WESTMOUNT, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 25, 1946

PRICE—THREE CENTS

Motorist Aids Constable Chase And Arrest Two

Saturday, October 19th, at about 10:58 p.m., Constable Leslie Wood, of the Westmount Police force, noticed three men running away from a parked car as he turned the corner at St. Antoine Street and Greene Avenue intersection. Seeing a man on the sidewalk with his face and hands covered with blood, the constable, his suspicions aroused, questioned him and found the man was a taxi driver, whom the three fleeing men had beaten up, robbed and taken his car, which had broken down after they drove it around the block.

Enlisting the aid of a passing motorist, Constable Wood chased the men and captured two of them in a lane and brought them to

Local Resident Guest Artist In New York

The distinction of introducing yet another work by an important present-day composer falls again to Rose Goldblatt, the brilliant Canadian pianist, now a resident of Westmount, when she appears as guest artist on Sunday afternoon, October 27th, over New York's radio station WNYC. On this occasion she will present the first public performance of "Intrada and Fugue" by the American composer Isadore Freed, published early this year. This work uses an interesting old device by building its theme about the initials and name of the president of the Hartt Music Foundation, where Dr. Freed is professor of composition. The broadcast will take place from 5.00 to 5.30 p.m., and the program includes also the sonatine by Ravel, and two works each by Brahms and Medtner.

Rose Goldblatt first met Dr. Freed as a result of his hearing her in a broadcast from her native Montreal. She has since included his music in many of her programs, and introduced another of his compositions, "Canzonet" in New York last spring, playing it from manuscript.

Isadore Freed is an eminent American musicologist and composer whose early studies in Philadelphia were climaxed by intensive work on composition with Ernest Bloch and Vincent d'Indy in Paris. While there he conducted the Concerts Spirituels for several years, and on his return to the United States founded the Philadelphia Chamber Orchestra and Composer's Laboratory.

History Of "Army Show" Related By Organizer

Lt.-Col. W. Victor George, organizer and C.O. of the "Army Show," addressed Westmount Rotarians at their weekly luncheon in Victoria Hall on Wednesday. Taking as his subject, "Experience in Troop Entertainment Overseas," Col. George outlined the events leading up to the formation of the "Army Shows," and the experience the various units underwent both in Canada and overseas.

One of the big difficulties which beset the organization early in its career was the difficulty of making the Quartermasters' Stores realize the necessity of all the paraphernalia required by the "troopers." Stores seemed, said Mr. George, unable to see where that stuff came into the picture in fighting a war.

The speaker was loud in his praise of the members of the unit and spoke very highly of the English civilians. He also related various anecdotes to show the difficulties and the humor that entered into the production of shows in the firing line.

Illustrating the value of such shows, Col. George recalled one occasion when one of the Canadian Brigades was waiting to commence an assault and tension was mounting. The Brigade which was stationed in a wood was divided into three sections and a unit of the "Army Show" which was in the district gave three performances which noticeably lessened the tension and the Brigade went into action with renewed morale.

Rotarian Dan Brophy introduced Lt.-Col. George and T. C. Stokes thanked him on behalf of the club.

Special Showing Of Canadian Art

The Dominion Gallery, 1448 St. Catherine Street, West, announces an exhibition and sale of paintings by Edwin Holgate, and recent paintings and drawings by Arthur Lismer, from October 18th to Saturday, November 2nd.

Mr. Holgate was born in Allandale, Ontario and studied in Montreal and Paris. He has been a member of the Royal Canadian Academy since 1935 and was an official war artist with the R.C.A.F.

Arthur Lismer was born in England and studied in Sheffield and Antwerp. He came to Canada in 1911 and directed and organized the Children's Art Centre and Saturday Classes for Children in Toronto. A great deal of his material was found in Georgian Bay and in the Maritime Provinces. During the First Great War he painted records of naval activities in Canadian waters.

The club reports that the girls are taking advantage of the gym at Queen's School but that the boys are not turning out too well. Donnie Tillman has started classes in matwork, boxing, and wrestling and reports splendid progress.

WESTMOUNT WHIMSIES

By Oliver Towne

So sorry to have disappointed all you faithful followers, but it was just one of those things — got the chance to dash up Ontario way for a really long week-end (until Thursday), and couldn't resist. All in all it was worth it, never knew there were so many followers of this column until they began to phone and write in complaining, because I had missed a week. So will not let that happen again. (I hope.)

Used the Edgehill Inn at Morrisburg as headquarters for this little jaunt, that is a beautiful big mansion. It was formerly the home of the Cooke family; one of their daughters was the Countess of Minto, and the furnishings are certainly in style befitting a Lady. The country is really something these days, in its beautiful autumn dress. Passed through Cornwall, Kemptville (not impressive), Chesterville (very nice, noted the chocolate factory), Winchester (bigger than I had expected) and Morrisburg, near which is the Chrysler's Farm Memorial where the British and Americans fought it out years ago. Made one extended jaunt up through Smiths Falls to Perth (nice country).

Two things impressed me all through that district. One was the large flocks of bronze turkeys—very much alive, when to my mind they should have been gracing some festive board. The other point was that everyone in that area seemed to feel that all the new cars were coming to Montreal. By highway and train, loads of new cars are streaming Montrealwards, but couldn't help wondering where they went when they arrived here.

Misses Marjorie Wiggs and Audrey MacDermot will start the younger set's 'formal do' season off with an "at home" on Friday, November 8th.

St. Lawrence University, Canton, New York, informs us that one of our residents, Patricia R. Northup, 71 Clandeboye Avenue is among the students registered there. Incidentally the University has a 60% increase in enrolment this year, due to the returning G.I.'s.

Westmount's Eric G. (for greater) Swaine, becoming the number one star of Mac College's football team.

Nancy Cliff, our brown-orbed poetess contributor, will be taking a gang of her pals to the Western-McGill football game on Saturday.

Evelyn Bremmer, the Westmount gal taking a teacher's course out at Macdonald College, is really making her name in college circles. She's not only president of the elementary teachers' class but is also one of the leading lights in the realm of women's athletics.

Roy McKissock, brother of ball-playing Jack, has abandoned his ambition to study medicine in favour of taking up teaching. He's studying at McGill.

Speaking of teachers, Nina Teff, the ex-Westmount Higher, is now teaching down in Lachine and enjoying it very much.

Question of the week: With what can you compare a pair of pared pears?

not mentioned in the letter. Don't forget, Wednesday, November 6th, at 8 p.m. . . .

R. C. Stevenson, Chairman of the Dominion Executive Board of the Boy Scouts Association, has been awarded the O.B.E. in recognition of service to the Sea Cadet Movement. . . .

Contributors to this column are reminded that all contributions must be sent to 4501 Decarie Blvd., to be received there by Tuesday for publication the same week.

St. Matthias Troop

Last Sunday, a Silver Bowl for Baptismal Font was presented to the Church by the Scouts, Cubs, Guides and Brownies, in memory of those who passed through those organizations. The four units were present on the occasion of the Annual Church Parade. Patrol Leader Bob Tate was recently presented with his First Class Badge. Nice going, Bob!

Trinity Pack

35 boys attended the meeting Monday, all enthusiastic and eager. The opening Grand Howl was led by Charlie Ancrum, Sixer of the Grey Six and the following new Chums were invested: Harry Flynn, Ronnie Epps, Teddy Roberts, Ronnie Raycraft. Inspection followed and it was difficult to find any fault with the boys. Sixers Denis Heathcote and Arthur Chesmer brought in their new six boxes this week and are to be congratulated on their fine appearance.

Games were followed by instruction when Mr. Matthews again instructed in First Aid and announced that six boys would be ready for examination at the next meeting. Raksha instructed in Skipping while Baloo passed Hopping and Somersault tests for the following: Harry Flynn, Ronnie Epps, Teddy Roberts and Ronnie Raycraft. Harry Flynn also passed Skipping. Baloo also instructed in Knots with the aid of Robert Matthews.

Raksha led in a game which was followed by Red Flower when Rev. Mercer played the piano for the sing-song. Badges presented were as follows: Collector—John Armstrong; Swimmer, Eddie Smith; Service Stars; 3rd year, John Armstrong, Ron Glansdorp; 2nd year, Bill Hartley; 4th year, Walter Monday. No signalling class will be held Friday night but all the Sixers (listed below) have been invited to attend the Sixers' party at Western HQ Saturday at 2.30 p.m. Full uniform is required and, if any Sixer cannot be present, he should phone Akela Bedford on Saturday morning. Sixers invited are: Denis Heathcote, Arthur Chesmer, Eddie Smith, Michael Mc-

We are glad to announce that pupils' collections for the Welfare Federation Campaign totalled $29.35. This is slightly lower than last year, probably because there were not enough boxes to place one in each classroom.

Six-Man Rugby: The Roslyn Termites copped their third victory on Monday, smothering St. Leo's Blues 47-0. The mighty Termites started the pile-up with Warnock going over for a major on the first play. The attempted convert was ruled no good. Throughout the rest of the game Warnock netted sixteen more points, giving him a total of twenty-one points for the game and forty-eight for the season. Other scorers were Tony Skinner who put in twelve for the winners and thirty for the year, John Abbott eleven points and Drummond two. The game was worth four points and gave the Termites a net total of eight points for the season.

"Christ For Montreal" Meetings Draw Many Interested Audiences

The Opening "Christ for Montreal" meeting, at the Westmount Baptist Church, was attended by an audience estimated at 800 persons, with an estimated 1200 attending the Sunday night Mass Meeting at 9 p.m. Dr. Savage of Pontiac, Mich., the special campaign mission preacher quickly won the hearts of his hearers by his winsome ways and free and easy manner.

At the Saturday night gathering he said, "I am not an evangelist but a country preacher mislaid in a city pastorate. I want to make it clear, that every one signing a decision card will be asked to state their church preference, and in every case, that card will be turned over to that church to be followed up by the pastor. We are here to help every church."

At the Sunday night service, Karl Steel, the artist who "paints with crayons," provided what was the high point in interest when he portrayed "The Stranger of Galilee," with beautiful sacred music by Prof. and Mrs. Howard Skinner forming the background. Beginning with the azure sky, the fleecy clouds, the hazy purple mountains, the Sea of Galilee, the disciples in the foreground, the blind man imploring Christ, and the Christ outstretching His hands in blessing, the entire picture moved graphically, holding every onlooker breathless.

At the conclusion Mr. Steel used multi-colored lights, which made the crayon-drawn picture look like the work of an ancient master, with the added touch of changing colors. Dr. Savage followed with a moving address on "What Is a Christian."

Mr. Steel will produce a different production each night on some Scriptural theme, interpreting on the ancient master paintings, with Mr. and Mrs. Skinner providing the musical settings, and Dr. Savage following with an evangelistic message. The service will be held in the Westmount Baptist Church through Sunday night, Oct. 27th, after which they will be held in the McVicar Memorial Presbyterian Church in Outremont, for one week, and the last week at His Majesty's Theatre on Guy. The principals of the party are heard daily over CJAD from 12.45-1 p.m.

Different Views Of "Golden Boy" By Drama Critics

"Golden Boy" by Clifford Odets is being put on at Victoria Hall on October 28th, 29th and 30th, produced by the Montreal Drama Guild. Few dramas in recent years have challenged theatre-going circles with various appeals like "Golden Boy" by the noted contemporary playwright, Clifford Odets. Reactions of well-known critics to the play, which enjoyed considerable success in New York and in London, have been enthusiastic.

Brooks Atkinson, New York dramatic critic, discovers that its chief virtue is the social message to be found in the hatred of the world to which the violinist-pugilist's personal ambition turns. John Mason Brown, another New York critic, does not concern himself about the message the play conveys. He reports that the work is an example of Mr. Odets' capacity to give the "essence of a scene with almost telegraphic brevity, with fierce humor and relentless vigor."

Sidney B. Whipple, a third critic, underlines the "brutality, passion and highlights of comedy that make the tragedy beneath the chief motive all the deeper."

A cast of competent actors of established reputation locally has been chosen to introduce the play. Main roles are Joe, played by Leo Ciceri; Lorna, played by Madeleine Sherwood; Mr. Bonaparte, played by Charles Lewis; Moody, played by Douglas Peterson; Tokio by Charles Miller; Fuseli by Gordon Jones; Sol Cohen, Phil Rose, Merle Ross, Bruce Raymond, Henry Gomer, Leonard Desmarais, Leo Moss, Harry Milgrim, Ray Hawn, Denis Berrigan complete the cast. Hans Berands has designed the sets and the play will be directed by Charles Lewis.

The program includes comedy skits, glee club singing and dance interpretations.

The program has been devoted to the young people, although a glee club comprising over 40 voices will support scenes from the camp's Sunday Evening Hour, a portion of the program reserved for Christian fellowship.

Many members of the cast are former troop show performers who throughout the war years performed before thousands of Canadian Servicemen here and overseas. Among the various artists well known to troop show artists are; Kay Bulger Len Arbour, Guy Lachance, Marjorie Buck, Marcel Dufort and Ica Pollock

The entire productions is under the direction of Joyce Booth, Ross Thomson and G. J. McGorrigle.

SUPPORT CATHOLIC CHARITIES

Local residents will, we are sure, give generous support to the Federation of Catholic Charities Drive which continues until next Wednesday, October 30. The objective of $250,000 is a substantial one for this organization, and it will require the help of all to achieve it. Catholic Charities supports twenty-four agencies and services, its work extending throughout the city among the helpless—cripples, unemployables, the aged, orphans, abandoned children, the sick and others in need of help. Without the assistance of Charities these would be in hopeless straits. Your contribution, large or small, will be gratefully received. Give now, and give generously. Remember those less fortunate than you.

BY-ELECTION RESULTS

The loss of both of Monday's by-elections will cause government leaders at Ottawa furiously to think. Parkdale was expected to continue its adherence to the Conservative party even with a reduced majority, but the government hoped to balance the Toronto result with a victory in Portage. That both seats went Conservative will give the government plenty to think about, and there will be a considerable attempt to analyze the causes, especially in the west. What effect the results will have in the House remains to be seen. It is hardly likely, however, that the government's position will be seriously imperilled unless the combined opposition parties all want an election at the same time, which is most unlikely. If the government is wise, it will begin now to repair its fences in which several breaches have been allowed to develop since the last general election. The tendency to loosen its grip on price control is the most serious breach in the wall, and the one to cause the electors the most concern.

IMPORTANCE OF EDITING.

Editing and creative writing are two distinct fields of endeavor, as far apart as baseball and polo. It is not often that a writer can effectively edit his own manuscript, and there are few editors who can write an interesting novel. When the two abilities are combined in one person, we have what amounts to genius, writes William Feather.

Bad editing is responsible for the insufferably long books that publishers recently have been offering the public. A good editor could cut one of those 700-page tomes to 200 pages without deleting anything but repetitions and statements of facts that everyone has known since childhood.

Editors are expected to turn an author's ambiguity and verbosity into clarity and conciseness. What the novelist says in three pages the editor often can put into a hundred words. That the public appreciates such editing is amply proved by the popularity of the Reader's Digest and its imitators.

FRUGAL HUSBAND.

About once in seven years a lawyer breaks down and tells an interesting story.

This man told about a widow whose husband left her the income for life on a $125,000 interest in his business. This was twenty years ago. He had two brothers, partners in the business. The widow rented rooms in a downtown hotel and soon married a second time. In the eyes of her in-laws the new husband was a no-good. He spent his days in brokers' offices, watching the tape. He soon moved his wife into a double-room in a second-class hotel, where they lived shabbily. Meanwhile the surviving brothers resented the necessity of sending quarterly dividends.

The sister-in-law died recently. The stock in the company reverted to the brothers, presumably leaving the husband penniless. When the wife's will was read, however, it turned out that she had accumulated an estate of $750,000, two-thirds of which she willed to her brothers and one-third to her husband. The husband had made it for her by astute investment and speculation. In addition, he had about $100,000 in his own name.

The accounting was meticulous and the securities were gilt-edged. Not a bad guy but too frugal, perhaps.

WHAT MAKES IT GO?

There's an old story about the Irishman who was asked what made the horse-car go. He said it was the nickel that you handed the driver.

In its day, that was a howler.

Some years later a student at Vassar college, when asked to state the principle of the telephone, said it was a nickel in the slot.

Neither answer was completely stupid.

In a civilization built around the profit motive, there isn't any activity until there is a satisfactory exchange. Money is the symbol used in making these exchanges. The passenger of a horse-car doesn't feed the horse a bag of hay and hand the driver a slice of ham. He gives them the equivalent, so the hay and ham can be purchased and eaten at the end of the day.

PROFIT AND LOSS STATEMENT.

The problem was: If a man buys an article for $12.25 and sells it for $9.75, does he gain or lose by the transaction?

The beautiful young thing pondered deeply. She wrinkled her brow. Then she brought forth this answer: "He gains on the cents, but loses on the dollars." — The Vagabond.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

Letters are reproduced exactly as received as a public service, the paper does not accept any responsibility for them.

Dear Sir:

I note with displeasure Mr. J. R. Spendlove's letter, published in your issue of October 18th. I feel that I can speak of food conditions both home and abroad, having spent several years overseas with the Canadian Forces.

The W.V.S. are asking us to send food parcels to our British cousins—just how this will reduce the volume of food for the rest of Europe is a little beyond all reasoning. From personal experience in packing parcels, the amount one can get in one package is not very great—the majority of people who send food to the British Isles send those items which they could well use themselves but think better of it, i.e.:—lard (oh rare joy!) butter, sugar, etc.—all things which require a little "stinting" on our part but after all I think we do alright even with shortages to master.

There is nothing to prevent Mr. Spendlove from sending all the parcels he desires to the continent of Europe. I know of several companies which will pack and ship them for a small fee, I also know many fine organizations which send food-stuffs on their own "hook" to France, Belgium, Holland, Russia, Yugoslavia and others. Who are you, then, Mr. Spendlove, to condemn this fine organization? To bring up the old story of "racial discrimination" is a little silly, certainly the W.V.S. would have no part of such a program. UN RRA is doing an excellent piece of work in all countries, but to compare our sending a few parcels to the British Isles with the spoiling of relief work is a fine illustration of ignorance.

Also, Mr. Spendlove, where did you get your information about 750 calories a day in the British Zone — come, come now, I hardly think you've got your story straight, has anyone else heard of that ration — it beats me!

To anyone who has an inkling of what the people of the British Isles have been going through, your letter will sound like a lot of prattle.

Yours truly,
R. P. Fielding.

Westmount Baptist

"Ideas Have Legs" will be the title of the morning address by Dr. J. A. Johnston in Westmount Baptist Church. Peter Howard, London journalist, says "Ideas change men. Ideas change nations. Ideas have legs. Christian ideas must have feet and hands and voices."

Services in Westmount Baptist Church will be broadcast in the morning over Station CBM and in the evening over Station CJAD.

In the evening the sermon theme will be "The Gospel Is Good News." In this address, Dr. Johnston will emphasize and bring to bear on our Canadian life the findings of the "Church of England Commission," as embodied in the report, entitled "Towards the Conversion of England." "The Gospel is True Always and Everywhere or It is Not the Gospel at all or True at All."

Westmount Bible School is held each Sunday at 10 a.m. The school is closely graded and is thoroughly biblical. There are classes all the way from beginners to those for senior adults. Mr. Wilfred E. Williams is the general superintendent, Miss Lois White is superintendent of beginners and primary, Mr. Geo. Adam teaches the junior adults and Mr.

THE FORUM

Conducted by Howard S. Ross,
K.C., D.C.L.

In Which Subjects of General Interest
Are Discussed

The opinions expressed in this Forum are not necessarily those of this

Referring to the recommendations made by the Royal Commission which made a study of the cooperatives of Canada, Great Britain and the U.S.A. as to the question of taxation by our Dominion Government, The Western Farm Leader of Calgary of December 7 stated in part: "Our own judgement, necessarily tentative, is that though there may be snags to be dealt with here and there, cooperators in general have good reason to be gratified by the nature of the recommendations."

One argument against the removal of the milk subsidy which has been put forward by consumers is that it would be injurious to our health if milk consumption is reduced as the result of too high prices, and there is something to be said for this contention. If the increases are made and result in decreased consumption of milk there will be real cause for worry. Our general standard of health has been on the upgrade, and milk consumption—we now use more milk per capita than the people of any other country — has played an important part. Milk has become a standard food in almost every Canadian home. Taking everything into consideration milk at 15 or 16 cents a quart will still remain one of the cheapest foods which the householder can purchase. At nearly three ounces for a cent, and considering all its food values, milk is still cheap food. And it must be remembered that labor and all costs are jumping these days and the costs of dairy farmers and milk distributors are no exception.

William I. Myers, Dean of the College of Agriculture, Cornell University, trustee of the Rockefeller Foundation, and chairman of the board of trustees of the American Institute of Co-operation, just returned from a 6-week tour of four European countries, declared:

"Conditions that make people hungry, cold, shabby, overcrowded, tired and discouraged, also breed desperation and revolution. From my observations as a co-operator looking at postwar Europe, it is my conviction that the first and most important

C. E. Stockdill teaches the senior adults. Mrs. Harold Gregg is superintendent of the Home department; Mr. Harvey Walford is secretary and Mr. Harold Hamilton is treasurer. New pupils are cordially welcome to all classes.

The services, in connection with the "Christ for Montreal" campaign, follows the regular evening services. The doors will be open at 8.40 p.m. Dr. H. H. Savage, evangelist, Karl Steele, artist, with Mr. and Mrs. Howard Skinner who are the musicians.

SALLY'S SALLIES

"Look, Mother, what a surprise! Philip doesn't know you're here yet."

step needed to strengthen the democratic governments in Europe is the improvement of standards of living in all countries.

"We can be thankful that England and France are making good progress with the assistance of loans and help from the United States."

After describing the difficulties of present quadripartite control of Germany, he concluded, "We in the United States are fortunate beyond belief. A round trip to Europe—when travel becomes available — would do more to make us realize our blessings than any other single thing."

When the Dominion-Provincial Conference ended last Spring the hopes of our 184,000 old-age pensioners went down. In the preliminary proposals to the provinces the Dominion offered to lower the pensionable age to 65 and pay $30 a month without a means test. Moreover federal authorities offered to pay half the cost of pensions at age 60 to those who could show need. This offer was dropped when the Dominion and Provinces failed to reach an agreement and no provision as far as it known has been made for its incorporation in the separate agreements that are now being negotiated between Ottawa and three provinces.

The proposal to lower the pensionable age and abolish the means test met (as should be the case) with wide approval. The pension at present of $25 per month would be quite inadequate at any time but now that living costs are steadily rising it is altogether inadequate and the means test makes it very unfair to the pensioners struggling to make ends meet and too often having to call on relatives who are also having a struggle financially. When the new session of Parliament sits a revision of policy toward pensioners should be near the top of the agenda.

Born in Birkenhead, England, Powell Davis almost went into British politics but finally decided that "the crucial field was an honest, believable religion." For three years he was a Methodist minister in London, then left for the U.S. and two pastorates in Maine. By 1933 he became a radical and did not hesitate to become minister of All Souls', probably the most important Unitarian Church in the U.S., with a long line of eminent preachers, including its most famed minister, Edward Everett Hale.

He calls himself a "theological radical" and is under constant attack by both right and left. Recently he said: "Communism is a sincere but psychopathic attempt to adjust the life of man hurriedly to the world of the machine. Its fatal defect is that wherever its principles are applied man loses and the machine wins. Communism will be defeated by liberalism but not until Americans understand that their own Revolution was much more fundamental than the Russian Revolution, and that Lincoln and not Lenin is the predestinate symbol of the common man."

The overflow of his church he stated: "People come to hear me because they are hungry for a religion that makes sense, that does no violence to the spirit. I say as simple as I can what I have to say, and that is why people listen. I call for courage rather than give a promise of solace."

Melville Presbyterian

The Ladies Aid Society is holding a tea on Tuesday, October 29th, at 3 p.m. in the church hall. A good program has been prepared and there will be tables of articles for sale.

Plans for the annual Anniversary supper on Tuesday, November 19th are complete and will be carried out by members of the Melville Church Association.

There will be a "Maritimers" night at the church in the near future, which will be in charge of students of the Presbyterian College who come from Nova Scotia, Cape Breton, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island.

At the morning services on all Sundays in November there will be sermons dealing with special phases of the church's and congregational work and policies.

Dominion-Douglas

At Dominion-Douglas Church Rev. R. Graham Barr will preach at both morning and evening services, his morning topic being, "Whither the Church?" and in the evening he will speak on "The spirit and meaning of prayer."

The music at the morning service will be "Jesu Priceless Treasure" by Bach, and "O Most Merciful" by Ballock. At the evening service the anthem will be "Ah Thou Poor World" by Brahms which will be sung as a solo by F. C. McMillen.

Church School will meet at 3 p.m. There will be no meeting of the Young People's Union this week, as the Young People will be attending the Presbytery rally at Calvary Church.

There will be two main events of the week. The first being the Men's Club supper at 6.15 p.m. on Monday when the speaker will be Rev. U. Laite, of New Westminster, B.C., who served as one of the United Church Marine Missionaries on the West Coast, and who, as Chaplain of the Victoria Rifles, was captured by the Japanese at Hongkong, and spent nearly four years in an internment camp. The ladies are invited to attend at 7.30 p.m. to hear Mr. Laite's address.

The second event is for the ladies and is the Autumn "At Home" to be held at the home of Mrs. Colin W. Webster, 52 Gordon Crescent, on Wednesday from 4 to 6 p.m. In connection with this, there will be taxi service from the Church.

On Monday the Sewing Circle will meet as usual at 2 p.m., and the usual meetings of "Cubs" on Monday at 7 p.m., Scouts, 7 p.m. on Tuesday and Guides, 7 p.m. on Wednesday. The Brownies meet on Saturday at 11 a.m. It will be noted that Brownies have changed their time of meeting from Monday to Saturday.

St Luke's United

Reformation Sunday will be observed in St. Luke's on Sunday. The minister will preach on, "Keeping The Torch Lighted," the fifth sermon in the series of, "Laying The Foundations." His evening subject will be, "The Seduction of the Wayside."

The Sunday School attendance continues to increase. The meeting of the Nursery, Beginners and Primary Classes during the morning hour of worship proves to be popular. Parents are thereby enabled to bring their children to and from church, while at the same time they are free to participate in the morning service. The Junior, Intermediate and Senior Classes meet at the close of the morning service providing them with the opportunity of attending church at 11 a.m.

The Woman's Association will hold a dinner and sale of work on Friday, November 22nd. Those who are planning to attend, please call Mrs. R. Hamilton at DE. 3263 for reservations. Could you spare a jar of pickles, jelly or jam for the Home Cooking Table? Donations will be appreciated by the conveners, Mrs. Gill and Mrs. Dalgleish.

Stanley Presbyterian Church Celebrates 72nd Anniversary

At special services on Sunday morning and evening, Stanley Presbyterian Church will celebrate their 72nd anniversary. It was in 1874 that a small body of 60 people, led by the late Sir Wm. Dawson, left Erskine Church in protest against the introduction of the organ into church services of worship. Customs have changed, but that small group grew into what is now Stanley Presbyterian Church.

At the special services on Sunday the guest preacher will be the Rev. A. Ian Burnett, M.A. Mr. Burnett was born in Nyasaland in Central Africa, of Scottish Missionary parents. His education was acquired in Scotland where he graduated from Edinburgh University with an M.A. degree. Three years ago he came to Canada to assume Ottawa's most influential pulpits, that of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. While in Ottawa he has acquired the reputation of a very forceful preacher, with a message full of meaning for our day.

His coming to Stanley Church affords an opportunity to hear him, which many Montreal people have been looking forward to for a long time.

PRICE-FREDERICK

The marriage of Mary Theresa, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Frederick, of Westmount, to Mr. Michael Anthony Price, eldest son of Mrs. Price, of Montreal, and the late Anthony Price, took place at St. Michael's Ukrainian Catholic Church Saturday afternoon, October 5th, at three o'clock. Roses and gladioli were used in decoration.

The bride, was given in marriage by her father and had two attendants, a maid of honor, Mrs. Daniel Frederick, her sister-in-law; and a bridesmaid, Miss Rosemary Smith. Mr. Daniel Frederick, brother of the bride, acted as best man, and the ushers were the groom's brothers, Messrs. Stephen, Anthony and Daniel Price.

The bride wore a gown of white satin with Peter Pan neckline, sleeves ending in points over the hands, and a full skirt falling in folds to the end of a long train. The bodice was tight-fitting and gathered into a sunburst at the waistline. Her veil of tulle fell to the end of her train and was held in place by a sweetheart head-dress of tulle trimmed with orange blossoms, and she also wore pearls, the gift of the groom, and carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses. The matron of honor was wearing a floor length gown of rose taffeta fashioned with a V neckline and cap sleeves. She also wore lace mitts and a head-dress of rose flowers veiled in tulle and carried a colonial bouquet of assorted flowers. The bridesmaid wore sky blue taffeta, floor length, with round neckline, puff sleeves and full skirt. Her flower head-dress was to match and she carried a colonial bouquet.

A reception was held at the 400 Club on Drummond Street where the bride's table was centred with a three-tier wedding cake and arranged with roses. Later, the newlyweds left to spend their honeymoon in Ottawa, the bride going away in a gold-colored suit, with brown accessories and a corsage bouquet of orchids.

The couple will reside in Westmount.

Real Silk

Have you noticed how real silk articles are creeping back into the stores? This is an encouraging sign. When I was in the C.S.L. Shop at 1480 Sherbrooke St. W., just around from Mackay. I was shown some new scarfs that had just been received. They were real silk foamy bits of liveliness, ideal for this winter's gala affairs. One of the patterns was a ballet scene, entitled Le Lac des Cygnes, done on pastel shades. It was very dainty and the other was a more sporty pattern, with horses heads printed on a background of orange and black. If you have been looking for something extremely dainty in luncheon sets, be sure and pop in and see the table set with organdy place mats, and cut out embroidery. They are for a table of eight. The other set is a white linen lined with navy organdy and navy embroidery cutouts. Exquisite does not begin to describe them. There are also a pair of very unusual Venetian glass base lamps. There were very tall candle sticks, wired for lamps. The coloring is green. Have you been looking for a wrought iron wood basket for the fireplace? The C.S.L. Shop have some very decorative ones that are worth investigating. The small hooked murals have taken on a new appearance. They are now being framed in wide oak, some being just the natural wood, and some have the wood very skillfully coloured to blend in with the predominating colour of the mural. Some are old habitant homes, in summertime, and others are winter scenes. Here is an idea for a most acceptable gift. The C.S.L. Gift shop are the exclusive owners of these. For my kind readers who have called in regarding the little kitten, I am sorry to say it is only an Inanimate Pet, but still the mascot of the shop.

Thirty Or Over

Already the "season" has started and the most fastidious woman would be foolish if she thought a very elegant gown was all that was needed to carry off the "honours" of the evening. Or might I say, are you past thirty? if so, there is no reason why one cannot have the youthful look that you see in many an older woman's face. BUT, one must be just as particular about one's skin as about one's frock. I know of no other better way to find the way to a firm, soft, youthful look than by facials at Francis Salon, Holt Renfrew Co., Sherbrooke and Mountain. You will find the perfect treatment that you have been looking for. Here the original Dorothy Gray treatment is given, exactly in the same manner as at the Dorothy Gray Salon in New York. This treatment takes an hour. But an hour of sheer relaxation. I do not consider this a luxury but a necessary step to loveliness. You will appreciate the immaculate surroundings of the Face Treatment rooms. After your first treatment, you will find you have discovered a softness, a youthful look returning, which you were quite certain had been lost forever. This treatment consists of your back and shoulders and neck being massaged, besides the face. In this way the smooth line of your face is continued right down to your neck. Your treatment is done by the finest experts that Holt Renfrew can find, and only Dorothy Gray preparations are used. When I was talking to Francis, he told me how the young girls of today are guarding that precious requisite to youth, their skin, by frequent facials.

Sport Togger

With this prolonged Autumn weather the ladies are enjoying their suits, which usually at this time of year are being worn under fall coats. Speaking of suits, College Craft Clothes Ltd., 1447 McGill College Ave., just above St. Catherine St., have some real lovely looking three piece wool suits. The $\frac{3}{4}$ length coat has a deep arm hole so as to allow plenty of room under the suit or a heavy dress. They come in Black, Brown and Turquoise Blue, and also are very stylish, with the suit coat tying in front. The young business girl who needs a good serviceable raincoat but still wants to look chic, why not drop in here and look at their very excellent satin raincoats? They are tailor made and lined to the bottom, and also come in very attractive shades. It might be a good idea to pick one up now for a Christmas present, as they will be hard to get later on. You will be surprised what this small store has to offer in fur coats. Their assortment comprises seal trimmed with grey Bombay lamb, Muskrat flank, $\frac{3}{4}$ length, belted across the front. This coat is very youthful looking. If you are interested in twin Beaver, you will find a beauty here. Last, but not least, a con, made by Poslume's, has the wide sleeves, tuxedo style. I know you will be satisfied with a fur coat bought here. It is not too late to purchase that sport suit that you have been wanting. They are ideal in the winter time, and I have not seen a better assortment anywhere. There are also the dressmaker style and the plain coat. They come in all pastel shades. The one that took my eye was a brown and white shepherd's plaid wool in the dressmaker style, with a lick pleat in front and back of skirt. It was so reasonable, and I did not think it was possible to buy a suit like it today.

WEDDING CAKE ALL THE WAY FROM EDMONTON

Mr. and Mrs. Huntly Charles Bourne, photographed cutting their wedding cake, which was brought from Edmonton by the bride's uncle. Mrs. Bourne was formerly Miss Ann Dalgleish (Nancy) Anderson, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander G. Anderson; and Mr. Bourne is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. E. H. Bourne.

An Old Friend, The Potato, Comes To Table In New Guise

Because the potato is a homely vegetable and because it is a familiar part of the meals all their lives, many people are inclined to give it very little attention and consideration. Many vegetables come and go during the year but the potato is always there, our faithful and good friend.

The people who love potatoes, who could eat them three times a day and often do so, are not much interested in the way they are prepared, they like them anyway. But there are others who do not have such a love for this lowly vegetable and get tired of boiled, baked, mashed, scalloped and even fried potatoes. The home economists of the Consumer Section of the Dominion Department of Agriculture offer tested recipes which will find favour with all groups of potato consumers.

Potatoes, French Peasant Style
2½ cups cold cooked potatoes, cut in 1-inch cubes
¼ cup bacon fat
1½ cloves garlic
1½ tablespoons chives or onions chopped
1½ tablespoons parsley, chopped
1½ tablespoons chopped celery leaves
1½ tablespoons flour
1½ cups milk OR ¾ cup stock and ¾ cup milk
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper

Saute potatoes in bacon fat until brown on all sides. Remove potatoes and keep hot on back of stove or in warming oven. Crush garlic with the blade of a knife and fry in fat with chives or onions, parsley and celery leaves. Add flour and gradually blend in milk. Add salt and pepper and cook over low heat until the sauce is thick—about 4 to 6 minutes, stirring constantly. Add potatoes and reheat. A little minced ham may be sprinkled over top of potatoes. Six servings.

Potatoes in Green Peppers

3 large green peppers
2 tablespoons fat
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup milk
¼ teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
1 cup grated cheese
3 cups diced cooked potatoes

Wash peppers, cut in half lengthwise and remove seeds. Parboil, uncovered, in salted water until tender but not soft. Drain. Melt fat, add flour and blend well. Add milk stirring constantly until mixture thickens. Add salt, pepper and cheese. Stir until cheese is melted. Add potatoes and heat over low heat until hot. Serve in green pepper cases. Six servings.

Bologna Cups With Hot Potato Salad

2 cups diced, cooked potato
2 Sweet pickles, chopped
1 hard cooked egg, chopped
1 tablespoon chopped onion
2 tablespoons vinegar
Salad dressing to moisten
Salt and pepper
6 slices large bologna

Combine everything but bologna. Heat in top of double boiler. Do not remove casing from bologna, which should be cut a little thicker than usual. Heat in a little hot fat in frying pan until edges curl up to form a cup. Fill with hot potato salad, garnish with parsley.

Tricks In Brewing A Good Cup Of Tea

If you've been in the habit of buying tea by telling the grocer you want "just any kind," it is time to begin to enjoy this ancient famous and delightful beverage by learning to know different kinds.

Buy small amounts of green and black teas, make them according to directions on the packages, and sample them. The difference in flavor, fragrance and color is considerable.

When you find one which pleases you most, make it perfectly. This means draw fresh water from the faucet, put it on to boil, when it is boiling madly, pour it over the measured tea leaves in a hot, earthenware or silver pot. Rinse the pot first with hot water, measure the right amount of tea into it, then pour the boiling water on. Let it stand two to five minutes, or according to the directions for that particular kind of tea. (Make it double strength for iced tea, and for tea to be used in fruit punch in summer.) As a rule a scant level, or slightly heaped teaspoon of tea, according to whether it is a heavy-flavor black tea, medium flavor or delicately light green tea, is allowed for each cup of boiling water. Only experience will tell you whether these measures are right with the kind of tea you prefer.

So experiment till you make tea perfectly for your taste, and vary it for your friends by adding more to the pot, or less according to their wishes.

The following articles were distributed to patients: 5,680 cigarettes, 4 lbs. tobacco, fruit, games, 12 lbs. home-made fudge, candy, 60 dozen cookies, matches, chewing gum, life savers, magazines, books, 116 packs of playing cards. Many of these articles came as personal donations from members of the visiting committee. During the summer this committee also contributed $10 towards four parcels sent to Britain through the Personal Parcels Scheme.

The Club will continue with the Personal Parcels Scheme, relying on members for donations.

During the meeting a silver collection was taken in aid of the Canadian Legion Parade of Dimes.

MORE THAN 12,000 WERE HELPED

During 1945 Catholic Charities helped more than 12,000 men, women and children who needed help. Nothing indicates that the demand upon Catholic Charities will be any less in 1946 or next year. Costs of material aid — food, clothing, shelter — have risen; there is a growing need for the services of highly trained welfare workers to cope with the problems of adolescence and of domestic strife and insecurity. Catholic Charities needs your help more than ever before.

Women With Ideas

Violet Archer
Winnifred E. Wilson

Much local interest attaches to an article appearing in the October issue of "The Canadian Home Journal" and dealing with the achievements in the musical world of Miss Violet Archer, woman composer, who lives on Decarie Blvd. The article is written by Miss Winnifred E. Wilson, Elm Avenue, Westmount (who, incidentally, is a contributor of a weekly article "Bulletins from Birdland" to the Westmount Examiner, another of the Monitor Publishing Company's publications).

Violet Archer, Composer

In her story of the highlights of Canada's coming woman composer, Miss Wilson says: "Violet has written pianoforte, organ, vocal, choral, orchestral and chamber music. Her compositions have been broadcast by the B.B.C., as well as by Canadian and American networks; they have been conducted by such world-famous men as Sir Adrian Boult and Percy Grainger. At present one of her works is being read by a panel of judges on the Committee for the promotion of New Music in England.

"The first public performance of one of Miss Archer's works was by the Montreal Orchestra, under Douglas Clarke, in 1940; the first broadcast, in 1942, by the B.B.C. Orchestra, London, England, conducted by Sir Adrian Boult. Her piano pieces have been heard over the air played by such well-known Canadian pianists as Rose Goldblatt and Ross Pratt. Miss Goldblatt also gave the "Habitant Sketches" in New York, at the Festival of North American Music; while two of this composer's pieces were played in North Carolina at a concert of Canadian music."

Winnifred Wilson

The writer of the article, Miss Wilson, is herself a talented and versatile person. She is deeply interested in music, especially in the Montreal Women's Symphony Orchestra. Many articles from her pen have graced the pages of various publications, and she also delights in painting in watercolours. Her "Bulletins from Birdland" are chatty and show a patient and keen observation of bird life.

Last March many readers may have seen Miss Wilson's story on another outstanding Montreal woman in the musical world — Ethel Starke, conductor of the Montreal Women's Symphony Orchestra, which was published in the Canadian Home Journal; and about a year ago she told of the work of the Montreal Women's

Symphony Orchestra itself in the Toronto "Saturday Night."

Just last week the Toronto Star Weekly (October 19) gave prominence to Miss Wilson's nature article "Not So Dumb" and the September-October issue of Canadian Nature contained a geological article by Miss Wilson.

At the Exhibition being held in Victoria Hall by the Independent Art Association Miss Wilson's portrait in watercolour of Mr. John Humphreys, artist, was on view. This week two of her autumn landscapes are shown.

All the year round, however, she enjoys and watches our bird-life. At her summer home at St. Adolphe de Howard, a sort of feeding station is erected on the premises and year after year her feathered friends return for crumbs and tidbits. This year a baby song sparrow was her chief pet, actually coming to her call from its haunts in the garden.

Father Mackey Addresses Xavier

At the monthly meeting of the Xavier Apostolate Guild held in Congress Hall recently, the speaker was the Rev. William Mackey, S.J., whose subject was "Assignment in the Himalayas". Introduced by the guild's moderator, the Rev. E. M. Brown, S.J., and thanked by Mrs. Leo Reynolds, Father Mackey told something of the work which faces the four young Jesuits who are to start educational work in India. He cited the success obtained by sending religious educators to Ethiopia. "The first step," said Father Mackey, "is to give a good general education, then to introduce religion. At Darjeeling, where Father Mackey is going, the college has 60 young men as students. These boys are the sons of leading Indians in the surrounding provinces.

Caste System

The speaker told of some of the strange religious customs of the Indians, which makes a missionary's work more difficult. The caste system, for example, forbids a person of a higher caste to associate with one of lower degree. Further, regardless of education or wealth acquired, a person's caste can never be changed. The natives believe that by leading a good life, a person may hope to be re-incarnated into a higher caste.

Father Mackey compared the beauty of Darjeeling with that of Banif. It is, he said, a beautiful spot situated 6,700 feet above sea level. This young and enthusiastic missionary looks forward with keen enthusiasm to this difficult venture in the Himalayas.

A musical program was given by Mrs. G. Barry accompanied by Mrs. T. B. Shea.

Coming Bazaar And Dedication Noted At CP Aux. 96 Meeting

The monthly meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary Canadian Pacific (Quebec 96) Branch of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., was held in the club rooms on Thursday evening. The president, Mrs. A. Lyle, who was in the chair conducted an initiation and welcomed the following new members: Miss P. M. Collingbourne, Mrs. D. W. Francis, Mrs. Kenneth Hodges, Miss Patricia Murphy and Mrs. N. A. Tuer.

Financial and committee reports showed a great deal of activity and of particular interest are the plans for the bazaar which will be held under the auspices of the auxiliary in the Quebec Hydro Building on Wednesday, November 19th. All members were asked to take an active part.

An innovation on meeting night is the arrangement whereby members wishing to go directly to the club rooms from business may procure refreshments at a snack bar, of which Mrs. J. Tanner is in charge, and during the free time before the meeting members may take part in the ping-pong tournament convened by Mrs. L. Walters, or the glee club under the direction of Miss Alison Huntley.

There was discussion of the Poppy Sale and Mrs. Haddlesey who is in charge of sales at Simpson's Store and at Windsor Station asked all members to assist with this work.

Dedication of Colours

Arrangements were completed for the Dedication of the Auxiliary Colours at St. Anthony's Church, 1887 St. Antoine Street, on Sunday evening at 7.30 and the hope was expressed that all members who could do so would be present.

The entertainment for the evening, under the convener'ship of Mrs. R. Provencher, was a motion picture, provided by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, which showed many of the beauty spots of the Canadian West.

Refreshments were served by Miss Ryan and Mrs. Carr Major.

CAST OF FAVORITES! Dennis Morgan, Alexis Smith, Jack Carson and Ann Sheridan are co-starred with Jane Wyman in "One More Tomorrow," which starts at the Monkland United Theatre on Saturday, playing until Tuesday night.

Entertainment For Every Taste In "Two Sisters From Boston"

A merry jamboree of song, dance, romance and comedy is offered on the Monkland United Theatre screen, where the picture "Two Sisters From Boston", is now playing until Friday night. A galaxy of entertainment has been gathered for the picture in the persons of June Allyson, Kathryn Grayson, Lauritz Melchior, Jimmy Durante and Peter Lawford.

Backgrounded by the story of a girl who makes a hectic and breathless climb from a Bowery beer-hall floor-show to the opera stage, the picture offers an opportunity for each of its stellar headliners to make the most of his or her speciality.

Miss Grayson, as the spirited Boston sister who entertains in a Bowery honky-tonk in order to earn money for her opera lessons, again proves her acting and singing versatility and is a delight to both eye and ear whether she is doing such amusing comedy numbers with Jimmy Durante as "Down by the Sea" and "Two Sides to Every Girl," or singing her thrilling operatic arias.

June Allyson, as the prim Martha shocked by her sister's gaudy theatrical environment and endeavouring to bring an end to the scandalous situation, only in the end to find herself in a floor show number with the riotous Jimmy Durante, is completely captivating. As for Durante, his role of the piano-playing "Spike" is the most hilarious in which he has been seen. The famous Durante

Signals Reunion Dance Planned

A Reunion Dance of all Signals personnel of the Montreal District will be held at the Bleury Street Armouries on Saturday evening, November 2, under the joint auspices of the Reserve units (4th Div. and 2nd Corps) and the Montreal Signals Veterans' Club.

Veterans or other personnel desiring to attend are requested to obtain their tickets before November 1 at the Orderly Room of the Armouries at 1179 Bleury Street either on Tuesday or Thursday evenings between 7.30 and 10 o'clock or any day between nine and five in order to ensure that adequate catering arrangements can be made. Tickets are free to former members of all Signals' formations.

slyness, affability and dexterity in putting over a song are all present—nose and all—and his every appearance brings down the house.

What with Lauritz Melchior bringing his incomparable Metropolitan Opera voice to the screen, and young Peter Lawford as Miss Allyson's romantic interest in the picture, "Two Sisters From Boston" offers entertainment for every age and every taste.

Montreal Festivals' Membership Privileges Explained

Members who have not renewed their memberships in the Montreal Festivals, and persons wishing to become members, should do so as soon as possible in order to be able to take advantage of the membership privileges of the organization before its chamber music concerts and operatic performances begin next month. These privileges entitle a member to a ten percent reduction on all tickets throughout the year and the privilege of securing tickets, and thus the better seats, ten days before the sale of tickets for each performance is open to the public.

The chamber music concerts will begin on Friday evening, November 1, with the second on November 22, and the third, before Christmas, on December 13. The first concert of the New Year will be played on Friday evening, January 10, and the four following on January 31, February 21, March 14 and April 4. The outstanding feature of these concerts this year will be the presentation for the first time in Canada as a whole of the Twelve Grand Concertos by George Frideric Handel. Guest soloists so far engaged include William Masselos, young American pianist, Jean Beaudet, noted pianist, conductor and music director of the CBC and Dean Douglas Clarke of the McGill Conservatorium.

The first operatic performances of the season will be the presentation for the first time in Montreal of the New York City Opera Company, direct from their fall season at the Civic Centre Theatre in New York, on December 9 and 10, in Madame Butterfly and The Bartered Bride, at His Majesty's Theatre.

Plans are now under way for the presentation of an outstanding oratorio, which has never been heard in Montreal before, with a noted conductor and well known soloists.

Two Newcomers Worth Watching

Newcomers to the Trinity stage who should definitely be watched are Sheila Tremblay and Helen Pfeiffer.

Miss Tremblay has appeared for the Lachine Little Theatre, the St. Matthias Drama Group, and the Open Air Theatre Players. When "Bachelor Born" is presented on October 23rd to 26th she will play the part of the eldest of the three trouble-causing sisters.

Miss Pfeiffer appears as the youngest of this trio, and her promise in rehearsals merits careful attention of those who are interested in the development of young artists.

TWO GREAT STARS! Ingrid Bergman and Gary Cooper are the stars of the film version of Edna Ferber's popular novel "Saratoga Trunk," which starts on Saturday at the Seville United Theatre, playing until Tuesday night. Featured in the supporting cast are Flora Robson and Jerry Austin.

"Saratoga Trunk", Colorful Drama Now At Westmount

The lustiness of a departed era, the vigor, the bawdiness, the brutality of America's coming of age in the late 70's, the color and romance of that period have come alive in the exciting new drama, "Saratoga Trunk," which is now playing at the Westmount United Theatre until Saturday night. Starring Ingrid Bergman and Gary Cooper in the most flamboyant of their screen roles, the film also includes Flora Robson, Jerry Austin, John Warburton, Florence Bates and Curt Bois.

In the main, "Saratoga Trunk" is a sweeping panoramic view of America's industrial growth during the latter half of the nineteenth century, vividly spiced with the glowing love story of two of the most reckless figures who ever stepped from the pages of a best-seller. The film, adapted from Edna Ferber's successful novel, tells the amazing story of ravishing Clio Dulaine (Ingrid Bergman), Creole-born and Paris-bred, who returns to her native New Orleans, scheming for riches. Here, amidst the primitive jazz of the Razy Snazzy Bands, the smell of coffee and crawfish and Louisiana mud, Clio meets Colonel Clint Maroon (Gary Cooper) and falls in love. And Clint, who had come to the languorous Creole capital straight from a Texas shooting to try his hand at stud-poker and black-jack, binds himself by taking orders from her right at the start. Because of Clio's attachment to her cowboy and her notoriety in New Orleans, she follows Clint to Saratoga, the gambling paradise of the North.

Her arrival, with her startling entourage of a turbaned mulatto maid (Flora Robson) and a uniformed dwarf coachman (Jerry Austin), causes a sensation in blase Saratoga. The fashionable United States Hotel, which housed all Saratoga's social and financial intrigue, becomes her chess board and Bart Van Steed, (John Warburton) the Spring's most eligible and mother-ridden bachelor, her pawn.

How Clint and Clio love and quarrel in Saratoga, how Clint fares in his war with the soft-paunched city slickers and in his free-for-all fracas at Binghamton over the hundred-mile stretch of bitterly contested railroad tracks makes up "Saratoga Trunk's" gaudy story. Nor is it Clint and Clio's story alone. Clio's tiny coachman who has the best pair of hands for reins and the best pair of ears for listening around Saratoga stables; her devoted maid, Angelique; and Mrs. Coventry Bellop (Florence Bates), Clint and Clio's well-bred ally, are characters worthy of the novel from which they came.

School on Monday, will be received with considerable satisfaction or are planning to enroll.

For years past M.R.T. productions have been of a professional standard and it is logical that an effort should be made to encourage some of its younger stage aspirants to come forward and learn something about how plays are produced, acted, dressed, etc.,—the hundred and one things that go to make a successful production.

It seems evident that the School will be well and competently staffed. Directed by Roberta Beatty and numbering among its instructors people like, Mildred Mitchell, Virginia Watt, Elizabeth Leese, Hans Berends and Herbert Rose, all of whom have been eminently successful in one form or another of theatre work, the School cannot fail to get away to a good start.

A limit will be set to the size of the School's classes in order to ensure efficiency of operation and individual coaching where necessary, so early application for membership should be made. Doreen Lewis, Producing Director of M.R.T., is acting as Registrar and will be pleased to answer enquiries.

Locals Smear Youth Centre 28-0

Take Second Slot Behind NDG-ers

By BOB LUNNY

By virtue of their win over Youth Centre last Saturday afternoon at Atwater Park, the Westmount Juniors are in second place with eleven points. The local gridders had very little trouble with Youth Centre, as they smeared them for a 28-0 victory. The game was fairly well played before a crowd of more than four hundred. The next schedule game for the Westmounters will be on Saturday up at Lachine. The game will be played at the Notre Dame Stadium at 2.30 p.m.

D'Arcy Lamb started things rolling for the locals when he went over the goal line for a touchdown on a quarter-back sneak play. Kaz Nishio's convert was successful. Ray Binmore racked up the second Westmount touchdown on a pass from Nishio. The attempted convert failed. With minutes remaining in the first half Don Jackson plunged his way through the Youth Centre line for another touchdown. Again the attempted convert failed. The winners ran the count to 18-0 when Bill Telfer nabbed a Youth Centre player for a safety touch.

Ronnie Morrow scored another major when he picked off one of Sandy Spence's forwards. The convert failed. Bruce Marshall completed the scoring when he took the pigskin over for the final touchdown. D'Arcy Lamb, Doug McGillis, Bruce Marshall and Don Jackson played stand-out football for the Westmounters. Little Ronnie Morrow starred with his timely tackling. Bob Bowness played best for the losers.

Corvettes Undefeated In Pee Wee Section

The Corvettes are now the only unbeaten team in the pee-wee section of the Westmount Municipal Six Man Rugby League. The Corvettes have now gone five games without a loss, and are leading the "A" division of the section. The "B" division is topped by the Termites with three wins in four games.

In games played last week the Corvettes beat Termites 26-5 and the Reds 21-1. In another tilt the Termites swamped the Blues 47-0 in a four pointer. The Red Sox dropped out of the league and lost games to the Blues, Wildcats and Reds by default.

Led by Noel Isene, who tallied 25 points, the Corvettes crushed the Termites 26-5. Buddy Agnew got the winner's other point. Denis Drummond saved the losers from a shutout by going over for a major score.

ISENE STARS

Isene paced the Corvettes once more as they downed a weakened Red team 21-1. Isene tallied 10 points followed by Chummie Carter, six, and Eddie Kalil, five. Bob Rogers kicked the Reds' lone point.

Alec Warnock scored 21 points as his Termites swamped the Blues 47-0. Other scorers were Tony Skinner, 12; John Abbott, 11 and Denis Drummond, three.

Noel Isene, Corvettes, is far ahead in the individual scoring race with 62 points to his credit. Alex Warnock, Termites, is in second place with 48 while Tony Skinner, Termites, is third with 29. Brian Gallery, Reds, is fourth with 27.

Quite a few games are scheduled for this week, the Reds will play Wildcats this afternoon at 3.50 p.m.; tomorrow morning Eagles and Blues will play a

Alouettes Swamp Midget Greys

Bad weather forced the cancellation of all but one scheduled game in the midget section of the Westmount Municipal Six Man Rugby League last week. In the sole game played, Alouettes swamped Greys 34-0 in a four point affair.

The Alouettes had things pretty well their own way in this game, and Bert Kelly ran up a total of 17 points to lead the individual scorers. Other players scoring points were Bob Bunten, 11; Mike Barnard, 5 and J. Robinson, 1.

Kelly, Alouettes, is also the top individual scorer in the section with 37 points. Team-mate Bob Bunten is in the runner-up spot with 17 points while Mike Barnard, Alouettes and Dave McVey, Greens, are tied for third place with 10 points.

Two more midget games will be played this week. The Greys and Greens will clash in a four point game tomorrow morning at 11.00

PUTTING

The Westmount Putters Social Club held its initial weekly meeting of the season at Victoria Hall on Monday night with a large turnout on hand.

The election of officers for the season took place and refreshments were served at the end of the meeting. The group also took the opportunity to wish Godspeed to a pair of their members, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Thom, who have left the city to reside in another part of the province.

The members of the new executive include Win Stott, chairman; Roger Lamb, treasurer; Mrs. R. Drain and Miss Sargeant, entertainment committee.

The group decided to extend an invitation to the adult members of the shuffleboard group to join in with them for the winter's program. There was a large number of persons who used the shuffleboard courts regularly all summer and who, it was felt, might like to continue on with the associations they had connected during this period. All adults in this group are extended a cordial welcome therefore, to come to next Monday's meeting at Victoria Hall starting at eight o'clock. The program consists of social recreation such as cards, checkers, games and other entertainment of this nature. Once a month refreshments are served.

ALOUETTES RESTORE FOOTBALL HERE

The amazing comeback of football in Montreal has been commented upon by practically every fan in town. The armchair analysts have advanced many reasons for the revival, including the signing of Leo Dandurand with the Alouette project, the deliberate effort to interest the French-Canadian population in the game, the fine aggregation of stars that Lew Hayman has welded together into one of the smoothest teams in the country, the excellent accommodation spectators enjoy at Delorimier stadium, which is unrivalled from a spectator's point of view.

Short Field an Improvement

One point which seems to us to have done a lot to give the game more spectator appeal, but which has been overlooked or ignored, is the cutting of the length of the field from one hundred and ten yards to an even hundred. After observing the Argo and Ottawa teams in action here, it is our considered opinion that the short field adds speed to the game, puts the teams in range of goal for placements oftener, makes nearly every forward pass on the goalward side of centre field a touchdown threat. The playing area here was shortened of necessity, for there wasn't room at the ball park, no matter how you laid out the field to get the regulation sized gridiron into the enclosure and still have any room behind the goalposts. As it is there is only a space of ten or fifteen yards behind each goal line, instead of the regulation twenty-five, and this tends to cut down the number of rouges—a really spectacular play—but the shorter distance from goal to goal is a definite improvement.

The Rouge is Spectacular Play

We hope that if the Canadian game ever contemplates going all-over to the U.S. rules, as some followers of the game are advocating, the rouge at least will be saved. This is one of the most thrilling plays in our code, and the American game is the poorer because of lack of it. Those who saw Moody's long kick from his own twenty to behind the Rider line last Sunday, which rouged Charlton, will agree. The crowd rose to its collective feet when Moody unleashed that one and roared as the Ottawa player was finally hauled down behind his goal-line.

Western in Smart Display

Now that the Metras coached Western team has walloped McGill in their first encounter, the Redmen must win Saturday against the league leaders to keep in the hunt for the Intercollegiate loop title. McGill now rests in third place, two games behind Western, one behind Varsity, and one ahead of the cellar dwelling Queens team.

The result of last Saturday's battle that went to Western, 18-2, came as a surprise to the McGill followers, who had yet to see their team lose a game in three Montreal starts. However, when it is considered that a pair of first class ends, Gus Summerskill and Hart Finley, as well as Flying Wing Dick Pare did not play at London due to injuries, and that Murray Hayes lost effectiveness after being hurt shortly after the game started, the result should not have been too much of a surprise.

The Varsity team finally found its true stride against Queens last weekend, walloping the Gaels 21-0 right on their own field. Fred Doty, the erstwhile Argo, starred for the Blues in this one. Although Western beat Varsity 20-7 in their first game this year, the next battle should be a hum-dinger, with the winner likely becoming Intercollegiate champs.

Big Upset When Alabama Lost

In the American College circles, the year's biggest upset saw the trouncing of undefeated and untied Alabama by Tennessee. Alabama were Rose Bowl champions last year, after an undefeated and untied 1945 season; but the Vols, also unbeaten and untied this year, tipped the Crimson Tide and now are favored to play in the Rose Bowl against the Pacific Coast Conference Champions. 'Bama's loss was no fault of its great passing quarterback, pint-sized Harry Gilmer, who threw 16 passes in the second half in an effort to save the game. Fifteen were complete, but Gilmer's mates lacked the fire to carry the ball across the line after he got near the goal posts.

St. Leo's Hard-Luck Team In Senior Football Ranks

By LANG DESJARDINS

With the half way mark reached in the Senior Interscholastic Football Schedule, we find the plucky Academy squad still seeking their initial win. They have been mighty close a few times, but found themselves frowned on by Lady Luck, and the absence of old man experience has not made their progress any easier.

In their last appearance, which was last Sunday against McGee, our hopefuls were edged out 12 to 6. This game, like a previous encounter with Catholic High, found the Westmounters in the running all the way, and the only difference between the two teams was Bill Bastien, McGee's speedy half's sixty yard break-away for a major score in the third quarter.

The team as a whole has proved a pleasant surprise and has won the respect of their opponents who readily admit that St. Leo's is no soft touch and plenty good enough to upset some of the other clubs championship aspirations.

The sparkplugs to date on the team have been: Captain Moe Strachan who has been a tower of strength at inside. Big Marty McKenna who has been playing a smashing two way game on the backfield. Shifty Jimmy McCarthy, who has been wheeling off some mighty fine runs in his first two games before being sidetracked with a shoulder injury two weeks ago. Bud Guilfoyle at quarterback is another Academicite who has proved beyond doubt that he is of Senior A calibre. Gerry Berry, Vince Heney and Louis St. James on the line have been improving fast and are carrying a big burden of nearly full time duty every game. The ends led by Peter McMullen, Dave O'Meara and Morey Barre are a trio of deadly and effective tacklers. Of great satisfaction to coach Andy McGillis must be the hard driving games turned in by Ronny Shaw at flying wing. Ronny's effective blocking and gameness has made a big hit with his coach. A few of the rookies like Robert Lunny, Fred St. James and Pat Asselin have been catching on fast, with Lunny in particular turning in a star studded performance in his last game against the double blue of McGee.

Competition Keen In Bantam Loop

The bantam section of the Westmount Municipal Six Man Rugby League continues to be one of the most closely contested groups in the loop. At the present time the Argos hold a one point lead over the Aces for the leadership, but with the result of most of the games being a toss up, the standing will probably change a few times before the season ends.

Four games were played last week with Andy Cote's Aces turning in two wins, both over the Bulldogs, by scores of 20-5 and 29-0. In the other games St. Leo's eked out a 6-5 win over Aces while the Argos came from behind to defeat St. Leo's 17-11. Andy Cote paced the Aces to their 20-5 win over Bulldogs with 10 points. Other scorers were Jack Cote, five and John Ptery, five. The Bulldogs' lone major score was tallied by John Smith.

SECOND GAME

In the second game between the two teams, Bob Bunten ran up a total of 18 points while J. Robinson and Jan Sanzelius each got five. The odd point was scored by Andy Cote.

The St. Leo's-Aces game was a tight fit with the St. Leo's team getting a converted touchdown in the first half, Herb Guilfoyle going over for the major score. Ross Murray converted to make the score 6-0. The students led until the closing minutes of the game when Peter Giffin scored a touchdown for the Aces to bring the count up to 6-5. The Aces attempted the convert to tie the score but it was blocked and the St. Leo's club won by one point.

The St. Leo's-Argos game was another hard fought tilt with the section leadership at stake. The students broke fast and grabbed off an 11-0 lead early in the first half with Freddie Reynolds and Daye Belcourt going over for major scores. The first one was converted by Herb Guilfoyle. The Argos made a great come-

SCORE AGAIN

The winners got another touchdown in the second half when Ross Murray attempted to return a kick from behind his own goal line and it was blocked. Don Bishop fell on the loose ball for a major score. The final point of the game resulted from a rouge by Jim Brow. Don Bishop, Argos, tops the

Book Review

By H. S. Ross

THE NEW LEVIATHAN A Religious Book Club Selection by Paul Hutchinson.

Publishers—Willett, Clark & Co. 37 West Van Buren Street, Chicago. Pages 233. Price $2.00

Why, asks the author, another book on the relations of church and state? And then he proceeds to show that, with the rise of the totalitarian state, the issue of church freedom and human freedom has taken on new forms and a new urgency.

Leviathan was the name the seventeenth-century philosopher, Thomas Hobbes, gave to the power centered in the state to secure peace and order for its citizens.

The New Leviathan is the name Dr. Hutchinson gives to the modern state, with its constant addition of new powers. The state seeks and gains these new powers, it declares, in order to protect its people against mass unemployment, poverty, and the fear of invasion—all the things that make us in today's world insecure. It is the state that says to contemporary man: "Come unto me, all ye that are weary and heavy-laden, and I will give you security and rest."

And the result? The world trend towards totalitarianism—the New Leviathan!

But did not the war end the rise of totalitarianism? No; not with Russia the major victor. "Lenin and Stalin," writes the author, "have done far more to make totalitarian government attractive to millions than any Fascist dictators have succeeded in doing." "There are," the author adds, "evidences of the growth of the totalitarian principle in almost all states—even in the democracies—even in the United States of America!"

Why, he asks, should this be a matter of special importance to the churches? Because as the state assumes more and more power it insists on more and more control over all institutions of society, including the churches. The freedom of the churches, the freedom of conscience, the freedom of religion is at stake! When the church ceases to be free, it will not be long before the citizen also will find his freedom disappearing.

The Christian church, he wrote, must stand up to the menace of The New Leviathan, not only for the sake of its own freedom and future, but for the freedom and future of mankind.

In ten tense chapters Dr. Hutchinson shows how in his opinion this conflict between a state that wants power and a church that wants freedom is moving toward a coming to grips. He has made no effort to load his book with historical lore, or to embellish it with literary flourishes. He gives us clear, powerful writing—the same kind of writing that won such a response for his earlier books, such as From Victory to Peace and What and Why in China.

The author, after missionary experience in China, returned to the United States and in 1924 became managing editor of the Christian Century, the well-known undenominational weekly journal of religion published in Chicago. He still holds that post. He has written for most of the leading American magazines, has acted as special correspondent for several newspapers and is the author of at least a dozen books.

This valuable volume contains in boiled down form the pith of a series of lectures given by him in 1945 at the University of Oregon, the Pacific School of Religion at Berkeley, California, at the University of Kansas City and at the Garrett Biblical Institute, in Evanston, Illinois.

Dr. Hutchinson is at present on a tour of the world and is sending interesting articles from each of the centres which he visits and fascinating accounts they are.

The closing paragraphs of this book read as follows:—"One of the factors which kept the Chinese Empire alive longer than any other empire in history was the institution known as the censor. The censor was a man of unimpeachable character and tested moral insight who at any time had immediate access to the person of the emperor, in order to warn that absolute monarch of any wanderings from the line of conduct laid down by China's sages. That, one knows as one recalls Nathan before David, Elijah before Ahab, Jeremiah before Jehoiakim, Amos before the tawdry court and priesthood at Bethel, was also the role of the Hebrew prophets. And that must be the role of the Christian church in its relations with the modern state. It has, to its glory, been the role of much of the church in the presence of many of the totalitarian tyrannies which have overrun Europe in recent years. It must become its role everywhere so long as the trend toward concentration of power in the hands of the state continues.

So I close where I began, with Thomas Hobbes, and his Leviathan, the state—"that mortal God to which we owe our peace and our defense." For the Christian church, while time lasts, there can be no truce with any mortal God.

Igor Gouzenko is not considered to be a sound risk by at least six leading life insurance companies. Would they accept the risk if an extra premium was agreed upon as is sometimes arranged if the applicant is in doubtful health? The companies evidently fear that heart conditions are less to be feared than are certain other brands of impending disaster.

BULLETINS FROM BIRDLAND

BY WINIFRED E. WILSON

"Where's the bird book?" Edith panted as she ran up the steps. "I've just seen a new bird, and I think I know what it is. Look up the Canada Jay's picture, and see if I'm right. — Bigger than a Robin; feathers fluffy-looking; mousey-grey on top, light underneath; a startling white cap on the front of its head just where a Goldfinch wears his black one; behind the cap a sooty black, with a most clear-cut outline. Is that right?"

There was no mistake; the description fitted perfectly. So did Edith's tale of the Canada Jay's friendliness. She had been sitting on a fallen log in the pasture, sketching, when a voice with an upward inflection asked "Ca-ya?" It was so close that she had fairly jumped. But the movement had not disturbed the questioner, who sat on the snake fence two yards distant. "Ca-ya?" asked the Jay again. "Who are you?" said Edith in reply.

"Ca-ca-ca," shouted the Jay, and proceeded to look her over carefully, especially examining the paint-box to make sure there was nothing edible in it.

These birds are permanent residents in the far north. But every few years we have an influx of them in the autumn. Although too shy to visit settlements, they are positively impudent in their own territory. No sooner is a lumber camp opened than they arrive, eagerly awaiting scraps of food. Whiskey Jacks, as the lumbermen call them, gave the men plenty of amusement, even though they are a nuisance, stealing whatever they can carry off—actually soap. Their vocabulary is extremely large, and they delight in familiar conversation with their human acquaintances.

Canada Jays rank among the most hardy birds. Long before the snow has left their northern homes they start housekeeping, building on low branches of fir trees. The temperature is sometimes 20 or 30 below zero when incubation is in progress. But the walls of the nest are nearly two inches thick, and the light grey eggs with dark grey speckles lie on a mattress of moss, fur and feathers. Nevertheless the birds must sit tight to keep the eggs from freezing.

The juveniles are smoky black until past midsummer. For two or three months after that family parties go foraging together, but seldom give us the privilege of seeing them.

Is Mr. Mallard a good father?

Y.M.C.A Briefs

Westmount 'Y' Intermediates won a close game on Monday night against St. Willibrord in the Golden Ball Tournament. This was the opening game, and they certainly got off to a good start. The first three-quarters all belonged to the Verdun team, but in the final period Westmount put on a terrific spurt to tie the score 38-all just before the final whistle. In the overtime the score was tied twice again but the final shot by Baker, of Westmount, won the game. The score was 44-42. We are looking forward to a good turnout on Thursday, October 24th, when Westmount play against Maison-neuve Legion in the Westmount Y.M.C.A. building.

MEN'S SWIMMING INSTRUCTION

Please note that the hours have been changed for this group. It will be from 7-8 on Monday nights from now on.

LADIES' GYM CLASSES

This group is growing by leaps and bounds. Two new members turned out this week. Here is a good opportunity to limber up and enjoy yourself at the same time. Exercise to music and then enjoy a swim afterwards. Mrs. Fears, the instructress, will be glad to welcome new members.

BUSINESS MEN'S CLUB

Handball courts are at a premium during Business Men's Club sessions at Westmount 'Y'. New members are taking to this fascinating game every day, and the activity during the calisthenic class at 5.45 will keep you feeling physically fit at all times. All the old members are back—now is the time to join in the fun.

JUNIOR YOUNG MEN'S CLASS

A new gymnasium class, under the instruction of Ross Bannerman, for working fellows 16-18 years commenced this week and will be held regularly Monday and Thursday evenings 7-8. This class period will consist of calisthenics, gymnastics, the teaching of athletic skills and friendly games. Register now with Ross.

NEW CLUBS

Fencing—A fencing class under the able leadership of Gordon Rowe will be held Wednesday evening at 7.30 for young men and women. This class will be open to members only and class periods will be held every week for 8 consecutive weeks starting Wednesday, October 30th. Registration is definitely limited—don't be late.

Ballroom Dancing—A dancing instruction group for male members will be conducted by Miss Marjorie Clark on Tuesday evenings at 8.00 p.m. This group will be open to ten members only, so register now if you are interested in learning to Fox Trot, Waltz, Tango and Rumba.

Folk Dancing—A folk dancing club is being organized to meet on Wednesday evenings at 8.30 p.m. We already have a number of members interested in this congenial social activity. Dancing will be held from 8.30 to 10.00, followed by a mixed swim. This promises to be an excellent group.

Alouettes' Grid Climb Still Tough In Remaining Games

While the Canadian hockey team are just starting their long N.H.L. fight for a repeat on the championship, the Alouettes are by no means at the end of their fight. In fact, their remaining three games can be as tough as they want to make them.

On Sunday, they meet the Hamilton Tigers, whom they have humbled three times, but they still can be a thorn in the Montreal's side. They were against Ottawa when they held the powerful capital team to a 6-6 draw, which all helped in Montreal reaching the top of the heap.

Ottawa helped the matter a little when they turned back the Argos team 12-3 last week-end, for their second loss of the year, but it was a little too much to play two games in two days, with a 350 mile hike to Montreal on Sunday.

Montreal were not so bad, playing on Friday and again on Sunday, but it is tough on a grid team. However Alouettes cannot take the rest of the battle in any easy manner. They have still two games with Argos, one home on Saturday November 2 and away at Toronto November 9.

Montreal is by no means a sure bet for that play off berth and cannot even let up when they meet Hamilton, on Sunday at the Stadium.

Alpha Omega Club Elects Officers

On Sunday evening, members and friends of St. Andrew's United Church Alpha Omega Society, will hear Maurice Bedard, popular MC of Station CJAD's "Musical Clock" program, and producer of the Amateur Radio Workshop. Mr. Bedard is also a director of the Canadian Art Theatre.

This meeting promises to be one of the best meetings in the history of the society with a large attendance expected. Mr. Bedard has been connected with Radio for the past six years and while with CKY Winnipeg, appeared in over one thousand broadcasts. Listeners to the "Musical Clock" program need no introduction to Mr. Bedard, who, with his special brand of humour, wakes many Montrealers up each morning between 6.30 a.m. and 9.00 a.m.

Jewish Appeal Drive Begins Next Monday

The annual drive of the Combined Jewish Appeal will open on Monday and close on November 6 this year, it was announced by Bernard Marks, campaign chairman. This year's objective is $689,700 an increase of nearly $40,000 in comparison with last year's appeal, and which is due to the higher costs compared with a year ago.

Mr. Marks said that, like last year, when there were two appeals in one, the Jewish community would be asked to do everything it could to support the War Victims' Emergency Relief Fund for which it is hoped to raise at least as much as in 1945.

The campaign chairman said that he would have an excellent organization working for the success of the drive, and he felt utmost confidence as to the outcome so long as every individual played his part. "A good deal of enthusiasm is already noticeable in the pre-campaign get-togethers," Mr. Marks said. "We have never failed yet and we do not intend to start this year."

Workers Message

Samuel Bronfman, honorary chairman of the campaign, in a message to workers today, said that he felt the campaign theme would appeal to them as much as it did to him.

"Understanding", he said, "is the big need of the world today. In our theme, 'This above all—understanding' I think we have struck the right note for these troublous times, troublous especially for those who need the helping hand of Combined Jewish Appeal agencies, and for those for whom we are to raise a large sum for overseas relief."

Acting, Singing, Production or announcing should attend this talk by an experienced member of the radio profession, at 8.30 p.m. Sunday evening in the club rooms of the Society.
