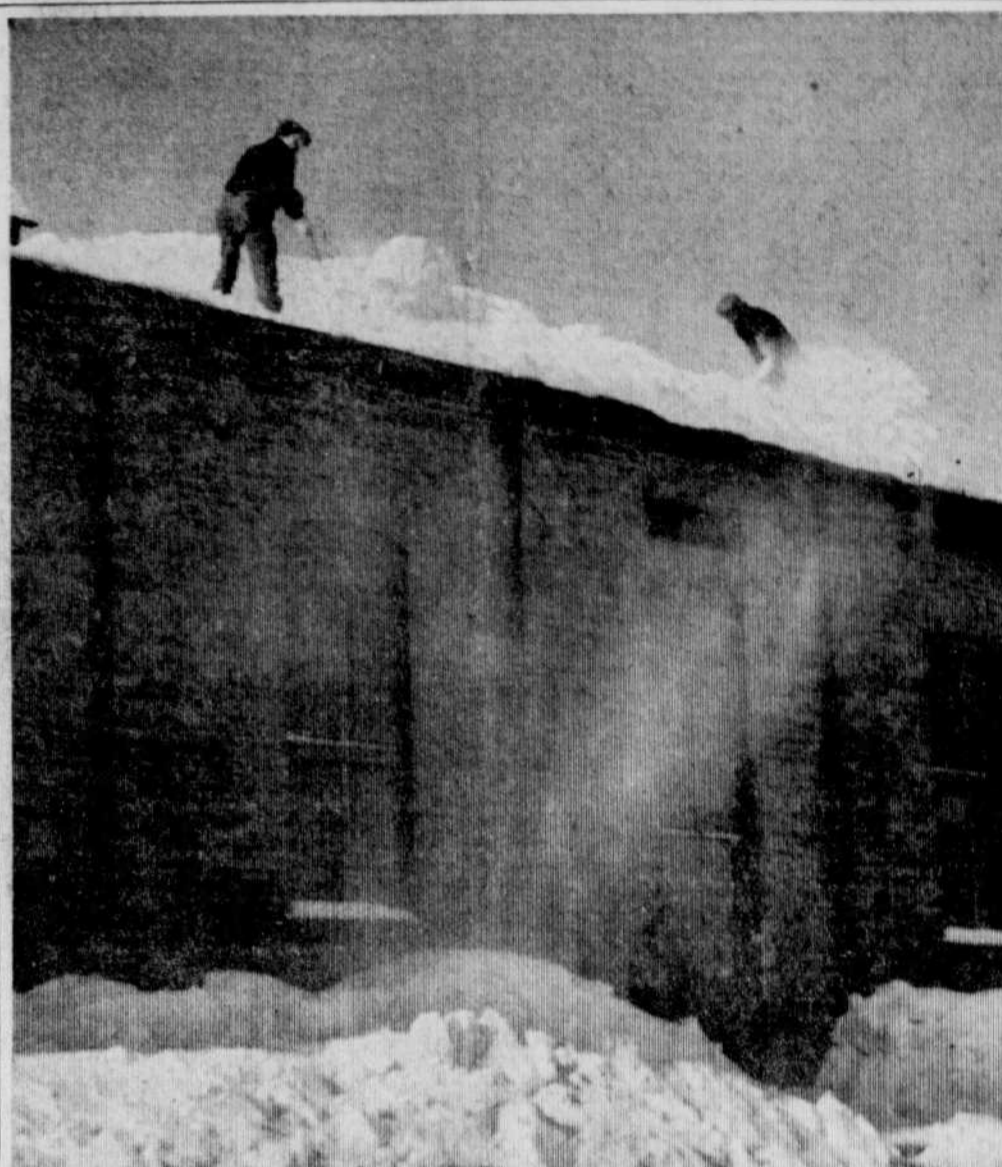

The strikers' vote—850 in favor of ending the strike at Spruce Falls and at Kimberly-Clark Pulp and Paper Company at Longlac, 180 miles west of here, and 64 against—came although neither labor nor management was happy about terms of the strike - ending agreement.

The other members of the British-led group, known as the Outer Seven, Europe's second major economic grouping, are Austria and Portugal.

the next tariff cut were not decided by the end of the morning session.

Diplomatic sources said the discussion of the tariff-cut acceleration had produced the expected division on views between the most industrialized EFTA members—like Britain, Sweden and Switzerland—and Norway and Denmark, who have large agricultural and fishery exports.

Efforts to explain away the apparent differences of opinion between Sacred National Leader Robert Thompson and Deputy Leader Real Caouette on the question of nuclear arms for Canada highlighted the speeches at the Sherbrooke So-

A levelling-off

Business up-trend slows down

TORONTO (CP) — The up-trend in Canadian business has become distinctly slower, if it has not by now actually come to a stop, says the monthly review of the Bank of Nova Scotia.

The review emphasizes, however, that the trend is one of levelling and not of decline. Along with the slowing tendencies it cites a number of favorable developments.

Outlining the levelling-off factors, it says: "The seasonally adjusted index of industrial production, which is usually quite sensitive to cyclical fluctuations, was virtually unchanged from August to November, and from available indications has shown little movement in the two subsequent months. Since the late summer, also, total non-agricultural employment has shown more than the usual seasonal decline."

On the encouraging side, the review notes that Canadian trade results have been more favorable after showing "surprisingly little earlier impact" from mid-1962 emergency measures and the reduced foreign exchange value of the Canadian dollar.

An important element in recent firmness in business conditions, it says, has been the conservative character of business inventory policies in a world of ample supplies and of electronic accounting techniques.

"With the cyclical volatility of inventories diminished, the business trend is likely to be influenced more strongly by such forces as government policy changes or major international events."

"Thus, in recent months there has been the obvious firming influence arising out of the Cuban crisis, while the continuing anticipation of a sizable U.S. tax cut has been working in the same direction."

"At the same time, the Canadian economy has been benefiting from the marketing of a big Prairie Crop. Even more important has been growing evidence of an improved competitive position in a wide range of Canadian industry."

OTTAWA (CP) — Justice Minister Donald Fleming announced today he is retiring from public life for personal reasons.

"The precise date of my retirement from the government will of course be a matter for decision by the prime minister," Mr. Fleming said in a statement.

Mr. Fleming said he had advised Progressive Conservatives in his constituency of Toronto Eglinton on Saturday. He said the prime minister was informed some time ago.

Mr. Fleming's action had been rumored. There was speculation that he will be named to the Supreme Court of Canada but his statement made no mention of any new activity. He is a lawyer.

5TH MINISTER TO LEAVE
He is the fifth cabinet minister to leave the ministry in the last few weeks. Three, including Mr. Fleming, are not running in the April 8 federal election.

Mr. Fleming's statement said: "On Saturday last, Feb. 16, I met with the members of the executives of the three Progressive Conservative associations in Eglinton riding and regretfully informed them that I am retiring from public life and that I shall not be standing for nomination as the party's candidate in the federal general election April 8."

"My reasons for this decision are of a personal nature. The prime minister was informed of the decision and the reasons some time ago."

"Recently I completed 25 years of service in the public life, the first seven in municipal elective offices and the last 18 as a member of the House of Commons. I thank the good people of Eglinton riding for the privilege of representing them for a quarter of a century and for the confidence which they have so generously expressed in me at the polls in 13 consecutive elections. I shall always be grateful to them."

"My decision to retire from public life could not be and has not been reached lightly. It has indeed caused me deep searching of heart. The time has come however when the exactions and sacrifices imposed by public service are too heavy to be continued."

"The precise date of my retirement from the government will of course be a matter for decision by the prime minister. I shall leave him and my other colleagues in the government with deep regret and with the most cordial and friendly feelings. I thank the prime minister for the privilege of serving Canada and the Crown as a member of the government for the past six years and for his personal friendship and confidence."

Two boats pay visit to freighter
PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad (AP) — The Communist - hijacked Venezuelan freighter Anzoategui stopped near Maraca Island off the Brazilian coast Sunday night and two mystery boats visited it.

The United States defence department said a tracking U.S. plane saw the 3,127-ton fugitive ship stop "dead in the water" off the Brazilian island about 7 p.m. EST.

The island lies about 200 miles northwest of the Brazilian port of Belem, where the men who seized the freighter had indicated they might seek refuge.

The report from the tracking plane gave no hint of the identity of people in the small boats that appeared alongside the freighter. The announcement did not specify how many miles offshore the freighter stopped, but indications were that it was outside Brazilian territorial waters.

Communist gunmen stowed away on the Anzoategui early this week and with the help of one or more members of the crew took over the ship Wednesday after it sailed from Venezuela for New Orleans and Houston.

They were reported to have made the captain and most of his 35-man crew captive. President Romulo Betancourt's anti-Communist government branded the mutineers pirates and appealed to friendly nations with forces in the Caribbean to stop the freighter.

WON'T CHANGE PLANS
Seizure of the vessel appeared to be part of a Communist attempt to force Betancourt to cancel a visit to President Kennedy in Washington this week. But Betancourt went ahead with plans to leave for Puerto Rico today and to fly on to Washington Tuesday.

Willy Brandt elected

BERLIN (AP)—West Berliners gave Socialist Mayor Willy Brandt a smashing vote of confidence Sunday in their first municipal election since the Communists built the Berlin wall.

Brandt's anti-Communist Socialists won 89 of the 140 seats in the city's new parliament. They had 77 deputies in the 133-seat House elected four years ago.

West Berlin's Communist party, never represented in parliament, lost a third of its popular vote. This was blamed largely on the wall. The Communist vote declined from 31,570 in 1959 to 20,887 Sunday. In percentage of the total votes, they decreased to 13 from 19 per cent.

The Christian Democrats, led by Franz Amrehn, deputy mayor in Brandt's coalition government, won 41 seats, a drop of 14. They lost more than 160,000 votes.

Socreds nominate two more in Townships

Social Credit officially nominated two more candidates over the week-end, in Sherbrooke and Stanstead counties, to bring to four the number of Socred champions already selected for Eastern Townships ridings in the April 8 federal general election campaign.

Gerard Chapdelaine, Sherbrooke lawyer and member of the last Parliament, was the unanimous choice of a 30-reg rally held at St. Francis Secondary School Sunday afternoon to contest Sherbrooke. Romeo Couston, of Magog, candidate in 1962, was selected at a meeting held in Magog.

Earlier, Andre Bernier, of Windsor, and Henri Latulippe, of Lake Megantic, both former MPs announced they would seek re-election in Richmond-Wolfe and Compton-Frontenac respectively.

Efforts to explain away the apparent differences of opinion between Sacred National Leader Robert Thompson and Deputy Leader Real Caouette on the question of nuclear arms for Canada highlighted the speeches at the Sherbrooke Social Credit rally attended by some 400 electors. Both the candidate, Mr. Chapdelaine, and Andre Bernier, candidate in Richmond-Wolfe, devoted considerable time to this issue declaring that there was no disagreement between the two leaders. Both, they claimed, expressed the same idea but in different words.

Mr. Chapdelaine declared Mr. Thompson and Mr. Caouette opposed any immediate adoption of offensive nuclear weapons by the Canadian armed forces. The apparent division, he said, arose over the use of nuclear warheads by Canadian forces in NATO.

Canadian forces overseas were part of an international army and might be compelled to adopt such weapons as part of their general commitments.

Basically, Mr. Chapdelaine declared, Social Credit was opposed to all weapons of mass production, whether they were nuclear or conventional arms.

The party believed that it was better to fight Communism by economic means, the Sherbrooke candidate declared.

Canada's defence commitments, he said, must be limited by its economic resources and he believed that the money which would be spent on nuclear weapons could be used to better advantage in extending aid to under-developed countries, especially in Latin America.

BEST PLAY IS SOUTH'S PROBLEM

A single suit play is one in which you want to find the best way to play a particular suit, you must decide which card to lead from which hand. The usual method is to lead a low card from the weaker hand toward the stronger, but the only real general rule is that each case depends on its own merits and on how many tricks you need in the suit.

South has a standard two no-trump opening and North a sound raise to three. It is expected that South will have little trouble making his contract and such is the case. In spite of West's spade lead, which is the best suit for his side to attack, South is sure of nine tricks by playing the club suit. He can lose to the king and still have two spades, three hearts, one diamond and three clubs.

South's problem is to find the best way to make four club tricks and a finesse is indicated. South wins the first spade

Dear Mr. McVetty, We are very pleased that your company chose the town of Bury in which to locate your Cedar Fence Plant. We are sure that you will like our town and the area around it. There is a great deal of Cedar in and about Bury and for many years there has been very small demand for it.

We have studied the schedule of Cedar that you plan to purchase as well as the prices you plan to pay for it. They are fair and should yield a good return to timber owners and woods operators. Therefore, we know that you will have a great many people wanting to furnish you with Cedar according to your requirements.

You can depend on us as well as the people of this area to cooperate and work with you. The fact that your company is located here should do a great deal for the local economy.

Very truly yours,

Rock Forest garage-workshop is levelled

GARAGE FIRE — This is the remains of the Auto Radiator Work garage-workshop at R.R. 1 Rock Forest which was razed by fire late Friday night. The structure, belonging to Robert Cloutier, was completely demolished. Flames spread from a defective wiring system, Mr. Cloutier said. The owner estimated damage at $15,000. (Record photo by Doug Gerrish)

A fire, believed to have started in the electrical wiring completely demolished the Auto Radiator Works garage at R.R. 1 Rock Forest Friday night causing an estimated $15,000 in damages.

No one was injured in the blaze which swept the 25 by 35 foot structure of gyprock and tin sheeting destroying the contents of the building which included the working tools of its owner, Robert Cloutier, and some compressors and radiators.

Sherbrooke firemen arrived on the scene approximately 45 minutes after a passerby had contacted them.

According to Mr. Cloutier, the structure was insured, but had the firemen arrived on the scene within 15 minutes, the damage to his property would have been negligible.

Before Sherbrooke firemen can leave the station for fires in Rock Forest, they must first receive a telephone call from the mayor of that municipality making such a request, according to Sherbrooke firemen.

Dial telephone system change made at Bishopton, Marbleton

BISHOPTON — (Special) — Bishopton and Marbleton changed over to the dial telephone system at 2 p.m. February 15.

The official blessing and inauguration of the system was held here Sunday afternoon. The first telephone system here was installed by the Canadian Telephone Company, J. J. Bishop worked at the switchboard and repaired the lines until 1902.

One of the pioneers of Bishopton, E. D. MacAulay recalls they had their first telephone box in 1901. His father and grandfather helped to build the line towards Gould. The village of Gould, about twelve miles from his residence, had only one telephone and sometimes people would come to the MacAulay home to call the nearest doctor who lived at Marbleton. This meant a trip of twenty miles by horse.

Through the years Miss Lucy Bishop, Jim Bishop, Mrs. Lily Westman, Mrs. Jack Beaumont, Mrs. S. Coates and Mrs. Roy Bostwick took over as agents in Bishopton for the Canadian Telephone Company. In 1949 subscribers with those of Bishopton under the Bishopton agency.

SAWYERVILLE — (Special) — Congratulations are being extended today to Mrs. Winnie Hurley who is celebrating her 91 birthday.

Today's agent Mrs. Gertrude Belisle worked for the Canadian Telephone Co., the Eastern Townships Co., and the Bell Telephone Co. Mrs. Belisle says "As operator, before this modern invention replaces me, I can say that I have at least one hundred and fifty-one friends in the Eastern Townships since I had that many subscribers in Bishopton and Marbleton. Each telephone call I answered was my way of helping others and I hope you will dial me once in a while if you ever need help."

Liquor Board refuses three tavern permits

Three persons who applied for tavern licenses in the city, received notice from the Quebec Liquor Board Friday that their requests have been refused.

Yvon Ellyson, Denis Proteau, and Roland Boulanger, said they received their notices from the QLB saying that tavern licenses would not be granted them.

"All the letter said was we would not be granted a license," Mr. Ellyson said, "and they didn't even give us any reason — probably because they have none."

During the two day QLB hearing here last month the City of Sherbrooke and the local Hotel Owners Association completely opposed to having more taverns in the city.

Granby carnival

Judges select top ice sculptures

GRANBY — (Special) — The Granby Winter Carnival came to a close last weekend after a most enjoyable and successful carnival.

The judges came to a final decision as to prize winning for sculpturing Judges for the contest, Joseph Lajeunesse, Georges A. Tetreault, Laurent St. Pierre, Jacques Comeau and Maurice Francoeur, classified sculptures in four classes, schools, associations of the city, residential and industrial. First prize schools went to the 12th year class of Mt. Sacre Coeur. The 11th year class of Mt. Sacre Coeur won second. Msgr. Prince was awarded third prize.

For the association, the students of the Amicale des Anciens for the Freres du Sacre Coeur were awarded the first prize; and the other trophy went to the Societe St. Jean Baptiste.

In the industrial class, radio engineering received first prize; the Granby Leader-Mail won second prize and the Simonds Saw Co. won third place.

Honors in the residential class went to Raoul Courtemanche, 261 Frechette Street, and W. Hupin, 639 St. Jacques Street for an Egyptian scene and an Eskimo scene respectively.

The cold and frosty weather was a great help to those who worked so diligently through the many cold hours.

All judges remarked that the decision of prize-giving was a difficult one as Granby went "all out" to make this Carnival better and bigger than before.

Inter-town body

Two centres are favorable to proposal

Charles Langlois, director of services, said Monday that although only two replies have been received from mayors of the surrounding municipalities, the City of Sherbrooke intends to carry out its proposed inter-town planning body.

According to Mr. Langlois, replies, both favorable to the idea, were received from Lennoxville and Asot Corner.

Letters had been mailed to all surrounding municipalities in an attempt to set a date to discuss the possibility of discussing the formation of an inter-town planning body.

Mr. Langlois said today that all those who have not yet replied will be contacted by telephone as soon as Mayor Armand Nadeau approves a date for a meeting.

As yet, said Mr. Langlois, no agenda has been drawn up for the meeting.

Richmond's future

Economic upsurge is predicted if citizens promote the county

DANVILLE — Family and Social Welfare Minister Lafrance told the Chamber of Commerce here Saturday that he foresaw an upsurge of economic expansion for Richmond County if only citizens would promote it.

Speaking to a Chamber dinner honoring him, the Liberal MPP for the County and holder of the welfare portfolio in the Lesage cabinet said the advantages Richmond already had working for it included the highest birth rate in the province.

And a number of substantial industries were already established in Richmond: pulp and paper, asbestos mining, shoes, clothing and plastics.

At the same dinner the Chamber presented Mr. Lafrance with a ceramic plaque and announced a program of municipal policies including promotion of a sewer system for Danville. Among head-table guests was Emilien Lafrance's brother Gerard, new mayor of Danville.

Expanding on his theme of economic vistas for Richmond, the minister said another factor would have to be the habit of buying domestic products.

"Let us not imagine this development will create itself without our participation, spontaneously. Only if enlightened and determined men put their energies to it will it take place."

The population of the county was young, and this would give it some of the needed energy. Official statistics give Richmond County a birth rate of 36.1 per 1,000, compared, for example, with 30.9 for Sherbrooke, Mr. Lafrance said.

Some statistics indicate the Eastern Townships have the lowest average purchasing power in the province, he said, and purchasing home-manufactured goods would help change this.

At Ayer's Cliff Feb. 19

Horticultural society to revise prize list

By W. G. MacDOUGALL
(County Agriculturist)
The directors of the Stanstead Horticultural Society will meet in the county building, Ayer's Cliff, on Feb. 19, to revise the prize list.

The Macdonald College Royal will be held Feb. 22. Some of the high schools are having their long weekend, on Feb. 22. Grade eleven pupils will now be considering what vocation they will undertake when they graduate from high school. Why not attend the Macdonald Royal on Friday next. There you will see the students in three faculties in action (namely agriculture, household economics and teacher training). These grade eleven pupils will want to make a good income and get the most out of life for themselves and others.

The first step in making good is choosing a vocation. This is a decision that every young man and young woman must make. The following questions must be answered before making a decision:

What vocation interests me? Does this vocation furnish continuous employment? Are there good chances of promotion? What pleasures will there be? What kind of home life does the vocation afford?

The Cookshire Seed Fair will be held February 25.

All provincial governments maintain an agricultural extension service. Agricultural offices are found in each county, and in some counties there may be more than one office. Those in charge of these offices are graduates in agriculture from some university holding the degree of B.S.A., or Bsc. in Agriculture. They are known in some provinces as agricultural representatives, in others as county agriculturists, across the border as county agents, in French as agronomes.

The county agriculturist is the connecting link between the farming community and the provincial and federal departments of agriculture. They also keep in contact with the agricultural college. These county agriculturists keep in close touch with the policies of the departments of agriculture, and with the scientific research being carried on at the experimental farms and colleges. In this way the county agriculturist keeps up-to-date on the latest knowledge from the laboratories, experimental plots, and research studies, so that he constantly improves his service to the farming communities.

The extension service includes many methods to keep the farming community well informed. Radio talks, newspaper articles, distribution of agricultural bulletins, news letters, discussion groups are used in the educational programs of agricultural extension workers.

The agricultural extension worker is also engaged in junior activities such as 4H Clubs. Most farmers are familiar with the 4H program. Their motto being learn to do by doing.

The 4H stand for "I pledge, My head to clear thinking; my heart to greater loyalty; my hands to larger service; my health for better living for my club, my community and my Country."

In this district the 4H Club projects have been calves or sheep. However, in many parts of the country there are many projects such as poultry, garden, farm mechanics, field crops, and foods, nutrition, textiles, clothing, etc. The provincial department at Quebec is bringing out new regulations for the 4H Clubs this spring.

Applications for subsidies on lime, fertilizer, purchase of purebred sires, etc., are made at the local agricultural office.

It is the duty of the agricultural worker to give as much publicity as possible to all the agricultural policies of the government. The farmer in turn should keep in close contact with local office in order to keep posted on government policies, and secure the up-to-date advice on his farm problems. If the extension worker does not have the information, he will know where to find it, as there are specialists in the department in almost every phase of agriculture.

Get acquainted with your agricultural agent in your county. It is their job to help you get information that will make your business more profitable and your home life more satisfying.

PESTICIDES

In the last year or two, articles have appeared in the press, on the effect of insecticides and fungicides on our food supplies. These insecticides and fungicides are chemicals that are used in crop and livestock production. The U.S. department of agriculture has printed a small leaflet entitled "Mr. Dairyman, it pays to use chemicals safely." Milk is highly nutritious, a highly regarded food. Safe use of agricultural chemicals helps assure high quality and a adequate quantity of the nation's milk supply.

CHEMICALS

Chemicals — that is — certain antibiotics and pesticides have an essential place in modern milk production. They are needed to help safeguard the wholesomeness of milk; help safeguard the health of dairy cattle; help increase milk production efficiency.

When used properly, in accordance with the directions on the label, chemicals are safe, economical and effective. When used improperly they can be uneconomical and ineffective. More important, improper use can result in residues of the chemicals in milk. The Nation's laws are designed to assure the wholesomeness of milk.

CONSUMER'S CONFIDENCE. Milk is a basic food in this country. Its purity must not be questionable.

WELFARE SOCIETY MEETING COWANSVILLE TOWN HALL

8 p.m. Tuesday — Feb. 19th, 1963

A Society was formed two years ago, to fill a very obvious need in our growing community.

Working with limited funds, the Members, who represent all sections of the population, have shown that a Local Service Centre was desperately required.

In November, a qualified social worker, volunteered her time and, has been attending, at the Town Hall, one afternoon each week.

During the six weeks that this service has been available, nine people have sought help; 6 were French, 3 were English. Five were from Cowansville, four were from the surrounding area.

With valuable assistance from the Town Welfare Community and the Town Hall Staff, help was provided for these nine people.

We NOW NEED HELP from all interested people in the Community. At the General Meeting, Tuesday, Feb. 19th, 1963, Officers and Directors will be elected, and, with your support, plans for the expansion of the Society will be presented.

Demerit system needed for Quebec

In spite of improvements in traffic policing methods in this province, it appears that the average Quebec motorist is one of the most carefree — and careless — in Canada.

Traffic accident statistics for 1962 show that in Quebec, 1,119 were killed in 107,458 accidents, both of which are record figures. Especially during the wintertime, and holiday period in the summertime, the death and carnage on our highways is something horrible to behold. The man who compiles accident statistics for the province won't drive his outside the city. He's afraid to.

The problem appears to be a mass state of mind. Quebec motorists, as a group, just don't seem to care. On the one hand they adopt the fatal "it couldn't happen to me" attitude and on the other, they have no consideration at all for the other fellow. It's doubtful if traffic law tightening up — from enforcement on up the courts — will completely eradicate these attitudes. What is needed is a system that will keep a man's mind where it belongs when he's on the road — on his own driving.

A point or demerit system, properly policed, would seem to be the best answer. Other provinces have them and are satisfied with them. Under Quebec's present system, bad drivers keep piling up cars, injuring and killing people, only to return a little while later for more mayhem.

With a demerit system, a driver cultivates his record. Thoughtless of his own safety, uncaring for the safety of others, he is nevertheless forced to think about the demerit points he has accumulated, or could accumulate. He may slow down on a curve, not to protect himself or someone else, but to avoid picking up demerit points. He may obey speed regulations, not out of any concern for saving lives, but because one more demerit point will put him off the road.

There would remain a hard core of reckless drivers, of course, who still wouldn't care. But under a proper demerit system, we wouldn't have to worry about them as much as we do now. They wouldn't get to drive very often.

Charge discrimination in Bulgaria

In recent years, the Communist countries have attempted to convey the impression that they are the only ones on the face of the earth concerned about discrimination.

It is true, however, that little is ever said by the Communists about Russia's treatment of its Jewish citizens. Discrimination there has taken the form of harassing the Jews who attempt to practise their faith with the result that the congregations have dwindled under the continued pressure. Of course, people of other denominations fare no better. Communist-run East Germany is an example of this, where there is an intense drive to eliminate religion completely.

Nevertheless, the Communists have given the impression that they are more aware of the problems of discrimination especially when it involves the color of a man's skin.

They have been active in promoting the Communist doctrine among those nations which have suffered under the white man's rule. In Africa, the Middle East, and southeast Asia they have attempted to lure people to their side by making available the services of technicians in various fields, extending trade credit, providing machinery and food-stuffs, and financing the education of students in Communist countries.

However, the program of scholarships for foreign students has backfired in at least one case. In Bulgaria last week, 400 Ghanian students announced they are going home because, as one said, "We have been called black monkeys and jungle people and we were treated like dirt."

Some people in the West might clap their hands in glee at this Communist failure. The rebuff the Ghanians have suffered indicates that some white people on both sides of the Iron Curtain pay only lip-service to the idea of equality. This is a problem which overrides all political doctrines and which can only be solved on a deeper level of understanding.

Haydn S. Pearson's COUNTRY FLAVOR

Snow shovelling needs modernizing

We have no doubt that a few decades hence, snow removal processes as now handled will be considered one of the old-fashioned activities of our generation. It is only a question of time until some chemical is put in or on highways and sidewalks so that snow will melt as fast as it falls.

However, this optimistic forecast is no great boost to a man's morale as he surveys his farmyard after a deep fall of snow. He is glad to hear and see the big snow plows go by during the storm, but a deep fall of the white material means shovelling out around the farmstead.

It depends, of course, upon the type of snow. Light fluffy snow is not too great an enemy. On a bright morning after a storm has blown itself out and the thermometer is up in the thirties, it is easy to shovel a path to the barn, to the henhouse, and down across the lawn to the box by the road. One should say, of course, it is pleasant provided the wind isn't blowing. It is discouraging to shovel light snow in competition with moving air.

If the snow is wet and heavy, that is another story. Each shovelful represents a number of pounds, and by the time a man has worked for a couple of hours, he knows that he is not related to Paul Bunyan. Shovelling can become very monotonous and wearying under such conditions.

A countryman who has finished a stint of shovelling and comes into the kitchen for a cup of coffee and a couple of Mother's hot sugared doughnuts is somewhat quiet and subdued. Chances are he is thinking of that advertisement in the paper. It asked a logical question. The ad said, "Why shovel snow when this powerful, efficient, inexpensive little machine will blow your paths clean?"

Other papers say:

Making opportunity for dissenters

There has been a considerable criticism recently of the stringent regulations that govern the marking of ballots in federal, provincial elections in Canada. The rules say that a ballot must carry only one mark made by the voter, an X properly inscribed and placed opposite the name of the candidate. No ticks or other identifying marks are permitted, and ballots so marked are quickly rejected by the election officials.

Critics wonder why a tick-mark should not be as acceptable as the X? There does not seem to be any good reason, apart from the fear that if one variation were permitted, many others would creep in, making the job of counting and recounting ballots just that much more difficult.

Here is another suggestion, which may gain favor at a time when many people are somewhat less than enthusiastic about the choices offered them on the ballot: Why not leave an extra space for write-ins?

There must have been many voters in last June's election who feel that they were marking their ballots in favor not of the party or the candidate who could do the country the most good but of the party or person who might do the least harm. In other words, they were actually not in favor of anybody, but were making the best of a restricted choice. How do such people express their disenchantment without staying away from the polls?

If a write-in were permitted, the disenchanting could make their views unmistakably clear, and in doing so could give the party machines considerable enlightenment. It would show the volume of public dissent against huckstering tactics which have substituted "images" for ideas and popularity gimmicks for principles.

In the Same Boat

The readers say:

Defence preparations waste of money

Sir: In England during the battle of Britain as the time drew nearer and nearer for the bombs to commence dropping people became progressively more irritable. A dreadful tension was building up until the unnatural silence became so intense as to be almost unbearable. Relief came, when from all over London could be heard the wailing screeching noise of the sirens. Followed by another silence you could almost feel. And then — Wham!! Explosion after explosion, mingled with the old familiar sound of fire-engines, shouts, screams, and the constant din of the ack-ack. No matter what bar or pub one frequented you would always hear that old friendly sound of some Cockney's voice remarking, "That was a near un!" When the vibration smashed the saloon windows and spilled his beer. And yet, all this brought with it a feeling of relief. Just like when you sit in the cool on a hot summer's day and push off your shoes to rest tired aching feet.

The reason I mentioned this is because there is just such a nerve-racking tension building up right here on this North American continent at the present time. Anyone would actually think we were at war. Never before in peace time have a people been subjected to such treatment by their leaders. The few sane individuals that still remain both here and in the U.S.A. are branded as traitors, and, it has been suggested, ought to be investigated. When their only crime is enough love for their country to want to save it from complete and utter annihilation. So they preach, "no more legalized wholesale killing."

Why not let's stop kidding ourselves and using that fancy name "War" and call it for what it is and what anyone who has served knows it is, "Bloody, wholesale rape and murder." Has a child born into a Russian, Chinese or Negro family as much right to breathe as one of ours? There is a great deal of money wasted on what is called National Defence. And a feeling is prevalent that unless we carry right on to the ultimate conclusion all those billions upon billions of Canadian and American dollars are wasted. So our leaders tell us they are obliged to keep right on throwing good money after bad. My biggest regret is the knowledge that Canadian and American leaders will not be around to see the outcome of this madman's policy. I tell young people, "Look, you just have to pretend that you are not living on top of a powder keg. Of course save your money! Of course get married!"

In 1917 during the time of the Halifax Explosion, the spot in the harbor where the ship blew up was for a few seconds completely void of water. Like what Holy Birole tells us about when the Red Sea piled up on each side in order to allow the Jews to pass then all of a sudden back it came to trap the poor wretched Egyptians. In Halifax you could actually see the land at the bottom of the Basin, must have been a little muddy but there it was. The ship's anchor weighing tons and tons was found five miles inland. But compared to the megaton bombs our national leaders are playing around with today, that explosion which wiped out whole streets of houses is comparable to a child exploding a one cent fire cracker. The argument that the road to peace is to turn pool shares into swords is kind of hard to put across when the swords are still dripping with the blood of the two worst wars in history, leaving most every Canadian home with a vacant chair or two. Another thing, the best brains in Russia, Canada and U.S.A. continue to emphasize the fact that there is no defense against modern warfare. Where then is the National Defence our Leaders keep on talking about and spending the taxpayer's money on? When the smoke settles next time what do our military men hope to come home to? That is if any are left to come home. Do they expect a band to meet them? Do they expect kindly Red Cross women to serve them coffee and cake? Rats grew fat until they could hardly walk, eating the flesh of humans in Flanders Field during the First World War. Well that is what will greet the home coming soldiers, sailors, and airmen. This will be a dead continent insofar as humans are concerned.

Each new war was to be a master-stroke bringing everlasting peace to this wretched world. Now, unless this continent gets itself leaders with enough love for the common man to put his own selfish desires in second place, most of us are bound to live to see at least the beginning of the worst man-made holocaust in the history of this tiny planet.

Symbol of socialist revolution

Aswan dam is right on schedule

ASWAN, Egypt (AP) — The morning "alarm clock" in Aswan is the roar of 5,000 pounds of dynamite.

At 6 a.m. each day some 16,000 tons of granite erupt, moving that much closer to reality the giant Aswan high dam—Egypt's dream and Russia's largest foreign aid venture.

"We are right on schedule," says Osman Ahmed Osman, contractor who is a key man in the project which may largely decide Egypt's place in the 20th century and President Gamal Abdel Nasser's role in history.

Nasser sees the dam as the crowning symbol of his socialist revolution.

To back Nasser the Russians have lent $200,000,000 and pledged as much again. This followed U.S. refusal to finance the dam.

The well-being of Egypt's impoverished millions could well depend on the outcome. The dam is Egypt's chance to ease the relentless pressure of an exploding population — 27,000,000 people, a total which will be doubled in 25 years.

The dam will give Egypt vast electric power plus almost 1,000,000 acres of new farmland. Much of this can be plowed back into the economy without being offset by hungry new people. Egypt hopes the effect will snowball, making her the first industrial power in the Arab world.

Aswan has the beginning of a spirit which could transform Egypt if it spreads to the leisurely delta. Visitors note a quickened pace even among ordinary laborers.

The site itself is impressive. The timeless Nile has carved a gently curving channel through desert sands and stone cliffs, widening to embrace eroded islands reminiscent of Japanese rock gardens. Blistering in midsummer, it is balmy in the winter and was long a retreat for such sophisticated bon vivants as the late Aga Khan, whose domed tomb overlooks the river.

Fifty years ago the British built a dam here. It still stands but it is soon to be a pygmy beside its younger brother.

A new city is rising with thousands of boxlike air-conditioned apartments. Officials speak ambitiously of a new industrial complex—textiles, fertilizer, aluminum and even steel. For the present the dam absorbs almost all effort. There are 16,000 men working there—soon to be 25,000.

Work now is concentrated on a mile-long diversion channel—two-thirds completed—through which the river will flow while the actual dam is constructed.

The schedule calls for completion of the diversion canal in 1963, beginning of cofferdams early in 1964, a start on the power station in 1965, to have the first one-third of the electric power available by 1967 and completion of the whole project by 1970.

The Egyptians must resettle some 50,000 nubians who will be displaced by the 367-mile lake the dam will form. Villages already are rebuilding on reclaimed land.

In United States

Sugar beet crop to be increased

WASHINGTON (CP) — Fidel Castro's rise to power in Cuba will benefit hundreds of U.S. farmers bordering the Canadian Prairies.

With Cuba's sugar crop cut off from American consumers, the U.S. government not only has been seeking expanded imports from other sources but also is busy increasing domestic production.

The rigidly controlled U.S. sugar production area has been extended to the Red River Valley of North Dakota and Minnesota through the formation of a sugar beet reserve in this region.

Farmers in the two states will be allowed to plant some 31,000 acres annually in sugar beets to be turned into sugar for human consumption at an $18,000,000 plant to be built at Drayton, N.D., about 35 miles south of the Manitoba border.

Plant construction is to start in the spring, to be completed in about 18 months. Gradually, this area will be worked into the U.S. national sugar production quota system.

WILL BOOST ECONOMY

This decision says Senator Quentin Burdick, North Dakota Democrat, will give the upper Red River Valley a tremendous economic boost.

Under the American system no one can produce sugar for human sale and consumption without the U.S. government's permission.

Production quotas or reserves are established in a manner to ensure stabilized marketing at prices slightly above world prices. The U.S. is the world's biggest sugar consumer and produces only about 25 per cent of what it needs.

For many years Cuba was the big source of cheap sugar. With that source cut off, the Kennedy administration has shifted larger import quotas to other producers.

There now is a question whether the U.S. should be so heavily dependent on foreign supply, particularly in view of the possibility that the situation in Cuba could be duplicated in some other country in later years.

SUGAR LOBBY RUSY

But sugar imports also are tied in with U.S. foreign policy and a strong sugar lobby functioning through key members of Congress has been pressing hard for large import allocation for certain favored foreign producers.

So the rise in domestic production has been slow. But it has been gaining steadily. The number of cane sugar mills in Florida have more than tripled since imports of Cuban sugar were halted. And along with the Red River Valley expansion, more sugar beets are to be grown in Texas and California.

A success story

Indians run thriving pulp co-op

PINE FALLS, Man. (CP)—A success story that contrasts with the reports of privation among many Manitoba Indians is provided by the 1,800 members of the Fort Alexander band here.

With direction from a former public health officer and a $10,000 loan from the provincial government, the Saulteaux tribesmen have formed a pulp wood supply co-operative that, after its first year of operation, is expected to produce profit of $30,000.

In addition, the 146 members of the co-op are drawing as much as $115 a week in wages and sub-contracting some of their work to white men.

The Fort Alexander Marketing Co-operative was inspired by Garth Crockett, 32, who in his role as health officer decidated that "before an Indian family would concern itself with healthful living the economic situation of the family had to be stabilized."

With Indian affairs department permission, he talked with the tribe's council. Last Oct. 15 the project got under way.

President Harry Courchane, bush boss Lawrence Morrisseau and every member of the work gang are Indians, as is bookkeeper George M. Guilmond.

Each Monday the crew spends the day travelling the six miles north to the work site and preparing for three days of cutting and hauling trees. Friday is spent closing down the job and returning home.

The co-op has a 3,300-cord contract for the season with the Manitoba Paper Company and, aside from its membership, employs 100 other Indians whose average annual income is about $4,450.

Melvin Bray, Hudson's Bay Company store manager in this community 60 miles northeast of Winnipeg, says "that regular Saturday payday has changed the habits of many of the people."

"You see whole families now coming into town to shop. That's something not seen among the Indians here before."

James Hunevad, Manitoba Paper plant woods manager, says:

"What surprises many people is the methodical work carried out by the members. Their woods operation is carried out in the best traditions of forestry. The pulpwood is of excellent quality."

New fire chief is appointed at Inverness
INVERNESS — At a meeting of the Council, Fernand Turcotte was appointed as the new fire chief to replace the late Adrien Cote, who was accidentally killed last December, when the vehicle which he was driving, went out of control and overturned.

At the same meeting a petition was signed by the mayor and all the councillors requesting that immediate steps be taken to develop the power potential of the Lysander and Red Falls on the Thames River, and the Feed Falls on the Palmer River — all within a short distance of one another — so that small industries may come in and have cheap power and comparatively low taxes.

Stuffed eggs a meatless masterpiece

Deviled eggs are a popular appetizer or relish, and they appeal to all ages. Take advantage of this popularity and turn them into a tasty entree, stuffed egg casserole.

Served on crisp buttered toast, this ideal luncheon dish consists of deviled eggs baked in a savory tomato sauce. Packaged corn flake crumbs bake over the combination to give crusty, golden topping. The only accompaniment required with this zesty dish is a relish assortment or a mixed green salad.

STUFFED EGG CASSEROLE
3 tablespoons butter or margarine,
3 tablespoons flour,
2 cups cooked tomatoes,
½ cup finely chopped onions,

2 teaspoons sugar,
¼ teaspoon salt,
Dash pepper,
6 hard-cooked eggs, deviled,
2 cups corn flakes or
½ cup packaged corn flake crumbs,
2 tablespoons butter or margarine.

Melt butter, blend in flour. Add tomatoes, onions, sugar, salt and pepper; cook, stirring constantly until thickened. Pour into 10 x 6 x 1½-inch baking dish or shallow casserole. Arrange eggs in sauce. If using cornflakes, crush into fine crumbs. Combine corn flake crumbs with melted butter; sprinkle over tomato and egg mixture. Bake in hot oven (425° F.) about 10 minutes or until hot. Serve on buttered toast triangles. Yield: 6 servings.

Offer of help, sometimes best to say no thank you

It's often best to say "No, thank you" to the helpful offers of others, especially to those who say— "I can get it for you wholesale." Chances are you'll end up with a substitute for what you really wanted, or with a lemon you can't complain about.

"I'll show you a short cut." The driver who lets a passenger show him a short cut all too often winds up lost and out of sorts.

"Let me show you an easy way to do that." It may be an easier way for the other person, but much harder for you than the way you're familiar with.

"You must look up this friend of mine when you are in such-and-such a place." It isn't likely the friend of a friend is going to be elated over having to play host to a total stranger. If he is elated, he'll probably be a bore you'll wish you had never looked up.

"The best thing to do for a cold is . . ." You can be pretty sure that the best thing to do for a cold or any other ailment is NOT to take second-hand medical advice.

"Why don't you do that yourself instead of hiring it done, and save money?" If you were an adept do-it-yourselfer you would have thought of doing it yourself. If you aren't chances are the job is a lot harder than your helpful friend led you to believe.

"There's a nice young man I want you to meet." On second thought, perhaps you had better take a chance on this one—but don't be disappointed if the nice young man is a dud you have trouble discouraging. Most would-be matchmakers think any two persons of the opposite sex who aren't married are sure to be "just right" for each other.

Polly's pointers

by Polly Cramer

DEAR POLLY—Here is a laundry tip I use all winter long. I put the wash basket of sprinkled clothes on the outside porch for an hour before I start to iron. This gives the clothes that fresh, clean, "outdoorsy" smell, almost as though they had been dried outside.

MRS. I. DEAR POLLY—if you set your hair immediately after shampooing, the lower part may dry before you get it all pinned up. Don't wet it again. Just go ahead and pin it up. Then put on your shower cap for 10 or 15 minutes and the moisture spreads through hair. It works on the same principle as sprinkled clothes placed in a plastic bag. If you want to speed up the drying time, place two or three paper towels in the top of the shower cap while you do other chores. Finally, a short session under your hair dryer.

MRS. D. E. L. DEAR POLLY—You will have a built-in ruler for use when transplanting plants and flowers if you paint lines with red nail polish six inches apart along the handle of your hoe.

MRS. L. H. DEAR POLLY—Water spots on my new stainless steel sink and chromium faucets were "bugging" me until I discovered that a wipe with a cloth that has been sprinkled with a few drops of vinegar will remove them completely. It also removes the dried lime deposit that collects around my faucets.

MRS. K. C. DEAR POLLY—I purchased a small size ledger, with an index, for less than a dollar. I checked on my income tax form all the deductions we may take and listed them alphabetically such as automobile expenses, charities, doctors, dividends (not a deduction but necessary for tax purposes), etc. When I pay any listed items I enter them from my check stubs and mark them with the letter R (for recorded). At the end of the year, I simply add up each page and turn it over to my husband for the tax return.

MRS. R. J. S. Boys — Read this if you think most females are scatterbrained when it comes to doing business in a businesslike way.

POLLY.

Fern Carignan paces Richmond to 6-1 win over Windsor with his two goals, meet Tuesday in Windsor

RICHMOND — (Special) — Richmond Braves trounced the Windsor Paper Makers 6-1 here yesterday afternoon and took a one-game lead in the best-of-seven semi-final series "B" for the St. Francis Valley Intermediate hockey championship.

Fern Carignan, the Richmond captain, paced the way with two goals. During the season, the big defenseman scored only once. Raymond St. Cyr scored Windsor's only goal and kept his consecutive game scoring streak intact. The little right-winger has scored at least one point in the Paper Maker's last 13 games.

Play was sloppy in the third period when the Braves scored three of their six goals.

Windsor took the lead at the six minute mark as Raymond

Bishop's Gaiters upset Ottawa University

Bishop's hockey Gaiters came up with their finest effort of the season last Saturday, as they upset league-leading University of Ottawa 4-3.

The Gee Gees downed University of Sherbrooke the previous evening 5-2, and seemed somewhat worn out from the effort. Gaiters constantly took advantage of Ottawa's sloppy play and a seeming lack of drive in their offensive attacks.

Dave Ewart was a standout in goals for Bishop's, and was one of the main factors contributing to the upset. Ewart kicked out an amazing 41 shots, making several seemingly impossible stops, while his counterpart in the Ottawa net handled a mere 12.

Although Ottawa fired more than three times as many shots at the Gaiter net and dominated the play throughout the game, the Gee Gees could not solve goalie Ewart. When Gaiters did take the play to the Ottawa end, they made good their efforts.

Ottawa gave the impression that they were extremely overconfident, having disposed of the Bishop's team earlier in the season with ease. Before the game was well underway, Gaiters held a two-goal lead on markers by Al Johnston and Doug Stanforth.

Peter Welsh sent Johnston in on the Ottawa net with a Gee Gee defender draped over his shoulder. Johnston took two swipes at a rolling puck and potted the second try from a sharp angle.

At 3:09 of the opening period, Stanforth scored on passes from Nils Bodtker and Dack Thomas to give the Gaiters a two-goal lead.

Ottawa opened their scoring with Stanforth in the penalty box for cross-checking. The Gee Gee power play provided spectators with one of the finest precision passing efforts to be seen.

Denis Kirby, a graduate of Sherbrooke High School, set up Stanforth for his second goal of the afternoon. Kirby took the puck at his own blue-line after blocking an Ottawa defenseman's shot and streaked down the ice. He laid a perfect pass on Stanforth's stick and he beat the goalie on the short side.

Only one goal was scored in a rather dull second period, as Ottawa's Morrisette found himself clear in front of the Bishop's net to score on passes from Joly and Rochon. Welsh was off for tripping at the time, giving the Ottawa club the one-man advantage.

Nils Bodtker made the score 4-2 at the 6:05 mark of the third period, beating the Ottawa goalie with a sharp backhand from about five feet out. Bodtker's was the prettiest goal of the afternoon, as he had the fight off an Ottawa defenseman to get his shot away.

Ottawa began to pour on the steam, looking for the two goals that would give them at least a tie. At 17:58 of the final period, Hebert scored on a pass from behind the net by Savoie.

The last two minutes of the game were harrowing for the Bishop's squad, as they fought desperately to hold their slim one-goal lead. Ottawa players swarmed around the net, with tired Gaiters in pursuit. Try as they might, the Gee Gees could not net the equalizer and the game ended with Bishop's in front 4-3.

Next Thursday night, Gaiters are host to Macdonald Aggies, as part of the opening night program of Carnival Saturday, they meet Sir George Williams in their final game of the season.

Asbestos-Danville-Shipton Senior hockey squad downed Lennoxville 3-1 Saturday afternoon at Bishop's University in a playoff game for the Eastern Townships School championship.

The two teams meet again Tuesday at ADS in the two-game affair with the winner of the series meeting Granby later this week.

Bob Lamey of Lennoxville opened the scoring in the match at 19:50 of the first period, just seconds before the frame was finished. Jeff Dunn and Robert Stewart picked up assists on the play.

John Gagnon tied the score up at 5:10 of the second period with a goal assisted by Jim Campbell. Neither club could break the deadlock for the remaining minutes of the stanza but both goalies had plenty of

Ralston wins US Indoor title

NEW YORK (AP) — Dennis Ralston may be the flashiest tennis player to streak across American courts since Jack Kramer, but his success in winning back the Davis Cup may depend on a sensitive temper.

Ralston whipped Mike Sangster of Britain 7-5, 6-4, 6-3 10-8 for the U.S. National indoor championship Sunday.

Ralston, 29, a junior at the University of Southern California, became the youngest player in history to win the indoor title.

Unseeded, he swept through a star-spangled field that included such world-ranking stars as Roy Emerson of Australia, Manuel Santana of Spain and Chuck McKinley of San Antonio, Tex. He beat McKinley, the United States' No. 1 ranked player, in the semi-finals.

This victory plus the one over the hard-serving Sangster sent U.S. Davis Cup hopes skyrocketing to their greatest heights in years.

Ralston's explosive temper brought him a four-month suspension in 1961.

Sherbrooke got away to good start before Granby rallied in final frame before 1,800 fans at Arena

Sherbrooke Beavers came up with an early drive to post a four-goal cushion and then in the closing minutes of play managed to hold off Granby Vics to register a close 5-3 victory. The win moves the Beavers into a tie with Drummondville Rockets for first place in the standing.

The Beavers outplayed the Vics for the first two periods and during this time they managed to post four goals. Poor clearing by Granby defense accounted for two of Sherbrooke's goal while the Granby forwards wandered around in a daze. It was one of the worst games Granby played here for some time. In the third frame they came to life and almost managed to tie the game.

The tilt opened with a bang as both sides were dishing out heavy checks. Eight penalties were called and the lone goal was scored when both teams had a man in the cooler. Leon Bouchard rifled a hard shot which deflected off George Bouchard's stick to catch the upper corner and put the Beavers out in front.

This marker stood up for the balance of the frame although both teams had good chances. Penalties kept the clubs off balance but this failed to help the Vics who were having plenty of trouble in getting organized.

In the middle session the Beavers opened right after the faceoff. Rene Pepin snared the disc faked a pass then made a perfect one to Larry Drouin who was left uncovered and he rifled the disc into the net.

Gilles Bedard and Vallieres went off for fighting and a minute later Bert Bourassa got the thumb for holding. This left the Vics with the man advantage but they failed to do anything as the Beavers just kept checking at every turn. With both teams back at full strength the Beavers opened up. Roger Picard let go with a hard drive from just inside the blue line which Andy Payette never saw as his view was blocked. Rene Pepin got in but Payette slid out to block his chance.

The third period opened and for the first five minutes the Vics kept the Beavers all bottled up. In fact the Vics seemed a different team and they commenced to take over. Gilles Bedard notched the first Granby marker after they had one called back but the referee ruled the puck dead before a Granby player pushed it in the net.

Roberts potted Granby's second tally when he rifled a hard shot by Joe Lacoursiere as the local defense were caught out of position. Bergeron got tagged with a major for fighting while Vallieres got a minor for boarding. A minute later Nadeau got the gate leaving Sherbrooke short two men.

This helped to set up the Vics' third tally and Jean Guy Charbonneau made no mistake beating Lacoursiere on a hard drive. Sherbrooke's final tally was a fluky one. Michael Ducharme picked up a pass from Fern Gemus out of the corner and he let go with a hard shot. The puck was just outside the net when it hit Payette's stick to deflect into the net along side of him. This took all the steam out of Granby and for the balance of the game the locals kept their zone clear to post that all-important victory.

1—Sherbrooke, Bouchard (Picard) 5:40

Sherbrooke High School wins Junior boys basketball title

Cop special tournament staged by St. Francis Athletic Association, Stanstead finishes in second spot

By ANDY SMITH

Sherbrooke High Junior boys took top honors at the St. Francis Valley basketball tournament held Saturday morning at Bishop's University and Lennoxville High Gymnasiums.

Four teams from Sherbrooke, Lennoxville, St. Pat's, and Sunnyside of Stanstead took part in the round-robin affair after preliminary elimination from a total of eight teams last week-end.

Sherbrooke chalked up a two-win, no-loss average in their three games as did Sunnyside. However, because SHS beat Sunnyside for one of their victories, they were declared the champions.

Games started at 9:00 a.m. with Sherbrooke beating St. Pat's 37-29 at Bishop's. St. Pat's led after the first quarter by a 10-9 count however, Sherbrooke pulled ahead in the second quarter and stayed there throughout the rest of the battle.

Ress led the victors with 14 points while Danny Maher paced the losers with 15.

In the other first round game, Sunnyside edged LHS 29-28. The Stanstead squad led through the first three quarters by a 24-19 count however, Lennoxville made a valiant try in the final stanza, outpointing their opponents 9-5, but still losing the tilt.

M. Bronson led Sunnyside with 13 points while Lennoxville's Mac Wingate dumped in 18 to pace the losers.

In the second round of play, St. Pat's downed LHS 36-29 for their first victory. The score in the game was tied at the end of the first half at 16-16 however, St. Pat's settled down in the second frame and outpointed LHS for the win.

Danny Maher once again set the pace for the Irish with 22 points and Lennoxville's Mac Wingate tallied 13 to lead the squad.

Sherbrooke outscored Sunnyside by nine points in the second quarter to win their game 39-30 against the Sunnyside crew. Scoring was even in the other three frames and it was the second quarter that was the downfall for Stanstead.

Mark Steinman totalled 14 points in the tilt to lead the victors while Sunnyside's Sisco had a tally of 16 to his credit.

In the third round, Sunnyside and St. Pat's met each other with Sunnyside taking the game 39-35. Sunnyside outscored their opponents in all but the third quarter to chalk up the win.

Sisco paced the victors once again with 14 points while Danny Maher was the standout for the Irish with 17 to his credit.

In the other third round tilt, Lennoxville outplayed SHS in all quarters to chalk up a win that did not affect the outcome of the tournament in any way.

LHS posted the 22-10 win paced by Mac Wingate with 12 points while Sherbrooke's Mark Steinman led the team with six.

The event was sponsored by the St. Francis Valley Inter-scholastic Athletic Association and was under the able direction of president Alan Sutherland of Bury.

Draw team to represent knockout conscious Alberta in school curling

GUELPH, Ont. (CP)—What's this—a draw team representing knockout-conscious Alberta in the Canadian schoolboy curling championships? "That's right," said Steve Kashuba, a mathematics teacher at Bonnie Doon composite high school in Edmonton. "And it's skipped by Wayne Saboe, the coolest little skip I've ever seen."

The switch to lighter-weight curling won't be taken lightly by anyone who watched the 1959 high school competition at Calgary in which a rink from the same school, skipped by Johnny Trout, relied on the draw game all the way in winning the championship.

Saskatchewan was a slight favorite this season as the 11 national finalist rinks prepared for the first round of the championships because Saskatchewan is a curling hotbed and the home of last year's schoolboy champs, the Michael Lukowich rink from Speers.

This year's Saskatchewan representatives are from central collegiate institute at Moose Jaw. Dennis Balderston is skip.

HAVE A CHANCE Kashuba, who rates Saskatchewan the team to beat, said his boys have a definite chance. The rinks were scheduled to have light workouts this morning, curl the first round this afternoon and the second round to night.

The competition, a round-robin draw, ends Friday evening. There are two draws daily, afternoon and evening, plus a morning draw Thursday.

There is a representative from each province and one from northern Ontario, which, in curling circles, remains separated from Ontario. The Newfoundland rink, from Montreal came up with the winning rink in Quebec, a four-some skipped by John Hammond. West Hill secondary school of Owen Sound is representing Ontario. Jerry Blair calls the shots.

Northern Ontario's hopes lie with a foursome from Kirkland Lake Collegiate and Vocational School skipped by Bob Ash. The Manitoba rink from St. James has Wayne Johnson as skip.

Salmon Arm High School is carrying the British Columbia colors with Peter Munro as skip.

Rinks in the Canadian schoolboy curling championship: Newfoundland — Roy Heald, Gideon Robbins, Don Robbins, Clyde Tilley. Nova Scotia — John Reid, Doug Harrington, Loran Seamore, Dick Rafuse. Prince Edward Island — Marc MacPherson, Russell Seaman, Barry Willis, Wayne Matheson. New Brunswick — Jack Snyrd, Tom Totten, Bill Lake, Richard McGee. Andrée Crépeau and Jean Perrault cop E. T. skiing crowns

Win junior titles, Guy Thibault and Jacqueline Thibault walk off with senior championships Sunday

MAGOG — (Special) — Miss Andree Crepeau and Jean Perrault, Orford team juniors scored best times in the Eastern Townships championships held at Mt Orford Sunday, while Guy and Jacqueline Thibault, brother and sister duo of Victoriaville skiing for the University of Montreal, copped the senior men and women titles.

A gruelling two-run slalom held in the morning saw Miss Crepeau chalk up a time of 55.6, while her nearest competitor was running at 1:13. Jean Perrault scored a handsome 49:7 in slalom and 55:7 in the afternoon downhill course.

Both races were held on the Mt. Giroux '45. The slalom ended on the resort's practice hill, and the downhill event was continued to the foot of the Adams Trail.

Top winners received trophies, while others, placing second and third, received silver pieces donated for the event by Jacques Audette, Magog's Dow Brewery representative. Toni Sailer, recognized as the world's most outstanding skier, was on hand to make the presentations.

The Junior-B winners were Andree Gadbois and Mireille Belanger in the women's class and for the men's honours, prizes went to Denis Croteau and Jacques Gadbois.

In Junior-C women and men's categories, prizes were taken by Louise Poulin and Aline Croteau for the women's class, and by R. Piize and Ed Cote, both of Thetford Mines among boys.

Heli Summeraur, head of the Mt. Orford Ski School, set the courses, which were fast and splendidly groomed for the event which despite bitter cold, was run off without problems, however, the large number of entries, totalling over 100 carried the trials on until after 4:30 p.m.

Gerard Tremblay was chief starter, Frank Bennett and Ernest Fields were in charge of timing, and Louise Sergeant was chief gatekeeper.

Canadian Football schedule finally accepted, Esks and Argos fail to reach agreement over Jackie Parker

HAMILTON (CP) — Officials share any future earnings from the Eastern and Western conferences have settled their long wrangle over the Canadian Football League's interlocking schedule.

Minor points remained to be ironed out in the schedule itself, due for release Wednesday. But agreement was reached in a dispute over financial arrangements which threatened for a time to wipe out the regular season meetings between Eastern and Western clubs.

Saturday's accord resolved the only contentious issue in the CFL's three-day annual meeting which opened Thursday.

The final roadblock disappeared when the Eastern clubs, rejecting Western demands for a cut of receipts from closed-circuit television of games involving their teams, offered visiting clubs six per cent of the gross gate from interlocking games instead.

The offer was accepted with two dissenting votes. Earlier, the East agreed to share any future earnings from United States television and West agreed to drop its demands for a four-year contract covering the interlocking games in favor of a two-year pact.

The interlocking schedule has been in operation two years and the only previous financial arrangement was based on the sale of tickets between the goal lines. Home clubs at interlocking games paid the conference of the visiting team 75 cents a ticket.

The West's beef was simple: more modern stadiums in the West have more seats between the goal lines and it was costing the Western teams more money.

Two items not on any agenda caused most of the talk and a flurry of rumors — the Jackie Parker deal and speculation on a new coach for Montreal Alouettes.

Parker, star Edmonton Eskimo backfielder, asked to be traded, preferably to Toronto, and Eskimos and Argo officials have held many talks.

Richardson's rink wins berth in Dominion Curling Championships which takes place at Brandon

The heavyweights in the Dominion curling championships at Brandon, Man., March 4-9 won their berths this weekend, led by three-time Canadian and world champion Ernie Richardson of Regina.

Since Nova Scotia's H. D. Oyer rink from Kentville won the Canadian championship in 1951, the Prairie provinces have held the Dominion title exclusively.

Alberta and Saskatchewan have each won it four times since then and Manitoba three times.

Jimmy Shields of Calgary won the Alberta title Saturday at Edmonton with 9-8 victory over Rick Cust of Cold Lake RCAF base.

Richardson won his fourth provincial title in five years by defeating Moe Valade of Saskatoon 5-4 at Regina before 2,500 fans. He won the first game of the best-of-three final 8-7 Friday in an extra end.

Manitoba will be represented by lawyer Hersh Lerner of Winnipeg, who beat Bob Picken of Winnipeg 9-6 and 17-12 in the final. Lerner scored three six-enders in the five-day competition. For the first time, the Richardson rink is not an all-family effort. Lead Mel Perry joined the rink this year, replacing Wes Richardson who has been sidelined with a back ailment.

Arnold Richardson is third and Garnet Richardson second.

Shields has with him two members of the 1960 Alberta rink that lost to Richardson in the National final—lead Fred Fred Storey and second Ron Baker. The third, a veteran Calgary curler, is Ron Northcott.

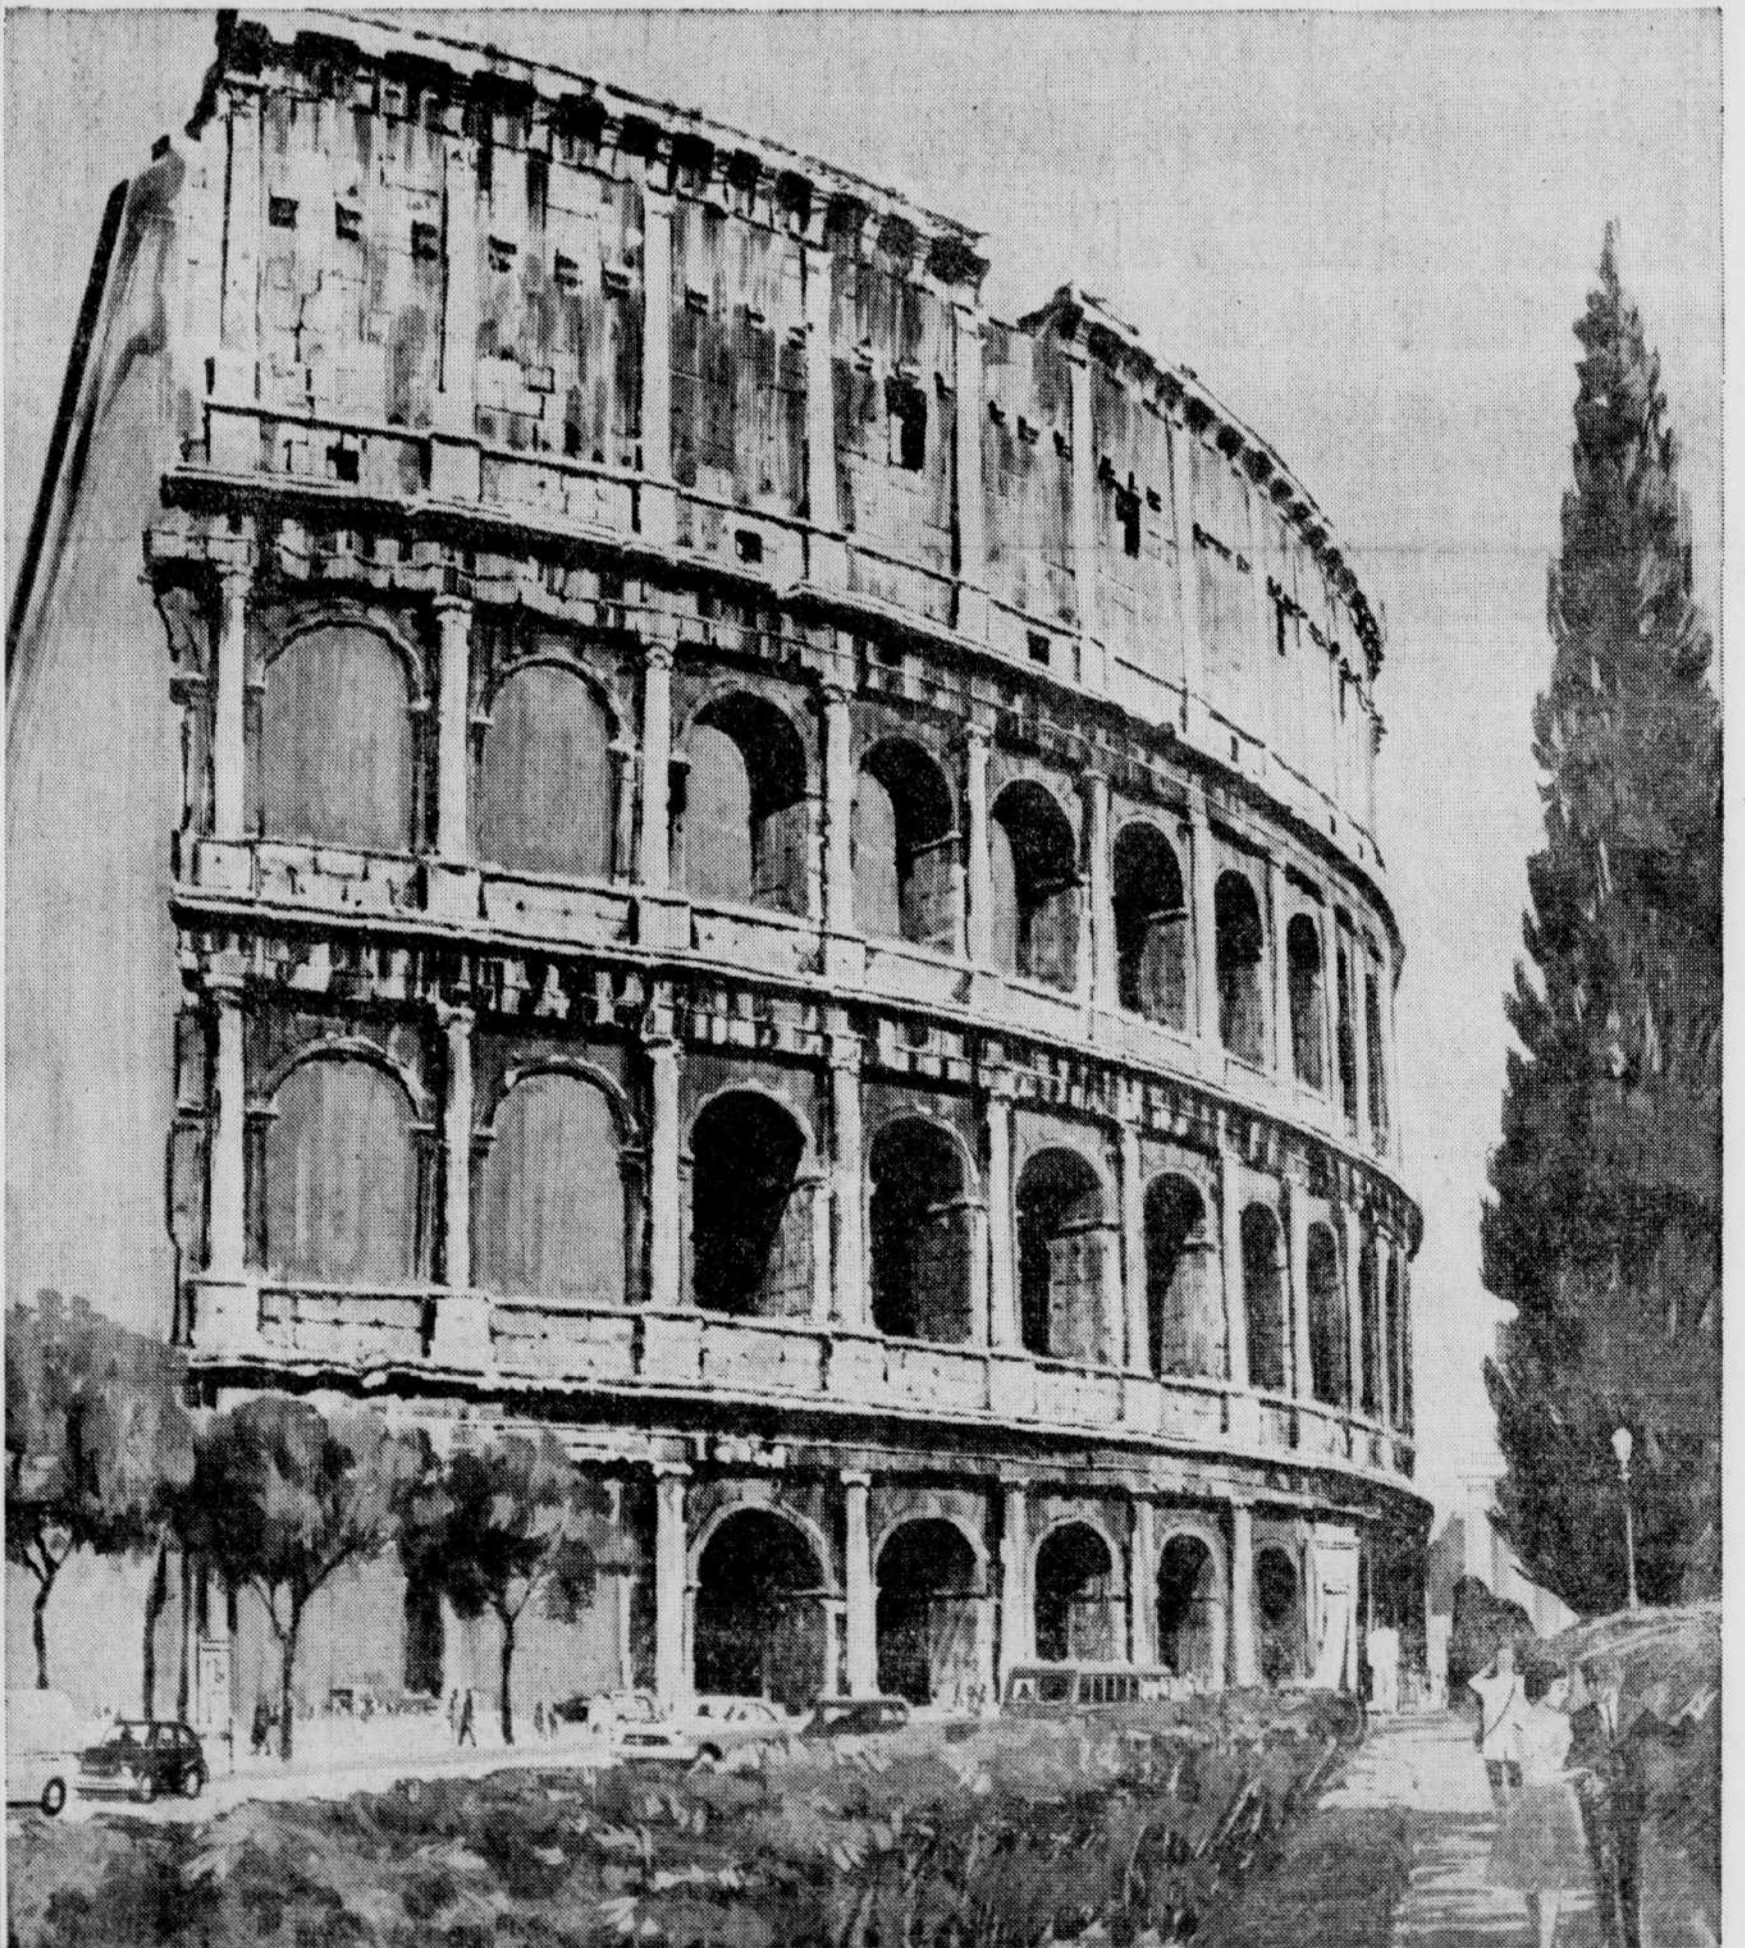

Lerner has veteran Cole Stanloff, 39, as third, but two 21-year-olds, lead Al Dudar and second Bob Lemecha, on the front of his rink.

Doug Gathercole of Copper Cliff won the Northern Ontario championship Sunday night with a 9-8 victory in the final game of a three-team round-robin final at Noranda, Que., beating Jim Guy of Kenora. Tom Ramsay of Noranda had a 2-2 record for second spot.

Prince Edward Island will be represented by veteran Douglas Cameron of Charlottetown, who has made several trips to the Dominion championships with-day at Summerside, winning out success. He beat defending 10-9 and 12-7 after losing the provincial champion Arthur first game of the best-of-three Burke of Charlottetown Saturday playoff.

NICKEL IN WORLD MARKETS...JOBS FOR CANADIANS

How Canadian Nickel is helping to preserve Rome's Colosseum

After centuries of exposure to the elements, the enormous Colosseum recently began to show signs of serious deterioration. Immediate repair had to be made to preserve these famous ruins. And Canadian nickel helped. Nickel stainless steel bars were skilfully inserted in the stone to act as invisible but constant reinforcing agents. Why nickel stainless steel? Because it is strong and corrosion resistant. The growth of nickel markets at home and abroad helps strengthen Canada's economy and helps provide jobs for Canadians.

Young throws tantrum, Canadiens win 6-1

HARD TIME — Chicago goalie Glenn Hall goes to his knees to block the puck as Montreal Canadiens swarm around his net. Looking for a rebound are Montreal's Dickie Moore (12) and Claude Provost while Eric Nesterenko (15) of Chicago stands by to clear the puck. Montreal won the National Hockey League game in Montreal 4-2.

Terrible - tempered Howie Young threw another tantrum Sunday night before a hometown crowd in Detroit.

The upshot was that the bombastic Red Wings defenceman smashed the National Hockey League record for penalty minutes in one season. There probably will be unhappy tidings for him within a day or two from league president Clarence Campbell.

The Canadiens crushed the Red Wings 6-1 in Detroit after downing Chicago's league-leading Black Hawks 4-2 at Montreal Saturday night.

Chicago, with Bobby Hull providing all the scoring punch, dropped the Bruins 3-1 in Chicago Sunday night. The fifth-place New York Rangers meanwhile rebounded at home for a 4-1 win over the Maple Leafs in the wake of a 4-2 setback in Toronto Saturday night.

In an afternoon game at Detroit Saturday, the Wings dumped Boston 3-1.

The surge by Montreal produced a shuffle in the standings. Chicago remains on top with 68 points but the Canadiens shunted Toronto aside and took over second with 64. The Leafs are a point behind followed by Detroit with 59 then New York with 42 and Boston with 38.

The Canadiens wrapped up the game early, building up a 4-0 lead before ex-Hab Andre Pronovost got the lone Detroit goal. Bernie Geoffrion led Montreal's attack with two goals while Fontinato, Jean Beliveau, Ralph Backstrom and Bill Hicke got the others.

Minus injured Henri Richard and Tom Johnson going into the game, the Canadiens lost Gilles Tremblay in the second period when the left-winger was checked hard by Pete Goegan and struck his head on the ice, suffering a slight concussion.

There was no immediate word on how long he would be sidelined.

In Montreal Saturday night the Hawks collapsed in the second period and Montreal pumped home all four goals—by Geoffrion, Backstrom, Dickie Moore and Gilles Tremblay.

Power-play goals by Hull and Ab McDonald gave Chicago a 2-0 lead in the opening period. The Hawks bounced back at home Sunday night with Hull connecting twice in the second period and once in the third to boost his season's production to 28 goals. Jerry Toppazzini, in the midst of a hot streak, got Boston's goal.

Toronto's Big M, Frank Mahovlich, drilled his 30th goal of the season—the league high in that department—in New York Sunday night. But goalie Gump Worsley of the Rangers turned back 40 shots and his mates beat Don Simmons with four of the 29 they mustered.

The scorers for the Rangers were Dave Balon, Earl Ingarfield, Doug Harvey and Don McKenney. Harvey's tally came
