

NEAR EAST CONFERENCE OPENS TOMORROW Turkish Proposals Likely To Be Supported By France

Peril Of War Between The Turks And Great Britain Is Less Menacing Today

Conceded that Tact and Tolerance of General Harington, Coupled with the Timely Arrival of Reinforcements from England, Prevented the Turks from Striking at Chanak—An Armistice Conference Has Been Called for Tuesday at Mudania, Where Military Representatives of Great Britain, France and Italy Will Meet Those of the Turkish Nationalists and Discuss the Evacuation of the Neutral Zones on the Asiatic Side of the Dardanelles, the Withdrawal of the Greeks from Thrace and Possible Occupation of Thrace by the Allies.

(Associated Press Despatch)

CONSTANTINOPLE, October 2.—With an armistice conference definitely fixed for tomorrow at Mudania, the peril of war between Great Britain and Turkey appeared less menacing today. Great Britain's recession from the neutral zone controversy caused no little surprise and disappointment here, but it was generally admitted that this step was the only thing which could have stayed Mustapha Kemal Pasha's hand. It is pointed to as another evidence of Britain's extraordinary patience and earnest desire to avoid war.

Up to the time of issuance of Brigadier-General Harington's temporizing note, Saturday night, the situation looked exceedingly critical. It is now conceded that his tact and tolerance, coupled with the timely arrival of reinforcements from England, prevented the Turks from striking at Chanak.

The situation Saturday afternoon was so strained that a break seemed inevitable. The British had orders to defend Chanak at all costs, as the Turks were slowly enveloping the Dardanelles citadel. Saturday morning the Turkish forces were increased by fifteen hundred cavalrymen, and everything indicated the beginning of a hostile movement.

New difficulties await the British at the Armistice Conference. It is known that the Kemalists will insist upon the British withdrawal from the Asiatic shores of the Dardanelles, and the immediate evacuation of Thrace by the Greeks.

They will probably also demand the right to cross the straits to pursue the Greeks, as well as guarantees against the use of Turkish waters by Greek warships and transports. The presence of Greek warcraft at Rodosto furnished the Kemalists with a pretext for accusing the British of ignoring their pledges regarding the non-use of neutral waters by the Greeks.

It is expected the conference may drag for several days, as the Kemalists doubtless will bargain and haggle over every point. It is felt that the moderating influence of the Italian generals will be an important factor in bringing the meeting to a successful conclusion.

The British declare they will insist upon occupying the Asiatic banks of the Straits even at the peril of failure of the conference. They may also contest the immediate withdrawal of the Greeks from Thrace, making this conditional upon acceptance of the Allied peace proposals. The inviolability of the Straits will be stoutly defended.

AGREEMENT TO SUSPEND ALL MOVEMENTS BY TROOPS
(Associated Press Despatch)

CONSTANTINOPLE, October 2.—An immediate mutual agreement to suspend all movements of troops was expected here today to be the first outcome of the Mudania Armistice Conference, which is to meet tomorrow.

DENIAL HAS BEEN ISSUED BY BRITISH OFFICIALS
(Associated Press Despatch)

CONSTANTINOPLE, October 2.—British general headquarters here today issued a denial of a report originating in England that General Harington would demand the evacuation of the shores of the Dardanelles by the Turkish troops within twenty-four hours. That question, it was stated, would be discussed at Mudania.

The Allied generals will leave for Mudania tonight. They are General Harington, for Great Britain; General Sharpie, for France, and General Membelli, for Italy.

ALLIED POLICY WILL BE DECIDED UPON AT A MEETING OF THE ALLIED OFFICIALS AT CONSTANTINOPLE TODAY

(Associated Press Despatch)

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 2.—The Allied policy at the Mudania conference, it was learned this forenoon, will be decided upon at a meeting in Constantinople this afternoon of the Allied generals, admirals, high commissioners and military attaches in extraordinary council.

The conference will discuss the occupation of Eastern Thrace by detachments of inter-Allied troops.

A FEELING OF RELIEF EVIDENT IN BRITISH OFFICIAL CIRCLES AS CONSEQUENCE OF FAVORABLE DEVELOPMENTS

(Associated Press Despatch)

LONDON, Oct. 2.—A feeling of relief was evident in all British official circles as a result of the favorable week-end developments in the Near East crisis, and the authorities are hopeful that the conference between the Kemalists and the Allies will have good results.

A similar feeling of relief is noticed in official despatches from Constantinople, owing to the less menacing attitude of the Turks about the neutral zone. In addition, substantial British reinforcements have arrived in the Straits of Dardanelles and the British army position is much stronger in consequence.

No results are expected from the Mudania Conference before the middle of the week. Meanwhile, the government is marking time. Premier Lloyd George is still in the country and no cabinet meeting was scheduled for today.

MOSCOW, Oct. 2.—The Soviet Russian Government has sent a note to Great Britain, France and Italy protesting against the blockade of the Dardanelles, and insisting upon the removal of all restrictions to the free passage of trading ships through the straits.

THREE STORES WERE BURNED AT ASBESTOS

Seventeen Thousand Dollar Fire Broke Out This Morning.

(Special to The Record.)
ASBESTOS, Oct. 2.—A serious fire broke out at half past four o'clock this morning in the new part of the store occupied by O. Bergeron, of Asbestos, and spreading rapidly, the flames soon reduced the entire building to a smoldering mass of ruins. The neighboring stores, occupied by H. Veillard and by U. J. Bruneau and Mrs. Lenard, also caught fire, both buildings being burned to the ground.

When the flames were first noticed in Bergeron's store they had already gained considerable headway. A call for assistance was sent out, and aid was immediately rushed to the scene from Danville and from the nearby mines. However, the combined efforts of the fire-fighters, aided by all the townspeople, proved of no avail, and the three buildings were totally destroyed.

Mr. Bergeron, who is a dealer in furniture and farm implements, states that the loss to his building amounts to about ten thousand dollars. Mr. Veillard, who runs an ice cream parlor and barber shop, states that his loss will be about three thousand five hundred dollars, while the loss to the third building, occupied by U. J. Bruneau and Mrs. Lessard, milliners, is also estimated at three thousand five hundred dollars. All three buildings were fully insured. The origin of the fire is at present unknown.

CLASH BETWEEN GREEKS AND TURKS CONTINUES

(Associated Press Despatch)

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 2.—Frontier clashes continue between Turkish irregulars and Greeks. In one of these, near Stranja, ten Greeks and twenty Turks were killed.

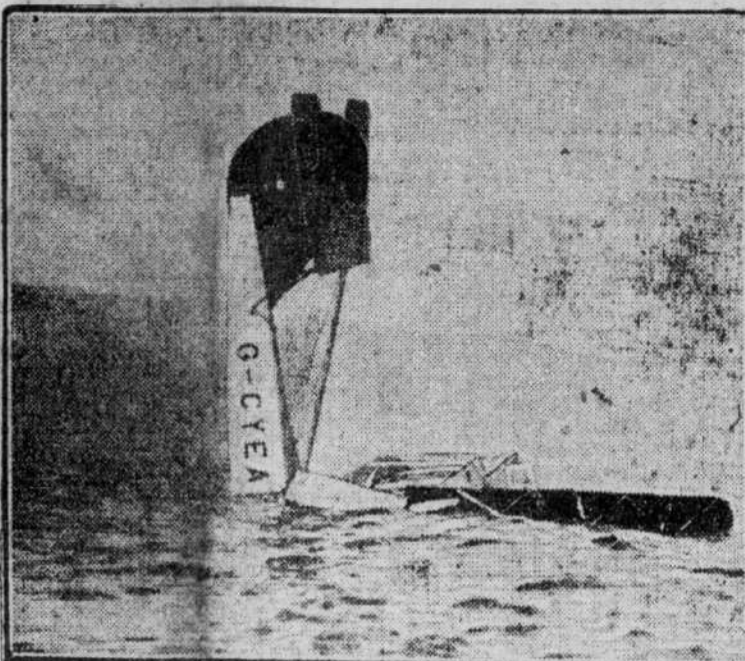

The Greek commander has informed the Allies that the Greeks will not be responsible for the neutrality of the zone which was recently delimited to defend the Tchatalja line.

The Greek army in Thrace for the moment is absorbed in the excitement of revolution, and its reorganization is proceeding. It is not certain, however, as to what extent the recent political upheaval will suffice to restore the morale of the troops.

France To Support Turkish Proposal For Evacuation Of Neutral Zones In Return For Retirement From Thrace By Greeks

French Hopes for Peaceful Settlement of the Near Eastern Crisis Are Centred upon Mudania Conference—Danger to Success of Conference Is Seen in Firm Decision of the British Not to Retire from Chanak, and Should Turks Make This Retirement One of Their Conditions, It Is Foreseen that an Agreement Might Be Impossible.

(Associated Press Despatch)

PARIS, Oct. 2.—French hopes for the peaceful settlement of the Near Eastern crisis are centered upon the Mudania conference. While the government believes the worst is over, there is no desire to be too optimistic pending determination of the two main issues by the generals in consultation namely, the evacuation of Eastern Thrace by the Greeks and the neutral zones by the Turkish forces.

The French representative at Mudania is expected to support the Turkish proposal for the evacuation of the neutral zones in return for the immediate evacuation of the Eastern Thrace by the Greeks. The fear is expressed, however, that Great Britain will not consent to such a plan, especially at a conference at which there is no provision for Greek representation.

The danger to the success of the conference is seen in the firm decision of the British not to retire from Chanak, and should the Turks make this retirement one of their conditions, it is foreseen that an agreement might be impossible. Approval of the Turkish proposal, it is pointed out, would be a substantial concession to the Kemalists, as the Allied powers in their note made the neutrality of the zones of the straits one of their chief conditions and only promised to "use their influence" to effect Greek withdrawal from Eastern Thrace.

The French view is that the present situation will force a more liberal interpretation of the Allied terms in the interest of peace, but there is no indication that Great Britain will take a similar view.

In well informed, though not official quarters, the most that is said for the decision to meet at Mudania, is that it brought about a forty-eight hour breathing space at a moment when hostilities between the British and the Turks seemed inevitable, and that it now remains for the Mudania conference to promote the further removal of the conditions which were leading to a clash.

In official circles, however, the expressions were much more optimistic, while the belief was indicated that the danger of war had virtually disappeared.

LLOYD GEORGE IS TRYING TO AVERT A WAR

Wife of Premier Expresses Hope that Government Will Be Able to Prevent an Outbreak.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—That Mrs. Lloyd George, the wife of the British Premier, does not share the views recently loudly expressed regarding her husband's desire for war, is apparent from the speech she made Saturday at the opening of a bazaar in Birmingham.

Mrs. Lloyd George deplored the anxiety of some people to fight again and expressed the fervent hope that the government would be able to stop them. She said the Premier was doing his best to that end and had in fact decided to devote the rest of his life to securing of peace among nations.

Report on Distribution of School Grants Adopted—Grants About Doubled This Year—Change Forecasted in French Examinations—Need of Hostels for Out-of-Town Pupils—Teachers' Convention Holidays—School for Teachers—Other Matters.

(Special to The Record)

QUEBEC, Oct. 2.—The Protestant and Committee of the Council of Public Instruction held a meeting in the Legislative Council Public Bills Committee chamber Friday, presided over by the president, Rev. E. J. Rexford, and the members of the committee present were the Lord Bishop of Quebec, Rev. Dr. A. T. Love, Dr. W. Rowat, Hon. Walter Mitchell, Hon. George Bryson, M.L.C., Messrs. Kirk Cameron, V. E. Morrill, Allan Walsh, Geo. Walker, Prof. E. W. Kneeland and Mr. W. S. Bullock, M.L.A., and Dr. George W. Parmalee, secretary.

After routine the secretary read letters of apology from General Sir Arthur Currie, Mr. Marler, Dr. Shurtleff, Dr. Nicholson and Hon. Mr. Nicol for their unavoidable absence from the meeting.

The secretary announced the appointment by Order-in-Council on September 22nd of Hon. Jacob Nicol, B.A., K.C., M.L.A., to succeed the Rev. Canon H. H. Bedford-Jones, resigned.

Reports were read and adopted of sub-committees on the distribution of superior school grants, course of study and school for teachers.

Dr. Parmalee, Secretary of the Committee, presented and read his reports on the summer school for specialists in French, and the summer school for specialists in drawing and art work in schools held at the Macdonald College, with the financial co-operation of the Department.

Dean Laird's motion that the usual grant of $500 for the kindergarten assistants' course in Montreal be repeated was favorably considered.

The secretary asked that steps be taken by the committee to readjust the marks given for the various examinations in French, in order that at least 50 per cent. of the marks be given as a result of oral tests.

There were many failures this year in the Government examinations in French. The marks were based entirely upon written examinations, while the teaching of the direct method, or of oral French, is favored. It was felt, therefore, that written examinations could not be regarded as a fair test. Hence an effort is being made to evolve a system of tests by which at least half the marks will be given on oral examinations.

FIND TEACHERS' CONVENTION HOLIDAYS A BURDEN

A request was received from the Montreal School Commissioners requesting that regulations be amended so that the schools of Montreal will not be required to close during the two days of the teachers' convention. It was pointed out that this deprived 30,000 pupils of two days' schooling and released nine hundred teachers, many of whom did not attend the convention. This, with many other holidays, broke seriously into the school year and also involved much expense. Action in this matter was deferred pending investigation. It was suggested that if the convention dates could be changed to the Easter holidays the difficulty would be overcome.

NEED OF HOSTELS FOR OUT-OF-TOWN PUPILS.

Discussion took place as to the need of hostels in centres where there are intermediate schools or academies for the accommodation of pupils coming in from outside districts. It was pointed out that frequently more than half the pupils in higher grades are from points outside the town or village where the school is located. Dr. Love stated that such a hostel was in operation in Quebec and that one was planned for New Carlisle. The need was as great in many other centres.

SCHOOL FOR TEACHERS.

Dean Laird reported an excellent enrollment at the School for Teachers, being 172 in the intermediate class and 30 in the elementary class, or slightly more than last year. Eighty-eight of these are from the island of Montreal and the balance from outside points.

It developed that there is some discussion in certain quarters relative to the desirability of removing the School for Teachers from Macdonald back to the city of Montreal, hoping thereby to increase the number of students. The committee has expressed no opinion in the matter, but it is likely a memorandum relative to the matter will come before it at some subsequent meeting.

A MOTION FOR INFORMATION.

Mr. Bullock moved and his motion was approved that the committee appoint a sub-committee to study and investigate the number of non-Catholics and non-Protestants in the Province of Quebec and report the result of the investigation to a future meeting of the committee.

ELECTION OF ASSOCIATE MEMBERS.

A motion was adopted in effect that when vacancies occur among associate members of the committee, nominations shall be made at the meeting preceding the meeting at which election will take place. There is at present one vacancy, namely, that occasioned by the retirement of Mr. Marcus Crombie, of Richmond. Nomination will be made at the next meeting and election at the meeting following.

MONEY DISTRIBUTED.

The distribution of the extra $40,000 grant placed at the disposal of the committee was apportioned, which brought forth the final report of the superior education fund amounting to $62,772.14, which includes: Voted by the Legislature (ordinary), $16,952.40; special, $30,000; interest on Joint Estate settlement fund, $2,518.44; interest on marriage license fund, $1,400; marriage license fee (net), $12,601.30; fixed charge university school leaving examinations, $500; assistant examiners, $1,600; printing examination papers, etc., $9,000; total, $83,000; available for distribution, $59,772.14.

The number of High Schools (academies) pupils total 10,016; enrolled grades, 1,313; promoted, 981; passed, 733; failed, 248; grants, total $21,000; bonuses, total $11,700; total, $32,700.

Intermediate schools (model): Total number of pupils enrolled, 4,247; enrolled grades, 272; promoted, 300; passed, 201; failed, 99; grants, $11,700; bonuses, $7,625; total, $19,325; special intermediate schools: grants, $3,550; reserved for poor municipalities from marriage license fees, $3,000; high schools, $33,000, including bonuses and grants to special high schools.

Intermediate schools (model): Grants, bonuses and grants to special intermediate schools, $22,875, making a total amount distributed, $59,175.

The school grants have been nearly doubled by new additional $40,000 in the aggregate, and the committee have reason to hope for a grant which will enable increasing the grants to the elementary schools.

The next meeting will be held in Montreal the last Friday in November.

Operators And Coal Miners' Officials Are Today Arranging For A Future Wage Scale

In Addition to Opening Negotiations for a Wage Scale to Supplement that Which Expires on March 31, 1924, the Conference Is Expected to Take up the Question of Collective Bargaining.

LEVELAND, Oct. 2.—Bituminous operators and officials of the United Mine Workers of America gathered here for a joint conference this afternoon to arrange for future wage scales in accordance with an agreement signed here August 15th, which ultimately brought an end to the soft coal strike. Approximately one hundred operators from the bituminous fields are represented.

The miners' representation includes their policy committee, numbering 128.

In addition to opening negotiations for a wage scale, to supplement that which expires on March 31st, 1924, the conference is expected to take up the question of collective bargaining.

The Cleveland agreement provides for the appointment of two committees at today's conference, one to investigate the industry and the other to formulate a method to be followed in negotiating new wage contracts at another meeting next January.

The miners, it is understood, will insist upon the selection of a joint committee which will be empowered from the drafting and full discussion

Mrs. F. X. Vachon, of Lake Megantic, who has returned from touring Europe, gives the following notes of her trip. Mrs. Vachon crossed in May, on the Empress of France from Quebec, with a smooth and pleasant passage, seeing both here and on the return trip huge ice bergs, like great cathedrals, though only a fraction of their bulk is above water. Landing at Cherbourg, Mrs. Vachon went to Paris for some shopping, then to see the beautiful Vosges region. The forests there are kept like parks, with automobile roads all through them. She then crossed to Switzerland to see the beautiful mountains and old castles there, and from thence to Germany. One could hardly see the end of a dollar in Germany, everything was so cheap. Not so in Switzerland. Mrs. Vachon did not stay long in Germany, but came back through Alsace and the devastated part of the country, visiting Nancy which is fast being rebuilt, and Chateau Thierry. Leon is not rebuilt at all. Mrs. Vachon particularly noticed that the roads are all lined with trees, and in very many cases these are fruit trees, plum, apple, etc., all at the disposal of the passing public. Holy trees in the spring were filled with white blossoms, while still retaining their red winter berries. She arranged for a basket of this holy to be sent to Megantic this Christmas. Back in Paris Mrs. Vachon visited the Arche de Triomphe, where the body of the unknown soldier is laid. His tomb is always covered with flowers. The galleries, museums, etc were of course, visited. On July 4th the National holiday, the military parade lasted from eleven till four. A lady of her acquaintance had three windows overlooking the parade route, one she gave to crippled soldiers, one to poor soldiers that they might have a good view, the third was empty, save for flowers, reserved for her soldier friends who would never be present in the body. Mrs. Vachon came back on the Empress of Scotland, arriving at Quebec on September 15th, after a calm passage. She states that travelling in Europe is not as difficult as one would think, as she travelled alone at all times, without trouble, and always met with the greatest courtesy. She, of course, speaks French and English, but not German. She says, if rich, her favorite philanthropy would be to take a shipload of school children to Europe each summer, as it would be of the greatest educational value to them.

W.RIGLEYS AFTER EVERY MEAL. Select your food wisely, chew it well, and—use WRIGLEY'S after every meal. Your stomach will thank you. It is both a benefit and a treat—good, and good for you. And, best of all, the cost is small.

A New Charm Came to millions in this way. Millions of people have gained new charm through whiter, prettier teeth. You see them everywhere. The reason lies in a new cleaning method. Careful people of some fifty nations are using it today.

Test this method if you do not know it. People all about you have proved its importance. See what it means to you. Combats the film. One purpose is to combat film on teeth—that viscous film you feel. It clings to teeth, causes crevices and stays. It shows stains, making the teeth look dingy. Then it ferms cloudy coats. Tartar is based on film. Film also holds food substances which ferment and cause acids. It holds the acids in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. No ordinary tooth-paste effectively combats film. So, under old methods, these troubles constantly increased, and beautiful teeth were seen less often than today. Two ways found. To meet this situation, dental science searched for ways to fight film, and two ways were found. One acts to combat film, one to remove it, and without any harmful scouring. Able authorities proved these methods effective. Then a new-type tooth paste was created, based on modern research. The name is Pepsodent. These two great film combatants are embodied in it. Then dentists the world over began to advise its use. Other factors. But Pepsodent brings other effects which old ways did not bring. It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is there to neutralize mouth acids, the cause of tooth decay.

Now advised by dentists the world over. All druggists supply the large tubes. ONLY ONE TUBE TO A FAMILY.

Purity does it. Take half a cake of Sunlight, pare it into hot water in your washer and stir into a rich suds. Put in the clothes and operate the washer. Later, rise them thoroughly, and your clothes will be beautifully clean and snowy white. The rich coconut and palm oils blend is the secret of the Sunlight cleansing power. Buy Sunlight—its purity saves your clothes.

Young People's Corner

UNCLE JIM'S LETTER

Dear Corner Boys and Girls:—

Br-r-r! But hasn't it been cold since our last corner meeting! We would have needed the "Keeper-of-the-fireplace" on duty, if our meeting time had fallen on one of those cold days. But today has been a lovely autumn day, and I know we have all forgotten the cold winds, or think of them as just a little joke on the part of King Boreas. Jack Frost has been busy, too, has he not? And how lovely he has painted some of the maples and birches, and many of the vines and leaves.

I know the nieces and nephews are too busy to write, just now, when there is so much extra work going on, but I hope that when the long evenings come, and the gloomy November days, that we shall have a big mail bag for the corner reading table. We must hunt up some good riddles somewhere, too. I asked a friend or two for some nice, jolly riddles for the corner folk, but as I was given to me, I was obliged to say: "I am sorry, but the corner people have had that one, you know we are quite up-to-date."

I am very sorry, Cecil, that your letters did not appear. I do not remember of throwing your letter in the waste-paper basket. Sometimes letters go astray, and perhaps yours did. We will hope for better luck in future. I am sorry, too, that not one of my nieces or nephews have written to tell me about their exhibits at the School Fairs. I know the corner folk were well represented, for I saw quite a few familiar names in the prize lists. It is fine work for the boys and girls, and means good farmers for the next generation; so keep it up children, and work hard for the prizes.

The name on one of the pledges sent in this week was not written very plainly, so if it is wrong, Jeanette, please let me know, also ask at the post office for the letter having the pins addressed to you. I might add, here, children, please do your best—your very best—to write plainly. People often wonder why their names are spelled wrongly in print, and never stop to think that they are not written well enough for those who have to print them, to make them out. I want the corner boys and girls to become the best letter writers in the country, then we will feel that our corner correspondence has been worth while. Besides all the pleasure that we have had in our friendly visits around the corner fireplace will become pleasant memories when the corner boys and girls have become men and women.

Next week we hope to welcome some cousins from across the border and from western Canada. Tell us all the news, please, and what you are planning for sports this winter. Yours faithfully,
UNCLE JIM.

The Lords Of The Grey And White Castle

In walked a great, brown bear. "Good evening, lady," said the bear.

"Good evening, bear," said Lady Greensleeves. What is the news in your neighborhood?

"Not much," said the bear, "only the fawns are growing very cunning; one cannot catch above three in a day."

"That's bad news," said Lady Greensleeves; then in flew a black raven.

"Good evening, lady," said the raven.

"Good evening, raven," said Lady Greensleeves. What is the news in your neighborhood?"

"Not much," said the raven, "only in a hundred years or so we shall be very secluded, the trees will be so thick."

"How is that?" asked Lady Greensleeves.

"Oh," said the raven, "have you not heard how the king of the forest fairies laid a spell on two noble lords who were travelling through his dominions to see an old woman that weaves her own hair? They had thinned his oaks every year cutting wood for the poor; so that the king met them in the likeness of a hunter, and asked them to drink out of his golden goblet, because the day was warm; and when the two lords drank

they forgot their lands and their children, and thought of nothing but the planting of acorns which they now do, day and night in the heart of the forest. They will never cease till some one makes them pause in their work before the sun sets.

In the morning the children went to Lady Greensleeves and said, "We have heard what the raven told you last night, and we know the two lords are our fathers; tell us how the spell may be broken?" "I fear the king of the forest fairies," said Lady Greensleeves; "but I will tell you what you may do. At the end of the path which leads from this dell turn your faces towards the north, and you will find a narrow way sprinkled with black feathers. Keep that path and it will lead you to the raven's neighborhood, where you will find your fathers planting acorns under the forest trees. Watch till the sun is near setting, and tell them the most wonderful things you know to make them forget their work; but be sure that you tell them nothing but the truth, and drink nothing but running water, or you will certainly fall into the power of the king."

The children thanked her for this good counsel; and they soon found the narrow way sprinkled with the black feathers. On the evening of the seventh day they came into the raven's neighborhood, and in a great opening where the oaks grew thickest, the children saw their own fathers busy planting acorns. The children called them by their names and ran to kiss them, each saying, "Dear father, come back to your castle and your people."

But the lords replied, "We know of no castle and no people. There is nothing in this world but oak-trees and acorns."

Lovleaves and Woodwender sat down, and ate some food in great sorrow. When they had finished they went to a stream near by and began to drink the clear water; and as they drank there came through the wood a gay hunter, and in his hand he carried a huge golden goblet.

It was filled with milk up to the brim. As the hunter came near he said, "Fair children, leave that muddy water and come and drink with me." But Woodwender and Lovleaves answered, "Thanks, good hunter, but we have promised to drink nothing but running water."

The hunter came nearer with his golden goblet, "That water is foul; it may do for woodcutters, but not for such fair children as you. Were

He stood aside then—he did not even look at her, and Jean wrenched open the door and fled with burning cheeks and eyes full of tears down the long passage and out into the street. It was over and done with. Under cover of her muff she felt her hand furtively; she would never wear his ring again, she was free of him forever. She walked all the way back home, she wanted to compose herself before she saw Lillian again; she wondered if Lillian would ever marry Gavin—somehow she believed that she would. Jummy would hate it! She caught her breath on a little hysterical laugh as she thought of Gavin as Jummy's setp-father, Gavin who hated children.

How strangely everything had ended after all; and yet—it had not ended yet! She had to see Robin—to tell him that she was free.

Jean found Lillian alone; she looked at the girl's white face rather anxiously.

"Well, Country Mouse—and how is Gavin?"

Jean sat down beside her. "I—I'm not engaged to him any more," she said with a rush. There was a little silence, then Lillian groped for Jean's hand, and held it.

"It's—Robin, of course?" she asked.

"Yes..." Presently.

"Robin has only just gone," Lillian said; her voice sounded perplexed.

"The last thing he said was that he meant to sail on the fourteenth."

Jean felt as if a cold breath had touched her heart.

Lillian smiled, looking down at her. "But I suppose there is still time to get a trousseau—if one wanted it very urgently—" she said.

CHAPTER XXXV Miss Lydia leaned forward and poked the dying fire into a blaze. Outside Laurel Cottage the rain beat against the windows, and a chill wind swept the deserted streets of Osterway.

It was the "evening out" of the little maid-of-all-work, and for once in her life Miss Lydia felt lonely. Perhaps it was the wind and rain, or perhaps it was some sharp realization that in all probability the rest of her life was to be spent in loneliness like this, that made little Miss Lydia shiver as she bent closer over the fire.

She had not heard from Jean for some time—she never paid her promised visit.

And after all, she was to marry Gavin Dawson... the great dream of Miss Lydia's life was never to come true—for Robin O'Neil was going back to India on the fourteenth.

He had written to tell her himself—written too, to say that he would try and pay her a flying visit before he left.

"...Of course you have heard that my guardianship is at an end," so he had written, "Jean is to be married..."

Outside in the rough night, the wind blew the little iron gate to and fro; Miss Lydia could hear it creaking dully.

She must remember to oil it in the morning—she must remember... the creaking suddenly stopped—there was a hurrying step on the gravel path—a sharp ring at the bell.

Miss Lydia rose to her feet, her heart began to beat unevenly; visitors never came so late as this—the clock on the shelf pointed to eight.

The ring came again—instantly. Miss Lydia stooped for the poker—she held it tightly in her trembling hand and went into the hall;

In walked a great, brown bear. "Good evening, lady," said the bear.

"Good evening, bear," said Lady Greensleeves. What is the news in your neighborhood?

"Not much," said the bear, "only the fawns are growing very cunning; one cannot catch above three in a day."

"That's bad news," said Lady Greensleeves; then in flew a black raven.

"Good evening, lady," said the raven.

"Good evening, raven," said Lady Greensleeves. What is the news in your neighborhood?"

"Not much," said the raven, "only in a hundred years or so we shall be very secluded, the trees will be so thick."

"How is that?" asked Lady Greensleeves.

"Oh," said the raven, "have you not heard how the king of the forest fairies laid a spell on two noble lords who were travelling through his dominions to see an old woman that weaves her own hair? They had thinned his oaks every year cutting wood for the poor; so that the king met them in the likeness of a hunter, and asked them to drink out of his golden goblet, because the day was warm; and when the two lords drank

they forgot their lands and their children, and thought of nothing but the planting of acorns which they now do, day and night in the heart of the forest. They will never cease till some one makes them pause in their work before the sun sets.

In the morning the children went to Lady Greensleeves and said, "We have heard what the raven told you last night, and we know the two lords are our fathers; tell us how the spell may be broken?" "I fear the king of the forest fairies," said Lady Greensleeves; "but I will tell you what you may do. At the end of the path which leads from this dell turn your faces towards the north, and you will find a narrow way sprinkled with black feathers. Keep that path and it will lead you to the raven's neighborhood, where you will find your fathers planting acorns under the forest trees. Watch till the sun is near setting, and tell them the most wonderful things you know to make them forget their work; but be sure that you tell them nothing but the truth, and drink nothing but running water, or you will certainly fall into the power of the king."

The children thanked her for this good counsel; and they soon found the narrow way sprinkled with the black feathers. On the evening of the seventh day they came into the raven's neighborhood, and in a great opening where the oaks grew thickest, the children saw their own fathers busy planting acorns. The children called them by their names and ran to kiss them, each saying, "Dear father, come back to your castle and your people."

But the lords replied, "We know of no castle and no people. There is nothing in this world but oak-trees and acorns."

Lovleaves and Woodwender sat down, and ate some food in great sorrow. When they had finished they went to a stream near by and began to drink the clear water; and as they drank there came through the wood a gay hunter, and in his hand he carried a huge golden goblet.

It was filled with milk up to the brim. As the hunter came near he said, "Fair children, leave that muddy water and come and drink with me." But Woodwender and Lovleaves answered, "Thanks, good hunter, but we have promised to drink nothing but running water."

The hunter came nearer with his golden goblet, "That water is foul; it may do for woodcutters, but not for such fair children as you. Were

A BRAVE LITTLE CAT.

From the London Daily Chronicle we copy the following:

"Parisians are clamoring that a medal for bravery shall be given to a black cat which yesterday, with its feet bound in cotton wool, limped across the street to visit the ruins of its former home.

"When the great fire broke out at the Magasins du Printemps, the cat was, with her three kittens, in the basement of the building. Scouting the danger, it carried the three kittens one by one out of the fire zone to a grocer's shop about a hundred yards away.

"How the brave little mother accomplished the rescue through blinding smoke must remain forever a mystery.

"Her kittens safe, the cat sank to the ground with her paws badly burned and her skin a mass of blisters. The shop girls attended to the kittens and the devoted mother."

Correspondence

Dear Uncle Jim— This is my first letter to you. I am nine year old, and I'm sending you the member's pledge. I am taking good care of all the little birds, and I promise to be merciful to all birds. I will close now. Your loving nephew,

BASIL DOAK, Cowansville.

Dear Uncle Jim— This is my third letter to you. I haven't seen my letter in print only once. I hope you will not forget this time, for I always read the letters and would like to see mine, too. I have not started school yet but hope to before long. I am staying at Mrs. Clark's for a while, and I have great times; I drive the horse and milk the cows. After I get back home I will have to go to school again. Well, I must close, wishing the corner success. Good-bye, from

LOOK AT THE MOON. (Eliza Lee Follen.)

Oh, look at the moon, She is shining up there; Oh, mother, she looks Like a lamp in the air.

Last week she was smaller, And shape like a bow; But now she's grown bigger And round like an O.

Pretty moon, pretty moon, How you shine on the door; And make it all bright, On my nursery floor.

You shine on my playthings, And show me their place, And I like to look up At your bright, pretty face.

And there is a star Close by you, and maybe That small, twinkling star Is your little baby.

HOCKEY LEAGUE AT GRANBY HELD BUSY MEETING

Reports of Meetings, News Notes and Personals from Granby and District.

GRANBY, Oct. 2.—The Hockey League held a business meeting in the Granby Club rooms on Wednesday evening last to consider the prospects of hockey for the coming winter. The Canadian Consolidated Rubber Co.'s team, the Miner Rubber Co.'s team and the Empire Tobacco's team were all well represented. As the League is in debt to the amount of one hundred dollars, it was decided to hold a whistle drive in the City Hall on Wednesday evening, October 11, for the benefit of the League. Plans are also being made in the interests of a skating rink for Granby. It is a great pity that a city the size of Granby should have no real skating rink, and it is hoped that those interested in Canadian winter sports will find some means of providing an up-to-date skating rink for the young people. There will be a dance in the Miner Club rooms on Friday evening, October 6, for the benefit of the Greyhound Hockey Team. Music will be furnished by the Shadowtime Serenaders' Orchestra.

CLIMBING OVER IT. Industrial Disputes.

Mr. F. B. Patterson, president of the National Cash Register Company, in an interview to-day, announced the purchase from Gilboa Bros. of the fine four-story building located at Bloor and Dufferin streets, by his company. "The new home of the National Cash Register Company of Canada, Limited," said Mr. Patterson, "is in keeping with N.C.R. standard in all parts of the world. The building was constructed in 1916—it is modern in every respect, of concrete, fireproof construction, faced with brick. The height between floor and ceiling on each floor is 14 feet clear, with large windows on all four sides, affording maximum of light and best of ventilation, assuring our factory people of working conditions that will assist them in turning out the best possible product. We have purchased sufficient property to permit of increasing the plant, so as to provide for three times the present floor space." Asked about Canadian business conditions, Mr. Patterson said, "I believe Canada is entering a period of sound prosperity, as is evidenced by the very considerable investment involved in the purchase of the new plant. "Prior to the war period our sales force in Canada for a number of years led all of the divisions in the United States. Since 1914, although our business has more than doubled in both the United States and Canada, our sales force in the United States accounted for, proportionately, a better business than was secured by the Canadian division. "However, with the splendid crops and the return to Canada of prosperity on all four sides, we expect a big increase in our business, and know of no good reason why our Canadian organization should not soon again lead the entire American selling forces. "Possession of the new plant places us in a better position than ever before to serve our users in the real N. C. R. way."

Mystic, under the leadership of Mrs. E. F. Currie, led the singing, which was most hearty and inspiring. The rector spoke of the obligations of the brethren to improve the morals and correct the manners of men in society, showing that it was by no means an easy task, and that it could only be done by the regularity of their own behaviour affording the best example for the conduct of others. The great problem that lies before all who are interested in the welfare of mankind is how to make indifferent people different. Indifference implies a wrong estimate of success; it means a false standard of value. "St. John the Divine said that he would rather have people bad than indifferent." "I would that thou wert cold or hot, so because thou art lukewarm and neither hot nor cold, I will spew thee out of my mouth," and most people who have had a religious, social and municipal enterprise have found that the most formidable instruction in the way of any amendment is not hostility or vice, nor the undisguised evil, but indifference and carelessness. The Kingdom of God is kept back and is always kept back by the so-called respectable people who live in comfortable houses and have no dread of the police, but who are simply indifferent to the best interests of the community. "Can we, if we could, measure the indifference of any community in which we live? Indeed we can. We who are Masons have been charged 'to improve the morals of men and to inculcate universal benevolence.' And taking this obligation of ours as a test and measure, we can try the indifference of ourselves and that of the community. In the community there are forces at work for righteousness and for the development of character—the churches, the schools and the lodges. Let us simply add up the number of the people of this municipality and then add up the number of those who are striving with their might and main, by the example of their own behaviour, and by their self-sacrifice, to further the interests of the various forces which are working for the glory of God and the good of mankind. Deducing the one from the other we have roughly the measure of the indifference of the community, and the result of our little sum will give us a band of people whose nature sent them towards indifference. They would, if will, dim in sight. Sometimes they cannot see at all. "At the close of the war six premiers of the British dominions, under the leadership of Lloyd George, issued a declaration to the British Empire setting for the foundation upon which those prime ministers believe the ordered development of all national life must be based: 'the spirit of good will among men rests upon spiritual forces and the hope of humanity reposes on the deeper spiritual fact of the fatherhood of God.' "We cannot be indifferent to this proclamation. The solemn charge is laid upon us. We must remember that man stands under two fundamental relationships, namely, his relationship to God and his relationship to men, and that his relationship of brotherhood to men is grounded on the more fundamental relationship to God as his Father," said the speaker.

NEW YORK TEAMS PREPARING FOR WORLD'S SERIES

Yankees Won Out in American League by the Margin of a Single Game.

(Associated Press Despatch) NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—The pennant winning New York Giants and Yankees marshalled their boards of strategy today for the opening Wednesday at the Polo Grounds for their second straight contest for the world's championship.

The series this year will be for the best four out of seven, instead of five out of nine, as a year ago. Saturday's victory for the Yankees over the Red Sox, clinching the pennant, provided to be the margin by which the Hugmen held the top when the season closed yesterday.

With the National League pennant decided in favor of the Giants, the first of last week, chief interest in the National League concluding drive was the battle for second place.

Cleveland also upset the standing in the American League on the final day, crowding Chicago out of fourth place by defeating Detroit by 6 to 5, while the White Sox lost to the Browns. The Tigers held third place by but a single game.

The Giants regulars, playing behind a recruit twirler, Johnson, were blanked in the first game of a double header by Tim McNamara, college rookie, of the Boston Braves.

McNamara's substitute aggregation blanked the visitors in the second contest, with Nehf, McQuillan and Scott on the mound.

The scores of both games were 3 to 0. McNamara's victory was his second shut-out in a week, Brooklyn falling a victim to his curves a few days ago.

Behan, of the Phillies, blanked the Dodgers by 6 to 0, in the remaining contest of the season's finale.

HORNSBY TAKES BATTING CROWN FROM BABE RUTH

St. Louis Cardinals' Second Baseman Had Total of Forty-Two Home Runs.

(Associated Press Despatch) ST. LOUIS, Oct. 2.—"Pep" Hornsby, star second baseman for the St. Louis Cardinals with forty-two home runs to his credit this season, has succeeded "Babe" Ruth, of the New York Yankees, as "the home run king."

Kenny Williams, of the St. Louis Browns, ran second with thirty-nine, leading the American League. Tilly Walker, of the Philadelphia Athletics, was second in the American League with thirty-seven, while "Babe" Ruth, with a forty-day handicap, ranked fourth with thirty-five.

Hornsby's total was seventeen short of the record breaking collection of fifty-nine four base hits batted out by Ruth in 1921.

This is the third time Hornsby has been crowned king of batters and the second for Sleser. Hornsby captured the honors in 1920 and 1921. Sleser's last appearance on the throne was in 1920, when he finished with a mark of 407.

The honors of batting above the 400 mark have been held by only three players in the American League, "Ty" Cobb, Sleser and Napoleon Lajoie. Cobb's average this year undoubtedly will be the best he has attained since he hit 410, ten years ago.

Heilman, of the Tigers, who last season nosed out Cobb for the batting honors, is in fourth place today with an average of 357, compared with 394 last season. Speaker, who led in 1918, when he finished with 386, is in third place with an average of 378.

In addition to being the champion batter, Sleser also is king of base stealers, with forty-nine thefts, and his closest rival is Kenneth Williams, a team mate, with thirty-four. Williams has clouted out thirty-nine four baggers, with Walker, of the Athletics, the runner-up with thirty-six. Ruth, who last season bagged fifty-nine, is in third place with thirty-five.

Other leading batters for 100 or more games: Speaker, Cleveland, 378. Heilman, Detroit, 357. Williams, St. Louis, 332. Miller, Philadelphia, 331. Tobin, St. Louis, 328. Schang, New York, 327. Veach, Detroit, 326. Phipp, New York, 326. Bassler, Detroit, 326.

Hornsby, with forty-two home runs is the leading home run hitter of the Major Leagues. Hornsby, in addition to his new laurels, is in line to accomplish something, finish the season with a mark of 400 or better.

Other leading batters, for 100 or more games: Miller, Chicago, 351. Tierny, Pittsburgh, 351. Hollocher, Chicago, 342. Daubert, Cincinnati, 340. Walker, Philadelphia, 340. Harper, Cincinnati, 340. Carey, Pittsburgh, 331. Frisch, New York, 331. Meusel, New York, 330. Kelley, New York, 330.

LOCALS TAKE THE PROVINCIAL CHAMPIONSHIP

Largest Crowd of Season Watched Sherbrooke Win Double Header from Three Rivers.

The Sherbrooke baseball nine clinched the Provincial honors yesterday afternoon when they delighted some two thousand three hundred frenzied baseball fans by taking both games of a double-header with the Three Rivers aggregation.

Weather conditions were ideal and a huge crowd, including hundreds from outside points, made an early entrance to the grounds. The exhibition of baseball was excellent, and it was strongly accentuated by the earnestness of the local players to bring the championship honors to this city.

In the second game, the locals had been having slightly the better of the argument, but with the arrival of the second half of the eighth inning the local run lies at one all. Thousands of fans let loose their pent up enthusiasm when Landry's double to left brought in Wilde, and this was continued when White slammed a circuit clout out to centre field bringing in Savage and Landry.

With both teams holding one victory to their credit, the rival nines faced each other in the crucial series yesterday afternoon and it required both ends of the double-header for any team to win the series.

The visitors placed Landry back in the box, while Buckland was on the mound for the locals. Three Rivers were out in short order in the first inning, while Sherbrooke tallied their initial run in the second, was sacrificed along by Savage and came home on White's single. Three Rivers equalled the score in the second. Bernard singled, was sacrificed along by Kimball, and scored on Sauvage's single. Lafontaine stepped out of his box to hit and was called out and Sauvage was caught napping off first.

The locals again took the lead in their half of the second. With two down, Giboin registered the first home run of the day. Buckland and Wilde singled, but Sauvage's long drive was held at right field. Buckland got himself out of a bad hole in the third. Wingo singled and Landry grounded to Buckland, who made a bad throw to second to catch Wingo. Both players advanced on a passed ball.

Sauvage tipped a foul ball to Landry and Ferrand was walked, filling the bases. Bernard fled to A. Jenkins and the side was retired. The Three Rivers nine did not threaten seriously again until the seventh, while the locals scored in the fourth and fifth.

It was in the fourth that the visitors pulled off a triple play. R. Jenkins singled and went to third when Giboin bunted. Giboin stole second and Buckland was walked, filling the bases with none down. Wilde fled to Riley at first, forcing Buckland, and as Riley pegged to second, Giboin raced for third while R. Jenkins made home. Giboin was out at third.

In the fifth, Landry singled, Kennison was given four successive balls, and the bases were filled when an error at second allowed A. Jenkins to make first. With the bases full, R. Jenkins singled scoring Landry. Giboin had a nice opportunity to clean the bases but fanned.

In the seventh, Lafontaine and Wingo were safe on A. Jenkins' errors. They were hard chances and it looked as though they should have been left for White in the right field. Lafontaine was forced at third, while Savoy hit into a double play, Savage to A. Jenkins to R. Jenkins.

In the second half of the seventh, A. Jenkins singled, stole second made third on a high throw and came home on Ralph's three bagger. The visitors got their second run in the eighth when Riley singled to centre field and went to third when Giboin muffed the grounder. He scored when Bernard grounded to Buckland. Buckland was given a hearty round of applause at the conclusion of the game.

INTEREST MAINTAINED THROUGHOUT

Second Game After a very short delay, the second game started with Kimball in the box for the "Trois" and Tippetts twirling for the locals. Tippetts pitched splendid ball and his low fast bender was a puzzle to the visiting sluggers, who were only able to register three scattered hits. Nine of the first twelve men at bat were put out by Ralph Jenkins at first, while Tippetts fanned nine others.

The locals opened the scoring in the fourth inning. Sauvage singled, but was thrown out trying to make second. Landry singled and went to second when his namesake in the left field fumbled. He reached third on a passed ball, and came home on Kennison's single to left field. The locals retained their lead until the seventh, and while the "Trois" had only secured one hit off Tippetts, Sherbrooke touched up Kimball for five.

In the seventh, Bernard was safe at first on A. Jenkins' error. Giboin fielded the ball and as he threw to R. Jenkins at first, Bernard made for second and was safe on R. Jenkins' wild throw. Lafontaine came across with a timely single scoring Bernard, but the runner was out trying to make third. Sauvage was walked and stole second, but Kimball and Savoy fanned. The locals came near equalizing in the second half, but Kennison and Giboin were left on third and first respectively.

In the eighth, with the score tied, Sherbrooke fell on Kimball's offerings unmercifully, and when the battle was over six hits and five runs had been registered. Wilde singled and went to second on Sauvage's bunt. Landry's single to left

CHAMPIONSHIP FINAL IS PLAYED AT LOCAL LINKS

Alex Fraser Beat Out Gordon Miller After Six Extra Holes.

The club championship honors of the St. Francis Golf Club changed hands on Saturday, when Alex Fraser wrested the title from Gordon Miller after an interesting contest that required six extra holes before the issue was settled by one up. Beebe players had scored twice and the final match, and while the scores were not brilliant, some excellent shots were played.

Fraser started out strong, winning three of the first four holes. Miller finally pulled up even with his opponent at the eighth green by winning the sixth, seventh and eighth holes, all in three. Fraser then won the ninth and was one up at the turn. The match continued fairly even until the fifteenth, where Miller drove out of bounds, which placed Fraser two up and three to go. The sixteenth hole was won by Miller and the seventeenth halved. A four on the eighteenth enabled Miller to even up the match, and three extra holes were decided on.

The first was won by Miller, the second by Fraser, and the third was halved, which left the two contestants still on even terms. Three more holes were played, Fraser winning the fourth and Miller the fifth. However, on the sixth hole Fraser placed his approach "dead," while Miller's second was strong. Fraser ran down his putt for a three, and Miller's long putt rimmed the cup, giving Fraser the match. The scores were:

BEEBE WON FROM GARRISON TEAM IN SEMI-FINALS

Won Replayed Game 3 to 0—Meet Sherbrooke Next Week.

Beebe clearly demonstrated their superiority over Garrison on Saturday in the replayed semi-final of the Sherbrooke Hospital Charity cup, when they defeated the local team by a score of three to nothing. Within the very first five minutes the Beebe players had scored twice and at no period of the game were they in any serious danger of losing their lead.

The players were kept pretty well in hand by Mr. Davidson, referee, and any attempts at rough play were usually nipped in the bud. These two teams had met last week in the semi-final but with Beebe leading 1-0 in the last few minutes of the game, the Garrison players left the field and subsequently protested the game on the grounds that the referee was impartial. The protest was upheld by the executive committee and the game was ordered replayed at Beebe.

As a result of their clear out victory on Saturday, the Beebe eleven will meet Sherbrooke F. C. in the final on Saturday next at the local parade grounds. These two teams met in the finals last year, the game being unfortunately spoiled by wet weather. On that occasion, Beebe were unquestionably the superior team and won the cup.

The Sherbrooke team has shown considerable improvement of late and they are confident of putting up a good game against the Beebe eleven, who are league champions for the second year in succession. The winners of the Sherbrooke Hospital Charity Cup are the recipients of individual medals.
