VANDALS CAUSE HEAVY DAMAGE IN CITY PARKS

Officials To Seek Help Of Residents In Solving Problem

Widespread Nuisance Costs Taxpayers Big Sums of Money Each Summer to Replace Playground Equipment and Shrubbery — Dogs are Greatest Problem of Park Employees—Maximum Penalty For Destruction of Property is $40 and Costs of Two Months in Prison

Vandalism—arch enemy of public places of assembly has again become rampant in Westmount Parks.

Every summer this particular form of nuisance costs the taxpayers large sums of money to replace property destroyed by careless citizens.

"Our greatest trouble is with dogs," said E. J. Anderson, supervisor of parks, in discussing the problem today.

"Dogs are not allowed in parks even though they are on a leash," he continued. "Yet people bring them to the parks and set them free. The animals then race through the shrubbery, breaking off the limbs and create damage in general."

"Another problem we have to cope with is the damage created by children who play hide-and-seek. Carefully placed stones around the various flower beds are misplaced, shrubbery broken, stones knocked into the various pools and large trees damaged by knocking off the bark."

"Just the other night in Selby street park, some boys twisted a see-saw off its braces. These nuisances considered separately do not seem to the average person to be of grave importance, but at the end of the summer when we look over our records, and tabulate the damage in dollars and cents, then that is another picture."

"What we need is the cooperation of the public. The parks are intended for use of its citizens and visitors from out of town and it behooves the public to help park officials and employees to keep them in first class condition at all times."

Among the other forms of nuisance, Mr. Anderson cited, is the making of paths across the grass.

Local Group Told Of Jap, Chinese War

Citizens Hear Y.M.C.A. Official Describe Horrors of Nanking Conflict

Several Westmount residents interested in the foreign work of the Y.M.C.A. heard a description of the Japanese-Chinese conflict by George A. Fitch, at a Y.M.C.A. luncheon meeting in the Windsor Hotel last week.

Mr. Fitch is attached to the staff of the International Committee of the Y.M.C.A. and was for some years secretary of the "Y" in Nanking.

He centered his talk on the horrible excesses of the Japanese soldiery following the capture of Nanking last December, and appealed for a cessation of the supply of war materials to Japan by Canada, the United States and Great Britain.

Predicting that China will win the war, Mr. Fitch declared that it would end much quicker if Canada, Great Britain and the United States stopped giving the help to Japan that they are.

He declared that the new spirit which was sweeping China before the conflict, was responsible for such progress in the past ten years as to exceed that of any other country in a similar period.

"What of the future?" he asked. "It is not altogether hopeless. There is a new determination to carry on until the last Japanese soldier is driven from the country. This very policy of frightfulness is in no small measure responsible for increasing this determination in China."

Lachine "Y" Office To Contain Library

A great need has been found in Ville St. Pierre and Lachine for a free circulating library of selected reading for boys. The newly opened office of the Y.M.C.A. in Lachine, 92 Notre Dame St., will house the library, the opening of which is eagerly awaited by the scores of boys who are now members of the community Y. M. C. A.

A phone call to Westmount Y. M. C. A., WE. 6716, and they will be pleased to call for boys' books. Big Little Books are eagerly asked for by the very young readers.

High School Gets Plaque From Club

Members of the Westmount Thespians Club presented a bronze plaque, to Westmount High School on Monday in memory of the late John Gardner McNaughton. The organization is composed mainly of former pupils of the school.

John Gardner McNaughton, journalist with the British United Press, who died at Rocher de Naye, Switzerland, November 21, 1936, aged 27, was, as one of the number stated yesterday, "one of the most promising members of our group." He was the son of Dr. F. M. McNaughton, city health director of Westmount. Mr. and Mrs. McNaughton and Dr. F. L. McNaughton, a brother, were present at the ceremony.

The presentation was made by Dr. B. Rollit, president of the club, who outlined the history of the organization and the high esteem in which John McNaughton had been held by all.

The plaque was received for the school by H. B. Parker, principal. S. F. Kneeland, principal of Argyle School, read a letter of regret from the chairman of the school board, R. W. Steele, who was unavoidably called out of town and could not attend the presentation.

Thespians Present Award In Memory of the Late John Gardner McNaughton

The Westmount "Y" plays an important role in foreign work, its 1938 quota for this purpose having been set at $1,125. In 1937 the Westmount "Y" raised $1,025.

The following data has been compiled by W. H. Spearman, executive secretary:

"Fifteen years ago Spencer Hatch with his doctor's degree in agriculture from Cornell University, and his wife who likewise holds a doctor's degree, hers in Indian drama, set to work in Martandam to rebuild the economic, social and spiritual life of surrounding villages.

"Modern tools replaced the wooden plow. Blooded stock was introduced, regenerating the worn-out cattle and poultry, tripling and quadrupling the amount and quality of milk, butter and eggs. Wild bees were domesticated and set to profitable work. Weaving, basket-making and other cottage industries were introduced.

"Debt is the villager's curse. (If he is the average farmer he owes 59 rupees — about $20. — a trifling amount until we learn that the average annual income for farmers in India is but 120 rupees. His life is thus under mortgage for years ahead.)

"Through the organization of credit and marketing cooperatives these chains of tiny debts were broken. Village sanitation was improved, simple schools were started; tiny libraries began to circulate. Boys were introduced to the fun of volleyball and basketball. Community life was enriched by lectures; dramatic societies, and singing classes. Moral and religious life was strengthened. All this was developed on the basic principle of self-help and self-support, first under the guidance of leaders. Today all but four of more than 1,000 workers in 116 villages around Martandam serve without pay.

"The fame of Martandam spread to every province of India. Visitors poured in, carrying away new ideas. Summer Schools were set up to train leaders; more than 1,100 have completed the courses. And, thousands of others are now teaching in their own villages the methods they learned, while Martandam and the Y.M.C.A. have been, as one of them expressed it,

Group Gives 1938 Prize To Student

J. Aird Nesbitt, president of the Westmount Old Boys' Association presented the annual "award of honor" of the association to John Charters of the graduating class of Westmount High School on Tuesday.

The award is given by the Old Boys to the student who, in the estimation of his fellows has done most for the school and who best combines the characteristics of honor, scholastic ability and sportsmanship.

The 110 pupils of the graduating class named Mr. Charters as the student for the award.

In an address to the graduating pupils Mr. Nesbitt spoke of the associations that it is possible to carry on from school, of the problems to be faced in the world, and of the value that scholastic associations can have in meeting those problems.

On the platform with Mr. Nesbitt were Boyd Robson and Walter Markham, jr., vice-presidents of the Old Boys Association; Brock Thompson, immediate past president; Lt. Col. W. C. Nicholson, E. D. Forster; Clarence Fabis, and John Baker, winner of the award last year.

John Charters has been outstanding in his scholastic ability as a debater, and in sports is prominent in football. He was president of the school's dramatic and debating society.

After having helped to repulse successfully a theoretical enemy invading the Atlantic seaboard during recent aerial maneuvers, the 144 planes of the Army's G.H.Q. Air Force staged a final parade over New York before flying off in all directions to their home airports. Pictured above are two of the air armada on their farewell flight over upper Manhattan.

"Y" Occupies A Vital Role In Far Off Countries

How the influence of a rural project spread from a pinpoint among India's 750,000 villages (her population is 90 per cent rural to every Province) to Burma, Ceylon and other countries is one of the Y.M.C.A.'s most dramatic stories.

The Westmount "Y" plays an important role in foreign work, its 1938 quota for this purpose having been set at $1,125. In 1937 the Westmount "Y" raised $1,025.

The following data has been compiled by W. H. Spearman, executive secretary:

Panicky Horse Bolts, Loses 2 Shoes

The old saying that dobbing never becomes fully city-broke proved true late last week.

A horse and wagon in charge of James Murray of 1244 City Hall avenue, bread salesman, was going east on Cote St. Antoine Road near Metcalfe avenue. Mr. Murray started to turn south on Metcalfe when a truck driven by Jack Fefferman, of 5043 Clarke street drew near. A truck boiler was attached to the truck and this queer object is what dobbing did not like. Consequently he bolted, upset the wagon, broke the harness and lost two hind shoes.

Three Blazes Are Reported

Spontaneous Combustion and a Blow Torch Blamed for Minor Fires

Spontaneous combustion and a blow torch were blamed for three minor fires last weekend.

At the home of P. A. Lavallée, 248 Reform avenue, a blow torch ignited a bucket of paint, causing small damage to the porch of the home.

A blaze caused by spontaneous combustion broke out in the home of D. H. Fraser, 635 Grosvenor avenue, resulting in small damage to a closet.

Spontaneous combustion was blamed for a blaze in the Acme Apartment House, 221 Clarke ave. owned by E. W. Wener. The fire was discovered in a paint shop containing rags and wooden shelves.

Private School Holds Exercises

Closing exercises of Arlington School took place in the Westmount Y.M.C.A. last weekend in the presence of parents and friends of the pupils.

A good report of the year's work was given by Miss Buttanshaw, the principal, and songs were sung by the pupils in both French and English, assisted by Mrs. H. M. Jockel at the piano.

A piano solo, recitation and a play "Mid-Summer's Eve", were given by the following: Ethel Grimsguard, Ruth Starbuck, Joan Clark, Margery McArthur, Jane and Ellen Ann Trenholm, Geoffrey Egleton, Edward Hague, Teddy Steeves and Peter Bullock.

The school will reopen on Sept. 14, in the Westmount Y.M.C.A.

Police Tighten Guard On Homes

Westmount residents are urged to notify police of their absence from home, whether on vacation or other reasons following the robbery of the home of Charles A. Coristine, 11 Belmont avenue.

Chief Wren has asked that all residents leaving the city for a few days or for the summer report their absence to the police, who will pay special attention to the places reported.

The home of Mr. Coristine was broken into last weekend during absence of the family and goods to the value of $2,000 were stolen.

Dr. F. W. Kerr Hits Fishing On Sundays

Pastor Urges Moratorium on "Wild Sayings of Irresponsible Preachers"

"A moratorium should be held on the wild utterances of irresponsible preachers."

Such was the suggestion of the Rev. F. W. Kerr, D.D., who spoke Sunday night at St. Andrew's Church. He dealt with a suggestion made by an American minister that a change should be made in the hours of Sunday worship in order to make it easier for men to go fishing.

"Such utterances," he declared, "spread the impression that the Protestant Church is in a trackless wilderness, without any sense of direction. Undermine the authority of divine commandments and we are left in the chaos of humanism. Human nature has not yet reached such a state of perfection as to dispense with traffic signals."

"The commandments are the guide-posts for frail humanity and they can be disregarded only at our peril. The reputation of authority means the break-down of morale."

"Nothing can be much more stupid than to think that the whole question of Sabbath observance can be settled by the sage observation that there is no harm in sitting on a sunny bank dangleing a fishing-rod in the water."

"They try to look intelligent when they ask what harm there is in hitting or trying to hit, a small white ball on a fairway."

"The world of today does not need more excitement or more recreation, so much as it needs more tranquility, more quiet and more of the worship of God," said Dr. Kerr.

Boys Brigade To Give Prizes

"Science Of Eating", Topic At Rotary Club Luncheon

"The Science of Eating," was the subject of an address delivered by Mrs. C. D. Reid, past president of the Montreal Dietetic Association, at the luncheon Wednesday of the Rotary Club at Victoria Hall.

It was "ladies day" at the club and the subject discussed by Mrs. Reid proved most timely to the number of women present.

"Proper nutrition insures health and happiness," Mrs. Reid said. "All people become food conscious and the adoption of a well balanced diet is vital in present day life."

Mrs. Reid, in the discussion of calories, declared that women eat less than men and that a man working in an office needs only 2000 calories a day whereas a laborer sometimes eats as many as 6000 calories daily.

Vitamins, she declared protect the human race against diseases and they are required in various quantities.

"Nature greatly protects us in the way of vitamins," she continued. "They are widely distributed in calcium and iron."

Dwelling at length on dramatic diets, Mrs. Reid said they are more dramatic because they effect amazing cures. She cited the problem of stomach ulcers and for this ailment she suggested milk, cream and soft foods followed later by cooked cereals.

Amnesia victims, she explained, need diet on a broad scale and urged apricots, peaches and raisins as the proper foods.

Dieting plays a wonderful part today in the lives of children, Mrs. Reid added. Because various forms of dieting are practiced by children they are becoming taller than in previous generations and enjoy better health than before.

"Consult your doctor before going on a diet," Mrs. Reid said, "and avoid medicines which claim many cures that are impossible. To reduce, eat less of everything. Cut out the sugar and starch and include milk, vegetables and fresh fruits in your list."

Dieting to obtain slimmness is most popular among the women, she added. At the same time the speaker warned against trick dieting.

"Solve your doctor before going on a diet," Mrs. Reid said, "and avoid medicines which claim many cures that are impossible. To reduce, eat less of everything. Cut out the sugar and starch and include milk, vegetables and fresh fruits in your list."

Solos were sung by A. Webster, and Herbert Hewitson.

Stanley A. Neilson, president, was in the chair.

Local Church Is Made To Go Forward The glory of the local church is that it is not local; it is a unit in a great system. The missionary element in Christianity is of the essence; it is not an addendum; it rests on the same reasons as does Christianity itself: I need Christ; so do others. He helps me; he can help others. Some one brought Him to me; for the same reason I speak of Him to my child or to my neighbor; and for those same reasons we present Him to others across the world.

Mrs. Isabella Scott Flays Youth Congress Speaker

Mrs. Isabella Scott, well known in political circles has taken sharp differences with Pierre Chalout in his address regarding the foreign policy of Canada.

Mr. Chalout was a member of the French Canadian Delegation attending the Young Congress in Toronto on May 23-24.

Mrs. Scott quotes Mr. Chalout as saying in his address "we intend to remain completely American."

"Did he mean that he and his young friends would follow the guidance and policy of the United States and forget that they are Canadian and part of the French Empire?" she asks.

"Possibly Mr. Chalout was in the cradle during the Great War, "Possibly Mr. Chalout was in the cradle during the Great War, and does not therefore realize what might have happened to Canada which so far, includes "la Province de Quebec" had not our brave men saved us from being swallowed up by Britain's foe," Mrs. Scott continues.

"Germany at that time and up to the present, has wanted colonies and without any doubt, had an eye on Canada for its mineral wealth and agricultural possibilities. Mr. Chalout is probably unaware of the fact, that when Count Von Alvensleben, head of a large lumbering industry in B.C., was arrested in Vancouver and interned for the duration of the war, upon his person was found an official document, appointing him the German governor of British Columbia.

"About the same time, a German officer, residing in this Province, having imbibed enough to loosen his tongue, told in a Montreal restaurant that, on a certain appointed day, all the Germans in the United States and Canada would rise en masse and seize Canada for a German colony. On this being reported to the Government at Ottawa, this officer was also promptly interned for the duration."

Hitler is without doubt, the embodiment of German acquisitiveness. We have seen how Austria has been absorbed and possibly Central Europe may follow, but these countries are not colonies and Canada is just as desirable a colony today as it was in the Great War. We would not do Mr.

Modern Summer Resort Opened In Laurentians

A new spot for summer visitors has been opened at Piedmont, in the Laurentian Mountains. This little place, to be known as WINSUM INN, was formerly Noah's Ark Inn and operated previously as a winter resort. Under its new name and change of management, it will, this summer, offer hospitality to persons seeking a place that will afford them a restful vacation.

B. J. Glaveen has undertaken the operation of WINSUM INN for its first summer season. He has previously been connected with various hotels in the Mountains and is known to a large number of Montreal's vacationing public. He declares that at his place this summer, guests will find that their requirements for comfort and rest will be thoroughly and efficiently catered to, and that every meal at WINSUM INN will be of excellent quality and sufficient in quantity.

With bedroom accommodation for about twenty-five guests, Mr. Glaveen is seeking a clientele who will find appeal and satisfaction in a spot offering quiet rest and comfort and good food, a game of bridge, or a chat in the cosy lounge by a blazing fire on chilly evenings, a book or a walk in the outdoors or an auto drive through the country side.

Learn to swim classes under Douglas Fairbairn are making rapid progress and there is still time to learn the art of swimming before summer gets full underway.

Junior membership in the "Y" tennis club is open to members of Hi-Y club and other members for $2 to the end of the season.

William Morrow is manager of the Junior track and field enthusiasts who appear at Molson Stadium on Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 6 to 9 o'clock. Expert coaching is offered by "Y" physical directors from all branches and other specialists in track and field events.

Mitchell Bourke won the Belmont Park passes for the best action photograph of the recent Westmount High School Field Day on the Athletic Grounds. In spite of the nearness to the school examinations many members of the Photographic Club find time to work in the dark room.

Fifty boys have signed for Camp Kanawana in the Laurentians. The camp opens on June 25. The registration is limited to 200 and Westmount boys are urged to register early. One hundred and thirty five Westmount boys attended the camp last summer.

War Vet Wins Success

In a 4-story stone house on St. Famille street, east of Park ave., there was born a curly haired, serious face boy, who was destined to become a member of Canada's Royal Flying Corps in the Great War and engage in hair-raising experiences on foreign soil.

His name: A. Ross Grafton; business: hardware flooring contractor of 4263 St. Catherine st., west. He is married, lives at 5400 Trans Island Blvd., Snowdon, and has one child, Geoffrey Stuart, 8, who attends a private school.

In discussing his autobiography, Mr. Grafton, tall, of medium weight and with a striking personality that vividly portrays an abundance of good humor and seriousness, was reluctant—as is true with many ex-soldiers—to talk about his war experience. Rather, he preferred to tell about his grandfather, Frances E. Grafton, well known book seller and former editor of the Daily Witness.

The grandfather was a member of a commission formed to investigate treatment by Yankee soldiers of southern prisoners during the civil war.

Proceeding to Washington, Mr. Grafton, met President Lincoln and was shown every possible courtesy by that chief executive. Before returning to Canada, Mr. Grafton purchased a steel engraved photograph of Mr. Lincoln and that photograph now hanging on the walls of the grandfather's house bears the autograph of Mr. Lincoln.

A. Ross Grafton attended the private school of Mrs. Bryson during his first taste of book learning and after five years of training at this institution, he entered high school, graduating with high honors. He then entered the book and stationery business with his father, A. R. Grafton. In 1914, however, he became an instructor in the C.O.T.C., McGill University, and specialized musketry and machine guns. In 1917 he joined the Canadian Flying Corps and in the fall of that year he sailed with his outfit, being stationed during the major part of his enlistment in the south of Ireland.

He returned to Montreal in 1919 and joined a floor finishing firm. After serving his apprenticeship he was sent to England to establish branches, spending a year in London and Glasgow. Returning to Montreal he remained with this firm until 1930 in charge of the contract department. Mr. Grafton then set up his present business.

Fruit Stains

Practically all fruit stains can be removed either by washing the material in cold water and rubbing thoroughly or by spreading the stained portion over a bowl and pouring boiling water through it from a height of two or three feet. A little rubbing alternated with the pouring is helpful. Stains from dark red and purple fruits and berries are hard to get out and are set by soap.

SILVER FOX

The Silver Fox is simply a black freak, a brunette born into a red-headed family, but this does not cast any reflection on the mother or father's lineage, on the contrary it means that they had in them an element of exceptional vigour. This resulted in a peculiar intensifying of all pigments, transmitting red into black, and carrying with it an unusual vigour of growth and fineness of texture, producing in short, the world famed silver fox. Making them one of the most lustrous, softest, thickest and warmest of furs. The fur worth many times its weight in gold.

The breeding of silver foxes and cross-foxes in captivity, for their fur now has been developed into a profitable and well established industry. The ranches of fox farms extend from Alaska through the northern United States, and Southern Canada to Prince Edward Island.

Present Versus Past

By NITA D'ARCY
Well Known Hair Dye Specialist and Consultant

The Fountain of Youth is not a myth in this modern day and age. About twenty years ago a woman of thirty was already on the downward path, while the grandmother of to-day is still beautiful, alert, well groomed and has a charm all her own. The secret! Colors! Do not let white hair take away the illusion of youth. You can have dyed hair and defy detection by even the very closest of friends. And just remember that we have long ago killed the idea that a distinguished woman does not use artifice.

It is very wrong to think that a person is old because the hair has whitened, but that is just the belief. The snowy and silver hair sung of by the poets is better in verse than in prose. Since grey hair is so condemning to old age, let us declare war against it! The flowers of the summer should inspire us. Let us be beautiful for the joy it gives others, and carry as trophies on our belts, the hearts we conquer.

Suggestions

Grass Stains
Usually washing in cold water and rubbing the spots is all that is necessary for washable goods. For stubborn stains try sponging with equal parts of alcohol and water mixed.

Ink Spots
Remove at once, before thoroughly dry. Cold water is often all that is necessary.

Tea Stains
Boil wash goods in strong soap solution. Sponge wool and silk immediately with warm water; or moisten with water, sprinkle with enough borax to make a thick paste, let stand for a few minutes, then rinse with boiling water.

Coffee Stains
For wash goods stretch fabric over a bowl and pour boiling water through from height of two or three feet. For unwashable materials, sponge with warm water.

WAR PRECAUTION
Denmark is raising a loan to store oil and food in case of war.

Way To A Man's Heart

Muffins, Done in Maple, Timely for Culinary "Interior Decorator"

Hot cinnamon rolls, quickly made, will seem like a fragrant tray of plenty on a summer day.

Life in summer needs a lot of spice. And cinnamon fills the bill. Pass a tray of fragrant hot cinnamon rolls under the unhappy face of a tired father, and watch the smiles reappear quickly.

Quick Cinnamon Rolls
(16 to 18 small rolls)
Two cups flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 4 tablespoons shortening, 2-3 to 3-4 cup milk, 2 tablespoons melted butter, 1-2 cup brown sugar, 1 teaspoon cinnamon.

Prepare muffin pans by spreading thickly with a creamy mixture made by creaming together 3 tablespoons butter and 6 tablespoons brown sugar. Sift flour, baking powder and salt together. Cut in shortening. Add milk, stirring only until dough holds together. Turn out on slightly flour-board and knead lightly for 1-2 minutes. Roll out to 1-4 inch thickness. Brush with melted butter, sprinkle with brown sugar and cinnamon. Roll jelly-roll fashion and cut into 1-inch slices. Place slices cut side down in muffin pans. Bake in moderately hot oven (425 degrees F.) 20 to 25 minutes. Let stand in pan for a minute before turning out. Serve hot or cold.

For another touch of warm and fragrant sweetness, all on a summer day, try these.

Maple Muffins
(6 Muffins)
Two eggs, 1-2 cup milk, 1-4 cup maple syrup, 1-4 cup melted butter or other shortening, 2 cups flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon maple sugar. Beat eggs with the milk, syrup and butter. Sift the flour, baking powder and salt into the wet mixture, stirring just enough to remove the lumps—about 25 to 30 strokes. Pour into well greased glass custard cups. Sprinkle maple sugar over each muffin and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 25 minutes.

For Your VACATION IN

Laurentians Offer Much To Vacationist

The province of Quebec is France transplanted to the new world, an ancient Gallic stronghold that has retained the traditions and customs brought from the mother country three centuries ago by the forefathers of the present French speaking inhabitants. Here in the countryside and in the city, the old and new blend in artless beauty. English speaking folk live side by side with neighbours who speak no other language than that of French. The twin capitals of this amicable land are the quaint cities of Montreal and Quebec, entrancingly interesting in themselves, and the gateways to the marvelous playgrounds that surround them on all sides.

Up in the mighty Laurentian Mountains, following the Riviere Du Nord, the railway line climbs steadily past little Ste. Adele, sitting prettily, high up on the mountainside and reaches St. Marguerite, one of the most popular of the resorts in this veritable paradise.

Here is to be found one of the most picturesque of golf courses, splendid hotels, good boarding houses, beautiful Lake Masson, fishing, bathing, boating, golf, tennis, riding and many delightful walks and drives through superb scenery.

Val Morin, which lies just four miles past St. Marguerite is another of the Laurentians' popular summer centers. Here is to be found everything that the vacationist can possibly desire. A wide choice of hotels and boarding

DARING YOUNG MEN AND A MAID

One of the most graceful and spectacular sights in any circus are the aerialists as they perform their dangerous feats on the high trapeze.

No more famous or more accomplished companies of aerial artists can be found anywhere in the world than are under the peak of the big-top of the Cole Brothers Circus, which is coming to Montreal early Sunday morning for afternoon and night performances Monday and Tuesday at Iberville and Masson Streets.

The Flying Harolds, composed of Ray Deisler, Harold Voise and Eileen Harold (left to right, above) are without rivals on the lofty trapeze. Eileen is the only woman in the world to present a two-and-one-half somerault to a catch in mid-air. In the picture at the right she has just completed the unrivaled feat and been caught by her feet in the waiting arms of Deisler, veteran and unexcelled catcher.

Clyde Beatty and his forty-three jungle-bred lions and tigers provide an unprecedented and unchallenged spectacle in the great circular all-steel arena; the Great Grotton, death defiers of the high wire, make thousands gasp daily with their sensational nerveless courage; Andrea Gallagher thrills as she hurdles flaming barriers on the back of her famous charger, "Blackhawk"; and vast assemblage of other notables of spangeland present feats of astounding courage, skill and daring. Gates to the big show will be opened one hour before the 2 and 8 p.m. performances each day in order to allow leisurely inspection of the huge double-menagerie, one of the largest travelling collection of wild animals in the world.

Plattsburg Is Popular Vacation Resort, And Is Easily Reached From Here

One of the gayest and most popular holiday resorts in Eastern America, Plattsburg owes no small part of its ever growing favour to its ideal situation on the beautiful shores of Lake Champlain. Readily accessible by rail or highway, this splendid spot is a veritable mecca for tourists, vacationists and pleasure-seekers.

Plattsburg is one of those few places that is exclusive and yet friendly and sociable. There is nothing of a polyglot nature about it; the people who live there and the people who go there, are just the kind of people you would choose for your own neighbours and friends.

There are many fine hotels and boarding houses, and they have won an enviable reputation for hospitality and conviviality. Plattsburg has always been noted for the fine cuisine of its hotels and tourists' homes, and the proprietors have won a name for their genuine efforts to please every whim of the guests.

The beach at Plattsburgh is one of the finest fresh water beaches in the United States. The white sparkling sands attract great throngs, and "Plattsburg suntans" are famous. Swimming is popular, and the great size of Lake Champlain assures that the water will always be cool and inviting.

The swimming is safe, too, and houses are to be found in this neighbourhood.

In Quebec City itself, this city of the up hill and down dale, it is the unexpected that is always meeting you around the corner. Its inhabitants will tell you that their city is the most beautiful in the world, not at all boastfully but with that assurance that comes from implicit belief. Perched on Cape Diamond, over which it spreads in unplanned grace, and commanding superb view of the St. Lawrence River flowing down to the sea in all its majesty, its claim to being one of the most picturesque cities in Canada will be contested by none.

Half of its charm is its citizens. They are intensely lovable, these French Canadians and intensely proud of their traditions and the finding and building up of the North American continent.

What a gallery they make, these old French explorers, Joliette and Marquette, who in 1673 discovered the Mississippi river; La Salle, who took possession of that vast basin in the name of the King of France; de Bienville, founder of New Orleans; Le Motte Cadillac building of the motor city of the United States, Detroit; Le Verendrye, who was the first to penetrate the foothills of the Rocky mountains. Where the explorers went so did the missionary and it is not without cause that Quebec is often referred to as the "Cradle of North American Civilization" and it is not without reason that that old city attracts the numbers of tourists each year from every part of the globe.

Cars And Trailers Trek Into Catskill Mountains

The appearance of a score or more nomad trailerites daily on routes leading from this Catskill Mountain gateway forecasts a busy season in the uplands, where accommodations in any of the State's public campsites are free.

Cars and trailers bearing the license plates of Alabama, Georgia, Florida and other Southern States moved in early last week, for although the season did not begin officially until yesterday, there was no ban on the use of the camps. The only drawback lay in the fact that trailer campers would have to haul in their own drinking water, since the rangers had not turned on the pipe-line supplies.

The real trek to the mountain camps will not begin, however, until the end of June. Then, with schools closed and office and industrial vacations underway, it is estimated that more than the 1937 record of 600,000 persons will avail themselves of the privileges in the thirty Catskill and Adirondack campsites.

In the Catskill region there are now four major public campsites—the Beaverkill, Devil's Tombstone, Woodland Valley and North Lake. These may be reached by automobile and are provided with fully protected systems of pure water, individual fireplaces, tables and benches, the most approved sanitary facilities and, where bathing is possible, with bathhouses. The Conservation Department does not have for rent on these areas or at other points in the Adirondacks or Catskills tents, cabins or other camping equipment.

There are eighteen open camps along the far-flung system of hiking trails in the Catskill, and these offer hardy hikers places to pitch tents for overnight or longer periods.

CRICKET CHIRPS

Harry M. Williams

There was a game at Royal avenue on Saturday after all-two in fact. One was on L.C.C. and it was both close and exciting. To us on the next field it sounded like one continuous round of applause.

On M.A.A.A. ground Wanderers Juniors met Bishops College School 2, and a most enjoyable game was witnessed.

These juniors do not suffer from any cricket inhibitions which gives the game a piquancy not usually seen. The fielding is snappier as is the attitude to the game itself.

Wanderers were too strong for B.C.S. and totalled 135 for the loss of 8 wickets against 101 for Bishops. At that game was no cinch.

Don Plumley again distinguished himself making 64 of the runs. Bob Bateman appeared in a new role, that of wicket keeper. He added 27 to the score.

Peter Clarkson really seemed to turn the tide in Wanderers favour when victory seemed about to fade. His 12 was timely and reassuring.

At Greenfield Park "B" were once more the victims of St. Paul's. According to all accounts it must have been a great game. Macham 94 not out Jack Plumley 54 carried out his bat. Jesshope 50 and Geo. Bateman bowling his head off.

Looking over the honors list for the week end we note that the old timers are very much in evidence. Jemmett 61, Harry Worm 6 for 36.

Of the younger generation Pentecost and Casement seem to have got started and there other young shoots coming up.

It looks like a good cricket summer.

Congratulations to whoever is responsible for the clean-up week on the M.A.A.A. field.

The matter of boundaries seems as hazy as ever and left to the discretion of the fielder particularly at the west end of the field.

Glad to note the comment in a daily about Fry-Cadbury. Hope it catches the eye of those who govern and sway.

Westward C. C. has taken a new lease of life. We see by the papers that they journey to St. Annes Military Hospital to-day and play the hardy annual against Ottawa Valley eleven on July 1st.

Monday evenings are their practice nights on the Royal Ave. Grounds. Any cricketer not affiliated will be welcomed.

Noted an item about the proposed broadcasting of cricket games. If it is a play by play description what would the listener do between waits, change over for left-handed batsmen and tea interval.

Let your imagination run riot or call up the Shade of Dr. W. G. Next Saturday sees Wanderers on the Mountain top against Mt. Royal "B" plays Westmount and "C" plays Fry-Cadbury at Royal Avenue.

cently and at the same time cut loose Heinie Manush, another American League veteran.

Manush, who is 36 to Hoyt's 38, is still a good hitter. He should catch on somewhere. But Hoyt is probably finished as a player.

Waite is not the sort of guy who would enjoy the minors and he has other talents besides playing ball.

At a baseball party last winter he told reporters, "when my number is up in the majors, I'll try something else. This radio job of mine has worked out very well and I'd like to continue with it."

Last winter, Hoyt, who never was backward about expressing his opinion, wrote a magazine article in which he claimed the National League played outmoded generally put the blast on the baseball, belittled its hitters and league. The hitters made him chew his words when the season started, belting his offerings and accompanying their hits with a fire of comment on his ability as an author.

For all that Hoyt probably still believes he is right. He is that sort of a fellow.

The article had nothing to do with his release. General-Manager Larry Macphail of the Dodgers says, Hoyt just didn't have it any more, in Macphail's opinion.

That may be, but he had it for a long time. He was a schoolboy wonder of 16 when the Giants got hold of him in 1916. Somehow he slipped away and pretty soon he bobbed up with the Yankees to become one of the best right-handers in the American League and beat the Giants twice in World Series games.

He played with two great Yankee teams, the rostering crew that won pennants in 1921, '22, and '23 and the terrific sluggers that tore the league apart in 1926, '27, and '28, and won eight straight World Series games.

He was the only player of that first team still in the game this spring. Babe Ruth, Bob Meusel, Whitley Will, Wally Pipp and the rest of the glamorous crew passed out of the big time while Hoyt was still a winning pitcher.

The Yanks traded him in 1930.

Pete Fox Often Out-Foxes His Opponents

Ervin (Pete) Fox, the Detroit Tigers' hustling rightfielder, seems to be outfoxing a lot of people, including pitchers and himself.

On a sensational putting spree topped off by five-for-five against Cleveland recently, the little Tiger veteran is up in the headlines.

Hard-working Pete has a .451 batting average, about 200 points more than he customarily hits in the spring, and his friends are saying "Pete's finally done it!"

In the six years Fox has been with Detroit never before has he hit hard in the early season, but today he is the second highest batter in the major leagues and wondering why. Only Hal Trosky of the Indians, with .463 leads him.

"I don't know how I'm doing it," he said recently. "It seems they just can't get me out. I guess my timing just stayed with me over the winter."

In past years Fox was considered by many observers one of the most underrated players in the major leagues, never could start hitting well until June or July. But he missed .300 at the end only in his first two seasons, 1933 and 1934 when he hit .288 and .285. During the latter part of the season he is always one of the league's most feared batsmen, as witnessed his .331 mark for 1937.

"I figure it takes me quite a little time to get my eye on the ball," he said. "It seems as if I have to look at a lot of pitching before I get my timing right."

Somehow, he perfected his timing early in 1938. He has hammered out 23 hits in 51 times at bat. The 29-year-old modest chap from Evansville, Ind., has always been a model of baseball deportment.

If a Tiger gets into a slump, or loaf, Manager Cochrane points toward Fox and remarks: "Why don't you play ball like Fox? You never see him loaf going down to first base."

It seems only yesterday that Waite Hoyt was winning a lot of games for the Yankees and only the day before when he was the schoolboy wonder. But he is through now.

The Brooklyn Dodgers handed the veteran pitcher his release re-

SWING GETS DOWN TO BUSINESS

Whether or not Monsieur Goodman and his choice crew of jazzmaniacs will ever welcome down to Montreal with assorted shrieks of saxophone and trumpet is not, perhaps, a matter of international concern, but the intricate negotiations surrounding such a proposed engagement indicate at least one fact of unusual interest. They show that "Swing" has grown up.

Three editions back—perhaps a bit prematurely—these lines exclusively carried the report of Goodman's proposed visit to the Laurentian regions at an early date this summer. Later developments confirmed our allegation. Goodman had been contacted by Baron D'Empain. Goodman was to preside at the dedication ceremonies of a new mountain retreat at St. Marguerite on Lac Masson. Goodman was expected here July 9.

But one fact changed the entire complexion of the situation! The popular Baron was reported to have dickered with a Montreal band to play the rest of the season, Goodman being engaged only for one night. The band in question is a non-union organization, whereas Goodman's orchestra is, of course, a staunch member of the American Federation of Musicians. This was the snag.

Immediately following publication in this corner of news concerning the proposed visit of the King of Swing, the Musicians Federation of Montreal, affiliated only one condition upon their accepting a local engagement: that a local band of the same size be employed as a "stand-by" or "relief" orchestra to supplement the work of the visiting orchestra. This ruling is in force almost everywhere and is far from exclusive to Montreal.

Lloyd Huntley is back in town following a short respite from jazz in Marshfield, Mass. Don Turner held the reins during Lloyd's absence. . . . Duke Ellington forsakes his piano for a hospital cot Saturday. The noted composer-conductor undergoes a serious operation in New York. . . . J. P. McEvoy will put Walter Winchell on the griddle in a biography of the gossip giant scheduled for early publication in the Saturday Evening Post. . . . Matt Heft and Lucio Agostini plan to fly to Manhattan between broadcasts to witness the Schmelling-Louis scrap late this month. Both are veterans of the airways. . . . Broadcast descriptions of this bout will be aired locally by CFCF-CFCX. . . .

BBC Salutes Canada

BBC Salutes Canada in Canadian High Commissioner in London, the Hon. Vincent Massey, sends greetings to Canada on Dominion Day in a special period from London, during which the BBC Empire Orchestra will be conducted by Arthur Collingwood, Dean of Music at the University of Saskatchewan. . . . Slightly more earlier, although time is as yet unmet, BBC will see the Empire with a broadcast of the unveiling of the Australian War Memorial at Villes Bretonneux by His Maesty, King George. . . . The Toronto Promenade Symphony switches to the more important NBC-Red Network July 7, and will continue to be heard throughout the world via WXXL, Brounbrook, and WXXK, Pittsburgh. . . . "White Banners," dramatized from the Cosmopolitan story by Montreal's Lloyd C. Douglas, is set for a preview Friday evening at 9 via CKAC with Fay Bainter, Jackie Cooper and Bonita Bonville in the leading roles. . . .

Broun in Canada

Heywood Broun, international president of the American Newspaper Guild and author of the widely-read column, "It Seems to Me," speaks from Toronto through CBN Sunday eve at 11.15. . . . Sudden closing of Loew's Theatre has thrown many people out of work. Eddie Sanborn, whose contractual agreement with the theatre will not expire until autumn, is seeking a compromise. Sanborn has placed orchestras on four ships of the Canada Steamship Lines. . . . Ken Sisson, heard locally with "Canada 1938" during the winter months, was signed as musical supervisor this week by Trans-American Broadcast and Television Corporation, becoming one of the first major orchestra leaders to devote full time to television. . . . CBS scored a beat over rival networks yesterday by securing Bill Tilden as commentator on the Wightman Cup tennis matches, scheduled for Friday and Saturday in Wimbledon, England. Tilden will be heard locally via CKAC, with actual broadcast hours as yet unannounced. . . .
