

AT MANILA.

Dewey Considers the Situation Critical.

AGUINALDO'S POSITION.

Regards the Philippines as an Independent Republic.

Manila, Philippine Islands, Sept. 12.—Rear-Admiral Dewey says he considers the situation critical. It is understood he has asked for an additional cruiser and a battleship.

The last Spanish garrisons at Ilocos and Laguna have surrendered, and the whole of the island of Luzon is in the hands of the insurgents, except Manila and Cavite.

Aguinaldo went to Malolos on Friday. He has announced his intention of convening an assembly of the Filipinos on September 15, in order to decide upon the policy to be adopted by the insurgents. The correspondent here of the Associated Press has had an interview with Aguinaldo, who said there were 37,000 insurgents armed with rifles. He added that he could raise 100,000 men. Indeed, the insurgent leader pointed out, the whole population of the Philippine Islands was willing to fight for their independence.

Continuing, Aguinaldo said he had 9,000 military prisoners, including 5,000 in the vicinity of Manila, besides civil prisoners.

Later, Aguinaldo said the "provincial government" was now operating twenty-eight provinces. He asserted that on August 2 they elected delegates, in numbers proportionate to the population.

As to the Americans, Aguinaldo, remarked that he considered them as brothers, and that "the two sovereign republics were allied against a common enemy."

When questioned as to whether the future Filipino policy would be absolute independence, Aguinaldo excused himself from replying, and asked what America intends to do.

The correspondent being unable to answer this question, Aguinaldo continued: "We have been fighting for independence for a long time. The natives who profess to favor annexation are insincere. It is merely a ruse to ascertain American views."

Asked if the Filipinos would object to the retention of Manila, Aguinaldo declined to answer.

Would the Filipinos object to America retaining a coaling station, if recognizing the independence of the islands or establishing a temporary protectorate over them.

Aguinaldo again declined to answer. Pending the conclusion of the Assembly, Aguinaldo said he was confident there would be no trouble between America and the Filipinos.

The insurgent leader denied having received a request from General Otis and Rear-Admiral Dewey to withdraw his troops to a prescribed distance from Manila and Cavite, and he declined to discuss the effect of such a request.

Aguinaldo further asserted that he had never conferred with the American authorities since the capitulation of Manila, and that he had never authorized the insurgents to search or disarm Americans crossing the lines.

The correspondent closely questioned him about last Saturday's incident, when the Pennsylvania troops proceeded to establish a new outpost. The Filipinos objected and nearly precipitated hostilities, ordering the Americans to withdraw in twenty minutes, they issued ammunition and intercepted the American reinforcements. Finally, General Hale ordered all the Pennsylvania to advance and the rebels withdrew.

The local governor has explained that the incident was a complete mistake and has repudiated his subordinate's action. Aguinaldo declared to the correspondent that the Filipino who made the trouble merely pretended to be an officer and is entirely unconnected with the insurgent army.

Aguinaldo complained that the Spaniards were "disseminating false reports for the purpose of fomenting antagonism between the Filipinos and the Americans."

The whole interview conveyed the impression that Aguinaldo desires absolute independence, regards the mission of the Americans here as accomplished and expects their withdrawal. "Just as the French with La Fayette withdrew after helping the Americans in the war of independence, a war of humanity."

Q.C.R. COMPANY.

Desires to Re-arrange its Debenture Capital.

The Quebec Central Railway Company will apply to the legislature of the province of Quebec at its next session for the passing of an act to amend its charter by re-arranging the debenture capital of the company, and for that purpose creating and issuing debenture stock or bonds, or both, charged upon the company's undertaking, bearing interest at such rate, not exceeding 4 per cent per annum, and payable at such place and times as may be decided upon by the board at the time of issue; provided that the total amount of interest on such debenture stock or bonds, or both, shall not exceed the sum of £20,000 per annum or such other sum as may be determined by the legislature—so much of the said debenture stock or bonds, or both, the interest on which shall correspond to the aggregate amount of interest payable in respect of the existing Prior Lien Bonds to be reserved exclusively for the exchange and conversion pro rata of said Prior Lien Bonds, and the balance to be disposed of by the board of directors at such price, at such time, and on such conditions as the board may deem desirable for the general purposes of the company. And further, for the conversion of the existing income bonds into income bonds or stock sub-divided into two classes, the one class having such priority over the other class as being entitled to such cumulative or other rights as may at the time of issue be prescribed by the board of directors; provided always that the aggregate charge for interest upon such income bonds or stock shall not exceed the amount of interest to which the existing income bonds are entitled, and by the said act it is proposed to reduce the number of directors and the quorum, and to provide for the members of the board being representatives of the two classes of intended income bonds or stock and of the shareholders, and making provision for their nomination and appointment accordingly.

GUNS USED BY SOLDIERS.

Description of the Krag-Jorgensen and the Lee Rifles.

Since 1890 the regulation rifle of the United States army, supplanting the former weapon, the Springfield rifle, has been the Krag-Jorgensen magazine rifle. It was adopted upon the recommendation of a board composed of Lieutenant Colonel R. H. Hull and J. P. Farley, Major H. D. Freeman and Captains S. E. Blount and George S. Anderson. The result of one of the tests in competition with other weapons follows:

For accurate aim the Lee showed 49 shots in two minutes, the Krag-Jorgensen 85, the Springfield No. 1, 86, and the Springfield No. 2, 85. In the firing at will for one minute the results were as follows: Lee, 28; Krag-Jorgensen, 29; Springfield No. 1, 24; and Springfield No. 2, 17 shots.

Upon the results of the tests, approved by General Schofield, the general commanding the army, the Krag-Jorgensen was adopted. It has a magazine chamber for five cartridges, which can be dropped by the simple pull of a bolt. It is possible to load single cartridges and fire one after another, reserving those in the magazine for time of need, when the five shots can be fired without pausing to reload. The cartridges are of an alloy of tin and lead in a steel case. In passing through the barrel and bone or any solid substance they make only a small wound, but in softish material they explode so that a man shot in the intestine or brain is practically blown to pieces. The reason for this property of the bullets has never been satisfactorily explained.

The gun the marines are armed with is the Lee rifle, a magazine gun, with a caliber of .303 inch. Its range for point blank firing is between 600 and 700 yards. Smokeless powder is used with it, and a hardened lead bullet, which has a copper jacket plated with tin. The gun has a magazine for five cartridges, which are put in at once, being fastened together with a metal clip. The gun can be used for firing and reloading after each shot or the five shots can be fired in quick succession, and the gun reloaded with five more while it is at the shoulder. The chief advantage claimed for it is that the cartridge chamber can be opened by a straight pull without turning up the gun. This gun without the bayonet is almost four feet long and weighs eight pounds and six ounces. The bayonet adds about eight inches to the length and a pound to the weight. The cartridge is about three inches long, and 180 rounds weigh eight pounds six ounces.—New York Tribune.

BRIDGE PIERS TO BE TESTED.

Chances of a Collapse will Not Be Taken Again.

Ottawa, Sept. 13.—(Special)—The chief engineer of Railways and Canals has determined that Ottawa and N. Y. railway bridge will be thoroughly tested before the spans are put up and the bridge used for traffic. To that end he has ordered that a diamond drill be despatched to the spot and both piers and abutments examined. By means of a diamond drill core can be taken out clear through the masonry from surface of the pier into the concrete foundation which rests upon the river bed. This will demonstrate the exact quality of masonry work and foundation upon which the piers rest.

DEAR AT ANY PRICE.

We have seen all kinds of acting on Sherbrooke stage from first-class to the other extreme. In the latter case, the company which played Uncle Tom's Cabin last night, is perfectly at home. As usual at a reproduction of Harriet Beecher Stowe's drama, there was a large audience present at last night's performance. How the audience managed to sit out the play is an unsolved conundrum. There was, however, a certain interest in the very ridiculousness of the presentation and people probably waited in the anticipation of its improving by growing worse as in fact it did. Little Eva, alone, of all the company, was suited to her part.

E. T. Light, Power and Carbide Company.

The last official Gazette contains notice that application will be made to incorporate the Eastern Townships Light, Power & Carbide Company.

The chief place of business said company is to be in the village of No. Hatley, in the county of Stanstead, in the province of Quebec.

Walley, contractor, Charles Skinner, telephone manager, of Sherbrooke; George A. Bowen, physician, of the town of Magog, and Michael F. Hackett, Queen's Counsel, of the village of Stanstead Plain, are to be the first and provisional directors of the company.

The purpose of the company is to manufacture, deal in, electricity, gas and other illuminants, as well as Carbide for use with acetylene gas, and all other appliances for the supplying of the same, or connected therewith.

BAILIFF INJURED.

Mr. Jos. Robert, bailiff of St. Francois de Xavier de Brompton, met with quite a severe accident near the market last evening. His horse became frightened at a car and bolting through the market, threw Mr. Robert from his carriage. He struck on his head and was rendered unconscious. He was carried in to Jas. Eddie's store, where Dr. Worthington promptly brought him to consciousness, after which he was removed to St. James' Hotel.

Portland, Me., September 12.—The Republicans carried everything in the election in this state today. Congressman Thomas B. Reed, Nelson Dingley, Burleigh and Boutelle all received big majorities.

Bees and Trees.

The value of bees to fruit growers can scarcely be overestimated. Some years ago a place was leased to a tenant who kept a few colonies of bees. In one corner of the yard was a large and thrifty looking apple tree that always bore an abundance of blossoms, but no fruit. A number of colonies of bees were placed underneath this tree, and, much to the surprise of the owner, the tree was loaded with extremely fine apples, something that had never occurred before within the memory of the man who had owned the place for 20 years. The next season the bees were distributed under trees that had not been in the habit of bearing freely. The most surprising results followed, the trees being full of very fine specimens of fruit. If the blossoms on an apple, plum or pear tree are covered up and the bees are kept away from them until the blossoming season is past, there will be no fruit. This has been tested again and again.—New York Ledger.

CAPITAL ITEMS.

Canadian Manufacturers—Shipment of Fruit to Great Britain.

Ottawa, Sept. 12.—(Special)—The address of the Hon. Wm. Patterson, M.P., Minister of Customs, last Tuesday, before the Canadian Manufacturers Association, contains some useful and significant statistics. After remarking that agriculture and lumbering were the leading industries of the country, the Minister declared that the manufacturing industries were making very rapid strides, emphasizing his statement by quoting from export returns. In 1878 the value of Canadian manufactures was $4,127,755; in 1888, ten years later, the increase was $33,550 or a total of $4,161,282; in 1898, after another decade, the figures had risen to $10,639,227, an increase of $7,500,000, or more than 150 per cent. Of this increase more than $1,000,000 is credited to the last twelve months, and as the increase of business in this department with Great Britain has increased from $3,617,128 in 1897 to $4,900,484 in 1898, the increase, and more, too, has been in the trade within the Empire. As the Minister observed, nothing could be more satisfactory than the fact that Canadian goods were finding a great market in Britain.

FRUIT FOR GREAT BRITAIN.

After a somewhat extended stay in Great Britain, with the Minister of Agriculture for the purpose of making personal investigation into the condition of the fruit market, Professor Robertson, of the Experimental Farm, has returned to Ottawa full of enthusiasm for the future of the Canadian fruit trade with the old country. He declares that there is a big market for pears, peaches, apples, tomatoes, plums and grapes and for the first time it is now possible, owing to the cold storage facilities that have been created through the Department of Agriculture to ship these extremely perishable goods to London, and to place them before the consumer in perfect condition.

The trial shipments which have been already made, have proved an unqualified success, when the suggestions offered by the Government as to sorting and packing have been carefully followed. The commissioner is satisfied that there is an unlimited market for Canadian fruits which will find ready sale at prices that will hand-somely remunerate the Canadian producer. The details of transportation have been very carefully worked out, and the only chance of any want of success will arise from negligence and carelessness on the part of the shipper.

Following the Minister Mr. Geo. H. Bertram, M. P., the great shipbuilder, spoke of the vast improvement in the quality of Canadian manufactures which were able to compete successfully with American goods and sell on their own reputation.

While, as the Minister of Customs remarked in opening, agriculture and lumbering are our most important industries, there is no reason why the Dominion should not take a first class position as a manufacturing power as well, and it is, therefore, gratifying to note the improvement which is already manifesting itself under the less restrictive tariff conditions now prevailing.

JUDGE LEMIEUX.

Takes His Seat This Morning as Judge of the District.

St. Francis Bar Addresses a few Words of Welcome To His Honor.

When Superior Court opened at ten o'clock this morning the Bench was occupied by Mr. Justice White, and Mr. Justice Lemieux, the latter of whom, took his seat for the first time as resident Judge of this District.

Mr. L. E. Panneton, Q. C., M. L. A., Barrister of the Bar of St. Francis, then rose, and addressed a few words of welcome to the new Judge, tendering to His Honor their homage and respect, and also expressing the extreme satisfaction felt by the Bar of this section in the permanent presence of a gentleman, of His Honor's talents and reputation as Judge of this District. He also expressed the hope that their relations would be most cordial and friendly, and on behalf of the members of the Bar wished to assure His Honor they would do their utmost towards that end.

His Honor then replied, thanking the Bar for their kind welcome and wishes, stating that it was an honor to be called to the administration of justice in a district with such an enviable and widespread reputation as that of the District of St. Francis, whose Bar had furnished some of the most distinguished Judges, who ever occupied the Bench, and in this connection referred to the late Judges Sanborn and Brooks, and to the present Judges Hall and White, and the latter of whom he felt honored to consider his colleague in administering justice in this district. His Honor heartily seconded the wishes of the Bar that their relations might be of the most cordial nature, and hoped that he would be able to fulfill his part as became the responsibility of his position, feeling that he would be ably assisted by the members of the Bar.

SUPERIOR COURT JUDGMENTS.

The following judgments were then rendered by His Honor, Mr. Justice White, who then left the Bench, when the Mathieu petitions for writs of certiorari in the twenty-eight cases in which Mr. Mathieu was convicted before Judge Mulvena will be heard before Mr. Justice Lemieux.

Judgment was rendered by Mr. Justice White, in the case of the Corporation of the Township of Dudswell vs. the Quebec Central Railway Company. By this action, instituted on the 2nd of July last, the plaintiffs claim from the defendants the sum of $185.70, of which amount $43.56 is for school taxes, and the balance, $142.14 for municipal taxes.

The defendants appeared in the case and filed a motion in the nature of an exception declinatoire, by which they asked that the plaintiffs' demand before the Superior Court for the school taxes be rejected, and that it be declared that the Superior Court has no jurisdiction to hear or determine the plaintiffs' demand for school taxes, inasmuch as the Circuit Court has ultimate and exclusive jurisdiction over demands for school taxes, under paragraph two of Art. 54 C.C.P.

The plaintiffs answered this motion by saying that under Art. 170, the defendants cannot ask the dismissal of the demand for school taxes, but only that it be referred to the Circuit Court; that the dismissal can only be asked for if there is no competent court; that if there is a competent court the Judge can only dismiss the demand when the sum claimed is deposited.

Plaintiffs also urge a second objection to this motion, on the ground that under article 592 M.C., it is provided that a local council is obliged on the demand of the school commissioners to order its secretary treasurer to collect the school taxes at the same time and in the same manner as the municipal taxes, and they argue that it is in obedience to this law they are acting when they make their demand before the Superior Court at the same time as they make a demand for the municipal taxes they allege to be due.

The Court dealt firstly with this second objection, stating that it was quite clear that the article of the Municipal Code did not purport to be granting jurisdiction to Courts, but it was intended simply to give power to the secretary treasurer of the municipal council to demand payment of school taxes at the same time and in the same manner as the municipal taxes, and the Court was of the opinion that this Article would be well observed by simultaneous suits, one instituted for municipal taxes before the competent tribunal, and the other for school taxes before the Circuit Court. The second objection was therefore over-ruled.

With reference to the first objection, that the demand could not be dismissed but must be referred to the competent Court, the Court stated that the law did not specially provide for a case like the present where the major portion of the plaintiffs' demand was for municipal taxes. There was no one Court competent to hear both demands, and the Court could not refer the whole action to the Circuit Court, as provided by Art. 170.

The court was of the opinion that it would cause delay to the plaintiffs in the collection of the school taxes, if it was to order the demand to be sent to the Circuit Court, after the final judgment in the case on plaintiffs' demand for municipal taxes.

The court granted the motion, saying the plaintiffs' recourse for the collection of the school taxes, either in their own name or in the name of the school commissioners, before the Circuit Court. The court considered the defendants entitled to costs on their motion.

Judgment was also rendered by Judge White, in the case of Labonte et vir, vs. L. Beland.

By this action, the plaintiff alleged that she was the mother of Marie Elise Beland, minor child, born of her former marriage with the late Napoleon Beland, that on the 25th of May, 1889, defendant was duly appointed tutor to the said minor child; that subsequent to his appointment, the defendant in his said quality of tutor to said minor child received from the New Rockland Slate Co., the sum of $600 for the said minor child, which sum the defendant appropriated to his own use in his business, and became insolvent in the year 1898, and has never restored the said sum, and that the minor's rights are thereby imperilled and plaintiff says that the defendant be removed from said office of tutor to the said minor.

On the 2nd of September instant, the defendant appeared in person before the Prothonotary and signed a confession of judgment in favor of the plaintiff in accordance with the conclusions of her declaration.

On the 8th of September inst., the Court caused an assembly of the relatives and friends of the said minor to be called, to give their advice as to the removal of defendant from said office, which said assembly unanimously recommended the removal of the defendant.

The Court therefore rendered judgment removing the defendant from his office as tutor to the said minor, ordered him to give an account of his administration of the affairs and property of the said minor since his appointment, and ordered that a new tutor be appointed as soon as the present judgment should be executable, the whole with costs against the defendant, distracts to L. C. Belanger, Esq., Q. C., attorney for plaintiff.

NATIONAL REVENUE QUESTION.

Address by Rev. F. J. Day at an Open Air Plebiscite Meeting Yesterday.

Rev. Mr. Day addressed the employees of the Jenckes' Machine Company just outside the shops, at noon yesterday. Rev. Mr. Shearer and Rev. Mr. Luckens also spoke briefly. The gathering was quite large and very attentive.

Mr. Day spoke, in substance, as follows:

In estimating the value of the revenue from the liquor traffic to the country its actual cost must be taken into consideration. According to the minority report of the Royal Commission a moderate estimate of this, including the amount paid for liquor by the consumers, the value of the grain destroyed, cost of proportion of pauperism, disease, insanity and crime chargeable to the traffic, the loss of productive labor, the loss through mortality caused by drink, and mis-credited labor, amounts to the sum of $143,122,716 annually. Deducting from this the $8,455,022 of revenue, we find that, instead of gaining the country actually loses $134,667,694 per year. In 1884 speaking of this subject, the Hon. Geo. E. Foster said: "If this waste could be made to cease, Canada in ten years would not know herself, so prosperous and wealthy would she have grown. Surely it is the part of all good citizens to see to it that such a frightful source of waste and destruction is dried up. Prohibition is the only effectual cure." During the time that Sir L. Tilly was Finance Minister, he publicly expressed his opinion that the revenue question was "of quite secondary importance," drawing attention to the absurdity of obtaining a revenue that cost four times as much as its amount to provide it. Mr. Foster, at another time, expressed his conviction that under a prohibition law "the general welfare and well being of our community would be so great that the receipts in all other branches of our revenue would be increased correspondingly, and there would practically, after the first year or so, not be any diminution whatever in our revenue from our taxpayers." That prohibition means increase in the value of property has been well illustrated in the case of the city of Cambridge, Mass., where, during one decade under license the value dropped by three millions of dollars, and in the following decade under prohibition, increased by twenty four millions. In gain in population, in the number of houses erected and in a marked increase of Savings Bank deposits, chiefly in sums under $50, the general prosperity of the city was soon to be much greater. Drive the traffic out of the country and the revenue question will take care of itself. Prohibition will mean an increase in the taxable wealth of the Dominion, and a consequent increase in the revenue for governmental purposes.

MAGISTRATE'S COURT.

The case of Morkill vs. Kirk, for selling liquor without a license at North Hatley, has been adjourned till Oct. 1.

It is quite the order now in Sherbrooke and elsewhere to ask your neighbor "What Happened to Jones?" A great many people are doubtless anxious to find out and will avail themselves of the opportunity which will be offered next Friday, Sept. 16, at the Opera House. The play is heralded as the funniest ever written, and it is said to provoke the most spontaneous laughter. While less than a year old it is being played in a dozen different countries and languages. The company to be seen in it here consists of twelve comedians who come direct from New York; and the scenery will be new for this occasion.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE.

While attending the Sherbrooke exhibition on Thursday last, Mr. F. H. Moore, of West Stewartstown, N.H., lost a solid gold watch charm. He advertised for the same in Friday's Record, and on Saturday the charm was sent to Mr. Moore. In acknowledging receipt he says: "I am convinced more than ever that it pays to advertise in a live newspaper."

Diamond Dyes are the Favorites of all Wise Women.

USED BY THE BEST DYERS IN THE WORLD. In the coloring of cotton and wool rags and yarns for carpet, rug and mat making, Diamond Dyes are almost universally used. By their use coloring can be done in one-fourth the time and at far less expense than with the old fashioned dyes, while the Diamond Dyes are far more brilliant and durable.

Diamond Dyes are fast to light, and if you use these dyes your home made carpets, rugs and mats will be as bright after years of wear as the most expensive foreign goods. Diamond Dyes are fast to soap and water, and goods colored by them can be freely washed, and will be brighter and better for it. Of no other dye is this true. When you prepare for your home dyeing work, do not be deceived by imitation package or soap grease dyes; the Diamond Dyes are used by the best prize dyers; you need them to make a success of your work.

Accepting Favors an Art.

"There are a great many friendships ruined by the unwillingness on one side or the other to accept favors," writes Edith Webster in The Ladies' Home Journal. "Two schoolgirl friends united by many congenial ties are forced apart because the poorer one foolishly thinks that she should make some return for the pretty gifts, the party invitations, the tickets to concerts or matinees which her friend loves to receive. She is so sure that she is unable to make any return, so refuses the good times, and by doing so not only deprives her friend of the keenest delight, but herself of many opportunities for pleasure, and the family circle at home of the recital of the fresh and novel experience which comes with the world outside. One would hardly bring her."

"Favors are of many sorts. It sometimes happens that a wealthy woman may wish to send a girl to college to help her in her music, to encourage her in her desire for an art education. She may give her books, take her out with her and give her opportunities for hearing great artists. When a girl has such favors offered her, she should accept them gratefully and with a clear conscience. The favors are not all on one side. Her bright face and enthusiastic appreciation mean much to the woman who is fortunate enough to be able to dispense favors."

Mother's Help.

Among the "help" in England there is an intermediate position known as "mother's help." In a good many families this position is occupied by an unmarried sister or a maiden aunt. A "mother's help" is a recognized member of many households, and the columns of the local newspapers contain numerous advertisements of situations wanted or vacant. The duties of a mother's help are manifold. She assists in the housekeeping, the dairy work, the household sewing, the mending, the dressing of the children and teaching them the rudiments of their education. Sometimes she is a sort of nursery governess with additional household duties, sometimes she acts chiefly as housekeeper, with occasional care of the children, but she is always what her name indicates, the mother's help. Her wages vary from a good round sum down to nothing except her food and lodging.

Money Belts.

Money belts for men and women can be had for from 95 cents to $3. All are made on nearly the same model, usually three pouches and three flaps buttoning over for safety. This is fitted around the waist, a strap and buckle fastening it to the right side. They are worn just over the underwear. The cheapest are made of a thin quality of chamol, a very good one being of doeskin, smooth and firm, and buttoning over with metal clasps. The most expensive come in leather, but are really not so advisable, particularly for warm weather, as they are heavy and add considerable weight to the belt. The cheapest ones are all that is needed for short trips, but if one is going on a long bicycle trip or to travel extensively where the use would be constant and lengthened one of doeskin, costing about $9, will repay purchase.

Pig Sandwiches in Rolls.

Split a dozen figs, scrape out the soft portion, rejecting the skins; rub this to a paste. Butter either white or brown bread, then cut the slices from the loaf as thin as possible; remove the crusts, spread over the paste; roll the bread carefully, for a moment until there is no danger of the roll opening; then roll it in a piece of tissue paper, twisting the ends as you would an old-fashioned motto, or it may be tied with narrow baby ribbon of any color.—Mrs. S. T. Rorer in Ladies' Home Journal.

No Such Paper.

When F. Hopkinson Smith was in Omaha, one of the well known social clubs of the city tendered him a banquet and naturally called on him for a few remarks after dinner. In the course of his speech he quoted from the "Rubaiyat" the quatrain:

A book of verses underneath the bough, A jug of wine, a loaf of bread and thou Beside me singing in the wilderness— A wilderness were paradise enough.

After most of the guests had gone home a wealthy pork packer approached the author and asked him if the lines were from one of his own poems:

"Oh, no," answered Mr. Smith; "they are from Omar Khayyam." "I guess you're wrong," was the reply. "I don't pretend to know much about literature, but I'll bet you the drinks there is no such paper as the Omaha Khayyam."—Philadelphia Press.

METHODIST CONFERENCE.

Discussion of the $1,000,000 Fund.

St. James' Church Will Get Its 10 Per Cent., But the Division of the Balance is Not Yet Settled.

Toronto, Sept. 12.—The Methodist General Conference met Saturday, and Rev. A. C. Courtice resumed the debate on the million dollar fund. He was prepared to agree to the apportionment of the committee. It meant 90 per cent for connexional enterprise and ten per cent for local effort, which would bring about the co-operation of a large and liberal conference. He was opposed to any conditions on the 25 per cent to be given to missions. Rev. J. W. Holmes moved that 40 per cent. be given to education and 30 per cent. to missions, the other distributions to be as before—10 per cent. for St. James' church, Montreal; 15 per cent. for the superannuation fund, and 5 per cent. for the General Conference and Union church relief funds.

Rev. N. R. Willoughby said he was prepared to support the committee's report, especially with Dr. Courtice's amendment. Mr. J. A. M. Aikens, Q. C., of Winnipeg, hoped there would be no substantial change in the report. Education should have the largest possible share. If children were educated properly there would be no future trouble about funds.

Rev. Dr. Antliff, of Montreal, also supported the report because if not it would be left open to criticism and weaken the hands of those who were to collect the fund. It would be a calamity if St. James' church were not relieved.

Rev. Dr. Sparling, of Winnipeg, and Rev. E. H. Dewart also supported the finding of the committee.

Rev. Wm. Blair, of North Bay, demanded that more than twenty-five per cent. should go to missions. He said that many of the home missionaries had been saying for years, "Would to God night or Blucher would come." Night was coming to some of them soon, and they were looking to this fund as a Blucher to keep the wolf from the door. Rev. Walter Rigby said he would feel humiliated if this fund were not raised. Mr. Edward Guernsey said he had heard them talk over this hypothetical million dollar fund as if they had nothing to do but divide it. He could not see this without uttering a word of caution. He was not by any means sure that this was an opportune time for collecting a million dollars within a year and a half. Those who are acquainted with business in the world knew in England, where the idea had originated, they were in the sixth year of the best times the country had ever known, and that Canada was on the heel of the worst six years in its history.

The difference was as great as that between a horse chestnut and a chestnut horse. He was afraid that the result might be as humiliating as even the night. Walter Rigby could desire. The conference should take time to make certain of what could be made sure. He could not sit still and let the conference make a mistake. If they wanted the scheme to be a success the best way was to pay off the honest debts of the church.

Rev. Dr. Briggs said there was no doubt that the conference was unanimous as to assisting St. James' church. The Rev. Mr. Blair had touched his heart about the home missionaries, and he was not opposed to lowering the percentage for education and raising that for missions.

Dr. Inch, of Mount Allison, N.B., gave notice of motion that the 10 per cent. be only given to St. James' church on one condition that the trustees should make provision for the balance of the debt by January 1st, 1902.

The Rev. Manley Benson said he would like to see 15 per cent. go to St. James' church. The Rev. Mr. Dobson, president of the Nova Scotia Conference, attacked the St. James' proposal, especially its heavy choir expenditure. He drew the image of a man in broadcloth and fine linen who did not care who paid for his raiment.

The Rev. Mr. Jackson, of Montreal, rose to protest. St. James' church was only asking Methodists to do for it what it had done for many churches in the past.

When She Swims.

More women swim nowadays than ever before, and the result is that bathing suits are now built with a view to use rather than to mere becomingness. The wise girl wears a silk turban or a cap of silk rubber when in the water, unless she is blessed with naturally curly hair. Few women can stand the test of stringy straight locks, and no woman exists beautiful enough to look pretty when her crownning glory is soaked.—New York Sun.

Take Care of the Thread.

Always keep the ends of silk and cotton in the little notches in the edges of the spoils provided for that purpose. If this is not done, the thread, and especially silk, will be likely to unwind and get into a snarl; then when one goes in a hurry she is apt to lose time and patience getting a needless. Besides the basket looks much neater if all ends are secured. If the wood breaks, as is not uncommon, out a fresh slot. It is very easily done.

Unlike her French sister, who rigorously abstains from fattening fluids and foods that she may preserve a sylphlike figure, she can gracefully carry demifouffues and rrose over effects, the American woman accumulates with years a more robust figure by partaking of refreshments calculated to produce such a result.

IT'S YOUR DUTY

THE GROWING FRIENDSHIP.

Lord Brassey Sees No Reason for Further Differences Between Great Britain and the United States.

New York, Sept. 12.—Lord Brassey, the British naval authority, arrived yesterday on the Cunard steamship Campania. He is on his way to New South Wales, of which he is the governor.

He talked to the representatives of the press after he had rested a bit at the Holland House. He said that he saw no reason for further differences between Great Britain and the United States, and that there ought to be no need of formal treaties to perpetuate the understanding already existing.

New York, Sept. 12.—The London correspondent of the Tribune says:—"Mr. Chamberlain is greatly upbraided by the London 'Chronicle' of Saturday for asking Americans to pull English chestnuts out of the fire, and for suggesting a defensive movement to meet the European intrigues against Anglo-Saxon interests. Whatever his critics say, his frankness ordinarily does more good than harm. His 'long spoon' speech was sharply criticized when it was made, but the philosophy of it is now generally accepted. He certainly imparted a strong impulse to Anglo-American good feeling by that speech, and he also helped to improve the relations between Great Britain and Germany. He has a talent for forecasting the trend of English opinion, and consequently it is not strange to find the same journals which criticized him a few months ago, for making a bid for German co-operation, warmly approving his idea for an alliance between Great Britain and the strongest military power on the continent."

SHOT IN THE LEG.

Serious Accident at St. Johns.

St. Johns, Sept. 12.—Mr. Chas. Mollour, aged 22 years, eldest son of Mr. J. E. Mollour, manufacturer, of St. Johns, was the victim of a lamentable accident yesterday morning. He, accompanied by his uncle, started up the river in a sailing skiff after game. They laid their loaded guns in the bottom of the boat, and had proceeded as far as "the lights," about six miles from town when one of the guns unexpectedly and unaccountably went off, discharging its contents into the lower part of the left leg of young Mollour, lacerating the ankle frightfully. Consternation prevailed for a moment, but the sufferer soon recovered his self-possession, and though in great agony bore up bravely, and requested his companion to turn about and head the boat for home. They sailed down the river in 25 minutes and reaching the locks young Mollour was borne to his father's residence, only a short distance away, on a stretcher. The family were almost paralyzed with grief, but Dr. Godin was hastily summoned, and the Rev. Cure Colin and several sisters from the hospital were likewise soon on hand. An examination of the wound satisfied Dr. Godin that amputation would be necessary, but reluctant to assume full responsibility for this he advised a consultation. Thereupon, Mr. Mollour immediately telegraphed to Drs. Brousseau and Brennan in Montreal, and within two hours these able practitioners had arrived in St. Johns in a special train via the C. P. R.

The Montreal surgeons confirmed the opinion of Dr. Godin, and consequently the leg was removed a little above the ankle. At last accounts the patient was doing well. Mr. Charles Mollour is a popular and promising young man, and has a wide circle of friends in this town. The utmost sympathy is felt for him, as well as for his father and the other members of the family.

Speed of Electricity.

The speed of electricity is so great that its passage from point to point along a conducting wire may be regarded as practically instantaneous. Various attempts have been made to measure the rate at which it travels, and observers with delicate instruments have affirmed that it was not less than 114,000 miles per second, and in one or two places its speed was as high as 240,000 miles.

COOKSHIRE FAIR

Opened This Morning With Fine Weather and Bright Prospects.

Cookshire, Sept. 13.—(Special)—The annual exhibition of the St. Francis Valley Live Stock Association opened today with bright prospects for a successful fair.

The list of exhibits is considerably larger than last year, especially in the cattle department. Durhams, Jerseys and Ayrshires are all well represented, and there is also an especially good showing in grade milch cows.

The horse department has a goodly number of entries, especially in the classes of heavy draught horses.

The most interesting thing on today's programme will probably be the cycle race between Stockwell of Danville, and "Dod" Flaws, of hockey fame, for a specially donated trophy.

EMPERESS ELIZABETH OF AUSTRIA.

Who Was Assassinated Last Friday.

Empress Elizabeth Amalie Eugenie, daughter of the Duke Maximilian Joseph, and cousin, on her mother's side, to the late king of Bavaria, who has been done to death by an anarchist assassin, was once the loveliest woman of Europe, and was still remarkably handsome for her age.

The Empress has been the central figure of numerous legends and much ill-natured gossip. The simple fact is that the Empress suffered from acute chronic neuralgia, the attacks of which were so frequent and torturing that she was incapacitated from any exertion and rendered unable to bear the fatigue of official receptions. In earlier and happier days she gracefully and irreproachably fulfilled her royal duties. She conquered by charm and beauty the recalcitrant Hungarian nobility and people, she delighted the Viennese by her balls, and enchanted the nations by following the processions of Easter and Corpus Christi. She rode like an Amazon, hunted like Diana, and was an indefatigable walker and dancer, and spoke many languages. She had learned to look upon her daughter-in-law, Stephanie, as her successor. The light-heartedness, grace and youth of the archduchess was once more investing the Austrian court with the life and brilliancy for which it had been famed when the drama of Meyerling again plunged it into deeper gloom.

Empress Elizabeth was, of continental queens, best known to the English people, for, until the tragic and lamented death of her son, the Crown Prince Rudolph, on Jan. 30, 1889, she was in the habit of going annually to England in the hunting season. It was on these occasions that she won the admiration and respect of every Englishman by her splendid riding, great beauty and courteous manners. She was still a graceful and accomplished woman, and bore the burden of over half a century bravely, and no one, looking at her, could imagine that she was born on Dec. 24, 1859. She was married to the Austrian Emperor Francis Joseph, at Vienna, April 24, 1854, by whom she has had three children, two daughters and a son; the unfortunate Crown Prince Rudolph, born in 1857; the Archduchess Louise Marie, born at Luxembourg, July 1856; and who married, at Vienna, in April, 1873, Leopold, Prince of Bavaria; and the Archduchess Marie Valerie, born April 22, 1868, married, at Ischl, in 1890, to the Archduke of Austria and Tuscany. The Empress has been one of the royal recipients of the Golden Rose from the Pope.

MY GLEN. I know a retreat where blackberries sweet Hang low on a ruined wall, And partridge berries play hide and seek At the foot of the pine trees tall.

When day has begun, comes the beautiful sun For one hurried glimpse of the dell, That through sorrow and pain until day dawns again In his mind the bright picture may dwell.

With the coming of spring, when the green forests ring With the glad, happy notes of the birds, In the beautiful glade, with its wide spreading shade, Are whispered the sweetest of words.

In the warm summer days, when Orpheus plays On the thousand stringed lyre of the gods, We loiter and dream on the banks of the stream And keep time with our angling rods.

But I'll tell you not where to seek this spot, With all nature's bright beauty in store, For there mortals would be, then the fairies would fly, And my glen would be mine no more.

WOMAN AND HOME. THE AMERICAN GIRL WHO INFLUENCES EMPEROR WILLIAM.

Duties of the Wife—Queen Victoria's Costly Hat—The Well Dressed Woman—Miss Kingsley Appraises Women—Education For the Average Woman.

As a little girl Mary Esther Lea played among the flour barrels and current boxes of her father's grocery store on Front street in New York city. But that was many years ago. Now the little girl is a white haired and regal lady, with the title of princess. More than that, she is the wife of the milliner's art, and it is not likely to be the mode. In fact, the queen has never worn it. It is not one through which a hatpin is easily thrust, and—oh, prime reason that its case is hopeless—it is unbecoming.

The natives of the Navigator islands were most anxious to make the queen a present. There was formed a committee, which debated long and patiently worked out of the question. It would cost a fortune to give to one of the richest sovereigns in the world a jewel that she would appreciate. Even the most gorgeous cloths were not advisable. India had excelled there in her jewelry.

The committee disagreed. One gentleman resigned in despair. The new member injected a new idea into the crowd and saved their lagging spirits. The new member said emphatically that even a queen had vanity enough to want to possess the most expensive bonnet in the world. One of their own tortoise shells should be made into a bonnet.

An elaborate bonnet was made of a whole shell. The workmanship was exquisite. Never was tortoise shell more artistically carved. The shape is like a crown of the Salvation Army lassies. In due time the queen received the gift and wrote the committee a note of thanks.

The well dressed woman is not only well gowned, but all the small details of her toilet are given consideration. Her dress is not the only thing that she looks at in dressing. She further received the war medal presented by the first German emperor for services in the war of 1870.

Women's Inventions. It has been untruly said that woman has no original genius; she can copy, but she cannot create. Invention is responsible for the statement that 400 women applied for patents last year.

Mary Katharine Howard gives serious consideration to the art of looking one's best in dressing. She further received the war medal presented by the first German emperor for services in the war of 1870.

The well dressed woman is not only well gowned, but all the small details of her toilet are given consideration. Her dress is not the only thing that she looks at in dressing.

Her particular ambition was to marry her grandniece by her first marriage, Prince William of Prussia, the present emperor of Germany. The mother of the prince raised great objections, but the Princess von Noer was persistent and tactful and planning, and the wedding was celebrated on the 10th of March, 1893.

Duties of the Wife. Virtues, like roses, have thorns that prick the heart and where you are unprepared, the virtue of homemaking may be sadly marred in various ways. Every woman knows in her inner consciousness to just what extent her home is a burden.
