WESTMOUNT, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, 1945

PRICE:— THREE CENTS

STRESSES IMMUNIZATION WEEK

Westmount Health Officer Supports Preventive Move

Dr. J. J. Day, M.D., Chief of the local Health Department pointing out the timeliness of the National Immunization Week movement, stressed the pertinent fact, that the movements of large numbers of people from country to country are conducive to epidemics and a definite rise in communicable diseases. Germany he said had no immunization policy against diphtheria, and those returning from that part of the Continent, can easily become "carriers" of the dread disease.

National Immunization Week, sponsored by the Health League of Canada in co-operation with health departments, will be held this year from Sept. 30 to Oct. 6.

The object of the week's observance is to draw attention to the fact that every Canadian child should be and can be protected against smallpox, diphtheria, whooping cough and scarlet fever.

Immunization through vaccination has practically wiped out smallpox in Canada so there appears to be no reason why the same result cannot be accomplished with diphtheria and whooping cough, two other diseases which take annual toll of Canadian children.

In 1943 there were 2,804 cases of diphtheria and 287 deaths, while whooping cough figures for the same year were 19,082 cases and 416 deaths.

In 1944 there were 3,211 cases of diphtheria and 13,382 cases of whooping cough. Dominion Bureau of Statistics 1944 fatality figures show 311 deaths attributed to diphtheria and 333 to whooping cough. Thus it can readily be seen that this common disease of childhood is a killer.

UPHOLDS TRADITIONS
Regimental Sergeant-Major Gordon Hadrian Quinn, R.M.R.

Quinn Family Follows Fighting Father's Footsteps

By R. R. DICK

When war broke out in 1939, Gordon Hadrian Quinn was sixteen years of age and worked for the Canadian National Railways. One never to be forgotten day the next year, he presented himself at the Westmount Armoury and enlisted in the local regiment. His first day in the Army as a private soldier was February 28, 1940; it was also his birthday, and although big for his age, he was exactly seven-teen years old.

The young ranker trained with his regiment at Westmount and Three Rivers and sailed with the 2nd Division for the United Kingdom in July, 1940.

During the unit's long service in England, France, Holland, Belgium and Germany, promotions came to him in steady fashion, and when the regiment returned home last week, the officer who barked the first words of command to the troops as they stood at ease on Westmount Station Square, was 22-year-old Regimental Sergeant Major Gordon H. Quinn.

The R.S.M. is one of three brothers who served with the R. M.R. and were together for a short time overseas. Henry Alastair Quinn, the oldest brother, joined up at the outbreak of war, and Claude Howard Quinn, who is 13 years old now, joined the Tank Corps at Kingston in 1942; transferred to the R.M.R. and went overseas in 1943.

The Padre of the R.M.R. overseas, however, was also the minister of the church to which the Quinn family belonged, and on meeting the three warriors one day he promptly had Claude shipped back home as under age. On arriving in Canada, the outraged Claude immediately joined the Merchant Navy and is still in that Service.

Regimental sergeant majors are only human and "Gordie" Quinn felt rather relieved when Claude was sent home, but soon after he received a message, and drove 150 miles in a jeep to the port of Antwerp, to see Claude Ivan Quinn, aged 16 years, who had arrived at that port on board a merchant ship.

There is a sister in the family, Audrey Constance Lillian Quinn, who enrolled in the C.W.A.C. but took her discharge when she could not get overseas and married an R.C.N. gunner.

School Board "Vet" Explains Veteran Set-Up

Westmount High School is not turning away veterans from High School Classes, as is rumoured, said Mr. Savage, Principal of the Junior High School, when interviewed by the Examiner.

"Educational facilities for veterans wishing to prepare for College entrance are being provided at the present time by Sir George Williams College. The work is sponsored and paid for by the Dominion Government. Courses of varying lengths and starting at different times are provided in an attempt to meet the individual problems of the veteran. Generally speaking local schools are not just now introducing veterans into their regular classes because they feel that instruction there would not be as beneficial to the veteran as the work in the special classes organized by Sir George Williams College. The veteran needs a semi-tutorial stream-lined type of instruction so that he may make up his back work and get ahead with as little delay as possible. Such attention and the necessary variations in length and content of courses are impossible if the veteran is placed in the ordinary High School class.

If the demands on Sir George Williams College prove greater than they can meet, then the local schools will have to step in and supplement the College's efforts. To meet the emergency, should it arise, we are at the present time exploring the possibility of utilizing the services of some of our teachers who will presently return from the armed forces."

"There certainly is no discrimination against veterans who wish to continue their education in a serious manner and there never will be from the School Commissioners, five of whom are veterans themselves," said Principal Savage.

FALL PROGRAMME

Monday, October 1st, will see the beginning of regular programmes for the fall and winter terms. The schedule has been changed somewhat this year to accommodate more activities around the building. Every member will be receiving the schedule shortly, but in the meantime look at our "ad" in this issue for your own classes.

MOVIES

Despite the attraction of the return of our men, the parade and all the celebration, there were many who turned out for the show last Saturday. They saw the parade from the windows.

This week we expect to see a bumper crowd. We have a great picture — "One Million Years B.C." Come out and see the monsters of the past fight it out on the screen, and thrill to the story of an ancient peoples. Show room opens 1.20 p.m. and the show begins promptly at 1.30 p.m.

FRIDAY NIGHT DANCES

The first "Friday Night Dance" will be underway tonight. Nearly everyone will be back for the new season.

In connection with the Friday Night Groups of all the "Y's" in Montreal, there will be a conference held at Camp Perrot, October 8th. This conference is designed to straighten out some of the kinks and as a source for sharing and giving of good ideas on club work. Some of our club will be there to represent our Club.

HI-Y

The Boys' Hi-Y Clubs of Montreal will be holding a conference this week-end at Camp Perrot. This three-day affair is an important part of the Hi-Y programme for the coming year. The executive of the Westmount Boys' Hi-Y will be there in full force.

The Girls' Hi-Y Club gathered for its opening supper for the year, and held a very good meeting. Some 70 girls and their advisers, Miss Dyke and Miss Durden, were present.

Thursday night was the time of the second meeting of the Junior Leaders' Corps. After a work out on the gym and swim, the boys held a short business meeting.

Geo. Barker has been taken on the Westmount Staff and is expected to arrive early in October. He has been in Y.M.C.A. War Service for the past three years and at present is at H.M.C.S. Shelburne, in Nova Scotia.

Mr. Barker will be in charge of the physical work at the Branch and will also head up mixed social activities.

Miss Nita Black will conduct the Business Girls' Classes, which will get underway on October 1st. Classes this year will be held on Monday and Thursday nights from 8.00-9.00 o'clock.

Gymnasium classes for Young Men will open again this year. These classes have been suspended for the past three years, but with the young men returning again the classes will be held on Tuesday and Friday evenings from 7.00-8.00 o'clock. These classes will be under the direction of Mr. Barker.

Two new features in the fall and winter programmes will be the Saturday Nite Club, which will hold dances every Saturday Night, commencing October 13th; the "Westmount 4" featuring Normie Hampton, piano — Bain Macaskill, clarinet-saxophone — Gordon Pfeiffer, base and vocal — and Johnny Pepper, drums, will provide the music. These dances will be open to all members of the Senior Section of the "Y".

On Saturday afternoon from 3.30-4.30, there will be a family Swimming period for Mother and Father, Daughter and Son. Boys and girls will only be admitted if accompanied by at least one of their Parents. It is a swimming period and spectators will not be admitted.

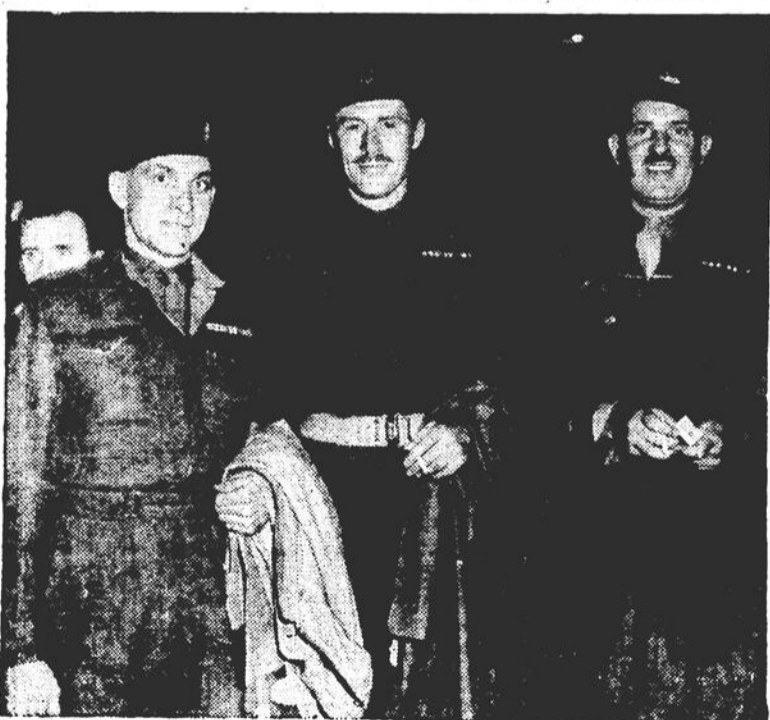

Mr. D. O. Bremner and Mr. J. G. Atkinson have been appointed as Westmount Y.M.C.A. representatives to the Canadian Y.M.C.A. National Council for the 1945-46 season. The Annual Meeting of the National Council will be held at Niagara Falls, Oct. 19-20-21.

Household Goods Sent To Britain

More than 268 cases of essential kitchen equipment have been shipped by the Queen's Canadian Fund to the United Kingdom for free distribution by the Women's Voluntary Services to families of war victims endeavouring to set up homes again.

This represents a value of over $15,000. In all, 430 cases have been packed weighing over 100,000 lbs. Total orders placed by the Fund are in excess of $60,000.

The first large shipment received in Britain was of twenty-five cases of kitchen equipment, which crossed the Atlantic last month, and has been acknowledged by the W.V.S. with "extreme joy and delight."

C.C.F. Club Holds Annual Meeting At Hall

The Annual Meeting of the Westmount C.C.F. Club was held on Monday night, September 24th, in Victoria Hall.

Dr. J. C. Flanagan, C.C.F. candidate in the recent Federal election, was in the chair. Reports were received from the Finance, Membership, Literature and Education Committees, and good progress was shown in all aspects of the Club's activities during the past year.

A vigorous campaign of public education in the principles of the C.C.F. movement is planned and an active season is anticipated by all members of the Club. Amongst other projects approved were a public meeting on the subject "The Meaning of the British Elections to Canada", and a study group was formed to which all interested in learning about the C.C.F. are invited. It is also planned to hold a series of public lectures on the following subjects: "The C.C.F. and your Home", "The C.C.F. and your Child", "The C.C.F. and your Job", "The C.C.F. and your Money" and "The C.C.F. and your Country".

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Dr. J. C. Flanagan; 1st Vice-President, Mrs. E. T. Bourke; 2nd Vice-President, Mr. L. A. Theoret; Joint Secretaries, Miss M. Rundle and Miss Helen Peart; Joint Treasurers, Mrs. W. A. Green and Mr. D. M. Kinnear.

All interested in the Club's activities are asked to get in touch with any of the above members.

Significant Short Story

This story concerns a farm family which lived in a somewhat isolated district. There were five happy children and the parents worked hard to provide for their little ones. In all, it was a happy family group.

Suddenly, two of the children developed sore throats. The mother, not knowing they had something other than common colds with sore glands, treated them as most mothers would do in an out-of-the-way place where doctors are seldom seen, except in cases of severe illness.

All the mother's ministrations did not prove effective, however, and the two—a boy of 10 and a girl of 12—grew steadily worse and the other three became ill also.

Finally, a doctor was called. The first two were dead by the time he arrived. He found diphtheria was the cause and that the other three also had the disease. In less than a week they were dead, too.

Toxoid would have prevented diphtheria from having hit that happy family—the way it can prevent a similar tragedy from striking at any number of Canadian homes where the children have not been immunized against the disease.

The object of this story is to draw attention to National Immunization Week, sponsored by the Health League of Canada in co-operation with health departments, which is being observed Sept. 30 to Oct. 6.

The Health League seeks to prevent illness through prevention and toxoid will prevent diphtheria. Also, there are immunizing agents for the prevention of other communicable diseases such as whooping cough and scarlet fever. Also, vaccination must be kept up if smallpox is to remain where it is—eliminated.

WESTMOUNT HIGHLIGHTS

While meandering in front of Westmount High School not so many moons ago, we noticed a medium sized poster tacked to a large tree. As our eyes roamed over the neat printing job we noted the name of Gordon Fyfer near the bottom of the document.

Beginning to read from the top, which is always a good idea, we learned that the Skyliners Orchestra will be staging their first dance of the 1945 season at Victoria Hall on Friday, October 12 and that the aforesaid Gordon Fyfer was the featured attraction. In small type at the bottom all persons desiring further information were asked to communicate with Jerry Miller.

Now the name Gordon Fyfer struck a chord or sump'n in our memory. Was this the Gordon Fyfer who plays the bass fiddle and is the brother of ski enthusiast Doug who was in WHS's grade 12 last year? Definitely an interesting thought.

So we climbed into the nearest phone booth, dialled and asked to speak to the above-mentioned Jerry Miller. Gerald was called to the phone and we identified our humble self and made an appointment with Mr. Miller who is the general manager of these Skyliners.

Over a cup of coffee Jerry informed us that the Gordon we knew is the Gordon Fyfer who plays the bass fiddle and sings for the Skyliners.

"Then why," we asked Jerry, "is the surname spelt incorrectly?" "Because Gordie asked to have his name spelt that way on all the publicity. He's had his name mis-spelled so many times that he has decided to adopt this phonetic spelling as his stage name."

That was what we wanted to find out but the garrulous Jerry, who is the Liners' piano player and whose teacher is the gent who bangs the ivories for the orchestra that performs daily at the Mount Royal Hotel, went on to tell us more about his group of music makers.

According to Monsieur Miller they (the whole 12 of them) are good. (Some time we'd like to meet a manager of a band who will walk up and say, "My band smells.") They're pretty well the same group of characters who played at Westmount Tigh's Christmas party last year. This season they would like to strut their stuff at a few school dances. James Parsons, the burly chairman of the Westmount Boys' Hi-Y Club's 1945-46 dance committee and Wolfgang Peter Siemers, the president of the same organization, both plan to be on hand at Vic Hall on Friday, October 12 for a look-see.

And we'll bet that quite a few other curious Westmounters will also be there.

LETTER FORM WAM

William Atwood Macdonald, the dynamic little fellow who did a tremendous amount of work for the local boys' Hi-Y Club last year, returned to this garden suburb Sunday night but before he returned he sent us a very entertaining letter from Ridgeway, Ont., where he spent the latter part of his vacation. In part it is reproduced below.

Quote:
To show you what a fine boy I am, I went out to the pavilion last night and, despite the fact that there were two gorgeous femmes looking for a nice boy like me, I modestly avoided the sirens. One was tall, your size the other shorter, my size.

That is something of a record. From March 16 to September 1 I have not danced with a girl.

That guy Lew Davies sounds like a swell coach. He'll help the WHS basketball teams a 100 per cent.

Mackenzie King sent me an autographed photo of himself for my study which I wrote and asked for. Also a short note.

On my way down here (Ridgeway town) on the train from Toronto my great charm fascinated two lovely girls who asked me to go with them for about half the journey. Needless to say I didn't refuse.

Mother sent me your latest column. Pretty poor! And I'm expecting you not to give me an adverse publicity while I'm away and unable to retaliate.

End of quote.

WHS NOTES

Westmount High's Friday night parties are scheduled to recommence in the school's gymnasium tonight. Large Thomas Earle, the radio man, will be in charge and his chief assistants are Arthur Voronka and Harry Garber. Arthur has written a sentimental ballad entitled "Week-end Love" which he hopes to air for the first time tonight. . . The Boys' Hi-Y Club were slated to hear a lecture on the atomic bomb last night at their second meeting and the general organization began their season Wednesday evening at the Y where their new Y.W.C.A. adviser, Miss Durden, addressed old and prospective members on the platform and principles of Hi-Y. . . WHS'ers will be enjoying their Teacher Convention holidays at this time next week.

ITEMS

John Joseph Junior Pepper, WHS'er last year, began his studies at Loyola this week. Junior will be spending most of his time on Latin this year. Patricia G. McGoun, Redfern Avenue's brown-eyed lass, is attending Trahaigah School this year, according to June Boy Pip, pip, old girl. . . John Holmes had another sell-out at Vic Hall last Saturday night. . . Next Friday night the Holmes men will be performing at the McGoun Freshmen Dance which will be held in Sir Arthur Currie Memorial gymnasium. And on November 2, 16 and 30, the Victoria Hall music makers will be playing at McGill union dances. Joe Eveleigh and Jim Henders have been elected president and secretary of the Westmount High boys' athletic association. . . Peter Taylor Jessop will be attending first year McGill college Monday.

WARNING

In the past, diphtheria has killed thousands of our children. Nowadays, only a few hundred die every year because the majority of children have been protected against the disease by immunization. The deaths which occur are among those who have not been immunized. If any of your children have not been immunized, see your family doctor at once or contact the Health Department.

Impressive Welcome For R.M.R.

Thousands Turn Out In Perfect Weather To See Veterans' Parade

Welcome Home R.M.R. was the first message conveyed to the returning veterans of the local regiment when they detrained at Westmount Station, on their return home, after an absence of nearly six years in foreign lands.

The two words, welcome home, stood out in large block letters a foot high, on a banner strung between two steel poles on the north side of St. Catherine street, facing the station, the more intimate R.M.R. touch was provided by the banner itself, which provided a background of regimental colour, against which the large white letters stood out in vivid fashion.

STATION SCENE

To the tune of "Soldiers of the Queen" played by the regimental band under Drum Major H. Bale, the train bearing the returning troops pulled into the station, where they were welcomed by service leaders and civic authorities; and as the veterans formed ranks in the station square under R.S.M. Gordon Quinn, they faced the regimental banner, and saw its special greeting.

The station square and immediate vicinity presented a gay, animated scene in the bright sunny weather which prevailed. A huge blue banner, draped on the west end of Pom Hall, repeated the welcome motif in giant letters; countless Union Jacks and flags of every hue and colour waved in the breeze, while close at hand the bright red berets of the R.M.R. Legionnaires and the flashing bayonets of the Guard of Honour added a gay spot of colour to the scene.

The smartness and military bearing of the veterans on the station square as they responded to their regimental sergeant major's commands was greeted with prolonged applause by the onlookers who viewed the scene from various vantage points in windows, and on balconies and staircases of adjacent houses, and surging thousands who filled the sidewalks.

Men of the Canadian Provost Corps who were on duty in the immediate proximity of the station area had a busy time in handling the teeming throngs which threatened every moment to leave the sidewalks and swarm over the streets. Their efforts in this respect were the source of much amusement to the assembled personnel.

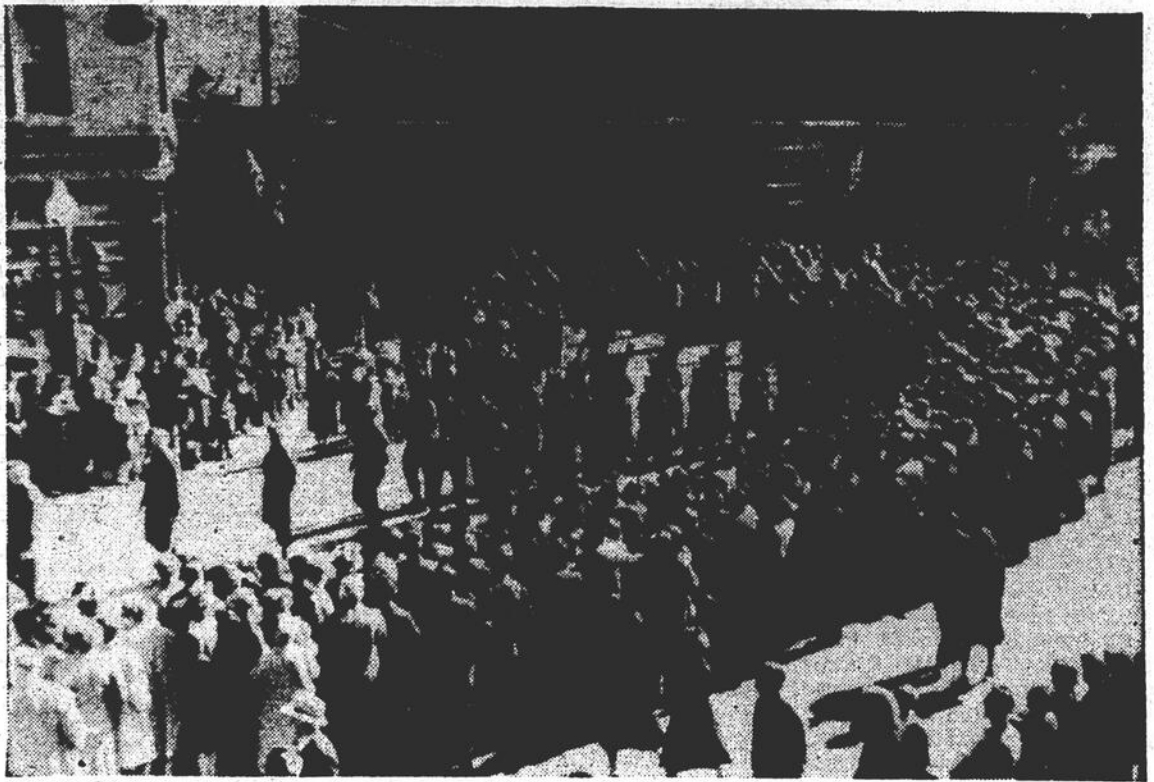

The brass section of the regimental band which had played a stirring welcome to the veterans as the train pulled in, left the station and took their place behind the bugle and drum section on St. Catherine, from which the traffic had been blocked off, and at a sharp command burst into stirring music, then, preceded by army dispatch riders, swung out at the head of the parade.

PARADE

Senior officers General B. C. Price, Brigadier G. V. Whitehead and Col. J. M. Slessor led the parade, followed by Major Willis and the returned veterans, and Col. A. H. Lowe, V.D., leading the 1st Battalion veterans.

Lt.-Col. H. G. Brewer, M.C., followed at the head of the Guard of Honour, preceding the 2nd Battalion, which was out in full strength, while Legionnaires from the R.M.R. and Westmount branches brought up the rear. The Legionnaires presented an impressive show, with their bright crimson headgear, multi-coloured service ribbons and medals which glistened in the sun.

Returning veterans of the R.M.R. were fully conversant with the details of the welcome awaiting them at Westmount.

Three hundred copies of the souvenir issue of the "Examiner" were expressed to Quebec by the Examiner Publishing Co. and each soldier received a copy.

Proof of the soldiers' appreciation of this kindly gesture was shown at the station as the troops detrained; between the straps of their knapsacks, was tucked each man's copy of the "Examiner".

Maritimes Garden Of Eden Says Richardson

Westmount Rotarians were fully convinced that the keystone of Confederation and the future of the Dominion in all spheres of national progress depended on the Maritime Provinces when Claude Richardson, M.A., LL.B., K.C., had finished speaking to them on that subject at their weekly dinner in Victoria Hall.

Mr. Richardson, who was born in the Maritimes, and is withal an accomplished orator, offered convincing proofs of the contributions made by "Downeasters" to the national life of not only Canada but the United States and the United Kingdom.

Any lingering doubts which the listeners may have entertained, were quickly dispelled by Rotarian Murray (another Maritimer) who thanked the speaker for his splendid speech.

In typical Maritime fashion, the speaker who had previously stated that he was no politician ended his illuminating address on a political note by stating that "the sacrifices made by the Maritime provinces since they entered Confederation in 1867 far outweigh the benefits they have received."

Bicycle Club Week-End Trip

The municipal bicycle club is still engaged in all day trips on the week-ends. Last week they went down past Bout de l'île while this Sunday another tour will be made. As usual they meet at Victoria Hall on Sunday morning at 9.30, any newcomers will be made welcome. The trip is an all day affair with the cyclists returning home about dark.

In an effort to keep together during the winter months the members are planning a series of weekly events. Last night they went roller skating and this week they intend to go bowling.

Information on the club's activities may be obtained by phoning Mrs. Edwards at FI. 6583.

H. G. Birks Sets Generous Example As Welfare Federation Drive Opens

"This dinner does not cost Welfare Federation one cent, one groat, one farthing, or whatever the coin of lowest denomination may be; and I want that clearly understood by all," said Henry G. Birks, in his opening speech at the recent pre-campaign dinner, held in the Mount Royal Hotel.

At the head table besides Mr. Birks, who presided and defrayed the cost of the dinner, were Hon. Mrs. A. K. Hugessen, Mrs. Q. C. D. Bovey, Mrs. C. Eldon Black, Mrs. R. P. Gilbride, Mrs. F. McGill, W. M. Birks, Victor M. Drury, John B. Frosst, Claude S. Richardson, James Muir, S. G. Dobson, Rev. Canon Gilbert Oliver, Arthur B. Wood, Jackson Dodds, G. Blair Gordon, Norman J. Dawes, L. P. Webster, J. Shakespeare, W. K. Newcomb, Campbell Smart, Dr. George F. Davidson, Fred Johnson, John S. Proctor, B. L. Batten, C. C. Cook, Charles H. Young and C. C. Robertson.

In introducing the head table guests, "who" Mr. Birks said "to use a well known Shakespearian phrase; are all on the band wagon with us," the speaker presented his father W. M. Birks, National Chairman, of the Canadian United Allied Relief, the organization behind the National Clothing Collection, as "the man who collects old clothes".

Two amusing incidents occurred during the introduction of head table guests, who stood as their names were called. The campaign Chairman, overlooked his Vice-Chairman, Mr. Claude Richardson, well known lawyer, who remained seated, until the Hon. Mrs. A. K. Hugessen prompted the speaker, who then corrected his omission. And a press photographer, who hurriedly mounted a chair to take a flash picture of the standing guests, discovered too late that he had forgotten to put a flash bulb in his camera.

SPEAKERS

Mr. John B. Frosst, Chairman of the Welfare Federation Board of Directors, analysed the three principal reasons behind this year's drive for $1,021,000, and stated that every cent was needed to enable the organization to cope with the problems arising from the higher cost of living, demobilization of the armed services, and the period of reconversion in industry.

The main speaker of the evening, Dr. George F. Davidson, deputy minister of national health and welfare, in addressing the assembled workers told them that they "are part of a great National Crusade" and referring to their activities in the Federation Campaign stated that in their voluntary philanthropic work they were "carrying convictions through to a logical conclusion".

Speaking of Governmental undertakings in the field of Social Security, such as the Family Allowances Act, Dr. Davidson said that such programs were not intended to replace the work of private philanthropy, but rather to supplement such endeavors, by providing additional benefits.

In his speech to the gathering, Claude S. Richardson said that the past six years had shown the world what voluntary workers could perform, and pointed out that while the total objective was increased, the time was limited to eight days, which called for greater effort on the part of all voluntary workers.

KEYNOTE

Chairman Birks commented on the efficient and economical administration of the Federation in his final remarks and stressed the fact, that total campaign and administrative costs for a year amounted to 5.6 of the total expenditure. A closing dinner will mark the end of the drive he said "and that will cost everyone who attends the sum of $1.00". The speaker closed the dinner by reminding those present "that success is 99% perspiration and 1% inspiration.

Shriner's Potentate Visits Hospital

The Montreal Unit of the Shriners' Hospitals for Crippled Children had a distinguished visitor this week, in the person of William H. Woodfield, Jr., of San Francisco, Calif., Imperial Potentate of the Ancient Arabic Order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine.

Mr. Woodfield is the supreme officer of some 350,000 Shriners in Canada and the United States, whose work for crippled children is carried on through sixteen hospitals, which cost $31,000,000 and have an annual maintenance bill of $1,000,000.

Mr. Woodfield accompanied by his wife, included Montreal in a tour of temples and hospitals as part of his official duties and local Shriners and their wives are planning suitable social entertainments.

At the Shriners' Hospital he was met and escorted by the chief surgeon, Dr. W. G. Turner, the superintendent, Miss M. E. Boys' Brigade First Parade

Boys of the 1st Company will settle down to business this evening in their usual quarters, ready to start one of the most active sessions since the war. An inspection will be taken of uniform, although official points are not counted until the first Friday of October, however a prize will be awarded the two best uniforms on parade this week.

Plans for a very active sports programme are being lined up by Lieut. J. W. Jeffrey and already one basketball practice has been held. It is thought, that two teams can be formed, one Junior and the other Senior, giving more boys an opportunity of playing.

Bandmaster Charles King will be back again commencing in October to wave the baton for the brass band as well as the Bugle and Drum corps. He is looking forward to a very active session and the Company is doing everything possible toward assisting him in his efforts during the winter months. New instruments will not be necessary this session as there are still quite a number of vacancies in the brass section.

Recruiting is now going ahead at top speed and a large number of recruits are anticipated this Friday. Boys interested are asked to meet the Captain at 7.15 in the High School. An N.C.O.'s course will commence almost immediately when all those who have not as yet passed their Proficiency certificate will be enabled to do so.

POTENTATE VISITS SHRINERS' CRIPPLED CHILDREN HOSPITAL

EMERGENCIES arise in any family

Banks are continually making small loans to meet these emergencies which can upset the best-planned budgets.

Three out of every five bank loans are for less than $500. Many of these are used to take care of such expenses as doctor or hospital bills, temporary embarrassment at tax-time, a sudden journey, the winter's coal bill.

Again, educational needs of the family often are financed by small bank loans.

These small loans enable individuals to consolidate debts, and to pay back from income.

Small loans furnish just one more example of the service available to you at your bank.

Montreal Tramway Equipment Envy Of Many Large Cities?

By J. B. FERGUSON

A news item from New York reports that all trolley cars in Manhattan will be scrapped before the end of 1946. This prompts one to reflect on the status of our tramway system in Montreal by way of comparison.

There have, undoubtedly, been occasions when the would-be passenger waiting 20 minutes for a 3A on a frigid night in January has suspected that the local rolling stock had already been scrapped, but in spite of all the criticism and shortcomings, the equipment of the Montreal Tramways Company might well be the envy of many cities.

It was in 1861 that the "city fathers" first gave consideration to the transportation needs of the rapidly-growing city which then had a population of 101,000, including the new suburbs.

The Montreal Passenger Railway Company was formed, and even during its first year of operation, proved a financial success. The conveyances used at that time were the stage-coach type and the motive power was supplied by Old Dobbin, as in those days the term "horse-power" had a literal meaning.

After 32 years of continuous horse-car service, Montrealers witnessed in 1893 the introduction of the electric trolley cars, an event which revolutionized transportation and became the chief topic of conversation.

Many of the present older generation will recall the memory of those first cars, as several were still operating in daily service as recently as 1915 on the old Guy Street route from St. Catherine to Seigneurs Streets.

The evolution towards cars of better construction has been steady during the past 50 years, ranging from the early type containing stoves for winter comfort and the open models for summer with the full-length double running-boards, through to the latest streamlined one-man cars.

All the 1940 street-cars now in regular service are of metal construction, and 360 of these are less than 20 years old, which is considered young in the life of a modern tram. 245 are one-man cars.

To accommodate the wartime peak of traffic, some of the old

"700" and "800" series were restored to service, but as these had already served the city faithfully and well since the early years of the century, they are used only during the morning and evening rush-hours, and will probably disappear from service when another series are built in replacement.

The next lot of cars to be built in the near future will probably be similar in type to the streamlined "3500" series introduced early in 1944, but the trolley bus will also make a strong bid for popularity before long.

So while Manhattan may plan to scrap her outmoded trolley cars, Montrealers can still continue to enjoy their favourite pastime of levelling criticism at a tram service of which they might well be proud, and in the meantime dream of that day when the long-mooted rapid-transit subway system becomes a reality.

Westmount

Immunization against diphtheria can be obtained through use of harmless but effective toxoid.

Whooping cough vaccine provides protection in more than 80% of those treated. And, in cases where whooping cough occurs, even after vaccine has been given, the cases are much milder.

Scarlet fever is a communicable disease also, and can cause serious complications. In 1944 there were 20,945 cases against 18,639 in 1943. There were 100 deaths attributed to scarlet fever in 1943 and 114 in 1944.

The protective agent against scarlet fever is scarlet fever toxin. It has not been perfected as has diphtheria toxoid, but it gives 80% protection.

And, while smallpox is practically extinct, there is still need of vaccination to make sure it remains in that state. There is no natural immunity against smallpox. Anyone who has not been vaccinated may catch it. Vaccination is the only protection.

Smallpox is a killing disease, and it disfigures those it does not kill. It once was the most dreaded of all diseases with epidemics which wiped out one-tenth of the population at a time.

The incidence of diphtheria, whooping cough and scarlet fever is far too high in Canada.

The Health League of Canada and health departments are working to eliminate these needless diseases which take annual toll of Canadian children. All that is needed is public co-operation.

A complete immunization job certainly would make this country a happier and better place to live in. It would eliminate disease dangers which needlessly threaten thousands of children daily.

National Immunization Week will stress the importance of preventing these communicable diseases. Parents should consult their family physicians or their health departments. The "Week" will give added emphasis to the all-year programs of the Health League and the health departments.

Citizens of Westmount and their children are not immune from any of these diseases, as the recent death of a resident from diphtheria, and medical department statistics prove, their co-operation in this work is earnestly requested.

We had it before... LET'S NOT HAVE IT AGAIN!

The Worst Inflation came after the last war NOW is the Real Testing time ...

Victory has been won on the battle front but we must not relax our efforts if we are to continue to avoid the evils of inflation and deflation.

We are rapidly moving towards the day when shortages will be overcome but reconversion takes time.

The danger of inflation and its black shadow deflation will last as long as goods are not enough to meet demands.

The ending of the war brings the temptation to scramble for things we've been without, and to offer to pay any price to get them.

That's the way inflation gets started. Inflation with its soaring cost of living is bad enough.

But inflation is always followed by deflation with its falling prices, bankrupt businesses, unemployment and distress.

Deflation would be a calamity that would involve every man, woman and child in Canada.

The only controls that are being maintained are those that aid the production of needed supplies and their speedy and fair distribution to the public, and which prevent an inflationary price rise:

As soon as conditions warrant, these will be dropped:

Until industry gets back to normal production, price ceilings, rationing and some controls are a necessary safeguard for everyone of us:

Keep them working:

IT'S YOUR JOB AND YOUR SAVINGS THAT ARE AT STAKE

This advertisement is one of a series being issued by the Government of Canada to emphasize the importance of preventing a further increase in the cost of living now and deflation and unemployment later.

Mary Beetles School Opens Early October

A course of sight-singing and ear-training, for all students of music, will be opened at The Mary Beetles School, 4956 Decarie Boulevard, early in October.

These subjects are essential for the completely equipped musician; and they do not interfere with the regular work of students, either vocally or instrumentally; rather, they are to be taken as supplementary.

Choir directors as well as professors of vocal and instrumental work, will receive improved cooperation from students who are given this training. No attempt will be made to interfere in any way with voice production as taught by the individual teacher.

Private lessons will be given on request and students may be prepared for examinations which are requisite for the earning of degrees in all musical subjects.

Mrs. Hugh Shoobridge, herself a first class honours' student of the Toronto Conservatory of Music, and an experienced soloist and chorister, will be instructor. Classes are now forming for adults and children.

Jeanne Rodier assisted by Elianne Charbonneau, Nancy Saunders and Frances Husband will again direct the classes in Ballet, Toe, Tap, Acrobatic and Character. Ballroom dancing with special classes for married couples and high school boys and girls will be instructed by Vicki Yates. Dramatics, diction and voice culture classes will be directed by Mrs. Ruth Whiting and assisted by Rosemary Whiting, and three major productions are to be presented during the season, commencing with a repeat performance of Snow White at Snowdon Theatre, Saturday, Oct. 6th.

work forms the background Audrey Hutcheson brought to the Montreal West Operatic Society when she first joined it in 1941. This year, Miss Hutcheson's full contralto voice has excellent scope in the role of Katisha, the "daughter-in-law-elect" of The Mikado, which is being presented by the Montreal West Operatic Society on October 4, 5 and 6 in the Montreal West High School Auditorium. This is a repeat performance by popular request with the same cast and is again sponsored by the Montreal Lions Club.

Miss Hutcheson has been singing for a number of years in Montreal after studying under Frank Rowe and Louis Chartier. She was a member of the choir directed by the late F. H. Blair, at the Church of St. Andrew and St. Paul, and was later soloist there and at St. James United Church.

She has done some concert singing and was for a time a member of a ladies' quartette which specialized in Old English music in a radio program emanating from Station CBM.

Miss Hutcheson joined the Montreal West Operatic Society's cast to sing the part of the Fairy Queen in Yolanthe in 1941; played Dame Carruthers in Yeomen of the Guard in 1942, and Buttercup in H.M.S. Pinafore in 1943. She did not participate in the 1944 production of Patience, but has returned this year to do Katisha in The Mikado.

Canadian war veterans who have been paralysed for life have formed an association to help out civilians in a similar plight. It will be known as the Canadian Paraplegic Association. As an ing house for paralytic cases will provide paraplegics with training, education and suitable work.

Lovely Ancient Chinese Romance Depicted On Picturesque Plate

More than 150 years ago an English potter named Turner made a plate with a Chinese pattern on it. The English people liked it so much that plates of this fashion could be found in almost every cottage in the kingdom. This willow pattern as it is still known to-day, tells a Chinese story in pictures, all the little drawings being Chinese. But the whole was never put together on a willow-pattern plate until the English potter, Turner, did so in 1780.

A Chinese Romance

Look at the willow pattern and you will see on one side a beautiful Chinese house set among trees and shady palms and pines. There is a white-paved hall, and alongside, a summer-house built over the water. This was supposedly the home of a rich Chinese nobleman, who had a beautiful daughter, and she loved a poor scholar. The scholar wanted very much to marry the fair maid, but her father vowed that he would kill the scholar if ever he caught them together. So he built a strong fence around his house, except where across the bottom of the plate.

Not to be outdone, the scholar brought his boat to the other side of the river, and called to the fair maid to come and join him. She set out to marry her lover, but before they had left the bridge, the nobleman—the fair maid's father—ran after them to kill the scholar and bring back his daughter. They could not run very fast over the bridge; neither could we run if we wore gowns which trailed on the ground in front and behind. The father may be seen carrying an iron ball on a chain, with which he meant to kill the poor scholar. But just as he reached the top of the bridge his foot caught in his skirt, causing him to fall and give his head a hard knock on the iron ball. Before he could rise, his daughter and her lover climbed into the boat, and on the plate they may be seen sailing away.

Annual Canadian catch of halibut amounts to more than 30,000,000 pounds.

WESTMOUNT, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, 1945

NATIONAL IMMUNIZATION WEEK

National Immunization Week comes again this year early in the fall—September 30 to October 6. During this week the Health League of Canada co-operates with the health authorities throughout the Dominion in calling special attention to the need for protecting children against the communicable diseases—notably whooping cough, diphtheria, smallpox and scarlet fever.

Vaccination has been so effective in Canada that today a case of smallpox is rare. But eternal vigilance is the price of security and failure to vaccinate would mean more smallpox. Diphtheria has disappeared in some parts of Canada and in others the rate is still disgracefully high. Whooping cough, largely preventable, causes the most deaths among contagious diseases of early childhood. There were 333 deaths from this cause last year.

Infection by the serious communicable diseases of childhood results from failure to immunize. Facilities to immunize every child in the Dominion are available if only parents would take advantage of them. Forty thousand cases annually of scarlet fever, diphtheria and whooping cough alone mean many unnecessary deaths and many children damaged for life by unnecessary diseases.

YOUR DOLLAR HELPS A LOT!

All local residents will support the present drive of the Welfare Federation for $1,021,000 for this is one of the worthiest of all causes to which we are asked to contribute. The work which the Federation is doing among families of men overseas alone merits all the support we can give, and there are dozens of other activities of an equally necessary and humanitarian nature. Federation is charity organized for economy—to make each dollar contributed go as far as is humanly possible in the alleviation of suffering. Many years ago charity was dispensed by many scattered, independent agencies. Often there was overlapping of services. There was waste through well-meaning but inefficient use of contributions. Charity was charity. The re-ipients were only too painfully aware of it. Of recent years, however, large numbers of these separate agencies have been federated, overlapping has been eliminated, modern business efficiency has been introduced into the administration of the work, a dollar goes a long way. Services are now provided for the needy that the old agencies never dreamed of. When the canvasser calls upon you, give with a generous heart.

A GREAT WELCOME HOME!

Thousands of local residents, along with citizens of all parts of Montreal, turned out last Saturday to watch and welcome the R.M.R.'s back from Europe. It was a marvelous spectacle, a great welcome to a great regiment which had brought many new laurels to Canada's name. Crowds lined the line of march eight and ten deep from the station to Westmount Park where the official welcoming ceremonies were laid. Notables from all walks of life, friends and relatives of the fighting men, and thousands of other patriotic citizens impelled by the desire to give the lads a royal welcome home and to show that their sacrifice was fully appreciated, turned out. This is the way our fighting men should be welcomed.

HOUSEWIVES FAVOUR RATIONING

A limited poll of local housewives, taken by this newspaper, indicates that rationing of meat has the support of the great majority of them. "Under the rationing system," one local woman told the interviewer, "everyone gets some meat, and the amount allotted under the present ration is enough for most people. Without rationing some people would get more than they could use, and many people would go without. Take the case of bacon. For some weeks before the present ration came into effect we could get bacon only on rare occasions. But as soon as the new ration came into effect bacon appeared on every butcher's counter. Where was it all going before?"

What opposition there is to rationing seems to come from the fact that in the United States they are going to abandon it just as we go back to it. If the United States can get along without it, why can't we?

The fact that they are going to abandon it in the U.S.A. doesn't mean that the Americans aren't going to send just as much to Europe, per capita, as we are. They'll take what they want to send, and let the public scramble for the rest. That means black market prices, meat to favourite customers, none for the majority.

Rationing is fairer all round.

THE FORUM

Conducted by HOWARD S. ROSS, K.C., D.C.L.

In Which Subjects of General Interest Are Discussed

The opinions expressed in this Forum are not necessarily those of this newspaper, and it does not accept responsibility for them.

The Observer, of the new Labor Members of Parliament are as follows: professional men (lawyers, doctors, journalists, technicians, teachers, civil servants), 196; proletarian occupations, 77; trade union officials, 84; professional services, 9; miscellaneous, 38. The chief difference as against previous years lies in the percentage of trade union leaders. In 1918 they constituted 95 per cent of the Labor members; in 1929, 40 per cent; in 1931, 60 per cent; in 1935, 50 per cent; in the recent election, 19 per cent.

The most important trade dispute in Britain is the demand of the railway men for a minimum rate of £4 10s a week and for a week of 40 hours.

Examination of figures on the recent voting in Britain shows as usual that the difference between actual votes cast for each side is not so great as it seemed at first. Now as always the party which suffered most, in this case the Liberals, points out that a party which has polled 2,500,000 votes deserves more than 11 or so votes in Parliament. Under Proportional Representation they would have more representatives, but probably they, like so many legislators, do not like to change from the present stupid system, with its element of chance, to voting for a system which will give true representation. The single transferable vote, the Hare system of Proportional Representation, will give such representation and its use by the older universities made possible the election of a number of able and independent members who would find no way open to them through ordinary party channels. A good illustration is the election for Cambridge University of Wilson Harris, the editor of The Spectator, and a writer with wide experience and good judgment upon international affairs. Someone said of him: "If he is a watchdog, he is formidable, but perfectly good-tempered and fair and never lacking in humor."

There are 24 women in the British Houses, exactly the same number as all the Liberals of both breeds and sexes. The Liberals call themselves a party, but they are not the third most important group in Parliament. That place now belongs to the women members.

C.P.O. Charles Crewe Reid, R.C.N., has obtained Canadian and American patents on a new piston which does not require rings. The new design, the only one of its kind ever to be submitted to the U.S. Patent Office, has been sold to a large automobile company at the request of the U.S.A. Government.

A committee of the British Government has recommended that a selling price limit at 150 per cent of the pre-war value was proposed. The committee found that the average price of houses had risen 83.3 per cent in England and 93.4 per cent in Scotland during the war period. The price curb will not be retroactive.

Catherine the First of Russia was the most humane of all sovereigns. She promised that during her reign nobody would be put to death—and kept her word!

Atom-smashing prompts the thought that the world is getting too smart. Some creatures of the past became extinct because they were too dumb to live. Now there is the danger that mankind may become extinct because human are too smart.

General Stalin's recent indisposition has revived speculation as to what would happen in Russia if he became incapacitated or shared the great Franklin Roosevelt's untimely fate? He will not share the political fate of the great Churchill. Walter Duranty, leading authority on Russia, thinks there would be a ruling group of four or five of Stalin's closest associates: Molotoff, Zdanoff, Kazanovich, Mikoyan, Voroshiloff and Beria. Mr. Duranty thinks there will not be the internal struggle for leadership which followed Lenin's death.

Correspondents in war-torn European countries report a great wave of lawlessness—pilfering being the most common—in France, Germany, Denmark and Norway. If you leave anything loose someone will take it. One reason given is that goods being scarce and money having relatively little value, for its possessors cannot buy what does not exist by taking them from someone else. And what was patriotic under resistance is now by many thought to be excusable. The correspondents report much immorality and the philosophy of eat, drink and be merry for tomorrow we may die, as still having sway and that that spirit cannot be turned off with a declaration of the war's end, but when the lives of the citizens return to something approaching normal.

Tivadar Csontvary, celebrated Hungarian painter, never drew a line in his life until the age of 40 when he became insane. His deranged mind made him a genius and he painted 20 outstanding masterpieces in the history of art!

In Britain, according to the British Office of Wartime Information, every able-bodied person will be fully employed in construction or in some form of trade activity—probably "overemployed" for several years at least. One large industrial firm in Britain has published its plan for opening its own school to train 5,000 veterans for their industry.

The atomic bomb, it is thought by some, has demolished the argument for a large permanent army and a continuing program of universal military training. Hereafter armed invasion will be the least of our worries. Military training on a large scale irrelevant to national defence, of course no one knows as yet what kind of training will be needed under the new conditions and none can be formulated until the minds of the nations have been demilitarized.

When Mr. Churchill gave his first speech as leader of the position the principal object of his attack was Russia. All of eastern Europe, he declared, is trembling in fear of the policeman club. Admitting that a strong hand on the reins of government will be necessary in this "gaul area" for sometime, he nevertheless declared that freedom from fear must include freedom from police tyranny as well as freedom from rule of unwanted national regimes.

Stopped on the street by someone in need, and desiring to help, a kind-hearted man took out his pocket-book and found therein seven dollars, of which he took six dollars and gave to the person asking help. When he turned his back to walk away he was attacked and the seventh dollar was stolen from his pocket-book by this most ungrateful wretch. In every week there are seven days of which God has given to us six for ourselves. Yet how many ungrateful people having received these six days immediately turn and rob God of the seventh. GUESS - HIGGINSON

The marriage of Evelyn Margaret, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Higginson of 225 Wolseley Avenue, Montreal West, to Flight Lieutenant Rae Douglas Guess, R.C.A.F., son of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Colcomb played the wedding music and Mr. Alexander Maclean, brother-in-law of the bride, played a violin solo "O Promise Me," during the signing of the register. The church was decorated with standards of gladioli and Michaelmas daisies. Candlelight provided soft illumination.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of white slipper satin fashioned on princess lines, the full skirt extended into a train. Her veil of tulle illusion was held by a coronet of white velvet leaves and she carried Joanna Hill roses.

Mrs. Alexander Maclean, sister of the bride, as matron-of-honor, and the bridegroom's sister, Miss Jeanne Guess, as bridesmaid, were gowned alike in frocks of, phlox pink Madonna crepe worn under matching jackets. Westmount Subdivision CWL Opens With Tea, Fashion Talk

The Westmount subdivision of the Catholic Women's League held its opening meeting and tea on Tuesday, in St. Leo's School Hall. The Rev. Wilfrid McDonagh, chaplain, spoke a few words of welcome. Mrs. T. F. Slattey and Mrs. J. Coffey also spoke briefly. Mrs. Edmund Foster, the president, was in the chair and introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. James O'Dwyer, fashion director, Toronto, who discoursed on the present trend in fashions while three members of the subdivision, Mrs. W. H. Fisher, Mrs. Vance Maxwell and Mrs. John D. King modelled the exhibits.

"During the present period of conversion," said Mrs. O'Dwyer, "it is of the greatest importance that women buy Canadian made clothes." Women have been better dressed in the last four years than women of any other country, she stated, and she paid tribute to the splendid work of the War-time Prices and Trades Board, pointing out that we have only to compare our prices with those of the United States to realize what has been accomplished.

Tunic Effects

Some of the newer trends for the fall and winter fashions were described by Mrs. O'Dwyer. Long tunic effects were popular, she said, and were happily expressed in such modes as the tunic suit which had a tunic length skirt with a very slim skirt. The long sleeves to be seen on dresses was a modified version of the dolman, said the speaker, and she noted that the waist lines are narrow and slim, or snugly belted. High neck lines to set off costume jewellery, and all kinds of necklaces, bracelets, dog collars will be worn. It is to be a big season for costume jewellery, Mrs. O'Dwyer stated.

Basic Dress

The basic dress, plain and well cut, which can be changed around by wearing different accessories, is still an important part of any wardrobe. "The keynote of the fashion today," remarked the speaker, "is femininity," and she noted that the reason for this is that so many women have been in uniform in past years and welcome the versatility in clothes. There is definitely a feeling for the more dressed-up mood, and more entertaining will be done, necessitating more elegance in the details.

Mrs. O'Dwyer then spoke briefly as a member of the Catholic Women's League and a past president of the junior branch in Toronto. She urged that one of the post war interests should be to further the cause of Catholic education, that students should be helped financially and that an educational fund should be set up for this purpose. Mrs. J. T. Rogers thanked the speaker.

Tea was served by Mrs. C. J. Lovett and her committee, the tea table being brightly decorated with zinnias and asters.

The meeting closed with the playing of the national anthem by Mrs. J. P. O'Reilly.

Headquarters for the Westmount Women's Division of the Welfare Federation Campaign have been changed from Victoria Hall to St. Andrew's United Church, 101 Cote St. Antoine Road. The telephone number is WE. 4849.

HOME-MADE CANDIES DELIGHT THE TROOPS

The service boxes will soon be getting under way, and cookies, cakes, candies and personal items for your soldier on occupation duty can't purchase will be most welcome. Those homemade candies that were usually made on Friday night with the crowd of young people from school will just be about perfect.

Be sure to wrap each piece separately in waxed paper to keep the candy firm and place all in a box. This way the candy will arrive as if you'd just taken it out of the pan.

Panocha

One and a third cups corn syrup, ½ cup sugar, ½ cup milk, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 teaspoon vanilla extract.

Place corn syrup, sugar and butter in saucepan, and cook, stirring constantly to (240 degrees) or to the soft ball stage. Remove from heat, add vanilla extract and cool, without stirring to lukewarm.

Beat until thick and creamy. Pour into buttered pans and mark into squares.

Chocolate Taffy

One cup brown sugar, ½ cup corn syrup, 2-3 cup water, 1 cup molasses, ¼ teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons butter, 4 ounces (squares) chocolate, melted, 1 tablespoon vanilla.

Combine the first six ingredients. Cook slowly, stirring constantly until mixture boils. Cook to (290 degrees) or to the soft-crack stage. Pour into buttered pan, pour chocolate over candy and as edges cool fold toward center.

Add vanilla and continue folding until coil enough to pull. Pull until cold and cut into pieces.

Popcorn Brittle

Two cups sugar, ¼ cup corn syrup, ¼ cup molasses, ¼ cup water, ¼ teaspoon cream of tartar, 2 tablespoons butter, ½ teaspoon baking soda, 1 quart, 4 cups, popped corn.

Cook all ingredients, except butter, soda and corn to (272 degrees) or until a small amount of syrup will crack when tested in cold water. Add butter and soda; blend and stir in popped corn. Pour into buttered shallow pan. When cold, break into pieces. Puffed cereal or cereal flakes may be used in place of the popped corn.

BLACK WOOL

Designers are borrowing ideas from abstract art these days. This Fox-ownie model, a daytime dress of black wool, has striped taffeta set to it to point up the boom line.

Future Bright For Kitcheneers

Dream Appliances To End Drudgery For Housewives

Designed to take the back-aches out of laundering, this compact washing machine and dryer fits snugly into small space and adds beauty to the kitchen.

When the manufacturers get into swing, and get their distributors stocked, it is going to be almost fun for the kitcheneer to keep house.

Leisure to Burn

The electric stove will turn itself on at a pre-determined hour in the morning and fry the bacon she left last night in the pan. The percolator will go to work by itself, make the coffee, and then shut off just enough to keep that odorous brew at a drinkable 190 degrees. Bread will feed down through the electric toaster all by itself, though, thus far, you still have to butter it yourself and lift it to your own mouth.

After breakfast, just scrape leavings into the garbage disposal unit, which will chew them up and wash them into the sewer. Then stack the dishes in the sink. There they'll wash and dry themselves. Perhaps, in time, if you start with them young, you can train your china and glass ware to roll to the dish closet and distribute themselves in orderly fashion on the shelves.

There'll be a little special cubicle in the refrigerator, sized for a pound of butter, at the exact temperature to keep the butter firm yet spreadable.

Breakfast is over; the dishes have washed themselves. But it's Monday morning—and wash day.

So what? You just toss a little soap powder into the automatic washer, which itself draws the exact amount of water it needs. You toss in some clothes and open the latest best-seller at page 648, where you left it at bedtime. In perhaps 20 minutes the clothes are washed, rinsed and three-quarters dried.

Here comes a brief interruption. (Unfortunately science has not yet quite achieved its goal of abolishing work completely.) You must lay aside the book long enough to move the clean, almost-dry clothes about a yard into the electric drier that stands beside the washer and looks, on the outside, exactly like it.

If you've been lazy or busy and let washing stack up on you, it may be necessary to let the machine change the water and toss in another batch of laundry. Otherwise just go back to the book while the drier does its work.

There's still ironing to be done. There isn't yet any machine that will iron Dad's shirts automatically. You run through the flatwork on a cool electric ironer that probably is built into the breakfast or utility table. For shirts, lingerie and such items, you use a featherweight iron that sprays onto the articles just enough steam to save your having to sprinkle them, and prevents them from getting shiny from ironing.

Milady — having done dishes, washed, ironed and eaten lunch by noon — can rest up from her arduous labors under a sun lamp that will preserve that lovely golden tan picked up on the beach.

More to Come

She will go to bed under an electrically-heated blanket, thermostatically controlled to maintain any desired temperature whatever happens to the thermometer, and made from wires that won't short-circuit even if a few should happen to break.

These are not by any means all of the innovations that the electrical manufacturers of the nation are prepared to put onto the market in very short order. As mass production gets into swing it can be expected that prices will go down so that such dream appliances will become available to the millions.

Dogs perspire through the tongue and cool themselves off by panting.

Hints On Fashions

The fur trimmed suit assumes greater importance than ever in the cold weather wardrobe, since such suits are available in various price ranges. Smoky green woolen makes this suit. The jacket, slightly longer than hip length, has a loose underarm seam and is collarless, with three fur covered buttons to match the black Persian lamb yoke. It is lined in black quilting for warmth. The skirt is straight with a slot seam down the centre front. The coat may also be worn with a black wool skirt to create another attractive costume.

Peach Butter Is Said To Be Thrifty Spread

Sort, wash, peel and pit peaches. Cook in their own juice until soft, stirring constantly. Press through colander, then through fine sieve. Use about half as much sugar as sieved fruit, or a little less sugar, depending on sweetness of fruit. Add a scant 1/4 teaspoon salt per quart of butter. Boil rapidly, stirring constantly to prevent scorching. As butter cooks down, reduce heat. When thick, test by pouring a small quantity on a cold plate. Cook until no rim of liquid separates around the edge of the butter.

Stir in spices, if desired, 1/4 to 1/2 teaspoon per quart of butter. Clove, cinnamon, or mixtures of these are good with peach. Whole spices tied in a small cloth bag flavor without darkening the fruit. Pour the boiling hot butter into sterilized jars and seal. To stretch sugar, up to 1/4 the weight of the sugar may be replaced with honey or corn sirup. Cook somewhat longer than as if sugar were used.

Use Buttermilk To Bleach Muddy End-Of-Summer Tan

If you frown upon an end-of-summer tan, use model tricks that will bring your complexion back to lily-whiteness.

Model tricks aplenty come from former model, Mrs. Walter Thornton, wife of the man whose agency is famous for its glamorous pin-up models. These girls keep no beauty secrets from Judy Thornton, still working side by side with them.

To hasten the departure of a tan, Judy says they all use a formula plucked from grandma's beauty book—butter, applied as a mask, left on for 15 minutes and washed off with soap and water.

Skin is cold-creamed afterward to allay dryness—which Judy says is much less than the dryness caused by the usual lemon bleaches. If the buttermilk ritual is repeated nightly for two weeks, according to Judy, all your tan and fleckles (which she also picks up during a summer) will certainly go.

Four More Aids:
Leathery skin? Butter it up with rich cream. Wear your cream all of the time when nobody is looking. That's Judy's answer. She has one for blackheads, too, which too often make a girl rue her summer's fun.

Take a half-cup of salt and enough olive oil to hold the salt together. After washing your face with hot soapy water to soften up the skin a bit, put the oil-and-salt mixture on your rag and dig in where the blackheads lodge. Follow with soap and water.

Elbows? If they've been grinding into the sand and pebbles of beaches—and look it—Judy says scrub with a brush when you bathe, or rub a pumice stone over the roughened skin. When you get out of the tub, give elbows a good rub-down with body lotion or hand cream.

Remember, too, she says, to carry your lotion or cream all the way down to your fingers, if your hands need it at the end of summer much as hers do.

advance that something would prevent their attendance had explained this. Those children naturally were sorry, but they would not suffer disappointment because they were not expecting their mothers.

"The first part of the afternoon was given to a brief welcoming program in each room; then the children took their mothers to the auditorium where the tea table was in readiness, and there all the mothers and teachers could visit with each other. Hosts and hostesses were stationed at the door of each room and in the auditorium to greet the visitors.

"Gary Woods was at the door of our third-grade room. I watched him greet each mother who came, all the while watching for his own mother to appear. As the moments passed and there was no sign of Mrs. Woods, his face grew very sober. Finally the program in our room was over, and Gary's mother still had not arrived.

"When the little procession of mothers and children from our third-grade room started down the hall, Gary took his place among those who were going to the auditorium with me. All of his joyous enthusiasm was gone.

"A promise to a child should never be lightly given," Jane concluded. "Gary would have been spared a needless disappointment if his mother had told him beforehand that there was a chance she would not be able to come to the Tea. Keeping faith with a child is essential to the development of his sense of honor and responsibility."

HOME EDUCATION

Needless Disappointment

by LUCIA MALLORY

"Did you have a nice Tea this afternoon?" I asked my friend, Jane Goddard, who teaches in the third grade at Central School. "A number of mothers told me they were planning to attend it."

Jane had come to the library, where I work in the children's room, so that we could go together to dinner at the home of a mutual friend.

Her face clouded as she replied, "That's what all of the mothers told their children—that they were coming to the Tea—and then some of them failed to appear."

"I'm sorry you didn't have a good attendance after all of you—teachers and pupils—had done so much to make the Mother's Day Tea attractive."

"We did have a good crowd," Jane acknowledged. "I think to the mothers and to the children of the mothers who were there the Tea was worth all the effort it cost. I'm just feeling sorry for the children whose mothers disappointed them."

"It means a great deal to a child to have his mother visit his school, doesn't it?" I commented.

"More than most mothers realize," Jane agreed. "One look at some of the disappointed little faces I saw today would have told them that. The worst part of it was that the mothers had promised to come, and the children were expecting them. Perhaps some of the mothers were unavoidably detained at home, but it would have been better had they not given a definite promise. As it was, their children waited in vain all the afternoon, while their more fortunate friends welcomed their mothers and guided them around the building."

"The Mothers' Day Tea," Jane explained, "is intended as a gift from the children to their mothers. Committees to arrange for it are chosen in each room, and we make an effort to give every child some part in the preparations."

"The children in my room made invitations in their art class two weeks ago and took them home to their mothers. Gary Woods had never done good handwork, but he tried very hard this time and carried home a neatly lettered invitation. The boy was all smiles next morning when he came back to school. 'Mother liked the invitation,' he told me, 'and she's coming to the Tea.'"

"One after another, almost all of the children gave me the same report—'My mother has promised to come to the Tea!' The few whose mothers were working outside their homes or who knew in

Powder Needless, Slingshot Slicker Gets Squirrel Dinners At 30 Feet

Asheville, N.C. — That joyous and sometimes mischievous toy of boyhood has grown up into an adult and lethal weapon in the hands of Jim Gasque.

The western North Carolinian finds it a handy substitute for a small rifle during the gunpowder shortage. Following many years of practice, he gets squirrel dinners at from 25 to 30 feet. Nothing delights him more than to knock the outlaid jaybird, or any predatory fowl, into a feathered kingdom-come.

Gasque makes his slingshots out of dogwood. Careful search will yield a straight trunk with three limbs sprouting at equal angles. The two outer prongs are bent and bound to the inner with string, forcing them into the desired position. The bound piece is placed in a slow oven and baked overnight, by which time it should have placed properly. The center prong is now cut away, the outer prongs cut as short as possible.

Strong rubber bands are attached to the prongs with a soft waxed string. A sight is mounted between the prongs.

Regular buckshot is used for ammunition.

Jim Gasque draws bead with handy substitute for small rifle.

Capture Fresh Tomato Flavor For Healthful Winter Meals

The luscious flavour of tomatoes fresh-plucked from the vines is the special pleasure of the home gardener. Capturing and preserving this goodness and storing it away for winter months—this process is the fine art of home canning. Tomatoes are easily canned and are a boon to winter meal planning.

Extensive experiments have been carried out by the Consumer Section of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, to determine the best methods of preserving flavour, colour and food value. The following recommendations are made as a result of these tests.

Use plain tin cans not enamel for tomatoes, as the latter give a product of poor colour, impaired flavour and low vitamin content.

Do not use narrow-necked bottles of the type in which vinegar is sold, for tomato juice. A high rate of spoilage and loss of vitamin content resulted with these containers.

In filling containers allow ¼ inch headspace at the top of tin cans, screw top and spring top sealers, and ½ inch at the top of vacuum type sealers.

Tomatoes—Solid Pack

Blanch, remove stem end and peel tomatoes. Cut large tomatoes in quarters or leave small ones whole. Pack in clean hot sealers, pressing down until the tomatoes are covered with their own juice. Add ½ teaspoon salt to pint containers, and 1 teaspoon to quarts. Partially seal screw top and spring top sealers, and completely seal vacuum type. Using boiling water bath, process pint sealers 35 minutes, quart sealers 40 minutes. Remove immediately from bath. Complete seal on screw and spring top sealers. Allow to cool in an upright position.

For tin cans—Fill cans as above, exhaust and seal. Process 20 ounce tins for 35 minutes and 28 ounce tins for 40 minutes. Remove and cool under cold water.

Label and store in a cool dark place.

Whole Tomatoes—Cold Pack

Blanch, remove stem end and peel tomatoes. Pack in clean hot sealers or tin cans, add ½ teaspoon salt to each pint. Cover with boiling hot tomato juice, prepared from irregular, large or broken tomatoes. Partially seal screw and spring top sealers and completely seal vacuum type and tin cans. Using boiling water bath, process pints and 20 ounce tins for 30 minutes, quarts and 28-ounce tins for 35 minutes. Remove immediately. Complete seal on screw and spring top sealers. Cool glass sealers in upright position away from draughts. Cool tin cans under cold water. Label and store.

Cottage Cheese Is Meal Alternate

Cottage cheese is an ideal source of animal protein and makes a splendid addition to a salad. "Weight for weight it contains more protein than meat," state the nutritionists of the Department of National Health and Welfare. It is rich in riboflavin and if made from whole milk contains vitamin A as well.

The whey, obtained in the making of cottage cheese, is a valuable food, too. It contains one-quarter of the protein of the milk, and some riboflavin also. Served icy cold, flavoured with lemon or other fruit juice, it makes a pleasant drink.

The Canadian radio industry in 1944 produced $200,000,000 worth of electronic equipment for Canada and its Allies, compared with an annual pre-war production of approximately $15,000,000.

Household Hints

(By MRS. MARY MORTON)

Do most of us use raisins often enough? Even during wartime shortages we have been able to get them, and they helped us during sugar shortages. Raisins are a versatile fruit. They may serve in breads, desserts, in sauce for meats, and in salads, to mention a few of their uses. I'm giving you several recipes—as many as I have room for—in which raisins are used for different purposes.

Today's Menu

- Meat Loaf with Raisin Sauce
- Baked Potatoes
- Scalloped Tomatoes or Onions
- Celery Pickles
- Raisin Crisps
- Coffee

Raisin Meat Sauce

- ½ cup brown sugar
- 1 tablespoon flour
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- ¼ cup orange juice
- ¾ cup cold water
- 3 tablespoons lemon juice.
- ½ cup raisins
- 1 tablespoon butter

Mix sugar, flour and salt, add water and heat to boiling, stirring constantly; add orange and lemon juice and raisins and simmer 5 minutes. Add butter and serve hot. Serves 6.

Raisin Crisps

- ½ cup raisins
- ½ cup shortening
- ¼ cup water
- ¾ cup sifted flour
- ½ teaspoon soda
- 1½ cups uncooked rolled oats (quick cooking)
- 1 cup brown sugar
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon cinnamon
- ¼ teaspoon nutmeg
- ½ cup chopped nuts
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

Heat raisins with shortening and water over low heat until shortening melts. Cool. Sift together flour, soda, salt and spices and add rolled oats, sugar and nuts. Add cooled raisin mixture and vanilla and blend well. Chill. Drop by spoonfuls on greased and floured baking sheet and bake at 350 degrees F., 8 to 10 minutes. Makes 4 dozen crisps.

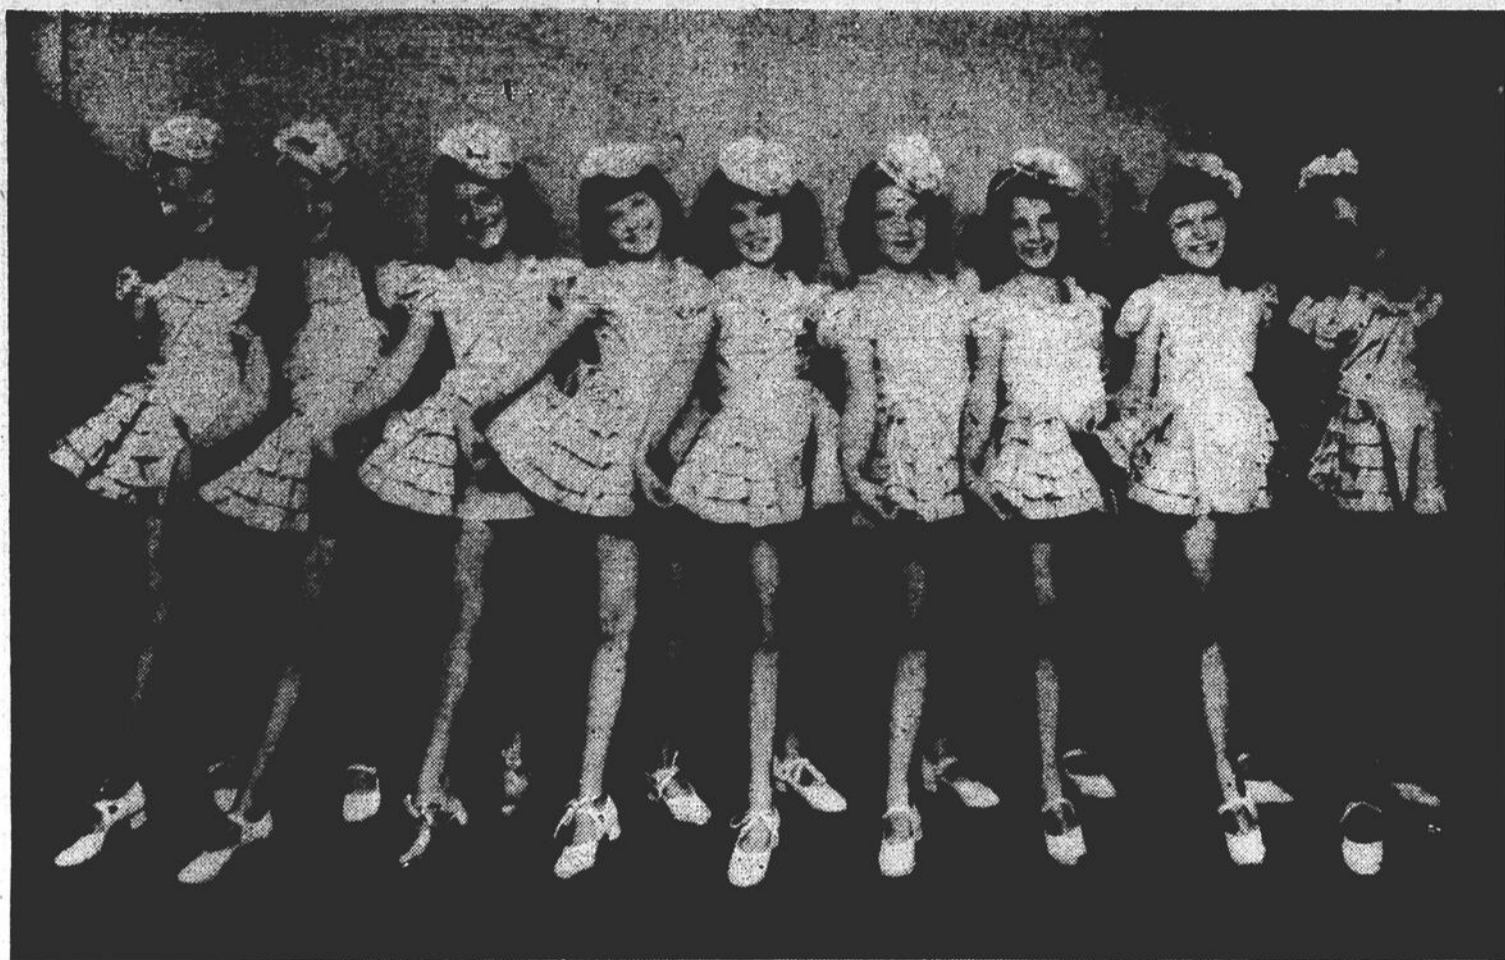

Raisin Nut Bread

- 1 cup raisins
 - 1 egg
 - 1 cup milk
 - 1 cup sugar
 - 3 cups flour
 - 4 teaspoons baking powder
 - 1½ teaspoons salt
 - ½ cup chopped nuts
- Rinse and drain raisins. Beat egg, mix with milk and sugar. Sift flour, measure and sift with salt and baking powder; add nuts and raisins and beat thoroughly. Pour into greased bread pan and bake 1¼ hours at 325 degrees F.

STUFFED PEPPERS

- 1 cup macaroni or spaghetti, ½ inch pieces
- 4 cups boiling water
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 6 sweet red or green peppers
- ¼ cup chopped onion
- 2 tablespoons fat
- 1 cup ground cooked beef
- 1 teaspoon salt
- Dash of pepper
- 1 tablespoon chopped parsley
- ¾ cup whole wheat bread crumbs

Cook the macaroni or spaghetti in salted boiling water for 20 minutes; drain and rinse. Meanwhile cook the peppers 5 minutes in salted boiling water. Rinse in cold water, cut in half lengthwise or crosswise, remove the seeds. Drain well. Sauté the onion in fat until clear, add beef, salt, pepper, parsley, then macaroni or spaghetti; mix thoroughly. Remove from heat. Fill the peppers with the meat mixture. Sprinkle the bread crumbs on top and bake in moderately hot oven, 375°F, until peppers are tender but not shrivelled, about 20 minutes. Six servings.

Clothes Need Great In Liberated Lands To Stem Tuberculosis

Dr. Eric Mohn of the Swedish Relief Mission to Greece states: "Only those who have experienced a severe winter climate can realize how much the people of Greece have suffered for want of clothing and shoes. One of every six Greeks suffers from tuberculosis. A tremendous rise in this disease can be expected unless we provide clothing."

Greece is not alone in misfortune. From Belgium, China, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, France, Luxembourg, the Netherlands, Norway, Poland, Russia and Yugoslavia the same heart-rending appeal is heard. All in all, thirty million persons in Europe alone today are naked. One hundred and twenty-five millions are dangerously ill-clad. Uncounted millions more in the Pacific theatre, liberated just the other day, look to us in Canada for help.

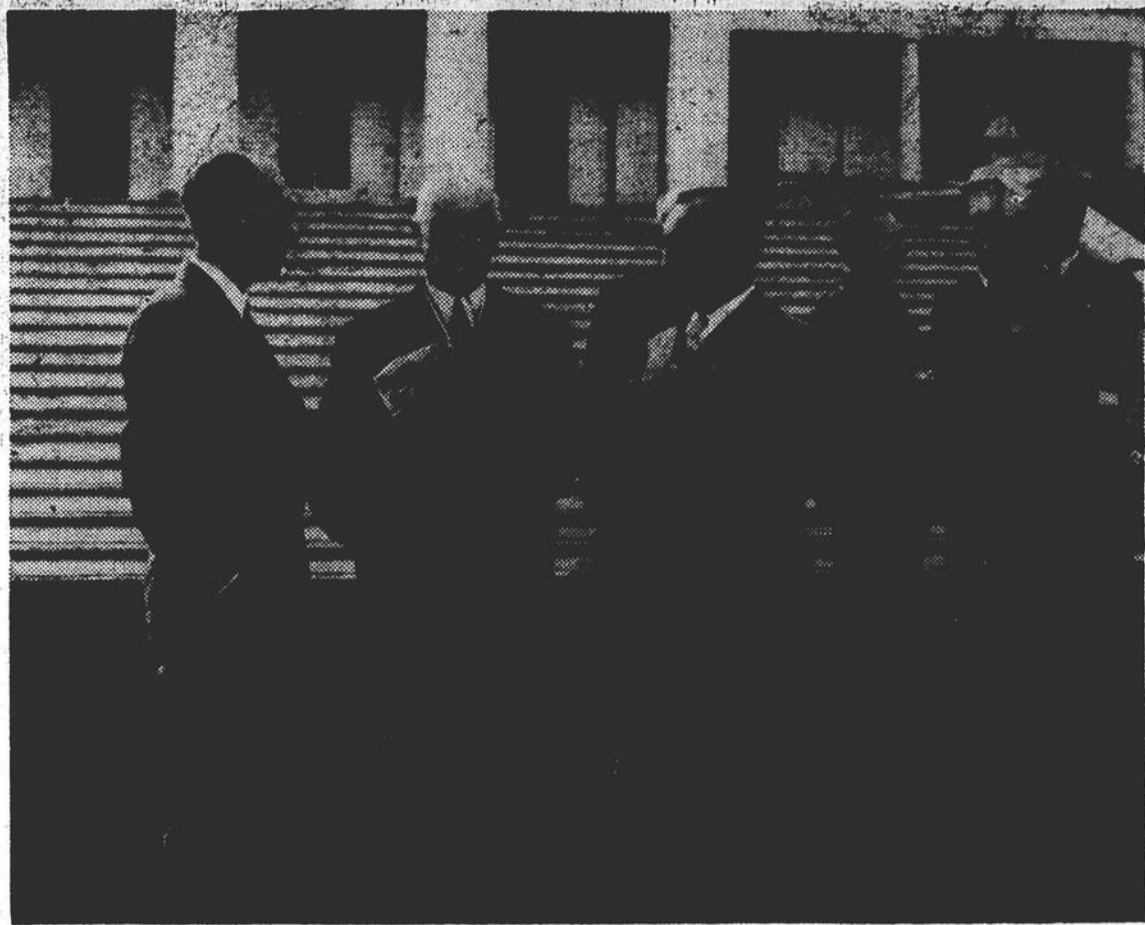

Yes, to us in Canada comes the appeal. The men, women and children of our needy allies ask only for enough clothing to stand between them and death by exposure this winter. They ask only for such serviceable used clothing as can be spared from our wardrobes without replacement.

The National Clothing Collection set up to meet this need is a united effort on the part of Canadian United Allied Relief Fund and UNRRA, with the assistance of national, provincial and local organizations throughout Canada.

This will be the one nation-wide clothing collection for allied war relief to be conducted in Canada in 1945.

Vitamin B Lost When Milk Left Exposed On Step

Householders who allow bottled milk on doorsteps or apartment passages to be exposed to direct sunshine get less for their money,

DISCUSSING PROBLEMS OF THE PROVINCE OF QUEBEC

Sir Eugene Fiset, Lieutenant Governor of Quebec, centre, discussing problems of the province with the two Quebec directors of the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association, D. R. Wilson, publisher of the Shawinigan Standard and H. E. McCormick, publisher of The Examiner, on the spacious lawn of "Spencerwood" in Quebec.

according to recent research reports. Tests showed that bottled milk exposed to late morning sun for an hour lost 26 to 36 per cent of its riboflavin. In two hours, over half the riboflavin content was lost. Riboflavin is one of the essential B complex vitamins. Prolonged deficiency of this necessary food element may result in eye disorders and organic damage.

If the milk has to be delivered after all members of the family have gone to work it is a good plan to have a covered box into which the milkman could place the bottles.

Women Asked To Stay On Job With Red Cross For Six Months

Using the slogan "Six Years for War—Six Months for Peace," Mrs. Clara McEachren, National Chairman of the Women's War Work Committee, because of mounting relief needs in Europe, Britain and the Far East, today issued an urgent call to all Red Cross women workers throughout Canada to stay at their posts or "on call" for at least another six months.

Gratefully recalling the contribution made by the women of Canada to the Society's war effort, Mrs. McEachren expressed her confidence that these women who had made over 45,000,000 Red Cross supplies and comforts for the forces and civilian relief during nearly six years of war, would not stand by and let millions of destitute people in Europe suffer this winter for want of their help.

Mrs. McEachren stated: "There is a feeling abroad that because the war is over, the work of the Red Cross is completed. This is definitely not the case with Women's War Work of the Canadian Red Cross Society.

"We are rejoicing in the return of our men, but the cause for which they fought and for which

Discreetly Chosen Heels, Hats Deduct Inches From Tall Girl

If a girl has attained more growth than she desires, there are ways of making herself look shorter. She doesn't have to wear high-heeled shoes, even at the evening party, she can find dressy ones with heels that are fairly low. She should avoid the V neck, wear the square or round cut. As for hats, the one with the low crown and wide brim will appear to deduct an inch or two.

Long lines of the frock should be avoided, cross lines tending to give width. Patterned fabrics are better than plain ones upon which the plumpes and the shorties depend to make themselves look slender or tall.

No other type finds the distinguished manner so becoming as the girl who has developed beyond medium height. She can be regal, queenly. She can be graceful; inches haven't anything to do with grace.

many died could be imperilled by our failure to bear our share in healing the wounds of war-scarred Europe. We cannot individually send them many of the things required, but we can, from materials in our possession make warm garments and hospital supplies. A year from now will be too late. This winter is when women in Red Cross workrooms and in their homes, can help bridge the gap between the cessation of hostilities and the re-establishment of European industries."

a simple English family, living in an unpretentious little house in a South London suburb. He wrote it as a stage play, took it on tour in the English provinces and subsequently appeared in it in London. The play was an instantaneous success and it has now been filmed in Technicolor with an all-star cast.

The title comes from the famous Shakespeare line "this happy breed of men" and the author takes the members of one small English family, living in a London suburb, between the last World War and this as his characters; Noel Coward has forgotten nothing in his delineations, for here is the essential humour of the Londoner, the courage, the wit, the philosophy of the people who inhabit the little houses that stand, cheek by jowl, in a thousand city streets. People like the Gibbons are an integral part of London's pride . . . just ordinary, simple, dignified, brave souls, bearing their humdrum burdens and rising, when called upon, to face their domestic or national crises.

In his little London house, No. 17 Sycamore Road, Noel Coward puts Frank Gibbons, the father, played by Robert Newton, Ethel his wife (played by Celia Johnson), and the children—Vi, played by Eileen Erskine, Queenie, played by Kay Walsh, and Reg, played by John Blythe; Aunt Sylvia, played by Alison Legatt, and Grandma Flint played by Amy Veness. In the house next door to No. 17 is Bob Mitchell, played by Stanley Holloway, with his son Billy, played by Johnny Mills. Sam Leadbitter, played by Guy Verney, is courting Vi, the elder daughter and the little girl-friend of Reg is Phyllis, played by Betty Fleetwood.

World Day For Animals Next Thursday

Churches and Christian Institutions in this and other lands observe October 4—dedicated to St. Francis of Assisi—The World Day for Animals. For the information of those who are not acquainted with it, its object is threefold: Firstly, it aims to direct attention to the cruelty inflicted on living creatures in sport and commercialism; secondly, it plans to focus thought on the means to remove such degradation permanently; and thirdly, it hopes to inspire action for the correction of ignorant and cruel persons who perpetrate such, and also for sympathetic understanding for all creatures victimized in any way by mankind.

All Sunday School superintendents and ministers are earnestly asked to observe this vital institution in an appropriate way in one of their services on October 7. A prayer, or a hymn, or a talk emphasizing the ideals of love in connection with all creatures and our personal moral responsibilities involved in such would be the most expedient way. The vast amount of cruelty perpetrated by our fellow-humans every day (Sunday included) in the year in this country of ours certainly warrants the emphasizing of the spiritual aspect of it more than once in 365 days.

War certainly will continue unless we destroy its causes within ourselves—by unreservedly giving the spirit of love the first place in our lives; our condoning or supporting evil and cruelty after the cessation of hostilities most assuredly constitutes a false peace, and also a definite challenge to the churches! Wherever the aforesaid ideal of love is stressed, inevitable spiritual progress is effected in the life of mankind; so, it is sincerely hoped that all true nature, creature lovers and church members will participate in this observance in the realization that God is love, and they are their brothers' keepers! Influential ministers and teachers of various creeds endorse the World Day for Animals.

Star-Studded Western Film Features Famous Musical Group

Recently Bob Nolan and the Sons of the Pioneers, celebrated the tenth anniversary of the founding of the famous Western musical group. Currently seen in Republic's "Bells of Rosarita," starring Roy Rogers.

But the idea of the Sons of the Pioneers organization was really born as long ago as 1932. That year two young musicians got their first jobs playing with a professional band. They were Roy Roger and Bob Nolan, and the band was called the Rocky Mountaineers. Rogers and Nolan became friends during the months they played and sang with the group and often talked together about breaking away to form a band of their own.

However it was two years before they did that. In the meantime, each had joined other Western musical groups, each had become disgusted because of repeated failures of the bands, and each had met and become friendly with another young singer, a red-haired chap named Tim Spencer.

It was finally Rogers who brought the three together as a unit. First he talked to Tim Spencer who had given up music for a regularly paying job as a clerk in a grocery store. Then the two went out to the golf club where Nolan was a caddy, and talked to him. They each agreed to give music one more chance. They decided to call themselves the Pioneer Trio, and as the trio they went on the air over a small Los Angeles radio station.

In addition, the original group of Pioneers invited Pat Brady and Lloyd Perryman to join them. Both Brady and Perryman are currently serving with the armed forces overseas. But both have their jobs waiting for them when they come home, and both have been on the Pioneer payroll ever since they donned uniform.

Ken Carson, who hails from Colorado, and Shug Fisher, of Oklahoma, have been added to the group recently.

"Bells of Rosarita," starring Roy Rogers, is the 40th picture the Pioneers have made with the King of the Cowboys at Republic studios.

The Pioneers fan mail averages around 4,000 letters per week now, and they employ two full time secretaries to answer it.

"Bells of Rosarita is now playing at the Seville United Theatre, and features as part of its musical score, three songs written by the Pioneers.

Dale Evans and George "Gabby" Hayes are featured in the film.

"Molly And Me" Hilarious Hit Packed Entertainment

"Molly And Me," 20th Century-Fox's riotous new hit which opened yesterday at the Monkland United Theatre, is just what the doctor ordered — a wonderful work-out for your funny bone, and a swell lift for your spirits.

First of all, "Molly and Me" brings Gracie Fields and Monty Woolley back to the screen, paired as the incomparable fun team that they are. Their re-appearance after too long a wait since "Holy Matrimony," is as welcome as the first sign of spring.

And if this weren't enough, Roddy McDowall is also included in the star cast.

And thirdly, the above stars have been provided with a vehicle that is by all odds the most refreshingly different, delightfully diverting and downright hilarious screen play of the year.

In "Molly And Me," Gracie Fields is the Gracie Fields the whole civilized world knows and loves. For in addition to the fine dramatic talent she revealed in "Holy Matrimony," in her current film Gracie is given full rein as the fabulous comedienne-singer-stress that she is. To hear her sing her wonderful songs as she does in the picture is a not-to-be-missed treat in itself. What this blithe spirit does to scorpion-tongued Monty Woolley's peace of mind when, weary of starving as a musical comedy star "at liberty," she weedles a job as his housekeeper, defies description in mere type here.

The great "Beard"—the one and only Monty Woolley—has a veritable field day in the role of a wealthy Englishman, who, embittered by a marital scandal, cherishes stony solitude only to have Gracie and boisterous theatrical colleagues invade his sanctuary. The screen fairly crackles with each flip of his triple-jointed tongue. Never has he had such grand lines, never has his performance been more enjoyable. Woolley's field day is a gala holiday for the audience.

That Roddy McDowall holds his own with these two veteran performers is indeed a tribute to the amazingly talented young actor. His sequences with Gracie Fields are among the highlights of the picture. His superb portrayal of Monty Woolley's son, coming on the heels of his sensational performance in "Thunderhead—Son of Flicka," easily puts him at the very top of Hollywood's brilliant young stars.

Reginald Gardiner adds much to the delight of the film as the beer-loving butler, as does Natalie Schafer as the chorus queen who married a titled millionaire.

"National Velvet" Fascinating New Film With Rooney

A dream of glory shared by two youngsters—a dream that becomes a reality—is unfolded in deeply absorbing human terms in a fascinating new picture that has come to the Westmount United Theatre.

That picture is "National Velvet", produced in Technicolor by Metro - Goldwyn - Mayer with Mickey Rooney and Elizabeth Taylor as the chief protagonists. Directed and produced by those makers of hits, Clarence Brown and Pandro Berman, "National Velvet" relates the story, based on Enid Bagnold's best-seller novel, of an ex-jockey who becomes the trainer of an unwanted horse owned by a 12-year-old girl. Their great dream is to win the Grand National at Aintree, England—the most famous, most gruelling race of them all.

How they do it makes for solid entertainment, for laughter and for tears, for joy and near-tragedy. It brings us outstanding characterizations by such veteran actors as Donald Crisp, Arthur Treacher, Anne Revere and Reginald Owen, as well as the up-and-coming youngsters headed by Miss Taylor and including young Jackie Jenkins of "Human Comedy" fame and Angela Lansbury, who scored as the maid in "Gaslight" in her American debut.

As dour Mr. Brown, Crisp opposes the children's idea, but understanding Mrs. Brown encourages them and gives them the entry money for the horse. The Pie, as the horse is named, becomes sick, and Mickey and Elizabeth stay up all night and save his life. They finally get to the race track only to discover at the last moment that they have no rider for the horse. Elizabeth, in a desperate move, cuts her hair and poses as a boy. She goes on to win the race in what is certainly the most thrilling contest ever brought to the screen.

The Browns are a delightful family, with their hopes and their peculiarities. Mickey turns in an outstanding performance as the ex-jockey, one that is different by far from his usual roles. Indeed, everyone connected with the production deserves laurels.

See "National Velvet" for a really thrilling, absorbing piece of entertainment.

Many airmen who trained under the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan formed permanent ties with Canada. More than 3,750 members of the RAF, the RAAF, the RZNAF and allied nationals under RAF quota married Canadian girls.

During the past seven months, the CBC's International Service has been beaming shortwave broadcasts to Germany. Many of these programs were made with the help of German prisoners-of-war in Canada, some of whom recorded talks which were broadcast to Germany.

ACTION AND ROMANCE! Alan Ladd and Gail Russell in a scene from "Salty O'Rourke," which starts Sunday at The Monkland United Theatre playing until Tuesday night.

"A Royal Scandal" Tops In Sparkling Lubitsch Fun

The famous "Lubitsch touch" has cut loose again, and this time it has delivered a wallop package of top entertainment in "A Royal Scandal," which opened yesterday at the York United Theatre, and which is the most hilarious hit yet from the screen's master of subtle, saucy comedy.

With Tallulah Bankhead, Charles Coburn, Anne Baxter and William Eythe in starring roles, "A Royal Scandal" tells of some merry goings-on in the Russian Imperial Palace during the reign of amorous, glamorous Catherine the Great. While the titillating tale related here is not mentioned in the history books, Catherine the Great being Catherine the Great, the whole smacks of more than mere keyhole scandal, and is twice as delectable.

The picture races at a mad and merry pace through three wonderful days and three wonderful nights with the queen who felt oh-so-alone on the throne and needed men around her all the time. Outside her regal presence, the men are busy as beavers—plotting her overthrow.

What happens when a handsome and utterly loyal young lieutenant tries to warn her of the impending loss of her throne, and Catherine, more impressed by his virility than by his warning, promotes him to the rank of general only to have her patronage turn him into revolutionary rather than romantic channels, makes for saucily rich film fare, and the most delightfully delicious hit of the year.

Tallulah Bankhead plays Catherine the Great to a royal fare-thee-well. In her hands, what might have otherwise been handled as merely a broad burlesque characterization emerges as a joyously conceived, exquisitely deft portrayal. In brief—Tallulah is terrific!

As the wily Chancellor, Charles Coburn proves once again the stuff of which Academy Award winners are made. This is his most unusual role, and his best.

Anne Baxter offers a wonderful surprise in her first glamorous role as the lady-in-waiting who unexpectedly finds herself in romantic competition with the queen, herself.

William Eythe definitely establishes star status as the young lieutenant who obeys the queen's every command—with pleasure. The brilliant supporting cast of "A Royal Scandal" is headed by Vincent Price.

In addition to the "Lubitsch touch," the film sparkles with "Preminger polish," for it is Otto Preminger's direction that "A Royal Scandal" owes much of the quality that makes it a "must see" on every movie list.

STANDARD TIME BEGINS SUNDAY

Back go the hands of the clock one hour Saturday after midnight, giving residents of the district the added benefit of an extra hour's rest. Daylight saving, having served its useful wartime allotted task of providing more light hours, goes into discard and Standard time returns to Canada and the United States simultaneously.

Thousands Turn

The dense crowds which lined both sides of Victoria avenue, gave the marching troops a rousing ovation; and as the intersection of Victoria avenue and Sherbrooke was approached, another huge regimental banner duplicated the welcome home greeting.

As the head of the parade reached Victoria Hall, where General E. J. Renaud, C.B., C.B.E., took the salute, the band swung into the side of Sherbrooke and played, as the long column swung past the service leaders on the saluting base, on their way to Westmount Park.

AT THE PARK

The scene at the Park was not unlike the setting of a medieval tourney ground; Dominion and Empire flags waved in the breeze from tall standards; hundreds of returning soldiers' kith and kin rested on stands provided for them at either end of the enclosure; and the two Battalions faced each other within the square, while around the enclosure were massed vast crowds of spectators.

Proceeding within the enclosure, ceremonies were opened by Mayor Adams, resplendent in his mayoralty chain of office, who, in the name of Westmount, welcomed home the regiment. Service leaders then voiced the thanks of the military authorities for the regiment's glorious contribution towards the National victory, then followed the significant ceremony of handing over the colours, to the reserve battalion, the giving of three hearty cheers to the men of the 1st Battalion; and the March on the Colours, which emptied the enclosure of all except the Provost Corps, the returned veterans and their next of kin.

Then the real highlight of the entire afternoon took place, the pent-up emotions of the next of kin were released, and like straws in the path of a tidal wave, the Provost Corps were engulfed in the surging flood of human beings, who rushed to really welcome the returned men.

SHAUGHNESSY BANS RADIO INTERVIEWS

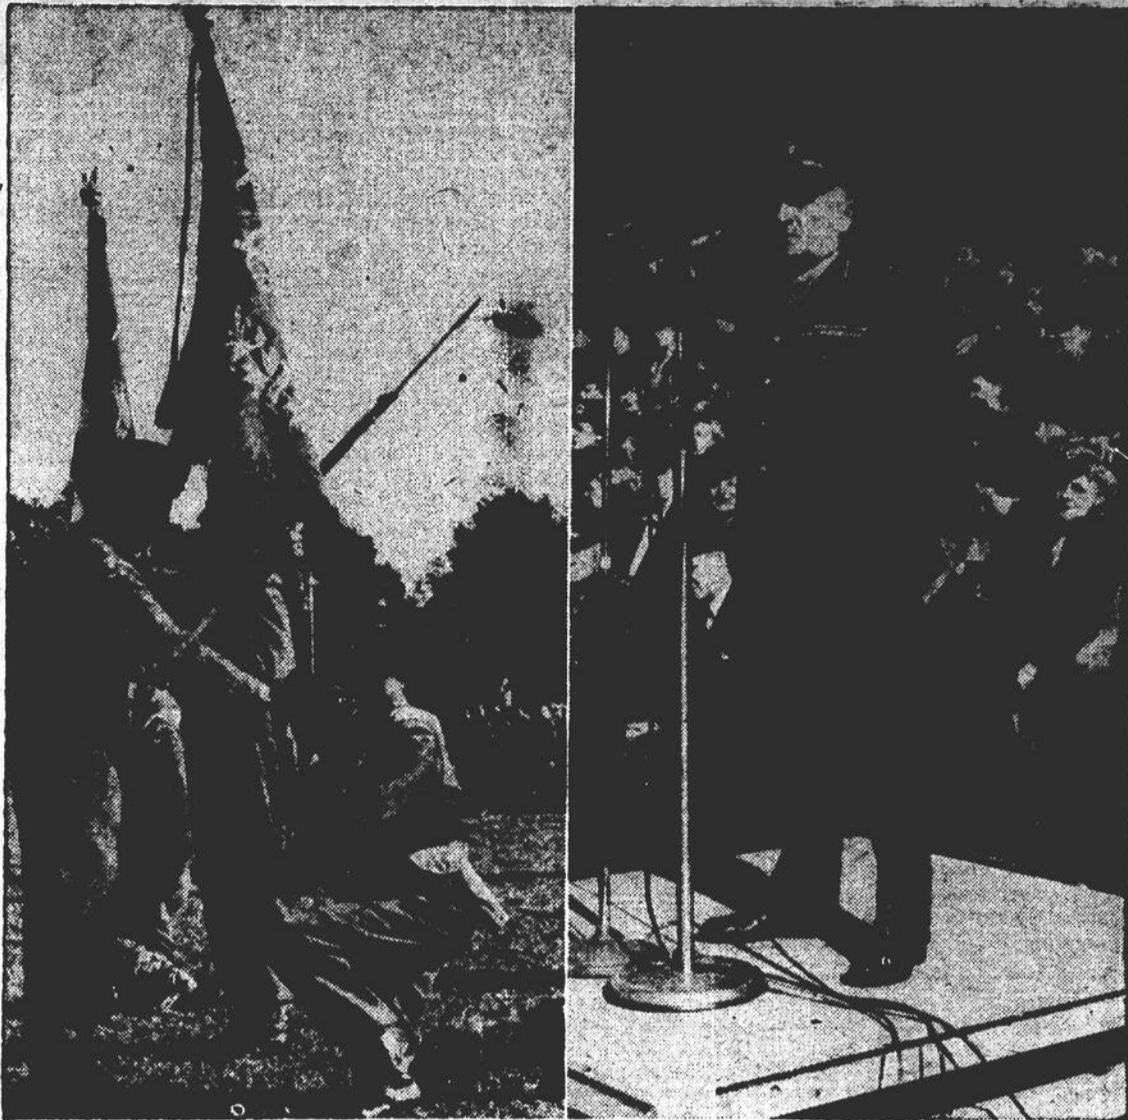

President Frank Shaughnessy of the International Baseball League has forbidden players under his jurisdiction from appearing on a local interview radio program — and we're not surprised if the program we have in mind is the one the brief press announcement referred to, and we think it is.

We have heard some foolish things on the radio, but the most ill-considered question we ever heard popped over the air was that of last Saturday night when Ray Hathaway and Howie Shultz were being interviewed. It was just after Ray had won a 1-to-0 decision over Red Kress, the Royals only run being scored on a miff of an easy pop fly by Oriole's second-baseman Pfeifer. The miff sent the series into a seventh and final game.

The radio interviewer asked one of the players — we've forgotten whether it was Shultz or Hathaway — if Pfeifer could have dropped the ball purposely to prolong the series into another big game.

No, the interviewer wasn't killed on the spot by the two players, although it wouldn't have surprised anybody if he had been. With great restraint, we thought, it was explained to the interviewer and the listening public that the players stood to gain nothing by an additional game — that it would have been much more to the Baltimore player's advantage to win that game and the series and get on into the Little World Series

R.M.R.'S WELCOMED IN WESTMOUNT

Marking the return of the 1st. Battalion, Royal Montreal Regiment, after five years active service overseas, an official military and civic reception was held in honour of the men last Saturday afternoon by the citizens of Westmount. During the ceremony, the colours of the 1st. Battalion (top left) were transferred for safekeeping to the 2nd. Battalion (Reserve). The King's colours were accepted on behalf of the 2nd. Battalion by Lt.-Col. H. C. Brewer, M.C., from Maj. M. A. Willis, who commanded the 1st. Battalion on its journey home. Extending an official welcome (right) Maj. Gen. E. J. Renaud, C.B., C.B.E., congratulates the regiment upon their victorious war record. — (Canadian Army Photo) where some real money is made by the players.

When one considers all the circumstances that surrounded that ninth inning it would be no exaggeration to say that there isn't enough money in Canada or the United States to have persuaded Pfeifer to drop that ball. The question reflected not only on the integrity of the player concerned, but upon baseball as a whole. Frank Shaughnessy's reported description of the question as "ridiculous" is putting it mildly.

Come to consider the matter, Montreal's baseball broadcasting is pretty terrible compared with what most large cities provide. Not only in description, but in the interpretation of the game and even in the matter of vocal inflection we don't do as well as Burlington, Vermont, for example. Our French broadcasters are considerably better.

Out-doing Prince Oana

After writing those paragraphs on the tactics of Prince Henry Oana in last week's column, we ran across an item in The Sporting News which told of a pitcher out on the Pacific Coast who apparently outdoes Oana in playing on the nerves of the opposition.

The pitcher's name is Bud Beasley, and he is a left-handed eccentric of a sort, but effective. He had won 11 and lost 3 for Sacramento at the time the item was written. The story referred to told of him pitching to Spencer Harris, one of the toughest hitters in the league. Sacramento was ahead 3 to 2, the bases were loaded and two were out when Harris stepped to the plate. Ten minutes later Beasley struck him out. In the interim Beasley changed balls five times, had seen that their weight was "right" by juggling one ball in each hand several times.

He then went to the dugout for a drink of water, and then conferred with his catcher. Before the final pitch he went to the plate and borrowed Harris' bat to knock the dirt out of his cleats. Then Harris went down swinging while the Sacramento fans went wild with delight.

When Pusie Tried Free Shot Jean Pusie, who used to play hockey for Canadiens, was a showman of the same type. In a game at New York he was awarded a penalty shot. The puck was placed on the line, and Pusie went back to begin his "run". But he changed his mind and went over and shook hands with the referee. Then he shook hands with the Ranger goaler. Then he went far back and took a lightning race at the puck, but missed it entirely.

He went back to start over again, shook hands with the goaler again, but the ref refused to repeat his part of the ceremony and threatened Pusie with the law if he didn't get the play complete within a reasonable time.

Finally getting his stick on the

W.H.S. Meet McGee Tomorrow

DAVIES' DAREDEVILS CERTAIN THEY'LL WIN

Westmount's Senior A gridders, who were smeared 30-5 in the curtain-raiser of the 1945 season by West Hill at Molson Stadium last Saturday, are confident that they'll hit the win column tomorrow when they tangle at Molson with D'Arcy McGee in the first game of a double bill that will see West Hill and Montreal clash in the nightcap.

Last Sunday Loyola handed the McGee lads a 57-0 shellacking, the highest score ever registered in the school Senior A circuit. But the McGeeans should be a lot stronger when they trot out on the Molson Stadium green tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock. Brother Angelus has been replaced as coach by Johnny Fripp and Freddy Lamoureux of the Hornets, Montreal entry in the Big Four.

Tommy Barbeau, the Double Blue's signals caller, is the mainstay of the Pine Avenue aggregation. He's a triple threat man who will bear plenty of watching tomorrow.

Lew Davies' men will field essentially the same squad that played last week.

ONE FOR WEST HILL

West Hill's famed Red Raiders had an easy time chalking up their first win of the 1945 season last Saturday. They showed complete superiority in every department with their power plays through the line earning them special plaudits from the football players of yesteryear.

Six unconverted touchdowns gave the Red Raiders their 30 points while Pete "Speedy" Truehand bucked his way through the red front wall for Westmount's only major.

Freddie Wolthausen, the Chesley men's blonde quarterback from Montreal West, notched two of the Red and Grey's five-pointers as did chunky Howard Harvey, middle. The two others were tallied by captain Edgar Mott and flying wing Don MacLaughlan.

The Red Raiders' forward pass defence seemed to be weaker than a healthy. Westmount completed two tosses in succession in the final quarter. Had they begun an aerial attack earlier in the game the score may have been somewhat different.

But tomorrow the Purple and White should hit the win column. If they don't down D'Arcy McGee they probably will go without a victory all this season.

NOTES

West Hill's exhibition tussle with Everett High School, scheduled to be played south of the border on October 6, has been called off, WHHS coach Roy Chesley announced this week. . . No injuries were reported in the West Hill camp after Saturday's opening battle but the locals had a lengthy injured list. . . The Loyola-Catholic High game, scheduled to be played on the Collegians' campus this Sunday p.m., has been postponed to make way for peace celebrations. . . The Red and Green started off on the right foot last Sunday by downing D'Arcy McGee 57-0. . . George Allerton, "the voice of West Hill," saw the game and commented, "They're good—but not that good". . . Well, we'll find out on Thanksgiving Day when the West Hillians meet Loyola on the latter's home field. . . Pte. Two St. Leo Teams Ready For Action

By BOB LUNNY

Andy McGillis has two St. Leo's football teams to take care of this year, the Senior "B" and Bantam. Jack Lunny, a regular half-back for the seniors, broke his collarbone in last Saturday's practice. He'll be out for the season. Teammate Dave Manning is out for the remainder of the month with a torn ligament.

John Dozois is the new student of St. Leo's Senior "B". He is a former St. Leo's snap. Due to circumstances beyond his control, Johnny will not be able to play this year.

Three boys from last year's fourth high are playing under two different colors in the Senior "A" league. Bill Harold and Jack O'Brien are playing for Loyola and Jackie Martin is with D'Arcy McGee. There is also Bucky Orr, who starred for last year's Bantams and has switched to Loyola Bantams.

Harry Wolfe has been elected captain of the Bantams. Harry stars in three major sports in the school. Raymond Losito is one of the best tacklers, for his age, in the school. Bert Lattimer has taken over kicking duties from Neil O'Brien. O'Brien was hurt at one of the practices.

"WHAT CAN YOU SPARE THAT THEY CAN WEAR?"

(This Is "Clean Out Your Clothes Closet Week.")

Lack of essential clothing, shoes and blankets is responsible for much of the suffering, sickness and death among the people of Greece. There, according to recent report, one in every six persons is afflicted with tuberculosis and, unless the desperately needed apparel and bedding is quickly forthcoming, a tremendous rise in this disease can be expected, the medical authorities say.

Canada is the one current source of such supplies, not only for the Greeks but for the peoples of other war-devastated countries. Contributions of such materials from among the discarded things in Canadian homes now are being assembled by the National Clothing Collection, to meet these desperate needs. All Canadians should contribute their used but still serviceable, apparel and blankets if they can do so without need of replacement.

There is a National Clothing Collection receiving depot in your neighborhood. See that your spare apparel is delivered there.

Berry has taken up a key position on the team. He is a 185-pound snap. The games scheduled for last Monday and Tuesday were cancelled.

The Amazing Spider

Many people imagine that spiders are insects. They are not, writes "A. B. C." in the R.S.P.C.A. Journal. A spider is divided into two distinct parts, not into three, as an insect is, for there is no division between a spider's head and its shoulders, and that is one reason by which we know it is not an insect. But there are other differences as well.

A spider has eight legs, and no grown-up perfect insect ever has more than six. These are points worth remembering, for it is always interesting to be able to recognize to what class our little friends belong.

There are other differences, but these cannot so easily be seen. Insects breathe by a net-work of air-tubes running all over the body; but a spider, besides these air-tubes, has generally two or four little lung-books.

It is easy to remember that, as well as having eight legs, a spider has eight eyes. These are like little bright heads, and are arranged in two rows on the front of its head. These eyes are not like the great compound eyes of most insects, but like the three simple eyes the bee has in the middle of her forehead. As a matter of fact, for all its eyes, the spider is very short-sighted, and depends on its keen sense of smell and touch for finding its food.

Although the spider has smelling bristles on its body, it is really its fine sense of touch that is of most value to it. This has its centre in the fine bristles at the ends of the legs, and constitutes the highest form of sensitiveness known.

This amazing little creature is a spinning expert, and carries around its own spinning factory. At the end of the body there are six spinning fingers, called spinnerets, which make the most exquisite spinning machine, said to be the most wonderful in the world. These fingers are short and stumpy, with rounded tips, and are covered with little spinning tubes or spools, with a tiny hole at the end of each, through which the silk comes out.

The silk is not a skein inside the spinner, but is liquid until it comes in contact with the air. The spider can use as many spools at a time as it likes, and so can vary the thickness of the threads, and the quality of the silk. It has three different kinds of silk, and always uses the best suited for the work it is doing—a snare to catch food; a soft cocoon for the children; or a swinging-rope for itself.

Have you ever studied the beauty of a spider's web? It is a most lovely thing. In the early morning, glistening with dew-drops, it is as beautiful as jeweled lace. I wish I had space to tell you of some wonderful cobwebs.

A spider has beautiful little claws on its feet, like tiny combs. These it uses for combing itself most carefully, for it is very particular to keep itself neat and clean. A spider never neglects its toilet.

But I have to confess that these little people are quarrelsome and quick tempered and, alas, that they are cannibals, too!

REPORTED DEAD

P/O Edward John Kennedy, R.C.A.F., son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Kennedy, of 138 Abbott Avenue, is now reported for official purposes to be dead. He was reported missing following air operations last September. A memorial mass was held for him on Monday in the Church of the Ascension of Our Lord.

SOMETHING TO CHEER ABOUT

WEST HILLIANS SURE OF WIN OVER BLUE AND WHITE AGGREGATION

West Hill High School's Senior A football powerhouse, known throughout the length and breadth of this island, as the Red Raiders, are confident that they will taste the fruits of victory for the second time this season on Saturday, when they will clash with Montreal High in the second game of a double bill at Molson Stadium, which will see Westmount meet up with D'Arcy McGee in the opener.

The West Hillians, nattily clad in maroon painted pants and sporting sweaters of a more crimson hue than those of past years, started off on the right foot at Molson Stadium last Saturday, when they trounced Westmount, their arch rivals of many years, 30-5.

But leave us examine this Montreal High squad, which will be opposing the Chesley men this Saturday. The Blue and White have been considered weakened by the loss of speedy Sandy Spence, the fair-haired flying wing, who was the receiving end of the Manastersky-Spence forward pass combination.

And that Tommy Manastersky will bear plenty of watching. He is a whole team in himself, can pass, buck, kick, block and tackle with the best of them and has as much fighting spirit as anyone in the inter-scholastic loop. But that fighting is combined with a quick temper and the dopsters wouldn't be surprised if hefty Thomas is ejected from the game for throwing his fists around.

If Manastersky is banished, Glen Brown's boys will have to rely on George Valois and Norm Sauve, two rather formidable customers, for their offensive power. And perhaps the name of Billy Munro, who is also famed as a baseball and hockey player, should also be included there.

Others on the Montreal roster include, Bob MacGregor, Tommy Jones, Ron Murray, Pete Robinson, Ted Sidney, Alex Todesco, Don Henderson, John Chaney, Ron Dakers, D. Leduc, Sam Salvatore, Ross Baldwin, Russ Norman, Bill Morrow, Warren Gamble, Smith, Andy Martin, Jim Britton, George Gorloff, Don Cameron, John Logan, (who may not be available for Saturday's game, as he begins classes at McGill on Monday, and has been only filling in time at the University street educational haven), Gene Cooper and Lloyd Hughes. West Hill will field the same team that downed Westmount, last Saturday. Husky Ross Knights, he of baseball pitching fame, has rejoined the squad after being out for a few days with an infected eye, and this week Edgar Mott and Don Macquisten, who were late in returning to school, should be even better than they were on opening day. The duo, who are in grade 12, are now in their best form. Mott was elected captain before last week's game.

Displaying complete superiority over a lighter and less experienced Westmount crew, West Hill had an easy time handing out a 30-5 shellacking in the curtain raiser of the 1945 season at Molson Stadium last Saturday. The Red Raiders took over a lead they never relinquished less than five minutes after the opening whistle.

West Hill kicked off and took possession of the ball, when the Westmounters fumbled on their second play. Bill Ratray gave the Raiders a first down on the Purple and White's two yard line, when he toted the pigskin 33 yards.

Then the Lew Davies men stiffened their line. Two bucks were stopped with scarcely any gain. On third down though, captain Edgar Mott plunged his way through, to give the locals a 5-0 lead.

From then on, the issue was never in doubt. West Hill kicked off again, and this time, the Westmount crew fumbled on their first play, to lose possession of the ball.

Fred Wolthausen, the blonde signals caller from Montreal West, went over for the second five-pointer, after a series of deceptive plays, most of them based on the vaunted T-formation, had carried the ball to the Westmount three.

Don MacLaughlin bucked over from one yard out, for the third touchdown and then, in the second quarter, the Westmounters temporarily came to life. A spirited drive, headed by backfielders, Sandy Edmison and Pete "Speedy" Trueland, brought the ball to the Red Raiders' one yard stripe. From there, Trueland plunged across to make the score 15-5.

Chunky Howard Harvey, who played a fine game at middle for the winners, entered the scoring picture, when he picked up another Westmount fumble, and raced 30 yards for a touch-

TENNIS

PRESENTATIONS

The annual presentation of prizes won during the season on the municipal tennis courts will take place this evening at Victoria Hall when a large crowd of players who use the courts in the summer months will attend another "Tennis Party". The event, originally scheduled for last week, was postponed until tonight.

In addition to the presentation of prizes, there will be dancing, entertainment and refreshments. Present plans call for the affair to start sometime after eight-thirty.

Those intending to go and who have not already made reservations, may obtain tickets at the door.

The winners of titles on the municipal courts during the season, who will receive prizes at tonight's event, include Colin Maas, winner of the men's singles tournament; Miss Flo Arama, ladies' singles champion; Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Manson, mixed doubles' titlists; Sid Quinton and Em Stack men's doubles champions.

down. Then, on the first play of the fourth quarter, Fred Wolthausen plunged 17 yards for the fifth five-pointer and Harvey notched his second score when he retrieved a blocked Westmount kick and streaked over the pay-off line.

West Hill stressed power plays through the line. Only once, did they throw a forward pass, and during the entire game, they did not resort to kicking. The only flaw in the West Hill defensive armour seem to be an inability to cope with forward passes. In the last quarter of Saturday's game, Westmount completed two in succession.

Six Man Rugby Loop To Open Schedule Tuesday

The Westmount Municipal Six Man Rugby League will open its schedule Tuesday afternoon at King George Park and will continue until the middle of November. Doubleheaders will be played each Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons and on Saturday mornings.

There will be four sections in the league this year—midget, bantam A, bantam B and pee wee. Midgets will be for players 16 years of age and under weighing 125 pounds and under; the bantam groups will be for players 14 years of age and under not weighing more than 110 pounds while the pee wees will be for players 12 years and under who do not weigh more than 90 pounds. The difference between the A and B groups in the bantam section is that one group, the B's, are for players who are not on any school teams and are in the elementary schools, while the other is more or less open to boys of the correct classifications.

It is expected that there will be at least five entries in the pee wees, four in each of the bantam groups and four or five in the midgets.

Three definite pee wee entries include the King's School Red Sox, captained by Dave Seeley, with the following lineup: Jim Pickford, Colin Hammond, Dave Rogers, Ronnie Jones, Ronnie Shea, John Sharman, Eric Jones and Michael McLean. The King's School Aces are captained by Jack Cote and have the following players: Donald Anderson, Bob Sherlock, Evan Roper, Hugh Doull, Joseph Williams, Dick Harling, Michael Harling and Michael Hewton. Another club is Lonnie Holland's "Strathconas", which includes Jim Quarles, Petie Holland, John Swift, Andy Reid and Chris Keating.

Four midget clubs have also signified their intentions of entering the league along with one bantam A squad. The midget entries are Dave Barnard's Eagles, Richard Lord's Tornados, Mike Tucker's Tigers and Marvin Greenbaum's Cyclones. The bantam A aggregation is Richard Lord's Tornados.

Clubs wishing to enter the league may still obtain a franchise by applying to Recreation Supervisor Jim McCormick at the office in the greenhouse no later than tomorrow noon.

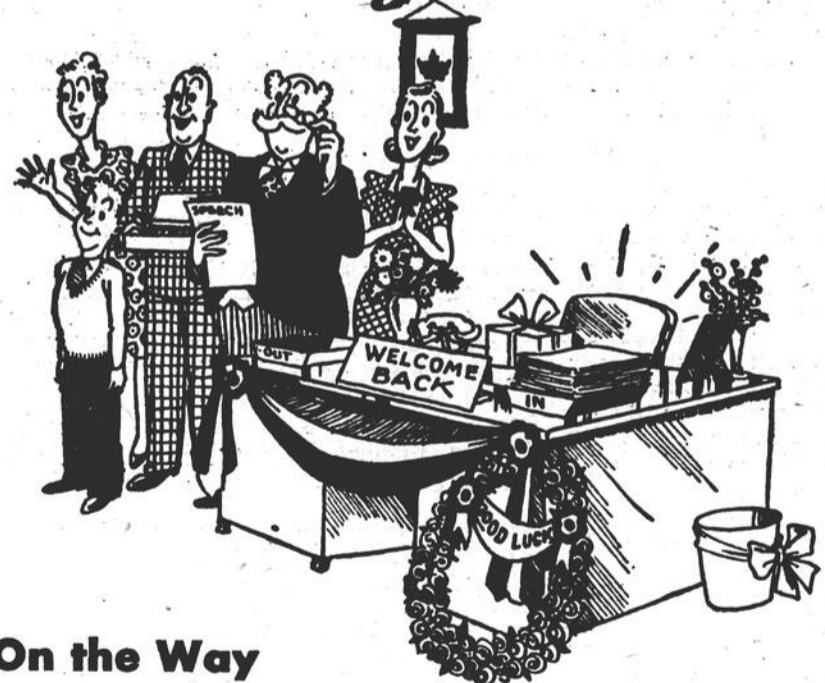

Curlers To Hold Classic In March

Thomas Rennie, chairman of the Board of Trustees for the Macdonald Brier Curling Tankard announces that the Dominion Championship Playdowns will be resumed in 1946 and Saskatoon, Sask., will be the next venue of the curling classic on March 4, 6 and 7.

Cancelled in the late fall of 1942 for the duration of the war this will be welcome news for the devotees of the roarin' game across Canada. The last meeting was in the old City of Quebec March, 1942.

Chief Justice Thane A. Campbell, of the Supreme Court of Prince Edward Island, has been named to fill the vacancy on the Board of Trustees, replacing the late Colonel Peter D. Lyall, Montreal. The other trustees are Chairman Thomas Rennie, Toronto, and Senator John Haig of Winnipeg.

Where's Joe?

On the Way to his Old Job

Yes, Joe is going back to his old job; just as thousands of other Canadian service men are at this time.

They will be greeting old friends and making many new ones. Be a leader in extending a hearty hand of welcome to the men who took time off to look after the business of free people all over the world.

Tell them that it was a job well done; and show them they have a new job well worth doing.

GIVE PROTECTION

Scarlet fever is a communicable disease and can cause serious complications, but medical science has developed and is perfecting a protective agent against this disease. This agent is scarlet fever toxin. It has not been perfected as has diphtheria toxoid, but it gives 80 per cent. protection. There were 20,945 cases of the disease in Canada last year and 114 deaths attributed to it.

This is National Immunization Week, sponsored by the Health League of Canada in co-operation with health departments. It is designed to draw public attention to the fact that Canadian children can and should be protected through immunization against diphtheria, whooping cough, scarlet fever and smallpox.

Donations from private service clubs and organizations in Canada to the United Kingdom totalled $15,742,404 for the two years 1942 and 1943 alone.

Aid Stressed By V. McAdam

In a brief address to Rotarians of Montreal Westward Club, which preceded the remarkable address of J. Arthur Lagueux, V. McAdam, Secretary-Manager of Weredale House, spoke in support of the Welfare Federation Campaign Drive. Declaring it was as "carrying coals to Newcastle" to appeal to Rotary on Welfare, he vividly stressed the 10-day hope of those in charge and the agencies represented concerning the $1,021,000 objective. Remarking that charity used to start at home and a commendable trait of Canadians is the desire to aid those in need of assistance, he added charity was mainly started by the church and people willing to help the fellow next door, but it has proved, at best a hit and miss proposition. When remembering the Welfare Federation Drive remember also the need is still there, he said.

There are 30 agencies concerned and they need every cent of the objective. Three points he stressed were: As many workers as possible required and he expected Rotary to be fruitful field for volunteers. To talk Welfare

Federation and support the need, with Quebec accounting for 27 per cent. of the total. The first co-operative in Canada was formed 155 years ago when Nova Scotia farmers decided to form an agricultural co-operative society in 1790 to develop a better market for their beef.

of Eaton's

I snapped these youngsters at the Montreal Day Nursery, at play, under the watchful eye of Federation workers.

Appealing for help on behalf of her daughter, this mother found help, counsel and guidance at a Family Agency.

I saw character in the making at the Negro Community Centre—an important part of Federation's work.

And how these kiddies ate! They were clean, cared-for, bright-eyed citizens of tomorrow.

This man, once sightless, now devotes his life to translating music manuscripts into Braille.

At the end of a pleasant day's tour, this cool swim at the Y.W.C.A. made me want to get into a bathing suit, too. (P.S. I did!)

"WE WERE GLAD TO COVER THIS SPECIAL ASSIGNMENT"

Iris Smallwood,
Feature Writer,
Montreal Standard

"Reporters have the reputation of being hard-boiled. But if you were assigned to cover some of Welfare Federation's activities, you'd come back, as I did, with very mixed feelings.

"You'd probably be a little sad. So many people are burdened with more than their share of worries, some emotional, some economic. Broken homes, children left motherless, illness, cutting off the father's support, large families wedged into two-room flats... these are a few of the problems they have to face.

"You might feel too, as I did, a little proud that many Montrealers are helping with their time, talent or money, to ease the unhappiness of their fellow-citizens.

"More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of... So far the poet. But this is a practical world we live in. We must be realists as well as idealists, and realize the necessity of financial support to give expression to our prayers.

"Would you close your door to a despairing 19-year old mother? ... deny an invalid medical care? ... deprive children of their right to good food and sunshine? ... WOULD YOU?

"I know the answer. So do you. "Welfare Federation is your volunteer middleman. Give them the best you have to offer—just as their workers are doing, to countless hundreds every day."

G.E. McCormick,
Editor,
Montreal Herald

"If it were practical for all of Montreal to see at first hand the work done by the agencies of Welfare Federation, there would be little need of a campaign for funds. "Other Montrealers would see, as I saw, the sympathetic aid that is given unstintingly to many in the community whose needs would otherwise go unattended.

"I accompanied a Victorian Order Nurse on her tour of the sick and disabled. At the end of the day, her energy and good humour brought as much comfort as they had to her first patient. "A routine check-up on a foster home introduced me to two children and their foster mother whose love is giving them their first real security.

"I have seen youngsters at a Welfare-sponsored summer camp—for many of them their first trip to the country—having a holiday away from the dirt and heat of Montreal in August.

"And back in town, a frightened teenager, faced with a problem too baffling for her experience, regaining her self-possession from a Welfare worker's assurance.

"Montreal should be grateful for what is being done. Welfare Federation is discharging your responsibility and mine. There is no limit to its help. There should be no limit to your giving. Give with a good heart... give till it hurts."

This glimpse into Welfare Federation's work was a special assignment to these reporters undertaken VOLUNTARILY. To Welfare Workers, it is an EVERY-DAY assignment to help people solve their problems, to help youngsters reap their share of happiness, and to help the sick to recovery.

Welfare Federation is NOT a charity organization. It is a body of loyal specialists discharging your responsibility as citizens of this community.

Help these workers the only way you can... with your dollars. Help them carry on with their vital work. Your dollars can mean a world of happiness to some one.
