CHURCHILL GOVERNMENT SUSTAINED BY COMMONS

Prime Minister Says Situation In Egypt Grave

House of Commons, by a Vote of 475 to 25 Approved Government's Conduct of War After Prime Minister Had Outlined Setbacks in North Africa and Warned "At Any Moment We May Receive News of Grave Importance."

By DREW MIDDLETON,
Associated Press Staff Writer

London, July 2.—(AP)—Prime Minister Churchill won an overwhelming vote of confidence from the House of Commons today after he had gravely assessed the Allied position in the Mediterranean and Middle East war zones as a near-disaster with a hope of victory pinned on "very considerable" reinforcements now in progress. The vote was 475 to 25.

The Parliamentary victory came at the end of a speech one hour and 28 minutes long in which Mr. Churchill staunchly defended his direction of the war as the best possible under the circumstances.

Mr. Churchill sketched a dark picture of the Battle of Egypt. He said it had developed "a recession of our hopes and prospects in the Middle East and Mediterranean unequalled since the fall of France."

To this he added, without elaboration, a statement that "at any moment we may receive news of grave importance."

The 475 to 25 vote left 115 of the House's 615 members unaccounted for. Some members undoubtedly expressed partial disapproval of the Government by abstaining from the vote but many could not attend the session because of wartime duties and other causes.

Mr. Churchill's sombre portrayal of the war in Africa was relieved only by his statement that "very considerable" reinforcements have reached or "are approaching" the battlefield.

This major strengthening of the 8th Army, athwart the Axis path to the Nile delta, Alexandria and Suez, was the basis of Mr. Churchill's statement that "I do not consider the struggle in any way as decided."

This appraisal of the Allied position in Africa and the Middle East, evoked by two days of debate in the House of Commons on Mr. Churchill's conduct of the war, was given in a speech which also touched upon the Prime Minister's recent consultations with President Roosevelt.

He said the conversations were concerned "only with movement of troops, ships and aircraft and measures to be taken to combat losses at sea and more than replace sunken tonnage."

"Almost everything arranged was secret," Mr. Churchill added of his talks with the President, and "there was never a more earnest desire between allies to engage the enemy."

In the closing passages of his historic reply, just before Commons began voting on a motion to censure

WHEAT RESERVE WILL PROVIDE POST-WAR NEED

Five Nations Agree Upon Establishment of 100,000,000 Bushel Reserve to Feed Starving Europe.

Washington, July 2.—(AP)—Millions of hungry people in Axis-occupied countries today had another reason to hope for a United Nations victory.

It was the decision of Canada and four other countries—Argentina, Australia, Britain and the United States—to set aside an immense pool of wheat for the relief of war-stricken countries, to be rushed to them "so soon as the international situation permits."

Establishment of a relief pool of not less than 100,000,000 bushels is only one of the features of the wheat agreement made public yesterday by the United States State Department. Other provisions relate to the control of wheat production, stocks and exports and the co-opera-

Canadian Troops As Spearhead For Offensive Action Against Axis Powers Seen By Premier

Ottawa, July 2.— (CP) —Another hopeful augury of future aggressive action by the United Nations has been sounded by Prime Minister Mackenzie King, fresh from important strategy talks in Washington with Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt.

In a brief holiday message to the House of Commons yesterday, Mr. King said the day may be close at hand when the Canadian army will have "a honored place in the van of attack."

The Prime Minister spoke while flights of Royal Canadian Air Force planes wheeled overhead in salute to army units parading on Parliament Hill, sometimes with so loud a roar the speech was difficult to hear.

"The Canadian Army is not an instrument built only to resist attack," said the Prime Minister's statement observing the seventy-fifth anniversary of Confederation. "It was planned, it has been organized, and is trained as a highly-mechanized and armored striking force."

Conservative House Leader Hanson asked Canadians to "rededicate ourselves to the herculean task of preserving those ideals and principles which the fathers of our nation sought to establish upon enduring foundations on the Northern half of this continent."

Dominion Day messages also were delivered by C.C.F. House Leader Coldwell, New Democracy Leader Blackmore and former Transport Minister P. J. A. Cardin.

BBC REPEATS WARNING

London, July 2.—(C.P. Cable)—Further operations will be carried out against coastal districts of Occupied France "at the right moment and wherever the opportunity occurs," the BBC warned in overnight broadcasts in the French language.

Addressed to all Frenchmen living in coastal areas "from the Belgian frontier down to the Pyrenees," the statement said the districts "are likely to become more and more a battleground."

"This will mean inevitably very serious danger for the civilian population," it said in repeating previous warning to the same effect. "We therefore urge all inhabitants of coastal areas in the prohibited zone to take every possible precaution for their safety. The only effective precaution is to move away as soon as possible from prohibited areas as specified by the Germans."

CHINESE AGAIN BOMB JAPANESE MILITARY BASE

Large Formations of Chinese Bombers Carried Out Second Attack in Nine Days on Hankow.

Chungking, July 2.—(AP)—Large formations of Chinese bombers yesterday attacked Japanese military establishments in the Hankow aren and Yochow, in North Hunan Province, both vital points on the Yangtze river, Central News reported today.

This marked the second air attack on Hankow, great river port, in nine days. American Volunteer Group fliers June 23 raided the city, sinking a Japanese warship and three transports.

It also represented a new blow by pilots of China's fledgling air force who a week ago last Sunday, in the first offensive activity in nearly five years of war, sank two Japanese warships in the Yangtze at Sinti, sixty-five miles Southwest of

British Forces Repel Heavy Axis Attacks In Critical Egyptian War

Results of Recent Fighting Seventy-Five Miles from Great Base at Alexandria "Not Unfavorable for Us," British Middle East Command Reports—British Forces Have Apparently Taken Stand After Long Retreat.

SLOWER BUT SAFER

London, July 2.— (CP) —It takes longer to get to London Town from Tilbury by railway trains these days but the slow-going is helping speed up the war effort, the heavy locomotives being used for war goods traffic.

NO NUDE SPEECH!

London, July 2.—(CP)—The crowd didn't know whether the soldier wanted to make a speech or take a bath. He climbed to the fountain at Trafalgar Square, divested himself of all his clothes and while taking a dip started to address shocked onlookers. Police ended both bath and speech.

Cairo, July 2. — (AP) — British forces, making their stand in defence of Egypt on a line approximately seventy miles West of Alexandria, repulsed heavy Axis attacks yesterday at El Alamein, British headquarters announced today.

Results of the fighting were "not unfavorable for us," a communique declared.

"One attack by enemy tanks effected a temporary break in a defended locality," it added, "but later the enemy tanks were driven out and engaged by our columns."

Allied bombers, meanwhile, stepped up their attacks on Axis land forces, blasting away at lines of communication, supply depots and concentrations of mechanized units.

The air operations were carried out despite heavy sandstorms, headquarters declared. Especially heavy attacks were reported concentrated on the Axis airdrome near Sidi Barrani, where seven enemy planes were destroyed and many others damaged.

While the main fighting on the land front apparently was centered directly West of El Alamein, mobile columns further South yesterday lashed out seventeen miles West of the main defence line to engage enemy forces just North of the Qattara depression, the communique declared.

The stand by the British forces followed a 350-mile retreat across the desert in less than three weeks.

It seemed certain, however, that on the outcome of the battle depended not only the fate of Alexandria, with its great naval base, but the whole British position in the Eastern Mediterranean and the Allies' back-door supply route to Soviet Russia.

The 8th Army was bolstered for the struggle by support troops and reserves stretching back across the desert to Alexandria, and it appeared that Gen. Sir Claude Auchinleck had prepared a defence in depth to meet the Axis assaults.

The point which headquarters have chosen for the stand is the best between the Egyptian border and the Nile Valley from a defensive point of view, for the salt wastes of the Qattara depression, angling up from the South, reduce to its narrowest the coastal area suitable for mechanized operations.

British commanders apparently had managed to save a large proportion of their remaining armored strength in the long retreat across the desert.

Much depended on Rommel's ability to maintain his extended lines of communication, stretched almost to the breaking point by a swift ad-

Federal Price Fixing Plan Meets Double Party Attack

By JAMES CcCOOK,
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Ottawa, July 2.—(CP)—One Liberal and one Conservative member of the House of Commons yesterday joined in criticism of Federal price control authorities and the effect of their regulations on agriculture.

They were Tom Reid (Lib., New Westminster) and Lt.-Col. J. A. Ross (Con., Souris). Both spoke in the continuing budget debate in the House.

Mr. Reid warned members to be watchful of the powers granted the Wartime Prices and Trade Board and predicted many of the powers the board now held would not be given up "without a fight."

Col. Ross said under the price control machinery farm prices were not based on equity and added: "I am satisfied that money is still in control, and is considered more important in some places than the essentials of life."

J. M. Dechene (Lib., Athabaska) and Dr. F. W. Gershaw (Lib., Medicine Hat) also spoke in the budget debate.

Informed sources said it was probable the debate would be finished this week. If it ends today on Friday the House will resume study of the conscription-enabling measure.

Speaker Glen yesterday ruled out of order an amendment to the budget resolution moved on Tuesday by New Democracy leader Blackmore on the grounds the House had previously decided on similar issues. The amendment expressed non-confidence in the Government and advocated "a modernized credit

CONVOYS STILL SPEEDING ARMS TO MURMANSK

By HENRY C. CASSIDY
Associated Press Staff Writer

Moscow, July 2.— (AP) —Merchant seamen man guns both at sea and in port to beat off German fliers seeking to slash the supply line feeding vital war materials into Soviet Russia through the Arctic port of Murmansk.

This job of delivering the goods was described today by Cmdr. Samuel Frankel, thirty-seven, of Stapleton, N.Y., United States Assistant Naval attache stationed in Murmansk but now visiting Moscow for conferences.

United States merchantmen carrying supplies to Russia, he said, are bringing their cargoes successfully to port with relatively few casualties despite attacks of German dive bombers and torpedo planes. During the last four months, he said, American casualties have been not more than 25 wounded and the same number missing and dead.

In the future, he said, losses should be even less, for the advent of the foggy season will give the convoys greater protection and the retreat of the Arctic icefields will permit them to make a great circle far North of the Norweigian coast.

Frankel described German air losses over Murmansk as heavy, reporting he had witnessed the destruction of four Nazi raiders.

BRITISH PLANES AGAIN ACTIVE AGAINST NAZI COASTAL SHIPPING

London, July 2.—(CP)—A medium-sized enemy ship was set afire last night during British attacks on shipping off the Frisian Islands, the Air Ministry reported today.

Other planes bombed airfields and railways in occupied territory and shot down three German bombers. One British plane was lost.

German planes operated during the night over districts in Southern and Western England and South Wales, bombing various places but developing no concentrated attack anywhere, it was announced. A small number of casualties was reported.

ANNOUNCE NEW OFFICERS FOR 4TH DIVISION

Lt.-Col. Duncan Douglas Named as Commander of Royal Canadian Army Service Corps for Division.

Ottawa, July 2. — (CP) — Appointment of Lt.-Col. Duncan Douglas, thirty-four, of Victoria as commander on the Royal Canadian Army Service Corps of the 4th Canadian (Armored) Division was announced today by Defence Minister Ralston.

Col. Douglas, born in Spain of British parents, is a mechanical engineer by profession. His first army appointment was as provisional lieutenant with the 11th Divisional Train, of the Army Service Corps, in 1929 and the following year he was appointed to the permanent force.

From 1936 to 1938 he was District Supply and Transport Officer for Military District No. 5 (Quebec) with rank of captain and then was employed with the British army on inter exchange duty. After the outbreak of the war he served for a time as senior supply officer of the 3rd Division R.C.A.S.C. and then went to Canadian military headquarters as Deputy Assistant Quartermaster-General.

Since September, 1940, he has been Assistant Director of Supplies and Transport at C.M.H.Q. with rank of Lieutenant-Colonel.

SAVED BY TOSS-UP

York, England, July 2.—(CP)—Captain Alan Simpson, returning only a little while before a blitz began, "won" a mental toss-up when he went home instead of snatching a few hours rest at his office. His office was badly damaged.

FRANCE FEARS DESTRUCTION OF WAR FLEET

Vichy Fearful that British May Take Action to Prevent Vessels Now at Alexandria Serving Axis.

Vichy, July 2.— (AP) — Asking, "Do the English want to destroy our fleet at Alexandria?" the Vichy Government served notice in a semi-official statement today that any such action against the interned squadron would be considered "an act of violence."

(Nine war vessels of the French fleet have been interned at Alexandria since the summer of 1940.)

Seizing on an article in The Times of London raising the question of putting the interned squadron out of commission lest it fall into the hands of Axis forces, the statement said this would be "a new act of violence which the English might perpetrate against the French fleet in the course of events which are now feared at Alexandria."

The interned squadron consists of the 23,000-ton Battleship Lorraine, built in 1916; the newer 10,000-ton cruisers Suffren, Tourville and Duquesne; the 7,000-ton cruiser Guguay-Tourin, the destroyers Basque, Fortune and Fortin, and the submarine Protee.

Because of the squadron and French interest in the Suez Canal, interest in the Egyptian situation was marked here on the 144th anniversary of Napoleon's capture of Alexandria.

At the same time a Vichy source declared, "informed circles in Vichy attach no more importance to the recent accusation of the Tass agency concerning shipment of supplies to the Germans through Tunisia than they do to previous accusations by the same source on the same subject."

Overwhelming German Army Takes War Into Sevastopol

Russian Communiques Continue to Ignore German Claims that Red Resistance in Crimean City Has Ended—Claim Germans Have Lost Heavily in Severe Fighting on Kursk Front Farther to the North.

By HENRY C. CASSIDY,
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Moscow, July 2. — (AP) — overwhelming German forces carried the battle into the City of Sevastopol itself after breaking through its fortifications but defenders of the Black Sea base continued to fight against heavy odds, Soviet dispatches said today.

The situation in the last Soviet stronghold in the Crimea was described as "extremely tense and difficult."

Two successive Russian communiques have ignored German claims of having captured Sevastopol but informed sources in London said the claim is "not doubted."

The latest information came in dispatches from Sevastopol yesterday to the army newspaper, Red Star.

"The enemy continues to move forward slowly to the outskirts of the city in a number of sectors," Red Star's correspondent telegraphed.

"In some places the enemy succeeded in carrying the battle directly into Sevastopol city."

The dispatch ended: 'Nevertheless the glorious defenders of Sevastopol continue their stubborn resistance to the enemy."

With hand to hand fighting going on and the Germans numerically ten to fifteen times superior, at some points Red army troops and Black Sea fleet sailors were reported to be refusing to surrender.

One company which repulesd five attacks by two enemy battalions retreated only when the Germans sent

PROMOTIONS IN CANADIAN NAVY ARE ANNOUNCED

Canadian Naval Attache at Washington Is Promoted to Rear-Admiral in Lengthy List Published.

Ottawa, July 2.—(CP)—Commodore First Class V. G. Brodeur, Canada's Naval Attache at Washington, and a member of the first class of cadets to be inducted into the Canadian Navy, was promoted to the rank of Rear-Admiral in a lengthy series of promotions announced at naval headquarters here on Dominion Day.

The promotions included higher rank for a number of men in command of the Dominion's destroyers and corvettes, playing a vital but unspectacular role in the sea warfare of the second great war.

Rear-Admiral Brodeur, born in 1892 at Ste. Hilaire, Que., joined the youthful Canadian Navy in 1908 at the same time as Vice-Admiral Percy Nelles, Chief of the Naval Staff. The Chief of the Naval Staff also was a member of the first class of cadets inducted into the service.

Prior to going to Washington Rear-Admiral Brodeur was commanding officer on the Pacific coast.

The promotions, numbering almost 150, were in two lists and included recognition of the work done by members of the Royal Canadian Naval Reserve and the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve.

Cmdr. C. J. Stuart, O.B.E., senior commander in the R.C.N.R., is promoted to captain. He was in command of the Navy's first cadet training ship and many of the senior officers of today got their instruction under his eye.

Cmdr. E. A. Brock was promoted Captain and Surgeon-Capt. A. McCallum, Medical Director-General for the naval service, was confirmed in his rank. Both are of the R.C.N.V.R. Promotion of Capt. Brock gave the R.C.N.V.R. two officers with the rank of Captain and a Surgeon-Captain.

Surgeon-Captain McCallum is 52 and a native of Cartier, Ont.

A number of lieutenants in charge of destroyers were promoted to Lieutenant-Commanders and the work of corvette captains received similar recognition.

British Party Leaders In Direct Appeal For Return Of Candidates

By DOUGLAS AMARON,
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

London, July 2.—(CP Cable)—The Government, after losing the Maldon bye-election to Independent Tom Driberg, adopted new successful tactics in Windsor, appealing directly to the voters in a joint letter signed by all four party leaders.

Prime Minister Churchill, in addition, sent a personal letter to Government Candidate Capt. C. E. Mott-Radclyffe. This is the first time a joint appeal for support has been made by the party leaders—Mr. Churchill, Conservative; Clement Attlee, Labor; Sir Archibald Sinclair, Liberal and Ernest Brown, Liberal National. Mott-Radclyffe won handily over William Douglas-Home, Independent. It was the fourth victory for the Government in eight bye-elections. The others were won by Independents.

Necessity makes odd bedfellows, and never more so than in this document grouping not only the Conservative and Labor parties but the old original Liberal and "upstart" Liberal National.

Speaking of bye-elections, the Government man in Salisbury, Maj. J. G. Morrison, Conservative, has two independent opponents on his hands—J. D. Monro and W. R. Hipwell.

Morrison, who received his invitation to stand as a candidate while in the Middle East, is a son of the late Hugh Morrison, former M.P. for the division. The voting day is July 8.

Bonusing Of Milk Producers To Maintain Butter Output Planned

By R. K. CARNEGIE
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Ottawa, July 2.—(CP)—Butter consumers of Canada will continue to have the protection of the 35-cent-a-pound price ceiling for another year but prices paid to farmers for milk sent to creameries will be increased by bonuses to make their returns more nearly in line with those of farmers whose milk is used for cheese, The Canadian Press was told today by an official source.

Differences of long standing between the Agriculture Department and the Wartime Prices and Trade Board over butter prices have been composed as a result of conferences held this week between Agriculture Minister Gardiner and J. G. Taggart, the Board's Food Administrator, it was learned.

Confronted with a butter shortage next winter unless butter production is stepped up, Agriculture Department experts have contended the only way to bring up production is to increase remuneration to the farmer. They urged that the 35-cent price ceiling be lifted.

On the other hand, the Board has been fighting any increase in the ceiling price because of its effect on the cost of living.

As a result of this week's conferences it has been decided to hold the price ceiling where it is and bonus the producers — presumably from Commodity Prices Stabilization Corporation funds.

Exact amount of the bonus has not been worked out, but it was believed the farmers will be paid for their milk, including the bonus at a rate about equal to what they would receive without a bonus if butter sold slightly above 40 cents a pound.

SMALL VILLAGE LOSES HEAVILY IN HOLOCAUST

Eight Buildings at Port Hood, N. S., Destroyed Before Early Morning Blaze Was Brought Under Control.

Port Hood, N.S., July 2.—(CP)—A fire which destroyed eight buildings in this Inverness county village and threatened other nearby stores and dwellings was under control this morning, three hours after it broke out.

Two large general stores, with most of their stocks, the Royal Bank of Canada building, the post office building which housed the Odd Fellows' Hall, a vacant house and three empty stores were burned to the ground. No estimate of the loss was available immediately.

Wells in the district were low, handicapping residents in their fight against the flames. The Inverness fire department was called in and arrived in time to aid in saving the Oceanside Hotel, which was damaged. No fire apparatus was available at Port Hood, twenty miles from Inverness.

The fire was discovered by Angus MacDonnell, who was on his way to church about 3 o'clock this morning, in R. MacDougall's general store.

Mr. Dechene said development of the Northern Alberta tar sands should receive attention of the House. Such development would make available fuel supplies urgently required.

Mr. Reid said steps should be taken to bring the Canadian dollar to par with that of the United States. He had heard the statement that Canada by its own decision had changed the value of its money in terms of United States money. An explanation of the situation should be given by Finance Minister Ilsley.

"Both Canada and the United States are full partners in this life and death struggle," said Mr. Reid. "That being so why should our Canadian dollar be at a discount of ten per cent?"

It was true that in certain lines of agriculture prices had increased, but farm products on the average were at an index figure of 80.2 in May while industrial wages had gone up to 120.9.

"I say to him (Mr. Ilsley) that the farmers are not fighting with labor for a larger portion of the swollen national income," said Mr. Reid. "They are asking that they, as a class, be not called upon to make a greater sacrifice than any other civilian class."

Agriculture was making that greater sacrifice at present.

Col. Ross wondered what a difference it would make to the farm people, in the balance of Canada's economy, if Mr. Gordon had spent half his life on the farm, and the other half in the banking business.

Col. Ross said the Hong Kong expedition inquiry should not have been in secret and the report of Chief Justice Sir Lyman P. Duff, Commissioner, should be discussed in the House.

He was satisfied that if the evidence was produced and there was no dereliction of duty or error on the part of the Cabinet War Committee, the Defence Ministry, members of the Joint Defence Council of Canada and the United States and high-ranking officers, all officers of the expeditionary force and of military District No. 10 (Winipeg), would be entirely exonerated.

"I think that at a time like this, in face of the peril that now exists to the democracies of the world, prosecutions of loyal citizens under the Defence of Canada Regulations are unjustified and are not in the interests of an all-out war effort," said Col. Ross.

Such an action had been instituted against Lt.-Col. George Drew, Ontario Conservative leader, "gallant and great soldier," said Col. Ross.

Dr. Gershaw said he believed the budget presented the end of the his Government for its direction of the war, Mr. Churchill said:

"I have stuck hard to my 'blood, toil, sweat and tears,' to which I have added muddles and mismanagement."

The war, in Mr. Churchill's opinion, is likely to be a long one and moreover, he said, there is no reason to suppose that hostilities will cease "when the final result has become obvious."

He paid tribute to the Russians for their "steady resistance" to the Germans and predicted they would "surprise Hitler again."

Mr. Churchill met his critics with a blunt account of the Libyan defeat.

"At any moment we may receive news of grave importance, he told the House of Commons on the heels of Axis claims that the British 8th Army, driven with heavy losses from Libya and its first Egyptian positions, was again in retreat, less than seventy miles from Alexandria.

He said that the fall of Tobruk, the last bulwark in Egyptian Libya, which opened the way for Eastward invasion of Egypt, had been "utterly unexpected" by the Cabinet, the chiefs of staff and Gen. Sir Claude Auchinleck, Commander-in-Chief of Middle Eastern Forces.

Winding up two days of debate on the grave events in Africa, and facing another test of confidence in his Government, Mr. Churchill spoke soberly to the grave-faced Parliament.

He said that Britain and her allies, including the Dominions, the Free French and the Poles, had lost "upwards of 50,000 men" in the last two weeks as the Battle of Libya turned into the Battle of Egypt.

He added to this figure "a great mass of material" and "large quantities of stores."

On the night before the Libyan bastion, Tobruk, fell to the Axis, Mr. Churchill said, Gen. Auchinleck advised the cabinet that the port and fortress city was adequately garrisoned, with its defences in "good order" and with "ninety days supplies available for the troops."

He said Tobruk was garrisoned by about 25,000 men and that generally British resources had been much larger than those of the Axis. In Libya, at the start of the battle, he said, the British forces had 100,000 men and the Axis 90,000 of which 50,000 were Germans.

"We had superiority in numbers of tanks of perhaps seven to five and superiority in artillery of nearly eight to five," he added.

By way of explanation of the defeat, Mr. Churchill said that heavy air attacks on Malta, Mediterranean base aflank the Axis supply line to Libya, made it im,possible to impede the Axis Reinforcements and the enemy "got lots of stuff across to Africa."

He said the decision to defend Tobruk had been made by Gen. Auchinleck with concurrence of the War Cabinet and its professional advisers and as a result "I am very ready on behalf of my Government to take my full share of responsibility."

Criticism of Mr. Churchill's direction of the war has been associated in the debate with the fact that he is both Prime Minister and Minister of Defence. One group of critics in Commons has been demanding that he yield the defence post to another who could devote more time to it.

While Mr. Churchill assumed responsibilty for Tobruk, he nevertheless lashed out at his detractors with a charge that "everything had been done to weaken confidence in the Government."

AT THE LOCAL THEATRES

At The Granada

In the 20th Century-Fox Broadway hit, "Remember the Day" which is now running at the Granada, Claudette Colbert again proves that she is tops as a dramtic actress. Spanning some of the most exciting years of our times, the story shows Claudette at the inspiration of two men, one destined to be called to the service to defend his ideals, the other to become a presidential nominee, John Payne has the romantic lead as the young lieutenant, Dan Hopkins.

A carefully chosen supporting cast contributes a flawless performance. Included in the cast are John Shepperd, Ann Todd, Douglas Croft, Jane Seymour, Anne Revere and Frieda Inescort.

Director Henry King captured the spirit of this great story from the screen play by Tess Slesinger, Frank Davis and Allan Scott, which was based on the original play by Philo Higley and Philip Dunning. The film was produced under the aegis of William Perlberg.

Cornad Veidt, who usually hands his audiences a surprise in the way of an outre or bizarre characterization does so again in the second feature, "Nazi Agent." Veidt plays a dual role; twin brothers, one a kindly, gentle bookworm, the other the sinister ruler of a ring of international spies and saboteurs. Through ingenious camera technique they talk together, fight together, yet each is a distinctly different person.

At The New Premier

The colorful activity of a Mediterranean city of Northern Africa forms the background of "Algiers" Walter Wanger's romantic melodrama starring Charles Boyer, Sigrid Gurie and Hedy Lamarr which is showing at the New Premier theatre until Saturday. Practically the entire action of the picture takes place in "the Casbah," mysterious native quarter of the capital of Algeria. This district is a haven of refuge for criminals from all countries of Europe, Asia and Africa.

Local color of this romantic spot has been duplicated with uncanny accuracy by studio technicians, and all backgrounds for the action were actually filmed in Algiers.

As the story opens, Boyer and his gang, fugitives from Paris, have lived in the Casbah for two years, never venturing outside its boundaries for fear of arrest. In the district they are safe from the police in the adjoining French city who dare not molest them owing to the ferocity of the natives; though the local inspector, Joseph Calleia, continually watches the genial crook. The only hope of the officials is that sometime they may lure the jewel chief outside the Casbah and thus bring about his capture.

Afforded the best role of his screen career in "Algiers," Boyer delivers an engaging characterization of the debonair jewel thief. The picture takes on added interest through the fact that it marks the first time the star's rich bass-baritone singing voice has been heard on the screen. In addition to Boyer, Miss Gurie, Miss Lamarr and Calleia, the cast includes Alan Hale, Gene Lockhart, Mme. Nina Koshetz, Robert Greig, Claudia Bell, Bert Roach and many other popular artists.

in a third, fresh battalion.

An artillery battery was cited also for firing constantly until it was outflanked and surrounded. Then it broke its way through the enemy encirclement and resumed fighting.

The Government said at noon today that Russian soldiers fought on overnight in the Sevastopol sector and the Red army amassed a toll of about 7,000 German dead in repulsing attacks over a forty-eight-hour period on the Kursk front 500 miles to the North.

"The defenders of Sevastopol have covered themselves with unfading glory," the Soviet Information Bureau said. "They are firmly and courageously defending from the German Fascist invaders every inch of Soviet land."

A guerrilla detachment in the region of German-occupied Orel was declared to have slain nearly 1,000 invaders in two months, battered their communication lines and captured rifles, machine-guns and several thousand cartridges.

"In the Kursk direction our troops beat off German attacks, inflicting heavy losses on the enemy," the Information Bureau said. "In two days of fighting Soviet units destroyed 39 German tanks and armored cars, fifty-four mortars and twenty-four guns."

Soviet fliers were reported to have shot down twenty-eight German planes assigned to Field Marshal Fedor von Bock's offensive there in a day.

Fresh details on the Battle of Sevastopol were lacking here, but a midnight communique reported that "the enemy, at the cost of enormous losses, succeeded in advancing a little" in fierce hand-to-hand fighting yesterday.

Hundreds of enemy dead were reported piled up in a series of twenty attacks upon a single Russian position.

Russian dispatches said the German command, testing the outer defences of Moscow with a thrust from Gzhatsk in the first major action on the Central Front in more than four months, found them as strong as when the invaders were routed in a great autumn battle for the capital.

Gzhatsk is an advanced Nazi base on the Smolensk highway 100 miles West of Moscow.

TO SAVE HISTORY

London, July 2.—(CP)—Fearing that historical documents may be given to the waste paper collection, A. W. Clapham, President of the Society of Antiquaries, has appealed to members to see that nothing of such value be scrapped.

FELLOW FEELING

Chertsey, Eng., July 2.—(CP)—For giving extra food to Italian war prisoners, work foreman Henry Evans, was fined 40 shillings. He told the Court "I was a prisoner in the last war and was always thankful for any little gift."

Yochow, also known as Voyang, which was attacked along with Hankow yesterday, is a little more than thirty miles upriver from Sinti.

All the raiders returned safely to their base.

A Chinese Army spokesman said for the second successive day that Japanese forces had not closed the gap between columns driving East and West in Eastern Kiangsi Province along the Chekiang-Kiangsi railway.

The Japanese claimed occupation of the railway yesterday but the Chinese spokesman said a gap of about thirty-five miles still lay between the Japanese forces.

The ultimate aim in restoration of the international wheat trade on a sound basis to make sure the hungry millions will get bread without delay as soon as the war is won.

BRITAIN SUPPORTS PLAN

London, July 2.—(CP)—Hugh Dalton, Minister of Economic Warfare, announcing today the creation of a international wheat pool, told the House of Commons that five governments concerned would set up a wheat council to administer the pool, pending a conference to be called after the war for adoption of a wheat convention.

He stated that each nation would have equal representation and voting rights in the Wheat Council, members of which are Britain, Canada, the United States, the Argentine and Australia.

COSTLY GRUDGE

Leicester, July 2.—(CP)—Alex Allen, lathe turner at an aircraft factory who was charged with having made parts to wrong measurements, was fined the equivalent of $450 for sabotage. He had a grudge because he was not "in the clique" at the factory.

SWEDEN'S MARGARINE

Stockholm, July 2.—(CP)—Due to a vast increase in the acreage of edible oil-producing plants Sweden in 1942 will grow enough to supply ten per cent of the country's margarine consumption, or 6,000 tons.

CITY FISHERMEN

While on the subject of natural history, 4,000 permits have been issued since June 16 for public fishing in the Serpentine artificial lake in the centre of London's Hyde Park — and there's a waiting list of 3,000.

As many as 1,500 anglers try their luck in a single day. Lord Portal, Works Minister, sent to the fishing grounds 1,600 barrels of chub, roach, dace, gudgeon and perch, the gift of Sir George Usher of the Supply Ministry.

LYTTELTON'S LIMELIGHT

Oliver Lyttleton, Minister of Production, will be more in the limelight during the next week or two than at any time since he joined the Government. Besides being the Government's first speaker in the censure debate, he will open the production debate in the following series of sittings.

To the general public, Mr. Lyttleton was an unknown figure until a year or so ago when, as President of the Board of Trade, he introduced clothes rationing. He made a few speeches in Commons and learned the Parliamentary technique more rapidly than most recruits from the business world. He faces the House with a pleasant manner which tends to disarm his critics.

FAN MAIL

One of the biggest worries of the post office is "fan mail" sent to prisoners of war. Every time the addresses of soldiers in enemy prisons are published, hundreds of unknown fans, usually girls in search of romance, write them letters.

The mayor of a borough near London recently received a letter from a prisoner saying he was lonely. He passed on this news and soon had 900 letters to forward. Then the post office heard about it.

The result: Two of the 900 letters were mailed.

Even prisoners sometimes complain about the heavy mail, especially a corporal in Germany who received 32 letters in one day.

SLIGHT ERROR

With its propaganda eye cocked at the Indian masses, the German radio station at Bremen broadcast "a musical salute" to Mother India and her children whom, the announcer was sure, would recognize the gems of Indian folklore in the concert.

The salute began with "Song of India" and ended with "Indian Love Call" from "Rose Marie."

Great Military Display Features Dominion Day Observance Locally

Thousands of persons lined streets, jammed doorways and peered from buildings in downtown Sherbrooke yesterday to view the huge Dominion Day parade staged in connection with Army Week by the Sherbrooke July 1st Celebration Committee.

On the seventy-fifth anniversary of Canada, the tramp of thousands of marchers and the martial music of several bands coupled with the appearance of crack Sherbrooke troops, which included the Sherbrooke Regiment, Les Fusiliers de Sherbrooke (Reserve), Les Fusiliers de Sherbrooke (Active) and units from the Lord Sherbrooke Training Centre No. 43.

Starting from the Lansdowne Market at 10.30 a.m., the parade was led by City Motorcycle Officer A. Desbiens, who was followed by Mayor A. C. Ross and other city and parliamentary representatives. Others participating in the demonstration ,in addition to the Sherbrooke military units, were Municipal firemen an dpolice, Royal Canadian Mounted Police, Sherbrooke Air Cadets No. 67, War Veterans, members of the Sherbrooke Branch Canadian Legion and children from twelve to fifteen years of age carrying flags.

With the entire route of the parade being lined with spectators as well, the demonstration proceeded on King Street West to Wellington South to Aberdeen, to Alexander to King West to Belvidere to Wolfe to Montreal to Dufferin to Wellington North, dispersing at the intersection of King and Wellington Streets.

While the parade was in progress intermittent rain failed to dampen the patriotic fervor instilled into the thousands of spectators and marchers alike.

The line of march moved steadily along the entire route. Although police had a large crowd to handle, not a single accident or casualty was reported to mar the demonstration.

During the afternoon a special sports programme was held for children at the Sherbrooke Vacation Colony and winners of the various events were presented with prizes.

The Dominion Day Committee, under the joint-chairmanship of Alphonse Dion and J. W. McKee, distributed flags to all children who marched in the parade.

Les Fusiliers de Sherbrooke saluted the citizens of Sherbrooke last night, with Mayor A. C. Ross taking the salute at the Sherbrooke Baseball Park. Before that, however, there was presented a programme of acrobatics by Constable Bell and his Y.M.C.A. athletes. The Sherbrooke Harmony Band was in attendance and played martial and patriotic selections, as did the Les Fusiliers de Sherbrooke Band.

Today is being observed as "Solders' Day" and citizens of Sherbrooke are inviting all ranks of the Army to their homes.

Men in uniform will be treated at Lowney's Show in front of the grand stand at the Exhibition Grounds tomorrow night at eight o'clock.

Our Congratulations to:

VICTORIAVILLE AIRMEN RAISE NEW FLAGPOLE

Impressive Ceremony Marks Dedication of Flagpole for Initial Training School at Victoriaville.

Victoriavillt, July 2.—In a colorful ceremony held yesterday afternoon at the Victoriaville Initial Training School, Royal Canadian Air Force, the Union Jack was raised for the first time on a newly-erected flagpole in the presence of the entire personnel of the school and several hundred residents of Victoriaville and surrounding communities.

The ceremony was presided over by Squadron Leader Denton Massey, Officer Commanding the school, who expressed his thanks to the Brompton Pulp and Paper Company, who had donated the pole, made from an eighty-foot Quebec - grown spruce tree cut less than thirty miles from the school, and to the Shawinigan Water and Power Company for lending the tackle with which the pole was raised. He pointed out that the flag was not a new one, but had been chosen by him for sentimental reasons.

Dr. Champagne, the Mayor of Victoriaville, raised the flag. Speaking briefly he stressed the fact that the French-Canadian citizens should have a deep loyalty for the Empire and for the Union Jack, which had always been the defenders of their rights and liberty. The Victoriaville Band also assisted in the ceremony. Following the raising of the flag the National Anthem was played and a "feu de joie" was fired by the Guard of Honor, composed of the young men who had graduated from the school earlier in the week.

Later, Squadron Leader Massey presented the traditional "Oscar" to Leading Aircraftsman F. A. Peirce, of Toronto, who had been the leading student among the graduates with ninety-nine per cent. The class had the highest average of any to graduate at Victoriaville. The school personnel gave three cheers for Peirce and for the graduating class.

COLONEL E. RIOUX IN MONTREAL HOSPITAL

Suffering from a complication of ailments, Col. Emile Rioux, V.D., was admitted to the Ross Memorial Pavilion of the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal, on Tuesday, it was announced today.

A former officer commanding the Fusiliers of Sherbrooke and former Mayor of this city, Col. Rioux is at present on the reserve of officers of the Eleventh Brigade.

Sherbrooke Regiment O.C. Urges Greater Enlistment In Reserve

Addressing his appeal particularly to men in local offices and factories, who, he said, should be taking a more active part in the national war effort and are anxious to be doing something tangible along that line, Col. T. R. MacKenzie, O.B.E., V.D., Officer Commanding the Sherbrooke Regiment, (R.) C.A., in an address here last night, asked for five hundred recruits for the well-known Sherbrooke unit.

Pointing out that the Sherbrooke Regiment has a splendid record in this and other conflicts, Col. MacKenzie recalled the supplying of many officers and men to the formation of the Sherbrooke Fusilier Regiment in 1940, and of some 250 officers and men to the Active Army, the R.C.A.F. and the Royal Canadian Navy since then, and said this had resulted in a serious depletion of the ranks.

"We need anywhere up to 500 men for our own unit, and we need them and want them right away," Col. MacKenzie said. "Every able-bodied, red-blooded Canadian who is not eligible for active service—that's the man we want."

Terming the need for Reserve Army recruits "urgent," Col. MacKenzie said, "I used that word not casually or unthinkingly, but with a deep purpose. Only those countries have been overrun by the enemy where the people have been too complacent or lazy to face the facts. Norway, Denmark, Belgium, Holland, France and the rest all refused to face the grim facts of modern warfare. Britain, China and Russia remain fighting today because their populations rose up against the barbarian invader. We in Canada must face the fact that we are open to enemy attack. Indeed our own Province of Quebec has already been the object of attack. On May 11th last enemy submarines sunk two Canadian merchantmen within sight of Quebec shores in the mouth of our own St. Lawrence. They could as easily have landed raiding parties to destroy our homes and factories, and kill our wives and children. We are indeed in grave danger of attack; the question is—What are we prepared to do about it?

"One thing is to enlist in the Sherbrooke Regiment and learn how to defend yourself and your home and loved ones against the common enemy. The courses are interesting and practical—the training is so arranged as to place no unnecessary burden on either your time or strength. But they will enable you to fit yourself to meet an emergency which very well may come—and come with unexpected suddenness. The need is very real and very great.

"Today airplanes flow over Sherbrooke—missiles were dropped. They happened to be friendly planes—the missiles were fortunately only of paper. But they might have been planes flown by hostile enemy pilots —and the missiles could have been real bombs dealing death and destruction. It is to guard against these and other threats to our security that the Reserve Army is in being. It cannot serve its purpose effectively unless its ranks are full. The Sherbrooke Regiment is waiting to enroll you among the hundreds of others who are willing and anxious to do their part. I am waiting an opportunity to welcome you to our ranks—I hope it will be soon."

Georgeville District Farmer Drowns While Swimming in Lake Memphremagog at Old Lime Kiln Following Picnic Dinner —Ten Other Persons in Eastern Canada Meet Violent Dominion Day Deaths.

Magoon's Point, July 2. — Less than an hour after he had eaten a heavy meal, forty-three-year-old Guy L. Peasley, a farmer residing between Fitch Bay and Georgeville, lost his life by drowning in Lake Memphremagog to bring a Dominion Day picnic being held by three families to a tragic conclusion.

Peasley, with his wife and children and two other families, were picnicking at the old lime kiln at Magoon's Point. After enjoying the meal, Peasley went into the water. Just what happened is not known, but he suddenly appeared to step off a ledge into deeper water and lose his breath at the unexpected plunge.

Efforts to pull him out of the water met with difficulty. A youngster nearby attempted to dive in and save Peasley, but he, too, had just eaten and could not continue, becoming sick. When the body was removed about a half-hour later, artificial respiration was practised.

Dr. G. A. Bowen, of Magog, the District Coroner, made an investigation and rendered a verdict of accidental death by drowning.

Ten other persons met violent deaths in Eastern Canada during the Dominion Day holiday. Six persons were drowned, two men died in automobile accidents, a small girl was strangled by her own dress and a boy was electrocuted.

Two-year-old Raymonde Larouche of St. Coeur de Marie, Que., strangled to death while struggling to free herself when her dress caught a nail on a fence she was about to straddle.

Billy Howard, six, of Moncton, N. B., was electrocuted when he touched a broken wire near railway tracks and two men suffered burns and shock when they attempted to rescue him.

O. J. Yearsley of Toronto was killed when a car in which he was riding crashed into a railway engine on a level crossing one mile West of Lindsay, Ont. Mrs. Wesley Sloan, said to have been the driver of the car and her husband, both seventy-five, were seriously injured.

Roy Haylock, twenty-one, of Brantford, Ont., was killed when the car he was driving crashed into a hydro pole near Waterford, Ont. Doris Cole, eighteen, of Norwich., a passenger, suffered serious facial lacerations.

Four-year-old Rodney Melville Rogers, son of a former Canadian and North American skating champion, drowned in Meach Lake at his family's summer home near Ottawa. The father found his son's body in twelve feet of water.

Two Quebec soldiers were believed drowned when their canoe overturned in Little Lake near Midland, Ont. Their names were given as Troopers Lebell and Bisaillon of the 24th Receiving Battalion, Voltigeurs, now stationed at Camp Borden.

Charles Demontigny, thirty-year-old blind man of Montreal, was drowned in Lake St. Louis when he and a semi-blind companion stepped into a deep hole while wading.

Twenty-six-year-old Louis Philippe Demont of Montreal, was drowned in Riviere des Prairies when a canoe overturned.

Conrad Gale, eleven-year-old son of Pte. Alex Gale of the Canadian Army Overseas and Mrs. Gale of Hamilton, Ont., was drowned in the Grand River near Caledonia, Ont.

Soldier's Interests Protected From Day Of Enlistment To His Discharge

Greatest of Pains Taken to See that His Rights Are Respected at All Times—Always Given Chance to Tell His Side of Story.

By MACHINE-GUNNER

The phrase from the Mikado, "Let the punishment fit the crime," might just as well have been taken from the Manual of Military Law as far as the Canadian soldier is concerned.

His interests are protected from the day of his enlistment until he is discharged from the Army. Pages have been written in the official documents, and the greatest of pains are taken to see that his rights are at all times respected.

"To be paraded" is a phrase that means more to the recruit than the civilian imagines, and it doesn't mean his being involved in a procession around town. When a soldier is paraded he is taken, in the proper manner, to his immediate senior officer for one of two reasons.

To begin with, he may feel that he has been wronged by a companion, an N.C.O. or an officer. It is his right to be paraded, first to his platoon commander, usually a lieutenant, and, if he is not satisfied, from there to his company commander, a captain or major, and still farther to the unit commander, a Lieut.-Colonel as a rule.

He is given a chance to tell his side of a story which concerns him, and his right to be paraded guarantees his getting what soldiers have always called a "square deal."

On the other side, there is the case of a soldier who is paraded because he has been guilty of an offence against the Army Act. In this case he is paraded to the company commander by the Company Sergeant-Major, and is brought in between two of his comrades who are termed "escorts." The accused is marched, with his escorts, to a position in front of the company commander's desk with his head bare.

The name of the accused is read out and he then steps forward one pace. The "crime" is read out, and the witnesses called to testify, and after all the evidence has been presented the accused soldier is asked what he has to say for himself.

If the sentence to be passed involves a forfeiture of pay on the part of the soldier, he is asked, before the punishment is announced, "Are you willing to accept my punishment?" by the company commander; if the soldier agrees he is sentenced to the forfeiture of so many days' pay (and the powers of the company commander are limited, in this respect, to three days' pay) and in addition to a number of days (up to seven) C.B., or confinement to barracks. While a soldier is C.B. he may not leave the barracks, and he must work after hours of parade on odd jobs around the camp; cutting grass, or washing dishes have taken the place of the old potato peeling punishment of 1914-18 by virtue of the automatic potato peelers in use at present.

The case of a soldier who refuses to accept the punishment of the company commander is similar to one whose offence is one for which the punishment is beyond the powers of that officer. The soldier is paraded to the officer commanding (the unit). The procedure is quite the same as before, but the O.C. may award up to 14 days C.B., and 28 days detention.

A soldier in detention is locked up in the camp "jail," called Detention Barracks. While he is so confined he may not smoke, receives no pay and in addition, performs many of the more unpleasant duties around camp. He is made to parade also, but his health and moral welfare are superintended by the Medical Officer and Padre, respectively, on their regular rounds of inspection. If the punishment is believed by the officer commanding to be above even his powers he may remand the accused for a District Court Martial, and the procedure is similar if the soldier refuses to accept the punishment to be awarded by the O.C., but again, the accused must declare his willingness to accept the punishment before it is announced.

The only time there is an automatic forfeiture of pay in the Canadian Army is when a soldier is absent without official leave. When he has not attended parade, he is not, naturally, paid.

CRACKER JACKS TO PERFORM AT FAIR GROUNDS

Headliners of Stage, Screen and Radio to Entertain Troops and Civilians on Friday Night.

Headliners of stage, screen and radio who comprise the cast of Lowney's Caravan, a professional troupe of entertainers who are presenting a two-hour variety show at various military camps throughout Ontario and Quebec, will present "the Cracker Jacks" for local troops and civilians on the stage in front of the exhibition grounds grandstand Friday night.

Produced by Harry "Red" Foster, one of Canada's outstanding athletes of a few years ago, Lowney's Caravan is the first outdoor show on wheels to provide entertainment at military camps on this continent.

Featuring a clever dancing chorus of eight beautiful girls in gaily-colored costumes the Caravan has scored a big hit with the boys of the Navy, Army and Air Force wherever and whenever a performance has been given.

Among the headliners are lovely June Barrett, a talented vocalist, and Conchita Triana, outstanding Bolero dancer from South America. The two-hour variety show of singing, dancing, music, mirth and magic is M.C.'d by Joe Carr, who acted with Jimmmy Cagney in Captains of the Clouds. He is also well known in all parts of the Dominion for his impersonations of "Adolphie" and "Benito" on the series of "Carry On, Canada" broadcasts presented by the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation.

Other star performers on the programme include Rex Slocombe, an ordinary prankster who is an extraordinary magician, and versatile Clair Rouse, the one-man band who plays no less than seventeen different instruments.

The show is presented by the Lowney Chocolate Company as a contribution to Canada's war effort.

FOOT INJURED BY PROPELLER

Henri Moreau, twenty-seven years old, 60 Bowen Street North, suffered foot injuries when he was struck by a motorboat while swimming in the Magog River near the city limits yesterday afternoon, police reported today.

The injured man was removed by Radio Police to St. Vincent de Paul Hospital, where he was treated by Dr. Gaudet. He was reported to be resting comfortably today.

According to police, the operator of the motorboat was Gerard Marceau, 144-b King Street West.

A parked bicycle in front of 38 Wellington Street North was damaged considerably when struck by a South-bound automobile on Tuesday afternoon. Police said that the bike is owned by David Dame, seventeen years old, 164 St. Michael Street, and W. Henri Cote, 4081 Dorchester Street, Westmount, was the driver of the machine.

Police said that the car driven by Cote is the property of the Cross Lumber Company, Westmount.

There were no auto accidents in the city during the holiday period.

TWO FIRE CALLS OVER HOLIDAY

Municipal Fire Department responded to two calls during the holiday period. Firemen put out chimney and stove pipe blazes at the home of Pierre Laflamme, 16-e King Street East, and Vital Choiniere, 105-a King Street West, respectively. Damage was negligible.

DIES IN LOCAL HOSPITAL

She had been confined to bed with illness for about a month. Funeral arrangements have not yet been completed, although burial will be made at Richmond.

Agriculture Must Accept Burden Of Peace Reconstruction, Says Premier

Agriculture will have to bear the heaviest burdens in the economic restoration of the post-war world and it is the duty of the Governments, Dominion and Provincial, to see that the industry is maintained at as great a level of officiency as possible, Premier Adelard Godbout told the six hundred delegates to the First Annual Convention of the Corporation of Agronomes of Quebec at their closing banquet in Christ-Roi Church Hall last evening.

Other speakers at the dinner which wound up the two-day gathering were Mgr. P. S. Desranleau, Bishop of Sherbrooke, and Hon. Onesime Gagnon, representing Opposition Leader Maurice Duplessis.

The convention opened at St. Charles Seminary on Tuesday morning under the presidency of H. C. Bois, of Montreal, with the registration of delegates and general routine. Tuesday afternoon and evening were devoted to group studies of various agricultural questions and the election of officers. Charles A. Gagne, of Ste. Anne de la Pocatiere, was named President, with William Houde, of Montreal, and Emile Lodds, of Macdonald College, as Vice-Presidents, H. C. Bois, as Trustee, F. A. Proulx, of Quebec, Gustave Toupin, of Oka, and Elzear Campagna, of Ste. Croix, as the Committee of Appeal, and Romeo Martin, of Montreal, as auditor.

Yesterday morning was devoted to the problems of conservation, with special attention being paid to the co-operation between the Dominion and Provincial Governments and individuals and the part that the agronomes could play in bringing about improvement in farming conditions through the extension of soil conservation measures. The afternoon was spent in general discussion.

In addressing the evening banquet, Bishop Desranleau, urged upon the Quebec Premier the need for the establishment of an agricultural school in Sherbrooke to serve the farming population of this district, which he termed as one of the most important in Eastern Canada. He also urged that the agronomes impress upon the farmers of the Province a true love of the land and the vital importance of agriculture upon which the entire economy of the country rests.

Other speakers at the dinner were Senator Charles Howard, representing Mayor Ross, H. C. Bois and Charles Gagne, outgoing and incoming Presidents respectively, while the chairman was J. A. Ste-Marie, Superintendent of the Lennoxville Experimental Farm.

In opening his remarks, Premier Godbout took cognizance of the appeal of Bishop Desranleau, and hinted that the matter was now under study by the members of the Government, who realized the importance of this district from an agricultural point of view. Turning to the agronomes, he said:

"I take advantage of this occasion to urge the agronomes not to forget that the land is necessary to the nation. This is forgotten too often, particularly by those who abandon the farm to seek their fortune elsewhere. It is the task of the agronomes to impress these truths upon the growing farmers who will tomorrow be responsible for the advancement of farming."

CUT OUT THE CHATTER

Word from Ottawa indicates that the budget debate may prove only a matter of a few days and that the debate on the Mobilization Act amendment may then be resumed. This is something ardently to be desired—in fact the average citizen wishes that Parliament would also curtail its debate on the latter measure and take some definite action to ensure that the country can give an all-out war effort.

In face of admitted Allied reverses in almost every section of the fighting fronts, the Canadian House of Commons seems content to talk a good fight, spending day after day repeating the time-worn formulae of how to do or how not to do something. For session after session, member after member gets up to tell the House—and his constituents—what he is going to do on this or that measure, with a keen eye to the next election. The speeches on the Mobilization Act debate could have been fewer and shorter. In fact the outstanding address of the debate was less than fifteen minutes, that of Air Minister Power announcing his intention of voting against the wishes of his constituents. The rest have been so much window dressing which a recorded vote on the measure could as well interpret. The other members are following the wishes of their voters and have no real need for lengthy discourses.

In the meantime, the hours run by, the situation becomes more and more grave. But Ottawa is content to talk, playing politics as usual.

GENERAL SIR CLAUDE AUCHINLECK

General Sir Claude Auchinleck, Commander-in-Chief in the Middle East who has taken over personal command of the 8th Army in Egypt, is known for his military experience throughout the Middle East and India, for his capture of Narvik in Far Northern Norway, and for the delight he takes in cutting through red tape. He is "The Auk" to his staff.

A silent, canny Scotsman, Gen. Auchinleck went from active service in Aden, Iraq and Egypt during the First Great War to become Britain's military "troubleshooter" and has been moving into hot spots for ten years.

He was sent to India, where he had his first military experience in 1904, to put down uprisings in 1933 and 1935. When France fell, he took over the beaches of Southern England as his command and dug miles of trenches, put up barricades and obstacles and prepared to meet a German invasion which has not yet been attempted.

A believer in co-operation with the Navy and R.A.F., he emphasized his orders at every exercise:

"Be ready to fight the Germans in the air, on the sea and on the land."

Before his home command, he was in command of the Allied army in Norway, in May, 1940. He had hardly reached his base near Narvik when the order came to abandon his plan and return to defend Britain.

Gen. Auchinleck told later that plans for the capture of Narvik were completed and "we decided to put them into effect." Narvik was taken, only to be abandoned later.

A tall, broad-shouldered man with reddish-brown hair, Gen. Auchinleck is described by military men as "reliable and steady." He is fifty-seven and his attitude toward fighting is completely modern.

"The whole system of war as we knew it in 1914-1918 has been changed in this war," he once said. "We must recognize aircraft as the most vital weapon, we must teach tanks, artillery and infantry to co-operate with it, and above all we must not fall into the error of saying 'Damme, Jerry didn't do that at Loos. He can't do it here.'"

He was scornful of "talking bilge about bayonets" when "what we need is more anti-tank guns, more anti-aircraft guns, more machine guns."

The son of a Scottish Colonel of the Royal Artillery, Gen. Auchinleck entered the army from Wellington College. He joined the first Punjab Regiment in India in 1904 and gained his first fighting experience against the tribes on the North-west Indian Frontier.

AUSTRALIA ON AN ALL-OUT BASIS

Declaring that only the minimum resources requisite for civil order will be retained, Prime Minister John Curtin of Australia has reaffirmed the Government's determination to divert to war production thousands of civilian workers, including 48,000 women, which must be carried out by the end of December.

Details of the measures diverting manpower and womanpower into war industries are being examined by production groups from industry. A number of the proposals submitted came from various industrial groups and centered about self-devised plans for releasing men from these industries to war production. Where some industries failed to provide their own plans, arbitrary action may be taken by the Government to obtain the desired result, based on plans prepared by the War Department for the organization of industry.

Australia is going through far greater difficulties than ever before in an effort to find a record number of men and women for fighting services, war production, munitions work and defence activities of a semi-civilian nature. Callups for army service in the compulsory enrolled militia which are proceeding simultaneously with voluntary enlistments in the A.I.F., R.A.A.F. and navy have reached classes of married men, both with and without children, to the age of forty.

At the same time, manpower authorities, as in Britain, have begun combing manpower from industries, even those classed as essential.

Men from unessential industries are being obtained gradually through the rationing of various commodities, such as tea, tobacco and cigarettes, which has had the effect of closing many small shops and factories producing luxuries.

The most serious complaints now concern military callups from the farming areas, but the reduction in rural population is caused not only by enlistments and callups, but by the attraction of hundreds of small farmers to the city for highly-paid munitions jobs.

Hard hit by the drain of manpower are the dairying districts. It is estimated that about 1,000 dairy farmers in New South Wales alone have gone out of production as a consequence of labor marketing difficulties.

Australia belatedly began the formation of a Women's Land Army to train women to carry on in farming as in Britain, but even this small organization is complaining that farmers are over conservative about their employment.

POLAND CARRIES ON

First country to fall before the Nazi armies, Poland during the period of its occupation has built up a thriving underground press that all Nazi attempts have failed to crush.

Despite the arrest, execution or imprisonment of some of the publishers, clandestine papers appear regularly whether their editions are daily, weekly or monthly.

Since the Nazis suppressed Poland's official press, more than one hundred and fifty publications have appeared one after another. Executions have stopped some and paper shortage has stopped others but the majority carry on month after month.

More than seventy of the publications are newspapers, passed furtively from hand to hand. One boasts two daily editions while another keeps its news fresh by printing four editions daily. A third estimates its circulation at 10,000.

The early secret papers devoted themselves mostly to news picked up from Allied broadcasts and to messages calling for resistance among the Poles.

Now the secret press has widened its field to include technical subjects, statistics about the occupation, education, economics as well as advice to farmers and saboteurs.

In Warsaw five dailies keep the population informed about the world outside and the Allies' progress in their fight to liberate Poland.

Canada's Press Views The Budget

The reaction of Canadian editors to the Budget Speech of Finance Minister Ilsley.

WAR TAX KNIFE CUTS DEEPER

The Gazette, Montreal.

When Finance Minister Ilsley on April 29th of last year jacked up the personal income tax, the corporation tax and the defence tax, there were a great many people who subscribed to the verdict "Not enough." They were not the people who were being hurt least. Many of them stood to pay very much larger sums into the Federal Treasury, but they were Canadians of the all-out war class, the class which constitutes the great majority in this country. If they thought Mr. Ilsley's tax programme of last year erred on the side of moderation they have very much less ground for complaint in the face of the budget announcement. War costs are rushing upward. They will amount to $2,200,000,000, plus a billion for Britain this year, and the 1941-42 tax income, though it substantially exceeded the estimate of a year ago, would not begin to cover the necessary distance. This was known long before and the public had been well prepared for new or increased levies. They have got both and will provide a further $378,000,000.

There are new or increased taxes affecting the consumer, the traveller and the seeker of certain classes of entertainment, and in some instances taxes are imposed on factory products, but striking features of the programme are the increases in the excess profits tax from 75 per cent. to 100 per cent. and the much higher rates on personal income. The combination of the increased defence tax with the income tax, to be designated as the normal tax, and a provision that this normal tax and a large percentage of the graduated tax are to be deducted at the source on salaries and wages marks a new departure which is of principal concern from the administrative and collection point of view. Deduction at the source has worked well with the defence tax and should give equally good results with what is now to be known as the normal tax. The alternative — payments on a quarterly instalment basis — will meet the needs of special cases. Still more outstanding is the announcement that a substantial portion of the tax now to be payable will be refunded at the end of the war with interest at 2 per cent. This is to all intents and purposes the Maynard Keynes compulsory savings plan. It is of decided importance to the taxpayer and should have a direct bearing upon the country's post-war economy. So, too, will be the post-war return of 20 per cent. of the excess profits tax, enabling industry to cope with new conditions with resources that cannot be accumulated while the war continues.

When last year's income tax increases were announced the Minister made it very clear that he was taking into consideration the then existing provincial imposts, which he was then planning to have discontinued and which are now out for the duration. He said then that the conclusion had been reached "that the rates of personal and corporation taxes should be raised by the Dominion to the maximum levels which would be reasonable at this time, if the provinces were not in those fields. Our plans are drawn, therefore, on that basis." This was a plain implication that once the provinces were out of those fields the 1941 tax levels could be lifted, and they are being lifted now.

Unquestionably the new tax programme is heavy but the Minister has striven, as he says, to preserve the principle of equity and to avoid impairing the incentive which the prospect of increased earnings affords. He has erected what appears to be at first glance a complicated structure, but it may not prove to be so. He is taking a great deal more money from the individual and from industry but he does not set the price of freedom too high. That cannot be done, and if the people of Canada suffer nothing worse than the surrender of a large part of their earnings as a means of ensuring their personal and national safety they will be vastly more fortunate than the enslaved peoples of Europe.

BUDGETTING TO WIN THE WAR

The Star, Montreal.

Undoubtedly many people in Canada today will feel much like W. E. Henley when he wrote his famous "Invictus": "My head is bloody but unbowed." The well-nigh astronomical proportions of the Budget presented in the House of Commons by the Hon. P. J. Ilsley are staggering indeed. But we are in a staggering war, and it is highly probable that events in that war will yet stagger us infinitely more than Mr. Ilsley's Budget. He has to find $3,900,000,000 for the fiscal year 1942-43, and he proposes to raise $2,050,000,000 of that sum by new and increased taxation. He estimates that Canada will be paying something more than fifty-two per cent. of her total expenditures this year out of revenue. This is in keeping with the principle adopted by the Government as its guiding policy in connection with war financing, "pay as you go."

To meet this estimate of fifty-two per cent. Mr. Ilsley proposes heavy increases in income taxes and in excess profits taxes, a system of compulsory savings somewhat similar to that recommended in England by the famous economist, J. M. Keynes, and a twenty-five per cent. tax, on a very wide variety of non-essentials and luxury purchases. There is hardly a single field of possible taxation revenue left untouched. Beer and spirits, tobacco in all forms, cameras, chewing gum, extension telephone lines in private houses, playing cards, soft drinks, life, fire and casualty insurance premiums, jewelry, furs,—all these and many others are affected either by new or increased taxation.

But the most important feature of the Budget proposals is the increase in income tax, the compulsory savings plan, and the proposal to collect combined income tax, increased national defence tax and compulsory savings at the source. The national defence tax as such disappears, and is now known as the Normal Tax. The provision for compulsory savings will be of great assistance particularly to those in the lower brackets, for it will ensure them of a definite sum at the end of the war when their total savings will be returned to them with interest at the rate of two per cent. per annum. In the higher brackets the income tax rates are within an ace of being confiscatory, and the excess profits tax is entirely confiscatory, temporarily, being raised to one hundred per cent., with a refund of 20 per cent. after the war, which may prove to be very useful in the period of readjustment.

It would be foolish to pretend that the total burden of this increased and new taxation will not bear heavily upon the people of Canada. But we believe the Canadian people will brace their shoulders to carry this burden, recognizing that it is not only inevitable but a cheap price to pay for freedom. You cannot, indeed, put a price upon freedom. It is cheap at any cost, so long as that cost is possible of payment. The people will endure any burden but slavery under Hitler.

The Budget comes at a psychological moment, for we are now at the crucial turn in the war. An immensely powerful and determined enemy is putting everything he possesses into an effort to smash the United Nations before they can fully develop and put into operation their far greater resources. This has only served to stiffen the determination of the people fighting for freedom to increase in every possible direction their own efforts. This new burden of taxation is a part—an all-important part—of Canada's war effort.

Mr. Ilsley, in concluding his Budget speech, said: "Do Canadians realize how critical the situation is at this moment in Russia, in China, and in the Middle East, and how critical it may be elsewhere before long? I believe that now they do, and that their individual desires for gain, and ease, and advantage are submerged in the nation's will to win."

Mr. Ilsley was given an ovation by the entire House when he sat down. Today the people of Canada will unite in applauding his proposals and in the resolve that they will stand by him loyally. We are going to win this war, cost what it may.

WEDDING MORNING

You are a bride. Today is yours,
Though nothing else in life endures
You will remember, all life through,
The day that brings your love to you.

With shining eyes, untouched with tears,
Go forth to face the varied years;
With love forever at your side,
The world is yours, oh happy bride.

FREE MOVEMENT OF WHEAT

To the Editor of the Record.

Dear Sir:—I was attracted by the Record's editorial outlining thought trends in the United States relating to "The Post-War World." I find that I can subscribe heartily to the various principles outlined.

In this letter there is room only to deal in the briefest way with one of the central clauses, set out as follows:

"9.—Removal of tariffs and other barriers to the establishment of a free world economy, eradicating the economic germs of warfare, and helping to raise the standards of living and social levels of mankind generally . . . ."

It certainly is going to be interesting, in the free years coming up, to observe to what extent the victorious Big Four of the United Nations ("And they generally include China as well" is the way your editorial puts it—but I suggest that China deserves her place alongside of Russia, for we owe them both an un-repayable debt!) really manage to implement the above constructive principle?

Some poet writing on this mundane theme of "Tariffs" went to the core of the matter:

"One-way trade but speaks a lie—
'Tis only war, grown miserly."

As a farmer, I have my own measurement of V . . .—or as to whether, or not, humanity will have learned the lesson of today's Gethsemane. You are aware of the fact that Jack Canuck's most famous commodity—Wheat—used to flow more or less freely around the ports of the Seven Seas? If that basic condition returns, we will be "on our way" (F.D.R.); if not, we will have been unworthy of the hosts who have died for the better, freer and fairer ways of life!

The standard of living in Canada must be reduced—but at least we are living, and no enemy bombers so far have disturbed our skies.—Ottawa Journal.

Suggesting that those who can't get beef should buy lamb instead is about as practical as Marie Antoinette's remark about cake.—Fort Erie Times-Review.

There is still corn in Egypt, but also, we regret to report, too many Nazis.—Toronto Globe and Mail.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By Wm. E. McKenney, America's Card Authority.

VALUE OF SMALL CARDS IS STRESSED

Looking at today's hand, which was No. 14 of the series played in the recent intercollege tournament, you think it must be harder for East and West to reach three no trump than to make it after they arrive. You count that East can win two spades, one heart, two diamonds, and four clubs, since the club finesse is a winner. What is there to the play?

The returns proved that many of our younger bridge players have yet to learn the value of small cards. Many failed to make the "laid-down" contract.

The whole point is that when clubs are led from dummy, at the one time it gets in with the diamond king, the correct lead is the nine, on which East will play the deuce if North plays low. Then when the jack is led, East can again underplay with the ten, if necessary. To lead the jack first is an error, for if East plays the deuce he will have to win the second club round, and if he drops the ten, his deuce cannot win a trick if North plays correctly. The lead of the nine thus is necessary in case North has the king plus three or more clubs.

This interior lead might well be called "the mid-West coup," for it was bagged by most of the mid-West colleges entered in the tournament: Cincinnati, Earlham, Illinois College, Illinois University, Indiana, Kansas State, Kansas University, Michigan State, Michigan University, Western Michigan, Missouri, Rose Polytechnic, Purdue, Wichita and Wooster College.

A mirage probably saved the lives of Sir Ernest Shackleton and his men while they were exploring the Antarctic in 1909. The party lost its way and couldn't find its food depot, which was below the horizon. Atmospheric refraction suddenly lifted it into view long enough for the starving men to set their course toward it.

Walking along a lane one bright, sunny morning, the vicar met a local farmer driving some cows.

"Spring in the air, Mr. Giles," he hailed the man cheerily.

"Whatever for, sir?" replied the farmer in amazement.

MARRIAGES

MURRAY—GROOME

King's College Chapel, Halifax, N.S., was the scene of a pretty naval wedding on Saturday, June 20th, when Elsie Irene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Groome, of North Hatley, became the bride of Sub-Lieut. John Clayburn Murray, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Murray, of Saint John, N.B., Rev. Dr. A. Stanley Walker, President of King's College and Honorary Chaplain, R.C.N., officiating.

Multi-colored snap-dragon were used effectively in the church decoration, and the wedding music was played by Lieut. Norman E. Smith, R.C.A., who rendered "O Perfect Love," as an organ solo, during the signing of the register.

The bride, who was given in marriage by Sub-Lieut. Christopher C. Lowe, R.C.N.V.R., formerly of Lennoxville, wore a becoming white sheer floor-length gown of georgette with fitted embroidered jacket, her shoulder-length veil being of fine white net. She carried a bouquet of pink sweetheart roses and maidenhair fern.

The bridesmaid was Miss Constance E. Murray, of Saint John, N. B., sister of the groom, wearing a Pink sheer floor-length gown with shirred bodice and bishop sleeves. Her headdress was a bandeau of pink flowers, and she carried pink and white carnations.

The groom's mother wore a redingote in two-tone blue with matching accessories and corsage of Talisman roses.

The best man was F. Gordon Murray, of Halifax, N.S.

Leaving the chapel the couple walked under an arch of swords formed by a guard-of-honor from "V" Division, which had graduated from H.M.C.S. "Kings" that morning.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Carleton Hotel, Halifax, the bride and groom later leaving for St. John's, Newfoundland.

For travelling the bride wore a white crepe suit, navy top coat and matching accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Bishop's University, Lennoxville, and the groom an alumnus of the University of New Brunswick. Both were formerly on the staff of the Noranda High School.

Huntingville, July 2.—The marriage of Ruth Emily, daughter of Mrs. William H. Hunting and the late Mr. William H. Hunting, of Huntingville, to Mr. Charles Newton James, son of Mrs. E. C. James and the late Rev. E. C. James, of Lachine, took place in the Universalist Church at Huntingville, at three o'clock on Saturday afternoon, June 27, the Rev. R. L. Her mother's wedding bonnet covered with real flowers served as headdress and a pearl necklace, white lace gloves and navy pumps completed a charming costume. She carried a bouquet of Pink Delight roses and baby's breath.

Mrs. M. C. Sewell was her sister's only attendant and she wore a printed silk dress with wedgewood blue redingote, navy hat and harmonizing accessories. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations and baby's breath.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, Huntingville, where delphinium and pink and white peonies were used to decorate. The tea-table, covered with a lace cloth and centered with the three-tiered wedding cake, was presided over by Mrs. K. W. and Mrs. C. H. Hunting, sisters-in-law, of the bride.

The bride's travelling costume was a suit of Wanee green wool crepe, natural straw hat and accessories to match. Her corsage was of gardenias.

Develop Talent at Home With Fashion Art Course

Don't Try to Copy—Use Charts

Discouraged so soon! Yet this would-be fashion artist has a real talent to develop.

Like so many girls who long for a well-paying career in art, she must do her studying at home. But she doesn't quite know how to go about it.

This is where charts and diagrams, professional instruction can help you. With their aid you soon learn to draw really graceful, well-proportioned faces and figures.

For the glamourous, Garboesque face of the fashion ads, draw an oval and divide it in half, horizontally. This is the eye line. Now divide the lower half into five equal parts and place the nose line two fifths down from the eye line, the mouth three fifths down.

Once you have these main proportions, the finishing touches come easier—shaping the eye and mouth, drawing the soft contours of the hair.

And the figure? You follow the same principle of dividing up, as our 24-page fashion art course shows you. Teaches you perspective, how to "block in", pose and dress figures, work in line and wash, and draw fabric textures such as velvet, jersey, net, chiffon, also furs.

DERBY OBSERVATION POST ALERT

The Derby Aircraft Observation Post was the first to report a group of U.S. Army Douglas C-47 Transport Planes, which passed over this area Tuesday afternoon, June 23, there being forty-three planes in the group.

Within fifteen seconds after the first plane was spoted miles away and approaching Derby, Mrs. Dwight Squires, in charge of the Post, had contacted Albany.

Dwight Squires is Chief Observer for Derby, and the posts this week are on twenty-four-hour duty, volunteer observers working in two-hour stretches.

Roar of the twin motors of the forty-three army Douglas C-47 transport planes over this area between 1.30 and 2.00 p.m. on June 23, caused a great deal of excitement, it being the largest single group of U.S. Army planes to fly over this area at one time.

Investigation revealed that the forty-three planes were converted commercial transports, which the army has requisitioned from airlines throughout the country and that they were going to Albany, N.Y., and had come from the training station at Presqu'Isle, Maine.

Until the day of victory . . . and beyond . . . he carries our hearts with him.

We whose part it is to protect, through Life Insurance, the economic future of the Canadian home are proud to join in a public tribute to the Canadian Army. Their devotion and courage protect not only our beloved Canada, but the cause of freedom and justice throughout the world.

Children's garments require more than ordinary washing

You need Sunlight's "EXTRA-SOAPINESS" to get right at those extra grubby parts

ISN'T it amazing how children get their clothes so dirty? Isn't it surprising, too, how stubbornly the dirt sticks? You know yourself that no ordinary washing is completely effective in cleansing the very dirty parts. Some of the dirt is left behind, and so the clothes won't come really clean.

Whether you use flakes, powder or bar soap you need Sunlight's "extra-soapiness" to remove every speck of dust and grime. The Sunlight method of washing is simply to apply Sunlight right on to the "extra dirty" parts at once.

And you do this lightly—not with hard rubbing—for Sunlight has a wonderful "extra-soapiness" which makes it exactly suited for soaping the clothes. The light film of Sunlight left in contact with the dirt is sufficient to loosen the most stubborn grime—quickly—thoroughly—leaving the clothes fresh and spotlessly clean. Use Sunlight Soap for all washing and household cleaning tasks. Its purity gives it tremendous cleansing power and saves you hours of work—it's gentle to your hands, too.

W.M.S. GIVES PROGRAMME AT AYER'S CLIFF

Musical Selections and Talk on Porto Rico by Rev. M. H. Sanderson Enjoyed in United Church Hall.

Ayer's Cliff, July 2.—A fine evening's programme was given in the United Church Hall under the auspices of the Women's Missionary Society. The entertainment was in two parts, the first musical, consisting of piano solo, "Nocturn," by Laybech, Mrs. Willard Rexford; ladies' chorus, Mrs. R. G. McHarg and the Misses May Pierce, Joyce and Beryl Rexford sang a group of two songs, "Sweet Evening Bells" and "Last Night"; Mr. F. A. Johnston rendered a melophone solo, "The Plains of Peace"; Messrs. Alfred and Winston Keeler always captivate their audience and were especially good in two patriotic songs.

The second part of the programme was presented by Rev. M. H. Sanderson, who gave a "travelogue" on Porto Rico, which was indeed full of information and was given in a manner which was entirely characteristic of the speaker and highly entertaining throughout. Rev. Mr. Sanderson had the opportunity of visiting Porto Rico some years ago and therefore the facts given about it were first-hand and he also had with him curios which made it even more interesting.

Following the lecture, on behalf of the Society, Mrs. Johnston expressed the appreciation felt by all to Rev. Mr. Sanderson for this part in the evening's programme and Mrs. Lyon thanked those who had given all the musical numbers. It was regretted that more did not avail themselves of the opportunity of sharing the evening, but a good sum was added to the treasury and all expressed themselves as having an enjoyable and a profitable evening.

YANKEES' LEAD REDUCED TO THREE GAMES

Six Royals Chosen For Buffalo All-Star Game

Graham, Burge, Rojek, Dapper, Moore and Kraus to Play for Northern Squad in International League Tilt Next Wednesday Night—Newark Bears Dominate for Berths on Southern Team.

New York, July 2.—(AP)—The strong Newark Bears seem likely to have the biggest representation of any one club on the field at the start of the International League's All-Star Game next Wednesday night at Buffalo.

Newark, Jersey City, Buffalo and Montreal each placed six men on the Northern and Southern All-Star squads announced last night by League President Frank Shaughnessy. But the pace-setting Bears may be the only outfit to get as many as five men in the starting lineup.

Billy Meyer, Newark Manager and pilot of the strong Southern squad, is expected to choose Catcher Aaron Robinson, Sesond baseman George Stirnweiss, Shortstop Bill Johnson and Outfielders Frank Kelcher and Arthur Beauregard (Bud) Metheny of his own club to start.

Baltimore is slated to have First Baseman Eddie Robinson, Third Baseman Bob Lemon and possibly Outfielder Henry Edwards in the starting lineup, although Sid Gordon of Jersey City also is an outfielder possibility.

Ray Coombs of Jersey City or a Syracuse pitcher, Nate Andrews or Charley Barrett, are the leading candidates for the opening mount assignment.

The second-place Montreal Royals and Buffalo Bisons will share most of the assignments of the Northern stars managed by Al Vincent of Buffalo.

The infield as chosen by sports writers and radio announcers placed Les Burge of Montreal on first, Dutch Meyer of Buffalo on second, Stan Rojek of Montreal on short and Al Rubeling of Toronto at third.

For his outfield Vincent can choose between Eddie Kobesky and John Welaj, Buffalo; Jack Graham and Gene Moore, Montreal; and John Wyrostek, Toronto. Graham, however, has been ailing and may not be able to play.

Southpaw Tony Sierra of Buffalo and Nick Strincevich of Toronto are regarded as the two most likely candidates for the first pitching call, although Jack Kraus, Montreal, Ira Hutchinson, Rochester, and Bill Brandt, Toronto, also are available.

If Sierra is chosen, his Buffalo battery mate, Bob Garbark, might get the call but otherwise Cliff Clapper of Montreal is generally favored.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

Elden Auker, Browns — Pitched five-hit ball to shut out Tigers for his 10th triumph of season.

Ernie White, Cardinals—Blanked Pirates on six hits.

Al Smith, Indians — Kept White Sox shutout until ninth on seven-hit hurling.

Yank Terry and Joe Dobson, Red Sox — Former pitched perfect ball for three innings in relief to beat Senators in first game or double-header and latter hurled five-hitter to take nightcap.

Claude Passeau, Cubs — Scored 12th triumph of season with five-hit pitching against Reds.

Bill Knickerbocker, Athletics — Made four hits in perfect night at plate to help beat his former teammates, the Yankees.

DOMINION DAY IS LUCKY FOR ROYALS, LEAFS

Montreal Sweeps Twin Bill from Rochester and Moves Within Two Games of Leading Bears — Toronto Trounces Buffalo.

The fighting spirit that Manager Burleigh Grimes has instilled into Toronto Maple Leafs has worked wonders with the International League club. Although beset by injuries and a bad start, the Leafs now are in fourth place, one game under the .500 mark.

Toronto celebrated Dominion Day by walloping Bisons twice, 11-7 and 9-4. The Leafs won the opener by scoring eight runs in the seventh inning to overcome a 6-3 Bison lead. Lee Handley, pinch hitting for Pitcher Dick Conger, started the rally with a single and singled again when he came up later in the inning.

Montreal Royals advanced to within two games of the league-leading Newark Bears as they swept a holiday twin bill from Rochester Red Wings, 5-2 and 4-3.

Max Macon won his eighth game of the season in the opener as he set down the Wings with six hits. Rochester knocked Spencer Smith out of the box in the nightcap with a two-run rally but Les McCrabb, who relieved him, allowed the Wings only one run over the remaining distance to receive credit for the triumph.

Baltimore Orioles defeated Newark Bears 3-2 in the only other game played.

The Orioles garnered only five hits off Al Gerheauser, but two of them were home runs, one by Bob Lemon which tied the score in the sixth, and the other a game-winning blow by Hank Edwards in the eighth.

London, July 2.— (CP) —Reports reaching here are that German women's organizations now are urging housewives to show more "leistungssteigerung."

This means, says the Breslauer Nachrichten:

1.—Overcome difficulties with politeness and good humor.

2.—Food shortages may be easily borne if looked at in the "right way."

3.—Having children is an honorable task. Eight is a good average.

Notre Dame Routs Training Centre 13-2 In Season's First Night Tilt

More than 2,000 fans journeyed to the Park Avenue Stadium last night to see the first baseball game played under lights this season and to enjoy a special programme held to mark both Dominion Day and Army Week.

The ball game was a one-sided affair, with Notre Dame, last year Provincial junior champions, routing the Lord Sherbrooke Training Centre aggregation 13-2 to record their sixth straight victory in the Sherbrooke District Intermediate League campaign.

The new local Active Service battalion of Les Fusiliers de Sherbrooke, under the command of Lieutenant-Colonel Aime Biron, was introduced to the large crowd. Mayor A. C. Ross took the salute from the unit, after which he was introduced to the officers and inspected the battalion.

Accompanying the Mayor were Aldermen R. W. Reid, J. A. Savard and Armand Fisette, J. A. Tardif, Superintendent of Parks, J. A. Rouleau, President of the Social Club, Eugene Lalonde, Grand Knight of the local K. of C. Council and President of the Vacation Colony, E. Bourret, Police Director Percy Donahue, Lucien Robichaud, President of the League, J. W. McKee, Co-chairman of the Dominion Day Committee, and Jean Valenti, Mobile Guard Commander.

Before the baseball game the crowd was also treated to an exhibition of acrobatics by a trio composed of Miss Alex Udall and George Vlahakis and Roger Perreault. Throughout the evening music was provided by the Harmony Band.

Notre Dame led 6-2 at the end of six innings of play, and went on to score almost at will, notching three tallies in the seventh, three more in the eighth and another in the ninth. Couture, the soldiers' pitcher, had a stormy night, being touched for seventeen hits, including three doubles and a triple, and issuing eight bases on balls. Nova Corriveau, who hurled for Notre Dame, gave up nine hits, fanned thirteen and walked only two.

Martel, Notre Dame shortstop, had a perfect night at bat, with a double and three singles in four trips. Corriveau, Dube, Dion, Philippon and Bergeron all had two hits each.

TED WILLIAMS IS YANKED OFF BOSTON LINEUP

Slugging Star Faces Disciplinary Action by Joe Cronin for Sulking and Loafing at Plate.

Boston, July 2.—(AP)—Unless penitence has replaced sulkiness, the many-mooded Ted Williams, the only member of the hustling Boston Red Sox who challenges the home fans' rights to jeer at will, may feel the disciplinary hand of Manager Joe Cronin today when he reports at Fenway Park.

For the third time since he joined the Red Sox in 1939, Williams, the American League's .406 batting champion, was pulled out of the lineup by Cronin yesterday when, irked by a spectator's jibe, he sulked and loafed at the plate.

Williams dressed and quit the park immediately and, after the game, Cronin, visibly annoyed by his star's display of ill-temper, appeared undecided about his disciplinary measure.

"I won't make any decision until game-time tomorrow," Cronin said. "Everything will depend on Williams' attitude."

The excitable Williams seemed in an unusually happy frame of mind while batting against Bobo Newsom during the first game of the Sockers' second straight doubleheader sweep over the Washington Senators. Early in the second game, however, he appeared to take his own time chasing a hit in left field and then answered back when a spectator in that end of the grandstand yelled at him, "Don't you ever try to get off a dime?"

Champs Blow Decision To Philadelphia Club

Red Sox Gain 1½ Games on Bronx Bombers by Sweeping Twin Bill from Senators, 3-2 and 7-1 as Athletics Take New York 5-4—Indians Keep in Sight of Lead, Beating Chicago White Sox 7-2.

It has been some time since anyone needed to feel sorry for the World Champion New York Yankees, but their plight is getting more pathetic night and day.

Since marching boldly out of Yankee Stadium nearly three weeks ago they have lost 11 of 17 contests and last night saw their American League lead cut to three games as they blew a 5-4 decision to the Philadelphia Athletics.

This was a reduction of 1½ games in their first place margin in a single day because of the Boston Red Sox's second straight double-header victory over the Washington Senators.

Washington was held to five hits in each game and the Red Sox made twice as many. They downed Buck Newsom 3-2 in the opener with a run in the seventh and three innings of perfect relief pitching by Yank Terry and then captured the nightcap with the greatest of ease 7-1.

The Cleveland Indians kept within sight of the struggle for the lead by beating the Chicago White Sox 7-2 on the seven-hit hurling of Lefty Al Smith. The Tribe scored seven run in the first inning, routing Orval Grove before he could get a batter out.

The St. Louis Browns turned loose a 14-hit assault to score in all but one inning and belt the Detroit Tigers 12-0 on the five-hit hurling of Elden Auker, who thus became the first American League pitcher to gain ten victories this season.

Action in the National League was limited to two games with the St. Louis Cardinals shutting out the Pittsburgh Pirates 4-0 and the Chicago Cubs cuffing the Cincinnati Reds 5-2 in a night encounter.

The latter affair was perhaps the last start for both Claude Passeau and Johnny Vander Meer before the All-Star game in New York Monday. Passeau performed in his customary fashion, yielding five hits and scoring his 12th victory against five defeats. Vander Meer on the other hand lasted only three innings and left the game trailing 4-2. Elmer Riddle finished creditably and the Cubs were held to a total of five hits.

Nothing Ball Pitching Seems To Work For Reds' Ray Starr

New York, July 2. — National League baseball connoisseurs, of both the active and lounging variety, have blatantly labelled Ray Starr, of the Cincinnati Reds, as a nothing ball pitcher with a particularly fervent prayer.

Among those who have belittled the 35-year-old rookie, whose baseball Cook's tour took 16 years, included seven minor leagues and a whistle stop on three National League clubs, are some of the senior circuit's hitting elite.

Ray Starr, a broad-shouldered, drawling Oklahoman of 6-feet 1-inch and 178-pounds, is quite content to be maligned.

"I'm happy if everyone in the league figures I'm throwing nothing at them," he says wryly. "That makes it a lot easier."

Pressed for a rebuttal, the Rhineland riot offers this sage bit of logic:

"If I'm throwing nothing, they sure could use some hitters in this league."

Starr, who won ten of his first twelve games, lost one in thirteen innings to the Chicago Cubs, takes his major league success with a shrug.

"I've been a winner all my life," he points out. "In 17 years I have averaged 16 victories a season. I'm not surprised this year. I think I could have been a winner up here since 1931 if they'd ever given me a chance."

Starr is one of those unfortunate ball players so valuable to a minor league club they hate to lose him. Since the halcyon days of Iron Man Joe McGinnity, there's been nobody like him.

He has pitched 21 double headers in his baseball career. With the tail-end Indianapolis club of the American Association last season, he led the league in number of innings pitched with 273, in shutouts with six, and was second in victories with 20. He dropped 15 decisions.

His stamina gave him increased value in the minors, where clubs figure dollars and cents close to the belt. He was good for 300 innings a season, which meant that a single pay check, hotel bill and train fare went a long way.

Star joined the Reds at the end of the 1941 season. He lost his first game, 1-0. He pitched shutouts in his next two starts.

This season he pitched four shutouts in his first 12 starts. In seven games, he allowed the opposition but five runs. The anemic Reds gave him only one run margins in four games, two run leads in three contests.

Labelled as a trouble maker in some circles and as anything but a teetotaler in others, Starr has never missed a turn on the mound in his life. His best season was in 1929 when he won 28 and lost 12 for Shawnee, Okla., of the Western Association.

In 1932, Starr had his first major league whirl with the St. Louis Cardinals at the tag end of the season. He pitched a two-hit shutout in his only start, was traded to the New York Giants during the winter.

In 1933, he pitched two games for the Giants and was traded to the Boston Braves. In his only Beantown start, he hurled a two-hitter Then, for some unaccountable reason, the Braves sold him to Minneapolis.

He won 16 games in the Twin Cities by July 16th but became entangled in contractual difficulties and left the team.

His outstanding iron man stunt was with Fort Worth in 1939. He won 19 games, lost 6 in three months and three days. He pitched a doubleheader the last day of the season to get his team into the playoff with Tulsa by a percentage point. He won four playoff games, then pitched two shutouts in the Dixie series, which Fort Worth won

His method: "I'm not as fast as I used to be. I used to be as fast as Grove. Now I change pace on them. I throw them a fast one, then one a little slower, then still slower, then fast again. It spoils a hitter's rhythm."

At last accounting, Starr, who farms during the winter at Sandoval, Ill., had won 53 games in two and one-half years.

That's a lot of something to get for nothing.

ANNIVERSARY OF STANBRIDGE RIDGE CHURCH

Large Number of People Attend Special Centenary Service of Stone Church—Five Clergymen Participate.

Stanbridge Ridge, July 2.—On Sunday, June 28, the centenary service at the Stone Church was very well attended, friends being present from St. Armand, Pigeon Hill, Sutton, Franklin, Vt., Bedford, Stanbridge Station, Pearceton, Dunham, Farnam's Corner, St. Johns, Enosburg, Vt., and many other places.

Rev. C. G. Rollit had charge of the service and introduced the speakers, Rev. Mr. Walden, Adventist Minister, Dr. Lloyd Smith, of the United Church, Montreal, Canon Wilkinson, of St. James the Apostle Church, Montreal, and Dr. McCutcheon, of the Baptist Church, in Montreal.

Mrs. George Hayes presided at the organ and the choir was augmented by the members of the choirs of the Stanbridge East United Church and St. James' Anglican Church. Dr. Smith voiced the regret of Rev. J. F. Carleton, who was pastor here for many years, that illness prevented him from attending the service.

Splendid discourses were presented by each of the clergymen. Dr. Smith spoke on the past of the Church. Canon Wilkinson's address dealt with the present-day challenge of religion and Dr. McCutcheon's subject was the future in respect to the Church. Rev. Mr. Walden, the first speaker, gave an inspiring address. Tribute was paid by each speaker to the pioneers who erected the church in 1842 and to those who have carried on the traditions and "kept the faith" for a century.

At the close of the service, tea was served to the clergymen by members of the Ladies' Aid Society. People in the community are very grateful to Rev. C. G. Rollit, through whose untiring efforts such a splendid observance of an outstanding event was made a great success.

The church was filled to capacity at the service, many being forced to remain outside.

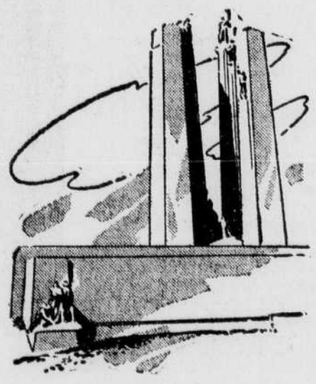
A RECORD OF HONOUR

THE CANADIAN ARMY

THE STORMING OF BATOCHE: Here, in 1885, was planted the acorn from which grew that mighty oak, the modern Canadian Army. For it was at Batoche in Saskatchewan that Canadian militia stormed the half-breed rebel camp and broke the back of the Riel Rebellion.

THE SOUTH AFRICAN MEMORIAL: commemorates another brilliant episode in the annals of Canadian fighting men. Here, Kimberley, Paardeberg, Doornkop, Bloemfontein, Pretoria and other stirring names were written on their battle flags. Nearly 9000 men crossed to South Africa to win these honours.



THE VIMY RIDGE MEMORIAL: On the site of what was perhaps its greatest exploit, this noble pile commemorates the glorious achievements of Canada's Army in the First Great War of 1914-18. Then, over 600,000 men joined the colours of whom 440,000 served overseas to win 16,000 decorations and battle honours including such imperishable names as Ypres, Courcelette, Vimy, Passchendaele, Amiens, Arras, Cambrai and Mons.

THE CANADIAN ARMY TODAY is a keen and powerful fighting weapon. Recruited from every section of Canada, from factory and farm, desk and shop, it is modern, mechanized, fast-moving, hard-hitting, a force trained to the highest peak of military efficiency and straining at the leash to strike the final blow for our homes and freedom. Already, it has made its weight felt in Commando raids. Now, it awaits the call to full and victorious action. All honour to its men and to the tradition that inspires them.

By TOM WOLF

New York, July 2.—The "Little Italy" sections of New York's metropolitan area, home to more Italians than Rome itself, have gone to war—for America.

Only a year and a half ago there were competent observers who estimated that as many as half of the 2,000,000 Italian-American residents of the 50-mile radius about the New York area were mad about Mussolini. But by the time that Benito chorused "me too" to boss Adolf's declaration of war on the United States, his local admirers had dropped off to a handful.

How small a handful may be guessed from the fact that in the first two months after Pearl Harbor only thirty-seven Italian aliens were permanently interned here, as compared with 247 Germans — this despite the fact that there are many times as many Italians as Germans in the area. Probably less than 500 Italians have been detained for questioning at any time since America's entry into the war, and the Army has definitely stated that no mass evacuations are planned from this strategically vital industrial area.

A walk down Mulberry Street, the Corso Umberto of this miniature Rome, graphically portrays this change of heart. It is still as Italian as the huge muzzarella cheeses that hang ponderously over its grocery-lined sidewalks.

Service flag flies over a typical "Little Italy" block on Mulberry St.

But pictures of MacArthur now flourish in store fronts where portraits of Mussolini but recently stood. Stars in almost every other window of the low, red brick tenements which crowd the street proudly proclaim sons in the service. The story is echoed in big star-sprinkled banners which fly high over the blocks.

"Cultural Attaches" Have Gone Home

These banners tell of one of the most powerful arguments behind Little Italy's new outlook. A son in the service is a stronger bond to American than an uncle in Italy is a tie to the homeland.

You can read another reason behind this conversion in the empty ground floor of the Columbus Exchange—formerly occupied by Italian officials. When the Italian consular officials were sent packing home, the stream of Fascist propaganda was cut off at its fountainhead. Gone were the "cultural attaches," the "language experts" and the "financial advisers" who had taken every opportunity to propagandize at the multitude of social and fraternal clubs which flourish here. Now many of the clubs prominently display in their windows the names of their members fighting for Uncle Sam.

War Brought Discrimination

The Italian language press and radio have done overnight flip-flops since the start of the war. Generoso Pope's two big Italian dailies, before Pearl Harbor loud in their praise of the Fascist homeland, have become 200 per cent American. Today, in Mulberry Street's civilian defense headquarters you can see high stacks of publications which once glorified Fascism—now waiting to go into cartridges to fight it.

Although the overwhelming majority of Italian-Americans have proven that theirs is a post-hyphen loyalty, the various groups charged with the responsibility for New York's security have not relaxed their vigilance.

There is no question but that the war has hurt Little Italy. Mussolini's fall from Duce to puppet has reflected ridicule on Italians in America. It has also opened Italian eyes here. But the war has not hit Italian-Americans as hard as it might have.

"The first week after Pearl Harbor," said Mulberry Street's Rite-Service Employment Agency, "no one wanted to hire an Italian-American, citizen or not. Today, though an alien enemy can't get work in a defense plant, there is hardly any discrimination at all."

Mulberry Street's shops and restaurants have felt the war too. But many proprietors are inclined to blame gas rationing and night dim outs—which affect all East coast Americans equally—more than anti-Italian sentiment.

Kids Are Proud of Local Hero

A group of 'teen-aged boys summed up the story of Mulberry Street at war. Second generation Italian-Americans, they were as American as the baseball they were playing on the sidewalk.

"Sure the war has been hard on lots of people. They can't send money to the old folks at home in Italy. They don't hear from them at all." But in the same breath they added, "You remember that guy decorated for manning that machine-gun at Pearl Harbor? He lived in this block."

CHURCH MARKS ANNIVERSARY AT SCOTSTOWN

Special Services Held at St. Andrew's United Church in Celebration of Sixty Years' Service to Community.

Despite gasoline rationing and somewhat inclement weather a good attendance marked the celebration of St. Andrew's United Church's sixtieth anniversary.

Three evenings of preparatory services were held, Rev. C. Belbin, of Birchton, speaking on the theme, "Meditations on the Cross," in which he described the characters around the cross and related them to the present day; Rev. A. E. Hagar, of Sawyerville, on the second evening speaking on the text, "Yet once more signifieth the removing of those things that are shaken, as of things that are made, that those things which cannot be shaken may remain," Hebrews 12:27, pointing out that in the cataclysm of the present day the eternal values would remain, and Rev. C. J Gustafson, pastor of the church, preaching the concluding sermon of the preparatory series on the text, "Increasing in the knowledges of God," Col. 1:10.

At the Sunday morning service the congregation participated in the sacrament of the Lord's Supper. The service was conducted by the minister, Rev. C. J Gustafson, who preached on the theme, "Three Questions Asked in the Upper Room." Peter's question, "Lord, whither Thou goest?" Thomas' question, "How can we know the way?" and Philip's implied question, "Show us the Father and it sufficeth us." He pointed out that all these questions were inspired by a basic lack of faith on the part of the disciples and fear of the unknown future. He showed that as Christ was the way out for these men and that He is still the answer to our fears and questionings. J. B Scott, who has been a faithful worker in the church for many years, was received into full membership at this service.

The anniversary service proper was observed on Sunday evening when the honor roll containing the following names was received: W. Fredriksen, T. E. Helgesen, A. Henderson, C. Henderson, J. Henderson, W. C. Henderson, J. M. S. MacAulay, R. A. MacAulay, L. Macdonald, W. M. MacKenzie, C. C. MacLennan, H. Pinkham, K. W. Taylor, W. H. Stratton, A. E. Waldron, R. Waldron, J. L. MacIver, R. A. L. Scott, N. K. Scott and Herbert Coates.

The communion table was draped with a Union Jack while the roll, which stood on the table, was veiled with a flag bearing the Canadian crest. Unveiling the roll, Mrs. R. A. Scott, speaking on behalf of the Women's Association, formally presented the roll to the church. Rev. C. J. Gustafson received the roll on behalf of the congregation. The congrgation stood while the minister read the names inscribed. Following the reading of the names he led the congregatino in prayers for those serving their country, for the Empire and for the victory of righteousness and justice.

In the sermon, "Sixty Years of Service," the minister stressed that the people were celebrating three things—the faith of the founders of the church; the partial realization of that faith; and a preparation for the future. The changes, physical and social during these years were noted. Since the dedication of the church people had witnessed the advent of the telephone, the automobile, moving pictures and the radio. They had fought in three wars. "During all these changes the expressed purpose of the founders 'that souls may be saved and the body of Christ be built up' had not changed," he said.

Speaking of the future he dealt with the relationship between the English and French-Canadians who share the Eastern Townships. He said, "Whether the future for this community is to be one of mutual distrust and bickering or worse, or whether we are going to have a community where there can be a merging of the things that are fine in both traditions and an attitude of mutual respect and good will depends to a large degree upon our intelligence and Christian spirit. We of this church must take every opportunity and must create opportunities for creating understanding between these two groups. It is a task that will require a great deal of good will and imagination. But it is our duty in the days to come."

Speaking of Protestant divisions he said, "As I see it our whole community life is weakened and impoverished by the fact that we are divided into three churches. Everything we do is hampered and crippled by this division. Common sense, let alone Christian brotherhood, demands that these three churches be somehow federated into one. This is a task that we should begin to work on now."

Special music included a solo entitled, "Wonderful Jesus" (Sellers), sung by A. A. Mackenzie, and a solo, "Pearly White Gates" (Ackley), sung by John D. Cox. The organist, Mrs. J. B. Scott, rendered "The Angel's Serenade" (Brager), as a prelude, and as a recessional, "On Great Lone Hills," from Finladia, by Jan Sibellius.

Speaking at the anniversary musicale following the supper, Rev. S. G. Woolfrey, of the Richmond-Melbourne United Church, made a plea for a better understanding of our ally Russia. He pointed out that misunderstanding of Russia was one of the causes of the war. Had Russia been invited to Munich there might have been a different picture now. He ponted out the reason for the stories of Russia's poor showing against Finland. What was not made known he said was that the Mannerheim line was a fortfication comparable in strength to the Seigfreid and Maginot lines.

He expressed the nope that a real understanding of Russia would result in a victory by the British, American and Russian forces that would release the best elements in Germany; men like Niemoeller who had been fighting Hitler long before we were.

A short musical programme, arranged by the choir leader, A. A. Mackenzie, was announced by the chairman, Rev. C. J. Gustafson, as follows: Opening hymn, "I To the Hills Will Life Mine Eyes," was followed by a "camp hymn," sung by the Girl Explorers, accompanied by Miss Cuyla MacAulay; a saxophone solo, "The Lost Chord" (Sullivan), by John D. Cox; duet, He Knows" (Fuller), A. A. MacKenzie and J. D. Cox; solo, "My Task" (Ashford), A. A. MacKenzie; solo, "Just For Today" (Partridge), J. D. Cox. The closing hymn, "In Christ There Is No East or West," was followed by the National Anthem and Benediction.

Prior to the programme, a bountiful supper was served in the dining room, under the direction of Mrs. P. A. Sherman, assisted by members of the Women's Association. The attractive tables were decorated with red and white flowers in crystal bowls, as well as large red "V's" formed of strawberries against a background of green, placed at intervals.

A sale of work and novelties added interest to the occasion. A display of very attractive aprons, in varied design and colorings, which found ready sale, was in charge of Mrs. A. A. MacAulay, while the table donations was convened by Mrs. William Taylor.

Canadian Soldier In Action

The Canadian infantryman is a vigorous, determined soldier and this drawing by Grant Macdonald, Toronto artist, captures the spirit of action which is typical of the men. The bayonet, highly effective weapon of World War I, is still an important part of the soldier's equipment.
