Seventy-second year

Longest and hottest Warns of summer race riots

A young Negro evangelist warned yesterday this summer may be one of the longest and hottest periods of racial violence in the United States.

Tom Skinner said that with the presidential election this year both left and right wing groups are attempting to incite rioting.

He suggested when right wing elements spark riots snowballing one after another, this may result in a large white backlash vote which could go to George Wallace, the former governor of Alabama.

The 25-year-old evangelist said rightist elements would support Wallace as a man with "a hard-nosed attitude to put Negroes in their places".

Mr. Skinner, who will be conducting his crusade in Sherbrooke until May 10, said the future relationship between whites and Negroes in the United States since the assassination of Martin Luther King will be largely determined by the overwhelming number of whites.

He said the telling sign whether the scales will be tipped one way or the other in the days ahead will largely lie with "the good people" who haven't taken a stand in the past.

The Brooklyn resident said with King's assassination Negro militants will become more militant "since King was a last stop-gap in terms of non-violence."

He labelled King a national figure of non-violence. In referring to the militant Negro movement Mr. Skinner said King was having difficulty keeping them in line before his assassination.

He said the young militants feel white America has not been bending far enough to help the Negroes.

"But others," he said, "who have committed themselves to non-violence will also intensify their efforts" following the assassination of King.

Mr. Skinner said militant leaders like Stokely Carmichael and H. Rap Brown never announce programs "that will elevate the grassroots Blacks" other than to tell them to burn down the existing system.

He added the ghettoed Negroes are never given an alternative by the militant leaders.

Mr. Skinner said although this element of the American Negro population will grow even more militant, they will never secede from the social structure because they depend on it for their existence.

Commenting on Carmichael's recent trips to Hanoi and Cuba, the evangelist said these trips were taken for two specific purposes.

One is monetary and the other feeds on the American fear of Communism.

"Carmichael is smart and he knows America fears Communism. By identifying with the Communist wing, Carmichael believes the whites in the United States will give greater concessions to Negroes in an attempt to swing them away" from possibly entering the Communist camp, he explained.

Mr. Skinner said Carmichael's latest actions are definitely not a sign that he is embracing Communism. "The Blacks won't swing to Communism because too many of them have already spilled too much blood," to advance their cause, he stated.

Leger returns to France

OTTAWA (CP) — Prime Minister Trudeau has sent Canadian ambassador Jules Leger back to France with instructions related to French acceptance of Quebec province at a Paris education conference without Ottawa's approval.

Mr. Trudeau told a Tuesday news conference the ambassador, recalled for consultation over the incident, is en route to Paris. He declined to say what Mr. Leger had been advised to do when he got back to France.

The prime minister hoped that developments in the case will not have to be made too public. He gave no indication that a break in diplomatic relations was France was in the offing.

Although Mr. Trudeau mentioned "a note," external affairs officials said later no note to the French government was involved in the latest developments.

AUTHORITY IN DOUBT

Canada suspended diplomatic relations with Gabon after that tiny African country invited Quebec to the first stage of the same conference for French-speaking countries in February.

Raps gov't for its arms sale

HAMILTON (CP) — NDP Leader T. C. Douglas says Canada will go before the bar of history with blood on its hands because it has kept on selling arms to the United States for use in the Vietnam war.

Prime Minister Trudeau said Canada could not halt arms shipment because it would put men out of work. But the same workers who make tanks could make tractors. Those who make napalm could be making fertilizers and insecticides.

Mr. Douglas, in his first foray outside Ottawa since the calling of the June 25 general election, spoke at a rally which chose Nick Ramacieri, 32, as NDP candidate in Hamilton East to oppose Liberal John Munro, newly-named minister without portfolio.

Mr. Ramacieri is a former steel worker of Italian descent who now operates a beauty salon. He defeated a prominent union man, Stewart Cooke, the area supervisor of the United Steelworkers of America and president of the Hamilton and District Labor Council.

Speaking to a nominating rally here Tuesday night, the New Democratic leader concentrated on what he called an economic crisis at home and a loss of political and economic independence to the U.S.

Canada has not recognized China "because the state department won't let us."

Arms shipments to other countries involved in wars had been stopped. But they had continued to the U.S. although there was no question that the arms were being used in Vietnam.

One of the escapees was Claude Levasseur, 31, whose death sentence for the shooting in 1965 of a bank manager, Emile Marier, was commuted by the federal cabinet in 1966.

The other two are Gaston

Plante, 35, serving a 20-year sentence for armed robbery, and Yvon Simard, 23, serving a six-year sentence for armed robbery.

The three somehow managed to obtain a saw with which they cut through the bars of their cell, a police spokesman said.

They fled in a stolen convertible.

When the war ends, Mr. Douglas said, "Canada will not come before the bar of historic judgment with clean hands, because there is blood on them — blood money to the tune of more than $300,000,000 a year."

Levasseur also escaped from St. Vincent de Paul in 1964, but was recaptured Plante was declared an "habitual criminal"

Mr. Douglas will not officially open his election campaign until May 13 in Prince George, B.C., but he has set up a fairly strenuous pre-campaign schedule which will take him to British Columbia, Montreal and Toronto.

He flies to Vancouver today to spend a few days in his home riding.

On domestic issues, Mr. Douglas sliced at Mr. Trudeau's image as a swinger and said it would not solve Canada's economic crisis.

Wants constitution without old relics

NEW YORK (CP) — Premier Daniel Johnson of Quebec said Tuesday night Canada's future constitution "will have to shed all relics of an imperial or colonial era," including "the non-elective status of the provincial lieutenant-governors."

In an address before the Economic Club of New York, he also said:

"Federalism is the best political form of maintaining Canada as a peaceful, peace-loving and peace-contributing country."

An English-language text of his 2,200-word address was released to the press at Quebec City in advance of delivery.

Discussing unanimous agreement of the federal and provincial governments to review the Canadian constitution, Mr. Johnson said:

"There will be some tensions and some attitudes will be subject to criticism," but he added each province will become less stereotyped than at present where it is all patterned in the same fashion after the traditional British parliamentary system which is found to be creaking and squeaking in a number of places."

2. With French-speaking countries, Quebec would maintain "intense relations in matters of education and culture which are essential to the preservation and nourishment of its particular traits."

kind in Canada, was intended to avert a 20-per-cent increase in Montreal's property, business and water tax rates. It was expected to raise $28,000,000 in voluntary donations from all over North America, although it has been denounced as illegal by the U.S. justice department.

OTTAWA (CP) — Come June 25, thousands of service veterans will be doing their federal voting from hospital beds.

In many cases, the hospital is located far from the home riding where the veteran is entitled to cast his ballot.

A special election group in the veterans affairs department ensures that the proper ballot with the right home riding candidates will be at the veteran's bedside on voting day.

"It's quit a chore," says

Fred Black, departmental secretary who has done this organizational work through the 1962, 1963 and 1965 federal elections and is preparing now for his fourth.

"But it has been working well. We've had no complaints."

The departmental group cooperates with the chief electoral officer and deputy returning officers across the country.

PROVIDES FULL LIST

It provides the electoral office with a list of every veteran receiving hospital treatment under departmental auspices.

Mr. Black said in an interview there are "several thousand of them." The total of eligible voters in the group will be known after enumeration.

The patients are scattered coast to coast in 13 homes and hospitals run directly by the department and more than 200 other regular hospitals. The department provides the place of residence of every veteran

Dr. Dymond was charged with dereliction of duty after he read to the legislature sworn statements from the Cara Villa nursing home charging that mentally-ill patients were beaten by operators and forced to eat from a tray while seated on a toilet.

HONG KONG (AP) — Thousands of angry Chinese peasants set fire to a Maoist headquarters in Kwangtung province in China then slaughtered the occupants as they jumped from upper storey windows, a Chinese newspaper reported here Tuesday.

SAIGON (AP) — Fighting raged today for the third successive day in the northeast corner of South Vietnam where combined forces troops reported killing at least 575 North Vietnamese soldiers this week.

Military spokesmen said 27 Americans and six South Vietnamese had been killed Tuesday and 219 Americans wounded, bringing total combined forces casualties in the sector this week to 44 killed and 277 wounded.

Headed street gang

Fourteen-year-old Tom Skinner knew that if he started to cry he wouldn't be able to join the gang.

But this wasn't an ordinary boys' gang where you throw green apples at each other from across the street.

Tom desperately wanted to join the Harlem Lords, a street gang in New York's Negro ghetto.

That's why he had to blink back any tears while he dangled, roped and stripped to the waist, from a spike hammered into a brick wall while a gang member formally initiated him with 20 blows of a leather strap.

Tom, now a 25-year-old evangelist presently holding a crusade at Sherbrooke's Grace Chapel, told of his teenage gang experiences yesterday.

Tom was a brilliant student and student council president. But his social science teacher, a Black Nationalist, convinced Tom there was no way for the Negro in America to rise to the top.

Tom joined the Harlem

Lords following a period of cursing himself for being born black. Six short weeks after joining the gang he decided that with his intelligence he should be gang leader.

At just 14-years-old he went out into the street to fight the leader. He chose to fight with knives and won.

Just two weeks later he was challenged and won again in a knife fight. Tom ruled as leader of the Harlem Lords for two years when he retired with 15 street fights under his belt and 22 notches in his knife symbolizing the number of times he had knifed someone.

He cut a few people up but he never killed anyone nor did he ever spend time in jail. The Harlem Lords were 130 strong and ranged in age from 14 to 18-years-old.

Tom remembers when his gang rumbled with a gang from Washington Heights. The rival gang didn't have a chance after they were lured into the middle of the street by a few Harlem Lords.

Stationed on the rooftops with B-B and pellet guns, members of the Harlem Lords picked off the opposition after other members had circled around behind them.

Forced into building basements the rival gang members were worked over further with bricks and bottles by some Lords who had been lying in wait. Tom worked out the battle plan.

Tom says the street gangs often had sister gangs. The girls used to stand on the sidelines while the gangs rumbled. Whenever a police siren wailed nearby, the boys would give their weapons to the girls who hid them in their clothes.

The cops were caught cold as it's illegal for a policeman to frisk a woman. The girls were also engaged for other "social purposes."

One day Tom decided to quit after hearing a radio broadcast which said if you want to change society you have to change people. There was a quote from the Bible to the effect that if you receive Christ into your life, bigotry will be replaced with His strength.

'Tax' plan to go to court

QUEBEC (CP) — Justice Minister Jean-Jacques Bertrand has moved a step closer to confrontation with Montreal Mayor Jean Drapeau over the imaginative mayor's "voluntary tax" scheme.

Mr. Bertrand said Tuesday in answer to a question asked in the legislature by Jerome Choquette (L—Montreal Outremont) that "as long as the Criminal Code contains dispositions prohibiting lotteries, the minister of justice will see that the law is applied."

The justice minister had said in a statement Friday that the unusual tax scheme, which offers up to $100,000 in monthly cash prizes for $2 donations to the city coffers, is "illegal and a contravention of the Criminal Code."

Pressed by reporters Tuesday to elaborate outside the house on his plans to fight the scheme, Mr. Bertrand said: "I don't want to make any further comment because this affair is to be submitted to the courts."

Mayor Drapeau, who has steadfastly denied his plan is a lottery because winners will be asked "skill-testing questions," told his city council Monday night that "nothing in this day has arisen" to indicate the plan is illegal.

The novel scheme, first of its kind in Canada, was intended to avert a 20-per-cent increase in Montreal's property, business and water tax rates. It was expected to raise $28,000,000 in voluntary donations from all over North America, although it has been denounced as illegal by the U.S. justice department.

The new riding of Frontenac established under the 1966 redistribution act is one of those examples of a name being assigned to a constituency which bears little or no connection to the municipal communities or even of the larger municipalities contained within its limits.

Most of the territory embraced within the new constituency is located in the County of Megantic, under which name the riding was known prior to redistribution.

Three Tories meet convention Sunday

At least three candidates will come before the Progressive Conservative nominating convention in Sherbrooke to be held on Sunday afternoon at the Hotel Wellington.

Last night Ald. Romeo Quintal and Dr. Alexandre Kindy, director of a psychiatric clinic and president of the Sherbrooke County Progressive Conservative Association, announced they would seek the nomination, opposing Yves Coiteux, who formally entered the race last Sunday.

The Sherbrooke riding was vacant at dissolution due to the resignation of Independent MP Maurice Allard to accept an appointment to the Sessions Court in Montreal.

In Compton county two men have announced their plans to seek the Liberal nomination—Leger Cameron, a former mayor of Coaticook and president of the Compton County Liberal Association, and Paul Paquin, an East Angus businessman.

The date for the Compton convention has not been decided.

Compton - Frontenac was represented in the last House by Creditiste Henri Latulippe who has announced he will seek reelection in the new riding of Compton.

Man identifies accused bank robber

Testifying yesterday at the assizes trial of Raymond Patenaude accused of masked-armed robbery, the man who rented his cellar to the four alleged Banque Canadienne Nationale bandits for $500 identified the accused as one of four men who left his basement the day following the hold-up.

The man, a young Sherbrooke resident, on order from Judge Evender Veilleux had his name and address withheld from publication for protection purposes.

The man's wife positively identified Patenaude as one of the men who stayed in the basement on the day of the robbery and left the next morning with three other men.

Patenaude is charged with robbing the King East branch of the Banque Canadienne Nationale in Sherbrooke Sept. 13, 1965 and making-off with $34,466 in cash and $4,854 in cheques.

Patenaude is charged with robbing the King East branch of the Banque Canadienne Nationale in Sherbrooke Sept. 13, 1965 and making-off with $34,466 in cash and $4,854 in cheques.

Asking for the protection of the court, the man whose basement was the alleged hide-away for the thieves said he was approached two weeks before the holdup by a man whom he did not know.

He said the man offered him $200 to rent his garage and basement.

He said he refused this first offer but later when a second price of $500 was quoted, he accepted.

He identified the 1965 Oldsmobile but was not sure of the 1963 Pontiac used as a getaway car in the holdup.

He said he saw the Oldsmobile at his home.

The day following the hold-up he said he drove Patenaude to Bromptonville and two other men to Asbestos.

He received $355 for this. Cross-examining the witness, defense lawyer Michel Proulx asked the man why he never reported this information to police.

Referring to a declaration made by the man, defense lawyer Proulx asked why the man didn't know the names of these tenants, the exact number of persons in the cellar, or why he couldn't even identify the face of one of the alleged bandits who asked him to get something to eat.

Upon leaving, the man said, one of the alleged bandits was carrying a leather suitcase.

He said he did not see any firearms on the men.

The man's wife positively identified Raymond Patenaude as one of the men in the house as well as a second man facing the same charge, Florent Despres.

Both were identified by the woman in a line-up last year.

Again referring back to his argument with the man whose basement was rented, defense lawyer Proulx asked the woman why she didn't think it was strange that four men would rent a garage and basement for two days and pay $500.

The woman, in response to the defense lawyer's question to identify Patenaude, pointed out the accused at his seat at the accused's bar and shortly after identified a mug-shot of Patenaude from a number of photos.

She said she thought her husband received more than $500 for renting the garage and cellar.

The four suspects in the case are the accused, Yvon Roy, Florent Despres and Michel Boucher.

The Crown closed its case yesterday and the defense began its case this morning at 10 a.m.

Mediterranean Club men to visit Magog

MAGOG — (Staff) — The Magog - Orford Tourist Association's president, Jacques Boisvert, received word Monday that representatives of the international Mediterranean Club would visit Magog in late June or early July to survey the Magog - Orford area as a possible site for the club's hotel resort.

Nil Degre, the association's secretary, said yesterday if the hotel resort is constructed in this area, it would have at least 200 beds, meaning a large new tourist attraction for the district.

Mr. Boisvert learned of the latest developments from Gilles Lefebvre, president of the Jeunesses Musicales Camp in Magog.

Mr. Lefebvre was in France and while there, he talked with the founding president of the JMC in France, Mr. Nicoloy.

Mr. Nicoloy is a personal friend of the president of the Mediterranean Club, Jean Blitz, and he spoke with an executive member of the club who officially guaranteed the representatives would visit Magog.

Mr. Degre did not know how many representatives would be sent to Magog.

There was a difference at the Rotary Club's annual boys' public speaking contest last night. For the first time in the history of the contest, — since 1939 — a French-language competitor took first place honors.

Daniel Giroux, who is in the class versification of College Classique at Thetford Mines (equal to fourth year high classical) won top place over five other contestants from various schools in the ET with a speech on youth and drugs.

Speaking in French, Daniel told the group that youth has to be informed on the dangers and effects of taking drugs — through radio, television, newspapers and magazines.

He said in order to understand the problem people must "put themselves in the place of a teenager."

"He doesn't know where he is going or what his world is coming to. He has a desire to flee reality and seeks refuge in drugs and alcohol."

Daniel added that only through co-operation between youth and adults can this problem be decreased.

The speaker said that at least one or two young persons between the ages of 15 and 20 appear before courts daily facing narcotics charges.

Daniel will compete in the finals May 14, before the Montreal Rotary Club and will be eligible for a $400 bursary. In addition, if he wins, his school will be given the Rotary shield for a year.

For the sixth consecutive year, Montreal Rotary Club past-president Paul Cote who in the past has been associated with the public speaking contest attended the competitions and congratulated the winner.

Tom Leonard, vice-chairman of the club's youth committee was master of ceremonies for the program.

The five other contestants were David Evans, Grade 10, Lennoxville High; Michel Lafond, Grade 11, Jean Raimbault School, Drummondville; Garth Steeves, Grade 11, Sherbrooke High; James Anthony Awde, Grade 11, Bishop's College School; Noel Loveys, St. Andrew College, Grade 10.

Judges were Gerard Boudreau, Lucien Fortin and Arnold Reynolds.

France and Quebec increasing university exchange program

A recent report prepared by Jean Brebeau, secretary of the Scholarships and Student Aid Service, shows an increase in exchanges between France and the University of Sherbrooke.

An article in the April 26 edition of the Liaison, the university's information leaflet, published some of the service's findings, stating there were 16 French professors at the University of Sherbrooke during the period from Sept. 1, 1967 to March 31, 1968.

In exchange, there were 24 professors affiliated with the University of Sherbrooke working in France. There were seven French students enrolled at the University who were here on a France-Quebec scholarship.

There are seven student apprentices in France who were sent through the University of Sherbrooke's association with the French government.

The French government has invited five university professors to visit France to discuss the problems concerning joint programs.

Kids had matches, started fire

Sherbrooke Fire Department authorities yesterday reported the fire which caused an estimated $3,000 damage Monday to a garage and storage sheds on the corner of McManamy and Dorval Streets in Sherbrooke was started by children playing with matches.

The fire, which heavily damaged the inside of the building, was quelled before it spread to an adjacent six-tenement apartment building.

A staircase leading to the garage and sheds was engulfed in flames when Sherbrooke firefighters arrived.

The damaged property is owned by Henry Hardy of 452 McManamy Street.

Mayor Nadeau develops his plan to build a home for the aged

Mayor Armand Nadeau is moving full speed ahead on a personal project to construct a home for the aged in Sherbrooke.

Mayor Nadeau started to work on the idea only Monday afternoon and has already recruited six of the 12 directors he said were necessary to form a corporation.

He said he had contacted the president of the Quebec Housing Society, Henri Dion, Q.C., and the president was enthused, over the project.

Once the motion is accepted by the corporation to make definite plans, the society will arrange the terms with the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation to finance the project with a loan which would be repayable over a period of 30 to 40 years, Mr. Nadeau explained.

The mayor did not know how much the home would cost nor where it would be built.

He did say the building would be large enough to house over 250 elderly people.

"I think we should have more such facilities in Sherbrooke," he said.

There is one home in Sherbrooke, the St. Joseph home, which has a waiting list of over 200.

He said the directors for the new home, who will be chosen as quickly as possible, will consist of 10 local businessmen, one representative from the city and one from the Chamber of Commerce.

Mayor Nadeau emphasized the project had nothing to do with the city. It was a personal project he would work on with the directors.

Salvation Army seeks aid for valued work

Most people have first-hand knowledge of some of the work being carried on by the Salvation Army.

They know of its relief work, gathering up old clothing, furniture and the like for distribution to the needy; of providing food baskets to the needy at Christmas time; of providing food and shelter for homeless wanderers.

But these are only a few of the functions being carried on by this noble organization, many of which the public learns little first hand.

The Salvation Army provides a valuable service in its rehabilitation work among juvenile delinquents, prison inmates and alcoholics and in its efforts to restore broken homes.

In times of conflict it offers comfort and recreation facilities for the men in the field.

These extensive services are financed largely through the proceeds of the Red Shield Campaign which opens in the Sherbrooke area today, coincident with similar campaigns across the country.

During the month of May The Salvation Army is asking the people of the Sherbrooke area to contribute $8,500 to carry on its work here to aid in services rendered in other parts of Canada.

In reality, contributions to the Red Shield Campaign are an investment on the part of the taxpayers.

The Salvation Army is carrying on many duties that would otherwise become the responsibility of government and it is doing them much more effectively and efficiently than would a government agency, with the result that the people of Canada are being saved substantial sums.

All things come to those who wait — except the early bus on a rain-swept morning.

Challenge to cabinet

By announcing his decision to proceed with his voluntary tax program, which both federal and provincial authorities have declared is nothing more than a lottery in very thin disguise, Montreal Mayor Jean Drapeau has in effect issued a challenge to Provincial Justice Minister Jean-Jacques Bertrand for a showdown which it is difficult to see how the latter can avoid.

Mayor Drapeau declared that the Montreal voluntary tax is legal in every respect and that only by court judgment can this statement be impugned.

Later in his statement he declared: "We therefore ask the Minister of Justice — if he shares the opinion of his legal advice — to proceed (with court action) as soon as possible. He can be assured of our most careful and prompt co-operation."

The readiness of Mayor Drapeau for a showdown is easily understandable.

The legal position of his voluntary tax plan has been challenged by Quebec, although the provincial Justice Minister has indicated the cabinet would like to ignore the whole affair.

But the Montreal Mayor knows that the success of his plan to hold the Montreal realty tax rate rests upon wide public acceptance of the project and this will not be forthcoming if people generally believe it may involve them in legal complications.

Thus he is challenging the cabinet to take court action to stop him, regardless of the consequences.

If the racket made by the progress of your pet snail is too much to bear, you've really got a hangover, old man.

TODAY in history

By THE CANADIAN PRESS
May 1, 1968 . . .

The world's first adhesive postage stamp, the "penny black", went on sale in England 128 years ago today—in 1854. The "penny black" and the two-penny blue stamp—both bearing the portrait of Queen Victoria—were an immediate success and printers worked night and day to keep them available. The use of stamps spread and in 1843 Brazil became the second country to use them.

1873—David Livingstone, Scottish missionary-explorer, died in Africa. 1925—Ethiopian Emperor Haile Selassie fled Addis Ababa in the face of Italian attacks.

First World War
Fifty years ago today—in 1918—German forces occupied Sevastopol; British troops captured Merh in Mesopotamia; American forces took up positions on the Amiens front near Montdidier; application of conscription to Ireland was postponed by order-in-council of the British government.

Second World War
Twenty-five years ago today—in 1943—the British admiralty announced the loss of the British destroyer Beverley, a former United States ship; Joseph Stalin called for "unconditional surrender" of Hitler's Germany and hailed British-American aerial blows at Europe as foreshadowing a second front; Tokyo radio announced Gen. Kenji Doihara, known as the Law-rence of Manchuria, was appointed commander-in-chief of the Eastern Army zone and to the supreme war command.

"THE EVER OPEN DOOR"

Readers say:

Should vote for good government

Dear Sir:

After listening and looking at the Conservative and Liberal conventions I am surprised to know why the voters of Canada vote so much for political party prestige instead of good government. With the high cost of living and Government and strikes it seems about time the people began to elect men of courage and integrity to combat the evils we have with us today.

I am a retired Civil Service employee of the US government and property owner and taxpayer here in Canada. I know from personal experience of 23 years employment by the US government as a union man in the International Association of Machinists, labor and management differences can be settled without strikes.

There are, to my knowledge, 68 unions recognized by the US government and nobody loses any wages and the government does not lose any man hours of production through the periods when differences arise between the employees and the government.

To prove the above statements I respectfully submit 3 clipping entitled Federal Employee Unions.

I am sure if the voters considered they will vote for issues presented by the political parties particularly about government-employee strikes at all levels of government.

With the head tax on every man, woman and child in Canada at over $1,000 to meet the payroll of government employees it is about time people began to realize what they are voting for.

Subscribers resent Bell's treatment

Dear Sir:

With reference to Gentle Ben's timely comment re the gradual to total elimination of the use of English in the Bell Telephone Company.

It's high time the Bell woke up to the fact that we, the English subscribers, greatly resent the total elimination of English. Being located in Quebec we go along with bilingualism but never unilingualism: Absolutely no, never.

We pay for and expect to be addressed in English the same as the French people expect to be addressed in French. Furthermore the Bell should hire at least 25 per cent English, especially in the Eastern Townships.

Wake up Bell, lead the way and show a little fair play to all concerned.

DE-HIBERNATED BEN

Be active in Home & School groups

Dear Sir:

The greatest gift parents can give their children is his or her right to as much education as the child wants or can use.

It is only through education that the youth of today will attain the power to become the leaders of tomorrow.

The teachers and school boards cannot do it all for you.

Wake up, parents of the Eastern Townships. Ask questions, learn about your Home and School Association; if there isn't one in your locality, agitate, work, and stir up your neighbors until one is started.

Above all join the Home and School Association.

Remember, if you do not make your voice heard, you have no reason to complain if decisions are reached of which you do not approve.

I have no dull axe to grind, my children are all grown men and women.

I draw no pay from any school board or any other association interested in education.

Please look into this; it is later than you think.

Produce most goods at lowest cost

Wants economy on profits basis

MOSCOW (AP)—Yevsei G. Liberman, Soviet economist, is attacking enterprises that show no concern for the public and make no attempt to improve service.

He also urged that the economy be put on a profits basis to produce the most goods at the lowest cost.

Liberman helped bring about the introduction of economic reforms after the fall of Nikita Khrushchev. These give a greater role to profits, but not as much as Liberman wants.

Writing in Literaturnaya Gazeta (Literary Gazette), Liberman attacked the widely-held theory here that lines of waiting people are a good thing. The theory is that they show available facilities are being used to full capacity and the state is not suffering any losses.

Liberman cited a movie manager who proudly showed a foreign visitor the long line in front of his ticket window.

The guest noted Liberman reported with approval, that people are being made unhappy and that the theatre lost admission money from those who got turned away.

CUSTOMER COMES FIRST
Liberman castigated similar thinking by management for the railway system, the Aeroflot airline, restaurants, stores and even public baths.

He complained in particular that trains and planes are run according to schedule only if well loaded but otherwise are combined and changed around to reduce the number of empty seats.

"Our economists who think that profits lead to an increase in price are wrong," he said. "Profits produce a reduction of price through more mechanization and bigger sales."

The Kharkov University economist insisted that supply should be greater than demand and the customer should have a choice instead of being confronted with a single shop or service.

He cited the arguments in favor of profits usual in the West, but insisted they would not have any bad effects in the Soviet Union because all the means of production are owned by the state.

"Our economists who think that profits lead to an increase in price are wrong," he said. "Profits produce a reduction of price through more mechanization and bigger sales."

The Kharkov University economist insisted that supply should be greater than demand and the customer should have a choice instead of being confronted with a single shop or service.

He cited the arguments in favor of profits usual in the West, but insisted they would not have any bad effects in the Soviet Union because all the means of production are owned by the state.

New Arab plan sought

Lebanon sets heady pace on new concepts

By DAVID POLING

BEIRUT, Lebanon (NEA)

The pleasant port city of Beirut has not yet recovered from the shock of last June's Arab-Israeli war. The Israeli victory shattered the pride and political arguments that had been so carefully cultivated in the Arab states and even Lebanon, whose population is almost evenly divided between Christian and Moslem, continues to suffer.

Many Arab leaders in Lebanon believe that the situation in the Holy Land will not find even tentative agreement until war in Vietnam is concluded. The riots in American cities following the death of Martin Luther King brought further despair to this Arab capital: Will the internal upheavals that now mark the urban scene further delay the interest and involvement of the United States in the Middle East?

It is fair to say that those are the unanswered questions that affect not only Israel but 100 million Arabs. And it is not Britain or France or Russia which are going to provide the conditions for lasting settlement in this historic anguish center of world history. Christians and Moslems alike look to Washington.

Lebanon has suffered serious side effects from the June 5 War, as it is called. Travel is not possible between Israel and Lebanon. This means tourism is in a drastic decline and this vital young nation, with friends in East and West, has lost almost half of its annual income that usually comes from tourists. Hotels are more than half empty. One sees many high-rise hotels and apartments unfinished. Lebanon is in a pensive, perplexed mood. Yet of all the Arab states, she has the resilience and brain power to sort out the alternatives and develop new policies for the good life that is coming.

I was particularly impressed, and American Christians have good reason to be proud, with the leadership of the American University of Beirut. Now in its 101st year, this sprawling university serves more than 4,000 students on the shores of the Mediterranean. From every Arab state and more than 60 other nations these buildings and playing fields contain the dynamic leaders that will act on tomorrow's agenda. In religion, they seemed to be committed to the ecumenical movement. In politics and economics, they want to raise up the lost and forgotten, the refugee and the recluse. In arts and science, they want to be part of the "cool generation."

The university faculty has first-rate professors, with such people as Dr. Hugh Harcourt of Portland, Ore., and Dr. David Byers, who left Yale after eight years to become their new dean of the Chapel. Recently, Dr. Elie A. Salem, assistant dean of the faculty, led student discussions by insisting that a whole new viewpoint be considered:

"We have, at times, maintained that Israel did not exist. This ostrichlike attitude of ours succeeded in keeping us uninformed about events and developments inside Israel. . . . We also looked at Israel as a gangster-band, an accomplice of great powers, and we cursed them! . . . We have led the world to believe that we are going to eliminate the State of Israel by force. This is a most unfortunate foreign policy. It not only contradicts facts but it also renders Arab diplomacy ineffective."

Beirut is the center of much that passes from East to West intellectually and spiritually.

As I see it, the relationships between Christians of varied historic and denominational loyalty is improving and enlarging. Presbyterians, Roman Catholics, Eastern Orthodox are in constant and increasing co-operation. Moslems and Christians share forums and dialogue groups around the country. It just may be that the religious community will effect a whole new society that has so often eluded the political arrangements of the past.

Salem should have the last word on the troubles of this lovely country, and its unpredictable neighbors:

"It is one of the ironies of history that a people like the Arabs, who have a just cause, are too excited, too stunned or too incoherent to make it known to the rest of the world. The Arabs must gain the world's support, particularly the support of the great powers who count in the formation of Middle Eastern politics. To do so, the Arabs must produce a positive plan that will accommodate the Jews in the Arab world."

Campaign on economics

Knowlton events

To discuss women's role in community

KNOWLTON — (Staff) — Heward Graftiey, MP Brome-Missisquoi, said that his campaign will be based on the economic issues which he described as "chaotic."

Mr. Graftiey said on the local level he was going to stress an "ownership democracy" by urging that the Government take an active roll in housing, support and development of small businesses, and creating a sufficiently stable economy to encourage investment by Canadians in Canadian industry.

Mr. Graftiey said "we must help keep farmers on good viable farms, fight poverty and create an expanding economy."

"Investment by Canadians in the economy will grant them an ownership stake in both the community and the country," said Mr. Graftiey.

Mr. Graftiey said, "Housing is an urgent problem, and is often the start of other ills, such as juvenile delinquency and crime, and the previous government was especially lax in attending to the urgent needs prevalent today."

On the national scene, Mr. Graftiey said he would cite the record of Mr. Stanfield in Nova Scotia, his business background, and his understanding of the current economic problems. He said, "the steady hand of Mr. Stanfield is required to avert complete economic catastrophe."

Mr. Graftiey said he welcomed redistribution and that he thought it was absolutely fair and a new challenge. He welcomed the new voters of Missisquoi, and said that he looked forward to working in new urban and rural areas in the expanded county where he would try and work as he has in the past for his constituents.

Ungraded classes discussed

WATERLOO — (Special) — The third educational workshop was held at Waterloo High School April 28 with Ron Elliot vice - principal of Knowlton High School, as the guest speaker. Chairman of the directing committee, Stuart Peters, also brought the parents up to date on recent advances in elementary education at the school.

Mr. Elliot explained the way in which the Gables School was brought into the system of ungrading or continuous progress. At the beginning, he said, the educators set themselves nine goals.

These goals have not all been attained as yet, he said, but are progressing towards that conclusion. He said that the system of continuous progress is working well in his school, with the teachers and pupils mutually satisfied and contented.

Following his talk Mr. Elliot answered questions of parents and teachers attending. Mr. Peters spoke on the most recent changes in the reading and mathematics programs at WHS. Both subjects are presently ungraded. The children read their own levels, and learn modern math in the same way.

The report committee studied report cards of various ungraded schools in order to make up a satisfactory report card consistent with an ungraded school.

No date has been set for the next educational workshop.

Nun chief For and about Women boiler operator Silver wedding celebrated

HAMILTON (CP) — If you ever see a nun with oily fingers and grease smudges on her nose, she's Sister Richard Marie — chief boiler operator.

When the sister was a toddler her favorite toys were a hammer and nails.

A few days ago, dressed in her black habit, she stepped forward to receive an award as top student in a night class in power engineering.

It started four years ago when two new 15-pound-pressure boilers were installed in the girls' school near Waterdown, Ont., where Sister Richard Marie is on the staff.

The superintendent thought one nun should know how to operate the equipment in case he wasn't available for duty some morning. So he taught Sister Richard Marie how to blow a boiler down and how to humer the temperamental mechanisms.

When he died, she took over boiler operations in addition to regular duties in the school's dining room.

Many friends and relatives gathered at the Brompton Community Hall recently to honor Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hastings of Oakville, Conn., on the occasion of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary.

The couple were met at the door by Mrs. Myrtle Bowen, Rock Island the maid of honor, of 25 years ago, and their daughter Janet, who presented a corsage and boutonniere to the celebrants. They were then escorted to the front of the hall, to the strains of the Wedding March, where a receiving line was formed and the couple received congratulations.

During the evening, four student nurses 'The Nightingales' sang several selections. The remainder of the evening was spent playing cards and visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Hastings, who left the community 12 years ago.

Mr. Douglas Miller, Chateaugay, presented the guests of honor with the silver guest book and a money token to celebrate the occasion, for which Mr. and Mrs. Hastings both expressed their pleasure and thanks. This also being the occasion of Mr. Hastings's birthday, several stalwart friends gave him a few bounces for good measure.

The bride's table was centered with a three tier wedding cake flanked by white tapers in silver holders. The Ladies of the Brompton WI prepared and served lunch.

Out of town guests included Mrs. F. Nixon, Richmond, mother of Mrs. Hastings; Mrs. Thomas Bowen, Rock Island; Mr. Douglas Miller, Chateaugay; Mr. Oswald Desjardins, Beaufort; Mrs. William Davis, Rock Island; Mrs. Oscar Davis, Fulford; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Davis, North Hatley, and other friends and relatives from Melbourne, Richmond, Lennoxville and Sherbrooke.

Provides Firm Support

If you need a strong yet lightweight support for ankles, wrists or knees during hectic summertime activities, try a new shortie elastic bandage. It's only three yards stretched and provides firm support with less bulk than regular elastic bandages, making you cooler and more comfortable while you play.

Discard old drugs, it's their misuse that kills

OTTAWA (CP) — Drugs save life. It's their misuse that kills.

This is the terse message the federal food and drug directorate gives the public in its pamphlet Drugs—Handle With Care.

For safety's sake, the directorate warns, handle all drugs as you would poisons. Keep them under lock and key, out of children's reach. Return them to safe storage immediately after use.

Read and heed label directions and warnings. Never take medicine in the dark.

Never let a child measure or give medication. This is a task for a responsible adult.

Obtain your pharmacist's advice on storing drugs, since light, moisture, heat and cold may make them useless or bring about dangerous chemical changes.

Do not save up old drugs.

Some, such as vitamins, antibiotics, insulin and peroxide, lose their strength. Others, for example headache tablets and iodine, become too strong or undergo other harmful changes.

When discarding drugs, flush them down the toilet.

BEWARE OF CLAIMS

Buy drugs from properly authorized persons only.

Drugs sold illegally may be dangerous, habit-forming, or both.

Refuse drugs advertised as a treatment, preventive or cure for alcoholism, arteriosclerosis, blood poisoning, cancer, diabetes, epilepsy, ulcers, gallstones, kidney or bladder stones, heart disease, high blood pressure, obesity, sexual impotence, tumors or venereal disease.

Do not press a pharmacist to sell you a prescription drug without a prescription or to repeat a prescription without a doctor's authorization.

Drugs are placed on prescription because they are too potent to be used except under proper medical supervision, or they are for treatment of serious disease or they may be habit-forming.

Don't take a drug that was prescribed for another person, even if you think your symptoms appear the same.

CHECK ON EFFECTS

Consult your doctor or pharmacist about driving a vehicle or operating machinery while taking drugs. They may hinder your vision, alertness, judgment, ability to concentrate or muscle co-ordination. They may make you drowsy.

Examples of such drugs are alcohol, tranquilizers, narcotics, motion-sickness pills, antihistamines present in preparations used to combat symptoms of coughs, colds and allergies, and barbiturates and amphetamines—often called bennies or pep pills.

Do not prolong use of over-the-counter drugs such as antacids, analgesics, laxatives or cough remedies. A minor ailment that continues may be a symptom of a more serious condition.

MISS LORNA PATTON MCNIFF and MR. MICHAEL ELLET BROWN whose approaching marriage is announced. The bride-to-be is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson E. McNiff, Danville, Que. Mr. Brown is the only son of Mrs. G. L. Brown and Mr. Lytle Brown, of Berkeley, Calif. Miss McNiff is a graduate in nursing of Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal and Mr. Brown is a member of this year's graduating class in medicine at McGill University. The wedding has been arranged to take place in Montreal on May 11.

The eyes are still on the legs

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Whether skirts wander from mini heights, skim the knees or hover at mid-calf, focus is still on legs for summer.

The habit of commencing costume planning by choosing color for the leg seems to be captivating women all over the country. One novel evidence of this phenomenon is recent nationwide sale of Jetsetter, a zippered vinyl suitcase filled with 24 multi-colored pairs of panty hose, each in a convenient pigeonhole. This was originally designed as an eye-catching display and not as an item for sale.

"Americans are far ahead of Europeans in adventurous use of color on the legs," said Betty Curry, fashion director of Burlington, who has just completed a leg-fashion-checking tour of Europe.

"The British are ahead of Americans in universal enthusiasm for panty hose, but are just beginning to experiment with a wider range of color in their leg fashions."

Some confusion has been caused, Miss Curry believes, by the British use of "midi" to denote mid-thigh skirts which Americans call "mini." In Britain the mid-calf length is called "maxi," but it is not seen much except in coats for fall.

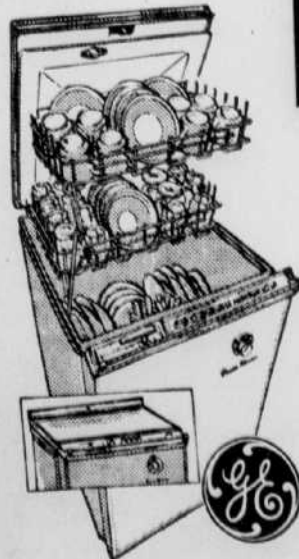

"Youth dominates fashion trends in all countries and to fulfill the youth spirit, knees must be free for action," noted Miss Curry. "We predict that the mid-calf skirt for daytime will be obsolete just as the granny quickly disappeared."

This summer lacy textures are hosiery favorites, in tune with fashion's pretty-girl look. And for daytime drama, there's a three-colored textured panty hose that's in the dashing mood of Bonnie and Clyde.

About television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—U.S. television networks, as usual about this time, are having some second thoughts about their fall schedules.

ABC, for one, has decided to re-prise N.Y.P.D. the police-action series shot mostly on location in New York.

The half-hour program co-starring Frank Converse and Robert Hooks was cancelled, but later started to pick up some extra Nielsen steam when It Takes a Thief was placed in the Tuesday night schedules ahead of it.

The pink slip has now been withdrawn, and the show will return to the same Tuesday night spot next September. Meanwhile, the show will be moved to Friday night—and Dream House, an audience participation show, will be dropped as evening entertainment although the daytime version will continue.

STARS UNDER OPTION

There may be some changes at CBS, too. Although the network originally decided to drop He and She after one season, its stars, Dick Benjamin and Paula Prentiss are still under option by the network, and the show may get another chance.

Peyton Place on ABC is one series that will not be rerunning old episodes during the summer season, but the viewer is advised to give himself two or three weeks to understand what all the suffering is about.

If one has been inattentive for a short period, it is difficult to pick up all the tangled threads. For instance, there's a nice young minister in town, and he has an alcoholic wife. Constance and Eliot Carson have acquired an infant, but it seems to be on loan. Dr. Rossi now has a young brother around and he looks like a bad 'un.

Betty Anderson, who last time this viewer looked was married to Steven Cord, now is getting engaged to Rodney Harrington—but wasn't she married to him when the series began?

CBS's Carol Burnett Show will depart—after a series of reruns—during July and August when the network will fill the hour with pilot programs of series that never found a network niche.

Canusa Unit plans to hold May banquet

DERBY LINE — The Stanstead South Church Canusa Unit met at the home of Mrs. John Flood on April 17. Mrs. Edward Jenne was in charge of the devotional period.

It was decided to have the mother and daughter banquet in the church hall on the evening of May 13 and committees were chosen. The banquet has been a tradition of the church for many years and is often attended by three and four generations of women of one family. For a few years it was discontinued but this group of young women have revived it for the past few years.

It was noted a satisfactory profit was realized from catering for a wedding reception and the ministerial association supper. A letter of thanks was read from the parents of the bride for whom the reception was held expressing gratitude for the way in which everything was handled.

The president, Mrs. Terrance Walsh noted that August 19 - 22 are the dates for the UCW summer school at Macdonald College. On June 4 the next quarterly get-together of Stanstead South Church groups will be held at the Community Center. The Unit will hold its June meeting at the center, to coincide with this date.

An invitation was received from the Beebe Wesley United Church Units to attend their get-together on May 1 in their church hall. Several plans to attend.

The May 8 meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Roland Curtis at 8 p.m.

During the social period, Mrs. Flood, Mrs. Roland Curtis and Mrs. G. Klinefelter served refreshments.

Grits worry over shipyard workers

QUEBEC (CP) — The Liberal Opposition tried without success Tuesday to provoke an emergency debate in the legislative assembly on a shipyard sale which labor leaders say would result in the layoff of about 1,000 employees at George T. Davie shipyards in suburban Lauson.

Opposition Leader Jean Lesage said in a motion calling for an emergency debate that 1,000 workers will lose their jobs because of sale of the George T. Davie shipyards by Canadian Vickers Ltd. to Davie Shipbuilding Ltd. of Lauson.

He said the local economy cannot absorb the specialized manpower of the George T. Davie company, and closing of the shipyard will have the effect of weakening further the economy of the Quebec metropolitan region.

Speaker Remi Paul ruled Mr. Lesage's motion unacceptable, saying the issue could be discussed during the budget debate. The house voted 53 to 34 to maintain Mr. Paul's decision.

Mr. Lesage did not vote because he was paired with Premier Daniel Johnson, absent to make a speech in New York City. Independent Frank Hanley voted with the government. Standing in the 108-seat house is Union Nationale 56, Liberals 49, Independent 3.

Council points out accident toll on King Street West

At the Sherbrooke city council meeting Monday, it was noted by council that during the period between Sept. 18, 1967, and March 22, 1968, there have been 10 accidents between the Rock Forest Road and the St. Elie Road on King West and only one minor accident on the part of the road which is grooved on King West.

though their property is situated about 100 feet outside the city limits.

There is no bylaw prohibiting this but Mayor Armand Nadeau stated it was a matter of principle and council debated the subject for 10 minutes before granting permission.

Alderman Nicol wanted to ensure a meter would be installed to levy the same fees as are charged in the city.

Alderman Hilaire Bellevue suggested, after conducting a thorough study, that council purchase 10,000 tourist brochures from Page and Sangster Inc. for a price of $1,646.75. Council accepted the proposal.

P. A. Lacroix gained council's approval last night when he asked in a letter to construct a decorative fence around the Sherbrooke Race Track.

He stated in the letter the fence behind his house did not enhance the property's appearance and his fence would improve the situation.

It was stated the idea could catch on and really help the appearance of that area.

City council agreed to supply Jacques and Jean Quintal with water and sewage service even

The bylaw concerning all aspects of the Sherbrooke Fire Department will be updated in the coming weeks.

The eleven-page bylaw will be sent to the Quebec Fire Commissioner who will make the necessary amendments, subject to council's approval.

OBITUARIES

MRS. R. MONTGOMERY, OF SOUTH DURHAM
 SOUTH DURHAM — One of South Durham's most highly-respected and beloved citizens, Mrs. Elsie Abigail Hyde Montgomery, died suddenly at her home on Thursday, April 4, 1968. She had been in failing health for several years.

Born at South Durham on July 31, 1897, the daughter of the late Thomas O. Hyde and his wife Fannie Ward, Mrs. Montgomery was educated at South Durham Model School and Macdonald College, graduating in 1915.

Mrs. Montgomery was a devoted member of the South Durham United Church, formerly Methodist, all her life and was a choir member for many years. She served on the board of stewards, was a member and later president of the Woman's Association of the church and, at the time of her death, was a member of the session and the U.C.W.

Her teaching career spanned twenty years. Beginning in 1915 and again in 1943. She taught two generations of children in South Durham, taught at the Royal George, later Herbert Symonds School, in Montreal, Valcartier Village School, McCaig and Rosemere High Schools.

She had a keen interest in all phases of education and community activities and maintained an active correspondence with former pupils and associates after her retirement.

Mrs. Montgomery was a former member of the Gore Women's Institute and a life member of the Provincial Association of Protestant Teachers.

During World War II she spent considerable time as a First Aid worker in a war munitions plant in Montreal.

On Sept. 4, 1918, she was married to Francis Wurtele Roland Montgomery, of South Durham. They always made their home here, except for a short period spent in Lachine during World War II and the few years when Mrs. Montgomery was teaching elsewhere.

Left to mourn her loss are, her husband; daughters, Margaret Montgomery, of Washington, D.C., and Marion, Mrs. Allan Sutherland, Danville; one granddaughter; a sister, Mrs. Cecil Elliott, of South Durham; and numerous other relatives.

The funeral service was held at 2 p.m. on April 7 at the S. L. Lockwood Funeral Home, in Richmond, Rev. R. A. Cameron officiating. Mr. Cameron spoke comforting words, based on the text requested by the deceased.

Members of the Danville United Church choir sang in the Sweet Bye and Bye, a hymn Mrs. Montgomery had been singing on the morning of her death. Mrs. Young presided at the organ and played Beautiful Isle of Somewhere as the casket was taken from the funeral parlor.

The bearers, former pupils, were Stephen Coote, Harvey Coote, Alton Richards, Leslie Doyle, Ross Gunter and Calvin Gunter.

Interment was in the family lot in the churchyard at South Durham.

MRS. M. A. CROSBY, OF STANBURY
 STANBURY — Friends and relatives gathered in St. James Anglican Church, Stanbridge East, on April 10, to attend the funeral of Milly Ann Pendiebury, wife of the late William Crosby, of Stanbury. The service was conducted by Rev. F. L. Jones.

Pall bearers were Ronald Short, Willis Ingalls, Harry Wallace, Cedric Black, Ovil Coupal and Arsene Gallipeau.

Interment was in the Stanbury Protestant Cemetery.

Mrs. Crosby died in hospital in Bedford on Palm Sunday.

Born in Stanbury in 1882, she spent most of her life on the family farm here, where Mr. Crosby joined her after their marriage. She was a devoted member of St. John's Anglican Church and presided at the organ for many years.

Mrs. Crosby was local correspondent for The Record for some time and also kept abreast of current events in Canada and abroad.

Predeceased by her husband in 1927, and by three of her children, Ada, Ross and Arnold, Mrs. Crosby is survived by Mason, of Brownsburg, Que., and Douglas and Ralph on the home farm. She also leaves one granddaughter.

CHARLES WHITCOMB, OF HATLEY

HATLEY — The sudden death of Charles G. H. Whitcomb occurred at his home at this village on Wednesday, March 27, 1968.

Mr. Whitcomb was born on April 23, 1887, the youngest son of the late Wesley and Ella R. (Bachelder) Whitcomb. He was born at the Whitcomb farm, near Hatley, just over the western border of Compton County, which was also the birthplace of his mother.

Mr. Whitcomb stayed at home after leaving school and remained there until after the death of his parents. In 1945 he came to Hatley Village to stay with his brother, Harry Whitcomb, and on July 30, 1947, he married Mrs. Ethel (Parker) Bruhmuller, of Hatley. The couple thereafter made their home in the village.

Interested in community affairs, Mr. Whitcomb was treasurer of the Municipality of Hatley for several years and had served on the school board. He was interested in the activities of his church and was highly respected by everyone.

He was a life member of Alexandra Lodge No. 59, IOOF, in Ayer's Cliff. The last rites of the IOOF service were held at the Cass Funeral Home in

The funeral service was held on Saturday, March 30, from the Funeral Home to St. James Anglican church for the service at two-thirty o'clock. Mr. Whitcomb had been a member of this church from his childhood.

Canon H. C. Denton officiated. Mrs. Clifford Curtis played the organ music and the choir and congregation sang a favorite hymn. The bearers were Tom Ride, Arthur McClary, Gerald Johann, Wallace Gemmell, Archie Moulton and Howard Ayer. Interment took place in St. James Cemetery.

Mr. Whitcomb is survived by his wife and four stepchildren, whom he regarded as his own, and their families. Two brothers, Harry B. Whitcomb and Ralph R. Whitcomb, both of Hatley, predeceased him.

Everyone is very busy these days, with Cadet Inspection on Saturday afternoon, May 4, at 2 p.m. on campus, with its demonstrations and so forth and the inspection by Brig.-General J. F. P. Charbonneau. Then on May 6 is the cross country run with inter-house track meet on May 11 and the Alumni gathering with their banquet and meeting that evening.

Duncan Graham, headmaster of Davis House and Noel Loveys were in Sherbrooke the evening of April 30 where Noel participated in the public speaking at the Sherbrooke Rotary Club.

Noel spoke the evening of April 22 at the Boundary Rotary meeting. His talk was made up for five minutes, but it so happened that at the end a bell which was to have been rung, was not, so Noel spoke another several minutes "off the cuff" and did a commendable job.

Emphysema Sufferer Must Avoid Polluted Air

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—What is the cause of emphysema? What are the symptoms and the treatment, if any?

A—This disease is caused by long, continued exposure to polluted air. In order to get the maximum pollution in the shortest period nothing beats cigarette smoking. The small air sacs in the lungs become valvelike in that the air taken into them does not flow out freely. The victim has a chronic cough. As the disease progresses shortness of breath on mild exertion becomes the chief complaint.

The treatment includes giving up smoking, the use of drugs that dilate the bronchial tubes, lying across a bed with the head near the floor to allow the bronchial secretions to flow out (postural drainage), respiratory stimulants and protection against respiratory infections. In far-advanced cases oxygen inhalation may be necessary.

For more detailed information write to the National Emphysema and Bronchitis Association, 5025 N. Paulina Ave., Chicago, Ill. 60640. With the decrease in the prevalence of tuberculosis, the National Tuberculosis Association, 1790 Broadway, New York, N.Y. 10019, is also working on this problem and can supply you with information.

Q—Is Arizona weather better for a person who has emphysema than southern Florida?

A—Persons with emphysema can, with appropriate treatment, be made more comfortable in any climate but, in general, body chilling should be avoided because it induces spasm in the bronchial tubes. Excessive dryness and excessive dryness should also be avoided.

A search for a perfect climate often leads to disappointment, but if you have tried living in either of the locations mentioned, have felt better there and if you are looking for a retirement home, either place would offer advantages over a cold, wet climate.

Q—Are house plants harmful to a person who has emphysema?

A—No. Plants differ from people in that they take up carbon dioxide from the air and give off oxygen.

Q—Is INH used to treat emphysema? Is this the drug that is given for tuberculosis?

A—Isoniazid (INH) is an effective drug in the treatment of tuberculosis but not emphysema.

Bowman hopes to end it tonight

ST. LOUIS (CP) — Scotty Bowman, the National Hockey League's resident sorcerer, is stirring up another blend of youth and experience in the hope of advancing into the Stanley Cup final tonight.

It must be the death wish of the week because his St. Louis Blues—if they topple Minnesota North Stars—go into the lists against Montreal Canadiens, already red with the blood of Boston Bruins and Chicago Black Hawks.

The Blues had to go nearly 18 minutes of overtime Monday to win 3-2 and take a 3-2 lead in games in their best-of-seven finals with the Stars.

In an effort to finish it off tonight, Bowman will have veteran defencemen Doug Harvey and Al Arbour back in uniform, giving the Blues six defencemen.

"I don't know how much I'll use them," Bowman said. "Their injuries were more painful than serious and Doug's turned out to be a broken blood vessel instead of a pulled groin muscle."

SAT OUT LAST GAME

Harvey, who joined the club for the last game of the quarter-finals against Philadelphia Flyers after acting as playing coach for Kansas City Blues of the Central Professional League, was injured Saturday and sat out the Monday game.

Arbour, who suffered a massive bleeding charlie-horse in the second game in Minneapolis, hasn't been in the lineup since.

After three games here, the series switches tonight back to Minneapolis. It will be shown on CBC national television starting at 9:30 p.m. EDT.

Bowman's patching and filling goal post Caesar Maniago. "I was a little worried about Tim Eccleston, Gary Venuzzo and Craig Cameron defensively when we went into the Red Berenson, Gerry Melnyk and Bill McCreary on power plays," Bowman said.

"But when we got into overtime, thought they would give us a better defence than some of the younger players." They did at that—McCreary overtime," Bowman said. "So I thought it better to use the more experienced players." PRAISES BUZZ-SAW LINE Bowman also lauded the performance of his buzz-saw of Gary Sabourin, Terry Crisp and Frank St. Marseille, a line record. One overtime game was played between Montreal and Chicago while St. Louis has tangled in three with Minnesota.

The Blues had two overtime games in the quarter-final against Philadelphia and the North Stars had one against Los Angeles Kings.

Bowman said the Sabourin-Crisp-St. Marseille line worked for the regular season but began to slump during the latter part of the year.

"Sabourin and St. Marseille seemed to go into a slump together so I moved Frank onto a line with Berenson and Larry Keenan to try to get him started again," Bowman said.

"When they were together earlier in the season it was just like Monday night. Their goal production isn't great but the other team seldom scores against them because it doesn't get the puck very often."

So far, there have been seven overtime games in the playoffs this year, one short of the 1951

Mohawks beat the Tigers

WINNIPEG (CP) — "It's a best of five series now" said a jubilant St. Boniface manager after his Mohawks skated to a 5-1 win over Victoriaville Tigers Tuesday to even their best-of-seven Allan Cup final at one game each.

"We checked them all night and didn't let them get their plays going," Aime Allaire said.

Mohawks lost the opener 6-2 on mistakes and great goaltending by Tiger netminder Claude Hardy. The third game will be played Thursday.

St. Boniface took a 1-0 lead after one period and stretched it to 4-1 after two before 1,754 fans.

"They controlled the puck pretty good tonight," said coach Lou Poliquin after he gave his Tigers a dressing-room lecture that lasted about 40 minutes.

'TOO MUCH CONFIDENCE'

"We had too much confidence, after the first win," said Poliquin. "Now they know they're in the final for the Allan Cup and the other team is good too."

Carrying the play and forcing the Quebec team to make the first move paid off early for Mohawks. Ken Stephenson drew the Tigers defence and passed to Butch Goring who slipped the puck through Hardy's legs at 6:45 of the first period.

Mohawks' top scorer was Lorne Bodanski who got his first by slapping in his own rebound, then collected the only goal of the final frame by flipping in Gerry Kell's quick pass from behind the net.

Bill Scott, with his 23rd play-off goal, and Stephenson added singles, with Stephenson scoring on a screen shot during a power play.

J. C. Garneau was the only one to beat Henry Goy in the Mohawk net.

The game erupted into a near-brawl in the final minutes when Leo Duguay checked Garneau along the boards. Garneau came up swinging and soon sticks and gloves were lying all over the ice as players pushed and shoved each other.

START PRACTICE — Sherbrooke's soccer team have started practice sessions at the Jacques Cartier Park. The Soccer Racing Club of Sherbrooke, a part of the expanded Quebec Senior Soccer League, plays its first game against Tracy on May 12 and plays the same team again later on. Standing, from left to right; G. Laurent, R. Zangillorami, C. Cantagrelle, D. Maestracchi, G. Thomsen, C.

Blake expects stiff competition

MONTREAL (CP) — Montreal Canadiens still don't know what team they will meet in the Stanley Cup final round, but whether it's St. Louis Blues or Minnesota North Stars, either way it will be quite a series.

That is the opinion of Montreal coach Toe Blake.

The Blues currently lead the North Stars 3-2 in their best-of-seven semi-final round and play again tonight and Friday night if necessary. Canadiens open in the rink of the winner either Friday or Sunday.

"No matter which team wins it will be quite a series," Blake said after Canadiens worked out Tuesday at the Forum.

"That other division is bound to try to show they belong in the National Hockey League and what a feather it would be in their cap if they won the Stanley Cup in their first year.

"They'll be the underdogs and everybody likes the underdog, so they'll have lots of support," he added. Montreal won its semi-final round with Chicago Black Hawks in five games, but the Montreal coach is grateful his club was not forced to return to Chicago for a sixth game.

Canadiens ousted the Hawks when rookie centre Jacques Lemaire pounded home the winning goal at 2:14 of the first overtime period here Sunday to give Montreal a 4-3 victory.

Three of Blake's key players missed Tuesday's scrimmage, and a fourth, goaltender Rogatien Vachon, ended the practice with a minor injury to his right ear.

Veteran goaltender Lorne (Gump) Worsley worked out for the first time since he suffered a neck sprain in a collision with Bobby Hull in Chicago last Thursday. The Gumper appeared in fine fettle and Blake said "he looks like he's going to be all right."

However, three other regulars didn't work. Left winger Gilles Tremblay remains in hospital recovering from a concussion, a cracked nasal bone and severely blackened eyes.

Tremblay had the misfortune to collide with the other Hull—Dennis—in Sunday's game and has remained in hospital since.

"We're being careful," Blake said. "Gilles will be out of hospital Thursday and will make the trip with us if we start Friday, but it's extremely doubtful if he'll get into the first game."

Big Jean Beiveau said he will likely resume skating Thursday. He is currently receiving treatment for a badly bruised right ankle.

Beiveau stopped a shot in last Saturday's practice, but played Sunday.

Carol Vadnais, a defenceman who doubles at left wing, could get into the opener if Tremblay isn't ready. Or Blake could shuffle his existing lines, moving Lemaire to left wing.

5-Soggy Courses

The golf course, now you're getting on it again, is going to be in the same shape as your game. Rusty, to be perfectly honest. In the spring, courses have a tendency to be soggy. Wet turf gives me more trouble than any other playing surface, and it's the same for the everyday player.

You have to make adjustments to it. Play the wet ball a little farther forward. You have a tendency to pick the ball.

So I take more club. I find I take one more club in spring than in summer in an effort to swing free and not over-extend myself.

For instance, at the 17th hole at Pebble Beach this year, it looked like a four-iron shot. The pin was up in the corner and the wind was behind me, of all things.

I had on long underwear and sweaters and a rain suit and with a four-iron I was going to have to swing way too hard. It was cumbersome with all that equipment, and I didn't want to press the four-iron. So I took the three-iron and kind of cut it up in there with a smooth swing.

Of course, as pros, we change radically on the tour from the Crosby, where it's rainy, windy and very damp, and the air is heavy, to the desert, where it's dry and the air is very light and we pick up quite a bit of distance. I've played five or six years so it's easy for me to adjust.

To people who don't have a chance at all conditions, it's doubly important to play it safe this time of year.

'Ring' still ranks Clay the champ, Jim Ellis isn't even 'number one'

NEW YORK (AP) — Despite Jimmy Ellis' victory over Jerry Quarry for the World Boxing Association's heavyweight title, Ring Magazine rated undefeated Joe Frazier as the No. 1 heavyweight contender Tuesday.

Ring recognizes Cassius Clay as heavyweight champion.

In the latest rankings, Ring ranked the heavyweight contenders in the following order:

Heavyweights

rated champion today, although his style never pleased the audiences."

Levinson had mixed emotions about the gate.

"I was pleased but had hoped for more than the 5,000 fans who came," he said. "What really surprised me (and the fans) was the ease with which he won. Ludick is no bum. He had been decked only once in his career and looked vicious in training. But Curtis made no mistakes."

Ludick's mistake was climbing into the ring. Cokes showed more aggressiveness than ever before as he had Willie bleeding from three different cuts in the face by the time he finished him off in the fifth round.

Levinson went to Las Vegas following the fight.

"People here who watched it on television were asking me when and where he would fight again," he said. "That's never happened before. Curtis has tasted the championship and the money that comes with it and I honestly don't believe there's anyone who can take the title away from him now. I hope to promote another fight in Dallas in the near future. He's made believers of those who saw the last fight."

The Garden offered Cokes a $50,000 guarantee for a bout with Ortiz but his manager, Doug Lord, turned it down. He wanted $75,000. Bremer thinks Cokes would beat Ortiz and says no other promoter will offer what Lord wants.

"They would be lucky to draw three people anywhere else," he says.

City places fifth in judo tourney

Sherbrooke's judo team placed fifth last Sunday in a provincial judo tournament held Sunday at Montcalm School in Sherbrooke.

A total of 21 four-man teams participated in the tournament and they came from all over the province, notably Montreal, Quebec, Sorel, Laval, Thousand Islands, Coaticook, Disraeli and Griffard.

Three teams from Montreal placed first, second and third in the tournament.

The winning team was from the Hakudokan Judo Club whose members were Simon Lambert, Normand Brault, Luc Deschenes and Bruno Taverna.

The second place team was formed by Jacques Lambert, Marc Jolin, Osmin Delorenzo and Yves Emond, who also represented the Hakudokan Club.

The third place team was from the Ecole Canadienne de Judo in Montreal and was formed by Andre Rousseau, Serges Deschenes, Jean Picard and Christian Filtrin.

There were 84 participants in the tournament, and there were 25 black belt judo experts at the school during the day.

The tournament champion was Jean Charest of Montreal, black belt, ni-dan.

The members of each team competed against men in their weight class.

The referee-in-chief of the tournament was Raymond Dambant, black belt, ni-dan.

Mr. Dambant is also provincial director of the Quebec Kodukan Judo Black Belt Association, which is to judo what the NHL is to hockey.

Gaston Boule, a black-belt expert, was the trainer at the tournament on Sunday.

On May 5, he and Jean-Paul Vache, black belt, ni-dan, will travel to Montreal for the provincial black belt championship.

"SALON du PRINTEMPS"

may their efforts be crowned with success.

CITY OF SHERBROOKE

His Worship Mayor Armand Nadeau
and members of the council

Salon du Printemps will show top quality exhibits

It's going to be a miniscule Expo.
An inverted look through the telescope lens which will show the cream of the crop of Sherbrooke's industry, sports and outdoor living.
And it will help promote the tourist trade in the E.T. in a two-fold way — by attracting more visitors and its proceeds will create funds to beautify the city.
It's Salon du Printemps, of course.
And it officially opens tomorrow.
Sponsored by the Sherbrooke Tourist Committee, Salon du Printemps will be at the Sports Palace and arena until Sunday.
The show will feature industrial exhibits in the Sports Palace, and outdoor living and sports in the arena.
It will cover every available square inch of these two places.
And to give it that special oomph, Salon du Printemps will star Miss Dominion of Canada, Donna Barker who will be on hand to answer questions and to chat with Sherbrookers during the four days.

Miss Barker, a 20-year-old secretary who is also a professional model is hazel-eyed and blonde and hails from Rexdale, Ontario. She has held several other titles before becoming Miss Dominion of Canada including Miss Hamilton, Ontario. Miss Dominion of Canada annually represents Canada in the Miss Universe, Miss World and Miss International Beauty pageants.
"It's going to be one of the biggest things that ever hit Sherbrooke," says Gerard Pelletier, chairman of the Salon du Printemps project.
He said the exhibitors went all out to spend hundreds of dollars.
About $5,000 worth of prizes will be given away during the exhibition.
Salon du Printemps gets underway officially at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow. A reception will be held at the Sports Palace in which all the mayors and representatives of municipalities in the Eastern Townships will be invited to attend.

The day will end appropriately with a 45-minute live show featuring that familiar little man in the pork-pie hat, pipe and suspenders who portrays the French-Canadian grandfather image. Pere Gedeon (Doris Lussier) is a well-known French-Canadian comedian with his own special brand of natural humor.
On Friday night Tony Roman, a svelte-looking French-Canadian singer will also present a live show starting at 10:30 p.m.
On Saturday there will be plenty in store for visitors with continual music throughout the day and a live pony donated by Francois Fabi of St. Elie d'Orford will be raffled. The evening will see another live show starring Fernand Gignac, one of French Canada's best known pop singers.
The pony-tail and mini-skirt set will have an opportunity to watch one of the favorite performers. Starting at 4 p.m. Michel Louvin will give a live show as part of Sunday's program.

And there's plenty of entertainment in store for those who enjoy films. British-American Oil Co. representatives have offered six films to Salon du Printemps — all are Walt Disney projections. These will be shown during Friday, Saturday and Sunday.
All this will be interspersed with puppet shows which should please the smaller set.
Hercule Gagne will also supply music with his electric organ.
A mobile unit will be used by members of the Tourist Committee for offices and an information center. It will be located between the Sports Palace and the arena.
In co-operation with the press and local radio stations, the caravan can be used for on-the-spot interviews and as a broadcasting center.
The mobile unit has a complete high fidelity public address system and from this music will be played in an area around the unit, thus creating a gay atmosphere.

A walkie-talkie radio intercommunication system allows instant reporting to the caravan within a three-mile radius.
During Salon du Printemps, Allatt's Bakery will be serving coffee and doughnuts.
Adding to all the attractions at Salon du Printemps will be small auto exhibits as well as 68 other various displays by local industries and business' of the Sherbrooke area.
The Tourist Committee has received $12,000 from firms for exhibiting space at the Palais des Sports.
The exhibition will come to a close Sunday at 10 p.m.
Admission is one dollar for adults and 50 cents for children under 14 years of age.
Among those involved in putting on this spectacular show are Salon du Printemps chairman Gerard Pelletier, Romeo Cloutier, president of the Tourist Committee, Jacques Belrose, vice-president, and Leonard Jacques, secretary.

Opening lead—♣ K

The late George Kling was one of the great players of the '20s. Today's hand is taken from an article he wrote for the Bridge World of April, 1930, entitled "The Lead of a Singleton".

George was obviously a conservative bidder. He did not double the four heart bid. He opened the King of clubs. When it held the trick, George realized that his partner was marked with the ace. In spite of the fact that East had signalled a come-on with the eight spot, Mr. Kling shifted to his singleton diamond. South won in dummy and East showed lack of any interest in diamonds by playing his three spot.

A heart was led and won by West's ace. West proceeded to lead his three of clubs. East took his ace and gave George a diamond ruff to defeat the contract.

There was nothing sensational about this defense. Today it would be almost automatic for any good player who would reason that there would be nothing to lose by waiting with his ace of spades.

Mr. Kling pointed out in his article that South would have made his contract had he played dummy's king of spades after winning that first diamond in dummy. This would allow him to discard his second club and make it impossible for West to put East into the lead.

Mr. Karpin points out that while this avoidance play would work this time, it would cost the contract if East held the ace of hearts and West had started with two diamonds. In that case East would be in with the trump ace to give his partner the diamond ruff which would only be available because the avoidance play had given the defense a chance to lead a second diamond.
