Police Chiefs' Safety Drive Commences Next Week

At a meeting in Victoria Hall on Tuesday evening to study ways and means to improve the admittedly bad traffic situation and accident record, the Metropolitan Police Chiefs' Discussion Group, composed of Police Chiefs of Greater Montreal, unanimously adopted a resolution requesting that driving permits be given only after the applicant has passed a test under supervision of a police officer. In view of the laxity with which driving permits now are issued by the provincial government, members of the club are convinced that such a system would bring about a considerable drop in the accident rate of the province.

Cars, Street Cars Become Involved In Freak Accident

Two automobiles became involved with two street cars in a "chain reaction" type of accident which occurred late Saturday evening.

D. A. Weir, of 5731 Somerville street, Montreal, was driving eastward on The Boulevard and saw that due to the icy condition of the roadway he could not stop before striking a tram which had stopped in front of him to discharge a passenger. In an effort to avoid an accident, he swerved to the left, to by-pass the street car, and ran head on into a second one travelling in the opposite direction. The front end of the automobile was completely demolished, and Mr. and Mrs. Weir were conveyed to the Homoeopathic Hospital by ambulance, where they were found to have suffered various cuts and bruises.

When the motorman of the second street car locked his wheels in an effort to avoid the collision, a second automobile, following the street car and unable to stop in time to avoid collision, crashed into its rear.

Ice Storm Causes Light Disruption To Local Power

Last week-end's ice storm caused a lot of broken branches and a few isolated cases of power cut-off when weight of ice or falling branches broke power lines feeding individual buildings or homes, but no major damage occurred, it was reported at City Hall.

It was pointed out that one reason for Westmount's relatively light power line damage is that most of the wiring is underground.

What breaks did occur were speedily attended to by repairmen who worked through until 10 p.m.

Under the sponsorship of the police chiefs, who are doing their best to promote public safety habits, a concentrated traffic safety program will get under way on Sunday, and five safety slogans have been selected for public emphasis in the next two weeks. Press, radio and street-car advertising will be utilized to promote the public's co-operation "in saving their own lives."

The slogans selected for publicity in the next two weeks are: — "Safe drivers depend on safe walkers."

"Pedestrians, wait on curb for green light or signal from traffic officer."

"Motorists, stop back of cross walk."

"Jay walking is a short cut to the hospital."

"Stop, look — and live!"

Three Local Girls Attend Congress In Peterborough

Ann Trueland and Ruth Taylor of 331 Redfern Avenue and Diana Beasant of 377 Selby Avenue are representing Westmount High School Girls' Hi-Y Club at the Regional Conference which is being held in Peterborough, Ontario, yesterday, today and tomorrow. Six other Montreal girls will attend, representing the Hi-Y Clubs of Montreal and Lachine High Schools and the group will be accompanied by Miss Florence Joy, younger membership secretary of the Y.M.C.A. and by Miss Florence Greene who is connected with the Y. M. C. A. and goes as Fraternal Delegate.

"Youth with a Purpose" is the theme of the conference and there will be discussion groups on such topics as international membership, racial equality, the importance of membership and co-ordination of programme and purpose throughout the Association.

Representatives will be present from London, Toronto and other cities in Ontario.

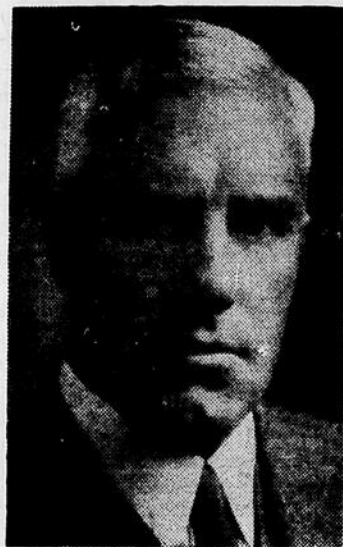

POLICE CHIEFS' DISCUSSION GROUP

Police chiefs from the Montreal area at a meeting in Victoria Hall on Tuesday evening at which they formulated plans for a public safety promotion campaign which will open on Sunday. Hobby Show Officially Opened By Mayor Adams

Mayor R. P. Adams officially opened the 12th Annual Boys' and Girls' Hobby Show at the opening ceremony held in the gymnasium of the Westmount 'Y', on Wednesday evening. Thomas

MAYOR R. P. ADAMS

Sparrow, president of the Hobby Show, introduced the Mayor and presented him with an official's badge.

Following the official opening ceremony, Mayor Adams cut a ribbon strung across the stairway allowing the general public upstairs to view the exhibits.

The prize winners included two boys who received first awards for knitting and fudge making.

This year the Art Exhibition is in a separate room, where it shows to better advantage than formerly.

An exhibit of special interest is provided by the Canadian Institute for the Blind, and has two operators weaving on a table loom.

Exhibits in the department of Collections and Crafts are of very high quality this year, and their number is much increased.

Tonight the Music and Dancing section of the Hobby Show will be held at the Westmount 'Y', beginning at 8 p.m. Also on tonight's program of the Hobby Show is the boys and girls swim meet to begin at 7.30.

Tomorrow the Pet Show will be held at 2.30 in the afternoon

Task of Public Relations To Promote Good Will

"In a world torn by suspicion, intolerance, mistrust and jealousy, there is greater need for a program of true and lasting public relations than at any moment since time began," declared Charles S. Watson, Director of Public Relations, Canadian Breweries, Limited, who addressed the Rotary Club of Westmount this week.

But world unity and mutual confidence and trust never can be achieved while nations lack internal cohesion, he continued, adding that if we are to be honest we must admit we have much to do along this line.

Here in Canada we have a rich endowment unmatched by any other land in the world. At the end of the last war, our country was fourth in world production and second in exports. Here, there are more opportunities for wealth and fortune than in any other region on earth. So, by world standards, we have attained adulthood; we lack only experience, Mr. Watson declared.

Business Must Lead

"Business and businessmen must give leadership in putting our Canadian house in order," he stated, "and the natural starting point is in our own businesses — among our own people."

For such a program to succeed, honesty is of paramount importance, he continued — honesty on the part of both labour and management, and between business and community — in order to foster good will, "the most sought-after commodity in the whole world of business."

This involves the recognition by business, and the discharge, of its

Rev. Graham Barr Called to Ontario

Rev. R. Graham Barr, B.A., B.D., assistant minister of Dominion-Douglas United Church, has been called to the pastorate of the old historic First United Church of St. Catharines, Ont., it was announced this week.

A member of the executive of the Montreal Presbytery of the United Church of Canada, Mr. Barr is also chairman of the Home Missions Committee of that body, a director of the Quebec Religious Education Council; honorary chaplain of the Children's Aid Society and a member of the executive of Stanstead College Alumni College Association.

He was ordained in 1943 and after serving as minister of Scots-town United Church, Scotstown, P.Q., came to Montreal in 1945, as assistant to Dr. A. Lloyd Smith of Dominion-Douglas Church.

Doctor Thompson Is Honoured By United States

Brig. Clifford Shaw Thompson, of 725 Upper Lansdowne Avenue, formerly of the Canadian Army, was decorated with the award of the Legion of Merit, Degree of Officer, in a brief ceremony in the American Consulate on Wednesday. The award was made on behalf of President Truman by American Consul General North Winship for "invaluable aid to the Medical Services of the United States Fifth Army and Peninsula Base Section" in Italy.

The citation mentions the "exceptionally meritorious services" of Brig. Thompson while serving in Italy as assistant director of Medical Services at Headquarters, Allied Force, and later as commanding officer of the 11th Canadian General Hospital.

It refers specifically to Brig. Thompson's work in connection with American medical installations and the evacuation of American casualties in the Italian campaign. It concludes: "Brig. Thompson's co-operation did much to establish and maintain the cordial relations which exist between Canada and the United States."

The presentation by Mr. Winship is expected to be the last performed by him before his scheduled departure for a new post on April 14.

Dr. Thompson, a graduate of McGill University, retired from the Canadian Army after four years service with the R.C.A.M.C., less than a year ago when Defence Minister Brooke Claxton paid tribute to his work.

Scouts & Cubs

BY REG GROOME

Trinity Memorial Pack opened their Monday meeting with the Grand Howl led by Sixer Norman Bedford of the Blue Six. Badges were presented as follows:—Observer, Dick Christensen, Maitland Hannaford, Norman Bedford, Arthur Armstrong and Bob Manktelow; Homecraft, Arthur Armstrong and Maitland Hannaford; Toymaker, Jimmy Goddard, for one of the best articles ever received by the Pack. Akela told the Cubs Bagheera is out of the hospital, and should be with them in a few weeks. The Red Six came out on top in the games, followed by a Jungle Story and a short sing-song. Bob Manktelow was presented with his 3rd year service star. F. C. Wilkins, (Allan's Dad) donated six new boxes which are now in use. The Red Six won the evening's competition with the Pennant being presented to Sixer Maitland Hannaford. Akela announced that five Cubs would be soon going into the Troop.

Signalling class tonight, tomorrow night for Gregory Walker, Gordon Merritt, Bruce McLean, David and Jim Shaw, Bob Turnbull and Michael Schell . . . 7 p.m. at the Church. House Orderly Badge class for Bob Manktelow, Dick Christensen, Bill Hartley and Ron Anderson, who completed his 2nd star recently. Sorry to hear that Teddy Roberts is sick with measles. There will be a paper collection again this Saturday, with the following promising to attend: Maitland Hannaford, Bruce McLean, Norman Bedford, Dickie Christensen, Jim Shaw, Earl Bisson, Arthur Armstrong, Gregory Walker, Bob Manktelow, Colin Nelson, Gordon Smith and Bob Turnbull. Be sure to phone Akela at DE. 5757 if you can't come. Akela hopes to see more shorts worn at Pack meeting and, who knows, he may be planning to deduct bites for long trousers.

Promotion of international friendship by means of exchange visits by Scouts is an important part of the work of the Boy Scouts Association. Plans are being made for many British Troops to camp abroad and for foreign Scouts to camp in this country during the coming camping season.

Already Imperial Headquarters have been notified that 75 different British Troops are planning to visit foreign countries and that 33 Troops from foreign countries will be coming here.

Many of these visits are being made as a result of contacts made at the World Jamboree in France last year and of friendships that have been made as a result of the "Linking-Up Scheme," by which Troops in this country correspond with Troops abroad.

Several foreign Scouts have been invited to take part in District Scout Weeks being held in many parts of the country to celebrate Scouting's fortieth anniversary.

In addition to all these visits, invitations have been received to send representative contingents from Great Britain to take part in special Scout events abroad. They include:

Iceland—An invitation has been received for a party of 50 Scouts to attend a National Camp at Thingvellir, from 31st July to 11th August.

Switzerland—Two Patrols of six Scouts each have been invited to attend a Federal Camp at Tre-vane, near Lugano, from 6th July to 4th August.

Norway—Two hundred British Scouts have been invited to attend a National Camp at Mandal from 2nd to 12th July.

Austria—Six Patrols are invited to be the guests of Austrian Scouts at camps in various parts of Austria. This invitation is in return for the hospitality extended to the 75 Austrian Scouts who visited this country last year.

Sweden—A Patrol of Scouts is to attend the National Camp at Smaland, South Sweden, from 12th to 21st July.

ITALY—Catholic Rover Scouts have been invited to take part in a Pilgrimage from Assisi to Rome, a hike of 110 miles, to which Scouts from many countries have been invited.

MOTORISTS, STOP BACK OF CROSSWALK!

The Pillar

By GEORGE COCHRANE

If you are interested in acting, photography, stage make-up, singing, dancing, painting, writing or if you can play a musical instrument, there is a newly formed organization which should prove of interest to you, known as the Fine Arts Club Enterprises.

Four fellows are in charge of the organization, namely Mel James, president; Bernard Dube, vice-president; Garry Rudderham, managing director and Gerry Williams, publicity director and they are doing everything "in their power" to make this club of first class calibre.

"Face" as it is commonly known by the executive, started last year after the production of a musical comedy entitled "Let's Do It", written by Gerry Williams, was successfully staged and in which all four members took part, but with Mel James and Bernard Dube leaving for the summer months to take a hitch-hiking tour of the continent, while Gerry Williams and Gary Rudderham took a month's holiday in the Maritimes, the idea was dropped until this year.

Now it is underway, the only drawback being the securing of a permanent hall to hold meetings in, but the executive are going to keep on with the other business at hand, and have already received a number of applications from people who are interested in joining.

A perhaps unique feature of the Club is the fact that only original plays will be put on, in other words plays will be written by members of the Club, produced by them and all cast members will be picked from the members of the organization. Plays are of first importance at the present moment, but later developments may include an orchestra, newspaper and photo finishing shop, as well as possible art exhibitions and other talents which are part and parcel of Fine Arts.

A library has been formed with some fifty books already placed at the member's disposal and this division of the Club will grow larger once a permanent meeting place can be secured. These books will include fiction as well as technical books on acting, photography and stage make-up or other arts which can be expressed through reading matter.

First honorary member of the organization is the widely read David Davidson who's first book, "The Steeper Cliff" was ranked as one of the finest in the United States for 1947 and who is the author of a new novel currently being published by Random House.

The club can only become a huge success if the right co-operation is given by the abundant talent which is next to wasted in this city today for want of an outlet, so if you have a talent or wish to join in and develop a talent, why not send in for an application to either Mel James, 3559 Northcliffe Avenue, N.D.G., or to Garry Rudderham at 3420 Drummond Street, Montreal.

Gertrude Rooney, age 12, Bronze Medalist and one Bar Bronze Dance Medalist, a member of the Montreal Figure Skating Club, is appearing in the Swing Waltz, the Ballet, and will also Solo, during the Fifteenth Annual Carnival of the Montreal Figure Skating Club, which takes place at the Verdun Auditorium, on Saturday afternoon and evening.

Rotarians Hold Huge Tri-District Convention

Montreal Westward, Verdun, and Westmount Rotary Clubs have signified full interest in the Tri-District Conference of the 170th, 171st and 172nd Districts of Rotary International, to be held in Montreal on April 25, 26 and 27, as announced by President E. Campbell Budge, of the Rotary Club of Montreal, sponsoring the Convention. Representatives from all Rotary Clubs which comprise these Rotary Districts will participate in the Conference to discuss ways of increasing the effectiveness of their Rotary service activities.

The principal current activity of the Rotary Club of Montreal is the University Settlement Campaign for $375,000, and projects of the other Clubs are well known locally.

Principal speakers at the Conference will be Rotary International President Kendrick Guernsey and Rotary International Representative Carl E. Bolte.

Mr. Guernsey has been active in boys' work for many years and has been Secretary of the National Boys and Girls Week Committee for the United States since 1933. He is also Florida State President of the United Service Organization.

Concerning his activities in the Rotary Club, Mr. Guernsey was a charter member and is a Past President of the Rotary Club of Orlando, Florida, and is now a member of the Rotary Club of Jacksonville, Florida. He has also served Rotary International as Vice-President, District Governor and as committee chairman and member. He is President of Rotary International for 1947-48.

Carl Bolte was born in Alexandria, Nebraska and was educated at William Jewell College and the University of Missouri. He was a charter member of the Rotary Club of Slater, Missouri, is a Past President of that Club, and is now a member of the Rotary Club of Kansas City, Missouri. He has served Rotary International as Vice-President, Director, District Governor and as committee member. For 1947-48, he is a member of the Finance Committee of Rotary International

A. W. Knowles Funeral Held

Funeral service was held at St. Matthias Church on Saturday afternoon for Arthur Westman Knowles, of 23 de Casson Road, who died suddenly in the Western Division of the General Hospital on Thursday morning. He was in his 56th year.

Well-known in local business, social service and sports circles, Mr. Knowles was born at Longueuil and educated at local schools.

He became a partner of the firm of Stevenson Walker Knowles & Co., with which he has been associated for many years.

Mr. Knowles was a life member of the Montreal Amateur Athletic Association, a charter member and past president of the Optimist Club of Montreal, a director of the Province of Quebec Society for Crippled Children and a past member of the Montreal Council of Service Clubs.

Formerly an alderman of St. Lambert, he belonged to the Longueuil Boating Club and to St. Lambert Lodge, A.F. & A.M. He was also a former member of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of Quebec.

Mr. Knowles is survived by his wife, the former Eunice Beecher Beck, of Kitchener, Ont.; two daughters, Annabel and Judy and two brothers, Lt. Col. Percy M. Knowles, of Montreal and H. Victor Knowles, of St. Lambert.

Rev. Canon Gilbert Oliver and Rev. E. Findlay officiated at the funeral service. Interment took place in Mount Royal Cemetery.

ters to come before the meeting will be the nomination of the three District Governors for the fiscal year of 1948-49, which begins July 1st. The Rotarians selected to succeed the present District Governors will, in each district, take office on July 1, and will become the official representative of Rotary International in the District he represents. He will be formally elected at the Rotary International convention in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, May 18-20, and will thus become an officer of this world-wide service organization which now has 6,400 Rotary Clubs with a membership of 308,000 business and professional executives in 80 countries and geographical regions.

According to President E. Campbell Budge, who is in charge of arrangements for the Conference, the highlight of the three day session will be at the Montreal Forum when the Mendelssohn Choir of Toronto, under the direction of Sir Ernest MacMillan, will present a particularly fine programme.

Y.M.C.A.'S Will Launch World Service Campaign

Marking the 59th anniversary of the overseas program of the North American Y.M.C.A.'s, the Westmount Y. M. C. A. will join others throughout the United States and Canada in observing April as World Service Month.

In making this announcement today, Mr. F. B. Wilson, chairman of the World Service Committee of the Westmount Y.M.C.A., said $110,000 would be sought during the month in a nation wide campaign to finance the Y's extensive program of health and character education abroad.

Local goal of the Y.M.C.A.'s World Service campaign, Mr. Wilson said, is $22,500 of which Westmount Branch will raise $800.

"Through World Service, the 1400 Y.M.C.A.'s of North America have banded together to develop 'Y' activities in 34 of the 74 countries where the movement is active. One of the chief strengths of the 'Y' overseas is its ability to adapt itself to the local needs of the area it serves," Mr. Wilson pointed out.

The way World Service works, Mr. Wilson explained, is to send trained men to other countries to initiate Y.M.C.A. activities such as we have here and to help meet the particular needs of youth in distant lands.

"The idea behind World Service is to help people help themselves," he said. "The men we send out are primarily demonstrators, training others to develop self-supporting organizations. For every one of our men on the foreign field there are now 20 locally-supported professional workers. These, in turn, have enlisted as active youth leaders many thousands of hard-working volunteers. In Manila, for example, volunteers outnumbered professional 'Y' secretaries 50 to one. As teachers, camp counsellors, sports directors, and leaders in vital community services, they are setting a new high standard of unselfish public service."

It is hard to estimate the total number of people being helped through the World Service program, Mr. Wilson said, but he cited China as an example. There, he said, the 142 Y.M.C.A.'s this year benefitted at least two and a half million people by providing a variety of services ranging from night schools to food and clothing relief.

Mrs. Rutherford Funeral Held

Mrs. Rutherford, widow of the late J. George Rutherford, well-known mining engineer in Nova Scotia, died on Friday at her residence, 439 Grosvenor Avenue, after a short illness, and was buried on Monday afternoon in Mount Royal Cemetery, following a funeral service at the chapel of Jos. C. Wray & Bro.

Formerly Maude Carritt, daughter of George Grassie Carritt and Margaret Roach of Halifax, Mrs. Rutherford lived most of her life in Nova Scotia where she was an active member of the Church of England. She also was active in the work of the Canadian Red Cross Society during the First World War and in recognition of her services in Nova Scotia, she was made a life member of the Society.

She came to Montreal several years ago. The late General R. W. Rutherford of Ottawa and Kingston was a brother-in-law. Surviving are three daughters, the Misses Jean, Nora and Margaret; one grandson, John, son of the late Jack Rutherford, who died some years ago; Rev. Morris Taylor, of Hantsport, N. S., brother-in-law; Reynell Taylor, of Weymouth, N. S. and C. Kinnear of Toronto, nephews; Mrs. Duncan Campbell, Miss E. Taylor of Hantsport, N. S., Misses Aline and Cicely Rutherford, Miss M. Kinnear of Ottawa, Lady Milne Home, Mrs. Cathcart and the Misses Emily and Dora Rutherford of Scotland, all nieces.

Rev. Canon Gilbert Oliver officiated at the service.

Juveniles Caught "In The Act"

Two juveniles were arrested on Monday afternoon as they attempted to retrieve a considerable sum of money, stolen from a local store, which had been hidden — and found.

They were taken to the Police Station, questioned and charged with theft and their case was remanded to Thursday.

DRAMATIC CLUB TO PRESENT SPRING SHOW NEXT WEEK

The long-awaited Spring Show of the St. Paul and St. Leo's High School Dramatic Club, which is sponsored by the Catholic Mothers' Club of Westmount, will be presented in St. Leo's School Hall next Friday at 8.30 p.m.

The three plays on the program are: "Backstage", "Great Caesar", and "The Old Sleuth."

A Y.M.C.A. worker in Tondo, tough slum and gangster section of Manila, meets with neighborhood boys in a war-devastated area to plan a clean-up campaign. Philippine Y.M.C.A. activities are gradually transforming this breeding ground of juvenile delinquency into a friendly and co-operative community. Of the 74 countries in which YMCAs exist, the Philippines and 26 others are now being helped by the North American YMCAs through their World Service program.

STAMP CLUB

At the Westmount Stamp Club's regular weekly meeting in the Victoria Hall this week there was a large attendance of members, both senior and junior and most of the evening was devoted to trading and exchange amongst members.

Plans are almost complete for the annual three day exhibition to be held in the Victoria Hall on April 15th, 16th and 17th. The next regular meeting of the club will be held in the Victoria Hall on Thursday. Seniors meet at 8.15 p.m. and Juniors, under 16 years of age, at 7.15 p.m.

Y Notes

The different clubs of the Westmount Y voted unanimously to amalgamate when the winter activities cease, and the summer session of the new organization is expected to get under way within the next few weeks.

Every week, this group plans to meet for a social, recreational or educational meeting and the summer plans include week-end trips to the Laurentians and the Y camps, tennis games, swimming, parties, etc.

The clubs meet regularly and are growing steadily. Badminton of Monday, Wednesday and Friday; bridge on Tuesday and Thursday; public speaking on Tuesday; play reading on Tuesday and music appreciation on Thursday.

PUTTERS' CLUB

The Westmount Putters Social Club held a games evening in the Victoria Hall on Easter Monday evening. Table tennis, Chinese checkers and bridge were played and a shuffleboard tournament was run off during the night. Each game in the Shuffleboard was keenly contested and Mr. P. R. Minto and Mr. P. Warner finally emerged as the champions.

The next regular meeting of the Club will be held in the Victoria Hall on Monday. There will be movies and refreshments will be served by the ladies.

ST. MATTHIAS A.Y.P.A. TO HEAR TALK ON AFRICA

Mrs. J. F. Morris will give a short talk on "Stories of Africa", in the Parish Hall of St. Matthias Church on Sunday at 8.30 p.m., to the A.Y.P.A. and the stewards who are helping with the African booth for the Cavalcade of Christendom.

Three Arrested Charged With Attempted Theft

As result of a complaint to police by a local resident on Sunday evening, three men were taken into custody and charged with attempted theft.

Westmount Police received a telephone call late in the evening, from Miss Anne Dunlea, who resides at 729 Upper Lansdowne Ave., that three men had attempted to steal her purse as she was walking on Greene Ave, near Selby St.

Lt. R. Williams and Const. K. Harrison responded to the call, searched the vicinity and located three men on St. James St. Miss Dunlea identified them as the men who attempted to steal her purse and they were arrested.

Charged with attempted theft from a person, they appeared in Recorder's Court on Tuesday and elected jury trial. They were arraigned in Montreal Court before Judge Almond and will appear for preliminary inquiry on Tuesday. Bail in each case was set at $950.

The three men were identified as Roger Masse, age 18, of Rimouski, Que., Roland Martin, 22, of St. Johns, Que. and Donat Guilbeault, 23, of Riviere des Prairies.

RUSSIA'S AMBITION, WORLD DOMINATION?

Dr. Sun Fo, Vice-President of China, was reported by the Nanking Central Daily News on Mar. 16 to have declared in an interview that he is now convinced that the Soviet Union is bent on world domination.

When he visited the Soviet Union in 1939, Dr. Sun said he had the impression that Russia's suspicion of other countries was due to security reasons. Events since the end of World War II convinced him that the expansion policy adopted by the Soviet Union is in line with her ambition to Sovietize the whole world.

After pointing out that the Soviet Union's present tactics is to apply military force wherever possible, Dr. Sun called attention to the fact that Russia has already gained control of half of Europe. In countries where force cannot be used directly, she tries to back up the Communists there in overthrowing the government, he added.

Commending on the Sino-Soviet pact of 1945, Dr. Sun Fo said: "China concluded the treaty at great sacrifice in order to achieve friendly relations with the Soviet Union so that she can proceed with her internal reconstruction." In his opinion, it would be futile to try to urge the Soviet Union to fulfill her obligations under the present circumstances. He predicted this deplorable situation will continue for some time to come.

MILK FOR EUROPE'S CHILDREN

Unless milk is brought in on a scale far greater than at present, hundreds of thousands of European infants and children will be forced to go without this important food-stuff, M. E. Hays has informed officials of the Canadian Appeal for Children. He is agricultural economist for the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund and has just returned after a detailed study of the milk situation in Czechoslovakia, France, Italy and Poland.

The loss to dairy herds in many European countries, as a result of the war and last year's drought, has been so great that it will take years for indigenous supplies to be brought back to even the pre-war level, reports indicate.

The Children's Fund is currently shipping large quantities of milk to Europe where it is operating feeding programs for some 4,000,000 children in 12 countries, including the four visited by Mr. Hays.

To date, 40 million pounds of dried whole and dried skim milk have been transported. Most of the milk was purchased in Canada and the United States.

Mr. Hays has recommended that the Fund make every effort to procure the maximum amount of dried milk to help meet the most pressing needs. In that procurement he has urged that special emphasis be put on getting dried whole milk for infant feeding.

"These countries need milk as never before because it's life-saving as far as many of the sick and hungry children are concerned," he stressed.

WINNING EUROPE WITH FOOD

Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., Chairman of the Share Through CARE Committee announced the other day an urgent fund-raising campaign to send "a flood of CARE packages" to the peoples of France and Italy for immediate distribution.

Fairbanks said the new drive of the Share Through CARE Committee is in line with the policy begun last year of concentrating attention on special areas. He referred to the committee's "Princess Elizabeth Wedding Gift" project, which sent 10,000 CARE parcels to needy British widows, as a wedding gift to Princess Elizabeth.

Calling upon the Canadian people to send contributions, in any amount, to the Share Through CARE Committee through Canadian CARE, at 193 Sparks Street, Ottawa, Fairbanks said the funds will be amassed into ten-dollar units, each of which will deliver a 22 pound CARE food package to a needy family.

Paul C. French, executive director of CARE, just returned from Europe, said that CARE is prepared to make immediate delivery of the parcels, from its warehoused stockpiles in France or Italy.

Explaining that CARE, a non-profit, government-approved organization, is also non-political in its distribution, French said the recipients of the parcels would be selected by the welfare agencies comprising the membership of CARE, on the basis of need.

"A great flood of parcels now from individuals here to other individuals in, say Italy, would go far to strengthen a hope which is waning fast for lack of vitality — vitality of spirit as well as body.

BOOK REVIEW By H. S. Ross

"HELL'S PARADISE"

By Hjalmar Rutzebeck

Author of "Alaska Man's Luck" and "My Alaska Idyll."

Publishers: Ryerson Press, Toronto, Canada. Pages 223. Price $2.50.

This is a moving story of depression days when the world had crumbled around millions of people and unemployed outcast Americans from all walks of life found themselves deprived of earning and spending.

Two men, one, Svend Norman, woodsman from Alaska, and Paul Rhodes, former high official in General Electric, saw their country in distress. Burning their bridges behind them, they sought a new way of life. They found the path amazingly interesting, exacting to the utmost, and unbelievably thorny. "Hell's Paradise" tells the story of how they sought to help their country. It is a dramatic and colorful story, part fiction, part true. It is about people and about the amazing adaptability, resource and goodness of common folk. It is about the new light that grew in their eyes when they learned how to help one another. Those who have had the pleasure of reading "Alaska Man's Luck" will enjoy the author's new book.

The book is a plea for giving people the opportunity to help themselves rather than to live on the dole. They feel very strongly that the less bureaucracy the better. In the chapter "A Bureaucrat Explains Bureaucracy" the author wrote: "A bureaucracy is a strange and complex thing. Congress passes a law; to carry out the law, a bureaucrat is made. He is not an average man — usually he is below average. In this country the average man takes on a profession and makes good at it. Our bureaucrat has failed somewhere; I ought to know, I have been working out of Washington for thirty-five years. . .

After the gets his job, he has another job keeping it. He has to make friends with Senators and Congressmen, do little favors for them, and when his own job is threatened he stirs up some politics and gets himself another bureau. There are useless office-holders here in Washington who have drawn big salaries for years without doing a single stroke of work. The longer an administration stays in, the more idle and expensive they become.

Our only protection is an occasional change of administration. That sweeps out a lot of old chaff and gets some new blood into government. Bureaucracy is like Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde. It is good and evil at the same time. The good part goes out and serves the people — that's you, my friend. The evil stays in the office and makes the rules. The field man does the work, learns what's needed, while the office man gets the credit and the promotion. The office man who does nothing but routine jobs, says nothing unless he's asked, and nods wisely when the boss speaks, is the one who holds his job."

In the closing chapter "Two Steps Backward", he wrote: "By keeping three million bread-winners on non-productive jobs, our nation is taking a loss of thirty million dollars each working day. When we add the thousands of professional people who cannot operate because working on dole have money only for the barest necessities, the daily loss amounts to at least fifty million dollars' worth of goods and services every single working day.

"A psychiatrist reported that the mental health of the nation was deteriorating. His regular clients were mostly among the wealthy, but he was often called in by his county health board to prescribe for mental disorders among recipients of relief. There is nothing to look forward to when you are on relief. That is an old proverb: 'Man lives not by bread alone.' It is one of the fundamental bits of wisdom our Administration seems to have forgotten. Man lives mostly on hope. Take away hope and he dies.

Man's progress has always seemed painfully slow to the idealist. Four millenniums at least have passed since Moses came down from Mount Sinai with the Ten Commandments that have become the basic law to most men and nations. It is two millenniums since Christ gave the sermon on the Mount.

It would seem that in man's upward climb there are three steps forward in new constructive effort to two steps backward in painful despair."

Stalin Uses Hitler's Methods

By LEWIS MILLIGAN

If the democratic peoples outside of the Iron Curtain were not so worried they would break into a united burst of laughter at some of the broadcasts from Moscow. The latest of these came in the form of a radio commentary on the five western European powers' treaty of military alliance drafted at Brussels on March 12. A news dispatch reported the comment thus:

"Moscow radio immediately attacked the treaty, asserting it would lack 'either legal force or international authority' because the people of the countries concerned were not consulted."

It shouldn't be necessary to explain a joke, but the comicality of this one seems to have escaped most people, or perhaps they recall having heard it in various forms from the same quarter and from Communists here at home. These latter have frequently appealed to the law and demanded their "rights" under the Constitution — the very law and Constitution which they are forever denouncing and would abolish if they got the chance. But coming from Moscow, this appeal to democratic law and international authority is too funny for words. By what human law or international authority did the Soviet annex the Balkan states, and by what authority does it hold in thrall Poland, Hungary, Western Germany, and now Czechoslovakia and Finland — to say nothing of Northern Korea? Were the "people of the countries concerned consulted"?

The Soviet leaders should be the very last to talk about consulting the people, for they consult nobody but themselves and their insatiable greed for dictatorship. To them the people are as cattle to be driven and beasts of burden to carry out their perpetual five-year-plans, for which there is no hope of reward in this world or the next.

In the light of what has and is now happening in Eastern Europe, everything we said about Hitler applies with even greater force and truth to Stalin. Everything we declared we were fighting for in the last war has gone with the wind, and Stalin has taken over the role of the man we blasted from the stage. That is a monstrous practical joke on the human race, and it isn't a bit funny. It is a burlesque on the story of the Good Samaritan. The man who fell among thieves has himself turned bandit.

Personally I was never in favor of our going to the aid of Russia, and when I first heard the news that Churchill and Roosevelt had decided to make common cause with the Soviet I instinctively felt that a tragic mistake had been made. Stalin had already made a pact with Hitler to divide the spoils of fallen Europe; they were both international gangsters, and when we had finally disposed of one of them the other immediately turned on the prostrate victim.

And now we are displaying more fear of Stalin than we did of Hitler, and well we might, for we are faced with a more astute and sinister enemy of world peace. The Soviet has not only a fully mobilized military force that could sweep across Europe at a moment's notice, but it also has highly organized and trained fifth columns prepared to seize political power in every country in the world. Fortunately we are now fully awake to the peril. The people of the United States are not on the sidelines this time; they are in the arena and full of fight, and they have the atomic bomb. That is the only thing that Stalin fears. He has no fear of the United Nations, for his use of the veto has rendered that body powerless to come to any decision or to take any action not endorsed by the Soviet delegate.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

TRIBUTE TO H. S. ROSS

To the Editor,
Dear sir:

Some time ago you announced the retirement of a columnist and public speaker, Howard S. Ross, K.C.

I have waited for an abler pen than mine to pay tribute to his splendid work of the past. His writings, philosophy and wonderful range of oratory have, I am sure, inspired thousands to a better outlook on life.

May the eventide of life be to him a happy one, content with the reflections of a life well spent, echoed by a host of admirers of his endeavours.

Yours sincerely,
W. E. GILBERT,

Disastrous Fires Bring Safety League Warning

Alarmed by the many disastrous fires which have occurred recently in Montreal and throughout the province, the Province of Quebec Safety League points out that a goodly number of these fires have been created by tossing away lighted matches, cigars or cigarettes.

Smokers should make certain matches and cigarette butts are out before being tossed away. If smokers would only think for one moment the disastrous consequences which may result through such negligence which cause most of the destructive fires each year, they undoubtedly would be more careful, added the League.

The League also reminds mothers that matches should be placed in a tin box and well out of reach of children who should be taught the dangers of playing with matches.

In connection with this safety drive, two articles from Westmount Traffic Bylaw No. 501 are printed below:

Article 17 states that: "A driver shall yield the right of way to any pedestrian who is crossing the roadway within a marked crosswalk or within an unmarked crosswalk at an intersection."

"Whenever a vehicle is stopped or slowed down at a marked crosswalk or at an intersection to enable a pedestrian to cross the roadway, it shall be unlawful for a driver approaching from the rear to overtake and pass such vehicle."

Article 18 states that: "No pedestrian shall cross any street except on a crosswalk. No pedestrian shall loiter while crossing a street. Every driver shall reduce speed at a crosswalk. At a protected intersection, no pedestrian shall proceed except in accordance with the traffic signal."

It is the duty of every citizen to co-operate!

obligation to the community. This is the function of public relations—to create understanding, to promote good will between business and people.

"Our forefathers came to Canada so that they might improve their lot; they carved for themselves the right and opportunity to prosper and succeed to the full limit of their capabilities. They would think ill of us if we fail to meet our responsibility . . . and get about the business of sweeping prejudice, intolerance and isms out of our lives," he concluded.

"Is the 'Real Presence' of Christ actually real?" Is this talk of Christ's being with His people imaginary? Or is it merely subjective, something that exists only in the mind of the individual? Or is it objective? The Quality of the Lives we live, the Measure of the Devotion we manifest and the Worth of the Service we Render, are all dependent on the answer to this question, and will be the Theme of the Morning Sermon in Westmount Baptist Church.

The Church Bible School meets at 9.45 a.m. This department of the Church's life is thoroughly organized, efficiently staffed and affords to pupils from the Nursery through the rising grades into Adult Life an adequate programme of Biblical Education.

Church of the Advent

An Easter Carol service is to be given as a special feature of the Easter Religious Festival at the Church of the Advent at 7 p.m. on Sunday.

This service is as much a religious drama as an act of worship. A notable characteristic of the service is the gradual increase of light from the dim twilight at the commencement to the full blaze of illumination as the choir sings the carol "Now is the hour of darkness past, Christ the Lord is risen." The finale is the procession to the font, where a station is made, and the return to the Sanctuary of the Choristers and Servers, each bearing a lighted candle. The service closes with the Benediction.

Christian Science

"Unreality" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday.

The Golden Text is from Job 15:31 "Let not him that is deceived trust in vanity; for vanity shall be his recompense."

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible:

"Wherefore do ye spend money for that which is not bread? and your labour for that which satisfieth not? hearken diligently unto me, and eat ye that which is good, and let your soul delight itself in fatness. Happy is he that hath the God of Jacob for his help, whose hope is in the Lord his God." (Isaiah 55:2 and Psalms 146:5).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Constable Darlington is well known in Notre Dame de Grace, being attached to No. 23 Police Station.

The bride will be given in marriage by Mr. J. Morin. Mr. Harold Darlington will act as groomsmen for his brother.

Following the ceremony a reception will be held at the home of the bride's parents.

AGRICULTURE EXPANDING IN INDIA

Work has begun in United Provinces, Northern India, on bringing under the plow 50,000 acres of jungle and grassland.

Altogether 250,000 acres of wasteland are to be cultivated in the Ganga-Khadar and Tarai regions of the United Provinces.

The scheme is part of an Indian Government campaign to put more land to cultivation in an endeavor to bridge the gap between food needs and supplies.

Decoratively Speaking

By FRANCIS JAMES

Dear Miss James:

We recently moved into a new house and are having it redecorated throughout. I am enclosing a sketch of the room which will be used for my son. I am particularly anxious to make it as attractive as possible as he will be going to College next year and will have to use it for a study as well as a bedroom.

As you can see, the room is L-shaped, which I thought made it particularly good for a combination study and bedroom. The window on the short side faces south, the one on the long side west, so there is plenty of light.

I'm going to have to start from scratch in gathering furniture as his former room was very small and contained only a bed, dresser and bedside table. In addition, he needs a new bed. He says he would like bunk-beds—but aren't these for smaller children? I plan to get a desk and a bookcase or two which should fill up some space.

I would appreciate any suggestions you might have as to the bunk-beds, wallpaper, curtains, floor covering and furniture arrangements. Mrs.R.M.

Dear Mrs. R. M.:

If your son wants bunk beds, I strongly suspect that he will have bunk-beds in spite of anything you or I might have to say about it. And they are quite big enough for adults.

Whatever kind of bed you choose, however, I would definitely make one side of the "L" into a study, the other into a bedroom. And since your bedroom furniture is on the scanty side, I would use the short side for your bedroom furnishings.

Regarding the study section of the room—why not have a look at some of the very smart sectional furniture now being shown? The smooth, clean-cut lines of this furniture would look very well in a young boy's room. And you wouldn't have to worry about what would go with that. You could buy a desk now, a bookcase later and so on, knowing that all the pieces will line up with one another.

As to wallpaper—since the room is to be a study as well as a bedroom, I would avoid getting a bedroom paper. It should however, be a restful paper. Since your room has plenty of light, I would suggest you use one of the popular plaid or weave designs in blues, or greens, on a beige background.

For draperies, I think a smart choice would be monk's cloth in plain beige. This could be used, also, in the bedspread.

TO SPRING

by

Bluebell Stewart Phillips

Beside a merry little brook
Hidden in a sunny nook,
Lazy spring fell fast asleep
Her feet in water cool and deep:

Nor listened to the magic spell

Breathed as evening shadows fell.

Alas! Alack! Morning found
Spring a prisoner—ice-bound!

BRIDES

In Woonsocket, R. I., two Jeanette Peloquin Days became married at the same time on the same day. They were not related and did not know each other.

Maternity — Nursery Ctte. Expands Welfare Activities

The St. Mary's Hospital Maternity and Nursery Committee are constantly faced with the problem of obtaining funds to carry on their indispensable work, and endeavor in many ways to find means to supplement their revenue without constantly appealing to the same generous subscribers. To this end the members yesterday held a business meeting, followed by a tea, at the home of Mrs. J. O. Asselin, 27 Rosemount Avenue, Westmount, when plans were discussed for a rummage sale to be held May 4 at St. Anthony's Parish Hall, 1887 St. Antoine Street. Mrs. William J. McNally addressed the meeting, giving the committee suggestions on the technique of running such sales. Mrs. Donald McLeod, President of the Maternity and Nursery Committee, presided.

Fine Record of Service

For more than 10 years St. Mary's Maternity and Nursery Committee have been actively assisting with the welfare work of St. Mary's Hospital. In addition to organizing the Child Guidance clinic in 1943, the first to be opened in connection with a hospital in Montreal, they have expanded their various other voluntary services.

Early in the war they saw the need of supplying hospital aids to the maternity floor to relieve the acute shortage of nurses. This proved so successful and the need still so great that the Superintendent of the Hospital requested the service continued and extended by other committees, throughout the hospital.

In the Out Patient Department, the Committee provides dependable workers who render valuable assistance by taking case histories, acting as receptionist and assisting with the filing in the Maternity clinic.

The dental clinic, which was temporarily discontinued, will be resumed shortly and volunteers are ready and on call.

No member need be idle. For those who cannot attend the hospital there is always sewing and knitting to do at home for the preparation of layettes, which are distributed by the Social Service Department.

Housekeeping Service

An emergency service which the group has been called upon to perform, at the request of the social worker, is that of providing the necessary funds to pay for housekeepers in needy homes. As an example: last summer, when the more fortunate were enjoying the sunshine, a distressed call came to the Executive. A ward patient, who had given birth to triplets, was faced with the problem, upon her return at home, of caring for the new born babies in addition to four other small children. Being unable, herself to secure

CHEERFUL

Jones was in bed with a severe chill when his friend Brown called on him to cheer him up. After passing the usual sympathetic remarks, Brown's eyes wandered around the room and came to rest at the doorway.

"Whatever are you looking for, old man?" asked Jones.

"Nothing," said Brown. "I was just thinking how dashed awkward it would be to get a coffin out of here."

help of any kind, the Maternity and Nursery Committee paid the wages of a part time housekeeper for six weeks.

A Find At "The Shop"

C.S.L.
Gift Shop

Trust the C.S.L. Gift Shop, 1480 Sherbrooke St. W. to have something unusual, such as the ivory-white wooden individually hand-carved sandwich cocktail spears, made in Portugal. They are $2.75 for 100, coming in four individually wrapped packages of twenty five, each package having a different design. This is just the kind of gift a hostess would like to receive. News, News, the new Lansea sweaters have arrived, and ladies when you see these dreams you will not be able to resist taking the set. They are the lovely fine angora wools that Lansea made famous, coming in all the pastel combination colors, like the Teal blue pullover with coral and very small yellow stripes, having short sleeves, for $11.00 and the cartigan in the solid blue shade for $14.00. There is also the plain Lansea pure wool pull over in pastel shades, having a full fashioned sleeve for $10.50. These sweaters are really something to talk about, just what one needs under a suit. The "SHOP" is always producing something out of the ordinary, and this time it is an English leather brief case, in tan, very executive looking for $29.50, and guaranteed to take all the knocks that this type usually gets, and still retain it's good looks. Dorothy Costigan whose office is at the C.S.L. Gift Shop was showing me a very intriguing folder of the Northern Navigation cruises of the C.S.Lines, on the great lakes. This folder shows the time table for boat and train from Toronto to Duluth and return, and also the steamer fare. If you are interested 'Phone Miss Costigan WI. 7403 and she will forward a folder.

Things Chinese

In case there may be some people still under the idea that the Morgan Trust Gallery on City Councillor Street is used for holding auction sales, I would like to say this practice has been discontinued some time ago, and in it's place has been assembled the finest collection of modern and antique furniture to be found in Montreal, all in perfect order. Here are a few of the many items I admired. A part down three piece raspberry colored chesterfield set for $325.00. It is a large size, with good lines. Here is an idea for one who may be interested in a wedding gift. A solid mahogany nest of tables, the bottom table having a glass tray, for only $37.50, this set is in perfect condition, and would be ideal for a small home. The size is 25 1/2"x15". The next would be only for a very large room, or hall and definitely is a collector's item. It is a pair of Chinese lamps, which have been electrified, and are at least 125 years old, with a parchment shade, the lamp being set on a teak-wood base, for $225.00. . . . Another art treasure is a Chinese Chippendale hand made mahogany curio or china cabinet. This is one of the most beautiful pieces of it's kind that I have ever seen. It is not too large and could fit very nicely in a small room. The price, $350.00. If you have been looking for a lamp table, be sure and see the pie crusted, mahogany finished table here, with Duncan Fife legs, for $16.50. Here is a price that can not be matched in Montreal. An easy way to find this treasure house, is to leave the bus at University St. and walk two streets East, and just a few steps down City Councillor St. and you are there.

Ensure Your Nest Egg

At this time of year many young ladies are thinking of their approaching business careers. The receipt of one's first pay envelope is often followed by a spending spree, with the buying of all the incidentals that a girl has had in mind for some time. After the first thrill has passed the wise young lady gives some thought to the future. There are many ways of saving but personally I found a twenty year Endowment insurance policy to be one of the best investments I ever made. When I paid the first premium, twenty years of waiting ahead seemed an eternity, but when a cheque for a thousand dollars plus the accumulated dividends was delivered to me I could hardly believe my good fortune. It came at a time of life when I was able to appreciate what a nest egg could mean to me. By reinvesting this money I have now doubled my original savings, due to a well informed Sun Life agent who, in those early years, planned my savings for me. After telling this story to Lawrence Cross, the Sun Life representative, he told me about a newer plan that is ideal for the business girl. Under this plan you don't have to wait for twenty years to collect; $200 is paid after ten years and a further $200 at the end of fifteen years, without affecting the value of the policy in the event of death. Balance is paid after twenty years. Any business girl wishing further information about this excellent means of providing a nest egg should call Mr. Cross at EL. 5459 or PL. 3131.

Rev. Joseph and Mrs. Muchan To Speak at W.M.S. Meeting

Rev. and Mrs. Muchan, of Jhansi, India, are scheduled to give an interesting and enlightening lecture with moving pictures, showing their work, Indian costumes and curios on Tuesday, April 6th, at 3 p.m.

Mrs. Muchan was born in Brantford, Ont., and graduated from Brantford Collegiate and Toronto Bible College. Since 1940, she served with her husband, Mr. Muchan, in the Canadian Presbyterian Mission at Jhansi, India.

Rev. Mr. Joseph Muchan was born in Paisley, Scotland, educated in the public schools there and also a graduate of the University of Western Ontario and of Knox College, Toronto. He worked for ten years in a factory in Hamilton, before going to college.

Mr. Muchan has served as student pastor in Prince Edward Island, Saskatchewan and Ontario. Since 1940, he has served with Mrs. Muchan in the Canadian Presbyterian Mission in Jhansi, India, in city and village evangelism and teaching in the Bible School.

The Muchans have excellent coloured moving pictures of their work and very interesting Indian costumes and many curios.

Have You Wash Day Blues?

Is this the way you feel on wash days, bending over with megrim headaches? If so there is relief to be had by taking RONDEAU'S MEDICINE. So much has been said about the wonderful results that have been experienced by those who have taken this medicine that there seems to be no end to it's healing powers. . . . I was talking to the nurse at Dr. Rondeau's recently and she was telling me how for years she had been a constant sufferer from megrim headaches, which very often prevented her from leaving the house, until Dr. Rondeau prevailed upon her to try his medicine, which she did, and continues to take from time to time, with the result that her headaches are a thing of the past. Dr. Martin Rondeau has now opened a store at 390a Victoria Ave. Westmount, Que. near Sherbrooke St., for the convenience of the many people who are anxious to try this tonic which contains 16 different ingredients including herbs and vitamins A and D. This tonic aids in purifying the blood, clears the respiratory tract, and will eliminate diseases of the skin. It is non-narcotic, non habit-forming, and is registered and approved by the Dominion Government at Ottawa. Many have found this medicine very helpful in cases of Eczema and kidney trouble. COUNSEL CHANGE

By nature, Man is a conservative animal. He resists change—not consciously, but simply from the assumption that what he has always done must be o.k., if it hasn't caused him any noticeable harm.

But Science knows that change is necessary, at certain stages of life, for health safety. The very pace of living must be slowed down, and there are some things we can't continue to do—with benefit. Canadian public health authorities suggest a chat with the family doctor in order to obtain advice on when a change in living habits is advisable.

Many politicians who start out to name names wind up just calling them.

"Open" Borstal Plan Tried For English Girl Offenders

How do Kentish parklands and life in an Elizabethan mansion stake up with prison cell and high brick walls as deterrents to crime in young women?

The answer to this problem is being worked out in practice at Sutton Park, near Maidstone, England, where Miss Elsie Hooker has charge of a house set in 85 acres of farm and parkland. Twenty-three girl residents form part of Britain's most modern experiment in corrective training.

Women's Auxiliary List Tea Guests

The officers and members of the Executive Committee of the Women's Auxiliary of the Jewish General Hospital will entertain Dr. Roma Gans at tea, following her address to the Auxiliary on Wednesday, at 3 p.m. at the Mount Royal Hotel.

Mrs. Allan Bronfman, Jr., and her committee are in charge of the tea arrangements.

Among those invited to attend are Professor John Hughes, Mr. J. W. Perks, Mr. H. J. C. Darragh, Mr. T. Somerville, Mr. R. Japp, Mr. H. G. Hatcher, Miss E. Eaton, Miss Grace Gardner, Miss Catherine MacKenzie, Mr. R. A. Paterson, Miss M. C. Hay, Mr. J. N. Steven, Mr. G. H. Heslam, Mr. R. O. Bartlett, Miss Agnes Mathews, Dr. Frances Alexander, Mr. J. M. S. Wiseman, Mr. J. Zipper, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Leibowitz, Mr. C. I. Essrogg, and Mr. M. I. Mendelson.

The guests will be received by Mrs. Ezra Lozinski, president of the Auxiliary.

MISS SAUNDERS: Trend-setter.

Tired of wearing your long bob the same old way?

Try the Hollywood trick of winding one front section of hair into a bun.

Ready to guide your fingers is Nancy Saunders, whose hair-do, created for "It Had to Be You," has started a style.

While hair is still damp from a shampoo, Nancy says to part it on the right side. The left section of hair, which is to be wound into a bun, is swung forward toward the face. To set hair for the bun, make two huge pin curls. On the right side, Nancy says to part hair just back of the ears and roll up ends to make curls. Back hair is set to make large pin-ups, as big as spoons, according to Nancy. When thoroughly dry she combs hers out to make hair fall gracefully over the neck.

When you take down pin-ups on the right side, Nancy tells you to use a comb to hold this section high and away from the hairline. The left section is brushed out and arranged to make a well-contoured bun. Secure the bun firmly to the side of the head with hairpins.

Two-pants suits are reported more plentiful—and they're mighty handy for the family.

Here the "open" Borstal system is being tried out. Dark cell and jagged-topped walls disappear. Honor and loyalty are built up to take their place. The girls are mostly from broken homes, whose parents have separated. Some are orphans brought up in institutions where they have not known the love of father or mother. Crimes include larceny, shoplifting, and housebreaking with violence—usually the results of ganging up with other boys and girls seeking outlet for youthful high spirits.

The house and the park are "open." The girls, who may wander in the grounds unaccompanied are hand-picked for the early stages of the experiment. Those thought likely to respond to treatment are sent there from Holloway prison for women.

The experiment is in its infancy. It is early to judge of results. But nothing could be further removed from the cowed listlessness of girls in detention than the happy buoyancy and enthusiasm of Sutton Park residents. Two girls have already been released and secured jobs in the neighborhood. They come back for visits to the Park.

It is because they have had no feeling of security, no sense that they are important as individuals, such as they get at Sutton Park, that they ended up in court, Miss Hooker feels.

Paul Edwards Creates New Edwardian Look

By GERALDINE SIMPSON

When Miss Gibson, the manager of the Elizabeth Arden Salon, at Robert Simpson's asked me to lunch to meet Mr. Paul Edwards from London, England, who is the chief hair stylist for all Elizabeth Arden Salons, I naturally expected to meet a middle aged man, with a superior air; instead I met a tall, very good looking young man with dark wavy hair, and a keen sense of humour. Mr. Edwards was six years in the R.A.F. and since the war has been spending his time visiting the Arden Salons on both sides of the Atlantic.

When I asked him how the Englishwoman was meeting the new fashions, he replied, "Well she can't, all she can do is to let down the hems of her frocks, because she has only twenty coupons for her entire wardrobe, and a suit takes 16, so what can she do?" . . . The new Edwardian hair cut that Mr. Edwards introduced last week in Montreal, is very flattering, in that it brings back the short hair cut, with a small bang, or a fringe, as the English call it. Then the hair is brought up over the ears, with the back hair being softly curled close to the head.

Mr. Edwards is now visiting the New York Salon where he will introduce this style. Shortly before leaving England, he gave the Duchess of Kent the Edwardian hair cut. So ladies if you want the latest in hair do, you may have it by visiting the Elizabeth Arden Salon, at Simpson's.

JOINT EFFORT

In time of war, Canadians learned that there is nothing like a common objective to draw people together. In peace, the Dominion is seeking to perpetuate that spirit of comradeship through mutual enterprise by inspiring interest in community activities and in community centres. Stimulation of recreational, artistic and even musical activities of our people is calculated to promote health and to give everyone a sense of real participation in a richer community life.

NDG Women's Club Plans A Member's Day Programme

At an open meeting of the Notre Dame de Grace Women's Club to be held on Friday, April 2nd, at 3 o'clock, in Victoria Hall, under the chairmanship of Mrs. J. H. Maude, the president Mrs. Norman B. Muir will welcome the guests.

The members' day programme will offer a variety of interest with over fifty members taking part. The following groups will appear on the programme:

Civics Group, under the chairmanship of Mrs. W. M. Hick, will give a panel discussion on 'The Curtis Report on Housing'.

A selection of songs will be rendered by the newly formed choir, under the direction of Mrs. R. Uden, with Mrs. S. S. Beamish as accompanist. This section of the programme is viewed with anticipation as this will be the first occasion in which the Club has had a Choir.

Dressmaking Group will model the dresses they made for themselves, under the supervision of Mrs. C. Miess.

Drama Group will present a one act comedy entitled "Charade", by Philip Johnson, under the direction of Mrs. L. Campbell.

Tea will be served by the House and Hospitality Committee with Mrs. R. H. Grant, as tea hostess, Mrs. A. E. Watts, and Mrs. J. M. Purcell will pour tea. The following members of the committee taking charge are as follows: Mrs. G. M. Douglas, Mrs. O. W. Miess, Mrs. D. R. Sutherland, Mrs. F. Phillips, Mrs. H. S. Marion, Mrs. F. R. Ames, Mrs. W. Redfern, Mrs. A. F. Bull and Mrs. G. D. Mackay. Guest tickets may be used.

TRAINED BY BARBARA ANN'S COACH

Frances and Wilma Jauch, 3495 Van Horne Avenue, well-known local skaters, trained in November last year at the Minto Club in Ottawa under Coach Sheldon Galbraith, will be featured performers in the Montreal Figure Skating Club Annual Carnival to be held at the Verdun Auditorium on Saturday. They are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. William Jauch and both hold Bronze and Silver medals with bars and are nearing the Gold medal test. Both have held the Wilson Trophy awarded annually for the most improved skater in the Montreal Figure Skating Club.

Young Scots Woman Is M. P. For Aberdeen Constituency

Lady Grant, youngest member in the British House of Commons, has to combine two big jobs — being mother to two schoolgirls, and Conservative Member of Parliament for Aberdeen South, fishing port way up on the East coast of Scotland.

"Usually our holidays coincide," Lady Grant said, "but when Parliament sits during school vacation, the two children have to come to London and life gets more hectic than usual."

Joanna and Margaret Anne, 10 and 12 years old, are usually at boarding school in Scotland while Parliament is in session. Lady Grant gets away once in two weeks to her constituency, and for a glimpse of the children. She has a small house about 20 miles outside Aberdeen which is shut except when she goes there for week ends.

Traveling all Thursday night from London to Aberdeen, Lady Grant devotes Friday to meeting her constituents — fishermen and factory workers of Aberdeen. The district is almost entirely industrial and urban. There is no agriculture. The 62,000 people on the electoral roll work either in the fishing fleets, or in the light engineering factories. They make machinery, diesel oil engines for the fishing fleet, and export tweeds, paper, and granite.

On Sunday evening Lady Grant

MAKING CANDLES

Miss Leontine Eisewerth, of Young, Sask., is the only candle-maker in western Canada. She operates a candle factory founded by Father L. H. Shirley, priest of her parish at Young. Fr. Shirley first started making candles in the rectory with the hope of relieving the parish debt. His hopes were not realized and Miss Eisewerth took over in 1946. She uses a former grain elevator engine room for the factory and a filtering plant designed by Fr. Shirley is in the basement of his church.

has to return by sleeper to London ready for another week in Westminster. Incidentally this is the title of a weekly BBC feature, summarizing events in Parliament, Lady Grant who is an able speaker, was chosen to do this talk recently.

Dr. Roma Gans To Address Women

Dr. Roma Gans, Professor of Education, Teachers' College, Columbia University, will address a general meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Jewish General Hospital, on Wednesday at 3 p.m. at the Mount Royal Hotel.

As a teacher, supervisor and assistant superintendent of schools, Dr. Gans has had contacts with children of all ages, their teachers, parents, social agencies and the general public. From these broad contacts she developed a concern for a programme of education in all schools which would help children and adults to face the important problems of living.

Dr. Gans has emphasized that if this focus on meeting life problems is adequately met, individual, community, national and international life is improvement for all.

Mrs. Ezra Lozinski will preside.

Soups Give Nourishment

Soups with milk, vegetables and fat provide low-cost protein, vitamins and a sense of eating well. That "good eating" sense is important in menus restricted by the high cost of many familiar foods.

Here are two good soups from Fannie Engle's practical cookbook.

POTATO AND PARSLEY SOUP (Serves 4)

Three medium-sized potatoes, 3 cups boiling water, $\frac{3}{4}$ teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon minced onion, 1 tablespoon butter or other fat, $1\frac{1}{2}$ tablespoons flour, 3 tablespoons chopped parsley, 2 cups fluid milk or equal parts evaporated milk and water, salt, pepper.

Wash, pare and dice potatoes; cook until tender in the water with the salt. Put potatoes through a ricer or sieve; save the water. Pan-fry onion in butter or other fat; stir in flour and blend well, add 2 cups potato water and stir until smooth. Add the potatoes, parsley and milk. Heat. Add salt and pepper to taste. Serve at once.

CORN CHOWDER

(Serves 4-6)

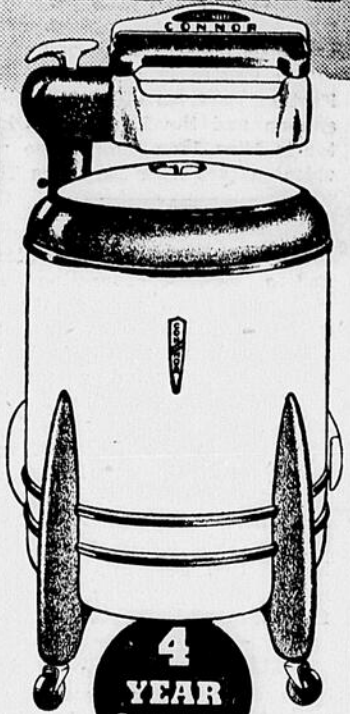

One-half cup finely diced potatoes, $\frac{1}{4}$ cup diced celery, 3 cups boiling water, 2 tablespoons chopped onion, 2 tablespoons butter or other fat, 1 cup chopped fresh or canned corn, $\frac{1}{4}$ cup tomato juice, salt, pepper, 1 cup evaporated milk.

Cook potatoes and celery in boiling water until tender. Do not strain. Fry onion in butter or other fat until yellow and add to potatoes and celery. Add corn, tomato juice and seasonings. Cook slowly 15 minutes. Add milk and bring to boiling point. (The tomato juice may be omitted.)

Lions Club Seeks Cottage For Girls' Summer Resort

Co-operates With Girls' Counselling Centre To Provide Needs Of Teen-Age Employed Girls

Though most Service Clubs interest themselves in Boys' Work comparatively few find any interest in girl's problems but the North-Mount Lions Clubs have decided to aid the Girl's Counselling Centre in their efforts to obtain a summer place for girls.

It is to be rented or purchased and is to be equipped with facilities required at the expense of the Club, but actual operation will be by the Centre with the Lions Club assisting in the management.

The North-Mount Lions Club is seeking a cottage in the country in co-operation with the Counselling Centre and it will be used as a summer holiday house for teen-age employed girls.

It must be within 50 miles of Montreal, near water, and on a piece of ground sufficient for recreational activities. The cottage or house will need a large dining room, a serviceable kitchen and about four bedrooms, or else a large enclosed verandah suitable for sleeping quarters.

Red Feather Service

The Girls' Counselling Centre, once known as the Big Sister Association, ministers to the human needs of teen-age girls, employed, who are either away from home, or whose home life is not normal.

The Centre is one of the Red Feather Services of Welfare Federation and the Executive Director is Miss Jean Short, who provides contact with the Lions Club.

SAFE STANDARDS

Highly organized laboratories and a vigilant inspection service are at work constantly ensuring healthful food, drug and pharmaceutical standards in Canada. As imported edibles are checked and domestic markets are kept under surveillance, scientists in the fields of food, pharmaceutical, organic and cosmetic chemistry, in biophysics, hormones and animal pathology, are studying and testing all that goes into our bodies, so that we may be protected from harmful substances.

TUMBLERS AT TABLE

Should we drink water with meals? Well—public health authorities say that, although water dilutes the digestive juices, these fluids operate more efficiently when diluted. Water at meals is not harmful unless, of course, it is used simply to wash down unchewed food. Experts warn however, that, when the stomach is suddenly chilled, digestion is interrupted. So water at table should be only cool enough to make it palatable.

Dots & Dashes --- For the Housewife

Choose cauliflower that has white, firm curd. The stalks around the head should be a bright-looking green, and should adhere closely to the sides of the cauliflower. Instead of tomato sauce, canned condensed tomato soup or mushroom or celery soup may be used as a sauce for meat loaf. Do not add dressing to a tossed green salad until ready to serve. The vinegar in the dressing wilts the greens and gives you a soggy product. To make bread crumbs, place stale, dry bread on a sheet of paper and zip the rolling pin over them a few times. Then pick up opposite ends of the paper to form a funnel for pouring crumbs into your measuring cup or bowl.

For "the best sweets" or yams—select bright, clean potatoes, that are thick, chunky, medium-sized and tend to taper toward the ends. Avoid those with any signs of decay, as such deterioration spreads rapidly, affecting the taste of the entire potato. Delicious tarts may be made with some of the now-plentiful dried fruits. Try making them with biscuit dough rolled very thin instead of the rich pastry commonly used. For a different flavor, you might like to try combining two or three dried fruits—some come packaged that way.

Delicious as hashed brown potatoes are, it is important to remember that the double cooking, which they undergo, destroys practically all their vitamin C content. Juice oranges are in good supply. The smaller-sized oranges are usually more economical for juice than large fruit. Buy heavy, smooth oranges without soft spots. Russet markings on the surface do not affect quality or flavor of the fruit.

Buy bananas by the cluster in the firm yellow or green-tipped stage. Allow them to ripen at home at room temperature. Select green-tipped bananas for cooking purposes.

Steaming Frocks Protect Fabrics

Stop pressing clothes so often. Too much pressing shortens the life of duds and few of us can afford that in these days of expensive replacements.

As good as a home-pressing of woolen clothes is steaming wrinkles with a "Turkish bath". For that, hang clothes on the outside of the shower-curtain bar over the bathtub after curtains are drawn closed. That done, turn on the hot water tap full force, open the bathtub drain, close bathroom doors and windows, and let garments steam for a half-hour or so.

While steaming wrinkles out, it's a good idea to look in on your clothes now and then to make sure that everything is under control.

On those occasions when you need to freshen up winter woollens with a hot iron, here are some tips that will help you to do a more professional-looking pressing job. Dampen slightly with a wet

The world faces a greater threat from the lack of food than from the A-bomb. Since the war, the world's population has increased by 100,000,000, while at the same time supplies of food have dropped.

"Many Moons" Second Week At Victoria Hall

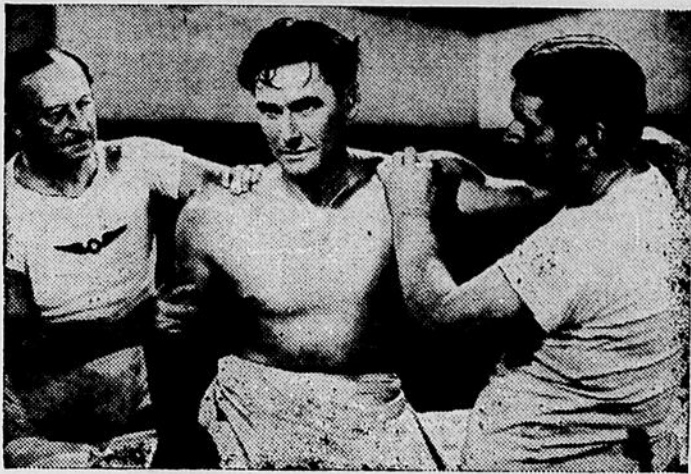

After a successful opening on Easter Saturday, the Canadian Art Theatre's production of "Many Moons" will go into its second week on Saturday, at Victoria Hall. Suffering from exceptionally adverse weather, the audience was not as large as is usual on CAT "openings", however, a capacity house is expected this week, for the play only has a three week run.

Strangely enough, the fear held by the CAT that many of the story's lines are too mature for children, failed to materialize. Almost unbroken laughter and applause reigned from the opening of the curtain to the closing two hours later.

In the leading role, Gayle Calder portrays Princess Lenore. Arthur Voronka, as the King, spends a great deal of time "bumping into things"; Silvio Narizzano jests in regal manner; Madeline Anber, Mary Sheppard and Ruth Cohen fill out the female side of the cast with Neil Madden, Harold Whitehead and Bruce Raymond completing the male half. Little Audrey Ireland portrays the Goldsmith's daughter.

Directed by Joy Thomson from Charlotte Chorpenning's script of James Thurber's novel, "Many Moons" is the second to last play to be presented for children under the CAT banner this season.

The settings are simply designed around a basic window construction looking out over a multi-coloured garden. Lighting and costumes aid the visual effect, while piles of

"Frieda" at Snowdon A Second Week

The excellent screen adaptation of Roland Millar's stageplay, "Frieda," will be held over at the Snowdon Theatre for a second week starting Saturday. Thoroughly enjoyed by everyone, the screenplay deals with the question as to what should be our attitude towards the Germans—as individuals. The story tells of a young English airman, shot down behind the lines, who is aided in his escape from a German prison hospital by a beautiful German nurse. In appreciation for saving his life, he marries her and brings her back home to England, where his family welcomes her, even though she is a constant reminder of the things they have learned to hate and the people they despise. One member of the family, an aunt who is in politics, is forced to voice her disapproval in public when the question of accepting the German girl in her home is brought up during one of her campaign meetings. To further complicate matters, just as the townspeople and her husband's family accept her in their society, her brother, an ardent Nazi, disguised as a Polish soldier, arrives and presents her with a German medal bearing the Nazi insignia. She denies ever believing in Hitler and his aggressive policy, but her brother insists that though she was not a Nazi herself, she was not anti-Nazi. A furious fight takes place at the end of the picture with Frieda's English husband giving the Nazi brother a terrible beating. Frieda believes that her husband, his family and the people of the village will always resent her presence among them, decides to take her own life.

"YES! I would accept Frieda because you have to rely upon your own feelings and I believe she is good."

"NO! I could never live with Frieda. I could never separate her from the evil she lived amid and tolerated."

This is a case you must judge for yourself . . . so many different viewpoints have been formed on the debatable question that is the theme of the daring British film, "FRIEDA", now having its first showing in Montreal.

Starring Flora Robson (well-known British dramatic actress), David Farrar, Glynis Johns, Albert Lieven and introducing the lovely new actress from Sweden, Mai Zetterling, who plays the title role.

"Kings Row" Vivid, Powerful Drama at Avenue

"King's Row," the film version of the Henry Bellamann novel, opens Saturday at the Avenue Theatre.

Ann Sheridan, Robert Cummings, Ronald Reagan and Betty Field are starred and the featured cast is headed by Charles Coburn, Judith Anderson, Claude Rains, Nancy Coleman, Maria Ouspenskaya, Harry Davenport and Kaaren Verne.

The apparently humdrum small city of the American midlands, wherein all human passions and prejudices are encompassed in small space, has not often been used by the novelists or the movie makers as the locale for their product.

"King's Row" dared to be different. It represents a frank unmasking of such a town, with the resultant high drama and the comedy, pathos and excitement that always are to be found there.

This is the story of young people, struggling to find their happiness against the opposition of circumstance and misunderstanding. The background of the story is the seething undercurrent of small city life, the petty jealousies, the pathetic struggle for survival, the clash of ideas and ideals between individuals and generations.

It is particularly the story of two romances, one between Ann Sheridan, playing Randy Monaghan, and Ronald Reagan, as Drake McHugh, and the other a three-way affair, first between Robert Cummings as Parris Mitchell and Betty Field as Cassandra Tower and later, after Cassie dies, between Cummings and Kaaren Verne as Elise Sandor.

Woven into the intricate tale of these lives and loves is the whole parcel and pattern of small city doings, the back-fence gossip, the whispered accusations, the high spots of love and sacrifice that go to make up life in any typically American community. It is, however, not merely an expose of the dark places in such a city. It is high drama that develops to a thunderous climax but leaves overtones of hope and courage as to the ability of young people to meet and overcome their troubles.

"This Happy Breed" At Victoria Hall

Noel Coward, the well known author, actor, producer and playwright has written a very touching and humane story of middle class English life in "This Happy Breed", Trinity Players' last production of the season, which will be presented at Trinity Memorial Hall on the evenings of April 14th to 17th inclusive.

Basil Donn, C.D.A., will direct and Ken Withers, Trinity's young electrician, is doing the set, in the absence of Arthur Wright.

Miss Marion Keith, a veteran in amateur theatrical circles in Montreal, who won high praise from the Adjudicator in the recent Regional Drama Festival for her role in "Spider Island", produced by the Sun Life Players, will play Mrs. Flint, the grouchy old grandmother.

"Queenie", the wayward and headstrong daughter of the family, will be played by Judith Chambers, who scored a hit in Trinity's production of Priestly's "Mystery at Green Fingers."

Peter Armstrong, who has many successes to his credit at Trinity, will play "Frank", the father, a veteran of World War No. 1 and one "of the old school", who finds it hard to understand the ways of "modern youth".

MRT To Produce "All My Sons"

MRT's next production will be the presentation of "All My Sons" at Moyse Hall, McGill University, April 13th to 17th. To be directed by Roberta Beatty, whose production of "Amphytrion 35" won the Martha Allan Trophy for MRT in the Regional Drama Festival a year ago, and who directed "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" this year, this exciting drama will be supported by a strong cast.

CAT Production Of "Many Moons" Delights Children

Children were delighted with Canadian Art Theatre's latest production "Many Moons", which was successfully staged at Victoria Hall, Saturday afternoon.

The play, directed by Miss Joy Thomson, provided plenty of colour and well balanced slap-stick comedy for the youngsters who restlessly awaited the next turn of events in James Thurber's story about a sick princess who wanted the moon and got it.

Acting honours went to Gail Calder as the sick princess, and Sylvio Narizzano, the jester who's understanding and foresight into what the princess wished, caused plenty of worry for the three wise men of the court, well acted out by Bruce Raymond, as the Royal Wizard, Neil Madden as Lord High Chamberlain, and Harold Whitehead as the mathematician.

Also giving fine performances were Arthur Voronka, as the King, and Mary Sheppard as Cynthia, the Chamberlain's wife, with Madeline Anber, the Royal Nurse, Ruth Cohen, the Wizard's wife, and Audrey Ireland, the Goldsmith's daughter completing the cast very successfully.

"Oslo 1947" To Be Shown Next Week

"Oslo 1947", the official film covering the Second World Conference of Christian Youth, will be the key-note in a program sponsored for the Youth of the Churches of Westmount and vicinity this coming April 9th. The film is the official record of this Conference — the first conference was held in Amsterdam in 1938.

Among the other features of the program for that evening will be swimming, dancing and many other forms of social recreation.

A large attendance is expected on this evening with representatives from all the young people's groups associated with the Churches of Westmount attending. Last year a similar get-together was held and the enthusiasm warranted this second meeting. Those attending are reminded that the evening will get under way at the Westmount Y.M.C.A. at 8 p.m.

Nearly 90,000 sinks were produced in Canada during the first 9 months of 1947.

AT THE WESTMOUNT WEDNESDAY!

New English Star Carol Rye is seen here as she appears in the British musical picture "Spring Song" which will be shown at the Westmount Theatre for 4 days starting Wednesday until Saturday. The companion feature is the latest British mystery "Latin Quarter."

"Wings of The Morning" Brings Radiant Color to The Screen

Brought to the screen in all the lifelike beauty of magnificent Technicolor, "Wings of the Morning," the flaming romance of a lovely fugitive fleeing from strife-torn Spain, will be shown for 3 days only starting Sunday until Tuesday at the Westmount Theatre. Annabella is starred with Henry Fonda and Leslie Banks in the film, which presents the world-famous tenor, John McCormack.

The spectacular changing of the Guard at Buckingham Palace, home of English Kings; the most sensational Derby ever run, with jockey Steve Donoghue riding his most thrilling race; John McCormack, beloved Irish tenor singing the songs of Ireland that have made him famous—these are a few of the moments that make "Wings of the Morning" a film at once beautiful and breath-taking.

As different and alluring as her unusual name, the lovely Annabella appears first in a prologue showing her as Marie, a gypsy princess. She marries Leslie Banks, the Earl of Contarf, who dies on the hunting field five months later, and learns, when she returns to the gypsies that her marriage has brought a curse on her descendants for three generations.

As the great-granddaughter of that gypsy princess, Marie appears in modern times, fleeing from a Spain torn by revolution. Safe in Ireland, Marie seeks a trainer for her horse, "Wings of the Morning," so that she may win the English Derby and a dowry that will enable her to marry the fiance she left in Spain.

Henry Fonda, as Kerry Gilfallen, a young Irish trainer, falls in love with Marie and agrees to train her horse, though he has a Derby candidate of his own. He gives a party for Marie at which John McCormack sings, and when the girl's jockey breaks his leg, it is Kerry who volunteers the services of his own jockey, the famed Steve Donoghue. This Kerry does although he realizes that a Derby victory, and a dowry, will probably take Marie away from him forever.

Although seeming victory comes to Marie in the most sensational Derby ever run, the curse of the gypsies has yet another stroke of misfortune for her, and it is Marie's great-grandmother whose last earthly gesture comes to the rescue in a startling conclusion that removes the curse forever and makes possible the union of Kerry and Marie.

The second feature is the musical drama "Lisbon Story" which stars Patricia Burke, David Farrar (star of "Frieda") Walter Rilla and the world famous opera tenor, Richard Tauber.

Operatic Society Produces "Pirates Of Penzance"

Under sponsorship of the Lions Club of Montreal the Montreal West Operatic Society is presenting as its ninth production "The Pirates of Penzance", again under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Norris, at the Montreal West High School Auditorium. The members of the society rehearsed for months and reported they were "all ready to swing into another rollicking production."

Hans Berends' sets make a colorful background for Maj.-Gen. Stanley's daughters. This year they boast a "New Look" in costumes specially made for this production.

The Pirates of Penzance was the only Gilbert and Sullivan opera to be produced in the United States before being performed in England, and it is to this day one of the most popular operas in the Savoyards' repertory. Most of the Montreal West Operatic Society's stand-bys are again on hand for the principal roles. The performances started last night and continue to-night, Friday and Saturday.

Basketball Playdowns Tonight

Eastern Canada Title At Stake

Canadian Converters' Juniors added the Ottawa Valley crown to their Provincial honours by decisively defeating Ottawa University 88-49 in a two game home and home total point series by virtue of a 49-19 victory in the second game on the Westmount Junior High floor before a packed gallery of local fans.

The locals coasted to an easy triumph on their home court and at no time in the contest were the Ottawa boys in the picture. The visitors failed to show any scoring power whatsoever in this game, thus making a complete about face from the first tilt when the Converters' were held to a 39-30 score at Ottawa the previous week.

MacLEOD TOP SCORER

For the Westmounters, Gordon MacLeod was top scorer with 14 points, followed by Jack Dudley and John Field with 13 and 11 respectively. Wenty Young and Jim Henderson played steady, if not brilliant, ball at the Converters' guard positions, while Jolicoeur with 11 points was the only Ottawa University player who figured prominently in the picture.

Tonight at 8.00 o'clock on the Westmount Junior High floor the locals will meet Dalhousie University, Maritime Junior titlists, in the second game of their two-game, total points series for the Eastern Canada championship. First game, results of which were not available at press time, was played on the Converters' home floor last night. The winners of this series will journey to Ontario to clash in the Dominion final with either Windsor or Kitchener on April 16 and 17.

This Thursday and Friday at 8 p.m. on the Westmount Junior High floor, the locals will receive the Maritime Champions in another two game total point affair in the Dominion semi-finals. The winners will then journey to Ontario to clash in the Dominion final with either Windsor or Kitchener on April 16 and 17.

SCORING SUMMARY

Converters' (49)—Field (11), S. McLeod, G. MacLeod (14), Silver

(1), Dudley (13), Wray, Young, Greenbaum (4), Putnam (2), Henderson (4).

Ottawa U. (19)—Proulx, Bonneau (3), Diguer, Rheume, Bondy, Jolicoeur (11), Trudeau (4), Barrette (1), Monforton.

Captain Cavell Addresses Young Board Of Trade

Captain R. C. Cavell addressed the Dinner Meeting of the Young Men's Section of the Montreal Board of Trade held in the Cardy Hall of the Mount Royal Hotel on Wednesday evening, on the subject "Canadian Business in a Changing World".

Vice-president of Automatic Electric (Canada) Ltd., and of Phillips Electrical Works Ltd., as well as Chairman of the National Executive of the Canadian Institute of International Affairs, Captain Cavell is particularly well qualified to speak on this very pertinent subject. He has had considerable business and army experience in Europe and the Far East and his extensive travels included a visit to Russia.

The meeting was conducted entirely by the Past Presidents of the Young Men's Section.

Why is it people always speak of a bad cold? Have you ever heard of a good one?

CANADA'S TALKING MOOSE!

A talking moose from Alberta is caught by the camera being interviewed by Nancy Craig before a mike of the American Broadcasting Company in New York. Joe and his moose are one of the big attractions in the Sportsman's Exhibition now being held at the 17th Hussars Armoury, 4185 Cote des Neiges Road. The show is open tonight, Saturday, Sunday and Monday. Joe Laflamme, the animal's trainer, is in on the conference.

Sportsman's Exhibition Presents a "Robin Hood"

William Tell's legendary feat of shooting an apple off his son's head with bow and arrow is given a novel twist at the Sportsman's Exhibition, where the Canadian master archer, R. John Mitchele, punctures balloons held in his hand by Dick, his 12-year old son.

The balloon trick is only one of the many performed by the three Mitcheles, John, Dick and Madge, who have won an international reputation for their proficiency in the ancient and honourable art of archery, and have contributed enormously to the present popularity of this fascinating sport.

John Mitchele, who is secretary of the Canadian National Exhibition Archery Championship ★ Tournaments, has won many distinguished awards for his sharpshooting and has for three years in a row won the hunting class championship of the Hunting and Field Archers of Ontario.

Madge Mitchele has been Toronto lady archery champion for five years and Ontario lady field class champion for three. She is the holder of six unbroken Canadian National records for women.

Dick Mitchele, their young son, has won many junior awards for hunting and field archery in Ontario and is the 1947 international field archery junior champion.

The Mitcheles are one of the many attractions to feature the Sportsman's Exhibition which opened yesterday at the 17th Hussars Armoury, 4185 Cote des Neiges Road, and which will last until Monday (inclusively).

Beauty Parade

Latest to be announced and which is sure to prove of interest even to non-sportsmen is the parade of bathing beauties. Officials excuse for this endeavour is that it provides an occasion to exhibit the latest creations of bathing suit manufacturers, so that the ladies may see what the New Look is in swimming apparel.

For the more rugged members of the sporting fraternity, there are bait and fly casting exhibitions by well-known practioners of these delicate arts, canoe-tilting and log rolling contests in a large pool built especially for the purpose, dog-training exhibitions, a con-

Sir Geo. Williams Business School Typing Contest

Third annual typewriting contest of Sir George Williams Business School will be held at eight p.m. on Monday evening, in the Budge Hall of the Central Y.M.C.A.

Students who entered the Day Business School before last October may contest for the senior championship, while the junior test will be open to students who began at the School during that month.

Those who commenced at the School in last November or later are eligible for the novice championship. Any individual enrolled in a division of the College or Schools, or formerly a student of the Day Business School, may try for the open championship.

Evening Business School students will have a test of their own. Any team of four students (Continued on Page 15) tinuous showing of sport and wildlife movies, a complete zoo with all sorts of animals including the famed moose and wolves of Joe Laflamme, log-sawing championships and a wide display of the latest in sporting equipment.

All proceeds of the Sportsman's Exhibition will be devoted to the conservation of wildlife and woodlands by the Anglers Association of Quebec, a non-profit organization which is sponsoring the show.
