

POSTAL STRIKE AGREEMENT REACHED

MAIL MAY BE ROLLING BY THE WEEKEND

Agreement was reached to end the Postal Strike on Tuesday afternoon, but the terms of the agreement will have to be ratified by the striking postal workers across the country.

Thus it is possible that mail will start rolling once again by the week-end and those letters that have been held up will be received (and of course those bills) and all will be able to resort to the pastime of letter writing once again. It will take a few days before everything is in full working order and to get that huge pile of mail sorted and away to all points.

That's over, so what's next?

SECOND AGRONOME TAKES UP DUTIES IN HUNTINGDON

J. D. LALONDE, Agronome

Mr. J. D. Lalonde is a new agronome now with Mr. Leon Beaudin, Agronome of the Provincial Agricultural Dept. in Huntingdon. He was born in Ontario and educated at the Kemptville Agricultural School and the Ontario Agricultural College. He has extensive experience in the field of agriculture and knows Western Quebec and all the counties south of the St. Lawrence to Quebec City.

He is married and has six children. Mr. and Mrs. Lalonde reside on Chateaugay Street.

Mr. Lalonde's experience ranges over a wide area of the agricultural field. He was assistant agricultural representative in Essex County, Instructor in Dairying with the Ontario Dept. of Education for Summer Schools. With the Dominion Experimental Farms in Ottawa in the cereals and poultry division. Was with the R.O.P. branch in Quebec and Ontario. Was with the Federal Farm Credit as a credit advisor at large at Cornwall and St. Jean, Que.

Mr. Lalonde will no doubt be meeting many of the farmers in this area in due course and to help them with their problems to the best of his ability.

SWIMMING POOL BEING PUT TO GOOD USE BY THE PUBLIC

Reports from the County Civic Centre Swimming Pool are most encouraging for the past week. The second series of swimming lessons is well under way with a good number enrolled in the classes. The pool itself has been put to excellent use with large attendances daily.

Work on the building for the dressing rooms, toilets and such has been going on apace and Mr. Doug. McGerrigle has been giving a lot of his time and help in getting this building going. We understand that the building may be in use quite soon and that it may be painted within the next week. We further understand that a generous donor has contributed the paint and it is possible that the services of a painter may also be donated to get the job done.

GARBAGE CANS SHOULD BE PUT AWAY - VACANT LOTS CLEANED OF WEEDS / HAY

On Monday, August 5th, Mayor Leo Cappiello presided at the regular meeting of the Huntingdon Town Council at the usual time and place; all members were present.

The minutes from the previous meetings were read and approved; also the monthly bills.

Mr. Romain Ménard then addressed the Council to ask what will be done about the sewer which runs on his property (the former Builders' Supplies site). He explained that he plans to build there and that as it is the sewer would be directly under his premises. The matter will be studied to prevent any complications.

The secretary read the following two letters.

"Borough of Huntingdon and Godmanchester, Town Clerk's Office, Ambury House, 89, High Street, Huntingdon, 11th July, 1968.

The girls pictured above are busy packing corn at Dune Farm near Cazaville. The corn packing operation is in full swing and the employees are kept quite busy filling crates that hold five dozen ears of corn each.

Mrs. Robert Milne Dewittville Celebrates 88th Birthday

Mrs. Robert Milne was pleasantly surprised on Monday afternoon, July 22nd., when several of her neighbours and friends called on her to congratulate her on her 88th Birthday.

Mrs. Milne received many lovely gifts and cards including a beautiful birthday cake. Among those attending were Mrs. Mac Ruddle and Mrs. Gordon Smiles, who also celebrated their birthdays the same day.

Delicious refreshments were served on the lawn by her daughter, Mrs. Ellis Wilson and daughter-in-law, Mrs. Russell Milne and grand daughter, Grace, after which a social hour was spent. Everyone departed wishing Mrs. Milne many more happy years.

CON ARTISTS AT WORK

Police Chief Joffre L'Heureux and Mr. John P. Harrison, Manager of the Huntingdon Branch of the Bank of Montreal, report that confidence men are again at work in the local area. They state that a lady in the community was contacted by a man who posed as a bank inspector and asked the woman for cooperation as a check was being conducted concerning the integrity of some of the bank staff. He requested his intended victim to sign a document which would help them in their survey.

The Gleaner again requests anyone approached by so-called "bank inspectors" to phone the police immediately and then contact their bank manager. Bank inspectors just don't go around to private homes seeking aid from anyone.

After the many warnings that have been given in this newspaper and others from time to time, to say nothing of television and radio advice, it almost seems impossible that anyone would fall victim to such confidence tricks. It is even more ludicrous that these con artists have the nerve to try their luck in this area again.

Don't be fooled into giving your savings to thieves but if you do fall for that line of fast-talk from the big-time "bank executives", don't expect pity. It's your money to give away if that's your wish, but it's your own shoulder you'll have to cry on.

Meanwhile, if you are approached, take all the details you can concerning the man - his features, dress, accent, kind of car he's driving, license number and so on; phone the police and then your bank manager. Your guest will make a hasty departure.

DUNE FARM AT CAZAVILLE CULTIVATING MANY ACRES IN VARIED CROP ENTERPRISE

Hydracool For Corn Second In Canada

(by Eric Belanger)

The official opening of the Dune Farm hydracool at Cazaville was held Tuesday, July 30. To celebrate the event, Jean and Gilles Lussier, owners of the enterprise, organized a corn husking bee. Mr. and Mrs. Jean Lussier and Mrs. Gilles Lussier welcomed over 200 guests to Dune Farm. For the occasion, one of the large refrigerated sections had been set aside. A sumptuous buffet and refreshments were available to the guests. A large number of buyers from the Montreal trade stores and wholesale houses were present as well as a number of Huntingdon and Cazaville businessmen and officials from the Department of Agriculture.

The facilities at the plant are most up-to-date and many of the out-of-town visitors who are experts in this field commented favorably on the plant and its operations. Guests had the opportunity to sample the Dune Farm corn which was found to be delicious. Mr. Lussier had the forethought of some musical entertainment and many of the guests enjoyed dancing.

Apples Were First

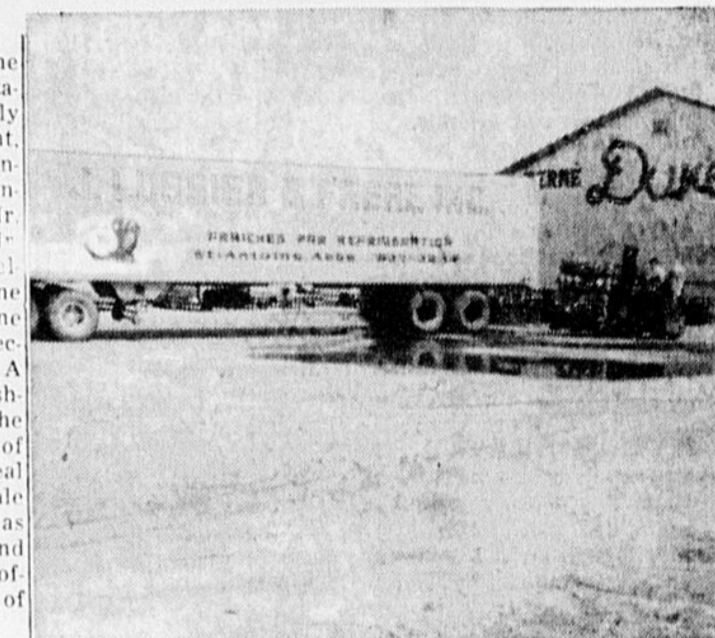

From time to time one has probably seen the name "Jean Lussier" an enterprising young businessman, mentioned in "The Gleaner". Well, his family's story and how they built up their various farming enterprises is quite interesting so here it is.

Approximately 30 years ago René Lussier, father of Joel and Jean started an apple orchard in the Franklin area with 600 trees. Within ten years the number of trees had increased to 3000. In 1944-45 an additional 5000 trees were planted. This led to Joel and Jean's marketing of apples in '47-48 in Montreal. The increase in the production of apples caused the Lussier brothers to believe that storage facilities were necessary so, in 1952 an old horse shed, purchased from the Parish of St. Antoine, was converted into a packing and cold storage plant with a capacity to store 25,000 bushels. The market kept increasing and by 1955 the Lussier brothers were renting cold storage from Chateaugay Co-op and Montreal storage for another 50,000 bushels.

In 1963 new storage and packing facilities were built with a handling capacity for 100,000 bushels, 40,000 in controlled atmosphere with the remaining 60,000 in regular cold storage. A grading room with packing facilities for 300 boxes of apples per hour was also added and for the last two years packing has been going on year around. In '63 they started exporting apples to England, U.S. and Sweden and in the record year of '65, half a million dollars worth were exported. In '67 storage was increased to another 30,000 bushels controlled atmosphere.

Family Business

The whole family seems to be involved in the apple business. Jean and Joel as well as Joel's son, Guy are involved in packing and distribution. Those whose interests are in growing include Norman, Tancrede, Joel, Claude and Guy. Together the family owns 25,500 trees, 21,000 in Franklin district and 4,500 in Missisquoi but due to their excellent packaging and storage facilities they also buy from other orchardists around Franklin.

This is a bird's eye view of the cold storage plant which faces the highway. In this photo, crates of corn have been taken from the cold storage and are being transferred to one of the Lussiers' refrigerated transport trucks which delivers the produce to wholesalers.

Dune Farm and the other for Other Food Crops

Another project which Jean and nephew Gilles Lussier have undertaken is the development of Dune Farm Incorporated. Dating back to '65, they first bought the 90-acre farm of Alcide Caza near Cazaville and planted fifteen acres of strawberries and the next fall, ten acres of raspberries. In the spring of '67 the Lussiers purchased another Cazaville area farm, a 230-acre one previously owned by Romeo Caza. In '67 all 230 acres were planted with sweet corn for fresh market.

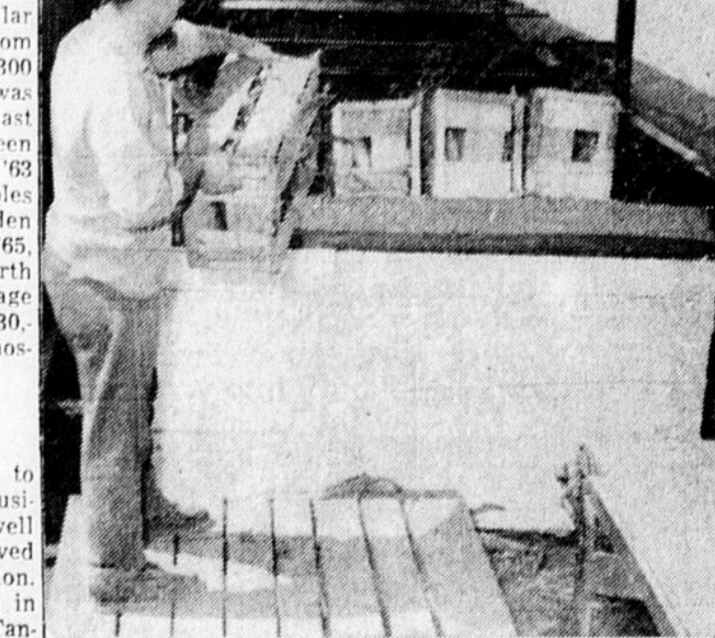

That autumn, an additional 135 acres were added and another farm of the same size was rented. This year various crops were planted on the farms: 250 acres of sweet corn, 60 of dry corn, 25 acres of tomatoes, 15 acres of cucumbers, 20 acres of strawberries, ten acres of raspberries and six acres devoted to squash. There were also some experiments in brussel sprouts and peppers while the rest is in preparation for next year.

New Cazaville Plant

This spring Jean and his nephew erected an 86 x 40 cold storage plant on Route 3 near Cazaville. The building is in two sections, one side for tomatoes and the other for corn. A hydracool system was also installed which cools corn to 33° one half hour after picking. The corn is then kept at that temperature until ordered. At the Dune Farm Inc. enterprise one thousand to fifteen hundred crates containing five dozen ears of corn each can be packed daily. The tomatoes are hand picked and stored at 50 degrees until ripe then they are graded and packed in ten and twenty lb. containers and stored until ordered. Dune Farm employs fifteen people from April 1 to November, but 30 extra hands are taken on for corn harvesting and as many as 75-100 during the corn and tomato season. If one needs work there is plenty to be had at Dune Farm.

The Lussiers plan an increase in strawberries to 50 acres and to add to tomato acreage in the future. In about two years Jean Lussier predicts a corn picking machine will be available in Canada and will then increase his corn acreage to 500 and give contracts to area farmers for an additional amount.

This story is a good example of how sound management and hard work can make crop farming a profitable enterprise in this area.

Shown here is the hydracool system recently installed at Dune Farm. This machine is one of two to be found in Canada, the other at Simcoe, Ontario. It is eighty feet long and the bottom is covered with refrigeration plates to cool the water which is circulated about the tank-like affair by an agitator. Corn placed in the tank is cooled to 33° within one half hour. This machine enables the Lussiers to store their corn for ten days to two weeks.

This and That in Town

INDUSTRIAL ACCEPTANCE CORPORATION recently announced the appointment of Mr. George Kelley DuPuy, L.L.B. as treasurer of the company. Formerly of Lufkin, Texas where he practised law and operated a successful real estate business, Mr. DuPuy moved to Montreal a few years ago and has since been associated with I.A.C. Married to the former Miss Suzanne Amyot of Valleyfield, Mr and Mrs. DuPuy and daughters spend their summers at their island home near St. Anicet. Congratulations, George Kelley.

PIERRE MENARD, long associated with the Trout River Golf Club, scored a hole-in-one on July 24th. Accompanied by the Club's pro and Mr. G. Picard, one of the executive, he was using a No. 5 iron on the fourth hole, 85 yards. And our congratulations to you too, Pierre!

DELIVERING THE GLEANERS on July 24th during the postal strike, we were surprised to see that the miserable 'S' curve between St. Bernard de Lacolle and Lacolle, on Route 52, is in the process of being eliminated. This means a new bridge over the Lacolle River but man, will it be an improvement. Now if the provincial government would only realize that Route 52 could stand a complete resurfacing. . . .

JAMES B. McCOY of McCoy Bros. store recently purchased the Mrs. Rod H. Grant residence at 59 Prince St. in Huntingdon. Mr. and Mrs. McCoy will move into their new home early this autumn.

THE REVEREND P. R. STOTE and family will be moving to Lachute in September. Rector of St. John's Anglican Church here for the past eight years, Mr. Stote's decision to accept the Lachute charge was made late last week and the announcement during the joint service at Huntingdon United Church on Sunday was a surprise to his parishioners and friends.

THAT BLACK-TOP JOB at the Chateauguay Valley Regional High School is certainly a great improvement over the gravel mess everyone was so disgusted with. Maybe when school re-opens there won't be the problem of heels braking, Mesdames and Mesdemoiselles?

RICHARD QUENNEVILLE, Grand Knight of the local Knights of Columbus, drew ticket number 973 on Sunday evening to make Lucien Leduc, 134 Leger St., Valleyfield the proud owner of a new power lawnmower.

WOULD YOU BELIEVE there's better fishing right around here than there is in the renowned Matapedia, Matane and Gaspé areas of our belle province? We know some local anglers who were down that way last week hoping to catch Canada's No. 2 fighters (we still consider our Muskies hold first place) and they came back pretty disappointed. Jim Fraser, a teacher last term at C.V.R.H.S. is a guide in the Matapedia district and he tells us that on the part of the famous river that attracts fishermen from all over eastern Canada and right down to North Carolina on the other side of the border there just aren't any salmon this year. Only eight have been landed at his lodge this season. . . . other years twice this number wasn't unusual in a single day. This means hard times for people who sell tackle, rent boats, provide accommodations, etc. While there are some good dairy farms in the Gaspé area, most of the countryside is barren rock and therefore fishing is the main industry. A year without fish for them is comparable to a year of poor harvest here. Main cause of the lack of salmon in the rivers is the prolonged drought. They've had little rain and the rivers are scarcely more than creeks. The Hon. Loubier, Minister of Tourism, Fish and Game made sections of the Matapedia river available to the public (previously they were leased to Americans who wouldn't even allow local residents to swim to say nothing of hauling Gaspésians into court if they as much as threw a line into the river in front of their own properties) and this was welcome news for fishermen, but man, there just aren't any fish to catch.

Sugar and Spice

in a weakened condition from eating my cooking all winter. This is a dirty lie. She put on weight.

One of the frustrating things about it is that there's no medication or cure for it, except time and the body's natural resilience. I would suggest that, if your body has no natural resilience, if you can't touch your toes, you're a candidate. Put that in your throat and lump it.

Perhaps the worst thing about Kim's condition is that her sleeping schedule is all out of whack. She can sleep until 2 p.m., and about nine o'clock at night begins to come alive and pads around the cage until the tiny hours, switching lights on and off, flushing things, and playing records. Gets to sleep at five a.m. and is dead for 12 hours.

However, that's enough about mono. Just wanted to give you the symptoms, in case your kid has it. Normally in Spring, we tip-toe among the tulips. This Spring, we tip-toe around the tigress.

This is not enough. My wife is about to undergo an operation, and even though she hasn't had it yet, she's an expert. She has talked to about 20 women who have had it, and entertains me with gay little details about ovaries and uteruses and stuff daily. Usually at meal hours.

Every time the phone rings she breaks into a cold sweat and palpitations. I called from work at lunch-hour the other day, to ask whether it was worth-while coming home for a corned-beef sandwich, and she almost fainted dead away thinking it was the hospital calling.

She has her bag packed, her pyjamas washed, and her will made. She washes her hair every day, in case she's called. Her legs are raw from having them every day.

Some people tell her she'll be a year getting over it; others, three weeks. This makes summer plans rather uncertain. I'm seriously thinking of setting up a nursing home. Limited, of course, to post-operative cases and kids with mono. I'll be an expert, and might as well cash in, if I have to do the cooking and housework anyway.

I guess I shouldn't kick. I haven't the guts to keep a mental appointment. I am turned to stone at the sight of a typhoidemic needle.

But it looks like a tough summer ahead for me and resident de Gaulle.

Child Dies...

Mr. St. Onge was working in the field with a tractor at about 7 p.m. and took his son Norman, age 3, along with him for a ride. At a point that was rough, the child fell off the tractor and a wheel passed over his head.

He was rushed to Huntingdon County Hospital where Dr. F. G. McCrimmon examined him and decided he should be sent immediately to a Montreal Hospital. The child died there two days later.

HOMEMAKERS' HELPER

There are four things in every gal's kitchen which get a lot of use. Everyone in the family uses the fridge, the stove, the bread box and the toaster. Because they are in constant use, all need special cleaning care.

Does your fridge seem to be in constant disarray? Do milk containers always leave spots of dried liquid and do left-over foods have a habit of leaving sticky marks? And is your biggest headache finding enough room for everything? The first thing is to lay down a firm and fast rule for the family: "wipe everything off before returning it to the fridge." That eliminates spots and marks of food.

Careful planning will give you the greatest amount of storage space. Read all food container labels. If they do not recommend that the food be kept in a cool place don't refrigerate them. By the way, if you think bread keeps better in the fridge you're on the wrong track. . . . it stays just as fresh at room temperature. Put small bottles, jars and eggs on the handy door racks. Use small containers for small amounts of food. And do use up left-over food quickly while it is still edible.

Remember that food and cleanliness go hand-in-hand. By following these simple rules you'll be protecting the health of your family.

REV. P. R. STOTE AND FAMILY SOON TO MOVE TO LACHUTE

REV. P. R. STOTE

On November 22nd, 1960 Rev. P. R. Stote and a part of his family arrived in Huntingdon to take charge of St. John's Anglican Church here. They came here highly recommended from Grenville, Que., and to take over the duties of the late Canon W. S. Hatcher.

He was not entirely strange to the area as he had visited here on several occasions and had also met the late Rev. Hatcher and toured some of the churches. Nevertheless he had a great task to get to know the people of all four congregations which were his charge. He had Huntingdon, Ormstown, Herdman and Franklin congregations to minister to and services were held in three of the churches each Sunday.

Both Rev. and Mrs. Stote have worked hard for the church and its many organizations since they have been here and now they are soon to leave to take charge in another community. They will be leaving for Lachute in September.

Both Rev. and Mrs. Stote and their family have found the people in this area to be most friendly and while here they have made a number of friends whom they will miss. Rev. Stote has given all his time to the duties of the various churches and the congregations and he has had little time for other activities. He regrets this, but he just did not have the time to spare if he was to do his own work in a proper manner.

Standing out among the highlights of his stay in Huntingdon area are the following: One was the dedication of a stained glass window in memory of the late Canon Hatcher which was placed in St. John's Church. Another was celebration of the 125th anniversary of the first minister coming to St. Paul's Church Herdman and the occasion of the visit of Bishop McGuire to the memory of Canon Hatcher. There was also the first visit of Bishop McGuire to St. John's Church after he was named Bishop of Montreal following Bishop Dixon. A garden party was held in honor of this occasion.

Rev. Stote has great memories of when he first came to Huntingdon of taking part in the joint services in the community churches during the week of Prayer and Lent. He participated with the late Rev. Robt. Beal and Rev. J. Grant. He has fond memories of the Graduation Services in which he took part.

New kneelers have been placed in St. John's Church and the windows have been repaired and protective glass placed over the Stained Glass windows, while a new wooden floor has been laid in the basement.

When the family first arrived in Huntingdon they had with them Frank, Phillip, Florence, Lawrence and Francis. Westover was employed in a bank at Grenville and stayed on there, while Daniel was attending Mount Allison University. The first four attended school in Huntingdon. Westover is now an accountant in the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce at Lachute and is married to Judy Baker, a former Huntingdon girl. Daniel is still attending the same university.

Tragedy struck the family about four years ago when Frank was killed when thrown from a motor cycle he was riding near Port Lewis. This indeed was a blow to his parents. Rev. Stote says that they will never forget the great kindness that was shown to them at this time by everyone. They suffered a great loss and God was good to them in the way the people cared and tendered kindnesses and help.

Philip is going into third year at Bishop's in Arts. Lawrence will enter Grade 9 in the new Regional School at Lachute, while Florence will go into Grade 12 in the same school with nursing as an ultimate career. Francis will still be attending elementary school.

For the first part of the time Mr. Stote was in this area he says he drove about 22,000 miles per year visiting his people and attending to matters connected with the church.

He has great praise for the ecumenical work that has been done in Ormstown and is glad of the fact that he was able to play such a part in it. He was the Anglican Chaplain for the Barrie Memorial Hospital and was recently nominated by the Ministerial for the Chateauguy Valley Regional High School. He held preparation classes for confirmation at the Regional school earlier this year and also attended the French classes there.

Another highlight that stands out is the memorial service held in Huntingdon for the late Governor-General Vanier when all community churches and people took part.

He will take with him many memories of his almost eight years stay in Huntingdon and of the friendships he and his family have made. Rev. Stote takes up his new duties in Lachute on September 15th, and expects to be in Huntingdon until September 8th.

Garbage Cans...

Huntingdon, Quebec, July 23, 1968. Mr. J. D. McGerrigle, Pro Mayor, and Members of the Huntingdon Town Council.

Gentlemen: This is a belated expression of appreciation of your visit while I was a patient in the Montreal General Hospital.

Your visit was appreciated and evoked a number of favorable comments, by other patients, as to what a fine council we must have here when they put themselves about to visit other residents of Huntingdon even though the Mayor was a patient at that time. Yours in appreciation, Wm. R. Wilson.

Moved by Alderman McGerrigle, seconded by Alderman Brisebois that the offer of Caza & Freres be accepted

ORMSTOWN LEGION HALL TO HAVE AN ADDITION ERECTED

Top photograph shows the Canadian Legion Hall at Ormstown with front entrance to same. This hall is well used throughout the year and of late has been rather crowded for space. Thus an addition is being made and the lower photograph shows the excavation at the side where this new addition will be made. The article below explains more fully what is proposed will take place.

The first sod was turned on July 30th, for a large extension to the present Ormstown Legion Hall. An area of 20 x 42 feet will be added to the rear of the building. It will contain a modern kitchen and a much needed addition to the recreation room. Largely due to the foresight of the president Mr. John Rennie who has been persistent in his efforts to get the extension, it is now a reality. The basement has been dug, the cement blocks laid, and the lumber have arrived, operation it should be an in. The spirit is there, so in the very near future Ormstown Legion will be holding the first time, to this worth-while party in the NEW HALL.

for paving to the sidewalk of that section of Prince St. from Lake to Roosevelt; also Chalmers St. from Dalhousie to Cemetery, at the cost of $1885. The secretary was instructed to write Mr. Guay, general contractor for the new Regional School to advise him to repair Centre St. to its original state as understood previously.

Alderman McGerrigle remarked that garbage cans are still lying around for days. Police will be instructed to check on the matter and take action.

Moved by Alderman McGerrigle, seconded by Alderman Laplante that Hydro-

Quebec be authorized to install a light in the Chateauguy St. parking lot. Alderman Gau presented the report of police activities for the months of June and July. Among many items it lists that the officers answered 143 calls, 273 hours of patrolling, directed traffic for nine funerals, investigated ten accidents, 7 thefts, gave traffic tickets, etc.

Interested persons are advised to cut weeds on vacant lots, or else (see advt.) The valuation roll has been prepared and is now in the secretary's office where it is prepared for public inspection.

How To Learn If Child Is Using Drugs

How could you tell if your son or daughter is using drugs? What should you do if you found that he or she was using them? How may you bring up your child to avoid the use of drugs not medically prescribed?

In the magazine section of the New York Times for August 20, 1967, Barbara W. Wyden, a staff member, attempts to answer these questions.

First she notes that, while pot smokers and users of LSD may still be exceptions in high school, they are no longer "the misfits, the oddballs and the disturbed"; that, moreover, there is a wide difference of opinion among experts on the emotional hazards and benefits of the drugs most often talked about and written about.

But the author thinks the experts do have some guidelines. There are certain tell-tale signs. Marijuana, for example, has a characteristic smell of burning hemp which may linger on the breath for several hours. Taken in excess, tranquilizers and barbiturates make the users extremely sleepy. He readily stumbles and drops things and his speech may be indistinct.

Amphetamines (pep pills) tend to produce so much activity that the user can hardly sit still. He may talk incessantly, be aggressive, irritable and argumentative. The pupils of his eyes may be dilated.

If a teenager is wearing sun-glasses at seemingly inappropriate times, a prompt check of his eyes may be desirable. As pep pills have a drying effect on mucous membranes, their users may constantly lick their lips which become chapped and raw and this dryness causes bad breath.

The author says the users of LSD can easily be spotted — sudden changes in personality, auditory and visual hallucinations and unusual statements concerning the person's feeling of unity with the universe of God.

The possession of any of these substances should, of course, be a reason to cause parental investigation.

Many of the symptoms which we have named as indications of the use of certain drugs might have other causes and some children could be accused falsely of using such drugs, or be held under a cloud of suspicion. In either event, imagine the harm — the shattered trust and love between the child and his parents.

Even if you should discover that your child has been using one or more of these drugs, you could hardly hope to help him abandon their use by rebuking or chastising him or by tugging at his heart strings.

Just remember he is still your child. Together with all the expert help for him that you can muster, you also need to maintain his love and esteem.

The author suggests some education and preventive measures. Beginning with the young child, let him know that while some household drugs are useful, they have their dangers. Keep tranquilizers and the like securely locked up. Don't talk in the family about drugs you may use for sedation or stimulation.

At home and at school, physical and psychological facts about drugs should be taught, in an atmosphere of desirable relationships. How child and parents, child and teacher, feel toward each other is of first importance.

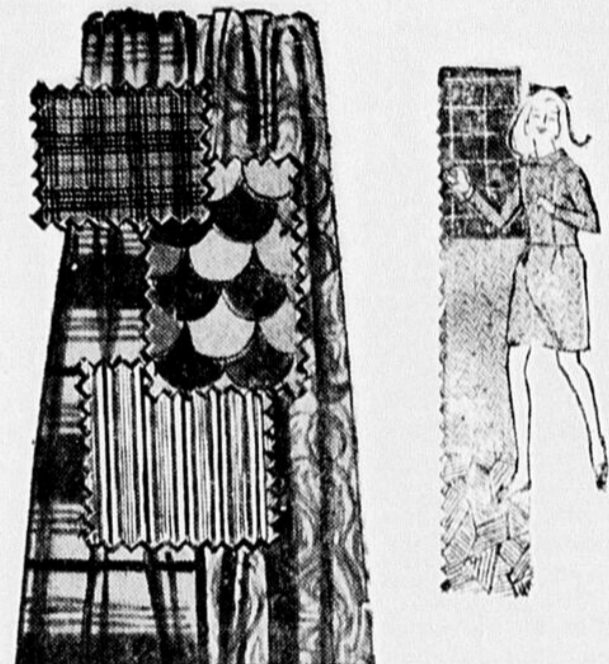

Author Wyden also stresses reasonable parental control best established in the child's early years, and also practical in his teenage — home on nights before school and having adult present at parties he attends.

Please let me add that the prevailing theory and practice of excessive parental permissiveness in the rearing of children is not good preparation for teen-agers to resist the growing use of drugs.

Riboflavin is known as the "energy output vitamin". It's important for healthy skin and normal vision. Riboflavin deficiencies may induce cracked skin at mouth corners or an oily rash around the nose. Severe deficiency is characterized by watery, itchy and burning eyes, symptoms which vanish when the diet is improved.

Several Accidents In Town During The Past Weekend

Several accidents have been reported by Town Police this past week. One occurred in front of the Huntingdon County Hospital, on Friday August 2nd. Mrs. Grace Fleming was driving a car into the parking lot from Chateaugay Street and the rear of the car was hit by a motor cycle driven by Robert Sterling. Sterling was attended by Dr. G. LeFebvre for some injuries.

On August 5th at about 10:40 a.m. an accident occurred in front of the I.G.A. No. 1 Boutique Street, Mrs. Carl Levers of Athelstan had just parked her car at the side of the street and had opened the door, when it was hit by Miss Mary L. Thompson of Ste. Agnes de Dundee. Damage on the Levers car was $50 and on the Thompson car $40. No one was hurt.

On the same day, August 5 an accident occurred at the parking lot of the Chateau Hotel at about 2:10 p.m. Mrs. Bernice M. Earl of Chateaugay, N.Y., was backing out and collided with a car that was travelling south to north. This car was a new '68 model owned by Armand Courcelles of St. Anicet. Damage to this car was about $400, only slight damage was done to the Earl car.

the patience of Premier Daniel Johnson. Considering the amount of liquor tax money the province is losing daily because of the strike one would think money grows on trees. If you've ever treated yourself to a bottle of tax-free liquor, say, at their little store at Trout River, you are certainly aware that half of the money you pass over to the clerks at U.S.B. retail stores is tax money for our province. Isn't that money needed any more? If not, why are our school buses hopping around like Mexican jumping beans? Why do we have to put up with narrow main highways and gravel sideroads? Why can't we have a new hospital in Huntingdon? Why couldn't we get a provincial grand to help with the County Civic Centre? One could go on and on, yet conclude that Premier Johnson and our elected representatives don't give a hoot in heck about the money that is being lost. Take a 10-minute jaunt from here and buy a bottle in New York state and you'll discover that half the price you pay there is tax too, but at least the customer sees what he's buying and most important, it's available. People who say they couldn't care less if the strike never end, should visit a head shrinker: every dollar lost means we, the consumers, will make up for the loss by increased taxation one way or another. The strikers have had a long-enough holiday, now they should be ordered back to work. The alternative is to have licensed merchants as in New York State and so many other states. Why all the hesitation, who's afraid of what?

END OF A PERFECT TRIP — Dr. and Mrs. K. G. Cameron and family recently returned from an enjoyable motor trip to Albany, N.Y., points in Ontario and Quebec City. Good weather, good accommodation, good car... fact is, it was a fine trip. Finally, back at their own front door, Ann hopped out and made a bee-line to her coffeeur to have the usual thing done to her hair that the weaker sex deem necessary after riding in a car with all the windows down and the wind whipping about. After the session she returned home to find the unpacking was finished and everything was ready for a dip in the County Pool. Fine. Husband dives in, reports the water just right and warns "Better put your bathing cap on." Being a wife and acting true to form, that was all it took for her to decide to leave the cap off and just float around in the shallow end, thereby keeping the coiffure high, dry and handsome. Good intentions of course, but that wasn't to be. Standing in water three-quarters up to the new hair do (that's well worded eh) she turned to wave to a friend. Whoops, gulp, splutter, cough, whoosh... the end of the hairdo. For a couple of minutes the lady couldn't decide to blow her cool, laugh or cry. Just about everyone around did though and if you listen carefully the peals of laughter are still resounding. That wig sure saved the evening though eh Ann!

QUOTE OF THE WEEK — "No wonder our politicians at Quebec don't accomplish much... just take a look at some of those distractions in mini-skirts." (A recent visitor to la vieille capitale touring the Parliament Bldgs. and noticing the secretaries). Rustik, Rusty?

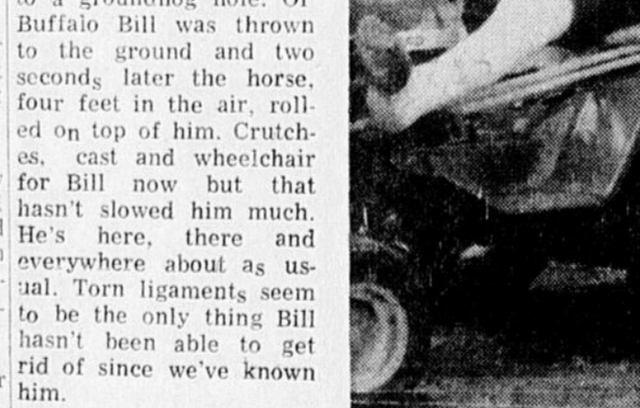

TAKES A LOT, a whole lot, to throw our Bill Hoker. Last Wednesday a horse did though. Seems Bill and a neighbor were galloping their horses along the back forty in a friendly race when the auctioneer's mount stumbled and fell when a front foot went into a groundhog hole. Ol' Buffalo Bill was thrown to the ground and two seconds later the horse, four feet in the air, rolled on top of him. Crutches, cast and wheelchair for Bill now but that hasn't slowed him much. He's here, there and everywhere about as usual. Torn ligaments seem to be the only thing Bill hasn't been able to get rid of since we've known him.

Editorial Notes..

The Price Of Milk - To The Consumer

For some weeks now there has been agitation in the Montreal area to raise the price of milk to the consumer by one or two cents per quart. The matter has been referred to the Dairy Commission which has it under study and is hearing briefs on the matter. At one time the report gave the price of milk in Montreal as being 25c per quart and later it was quoted as ranging from 23 to 31 cents per quart. One retailing dairy was quoted as selling a three-quart bottle for 69c and being satisfied with the profit made on sales. Other concerns retailing at higher prices were quoted as being dissatisfied with the margin of profit they were getting. Here in Huntingdon, we pay 29c per quart and have done so for some time. We are right in the heart of the best dairy district of Canada and yet we pay top price for the product of the area. Our hope is that if this new increase goes into effect in Montreal, that dealers here will keep their price the same as now. Any increase of price to the consumer does not mean a cent more in our farmers' pockets and the situation here cannot be the same as in Montreal. Even in Montreal, if one concern can get along by selling milk at 69c for three quarts we can not see the need for further increase by other concerns who are already charging more. It would seem that they should take a further look into their handling methods and see where they are wasting money unnecessarily. From 23c to 31c is quite a spread and to put two more cents on top of that would seem to be squeezing the trade for all it will bear and adding to the pressure of inflation. This added cost cannot be traced to the producer, who reaps no benefit from any extra charge. It is a direct charge on the consumer by those handling the milk for sale. The Dairy Commission should study this most carefully before allowing any further increase at this time. Milk and bread are two commodities that are said to have remained the cheapest over the years of rising prices. This may be true in the sense that they are still in a low bracket, but in comparison over the years the price of these has risen perhaps as much and more as other food items. We could go back to bread at 6c a loaf and milk 6c a quart, that is much less than today's prices. Now both bread and milk are in the 31c bracket in the city at least. Over five times as much. Let's not overdo it. Keep it fair.

Will We Have Teachers?

The Postal Strike interfered with the delivery of Student Examination results which in turn is having its effects on registration for courses in the various universities; however, most of the students did receive their results. When schools closed in this province there was still a controversy going on as to teachers and their contracts and the same being agreed to by the Provincial Government. We were of the opinion that School Boards which arranged for their teachers with signed contracts of their own were sure of their staff. Most of these teachers belong to Associations which are dealing with the Government over terms and rates of salaries. Certain schools have collective agreements which come under the Government ruling. Just recently the negotiations broke down between the Government and the Teachers and then the Government came out with a new offer. This offer is to be considered by the Teachers about August 13th. If after such consideration they still disagree, it is leaving it rather late as far as opening school in September is concerned. These negotiations have been going on since away before school closing and there is still no sign of a settlement. It is possible that unless there is a settlement that teachers may refuse to work. We do not believe that the majority of them would want this, but it could happen. There is a period for arbitration and perhaps this method would be taken before absolute refusal to teach which would amount to a strike. While no doubt our teachers have considered all the angles, perhaps they should pursue still further before negotiations cease. Are they slowly working themselves into another group of civil servants and by so doing lose their professional status? At the present time every teacher enjoys being a professional along with the many other types who possess the status. If they allow their case to come to arbitration it may happen that they will end up being civil servants of the Provincial Government. The teaching profession will then have lost much of its glamour and inducement for others to enter. The government could set the standards and scales but the various school boards should do the hiring in accordance. Teachers' Associations would merely be to aid in disputes which called for outside assistance. This would take much of the headache away from the local Boards as they would have a standard to work to and no other Board would be able to offer more inducement than another unless a teacher had the qualifications. The teacher would retain professional status and be able to move around as desired. Higher paid positions would be based on qualifications, years of teaching, specialization, Vice-Principalships and Principalships. Time will tell the story of this one.

Meets With Accident While On Vacation Trip In United States

Mr. and Mrs. Jean Luc Rodrigue of Huntingdon had an unfortunate experience on their holiday fare. They were on their way to Old Orchard Maine, where they were to spend their vacation, on July 28th, when they met with an accident.

The accident happened at Waterboro in a head-on collision with another car. Mrs. Rodrigue suffered a cut on the head that required a number of stitches and her husband suffered some stomach pain. Mrs. Rodrigue was taken to the hospital for treatment and remained for a time. The car was a total wreck.

They were to have met Mr. Rodrigue's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rolland Rodrigue at Old Orchard and spend some time with them. They returned to Huntingdon with their parents on Wednesday, July 31st. Mr. L. Rodrigue is a weaver at Plant 4 of Cley and Tinker and returned to his work on Monday.

Explorers Enjoy Cruise

On Friday afternoon, August 2nd, a large number of the Huntingdon United Church Explorers and their chaperones enjoyed a cruise on "The Lorraine B", owned and operated by Mr. Eric Brown. It was a perfect afternoon for boating. Mr. Brown took the group about ten miles out to Raymond's Island where the girls embarked and had a cook-out with their leaders. Every one spent a leisure hour before returning to Port Lewis. It was an exciting expedition.

Powerscourt

POWERSCOURT - A troop of Girl Guides from Valleyfield and Nitro spent a week at the Scout Camp under the supervision of Mrs. Seale.

Powerscourt U.C.W. met on July 24th at the home of Mrs. Ronald Wood with the President in Charge of the meeting. In the absence of the Sec'y Mrs. R. Wood acted as Sec'y. Get well cards were signed by all present and sent to Mrs. Rosevear and Miss E.

for many of the Explorers who had never been on such a large cruiser before.

Her daughter, Mrs. Bertha McGowan visits her Mother frequently. It is unfortunate that owing to the Postal Strike friends and neighbours cannot send postal messages to those who are confined in hospitals. Mrs. Grenville Sparrow, Marlene and Evelyn of Charteris Que., spent a few days with her parents. On their return home Friday, Mr. and Mrs. Atcheson accompanied them and will visit at the Sparrow home for the next week.

The Chateauguay Terrace Recreation Association pool were hosts to the Chateauguay Property Owners Association swim team in their annual swim meet held on Saturday, July 27th, and this time the C.T.R.A. team emerged the victors over the C.P.O.A. after coming out on the short end for the past two seasons.

The final count in the meet which was scored on a basis of 5 points for first place, 3 points for second, two points for third and one point for fourth saw the C.T.R.A. swimmers outpace the C.P.O.A. by 192 to 168, and enabled them to see their names on the trophy for the first time in its three year history.

C.T.R.A. has reason to be proud, not only for their well deserved victory, but also for the excellent way in which the events were planned and in the many ways that they made their visitors welcome.

Chuck West and Bob Peterson, who trained the Terrace team during their preparation for the meet, obviously performed their duties successfully, especially among the younger element who provided them with the margin of victory in the meet. Pat Gilmore, President of the C.T.R.A., proved an excellent host, and Ross Hill as M.C. was extremely competent in his handling of the afternoon's entertainment.

The scoring of the events was handled by Dolores Gilmore and Mickey Peterson, whose husband Bob, along with Don Campbell and Bud Roper were the judges of the events.

For the Terrace team, Derek West, Ricky Hill, Alan Campbell, Sandy Peterson, Donna Campbell and Dierdre Hirst were among the heroes, while the C.P.O.A. team was paced by Betty Ann Packer, Margaret Irving, Pat Ducey and Steven Roper.

Chris Seary, coach of the C.P.O.A. squad, has done a fine job in rebuilding his team following the loss of many of last season's stars and has every reason to be proud of his charges in spite of their narrow defeat.

The list of winners in the individual events follows, with the time of the winner in each event listed.

We might add that a Coaches' Clinic and possibly a Referees' Clinic will be run prior to the start of the coming hockey season and this should enable those with little or no knowledge of the game to gain good experience and enable them to participate as a coach or referee in the coming season.

Chateauguay Lions Now A Juvenile Team

It was announced last week-end that the Quebec Senior Football Conference has suspended operations indefinitely. Chateauguay Ramblers thus end their eight-year senior career. Ramblers was the only club of last year's three participants to express willingness and financial capacity to continue, but the default of Montreal North Bears and Hawkesbury Hawks left Conference leaders no option but to close down.

However, football will not altogether disappear from Chateauguay, as the Ramblers have re-organized, under virtually the same executive as last year, and will function in the Quebec Juvenile Football Conference, in which the age limit for the coming season has been set at 19 as at January 1st, 1968.

The first practice session under the juvenile banner was held at Laberge Park last Wednesday. Twenty players attended, but a ball team is required to dress 30 players for a game, and a recruiting drive for new players is under way.

The Juvenile Conference last year filled eight teams, but under the current reorganization, only four teams will participate—South Shore, Lachine, Montreal East and Chateauguay. The new season will start, away from Chateauguay, on Sunday August 18th. The season's schedule is in process of development and will be announced shortly.

Last year's Lions full-back Milton Green moves up to professional football with his signing by Hamilton Tiger Cats.

Half-back and punter Russ Martin has joined training camp with a New York Giants farm club. Dave Vickers, end blocker and Les Wells, defensive half-back have been signed for a semi-professional club outside Boston, Massachusetts. Quarter-back Paul Ricciardi expects to dress this season for Sir George Williams University.

Last years Lions' President Fern Menard has been re-elected to serve another term as chief executive. Secretary Joe Pistilli, for many years a devoted Lions worker behind the scenes, is in charge of recruiting. Mr. Pistilli told The Gleaner that the reorganized club needs many new players. Those interested should call Mr. Pistilli at 691-1333.

For the Terrace team, Derek West, Ricky Hill, Alan Campbell, Sandy Peterson, Donna Campbell and Dierdre Hirst were among the heroes, while the C.P.O.A. team was paced by Betty Ann Packer, Margaret Irving, Pat Ducey and Steven Roper.

Chris Seary, coach of the C.P.O.A. squad, has done a fine job in rebuilding his team following the loss of many of last season's stars and has every reason to be proud of his charges in spite of their narrow defeat.

The list of winners in the individual events follows, with the time of the winner in each event listed.

Chateauguay Little League Showing Great Progress

The last week or so has been a tremendously exciting one for the Major Division Tournament Team. On Saturday, July 20th, our team met with the Tournament Team of Kiwanis South. Chateauguay won with a final score of 5 innings versus three. The following Monday, Chateauguay played in Valleyfield and lost against this team again with a final score of 4 innings versus Chateauguay none. As mentioned before, Valleyfield is a much older Little League Baseball Club than Chateauguay, but Chateauguay has continuously beaten Chateauguay in these tournaments for the last five years. In the beginning these victories were very decisive and lack of experience and knowledge could clearly be seen in the game. Even last year, but more so this year, Chateauguay showed that they were by now equally matched and had every chance of winning the game. Valleyfield won again this time but not because their experience and quality of play was superior to ours. We have come a long way therefore and we have every hope that in the next tournaments to come the tide will turn and Chateauguay will be on the map, not only locally, as it is already, but geographically in Canada.

The next tournament was played in Cowansville and was easily won by Chateauguay with a final score of 13 innings versus 4.

Last Friday, Chateauguay played Valleyfield again on Mercier Park since Valleyfield had been defeated by Sherbrooke. Much of what is mentioned above could clearly be seen during this game. It was no doubt one of the most exciting and interesting ball games played in Chateauguay. Right up to the end of the scheduled 6 innings the game was tied three innings each. It was during an extra over-Valleyfield has formed a Sen-

Seignior Park Country Club the Canadian record.

The big upset of the event was scored by Cathy Hoffman, who beat out teammate Judy Lynn Prodan by three metres in the 200 metre breast stroke.

Top performers for the M.A.A.A. team was Suzanne Gosselin who won the 100 metre and 200 metre backstroke events for her club.

Christine Russell, a member of the Seignior Park Country Club, represented the Penguins de Montreal team in the meet, but failed to capture honours in the events she entered.

It was felt for a while that a Canadian record had been bettered on Sunday when the P.C.A.C. club scored a convincing win in the 400 metre relay. Their time in the event was clocked at 4:32 — 6 and the official sheet listed the Canadian record as 4:16.5 and proved the sheet incorrect, much to the disappointment of the P.C.A.C. team.

Arusoo as well as being a member of the relay team scored strong victories in the 200 metre butterfly, the 400 metre medley and the 100 metre butterfly, while Miss Gate won all her events including the 200 metre butterfly, the 100 metre and 400 metre freestyle.

Jim Harrison, a native of Fort Lauderdale Florida, who trains at the Pointe Claire club during summer vacation, took two first place ribbons with wins in 100 metre freestyle and 200 metre freestyle events. His time of 58.5 seconds in the 100 metre race was a scant three seconds off M.A.A.A. 6:00.9; 2. Suzanne Gos-

ROBBERY AT PERRETTE'S

Perrette's Store in Place Chateauguay Medical and Shopping Centre located at Dunver Road and Highway 3 in the Town of Chateauguay was the scene of a robbery during the early morning hours of Saturday, July 27th. According to Store Manager Roger McSweeney, the thieves entered through the rear of the building, forcing open seven doors on their way to the store. SENIOR FOOTBALL ENDS FOR CHATEAUGUAY

Last week-end's announcement that the Quebec Eastern Senior Football Conference has disbanded will be received with disappointment by football lovers in Chateauguy and elsewhere.

gifts to the youngsters. A new constable, Michel Boyer has been hired by the Town on a six month trial.

Parents of English speaking high school students should note the school schedule for 1968-69 which is published in this week's edition of The Gleaner, and please cut it out and clip it on to your kitchen calendar.

One of the survivors of last week's plane crash at Milan, Italy, was reported in a French daily newspaper to be a resident of Chateauguy. Up to the time of writing this could not be confirmed.

One Chateauguy Station resident, Germaine Amyot, of 90 St. John Blvd., will undergo a "public test" of her knowledge next Sunday noon in Montreal when she participates in Mayor Drapeau's Voluntary Tax scheme.

The pool facilities will remain open throughout the evening with a full staff of guards on hand to supervise the proceedings. Everyone is welcome including members and guests.

The swim meet, time of which and location are not yet definitely set, will give Manager Chris Seary the opportunity to erase the memory of the narrow defeat his team suffered at the hands of the Chateauguy Terrace Recreation Association on the Saturday before last, and Chris is confident of the abilities of his team.

No definite date has yet been set for the September Dance which will take place at the Sugar Barn in Ste. Philomene, but an announcement is expected shortly from the Association's Entertainment Committee.

The thieves who entered and looted Perrettes' Store in Place Chateauguy were certainly determined about their work. They forced open seven doors en route to the scene of the crime.

Isn't it about time that the police took action against those without mufflers on their motorcycles who consider our streets to be their personal dragstrips? Or do we have to wait until one of our children is injured or killed before a stop is put to these madmen?

There has been a great improvement in the condition of St. Francis Blvd. near the highway since the last issue. The Town's work crew finally got around to ascending to Phil Bonneau's demands for repairing the road surface.

Although the completion of the building of Howard S. Billings Regional High School is essential to all of us, surely it isn't necessary for the contractor to have work crews on the parking lot before seven in the morning.

Some of the wierd contraptions that are called bicycles have certainly renewed interest in the two-wheel set. Incredibly, most of them are well made and certainly no more dangerous than the standard bike.

A bylaw legalizing the use of plastic garbage bags was put through Council by Alderman Phil Bonneau. The law makes it legal to use the plastic containers provided they are tied at the top. The same law also makes it mandatory by FERGUS HORSBURGH I have no idea what has been happening in Seignior Park this past week, as I am only back from holiday in Vermont in time to meet the press deadline. I hope I may be excused if this week we call the column:

LETTER FROM SEIGNIORY PARK

LETTER FROM VERMONT

This was our tenth visit to Grand Isle, Vermont, and it is now just like going home to go there and see old friends. The fishing is the main reason for going and ranges from ten-pound wall-eyed pike to small perch. The two children each caught their first fish, and Fergus Bruce proved very quickly that he takes after his father - you should hear and see him tell about the big one that got away. Pretty soon he will need longer arms for his visual demonstration.

I did not find Vermonters anti-Vietnam War as might have been expected. But I did see as much as possible of Canada and the United States. These two beautiful countries have much to be proud of. How wonderful to be able to travel so far and meet the various people and hear their views. This broadens one's mind and makes for happiness. I'm just a happy wanderer enjoying my life before I get too old.

Thanks very much for your interesting account, Mrs. Watt. That sure was some trip.

Well, I could go on writing for ever. I enjoyed everything so much and it will be put down in my memory book as the best trip so far. I came from England ten years ago to find them very disinterested in the War, and more concerned about rising taxes and inflation.

Vermont is traditionally Republican, yet most of those I met thought that Bobby Kennedy would have been the best bet in the Presidential election - but Nixon or Rockefeller would be OK, they guessed. There is no racial strife, at least not in Northern Vermont, where all faces seem to be white, Anglo Saxon, Protestant. But one sensed that it was a case of no trouble, yet!

We had a 14-hour power failure when a transformer burned. A temporary replacement was rushed over from Burlington. Moving in to our cottage when we left was a family whose house and all belongings were completely destroyed by fire the previous day. We all saw the fire engines go by and wondered vaguely where they were heading.

There has been a strike of telephone maintenance workers for over three months, but the effect is localized because U.S. law apparently does not permit nation-wide bargaining units in essential services. Surely we could use such a set-up in Canada?

Liquor licences are largely turned over to private enterprise in Vermont, with wine sold in your friendly neighbourhood food store. It is illegal to sell liquor in Vermont on Sundays before noon, so the stores obligingly open for a few hours only, closing at half an hour after noon. Just so the good folks can go to church and pick up a bottle on the way home?

So here we all are back in Chateauguy for the rest of the holiday, and it's good to be back. It seems there was another big weekend at the Club, with the water-polo championships.

Republicans Have A Problem, Can The Loser Win?

Richard M. Nixon was first elected to the U.S. Congress in 1946 by answering a newspaper ad for a congressman. That was one want ad that paid off. Or did it?

The Republican National Convention might answer that question as they rush headlong into another nomination of Nixon as President of the United States. Three weeks ago, this was a certainty. Now it's at least a question. Tricky Dick is the professional with the confidence of the big boys but a public image as a loser.

On the opposition side, there is the mighty Rockefeller. Rocky is the rich man who has not needed much professional aid in his climb up the political ladder. As a result, he is not highly regarded by the party but seems to be a winner to the public.

Finally, Ronald Reagan, long a second-banana in movies, hopes to sneak into the top spot in politics by letting the two leaders knock each other out. In actuality, his best bet is to keep his old role and run with Rocky. He still might do it.

The question is not really who will win this week, it is who can win in November. And the real question is, can Nixon do it.

After only two years in Congress, Richard Nixon found himself an obscure government lawyer on the famous Hiss case. Alger Hiss had convinced just about everybody that he was not a Communist. But not Nixon. His constant pressure brought out Whittaker Chambers and his "pumpkin papers" that were to convict Hiss, who proclaimed his innocence to the bitter end. This outstanding "success" pushed Nixon into the Senate in 1950. Two years later he was elected Vice-President of the United States.

During that campaign, the Nixon scandal was revealed. The secret fund. And most important, the TV appearance which would have done justice to any Ronald Reagan movie. The description of his wife's cloth coat, his dog Checkers and finally, a tear or two. It was a masterful performance, one that saved the Presidency for Dwight Eisenhower. Certainly one of the least effective of all U.S. Presidents. But a most effective. Veep was our big Dick. He travelled the world for Ike. Became a Congressional trouble shooter and hit his high point when he persuaded commie-hating Senator McCarthy to call off an investigation of the C.I.A. In the process he gained personal power and accumulated a lot of political debts that are now being called.

It should be Nixon all the way except for that nagging question, can he beat the Democrats. Public opinion polls show that almost any Democrat can beat Nixon. Those same polls indicate that Nelson Rockefeller would have a better chance. Worth over decision on the first ballot, the tide will turn. Some to Reagan and some to Rocky. They just might decide that together they can beat the world. Or at least the Democrats.

What to watch for? A new name. Perhaps a Senator who has suffered a personal tragedy in the past year. One who can match the public sympathy for the Kennedys. It would seem that a new name is just what the doctor ordered. That old name is the Kiss of Death.

North American Water Polo Contests Held In Chateaugay

Last weekend the Seignior Park Country Club hosted the combined North American and Canadian Water Polo Championship. This was the second occasion that the event was held at Seignior Park. Most years the championships are held in Winnipeg and points west.

Six teams had entered — New York Athletic Club, Hamilton, Toronto, Ottawa, East End Boys Club, Montreal and the Y.M.H.A. (Young Men's Hebrew Association) of Cote St. Luc. Ottawa dropped out as they only showed with six players. All other teams were composed of 12 men.

As anticipated, the New York squad was far too good for the others, and won all their contests by wide margins to win the major international event for the Molson Trophy. A measure of the New Yorkers' overwhelming superiority was that one of the best performances against them was by the Y.W.H.A. (otherwise known as the Montreal Blues, who lost by 42 points to 14.

In the Canadian Section, the Blues emerged winners, with another Montreal team, East End Boys, second.

Charlie Harris of New York was awarded the Most Outstanding Player's Award by the judges. Harris was also the highest individual scorer of the day.

All arrangements for the championships were handled by Meet Manager John Beveridge, who is Assistant Pool Manager at the Country Club.

the building in which the Doctors' offices are located and apparently left in the same way.

Merchandise was taken by the burglars including the complete stock of cigarettes and tobacco. Other items were also lost in the robbery, but no cash was involved in the theft.

The discovery of the crime was made by the police during their regular rounds, when they noticed at approximately 4 P.M. that someone had been on the premises after their previous check of the building.

Indians Clinch Playoff Berth

Caughnawaga Indians clinched the fourth and final playoff spot in the Quebec Lacrosse League at Drummondville on Monday, beating Drummondville 17-11.

The victory put the Indians into a fourth-place tie with Sorel. Each has 20 points, but Caughnawaga has scored more goals. Sorel has already completed its schedule, while the Indians can end up in third place with a victory over Sherbrooke in their last game.

Pidge Norton and Irving Goodleaf sparked Caughnawaga, each scoring four goals. Claude Perreault and Walter Goodleaf each counted two.

Defending scoring champion Ron Ward scored three goals for Drummondville. Alan Herington had two.

Mayor Laberge Resumes Duties

Town of Chateaugay Mayor Joseph Laberge returned home early last week from LaSalle General Hospital, where he had earlier undergone surgery on the gall bladder.

Mayor Laberge has already started a working convalescence, and presided at last week's normal Council meeting. He will resume tonight his regular weekly meeting in the Mayor's office with any ratepayers who wish to see him. But it will of necessity be a case of having to curtail his normal heavy schedule, as the Mayor is not expected to regain his health fully for several weeks.

The score was tied 3-3 at the end of the first period and the Indians went ahead 12-9 by the end of the second.

Chateaugay Boys To Air Cadet Camp

Twentyfour Air Cadets of 028 Squadron are at training camp in St. John's, Quebec for two weeks.

The boys, all residents of Chateaugay, are among 450 at the camp from all over Quebec and Eastern Ontario. The boys have been taken on tips to Terre des Hommes, Quebec City and Ottawa, and some have been fortunate enough to be taken on flights in Otter Aircraft. Some are new to camp life and were a little startled to find that they were expected to rise at 6 in the morning and do physical training BEFORE breakfast!

The boys are due to return to Chateaugay next Saturday, August 10th.

How to clean a girl's best friend — diamonds, of course! Fill a cup with hot water, add a half-cup baby shampoo and a dash of ammonia. Using an eyebrow brush and a cotton swab, gently rub clean. Silver can be cleaned the same way before shining with a good silver polish.

To avoid the annoyance of stretching leather kid gloves — just sprinkle baby powder inside before donning gloves. Baby powder will keep the gloves pliable and soft and absorb any perspiration from your hands that might discolor light-colored gloves.

The business people in every community pay a large percentage of local taxes. Their stocks and stores tell citizens and visitors alike whether the town is a progressive, prosperous community or is in the doldrums. The local and district business firms advertising on this page are doing their utmost these days to promote the interests of the community by stocking a wide variety of goods at reasonable prices. They are entitled to your support, and by supporting them you are helping yourself and your own community. In many instances prices are standard everywhere, so there is actually no object in spending money for transportation to shop in other centres. When that rear end goes, it takes cash to bail you out.

Cash is great invention; everyone accepts it. That's why at the Commerce we recommend you use our complete banking service. For the expenses you know you're going to have — the rent, the phone, the electricity — cover yourself with a Chequing Account. But also, keep a cushion in a Savings Account. As long as you don't need it, it's growing; but when you do, it's there.

And it gives you a feeling of independence; nothing else can match. Problems happen. Opportunities happen too. That's when it's great to have cash on hand.

Keep cash on hand at the Commerce.

Ils ont trouvé la clef du succès

De temps à autre vous avez sans doute lu le nom de Jean Lussier mentionné dans le Gleaner. L'histoire de sa famille et la façon dont ils ont établi différentes entreprises agricoles est très intéressante; la voici.

Il y a environ 30 ans, René Lussier, père de Jean et Jean commençant en affaires avec environ 600 pommmiers. En dix ans, leur nombre avait passé à 3000. En 1944-45, 5000 autres arbres furent plantés. En 1947-48, Jean et Jean faisaient le commerce des pommes à Montréal. L'augmentation de la production fit songer aux frères Lussier qu'un entrepôt était devenu une nécessité; aussi en 1952 une vieille écurie achetée de la paroisse St-Antoine fut convertie en entrepôt ayant une capacité de 25,000 minots. Les affaires continuent à augmenter en 1955 les frères Lussier louaient un espace d'entrepôt frigorifique de Châteauguay Coop et aussi à Montréal pour 30,000 autres minots.

En 1963 ils construisirent un entrepôt et usine d'emballage ayant une capacité de 100,000 dont 40,000 minots à température contrôlée et le reste à température frigorifique. Un département de classement où l'on peut emballer 300 boîtes de pommes à l'heure a aussi été ajouté et depuis deux ans, on y travaille à l'année longue. En 1963 également, les Lussier commencent l'exportation de pommes en Angleterre, Suède et aux Etats-Unis et au cours de 1965, une année record, les exportations se chiffraient à un demi-million de dollars. En 1967 on augmentait la capacité de l'entrepôt de 30,000 minots.

Toute la famille s'occupe de pomiculture. Jean et Jean ainsi que les fils de ce dernier, Guy, s'occupent d'emballage et de distribution. Norman, Tancrède, Jean, Claude et Guy voient à la production. La famille possède 25,500 arbres dont 21,000 à Franklin et dans la région ainsi que 4,500 à Missisquoi et grâce à leurs possibilités d'emballage et d'entreposage ils achètent les produits de producteurs de la région de Franklin également.

Jean et son neveu Gilles Lussier ont aussi entrepris le développement de Dune Farm Incorporated. En 1965, les deux frères achetèrent la ferme d'Alcide Caza située près de Cazaville, soit 90 acres de terrain, ils plantèrent des fraises sur une étendue de 15 acres et à l'automne 1966, des framboisiers répartis sur 19 acres. Au printemps de 1967 ils achetèrent une autre ferme dans la même région, soit 236 acres, appartenant à Roméo Caza. Là ils semèrent du blé d'inde sucré pour vente au marché. A l'automne de la même année ils ajoutèrent 135 acres à leur avoir et louèrent une autre ferme de même superficie. Sur ces terres, ils semèrent 250 acres de blé d'inde sucré, 60 de blé d'inde sec, 25 acres de tomates, 15 acres de concombres, 20 acres de fraises, 10 acres de famboses et 6 acres de courges. Ils firent aussi des expériences avec des choux de Bruxelles et des piments. Le reste du terrain sera prêt à cultiver l'an prochain. Au printemps de cette année, ils faisaient construire un entrepôt de 86 x 40

ICI ET LA dans la ville

Lundi matin marquait l'heure du retour au travail pour une grande partie de la population locale. La plupart arborant des teints bronzés, résultat de nombreuses heures en plein air ou dans l'eau, soit aux environs ou sur des plages éloignées.

Atlantic City, Old Orchard, Lac George, Laurentides, etc., on fait le sujet de plusieurs conversations au cours de la pause-café. Chacun semble avoir profité grandement de son congé et se remet à la tâche.

L'activité a repris dans les établissements commerciaux qui avaient été quelque peu désertés au cours des deux semaines précédentes.

Quant aux jeunes, il leur reste encore un mois de répit; il en est de même pour les professeurs dont plusieurs ont profité de leur congé pour suivre des cours de recyclage.

Au Gleaner, chacun a repris son poste et est désireux de vous informer le mieux possible.

Les grèves de postes
A cause de la grève des postes, des mesures ont été prises pour faire parvenir les chèques de rente sur l'Etat aux destinataires. Le Ministère du Travail du Canada annonce que ces chèques pourront être réclamés aux centres de Main d'Oeuvre du Canada. Ceux dont les chèques viennent à échéance du 1er au 7 août pourront réclamer leur chèque au bureau régional 63a Champlain, Valleyfield entre 9 a.m. et 3:30 p.m. n'importe quel jour de la semaine.

Quant aux mères nécessiteuses, aux filles et aux veuves âgées de 60 ans et aux incapables au travail, elles devront s'adresser au bureau régional annexe le gouvernement provincial.

Sur le pouce
Un jeune étudiant français arrivait au Canada à la fin de juin. A un automobiliste qui le recueillit sur la route près de Trout River la semaine dernière, il raconta qu'il venait de Washington, D.C. sur le pouce. Depuis son arrivée chez nous, il le voyage de cette façon, demandant la permission de coucher dans une grange à l'endroit où il se trouve; il a ainsi visité beaucoup de villes tant au Canada qu'aux Etats-Unis. Il faut une certaine somme de courage et beaucoup de débrouillardise pour s'aventurer ainsi en terre étrangère; mais il disait que cette expérience est très enrichissante pour lui. Nous n'en doutons pas et nous l'automobiliste l'a fait, nous lui souhaitons de rencontrer de bons samaritains qui le reconduisent au drapeau français qu'il agit pour attirer leur attention.

Nouveau dentiste
Un petit bout de chou qui a dû lui rendre visite ces jours derniers était tout fier de dire que le nouveau dentiste lui avait extrait deux dents sans aucune douleur. Une autre personne qui a aussi visité son bureau se dit enchantée de ses services. Il est donc bon de savoir qu'on pourra désormais recourir à lui en cas de besoin; plus besoin de se rendre ailleurs puisque nous avons maintenant un

Assemblée du conseil

Lundi le 5 août, le Maire Cappelletti présidait l'assemblée régulière du Conseil de Villeneuve. Les membres étaient présents.

Les minutes de l'assemblée précédente furent lues et approuvées; également les comptes de la mois.

M. Romain Ménard s'adressa ensuite au Conseil pour demander ce qui sera fait au sujet de l'égout qui passe sur son terrain (ancien site de Builders' Supply). Il expliqua qu'il a l'intention de bâtir et que l'égout se trouverait directement sous la construction. On étudiera la situation et on prendra les mesures nécessaires pour éviter toute complication.

Le secrétaire fit la lecture de deux lettres. L'une du maire de Huntingdon Angleterre et l'autre de M. Wm. R. Wilson. Elles sont publiées dans le compte-rendu anglais dans une autre colonne de cette édition.

Proposé par M. McGerrigle, secondé par M. Brisebois que l'offre de Caza & Frères pour le pavage du côté de la rue Prince (jusqu'au trottoir) de la rue Lake à la rue Roosevelt et de la rue Chalmers de Dalhousie à Cemetery soit acceptée au montant de $1885.

Le secrétaire reçut instruction d'écrire au contracteur général de l'école régionale afin qu'il remette la rue Centre dans l'état où elle était avant le début de la construction.

M. McGerrigle fit remarquer que plusieurs poubelles restent à la rue pendant plusieurs jours. La police devra vérifier et prendre action.

Proposé par M. McGerrigle, secondé par M. Laplante que l'Hydro-Quebec soit autorisé à installer une lumière dans le terrain de stationnement de la rue Châteauguay.

M. Gaw présenta un rapport des activités de la police au cours des mois de juillet et août. Parmi les nombreux incidents nous avons relevé ceux-ci: 143 appels, 273 heures de patrouille, dirigé la circulation pour 9 funérailles, enquête sur 10 accidents, 7 vols, distribué des billets de contravention aux lois de la circulation, etc., etc.

Les personnes intéressées sont avisées de couper le foin et les broussailles sur les lots vacants. (Voir annonce).

Le rôle d'évaluation a été déposé au bureau du secrétaire-trésorier où les intéressés peuvent en prendre connaissance. (Prochaine annonce).

La prochaine assemblée aura lieu mardi, le 3 septembre, à cause du congé de la Fête du Travail.

ICI ET LA dans la ville

Lundi matin marquait l'heure du retour au travail pour une grande partie de la population locale. La plupart arborant des teints bronzés, résultat de nombreuses heures en plein air ou dans l'eau, soit aux environs ou sur des plages éloignées.

Atlantic City, Old Orchard, Lac George, Laurentides, etc., on fait le sujet de plusieurs conversations au cours de la pause-café. Chacun semble avoir profité grandement de son congé et se remet à la tâche.

L'activité a repris dans les établissements commerciaux qui avaient été quelque peu désertés au cours des deux semaines précédentes.

Quant aux jeunes, il leur reste encore un mois de répit; il en est de même pour les professeurs dont plusieurs ont profité de leur congé pour suivre des cours de recyclage.

Au Gleaner, chacun a repris son poste et est désireux de vous informer le mieux possible.

Les grèves de postes
A cause de la grève des postes, des mesures ont été prises pour faire parvenir les chèques de rente sur l'Etat aux destinataires. Le Ministère du Travail du Canada annonce que ces chèques pourront être réclamés aux centres de Main d'Oeuvre du Canada. Ceux dont les chèques viennent à échéance du 1er au 7 août pourront réclamer leur chèque au bureau régional 63a Champlain, Valleyfield entre 9 a.m. et 3:30 p.m. n'importe quel jour de la semaine.

Quant aux mères nécessiteuses, aux filles et aux veuves âgées de 60 ans et aux incapables au travail, elles devront s'adresser au bureau régional annexe le gouvernement provincial.

Sur le pouce
Un jeune étudiant français arrivait au Canada à la fin de juin. A un automobiliste qui le recueillit sur la route près de Trout River la semaine dernière, il raconta qu'il venait de Washington, D.C. sur le pouce. Depuis son arrivée chez nous, il le voyage de cette façon, demandant la permission de coucher dans une grange à l'endroit où il se trouve; il a ainsi visité beaucoup de villes tant au Canada qu'aux Etats-Unis. Il faut une certaine somme de courage et beaucoup de débrouillardise pour s'aventurer ainsi en terre étrangère; mais il disait que cette expérience est très enrichissante pour lui. Nous n'en doutons pas et nous l'automobiliste l'a fait, nous lui souhaitons de rencontrer de bons samaritains qui le reconduisent au drapeau français qu'il agit pour attirer leur attention.

Nouveau dentiste
Un petit bout de chou qui a dû lui rendre visite ces jours derniers était tout fier de dire que le nouveau dentiste lui avait extrait deux dents sans aucune douleur. Une autre personne qui a aussi visité son bureau se dit enchantée de ses services. Il est donc bon de savoir qu'on pourra désormais recourir à lui en cas de besoin; plus besoin de se rendre ailleurs puisque nous avons maintenant un

More About A Visit To England

By Sidney Smith

One week of our holiday was almost behind us — gone all too swiftly yet most enjoyable as we had visited with our relatives. After a few brief nearby visits, we had planned to take a trip along the south coast of England to Devon and Cornwall and then back by the north coast and inland to London. We know now that this was a little too ambitious for a three week trip if you want to see the places you pass through and enjoy the pleasure of the trip. We cut it down to Worthing, then on to Chard, then to Trowbridge and Stonehenge. We intended starting out early on Monday morning and being back by Friday night.

Monday morning came and it became necessary for Mrs. Smith to have her glasses repaired. An appointment had to be made on Monday morning which was for 4 p.m. in the afternoon. Thus Monday was out. By Monday night, we were truly glad that we had developed a chest cough that threatened all sorts of things. Tuesday called for a day of nursing this cold.

The above gives a general view of part of the huge stones known as Stonehenge, at Salisbury, England. It would seem that it has only recently become commercialized and that an admission is charged to view these Druid stones or rocks, some of which have fallen and the circle they once formed is no longer perfect.

Wednesday morning arrived and while somewhat better, I was determined not to delay further and had already phoned and cancelled the Worthing visit. The weather was excellent, in fact it was quite hot and there had been no rain for many days. We set out with the intention of making the most of this beautiful surrounding and is quite pictures-ing Trowbridge by afternoon if possible. We went a long distance north to avoid the London traffic and in order to get south. We were successful in this and the trip took us through some very nice country. I was not feeling too notch, so we did not travel fast and stopped here and there as we felt like it.

We arrived at Trowbridge in early afternoon and found the office of the gentleman we were to call on. However, he was away so we could not do the business we wanted to. We decided to go on to Chard which was only about 40 or 50 miles further on and then to come back the next day to attend to our business.

After some refreshment we went on to Chard and arrived there in the early evening. First we booked into a hotel for the night and had dinner. Later we enquired where Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Pace lived and obtained the directions. On this trip we had Mrs. Smith's sister, Florence, Mrs. A. Parker. We all went to the Pace house and found Charlie and Emily there. They were

In the above photograph is a rather special arrangement of the stones, being three-two upright and one across the top of the two. This is known as a trithen and has some sort of significance. Where the top one rests on the other two, dowels have been made which fit into each other, probably to prevent shifting. It is hard to understand how all these stones were put into position originally when one considers their size and weight. For three thousands years they have withstood the ravages of weather and time.

The house is situated at the end of a cul-de-sac so there is no traffic and it is very quiet except for the singing of the birds. Charlie and Emily are some of the few who have central heating in the house and it was quite cosy there during the evening. They told us that next day they expected to have Mr. and Mrs. John Telfer visit them and stay for a few days. They however, were coming by train. This was all too short a visit, but we were glad we had made it. We would have like to get some pictures of the garden but it was too late in the evening. Both Emily and Charlie wished to be remembered to all their friends in Huntingdon area.

Next morning, it was back to Trowbridge and we got this done in satisfactory manner and decided to go on to Stonehenge to see that wonderful place of historical note. This is situated on Salisbury Plains and many a veteran who has served in the wars will remember these plains as military camps. Stonehenge is quite close to one of the permanent barracks. The thing which struck me was, that only now are the British commercializing this spot. They have put up a temporary hut and roped enclosure and make a charge to go and see the stones. There is also a parking spot for cars and sight

Postal Casualty

Like a considerable number of others in the same and other newspaper and magazine categories, likewise with a vast volume of other mail, the July issue of Canadian Ayrshire Review is a victim of the Nation-wide Postal Strike. And, since it will have to be processed through the Montreal bottleneck it will doubtless be sometime hence before the said Review's regular subscribers receive their copies.

However, while our own personal copy is still in the Montreal piles of held-up postal material, we were obliged for a copy of the July Review from J. Douglas MacKeehinie when he was in attendance at the Burnside Sale.

It is noted that the celebrated Ayrshire cow Lou Supreme, owned by Sydney Mode, Vankleek Hill, Ont., regained her grand-champion status at Lachute Spring Fair. Her third such at that Fair it will be recalled that she was relegated to third place in her class at Ormstown this year.

Herd Averages

One of the features of the July issue of Canadian Ayrshire Review is the annual Herd Average report for the year March 1, 1967 to February 28, 1968.

Almost three pages regarding the achievements, in a production way, of herds in which the B.C.A. averages were 113% or more. However, in so far as we are aware only a dozen or so Ayrshire herds in the Hubick. Huntingdon Ayrshire Club area so qualified, and in Group A. (6 to 15 records) only three, including:

Arnold Van Wijk, St. Valentin — 9 records: average 9,537 lbs. milk, 394 lbs. fat; B.C.A.'s 120 milk, 121 fat.

Allan W. Kyle, Hemmingford — 13 records: average 9,229 lbs. milk, 387 lbs. fat; B.C.A.'s 115 milk, 117 fat.

D. A. Finlayson, Ormstown — 14 records: average 9,423 lbs. milk, 372 lbs. fat; B.C.A.'s 116 milk, 112 fat.

Group B (16 to 25 records): Archie Roy, Howick — 24 records: average 9,935 lbs. milk, 427 lbs. fat; B.C.A.'s 123 milk, 129 fat.

R. J. Taylor, Huntingdon — 25 records: average 9,954 lbs. milk, 366 lbs. fat; B.C.A.'s 121 milk, 108 fat.

Group C (26-40 records): R. W. McFarlane, Howick — 38 records: average 11,983 lbs. milk, 484 lbs. fat; B.C.A.'s 144 milk, 143 fat.

R. B. McFarlane, Howick — 35 records: average 10,931 lbs. milk, 445 lbs. fat; B.C.A.'s 137 milk, 136 fat.

J. E. Ness, Howick — 37 records: 9,784 lbs. milk, 422 lbs. fat; B.C.A.'s 121 milk, 127 fat.

Davies Bros., Huntingdon — 34 records: average 9,167 lbs. milk, 362 lbs. fat; B.C.A.'s 117 milk, 112 fat.

Group D. (41 Records and over): Allan H. Wilson, Franklin Centre — 49 records: average 10,994 lbs. milk, 429 lbs. fat; B.C.A.'s 134 milk, 128 fat.

R. R. Ness & Sons, Ltd., Howick — 42 records: average 10,664 lbs. milk, 427 lbs. fat; B.C.A.'s 131 milk, 128 fat.

The Burnside Sale It was widely advertised in Ayrshire publications across Canada and the United States as being held in commemoration of the 75th Anniversary of the founding of the Burnside Ayrshire herd by the late (Hon.) R. R. and Margaret Ness. However, as apart from a few brief complimentary comments by Auctioneer Tom Whittaker; a brief eulogy by President Archie Roy on behalf half Ayrshire Breeders' Association of Canada, emphasizing the services rendered to that breed of Cattle during the past 75 years; and a brief address in French by Warren Ross, President of the Quebec Provincial Ayrshire Club, it was just an ordinary Burnside sale. Comparable with former sales which were held annually for a considerable number of years, and then every other year or so during the past decade, but without the fanfare and ceremonies one usually sees in connection with such historic events.

Nevertheless it was a sale offering of which one may well say: "Burnside and the other consignors are to be congratulated on the quality and bloodlines of the animals offered by same. With the exception of the last four or five heifers sold, the Burnside offering of bred heifers were all members of well-known Burnside families, with a considerable number of same being grand-daughters of the noted Carnell Never Fear, the balance being grand-daughters of other noted Burnside sires.

The other consignors, from other herds in Quebec, Ontario, Vermont and New York were:

Dr. Murray and Martha Dunsmore, St. Albans, Vermont — a son and two daughters of Selwood Betty's Commander, with a baby heifer calf, for a total of $1,895.

Fred J. Bova, Burke, N.Y.: 2 heifers which sold for a total of $1,100.

Ralph Cooley, Ghent, N.Y.: 2 heifers for a total of $1,300.

The Ontario consignors included:

Orville Colville, Lombardy: 2 at $1,100; Alex M. Wallace, Smiths Falls: 1 at $305.

Eric Craddock, Aurora, Ont.: 1 at $1,050; W. S. Ramer, Richmond Hill: 1 at $470; A. H. Clark, Georgetown: 1 at $560.

Costly, But! Considering the distances involved, in the case of most of the outside the area consignors, thereby heavy transportation costs, it might be said that, in such instances, it was an expensive way to sell these cattle. But in doing so those so concerned were actuated by a desire to pay tribute to Burnside and its 75 years of service on behalf of the Ayrshire Breed of Cattle in Canada.

Interment in Union Cemetery, Covey Hill, Que. He is survived by his wife, the former, Bertha Orr.

Born at Covey Hill, May 31st, 1881, he remained on the farm and like his ancestors had taken an active interest in the Militia, was chosen with others to represent Canada at the Coronation of King George V, in London, England, June 22nd, 1911. An incident well worthy of comment.

Not in the case of one of the few new car dealers who finances his own credit sales. He has three ways of making money. First, on the sale of the new car. Second, if he can sell the trade-in for more than he allowed on the new car. And third, on the finance charges. Apparently your friend was pushing such a hard bargain that the dealer felt the only area in which he could make a satisfactory profit was in the area of the finance charges. He felt, obviously, that he could make up the difference between the profit he needed and the profit on the new car-trade-in combination from his profit on the financing. However, if your friend was going to pay cash for the new car, there wouldn't be any profit on the financing, would there?

Dear Sir: A friend had an experience the other day which I think is weird. He went to buy a new car the other day and was quoted a price. He and the salesman dickered for a while — so much more for the trade-in; so much less on the price of the car — but could come to no agreement. Finally, the salesman asked if he was going to finance the balance of the new car or pay cash. When my friend said he'd pay cash, the salesman said that that was too bad. If he was going to finance it, the salesman could give him a better price on the car. What went on here? I would think the salesman would be more anxious for the customer to pay cash.
