

SMALLPOX AT THEFTFORD.

Five Cases Discovered on Saturday and One To-Day.

DISEASE WAS FOUND OUT WHEN RAID FOR ILLICIT SALE OF LIQUOR WAS MADE.

Theftford Mines, July 10.—(Special)—On Saturday last five cases of smallpox were discovered on King Street, two different houses, three being in one and two in another house. The fact that smallpox was prevalent in the houses was brought about by an accident. It seems that a complaint had been made that liquor was being sold without a license in one of these places, and it was while a raid was in progress that the disease was discovered. Mayor Lacerte immediately ordered the houses to be quarantined, and every possible effort made to keep the inmates from mixing with others. In spite of these precautions, however, it is said that the affected children have been playing with others in the neighborhood.

ANOTHER CASE DISCOVERED.

Another case of smallpox was discovered this forenoon and the families were placed under quarantine.

The authorities are taking every precaution to keep the disease from spreading and also to stamp the same out.

LOYALTY AND AFFECTION.

Citizens of Dublin Give Ample Evidence of This to King George.

KING'S MOVEMENTS WATCHED EVERYWHERE BY ENTHUSIASTIC CROWD.

Dublin, July 10.—The citizens of Dublin continue to give ample evidence of their affection and loyalty to King George. The King's movements are watched everywhere by enthusiastic crowds. Yesterday their Majesties attended service in St. Patrick's Cathedral, where they were received by the Most Rev. J. J. Fergusson Peacock, Lord Archbishop of Dublin. The Right Rev. John Baptist Crozier, Bishop of Down, preached the sermon.

In the afternoon the Royal party motored to Maynooth College, fifteen miles from Dublin, where they were received by the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, the Earl of Aberdeen, Mrs. Birrell, wife of the Chief Secretary for Ireland, Cardinal Logue, Archbishop of Armagh, Roman Catholic Primate of All Ireland, and the Most Rev. William J. Walsh, Archbishop of Dublin. Their Majesties inspected the college with the greatest interest. They signed the visitors' book and took tea. Afterwards they visited the Royal Hospital and other institutions.

The streets were decorated with flags and bunting. This morning His Lordship held a Confirmation at St. Alphonse, Theftford.

TIM HEALY SELECTED.

Dublin, July 10.—At the Mallow Convention to-day Timothy Healy was unanimously selected as candidate for the House of Commons to represent the Northwest Division of Cork County, to replace Moreton Frewen. Last April Mr. Frewen, who is a Nationalist, announced his intention to resign his seat, as he was opposed to the Government's Veto Bill and desired also to create a vacancy for Mr. Healy, who was defeated in the last election.

CHARGE OF HERESY.

Halifax, N.S., July 10.—The heresy case in the Presbytery of Halifax, where Rev. J. W. Nicholson, of Dartmouth, and at one time minister of Calvin Church, St. John, and later of Inverness, C.B., is charged by an elder in the church at Dartmouth with having denied in a conversation with him the deity of Christ, though admitting his divinity, is likely to become a cause celebre. The Presbytery has appointed a committee of two ministers, Rev. A. Rogers and Rev. R. Johnston, to look into the matter and report. The case will then be taken up by the Presbytery.

WORDY WARFARE AT ST. JOHNS.

Situation Arose Over Threatened Removal of Ste. Marie de Monnoir College.

JUDGE MONET SPOKE FOR PEOPLE AND CANON ROY FOR ARCHBISHOP.

St. Johns, Que., July 10.—"If the Archbishop of Montreal persists in its position, we will get to hate it as much as we love these priests," such were the words spoken by Judge Monet yesterday afternoon in defence of the Ste. Marie de Monnoir priests at a gathering of citizens at the Parsonage. The remarks were applauded, whereupon Canon Roy, who was here to explain the position and intentions of the Episcopate on the matter, retorted that when such words were met with applause there remained nothing for him to do but to withdraw.

"Let us not mince matters" rejoined Judge Monet, who spoke in behalf of the citizens of St. Johns and the college priests, "we are in the parsonage; it was built with the citizens' money, and I am to-day acting as their mouthpiece. We are therefore at home here, and you will have to listen to us." And Canon Roy remained.

The gathering was the outcome of two official communications read from the pulpit at high mass yesterday morning by Canon Roy, in which it was made plain that Archbishop Bruchesi could not tolerate any longer in his diocese the religious community in question, and also signifying the intention of the archbishop to supplant this college by a regular institution, giving a combined classical and commercial course. The announcement was met with dissatisfaction by those who are in sympathy with the so-called irregular order in charge of the college of St. Marie de Monnoir. As Canon Roy declared he was willing to hear anyone having an opinion to express on the matter a meeting was called at the Parsonage in the afternoon, upon the invitation of Judge Monet, who acted as spokesman for the citizens as well as for the assailed community.

The place was crowded. Judge Monet first observed that people had not gathered to discuss the conflict of authority between the college priests on one hand and Archbishop Bruchesi and Bishop Bernard on the other, but he wanted to point out that if the college had already been running for two years in St. Johns, Mr. G. S. Barrett, the apostolic delegate, had decreed that the order must leave St. Johns and return to St. Hyacinthe on the pain of having their temporalities forfeited to the coffers of Monseigneur Bernard.

Canon Roy explained that excommunication was no longer threatened, but that Archbishop Bruchesi could build a college in St. Johns if he pleased, inasmuch as he was not asking anyone to pay for it. Judge Monet replied that he was satisfied to learn that neither the order itself nor the heads of families sending their children to the college would incur excommunication, and that if Archbishop Bruchesi wanted absolutely to open another college in St. Johns when the people wished to retain the one already in existence, he was at liberty to do so, of course, but the Judge remarked that if the two colleges opened at the same time in September next, one would be full and the other empty.

Further exchange of opinions passed between the Judge and Canon Roy after which Judge Monet's remarks were supported by Messrs. J. S. Demers, M.P. for St. Johns and Iverville; L. A. Gosselin, Advocate, and President of the Cle de Publication du Canada Francais; J. P. Carreault, registrar; Drs. E. N. Chevalier and Louis Regnier, and J. T. St. Cyr, magistrate.

DELUGED WITH MANY PETITIONS.

Case of Angelina Napolitam, Woman Sentenced to Death, Not Yet Dealt With.

AUTHORITIES NOT IMPRESSED WITH PETITIONS FROM THE STATES.

Ottawa, Ont., July 10.—(Special)—The Governor-General-in-Council has not as yet dealt with the case of Angelina Napolitam, the woman under sentence of death at Sault Ste. Marie. Meantime the Department of Justice is being deluged with petitions for clemency. Thousands of these come from the United States and in a form that is not calculated to impress the authorities with confidence in the sincerity of the petitioners.

EARLY HARVEST IN THE WEST.

Rain Fell For Two Days and This Will Do Much Good.

IT IS NOW BELIEVED THAT A HEAVY CROP HAS BEEN ASSURED.

Winnipeg, Man., July 10.—(Special)—Hard rains all over the West Friday and Saturday are believed to assure a record crop. The heat was severe for ten days and but few places needed rain badly. Reports from all sections show there has been no appearance of rust. The harvest will commence about August 10, fully ten days earlier than last year.

The formal opening of the new building for the West End branch of the Eastern Townships Bank, in Montreal, took place last week, those present being: Mr. Wm. Farwell, President; Messrs. J. S. Mitchell, F. N. McCrea (Sherbrooke); Gardner Stevens (Waterloo); G. G. Foster, K. C., Montreal, directors; James Macdonald, General Manager; A. G. Campbell, Assistant Manager centre branch, E. L. Sleeper, Manager East End Branch, and M. A. Macfarlane, Manager West end branch.

After a thorough inspection of the building and expressions of satisfaction on the part of the officers on the successful completion of the work the party was entertained at a well-appointed luncheon at the Mount Royal Club by Mr. Foster. In the afternoon the directors and General Manager enjoyed a car ride around the city and suburbs in the directors car of the Montreal Street Railway, Mr. G. G. Foster being again the host. The new bank building, which is situated at the corner of St. Catherine and Crescent Streets, is a handsome building, two stories in height, of granite and Indiana limestone. Its plain, substantial style of architecture, adorned with considerable carved work and high relief, gives the building an appearance of solidity and permanence pleasing to the eye, while within it is an even more respect modern and up-to-date, and admirably adapted to its purpose.

The large office, vault, safe deposit boxes, etc., are on the first floor, while above are six well-lighted, commodious offices, nearly all of which are leased for business purposes.

Rev. A. W. Dutton, M.A., of St. George de Beauce, conducted service and preached at Matins and Evensong yesterday at St. Peter's church, in the absence of the Rector. Mr. Dutton also officiated at the Children's service in the afternoon.

TO SEARCH FOR GOLD

London, July 10.—Another party has been formed to go to Cocos Island in quest of the gold that is said to have been buried there. The expedition has just left England. It is headed by three well-known London philanthropists, Mrs. Tite, F. Bickerton and E. McIntosh.

UNIONISTS WERE ARRESTED.

Paris, July 10.—Monsieur Vran, Dumont and Bariland, prominent Unionists, have been arrested on the charge of organizing an anti-militarist propaganda in the army. The chief basis of the charge is that the organization known as "Soldier's Son" has sent money to soldiers, ostensibly for their assistance, but the real purpose for which the money was sent was propaganda.

EIGHT KILLED; FIFTEEN WOUNDED.

Oaxaca, Mexico, July 10.—(Special)—Eight men were killed and more than fifteen wounded during a political riot in Ocotlan, Saturday night. Partisans of Benito Juarez, one of the candidates for Governor, began the riot by leading an attack upon mercantile establishments of Diaz Bros. relatives of General Felix Diaz, Opposition candidate for Governor.

SETTLING WHITE AND CUSHING ESTATES

Statements Furnished by Firms With Whom They Dealt.

INFORMATION REQUIRED OF MR. SCHOFIELD IS SUPPLIED TO SATISFACTION OF INSPECTORS.

In the Superior Court this forenoon the rule of court to be presented re Mr. K. R. Schofield was not presented, inasmuch as the statement requested in the White matter were furnished. The reason for the delay was that the securing of the same involved considerable work and they could not be produced sooner. It was evident that there was no desire on the part of Mr. Schofield to withhold any information that might be necessary in the case. This means that the motion will be discontinued without costs.

THE J. N. CUSHING MATTER.

This forenoon Mr. Schofield, manager of the F. B. McCurdy Co., Sherbrooke, was examined by Dr. Shurtleff, K.C., on behalf of the creditors of the J. N. Cushing abandoned estate. Mr. John Leonard, K.C., represented McCurdy & Co.

Mr. K. R. Schofield, manager of F. B. McCurdy & Co., deposed that his firm began to do business with J. N. Cushing about the first of May. Previous to that his firm had done business in the investment line with Cushing. The latter meant bonds and underwritings. That was a personal matter with Cushing. The investments made by Cushing himself were not paid up fully and certificates were issued in part only. Witness said he would make and file a statement of the investments and sale made for and on behalf of Cushing.

When his company began doing business in Sherbrooke they took over certain stocks from White which were loaned to Cushing. These stocks were transferred on the 19th and 29th May.

Witness produced a statement of all the transactions of Mr. Cushing with his company. That statement did not show the stocks taken over from White and credited to Cushing. He would produce such a statement, Q.—Do you remember the amount against which these stocks were taken over from White for Cushing? A.—On May 19, $6,100, and on May 29, $1,600.

The $1,600 which was debited to Cushing had been paid to White. This amount was arrived at between White and Cushing. The $1,600 was a short sale which paid the amount because Cushing was short. His firm had received other amounts than those mentioned. It was from Cushing.

BOARD OF TRADE FOR COATICOOK.

Effort Will be Made to Increase Industries of the Town.

LIVE BOARD WOULD ASSIST THE COUNCIL IN ADVANCING INTERESTS OF TOWN.

Coaticook, July 10.—(Special)—There was a good attendance at the meeting of the Coaticook ratepayers, called together by Acting Mayor McCurdy to discuss municipal matters, and especially the advisability of organizing a board of trade. Mayor Norton presided and called upon different ratepayers who were in the audience to express their views on the matters before the meeting. Among those who spoke were Dr. Robinson, Messrs. W. C. Webster, E. A. Akhurst, J. B. Gendreau, Dr. Shurtleff, Messrs. C. A. Kennedy, A. Gerin, H. Edwards, H. C. Fontaine, F. E. Lovell and A. E. Woodman.

The unanimous desire of the speakers was that some effort should be made towards increasing the industries of Coaticook, its population and its general prosperity.

Several of the speakers referred to the matter of power, and some of them were desirous that the Council should make the necessary expenditure to utilize the water at the upper dam owned by the corporation. Whether this was the unanimous desire of the meeting was not ascertained as no expression of opinion in the matter was taken.

The matter of a Board of Trade was referred to by most of the speakers and they were unanimous in saying that a live board could be of service in assisting and co-operating with the Council in advancing the interests of the town. The fact of similar organizations having been started in the past and not being continued for any length of time was referred to; still the majority was favorable to another attempt at organization being made. After hearing the gentlemen above named Mayor Norton appointed Dr. Robinson, Messrs. H. C. Fontaine and W. C. Webster as a committee to nominate officers for a Board of Trade. These gentlemen retired and after some deliberation brought in the following list of officers: Honorary President, Mr. C. H. Lovell, M.P.; President, Mr. H. Verret, K.C.; Vice-President, Dr. D. A. Robinson; Joint Secretaries, Messrs. L. M. Thomas and A. Gerin; Treasurer, Mr. O. G. Webster; Advisory and Finance Committee, Mr. D. S. Bachand, Dr. Shurtleff, Messrs. J. A. Vezina, A. C. Hanson, H. C. Fontaine, E. B. Fischer.

The meeting then adjourned to be called together again after the officers of the proposed board had met and were ready to make a report.

THE FATAL ACCIDENT AT RICHMOND.

Boy Hudson was Killed at Dangerous Point in Yard.

PEOPLE OF RICHMOND PETITION RAILWAY COMMISSIONERS RE SITE OF STATION.

Richmond, July 10.—(Special)—As briefly mentioned in Saturday's Record, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Hudson, Trenholmvile, aged 15 years, came to a sad death shortly before noon on Saturday, the 8th, near the Grand Trunk Railway station. He was employed driving a horse and cart hauling sand from the Murphy pit a short distance away. This was his first load during the forenoon to where cement was being laid at the ash pit between the station and round house. In order to deliver sand where needed, it was necessary for a team to first cross one track, then proceed between the sidings, which are quite close together.

An engine was coming from the direction of the round house, while another was moving in an opposite direction. The horse got frightened at the one coming towards it, and partly turned, backing almost if not actually against the rails on which engine No. 1226 was moving. The fireman on this engine, who was standing on the tender steps, seeing the danger, signalled the engineer to stop, which evidently could not be done in time to save an accident. The engine struck the cart loaded with sand, with much force. The unfortunate young boy, who was riding on the cart, was thrown with force against the engine. He received so serious injuries that he only lived a short time, and never regained consciousness. Fellow workmen saw the danger as they were close at hand, and did all in their power to prevent an accident. The engine coming from direction of the round house came to a standstill before the collision occurred, while the other engine moved but a short distance after striking the team. The horse was not severely injured, but was held down by the shafts of the cart.

The boy's sister, who works at the restaurant, very near the scene, was among the first to be at her brother's side. The unfortunate boy's parents reside at Trenholmvile and have every sympathy from a large circle of acquaintances.

It is reported that the Grand Trunk Railway were to begin Monday (to-day) to erect a new station on the site on which the one recently burned stood, but that a protest has been registered by the people of Richmond with the Railway Commissioners of Canada against the erection of a new station on the old site, claiming that the street crossing approach to the station is one of the most dangerous to be found at any station in Canada. It is also contended that the time has arrived when the public in this vicinity are entitled to that which they have long laid claim, namely, protection in approaching the railway station. It is truly a sad thing to see a young boy's life go out so unnecessarily in the performance of his duty.

VERDICT OF ACCIDENTAL DEATH

On Saturday evening Dr. Bachand, Sherbrooke, and a jury held an inquest into the death of Jos. Hudson.

After hearing the evidence the jury returned a verdict of accidental death, but recommended that the G. T. R. should have protection for the employees when working in such dangerous places as the spot where Hudson met his death.

The jurors were: H. A. Desmarais, R. S. McKee, J. O. Hudson, E. M. Wright, J. V. Laplante, H. Connolly.

The remains of the late Joseph Hudson were taken to his home in Trenholmvile on Saturday evening, and the funeral took place to-day (Monday) at one o'clock to Kirkdale Cemetery.

COOKSHIRE.

H. Price Webber, manager of the Boston Comedy Co., appeared again before a large Cookshire audience in Victoria Hall on Thursday evening, when he presented the legendary drama, "Rip Van Winkle." This troupe played three nights in this town about six weeks ago, but were again greeted by a full house on Thursday, which shows that Mr. Webber's popularity is not waning.

The funeral of the late Mr. Antoine Martin was held Friday morning from the Roman Catholic Church. The attendance was large, Mr. Martin being an old resident of the town and very popular. The bearers were Messrs. G. Bernard, P. A. Barbeau, F. Gagnon, W. H. Leonard. Deceased was 61 years of age, and leaves a widow, two sons, Mr. Wilfrid Martin, Mr. Oscar Martin, two daughters, Mrs. Oscar Beaudoin and Miss Rose Martin, all of Montreal, who have the deepest sympathy of their many friends in their sad and sudden bereavement.

Mr. Martin left here on Saturday last to spend Dominion Day with his family in Montreal, apparently in his usual health. On Sunday night he was stricken with paralysis and died Thursday morning. The body was brought to Cookshire. Mr. Martin came to Cookshire from Upton 27 years ago and has resided here ever since. He has been in the butcher business the greater part of the time, and for many years was in the employ of Mr. H. H. Pope. A short time ago he sold his property here and the family moved to Montreal.

THE GODS OF JAPAN.

(Tokio correspondence London, Standard.) Since the anarchist episode official classes in Japan appear to have been seized with a passion for self-examination. Everywhere, both in the press and in public speech, there is constant expression of dissatisfaction with the nation's present moral condition, to which defect the recent anarchist disloyalty is attributed.

Japan morality and patriotism are practically identical, so that if a man be loyal and patriotic it covers a multitude of sins. It is natural, therefore, for the Japanese to look upon any evidence of disloyalty as a mark of immorality. Consequently on all sides we have Ministers of state and their subordinates to institute searching inquiry into local conditions and take measures for the reformation of the nation's morals.

Recently Baron Urua, the Minister for Home Affairs, summoned a conference in Tokio of all the provincial governors of the empire, during which he took occasion to warn these officials against the dangers of allowing pernicious ideas from abroad to corrupt Japanese ideals of patriotism. Most remarkable of all is the fact that the authorities seem to have come to the conclusion that the defect deplored is somehow due to mistaken notions of religion or to lack of education. Here again it must be remarked that in Japan not only is loyalty pretty much the same thing as morality, but it is religion as well.

Both the Minister of Home Affairs and the Minister of Education have instructed all officials under them to urge greater reverence for the temples and shrines and to do what they can towards strengthening faith not only in the native religions, but in all religions obtaining among the people. It is now openly claimed by these and other official authorities that religion is a great aid to moral education. The movement made by the Government for the suppression of numerous shrines occupying valuable land in various parts of the country is to be abandoned and worship of the old gods as well as the new is to be encouraged.

Government officials, in short, have come to a realization of their utter powerlessness by the ordinary machinery to guide and control the ideals of the nation without religion of some kind.

THE OLD CORN BROOM.

Brooms are "going out" too—the old handpower kind made of broomcorn, says a writer in "Success Magazine." Our best families have taken to vacuum cleaners; office buildings go in for soft, brushy brooms made of bristles. The sale of the old-fashioned brooms is on the decline. The farmers of the broom-corn country of Illinois swear they will raise no more of their product until the manufacturers assure them better prices than they have received in recent years, and the broom-makers can't do that because they are already administering oxygen to their perishing business. Even an infant industry requires less coddling than one which has passed its prime.

SIR WILFRID LAURIER REACHES QUEBEC.
 Was Tendered a Great Welcome as He Landed From Boat.
 SOLDIERS OF CORONATION CONTINGENT WERE ON SAME SHIP, LEFT FOR THEIR RESPECTIVE HOMES.
 Quebec, July 10.—As the Empress of Britain swung into her dock last evening the band of the Coronation contingent played "O Canada," and the large crowd of people that had assembled on the dock sent up three hearty cheers of welcome to the soldiers of the Dominion who have been representing Canada at the coronation of King George. The cheers were answered with a will by the crowd that swarmed all over the forward decks.
 On board was also Sir Wilfrid Laurier, returning from the Imperial Conference and with the Coronation festivities. With Sir Wilfrid were Sir Frederick Borden and Hon. L. P. Brodeur. The Premier landed immediately after the ship had moored, and he was given an enthusiastic reception. Sir Wilfrid Laurier was met by Sir Lomer Gouin, Mayor Drouin and others. He was escorted to the carriage of Lieut.-Governor Langelier.
 Sir Wilfrid will address a meeting to-night on the Terrace, where a special stand has been erected, and which is being decorated with lights and flags. An address will be presented on behalf of the city, and another from the Liberal clubs of Quebec.
 Sir Wilfrid is looking in splendid form, and his smile was much in evidence as he acknowledged the greetings of his admirers.
 The coronation contingent was dismissed on board the ship and the men at once proceeded to the various trains which are to convey them to their homes in all parts of the country. The men all appeared to be in a cheerful condition, and seem to have enjoyed their trip thoroughly. They had lots of work to do, they also had much pleasure, and were well treated on the other side.
 Sir Wilfrid Laurier is a guest at the Chateau Frontenac, where he was joined by Lady Laurier.

 POSITIVE RESULTS
 In the Treatment of Diseases by Electricity.
 Scrofulous Enlargements, Glands, etc., Goitres, Tuberculous Glands, Swollen Joints, etc. HAVE POSITIVELY BEEN CURED since the opening of the Electric Institute. Many cases, now in course of treatment are doing remarkably well.
 IT IS THE RULE that cases are not taken in unless they are believed to have a fair chance of recovery.
 The process of basing medicine through the tissues by the aid of electricity, is a wonderful one. In fact, medicine applied on any part of the body will go through the tissues and can be found immediately after in the bladder. Moreover, if the wrong pole has been connected with certain drugs having more affinity for the other pole, the consequence is that it will decompose and gather around the same pole, instead of going through the tissues where they were intended to have gone in the first place. Any medicine applied in the proper manner must evidently do its good work more directly and more quickly than by usual methods.

CANADIAN LOCOMOTIVE WORKS TO STAY IN KINGSTON.

In spite of much talk of removing the works of the Canadian Locomotive Co. from Kingston to Toronto or Montreal, the Company's Directors have denied that they contemplate moving. The Company has at Kingston excellent means of transportation both by land and water. An interesting feature of this Company is bonus system which is applied to employees. By this system a man who in a satisfactory manner accomplishes more than a certain standard of work in a day is paid so much more in proportion. Many of the men now at work in the plant were preceded in their positions by their fathers, and like the German artisan his work is his real life interest.

CANADIAN PACIFIC.

(From McQuig Bros. & Co.'s Weekly Circular.)

The financial year of the Canadian Pacific Railway ended last Friday, and it is estimated that in spite of the poor crops last year and the heavy expenses due to excessive snowfalls, the gross earnings will exceed those of the previous year by about eight and a half millions. As the operating expenses increased about six millions, the increase in net revenue will be about two and a half millions. Increases in income from other sources amounted to over a million, and the fixed charges increased about half a million, so that the surplus available for dividends will show an increase of three million dollars, which, after paying the preferred dividend, will show about 15.7 on the common. From this surplus only seven per cent. is charged against the ten per cent. dividend, the balance being paid on interest from land sales so that the surplus for the year will amount to about fourteen and a half millions. The probable large grain crops in Canada should make the present year a record one for C. P. R. and any loss which the railroad would sustain if the reciprocity treaty should be put through would be largely compensated for by the increased revenue from the company's holdings of Soo stock and by the largely increased value of the Company's land areas.

ROYAL VISIT TO WALES

The King Will Attend the Investiture of the Prince.

At a meeting of the representatives of the Bangor University College and the Bangor City Council, held at Bangor recently, Lord Kenyon, President of the College, announced that the dates of the Royal visit to North Wales had at last been definitely decided upon as follows:—On the 13th July His Majesty will leave Dublin in the Royal yacht for Holyhead, whence the King and the Royal party will proceed by Royal train to Carnarvon for the investiture of the Prince of Wales, returning to the Royal yacht immediately after the ceremony. On the 14th the King will again leave Holyhead by train for Bangor, where in the afternoon he will formally open the new University College buildings, afterwards again returning to Holyhead. On the 15th His Majesty will proceed to Abergwybyth to lay the foundation of a new building there.

QUEEN ALEXANDRA AND THE FUTURE KING GEORGE

MADE IN GERMANY

Souvenirs Are Being Sold in London From Continental Countries.

How shall we know during the coming Coronation festivities that the Coronation medals we shall wear are not of the "made in Germany" variety? At the last Coronation these foreign souvenirs flooded the country, and, according to several English manufacturers, they are already being shipped into this country in large consignments again. "Most of them are so well done," said one manufacturer, "that the public could not tell them from our home-made medals. They are forwarded in boxes stamped 'Made in Germany,' but as soon as they have passed the Customs the boxes are discarded and the souvenirs, which have no mark as to their origin, are sent out broadcast. They are made in white metal generally, and bear the King's head, or their Majesties' heads together, with the Royal Arms on the reverse side. Some of them that have arrived have apparently been made with the die from which the King Edward souvenir medals were made, with the late King's face altered to represent King George. German medals are not the only foreign things with which the British public will be fooled this year. Large consignments of other patriotic emblems are being shipped over here by our industrious Teutonic cousins, and as they are generally made to sell at a very much lower price than similar articles made in England our trade is naturally very seriously affected by them."

ELECTIONEERING DODGE

How an Agent Got Electors to Take His Money Out of His Pockets

One of the cleverest bits of electioneering dodgery was devised by an agent who had been forbidden to corrupt the electors. He called a meeting and attended with his pockets full of gold. "I have to inform you, gentlemen," he began, "that there is to be no bribery on our side during this election. (Hear, hear.) For my part I do not intend to give away a penny piece. (Udney silence.) But I am afraid there are some rascals in this room, and that presently they will lay me on the table and take 500 sovereigns out of my pockets." The next few minutes he spent upon the table.

EXCITING STRUGGLE WITH A WILD BOAR

Private Cufflin, India, gives the following description of a struggle he had with a wild boar:

"While out 'jungling' some few months ago, in company with a chum, I had rather an exciting experience with a wild boar. We had been out several hours without meeting anything worth the shooting, and were 'traversing a deep ravine, or nullah, as they are called in India—I on one side and my chum on the left—when the shikari who accompanied us suddenly called my attention to a large boar that was scrambling up the side of the nullah, about 200 yards on my left. I instantly fired, and 'laughed the boar in his hind quarters, tumbling him back into the nullah. As soon as he dropped, my chum put down his rifle and ran towards him with a clasp knife, intending to put the finishing touch to him. He had scarcely gone fifty yards when the boar suddenly jumped to its feet, turned, and charged, and caught my chum by his legs, throwing him to the ground, and commenced to worry him with his tusks. My chum, who was an old hand at jungling, had upon his sense of mind to lay flat upon his stomach, and thus escaped the serious injuries he would have sustained had he attempted to rise to his feet and run away, as the formation of a pig's snout debar it from using its tusks upon an object that is very close to the ground. However, all this happened in a few seconds, and he dropped seconds, and this old tusk succeeded in inflicting several bruises about my chum's arms and shoulders before I was able to get near enough to be sure of an aim consistent with safety to my chum. As soon as I got the boar in an advantageous position, I fired, this time hitting him clean through the brain, and he dropped like a log. But for my chum's presence of mind in lying prone as soon as he fell this incident might have terminated with serious results; but, as the saying goes, 'All's well that ends well,' and, after all, it is such incidents as these that do so much to soothe the monotony of a soldier's life in India—a life which requires enlightenment at times."

SUBDUING A TIGER

It Was Kindness That Made the Animal Tame

Illustrating that it is nothing but kindness that makes wild animals really tame, Herk Hagenbeck, the world-famous animal trainer, tells the following story:—"I remember a savage Bengal tiger which was sent to me from Calcutta some years ago. When it arrived it was in a state of fury and rage, and for several days would fly at me whenever I approached the cage. I paid him a daily visit, purring as I approached, which was like speaking in his own language, and he gave up gradually his furious greeting. After a week I took a piece of meat at each visit, for the way to the heart is through the stomach, and that does not apply to tigers alone! At the end of four weeks I could touch him, and three months later he had quite realized that no one wanted to hurt him, and used to come quietly to the bars to be stroked each day."

THE WORLD'S LARGEST ROOM

The largest room in existence under a single arched roof, and entirely unsupported by pillars or buttresses away from the walls, is said to be a huge building in St. Petersburg, measuring 620 feet long and 150 feet wide, used mainly for military purposes. This giant apartment is of such a size that a whole battalion—1,000 men—can drill in it with the greatest ease. It requires no fewer than 20,000 wax tapers to light it satisfactorily by night.

LORD HALDANE

Doesn't Believe in Eight Hours of Sleep, and Thinks Nothing of a Forty-Mile Walk

Lord Haldane is a tremendous worker. He is said to consider more than three hours' sleep at night to be mere waste of time!

To look at him you would never imagine Lord Haldane to be possessed of the energy, both mental and physical, that he has.

He is decidedly substantial in build, but this is not due to lack of exercise. Behind him are a long line of sturdy Scotch ancestors, and from them he has inherited a love of walking.

His grandfather at eighty-three could do his eight miles and be as 'fresh as paint' afterwards, while a great-uncle could reduce many a younger man to a state of exhaustion by taking them for long tramps, which he himself did with the greatest ease. Many a time Lord Haldane has covered between thirty and forty miles a day; but his brother can beat this record, and has to his credit no less than 102 1/2 miles, which he covered in thirty-one hours.

Lord Haldane is a great smoker, and large black cheroots are his favorite "smokes." Not long ago the doctor told him he was smoking too much, and advised him to go easy in that direction.

A short time later an old friend met him, soon after lunch, and inquired sympathetically how he was getting on without his smokes.

"Oh, fairly well—fairly well," was the reply. "I've only had six so far to-day!"

The Haldanes belong to an ancient family, and many of their ancestors have served their country in Parliament or on the field.

Two of the most famous of the Haldanes were, perhaps, the brothers

MR. HALDANE

James and Robert, who a century ago gave up all to become itinerant preachers.

They threw themselves heart and soul into the cause that appealed to them, and were probably the greatest lay evangelists Scotland has ever produced.

Lord Haldane was born in Edinburgh in 1856.

He was first of all educated at Edinburgh University, going afterwards to Göttingen.

He decided to become a lawyer, was called to the Bar in 1873, and became a K.C. in 1876.

He has a Scotch seat—Clean, near Auchtermuchty, Perthshire, until quite lately called "Clondan."

But this he has shortened by a syllable, and is now known as Viscount Haldane of Clean.

In addition to his many other activities, Lord Haldane has found time to write a number of books, and, with the help of Mr. Kemp, he made a translation of Schopenhauer's "World as Will and Ideas," a work which ran into three volumes, and took some time to complete.

WOULD END THE KAISER'S NAVY.

(Pail Mail Gazette.) There is a good sporting story told in Germany of the Kaiser's love of a practical joke, and it relates to a boar hunt given to a number of guests. Tramping through a wood they met a keeper. 'My good fellow,' said the Emperor, 'you seem very suspicious. Perhaps you think I haven't a license.'

Thereupon out came a printed document for the man's inspection, duly stamped and signed. 'Well,' came the next question, 'I hope you're satisfied?' The man nodded, and then made a gesture toward the rest of the party. 'Oh, yes,' exclaimed the silent mirthful potentate, 'I've no doubt the other gentlemen will follow suit and show you theirs.' Of course not one had a license, and all had to pay fines before a Magistrate next day.

But he had not always had his pen way. One night he was sitting out a dance with a young lady at a court ball. 'What would you say,' he asked, 'if I were to forbid my officers to marry?' 'Your Majesty came the quick reply, 'That would be impossible! Your navy would cease to exist.'

TEST YOUR COWARD COWS. Records of dairy cows are always of interest, not only to the owner who is anxious to increase the yield, but also to neighboring dairymen, who desire some standard whereby to check the production of their cows.

In April the yield of 10 cows near Birnam, Ont., was 383 pounds of butter fat, but from records to hand from the cow testing association near Bobcaygeon, Ont., it is seen that it took 21 cows, more than twice as many, to produce just as much butter fat.

In a year or two the man with these poor cows will probably have got his head up to nearly double their present capacity because he will know for certain which cows are not worth keeping.

Dairy farmers in all provinces have done this, some are now getting nearly three times as much milk and fat as they used to obtain before they determined to gather information as to which poor cows were sheltering themselves, coward fashion, behind either a fair herd average or a good yield from one or two extra head cows in the herd, such, for instance, as a seven-year-old grade cow near Woodstock, Ont., that gave last month 2,161 pounds of milk, testing 3.3 per cent of fat, thus giving over 73 pounds of butter fat in one month, almost double the good average yield above noted at Birnam.

Are your cows good profitable dairy cows, or are they cowards? It will pay you to keep records of each one and so find out.

THE SIGNS OF THE TIMES.

Twenty-five years ago the Canadian Pacific Railway ran its first trans-continental train. At that time the company had gross earnings of only $10,000,000, while to-day they are over $100,000,000. In that year the company possessed 372 locomotives; to-day the C.P.R. possesses 1,625. Altogether there are in Canada about 4,500 locomotives supplying the needs of 25,000 miles of railroad. Over 6,000 miles of road in Canada are being built or being surveyed, and when this is being completed it will mean that another 1,000 locomotives will be required. It is estimated that Canada will require almost 1,000 locomotives per year for the next half century, partly to replace existing stock, and partly to provide for the new mileage. The Canadian Locomotive Company's decision to double the capacity of their plant was amply justified by Canada's development and railway requirements.

LEEDS. There are a few in this district who would favor the installation of a rural mail delivery from here to Lyster Station. Some do not approve of the idea. It might be well to mention that should fifty per cent of the residents along the route desire free delivery, an application for the same should be made to the Postmaster General for the same the Department is obliged to grant the request. The cost in this connection is but three dollars, payable at the time mail boxes are put up and there are no further charges, the Department paying the mail carrier for placing mail in the boxes. This arrangement is most successfully carried out in many parts of the Eastern Townships.

MISTAKEN IDENTITY. O'Reilly Denied That His Name was "O-biltherated". In some country districts in Ireland, it is not unusual to see the owners' names simply chalked on traders' carts and other vehicles, in order to comply with the regulations. Unfortunately his custom lends itself to the playing of pranks on the part of "boys" maliciously inclined, who sometimes rub out the lettering. A case of this kind having occurred, a constabulary sergeant accosted a countryman whose name had been thus wiped out unknown to him. "Is this cart yours, my good man?" asked the sergeant. "At course it is," was the reply. "Do you see anything the matter with it?"

From the time of Her Majesty's birth until her marriage her life was just that of the fairly well-to-do English girl, hardly that of the modern English girl, perhaps, but nearer the old-fashioned ideal. This was her mother's plan.

FRENCH POLICE SYSTEM. The Case of Captain Meyner Said to Have Been Mismanged. Quite an excitement has been occasioned in France by the deficiencies of the police system. The various reports are somewhat conflicting, but they all tend to show that the case of Captain Meyner was grossly mismanged.

INSPECTOR DEW'S SUCCESSOR. Divisional Detective-Inspector Thomas Dival has been appointed to succeed Chief-Inspector Dew at Scotland Yard. Mr. Dival has been a member of the Metropolitan police for 20 years, and during that time has been concerned in many sensational and notorious cases. It is said that the rewards and commendations he has received in connection with such cases have hardly been equalled by any member of the force.

WOMEN COLONELS. Kings, princes, and dukes are frequently made hon. colonels of various battalions and regiments, although, as a rule, the actual command is held by an officer belonging to the corps. Now, however, there are even women colonels attached to some of the Prussian regiments, and these frequently ride at the head of their troops on state occasions.

A MATTER FOR GRATITUDE. Balfour and Erskine Principals in an Amusing Story. Of two celebrated barristers, Balfour and Erskine, this story is told. The former's style, it should be mentioned, was very verbose, while the latter's, on the contrary, was crisp and vigorous. In court one day Erskine noticed that Balfour's ankle was bandaged. "Why, what's the matter?" asked Erskine. Instead of replying, "I fell from a gate," Balfour answered in these words: "I was taking a romantic ramble in my brother's garden, and on coming to a gate I dis-

The driver of the latter attempted to cross the track ahead of the car, and the motorman realizing that a collision was inevitable, applied the brakes, but the rail being slippery he could not bring the car to a standstill until it had collided with the wagon. The fender was broken, and other damage done to the car, but the wagon escaped damage. No one was injured.

PROTECTION FROM LIGHTNING. Sir Oliver Lodge stated that the problem of securing protection from lightning consisted in finding the best method of dissipating the enormous energy of the flash, but that it was not wise to get rid of the energy too quickly. A thin iron wire is considered the best lightning conductor from the electrical point of view, but it is almost impossible to protect a building from lightning unless it is completely enveloped in a metal cage. It is by no means true that a building is safe when provided with a conductor reaching up to the highest part of the building.

SEVERE STORM IN NEW ENGLAND. CONSIDERABLE DAMAGE DONE BY LIGHTNING AT VARIOUS POINTS. PLATINIZED GLASS.

Platinized glass consists of a piece of glass coated with an exceedingly thin layer of a liquid charged with platinum and then raised to a red heat. The platinum becomes united to the glass in such a way as to form an odd kind of mirror.

The glass has not really lost its transparency, and yet if one places it against a wall and looks at it he sees its image as in an ordinary looking glass. But when light is allowed to come through the glass from the other side, as when it is placed in a window, it appears perfectly transparent, like ordinary glass.

By constructing a window of platinized glass one could stand close behind the panes in an unlighted room and behold clearly everything going on outside, while passersby looking at the window would behold only a fine mirror or set of mirrors in which their own figures would be reflected while the person inside remained invisible.

In France various tricks have been contrived with the aid of this glass. In one a person seeing what appears to be an ordinary mirror approaches it to gaze upon himself. A sudden change in the mechanism sends light through the glass from the back, whereupon it instantly becomes transparent, and the startled spectator finds himself confronted by some grotesque figure that had been hidden behind the glass.—Harper's Weekly.

ORIGIN OF LLOYD'S.

Humble Beginning of Europe's Great Maritime Agency. Two centuries ago a man who had a cargo to send to the Mediterranean contrived to get rid of some of the risk by inducing a friend to take an interest with him. It was necessary to write out a statement of contract to which the guarantors subscribed. This was the first underwriting. These two men happened to be frequenters of Lloyd's coffee house in London, which was a favorite place or the merchants of the town to gather to discuss business or to gossip.

Others immediately saw the advantage of the scheme which their colleagues had devised, and on the next voyage the risk was parceled out among a larger number of the patrons of the coffee house.

Out of this small beginning has grown the great European maritime agency, still bearing the name of the humble coffee house proprietor, and which not only writes risks on vessels, but rates them and publishes their arrivals at every port the world over, no matter how small or how remote, situated.—"Annals of the American Academy."

Where Abraham Fished. Mrs. Victoria de Bunsen in "The Soul of a Turk" relates a legend concerning Abraham which will be new to many readers. She learned of it while at Edessa, the traditional Ur of the Chaldees. She was shown there a large oblong tank of water so filled with fishes resting just below the surface of the water that their fins and scales seemed almost wedged together so as to form "an almost solid layer of silvery life."

The guardian of the mosque throws some meal into the water, and the fish jump high to catch it, a great living pyramid, of which those which jump be the highest form the pinnacle. The tradition is that Abraham as a child fished in the tank; hence the fish were considered sacred. No single one has been caught or killed to this day. Indeed, death would overtake the man who transgressed this law.

Protection From Lightning. Sir Oliver Lodge stated that the problem of securing protection from lightning consisted in finding the best method of dissipating the enormous energy of the flash, but that it was not wise to get rid of the energy too quickly. A thin iron wire is considered the best lightning conductor from the electrical point of view, but it is almost impossible to protect a building from lightning unless it is completely enveloped in a metal cage. It is by no means true that a building is safe when provided with a conductor reaching up to the highest part of the building.

The Origin of Grocer. Grocer appears in Holinshed's Chronicle, 1580, as "grosser," and in other mediaeval records it is sometimes written "engrosser" and was applied to the spicers and pepperers who were wholesale dealers in various spices—that is, who dealt en gros—in large quantities, as distinguished from "retailers," who were retail dealers. The Grocers' company first adopted the word grocer in 1373, when the spicers and pepperers allied themselves into a single corporation.—London Express.

WILL TOW DRY DOCK OVER OCEAN

FLOATING DOCK FOR MONTREAL TO BE BUILT IN ENGLAND. Ottawa, July 7.—The Vickers Maxim floating dock for Montreal is to be constructed at the works of the firm in England. It will be towed across the Atlantic up the St. Lawrence and placed in Montreal.

The performance will, it is thought, constitute a towing record, as the work will be done by three big Dutch tugs and there will be no convoy. Every time a floating dock moved heretofore has been powerfully conveyed by battleships. Battleships were on hand to render aid throughout the voyage of the American dry dock from the Atlantic coast to Manila. The same thing was done when the British dock was towed to Bermuda. The Montreal dock will be built next winter and towed to Montreal during the summer. It will lift 25,000 tons and have a length of 950 feet.

UNEEDA BICYCLE

"The bicycle is coming back into popular favor, we are told. It certainly should come back, and the only wonder is that the restoration has taken so long. The present generation of young men and women is missing much of the physical and mental enjoyment that the bicycle brought to those who rode it in the '80s."

There is a charm about bicycle riding that is all its own, a charm that can only be discovered by those who earn it through labor, and who can appreciate the beauties of the countryside that unfold with every passing mile.

Y. M. C. A. WON AT WATERVILLE ON SATURDAY.

In a hard, gruelling match the Y.M.C.A. won its third consecutive victory by defeating Waterville on the latter's grounds on Saturday. The players of both teams suffered severely from the intense heat. THE FIRST MENU CARD.

Started By a Duke in Brunswick in 1561.

At a dinner given by Duke Henry of Brunswick in 1561 he was seen to every now and then consult a long slip of paper, which he held in the palm of his hand. One of the duke's guests asked what the paper was for. He explained that it was a sort of a programme or catalogue of the dishes he had commanded from the cook. "To the intent that if some delicacy which especially appealed to his appetite were marked for a later stage in the repast, he might carefully reserve his appetite for it." The simplicity and utility of the idea at once took the fancy of the duke and the menu card from that moment became an institution. The new fashion was so much admired it travelled far and near, and was adopted in England and France at once.

WANTS $10,000 FOR A TIP.

For Giving Information About Big Property in Bronx.

Thirteen years ago, on a New York park bench, Thomas Corrigan told Patrick Goff about unclaimed property in the Bronx that belonged to a cousin, Henry Goff, who had been drowned leaving no immediate heirs. On the strength of the tip, Goff got possession of property worth $250,000. Corrigan is now suing for $10,000, which he says Goff promised him. Goff says he never promised any such thing, but gave Corrigan $50.

The statement which he had produced would show the whole of the business directly and indirectly for Cushing's account. The firm had received no monies from Cushing other than that mentioned. He swore that the statement of the firm regarding their business with Cushing was correct. Cushing had no other stock than 14 Amalgamated and 22 E. T. Bank shares.

McCurdy & Co. took over certain stock from Richmond and belonging to Cushing. Witness said he would file statement of the Richmond branch of Cushing's business.

Mr. Cushing ceased to do business in Richmond on the 10th of June at the time the Richmond office was taken over, and since no money had been paid to Cushing by his knowledge. The Richmond accounts of Cushing were transferred in the usual way. There were no figures that would show how much was credited to each of his clients. The stocks that had been taken over by his firm had been practically all closed out. Witness did not know of any amount that was due Cushing that should go to his creditors.

MR. ALLARD EXAMINED.

Mr. G. W. Allard, Coaticook, who had charge of Mr. Cushing's office at Richmond, stated that the office was opened about the middle of January last. Witness was in the office from the beginning. Witness worked on a salary. There was no understanding between Cushing and Witness that he was to have a commission. He never asked Cushing for any salary, because he did not require the money. If Cushing had not become insolvent he would have made a charge of $75 a month against Cushing. The ledger showed all the transactions of the Richmond office. Witness said, he would file the transfer book which was in the Richmond office. The ledger filed was intact, as no leaves had been taken out, and it would show all the transactions of that office. The Richmond business was taken over by McCurdy & Co. on June the 10th.

Her Habit.

"What do you think the young wife of old Moneybags has developed into?" She is always crossing or recrossing the ocean. She certainly keeps the transatlantic line busy." You know, she was formerly a telephone girl.

Swif That Fly.

The transmission of disease by the fly is no longer a mere theory, but is a truth that has been scientifically established.

Keep the flies out of your house. Get screens for the doors and the windows. Be on guard all the time.

Keep screens over articles of food. Don't let flies get near the pantry, kitchen or diningroom. Be doubly careful about keeping flies out of the sickroom. They are likely not only to bring complications of new diseases, but to carry the invalid's disease to many others. Those who put in their screens promptly will be taking the best precaution against having disease germs introduced into their homes by flies. There is more health in a house well screened than in many a doctor's visit.

About 50 metals have been discovered in the last 200 years by chemist explorers, but uses have been found for only a few of them.

Recent explorations indicate that China has coal fields containing more fuel than those of all other countries in the world combined.

A MAGIC CLUB.

Curious Decoy Used by the Native Fishermen of Hawaii.

"Lau melocelo" is the name of a decoy used by the native fishermen of Hawaii. It is made of the hardest wood to be found on the islands and is carved and rubbed till it assumes the shape of a club with a little knob at the smaller end, to which the line is tied.

The club is from one to three feet long. A village sorcerer performs certain rites over it over a sacred fire. After this is done the club is magic, and the fisherman must be extremely careful of it. If a woman should step over it or enter a canoe in which it lies

SOME REMARKABLE INSURANCE

Lloyds Underwriters Will Take All Kinds of Risks.

Some remarkable underwriting business in fancy risks has been done by Lloyd's in connection with the coronation. Large insurances have been effected by traders whose interests are bound up with the coronation, and ten per cent has been paid to cover a claim should the coronation not take place before the end of the year. In one or two cases policies have been taken out on the joint lives of the King and Queen until the end of the year, at the rate of four guineas per cent, whilst a "Royal Family" risk has been accepted, insuring the lives of the King and the Queen and their children for the same period, the premium in this instance being ten guineas per cent. A possible change of route for the coronation procession has also come within the speculative scope, though the premiums are small.

To pay a loss if there is a general election before March 31, 1912, twenty-five guineas per cent is quoted, and five per cent has been accepted to cover the payment of a claim should Mr. Lloyd George become prime minister on or before December 31 next. This risk has been written several times, but the amounts involved are not large.

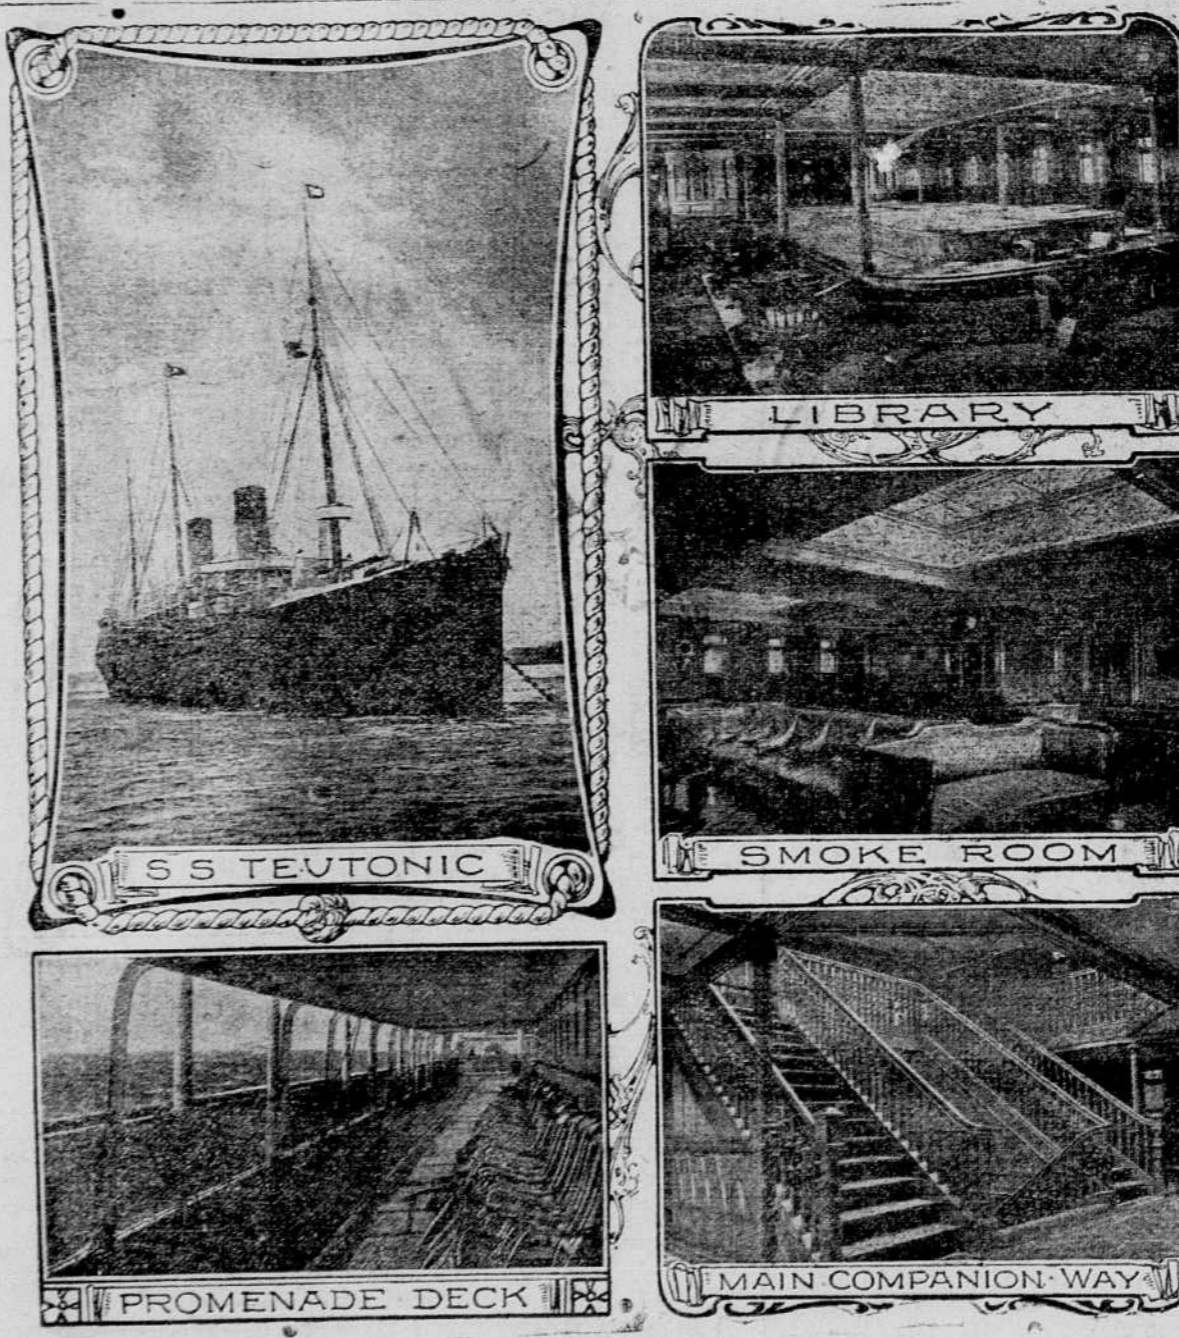

The next budget has also been the basis of speculative business of this nature at Lloyd's.

The last rate quoted to pay a loss in the event of the duty on sugar being abolished was twenty guineas per cent, whilst several policies to cover a reduction in the tea duty have been taken out at twenty-five guineas per cent, the equivalent premium for coffee and cocoa being thirty-five guineas per cent. The possibility of an increase in the cost of license is apparently considered remote, seeing that a policy for this risk can be got at twenty per cent.

By far the largest amount of speculation has, however, been done in connection with the income tax, and a rate as high as fifty guineas per cent has been charged on a policy to pay a total loss only in the event of no alteration being made in the present charges.

THE S.S. TEUTONIC.
The big White Star Liner, "Teutonic," now on the St. Lawrence route, is the longest steamer ever seen in the river, having an over-all length of 582 feet, and with her powerful engines of 18,000 horse-power, capable of developing a speed of 20 knots an hour, it is expected she will win the blue ribbon honors on the St. Lawrence route. The "Teutonic" has been a popular favorite on the Southampton-New York run, where she is to be replaced by the giant "Olympic," and the wonderful growth in travel to and from Montreal is bringing great changes in the facilities provided for passengers by the big steamship lines and—new and larger vessels are being diverted to the St. Lawrence every year. Thousands of tourists prefer it to any other route, as it reduces the actual ocean voyage to less than four days, while the trip on the river and through the broad expanse of the gulf is a panorama of scenic interest not to be found elsewhere.
