The complaint of the council of Morris, Man., regarding the legalization of bonus by-laws to the Canadian Pacific railway in 1883 is being investigated. It appears, applications were made to legalize another by-law, and that through manipulation by some member an objectionable by-law was also legalized by the clandestine insertion of a few words, though the petition for its legalization was withdrawn. The title of the bill was also tampered with. The committee came to the conclusion that gross fraud had been perpetrated. The reflection is not on the Canadian Pacific railway, but on persons interested in booming the town.

MR. GLADSTONE'S PLEA.

He Claims that Justice will be Done to Ireland at no Distant Day.

LONDON, May 10.—An address signed by 3730 dissenting ministers was presented to Mr. Gladstone yesterday, expressing their sympathy with him in his efforts to reconcile England and Ireland. In reply to the address Mr. Gladstone said that during the present session the Parnellites, despite the pressing needs of Ireland, had refrained from urging their claims, and had assisted the Government to expedite business. Whether or not Parliament was employed at this or that given time in discussing Ireland, it was Ireland alone that truly held the key to legislation. The Government knew that the nation was with Home Rule, and, therefore, guided the affairs of Parliament so as to delay the time when a Ministry would be in power pledged to propose Home Rule for Ireland. The majority in the House of Commons thought they could go on for five years. They put this against his life as an old man, but the life of an old or young man would not affect the final settlement. (Cheers.) Justice would be done to Ireland. Ere long the national sentiment would find means to assert itself. The Tories plumed themselves upon being the defenders of law and order. Instead of maintaining order, the Government had promoted murderous breaches of the law. Mr. Parnell was as much devoted to the maintenance of law and order as any one. Neither he nor Mr. Parnell vindicated the "plan of campaign." The Government's conduct had created the "plan of campaign" by making the law odious to the people. The object of the Government seemed to be to insult, exasperate and degrade the Irish. As soon as the terrible facts regarding the suffering in Ireland were brought home to the upright minds of the people of England they would unite to redress the errors of the past. (Cheers.)

A Member of the Dominion Alliance and the Proposed License Law.

The Committee on Legislation of the Dominion Alliance met Wednesday afternoon to discuss the License law project prepared by Judge Dugas and others. As Mr. R. C. Smith, who was to hand in his report, was unavoidably absent, the meeting was adjourned until to-day. It was, however, decided to send 500 copies of the project to all parts of the province. A circular asking for opinions and suggestions will be sent with each copy. One of the officers of the Alliance expressed himself much disappointed with the projected law, and said that it was clearly in favor of the liquor trade. It was obvious, he said, that a permanency of the licenses favors that trade; and such a clause, he added, will never be accepted by the people of Montreal. Even such obvious advantages for the shop-keepers as immunity from prosecution, if some one drinks liquor on his premises, are provided for in the new draft. Under the present law, not only the shopkeeper, but also the one that drinks in the shop is punishable, in the new draft the shopkeeper is free. There would be, he said, a determined stand made against such, and many other provisions which made the project not only no improvement, but actually deteriorated the present law.

CATTLE UNDERWRITING.

The Steamship Owners Give Their Version of the Dispute With the Cattle Shippers.

A communication has been furnished the press on behalf of the Allan, Dominion and Beaver Lines, showing the question of cattle underwriting from the steamship owners' point of view. It shows that the lines by the Allan, Dominion and Beaver horses during the three years prior to 1888 were only a fraction over a quarter of one per cent. only 328 head having died out of 117,753 shipped. Last year of all the cattle shipped, 68,337, the three companies named lost 118, two other regular lines 36 and all other vessels 843. The writer alleges that the cattle underwriting pool of last year classified steamers according to their own theories and determined the rates of premium without regard to the standing, character or value of the ships. Having made the monopoly the pool's premiums were 1¼ to 1½ per cent. on the regular lines and on the other vessels only from ¼ to ½ per cent. dearer, leaving a profit to the pool on the regular lines, but a loss on the others. The pool then recouped themselves by charging exorbitant premiums for the rest of the season. In September the rates were doubled, and later advanced from 3 to 5 per cent. for cattle on the main deck and 4 per cent. for early October, and up to ten per cent. at the close of the season was asked for the regular lines. The cattle poolers injured the regular lines by rating low classed vessels and they injure the whole trade by extortionate premiums. The course pursued by the steamship lines, the writer argues, is perfectly correct and justifiable. In any case each line is free to fix its own rates on freight, to take or refuse, the only common agreement being that the rate named include insurance. The combination, he contends, is neither illegal nor oppressive.

The cattle shippers have decided to boycott the three lines whenever practicable.

Building Improvements.

The block of buildings recently completed on Craig street for Messrs. Hughes and Stephenson, are one of the finest and most striking erected in this city and are generally admired. The architects, Messrs. Hopkins, of St. James street, in consequence of the design being so effective, are drawing plans for buildings in the same style for Lord Elphinstone, at Vancouver, B. C., and the C. P. R. have also given instructions for the construction of certain buildings on the same model. The three stores in question have a frontage of about 80 feet by 85 deep and 65 high. They consist of three stories built of "rag" or native stone faced, with four stories from the basement. All the work is of the most solid description, the foundations being on concrete and the girders all of wrought iron.

The improvements being made in the building occupied by Mr. G. W. Clarke, 240 St. James street, will add to the architectural features of that thoroughfare. The front of the establishment is to receive a new and striking plate glass front, nearly forty feet long, and the front of the house will be otherwise adorned. The interior of the building, where new floorings are being laid down, will have wider staircases, and new heating appliances will be introduced. The building, when completed, will be known as the "Universal."

Fluctuations of the River During the Winter.

Mr. John Barlow, leveller, of the City Surveyor's Office, has prepared a tabulated statement of the various levels of the river during the past winter, from the water works at Ste. Cunegonde to Longue Pointe. He says the statement only confirms him in his opinion that Father St. Lawrence is a most eccentric character, and that familiarity with his vagaries for years does not make him more easily understood. On the 20th April the water at the tail race stood at 18 feet 8 inches above datum, while at Longue Pointe at the same time it reached only 5 feet above datum. On the day previous it was 16 feet 3 inches at the tail race and 6 feet 10 inches at Longue Pointe. The following levels show the gradual rise and fall of the water opposite the city during the winter: December 20, 2½ feet below datum; on the 27th December 4 feet 2¼ inches above; on 1st January 15 feet above. It then began falling until on the 6th March it reached 6 feet 7 inches above, when it began to rise again, reaching on the 23rd April 17 feet 3 inches, when it began to fall, and is doing so still.

Diocesan Meeting.

At the quarterly meeting of the Executive Committee of the Synod of the Diocese held yesterday, the Bishop presiding, the question of the construction of a fire proof vault for the diocesan records was referred to a committee on the Synod House. The Committee on Grants recommended that the Alleyne Mission grant be increased by $50, which was agreed to. The treasurer's statement of the several funds in his charge was read, showing a balance for the Mission fund of $4400. The question of paying the travelling expenses of members of committees was referred to a committee. It was decided that the adjourned meeting of the Executive Committee be held on June 7, at 4 p. m., the Committee on Grants meeting the same day at eleven o'clock.

To Replace St. James Street Methodist Church.

At last, after weeks and weeks of cautious deliberations, the trustees of St. James Street Methodist church have adopted the plan of Mr. A. F. Dunlop, architect, 162 St. James street, who also planned the magnificent new church building on St. Catherine street, for the new building that is to take the place of the old church on St. James street. It is to contain one hundred offices, divided over the six upper stories, which will be made accessible by two passenger elevators, while the ground floor will be occupied by two stores and two banks with safety deposit vaults in the basement. The building will run from St. James street to Fortification Lane.

Union St. Joseph.

The following have been elected officers of the L'Union St. Joseph: President, A. Laurier; 1st Vice-President, B. Frigon; 2nd Vice-President, J. Lambert; Secretaries, J. Letellier, A. Major, A. Bourdon; Treasurer, A. Gosselin; assist.-treasurer, F. T. Monette. The treasurer's report shows $2577 to have been paid, since Nov. 1, for sick benefits; $423 to orphans; and $1225 to widows. The membership of the society is 1143, and the funds amount to $17,369, their building being valued at $12,000.

Mr. Dunham's Affairs.

There is every probability that Mr. Dunham, of the Balmoral, will ultimately effect a compromise with his creditors. A meeting was held Wednesday afternoon, when he made an offer of 20 cents in the dollar. All the creditors, with the exception of one, signed an agreement by which they accept the offer. The matter is at present in statu quo pending the result of efforts being made to bring the opposing creditor into line.

The Charge Was Too Vague.

Messrs. J. B. Chevigny, F. Dugas, Louis Bazinet, A. Cabana, A. Magnan and Geo. DesRoches, of Joliette, write to state that they have not been arrested in connection with the Lavallée affair. The honorable gentleman, they say, applied for warrants against them, but owing to the vagueness of the complaint, Judge Chauveau did not believe himself justified in granting the warrants.

A Good Increase.

The traffic receipts of the C. P. R. for the week ending May 7 were $221,000, compared with $204,000 for the same time last year, showing an increase of $17,000 for 1888. The above does not include the earnings on the South Eastern Railway.

Traffic Receipts.

The traffic receipts of the G. T. R. for last week were $328,129 against $356,259 last year, being a decrease of $28,122.

SECRECY REMOVED

From the Fishery Debate in the United States Senate.

Text of the Majority and Minority Reports to Congress—Republican Objections and Democratic Approval.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 10.—Mr. Hoar's resolution for a stenographer to take official reports of the debate on the fisheries treaty was adopted in secret executive session today as slightly amended by Senator Tellar, and it is probable the debate will be published from day to day in the Record. The question of giving publicity to the reports of the Foreign Relations committee, adverse to and in support of the treaty, was then discussed and the injunction of secrecy was removed from both. The majority report, after an extended review of the objections urged and criticisms of the method of negotiation, summarizes the objections as follows:

1. The United States recognize as British territory and renounce forever all claim of independent right in all the great bays along the British North American coasts named in the treaty, and admit that all such bays form a part and are within British territorial sovereignty and jurisdiction.

2. Of the few of such great bays that are left to be visited by American fishermen, the larger part are understood to be valueless, and some of them are subject to French fishery rights older than our own, if they are British bays.

3. If bay fishing is not profitable now it may be in the future.

4. Whether profitable or not, the United States

OUGHT NOT TO GIVE UP, upon any consideration whatever, the right of its vessels of every character to visit and carry on business in any part of the public seas.

5. The treaty surrenders the claim and right of the United States, which has been acted upon and exercised for now more than a century, of its vessels engaged in fishing or other occupations, to visit and to carry on their business in these great bays, and the principle of which claim and right has once been solemnly decided against Great Britain by a tribunal organized under a treaty with that Government.

6. The new area of delimitation described in the treaty greatly increases the danger of our fishermen unintentionally invading prohibited waters, and thereby exposing themselves to seizures and penalties.

7. The treaty, by its fifth article, renounces any right of the United States in any bay, etc., however large, that cannot be reached from the sea without passing within the three marine miles mentioned in article 1 of the convention of October 20, 1818, thus excluding vessels of the United States from all waters, however extensive, and the distance between whose headlands however great, the sailing channel to which may happen to be within three miles of the shores.

8. The treaty is a complete surrender of any claim of a right now existing, either under the treaty of 1783, the treaty of 1818, the acts of Congress and the British orders-in-council of 1830, or the twenty-ninth article of the treaty of 1871, for vessels of the United States on the high seas and even having a commercial character also to enter any port of British North America for any commercial purpose whatever, and puts in the place of these clear rights, which in respect of British fishing vessels exist in the United States to the fullest extent, greatly restricted and conditional rights as arising solely from a present grant of Great Britain.

9. It binds the United States to be content with whatever is given by this treaty as the full measure of its right and to be content with it for ever or until greater hospitality and freedom of intercourse can be obtained by further concessions of consideration on our part.

10. In the face of all this it leaves British North American fishing vessels possessed of all commercial rights in all the ports and waters of the United States.

11. Whatever privileges of commerce or hospitality of humanity thus provided for in the treaty are to be obtained only upon condition that no fishing vessel of the United States shall receive any of them unless such fishing vessels shall, under regulations of the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States, be branded with an official number on each bow, and that such regulations shall, before they become effectual, be communicated to Her Majesty's Government.

12. It provides that general, and even then much limited, commercial rights and rights of transhipment, as mentioned in article 13, shall be obtained only at the price of exempting all Canadian fishery products from our customs duties.

13. Its provision concerning the executive and judicial treatment of American vessels and fishermen that may be for supposed illegal conduct are, to make the most of them, nothing other and probably something less than a statement of what the laws and conduct of any administration of every Government professing to be civilized should adopt and exercise as an act of duty and justice.

14. Instead of diminishing sources of irritation and sources of difficulty, different interpretations and disputes, it will, the committee thinks, very largely increase them. Various other suggestions adverse to the wisdom of ratifying this treaty might easily be made, but the committee does not think it necessary to go into them. The majority report concludes as follows: The committee cannot but hope that, if these ill-advised negotiations, which as is known to all the world cannot properly commit the United States in any degree till they shall have received the constitutional assent of the Senate, shall fail to meet the approval of this body Her Majesty's Government will take measures to secure justice and fair treatment in her North American Dominion to American vessels and American citizens in all respects and under all circumstances, and that that Government will see the justice and propriety of according to American vessels engaged in the business of fishing all the commercial rights and facilities in her North American ports that are so freely and cheerfully accorded to her own in the ports of the United States, and that thus the which ought to exist between neighboring nations may be finally established and secured. The majority resent the President's action in declining to submit all the correspondence incidental to the negotiations to the treaty. The assumption that a portion of such correspondence could be entrusted exclusively to the discretion and control of the Executive, and properly withheld from the Senate, is believed to be contrary to the essential nature of the constitutional relations between the President and the Senate, and in violation of the continuous practice from the foundation of the Government.

The report of the minority opens with a statement that the objections of the majority are based on the claim: 1. That the treaty was negotiated by persons not duly empowered to conclude a treaty. 2. That on its merits the treaty is not expedient, and should not be ratified. The minority claim that in accepting the papers sent to the Senate as a treaty, and referring it to a committee, the Senate has already waived any informality which may exist, and has left over the merits of the treaty as a subject of consideration. The minority then proceed to the consideration of the objections urged against the treaty and claim that there is no just ground for its rejection or dissatisfaction with its provisions. It is claimed that in view of the grave emergency presented by this old and harassing controversy objections of a purely formal and technical character should not be pressed. The minority claim that the interest of the entire country, and especially of the class engaged in the North Atlantic fisheries, justify and demand

THE RATIFICATION OF THE TREATY.

The minority report then proceeds with a review of the historical developments of the fishery dispute. It is claimed that it is better to resort to a treaty arrangement for the regulation of our fisheries rights than to depend simply upon the law of nations. The treaty under consideration will, it is believed, lead to a full and amicable adjustment of all the troubles which have arisen and is far in advance of anything that has heretofore been demanded of the British Government. Measures of retaliation, non-intercourse and other forms of hostility are deprecated, and it is claimed that in the negotiation of the treaty the President has only performed a plain duty, and has transferred to the Senate the grave responsibility which he has properly discharged. The protocol to the treaty or modus vivendi is defended as an honorable and friendly overture of the British Government, which should be allowed to develop by actual experience, the influence of the treaty on our fisheries and commerce. The report reviews the provisions of the treaty in detail and defends every position, claiming that nothing is yielded that is of any value to our fishermen, that precedents have been carefully followed, that Great Britain has yielded her headland theory and made other important concessions, and that the treaty presents the only practical and expedient solution of the long pending difficulties.

LORD ROSEBERY'S VISIT.

The Object of it to Allay Fears in Canada Respecting Imperial Federation.

LONDON, May 10.—Lord Rosebery, according to the Gazette, has received an invitation to visit Canada in reference to the Imperial Federation movement, and is expected to visit Canada this summer. Lord Rosebery is the leader of the movement here, but takes a very practical view of the question. He is decidedly adverse to forcing the question in any way upon the colonies. The friends of the movement here are anxious that Lord Rosebery should visit Canada to allay the fear that the movement implies any risk to Canada's present practically independent control of her commercial and political affairs. The question recently raised in the Commons respecting the existence of foreign treaties precluding colonial discrimination in favor of Great Britain is attracting attention outside of the limited fair trade circle which Howard Vincent represents. Octavius Morgan, M. P., a Radical free trader who visited Canada last year, is now directing the Government's attention to the subject with a view to expedite a return giving details of all treaties standing in the way of reciprocal concessions in one another's favor by Britain and her colonies.

Errors of Youth.

SUFFERERS FROM Nervous Debility, Youthful Indiscretions, Early Decay.

BE YOUR OWN PHYSICIAN!

Many men, from the effects of youthful imprudence, have brought about a state of weakness that has reduced the general system so much as to induce almost every other disease, and the real cause of the trouble scarcely ever being suspected, they are doctored for everything but the right one. Notwithstanding the many valuable remedies that medical science has produced for the relief of this class of patients, none of the ordinary modes of treatment effect a cure. During our extensive college and hospital practice we have experimented with and discovered new and concentrated remedies. The accompanying prescription is offered as a certain and speedy cure, as hundreds of cases in our practice have been restored to perfect health by its use after all other remedies failed. Perfectly pure ingredients must be used in the preparation of this prescription.

R.—Erythroxylon coca, 1 drachm.
Jerubebin, ½ drachm.
Helonias Dioica, ½ drachm.
Gelsemin, 8 grains.
Ext. ignatiæ amaræ (alcoholic), 2 grains.
Ext. leptandra, 2 scruples.
Glycerine, q. s. Mix.

Make 60 pills. Take 1 pill at 3 p. m., and another on going to bed. In some cases it will be necessary for the patient to take two pills at bedtime, making the number three a day. This remedy is adapted to every condition of nervous debility and weakness in either sex, and especially in those cases resulting from imprudence. The recuperative powers of this restorative are truly astonishing, and its use continued for a short time changes the languid, debilitated, nerveless condition to one of renewed life and vigor.

As we are constantly in receipt of letters of inquiry relative to this remedy, we would say to those who would prefer to obtain it of us, by remitting $1 a securely sealed package containing 60 pills, carefully compounded, will be sent by return mail from our private laboratory, or we will furnish 6 packages, which will cure most cases, for $5.

FRIDAY, MAY 11, 1888.

THE municipal elections held in France on Sunday last show that the electors are getting tired of the state of turmoil in which the politicians are keeping the country. In those elections the Conservatives developed unexpected strength. A decided anti-Republican feeling was manifested by many municipalities. In one city a large majority of Republicans was replaced by a majority of Conservatives equally large. The determination expressed by the Radicals, who are favored by the Government, to abolish the Senate has alarmed moderate men. They do not wish to see the country at the mercy of a single legislative body, which can exercise its authority without check.

CANADA is well represented at the International Exhibition which was opened at Glasgow on the 7th inst. There is a good display of cereals, woods, minerals, fish, birds and wild animals. There are besides paintings of nine of the principal cities of the Dominion, and a fine collection of photographs of Canadian scenery. It does not appear that manufactures are included in the exhibit. The rich display of natural products, however, cannot fail to create a favorable impression of Canada among those visitors to the exhibition who wish to know what kind of a country Canada really is and what are its capabilities.

MASSACHUSETTS, following the example of many other States east and west, is bound to have a high license law. Two bills are now in their passage through the Legislature of the State, the object of which is to limit and to regulate the traffic in intoxicating drink. One is a high license bill, and the other is a measure to limit the number of liquor licenses to 1 in 500 of the population in Boston, and 1 in 1000 for the rest of the State. The good people of Massachusetts are determined to lessen the number of places in which liquor can be sold. If the high license of itself does not make them few enough, their number is to be restricted by direct means. One licensed liquor shop for every five hundred inhabitants is surely sufficient for any city.

THE majority in the United States Senate have at last been prevailed upon to make the proceedings of that body relative to the Fishery Treaty public. The Committee on Foreign Affairs on Wednesday reported against open discussion on that subject and against even keeping a record of the secret discussion. But the majority saw it would be inexpedient to act in accordance with this report and so they have at last consented to discuss the treaty with open doors. The majority report and the minority report of the committee have been already published. The former is a signal example of the way in which a simple question can be distorted and confused and befogged by men whose principal object is not to discuss its merits but to place obstacles in the way of its settlement. The fact that the Republican members of the committee take one view of the treaty and the Democratic members another and a very different view is enough to convince the impartial outsider that the merits of the fishery question or the value of the treaty as a mode of settlement have not been uppermost in the minds of the senators who have discussed the treaty and drawn up the reports. Whether good or bad the Republicans were bound to find fault with it, and the Democrats on the other hand were determined to be blind to its faults and its weaknesses and to see only its strong points. In short the treaty was from the first made a party question and consequently a fair and dispassionate discussion of it became impossible. It is greatly to be regretted that an important national question like this cannot be considered even in the Senate free from party bias. It is different in the British Parliament. Party spirit is there strong enough, but there are questions which can be deliberated upon in that body independently of party predilections and party interests.

THE FIRE DEPARTMENT.

The Fire Department of Montreal stands to-day a confessed failure branded as such in a most remarkable and exceptional manner. The local insurance companies have expressed their entire want of confidence in the department, not only by protests, which are coolly disregarded by the Fire Committee, but by increasing their premiums to such an extent that the property owners are in many instances looking abroad for insurance or carrying their own risks. That Montreal, with its splendid and costly water system, should be in this condition to-day is nothing less than outrageous. It is difficult to keep within the bounds of politeness in characterising the conduct of the men who are chiefly responsible for this exasperating and humiliating state of affairs. The insurance men badly as they have been treated are not altogether blameless, and may attribute to their faulty systems the immense loss of premiums with which they are threatened. By their own lack of discrimination they are largely responsible for the city's heavy fire losses, although not for the inefficiency of the Fire Department. They have insured risks that ought never to have been accepted at any price. At the present time there are thousands of premiums too low, and hundreds too high. The proprietors of well constructed and properly protected buildings are being taxed in the shape of unnecessarily high premiums for the insurance of fire traps belonging to other people. It is not surprising that the best risks are now being taken to the United States, where insurance men know something about discrimination and inspection.

Probably the best plan to end the squabbling between the local insurance men and the Fire Committee and to bring about a radical improvement in the brigade would be for the control of the fire department to be transferred to the Board of Underwriters. There are precedents for such a course and it has very much to recommend it. The insurance companies would have but one interest in the department and that would be to maintain it in the highest possible degree of efficiency. This is about the last thing the aldermen care about. Patronage will always be the first and last consideration on the Fire Committee. Let the insurance companies offer to assume the control of the Fire Brigade receiving from the Corporation the amount of the present appropriation granted to the Fire Committee with additions from time to time in proportion to the increase of population. If more money is wanted, the companies ought to be glad to supplement the Corporation grant, from their own funds. Something must be done to stop Montreal money being sent abroad in the shape of insurance premiums and Montreal real estate disappearing in smoke. The Board of Underwriters could not mis-manage the fire brigade worse than does the Fire Committee. They acting through a competent salaried board would know enough to secure the services of a competent chief and would know better than to interfere with his command. The great obstruction in the way of the improvement of the Fire Brigade to-day, and the chief cause of the high insurance rates now prevailing, is the Fire Committee. The first and most obvious step towards bringing about a change for the better is to abolish that Committee.

PUNDITA RAMABAI

Addresses the Christ Church Cathedral Sunday School

At the Annual Missionary Festival Last Evening.

The annual Missionary Festival in connection with the Sunday school of Christ Church Cathedral last evening was a great success, the interesting programme being happily conceived and successfully carried out. The announcement that Pundita Ramabai, the learned Indian widow now visiting the city, would give an address, drew a very large crowd, the Hall being quite full. The scholars not only took a prominent part in the proceedings, but were allotted the front seats in the Hall. The platform was an exhibition of the good deeds of this flourishing Sunday school. On the right hand in invalid carriages, and attended by their nurses, were two poor little cripples from the General Hospital who are supported by the scholars, while close by is a gigantic flour mill painted in bright red picked out with gold purchased for the poor Indians of the Peace River. On the left hand side were a number of little folks belonging to the Sabrevois French mission. The platform was bordered by hundreds of plants in pots which at the close of the meeting were distributed to the scholars to be tended during the summer and brought back again in October to form part of a children's flower show. In the centre of the platform were seated the Lord Bishop of Nelson, New Zealand; and Mrs. Louter, Mrs. Henderson, Rev. Dr. Norton, Rev. Canon Ellegood, Rev. L. N. Tucker and Mr. R. H. Buchanan, the indefatigable superintendent of the school. The walls were decorated with texts and mottoes, while across the front of the organ was exhibited the text, each letter being on a banneret: "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, ye have done it unto me." The gallery was occupied by a large number of children from the night school and the French mission. At eight o'clock, the scholars, most of the girls being dressed in white, marched into the Hall, bearing flags and banners and sang several Hymns very creditably. The renewal of the total abstinence pledge and the awards of prizes for best class recitations ensued. The well stocked missionary boxes were then brought on the platform and filled up a large sack. The appearance of Takahashi, a Japanese in native costume, caused much excitement. The repetition of the Lord's Prayer in his vernacular with remarkable gestures produced the opposite of a devout demeanour, the audience roaring with laughter. He responded to the encore awarded him by a skilful exhibition of the sword exercise. Subsequently he delivered a short and interesting address. All eyes were turned to the platform when Dr. Norton led forward the slight figure of the Indian lady, dressed in the simple white costume of her country relieved by a large bunch of pink roses in her bosom. Her address, which was delivered in so low a tone as to be inaudible to a large part of the audience, was directed to the condition of children in her own country, shewing the unnatural distinction made between the treatment of boys and girls. In speaking of the object especially dear to her heart, the amelioration of the condition of child widows of whom there are 79,000 in India, she explained that at nine years of age children are betrothed and the girls are sent to their mothers-in-law and among strangers whose first task is to break the young wife's spirit and make her silent. She is obliged to yield the most abject submission to her husband, to abstain from eating till he has finished and is a slave and not a wife. She is responsible for the life of her husband and when he dies she is obliged to suffer by abstaining from food one day in two weeks and to refrain from wearing fine clothes.

A very interesting address was given by the Bishop of Nelson who subsequently brought a very pleasant evening to a close by pronouncing the Benediction.

FRENCH CANADIAN PRESS.

Down With Monopolies.

(L'Artisan.)

We hope the Committee on Combines will turn out a careful report and that Parliament will give it due attention. It is time to be done with these different monopolies which are so injurious to our trade and which only increase the price of goods to the detriment of the consumers. In trade as in every industry free competition is the only thing to do justice to all classes of society.

The Last Resignation in the Legislative Council.

(Le Monde.)

If the Government organs are well informed, Mr. Prudhomme, who was so inflexible last year, has at least been persuaded to capitulate. We should like to know just what disinterested motives may have determined Mr. Prudhomme in the present circumstances to resign the seat he has occupied since 1863 in the Legislative Council. It would be interesting to know in detail the negotiations of Mr. Mercier's chargés d'affaires with the ex-councillor.

Preparing to Abolish.

(La Minerve.)

One of the most disgraceful results of the unfortunate so-called National movement is the discredit, the contempt that our Upper Chamber has fallen into through the manœuvres that it has been the object of on the part of the National Government. The enemies of our institutions know what they are about when they throw this contempt on the House; they are merely preparing the way for the abolition of the Council, and that thanks to the cowardly complicity of certain so-called National-Conservatives, who are in reality the valets and instruments of the Liberals.

Concert in Aid of a Sunday School Library.

The Emerald trio of Hamilton, Ont., gave a concert in the St. James Street Methodist church last evening. Rev. John Philp, the pastor, introduced the artists to the large audience. Solos, duets and trios, interspersed with instrumental selections, formed the programme. The audience showed their appreciation by frequent applause. The concert was in aid of the afternoon Sunday school library.

SMOKERS' FUN.

Almost hidden in a cloud of smoke, which, as it escaped through the open windows, must have tempted the uninitiated passer by to turn in a still alarm, the boys of Montreal and amongst them many of the "old ones" spent a most pleasant evening in the Victoria Rifles Armory last night. In fact the fun was so great and the marks of approbation in the shape of encores so numerous that the first had to be quenched continually by the valiant constables, J. J. Stuart and Leslie Dowker, who stood guard at the door, while the latter had to be abolished entirely. Undress was the order for the evening and though one or two exquisites were brave enough to appear with white vests and evening dress they were decidedly in the minority. Lieut.-Col. F. C. Henshaw, in his double capacity of President of the Club House and Colonel of the Vics, had been asked to preside and fulfilled his arduous duty as usual with grace and tact. One of the most enjoyable parts of the programme was, without doubt, the scene from "Erminie," by Messrs. McCock and Kirkhouse whose amusing antics and vivid illustrations of sharp practices on the large race courses were thoroughly appreciated. These two gentlemen again appeared as the two gend'armes from Genevieve de Brabant, and Mr. Kirkhouse also gave a most realistic impersonation of Mrs. Sitting Bull, not as she was nor as she should be but as she really is, an object of misery in the loving eyes of her once proud husband, Mr. Bryden. Mr. D. S. McIntyre with his Dutch dialect parody on the charge of the Light Brigade, was recalled several times and Mr. E. Brankin's topical Irish song also caused an extra volley of applause. In fact everything was good and enjoyable and there was variety enough to suit the most hypercritical. Besides the numbers already mentioned there were songs by the Messrs. Monk, Highland dances by Mr. C. J. Stuart; banjo duets by Messrs. Heward and Monk, the first named gentleman also giving a solo on the zylophone; a recitation by Mr. Alex. Tough; mandoline solo by Mr. Gregory; comic song by Mr. J. C. Bowden, songs and choruses by French members of the club and "God Save the Queen," by the entire audience which packed the hall. Messrs. Beaudry and Drayner played the accompaniments. Taking all in all the merry knights may be proud of their success; they have set the fashion many a time in matters of this kind and last night's enthusiastic audience proved that they have once more struck the popular fancy.

DOINGS AT THE CAPITAL.

Probability of the Postponement of Prorogation—The Portfolio of the Interior—Social Happenings.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

OTTAWA, May 11.—The principal topic of conversation about the Parliament buildings just now is the probability of the session continuing beyond the time of the departure of Lord Lansdowne. There are still thirty government bills on the order paper waiting to be disposed of in addition to a host of private bills, and a large number of questions by members, etc. Only about half of the estimates have been passed yet, and a long debate is expected on the Quebec Harbor resolution. It is thought that even if all the private bills and some of the less important of the Government that it will be difficult to arrive at prorogation before the twenty-fourth even if the House sits until three every morning, as it is announced to be the intention of the Government to arrange. The Government still has hopes that prorogation will be reached by the twenty-second, but this can only be managed with the assistance of the opposition. Should Mr. Laurier's supporters take a notion in their heads to do so they can easily prolong the session for a month later.

BILLS ARE SLAUGHTERED

Yesterday was a lazy day. It being Ascension Day all the departments were closed, and the few members who remained in the city amused themselves and a party of small boys with an attempt at cricket on the lawn in front of the buildings or by attending to correspondence at their desks in the chamber.

It is understood that Mr. Dewdney is the Government's favorite candidate for the vacant but considerable opposition is being made to his appointment by the Ontario Conservatives, who are anxious to see an Ontario member succeed Mr. White in that department. The North-West members, if they fail to secure the appointment of a local man to the Cabinet, would favor Mr. Dewdney's appointment to the Cabinet.

PORTFOLIO OF THE INTERIOR,

The entertaining season is now in full swing, and every evening some of the members or senators entertain dinner parties in the Parliamentary restaurants. Mr. J. D. Edgar, M. P., entertained a large party on Wednesday evening, while the same evening a party was held at the Russell, under the auspices of the Conservative Manitoba and British Columbia members. Mr. Speaker and Madame Ouimet gave a large dinner party last evening at which the Ministers and wives and several members of Parliament were entertained.

A BRIDGE GIVES WAY

Killing Two Men and Seriously Injuring Several Others.

GLENCOE, Ont., May 10.—About nine o'clock this morning while workmen were engaged building the iron part of the Waterworth bridge, about six miles from Glencoe, between the counties of Middlesex and Elgin, a temporary bridge on which the men were at work laying the heavy iron stringers, gave way and all were precipitated into the river. In falling a Mr. Lamp, of Acton, in the employ of the Hamilton Bridge Co., was struck on the head by some timbers which killed him instantly. Alex. Watterworth son of Joseph Watterworth, of Mosa, was killed also. The injured so far as learned are: Daniel Mills, Mosa, hand and leg badly crushed; Hiram Lumley, Mosa, badly hurt about shoulders; J. W. Madigan, Hamilton, hand crushed and leg hurt; and B. Campbell, of Komoko, legs bruised and wrist sprained. Watterworth's body was found after about five hours' search pinned beneath the debris.

WAR DEPRECATED.

The Advantages of a Union Between France and Germany.

BERLIN, May 11.—Deputy Siegfried distributed the prizes to the pupils of an Alsatian school yesterday. In his address he deprecated a war between France and Germany. An outbreak of hostilities between those countries, he said, would be a great misfortune, while a union of the two powers would have advantages the importance of which it was not difficult to see. Herr Siegfried urged that a reconciliation between France and Germany would lead to a customs union. If his ideas were now scouted as illusions, he said, they would be understood later on, for through them alone would the country be able to end the crisis through which Europe was now passing and realize the inscription on Kaiser William's tomb: "Justice exalts nations."

A TRIPLE TRAGEDY.

An Illinois Farmer Kills Two Men And Then Commits Suicide.

BEECHER CITY, Ills., May 11.—A triple tragedy was enacted in the country near here on Wednesday evening. Henry Miller and William Oderholt, farmers, had a law suit over a trivial matter, and Miller was the loser. He swore he would get even. After the trial Miller shouldered his rifle and went to a field where S. C. Kinsey, one of Oderholt's witnesses, was ploughing. Miller first killed Kinsey's horse and then shot Kinsey twice, inflicting mortal wounds. The slayer went to another field where Oderholt was at work. Oderholt's horse was first killed by Miller, and then Oderholt himself. Miller afterwards went to the hut which served as his home, and setting fire to the place blew his own brains out. His blackened corpse was found in the debris. Beside him lay two guns and a bowie knife. Miller was a foreigner. Kinsey and Oderholt were among the most respected citizens of the county.

I may be the means of restoring to you health and happiness. I surely will if you are suffering from any form of nervousness or female weakness, and will act upon my suggestion. I bring to your notice, with every confidence in its merits, a remedy especially compounded to meet just the requirements of your case—Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, bidding you look and live! Ladies everywhere, who have used it, speak volumes in its praise!

Every person should have a mission, but it must not be too foreign.

As age creeps on apace, the various functions of the body grow weaker in their performance. Old people who suffer from increasing indigestion, torpidity of the liver, and constipation, should give renewed impetus to the action of the stomach, bile-secreting organ and bowels, with Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure, from which aid is never sought in vain. It works wonders as a blood purifier.

The first of a month is dun to death. Some change is needed.

TO-MORROW.

A SILK UMBRELLA FOR ONE DOLLAR.

Might as well stop at that line: it's enough good news for one day, save that it's so incredible, it needs explanation of why and wherefore.

A Silk Umbrella for $1, wish we had 5,000 of them, could sell them in a week if we had, but we haven't. We got but 300 of them.

A silk dealer had a lot of silk for which he had no use; we suggested making Umbrellas and it resulted in 300 marvelously cheap Umbrellas, which we shall begin to sell at 8 o'clock to-morrow (Saturday) morning, and sell until sold.

There are:

300 worth not less than $1.65 for $1.00.
200 worth not less than $2.00 for $1.25.
200 worth not less than $2.50 for $1.50.
100 worth not less than $3.25 for $2.25.

That's the whole story, and we ought to sell them all on Saturday, with any kind of weather. Rainy preferable. And we usually do as we ought.

So much for Ladies. Now for Children. We have 764, no more, no less, new, neat and fancy Parasols that we have decided to run at a quarter. Remember, only a quarter, that's to say 25c, and they are worth four times a quarter, or a whole dollar ($1.00).

'Twas a glorious night, and two loving folk sat upon the cliffside, with the eternal ocean flowing at their feet with a calmness and placidity that was almost appalling. They were looking at the stars above, and he turned to his girl and said tenderly, "My darling, I don't understand what you can see in me to love me so." She replied, "That's what everybody says." IRISH AFFAIRS.

Michael Davitt on County Government—Marcourt on the Papal Rescript—Exciting Eviction Scenes near Thurles—The Pope and Parnell.

LONDON, May 11.—Michael Davitt, in a speech last night, said that to secure County Government for Ireland before obtaining Home Rule would be a fatal blunder. He feared that if the Parnellites continued to ask for the extension of County Government to Ireland the ministry would adopt Lord Randolph Churchill's advice and take them at their word.

Sir William Vernon Harcourt spoke at Croyden. Referring to the papal rescript, he said that with all respect to the Pope he would remind his audience that the Court of Rome had not been successful in its dealings with temporal politics. It had, in fact, been distinguished for having allied itself with the worst forms of oppressive government.

Exciting struggles took place at Carmack, near Thurles, Ireland, yesterday, between a force of emergency policemen and tenants whom they sought to evict. The police used a battering ram in effecting entrances to the houses. The tenants threw boiling water at them and assaulted them with sticks and stones.

The Times says that the annual election of the executive of the Cork branch of the National League brought the Fenian element into greater prominence than ever before.

The Pope, conversing with an official yesterday, took exception to the remarks made by Mr. Parnell at the Eighty Club banquet. His Holiness said: "The Nationalists themselves disapproved of boycotting and the plan of campaign. Still more is it the duty of the Curia to tell the people of the objectionable character of their actions."

JOTTINGS FROM QUEBEC.

Ice Still Solid—The Strength of Parties—Mr. Lavallée's Case—Three Rivers Election.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

QUEBEC, May 11.—The steamer "Union," which returned from the Saguenay this morning, reports the ice from St. John's Cove to Grand Bay still solid.

The Government organ this morning gives the following as the state of parties at the opening of the session on Tuesday: Assembly, Ministerial, 40; Opposition, 24. Council: Ministerial, 12; Opposition, 7; Independent, 5.

Rev. Mr. Balfour, of Melbourne, replaces Rev. Mr. Fothergill as rector of St. Peter's Church. The change takes place in September.

The present break in the new aqueduct has been a rather extensive one, and the surrounding locality where it occurred is flooded. The curious coincidence is noted that it took place just as Mayor Langelier, in his inaugural address to the new City Council, was congratulating the city on the efficiency of the water supply.

The Royal Commission, appointed to enquire into the resignation of Hon. Mr. Lavallée as Legislative Councillor, opened this morning at the Parliament House, Chief Justice Dorion, the Commissioner, presiding, and C. B. Langlois acting as secretary. Mr. Lavallée and about fifteen witnesses are present. He is represented by Mr. Cornellier, Q. C., of Montreal, and T. C. Casgrain, Q. C., of this city. Premier Mercier and Crown Prosecutor Fitzpatrick are also in attendance on behalf of the Government.

The writs issued for a new election in Three Rivers fixes the date of nomination on the 18th, and voting on the 25th inst.

Quite a fleet of vessels are reported inward in the Gulf, and a large number of arrivals are looked for next week.

ENGLAND IN DANGER.

The Defenceless State of the Country Outlined by the London "Telegraph."

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

LONDON, May 11.—The Telegraph, in a column article headed "England in Danger," asserts on the "highest military authority" that the strength of the army is entirely insufficient. It says: "If extra men were enlisted to-morrow there would be no barrack accommodation for them. Many of the artillery batteries are provided with the worst guns served to any existing army. Though we possess unsurpassed guns we have no means for manufacturing guns, except after much delay. We also have the best magazine rifle yet invented, but not a single regiment is provided with such rifles. The army stores are lamentably insufficient. The naval situation is almost as bad. There is not a single breech-loader in any land fortress from Portland Bill to the Tweed, the latest type actually in use being the seven-inch Armstrong gun. The armaments of the forts, the guns served to volunteers and the shot and shell at Woolwich are mostly of obsolete patterns. Four of our finest armor-clad vessels are without guns, and two of them will have none until March, 1889. The nation ought to demand that instant attention be given to our army and navy."

THE BUCKET SHOPS.

An Effort Being Made to Get the Bill Deferred Till Next Session.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

OTTAWA, May 11.—The Bucket Shop bill campaign is developing some brilliant lobbying. A supreme effort is now being made to get the bill deferred till next session, but this attempt will probably be defeated. One of the principal arguments used is that the bill will affect the stock brokers. It is significant that a large number of members are supporting the bill simply because they believe it will affect a certain class of brokers. A prominent member from the Townships is creating some excitement by declaring that there is more iniquity practised by certain brokers in a day than by the bucket shops in a month. He wants the bill to apply to both. The Minister of Justice says if brokers do not do an absolutely fair business, if by any means they deceive their customers, if they sell their customers their own margined speculation while they profess to have bought in the open market, they will certainly come within the law. The minister says there is no reason why sham brokerage should not be looked upon as being quite as bad as bucket shop gambling.

A LEGAL DISPUTE.

Effort to Restrain Hon. S. H. Blake From Acting as a Bencher of the Ontario Law Society.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

TORONTO, May 11.—The lawyers are all talking about a writ that was issued yesterday at the instance of J. A. MacDonell against Samuel Hume Blake and the Law Society of Upper Canada, claiming an order for an injunction restraining Samuel H. Blake, one of the defendants therein, from sitting or acting as a bencher of the Law Society of Upper Canada, and for an order for an injunction or such writ or order as may be necessary to restrain the defendants, the Law Society of Upper Canada, from allowing or permitting the said Samuel Hume Blake from further continuing to sit or act as such bencher or discharging or assuming or attempting to discharge any of the duties appertaining to such position or office. Mr. Blake qualified as a bencher on the fact that he is a "retired judge." Mr. MacDonell claims that he is a "resigned" judge, and therefore not within the meaning of the law. The lawyers will have a nice argument over it.

THE VACANCY IN SHEFFORD.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

WATERLOO, Que., May 11.—At a Liberal convention, held here last night, it was admitted that Mr. Noyes, having been repudiated by the L'Etendard wing of the national party, has no chance of being elected, and a long discussion took place on the choice of a new candidate. The result has not yet been made public, but it is an open secret that Dr. J. Degrosbois, of Mount Valls, will be put in nomination. Dr. Degrosbois is an ardent Nationalist, and it is expected that he will poll a great majority of the French votes.

AUTHENTICITY ADMITTED.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

LONDON, May 11.—In the House of Commons, last night, Sir John Gorst announced that the Government of India admitted the authenticity of the circular of the commander-in-chief directing that regimental bazaars have a sufficient number of women. A copy of the document was now on its way to England and would be laid before the House.

GEN. BOULANGER'S REPUDIATION.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

PARIS, May 11.—General Boulanger repudiates the electoral placard circulated in his behalf in the department of Isere asking the suffrages of the people. He says he is not a candidate and threatens to prosecute the persons using his name.

THE SUDBURY MINE.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., May 11.—Fabulous reports still continue to come in regarding the famous vermillion mine at Sudbury, Ont. Last week a nugget was taken out weighing 99½ ounces of pure gold, and valued at $2000. Local mining experts at the "Soo" say the formation near here is similar to that at Sudbury, and numerous prospecting expeditions are being organized.

PARLIAMENTARY JOTTINGS.

The Minerals of Ontario—Russell Election—Speaker Ouimet's Dinner.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

OTTAWA, May 11.—D. F. Burke, who was defeated for Algoma by Mr. Dawson, has been appointed by the Ontario Government to prepare a collection of minerals of the Lake Superior district for the Cincinnati exhibition of minerals. Other gentlemen are to be appointed to cover the other mining districts in Ontario, and some of the Quebec members here are anxious to induce Mr. Mercier to appoint agents to collect exhibits of the minerals of the Province of Quebec.

The official returns have reduced Mr. Edwards' majority in Russell to 191.

Sir Richard Cartwright returned from New York last night.

The Bleue members here are very much elated over the result of the election in Laval, and appear confident of carrying Shefford. They claim every chance of alienating the allegiance of Mr. Mercier's Castor following, and prophesy that in three months Quebec will be once more under Conservative rule.

Speaker Ouimet and Mde. Ouimet gave a dinner in the Commons restaurant last evening. The following were present: Sir Adolphe and Lady Caron, Messrs. Ross, Colby, Guilbault and Riopel, Members of Parliament; Hon. Mr. Ross and Mde Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Langevin, Mr. and Mrs. Schultz, Mr. and Mrs. Rouleau, Mr. and Mde. Deville and Mr. Therien.

CANADIAN CONDENSATIONS.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

The Blytheswood Roller Mills at Blytheswood Station, on the Leamington and St. Claire Railway, owned by J. J. Minnis, was destroyed by fire last night. The mill was new, containing all the latest improvements, and had just been running a few days. Loss about $10,000; insurance, $5000.

Crop reports from all parts of Ontario have been received at Toronto. They show that while in some places the autumn wheat has been winter-killed, in general the prospect is much more satisfactory than that reported from the other side of the border.

The Presbyterian Synod of Toronto and Kingston closed its annual session at Owen Sound last night. The main question debated was the report on temperance presented by the Synod. It was warmly discussed in pretty much the same spirit as was manifested in the Presbytery of Toronto a few days ago, a prohibition law being recommended.

Yesterday the barge "Kildonan," of the Montreal Transportation Company, started for Montreal with 35,000 bushels of grain and drawing nine feet. This is the largest cargo that has yet passed through the St. Lawrence canals.

A furious southwest storm raged at Canso, N. S., Wednesday, badly damaging the fishing fleet in that port. All arrivals from the banks report fish plenty. Fifty sail of the fleet have gone to Marble Mountain, C. B., to obtain bait.

ALLEGED BOODLING IN MANITOBA

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

WINNIPEG, May 11.—Addressing a public meeting, last night, Mr. Greenway said that the disgraceful and boodling state of affairs of the late Government would astound the public when made known, as half had not been told. There would be interesting developments in the budget speech this afternoon. He pledged himself that the Red River Valley road be completed about July first.

It is hardly likely that the Government candidates will be opposed in South Winnipeg, as the chances of beating them would be slim.

BUCHANAN'S BODY FOUND

Mangled on the Track Near Ste. Therese.

There is a most tragic sequel to the report of the disappearance of James Buchanan, the young farmer. It appears that the young lady with whom he came to town was not his sister, but his intended wife. Their respective families opposed the match, but as they loved each other they decided to come here and get married. Unfortunately they lost each other at the Canadian Pacific Depot, and the young farmer, thinking that the young lady had returned to her home at Ste. Thérèse, took the train down there and after leaving it at his destination must have wandered about the track till a passing freight train ran over and killed him. His mangled body was found yesterday morning. Some years ago he and his brother resided on Governor's Island, and while felling a tree the trunk fell over the wrong side and injured his spine. Since that day his intellect has more or less been clouded. He was generally well liked.

WM. C. HICKMAN

Arrested on a Capias and Released on Bail.

W. C. Hickman was arrested on a capias yesterday afternoon at the instance of F. McKercher, of Ste. Cunegonde. The plaintiff claims the sum of $140 arising out of certain transactions between him and Hickman in connection with the Butchers' Ice Company. The affidavit alleges that Hickman has fraudulently transferred all he owns to B. Grier and that he is preparing to leave the province. Hickman's defense will be a contestation of the claim on its merits. Hickman was arrested by Bailiff Lalonde at his office and he was released on bail by the sheriff.

St. Bartholomew's.

To the Editor of the STAR:

SIR,—In an item in your issue of Wednesday, May 9, headed "St. Bartholomew's," an opportunity for a possible confusion of individuals is given from the way the case is stated. As there are other R. Dawsons in the city, I desire to say that the action is taken by Rev. Benjamin Dawson, 41 McGill College avenue. So far as St. Bartholomew's congregation is concerned, its proper officer tendered through a notary, on the first day of May, the rent or interest, whichever it is termed, in advance, as it has hitherto been paid, but it was refused. The fact that our legal adviser was offered as a compromise a three years' lease is evidence that we are not such undesirable tenants, but we decline because the last agreement is still in force. We wish for an amicable settlement out of court, and we have done all that Christians could be called upon to do.

Yours truly,
B. B. USSHER,
Rector of St. Bartholomew's, Montreal.

RESIGNATION.

Mr. Henri Julien, the celebrated artist, has resigned his position as chief artist of the Burland Lithographic Company to accept a similar position on the STAR staff.

MONTREAL'S GREATNESS.

Montreal's commercial greatness has never been sufficiently realized. Prominent people who have lived in Montreal for a quarter of a century have remained in comparative ignorance of the city's vast expansion while people abroad have not the faintest idea of Montreal's importance or of Montreal's supremacy as a manufacturing and distributing centre. It appears to us that as far as in us lies the power, each and every citizen should contribute his share in dispelling the ignorance that prevails at home and abroad respecting Montreal's condition. Montreal is great and growing greater in spite of the quarreling and bickering of her own people, in spite of civic mismanagement, in spite of floods and fires and pestilences of the past. Montreal's commanding advantages are proven by her sudden recovery from misfortune and the certainty and steadiness with which she has risen, superior to all kinds of afflictions resulting from ignorance, prejudice and passion. Montreal keeps straight on in her strides, and stands to-day, with present status and future prospects, prominent amongst the great commercial cities of the world. But the world does not know these facts. In a few days a special commercial issue of the STAR will be devoted to Montreal, past, present and future. It will contain a vast amount of information calculated to raise the city in public esteem.

This commercial number, issued at the moment when a great step was been taken towards making Montreal a free port, will be one of the most interesting papers we have ever published. It will be worth preserving at home in our own libraries or scrap books and well worth sending abroad, as it will serve well to correct the wrong impressions that everywhere prevail regarding Montreal's marvellous progress. Persons requiring numbers of this issue, on special heavy paper, for distribution, will be supplied at $2 per hundred, if applied for previous to publication.

WE are glad to see that the majority of the members of the House of Commons have firmly resisted all the influences that have been brought to bear upon them to induce them to burke or to emasculate the Bucket Shop bill. The Government it is evident never for a moment weakened on the subject. They saw that these gambling shops are a great evil in the community and that public opinion had set in strongly against the continuation of their existence and they took the means necessary to suppress them. It is gratifying to see that in this case the lobby, though very strong and exceedingly active, has been defeated and that the right has triumphed. Stock brokers say the bill will interfere with their business. It may close up the wash sale department and the fictititious selling and buving to establish quotations. It may protect the purchaser of stocks against machinations and combines between brokers. It may terrorize some of the unscrupulous men in the stock business, but the respectable members who continue to do a straightforward commission business, have nothing to fear.

KNIGHTS AND NON-KNIGHTS.

A Strike on the Wharf—Statements of the Stevedore and Foremen.

After the SS. "Baumwall" got into dock yesterday afternoon, gangs of men to the number of about 70 were set to work discharging the vessel's cargo. They had not been long at work when a sudden halt was observed, and all the men, except some half dozen, ceased operations. The case was quickly discovered to be one of Knight of Labor and non-Knight, those who ceased work being members of the league, and refusing to go on with the work till the half dozen non-members were dismissed. Work was resumed, but the matter made sufficient noise to bring a sergeant and some extra water police on the scene to preserve order. Mr. Sheriden, stevedore in charge of the unloading of the vessel, and Messrs. John Daley and Nicholas Barry, foremen of the gang who struck work, were seen to-day by a STAR reporter. The former stated that it was simply a case of getting the best men possible to do the work, and such happened to be Knights of Labor. He certainly did not object to them. The men had stopped work, he believed, on the labor league line as most of the laborers on the wharves at present belonged to that organization.

Mr. Daley, head foreman, spoke much to the same effect. The men found it necessary to protect themselves against intruders who had no hold in the city, and had only shown themselves in earnest in carrying out their principle. Not the slightest violence was intended when they ceased work.

Mr. Barry avowed himself a Knight of Labor and spoke very pointedly on the matter. The men who ceased work were all Knights of Labor or belonged to labor unions and they could not be blamed for so doing. They were men who had been in the city all winter, old wharf hands, who knew their business; the men who sought their place were in general strangers from abroad who had no taxes to pay in the city and did nothing for it. The men yesterday refused to acknowledge such and as members of the Knights of Labor they would continue not to acknowledge them. The organization was a positive necessity.

A Youthful Criminal's Career in the States and Canada.

Thomas Maitland, an 18 year old boy, was brought before Judge Desnoyers this morning charged with breaking into the house of Mrs. H. Stone on Seigneurs street, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to two months' hard labor. He was afterwards seen by a reporter and told a complicated story of crime. Six years ago he came to New York from England where he left his widowed mother and two sisters with a promise to assist them. In the States he got into the company of thieves as he could not find work. He served a sentence in Detroit, and then committed other robberies until the soil of the United States became too hot for him and he came to Montreal where he found employment with Dr. McConnell on Bleury street as general help. The doctor one day three weeks ago sent Maitland out to change $5, but Maitland only returned after midnight, let himself in by the back door and stole some $50 worth of plated goods from the dining table and cupboards. He then met a gang of thieves and arranged to rob a house on Cote des Neiges road, and as the gang had had nothing to eat for a few days they broke into Mrs. Stones' house and took preserves and bread to satisfy their hunger. Then as they had no tools with which to break into the house on Cote des Neiges road they entered the Bonaventure depot and stole tools there, but were arrested by Fireman Kearns and Sergeant Charbonneau. He will stand his trial for the three offences next Monday.

The Straubenzie Banquet.

Covers will be laid for 250 at the complimentary dinner given to Lieut.-Col. Van Straubenzie at St. Lawrence Hall this evening. Sir Donald A. Smith will preside and the Hon. Henry Starnes and Lieut.-Col. Oswald will act as vice-chairmen. The toasts will be in the following order: "The Queen," the "President of the United States," the "Governor-General," the "Army and Navy," "Our Guests" and "the Ladies." The presentation of a solid silver tea service to Mrs. Straubenzie will take place just before the toast to the Queen. Mrs. Straubenzie arrived from Kingston last evening, and will be accompanied to the banqueting hall by the wives and lady friends of subscribers to the banquet, all of whom are invited to be present. A great many have already signified their intention to be there.

THE MOUNTAIN PARK.

The Park Commissioners Pay Their Annual Visit, and Recommend Several Important Improvements.

The Park Commissioners paid their annual visit this morning to Mount Royal. The party, starting from the City Hall at 10 o'clock, consisted of Aldermen Villeneuve and Farrell, Park Commissioners, ex-Aldermen Holland and Donovan, former members of the Board, Mr. Gosselin, Clerk. Alderman Wilson joined the company later on.

On reaching Fletcher's field the advisability of pulling down the unsightly ruins of the old St. Roch's Hospital, and throwing the grounds into the park, was made apparent, and, judging from the remarks of the Committee, will be carried out. At the foot of the elevator the Commissioners were met by Mr. W. S. Walker, president, and Mr. W. Withall, vice-president of the company, who pointed out the several improvements desirable at that point. The Board gave instructions to McNally, the Park constable, to pull down the wooden cabin close to the Golf House and use the stone foundation for road making. Permission was given to the Elevator company to extend the road so that carriages can drive right up to the slide. It was decided to build some closets in a convenient spot near by, and the company was accorded leave to lessen the height and take out some of the panels from the unsightly fence erected on the bounds of the Molson property, provided permission was obtained from the proprietors. The party was then driven to the spot on the mountain road where it is proposed to make a new pathway from the city. The two spots discussed were from the top of Redpath street with an opening also on Pine Avenue, and from the top of Simpson street, the latter spot being preferred. On reaching the Driving Park Mr. McGibbon reported the abuse of the track by trainers, who came there to practise, and race horses, thus driving away the people who came for the purpose of riding exercise. It was resolved to consult the City Attorney as to the powers of the Park Ranger in the matter. Mr. McGibbon's house was passed with its garden gay with golden crocuses and hyacinths, purple, and white, and blue. At Mr. McClanaghan's restaurant the proprietor pointed out the need of a better approach to his house, which is much improved, but requires painting. The committee promised to consider the matter, also the feasibility of sinking a well. The top of the elevator was now reached, and, as some of the party descended by it, the advisability of steps to the landing stage was apparent to them, and will receive the attention of the committee.

DEATH OF COMMODORE KITTSON.

He Dies on the Train on His Way Home to St. Paul.

A despatch received by Mr. Kittson, N. P., to-day, announced the sudden death of his uncle, Commodore Kittson, of St. Paul, Min., the Great Western railroad man, at one time at the head of the well known Kittson line of carriers into the interior of the Canadian North-West. The Commodore died on the train on his way from Chicago to his home at St. Paul.

Commodore Kittson was born in Sorel and was one of the pioneer settlers of St. Paul, where he enriched himself by buying land, strong in his faith that St. Paul would some time be a large flourishing city. He was appointed agent of the Hudson Bay company and started the first transportation line between St. Paul and Fort Garry, now Winnipeg. He was 78 years of age and leaves 12 children, one of whom is Rev. Mr. Kittson, of this city.

The St. Paul and Pembina line of railway was subsequently built under his influence and held a monopoly of traffic between the North-West and the connecting lines south. Commodore Kittson was an ardent lover of horse flesh and at one time possessed one of the finest stables in the United States. Some time ago he broke this up and sold it.

A LEGISLATOR IN TROUBLE.

Arrested for Assault on a Confrere and Fined Five Dollars.

Mr. Bourbonnais, M. P. P. for Soulanges, official Court House stenographer, got into trouble some days ago for assaulting a confrere named L. A. Cusson. It appears, as stated by Mr. Cusson, that the youthful member for Soulanges had repeatedly asked Mr. Cusson for a bon for $16 which he held against one of his constituents named Alexander Vallée. He did not offer any consideration in return, and Mr. Cusson refused to give it up. Subsequently the latter sued Mr. Vallée and obtained judgment against him. Some days ago, while walking along St. James street, Mr. Cusson met Mr. Bourbonnais with Mr. Vallée. Mr. Bourbonnais walked up to him and grasped him by the throat, saying to Mr. Vallée: "Here is the man who sued you for $16." He shook his confrère rather violently and walked on. A complaint was lodged against him and he was arrested by the High Constable. He pleaded guilty before Police Magistrate Dugas and was fined $5.

Costs of Litigation to Be Reduced.

Hon. Geo. Duhamel, Solicitor-General, says the bill providing for amendments to the code of civil procedure will be one of the first measures presented by the Government at the approaching session. The Government has consulted the leading members of the Bar on the subject and will not only introduce modifications by which the delays in pleading will be shortened, but also reducing very materially the costs of litigation. The bailiffs' fees will be revised and their mode of proceeding against poor debtors will be amended. The measure is ready to be laid before the House at an early date.

Could Not be Admitted to the General Hospital.

Allan Keysen, a native of Scotland, settled in the Ottawa district three years ago, built a house and barn, but lost all by fire a few weeks ago. As he had no insurance he lost all. At the fire one of his eyes was injured and last week he became totally blind. Hearing that he might get cured in Montreal, he started on foot last Saturday and succeeded in keeping the road for 40 miles, where a farmer picked him up and brought him to Montreal. Chief Hughes sent him to the General Hospital where he was not taken in, as he is not a resident of Montreal. Notre Dame Hospital, however, on the intercession of friends of the institution, received the 60 years old man.

Hoist Accident at Rogers & King's Foundry.

About three o'clock this afternoon an accident occurred in Rogers & King's foundry, Craig street. The fireman named Spence was standing on the hatchway of the hoist and starting it upward the elevator ran up opening the hatches before Spence got off. He was jammed in between the frame work and the hatch. The hoist had to be cut to pieces before he could be extricated. He was not seriously injured as far as could be seen by the doctor at the time, and complained only of his foot.

Scalded to Death.

The two-year old child of a Mrs. Cantin who lives in the rear of No. 238 Pantaleon street was scalded to death last evening. It appears that two parties finished a quarrel in the house by a fight, in the course of which a tin vessel with hot water on the stove was upset and its contents poured over the child on the floor.

The Coroner holds an inquest this evening.

The Insurance Question.

A committee appointed by the Council of the Montreal Board of Trade is engaged in procuring information that will enable it to institute comparisons between Montreal and other Canadian and United States cities, with regard to the rates of fire insurance and the cost and efficiency of their Fire Departments.

BANK OF MONTREAL.

The Annual Statement Issued To-day

Shows a Considerable Decrease in Earnings.

The directors of the Bank of Montreal, at the usual meeting to-day, issued the annual statement of the bank's business for the year ending April 30, 1888, which is as follows:

	1888.	1887.
Balance of profit and loss account, April 30, 1887	$605,740 35	$525,545 25
Profits for the year ended April 30, 1888, after deducting charges of managment and making full provision for all bad and doubtful debts	1,284,501 17	1,520,195 10
	$1,890,241 52	$2,045,740 35
Dividend 5 per cent. paid Dec. 1, 1887..$600,000 Dividend 5 per cent. payable June 1, 1888.. 600,000	$1,200,000 00	1,440,000 00
Balance of profit and loss carried forward...	$690,241 52	$605,740 35

The difference in the profits of 1888 as compared with last year is $240,000, which was paid last year in the form of a two per cent. dividend. As foreshadowed in Wednesday's STAR the balance to profit and loss carried forward is $85,000 in excess of the same period last year. Considerable changes have taken place in the general statement since last year. Notes in circulation have increased from $5,204,072 in 1887 to $5,467,740 in 1888; deposits bearing interest from $10,248,460 to $14,325,780, while the amount due from agencies of the bank in foreign countries has increased from $6,772,904 in 1887 to $9,788,295 in 1888. Loans and discounts show an increase of $27,468,802 to $31,452,541, the other changes being immaterial, the unsecured over due notes being only $116,000.

As already pointed out in these columns the large increase, exceeding $3,000,000, which the statement shows to be invested in foreign countries presumably in New York, where a low rate of interest has prevailed, and the increased amounts held by the bank on deposit here bearing interest at four per cent., as compared with three per cent., the rate of last year, has had the effect of considerably curtailing the profits. Added to this the large loss at Chicago of over $80,000 and other appropriations for bad debts have resulted in reducing the percentage of net earnings from 12 per cent. earned last year to a fraction over 10 per cent. this year.

This time last year Bank of Montreal stock was quoted at 243¾; at to-day's morning board it sold down to 214½, one point lower than it closed at yesterday.

CARNARVON EXPLAINS.

His Meeting With Mr. Parnell in an Empty House.

Another Convert to the Home Rule Cause—Mr. Gladstone's Predictions.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

LONDON, May 11.—Lord Carnarvon, in a long letter to the Times, this morning, replies to Mr. Parnell's account of the negotiations between the Salisbury Government and the Parnellites in 1885. He does not deny that he met Mr. Parnell secretly in an empty house and does not challenge the authenticity of the correspondence published by Mr. Parnell. Lord Carnarvon says he was halting between several opinions and merely seeking information from men of all parties. According to his account he was quite prepared to believe that Home Rule or the government of Ireland as a Crown colony was a possible solution of the question.

ANOTHER CONVERT TO HOME RULE.

There are rumors that the Daily Telegraph intends to espouse the cause of Home Rule. Both Sir Edward Arnold, the editor, and George Augustus Sala, the principal contributor, attended Mr. Parnell's banquet at the Eighty Club. The Telegraph has the largest circulation of all the London papers.

GLADSTONE'S PREDICTIONS.

The leader of the Liberal party confidently reckons on a gain of from ten to fifteen seats in London at the next general election.

IMPERIAL DEFENCE.

Important Debate in the House of Commons Foreshadowed—The Defences of the Colonies.

LONDON, May 11.—An important debate will be raised in the House of Commons next Tuesday by military and naval members of Parliament. The discussion will be on the resolutions of Mr. Smith, First Lord of the Treasury, presented to the House yesterday, authorizing the carrying out of the agreement with the Australian colonies concerning their naval and military affairs. The agreement is that the home Government shall provide £850,000 sterling for the purpose of building and arming vessels of war for the defence of the colonies, and £260,000 for the protection of their ports, coaling stations, etc. The debate will take the form of a general discussion of the whole subject of Imperial defence, and will call up everything that has been said, and probably much that has not been said, with regard to British war defences. A memorandum is being circulated in the Commons, signed to a large extent by Conservative members, protesting against Mr. Smith's recent statement with regard to the general efficiency of the navy, in which he asserted that it was adequate to all the needs of the Empire. The memorandum declares that the navy is not at present competent for either the purpose of coast defence or the protection of the commerce of Great Britain. Lord Charles Beresford writes on this subject: "Would be glad to accept the responsibility of everything I have said by submitting myself to trial by court martial and dismissal from the service if I have exaggerated or made a single statement not founded on fact, and which is likely to cause a scare and a panic."

The report circulated to the effect that it is probable a renewal of the "round table" conference will be effected at Sir William Vernon Harcourt's country seat during the Whitsuntide recess is wholly without just foundation. Mr. Chamberlain and Mr. Morley will both be guests of Sir William in the interval when Parliament is not sitting, but they will not visit him at the same time.

DESTITUTE AND STARVING IMMIGRANTS.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

TORONTO, May 11.—Hundreds of immigrants are at sheds here destitute and starving. Charitably disposed people are helping them to keep body and soul together as much as they can, but their condition is pitiful. They cannot get employment, and what to do with them is a mystery. It is likely the Mayor will be asked to call a public meeting on the subject.

THE EMPEROR'S CONDITION.

BERLIN, May 11.—A bulletin, issued this morning, says the Emperor's condition during the last few days has been relatively good. His fever has been slight. His sleep, though occasionally broken, has been refreshing, and his strength has improved.

THE WALKING MATCH.

RAILWAY ACCIDENT.

NEW YORK, May 11.—A passenger says it was the Orange express that ran into the Greenwood Lake train in the Erie tunnel, telescoping the smoker. All those injured were in the smoker, four persons being quite seriously hurt. The accident was probably due to carelessness.

MR. DILLON SENTENCED.

DUBLIN, May 11.—Mr. Dillon has been convicted of inciting tenants to not pay rent and sentenced to six months in prison without hard labor.

ARCHBISHOP WALSH'S VIEWS.

DUBLIN, May 11.—Archbishop Walsh, in a letter to the Freeman's Journal, in reference to the Papal rescript, says: "The rescript decides a question of morals, not of politics. If doubts and controversies arise concerning its meaning, the Irish bishops or the Vatican will explain it. The Irish people may be assured that neither the national movement nor the National League shall be in the least injuriously affected."

The Catholic Weekly Herald says the Government will found and endow an Irish Catholic university.

CHRIST CHURCH CATHEDRAL.

An Assistant to the Rector Appointed—The Envelope System Adopted.

Rev. J. E. Smith has been appointed assistant to Rev. Dr. Norton, Rector of Christ Church Cathedral. He is a young man who received his education at Lennoxville, and afterwards attended the Montreal Diocesan College. For some time past he has been officiating in Mount Royal Vale and last winter preached a couple of sermons in Christ Church Cathedral, which were greatly appreciated by those who heard him. The envelope system, which was adopted at the last vestry meeting, has proved so satisfactory, and the contributions have been so liberal that the rector has been enabled to announce that the special collections for mission and other works will hereafter be unnecessary. Another service of song will be given in the Cathedral on Tuesday evening next.

LOCAL STOCKS WEAKER

On Account of the Bank of Montreal Statement.

New York Stocks Strong—Chicago Strong.

The Bank of Montreal statement just issued shows the net earnings of the bank for the year to have been $1,284,501, or $5000 under 10¾ per cent. This is $255,693 less than for the previous year, and the poorest earnings for some years. This was expected, yet the stock declined one point this morning, and had a depressing effect upon others. It is said that at the forthcoming meeting the shareholders will be plainly told that in the present state of trade and competition ten per cent. is hard to make. Nearly all the financial centres of the world are flooded with money, difficult to loan over 2 per cent. In America the winter wheat crop outlook is bad, being estimated at 25 per cent. under the average, and Canada has not escaped. The future is therefore not encouraging.

Stocks were steadier in the afternoon. Montreal recovered ¼; and ½ xd.; Canadian Pacific was ⅛ better. Bank of Montreal was the only active stock in the market.

New York Stock Market.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

NEW YORK, May 11.—The Post's financial article says: The market was strong during the forenoon, notwithstanding that early prices in London were lower than the closing figures in New York and notwithstanding that all stocks opened lower here and made further declines of ⅛ to ½ in the first half hour. It was so well understood that the market had been oversold, that after 10.30 prices gradually recovered on a very dull business, and by twelve o'clock two-thirds of the stocks traded in were from ¼ to 1 per cent. higher than they closed last night. Nearly a third of the forenoon's business was in Reading.

New York Petroleum Market.

Oil opened strong yesterday, but the decline in the stock market affected it and made it decline also. Decrease of net stocks of N. Transit Co., 415,636 barrels; of certificates 558,788 barrels. Certificates closed at 86⅞ yesterday, and opened at 86¼ to-day. The range was 87 and 85⅝; and the close 86⅞ bid.

President of the American Music Teachers Association, when asked his opinion of the leading pianos replied:—"Amongst all pianos manufactured, I consider Weber holds the first place. Taken all in all the Weber is the piano every artist would choose.

ODDS AND ENDS

About all Sorts of People.

How the Princess and the Marquis Travel—Early Troubles of the Empress.

The Princess Louise and Lord Lorne have been "travelling on the economy scale." The Princess and her husband recently, on their arrival at Naples, walked to the hotel. The manager, however, recognized the Princess, and offered the suite of rooms on the first floor, reserved for notables, but these were declined.

A writer in Harper's Bazar gives an interesting anecdote of the Princess Victoria's early days after her marriage with Frederick of Prussia. Prince Albert himself, with all his strict ideas of royal etiquette, had never been able to prevent Queen Victoria from tying her children's hat strings, or from herself looking after the proper arrangement of their wraps in public. With such an example before her Princess Victoria did not hesitate to horrify her German ladies-in-waiting by putting on her own cloak, going herself in search of a book that she might happen to be wanting, or moving any vase or knick-knack that she might wish to arrange. She had not been many days established in her new residence at Berlin when she brought down on her head a sharp reproof from her chief lady-in-waiting for the crime of having carried a chair from one side of the room to the other. The incident reads like a scene from the second act of the Ruy Blas of Victor Hugo.

"The Crown Princess of Prussia ought to summon her servants when she wishes to have the position of any piece of furniture changed," declared the haughty old lady.

"I have often seen my mother move her own chairs," replied the Princess, with dignity, "and surely what the Sovereign of England can do is allowable for a Crown Princess of Prussia."

The recognized standard of excellence for cleansing materials is Strachan's Gilt Edge Soap, manufactured in Montreal.

Book Agent: "How do you do, madam. Will your dog bite?" Madam: "Waal, I reckon he will." Book Agent: "Would you have the goodness to speak to him?" Madam: "Certainly. Sick 'm, Tige; sick 'm!"—Harper's Bazar.

He: "And so you are really attending a cooking school, Miss Clara?" She (brightly): "Yes, and it is such fun." He: "I suppose you can make nice bread already?" She: "No, I have nothing to do with making bread; but I can make lovely angel cake. I am only taking the classical course."—The Sun.

Gus: "Where have you been, Jack?"
Jack: "To a swell five o'clock tea at the Hobson's. I tell you, Gus, Mrs. Hobson is a woman of resources. She introduced a novelty this afternoon which I never saw before at such an affair."
Gus: "What was it?"
Jack: "Enough to eat." 111 1 x
