FUNERAL OF MARSHAL FOCH TO BE ON TUESDAY

Determined Effort Being Made To Rescue Trapped Miners

France Will Pay Highest Tribute To Marshal Foch

While Great French Soldier Slept His Last Sleep in His Little Bed, France Today Planned Its Sixth National Funeral, Its Highest Honor in Death, for Man Who Did So Much for It During His Life—Guard of Honor, Soldiers Who Marched With Dead Marshal in Victory and in Dark Days Preceding Triumph, Took Possession of Courtyard in Front of Old Soldier's Home.

(Associated Press Cable) PARIS, March 21.—The body of Marshal Foch, who led the Allied armies to victory in the great war, lay in peace today in a simple bed in a sparsely furnished room of his stately old mansion near the Invalides Palace. A guard of honor, soldiers who marched with the dead marshal in victory and in the dark days preceding triumph took possession of the courtyard in front of the old soldier's home.

Parisians passed with heads bowed and hats off, while the nation planned its sixth national funeral, its highest honor in death for the man who did so much for it during his life. Decorations of Almost Every Order of Prominence

The body was clad today in the Marshal's field uniform of horizon blue. On its breast the ribbons and medals of almost every order of prominence in the world reposed, among them the star and grand cross of the Legion of Honor.

This last was brought and pinned on by General H. J. E. Gouard shortly after death last yesterday. The hands are closed on his breast, clasping a crucifix placed there by his chief of staff during the war, General Maxime Weygand. Over his leg was thrown the cloak he wore at his entry into Strasbourg November 28, 1918. On a little table at his side were other of his decorations, among them his Croix de Guerre and a font of holy water.

Features Calm and Serene The great soldier's features are calm and serene, though displaying within the air of energy which marked them when alive. Death has erased the lines of suffering and he seemed today as one asleep, the unfamiliar thing being his moustache, which he clipped and shortened yesterday.

The Marshal's physician and faithful friend, Dr. Maurice Heitz-Boyer, has hardly left the room since the body was laid out there. General Weygand and Father Boncour were constant in their attentions also. Two Catholic Sisters and three general staff colonels, Bouilly, Eminger and Demery, in full uniform, took turns last night in guarding the room, dimly lit with two candles placed on each side of the bed.

An Honor Never Before Paid to Soldier of France While the Marshal slept his last sleep in his own little bed, plans were made to give him the stately funeral within the power of the nation. The government, responding to general desire, immediately decided that he was to have the rare distinction of national obsequies.

Debate Will Be Continued Today—Senate Gave Approval to Interim Supply Bill Yesterday.

(Canadian Press Despatch) OTTAWA, Ont., March 21.—The debate on the motion of W. F. Start Investigations Today Into Cause Of Train Wreck That Took Nineteen Lives

Head-On Collision Yesterday at Drocourt, Ont., Is Worst Railway Wreck on Record in Canada Since 1910—Explanation Is Anxiously Awaited as to Reason for Apparent Disregarding of Order by Which Two Toronto-Winnipeg Trains Were Intended to Pass at a Switch Near Drocourt.

(Canadian Press Despatch) ARRY SOUND, Ont., Mar. 21.—Investigations by the Dominion Board of Railway Commissioners and the Canadian National Railway, in addition to the official inquiry by the coroner, are expected to start today to determine the responsibility for head-on collision between two Canadian National trains at Drocourt, Ont., yesterday morning, in which nineteen persons lost their lives, nine suffered injuries, while several are still reported missing.

Today, as a horrified public read reports of the worst railroad wreck in Canada since 1910, an explanation is anxiously awaited as to the reason for the apparent disregard of an order by which the two Toronto-Winnipeg trains were intended to pass at a switch near Drocourt. Failure to obey these instructions, an order involving one of the cardinal rules of railroad operation, resulted in the two steel equipped trains meeting with a terrific impact on a lonely stretch of road about forty miles northwest of here before hastily applied brakes could bring them to a standstill. According to reports received here the regular "meet" at Waubesa was cancelled as the south-bound train number four was running behind schedule, and orders were given for the trains to pass at a siding. The collision occurred some miles north of this point.

Colonist Car Burst Into Flames. When the crash came engines and baggage cars of the trains were telegraphed and a colonist car on the Winnipeg-bound train burst into flames. It was to the occupants of this car that death dealt its heaviest blow, many before the eyes of helpless trainmen and passengers who rushed to render aid. A number of the passengers in this car were burned beyond recognition and railway officials doubt whether identification will be possible of the mass of charred bones buried under the debris.

It is possible that the number travelling in this coach who lost their lives may never be known, as they were believed to include several immigrants travelling to western destinations. Engineers Escaped Death. The Dominion Board of Railway Commissioners announced last night that officials of the Board would proceed at once to investigate the wreck. 300 Men Buried By Explosion

Blast at Valley Camp Coal Company Mine at Parnassus, Pa., This Morning Takes Heavy Toll in Lives—Rescue Crews Preparing to Enter Pit—Flames Shot Out of Mine and Clouds of Smoke Shrouded Countryside—Five Bodies Reported Recovered.

(Associated Press Despatch) PARNASSUS, Pa., March 21.—Three hundred men were entombed in an explosion at the Valley Camp Company mine today. The explosion occurred shortly after the day shift had entered the mine. Details of the blast were lacking. A terrific explosion was heard at 7:45 o'clock. The New Kensington fire department rushed to the mine and ambulances were summoned from nearby towns. Twelve men were killed in the same mine on February 21, 1928. Representatives of the company said approximately three hundred men entered the workings at 6:30 a.m. The night shift had left the mine several hours before.

Rescue crews were preparing to enter the pit, and the United States Bureau of Mines dispatched a truck load of picked men from their Pittsburgh station and its rescue car number 3, stationed at Russellton, also started for the scene. The explosion occurred in the Kintoch mine, which was visited last year by a senatorial committee investigating mine conditions throughout the western Pennsylvania coal belt.

Flames shot out of the mine and clouds of smoke shrouded the adjacent countryside after the explosion. The mine is located a mile and a half from Parnassus on the Greensburg road.

Five bodies were reported recovered from the explosion-ripped pit an hour after the blast. This report was not confirmed here as company officials could not be reached. Two men at work on the mine tipple were burned when flames shot from the pit mouth. The Kintoch mine is a slope operation using electrical equipment. Its daily capacity is 4,000 tons of coal and normally it employs 392 men.

OPPOSED TO SIR CECIL HURST'S APPOINTMENT

Not Favored as Successor to Late Viscount Finlay in World Court Tribunal—Legal and Diplomatic Corps Against Move.

(Associated Press Despatch) LONDON, March 21.—The Daily Express said today that Stanley Baldwin, Prime Minister, intended to appoint Sir Cecil Hurst, who was active in the recent framing of the formulae for United States adherence to the World Court, to take the position in the tribunal made vacant by the recent death of Viscount Finlay.

The paper said the Premier's decision was taken at the recommendation of Sir Austen Chamberlain, Secretary of the Foreign Office, but that it had met with stern opposition in legal and diplomatic circles on the ground that Sir Cecil was not properly qualified for the post.

The Express said that the objection centred around Sir Cecil's status as legal adviser to the Foreign Office, the objectors arguing that he would be regarded as an ex-official of the Foreign Office instead of a plain jurist without political entanglements. It was recalled that Sir Cecil was largely responsible for the drafting of the peace treaty, and, if appointed to The Hague, would spend much of his time considering questions for which he was personally responsible. The critics, said the Express, say that a former Lord Chancellor or other judge of his standing or repute should be selected for the place. They hold that the appointment of any other type of man would weaken the court, lower prestige and form an undesirable precedent for other nations. Concerning recent events at Geneva, the Express drew attention to the fact that Sir Cecil participated actively in "most unfortunate negotiations with the United States."

SOUTH AMERICA HAS GREATEST RIVER SYSTEM

One Tremendous Crescent of River Systems Through Heart of South America Discovered by Two German Explorers, Wilhelm Plichta and Wilhelm Kaap.

(Associated Press Despatch) BUENOS AIRES, March 21.—One tremendous crescent of river systems through the heart of South America, forming what would be undeniably the greatest river chain in the world, links the estuary of La Plata with the mouth of the mighty Amazon. This is the report brought back to civilization by two German explorers, Wilhelm Plichta and Wilhelm Kaap, just returned from the wilderness of the upper Paraguay River.

Thousands of miles of water, from the Argentine plains through Paraguay, inland to Brazil and the lower tributaries of the Amazon to the Amazon's mouth, just under the equator, have been shown to be joined in the sombre and savage forests of the Brazilian province of Mato Grosso.

Plichta and Kaap said that the higher tributaries of the Paraguay River were linked with the lower tributaries of the Amazon, greatest river in the world. The figure of 1,750,000,000 marks is understood to represent separate reparations payments of oil categories. This would entail a reduction of the present annuities under the Dawes plan of between seven and eight hundred million gold marks.

Marshal Foch Ends Earthly Journey

The world today mourns the death of one of the greatest military personages of any time, Marshal Ferdinand Foch, Generalissimo of the Allied Forces during the later part of the World War, and one of the most beloved and outstanding sons of France, whose death occurred in Paris yesterday afternoon, following a long illness which has been followed with anxiety in every corner of the globe. The death of Marshal Foch is a world-wide sorrow, as his name and achievements were recognized and appreciated by all peoples. Endowed with a great mind, a brave spirit and true Christian ideals, he always used his powers to the best advantage, ever willing and ready to give his assistance to the services of his country and to the good of his fellow-men.

His life was such that he leaves unto the world a name and record which will continue to be honored and respected for generations to come, a people's love and gratitude which death can not efface.

Terms Of Allied Committee On Reparations Being Sent To Germany For Full Study

While Many Conditions of Report Were Not Revealed, It Was Learned That Allies Had Made Offer to Accept About $420,000,000 as Figure for German Reparation Annuities—Agreement Will Be Taken to Berlin by Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, President of Reichsbank.

(Associated Press Despatch) PARIS, March 21.—Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, president of the Reichsbank, will take with him to Berlin tonight, it is learned, the offer of the Allied experts on reparations to accept 1,750,000,000 marks (about $420,000,000) as the figure for the German reparations annuities.

The Allies' offer carried with it various other conditions which were not revealed. Dr. Schacht has given no indication that the German government will accept the Allies' offer. He has telegraphed Dr. Rudolf Hilferding, Minister of Finance, to call a meeting at Berlin of the great provincial industrialists and heads of the German institutions so that they may explain the present situation of the reparations negotiations.

The German banker asked this meeting deliberately, it was understood, so that responsibility for acceptance of conditional refusal would be widely shared not only by the government, but by great leaders of German industry and finance.

The figure of 1,750,000,000 marks is understood to represent separate reparations payments of oil categories. This would entail a reduction of the present annuities under the Dawes plan of between seven and eight hundred million gold marks.

All Liquor Posters To Disappear From Highways Of Quebec

Third Reading Given to Bill Yesterday—House Was Thoroughly in Accord, Although Suggestion Made that All This Type of Publicity Should Disappear—Old Cemeteries Bill Again Before House—Discussion on Cider Industry.

(Canadian Press Despatch) QUEBEC, March 21.—Quebec Province is in future to have no posters announcing the excellencies of alcoholic liquors, third reading being given to the measure to that effect by the Legislative Assembly yesterday.

There was no disagreement in the House yesterday morning on the point that posters should disappear, but Peter Bercovitch, (Liberal, St. Louis) thought it was unfair to single out the advertisements that deal with alcohol, and he advised the disappearance of all such posters or none. Third reading followed.

Third reading was given to a bill introduced by the Hon. Jacob Nicol, Provincial Treasurer, to replace the "Cemetery Companies Act". The object of the bill is to legalize the activities of certain societies which have risen to care for neglected Protestant cemeteries in localities where the English-speaking population has dwindled or disappeared. Such societies will be incorporated. Both sides of the House agreed on the principle of the bill, C. E. Gault and Maurice Duplessis, of the Opposition, and Mr. Bercovitch thought a clause should be inserted in the bill so that such dilapidated cemeteries could only pass into the hands of people of the same religious denomination as the majority of the people buried in the cemetery.

The Hon. Mr. Nicol thought any other occurrence was unlikely. The Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council being empowered to decide on the principle of the bill, that would safeguard the interest of all concerned. Third reading was postponed till next sitting.

A bill to amend the Laurentide Park Act, sponsored by the Hon. J. E. Perreault, Minister of Colonization, Mines and Fisheries, was given third reading.

Bill Respecting Fishways The Hon. Mr. Perreault has a bill on the order paper respecting the construction of fishways. The measure aims at preventing the depletion of rivers following the construction of dams for industrial purposes, and will provide that, when dams are so constructed, fishways must be constructed to allow the fish to make their way upstream. Peace Policies Of Labor Party Severely Condemed In Eleventh Hour Address By Lloyd George Described Labor Programme as One of Words, Phrases and Sentiments—Claims that Peace Policies of Labor Party Responsible for National Competition in Building of Instruments of War.

(Associated Press Despatch) BOSTON, Lincolnshire, Eng., March 21.—(By George Hamilton, staff correspondent of the Canadian Press)—Right Hon. David Lloyd George, Liberal leader, last night struck out at Right Hon. Ramsay MacDonald. He charged in laying down five "unnecessary cruelties" during his regime. The Labor chieftain had started the provocative competition which had resulted in the proposed building of fifteen United States cruisers.

Mr. Lloyd George quoted a statement by Mr. MacDonald that Labor was the only party definitely out for peace.

"What an extraordinary statement!" he continued, "and what a lack of look-out for peace. He has forgotten that when he was in office one of the first things he did was to lay down five well-armed cruisers with powerful guns, absolutely unnecessary. We had no quarrel with anybody. The only fleet that ever threatened us was at the bottom of the sea. This man, the only friend of

HON. P. J. VENIOT ATTACKED IDEA OF HIGH TARIFF

Postmaster-General Assures His Hearers That if Ever There Is a Commercial War Between Canada and United States, Premier King Will Be First to Act Against That Country.

(Associated Press Despatch) HULL, Que., March 21.—If ever Canada is menaced by a United States commercial war, Premier Mackenzie King will be the first man in action against that country, Hon. P. J. Veniot, the Postmaster-General, declared in addressing a gathering of Hull Liberals last night. He attacked the idea of a high tariff, commenting that high protection was detrimental to the poor and beneficial only to the rich.

Hon. Mr. Veniot apologized to the gathering for his lack of fluency in the French tongue. His race had not until recent years had their chance to retain their language properly. Acadians had persevered in the fight for recognition of their rights, which were identical with those of other French-speaking Canadians. Finally they had won and the Liberal party was to be thanked for recognizing their rights, he continued.

Proof that Canadians gave the Liberals credit for bringing prosperity to the Dominion had been given at the polls. The Postmaster-General declared the Conservatives were divided among themselves, even differing over their leadership.

MARRIED WOMEN NOT TO HAVE A VOTE IN MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS. peace, laid down five armored cruisers—a provocation to the richest country on earth, the United States, which then began building its cruisers. And so it had gone on. We said, 'we must have more cruisers.' The United States said 'we will have fifteen more.' "What was it that more than anything else provoked the catastrophe of 1914? A Tory government, when it was quite unnecessary, laid down a dreadnought. The Germans said, 'we will build a bigger one.' That competition went on until at last there was a crash that almost shattered civilization. "The Labor party is the friend of peace? Daintrey, as speaker for the afternoon, first complimented this society on the able manner in which their meeting had been conducted and then gave a simple, yet instructive talk on "Citizenship," holding the interest and attention of both members and visitors. MR. TOBIN'S NAME AGAIN
MENTIONED IN CONNEC-TION WITH SENATE
Two reports of local interest have been received from Ottawa, and although these are not official,
they are believed to have originated at least from a reliable source.
One of these reports state that the Hon. Walter Mitchell, former Provincial Treasurer, is reported to be anxious to return to Parliament and may be the next Government candidate in Richmond-Wolfe if E.
W. Tobin goes to the Upper House.
There seems to be no doubt, the report states, that Mr. Tobin is due to get the seat in the Senate made vacant by the death of Senator Cloran. It is expected the appointment will be made after the session.

ANTI-SEMITISM DEFEATED AT B'NAI B'RITH
"Resolved that with the establish-

Palestine anti-Semitism will decrease" was the subject of a very interesting debate at the local lodge of the Independent Order of B'Nai B'rith last night. This feature was presented by four of the Jewish students at Bishop's University.
In introducing the subject, Mr.
Max Garmaise, leader of the affirmative, spoke of the good will existing between the local students and the Jewish community. He then reviewed the history of anti-Semiteism to the audience. He showed that the Jew is everywhere considered a foreigner, as he possesses no homeland.
Mr. Jack Rudner, speaking for the negative, showed how political strife in Palestine could add to the causes of friction and thus tend to make matters worse. The keynote of the speaker's remarks was that the Jewish home was the Jewish Bible.
Mr. S. Snederman stated that

LENNOXVILLE MAN WINS IN COURT ACTION
W. H. Fisher Crated $80 and Costs for Damages Resulting to Car in Collision With That of Eugene Gervais Here on August 16—Case Heard Yesterday in Superior Court.

William Henry Fisher, of Len-noxville, was awarded $80 and costs as compensation for damages received by his car in a collision with that of Eugene Gervais, of this city, on August 16th, last, at the conclusion of the hearing yesterday afternoon in the Superior Court. The action was for $121.92 and costs.
Fisher claimed that on August 16, 1928, he was driving his car along Wellington street south.
When nearing the intersection of Aberdeen street he noticed the defendant's car coming in the opposite direction at an excess speed.
Just as he was crossing the car tracks at the foot of Aberdeen street, Gervais, without a signal or any warning whatever, suddenly turned the corner and crashed into the side of the plaintiff's car, wrecking the left front wheel, fender and running board.
In his plea Gervais claimed that Fisher was driving along the middle of the street at an excess speed and to avoid a car coming down Aberdeen street had turned to the left and crashed into his car, the accident being caused by the carelessness of the plaintiff.
At the conclusion of the hearing
Mr. Justice Phillimon Cousineau decided in favor of the plaintiff and awarded him the sum of $80 and costs.
The plaintiff was represented by Mr. K. A. Wilson, of Wells, Lynch and Wilson.

The new store of the Ross-Keeler Electric Company, on Fron-of attraction this week. The display of two important lines of merchandise, namely, the Moffat electric range and Kelvinator elec-many visitors to the store, while each afternoon there has been a pleasant social atmosphere prevailing through the benefit bridges given in connection with the official opening.

Yesterday Mr. A. H. McLellan, from London, Ont., the home of the Kelvinator, arrived in Sherbrooke to represent this modern system of keeping things cool. A fine display of up-to-date refrigerators of handsome design and enamel finish is arranged on the opposite side of the room from the ranges, and Mr.
McLellan is on hand to explain the system and show the various types of manufacture.
The Kelvinator of Canada, Ltd., are pioneers in domestic refrigeration, having been in business since 1914, and have kept pace with the times in regard to modern methods, materials and workmanship. This company was the first to introduce colors into the outer finish of refrigerators, and now have the Kelvinators in all colors to match other kitchen equipment.

"With Sunset it is possible to have a more extensive, up-to-date wardrobe, at small expense. Bright, colorful Sunset helped me transform a rather colorless home. Gay curtains, harmonious draperies and pillows, and rejuvenated rugs put the sparkle of newness into old rooms. I have dyed unbleached muslin and other inexpensive fabrics, and the results have been surprising. Unbleached muslin especially looked like expensive material. I toned down a highly coloured rug, rehabilitated several bedrooms with colorful bed draperies, curtains and cushions, and coloured linens for the dining room.

"Besides being economical, Sunset is a great time saver. From my old dresses, I frequently make garments for the children. Sunset-dye them and they cease to be despised 'hand me downs.' I brighten their faded sweaters, hose, and 'off colour' bathing suits. In kindergarten work, Sunset is ideal for colouring wooden heads, pegs, rails and baskets, for colouring sand for project work, and for picture tinting. Using Sunset is the simplest, quickest, and most economical way I know of to beautify and brighten home and wardrobe. It has saved me many a dollar, and created an atmosphere of cheer in our home." — Mrs. M. Burns.

For fast dyeing use Sunset, 15 cents a cake. For beautiful tinting use Dytint, wonderful new tint, big box, 10 cents. Made in Canada.

HAVE A COMPLETE DIAGNOSIS

It is surprising to know that many people postpone going to a doctor for an examination for fear he will discover that they are suffering from serious disease. It is hard to understand this point of view. If the foundation of one's house were insecure, one would certainly wish to be told about it because by repairing the foundation, the whole house could be saved from tumbling.

If a man notices that something is wrong with the steering wheel of his automobile, he hastens to a mechanic to find out the cause of the trouble, that it may be repaired. Railways have regular inspections of their trains and tracks. Most cities require careful inspection of aeroplane and public buildings to determine their safety.

Your own body is the most valuable piece of property you will ever own, and is it not more important for you to know its exact condition than to know the condition of your business or the value of your automobile?

A patient should not be satisfied with a snap diagnosis made by a doctor who merely looks at a patient's tongue and takes his pulse. The diagnosis of a disease is more difficult than most people realize and should only be undertaken by a doctor who has had much experience in handling many patients and using such modern methods of diagnosis as the x-ray, the microscope, the sphygmomanometer and many similar diagnostic instruments. He should also be familiar with examinations of the blood, urine, sputum, etc., and he should only make his diagnosis after he has carefully considered the patient's physical condition, family history, previous treatment, and compared these with his different laboratory findings. It is sometimes advisable that more than one doctor be consulted before a final diagnosis is made.

Readers often write in to me, give me a set of their symptoms, and ask me to diagnose their diseases. This is of course impossible, as you will realize from what I have just told you. In some of these letters the excuse for not having a diagnosis is, "If I went to a doctor for a diagnosis I am sure he would advise an operation." Naturally, after a doctor examines you, he is going to give you his advice as to the proper method of treatment, but this does not mean that you should finally accept the advice unless it appears reasonable to you. Doctors are not all united as to the method of treating diseases. There are many different systems of healing but they all united upon the importance of a careful diagnosis, and every competent doctor, regardless of his school, uses much the same method in discovering the patient's condition.

If you are undecided as to the method of treatment to employ in overcoming your disease, I am always glad to give my advice as to the method which my experience would indicate as being suitable, but I must know the name of the disease.

The time will soon come when everyone will realize the value of going for a doctor's examination every six months just the same as going to the dentist to have the teeth examined.

Questions and Answers.

Poisonous Gas.
Question—Mrs. A. L. writes: "Have been using a gasoline range for years. Will you please tell me whether the fumes are injurious, just after the gas is turned off, also is a fourth of a teaspoonful of salt in a cup of hot water taken in the morning before breakfast detrimental to health? It acts as a laxative for me."

Answer—There is always danger in using any kind of gas or gasoline fire if you do not have the proper vent to carry away the fumes. The disagreeable smell of gas is not necessarily poisonous, and the deadly carbon monoxide gas has no odor at all. I would advise you to overcome your tendency to constipation through using correct foods. The use of salt in the manner you describe is no more injurious than other irritants or laxatives.

Additions to Menus.
Question—Reader asks: "In your published menus do you mean that nothing is to be added to them like read, buttermilk, etc?"

Answer—The weekly menus published in this column are given mainly to assist you in learning how to select good food combinations. Both read and buttermilk are often recommended and have a proper place in the diet but should not be used in addition to foods with which they are incompatible.

Binding Legs.
Question—M. J. writes: "Please tell me if feet binding from ankles to knees is dangerous. I was told that it forms rheumatism. Is this true? I would like to use the binding overnight as my feet are getting too fat."

Answer—There is no excuse for you to interfere with your blood circulation by binding your legs. All you need to do to reduce your lower legs and feet is take plenty of walking each day. Your muscles and other tissues of your legs will be injured and weakened by the binding.

TAKING THE "REC" OUT OF RECREATION

The hustle and pressure of modern business is nowadays too often extended to the business of peeping oneself up during the vacation. Many return from a holiday in worse shape than when they started. The ideal is to forget everything except the pleasures of the moment and literally "to take no thought for the morrow." The opportunity is provided as nearly ideally as possible in the sixth annual "Across Canada and Back" tour personally conducted by Dean Laird, principal of Macdonald College, under the auspices of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

It starts from Toronto, July 22nd, and takes in everything of interest, cities and scenery and institutions, from Toronto to Victoria, during its duration of three weeks. When you step on the train-de-luxe that will carry you to the Pacific, your troubles are behind you. There is not a single worry ahead of you, instead of going to things they come to you. Motor drives over first class roads through the finest mountain scenery on the continent; observation car travel through the Rockies from extreme east to far west; stop-overs at special beauty points; intercourse with prominent westerners; in short, a knowledge of the West that would take ten times as long to obtain if you were travelling privately and a hundred times more hard work. And yet the whole benefit obtained without any effort on your part, the journey going as smoothly as if you were watching it at your favorite picture house.

For illustrated booklet of this marvelous trip apply to J. A. Metivier, City Passenger Agent, 91 Wellington St., North, Telephone 130, or to Prof. Sinclair Laird, Box 225, Macdonald College, P.O., Que.

Sleigh Drive Well Attended in Spite of Weather—Items of General Interest from Knowlton and Vicinity.

KNOWLTON, Que., March 21.—The Young Ladies' Circle held their annual sleigh drive on Friday, March 8th. On account of the inclemency of the weather there was not as large a turnout as formerly. Shortly after 7:30 p.m. a group of young people gathered at the Post Office and soon set out on a drive, which took in part of the lake and in spite of the cold the ride was much enjoyed by all. On returning, all assembled in the church parlour were two contests were held, prizes being won by Miss Jessie Soles, Miss Ruth Prouty and Mr. Harry Pibus. A short but interesting programme followed consisting of two choruses "The Pilot Brave," and "Beautiful Rivers"; a recitation, "The Conceited Donkey," by Miss Eileen McLaughlin; a delightful solo, "The Church in the Wildwood," by Miss Jessie Soles, with chorus by the choir; a reading, from Pickwick papers, called "Pickwickians on the Ice," by Miss Rhoda Wheeler, and a piano duet by Miss Ruth Prouty and Mr. Harold Mandigo.

A lunch was then served by the president, Mrs. Roy Bullard and Miss Corey, after which a few games were played, then the young people departed to their homes declaring they had enjoyed themselves immensely.

MARSHAL FOCH'S GREAT CAREER IS ENDED

Marshal Ferdinand Foch, Allied generalissimo during the last months of the World War, has fought his "last campaign" and has forever laid down his sword. After a brave but successful fight to overcome the malady with which he was stricken several weeks ago, he quietly entered into his last sleep early yesterday afternoon.

With the passing away of Marshal Foch the world loses one of its outstanding military figures, and France one of her dearest sons. He was in every sense of the word a gentleman, soldier and leader of men.

The service which he rendered to his native land and to the world can never be over-estimated, and his name will go down in history so that future generations may study with pride his achievements and exploits.

The nations of the world have followed with anxiety the Marshal's serious illness, which, owing to his advanced years was considered from the start to be of a critical nature, and have hoped against hope that he would be restored to his former state of health. For some time, however, it has been realized that the end was drawing near and that the great fight which the famous soldier was conducting would not end successfully, but that he also was about to receive the call to join the army of the just.

As the shadows fall about the great military figure and the world sadly and reverently pays its parting farewell to his memory, the words of the hymn, "For All the Saints Who From Their Labors Rest," come to mind as describing the life of Marshal Foch.

"The golden evening brightens in the west;
"Soon, soon to faithful warriors comes their rest;
"Sweet is the calm of Paradise, the blest."

PROFESSORS GROW LESS UNWORLDLY

The modern college professor is neither unworldly nor is he abstract and devoted to the analysis of first principles. A few such do exist, but it is out of date to picture the average professor as following along these lines.

He will be either a writer of text-books or, in his supreme expression, an expert in his subject, declares Harold J. Laski, professor of political science in the University of London. He will complete his annual volume upon some selected theme within his province, a history of England, a history of France, a history of America. If he is a lawyer he will do his casebook. If he is a professor of literature he will edit some classic text. There are endless students today waiting for the pernickian manual whereby the right facts can be memorized without the grim need to omit the irrelevant and the inessential which caught the great man's fancy when he wrote, says Professor Laski in Harpers. The elementary classes in the great universities in major themes like economics, or history, or politics, number hundreds; and there are hundreds of colleges as multipliers. Let the professor write but two or three successful books and he will rank in the income tax returns as almost any successful business man. He will drop over to Europe in the summer or even join a neighboring golf club. Prosperity will bring him to orthodox opinion.

At college he will have office hours and a stenographer. His lectures will become well-organized formulae that he repeats from year to year, a standardized product as much the outcome of mass-methods of output as the cars of Detroit or the furniture of Grand Rapids. He will buy a little on margin, and his stockbroker will whisper faintly that he can meet his differences.

THE OTHER SIDE OF THE MOON

Do you know what is on the other side of the moon?

It always keeps one side hidden. No one has ever seen that other side. No one knows what it is like.

But just between us two, I will tell you what it is like.

It is a place where fruit trees grow upside-down with the roots in the air and the tops on the ground, so you don't have to climb up to get the fruit. It is right there waiting for you.

It is a place where everybody understands what everything says. The birds can talk to the butterflies. And the cat can say: "No, thank you, I don't care for fish today. I would rather have liver."

There children choose their parents instead of being just born in a willy-nilly fashion. And when two children want the same parent, do you know what happens? They are born twins.

On the other side of the moon there are no trains or subways or interurbans or automobiles. People travel by standing still.

It is this way. They just suspend themselves up in the air above the surface of their globe and let it spin on under them. When they see the place they want to reach approaching below them they descend, and there they are!

There is a rule that those who want to go long distances have to ascend higher than those going short distances. This is because on the lower levels the air is usually full of people with market baskets, or taking live-stock to near-by towns, or moving their furniture from house to house.

It is a place where water runs up hill and flowers and trees (all except cultivated trees—they are tame) walk about. So if one wants to cut down a tree he has to chase it.

But, strangest of all, they raise their clothes and manufacture their food.

Cobblers manufacture steaks and tailors make the pancakes. And shoe-trees are real trees. And trouser-trees are cultivated in long rows. And mittens grow like cauliflowers.

Now, some people may think this is all made up.

But you want to be careful of such people. They never have seen the other side of the moon!

There are lots more funny things on the other side of the moon. For instance, all the boys are named Henry. Boys do not have different names. They believe in democracy over there and carry it to the limit. When you want your boy you just step to the door, stick your head out and call, "Henry." Then they take a vote on it and the one that is elected comes in. This is much simpler and better than our way of doing.

They grant divorces over there in just the opposite way from that which we use. We say there shall be no divorce if there is collusion. They say the parties must be agreed before there is a divorce, and there you can get a divorce as easily as getting married.—Cpt. 1929.

PRESS COMMENT

MARKING HISTORIC SITES.

An interesting and worth-while work is being carried on by the National Parks Branch of the Department of the Interior in the marking of historic sites and monuments in Canada. Already a great number of sites, commemorating the public services of outstanding personages, and preserving historic ruins throughout the Dominion, have been marked, so that their significance will not be lost to future generations. For the most part, bronze tablets have been used as markers, and these bear suitable inscriptions telling the historic significance of the place. This is a worth-while piece of service.

A NICHE FOR THE HARMONICA.

Just as the city dweller finds in a window flower box an expression of love for the beautiful, so does the small boy, and sometimes the boy not so small, find in a harmonica, or mouth-organ, a vehicle for his musical talent. To concertgoers, accustomed to the mastery technique and finesse of a symphony orchestra, the mouth-organ may be a thing of contempt, but to many a boy it is all-sufficing. It heartens him on his errand, puts rhythm into his step, and although it has sunk to the level of the pavement artist, it has also risen to the heights as a companion to the sailor at sea.

It is well to remember these facts in searching for an explanation of the popularity of the mouth-organ. Popular it is. Germany alone exports 50,000,000 mouth-organs every year. But it does not propose to stop there. A huge trust has been completed in Berlin, by which it is intended not only to control the mouth-organ market but also to increase the demand for the instrument to which the ingenuity of the boy has given such range and variety. The fact is important to the United States, since it is Germany's best customer, taking 40 per cent. of the whole output.

It would be idle to pretend that the mouth-organ comes into any other than the lower brackets of music. But it would be equally unwise to put it down as a mere toy. Many a boy whose career has been hewed out of the rock of classical music has made his start on a mouth-organ, and has found in its somewhat crude arrangement an opportunity for self-expression which otherwise might have been denied him. All men do not sing. Some play. To some the memory of their first adventure into music with a mouth-organ is still green, and to them the mouth-organ will remain an instrument which, while lowly, is not necessarily low.

quite unnecessary and without any one threatening us. And they started building against a power, the richest on earth, with which we can afford to quarrel, the one power above all we ought to shake hands with, whom we were side by side within the interests of peace.

No Schemes of Their Own.

Mr. Lloyd George described the Labor programme as one of words, phrases and sentiments. "Why," he said, "the only schemes the Labor government had when they were in office was initiated by their predecessors. They hadn't a single scheme of their own."

"Mr. MacDonald says I can well afford to make a pledge to reduce unemployment to normal within a year because I shall never be called upon to carry it out. Do not be too sure about that. I will tell you what I have to say about the matter. The Liberals, if they are not in a position to fulfill the pledge themselves, will be in a position in the next parliament to make others fulfill. That is why I made the pledge."

Firing Last Liberal Shot.

The Liberal chieftain was firing the last Liberal shot in the by-election campaign in Holland-with-Boston, a community which might be taken direct from the pages of Dickens. It was market day in Boston.

Cattle ambled down the narrow, crooked streets. "Pubs" running through the whole color scheme of lions, harts and bucks with a duke and marquis or two thrown in all had their groups of arguing partisans. The four candidates wearing enormous rosettes of their party colors, took turns of fifteen minutes each in addressing crowds from the balcony at both the Peacock and the Royal. They were expected and cheered by the ruddy-faced farmers below.

Placards, rival pamphlets, cartoons, streamers and favors have been lavishly distributed. And as a background for all the picturesque mid-Victorian clatter stands a mediaeval church which first raised its spire above Lincolnshire Fens in the fervent days of the preaching friars when the merchants of the Hansa plied a brisk trade with the English port of Boston.

UNEMPLOYMENT SCHEME OF LLOYD GEORGE IMPOSSIBLE

(Associated Press Despatch.)

AYLESBURY, England, March 21.—Speaking here last night, Sir Arthur Steel-Maitland, Minister of Labor, said it had been calculated by a leading economist, Professor Arthur L. Bowley, of the University of London, that the shrinkage in British foreign trade and the falling off in emigration had accounted for well over a million

FRANCE WILL PAY TRIBUTE

This is an honor never before paid to a soldier of the French Republic. In its history but five others have received it, the Presidents Carnot and Faure, the scientist Pasteur, the statesman Gambetta and the poet Victor Hugo.

LONDON NEWSPAPERS PAY EDITORIAL TRIBUTE TO GREAT WAR COMMANDER

(Associated Press Despatch.)

LONDON, March 21.—London newspapers today paid editorial tribute to Marshal Foch, who died yesterday in Paris.

"It was given to him to save the Allied cause, and he saved it," the Times said today. "A soldier of genius and a simple chivalrous gentleman," the paper called him. Another paper called him the "greatest Frenchman of his age," and another said he was "perhaps the greatest soldier the world had known since Napoleon."

GREATEST FUNERAL THAT FRANCE HAS SEEN SINCE DEATH OF VICTOR HUGO

(Associated Press Despatch.)

PARIS, March 21.—The greatest funeral that France has seen since the death of Victor Hugo, in 1885, was being planned today by the French government as a last tribute to Marshal Ferdinand Foch. A special meeting of the cabinet, held immediately after adjournment of the Chamber of Deputies last night, prepared a bill which will be introduced in parliament today and which will carry a special appropriation for the expenses of the obsequies.

The other arrangements, such as lying in state, were left in abeyance because it was necessary to consult with the government of Allied countries whose armies would be represented in the cortege. It will be necessary to allow time for these delegations to arrive in Paris. Invitations have been sent to a number of Allied generals and Admirals to act as pall bearers. Orders have also been given for the mobilization of French troops and notices of instruction have been sent to war veterans' associations and similar bodies.

ALTERED APPEARANCE OF FAMOUS MUSTACHE SHORT TIME BEFORE COLLAPSE

(Associated Press Despatch.)

PARIS, March 21.—The famous mustache of Marshal Foch was much altered in its appearance today.

Yesterday, shortly before his collapse, it irritated him when he coughed. He peremptorily ordered seissors to be brought him, and taking them in his own hand, clipped it himself so that now it has little resemblance to the mustaches of his photographs.

DEPUTIES TODAY VOTED FOR NATIONAL FUNERAL

(Associated Press Despatch.)

PARIS, March 21.—The French Chamber of Deputies voted with raised hands today the special bill providing a national funeral for Marshal Foch.

This bill was passed with spaces for figures purposely left blank so that every necessary expense might be included. It went through almost immediately and without discussion, the communists remaining silent throughout.

A government spokesman declared that all arrangements would be subordinated to the wishes of Mme Foch.

TRIBUTE PAID FOCH IN ONTARIO LEGISLATURE

(Associated Press Cable.)

TORONTO, Ont., March 21.—Tribute to the late Marshal Foch was paid in the Ontario legislature yesterday afternoon. Hon. G. S. Henry spoke for the government and Aurélien Belanger, (Liberal, Russell) associated the opposition groups in a sincere expression of sympathy to France in her bereavement.

IMPERIAL CONFERENCE NOT TO BE HELD THIS YEAR

LONDON, March 21.—In the course of a debate in the House of Commons on the Empire marketing board last evening, Right Hon. W. G. Ormsby-Gore, Under-Secretary for Colonial Affairs, referred to the Imperial Conference "which will be held next year." The conference would nominally be held this year, but it is generally understood that in view of the British general elections and Dominion elections in South Africa the conference will be postponed a year.

unemployed persons.

Mr. Lloyd George, he said, "has pledged himself to put 700,000 persons to work within a year without adding a penny to national or local taxation. This is completely impossible. I will take one item of his plan. Within a year 300,000 additional men are to be put to work on roads. That is not possible, but if it were it would be no cure for unemployment."

"When all the promised road work is finished at the end of one or say two years these people, as cotton spinners and engineers, as well as miners, whom you put to work on road making would be out of work once again and the country would be no better off than before."

INVESTIGATE WRECK CAUSE

regarding the operation of the trains, the orders given, the crews and other details must be placed at the disposal of the Commission's engineers. This investigation is conducted independently of the inquiry the preliminaries of which will take place today under Magistrate Broughton, who will act as coroner.

The engineers of the two trains escaped death, and while Paul Gauvreau, of the Toronto bound train, was severely injured with both legs broken and his face and body badly burned, E. V. Alexander, the engineer on number 3 westbound, who jumped when he saw a disaster could not be averted, suffered slight injuries.

The charred remains of the dead were taken to a local undertaking establishment. Included were five skulls, the trunk of one body believed to be that of a woman and a number of smaller bones.

SURVIVORS GIVE ACCOUNT OF TERRIBLE EXPERIENCE

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

PARRY SOUND, Ont., March 21.—Tales of unspeakable horror and death were recounted here by survivors of the wreck of the crack Canadian National train number 3 and 4, which collided early yesterday morning near Droocourt Station. The pivotal point of the tragedy was the collision car on train number 3 westbound, which caught fire and was completely burned, providing the tomb of a number of passengers.

"I saw a woman inside the burning coach screaming in pain," said H. E. Harcourt, one of the passengers on train number 3, who escaped with a few bruises. "But the flames enveloped her before any one could reach her. There were other things to be seen after the flames had died down. I saw four or five charred bodies and skulls and human bones among the wreckage."

W. W. Wynn, of Toronto, said there were about fifteen passengers, men, women and children, in the collision car. The survivors generally agreed that about six or seven persons came out of the car alive.

Thomas Goodless, also of Toronto, told of standing by with other passengers while women and children died screaming in the burning coach.

"Altogether it was one of the most horrible sights you could imagine," he said. "There were screams coming from among the flames—terrified wails that died away slowly. They were like the wails of dying people who were being suffocated. They didn't last long but I don't want ever to hear that sound again."

Another man told of experiences. Quebecer, recounted the horrors of the burning coach. "There was a woman who could see beside a window of the car," he said. "A child was sitting beside her and we could hear them screaming. We couldn't get to them though, and they were burned to death."

Mr. Michaud also told of a man who had come into his coach with his arm almost torn off, crying "Please help me." He was given all the help possible but died to death. Sydney M. Harvey, of Philadelphia, said the collision coach and baggage car were in flames within five minutes after the collision.

"I reached them in time to see the flames consume what looked like the bodies of five women and one child," he said. "I saw the head of a little girl above a window of the burning coach. I could see her being consumed by the blaze. The accident took place in a cut and you could see right down into the burning coach. I could see the feet of the child's mother sticking up as if she had been thrown on her head and killed by the collision."

It was only the fast work of the passengers in unclipping the other coaches that saved the rest of the train from the flames. Mr. Harvey said. One of them had already started to burn when it was pushed back.

and down streams at will. At the opening of the afternoon's sitting of the Assembly, while various questions were being asked, Hon. Honore Mercier, Minister of Lands and Forests, entered and was greeted with prolonged applause. Premier Taschereau shook hands with Hon. Mr. Mercier as he took his seat, this being the Minister's birthday.

A bill to amend the charter of the Roberval and Saguenay Railway Company was considered in committee of the whole. Elysee Theriault (Liberal, L'Islet) explained that what was being asked was a change of the company's headquarters from Chicoutimi to Arvida, and an extension of the time within which the works under way should be completed.

After an exhaustive discussion in which Hon. Antonin Gaipeault, Gustave Delisle and Elysee Theriault attempted to allay the misgivings of Maurice Duplessis, the bill was given third reading on division. The resolutions relating to the bill respecting radio broadcasting in the province were next adopted. First and second readings were given to the bill despite strenuous objections by Mr. Duplessis, who contended that the Government was seeking to rush through legislation

Social and Personal

Mr. and Mrs. W. McManamy have left for Montreal, en route to Atlantic City.

Invitations will be issued shortly for the coming sale to be held in Lennoxville on Thursday, April 11.

Mrs. M. W. McManamy, Victoria Street, has gone to Montreal, and Lt. Col. McManamy will join her there later in the week, upon his return from New York.

The Women's Guild of the Advent met yesterday afternoon at the home of the president, Mrs. J. H. Bryant. There was a good attendance of members and work for the coming week was continued during the meeting. It was decided to have the sale of food and fancy work on April 3rd in the church hall. Next week's meeting will be in the church hall. At the tea hour the hostess was assisted by her sister, Miss Moe.

The bridge party in the new Ross-Keeler store yesterday afternoon completed a series of three most successful social events connected with the official opening of this new building. Yesterday's card party was given under the auspices of the Victorian Order of Nurses, and was successful in every way. Mrs. J. G. Ranshouan and Mrs. C. Costley, entertainment committee for the V. O. N. executive, had all details well in hand. Bridge was played at eighteen tables and a prize awarded at each table. The officers and members of the executive looked after the tables and the serving of tea, which, as on other days, was prepared by Mrs. McLean, the lady demonstrator, and supplied by the Ross-Keeler Electric Company. Those assisting during the tea hour were Mrs. W. B. McGaw, the Misses Edna Salls, Elizabeth Van Roden, Dorothy Rosenbloom, Mollie Bradley, Margaret Gough, Frances Berline and Betty Wilson. During the afternoon Mr. McLean, who represents the Kelvinator of Canada Ltd. of London, Ont., gave a talk to the ladies, explaining the modern system of refrigeration.

which was "excessively important" and very extraordinary.

A debate on the "drainage of lands in our old parish" was provoked by Arthur Sauve, leader of the Opposition, which moved in the usual way for correspondence on the matter.

Mr. Sauve submitted that bad drainage of lands was causing the province an annual loss of $25,000,000.

The Hon. Mr. Moreau, Minister without portfolio, who handles agriculture affairs in the Assembly, in reply instanced various counties in which the Department of Agriculture had made grants for meeting the difficulties of the situation. The Government had also a trenching machine for drainage purposes which was put without cost at the disposal of farmers. Statistics of the work done in the past few years in the department were given and the Minister concluded with the statement that the work would be continued. After some further remarks by the leader of the Opposition, the debate was concluded.

Discuss Manufacture of Apple Cider.

The manufacture of apple cider was the next question discussed. Mr. Sauve again bringing on the debate. The importance of the creation of such an industry to the farmers of the province was emphasized.

A statement of the Hon. J. L. Perron was recalled when it was said that the Government was giving the subject serious consideration. In view of the Government's admission that no steps had been taken to set up co-operatives, Mr. Sauve concluded that the Minister had not been serious, but merely indulging in a pre-election gesture. For these reasons he asked for correspondence on the matter.

The Hon. Mr. Nicol declared that the question had been studied by a business house interested in the making of cider. Engineers of this house had gone to France to study the question. According to their report, it would be necessary to establish a cider plant with a capacity of 250,000 gallons in the province, spend $800,000 to $700,000 and utilize 25,000 barrels of apples.

Moreover, only 25,000 barrels of apples are produced in the vicinity of Montreal and 40,000 in the environs of Quebec. There was an adequate market for apples, the demand for which could not be met. The farmers had nothing to gain by converting their apples to cider. The debate was then concluded.

The Hon. Mr. Nicol's bill respecting the establishment of special classes for the education of certain children came up. The bill deals with the problem of the sub-normal child and was piloted through the House by the Provincial Secretary. After a textual emendation by Mr. Bercovitch, the bill was given third reading.

The Public Bills Committee of the Legislative Assembly approved of Premier Taschereau's measure restricting the use of writs of prohibition and certiorari. An amendment was adopted, however, to strike out the clause which would require that in Montreal or Quebec the permission of the chief justice of each district be necessary, and that the permission of two judges be required in the districts of Three Rivers and St. Francis.

pany drill was held, during which time officers from headquarters inspected drill work.

After the inspection, General King delivered a short speech, in which he complimented the contingent on the excellent showing that they had made and exhorted them to keep up the traditions that the Bishop's squad had made in years past, especially in the Inter-University contest.

ITS TIME TO CHANGE

To Summer Grease

PRACTICALLY all drivers use a different grade of oil in Winter from what they use in summer. And all drivers should take the same precaution with their grease. There is a special grade of "WHIZ" GREASE for every season, and the driver who has his grease changed according to the calendar is going to get longer life, more satisfaction and greater pleasure from his car. Thin greases, for example, will not give you good lubrication during the hot summer months. But "WHIZ" GREASE has the necessary rich body and character to insure thorough lubrication—to withstand the effect of Summer heat.

Here it is about the end of March—drop in tomorrow and let your dealer clean out that old Winter grease from your transmission and differential. Don't wait until you have to turn the car in for repairs. Your dealer sells and recommends "WHIZ" GREASE.

"One pound of fresh grease added to four pounds of worn grease means five pounds of old grease."

HARD TO JUDGE FINAL RESULTS OF AN ELECTION

Speaking on Behalf of Liberals in Bath Bye-Election, Sir Herbert Samuel said There Was No Ground for Supposing that Either Conservatives or Labor Were Bound to Win.

(Associated Press Despatch)
BATH, England, March 21. — Speaking on behalf of the Liberal candidate in the Bath bye-election on Tuesday, Sir Herbert Samuel said the efforts of the Liberal party were directed towards securing the advent of power of a Liberal administration. It was an error, he said, to think the result of any election was a foregone conclusion and there was no ground for supposing that either the Conservatives or Labor were bound to win the election.

Sir Herbert was confident the pledges given by Mr. Lloyd George could be fulfilled. "They are not hastily devised plans constructed for the moment," he said, "but they are the results of prolonged expert consideration. The objection that the capital required cannot be obtained without diverting it from purposes which would give employment in other directions is ill-founded. There are tens of millions on deposit in the banks awaiting remunerative investment and unable to find it." Sir Herbert was referring to the proposed solution of the unemployment programme announced by Right Hon. David Lloyd George, Liberal leader. It calls for an extensive development in road building, housing and land drainage. The idea is that employment would at once be provided for many of the workless and the cost of developments would be taken care of by the increased revenue which would result from the higher land values and increased motor traffic.

ONTARIO GOVERNMENT IS READY TO AID INDIANS

Provincial Air Force Machines Will Be Placed at Disposal of Any Doctors, and Captain W. Roy Maxwell Is Ready to Lead Expedition into Moose Factory District.

(Associated Press Despatch)
TORONTO, Ont., March 21. — William Finlayson, Provincial Minister of Lands and Forests, expressed the willingness of the Ontario Government to co-operate further with the Dominion authorities in carrying medical aid to the stricken Indians in the Moose Factory district in a letter forwarded to the department of Indian Affairs at Ottawa.

Provincial air force machines will be placed at the disposal of any doctors the Dominion Government may decide to send to the Indians' aid. Captain W. Roy Maxwell, director of the force, is ready to lead the expedition.

"Something has to be done to help these Indians," stated Captain Maxwell yesterday, "and the sooner we get started the better."

AUTOMATIC TELEGRAPH PRINTERS CAUSE WALK-OUT AMONG OPERATORS

Telegraph Operators of Stock Brokers' Firm Protest Use of Cheaper Help on These Machines.

NEW YORK, March 21. — Installation of automatic telegraph printing machines to replace Morse code instruments and the employment of cheaper labor to work them, caused a strike of some of the Morse operators employed by the Wall Street brokerage firms of Logan and Bryan.

Just how many of the company's 250 Morse operators here and in its thirty branch offices in this country and Canada had answered the strike call could not be accurately determined, for company and union statements were widely divergent.

E. Vail Stebbins, a senior partner in the company, said a large majority of the Morse operators, outside of New York and Chicago, remained at work, and some in those two cities did not heed the strike call.

Frank P. Powers, president of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union of North America, said that thirty of the thirty-one operators in New York were on strike, as were twenty-eight out of thirty in Chicago. In Los Angeles, he said, fifteen out of eighteen were out and in Vancouver six out of seven were out. All the men in the Toronto office, he said, were on strike.

Union officials said the Morse operators were not fighting the installation of machines to do their work, but they did insist on their right to operate them at their old salaries of from $70 to $85 a week. The company acknowledged that it had begun to hire printer operators at from wages of $47.50 to $52.50, but said its intention was to use the Morse operators for other work.

AYLMER BRIDGE OF OLD TIMES IS RECALLED

Citizens of Sherbrooke of Former Days Subscribed Amount for Repair of Old Wooden Bridge Across St. Francis River.

The erection of the new all-steel bridge over the St. Francis River which joins the city proper with the east ward, is an undertaking which has attracted a good deal of attention. The large crew of men, both day and night, have worked under the scrutiny of many eyes, people often standing on the present bridge for hours watching the work going on below them. The bridge is still intact with an occasional set-off of parts under construction, but travel is somewhat congested at times.

The style of bridge, its cost, and other factors in the building of the much-needed, and up-to-date span, brings to the mind of older residents of Sherbrooke the old wooden Aylmer Bridge, and some papers relative to the financial side of the old structure have come to the Record Office for perusal, and resume of contents.

A document drawn up in legal terms and dated Sherbrooke, 25th July, 1849, shows that the old wooden bridge was repaired through personal subscriptions, or at least the larger part of the expense was covered in that way.

The document reads in part: "Whereas the abutments and pier of the Aylmer Bridge are now so much decayed as to seriously endanger the upper part of said bridge, and render it unsafe for travellers to cross the same, and it being proposed to rebuild the said abutments and pier with stone instead of wood, and to make other repairs, we the undersigned hereby agree to pay the amount subscribed by us respectively, for the purpose of rebuilding said abutments and pier and making repairs as aforesaid, payable upon the completion of the work, either to the contractor, or to a committee chosen by the subscribers at a meeting called for the purpose, as shall be deemed advisable. A paragraph is devoted to the statement that payment will be made only for work accomplished, and the estimated cost is given as: cost of stone work—350 pounds, other repairs—50 pounds, whole amount required 400 pounds equal to $1600.

List of Subscribers. Following this is a long list of subscribers who gave various amounts from ten dollars to sixty dollars, and among the names are recalled many that are familiar to residents of today as citizens of the early days that took active part in the progress of the city, then a town. It is also noted that often payment was made in "meat or stock," the currency was English but the accounts were made up in dollars and cents.

The first subscription list leads off with the name, Forsythe Farm, from which name came that of the square East ward, where Murray and Council Streets join. Other names noted are those of L. C. Ball, Andrew Patterson, J. G. Robertson, Francis Loomis, Wm. Brooks, Daniel Thompson, Edward Hale, Adam Lomas, H. B. and T. Lee Terrill, Hollis Smith, H. Moe, J. S. Sanborn, H. A. Elkins, John Griffith, J. Walton, the B.A.L. Co., and many others, but the papers do not show any definite total as to amount received and paid.

A statement by a well-known citizen on the same sheet of paper shows that everything did not run smoothly in those days. The paragraph runs like this: "I hereby give notice to the committee, (or whoever it may concern) appointed for managing the repairs to be done on the Aylmer Bridge across the St. Francis that I shall not pay the balance or any part thereof of the subscription signed by me in July, 1849, as appears among the above list of subscribers, and the committee are requested to govern themselves accordingly." This was dated August 1st, 1851, the date showing that considerable time had been taken up in work and financial worries. However, the old bridge must have been repaired in accordance with the needs, for it did its duty to the city and mankind. One of Sherbrooke's business men, in speaking of the old bridge, said: "I remember when I came to Sherbrooke as a boy, and thought the Aylmer Bridge was wonderful, the biggest bridge I had ever seen."

Today in its place is being erected a fine steel bridge which is a right step in progress, but which will soon need a sister bridge to accommodate traffic across the St. Francis River. The cost of the new bridge is given as $175,000, and is just another evidence of the march of progress—expenses counted in thousands instead of hundreds.

FOUR-GOAL LEAD CHALKED UP BY ST. FRANCOIS

Montrealers Tallied Four Goals in Last Period to Beat Toronto Varsity by 5 to 1 in First Game of Eastern Canada Senior Finals for Allan Cup.

(By A. E. Fulford, Canadian Press Sports Writer)

TORONTO, March 21.—First games in the eastern Canada senior final series and western junior finals, as well as second encounters of the eastern junior semi-finals, were decided last night, leaving the amateur hockey situation considerably simplified.

Only four teams now remain in competition for the Allan and Memorial Cups, emblematic of the senior and junior championships of Canada. Trail and Port Arthur are the western senior representatives and St. Francois Xavier, of Montreal, and University of Toronto the eastern hopes. Winnipeg Elmwood Millionaires and Calgary Falcons Canadians are the only junior teams still undefeated in the west's eliminations and in the east Toronto Marlboros and Ottawa Shamrocks have survived.

Winners of the St. Francois Xavier and Port Arthur-Trail series will meet in the Allan Cup finals at Winnipeg on March 28 and 30, while the victors in the Elmwood-Calgary and Marlboros-Shamrocks play-down battle for Canadian junior honors will take place at Toronto on March 26 and 30. In both final series third games will be played if necessary.

Ramming in four goals in the last period to break a 1 to 1 tie, the St. Francois team last night took the first of their eastern senior final jousts with Varsity by 5 to 1. The second game will be played in Toronto on Friday, total goals to count. The Quebec champions had a clean advantage throughout the game, the collegians equalling them only in spots in the second session. Toronto tried hard, but collapsed under the pressure in the third session.

Ottawa Nosed Out Vics
Toronto Marlboros' 3 to 1 victory over Sault Ste. Marie Grey Hounds gave them the round by 7 to 2. In the eastern junior finals in Ottawa on Saturday and Toronto on Monday they will meet Ottawa Shamrocks, who played a scoreless draw with Montreal Victorias last night, taking the round by 2 to 1, the score of the first battle.

Winnipeg Elmwoods and Calgary deadlocked one-all in the first of their western junior finals. They therefore go into the second game on even terms. The game was scoreless until Elmwoods tallied with only fifteen seconds of the second period remaining. Wounded by their semi-final struggle with Regina Pats on Tuesday, the Falcons-Canadians nevertheless battled hard and their furious assault in the last frame bore fruit.

Only One Game Tonight
Tonight the only encounter on the hockey calendar is the first of the western Canada senior finals between Trail, British Columbia champions, and Port Arthur in Winnipeg. Their second game takes place on Saturday. Trail reached the finals by winning the Alberta-British Columbia series against High River 4 to 0 and 4 to 2. Port Arthur, after capturing the Thunder Bay League title, downed Regina, Saskatchewan titlists, by 1 to 0 and 4 to 1.

SENIOR LACROSSE MEETING TONIGHT

A meeting for all the lacrosse fans of the City will be held in the Magog House tonight at eight o'clock, when the question of the formation of a senior lacrosse team will be discussed. It is proposed to enter this team in a league composed of two teams from Montreal, one from Cornwall and possibly one each from Ottawa and Quebec. It is hoped that there will be a good turnout to this meeting, as the matter has to be definitely decided at this gathering.

SECOND SERIES OF N.H.L. PLAY- OFFS TONIGHT

Rangers and Americans Forced to Fight to a Finish Tonight—Toronto Overwhelming Favorite to Go into Semi-Finals.

MONTREAL, March 21.—The battle of the hockey play-offs takes up again tonight where it left off Tuesday with very little accomplished in the way of deciding which teams are to enter into the round. Boston again is the scene of the second game of the series between the Bruins and Canadiens, first place winners in their divisions.

New York's second place teams, the Rangers and Americans, will continue to warm the ice of Madison Square Garden in their struggle for even one goal, while Detroit will become the guest in the third place play-off, going to Toronto for the second game.

Toronto is the only one of the six teams engaged in the multiple world's series of hockey which gained an appreciable advantage in the opening night's encounters. The Leafs go into the second half of their two-game series with Detroit with a two-goal advantage. In this series as in the second place play-offs, the total number of goals scored counts. With the advantage of home ice, Toronto is an overwhelming favorite to go into the semi-final against one of the New York teams.

Boston, winner of the first place in the American group in the regular National League season, is one up on Canadiens by virtue of a single goal Tuesday night. But four more games of this series remain before it is decided which team will go into the final for the Stanley Cup, emblematic of the world's championship. After tonight the teams go to Montreal to complete the series.

The New York Rangers and Americans have the prospect of a long contest before they reach a decision in their rivalry, which was even all through the regular season and went through the sixty minutes of the opening encounter with no advantage to either team. If they are still deadlocked at the end of the regular playing time tonight the game must be continued until one team scores. At the rate they were going Tuesday night, the decision will be reached some time tomorrow morning.

The Old Order Changes

By David Lyall.

"Would any other come?" she asked herself, or was it ordained that she should go through life un-mated? How did one know when the right one came? she wondered, half-awed at the kind of thoughts surging within. It was as if Gregory Severne's hand had opened some unused door where undreamed of thoughts were hidden. She vigorously brushed her pretty hair and re-tucked herself. For the first time since the purchase of Gorham Lacy she felt resigned to leaving Mar-oucks. It would be uncomfortable to remain there and to have to meet him. Of course, he had said he was going, but it might be some time before the change was actually accomplished.

She felt glad on the whole that only two weeks of her term remained.

She slipped out by the back way when ready, but did not find her father in the garden. Often he went back to the counting house after hours.

It was one of his wife's grievances that he was far too near the scene of his work. She did not know that it had been a haven of refuge to him often when he needed escape from her perpetual speech and nagging. He was not actually unhappy with her, only often tired of her company. Strange as it may seem, such a state of mind is not altogether incompatible with a certain kind of love.

Not the highest kind, which is complete communion of thought and aim, but then that is rare enough in a world of change and disillusionment.

Mary sped down to the river's brim, and not very far from the back of the mills she met the young man they had been talking about. William Raikes, one of the foremen at Coppelts, a clever workman but a bit of a reactionary who had created and kept alive any trouble Mr. Freeland had had with his people. Raikes was the illegitimate son of a mill worker, and she had died without revealing the name of his father.

But the singular air of breeding about him, his rather fine head and a certain refined aloofness seemed to suggest another class.

The décolletage has a triple open-work necklace of the strass and strass outlines the neckline also. The loose panels all step down, in skyscraper manner. She's shod with sandals of woven brown calf-skin.

Perhaps, also, it accounted for the extraordinary bitterness of his attitude towards all class distinctions. Mary rather liked him and always spoke to him when opportunity offered. She stopped now as he raised his cap and held out a frank hand.

"How do you do, William; we don't seem to have met for a long time. What have you been about?"

He shrugged his shoulders. "Nothing much, Miss Mary. I thought you had been rather quiet lately. I haven't seen your name figuring in the Basingfold Gazette. No meeting at the Bason lately?"

The Bason was a little rendezvous where all sorts of meetings were held and where Raikes often went forth.

"We've come to an end of speech," he answered with a sudden snap of his mobile mouth and a flash of his piercing eyes. "It will be direct action next."

Mary smiled. "You look fierce enough for anything, William. What has happened at Coppelts to make direct action necessary, and what form is it going to take?"

She spoke banteringly because she did not take him in the least seriously. She believed that he found speaking at the Bason and elsewhere a kind of safety valve for the nervous energy which consumed him.

"There isn't anything the matter at Coppelts," he answered. "If all the employers were like Mr. Freeland, life might be worth living. All the same, there are some just grievances. I'm sorry you are moving to Gorham Lacy, Miss Mary. That was a big mistake on your father's part, the biggest he has ever made, and it may yet cost him dear."

Mary stifled the desire to resent such words, because she wanted to hear what they really meant.

"I don't understand, William. My father has worked hard, and treated everybody fairly, even you admit that. Why shouldn't he spend a little money now in the evening of his days and go in for country life if he wants to?"

"That isn't the point, Miss Mary," said Raikes fiercely. "It's a flaunting of capital which we didn't expect from him. All the time prices are soaring."

"But wages soar with them, William, don't forget that," put in Mary quickly.

"There isn't anything going to equalize things excepting nationalization of all industry, and it's going to come," he said with quiet force.

Mary smiled frankly into his face.

"Such nonsense, William! You talk like that because you haven't a stake in anything yet. If only you would get married and have a home of your own you would see things differently. You wouldn't want everything nationalized then, I'm sure. Why don't you marry?"

When he did not answer, Mary looked at him very steadily.

Then her color rose and bidding him a quick good evening, she walked away. For the second time in one day she had seen the same fire in the eyes of a man, and she knew herself desired.

It shook her, she felt herself trembling as she walked rapidly along the brim of the river.

Almost better the long peaceful days of dull and steady routine than this life force which seemed suddenly to be envying her like a flood.

What had caused it, and where would it lead her? Gregory Severne and William Raikes! Could there be two more widely differing human beings in the whole world?

Where would the next one come from, the right one?

If he never came at all, at least she had been respected like the maiden in the "Cottar's Saturday Night", which her father had taught her as a little girl to read and love.

CHAPTER VIII.

Mrs. Egerton Manning and the new Squire emerged from the park and walked through the beautiful sorrow and even distress with dignity. No one here in Maroucks has ever seen me weep nor heard me utter a word of complaint."

"It is fine," he said in a low voice, and yet his voice had a trail of doubt in it. He would have preferred something a little less exalted and more human.

"It is a sweet spot and very typically English. Of course we have tried to keep it so. It stands for something precious in the national life."

They turned together towards the lych gate which opened on a high road, and the voices of the school children floating through the open windows smote the still summer air.

"We may as well take the school first," Mrs. Manning decided, and accordingly they walked the few steps past the gate to the end of the churchyard boundaries and entered the school.

Mary Freeland was standing at the far end with a blackboard before her, explaining something she had drawn on it.

About forty children immediately sprang to attention, and at sight of the lady of the manor the little girls bobbed and the boys made a rough form of salute.

Manning strode straight up to Miss Freeland and offered his hand. "We meet again," he said pleasantly.

What a blessing it is to be able to do the wash this modern way with Rinso!

ISN'T it good to have piles of sweet-smelling clothes and know that they were washed so white without long hours of hard work.

Yes! When washing is done with Rinso it isn't half the job it used to be.

It's the richer—thicker suds of Rinso which have brought about this happy change. They are the modern magic in the wash tub.

You never saw a whiter wash than a Rinso wash

Dirt of all kinds simply vanishes. Quickly . . . surely, but gently. Grime and stains are loosened and dissolved from every fibre of the fabric. Colored things become brighter and white things whiter—that's how Rinso works!

Only the extremely soiled parts may need a light little rub between the fingers. And that's all. No boiling . . . no washboard rubbing. Nor will you need bar soaps . . . chips or powders. Whether you soak your clothes or not . . . whether you use wash tub or washing machine . . . you'll get clothes whiter than ever with Rinso.

Rinso is waiting to give you modern help with your washing. Enjoy the freedom from washing worries that Rinso always brings. Just follow the easy directions on the package.

FOSTER, Que., March 21.—The regular meeting of the Women's Auxiliary was held at the home of Mrs. Wm. Dixon, on Tuesday afternoon, March 21st, instead of on February 26th as had been previously arranged. The Rev. A.

ters of the Church History, followed by Scripture reading and prayers, after which the meeting was formally opened by the president, Mrs. C. P. Hunter, occupying the chair. The minutes of the last meeting were read and accepted. Fifteen members and several visitors were present.

Mrs. A. M. Hunter and Mrs. J.

tion of the grocery fund was next brought up and was voted that the sum of three dollars be sent to Mrs.

sident then read the duties of all officers of the W. A., and also informed the Rev. A. Radmore, that it was his privilege to appoint two members for the executive.

Mrs. Radmore and Mrs. Walter Knowlton were elected to this office.

Dorcas secretary, Mrs. A. B.
Young, reported to work yet today for distribution. Mrs. C. P. Hunter, in speaking of the great loss by fire at the Gordon School in who felt so disposed to make any donations to assist them in their great need. Mrs. C. P. Hunter donated a quilt top and Mrs. Code a lining for the same.

Mrs. Hunter also gave an interesting and thorough report of the 42nd annual, which she recently attended in Montreal, also Mrs. A.
B. Young gave an account of a meeting held with Mrs. Loiselle, after which the Rev. A. Radmore tendered a vote of thanks to these ladies for their excellent reports.

At the close of the business session the pastor requested the members to stand in a silent tribute of sympathy to those of the members who have suffered bereavement since the beginning of the year.

The hostess, Mrs. Dixon, then served lunch, assisted by Mrs. Walter Inglis.

BISHOP'S WON CITY LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP

Purple and White Took Final Basketball Series by Total Count of 36 to 34—Second Game of Home and Home Series With Omega Alpha Resulted in Twenty-All Tie.

The City basketball championship rests this year in the hands of the purple and white cagers who won out in the home and home finals with the Omega-Alpha by a gross count of thirty-four to thirty-six. It was really the first contest, which was staged at Bishop's, on Monday night that gave them the honors for the two point lead which they had while entering the deciding contest last night was the decisive factor that brought the pennant to Bishop's, as the game at the Y.M.C.A. resulted in a twenty-all tie.

Rudner, the Bishop's College star, gathered in no less than fifteen out of the twenty points scored by the collegians. In the first period the Omega-Alpha led by a score of thirteen to twelve, but in the second session Bishop's defence was almost impenetrable, only permitting the home team to notch up seven points.

It was in the second period that Rudner shone, as he was responsible for all the points obtained by Bishop's except two counters on free throws, one by McCullough and the other by McMorran. The outstanding player on the O.-A. team was Welsh, who played his finest game of the season.

The lineup: Bishop's—Fuller, 3 points; Rudner 15; Marianne, Green, 1; McCullough, 1; Bouchard, McMorran, 1; Wallace.

Omega-Alpha—Hammond, 10; Walker, Barlow, 2; Cook, 1; Watson, 2; Beach 2; Walsh, 1; Edgar 2; Gardner.

The game was excellently handled by Mr. J. Corfield, president of the league.

NORTH BRANCH Y.M.C.A. VS. SHERBROOKE

J. Smith, who was for two years physical director in the Sherbrooke Y.

BOXING

"Y" BOXERS HAD WORKOUT

Last night the Y.M.C.A. boxers had a very strenuous workout under the personal direction of Phil Mathias. There was an excellent turnout of boxers who will be in the tournament on Wednesday, March 27. The next workout is to be held Friday night at 7.30 o'clock. This will be the last night for entries and weighing in, so that every person interested in boxing should be present. There are ten bouts assured, the weights ranging from 55 pounds to the 175 and over class.

The judges for the tournament will be Messrs. F. A. Briggs and A. Aston, with Messrs. F. H. Bradley, referee, and Messrs. Mathias and Walker in the corners. This promises to be one of the most successful Y.M.C.A. amateur tournaments ever held in the city.

GRAIN COMMISSIONERS UNDER FIRE IN HOUSE

(Canadian Press Despatch)

OTTAWA, March 21.—The marketing of Canadian wheat and other grain before Parliament in no uncertain way yesterday. Following reports from the west of dissatisfaction with the work of the Board of Grain Commissioners, and the way the crop was handled last year, three resolutions were placed on the order paper of the House of Commons. One asked that in grading wheat, its protein content be taken into consideration. A second referred to the mixing of grain and a third condemned the Board of Grain Commissioners for issuing the so termed "hybrid" ticket. It was on a recommendation of the Committee on Agriculture that it be empowered to investigate all these points at one time that the discussion burst forth in the Commons and forced the budget debate to give way.

In reply to the various and severe criticism which have been levelled at the Board of Grain Commissioners, the Hon. James Macdonald, Minister of Trade and Commerce, said: "To discuss charges against the Board of Grain Commissioners when the board has not had an opportunity to give evidence as to why they ruled or failed to rule in a certain way, I think it unfair. So far as I am concerned, I have found the Board of Grain Commissioners at all times anxious to assist in the administration of the producer. Whether they have made mistakes of judgment or not will be brought out in the evidence before the committee." He declined to comment as a minister of the Crown on a public servant until the latter had given himself the opportunity to defend himself. He accordingly urged the application of the committee that its scope be enlarged, be granted by the House. The members of the board would then come before the committee to give their side of the case.

EXPLANATION IS ISSUED BY OIL COMPANIES

Three Principal Oil Companies in England Make Statement on Recent Rise in Price of Gasoline—Information Was Requested by Government.

(Associated Press Despatch) LONDON, March 21.—The Board of Trade last night issued an explanation by the three principal oil companies in England for the recent rise in the price of gasoline, the information having been requested by the government. The explanation in effect was that during the last twenty-three months prices have been below "world prices" because of Russian dumping and that it was not until the end of February that arrangements were reached which terminated the price war and permitted a return toward the world level of prices which in the long run "is essential to the maintenance of supplies for the British market."

(This latter reference presumably is to the arrangements recently concluded with the Soviet oil authorities by which the Royal Dutch Shell and other British companies were enabled to purchase Russian oil.)

This will be the first trans-Atlantic voyage of the Duchess of Richmond, although she has recently completed a forty-two day cruise to West Africa and the Mediterranean.

POLICE RAIDS AT BOMBAY CAUSE GREAT EXCITEMENT

Objective of Raids Mainly "Youth League" and Its Connections—Charges of Communism Made—Resentment Expressed in Lobbies of State Assembly.

(Canadian Press Despatch) BOMBAY, India, March 21.—Late last evening wholesale police raids which involved many arrests continued to arouse intense excitement. The objective of the raids was mainly "youth league" and its connections and the basis was charges of communistic activities. Large quantities of literature were seized.

Wide resentment was expressed in the lobbies of the state assembly and efforts will be made today to move for adjournment of the legislature in order to raise the question of the government's alleged repressive policy.

It is stated the new company will operate under a dominion charter and will be capitalized at about $30,000.

The firms named in the merger include the W. H. Banfield and Sons, Limited, the Benjamin Electric Manufacturing Company of Canada, Ltd. of Toronto, and the Duncan Electrical Company, Limited, of Montreal. It is stated the merger was consummated about March 14th and that W. H. Banfield, president and general manager of the W. H. Banfield and Sons, Limited, is to be appointed president of the new corporation.

MANY MATTERS CONSIDERED BY MANITOBA GOVT.

Premier Bracken Has Announced Intention Not to Retire—J. W. Pratt, Government Member, Will Take Seat as Independent.

(Associated Press Despatch) WINNIPEG, MAN., March 21.—Many matters of provincial importance came before the Manitoba Legislature when it resumed sessions yesterday after an adjournment of three weeks.

First, Premier Bracken announced that the ordinary business of the Legislature would be carried on, and that he had no thought of asking for further adjournment; J. W. Pratt, Government member for Birtle, stated he would cross the floor to-day and take a seat as an independent, while John Queen, Labor leader, attempted to ascertain the Government's stand on a proposed alliance with the Liberal party. Premier Bracken denied a rumor that he was resigning.

Following the session, Premier Bracken announced that a committee of Progressive members of the House would be appointed to consider the proposed alliance with the Liberals. At a convention here Tuesday, the Liberals favored such an alliance, under specified conditions.

In announcing his intention to sit as an independent, Mr. Pratt, the member for Birtle, gave as his reason his opposition to the Government's policy in leasing the Seven Sisters Falls site to a private power corporation. On general matters he declared he would endeavor to co-operate with the government.

CITIZENS MUST APPROVE LOANS FOR POWER PLANT

QUEBEC, March 21.—Montreal is not to be given one law of exception to the general laws of the province without deep reason therefore, it was made clear yesterday when the Montreal bill came before the private bills committee of the Legislative Council, and in conformity with that view the clause to allow the city to borrow an unlimited amount of money, without referendum, to establish a municipal electric plant or plants for the production of electricity was killed.

Complaint was voiced also that it is due to inaccurate information supplied by the city that the Montreal Board of Trade and the Chambre de Commerce had withdrawn their opposition to the clause.

The clause in question deals with loans and mentions those purposes for which a referendum is not necessary, one of the exceptions being the paragraph to provide that a referendum is not to apply to loans required for the enlargement and development of the water works and the construction of reservoirs and filtering basins, filtration plants and plants for the production of electricity, including the cost of the necessary expropriations.

The "filtration" plants and plants for the production of electricity is the new part of the law which was asked. As the paragraph was amended, the words "and plants for the production of electricity" were stricken out.

Alderman A. A. DesRoches, chairman of the Executive Committee, said that the city already had spent $10,000,000 upon its water works, and only requires an additional two millions to complete the works, and already has the power to borrow the two millions. He said that the city wishes to light its own streets, instead of paying $600,000 a year for that purpose.

C. P. OCEAN SERVICES TO REDUCE ROUND TRIP FARE

Cut in Cost of Cabin Fares on Atlantic to Be Made Shortly—Made Possible by Decision to Abandon Revenue Tax on Steamship Tickets.

(Canadian Press Despatch) MONTREAL, March 21.—A further reduction in the cost of round trip cabin fares on the Atlantic will be made shortly by the Canadian Pacific Ocean Services, it was learned at the offices of the company yesterday. The reductions were made possible by the decision of the Dominion government to abolish the revenue tax on steamship tickets.

The official announcement giving the amount of the reductions will be made shortly.

It is understood that the reductions will not be in effect between May 16 and August 15.

DANDURAND TOOK SEAT IN SENATE YESTERDAY

Canada's Representative on Council of League of Nations Resumes Seat—Will Make Statement to Press Shortly.

(Canadian Press Despatch) OTTAWA, Ont., March 21.—Hon. R. Dandurand, government leader in the Senate, arrived in Ottawa yesterday in time to take his seat when the Senators reassembled after a three days adjournment. Senator Dandurand, who returned from Geneva where he acted as Canada's representative on the council of the League of Nations, declined to make any statement until he had the opportunity to look over his records of the Geneva meeting. He said that he would possibly be able to make some statement today.

At the meeting Senator Dandurand introduced a proposal to safeguard the rights of minorities. His proposal precipitated considerable discussion at the meeting.

COSSIP IN THE WORLD OF FINANCE

Furnished by Johnston & Ward

Wall Street Mirror's Report NEW YORK, March 21.—Wall Street Mirror of today says: All sorts of money rumors are in the air again. These are likely to put a damper on market operations today. The loan figures due after close today will show another big increase. We are in the midst of as fine a trading market as Wall St. has ever seen. Continue to treat it as a trading market.

A new group has taken a big position in Houston Oil and fire-works can be looked for in this stock almost any time. The activity in the oil group as a whole has worked right into the hands of the Houston clique.

The oils will continue to act better. The ease with which they forged ahead on Wednesday showed that they are in strong hands. Directors of Barnsdall Corporation will order the payment of an extra cash dividend at the meeting to be held in April.

The increased activity in Baldwin Locomotive is based on contemplated changes in the capital structure.

Those in a position to know what is going on in Baldwin look for a price of around $400 a share within a very short space of time.

Publication 1928 earnings statement of Yellow Truck will be the signal for another advance in the stock. It will be a piece of bad news out of the way.

Warner Bros. Picture moved ahead sharply as it was pointed out here that it would further be seen today. Once through 125, W.B.P. will advance sharply. Earnings are showing steady expansion.

TRADING FORECAST

Early irregularity is expected to be followed by strong rallying tendencies before today's close, particularly in the copper, motor and steel groups.

BROKERS' OPINIONS

J. S. Bache and Co.—Until the market shows its ability to break through the triple top it established in the last few months, it will not signify a resumption of the major bull movement. We would limit commitments to the members of the metal group and to specialties showing an unmistakable earnings trend.

Hornblower & Weeks—We would continue to buy Anaconda as the leading copper stock. Kennecott is the second producer and enjoys merger possibilities with American Smelters. We would also buy Magna, Calumet and Arizona, Granby and Nevada. Important accumulation continues in Youngstown Sheet and Tube.

MARKET SUMMARY

Bank of England 5 1-2 per cent discount rate unchanged.

Dome Mines declared regular quarterly dividend of 25 cents.

Indiana Pipe Line declared $1 extra dividend and regular quarterly of $1.

Federal Reserve Banks of St. Louis and Philadelphia made no change in their discount rates.

Export copper advanced 1 1-8 per cent to 23 5-8 following one cent advance in price of domestic to 23c.

Safeway Stores reports 1928 earnings of $3.12 a share on average number of common shares outstanding during year, against $5.35 a share on 5 for 1 split-up basis in 1927.

Rossia Insurance stockholders to vote April 28th on directors' proposal to declare 20 per cent stock dividend, to reduce par value to $10 from $25, splitting stock.

FINANCIAL SERVICE STATEMENT

MONTREAL, March 21.—Financial Service of today says:

There are four main reasons why the local market is showing very little life.

First: The recent formation of a considerable number of investment trusts in Canada has taken away a large amount of ready cash from the market.

Second: Many people have turned their interest from the main portion of the stock market to the oil stocks, and the boom in the latter issues has been the outstanding factor in maintaining this interest to the detriment of the regular market.

Third: Many brokers have increased their marginal requirements with the result that buying power has been restricted.

Fourth: The offering of rights by a large number of companies during the past few months, in face of weak money conditions, has been a detriment to a forward movement in stock prices generally.

All in all, it would appear as if the wisest policy to follow with regards to market commitments is to choose the stocks of outstanding merit and buy these if they react on a scale down with the intention of holding on for several months, as it does not seem probable that the bull market in local stocks will be resumed until some change takes place in the credit situation.

Turner Valley oil fields issues have come into the limelight with a rush and set such a dizzy pace that the general list of industrial and mines have taken a place very much in the background. That Turner Valley field has possibilities of being an important factor in Canada's economic life is an accepted fact. There is always the tendency present, however, when the public imagination is seized, to whirl prices above all intrinsic value and discount the future for years to come. Imperial Oil, through its holdings in Turner Valley, stands to gain richly in the prevailing up of

ARRESTED SON AFTER DEATH OF HIS FATHER

Explanation Given by Young Count in Explaining Circumstances Surrounding Finding of His Father's Body Became Confusing, and Police Arrested Him.

JANNOWITZ, Silesia, March 21.—Count Christian Friedrich Stolberg Wernigerode, twenty-seven year old scion of a wealthy family with ramifications with many European courts, was arrested yesterday on suspicion of murdering his father, Count Eberhard.

The body of the older man was found late Monday night seated on a sofa with part of his head blown away by a bullet fired apparently from behind with a rifle taken from a nearby gun rack. The son had been alone with his father after the ladies of the house retired. He told police that he had been knocked unconscious in the corridor by unknown persons, of whom the police were unable to find any trace. His evidence became so conflicting that he was arrested, although no motive has been discovered.

The victim was fifty-six years of age and the father of nine children of whom the youngest is only eight.
