American Tariff Policy Hurts Canada's Potential

OTTAWA (CP) — Two Canadian authorities say a tough United States tariff policy is crippling Canada's potential industrial expansion but the rise of Soviet economic power may force the U.S. to reduce her import barriers.

That thesis was set out in a special 344-page study prepared for the Gordon economic commission and made public today. Authors are Professor Irving Brecher of McGill University and S. S. Reisman, the finance department's director of international economic relations.

Canada Still Trying To Catch Up With US

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada is trying to "catch up" with United States economic growth and the end of this process is "not yet in sight," a report on economic relations between the two countries suggested today.

The study, prepared for the Gordon economic commission by two Canadian economists, said there still is a large gap in the relative economic wealth between the two countries—perhaps about 20 or 30 per cent.

For example, American national production, on a per capita basis, amounted to some $2,366 in 1955 compared to $1,719 in Canada. Average disposable income in Canada that year amounted to some $1,169, about 71 per cent of the American figure.

But during the next few decades the rate of growth of Canada's population and production will likely far exceed the American rate, the report said.

EXPECT BIGGER INCREASE

U.S. population might rise by some 51 per cent in the 1950-75 period, to 229,000,000 from 152,000,000. Canada's population might increase by some 75 per cent to 24,000,000 from 14,000,000.

(The report used a 1950 population figure, Canada's population is expected to reach 17,000,000 within a few months.)

The report said national production in the U.S. may double in the 1950-75 period to some $588,000,000,000—an increase of some 2.8 per cent a year. Canada's production might rise at an annual rate of 3.25 per cent to

US-Bossed Unions Dominate Canadian Organized Labor

OTTAWA (CP) — International unions with headquarters in the United States are the dominant force in Canadian organized labor, the Gordon economic commission was told in a report made public today.

But the report said Canadian branches of those unions have wide freedom to make their own decisions, and there is no indication that the international unions try to force Canadian employers to pay the same wages obtained south of the border.

In fact, Canadian wages ran about 25 or 30 per cent below those in the U.S. and that gap had been continuing for some time although membership in international unions had increased greatly.

The labor study was included in a report on Canada-U.S. economic relations by S. S. Reisman of the finance department and Professor Irving Brecher of McGill University.

Snowfall Stalls British Travelling

LONDON (AP) — Two passenger trains were stalled today by snowdrifts in Scotland, and naval and air force helicopters stood ready to take help to isolated villages as the severe cold wave continued in Britain.

There was snow in every county, but the heaviest falls today were in the highlands of Scotland.

Numerous villages have been cut off, but most highlanders are prepared for such emergencies. Helicopters were ready at Kinross and Lossiemouth to respond to any calls for help.

Gaillard Survives Confidence Vote

PARIS (AP) — A two-day National Assembly debate on foreign affairs ended Wednesday night with another vote of confidence in Premier Felix Gaillard's government. The count was 343 to 224.

The endorsement of Gaillard's foreign policies came after both the premier and Foreign Minister Christian Pineau told parliament that France must arm with ballistic missiles able to strike Soviet bases.

NEW VENEZUELA RIOTING AS DICTATORSHIP FALLS

CARACAS, Venezuela — (AP) — President Marcos Perez Jimenez fled from Venezuela today, but new bloodshed marred the wild public jubilation which followed the dictator's downfall.

National guardsmen opened fire on a crowd which moved on its headquarters to release political prisoners ordered freed by a military junta which took over the government. An unknown number of persons were reported killed and others were wounded.

The junta rushed two tanks to the guard headquarters to stop the firing. It appealed to the people to clear the area around the guard headquarters so the release of the prisoners could proceed without disturbances.

Perez Jimenez took to his heels after a brief but bloody civilian uprising in which the military finally joined. The junta at once began restoring some of the liberties the dictatorship of nearly 10 years had suppressed.

In addition to freedom for all political prisoners it ordered all officers who took part in the short-lived New Year's revolt restored to their ranks. Punishments against them were cancelled.

Censorship was lifted. Political exiles abroad made plans to return to their homeland.

Celebrating thousands jammed the streets of Caracas in cars and trucks and on foot. They cheered wildly, waved Venezuelan flags and honked horns. Flag-waving students, the most publicly vocal of the ousted dictator's opponents, congregated in front of the statue of Simon Bolivar, the South American liberator.

Perez Jimenez, dictator of the oil-rich country for nearly 10 years, left the presidential palace at 2:15 a.m., drove to La Carlota Airport and took off at 3:08 a.m. — apparently for the Dominican Republic.

He left behind an estimated 100 dead and hundreds injured in two days of rioting and clashes between anti-government demonstrators and troops and police.

The government radio announced that all branches of the armed forces and the military schools had united with the civilian fighters to overthrow Perez Jimenez.

NAMES JUNTA

Another broadcast said the new governing junta included navy Capt. Wolfgang Larrazabal, Col. Jose Luis Betancourt and Pedro Jose Quevedo of the army, Col. Miguel de la Rosa of the air force and Col. Nieto Bastos of the national guard.

The announcement said the junta went into session before dawn at Miraflores Palace to draw up a new cabinet. It added that none of the junta members would take cabinet posts.

As word spread of the presidential inauguration, the next session starting Feb. 3.

US Told: 'Tighten Our Belts'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans were called on today to "tighten our belts . . . perhaps for years to come" as a Senate subcommittee neared the end of its investigation of United States defence preparedness.

Senator Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, leading Republican on the preparedness subcommittee headed by Senator Lyndon Johnson (Dem. Tex.), said in an interview that "there is no blinking away from the enormity of the task we face."

"We must advance the availability date of quantities of new, more powerful weapons. We must prosecute a vigorous space program."

Bridges said the subcommittee hearings have developed information on "extremely impressive" Russian achievements that could not be "dismissed lightly."

STILL AHEAD

However, the consensus, "shared by the best-informed witnesses, seems to be that the overall military strength of the United States is still ahead."

Cypriot Strike On Second Day

NICOSIA, Cyprus (Reuters) — The 48-hour general protest strike against the murder of two leftwing Greek Cypriots entered its second day today as speculation mounted on the possibility of a leftist-rightist split among islanders who want union with Greece.

Meanwhile, informed sources said, British troops were poised for the start of a large-scale exercise against Greek Cypriot terrorists in the central area of this British Mediterranean island.

On The Record

TORONTO (AP) — The regular Hansard reports of proceedings in the Ontario Legislature is to be discarded in favor of tape recordings, at the next session starting Feb. 3.

TAKING NO CHANCES — Fire trucks, an ambulance and a fire marshal's car are on hand as President and Mrs. Eisenhower fly out of Chicago during a heavy snowstorm. The President had been in the city to speak at the $100-a-plate Republican fund raising dinner.

Farm Debate Warms Up

OTTAWA (CP) — The continuing Commons debate on the government's farm prices stabilization bill is beginning to sound like a boiler-makers' shindig.

So far no one has lost his temper, but the verbal punches tossed back and forth Wednesday — fifth day of general debate on the measure — were pretty sharp.

There was a main event between a couple of Saskatchewaners: Resources Minister Alvin Hamilton and Hazen Argue, CCF whip.

It started when Mr. Argue cocked a suspicious eyebrow when Mr. Hamilton argued that the bill does all that the Progressive Conservatives promised farmers before the last election.

"A lot of bull from a bull frog," Mr. Argue butted in.

"YOU SHOULD KNOW"

"The honorable member is an authority on the sort of thing he has just mentioned," Mr. Hamilton fired back.

He said Mr. Argue reported that western farmers promised a march on Ottawa to protest against the measure. He added that when he asked Prairie farmers about that they told him: "You know that guy—he's always shooting off at the mouth."

Mr. Argue charged that the bill is "political window dressing," and attacked the provision whereby Agriculture Minister Douglas Harkness would be empowered to set farm support prices, expressed as a percentage of a 10-year moving price average.

Education Grants At Limit - Save

QUEBEC (CP) — Welfare Minister Sauve said yesterday almost 25 per cent of Quebec's $500,000,000 annual budget is spent on education, and that the Provincial Government doesn't plan to spend any more.

He told the Legislature that the government cannot meet Liberal opposition arguments calling for establishment of statutory grants.

"There can be no uniformity in a field where there is no uniformity," he said.

The financial organization of each municipality varied. Municipal evaluations usually were set well below real value of properties. Each local problem had to be studied on its merits.

Mr. Sauve made the statement as debate on education continued into its second day. The debate opened during discussion of expenditure estimates of $95,920,200 for the Education department's 1958-59 fiscal year. Expenditures for other departments raises the total estimates for education to $116,000,000.

Complaints that a large number of school boards are operating at a deficit should not be directed at the government, Mr. Sauve said. If a school board budgeted for a deficit, nothing could be done by the government to stop this.

He said three groups are responsible for education: The Quebec Government, the school tax payers and the church.

As far as the government is concerned, he said, it operates only one branch of education — technical education. That was one field where there was little or no criticism.

The role of the government in other fields was one of assistance.

AUCKLAND, N. Z. — (CP) — Dr. Vivian Fuchs and his British team left the South Pole at noon today to continue his overland trek across the Antarctic continent, reports reaching here today said.

Convention In Fall

OTTAWA (CP) — Solon Low will put his leadership of the Social Credit party on the line at a national party convention expected to be held next fall.

At a press conference Wednesday he made it clear he has no plans to step down. He also said he knows of no one actively seeking his job.

Mr. Low, 58, who became the party's first national leader in 1944, said, however, that the last party convention was in 1952 — when he was given an unopposed vote of confidence as leader.

"I think it's my duty to submit myself to a convention again," Mr. Low said the convention likely will be at Winnipeg following a national election.

Regional Conferences

Meanwhile the party plans four regional conferences before the end of February to draft an election platform, and a follow-up national conference to make final election plans.

Dates are set only for the first two meetings: An Ontario-Quebec conference next Saturday and an Alberta-British Columbia conference at Vancouver Feb. 14.

Former Mayor Drapeau Hints At New Party

MONTREAL (CP) — Ex-mayor Jean Drapeau of Montreal Wednesday night urged a province-wide campaign for public morality.

"Years of tolerance, of electoral corruption, the travesty of democracy have seriously shaken the very foundations of democracy," he told a public meeting. "It will take more than a day to counteract such influences."

Hinting at the formation of a new political party, he urged citizens of Montreal and other Quebec municipalities to form "civic action league centres" to combat irregularities and scandals in governments.

Mr. Drapeau attacked the Montreal English-language newspapers and the "yellow-press" scandal sheets which, he said, supported Mayor Sarto Fournier and gave readers the impression the Drapeau administration "reeked of fascism." Mr. Drapeau was defeated by Mr. Fournier in last fall's election.

Other reasons for his "apparent defeat," he said, were that the present administration was backed by a huge electoral machine with large financial resources, the healthy elements of the population were inert, and 20,000 illegal ballots were cast.

He said the Fournier administration had the full backing of Montreal's underworld.

Show Business

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The laboratory looked familiar, but the monster was different. And what's this? — Boris Karloff was playing the mad doctor.
 As any student of the chiller movie knows, Karloff was the Christopher Columbus among monsters. He was the original in the 1931 trail blazer, Frankenstein, in which Colin Clive played the title role. (Don't fall into the common error of calling the monster Frankenstein; that was the name of its creator.)
 Now it's Karloff playing the title role in the futuristic Frankenstein 1970, so named to avoid confusion with the umpteenth other Frankensteins.
 "The actor limped around his lab with fiendish glée as he experimented with his home-made monster.
 "Lift your left arm," commanded Karloff, and the monster did so. It was a large one, played by six-foot-nine Mike Lane, and swathed in bandages like a mummy.
 When the scene was over, Karloff resumed his identity as the urbane, English-born actor and sighed over his fate in motion pictures.
 "Even though I have played all kinds of roles in television and on the stage," he said, "the producers here can think of me only in terms of so-called horror pictures. Mind you, an actor is lucky to be typed, but you would think that they'd realize I can do something else.
 "I wouldn't think of playing a monster again. The monster was an interesting character at first. But then they reduced him to nothing but a stupid brute. No actor wants to play a stupid character.
 "What they have done with these pictures is typical of Hollywood thinking. They have exploited them over and over again until the pictures mean nothing. Why, when they make something like Abbott and Costello Meet the Monster, you can see to what levels they have fallen. Not to mention this current one (I was a teen-age Frankenstein.)
 Karloff feels that the "horror movie" cognomen is a mistake.
 "The greatest writer in the field was Edgar Allan Poe," he remarked. "He called his stories tales of mystery and imagination. And that's what they should be: something to stimulate the imagination. But that's not what you get in these 'horror movies' today."

Farm Forum Activities
EAST FARNHAM
 Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Hawke entertained the first Farm Forum meeting since the holiday season at their home on January 13th.
 Paul Mahannah was chairman for the evening and the topic "Price Supports" brought forth a great discussion as nearly every person had a very different opinion and expressed it freely.
 A social hour followed the group discussion period and lunch was furnished by several members who assisted the hostess.
COATICOOK VALLEY
 The Coaticook Valley Farm Forum met on January 13th at the home of Bill Bishop.
 The subject of the evening was on "Price and Income Supports" and the radio broadcast was found interesting. It consisted of a talk between a business man and a farmer.
 Two discussion groups were formed by Ronnie Drew, who acted as chairman. The questions required a longer discussion period than usual.
 The first question was to list our products and state if we thought our products should be supported. If so, on a permanent basis or temporarily on an emergency basis. The list of products include dairy, meat, poultry, eggs, potatoes, apples, wood and lumber.
 Yes, we think our products should be supported on a permanent basis until a better method is found.
 The second question was to list the floor price we thought should be on each product. Milk, $4.00 per hundredweight, butter .65 per lb. pork .45 per lb. dressed; beef .25 per lb. live weight; Eggs .60 per doz., Poultry .45 per lb., Potatoes $1.15 per 75 lbs. Wood and lumber stabilize 1956 to 57 prices.
 No. 3 question. Do you think these floor prices would cause a surplus? We did not think so.
 No. 4 question. If surpluses were created, what action if any should be taken to dispose of them? To prevent them?
 a. They should be stored where possible in case of war or famine, or they could be disposed of by world organizations such as F.A.O.
 We feel the best way to prevent surpluses is by quota system of sales or by some arrangement to send food to countries where food is needed.
 Mrs. Stanley Drew read the Greenleaf and a letter concerning the Credit Proposal.
 The meeting adjourned and lunch was served by the hostess.

KINNEAR'S MILLS — Mrs. Clara Hill of Inverness, spent a week in town with friends.

Mayor Evasive On Second Term

Mayor Armand Nadeau may — or may not — seek another term as mayor at the municipal elections next fall. Addressing the members of the Sherbrooke Snow Shoe Club at their Civic Night gathering last evening, the Chief Magistrate gave a rather non-committal answer to President Jim Mitchell, who in his welcoming address, expressed the hope the Mayor might serve for many years as head of the city.

In humorous vein, Mr. Nadeau said that if the same Providence that elected him three years ago still favored him, he might again be mayor of Sherbrooke.

He continued that he had enjoyed the three years as mayor and he was grateful for the full support he had received from the aldermen, the civic officials and the 62,000 citizens of Sherbrooke.

During the course of the evening, presentations were made to the mayor, aldermen and police officers present, the gifts being regarded by the club members as in keeping with the positions held by their guests.

Ald. Antonio Pinard, in thanking the club for the hospitality extended to the civic officials, lauded the work done by the mayor for the advancement of the city.

Among those attending the function last evening were the mayor, Aldermen Marcel Savard, Marcel Jeanson, Carl Camirand, Antonio Pinard, Paul Gervais and Gerard Berard, Police Chief Edouard Moreau and Capt. Genest and Larrivee.

C.N.I.B. Campaign Opens Feb. 3

N. L. AMIRAULT

C. G. BRYANT

The annual campaign of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, Sherbrooke City and District, will open Monday, Feb. 3 with C. G. Bryant and N. L. Amiraault will be joint chairmen. The objective this year will be $18,000 of which $10,000 is hoped to raise $10,000 in Sherbrooke and Lennoxville. Campaigns will be held simultaneously in Sherbrooke, Lennoxville, Waterville, Richmond, Windsor Mills and Scotstown. Campaigns in Stanstead County will be under the direction of the newly-formed Stanstead County Advisory Board and will take place in April as will the annual campaign in Asbestos.

The local committee is faced with the duty of meeting heavy demands on its resources with the ever-increasing costs for materials and services. The local Office meets the needs of over 300 blind persons of whom approximately 120 are registered in Sherbrooke County. Over the past 17 years the Institute has also provided glasses for school children and others when the case proved worthy, and in cases where oculists have determined that glasses were absolutely necessary to protect the sight or to enable the recipient to continue working.

Last year, glasses were provided for needy persons in such localities outside Sherbrooke and Lennoxville as Magog, Rock Island, Stanstead, Beebe, Compton, Coaticook, Martinville, Sawyerville, Cookshire, East Angus, Bishopton, Weedon, Bromptonville, Richmond, Windsor Mills, Asbestos and Weedon.

From April 1, 1957 to Jan. 1, 1958, 161 persons, mostly school children, were examined and provided with glasses at an average cost of $10 each. This is over and above the direct assistance given to blind persons which includes dental and medical expenses, fuel, food, clothing and other types of relief, plus the general services that the Institute offers in the general course of events.

Wells Case Opens Today At Assizes

The second case of the 1958 Assizes of the Court of the Queen's Bench opened today with the trial of Vernon Wells, a West Shefford farmer, charged with criminal negligence in the death of Mrs. Xavier Carrier, 72, of Cookshire. The trial will be heard by Mr. Justice William Mitchell.

Mrs. Carrier was killed while crossing a street near her Cookshire home.

Wells was found guilty of impaired driving when he appeared before Sessions Judge Joseph Marier but sentence was adjourned until he appeared in the Court of the Queen's Bench.

Witnesses at a coroner's inquest testified that they saw Wells drive his car over a lawn, across the street, over the sidewalk, smash a fence coming to a stop on a tree stump. Mrs. Carrier was crushed against the stump, they said.

It is expected that the members of the local Branch will have as their guests civic, religious and educational authorities of the Eastern Townships as well as other senior officers of the Association.

Magog Approves Construction Of New Substation

MAGOG — Magog electors Tuesday night approved a by-law authorizing the city council to borrow $135,000 for the erection of a new sub-station for the electric department.

No referendum will be held as only 48 signatures were obtained on the petition demanding the vote, with a minimum of 60 being required by provincial law.

Before the meeting closed, Ald. Urwick, sponsor of the by-law, and Ald. Loslier, its chief opponent, both outlined their views on the subject.

Roman Catholic Leaders Demand Strict Liquor Law Enforcement

The spiritual leaders of Roman Catholics in the Eastern Townships have appealed for rigid enforcement of liquor laws to put an end to what they described as "scandalous" violations.

Violations, they said, have reached a point where Sunday has been turned from the Lord's day into a day of sin for many.

The appeal was made by Archbishop Georges Cabana of Sherbrooke, Bishop Arthur Douville of St. Hyacinthe and Bishop Albertus Martin of Nicolet. It was contained in a letter sent recently to clergy with a request that it be read from the pulpit as part of a campaign to encourage temperance.

The letter said if liquor laws are enforced consumption will drop and many evils will automatically disappear.

Their appeal followed a New Year's message in which Paul-Emile Cardinal Leger, archbishop of Montreal, denounced widespread drinking.

"Opening of a cabaret or a grill or any other liquor outlet in Montreal diocese is done against our will," said Cardinal Leger. He deplored "Cabarets of debauchery" where youth "loses both soul and body."

SALES AFTER HOURS

Violations of the law, said the letter issued from here, include selling liquor on Sunday, selling liquor after hours, selling liquor to juveniles and operating un-

MAGOG.—Magog's new hospital is expected to open its doors during June, 1958, President P. E. Therrien told the annual meeting of the corporation. The hospital will have an initial capacity of 59 beds, 31 for adults, 12 for children and 16 in the nursery.

Mr. Therrien was re-elected president, the other members of the executive being: Armand Perron and Guilford Robinson, vice-presidents; Bertrand Brassard, secretary; Art Tessier, treasurer; Jean Pepin, assistant treasurer; Rosaire Choquet, Alb. Aumont, Doris Robinson, J. G. Ouimet, Leandre Perron, Gilles Gosselin, Leonce Lagueux, Ant. Farand and Gerard Beaulieu, directors.

Mayor Maurice Theroux, Jack Peters and Edouard Hains were named honorary presidents.

In his report, Mr. Therrien stated that work on the Percy street building had been proceeding during the winter months on a limited scale but that it would be speeded up with the coming of finer weather.

The treasurer reported that some $65,000 had been subscribed to the hospital to date.

Other speakers at the meeting included Dr. J. Pettigrew and Dr. W. Fellerin.

Background Of Industry Told Y's Men's Club

The economic background of industry was the subject of an address given by Ed Budd to his fellow members of the Y's Men's Club at their regular weekly meeting last night.

Tracing the growth of industry back to Noah's time, Mr. Budd explained that only the wealthy had power and forced slaves to till their land.

Later in the 13th Century, he said merchants began trading products they manufactured in their own homes. Their line of wares included making garments, weaving cloth and turning pottery, he said.

With the 16th Century, factories were established which later grew into today's labor organized outfits, Mr. Budd noted. He gave a brief summary of the present use of power plants and remarked the rapid growth of oil rather than coal and wood as a fuel. He predicted the wide use of nuclear power in the future.

Mr. Budd was introduced by Angus McClean and thanked by John Romanuk.

Saturday evening at 7.30, the club will hold its annual Ladies' Night, President Ken Stuebel announced. Transportation is arranged by Don Griffin. The international director, George J. Jacobs and Mrs. Jacobs may attend.

Jim Strickland announced that a hockey practice would be held next week. The annual track meet is scheduled for Saturday, May 24 with Jeff Wilson as chairman in charge of the committee.

The guest speaker next week will be Col. K. Jencks.

Seated at the head table were Mr. Strew, John Davey, Diman Lynn, Mr. Budd and Harold Evans.

BELMONT, Calif. — (AP) — Nine boys pelted a house with 5,000 golf balls Wednesday, causing damage estimated by police at $1,500. Owner Steven Barath, who once operated a miniature golf course, had stored the balls in the five-room house.

Sharp Increase In UNICEF Card Sale Registered

The sale of UNICEF greeting cards in Quebec Province last season amounted to 6,000 boxes. This was a substantial increase over the previous year.

The Halloween Shell-Out also showed an increase. A total of $26,000 was collected in Quebec, the largest increase over the previous year made by any of the provinces.

The Quebec Women's Institutes promoted both projects among its membership. Mrs. E. B. Watson, Breckenridge, Q.W.I. Citizenship Convener, under whose direction this was carried on, is attempting to secure accurate figures from each county. She hopes they will show that individual branches also had a share in this increased provincial total from all sources.

Prime Minister's Choice

Opposition leader Lester Pearson's strategy in forcing a vote of non-confidence in the government which would avoid actual government defeat and a subsequent election may have been a clever compromise. The Liberals were in an embarrassing position. But this week's heated and sometimes bitter debate in the House of Commons would have been more realistic if Mr. Pearson had frankly told the Commons that he did not want an election until he had had time to prepare his party.

For a newly-elected party leader to take this position would at least have been understandable. It certainly would not have left him open to the ridicule which government speakers heaped on him. The opening gun in the new leader's campaign to regain office has fizzled out like a damp squib.

It is now up to the government, meaning Prime Minister Diefenbaker himself in case, to decide the date of the election. The Prime Minister is obviously going to keep his thoughts to himself until he feels the time is right to go to the Governor General to ask for a dissolution.

Finance Minister Donald Fleming may have tipped the Commons as to current Cabinet thinking when he stated that the Conservatives were not going to precipitate an election. He stated that he expected to bring down a budget for next year at a session later this spring. On the other hand, he may merely have been going on the assumption that his department must continue its day-to-day planning regardless of politics.

The Prime Minister now has the initiative. He may decide to ask the Governor General for a dissolution at the end of the present session, expected to wind up in a few weeks. In view of the Opposition's intention to oppose the government — short of an immediate election — he would be perfectly justified. If the government carries on for another session later this spring, however, the Liberals may feel sufficiently prepared to force another non-confidence motion which would gain the support of either the CCF or Social Credit. This could defeat the government, at a time of the Liberals' own choosing.

Mr. Pearson's charge that an election now would mean the end of government efforts to meet the serious economic problems facing the country is nonsense. Government carries on after dissolution until a new Parliament is elected.

Mr. Diefenbaker may already have made up his mind. Certainly the Conservatives are ready for an election. It is the only way to clear the air.

A Welcome Decision

The announcement by the Eastern Townships Agricultural Association that, with the 100 per cent co-operation of civic officials, it will carry on and expand its activities will be welcomed by Sherbrooke residents who have come to regard the fall and winter fairs conducted by the Association as the major agricultural events of the Eastern Townships.

It is to be hoped also that the announcement means the opening of a new era of co-operation between the city and the association for the mutual advantage of all parties concerned. Despite changing conditions, especially in the field of entertainment, the Sherbrooke Exhibition still plays an important part in the community life of the Eastern Townships and more particularly in the field of agriculture. Not only the citizens, but the city itself, have benefited from these activities.

Unfortunately, the continued friction between these two groups, which should have been working together in the public interest, appears to have hampered the efforts of the ETAA to make the most of its opportunities. With the burying of the hatchet, the situation should improve.

Nothing Ventured - -

The single, forlorn vote which was given to the Rev. Lloyd Henderson, mayor of Portage la Prairie, Manitoba, at the Liberal convention which chose the Hon. Lester Pearson as the party's leader, must have struck many persons as being remarkable. One wonders how often an aspirant, in a nominal sense at least, for a great honor has received so little support. Here was a candidate who was able to convince only one delegate that he was the man to lead the party back to power.

Mr. Henderson, although mayor of his community, brought relatively small political experience to the convention when compared to the two main contenders.

What were the true reasons which impelled him to run the last lap of a hopeless race? They may be guessed but will probably never be known in their entirety except to Mr. Henderson — and possibly not even to him.

And how did he and his wife feel at the time of his great and lonely moment? Many people must have wondered.

There are, doubtless, those who hold that Mr. Henderson, for all his self-confidence, wasted the time of the convention.

Still, the privilege which Mr. Henderson was able to exercise may be construed as a tribute, though possibly a mixed one, to the democratic method under which almost any person may run for the highest nomination. This was democracy in action.

Press Comment

TEST OF NERVES

(Windsor Star)

There is no better place for a pleasant, scenic meal than a dining car. But when the road-bed is rough the meal can become quite a balancing act, especially where liquids are concerned. France now believes it has licked the problem, with a self-tilting car that can take curves at 80 mph without spilling a spoonful or filling a saucer.

There's at least one thing wrong with this exercise in stabilization. Who can retain an appetite while whipping around railway curves at 80 mph?

FOR RELIEF

(Toronto Telegram)

Requested to administer the Canadian Hungarian Relief Fund, the Canadian Red Cross Society reports that $623,120 was voluntarily contributed by individuals and governments. Expenditures, however, amounted to $654,978. The overexpenditure has been reduced by $12,441 through a refund sales tax and it is anticipated that an additional refund will liquidate the balance.

POLITICIANS ON DISPLAY

(Toronto Telegram)

Again the question has come up whether Canadian politics has been able to adjust itself to the era of the electronic tube and the mass audience before TV screens in the living rooms.

The Liberal convention revealed some new ideas. The speakers' forum was well devised, in the sight of all, especially the TV cameras. But did the program capture the audience? The answer is that it was exciting only when some spontaneous event occurred, and spontaneity is something the planners in gray suits cannot arrange. Mr. Pearson and Mr. Martin, and most of our politicians, do not seem at ease in cowboy hats; but occasional glances at the audience to show how the delegates were taking the oratory provided unexpected insights. Only one delegate immortalized himself by adjusting his denture at the right moment, but there were other moments of delightful comic relief.

The appearance of Mayor Lloyd Henderson of Portage la Prairie merits comment. Without accreditation, representing no one but himself, hastily brought to the platform to make a dull and incoherent speech, Mr. Henderson was oodily cast as the dark horse. A real dark horse would have roused the rabble and thrilled the audience, perhaps stolen the show. The only mystery, aside from why he was allowed to waste TV time, is who voted for him in the final ballot? Not Mr. Henderson, as he did not have voting credentials.

The convention brought neither new personalities nor new ideas before the Canadian public. Perhaps the stage managers should have picked a genuine grass-roots speaker from the younger set, and let him perform.

The Canadian political convention is, however, gaining rapidly in the technique of telecommunications. Mr. Pearson can utter a glittering generality with satisfactory conviction, and he is a past master at publicity. He originated the convention's theme of

"Don't Hit the Front---Just Torpedo the Back Part"

Britons Cheer

Fuchs' Trans-Antarctic Odyssey

By ED SIMON
LONDON (CP)—Banner headlines proclaimed the event. The advertising columns were filled with congratulatory messages from watchmakers, meat canners and manufacturers of special lacquer and adhesives.

As far as London's newspapers were concerned, the arrival of Dr. Vivian Fuchs at the South Pole was history in the making. It was the culmination of months of day-by-day accounts of the British party's painful progress toward its objective.

In spite of themselves, Fuchs and his companions had ceased to be a modest party of scientists engaged in an international Geophysical Year project and had become the central figures in an epic of high adventure, dear to the heart of every Fleet Street circulation manager.

Fuchs, a methodical, 50-year-old geologist, is the fourth man to lead an overland expedition to the pole. Norway's Roald Amundsen reached it in 1911. Captain Robert Falcon Scott got there in the following year and died of exposure on the return journey. Sir Edmund Hillary, leading a New Zealand adjunct to the Fuchs party, arrived at the pole 17 days ago.

Perhaps the biggest impetus to Britain's imagination was the vivid record of the ill-fated Scott expedition. Diaries left by Scott and his party gave a graphic account of the hardships they suffered. Fuchs and his 11 companions were the first Englishmen to follow him.

Hillary and his New Zealanders have helped to ease Fuchs' path on the home stretch. In their trek from Scott base, on the New Zealand side of Antarctica, they set up bases and marked off danger areas for his guidance. Additional help is offered by the party of United States scientists who flew to the pole at the start of the geophysical year to establish a permanent base.

But dispatches from Fuchs and Hillary camps offer eloquent testimony that the Antarctic is still far from tamed.

Fuchs told of a one-mile stretch in which his advance party had planted 98 flags, tracing a winding course through dangerous crevasses, capable of engulfing an unwary vehicle.

Almost daily, he told of occasions when the party had to haul a vehicle clear of a crevasse with the safety rope that linked the entire caravan.

"It's like driving a tank through a mine field," was one driver's comment.

There are additional hazards. Inability to get traction on soft snow occasionally limits the party's progress to half a mile a day. Wind-created ice ridges, called sastrugi, smash vehicle treads, necessitating stops for repairs. And "white-outs," or blizzards, reduce visibility to zero, forcing a halt until the weather clears.

Despite the evidence of the headlines, half of Fuchs' patient journey remains ahead of him. After a two-day rest, his party of geologists, seismologists and glaciologists was scheduled to push on in an attempt to complete the first crossing of the Antarctic continent.

Despite journalistic prodding, they will continue their steady routine of stopping every 30 miles to take soundings of the ice depth and gravity and to complete the other scientific tests that constitute the real purpose of their mission.

When Fuchs left his base on the South American side of Antarctica Oct. 5, at the start of the Antarctic summer, he carried technological equipment undreamed of by Scott or Amundsen.

Where the earlier explorers relied entirely on dog teams, the Fuchs party's sledges were pulled by sno-cat tractors, tested in Canada's Arctic, and by wea-

FOURTH HEART SQUEEZES EAST

North was very enthusiastic about his hand. He had 20 points for his opening club bid and when his partner responded one heart he was also looking at the four top honors in that suit.

His rebid of three diamonds seemed logical and when South bid three Spades North decided to get to a slam. His four no-trump elicited the information that South also held three kings, North went to seven hearts.

West opened the queen of diamonds and South was not at all happy about the dummy. Seven appeared almost hopeless but South saw one chance. A squeeze was possible. He won the opening diamond lead in his own hand, pulled three rounds of trumps and led the ace and the last diamond from dummy.

East commenced to feel pressure right then and there but managed to let go of one spade. South trumped that last diamond, led a spade to dummy's queen and played dummy's last trump. At this point the pressure on East had become a total squeeze. He dropped a club.

South also discarded a club and then cashed his ace and king of spades. When West showed out South had a complete count on the hand. East was down to two clubs. If they were the queen and jack they would have to drop. Hence South played the king and ace of clubs and made his thirteenth trick with dummy's ten.

sels — tracked vehicles that proved their worth in difficult terrain during the Second World War. Fuchs used dogteams as reconnoitering parties to make a safe route for his heavier mechanized equipment.

There were additional safety factors. A radio operator maintained contact with the party's headquarters at Shackleton, where Canadian-built Otter aircraft were poised to fly in additional supplies or medical assistance and to shuttle scientists back and forth to the base.

The party normally travels at night, from 9 p.m. to 9 a.m., counting on the lower temperature to harden the snow and on the stronger daytime sun to dry damp clothing and equipment during the rest intervals.

Radio proved a mixed blessing to the Fuchs party two weeks ago, when the press intercepted a confidential message from Hillary to his leader recommending that Fuchs cut short his journey at the pole because of the hazards of the approaching Antarctic winter.

Newspaper accounts built up the incident into a virtual mutiny by the New Zealander, who is scheduled to escort Fuchs on the remainder of his trip, especially when Fuchs made public his intention to disregard Hillary's advice.

In the end, Hillary made it plain that he accepted the decision and that his confidential message had been misinterpreted. The meeting of the two men at the pole was friendly.

Press dispatches still herald Fuchs' homeward trek as "the most dramatic episode of this exciting saga."

But the true significance of the expedition remains the plodding work of the scientists. Their periodic dynamite explosions, deep in the ice, are picked up by microphones placed at measured distances and recorded by electronic pens on tracing paper to determine the thickness, hardness and texture of the rock beneath the ice.

They examine the signs of alternate melting and refreezing of the ice to calculate its age and pick up rock specimens for evidence of fossilization, magnetic qualities and volcanic content.

Mining prospectors, airline companies and meteorologists are among those who will benefit from the party's findings.

The first circuses known were held in a huge arena in ancient Rome. The main attraction was chariot races. Between races, acrobats, tight-rope walkers and horsemen performed. The circus as we know it today had its start in the 18th century English "van shows" in which troupes of acrobats and jugglers traveled from place to place in vans which were used as dressing rooms.

Cowansville Bank Changes

R. E. A. KERR

F. M. ALLAN

COWANSVILLE — The Bank of Montreal has announced the appointment of Robert E. A. Kerr as manager of Cowansville branch, to succeed Francis M. Allan, who has been appointed an inspector at the head office, Montreal.

Mr. Kerr, a Montreéal by birth, comes here from Quebec City, where he served as an assistant manager of the bank's main office since 1954.

Mr. Kerr joined the B of M in 1934, at Ste. Anne de Bellevue. Besides gaining experience at various Montreal branches, and at the head office, he opened, in 1952, Montreal's first drive-in bank, located at Cote St. Catherine road and Decarie boulevard. It was from this post that he moved to Quebec City.

Mr. Kerr has been noted for his interest in community activities, and while in Quebec City he has acted as treasurer of the joint Y. M. - Y. W. C. A. annual subscription campaign, and has been a member of the Y. M. C. A. Program Committee.

He was also a member of the Garrison Club, the Donnacona Golf Club and the Victoria Curling Club.

Mr. Allan has been manager here since 1952, and has also been active in local affairs. He has been president of the Cowansville Lions Club, and a member of the Golf Club, as well as assisting in numerous local community works, including the Salvation Army Red Shield Campaign, of which he has been chairman for several years.

Mr. Allan was born in St. John's, Nfld., and joined the B of M there in 1920. He has served at branches throughout eastern Canada, including branches in the Montreal district.

LONDON — (AP) — Two firemen were killed today fighting a stubborn blaze in a maze of tunnels underneath the huge Smithfield Meat Market in central London. Eight others were carried out unconscious, overcome by thick, fatty smoke despite the breathing apparatus all were wearing.

There were other skirmishes. Auguste Maltais (L — Charlevoix) said there appears to be a "conspiracy of silence" on the measure among Quebec Progressive Conservatives. Roland English (PC — Gaspé) objected, saying that he spoke earlier in the debate.

CHARGES PLAGIARISM
Mr. Maltais described the measure as "straight plagiarism" of existing price support legislation enacted in 1944 under a Liberal government, and accused Mr. Harkness of fearing to tread new paths by adjusting prices to production costs rather than to market prices.

Walter Tucker (L — Rosthern), a leading farm spokesman for his party, described the bill as "a shabby performance" that does not give western farmers the same possible assistance on oats and barley as existing legislation. He said he will vote against it.

J. Armand Landry (L — Dorchester) said the bill is "nefarious" in that it would guarantee supports for only 12 months in advance. Butter producers and others needed a longer period of assured prices to plan production properly.

Clarence Milligan (PC — Prince Edward-Lennox) said farmers in his constituency at first were misled by opposition criticisms but were "quite satisfied" after a proper explanation of the bill's intent.

Nereé Arseneault (PC — Bonaventure) said that by assuring farmers a fair share of the national income the bill would cut short the "exodus" of young farmers to industrial jobs in the cities.

Old Age Pension Not Sufficient

Trinity Men Agree
Social security measures as practised in the United States should be adopted in Canada, a discussion group at Trinity United Church Men's Club agreed this week.

The group, which discussed the topic The Church and National Life, decided that even the new old age pension rate was inadequate to meet the cost of living.

The group also agreed that many people were finding loopholes in the income tax laws. Others received and submitted receipts for money which they had never given to charity which increased the income tax burden of those who were honest in their returns.

The discussion next Monday night will be on the topic, The Church and the Flag—Should the Union Jack be Eliminated?

Earlier a team skippered by Alex Lavalliere defeated a team captained by Charles Rublee at carpet bowling. Among those playing were Jack Wright, Sam Foster, Tom Atkins and Walter Mutchler. Among others participating in the program were Alfred Best, Alfred Fagg, "Stevie" Stevenson, Eddie Nelson, Jerry Gingras, Alden Clark, Barton Carr, Bob Dohlerand and the Rev. Henry Mathews.

NEW VENEZUELA

dent's overthrow. Thousands poured into Caracas streets for an uproarious celebration. Ignoring radio announcements that a curfew was still in force, they blanketed the city with happy bedlam.

The radio appealed repeatedly for an end to the looting, burning and other disorders of the last two days. It called all striking newspaper men back to work immediately to get out special editions.

END CENSORSHIP
Censorship, clamped tightly on the country's newspapers and outgoing news stories throughout Perez Jimenez's tenure, was lifted.

The government radio also called on all Venezuelans not to molest foreigners, and asked foreigners in the country to stay indoors and keep out of Venezuelan affairs.

(The state department in Washington said it had no reports of any injuries to the 40,000 Americans in Venezuela. American investments in the oil and other industries there total more than $3,000,000,000.

(There are some 4,000 Canadians in Venezuela, mostly businessmen and missionaries. Latest word from the government in Ottawa Wednesday night said there had been no report of injuries to any Canadians during the revolt.)

ENDS REVOLT
The overthrow of Perez Jimenez followed a brief air force revolt New Year's Day, ensuing weeks of mounting tension and student demonstrations, a general strike which began Tuesday and the violence of the last two days.

Opposition to the president had grown increasingly open since he sought to prolong his rule for five more years by a plebiscite Dec. 15 in which he was the only candidate.

As the first ballot box was being opened, Interior Minister Laureano Vallenilla Lanz announced that the president's re-election was "overwhelming."

Air force units at Maracay revolted before dawn on New Year's Day and sent jet fighters into sweeps over the capital. Some army units joined the revolt, but the government had disrupted the rebels' plans by arresting their top leaders. Most of the army stayed with Perez Jimenez, and the uprising collapsed the next day.

Military pressure forced Perez Jimenez to revamp his government, but that did not satisfy his enemies. Students, who had formed a vocal opposition group throughout the dictator's rule, turned out in ever-larger numbers to protest against the government. Police charges with tear gas and clubs broke up the demonstrators, but they kept coming back.

Adventists Plan Annual Drive To Finance TV Work

This Saturday the members of the Seventh-day Adventist churches of the Eastern Townships will dig deep into their pockets to do their share in sustaining the denomination's T. V. program, Faith For Today. In so doing they will join sister churches throughout North America in giving on this annual T. V. offering - drive day, when, due to rising production costs, it is hoped the offering will almost double last year's amount.

The first religious network television program, and on the air since May, 1950, the program is on over 150 stations, having recently added 17 new ones. It has been officially selected as a regular feature on U. S. Armed Forces television stations in 11 countries.

The purpose of the program, explains its pastor-producer, W. A. Fagal, is to help people to a richer more satisfying life, by letting the Holy Scriptures answer their problems for them. Format of the program is a dramatization of real-life everyday problems that folks everywhere must meet. These are worked out to a happy solution before the viewers especially through the aid of the Bible.

AMERICAN TARIFF

in Canada are not great. But while indicating that Canada may tend to "catch up" with the U.S. in the accumulation of wealth, the report had some sharp things to say about present American commercial policy.

It criticized American handling of its tariff laws and said that on some consumer goods the U.S. tariff is 100 per cent of the market's value.

MARKET SMALL
The high American tariff, aimed particularly at manufactured products, tended to force some plants to be located in the U.S. rather than in Canada. Many Canadian manufacturers had to be content to supply only the relatively small Canadian market.

But the situation might change. There was a tendency in the U.S. to look towards more generous treatment of foreign producers. The U.S. had a position to maintain in the Western world.

Soviet economic power had increased at such a "remarkable pace as to call into question the traditional assumption of the automatic and indefinite maintenance of Western economic supremacy."

On American farm policies, the report said the entrenched position of the American farm bloc, the magnitude of American surpluses and continuing high production "lend strong support to the view that over the short run at least, Canada may expect to trade in world agricultural markets increasingly distorted by U.S. farm policies."

Newspapers Set Records In 1957

CHICAGO — Newspaper circulation and advertising revenue in the United States set records in 1957, the Newspaper Advertising Executive Association reports.

Advertisers also put more into newspaper advertising than in television, radio, magazines and billboards combined, association President Gilbert P. Swanson told the association's annual meeting Tuesday.

Despite the record peak in advertising revenues, preliminary checks indicated that advertising charge declined about three per cent.

The added income came from higher image rates, increased use of color and selling more premium space. Final figures on advertising income are not available, he said.

The climb marked the 12th year in the last 13 that newspaper revenue set a record.

Newspaper circulation in the U. S. last year averaged 58,600,000 copies a day.

States is today superior to that of the Soviet Union."

Notwithstanding that, Bridges added the consensus also seems to be that the U.S. is "lagging behind the Soviets in certain specific areas of weapons development, such as in the intercontinental and intermediate ballistic missile, as well as in the field of orbiting scientific satellites."

"If these deficiencies are allowed to continue, the peace of the world will be seriously endangered."

The subcommittee was told Wednesday by Defence Secretary Neil McElroy that he expects to have an administration reorganization plan ready for congressional action during the current session.

McElroy, who testified behind closed doors, drew praise from Johnson, Democratic leader of the Senate, who has been critical of what he has called the lack of a "sense of urgency" in the administration.

McElroy listed "14 steps that have been taken to speed up important programs since Sputnik II was placed in orbit and the inquiry began." Johnson said in giving reporters the essence of the secretary's testimony in April. These plans did not satisfy Thornycroft earlier, says The Daily Mail correspondent, and they have not satisfied his successor, Derick Heathcoat Amory.

The political correspondent of the Labor paper, The Daily Herald, says Walker-Smith may follow Thornycroft and his colleagues in resigning, and "Mr. John Boyd-Carpenter could soon be No. 5 to go."

Costs of the national health plan are rising continually. Four-fifths of the cost is met by the state and one-fifth from the public through compulsory contributions. Now the cabinet is believed to want a larger share to come from the public's pocket.

CAPITOL'S SOUP FEUD FOR THOUGHT—Bean soup has been causing pots full of controversy since 1907, when the U.S. Senate restaurant started serving the delicacy, previously sacred to the House kitchens. House members have enjoyed bean soup daily since 1904. The squabble has flared up anew with the reconvening of the 85th Congress. Chief Senate Chef Ross Destito admits House priority with the soup, but claims the Senate recipe is "naturally" the best. House Chef Ernest Zahn counters that his recipe preserves the soup in its classic state, but refuses to venture an opinion on which soup is best. "I don't eat it myself," he says. "I just cook it."

58th Annual Year-End Bird Count Started

More than 250 bird-watchers from Newfoundland to British Columbia have put away their field glasses and totted up the score after conducting the 58th annual year-end Canadian bird count.

Final figures will not be revealed until later this year when the National Audubon Society of the United States publishes its official findings.

The survey itself is part of a census covering the entire North American continent from Alaska to the Rio Grande and is co-ordinated by the United States fish and wildlife service.

VANCOUVER TOPS SCORE

The Canadian count, which took place on or about Dec. 26, turned up 527 species, a Canadian Press survey shows. Vancouver spotters recorded the most species at 99 and Toronto was tops in the East with 77 different species.

Among the rarities were two myrtle warblers and a boreal owl in the Maritimes, a pileated woodpecker near Montreal and two orange-coated warblers noted in the Vancouver area for the first time.

Thirty-seven Vancouver spotters recorded a total of 60,605 birds, 17,178 more than last year, officials said. Apart from the debut of the warblers, they report a marked increase in the number of European starlings.

Toronto's 112 bird-watchers counted 17,746 birds and in Ottawa 35 persons added up 4,660 representing 40 species.

Unusual birds seen in the Toronto area included a hawk owl, an American widgeon, a rusty blackbird and an Oregon junco.

SEE CANADA GEESE

Ottawa bird fans saw four Canada geese, unusual so far north at that time of year. Unusually mild weather is believed responsible.

About 2,800 individual birds of 31 species were seen over Quebec province. The most unusual sighting by the 22 spotters was the pileated woodpecker, not usually a resident of the Montreal area. Chickadees were common for the time since 1952. Gulls were numerous, including 12 glaucous gulls and seven Iceland gulls.

Members of Ducks Unlimited are making efforts to carry out a count in Manitoba through local bird-watching clubs and feeding stations. No figures have been

The rarest bird seen in the Regina area of Saskatchewan was the meadow lark. Nine watchers saw 1,735 birds representing 25 species.

The Edmonton Bird Club counted 1,592 birds of 29 species. The commonest bird observed was the Bohemian waxwing and the rarest the Richardson owl.

NEWFOUNDLAND RECORD

Members of the Newfoundland Natural History Society counted up a record of 29 species from 3,685 birds. Two species never recorded before were the myrtle warbler and the boreal owl. Also unusual for the time of year were a kingfisher, a loon and five mourning doves.

A count taken in the Saint John area of New Brunswick turned up 28 species, including one Nashville warbler, rare at that time of year so far north, a myrtle warbler and a catbird.

Unofficial figures from Nova Scotia showed there were at least 20 uncommon species among the 62 seen by spotters in the Halifax area. Fourteen black-headed gulls were sighted. The birds are unusual on the North American continent. They generally breed in Iceland. Also three Palmer warblers—strictly summer birds—were noted.

The Christmas count was originated in 1900 by Dr. M. Chapman, then editor of the Bird-Lore magazine.

Now the census is supervised by local naturalist clubs. They list their findings and send them to the National Audubon Society. Observers are selected for their knowledge of the area and their ability to identify birds.

Bringing Up Baby

HINTS COLLECTED BY Mrs. Dea Gerber (MOTHER OF 5)

All mothers and dads need time out from baby—no matter how charming the cherub. However, some first-time parents are reluctant to trust the newcomer to a sitter in the early months. But if baby gets accustomed to care other than yours when he's young, he's less apt to protest your nights off when he's older. After all, baby-sitting has become a full-fledged business, and with a bit of care you can find a reliable sitter. Getting away makes baby more fun to come home to.

Build-up for baby. When your doctor recommends meat for baby, he does so for the proteins that promote growth. Gerber Strained Meat Dinners are protein-rich and savory with true meat-y flavor. Gerber combines juicy meat with selected vegetables and cereal into one complete "main dish" dinner—brimming with goodness and deli-

Look-toy tips. Along about 3 months, when baby's eyes begin to focus—dangling glint and glitter toys fill one of baby's first play needs. And, contrary to some "old wives' tales, baby won't get cross-eyed from looking at moving objects. Points to remember:

- Don't hang toys right over baby's nose. He'll see 'em better if they're just out of arm's reach.
- Shapes should be fairly large and simple since baby's eyes are not ready to take in tiny objects.

Has baby been put on egg yolks yet? If so, you'll find Gerber Strained Egg Yolks a tasty dish for your darling—a great convenience for you. For baby's eating pleasure, they have a creamy, custard-like texture, and a delicate fresh-egg flavor. For his nourishment, Gerber Egg Yolks are rich in iron, vitamin A, have some protein. Training Centre Planned For Cripple Children

TORONTO (CP)—To meet expanding needs, the Ontario Society for Crippled Children is planning to establish a provincial centre for the special treatment and training of crippled youngsters.

The Ontario Crippled Children Centre, to be located near Sunnybrook Hospital in northeast Toronto, will be built on a 10-acre property, says Bud McAllister, the society's public relations supervisor.

"Plans are in the final stages and it is anticipated that the official opening of the centre will take place in 1959," Mr. McAllister said.

Serving 300 out-patients who need particular attention, the centre will also have facilities for treatment of victims of cerebral palsy, poliomyelitis, paraplegia, spina bifida, and muscular dystrophy. The rehabilitation centre will also be open to youngsters suffering from severe accidents.

Provision has been made for complete service in special departments of physiotherapy, occupational therapy, hydrotherapy, speech therapy, play and academic school, aids to daily living and parental instruction. The society's head office and central district nursing home will also be housed in the centre.

New features will be incorporated such as a recreational swimming pool, which will be available to blind swimmers, a motel for out-of-town guests and facilities for parent groups to meet. There will be accommodation for the patients of the two present Toronto cerebral palsy clinics.

One section will be given over to doctors to carry on research in methods of attack on conditions that produce handicaps in children.

At present several research projects are under way guided by the society's medical committee of outstanding specialists. Every possible effort is being devoted to the better understanding and prevention of many causes of crippling that are presently obscure.

MANNERS MAKE FRIENDS

When new homeowners have a housewarming for a few close friends, it is thoughtful to take a gift for the house.

But if the housewarming is a big party, you need not bother about a gift.

Cauliflower has been recorded in human history as early as 600 BC.

Beauty Tips

Keeping elbows soft and clean is a peakaboo game. But there is nothing as distracting as seeing a woman with extremely rough, ugly elbows and otherwise pleasing skin. At night, especially, use pumice on any rough spots until they are gone. Cream your elbows lavishly.

Roller Beef-Mushroom Loaf, Rice Stuffing

Knowing lots of ways to fix ground beef can add variety to meals and keep the meat bill down.

This recipe is for a savory meat loaf or roll which is different and exceptionally delicious! Well-seasoned ground beef is rolled up like a jelly roll. The filling is made of cooked rice and a bit of cheese. There are mushrooms in the meat for just the right bit of exciting flavor.

INGREDIENTS:
 1, 3 oz. can broiled, chopped mushrooms, drained
 1 egg, beaten
 1 1/2 lbs. ground beef
 2 teaspoons salt
 1/4 teaspoon black pepper
 2 tablespoons grated onion

 2 teaspoons thick meat or steak sauce
 1/4 cup milk
 1 1/2 cups cold cooked rice
 1/2 cup milk
 1/2 cup grated American cheese

CHEMISERIE — The new look for spring '58 is illustrated in this unwaisted crepe dress by Harry Brodtkin of Montreal. Hipline fit is emphasized by three bands of grosgrain ribbon and the low-placed flounce of pleats. New Canadian versions of the chemise look are anything but sack-like in appearance.

Hot-Toned Prints Spark Resort Wear In '58

Women's fashions for resort and cruise, 1958, present a colorful array of hot-toned prints. Bold plaids and splashy florals are the favored patterns and appear most often in strong color combinations of red, orange, yellow and pink. Never before, note the fashion analysts of Women's Wear Daily, has the sporting theme been expanded so greatly.

Horse racing, sailing, golfing, fishing and archery are some of the sports that have noticeably influenced styling, fabric patterns and trimmings.

TWO-PIECE "CHEMISE"

While "chemise" is the peg on which most fashion news hangs this year, the two-piece dress may give the one-piece strong competition. The dressier one is newer because the middy line has been given its own good way in sports clothes for several seasons. The two-piece dress for afternoon and cocktail wear, in supple crepe, and with the cowl-draped back and curved hipline, opens up an entirely new field in dress fashions.

The chemise with the straight back and shaped and belted front is being revived (from last year) as the happy solution of a transition from fitted to loose lines. It is done in dresses and in coats, too. As a dress, it is all things to all women and to all figures.

Among the spectaculars in current resort fashions is the Big Decollete. This is the one which

CWL Juniors Now St. Bridget's Subdivision

The January meeting of the Junior Subdivision of the Catholic Women's League, was recently held in the Canon Fiset Memorial Library.

Following the lecture on the Holy Eucharist, given by Rev. Father Clark, Mrs. Douglas Hall, president, opened the business meeting with the League Prayer.

Conveners reported as follows: Hospital visiting, convened by Mrs. G. Gingras, totalled 60 visits.

Welfare convener, Mrs. James Potticary, reported that 11 boxes, containing knitted articles, fruits, candy and toys had been delivered to needy families at Christmas.

Mrs. J. S. Marcoux, Captain of the CWL Girl Guides, reported an increase of 17 members. The company, sponsored by the Jr. subdivision, was voted $55 for the upkeep of its summer camp.

The president announced that a "used clothing drive," will be held next month and asked that contributions be brought to the February meeting.

Considering that the name "Junior Subdivisions" has become obsolete, the members agreed to change their name to St. Bridget's Subdivision.

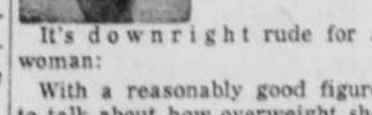

The Feast of St. Bridget being on February 1, it was decided to have a High Mass sung in St. Patrick's Church, (the hour to be given later.) All members were urged to attend.

It being membership night, Mrs. Hall gave a brief summary of the work carried on by the Catholic Women's League of Canada. Pertinent to the occasion, Mrs. J. Maher read the article, "Why I Am a Member of the Catholic Women's League."

New members enrolled at this meeting, were Mrs. R. L. Callis, Mrs. J. S. Marcoux, Mrs. S. Ferguson, Mrs. R. Phillips, Miss Kathleen Mills, Miss Joan Bryson and Miss Mary Muldoon. They were welcomed by the president.

Mrs. A. Cloutier, Mrs. Roger Gingras, Mrs. J. Ross, Mrs. James Potticary and Mrs. J. MacDonald, hostesses, served refreshments.

Ruth Millett She Wins Small Victories, But Her Tactlessness Hurts

It's downright rude for a woman:

With a reasonably good figure to talk about how overweight she is to a woman who weighs a lot more than she does.

To brag about her pretty daughter's popularity to a woman whose daughter is neither pretty nor popular.

To name the expensive label on the dress she is wearing when she knows good and well the woman she is talking to could never afford anything in that price range.

To refer to another woman as an "old maid" when she is talking to an unmarried woman.

To ask another woman why she doesn't do this or that when the obvious reason is that she can't afford to.

To brag about her husband's success to women whose husbands haven't been too successful.

To tell a woman who is having a difficult time with a child that her own children have never given her a moment's trouble.

A Show-Off

To make a point of showing off every new and expensive possession to the caller who has to manage on a much smaller budget.

To never let the friends who are a few years older than she is forget that she is younger.

To make insulting remarks about the clothes a hard-working clerk is trotting out for her inspection.

To pay an unexpected visit to a woman and then talk about what a poor housekeeper she is because she happened to catch the other woman when her house was in a mess.

To talk about giving a party because she "owes" so many people.

To remind a contemporary who obviously wants to forget her age and has done her best not to look it that "we aren't getting any younger."

To make a sly remark to a wife about what a good-looking secretary her husband has.

Windsor H. And S. Hears Address By Cliff Allan

WINDSOR MILLS — An interesting meeting of the Home and School Association was held recently when the May conference of the Provincial Home and School was under discussion.

The amount of $10 was donated to the local Girl Guides Association, and it was decided to cater for the Scouts' father and son banquet in March also for the R.D.A. Teacher's Association meeting which takes place in February.

The highlight of the meeting was an address by the chairman of the school board, Cliff Allan. His topic was "The Organization and Functions of the School Board." He also dealt briefly with the central board and its responsibilities. His presentation of the subject was both interesting and informative.

General Notes

The local Branch of the Canadian Girl Guides Association met at the home of Mrs. Alex Booth to discuss its first annual fund raising campaign. The dates set for the drive are, January 25th, to February 10th. Letters will be sent out and canvassers will call.

The B. Section badminton team played Drummondville at Windsor. Drummondville won 4 to 5 games. On Tuesday, January 21st, Windsor played in Danville.

There are now four teams in the Basketball league. Bishop's University, Y.W.C.A. Sherbrooke, Sherbrooke Nurses and Windsor. In the Windsor team there are twelve players. Their home games are played on Thursday evenings. Their first outside game for the year was played in Sherbrooke on Wednesday, January 15, against the Sherbrooke nurses, Windsor winning 59 to 34.

SOUTH BOLTON —

Rev. John Stark of Austin held another United Church service at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Murray Cameron, Sunday afternoon, January 12. Mrs. Stark and Mr. Elwin Bryant accompanied him.

Searching Scrutiny Of Mother Of Parliament

By ED SIMON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP) — In a tradition almost as old as parliamentary democracy itself, prominent Britons are currently engaged in a searching scrutiny of the effectiveness of their governmental system.

In the discussion, carried out on public platforms and in the correspondence columns of The Times, the health of the Mother of Parliaments has been diagnosed and generally found unsatisfactory.

While the complaints vary, most of the debaters agree that Parliament's activities are being slowed down by outworn procedural methods, that too many are busy playing politics at the expense of their legislative functions and that MPs in general and cabinet ministers in particular are overworked.

NO ACHIEVEMENTS

A Times editorial argues that today's House of Commons contains "far too many little men" and that there are too few great men to offset the general mediocrity. Sir Hartley Shawcross, attorney-general in the last Labor government, goes further, arguing that he cannot recall "a single member of achievement or distinction" being elected to the House in his own parliamentary experience dating back to 1945.

Other MPs have written to The Times taking issue with this argument. Some name colleagues on both sides of the floor in rebuttal. Others argue that the trouble lies in the inability of back-bench members to share adequately in Commons debates.

Another frequently heard complaint brands overemphasis on party discipline as the underlying cause, preventing members from expressing dissent with the policies of their leaders, even on relatively minor issues, for fear of disciplinary action.

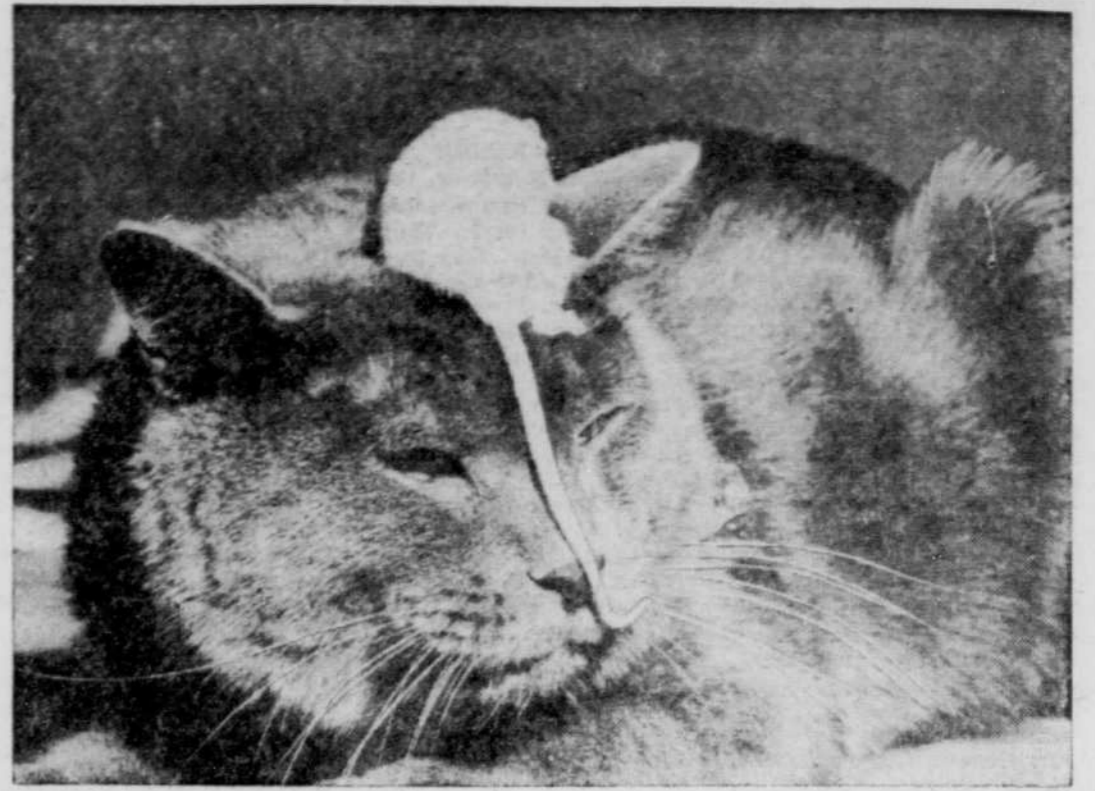

A case in point was the fate of Nigel Nicolson, a Conservative backbencher who opposed Sir Anthony Eden's Suez policy last year and was disavowed by the party executive in his constituency.

DEBATE REFORM

At its meeting to select a candidate for the next general election, the constituency organization not only nominated another man but refused to allow Nicolson to defend himself. Stanley Evans, a Labor member who supported Suez, resigned his seat after being similarly disowned by his party group.

Suggestions for reform have been debated by a number of parliamentary committees and independent bodies of experts over the years without producing anything acceptable to the Commons as a whole. Traditionalists are wary of any alteration that might interfere with the MP's existing privileges and procedural experts invariably balk at a suggested change in the intricacies of technical debate.

A pessimistic view is taken by Taper, The Spectator's trenchant parliamentary correspondent. "There is a permanent end-of-session pall hanging over Westminster, in which nobody has anything to say or suggest, in which the government reels from one fumble to another, the opposition beats the air, and tempers, having been quite in abeyance for weeks on end, suddenly snap, and a lot of people without too much to occupy their minds spend rather too much time giggling."

Mrs. G. Beers Entertains W. I. At Melboro

MELBORO — The Melbourne Ridge Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. Gordon Beers. Mrs. J. Hamilton acted as secretary in the absence of Mrs. Clifford Taber. An encouraging financial report was given by Mrs. Florence Roster.

Correspondence consisted of thank you notes from L. E. Butters, the Taber family, D. LeMoine, R. W. Crack, Miss May McMorine, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Johnston and Mrs. Jane Clark. Greetings were also read from the County president, Mrs. Francis Robinson.

Sick committee reported twenty-three Christmas cards, three sympathy cards and two get well cards sent out since last meeting.

A card was passed among the members to sign and will be forwarded to Mrs. S. E. Morrison, who recently returned from the hospital.

Mrs. E. Crack voiced personal thanks on behalf of her father, Mr. Thompson.

A sunshine box is being sent shortly to a member who has been in hospital.

Some tapestry remnants were sold bringing in a nice sum for the funds.

The February meeting, which will be Vice-President's Day, will meet at the home of Miss Carrie Ward in Kingsbury.

The meeting was turned over to Mrs. Gerald Fowler who conducted a spelling bee. Mrs. Merrill Taber and Mrs. Elmer Crack were captains and prizes were won by Mrs. Elmer Crack and Mrs. Elton Gilchrist. A button guessing game was won by Mrs. Merrill Taber.

The birthday parcel and surprise packages netted a good amount for the treasury.

Lunch was served by the hostess assisted by some of the members.

St. George's Guild At Windsor Mills Elects Officers

WINDSOR MILLS — There was a good attendance at the annual meeting of St. George's Guild which met at the home of Mrs. Earl Rice.

Rev. W. D. Chapman, incumbent of the parish was present, conducted devotions and the election of officers.

Mrs. Clifford Allan was elected president; Mrs. Tom Sandberg, 1st, vice-president; Mrs. Irwin Robinson, 2nd, vice-president; Mrs. F. Robinson, secretary; Mrs. H. Finley, treasurer.

After the election arrangements were made for the Vestry meeting on January 20th, and refreshments were served.

The next meeting will be held at the rectory.

CHRISTENING

At St. Andrew's United Church on Sunday morning, January 12, in the presence of a good congregation, Paul MacDonald Lemoine was received through the sacrament of baptism into the fellowship of the church. Paul is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Lemoine. After the service Mrs. Lemoine served dinner at her home to 20 people, relatives on both sides of the family and the minister, Rev. W. Reid, and Mrs. Reid.

Rapid Rise To Stardom For 16-Year-Old Paul Anka

By JACK VAN DUSEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP) — Paul Anka, 16-year-old Ottawa singer-writer, has come a long way from the day he sang in neighbors' homes "for dimes and quarters," but he is not too concerned with being a celebrity.

Whirled to fame in less than a year by Diana, a song he wrote in 20 minutes, Paul is too busy and modest to be impressed.

"It's all a jumble," the youngster said in an interview before starting a two-week tour of the United Kingdom. He had just finished a 110-day swing through Canada and the United States.

"But I love every minute of it," he confessed. "There's so much to do."

FULL SCHEDULE

The little singer—he's five feet four inches tall and weighs 150 pounds—now is so busy in the entertainment world that he had to quit school in grade 10.

"We'll have to get him a private tutor," said his father, Andy Anka, owner of a well-known Ottawa restaurant. Paul wants to go to a private school later.

After his U.K. tour he was scheduled for a two-week run at New York's Paramount Theatre, and another two-week tour of the U.S. Then it's off to Hollywood, where he will take screen tests for a movie tentatively entitled Going Steady. Paul is to write songs for it, too.

"We've lost him in a sense," said Mr. Anka, "but we're trying to keep the family relationship as much as we can."

Paul gets home to visit his parents, and sister Marian, 17, and brother Andy Jr., 7, as often as possible between tours and television appearances.

NATURAL TALENT

The chubby youngster crashed into the big time through sheer determination, says his dad.

"He's always been interested in music. At six he used to go around singing to the neighbors. They'd pay him a dime or a quarter."

Later, he joined a church choir where he met Diana Ayoub, 18, for whom he wrote Diana. The recording sold more than 2,000,000 copies last year, bringing him fame and fortune.

But there's no romantic interest there. However, the boy who says he's "kind of young to think of girls" gets hundreds of letters asking for advice about romance. His 500 fan letters a week are answered by two secretaries, although Paul answers "the cute ones," and his parents answer a few.

Turning point in Paul's life came last June when his father, after weeks of argument, finally gave him $100 and 10 days to go to New York and either sell his songs or give up the idea.

HITS JACKPOT

Paul had made a name for himself locally with a small singing group and was convinced he couldn't go further without trying his luck in New York.

Five days after Paul left, Andy Anka received a telephone call from ABC-Paramount recording studios. They wanted to know if Paul really wrote the songs he had shown them. A few days later a contract was signed.

Paul has written 21 songs. About nine have been released and the others will be coming out in a few months.

My Destiny, his latest recording, "has violins and everything," enthused the boy who took only 10 months of piano lessons.

Writing words and music of songs seems to come naturally to Paul and he shrugs it off. He wrote I Love You Baby in half an hour during a drive from Boston to New York.

Paul, who likes comic books and chocolate bars, carries only about $3 or $4 in his pockets most of the time. His money is kept in a trust fund in New York and can't be touched without both his and his father's signatures. His earnings from recordings and personal appearances are expected to reach $100,000 by May.

DIXVILLE —

Mr. and Mrs. Alva Mailhot and little daughter Linda of Waterville, Conn., were in town on the weekend with the former's mother, Mrs. Grace Mailhot, Central St., Mrs. A. Mailhot having January 13th, in Sherbrooke, by the death of her mother, Mrs. Archelle Cote, whose funeral was held on Monday morning January 13th, in Sherbrooke Little Linda remained with her grandmother, Mrs. Grace Mailhot, during her mother's stay in Sherbrooke. Mr. and Mrs. Alva Mailhot, only one month ago, were called to Dixville by the tragic death of Mr. Peter Mailhot.

ULVERTON —

Mrs. Kerr was called to Sherbrooke by the serious illness and death of her niece, Miss Ruth Billingsley.

Mrs. Henry Smith visited her husband, Mr. Smith, in Sherbrooke Hospital where he recently underwent surgery.

Mr. and Mrs. John Harriman accompanied Mr. and Mrs. S. Hush of Melbourne to Drummondville where they were guests of relatives.

The Doctor Says

Edwin P. Jordan, M.D.

Written for NEA Service
A letter from Mrs. F. asks for a discussion of Hodgkin's disease. She is particularly interested because her 20-year-old son has been diagnosed as having it.

This is a strange but fortunately somewhat uncommon disorder. It received its name from Dr. Thomas Hodgkin, who first described it in 1832. Its cause remains unknown.

The disease is more common in young people than in older ones and more frequent in men than in women. It has been reported from every part of the world. It is not contagious.

Usually (but not always), enlargement of the lymph glands in the neck is the first sign noticed. The swollen glands are not painful. Slowly glands in other parts of the body may become enlarged.

The disease does not interfere with general health for a long time, but gradually anemia tends to develop. Low fever is often present and the patient slowly loses weight.

The lymph glands and the spleen which are affected in Hodgkin's disease are part of a chain or group of tissues called the reticuloendothelial system.

The fact that this system is attacked has raised the question of some infection being at fault. So far, however, no germ or virus has been proved responsible.

The patient with Hodgkin's disease usually goes through periods of remarkable improvement. The enlarged lymph glands may disappear almost completely.

Occasionally the disease turns out surprisingly well. For example, there is a report of a patient with extensive proved Hodgkin's disease at the age of seven who finished college, is now working as a newspaper man, is married and the father of a child.

X-rays have been used in treatment for many years. They often cause improvement lasting for months at a time. Treatment with drugs has not been particularly successful.

There have been several favorable reports on the treatment of patients who have Hodgkin's disease with preparations called "nitrogen mustards." These substances seem to be quite helpful for some patients and are used extensively. Other chemical substances have been and are being

Jacques Plante And Ed Chadwick Have Problems But Teammates Agree Of Their Worth; Canadiens Win 2-0

Jacques Plante and Ed Chadwick are a couple of goalies with popularity problems. Plante is boosted by coach Hector (Toe) Blake of the Montreal Canadiens. But everywhere else around the National Hockey League he's simply the little-talent, lot-of-luck guy playing behind the strong Montreal defence. Chadwick has been eyed enviously by Boston Bruins and praised by other teams. The best he can get from Stafford Smythe, chairman of Toronto Maple Leafs' hockey committee, is that he'd better produce like an all-star or be faced with a periodical rest. About the only place they find agreement is among their teammates, who agree that both are standouts in a tough profession. PROVE IT That was the case Wednesday night as Montreal shaded Toronto 2-0, with Plante turning in his seventh shutout of the season. The 29-year-old Shawinigan Falls, Que., native stopped only 20 shots but they included sizzlers from Barry Cullen and a blast by Ron Stewart that forced him to retire for 10 minutes with a groin injury. Chadwick made 26 saves, several of them spectacular, and appeared to be on the way to a repeat of a scoreless game Dec. 4 between Montreal and Toronto. But league-leading scorer Dickie Moore tallied with less than six

Here With Bruins Next Week

HARRY LUMLEY, veteran National Hockey League goalie, will be seen at the Sherbrooke Arena next Thursday, Jan. 30, when the Boston Bruins will play an exhibition game with the Quebec Aces of the Quebec Hockey League. Lumley is a former goalie of the Toronto Maple Leafs and was purchased by the Bruins when Don Simmons was injured recently. He is a former Vezina Trophy winner and is still considered as one of the better goalies in the league. Tickets for the tilt can be obtained by calling LO. 2-3222 and they will be held until the day of the game.

Henri Rochon, Ex-Davis Cup Star, Suspended Indefinitely By PQLTA

MONTREAL (CP)—Indefinite suspension of Henri Rochon, who has played on 10 Canadian Davis Cup teams, was announced Wednesday by the Province of Quebec Lawn Tennis Association. The 33-year-old southpaw, ranked No. 7 nationally and No. 3 provincially in 1952, said he is considering an appeal. The suspension by the PQLTA was for "conduct deemed unethical, derogatory and detrimental to the association and to tennis in general." The formal resolution was prepared by a statement saying Rochon appeared before the council last Sept. 19 regarding complaints and that Rochon "has openly admitted statements for publication to the effect that the 1956 council's attitude was 'distasteful.'" In an interview Rochon said he considers the suspension unfair and the real reason goes deeper than that stated in the formal motion. He admitted he "did talk too much" but said other high-ranked players have complained minutes left and Jean Beliveau wound it up. The game was the only one scheduled and increased Montreal's lead over the second-place New York Rangers to 19 points. Toronto remains in a fourth-place tie with Boston Bruins four points behind Detroit Red Wings. Referee Frank Udvari cracked down on arguing and Toronto's George Armstrong received a two-minute minor, 10-minute misconduct for arguing and game misconduct for continuing to argue. He will pay $75 in fines. Montreal's Bert Olmstead and Bernie (Boom) Geoffrion each argued minors and received misconducts and $25 fines. The schedule resumes tonight with Chicago at Boston.

or talked at times and nothing has happened. SAME BODY FOR APPEAL If Rochon makes an appeal it will go before the council which suspended him. The suspension was made effective as of Jan. 14. President Harry Marpole of the Canadian Lawn Tennis Association said he did not wish to comment since the PQLTA action has not yet come formally before the parent body. He indicated unless circumstances are unusual the CLTA does not interfere with provincial bodies. Rochon said the PQLTA council "is mad at me" for three reasons: 1. A default, not of his making, in the 1956 Montreal cup tournament. 2. His default, after one set of a match, during a 1957 weekend tournament because he was too ill to continue. 3. His decision not to enter the 1957 Montreal cup tournament because of pressure of business. He is an insurance man.

Coach Dube Ready For Invasion Of Their Country-Cousins In Big One; Second And Third Places At Stake

The Sherbrooke Beavers will get another chance tonight to prove that their victories over the Asbestos Meteors are not just flukes when they play hosts to their country cousins from the Mining Town. In the three games disputed so far this season last year's champions are still to post a victory. The Beavers have 5-4, 6-5 and 7-3 decisions to their credit in the three outings. In the other games the Magog Aces will be at home to Victoriaville while Drummondville will pay a visit to Richmond to take on the Braves. All games are scheduled for 8:30 this evening. The Beavers will be facing a tough crew tonight in the Meteors, who will be out seeking revenge for the latest setback they received on their home ice Thursday when the Dube squad pulled out with a 6-5 overtime victory in the Mining Town. Tonight's fixture should be a wide-open affair as both teams play it all-out. Thursday's tilt was a crowd pleaser, once the Meteors decided to settle down and do something but Coach Dube handled his team very well to emerge with the decision. At Richmond the Rockets will be out for their sixth straight victory. They haven't dropped a decision since Jan. 9 when the Beavers edged them out 5-4. The Braves, fresh from their win over the Magog Aces, will be out to try and cool off the hot-pacing Rockets. The Aces will have their hands full in tackling the Canadiens of Victoriaville. They are trailing the Rockets by four points and a victory is almost a "must" for them. Coach Theriault will have a full team on hand with the exception of Marius Goyette, who is setting out a three-game suspension. The Meteors are in third position, two points in the rear of Victoriaville, and no doubt they will be gunning for their first win over Sherbrooke but Coach Dube will have his squad all set for the tilt.

U.S. National Hockey Team Rallies To Tie Whitby Dunlops 2-2 At St. Paul

ST. PAUL, Minn. (CP)—Coming from behind twice in the third period, the U.S. national hockey team pulled off the biggest surprise of its American tour Wednesday night by tying Whitby Dunlops, the Canadian entry in the forthcoming world championships, 2-2 before a crowd of 5,044. For the first two periods it was a scoreless duel featured by the outstanding goaltending of Don Rigazio, the star of the 1956 American Olympic team, and the Canadians' Long John Henderson. Then in the third period Canada twice took one-goal leads. Canadian manager Wren Blair commented after the hard-fought game: "I am much more impressed with the U.S. team at this stage than I am with the Russians. I believe the Americans stand an excellent chance with any of the top contenders in the world tournament." "I consider the U.S. team 20 per cent better than the best Senior A teams we have met in Ontario. This tie should convince Canadian fans that we have more to fear in the world tourney than just Russia." The tie wound up a two-game series between the teams which will travel to Oslo, Norway, for the world championships next month. Tuesday night Canada defeated the Americans 6-3 at Hibbing, Minn. It invited Italy, Belgium, West Germany, Austria and Yugoslavia to an international tournament here Feb. 23 to March 2.

Boyd And Mims Split, To Meet Once Again

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The stage was set today for a rematch between Holly Mims, veteran Washington scrapper, and Bobby Boyd, lanky puncher from Chicago, to decide just which is the better of these two mediocre middleweights. Mims and Boyd fought to a draw in a televised bout Wednesday night and promoter Chris Dundee said later "I'd love to rematch them." Neither fighter was badly damaged in the 10-round scrap that saw Boyd hit the canvas midway the eighth round after a solid right to the chin. Mims weighed 156 pounds to Boyd's 161½.

Carmen Basilio And Sugar Ray To Officially Sign For March 25 Bout

CHICAGO (AP)—Champion Carmen Basilio and Sugar Ray Robinson are to sign formally today for their March 25 middleweight title fight here. The rematch, which will mark the fifth time the 37-year-old Robinson will be fighting for the 160-pound crown, is being heralded by the International Boxing Club as a million-dollar show. IBC president Jim Norris looks for theatre television proceeds to exceed $275,000, a gross gate of $500,000 based on 19,000 attendance, $100,000 for movie rights and $30,000 from radio receipts. Basilio, who lifted the middleweight crown from Robinson on a split decision Sept. 23 in Yankee Stadium, will get 30 per cent of everything. So will Robinson. Figuring a net gate of about $467,000, each expects to pocket nearly $262,000. Meanwhile, Sugar Ray is beset with debt and law suits. Joe Glaser, head of the Associated Booking Corp., who handled him in many of his fights, is seeking a total of $187,000 in suits involving Robinson. Ernie Braea, who had a share in the managing of Robinson, has a $169,084 breach of contract suit pending against him and an associate, Harold (Killer) Johnson. And the U.S. government has tied up almost $400,000 of Robinson's purse for the last Basilio fight for anticipatory taxes.

Anderson-Rose Upset By Kids

SYDNEY (AP)—Roy Emerson and Bob Mark scored the biggest upset of the Australian tennis national championships today. They beat fellow Australians Mal Anderson and Mervyn Rose, Australia's Davis Cup pair, in the semi-finals of the doubles 5-7, 6-4, 13-11, 2-6, 6-4. The final became an all-Australian affair when Neale Fraser and Ashley Cooper downed Americans Barry MacKay and Mike Green in straight sets in the other semi-final, 12-10, 6-3, 6-3.

LAST NIGHT'S NHL STAR

Goalie Jacques Plante, who scored his seventh shutout of the National Hockey League season as Montreal Canadiens blanked Toronto Maple Leafs 2-0.

Two Doctors Deny That Ted Williams Has Bone Break In His Right Ankle; X-Rays Are Forwarded To Boston

BALTIMORE (AP)—Two doctors denied Wednesday that x-rays showed bone breaks in the right ankle of Boston Red Sox slugger Ted Williams and that his career is "in jeopardy." The report was published by the Boston Traveler.

Dr. George Bennett of Baltimore, noted examiner of major league baseball players with injuries, took the x-rays of Williams Jan. 13.

"I concur in the opinion of Dr. Sullivan that the x-rays do not show any breaks," said Dr. Bennett.

Dr. Russell Sullivan of Boston, to whom the x-rays were forwarded, said "the x-rays are all right. And as for his career being endangered, that's a lot of nonsense."

"They don't show any broken bones," said Dr. Bennett.

He said they did show "real small pieces of bone — not big enough to be really called chips." Dr. Bennett added they probably had been there for years and in themselves "are not going to bother" the 39-year-old leading hitter of baseball last year.

Dr. Bennett said he x-rayed the baseball star at his request when he was here for a banquet Jan. 13.

Bears Hold Slim Five-Point Lead Over Cleveland

Only five points separate the leading Hershey Bears and the second-place Cleveland Barons in the American Hockey League today but the big battle is a three-way affair for the fourth and last playoff position.

Following Springfield's 5-2 victory over Buffalo Wednesday night in one of the league's two games, the Barons hold the fourth spot by a margin of one point over deadlocked Rochester and Springfield.

In the circuit's other game, the Bears and Providence played a 2-2 overtime tie.

Playing coach Cal Gardner scored two goals for Springfield and assisted on another in the victory over Buffalo. Floyd Smith and Gerry Ehman were the other marksmen for the Indians. Buffalo goals were by Pete Conacher and Don Ward.

At Hershey, all the goals were in the first period. Bruce Cline opened the scoring for Providence and Ed Stankiewicz and Willie Marshall shot the Bears into a 2-1 lead before Jim Larivee got the tying goal for Providence.

Russia Invites US To Send Team To July Meet

LONDON (AP)—Moscow radio said Wednesday Russia has invited a United States track and field team to "compete in a big international meet in Moscow July 5 and 6."

The broadcast said 300 top athletes will take part in the meet. The Russians said the highlight event would be the 5,000 metres for the Znamensky Trophy. It did not indicate what other countries, if any, had been invited.

In New York, Daniel J. Ferris, chairman of the Amateur Athletic Union's foreign relations committee, said the AAU has not received the invitation but negotiations are under way for a U.S.-Russia dual match in Moscow. He said the AAU would be interested in competing in the international meet.

Bishop's Girls Down Nurses In Cage Fixture

Bishop's University girl eagers posted a 44-21 decision over the Sherbrooke Nurses in a regular fixture of the City Ladies Basketball League played at Bishop's.

Sally Woodard was the top scorer for the purple and white squad chalking up 15 points while Betty Denison potted 12. The Nurses' attack was led by Miss Brock and Miss Grant with 13 and 6 points respectively.

The tilt was closely fought but the Nurses had trouble trying to work in close as Bishop's defense was just too strong for them. Bishop's, besides winning the game, picked up the most fouls with 19 compared to 13 for the Nurses.

Sherbrooke High School Senior Girls Down Lennoxville 48-37 In Cage Tilt

Sherbrooke High School's Senior Girls basketball team won a 48-37 decision over Lennoxville High School in a cage fixture staged at the Lennoxville High Gym Tuesday afternoon.

The affair was a close one with scoring coming in spurges with Sherbrooke taking the better advantage of the "open-play" style.

Lennoxville took an early lead in the game and held on to it until the end of the first quarter when they led 10-8. It was in the second quarter of the game that the Red and White proved themselves to be opportunists as they romped over the home team's disorganized defence. Lennoxville collected but one and the half time score read 23-11 for S. H. S.

Lennoxville fought back gamely in the third quarter of the tilt to tie the count at 30-30 but in the final stanza appeared too tired to stave off the continual rushes of the Sherbrooke squad as they dominated the play and ran up a good lead which they held till the final whistle.

Betty Astbury starred for the Sherbrooke girls collecting 25 of their 47 points. Jean Bowers lead the Lennoxvillites with a total of 19 points.

The line-ups follow:

Stanstead Frontier Legion Branch Holds January Meeting In New Home

STANSTEAD — The January meeting of Stanstead Frontier Branch No. 5 of the Canadian Legion was held in the new home on Maple Ave. President Jack Heald was in the chair and conducted the routine business.

Two veterans, John Cox and Geoffrey Pyne, were installed as new members, two other applications were approved and they will be installed at a future meeting.

Plans were made to have a thorough cleaning of the new home, new light fixtures to be installed in the downstairs part, and furnishings to be placed in the rooms.

It was decided that for the present not to make any plans for the upstairs part, but some time in the future to have this used as an apartment, either for a veteran and his wife, a caretaker or as a rent.

To meet costs of maintaining the building, it was decided to assess the sum of 25 cts to each member a month, collected by envelope system. An appeal is to be made soon for furniture donations, anything offered will be gratefully accepted, and what cannot be used in the home will be offered for sale in the summer at an auction.

A plan was proposed to use the Legion home, after renovations are completed, as open to members and guests every Thursday and Saturday evening for social functions.

The next general meeting will be held on February 26, when it is hoped more veterans will be admitted to membership, as a campaign of membership is now under way.

L.O.D.E. MEETING

The January meeting of Stanstead Chapter L.O.D.E. was held in the Stanstead College reception room, where the Regent, Mrs. Albert Young, presided. After the opening ceremony, a moment of silence was observed to the memory of the late Miss Jessie Colby, O.B.E.

Mrs. William Greer, educational secretary, announced the awarding of the following prizes in Sunnyside and Beebe schools: Improvement in French, Geoffrey Denney, Sunnyside and Marilyn Bronson, Beebe Intermediate, both Grade VIII students of 1956-57 term; Canadian history, Stephen Finch, Sunnyside and Joan Young, Beebe Intermediate, students of last term in Grade IX.

Mrs. J. M. Williamson, secretary of services at home and abroad, reported a large carton of paper covered books sent to the Sailors Institute in Montreal.

The secretary of Empire and World Affairs, Mrs. Frank Stanton, spoke briefly on her trip, describing the beauty of stained glass windows in churches in Vancouver and Edmonton, which was most interesting.

Mrs. Cecil Miller presented a slate of officers for nomination to be voted on at the February meeting.

Tea was served by Mrs. W. J. C. Sutton, Mrs. William Greer and Mrs. E. J. Curtis.

Rev. J. Brown took the chair when all officers were re-elected, namely - Mrs. L. M. Terrill, president; Mrs. Wilfred Patrick, vice-president; Mrs. F. Riff, secretary treasurer; ways and means committee; Mrs. Lyster, Mrs. Lariviere, Mrs. McCaw, Mrs. Villemaire, Mrs. Wearre; W. A. and Dorcas, Mrs. Turner, Mrs. Gunter, Mrs. Couchman; card secretary, Mrs. E. Davidson; posters, Mrs. R. Nixon; press, Mrs. Cross.

We have 135 Dresses left, and have divided them into three groups: 35 at 2.98, 65 at 4.95 and 35 at 6.95. In each group, you'll find dresses that were regularly selling from 12.95 to 25.00. (Incidentally, we offered a group of dresses last week at 2.98, and they were sold in less than 48 hours, and these are more of the same bargains, so come as early as you can!)

We are offering 15 Long Housecoats and 15 Lounging Pyjamas for only $6.98 each. The housecoats are of satin, quilted satin and wool, and regularly sell from 11.95 to 18.95. The pyjamas are of quilted satin or nylon, and the black bottoms are in either satin, velveteen or bengaline, and were selling among the 14.95 and 16.95 lines.

We have a wide variety of offerings in Dusters and Short Housecoats, due to a fortunate purchase of a manufacturer's clearance. The following price quotations show what wonderful values these are: 35 at 2.98, 50 at 4.98, 15 at 6.98 . . . and nothing higher, although all of them are worth much more!

Mentioning all the splendid buys we are offering during our sale, would be almost impossible, but everything has been reduced again from last week, and we're sure you won't be disappointed, when you see the tremendous savings awaiting you here! Make visiting our store often, a habit . . . quality the year round, the latest styles always!
