SELF-HEATING IRONS.
PATENTED, QUEBEC, AUGUST, 1852.
FOR SALE BY THE SUBSCRIBERS.
LADIES are invited to call and examine the IRONS. Those who have tried them acknowledge their superiority over every other description of Smoothing Iron, for all laundry purposes.
The large amount of fuel consumed in heating the common Iron causes an uncomfortable heat, and an extravagant expense, both of which are avoided by using the SELF-HEATING IRON.
With this Iron, three bushels of charcoal are sufficient to do the ironing of a common family twelve months. Once filled, you can use the Iron five hours without replenishing. While using it you do not require to suffer the annoyance of a heated stove or fire place. You need not labour so hard pressing with it as you do with the common iron. The Irons being finely finished, they are easily kept bright and clean, and cannot possibly soil the finest linen.
Manufactured in Canada East only at the Montreal Foundry and City Works.

McDONALD, BROTHERS & CO.,
Importers and Manufacturers of Oils,

WILL commence business on the 1st May next, in premises recently occupied by the Messrs D. & C. Darling. By devoting themselves exclusively to the IMPORTATION and MANUFACTURE of OILS, they will thereby be enabled to offer to the trade the superior advantages resulting from the purchase in large quantities of the different kinds of OILS at their respective places of production. And by combining the manufacturing and refining of OILS with the importation of the crude article, they feel confident of being able to execute orders upon the very best terms. Their Stock will comprise—
Bleached and Unbleached Winter and Summer Sperm Oils
Do. do. do. Elephant do.
Do. do. do. Solar Sperm do
Double Clarified Lard Oil

Do Sicily do
Patent Refined Russian Rape Seed Oil
Fine Nut and Palm Oils

Oils for Fuller's and Currier's use
Pale and Straw Colored Seal Oils

They would call particular attention to their 'Refined Lubricating Machinery Oil,' which they warrant suitable for Railroads, Steam Boats, and every other class of valuable Machinery. This OIL is the most economical for machinery, it requiring less of it than of any other Oil to lubricate a given amount of friction. It keeps machinery perfectly cool, creates no gum, even works off the old gum accumulated upon the journals and slides, &c., by the previous use of bad Oil, and it does not congeal in the coldest weather.
It is, in every respect, a superior article, an the manufacturers having in view the incalculable injury done to machinery in Canada by the use of base Oils are prepared to guarantee its results.
Montreal, April 26, 1853. ly 50

THE BALTIMORE CLIPPER BARK
INCA,
300 TONS BURTHEN,
HAVING made two successive voyages from [illegible], each in the very short period of 101 days, has thoroughly established her reputation for fast sailing, and will be dispatched for MELBOURNE, AUSTRALIA, on the 25th of August. The ships of the Pioneer Line have made remarkably quick and healthy voyages; losing only one passenger among 950 that sailed in the first five ships, whereas it appears, from the report of the Emigration Commissioners, that the mortality on board English ships to Australia has equalled 4 90 per cent. This very gratifying result shows that no care and expense have been spared in selecting, ventilating and provisioning the ships of the Pioneer Line.
The "INCA" will only carry a limited number of passengers, at as moderate rates as are consistent with justice to passengers and owners.
For Freight or Passage, apply on board, at Pier 12 E. R., or to

EXTRACTS FROM ENGLISH PAPERS.

PARLIAMENTARY.

JAMAICA, IRELAND, AND MERCHANT SHIPPING.

Lord J. Russell, stated the intentions of the Government respecting Jamaica. He referred, in the first instance, to the dispute between the House of Assembly and the Council on the subject of the bills passed by the former, and to the important changes in our West India colonies by the abolition of slavery and the competition they had to encounter with foreign sugars. There had been a distinction, however, in the effect which these changes had produced upon three of the most important colonies—Guiana, Trinidad, and Jamaica. In the two former the exports of sugar, which in 1840 were 824,000 cwt., in 1852 amounted to 1,321,000 cwt., showing an increase of more than 50 per cent. In Jamaica exports of sugar, which in 1840 were 517,000 cwt., in 1852 were only 511,000 cwt. There was a similar difference in regard to immigrants, of whom British Guiana imported, between 1840 and 1853, 49,000, and Trinidad 24,000, whereas Jamaica imported in that period only 14,000. There were circumstances connected with the constitution of Jamaica which had always been a source of difficulty, and in late years had led to the stoppage of the action of the Colonial Legislature. Among these was the payment of public officers by votes from year to year. He read the suggestions of Governor Sir Charles Grey, who recommended the assimilation of the powers of the House of Assembly to those of the House of Commons, and said the Government did not propose to suspend the representative constitution in the colony, but to induce the Assembly and the Council to act in harmony. They proposed that there should be a permanent act, containing grants for those officers to whom it was deemed fit that permanent salaries should be given; and, secondly, that the Assembly should make no grant of money except upon the initiate of a representative of the British Crown, and that the officers of the crown should be responsible for the expenditure of the money. On the other hand, it was proposed to endeavour to place the finances of Jamaica upon a sounder footing. The public debt of the colony amounted to £500,000, upon which an interest of six per cent was paid; and it was proposed that the imperial Government should give a guarantee for the interest of the debt, a sinking fund being provided for its extinction. The House of Assembly had insisted upon their right to make a reduction of salaries, which the council had regarded as a breach of faith. It appeared to the Government that this quarrel might be settled by the grant of a compensation, which might induce the present holders to relinquish their offices, which could be filled by other persons at reduced salaries. This would require £50,000, which sum the Government proposed should also be guaranteed by the country, making the aggregate sum guaranteed £550,000. There was one other point. Sir Charles Grey had already held his office as governor, which he had discharged with signal ability, for the full term, and the Duke of Newcastle was of opinion that Sir Henry Barkly, who had been many years Governor of Guiana, would be the best person to succeed him, and he had accordingly recommended Her Majesty to appoint Sir Henry to that office. A question would arise, however, as to his salary, which the Government considered should not be less than £5000, and to avoid dispute, they proposed to vote £3500 towards making up that sum, for three years.

LANDLORD AND TENANT (IRELAND) BILL.

The Landlord and Tenant (Ireland) Bill was read a third time.

TENANTS' COMPENSATION (IRELAND) BILL.

The Tenants' Compensation (Ireland) Bill was read a third time.

MERCHANT SHIPPING BILL.

The Merchant Shipping Bill was read a third time. Mr. Hutt moved the introduction of a clause prohibiting the desertion of seamen from the merchant to the Queen's service. Negatived by 49 to 29.

Capt. Scobell moved the introduction of a clause providing that the crews of vessels shall be after the rate of one apprentice to the first hundred tons, and one seamen to every twenty-five tons; one apprentice above seventeen years of age to be reckoned as one seamen on every hundred tons, and nine seamen to be counted for every eight seamen and two boys on every two hundred tons, beyond the first hundred tons. Negatived by 164 to 7.

Some other amendments were proposed and negatived and the bill then passed.

THE INSURRECTION IN CHINA.

The news from China is of increasing interest. So late as the 5th of May nothing certain was known regarding the rebels. Meanwhile Sir G. Bonham resolved to obtain accurate information for himself, and accordingly made a trip up the Yang-tse-Kiang in Her Majesty's steam-ship Hermes. He remained five days at Nankin, in communication with the insurgents (whom he found had been in possession of the city for more than a month), and returned to Shanghai on the 5th of May. The Hermes brought back "the astounding intelligence," says the North China Herald, "that the insurgents were Christians of the Protestant form of worship."

The Hong Kong Register objects to Sir G. Bonham's visit to the rebel head-quarters (though even only for the purpose of explaining that he intended to remain neutral), as a moral backing of their cause—incompatible with his profession of strict neutrality. The same paper ridicules the idea of the practical Christianity of the insurgents; it has long been notorious that several Chinese who had received a missionary education were among the rebel leaders; some of these were probably put forward as samples, with a view to enlist the sympathies of English and American Christians.

It however appears certain that there is a good deal of professed Christianity among the insurgents. When Dr. Gutzlaff was last in Europe a native Chinese society he had formed, called the "Christian Union," was broken up, and many of its members are known to be among the leaders of the present movement. The Hongkong Register states that, at Nankin, one of the rebel leaders made mention of Dr. Hobson, of the London Missionary Society at Canton, and said that in his hospital, he had first heard of Christianity. The Hongkong Register allows that "no one can say what amount of Christianity may be in their ranks, but concludes the practical Christianity exhibited by the rebel leaders at Nankin to have been assumed, because there was wild fanaticism and extravagant imposture to be found among them. Their leader claims a sort of divine mission, and has constant revelations from angels, like Mahomet, whom he moreover exceeds in the article of wives—at least so says the Hongkong Register—which also ridicules him for having added a codicil to the 7th commandment forbidding the use of tobacco and opium. The same paper is, however, constrained to admit that "the proceedings of these men have been of a wonderful character, and if success, which has gone along with them to a point we never contemplated or dreamt of, still follows them, till they succeed in subverting the present Government, the change will be one of the greatest wonders of the age."

The vessels of the United States Japan squadron are assembling in Shanghai. The object of the exhibition is the establishment of American coaling stations in the China Seas, for the encouragement of their rapidly increasing Eastern trade. When we restored the island of Java to the Dutch it yielded us a surplus revenue of £1,000,000 sterling. The comparative scantiness of the native American population of the United States is no obstacle to the formation or maintenance of such settlements. The number of Anglo-Saxon officials and officers we employed in governing Java did not probably exceed 400 or 500, and the Americans could embody and organize whatever Irish or native troops were required for the protection of such settlements as readily, and probably much more economically than ourselves.

IRELAND.

Mr. Francis Bernard Beamish has responded to the Liberal electors of Cork, and has just issued an address, announcing his intention to become a candidate for their suffrages.

The state of Kilkenny has so much improved, the lieutenant of the county, has called a meeting to memoralize the Lord Lieutenant to withdraw the extra police-force.

FATAL ACCIDENT AT POWERSCOURT.—On the 16th ult., Mr. James Rostern, gingham and lustre manufacturer, of Canon-street, Manchester, was killed by falling over the cliff at Powerscourt Waterfalls, in Wicklow.

ACTION AGAINST A ROMAN CATHOLIC PRIEST.—At the Londonderry assizes, before Mr. Justice Torrens, the Very Rev. Dr. M'Carron, Roman Catholic archdeacon of Derry, was indicted for having, in the chapel at Waterside, "incited, encouraged, and solicited certain soldiers, who were then attending divine service, to disobey the lawful commands of their officer." The jury acting in accordance with the charge of the learned judge, returned a verdict of acquittal.

CONVICTION FOR MURDER.—At the Galway assizes, John Horley was given in charge for the wilful murder of Catharine Kendrigan, at Dunsandle, on the 16th of May last. The deceased and the prisoner had been fellow servants, but the prisoner was dismissed a few days previous to the murder. On the morning of the 16th of May, deceased was sent by her mistress to Loughrea, and was seen in company with the prisoner, on the road, but not arriving home at a late hour in the evening, a search was instituted, and she was found lying dead. The prisoner was arrested and two bank notes given to deceased by her mistress were found in his possession. Other evidence was also given, which left no doubt of the prisoner's guilt. The jury retired for about half an hour and returned a verdict of guilty.

ATTEMPT TO ASSASSINATE A CLERGYMAN.—On Friday night a little after 11 o'clock, the Rev. William Turpin, vicar of Clara, was fired at in his own house, situated about three miles from the town. Mr. Turpin had just entered his study with a lighted candle in his hand, when a shot was discharged through the window, the shutters of which had not been closed. Providentially, the rev. gentleman escaped unhurt. As yet no probable cause has been assigned for the commission of this atrocious act.

OPERATIONS OF THE ENCUMBERED ESTATES COURT.—The period during which petitions for sales were permitted to be presented under the late renewal of the act having expired, the operations of the commission, have come to a dead lock. This inconvenience, will be remedied the moment the new act receives the royal assent. The Freeman's Journal has a highly interesting statistical statement in reference to the working of what was called the great scheme devised for the "confiscation" of Irish property. The following is a condensation of the article referred to:—"The first day named for receiving petitions under the act was the 25th of October, 1849, and during the three years, nine months, and three days that intervened between that date and the 28th of the last day on which the law allowed the commissioners to receive petitions, there were 2878 petitions presented. The number of proprietors of estates, or part of whose estates, have been actually sold was 1081. Most of those estates were divided into lots to suit the convenience of purchasers, and the number of persons who thus succeeded to the sold properties exceeded 5000. Thus, this act substituted for 1000 pauperised 'owners'—who were landlords only in name—who could not discharge any of the duties, and who could hardly pretend to the possession of any of the rights of property—5000 men who really owned the land, and who possess the means of developing its capabilities. The total produce of the sales up to this date, including the sums allowed to encumbrancers who were purchasers, was £10,429,893, 5s. 1d. Four years have not elapsed, and we find these results have already accrued from the operation of this court, and of the 1100 estates sold the greater proportion were transferred from the Court of Chancery, where they had been for years hopelessly engulfed. Upwards of 900 estates, which were in the Court of Chancery from 5 to 50 years in hopeless litigation, have been transferred to the new court."

AUSTRALIA.

Accounts have been received from Melbourne (Victoria) to the 27th April, being eleven days later than those by the last arrival. The markets were bare, in consequence of the non-arrival of the large fleets, including upwards of 100 vessels, that sailed from this country in November, December, and January last.

The miners were doing remarkably well, but the newly-arrived emigrants experienced great inconvenience, many of whom are totally unfitted for such a wild kind of life. "Canvas Town" was extending considerably, but many of the families possessing property were migrating to waste lands for the purpose of devoting their energies to agricultural pursuits. Mechanics and skilled labour of every kind met with instant employment.

Gold was sold by auction at £3 15s. to £3 15s. 6d. per ounce. Good fleeces fetched 20¾d per lb; middling 18¾d; greasy 10d to 10½d; slipe. 16d per lb, and tallow 2¾d per lb. Fine flour fetched £35 per ton; oats, 19s to 20s per bushel; potatoes, £16 to £20 per ton; hay, £37 10s to £38. By auction, on the previous day, a dog cart with horse realised £94 10s, and earthenware 50 per cent on invoice.

The Morning Chronicle contains a letter from Forest Creek, dated March 18th The writer describes the present overwrowded state of Melbourne, which now contains 70,000 inhabitants, one-half of whom have no definite residence.

Farm and dairy produce still fetch enormous prices, cabbages are 1s. each, potatoes 3d. per lb., and butter 3s. per lb. At the last land sale, Melbourne lots averaged £2000 per acre, country townships from £50 to £200 per acre, and country lands £35 per acre; and this in a country where not more than an eightieth of the available land has yet been brought into the market. The five days' sale realised £89,315 3s.

The news from the gold-fields is, on the whole, very satisfactory. During the past year 173 tons 10 cwt. 1qr. 12 lbs. 3 oz' o. Victoria gold was exported, while during the present year, up to March 11, it had amounted to about 21¼ tons, worth, at £3 10s. per ounce, £1,930,180. The excess of arrivals over departures, and births over deaths, in 1852, amounted to 97,661, while during the present year it has already numbered 14000.

About 90,000 persons are now on the gold-fields, of whom 20,000 are women and children, 10,000 storekeepers, tradesmen, and government officials, and the remainder miners. Some 35,000 are located at Mount Alexander and Bendigo, where although few are extremely fortunate, scarcely any but are making good wages. Among the novelties at the gold-fields are the recent establishment of concerts, evening lectures, restaurants, and national schools, the latter very creditably managed. Several railways are in contemplation. One from Melbourne to Hobson's Bay is about to be commenced; the others, from Melbourne to Mount Alexander.

THE LATE CONSPIRACY TO KILL THE EMPEROR OF THE FRENCH.

On Tuesday a Frenchman, named Edouard Raynaud, about 35 years of age, was brought before M. Jardine, at the Bow-street Police-court, charged with having "conspired, to murder Louis Napoleon, the Emperor of the French."

It appears that the prisoner addressed two letters to the Prince de Joinville, in which he proposed a sheme for the destruction of the Emperor's life, and requested the prince's co-operation His Royal Heigness the Prince de Joinville, who appeared to be a sufferer from extreme deafness, then made the following statement in English:—I have been for some time residing at Claremon,t in Surrey. I have no personal knowledge of the prisoner at the bar. Two or three months ago I received a letter from a person who signed himself "Raynaud." I handed the letter to my secretary, with instructions to reply that I did not grant an interview to any one with whom I had no previous acquaintance. Some time after this I received another letter, and subsequently a third. These letters were produced.

The original letters were handed to the prisoner and he did not deny having written them. The following passages will sufficiently indicate their character. In the first letter, after dwelling upon the interest which he took in the welfare of the Prince's family, and the feeling of hatred which he entertained, towards "Napoleon the Little," the writer proceeded:—

I leave for Paris. My journey is for you, and for you alone. I swear it on the grave of my mother and father. My life is a burden to me. I cannot suffer it, my Prince. My wife, who is 17 years of age, I wish to place under your protection. I have found an excuse for the voyage, and she consents; but the poor child will be the only victim of my project. I do not sleep. I must alone take charge of the infamous wretch. He and his people must perish. It is a terrible thing for me to be an assassin, but it must be, if I sell my last shirt. I am now writing in the absence of my poor wife. I must hasten to finish. May you read in my heart the sentiments I have for you and your dear family. Adieu, my Prince. All I desire is, that you may soon be upon the throne, making the people happier, and all France loving you. RAYNAUD DE QUETTEILLE.

In the second letter there is the following passage:—

I again take the liberty of writting to you these few lines previous to my departure. I have collected the little money due to me, but it will not suffice to carry out my views. I alone undertake to blow up the tyrant and his accomplices, and all those around him. I will give my best guarantees for the advances you might make me. I leave my furniture. I leave my wife, who is possessed of 12,000f., besides a share in a business. I employ several workmen. Your Royal Highness, it is money I require, but not a heavy sum; I must have £20, and I give the right to any one to stab me any where, wherever I may be, if I do not change the French Government.

The prisoner said that he had been for a long time suffering from ill health, which occasionally affected his intellect. Under these cir-cumstances, and for the sake of his wife, he implored the mercy of the Court.

Mr. Jardine committed the prisoner to Newgate

Mr. Jardine committed the prisoner to Newgate for trial, offering to take bail—himself in £100 and two sureties in £50 each, if procurable.

MISCELLANEOUS.

ENGLAND AND PRUSSIA.—Two princes of the royal family of Prussia are shortly to visit England—namely, Prince Frederick William, heir to the throne, and Prince Adelbert, high admiral of the Prussian navy. It is rumoured that at no distant period the preliminaries of a matrimonial alliance will be arranged between the royal families of Great Britain and Prussia.

A move is about to be made to relieve the soldier from his greatest enemy—the present pack. The authorities have before them, a square valise, intended for each squad, to contain a portion of the soldier's kit, which valise is to be carried with the baggage, on the march; and a pack of a much smaller size than the one now in use will be adopted to carry a few things for immediate service.

The magnificent fleet at present assembled at Spithead is a source of attraction to thousands. Visitors flock to Spithead, to enjoy the fine sight.

The Camp at Chobham is to be broken up on the 25th inst. but, a few days previous to that date, the command is to be conferred on the Duke of Cambridge.

Sir Jamsetjee Jebeebhoy has placed at the disposa of the Bombay Government a lac of rupees to found a school of design.

CAPTURE OF A CHINEESE PIRATE FLEET.—On the 5th of May Commander Mellersh, of H.M. S. Rattler, then at Amoy, received intelligence that a formidable fleet of Chinese pirates was at anchor at Namquam harbour, waiting for 10,000 dollars ransom money for a number of merchantmen they had just captured. He immediately got under weigh and succeeded in reaching the harbour on the 11th, a fog hanging so thickly over that the pirates' look-out did not see her until she was right in amongst them. They were seized with a species of panic, and, cutting cables, made for the entrance to the harbour, but a strong flood tide swept them inwards. The Rattler opened the ball with a shot across the bows of one vessel making for the river, where upon the whole fleet consisting of seven heavily armed junks, and Lorcha, No. 12, belched forth broadsides of round shot, grape, and pieces of chain about a foot long tied together, but with little effect. Giving them two broadsides from her starboard battery, the Rattler passed up, turned, and took position stem on to the tide; then steaming towards them, she opened fire. Upon this the pirates bore up, with intent to board. Lieut. Pidcock (afterwards killed) sent a shell into the pirate chief's large junk, which catching the magazine, caused her to blow up with all hands, the explosion also having the effect of sinking a vessel alongside of her. The Lorcha then dropped astern, ceased firing and hoisted Portuguese colours at the mizen with French at the main. The other vessels made the best of their way to the shore, and getting as near as possible, the crews jumped overboard and swam to the beach. There, they were met and knocked on the head by the villagers, who showed them no mercy. Some of the pirates who had escaped captured a small junk, and endeavoured to get up the river, when they were pursued by Lieut. Pidcock in one of the Rattler's boats. He succeeded in coming up with the pirates in two junks, one of which he boarded. About fifty men who had been concealed below, rushed on deck, and overpowered the Lieut., with quarter-master Ryder, and John Phillips, able seaman. The last seen of Lieut. Pidcock alive was on his knees with his sword through a Chineese, borne down by half-a-dozen spears. Two had fallen by his hand just before he dropped. The other portion of the boat's crew were driven into the water, and were picked up by the people on shore. The gig and cutter afterwards gave chase to the pirates, but were unable to come up with them. They however, succeeded in recovering the bodies of Lieut. Pidcock and George Ryder. Meantime, the burning junk was towed on shore and scuttled, and at low water no less than 170 pounds of molten silver were taken out of her, a few burnt dollars, and three bags of cash. The piratical fleet, which consisted of five junks and the Lorcha, and mounted in all 84 guns, had long been the terror of the coast.

THE MONTREAL HERALD

SATURDAY MORNING, AUGUST 20, 1853.

REPORT OF THE INSPECTORS OF THE PROVINCIAL PENITENTIARY, FOR THE YEAR ENDING ON THE 31ST DECEMBER LAST.—We have received a copy of this report. It is altogether too voluminous for our columns, and, although creditable to the zeal and efficiency of the Inspectors, the Warden, chaplains and other officers of the Penitentiary, we regret to observe, partakes largely of the controversial character.—Dr. Nelson and Mr. Dickson, the Inspectors, as well as the Rev. chaplains, Catholic and Protestant, Messrs. Angus M'Donell and Hannibal Mulkins, holding and expressing views and opinions very different from, if not directly opposed to each other, on subjects connected with the reformatory discipline of the institution, and, more especially, on that of the facilities of education afforded to the convicts.

We shall take an early opportunity of returning to the subject and of reviewing the different educational theories of these gentlemen; but must confine ourselves, at present, to stating that, after an attentive perusal of the Report, and the various documents attached to it, we are satisfied the Inspectors are fully sustained in assuring His Excellency, that, during the past year, "with few exceptions, the affairs of the Penitentiary have progressed in the most satisfactory manner, and without the interposition of some very untoward and unlooked for event, they have reason to flatter themselves that the affairs of the Institution will continue to advance and prosper, not only in its pecuniary concerns, but also in the beneficial results of the discipline, which, while it punishes, has a strong tendency to correct, reform, and elevate the character of the unfortunate inmates."

We give the following statistics of the criminals confined in the Penitentiary, from the Warden's report to the Inspectors:—

As we have said, we shall take an early opportunity of returning to the subject of this Report: we cannot, however, refrain from transcribing the concluding remarks of Dr Nelson, in a letter appended to it, as affording a gratifying view of its fiscal management—the Doctor says:—

By a Statement, also annexed to the Vouchers and Accounts, shewing the expense incurred for each Convict during the year 1852, it will appear, that under all the different heads of Expenditure, 413 Convicts have cost £24 2s 3d. each, making a total sum of £9958 8 0

On the other hand, on reference to the second folio of the same Sheet, it will be found that the earnings of the Convicts for the same period—say 413 at 1s. 6d. per diem, will make (say 118,830 days,) £8912 15 0

Or £21 11s. 7d. each.

Shewing a difference between cost and earnings of... 1045 13 0

£9958 8 0 £9958 8 0

From the above summary it will be seen, that there is a deficiency of only £1045 13s 0d, between the amount received for the earnings of the Convicts and the actual cost of their maintenance; this leads to the conviction, that so soon as a fair remuneration can be obtained for the labor of the Convicts, the Provincial Penitentiary will be enabled to support itself, without over-taxing them with labor or stinting them either as to the quantity or quality of the food.

An additional three pence per diem, added to the present allowance for each convict, say 1s 9d instead of 1s 6d per day, would, according to the above statement, more than pay the actual amount of their maintenance, and leave a balance of over £400, to be applied in such way, for the benefit of the Institution as might be deemed most expedient.

MOLIERE PROSCRIBED IN PARIS.—A Paris correspondent of the New York Republican, under date 11th July last, states that the representation of Moliere's Tartuffe had been, lately, défendu by the imperial censor, and that, from one motive or another, opposition had been made to the representation of other plays by the same great dramatist—this tendresse of the censorship, as to any possible, however far-fetched, allusion to Napoleon le Petit and his "sayings and doings", has elicited the following pungent jeu d'esprit, which will not bear translating, but will amuse our French readers, especially those among them who are familiar with Moliere's comedies:—

Molière est mis au croc par Madame Censure.
Oui, le théâtre entier du divin Poquelin,
Par crainte du public, qu'on trouve trop malin,
Ne sera plus joué; Romieu nous l'assure.
Si Tartuffe est biffé, sachez-en le motif,
Ce n'est pas, croyez bien, pour ce vers incisif.
Qui frappa plus d'un nez comme une chiquen-[aude:
"Nous vivons sous un prince ennemi di la frau-[de."
C'est pour ce mascarisme: "Allons voir au plus [tôt
Si certaine cassette est encore là-haut."
On a mis á l'index jusqu'aux FEMMES SAVANTES,
Coupables seulement des deux rimes suivantes;
"Et lorsque sur les gens on prétend se régler,
C'est par les beaux côtés qu'il leur faut ressembler."
On craint l'allusion au précédent Empire,
Dont, au défaut du mieux, on imite le pire.
L'AVARE est interdit pour motifs différents;
On redoute Harpagon disant á ses parents:
"Ne me montrez jamais d'humeur trilse et jalouse,
Et voyez de bon œil la femme que j'épouse."
Du bon GEORGES DANDIN l'arrêt est résolu,
A cause du fameux dicton: "Tu l'as voulu."
Toute œuvre est á l'index, pour si peu qu'on la [craigne;
LE DEPIT AMOUREUX, dont le crime est l'en-[seigne;
LE MARIAGE FORCE (passez moi ce vers faux),
Dont le titre a paru le plus grand des défauts.
De la nouvelle Cour, LE BOURGEOIS GENTILHOM-[ME
Pourrait prêter á rire au peuple, et Dieu sait [comme!
DON JUAN est défer du pour le prompt châtiment
Du coquin qui badine avec un faux serment.
LE MISANTROPHE aussi, chef-d'œuvre drama-[tique,
A reçu son véto pour ce simple distique:
"Nommez le fourbe, infâme et scélérat maudit,
Tout le mondey convient, et nul n'y contredit."
Jusques á L'ETOURDI, piece innocente,
Qu'on défend—tant la peur dans leur âme est [puissante—
Pour ce seul vers latin, dont on s'effraie á tort:
"Vivat Mascarillus, fourbum imperator!"

STATUTES OF LAST SESSION.—The second volume of the statutes of last session are now out. We received a copy yesterday. The size would equal that of the Massachusetts statutes for ten years at least—yet this is only the second volume.

REAPPOINTMENT OF MR. DIXON, M.P.P. FOR LONDON, TO THE MAGISTRACY.—This highly respectable gentleman, who, it may be remembered, was dismissed from the magistracy, on account of some stories conveyed to the Government by a parcel of cowardly slanderers, whose names were concealed, while their information was acted on, has been restored to his office. This, we take it, is a complete acknowledgment, on the part of the Government, that the statements which Mr. Hincks allowed himself to make in Parliament, in reference to this gentleman, on the faith of anonymous libellers, were utterly false, since no man, once guilty of such a dereliction of duty could ever again be thought fit for the Bench.—Yet the original liars, being part of Mr. Hincks's party, are screened by that gentleman from the censure of the law, or even of public opinion.—Why do newspapers friendly to the minister profess such holy horror of insinuations against him, while he himself saves from censure those who so richly merit? It is my bull, and thy bull, over again.

LORD ELGIN'S DEPARTURE.—It is said that His Lordship leaves Quebec, by the "Doris," for River du Loup, whence he will proceed overland to Halifax. His departure from the Colony is not at present to be considered as a final dissolution of his connection with it. His absence will be on leave, and he will probably return after a short visit to England, to arrange such business affairs as may require his attention, after so long an absence from home. We hear it said, however, that, instead of returning to Canada, he may go to India, where the salary is some five or six times that of the Canadian Government; but this seems not very probable, as the present Governor General is understood to have entered on a new term of office.

EXCURSION TO PORTLAND.—We are requested to state, that by advices received from Portland, every arrangement has been completed by the large Committee there, to secure ample and comfortable accommodation for all who may wish to join the grand trip of Monday and Tuesday next. The Portland people have interested themselves in this matter so warmly, and have made such extensive preparations in the way of Steamboat excursions, fetes and pic-nics, as to entitle them to the best thanks of our citizens fur the hospitable and neighborly feeling they so freely manifest.

We are particularly requested to state that all the cars which will be employed, are the new and elegant first class ones recently completed for the Railroad Company, and that no greater number of tickets for each train will be issued than it can comfortably accommodate. That all parties purchasing tickets may remain for a time at any period during the week, at any way station, either going or returning. That the hours advertised are those at which the boats will leave the Company's wharf at the foot of Jacques Cartier place.

It is further recommended to those who may wish to proceed by early trains to make immediate application for tickets, as the number for each train is limited; and also, that parties intending to proceed through in one day, should not depend altogether on obtaining luncheon or dinner at the usual stopping places, as the accommodations there may not prove sufficient to meet the wants of such an unusual number.

THEATRE ROYAL.—"The Devil in Paris" has been a decided hit, and attracted a large audience to Cote Street last night. The "Pet of the Petticoats," too, proved a most amusing farce, Mrs. Stephens admirably maintaining her character as Paul, and Mr. Hale convulsing the house, as Cre-qst. To-night we are promised "Katharine and Petruchio and "The Eton Boy," both excellent pieces.

ANOTHER NEW JUDGE.—There appears to be every reason to expect that the Hon. Mr. Justice be succeeded by the Hon. Wm. Badgley. We Rolland, will shortly retire from the Bench, to imagine that such an appointment would give very general satisfaction.

DECIMAL COINAGE.—The report of the committee on decimal coinage has been printed. We content ourselves with the following extract:—

The first question to be decided is, that of the basis or unit of the new system of coinage; and your committee have no hesitation in recommending that the present pound sterling should be retained as that basis. Considering how much the pound is interwoven with all our ideas of value, that it is the fulcrum on which all our exchange transactions with the whole world turn, and that every alteration in its value would lead to infinite complication and embarrassment in all our commercial dealings, in addition to the fact of its being the legal standard of value, it appears to your committee that it would be vain to propose any alteration in it, even if it were advisable on other grounds; but it fortunately happens that the pound sterling is in itself eminently adapted to form the basis of a decimal system of coinage. Its tenth part already exists in the shape of the florin or two shilling piece, while an alteration of four per cent. in the present farthing will serve to convert it into the lowest step of the decimal scale, which it is necessary to represent by means of an actual coin, viz: the thousandth part of a pound, to which it appears to your committee that the name of mil should be attached, in order to mark its relation to the unit of value. The addition of a coin to be called a cent, of the value of ten mils, and equal to the hundredth part of the pound, or the tenth part of the florin, would serve to complete the list of coins necessary to represent the monies of account, which would accordingly be pounds, florins (or dimes, as has been proposed to your committee, as expressing the relation of that coin to the pound), cents, and mils.

CORRESPONDENCE.

To the Editor of the MONTREAL HERALD.

SIR,—On reading your article in yesterday's paper on the culture and manufacture of Flax in Canada, I was reminded that I should have added an important qualification in respect to one portion of the information I gave you on the subject. The statement that £4 per ton was given in Ireland for flax straw applies only to those districts into which this crop has but very recently been introduced, and where the farmers possessed little or no knowledge of the latter processes from which marketable flax derives its principal value, and in localities but insufficiently supplied with machinery to meet the requirements of the farmers who had been incited to raise this crop. Thus they were compelled to sell at lower prices than accorded with their expectations. In the flax districts of the north of Ireland the crop is scarcely ever sold in the straw, because every one engaged in agriculture is thoroughly practised in all the processes connected with this crop, and well knowing the high value given to it after it is pulled, they would not, should they decline the manufacture by themselves, which is rarely or never the case, sell the straw merely harvested for less than probably £12 per ton.

The estimate I have given you of the returns of the crop from five acres is, I believe, much lower than the actual fact; yet, as it stands, little doubt can be entertained that the introduction of the culture and manufacture of flax into this country would tend to important national advantages.

Checking my disposition to enlarge upon a subject on which I feel a great interest, and therefore by commiting an unwarrantable trespass on your space, I will conclude with the expression of a confident hope that your editorial notice will induce a practical attention to this subject.

I am, Sir,
Your obedient servant,
S. M. TAYLOR.

EASTERN TOWNSHIPS LAND OFFICE,
Montreal, August 19, 1853.

P.S.—I have procured in Ireland flax in three different states, which I would be happy to show to any one desiring to examine them. At the same time, I would feel obliged if any of your readers would furnish me with any specimens of fine flax grown in this country, with a view to ascertain by comparison, its capability of being made a staple article of commerce.

Municipal Council of the County of Terrebonne.

Quarterly Meeting of the 13th June, 1853.

The Municipal Council of the County of Terrebonne, at a quarterly meeting, held in the hall of the Public Market, at the Village of Saint Thérèse de Blainville, on Monday, 13th June, there were present:—A. The Municipal Council on the motion of Mr. Germain, seconded by Mr. Prevost:

Resolved—That this Municipal Council has seen with pleasure a Charter, granted by the Provincial Legislature, sanctioning the construction of a Railroad between the cities of Montreal and Bytown, passing through this County and the County of Two Mountains, an enterprise which will undoubtedly advance the resources of the County by the promotion of the Agricultural, Manufactured and Commercial products, the said motion having been obtained on the vote of 11 against 3.

Moved by M. Hale, and seconded by M. Laroque:

The said resolution being proposed; Yeas: M. M. Hale, Laroque, Prevost Biroleau, Louis Labelle, McMahon, Mathe, Villemur and Germain—(9).—Nays: M. M. Raby, Valiquette, Lauzon and Bellefleur—(4).

Moved by Mr. Germain, seconded by Mr. Ganger,

Resolved,—That copies of the above resolutions may be transmitted to A. M. Delisle, Esq., President of the said Company of the Montreal and Bytown Railroad, and to the Mayors of the City of Montreal and of the Municipality of the county of Two Mountains.

The Earthquake at Cumana—Awful Destruction of Life and Property.

This calamity, so terrific at all times in Southern countries, has proved far more disastrous in the present instance than the first reports gave reason to suppose. Private letters to July 22nd, from Puerto Cabello, received by the last conveyance, give us unwelcome particulars, as they prove that the Earthquake of the 15th of July, at Cumana, was one of the most disastrous that ever occurred in South America. The present unhappy state of civil war in Venezuela, is the cause of delay in communications, as the province of Cumana is the only one now holding out against the government, the rebellion having been elsewhere suppressed. The news was brought to Puerto Cabello by the crew of a national vessel, the Bollivar, who had deserted and joined the rebels.

The first shock of the earthquake was so violent, that although it continued its vibrations only two minutes, it destroyed in that short space of time, every house but one in that principal part of the city called Puente Arriba. Many of the inhabitants of the portion which contained the dwellings of the more opulent, were buried in the ruins. There can be no doubt that some of the succeeding details are liable to be questioned, on account of the channel through which the news was brought to Puerto Cabello; but they generally received credit among respectable men at that place, from several of whom the story has been received here. This shocking catastrophe seems to have put a sudden and complete end to the war; for 600 soldiers in the barracks were among the victims, together with almost all the officers of the revolution.

The utmost consternation naturally prevailed among the survivors, and it is said that a respectable ecclesiastic was sent to General J. F. Monages, who was preparing his troops to march against Cumana, offering to submit, and asking for assistance for the sufferers. It is added that these requests were asserted to, and that he immediately sent one of his brothers with a supply of provisions and men. The earthquake was felt in Barcelona, and destroyed three large buildings, including the barracks, just after 700 soldiers had left them. All along the coast of Venezuela, shocks were felt but no mischief was known.

It is said that the superstitions of the people led many of them to look upon the earthquake as an evidence of the Divine disapprobation of the revolution.

Cumana is a city of almost 8000 inhabitants, lying on the Gulf of Cariaco, at the mouth of the Maranares. It is the oldest European city on the American continent, having been founded in 1523.

INTENDED SUBTERRANEAN METROPOLITAN RAILWAY.—Among the bills which have just received the sanction of Parliament, there is one which relates to a project which, when known, will excite very great interest in the metropolis. It is for the purpose of making a railway under ground from the lower end of Edgeware Road to the King's Cross. The subterranean railway will, for the most part, run beneath the New Road.—The estimated capital for the execution of the work is £300,000, and, as a proof that the scheme can be completed for this sum, a responsible contractor has already offered to undertake the execution of it at considerably less than the amount we have specified. What is more, a party of the highest respectability has engaged to give a guarantee of six per cent, for a period of 20 years, on the amount of the capital expended. The length of this under-ground railway will be less than two miles and a half. There will be stations at very short distances—say at every quarter of a mile; and it is intended that the charges shall be so moderate that the omnibuses running along the New Road will not have a chance against their subterranean rival. The charge for the whole distance in the first-class will only be 2d. The carriages will be superior to anything to be found on any railway in England. Owing to the nature of the substratum along the course of the line, it will be perfectly free from damp all the way; and, as every carriage will be abundantly lighted, the ride will be pleasant in the highest degree. The works will be speedily commenced, and it is expected that the line will be in full operation in little more than twelve months.—London Paper.

MONTREAL MINING COMPANY.—Since the publication of the report on the affairs of this Company, which appeared in our issue of yesterday, intelligence has been received that in addition to the quantity of ore set down as assets, a further lot of 200 tons may be expected to arrive this fall.

Ashes—We have had an active Ashes market during the week, at an advance in prices. The sales are reported at 800 to 900 bbls, principally in Pots, at 26s 6d@27s 6d. Pearls less ready of sale, at 26s 6d@27s. The advices continuing from Canada of a gradually increasing deficiency in receipts, have at length drawn more attention to this article. An improved demand for chemicals has also taken place.

Provisions—There is rather more enquiry for Beef, at former prices; fine prime mess ℔ tierce, 92s 6d@100s; ordinary, 80s@90s.

Pork has rather improved in value; eastern prime mess ℔ bbl, 76s@80s; western, 70s@75s.

The sales of Lard reach 100 tons, at an advance of 1s ℔ cwt; good to fine, 55s@56s, ℔ cwt.

Bacon continues in demand, at former rates; western 44s@50s; eastern 50s@52s.

Grease Butter is much wanted, and good quality would bring 50s@52s, ℔ cwt.

Corn market—For the past few days, we have had more seasonable weather, and under its influence, our Corn market have been dull and declining.

At our Tuesday's market, we had only a quiet demand for dealers, without change in value of Wheat or Flour.

At our market, this morning, the trade bought very sparingly, and such sales as were made were at a reduction of 6d@1s ℔ bbl on Flour, and 1d@2d ℔ 70 lb on Wheat.

The recent arrivals of Flour being much out of condition, sell at very irregular prices.

A good demand for Indian Corn, without change in value.

During the week, a large business has been done in floating cargoes of Wheat and Indian Corn at an advance of 1s ℔ qr, and what could be obtained for it on the spot.

Review of the Money Market for July.

The trifling progress made with the arrangement of the Turkish dispute has naturally tendep to restrict all descriptions of business. The general demand for money has been steady, with a slight tendency to increase towards the close of the month. The Bank's minimum rate is 3½ per cent.; that charged by the Lombard-street houses is quite 3 per cent.; while deposits on call are taken in at 2½ per cent.

There is every anticipation that the value of money will be fully supported, if it does not further improve. The bullion in the Bank is gradually declining; heavy shipments of specie continue to be made to India; the foreign exchanges present an adverse position, while the last account of the Bank of France is decidedly less encouraging. The influence of this state of things would have been more keenly felt than at present, had not a temporary lull occurred in trade, and should peace be assured, the alteration would shortly be evident.

The exact sum to be invested for the reduction of the National Debt, during the ensuing quarter, is £615,185, being larger than in any preceding quarter:—

Quarters ending Jan. 5, 1853	£436,360
" April 5, "	476,085
" July 5, "	604,389
" Oct. 10, "	615,185

In the corresponding quarter of 1852, the total applicable for investment was £544,294:
