PURIFY THE BLOOD.

SUBSCRIBER, Port Hope.—Q.—I am a man 7 years old, and have a pain in my side. I would like to know what will be good for it. It has troubled me fifteen years. Sometimes it is so bad that I spit up a lot of water. What would you recommend to purify the blood? Ans.—You had better consult a doctor for your

SHOULD CONSULT A DOCTOR.

P.M., Alhambra Island, Que.—Q—I am a farmer's son, aged 24 years. Never work hard, and this past few months I do not feel strong. I am somewhat debilitated. There seems to be a lack of vitality. Some days I do not feel at all nourished after my meals. Do not feel any unpleasant symptoms after, but do not feel any stronger after my meals. Ans.—You should personally consult a doctor.

INFANTILE ECZEMA.

SCHWENKER, Claude.—Q—Can you give me a cure for eczema in its most distressing form in a child?

months old. It has been bad for about two months. Been fed on cows' milk principally, but have tried Nestlé's Food. The child is otherwise strong and healthy. Ana.—The food is too strong. Dilute the milk with barley-water. Give ripe fruit. Use tar soap baths daily, and apply zinc ointment.

SWELLING IN THE KNEE.

M-M, Clarke.—Q.—I have a swelling in my right knee which causes me anxiety. It is about two inches in diameter, not hard, but yielding to pressure as filled with something soft. It is somewhat hot and sore, but not very painful, except in one spot, which hurts me very much when I kneel in a particular way. There has for some time been a tenderness—worse than I took the ticks out of the carpets; but no swelling till within two or three days. Can you tell me the cause of this and the remedies I should use? And Your trouble seems to be from fluid in the part, which should be injected with tincture of iodine. Consult an old doctor, or come and see us.

THROAT COMPLAINT—CANADA HAS THE BEST CLIMATE.

Reader, Glen Roy, Ont., Q.—I have been troubled with catarrh of the throat for some time. 1. What the most advisable remedy for it, and where can it be secured? 2. The balance of climate have any favorable effects on it? Which is the best climate for it in Canada or the United States for people with lungs affected? Ana.—1. This question has been asked and answered very frequently, but asking it does not make it any less important. The climate of the United States is a whole lot better than the United States; but a dry, equable climate is desirable for those suffering as you do.

SKIN AFFECTION—EARLY RISING AND SPONGE BATH—GENERAL HEALTH.

Stouffville, Ont., (Button).—Q.—My sister-in-law has a healthy boy nine months old, who has a sore on the top of his head. The spot is about four inches square, and is covered with a hard scab. There are small spots all over his face, and his hair is falling out. I have tried to wash it, but each time. What remedy should be applied?

It could read: Is citrine ointment good for it, if not, why? 2. Is early rising and a sponge bath good for a young person, age 11, who complains of weakness, headache and indigestion? 3. Is a mixture of iron, quinine and iron good for the same person, who loses pale and has little appetite? Ans.—1. Use "Barilla's" soap and zinc ointment. The citrine ointment is also useful; but rather strong for daily use. 2. Yes. 3. No. Fellow's Phosphates are better.

troubled at times with a pain between my shoulders and in my right side which pains me when I draw my arms out. I have been eating but little and have had to diet. Use no tea or coffee, but a little milk. Am troubled with a twitching of the feet shudder. Am unable to get any sleep. I have been eating but little. You think a change of climate would do any good? I live on a farm. Also—see Hallack's charcoal, and the "Lancet" on the same subject. I have been eating but, and have had breakfast. Pain food at regular hours, weak but not very much. I have been eating but no fresh bread. Attention to diet and regimen will make you strong and well.

ANS.—Diet yourself. Live on fruits, lemons, oranges, etc., and vegetables; no tea, coffee, nor fresh meat. Eat only what you can digest. You are enough for tea. Take a warm bath once or twice.

SYSTEM OUT OF ORDER.

LEADER. Out.—Q.—I, am a young man, going to school. I have a cold, and a pain in and around the eyes, felt most after dinner. Hands often cold; tongue coated with a white substance, pretty active at bed time, but in the morning I feel very dull, and do nothing with the other boys, because of not being of a disposition to make fire. Would you advise going to bed and taking a warm bath?—A.—You are not a young man; it is because of nervousness, that a person becomes confused over an examination paper. Is there any way to get rid of this?—A.—Yes, I will tell you:—1. Get a dandruff, 6 p.m. on face? 2. An- 3. I charge your disposition, the sooner you do so the better. 4. Take a warm bath, and a walk before breakfast. 5. Learn your subject properly and then "confusion" over examination papers will be a thing of the past. 6. Confusion is a question is not fit for publication. 7. A late neuralist mention will effect the desired result. 8. And 9. The Bath is a good one. In fact, to shew the value of the bath, I will not offer you a reward, or no meat. Eat freely as much of fruit and vegetable.

NEURALGIC THROUBLE—TAKE NO MEDICINE.
G. R., Demorestville—Q—I have suffered for some years with neuralgia in my head. Occasionally I have felt it in my limbs; for some weeks past I have had it in my right arm, at least in the thumb and index finger. I have written you for advice and your opinion and prescription. The pain commences in my shoulder and goes all the way down my arm. The pain at times is very severe. Try every medicine you can get, but do not touch my arm with any oil or the back of my neck, as this is the only way that I can get any rest. It feels very cold most of the time, especially the upper part of the arm. I have tried every medicine I can get, but with little result. My wrist feels as if a great deal of the time, then I bind it up for a while and feel the nerves quivering in my arm quite often. I am willing my arm to be paralyzed, as I cannot get any rest. My doctor gave me a tonic of iron and quinine but I do not get better. I am surprised and

RITUALISM AND ROMANISM.

AN ANGLICAN CLEVERMAN ON THE PROBABLE RESULTS OF DR. KING'S CASE.

OTAWA, JUNE 5.

The Rev. Keith Douglas, of London, Eng., a clergyman of the Established Church, chatted with your correspondent this afternoon on questions affecting religion and temperance in England. He is a High Churchman and in politics a Liberal Unionist.

The principle of local option in liquor was, he thought, making headway in England as well as the Sunday Closing movement. This latter movement had, however, received a severe check by the reorganization of Lord Aberdeen (formerly Mr. Bruce), who was a great advocate of the temperance law and secured its passage for Wales, but now he has publicly declared it a failure or a partial failure, owing to the amount of illicit drinking carried on.

"It is rather not a failure to enforce the law?"

"Yes, I suppose it is, but the law allowing the sale on Sunday at any hour to some districts and declaring it a failure in others three times to be seen, causes much difficulty."

DISSENTMENT.

The question of dissentment was not, Mr. Douglas stated, at present being agitated, in fact not since 1855. No one appeared to have Mr. Gladstone's mind on the subject although he had promised his advocacy to Wales if the Welsh wanted the church disestablished. In England, however, all the Liberal leaders, besides Mr. Gladstone, were pledged to disestablishment, including Sir Vernon Harcourt and Mr. Morley, Mr. Chamberlain, too, but Mr. Douglas remarked on dissent that Mr. Chamberlain, as a political factor, was not so important a personage as he used to be. The radicals repudiated him and the aristocracy distrusted him. The church was growing and in Mr. Douglas' opinion would defeat the party for disestablishment when it came to the test.

DR. KING'S IMPORTANT CASE.

The case of the Bishop of Lincoln being regarded as a critical one in the history of the church. If Dr. King was condemned for ritualistic practices and High Church doctrine it might, and probably would, drive a number into the Church of Rome. If the Archbishop sustained Dr. King the Low Church party would carry the case to the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council, in case the Archbishop's Court was not held to be final. The case was marked by the fact that Dr. King was the only English bishop who practiced what were called the six points. Seven-tenths of the English clergy were High Church in doctrine, but a minority were actual Ritualists. The doctrine of the Real Presence, the use of vestments with them, and they may say: If we can't preach that doctrine in the church we will join the Church of Rome, where it is preached. Mr. Douglas, who is here spying out the land as a field for city evangelism, Dr. King was a hold High Church view, but does not put them in practice for the sake of peace with his congregation. He left for Toronto to-night.

FINANCIAL.

There has been rather more stir in financial circles during the week which has just closed. The money market has been stronger in consequence of a better demand for money on account of commercial enterprise and partly on account of renewed speculative activity. Most lenders find that their available funds are now fully employed and it is not easy to secure all loans on collateral at less than 4 per cent. though the rate on a good first mortgage is at 3 1/2 per cent. The discount rate for commercial paper remains about the same though there is a disposition to refuse to advance credits although this is being done very cautiously. The rates are 2 to 7 per cent. as to name and date.

The Sterling Exchange market remains dull and rates are, if anything, easier, owing to the very small demand for money. The rate on a bill of sixty days at 100 is 10 1/2 per cent. New York rates were about 10 1/2 per cent. for 60 days and 11 1/2 per cent. for 90 days. The rate on a bill of 60 days at 100 is 10 1/2 per cent.
