Turn-out 10-year record at Westmount Cenotaph

The sun was shining — but a cold wind swept over the Westmount Cenotaph Sunday afternoon — waving the flags on the flagstaves, glittering the ribbons on the memorial wreaths, and confirming the suspicions of those who put an extra sweater under their coats.

With Mayor Tucker and the members of Westmount City Council stood Industry Minister Drury, Westmount's representative in the House of Commons, Richard Hyde, local member in the Provincial Legislature.

Major-General C. Basil Price, a former Westmount resident and city councillor, a veteran of two World Wars, in morning-coat and striped trousers stood with the official party, where formerly he had marched with the troops being reviewed.

It was the official Commemoration Service of the City of Westmount — remembering the dead of two World Wars.

Said Norman Dawe, city manager, at the close of the ceremonies: "This is the biggest turnout we've had for ten years."

RMR Legion new colors

Following Sunday afternoon commemoration services at the Westmount Cenotaph, Branch No. 14 (RMR) Royal Canadian Legion had new colors officially presented and dedicated at the armory.

The new flags — a Union Jack and a Legion unit flag, were donated by the Harry Armstrong Memorial Fund, and presented by Legion Comrade George Wheatley, a senior past president of the branch.

Rev. J. N. Doidge, chaplain, performed the religious portion of the ceremony.

The colors are the first new set for No. 14 Branch since the original colors were presented in 1935.

Among those present were: Major-General C. B. Price, Mayor Tucker of Westmount, RMR Honorary Colonel J. A. Calder, and RMR Honorary Lieutenant-Col. C. J. Pratt. The Royal Montreal Regiment and the LCC Cadets also took part in the ceremony.

Break with tradition:

Teen program at 'Y' extended to Sundays

By tradition, the 'Y' has remained closed on Sundays, except for the occasional special event. Programs of a physical or social nature have generally been considered inappropriate for Sunday. However, in examining the concept of Sunday program, the following factors seemed important enough to warrant serious consideration of Sunday activities.

FOUR REASONS

- Sunday afternoon is generally 'free-time' for families.
- Teenagers would usually have more free time on Sundays than other days of the week.
- Facilities are available on Sunday.
- There is a greater availability of part-time staff and volunteers.

Recently, the Board of Management of the Westmount YMCA gave approval to the concept of Sunday programming between the hours of one and five, and on Sunday, November 27, Phase I of this program will be put into action.

Phase I of the project calls for the development of a social program and, since the initial emphasis will be on 'teens' it was felt that the Sunday program could very naturally be a continuation of the present Friday evening '7-11' Coffee House. (Incidentally, '7-11' stands for the hours the Coffee House is open

Chief Harper strikes blow for freedom

Following a recent letter to the editor in The Examiner, Director Harper reports that a survey has been made at the intersection of Atwater and Dorchester streets, regarding traffic conditions, and definitely: "The pedestrian deserves a break."

Traffic is particularly heavy at this intersection at the rush hours, it is reported, and special conditions exist, with groups of pedestrians venturing to cross the intersection, particularly on the west side of Atwater at 5 p.m.

Special attention will be paid to the intersection by members of the traffic squad.

WMA meet is set for Dec. 13

Westmount Municipal Association members in executive session Tuesday announced their annual public session Tuesday, December 13.

A news letter, containing several notices to members, will be in the mail shortly, it was announced.

The various committees, reporting to the executive, brought data to support:

- A word of congratulations to the police and other city departments involved in supplying overhead traffic lights at Stratheona avenue and Sherbrooke street and at Lansdowne avenue.

- Progress on plans for the addition to the library, a Centennial project.

- A suggestion for an increased alert for noise abatement, and a request to citizens to report superfluous noise at all times.

- A belief that urban renewal plans are going forward successfully.

- Report on housing for the elderly awaiting further data from the Sunderland report.

Mrs. Norah Bryant, librarian, was a guest at the meeting.

Richard Stevenson was in the chair.

Zeal, Scoutcraft Wins for Weredale

TIGER PATROL FROM WEREDALE WINS WESTMOUNT DISTRICT CAMPOREE: Scouts and Scouters from six Westmount Troops participated in a Weekend Camporee at Camp Tamaracouta recently and the top patrol was the Tigers, led by Patrol Leader Richard Claveau from the Weredale Troop followed by the Beaver Patrol of St. Matthias. Saturday morning obstacles included building a fire and boiling water while up in a tree and a simulated chasm crossing by rope. In the afternoon the patrols participated in a variety of scouting skills including compass, axmanship, signalling and knots. An evening campfire, Sunday morning church service and Soccer Tournament, won by the Weredale Tiger Patrol rounded out the weekend activities. T. Alexander of St. Matthias was camp chief with other Scouters assisting.

Norman Dawe chaired session at ICMA conference in U.S.A.

City manager Norman T. Dawe is back from an International City-Managers Association 52nd annual convention in Phoenix, Arizona, where he chaired a special section of 'other countries', a group that included Finland, Germany, Ireland, Norway and Sweden, as well as Canada.

The section was part of a general discussion on ICMA Goals and Programs, to which a morning was devoted.

As a vice-president of the organization, Mr. Dawe led the discussion and among other things told his listeners that of the 85 municipalities in Canada with city-manager form of government, the province of Quebec had 56, Ontario is second with 12 and British Columbia third, with seven.

Finland, it was reported, has 202 municipalities with city-manager form of government; Ireland, 31; Norway, 238; Sweden 56 and Germany, which entered the association only in 1946 has a total of 514.

Housing and Urban Development was the topic of Robert C. Wood, Under Secretary of the department of Housing, Washington, D.C., who addressed the convention on its opening day.

PERIL, PROMISE

Development in city management, he said, is both perilous and promising: perilous because it produces exaggerated, emotive and unrealistic responses that can obscure the real challenges with predictions of catastrophe and prescriptions of quick solutions; and promising because it signals the breakdown of the frontier, rural mystique that for years has retarded concern for the urban condition and offers the chance to face up to urban needs in a measure equal to their size.

He deplored 'nostalgia' on the part of people who looked back longingly to the 'ordered' cities of their childhood, to the Victorian communities of the mauve decade or to the remnants of medieval Europe. He was tempted to remind such people, he said, that their Victorian models were poor places for most people to live.

The modern metropolis, he added, provides better wages, and living, better public facilities and amenities and transportation than the cities of the past.

JOBS FOR YOUTH

In answer to the question: "What did you find of most significant interest at the conference?" Mr. Dawe replied that he found most interesting and hoped to relate locally several opinions and developments on "how to make the best use of human resources for the community".

He was eager, he said, to encourage the younger element to take an interest in municipal affairs, and to interest them in the fact that in municipal administration there was the possibility of challenging and satisfying careers.

The Examiner aims to be an independent, clean newspaper for the home, devoted to public service. Mail subscriptions: $2.50 per year; $1.25 half year. Five cents a copy. We Say

Bar association beyond its role

WITHOUT taking sides on his comments, as Quebec Justice Minister, on the actions of a judge, we must agree with Mr. Claude Wagner that it is monstrous that a holder of public office should be accountable for his words and deeds in office to a closed, non-public body — in this case, a bar association.

Mr. Wagner was elected to the Legislature by the people of Verdun and appointed a minister of the Crown by the premier of the Province. His electors and the terms of his commission are paramount in governing his behavior and duties.

A sad day befalls our land when any group can hold a representative of the people accountable to it.

Least of all, that the lawyers should have a hold over a minister of justice.

Air link to Russia leaps 'iron curtain'

THE publisher of The Examiner, as president of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association, was one of 60 representatives of parliament, press, broadcasting and airlines who returned last week from a privileged, V.I.P., eight-day visit to the Soviet Union.

As guests of Air Canada we helped inaugurate the first direct air service between North America and Russia—nine hours, 20 minutes flying time between Montreal and Moscow via Copenhagen — and as guests of the U.S.S.R.'s airline, Aeroflot, we toured Kiev, the capital of the Ukraine, and Leningrad as well as the Soviet capital.

We visited museums—former palaces and churches — rode the Metro, feasted, went to the opera and ballet, filed through Lenin's tomb, and were special guests in Red Square for the gigantic parade Nov. 7 marking the 49th anniversary of the Revolution.

None in the party would pretend we "saw Russia," that we sampled normal Russian life, that we drew deep insights into the Soviet or the communist ways.

But simply by going to Russia, and returning safely, we had bounded over Churchill's "iron curtain," to the inside of the Kremlin walls themselves, talked to people who said they wanted to be friends, who hailed the Air Canada/Aeroflot air "bridge," who knew about Expo, who toasted with literally staggering frequency Soviet-Canadian good relations, who are proud of their art and other treasures, who love and respect talent, who expressed enthusiasm for their socialist accomplishments, who appeared well fed, properly and sensibly clothed and betrayed no air of oppression — who were flesh and blood and pleasant to meet.

We were privileged in the particular sense that we are among the few Canadians to have visited Russia. We would hope there will be many more to follow us there and, more forlornly perhaps, that many Russians will be visiting Canada.

It would be naive to say a new era in East-West relationships has suddenly dawned, that mutual suspicions will quickly melt away, or that our respective systems of government or ways of life can become truly compatible.

But by meeting, without rancor; by listening, without closed minds; by

A Westmouter in Great Britain

Days better spent in bed

By Stephen Schofield

Dunsfold, Surrey, Eng.: To The (Montreal) Gazette?

No, confirmed the Toronto publishers.

You sent a review copy of the book to The (Toronto) Globe and Mail?

Yes. To The Windsor Star?

Yes. To The Montreal Star?

Yes. To The (Fredericton, N. B.) Atlantic Advocate?

Yes. But not to The Montreal Gazette?

No.

May I ask why you omitted The Gazette?

"Because it is not their kind of book," explained the XYZ Publishing Co. of Toronto. (The book is a straightforward war story).

What do you make of that? Only by chance through a friend who works for The Gazette did I learn that they had not received a copy of the book. What to do? Such a dainty dilemma had never before confronted me.

I wrote to the XYZ Pub. Co. of Toronto explaining, gently, that readers of The Gazette included members of a good many reputable regiments; that possibly some of them and others would be interested: so would you please send The Gazette a review copy.

Then I wrote to the book department of The Gazette, apologizing for the omission of the Toronto publisher; and saying that it is of course your business whether or not you run a review, but in any case you should receive a copy; and that if you do not receive a copy, please notify me.

Thus The Gazette received a copy, three months late, and ran a review.

KILLS NEWS

In Toronto another blunder occurred that killed a dozen news stories.

I prepared news articles leading off with the Canadian hero in the book: for the newspaper of the town in which he was born; for the newspaper of the city in which he was educated; his two Canadian regiments, and so on: about a dozen brief articles, casually mentioning the publisher at the end.

To obtain and collate and arrange the data properly, required weeks of work. Well in advance I sent the articles to the XYZ Pub. Co. of Toronto and they replied: "We think this is very enterprising of you, Mr. Schofield."

Thank you, I said: I will be glad to send them out, if you wish; I have copies here.

Oh, no, they said; we will do that for you as soon as we know the date.

Right; thank you.

A MOUSE

The date set, the XYZ Pub. Co. released the news stories on the dot, a few days before publication. With one exception, the city editors, after little more than a cursory glance, threw them all into the waste looking for common ground it is possible that the countless toasts our party and our genial hosts drank in Moscow, Kiev and Leningrad may, some day, be fulfilled.

I sniffed a mouse somewhere, and soon found it. Over each of these carefully prepared news stories, the XYZ Pub. Co. of Toronto had placed their own name and price in dollars and cents, in bold type.

The extraordinarily penetrating and perpetually poised noses of newspaper editors, constantly subject to subtle insinuations of pushers and climbers of every hue, are almost unconsciously sensitive to the faintest whiff of advertising, which descends upon them by the raftload every morning.

I assumed that the Yonge street publicity experts would know this. They did not.

FIRED

The one exception was The Sherbrooke Record. This was due to the fact that the lead was not about the hero, but about me:

"Col. Jack Churchill, DSO, MC, commends a book by Stephen Schofield, a former reporter on The Sherbrooke Record. Mr. Schofield, fired by The Sherbrooke Record, edited The Coaticook (Que.) Oserver for some time before being fired. Then he became a reporter for The (Quebec) Chronicle-Telegraph, until he was fired . . ."

This proved, as I had hoped, a trifle too irresistible to the city editor, who did not alter a comma. And he left the XYZ name and price at the top, thus exposing the error, later admitted from Toronto.

The ineptitude — ignorance is the better word — in omitting The Gazette and unwittingly killing news stories, would seem to indicate that U.T.S. or Jarvis Collegiate need a few nails in the floorboards.

This bungling in Toronto I managed to overcome by submitting a few facts to The Canadian Press here in London.

They called me and wrote a feature which was duly transmitted to their 100-odd dailies in Canada. About 62 ran the story which mentioned the title but not, of course, the publisher or the price.

Is the XYZ Pub. Co. reputable? Wondering about this myself, I wrote to one of Canada's best writers, a Montrealer, and asked him; and he replied that he considers it to be among the top three in Canada.

WESTMOUNT

More startling events occurred here.

By similarly leading off with each British hero in turn, I instigated the publishing of 32 news stories in various British local newspapers and regimental gazettes, sometimes with a photograph. These were news stories.

Reviews are entirely different. In contrast to Canada, which I trust understandably cannot as yet be considered a literary country, here in England about 500 books are published each week: 26,000 titles last year (very much more than in the U.S.).

Of these perhaps a score or two are reviewed in the London dailies; and of course mine was ignored.

What to do?

Nothing?

No.

By chance I know a prominent gentleman of The Times, Mr. B., whose saute tongue and profile and slightly old world polish would, I suppose, set pulses throbbing among some Westmount girls. (This was before Lord Thomson had anything to do with The Times).

Twice, during the long toil of research, Mr. B. had been helpful and encouraging to me. I wrote to thank him again and mentioned, in effect, that the book by the poor little boy from the backwoods of Quebec had now been entirely ignored by the London dailies.

MIRACLE

The miracle occurred. Two or three weeks later a favorable review appeared in two columns of The Times Literary Supplement.

This happened just in time for a selected quotation, together with the fact that rights had been sold in Holland and Norway, to be inserted in The Westmount Examiner. Sales in Argentine and Portugal came later.

However unpalatable it may sound, speaking broadly of books, Canada does not count very much; nor does Argentine, Holland, Norway or Portugal.

The countries that count most are the U.S., Britain, France and West Germany, probably in that order.

Nevertheless I am well aware of my exceeding good fortune in finding and broadcasting admirable behaviour that much.

No title or publisher is mentioned here. This is a column, not an advertisement.

Here's why local hydrants have multi-colored tops

Over the recent past hydrant domes of different colors have been noted by Westmount citizens.

Some have wondered what the latest color-code is all about.

As most local residents are probably aware — Montreal sells water to Westmount and operates the distribution system.

This system consists of six different networks, each of which has its own reservoir to equalize pressures.

These reservoirs are located at differing elevations in order to supply an adequate water supply for domestic and fire-fighting purposes, regardless of altitude.

Some streets have water-mains belonging to two different distribution networks, and therefore the hydrants on such streets do not all necessarily have the same water-pressure.

As a result the city of Montreal waterworks department decided to paint the hydrant tops different colors to denote the source of supply and the pressure.

Colors range from aluminum, to green, to orange and on down to blue, yellow and red.

Largest reservoir is the Bellingham reservoir with a capacity of 43,000,000 imperial gallons and the second in line is the McTavish reservoir with 33,000,000. Smallest is the Mount Royal reservoir with a capacity of only 180,000 imperial gallons.

Superstition Mountain is 35 miles from Phoenix and at the foot of the mountain a service-club-type organization called the 'Dons' maintains a base camp there dedicated to keeping alive the best of the traditions and customs of the Pima Indians.

It was the Pimas who gave the name to the mountain, believing it to be inhabited by evil spirits.

At the base camp the visitor has an opportunity to see some of the advanced handicrafts of the Pimas, including weaving, gem-polishing and leatherwork.

Royal Trust Appointment

J. W. Hewitt

Royal Trust announces the appointment of J. W. Hewitt as Manager of the new Royal Trust office to be opened shortly at 4145 Sherbrooke St. W., Westmount. Mr. Hewitt was formerly an Assistant Manager, Personal Trust Division, Montreal Branch.

go up, in all probability the name Western Avenue will remain for six months or a year, alongside the new name, according to the latest report from city hall.

Westmount's police department is getting touchy about those long lines of traffic on Sherbrooke street, St. Catherine street and Cote St. Antoine road at the rush hours - the cause, officials point out, lies outside Westmount, in Notre Dame de Grace or in the city of Montreal east of Westmount, where right-of-way is narrowed by construction.

Car stolen here, crashes in Ontario

A car reported stolen by a resident of Academy Road, has turned up near London, Ontario, wrapped around a tree.

According to information received by police here, three youths were in the car at the time of the crash, and one was seriously injured. The other two have been taken into custody.

One of the trio is a local resident, police say, while the other two are not. One of the three is a juvenile.

Thieves active but loss low

Economic pressure on sneak thieves continues to fore them into considering Westmount as an easy touch for the 'breaking and entering' racket - but concerted police action, cooperation of citizens and a 'little bit of luck' has held hauls this week to a minimum.

In fact the total listed in three 'breaks was two watches and a book of pinky stamps.

At 59 Belvedere Road, the thief broke a screen on a back window in the early hours of the morning and made off with two watches

At 695 Aberdeen avenue, a sneak thief was disturbed by the householder in the house at 3:45 a.m. and fled while the alarm was being given.

At 4356 Montrose avenue, the screen was cut for a rear entry and pink stamps were taken.

Action at Unity:

Cage teams are showing up well

This past week has been a busy one at Unity in all departments. New volunteers have arrived, ornithology has been introduced, the club paper hit the press.

BASKETBALL

Saturday, November 5 the Bantam team played Ville Emard. Unity had an easy win with a score of 29-9. Kevin Ryan led the Unity team with 10 points and was backed up with strong defensive work from teammates Robert McRae and Rus. Pepe.

Saturday, November 5 an evening game was played in the Community Centre Basketball Tournament and Unity defeated the Sun 36-33. Kevin Ryan was once again the top scorer with 13 points. Dave Warren added 10 points with fast breaking lay-ups. Strong defensive play was turned in by aggressive Robert McRae and Eivind Hansen.

Sunday, November 6th Unity's Midget team also entered the Community Centre Basketball Tournament and in their first encounter swamped Chomedey 85-15. Steve Alleyne led the way for Unity by sinking 10 set shots. Brad Syvret and Brian Vaux balanced Steve's 20 points with 16 and 14 points respectively. Willy Follette provided the Unity team with its defensive threat by "grabbing off" the majority of the rebounds.

Tuesday, November 8th saw Unity Juvenile Basketball team playing their first exhibition game against Point St. Charles. Unity handed the Point their first defeat by the score of 58-32. Vic Alleyne was top scorer with 16 points followed by Jim Hotton and Mike Radoman. Rick Atherton livened the game with some fancy dribbling.

POTTERY

In the very near future Pottery classes will be in full swing. It is hoped that many attractive items will be produced in time for the annual club hobby show. Victoria Schrammel is in charge of this event. We sincerely thank the Auxiliary for providing facilities for club members.

VOLUNTEERS

Two new volunteers have been enrolled at the club. Rose Marie Weissman, who runs an Arts and Crafts class and Mrs. Neilson, mother of several active members, has volunteered to be in The Games Room every Wednesday evening. Our grateful thanks go to all faithful volunteers.

LIBRARY

Mrs. D. T. Youngson, who is in charge of the Library every Monday afternoon reports that she has purchased several new books suitable for all ages.

GOLD 'N BLUE

A small but select issue of the Club paper was published on November 6th. More reporters are needed. Please volunteer. The more reporters naturally the more variety of subjects can be covered. Don't forget the Contest: — "My First Impression of Godzilla" and "Name the New Club Pet". Winner of each will see the article printed in the next issue.

The acquisition of several animals and a beautiful Red Cardinal, cages for which have been built by Program Director Tom Stephens, have stimulated the interest of club members in knowledge and care of these pets. Several members have volunteered to care and feed the animals.

Every Saturday at 1:30 p.m.

DANCING

Mrs. J. Bolster and her daughter Carol have Tap Dance Classes for beginners and advanced students every Tuesday evening. Unity is in need of Tap Shoes. If anyone has any to contribute please think of Unity.

Teaching of French thorough, successful

The entire French program at Westmount High School is under intensive study, Principal N. W. Wood told members of the Home and School Association at a recent 'Open House' held at the St. Catherine street educational institution.

Sections of the course, he added, are constantly under review.

"With the increasing importance of Bilingualism in Quebec" said Mr. Wood, "it is natural that French should be a subject of special concern to parents of students attending Protestant schools, and particularly those with pupils in high school".

CIRCUMSTANCES

The ability of a school to turn out bilingual graduates, he said, depends on three sets of circumstances:

- (a) The home and community environment;
- (b) The curriculum; and
- (c) The teacher, and the conditions under which he works.

The home and community environment are favorable for the teaching of French, the principal said, if French is spoken and heard in the home and if there is a necessity or opportunity for speaking French in the community.

Total immersion in French, through living with a French family, attending a French camp or school was also recommended as beneficial.

The curriculum, its objectives, contents and methods, has a major influence, Mr. Wood told the assembled parents, but held to the view that the final outcome to a great extent depends on the teacher.

Here two points were made: the time to teach the subject and the size of the classes.

One-sixth of all time spent in Westmount High is spent on the teaching of French, the principal said. Obviously the smaller the class the greater the time to be spent on the individual pupil. The average number of pupils is 31 to a class, and with the 50 minutes of teaching a day, five days a week; this means that if the whole time was spent on speaking French each pupil would have the opportunity to practice speaking the language for ten minutes a week, hardly a large amount. Group oral exercises and use of the language laboratory are employed to rectify this situation. Westmount High, Mr. Wood stressed, is fortunate in having "a solid corps of well-qualified, experienced teachers for the teaching of French.

These senior teachers, he said, must be given the credit for the high standing of the school over the past five years in oral and written French in High School Leaving examinations.

HIGH AVERAGE
Westmount High, he said, in this period — from 1962 to 1966 — averaged 92% in oral French and 93% in written French. (It is of interest that students who had two of Westmount High's French teachers for parents scored 100% in the latest June examinations).

Standard of teacher at Westmount High was well above the average, the Principal indicated, and related the details of training and experience of each of the ten teachers of French.

Café Vendredi voted outstanding success

By BRIAN MAYNE

With dim lights, red-checked tablecloths, travel posters, and pop art, Café Vendredi's first night went over well with Westmount High senior students. The Café lasted from 8 to 11. Seating had been arranged for 120 students and 160 showed up for an enjoyable evening.

They were entertained by The Borderman and some local Westmount talent; Chris and Karen; and Alan Kennedy.

"Excellent" was Student's Council President Martin Heppner's comment. Since this first try-out was such a success, it is expected that Café Vendredi will be continued.

Westmount High, for the second time in a row won the T.V. program "Reach for the Top." The Westmount team is made up of Richard Lande, Graham Lorimer, Martin Heppner, and Patsy Johanson.

Westmount High sold almost 650 bags of tulip bulbs for the Canadian Cystic Fibrosis Foundation. The two heads of this project were John McBride and Patsy Williamson.

Last week, Westmount High held two Remembrance Day Services for the Junior and Senior schools. O Canada was sung before the Color Party entered. The Opening Hymn was Land of Our Birth, We Pledge to Thee. The Bible Reading was done by Mr. Horsnall. Mr. B. Herson made an excellent address to the students. Last past was played by Alastair Dean. There was then a period of silence and reveille before the colour party left. The Assembly closed with God Save the Queen.

● To make a mistake with a name is a very serious one for newspaper people, and in last week's issue we made a bad one. Miss Winifred Wilson, in whose hand the small VEERY was held, drew it to our attention right away, and we hereby publish a correction. The Veery, a first cousin to the Robin, she tells us is very different indeed from the Vireo. Our mistake Miss Wilson, and we apologize sincerely to the little fellow.

● Noticed at the Remembrance Service Parade, Westmount, Sunday afternoon, marching with the Air Force Women's Reserve Corps, a neatly turned out lady — wearing high-heeled, back-strap pumps with her uniform!

Mrs. Alan Pierce Blackburn, president of the India-Canada Association, whose celebration of Deepwali was noted in last week's issue and on television news, tells us that the association was established in 1956 by interested Canadians and Hindustanis residing in Montreal. The aim of the Association is to promote and deepen mutual understanding between Canadians and countrymen from India living here . . . these personal contacts are the best living bridge, through which ten thousand miles of distance can be overcome and the human values can be exchanged . . .

POETS' CORNER: How Montreal poets discuss French and English poetry in the library of St. George's School, in preparation for the bilingual Green Dragon Book Fair being held at the school, 3100 The Boulevard, Friday and Saturday.

Alfred Gertler, (left), a student in Grade VI, whose poem "The Rat Race" sums up today's hectic pace:

"The rat race is a thing
Which most people loathe
They curse and denounce it
With many an oath.

Then they walk to the door
And put on their hats
Say 'See you soon, Bud!'
And go out racing rats."

Professor Louis Dudek, right, of McGill University who has just edited "Poetry of our Time", one of the books to be on sale at The Green Dragon Fair. French and English books for all ages, as well as French and English records, Canadian prints and Christmas gifts will be displayed and for sale, and over twenty French and English authors and illustrators will attend the two-day affair. Proceeds will go to scholarships to St. George's School.

Father Mellor leaves Church of the Advent

Father Alex Mellor, rector of the Church of the Advent since 1953, leaves this week for the Church of the Resurrection, Valois.

On Tuesday, November 22 at 8 p.m., the Lord Bishop of Montreal, Right Reverend R. Kenneth Maguire D.D., will institute Father Mellor to his new parish.

Born in Manchester England, Father Mellor studied at Lichfield Theological College, Staffordshire. After several parishes in the old country, he travelled to Barbados in the West Indies, where he continued his ministry until 1952. While in Barbados he married, (Mrs. Mellor is a native of Trinidad), and his four children were born there.

On the front page of the Westmount Examiner of September 19, 1952, is a picture of the Mellor family as they arrived in Montreal on the CNS Lady Nelson, with David 12, Alison 8, Wendy 6, and Peter 9. Fr. Mellor assisted the Rev. Canon Sydenham B. Lindsay, until 1953 when he was appointed rector.

This April he was appointed Honorary Clerical Secretary to the Synod of the Diocese of Montreal.

The Church of the Advent, the closest church in Westmount to the new Metro, will celebrate its seventy-fifth anniversary next year, and during that time it has had only five rectors, Canon Lindsay, who is still active in the life of the parish was the fourth, and Fr. Mellor the fifth. Father Mellor and his family, will be missed greatly in Westmount, especially by the parishioners of the Advent, but we wish him well in his new charge.

Christian Science

Sunday Sermon Subject for November 20, 1966

The question whether each individual's basic identity is material or spiritual will be explored at the services in all the Christian Science churches this Sunday, in the presentation of the week's Lesson-Sermon on the subject "Soul and Body." Bible readings will be highlighted by this from Psalms: "It is God that girdeth me with strength and maketh my way perfect."

Westmount Baptist

Reverend Harold J. Balsdon will preach at both services on November 20. 'How does religion affect life,' will be the topic of his sermon for the morning service, and in the evening he will preach the sixth in a series of sermons on the Book of Job, this one entitled 'Whispers of God.'

The Church School meets on Sundays at 10 and 10:45 a.m. The 10 a.m. class is for seniors, and the 10:45 a.m. for primary and juniors.

After the evening service all are cordially invited to the Lower Hall for the Fellowship Hour, when coffee and light refreshments will be served.

The midweek meeting of the Church is on Wednesday at 8 p.m. for Prayer, Praise and Bible Study.

English classes for New Canadians are held on Monday evenings at eight o'clock.

The BYPU (ages 18 to 30) meets on Fridays at 8 p.m.

and any teen, thirteen and up is welcome.)

Similar activities will be available Sunday afternoons as are available on Friday evenings which include the Coffee House, music, dancing, billiards, ping-pong, chess, checkers and other activities as requested by teens (if feasible). In addition, pick up games of basketball, volleyball, etc. and perhaps free swims will be added to the program as demand necessitates.

COSTS UP

Additional expenses will be incurred by the YMCA in running Sunday program. Inasmuch as present membership rates are based on a 6-day program week, all additional expenses would be carried by special fees, levied against those availing themselves of the Sunday Programs.

At present, the 'teen '7-11' Coffee House fee is $3.00 for a yearly membership. As of Sunday, November 27 this $3.00 membership will also include the 'teen social program on Sundays.

In the future the plan calls for the implementation of Phases II and III which are Family Physical Program and Teen Physical Program. These phases will be put into operation after Phase I has been completed.

Cenotaph . . .

(Continued from page 1) alternating with the readings and prayers were: Capt. the Reverend Canon J. N. Doidge, chaplain of the Royal Montreal Regiment; Capt. the Reverend B. A. Jones, chaplain of the 3rd Field Engineers Regiment and Major, Rabbi Samuel Cass, director B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundation, McGill University.

The ceremonies opened with the singing of O Canada, followed by Scripture readings from The Psalms and St. John.

The opening hymn "O Valiant Hearts" was followed by the reading of the Scripture from Solomon, chapter 3, verses 1-9.

Then followed prayers for those who made the supreme sacrifice; for Canada, for the Queen and Commonwealth; for Peace and Brotherhood in the world; followed by The Lord's Prayer, the two latter being intoned in both English and French.

WREATHS

During the singing of the hymn "O God our help in ages past" wreaths were deposited at the base of the cenotaph by the City of Westmount, the various military units in the parade, ladies' committees, civic bodies and societies and private individuals.

The saluting base for the march past was at the intersection of Cote St. Antoine Road and Stanton street, and the various military units passed in review in the following order:

MARCH PAST

Royal Canadian Mounted Police, HMCS Donnacona, 3rd Field Regiment RCE, 15 Ind. Signal Squadron, Montreal Signal Cadet Corps, No. 14 branch, Royal Canadian Legion, Royal Montreal Regiment, LCC Cadet Corps, RMR-Pte. Claire Cadet Corps, Macdonald High (Ste. Anne's) Cadet Corp, No. 1 Inf Training Company, 401 (F) Squadron RCAF, No. 306 Maple Leaf Wing RCAF Assn., No. 1 West Montreal Air Cadet Squadron.

SAFETY IN SONG — Even in the cold climate of Greenland, hot tempers flare among indignant Eskimos. Savage blood feuds, often involving several generations of a family, take place. Unsuccessful attempts to ban this practice have been made by substituting public satirical song duels between enemies.
